Every day I picked up a copy of the Star-Telegram and eventually found a comic strip I found a mostly in little type, containing words on the subject of some super-fantastic system of staying was a pretty bad presentation.

I looked it over for 30 minutes or so, I thought that someone had called my the same thing some months ago comic section of the Lubbock Star, and it was in the A-J again I think. I don't remember who it asked me to read it, but I do that I never did get it all read then, there was just more information there human mind could absorb.

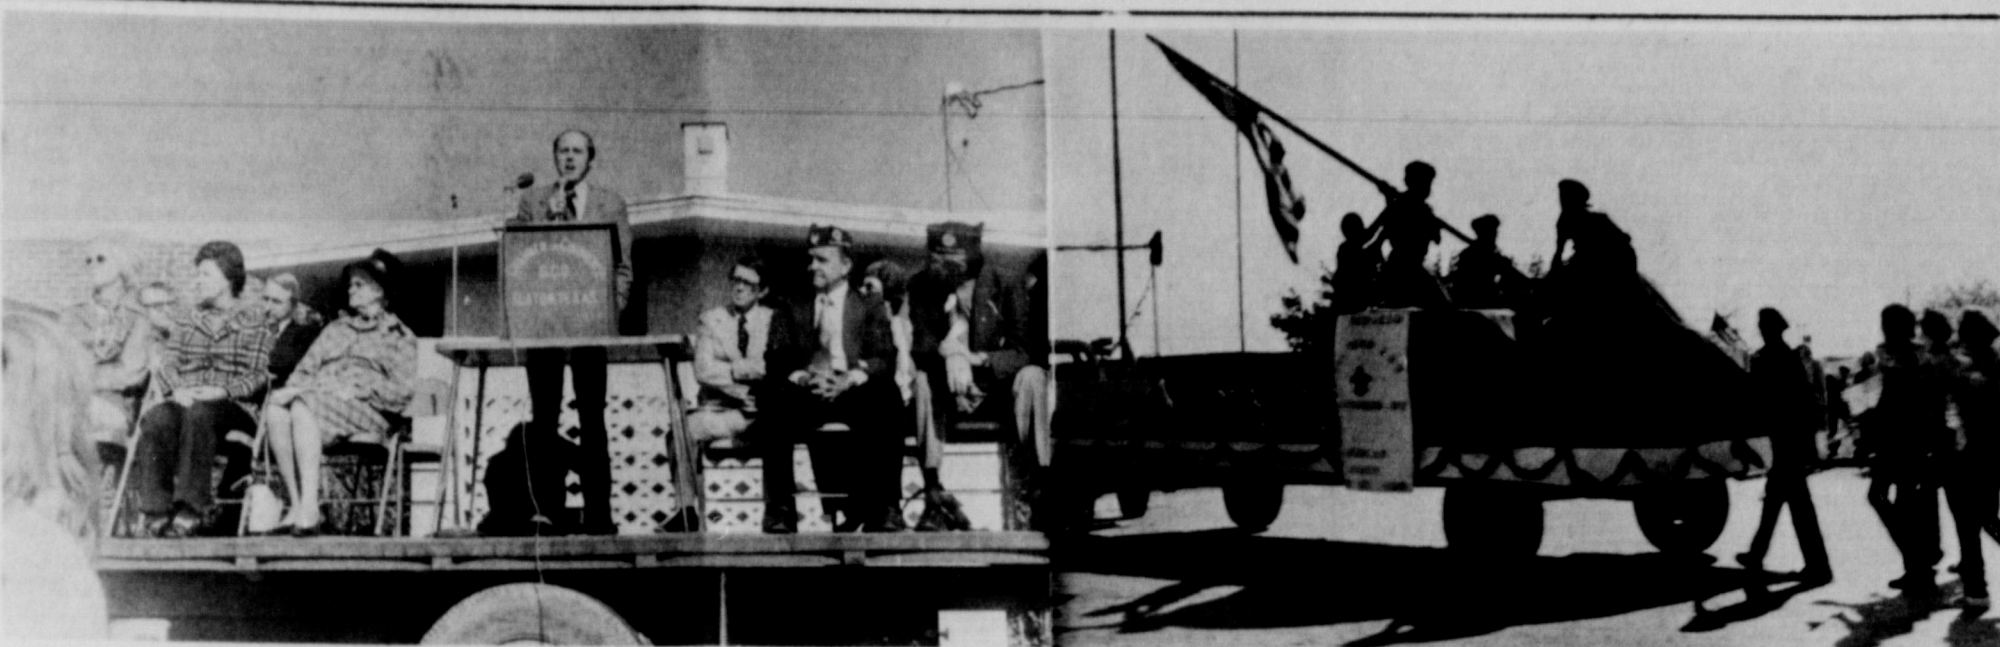

I was sure just what it was they were doing, but I think it was a pitch to do something. The whole idea was, I thought, that if you would adopt this which had something to do with you'd lose ugly pounds, never have maybe never die.

There in there, I got the idea that the you're supposed to do is eat a honey and coal oil, or honey and instead of all the stuff we normally either has too much or too little carbohydrates I consume must be under some other name, since I'd be eating anything with a name like want to be slim and trim, and fit as ready to go nine rounds with day, and live forever, just leave all and French fries and beans and and chocolate pie and ice cream take a big mouthful of honey and (or whatever it was that was to go with the honey) every day. Some things worse than death.

I want everyone to like me. People slim and trim and never have colds to live with, because they their time telling everyone else how that way. ("I don't smoke or drink, don't eat anything but honey and and I run 16 miles every afternoon pushups, and I'm the healthiest guy in West Texas, and if you'd do you'd be healthy and pretty, too, just such a slob...")

Most of us would rather be likeable

Celebration Pays Tribute To Veterans Monday

By SANDY MARTIN

Slaton veterans were honored Monday with a panoramic parade of more than 50 floats, bands, political officials and military representatives.

Tri-sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, the city's seventh annual Veterans Day parade was one of only four such observances in the state of Texas.

Keynote speaker for the day was state senator-elect Kent Hance, who offered a brief tribute to veterans of every war. He said that America today sometimes suffered from lack of self confidence.

Hance Speaks

"We are the greatest nation in the world and we will remain the greatest, thanks to the people we are honoring today, the veterans," said Hance. "I have seen the memorial to soldiers who died in Pearl Harbor, and I have seen the graves in Arlington cemetery. I am proud to honor the men who gave their lives so that we can be here today."

Hance was only one of the many local and area officials on hand for the activities. Also attending the parade were County Judge Rod Shaw, State Representative Pete Laney, Ollie Bronson, 19th district American Legion Vice Commander, Slaton Mayor John Landreth and members of the city commission.

Cars for officials were donated by Smith Ford, Crawford Chevrolet and Bill Adams Olds, Pontiac and GMC.

Prize Floats

Sponsors of the parade awarded $325 in prize money for the best bands and best floats.

Come To The Travel Party Next Tuesday

How can we finance our trip? How much luggage is allowed? What is the weather like over there? Is our insurance good during the tour? What about tipping?

These questions and many others will be answered Tuesday evening during a travel party at 8 p.m. in the Clubhouse. Bob Hildreth, a representative of Wholesale Tours International, the company arranging the nine-day tour of Europe sponsored by The Slatonite, will be available to answer all questions. He also will show a film of Europe.

The travel party is a perfect time to learn all the details about a $628 nine-day tour of Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Germany and France. The price includes jet flight round trip from Lubbock to Amsterdam, hotel accommodations, two light meals a day and a personal escort.

Leaves From Lubbock

The tour leaves Lubbock on March 22, 1975, and coincides with spring break for Slaton, area schools and Texas Tech University.

Although Lubbock is the departure point, people from the Abilene, Amarillo, El Paso and Dallas areas will be on the same flight. The tour will be divided into bus loads of approximately

Pitiful Few Bales Ginned

The first bale count of the season conducted by the Slatonite shows only 78 bales of cotton ginned in the Slaton vicinity, with only three gins having started up at all. Nine other gins contacted by the newspaper have not yet stirred the machinery.

Slaton Co-Op Gin has ginned 58 bales, McClung Co-Op 19 bales and Hackberry a single bale. The 78 bales ginned to date compare with a total of 35,076 ginned by the 12 firms at the same time last year, pointing up the comparison between what was the best cotton year in history here and what is shaping up to be the worst.

40 people. Each bus has an escort who speaks the languages of the tour countries and who will be able to help tour members with money exchanges, language problems, etc.

Anyone interested in the tour is invited to the travel party. Bring friends and neighbors and examine the possibility of spending nine days in Europe this spring.

G&H Castings Sets Records In Sales, Profits During 1974

G & H Castings Corporation, 1470 Industrial Drive in Slaton, concluded its 1974 fiscal year on Oct. 31, with record-breaking sales and profits, according to Jerry Bridges, controller of the corporation. Sales totaled more than $1.5 million for the year. The best month was October with $220,000 in sales.

The corporation has grown from less than a half million dollars annual sales in 1972 to one and one-half million this year. In 1972, there were 50 employees. This year, the payroll exceeds 120 employees and will exceed $800,000 in wages and salaries. Sales for fiscal 1975 are projected at $2,500,000.

Five-Year Plan

Claude Smith, general manager, disclosed that plans are being finalized for a five-year growth plan which culminates in 1979 with $9 million in sales, a work force of more than 200 people and an annual payroll of over two million dollars. The growth plan includes four phases of expansion encompassing land purchase, new buildings and modern equipment for high speed production of iron castings and related manufacturing.

George Lamberth, founder, manager, indicated that through advanced technology and new equipment being applied to the manufacturing processes at G & H, the corporation will set trends and precedents for the casting industry. "Utilization of professional manpower and the best equipment available will make G & H number one in the casting business," said Lamberth.

G & H serves customers with castings across the United States in every phase of manufacturing including automotive, petrochemical, hydraulics, agricultural machinery, irrigation and industrial pumps, aircraft and earth moving equipment.

Commissioner Eugene Mask Dies; Rites Set

Slaton Ward 4 Commissioner Eugene Mask, 53, the only black member of the city commission, died of a heart attack shortly after noon Monday, only a short time after he and other commission members had taken part in the Slaton celebration of Veterans Day. Mask was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital about 2 p.m. after suffering the apparent heart attack at his home.

An Army veteran who served in France during World War II, Mask was elected to a two-year term on the commission in 1972 and was re-elected this year. A special election will be called in Ward 4 to fill the unexpired term.

The commissioner, who was a part-time dirt contractor, was a member of the Church of God in Christ. He first came to Slaton in 1941 and married the former Georgetta Brown Nov. 28, 1942.

Services for Mask were still pending Wednesday. Members of the family report that services are tentatively set for Saturday.

Survivors include his wife of the home; four daughters, Mrs. Wanda Lee Maxwell of Amarillo, Mrs. Barbara Long of Slaton, Mrs. Priscilla Ann Perry of Santa Anna, Calif. and Sheila Marie of the home; four sons, Jerry of Lubbock and Joel, Kenneth and Noel, all of the home; four sisters, Mrs. Beatrice Perry and Mrs. Opal Mae Thompson, both of Dallas, and Mrs. Benita Smith and Mrs. Fay Ruth Scruggs, all of Sherman; three brothers, William, Donald and Calvin, all of Sherman; and 10 grandchildren.

WOMEN'S DIVISION ENTRY — The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce entered a float dedicated to Women in Service in the Veteran's Day parade. The float, which featured a mother with her children, a Catholic nun and women from the armed services, tied for third place. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

Public Invited To Open House At Jones Station

Public Service Company's largest generating plant is Clifford B. Jones Station, located south of Slaton on Farm Road 3020, just west of the Buffalo Springs Lake Road. The 256,000 kilowatt plant was completed in July and the plant is now generating 512,000 kilowatts.

The plant will hold an open house Saturday and Sunday, November 16-17, and the public is invited to visit the station from noon to 6 p.m.

The plant has a capacity of 6-million pounds of structural steel and 30-thousands tons of concrete in the plant building and the cooling towers weigh 2-million pounds each and have a million board feet of redwood lumber in them. The piping and tubing in Jones Station would reach from Lubbock to Abilene and back if you could get it all in a straight line.

Uses Natural Gas

Primary fuel for the boilers at Jones Station is natural gas. The number 2 unit was designed to also use number 2 fuel oil as standby fuel and the first unit has been retrofitted to also burn fuel oil.

The huge boilers can boil over 10-million gallons of water per day into steam at 2-thousand pounds pressure. This would be enough water to supply a city of about 50-thousand people, but it is used over and over again with only a small loss — approximately 6 gallons a minute. The steam produced by each boiler passes through 23 miles of tubing and comes out at a temperature of 1,000 degrees — that's hot enough to make steel pipe glow a dull red. On its return trip to the boiler in the form of water, the steam must pass through another 31 miles of piping and tubing.

The high pressure steam produced by the boiler passes through the turbine blades and causes the massive rotor on which the blades are mounted to revolve at 3600 times each minute. If it were free to roll down the highway, it could cover the distance between Lubbock and Midland in about six minutes. The generator rotor is directly connected to the turbine so that it also rotates at 3600 RPM and while turning, generates electricity at 22-thousand volts. The voltage is increased to 230-thousand volts in the transformers at the substation outside the plant, which improves the economics of power transmission over long distances.

First Ever

The turbine control system at Jones Station was the first of its kind to be installed anywhere in the world. The turbines — and in fact all the major equipment in the plant — are controlled by a computer which is programmed to perform all the functions of starting, operating and shutting down. It also responds to equipment faults by notifying the operators of the malfunction and in the event of a serious abnormality, it initiates the removal of equipment from service.

This ultra-modern power plant is a viable example that the environment and electricity are not enemies. You can have power generation without pollution and nothing that is harmful is discharged into the atmosphere at Jones Station. On cold days you'll see a big white cloud over the cooling towers, but that's nothing (See STATION, Page 8)

Frenship Slips By Cooper 7-3

By BILL AYRES
Cooper Sports
Information Director

Rain and a bitter cold wind dominated the game Friday between the Frenship Tigers and the Cooper Pirates, a farewell game for 13 seniors of Cooper. Wet field conditions kept both quarterbacks from trying to throw the ball. Kelly Choban threw three times, completing one and had another picked off by David Drapeau of Frenship. The only scores of the game came in the first half, by half-time the condition of the field had become worse. Neither team was able to score during the second half, and the Pirates fell to defeat by the Tigers, 7-3.

The Pirates were the first to score. Early in the first quarter, after a 30-yard drive, the Pirates threatened to make a touchdown. The Tigers held the Pirates and on fourth down, the Cooper Pirates went for a field goal. The kick by Tony Houchin was good, putting the Pirates ahead, 3-0.

Weather Factor

The remainder of the first quarter saw little action as the weather became noticeably worse, making ball handling very difficult. The teams did little more than run a couple of plays, then kick the ball away so the other team could return the favor.

Minutes into the second quarter, the Tigers broke loose. After a 60-yard drive, the Tigers pushed down to the Pirate 1-yard line. The Pirates held twice, but on third and one Roy Turnbow headed around the left end and dove over for the score. Brent Drennan kicked the extra point to put the Tigers ahead, 7-3.

The entire second half was an offensive battle against two forces, strong defensive units and a wet field. The offensive units of both teams found it hard going, having to battle both elements. As the game ended, the offense had failed to overcome either the field or the defense.

Turnbow, Jimmy Henry and Joe Johnny Rosales were the leading rushers for the Frenship Tigers. The three carried the ball 26 times for a total of 118 yards.

On defense, Kelly Choban, Kenneth Madding, Lonny Mathis, Ricky Bates, Kent Harvick, Tony Houchin and Clayton Bates were the outstanding players for the Pirates. Choban, Mathis and Houchin were in on 10 tackles for the Pirates.

The game marked the final performance for 13 seniors on the Pirate team. They are: Pringle (tailback),

For a student to grow in his existence of education, he must develop a much more cultivated form of learning. The basic courses that are offered as a natural part of education are not enough for the students' needs.

To help broaden and enlighten the aspect of learning, there are special enrichment programs opened to students. Let's take a look at what Lubbock Cooper has to offer.

In elementary, the students are taught art and music, which expands the students' sense of thought and feelings. The new wing now provides a resource room and a disabilities class.

Foreign languages are studied by junior high students. In many schools, foreign languages are not taught until they reach the high school level.

Programs directed to sports include basketball, football, track and baseball. CVAE is another program offered to junior high students.

In Cooper High, the enrichment program covers academic and pre-vocation levels of enrichment.

Special reading and math courses are offered. In the area of language Spanish and French would be included.

Many clubs and organizations exist at Cooper: FFA, FHA, CVAE, DE, NHS, Drama, Spanish and French clubs.

For the sports-minded students there are several areas from which to choose: band, basketball, football, track and field, baseball and golf.

ONE DAY ANNUAL SALE

Subscription orders for this year's yearbook at Lubbock - Cooper High School will be taken at a Yearbook Assembly today.

Full payment on all orders will take place on Tuesday, Nov. 19.

Persons who do not have children in school, but who wish to purchase a copy of the yearbook, may do so by sending a full payment of $7.50 per book to Diana Trimble c/o Rt. 6 Box 400. Your receipt will be mailed.

FRESHMAN SEASON

This year the freshman Pirates played seven games; five of which they won.

The Freshmen were a very competitive team as one can tell by looking at the holes in the lineup. Starting at quarterback is David Martinez, fullback Jody Deatherage, tailback Larry Neel, wingback Nick Hammond, split end Terry Gaines, strong end Jeff Pinkerton, strong guard David Collins, quick guard Rodney Warlick, tackle James Dunham, and center Don Taylor. As one can see, there is one tackle position not filled.

On defense, the ends, tackles, and cornerbacks are open. The linebackers were Jody Deatherage and Ernesto Garcia. Playing safety are David Martinez and Jeff Pinkerton and the nose-guard was Joe Olivarez.

these programs by their teachers. With parental consent, students are given individualized help in their weakest area.

One of SELCO's special programs is designed to give students on-the-job training. The Vocational Adjustment program provides this training with such jobs as welding and electrical work. It provides students with opportunity to get training in an area they feel most capable of working in; at the same time they earn their credits toward graduation.

A school year never passes without someone becoming ill or injured over a long period of time. Mrs. Robin White works with the homebound program for any student ill at least four weeks. Mrs. White obtains the student's assignments and carries the lessons back and forth from school to the homebound student's home.

BAND MAKES FINE SHOWING

Wednesday, Nov. 6, the Pirate Marching Band performed for contest at the UIL Marching Contest at Jones Stadium in Lubbock.

This year the Band received a II for their efforts. The twirlers received a I for their group performance and a special congratulations goes to Debra Haynes for being awarded a number one for her solo performance.

ENRICHMENT PROGRAM

The wide gap between students and the older generation is legendary. What specific communication problems do you seem to have with your teachers and parents? Basically, the communication gap may not be so much a difference of ideas and life-styles, which show an inability to express and share one's own feelings. The problem is simply that words have different meanings for different people.

The word "need" to some may mean something a child does not have. But to teachers this word leads to a much difficult, extensive line of thought and most important ACTION! Four years, if not more, of teacher training has conditioned the teacher to be responsive to a student to money made possible by the sponsors listed on the page.

As a final gesture, Slatonite Ad Manager David Leake, who makes out the list each week, included a super-special, Coast Guard vs. King's Point, this week, an action sure to endure him in the hearts of all contestants.

Pete Williams pulled even further into first place among the Fearles Forecasters, who will compete for this week and two more before Joe Sparkman officially has to buy the steaks for the rest of the group. Actually, Sparkman is only two games back and could wind up in first place if all the others suffered a complete mental collapse.

Williams is in first at 81 right, 38 wrong for the year, with Dalton Wood and Bill Ball five games back. One game behind them is J. W. Holt, who thought TCU might beat Tech, and two behind him is Sparkman.

Final Grid Contest Set This Week

Jim Milner, 135 Terry Dr., won first prize of $10 in the Slatonite's next-to-last football contest last week. Milner missed four games, as did the second place winner, Carol Baker, 925 S. 16th. Milner's tie-breaker guess was 21 and Baker's 28, with the actual total being 11 points.

Third prize of $2 will be split at a buck apiece for Roger Gickhorn, Rt. 1, Wilson, and Glenn Burleson of Slaton. Each missed five, and each had 21 points on the tie-breaker.

This week's contest will be the last of the season, so readers are urged to take this last chance to win prize

293=4,665=Thanks To Our Customers

In the last two weeks we've been honoring our long-service employees... 293 of them with a combined service of 4,665 years... and with individual service for periods ranging from five to 45 years.

And this seems like a good time to recognize the confidence that you, our customers, have in our employees and in our Company. We, all of us, appreciate the understanding you have shown in recognizing that, like everything else, our costs of providing electric service have increased... and that makes it necessary to charge more for electricity. Inflation, higher material costs, higher costs of the fuel we use to make electricity... even the higher costs of borrowing money all account for higher cost of your electric service.

But, so long as we are expected to have electricity ready for you the instant you turn a switch... to meet your year-around demand for electricity to keep your homes and businesses liveable... then there's just no other way. Increased costs must be reckoned with.

We have good employees... all trying to do the best job they know how, and so it's in our interest for us all at Southwestern Public Service Company to say, "Thanks," to our customers for their understanding... because their understanding of our problems does make our jobs that much easier.

Sundown added seven points in the third quarter as fullback Randy Wood capped a 52-yard drive with an 18-yard scamper and again Waygood kicked the extra point.

Sundown scored 28 points in the fourth quarter following two pass interceptions, one of which was returned for a 95-yard touchdown. Waygood scored the first touchdown on an 18-yard run, Glenn Faught scored on a 71-yard run. Waygood on a 71-yard kickoff return and Faught on a 95-yard interception. Wilson's only score came on a 1-yard lunge by Wes Wilke following a 51-yard drive. David Ramirez kicked the extra point to end the scoring.

Wilson ended the season with a 2-4 district record and a 5-5 season mark.

For the Roosevelt Eagles, it'll be do or die this week as the Eagles' only hopes for representing the district this year will depend on whether they can beat Denver City there Friday. And even if Roosevelt wins, they still would have to win a drawing or coin toss to represent district, since a three-way tie likely would result.

The Eagles championship express was derailed in Post last Friday as the Antelopes parlayed a field goal and touchdown into an 11-0 win, handing Roosevelt its first district loss and second loss of the season against seven wins.

Roosevelt had a couple of chances to score in the first

Auto Accidents Are Reported

Several wrecks were investigated by Slaton Police during the week, including one which injured two young men, and a Slaton woman had her purse snatched by a man she chased, but couldn't catch.

Last Wednesday a 1965 car driven by Leo George Tutson, 950 S. 1st St., struck a utility pole at 20th and Lubbock, causing about $900 damage. Tutson and a passenger, Ivy Joe Trotter, were treated for injuries at Mercy Hospital.

Another wreck the same day involved a 1972 car driven by Bradley Dave Robison, 1460 W. Crosby, and a 1972 station wagon driven by Ernest Ray Gipson of Slaton. The accident was at 9th and Division.

On Sunday in the 200-block of Floyd St., a 1971 car driven by Edna Tryphosa Thomas of Rt. 2, Slaton, and a 1971 auto driven by Billie Bownds Johnston of Lubbock, collided.

Also on Sunday, a 1971 car driven by Arland Bell Harris of 950 Ivory and a 1970 car driven by Adolf Gil Hernandez, 635 W. Scott, collided at 9th and Scott, causing damage estimated at $600.

Gus Seel, 330 W. Scurry, reported his home burglarized, with $1.50 in change and a gold railroad watch missing Monday. And last Friday a burglary of a home at 255 E. Scurry, owned by Joe Gatica, was reported, with furniture items valued at $205 reported missing.

Mrs. Lee Casey, 1525 W. Lynn, told police last Friday that a black male grabbed her purse from her in the vicinity of Terry Drive and Crosby and then jumped into a nearby car and drove off. She said she followed in her car, but lost him near the bypass. He was last seen going toward Lubbock at a high rate of speed.

Mrs. Casey said only a checkbook, cards and papers were in the purse.

period as Loyd Whetzel intercepted a Post pass at the Antelope 29 and later Calvin Lemon recovered a Post fumble at the Antelope 25. Post held both times, and later in the quarter, Post tried a field goal which failed.

Post drove 40 yards for the game's only touchdown after Tim Owen recovered an Eagle fumble. Joe Moore scored from the 1 with 8:36 left, and Mike Shepherd passed to Andy Williams for 2 points.

Roosevelt fumbled on the kickoff return and moments later Tony Conner kicked a 23-yard field goal to make it 11-0.

With just one second left in the half, Eagle QB Jeff Anderson's pass was intercepted in the Post end zone. Rodney Jackson returned the second half kickoff 55 yards, but again Roosevelt couldn't score. The Eagles continued to be unable to capitalize on good scoring chances for the rest of the game, once being held on the Post 5, and again recovering a fumble on the Post 8 just before the game ended.

Dickie Dunson, Lon Pierce and Whetzel totaled 21 tackles for Roosevelt. Jackson had 67 yards on 17 carries and Tommy Sansom had 25 in 4.

Wherever practical, use the more efficient fluorescent lights in place of incandescent lights. One 40-watt fluorescent tube provides more light than three 60-watt incandescent bulbs — and can save you about $10 per year in electricity.

If you live in a mobile home, or a raised house without foundation or basement, protect it from cold winds by installing "skirts" around the exposed base. This will prevent drafts through the floor and save on fuel bills.

Assuring A Power-full Future And A Sound Environment

That's why we plan ahead... we want you to be secure in the knowledge that you'll have enough electricity to fill your needs in the future. This weekend we'll be opening our Jones Station to the public so you can see how we do it. We have a new unit at the largest electric generating station in West Texas, with a turbine control system that's the first of its kind in the world. This unit brings our total system capability to 2,255,100 kilowatts!

We're also concerned about the environment... that's why we use reclaimed water at Jones Station... and we're experimenting with various crops using the reclaimed water after it's used in the power plant.

At Southwestern, we don't want you to waste electricity... but we want to make sure that you have it when you need it!

Water conservation is a big part of our plant operation.

OPEN HOUSE

Be sure to visit us this weekend. We'll be open Saturday and Sunday, between 12 noon and 6 p.m. Take Farm Road 3020 to Jones Station.

BE SURE TO REGISTER! YOU MAY WIN A MICROWAVE OVEN.

The students of St. Joseph School were dismissed from classes Monday morning so that their parents could take them to see the Veteran's Day parade.

On Thursday, Nov. 7, classes ended at 2 p.m. and a faculty meeting took place. Many items of business were discussed, but much time was spent on the topic of performance evaluation.

The Texas Education Agency as well as the Education Department of the Sisters of Mercy in St. Louis are stressing the need for job descriptions and an evaluation on the performance of the job.

More definite plans will be drawn up in a subsequent meeting on the plan and policy to be adopted by St. Joseph School.

On Tuesday, Nov. 12, all the students in grades one and seven and all the new students in the school were given their TB tests.

On Wednesday the nurses spent the day with students giving eye screening tests.

Basketball season is upon us. The Chargers will play their first game of the season with Christ the King in Lubbock today.

This Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria Sister M. Angelita, principal, will show a slide presentation of her trip to Israel and Rome during the summer months. It is sponsored by the Home and School Association.

Nursing Home News

We are all so thankful to see the sun shining for the past few days. I think it makes all of us happier.

We have two new residents, Mrs. Louise Cox who comes to us from San Antonio, and Mrs. Lilla Messegue, who came here from Wichita Falls.

Our crafts department has been busy. We are in a project now making dolls and dogs from fake fur. They surely are pretty and everyone enjoys helping so very much. If you have old jewelry or any other things you would like to donate to the crafts department, we would be glad to have it. Come by and visit our craft department we would like to get acquainted with everyone. We are very happy to welcome back home, Mrs. Lizzie English, and Mrs. Jennie English, who have been in the hospital, and we are glad to report that Mrs. Leah Ann Reasoner is much improved in Mercy Hospital.

The Nursing Home Auxiliary was glad to have six new members at the last meeting. If you would like to join, we would be glad to have you. The next meeting will be on the first Monday of December, at the Nursing Home at 1:30 p.m.

There will be a Thanksgiving Party for the residents on Nov. 26, at 6:30 p.m. Friends and families are invited to join with us to honor our residents for this occasion. We will have a work day on Monday, Nov. 8th at 1:30 to prepare for the party.

Colder days mean you'll soon be winterizing your car. When you take it to the garage, why not ask for a tune-up as well as anti-freeze? A well-tuned car drives better — and saves gas!

including ultraviolet lamps — such as "sun" lamps — ultrasonic diathermy machines, radar transmitters, microwave ovens, and even high-powered amplifiers used for hi-fi systems and electric guitars.

The radiation control engineers have developed a set of standards for laser safety, and these standards have been approved by the Texas State Board of Health, giving the radiation control program regulatory authority to ensure that the public is not unnecessarily exposed to danger.

The immediate task of the new laser safety program is to locate and register all of the high-energy lasers being used in college laboratories and in a number of industries. High-energy lasers are used for many kinds of research, including thermonuclear fusion — which some authorities believe will become the most important source of electrical energy in the future. Lasers are also used by many industries for such jobs as cutting, shaping, and welding metals and plastics, for quality-control inspection of miniature electronic parts, for alignment of machinery to critical tolerances as small as a millionth of an inch, and for a number of other work-a-day tasks.

One type of industrial laser is the high-energy carbon dioxide laser, which a radiation control official describes as "an invisible beam of pure radiant heat." The carbon-dioxide laser can be used by clothing manufacturers to cut an entire pile of fabric to an exact pattern, or the laser can be used by electronics manufacturers to shape and weld microscopically-small components. In one case, a laser welding machine is able to do as much work in a few minutes as a conventional process could do in 24 hours — and the rejection rate due to faulty work was reduced from 80 per cent to zero.

Of course, the very fact that high-energy lasers have these capabilities indicates that they could be dangerous. These high-energy lasers, which the radiation control engineers call Class IV lasers, are the first target of the State Health Department's control and regulatory program.

Less-powerful Class III lasers also can be dangerous. They are becoming widely used for such diverse purposes as surveying boundary lines, aligning pipelines and structural beams, leveling surfaces, and some scientific research. Medical applications include re-attaching the retina of the eye, actually restoring sight to people who otherwise would be blind for life.

Class III lasers also are widely used in high school classrooms for demonstrating the principles of optical physics. They can cause damage to the human eye and skin if a person is directly exposed to the laser's energy beam. To prevent unnecessary danger, the State Health Department's laser safety program has begun an effort to monitor and review laser products, and to educate the users of lasers to that they will be aware of the potential dangers.

There are also lasers that are even less powerful, and these are the ones that the average person may be most likely to encounter. Machine-tool alignment, quality-control testing, surveying, construction work, and optical demonstrations are all applications of Class I and Class II lasers. Supermarkets in Texas are beginning to install automatic cash registers at their check-out counters. The checker will merely pass each package in the shopping basket over a special counter and the machine will automatically calculate and record the product's identity and price. The special counter contains a small, low-powered, Class I laser device.

When man discovered fire, he also discovered how to burn his fingers. One of technology's newest wonders, the laser, is in a sense a new kind of fire — and high powered Class III and IV lasers literally can burn not only fingers but eyes and other vital tissue. That's why your Texas State Department of Health is actively involved in this new laser safety program — to help ensure that this immensely valuable device is designed, constructed, and used properly, for everyone's benefit, without danger to the public.

The Board of Directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at its quarterly meeting in Lubbock October 9 resolved to (1) work for improvements in the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program and other cotton program regulations on the 1975 crop, (2) "come down hard" on President Ford's recent interference with U.S. grain exports and (3) to exert all possible PCG influence toward assuring equitable State taxation of High Plains farm lands.

Board members from the 25 area counties represented by PCG also heard Dr. Jarvis Miller, Director of Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations, report that the 11-year old boll weevil control program initiated by PCG has returned to producers over $75.00 for every dollar of producer investment in the program.

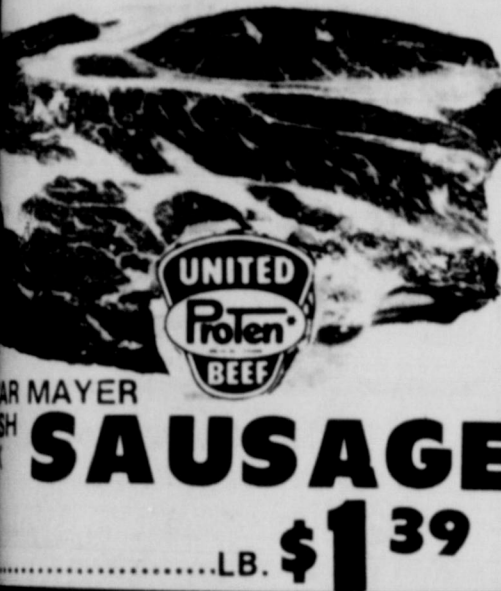

Miller drew his conclusions from a two-year "cost-benefit" study of the program made by Texas A&M University in cooperation with the National Science Foundation and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The study shows a round figure cost to High Plains cotton producers of 5.5 million dollars over the 11 years. Returns to producers, in the form of control cost savings and yield and quality preservation, are estimated at about $430 million.
