HST Denies Hurley Charge On Policy Destruction In China

Byrnes Challenges Ex-Ambassador To Prove Statements That Career Diplomats Sabotaged His Plans For Unity

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley's charge that American foreign policy in Iran had been destroyed by Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson brought a denial today from President Truman.

The President made his first comment after Secretary of State Byrnes told the Senate Foreign Relations committee that Hurley had failed to back up his charges against the conduct of American doplimats in China. Byrnes in effect challenged Hurley to do so.

Papers Brought First News

At a news conference Mr. Truman was reminded that Hurley told the committee yesterday that Undersecretary Acheson destroyed American foreign policy in Iran. The President was asked whether he thought actually that American policy had been destroyed.

He said no.

The first he had heard of that view, he added, was when Hurley expressed it to the Senate committee.

Later it was indicated Acheson may be called to testify before the group.

Byrnes said he had never heard of the charge against Acheson until he read in the papers what Hurley had to say. But President Truman's number one cabinet officer went into great detail on the China points of Hurley's testimony.

Marshall's Main Task

President Truman also told his news conference that General George C. Marshall as his new special envoy to China, will be directed to bend his energies toward getting all factions together there.

The President said he hoped to be able to make public very soon the instructions under which Marshall will operate.

Byrnes directly challenged Hurley's allegations that American career diplomats sabotaged U. S. policy calling for a unified democratic China.

Byrnes told the Senate Foreign Relations committee he could find no basis for the charge that the career men went behind former Ambassador Hurley's back to tell Chinese Communist leaders that Hurley did not represent American policy.

Would Fire Guilty

Byrnes said that if he could find anybody guilty of such conduct, he would fire him forthwith, but he added that Hurley had failed to furnish any evidence.

While Hurley sat quietly on the sidelines after two stormy days before the committee, Byrnes declared in his soft South Carolina drawl:

That he had never heard of any intercepted messages which either George Atcheson or John Service

Texas Regulars, GOP Patronage Flayed

Young Demos Would Lower Voting Age

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

FORT WORTH, Dec. 7—Texas Young Democrats tonight adopted resolutions calling on governors of the state to stop the practice of appointing "Texas Regulars and Republicans" to administrative boards, seeking abolition of the poll tax and lowering of the voting age to 18.

The convention concluded by electing Jack Carter of Fort Worth, a leader of the self-styled "Loyal Democrats" wing of the parent party president and selecting Houston as the site for the 1946 convention.

Other resolutions called on the board of regents of the University of Texas to restore it to full recognition with accrediting agencies, and authorized the president to name a legislative committee to implement the state convention's program.

Dr. Homer P. Rainey, former president of the University of Texas, told the convention in a luncheon session that the controversy at the university is "only one expression of the political disease that is destroying democracy in Texas."

Another expression, he said to a crowd that applauded frequently was "the fantastic effort to steal the elecoral vote" in the 1944 general election.

"Your big job is to combat the anti-democratic forces at work in this state," Dr. Rainey said.

"I urge you to get into this situation and unseat the small minority that is in power. We now have

Some Of Jap War Criminals May Go To Trial In Hawaii

TOKYO, Saturday, Dec. 8 (AP)—On this fourth anniversary of Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor, General MacArthur's chief prosecutor for the impending war criminal trials indicated strongly today that some of the plotters of that attack may be tried in Hawaii for "murder."

(It was Dec. 8, 1941, Tokyo date, when Pearl Harbor was attacked).

Joseph B. Keenan, special prosecutor who has arrived in Tokyo with his staff, in discussing such a possibility, said:

"It is not the men who dropped the bombs but the men who set in motion the plans, who committed the more heinous offense."

Tojo Not To Go There

He said, however, definitely that Hideki Tojo, the No. 1 man on the criminal list and who was premier at the time of the attack, would not be tried in Hawaii.

Asked then if only "small fry" might be tried in the islands, Keenan replied that none of the men he would try were small fry.

"If there is any violation of federal statutes involved, there is no reason why we should not try them in Hawaii," Keenan explained.

Accelerating the wheels of Allied military justice grinding against Japan's warmongers, informed sources said today that quite soon Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, accused of responsibility for the brutal "Bataan Death March," would be taken to Manila for trial.

Yamashita Condemned

It was in Manila yesterday that Homma's successor in the Philippines was condemned to the fate which may await Homma—a sentence of hanging for condoning atrocities by Japanese troops in the Philippines.

The war crimes trials of top Japanese, including Tojo and his "Pearl Harbor cabinet," are scheduled to start in January, Keenan disclosed yesterday.

Keenan said that Allied nations have been invited to nominate members of the court, which will be appointed by MacArthur, and to participate in the prosecution. None yet has named such personnel.

Keenan said previous delays in starting the trials were to respect the rights of other nations and to show that the United States was not taking a high-handed attitude.

Speaking at a 30-minute press conference after a lengthy session with MacArthur, the gray-haired Keenan said the Japanese would be tried in groups, as in Germany, with "the accused presumed innocent until proved guilty."

In announcing the tentative January starting date, with Tojo and his "Pearl Harbor" cabinet near or at the head of the roster, the prosecutor said accusations

Texas Still Lags In Victory Loan

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Texas passed the halfway mark in its victory loan E-bond drive on Pearl Harbor day yesterday, but more than 100 counties in the state have not reached 50 per cent of their quota.

Nathan Adams, state chairman of the drive, said the state has bought $47,889,101 or 53.2 per cent of the E-bond quota, but added:

Must Step Lively

"The drive is not over. We have from now until Dec. 31, to make our $90,000,000 quota. At long last, Texas is beginning to step up in the drive but Texas must step lively if it is to come out ahead of the E-bond phase of the victory loan."

So far, 10 counties have made their E-bond quotas.

Ten additional counties are over the 90 per cent mark and expect to go over the top within the next few days.

"Men who have worked hard during other war bond drives realize this is the last one and that extra effort is needed to put it over," said Adams. "Surely the war isn't over until all the boys are brought back home.

"Certainly Texas isn't lacking in the ability to sell its quota of bonds this time as it has in the past.

"Everyone should buy one more bond to show his appreciation of the boys who fought for our freedom.

"No other state could have more reason to be prouder of its fighters and the purchase of a bond is a fine way to demostrate that pride."

Controls Urged On Real Estate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP) — President Truman said today there will have to be some sort of control over real estate prices to prevent inflation.

He also told his news conference the administration would shortly announce a plan to re-establish a priorities system on building materials.

The purpose of the priorities, Mr. Truman explained, would be to channel supplies of lumber and other materials to home construction.

Realty Price Control

As for price control on real estate, the President said it seemed to be needed especially for small residential building. He added that no definite program had been worked out on this.

A few weeks ago Reconversion Director John W. Snyder turned down a request of several government agencies that the administration ask Congress for authority to fix price ceilings on housing.

Snyder also told a meeting of construction industry representatives that the administration had no intention at that time of asking Congress for such authority.

Since then, Rep. Patman (D-Tex) has introduced a bill which would create a housing director with authority to fix price ceilings in any area where they are deemed necessary.

December 7 Is Tragic Day For This Couple

CHATTANOOGA, Dec. 7 (AP) — To Mr. and Mrs. Van Eastland, December 7 has tragic significance.

Four years ago they were notified their son, Seaman Van Eastland, was killed in the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

It was a mistake — Van lived through that attack and came home to tell about it.

Today, a second and similar message came to the Eastlands. The Navy informed them Van was considered killed after being missing for more than a year. His ship was sunk in the Leyte invasion.

Doctor Says Accused Slayer Was Suffering From Amnesia

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Mrs. Annie Irene Mansfeldt was suffering from amnesia when she killed Mrs. Vada Martin, comely 36-year-old nurse, last Oct. 4, Dr. Joseph Catton testified at the society matron's murder trial today.

"Isn't it possible that Mrs. Mansfeldt was conscious, and that her amnesia is a pretense?" prosecutor Norman Elkington asked the psychiatrist and Stanford university medical school professor.

"It is possible," Catton replied, "but not in my opinion."

Mrs. Mansfeldt, 45, has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to charges that she shot the nurse, wife of Navy Chief Warrant Officer Wilbur Martin of Baltimore, Md., because she feared the woman had stolen the love of her husband, Dr. John H. Mansfeldt.

Mansfeldt, 48, prominent San Francisco physician, ended his own life with poison a few hours after the tragedy.

The defense has maintained that at the time of the shooting Mrs. Mansfeldt was in a state of "somnolentia" induced by drugs administered here by her husband the night before.

Catton said he had found "flashes of memory" in Mrs. Mansfeldt, in which her total personality knew what "Annie, her other, or split personality" had done.

He also said he had found that Mrs. Mansfeldt had told some untruths "in some minor instances" but "there is no evidence to indicate she was not telling the truth about Oct. 4"—the day of the shooting, which she insists she does not recall.

Records Bare Fantastic Nazi War Actions

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NUERNBERG, Dec. 7.—Hitler began massing border troops to hurl against Russia almost 10 months before the actual opening of the "drive to the east" and earlier fought a phoney war in the west for six months only because of bad weather, top German secrets bared at the war crimes trial showed today.

British and American prosecutors unfolded a fantastic story of Hitler's guesses which enabled the German Army to crush seven small countries in 13 months, but failed miserably to estimate the might of the Soviet Union.

Ruthless Science

The erratic, intuitional character of the German leadership, combined with a ruthless military science and perfidious diplomacy, was disclosed in scores of captured German secret reports introduced as evidence against the 20 top Nazis now on trial.

The prosecutors, concluding the third week of the historic trial, introduced documents showing that Hitler began reinforcing troop concentrations on the Soviet-German border as early as September, 1940, almost 10 months before his June 22 invasion of Russia.

On Dec. 5, 1940, Hitler told Hermann Goering, Field Marshall Keitel and Grand Admiral Raeder, now on trial, that he was planning to "achieve the annihilation of the Russian Army and to prevent its regeneration."

Could Wipe Out Reds

Thirteen days later he asserted that his German forces could crush the Soviet Union in a quick campaign before the end of the war against Britain and voiced confidence that the Red Army could be wiped out by encirclement.

Although he considered Russia a much more dangerous adversary than the United States, Hitler deliberately postponed his attack on the Soviet Union for four weeks until his armies had overrun both Yugoslavia and Greece, the document showed.

The German records showed that Hitler's armies were poised to strike through the Low Countries and France on Nov. 7, 1939, but because of bad weather the attack was postponed week by week for six months. When Hitler finally named May 10, 1940, as his "D" day, he complained he did so against his intuition.

Defendants Stare Bleakly

The 20 defendants stared bleakly at their accuser.

Nowhere in the mountainous stacks of captured documents was there a shred of evidence that such professional warriors as Keitel, Col. Gen. Alfred Gustav Jodl, Raeder and Admiral Doenitz ever expressed the slightest compunction in preparing and executing the series of invasions launched without warning.

Still another illustration of the charges of perfidy and treachery was the captured German naval orders disclosing that German warships and camouflaged troop transports carried British flags and signals to screen the attack on Norway and Denmark.

In the attack upon Yugoslavia the British prosecutor said, not even the pretense of a "warning" was made.

He described the Nazi technique a "the method of the barbarian, of a state without honor for its pledged word."

Nationalist Vanguard Enters Manchu City

CHUNGKING, Dec. 7. (AP)—Chinese dispatches reported today that vanguards of central government forces had reached the outskirts of Mukden and should enter that important Manchurian city within three days. Otherwise only small-cale clashes marked China's wordy civil strife.

The drive from the Great Wall to near Mukden has been accomplished against negligible Communist opposition with loss of less than 100 government troops, the Chungking accounts said.

Papers here predicted that Chiang Kai-Shek's civil administration would take over in Manchuria from the Russian next week.

Elsewhere, Communists and government forces were reported clashing south of Kupeikow in one of the passes leading to Jehol province.

991 Jap Nationals Leave For Homeland

SEATTLE, Dec. 7. (AP)—A party of 991 Japanese nationals, 820 of them women or children under 12, boarded the liner Matsonia today for the trip back to Nippon.

The Japanese came here from Crystal Springs, Tex. Immigration authorities said a few had been interned by South American countries during the war.

JAP REPATRIATION SET

TOKYO, Saturday, Dec. 8 (AP) America's top-ranking Army and Navy commanders in the Pacific today drafted recommendations on demobilization and repatriation of Japanese troops in China and allocation of resources, General MacArthur's headquarters announced. Thomas Says Anti-Trust Probe Of GM Is Promised By Government

DETROIT, Dec. 7. (AP)—A government investigation of General Motors Corp. under anti-trust laws was diclosed today while the corporation and the CIO United Auto Workers wrangled in their wage dispute.

The Department of Justice in Washington confirmed a union announcement that it was inquiring into operations of the corporation, which has been crippled for 17 days by a strike. The union had asked such a probe.

Session Is Recessed

Representatives of the corporation and union meanwhile recessed a bargaining session until Monday, reporting little progress in the attempt to settle the UAW-CIO's demand for a 30 per cent wage rate increase within General Motors' present price structure.

GM officials said there would be no company statement on today's negotiating session, but Walter Reuther, UAW vice president, told a press conference:

"The 13½ cent an hour offer is only the beginning. The corporation will give more and more and more and finally will wrap it up and we'll all go back to work."

GM's Thursday Offer

He referred to GM's Thursday offer to reinstate the 13½ cent increase, which the UAW rejected shortly before the strike was called at GM plants in 20 states.

As today's bargaining session was going on, the office of President R. J. Thomas of the union announced that Attorney General Tom B. Clark was investigating General Motors with a view to determining whether GM was in violation of anti-trust laws.

Clark declined comment, but the Justice department said the attorney general had sent this telegram to Thomas: "The department has been investigating several anti-trust cases of the type you mention, among which is General Motors. Glad to receive any

Yule Fund Climbs To $296 On First Day

CONTRIBUTIONS to the Eleventh Annual Goodfellows Christmas Sheer fund reached $296—only $4 short of 20 per cent of the $1,500 goal—in the first day's tabulation and Chief Goodfellow, anonymous head of the campaign, last night was in fine fettle.

"I believe," he said, "we'll get the 1946 financial drive out of the way in record time and then we'll really be able to get to work on details to assure a Merry Christmas to every Lubbock boy and girl of 14 years of age, or younger. The campaign looks good so far—and if folk's just make their donations as rapidly as they conveniently can it will be looking better every day."

All Treated Alike

Pointing out that the Goodfellows deliver generous Yuletide packages to all boys and girls who otherwise might not have a Merry Christmas—that there is no distinction because of race, color or creed—Chief Goodfellow directed that contributions be brought or mailed to The Avalanche-Journal. "Just tell the folks to address contributions to me," he said, "and they'll be reflected in the Christmas gifts to the youngsters."

Donations of from 25 cents "on up" are solicited.

First list of donations was announced as follows:

Furr Food Stores	$ 25.00
R. F. Hinchey	50.00
William Levine	25.00
Luther Transfer and Storage Co.	25.00
DeWitt Landis	10.00
Betty Louise Formby	1.00
The Chicken House	25.00
Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Miller	5.00
Bill Roberts Cotton Co.	25.00
Dr. H. H. Bidwell	5.00
Homer D. Grant	25.00
Trix Wood Millinery	5.00
Lennis and James Baker	25.00
J. C. Penney Co.	25.00
Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Bryant	25.00
Southwestern Public Service	25.00
Total	$296

All contributions, Chief Goodfellow said, will be publicly acknowledged in The Morning Avalanche and Evening Journal.

As the financial campaign, aimed at furnishing a generous Christmas package to every Lubbock boy and girl of 14 years of age and under, got going, the public was urged again to fill out coupons, appearing daily in The Avalanche-Journal, and mail them in as directed in the coupon, appearing in this issue on Page 5. The Goodfellows make no distinction as to race, color or creed and seek to remember all children whose Christmas could be lacking unless enrolled on Goodfellows lists.

Angry Wife Runs Husband Down In Car, And Crushes Him To Death Atop Pile Of Garbage

PATERSON, N. J., Dec. 7. (AP)—Dignified, gray-haired Mrs. Geneva Humphrey was charged today by prosecutor's assistant Jasper G. Kirchner with chasing her husband with an automobile, cornering him in a blind alley and crushing him to death atop a garbage pile in front of a cellar door. She was held on a murder charge.

Kirchner gave this account of the death of Hugh Edwin Humphrey, 43, chauffeur-butler to erstwhile suffragist Carrie Chapman Catt, and the arrest of his wife, maid in Mrs. Catt's New Rochelle, N. Y. home:

The death chase early today in nearby Singac followed an argument between the couple that had started shortly after midnight in a taproom, over another woman with whom the 47-year-old Mrs. Humphrey said her younger husband had been "running around."

The Humphreys, who until ten days ago had worked for four year at a war plant in Clifton, N. J., left New Rochelle last night for Passaic county to see about leasing their former Mountain View residence to Mr. and Mrs. John Lombardo of Wayne township. (All these municipalities are near Paterson.)

The two couples started in good spirits. They played shuffleboard and visited two bars. Then the Humphreys began to argue over the other woman. The dispute became heated when they reached a diner in Singac.

Humphrey threw up his hands and walked out of the diner. Lombardo went after him in an effort to patch up the quarrel. The two were walking along Route 32 when the Humphreys' automobile driven by the wife bore down on them. They leaped to safety and Humphrey darted up the alleyway. Mrs. Humphrey turned the car around and began pursuit. Humphrey was trapped, and died upon the wheels.

Marshall Says Dewey Kept Jap Code-Breaking Secrets

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP) — Gen. George C. Marshall told today how Gov. Thomas E. Dewey complied with his fervent plea to soft pedal 1944 campaign debate that might have tipped the Japanese the United States had cracked their code.

The retired chief of staff told the joint committee investigating Pearl Harbor he informed the Republican nominee of the "utterly tragic consequences" that might follow any revelation of the code-cracking secret in the campaign arguments over the Pearl Harbor disaster. Dewey, he said, not only held his own silence but offered, after the election, to help still congressional debate.

Roosevelt Didn't Know It

The late President Roosevelt, Marshall testified, did not know he had made his appeal to the New Yorker and added:

"I think he died without knowing it."

Marshall's two letters to Dewey were introduced in evidence, and Marshall in oral testimony told the investigators of the circumstances.

There were two letters because Dewey, declined to be bound by a stipulation that he must not reveal its contents to anyone, returned the first one unread to the Army officer who took it to him.

The second, practically identical, was read by Dewey under an agreement that he might have one adviser present and keep one copy.

Recalls Solon's Speech

The missives, one dated Sept. 25 and the other Sept. 27, 1944, mentioned a speech in Congress by Rep. Harness (R-Ind) on the question of a Pearl Harbor investigation. Marshall wrote that although Harness might not so interpret it, the speech would mean

Yamashita Given Death Sentence

MANILA, Dec. 7. (AP)—Death on the gallows was decreed for Lt Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita today by a five-general U. S. military commission which found him guilty of permitting monstrous atrocities by Japanese troops in the Philippines.

No date was set for the execution, which in accordance with American military law must await review of the commission's findings by the commander of Army forces in the western Pacific and confirmation by General MacArthur.

Prisoner Bows Curtly

Yamashita's shoulders sagged as he heard the death sentence, but he straightened quickly and made a curt bow to the commission. He listened stony-faced but his fingers drummed the table as Maj. Gen Russell B. Reynolds slowly read the findings of the commission, with the defendant's interpreter translating word by word into Japanese.

Before hearing the verdict, the conqueror of Malaya and one-time Japanese commander in the Philippines stood, visibly nervous, while the interpreter read this statement to the court:

Grateful For Defense

"I wish to stand here today with a clear conscience and swear to God I am innocent of these charges. I wish to take this opportunity to express gratitude to the United States officers of the defense, brilliant and upright officers. I want to thank the commission for a fair trial."

Later he emphasized his gratitude toward his American attorneys by distributing among them treasured personal possessions.

Allies Start Gigantic Job Of Moving 6,650,000 Germans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP) — The Allies have begun the gigantic task of transferring 6,650,000 Germans from Austria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland into the four occupation zones of Germany.

The State department disclosed today that the Allied Control council in Berlin approved a plan for the transfer at a meeting Nov. 20. The plan outlines tentative allocation of the transferred Germans among the zones of occupation and sets up a schedule for their movement.

Transfers begin this month and are scheduled to be completed by Aug. 1, 1946, the announcement said.

Here are the allocations:

Of the total German population of 3,500,000 to be moved from Poland, 2,500,000 go to the Russian zone and 1,500,000 to the British zone.

Of 2,500,000 to be transferred from Czechoslovakia, 1,750,000 go to the American zone and 750,000 to the Russian zone.

From Hungary 500,000 go to the American zone.

From Austria 150,000 go to the French zone.

The council plan should "greatly alleviate" certain difficulties which have arisen from the premature migration of Germans into Germany from Poland and territory now under Polish control, the announcement said.

Great Array Of Issues Faced

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7—The foreign secretaries of the United States, Britain and Russia will meet in Moscow Dec. 15, the State department announced tonight, to tackle an array of critical international issues including control of atomic energy.

Secretary of State Byrnes is planning to fly to the Russian capital, probably leaving Washington early next week.

It is considered improbable that he will be home by Christmas.

First Since September

This will be the first meeting of Byrnes, Foreign Minister Bevin of Britain and Foreign Commissar Molotov of Russia since the breakdown of the London council of foreign ministers in September.

The mere fact that they have agreed to get together again at this time is considered by authorities here to be a hopeful sign of improvement in relations between the three countries.

The plan for the meeting in Moscow was suggested by Byrnes on Nov. 24.

Some Of Big Problems

Here are some of the main problems confronting the governments of the three great powers as the time for the foreign ministers meeting approaches:

1. The whole machinery of European peace making has stalled as a result of the breakdown of the council at London in September and there has been no final agreement on a compromise proposed by Byrnes that a general European peace conference should be held by the end of this [illegible] —the time limits now obviously out of the question.

2. The refusal of the United States and Britain to recognize the governments of Romania and Bulgaria remains a touchy point with Russia which considers her interest in those countries to be dominant.

Jap Control Machinery

3. The United States and Russia particularly remain without agreement over Allied control machinery for Japan despite weeks of negotiating and Russia still holds aloof from the Far Eastern Advisory commission here.

4. Another source of conflict among the powers is Iran where Russian and British troops remain in occupation, one section of the country is torn by civil strife and the United States only a few days ago lost in its efforts to have all

Rallying Cry Is Issued For GOP

CHICAGO, Dec. 7. (AP) — The Republican party was called on today to make a determined bid for national leadership in this atomic age with a "revitalized" administration heeding the cries of the "little people of the world" to avert another war.

Rep. Joseph Martin, of Massachusetts, House minority leader, made this plea to a special meeting of the Republican National committee, after Gov. Dwight H. Green, of Illinois, had denounced President Truman's foreign and domestic policies and urged the GOP to take stock of its own faults.

Every Skirmish Said Lost

Green charged the Truman administration "has lost every skirmish on the diplomatic front" since the end of the war and has suffered the "most humiliating defeat in American history."

His speech led some committeemen to wonder whether he was not starting a move to get on the GOP national ticket in 1948. He was given a rousing ovation and spoke after being introduced by Chairman Herbert Brownell, jr., as "one of the greatest Republic-

Announcement that Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president emeritus of Texas Technological college, surprised a meeting of the college board of directors Wednesday by agreeing to underwrite $100,000 toward the cost of a $300,000 athletic stadium, and announced the principal sum of bonds in that amount eventually would become a gift to the college, is main news of the past week.

The directors approved proposed construction of three additional dormitories for the college; to accept an offer of the City of Lubbock for a lease on facilities at Lubbock Army Air field, if declared surplus and appointed a committee to confer with Chairman Weaver Baker of the State Board of Control and Governor Stevenson, with a request that the board of control press its application to the RFC immediately for gift of the Pantex Ordnance plant to Tech.

Dr. Jones explained he hoped a stadium would help Tech become a member of the Southwest conference and added "I've always wanted to do something for the college." Chairman Chas. C. Thompson remarked earnestly "No man has done more for it than you have."

Immediately after voting to accept Dr. Jones' generous offer and tendering him the honor of naming the stadium in behalf of himself and Mrs. Jones, the board agreed to raise $50,000 themselves and to accept the offer of the chamber of commerce and college alumni to raise an additional $150,000 for the stadium.

Announcement Tea Given In Slaton

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 7. (Special)—A tea announcing the engagement and approachingg marriage of Miss Phyllis McReynolds and A. Burnon Haws, of Post, was given in the home of Mrs. Fred England in Slaton Sunday afternoon by the mother of the honoree, Mrs. R. E. McReynolds of Plainview. The wedding will take place early in January.

Guests included members of the reception house party, and the bride-elect's wedding party.

Mrs. England met guests at the door and presented them to Mrs. McReynolds who headed the receiving line made up of herself, the honoree, Mrs. A. B. Haws of Post, mother of the bridegroom, Miss Louise Ince of Spur, and Miss Dorothy Jones of San Angelo.

Announcement of the approaching marriage was made known in the form of a "news extra" as little Miss Patsy Hickman distributed the hand bills to arriving guests.

Carry Out Bridal Colors

A white grass linen cloth covered the table which was centered with a crystal bowl of peach colored gladioli, and tall peach tapers were arranged on either end. Peach gladioli and greenery were featured throughout the entertaining rooms, carrying out the brides' chosen color scheme.

In the living room, the mantel was decorated with white tulle bows and wedding bells, and a wide white satin ribbon extended across the front bearing the names "Phyllis and Burnon" in gold letters. Pictures of the couple centered the arrangement and were reflected in a gold framed mirror.

Mrs. Troy Pickens, of Slaton, cousin of the honoree, presided at the silver tea service, assisted by Misses Mary Ann Schmidt and Charlene Fisher.

Guests were registered by Miss Nina Ray Hickman.

The guest list included Mesdames L. B. Wooten, R. D. Hickman, Bob Smith, Silas Wilson, S. H. Adams, Fred Whitehead, P. A. Minor, R. M. Shepherd, J. N. McReynolds, grandmother of the honoree, Mrs. Allen Ferrell and Miss Mary Ann Wilson, all of Slaton; Mrs. J. E. Parker of Post; Mrs. Travis Ferguson of Morton; Mrs. Roland Ziegler of Plainview, and Mrs. E. S. Johnston of Sweetwater.

Miss Wilda Hanna of Slaton played piano selections throughout the tea hour.

Euzelian Class Has Regular Luncheon

First Baptist Euzelian class members attended a regular luncheon and program at the Activities center Thursday. Twenty-one adults and five children were present.

Mrs. G. N. Hallmark sang "Snowflakes" (Cowen) and "Four Little Grasshoppers" (Longacre), accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Jerry Dye. Mrs. B. T. Rucker read a scripture Acts 18: 17-11 and Mrs. Felton Jones gave a devotion on missions. Mrs. Jones was elected stewardship vice president to succeed Mrs. Carl Holtzclaw, who has moved to Plainview.

Plans were made for a Christmas party Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the center, with each member bringing a gift to be placed on a tree.

Mrs. Alford Speaks For Altrusa Club

The non-partisan public affairs committee of Altrusa club was in charge of a program Thursday night in the home of Miss Clara Pratt, 1620 Ave. N, at which Mrs. George Mae Alford spoke. Mrs. Alford said, "If bonds for all the improvements planned in the 14 points in the city expansion program are voted Tuesday, it will mean not more than forty cents on one hundred dollars and because of increased tax evaluation may be considerably less."

Mrs. Vera Maxey outlined various health plans and explained the cooperative hospital movement. Mrs. Agnes Hampton told of efforts to keep inflation down.

Mrs. Jessie Byers, vice president, has become Altrusa president because the incumbent, Mrs. Tom Holden, moved to Amarillo. Thursday night Mrs. Bernice Carnahan was elected vice president and Mrs. Fay Westmoreland was elected secretary to succeed Mrs. Vera Chapman, who resigned.

Others present were Mesdames Leo Baker, Allie M. Dyer and Teressa Gegg, Misses Morrine George and Opal Wood.

Misses Ella May Butler and Effie Puryear were assistant hostesses.

U. S. Affirms Pledge In Message To Iran

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes reaffirmed today the pledge made by the United States at Tehran to maintain the independence, sovereignty and territorial integrity of Iran.

In a telegram to Foreign Minister Abolghassem Madjm, who had recalled the promise made by the Big Three when they conferred in the Iranian capital in December of 1943, Byrnes said:

'I welcome this opportunity of expressing against the recognition by the government of the United States of the assistance rendered by Iran in the recent victory over our common enemy and assuring you that the interest of the government of the United States in maintenance of the independence, sovereignty and territorial integrity of Iran as set forth in that declaration has not changed in any respect."

Big Majority In Seven States Approves Peacetime Training

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—Further surveys on the question of military training during peacetime find large majorities favoring the idea in Wisconsin, Missouri, Kansas, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Texas, and California.

GALLUP

Other recently published surveys on the issue have found sentiment favoring peacetime military training overwhelming in Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, and Illinois, as well as throughout the nation as a whole.

The question used in surveys on the issue:

"In the future, do you think every able-bodied young man should be required to take military or naval training for one year?"

Replies:

	Yes	No	No op.
Wisconsin	70%	26%	4%
Missouri	70	25	5
Kansas	70	26	4
Kentucky	75	18	7
Oklahoma	74	22	4
Texas	78	16	6
California	77	22	3

Letters to Congress are reported continuing to pour into Washington largely in opposition to any program calling for a year of military training.

The findings in all surveys on the question to date reveal that these letters to congressmen are representing at very best fewer than one-fourth of all voters in the country.

This does not mean that congressmen are in a position to ignore such minorities, however. A congressman's margin of victory in an election at home may have been smaller in size at his last election than the voting strength of the minority which is demanding that the congressman vote in accordance with its views. The influence of the minorities at the polls can thus be out of proportion to its numbers in the total voting group in the legislator's constituency.

People give two reasons, principally, for favoring a peacetime military program calling for a year's training. One, they say this nation should be prepared for the threat of another war and that a military training program will help out in that direction. Two, they say that such a program contributes toward the discipline and health of the nation's youth.

Those opposing a military training program say: (1), it is better to do our mobilizing when war really threatens us; (2), such a program would interfere with education; (3), such a program would encourage war; it would waste federal funds; the atomic bomb renders large armies obsolete; (4), it is undemocratic.

Charles O. Graham Is Now A Staff Sergeant

FAR EAST AIR SERVICE COMMAND, THE PHILIPPINES —Charles O. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Graham, of Lubbock, Texas, has been promoted to staff sergeant by the Far East Air Service Command.

S/Sgt. Graham entered the service in October, 1942 and upon arriving overseas was assigned to duty with the Far East Air Service Command, the organization responsible for providing repairs, supplies, maintenance and personnel to units of the Far East Air Force.

He is a high school graduate and prior to entering the service, he was a shipping clerk for Soobey Fire Proof Storage Co., in San Antonio, Texas.

His wife, Genevieve and two children are residing in 922 Thirty-second, Lubbock, Texas.

News Briefs

Pfc. H. D. Phillips, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Phillips, Lubbock, and veteran of Leyte and Okinawa, is now a patient in Moore General Hospital in Swannanoa, N. C. Phillips entered the service July 6, 1943, and served in the Asiatic Pacific with the medical section of the 184th Regiment of the 7th Infantry division. He wears the Purple Heart for a battle wound and the Combat Medical Badge for meritorious achievement under enemy fire.

OPA To Curb Prices On Electric Irons, Other Choice Items

DALLAS, Dec. 7. (AP) — The electric irons and washing machines Mrs. Housewife has been waiting for will come on the market soon at ceiling prices similar to those of 1942—and OPA is taking steps to see that she doesn't pay more.

William E. Remy, formerly with the regional OPA enforcement division in Dallas but now chief of OPA's consumer rent and durables division in Washington, D. C., was in Dallas today conferring with southwestern enforcement attorneys on problems expected to arise with the release of household appliances and furnishings.

Remy explained that a special program is being launched by OPA in key cities throughout the U. S. to "nip in the bud" what he called price violations on vacuum sweepers, stoves, irons, washers, furniture and other new durable merchandise for which unusual demand is anticipated.

Drop In Magnesium Plants Is Planned

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—The Surplus Property administration recommended today that seven of 13 government-owned magnesium plants be taken out of production. It said the other six should be held in partial production or on a standby basis.

The government's investment in the 13 federally owned plants is $370,000,000, SPA said, adding that they represent 90 per cent of the country's total magnesium producing capacity of 293,000 tons a year.

Plants covered by this recommendation, and their cost to the government include international plant at Austin, Tex., $18,800,000.

As for the other six government plants, SPA recommended that they be leased or sold "on condition that they be kept available for magnesium production even though they engaged in the production of other materials."

These plants include: Dow Chemical at Freeport, Tex., $8,200,000, and Dow Magnesium at Elasco, Tex., $56,600,000.

SPA said the Freeport and Velasco plants are the two in which production costs are lowest.

SPA said the combined production capacity of these two Texas plants and the privately-owned plants "would be far in excess of the most optimistic estimates of postwar consumption of magnesium."

Inmates, UNRRA Are Blamed For Setup In Camp For Homeless

By DON DOANE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LANDSBERG, Germany, Dec. 7.—Blame for unsanitary conditions found at the displaced persons camp here has been laid almost equally to the inmates themselves and UNRRA authorities by an inspection group of four high American officials.

The group, headed by Lt. Gen Walter Bedell Smith, U. S. Army Chief of Staff in the European theater, found 6,200 homeless Jews living in quarters designed for 4,200, with sanitary conditions so bad that Smith told A. A. Glassgold, the UNRRA camp director, (of 22 West 23rd St., New York:) "I would be ashamed."

Inmates Are Blamed

Smith had just inspected barracks where human excrement littered some of the rooms. The general later told a committee of the camp's inmates that "you folks are not doing your part to keep the place sanitary."

The investigation grew out of charges by Lee Srole, the camp's welfare officer, that the inmates were underfed, ill-clothed, overcrowded in unfit quarters and menaced by the threat of a "disastrous epidemic." Srole, who announced his resignation when making the charges, said last night he had reconsidered and would stay on the job.

Seek More Housing

Accompanying Smith on a special train from Frankfurt for the investigation were Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, commander of the U. S. Third army; Maj. Gen. Albert W. Kenner, surgeon general for the European theater; Simon H. Rifkind, U. S. Army advisor on Jewish affairs, and a score of correspondents.

Dr. Kenner told Smith that, with reasonable precautions, there was no danger of an epidemic Kenner said there was no evidence of malnutrition at the camp, and that the food was adequate, although short of undergarments, and added the quarters were sufficiently heated by stoves.

Gen. Smith blamed much of the overcrowding on Jews who are slipping into the American zone from the Russian and British sectors at the rate of nearly 3,000 weekly. He estimated that 90 per cent of the repatriated Jews are coming back, many of them with their families.

Smith told the inmates that the Army would seek additional housing to ease the over-crowding.

Crude Petroleum On Hand Shows Drop

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Bureau of Mines reported today that stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum totaled 218,845,000 barrels on Dec. 1, a net decrease of 518,000 barrels for the week. Domestic crude decreased 482,000 barrels; foreign crude decreased 36,000.

Daily average production was 4,448,000 barrels, a decrease of 21,000. Runs to stills averaged 4,690,000, a decrease of 42,000.

Stocks, by grade or origin, and change from previous week (in thousands of barrels):

Nation's E Bond Sale Still Far From Goal

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—The treasury today announced, with little fanfare, that the Victory loan had gone over the top of its $11,000,000,000 goal.

The lack of enthusiasm over bond sales totaling $12,288,000,000—including corporation purchases of $8,076,000,000, and individual purchases of $4,212,000,000—stemmed from the fact that only $1,165,000,000 was in E Bonds. These are the securities aimed primarily at the consumer with idle cash.

The E bond goal is $2,000,000,000. Sales to date represent only 58 per cent of the goal. The drive, which began October 29, ends officially tomorrow midnight but accounting will continue until the December 31.

Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson in announcing the new totals, said "War Bond volunteers throughout the land will keep their campaign going at high speed until their (E bond) objective has been reached.

Talks To Be Resumed In Bus Wage Strike

FORT WORTH, Dec. 7. (AP) — Negotiations between the AFL union representing 2,000 striking bus drivers an dthe Southwestern Greyhound Bus company will be resumed here next Wednesday at 10 a. m.

The second negotiation meeting recessed yesterday at the suggestion of U. S. Conciliation service representatives.

Discussions underway since Dec. 4 have centered on operating procedures. Wage increases of one cent per mile demanded by the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America union will be discussed when the conferences resume.

The strike begun Nov. 4 has affected drivers in eight Southwestern states.

Transaction Approved On Utility Securities

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7. (AP) — The Securities and Exchange commission gave its approval today to American Power & Light company's plan to sell its holdings of New Mexico Electric Service company securities.

The plan calls for American's contribution to New Mexico of 21,650 shares of the latter's common stock, with an aggregate stated value of $433,000 to enable New Mexico to make certain accounting adjustments.

New Mexico would assign to American its claims against Electric Bond and Share company.

The commission exempted the transaction from competitive bidding requirements.

Laredo Approves Plan For New TB Hospital

LAREDO, Dec. 7 (AP)—The board of directors of the Laredo Chamber of Commerce last night uanimously passed a resolution saying that Laredo has no objection to the establishment of a tubercular hospital at Fort McIntosh, Army base recently declared surplus by the war department.

The resolution was forwarded by Mayor Hugh S. Cluck to Weaver Baker, chairman of the State Board of control.

Formal application had been made by the State Board of control for possession of the fort for converting it into a state hospital.

Flu, Undulant Fever Far Above Average

AUSTIN, Dec. 7. (AP)—Undulant fever and influenza show an increase of five times the 7-year median according to the State Department of health.

For the week Dec. 1-7 there were 4,138 cases of influenza as compared with 807 for the median, and 25 cases of undulant fever as compared with a median of five.

The health department said increases were also note in dysentery, malaria, measles, mumphs, pneumonia, scarlet fever, typhus fever and whooping cough.

Chile has an area of 286,396 square miles.

"WE NEVER CLOSE"

Would this be fair?

Can you imagine your milkman, grocer, barber or tailor charging you extra just because you were able to pay more than some people?

Of course you can't. And what a state of confusion everything would soon be in if people tried to operate that way.

Suppose the people GM workers trade with told them, "We know you make more than most industrial workers, so we're going to charge you more for everything!"

Yet this is exactly the principle UAW-CIO leaders are trying to establish in their wage demands on General Motors.

To be logical, union leaders should also say to a company that is losing money, "You're having a hard time making both ends meet, so we're suggesting a cut in wages."

Can you imagine any union leader ever making such an offer? Of course, you can't.

U. S. Ready To Ignore French In Plan For Unified German Control

By CHARLES P. ARNOT
United Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—Washington has authorized American Military government heads to ignore French opposition and negotiate with the British and Russians on a three-power basis for creation of a centralized German government, the United Press learned today.

But the impasse which is threatening the entire structure of the Potsdam agreement remained unbroken, because the Russians were understood to be unwilling to establish any central German administration which does not embrace all Germany, including the French occupation zone.

British Straddle Fence

The British were said to be noncommittal.

The American decision to proceed on a three-power basis was revealed when Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American deputy military governor, authorized the United Press to quote him as saying that instructions from Washington to that effect have been on his desk "for some time."

Clay refused to elaborate, except to say he had been empowered to negotiate directly with the British and Russians at his own discretion.

But a highly-placed source said Clay had offered openly at Allied Control council meetings to negotiate on a three-power basis—without France—all questions involving establishment of central German agencies.

May Become Critical

The same source said American leaders here and in Washington were convinced the occupation was doomed to failure without a unified administration. He added that the deadlock created by French opposition had created a situation which was threatening to become critical.

"If it had not been for the French position, Germany already would be a going concern," he said.

This informant estimated that a central, German-run administration could be functioning within 90 days if the French changed their attitude.

Hurley's Charges

sought to exchange secretly with Chinese Communist leaders while those two diplomats were on duty in Chungking.

Efforts Not Hurt

That there is no evidence that the subsequent appointment of Atcheson and Service as advisers to Gen. Douglas MacArthur had hurt Hurley's efforts to unify the Communists with the Chinese government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. In fact, Byrnes said, two weeks after their appointment was announced on Sept. 4 Hurley wired Washington that there were "favorable developments" in his efforts at Chinese unity.

That Hurley, in spite of his recent public insistence on a need for a declaration of United States policy on China, had never asked either Byrnes or President Truman to make a public statement. Byrnes contended that in fact no such statement was needed—that American support for Chiang Kai-Shek had been proved beyond question by American actions.

Doesn't Want Yes Men

That Byrnes does not want the diplomatic service made up of yes-men, but wants every officer in that service to feel free to criticize policy and recommend changes.

At one point Senator Bridges (R-NH) asked a series of questions as to whether President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill made an agreement "involving the life or death of China" at the Big Three meeting at Yalta. Byrnes said he didn't know whether any such agreement was made, that he'd have to check back on the communique issued after Yalta.

Once the questioning got around to the dispatch of Gen. George C. Marshall as President Truman's special envoy to China. Bridges wanted to know whether "it is true as rumored that Gen. Marshall will be given a new directive to compel Chiang Kai-Shek to make concessions to the Chinese Communists under a threat of reprisals, military aid, credits or surplus property?"

Same General Policy

Byrnes said the policy memorandum to be given Marshall would carry forward the same policy on which Hurley worked—and he praised Hurley's work in China.

Committeemen also raised the question of charges made by Hurley yesterday that Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson had scuttled United States policy on Iran. Byrnes said all he knew about that was what he had read in the papers, that he had not had time to investigate, but that Acheson himself would be available to testify any time.

would go back to 1937, when Japan started war in China.

"What about the emperor?" a correspondent asked.

"No comment on that," Keenan replied firmly.

All Have Penalties

Asked what penalties would be provided, he replied that every civilized country had a penalty to fit the offense of persons whose acts meant loss of life of innocent people and that "my job here concerns the criminals who planned, devised and conspired to bring about a war of aggression contrary to the laws of nations and treaties of nation.

"It was a plan of outright murder without declaration and without an attempt to justify themselves."

Keenan said he did not think the trials would be prolonged, remarking, "this is not to be a Roman holiday for technicalities either by the prosecution or defense."

SWC Heads Holding Annual Winter Meet

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Dec. 7.—The Southwest conference faculty committee opened its winter session tonight with important eligibility problems concerning returning servicemen in athletics at the top of the agenda.

At the present time the conference's transfer rule prohibits an athlete who competed at a senior college before entering the service from being eligible at any other school except in the case of Naval trainees. Last year a rule was passed that they could remain at the schools where they competed as trainees but the time would count against them. They could return to their original schools and the time spent at the other school would not count.

Would Waive Transfer Rule

A move was on foot, spearheaded by the University of Arkansas, to waive the transfer rule and allow a returning veteran to be eligible at any college. However, opposition was forming to this proposal on the grounds that it would cause proselyting and would emerge into a race by the schools to grab off the choice athletes.

Indications were that the faculty committee would decide to keep the transfer rule technically in effect but to rule on cases individually and show leniency where the cases so justified.

Use Of Freshmen Talked

The committee also is expected to discuss the rule which allowed freshmen to compete in varsity athletics during the war. It was indicated that this rule would be kept in effect at least through 1946 because of the unsettled conditions brought about by the continuance of the draft that might prevent sufficient manpower for athletics without the use of the freshmen.

Also apparently up for discussion was Rice Institute's action in permitting use of its stadium by the Oil Bowl. There is no conference rule against it but Cotton Bowl officials do not like the idea of a member of the confesence contributing toward a competing bowl game. The conference champion automatically is host team in the Cotton Bowl. It was indicated efforts might be made to get the Rice institute to reconsider its move.

Coaches In Session

Meeting at the same time as the faculty committee was the association of coaches, athletic directors and business managers. They will have to elect a new president since James H. Stewart has resigned in view of the fact that he now is executive secretary of the conference and deals strictly with the faculty committee.

Both groups met tonight and will wind up tomorrow morning with sessions starting at 9 o'clock. The coaches, athletic directors and business managers will adopt a baseball scredule and arrange for the remainder of the spring sports program.

The faculty committee announced it would make no report on its meeting until tomorrow morning.

In the session at the same time as the faculty committee are three Texas athletic conferences — the Texas and Lone Star conferences and the Texas junior college athletic association. All three are reactivating after being out of sports during the war. Schedules will be drawn and the program for the coming year mapped.

Picard Takes Lead In Miami Golf Tourney

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 7. (AP)—Rangy Henry Picard, the old iron master, hit the comeback trail here today after a six months layoff, by forging a three-under-par 67 to take the lead in the $10,000 Miami Open golf tournament.

The Cleveland, O., veteran's 136 total was good enough to lead the defending champion, Bulky E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, of Little Rock, Ark., by a single stroke at the end of the second round. Harrison a left handed player until he was 16, carded a 68 to add to his 69 of yesterday.

Frank Stranahan, 23, of Toledo, O., the country's leading amateur, fired a 67 to give him a 138 total.

Tied with Stranahan was Gib Sellers, 36 years old and a pro since 1929, who equalled the course record for the back nine with a 30.

Back at 140 was the pre-tournament favorite, Ben Hogan, of Hershey, Pa., who had his second par 70 in another "uneventful" round.

Tied with Hogan were Orville White of Winston Salem, N. C., another oldtimer, who turned in a 66 in today's round. Others at the 140 mark included Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Sanford, Me., who shot a 69 yesterday and added a 71 today.

Sugar Stamp No. 39 To Be Valid Jan. 1

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (U.P.)—Sugar stamp No. 39 will be good Jan. 1. Sugar Stamp 38 will be worthless after Dec. 31.

That's the OPA's latest word on sugar, which the government says will continue to be rationed during a large part of 1946. The new stamp will be good through April 30.

Industrial users will get about the same allotment in the first three months they are getting now, OPA said. There will be adjustments for makers of jams, jellies, fruit butters and marmalades, but they will average out and there will be no general increase or decrease.

Jap Would Return Loot From China As Friendly Move

TOKYO, Dec. 7. (AP)—A demand that Japan return all loot obtained from China, as a beginning of friendly relations with that nation, was voiced in the House of Representatives today by Liberalist Takeo Kimura at the plenary budget sessions.

Kimura lashed out at the Shidehara cabinet, accusing that group of "doing nothing to solve the important problems of the nation," adding, "it is merely carrying out orders issued by Allied headquarters."

additional information."

The auto union had asked the investigation to determine if General Motors held a "monopoly" in view of its manufacture of auto parts for competing car manufacturers. GM had proposed reopening of its parts plants during the strike for the benefit of other manufacturers.

A General Mootrs spokesman said there would be no comment from the corporation regarding the investigation.

In requesting an inquiry last week, Thomas said that General Motors, through its request for continued parts operations, had shown "strong corroboratory evidence" for a union contention that GM held a "monopoly position" in the auto industry.

Disclaims Approval

General Motor' suggestion for parts plant operation in the strike received a conditional approval from the union, contained in a telegram signed in Thomas' name but which the union president later disclaimed as having been written by himself.

The letter, which Thomas said was written by a union public relations man, declared General Motors' offer would be studied to detremine in what instances parts production was necessary for other manufacturers. The matter went no further.

Hopes for a settlement returning 213,000 GM workers to the job received no encouragement prior to today's negotiations beyond a report from the union leadership that "another step forward" had been made.

Meet With GM Officials

Vice President Walter P. Reuther transmitted that report without elaboration to UAW-CIO locals of General Motors as he and Thomas met again with GM officials over the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage rate increase.

General Motors, in the resumption of negotiations yesterday which brought the parties into conference over wages for the first time since prior to the strike, had reinstated it last pre-strike offer of an approximate 10 per cent increase.

Hold Firm To Demands

This was rejected by the union, and Reuther reiterated today that the UAW-CIO was "holding fast" for 30 per cent without price increases. General Motors, which has refused to discuss 13½ cents an hour, would raise wages 30 per cent above the January 1941 level.

The CIO's United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers today rejected a similar offer from General Motors which would apply to 30,000 workers. The union has demanded an increase approximating 25 centse an hour. Its rejection of GM's offer was announced after an executive board meeting in New York.

them out in the open and we know who they are—the last election showed that.

"Persons who called themselves Democrats and contributed to the Republican campaign fund have been appointed recently to important state boards."

Delegations Denied Seats

The convention voted to seat neither of two contesting delegations from Nueces county, and discussion of the credentials committee report brought a charge from C. I. Harris of Lubbock, retiring president, that the "CIO" has taken control of the Young Democrats of Texas."

The convention, without an audible dissenting vote, adopted the credentials committee's report that neither delegation was legally constituted.

Other resolutions adopted included those advocating expansion of federal aid in education to raise the pay of teachers, assignment of all possible shipping space to returning soldiers, the writing of a new state constitution, immediate solution of the housing problem of returning veterans on a national scale, withdrawal of armed United States personnel from China.

Strike Resolution Tabled

A resolution opposing strikes "either by management of labor" was tabled, as was a resolution advocating peacetime conscription.

The convention adopted a new constitution, including provisions that the state organization not endorse or support any candidate until he has become the nominee of the party, and providing that officers of the organization shall be between the ages ofo 18 and 40.

Other officers elected were:

Mrs. Marion Storm of Austin, secretary-treasurer; William O. Murray, jr., of San Antonio, first vice-president; L. E. Lawson of Port Arthur, second vice-president; Jake Colca of Houston, third vice-president; J. C. Trahan of Galveston, fourth vice-president.

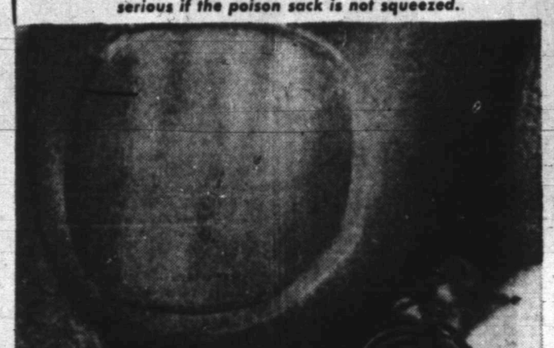

James Wright, jr., of Weatherford was named national committeeman with L .R. Blakeman of Beaumont, alternate. Miss Bobby Potts of Dallas was named national committeewoman, with Mrs. Polly Strong of Houston, alternate. Joe Pitzinger of Dallas was elected chairman of the state executive committee and Miss Naomi Johnson of Houston, vice-chairman.

Famed Shanghai Will Case To Be Tested In Chinese Court

SHANGHAI, Nov. 22 (U.P.)—The scramble for a portion of the fabulous estate of the late Aaron Hardoon, who ran a night watchman's salary into the most valuable property holdings in Shanghai by canny investment during the Halcyon days of Shanghai, has been resumed where it was interrupted four years ago by the outbreak of the Pacific war.

The legal battle for the wealth of the Anglo-Jewish multi-millionaire began in the British court then functioning in Shanghai, in 1937 following the death of Hardoon's Chinese wife, Mrs. Liza Hardoon.

Hardoon's will had left seventenths of his estimated $25,000,000 propertie to the eldest of his six adopted sons, George Hardoon, a Eurasian. The rest had been divided among the other five adopted sons, all Chinese.

Claim Second Will

The tangled affairs of the estate were further complicated when Mrs. Hardoon, some time before her death, publicly disowned George in newspaper announcements branding him the black sheep of the family.

The Chinese claimants, following her death, claimed the existence of a second will, in which a larger part of the estate was to be distributed to philanthropic organizations and the remainder to be divided equally among the six heir.

Hundreds of so-called "relatives," including a group of Irak citizens who claimed they shared common ancestry with Hardoon and could trace their family tree back to the days of Babylon, also put in an appearance.

Now Subject to Taxes

The existence of the second will was not claimed until after the British executors had recognized Hardoon's original will and ordered its terms carried out.

The other claimants, including self-styled relatives from the four corners of the earth, petitioned the British court to set aside the original will. The case dragged out over a number of years, only to be interrupted by the outbreak of the war with Japan in December, 1941.

A new factor has entered the case with the end of extraterritoriality. Now the case must go before Chinese courts. And the huge estate is subject to Chinese taxes. A large part of the estate will go to the Chinese National Treasury, under provisions of the Chinese estate tax which will amount to approximately 48 per cent of the total.

Big Three Meeting

Allied troops pulled out by Jan. 1. 5. At the moment the Big Three powers are working together reasonably well in China, in the opinion of diplomatic officials here, but there is constant apprehension that in that war-ravaged country, with its central government and its northern Communist forces, there may be future trouble which agreement among the powers now could avoid.

6. Many tough problems remain in connection with the administration of Germany which is currently a sore point particularly with France, and there has been some talk that the other occupying powers, the Big Three, may go ahead on new moves in Germany without France.

Decision On Controls For Citrus Fruit Is Delayed By Collet

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP) — At the request of growers, Stabilization Administrator John C. Collet today delayed decision for several days on whether to reinstate price control on citrus fruit.

OPA and Department of Agriculture officials met with Collet today to discuss whether citrus fruit ceiling prices, originally suspended until Jan. 13, should be resumed immediately.

A spokesman for Collet said OPA presented evidence designed to show that citrus fruit prices have gone above previous ceilings since control was suspended No. 19.

OPA was pressing for a dicision today.

Agriculture, however, sought a delay on behalf of the growers, a spokesman for Collet said.

The growers desire to talk with Collet before he makes his decision, the spokesman reported.

Presumably the decision is delayed at least until the first of next week, and possibly longer, depending on when Collet and the fruit growers get together.

Support Prices For Potatoes Planned

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP) — The Agriculture department announced today that it will support grower markets for 1946 crop potatoes at base prices ranging from $1.05 to $2.60 a bushel.

The support prices are designed to assure producers not less than 90 per cent of parity prices. Parity is a price level figured as giving farmers the same purchasing power as in some past favorable period, usually 1909-14.

The highest prices are for early and intermediate potatoes moving to markets from the South during the spring and summer.

Sale Of Two Noted Ranches Announced

SILVER CITY, N. M., Dec. 7 (AP) Sale of the Apache Tejo and Gos ranches — once historic southwestern New Mexico cattle empires—was announced today.

The Gos, first controlled by G. O. Smith of Topeka, Kas., was split three ways. Herbert S. (Hub) Estes, Silver City, who managed the ranch for a partnership, retained the ranch house. W. A. Adams, El Paso, a partner, and W. L. Laney, reserve, and Estes divided the range.

Apache Tejo holdings, once headquarters of famed old Diamond A. were bought from the Gilchrist Cattle Co., Inc., by Harry Wright of Mexico City, Mexican steel operator and president of the 7XV Cattle Co.

In a related deal the 7XV spread, also in this section, was divided between Wright and Robert S. Royall, a partner. Range and cattle were shared equally with Royall continuing breeding of registered Herefords and Wright getting the headquarters, the brand and commercial stock.

Vast Search Fails To Find Missing Planes

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 7 (AP) — A dawn-to-dusk search of a vast Atlantic area by a rescue armada failed to turn up a single clue today to the disappearance of a formation of five Navy torpedo bombers and a big PBM that went out to hunt them.

All disappeared Wednesday. The six aircraft had 27 men aboard for whom hope was ebbing.

The Navy alone had 252 planes in the air flying over 100,000 square miles of sea from north of Key West to north of Jacksonville.

A third day's search with the same forces was ordered for tomorrow. The area to be combed was extended to 350 miles out on a line reaching from Palm Beach to St. Augustine.

Naval headquarters listed the men as missing and disclosed their names today. It was pointed out that hope has not been abandoned.

House Approves New Department For Vets

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP) — The House today passed unanimously legislation to set up a department of medicine and surgery in the Veterans administration.

Passage was by a standing vote, 206 to 0. Senate action also is required.

This bill would abolish the present medical setup in the VA. The new department would be headed by a chief medical director, with a salary of $12,000 a year.

The legislation removes from civil service requirements the appointments of doctors, dentists and nurses for the department.

British Planes Dump Bombs On Indonesians

BATAVIA, Dec. 7. (AP)—Twelve British planes dumped three tons of bombs today on Indonesian gun positions on a lake shore south of Ambarawa, and gunned and bombed buildings in a densely wooded hideout area on the opposite side of the lake.

Clashes continued at scattered points in Java, as British and Netherlands leaders returned to Batavia after attending a conference in Singapore yesterday called by Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, Allied Southeast Asia commander.

Loot Of Three Youths Mounts

The pile of stolen property recovered by city and county officers from three Lubbock youths—two of them 18 and the other 20—continued to mount last night as Deputy Sheriff Raymond Land and Detectives Pat Davidson and Charles Lackey of the police department returned late last night with loot found at Brownfield, Seagraves and near Loop.

Two of the youths were taken with the officers on the trip to collect property listed in signed statements made by two of the three to Lackey and assistant chief Bill Mabray. Bicycles, tires, fog and driving and tractor lights, quilts, tarpaulins, cotton sacks, grease guns, tools of various kinds, oil cans, a battery and miscellaneous items have been recovered.

The officers said last night that the investigation would be continued today. No charges have been filed, pending further investigation.

Owners Can Reclaim It

Admissions placed thievery in vicinity of Lubbock, Loop, Brownfield, Seagraves, Meadow, O'Donnell, Buffalo Lakes, Wolfforth and other South Plains towns.

Mabray said he was advising Lubbock county persons he had identified as owner of part of the property to come in and reclaim it. The three youths were assisting in the identification, he said.

Also, he said, sheriffs of outlying counties would be informed of what belonged in their counties, so that restoration of property there could be facilitated.

Whether any "separate transaction" would be actionable in prosecution as a felony remained to be determined, investigatiors said. The thefts were "strung over several weeks," it was admitted.

Pearl Harbor Quiz

to the Japanese that their codes were being deciphered here.

The general outlined some of the benefits of that secret to the American fighting forces: The Japanese disaster at Midway where we knew their location and strength; the amazing American submarine successes because we knew where their shipping would be; Admiral Halsey's great raids on ship concentrations.

Need For Secrecy

The letters also cited this occurrence as an illustration of the urgent need for secrecy:

"As another example of the delicacy of the situation, some of (Maj. Gen. William J.) Donovan's people (the Office of Strategic services) without telling us, instituted a secret search of the Japanese embassy office in Portugal. As a rsult the entire military attache Japanese code all over the world was changed, and though this occurred over a year ago, we have not yet been able to break the new code and have thus lost the invaluable source of information, particularly regarding the European situation."

The general, under committee questioning, said later that he did not actually know at the time of his first letter that Dewey had specific knowledge of code breaking.

Made Like Statement

He told Senator Lucas (D-Ill), however, that the governor had made "a statement of that character" to Cal. Carter Clarke, who carried the first letter to Albany. He added that various references were being made in Washington that that one speech in the house "clearly indicated such a condition of affairs."

The communications to Dewey were made public over Marshall's objections that military security and possible embarrassment to an ally were involved.

Without detail, the letters mentioned that the most secret British sources of information were involved — sources "regarding which only the prime minister, the chiefs of staff and a very limited number of other officials have knowledge."

Take Responsibility

Chairman Barkley (D-Ky) said the committee, after a half hour secret session, decided to take responsibility for publication. He said it was felt better to give out the letters than to have to explain "why we left parts out."

Throughout the letters themselves, and the oral testimony, the secrecy with which the affair was handled was emphasized.

Marshall said nobody knew anything about it except Admiral Ernest J. King, then commander-in-chief of the fleet. The second letter assured Dewey that "nither the secretary of war nor the President has any intimation whatsoever that such a letter has been addressed to you."

Adventists Conclude Two-Day Meet Today

Concluding sessions of the two-day Lubbock district meeting of representatives of Seventh Day Adventists churches will be held today at the Adventist church, Twentieth and Ave. K.

Sabbath school will be held at 9:45 o'clock this morning, and A. J. Wearner, dean of the theological department of Southwestern Junior college at Keene, will speak at 11 o'clock. There will be two meetings this afternoon, with R. R. Bletz, president of the Texico conference, speaking at 2 o'clock and W. E. Priebe, evangelist, talking at 4 o'clock.

Fordyce W. Detamore, evangelist, world traveler and lecturer, will talk on the subject, "Russia in Bible Prophecy," at the final session which opens at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

At Friday night's session, J. C. Christenson of Clovis, N. M., home missionary and Sabbath school secretary for the Texico conference, spoke on "Fear God and Give Glory to Him for the Hour of His Judgement Has Come." A large crowd attended, Rev. Douglas C. Marchus, pastor of the local church, reported.

The Lubbock district is composed of churches in Lubbock, Plainview, Littlefield, Brownfield and Cone.

Import Curbs Placed On Sugar-Containing Goods Sent To U. S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP) — The government has placed import restrictions on all shipments to the United States of candy and other products containing sugar, it was learned today.

Sugar trade men said the order apparently is intended to improve the sugar supply in this country by increasing imports of sugar rather than sugar products. Effective Nov. 15, the order applies to Hawaii, Cuba, Puerto Rico and other sugar producing areas. It requires authorization from the Department of Agriculture for imports of sugar products.

One official pointed out that during the war some candy manufacturers in sugar producing areas outside the United States increased their output to export products to the U. S. market, whereas before the war their operations were confined to local markets. This situation, it was explained, has consumed sugar that should come to this country.

At the Agriculture department, one official—who declined use of his name—said authorization for such imports will be granted only when it is determined that the sugar content will not have a detrimental effect on U. S. sugar needs.

Poland And Canada Bolt UNO Proposal

LONDON, Dec. 7. (AP)—Poland, Canada and Greece swung support to Europe as headquarters for the United Nations today, as the Philippine delegate pleaded for a site in the United States to offset "the danger" of an American return to isolationism.

The position of Greece had been expected. But the Polish breakaway from the pro-United States Russian stand, and the declaration by Canada, caused a flurry of excitement among delegates as the preparatory commission began its showdown debate on the site issue.

The bolting of Canada and Poland left some doubt whether the United States could get the necessary two-thirds majority in a vote on the executive committee's recommendation that she become the organization's permanent headquarters. Preliminary debate was expected to continue for several days.

Air Agreement With Portugal Announced

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—The State department announced tonight an air transport agreement with Portugal which allows the United States a variety of privileges in that key country on trans-Atlantic sky routes.

The agreement provides for the so-called "fifth freedom" which means that American and Portuguese airlines have the right to pick up and discharge international passengers, cargo and mail on their assigned routes in almost any profitable manner.

Tom Green Exceeds Victory Loan Quota

SAN ANGELO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Tom Green county observed Pearl Harbor day today by exceeding both its over-all and series E quotas in the Victory Loan drive, C. W. Meadows, sr., chairman, announced.

With a quota of $2,250,000, over-all sales today zoomed to $2,733,993.75. Series E sales total $870,735.75 against a quota of $685,000.

Support Of City's Bond Program Is Urged As Progressive Step

J. D. Hassell, jr., Hemphill-Wells Co. vice president and a member of the Board of City Development, said that "results of voting on the city bond issue next Tuesday will be an expression of the public as to whether it favors progress or retraction of Lubbock."

He was addressing the American Business club at its weekly luncheon Friday in Hilton hotel.

Giving a summarized explanation of the needs and advantages resultant of each issue, Hassell urged ABC members to support the proposed city bond issue because "cities don't stand still and we must keep in step with expansion." Hassell declared that if Lubbock provides for a population of 40,000 now, facilities will be inadequate 10 years from now.

Over Five-Year Period

"Money voted on bonds will be used over a period of five years and bonds will not be sold until it is practically possible to use the funds for allocated purposes," Hassell assured his audience before explaining the proposed issues.

Hassell commented on the need for city hall improvements and the plan to add a third story to the present building, or buy the American Legion building and move certain departments therein. "A sum of $75,000 has been earmarked for this improvement, he said.

"Unless the proposed water supply and improvements issue is voted favorably, there is no need to consider any of the other items," Hassell said in stressing the special importance of issue No. 13. Warning that Lubbock had reached a critical position regarding its water supply, Hassell reminded ABC members that "last year we pumped directly from the wells."

Since Lubbock is the largest city, with only two stations, that has its present fire rates—citizens will pay a bigger bill through increased insurance rates than new stations and equipment will cost through the proposed $166,000 to be voted on, Hassell said. "We face serious fires without adequate equipment to care for them," he added.

Improvements Needed

"The police station has been inadequate since the day it was completed, therefore it is essential that improvements be made," Hassell said in urging passage of a proposed $88,000. He said for many years Lubbock has needed a storage and garage building for its mechanical equipment. "Vote on this proposal of $60,000 and the equipment will be housed in a business-like manner."

In discussing the proposed recreation and park improvements, Hassell said "negroes are entitled to a swimming pool the same as we are if we are to follow our democratic system." Under the proposal for which $155,000 is to be voted, the Mackenzie State park swimming pool would be modernized, a pool would be built inside the city, and water lines would be extended for irrigational purposes in the park."

Airport Plan Also Tops

"Next to the urgency of the No. 1 need of Lubbock, that of improving the water system, is the airport proposal, Hassell said he believed. He said it involved the future of Lubbock, its growth, progress and expansion because it will be the main means of transportation.

"Probably, if the issue on auditorium and coliseum is voted to pass, work will begin on this project in the second year," Hassell reminded his audience. With the $1,750,000 provided for an auditorium, a building would be constructed to serve the entire South Plains area—not just Lubbock citizens," he said.

Advantages Explained

Hassell briefly explained the advantages of the proposals for street improvements, storm sewers, street and traffic lighting, and sanitary sewer improvements. He pointed out the needs for each improvement and said the sewer improvements were "an absolute must."

The issue of providing water softening equipment is debatable, according to Hassell. "This is a not tried and true method so it would have to be on the trial and error basis," Hassell said.

"Citizens must adapt a forward-look attitude and push this city bond issue. It has to be passed because Lubbock has outgrown its pants," Hassell concluded.

Guests for luncheon were Ralph Brock, J. H. Cox, W. B. Mullin, G. E. Dawson, and Curtis Boyd, new member.

Boys Club Activities Reviewed As 500th Member Is Signed

Harmon Greene, son of Mrs. A. S. Greene of 1421 Nineteenth, became the 500th member of Lubbock Boys club when he enrolled, John W. Wilson, executive director of the club, said Friday.

Providing educational and recreational facilities for all boys in Lubbock county between the ages of 10 and 17, inclusive, the club house is located at 2323 Ave. K.

The first boy to come into the club this year is Leon Littleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Littleton, of 1414 Thirteenth.

"The club is proud of enrolling its 500th member this early in the year," Wilson said. "Last year, the club fell a few short of this number."

Sponsored By ABC

The club is sponsored by the American Business club with aid from all other luncheon organizations. In addition to Wilson, the staff is composed of E. Y. Lee, director of activitie; Jack (Spider) Dillon and T. M. Cox, directors of athletics, and Willie Gleaton, a woodwork student in Lubbock High school, shop director. Members of the board of directors are J. E. Maisen, J. Ray Dickey, J. A. Fortenberry, Grady Knight, G. H. Nelson, Bill Mead and H. B. Bryan.

The club has a well-equipped shop in which youngsters can make anything from toys to finished pieces of furniture. That the shop is a popular center is evidenced by the fact that the average daily attendance up to now has been 52 persons a day.

There is a library of approximately 500 books and all types of magazines interesting to youngsters. Thirty-seven boys use the library daily.

The game room is furnished with two ping pong and three pool tables and the "study" games, such as checkers, dominoes and chess.

Daily attendance at the club this year has averaged 189, a substantial increase over that of 1944.

Athletics comprise the most popular phase of the club's activities. Members now make up 20 basketball teams, representing groups 15 to 17, 13 and 14 and 10 to 12.

Fight Nights Each Friday

Fight nights are held at the club each Friday. Now, a contest is on to determine the club champion. Seventy-one boys have participated in the boxing.

Special night programs have been held by the club. At the Halloween party conducted last October, more than 500 members and their guests were in attendance. Recently, 115 fathers were guests at a party given by their Boys club sons.

"The boys are proud of their club," Wilson said. "Proof of this is the extreme care they have taken of th ebuilding and its equipment."

ABC Raises $30,000

The sponsoring organization has raised and spent for the building and equipment approximately $30,000, according to Wilson.

The latest addition to the club came with the recent purchase of an adjoining block of ground from the Lubbock Independent School district. This ground, according to Wilson, will afford space for outdoor sports such as football, baseball, tennis and for enlargement of JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 7 (AP)—Battle lines are drawn in Jackson over the question of whether sororities and fraternities for high school students shall continue or be abolished.

Yesterday parents and friends of members of the organizations appointed a committee of 12 parents to represent the students before city and school officials and urged through a resolution that those officials study the question thoroughly before taking any action.

More Witnesses Are Called For Trial Of Cruiser's Captain

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP) — The court martial of Navy Capt. Charles B. McVay III, marked time today, awaiting the arrival of additional witnesses to tell how his ship, the cruiser Indianapolis, sank in Philippine waters last July 30.

The seven-man trial board scheduled a session today, but Rear Admiral Wilder D. Baker, court president, said no testimony would be heard.

More Witnesses Planned

The prosecution, which has devoted four days to its presentation of charges that McVay failed to order a zigzag course and to issue clear-cut orders to abandon ship, has no additional witnesses on hand, Baker said at the conclusion of yesterday's session.

Approximately 20 more have been called and are en route to Washington, he added.

A dozen of the 316 survivors of the sinking—out of a compliment of 1,196—gave their accounts yesterday of the two explosions which rocked the vessel and the sinking 10 to 15 minutes later.

Didn't Suspect Sinking

One — Chief Gunner Cecil M. Harrison of Long Beach, Calif.—testified that for five or six minutes after the explosion "the ship settled down and the thought of it sinking didn't enter my mind."

Then it listed a little, Harrison said, but there still appeared to be no great danger. After three or four minutes more, he declared, there was a sudden, heavier list and the vessel began to roll over.

"I don't think it was possible for anyone to know that the ship was going to sink until it took that last list and started to roll," he volunteered.

Harrison said he believed between 800 and 900 men got into the water safely.

Littlefield's Wildcats Romp Over Denver City, 33 To 6

Lyman Passes For Three Wildcat Tallies; Tate Shines For Losers

By BILL BARNETT
Avalanche Staff Writer

LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 7.—The "perfect defense" of the Denver City Mustangs, champions of District 5-A, that allowed only 12 points to be scored all season, fell apart here this afternoon as the high riding Littlefield Wildcats of District 5-A grabbed off bi-district honors for the second consecutive year, winning easily 33 to 6.

The Lamb county champions assumed control after they received the opening kickoff and scored once in the first quarter, twice in the second and twice in the third period before giving up a fourth-quarter core to the always scrapping Mustangs.

Lyman Leads Wildcats

It was just outright superiority in weight and all-round manpower, plus near perfect leadership and cooperation that won the ball game for the Wildcats.

Billy Lyman, 170-pound all-district field general for the hosts, was the key man in the offensive with his tireless and accurate passing arm accounting for three Littlefield tallies and his perfect 30-yard sprint tallying one more. But he was not alone as a standout with "Walloping" Walter Sewell slamming his 193 pounds over Mustang opposition consistently for ground-eating gains that helped crush a touted visiting defense.

Tate Leads Losers

These two backs would have been lost without perfect blocking and defensive play from a hulking forward wall headed defensively by Tackles Dal Brandon and Sabin Hendrickson and Center Sidney Buell. But these three were not alone either in grabbing a share of credit for the victory. The other linemen threw in perfect work all afternoon to completely bottle the previously unbeaten 5-A pennant bearers.

On the loser's side it was Grayson Tate, 156-pound quarterback, who headed the way with driving runs, accurate passing that fell through the fingers of his receivers on several occasions and came out with better than 43 yards averaged on his six punts.

Littlefield Counts Early

Littlefield chalked up their first score late in the opening quarter after one move to paydirt fell short on the 18. The Wildcats began marching on their own 42 after receiving a punt and made three consecutive first downs to move to the 12. There Lyman hit End Gene McCanlies for the score. The kick for point was no good.

Denver City received the kickoff as the second period opened and punted to the Wildcats. Sewell broke loose and lumbered 50 yards before he was knocked out on the Mustang 12 by Billy Ward. On the fourth play Lyman plowed over but Littlefield was guilty of an infraction and the play was called back. Lyman raised up and hit McCanlies on the next play for the second score. A pass to Buster Owens for the conversion was dropped.

Passes Pay Off

Buell recovered a Denver City fumble on the Mustang 38 and after running plays picked up little yardage Lyman found Junior Graham on the 11 with a perfect heave. On the next play the "ball-bearing" arm uncorked again to hit McCanlies for the score. Lyman tossed to Owens in the end zone for the conversion and the score at the half stood 19 to 0.

Littlefield kicked to open the second half and forced the invaders to punt. The Wildcats took over on their own 23 and moved to the Mustang three in seven plays. Oscar Arend, another consistent ground gainer today, slammed over for the score.

Lyman Opens Up

After one more exchange of a kickoff and a punt the Wildcats took over on the 50 and on one pass and a run moved to the 30. There Lyman slipped through tackle with good blocking, waited patiently for interference and finally galloped past the halfback and safety man to score. Owens converted on the last two scores to give the Wildcats their 33 points.

Late in the final period Tate spearheaded a Denver City drive that was climaxed by a pass to Dennis Harrison good for 36 yards to the two yard line, and then the score. The kick was blocked.

Littlefield gave up three first downs, 51 yards through the air and 18 yards aground to the visitors, while they were busy grinding out 330 net yards on running plays, completing seven of 14 passes for 95 yards and amassing 16 first downs. Each team was penalized 15 yards on three infractions. The Wildcats lost one pass through an interception but grabbed two opposing aerials.

Denver City topped Littlefield on one count—runback of those frequent kickoffs—returning six of them 96 yards.

Edgewood Rolls Over Commerce, 18 To 0

COMMERCE, Dec. 7. (AP)—Featuring a tricky offense and alert football, the Edgewood Bulldogs of District 18-A defeated the Commerce Tigers of 17-A by a score of 18-0 here today.

In the first period Gilbert of Edgewood hit left tackle for the first tally. In the third quarter Ramsey plunged two yards over center for the second touchdown.

In the fourth period, Edgewood recovered a blocked Commerce punt on the Commerce three yard line and Gates went over left tackle to score. All of the kicks for extra points were bad. Edgewood will play Mount Vernon for the regional title.

Monahans Edges Roscoe Plowboys

SWEETWATER, Dec. 7. (Special)— The Monahans Loboes stole a chapter from the Rover Boys novels of yesteryear, plus a page from Frank Merriwell, and upset the Roscoe Plowboys here tonight 13 to 6 to roar into the finals with the Littlefield Wildcats for the Region Two crown.

For three quarters the two teams battled on even terms, and with a scoreless deadlock looming, and rival coaches were counting each first down and penetration with care.

From 19 yards out, Nemir, little 118 pound Roscoe scatback, swept his right end, cut back sharply, and roamed over the double stripe for a touchdown.

It was only minutes later that Turner flipped a spot pass to Left End Scow, who latteralled the ball off to Don Bingham, who went all the way to tie the score again at 6-6, and start coaches recounting the first downs and penetrations

With a minute left to play, Roscoe was backed up against its goal line, and had to kick from the five. Bingham tucked in the boot on the Plowboy 40, and stormed through the entire Roscoe team to pay dirt, and the extra point was added for good measure.

Roscoe was playing without the fulltime services of its great running back, Wild Walter Maloney, who was ailing, and played less than a quarter of the game. The lad who had roamed the West Texas gridirons for 187 points this season, was sorely missed by his mates.

Littlefield and Monahans school officials at once went into a meeting here tonight to decide on the date and site for the regional championship game between these two schools.

Mustangs Roll Over Unbeaten Eagles

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 7 (AP)— Thomas Jefferson's sharp-shooting Mustangs dazzled the undefeated Brownsville Golden Eagles of the Rio Grande valley, with a 26 to 7 barrage that definitely established them a state title threat in tonight's 15-AA and 16-AA bi-district clash.

Following a scoreless first period, the Mustangs galloped to a pair of touchdowns in the second, when Kyle Rote passed to Pollock for 28 yards for one, and Pollock carried 36 yards on an end-around play for the second.

The Mustangs powered through for another touchdown early in the third, and then saw Brownsville move sixty yards with passes and runs to carry over its only touchdown of the game. In the fourth, Jefferson got going again with progressive downfield action which finally put Jones over for the fourth and last counter of the game.

Phillips Edges Past Hereford In Tie Game

PHILLIPS, Dec. 7. (AP) — The Phillips Blackhawks won the football championship of District 1-A and 2-A on penetrations here today after playing to 14 to 14 deadlock with the Hereford Whitefaces.

Hereford had a 7-0 lead at halftime. Phillips tied up the game in the third quarter and went ahead 14 to 7 in the fourth. Hereford knotted the count soon afterwards.

The Blackhawks will meet the Wellington Skyrockets, District 3-A and 4-A winners, for the Region 1-A championship here next week, probably next Friday afternoon.

Abernathy Stops Lubbock, 39-33

(Special To The Avalanche)

ABERNATHY, Dec. 7—Abernathy's high scoring Antelopes turned on the heat to chalk up a decisive 39 to 33 triumph over the Lubbock High Westerners here tonight in a hard fought game.

Harold D. Rhodes, Abernathy's veteran forward, dropped the ball in from all angles of the court to lead his mates to their win with 17 points. Second high scoring honors went to Center Verdell Turner for the Lubbock High team with 11 points. Guards Harvey Lutrick and Lester Brown, two more lettermen back from last season's topnotch Abernathy club, chalked up eight points each to add to the Antelope scoring.

Lubbock "B" Team Wins

In a curtain raiser preceding the main tussle, the Lubbock "B" team defeated the Abernathy "B" squad, with Forward Henry for Lubbock with four points, and Skeet Smith and Donald Robertson, also with four points each, sharing scoring honors.

In the main tussle, Abernathy jumped away to a quick two-point lead, but Lubbock came back fast and after an exchange of scoring took a slight lead to hold a 12 to 10 advantage at the end of the first period. The Lubbock charges of Coach Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst then grabbed out to a 19 to 12 advantage midway the second stanza before Rhodes and his mates opened up their big guns.

Antelopes Lead At Half

At the halftime, Abernathy had rallied to hold a 25 to 20 margin.

In the third period, Lubbock managed to gain a little although Abernathy continued to add up the points with Rhodes handling most of the heavy scoring opportunities along with Lutrick and Brown. The end of the third found Abernathy still leading, 30 to 26.

Then in the last quarter, Abernathy gained momentum and finished strong after a Lubbock threat.

Meet Again Tuesday

There was no doubt about Abernathy's superiority tonight, and after the game Coach Hayhurst of the Lubbock club had high praise both for the playing of the Abernathy team and the conduct of the fans at the game.

The two teams tangle in a repeat performance at the Lubbock High gym next Tuesday night.

Thursday night, the Westerners invade New Deal to play in the opening round of the annual New Deal tournament, meeting the host New Deal team on the first night's schedule.

Tonight's victory was the third in a row for Abernathy against no losses and Lubbock's third setback in a row against no wins, the Westerners having lost opening season games to a strong Levelland club.

Post Cagers Sweep Three Over Tahoka

POST, Dec. 7. (Special)—Post High school Antelope cagers swept three games over the Tahoka Bulldogs here tonight, winning two boys games and a girls B team.

The Post girls won an 18 to 10 verdict, with Juanita Mitchell setting the scoring pace for the winners, and matching the visitor's score with ten points. Nancy Nell Wyatt paced the losers with six points.

The Post boys B team nosed out a 16 to 13 win over the Bulldogs as Raymond Dougherty, with six points, and Sonny McCrary, with five, accounted for most of the scoring. James Palmer paced Tahoka with four points, closely followed by K. Reed with three.

The boys A game was a thriller, with Post winning in the last quarter with a ten point rally, 20 to 15, after trailing the Bulldogs for three periods.

Lewis Mills paced the winners, looping in 12 points, while three Tahoka boys and two Post boys ited for runnerup honors, each with four points. The Post boys were Jimmy Byrd and Bill Fumagalli. The Tahoka boys were Jack Barrington, C. A. Short and Joe Harvick.

Tech Sweeps Series Over New Mexico

Raiders Win Finale, 63-37, Over ENMS

Texas Tech's Red Raiders made it two in a row over the Eastern New Mexico State college Geryhounds last night at the Tech gym, but had to put on a wild finish in the last half to win the finale of the two game series, 63 to 37.

The Greyhounds took a quick leda, but Tech tied it a moment later, on an exchange of goals by Zimmerman for the 'Hounds and Sneed for the Raiders. Zimmerman and Corbitt then sent the New Mexico five into a four point lead with a pair of two-pointers.

First Half Wild

Jay Kerr looped a short one, and Jiggs Jackson hit a long one to tie the score at 6-6, and the Red Raiders were never behind again, although the score was tied at 7-7 and again at 12-12 a little later.

The New Mexico club staged a great battle during the wild first half, and Tech never led by more than four points, and twice by only one point, until Jiggs Jackson looped another long shot that gave Tech a five point lead, and the half ended a few minutes later, with Tech holding a slim 26 to 20 lead over the visitors.

Tech Turns On Power

The Greyhounds continued to cling doggedly to the heels of the Red Raiders through the early part of the second half, but Gene Hardey "got hot" and sank two baskets from the floor and one from the four line, to start the Red Raiders to rolling, and boost the score to 38-25, the best lead of the night.

From that point on, there was little doubt as to the outcome of the game, and the Red Raiders were never threatened again, and late in the gall game, Coach Robison started sending in the "scrubs" who finished the game.

Game Slowed By Fouls

The game was rough all the way, and fouls greatly slowed down the play of the two clubs, but the Red Raiders showed flashes of the smooth form they displayed in the opener of the series, and during the last half clicked smoothly.

Gene Hardey was the scoring ace of the club, looping in eight field goals, and adding three extra pitches, for a total of 19 points for the night. Jiggs Jackson, who set the pace the opening night, was second for the Red Raiders, looping in 11 points.

Barton Shows Up

Ardis Barton, a lad who is already showing signs of crowding some of the starters for a berth on the first team, came in next with ten points, finding the range on the basket for five field goals.

The offense for the Greyhounds was paced by Zimmerman, lanky center, who looped in 11 points, while Pompeo with eight, and Corbitt with seven, accounted for 15 more of the Greyhound points.

North Side Cops Bi-District Tilt

FORT WORTH, Dec. 7. (AP)— Led by a forward wall that all but blasted its opponents off the field, North Side's underdog Steers beat Crozier Tech of Dallas 16-0 here tonight, to move into the quarter finals of the Texas Interscholastic League grid race.

It was the first victory for a Fort Worth eleven over a Dallas team in the playoffs since 1940 and was one of the most surprising in the long football relations between the schools. Crozier Tech, that roared impressively through the District 8-AA title chase, was a heavy favorite at the kickoff.

Actually the Dallas team was never in the ball game. Crozier Tech didn't register a first down during the first half. The Dallas eleven never crossed the 50 yard stripe and made only one first down during the entire game.

Credit the North Side forward wall for the biggest portion of the upset victory. The Steer line beat off everything Tech had to offer and scored two touchdowns and field goal in the fourth quarter to sew up the contest. Wendell Poteet, center, scored one touchdown, Bob Vann, a tackle kicked a field goal. The other score was made by a back—Wallace Hooper who crashed over from the one after Larry Yale, fleet halfback, returned an intercepted pass to that point.

North Side will play Highland Park in the quarter finals next week. Site of the game will be determined on the flip of a coin.

Knockouts Feature Boys Club Battles

Little Norman "Kayo" Lindsey, Boys club scrapper, added another victim to his fast growing list last night before a crowd of 644 fans at the Lubbock Boys club gym, tacking a technical knockout on Buddy Edge, Community Center challenger in the first round of the feature attraction of the card.

Knockouts featured the fast card, with two clean knockouts and two technical knockouts, in addition to the main event. James Holloway scored a TKO over J. C. Hardin in the second round, and Haskell Patterson did the same over Don Norwood.

The knockouts were registered by Don Carter over Harold Doss and by Belton Timmons over Ernest Carter.

The other eight bouts on the card were decision affairs, with five of them unanimous in the vote of the judges. These bouts found James Boyd winning over Norman Morris, Pat Wallace beating Jerry Golden, Blair Hankins beating Bobby Houston, Wilburn Roach winning over Bobby Brown and Pat Warren winning from Harmon Greene.

Split decision of the judges gave the nods to Carl Ince over Jack Godfrey, Gerald Loyd over Welby Smith, and Denny McGuire over Tommy Fisher.

These bouts were the semi-finals of the fight night program, with the finals carded for next Friday night at the club.

Minor Leagues Score Chandler

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7.—The hottest — but "untradingest" — minor league meeting in years wound up today with approval of a law barring all player bonuses in baseball and a green light for the Pacific coast loop to move up into the big leagues, if it can get the big leagues' "okay."

Both of today's actions, of course, must be seconded by the major leagues at their get-together in Chicago next week. But, just as it was here, the hotfoot in next week's sessions will be in the fight that now amounts virtually to open warfare between baseball men generally and the game's high commissioner, A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

Leagues Resuming Play

Not since the attempt to oust minor league czar, Judge W. B Bramham, failed three conventions ago because the late commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis merely walked into the meeting room, has any annual meeting aired a battle inside baseball such as the legislative punches the minors threw at Chandler here this week.

The trade winds were blowing here all right, but they were largely blowing around in circles, possibly because most of the big league moguls were busy lining up widely explaining farm systems from the 19 new and 12 old minor leagues which will operate in 1946.

Trading Seen At Chicago

As a result, the ivory market probably will be busier in Chicago. It is known more or less definitely that Cleveland Outfielder Jeff Health, Cincinnati first-sacker Buck McCormick and 20 of the World Champion Detroit Tigers, headed by First Baseman Rudy York, are on the block. The Indians are also willing to sell Second Baseman Roy Mack and Pitcher Jim Bagby. Bagby may go to the Red Sox.

The minor league presidents, who refused yesterday to change their own bonus regulations which Chandler ruled "illegal and unfair" voted 14 to 2 today to have all baseball—majors and minors alike—wipe out extra-curricular payments to players.

The Pacific coast circuit was given unanimous permission to retain its membership in the minors' National Association or Professional Baseball leagues pending decision next week on its bid to break the 40-year exclusive major league circle formed by the American and National loops.

Marshall Upsets Lufkin In Bi-District Tussle, 13 To 8

Mavericks' Aerials Drop Lufkin; Highland Park Stops Paris, 33-7

(By The Associated Press)

LUFKIN, Dec. 7.—The passing combination of Billy Dinkle to Morris Jones spelled victory for Marshall here today as the Mavericks marched into the state schoolboy quarter-finals with a 13-8 victory over hitherto undefeated, untied Lufkin.

Twice this combination clicked for touchdowns with the Mavericks surprising a crowd of 8,000 by outplaying the highly-rated Panthers the first half and staving off repeated rushes in the final periods.

Marshall Scores Early

Marshall scored its first touchdown early in the opening quarter, rolling from its 32-yard line in six plays to the Lufkin 16 from where Dinkle pitched to Jones for the score. Dinkle missed the extra point.

Shortly after the second period opened Dinkle was tackled behind his goal line for a safety but Marshall came right back to stage an 81-yard march for the clinching touchdown. In ten plays the Mavericks were on the Lufkin 19 and then Dinkle passed to Jones for the score. Dinkle kicked the extra point and the half ended 13-2.

There was no scoring in the third period but in the fourth the Panthers finally got a touchdown. Runnels ran a punt back to the Marshall 37 and a pass to Kenzy Hallmark netted a first down on the 19. Four running plays carried it over with Runnels making the touchdown. He missed the extra point.

HIGHLAND PARK WALLOPS PARIS TEAM, 33 TO 7

PARIS, Dec. 7 (AP)—Led by Bill Moxley, fleet-footed halfback who scored three touchdowns, Highland Park of Dallas overwhelmed Paris High school's grid machine, 33 to 7, here today.

It was Highland Park's afternoon—the boys from Dallas scored 245 net yards rushing to 12 for Paris.

In the first quarter Highland park scored on a pass from Weatherford to Wallace, good for four yards, and Eliott kicked the point. Later in the same period Moxley ran 28 yards to score and Elliott's kick from placement was good.

Moxley scored again in the second quarter on an end run of three yards. Elliott's kick missed. In the third period Moxley ran 59 yards to score again. Elliott missed the point. In the final sntaza, Pierce, substitute back, ran 62 yards to paydirt and Elliott ran the extra point from scrimmage.

Paris' touchdown came in the fourth on a 60-yard drive with Jim Hickey passing to Kenneth Watson for the last 10 yards. Hickey kicked the point.

Highland Park made 15 first downs, Paris 10.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

Eight more top Texas schoolboy grid machines will tangle this afternoon in four bi-district games over the state. The schedule finds Amarillo's powerful Golden Sandies invading Wichita Falls to play the high scoring Coyotes, Odessa going to El Paso to Play El Paso High, Breckenridge playing Waco in Waco, and Goose Creek going to Houston to play Milby.

Wichita And Austin Meet For Negro Title

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 7 (AP)— The Booker T Washington Leopards of Wichita Falls will meet the Andersen High Yellow Jackets of Austin for the Negro state football title at Austin next Friday night.

The Leopards defeated the Lufkin Tigers here 26 to 0 last night.

Support The Bonds On Tuesday

WHEN Lubbock citizens go to the polls Tuesday to vote in the city's $5,894,000 bond election, they will have opportunity to "catch up" on their city's improvements.

If the war had not come along, perhaps a great many of the propositions listed on the ballot would not be there. They would have already been demanded by the people, taken up and dealt with matter-of-factly and possibly by now put into effect. The city's growth would have made it necessary.

What we are facing at this time is an accumulation of needs which were impossible of fulfillment during the war years. Instead of taking them up one by one, or in combinations, circumstances have dictated that they be lumped into a proposed program of 14 projects. With the shooting over, our minds and energies diverted from war tasks and with labor and materials becoming available, once again we can set about now on the job of building and repair and expansion which is long overdue.

That we long ago would have done something about the water system, if conditions had permitted, cannot be denied. During the last several summers, the city's water supply has run dangerously low upon numerous occasions. Not many people realize just how close the city came to water rationing during some of the hottest months. The same thing is true of additional fire stations, street light and street and water improvements. The necessity for these has been evident all along.

Some of the propositions, such as the auditorium-colieum and airport improvements envisage future needs. They are the projects which we must have if we expect to grow into the city we hope to be. They are necessary adjuncts of any metropolis.

But, for the most part, it will be a matter of acting on improvements which would have been made, if possible, sometime previously.

If you are eligible to vote—go to the polls Tuesday and vote for progress, advancement, a better city in which to live and in which future citizens, as well as those of us already here, may take just pride.

Let Congress Do The Job

OUT of President Truman's recommendations to Congress for legislation designed to cope with industrial strife, there likely will be formulated something resembling the Railway Labor act.

Under the act, collective bargaining is guaranteed, as is the right to organize. Anything like a company union is forbidden.

On the other hand, the check-off also is forbidden and the closed shop is banned. The railroad unions are so strong they do not need the check-off or the closed shop.

Here is how it works:

Both sides must give 30 days' notice of any intention to change the existing situatoin. Then they must confer and try to agree. If they disagree, the National Mediation board steps into the picture on request of either side or else on its own motion.

If the board's mediation effort is successful, an agreement is signed which the board is empowered, if necessary, to interpret. If the board's effort fails, the board asks both sides to consent to arbitration.

If they consent, each group names its arbitrators, and these pick neutrals to round out the arbitration board. If the neutrals can't be agreed on, the mediation board names them. And any award thus reached by this voluntary arbitration is binding on both sides.

If arbitration is refused by either side, the President appoints a board to investigate and report on the facts in 30 days, and for 30 days thereafter, no change may be made by either side in the conditions out of which the dispute arose. Only then may a walkout, or lockout, legally occur.

The act has been in force 20 year, and during this time neither the railroad unions nor the companies have made any subtantial effort to have it eliminated or changed drastically. Apparently they are satisfied with it. Certainly it has worked well, for, under it, labor troubles in the railway industry have been moderate and always amenable to early settlement.

Mr. Truman calls for similar legislation which will cover seven industries—steel, aviation, automobile, oil, utilities and communications. These are fields in which work stoppages directly affect the welfare of the public. He seeks laws that will neither hamstring labor, or industry, but which will make available machinery which will provide various stages in which disputing parties may negotiate and settle their differences amicably and with a minimum of strife. Congress should act swiftly to act along the line of his recommendations.

One-Minute Sermon

Marshall's Report On The War

By Gen. George C. Marshall
Wartime Chief Of Staff

(This is the 20th of 42 installments of material selected from General Marshall's report on the winning of World War II).

TURN OF THE TIDE

THE tide of battle began to turn when the U. S. Third Army brought its full weight to bear on the southern flank of the salient, where General Patton stopped the advance of the German columns with available reserves and was attacking on a two-corps front by 22 December with the III and XII Corps. This shift from an offensive across the Saar to a general attack in southern Luxembourg was a brilliant military accomplishment, including corps and army staff work of the highest order. Elements of the 5th Division which were fighting in the Saar bridgehead on the morning of 20 December moved 69 miles, and were of the Sauer River by nightfall.

MARSHALL

General Devers' 6th Army Group was required to assume responsibility for the entire front from Saarbrucken south, adding over 25 miles to its already extended front. In order to defend this front adequately, full use was made in the Seventh Army of the infantry regiments of three divisions which were just arriving in the theater from the United States in advance of their division headquarters and supporting troops.

The weather ceased to favor the enemy between 23 and 26 December, permitting our overwhelming tactical air forces to strike terrific blows at the German armor and supply columns. On 26 December the 4th Armored Division relieved encircled Bestogne. The crisis had passed, for by this time the German salient was being assaulted from the north, west, and south. At the points of extreme penetration, the enemy had driven more than 50 miles into the American lines, but he was unable to shake loose our valient units fighting desperately to hold the critical shoulders of the bulge. The depth of his advance was accordingly limited and it was possible to interdict by artillery fire all the important supply roads for the leading troops at the tip of the salient.

Bulge Fatal To Enemy

The reduction of the Ardennes salient involved our First and Third Armies in heavy fighting under severe winter conditions, but progress was steady and by the end of January the bulge was eliminated at a cost which later proved fatal to the enemy. In the single day of 22 January, the air force destroyed or damaged more than 4,192 pieces of heavy equipment, including locomotives, rail cars, tanks, and motor and horse-drawn vehicles.

The Germans gained an initial tactical success and imposed a delay of about six weeks on the main Allied offensive in the north, but failed to seize their primary objectives of Liege and Namur. They lost 220,000 men, including 110,000 prisoners, and more than 1,400 tanks and assault guns. The operation was carried out by the Fifth and Sixth Panzer Armies, supported by the Seventh Army, thus stripping the Reich of all strategic reserves and seriously depleting the resources required to meet the powerful Soviet offensive in January.

"Possibly more serious," reported General Eisenhower, "was the widespread disillusionment ensuing from the failure to seize any really important objective and the realization that this offensive for which every effort had been brought to bear and on which such great hopes were pinned, had in no sense achieved anything decisive."

In mid-January the Second British Army launched an attack in the Sittard area and within a fortnight reached the Roer Valley, 10 miles inside the Reich. Regrouping of the Allied armies for further offensive action proceeded during January.

In an effort to divert the punishing blows from his forces withdrawing from the Ardennes, the enemy attacked in the Bavarian Palatinate. Here there was ground to give, and the U. S. Seventh Army withdrew to the Maginot defenses west of the Hhine, permitting the detachment of divisions for the heavy fighting in the Bulge.

Closing The Rhine

On 20 January the First French Army launched an attack in the southern Alsace to destroy the enemy's forces in the Colmar pocket and clear the west bank of the Rhine. The operation involved a drive through Colmar by the American XXI Corps, commanded by Maj. Gen. F. W. Milburn, and simultaneous attacks by forces of the First French Army under General de Tassigny from the Mulhouse area. The climax of the battle was a night assault on the bridgehead town of Neuf-Brisach by infantry of the U. S. 3d Division using assault boats and scaling ladders on the moats and walls of the fortified town, very much after the fashion of medieval battles. After this aggressive action, the German position in the Alsace rapidly deteriorated and by 9 February the Allies held a loosely defended line along the west bank of the Rhine from Strasbourg to the Swiss border, freeing troops for use in other sectors. The offensive in the Alsace cost the Germans more than 25,000 men.

The reduction of the Colmar pocket and the seizure of the Roer River dams to the north in the vicinity of Schmidt were both necessary preludes to clearing the enemy from the west bank of the Rhine and a full-scale drive into the heart of Germany. The U. S. First Army now attacked toward Schmidt while the Third Army threw its weight against the Siegfried line in the Prum-Trier area. By 10 February the First Army had obtained control of the Erft and the Schwammenauel dams, and the following day had cleared the entire west bank of the Roer. Although failing to prevent the flooding of the Roer Valley, this action forced the Germans to release the waters at a time when ou roperations would not be endangered, thus removing the most serious threat to General Eisenhower's plan for the invasion of northern Germany.

Looking At Life ----- By Erich Brandeis

EVERY now and then one of my readers writes me a letter telling me that I am a Pollganna, seeing only the good and shutting my eyes to the evil things. Maybe so, and I am very happy, indeed, to be able to think that life is good and worth living.

But when I read my newspapers nowadays I wonwhat is happening to the world after all, there may not be a degree of sanity in old man H. G. Wells' prediction that the end is near.

BRANDEIS

The other day the Rev. T. C. Spears warned his congregation at the fashionable Park Avenue Central Presbyterian church to beware of the disillusionment "which threatens to despoil all the previous fruits of victory," although "disillusionment is inevitable because of the very nature of war."

So, when I read the news, I wonder whether the human race, by its very nature, is really qualified for peace, or whether crime and brutality are among its inherent characteristics, in spite of all our hymn-singing, preaching and profession of brotherly love.

For instance, in New York two murders and twelve holdups are committed in one day. Crime is rampant over all the five boroughs, particularly in Brooklyn, the borough of churches.

So what is done? A strong-arm squad of a hundred of the toughest policemen is organized and, with clubs and machineguns, they will now go out to teach the doctrine of righteousness and peace.

All over the country there are strikes with their accompanying fights and name-callings and hatreds.

Will heads be bashed in again and teeth knocked out and noses broken just so that capital and labor may learn to love each other?

In Washington there is the Pearl Harbor investigation, which is becoming more and more of a mud-slinging orgy and which—and I am optimistic—will result in nothing but a dark spot on the pages of American history.

Also in Washington Representative Rich, of Pennsylvania, describes his opposing colleagues by declaring "I am of the opinion that they do not grow all the nuts in Brazil."

I PASSED a store yesterday where, for the first time in years, nylon stockings were on sale. You should have seen the women in the line, which was more than a block long.

Some of them looked more like tigresses than human beings and two were actually pulling each other's hair because one accused the other of having squeezed in ahead of her in the line.

Yes, peace indeed is wonderful. But, as Mark Twain said about the weather, we talk so much about it and do so little.

We will have peace when we deserve it and not a momment sooner, and to deserve peace it must first be in our hearts.

GOP-ers Grow Hopeful

See Chance Of Victory Again

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE TOP leaders of the Republican party are assembling at Chicago in the most cheerful mood they have been able to muster since Franklin Roosevelt steam-rollered them on the political lot in 1932. As they prepare for the 1946 Congressional and the 1948 Presidential elections, they believe that their day has at last arrived.

They may be kidding themselves—again—but they site substantial evidence that the GOP has a chance to make a comeback. Money has been pouring into the coffers and headquarters from individual and corporate contributors in the last few months.

TUCKER

Conservative Democrats of the Baruch-Jones stamp have been providing them with ammunition by their public criticism of the Truman administration. A combination of Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans on Capitol Hill has thwarted the Chief Executive's legislative program.

Still another sign of Republican rejuvenation, in their opinion, is the overnight competition of numerous ambitious politicos for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948. Several months ago, when the country acclaimed Mr. Truman so warmly and rejoiced over the winning of the war, there was a dearth of candidates. Nobody wanted to run against the popular "Harry" in 1948.

Now the GOP has an embarrassing quota of hopefuls. The stable consists of such men as Gov. Tom Dewey of New York, Gov. Earl Warren of California, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, ex-Gove John H. Bricker of Ohio, who may become a senator from that state before long, former China Ambassador Pat Hurley and many others.

These shrewd and foresighted politicians would not be so anxious to enter the Presidential race unless they thought they had a 50-50 chance.

PHILOSOPHY: The opposition bosses date the improvement of their fortunes and chances from the delivery of President Truman's Navy Day speech in the first week of September — an address which was flagged by White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross as the "most important" the Chief Executive had ever made.

Mr. Truman's opus on that day ranged him alongside the extremely "left of center" groups in the country. Some GOP-ers liken it to a set of national principles which was published a few days in advance by the Daily Worker.

Conservative Democrats and Republicans, who had withheld judgment on FDR's successor until the day of this speech, concluded that the Missourian was even more New Dealish than his predecessor.

Until the President crystallized his basic philosophy of government in this Navy Day oration, GOP collectors had difficulty in parting old-time contributors from their cash. When tapped for funds, generous givers fo the past replied, "We like the looks of this man Truman, and think he will steer a sensible course in Washington.'

It is a fact, as the books show, that the GOP was almost bankrupt in late August.

SMILES: But the "big boys" began to fork over after this speech, and the donations grew heavier after Mr. Truman's advocacy of a compulsory health program, government guarantee of full employment and other Rooseveltian reforms.

Soon thereafter came the foreign difficulties, with Russia as our most troublesome overseas customer, and the $10,000, $5,000 and $1,000 checks arriving at national headquarters exceeded the total ever contributed in a supposedly quiet political year.

Mr. Truman, according to Republican congressmen, has lost prestige even in his own state of Missouri. When he became President, GOP members from that commonwealth figured they were doomed in 1946. But they sneaked home a few weeks ago, and came back to Washington with smiles on their political faces.

They report that "Harry" is less popular back home than he was before he entered the White House because of his endorsement of CIO doctrines.

SIGNS: Loveable but headstrong Pat Hurley is getting nowhere in his efforts to prove his charge that a few minor "Communist" career diplomats outwitted him and frustrated the Roosevelt-Hull policy toward China. If he had hoped to make capital from his indictment, it was one of the many mistakes he has made in his public career.

Without attempting to prejudge the Oklahoma oil magnate, here are a few signs that President Truman, Secretary James F. Byrnes and Chairman Tom Connally of the Senate Foreign Relations committee are anxious to discredit him:

(1) Had Mr. Hurley, as he claims, patched up all differences between Chiang Kai-shek and Josef Stalin, why should Mr. Truman drag Gen. George C. Marshall from a well-deserved rest and retirement to compose the Moscow-Chungking difficulties? The mere appointment of such a distinguished American as the architect of victory in the global war is a rebuke to Mr. Hurley. It suggests that we are now sending a man on an errand a boy failed to do.

(2) Secretary Byrnes was dumfounded when Pat resigned after having agreed to return to China with blanket authority given him to deal with the struggling factions there. He still cannot understand why Pat permitted an obscure congressman's speech—Hugh De Lacey's — to force him to break his word and resign in a huff. "Jimmie" is mad!

(3) Chairman Connally has already characterized the Hurley accusations as "ridiculous." Moreover, the Texan is an extreme partisan, and, as head of the Senate committee responsible for keeping an eye on the management of foreign relations, he feels that Mr. Hurley's attack amounts to a reflection on his guardianship. In any battle of words between Pat and Tom, the writer would bet on the Texan.

TERM: Veteran Supreme court attaches expect the high tribunal to reject the demand that the Senate seat of the venerable and distinguished Carter Glass he declared vacant because of his alleged physical and mental incapacity.

The famous Virginian, who was at least a co-author of the Federal Reserve act and Secretary of the Treasury under Woodrow Wilson, has not appeared on Capitol Hill since June 20, 1942 — almost three and a half years. During the most critical time in the nation's history the Old Dominion has had only one senator — Harry Byrd.

The 86-year-old senator's friends and family thought that he should resign, for he can never return to senatorial duty. But he has held on to his empty seat, and someone has collected his salary of $10,000 a year. His term runs until 1949.

VACANT: John Loce Green, the Republican leader of Arlington county, which lies across the Potomac river from the District of Columbia, has asked that Mr. Glass's seat be declared legally vacant because the "presumption is well-founded that he is incapacitated mentally and physically."

But, under the Constitution, the Senate is the sole judge of its own members. If it likes and admires a man, it can accord him senatorial honors without regard to his prolonged absences. And the U. S. Senate cannot help recognizing the valuable contributions of the "unreconstructed rebel" FDR's characterization of him) to the nation.

The Glass episode, however, may lead to a change in the Constitution. When he dies or resigns, there may be a move to declare that, if a member of Congress does not attend at least one session during a term, his place shall be held vacant and the governor shall appoint his successor until the next election.

A publisher offered us by mail a book on "How to Lift and Carry 200 Pounds Easily." We didn't buy it. As far as we are concerned, anything that heavy can remain where it is.

Seniority Rule Handicaps Younger Solons

Congress Lags Behind Times

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — One of the complaints about Congress is that it often lags behind the times.

This is not a complaint, but it is more apparent now because of the fast tempo of the times.

STOKES

One of the chief reasons for this may be found if we explore a bit behind a recent incident that has attracked some attention. This was the revolt of 39 newer and younger Republicans in the House who signed a sort of manifesto to let the world know that their views about things are not always those of the party leadership.

These members represent about 65 per cent of the first and second-term Republican members of the House.

They were, then, all elected during the war. Therefore they naturally reflect a changed viewpoint and a changed atmosphere among their constituents developed by the war. They are, themselves, generally younger men and more alert to the need of adaptation to new and different conditions both at home and in the world at large.

They are fairly fresh from the people and represent a mandate in general terms on issues of the war years.

Blocked By Older Men

It is significant that the two issues which they singled out in their statement were universal military training, toward which the elder GOP leadership is cool, and the Pearl Harbor investigation. The latter has been interpreted in such a way by some few Republicans as to arouse suspicion that there is still some isolationism in the party.

The 39 members want to disassociate themselves from anything of that kind. It does not represent them.

They not only find a hostile attitude to their views among the ruling GOP oligarchy in the House, but they also find that they are not in a position to do much about making their influence felt. For they are barred from the councils of the leaders and from places in the House, on committees and elsewhere, from which they could work more effectively to accomplish their objectives and thus more nearly represent the people back home.

THIS all leads back, as so many failings in Congress do, to that old devil—the seniority rule.

These men, being newcomers, can not get places on committees which handle the bigger domestic and foreign problems. Moreover, they can have no voice on the committee on committees which select individual members of House committees.

They have little or no voice in shaping policy which is left largely to a past generation. That they have spoken out is unusual and daring, though commendable, for such rebellion often brings its punishment from the party elders.

Same Setup For Demos

The same situation exists in the Democratic party in Congress where the seniority rule operates to lodge control largely in southern Conservative Democrats. They occupy a majority of the key places. Consequently, Democrats from other sections of the country, where it is not so easy to stay in office year after year as it is in the south, do not have the voice in Congress that they should. As a result their people are not properly represented here.

Just as the center of power in Congress among Democrats is in the South, so the center of Republican power in Congress is in the Midwest largely. For that section, year in and year out, is the Republican stronghold, and members from there move gradually upward and corner the posts of power under the seniority rule.

FOR example, Midwesterners hold half or nearly half of the seats on many major House committees. All four Republican members of the important House Rules committee, which determines priority of measures for House consideration, are Midwesterners, and five of the eight Democrats are Southerners.

The seniority rule thus conduces to regional control of Congress, to conservatism, and to past-generation thinking.

A reform here is badly needed.

Methodist Bishops Oppose Army Plan

DALLAS, Dec. 7. (AP)—The National Council of Bishops of the Methodist church has issued a statement opposing the proposal for universal peacetime military training as a "possible step toward bureaucratic Fascism," Bishop Charles C. Selecman of Dallas, president of the council, said today.

"We believe that the protection of this nation and all other nations must be achieved through international agreements and cooperation and not by the unilateral action of any one people," the statement, signed by Bishop Selecman, said.

Business In State Is Showing Big Boost

DALLAS, Dec. 7. (AP) — The weekly report of the federal reserve bank of Dallas said today that business in the four major Texas cities during the five weeks ending Dec. 1 was 11 per cent better than business Dec. 2, 1944.

Increases were led by San Antonio with 21 per cent. Dallas reported 13 per cent, Fort Worth 11 and Houston 5.

Using the average weekly sales during 1935-1939 as 100 per cent, sales for the week ending Dec. 1, 1945, was 416.2.

STOCKS AT NEW PEAK

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—While many leaders stumbled over profit cashing, renewed strength of selected rails, motors, amusements and specialties today enabled the over-all stock market average to post another 15-year average peak.

Transfers of 2,050,000 shares compared with 2,290,000 Thursday.

The feeling that labor difficulties might soon be ironed out in the automotive and steel fields aided bullish contingents. Inflation theories and dividend hopes remained as bolstering factors. Expanding traffic aided carriers. Big box office receipts buoyed the moving picture group.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .3 of a point at 76.7, a top since April 13, 1931. The industrials equaled their high of March 9, 1937. The rails were at their best since March 17, 1937.

At highs for the move were N. Y. Central, General Motors, Packard, Youngstown Sheet, Paramount Pictures, R-K-O, Twentieth Century-Fox and Shamrock Oil. Radio Corp. enjoyed a bulge of 1⅜ in the final few minutes and ended at a high of 18⅝.

On the offside were American Telephone, Western Union "A," U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Goodyear, Woolworth, Boeing, Sperry, United Aircraft, Anaconda, Kennecott and Allied Chemical.

Scattered rail bond improved.

In the curb Valspar jumped 10¼ points. Modest plus signs were held by American Gas, Cessna Aircraft and Niagara Hudson Power. An omitted dividend dropped American Hard Rubber 2¼. Turnover here was 1,090,000 shares versus 1,190,000 yesterday.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP) — Persistent mill buying against textile orders and scattered outside demand rallied cotton futures today. The advance was aided by a scarcity of offerings. Expectations of a lower government cotton crop report tomorrow and improving export demand were steadying influences.

Futures closed 15 to 45 cents a bale higher.

Prisoners Flee From "Saw-Proof" Cages

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 7. (UP)—Seven Oklahoma county jail inmates sawed their way through two "saw-proof" cages early today and escaped.

Among them was Tilson O'Dane Rushing, 17 year old escape expert described as Oklahoma's most versatile juvenile delinquent.

County Jailer W. Z. Burks said the break came between 3 a. m and 6:30 a. m. The seven prisoners, including a 16 year old first offender who was to have been given a suspended sentence later this week, were not believed dangerous.

Rushing, who broke from Oklahoma county's modern, "escape-proof" jail once before, was believed to be the leader of the break.

Burks said the prisoners had obtained a high quality saw which would cut the hardened steel bars of the jail despite their supposed "saw-proof" qualities.

Soil Conservation In State Is Discussed

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Soil conservation needs for Texas were outlined today by Dr. Hugh H. Bennett, Washington, D. C., chief of the Soil Sonservation service of the Department of Agriculture, at a meeting of regional conservators in conference here.

He said 16,000,000 acres of Texas crop land need terracing, 27,000,000 acres need crop rotation, 21,000,000 acres of pasture land need reseeding and 18,000,000 acres need contouring.

Soil erosion in Texas, he said, has removed more than three fourths of the top soil.

The national soil conservation program should be completed within the next 15 to 20 years, he said, adding that 10 per cent of the job has been completed on more than 80,000,000 acres.

U.S. Attempts To Boost World Trade With Use Of Huge Loans

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

The new loan to Great Britain means that the United States is in the process of investing perhaps $12,000,000,000 or more abroad in an effort to promote general world trade and prosperity.

That sum is in addition to more than $40,000,000,000 in Lend Lease expended during the war, the bulk of which is being written off as part of the price of victory.

Dollars To Buy Prosperity

The idea behind this new financing, with the United States in the role of world banker, is that dollars will be sent out to fight as soldiers of prosperity, just as Lend Lease dollars backed the soldiers and created the machines, guns, ships and airplanes which made defeat of the Axis powers possible.

Whether Congress shares this view of the administration will be determined only in the debate which will ensue when the loan to Britain comes up for approval. In an apparent effort to meet Congressional criticism in advance, Secretary of State James F. Byrnes said after signing the agreement with ambassador Lord Halifax.

Not A Gift Or Grant

"It is not a gift or a grant. It is a loan with interest. In addition to repayment, the United States receives benefits in the revision of trade policies which will enable us to do business with all nations and thus provide employment for the people of the United States."

Byrnes further described it as "an effort to establish one world economically" and prevent a division of the nations into economic blocs which would endanger universal peace.

Want Money Back

Congress probably will have to be convinced that the money will come back, instead of going into default like the first World war loans. It also will want assurance that the United States will get direct benefits from the use of its capital, rather than finding the money used by other nations to its trade disadvantages.

The loan to Great Britain consists of $4,400,000,000 of which $650,000,000 represents a final settlement of the $25,000,000,000 balance of what Britain received in lend-lease during the war. It is to be repaid over a period of 50 years beginning in 1951, with the escape clause that Britain will not have to pay interest during years in which her trade balance falls below a certain fixed level.

Huge Sum Granted

With the $4,400,000,000 credit to Britain, the United States has granted a total credit of Allied nations since V-J day of $5,720,000,000, partly in clearing up lend-lease obligations. A tabulation follows:

France	$1,050,000,000
Belgium	100,000,000
Netherlands	100,000,000
China	50,000,000
Denmark	20,000,000
Total	$1,320,000,000

In addition, Russia is reported to be seeking a credit of $6,000,000,000. Belgium is seeking $200,000,000 more from the Export-Import bank, Finland wants $150,000,000 and Denmark $30,000,000. China is understood to be asking for a large but as yet unspecified amount, and Norway a smaller loan. Other countries are yet to be heard from. The total thus is well in excess of $12,000,000,000, not counting what UNRRA is giving to needy nations.

News Briefs

Funeral services for Mrs. Wilma Cox Simpson, 35, who died at her home in Albuquerque Wednesday following an illness of several months, will be conducted at 10 o'clock this morning in the Sanders chapel with Rev. Jeff Welch, co-pastor of the Central Baptist church, officiating. Burial will be in Memorial Park. Mrs. Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cox of Lubbock, formerly lived here and in Chicago.

A graveside service was held at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in Lubbock cemetery for Ruby Marie Summers, one-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Summers of route 6, Lubbock. E. A. Perkins of the Southside Church of Christ officiated. The baby was born in West Texas hospital Thursday and died at 5 a. m. Friday. Sanders Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

The monthly community singing program of the Central Baptist church will be conducted at the church, 1311 Eighteenth Street, Sunday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock, it was announced by the Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor, Friday night.

Post officials informed Lubbock police Friday afternoon no charges were being pressed there in connection with an informal charge of two Post girls that two men Thursday night forced them at gunpoint to accompany them to Lubbock, where the girls said they managed to jump out of an automobile and telephone Lubbock police. The girls were Thelma Adams and Joyce Loyd. Officials in Abilene, where one of the men lives, did not indicate any interest in the case, evidencing that the possession by the Abilenian of six rings and three watches was not irregular.

Today's county-wide Agricultural Adjustment administration election should attract every Lubbock county farmer to the election booths, which will be open from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m., said Walter Y. Wells, administrative officer for the program in Lubbock county. Community committeemen, 36 of them, will be named to administer the 1946 AAA program. Voting places are at Hardy, Becton, Monroe, Roosevelt, Wolfforth and Woodrow schools, and at Idalou and Slaton city halls, the Shallowater Club house, the Hurlwood gin and the county courtroom here.

Atomic Energy Said To Offer Three Big Boons To Mankind

AUSTIN, Dec. 7 (U.P.) — Texas scientists considered atomic energy in the light of science and political effect at the regional meeting of the American Chemical society at the University of Texas here today.

Dr. T. R. Hogness, University of Chicago metallurgist and Manhattan project associate, said atomic energy offers three boons to mankind.

May Force Peace

He listed these as: 1. Production of power; 2. Application of tracer elements to all fields of chemical research, and 3. Possibility that it may, through fear, force men to live at peace.

Use as a power, he said, is still very distant "and in any case will give us no golden age."

Its use, he said as a "tracer" for biological research will be of incalculable value. A "tracer" in such research, it was explained, is use of some element or substance specifically identified so that its course and actions within the human or animal body may be followed and studied.

Tech Man On Program

Dr. Hogness conceded that use of atomic energy in this respect is still "only a hunch." "But it is a hunch which is becoming a stronger one, the more we reflect upon the possibilities," he said.

The science of spectrography, of inestimable value in wartime, will be of even greater use in the postwar world, Dr. William Moore Craig, of Texas Technological college today told the Texas regional meeting of the American chemical society.

In war the spectrograph, an instrument used in photographing a spectrum, was used for rapid and accurate quantitative analysis of alloys or pure metals. It permitted quick correction of defects during the process of manufacture.

Spectatrograms of various common light sources were presented to show their use in irradiation of foods, the tenderizing of meat, disinfection of air in surgery and the curing of rickets.

Man Says He's Ready To Face Hit-Run Case

HOUSTON, Dec. 7 (U.P.)—Luther W. Ragan, 35, truck driver, today told how he fled to Arkansas with his wife and four small children after a hit-run accident last week resulted in the death of John R. Cikanek.

"I was scared—and I'm still scared," he said as he sat in the city jail facing charges of negligent homicide and failure to stop and render aid.

"I was worried. My little baby was sick, so I left," he said. "I didn't know what else to do. I intended to return to Houston and face the police."

"I've never been in trouble before, and I'm ready to take this like a man."

He expressed doubt that it was his car, as charged by witnesses, that struck and caused Cikanek's death.

45th Division Map Is Presented Brownwood

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 7 (AP)—A map of Europe showing campaigns in which the 45th Division won battle stars was presented today to citizens of Brownwood from officers and men of the division.

The original map in a silver and copper tube is to be presented by Brig. Gen. Henry J. D. Meyer, division commander, to Mayor Wendell Mayes.

The 45th is to be inactivated at midnight tonight.

During closing ceremonies, the fires of the old year are allowed to die, and new fires are kindled the next day to last throughout the new year.

New Mexico Indians Plan Ancient Ritual

GALLUP, N. M., Dec. 7 (U.P.)—Ten Zuni mudheads—so called because of their mud-smeared ceremonial masks—are due to arrive at the Zuni pueblo, 40 miles south of Gallup, tomorrow night to prepare for the coming of the six Shalako gods.

The Mudheads will go immediately upon their arrival to the home of Johnnie Patone, where they will remain in retreat until time to proclaim the advent of the dancing gods of Zuni on Dec. 16.

Four days later, Longhorn, boss of the Shalakos, and his associate gods are slated to put in their appearance at the home of Homer Tsalate where they, too, will go into retreat until the official day.

On the day of Longhorn's arrvial, six Shalako impersonators and their younger brothers will go into seclusion until the start of the week-long ceremony.

The night of dancing on Dec. 16 touches off a week of traditional festivities ending the old year and ushering in the new.

TB Test Results At Tech Are Announced

Out of the 401 Texas Tech students reporting to the college medical office Friday for readings on their recent tuberculosis patch test, 27 showed positive reaction and 40 were doubtful, according to Bennie Sanford, field representative of the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association, who supervised the tests.

"This is an extremely high percentage and there remains 300 students who will receive their readings today," the supervisor said. She added that students are being urged to guard their health because this teen-age group is especially susceptible to tuberculosis.

Positive reactors were advised to see their physician immediately for a physical checkup and X-rays. The doubtful were told to obtain a doctor's advice in a further examination.

The patch tests were given Monday and Tuesday to 700 Tech freshmen by the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association.

New Electoral Law Is Proposed For Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 7. (AP)—President Avila Camacho, who has cautioned all political parties that he will not tolerate bloodshed in next July's presidential and Congressional elections, proposed to Congress today a new electorial law calling for "civic justice."

The proposed law would provide equal participation in the electorial process by the three constitutional powers of government.

The executive branch would assume responsibility for administration of the electorial law and would require strict observance. The congress would have authority to compute and declare the results of the election and the Supreme court would be imbued with authority to investigate all reports of vote violations.
