Snowfall Drapes Regions In West, Central Texas

NO 'BRAND X' HERE—Real, honest-to-goodness snow drifted down over the Snyder area last night, with from one to two inches accumulating over the city proper. Brenda Benton, 14, a Lamar eighth grade student and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Valon Benton of Route 1, is pictured surveying a handful of the rare product prior to entering classes this morning. "No school today" flags went up at Hermleigh and Hobbs as a result of the weather conditions, but schools within Snyder were unaffected. (Photo by Jackson)

New Salary Schedule Set For Schools

Snyder School Trustees last night set salary schedules for 1962-63 calling for increases of $300 per year for starting teachers and annual increments through 11 years for teachers with bachelors degrees and through 18 years for those with masters degrees.

For teachers with bachelors degrees with no experience, the salary for the coming school year will be $4,700. Increments of $150 per year are scheduled for four years and then $100 per year thereafter until the maximum of $6,000 is attained after 11 years of experience.

Teachers with masters degrees will start at $4,925 and continue with annual increments until a maximum of $6,925 is reached after 18 years of experience.

Last night's action, which was approved unanimously by the board, is the first detailed salary adjustment passed on by the board since the state minimum was increased last year. A "stop-gap" increase across the board had been applied for the 1961-62 year to put the district above the state minimum. At that time the board instructed he superintendent to make a detailed study and present recommendations prior to contract time for teachers, which is April.

The 1961-62 schedule had a starting salary of $4,400 per year and a maximum of $5,600 after nine years for teachers with a bachelors degree. For teachers with masters degrees, the starting salary (with no experience) was $4,625 and the maximum was $6,425 after 15 years experience.

The new plan eliminates accelerated increments for college study above degree levels, but the board and administration will work out a new system which will be integrated into the new schedule at a later date. Teachers who already have such credits under the old policy will continue to receive their benefits. The previous policy had authorized $22.50 for each three hours of college credit above degree level for a maximum of 24 hours, with the ultimate salary never to exceed the maximum set by the regular schedule.

The new salary schedule sets the pay for substitute teachers at $14 per day, an increase of $2 per day over the old schedule.

Salary scales for principals also were adjusted, with elementary school principals to graduate from $7,200 per year to $9,000 per year after 16 years of experience. Junior high principals will be on a scale from $7,600 for those with no experience to a maximum of $9,400 after 16 years experience. Senior high principal increases from a start at $8,400 per year, to $10,200 per year after 16 years of experience, with $200 per year added for a doctors degree.

The salary scale for principals is based on requirements that each has a masters degree. Also, a principal must have a minimum of six years of teaching experience before starting as a principal.

Salary schedules for special positions also were adjusted, many of them based on pre-existing formulas tied to the teachers pay

C-City Has Seven Inches

An unexpected, but thoroughly welcome, snowfall draped the Snyder area early today, and the Weather Bureau held out hopes for more moisture.

West and Central Texas, where some snow flurries had been forecast, caught most of the fall this morning, with the heaviest reported at Colorado City. The measurement at the Mitchell County seat ranged up to 7 inches.

Snyder had over an inch by daybreak, with heavier falls reported to the south. Schools were closed at Hermleigh and Hobbs.

Other schools in the Snyder area maintained their schedules, as bus routes in the central and northern areas of the country were generally clear of snow.

Highway patrolmen reported some icing at the edges of bridges on area highways, but for the most part the snow melted as it fell on streets and roads.

Snyder had an official 1.1 inch of snowfall by 7 a.m., with the moisture content gauged at .05 of an inch.

Some West Texas areas, where the snowfall was heaver, reported that traffic was slowed on highways. Abilene had 4 inches of snow, and some roads were reported hazardous in that area.

Big Spring farmers and ranchers rejoiced at 3 inches of snowfall equalling .20 inch of rain. They said the moisture, largest amount in at least three months, will be of immeasurable help to crops and ranges.

The cold weather which brought the snow sent temperatures as low as 7 degrees above zero at Perryton in the Panhandle which escaped the snowstorm.

Kerrville in the Hill Country northwest of San Antonio reported a fairly heavy snow which melted. Observers called the snow highly unusual for this time of year.

All Mitchell County (Colorado City) schools closed for the day.

Snow fell briefly near Corsicana.

Heavy snow began falling in the Dallas-Fort Worth area shortly after daybreak and continued furiously. It melted on the ground but some of it stuck on rooftops.

Welcome rains up to nearly 2 inches fell in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, breaking a drought that had gripped the area since the middle of last September.

"The ranches were about at the end of the road," said A. H. Karcher, Hidalgo County agent. "This will slow down the emergency sale of cattle."

Karcher said the moisture would be particularly beneficial to young cotton and citrus trees.

Snow fell often in hard flurries, from the interior of the Big Bend Country, through the Midland-Odessa section of West Texas and on into North Central Texas.

The snowfall at San Angelo measured 2.5 inches.

Snow and sleet fell as far south as the Del Rio area on the Rio Grande.

Sleet fell at Del Rio briefly. In the north and west portions of Val Verde County, snow fell at Pandale and Juno, while in adjacent Terrell County, 4 inches fell at Sanderson.

The county agent at Colorado City, Jack Burkhalter, described the snow as worth millions to West Texas. It was the first precipitation in the City since the first of the year.

Snow began about 7:30 a.m. at Fort Worth.

Sleet pelted San Angelo and light rain fell across most of South Central Texas.

An inch of rain pounded Victo-

Little Real Hope For Test Ban Agreement

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP) —Exploratory talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in advance of the 17-nation disarmament conference which opened today failed to open up any real hope of concluding a nuclear weapons test ban treaty now U.S. sources said.

They expressed belief, however, that it may be possible to negotiate an agreement with the Soviet Union to block the spread of nuclear weapons in the world and thus make a beginning in bringing the atomic arms race under some control.

Gromyko in the preliminary talks was reported to have stuck to the line that Western proposals for an international inspection system to verify disarmament measures amounts to a demand for espionage rights within the Soviet Union.

The present prospect is that President Kennedy's proposal for a test ban treaty with controls will fall through and that the United States will go forward, as Kennedy has announced, with its series of nuclear tests in the atmosphere beginning in late April.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home, in several sessions with Gromyko, have made no progress toward opening up real negotiations on Berlin either. Talks on the Berlin crisis will continue outside the disarmament meetings, it was learned.

Rusk and Gromyko will make major policy statements on disarmament Thursday.

As late as Monday, the Russians showed an interest in cutting off the spread of nuclear weapons. Their view was set forth in letters to U Thant, acting U.N. secretary-general.

The United States and Britain went into the conference with objectives far short of a blanket commitment to total disarmament. The two big Western powers hoped the conference might achieve:

1. An accord with the Soviet Union to stop the spread of nuclear weapons—and the know-how for their manufacture — to countries which do not possess them.

2. An East-West non-aggression pact between the North Atlantic and Communist Warsaw alliances.

3. Measures to guard against surprise attack, including possibly zones of international inspection along the cold war frontiers that could be pilot projects for future disarmament inspection.

Agreement on these disarmament preliminaries could clear the way for the summit conference—possibly in the spring—that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is anxious to arrange. The Western powers believe such limited agreements would provide a start toward building confidence between the West and the Communist world and thus lay the groundwork for actual disarmament measures.

Youngest Kennedy Is Now Candidate

BOSTON (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy, youngest brother of President Kennedy, announced today, as expected, that he will seek election to the Senate seat his brother held before winning the presidency.

Kennedy will run for the Democratic nomination in a double test—for the party convention endorsement in June, and in the September primary.

Already in the contest is Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., a nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack.

The seat now is held by Sen. Benjamin A. Smith who does not seek return to the Senate for the two years remaining in the term.

The clash of McCormack and Kennedy forces, powerful Massachusetts clans, should give the state its most intensive Democratic skirmishing in years.

Present candidates for the Republican nomination are George Cabot Lodge and U.S. Rep. Laurence Curtis.

Lodge is the son of Henry Cabot Lodge, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and senator from Massachusetts before President Kennedy wrested the seat from him in 1952.

Candidate Kennedy, now an assistant district attorney in Boston, reached the 30-year minimum age for a senator only last month. McCormack is 38.

Communist Society Promised By Castro

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro urged young Cubans today to develop a more intense Communist spirit and declared that they will some day live under communism.

The prime minister promised Cuba's younger generations a new society devoid of egotism and individualism. He called on Cuban youth to develop a more intense "Marxist spirit, a more Communist spirit" and said the young of his island nation will some day live "in another more advanced stage, not socialism but communism."

Castro set no date for Cuba to become a Communist state. In a speech last December, in which he publicly identified himself as a Marxist-Leninist, Castro said "there will be no communism (in Cuba) before 30 years."

"We're not inviting anyone to study Marxism," he said, asserting that Cubans have embraced Marxism-Leninism "because the revolution has taught them so, not because anyone imposed it on them."

He said Cuba does not want a young generation that "listens and repeats but a youth that thinks and is not revolutionary by imitation."

Castro addressed a large crowd at a University of Havana rally commemorating an abortive student attack against ex-President Fulgencio Batista's palace five years ago. He angrily assailed the deletion of a reference to God in a document read before he took the stand.

"The document was the political will of Jose Antonio Echevarria, a revolutionary who died in the uprising. The reading omitted the part in which Echevarria, a devout Roman Catholic, said he and his companions were confident the "purity of our intentions carries the favor of God."

"If this phrase was a religious expression," Castro said, "it does not deprive Echevarria of his glory because it was an expression of rebel sentiment."

"A revolutionary may have faith. All should be united in the fight for national liberation and the sincere Catholic should be on this front."

Castro said those reponsible for the deletion were "shortsighted, sectarious and stupid" and guilty of "moral wretchedness."

Castro has assailed priests in Cuba as fascists and expelled many of them, but he maintains that Catholics can support his revolution without giving up their faith. The Vatican has said Castro, baptized a Catholic, incurred his treatment of the church's bishops and priests.

Juan Marinello, university rector and former head of the Popular Socialist (Communist) party, also addressed the rally.

He said the "defeat of imperialism in Latin America is near and inevitable and the Cuban revolution is responsible for it in great part."

Viet Cong Drive Results Uncertain

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —A two-pronged government drive to trap hundreds of Communist Viet Cong guerrillas in the Mekong River delta was winding up today apparently only a partial success.

Authorities believe the Viet Cong, which has been operating in the swamp for years, succeeded in disbanding and melting into the jungle before government forces could engage them.

Teen-Age Hitchhiker, Tot Are Missing In Panhandle

AMARILLO (AP) — A 3-year-old girl and a teen-age hitchhiker left with her as a baby sitter disappeared from the tot's home in the Texas Panhandle Tuesday.

Henry Henderson, 41, father of the child, told sheriff's officers the two vanished in late afternoon while the parents and three other children were absent for an hour and a half. He found a note advising: "I am going to New York."

Henderson and his wife said they found the girl, bedraggled and near exhaustion, lying beside a fence Sunday night near their home at Conway, 35 miles east of Amarillo. She identified herself only by the name of Carol and said she was 19, they reported.

Sheriff John Nunn of Carson County said the teen-ager and the Hendersons' daughter Sharon apparently headed west despite the information in the note.

Motorists told officers a pair fitting descriptions of the missing girls entered a passing car at the town of Claude nearby and later sought to thumb a ride on the west edge of Amarillo. Nunn said they might be bound for Albuquerque, N.M.

Henderson, a railroad section hand, said the teen-ager appeared to be 16 or 17 although claiming to be older.

"I don't believe she'll deliberately harm our little girl," the father said. "I think she was plotting this. She kept looking at the clock, and she reminded me once or twice that it was getting close to 3:45 when she knew I had to take my wife to work."

"She seemed more at home with the kid than us," Mrs. Henderson related. "She took particular interest in Sharon from the start. She even painted Sharon's fingernails."

Allen Henderson, 15, a brother of Sharon, said a note in their home stated: "Sorry I left without telling you. I am going to take Sharon with me. I'll take good care of her."

Although the girl had given her name as Carol, the note was signed "Kathy." She told the Hendersons she was from Michigan but did not name a town.

State police asked officers in other states to be on the lookout for the missing pair.

The teen-ager has brown hair and brown eyes, weighs about 110 pounds and is approximately 5 feet 3 inches tall, the Hendersons said. She was wearing a blue dress and a green sweater when they last saw her.

Barn, Small Pigs Destroyed In Fire

The Snyder Fire Department was called out at 4:30 yesterday afternoon to the Pete Sterling place 4½ miles west of Ira.

A barn there was destroyed. The firemen stood by to prevent the fire from spreading. Cotton seed and several small pigs in the barn were lost. It is believed the fire was caused by an electric heating device which had been installed to keep the pigs warm.

French Riot Police Barracks Are Attacked By Terrorists

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS (AP) — Secret army terrorists attacked a French riot police barracks in Algiers at dawn today, firing rockets and machinge guns for 15 minutes at the big building.

Riot police quartered in the building returned the European terrorists' fire. Hundreds of residents of the area watched from their windows as rockets exploded and guns cracked.

There was no immediate information on casualties in the attack.

Elsewhere in Algiers, terrorists had killed four Moslems, including a major in the French army, and wounded five before noon. Three Europeans were wounded by gunfire.

French and Algerian rebel officials went into their second week of formal peace talks at Evian, on the French-Swiss border. Important hurdles were reported still blocking a cease-fire in Algeria.

After nearly nine hours of discussion Tuesday, the two delegations were still at odds over the makeup of a provisional government to administer Algeria between a cease-fire and full independence, and on the role of Algerian rebel troops in future action against the Secret Army Organization, terrorist organization of right-wing Europeans.

Both sides still predicted they would eventually reach full agreement.

Informants said the conference spent much time in a discussion of the persons to fill the seats on a 12-man provisional executive. Several names were advanced from both sides without winning approval.

The French and the Algerians have agreed that the provisional regime should have a Moslem local force at its disposal to maintain public order. They have also agreed that the French high commissioner will have French soldiers and riot police at his disposal to back up the local force, particularly in Algeria's predominantly European cities. The rebel nationalists now are insisting that their own troops, most of them guerrilla fighters in the barren interior, should have a similar support role under the authority of the executive commission.

Other unsettled questions reportedly include an amnesty for Algerian refugees in Tunisia and Morocco and the establishment of courts to handle disputes arising under the general agreement.

One informant reported the conference made considerable progress Tuesday but warned against what he called undue optimism.

Warships of the French Mediterranean fleet patrolled Algerian waters in readiness for any major action by the secret army to sabotage the peace agreement once it is announced.

Terrorist attacks killed 29 persons and wounded 55 Tuesday in Algeria.

College Students On Spring Spree

By BEN FUNK

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — They're coming again. Down the roads from East, Midwest and South, college students are coming in a steady stream, like lemmings, to the beach at Lauderdale.

They're on spring vacation. They're fed up to here with ice and snow and campus rules and regulations.

They're coming to rough it on the beach at Lauderdale, under the romantic palms, the hot sun and the cool moon, far from the watchful eyes of parents and professor.

The annual invasion began Monday, when the first wave of 300 hit the beach. Soon their numbers will reach 40,000 or more.

What will they bring? More beer and sex riots like those that shook Lauderdale last year?

Not if a committee headed by Dr. Clem Bininger, First Presbyterian church pastor, can prevent it.

This committee was born in the riots of last spring. It has worked hard for a year. Its goal is to prevent riots and make an artistic, as well as commercial, success of the annual student invasions.

The collegians saw the first evidence of this work today. At three places along the beach, "Hello" hospitality booths appeared. Here, students who could offer identification cards from their campuses were given plastic tags.

These tags will admit them to a huge recreation area to be opened Friday. In this area, there will be dancing every night. Students may build bonfires, sing and have barbecues.

Athletic, talent and beauty contests have been arranged for the college Joes and Janes. More events will be offered later.

"We'll just play it by ear at the start," Bininger says.

The plastic identification tags not only will admit the students to entertainments, but will screen out toughs who invaded the area last spring. They posed as students and were largely responsible for inciting the riots. Many of the 300 jailed were thrill seekers who never saw the inside of a college.

In a way, Bininger's committee is Lauderdale's conscience. Many believe the riots grew out of the city's failure to live up to its responsibilities to the young visitors.

Although many of the collegians come on a shoestring, and have to live on hamburgers and sleep in their cars to get by, the student army spends a million dollars in a few days.

Last spring, the students were 50,000 strong. No entertainment was provided for them. There were 10 boys to one girl. Out of the shortage of feminine company grew boredom, excessive drinking and finally three days of riots.

Many believe the collegians drank, caroused and finally rioted simply because they had nothing better to occupy them.

"A city that once turned its back on the kids is ging to face up to its duty and have a good program for them," Bininger says. "Out of the riots, we hope to build a pleasant and successful yearly celebration."

ria County, and one rancher declared "it's worth a billion dollars an inch."

Big Spring's 2.5 inches of snow fell in less than three hours.

The Weather Bureau said cold air continued to pour southward at low levels while southwest winds rode over it at upper levels.

This caused the rain, snow and sleet, which extended westward into eastern New Mexico.

Temperatures skidded as the cold moved in. Dalhart reported 10 degrees above zero for a low.

The Weather Bureau forecast snow also in Southwest and West Central Texas Wednesday and sleet mixed with light rain in North Central Texas during the night.

The precipitation was scheduled to end from the west to the east.

Other low temperatures early Wednesday included Amarillo 16, Lubbock 27, Marfa 30, El Paso 33, Alpine 25, Presidio 43, Laredo 46, Brownsville 66, Corpus Christi 52, Victoria 46.

Also San Antonio 43, Houston 50, Beaumont 52, Austin 46, Waco 45, Dallas 40, Abilene 32, San Angelo 34, Brownwood 40, Wichita Falls 32 and Texarkana 43.

Overnight precipitation included Laredo .38 inch, Corpus Christi .16, San Antonio .12, Del Rio .16, and Beeville .31, with lesser amounts at many points.

scale. These include positions such as assistant coaches, junior high coaches, choral directors, industrial and vocational teachers and coordinators, speech therapists, counselors, school nurses, the visiting teacher, assistant high school and junior high school band directors, etc.

The athletic director's salary for the 1962-63 year was set at $8,800, the tax collector's salary at $7,000, the director of maintenance $7,800, the high school band director $9,000. In other business, the board accepted the resignation of J. P. Ward as high school basketball coach and then voted unanimously to employ Ned Underwood, currently head basketball coach at Lamar Junior High, to fill the vacancy. Ward had submitted his resignation to Supt. T. E. McCollum last Thursday. McCollum said Ward had indicated that he was interested in the post of physical education director at West Elementary School and that in the event he was employed there he would continue as high school golf coach. The board approved his appointment to that position.

Max Laing, who had been PE director at West Elementary, has accepted a coaching job at Quanah.

The board approved a salary deduction plan for salary protection insurance requested by the Classroom Teachers Association. Jim Traugott, CTA president, told the board that the teachers organization had approved the plan and that some 94 teachers already had indicated interest in it. The school will not participate, except to authorize the business office to make salary deductions from the payroll to pay the premiums. The plan will be serviced by the Ray Houpt agency here.

The board voted to turn over the old Polar School building to Kent County for conversion into a community center. The Kent County Judge had requested the action in a letter to the superintendent. Plans are to move the building to a county site and convert it into a community center.

Draft Call Issued For 6,000 Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today issued a draft call for 6,000 men in May for the Army.

While this is the same number drafted for March and April, the Pentagon said it will bring to 135,000 men the number called by Selective Service from the beginning of the Berlin crisis military buildup of last August.

"As a result of these higher draft calls, and other personnel actions, the strength objective of the Army including provision for manning the two new Army divisions has now been reached," the statement said.

The Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps do not intend to draw on Selective Service during May.

Burglars 'Working' Way Through College

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Don Allen Elliott, 23, arrested with three others Tuesday on burglary charges, was quoted as saying he was "just working his way through college."

Dist. Atty. Cameron McKinney said Elliott, of Dallas, and Talmadge Hedrick Jackson, 19, of Killeen, Tex., were students at East Texas State College. He said the other two accused of burglary, Robert Stanley Box, 18, of Denison Tex. and James Lee McKinney, 18, of Dallas, were students at Paris (Tex.) Junior College.

The district attorney said statements by the four cleared up 17 burglaries, 10 cases of theft, and 35 cases of breaking and entering coin-operated machines.

Monster Not From Ocean

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Heat tests of flesh samples of a giant carcass found 20 months ago on Tasmania's west coast discount a theory the monster came from the ocean depths, a scientist said today.

The 18 by 20 foot creature weighing several tons, likely will remain a mystery at least until scientists make an expedition to the isolated beach next weekend to examine the bone structure, if any.

A. R. Haly, senior research officer of the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization, said that in a heat test the sample shrank at about 68 degrees—slightly lower than that for whale flesh.

"This suggests that the monster did not come from the ocean depth," Haly said. "It further suggests that the creature did not exist in a cold water area like ocean depths."

In Hobart, scientist Bruce Mollison who made a preliminary examination of the carcass on the beach, said he probed deeply into the top and side of the monster and failed to find any bone structure.

Observatory Working Fine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Delighted space officials say the orbiting solar observatory is sending back information scientists have always sought about the sun's rays and wave lengths. The data could provide clues about the origin of the universe.

And, they say, the spacecraft called OSO-I is transmitting the best radio signals yet received from a satellite.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported at a news conference Tuesday on the satellite, launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., March 7. By noon Tuesday it had completed 90 orbits at 96.15 minutes per orbit on the most circular path yet achieved by a U.S. spacecraft, ranging from 343½ to 370 miles above the earth.

Week after week carefully tabulated figures published in "Automotive Market Reports" show that Chevrolet trucks are worth more in resale value.*

why?

If you were a professional used truck buyer, why would you pay more for one make than another?

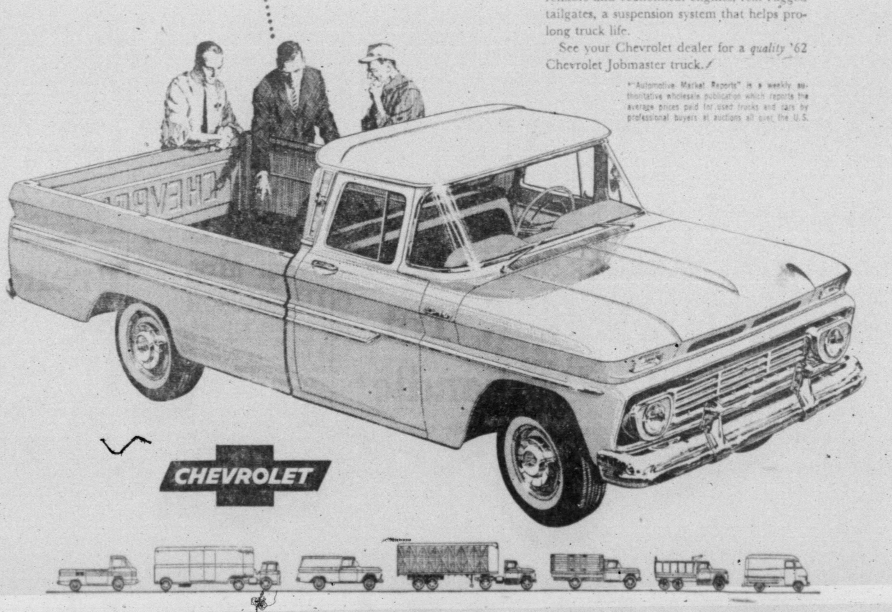

There may be several reasons, but among them would be:

1. A greater demand for the product
2. A more desirable product for resale

So if used Chevrolet trucks consistently bring higher prices at auctions all over the country, it means that their quality features pay off for you not only as long as you own them but also when you are ready to trade them—double-wall cabs, doors and side panels, roof insulation, select wood floors, reliable and economical engines, real rugged tailgates, a suspension system that helps prolong truck life.

See your Chevrolet dealer for a quality '62 Chevrolet Jobmaster truck.

Miss Patterson Selected To Girl Scout Senior Roundup

During the last two weeks of July, 1962, almost 8,500 girls and 1,500 adults will share a never-to-be-forgotten experience of attending a Girl Scout Senior Roundup. This encampment, the largest and most colorful event, will be held July 20-29 at Button Bay State Park, Vermont, on the shores of Lake Champlain. The theme will be "Honor the Past—Serve the Future".

The girls who camp on this historic land will come from every state in the union, from every U. S. territory and possession, from "troops on foreign soil," from all six continents where members of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts are found. Of this many girls there will be no two alike! But all Girl Scouts or Guides, all meeting the same qualifications, all sharing the same principles.

Miss Ann Patterson, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Patterson, 3798 Avondale, has been selected to go to the Roundup. Every girl's record and evaluations were presented to the selections committee under a number identity of the girl and her home town were not known at the time of selection). Selections were made strictly on the performance of the girls.

Ann, a sophomore and superior honor roll student at Snyder High School has been in scouting for 6 years. She has been very active in her work and is an assistant leader, working with younger girls in a local work and is an assistant leader, working with younger girls in a local troop.

She carries a very busy schedule, including her church work and a member of the Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church; A member of the Latin Club and Future Teachers of America; Plays baritone saxaphone in the stage band of SHS, and alto saxaphone in the marching band; makes personal vocal appearances, and has won top honors in oboe in area, regional and All-State band.

Miss Patterson has been named correspondent for the Snyder Daily News, which will enable her friends and relatives to know of various activities she is participating in while in Vermont.

The girls have a lengthy list of preparations to make before July, including ordinary phrases in French, German, Spanish and Japanese, enabling them to communicate with, and understand many different kinds of people.

Several meetings for the eight girls that make up a patrol must be held prior to the Roundup, that they may be well informed on all the various responsibilities of camp housekeeping and keeping tents and grounds neat.

The exchange of small tokens or "swaps" will provide another faecinating way for girls to share their heritage at Roundup. This purpose is to provide a "conversation piece" that will help girls to get acquainted more easily with others outside their own patrols and troops, and at the same time help them to learn about other parts of the country and the world.

The theme of "Texas Under Six Flags" has been chosen by the patrol from this district. They have been busy working out several entertainment numbers, felt patches and other tokens that carry out the theme.

Ten girls from this area were named, this giving them the regular eight for the patrol and two alternates. Besides Miss Patterson they are, Gaily McNary, Sunnye Fitzgerald, Teri Paulovic, Diane Rocchio and Frances Johnson, all of Midland; Georgia King of Sweetwater; Weeze Malaise of Odessa; Susanne Jones of Garzan, and Marcia Stamm of Abilene.

ABWA Tea Set For Sunday

"Never underestimate the power of a woman!" When that power is found in 46 states of the Union—in over 325 active chapters, with a membership of over 17,500—it is something to be reckoned with!

The impetus behind this surge of energy is the cresting of the membership drive at the (Spring of Fall) Hand of Friendship teas and enrollment parties held throught the country by the American Business Women's Association. The local chapter was installed in September, 1960.

Mrs. Ben Dennis, tea chairman, announces that the local tea will be held 3:00 to 4:00 p.m. Sunday afternoon at Martha Ann Woman's Club. The purpose of this non-union, non-sectarian, non-political organization is to advance women in business, to maintain a high standard of employer-employee relations, and to provide congenial social opportunity and participation of its members.

Believing that education is the keynote to advancement in business, outstanding business and professional men and women are asked to speak at the monthly dinner meetings held by Scurry Charter Chapter. An annual "Boss Night" dinner honors the employers and gives management an opportunity to see ABWA in action. Educational scholarships ayarded by ABWA chapters aid deserving women in grasping the opportunities that advanced business developments present to them.

Recognition of outstanding achievement is given each year when a plaque is awarded the "American Business Woman of the Year" at the National Convention. Each chapter is eligible to recommend a candidate for this honor.

ABWA represents a wide field of business ability. Locally its officers are: Mrs. Elizabeth Herring, president; Mrs. Mary Starnes, vice president; Mrs. Lois Eades, recording secretary; Mrs. Tommie Preston, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Stanley Noah, treasurer. Any one of these officers or members of the local chapter will welcome inquireies about membership in the association.

THE WEAK MUSKETEER

Protesters Of Nuclear Tests Picketing Wrong Precincts

BY INEZ ROBB

From veteran newspapermen who were on Henry Ford's peace ship during World War I, I have heard reports of the general mayhem committed on each other by peace advocates. Various peace factions fought each other to such a standstill on the high seas that they had neither the time nor strength to force peace on Eruope in 1915.

It is one woman's opinion that it is about time to charter another peace ship, by public subscription if necessary, and head it for the U.S.S.R. It seems to me that all the ban-the-A-and-H-bomb pickets are picketing the wrong feller and the wrong country.

Instead of picketing the White House, the President, the United Nations, Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and the Atomic Energy Commission, the ban-the-bomb groups, to be really effective, ought to be parading in Moscow at the Kremlin and addressing their slogans to Nikita Khrushchev.

The right of groups to picket peacefully at any of the above American institutions or at the United Nations is immutable. But it seems a terrible waste of energy and shoe leather.

It was not the United States or her leaders who broke the atomic moratorium, and shattered it cynically and abruptly by testing more than 50 fission and or fusion weapons in the atmosphere. It was not Uncle Sam who used the moratorium as a breathing space during which to build at feverish speed new weapons for an atomic arsenal.

It is not the United States that has consistently scuttled every disarmament conference called since World War II. It isn't Uncle Sam who talks peace and acts war all over the globe.

But it is Uncle who has consistently called for disarmament with open inspection to guarantee disarmament, and who is ready to settle for disarmament on those terms today. And it is the U.S.S.R. that has consistently refused any adequate inspection.

Uncle Sam isn't about to start an atomic war, but he has enough sense not to let the enemy so far outstrip us in atomic offense and defense that supine surrender awaits at the end of the trail. There will be no further American tests if Russia agrees, during the coming Geneva disarmament talks, to a valid system of inspection that applies just as rigidly to the U.S. as to the U.S.S.R.

So let us, by all means, bundle up our muddled pickets, who seem unable or unwilling to distinguish the U.S. from the U.S.S.R., and send them to stand watch at the Kremlin with their favorite slogan: "No Test East or West."

I would like to buy space on the ship for an addled woman correspondent from Arizona who writes: "Let us remember the Golden Rule. This is a great world we live in, if only we can be sane in our respect for each other (the U.S. and the U.S.S.R.) and democratically proceed with our differences."

Apparently, the writer has not heard that the Golden Rule and the book from which it stems are virtually outlawed in Russia. But who can tell? Maybe she can make headway quoting both to Khrushchev!

Again, I am willing to pay her way on the new peace ship if only to have her preach the gospel of democracy to the Kremlin hierarchy. Her assumption that Russia is ready to deal democratically with the differences that divide her and the United States is extremely interesting, in view of Communist doctrine vis-a-vis democracy.

At least 90 percent of the mail on the test issue is just as muddled in its thinking as the above. The letters are permeated by a dreamy conviction that if only Uncle Sam does no testing, somehow the bomb terror will go away. But if Uncle tests, then it will be all his fault for forcing Russia into an atom arms race!

These letters do not smell of communism or Communist-inspiration. They stem, rather, from muddied and muddled, not to mention emotional, thinking. A little sea air might dispel the fog. A long journey on a slow boat to Russia ought to put a lot of our befuddled dissidents and picketers into the proper mood to tackle the two Ks, the Kremlin and Khrushchev.

Junior Editors Quiz on RAIN

QUESTION: How fast does rain fall?

ANSWER: The largest raindrops fall about 20 miles an hour once they reach their top speed. They have to fall about 25 feet before they reach this speed. This is under normal conditions such as a spring shower. These raindrops are as large as 1/3 inch across. If they begin to be larger than that, they separate into smaller raindrops on the way down. Smaller raindrops fall more slowly. The tiniest raindrop is of the size found in mist. It is too small even to be seen. If the raindrops were falling where there was no air, then all raindrops would fall at the same rate of speed. However, air has a lot to do with how quickly the rain can reach the ground. Air currents blowing the rain away from the earth will give the drops quite a struggle before they finally reach their destination. The smaller raindrops get the worst of this because they are lighter and can be more easily batted about; therefore, it takes them longer to fall to the ground. To see the great difference in the size of raindrops and how much more quickly the larger ones reach the earth, you need only to watch a snowfall very carefully. You will notice the larger flakes descending with greater speed than the smaller flakes.

Rich Wife No Answer To Problems

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Do you want to marry a really wealthy woman?

Many poor but honest young men today say they do.

But the empty-pocketed young fellow who yearns to throw in his marital lot with a financially loaded lady just doesn't realize the trouble he'd know. No poverty of purse is as hard for a real man to bear as the spiritual poverty that comes with being a rich woman's toy.

Let me give you a true-life example. Only the names and a few circumstances have been changed.

Mark was a big, handsome, gay, witty, charming young fellow. Smart, too, the executives in his business firm saw a real future for him.

Then Dolly met him. Dolly was beautiful possessive and rich. Not just ordinary rich. Real rich.

Mark and Dolly fell deeply in love. And Dolly, who always got what she wanted, decided that what she wanted most was Mark. Finally, she bluntly asked him why he hadn't proposed.

He explained he couldn't support her in the way she liked to live.

"What's money?" she asked lightly. "I've got more than we could spend in 10 generations."

She kept after him and so, despite Mark's qualms, they were married.

Mark kept on working. But after a year the life of a housewife began to bore Dolly. She liked to travel. She talked Mark into quitting his job, gave him a big checking account of his own so he'd have a feeling of freedom.

Soon they were moving solely in Dolly's fast international set. Mark seldom saw any of his old friends.

Some years later I traveled to a city in which they had one of their mansions. Mark drove up and beeped the horn of an expensive cream-colored convertible.

"Dolly gave it to me for my birthday," he said.

Mark looked tired, heavier and dissipated. He explained he had developed chronic ulcers. On the drive to his home he said he was desperately unhappy, that his wife's money had become a burden, that he felt he had lost his own self-respect and the respect of others.

When I asked him why he didn't get a divorce, he said, "I'm still in love with Dolly."

The three of us had a gay evening at a night club. But Mark danced with a woman Dolly didn't like, and there was a bitter quarrel on the way home.

I was preparing to leave the next morning, and Mark came into my room wearing the expression of a whipped dog. He said he'd ride to the airport with me in a cab.

"I thought you were going to drive me in that fancy new convertible," I said, surprised.

"I can't," said Mark. "Dolly took it away from me this morning—for dancing with that woman last night."

It wasn't many months after that I read of Mark's death. Somehow it didn't startle me. It was the only way Mark could escape the misery that went with Dolly's money.

Cooper Clips Tigers, 2-1

ABILENE — Freddy Miller, rapidly gaining the distinction as hard-luck hurler for Snyder's Tigers, dropped a 2-1 contest to the Cooper Cougars here Tuesday, his second loss in as many starts.

Miller, a righthander, gave up only two hits over the span, but both were collected during Cooper's run-producing fourth inning. He had previously gone the distance in losing a six-hit 2-0 decision to San Angelo.

The loss dropped Snyder to 2-4 for the year, with none of their four losses being by a margin greater than two runs. Cooper is now 5-2 for the campaign, and the victory gained revenge for the club, which was dumped 5-2 by the Tigers earlier in the season.

Snyder scored its only run in the fourth when, with one gone, Bob Smith lashed a two-bagger to right and eventually came home when Kenneth Wright bobbled a ground ball off the bat of Jim Kownslar.

The Cougars retaliated with two of their own in their half of the same frame. Bob Ramsay started things off with a single, after which Jim Ogden drew a pass and both runners advanced on a sacrifice bunt by Danny Chapman.

Bob Gribble next dropped a bunt down the first base line to score Ramsey; advance Ogden to third, and he was safe himself when Snyder was unable to make a play for him at first. Gribble tried for second, and when Miller picked up the pellet and rifled it to that base Ogden came home with what was to prove to be the deciding tally.

Snyder's inability to bring its runners around proved the difference in the contest, as the club left seven runners tranded to only two for the Cougars.

Southpaw Ebbie Venable chalked up the victory, allowing three hits over the span.

The Tigers next see action here Thursday on the Towle Park diamond when they take on the Big Spring Steers in a 4 o'clock contest. They will then follow up by hosting Odessa Permian Friday before taking the jaunt to Big Spring for a Saturday twin bill.

NED UNDERWOOD
To Guide Tiger Cagers

SUCCEEDS WARD IN POSITION

Ned Underwood New Cage Coach

Ned Underwood was named by the school board here Tuesday night to succeed J. P. Ward as Snyder High School basketball coach.

Ward resigned the position last week, and his resignation was formally accepted in other board action of the same evening.

Underwood, who has been coaching the Lamar Junior High ninth grade team until now, was granted and accepted a one-year contract as head basketball coach. (All contracts within the system are for one-year periods with the exception of superintendent of schools and athletic director.) In addition to his regular teaching salary, Underwood will receive $125 per month for a period of nine and a half months in his new position.

Underwood is not new to Snyder, as he attended high school here, where he gained all-district acclaim. A varsity letterman for three seasons, he led the team in scoring during his junior and senior years of 1952 and 1953. Snyder won the district championship both of those years.

From Snyder, he went on to enter Texas Tech, where he played on several championship teams. He earned three varsity letters while at that school, and was captain of the team his senior year. During his first three years at Tech, that school gained the Border Conference championship. As a senior, the team broke away from the conference and operated as an independent.

His coach one year while at Snyder High was Gene Gibson who is now completing his first year as head coach at Texas Tech. Coaching Underwood during the time he was at Tech was Polk Robison, who is now athletic director at the Lubbock school.

Underwood, a 1957 Tech graduate is married to the former Pauline Yandell, and they have two children—Max, 6, and Pam, 5. The family resides on the Lamesa Highway.

He will officially take over his duties as head coach here at the beginning of the fall semester in September.

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas pounded 15 hits and Tom Belcher pitched three-hit shutout ball for six innings as the Longhorns lashed Texas Lutheran 19-2 Tuesday. David Skinner and Chuck Knutson each batted in three runs and Pat Rigby knocked in four.

Pony Golfers Down Tigers

Sweetwater Mustang golfers dropped the Snyder Tiger linksmen here Tuesday at the Snyder Country Club in an abbreviated nine-hole match, posting a winning 163 total to the locals' 185.

A frigid blast which moved into the area earlier in the day forced the match into nine holes instead of the scheduled 18.

Six-man teams took part in the medal competition, with the low four scores for each unit being judged as the team total. Lloyd Turner paced the Mustang shotmakers, touring the nine-hole layout in 37 strokes.

Rounding out the Sweetwater total were Boyd with 39, Donnelly with 43, and Penton with 44.

For the Tigers, Eddie Phy showed the way with 43, followed by John Pickering with 44 and Robert Thomas and Larry Black with 49 each.

The Snyder golfers, coached by J. P. Ward, next host Colorado City in a dual match Thursday, then travel to Sweetwater Saturday for a tournament involving several area teams.

The district tournament will be reeled off at the Snyder Country Club March 24.

NFL Moves For Dismissal

BALTIMORE (AP)—The National Football League was prepared to argue today that "halftime ceremonies" in a Federal Court antitrust suit should constitute the end of the game.

The NFL and 11 of its teams are defendants in a $10 million suit filed by the American Football League and its member teams. The AFL accuses the older loop with monopolizing professional football.

The trial, now in its third week, reached a mythical halftime point Tuesday when the AFL finished presenting its case. NFL attorneys immediately filed a motion for dismissal and were to argue the motion today before Chief Judge Roszel C. Thomsen, who is hearing the case without a jury.

The motion contends the AFL has failed to prove that the NFL has power to exclude competing professional teams from either local or national markets.

Counsel for the NFL also contended the plaintiffs failed to establish any conspiracy in restraint of trade, or to show any injury suffered by the AFL or its teams.

Queens Nip Tigerettes

LAMESA — Snyder's Tigerettes were stalled in their district title rush here Tuesday by the Lamesa Queens, who slipped past them 25-19 in a 3-AAA volleyball contest.

It was the first district loss for the Snyder girls following two victories, and preserved the Lamesans' perfect mark within district play.

Lynda Ivison led the way for the losers as high point server with six to her credit. Mary Ann Savage paced the team in the spiking department.

The Tigerette B team suffered its initial setback of the season in the preliminary encounter of the evening, losing by 31-20 to give them a record of 11-1 for the year.

Carolyn Ivison was top server for the Snyder junior girls with 7.

Nixon Says GOP Tried To Oust Him From 1952 Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M. Nixon says he was advised just before he went on nationwide television in 1952 to defend his much-debated political fund that he wasn't wanted as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's running mate in that year's presidential campaign.

He says he was told that Eisenhower and his top advisers wanted him to announce on the air his resignation as the Republican vice presidential candidate.

The ex-two-time vice president adds that a subsequent misunderstanding with Eisenhower made him so angry that he actually dictated a telegram of resignation to the Republican national chairman. The telegram was destroyed by an aide, he says.

Nixon recounts these and other incidents in a book, "Six Crises," to be published by Doubleday & Co. on March 29. The first of three instalments being published by Life magazine appears this week.

Eisenhower, sought for comment, is on a fishing trip in the Baja California region of Mexico and won't be back before next weekend, his secretary at Palm Springs, Calif., said.

Nixon said the political fund was "set up by my supporters in California to pay expenses for travel, printing and mailing of speeches, and extra clerical help — expenses which were strictly political and for which, therefore, I could not properly be reimbursed by the government." He was then a senator from California.

Nixon wrote that when some newspapers editorially urged him to submit his resignation as the vice presidential aspirant, he got no direct expression from Eisenhower and considered resigning at one point. But he said his wife, Pat, talked him out of it.

Nixon said that former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and his own advisers suggested he take the situation to the American people via television. On the Sunday before the Tuesday telecast, he added, Eisenhower phoned him and said: "Good luck and keep your chin up."

But, said Nixon, "barely an hour before I was scheduled to leave for the tv studio a call (from Dewey) came through to my suite. From the tone of his voice, I could sense immediately that Dewey did not have his heart in what he had to tell me.

"There has just been a meeting of all of Eisenhower's top advisers," he (Dewey) said. 'They have asked me to tell you that it is their opinion that at the conclusion of the broadcast tonight you should submit your resignation to Eisenhower. As you know, I have not shared this point of view, but it is my responsibility to pass this recommendation on to you'."

Nixon said he was shocked and asked: "What does Eisenhower want me to do?"

"Dewey hedged at this point," Nixon added. "He said he did not want to give the impression that he had spoken directly to Eisenhower or that this decision had been approved by Eisenhower. But he went on to say he was sure that, in view of the close relationship between those whom he had talked and Eisenhower, they would not have asked him to call unless this represented Eisenhower's view as well as their own."

A spokesman for Dewey said Tuesday Dewey had not read the Nixon remarks and could not comment.

At the end of his broadcast, Nixon told his listeners that he felt he should not quit but that he would leave the decision to the Republican National Committee. He urged his audience to wire or write the committee as to what it should do.

Nixon said he did not learn immediately that Eisenhower had praised him for his performance and that the general wanted to meet him the next night in West Virginia. It was in the absence of this knowledge that he dictated the telegram which the aide destroyed, he said.

Soon afterwards, friends calmed Nixon down and he flew to Wheeling, W. Va., where Eisenhower greeted him with the now famous endorsement: "You're my boy."

Nixon, the unsuccessful Republican candidate for president in 1960, now is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of California.

Weather Pulls Switch In Midwest, New York Areas

EDITOR'S NOTE—The weather is playing tricks with the Midwest and New York areas. It was comparatively mild in New York and severe in the Midwest—just the opposite of last year. The following two stories tell what it was like.

NEW YORK (AP)—Those snow shovels purchased in such a desperate hurry here last winter did a lot of standing in the corner this winter.

There wasn't much snow to shovel.

In fact, it didn't snow enough in New York for the city to try out its two new $35,000 snow melters—bought last winter, of course.

The machines are designed to replace the hauling—operations in snow removal. Since there was very little snow to remove, sanitation department officials took one to Worcester, Mass., to test it. It worked fine.

The winter of '60-'61 was one the grandchildren a couple of generations ahead will be hearing about. Weather Bureau records show a snowfall of 57.3 inches and 56.1 inches of that fell in December, January and February. During those months this winter, 17.9 inches fell.

Those grandchildren undoubtedly will hear of the '61-'62 winter's wind storm of last week which caused extensive damage on the Atlantic Seaboard. But that was a storm which could have occurred in any season, any time when the sun and the moon are both pulling the tides high and a northeaster with winds up to 80 miles an hour sweeps in from the sea.

New York City spent $22.5 million last winter to remove the snow. The cost so far this winter has been $1.5 million, a sanitation department spokesman said today.

The spokesman said most of this winter's snow melted as it fell, or was of such little depth that it presented no real problems.

Since light snow is best handled with salt, that's why this winter's 72,000 tons used is history. Eight-foot snowbanks were piled along Manhattan streets.

The city was locked in a deep freeze that lasted for days and the snow lasted for days.

Job Training Bill Brings Challenge

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Passage of a $435-million job training bill has left the administration facing a big challenge—and a big question.

The challenge is whether a free economy can provide jobs for an ever-growing work force in a time of swift technological change that has quickened the pace of automation.

Congress gave the administration a means of facing up to the challenge Tuesday in the three-year manpower training bill. It also handed on the big question implicit in the bill:

Training for what?

With unemployment persisting at over 4.5 million, with new workers joining the labor force in record numbers as the post World War II baby crop matures and machines taking over more and more jobs once held by men, the question must be answered if the challenge is to be met.

The administration hopes the answer lies in the bill, which it has ardently sought. Passed with strong bipartisan support, the measure has two main provisions.

The first authorizes the secretary of labor to make a survey of the nation's manpower — the skills needed and those available —and then to set up training programs in those skills found to be in short supply.

The second provides for the payment of weekly training allowances equal to the unemployment compensation payment in the trainee's state, for a maximum of 52 weeks.

Those seeking training would apply at the state employment office in their area. There they would be tested to see what skills they are capable of learning. If they are judged trainable they would then be referred to a training course.

In addition to unemployed workers, those eligible for training include members of farm families with a total income of less than $1,200 a year and youths between 16 and 22. Youngsters between 16 and 19 would get no training allowance and those between 19 and 22 would get $20 a week.

Money in the bill is judged to be enough to train a million persons.

The measure authorizes $5 million to get the manpower survey under way at once. The actual job training program is to start July 1 with an initial allotment of $100 million. The sum would be boosted to $165 million for each of the next two fiscal years with the states required to match federal funds starting the last year.

Putting the unemployed back to work is its immediate goal, but supporters of the bill view its manpower survey provisions as more far-reaching, pointing toward the scientific matching of jobs and skills to achieve full employment in a growing economy.

President Kennedy is expected to sign the bill promptly. But it will probably be some time before any answers will be forthcoming to the main question, and to the central challenge.

Lease Sale In Louisiana Ends Friday

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The U.S. Bureau of Land Management, with top offers of more than $177 million on Louisiana offshore oil and gas tracts, will complete its lease sale here Friday.

The BLM offered 401 tracts Tuesday and received 526 bids on 217 tracts. The gross total of the bids amounted to $177,986,887 but some were expected to be refused as too low.

The second part of the leasing Friday will be on 410 tracts, including 30 offshore from Texas.

The last federal lease sale on Louisiana offshore areas, held in February of 1960, brought $285,180,648 on 125 tracts.

The highest bid Tuesday was $14,100,100 offered by Gulf Oil Corp. for a tract 18 miles southwest of Southwest-Pass in Plaquemines Parish.

This bid for Block 117 in the West Delta area was believed the second highest price ever offered for one Louisiana offshore lease. Most of the block is more than 200 feet under water.

The highest price ever paid for one lease came in the 1960 sale when Shell Oil Corp. paid about $29 million for a block.

All the current leasing is in offshore areas known as Zones 3 and 4. The federal government will receive all bonuses from Zone 4. Zone 3 is an area of dispute between Louisiana and the federal government, and receipts will be held in escrow until settlement of the tidelands controversy.

About $350 million is already in escrow.

Dope Seized In Back Yard

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Police seized 325 grams of heroin in the back yard of a San Antonio barber Tuesday night. They valued the haul at $100,000.

Two men were held without immediate charge.

Lt. Charles Doerr, head of the narcotics division, said the barber, 24, was "the biggest operator in the Southwest" and detectives had been watching him around the clock for several weeks. Doerr gave these details:

Officers followed the second man, 27, from the barber's home and arrested him after finding 20 grams of the narcotic under the front seat of his car. On their return, the barber led them to the cache in his yard.

Police learned the barber received about 500 grams of heroin 10 days ago but did not determine the source.

Eastern Coastline Altered By Storm

NEW YORK (AP)—The Eastern seaboard coastline was altered substantially as the result of last week's storms that swept in from the Atlantic, a federal government official said Tuesday.

Capt. Lawrence Swanson, the U.S. Coast Guard and Geodetic Survey's assistant director of physical science, said some channels were filled in and others created.

A spokesman for the survey's New York district said preliminary reports indicate major shoreline changes at Westhampton, Long Island, and Long Beach, N.J.

As geologists reconstruct the Gulf of Mexico's history, the briny waters began evaporating nearly 200 million years ago, leaving vast deposits of salt. Later new waters flowed into the basin and sediments accumulated atop the salt. Slowly the sediments hardened into stone heavier than the salt and under this pressure the salt was squeezed upward like toothpaste.

Grocer Kills Wife, Self

DENISON, Tex. (AP)— Grocer William Dan Pierce, 56, killed his wife and then took his own life early today.

A sister of the slain woman, Mrs. Howell Nolte, told police Pierce shot his wife, Mrs. Mary Carrol Pierce, 55, between the eyes during a violent argument at the Nolte home.

"My God! You've shot Mary!" Mrs. Nolte exclaimed.

She quoted Pierce as replying: "Yes, and I'll go with her."

Mrs. Nolte and Pierce scuffled briefly for his pistol, she said, before the sister-in-law ran to telephone police.

Justice of the Peace Homer Gaddy returned an inquest verdict of murder and suicide.

Pierce and his wife were parents of a son, Dan, 17.

Segregation Millstone To Missionaries

FORT WORTH (AP) — "Our missionaries around the world describe our racial discrimination as a veritable millstone around the neck of Christian missions," the Rev. Ross Coggins of Nashville, Tenn., told a Baptist gathering Tuesday night.

The Rev. Mr. Coggins, an associate in the Christian Life Commission of Southern Baptists, is a former missionary to Indonesia.

He spoke at the closing session of a two-day conference at which 400 ministers and lay leaders of Baptist churches in Texas heard the Christian's role in race relations discussed.

"I am not suggesting that we should lightly cast aside our Southern traditions," the Rev. Mr. Coggins said. "I am suggesting that we throw them aside with the greatest force wherever they violate the teachings of the New Testament."

A spokesmen said the conference afforded the first comprehensive study of race relations ever undertaken by Southern Baptists on a statewide basis.

T. B. Mattson, professor of Christian ethics at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary here, appealed for a firm stand by church leaders for law and order without regard for personal views on segregation.

"The fact that one is a Christian or a Christian leader does not relieve him of his citizenship responsibilities," Matson said.

Former Rep. Brooks Hays, D-Ark., said he was heartened by the tenor of the discussions. Hays, now a special assistant to President Kennedy, said it will be the role of the Christian in the next decade to be just and teach racial harmony based on justice.

Dr. Jimmy Allen of Dallas, state director of the Christian Life Commission, said texts of the addresses and workshop summaries will be available to leaders of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. He said it was too early to predict whether the convention would act on the information at a meeting here Oct. 31-Nov. 2.

Boy Takes A Dare, Drowns In Bayou

HOUSTON (AP)—Robert Johnson Jr., 7, took another boy's dare Tuesday and died.

Robert, one of five children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson Sr. of Houston, slipped out of his clothes and tried to retrieve a stick the other boy threw into a bayou.

Charles Lee, 8, told Patrolman A. J. Hruzek that Robert sank about 15 yards from the bank while dog-paddling toward the stick. The body was recovered in 40 feet of water.

Castro-Red System Blamed For Cuba's Food Shortage

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cubans now tightening their belts for a food rationing program could grow fat if they had access to some of the foodstuffs which still can be exported to them from the United States.

The Commerce Department has a whole page in its regulations listing foodstuffs that can be shipped to Cuba—items like meat and meat products, animal oils and fats, cheese, oatmeal, breakfast cereals, vegetable oils, canned vegetables and prepared mixes.

In general, the list contains prepared or processed foods.

Some of the items—like lard and cooking oils—are included in the food rationing plan Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro is launching next week.

The State Department blamed Cuba's food problems on Castro's Communist system. It described as ridiculous his charges that the United States has caused the Cuban food shortages.

State Department press officer Joseph W. Reap said in a statement Monday night:

"It has been clear for some time that Cuban agriculture is in trouble. Wherever communism goes, hunger follows. We of course sympathize with the Cuban people who are the victims of Castro - Communist agricultural mismanagement.

"Our embargo on trade with Cuba excepts certain foodstuffs, medicines and medical supplies on humanitarian grounds."

Washington records which would show what foodstuffs, if any, have been shipped to Cuba so far this year aren't ready. But the 1961 records show no foodstuffs were shipped to Cuba from July through the end of the year, and only a trickle went in June.

"They were able to buy from us a lot more than they did," one official said.

Why didn't they?

"There are several possibilities. For example: Cuba's running short of dollars to buy U.S. foods, exporters shunning the business.

The U.S. list of eligible exports contains no major grains, no rice, no potatoes, no onions. It doesn't have corn, but it has corn grits, corn meal and hominy. It has popcorn, but no popcorn seed.

Livestock for breeding purposes, seed, hatching eggs and baby chicks cannot be sent to Cuba.

One Commerce Department worker explained, "We felt we shouldn't ship anything that would contribute to their economy but at the same time we shouldn't deny them food."

U.S. exports to Cuba in 1961 totaled $13,690,368. Of this, $9,640,000 was in foodstuffs. That included a million dollars each of breeding cattle and baby chicks before the ban, $42,000 in canned vegetables, $246,000 in canned fruits, $14,764 in breakfast cereals. There also was about $300,000 in canned baby foods.

The embargo on exports to Cuba applies to subsidized foodstuffs. These include items like wheat and other products acquired by the Commodity Credit Corporation in its price support program.

The embargo on exports goes back to October 1960. In March 1961, the regulations were revised to eliminate breeding livestock, seed, hatching eggs and baby chicks from the embargo exceptions.

On Feb. 3 of this year, President Kennedy ordered a total cutoff of imports of Cuban products. At the same time, he specifically authorized the continued sale of certain food and medicine to Cuba.

Rose Kennedy Resting Well

BOSTON (AP)—Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, 71-year-old mother of President Kennedy, was reported resting comfortably today at St. Elizabeth's Hospital following a hernia operation.

The operation was performed Monday by Dr. Roy J. Heffernan, a gynecologist and Kennedy family physician. He said Mrs. Kennedy withstood the hour-long operation well. After an afternoon visit, the doctor reported she was in excellent condition.

There were no signs of malignancy, he said.

The wife of the former ambassador to Great Britain had been troubled by a pelvic hernia. She has been under treatment by Dr. Heffernan since last September.

Mrs. Kennedy delayed having the operation because of the condition of the former ambassador who suffered a stroke at Palm Beach, Fla. He is convalescing now in Palm Beach.

Edward M. Kennedy, youngest brother of the President, and his wife, Joan, visited the hospital several hours after the operation.

Think Chemical Is Is Cause Of Pain

A pain chemical, remedies for hiccups, and the role of eye color in skin diseases are subjects of medical inquiry:

Why Pain?

Scientists believe they have isolated the main chemical in the body responsible for producing pain. Named neurokinin, it was extracted from areas of skin which had been intentionally injured.

Injected into normal skin sites, neurokinin produces pain and inflammation, report Dr. Loring F. Chapman and associates of the Neuropsychiatric Institute, University of California at Los Angeles. Neurokinin may be released by nerves in the injured area, thus releasing pain thresholds, Dr. Chapman says.

Banishing Hiccups

Just about everyone has his sure-fire remedy for hiccups.

The most important thing, though, in stopping them is to relax, says Today's Health magazine, and its experts offer other tips.

For babies, give them sips of warm water, hold the child, and pat his back.

In older children and adults, one of the best remedies is to lie down and relax.

It can also be helpful to drink water slowly; breathe in and out into a paper bag to raise the level of carbon dioxide in the blood; and if an upset stomach brought on the hiccups, take a teaspoonful of baking soda in water.

Eye Color and Skin Disease

Persons with brown eyes seem to be afflicted more often than others with skin diseases due to inheritable allergic tendencies, says Dr. Robert G. Carney, University of Iowa dermatologist.

In two studies based 10 years apart, he and associates noticed that almost two-thirds of patients with atopic dermatitis, the familiar type of skin ailments, had brown eyes. Dr. Carney made other comparisons between eye color and incidence of the skin ailments, and found the same thing still true.

Eye color may serve as a rough index of skin pigmentation, he says. The skin of dark-skinned persons perhaps tends to become leathery and hardened, and more susceptible to ailments than that of lighter-skinned individuals.

Says Rhythm Method Bad

NEW YORK (AP)—A Roman Catholic psychiatrist says the Church-approved rhythm method of birth control is psychologically bad for women because it frustrates them.

And the newly developed oral tablets to prevent conception might be the worst method yet from the psychological standpoint, adds Dr. John R. Cavanagh. He says women have become fearful because of warnings that prolonged use of such tablets may have adverse physical effects in later years.

Cavanagh is a private practitioner and special lecturer in pastoral psychiatry at Catholic University in Washington, D.C. He gave his views in a speech before the Catholic Guild of Psychiatrists Tuesday during a session here on fertility control.

Cavanagh maintained that any form of birth control frustrates a natural need and is likely to become a source of internal discord, of deceit and of intrapsychic conflict.

He said the rhythm method—the practice of abstinence during the woman's ovulation period—especially creates feelings of frustration.

This frustration, in turn, causes hostility, he said.

Textbook Panel Sets San Antonio Session

AUSTIN (AP) — The House Textbook Investigating Committee will hold a public hearing in San Antonio early next month, Chairman W. T. Dungan said Tuesday.

Committee members have held five meetings in Austin and one in Amarillo, hearing testimony for and against contents of several textbooks on the adoption list of the State Board of Education.

Dungan said petitions from Bexar County residents containing about 1,000 signatures asked a hearing in San Antonio.

Alarm Touched Off By Smoking Motor

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—A smoking motor deep underground touched off a tense alarm Tuesday at an Atlas missile launching silo.

Forbes Air Force Base reported no explosion, no fire, no injuries and apparently little damage.

The trouble was at site No. 2 near the town of Worden, 18 miles southeast of Topeka.

High Court Will Hear Herring Case

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Supreme Court agreed today to hear arguments April 25 on a request that a new sanity hearing be ordered for John Mack Herring.

The Odessa High School youth recently was found insane by a Kermit jury in the shotgun slaying of Elizabeth Jean Williams, 17.

D. D. Sullivan, Winkler County district attorney, asked the Supreme Court to "command" Dist. Judge G. C. Olsen of Kermit to "vacate and set aside a judgment declaring Herring insane at the time of the offense alleged in the indictment pending against him in such court."

The Supreme Court granted permission to file the writ of mandamus and set a hearing on the request for April 25.

Sullivan contends that the jury should have ruled on whether Herring is insane now, instead of whether he was insane at the time of the killing.

The shooting occurred March 22, 1960. Herring told officers the girl pleaded with him to kill her. He said he kissed her goodbye, then pulled the trigger of a shotgun while she held the muzzle to her temple.

Sullivan argued that a new sanity hearing must also be considered by a jury.

Sullivan said the state "has no other adequate remedy at law and the state has no appeal from a sanity trial."

2 Children Drown As Car In Plunge

JEFFERSON (AP) — Two of seven Negro children riding with their mothers drowned Tuesday when a car plunged into a deep pool.

They were Eva Taylor, 5, of Jefferson and Charles Jackson, 4, of Midland.

The driver, Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, 23, said she lost control of the car as it approached Deep Hole, a one-acre pool in this Northeast Texas town. Five of her children were in the automobile.

Mrs. Louise Jackson, 27, was the other mother. Her daughter Wanda, 4, was revived nearly two hours after the accident.

Crewmen Rescued From Sunken Tugs

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Two tugboats sank in choppy waters of the intracoastal canal near here Tuesday. Six crewmen were rescued.

Ray Aldridge of Ingleside, Tex., and Floyd Jones of Aransas Pass, pulled from the water by another tug's crew, were hospitalized at Aransas Pass.

Harry Hubbard, E.M. Osborne, John Wrightwick and William Taylor, all of Houston, were pulled from the water by a naval air station boat.

A DAILY VIEW
From me to you

Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"And the tempter came and said to him, "If you are the Son of God, command these stones to become loaves of bread." But He answered, "It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God". Matthew 4:3-4 (read verses 1-11.)

We all shake our heads and wring our hands, as we think of our world today. We realize that the desire to obtain material possessions has become an obsession with most people. We know that many of the world revolutions being fought are over the fact that some people have plenty, and others are in want. We are always talking about "So-and-so" who has everything already, and now wants more. We instinctively realize that man does not live by bread alone—there's something else to life than bread, or luxuries.

Yet how many of us are really standing by our principles? How many of us would let pass a "fast buck" or even an "honest dollar" if compromising our faith, yielding to the temptation to have more of the world's goods, were involved?

So often when we point the finger of accusation, we are pointing at ourselves as well.
