There will be a fee for fishing on the Copano Bay Causeway Pier, though. It will be a nominal 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for those under 12 to 17 and free for those under 12.

Also, there is no charge for sightseers, photographers, bird watchers and those who do not fish.

The concession building, said Don Oliver of the Parks Department regional headquarters at Rockport, will have a complete stock of fishing tackle, sandwiches, soft drinks, and bait of all kinds.

The south end is the only portion of the causeway to be completed into a fine fishing pier even though the north end now is being used by fishermen.

Now that work has been completed on the south end, however, it will begin on the other side of the bay. Eventually the other 6,000 feet of the old concrete and asphalt (continued on page 8)

Oil and gas wells provide approximately $9.5 million a year of Aransas County's economic output, according to statistics released this week by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

Based on most recent U.S. Bureau of Mines production figures, the Association compilation showed that Aransas County produced crude oil valued at $4 million in 1966 and natural gas worth $5.5 million.

Texas oil production in 1967, responding to demands for more domestic crude as a result of the Israeli-Arab conflict, totaled 1,050,000,000 barrels, a statewide increase over 1966 of five per cent. Production last year varied widely among state Railroad Commission districts, however, ranging from 3.5 percent below 1966 to 15 percent above.

"Production from Aransas County last summer helped prevent any oil scarcity for U. S. consumers at a time when one-third of the world's supply was cut off," said Corbin J. Robertson, Houston, Association president. "We must keep in mind, however, that it may be difficult for Texas fields to sustain production in future emergencies if the discovery of new reserves continues to lag, due to lack of exploratory drilling."

The annual study showed that Aransas County ranked 98th among Texas counties in total value of its production of some 1.3 million barrels of oil and 42 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

Texas oil men, according to Rinehart's yearbook, drilled 88 wells in the county risking some $3.7 million. Thirty-four percent of them were dry holes, costing about $923,000.

County landowners and others with mineral interests cashed royalty checks totaling about $1.2 million during the year. Likewise, the county's flow of oil and gas generates $569,000 a year in production taxes paid by producers and royalty owners to the state treasury.

Reports from the Texas Employment Commission show some 118 persons directly employed by the oil and gas industry in the county, with an annual payroll of $919,000.

Plants which convert crude oil and natural gas into useful products also add to the value of a county's output. The Oil and Gas Journal lists 1 gas processing plants, with a total capacity of 88.3 million cubic feet a day for the county.

RIPARIAN RIGHTS CLARIFIED BY ATTY. GENERAL

Owners of beach property along the water's edge own only to the water's edge, the School Land Board warned, and land created by filling or dumping toward the sea is public not private.

Such rights do give anyone the right to make such fills, he said.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

SIT-UATION TIME

If you have forgotten the weariness with studying that afflicting you as graduation approached, consider the report from a school desk manufacturer that the average student spends some 15,000 hours at a desk before completing high school.

If you add those hours to the time spent in autos, in front of television sets and at the dinner table, you begin to wonder if leg muscles will soon wither away.—Dallas Times Herald.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

NOW YOU TAKE AMERICAN BATHROOMS

Automobile manufacturers need suffer in solitude no longer; they are not the only industry whose product has been criticized as unsafe. Now bathrooms are declared to be unsafe at any speed. What's more, they're stylistic horrors, according to a Cornell University team.

The tub, they said, just isn't any fun because it's so small (water polo, anyone?). The standard 30-inch shower stall is all wet as far as practicality is concerned, an adult can't bend over to wash his feet or pick up the soap. Designers of wash bowls, apparently unaware of the revolution in height caused by American dietary habits, still make the basins too low for adult comfort. And the watchamacallit, as one correspondent delicately put it, "is the most ill-suited fixture ever designed."

But other than just increased height, width and length for some fixtures, it's not clear what the researchers have in mind for the bathroom. Seat belts, maybe? Flashing emergency lights? Skidproof surfaces? Federal standards?

The 116-page report, with 46 illustrations, has the public a basic set of facts, yet the state of the U. S. bathroom is clearly a problem to be plumbed to its depth—Charlotte Observer.

NICER TO STAY IN BED

Some psychologist, a preacher for the advancement of individuals in their life and work, has stated that every person should do one necessary but unpleasant thing every day.

Most people already do at least one, so perhaps the psychologist should make it two. The first unpleasant act is to get out of bed.

It was the late Josh Billings, one of the noted New England humorists who said that he left his bed in the morning not because he was dissatisfied with the bed but because it would be inconvenient to carry it around with him all day.—Willowdale (Ont.) Enterprise.

A paper clip saved a big bomber from crashing when a pilot used it to correct a short circuit. Now tell us again that paper work isn't important in flying planes.—Concrete (Wash.) Herald.

One indication of the decline of the prestige of diplomats in the present age is the struggle it would be for an average citizen were he challenged to name any current ambassador now representing any foreign country in Washington. The same question in terms of United States envoys to other capitals would probably elicit a very brief name list.—Baltimore Sun.

PTA Meets

The Rockport Elementary PTA met on May 14th for its last regular meeting of the 1967-68 school year. With Mrs. Shirley Rice, president, presiding, the meeting was opened with the Pledge to the Flag.

The program was then presented by the program chairman, Mrs. Ramirez. Miss Henley's sixth grade music pupils sang five selections.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Patsy Parr, corresponding secretary, and approved as read. The treasurer, Mrs. Vera Kelsay, gave the treasurer's report, listing a balance of $371.42.

Albert Griffith, principal, reported on the "Head Start" program. Approval for the program has been granted and there will be 60 students accepted. Registration dates are from May 15 through June 10. Early registration is urged.

The Christian Flag Award was given to Mrs. Nancy Lang's fourth grade class. Each week a count is taken in the classes for the best attendance of religious services on Sundays. The winning class keeps the Christian Flag for the week. This Christian Flag Award of the PTA is given to the class which claims the flag the largest number of weeks during the school year. Mrs. Lang's class was given the award of $10 for having won the flag for 17 weeks.

Room count was taken. Mrs. Pickett's sixth grade won the count with nine present.

Mrs. Penny Baldwin then charged the new officers for the 1968-69 year with a reading of their duties for the new year and then installed and presented each with a golden ruler.

Mrs. Rice, president, thanked the outgoing officers for their cooperation and hard work for the year.

The meeting was then adjourned and refreshments were served by the hospitality chairman, Mrs. J. C. Sanders.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

In memory of Sara Brundrett, who passed away May 17, 1968.

The Death Angel has visited our Chapter and taken from our number one of our beloved members. This one, who once met with us here and shared our joys and sorrows, is now awaiting us in the Grand Chapter above. We shall join them when we, too, have completed life's labyrinth.

Whereas, the Heavenly Father has called our respected and beloved Sister home, and she having been a true and faithful member of our beautiful Order, therefore be it

Resolved, that Rockport Chapter No. 479 Order of the Eastern Star, drape its Charter in memory of this departed member, and that we tender to the family of our deceased Sister our sincere condolence in their sorrow and bereavement, and that a copy of these Resolutions be sent to the family.

"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord . . . They rest from their labors . . . And their words do follow them."

Baptists Girls' Coronation Service

Sunday night, May 19, during the evening worship hour, the Girls Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church presented 21 girls in a beautiful and meaningful Coronation Service.

The theme for the coronation "Declare His Glory" was carried out in the programs and decorations. A huge world globe with the countries decorated in gold was centered above the platform, with two large trumpets in the GA colors, green and gold, on one side of the baptistry.

The prelude was played by Mrs. Norman McLead. Mrs. Pat Harper welcomed the congregation to the service, followed by two congregational hymns—"We've a Story to Tell," the GA hymn, and "Glory to His Name." This was followed by a Scripture reading by two of the GA girls, Ellen McElveen and Elaine Carpenter.

Mrs. Pat Miculka then presented the following girls who had attained their Maiden step: Carey Dietrich, Susan Smith, Sherry Reid, Terry Rhoden, Teresa Howland, Kim Harper, Beverly Rhoden, Kathy Ivey, Alice Carter, Linda Kelly and La Donna Rhoden.

There were six girls who had reached the rank of Queen: Katherine Theodore, escorted by Royce Court and flower girl Priscilla Carpenter, crown bearer David Theodore; Toni Barnette, escorted by Glyn Landrum, flower girl Mona Smith, crown bearer Lawrence Miculka; Carrie Sue McElveen, escorted by Danny Fake, flower girl Dianne Fake, crown bearer Gene McElveen; Jeri Smith, escorted by Pat McLead, flower girl Kathryn Morgan, crown bearer Philip Miculka; Paula McLain, escorted by Gary Howard, flower girl Laurie Horton, crown bearer Mike Lonk; Dianno Moore, escorted by Martin Moss, flower girl Patricia McLain, crown bearer Jay Watkins.

There were two girls who reached the rank of Queen Regent: Sherry Ivey, escorted by Melvin Moore, flower girl Dawn Whitfill, cape bearer Scott Whitfill; Pam Griffith, escorted by Jimmy Cessac, flower girl Susan Carrico, cape bearer Jay Longino.

Two girls attained the highest rank in the Forward Step in Girls' Auxiliary. They were Margaret Ledbetter, escorted by Kenneth Harwick, Jr., flower girl Katherine Ledbetter, service award bearer Ken Goodman; Melinda Mills, escorted by James Russell, flower girl Ruby Jordan, service award bearer Gary Smith. Mrs. Melvin Mills, the Girls' Auxiliary director, gave the closing remarks of the service, and then presented the counselors, Mrs. Pat Miculka, Mrs. Jerry Harper, and Mrs. Gale Long with a gift of a beautiful GA Counselor's pin.

Rev. Charles Fake closed the service with a prayer, followed by the recessional.

Three GA girls served as ushers. They were: Joy Kathleen McLead, Frances Dietrich and Deborah Mitchell. Linny Landrum served as the herald for the queens.

A reception followed in the Fellowship Hall. The table was covered with a white cloth trimmed with a white net ruffled overskirt. The centerpiece was a styrofoam base covered with green, white and gold, and on one end of the base was a large seed denoting the Maiden Step, with the green plant denoting the Queen step, the flower bud representing the Queen Regent step, and the flower in full bloom denoting the Queen Regent—in service step, all of this in the GA colors.

Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Buddy McElveen, Mrs. Steve Clark, Mrs. Norman McLead, Mrs. Ben Howard, Mrs. Ed Cessac, Mrs. Dell McLain, Mrs. Bob Brockhaus, Mrs. Roy Ivey, Mrs. Jack Washburn and Mrs. Melvin Moore.

Refreshments of punch and cake were served to approximately 200 guests.

Lamar Club Installs Officers

The Lamar Woman's Club met on May 15. Officers for the year 1968-69 were installed by Mrs. Beth French, assisted by Mrs. Mary Layshock.

In the ceremony, Mrs. French compared the club to a ship. The U.S.S. Lamar, with Mrs. Jennie Heldenfels, the new president, as captain, Mrs. Agnes Roberts, vice president, as the first lieutenant; Mrs. Billie Gibson, secretary-treasurer, as the recorder; and Mrs. Odessa Brown, historian, as the keeper of the Log, with the members of the club as the crew.

Each new officer was presented a carnation corsage. The table was beautifully adorned with little blue baskets of daisies with the members' names. A large basket of daisies with white streamers, representing a May Pole, was the centerpiece.

A delicious salad plate was served and as a surprise, the Sea Gun Restaurant presented the Club with a beautiful cake, with 2 candles marking the second year of meeting in the Empire Room.

Outgoing president, Mrs. Bill Hall, presented her officers with gifts and then Mrs. LaRue Hedrick presented Mrs. Hall with a key case inscribed with President, Lamar Woman's Club 1967-68, a gift from the Club.

After taking office, Mrs. Heldenfels appointed her committees. The minutes were read and approved. Three recommendations were read and accepted by the club. Mrs. Pat Heldenfels gave a report on the Cemetery Association meeting and Mrs. Lorene Fleming gave a report on the organization of a non-denominational Church.

Mrs. Beth French, Mrs. Mary Layshock and Mrs. Helen Owen were hostesses.

Members attending were Mesdames Mary Clark, Hazel Eller, Lorene Fleming, Marguerite House, Alline Luker, Marie Maxwell, Billie Gibson, Ludine Wofford, Jennie Heldenfels, Pat Heldenfels, Jewel Greeson, Russell Cabaniss, June Gregory, Fannie Boyd, Agnes Roberts, Beth French, Odessa Brown, Mary Layshock, Helen Owen, and three guests, Mrs. Jean McVay, Mrs. Mary Whitcomb and Mrs. Maggie Shrophire.

This and That
JOHN KINSEY

Whenever I have the opportunity to take a group of visitors on a tour of the Rockport area I realize all over again how attractive this section is and what a fine place it is to make your home.

Also, I always am impressed by the enthusiasm the visitors display as they view the various scenes and remark about the beauty and the interesting sights to see.

Another thing I note is this reaction on the part of visitors from as close as Sinton or Corpus Christi:

"I didn't realize that Rockport area had so many places of interest and so many beautiful scenic spots."

Last Saturday my wife and I had the pleasure of escorting on a tour a group of lady employees from P.P.G. Industries Chemical Plant at Corpus Christi. The ladies had arrived by chartered bus for a day of fun and relaxation at Sandollar Motel, so we took the tour in their bus.

Since the Chamber of Commerce some time ago developed a tour for groups of interested visitors, we followed this tour. We started out heading north on Highway 35, crossing the Copano Bay causeway, noting the old causeway which is now a lighted fishing pier, and continuing to the turn-off to Goose Island State Park.

Before entering the park we drove past House Schoenstatt of the Schoenstatt Sisters of Mary and stopped at the beautiful chapel so the ladies could see close up.

Then we proceeded through the park and to The Big Tree, then past St. Charles Bay, through Lamar and back to Highway 35. Proceeding south, we took Fulton Beach Road through Fulton and along Little Bay. We and the guests saw the Fulton Mansion, Rockport Beach, the salt water swimming pool, yacht basin, arts, Rockport Yacht and Supply Company, Rockport School of Fine Arts, the Mathis home, the Bruhl home, the T. Noah Smith home, the Rockport Art Guild Gallery and many other places of interest.

Not only did the ladies enjoy the tour, but it gave these visitors and my wife and I an opportunity to get acquainted and visit and talk about the Rockport area, about their home towns, their company, etc.

I'm pretty sure these gals will be back next year for their fun day outing.

B&PW Club Installs Officers

The members of the Rockport Chapter of Business and Professional Women met at Key Allegro Islander Club, Monday night.

President Ruby Hart opened proceedings, and the "Collect" was read in unison. Mrs. Hart presented guests, who were Estelle Brawner, Carrie Lou Lord and daughter Debra, Edwina Bonnet, and Ruby Lee Shaper, all of the Corpus Christi Club, as well as Dorothy Knolle, Bird Harrell, Louise Itschner and Doris Tribble, visitors from Rockport.

Minutes were read and approved as corrected. The report of the Audit Committee was read and placed on file. A resume of the seminar held in Alice April 28 was given by Dorothy Knolle and Ruby Hart.

A recommendation from the executive board was read and passed. The local representatives to the State Convention, June 14-16, are to be sent as uninstructed delegates.

Mrs. Hart, retiring president, concluded the business meeting with a "thank you" to members for their cooperation during her year of service, after which she turned the meeting over to Mrs. Estelle Brawner, District Director.

Mrs. Brawner installed the following officers in a most inspiring ceremony: President, Virginia Shivers; 1st vice president, Bernita Kinsey; 2nd vice president, Marie Tong; treasurer, Elsie Hawes, corresponding secretary, Barbara Rogers, and Recording secretary, Buna Suttles.

President Virginia Shivers took the chair, and thanked Mrs. Brawner for her installation. She gave special welcome to all the Corpus Christi members, and recognition to new members of the local club. Mrs. Shivers presented Mrs. Hart with a B&PW charm to add to her bracelet, and expressed the thanks of all for the leadership provided during the past year.

DRIVE AND ARRIVE SAFELY

TEXAS HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Along The Waterfront

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Askew of Hurst, with guide Buck Armintrout, caught 26 nice trout last Saturday. Fishing again on Sunday they caught 150 specks.

Fishing report from Palm Harbor. Due to the wind, most fishing has been confined to the Intracoastal Canal and the flats of Redfish Bay. More flounder are in the area than have been seen in many years. Every catch includes several in the 1 to 2 pound class, and most of them are taken right at the canal's edge on live shrimp or red worm jigs.

Some of the better catches seen this week include that of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor of Waco, with 12 trout and redfish over 5 pounds, plus many smaller ones.

J. C. Arla, Sr., and Bob Copeland had over 30 trout in the 2 to 3 pound class.

Dr. Lou Kost of San Antonio and L. W. Monzingo brought in a stringer of trout, reds, drum and flounder with the largest being a 9½ pound redfish.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Walters of Corpus Christi fished from the bank near the marina and strung a really nice catch of flounder and sheepshead using live shrimp.

Night fishing in the canals has been steady but not spectacular with all the fishermen getting nice strings of trout, and flounder. A few flurries of redfish activity has put spice into the under the lights fishing.

causeway will be developed similarly. Only 500 feet of the old causeway was removed, so that it will not interfere with navigation.

The Goose Island State Park Fishing Pier is a fine one located at the southeastern tip of the island.

It's built in three legs, the first of which crosses a bayou at the tip of the island and is 185 feet long. The second leg is 800 feet long and the final leg 635 feet.

The pier is eight feet wide, has 18 mercury vapor lights plus four special fish attractor lights.

The causeway pier, incidentally, has 12 light stations, each equipped with 12,000 watt flood lamps and a smaller lamp to light the pier itself.

Goose Island State Park Pier has ample parking space plus a large concrete fish cleaning table with four spigots and fresh water.

There is no concession stand there but there will be no charge until the admission fee for the park is put in effect.

The park was heavily damaged by Hurricane Beulah and until the damage has been repaired, no entrance fee is being charged.

Fishermen, ever since the new Copano Bay Causeway for Highway 35 was completed, have been using the old causeway piers and they've found some good fishing, generally.

Oliver said the lights on the new south end were tested early last week and he and a partner caught about 100 trout even through the water wasn't in real fine shape.

He even told what lures they used—big worms.—Roy Swann, Caller-Times.

families, for the support of the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Home for orphans of deceased veterans, and for programs in the various veterans hospitals and facilities.

According to Commander Hewes, the need for claims counseling is especially great at the present time.

"Proof of service-connection of disabilities suffered by discharged servicemen is required before they can qualify for compensation," he said. "The Veterans of Foreign Wars operates Claims Service offices in every state of the union and in Washington, D.C., to assist in gathering and presenting the necessary evidence."

He urged every patriotic citizen to buy a Buddy Poppy as his contribution toward the cost of this worthy project.

WEBB PROMOTED TO SERGEANT

Daniel S. Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Webb, Rockport, was promoted to Army sergeant May 1 in Vietnam, where he is serving with the 25th Infantry Division.

Sgt. Webb, a squad leader in Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion of the division's 27th Infantry near Cu Chi, entered the Army in December 1965 and completed basic training at Ft. Polk, La. He was stationed in Germany before arriving in Vietnam last January. He holds the Combat Infantryman Badge.

The 21-year-old soldier was graduated from Aransas County High School in 1965.

ROBERT EDWARDS AIDS INJURED IN VIETNAM

As a 101st Airborne Division civil affairs entered Quang Dien village north of here recently, their reception was a cold one.

"Doors slammed shut in our faces and even as we approached the children with a gift of food or candy, they would run and hide from us," said one medic for the 2nd Bn. (Abn), 501st Inf. "There seemed to be a brick wall between us."

But the brick wall crumbled when an emergency situation arose. "An old man dressed in white pajamas led a procession up to our medical aid station in the village," he said. "Behind him carried on a litter by several more villagers, was a woman in her fifth month of pregnancy who had been shot by Viet Cong terrorists."

Spec. 5 Robert Edwards, another medic, discovered a small child accompanying her had also been shot. "His left foot looked pretty bad and he needed an operation immediately," Edwards said.

Working amidst a throng of interested and suddenly friendly villagers, Edwards treated the expectant mother and small boy.

"We dressed their wounds and made arrangements for a MEDEVAC helicopter to pick them up to take them to a nearby hospital," he said.

Soon more villagers responded to the medical treatment and the paratroopers had finally found themselves a second home.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

A fisherman is no better than what he has in his tackle box.

And if he goes in for salt water fishin, he needs some specialty items totally unneeded for fresh water fishing. So let's go over some of the basic items needed in the salt water tackle box.

Start with the hooks. Cheap hooks will cost you money in the long run. Stick with the plated hooks to help lick the rust problem. Down on the coast the salt air penetrates into everything and unplated hooks rust out in a hurry.

An ideal way to keep hooks in the tackle box is to put them in a plastic container or screw-top jar. Line the bottom of the container with a rag and soak it with fish oil. This will prevent rust and corrosion.

You might think regular oil will serve the same purpose as fish oil. It will when it comes to preventing rust. But a hook with this kind of oil odor on it will repel fish.

Snaps, swivels and metal line connectors should be stored in similar containers to prevent rust and corrosion. Be sure to carry sinkers in various weights and shapes. The type of sinker used will be determined by the bottom and water currents.

A metal fish stringer is okay for fresh water but totally unsuited for use in salt water. Again the main problem is rust and corrosion. Cotton line stringers are okay if new, but they rot out fast. A stringer made of plastic is best.

Be sure you have some kind of float on the end of the stringer to keep your fish off the bottom. This is the only way to keep crabs from

How are you on recent events? complete the following six statements, checking your answers with those below to find out.

- 1—Former Republican presidential candidate (Thomas E. Dewey) (Barry Goldwater) has gone into court with a $2 million libel suit against Fact magazine.
- 2—Apparitions of the Virgin Mary have been reported at a church in (Cairo, Egypt) (Athens, Greece).
- 3—Dr. Suzanne Keller, a sociologist, has become the first woman to be named to a full professorship at 22-year-old (Yale) (Princeton) University.
- 4—Four (newsmen) (embassy officials) were killed in a Viet Cong ambush in Saigon.
- 5—A Communist MIG reported shot down by Navy fighters turned out to be a (civilian plane) (pilotless American drone).
- 6—Famous undersea explorer (Jacques Piccard) (Jacques Yves Costeau) will head a five-man team which will drift in an underwater vehicle next summer from Palm Beach, Fla., to upper Massachusetts.

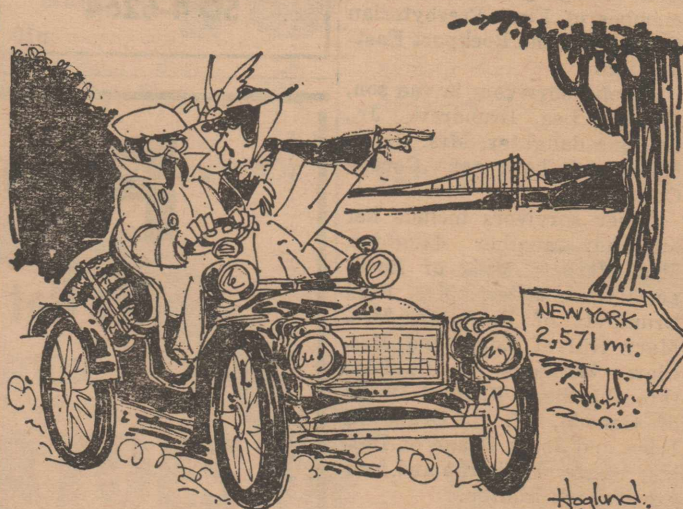

Count 10 for each correct choice. A score of 60 is excellent; 50, good; 40, fair; less than 40, poor.

chewing your fish to pieces. Remember that many species of salt water fish have sharp teeth and fins that can inflict nasty and painful wounds. This means that fish hook remover is a must item in the tackle box. There are a number of these on the market. Long needle-nose pliers will serve just as well.

A must in every salt water tackle box is reel lubricant. Reels take a big beating in salt water fishing and if you want to get decent life out of your reel, be sure to oil it frequently.

Although every area has its certain lures that "always catch fish," the same lures you use in fresh water angling will also produce results in salt water. With lures the problem is rust or corrosion on the hooks and metal parts. These must be cleaned frequently.

One of the haidiest items in the salt water tackle box is a hook hone. Hooks used in salt water dull faster than in fresh water. Getting a fish on the stringer is often a matter of a sharp point on the hook. After every salt water trip, close the tackle box tightly and spray it thoroughly with a garden hose.

Then after you wipe off the outside of the box, open it and mop out any moisture inside. Leave the box open and outside in the sun for a good airing and final drying.

WANTED BY THE FBI

JAMES EARL RAY, also known as Eric Starvo Galt, Harvey Lowmyer, John Willard, James McBride, James Walton, W. C. Herron and James O'Conner.

James Earl Ray, a Missouri prison escapee, sought under the alias Eric Starvo Galt in connection with the gunshot slaying of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., is one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives." FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover ordered the special addition of Ray to the "Top Ten" list to insure widespread dissemination of Ray's photograph and description to speed his location.

Ray has been intensively sought since the murder of Dr. King on April 4, 1968, as he stood on the balcony of a Memphis, Tennessee, motel. An exhaustive FBI fingerprint search, comparing latent fingerprints uncovered in the Dr. King case against fingerprints of over 53,000 persons on whom wanted notices were posted, determined that Galt and Ray are identical.

A federal warrant, issued at Birmingham, Alabama, on April 17, 1968, charges Ray, under the alias of Galt, with conspiring to interfere with a Constitutional Right of a citizen. Ray, who escaped on April 23, 1967, from the Missouri State Penitentiary, is also sought for unlawful flight to avoid confinement for robbery. His long criminal record also includes convictions for burglary and forging U.S. Postal Money Orders.

A white American, born in Alton, Illinois, on March 10, 1928, Ray is 5'10" tall, weighs 163 to 174 pounds, has blue eyes and short brown hair. He has a nervous habit of tugging at an ear lobe and his left ear protrudes noticeably. Known as a "loner" and "drifter," Ray has worked as a baker, laborer and color matcher. He has taken dancing lessons and completed a course at a school of bartending.

Consider Ray armed and extremely dangerous. Report any information concerning him to the nearest FBI office.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q—How many deferments may a person get?

A—There is no limit, provided each is adequately supported by current evidence to show that the person is entitled to deferment in view of the facts, the law, and the regulations.

Q—Is any expert advice available to the Selective Service System regarding scientific personnel?

A—Each state Selective Director has a state advisory committee on scientific, engineering and specialized personnel which is available for general advice or specific counsel in individual cases.

Q—If there is a shortage of mathematics teachers in a city but a surplus in the state, how is uniform classification within the state possible?

A—It isn't. That is why Congress has given broad authority to local boards to meet the problems of the localities they represent.

Q—What is the difference in classification of a single teacher and one who is married or is a father?

A—If he's deferred and classified as a teacher, his status as a husband or father, or fact that he's single, will have nothing to do with the decision.

Q—On what basis may a teacher be deferred?

A—On the basis that, in his specific case, it is deemed to be necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety, or interest.

Letters

Over the weekend the VFW held its District 6 meeting in Ingleside. One of the major items as far as I am concerned was that the State of Texas is not honoring its deceased servicemen by making MEMORIAL DAY a state holiday.

The City of Rockport and Aransas County have taken appropriate steps to honor these men and we salute them.

I do not have any idea how many of the stores and business houses in Rockport will close but we sincerely ask them to help us honor these veterans who have fought and died for them by closing their place of business on this May 30. We know that there are businesses that must stay open but for those that do not have to we ask your support.

Bob Hewes, Commander, Stewart-Wendell Post 3904

The following letter was received by the Editor from Capt. Richard Davies, skipper of the shrimp trawler, F. V. Karumba, built this spring by Rockport Yacht and Supply Co., for an Australian commercial fishing firm. Captain Davies sent the letter from

Christobal, Panama Canal Zone

Through the columns of your newspaper I would like to convey to the people of South Texas, and specifically Aransas County and Rockport, the gratitude of my crew and myself for the many kindnesses showered upon us during the month we spent among you.

Before departing I had the opportunity to thank Mayor Delmar Hiller, and through him the city, but through your columns it will be possible to reach that greater number of people, many whose addresses we do not have and, so, are unable to thank personally.

In many cases we do not even know the names of people who spoke to us in streets and in shops to welcome us and make us feel the less lonely for being so far away from home.

We were impressed by the unfailing courtesy we met wherever we ventured. Qualities we like to believe are inherent in true Australians—warmth, kindness, generosity and hospitality—are obviously not unique to your country for they were to be found in every person we encountered in South Texas and for that reason will always favorably colour our view of your fine country.

We hope that should any of your readers visit our shores they will receive as fine a welcome as we did over here. Our only regret is that we were unable to accept all the invitations that were offered us and hope that the kind people who proffered them will understand.

Our passage down here was slowed by head seas and northerly currents, particularly near the Campeche Bank and Yucatan Channel, but it did at least allow us to prove what a thoroughbred we have in our fine Rockport trawler which will add further lustre to your city when she begins to fish Australian waters.

With the Blue Pacific only a day away and therefore nearer home, we all hope that we can accept that offer and invitation we heard so often—"now you all come back again." We would all very much like to.

DRAFT BOARD CALLS 961 TEXAS

Austin, Texas, May — The June draft call for Texas has been reduced almost one-third, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Wednesday.

The state quota of 1,416 men for June was scaled down to 961 by a telegram from Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the national draft director. This followed reduction of the national quota for June by the Department of Defense from 29,500 to 20,000 men, all for the Army.

At the same time, the Department of Defense said its call for July would be 15,000. The Texas share of this would be 700 to 750 men, Col. Schwartz estimated.

State draft boards currently are filling the May state call for 2,223 men, destined for the Army and Marine Corps. The May call was increased 4.3 per cent in late April to provide strength for the Marine Corps.

Local boards are currently being advised of reductions in their June quotas.

The draft boards will forward 8,500 men to the armed forces examining and entrance stations in June for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in preparation to fill future quotas. The May total is 9,000.

The order of selection to fill the June induction call may be from among examined and acceptable men who are (1) delinquents 19 years old and older, (2) volunteers under age 26, and (3) nonvolunteers 19 through 25 years old, single and married, with those married after Aug. 26, 1965, being selected ahead of those married on or before that date.

Half the lima beans grown commercially in the U. S. are produced at Santa Barbara, Calif.

Davis Mountains Park Is Linked With Area History

Fort Davis—The area which comprises Davis Mountains State Park and the area's first outpost of civilization, Fort Davis, are inextricably linked in history.

The park exists because of the scenic value of vast, lonely plains and uncluttered vistas of shimmering grass back-dropped by craggy mountains. This is the nature of the Davis Mountains, and this is the reason the old Fort Davis was located here.

The California gold discovery in 1848 made it necessary to establish a route across the vast and arid southwest where prospectors and their animals could obtain water and sanctuary from the savage Mescalero Apaches who roamed the area.

Even today, a motorist in trouble along the highways in the Davis Mountains area is going to have his share of headaches, but back in the days of animal powered locomotion, survival in this endless wilderness was somewhat less than a sure thing.

In October 1854, six companies of the 8th Infantry, headed by Lt. Col. Washington Seawell arrived at a primitive settlement called Painted Comanche Camp, so named because of the paintings on the trees there. Here, along Limpia Creek was built old Fort Davis, named for Jefferson Davis, who was then the U.S. Secretary of War.

The army had barely raised temporary pine slabs and canvas structures when the troops were called into action. The fort was a base to supply Maj. John S. Simonson in his three-month campaign against the Mescalero Apaches in the winter of 1854 and keep him in touch with San Antonio. Although Simonson's fights were few, he did lessen the Indian raids somewhat by forcing a number of bands into New Mexico.

The terrain in this part of Texas promoted one of the strangest experiments in U.S. history. Travel through the deserts of Texas, as well as the western United States, presented a knotty problem of survival for men and animals alike. Jefferson Davis suggested the use of an animal well adapted to the rigors of the desert—the camel. The army imported 74 of the humped creatures from North Africa and set up the experiment in Camp Verde near Kerrville.

Soldiers at Fort Davis got their first look at a camel in July, when several passed en route to Arizona. Within the next few years, other camels were used near Fort Davis in an attempt to find a shorter route from San Antonio to the fort. On one occasion, Lt. William B. Echols, with 25 camels and 20 mules wandered five days in the Texas desert without finding water. The camels held out until the party returned to Fort Davis and were regarded as veritable life savers.

Fort Davis changed hands during the Civil War. The South used Fort Bliss at El Paso as headquarters for the Confederate Army in the Southwest. Lt. Col. John R. Baylor and the 2nd Texas Rifles reached Fort Davis in June 1861. While the greater part of the regiment continued westward to take New Mexico for the Confederacy, the company remained to hold Fort Davis.

In 1862 the Confederates left Fort Davis after hearing the Union troops from California were on the way. The Apaches burned the fort before the soldiers arrived.

During the reconstruction era, the fort was rebuilt of stone in a new site facing the entrance of Limpia Canyon instead of in it. From 1867 to 1881, "Buffalo Soldiers," four regiments of Negro troops with white officers, occupied the fort.

In 1876, Indian raids grew in number and ferocity. This led to a sustained effort by the soldiers to rid the country of Indians once and for all. On Jan. 29, 1881, Texas Rangers attacked the sleeping camp of the great Apache Chief Victorio. Victorio had sustained heavy losses in earlier battles and had only 12 warriors. Four of these men were killed instantly in the attack; most of the others received wounds, but were able to escape. This battle in the high Sierra Diablo Mountains of western Texas was the last Indian battle ever fought in the State.

With the Indian threat removed, West Texas opened up to the cattleman and the settler. Fort Davis contented itself with protecting the workers of the Southern Pacific Railroad and building a shorter route to San Antonio. The Texas Rangers enforced law and order along the road, and Fort Davis outlived its usefulness and was abandoned in 1891.

The old fort still stands, renovated by the U. S. Department of Interior, as a monument to the courage of men who braved this hostile wilderness to sow the seeds of civilization.

Set aside in Davis Mountains State Park are 1800 acres, still unspoiled because the terrain is a barrier to civilization. The economy of this area is based on ranching, and activity which perpetuates the wide open spaces.

On foot along the hiking and nature trails in the park, one gets a better feeling of the vastness of the land and, therefore, gains a better understanding of its history. It was and is a harsh land, a land which shows no mercy on the weak.

It is a static realm of dramatic contrast. Within this unchanging world are plains and mountains, soft brown hills and harsh blue sky, days when everything is still and days of summer thunder, storm, unequalled in fury anywhere.

These things, perpetual in the mind-reeling immensity of the land, were the obstacles which the early white man had to overcome. They are still there in Davis Mountains State Park.

Although San Salvador has twice been destroyed by earthquakes, its citizens have returned to rebuild the city.

You say you'd like a few suggestions on how to get more out of your telephone service?

Here are five tips to help make your every "hello" a real good buy:

1. Whenever you're moving to another town within the Bell System, let us arrange for your phone service before you move. If you know the address of your new home, we can make arrangements in advance so you'll have the exact service you want in your new home. We'll also refer calls from your old phone to your new number if you like. Just call the business office and ask about our Easy Move Plan. There's no extra charge.

2. Speaking of moving, we hope you realize that wherever you move in the Bell System, there is no color charge for the phones at your new address if you had color phones at your old address.

3. Ever wonder what to do when you get a wrong number on a Long Distance call? Just hang up, dial "0" for "Operator," and tell her what happened. She'll see that you're not charged for the call.

4. And if you ever lose your dime in an out-of-order pay telephone, just go to a working phone and report it to the Operator. She'll arrange to have your dime mailed to you. Also, if you give her the number of the out-of-order phone, we'll get it fixed right away.

5. Long Distance interstate rates are lower all day Saturday and Sunday, and after 7 p.m. each weekday. You can also save money if you call by number. A station-to-station Long Distance call costs about one-third less than a person-to-person call.

At Southwestern Bell, our goal is to help you get the very best telephone service. We want your every "hello" to be a real good buy.
