Interceptor Can Triple Sound Speed

By ELTON C. FAY
A.P. Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The F108 interceptor will be able to tote at least two atomic warhead guided missiles and blast enemy bombers before they get within a thousand miles of American soil.

The F108 is being designed for speeds three times that of sound to carry it far from populated areas before using its nuclear weapons.

New details of the fantastically fast and far-reaching fighter, and of the B70 chemical fuel strategic bomber became available today in official and unofficial sources.

Present plans are for the F108 to use conventional fuel but still attain a speed above 2,000 miles an hour. The same engines will be used in the B70 bomber but in the bomber high energy, exotic fuel will be utilized to give bursts of speed equivalent to that of the fighter. That is to be achieved through extra push delivered by a chemical fuel afterburner on each engine.

In recent testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee, an Air Force general said the interceptor "will use the same engines as the new chemical bomber, the B70, resulting in economy and logistics benefits."

However, Air Force spokesmen and industry sources said today that while the engines would be the same, chemical fuel would be used in phases of the bomber operation but present plans are for the fighter to use conventional jet fuel.

The first flight of a chemically fueled plane still may be more than two years away.

EISENHOWERS IN CANADA—President Eisenhower wears a broad smile as Mrs. Eisenhower shakes hands with Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker on the arrival of the Presidential party in Ottawa. Between them is Gov. Gen. Vincent Massey and coming down the steps of the plane are U.S. Secretary of State Dulles and Mrs. Dulles.

Canada, U. S. Must Stay Together, Ike Declares

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

OTTAWA (AP) — President Eisenhower told Canada's Parliament today that differences between the two neighbor nations can be solved and must not be allowed to overshadow the transcendent importance of free world cooperation in the winning of the global struggle against communism.

"We stand together at a pivotal point in history," Eisenhower told a warmly applauding Parliament. He was interrupted 10 times during his speech by members' applause and the traditional desk thumping.

"All that we Canadians and Americans, and those who went before us, have built, all that we believe in, is challenged as it has never been challenged before. The new horizons of competition range from the polar areas and extend to the infinity of outer space."

In conciliatory terms, the President got down to specific points of difference—U.S. wheat exports, American restrictions on oil imports, Canada's trade imbalance with the United States, and the heavy flow of American investment capital to Canada.

"There is no cause to be surprised or disturbed," Eisenhower said, "to discover that differences occasionally arise between the two nations."

But he said such differences can be talked out in friendship.

The setting for the presidential address was the great oak and stone chamber of the House of Commons in towering Parliament Building — a spot which has resounded more and more with criticism of the United States and its policies.

In awareness of such criticism, Eisenhower came to the Canadian capital Tuesday to attempt to strengthen ties of friendship which have been slipping.

Eisenhower was introduced by Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker, with whom he is consulting on problems affecting the two nations.

The President made no mention in his address of a possible new channel for cooperation, in the realm of defense, through creation of joint Canadian-American Cabinet Committee on Defense.

The two leaders canvassed in tentative fashion the idea of setting up such a committee in the first of their official talks Tuesday. Details and decisions were reserved for later talks.

Turning to matters which he said are "troublesome" between us," the President said that in disposing of surplus wheat overseas, the United States has no intent to damage normal commercial markets and that he thinks "we have been generally successful" in this.

Canadians have contended that the disposal program has cut into their commercial markets overseas. But Eisenhower said he considers the basis for past objections by Canada has been largely removed and "the doors of consultation" will be kept fully open on this subject—"there must never be a final word between friends."

The President conceded that in the past the wheat program has caused inconvenience and occasional damage to Canada. But in several respects, he said, Canada stands to benefit from U.S. removal of surplus farm products into overseas consumption.

He contended that many hungry people have had food which they would not have had otherwise, that storage of the products would have depressed the world market and world prices. And, he said, the foreign funds obtained by the sales and made available to recipient countries in the long run should help raise living standards and enlarge the markets for everyone.

Canada also has been unhappy about an unfavorable balance of trade with the United States running to around one billion dollars a year.

Eisenhower observed that American goods flow across the border only because Canadian consumers want to buy them.

To try to balance the trade books, once a month or once a year with every nation, he said, would stifle trade rather than expand it. Furthermore, he said, Canada's export deficit to the United States is offset by export surpluses to other countries and by the flow of investments to Canda.

While the question of control of some Canadian industries by American citizens is raised, these industries are subject to Canadian law, he pointed out.

He noted that U. S. investments have helped provide employment, tax revenues and other benefits to Canada.

If there are defects in the investment process, Eisenhower said, he is confident ways will be found to correct them, because this is in the interest of both countries.

Tuesday, the President Diefenbaker held a 95-minute meeting in the Prime Minister's study. They discussed briefly the American embargo on trade with Communist China, said presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty. The embargo disturbs Canada because of pressure on its subsidiaries of American firms to observe the boycott.

Guard Unit Here Cuts Off Six Men

Snyder's National Guard unit was affected by the nation-wide cutback and has already had to eliminate a few men.

Capt. John T. Lynch, Jr., commander of Co. D, 112th Armored Cavalry Regiment here, said the Snyder company had to eliminate six men from its rolls.

The company, Lynch said, had that many who were not attending drills regularly and cut them out.

That put the company at its present allowed strength, 90 enlisted men and six officers.

The battalion had to cut about 14 men in all, the regiment about 100, Lynch said.

The local company is preparing to leave for summer encampment at North Fort Hood this weekend, and all but about two of the company's men will go, Lynch said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 36th National Guard Division of Texas is among 16 divisions that will be cut back from 5 to 3 component battle groups, the Army announced Tuesday.

The 49th Armored Division of Texas is one of six such outfits that will be maintained at full organization strength.

Nationally, the Army said, five infantry divisions will be maintained at full organizational strength.

The 16 infantry divisions will be reorganized along the regular Army plan except that they will have 3 instead of 5 battle groups.

Secretary of the Army William Brucker said that the states supporting the cut-down divisions will have to decide how to fit their existing units into the new set-up.

At Austin, the adjutant general and governor's office reported no statement will be made regarding the 36th Division cut-back until official word has been received from Washington.

The army announced last March a National Guard reorganization plan that would have eliminated six divisions in addition to about one-fourth of the company and smaller units that are part of the Guard but not necessarily grouped into divisions.

The reductions were termed necessary to meet lowered manpower ceilings for the Guard that the budget for the year, starting July 1 imposed.

Later the Army yielded to strong opposition from states. It said then it would try to work out a plan that would retain all 27 guard divisions within the lowered manpower limit of 360,000. That is the plan announced Tuesday.

In addition, the Army said it will maintain 10 Reserve divisions, of which 6 will be authorized at greater strength than the other 4.

The authorized strength of the Reserve divisions wasn't given in detail, except the Army said the total number of reservists who can receive pay for drills this year will not exceed the 270,000 specified in the budget.

In Dallas announcement of the cut back in the National Guard brought a sharp rebuff from the commander of Texas' 36th Division, Maj. Gen. Carl Phinney.

"I will resist any effort to trim the strength of the 36th Infantry Division down to a point where its effectiveness would be impaired," Phinney said.

Asked if he thought the Army compromise plan brought that point dangerously close, he replied, "yes."

Adams Just Happened Into Goldfine's Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators developed today that Bernard Goldfine was entertaining a group of business associates at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel in 1954 when Sherman Adams was also his guest here.

Goldfine, who was in trouble with the Federal Trade Commission at the time, swore that Adams did not come to New York by prearrangement to meet with him and his business associates.

He said Adams, his close friend and No. 1 aide to President Eisenhower, just happened to be in New York and accepted his hospitality at the hotel.

The Boston textile man was under questioning by the special House subcommittee exploring the kind of treatment he has received from federal regulatory agencies and the question of whether the agencies have been influenced by his friendship with Adams.

Both Goldfine and Adams have denied there was ever any attempt at influence or that Goldfine got preferred treatment.

In explanation of a $1600 bill he got from the Waldorf Astoria, part of it for entertaining Adams, Goldfine told the House group:

"I had invited about seven or eight people that I do business with . . . they were not in political life.

"They were my guests, and Gov. Adams and his wife happened to be in New York, and I invited them to be my guests for dinner."

Goldfine, Boston millionaire textile man, showed up on time for the 10 a.m. hearing. He had had an extra day to rest up with postponement of Tuesday's hearings.

The delay was granted on a plea that the 67-year-old Goldfine was exhausted by such weekend excitement as the exposure of an attempt by a committee staff investigator to listen in on hotel room conversations of Goldfine aides and the reported theft of some of Goldfine's papers.

At the outset, Goldfine and his attorney, Roger Robb, agreed that some records demanded by Chairman Oren Harris would be supplied.

Harris also asked the Boston industrialist to tell about 33 names the subcommittee put in the public record last week.

The subcommittee said the list included persons who were in White House and Capitol Hill offices. Goldfine said he sent checks to these people at Christmas time. Lishman launched the questioning by asking about charges brought by the Federal Trade Commission that Goldfine mills had mislabeled the fiber content of fabrics.

When Goldfine said his son Max knew more about that than he did, Harris agreed to let Max testify.

Giving his full name as Horace Maxwell Goldfine, the son was sworn as a witness. Max, 36, a short, compact man identified himself as the wool buyer for Goldfine mills and said he also "handled the direction of the northfield mills."

Romano Dodges On Fifth Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Louis Romano, alleged Capone mobster, invoked the Fifth Amendment today in refusing to answer questions at Senate hearings on the rackets infested Chicago restaurant industry.

The committee heard testimony Tuesday that Frank (The Enforcer) Nitti, an overlord of Chicago crime, forced Romano into the labor movement as boss of the downtown Chicago Bartenders Union Local 278; to serve as a right-hand man for the mob.

Romano, wearing dark glasses, refused to tell the committee even where he was born.

"I decline to answer on the grounds that it may tend to incriminate me," he said.

Romano had no lawyer with him while testifying as the leadoff witness in the second day of questioning in the committee's search for evidence of a nationwide underworld plot to muscle in on labor and industry.

Also scheduled to be questioned today is Abraham Teitelbaum, labor consultant to the Chicago Restaurant Assn.

Teitelbaum, onetime lawyer for the Capone family, subsequently became the $125,000-a-year counsel for the association.

The committee, which heard testimony yesterday alleging shakedowns and collusion, is investigating what it has labeled a vast conspiracy by the underworld to control the city's rich restaurant industry.

Romano has been named in testimony as a gangster installed by Frank (The Enforcer) Nitti as boss of the racketeer-infested Bartenders Union Local 278.

The committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) voiced curiosity about Teitelbaum's reasons for hiring Romano as the restaurant association's labor expert after a state court had ousted Romano and placed Local 278 in receivership.

Teitelbaum was a major witness in a House investigation of tax scandals in the Truman administration, and now lives in Hollywood, Calif. Romano, the committee said, lives in Miami.

As the hearings got under way, Donald Strang, owner of a Niles, Ill., restaurant, testified that Illinois state police told him they could do nothing about union violence at his restaurant because they had been called off by the governor's office.

He said this was in June 1852, during the administration of Gov. Adlai Stevenson, but he said he didn't know who in the governor's office gave the order.

Wooldridge Child Dies; Services Set

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow for Randy Wayne Wooldridge, who died at 10:50 a.m. yesterday at Children's Medical Center in Dallas.

His death came just a few days before his seventh birthday and following open-heart surgery which was being done in an attempt to repair holes in the center partition of his heart. He was born in that condition. Death had been sure without the operation, and chances of death had been estimated at 30 per cent in the operation itself.

A large number of Snyder residents with the rare type A-negative blood had volunteered it for use in the operation.

The Wooldridge youth was born in Snyder July 16, 1951.

Glen Pace, minister of the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ will officiate in services at that church. Burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Survivors are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Obie N. Wooldridge, Colorado City highway; one sister, Beckie, 4; one brother, Tommy, 10; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Childress of Snyder, and paternal grandmother, Mrs. Ora Wooldridge of Newcombe.

Youths Want Better Songs

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A group of Minneapolis teen-agers who say popular songs may encourage delinquency has decided to do something about it.

They have opened a national "Better Lyrics" contest with $500 in prizes for the five best sets of lyrcis by boys and girls in the 13-to-19 age group.

The contest is being promoted by 510 students who are members of Contact, a Catholic movement for high school students. Money for the prizes is being provided by the Catholic parents organization of Minneapolis.

This is what they say about some current popular songs:

"Wear My Ring Around Your Neck"—encourages going steady, which members of the group oppose.

"Yakety Yak" — implies that parental requests for little jobs around the house are nothing but nagging.

"All the Way," and "Witchcraft"—suggestive.

McCone Confirmed For Post On AEC

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today confirmed the nomination of John A. McCone to be a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. Action was by voice vote.

McCone, a Los Angeles businessman, was nominated by President Eisenhower for a five-year term to succeed Lewis Strauss, the commission chairman, who stepped out recently.

Grant Rites Set Thursday

Funeral services have been set for 4 p.m. tomorrow for Mrs. Lola Grant, 64, who died at 6 a.m. today in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Grant, a resident of Scurry County all her life, was born Feb. 20, 1894. She lived at 2505 Avenue W.

Her husband, Oscar Grant, died in 1921. She was Baptist.

Services will be at the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. G. M. Cole, pastor here, the Rev. Jimmie Nelson of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church, and the Rev. C. E. Strickland of the Knapp Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in the Ira Cemetery under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. L. B. McCravey, Mrs. Bill Teaff, and Mrs. Raymond Robinson, all of Snyder; one sister, Mrs. Minnie House of Snyder; and four brothers Hugh Huddleston of Hermleigh, Alf Huddleston of Clyde, Ross Huddleston of Ratcliff, Ark., and Wright Huddleston of Snyder.

16 Persons Get Absentee Ballots

Only 16 persons had secured absentee ballots for the July 26 Democratic primary by late this morning, according to Dan Cotton, county clerk.

A big increase in absentee voting is expected before the weekend however, because of the National Guardsmen leaving town this weekend for two weeks. A large number of them are expected to vote absentee.

Deadline for securing absentee ballots is July 22. Those who are ill or expect to be out of town on the primary day can vote absentee.

Water-Breathing Man Is Pondered

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Space scientists are weighing the idea of trying to breed a special type of man or animal who could breathe water or gas instead of air.

In the place of lungs he might have gills like a fish. Or he might have lungs which could be filled temporarily with water and be converted back to air breathing later.

Even some kind of breathing organ which would enable him to stay alive in an atmosphere of ammonia or methane gas is an item for consideration.

These far-reaching possibilities were brought out today by Dr. Blaine Levendahl, zoologist from the University of California at Los Angeles. He talked to a reporter after addressing the Institute of Aeronautical sciences.

To produce a creature like this, scientists would have to speed up enormously the process of evolution. Dr. Levendahl made no specific suggestions as to how it should be undertaken. He expressed the belief, however, that researchers already have the means to make a start in that direction.

Evolutionary theory holds that all life started in the water; that the forerunners of all air-breathers had gills. It took many millions of years for them to develop lungs and move to dry land. So the production of a water-breathing man would be equivalent to turning the evolutionary timeclock forward until it completed a full circle.

A man with gills and with the ability to tolerate a full load of water in all his body cavities would be protected against the crushing effects of being shot into space. He could better withstand the shock of hitting the atmosphere at high speed on his return to earth, Dr. Levendahl said.

Even without gills, but with lungs and other spaces that could be filled with water for a while he could go through these critical phases of space travel easily, the zoologist asserted.

Plane's Use By Milton Is Defended

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House today defended the use of military planes to return Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower to Washington Tuesday from a Wisconsin fishing trip.

Anne Wheaton, associate press secretary, said use of the government planes was arranged for the convenience of the government and in order to give the President's brother time for consultations with the State Department before he leaves Saturday on a delayed goodwill visit to Central America.

Mrs. Wheaton said the trip had been planned to start about July 15, but was advanced last Monday to this coming weekend.

Two small military planes were used in returning Dr. Eisenhower's party from Wisconsin Land O'Lakes region to Wausau, Wis. A third was used for the flight to Washington.

Mrs. Wheaton issued a brief statement after a Wisconsin Democratic nominee had protested against using military planes for the "personal travel" of the President's relatives.

In Chicago, a 5th Army spokesman said the request for the aircraft used by Milton Eisenhower came from a White House military aide.

Bids On School Remodeling Work Far Below Estimates

Bids totaling $193,472 were awarded by the Snyder school board last night for remodeling work to be done at the junior high school.

The bids were more than $38,000 below estimates for the work to be done at that campus.

The project includes building an addition for expansion of cafeteria, science and homemaking facilities at that school, the building of a field house at the junior high playing field, ground work for junior high practice fields, covered walkways, and some rewiring and other work.

Low bidders were awarded the contracts. They were A. P. Kasch of Big Spring with a bid of $158,250 on the general contract, Howell Electric of Snyder with a bid of $9,325 on electrical, and Bowen Plumbing of San Angelo with a bid of $25,897 on mechanical.

Bids were taken separately on the field house and alterations of the junior high building, as well as combined bids. General bids on the field house were $29,800 by Rose Construction Co. of Abilene, $27,923 by T. E. Shelburne & Son, Inc., of Snyder, and $34,796 by Bob Parks & Sons of Snyder. Those on alterations to the junior high building were $139,000 by Rose and $133,855 by Shelburne. Combined bids, other than the low bid, were $168,800 by Rose, $158,500 by Shelburne, $181,000 by Alston Construction of Sweetwater, $172,700 by J. W. Cooper of Odessa, and $174,979 by R. G. Farrell of Odessa.

Mechanical bids on the field house alone were $19,900 by David Vickers of Sweetwater and $18,860 by White Plumbing of Albany. On the junior high building, they were $16,500 by Vickers and $15,726 by White. On the combined bids, they were $36,000 by Vickers, $34,000 by White, $33,842 by Gray Plumbing of Odessa, and $27,345 by R. G. Farrell.

Boss Electric of Snyder was the only firm bidding separately on the electrical contract. The firm's bid was $1,379 on the field house and $8,770 on the junior high building. Combined bids, other than Howell's were $9,866 by C & D Electric of Big Spring and $10,149 by Boss.

In the meeting of the board which followed the bid opening, Fred Buford, architect for the schools, reported he would be back early in August with final plans on the new junior high school, which will be located west of El Paso Avenue, for the board's approval.

The board discussed with Buford roof leaks in some buildings and windows to be used in the new junior high.

T. E. McCollum, superintendent and Doug Flynn, school auditor, reported on figures on the 1958-59 school budget since the board made revisions. Flynn said the operating budget stands at $1,854,196 so far for next year, compared to $1,803,000 for this school year.

The entire budget, including debt retirement, now stands at $2,524,887.

Flynn said the state per capital apportionment is being cut next school year and that the cut will mean $27,000 less from the state to the Snyder schools.

The board is to have the public budget hearing on the night of July 22. Next Tuesday night the board will have as its audience tax representatives of oil companies with properties here.

The board discussed streets which are to be built around the new junior high school and a proposed street running along the south side of the East Elementary School campus. The board voted to proceed with work toward getting those streets built.

Max West, board president, relayed to the board a request from the county library board for use of the Lincoln School building to establish a branch of the county library. The board voted to allow use of a room at the school if possible and instructed McCollum to investigate whether there is space usable for that purpose.

On request of McCollum, the board voted to provide a $50 a month salary increment for the high school girls volleyball coach. That coach carries a regular load of classes, plus working out with the team and taking it on trips after school hours. The salary increment provided for the volleyball teacher is like that provided for athletic coaches.

The board voted to authorize Flynn to borrow for the schools $50,000 from the Snyder National Bank to pay bills against the building fund. The board invested bond funds which were voted for the building program, and the money can be borrowed at the same interest rate the funds are now drawing while invested.

McCollum reported on personnel, including new personnel employed, resignations, and vacancies remaining. There are still about 10 teaching positions to be filled for the next school year, plus a number of vacancies in the pupil personnel department. First grade teachers and counsellors appear to be the hardest to find, McCollum said.

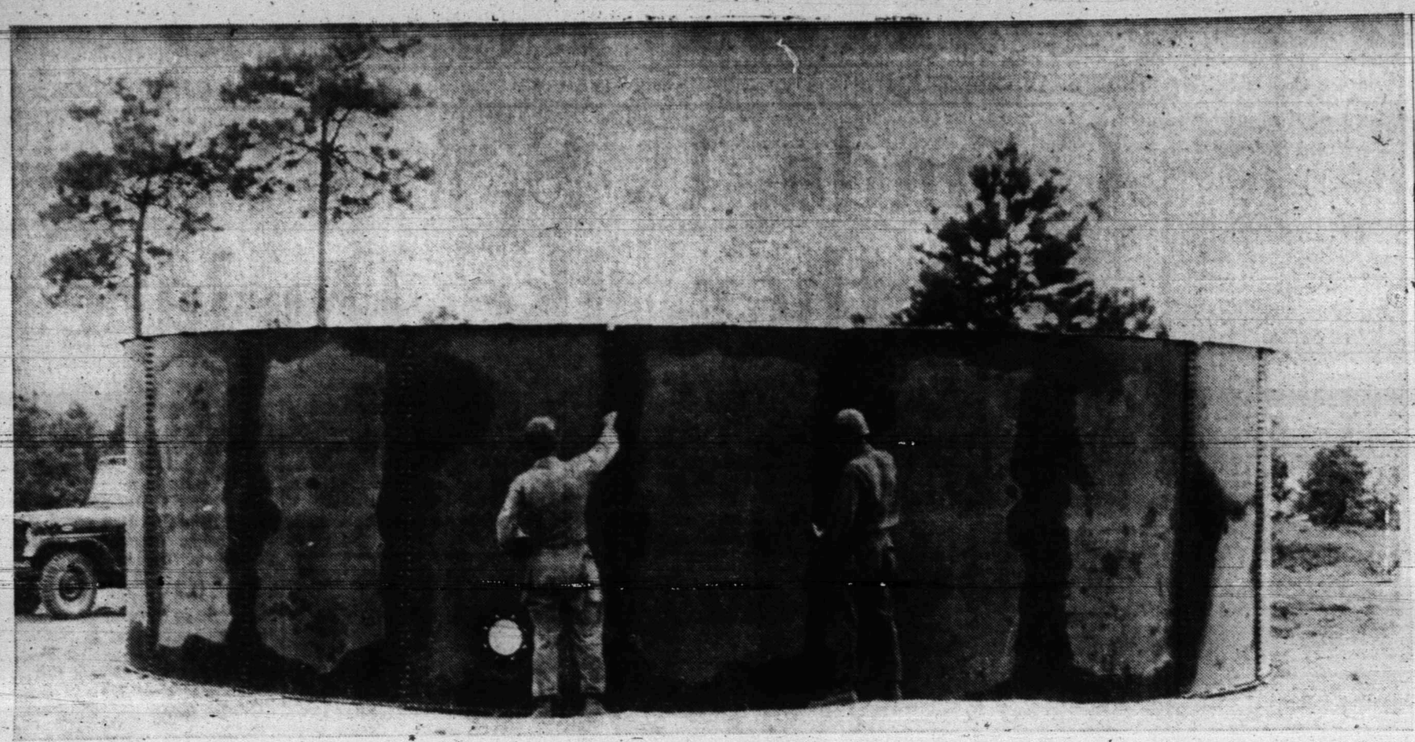
HST Agrees Adams Needed

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman, returning from a European vacation, said today it was up to President Eisenhower to decide whether to fire his assistant, Sherman Adams.

But Truman added tartly: "The government would be in a bad fix if he loses Adams—he's running it, you know."

Truman, tanned and beaming, met newsmen aboard the liner Constitution and right from the start he was peppered with questions about the storm stirred up in Washington over the congressional investigation of the relations between Adams and Boston industrialist Gernard Goldfine.

He repeated the substance of a statement made in Cannes, France, to the effect that "the facts speak for themselves very eloquently" and that public reaction will be felt in the elections this year and two years hence.



LAST YEAR, the 700th Engineer Pipeline Co., Snyder's Army Reserve unit, constructed this storage tank during summer encampment at Fort Polk, La., as well as taking part in other routine camp training programs. The unit will go to this year's summer encampment there Aug. 17-31.

Army Reserve Unit Planning For Camp

Snyder's Army Reserve unit, the 700th Engineer Pipeline Co., is now making plans to attend annual summer encampment at Fort Polk, La., Aug. 17-31.

At the encampment, the unit will spend much of its times in company and other unit problems dealing with pipelines, as well as other routine Army training.

Still less than two years old as a Snyder unit, the company holds weekly drill meetings at its building at 120 East Highway from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. each Tuesday.

Activated in January, 1957, the unit had an initial cadre of 16 enlisted men and two officers.

1st Lt. Robert Barman, commanding officer of the unit, invites reservists in this area interested to visit the unit on any meeting night to meet personnel assigned to the unit and to inspect training facilities and equipment available. The unit currently has vacancies which may be filled by prior service enlisted personnel and engineer branch officers.

Since the company is an engineer pipeline unit, it has drawn much interest from men in this area employed by the oil industry. Barman is a petroleum engineer employed by Sun Oil Co. at Colorado City and formerly resided in Snyder. He is assisted by 2nd Lt. Paul V. Krake of Snyder, an engineer employed by Standard of Texas Oil Co. First sergeant of the unit is M-Sgt. J. D. Nobles of Snyder, who is employed by Dowell, Inc.

The unit's training program is devoted to development of its primary mission in the event of mobilization, the construction and rehabilitation of petroleum unloading and bulk storage facilities and pipeline systems.

Last year at Fort Polk, the unit attended and members constructed a storage tank, as well as participating in police duties, parades, and small arms fire.

Prior to organization of the unit here 18 months ago, personnel in the Army reserve here were assigned to the 302nd Signal Co. at Lubbock and drove there several times each month to attend meetings.

Showers Due In Panhandle

By The Associated Press

Showers fell Wednesday along the Tecas coast and in the lower Rio Grande Valley. Scattered thunderstorms were expected in the upper Panhandle by nightfall.

The cool front which blustered across Texas was out in the Gulf but still close enough to land to cause South Texas precipitation.

Lower Valley showers were just heavy enough to hamper cotton picking. The state's heaviest rainfall for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday was 1.59 inches at Rio Grande City. Brownsville had about .33 of an inch in 20 minutes Wednesday morning and the rain continued.

The Rio Grande rose about four feet south of Laredo and engineers noted a slight rise in Falcon Reservoir.

Rescuers Still Try For Man In Canyon

By The Associated Press

ANTONITO, Colo. (AP)—Rockslides and dizzying heights thwarted the rescue of two men trapped on a narrow shelf of rock jutting out over primitive Conejos Canyon last night.

One of the men went to the side of the other, who apparently has clung helpless to the ledge since last Friday.

Searchers who trudged into the remote southern Colorado region by mule pack yesterday found the broken body of a man identified as William E. Garver, 38, auditor for the University of New Mexico.

Garver and John Sanders, 35, Albuquerque, were returning from a fishing trip when they apparently fell from a perilous mountain trail five days ago. The man on the ledge 600 feet from the bottom of the canyon has identified himself as Sanders to members of the rescue team.

Don Bewley, 22, scrambled down a lowered rope to Sanders' side yesterday. He gave the trapped man the first food and water he had had in four days.

Bewley volunteered to join the marooned man despite the danger of jagged rocks sawing into the rope which supported him.

Rescue groups had written off an attempt to reach the man from above because of the danger of starting a cascade of loose rock.

Stalled by the precipitous canyon walls, rescuers called on an Army helicopter from Ft. Carson, Colo.

The copter, piloted by Lt. Jerry Bunyard of Denver, flew into the area with a three-man mountaineer crew headed by Lt. Karl Holzel of Skokie, Ill. The rescue attempt — last one of the day — was turned back by turbulent air in the canyon 35 miles west of here.

The shelf where the one man has been trapped since Friday slopes downward at a 45-degree angle from the canyon wall. Below is a 600-foot free fall to the base of the canyon.

The body of the man identified as Garver was found lodged in a crevice near the canyon floor.

Coroner Walter S. Howe, who identified the victim, said he apparently died within minutes of the fall. He suffered multiple fractures, Howe said.

JOHN C. WHITE

John White Campaigns In City Tuesday

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White visited Snyder Tuesday on a campaign tour of West Texas as seeking re-election as Democratic nominee for state office on July 26.

The 33-year-old White cited the clean-up of Texas grain warehouse scandals and re-vitilizing the farm seed industry as among new services achieved for West Texans since he became Commissioner of Agriculture seven years ago.

White was first elected as a Democratic state official at the age of 26, just four years after obtaining an agricultural degree at Texas Tech College in Lubbock.

Commenting on his political standing White said, "I have consistantly worked for and supported Democratic policies that benefit the majority of Texans. My refusal to be cross-filed on the Republican ballot back in 1952 affirmed my stand as a Democrat at a time when you could find very few of them in evidence in the state."

Commissioner White pointed out that the Texas Department of Agriculture is more than just a service agency to farmers and ranchers. "Every housewife, businessman or worker is somehow served by at least one phase of our duties", he said.

"We have increased our work by as much as 300 per cent on many programs without making constant demands for new tax money. The result has made Texas first in the South in modern farm laws and services during my terms of office."

A native of Clay county, John White was head of the Department of Agriculture at Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, prior to his career in public office. He and his wife and three sons, Richard 12, Edward 7, and Jake Rayburn 6, now live in Austin.

Nokes Puts Heat Into His Campaign

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
The Associated Press

The campaigns for governor of Texas and U.S. senator from Texas roared on Wednesday as former State Senator George Nokes put some heat in his campaign to unseat Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey.

Senator Ralph Yarborough, seeking reelection, had a new face and an illustrious name in his campaign entourage. And Gov. Price Daniel—beset by the barbs of two opponents—planned Thursday to search for votes in San Angelo and Coleman.

In his office most of the day Tuesday, Daniel took the time to say he is confident the state will defeat the Federal Government's "brazen attempt to reduce our tidelands boundary to three miles rather than three leagues in the Gulf."

Daniel said after conferences with Atty. Gen. Will Wilson he was "convinced even most of the patent weakness of the federal case."

He said Texas' claims seem good enough for everybody "except former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, his successor and some of my opponents in the governor's race."

In a statement at Houston, one of Daniel's opponents—State Senator Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio—charged the governor was lining up lobbyist support to become "dictator of the Democratic Party in Texas."

Gonzalez said Daniel has called a number of known lobbyists to the executive mansion in Austin recently and that they were asked to supply money for the party control fight.

Gonzalez, challenging the second-term tradition, told a Houston audience: "When it's time for a change, it's time for a change and the people will do it."

The other principal candidate for governor, former U.S. Senator and Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, said the reports about a mid-June meeting of lobbyists with Daniel at Austin made him wonder about the "big new lobby control bill the governor brags about getting passed."

O'Daniel repeated his charges against Daniel in a speech carried Tuesday night by a West Texas television network. He also stressed his proposals for industrializing Texas, promised to continue 100 per cent segregation in the state, and advocated a cash estate bonus for war veterans. He was due in Abilene Wednesday and back to his Dallas home by Wednesday night.

Yarborough, in Eastland Wednesday to speak before the Southwest Peanuts Growers Assn. before going to Wichita Falls for a television broadcast, welcomed to his campaign entourage Sam Houston Allred.

Young Allred, son of federal Dist. Judge Jimmy Allred, a former Texas governor, is a student leader at Southern Methodist University. Allred will accompany Yarborough to Wichita Falls, to Fort Worth on Thursday and be with him in Denton Thursday night when he speaks to the Denton County Democratic organization at a fund-raising dinner.

The man trying to unseat Yarborough, William Blakley of Dallas, handshook his way around El Paso Tuesday and scheduled two days of speaking and handshaking in Houston vicinity Wednesday and Thursday. He said his television program, broadcast statewide Wednesday night, will be a major speech. It begins at 8 p.m.

Blakley, in a call on the El Paso mayor Tuesday, called for closer U.S. relations with South American nations. He said the U.S. has done nothing to foster friendship in South America."

In the warming-up race for lieutenant governor, George Nokes, attempting to unseat Ben Ramsey, said the lieutenant governor has done "everything within his power to protect the lobbyists in Austin by refusing to cooperate with Gov. Daniel in the enactment of a strong lobby control bill."

Nokes said he didn't believe the voters would "reward a record like Ramsey's with an unprecedented fifth term."

On another front, Senator Lyndon Johnson gave a push Tuesday to President Eisenhower's request for a five-year extension of the reciprocal trade program. He said he thought the House was very wise in extending authority for five years.

Bailey Tries For Freedom

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Another central figure in the bizarre 1933 kidnaping of wealthy oilman Charles Urschel is attempting to gain freedom from a life sentence for his part in the crime.

Harvey Bailey, 71, filed a motion in Federal District Court here yesterday asking that the sentence be set aside on grounds his constitutional rights were violated during the 1933 trials.

Bailey is in the Federal Prison at Leavenworth, Kan.

His attorney, James Laughlin of Washington, D.C., succeed last month in gaining new trials for the widow and mother-in-law of George (Machinegun) Kelly on the same grounds.

Kelly died in Leavenworth three years ago while serving a life sentence for the kidnaping.

Junior Editors Quiz on REPTILES

QUESTION: What is the most deadly snake?

ANSWER: There are about 2,400 different kinds of snakes in the world, but only about 190 of them are poisonous. And most snakes are helpful because they kill rats, mice and other rodents that destroy crops.

Of the poisonous snakes, we hear most frequently about the rattlesnake, the copperhead, the water moccasin and the coral snake of North America; the cobra of India and Africa; the bushmaster and fer-de-lance of South America, and the mamba of South Africa. But the snake considered the deadliest of all is the little-known tiger snake of Australia, shown in this picture poised to strike at an Australian bushman.

Like most other poisonous snakes, the tiger snake injects its venom into a victim through its fangs, which are hollow like hypodermic needles. Its venom causes almost instant death.

FOR YOU TO DO: Would you recognize a poisonous snake if you saw one? Get a book on snakes and study the poisonous ones.

Library Has Books To Aid In Clean-Up, Fix-Up Week

This week the citizens of Snyder and Scurry County are busily observing Clean-up, Paint-up, and Fix-up Week in their annual effort to beautify their surroundings. There are many books in the Scurry County library that can be of assistance in this project.

Why not start your private beautifying project inside your own home by reading up on flower arrangements in "The Complete Book of Flowers and Plants for Interior Decoration", by Esther Wheeler and Annabel Lasker? Fully detailed and illustrated, this book contains many ideas for arrangements that do not require expensive or hard-to-find plants.

Is your home in need of repairs? Do it yourself by referring to "Money Saving Home Improvements", by Harry Hobbs, or to Mr. Fix-It's "Make Your Own Electrical Repairs". These are only two of the many volumes offering assistance to the home handy-man.

Moving on to the outside of your home, perhaps you are having trouble getting your lawn looking as nice as you would like to have it. "The Complete Book of Lawn", by F. F. Rockwell and Esther C. Grayson should help you solve your lawn problems. Norman Taylor's "Guide to Garden Flowers" will be of great value to you both in planning your flower beds and in cultivating the flowers.

Children can do their share in observing Clean-up Week, too. Countless accidents are caused by roller skates, balls, and other toys left lying around the house and yard. Check out Munro Leaf's "Safety Can Be Fun" and let your child see how he can help improve the appearance of his home and at the same time help prevent accidents by always remembering to put away his toys.

When cleaning up this week, don't forget to clean around your dog-house, chicken coop, pens, or any place where animals or pets are kept. Unless these areas are kept clean, flies, ticks, and other disease-spreading insects are attracted to them. Also, your own animals are subject to disease and several animal diseases are not only communicable to man but dangerous to him as well. For further information along this line, you will be interested in reading "Animal Sanitation and Disease Control", by R. R. Dykstra.

Visit your library for these and many other books which will assist you in making Scurry County the cleanest county in West Texas.

Onion, garlic and celery salts are especially good to have on hand for use with meat dishes. They may also be used in salads.

Italy Shows New Velvet For Sports

COMO, Italy (AP) - An Italian fashion house has transformed velvet from a dainty, feminine, evening-wear fabric into a rugged tomboy, at home on the grouse moors or the 18th tee.

The "relax" velvet introduced by the house of Legler is crease-resistant, stain and water-repellent, doesn't absorb dust and you can wash it yourself.

Woven in jewel tones, some plain, others patterned with roses, tulips, candy drops and numerous other designs, the fabric was displayed to fashion writers and buyers from all parts of the world at an open-air fashion show on the banks of Lake Como in this northern Italian town.

The show featured top Italian designers including Fabiani, Enzo, Capucci, Carosa, and Livoli. They concentrated on next year's clothes using dash and originality.

All favor the sack line. Occasionally a waisted number slipped in, but it was cunningly designed to look like a sack above and below the middle. But there are sacks and sacks, and with their versatility, the Italians showed how fetching they could look.

Even sports outfits have a semi-sack look. For the golf course there's a sack suit of mustard-yellow velvet. Designer Enzo has produced a two-piece outfit comprising a comfortable gathered skirt topped by a loose back-buttoning jacket.

Nails that split and chip easily may mean lack of certain proteins in a diet. Often dissolving a packet of unflavored gelatin in the morning fruit juice will relieve the condition. However, give the treatment about three months to show results.

OUR VIEW

Our Unsung State Song

Probably more than a few Texans were surprised to learn while reading of Congressional approval for Alaska statehood that the Lone Star State's official song is not "The Eyes of Texas."

William J. Marsh of Fort Worth, who composed the lyrics for "Texas, Our Texas," which is the state song, sounded the note of disillusion when he commented on changes the real state song must undergo as a result of Alaska coming into the union as the 49th and largest state.

The lyrics of "Texas, Our Texas" include the phrase "largest and grandest" and despite the pun that is making the rounds to the effect that Alaska still wouldn't be the largest if all that snow should be melted down, Marsh recognizes that the word "largest" probably will have to go.

Getting back to the little-known state song, "Texas, Our Texas" never has caught on sufficiently to generate widespread usage. Consequently, many Texans and virtually all "foreigners" apparently are unaware that it is the state song.

Now that Alaska has been offered statehood and President Eisenhower has signed the bill, perhaps the reference to the Texas song which made the press wires during the event will put "Texas, Our Texas" on the map.

Regardless, Texans should now be aware of the fact that "The Eyes of Texas" is not the state song.

If you're still in doubt about this, just ask any student, or graduate of Texas A&M College. They'll tell you that "The Eyes of Texas" is the adopted song of the University of Texas, and that you won't be a traitor to the Lone Star State if you fail to stand in reverence when it is played at a public gathering.

Goldfine's Agents Leap On Bonanza

By JACK BELL
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine's energetic lawyers and publicity men couldn't have helped their client more if they had written the script themselves.

A new political complexion has been put on what is currently the nation's most publicized inquiry by the weird, after-midnight episode of the "bugging" of a hotel room occupied by Goldfine's aides and the subsequent firing of a congressional investigator caught in the act.

The political cake was iced by the reported pilfering of documents from the hotel room of Goldfine's secretary.

Bernard Goldfine, the self-styled poor boy from Russia who became a rich, gift-giving friend of the mighty in public office, temporarily is cast in a martyr's role.

He now can claim he is the intended victim of undercover operations that, as his legal and publicity experts helped him say, were "worse than being in Russia."

Baron I. Shacklette, the now departed investigator for the House subcommittee on legislative oversight, has said he was overzealous in planting a microphone at the door of a room occupied by Goldfine's helpers.

As a target for that action, the Boston industrialist has assumed the status of an underdog.

He is in a position to cry persecution when pressed about his financial affairs. He now can suggest — with a certain amount of public sympathy — that there may be some dirty business behind the inquiry into why he paid hotel bills for presidential assistant Sherman Adams, loaned him a $2,400 Oriental rug and gave him the vicuna cloth for an expensive coat.

Investigations usually are messy affairs. People don't tell on themselves voluntarily. Most tips come from enemies of those under investigation. The informer — or stoolpigeon, if you prefer — is an accepted source of tips in criminal inquiries. Hotel rooms have been bugged before, telephones tapped.

The public knows this. But it doesn't like to think such methods would be employed by a congressional committee. When any of them are, the suspicion arises that politics — and not fair play — is in command.

Because the Democrats control the congressional committees, they can't escape any odium that may attach itself to their staffs.

The House subcommittee is in a bad light, its motives under suspicion. Republicans who wish to defend Adams have an opening to cry smear. Democrats can blame Shacklette and his "bug" for clouding an issue they believed might go big for them in November and in 1960.

Canadians Blaming Others For Pains

By SAM DAWSON
Associated Press News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Canada like every fast-growing country is suffering growing pains. And very humanly she is inclined to put some of the blame on others.

President Eisenhower and Canada's Prime Minister Diefenbaker likely will be looking into some of these pains today and into how much American businessmen are involved.

Their dollar-and-cents involvement is high. It has grown enormously in the last few years and that is causing much of the pain and friction.

The two leaders also will look into trade barriers between the two neighbors—and into fears on both sides that some of them will be increased. Also at issue is the conflict when each nation tries to sell surplus products in the world markets in competition with the other. In these matters too, American businessmen and producers are involved.

Canada's large industrial expansion has had to be financed in great part by outside capital, mostly American. The United States went through the same phase many years ago and got much of the needed funds from British capitalists. The resultant control of many American enterprises by British subjects and the flow overseas of profits from these companies caused much resentment here.

Long-term investments in Canada by U. S. corporations are now estimated at around eight billion dollars, up about two billion in three years.

William F. Shelley, co-chairman of the Committee of Canadian Investment companies, estimates private investors on this side of the border now hold nearly $14 billion dollars in Canadian securities. This is a 27 per cent jump in four years.

Canada has welcomed the money. The pain now comes from the charge by Canadians that U. S. firms aren't letting Canadians help run the companies set up there, and the fear that Canadian resources will be exploited and the profits cross the border.

The influx of American investments has also let Canada offset its unfavorable trade balance with the United States. They buy more from us than we do from them, and without the American investments there would be a dollar gap making the Canadian dollar shaky.

On the contrary, it rides at a premium over the American dollar. That is because when Americans buy Canadian securities floated here, or when American companies put U. S. dollars to work in Canada, they have to buy Canadian dollars to use up there.

Diefenbaker would like to buy less from the United States to help close the trade gap. Since Canada is one of our best customers, buying around 300 million dollars a month, American businessmen are disturbed at this proposal.

Some Americans are also worried at talk north of the border of putting up trade barriers to American textiles and some farm products. Canadians are just as worried about the limits upon importing of Canadian crude oil here, and talk here of higher tariffs on some metals.

Marilyn Back In A Sheath

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marilyn Monroe is back in town. That's her in the sheath.

She showed the Hollywood press corps what the style does for her—and vice versa—at a reception yesterday.

Marilyn returned to Hollywood from New York earlier yesterday to perform in a film about the 1920s. It's called "Some Like it Hot."

Manhattan Is Nice, Bora Bora Better

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Bora Bora is green and cool and quiet," said Ramine.

Ramine, 18, is the champion hula dancer of Tahiti in the South Pacific. She is pretty and has the grace of a fluid, honey-colored pretzel.

"Bora Bora, where I was born, is 75 miles south of Tahiti. It is about the size of Manhattan Island, but not so large a population. We have 1,600 persons.

"If you went there you could live like a Tahitian for $50 a month — and there is nothing wrong in that. We do not have a parking problem on Bora Bora, as there are only seven cars.

"There are no psychiatrists. There are no worries, as there is nothing to worry about. Just have a good time.

"We have plenty of fruit and fish. We live in the palm and bamboo house. You can make such a house in one day.

"Everybody dance on Bora Bora. You dance as soon as you walk. Our hula is difference than Hawaiian hula, where they use the hands slow. We use more the hips—but very fast.

"You just go wild. Not bad. Just wild.

"Yes, we dance all the time. If you are cooking and somebody start tapping with his fingers, you stop and do the hula.

"Crime? They steal some on Bora Bora, but I don't heard of anyone ever killing anybody in my lifetime. Nobody even kill himself.

"If they drink too much, sometimes they beat the wives. But they don't murder her.

"Sometimes she need beating, too. She yell, she cry, and fight back, too. But soon it is all passed away, and they dance hula again.

"Life very comfortable in Bora Bora. Only thing you need money for is clothes, and you don't wear many clothes.

"We have nice drink called pineapple beer. Delicious! Make you walk zig-zag, too. It take long time to make real good pineapple beer. Sometimes a month.

"It very cheap for boy and girl to go out in Bora Bora. They dance hula, drink all pineapple beer they want for 50 cents. No taxicabs. Make own fun. Nice evening.

Ramine had beginner's luck during her visit to Manhattan.

She went to the Belmont race track, bet on six races, won on five, and came home $90 ahead. She appeared on a television program and won a watch, a silver platter and a bottle of perfume.

Stop, Look And Heads Up

DETROIT (AP) — It's no longer just a question of "look before you cross the street" for pedestrians here. Now it's "heads up."

On June 24, a 20-foot cornice section fell from a store building on busy Woodward Avenue, killing one woman and injuring two shoppers. Another cornice section elsewhere in the business district toppled June 30. Last Sunday a tile decoration fell, narrowly missing State Sen. Charles S. Blondy. No one was hurt in the last two accidents.

Chief Building Inspector Charles S. Allen has ordered a crackdown on aging cornices. More than 100 removal notices have been sent out and the notices are backed up with stiff fines.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE PLATE UMPIRE who collasped because of "too much heat" in last Saturday's TV game, Ed Sudol, formerly played in the old Texas-New Mexico League as a member of the Pampa Oilers.

Sudol played first base for Pampa in 1952. Sudol was a slugger of note, pounding 21 homers, 29 doubles and one triple for the Pampa team in the 1952 season.

Sudol played one-half of the 1953 season before leaving the game as an active player and joining the ranks of the "men in blue."

He probably made a wise move because he had gone just about as far up the ladder as a player in organized baseball. Now he's in the major leagues as an umpire and in all likelihood he's "got it made" now for many years to come.

Sudol apparently came out of it quickly after last Saturday's incident as he was "back in harness" the following day.

Weaver Wins Big Spring Title

Dots and dashes:

Judge R. H. Weaver, who lost the Donald Ray Scott in the finals of the 4th annual Snyder Country Club Invitational in May, last Sunday captured the Big Spring City title — Weaver beat Sunny Edwards in the finals 1-up — Leon Reed, Tiger basketball star last winter, may wind up at Eastern New Mexico University on a basketball scholarship — athletic director George Sauer, at Baylor, who has booked the Bear football team from Seattle to San Francisco, to Philadelphia, to Miami, to Washington, D. C., in recent seasons, has some more good trips coming up for Baylor grid teams — the Bears will play Colorado, LSU and Southern California in 1959 and 1960 Pittsburgh and Air Force Academy in 1961 and 1962; and Oregon State in 1963 and 1964 — local Little League officials travel to Sweetwater tonight for the District Little League meeting — final details for the coming playoffs will be mapped at the meeting.

Blue Sox To Sponsor Dance

Royce Pierce, manager of the Blue Sox team in the City League has a big deal cooked up to raise some revenue to get his team out of financial straits.

The Blue Sox team is going to sponsor a dance in he Hilander Banquet Room next Monday night, starting at 9. All net proceeds will go toward financing the Blue Sox baseball team.

Jack Tate and his Sandy Land Playboys from Snyder will furnish the music at the dance. Admission will be $1.

JUNIOR OLYMPIANS—Pictured are some of the boys who will compete in the Junior Division (12-13 year olds) at the Regional Little Olympics this weekend at Abilene. An estimated 50 boys and girls in all divisions will compete in the Olympic meet at Abilene. The local team is sponsored by the Scurry County Boys Club. Guy Sullivan is the coach. From left to right, the above boys are: FRONT ROW—Craig Stokes, Bob Hart, Jerry Wyatt and Robert Thomas. BACK ROW—Darrell Aldridge, Steve Perine and Doc Rinehart. (Buck Francis photograph)

Sun Clips Tigers On No-Hitter, 3-0

Sun Oil increased their league lead to 1½ games last night when they blanked the Tigers on no hits in a City League game at Towle Park, 3-0.

Wayne Whiteside pitched all but 2-3 innings of the no-hitter. Don Ballard opened on the mound for the Oilers but left the game after two were away in the hello frame in favor of Whiteside.

Ballard was accidentally hit on his elbow by a thrown ball from his catcher after which he left the mound.

Tim Roberts of the Tigers hurled a five-hitter, all singles, and was charged with only one earned run.

Sun took a 1-0 lead in the second when Whiteside singled home Hickman who was on via a base hit.

A hit, walk and an error let in the second Sun run in the fourth. Rivers, who singled, scored on the error.

J. N. Legg stole home for the final Sun run in the fifth. Legg had reached third on a single and two overthrows.

The victory was the seventh in 10 starts for the Oilers, putting them 1½ games ahead of second place Hermleigh which has a 5-4 record.

Next on tap in the City League race will be Hermleigh and the Blue Sox Saturday night. Some makeup games, however, may be made up in the meantime, according to Glen Cavitt, league president.

Saturday's game winds up the regular First Half Schedule in the City League. The All-Star game is slated for July 15. The First Half champ will meet the all-stars from the other three teams in the All-Star game.

The all-star team is being picked by the fans. Deadline for voting is Saturday night. Ballots are available at the concession stand.

The Graduate Pony League games scheduled for tomorrow and Friday have been postponed, according to league president Clifford Hale.

Reason for the postponements is to allow players from the league teams to go to San Antonio this weekend for a Boys Club baseball tournament.

White Sox 1st LL Champion

The Trinity Methodist White Sox clinched the American Little League pennant last night with a come-from-behind 5-4 victory over the West Texas State Bank Athletics. The White Sox scored two runs in the sixth inning for the triumph.

Manager Charlie Morrow's White Sox, thus, became the first 1958 Little League champion to be crowned. Last night's win was the 11th in 15 starts for the Sox this season, giving the Hose a four game lead over the Legion Yankees and Von Roeder Indians who shares second place with only three games to play.

The other league title is still up for grabs. The Quarterback Club Giants held on to their lead in the National League with a 10-5 victory over the Rotary Cardinals last night.

The victory boosted the Giants to a one-game lead over the second place Lions Cubs. The Giants own a 10-5 record to 9-6 for the Cubs.

Both White Sox runs in the 6th last night came after two were away. Stanley Baize, on by an error, scored the tying run on a double by Pete Greene and Greene proceeded to score the winning marker on a hit and error off the bat of Sandy McPherson.

Greene's 6th inning double was his third hit of the night, he accounting for one-half of the Sox's six hits.

Ronnie Chauncey also got three hits for the Athletics.

The Athletics scored all their runs in the first inning and led until the final inning when the Sox climaxed their uphill climb to victory.

In the National League game, the Giants broke a 5-5 tie in the fifth inning with a five-run uprising to emerge the victor. The Cardinals had tied the game up in top of the fifth with a two-run surge.

Shortstop Doc Rinehart led the Giants to victory with three hits in four trips. Z. B. Rinehart, Harley Bynum and Jimmy Feather each collected two hits for the winning Giants.

Allen went the distance for the Giants and gave up four hits with none of the Cards getting more than one hit.

Optimist Cats Extend Streak To 10 Straight

The Optimist Cats blew a five-run lead yesterday but battled back in the final two innings to edge past the Snyder Savings and Loan Braves, 8-7, in a Graduate Pony League game at Towle Park.

The victory was the 10th without a loss this season for the Cats.

After jumping ahead 5-0 at the completion of three innings, the Cats fell behind, 7-5, when the Braves erupted for two runs in the fourth and five in the fifth.

But the Cats came back to tie the game up in the sixth with a two-run rally and then won it in the seventh with a single tally.

Eddie Watson, who had singled, scored the winning run on a fielder's choice in the seventh.

The Braves threatened seriously to tie the game up in the bottom of the seventh when pitcher Franklin Moore led off with a triple down the left field line.

The potential rally died, though, when Rueben Gonzales, third Cat pitcher for the day, got the next two batsmen on strikes and the third on a groundout, leaving Moore stranded on third.

Three Braves got two hits apiece to account for all of the loser's safeties. Getting two hits were Kenneth Steele, Len Herndon and Moore. Moore added a double to his triple.

The Cats got five hits off Moore and all were split among five players.

Bullpen Mishap Big Factor In AL Victory In All-Star Tilt

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Billy Pierce's arm tightened up in the bullpen so Billy O'Dell, another southpaw, went in to pitch. Gil McDougald had not made a hit in his last 18 times at bat and Manager Casey Stengel figured this might be the spot for him to "get rid of the collar."

Of such little things are All-Star Games won—and lost.

O'Dell, Baltimore's first bonus player, undoubtedly was the pitching star although veteran Early Wynn of Chicago was credited with the American League's comeback 4-3 victory yesterday over the Nationals.

McDougald hit a pinch single with one out and two runners on base in the seventh inning, driving in Boston's Frank Malzone from second with the run that snapped a 3-3 tie. The Yankee infielder was called off the bench by Stengel to bat for Wynn, who pitched only one inning—a scoreless sixth.

It was the American League's second successive All-Star triumph and its 15th in 25 clashes.

For Casey, it was his third summer success as compared with five defeats. A crowd of 48,829 paid $183,253.21 into the players' pension fund.

"It might be a bad omen," the grizzled Yankee skipper said. "Every time I win the All-Star Game, I lose either the pennant or the World Series. I win in 1954 and lose the pennant to Cleveland. I win again in 1957 and lose the World Series to Milwaukee."

Casey praised three of the four pitchers he used—Cleveland's Ray Narleski, Wynn and O'Dell. He said that Bob Turley, his own right-hander, who was clipped for all the National League runs before he was relieved by Narleski in the second, was too wild.

"It just shows you that good pitchers can top good hitters," Stengel said of his guys who limited the National League's best power hitters to four hits, all singles. In fact, the Americans' nine hits off Warren Spahn, closer Bob Friend, Larry Jackson and Dick Farrell were all singles too, making it the first All-Star Game that was devoid of extra-base hits.

Stengel had special praise for O'Dell, who retired nine batters in order in the last three innings to protect the Americans' one-run lead. The slender South Carolinian, mixing a good fast ball with a snapping slider, struck out two and permitted only one ball to be hit out of the infield. That was pinch hitter Johnny Logan's liner, on which Ted Williams made a leaping catch in the seventh.

Stengel would not admit that O'Dell was a second choice to take the mound in the seventh. Pierce, however, acknowledged that Jim Turner, Casey's chief lieutenant, had advised him to "get ready because you're going in," when McDougald was sent up as a pinch hitter.

"I was heating up hurriedly," explained Pierce, "when I felt my arm tightening up."

'Freshmen' Sparkle In Dream Game

BALTIMORE (AP) — All-Star freshmen Billy O'Dell of Baltimore and Dick Farrell of Philadelphia drew the raves of the veterans for their pitching in baseball's annual battle of the leagues.

Southpaw O'Dell wasn't credited with the American League's 4-3 victory over the National yesterday. But he mowed down the Nationals 1-2-3 in the last three innings.

In All-Star competition pitchers are limited to three innings apiece so the official scorers have some discretion in selecting a winner. Early Wynn, the aged White Sox right-hander, worked only one inning but he retired the Nationals in order and he was still pitcher of record when the Americans went ahead to stay in the sixth.

For that reason Wynn received the victory, fitting enough as it was his first in five years as an All-Star.

But it was O'Dell, 25 in his second full season with the Orioles, who caused American League clubhouse talk.

"He made all those National League batters look the same size didn't he?" said Manager Casey Stengel.

O'Dell was Baltimore's first bonus player when the city was returned to major league baseball in 1954 and its cheapest.

He threw fast balls and sliders to the full National League lineup and only one of them, pinch hitter Johnny Logan of Milwaukee, was able to hit one past the infield.

Ted Williams, playing in his 14th All-Star Game, lectured in favor of Farrell.

He said the 6-3 Philly reliever throws a "real live fast ball."

Farrell is from Brookline, Mass. heart of the Boston Red Sox territory.

"Now I can stop slinking down the alleys," he said. "I struck out Williams."

Fred Haney, Milwaukee manager, who piloted the National League, offered no excuses but he expressed surprise at his charges' failure to get more than four hits, two of them of the scratchy variety. His men didn't get a hit after the third inning and the last 15 went down in order. Willie Mays, Bob Skinner, Frank Thomas and Stan Musial were the only ones to hit safely.

"We didn't hit," Haney said, "but those other guys didn't knock down any fences either. We made two errors and they both cost us runs."

This was true. The Americans scored an unearned run off starter Spahn in the first inning after the Nationals had pounced on Turley for a 2-0 lead. Shortstop Ernie Banks' wide throw of leadoffer Nellie Fox's grounder pulled Musial off first base. A single by Mickey Mantle sent Fox to third, from where he scored when Jackie Jensen rapped into a double play.
