NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin—The political pinwheel, set off by the Governor's race, whirled merrily on in Texas, and the week-end found these newsworthy developments: Meetings of Ferguson supporters, demanding full payment of $15 pensions to everybody in Texas over 65, regardless of need, carefully staged in San Antonio and Dallas, had caused several hundred letters and telegrams to be sent "MA", seeking to draft her, but spokesman Jim represented she "is not a candidate". . . . Best guessers here believed the build-up was to place Jim in position to throw his support advantageously to some other candidate, and did not think the Fergusons would switch their decision not to enter "Ma". . . . Gov. Allred told reporters he wouldn't get in, even if the Fergusons did, and said he would be enjoying Gulf breezes at Galveston during the summer while other candidates were perspiring and belaboring each other. . . . Tom Hunter had not yet produced his promised platform. . . . Karl Crowley, the Washington candidate, is NOT being supported by the national Democratic party organization in his race for Governor of Texas, according to a telegram which Bob Barker, secretary of the Senate, sent Jim Farley, asking the direct question, which Farley promptly answered in the negative. . . . Bill McCraw resumed campaigning with talks in Northeast Texas. . . . Ernest Thompson was out of the State to attend an interstate oil compact commission meeting at Wichita Kansas. . . . Welly Hopkins, former Senator from Gonzales, and lately a special assistant U. S. Attorney General in Washington, resigned to accept appointment as first assistant attorney general, under Bill McCraw, succeeding Scott Gaines, who becomes Texas University's legal representative.

ALL INCUMBENTS OPPOSED

Every State official seeking reelection, with the possible exception of some of the higher court judges, will have opposition, according to announcements which may, or may not be backed up with filing fees, when the time comes to put up the money. . . . Judge Harry Graves of Court of Criminal Appeals, whose eligibility has been questioned in a lawsuit dismissed by the court, filed for reelection, and will be opposed by C. A. Phippen, of Dallas, a veteran former judge of the Criminal District Bench there. . . . Gerald C. Mann, former Secretary of State, opened his campaign for Attorney General before a generous crowd at his birthplace, Sulphur Springs. . . . Mann is generally believed by observers here to be the best bet for a runoff in this race against Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul, whose campaign reports here indicate, has been going so well that many doubt a runoff will be necessary. . . . Bascom Giles, opposing Land Commissioner Bill McDonald for reelection, swung into active campaign and organization work, indicating he will vigorously make an issue of McDonald's conduct of the Land Office during the past two years. . . . Coke Stevenson, twice speaker, and candidate for Lt. Governor, is conducting a unique handshaking campaign, making few speeches, but visiting many hundreds of voters, while Sen. G. H. Nelson, his chief opponent, is vigorously advocating a unicameral legislature as an issue.

FAMOUS EDITOR VISITOR

Texas was honored at the week-end by the visit of Barry Faris, editor-in-chief of International News Service, whose job in New York is to keep his finger on the pulse of imminent news events in a hundred nations of the world, and direct a staff of several hundred foreign and domestic correspondents. "News services of the world have been working on a war time basis for five years, since Hitler invaded the Ruhr basin, and tore up the Versailles treaty," he said. "Hourly, we

Milk Plant Meeting Called

A meeting of Lorraine business men and farmers of the territory is being called for Tuesday night, May 10, at the high school auditorium for the purpose of discussing the proposed milk plant for Lorraine.

Those who went to Haskell to inspect the plant there will be present to explain in detail the workings of the plant and discuss the possibilities of such a plant here.

All business men and farmers are urged to attend the meeting.

THE POLYANA S. S. CLASS HAS MEETING

The Polyanna Sunday School class met in the home of Mrs. R. E. Bennett, the teacher, Tuesday, April 26. The class song was sung by all present.

The 100th Psalm was read for the scripture. Mrs. Bennett led in prayer. After the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved new and old business was attended to. The business meeting was then adjourned with Betty Johnson leading in prayer.

Many interesting contests were played after which delicious refreshments ice cream and cake were served.

Those present were: Mrs. Bennett, Betty Johnson, Elizabeth Hoek, Iona Callahan, Doris Mahoney, Margaret Jarratt, Frances Riden, and Gwendola Mearse.

The next meeting will be with Iona Callahan and Gwendola Mearse in May.

Austin, Texas, May 2.—Forwardings of all classes of live stock from Texas to Fort Worth stockyards and interstate points during March combined totaled 5,034 cars, a decline of 5 per cent from March last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Cattle shipments, totaling 3,033 cars, declined 9 per cent; calves, 659 cars, increased 30 per cent; hogs, 782 cars, decreased 13 per cent, and sheep, 560 cars, increased 4 per cent. Shipments during the first three months totaled 13,589 cars, a decline of 7 per cent.

"Receipts of Texas live stock at the Fort Worth market were sharply below those of March last year, especially of hogs and sheep," the Bureau's report said. "Marketing to Los Angeles also dropped off sharply, while Kansas City and Oklahoma City took more Texas sheep."

WELLS FARGO

"Wells Fargo", the most elaborate western romance ever filmed, opens Sunday at the Rialto. Bob Burns is starring in the picture along with Joel McCrea, Francis Dee and a host of the best talent in Paramount Studio. In fact it is the one picture that has everything which is an accepted fact in any picture where Bob Burns takes the lead.

have been expecting the match that would set off the tinder-box of another world war. It will come whenever the democracies of the world are ready to demand a showdown with the dictators, and it is inevitable". Faris flew from New York to Dallas to address Southwestern members of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, and to renew old acquaintances with Texas newsmen. He got some of his early training in this State.

Sigma Delta Chi conferred the honor of initiation upon four journalists, including this correspondent.

SMOKE COST HIGH

Texans smoked $35,551,644 worth of cigarettes, or about $6 worth per capita, during the last year, according to estimates of the state treasurer, based on taxes collected. They also drank 20,911,026 cases of beer and nearly 4,000,000 gallons of hard liquor, and paid in State stamp taxes a total of $6,635,334 during the year, the estimates showed.

Tourist Cabins Near Completion

The five tourist cabins being erected by W. S. Wimberly are nearing completion. In fact some of them are ready for use now, but there is quite a bit of beautifying work to be done yet before the place will be ready for a formal opening.

The cabins are as nice as any traveler could want. Each cabin is equipped with the very best beds, a kitchenette, shower bath and breakfast nook. The finest hotel could hardly offer better accommodations to the travelers. Spaces are provided where the car can be locked in a garage.

Mr. Wimberly has gone to quite a bit of expense to provide these modern cabins to induce travelers to stop in Lorraine and we feel sure that the entire town appreciates his efforts.

WILLING WORKERS SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

The Willing Workers Sunday School class of the Baptist Church met Tuesday, May 3, in the home of the teacher, Miss Jeter. All were present except two and one of them is in the hospital. We voted to carry her a love gift when she comes home. Officers were elected for the class. We learned a new song "I heard my mother call my name in prayer."

We all had a nice time. We will meet again next Saturday to sing our song before Sunday. Reporter

HAPPENINGS AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Last Sunday the Sunday School was not up to what it should have been. Some of the classes made a poor showing, perhaps there were too many other things to attend but the house of God should not be forsaken for other things.

The B. T. U. made a good showing Sunday evening. Thank you for your interest in this work.

Something to think about: The Baptist are leading all other denominations in additions to the church. The greater number of these are coming from the Sunday School. Then what must we do? Build our Sunday Schools. Can we do that? Others are doing it, we can too. The Sunday Schools of our church right now are sweeping the country. Just last week in our Sunday School convention in San Angelo more than 6000 registered, the second largest convention to meet in Texas. On Sunday April 24, 2 churches in Houston had 13,244 in Sunday School. The same day ten churches in Dallas had 10,365. 29 churches in Dallas one Sunday had 1444 additions.

We have the best Sunday School program to be found anywhere. We have men who study Sunday School and give us the best plan for the work. These churches mentioned have adopted a "Standard of Excellence" as outlined by the Sunday School Board. They are growing. Will we as a church adopt it and grow? That is for you as a church to say. Our church should have 300, we can if we will. There are many good reasons why this should be done. The church that is building a Sunday School is having no trouble with the finance of the church. They are reaching the lost. They are happy. With the teaching ability of our church we can put on a great program. Anyway attend all the services next Sunday. Next week we will give you the plan. — M. H. Godfrey, Pastor.

MRS. TAYLOR TO PRESENT PUPILS IN RECITAL

Mrs. K. L. Taylor will present her music pupils in recital at the Methodist Church Friday evening, May 6th, 7-8:45. Piano and accordion music will be featured.

Pupils to appear on the program are: Shirley Beth Coffee, Loeita Martin, Joyce Griffith, Albert Givens, Melba Mahon, Jestead Lee, Mary Love Walker, Margaret Watson Alma Hackfeld, Mary Frances Cope, Trudie Wheeler, Earlene Brown, Iris Duke, Vida May Riden, Doris Butler, Reta Beights, Billie True Linan, Gypay Ted McCollum, and Wennola Martin.

Light Shower Benefits Grain

Another light shower, probably about a quarter of an inch, fell in this section Tuesday night. The rain came from the west and was preceded by a high wind and dust storm. The only damage we have heard of was at the H. W. Robertson farm north of town where his barn was damaged and some window glass blown from the house by the wind. No hail has been reported. Landers reported about half inch of moisture while other sections of the territory reported about the same as received here.

The moisture will be beneficial to wheat and will also be an aid to bringing up crops. The high wind the past few weeks has caused the sand to do some damage to crops that were up.

TWO FIRE ALARMS DURING PAST WEEK

Although very little damage was done at either place two fire alarms were turned in the past week. The first was at the C. F. Glass barn and the other at the Leggett Tailor Shop.

The Tailor Shop fire caught Wednesday morning about ten thirty when a stove exploded in the drying room. About $150 worth of clothes were burned up. Leggett received burns on the arms and face but not serious.

Surprise Birthday Dinner

Mrs. R. K. Thornhill entertained a number of neighbors and friends Monday evening, honoring her husband's birthday. All arrangements were made secretly therefore Mr. Thornhill was much surprised when he came home from the store to find his living room filled with guests, and a lovely dinner consisting of fried chicken and accessories followed with a delicious dessert of angel food and gold cake with ice cream, served cafeteria style. Mrs. Thomas Riden presented the beautiful birthday cake.

The evening was spent in pleasant conversation and an old time song led by Thomas Riden, in which everyone took part. We enjoyed every minute of our visit in the hospitable home. At a late hour we bid them goodnight, wishing Mr. Thornhill many happy returns of the day, whose pleasure of the occasion was evidenced by his expressions of happy and broad smiles.

Those present were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Treadway of Colorado, Rev. and Mrs. M. H. Godfrey, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Riden, Mr. and Mrs. William Martin and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Dee McCollum, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Preston, Mrs. R. E. Bennett and her father, A. M. Jackson. One present.

METHODIST CHURCH

Next Sunday is Mother's Day! How will you spend it? There is no better way to honor mother than attending church and worshipping her God.

The pastor will preach at the morning hour. Subject, Mothers of Men. At the evening hour a program of special songs, readings, etc. will be given. You are cordially invited to be present.

Our church was filled to capacity Sunday evening for the concert given by Roby Choral Club. Needless to say it was a treat to We shall be glad to have all. We shall be glad to have them come again.

Fourteen of our young people attended the District rally at Midland last week end and report a very fine meeting.

We missed some other Methodist last Sunday. God will bless our church according to our faithfulness to his cause. Be present next Sunday and lets expect a great day.

Something over 11000 pounds were registered at our church last Sunday. This is a very fine beginning. We hope to get the other 6000 pounds next Sunday which will make our goal of 17,500 pounds.

If you have not weighed be there and register Sunday morning.

School Band Wins Honors in San Angelo Meet

FORMER LORRAINE GIRL TO GO TO STATE HOME MAKING RALLY AT S. A.

Pauline Parker, formerly of the Lorraine school, is one of three girls to represent Odessa school in the home making rally at San Antonio May 4-8.

Odessa is a class A school and Pauline is to represent the second year in Home Economics. The three girls will be accompanied by their teacher and superintendent of schools. All expenses and entertainment is free. Pauline also ranks 34th in approximately 125 students for a free trip to Yellowstone Park about June 1. The merit or credit system is used to insure a fair and impartial selection of winners. The final tests are not yet completed for the latter honor. Pauline has made this record and kept house for her board all during the session.

THE YOUNG PEOPLES DEPT.

Whoopie-ti-yi-ya! Here are those cowboys and cowgirls that you might have seen leaving Lorraine last Saturday afternoon. We're back from the "Last Round Up" which was held in Midland. You missed something if you didn't see your hometown boys and girls all dressed up in cowboy regalia. And the best, and most real thing about it, we had a real cowboy with us. Just in case some of you have never seen a real cowboy, just get acquainted with our fine pastor Rev. Scoggins.

The group arrived in Midland around six-thirty and was heartily received. Each person registered and was assigned a place to stay while in Midland. Everyone met their hostess and was taken to the home to "freshen up." At 7:30 we were taken to the Barber Ranch where a "chuck wagon" supper had been prepared. Mmmmm! There was barbecue, beans, onions, pickles, buns, punch, and all kinds of pie. The next thing on the program was "around the campfire." We sat on the ground around the light. Mrs. Jimmy Payne of Colorado played cowboy songs on her accordion, and the group sang them. From nine to nine-thirty Mr. Franklin Weir, conference president, talked to us on the subject of "Rutlers." Then last but not least we had an assembly pep rally in charge of J. W. Gamble of Lubbock. Everyone then thanked Mr. and Mrs. Barber for a grand time and went to the Methodist Annex Building for recreation. Later everyone went to their respective homes for the night.

Morning watch was held at 7:30 Sunday morning, and those who did not over sleep, attended. The Sunday School hour was in charge of Ray Gwyn. At eleven o'clock the church service was held with Rev. Gordon of Snyder bringing the message. After church everyone returned to their respective homes for lunch. The meeting started again at one-thirty, and lasted until three.

Our happy, but some what tired group started home although they hated to. In fact, we were all carried away with Midland so much that no one wanted to come home. But nevertheless, we all learned a great deal over the week-end about such things that we do not have here. When we reached our own little town, everyone's tongues seemed to be rattling at the same time, and at both ends. Each one telling his experience in the home he stayed in, and the very nice people he stayed with. I don't think anyone had a more wonderful time than we did.

Those attending the district meet from Lorraine were Rev. Scoggins, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Munns, Loyd Beaty, Loyce Beaty, Iris Duke, Evelyn Land, Opal Martin, Garland Faulkenberry, Ruby Jo Marshall, Loeta Martin, Margaret Glass, Doris Glass, and Blossom Lee Green.

If you want to find out anything about Midland, just ask us cow hands, who made this wonderful trip.

The Lorraine High School Band placed in second place of the second division of bands in Class D in the annual contest at San Angelo last Friday, winning the second place rating in both playing and marching. Stephenville, Ballinger and Grandfalls placed in the first division of the same class.

The thrill that comes once in a lifetime came to the band members last Thursday when they were issued new uniforms. When they paraded the streets in the afternoon the town received a thrill also. The uniforms are nice and they helped the appearance of the band 100 per cent.

Last week was the fourth time the Lorraine band has entered the annual contest but the first time it has placed which is a distinct honor to the members and their director, W. W. King.

The band left for San Angelo Friday morning at four o'clock and returned that night, arriving about four A. M.

Band members who made the trip and the instrument played were: Cornets: J. W. King Jr., Joy Green, Alvin Jarratt, Armando Baumann, Rodney Walker, Trombone: Melvin King, Leon Duke, Bryan Mahon; Baritone: Jack Lankford; Alto Horn: Marvelyn Martin, Bill Glass, Jack Rowland; Clarinet: Wanda Mae Smith, Sidney Meek, Jane Meadows, Roy Hall, Chrystine Thomas; Drums: Wilmon Tartt, Wayland Roberts, Mary Frances Cope, Royce Mahon, R. L. Mahoney; Bass: Mack Wilson, Roy Baird Jr., Audrey Brame; Alto Saxophone: Frances Riden, Edward Baumann; Flute: Freda Derryberry.

The band was accompanied by Mrs. R. B. Cope, Mrs. Virgil Walker, and Miss Edith Wilkerson. Mr. and Mrs. Derryberry, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John Scown, and Mrs. F. P. Brame and son also attended the meeting.

BAPTIST W. M. U.

The W. M. U. met Monday afternoon in regular monthly mission program in the home of Mrs. Dan Butler with Mrs. James Bennett joint hostess.

Mrs. Thomas Riden gave the devotional, reading the 9th Psalm. Her subject was "Our Secret Faults". The program for the afternoon was about Japan and was as follows:

Japan 50 years ago—Mrs. Woodrow Pratt and Mrs. Roy Baird; Japan Today—Mrs. Harrison; Japan Tomorrow—Mrs. J. C. Hall Jr.

Mrs. Tennis Wilson, a member of the Methodist W. M. U., was with us and made a talk on Japan which added very much to our program.

After prayer by Mrs. Godfrey the president opened the business session. After the business session a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to 40.

We had several visitors, Mrs. F. H. Hart, Mrs. A. F. Wilcox, Mrs. Tennis Wilson, and one of our old members, Mrs. Bud Richburg. We were certainly glad to have these ladies with us and extend a cordial invitation for you to visit us any time.

The meeting was a great one both in number and in spirit. Each one on the program rendered her part so well. Our W. M. U. is growing. Oh how we need every woman of the church in our W. M. U. Where there is unity there is strength. We are all working together for our Lord and He is blessing us. Bro. Godfrey will teach the Bible lesson next Monday. Lets all be there. Reporter

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, Dean of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, © Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for May 8

CO-OPERATING IN SERVICE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:30-41. GOLDEN TEXT—For he that is not against us is on our part.—Mark 9:40. PRIMARY TOPIC—When We Want to Be First. JUNIOR TOPIC—Not in Our Class. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Working with Others for Christ. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Co-operating in Service.

That there is strength in united and co-operative effort is a truth, so obvious that in the affairs of the home and of the office we would not attempt to make progress with "a house divided against itself." But with strange and destructive inconsistency some who are engaged in the propagation of the Christian faith, and often the very folk who speak much of love and fellowship and sacrificial service, fight one another with cunning and often bitterness of spirit, and all in the name of Christ whom they profess to serve.

No one who is awake to the real issue involved would ask any true believer to co-operate in Christian work with those who, while holding the name and outward symbols of the followers of Christ, deny His deity and His Word. But surely there is need for loving co-operation between all those who truly love the Lord, who believe in Him and in His Word.

I. A Dispute by the Way (vv. 30-34).

Jesus had taken His disciples from the Mount of Transfiguration by secluded roads through Galilee so that He might instruct them in the all-important truths regarding His death and resurrection. One could hardly conceive of a more propitious arrangement for their growth both in knowledge and grace. Did they profit by it? No; they not only did not understand what He told them but they used their time to dispute "among themselves who should be the greatest" (v. 34).

Possibly James, Peter, and John were a bit puffed up by their experience on the Mount, or perhaps the others were jealous because Jesus had taken them with Him. Or perchance it was just another unprovoked expression of the sinful pride that is so close to the surface of the human heart and mind.

II. An Example of Humility (vv. 35-37).

"True greatness consists not in attaining the first place in the notice and praise of the world, not in being served by many, but in being willing to stoop down to a humble place, not for the sake of self-effacement, not in timid diffidence, but in order to serve others for the sake of Christ" (Erdman).

Note carefully that it is the receiving of a little one in the name of Christ that brings to us the glory of His presence with us. Every deed of kindness and love is commendable and has its own reward, but there is a vast difference between it and humble service in the name and for the glory of Christ.

III. A Lesson in Co-operation (vv. 38-41).

John, quick to apprehend spiritual truth, sees in the teaching of Christ concerning the little child the condemnation of something he had done. "If indeed it be true that to receive a child, an ordinary every-day child, is to receive Christ, and to receive God," said John within himself, "what did I do when I forbade that man who in the Name was casting out a demon? Verily, the light had broken in upon him."

The man who casts out demons, or who gives the disciple of Jesus a cup of water, in His name—that is with true faith in Christ, and in His power, and for His glory—must be a believer. He may not belong to our group or circle, he may not speak our language, he may not use our methods, but if he is serving Christ we should not forbid him or speak evil of him. God has at times called a man to witness for Him, who has done so in a manner distasteful to others, and these in turn have aligned themselves against him and hindered his full usefulness in the gospel. One of the great evangelists of the last generation used methods which shocked many church folk. They stood against him, and yet that man was used to win hosts of business and professional men that the church had scarcely touched, into earnest Christian testimony and service which continues to this day. You and I may not like one another's appearance, or voice, or methods, but let us love and co-operate with one another for Christ's sake!

The Word of God. The word of God will stand a thousand readings; and he who has gone over it most frequently is the surer of finding new wonders there.—J. Hamilton.

Good Intentions. Good intentions are at least the seed of good actions.—Sir William Temple.

Even as Christ. True forgiveness is a very strong virtue.

Wash Frocks Set High Style Record

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

itself offers, consider the style-high "looks" which you may be sure will make instant appeal, for designers are turning out perfectly stunning tub frocks this season. Note the accent on color contrast in each of the two light outfits shown. This matter of using dark with light in sharp contrast is important news.

Because it is champagne color, because it is a new fabric, congo cloth to be explicit, and because the top of the dress is of the same fabric in chevron stripes of yellow, royal and polo blue, the model to the right is a noteworthy example of what's newest for spring and summer. It is a perfect choice to wear in the way of a spectator sports costume on a sunny afternoon.

Very definitely does the other dress announce the smartness of dark with light. The manner of combining navy with white as here shown is characteristic of this season's new styling. In some instances the latest dresses go fifty-fifty white or light with dark brown or perhaps the new copper tone or deep red as the case may be.

The peasant dirndl full-skirted models have emerged from play clothes fashions being shown in the new spring dresses for street and general wear. Note the dirndl frock in the foreground. It is a sure-enough winner. Made of heavy linen this dress with white braid ornamentation has the typical high bust line of the authentic dirndl as worn by mid-Europe peasants. The matching kerchief scarf worn on the head is a young fashion that persists among the sorority of school age—gives the picturesque peasant atmosphere and is flattering in the extreme.

After you have satisfied yourself as to the good service the material

Especially in the matter of smart daytime suits and afternoon frocks the trend is to style simple materials that will launder perfectly with as flattering details and meticulous fineness as you would expect in higher priced apparel. To prove our point that dresses and costume suits made of wash materials look every inch patrician we are picturing three models that received curtain calls at a recent preview of spring and summer fashions recently held in the Merchandise Mart of Chicago.

These attractive dresses are just such as you will find available in leading stores in most communities. You will like to know about the congo cloth that fashions the two light-with-bright-contrast costumes in the illustration. It is just what every woman is eagerly seeking, a material that keeps its whiteness or clear natural tone, does not shrink and is as non-wrinklable as modern science can make it.

GIBSON GIRL VOGUE

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

The air is rife with news in regard to the revival of Gibson-girl fashions. And if you think there is any doubt as to the reality of this style movement see here pictured a lady of fashion, year 1938, as will grace the immediate spring and summer style scene. The rough straw sailor hat with huge decorative pin and crisp veil is true to an honest-to-goodness original Gibson type. The demure blouse of shadow-printed Swiss organdie with cascading jabot frill and high-tucked band collar is reminiscent of the early 1900's. The smart wool suit in the picture has a straight navy skirt with action pleats at front and back. The fitted jacket which she carries is of matching blue wool fabric, chalk-striped in white.

BANGLE BRACELET

STYLE HIGHLIGHT

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

In the way of a novelty bangle bracelet here's one that makes appeal to women of discriminating taste. If you inquire at the jewelry counter you will find that the bangle bracelet is a style highlight this season. One of the cleverest types yet designed has little gadgets of all-American inspiration dangling from a slender gilt chain. Exquisite workmanship marks the motifs in that each is defined in dainty rhinestone solid settings. The bangles consist of an American eagle, Independence bell, covered wagon, a happy Indian figure, and cunning-as-can-be wee "Yankee Doodle come to town riding on a pony." This bracelet by Lester Gaba will add a most pleasing accent to any costume in that the entire scheme is carried out with consummate artistry.

Twelfth Century Lending

Glamour to Glove Fashions

The fine glove, tabards and even shields used by Robin's nobleman enemies are contributing ideas to the early spring style picture. The gloves all have picturesque gauntlets and many of the finer ones are embroidered in silver or gold.

This is an idea which should blossom around cocktail time or even after dinner. The tabard of the Twelfth century was a long, oblong piece of cloth which had a hole cut in the center. The head was thrust through the hole, the waistline was girded and the result was a dashing tunic. Usually the front of these were elaborately embroidered in metallic thread. The tabard is a clever way to dress up lounging pajamas or to give a tunic effect to any gown.

WHAT to EAT and WHY

C. Houston Goudiss Discusses

FOOD PRESERVATION and Explains How to Protect Your Family Against the DANGERS of TAINTED FOOD

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS, 6 East 36th Street, New York.

A DISTINGUISHED nutritional scientist once remarked that it is a small favor to keep people alive on a poorly chosen diet. For with the wrong food, they may not get one-fifth of their potential efficiency into their lives; they will drag themselves through miserable days, never knowing the joys of physical fitness nor enjoying the abundant health that comes from a perfect balance of nutriment.

The Perfect Diet May Not Be Safe to Eat

But even the homemaker who plans an ideal diet may be undermining the health of her family by feeding them spoiled or tainted food which carries the deadly germs of disease.

We frequently hear stories of death or serious illness caused by food contamination.

And it is significant that the improper care of food in the home is most often responsible. One physician has gone so far as to state that there is no estimating the number of persons who, while not sick in bed, feel "rather poorly," "not strong," or "kind of run down" because improperly preserved food gives them insufficient nourishment and their strength is exhausted in combatting the action of germs.

Homemaker's Responsibility For Food Sanitation

An enormous amount of time and money is expended to put foodstuffs in your kitchen in a fresh, palatable and safe form. Laws govern the manufacture, transportation and merchandising of every food product and an elaborate system is maintained for the inspection of meat. But all this care can be undone if food is not adequately refrigerated in the home.

From the moment that meats, fruits, vegetables and groceries reach your kitchen, the responsibility is yours, and you will be guilty if your husband and children suffer ill effects from eating tainted food.

Causes of Food Spoilage

Spoilage in food is due to the ravages of a vast army of micro-organisms which cause it to sour, decay or putrefy, depending upon the nature of the food.

There are three classes of micro-organisms which develop in food—bacteria, molds and yeasts. All three are notable for their minute size, rapid growth and wide distribution. Yeasts and bacteria can only be seen with the aid of a microscope.

Not all micro-organisms are the enemies of man; some are useful in the preparation of foods such as cheese, sauerkraut and bread. These need not concern the homemaker. But the harmful bacteria will flourish wherever conditions are favorable to their growth.

There are two important factors governing food preservation. One is the maintenance of a constant temperature of from 40 to 50 degrees Fahrenheit—under no circumstances should food be stored at a temperature higher than 50 degrees, or bacteria will multiply so rapidly as to make it unsafe to eat. The other is to maintain the proper degree of moisture in the air—neither too much, which encourages the growth of micro-organisms, nor too little, which dehydrates fruits and vegetables.

Appearance of Food May Be Deceptive

The great danger of food that is improperly stored is that it may become spoiled without advertising that fact. Appearance is seldom a reliable guide and unless your refrigerator is efficient, food may become unfit for consumption before spoilage can be noted by sight, taste or smell.

All types of protein foods harbor bacteria which multiply rapidly at temperatures higher than 50 degrees. Under favorable conditions of moisture and temperature, bacteria double their number every 20 to 30 minutes, and a single bacterium can produce a million bacteria in 15 hours.

Safeguard Children's Milk

Milk is the most perishable of all foods, because it is an ideal medium for bacterial growth. If this master food is to be kept safe for children, it must be stored at a temperature not higher than 45 degrees.

Careful studies show that there is very little increase in bacteria when milk is held for as long as 48 hours at a temperature of 40 degrees. But when the temperature was allowed to rise to 50 degrees, almost 30 times as many bacteria developed, and at 60 degrees, the bacteria multiplied more than 8,000 times in the same period.

Foods That Spoil Easily

The rapid multiplication of bacteria also occurs in other foods having a high protein content, including meat, meat broths, fish, gelatin, custards, creamed foods, peas and beans. It is important that all these foods, as well as milk, be kept in the coldest part of the refrigerator, as a few degrees in temperature make a great deal of difference in preventing spoilage.

Once food has begun to deteriorate, it must be discarded or it may endanger health. Cooking will not make spoiled foods fit for consumption.

How to Prevent Mold

Molds are another form of spoilage that the homemaker must constantly battle. Mold will grow on almost any substance, but is particularly likely to occur on acid foods, as lemons, oranges, tomatoes and berries; on neutral foods, such as bread and meat; on sweets, notably jellies and preserves, and on salty foods, including ham or bacon.

Molds may develop quickly or slowly, depending upon the temperature and degree of moisture. They thrive under the influence of warmth and moisture and may remain invisible to the naked eye for as long as 36 hours. All molds are white at first, but as they mature they change color, becoming blue, red, or assuming various shades of brown.

To the bacteriologist, these colors have different meanings. To the homemaker, they all tell the same story—that through improper storage food has lost its appetite appeal and palatability.

Have You a Question? Ask C. Houston Goudiss

C. Houston Goudiss has put at the disposal of readers of this newspaper all the facilities of his famous Experimental Kitchen Laboratory in New York City. He will gladly answer questions concerning foods, diet, nutrition, and their relation to health. You are also invited to consult him in matters of personal hygiene. It's not necessary to write a letter unless you desire, for postcard inquiries will receive the same careful attention. Address him at 6 East 39th Street, New York City.

Mold growths may be destroyed by boiling temperatures. They may be retarded by keeping food in the cold, dry circulating air provided by an efficient refrigerator.

A good refrigerator is the best investment a family can make. It enables you to take advantage of bargain prices to buy food in quantity. And it safeguards health by preventing contaminated food from finding its way to your table.

An efficient refrigerator also preserves the flavor and texture of meats, fruits and vegetables, so that you enjoy these foods at their best. But its greatest contribution to human welfare is the preservation of food so that it will nourish your body instead of poisoning it.

Questions Answered

E. W.—It's a fallacy to assume that brown sugar is "more nutritious and healthful" than granulated sugar. It is true that brown sugar contains traces of mineral elements, while white sugar contains practically none. But the amounts are variable and never significant. Regardless of color, sugars make their sole contribution to the diet through their carbohydrate content. The caloric value of white sugar is a trifle higher than that of brown, the difference amounting to 91 calories per pound.

Mrs. S. T.—When thoroughly chewed and given a proper place in the diet, cheese is usually well digested. Experiments performed by the United States Department of Agriculture demonstrated that an average of 95 per cent of the protein and over 95 per cent of the fat of cheese were digested and absorbed.

New Beauty for the Home

Self-polishing wax for the household is practical, protective—and popular! Its already wide use is increasing yearly, throughout the homes of the country. And it is the efficient, up-to-date homemaker who regularly applies this amazing product to the floors of her home. The unusual feature of a good self-polishing wax is the maximum beauty it affords, with the minimum labor—both in application and upkeep. It's on a jiffy—dries thoroughly in 20 minutes—and results in resplendent floors that gleam like satin, look like new, and "dress up" the entire house. A quality self-polishing wax is urged, however, for it is more resistant to dust and dirt, its richer content lasts longer, and shows up to more glowing advantage the natural color and pattern of the wood. Yes, a good self-polishing wax is truly a domestic gem that is inexpensive—time and trouble-saving—and definitely beautifying!

FLOORS POLISH THEMSELVES

...with O-Cedar Self-Polishing Wax. No rubbing—simply spread it on and let it dry—then watch your floors sparkle! Non-slippery, long-wearing—eliminates scrubbing—dusting alone keeps floors clean. Full qt., only 85¢.

Get This Free Bulletin Offered by C. Houston Goudiss

READERS of this newspaper are invited to write to C. Houston Goudiss at 6 East 39th Street, New York City, for his new "Vitamin Primer" which tells the facts that every homemaker needs to know about vitamins. In simple chart form, the functions of each vitamin are explained, and there is a list of foods to guide you in supplying your family with adequate amounts of these necessary food factors. A postcard is sufficient to carry your request.

Aisle of Woman's Dreams

That, in effect, is what advertisements in this paper can do for you. They bring all the needs of your daily life into review... in one convenient place. Shop from your easy-chair, with the advertisements. Keep abreast of bargains, instead of chasing them. Spend time in your newspaper to save time—and money—in the stores.

Suppose you knew that one aisle of one floor in one store had everything you need to purchase!

Suppose on that aisle you could buy household necessities, smart clothing, thrilling gifts for bride, graduate, voyager! How much walking that would save! How much time, trouble and fretful shopping you would be spared!

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS ANNOUNCED FOR STATE POSITIONS

Merit examinations for the position of Junior Interviewer in the Texas State Employment Service have just been announced. Vacancies in the operating staff of the local employment offices will be filled from eligible lists established through these examinations.

Application forms and detailed announcements concerning the examinations may be obtained from Professor Emmette S. Redford, Special Representative of the United States Employment Service, Box 2119, University Station, Austin. Application forms must be returned to Mr. Bedford by May 31, 1938.

The examinations are open to men and women who have been citizens of Texas for at least five years immediately preceding the date of employment.

Applicants must meet the following minimum requirements for participation in the examinations: (1) A high school education and three years of the required experience; or (2) a college education and one year of the required experience; or (3) any equivalent

Governor Allred Declares Texas Bread Week

GOVERNOR JAMES V. ALLRED by special proclamation calls upon the citizens of Texas to observe the week of May 9th as TEXAS BREAD WEEK by serving bread, toast, sweet rolls, cake, and other baked wheat foods. The Governor points out that this program is important to the agricultural and industrial welfare of Texas because the increased consumption of bakery products increases the consumption of wheat, flour, milk, butter and cottonseed-oil products. These products all are important to the prosperity of Texas agriculture. Farmers, millers, bakers and grocers are cooperating to put the proclamation into effect.

combination of (1) and (2); or (4) four years of the required experience. Required experience is full time paid employment in work definitely providing familiarity with employment problems and practices such as are found in industrial, commercial, professional, and labor fields.

The annual salary range for Junior Interviewer is $1260-$1620. Applicants who meet the specifications set forth in the detailed announcements will take written tests to be held in Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Harlingen, Houston, Lubbock, Paris, San Angelo, San Antonio, Tyler, Waco, Wichita Falls, June 24 and 25. Those who pass the examination will be asked to appear before a special interviewing board.

Austin, Texas, May 2.—Farm cash income in Texas as a whole increased slightly more than usual from February to March and as a consequence there was an increase in the March index number as compared with that of the preceding month, according to Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas. The March index was, however, substantially below that of the corresponding month last year.

Computed farm cash income, estimated to be about 90 per cent of actual farm cash income, was $16,434,000 in March, compared with $14,225,000 in February and $19,066,000 in March last year. After adjustment for seasonal variation, the March index is 120.7 compared with 117.6 for

Right Beauty: Wrong College

Chosen as "the only beautiful girl" at the University of Chicago, Miss Joy Hawley, graduate and former beauty of Texas State College for Women, turned out to be enrolled in Northwestern University, where she has already been named a 1938 beauty.

The mix-up began when a Chicago U. magazine stated, "There hasn't been a really beautiful woman around here since, Little Egypt reared her skirts on the World's Fair midway in 1893." To debunk the article, Chicago U. boys went down to the photographers and with the help of three prominent judges selected what they thought was the picture of a Chicago co-ed.

Great was the chagrin of the C. U. student body when their triumphant choice turned out to be a Northwestern girl, Miss Hawley is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Hawley of Denton, Texas.

February and 140.1 in March, 1937. Decline in prices rather than in marketings is responsible for the drop in comparison with last year, Dr. Buechel said.

Austin, Texas, May 2.—Movement of poultry and eggs by rail from Texas to interstate points during March was sharply below that of the corresponding month last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has reported. Poultry shipments totaled 59 cars, compared with 79 in March last year, a decline of 25 per cent; while egg shipments dropped from 94 cars last year to 47 during March of the current year, a decline of 50 per cent. Thirteen cars of eggs were received in Texas from out-of-State points—twelve cars from Kansas and one car from Missouri.

C. H. S. Choral Club
The Colorado High School choral club of about forty members, with their director Mrs. Charles Meiser and the high school principal, Mr. Foster presented a thirty-minute program Monday afternoon at 2:45.

The first group of songs: "Marquette", "Who is Sylvia?", and "Mr. Moon" was followed by two numbers by the girls' sextet. The sextet sang "My Rosary", and "Little Orphan Annie". Another group of three numbers: "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes", "My Little Banjo", and "On the Road to Mandalay" concluded the program and the days tour of the choral club. The day's tour included Sweetwater, Roby, and Roscoe.

BAND ATTENDS CONTEST
The members of the Loraine High School band were called to the office Thursday morning to receive their new uniforms. Thursday afternoon the band marched through the streets in the business section of Loraine to give the people of the town a chance to see the suits.

At four a. m. Friday morning the band left for San Angelo in the school bus for the band contest. We played our required and selected numbers about twelve o'clock. Immediately after playing our concert numbers, we were required to play a number we had never seen before. About six o'clock we marched at the football field before a large crowd of people. There were fifty bands participating in the contest. The marches lasted from five-thirty until twelve o'clock. We left San Angelo about one o'clock Saturday morning, and arrived in Loraine exactly twenty-four hours after we had left.

We placed second in the second division of class D, or about fifth in the fourteen bands.

SENIORS TO H-SU

Twenty-one Seniors and their sponsor, Miss Hoskinson, attended the annual Hardin-Simmons Senior Day in Abilene Saturday, April 30th.

A full day had been mapped out to entertain the visiting Seniors from schools throughout West Texas. The program for the day was as follows: Jamboree Broadcast by the Cowboy Band; Hardin-Simmons Cowgirls; A Hearty Welcome to You, by Frank Selfridge; Male Quartet; Recognition and Introductions of Delegations; Xylophone Duet; Tumbling Team; Choral Club Novelty; Announcements and the Peacock Review. After this program everyone was served barbecue. In the afternoon the University held open house and had skating and games for those who wanted to partake of them. At 3:30 a football concluded the day's program.

All the Loraine Seniors who went came home tired but happy over the enjoyable day they had.

RINGS SELECTED FOR '39 GRADUATES

The Junior class has witnessed one of the most thrilling events of the season. Last Monday they selected their class rings, and put in the order for them. They will get the rings a short time after they take the position of dignified Seniors in Loraine High School next fall.

Sophomore News

The Sophs in the band had a good time, even if we did leave at 4:00 o'clock Friday and get back home at 4:00 o'clock the next morning. We were all tired and sleepy but that was because we were not used to such late hours.

We have only three more weeks of school, so let's have work and play. We have only two more years in dear ole' L.H.S. and even though will be glad to graduate, we realize that we will never be back again.

Junior News

Most of us seem to have spring fever and will be glad when school is out. The Juniors had one of those thrills that come once in a life time when they were measured for their rings last Monday.

Seventh Grade News

The seventh grade was waiting in anticipation nearly all last week for the arrival of the band uniforms. Even those who are not in the band were rather anxious about them.

We wrote some beautiful songs and poems this week we did. We wish we could put them in print, but we know that is impossible. But we will say this much: We found some hidden talent. They are about Texas, Mitchell County and Loraine.

Seven members of the seventh grade went with the band to San Angelo to the contest. We made an interesting trip out to the dam right after noon. We certainly are thankful to the school for our new suits.

Mrs. Page taught the seventh grade while Miss Wilkerson was gone with the band.

Third Grade News

Would you like to know the Units we have studied about all this year? We invited all our friends and parents to visit our room. Some of them have come to see our room and visit with us but to the ones who didn't come we are going to enumerate the Units which we have studied. First we mounted butterflies and pressed fall flowers and studied about cotton; Second, Transportation and Communication; Third, Thanksgiving; Fourth, Christmas; Fifth, Japan and China; Sixth, Famous Birthdays in February; Seventh, Holland; Eighth, Texas and Ninth, Mexico. Now we are pressing spring wildflowers and mounting spring butterflies.

SENIOR-SOPH PARTY

The Seniors and Sophs were entertained with a party Wednesday night at the home of Clista Hoover. Both Sponsors, Miss Roxie Hoskinson and Miss Ruby Lee, were present and both the Senior and Sophomore classes were well represented. There was 56 present in all. Outside games were played before the refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Everyone expressed an enjoyable evening of entertainment.

- No man can really live by bread alone. Yes, we admit he'll EXIST, but there will be heavy lines of care running down his face, he'll forget how to smile.
- Verily, we humans need a few hearty guffaws now and then to chase away those wrinkles of care and give our spirits a lift. That's why this newspaper runs a collection of laugh-provoking comic strips on the Funny Page. Amid the depressing news of floods and earthquakes, crime and war, economic troubles and a host of other maladjustments on the face of Mr. World, it's a pleasant relaxation to shut your eyes on the day's bad tidings.
- You can get a joyful lift in spirits from the comics. We invite our readers to take a big swallow of this bottled sunshine. Turn to the Funny Page right now and forget your troubles!
- Our comic characters are a versatile lot, as you'll notice by glancing down the accompanying panel. If you want to chuckle over real troubles, turn to C. M. Payne's strip "S'Matter Pop," and see what a whale of an order he has to keep these boys of his under control... Or glance at the adventures of the intellectual Adamson, as drawn by O. Jacobson.
- Something that will truly draw tears - of laughter - are Gluyas Williams' mischievous but lovable youngsters, Junior and the Baby... Then there's "Finney of the Force," by Ted O'Loughlin, as comical and as true-to-life an Irishman as ever flipped a night stick... Life out in Cactus Center, as described in S. L. Huntley's "Mescal Ike," has its exciting moments when its rip-roaring citizens are on the loose... And when it comes to "The Featherheads," by Osborne, they speak for themselves. In fact, that's the best thing they do!
- Let these bearers of fun whittle your blues down to size. Toss trouble right out the window and get a new lease on life through the comic page - turn to it right now!

GREAT WAR ALLIANCE

Britain and France Will Pool All Their Armed Forces for Defense of Both Nations

Loan contracts totaling $36,657,000 for four cities, covering not more than 90 per cent of the cost of proposed slum-clearance and low-rent housing, were approved by President Roosevelt upon the recommendation of Nathan Straus, administrator of the housing authority. These will provide approximately 6,667 family dwelling units for over 26,000 slum dwellers. The photograph shows Senator Robert Wagner of New York watching Mr. Straus sign the loan contracts.

Edward W. Pickard SUMMARIZES THE WORLD'S WEEK

Washington correspondents learned from what they considered a trustworthy source that Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Ford were agreed on but one issue—that the government should leave business alone.

Most of the discussion, which was described as good-humored, centered around the government's spending and fiscal policy.

Roosevelt could have turned the thing off with a joke. He could have just smiled and said he hadn't seen the story.

But he didn't. He demonstrated to the reporters that he had worried about the story by telling them he had asked the Vice President about it.

Which immediately put the story in every newspaper in the land, accompanied by the alleged Garner opinion that the cattle (business—big and little) should be allowed to put on a little fat.

It makes no difference now whether Garner said it or not. It sounds like Garner, and it is a logic which at the moment is very appealing to the country.

But the real danger is this. Actually Garner and the President are very far apart indeed on many important issues, notably spending—the very issue on which the fight is now raging.

And, the President having gone as far as he did, Garner simply cannot do anything to stop it without stultifying himself.

Although the vote by which the house pigeonholed President Roosevelt's pet reorganization bill has been hailed from one end of the country to the other by critics of the New Deal.

But a considerable sprinkling of the letters Democratic representatives received urging them to vote against the bill—and considering only letters from people they knew, or knew about—did not indicate any swerving of loyalty to the President.

Incidentally, the Harrison statement was one of two chickens that came home to roost within a week, to the annoyance of the White House.

It was then that Inspector Allen violated a Sioux law as old as the Sioux, the law that decreed sudden death to anyone offering or committing violence upon the sacred personage of a tribal medicine man.

Bracing himself, and reaching upward, Inspector Allen caught firm hold of Sitting Bull, yanked him out of the saddle, and landed him squarely on his sacred sit-down.

Without showing any of the nervousness that he certainly must have felt, Inspector Allen sat at stiff attention for a minute or two, then nudged his horse and guided it deftly through the pack of howling Indians.

Fifteen minutes later, with all but a few of the stolen horses herded for the trip back to quarters, the inspector and his two men rode quietly out of the Sioux campment.

Allen carried with him the distinction of being the only white man ever to man-handle a great and sacred Sitting Bull, live to tell about it.

Elephant Remembers An elephant walked along a road near Rangpur, Bengal, a man in a garden shouted and made faces at it.

The beast ambled into the garden, but the mahout restrained it while the mocker fled to safety.

SEEN and HEARD around the NATIONAL CAPITAL By Carter Field

Washington.—It becomes increasingly apparent with every passing month that President Roosevelt has not successfully replaced Louis McHenry Howe.

It is absurd to say that Howe was Roosevelt's political brain. As a matter of fact Roosevelt often overrode Howe's judgment.

For instance, back in the 1932 campaign Louis Howe moved heaven and earth to prevent Roosevelt from making the swing to the Pacific coast. But Roosevelt went. He wanted to go.

But again and again Howe would be able to stop Roosevelt from doing or saying something that might have unexpected and bad repercussions.

No one who knew the two men believes that Howe would not have prevented the President's opening up the story about the rift between the White House and Vice President John Nance Garner.

Actually it was one of the worst publicity moves made by Roosevelt in his entire political career.

Let's look at the history of this particular item. Chapter one was a sentence in a story by Arthur Krock, published on the editorial page of the New York Times.

Krock knows his Washington from the days of the Taft administration, when he was correspondent here for the Louisville Courier Journal.

He is shrewd and discerning, and his judgment is greatly respected.

An article, printed on the editorial page, would be skipped over by many readers who were not actually Krock fans.

Unfortunately for the President, in this case, there are a good many Krock fans among the Washington newspaper men.

So they asked the President if it were true that Mr. Garner had made the remark about letting the cattle—big and little business—put on a little fat.

Roosevelt could have turned the thing off with a joke. He could have just smiled and said he hadn't seen the story.

But he didn't. He demonstrated to the reporters that he had worried about the story by telling them he had asked the Vice President about it.

Which immediately put the story in every newspaper in the land, accompanied by the alleged Garner opinion that the cattle (business—big and little) should be allowed to put on a little fat.

It makes no difference now whether Garner said it or not. It sounds like Garner, and it is a logic which at the moment is very appealing to the country.

But the real danger is this. Actually Garner and the President are very far apart indeed on many important issues, notably spending—the very issue on which the fight is now raging.

And, the President having gone as far as he did, Garner simply cannot do anything to stop it without stultifying himself.

Although the vote by which the house pigeonholed President Roosevelt's pet reorganization bill has been hailed from one end of the country to the other by critics of the New Deal.

But a considerable sprinkling of the letters Democratic representatives received urging them to vote against the bill—and considering only letters from people they knew, or knew about—did not indicate any swerving of loyalty to the President.

Incidentally, the Harrison statement was one of two chickens that came home to roost within a week, to the annoyance of the White House.

It was then that Inspector Allen violated a Sioux law as old as the Sioux, the law that decreed sudden death to anyone offering or committing violence upon the sacred personage of a tribal medicine man.

Bracing himself, and reaching upward, Inspector Allen caught firm hold of Sitting Bull, yanked him out of the saddle, and landed him squarely on his sacred sit-down.

Without showing any of the nervousness that he certainly must have felt, Inspector Allen sat at stiff attention for a minute or two, then nudged his horse and guided it deftly through the pack of howling Indians.

Fifteen minutes later, with all but a few of the stolen horses herded for the trip back to quarters, the inspector and his two men rode quietly out of the Sioux campment.

Allen carried with him the distinction of being the only white man ever to man-handle a great and sacred Sitting Bull, live to tell about it.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK.—Georges Bonnet, France's new foreign minister, has been a vigorous advocate of a British-French-American alliance.

He is regarded as more in accord with the Chamberlain policies than his predecessors.

With the downfall of the Left government, the conclusion of an Anglo-Italian agreement and the appointment of M. Bonnet, interpreters of European politics see an advance toward a four-power pact, possibly five-power, with Poland in, and the further isolation and immobilization of Russia.

The abandonment of the French-Soviet treaty is expected to be an immediate issue in what is regarded as a sharply clarifying outline of dominant conservative policy in France and England.

M. Bonnet, shrewd, suave, dressy, is a somewhat rakish figure, with his hat usually on the back of his head, but a personage of power and dignity in the political forum.

He is of the younger school of French politics, and, in that connection, one of the best Jai Alai players in France.

At his country place at St. Georges de Didonne, he spends much time making incredible kangaroo leaps, playing pelota basque, as they call it there.

But, in statesmanship, he is no rubber-heeled bounding basque. He is rather a wary and adroit fencer.

When he was appointed ambassador to the United States in January, 1937, he brought with him a year's supply of truffles and pate de foies gras.

He had to take most of it back, however, as, in July, he was recalled to save the franc in the Chautemps cabinet.

He was supposed to have saved it, but, as usual, it didn't stay saved, and, in the turn of the Ferris wheel, which is French politics, he was down under and up again.

He is an economist, but also a philosopher and author, in the chamber of deputies from southwest France at the age of thirty-six and a former minister of budget, pensions and finance.

He budgets a few wisps of hair carefully across his bald pate and surveys the world warily through gold-rimmed spectacles.

JAPAN'S strongly authoritarian government, with its feudal carry-over, has never fitted exactly into any of the molds of ultra-modern absolutism.

The intensifying issue now on the agenda of Japanese politics is the intensifying issue of fascism which may force out the present government.

Spotlighting several likely-looking "strong men" as possible successors to Premier Konoye.

The only one with apparently clearly formulated ideas, and a fluent line of totalitarian talk is War Minister General Hajimi Sugiyama.

After several years of European post-graduate studies in direct action, he returned to talk of "national renovation," "decadent parliamentarianism," "unity and discipline," and the like.

More than any other leader, he employs the standard terminology of fascism—if that means anything.

On May 27, 1937, he gave the diet quite a lacing and said that it would have to behave, or "we will dissolve it."

Since he was then a member of the ruling military triumvirate, this was no casual editorial "we."

While he is fifty-eight years old, he hits big-time politics with a strong momentum, not a contender for high place until 1936, and hence not track-sore, like some of his rivals.

He did not become a general until 1936, after the army revolt early in that year. He had been vice-minister of war and head of the military air force.

His heavily underslung face, resting, neckless, on a heavy torso, is asymmetrical, with one eyebrow always cocked, one side watchful and the set of a Benda mask of a dictator.

He is of the army caste, graduated from the national military college. He represented Japan at the 1926 disarmament conference at Geneva, remaining in Europe for several years thereafter.

Anglo-French Alliance

PREMIER DALADIER and Foreign Minister Bonnet of France had a momentous conference in London with Prime Minister Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary of Great Britain, and at its close it was announced that the two nations had entered into a powerful defensive alliance.

The sensational part is that when the next war comes—and the statesmen seemed sure one is coming—all the armed forces of the French and the British will be pooled under unified commands.

The land forces will be commanded by a French general immediately either of the nations is attacked.

The combined sea and air forces will be under command of British officers. The British air force will be permitted to use French bases.

Purchases of war supplies, including planes from the United States, will be pooled by Britain and France.

War resources such as stores of ammunition, mechanical equipment, and oil will be placed on French soil.

Consequently Britain will not be forced to move them across the English channel in the face of enemy surface warships and submarines when war starts.

Daladier promised Chamberlain that France would, if possible, complete by May 15 negotiations for an alliance of friendship with Italy and if necessary would recognize Mussolini's conquest of Ethiopia.

He also consented to plans for closing the frontier between France and Spain to facilitate the plan for removing "volunteers" from the Spanish civil war.

The British government announced that at the breaking out of the next war all food in Britain would be rationed under a controller.

Asks Press Censorship SENATOR SHERMAN MINTON of Indiana, who succeeded Hugo Black as chairman of the senate's inquisitorial committee, is so vexed with the newspapers that he has introduced a bill providing for censorship of the press.

It is as follows: "Any person, firm, corporation, or association that publishes in the District of Columbia or publishes or causes to be transported in interstate commerce or through the mails any newspaper, magazine, or other periodical in which is published as a fact anything known to said publisher or his responsible agent to be false, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than $1,000 nor more than $10,000 and shall be imprisoned for not more than two years."

Simultaneously the American Newspaper Publishers' association, meeting in New York, reaffirmed its determination to defend the freedom of the press and the constitutional rights of private citizens.

It adopted resolutions condemning the actions of the Minton committee, especially in the case of the organization headed by Frank Gannett.

Ford at White House

ONE of our greatest industrialists, Henry Ford, was the President's guest at luncheon and it was expected that something important or at least interesting would come out of the encounter.

But, officially, it was "just a pleasant family meeting as might take place at a wayside inn." That's what a White House spokesman said. However,

Washington correspondents learned from what they considered a trustworthy source that Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Ford were agreed on but one issue—that the government should leave business alone.

Most of the discussion, which was described as good-humored, centered around the government's spending and fiscal policy.

Roosevelt could have turned the thing off with a joke. He could have just smiled and said he hadn't seen the story.

But he didn't. He demonstrated to the reporters that he had worried about the story by telling them he had asked the Vice President about it.

Which immediately put the story in every newspaper in the land, accompanied by the alleged Garner opinion that the cattle (business—big and little) should be allowed to put on a little fat.

Men of the Mounted

by Captain G. Elliott-Nightingale Copyright, WNU

WHEN SITTING BULL REALLY SAT DOWN

TO VIOLATE an age-old Sioux law, and to do so in the presence of a few hundred Sioux warriors whose weapons still glistened with the white blood of the Custer massacre, to do such an unheard of thing and get away alive, such was the distinction that came, rather suddenly, to one of the smallest men ever seen in the ranks of the Mounted.

The "untouchables" of India had little on the old-time Indian medicine men, when it came to keeping fellow humans at a distance, and one of the most famous of "untouchables" among American Indians was Sitting Bull, medicine man and mad magician of the hard fighting Sioux.

After the frightful butchery at Little Big Horn, the Sioux knew that if they stayed where they were they would soon have thousands of American soldiers on their necks, men who would wreak the fullest measure of revenge for the terrific slaughter of Custer's brave troops.

It was a case of fight, or fly, so after much debate and wrangling, the Sioux decided to fly to Canada, to Manitoba, and seek sanctuary under the British flag until the excitement over the Custer affair had died down.

Six thousand Sioux and a few hundred Nez Perces took refuge on Canadian soil, and the Northwest Mounted Police began to be a bit curious about the newcomers, so an inspector and ten men were dispatched to contact the Sioux and find out what they intended to do in regards to the future, whether they intended to stay in Canada and become "wards," or if they planned raids and depredations against the white settlers in Canada.

After much peace-piping and parleying Sitting Bull, the spokesman, assured the police inspector that the Sioux were on a peaceful mission and that after a breathing spell they would probably return to the United States. Satisfied, the inspector and his men returned to quarters.

The Sioux settled down to the more or less uneven tenor of their semi-savage ways.

Things went along quietly until some of the braves grew restless and staged a horse-stealing foray. This was mistake number one. Mistake number two was that they had been foolish enough to steal some of the best horses from the Northwest Mounted Police, and among these was Inspector Allen's favorite mount.

This was, as Allen put it, "a bit too thick," so with two men he returned to the Sioux and demanded that all the stolen horses be at once brought to him. Sitting Bull shouted and waved a few times, and soon some of the stolen horses were led up to the Men of the Mounted.

"Where's the rest of them?" queried the inspector, quietly.

"Find 'em yourself," said several Sioux simultaneously. As time passed other horses were found and the Men of the Mounted were feeling quite lucky, except for the fact that the inspector's horse had not been found.

Then came a moment when Inspector Allen saw his horse, and its rider was Sitting Bull himself. Giving the sign of friendship, Inspector Allen, head and shoulders shorter than any Sioux brave around him, and probably half the size of Sitting Bull, pointed to the black mare, and said:

"My horse. You must give it back . . . to me."

"My horse . . . Pony Soldier," shouted Sitting Bull.

"That horse carries my brand, my mark," said Allen, softly as he moved close enough to have Sitting Bull's left knee come under his clean-shaven chin.

"My horse!" screamed Sitting Bull. At this hundreds of Sioux warriors, sensing trouble, closed in on the quarrelling pair. Allen stood his ground, however. Again he parleyed with Sitting Bull, and again received a flood of abuse and insolence and a threat of sudden death.

It was then that Inspector Allen violated a Sioux law as old as the Sioux, the law that decreed sudden death to anyone offering or committing violence upon the sacred personage of a tribal medicine man.

Bracing himself, and reaching upward, Inspector Allen caught firm hold of Sitting Bull, yanked him out of the saddle, and landed him squarely on his sacred sit-down.

As a tremendous and deafening uproar broke out, and several braves made dangerous passes at Allen, the latter vaulted swiftly into his saddle. Without showing any of the nervousness that he certainly must have felt, Inspector Allen sat at stiff attention for a minute or two, then nudged his horse and guided it deftly through the pack of howling Indians.

Fifteen minutes later, with all but a few of the stolen horses herded for the trip back to quarters, the inspector and his two men rode quietly out of the Sioux campment.
