Fatal Barge Blast Hurls Wreckage Far

Twelve metal drums on a barge were hurled and one of the drums exploded on the barge near Houston, killing two men and injuring several. Above some of the twisted metal landed on the barge after crashing the car in foreground, one of the drums has landed on rail track.

The United States imported more than 29 million barrels of petroleum from Venezuela in 1940.

The word telegraph dates back to 300 B. C. It is a combination of two Greek words: tele, "afar off" and grapho, "to write" or "literal" to write afar off.

THE HORSE AND AUTOMOBILE ARGUMENT TAKES WINGS

Wide World Feature
It was a long time ago that Icarus got himself a reputation by sticking on a pair of wings and gaining enough altitude to make a fatal crash landing.

Icarus didn't get away with trying to emulate the birds. Men have been trying ever since and still haven't gotten away with it.
Despite modern design, 2,000 horse power engines, welded aluminum and split second instruments, the plane designer or flier today might well lie on his back atop some windswept hill and watch a bird go soaring past and wonder—

"How the devil does he do it?"
No less than 3,000 years ago, man began to study birds in flight, soaking up the secrets that permit these little bundles of feathers to "dive bomb" rabbits and mice, go on polar flights and loop and spin.

Net Too Discouraging
If man doesn't get the economy out of his plane that Mother Nature gets out of a bird; if he doesn't get the same relative speed of perfect control, he needn't be downcast. For while he has been turning out workable designs for only 40 years or so, Mother Nature got her first experimental models out of the mud and into the air forty million years ago. Or was it 400 million?

Aside from laying an egg, the most obvious thing that birds can do and that man cannot is to pull themselves into the air by their own muscle power. Icarus of the legend did so, but we'll discount that. Leonardo de Vinci, who could do more different kinds of things at one time than most folks can do at all, designed a gadget that would enable men to fly under their own steam, but it never got into production. Fanciful writers in the Jules Verne era had folks flopping through the air on their afternoons off, but Verne's submarine idea was better. Even today the Italians have a standing prize for the person who can materialize human flight. No takers.

Planes have birds shaded on speed and altitude. But in any properly conducted contest, the judges would doubtless take a heavy handicap for wingspread and horsepower—gasoline and aluminum vs. worms and feathers. Then, it would be interesting to see where the airplane came out on the basis of adjusted time or height.
True, top plane speeds now approach 700 miles an hour—wide open down hill. True, bird speeds have been perched considerably from the post estimates common once among ornithologists. But the scientific birds still record that an Englishman in India clocked a large swift at 200 miles an hour. In our West Indies the cloud swift has been timed at 169 miles an hour. Yet its landing speed is zero.

29,000 Feet—No Oxygen
As for altitude, geese in India have been seen at the height of 29,000 feet without oxygen apparatus. And don't ask why so many records are set in India.

With the handicap claim still in mind, consider the abilities of the golden plover, the hummingbird and the Arctic tern, distance fliers. The plover, makes a non-stop flight twice a year from Labrador to South America, 2,500 miles. Or, to a member of another branch of the family, 3,000 miles from Alaska to Hawaii. The 3 inch concentrate of energy, the ruby-throated hummingbird, strikes off non-stop flights 500 miles across the Gulf of Mexico. And the Arctic tern gets more sunlight than any other living creature by wintering in the Antarctic and nesting in the Arctic—a 22,000 mile round trip flight each year.

Few planes could duplicate such feats. No plane could perform them with the bird's fuel economy. The plover, for instance, on the long over-water flight from Labrador, uses only 2 ounces of stored-up fat as fuel and flies 48 hours without stopping. To tie that a 1,000 pound plane would have to make a pint of gasoline last 20 miles. Actually it requires a gallon of gas for that distance.

While South America is a reasonable big target to shoot at, the Hawaiian Islands are only specks on the Pacific Ocean. How plovers can make a bee-line from Alaska to these specks is beyond human calculation. There's a theory that their sixth sense (also the homing pigeon's) has something to do with the Earth's magnetic field. But how the delicate compass in the brain is adjusted for wind and tide and other variables cannot be faulted by the most astute aeronautical engineer.

The machine that enables birds to perform these marvels is a machine that air time immemorial has taken advantage of principles and devices just now being discovered, or yet to be discovered.

Feathered To Fit

For instance the bones in many of the larger birds are hollow. Their wings are "slotted". The unbelievably strong, light and adaptable feathers are made of a substance comparable with plastics. And the wings are "feathered" in flight to meet varying conditions, just as the engineer has learned to make and use propeller pitch, ailerons, flaps, wings and controls.

With its innumerable moving parts—a goose has 12,000 muscles just to move its feathers—a bird is able to use every breeze and up-draft. The albatross will glide by the hour just above the waves, never moving a wing. A falcon will swoop at its prey like a dive bomber, at 150 miles an hour.

An eagle can carry a load of its own weight (pretty good for a bald headed bird); a woodcock can maintain flying speed of 5 miles an hour. The pelican lightens load by regurgitating when frightened; the kingfisher hovers in one spot; the hummingbird can fly backward and its feeding sometimes re-fuels in mid-air with the help of an indulgent parent.

A coot, closely pursued, may dive into the water at full flying speed. Bobbies will wheel in unison (using their mysterious inter-plane communications system) and dive in a flash at a school of fish. Loons have been caught 90 feet below the surface.

And please note there's still no flying submarine on the market!

Proof Of Birth Needed For Old Age Benefits

Many inquiries and investigations have been made recently in regard to the procedure which should be followed by individuals in establishing their proof of age. A large number of such inquiries were made of the Social Security Board. These requested information for ready reference when the time comes for them to file claim for Federal old-age and survivors insurance benefits, according to Elliott W. Adams, manager of the Big Spring office of the board.

"While it is a fact that one year, one month, or even one day may make a difference in one's old-age insurance benefits, the task of establishing a birth record is not as difficult as many people believe," Adams stated.

It was further emphasized that the Social Security Board must have in its possession proof of date of birth before a claim may be accepted for old-age and survivors insurance as a guide to people who wish to complete proofs now or in the near future. Adams outlined some of the proofs acceptable to the Social Security Board:

- 1. A copy of the public record of birth or a statement as to the date of birth, duly certified; or
- 2. A copy of a church record of infant baptism or a statement as to the date of birth shown by such record duly certified; or

3. A written notification from the Bureau of the Census or other public agency that a described record of birth has been established at a public registry of vital statistics.
If none of the evidence described in items 1, 2, and 3, is obtainable, the reason therefor should be stated and the applicant may submit:
4. A statement of the physician or midwife or other individual who attended at the time of the birth of such applicant; or
5. A certification, upon the approved form, that there exists a Bible or other family record show-

Wheat Farmers To Vote On Quotas Saturday, May 2

Nearly 100 million bushels more than last year, or the greatest supply on record, describes the present wheat situation, according to Charles L. Thomas, state AAA commit-tee man and wheat grower from Pampa.

"We'll go to the polls, Saturday, May 2, to vote democratically and cooperatively on whether we want to continue marketing quotas, and that's more than other farmers in the world can do," he said.
To be in effect, quotas must be approved by two-thirds of the farmers voting. Last year, in the first referendum, wheat farmers approved quotas by an 81 percent majority.

"Our wheat market is limited. Quotas simply divide this market fairly among all of us," Thomas said.

Farmers who overplant their acreage allotments are asked to make the same adjustment in marketing as AAA cooperators make at seeding time.

Under AAA regulations, volunteer wheat may be substituted for seed wheat, Thomas explained. To be in effect, however, total wheat acreage on a farm cannot exceed the wheat acreage allotment.

"Quotas will direct farm production into foods and feeds needed in the food for victory program and will smooth the flow of wheat to market, preventing harvest tie-up of railroads which already are loaded to capacity with war materials," the AAA official said.

J. P. Cole, Dawson Pioneer, Buried Wednesday

Last rites were held Wednesday afternoon for J. P. Cole, 72, Dawson County pioneer, who died in a Lubbock hospital Tuesday, following an illness of four years. Mr. Cole moved from Dawson County to Leveland in 1926 where he lived to the time of his death.

Funeral services were held at Leveland at one o'clock Wednesday at the First Methodist Church, and the remains were brought to Lamesa for interment in the Lamesa cemetery beside the grave of a son, Gus, who preceded his father in death by several years. Masonic rites were held at the cemetery.

Mr. Cole was a prominent citizen of this county for a number of years, coming here in 1907. He was a leader in both church and civic affairs, and was always ready to help his fellow man in their hour of need. He served this county as a Commissioner for several terms. He was an active member of the Methodist church.

Survivors are his widow, and the following children: Rev. John Cole, Newlin; Jim Cole, of California; Mrs. Mont Robinson and Cecil Cole of Lamesa; Clarence Cole and Percy Cole of Leveland; Mrs. Hoyt Ford, Dallas; Ben Cole, Seminole; Lewis Cole, Christoval; and Mrs. Harold Combes of Goldsmith; seventeen grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The following Lamesa citizens attended the funeral services at Leveland: Mr. and Mrs. W. V. P. Baker, Mrs. S. P. Stovall, Miss Lillie Stovall, J. T. Oates, Lambert Duke, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Bartlett and daughter Frances, N. D. Bartlett and W. E. Bartlett.

BARTLETT H. D. CLUB WILL TEST COOKER GUAGES

The Bartlett Home Demonstration Club will test pressure cooker guages, Tuesday, March 17, at the home of Mrs. C. H. Winttingham, in the Bartlett Community. The meeting will be an all-day affair, and the women are asked to bring a covered dish for luncheon.

While the club is taking the lead in this activity, all women in the community and others so desiring are cordially invited to attend and bring their cookers.

Testing the guages is just one of the many things that women can do to contribute to the effort of winning the war. When the guages are in-accurate, food may spoil, or if it keeps, may be unsafe to consume. So take your cooker, ladies, have the guage tested, and if it needs to be replaced, then get your order in for a new one now.

Home Accidents Deplored By A. & M. Specialist

Recent increases in home accident deaths prompt Mrs. Bernice Claytor, Extension Service specialist in home improvement, to urge more accident prevention work in wartime. At a time when every citizen must contribute his maximum to the Nation's war effort, home accidents slow down production, rob the Nation of essential man-power, and are costly in money and moral, she says.

Remedies for home accidents are more difficult to effect than remedies for industrial accidents, since there is no direct control over family life. Mrs. Claytor says that means the responsibility for accident prevention lies with every family. She says homemakers can make their own homes safer by doing these things:

Use care in waxing floors and in placing rugs.

Install handrails and other simple safety devices over bath tubs.

Keep matches and poison out of reach of children.

Dispose of can-openers which are dull or broken.

Keep knives and other pointed instruments in their proper place and teach children to avoid them or to use them carefully.

See that clothing and curtains are hung where they cannot be ignited by an open flame.

Keep a short step ladder handy, and avoid standing on chairs.

Promptly wipe up grease or water spilled on the floor.

Don't allow kettles to boil over, for water will extinguish a gas burner. If you notice a gas leak, extinguish all flame; ventilate the room and call your gas company or plumber.

"The biggest help is to take your time," the specialist says. "Hurrying results in many accidents."

THEY'LL REALLY PAY IF THEY ERR

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Consumers of a power company's rural circuits will have to learn how to read their meters. The company announced that country customers would be placed on their honor to check consumption and mail monthly payments.

To conserve tires, the company's meter readers will make the rounds only every three months to check the amateur readings.

Reunited After 65 Years

GAINESVILLE, Texas, March 9 (AP) — Mrs. B. B. Askew, 80, (left) and her sister, Mrs. George W. Myers, 78, of Gainesville, were reunited March 6 in Mrs. Askew's home at Marietta, Okla., after a separation of 65 years. During that time neither knew of the other's whereabouts. Strangely, the sisters and their brother, Jim Alexander, veteran Oklahoma peace officer who died in February, had lived not more than 25 miles apart during the last half century. Mrs. Myers read a notice of the peace officer's death and the particular convinced her he was her brother. The three and another sister, last heard of in Florida, became separated as children after the death of their mother in Alabama. Mrs. Askew and Alexander located near Marietta. Mrs. Myers lived at Dallas for a time, where she married, moved to Gainesville, and thence to the same sector near Marietta. Children of the respective families attended school together without knowing of their kinship. Mrs. Myers is the mother of Mrs. Joe M. Leonard, wife of the publisher of the Gainesville Daily Register.

High School Boys Can Join Navy And Get Schooling

CANYON, March 9 — High school youths 17 to 19 years old may enlist in the U. S. Navy by entering an accredited college or university, according to information received by West Texas State College.
 High School boys may enroll at West Texas State on May 27, for instance, then apply to a Naval Recruiting Station for enlistment in Classification V-1. Such enlistment permits them to remain in college to obtain the training needed by the Navy, and they will not be subject to the draft.
 On completion of the first half of the sophomore year, the V-1 group will apply for transfer to Classifications V-5 or V-7 (Aviation Cadets or Midshipmen of the U. S. Naval Reserve). The Navy will require 80,000 of these college trained fliers and officers. Trained fliers will draw $245 a month, or more, and midshipmen $183 a month or more. They will have four years of college training.
 Certain courses in mathematics must be taken in college by the enlisted men.
 Recently four members of West Texas State's tall basketball team enlisted in the Navy. They will remain in college to complete required courses.

GHOSTS BEHIND PRISON WALLS
 OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Employees of the United States district attorney's office believe somebody must be ghost writing for federal prisoners seeking paroles. Almost in the same mail, identical letters, in flowery style, arrived from prisoners in widely separated federal institutions. They sought recommendations for clemency from federal officials who aided in sending them into federal custody.

Texas Produces More Milk Last Year Than In 1940
 Texas dairy cows produced 182,487,000 more pounds of milk in 1941 than during the previous year, E. R. Eudaly and G. G. Gibson, dairy men of the A. & M. College Extension Service, report in their annual survey.
 The 1,400,000 cows of producing age in the state at the beginning of the year yielded 1,236,377,000 pounds of milk for manufacturing purposes. From present indications the dairymen predict that Texas will exceed the milk production goal set for the 1942 Food for Victory program.
 Indicating a further improvement the specialists say that the closest estimate indicates that 50,000 Texas farms had no milk cow in 1941, compared with 75,000 in 1939 and about 60,000 in 1940.
 Most of the work of the dairymen during the year was on better feeding and management. At the end of 1940, approximately 40,000 silos of all types, including 37,811 of the trench variety, had been filled, but at the corresponding time in 1941, the number stood at 38,054, of which 35,466 were the trench variety.
 Data assembled from reports of county agricultural agents show 2,628 Club boys enrolled in dairy work in 1941 with 1,456, or 55 per cent, completing their projects. The completions involved 1,851 animals. Agents reported assisting 1,039 farmers to obtain purebred stock and 2,141 to obtain purebred females.
Shippers Warned Freight Rates To Be Increased
 Livestock producers and shippers were warned today by H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, that drastic increases in freight charges on livestock may go into effect March 15.
 Interstate Commerce Commission Service Order No. 68, requires rail carriers to furnish only equipment of the size and type ordered. It further provides that freight rates will be based upon the size and type of car actually furnished. The order was issued in anticipation of substantial increase in rail movement of livestock, due to reduced use of trucks and expected increase in livestock production. The USDA War Board has called for increased production of hogs, sheep and lambs and for increased marketing of heavier beef cattle.
 Director Williamson pointed out that two 40-foot single-deck cars for a hog or mutton shipment instead of one 38-foot double-deck car would result in the freight rate of $104.14 instead of $65.35 for a 150 mile movement, an increase of $40.79 or 62.4 per cent.
 Pending possible modification of the order producers and shippers are urged to conserve equipment, load cars heavily, order and use size and type car actually needed, and load double-deck cars when possible, Williamson said.
 Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri was chairman of the Paris Caucus that formally organized the American Legion.
 Secretary of the Navy Knox was a member of the Rough Riders in the Spanish-American war.

Get Into Sugar Rationing Habit Now Says Official

In a communication received this week from the office of the State Rationing Administrator, every household in the nation is urged to get itself into the sugar rationing habit now before the Government's rationing plan goes into effect. Dan A. West, Director of the Consumer Division of the Office of Price Administration, also urges consumers who have hoarded large supplies of sugar to "livvy up" with their friends and neighbors.
 "Rationing means 'share and share alike,'" Mr. West said, "and if we're really serious about sharing the burdens of this war fairly, here's a good chance for us to begin doing it in our communities."
 Consumers will have to certify the amount of sugar they have on hand when they register for War Ration Book No. 1. For all sugar in excess of two pounds per person, stamps will be torn out of the ration books, preventing further purchase of sugar until the hoards are used up. False certification will be punishable under the United States Criminal Code.
 By "divvying up" sugar supplies with friends and neighbors now, Mr. West said, those who have stocked up heavily can help lessen the strain on retail stores and avoid the embarrassment of having many stamps removed from their ration books at the time of registration, or being refused a ration book altogether.
 According to government officials these ration books are liable to be used for a great many other things than sugar, and if you don't have one, will cause you to do without a number of things you really might need. So play safe, "divvy up" now and take no chances.

Former Lamesan Author Of Book

Dr. V. O. Key Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Key of Lamesa, an associate professor of political science at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland, has just had a book published, entitled "Politics, Parties and Pressure Groups."

The book is being published under a copyright issued in 1942, and is being published by the Thomas Y. Crowell Co., of New York.

The book is divided into four parts. The first part deals primarily to an analysis of the more principal pressure groups, the methods and objectives employed, and how they are influenced by geography, labor, business, agriculture, national groups and bureaucracies.

Parts two and three have to do with the usual materials concerning parties and elections. Part four deals with force, bribery and education employed in elections.

Dr. Key has been a professor at Johns Hopkins University since 1938.

Texas Leads In Mattress Making

One out of every seven mattresses made in the nation under the Department of Agriculture's co-operative program was made in Texas, according to a report received here by Mildred Horton, of the A. and M. College Extension Service, and R. T. Price, of the State AAA headquarters. Altogether, 3,874,025 mattresses have been made and received by eligible families. Of that number, 526,951 have been made and delivered in Texas—the largest number for any single state.

Texas also leads in the number of cotton comforts made and delivered under the program, reporting 189,764 of the total 989,361 in the nation.

ment, and Bob Standifer, where they took Ernest Barrett, Elmo Smith, Vernon Martin and Robert Harwell to be initiated by the Lubbock rank team into the rank of Esquire.

Next Tuesday night the local K. P. lodge plans to take all Esquires to Lubbock to have the rank of Knight conferred upon them.

WAR FLASHES!!!

(By The Associated Press)
CANBERRA, Australia, March 12 (AP)—Two days of violent air attacks which littered the Japanese-own beach-heads of New Guinea with the wreckage of an invasion armada and battered potential Japanese bases gave direly threatened Australia valuable hours today to muster fighting power for a stand on her own shores.

Japan's first spearhead apparently was blunted by the fierce aerial blows yesterday at hangars and runways of Salamau and Lae, following up the aerial onslaught the day before which sank, burned or beached at least seven ships and brought to at least 13 the number of Japanese transports put out of action off New Guinea and New Britain.

There was, however, no word of next turn of the fight, nor any further news of a second strong Japanese convoy last reported headed for Port Moresby, capital of New Guinea, only 300 miles from the Australian mainland.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Mar. 12 (AP)—Brazil today confiscated to 30 per cent of the funds of axis subjects in this country in a decree which branded Germany, Italy and Japan as aggressors and strengthened belief that a declaration of war might follow.

Since Germany, Italy and Japan are allies, they are "united in aggression," the decree stated.

MOSCOW, March 12 (AP)—The Russians were reported today to have hurled 90-odd armored and infantry divisions, perhaps 1,500,000 men, into a great offensive stretching from Taganrog on the Sea of Azov up to the vicinity of Kharkov in the upper Ukraine.

Simultaneously, they were heavily attacking in the Orel sector, some 250 miles above Kharkov and 200 miles south of Moscow, and about Staravara Russa, the area where the 16th German Army is encircled below Leningrad.

All this indicated that the Soviet command had embarked upon the greatest offensive action since the beginning of the Russian campaign.

Ration Cards—

Other instructions applicable to the books follows:

In buying any rationed product the proper stamp must be detached in presence of the storekeeper, his employee, or the person making delivery on his behalf. If a stamp is torn out of the book in any other way than above indicated it becomes void. If a stamp is partly torn out or mutilated and more than one-half of it remains in the book, it is valid. Otherwise it becomes void.

Unless otherwise announced, the ration week is from Saturday midnight to the following Saturday midnight.

War ration stamps may be used in any retail store in the United States.

The stamps may be used only for the person named and described in the book.

If a book is lost, destroyed, stolen or mutilated, the owner should report same to the local rationing board.

If a person enters a hospital, or other institution, and expects to be there more than 10 days, he must turn his book over to the person in charge. It will be returned to him upon request when he leaves.

Every person must keep his book in a safe place and see to it that it is properly used. Parents are responsible for the safekeeping and use of the children's books.

Used Tire Prices—

Under this system the following sample prices for four ply passenger car tires of size 6.00-16 are set forth Class 1, $8.10; class 2, $6.65; class 3, $4.45; class 4, $1.50. The new tire price for this size is $14.75. The price for fourth class used tires of all size is $1.50.

Larger For Truck

The tread design depth measurements used in fixing the classifications for truck tires are slightly larger. The first category includes tires retaining 9-32's of an inch or more; the second, those with more than 4-32's of an inch but less than 9-32's of an inch or less. The fourth truck tire class is the same as that for smooth passenger car tires.

Sample truck tire prices, for ten ply tires size 8.25-15: first class, $37.70; second class, $30.85; third class, $20.55; fourth class, $7.20.

The new tire price is $68.50 for this size.

School Students Buy $368.50 In Defense Stamps

G. M. Roberts, principal of the Lamesa Elementary School, reports that $368.50 worth of United States Defense Stamps and Bonds were sold in the schools Wednesday, the regular weekly stamp day.

This amount, together with the $2,075.00 previously reported, makes a grand total of $2,443.50 worth of Defense Stamps and Bonds purchased by the Elementary School children.

The Fourth Grade room, taught by Miss Billie Crausby, still leads the school with total purchases of $362.60 in stamps. Miss Vivian Cook's room in the Primary building still leads in that part of the school.

Mrs. Dan Ogletree's room bought the largest amount of 10c's this week. Her week's total was $13.85. Last week the school was led by Mrs. J. E. Barron's room in buying the most, with a total of $83.00.

Car "Graveyards" Being Surveyed For Junk Metal

The tens of thousands of junked cars piled in unsightly "graveyards" throughout Texas may soon find their swarms on the way to help win the war.

For the County USDA war boards and the WPA are conducting a survey to determine the number of such junked cars there are in the state. A similar survey is being made in the rest of the nation.

With only about half the county reports received, B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas USDA War Board said it appears there are "from 40 to 50 thousand such cars in the state. All of which contain metals vital to the war effort."

The "graveyard" survey was undertaken by the USDA War Boards at the request of the War Production Board in all counties. The WPA is making the survey in cities of 15,000 population or more.

Vance cited the reports of a few counties selected at random as indications of what the survey will disclose when completed: Anderson county, 8 yards, 561 cars; San Saba county, 2 yards, 183 cars; Nolan county, 8 yards, 203 cars; Wilbarger county, 4 yards, 244 cars; and Angelina county, 8 yards, 275 cars.

The survey has been completed in Dawson County, having been made the first of last week, but at the present time figures have not been released as to the number of wrecked cars in the Lamesa yards.

France, Germany, Italy, Japan and Russia. He claimed that the most powerful weapon used in the present day struggle was the weapon of propaganda. During the last war the use of poisonous gas was a powerful factor, but means have been devised against the use of this, whereby the only defense against propaganda is knowledge tempered by reason, and the gleaming of a few fundamentals from the mass of propaganda put out.

He then gave an analysis of the seven powers, starting with Italy, which he claimed was the weakest and would be the first to fail. He then listed Japan, Germany, England, and Russia in that order. He declared that although France was now suffering under the heel of oppression, that when the final day of reckoning came, she would be a powerful factor in the terms of peace to follow.

Mr. Bolt said that although the United States had never lost a war, neither had she ever won the peace that closed a war, because of her failure to understand the international situation.

He concluded his address with the statement that power begins in brutality but ends in justice. That as people become educated they become democratized. Also that after the war, that Australia, New Zealand, Canada and other portions of the world would look to the United States more than ever for leadership and counsel.
