BRADY TRIAL FAILS TO SECURE SINGLE JUROR

Judge Bars Minors From Court During Trial Of Former Deputy U. S. Marshal

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

Twenty years ago this month the city council of Wichita Falls voted to submit a bond issue of $21,000 for additional street paving. If we remember correctly bonds had already been voted for paving a number of blocks on Indiana and Ohio avenues and on Seventh and Eighth streets, but even the voting of the additional bond issue could not have provided for more than a dozen blocks of paving in all, so that Wichita Falls system of paved streets of today is the growth of only 20 years.

Wichita Falls system of paved streets and Wichita county's system of paved highways have been the growth of only 20 years. If there should be similar advancement within the next 20 years most of the streets in Wichita Falls and the highways in Wichita county would be paved.

Little new paving has been laid in Wichita Falls within recent months and we take it that there are no funds available for such work. Perhaps the tax payers are in no mood to vote more paving bonds at this time, but if they should be we are told there is a good market for bonds right now.

Bond sales in December were estimated at $280,000,000. These figures were only surpassed by a single month in the country's history—December 1921 when bond sales aggregated $313,000,000. This record was followed by a year of tremendous construction activity throughout the country. We can hope that the high bond sales of last month will be followed by a similar development which would go far to relieve widespread unemployment and give an impetus to industrial activity in all lines.

The bond market has improved wonderfully since the collapse of the stock market. This is because investors in securities are turning to a safer form of investment and because money that was being loaned to stock speculators at high rates of interest has been turned back to lenders and is now available in greater quantity for bond investments.

There died at Iowa Park Sunday one of those characters who helped make some of the best things in American life. N. L. Lowrance was a Confederate veteran. He was a pioneer and a Christian citizen. He was a man of strong and earnest convictions he had faith and strength to live up to what he believed. There were not so many like him but those few have left a deeper and more abiding impress upon their communities, we can believe, than have men of less faith and conviction.

Prohibition Commissioner Doran blames "recent inflammatory attacks against our personnel" for the slaying of two prohibition enforcement agents in Florida. We believe that Mr. Doran has spoken too hastily. There has hardly been time since the slaying of the two prohibition agents in Florida for even the head of the bureau to obtain a full and true report of the slayings.

Violation of the prohibition law is a serious offense under the statutes but it is not nearly so serious an offense and certainly not to inflammatory as the invasion of a man's home without the full and proper authority of law. The slain prohibition agents may have had this authority. Only a full and thorough investigation can determine this. It seems, from this distance, that Commissioner Doran should have waited for the results of an investigation before making a statement.

Every citizen ought to be zealous in the protection of his own rights and in respecting the other fellow's rights. Somebody in the Florida case failed to respect the other fellow's rights. The public does not yet know whether it was the man suspected of violating the liquor laws or the prohibition agents. We would put the right to live above

CHILD OF 7 TO TAKE STAND AS FIRST WITNESS

Montgomery Orders Sheriff To Guard Doors During Trial

JURY IS COMPLETED

Testimony in Case Against John J. Barlett, 62, Opens Today

Judge Allan D. Montgomery Monday afternoon ordered the exclusion of all minors from the 30th district courtroom during the trial of John J. Bartlett, 62-year-old former deputy United States marshal here, charged with criminal assault against a 7-year-old girl.

Judge Issues Instructions

Judge Montgomery instructed Sheriff W. G. Bralley to keep a special guard at the door of the courtroom in order to prevent the attendance of school boys and girls and youthful curiosity seekers while testimony is being heard.

The order was announced from the bench after the selection of the jury from a special venire was completed about 4:30 Monday afternoon. The 7-year-old complaining witness, red-headed and tiny, will be called first to the stand Tuesday morning, George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney, announced. Testimony in the trial is expected to continue through most of Tuesday.

Jurors Selected

Thirty-four members of the special venire were questioned before the jury was complete Monday. Of the number 12 were challenged by the defense; three by the state, and seven were excused because of prejudice. The 12 men finally chosen were: P. H. Hammons, W. M. Elliot, L. H. Grim, C. C. Gilbert, R. L. Lancester, C. L. Dunn, Henry Hamilton, W. M. Turner, J. M. Jenkins, Aubrie A. Foster, A. Randolph and A. C. Elliott.

The former deputy marshal was indicted here last fall after complaints brought by the parents of a 7-year-old girl, alleging an assault committed in the marshal's office in the basement of the courthouse on Aug. 10 of last year. The suspension of the officer followed the return of the bill of indictment.

Sheriff Following 'Tip' Prevents Store Robbing

LIBERTY, Texas, Jan. 20. (UP)—Tipped off in advance that the L. Friedman general store at Dayton, near here, was to be robbed early today, Sheriff L. W. Hightower and two of his deputies killed one burglar and captured another. The third escaped. Sheriff Hightower and Deputy Sheriffs White and Eckles were hidden in the store when the trio was seen to climb through the transom. Wilbur Honey, 17, was killed when the officers opened fire, and Rube King, 17, was taken into custody.

Mrs. Waybourn's Second Murder Trial Begins

GEORGETOWN, Texas, Jan. 20. (AP)—Mrs. Rosa Waybourn went on trial here today for murder in connection with the slaying of her husband, W. W. Waybourn, at their home in Bastrop last year. It was Mrs. Waybourn's second trial. She was convicted and sentenced to 45 years imprisonment at the first trial, but this sentence was remanded.

Mob Lynches Negro For Alleged Cannabalism

CUERNAVACA, Mexico, Jan 20. (US) — Alleged cannibalism has cost Jose Hernandez, a negro, his life at the hands of an infuriated mob. Dispatches to this city from Yautepec report that Hernandez, charged with killing and eating two little girls, was dragged from jail yesterday and lynched.

BOOTH APPOINTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (US)—Ralph H. Booth, Detroit publisher and director of a string of newspapers, was today appointed by President Hoover as American minister of Denmark. He succeeds H. Percival Dodge, resigned.

Old Soak Has Friend Despite Epidemic

Old Soak, Secretary Henry L. Stimson's pet parrot, is being cared for at the Pan-American union in Washington while his master is abroad attending the naval conference. He is known here with his adopted guardian, Senora Rosaemaria Colomo, who apparently is unafraid of psittacosis or "parrot fever."

Chicago Auditor Fined $10 For Harsh Words in Wichita Court

Judge Martin Rebukes Accountant for Answer to Question; Glass to Take Stand Today

With the assertion that he would tolerate no "cursing" in his courtroom, Judge Martin Monday afternoon imposed a $10 fine upon R. E. Novak, youthful Chicago auditor, who is one of the principal state witnesses in the trial of T. R. Glass on embezzlement charges.

It was when Mr. Novak resented a question suggesting that he had accompanied other men on "liquor parties" that the fine was imposed.

"Anybody who says I went on liquor parties is a damn liar," the witness cried.

Auditor Recalled

"I'll have no cursing in this courtroom," Judge Martin interposed. "Since you are a layman I will fine you $10. It would be $25 if you were an attorney."

Mr. Novak was recalled to the stand three times in the course of the state's testimony in the embezzlement trial, completed Monday afternoon. The auditor told of coming here last year to go over the books of the Peoples Ice company and of the finding of shortages in the accounts. At that time Mr. Glass, the defendant, was auditor of the company.

According to the state's theory of the case, developed through the testimony Monday afternoon, Mr. Glass is accused of covering a $100 cash shortage by the deposit of a check which was not credited to the account for which it was paid the company. The case now on

Naval Delegates Make Talkie in London

LONDON, Jan. 20. (US)—The chief delegates of the five sea powers represented at the naval conference which begins tomorrow made a "talkie" in the garden of 10 Downing street, Prime Minister MacDonald's official residence, during their meeting today.

Each delegate, including Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, spoke briefly for the film-men. In the midst of the several hopes expressed for the success of the disarmament parley, Great Britain's government-owned dirigible, R-100 passed overhead.

INJURED IN FIRE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 20. (UP)—Vernie Swan, 27, was severely burned late today when fire broke out at the Penjac Oil company gasoline storage lot, causing damage estimated at $11,000.

STATE BRIDGE CONTRACT LET

Ringgold-Waurika Project Tentatively Awarded

AUSTIN, Jan. 20. (AP)—The state highway commission today opened its January session by letting contracts aggregating $868,110.24 and awarding a contract on a proposed bridge across the Red river between Ringgold, Texas, and Waurika, Okla., subject to the approval of the Oklahoma commission and the bureau of public roads.

The Red river bridge contract was tentatively let to the Vincennes Bridge company, Vincennes, Ind., low bidder at $238,886.50. Tom L. Green of Oklahoma City was the low bidder on a proposed bridge across the Red river between Gainesville, Texas, and Marietta, Okla., with a figure of $247,530.96 but award of the contract was deferred.

Other contracts let today included:

Jones and Taylor counties: 21.9 miles of grading and structures and concrete pavement on highway four, grading, small structures and pavement, L. E. Whitham and Co., San Angelo, $639,538.30; large drainage structures P. W. Burcham, San Angelo, $44,190.48.

Haskell Man Found Dead in Garage

Special to The Record News.

HASKELL, Texas, Jan. 20.—John T. Wilson, former postmaster of Haskell, was found dead in the family garage here at noon today. When found he had been dead about two hours, it was said. A note addressed to his wife and children was found on the body. Funeral services are to be held Wednesday. Survivors include his widow and seven children.

Oil Firms Enjoined From Pooling Patents

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (AP)—The U. S. circuit court of appeals today issued a final decree adjudging 52 oil companies guilty of violating the Sherman anti-trust act in pooling their oil cracking patents and enjoining them permanently from further violations of the law.

The prosecution was started by the government in 1925. The Standard Oil company of Indiana, the Texas company, the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and the Gas Line Products company were accused with more than two score other corporations and one individual of monopolizing the oil industry and restraining trade by pooling their interests in various cracking processes.

Dallas Senator Brings Up Hoovercrat Issue In Upper House

MOODY TALK TODAY

Resolution Calling for Trip To Huntsville Prison Is Adopted

AUSTIN, Jan. 20. (UP)—Legislators concerned themselves with several things on the first day of the fourth special session, but prison rehabilitation and fee system regulation, for which the session was called, were neither of them.

The senate found itself in a turmoil during the first hour after it was organized, when Senator Thomas B. Love, Dallas, revived the "Hoovercrat" issue.

Love offered a resolution calling on the attorney general to furnish a ruling as to the legality of any party executive committee barring any candidate or voter from "bolting." Love bolted his party in 1928 to vote for President Hoover.

The resolution was beaten, 15 to 12, but Love immediately announced that he would demand the opinion as chairman of the committee on federal relations. A senate committee chairman can ask for opinions.

Senator Edgar Witt then was named president pro tem of the senate.

Gov. Dan Moody sent word that he will deliver his address at 11 a. m. Tuesday.

The senate concurred in a house resolution to visit the penitentiary properties in a body at a date yet to be decided upon.

Santa Fe Hearing Opens Tomorrow

AMARILLO, Texas, Jan. 20. —Plans of the Santa Fe railroad for 380 miles of railroad will be considered here Wednesday by Thomas F. Sullivan, examiner for the Interstate Commerce commission.

The Santa Fe program, calling for two main line projects and a branch, is said to be one of the largest in railroad circles for 1930. The main line projects are from Amarillo to Las Animas, Colo., connecting the two main transcontinental lines, and from Felt, Okla., to Comlor, N. M., to form a third main line from Dodge City to Colmor. The Las Animas line is 220 miles in length and the other one 110 miles long. The proposed branch line would run from Spearman, Texas, to Dumas.

Ambassador Tellez To Return to Washington

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 20. (US)—Reports that U. S. Ambassador Tellez would resign his Washington post to become foreign minister in the cabinet of President-elect Ortiz Rubio were dispelled by an announcement of the foreign office today. The ambassador will come to Mexico City to be present at the inauguration of the president, the announcement said, but will remain in the capital for only 20 days. He will then return to Washington.

Army Rules Amended To Include Dry Laws

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—The war department disclosed today that army regulations had been amended to make violations of the national prohibition laws a military offense.

Stimson Wildly Cheered In Pre-Conference Speech To London Naval Delegations

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE
(Copyright, 1930, by Universal Service, Inc.)

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, at the brilliant banquet sponsored by King George for the naval conference delegates at the Savoy hotel tonight, was wildly cheered when he said America understood the purpose of the conference was "to remove the secrecy, the rivalry" that is the outgrowth of competitive naval armaments.

The elite of the intellectuals of Great Britain gathered to support Prime Minister MacDonald at the celebration on the eve of the naval conference. On the prime minister's right hand sat Secretary Stimson, on the left, Premier Tardieu of France.

Clergymen Speak

Other prominent personages present, besides the well-known delegation personnels, were the archbishop of Canterbury and Cardinal Bourne, as well as members of the diplomatic corps, numbering 500.

Proposing the health of the delegates, Mr. MacDonald said he was sure they come to strive heart and soul to make the conference a conspicuous success. He said:

"I can assure my colleagues in the house of commons that if the naval conference is as pleasant in the days to come as it has been in the days before it opened, you are going to see very little of me in parliament.

"But I know we are going to have our difficulties. We are going to have much work and little play."

America Lauded

Referring to Mr. Stimson, MacDonald said the United States, "though far away, was nearer and nearer at home." And, amid loud applause, he said:

"The United States has led every peace movement of modern times."

Laughter followed his sally to the effect that "if the delegates behave during the next few weeks—or months" as they have behaved today, it will be the best, most harmonious, most blessed six weeks or two months, that I ever spent in my life." Mr. MacDonald's final appeal was: "One thing we all want, delegates and public alike, and that is patience."

Secretary Stimson, in his speech, set the goal of the conference as "to remove the secrecy, the rivalry, the mutual irritation which inevitably attends the precedent of competition in armament."

Stimson Speaks

Good will and honest effort, he said, must be the prime movers of the conference. He pledged the American delegation's frankness and good will, expressing his good wishes toward all. He made a verbal bow in defense to the hospitality of King George and the British nation as hosts. Then he said:

"The people of the United States recognize this as one of those rare

Political Foe Charges Jones With Negligence'

AUSTIN, Jan. 20. (AP)—Congressman Marvin Jones, Amarillo, is charged with negligence toward his constituents and with being out of harmony with the Democrats in congress to a degree that nullifies his usefulness as a representative from the 18th district, in a statement issued here today by Thomas S. Christopher, Lamesa, his opponent.

The statement alleges discourtesy toward Marvin's constituents because of failure to answer their letters, special stress being laid on an alleged lack of attention to correspondence of ex-soldiers.

Creager and Hoover Discuss Appointments

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman for Texas, discussed several appointments with President Hoover today. Creager said appointments had been made, but that they had been referred to the department of justice for approval before being announced.

Opera Soloist Contracts To Make Talkie Films

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (US)—Announcement was made today by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer that Lawrence Tibbett, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera company, has signed a long term contract to appear in singing and talking pictures.

Seymour Beau Brummel Leads Way for Males To Help Looks

SEYMOUR, Texas, Jan. 20.—Twenty years ago, the butcher gave liver away, we took baths on Saturday night and grape seeds gave us appendicitis.

Today customs have changed and we are living in the age of advancement. In keeping with the times Seymour now maintains a beauty parlor that caters to both ladies and gentlemen.

T. B. (Chubby) Gowin, bookkeeper of the McNeil gin, took advantage of this service by being the first male patron to get a permanent wave, and is very enthusiastic over the results.

It is understood that several other young men of the city have made tonsorial appointments for beauty aid.

NEW BLIZZARD IS FORECAST

Accidents Due to Cold Wave Are Numerous

AMARILLO, Texas, Jan. 20. (AP)—After an almost spring-like day, a norther struck here tonight, sending the thermometer racing downward. Fog and mist turned to spits of snow.

BORGER—A sudden norther struck this section tonight, sending the thermometer tumbling after a day of moderation, and bringing snow and sleet.

Northwest Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma slipped and glided about Monday as the thaw of the week-end permitted the descent of overcoat lapels from over the ears, but weather forecasters gloomily heralded another cold spell.

Probable snow flurries and much colder was the gist of the official forecast for this section. The temperature here at 1 a. m. Tuesday was 27 compared to 31 at 5 p. m. Monday. Snow had been falling intermittently during the night.

Motorists arriving here from Fort Worth Monday evening told queer stories of the highway south of Wichita Falls. A continual misty rainfall Monday, extending many miles north of Fort Worth, had frozen on the road and made travel practically impossible. After dark, it was reported, camp fires lined the highway for miles where motorists had been forced to stop for safety. Even buses were forced to stop because of the danger of travel on the treacherous pavement and at each car a roaring fire was built from scrapwood to warm the stranded motorists, it was said.

A severe drop in temperature was predicted for Monday night in the Middle West, according to Asso-

Night Lasts All Day as Fog Grips Chicago District

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (UP)—It was night time in Chicago all day today.

Dawn did not come, noon was as dark as midnight and there was no way of telling whether the sun had set or not.

A dense cloud of smoke and fog smothered the city. The sky was inky black, tops of skyscrapers disappeared into the vapor and traffic inched along with headlights burning.

Powdery snow, which sifted through the haze, covered the streets with ankle deep slush. The weather bureau attributed the fog to absence of even a slight breeze.

Thermometers here and in the rest of the Midwest rose meanwhile to the upper twenties after a siege of record breaking subzero weather.

13 VENIREMEN DISQUALIFY IN JURIST'S CASE

Beliefs Concerning Guilt Of Defendant Excuse Of Those Quizzed

BRADY LAUGHS OUT

Accused Man's Demeanor Changes From Sadness To Good Humor

COURTROOM, AUSTIN, Jan. 20. (AP)—Fixed opinions and objections to the death penalty stood in the way of counsel trying to select a jury to try John W. Brady on a murder charge and late today when the former civil appeals court judge was led back to his cell not a single juror had been chosen from the 13 veniremen examined.

Eight of those questioned had beliefs that, they testified, evidence could not change and they could not, under any circumstances, conscientiously assess the death penalty. Two were challenged peremptorily—one by the prosecution and one by the defense. About 55 men were left in the present panel.

Denies Charge

Brady, standing stiff and straight and gazing into the eyes of young District Attorney Henry Brooks, pleaded not guilty immediately after Brooks, not much more than half his age, stood in front of the dock and read the indictment, charging him with fatally stabbing Miss Lehlia Highsmith, 26-year-old stenographer.

"John Brady, stand up," Brooks told him before he started reading.

Brady, 59, white haired, ruddy of face and stern of manner rose. When he heard the accusation he said in a low choked voice "not guilty."

Brady Laughs Aloud

When he came in this morning, in tow of deputies, he came with a stumbling gait and kissed his wife and sister, Mrs. D. T. White of El Paso. There were tears in his eyes then. Later, in the afternoon, he laughed aloud two times or more, the answering of veniremen appealing to his humor.

During examinations he wore his courtroom manner, a pose he developed after years as a prominent jurist.

Mrs. Brady sat near him and nearly always either held his hand or linked arms with him. She

Banking Too Near Ground Blamed for Plane Crash

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20. (US)—Following examination today of the wreckage of the Agua Caliente-Los Angeles air liner in which 16 persons were killed, investigators believed the crash occurred while the plane was banking at too low an altitude. William F. Bolt, vice president of the T. A. T.-Maddux airlines after a preliminary investigation of the accident, said the evidence showed the pilot "was about to plunge into a heavy fog and started to bank. The plane had little altitude and the left wing touched the ground, causing the crash."

Negro Given 99 Years For Attack on Girl

DALLAS, Jan. 20. (UP)—Claude White, negro, who had faced a second jury charged with attempted criminal assault, was sentenced to 99 years in prison in district court late today. His first trial, held last week, resulted in a hung jury. White was charged with an attack on Miss Margaret Barcasia, music store clerk.

GUN KILLS CRIPPLE

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Jan. 20. (UP)—Grover Everly, 24, a cripple, died here today shortly after he was wounded when a shotgun carried beside him in an automobile accidentally exploded.

Aged 'Extortion Victim' Yawns As Police Unravel Weird Tangle Here

For five hours and a half police and district attorney officials investigated a baffling "extortion mystery" Monday night and concluded the inquiry by allowing a strange old man his fondest desire of going to sleep and locking a wandering boy of 18 in a jail cell for further investigation.

Answering an excited summons from a woman at a boarding house late Monday afternoon, Police Chief Frank Burns and Detective Pat Allen found the aged man disentangling himself from ropes with which he had been bound and a gag placed over his mouth by means of adhesive tape.

In the same room was the 16-year-old boy, holding a small caliber pistol and apparently waiting for the man to sign a slip of paper on which a note had been written.

At police headquarters, the old man reluctantly gave up a wallet containing $470, in the old style, large bills. He explained that a pocket in his pants had been ripped open by the boy who had taken $20.

A "receipt" for the $20 was produced, however, and it was this paper which prompted police to call Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney, into the case. Appended to the signature on the receipt

University Regents to Hear Opinion On Possible Recovery of Oil Leases

AUSTIN, Jan. 20. (AP)—Judge R. L. Batts of Austin today was elected chairman of the board of regents of the University of Texas and Dr. E. C. Randall of Galveston vice chairman.

The regents awarded contracts for construction of locker rooms at the Memorial stadium at a cost of $33,000 and authorized Comptroller W. R. Long and Auditor J. M. Calhoun to invest $250,000 of the McDonald estate in bonds.

Tonight there was an informal conference with West Texas sheep men with reference to grazing leases on university lands. It was declared that some lessees were subletting their leases and that this action might serve to forfeit their rights.

Tomorrow the board will meet with a committee from the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college to discuss the claim of that institution on oil royalties collected from university lands. The college claims it is entitled to share in the fund.

Atty. Gen. R. L. Bobbitt will appear to give his opinion with reference to a proposed suit to forfeit title to mineral rights held by several oil producing companies to 600 acres in Crane county. The claim was made that the land had been leased by the land commissioner as public school land, whereas it belonged to the university.

seemed the more nervous, twisting and tearing scraps of paper and occasionally lowering her head as if in deep thought.

Girls' Parents Present

Meanwhile, two other elderly persons—these the parents of Miss Highsmith—sat quietly and looked at Brady. They had chairs only a few feet from him and their eyes nearly always were in his direction. The father, A. G. B. Highsmith of Baytown, left the courtroom once or twice but the mother, except during the recesses remained silent and unmoving in her seat.

When it became apparent, as District Attorney Brooks said, that the testimony phase would not be reached "before Wednesday" the great group of witnesses was excused until Wednesday morning. Among them was Frank Graham Jr., a Texas university student by whom the prosecution hopes to prove that Brady stabbed the stenographer to death on the night of Nov. 9. That day, he had been to the home-coming football game of Texas university, which he attended as a boy.

Churchman Excused

The inquiries which the lawyers, Brady's nine and the state's three, made to the panel members were of the usual nature, except for the fact that Dayton Moses, of Brady's staff, asked one man if he belonged to any church. The venireman said he had been a Catholic, as is Brady. The state exercised its peremptory challenge on him, but Brooks said privately that he did not take that action because of the religious phase involved.

Judge C. A. Leddy, J. D. Harvey and Richard Critz, of the supreme court commission of appeals, who have been summoned as witnesses in the Brady case, declared that the story carried by the Associated Press that they "were on hand to stand by him in this his greatest need" was entirely unjustified and unwarranted.

"We have taken no stock whatever in this case," they said, "neither of us have been consulted about this case by Judge Brady or any of his counsel; neither have we been interviewed by any newspaper reporter. Neither of us testified before the grand jury, and had no knowledge that we were to be summoned as witnesses until we were served with a subpoena."

Two hundred fifty names were included in the panel as drawn from the wheel. Of this number service was obtained on only 147, the others having died, moved away or having been otherwise unavailable. One hundred twenty men answered present in court this morning and of this number about 68, according to the estimates of counsel, were left when the questioning of veniremen as prospective jurors began. Some of those who did not answer had been excused because of illness.

trial is one of three indictments returned during the summer last year and alleging three separate offenses of the same nature.

State Completes Testimony

The state's case included the testimony of Curtis Sewell who told of giving a $100 check for rent on March 8; Mr. Novak, who told of shortage found in the books; Arthur C. Razor, former manager of the company, who told of bookkeeping procedure; W. D. Lacy from the Wichita State bank who identified the deposit slips involved, and T. C. Scott, present manager of the concern.

After the state had admitted the fact of the defendant's good reputation, thus halting the testimony of dozens of character witnesses, the defense called M. A. Marcus, former owner of the plant, and L. E. Martlew, accountant, to tell the jury that no other difficulties had ever arisen over the accounting of Mr. Glass. The defendant himself is expected to take the stand Tuesday morning.

The case for the state is being conducted by Sam Spence, district attorney, and Mike Anglin, assistant. Mr. Glass is represented by Bert King and E. R. Surles.

Senate Eliminates Articles From Tariff

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—In line with its action in the special session in eliminating from the tariff bill the existing retaliatory provision on automobiles, the senate today struck out four similar sections affecting foreign coal, explosives, paper board, wall board, pulp board, calcium acetate or chloride, nitrate and cyanimid.

Iowa Park Pays Final Tribute To Memory of N. L. Lowrance, Pioneer

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Jan. 20.—Last rites were said today over the body of N. L. Lowrance, 83, who died Sunday within the portals of the Iowa Park Presbyterian church, an institution he helped found.

He was stricken with a heart attack after concluding an address at the Sunday school services. He had been an active Presbyterian all his life, having been an elder, and at one time state representative at the Presbyterian general assembly.

Funeral services were conducted at the church with the Rev. Eugene S. Lowrance, nephew of the deceased, and Dr. Gaines B. Hall, pastor of the First Southern Presbyterian church at Wichita Falls, officiating. Interment was in the local cemetery.

A veteran of the Civil war, Mr. Lowrance came to Wichita county to live in 1891. He resided at the time of his death, two miles from Iowa Park on the Wichita Falls highway.

Survivors include his widow and four children, Clara Lowrance, Mrs. Gayle Park, Locke Lowrance, and Gayle Lowrance, all of whom live here.

Final Arrangements Made For Showing of "Connecticut Yankee"

Final arrangements were completed Monday for the appearance of the musical extravaganza, "Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," at the Memorial auditorium on Feb. 12 when H. C. Pennypacker, advance agent, inspected the local stage, and completed plans for bringing the company of approximately 150 persons here for the performance.

Following an appearance of three days in Dallas, the "Connecticut Yankee" company will come to Wichita Falls on a special train, and after the performance here, will have the accomodations of another special train to Oklahoma City, according to plans made by Mr. Pennypacker Monday.

Wichita Falls is on a nation-wide itinerary for this production which includes engagements in St. Paul, Minneapolis, Kansas City, St. Louis, Dallas, Oklahoma City, Denver, and cities of similar size to the Pacific coast.

Criticisms in the leading newspapers of the Middle West have been conspicuously complimentary following performance of "The Yankee," not only for the sparkling wit of Mark Twain which has been retained in the musical show, but for the artistry with which the entire production was given. The cast is that which introduced the play in its present form in New York, and played to Broadway audiences for more than two years.

Mr. Pennypacker was advance agent for "Rose Marie," which played here more than a year ago, and declared, in answer to a query, that the "Connecticut Yankee" is a much larger and brilliant comedy than the former production, with the inimitable humor of Mark Twain as a constant source of animated wit.

Heavy Increase Shown In School Registration

Promotions to the high school outnumbered the graduates by a large majority, according to an announcement of A. K. Presson, registrar, Monday afternoon at the close of school with a total of over 200 students from the Reagan and Zundelowitz Junior highs enrolling for high school work. An enrollment of 1,450 was registered at the high school Monday as compared with 1,176 at the close of the first semester Friday.

A total of 210 had enrolled for Junior college work, and several more are expected to enroll during the week. Although the college will not have as large an increase as that of the high school, there will be an increase over any enrollment in past years.

the right to security in one's home, but law does not.

Whether we like it or not women have gone into business in great numbers and they are likely to stay. At least there is very little that any of us as individuals can do about it. Conspicuous among the women in professional life is Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general of the United States and now attorney in private practice. Mrs. Willebrandt offers seven rules for success for the woman in business in an article written for the current issue of Smart Set magazine. They are:

1. Handle money, control its investment as well as its expenditure.
2. Be charming but impersonal in office conduct.
3. Take, when desired, both marriage and business life, and dispel criticism by making both successful.
4. Live at all times up to the high plane of being "the exceptional woman."
5. Refrain from argument on the woman question.
6. Keep a sense of humor.
7. Love people, especially the men, in spite of their foibles.

There's a lot behind these short rules—a lot for both men and women. We like especially No. 6, "Keep a sense of humor." The woman who can smile, even at the foibles of men, is quite likely to be happy—and successful, though it doesn't matter so much whether she is successful if she is happy.

Single girls buy three times more silk stockings, silk underwear and furs than do married women. Married women, on the other hand, buy 10 times more house dresses and aprons than their unwed sisters, says Margaret Sangster in the same magazine. She advises married women to dress for their job. "Silk stockings," she says, "silk underwear and lovely negligees have made many a marriage secure. They have also mended many a not-so-new marriage that had reached the cracking place. Aprons and shiny noses and lisle stockings have broken many another marriage."

Maybe H. T. T. had better be discreet and refrain from comment for once.

Naval Delegates Hear Chief Of U. S. Conferees

occasions of history out of which, provided only the necessary conditions are present, a long and permanent step forward on the road towards peace may be taken for all the nations of the earth.

"I earnestly plead," continued the secretary of state, "that we approach this conference table with no desire to overreach our fellow-countrymen, but with a sincere will to obtain a result which will be faithful and beneficial to all. No other result will stand the test of time. No other accomplishment of this conference will be permanent.

Mutual Armament

"The chief purpose of our meeting is to transform the process of naval armament from a method of competition to one of mutual agreement and limitation. Economy is only an important by-product of such an end.

"Our real aim is to remove the secrecy, the rivalry, the mutual irritation which inevitably attends the precedent of competition in armament, and to leave each nation free to have an adequate national defense which will yet not be a source of worry and suspicion to its neighbors. Manifestly, such a result can only be obtained by frankness and good will.

"Manifestly, if any one of us leaves this conference feeling that his country has been coerced into an unfavorable agreement, our chief purpose will not have been attained. A sense of injury will remain as a rankling sore to plague our mutual relations in future years."

Tribute to MacDonald

Secretary Stimson paid high tribute to the lofty character of Prime Minister MacDonald, saying:

"Mr. MacDonald upon his recent visit to the United States made a deep and lasting impression upon our countrymen. They were strongly attracted by his character. They followed his utterances with approval. To them he seemed the personification of international good will and of a lofty desire for peace on earth."

Thinking obviously of the suspicion, however, engendered by opposition in France, Italy and Japan, that MacDonald and President Hoover had come to a secret Anglo-American agreement, the secretary of state emphasized his position by stating that MacDonald's visit "was neither intended to, nor did in any way, negotiate changes in the official relations of the countries."

Mr. Stimson also reviewed America's association with France, Italy and Japan, and said he regarded them as great influences for good in world relations, and concluded with the hope that the conference would mark a great step forward in permanent confidence and amity.

Secretary Stimson, because of America's alphabetical precedence, was the first delegate called upon to speak.

Episcopal Men Attend Meeting

In spite of the bad weather, a large proportion of the membership of the Men's club of the Episcopal church gathered for the regular monthly meeting at the parish house Monday evening.

C. A. Rogers, speaker of the evening, chose "The Churchman's Mission" as the theme of his discussion. He analyzed man's relation to the infinite, pointing to the evidences of a super-mind and discussing man's obligation both to the super-mind and to his fellow man.

In the absence of the president, Merrill Blair, Dr. Wallace J. Masters, vice president, presided. After the completion of routine business, the evening's program was put in the hands of David Gray, in charge of the entertainment. Mrs. Mary B. Adams and her daughter, Miss Maurine Adams, offered piano duets, and Miss Adams entertained with a tap dance. Little Miss Mary Eleanor Clement, 9, delighted her hearers with her interpretation of one of her own musical compositions for the piano.

The membership sent a message of sympathy to Dr. W. D. Bratton, rector of the church, who was unable to attend the meeting because of illness.

Two Firms Granted Increase in Stock

The M. & V. Tank company here was allowed a capital stock increase from $150,000 to $225,000 by the order of the secretary of state at Austin Monday. F. E. Van Wormer, president of the company, explained that the increase involved a change in the style of the company stock, with a new organization and distribution of common and preferred stock.

An increase in capitalization from $30,000 to $75,000 was also granted the Rumore Finance corporation at Electra Monday, according to Associated Press dispatches received here.

TOWN TO MOVE TWO BLOCKS

PORT ALLEN, La., Jan. 20. (AP)—This river town, celebrated as the "taxless town" because a ferry franchise pays all municipal costs, is planning a brief excursion. A change in the levee along the Mississippi, just a few feet from main street, requires the business section to move back two blocks.

Attachment Issued For Witness in Suit

After Judge W. W. Cook had issued an attachment ordering the appearance of a principal witness, testimony for the plaintiff in the $14,000 damage suit brought by G. C. Casey, negro, against J. Gardner and E. Tefotiller was begun in the 78th district court Monday afternoon.

The attachment was ordered for Mr. Tefotiller, driver of a truck which last September collided with an automobile owned by the plaintiff. The truck was owned by Mr. Gardner, co-defendant in the suit. The plaintiff claims that his car was wrecked and his two minor children seriously injured as a result of the accident, which occurred on the Iowa Park road.

Thank Goodness! No More Liquid Cod Liver Oil For Us

Chemist Extracts Vitamins from Cod Liver Oil and Puts Them in Sugar Coated Tablets

TAKE YOUR VITAMINS STRAIGHT

For one hundred years Cod Liver Oil has been recognized by physicians and laymen as the remedy supreme for mulnutrition.

It is the leading tonic and reconstructive in wasting diseases and in convalescence.

In children it promotes growth of all body cells, especially bones and teeth and is the one valuable remedy for rickets.

For people who lack rich red blood, are anemic, rundown and need more strength, energy, vigor and activity of mind and body there is nothing so quick in beneficial action as Cod Liver Oil.

But men of science have long known that it is the Vitamins in Cod Liver Oil and not the Oil itself that brings robust health and strength to sickly people.

And surely there is not a man, woman or child in this wide world who relishes Cod Liver Oil. It is repulsive to the taste—unpalatable—hard to digest.

But now with all that's good and health-creating in Cod Liver Oil put into sugar-coated tablets and all the horrid tasting oil thrown away—people ought to take Cod Liver Oil this new way—and there are millions of them that can rejoice and be exceedingly thankful.

For now you can get these precious tablets at any drug store in America and every time you take two of them keep this fact in mind—

TWO OF THESE TABLETS ARE EQUAL TO ONE TEASPOONFUL OF VITAMIN TESTED, NORWEGIAN COD LIVER OIL.

Demand McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets and remember when you take 2 tablets you are getting into your system the equal of one teaspoonful of pure Cod Liver Oil—no other laboratory in the world dare make such a claim as every pharmacist knows and here's another thing to remember: you can get the beneficial Vitamins of Cod Liver Oil winter and summer when you take these precious tablets.

If you are one of the millions who take Cod Liver Oil why not try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets for a month or two. Remember that these vitalizing tablets are brimful of Vitamins A and D and are equally as good for any ailment or rundown condition for which cod liver oil is prescribed—Take your Vitamins straight. 60 tablets 60 cents. Restless Children Children will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always one sure way to comfort a restless, fretful child. Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than some powerful medicine that is meant for the stronger systems of adults.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is any need. In cases of colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. But it has everyday uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed to set everything to rights. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

Somebody ought to tell her

FOR every woman there is a sermon in the case of this lovely Pittsburgh girl (name withheld). Outdoors others find her so charming, so gay. But in the drawing room they politely avoid her. She can't understand it. The truth is that her trouble, which goes unnoticed in the open air, becomes instantly apparent—and offensive—indoors. Somebody ought to tell her. It would be a kindness. But nobody has the courage to do so. Even an intimate friend would hesitate to discuss a matter like this.

It's folly to assume that you never have halitosis, the unforgivable social fault. One out of every three is either an occasional or constant offender, surveys show.

Halitosis is caused by fermenting food particles in the mouth. Minor infections of the oral tract. Bad teeth, and Pyorrhea.

Kills Germs—Destroys Odors

Since you, yourself, cannot tell when you have halitosis, the wise precaution is to gargle with full strength Listerine. Every morning. Every night. And between times before meeting others.

Undiluted Listerine strikes at the cause of odors because it's an active—though safe—germicide. Even the stubborn Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) germ is killed by it in 15 seconds. Furthermore, being a powerful deodorant it immediately destroys all odors arising in the mouth. Leaves your breath sweet and normal.

SHAMROCK C-C HOLDS BANQUET

Nearly 200 Attend Despite New Blizzard

By CLAYTON HEARE
Record News Correspondent

SHAMROCK, Texas, Jan. 20.—A new blizzard struck here early tonight and the temperature went to 20 degrees and threatened to go lower, but the annual banquet of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce went on apace, nearly 200 citizens who defied the elements being present when the gathering was called to order in the Johnson hotel.

The principal address of the evening was delivered by George Waverly Briggs, noted chamber of commerce worker, of Pampa, Texas. Mr. Briggs spoke on "The Development of the Panhandle." O. V. Vernon of Amarillo, scheduled to speak, was unable to attend.

In his annual address, G. C. Berkley, president of the organization, complimented highly the business and industrial men of the city on the cooperation given by them during the past year. He also thanked his directorate and fellow officers for the part they have played in city development and in advancing the chamber's program during his tenure, concluding with a plea that the same spirit be maintained during 1930.

"The new year has come to us with many things to consider for the upbuilding of Shamrock and Wheeler county," the president stated. "These projects include efforts to get our highway programs of hard surfacing under way; assist in getting railroad construction begun at the earliest possible moment; bring air mail and passenger lines to our airport; give careful attention to an industrial program which rail facilities to the south will make possible; devote a greater effort to our poultry and dairy programs and care for other things as they arise. Looking forward to our operating year, which begins Tuesday we see great things in store for Shamrock and we again solicit the same unselfish cooperation given in the past."

Last Year's Work

Mr. Berkely followed his address with a report showing the past 12 months to have been the most successful year in the chamber's history with more than 30 major projects carried through to successful culmination. The last include several delegations of farmers and 4-H club members sent to various fairs and shows; advantageous insistence on phases of highway and railroad construction beneficial to the city; organization of a junior chamber of commerce; sponsorship of a musical band, which is now preparing for its first public appearance; purchase of one of the best airports sites near the city and which has now passed into private hands for immediate development and establishment of an air school; formation of a city building code and a number of miscellaneous items.

As outlined by Guy Hill, secretary-manager of the chamber, the 1930 program, which has been gone over and approved by the directors, includes six agricultural projects; eight civic development projects, among which are the erection of a city auditorium and inauguration of free mail delivery to homes within the city limits; a general legislative program; three items dealing with transportation matters, and five concerning industrial development.

Financial Report

The year's financial report as approved by the directors prior to the meeting showed expenditures for the city's betterment totaled more than $5,000 during the year, a disbursement of approximately $1 per capita, which, it was pointed out, is considerably lower than the cost of chamber of commerce activities in other cities considering the amount of work accomplished.

HELP KIDNEYS BY DRINKING MORE WATER

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation.—Adv.

Food Prices Trend Slightly Up in Month

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—The American housewife paid one and one-third per cent more for her food Dec. 15, 1929, than on the same date of the preceding year, but one per cent less than on Nov. 15, 1929.

In issuing its retail food index today, the department of labor said that from Nov. 15 to Dec. 15, there were decreases on 27 articles on which monthly prices were secured, increase on six and no change on nine.

STOREY FIGHTS PRISON CHANGE

Vernon Lawmaker Opposes Moody's Plans

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Jan. 20.—Declaring himself unalterably opposed to removal of the penitentiary system of Texas to a point near Austin, Cecil Storey of Vernon, representative of the 112th district left for Austin Saturday for the special session of the legislature, saying he was opposed to the extra session at this time.

"I had been in hopes that the governor would not convene the legislature, having in mind the expense to the taxpayers and the taking up of so much time of the members, especially in view of the fact that a great deal of time has already been spent in extra sessions.

"I am unalterably opposed to moving the prison system to Austin, or anywhere else except to centralize it on some of the property the system now owns, and if necessary, sell off some of the isolated farms, retaining the mineral rights, and use that money towards building up a proper system, to the end that there may be more diversification of what is grown, and also, segregation of the prisoners, according to ages and classes."

The representative expressed the hope that the governor would submit the pension matter to the session in order "that we can provide for a more equal distribution of that fund." He also declared he favors drastic changes in the fee system in Texas.

William Fox Charged With Heavy Stock Speculation

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (INS)—Sweeping allegations charging William Fox with having plunged heavily in speculative issues in the stock market, without the sanction of the board of directors of the Fox Film corporation were contained today in a suit filed in U. S. district court asking the appointment of a permanent receiver in equity.

The action, following closely on a similar suit filed on Saturday was instituted by Mrs. Susie Dryden Kuser, of Mine Mount, N. J., who controls practically one-fifth of the voting stock of the corporation.

Highway Improvement in Harmon County Pushed

Special to The Record News.

HOLLIS, Okla., Jan. 20.—Upon a definite agreement being reached by the commissioners of Harmon county, proponents of immediate action on the road building program are now suggesting that an effort be made to hard surface state highway No. 7 from the Harmon county line west of Hollis to the corner of the original town of Gibson, which is a distance of about 12 miles. It is pointed out that there is no controversy with reference to that much of the road, and the belief is expressed that the state highway commission is ready to start work immediately. In a resolution adopted by the county commissioners it is understood that highway No. 7 will be completed and the remaining funds be apportioned in the ratio of their mileage to the building of the other roads. The Harmon County Chamber of Commerce is making special efforts to get this paving started at once.

Long Skirts Cause Club Women to Take Action

BEACON, N. Y., Jan. 20. (AP)—Finding that the return of long skirts has made it difficult for them to get on and off trains, club women of Newburgh, N. Y., have decided to ask the New York Central railroad for relief.

The civic committee of the Ossoli club has arranged to present a petition through the chamber of commerce requesting that box steps be carried or some means found to shorten the distance between the train steps and the station platform.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times its much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any druggists.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.—Adv.

FORMAL DUEL SETTLES ROW

Chicago Police Get Story of Fight for Honor

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (AP)—Cook county's harried prosecutors must read up now on another law—the code de duello. For, out of the investigation of a killing on a busy street corner Jan. 6, has come the story of a formal duel, with pistols at 20 paces.

Rocco Brandinizzi, 26, bought a taxicab from Mrs. Asina Ferri, he told police. There was trouble over the payments and he lost the cab to a finance company.

The rest of the story, related by Brandinizzi follows: He quarreled with Francisco Ferri, 25, the woman's husband and Ferri challenged Brandinizzi to a duel to be held the following night. They met as agreed. At 20 paces, each drew a pistol. Ferri fired first and Brandinizzi dropped, letting Ferri empty his gun. Then Ferri fled, pursued by his antagonist, who fired three shots into Ferri's back. Brandinizzi then fled to the home of a friend.

Brandinizzi, arrested in Indiana Harbor last night, added that he was best man at Ferri's wedding two years ago and that the .25 calibre pistol he used in the duel was bought from Ferri for $10.

Opponent of H. J. Allen Delayed in Announcing

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 20. (UP)—Agencies seeking to keep Ralph Snyder, farm leader, from entering the senatorial race against Henry J. Allen for the Republican nomination next August, succeeded today in getting Snyder to postpone his announcement for a week.

A conference between Snyder men and representatives of W. H. Sproul of Sedan, also mentioned in the race, withheld Snyder's announcement until Sproul comes to Topeka next week for the Kansas day festivities.

Fire Endangers Lives Of Score of Persons

LINDSBORG, Kan., Jan. 20. (UP)—Fire, which did damage totaling more than $50,000 and which for a time threatened the lives of a score of persons, destroyed a two-story flat and a publishing company building here today.

The fire, the worst in the history of the town, was only stopped after fire apparatus had arrived from McPherson, nearby. For a time it threatened to destroy the majority of the business district.

The building housing the Bethany Book and Publishing company was destroyed.

Floydada Ships 10,000 Pounds of Butter East

Special to The Record News.

FLOYDADA, Texas, Jan. 20.—The Floydada Creamery company shipped by express the past week 10,000 pounds of butter to eastern markets. Despite the fact that cream is cheaper than it has been in some time the Floydada Creamery company is buying enough cream to keep their plant running to almost full capacity.

The Floydada Creamery company was organized and started operation in the late summer months of 1929 and today is recognized as one of Floydada's leading industries. It has always found a ready market for all the butter it could make, and its butter is recognized as being one of the best that is made owing largely to the fact that the grade of cream that is produced in this section is of a very superior quality.

It is conservatively estimated that the cream marketed in Floydada last year amounted to $120,000, which brought in to the farmers of the Floydada trade territory $10,000 for each month of the year for that commodity alone.

Senator McKellar Makes 'I-Told-You-So' Speech

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (INS)—The country would be "much better off" if Alfred E. Smith had been elected president in 1928, Senator McKeller, Democrat of Tennessee, told the senate this afternoon. He was aroused to speak of Smith while defending a high tariff duty on photographic paper.

"I was an Al Smith Democrat," said McKeller. "I worked hard for the election of Al Smith. I think the country would be much better off today if he had been elected and the country, Republicans, and Democrats alike are gradually coming to that conclusion."

WHISKY PRICES TOLD TO COURT

Prosecution Files Particulars In Conspiracy

OKLAHOMA CITY, JAN. 20. (UP)—Whisky prices were fixed at $10 a gallon and protection between $5 and $50 weekly in the alleged Pottawatomie liquor conspiracy, Herbert K. Hyde, assistant United States district attorney, said today in a bill of particulars filed in federal court.

The bill showing the trend of government evidence is to be presented against the 103 defendants.

"Sheriff Frank Fox, Oscar Motley, a deputy; Marion Fuller, Earlsboro police chief; Red Border, Duce Barron and Roy Grace first formed the liquor conspiracy," the bill states. "The conspiracy was formed and Randall Pittman, county attorney, was informed of the new business."

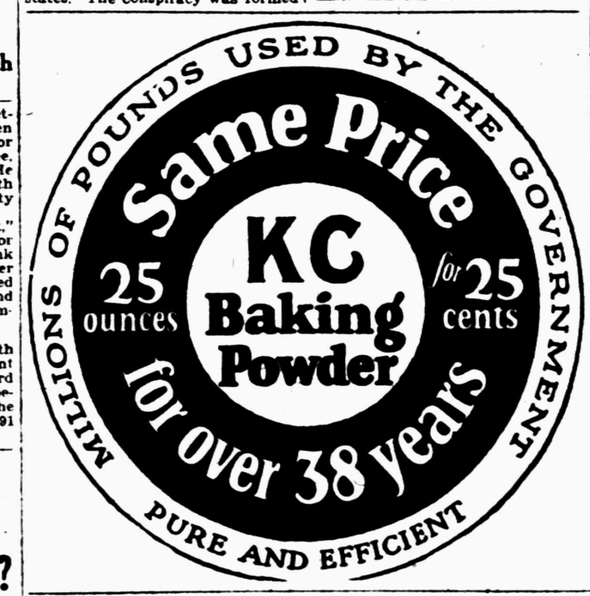

Alleged conspirators met at the courthouse and other places, Hyde said.

"The price of whisky was set at $10 a gallon and beer at $6 a case in season," Hyde said. "The amount paid for protection varied by the amount of business and character of each bootlegging establishment." The government alleged more than 200 persons were associated in the conspiracy.

No further delays are expected in bringing the case to trial Jan. 27, Hyde said.

47 Years' Practice Taught Dr. Caldwell

Many things about Men and Women

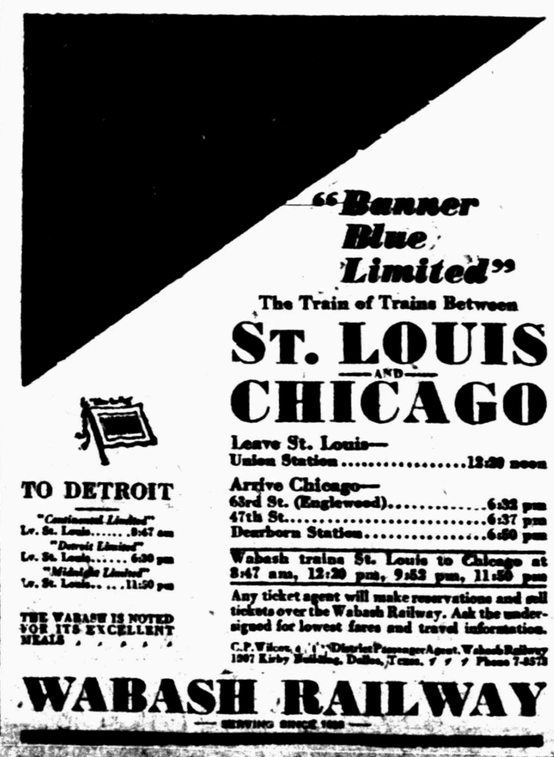

DR. CALDWELL loved people. He studied the habits of his patients and tried to improve their ways of living. His observations over a long period of time convinced him many people were ruining their health by a careless choice of laxatives. Then he determined to write a prescription which would get at the cause of constipation and correct it quickly and safely.

How successful his efforts were is best shown by the fact that the prescription he wrote back in 1885 has become the world's most popular laxative! He prescribed a mixture of herbs and other pure ingredients now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, in thousands of cases where bad breath, coated tongue, gas, headaches, biliousness, and lack of appetite, or energy showed him that the bowels of men, women or children were sluggish. It proved successful in the most obstinate cases. So men liked it. Old folks liked it because it never gripes. Children liked its pleasant taste. And everybody is pleased with the gentle way it accomplishes its purpose.

By 1888, the demand for this laxative was so great that the doctor permitted it to be bottled and sold by druggists. Today you can obtain Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from any druggists in the world.

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT TO

COFFEE LOVERS!

This fine coffee at a new low price

The new low prices in the green coffee market have permitted another substantial reduction in the wholesale price of Maxwell House Coffee.

This is the fourth price reduction in the last sixty days, making the present price of this fine coffee lower than it has been at any time in the last six years.

Why don't you try a tin, and at tomorrow's breakfast enjoy this deservedly famous coffee, so rare and mellow both in flavor and fragrance?

Forum Writers Sponsor Clubhouse Art Exhibit

Each writers club of the city was represented at the open meeting Monday afternoon sponsored by the writers department of the Woman's Forum for the exhibit of water colors and etchings hanging in the club rooms.

Mrs. Wayland H. Sanford with Mesdames James P. Bowen, E. C. deMontel, James Waggoner and B. C. Nicholson were hostesses and members of the Manuscript club and the Junior writers of Junior college were special guests. A number of other art lovers called during the afternoon.

Mrs. W. W. Silk had two valuable books on exhibition with the water colors of Mrs. Jane C. Stanley and the etchings of Hubert Morley. One book was on etching and the other was Grace Noll Crowell's "White Fire" illustrated with original etched drawings of Morley.

Mrs. Martha Sherman made an interesting talk on the process of etching and the value of originals and Mrs. James Waggoner spoke of the locale of the water colors, many of which she knew. She told interesting stories of Crystal Lake, of the pueblos, and many other spots illustrated in the water colors which were done in New Mexico by Mrs. Stanley, who is an aunt of Mrs. Wayland Sanford.

The Spanish tea room was brilliant with color and golden calendula added to its beauty when tea was served there to each guest who called to see the pictures.

Among those who registered were Mesdames James P. Bowen, James P. Waggener, E. C. deMontel, W. B. Whiting, Don Bowie, Carroll Sherman, M. C. Garrett of Fremont, Neb., Dr. Fannie M. Rodda, Mesdames L. C. Rodda, Joe Cable, John Gould, Wayland Sanford, W. M. Cason, B. C. Nicholson and Misses Jean Bowie and Elizabeth Beumler.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Little prisms of ice hanging from the shrubbery would shine like diamonds if the sun would deign to show his face.

We have seen meek little women waiting in just such frozen patience for their liege lords to smile approval before they dared to sparkle.

When the sun shines, those waiting prisms will glitter in a hundred dazzling rays as they melt and pass away.

Not much of "being" for just a little glory. And some folks think that way of life. They cry out at time while life is passing, aggrieved at what they have not, and yet they dread the end of life.

Once upon a time, the world went on without us and we did not suffer; why should we be afraid of not being here again?

Futile question! We are greedy of life. We, for one, would have liked to lived through all history.

Fancy being a shepherd on the hills in the golden days of Greece, looking down on the blue seas and going into the market places to hear the silver tongued orators.

Or earlier still, to have seen Helen of Troy, she who was so beautiful that even though she "burned the topless towers of Ilium," men could find no fault with her. We would have liked to have known Hector, our favorite in Trojan tales, with his "gentle manner and kindly speech."

It would have been great to have known Caesar and Antony and to have seen that Egyptian who, for all her age, had such "infinite variety of charms." One who may stand by the way and see, often stores up more treasure than those taking part in life's drama.

We would have tramped with the crusaders 2,000 weary miles and kneeled at the sight of the Holy city.

It would have been worth living to have known the life of the Maid of Orleans as it grew from dreams into grisly reality.

Scotland has always held a thrill. Did ever land have such home lovers? "You take the high road, and I'll take the low, and I'll be in Scotland before you," has always given a pang of sadness.

We would have walked London streets with Lamb and known Coleridge and Mary Lamb, poor loose-witted creatures they sometimes were.

Then we would have wished to hear the speeches of those men who spoke for liberty—to have waked to hear Paul Revere, and fought with the embattled farmers.

There's a kick in life that we find in the flimsy happenings of every day.

If ever the world of people were fully adjusted and there was nothing to fight for, one might as well lie down and die. But as for us, so long as things are happening, good, bad and indifferent, give us life.

Record News Daily Pattern Service

THE MODE IN TWEED
Pattern 1823

Woolen fabrics in colorful mixtures continue to be fashion favorites. The model presented today is unusually simple, yet extremely smart. The bodice is trimmed with stitched banding at neck and cuffs. The two front skirt pleats, stitched part way, are cut in interesting manner where joined to the bodice.

Design 1823 uses light weight tweed, jersey or wool crepe for its development. Seasonal shades are brown, green, red and grey mixtures. The belt may be made of the fabric, or a leather belt may be used.

May be obtained only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3⅛ yards of 54-inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model. The pattern has ample and exact instructions. Yardage is given for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of fifteen cents (15c) in coins carefully wrapped or stamps. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, style number and size wanted.

The new winter fashion book is 15 cents, but only 10 cents when ordered with a pattern. Address all mail and order to Record News Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

Forum Meetings Are Cancelled For New Dates

Mrs. C. P. Burton, president of the Woman's Forum, announced Monday the meeting of the board which was scheduled to occur at the forum Tuesday morning has been postponed on account of the weather. The date of meeting will be announced later.

The artist's program on Jan. 21 in the form of a lecture by Tom Skeyhill, "A Young Man Looks at the World," also was postponed. Mr. Skeyhill will deliver this lecture in March, on a date to be announced.

Weather conditions are to blame also for the postponement of the luncheon of the Musicians club and election of officers.

WETS PREPARE FOR CAMPAIGN

Committee to Consider Bills Is Organized

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—Congress began work today on the administration program for strengthening prohibition enforcement while the house wets decided on a new departure in their attempt to secure modification of the dry laws.

The militant bloc unanimously elected Representative Linthicum, Democrat, Maryland, as its chairman. It also decided to select an unofficial committee from its membership to hold hearings on bills for the modification and repeal of the prohibition laws.

A while earlier Mrs. Mary T. Norton, representative from New Jersey, had asked for a national referendum on the 18th amendment. In a statement accompanying her resolution, she declared that "women who believe as I do in temperance realize that as an experiment noble or otherwise, prohibition has failed."

House drys fought back at Representative Black, Democrat, New York, when he assailed Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, and Prohibition Commissioner Doran for their denunciation of critics of the prohibition personnel. The New Yorker was forced to withdraw from the record the personal remarks.

No attention was given to Mrs. Norton's resolution as the committees of the dry dominated house and senate started work on the law enforcement program.

Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, in a breakfast talk with President Hoover, expressed the view that prohibition would come up in the senate when the long pending tariff and Muscle Shoals problem had been settled. A number of prohibition arguments, both pro and con, are being gathered in the senate during the tariff debate and there is going to be a thorough thrashing out of the issue some time next month, if not sooner.

Young War Debt Plan Adopted

THE HAGUE, Jan. 20. (AP)—The Young plan for world war reparations payments, regarded as finally removing the damage bills from the sphere of diplomacy to that of economies where creditor and debtor alike can cooperate, formally was adopted today.

The protocol giving effect to the successor of the Dawes plan was signed in the historic Binnenhof at 4:40 p. m. The signing required postponement for six hours to enable an agreement on the eastern reparations phase.

There are many compromises. No one could be found to say they were completely satisfied with it, but British Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Snowden told the final session: "If nobody has had his own plan at least the result was generally satisfactory."

There were revisions of the documents up to the last 15 minutes. It required a whole hour to sign the 22 separate agreements that compose the whole protocol.

When You Need Help Most

IN time of need, to whom do you turn for help? Usually it is to nearest friends and neighbors; people who know and understand . . . people whose interests are yours.

Life Insurance is one form of "stored-up friendship," to draw on in time of need. Zealously, you esteem and guard it; conscious, always, that it will stand by you when it is needed.

Life Insurance companies are good "friends" indeed, and the best are likely to be those near at hand. Texas has many fine companies. Their names are listed below. Home offices are in Texas cities. They are "neighbors" of the people they serve.

Your Texas Life Insurance Companies Can Render Quicker and More Intimate SERVICE

The agents of Texas Companies write all Texas policies; symbol of service, protection and privilege and the mark of an honorable old line member to your citizen and request.

How much nicer and more satisfactory it is to deal with home folks. To consult about your insurance program, change a beneficiary, negotiate a loan or transact any business is more simply and quickly done. And on the final day of death-claim payments, home companies can give quickest service. When you need help most, friends who are nearest are best.

SH-H-H!
THE BEAUTY PARLORS USE IT FOR SHAMPOOING!

YES they do! And rightly. For White King is the purest soap made—a granulated vegetable oil soap that leaves the loveliest hair light, shining and lustrous.

And not only for shampooing! Silks, woolens, linens, glass, silver, china—you can use it all over the house. It won't hurt anything water won't hurt. It cleans quickly and thoroughly—but gently.

White King Granulated is a condensed soap. One teaspoonful in a basin of water for stockings or lingerie. One capful for the washing machine—no more! All grocers have it. Is it on your list for today?

TROLLEYS COLD, COUNCIL TOLD

Clerk Ordered to Request Warmer Cars

In response to numerous reports to Mayor J. W. Akin from residents who claim the street cars here have been "uncomfortably cold" during the present cold wave, the city council at its meeting Monday night instructed W. E. McBroom, city clerk, to write the Wichita Falls Traction company a letter requesting them to take steps to make the cars "comfortably warm."

Mayor Akin said that it had been reported to him the cars were so cold that one motorman's feet became frozen in spite of his efforts to keep the car warm.

The aldermen decided upon a meeting this week for consideration of the Ohio avenue tax controversy and instructed Mr. McBroom to have City Manager George D. Fairtrace call a special meeting of the council as soon as members of the tax department had completed a survey of values and rentals on both Ohio and Indiana avenues, which is now being compiled for comparison with the figures presented by the property owners demanding a reduction of taxable valuations. The Ohio avenue property owners have threatened to file suit against the city if the council has not reduced the taxes by next meeting night, Jan. 27. It was definitely stated at the meeting last week that suit would be filed in the event the aldermen refused a reduction.

The council refused the application of J. A. Hobbs for operation of a dance club at 916½ Indiana avenue. The matter of altering the present method of paying city taxes to make them payable in two installments, semi-annually, was brought to a discussion, but Mr. McBroom pointed out the move would require an amendment to the city charter and that the next general election, coming on April 1, would fall three days before the end of the two-year period since the last amendment to the charter. He explained that a two-year period must lapse following an amendment, during which time no other amendments may be made.

250 Attend Lamesa's First Short Course

Special to The Record News.

LAMESA, Texas, Jan. 20.—Despite inclement weather, Dawson county's first poultry short course opened here Monday afternoon with 250 farmers in attendance. The first program was held in the local theater building and consisted of educational moving pictures and a welcome address by Judge Phillip Young. B. R. Galloway, noted poultry expert of South Plains, addressed the audience on the poultry industry.

Sore Throat? Don't Gargle

This Doctor's Prescription Gives Quicker, Better Relief

Don't suffer the pain and discomfort of sore throat. Use a doctor's prescription called Thoxine guaranteed to relieve with the very first swallow. Gargles and salves are too slow and if they do relieve it is usually only temporary.

Thoxine has a double action—it relieves the soreness and goes direct to the internal cause. It contains no harmful drugs and is safe and pleasant for the whole family. There is nothing better to stop coughing due to irritated throats. Just ask for Thoxine, put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Money back if not relieved. Sold by all druggists.—Adv.

ciated Press dispatches, and should the cold wave make its expected march southward this area would be in the middle of it.

Meanwhile accidents were rife over this territory. M. M. Causey sustained several broken ribs Monday when he fell on the ice at Seymour. W. W. Barbee, also of Seymour, broke his wrist Monday in a fall.

James Rasmuson, 87, was recovering at Lawton, Okla., from three broken ribs sustained in a fall, and B. F. McCarty and E. P. Ruby, also of Lawton, were recovering from near-asphyxiation in their ill-ventilated home Sunday, when McCarty's wife, 63, was killed by gas fumes. It was the first death resulting from the cold spell in Lawton.

The bridge across the North Pease river, 12 miles south of Childress, was destroyed by fire Sunday through a trick of the weather. A frozen pipe line burst, starting a fire which destroyed the bridge. Traffic today was routed through Kirkland.

DEVOL REPORTS HEAVY SNOW

Special to The Record News.

DEVOL, Okla., Jan. 20.—Snow began falling heavily here about 7 o'clock tonight and within a few hours highways in all directions were banked with snow, in places five feet deep. All motor traffic in and out of Devol was suspended. Cars became banked in with snow in the streets and no automobiles had been seen either to leave or arrive here by midnight tonight.

FLOOD MAROONS MANY FAMILIES

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 20. (AP)—The midwestern branch of the American Red Cross tonight was notified that between 100 and 150 families were marooned by the flood waters of the St. Francis river in the Big Lake district of Arkansas. They were without means of rescue, the Red Cross was told.

Mrs. H. L. Holmes Dies In Iowa Park Monday

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Jan. 20.—The body of Mrs. H. L. Holmes, 71, pioneer of Northwest Texas who died early today at the home of her son, J. N. Holmes, was to be forwarded tonight to Anson, Texas, for funeral services and interment. She is survived by four sons, G. W. and J. N. Holmes of Iowa Park, T. H. Holmes of Wichita Falls, and Frank B. Holmes of Anson.

The German race is supposed to have migrated from Asia.

YOUTH JAILED IN 'EXTORTION'

Aged Man Tells Strange Story to Police

were the initials "U. S. D. Marshal."

Questioning by Mr. Anglin revealed that the aged man had gone to the youth's room following an invitation to supper and there he had met with a demand that he change a savings account in a Wichita Falls bank, amounting to about $600, to a checking account for the boy. A scuffle ensued when the demand was refused and the attention of the woman who called police was attracted.

The man told Mr. Anglin the youth had said he was a federal officer and was going to return him to Kansas, his home state, for wife desertion but "if I'd known that I'd have given him the account." Arrival of police averted the transfer of the account, he said.

He said he had accounts at various banks in Texas and Kansas and that he was on his way to Kansas to deposit the $470. Throughout the questioning the aged man repeatedly expressed the desire to go to bed and finally his desire was granted.

The boy told Mr. Anglin he was out on parole from an industrial school in Montana. He admitted taking the $20 from the old man, whom he said he had met when both worked on a section crew. The youth will be held at least until further information on his past record is obtained, Mr. Anglin said.

Hair that sparkles!

No one can deny the importance of having the hair arranged in the style best suited to the individual type. Much of the effect is lost, however, unless the hair is kept soft, abundant, lustrous.

A million busy women and girls know the easiest way to keep the hair in perfect condition is with Danderine. The first application will show you how marvelously it removes excess oil from the hair; cleanses it; makes it sparkle with new life and lustre. It's so simple to use Danderine. All you do is put a little on your brush each time you arrange your hair! The consistent use of Danderine will dissolve the worst crust of dandruff; soothe, heal the scalp; stimulate the growth of long, silky abundant hair.

Danderine isn't sticky or oily; doesn't show. It makes the hair easy to manage; holds it in place for hours. "Set" your waves with it and see how much longer they stay in.

Solo by New Singer Features Club Meet

An educational program on the Kiwanis International organization by new members of the local club, and a group of solos by Mrs. Victor B. Lowrey, soprano, comprised the program given at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Kemp hotel Monday noon.

Raymond Dorsey, P. Reid Freeman, and Earl McCord, recently initiated as Kiwanians, presented papers outlining the origin, growth and future prospects, respectively, of the Kiwanis organization.

Mrs. Lowrey, recently removed from Dallas to this city, revealed a lyric soprano voice of unusual register and beauty in her initial appearance here in solo work. Her experience includes about two year's work on musical productions for the stage in the East, besides numerous solo positions in Dallas.

Dr. Austin F. Leach and Phil M. Cordell also spoke briefly on Monday's program, and W. E. Young led a singsong of patriotic and Kiwanis songs, with M. A. Ellis accompanying. Dr. Ralph Peterson presided at the meeting for the first time since his election as president.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

She Said to Take Cardui, and "It Made All the Difference In My Health"

Popular Bluff, Mo.—"For a long time I suffered with pains right across my back," writes Mrs. F. M. Beatwright, of 831 Park avenue, this city.

"I had nervous headache and sometimes I could not sleep.

"When I began to take Cardui I began to feel better. I was complaining to a friend how bad I felt. She had been taking Cardui and she told me to try it, so I did. Before that, I just could not relax, and I got very little rest at night.

"I took Cardui for several months and it made all the difference in the world in my health. I felt stronger and better than I had in many a year.

"I recommended Cardui to other women when they suffer from weakness and bad breath."

Thousands of women have been benefited by taking Cardui, and their experience prompts them to recommend it to their friends.

Cardui is a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, and contains nothing harmful or injurious.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Fashion revels in the soft, enchanting curves of the modern figure. Don't sacrifice that graceful contour by permitting your eyes to be bigger than your stomach. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. When tempted to treat yourself too well, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the modern, alluringly-rounded figure.

FROM HORNS TO HALO

Daily Editorial

AT THE AGE of 90, John D. Rockefeller has started out on a speech-making tour of the universe. Following the example of various potentates, statesmen and smaller fry, he has consented to have his vocal portrait painted and exhibited throughout the world.

His face and voice are now lastingly framed in the celluloid Hall of Fame.

Time was, when public opinion would accept no likeness of Mr. Rockefeller except with horns and hoof. Caricature and anathema once dipped their brushes and words in slime and vitriol and depicted him as the very symbol of ruthless avarice and pitiless power.

Physiognomists presumed to read in his grim lineaments the reincarnated cruelty of Cheops and of Caesar.

For more than half his life he hung upon the crucifix of national condemnation, harried by government inquisitors, denounced as a corrupter of legislature and judiciary, and commonly stigmatized as an economic ogre with an insatiate appetite for the destruction of competition.

A later generation knows him only as the mightiest of all humanity's benefactors—as grand marshal in a parade of such philanthropies as history never thought to witness.

Seemingly possessed of the coldest, the most aloof and unsympathetic of temperaments, he has gradually revealed an understanding of basic human needs, for which many a lesser servant of good has been canonized.

MR. ROCKEFELLER is not charitable; he is not an almsgiver. He has donated his wealth to the ultimate correction, not the superficial alleviation, of want and suffering.

Rather than hospitals, he has created institutions to decrease the necessity for hospitals. His millions are not pouring into pill boxes and medicine bottles. They are removing, instead, the causes of disease—ridding the earth of the vileness, the ignorance and the habits of living on which plagues and epidemics prosper.

He has drenched torches with Standard Oil earnings to light the way for research and education. And those torches are blazing in the dimmest wilderness—searching for the foulness that everywhere threatens health and stamina.

St. George, who attained imperishable celebrity through one dragon scalp, was a piking hunter by contrast. Rockefeller's golden lance is leveled at all the monstrous forces with which death has immemorially ravaged population.

The vast sums he has set aside for superannuated ministers and college professors are not humiliating doles, but earnests of his respect for careers unselfishly devoted to general advancement.

Without these pensions, the most vitally needed instructors in American universities would be compelled to relinquish their posts and turn their talents to such remunerative tasks as would insure solvency in old age.

Flood, famine and catastrophe have dipped into his pockets for totals of millions. The Red Cross carries a pass-key to his purse, and the social reforms he has financed alone could distinguish him as a humanitarian.

Be sure to take your children to the motion picture theater to meet John D. Rockefeller, to whom they owe more than any dozen medieval saints.

Then bring them home and tell the story of the man, on whose head yesterday planted horns and tomorrow will place a halo.

DAVID BRANCH'S DAILY FILOSOFY

Our actions speak louder than our words. By our words we may tell what we would like to be, but, by our deeds we tell what we are at the present time.

2,000,000 Must Starve

IT IS hard to be stirred by a tragedy unless it takes place right under our noses. If you came down to breakfast some morning and read in your newspaper that a family of half a dozen people living in your city were starving to death you would be profoundly stirred.

You and your fellow citizens would get busy at once to see to it that this calamity was averted. You wouldn't bother about any other task until that had been taken care of.

But a few thousand miles make a good deal of difference.

The other morning the newspapers announced quite calmly that 2,000,000 people in Shensi province, China, are going to die of starvation within the next couple of months.

The news was given quite calmly, without excitement. In most papers it even failed to make the front page. These 2,000,000 are going to starve and that is all there is to it. There is no money available for them, and no food; and even if there were, transportation conditions of Shensi are so disorganized that relief could not be got to them in time.

China is a long way off. The other side of the world might as well be the other side of the moon as far as we are concerned. The sufferings of the doomed 2,000,000 don't really get home to us.

But even if this news from China doesn't hit us as hard as it might, it is bound to depress us a little. For it is not pleasant to know that we live in that kind of world. Now and again we are able to persuade ourselves that there are magnificent things in this universe; this Chinese famine proves that the universe also goes to the other extreme and holds misery unspeakable.

It is good for us to learn that lesson—even if, as is this case, there isn't much of anything we can do about it. It is always good for us to be bothered by other people's sufferings. There is no other way for us to advance.

The progress of civilization is not recorded by the advance in man's inventions, explorations or triumphs in self-government. In its essence, it consists of the slow, painful introduction of softness into a world that was originally as hard as flint. Our rise from savagery and beasthood can just about be measured by the degree in which other people's misery can make us lose sleep.

So the 2,000,000 who are dying in Shensi province are not, if you measure it with a fine enough rule, dying altogether in vain. Their fate worries us, even if only slightly. Through the long centuries we are acquiring, little by little, the capacity to be worried in that manner more and more greatly. Some day, many years hence, things of that kind will bother us so that we shall rise up and end them, for the simple reason that no stranger can be miserable without making us miserable, too.

When that day comes we shall have something very like the brotherhood of man on earth. But just at present it is still a long way off.

Cutting the Pilot's Pay

TWO OF THE LEADING eastern air transport companies have announced reductions in the salaries they are paying their pilots; and somehow that bit of news doesn't go down very easily.

For quite a while the leaders of the aviation industry have been telling us of the vast development that is taking place in the air. They have been talking about the great demand for pilots, about the need for more training schools, about the responsibility that rests on the shoulders of the individual flier.

And now they are cutting the fliers' salary checks!

After all, it is the pilot who makes the air transport line possible. If anyone deserves the lion's share of the profits it is he. A reduction in his pay is a queer sequel to all the trumpeting that aviation's leaders have been indulging in of late.

Confusion on Both Sides

AN AMERICAN NEWSPAPER MAN, cabling from Russia the news that the Russians are expecting a Communist revolution to break out in America almost any day now, adds that the Russians have a most distorted view of America.

Having been fed for years on propaganda, he says, they know nothing whatever about real conditions in the United States, and swallow whole the most incredible statements about us in their newspapers.

This is probably quite true, and very regrettable. However, the converse is true also. Most Americans have most distorted views of Russia. Having been fed on propaganda for years, we swallow whole the most incredible statements about the land of the Soviets. We understand Russia as little as Russia understands us.

Ignoring Mr. Shearer

ONE OF THE BEST bits of news we have read in a long time is the story about the reception that was accorded William B. Shearer when he sought to unburden his soul in a public lecture in New York.

Mr. Shearer spoke with all of his famous gusto and fury—but a scant three or four hundred people were all that turned out to hear him. He had a fire-eating admiral to introduce him, and he promised to reveal the sinister designs which the British entertain toward this nation; but somehow people just weren't interested.

Shearer is a jingo of the worst type. Time was when a lecturer of his stamp could pack a hall anywhere he chose to speak. That that time has passed indicates that we are getting more intelligent. The American public evdently has taken Mr. Shearer's measure.

Vagrant

Oh, I have tried to change and mend my ways,
And make myself a worthy lad
for you;
I know it to be true that virtue
pays,
That wine and revelry will never do;
But I have failed you time and time again,
And lost the lure that I once held you by;
The phrases that were soft as April rain
Now waken in your heart no answering cry.

Well, better so, a lad will come for you
Alive with all the virtues that I lack;
You will be glad that I have proved untrue
Nor own the least regret in looking back.

You loved me once—you thrilled
when I was near—
And that is quite enough for me,
dear!

—JOHN

Gag

Harry Reichenbach forwards the one about the old Jewish merchant who was traveling in a Pullman berth from Chicago to New York. During the middle of the night he suddenly awakened, and after tossing for 15 minutes, decided to look out the window to find out why the train had paused so long.

He got the attention of a towner. "Say, leesen!" he cried, "wot fur we are stending in diss tonn so lung?"

"There's been a wreck," was the reply.

"Oy!" yelled the dialectician, "my leg's broke!"

Merciless Truth

Two wags standing in front of the Palace Theater were discussing the talkie invasion and about the better known passersby. "Who's that bird?" asked one as he pointed to a chap dashing into the Palace building. "What does he do?"

"He's a booking agent in the Radie-Keith offices," said the other.

"I get it," was the retort. "That's the same as being out of work some place else."

Nonsense

Fred Allen, of "The Little Show," will now sing: "When the roll is called up yonder what'll we dunk in our coffee?"

As Who Isn't?

Joe Flynn, the press agent, was complaining about the extremely cold weather the other night.

"I'm not taking my morning bath these days," he chirped.

"I'm using a feather duster."

The Comeback Awful

A monologist who played at the Palace Theater last week probably will not toy with a spectator in the audience again. During his act the other performance he paused to stare at a tardy arrival who slowly ankled down the aisle to his second row pew, and before the customer sat down the actor said: "You're a little late."

"What?" growled the man, still standing.

"I said you are a little late," chirped the actor who realized that he was dealing with no chump.

"Listen, you!" was the retort terrible, "if I thought you were on the bill I wouldn't have come at all!"

In Case You Didn't Know

Walter Neale is offering what appears to be a sweetgant book for authors and others who would improve their style. Neale is the publisher of "Write It Right," by Ambrose Bierce, a book pointing out hundreds of errors of locution frequently made by the most practiced and eminent authors. We theft this much of it for your edification.

Given: "The soldier was given a rifle." What was given is the rifle, not the soldier. Nothing can be given anything.

Got married for married: If this is correct, we should say, also, "got dead" for died.

Fail: "He failed to note the hour." That implies that he tried to note it, but did not succeed. Failure carries always the sense of endeavor; when there has been no endeavor there is no failure. A falling stone cannot fail to strike you, for it does not try; but a marksman firing at you may fail to hit you, and I hope he always will.

Executed: "The condemned man was executed." He was hanged, or otherwise put to death; a man is never executed; it is the sentence that is executed.

By Way of Report

Recent arrivals from Florida assert that the state roads are choked with government representatives who halt all cars entering or leaving the province to search for the "Fruit Fly," a menace to Florida crops. One motorist who observed the officers ignore his supply of liquor, asked: "How come you don't ask me about the laughing soup I got there?"

"We ain't supposed to worry about no hooch," was the stiff retort, "all we are told is to watch for fruit flies—keep goin'!"

According to Contract

The case of Brock Pemberton, producer of the smash-hit, "Strictly Dishonorable," who was unable to control a brokers' buy of seats for his own attraction, emphasizes the fact that to a remarkable degree any Broadway show, because of the way the contracts are drawn, is in the control of the theater rather than the producer. It is only when the attraction is in a theater controlled by the producer that any of the brokers' gravy goes to the producer, and until recent years it was unheard of that the producer cut in the agency kickback. Which accounts also for the fact that a $50-a-week treasurer recently was able to loan $500,000 to his boss who, for more than a decade, has been producing hits in his own house but who is currently broke just the same.

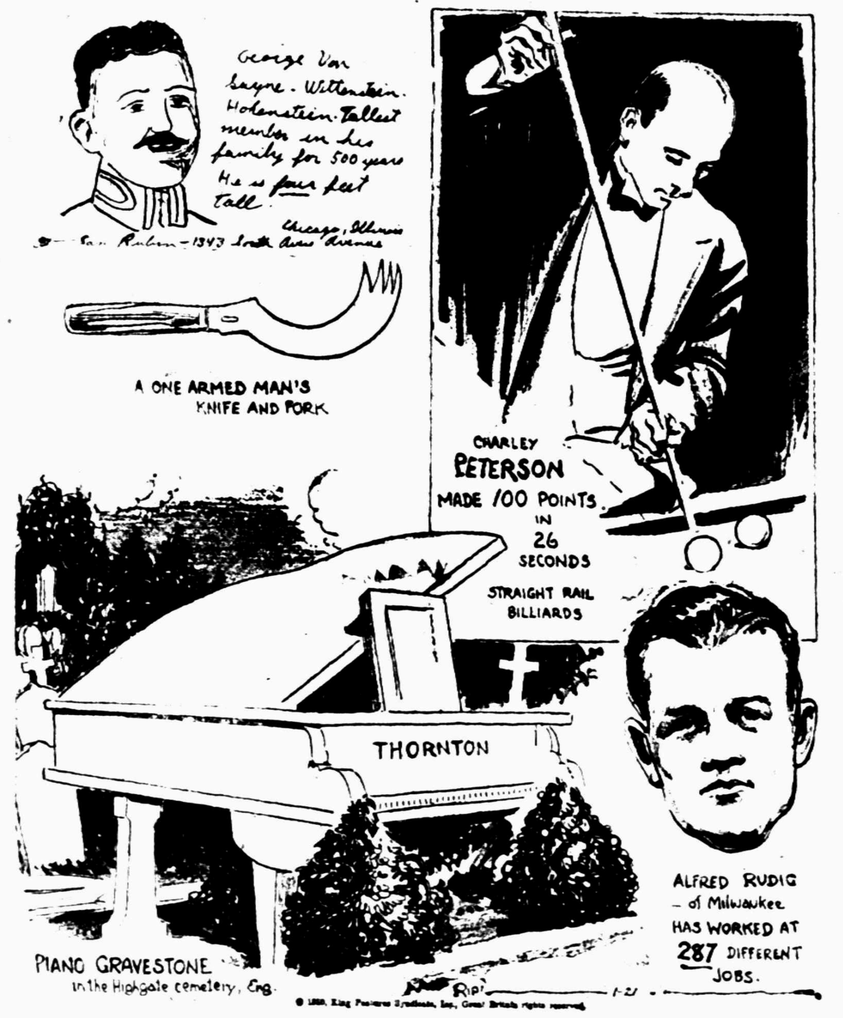

Tomb It May Concern

"All criticism is personal, and neither academic nor impressionistic criticism should be taken too seriously. Anatole France has proved that one may be wise and witty while sailing his soul in quest of masterpieces. The main point is—particularly in dramatic criticism—whether the writer holds our attention. Otherwise his work has no excuse for existence."—James Huneker.

"LOVEJOY" : By : Beatrice Burton

What Has Happened Before

Tom Nicholson and his young and beautiful wife are happy with their baby and tiny bungalow until their wealthy neighbors, the Aldersons, come into their lives. Mrs. Alderson, whose husband is elderly has an affair with a man named "Jack." Tom's suspicions are rightly directed to Lovejoy when Jack telephones and hangs up abruptly. Lovejoy speaks to Mrs. Alderson about it. When Lovejoy takes Tom to a card party at the Aldersons, Norrie Shane comes to look after the baby. Lovejoy is amused to discover Norrie's fondness for Tom. Steve Oglebay, Lovejoy's former sweetheart, is present. When Tom receives attention from another girl, Lovejoy is furious. Going out with Steve, she asks him to kiss her. She wants to get even with Tom.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER XV

Jealousy is an insane thing.

It can make people do things that they never would dream of doing in their sane and sober senses.

It can be stronger than strong drink.

And that night Lovejoy was not only filled with jealousy. She had five drinks too many besides—she who never drank anything more intoxicating than her morning cup of coffee.

She did not want Steve Oglebay to kiss her and put his arms around her. What she wanted was to have Tom see him do it. What she wanted was to hurt Tom—Tom, dancing by with that Mont girl's head on his shoulder!

"Steve, you still do like me a little, don't you?" she asked him, holding him close to her by the lapels of his coat. "Steve, you don't like that Mont girl, do you? She's not half nice enough for you—Steve—"

Her face was not three inches from his. He stood looking down at her. His eyes were filled with the old look of longing and puzzlement that he had always had for her. He was breathing quickly as if he had been running.

"Don't do that, Lovejoy!" he said sharply, and he took her wrists in his hands and pushed her gently away from him.

"You've had too much to drink," he told her. "You aren't yourself—or you wouldn't behave like this! You're married to a mighty fine fellow, and you're happy with him. So don't be like the rest of these married women—messing around with cheap love affairs all the time!"

Lovejoy looked up at him from the bottom step of the stairs where she was sitting now.

"So I'm happy now?" she asked him, her voice slow and thick.

Dim muddled thoughts went through her head. . . . The two quarrels she had with Tom lately. The way he had told Norrie Shane that he would have liked to stay at home with her this very night. The way he was looking down into Mary Mont's eyes, this very minute, as he danced past the doorway with her—

"No, I'm not happy!" she said. "I'm not the least bit happy. Now, what do you think of that!"

Steve put out his hand to draw her to her feet.

"Come on, Lovejoy," he said. "Let's go out and have some food. Aline's calling us all to the dining room."

Above the radio music and the din of voices, Aline was shouting that she had made bull's-eye eggs and rum omelet and Welsh rarebit and that they were getting stone cold.

Allen was rushing about with an apron on, bringing in hot plates from the kitchen. Tom and Mary Mont went out into the pantry for a pitcher of ice for some more drinks.

Jane Goodsell and Aline were standing at the table dishing out jellied salad and fresh caviar from big round silver bowls. Larry was opening mineral-water bottles.

Everything was confusion and noise and laughter. The lights in the room seemed to dance around Lovejoy's head, and the floor felt like the floor of a ship in a storm to her.

"I think I'll sit down," she said unsteadily to Steve Oglebay. "I think you'd better open a window—"

The next thing she knew she was out in the chill sweet darkness of the winter night. There were stars above her, and a man's arm was around her. The whole world was going around and around—

"Steve," she murmured dizzily.

It was Toni's voice that answered her.

"Better?—Think you can go home now?" he asked.

It was his arm around her, helping her to walk.

She never remembered going up the steps of their own house that night and coming into it.

But presently she knew that she was in her own bed. Tom was standing beside it shaking out the ivory-white dress she had had on.

She turned on her pillows and gave a great sigh of content . . . Oh, it was good to be back in the little house once more! Safe in her own soft little bed. And Tom here with her—safe from the Mont girl's attractions.

She got up on one elbow and the room seemed to sway upward with her.

"Never—let me see you—with a girl's head on your shoulder again—Tom—Nicholson!" she said thickly. Her tongue felt like a big lump in her mouth and it was hard for her to speak.

Tom turned to her, still holding the ivory silk dress in his big fine awkward hands. He looked down at her and his face was grim.

"You're a fine one to talk!" he said. "I take you out on the Aldersons' porch for some air—and when you come to and find my arms around you, what do you say? You say 'Steve' to me! You call me by that fellow's name!—And you get drunk. Drunk as a lord!—Gosh, I feel as if I'd never really known you until tonight, Mrs. Nicholson."

Lovejoy closed her eyes.

She tried to close her ears, too. But every now and then something that he said would force its way to her befuddled brain.

"—I didn't want to go to the dogoned party in the first place—"

"I don't like that kind of an evening and that kind of women. Drinking women—"

"And I lost $18 that I couldn't afford to lose—"

"Hire a hall!" Lovejoy broke in without opening her eyes. "Hire yourself a great big beautiful hall and a couple of audiences, will you?—And then please go 'way and let me sleep, Billy Sunday!"

The kind of sun that shines only on Sunday mornings was shining when Lovejoy opened her heavy eyes the next morning.

But both of the windows were shut tight, and the air in the room was stale and thick.

She sat up in bed and looked over at Tom's bed. He was sound asleep, his hands clasped under his dark head.

"Tom! Wake up!" Lovejoy called softly to him, "It's 11 o'clock!"

It was 10 minutes past, according to the little green enamel alarm clock on the dressing table . . . What would Norrie Shane think of them both, sleeping like this and letting her look after the baby and get her own breakfast.

There was a faint smell of fresh coffee in the room.

"Smell the coffee?" Lovejoy asked as Tom's eyes opened. "I'm going to shriek to Norrie to bring us some."

Holding her aching head between her hands she got out of bed.

"Norrie!" she called, opening the bedroom door, "Norrie!—Got any coffee that we could have in here?"

She could hear newspapers rustling in the living room. Then Norrie answered:

"I have a tray all ready for you! I'll bring it!"

Lovejoy yawned as she started back to bed, and the sudden movement made a fierce pain run through her neck and jaws.

"Jiminy, but I feel low this morning," she said to Tom.

"You look it," he answered very shortly.

She walked over to her mirror and peered into it. The indelible lipstick of last night made her mouth look like a gash in her face. The scarlet rouge stood out in two round dabs on her cheek bones.

There were puffs under her eyes and the lids were dark.

She tried to laugh. But she couldn't.

"I never dreamed that I could look like this!" she cried, clapping one hand to her painted mouth.

She always had been as fresh as a flower in the morning, after the hot soapy bath that she took every night of her life. Fresh and sweet and sweet-smelling.

"I have a dark-brown taste in my mouth, haven't you?" she asked Tom who lay watching her.

He nodded. "Anybody who drinks lies," he said as she started for the bathroom and the tooth-brush rack.

"Open those windows before you go, will you?" he asked.

"Who was your body-servant last year?" she asked as she marched out of the room . . . It had all come back to her suddenly. Last night. Mary Mont, with her head on Tom's shoulder. The scolding that Tom had given her when they got home.

"He can't razz me, and then expect me to wait on him!" she told her reflection in the bathroom mirror as she scrubbed the taste of Bacardi rum out of her pretty mouth.

She meant it, too!

Norrie was in the bedroom when she walked back into it.

She was all in stiff crackling white, and her hair was smooth and her face was flushed.

She was standing beside Tom's bed, setting the tray down beside him and listening with her shy quiet gravity to something that he was saying to her.

Lovejoy listened, too.

"Norrie," he was saying, "you sure are a sight for sore eyes."

"You mean because she's brought the coffee?" asked Lovejoy sharply. "Or because you think she looks better than I do?"

"She looks a heap better than you do—if that's what you're asking me," Tom answered bluntly.

The Once Over

How to Enforce Prohibition

(Copyright, 1930, by The Associated Newspapers)

The Wickersham commission on law observance and enforcement has filed its preliminary, or first period, report of its inquiry into the question, "Prohibition, and If So, Where?"

PHILLIPS

The commission has been at work on the problem for nearly a year, with the usual time allowance for golf, chess and fishing. It has discovered what the public had known all along:

1—That nothing can be accomplished until Uncle Sam realizes that a rubber band is not a padlock.

2—That enforcement will continue to be a joke until the courts are as well manned as the speakeasies, booze trucks and rum boats.

President Hoover took the report while it was still hot and read it to congress. Congress listened intently in a silence so deep you could hear a flask drop.

The committee report urges, among other things:

1—Discontinuance of the old Spanish custom under which a prohibition official, before padlocking a saloon, allows the proprietor ample time to find a new place.

2—A rule prohibiting padlocking agents from helping speak-easy owners find bigger and better quarters and also from assisting in moving the piano, bar fixtures, etc., without a special permit from Washington.

3—Disciplinary action to prevent coast guardsmen from taking champagne from confiscated cargoes until it has been properly iced.

4—More judges and prosecutors for courts and a preference for deaf ones who can't understand what is being said over the phone when political bosses call up to intercede for rum-runners who always vote right.

5—The numbering of all bootleggers so they can be identified without recourse to the official program.

6—A rule requiring that all enforcement officers calling for weekly collections at speakeasies, distilleries, etc., wear white mackintoshes with red stripes so they can be easily identified.

7—Abolition of juniper essence, gallon jugs and cocktail-shakers.

8—The abolition of golf.

9—The abolition of football stadia.

10—The abolition of suit-cases, zipper bags, etc.

11—A federal amendment making it a criminal offense for anybody to call another person on the telephone and say, "This is Gus."

The Lids and the Lashes

Real herpes zoster is more serious than mild herpes and begins with a violent neuralgic pain shooting through the eye, lasting for a day or perhaps two, followed by an eruption of the upper lid which causes it to swell with a reddening. Fever is often present, and the eruption or blister penetrates more deeply than in mild herpes and often leaves small scars after healing. The best treatment seems to be the orange fast for several days accompanied by enemas morning and evening, and short, warm applications to the eyelids.

Sometimes the eyelids will not close, as in lagophthalmus of the eye which causes the lids to be continually open because of an inability to close them. This is serious, since the continual exposure to the dust brings on irritation followed by infection from which the eye may actually be endangered. Ptosis or drooping of the eyelid with no ability to lift it can sometimes be benefited by sinusoidal electric treatments, or if this is not helpful, surgery may have to be resorted to.

A number of diseases, such as persistent acne and eczema, may spread to the eyelids from surrounding tissues and cause much discomfort. These diseases can usually be cured, however, when the correct constitutional treatment is used. No specific treatment seems to be required for the lids other than cleanliness. Where an escape of blood occurs into the tissues of the eyelids or the eye itself, as may occur during a cough or strain, it is advisable to use ice or very cold packs as soon as possible until the hemorrhage has stopped.

A usual question of correspondents is "How can I make my eyelashes grow longer and more luxuriant?" To accomplish this, some people put on commercial eyelash growers that promise to make two little lashes grow where one grew before. These users may be disappointed in any quick growth but, nevertheless, the use of such creams persistently and over a long space of time, such as six months, does have a beautifying effect on the lashes. Still, others believe in clipping the lashes with scissors, holding that a bob of this sort encourages the lashes into growing into more attractive length. How disappointed they must be if the lashes do not grow.

Some people have naturally long and others naturally short lashes and one cannot expect to produce any marked change in the natural tendency. Some improvement can take place with persistency, but a growth of any hair on the body is never a rapid process; it takes weeks, and miracles should not be expected.

A treatment that has received favorable reports is to apply a thin line of sweet almond oil immediately above the upper eyelashes with a thin brush each night before retiring. The same treatment can be applied on the lower eyelashes. Gently pulling at the eyelashes also assists in their growth, but be careful not to pull hard enough to pull out the eyelashes. The action of the sun's rays seems to stimulate their growth, and it ought to be encouraging to remember that while you are taking a sunbath your lashes are getting a free treatment.

Lashes that are naturally white have no known cure, as the color has not been known to grow into them if it was left out in the first place. Those who darken the lashes should be careful not to allow the coloring material to enter the eyes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Thyroid Derangement

Question—Mrs. H. J. writes: "Will you please tell me what causes the feeling of a lump in one's throat? My doctor tells me it is nervousness. The 10 years I have had this trouble have been terrible to me."

Answer—The nervousness you are suffering from and the lump in your throat are doubtless caused by some form of thyroid derangement, perhaps a small goitre. Another cause of a choking feeling in the throat comes from pelvic disorders, such as metritis, enteritis, or from rectal trouble.

Fasting

Question—G. J. writes: "When fasting on orange juice . . . can one drink during the day water in which vegetables have been cooked?"

Answer—If you wish to take the vegetable juice diet you should not do so while taking the orange juice. You might try the vegetable juice one day and the orange juice the next.

Gelatin

Question—Mrs. H. asks: "What food class does gelatine belong in, and has it any special value?"

Answer—Gelatin is a form of protein, very beneficial to the body as a food. Those in health will find it advantageous to include it in the diet quite often, and it is tremendously helpful to those inclined to nose-bleed on account of its blood-coagulating powers.

Thin Face

Question—K. L. writes: "I have used coco-butter for four weeks for a thin face, but it has not helped Can you suggest anything better?"

Answer—There is not much you can do for a thin face except through the tissues you will be able to make a "shaplier" face. This applies to the fat as well as the thin face.

Supreme Court to Hear Barnett Fee Appeal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (INS)—The supreme court today granted the petition of the government for review of a lower court decision allowing $100,000 attorneys' fees against Jackson Barnett, "world's richest Indian," for conduct of a successful suit to cancel a gift of $560,000 he made to the American Baptist Home Mission society. Government contended that Barnett's property should be returned to it undiminished, to be held for him and also that the allowance was excessive.

Attorneys in the case were Hummer & Foster, of Oklahoma, but they retained several other firms to assist them.

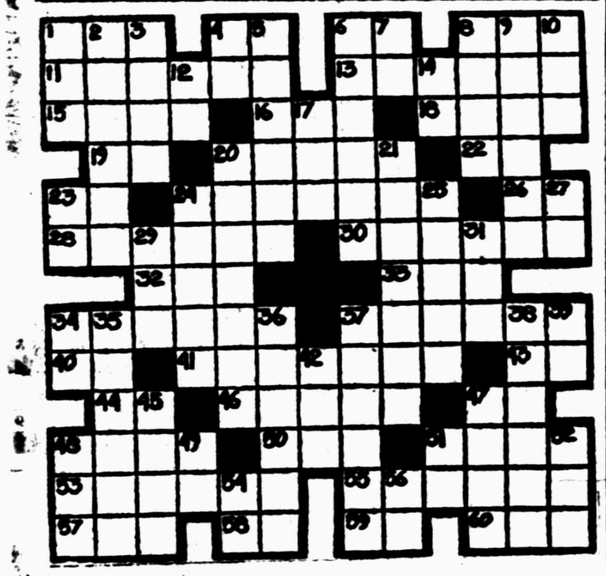

Teachers Exams to Be Conducted in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 20. (UP)—Regular quarterly teachers examinations will be held in county seat towns of the state Thursday and Friday, John S. Vaughan, state public instruction superintendent said today.

Examination will be conducted under the supervision of county superintendents. Special examination will be given in Oklahoma history school law and agriculture.

Approximately 150 teachers will take the tests, Vaughan said.

COYOTES SEEK REVENGE TONIGHT IN BOUT WITH PETROLIA

INDEPENDENTS TO PLAY HERE

Three Other Games Set For This Week

By JACK ALLEN
The Record News Staff

For the second time this season the local high school Coyotes will meet the Petrolia Independent team here Tuesday night at the high school gym. The game is called for 7 o'clock. The Petrolia lads, representing the Lone Star Gas company, defeated the fighting charges of Coach Barry Holton in the first meeting of the two quintets here last week by a small score. The Pack is out for revenge and the Petrolia team is not likely to duplicate the victory over the yapping Coyotes.

Meet Childress Again

Three other games are scheduled this week for the red and black five. Thursday night the Coyotes will journey to Childress on a punitive expedition in an endeavor to avenge the defeat handed the local team last week. The Bobcats won the game last week and barely nosed out the Coyotes by a last minute rally, the final whistle finding the Red and Black on the short end of a 31 to 28 score. The following night the Pack will make their first trip into Wilbarger county to tangle with the Vernon high Lions in the first meeting of the two teams this year. The Vernon hoopsters are slightly the underdogs, according to advance dope. Saturday night the Bowie loopers will meet the Coyotes on the local court. All Coyote games will start promptly at 7 o'clock.

A stiff practice session is the menu dished up by the Coyote mentor. With four games a week on the program the squad is improving daily and the red and black machine is taking shape. Long sessions on the floor, working on fundamentals and knowledge of the game with an occasional warming up scrimmage with the Junior college Indians occupy the afternoon's practice period. Lots of heavy work on passing and shooting is being stressed with the defense assignments and floor work drawing the lesser part of the practice session.

Two Players Dropped

Midterm reports on studies resulted in two names being dropped from the roster of the squad. Harlan Ray, guard, and Eldon Williams, forward, failed to pass the necessary number of courses required before the player is eligible to play. The loss of these two players cut the reserve material of the squad to lower levels. The offense looks especially good as the turning point in the practice season draws near. With the entire squad settling down to work and casting aside other recreations, the fight for berths on the first team is on. Tom Beaty, captain and mainstay of the Coyote forward wall, holds down the center postion against all contenders. This should be the lanky muscular center's big year. Paul Dickey, a veteran of last season is firmly entrenched in the right forward position despite the efforts of several reserves to dislodge him. Mitchell Scarbrough, a brilliant experienced hoopster, comes to the Coyotes squad from a team in Oklahoma. He holds the inside track on the other forward hole. The entire front line is a bulwark of point getting and defensive power.

Raymond Allen is a slight favorite for the right guard position. His work in the later season is expected to more than exceed the good work he has accomplished thus far. The other guard position is vacant of a regular. Ford Massey has looked good in early games and may develop into the logical occupant for the other guard hole.

Malone Injured

Blondy Malone, another vet of last year is suffering with an injured foot but is able to practice. He is expected to be in tip top shape in two or three weeks. It is likely that he will take the disputed guard position on his return. Bob Brandon and James Kollman are capable reserve material for the front line. Oren Janeway may develop into an aspirant for the reserve of the front line.

The goal on which the fighting Pack has fixed its orbs is the championship of the district. The elimination tournament will be held here in the latter part of February. Representatives of eight counties will meet here in the battle to decide the winner of the district. Last year Olney high school carried off top honors without meeting serious competition. The Olney five was defeated, however, by Estelline in the bi-district games. Olney looms as the strongest team in the district again this season. With the return of three veterans and development of several youngsters the Cubs are serious contenders for the district crown. The Pack is taking nothing for granted and are preparing for the tournament with lots of pep.

New Captain

Thomas Beaty, Coyote football, basket ball and track star, was selected as the leader of the Coyote basket ball team of 1930. He succeeds Goodwin Bray who moved to Dallas last year. Tom is a veteran of last year's cage team and is fully capable of taking the responsibility of pre-game coin flipper for Coach Holton's five. The lanky center also plays center in football and is a high hurdle man on the track. He will lead the Pack for the remainder of the season.

Dixie League Moguls To Meet Wednesday

LAUREL, Miss., Jan. 20. (AP)—A meeting of the moguls of the new Dixie league in baseball will be held here Wednesday to complete details for the six-club circuit.

With the acceptance of Columbus, Miss., as the sixth entry providing the business men there subscribe a $2,500 bonus, the makeup of the circuit is complete. The other cities are Meridian, Laurel, Hattiesburg and Gulfport, former Cotton States league cities and a team from New Orleans.

The six cities were approved at a meeting in Columbus Sunday when the business men met with Charlie Weems, of Laurel, president of the league, Mose Winkler, of Meridian and W. A. Pierre, veteran baseball catcher of Birmingham, selected to pilot the Columbus nine.

Indians Groom for Conference Race With Two Practice Tilts This Week

Not to be discouraged by their first defeat in seven starts at the hands of the Petrolia all star five, the Junior college Indians have settled down to work for the coming conference opener which will be about Feb. 1. Two practice games are on the week's program. Cashion high will journey to the Indians' camp Wednesday and another thrilling battle is assured. The charges of Coach E. A. Baggett will have two strenuous powwows in the high school gym in preparation for the coming battle. Thursday night the Tribe will entertain the local Presbyterian church team in mortal combat on the high school court. Both of these games are promised to be humdingers as each team is dangerous.

Failure to make school studies failed to affect the Indian squad. All of the warriors mastered their studies and are ready for the stiff sessions that Coach Baggett is likely to dish up. A wealth of reserve material is on hand and with a formidable first team lineup the Indians should make some of the state Junior college fives sit up and wiggle their ears. Phillip Blacklock and Maurice "Parson" Allred are at present occupying the forward positions. Both hoopsters hit the ring consistently and are capable of holding down the first team positions. Robert Dillard, a promising bit of material, is firmly settled in the pivot position. Capt. Eggleston Ramee is the logical choice for one of the guard holes. At present he is suffering from a painful boil on his neck and is not attending the daily practice sessions. Babe Anderson, star for the local high school last year, is the able occupant of the other guard position. This lineup represents a gob of strength and point getting as well as defense.

The reserve material is only a few jumps behind the regulars. Brown and Herd along with Grant represent a lot of reserve power. Habern and Kruger can be depended on as reserve guards. Coach Baggett announced that the two games this week would be practice games and would be played behind closed doors.

Ed Dudley, Delaware Pro, Leads First Round in Agua Caliente Open

By RONALD W. WAGONER
United Press Staff Correspondent

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, Jan. 20.—After a give-and-take battle with Old Man Par in the first round of the $25,000 Agua Caliente golf tournament which opened here today, Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del., professional, found himself at the head of a select field after 18 holes had been played.

The Eastern professional climbed into the leading position with a 71, even par for the course, despite a bad first turn. His poor showing going out was nullified by a brilliant exhibition after making the turn round the half way mark.

Forced to take a 37 going out over the brand new course, Dudley came back with a slashing 34, two under par for the second nine. He was aided in his recovery by three birdies which brought cheers from the gallery.

The Delaware player was followed by the veteran MacDonald Smith, professional of Great Neck, L. I., who led with a 72, until Dudley finished a short time after MacDonald had checked in.

Harold Long, young Denver player, and Al Watrous of Detroit were right behind Smith with totals of 73.

Nine of the contestants were next in line with 74's for the first 18 holes. They were Fay Coleman, Los Angeles amateur; Olin Dutra, Los Angeles; Ed Stokes, Denver; Harry Cooper, Buffalo; Charlie Guest, Los Angeles; George von Elm, Detroit amateur; Al Espinosa, Chicago, and Bobby Cruickshank, Progress, N. Y.

The first day of the richest tournament ever offered to golfers was run off under auspicious weather conditions, but despite the brilliant sun the gallery was not so large as had been expected.

Basketball Shots

by TED VOSBURGH

A big factor in the success of the world champion Cleveland Rosenblums who have just crashed through again in the first half of the American professional basket ball league race is Dave Kerr, the genial giant who manages the team.

Ever since Kerr brought his towering frame and contagious grin to Cleveland five seasons back the Rosies have been bad news to the older pro clubs. First as player and later as pilot Kerr helped his outfit to ring the bell with championships in 1925-26 and 1928-29.

Kerr's name gets into the box score rarely now as few men of more than 35 can stand the red-hot pace and the club is well supplied with playing talent. But the stalwart pilot has played an important part in every game with his shrewd handling of the team. Few men know as much basket ball as Kerr who learned the game in his home town of Philadelphia and played with Reading and the Philadelphia Jaspers in the seasons shortly before the war game called Young America to the colors.

"Probably the most unusual club I ever played with," said Kerr in a reminiscent mood, "was the one that won the championship of the A. E. F. during the war.

"Jack Kelly, the champion sculler, was on that team. So was Bill Reid, now graduate manager of athletics at Colgate university.

"Marty Friedman, the one and only Marty, finished the season with us, we captured him from the aviators. The tournament was a round robin affair and when we met the aviation team we won. That put them out of the running and we nabbed their star. Friedman, who was a lieutenant in the flying service. Events proved it was a smart move."

The fine playing of the University of Kansas against the invading California five and its feat in spilling Oklahoma, the Big Six conference champion, have focussed attention again upon the Jayhawk quintet coached so capably by Forrest C. Allen.

"Phog" met with a series of setbacks the last two seasons after having monopolized the championship of the old Missouri Valley conference for seven years. The tragic drowning of a former freshman star center who as a sophomore was expected to be the mainspring of the 1928-29 varsity was a blow. Allen's pet formations had been built around him. This year a great running guard, Forrest Cox of Newton, Kan., is helping the Jayhawker team go places—perhaps to the pinnacle again.

Carnera Meets Peterson Friday

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP)—The biggest heavyweight in the business furnishes New York boxing fans with the nation's outstanding fistic spectacle this week.

Primo Carnera, of Italy, who grosses somewhere in the neighborhood of 285 pounds and whose head is some six feet eight or nine inches away from the floor, makes his American debut against Big Boy Peterson of Minneapolis, in a 10-round bout at Madison Square garden Friday night.

Larry Johnson, Chicago negro light heavyweight, who recently knocked out Joe Sekyra in a round, meets Fred Lenhart, Spokane, Wash., in the 10-round semi-final. And Warren, North Carolina heavyweight, takes on Ora Buck Weaver of Kansas in the first 10.

Jimmy Maloney, Boston heavyweight, and Armand Emanuel of Los Angeles, clash in the Boston garden's feature attraction Friday night.

Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, meets Vince Dundee, of Baltimore, in the top bout of the Chicago stadium's card Friday night. Fields' title is not at stake.

Continental Spuds In Childress County Test

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Jan. 20.—The new test well for oil was spudded in on J. F. Johnson place four miles south of town yesterday by the Continental Oil company. The well is expected to be sunk to a depth of more than 5,000 feet.

The test marks the resumption of oil activities in the county which were abandoned a few months ago when the Sun company closed down its test well which was being drilled seven miles south of the present test.

CARY, Ill., Jan. 20. (AP)—John Hertz, owner of Reigh Count, winner of the 1928 Kentucky Derby, has taken elaborate precautions to protect the four gold cups his big red thoroughbred won.

The cups standing on a mantel, are attached to a siren which sounds when the trophies are moved.

A friend picked up one by mistake, and the alarm, which can be heard all over the village, brought the Cary fire department, and constabulary rushing to the scene.

WINNING COACH NO ATHLETE

CANYON, Texas, Jan. 20. (AP)—S. D. Burton, basket ball coach at West Texas State Teachers college, never played a basket ball game himself, yet his teams have won 143 of 170 games played in the past eight years.

Four T. I. A. A. Teams Play This Week for First Time This Season

SAN MARCOS, Texas, Jan. 20. (AP)—Every team in the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic association will have gotten into the basket ball race when the present week's schedule is completed. Abilene Christian college, Southwest Texas Teachers, Sam Houston Teachers and East Texas Teachers swing into action for the first time this week.

The schedule is as follows:

Monday and Tuesday, Sam Houston vs. East Texas at Commerce.

Thursday, Sul Ross vs. Stephen F. Austin at Nacogdoches.

Friday, Southwest Texas vs. McMurry college at Abilene; Daniel Baker vs. Abilene Christian at Abilene; Sul Ross vs. Stephen F. Austin at Nacogdoches.

Saturday, Southwest Texas vs. McMurry at Abilene; Daniel Baker vs. Abilene Christian at Abilene; Sul Ross vs. Stephen F. Austin at Nacogdoches.

The McMurry Indians, who started so impressively by taking three straight from Kingsville A. & I., and splitting a pair with Stephen F. Austin, are expected to receive a severe test in their series with the lanky Southwest Texas Bobcats.

Daniel Baker, conference court champion for the last two years, is favored in its series with Abilene Christian. Despite the loss of their greatest star, Mac Miller, the Hill Billies displayed good form in winning their opening series from the Kingsville Javelinas.

The Sam Houston Bearcats, fresh from two wins over the Texas Aggies, are slight favorites over East Texas in their games tonight and tomorrow.

HOLLIDAY TO PLAY TIGERS

Bradflute's Charges Battle Henriettans Tonight

Special to The Record News

HOLLIDAY, Texas, Jan. 20.—Coach A. D. Bradfute will take his Holliday High school basket ball team to Henrietta Tuesday night for a game with the fast Henrietta Tigers.

Prospects are for a brisk battle, the Holliday team being runners up in the district last year, and the Henrietta aggregation having a reputation for fast play.

The Holliday Eagles this season have triumphed over the Concho Indians, the Burkburnett Bulldogs, the Electra Tigers, and several other teams in this district.

Bottlers Defeat Home Builders

The Coca-Cola Bottling company bowling team won two out of three games from the Guaranty State Building and Loan company team in matches up at Spudder Bowling alley Monday night. The Fox Chevrolet team won a like number from the Boone-Kemp team.

The P. B. M.-McClurkan's game, scheduled for Monday night, was postponed.

Archer City Five Defeats Roadsters

The Archer City high school quintet nosed out a 30 to 29 victory over the Seymour Roadsters, fast Wichita Falls basket ball aggregation, at Archer City Monday night.

The game was won by merest chance. Just as the final whistle was blowing, one of the Roadsters was called on a foul. Their foes were granted two free tosses. The score was tied, 29 to 29. One of Archer City's free tosses went wild. But the other one hit the sack.

The Roadsters played exceptional basket ball. At the half they were way behind, 17 to 8, but a spurt in the last half put them within a throw of a win. Maurice Patton, with 10 points, was the high man for the Roadsters.

A game between the Roadsters and the Henrietta team is scheduled for Tuesday night. However, the Henrietta team is slated to meet Holliday at the same time. Both games likely will be played, it was said.

Next Friday week the Roadsters again will clash with their Archer City rivals, at Archer City. A group of Wichita Falls youngsters is expected to charter one or more busses for the trip.

22 Schools to Compete In Lamesa Cage Tourney

Special to The Record News.

LAMESA, Texas, Jan. 20.—Twenty-two schools within a radius of 75 miles of Lamesa have been listed as contestants to take part in the annual class B basket ball tournament to be held in Lamesa Feb. 7-8, according to F. T. McCollum, athletic coach at the local high school. A total of $150 will be offered in prizes during the meet which will draw some of the best teams in the lower South Plains district. Only boys teams may compete in the tournament, according to McCollum. This is the fourth annual event of its kind to be held in Lamesa.

The two days will be taken up with elimination of most of the teams on the first day and the semi-finals and finals on the last day.

Not Much Chance Here If There's No Brother

OXFORD, Ohio, Jan. 20. (AP)—Miami university's basket ball team is almost entirely a brotherly affair.

The guards are Gerald and Vernon Cheadle while the forwards are Dick and Bob Barrett who, besides being brothers, are also twins.

And all of them are sophomores.

Bird Flies 512 Miles In 7 Hours 11 Minutes

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 20. (AP)—Covering the 512 miles from Coonamble, New South Wales, to Melbourne in 17 hours 11 minutes 40 seconds, an average speed of 2,097 yards a minute, or nearly 74 miles an hour, a blue checker cock pigeon, owned by W. Tawton, has broken all existing records.

TEXAS OIL MEN PROTEST CUT

Association Meets in Dallas To Discuss Situation

DALLAS, Jan. 20. (UP)—Declaring that oil production can be curtailed in proportion to the demands of consumers, more than 100 Texas oil operators in session here today asked for restoration of crude prices which prevailed until a few days ago, and for a protective tariff on crude oil and gasoline.

Those present were directors of the Texas division of the Mid-continent Oil and Gas association, representing companies which produce approximately 95 per cent of Texas' crude oil output. They pledged themselves to cooperate in remedying overproduction if prices, which were slashed by major companies last week, are restored to former levels.

A protective tariff of $1 per barrel on crude and a prohibitive tariff on refined gasoline also was urged.

Edward T. Moore, president of the Simms Oil company and head of the Texas division of the association, called the meeting and presided. E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum institute, suggested the session.

Accomplishments of the last four years in the matter of controlling production will be ruined by the recent price slash, Wirt Franklin, chairman of the Oklahoma City field producers committee, declared in an address. He also urged a protective tariff to stabilize the market.

One hundred fifty independent producers in the Wichita Falls field added their protest to the others on the price cut.

The drilling campaign on University of Texas land in West Texas was blamed partly for the plight of the producers by R. R. Penn, Dallas oil man.

OKLAHOMANS ADOPT LARGER PRORATION

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 20. (AP)—Additional proration history was made in the state today when oil operators of the state unanimously agreed to curb production of flush oil areas 30 per cent of flow and to restrict further Konowa pool of Seminole county and all other wildcat strikes, 75 per cent for all periods of 60 days.

Resolutions prorating the state's oil output to 70 per cent of the potential flow, with a 25 per cent allowance for newly opened wildcat districts, were read in the form of a motion by E. B. Reeser, president of the Barnsdall corporation, and president of the American Petroleum institute.

Phone Your Classified Ads to

Our courteous ad taker will receive your Classified Ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the next day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for the convenience of our patrons in transacting business over the telephone.

Classified Ad patrons desiring to have ads charged must have a telephone listed in their own name. No book record is made by the publishers on account of the great number of transactions, hence the necessity of collecting promptly.

Correction of errors in Classified Ads must be made before the second insertion. No allowance will be made for more than one incorrect insertion.

Cancellations and adjustments regarding errors should be telephoned to the Classified Ad department between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Ads accepted for afternoon paper up until 11 a. m. same day.

Morning paper up to 6 p. m. for the following morning.

Sunday paper up to 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Same copy in both papers.

THE CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT IS OPEN ON SUNDAYS from 4 to 6 p. m. and telephone orders for classified ads to be inserted or to be discontinued will be accepted.

Exceptions: Want ads will be accepted over the telephone for all excepting the following classifications: Situations Wanted and Wanted to Rent. Ads for these classifications are cash with the order and will not be accepted over the telephone.

The Times reserves the right to classify all Classified Ads under the appropriate headlines and to revise or to withhold from publication any ads deemed objectionable.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 20. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Curtailed supplies of cattle around the 11-market circuit resulted today in a forced advance in prices on most killing classes. Better grades of light weight steers and yearlings generally moved to the best advantage. Chicago scored $15 on choice long yearlings and $14.75 for the best heavy steers. Stocker and feeder trade slow. Receipts 64,000, a decrease of 22,500 from a week ago and slightly under the corresponding day last year.

Hog trade moderately active, unevenly steady to 40c higher than Saturday's average market. The top of $10.65 was paid at Chicago for one load of 135-pound averages. Offerings 193,000, against 155,050 last Monday and 135,000 a year ago.

The sheep supply approximated 54,200, a decrease of 30,000 from a week ago and 14,000 short of a year ago. Fat lambs unevenly steady to 25c higher. Choice light weight lambs in Chicago $13.90 to $14.25. Bulk choice fed wooled offerings $13.50@13.75.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Jan. 20. (AP)—Bad weather evidently reduced the supply of cattle here Monday. Values on all classes of cattle and calves were about steady. No good rail hogs offered.

Slaughter steers sold on the long yearling order $11 and less.

Better heavy bulls $8.00@8.50. Fairly good bulls $7.50. Common light bulls $6.

Slaughter yearlings $12; sales at $12.25. Common packages $7 and less.

Cows $8.50 and $8. Butcher cows $7; canners $4 and $4.50. Good calves $11 on packer account. Cull calves $5.50. Order buyers paid 9.75 to $11 for calves; good stocker steer calves $11.75 and heifers $10.75.

Not many stocker cattle offered except for calves. Yearlings and steers sold at $10 and $11.

Truck hogs $9.50.

In the sheep division buyers inclined to reduce prices in line with last week's decline in the North but salesmen unwilling to let their offers go at the noon hour.

Hogs—Receipts 1,300; truck hogs steady; top $9.50; 170 to 240 pounds $9.15@9.50.

Cattle and Calves—Receipts 3,400; steady; light steers $11.00; yearlings up to $12.00; cows top $8.50; stock steer calves $11.00 range; stock yearlings up to $11.00.

Sheep—Receipts 1,600; 25@50c lower.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP)—An early decline in cotton largely in response to lower Liverpool cables than anticipated was followed by a gradual recovering on trade buying and in absence of more than very moderate selling. There appeared to be a disposition to await future action on the part of the farm board. March sold down to 17.24, a decline of 7 points from the previous close but rallied to 17.33 and the general market closed steady, net unchanged to 2 points higher.

The market opened steady, 6 to 10 points lower under local and foreign selling but the decline was not a full response to the action of the Liverpool market as reports from Washington that the farm board will back the National Grain Marketing corporation if it decides to trade in future as the authority has already been given to the cotton cooperatives, served to discourage selling.

The May price at one time declined to 17.43 and July to 17.57, representing losses of 8 to 9 points but the late rally carried these months 1 to 2 points above the previous finals.

Exports today, 18,100, making 4,726,350 for the season. Port receipts, 13,444. U. S. port stocks, 2,502,773.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 20. (AP)—Trading in cotton was at a very low ebb and price fluctuations were narrow with operators apparently awaiting the census report on ginnings prior to Jan. 16, due Thursday. Private cables claimed Bombay was a heavy seller. The market opened 3 to 4 points down and all active months soon showed losses of 6 points compared with Saturday's close.

The market rallied, advancing 5 points from the early lows. It ruled steady most of the afternoon and became a shade firmer at the end making new highs, 7 to 9 points above the lows and closing at or near the top. March after declining to 17.10 rallied to 17.17 and closed at 17.16 or net unchanged for the day. The general market closed steady net unchanged to 2 points up.

Liverpool came in 7 to 8 points worse than due and at the first the market here opened 3 to 4 points down. Prices eased, May hit to 17.33, or 6 points below the previous close.

Later, prices rallied. May rose to 17.38, or 5 points up from the early lows and continued to rule steady at or near the highs well into the afternoon. Near the end May rallied to 17.42, or 7 to 9 points above the lows and closed at 17.41 or net unchanged to 2 points up.

Receipts, 13,347; for week, 28,912; for year, 7,212,357; last year, 7,748,860. Exports, 14,082; for week, 40,606; for year, 4,610,479; last year, 5,344,422. Stocks, 2,580,800; last year, 2,278,143. Moderate Improvement Shown In Most Stocks After Dull Session

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (US)—Another dull market on the stock exchange ended today with moderate price improvement in the great body of listed stocks. After five hours of quiet trading which in the aggregate failed to reach the 2,000,000 share mark, many important stocks finished the session without change from Saturday's close, but lesser-known issues closed with gains up to several points. No definite price trend was discernible at any period during the day, minor tendencies in either direction quickly giving way to a moderate change to the other direction or bringing about a more noticeable dullness. Short covering brought about general betterment in quotations in the last few minutes of trading.

Motion Picture stocks as a group enjoyed the strongest performance of the entire market. Renewed weakness in Fox failed to affect the remainder of this group, aggressive buying going ahead in Warner Bros. Pictures, Paramount and Loews. The rapid course of events in the Fox situation is being more or less neglected by the interests sponsoring the other stocks, in realization that the Fox troubles are isolated from the remainder of the industry. Particularly large-scale buying of Warner seemingly has placed the shorts in that stock in a bad position. Coupled with the prominence of the reported sponsors for Warner in the market were stories of substantial gain in earnings and talk that a final settlement had been arranged with the Western Electric. The latter lacked official confirmation. Paramount's strength was attributed to optimistic estimates on income, one interest estimating a possible $2-per-share showing for the present quarter. Loew's earnings are probably higher in relation to present price of its stock some of the other moving picture stocks, but its entanglement, through stock ownership by Fox, in the latter's situation has been responsible for lack of active market interest. Warner is said to harbor a most extensive short interest, with one large bear operator known to have been heavily short at lower prices.

Radio again proved vulnerable for short selling and the bears succeeded in driving the stock down to a new low on the setback as reports continued that its 1929 report would be disappointing. Grigsby-Grunow also continued to yield. International Telephone and Telegraph yielded a full point as additional pressure was exerted against the stock on the belief that the widespread opposition to its proposed acquisition of Radio's communications business might result in cancellation of the deal. The Utilities as a group presented a firm appearance, although activity was not as extensive as last week. Brooklyn Union Gas rose several points on light buying while Consolidated Gas also closed higher, as did United corporation.

Best index to the market was furnished by the standard leaders. Steel common closed the day off ⅛, and American Can showed no change at all. United Gas Improvement likewise closed unchanged. National Biscuit, on the other hand, closed up five points, Western Union 3⅞, while Union Pacific lost 3⅞. International Business Machine was up 7½ points, and International Silver lost 5 points. General Electric was up a point and Westinghouse Electric down about that much. Coppers were generally lower. Sears-Roebuck and Montgomery Ward sold off, while National Bellas-Hess closed up several points. Irregularity ruled even within particular groups.

Foreign exchange rates were generally lower, the Spanish peseta suffering a sharp drop despite reassuring statements. Corn and wheat sold off while cotton closed firm.

TEXAS CASH PRICES

FORT WORTH, Jan. 20. (AP)—Wheat was slightly lower today with demand reported fair. Sorghums were actively taken but oats and barley were slow.

Exporters bid $1.25@1.26¼ for No. 2 ordinary export wheat delivered Texas gulf ports.

Other bids and offerings basis carload delivered, freight paid to T. C. F.:

Wheat—No. 1 ordinary hard milling $1.20@1.21; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein $1.21@1.23; 14 per cent $1.25@1.26.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 90c@$1.00; No. 2 white or yellow $1.02@1.03.

Oats—No. 2 red oats 61@62c; No. 2 red oats 58½@60½c; No. 2 white oats delivered Texas group one points 56@58½c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $1.66@1.70; No. 2 kafir $1.60@1.62.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (AP)—Frequent nervous changes today in wheat values here ended with something of a setback all around. Weakness of wheat prices at Winnipeg during much of the day had a bearish effect. More or less buying took place as a result of assertions that the federal farm board would authorize its allied cooperative organizations to deal in wheat futures, if so desired.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, ⅛@⅜c a bushel lower than Saturday's finish. Corn closed ⅛@⅛c to ⅜c down, oats ¼@⅜c off, and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 7c.

Corn and oats sagged owing in large degree to sympathy with wheat. A sustaining factor, though, was extreme dearth of rural sales of corn, with western receipts scanty.

Provisions averaged higher, responsive to an advance of the hog market to the best level in many weeks.

Corn—No. 2 white 82c; No. 2 yellow, nominally, 83¾@84c; No. 2 mixed, nominally, 79¾@81½c; May 90⅝c; July 90c.

Oats—No. 3 white, nominally, 46@48c.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—The wool market is very dull. Cable reports from primary foreign markets indicate further price weakness abroad. There is some interest manifested in offerings of South American crossbred wools but a lack of confidence in prices is causing orders to be withheld. Receipts of domestic wool during week ending Jan. 18 amounted to 350,300 pounds as compared with 4,978,400 pounds the previous week.

DRYGOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP)—Cotton goods today opened quiet in unfinished lines, more attention being given to the finer cloths of fancy construction. Printed wash fabrics and percales more active, with merchandise more active with printed lines leading, raw silk unchanged. Burlaps steady. More inquiry was reported for men's wear.

C.-C. CAMPAIGN TO END SOON

Many New Members Listed On 1930 Rolls

Work of the 21 teams organized for putting on the chamber of commerce membership drive will be completed by the end of this week, and all reports will be filed with J. Wilkie Talbert, general chairman, according to plans announced Monday.

Commendation of the results obtained by the membership workers during the past week was expressed by Mr. Talbert.

"For the number of prospective members upon whom they were able to call, the returns and surprisingly good. The ratio of memberships and pledges secured to the list of prospects visited and the budget set is more than gratifying. Our workers have been able to call upon no more than half the persons and firms whose names were given them.

"From the hour that our campaign started, weather conditions have been of the most adverse possible. We started last Monday, Jan. 13, when the slush was ankle-deep, and the weather grew worse instead of better. We are asking these teams to continue to the best possible advantage during the remainder of this week, in an effort to complete their solicitation, but they will be asked to do no more on this campaign after this week."

Mr. Talbert said that an unusually large number of new members had been received during the past week, representing individuals and firms not listed before on chamber of commerce rolls. Many of these memberships were subscribed voluntarily, he said.

Should the work of soliciting memberships and making up the budget as originally planned not be completed by Mr. Talbert's committees this week, other plans will be worked out for finishing the work, according to the chamber of commerce officials. The time for the meeting of the present committee, later this week, has not yet been selected, it was said.

Slight Improvement In Injured Girl's Condition

Slight improvement was reported Monday night in the condition of Miss Aprilla Moore, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lon P. Moore, 1410 Seventh street, who suffered a fracture of the skull Sunday evening when struck by an unknown driver near her home. Attendants at the Wichita General hospital stated she was resting well and stood a good chance for complete recovery.

Police, after a thorough investigation of the accident, reported they had found no trace of the car or the driver. Information as to the description of the machine believed to have struck Miss Moore was very meager, her only clue having been that it was "a big car." She was found unconscious and alone by a group of passersby who took her to her home and left before their names could be obtained, police were told.

Building, Loan Firm Postpones Meeting

Postponement of the annual stockholders' meeting of the North Texas Building and Loan association to next Monday, Jan. 27, at 8 p. m., was announced Monday evening by officials of that organization.

Because of bad weather throughout this district, it was said, only a small percentage of the stockholders were able to be present Monday afternoon. The meeting convened only to recess for one week, it was stated.

Episcopal Parish To Hold Meeting Jan. 27

Owing to the continued illness of the rector, Rev. William D. Bratton, and the unfavorable weather, the annual parish meeting of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Episcopal, has been postponed to next Monday night, Jan. 27, at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced Monday. The meeting will be held in the parish house. Wednesday Jan. 22, had been announced as the date for the parish meeting.

Today — At the Theaters

By W. L. UNDERWOOD

MAJESTIC: "So This Is College," with Ukulele Ike, Robert Montgomery and Sally Starr. "Old Black Joe," Paramount screen song. Sound news.

STRAND: "The Gold Diggers of Broadway." The best yet of this kind. Paramount sound news.

OLYMPIC: "Tonight at Twelve." All-star cast. Educational comedy, "Be My King."

GEM: "The Little Wild Cat," with Audrey Ferris. "The Kids Come Through," western picture. "Love and Sand," comedy.

Speaking of "The Gold Diggers of Broadway, now at the Strand, any sound-screen story of backstage life that can follow such concoctions as "Broadway Babies, "Illusion," "Dance of Life," and even "On With the Show," into a town and still draw copiously from all classes must be good. And it is—good entertainment. It has something the others didn't have, besides taking their best elements and doing them just a little better.

Such plays as those above mentioned and the one now showing here draw their setting and action entirely from life—eddies which are generally considered by the respectable rank and file as dark dens of iniquity. Which has no small part in arousing a lively curiosity to look them over without fear of contamination. The sugar papa-pretty baby theme from New York's theatrical swirl, and the dizzy round of night-club soirees, long have been given oodles of publicity, all of which is so much wind in the sails of "The Gold Diggers."

Strictly analyzed, social reformers could find much less poison in the talking-screen reproduction of such entertainments than they attribute to the personal enactment of the originals in the parent metropolis. Songs and dances and wisecracks—even frank discussion of affaires d'amour among the day-sleepers—from the talking screen are a very different prescription from the same program given in the smoky, soggy, crowded and abandoned atmosphere of a night-club at 3 a. m.

To a certain extent, the factional characters introduced in "The Gold Diggers" as typical have been glorified, both by the selection of prominent stars for those roles and by the fact that the nice little story has been carefully dry-cleaned. The desired and justifiable result of which is 100 minutes of scintillating entertainment, embellised with gorgeous color effects in extravagant sets.

From the standpoint of hilarious fun, Winnie Lightner, vaudeville celebrity, walks off with the show. Your complexes may simmer at first, with a conscious intent to boil, as Winnie laughs raucously at many of those sweet, homely sentiments which most of us harbor among our collections of "the finer things in life." Those conventional virtues which alone bear the burden of making poetry out of Eddie Guest's verse. But the buxom comedienne's clowning has such a disarming good-naturedness about it that you will maybe forgive—

The winning of Nancy Welford, who really had an awful time as "Jerry," Nancy is really very nice to look at, from a little distance, and we really can't see just why the I'm-sorry-for-me voice became incorporated with such corporeal optimism. But these stories are incidental to the features on which the show is built, and must pass.

Those who have closed their eyes carefully in self-defense recently at the mention of tap-dancing will keep them wide open during the opening scenes of "The Gold Diggers." Two young gentlemen who may not celebrate a common birthday at the same family table are perfect terpsichorean twins in the enactment of some dazzling dances which are, locally speaking, strictly different.

Ann Pennington's piquancy and her highly-insured knees and ankles shine brilliantly above the table except when that unnamed, red-headed beauty in the background gets inside the camera range. You will find her looking on—and being much looked upon—while Nick Lucas croons to Ann of life in a kitchenet. Incidentally too, imagine how these songs would sound if Nick's nice tenor voice had been established behind a face like Dick Barthelmess'—or if sung by Ramon Novarro. It isn't Nick's fault, of course, that his face does that way, but we adjure you to enjoy the always-attractive background while he slides through "Tulips" and "Painting the Clouds With Sunshine."

City Manager Attends Hearing on Pipe Rates

George D. Fairtrace, city manager, left Sunday for Houston to represent the city of Wichita Falls at a hearing Monday on the proposed increase in freight rates on cast iron pipe. Several cities signified their opposition to the increase several months ago and this city indicated a like stand on the matter. Mr. Fairtrace was delegated to attend the hearing at the last meeting of the city council a week ago, although it was expected he would take no active part in the arguments other than to signify Wichita Falls' opposition to the proposed higher rate. He is expected to return Tuesday or Wednesday.

PRECINCTS TO SPLIT FUNDS

Special Meeting Called For Thursday

Precinct apportionment of the county funds for 1930 will be determined in a special meeting of the commissioners court called Monday afternoon for 2 o'clock on Thursday. At that time the commissioners will decide upon the ratio for dividing the county road and bridge tax money among the four precincts for the coming year.

During 1929, precinct No. 1, which includes Wichita Falls, received 40 per cent of the funds, although its valuations entitle a 55 per cent split, it was explained. The remaining 60 per cent was divided equally between the other three precincts. M. A. Bundy, from the Wichita Falls precinct, L. L. Kuntz, from Iowa Park, and F. R. Knauth, from Burkburnett, have all expressed a willingness to let last year's division stand. The only question so far raised has come from H. H. Haynes, representing the Electra precinct, who claims that increased valuations give his constituents a right to a 25 per cent cut.

Special arrangements for the financing of a six-mile gap in the Electra-Burkburnett highway, falling within the Iowa Park precinct, will be sought by Mr. Kuntz, the commissioner has announced. He explained that both the other precincts benefit extensively from the road and that his district needs their help in completing the hard surfacing program.

The special meeting was called Monday afternoon at the close of the regular Monday session. Earlier in the day the court had employed the firm of Weeks & Weeks, attorneys, to represent them in a $38,000 suit recently brought against the county by Guy C. Raley, tax collector. Mr. Raley claims that the amount is due him as commissions on delinquent taxes collected between the years 1923 and 1929.

The commissioners also authorized the employment of six extra field deputies in the office of the tax assessor, to work during the rush season of the year. The six appointees, employed at a salary of $150 a month, include: F. E. Johnson, E. S. Holley, W. R. Ground, W. A. Roberts, D. O. Smith and H. B. Corder.

Trip to Breckenridge Reset for Jan. 28

Poor weather conditions and forecasts of lower temperature and snow for Tuesday occasioned the postponement Monday of the Junior chamber of commerce goodwill tour to Breckenridge until Tuesday, Jan. 28, according to Jerry Vinson, president of the organization.

Plans had been under way for more than two weeks for the first goodwill tour of the year, which was to have started Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock with approximately 150 local business and professional men registered for the trip. Additional delegations were to be received into the caravan at Archer City, Olney, and other cities on the new highway to Breckenridge.

All plans made here and in neighboring cities for the tour as originally outlined will be followed next Tuesday, Mr. Vinson said.

TALKIES WIN NEW THEATER

Mission to Reopen With $20,000 Sound Apparatus

Conversion of the old Mission theater, 819 Indiana avenue, into a strictly modern sound-picture house at a cost of approximately $20,000 for opening on Feb. 2 with first-run bookings was announced Monday by D. L. Johnson, manager of the Olympic and of the new theater.

Work has been under way for several days with preliminary remodeling of the Mission auditorium, which has been out of use for several months. Preparation for the installment of the latest sound-projecting equipment has involved extensive alteration of the inside walls, the entrance, and the stage. Construction of a "sound stage" has almost have completed, it was said.

Extensive use of wool fabrics in the finishing of side walls and behind the screen has been involved in producing desired acoustics, according to those in charge of the work. The entire interior will be redecorated, it was stated. The seating capacity of the Mission is in excess of 800 persons.

Conversion of the fourth house owned here by the Publix corporation for first-run sound pictures was decided upon. Mr. Johnson said, as a means of providing a more representative showing locally of the latest talking picture productions. The Majestic and Strand theaters are now equipped with sound-projecting machines. Re-finishing of the interior walls of the Strand to improve its acoustical properties will be done while remodeling of the Mission is under way, it was said.

Judge Transfers Suit For $5,000 to U. S. Court

Compensation totaling $5,622.02 is sought in a suit brought by B. M. Waller against the Federal Surety company, transferred to federal jurisdiction from the 89th district court Monday afternoon.

The suit was removed from the state courts and filed with Miss Jesse Cowan, deptuy United States clerk, upon a defense motion. Mr. Waller is seeking compensation at the rate of $14.02 for 401 week for injuries alleged to have been suffered when he was struck on the head by a two-inch tubing while in the employ of the Grayce Oil company. The plaintiff claims to have been totally and permanently disabled.
