Sinclair Completes Major Discovery In NW Upton Sector

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 McElroy Ranch, major Ellenburger discovery in Northwest Upton County, 18 miles northwest of Rankin, has been completed for a daily flowing potential of 1,681 barrels of 53.6-gravity oil and no water.

The potential is based on an actual 24-hour flow through open two-inch tubing.

The new field opener was completed natural through perforations opposite the Ellenburger at 12,306-406 feet.

Gas-oil ratio was 789-1. Tubing pressure was 130 pounds and pressure on casing was 775 pounds.

Ellenburger was topped at 12,042 feet, elevation 2,781 feet.

The No. 1 McElroy Ranch also showed, for a discovery in the Pennsylvanian at 9,376-9,411 feet.

The opener is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 129, block D, CCSD&RGNG survey.

At present there are nine offsets drilling.

Four Wildcats Are Spotted In Midland

Two and one-quarter miles north and slightly east of E. E. Fogelson and Edwin W. Pauley No. 1-43 K. S. Work is to start immediately on at least one of the wildcats. Contract depth is 7,200 feet for all four tests.

Midland Prospector Reports Flow Gauge

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 7-C Sanders, indicated two-mile north extension to the Ellenburger pool of the multipay Sweetie Peck field of Southwest Midland County, gauged 238 barrels of oil in 24 hours flowing from perforations at 13,248 to 13,340 feet. Gravity of the oil is 46.5 degrees.

Operator is now preparing to re-acidize those perforations.

They were previously washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

The Ellenburger was topped at 13,263 feet, elevation 2,892 feet. The project indicated that it might produce from the Wolfcamp when that formation was drilled.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 9, block 41, T-4-S, T&P survey and 20 miles southwest of the City of Midland.

Hi-Lonesome Offset Gets Wolfcamp Oil

The Texas Company No. 1-D Clarence Scharbauer, diagonal northwest offset to the one-well Hi-Lonesome field in Northwest-Central Midland County, recovered 270 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 3,500 feet of 37.5-gravity oil on a seven-hour and 55-minute drillstem test in a Wolfcamp lime.

The test was taken in the interval between 9,565 and 9,701 feet.

Gas surfaced in 55 minutes.

Ralph Lowe No. 1 Hill, discovery well of the field was completed from the Dean sand of the Wolfcamp.

Operator is drilling below 9,777 feet in lime.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 19, block 39, T-2-S, T&P survey.

DeKalb Agricultural Association, Inc., and United States Smelting, Refining & Mining Company No. 1-E TXL has been completed as a long southwest stepout to the discovery well of the Driver-Spraberry field in Southeast Midland County.

The project reported a daily pumping potential of 97.98 barrels of oil and no water. Gravity of the oil was 42.3 degrees.

The oil came from open hole in the Spraberry at 7,157-7,368 feet. The pay had been treated.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of sec-

City Council OK's Electric Rate Increase

A 10 per cent increase in electric rates for Midland, requested two weeks ago on an areawide basis, was approved Tuesday night by the City Council.

The new rate, which will be shown on bills and meter readings after May 1, was approved after a short discussion and explanation of its necessity by R. L. Miller, district manager for the company.

Other action by the council included:

Approval of a series of water and sewer extension programs for which $255,100 was appropriated.

Appointment of Ed Stitt, acting city attorney, as city attorney for the remainder of the fiscal year.

Postponement of decisions on the dog situation and a Midland County grand jury recommendation that the city employ two negro and two Latin American police officers.

Rejection of a request to disannex 163 acres of land, owned by Miss Laura Jesse and annexed to the city January 25.

The electric rate increase was approved after a lengthy discussion during which Ralph U. Fitting, Jr., questioned Miller closely as to company earnings. The final vote was 3-0 with Councilman J. B. McCoy not voting.

'Vote Of Confidence'

Miller said the company had lowered its rate in 1946 but that increased costs of operation and construction necessitated the request for an increase.

"I consider that a vote of confidence," he said, after Mayor Perry Pickett declared the results of the voting, "and I want to assure you that your confidence has not been misplaced."

The increase will not affect the rate the city pays, which amounts to one cent a kilowatt hour on water

Army Plans Further Draft Call Slashes, Stepped-Up Rotation

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Army plans to cut its June draft call to 20,000 men and to bring home upwards of 20,000 battle-weary Korean veterans monthly, starting in May.

It also expects to recall to active service in May and June 15,000 reserve officers to help train an Army estimated to have a strength of 1,552,000 on June 30.

These plans were disclosed Wednesday by the House Appropriations Committee, which heard about them from top Army spokesmen during closed hearings earlier this month on an emergency request for defense funds.

New Shift In Plans

Army officers also spoke of a cut in the May draft call to 20,000 men. On April 18, several days after they testified, the Army announced a cut in the May call from 60,000 to 40,000. It was not entirely clear from the hearings, but the 40,000 figure evidently represented a new shift in plans.

No formal call for June has been announced.

The rotation system for getting veterans out of Korea and sending new men in was outlined by Lt. Col. D. S. Daley, Jr., of the Army's Manpower Control Division.

"There is no definite length of service there," he said, referring to Korea. "We have wanted x x x to start this rotation as soon as we could... This will be a continuing process of about 20,000 a month for May and June, and then we plan to increase that to 25,000 a month."

Wind, Sand Buffet West Texas Areas

By The Associated Press

High, sand-slinging winds that buffeted West Texas Tuesday afternoon subsided Wednesday as a weak cool front was playing itself out between Dallas and Wichita Falls.

It was cloudy over most of the state, except for generally clear conditions in the Panhandle and southwestern part of Texas.

Sweetwater, Roscoe, Loraine, Roby and Colorado City counted windstorm damage in high figures Wednesday after a 60-mile-an-hour south wind raged for two hours Tuesday night.

Many homes had roof damage, and a skating rink tent was blown down at Sweetwater. An outdoor theater fence was flattened, and two airport hangars were damaged there.

Presidio reported a scorching 102 degrees Tuesday for the high temperature. Beaumont had 71 for the low maximum. The mercury sank to a chilly 39 at Dalhart Tuesday night.

Thunderstorms spotted the South Plains and parts of the Panhandle but brought no rain. Big Spring, however, reported a trace, Childress .01 and Midland had .02 inch of rain.

More Winds Expected

Scattered thundershowers were expected in the northeast portion of East Texas Wednesday, but no precipitation was in sight for West Texas.

Winds were expected to pick up again late Wednesday, but weather officials said they would not be as strong as they were Tuesday.

The whipping gales filled the air with sand at Lubbock and took part of the roof off a store building. At Rankin, south of the Plains, a heavy hail and rainstorm struck about nightfall. Little damage was reported in the 15-minute storm.

Some outbuildings and superstructures at the Big Spring Airport were damaged and power was off almost an hour due to winds of 43 miles an hour and gusts up to 75 and 90.

Turnout Is Light In Bond Election

Light voting was reported Wednesday morning as balloting began on a proposed $1,500,000 improvement bond issue for the Midland Independent School District.

Election officials said only 29 votes had been cast up to 11 a.m. The voting, being held at the City-County Auditorium at West Missouri and South Colorado Streets, will continue until 7 p.m.

The bond issue has been proposed to finance construction of a new junior high school and a new elementary school in the Bauman Heights - Crestview area and addition to Carver Elementary School and South Elementary School.

Damage Heavy As Winds Pound City

Ripping winds struck Midland Tuesday afternoon, injuring one person seriously and inflicting considerable property damage in the city.

Wind velocity reached 50 miles an hour in gusts. It blew steadily at 32 miles an hour, according to the CAA station at Midland Air Terminal.

Ike Rivers, Jr., a six-year-old negro, suffered serious injuries when an out building he was in at 2000 South Mineola Street blew down. He was given emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital for a compound leg fracture and serious head injuries.

The child's mother picked him up and started walking to a hospital. A passing motorist took them to the hospital.

Police blocked off sectors of some downtown streets as a safety precaution when steel floor joists were blown from the V&J Tower under construction. Broken windows were reported at the nearby Permian Building.

Attlee Deputy Pledges Support To Arms Program

LONDON —(AP)— Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison pledged Wednesday that Britain would cut its standard of living before slashing its proposed rearmament program.

Morrison's statement, made in a speech here, came as the high command of the British Labor government crushed a leftwing rebellion over the rearmament program and the party pledged firm support to Prime Minister Attlee's policies.

The statement by Morrison was looked upon as Attlee's answer to the rebels, who had complained that the United States was dragging Britain into a ruinous expenditure for arms.

Firemen Douse Tank Fire At Tex-Harvey

Midland and Odessa fire department units combined their efforts early Wednesday to bring under control a fire raging in two Tex-Harvey oil field oil tanks.

Firemen reported the only damage was the loss of some oil. The fire was kept from spreading to a nearby oil well.

No injuries were reported.

YOKOHAMA, JAPAN —(AP)— The death toll in Tuesday's tragic train fire has mounted to 104.

Three American soldiers were among the victims when a power line ignited a wooden coach. First reports had listed seven GI's as victims but the figure was revised.

Baseball Club Put On Block

Harold Webb and H. W. Donohoo, owners of the Midland Indians Baseball Club, Wednesday offered the ball club for sale to interested businessmen and sports fans of Midland.

They said the offer is made in an effort to interest more Midlanders in the actual operation of the club and to assure Midland of continued professional baseball.

The sale proposal came after only five days of play in the 1951 season. The Indians have won three games and lost two, and are riding in second place in the Longhorn League standings.

Attendance in the five home games has been well under last year, Webb said. The Longhorn League this year was raised from D to C classification.

Webb Offers Services

If the club is sold to business interests, it is expected it will be incorporated and operated similarly to the San Angelo, Sweetwater and Odessa clubs.

Webb said he definitely is interested in staying in Midland and that if a sale is consummated, he will offer his services as club manager. He said he also is interested in purchasing stock in the proposed corporation. He is one of the best-known and most popular managers in the league.

The Indian Baseball Club was founded by Webb in October of 1946, with the club taking to the field in 1947, the initial Longhorn League season. The Indians that year finished in third place. The Indians won the league pennant in 1948, and finished second in the playoffs in 1949. The team finished in the lower bracket last season. The attendance high was established in 1949, when 68,000 customers clicked the turnstile at Indian Park.

Best Club Ever

Webb is credited with bringing professional baseball back to Midland. He has operated the club without financial loss and never has called upon Midland business interests for financial assistance. He sold a half interest in the ball club to Donohoo last Summer. Donohoo is a Midland restaurant operator.

The present owners believe they have the best club ever this year, with the possible exception of pitching. The pitching staff will be strengthened as the Texas League clubs begin to cut down their rosters, they said.

"We definitely want baseball to continue in Midland and we offer our services in anyway possible," Webb and Donohoo stated.

Webb is active in civic and service club affairs here and has worked closely with high school sports and with junior baseball loops.

Tall, Gray Stranger Sees All, Knows All

Two traffic violators had little to say Tuesday when brought into corporation court.

They were drivers of automobiles which collided at West Missouri and South C Streets.

Neither was hurt and both were given traffic violation tickets, one for speeding and the other for running a red light, after a tall, gray-haired stranger told police officers he had seen the whole thing.

They brought their tickets into court Tuesday, took one look at Judge J. M. DeArmond and immediately pleaded guilty.

Judge DeArmond was the tall, gray-haired stranger who saw it all.

Odessa's Gambling Flagrant, Says Crime Panel Chairman

AUSTIN —(AP)— Rep. Fred Meridith said Wednesday Texas cities could decide for themselves whether the House Crime Committee charge of lax law enforcement applies to them.

His statement was in reply to a reporter's question asking what cities the committee specifically referred to in its first official report to the House last Saturday. Meridith, as committee chairman, drafted most of the report.

The report said "open and notorious violations of the criminal statutes of Texas" have resulted from laxity and failure of enforcement by local officials.

Did he consider Odessa one of the cities covered by the committee's charges?

"Our public hearings showed flagrant violations have occurred in Odessa. Whether they have been curtailed, we don't know. We can't go into every city and make a complete case for them. That's up to the local people," Meridith said.

The commitee's report said it had established these facts concerning operations in Odessa: That Mickey Cohen has attempted to establish a "lay-off" betting arrangement with Paul Harvey of Odessa; that Bennie Binion, gambler now a fugitive from Texas indictment, has a partnership with Harvey in the operation of a profit-sharing open gambling house; that horserace-bookie wire service had been established in cities, including Odessa, before the attorney general obtained an injunction preventing Western Union's furnishing the information.

Meridith said he could not give a "yes or no" answer as to which cities his committee would visit after the session.

Allies Draw Back Before Red Assault

TOKYO—(AP)—Communist troop masses crushed forward along the entire western half of a 100-mile battle front Wednesday in their third invasion of South Korea.

But to the east, counter-attacking Allied tank columns stopped the Reds in their tracks and hurled them back at some points.

On the west central front, United Nations forces pulled back abruptly and broke contact with the Reds. The withdrawal was so rapid some rear elements were trapped.

One was ambushed by Communists wearing white civilian garb or the blue denim uniforms of South Korean supply bearers.

UN troops rolled southward toward Seoul in a long column, stretching for miles.

"From the air it looked like an epic and orderly traffic jam," AP Correspondent William C. Barnard reported. There was a solid line of military traffic—vehicles of all kinds.

The tanks came last. Their guns were silent although Reds already had infiltrated further south. Communists on the hills commanding the highway let the tanks roll by.

In the extreme west, Allies fell back in orderly fashion before swarms of Chinese, exploiting their Imjin River crossing. They were less than 25 miles north of Seoul, South Korean capital out of which refugees poured in dust clouded columns.

Van Fleet Confident

A tank-led relief column fought its way to a trapped UN battalion south of Imjin.

Some UN forces counterattacked as Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, told his troops, "In three days of battle (you) have proven your superiority" over the 400,000 attacking Reds.

He expressed confidence the battle would be won by the Allies' "enormous superiority in fire power and all types of weapons, in fact a tremendous superiority in everything except numbers."

The bulk of the Chinese in the west were pouring down the Yonchon-Uijongbu invasion route. This highway also leads to Seoul. Allied fighter planes and bombers attacked them all day long.

The most abrupt UN pullback was to the east of this road, in the west-central sector. There the Allies broke contact with the Chinese just south of the 38th parallel. Then they withdrew to new lines north of the threatened Seoul-Chunchon

Trainer, Airliner Collide

KEY WEST, FLA.—(AP)—A commercial airliner and a Navy training plane collided and crashed into the ocean a mile off Key West's South Beach Wednesday. Soon afterward, a woman's body was found at the scene.

The Cubana plane left Miami at 11:03 a.m. and was due in Havana at 12:16 p.m. Cubana is a subsidiary of Pan-American.

Several residents of Key West saw the big, four-engine craft plunge into the water a mile off the South Beach. A Navy plane took off immediately, flew over the crash scene, and reported it saw no sign of wreckage or survivors.

34 Passengers Aboard

Later, bits of wreckage began to float to the surface and the Navy reported a female body had been recovered. The Navy had six boats and a dirigible at the scene.

Navy, Coast Guard and CAA sources said they were unable to identify the craft.

Pan-American World Airways reported a four-engine DC-4 plane

J. Woodie Holden To Become Minister Of Fort Worth Church

J. Woodie Holden, evangelist of the Church of Christ, North A and Tennessee Streets here, said Wednesday he has accepted an invitation to become evangelist of the Arlington Heights Church of Christ in Fort Worth. He will assume his new duties there July 1.

Mr. Holden came to Midland in September, 1945, from Abilene where he had preached and worked among the 60,000 soldiers stationed at Camp Barkeley for five years prior to and during World War II.

J. Woodie Holden

During his ministry here the Church of Christ has kept pace with the growth of the city. An annex building, across the street from the church, was erected in 1946, and in the Spring of 1949, a new six room, brick-veneer residence for the evangelist was built at 504 North San Angelo Street. Also in that year the new and attractive church building was erected. It was occupied early in 1950. The church membership has doubled and substantial gains have been recorded in other church activities.

Mr. Holden said the Arlington Heights church is well-located among the 40,000 residents of Arlington Heights in West Fort Worth. The congregation is fifth in size among the 29 Churches of Christ in Fort Worth.

Before assuming his new post, Mr. Holden will serve as visiting evangelist in gospel meetings at Mason, May 25-June 3, and Atlanta, Ga., June 10-20.

House Panel Okays Six Billion Dollars For Defense Effort

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The House Appropriations Committee Wednesday approved a $6,468,206,00 emergency defense budget and readied itself to consider another military request which may exceed $70,000,000,000.

The amount recommended Wednesday for House consideration starting Thursday is for emergency purposes growing out of the stepped-up tempo of war in Korea. Most of it will be spent during May and June.

In the immediate offing is the regular military budget for the year starting July 1. Military spokesmen themselves have predicted it may reach almost $80,000,000,000 but the Appropriations Committee looks for it to be closer to $70,000,000,000. Even the lower figure would be $10,000,000,000 more than the President had estimated in his January budget.

Included in the emergency measure which the committee sent to the House floor Wednesday are funds for a new Atomic Energy Commission "Project X;" for a quick build-up in the manpower of the Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps and the Air Force; and for a speed-up in procurement of the "hardware" for war—tanks, guns, guided missiles, and airplanes.

Legislature Sets Texas' Thanksgiving

AUSTIN —(AP)— A bill to erase confusion about when to celebrate Thanksgiving in Texas got unanimous approval in the Senate Wednesday and went to the governor for signature.

The bill makes the last Thursday in November the official Texas holiday. That means Texas at intervals will be celebrating Thanksgiving a week later than most of the other states.

Rita's Attorney Hints At Rift In Romance With Aly

NEW YORK —(AP)— Is it possible there may be no happy ending to the fairy-tale romance of Brooklyn-born Rita Hayworth and her Moslem prince charming, Aly Khan?

Rita's attorney, Bartley Crum, provided the post-script Tuesday to the romance that blossomed on France's Riviera.

Asked about long-standing and oft-denied reports that Rita will seek a divorce from Aly, Crum declared:

"No decision has been reached yet."

That statement was the first time any one able to speak for the glamorous actress even admitted a split-up was under consideration.

Rita herself said there was "no truth" in divorce reports when she returned here from Europe on April 2.

But later, new talk of a rift between the Prince and the princess was set off when Rita notified her Hollywood studio that she was available for movie roles.

Lionism Could End War Threat, Dodge Tells Terminal Club

Belief that the threat of war would disappear if Lions clubs were permitted to organize behind the Iron Curtain was voiced Tuesday night by S. A. Dodge of Detroit, Mich., third vice president of Lions International.

Dodge was the speaker at a "family night" meeting of the Lions Club at Terminal.

Preceding the address, a barbecue dinner was served to more than 75 members and guests in the Police Department clubrooms at the Air Terminal.

The list of Lions dignitaries present, besides Dodge and Mrs. Dodge, included Lions District Gov. Roy E. Carter and Mrs. Carter of Kermit, L. R. (Russ) Harding and Mrs. Harding of El Paso, International Counsellor James L. Daugherty and Mrs. Daugherty of Midland and Frank Cochran of Odessa, district governor-elect.

Those present had attended the three-day district convention in Midland which ended Tuesday afternoon.

Dodge recommended the Lions organization as "one of the finest outlets for humanity's desire—to serve others.

"The trouble is," he said, "the world is putting emphasis on reward."

J. R. Shadden is president of the Terminal club.

Stadium was originally a Greek measure of length, approximately 600 feet.

Box-Car Bottleneck

In this day and age, decisions often must be made, not between a right and a wrong course, but between two rights. That's especially true in a time of war or other crisis.

For instance, in World War II U. S. production officials were besieged with demands for steel needed for new plant facilities in the infant synthetic rubber industry. Since we were cut off from overseas supplies of natural rubber, directors of this program were able to make out a strong case.

But war output men couldn't give the rubber people all the steel they wanted, despite the program's critical standing. The reason: to have done so would have compelled taking steel from the escort destroyer building program—even more vital because these craft were needed to protect our sea lanes to Europe.

Tough choices like that are cropping up again in the present defense effort. One of them concerns railroad freight cars. In the last few months the nation has developed a serious car shortage which threatens to become worse. Right now we're averaging about 35,000 cars short every day.

That means 35,000 carloads of materials are ready for shipment each day but are not shipped because there is nothing in which to carry them.

U. S. industrial production is up 23 per cent over 1950, but the number of cars on hand is only two per cent greater than a year ago. Hence the pinch.

The railroads show their awareness of the problem. They've got 155,000 cars on order, as compared with just 26,000 this time last year. But their difficulties are complicated by the fact that thousands of old cars constantly must be taken off the rails as new ones are delivered. In February, for example, 5,500 new cars went into service but 4,000 had to be scrapped.

The National Production Authority is far from blind to this dilemma. It is allotting increased amounts of steel to the car building program. March output was up to 6,500 cars from 5,500 in February, and NPA officials predict a 9,000-car total this month. The goal is 10,050 a month by June.

But it won't be easy sledding. They foresee a production bottleneck in car wheels, which could only be broken by adding new facilities in that field.

And even if that is somehow achieved, the nation faces continued industrial expansion and consequently heavier demand for rail transport. Higher defense output will of course be offset by curtailed production in some lines, but the experts don't look for a sharp drop in overall civilian production.

Unless a really bold approach is taken, the car shortage may prove to be chronic, as it has been in Russia for three decades. It shouldn't have to be argued that a country's transportation system is crucial to its economy. If it isn't adequate, raw materials and finished products can't flow freely from mine to factory to market.

The pinch hasn't hurt badly yet, except in some farm areas where stored crops are piling up at considerable cost to farmers and middlemen. But the car shortage is a growing weak spot despite present efforts to cure it. We'd better put our rail transport into tip-top shape while we have the chance. Should war suddenly descend upon us, the system would be subjected to almost intolerable burdens. We can't risk a breakdown.

Young Man With A Future

Comedian Milton Berle has signed a contract with NBC for the next 30 years. Since he's 42, he'll be 72 when the arrangement expires.

Nothing like it ever has occurred in the entertainment world, and you'd probably have to scour a long while to turn up a parallel anywhere in business.

One can't help wondering just what the boys had in mind. If NBC was trying to insure that Berle wouldn't be spirited off by a rival network, they would seem to have overdone it a bit.

But maybe there are plans for Milton to undertake a progression of roles suitable to his gradual aging through the three decades of this pact. With ancient Ed Wynn as a model, he certainly won't give up comedy altogether. But as he reaches the last years of the contract span, he may find himself cast occasionally as a kindly grandfather, or standing in for Uncle Sam in bond drives.

Anyway, it looks like he can tear up his social security card.

Careful nursing will cure a lot of things, but seldom a grouch or a grievance.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Truman-MacArthur conversations at Wake Island reported in January M-G-R; President indicated he and Mac in accord on Formosa question; General then confident Chinese would not intervene.

WASHINGTON — A highlight of the current Truman-MacArthur controversy is the New York Times story summarizing the conversations between the two men at Wake Island.

Because the New York Times story had the earmarks of being leaked out by the White House, some MacArthur proponents have challenged it, while MacArthur states that no records were made of the conversations on Wake Island.

In view of this controversy, the Washington Merry-Go-Round's account of the Wake Island conference, published on Jan. 23, some months prior to the Times' April 21 account, may be significant. For the President hardly can be accused of any partiality toward this writer except in his choice of cuss words.

Writing at that time — three months before the Truman-MacArthur controversy—I reported that:

1. MacArthur was so sure of victory he promised General Bradley that he would transfer one full division to Europe.

2. MacArthur assured the President the Chinese would not intervene.

3. MacArthur expected to get his troops back to the United States by Christmas.

4. Because of the certainty of victory, much of the conference was devoted to plans for reconstruction of Korea.

5. Highlight of the Wake Island meeting was the brilliant conversation of one man. MacArthur completely dominated the conversation.

What They Said

Because the Wake Island conference now appears to be playing such an important part in the Truman-MacArthur controversy, the salient portions of my January 23 Wake Island column follow:

The President of the United States flew halfway around the world to confer with General MacArthur, yet aside from a few conversational pleasantries reported by accompanying newsmen, nothing has been published regarding what happened on this mid-Pacific island.

The direct talks between MacArthur and President Truman took place with no one else present; no stenographic notes were taken. It is next to impossible, therefore, to report accurately what happened. Furthermore, the stenographic notes made of the more extended conversations between Truman, MacArthur, General Bradley, and the other military men are still so secret that each copy is numbered.

However, I believe it is important that the American people know what took place at Wake Island; so herewith I shall report some of the conversations recorded in these notes.

Only one clue was given in the more extended conversation as to what Truman and MacArthur talked about in their private meeting. This was when someone asked the President about Formosa, and he cut further discussion short with the curt reply:

"General MacArthur and I have discussed Formosa already and we are in complete agreement on the subject."

The trend of discussion in the rest of the conference was that a military victory already was in the bag. Almost more time was given to a discussion of Korean rehabilitation, therefore, than to military strategy. When it came to the latter, General MacArthur dominated the conversation.

"The North Koreans," he explained, "have about 15,000 guerrillas left in the South, but the Winter will take care of most of them. The others are a beaten force. They are only fighting to save face. It goes against the grain to have to destory them."

Home By Christmas

MacArthur assured Truman he could "finish the job in North Korea" in a short time. According to the stenographic notes he said:

"I hope to be able to have the 8th Army back in Japan by Christmas. I may be able to send a convoy into Pyongyang immediately."

At this point, President Truman asked: "What about Chinese intervention?"

MacArthur's reply was: "They could have intervened earlier when it would have been decisive, but that time has passed. We are no longer fearful of their intervention. Although there are several hundred thousand along the Yalu River, it is not likely that they could cause us much trouble."

He also implied that he could "take care" of the Chinese, even if they decided to cross the Yalu River.

At the same time MacArthur described his plans for completing the conquest of Korea, he also argued against keeping American troops in Korea.

Obviously this raised the question of why march across the frozen North Korean wastes to the Yalu River if the plan was to march right back again in time to return the 8th Army to Japan by Christmas. However, no one at the Wake Island conference seemed to challenge MacArthur regarding this risky move.

MacArthur's advice on the future of Korea was: "We should turn Korea over to the Koreans as quickly as we can and get out as quickly as we can.

"Korea is a poor country," he said, "and we cannot afford to impose an occupation on them . . . Military occupations are always failures. I want to withdraw all our troops as soon as possible."

Troops To Europe

At one point, Gen. Omar Bradley asked whether MacArthur could make any troops available for Europe in the next few months.

MacArthur replied: "Yes, I think a division can be made available early in 1951."

Bradley also remarked that he hoped that MacArthur wouldn't have the same trouble he had with American pilots in Europe shooting up railroad bridges that were needed later for rehabilitation.

"I have had the same trouble," MacArthur replied. The stenographic notes showed laughter at this point.

Only other laughter came when John Muccio, U. S. ambassador to Korea, proposed using sound trucks for propaganda purposes to sell democracy to the Korean people. This prompted the President to observe:

"I believe in sound trucks. I won two elections with them."

Highlight of the Wake Island meeting was the brilliant exposition of one man. MacArthur completely dominated the conversation, and virtually no effort was made to challenge his opinions.

Perhaps also this was the most tragic part of the conference.

Four-wheel brakes now stop a car in half the distance required at the time they first came into general use.

So They Say

Just how many crimes are to be committed in the sacred name of national defense? (The head of Defense Transport Administration) shocked the nation when he ordered . . . approval . . . of over-loading of commercial trucks in the name of national defense.

—Sen. Ed C. Johnson (D-Colo).

They (Air Force and Navy volunteers) aren't really volunteers — they're refugees. Of course, I don't blame the Navy and Air Force for wanting them. It's the system that needs correcting (to assure fair distribution of desirable recruits into Army).

—Rep. Leroy Johnson (R-Calif).

If the President can assign troops to an international command, he would . . . have . . . authority to assign military equipment. Does he have authority to give atomic bombs . . . to an international authority?

—Sen. Burke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).

We regret the political implications which creep into religion these days, but we find that young people nowadays listen to a sportsman.

—Gil Dodds, preacher and track star.

It (Communist propaganda) fills the world with envy and hate. Great clouds of envy and hate, like breath on a frosty day, emerge with every word these men speak.

—Bertrand Russell.

No Second Chance For Dick Contino

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— The U. S. attorney's office says there's no chance for accordionist Dick Contino, 21, to avert trial on a draft-evasion charge by appealing for a new Army physical examination.

"There's no provision in the law for it," Assistant U. S. Attorney Ray Kinnison said. "The Army accepted Contino. He ducked. That's all there is to it."

Contino's attorney had asked for the new examination.

• JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

One of the most instructive hands of the recent Eastern States tournament showed how experts stay out of trouble. At the first table George Rapee, holding North cards, made an immediate jump takeout to two diamonds, thus showing a hand that was at least as strong as an opening no-trumper.

The South hand was held by Sam Stayman, author of "Expert Bidding," one of the finest bridge books that has appeared in many years. Stayman counted up his hand and noted that it was a near-minimum. No slam was likely unless his partner could push past the game level. Hence Stayman put the brakes on at once with a rebid of two no-trump.

Rapee next showed his club support, whereupon Stayman could afford to show a fit for diamonds. Now Rapee bid three no-trump to show the exact nature of his hand: balanced distribution, strength in at least three suits, biddable values in the two minors, and a total value of only what he had announced at his first bid. With even one queen more, Rapee would have bid four no-trump to indicate his extra strength.

Stayman was content to pass, and the hand was played comfortably at game. As it happened the opening lead gave him three heart tricks, the jack of spades dropped, and a successful diamond guess brought in four diamond tricks. But even though Stayman actually won thirteen tricks, he was satisfied with the game contract. If the East-West cards are shuffled up and redealt several times, the North-South cards will produces a slam less than half the time.

In the second room, the North-South cards were held by a very experienced pair. Nevertheless, they got themselves tangled up and managed to land in a final contract of six clubs. That contract was, of course, easily defeated.

Try the North-South cards with your bridge-playing friends. Give the North cards to one, and the South cards to another, and see whether they manage to suggest a slam without actually reaching one.

Q—With neither side vulnerable your partner deals and bids one heart. The next player bids two diamonds. You hold: Spades 7-3-2, Hearts 9-2, Diamonds K-J-9-8-7-6, Clubs 8-4. What do you do?

A—Pass. It is practically inconceivable that a double by you would be followed by three passes. Hence there is no advantage in doubling. It is sounder to show the real weakness of your hand by passing and to reserve the double for hands in which you can stand some further bidding.

India May Go Down Red Drain If We Play Politics With Misery

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The position of India today is sometimes likened to that of China in 1945. It can be saved from communism if the right things are done. It can be lost to communism if the wrong things are done.

It is in this latter category that the United States now has a chance to commit a major blunder in its handling of famine relief. What started out to be a simple act of charity now has become involved in the larger debate on the whole question of Truman Administration policy towards communism.

Although Gen. Douglas MacArthur's firing as U. S. commander in the Far East had nothing directly to do with India, the famine relief problem has become a part of the debate which the MacArthur firing started. U. S. politics therefore has a hand in it from here on.

The common belief is that the India famine relief bill, introduced by Rep. Thomas Morgan of Pennsylvania, has been blocked by the House Rules Committee. Actually, at this writing, the House Rules Committee never has had a meeting on the bill.

The story behind that is that after the House Foreign Affairs Committee had approved the bill, the Democrats on the Rules Committee conducted an informal poll of their members. It was found that not enough Democratic votes could be mustered to clear the bill for House action. So Chairman Adolph Sabath simply refrained from calling a Rules Committee meeting to discuss the measure.

Why Congressmen Attack It

Objections which congressmen raise against the Indian famine relief bill are many and varied. Some of the objections have little or nothing to do with India directly. It is the entire Truman foreign policy that Republicans and some Democrats are attacking.

One argument against Indian famine relief which has not come out in the open, but which congressmen talk about privately, is that this is only a starter for a much larger global relief program. If the Indian relief bill is approved, it is feared that another big relief bill for Arab refugees in Palestine will be presented.

Congressmen ask: "Where is this going to stop?" The Marshall Plan and military assistance requests for next year have not yet been sent to Congress. If these separate-country relief measures are piled on them, the total will be huge and the chances for economizing small.

In addition to which, many congressmen are balking at the terms of the Truman Administration's Indian relief bill. What India asked for, last December, was 2,000,000 tons of grain "on special and easy terms." If the deal had been arranged on that basis, it wouldn't have had to go through Congress and might all be settled now.

Instead of that, the Administration sent up a bill asking for $190,000,000 as a grant. This would give India 750,000,000 bushels of grain over the next two years for free. To make this palatable to Congress, the old Marshall Plan restrictions were tacked on.

These would provide that the grain be sold by the Indian government in its normal trade channels. The rupees received from this sale would be put in a counterpart fund. And this would be used to build irrigation projects, or other developments to increase Indian food production. This is said to be haggling over distress—imposing conditions which would make the Indians resent the aid given.

Aside from these points, political opposition to the Indian famine relief bill seems to have no compunctions about hard bargaining over misery. Individual congressmen think the aid should be furnished only on a barter deal. This would involve trading food grains for burlap, manganese, or what have they. This in spite of the fact that India last year sent almost three-fourths of her exports in these materials to the U. S.

The charge that India's government hasn't cooperated with the United States in the United Nations and in Korea is not considered a major objection to the relief bill. But all these fine points are lost on the Indians. All they know is that they're not getting the grain and that this country has surpluses in storage.

Political debate and delay under these circumstances certainly can do the cause of the western world no good in Asia.

Q—What was the Burchard incident?

A—The Rev. Samuel Burchard, speaking from the same political platform as the Republican candidate for the presidency James G. Blaine, in 1884, described the Democrats as the party of "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion." KILLER'S PACE

BY JULIUS LONG

COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: To save Rose Bidault from the electric chair, Star Williams, her lawyer and my (Jim Marshall's) boss, did some sleight of hand, which he learned from Sonya Sareeta, the lady magician. Exposure of this alleged tampering with the evidence brings charges that may disbar Star. It becomes necessary to prove Rose innocent and establish that Star's trick was a last resort to save Rose. Then Rose is murdered. In investigating the crime, I am forced to shoot two men in self-defense. Both are members of a gang headed by Al Nanabarro, owner of a night club at which Sonya does her magic act. I visit the club and Sonya fires a shot at me—the shot was supposed to be a blank, but it wasn't and it missed. Then when I return to my apartment later on I find Sonya there.

XXIII

I TOOK a quick look through my apartment. Thanks to its smallness I could keep an eye on Sonya even when I peeked into the bath beyond my bedroom. When I came back into my living room she grinned.

"Why don't you look in the lining of my handbag. Maybe you'll find Nanabarro. I'm a magician, you know."

I put away the .380. It made me feel silly holding a gun on an unarmed woman even if she was a magician.

"You're going to tell me what Nanabarro's angle in the Bidault case is, or I'm going to slap that pretty face of yours clear around sidewise. Now, start talking."

She shook her head ever so slightly. Her eyes were intent upon me. There was no defiance, merely resignation. I hit her a backhand blow across her mouth.

"Oh!" she said. I went over to my portable bar and kept trying to remember the whine of the bullet over my head. I poured two stiff drinks, not bothering about a chaser.

Suddenly I realized that I no longer felt the weight of her little pearl-handled automatic in my pocket. Sonya held it pointed in my direction.

"I won't let you hit me any more."

"When did you lift that gun?"

"When you struck me. I told you I was a magician."

She smiled and laid the gun on the stand beside the chair.

"How about that drink? I need it."

My mouth hung open. I walked to her and gave her the drink. She sipped it and smiled.

"I feel terrible. I never hit a woman before," I said.

"I'm sure you should have."

It burned me up. "All right, I'm a heel. But you're a heel, too. A beautiful heel. You sold out the best guy in the world. For a rat. Nanabarro."

"I believe you're jealous over Star. You needn't be. Appearances are deceiving. We spent a night together, but only working out the trick. So you really have no cause to be jealous."

It really burned me to a crisp.

"You can have him, you double-crossing tramp! I don't need a pal that can let himself be thrown by a dame like you!"

Her eyes blazed. "I almost wish," she said evenly, "that I hadn't tried to miss you!" I laughed. Then my speaking tube whistled. I had company downstairs.

IT was Smiley Wetlauffer, and with him was Miss Clara Mayhew. I pressed the button to unlock the outside door and turned to Sonya.

"His old man runs the town's de luxe embalming parlor. The girl is Clara Mayhew. She's receptionist at the Prater company that makes burial vaults."

"Whew! I hope you can break out a bottle of bonded embalming fluid so they'll feel at home! What are you going to tell them about me?"

"Nothing, except that you're Madam Sonya Sareeta, the world's premiere lady magician, direct from La Jolla Club."

"Isn't this a rather odd hour for friends to be calling?"

I checked my watch. It was nearly three. I hoped the superintendent wouldn't hear Smiley and his companion come in. I could hear them before they made the second floor. I opened my door and motioned for quiet.

"Hiya, Jim, old pal! I told Clara you'd be up and ready to buy us a drink! Brother, do we need one?"

It was a rhetorical question, of course.

"You know, Clara," said Smiley, "we busted in on something!"

He was staring at Sonya. I got the introductions over and poured a round of drinks, breaking out a soda bottle for the newcomers.

"So you work at La Jolla Club!" said Smiley interestedly. "I know the boss. Al Nanabarro. He gave us some business a while back. An interesting case. His girl friend busted through a bridge and was drowned."

"That's very interesting," I told Smiley. "So you got the Frannie Martin case for burial?"

"S a fact. Only that wasn't her real name, the one on the death certificate. I forget the name—some funny name. Foreign. Ah, she was a lovely girl. Even laid out on the table she was lovely!"

"Stop it!" said Sonya. "How can you talk like that?"

Smiley eyed her with some astonishment. "Why shouldn't I talk like that? I tell you this girl was lovely. Looked just like she was sleeping. Beautiful blonde hair. Not a mark on her."

SONYA got up suddenly and made for my bedroom. She didn't stop until she reached the bath, and the door slammed behind her.

Smiley looked blank. "Did I say something wrong?"

Miss Mayhew giggled. "I used to be that way myself before I went out with so many undertakers. You get used to it, hearing them talk that way all the time." She got up to join Sonya.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By Wesley Davis

Daddy Ringtail And No Place To Hide

The Featherman (poor fellow) was in trouble, truble, trouble. He had come out of the chicken house with a chicken feather in his hand.

The Featherman can think of nothing but feathers, if he knows that a feather is anywhere near. But this time, he said, he had not been up to mischief. He had not grabbed away the feather from a chicken. He hadn't known the chickens were at home. The rain had started to fall, and so the Featherman had gone in the chicken house to stay dry, he said. When he woke up, there was a feather in his hand.

Well, allthis sounds very much ing the truth. But he was telling the truth, all right. While Featherman had been asleep, along had come Uncle Bunkum from the zoo. All the children love Uncle Bunkum. but now Uncle Bunkum had done some mischief.

Do you know the mischief he had done? He had grabbed away the feather from the chicken for fun. Then for more fun, Uncle Bunkum had put the feather in Featherman's hand while Featherman was sound asleep in the chicken house.

What a joke on the Featherman! Yes, but Uncle Bunkum, you ought to be ashamed of yourself. Why, the Featherman now is in serious trouble, all because of you. Everyone thinks he is the one who grabbed the feather away. "Shame, shame on you, Uncle Bunkum," said the voice of Uncle Bunkum's Conscience.

Said Uncle Bunkum: "Now you see here, Mr. Conscience. You are all the time trying to boss me around. Yessir, but this is one time when you're not going to do it. Nossir, you're not going to do it. I'll run away and hide."

Uncle Bunkum ran away as fast as he could. When he thought he had run away from his Conscience, he hid himself in a hollow log. "Shame, shame on you Uncle Bunkum," said his Conscience. And everywhere Uncle Bunkum ran to hide some more, again his Conscience would say: "Shame, shame on you, Uncle Bunkum." And it happened until Uncle Bunkum knew there is no place to hide from your Conscience, and so he went back to tell everyone just who had grabbed the feather away. Uncle Bunkum felt better to have told it, of course. People always feel better when they have done what their Conscience says to do. Oh yes! Happy day!

Crane School Man Addresses Final Convention Assembly

An address by L. L. Martin, superintendent of schools at Crane, and the presentation of special awards featured the concluding session of the District 2-T-2 Lions convention here Tuesday noon, adjourning the three-day conclave at 1:21 p.m.

The new district governor, Frankie Lee Cochran of Odessa who will take office in July, was introduced to the assembly. He made a brief acceptance talk, after a representative of the Colorado City club, which had sponsored the candidacy of Bill Randle, had moved that Cochran's election be made unanimous.

The names of L. W. McAdoo of Seagraves and George Spence of Ysleta were mentioned as district governor candidates in 1952.

"Building Better World"

Frank Monroe, superintendent of Midland schools, introduced the guest speaker at the Tuesday luncheon. Martin spoke on the subject of "Building." He said every man is a builder and that every person, particularly Lions, should be interested in building a better world.

Stressing the importance of thinking in world terms, and lauding the United Nations on its overall objectives and its efforts to improve the standards of education and living throughout the world, Martin said the hope of humanity lies in the United Nations.

"The affairs of man are entwined regardless of where they may be," the speaker stated, "and you and I must come to think differently if we are to build a better world for posterity.

"May we not become weary in well-doing."

The Ysleta Lions Club was declared the winner of the convention man-miles contest. El Paso's downtown club was second, and El Paso Five-Points, third.

The Terminal Lions Club annexed first place honors in the contest for the largest percentage of membership registered at the convention. Ysleta was second and Snyder, third.

Prizes were awarded to Pop Biggs of Pecos, most years in Lionism; George Bouee of Ysleta, oldest Lion attending the convention (75-years young), and Copper Daugherty of Midland, 24, youngest Lion.

The convention here was the largest in the history of the district from an attendance standpoint. Registrations totaled 406 persons.

One-Fourth Of U. S. Goods Placed Under Latest Price Freeze

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Almost one-fourth of the American economy Wednesday went under a single sweeping price order which the government said was designed to roll back "the general level of manufacturers' prices."

Price Director Michael V. DiSalle expects the factory ceiling, covering 75,000 plants, to wipe out part of the runaway price boom that followed the Korean invasion.

The country will find, DiSalle predicted, that his Office of Price Stabilization has "not been playing pat-a-cake with prices"—that in the months ahead people will realize "the whole program is tougher than they have been led to believe."

OPS will follow up with three more major ceilings within a week. These will cover machinery, cotton textiles, and wearing apparel, including shoes.

Some Increases

The new order will bring some price increases—mainly for those who heeded the government's appeal for "voluntary" restraint and then were caught in the January 26 price freeze. But these will be outweighed by the rollbacks, DiSalle said.

Stripped to essentials, each factory's new price ceiling will be: the pre-Korea price, plus wage increases and increased cost of materials. On most materials, increases only up to last December 31 can be counted.

Under these rules, manufacturers sharpened their pencils to reprice goods having an annual gross value estimated by OPS at $70,000,000,000. This is about 23 per cent of the nation's entire output of goods and services.

The new ceilings must be in force by May 28.

Delegation To Ask Farm-To-Market Road's Approval

County Judge Clifford C. Keith and Commissioner Alvey Bryant will accompany a Glasscock County delegation to Austin Thursday to urge approval of a farm-to-market road through Midland, Glasscock and Martin Counties.

The delegation will attend a public hearing before the Texas Highway Commission.

The project calls for extension of Highway 137 south from Stanton to connect with Highway 158 west of Garden City.

The road would cross a portion of Midland County and connect with the end of the Cloverdale Road in east Midland County.

Efforts Intensified To Get Approval Of Election Laws Change

Efforts to obtain passage of a legislative proposal to revise the Texas election laws were intensified here Wednesday.

John Ben Shepperd, secretary of state, notified Mrs. W. Y. Penn, League of Women Voters representatives on the State Election Laws Commission, that Speaker Reuben Senterfitt had indicated he would place the bill on the House calendar for consideration Friday. Mrs. Penn was in Austin Tuesday in support of the revisions.

Wednesday, telegrams to gain support over the state were being sent from Midland.

The House bill contains 92 corrections to the election laws, principally the authorization for state investigation of local election frauds.

Dope Racket Next As Crime Panel Gets New Lease On Life

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The narcotics traffic looked Wednesday like a prime target of Senate crime investigators, armed with $100,000 and four months to pry into underworld activities.

In eclipse recently as it worked quietly on legislative proposals, the Crime Committee headed back into the limelight Tuesday with this turn of events:

1. Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn), the commitee chairman, yielded to the demands of party leaders, not only that the crime probe be extended but also that he stick with it. At his own request, however, he will hand over the chairmanship to Senator O'Conor (D-Md).

2. Democratic members of the Crime Committee quickly compromised their differences with the Republican members, who had been calling for continuation of the investigation, and an extension resolution was whipped through the Senate without objection.

The resolution provided for continuing the Crime Committee until next September 1 and gave it $100,000 on top of the $265,000 it already has received.

After September 1, its records are to be turned over to the Senate's regular Commerce Committee. That group then will have authority to keep underworld operations under scrutiny and use any of the $100,000 not spent by the Crime Committee.

Gunman Terrorizes Convent, Surrenders

JEMEZ SPRINGS, N. M. —(AP)— State police reported a gunman who terrorized a convent gave himself up exhausted and hungry early Wednesday.

Reports said the man identified himself as Homer Lee Gossett, 34, of Kansas City, Mo., in surrendering to a doctor at Cuba, N. M.

The state police office in Albuquerque gave this account:

The man, accused of shooting a visitor at the convent Monday and also of wounding a tourist the night before in Albuquerque, told the physician he wanted to give up. The doctor then notified peace officers.

A deputy sheriff took the man to Bernalillo, and state police planned to transfer him shortly to Albuquerque, 17 miles south.

In Albuquerque, George E. Barker, 75, the retired Rochester, N. Y., businessman who was wounded, was reported in "fair" condition.

He was shot in the left thigh when he risked his life to protect his wife and three nuns at Villa Mater Cristi Convent Monday night.

Barker said the gunman "looked like a mad dog. He pointed the gun at me, and when I got about six feet from him, he took careful aim at my hip and fired.

When Barker fell wounded, Mrs. Barker and Sister Constance, one of three nuns living at the convent, tried to grab the gunman, but he fled into the night.

"Smart Buy's Roadmaster"
FIREBALL POWERED

It started the day the 1951 ROADMASTER made its first appearance — and has been building up ever since.

Folks looked at the fresh new styling, considered the power — the features — the fabrics — the cloud-soft cushions — and the prices — and said, "Here's the smart buy in the fine-car field."

Why don't you come and see for yourself what a sensational buy this proud beauty really is?

It's a honey to handle — a joy to ride in — and just about the handsomest thing on wheels.

It has room, and poise, and a level-going gait that comes from coil springs front and rear.

There's a triumphant thrill in the willing obedience of its Fireball power and the luxurious ease of its Dynaflow Drive, which doesn't cost you a penny extra.

There's a sweeping view fore and aft through broad and uncluttered glass areas, and the new clarity of an instrument panel with high visibility at night.

Even the brakes are new, self-cooling, with a grip that takes hold like steel fingers in a velvet glove.

Here indeed is a car that is fine in bearing, in action, and in the precision of every structural part — a ROADMASTER custom built by Buick. When will you try one as our guest?

Moundsmen Again Have Big Evening; Five Go Distance

By The Associated Press

Who says there isn't anything left to baseball except a game of seeing who can knock the most boards off the fence?

Tuesday night, five Texas League hurlers went the route. One of them almost reached the hall of no-hit, no-run fame. He was Ray Narleski of Dallas, who but for a solid single in the second inning by Tulsa's John Temple, would have made it.

Dallas licked Tulsa 2-0 although able to get only six hits off Dave Jolly.

Another pitching gem was turned in by Wilmer Mizell, the celebrated "Vinegar Bend" who was hailed as a left-handed Dizzy Dean in Spring training. He showed he had the stuff predicted for him Tuesday night by hurling Houston to a 6-1 victory over Shreveport and allowing only five hits. He retired the last 17 batters in order.

John Mackinson went the route for Beaumont, giving up seven hits as Beaumont slaughtered the league-leading San Antonio Missions 15-2.

At Fort Worth, Bill McCahn fashioned a six-hitter in sending the Cats to a 4-1 decision over Oklahoma City.

King's Row

by LARRY KING

The most surprised man in Indian Park Tuesday night was one Eugene Perez, who came scampering into home base in the sixth inning with what looked like a sure run, only to find Catcher Harold Webb waiting to tag him out.

It was easy to see why Perez was slightly aghast at being tagged out on the play. Seconds before, Artesia Manager Stubby Greer had lined a sharp rap to center field for a hit, and Perez actually was past third and on the way home when the ball hit in the outfield. But Center Fielder Jim Ackers picked up the ball, rifled it home in a spectacular throw and Roundman Webb applied the ball and a big grin to the surprised Driller baserunner.

—KR—

Only Monday night, Acker's fine arm had started two double plays from deep center. Maybe its giving away Webb's powerful weapon out there, but we'd hasten to advise opposing runners to stick close to the base when Ackers has the ball.

—KR—

Webb caught a fine ball game out there Tuesday night. The old man of the Indians played errorless ball, received credit for 10 put outs, an assist, got a hit and an RBI.

Besides that he put on a bit of Jackie Robinsonish flash when he was on base and actually had the Artesia pitcher thinking Webb was about to steal.

—KR—

When Vernon played here Monday night, Lefty Ernie Nelson was in a Duster uniform.

Ernie, who has insisted he is through playing, still said so even as he wore the Vernon togs.

"I'm just pitching batting practice and playing around," he said.

Maybe. But we'll still lay a dollar to a doughnut the name of E. Nelson is in a Longhorn League box score before the season is over.

IT'S JACOME AGAIN—

Tribe Edges Drillers 7-6

The Indians and the Drillers will tangle at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in Indian Park in Midland's last home game of the current home stand. Manager Harold Webb has announced he'll pitch Eddie Jacome, who has posted a 3-0 record thus far in the young season. Artesia is expected to pitch R. Rodriques.

Amazing Eddie Jacome—Midland's one-man gang—won his third ball game of the 1951 season here Tuesday night, stifling the Artesia Drillers with a neat bit of relief work and driving in the winning run to give the Indians a 7-6 win over the New Mexico nine.

Jacome—who last Friday took Roswell 6-3 and Sunday defeated Vernon 8-6 in a relief appearance—choked off an Artesia rally that had produced four runs in the eighth and brought the Drillers even with the Indians at 6-6.

Patton Starts

Glenn Patton worked seven and one-third innings for the winners, giving up 11 hits, five bases on balls and striking out 11. The Drillers went ahead in the initial inning on three walks and two hits, taking a 2-0 lead. Midland evened the count at 2-2 when Eddie Melillo walked, Jim Ackers singled and First Baseman Jim Prince drove both in with a whacking double.

Two more Indian runs crossed the plate in the third as Prince was hit by Marshall, Artesia hurler, Cowsar walked, Webb singled and George Firnbach singled.

Firnbach tripled in the seventh to drive home Cowsar, who had drawn another base on balls, and Midland was in front 6-2. A sixth inning tally had been produced on a walk to Patton and hits by Melillo and Hayden White, third baseman.

Then came Artesia's big eighth with four Driller runs crossing the plate on three hits, a base on balls and an Indian error.

Jacome, who now has pitched 16 2/3 innings—giving up only eight hits, three runs and no bases on balls—then came in to force Catcher Perez to pop up and Pitcher DeLaTorre to fan.

In the ninth, Jacome fanned two batsmen and saw the third roll out, Potak to Prince. Then came the Midland ninth with Bob Cowsar getting a single, Gordon Tanner a single and Cowsar being tagged out trying to come home.

Firnbach and Potak walked. Then Jacome drove the ball to deep center field with Tanner scrambling home for the win.

Colts Go To Top As Swatters Blow Shortie To Broncs

By The Associated Press

The San Angelo Colts took undisputed possession of first place in the Longhorn League Tuesday night with a victory over Vernon while Sweetwater was losing a one-run decision to Big Spring in a game cut to seven innings by wind and dust.

The two clubs were tied going into the games. San Angelo held the pace with a 9-8 win over the Vernon Dusters, but Sweetwater saw a seventh-inning rally by the Broncs result in a 7-6 loss that dropped them a full game off the pace.

In other games Midland nipped Artesia 7-6 and Odessa outlasted Roswell 13-11 in a runfest.

San Angelo finished with a rush to beat Vernon. The Colts scored three runs in the last of the ninth to grab the decision. Bob Crues tripled, Wayne Wallace singled and Manager Dutch Funderburk homered to break up the game.

Odessa outlasted Roswell in a wild ball game that lasted three hours and five minutes and left both players and fans limp at the end. There were 29 hits in the game, fifteen by Roswell.

Oilers, Blue Sox Win; Sandstorms Cancel Out Pair

By The Associated Press

The wind is even conspiring against Lubbock in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

The Hubbers lost a tie for first place Tuesday night because of it. They couldn't play Albuquerque, and Pampa sneaked into the driver's seat. The Oilers were able to play, beating Amarillo 9-3.

Wind also robbed Lamesa and Clovis of being able to get in a game.

Abilene beat Borger 13-11 in the other game run off for the night.

Amarillo dropped its fourth straight in league play without a victory when it bowed to the Oilers.

Aggies Still Seek Two Grid Mentors

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—Texas A&M is seeking two men to complete its coaching staff for next Fall.

Head Coach Ray George wants an end coach and a line coach. He already has Gil Steinke to handle the backs and Dalton Faircloth to tutor the "B" team.

Werle Keeps Bucs In National Race; Yanks, Tribe Win

By The Associated Press

Every time Willie Werle saunters to the mound for Pittsburgh he increases Branch Rickey's reputation as a master judge of players.

Rickey, then with Brooklyn, offered $200,000 for the lefthander in 1949 and was turned down. Now he is glad the Pirates refused the offer.

Werle went to the rescue of Starter Vernon Law Tuesday and helped the Pirates beat Chicago 6-4 in a National League game. In other games in the National League, Boston beat Brooklyn 7-4, St. Louis edged Cincinnati 3-1, and Philadelphia trimmed New York 6-4.

In the American League, Bob Feller kept the Cleveland Indians in first place with a 5-2 victory over Chicago. Washington stayed a half-game behind with a 7-5 win over Boston. New York shut out Philadelphia 3-0 and Detroit at St. Louis was rained out.

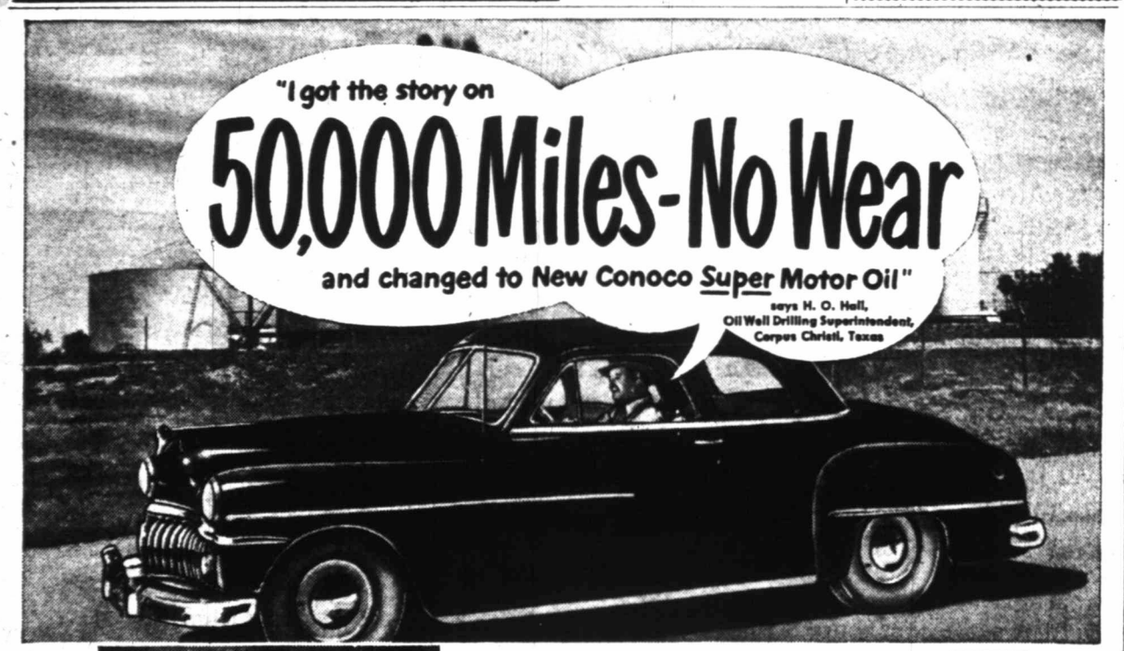

Owls, Frogs Win Conference Games

By The Associated Press

One-run margins were big enough for Rice and Texas Christian to chalk up victories in Southwest Conference baseball play.

Nobby Graves shut out Southern Methodist with six hits Tuesday to give the Frogs a 1-0 win. Rice scored four times in the ninth to down Baylor 4-3.

"I'VE AVERAGED 5,000 MILES A MONTH since changing to new Conoco Super," reports G. M. Deen, Traveling Salesman, Perry, Oklahoma. "Since switching to Conoco Super I get better gasoline mileage and trouble-free operation. I believe the '50,000 Miles—No Wear' story now!"

"50,000 MILES-NO WEAR!"—PROVED HERE:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence . . . in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts.

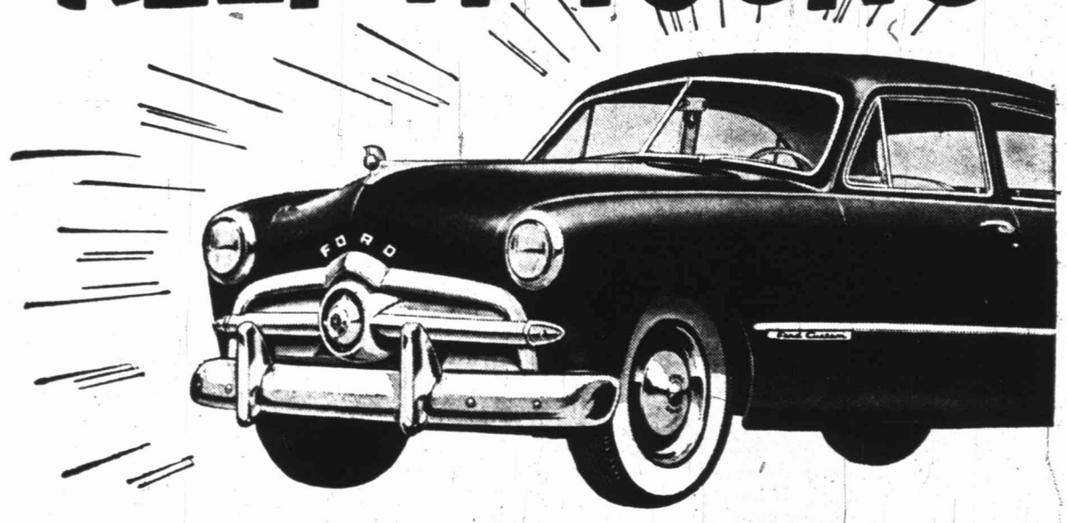

AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with OIL-PLATING, can make your car last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil.

Tulsa Firm Is To Drill Test In King

Lawson Drilling Company of Tulsa is scheduled to drill its No. 1 Starr Pope as a wildcat in Northwest King County.

Drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of southwest quarter of southwest quarter of section 199, I&GN survey and nine miles northwest of Guthrie.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to projected depth of 6,400 feet. Operations will begin immediately.

New Prospector Is Set For SE Scurry

D. D. Feldman Oil & Gas Company of Dallas has staked location for a 7,700-foot wildcat in Northeast Scurry County three and one-half miles east of the south side of the Cogdell-Canyon field.

It is No. 1 P. L. Fuller (Pardo & Feldman) and is located 660 feet from south and west lines of section 619, block 97, H&TC survey.

That puts it 18 miles northeast of Snyder.

Reagan Area Gets Permian Wildcat

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has staked a wildcat in Central Reagan County as the No. 1 Ricker Ranch.

Drillsite will be 1,980-feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 5, block O, GC&SF survey, six and one-half miles northeast of Stiles.

No. 1 Ricker Ranch will go to 7,500 feet to test the Permian.

Location, on a 17-section block, is four miles south of the George P. Livermore, Inc., et al No. 1 Hughes, recent 10,760-foot failure.

Big Lake Wildcat Is Waiting For New Rig

The Big Lake Oil Company No. 1-E University, Spraberry wildcat in the Big Lake field of Southwest Reagan County is at total depth of 5,752 feet in Spraberry sand and shale and is shutdown to move in a new rotary rig.

The drilling rig on the well was ruined by a fire a few days ago.

The fire was started when a spark ignited the oil in the cellar and started the fire. The oil in the cellar was slop over from the oil which was being used as drilling fluid to drill through the Spraberry.

Hewgley Drilling Company is the contractor.

The section of the Spraberry so far drilled has not been tested as it has been drilled with oil in the hole.

Location for No. 1-E University is 700 feet from north and 1,320 feet from east lines of the southeast quarter of section 1, block 2, University survey and in the southwest side of the field.

NW Howard Tester Drilling Spraberry

J. C. Barnes of Midland No. 1 Ray Albaugh-O. E. Hamlin, wildcat in Northwest Howard County, is drilling below 6,628 feet in lime and sand in the Spraberry.

Top of the Spraberry is 6,410 feet. Elevation is 2,667 feet. No tests have been run but operator will test if the project develops any appreciable shows of oil or gas.

The exploration is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 16, block 33, T-2-N, T&P survey. It is 14 miles northwest of Big Spring.

The drillsite is two miles northwest of Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Burton, recently completed flowing discovery from the Pennsylvanian lime.

Damage—

power, however, was interrupted only momentarily and service in Midland was not affected seriously.

Both Midland radio stations had brief power failures.

A six-foot-high tile fence at the rear of the Hilton Kaderli residence, 2610 West Storey Street, blew down "from corner to corner."

The strong winds came from the South, not a usual direction for sandstorms, However, dust was well-mixed with the wind. There was a brief flurry of raindrops.

In the midst of the windstorm, firemen were called to extinguish a blazing motorscooter at The Reporter-Telegram that belonged to a newsboy.

Big Spring reported winds up to 90 miles an hour and Sweetwater reported its worst sandstorm in years.

Automobile Damaged

A truck laden with plyboard, moving cautiously up West Texas Street in Midland, was hit by the wind. A piece of plywood was blown from the truck bed into a nearby automobile, inflicting damage to the auto.

Spring football practice of the Midland High School Bulldogs was interrupted by the windstorm. Coach Tugboat Jones called in his boys as a safety precaution. They were training at Memorial Stadium.

Strongest gusts of winds were reported between 4:45 and 5:05 p.m.

Heavy traffic formed during the windstorm as office buildings emptied for the day and workers hurried home. No major traffic accidents were reported.

But the strong wind swayed the automobiles of people going home from work.

Two Oil Workers Receive Injuries

Two oil field workers in the Tex-Harvey field were injured about the face by a sledge hammer Tuesday night and given emergency treatment in Midland Memorial Hospital.

They are L. E. Ainsworth, 404 West George Street, Midland, and M. J. Mayfield of Levelland. Ainsworth received severe lacerations of the jaw and nose and lost several teeth. Mayfield received forehead lacerations. Both were hospitalized.

City Council—

pumping and two cents a kilowatt hour on street lighting.

In voting funds for water and sewer extensions, the council approved six projects, $1,100 for water lines in Bedford Place, with construction by city workers; $97,000 for water lines in Urbandale and sections of Bedford Place with contract to be awarded on bids; $44,800 for water lines in Crestview, contract on bids; $83,500 for replacements of water lines in West End addition with construction by the city; $6,800 for a line southwestward from Pine and Wall Streets with construction by city forces, and $22,000 for sewer lines in scattered areas of the city with contract to be awarded on bids.

Dog Situation Discussed

Relating to the city attorney's office, City Manager W. H. Oswalt said it would be desirable to have a full time city attorney but recommended that the city continue on its present basis until the end of the fiscal year. Stitt served as assistant to City Attorney John Perkins before Perkins' resignation.

The dog situation was discussed only briefly.

A delegation from the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was present at the meeting and agreed to meet with the city manager to discuss the situation and make recommendations to the City Council.

The councilmen also asked Oswalt to obtain additional information pertaining to the employment of Negro and Latin American police officers.

Possibility Of Lawsuit

The rejection by the council of the request to disannex 163 acres at the southeastern section of the city led to the possibility of a lawsuit.

The request was presented by Frank Bezoni, attorney for Miss Jesse.

Bezoni said she had been offered from $100 to $125 an acre bonus for oil and gas leases for her 163 acres but these offers were withdrawn when it was learned they were within the city limits.

Bezoni said no utility could be made on the land at the present time or in the near future and that the annexation of the area was not fair to Miss Jesse.

Council Jack Wilkinson said, however, that the disannexation of the area would set a dangerous precedent.

"We've got the problem," added Mayor Pickett, "of either helping a lady who has worked hard all her life or of setting a precedent which might effect the growth and welfare of the city."

Wilkinson's resolution opposing the disannexation was approved.

SURGERY PERFORMED

Paula and Josephine Stephens, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ora Stephens, 610 South Marshall Street, underwent tonsillectomies Wednesday in Midland Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Rimmer Talks To Joint Meeting Of Service Clubs

Dr. Harry Rimmer, lecturer and author, addressed a joint meeting of the Optimist and Kiwanis Clubs Wednesday noon in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

Dr. Rimmer built his talk around the question "Can an Educated Person Believe in the Bible?" One explanation he gave was the fact that civilization has survived only because of the Christian concept.

Dr. Rimmer said the question is the most common one he has received among thousand of queries.

He was introduced by Perry Pickett, program chairman.

Emil Rassman and Henry Conkling, respective presidents of the Optimist and Kiwanis Clubs, presided.

Rassman introduced all Optimists present and announced plans for attending the district convention in Fort Worth this weekend.

Both Rassman and Conkling proposed joint meetings of the clubs be held more often.

Ed Stitt was voted in as a new member of the Optimist Club.

Prowlers Break Into Autos At Ball Park

The Indians won the baseball game Tuesday night but at least three Midland fans were losers.

Prowlers had broken into automobiles parked outside Indian Park while the game was underway.

Airliner—

operated by its affiliated company, Compania Cubana de Aviation, was overdue on a Miami-Havana run with 34 passengers.

Capt. William R. Carruthers, acting head of the Naval Submarine Base here, said eyewitnesses on shore told him the Navy plane spun into the water immediately after the collision.

The airliner remained in the air about 50 seconds before crashing into about 30 feet of water between one-half and one mile offshore.

Recovering Bodies

Carruthers said two bodies identified as Navy men had been recovered and "we are recovering some other bodies which are being brought ashore but have not been identified."

The Navy plane, he said, was on "a planned operational flight."

A flotilla of rescue crew, including a diving crew, went to the scene. Coast Guard, Navy and other aircraft flew over the area looking for possible survivors.

First reports said the airliner vanished in the water but that bits of wreckage were floating to the surface when the first Navy rescue boat reached the area.

MacArthur Scrap Prompts Idea That Truman Run Again

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Bitter political fighting between Democrats and Republicans has prompted a proposal that President Truman run again, with his Asia policies as a major issue.

At the same time, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, adviser to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, suggested that a New York group booming the deposed Pacific commander for the GOP presidential nomination "go home." The general has said he does not intend to seek political office.

Gov. W. Kerr Scott of North Carolina was the author of the proposal for a new term for President Truman.

Scott told reporters Tuesday, "When this MacArthur thing settles down, Truman is going to be stronger than ever."

Republicans wouldn't agree. They scheduled a Senate Party Policy Committee meeting Wednesday afternoon to line up for fresh attacks on President Truman's plan for limiting the Korean war to that peninsula. Generally they showed themselves as supporters of MacArthur's suggestions for broadening the fight against the Chinese Communists.

The feud over this issue, which reached a physical pushing and shoving stage last week, showed signs of intensifying.

Democrats tried to hang a "war party" label on their opponents. They ran into Republican charges that the Truman Administration plans will leave American soldiers stalemated in Korea "like sitting ducks, getting killed."

highway, which approaches the capital from the east.

AP Correspondent John Randolph reported the Reds made no frontal attack on the west central front. The only sound of battle came from Allied artillery and the roar of airplanes.

Allied reinforcements and counterattacks plugged the hole on the central front. An estimated 100,000 Chinese, including big, strapping fellows from the Manchurian plains, were halted seven miles south of 38.

Fierce Battle Rages

A heavy Allied counterattack smashed into Reds pouring down the main road toward Chunchon. A fierce battle began early in the morning and still raged in mid-afternoon.

Southwest of abandoned Hwachon, UN artillery blasted a path for a counterattacking column. Allies who pulled back from the reservoir city wheeled and hit the Reds on the flank.

Communists attacking Yanggu, at the eatsern end of 11-mile-long Hwachon Reservoir, were stopped in their tracks.

On the eastern battlefront, a UN tank column rolled northward into the Town of Inje. Korean Reds who had captured the city abandoned it, choosing to fight instead from nearby hills. AP Correspondent Stan Carter said the Allies appeared to have stabilized their line below the town.

Red advances were made by leapfrogging one division over another—fresh troops pushing through dead, wounded and fatigued Reds on the dusty battlefields.

Twice they cut off sizable Allied forces. Both times the Allies escaped with slight losses. First it was the Turks. Then the Belgians.

Front line officers, like the top command, were confident.

TO UNDERGO SURGERY

Mrs. Mackie Barnes, 306 North Carrizo Street, was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Tuesday night for surgery.

AUTO INJURIES TREATED

H. A. Bonner of Pollock, La., Tuesday night was treated in Midland Memorial Hospital for injuries received in an automobile accident on West Highway 80. He was released after treatment.

Screen Director Relents, Confesses Former Red Ties

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Screen Director Edward Dmytryk Wednesday broke the silence for which the House Un-American Activities Committee sent him to jail in 1947 and admitted he was a member of the Communist Party briefly in 1944-45.

Dmytryk testified he has had a change of heart since 1947, and now considers the Communist Party "treasonable" in the light of what has taken place since. He said, "I am willing to talk" about party activities in the movie industry.

Dmytryk, who worked up from a studio messenger boy at $6 a week to $2,500 a week as a top ranking director, was one of the "Hollywood 10" who served jail terms for refusing to answer questions before the committee in its 1947 investigation.

He recently completed a six-month sentence for contempt of Congress.

LACERATION TREATED

Joe Landrum of Odessa, an oil field worker, was treated at Midland Memorial Hospital Tuesday for a forehead laceration received when he was struck by a piece of pipe.

MEDICAL PATIENT

Mrs. Margaret Clark, of 105 West Washington Street, was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Wednesday for medical treatment.

Murray To Speak At IOCC Meeting

AUSTIN — William J. Murray, Jr., member and past chairman of the Railroad Commission of Texas, will discuss "The States' Problems and Responsibilities Today" before the Spring meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission in Santa Fe, N. M. This announcement was made by Governor Allan Shivers of Texas, chairman of the IOCC.

Oil men and state officials are in Santa Fe Wednesday for this three-day meeting.

Murray's talk will be of particular importance and significance to those attending the meeting. The problems and responsibilities of the states in producing oil and gas without waste and maintaining an adequate supply of these resources for national defense are common to both oil men and state officials in all of the various producing states.

The subject Murray will discuss will also tie in with a panel discussion of "The Nation's Oil and the Defense Program." This discussion is to be presented at this meeting by a group of Petroleum Administration for Defense and other Washington officials.

In addition to active participation in the Compact for many years, Murray serves as a member of the Compact's engineering and secondary recovery advisory committees. He has also helped with the compilation of data for Texas which was recently released in the National Stripper Well Survey, a joint project of the IOCC, the Independent Petroleum Association of America and the National Stripper Well Association.

World Crude Production Shows February Increase

TULSA—Under the pressure of continuing heavy demand for petroleum products both in the United States and abroad, world production of crude oil in February rose to another new all-time high, the Oil and Gas Journal reported Wednesday.

The February total of approximately 11,382,000 bbl. daily represented a gain of 0.9 per cent over the previous month. Most of the increase was due to stepped-up production in two Middle East oil countries, Iran and Saudi Arabia.

Small increases were reported in United States and Venezuela production. In both countries, crude output was at record high levels. The Journal noted that Venezuelan production is expected to reach 1,700,000 bbl. daily in the next few months. February output in this world's largest oil-exporting country was 1,636,000 bbl. daily.

Colombian production in February also established a record of more than 108,000 bbl. daily. Canadian oil production, most of which comes from the prairie provinces, especially Alberta, remained considerably below potential, but a sharp increase is anticipated when shipping opens on the Great Lakes.

In the Persian Gulf area, production in Kuwait fell back some 63,000 bbl. daily from the high mark in January. For the region as a whole, however, this decline was more than offset by the increases in Saudi Arabia and Iran.
