filing away from the U.S. army distribution center with emergency food supplies. Several tons of powdered milk, corn meal, flour rice and beans were donated by the U.S. to the citizens of rebellion-torn nation.—WFS Photo.

Cove Harbor Leases Are Approved

Failure of a Gulf Oil Corporation tideland off Nueces County, from which much had been expected, had little effect on the current leasing spurt the Navigation District's Cove Harbor, just south of Rockport, even though one applicant dropped out of the race for space along the waterfront.

Charles Vermillion, of the Vermillion Construction Co. withdrew his application for frontage along the harbor, and the same land was promptly leased by Jack Sanders, of the Laguna Construction Co., who showed commissioners a tentative plat of an industrial complex he is planning.

Sanders leased three different plots of ground, the first being Lots 58 through 62; the second, Lots 63 through 65, and the third, Lots 80 through 93.

His application to sub-lease Lots 44 through 57, upon which he already held a lease, was granted by the board, and he exhibited plans for a warehouse and landing ramp on which construction has started, to serve the sub-lease, Milwhite Mud Co.

In other action, the Navigation Commissioners approved a lease to Emory M. Spencer on Lots 96 through 120, inclusive, thus exhausting the water frontage along the south side of Cove Harbor, where Caspary and Wendell Properties already have leased front—(continued on page 8)

Paws and Taws To Hold Grand Opening Saturday

Spectators will be welcome Saturday night, July 10, when the Paws and Taws Square Dance Club of Aransas County will hold the grand opening of their new 5,000-square-foot clubhouse on the Fulton waterfront, with Harper Smith on hand to do the calling.

Clubs from all over South Texas have been invited and a capacity crowd is expected to be present for the event.

And, next Sunday afternoon, from 3 until 5 p.m., open house will be held by the club members, for the general public, which is invited to stop in, have a cup of coffee, and take a tour of the building, which has one of the largest floors in this part of the county.

Although the building has been used for several months for Friday night dances, the interior has just been completed and club members would like for everyone interested to see the result of their co-operative efforts.

Interior finish includes 5,000 square feet of beautifully-finished hardwood floor, mahogany paneled walls, acoustical ceilings, with wagon wheel light fixtures, a complete kitchen with a built-in range, and paneled cloak rooms, rest rooms and entry hall.

In addition to the 5,000 square foot dance floor, a bayside porch containing an—(Continued on Page 8)

SECOND SUMMER SESSION OF ART SCHOOL TO START

The second summer session of the Rockport School of Fine Arts is scheduled to start Monday, July 12, and will run through Friday, July 23.

The first session was devoted to landscape and marine painting. This second session will also deal with figure and portrait lessons.

MORALS CHARGE IS FILED HERE

Charges were filed against David McJolly, 40, of Aransas Pass, here Tuesday morning by Mrs. Lovie Joyce Butler in Justice of the Peace G. D. Johnson's court.

McJolly was charged with sodomy involving a 10-year-old boy. Johnson set his bond at $5,000. McJolly is now in jail awaiting action by the grand jury.

Organizational Meeting To Be Held By Sailors

A new sailing club to race "Sunfish" class boats is being formed with headquarters at Key Allegro Marina and Gordon Stanley of Marineland says an organizational meeting is scheduled for Friday night, at 6 o'clock, at the Stanley home, 32 Riviera Drive, Key Allegro. Anyone interested in sailing is welcome.

In the meantime, Stanley said, "Sunfish" owners have been getting in lots of practice and the club's first race will be held next Sunday, July 11.

Registration time is 2 p.m., and the race starts at 3 o'clock. All "Sunfish" owners are welcome, Stanley said.

ALICE OIL WORKER INJURED ON RIG 8

An Alice oil worker, William B. McGee 37, was injured while working on an oil rig belonging to Storm Drilling Co., which is operating near here in Aransas Bay.

On arrival at Spohn Hospital, he was listed as in fair condition, with multiple bruises and lacerations. Details of the accident were not known.

C. of C. Directors Discuss Problems

Bank Deposit Drop Is Normal Says Sorenson

"Bank deposits are off slightly since the first of January," said James H. Sorenson, Jr., executive vice president of the First National Bank of Rockport, "but this is normal for this time of year, when public fund deposits are low and the tourist and shrimping season are just beginning. In addition, the crops have just begun to be gathered."

Sorenson said that deposits as of June 30 were $4,304,241.33 as compared to $4,511,449.39 on January 1.

"Of course," he said, "they have started to increase, and will probably do so throughout the rest of the year until we reach the annual high which generally comes in November and December, when taxes are gathered and the public funds on deposit increase."

He pointed out that $1,124,740.34 of the money is in time deposit, interest-bearing accounts, about evenly divided between public and individual funds.

RATTLESNAKES LIKE TELEVISION TOO

A small rattlesnake was found coiled under the TV in Mrs. J. W. Sanders' home on W. Cornwall Wednesday noon. The snake had two rattles and a button.

Two Are Injured In Two-Car Crash Here Monday Night

Two people apparently escaped serious injury here Monday evening in a two-car crash just south of the intersection of Highway 35 and the beach front road to Fulton.

Taken to the U. S. Naval Hospital at Corpus Christi was Mrs. James E. Bryan, of 2919 Waldron Field Road in Corpus Christi. Mrs. Bryan had cuts on her forehead and possible leg injuries. A passenger in the Bryan car was also taken to the hospital, but, as far as could be learned, he had only minor injuries.

Mrs. Roy L. Thomson, 59, of Frederick, Okla., was taken to Memorial Medical Center, in Corpus Christi, complaining of a chest injury.

Assistant Police Chief E. A. Stautzenberger said the accident apparently occurred when Bryan, driving south in a Rambler, collided with the Thomsons in a Chevrolet as they were attempting to make a left-hand turn across oncoming traffic into a motel.

The two men were not injured.

Also assisting at the accident were Police Chief Robert Hewes; Deputy Sheriff Joe de la Garza, Highway Patrolmen Brown and Flenneken, and members of the Aransas County Emergency Corps.

CHURCH OF CHRIST MEMBERS TO HOLD GET-TOGETHER

Church of Christ members will hold their July get-together on Friday evening, July 23, in the park at Fulton harbor. Plans are for a hot-dog feed to precede the singing school that night. The advance notice says plan to come and bring your own hot dogs.

Along The Waterfront

Guides fishing out of the Sea Gun Inn marina north of Rockport, returned from the bays with heavy catches of trout during the holiday weekend.

Walter Price and Davis Cox of Houston, with guide, Al Hagy, boated over 200 trout in four hours. Guides Danny Adams and Jimmy Warrach reported catches of 127 and 180 trout, averaging 2½ to 3 pounds.

The W. M. Witts and the George Houstons, Sea Gun guests from San Antonio, landed 22 and 26 pound kings, while fishing in the gulf.

Professor James C. Taylor, dean of the Downtown School, University of Houston, Mrs. Taylor and son Mark, guests at Sea Gun Inn, reported landing 102 trout in three hours fishing in Mesquite and Aransas bays.

Dean Taylor is consultant for the Independent Innkeepers International.

Engineer Says Desalinization Costs Quoted Are Too Low

Production costs quoted in recent newspaper articles on desalinization of water at Port Mansfield are far too low, says J. C. Oliver, head of the engineering firm that designed the plant.

Instead of the 35 cents per thousand gallon cost given in these articles, Oliver says a breakdown of the expense at various levels of operation show that when the 250,000-gallon per day installation is operating at full capacity, the cost is $0.697 per 1,000 gallons. At 75 per cent capacity, the cost rises to $0.829 cents per thousand; at 50 per cent capacity the cost goes to $1.091 per thousand; and at 25 per cent capacity is still higher, being pegged at $1.877 per thousand gallons.

These costs, says Oliver, in a letter to the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District, include operation and maintenance costs of the electrodialysis plant, as well as amortization and pumping and treatment costs.

The Port Mansfield desalting plant consists of a number of parallel treatment cells separated by a anion-permeable membrane on one side and a cation-permeable membrane on the other. Under direct electrical current, anions are driven to anodes and cations to cathodes, so that in alternate cells the concentration of minerals, including various salts, is decreased.

The Port Mansfield plant is the first such plant in Texas to be owned by a municipality, and the second in the United States.

Water comes from a well 18 miles west of Port Mansfield through a new pipeline.

Plans and specifications for the water supply and treatment facilities were prepared by the National Engineering Co. of Austin, of which Oliver is president, while those for the pipeline and other system improvements were by Sigler, Clark and Associates, The Federal government financed the project through a grant and a loan.

Oliver says that the acceptance tests on the plant have not started yet, and will probably not begin for two or three weeks.

He said, in his letter to the Conservation District: "Our interest in giving you this information is to prevent dissemination of incorrect data regarding the desalting plant. . . . Incorrect information must not be allowed to damage this potentially useful tool in the field of water treatment. . . . We are now designing our second electro—(continued on page 8)

ENTRY FEE ESTABLISHED FOR REFUGE

Special entrance fees for eight national park areas in Texas, including the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, were announced Tuesday by the Agriculture Department.

The newly instituted entrance fees will be in addition to any charges for cabins, trailer facilities, and other special services.

Users of federal recreation areas are being given a choice of an automobile sticker for $7 which admits them to any area until March, 1966; or the one-day entrance fee to a specific area; or a seasonal fee for one area.

The fees have been instituted to feed the Land and Water Conservation Fund which was created last year by Congress to finance federal-state acquisition and preservation of recreation and natural beauty land. The tax on motorboat fuel is also being diverted into the fund.

In the Aransas Refuge, the seasonal fee will be $1.25 and the one-day fee 25 cents.

After two weeks' vacation in Rockport with his mother, Mrs. Jas. C. Herring, Mr. and Mrs. David M. Herring and sons, John and Scott, left Monday for their home in Downer's Grove, Ill.

POLICE BEAT QUIET ON 4th

Chief of Police Bob Hewes reported that the 4th of July weekend holiday was very quiet as far as the Police Department was concerned. He stated that this was due to close cooperation of city police, Aransas County sheriff's department and the local unit of the Texas Highway Patrol in patrolling of the highways.

No serious accidents were reported and no incidents of a major nature were reported. Two minor accidents occurred, one on the 4th at Liberty and Gagon and one on the 5th, in front of the Las Brisas Motel on Highway 35, North.

Hewes stated that only one firecracker complaint was received but the police department patrols requested quite a few to stop the noise and take the fireworks to the beach area. TEAL FORM READY FOR TEST HUNT

Permits for the experimental teal season have been received at Texas Parks and Wildlife Department headquarters in Austin and will be processed to applicants immediately, according to Al Springs, department official in charge of the September 4-12 shoot.

Springers asked applicants to hereafter include their full name, complete address and county of residence.

He said applications have been arriving at the rate of about three hundred per day. The deadline for applications to reach the department headquarters in the John H. Reagan Building in Austin is August 2.

Springers said the response has been satisfactory and that biologists should be able to analyze the experimental season. It is designed to determine whether an early shoot is feasible on the swift little ducks.

Participants must qualify under state hunting license regulations and comply with Federal duck stamp requirements.

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph White, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Griffin of Shreveport, La. and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buckett of Orlando, Fla., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jones Christian.

Linda Jane Ballou, sister of the bridegroom, kept the guest register at the reception, following the ceremony. Serving cake and punch were Mrs. Roy DeBrand of Corpus Christi and Miss Jane Breland of Houston.

The couple will make their home at 4002 Prescott, Dallas, Texas.

OREGON CONTINUES FISHERY EXPLORATION

Exploration of the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea continues by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Vessel Oregon, which discovered the shrimp grounds to which so many American fishermen have migrated in the past two or three years.

Harvey R. Bullis, chief of operations, said that the exploratory vessel recently returned after 40 days at sea, during which time fishing banks were explored in the West Indies and off the coasts of Puerto Rico and Jamaica.

Bullis said the purpose of the cruise was to obtain a preliminary idea of the fisheries potential of some little-known areas, as part of the over all explorations of the western Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea, and to cooperate with the United Nations Special Fund Caribbean Program in providing at-sea training for observers from Jamaica and Puerto Rico.

A wide variety of gear was used during the trip on which trawling was difficult, and in many areas impossible, by the extremely rough bottom.

However, trawling was possible close inshore along the southwest coast of Jamaica, and produced moderate catches of small Lane's snappers, and very small numbers of pink shrimp, of the species found more plentifully off the Campeche coast.

Trawling in 225-360 fathoms south of Great Island, produced up to 30 pounds in 30 minutes of the deep water queen snapper, when a forty-foot trawl was used. Elsewhere the bottom was heavily covered with coral lumps, causing insignificant catches and heavy gear damage.

Dredges were used on the sides and tops of the Caicos Bank, the Mouchoir Bank, Silver Bank and Navidad Bank, but heavy growths of coral and larger boulders made catches practically impossible. Handlines fished on Silver Bank produced moderate numbers of three- to four-pound yellowtail snappers.

In a try for swordfish and tuna, two 50-basket longlines were set in the Windward Passage at night, just off the edge of the Continental Shelf, but no swordfish were taken. Two big-eyed tuna were caught on the second set. Four swordfish ranging from 75 to 150 pounds were taken during the 63-basket night sets made in the Mona Passage, off Mona Island, but fishing was poor, with no tuna. Three sharks caught were tagged in connection with AIBS shark tagging program.

Bullis said that numbers of small to moderate-sized tuna were seen throughout the cruise, particularly in the vicinity of Silver Bank, and trolling proved these to be blackfin tuna, and either small yellow fin tuna or oceanic bonito.

Port calls were made at Kingston, Jamaica, and Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, to transfer personnel and take on fuel and water.

No doubt about it, air conditioning can make a big difference to your comfort. That's why so many homes are adding air conditioning each year. And with CPL electricity, the price of comfort keeps going down! Just last Fall, another rate reduction was announced which will show up in appreciable savings on most air conditioning bills this summer. The electric rate is now only 1.8¢ for all use between 500 and 1000 kilowatt hours per month and it drops to 1.6¢ for use over 1000 KWH. The more you use, the more you share in the benefits of lower rates. Now's the time to step up to better electric living.

DESALINATION—

dialysis plant in Texas."

The present discussion is particularly interesting in view of the fact that today's metropolitan papers are carrying an extensive article of developments in California, by the New York Times News Service.

Sea water could be transformed into fresh water by atomic power at about one-fifth of current costs, the latest federally sponsored engineering study indicates.

That would put the cost—a minimum of 22 cents a thousand gallons—close to what Southern California expects to be paying for natural fresh water from inland sources within the next five years. The rate would be favorable for other water-scarce sections of the country as well.

This prospectus was given Wednesday in a report by the Bechtel Corp., one of the nation's largest engineering firms, to the Department of the Interior, the Atomic Energy Commission and the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California.

The three agencies jointly commissioned the $492,000 study last year as the latest major reconnaissance in the nation's development of its increasingly overburdened water supply.

Three large electric utility organizations have already indicated a desire to join with the Metropolitan Water District in building such a desalination plant if the study, with several months of detail work to be done, sustains the present conclusion of economic feasibility. The three are the Southern California Edison Co., the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power and the San Diego Gas and Electric Co.

The Bechtel report said that such low cost desalination could be accomplished by a $300 million plant situated south of Los Angeles, producing electric power as a by-product.

The plant would produce 150 million gallons of water a day, enough for a city of 750,000 people. This is nearly 50 times as big as the largest existing conventionally powered desalting plant on the Caribbean island of Aruba, which produces 3.5 million gallons a day.

The power output would be

1,800 megawatts, enough for a city of two million people—bigger than Hoover Dam's capacity of 1,300 megawatts.

In such a plant, controlled nuclear fission would produce heat to power distillation processes. The thermodynamics of such a facility are such that surplus heat can be diverted into generation of electricity. The economic estimates were promised on the sale of power at four mills a kilowatt hour, which would be competitive with current prices.

The study was focused on a Southern California site because it has the largest segment of the nation's population in an arid area. But basic elements of the plant, such as construction costs and power-by-products could apply elsewhere.

The cost of desalted water was estimated at 22 to 30 cents a thousand gallons. The lowest known desalting cost in the million-gallon a day plant built at San Diego and moved to the Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba, was about $1.16 cents a thousand gallons.

Philip Baldwin is recovering nicely from recent surgery and his daughter, Becky, has recovered from the mumps.

Rockport's Newest Business Has All Do-It-Yourself Needs

Need a sewing machine for a few minutes? Want a pair of water skis for a friend only here for a few hours? Has your lawnmower broken down with company coming and the wife pushing you to cut the grass?

Then drop down and see Frazier Cantrell and Buck Armintrout in Rockport's newest business—Rent-a-tool.

Cantrell got the idea from a friend at Temple and another in Houston. There are hundreds of items that the average householder or property owner may need in his lifetime—some of them for only a few minutes or a few hours—but are too expensive or too useless after the need has passed to make it worth while to buy one.

These are the articles the partners have to rent.

"We haven't done too well with the water skis," Cantrell said, "but we will as soon as people find out we've got them. But we've done real well with rug scourers and lawnmowers. Lots of people use them."

A casual inspection of the Rent-a-tool premises disclosed chain and circular saws, a power posthole digger, ice cream freezers, insect spray guns from hand operated ones to others with gasoline engines.

There were portable barbecue pits, paint spray guns, fishing tackle, a shingle cutter, and sewing machines. And for the yard fancier there were rakes, axes, grass cutters and poison dusters.

"We try to get those things people need but don't feel like buying themselves," Cantrell said, "and business is good."

age and have construction underway to handle Baroid Mud Co. shipments to offshore wells, and crew and supply vessels.

Other leases on the south side of the basin are held by the Wendell Brothers, by Lott Trailer Sales, and by Proffer's Bait Stand, while the county is seeking land outside the harbor jetties for shell stock piles.

On the north side of the basin, the Commissioners approved the application of Elva Mullinax to lease 75.06 feet of Lot 3 that was still open, and they also approved his application to be allowed to sublease Lots 18 through 25, on which he has held a lease for the past several years.

Also holding leases along the north shore are the Casteline Fish Co. and Caspary and Wendell Properties, whose home office is at the Cove, although their far-flung activities range along the entire Texas and Louisiana coasts and as far as California.

Cove Harbor Enterprises, owned by Ted R. Little and Sons, occupies land abutting Sanders on the west side of the harbor, and between their lease and one of the Mullinax leases is another short stretch leased a couple of years ago to Sidney Brewster of Aransas Pass.

other 2,000 square feet has just been completed.

The club house has been a cooperative project from start to finish.

The first piling was set for the foundation in November, 1964, and since then work has been continuously underway, with someone working nearly every night and weekend, donating time, labor and money for the building. All work has been on a voluntary basis.

A considerable portion of the funds came from operation of the Texaco filling station in Fulton, with one paid man, and the club members serving as attendants on a volunteer basis, with all profits going to the club's building fund.

The Saturday night dance is to raise funds to complete paying for the club's project, and Harper Smith, of Celina, Texas, a caller of national renown will be the guest caller.

Close to 200 reservations have already been received from out-of-town square dancers, and a capacity crowd of nearly 400 dancers is expected. Admission to this special event, for either dancers or spectators will be $1 per person.

COUNTY WIDE ELECTION,

DISTRICT ELECTION—

and his wife are members of the Methodist Church, and he is a member of the Fulton Lions Club. The Scotts have a married daughter, Mrs. James Ankele. Scott's name is fifth on the ballot.

Clyde Townsend is well-known to most people in the area. For many years he was manager of the St. Joseph's Island Ranch, when the late Sid Richardson was alive. Mrs. Townsend is proprietor of Townsend's Dress Shop. They have four children. Townsend's name is fourth on the ballot.

The commissioners now in office, are Ted R. Little, chairman of the Board of Navigation and Canal Commissioners, whose term expires in July, 1967, and Charles Schindler, whose term ends in July, 1969. Little is a marine operator. Schindler is a farmer who resides here, but who farms land at Taft and Tivoli.

The election will be held next Saturday, July 10, and the five usual polling places will be open, namely the County Building at Aransas Pass, for Precinct 1A, voters; the fire station at Rockport, for Precinct 1 voters; the courthouse, Rockport, for voters in Precinct 2; the fire station at Fulton, for voters in Precinct 3; and the Lamar fire station for Precinct 4 voters.

Those interested in the election point out that there seems to be a great deal of confusion in the minds of some people in regard to the race. However, they point out, any property owner in the county can run for the position. Candidates can be from any precinct in the county.

Any qualified voter can vote for any candidate.

"It's as simple as that," one of them said. "There are no precinct lines; the candidate does not have to be from any precinct in particular, and, further than that, doesn't even have to live in Rockport or Fulton."

"A resident of that part of Aransas Pass that is in Aransas Pass can run, and every vote cast would count for or against him."

"The people who say 'I can't vote for you because you don't live in my precinct' are wrong. This is a county-wide election, with no run-off, and the high man takes the cake, in this case a $100 a month job that lasts for six years."

"So if you live in Fulton and your candidate lives in the south end of the county, go ahead and vote for him. Your vote will count. In the same manner, if you live in Aransas Pass, as long as it's part of Aransas County, and your candidate lives in the Aransas Wildlife Refuge, go ahead and vote for him. Your vote will count."

Navigation District elections are like school board elections. Everybody's vote counts for or against every candidate in the race, and it doesn't make any difference from what part of the county the candidate comes. The only restriction is that he or she must be a property owner.

In the past there has been considerable confusion about this, and a number of candidates have asked that the situation be clarified. If, after reading the above, any doubt exists in the mind of the voter, he or she should call the county and navigation district attorney, Ellis L. Clark, whose office phone is Southfield 4-2351, and whose home phone is Southfield 4-6367. He has all the latest information on the matter.

Officers for the election are as follows:

At Precinct 1A, in the Aransas County building at the northern edge of Aransas Pass, the presiding judge is Mrs. Glen Ellis, and Mrs. E. N. Oulline is judge.

At the Precinct 1 polling station, in the Rockport Fire Station, Mrs. Alvin Brundrett is presiding judge and Mrs. Fred Diederich is judge.

In Precinct 2, at the Aransas County Courthouse, Mrs. Elbert Mundine is presiding judge and Mrs. J. W. Ingersoll, judge. In Precinct 3, at the Fulton Fire Station, Mrs. Harry McDow is presiding judge and Mrs. E. G. Cooke, judge.

Precinct 4 votes at the Lamar Fire Station, with Mrs. Harry Mills as presiding judge and Mrs. Elmo Brundrett as judge. Polls open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. The election is county-wide. A candidate can be from any place in the county, and all the voters may vote for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Springs of Richmond, Calif., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Casterline.

attendance of Vice President Mrs. James A. Jarboe and Mrs. Juergens at the meeting of the Hug-the-Coast Highway Association in Brownsville later this month.

Following this action, the directors then listened to an extensive review of the Chamber of Commerce advertising policy by William Sprigg, and took part in the discussion that followed.

Consensus was that there were plenty of attractions here to advertise, but that before any further consideration was given the matter, it would be necessary to prepare a preliminary plan of approach. This should, directors believed, envision to media in which such advertising would be done, with a review of their rates, by an advertising policy committee, a coordinated effort to raise the money necessary, and even closer coordination in the way it was spent.

During the course of the discussion it was pointed out that in the past sporadic advertising, had consumed enough money to have bought considerably more advertising than was received.

Sprigg and J. L. Baughman were appointed a committee of two, and asked that James H. Sorenson, Jr., be added as a third member of the committee, to do preliminary planning on the matter; to gather rate schedules and similar data, and to prepare a report for the Board as soon as might be possible.

Following this discussion, the Board gave brief consideration to the summer youth program, and then to traffic along the shore road. This, the main traffic artery of the area, is becoming steadily more and more congested, and when a wreck occurs like the one Monday night, traffic is stacked up for half a mile or more on either side.

It was suggested that thought be given to opening of a thoroughfare away from the beach, connecting the north and south ends of town. This thoroughfare would use existing streets, but would be protected from cross traffic by stop signs, and it was suggested that Pearl Street might serve the purpose.

As afterthoughts, two other matters were given attention. One of these was the need of wider parking in Rockport beach, where, it was noted, the rear ends of cars extend over the street pavement. It was pointed out that the public were pleased with the shade provided by the Navigation District's new shelters along the beach, and that they also liked the freedom of the beach from cars, which allowed children to play without danger.

The second matter was consideration of planned beautification of Rockport, using the summer youth program as a reservoir for labor and funds. This is impossible for the rest of this year, it was pointed out, but, should such a program be in force in 1966, it was the considered opinion of most of the directors that an effort should be made to institute such a program here.

Mrs. Juergens told directors one new member had been acquired during the month—the Rockport Title Co.

A Message

To All Voters of Aransas County

If I have not been fortunate enough to have visited with you and presented my qualifications and views to you, might I reach you by presenting them to you in this message.

(1) I am retired and can therefore devote my full time to the affairs of the Navigation District.

(2) I have no interests either in waterfront property or in any business located there so my decisions will be based solely on what I consider is good for the County as a whole.

(3) I have always felt that there is room for both tourism and commercial fishing interests to prosper in the area together.

(4) It is my firm belief that the affairs of the Navigation District would be better served by having a five-man board.

(5) A resident of the County for nineteen years. I was President of our Independent School Board for six of the eight years I served on the board, was Democratic Chairman of Precinct 3 for 4 years, a director of the Chamber of Commerce for 8 years, a director and for the past fifteen years, treasurer of the Fulton Lions Club and at present a director of Aransas County Water and Conservation District.

(6) My aim has always been and will continue to be to make Aransas County a better place to live in and to work in.

Your vote on July 10th will be evidence of your confidence in me and if elected I will not let you down.

ARANSAS PASS

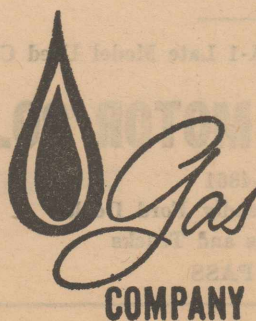

and a Gas range too!

Every smart bride-to-be should insist on a modern gas range right along with the engagement ring. If she's going to take on the job of cooking for a man, she'll want to do it the easy way—with gas.

A gas range gives you the exact heat you want, where you want it, when you want it. No waiting for warm-up or cool-off. No broiling with the door open to heat up the kitchen. Everything automatic and oh, so easy.
