WEST TEXAS OIL OPERATOR HELD FOR RANSOM

Flurries Of Snow Accompany Winter's Brief Return Engagement In Texas

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

The Wichita Falls Symphony Orchestra has accepted an invitation to give a program at Graham on the night of April 11. The appearance of the orchestra at Graham is being sponsored by the Musicians club of that city. The program will be given in the new municipal auditorium.

The people of Wichita Falls can commend the Wichita Falls Symphony Orchestra to the people of Graham and that section knowing they will be pleased with the program it will give. This orchestra has not only given a number of programs in Wichita Falls but has appeared at Altus, Okla., Vernon and Seymour and its out-of-town performances have delighted large audiences in each of those towns.

The orchestra has been the more pleased to accept the Graham invitation because it will be easy to reach that city over the fine new pavement and because the new municipal auditorium there furnishes a splendid house for its appearance.

The Graham sponsors will extend to the music lovers of Wichita Falls, Olney, Archer City, South Bend, Ellasville, Jacksboro, Breckenridge and all other communities in that section with the home folks there in enjoyment of the orchestra's program.

Stirred by many cattle thefts in the last few years farmers and ranchmen of Clay county have an old institution, the anti-cattle theft association. The association went to work quitly and as a result a number of men are already in jail with charges of cattle stealing against them.

The old-time cattle thief cut cows from the herd or picked up strays and changed brands. The modern thief comes in a motor truck in the night and by morning is selling the stolen steer or steers in some market a hundred miles away perhaps. Change in the methods of cattle thieves has made necessary changes in the methods of the anti-cattle thief association. Whatever changes may have been necessary they seem to have been made by the Clay county association judging by the results. Clay county will be a good community for cattle thieves to avoid in the future.

The season will soon be at hand for making trips by automobile out to the creeks and lakes and woods. What a joyous and fine thing it is to do, yet some of the joy is taken out of such trips by the evidences that somebody has been to these spots before us and has left them in dirt and disorder and confusion. Of course, it may be that we offend in a similar manner. But often we return from such trips in disgust with the instincts of human kind.

Stuart Chase, in his article, "The Mad Hatter's Dirty Teacup," in the April Harper's, says that 18 million bathtubs have failed in cleaning up America. He declares that Americans cover their country, urban and rural, with "the most sublime exhibit of off-scourings and litter upon which the sun has ever shone."

"I refer," he writes, "specifically to abandoned newspapers, magazines, motor cars, tin cans, go-carts, kerosene stoves, pasteboard boxes, spring beds, picture mementos, banana peels, ice boxes, glass bottles, baby carriages, mattresses, farm machinery, rags, iron barrel hoops, chicken wire, steam shovels, portable saw mills, crockery, tar barrels, cigaret containers, tires, corrugated iron and rubber boots. I refer further to these commodities —the unsinkable varieties—on water as well as land. No inhabitant of Long Beach can fail to recognize what New York had for dinner yesterday by the deposit on the strand today."

And what he writes about New York could be written about tens

MERCURY DIVES NEAR FREEZING AFTER RAINS

Skies Clear as Forecast Calls for Moderation Of Temperature

BIG LOSS POSSIBLE

Ten Hours of Freezing Would Damage Crops, McGown Says

Winter payed a fleeting return visit to Northwest Texas and Oklahoma Tuesday, scattering a flurry of snow over sections of the Panhandle and sending the temperature close to the freezing point. After the general rains that preceded the drop Monday night, skies were clearing Tuesday night and government predictions promised warmer weather Wednesday.

Snow fell through the day Tuesday at Wellington, Memphis, Clarendon, and Mangum, Okla., melting as it touched the ground. A few flakes were reported at Lubbock and at Borger. At Sayre, Okla., the fall was heaviest, and heavy clouds indicated that it might continue through the night.

The mercury hovered in the vicinity of the freezing point through the Panhandle and a sharp north wind lasted most of the day. Early Tuesday evening the thermometer in Wichita Falls stood at 40 degrees, a drop of 41 points over the maximum Monday.

G. C. McGown, Wichita county farm agent, said Tuesday night that a hard freeze would mean serious damage to truck crops and fruits in this area. The crops might come through a light freeze, he declared, but 10 hours of sub-freezing weather would take a heavy toll.

Weather conditions in the Wichita Falls area were reported Tuesday night by Record News correspondents as follows:

WELLINGTON—Light rains Sunday and Monday were followed Tuesday by colder weather and a fall of snow, melting as it reached the ground.

MEMPHIS—Snow began falling here after a decided drop in the temperature Tuesday afternoon. A northeast wind was blowing early Tuesday night and the thermometer stood at 40 degrees.

SAYRE, OKLA.—Snow that melted as it touched the ground began falling here at 5:15 Tuesday afternoon. Heavy clouds indicated that the fall may last through the night.

CROWELL—Skies cleared here late Tuesday afternoon after a little rain and a hard north wind brought a touch of winter. The temperature stood close to the freezing point at sundown.

CLARENDON—The temperature dropped to around 36 degrees here Tuesday after a light fall of snow that lasted most of the afternoon but did not stay on the ground, the weather was clear and cold Tuesday night.

ESTELLINE—A wind from the north cleared the skies here Tuesday and left the mercury close to the freezing point Tuesday night. No rain or snow fell during the day.

CHILDRESS—It was cold and cloudy here Tuesday night, but no rain or snow fell during the day or early evening. A fresh wind from the north was blowing.

QUANAH—Although no rain or snow fell here Tuesday, clouds were heavy and a cold north wind was blowing.

PRISON FUNDS UP TO MOODY

Both Houses Pass Bill to Spend $575,000

AUSTIN, March 18. (AP)—The troublesome penitentiary reformation legislation has been boiled down to a bill authorizing the expenditure of $575,000 in renovating existing properties today, and was up to Governor Moody for action.

There was much speculation as to whether the governor would approve the compromise bill, the chief executive having argued that to spend any great amount of money on patching existing properties would be in the nature of sending "good money after bad."

Members of the conference committee working on a compromise had received unofficial warning that if the bill proposed an appropriation in excess of $400,000, Governor Moody would likely veto it.

The waning session, which expires by constitutional limitation Thursday, still has before it the matter of a sulphur tax and passing appropriations to meet emergency needs of the state schools, penitentiary system, eleemosynary institutions and departments.

The prison bill directs the expenditure of $150,000 on the walls at Huntsville; $300,000 on the farms; an additional $100,000 for Goree farm, where women prisoners are kept and Wynne farm, where tubercular convicts are quartered and $25,000 for a system of inter-prison highways.

Book Censorship Voted by Senate

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Provisions for censorship of imports of foreign literature were restored to the tariff bill tonight by the senate.

The action ended two days of debate fraught with vigorous and picturesque attacks upon the principle and the application of censorship.

It came on adoption of a modified amendment sponsored by Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, who was the center of a day-long debate amid cries of "intolerance" and calls for protection against influences termed "corrupting."

As it now stands the section would provide for seizure of literature held to be "obscene, immoral or treasonable." Destruction would be held up, however, until the matter was adjudged by a jury in a federal district court, and until appeals from that decision had been taken to the highest court.

The amendment, which would provide for seizure of questionable books by customs officials, would permit the secretary of the treasury, in his descretion, to admit the "so-called classics or books of recognized and established literary or scientific merit," but only when imported for non-commercial purposes.

CATHOLICS OF WICHITA PRAY FOR RUSSIA

Special Services Wednesday To Ask Divine Aid in Persecution

LUTHERANS GIVE PLEA

Series of Prayers Petition Return of Churches To Nation

Catholics of Wichita Falls will join others of the faith over the entire world Wednesday in a special prayer for the people of Russia, where the Soviet regime has brought about destruction of churches and denial of all religion, it was announced Monday by Father Patrick J. F. O'Beirne of the Sacred Heart church.

Special Services

High mass will be held in Wichita Falls at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning and members of the church will meet for special prayer at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Father O'Beirne said. At 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening special prayers will again be offered and Father O'Beirne will deliver a sermon. Wednesday is observed by Catholics as the feast of St. Joseph and has been designated by the pope at Rome for prayer in all Catholic churches of the world, the Catholic leader here said.

No other churches in the city will join in the special day of prayer, although many of them have been making special prayers for Russia during the Sunday services each week.

The Lutheran churches throughout the world have for some time delivered prayers for the return of the churches to Russia. Rev. A. H. Muehlbrad, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, Wednesday night described the present situation in Russia as a fulfillment of the word of the Bible.

Pastor Sees Hope

"The destruction of the churches will act as a cleansing process," he said. "It will bring forth a stronger Christianity when the people see what has been taken away from them. It will strengthen the faith of all Christendom when the time comes for the Russian people to return to the church."

Rev. Mr. Muehlbrad said that although the opinion of many persons was that the Russian people are subjecting the church to the worst persecution it has ever suffered, such was not entirely his own view of the situation. The Soviet government, he explained, has not directly ordered destruction of the churches but has brought such outward pressure to bear upon the people that they themselves are practically forced to give up their church.

Al Capone Vanishes After Jail Release

CHICAGO, March 18. (US)—"Scarface Al" Capone, central figure in an extensively planned homecoming celebration, was strangely absent today.

At least the authorities, who had made preparations of their own for his reception, were ignorant of his whereabouts.

His numerous friends in gangland likewise professed to know nothing of where their leader had vanished after he left the confines of the prison at Gratersford, Pa., at 4 p. m. yesterday.

United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson had a long-deferred citation for contempt ready, but no one to serve it on.

Directors of the Chase and trustees of the Equitable approved the consolidation at meetings this afternoon and stockholders will vote on ratification at special sessions April 24.

Sheppard Accepts Position

Sweetwater Man Thanks Moody for Naming Him Comptroller

SWEETWATER, Texas, March 18. (AP)—George H. Sheppard today wired Governor Moody his acceptance of the position of state comptroller immediately after he was notified of his appointment.

"I thank you very much for the appointment of the office of state comptroller and gratefully accept same," Sheppard telegraphed the governor.

Sheppard, whose home is in Sweetwater, has served as secretary of the board of city development of Sweetwater and later as mayor.

In 1918 he was called to Austin to work out a system when the state turned over to the tax collectors of each county the collecting of automobile license fees.

PIPE LINE BILL GOES UNSIGNED

Oil Measure to Become Law In 90 Days

AUSTIN, March 18. (UP)—Texas independent oil producers today won their first fight for protective legislation when Gov. Dan Moody filed without veto the oil pipe line bill passed by the present session of the legislature which gives the state railroad commission supervision of pipe lines and storage facilities.

The bill, which will become effective 90 days after the close of the fifth special session Thursday, also provides that when oil is taken from a field by a state-controlled pipe line, the taking must be prorated among the producers. Previous efforts to bring about prorated production have been blocked by the state anti-trust law.

The bill was introduced to the legislature after independent oil operators from all sections of the state went to Austin in a body and claimed the pipe line measure would curb the monopoly on oil carriers.

In filing the bill, Governor Moody made a notation saying he was unable to foretell the result of the measure.

GALVESTON, Texas, March 18. (AP)—Ruling that evidence was not sufficient to hold Fred Mertz, Houston narcotic agent, for murder, United States Commissioner Brantly Harris today denied the plea of the Canadian government for his extradition.

TEXAS WOMAN QUESTIONED IN MAJOR'S CASE

San Antonio Girl Divulges Marriage Proposal by Army Surgeon

HELD FOR POISONING

Government Agents Jail Officer for Slaying Wife In Kansas

DENVER, Colo., March 18. (AP)—Stripped of his army uniform; Maj. Charles A. Shepard, 59, of Fitzsimmons General hospital, Denver, was held incommunicado in jail today while government authorities continued their investigation to link him with the alleged murder last June of his 37-year-old wife at Fort Riley, Kan.

Major Shepard was accused of poisoning his wife, government officials said. Miss Grace Brandon, stenographer at Brooks field, San Antonio, Texas, was said by local authorities to have divulged that Major Shepard proposed marriage to her prior to the death of his wife.

Girl Questioned

She was questioned today. She was described as the unwilling recipient of the medical officer's attentions, and was said to have told authorities Major Shepard attempted to get a promise from her that she would marry him, if he obtained a divorce. She met Major Shepard at Brooks field in 1928.

In May, 1929, Mrs. Shepard became ill. Her husband was said to have given her medical treatment. When death occurred June 1, autopsy was performed. Results of the examination, reports show, were "suspicious," but inconclusive. The government investigation continued nine months.

Long Inquiry

As a climax to the inquiry, the investigator planned to simultaneously question Major Shepard here and Miss Brandon at San Antonio. This was the first open move on their part to indicate Major Shepard was under serious suspicion. His arrest resulted.

Major Shepard emphatically denied the charges here. He was held in jail in default of $25,000 bond.

Fellow officers at Fitzsimmons General hospital, where Major Shepard was transferred after his wife's death, described him as a studious, dignified man and the announcement of his arrest caused considerable surprise. They said they would aid him in his attempt to raise his bond.

TEXAS WOMAN DENIES REPORT

SAN ANTONIO, March 18. (AP)—Denial that she had any connection with the arrest of Major Charles A. Shepard, medical corps officer at Fitzsimmons Veterans hospital at Denver, Colo., was made by Miss Grace Brandon, stenographer at Brooks field today.

"I knew nothing of this incident in his life," Miss Brandon said. "In fact, I knew very little of Major Shepard at all. While he was at Brooks field he roomed at the same rooming house I did, as did several other Brooks field officers but I had no acquaintance with him other than that."

She declared that she had heard nothing of the case until newspaper reports were shown to her this morning.

3,000 PESOS ASKED

Texan Captured While on Oil Prospecting Trip In Old Mexico

EL PASO, March 18. (AP)—Ovie Bristow of San Angelo tonight was preparing to come to El Paso to take a plane for Mazatlan, on the west coast of Mexico, to secure the release of his father, J. E. Bristow, held by bandits for a 3,000-pesos ransom.

According to dispatches to William P. Blocker, American consul in Juarez, Mexico, the elder Bristow was captured by bandits while exploring for oil in the rugged country south of Tepic, Nayarit, Mexico. He was at Santa Maria del Oro, Nayarit, at the time of his capture.

Bristow's capture is the first report of such occurrences to reach the border in several months. The region infested several months ago by religious fanatics, is considered the most hazardous of all Mexico.

Mexico City and Mazatlan authorities are understood to have dispatched soldiers to the vicinity of the capture in an effort to dispose of the bandits. This could not be confirmed, however.

Texas Psychologist's Experiments Upset Dream Theory

'Sex Implications' Cause Visions of Athletics and Whisky

AUSTIN, March 18. (UP)—A scientific treatise on the stimulation of dreams during the state of hypnosis bids fair to cause more controversy at the University of Texas than the Carnegie athletic expose.

Suppression of the published experiments which described dreams of both men and women students and having direct sexual implications was asked of President H. Y. Benedict by a member of the state legislature, it was reported. President Benedict tonight denied he had been asked to suppress the treatse and said he would read it before taking any action.

The conclusions regarding dreams were recorded by Davis Ball Klein, associate professor of psychology at the state university. He admitted that, in the selection of dream stimuli, he used "those having direct sexual implications in terms of freudian symbolism."

Two girls were among those taking the dream tests.

One girl, after holding a wax candle for 10 seconds while in a state of hypnosis, dreamed she was playing golf, the pamphlet said. After holding it a full minute, she dreamed she was trying to chin herself on a parallel bar in the school gymnasium.

Stimuli to dreams were derived from inhalation of creosote, touching cold metal to the forehead, stroking the hand with absorbefit cotton, holding an ordinary wax candle, the odor of asafotetida and handling a cardboard triangle covered with cotton, the publication said.

After whiffing asafoetida, one student said he dreamed that "I was at a fraternity house and was being put through an initiation. I went out to Mount Bonnell, ran down the side of the mountain, crossed a lake in a boat and visited a bootlegger where I bought a bottle of whisky to take back with me."

The asfoetida caused another to dream of a dead horse, the publication said.

Professor Klein has been quoted widely for his contradictions of the freudian dream theories. He refused to comment tonight.

BETTER COTTON GRADE URGED

South Plains Organize for Seed Improvement

Special to The Record News.

PLAINVIEW, Texas, March 18.—Urging in this section the complete abandonment of all cotton seed varieties that produce untenderable staple lengths or anything shorter than ⅞-inch staple, 250 farmers, bankers, and business men of Plainview and the Plainview country met here Tuesday afternoon and agreed to ask the cooperation of all chambers of commerce, civic clubs, county agricultural agents, and other interested organizations and individuals to participate in a campaign on the South Plains for a better grade of cotton.

Speakers at the meeting included Don L. Jones, manager of the government experiment station at Lubbock, and four Hale county master farmers. J. D. Steakley, vice president of the Plainview National bank and chairman of the committee that called the meeting, presided.

"There are three factors interlocking in the production of cotton in this section," Mr. Jones told those present. "The first is, will it open? The second, is it tenderable? The third is high yield."

The speaker gave figures on the production of various types of cotton grown at the experiment station and warned the farmers not to go from one extreme to another or not to jump from extremely short staple to extremely long staple. Experiment at the station showed that the best production was realized from cotton planted about May 20, and Mr. Jones suggested that the cotton farmer in this section plant his cotton any time after May, provided he has moisture in the ground and it is not too cold.

Frank Weil, J. P. MacGar, Jim Rigler and Fred Lowe, all Texas master farmers residing in Hale county, spoke briefly at the meeting, each one urging more and better livestock and a better grade of cotton on the South Plains farms.

Before the close of the meeting a local cotton oil mill company cooperating with a number of ginners in Plainview agreed to furnish pure bred cotton seed to the farmers at cost.

A resolution presented by J. C. Anderson Jr., Carl McAdams, M. B. Snyder, J. C. Wilson, M. S. Hudson, and John F. Hardaway that the meeting recommend a better grade of cotton for this section was unanimously passed.

Wichita Falls Sign Man—

Micheal Benson Says He Had Been In Bad Health for Years—"I Improved by Argotane."

"I have gained pounds in weight, and now feel just fine," said Micheal Benson, well known proprietor of the Benson Sign company, Wichita Falls, Texas, and residing at 1804 Ninth St. Mr. Benson is one of the best known sign writers throughout this section of Texas.

"I cannot praise Argotane too much," continued Mr. Benson. "It has not only gotten me over my two years of suffering, but it has put me in good shape in every way, and I have never felt better in my life. Some of my friends say I am like a different person and I am thankful to Argotane for I believe in giving any good thing its just due.

"No other medicine I took seemed to do me any good, but after about as much as a week's use of Argotane the gas in my stomach disappeared and I commenced to pick up in health right off. Before taking Argotane the simplest food would fill my stomach with gas and misery, which woud last for several hours. The fact is, at times I did not feel fit to go after my work at all.

"I think Argotane is a great system builder and I certainly appreciate what it has done for me, and I will certainly take great pleasure in telling anyone about it."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Wichita Falls at Allison Drug store, 716 Indiana avenue.—Adv.

'Hot House Religion' Theme Of Pastor's Sermon at Revival Here

Dr. Robert E. Goodrich, pastor of the First Methodist church of Shreveport, La., addressed a large crowd on the subject, "Hot House Religion," at the First Methodist church here Tuesday night in connection with a series of talks he will make during the two weeks' revival which began last Sunday.

The subject Tuesday night was chosen to contrast with that of the preceding night, when Dr. Goodrich spoke on "Cold Storage Religion." The theme of his talk Tuesday was shown in his description of a hot-house plant, which is for beauty alone and cannot reproduce its kind and which fades without having left constructive accomplishment behind it. Mrs. Victor Lowrey gave a special vocal solo Tuesday night.

Dr. Goodrich's subject Wednesday morning at the 10 o'clock meeting will be "The Sovereignty of Service." His subject for the meeting at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night has not yet been announced.

COMEDY AGAIN DRAWS CROWD

Little Theater Farce Proves Popular Vehicle

Near-professional spontaneity and rapidly flowing action in the second performance of "Men Are Like That" by the Little Theater Tuesday night were rewarded by a material increase in attendance and a hearty response from the audience.

Just how much fun may be drawn from lightly caricaturing institutions and customs which are part of our every-day surroundings is delightfully demonstrated in the lines of the Little Theater's March selection. From the moment that the two young friends leave Jack's house to rescue Cousin Elmer and his aristocratic family from an impending disgraceful marriage to the same pair's thrilling recitation of escape from death in the briny deep, "Men Are Like That" succeeds in staying far removed from serious thought. As a marked change from tragedy and comedy-drama given in the Little Theater's two preceding productions, the farce chosen for the current season is pleasingly hilarious.

As on Monday night, J. C. Straus Jr., led a capable cast with an unusually good impersonation of Mabel's husband. In his distraught manner, frantic gestures, and vocal contortions, Mr. Straus' performance vividly suggests the comedy roles of Johnny Arthur. Arnold Cuerton as the ferocious Turk, and Woodrow Bristow as Policeman McNutt successfully overcame the handicap of drawing heavily-costumed roles with comedy which became exceedingly energetic without entering the realm of slapstick.

Music before Tuesday night's performance and between acts was furnished by Misses Lucille Crouch and Lucille Snyder, violinists, accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Crouch.

"Men Are Like That" will be given again on Wednesday and Thursday nights, at 8:15 o'clock, under the direction of F. C. McClung, Little Theater director.

Showers over most of this area and downpours in part of it have given the wheat a fine start and the prospects for a harvest are better than usual. Even if wheat is no longer a leading crop and even if the market is comparatively low, a good wheat crop would bring millions of dollars into this territory. Let's not leave the prospects for a good wheat crop out of consideration in hoping for an improvement in business conditions.

DOHENY LOSES ON TWO POINTS

Government Introduces Civil Court Findings

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Through two hours of sharp cross-examination, Edward L. Doheny maintained today that the $100,000 he advanced Albert B. Fall in 1921 was a loan and not a bribe to the cabinet officer to induce him to award Doheny's company a lease to the Elk Hills naval oil reserve.

The 73-year-old oil man opened the way, however, for the government to get before the jury for the first time the statement that civil courts returned the leases to the government on the ground of fraud and that he himself refused to testify in those suits because to do so might incriminate him.

Doheny wept when he testified concerning his son who was killed by his secretary a year ago.

He evaded the question of his refusal to testify in the civil trial until Justice William Hitz instructed him to answer. Finally Owen J. Roberts, special government prosecutor, read a statement that Doheny read to the court in the civil trial which ended with the assertion that he declined to testify on the grounds that anything he might say might lead to incriminate him in the subsequent criminal trial.

Roberts endeavored to show that Doheny and Fall conspired prior to Nov. 30, 1921, to get possession of the naval oil reserve. During this questioning Doheny told of Fall sending him security for the $100,000 Doheny had advanced him.

Hammer Murder Case Collapses

FORT WORTH, March 18. (AP)—The chain of circumstantial evidence that put J. Roy Raines, barber, in toils of the law with the charge that he murdered Mrs. Pearl Voss, 30, whose body, with the head beaten in with a hammer, was found in a pasture Sunday morning, broke at several links today.

After chemical analysis showed that pecans had made the "blood stains" on the hammer found at Raines' home and that the "blood stains" on his hat were not blood, a woman friend of Mrs. Voss told county officers that she saw her Saturday morning. Raines was arrested after a restaurant waiter had told of his being with Mrs. Voss Friday night. It had been assumed that she was slain that night.

A hair found on the "stained" hammer did not come from the head of the dead woman, analysis showed, and a piece of cloth found in the barber's automobile, did not come from clothing worn by Mrs. Voss at the time she was killed.

'BOSS' CREAGER DEFENDS MEN

GOP Leader Praises Work Of Texas Officials

DALLAS, March 18. (AP)—Rene B. Creager, Republican National committeeman from Texas, today issued a statement defending J. D. Hartman, United States attorney, and Roy A. Campbell, collector of customs, whose dismissal was asked today by Senator McKellar of Tennessee.

Creager also pointed to President Hoover's statement, commending the Texas Republican organization.

"I stand firmly behind Campbell and Hartman," Creager said. "The attacks made upon them by Brookhart and McKellar are unwarranted unjust and unsupported by any facts.

"The American public is sick and tired of the usurpation of authority and the tyranny of these senate committees and subcommittees. Hiding behind their senatorial immunity they slander and libel honorable men and women. They make statements they would not dare make outside of the sacred precincts of their committee rooms.

"Both Campbell and Hartman have excellent reputations in their respective departments, though like all others in public life they have been subjected to false and malicious charges by vindictive personal and political enemies."

He added that in the files of the secretary of the treasury are recent letters from the Democratic governor of Texas, the Democratic attorney general of Texas and the Democratic minority leader of the house, strongly commending Campbell and "Hartman has on file testimonials and endorsements of equal strength, including those of leaders and officials of dry organizations of his district."

Republican leaders of Texas "stand foursquare to the world with nothing to conceal," he asserted, "nothing to retract, nothing for which to apologize. We do not propose to have a Democrat from Tennessee or a Bolshevik from Iowa dictate our policies. I am glad to challenge Brookhart and McKellar to do their worst."

HOOVER ORDERS PROBE OF COMMITTEE REPORT

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Asserting that by action taken last year he had stopped "reprehensible practices" in the distribution of patronage, President Hoover announced today he had asked the department of justice to consider the findings of the senate committee condemning conditions in the South.

Almost coincident with his comment upon the report of the Brookhart committee on federal patronage, Senator Blease of South Carolina and Senator McKellar of Tennessee, both Democrats, again attacked appointments in the South.

Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, replied that the president "does not approve but condemns any sale of patronage."

The president said all federal officials known to have engaged in reprehensible practices have either resigned or have been removed. He added that the senate report referred to "incidents, men and conditions which already have been cleaned up by the action I took on the 16th of March last."

Senator Blease asserted in the senate the Republican party in South Carolina "stands for graft and corruption and dishonest government and dishonorable disposition of patronage."

He said the government was "a stench in the nostrils of every decent man in the state."

Calling attention to testimony before the patronage committee involving District Attorney Hartman and Roy Campbell, collector of internal revenue, both of Texas, Senator McKellar, a committee member, said both should be dismissed and that he would oppose their confirmation if they were renominated.

Moses Addresses Texas Cattlemen

SAN ANGELO, Texas, March 18. (AP)—Coming out in favor of the packers consent decree, Dayton Moses of Fort Worth told cattlemen of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association in convention here today that packers should be permitted to compete in a retail way and with free distribution.

Bills introduced in the legislature, he said, would eventually lead to the taxation of West Texas natural resources, and the land would be split up if the legislature continued its present course. He said it was high time for cattlemen to take a greater interest in business and watch legislation.

He criticized the Box immigration bill as written by a man who knew nothing of the situation, calling it ill conceived and indefensible.

The speaker asserted cattle thefts were as numerous as ever. He told of the ease with which stock was trucked away and butchered during the night. He said tick eradication was indispensable to the cattle business.

RAILEXPANSION PROGRAM TOLD

General Atterbury Outlines Billion Dollar Plan

NEW YORK, March 18. (INS)—A development and expansion program that will revolutionize American transportation has been instituted, and $1,000,000,000 will be spent this year to advance it, Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad says in an interview which will appear in the American Magazine.

"The practice of treating automobiles, ships, aircraft and railroads as separate agencies is wasteful," General Atterbury says. He regards coordination as the key to the present railroad problem.

General Atterbury estimates that the running time between Chicago and New York will be reduced from 20 hours to 14 within a few years.

"We have already spent $6,000,000,000, yet what has been done is only a beginning. Between $8,000,000,000 and $10,000,000,000 will be spent in the next 10 years," General Atterbury said.

"Future trains," he continues, will be as luxurious as hotels and passengers will be able to take their automobiles with them as if they were baggage. Radiophones will keep travelers in touch with their offices and homes."

With the eventual consolidation of competing railroads, which, General Atterbury believes, the Interstate Commerce commission will permit, will come a scrapping of some routes and the substitution of motor highways for the rights of way.

Railroad Hearing Begins in April

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Investigation of railroad holding companies by the house interstate commerce committee is expected by Chairman Parker to begin early next month with members of the Interstate Commerce commission as first witnesses.

The procedure under which the investigation to be conducted is being formulated by Dr. W. M. W. Splawn, special counsel retained to direct the technical phases of the inquiry.

The commission officials are to be heard first, Parker said, in order to lay the ground work for the investigation, which is to be made to ascertain the true ownership of the railroads with a view to formulating legislation which would bring the holding companies under the jurisdiction of the commission. This is necessary, he continued, before the committee could formulate legislation to bring about the consolidation of the railroads.

Germans Pass New Law To Protect the Republic

BERLIN, March 18. (AP)—The Reichstag today adopted the new law for the protection of the republic by a vote of 265 to 150.

The law supersedes the old defense law which went out of operation on July 22, 1929.

Under the old law the former kaiser was specifically forbidden to reenter Germany. The new law does not contain this provision, and, while under it the kaiser theoretically would be free to return, nobody, not even the monarchists, considers even the possibility of his return.

House Ruled by Three Men, Says Nebraska Democrat in Address

WASHINGTON, March 18. (INS)—Three men control the house of representatives under a "gag rule system" like "a schoolboy controls his own marbles" and the senate is the only bulwark between the average citizen and predatory interests, Representative Edgar Howard, Democrat of Nebraska, declared in a speech in the house today.

He followed the denunciation of his own body with an appeal for a revision of rules to allow "reasonable debate" to individual members.

He inferentially named Speaker Nicholas Longworth, Representative Tilson of Connecticut Republican leader, and Representative Snell, Republican of New York, chairman of the rules committee, as the "big three" of the house.

The latter, he declared, has more power than the rest, because his committee frames the house program.

"He has more power than the president of the United States," said Howard.

Although defending the individual ability of members of the house as compared with the senate, Howard contended that the "popular branch" had become a plaything for a few men.

"My object is not to debase the house, but rather to direct attention to its own shameful mistreatment of itself," said Howard.

After slaying the populace, continued the reports, the bandits looted the town, carrying their plunder into the mountains of western Kiangsi.

Makes Friends with Savages Escapes Death

And has still better luck when he gets home

JOHN J. WHITEHEAD, explorer and lecturer, has just returned from eight months in the jungles of South America, where he was searching for traces of the lost Colonel Fawcett and his son.

Dangerous as he found the jungle, he encountered a worse danger at home. But let him tell it.

"One of the great problems of a trip of this kind is keeping in healthy condition. When we started, some of the members of the party had laxatives with them, but made wise by experience I carried Nujol. All too quickly my stock ran out. Soon I was in bad shape—what with a diet of rice and beans, lacking vitamins and green vegetables.

"When we finally got back to civilization, entertained first in Brazil and later in the United States, I became positively ill. Severe stomach pains and poor elimination made me realise that Nujol would again prove the reliable, trusty keeper of health. Sure enough, with the first bottle the trouble disappeared—and you can be sure that no matter what important equipment I have to discard, my next adventure will see me taking plenty of Nujol along."

Don't think Nujol is a medicine. It is as tasteless and colorless as clear water. It brings you, however, what your body needs like any other machine—lubrication. Just as a good bath washes our bodies clean, Nujol sweeps away, easily and normally, those internal bodily poisons (we all have them) that make us feel dull and headachy and sick. Nujol cannot hurt even a little baby; it forms no habit; it contains not one single drug. Doctors and nurses use it themselves and tell you to use it, if you want to be well.

Take Nujol every night for two weeks and prove to yourself how happy and bright and full of pep you can be, if your body is internally clean. Get a bottle today at any drug store. It costs but a few cents and it makes you feel like a million dollars. Start traveling the health-road to success and happiness—this very day!

COTTON POOL FUNDS MAILED

Oklahoma Farmers Will Split $600,000

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., March 18.—Encouraging news was received from the Oklahoma Farm Growers association Monday to the effect that $600,000 had been placed in the mail for Oklahoma farmers as the members' portion of the cotton which had been changed from the daily to the seasonal pool prior to Feb. 24.

Altogether 59,000 bales registered in the first seasonal pool will be affected. The money was received by wire from Washington at 1 o'clock Monday and an hour later checks were being mailed to the different individuals. It is not known how much of this is being sent to Tillman county, but it is a considerable sum as Tipton is the leading association delivery point in the state and Frederick is second.

Fishing Ship Sinks Off Atlantic Coast

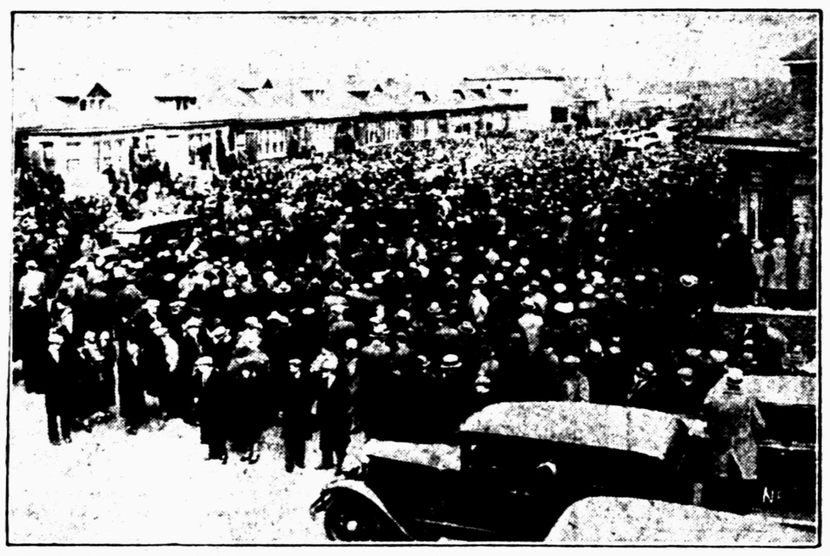

NEWPORT, R. I., March 18. (UP)—Sinking of the fishing vessel Ethel and Mary of Boston, 35 or 40 miles off Boston was reported by a radio message intercepted by the naval radio station here tonight.

The message sent from the trawler Alden T. Mills to the coast guard cutter Ossippee, said the crew of the Ethel and Mary had been taken aboard and asked to be transferred to the government craft.

Clubs in Cardiff, Wales, are rapidly increasing, and the police are watching some of them suspiciously.

QUAIL FREED

48 Pairs Freed Here by Izaak Walton League

Forty-eight pairs of Bob White quail were distributed in protected pastures near Wichita Falls Monday afternoon by Ben G. Oneal, president of the Wichita Falls chapter of the Izaak Walton league.

The birds were obtained from Mexico through the federal fish and game commission, Mr. Oneal said, and will further aid the league's program of restocking this district not only with fish, but with game birds of all kinds.

Twelve cans of bass and green perch, numbering perhaps 1,000 fish of three and four-inch sizes, were received this week from the federal fish hatchery at San Marcos, and were placed in Lake Wichita, Mr. Oneal said.

GIANT WHALE ARRIVES TODAY

Captain and Mates to Show Sea Monster

Residents of Wichita Falls will have an opportunity Wednesday to view the actual bulk of a 70-ton finback whale, many perhaps for the first time in their lives, when Capt. Lee Teller and his mates open the doors of the exhibition platform built out from their special 72-foot glass-inclosed railway car on Ohio avenue between Fifth and Sixth streets.

In addition to the whale, which was caught off the coast of southern California and preserved for its tour of the country, the exhibition will include many other specimens of the deep. Captain Teller will lecture on the whale and the other exhibits. The doors will open at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning and close at 11 o'clock at night. The exhibition will be open between those hours each day through Sunday.

In spite of its size, the whale is one of the least intelligent creatures in existence. In reasoning power, sense of smell and eyesight it is very weak, but its hearing is keen. Its throat is so small that an ordinary grapefruit would choke it to death. Its food consists of very small fish which the whale devours in huge quantities.

For that reason, nature has provided the "pilot fish." These fish, which are from two to three feet long, are almost inseparable companions of whales. From 100 to 600 of these pilot fish will attach themselves to the forward end of the whale, hanging on by means of suction plates, and will guide the huge mammal to schools of small fish. The pilot fish eat what small fish the whale misses.

Nature has also provided an enemy for the whale. The killer whales, the most brutal and dangerous of all fish, weigh from 600 to 2,000 pounds and measure about 20 feet. Their heads are much like those of a bulldog and their teeth are as terrible as those of a tiger. A group of killers will attack either side of the whale's jaws while others attack the sides of the monster. They sink their long, sharp teeth deep in the whale and turn their heads, like a bulldog, until they have torn out great chunks of flesh. They continue the attack until they have reached the vitals and the tongue of the whale, which they particularly relish. During this time the whale is being attacked from underneath by the killer's ally, the sword fish, and the huge mammal, unable to defend himself, is soon killed.

AUTO VICTIM'S RITES TODAY

Woman's Body Taken From Bellevue to Quanah

Special to The Record News.

BELLEVUE, Texas, March 18.—The body of Mrs. Frank Moore, of Fort Worth, fatally injured when the automobile in which she was driving overturned during a rain storm near here Monday night, was taken to Quanah for burial Tuesday afternoon. Funeral services will be held there Wednesday.

Terrell Shannon, of Cleburne, the driver of the car, was allowed to leave the Bellevue hospital and return to his home today. Mr. Shannon suffered a dislocated collar bone.

The accident happened between 9 and 10 o'clock Monday night when the car skidded on the wet pavement during the worst of a three-inch rain storm and went over an embankment. As Shannon tried to extricate it, the machine slipped back and turned over, fatally injuring Mrs. Moore. She died an hour later in a Bellevue hospital.

The two were on their way to Childress where Mr. Shannon, an old family friend, was planning to assist Mrs. Moore in the settlement of business affairs.

Government Ends Case In Navarro Conspiracy

WACO, Texas, March 18. (UP)—After one man had been dismissed by court order, the government today closed presentation of its case against 20 Freestone county residents charged with conspiring to violate the national prohibition laws.

Tom Blackman was dismissed on motion of Tom D. Hartman, U. S. district attorney.

Dog Condemned To Die Makes Escape

SANTA ROSA, Calif., March 18. (UP)—Tim, the police dog who was condemned to die and excited nationwide pleas that his life be spared, escaped his death cell today on the eve of his execution, and some small boy, who did not understand this law business, was suspected.

The dog was to have faced a firing squad Wednesday for killing sheep.

Because the aperture through which Tim wriggled to freedom was too small to admit the passage even of an undersized adult, authorities leaned on the theory Tim had been "sprung" by one of the small boys in the neighborhood.

The "jail delivery" occurred shortly after Poundmaster Melvin George had paid Tim his daily visit.

It was thought Tim's small accomplice crept to the rear of the old garage where the dog was kept and made an opening by prying away some thin boards with a screwdriver.

Tenth Health Worker Parrot Fever Victim

WASHINGTON, March 18. (US)—Still another worker in the hygienic laboratory of the U. S. public health service was stricken with parrot fever today, making 10 in all who have fallen victim to the mysterious malady.

B. M. Murphy, laboratory helper, is the latest victim. Dr. Ludwig Hektoen, chief of the medical division of the national research council, also is ill with symptoms of the mysterious psittacosis, but the case has not yet been definitely diagnosed.

INQUIRY TO SEE HUSTON PAPER

Records of Account Asked By Lobby Quizzes

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Records of an account maintained by Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican National committee, with his personal broker in New York were subpoenaed today by the senate lobby committee.

It was decided to obtain only the records of $36,100 contributed the Union Carbide company for the Tennessee River Improvement association. Huston, a former president of this association, has testified he deposited the money with the brokers and that it all had been turned over to the organization which has been active in advocating the proposal of the American Cyanamid company to lease Muscle Shoals.

The subpoena directs Charles A. Krickel of the brokerage firm to appear before the committee tomorrow with the records.

Senator Robinson threatened to carry the controversy to the senate floor if all of Huston's records were summoned.

"If the subpoena is limited to the question of the Tennessee River Improvement association and anything this man did as president of that concern," Robinson shouted, "then I say there should be the fullest publicity, but a subpoena such as this appears to be, would go into all the affairs of the Republican party."

Opposing the proposal to subpoena all his records with the brokers, Huston asserted:

"I do not know what my legal rights are. I think I have some legal rights. I have been dealt with by this committee in a very unwarranted manner and I have tried to be a gentleman all the way through. My character has been attacked in a wholly unwarranted way and I do not think that this committee wants to go through my personal records for the purpose of ascertaining facts when I am in a position to supply those facts independent of any examination they may make."

'Death' Fails to Part Couple—Woman Sues

NEW YORK, March 18. (US)—"Death" failed to part them so she sued to annul the marriage, Mrs. Winifred Sackville Stoner, a child prodigy before she grew up, testified today.

She appeared before Referee William P. Burr to press her annulment suit against Charles P. C. Burch, imitation count, for whom she once held funeral services. That was in 1922, when she heard he had been killed in an automobile accident in Mexico.

He appeared very much alive last spring, but he did not appear today to contest the suit. The referee reserved decision.

"If soap irritates your skin you are using the wrong kind"

says EMILE MASSÉ

whose beauty shop, in Paris, is known throughout the continent

"Every complexion needs soap and water. But some soaps are harmful. They injure the texture of the skin. They contain too much free alkali . . . caustic soda . . . similar irritants. That is why I advise all my clients: 'Never use any soap except Palmolive.'"

E. Massé
16 Rue Daunou, Paris

Here is the celebrated Masse, himself, superintending a facial treatment given by one of the assistants in his salon.

Palmolive is pure. It it made of palm and olive oils, known for generations as nature's greatest beautifiers. Since the days of the lovely Cleopatra, nothing has ever supplanted these beauty oils.

"THE beauty specialist cannot work on an irritated skin," says Emile Massé, of Paris. "Every woman should aid her beauty expert by using Palmolive. Its vegetable oil content is safe, soothing, non-irritating." Monsieur Massé, famous Parisian beauty specialist, explains—in these words—why 19,800 of his celebrated colleagues recommend Palmolive Soap. They want their clients to use a soap that definitely helps the expert in keeping complexions lovely. And Palmolive is their universal choice.

Why the skin needs soap and water

The pores must be thoroughly yet gently cleansed twice every day, to keep the skin from looking drawn, muddy, coarse, uncared for.

Palm and olive oils, as combined in Palmolive Soap, provide a penetrating, healing cleanliness that is the very foundation of facial beauty. Since the days of Cleopatra, these two famous cosmetic oils have been used as beautifiers. Nothing has ever supplanted them. "This soap," says Massé, "combines deep cleansing with the well-known cosmetic effects of palm and olive oils."

Palmolive's color is the natural color of olive and palm oils. The natural odor of these oils makes unnecessary the addition of heavy perfumes. It contains no other fats . . . just nature's own cosmetic oils.

Consult your beauty expert

Visit your beauty expert regularly, to be well groomed in every beauty detail. And cooperate with your expert by using Palmolive Soap daily in this simple treatment advocated by more than 19,800 famous beauticians:

Massage a smooth lather of Palmolive gently into the skin for about 2 minutes. Then rinse it off with warm water, graduating to cold. That's all. But be sure you do it regularly night and morning — as Monsieur Massé and the other famous experts advise.

P. S.—And use Palmolive for the bath, too. It costs no more than ordinary soaps, you know.

19,813 of the world's best known experts specify Palmolive for all home facial treatments!

Turning the light of Truth on false and misleading statements in recent cigarette advertising

WHAT ANOTHER MANUFACTURER of cigarettes chooses to say about his product is not our affair. Even when he sees fit to misrepresent his product and leave false impressions concerning it, that still is his business—not ours.

But—when, in his advertising, he goes beyond his own product and makes false statements or leaves misleading impressions about other cigarettes—then it is time that the truth be told.

Some time ago a manufacturer of cigarettes used the following statements in his advertising:

> "The extra secret heating process removes from (————) harmful irritants, corrosive acrids, which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way, and which cause throat irritation and coughing."
> "No matter how much or how little you pay for cigarettes you have a choice of only two general classes, and not more than two. In one class you have the billions of cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way and in the other class you have (————), the toasted cigarette, a product of modern science, a cigarette from which harmful irritants have been removed by that extra secret process described by the phrase 'It's Toasted'."

WHEN THESE STATEMENTS were first made, we assumed that they were a casual phase of that manufacturer's advertising and did not represent a deliberate and calculated policy. After making a few such statements, he abandoned this particular form of advertising. However, other statements used in his advertising came to the attention of the Federal Trade Commission on a question of their truthfulness.

As a result of the action of the Federal Trade Commission he was ordered to stop his admitted practice of using in his advertising false testimonials of non-smokers to the effect that they kept slender by smoking his brand of cigarettes, and was further ordered to stop using other fake testimonials and the specious argument that all can keep slender by smoking that brand of cigarettes. He then began to use again the form of statement quoted above or variations of it.

IF ANY MANUFACTURER chooses to say that the tobaccos he uses contain "harmful irritants, corrosive acrids, that are injurious to the throat," and then to claim that these things are removed by the heat-treating process, that is his own affair. But when he tries to create the impression that it is general practice to use in cigarettes such rank tobaccos as he describes, we object to the attempted reflection on the industry.

We have never used in our blend those rank tobaccos which can be properly described as containing "harmful irritants, corrosive acrids," nor do we believe that they are used by some of the other manufacturers.

If that manufacturer wishes to advertise heat treatment, calling it toasting or what-not, that is his right. But when, in so doing, he tries to create the impression that he is the only maker of cigarettes who treats tobaccos with heat, the truth again needs to be told.

The publication of a fake testimonial is no greater perversion of the truth than to imply that the heat treatment of tobaccos is an exclusive process with any single manufacturer.

THE FACT is that the use of heat treatment in the manufacture of tobacco is about the most commonplace and universally practiced method in the industry. It has long been standard practice.

We use heat treatment in its most modern and scientific application, both in the preparation and in the manufacture of those mild, fragrant, ripe tobaccos that carry their natural goodness into CAMELS.

The first CAMEL Cigarette we ever made was manufactured under the heat-treating process. Every one of the billions of CAMELS produced since has been manufactured under heat treatment. We rely upon heat to the limits of its possibilities to make our good tobaccos better. It cannot make inferior tobaccos good.

WHETHER OR NOT a manufacturer, to have something to talk to the public about, attaches a contrivance to his heat-treating machines to catch, condense and bottle the vapors that come from them can have no more effect toward improving the tobacco than your catching and bottling the vapors that come from your teapot would have toward improving the tea in the pot.

Our own brand, CAMEL, continues to grow, but we are, nevertheless, unwilling to let these far-reaching false statements or impressions regarding the cigarette industry go uncorrected.

Prominent Women To Serve At Forum Social Events

Among the interesting reports made at the meeting of the executive board of the Woman's Forum at the clubhouse Tuesday morning, Mrs. A. G. Holmes said although final reports were not in, more than $420 has been cleared on the spring festival and fashion show.

It was announced that many of the most prominent women of the forum have volunteered their services in serving guests at the luncheons to be given during the remainder of the spring season, just as women serve guests in their homes and in church societies. This offer was made when members of the forum realized the financial obligations of the club this spring. Other volunteers are expected daily.

At the silhouette luncheon honoring the out of town members Wednesday, several prominent club women will assist in serving.

Mrs. Bernard Martin, membership chairman, is still accepting membership dues for this year and dues paid at this time by new members will allow them all the privileges of the remainder of the year 1929-30 with 1930-31. The Mulvaney concert, which will take place on the evening of March 26, the Thomas Skeyhill lecture of April 8, the husbands' dinner to be given late in March and the May breakfast, will be open to new members on their white tickets.

The husbands' evening, which was decided on as a concert dinner, will be given late in March, adding another to the gay festivities open to the membership.

Mrs. T. T. T. Reese, chairman of affiliated clubs, reported 286 tickets to the Spring Festival sold by the members of these clubs and said that some of the clubs were 100 per cent. Mrs. Reese also reported one newly federated club.

Mrs. C. P. Burton was elected delegate to the convention of the first district of the T. F. W. C. convening in Stephenville in April, with Mrs. W. N. Maer, alternate.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

About the most unseasonable thing we have seen yet was a man carrying a great basket of artificial flowers Tuesday morning. So far as that goes, artificial flowers are always unseasonable in our opinion, but the brilliant pinks and reds and yellows and greens were ghastly in the cold gray day.

◇

We did not feel at all embarrassed Tuesday over not wearing a new spring hat. There's a complex in our system that keeps such trifles from being embarrassing to us, even on the most summery days when we wear a shabby felt; but Tuesday was made for winter bonnets.

◇

We noticed, however, that the trees and hedges in blossoms had a sort of shame-faced look, as if they'd like a wrap of green thrown round them.

◇

And the cold wind that had been banished for so many days, took pleasure in the nips he gave people. It was good to get out of his reach in a restaurant where people were warming up over their lunch.

◇

We had our eye fixed on what they warmed up on. Nine-tenths of the men who sit down at tables to eat order meat, according to the waiter who served us—and he is observant.

◇

But a table of men sat back of us and we noticed when the waiter called for desserts, they named "pineapple sherbets" and "vanilla nut sundaes."

◇

One man said, "Just bring me a cup of black coffee," and we thought we would rather like his taste, but he looked terribly stern.

◇

A table of ladies ordered salad, coffee and dessert; we gather they were probably attending a matinee. In these days when women work as men do, they need food as men do.

◇

Men have fun lunching together. Their laughs ring out all over a cafe. But just the same, we think they don't need to pick their teeth at the table; one man was—picking his throat!

◇

Most of the time we like men; they are almost always like big boys. We are not at all like a spinster friend who just sent us a clipping from a Memphis, Tenn., paper, thinking it would be of interest to us because it was about a Mississippi scandal. (It happened we never knew the people involved.)

◇

But this spinster—an old, old maid—remarked on the punishment of the woman who whipped her husband's stenographer, and was sentenced to 90 days and a $500 fine. "I never saw the man yet who was worth $500; did you?"

CAKES AND PIES HAVE PLACE IN THE DIET

Their Flavorful Goodness Makes Balanced Meals Compiete

America has made its pastry popular the world over. And of all desserts, few can be made in more pleasing variety than pies and cakes.

Every normal person should have pastry frequently, because it helps balance the diet. A piece of fruit pie with a tender crust, or a slice of light textured cake is an ideal ending to a meal composed of meat, and vegetables of the leafy as well as the starchy sort.

The ingredients and manufacturing methods employed by modern bakers, great and small, insure the highest quality in these popular American desserts. Their freshness can be depended upon and their price is within reach of all.

A nationally known food chemist recommends a generous vegetable salad followed by a piece of pie, cake or any similar dessert for those dieting, in order to reduce weight. Such a meal ideally satisfies the appetite without increasing weight. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

Black Face Comedian Undergoes Operation

LOS ANGELES, March 18. (UP)—George Searcy, who until recently was the "George Moran" of the blackface comedy team, Moran and Mack, will undergo an operation here Wednesday on a badly infected gall bladder.

Dr. O. M. Justice, his physician, said Searcy's condition was serious but probably not critical. Much, however, will depend upon the operation. Searcy recently had legal difficulties with Mack after being replaced in the Moran and Mack team.

Vienna, Austria, is giving dinners daily to 20,000 school children.

Healthiest!

"My little daughter is about the healthiest girl I know," says Mrs. Wm. L. Pieper, 1043 Drexel Ave., San Antonio. "And I want to give credit where it is due.

"Elaine was constipated several years ago and I gave her California Fig Syrup. It helps her so wonderfully that I have used it ever since for all her upsets or colds. It has kept her strong, energetic, rugged."

Children suffer when bowels are not regular. Breath becomes fetid; tongue coated; eyes dull. When these symptoms are neglected, biliousness, feverishness, lack of appetite invariably follow.

The first dose of California Fig Syrup relieves these symptoms and activates sluggish bowels. Successive doses help tone and strengthen weak bowels; improve appetite; encourage digestion and assimilation. Try it with a bilious, headachy, constipated child and see how it helps!

The pure vegetable product, endorsed by doctors for 50 years, always bears the name California. So look for it when buying.—Adv.

Never Be Humble In Courting, Dix Tells Young Man

When You Go Courting, Never Go Humbly—But If You Were Born Meek You Can Win Your Sweetheart by Asking Forgiveness of Your Dark Past or by Camping on Her Doorstep Until She Gives In.

A young man who frankly admits that he has been successful in his love affairs wants to know how to win a woman. Well, son, there are no set rules for courting. It is a matter of the inspiration of the moment and the reason that a lot of men fail to get the wives they want is because they didn't have the right hunch at the right time. They were humble when they should have been masterful. They told home truths when they should have let go all hold on veracity and lied like Ananias. They popped the question in the middle of a meal when their mouths were full of mashed potatoes and rare roast beef instead of sentiment, and so their Lady Loves said "No" instead of murmuring "Yes."

No sheik has ever yet charted out a high road to a woman's heart and put up signboards that say, "Take this turn to the right," or "Avoid that detour and you cannot fail to arrive at your goal." Every girl is different from every other girl and must be approached in a different manner, so every man has to adapt his technique to the occasion and use the treatment that the particular case seems to indicate, as doctors say.

Probably the best and most effective general all-the-way-round method of wooing is the cave-man style. In her secret soul every woman wants some brutal lover who will be so mad for her that he will knock her down with a club and drag her by the hair of her head to his lair if that is the only way of getting her. Every woman wants to be swept off her feet by some man who will dominate her and who will marry her in spite of herself and who will make her believe that he will commit murder upon any other man who comes near her.

So, when you go courting, son, never go humbly. Never abase yourself before a woman if you want her, because no woman can ever resist the temptation to kick the man who is kneeling at her feet or to refrain from trampling on one who makes of himself a doormat before her. It is the bold men, the strong men, the arrogant men that women fall for.

If you beseech a woman to name the wedding day, she will keep putting it off, but if you announce to her that she will marry you on next Thursday she may say that she won't do it, but come Thursday she will be waiting for you at the altar with her wedding veil on.

Curiously enough, next to battering down the door to a woman's heart and entering in and taking possession, the best method of approach is by way of the confessional. If few women can resist the cave man no more can they resist the penitent. There is something about a black sheep that just naturally appeals to them and makes them want to take him to their bosoms and make a pet of him.

Perhaps it is the maternal in them that makes them want to shelter and protect a poor, weak, helpless creature who can't stand alone in the world. Perhaps the man's allure for them is the field he offers for woman's eternal mania for reforming things. Perhaps there is always something romantic, especially to a very good woman, in a dark, sinister past filled with sins that she cannot even guess at.

At any rate, for whatever reasons, the undesirable and the ineligible have a fatal attraction for women. There is no surer way of winning a woman's interest and her affection than by telling her a hard-luck story, and even although a man confesses to half the crimes in the calendar, if he makes a woman believe that she alone can reform him, it is all over except sending out the wedding cards.

If women like to be won in a whirlwind courtship, they likewise succumb to a patient seige. Therefore, a man is foolish who gets discouraged when a girl refuses him the first five or six times he asks her to be his.

If he wants her, all that he has to do is to camp on her doorstep and be always Johnny-on-the-spot. Thus will he establish himself as a habit with her.

And without knowing it she will become dependent upon his society, upon his fetching and carrying and making life pleasant and agreeable for her. Also, without her noticing it, he will drive other suitors away and then when he judiciously absents himself she will realize how empty life would be without him and gladly cast herself into his arms.

Millions of men wear out women's sales resistance by their persistence and marry girls who swore that they would never marry them, and live happily ever after.

Of course, all girls like to be flattered and told how beautiful and wonderful they are and they lend a willing ear to the man who is a glib love-maker. Also, they fall for the romantic stuff, but if you feel that nature didn't fit you to quote poetry and build verbal castles in Spain, go in heavy for the fifty-fifty partnership marriage stuff. That goes strong with the modern girl, for it leads her to believe that you will help her wash the dishes and roll the baby carriage and come across with a regular allowance.

Also remember that whether a girl says "yes" or "no" when you pop the question depends to a large extent upon how and where you do it. Never propose to a woman in her hour of triumph when she is looking her best or when she has on a new dress or has just had a raise in salary. Then she is sufficient unto herself and wants to be bothered with no man. Wait until she is tired and her hair is out of curl and things have gone wrong at the office and all she wants is some man's shoulder to cry on and some man to lean on.

And never propose in a crowd or in the midst of a meal or when you are crossing the street. It is a woman's great moment and it makes her so mad to have it muffed that she can't resist saying "no," no matter how much she wants you.

But, son, if a girl loves you and wants you, any old style of courting will do.

Looks Young, Feels Fine

"Eight years ago before my last baby was born, I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I got such good results that I named her Catherine Lydia. I have six older children and five grandchildren, too. I am 44, but people tell me I look much younger. I am now taking the Vegetable Compound again because of my age. I eat and sleep better and I do all my housework, and my washing. I will do my best to answer letters."—Mrs. H. Dolhonde, 6318 York St., New Orleans, Louisiana.

Splendid Numbers Given at Music Department Meet

Lovers of music who heard the program arranged by Mrs. F. R. Collard and given at the regular meeting of the music department of the Woman's Forum Tuesday afternoon were enthusiastic in their praise of the numbers given.

A violin duet, "Sarabande" (Bach), by Mesdames J. E. Hall and Flora Greenwood, accompanied by Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey was given with all the genius and sweet nuances of which these artists are known to be capable.

The Bluebonnet quartet of KGKO composed of Mesdames P. M. Cordell, R. M. Wilhite, C. H. Evans and J. E. Strattan, with Mrs. Mahaffey at the piano, sang three pretty numbers; "Chinese Flower Fete," "Fast Asleep" and "My Lady Chloe."

"Melody" by Frank La Forge, "An Old Chinese Garden," and "Mazurka," by Wilhelm Popper, were given as cello numbers by Mike Ellis, accompanied by Miss Annette Walsh. Both cellist and accompanist gave the number with splendid feeling. The program was closed with a beautiful piano solo "Romance," Sibelius, given by Mrs. W. C. Hamilton.

Mrs. Fred Barron, chairman of the department, called a short business meeting at the close of the program and it was decided the department would bring an artist to Wichita Falls in April.

The discussion of the beautiful program of the afternoon completed an interesting meeting. Mrs. Collard received many compliments on her selection of talent.

Crockett School P.-T.A. Gives Texas Day Program

Texas day was observed by members of the Crockett school P.-T. A. in their fifth regular meeting of the year in the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon. Following the Lord's prayer in unison, several pretty numbers were given by the school orchestra, composed of 13 children, under the supervision of Miss McLeod, supervisor of music in the school.

Bonnie Jean Lincoln gave a pretty violin solo and Betty Ann Morrison gave, in a delightfully sophisticated manner, a talk on "Texas Independence."

Mrs. W. W. Silk, who was introduced as a citizen, a mother and a member of the school board, made a talk on the Texas educational program, which she excused as a "lot of dry statistics" but which was reported to be full of live interest. She urged members of the association not to shun the little tasks for the many small things brought big results.

Mrs. G. L. Shapard, program chairman, reported a meeting on "Child Hygiene and Health" arranged for April. Mrs. John Dobbs, chairman of ways and means committee, reported $50 from the doughnut sale and expressed appreciation for donations received for it. Mrs. W. W. Fraser, membership chairman, reported 292 paid-up members and stated she was working to get the fathers' memberships paid. Certificates were issued to all deserving members.

Mrs. Horrace Robbins, publicity chairman, reported the scrap book was in the making and requested pictures and clippings for it.

Mrs. J. P. Tarry, purchasing agent, reported that a picture had been bought for Miss Ramsdell's room and that a pot of flowers had been sent Mrs. Ethel Parker during her illness.

Mrs. W. O. Beeman, Red Cross chairman, told of the establishment of the thrift exchange suggested at Waco and said that 250 garments had been collected at Crockett school on this third call of the year.

Mrs. O. R. Hartt, magazine chairman, urged members subscribe to the Parent-Teacher magazine to raise the standard.

Mrs. Rogers told of the school board offering to plant the square bed in front of the school with shrubbery and asked donations to beautify the grounds. Mrs. Rogers also announced the five consecutive years' subscription of the National Geographic magazine, donated to the school by Mrs. Charles Hartsook, would soon be returned from Denver where they were being bound. The "ditto" machine was reported to have arrived and is being busily used.

Announcement was made that Leo M Underwood offers to teach 50 girls and boys free for several months on wind instruments, if they would join his orchestra.

Miss Ramsdell's room was winner of the banner and one new member, Mrs. Charlie Francis, was welcomed.

Mrs. Fletcher expressed the appreciation of the mothers for the recent art exhibit, and Miss Ida Moore, principal, announced $97 had been realized from the art exhibit and that this is to be spent for pictures. Miss Moore also gave a report of contagious disease in Crockett which was encouraging to the mothers, asking them to cooperate by reporting any sickness.

Approximately 100 members were present.

BIG HIGHWAY CONTRACTS LET

Fifteen Texas Counties Get Road Aid

AUSTIN, March 18. (AP)—The highway commission today awarded contracts for 106 miles of new construction in seven counties and about 200 miles of bituminous surfacing in 8 counties. The construction work will cost $1,290,304, and the surfacing $408,828, which, added to $1,359,890 in lettings yesterday brought the two day session's awards to $3,058,522.

Domestic Servants List 'Tyrannies of Housewives'

ST. LOUIS, March 18. (UP)—Here are a few of the reasons why it's no fun to be a servant in St. Louis, as aired today at a meeting to organize a "union of domestics":

Mrs. A. turns back the clock so the maid works longer than she thinks.

Mrs. B. dampens a big wash so it will look like only one week's linen instead of two.

Mrs. C. makes the maid wash the outside of the fourth floor windows, where no one ever goes to look out anyway.

Mrs. D. always promises an increase in wages, but it never comes.

Speakers said a union was necessary to "combat the tyranny of housewives." The assembled servants agreed, but did nothing about it.

"DRAGONS IN CLOVER"

Daily Editorial

THE great auk long ago retired from business into legend; the last mammoth was trapped in a Siberian glacier; the dodo has gone "where the woodbine twineth"; no two authorities entirely agree upon the identities of Apocrypha's sea serpents, unicorns or the purple-tailed wampus; but dragons have been multiplying instead of vanishing.

Despite the premature boasts of early sagas, they were not rubbed out of fashion by the intrepid lance of St. George. It's t'other way 'round—dragon killing simply went out of style, along with the tradition that men should acquire merit by serving common rights before self-interest, and by relinquishing unfair profit and indecent advantage for patriotism, chivalry and glory. In yonder age, valor, not campaign contributions and party fealty, conferred the spurs of knighthood. Titles were won in chain mail, not with chain stores. Yesterday didn't weigh its leaders on bank balances, and golden jimmies couldn't burglarize public office or the social register. There was but one route to esteem and admiration—the path of honor, discovery and integrity.

Then, annals were written in the red blood of courage. Celebrity waited until our era to consult Dun & Bradstreet, and issue checkbook peerages.

The 20th century, become merchant and financier, ranks the numismatist above the statesman, fawns to the go-getter, and jostles the wrong-eraser.

Money is king, and adventure and science are lackeys in its household.

Youth no longer parades the highways to foray against the brigand and the economic cut-throat. We've delegated that job to the Sherman act, federal commissions and the uniformed police.

ROMANCE is making its last stand in the monthly magazine and the theater. But clean purpose and clean nostrils have as many opportunities to rid the earth of outlaws and skunks in 1930, as ever challenged Sir Launcelot or Sir Nigel.

Robber barons have changed their technique and weapons, but not their instincts. They've deserted the den in the fen, and the castle on the craig for handier quarters in the skyscraper district. Nowadays, they hide behind special privilege, dummy directors, congressional lobbyists, and closed doors, instead of closed visors.

Dragons in the course of evolution, have dropped their scales and tails, but retain their aboriginal stealth and rapacity.

Graft and dishonor still pollute politics; rigged markets and usury continue to loot credulous inexperience; unchecked drug traffic slithers its dread toils through the land, corruption and intolerance whisper behind the arras and the bench. Predatory capital plunders the national reserve; public service corporations dictate, through party bosses, the personnel of their own supervisors, and bribery distributes slush funds in legislature, courtroom and buyer's office.

St. George never had a whack at such good hunting. But his descendants prefer to stalk deer and shoot quail and whip the streams for trout. His favorite sport lacks appeal for contemporary don't-give-a-whoopness.

We've transferred community conscience to demagogy and legal advice.

"The St. George club" is empty—but the "let George do it" society adds a fresh member with every clock tick. And that's why the dragons are living in clover.

DAVID BRANCH'S DAILY FILOSOFY

Life is a mirror which reflects back to us just what we put into it. When we are cross with people, we get frowns and cross words in return. When we are cheerful, we inspire cheerfulness in others.

The racketeer who was shot and killed when he sought to collect a tribute from a New York baker went to the wrong place for dough, it seems.

A Buffalo man studying to be a missionary was found bootlegging liquor to help pay his tuition. The drys hope he won't preach what he practices.

A Road to Tomorrow

THE LAST LINK of the new motor highway from Laredo, Texas, to Mexico City will be completed some time this summer; and if you think that item is of interest only to ambitious tourists you may have a second guess. It may turn out to be one of the important events of the century, as far as the new world is concerned.

For it symbolizes more than appears on the surface. It marks the beginning of a new epoch, the beginning of something that will be potent for many years to come.

We are fond of talking of the "American empire." This highway, if you please, is an out-rider of it.

It opens a new kingdom to the all-conquering automobile; to the automobile, with all the changes it brings. The things that the automobile has done to the United States will be done, presently, to Mexico.

For generations Mexico has been a land apart. The conquistadors who toppled Montezuma off his throne and razed his palaces to make way for the colonial regime of Spain set up a dominion that was static. The tide of events in the rest of the world passed Mexico by. Today's peon lives much as the peon of 1700 lived; and he, in turn, had a life not much unlike the life of a citizen of the Aztec empire.

North of the Rio Grande, however, things went otherwise. Change followed change, so that even the poorest man is born with the desire to live, in some way, better than his forefathers lived. But it was not until the automobile came, shortening distances and leveling mountains and ending isolation, that incessant change became the order of the day.

This never-ending change, this constant wiping out of old barriers, this steady progression toward an indiscernible goal, have not yet reached down into Mexico. But they will move there, once the automobiles start rolling along the new highway to Mexico City. Mexico, in short, will become Americanized.

This may be a good thing and it may not. There may be some question whether rows of filling stations, barbecue stands and tourists' camps will fit in well with the picturesque, old-world culture of Mexico. But it is coming, whether you like it or not. That automobile road, and the future roads that will branch off from it, will remake Mexico from top to bottom.

That is why one can say that the opening of this road is one of the important events of the century. It announces the beginning of a new day.

Signs of the Times

MOST AMERICANS of 1930 would demur if it were implied that in any phase of their living, or thinking, they show signs of reverting to the customs of 300 years ago, for progress is the avowed watchword of the American. Yet the prevalence of wise-cracking in every field of public and private address in the United States is strangely suggestive of the conversational airs assumed by the French, and other European peoples, centuries ago.

Whether the night club and stage entertainers of New York, and those of the talking screen, created the wise-cracking vogue which has swept the country, or picked it up from a growing style of repartee among the hoi polloi has little to do with the case. The fact remains that wise-cracking is the talent of the hour outside the pulpit, and it has even crept surreptitiously into a sermon now and then.

France has known periods in which court position and state favor depended largely upon a capacity for quick and brilliant conversational wit. One brilliant mistress virtually ruled that country through charms which rested entirely on scintillating repartee. Continued membership in the highest society depended upon the ability to turn a point of humor with pretty phrases.

And we are not so far from that, though some of the wigged and bespangled stars of those ancient constellations might shudder with dread at the harshness of modern conversational exchange. The after-dinner speaker, the salesman, the executive and the gay philanderer are riding the wise-crack quite as assiduously as the columnist and entertainer. To say the least, it may whet the average conversational wit to a keener edge, and it certainly does not cater to the accustomed monotony of everyday talk. Socially, it appears to be quite as indispensable as the well known exterminator of halitosis.

This Call for Pistols and Coffee

UNDER the very nose of Amon G. Carter, the newspaper publisher of Fort Worth, all this happened. J. B. H. Holderby, member of the state prison board, appeared before the county commissioners court urging that tribunal to make an appropriation to feed and clothe state convicts while they are kept in county jails.

In answer to a question by County Judge S. D. Shannon, the member of the prison board said, "Tarrant county has too many boys in the legislature." Judge Shannon asked if the Tarrant legislators would not compare favorably with those from other parts of the state. Prison board member Holderby did not sidestep. This was his reply:

"Well, if they do compare favorably you know what the others look like."

Prison board member Holderby is a locomotive engineer. He is one of the chiefs of the Locomotive Engineers Brotherhood. He is a bit of a scrapper to say the least. On the return of the legislators to Fort Worth the local band should play "Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

Slap

It's rather hard to realize we're through;
I knew that it would have to come some day,
But happiness depended so on you
I welcomed every trivial delay.

I tried in vain to bring the glamour back
That filled the early part of our affair,
But, somehow, all my efforts seemed to lack
The magic spark that caused you once to care.

I think that you grew just a little tired,
A little bored with phrases that were stale;
I knew how much I left to be desired,
I realized that I deserved to fail;

And may I add—now that I'm on the shelf—
At times, dear, you were rather drab, yourself?
—The Perfect Fool.

It Must Be True

From Hollywood comes Dorothy Fields' report that a British playwright who was hired by a movie firm came, by appointment, to see an executive. He was asked to wait as the exec was in conference. After waiting to see the man that day, and the next, and the next, he flew to New York and took the first back boat to England. Four months later he returned to Hollywood to give the executive a piece of his mind. As he sat on the bench outside the man's office the exec's secretary came out.

"Ah, my dear, Mr. Soandso," ah'd the sec, "so sorry to keep you waiting."

Flip Quip

Texas Guinan telegraphs that a diamond bracelet was found in her night club Saturday night. It awaits identification by the owner, who, Miss Guinan observes, "must be a good girl, as there are only three diamonds in it!"

Poke

Bugs Baer describes a certain master-of-ceremonies in this manner: "He was a good looking guy up to the time he got his face caught in his father's cash register."

The recent announcement here that Helen Cant, a beautiful blonde show girl in "Ripples," wears long flannel nightgowns has aroused several readers from various parts of the country, according to Miss Cant. The writers ask her if it is true, and why does she wear long, flannel nighties, and is it because she "does not love nice things?"

Well, Miss Cant says that she has lived in Buffalo, which is practically Canada, and that she got into the habit because of the extreme cold, and even when she is in Florida she cannot get away from the habit, and what of it?

Now, don't get emotional, Helen!

Confession

Messrs. Rand and Kane of Western Reserve university, Cleveland, forward their newest ditty which is en-title-tiled: "It's a Darn Good Thing Some Fellows Quit School in the 8th Grade—or Else Who Would Give Us College Boys Jobs?"

"Sippi"

John Wells, better known to the Canyon of the Calloused as "Mississippi," died the other day, taking away what probably was the Stem's most engaging character. "Sippi" was the negro you've probably seen in his stovepipe lid (a la Ted Lewis) and long coachman's coat, sitting with crossed legs on his dilapidated carriage, which was invariably drawn by a dilapidated horse. When Jolson starred at the Winter Garden "Sippi" parked his hack in front of the place.

In fact, it was Mr. Jolson who bought the steeds for "Sippi" whenever he needed one, which was usually once every two months. And when Jolson was on tour then Owney Madden and other locals would buy him one. They all liked the affable fellow, who was somewhat of an idol in his prime and who fought Joe Gans, Abe Attell and the best.

Now "Sippi" has gone on That Long Holiday, leaving but one Broadway character—Rosie, the gum vendor of Shubert Alley, who is ill in a hospital, which is why the Longacre Sector is so quiet these days.

O, Mr. Wilstach!

Suggestions for Frank J. Wilstach's Dictionary of Similes: William Bolitho's: The entrance fee to a museum, a cathedral, and a cave is like drinking a castor-oil cocktail before breakfast . . . Barrett C. Keisling's: Plentiful as chewed pencils at income tax time . . . Elsie McCormick's: Wilted as a girl coming home after an evening in a scenic railway . . . Milt Gross: He loves you like a diseased parrot. . . . and Isabel Briggs Myers': Scarcer than bow-legs in the "Follies."

Of All Sillies!

Seen in the window of a tailor shop on Forty-so-forth St., "Pants were made for men and not for women. Women were made for men and not for pants. Pants are like molasses. They are thinner in summer and thicker in winter. There has been much discussion as to whether pants is plural or singular. If a woman wears pants it's plural. If she doesn't, it is very singular. However, if you want to make the pants last—make the coat first!"

And they hang pictures!

In Case You Didn't Know

Some of us were chinning about the purposely prepared flaws which have appeared in print. Not a few of the smarter magazines recently have contained startling vulgarities, planted there by aggrieved compositors. Once a local newspaper was peddled by "bootleggers" for $5 each after the news got around that it packed a frightful line.

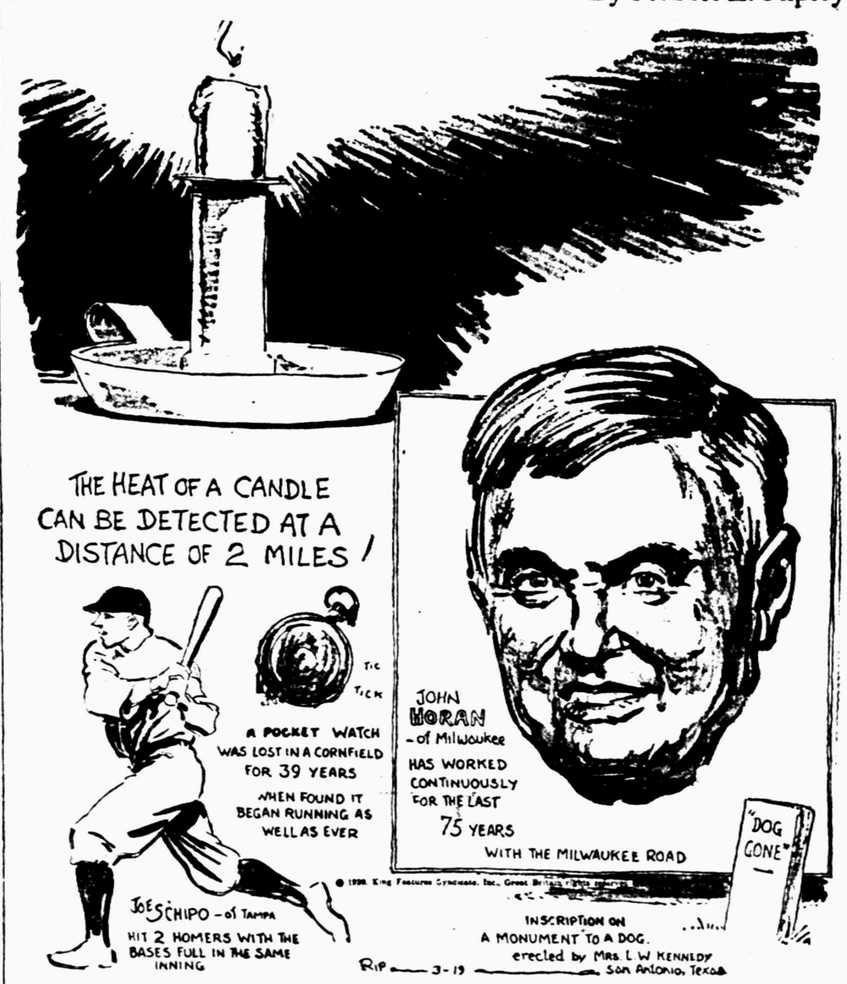

The vulgarity mentioned a renowned actress, who later brought suit for heavy damages, but the court dismissed the action on the ground that "there is no such word in the dictionary".

Just Finding It Out

"There is a disinclination on the part of public men and others to criticize columnists of daily papers," says an editorialist. "The public man who incurs the displeasure of these newspaper sharpshooters finds himself deluged with a shower of ridicule, if not savage attacks, conducted with devilish ingenuity. The idea of the writers is to make the target a laughing stock."

Precisely.

The Girl With The Red Hair by Rob Eden

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Gay Terris has agreed to marry her employer, Frank Patterson, whom she does not love, in return for a loan of $5,000 in order to send her sick mother to Arizona. Through Nita Rollins, an office companion, she meets Andy Grant, whom Nita loves. Andy takes her to Coney Island and Nita finds them, making a horrible scene. A stranger helps Gay escape and asks to take her home, but she refuses. She receives a card from a Paul Ladishaw requesting her to see him at once. Believing him to be the man who befriended her at Coney Island she goes to the appointed address and is astonished at her mistake. Ladishaw introduces her to Fania Crandall, who asks Gay if she will represent her at the Van Schyler masked ball, and in return she will pay her $200. Gay accepts so that she may send her mother the money, but resents Mrs. Crandall's secretive manner.

CHAPTER XII

"I've been following him around half an hour trying to steal you away." Was his voice familiar or was she dreaming?

The extravagance of the ball—the splendor of it. The ceiling of the big dance room covered to its dome-like center with floating glass, many colored lighted balloons. The garden beyond illuminated with these same balloons. A garden such as Gay had never dreamed of before. Smooth clipped shrubs, tinkling, gleaming fountains, the sudden flash of a marble statue hidden among the trees.

Fragrant sweet scented night. Above, the moon, still young, throwing a pale, cool light down on the garden. Voices murmuring everywhere. A violin, far away among the trees, playing a love song.

She was in the garden with Paul Ladishaw, trying to remember that all this luxury, all this extravagance, shouldn't amaze her. Fania Crandall wouldn't be astonished by it. She was used to it. However, Gay kept marveling at the gowns of the women, the jewels she saw flashing everywhere. They couldn't be real—it would be too silly to wear gems of such value. Yet Andy was here to write his story. The papers had insisted there would be famous, fabulously priced jewels here . . .

She felt her fingers to see if all Mrs. Crandall's rings were still there, then her neck and arms. Yes, she had them all.

Ladishaw was not a bad dancer. She had enjoyed the turn around the floor they had taken. Several people had stared at her, and some had nodded. She knew that Ladishaw was watching her, watching everyone else closely, because his arms had tightened around her at the nods, and she had responded with a nod in return. Evidently that was what Ladishaw wanted.

In vain she had looked for the Louis Fourteenth courtier in sky blue and lavender. Other courtiers—yes, but none in the colors Grant had said he was wearing. Perhaps he hadn't come. Yet there had been so many people on the floor that she couldn't see them all. She might have missed him in the crowd.

Ladishaw had little to say while they were standing on the terrace, but he seemed to be looking around anxiously.

A touch at Gay's elbow startled her. "This dance is mine, Fania," a possessive voice announced. She looked up to see a tall pierrot facing her, consulted Ladishaw silently, and saw that his answer was affirmative. So she allowed the pierrot to lead her back to the ball room.

"You look gorgeous, Fania," the man said, as he put his arm around her, and guided her smoothly onto the floor. She murmured something he could not hear, afraid he would recognize her voice, wondering what she would do if he demanded an answer to some question . . . Her disguise was beginning to bother her more and more. If she could only dance with Ladishaw she would feel perfectly safe. Not that she especially liked dancing with him, but his presence gave her confidence because he knew—and would help her, she thought.

"You're quiet tonight, Fania," the man insisted. Gay was racking her brains for an answer when she saw the Louis Fourteenth courtier . . . sky blue coat, lavender satin short knee pants. Andy! Surely—he was standing at the edge of the floor looking idly at the crowd, awkward in his elaborate costume, his long arms swinging at his side. Gay wanted to go up to him, greet him, hear his voice, a friendly voice, someone she knew in this crowd of utter strangers. But she dared not. Andy could never know she was here . . . must never guess. If she could only manage to dance with him. Suddenly she remembered that the pierrot had said something . . .

"I'm not feeling well this evening." Her voice was muffled. She hoped the excuse would suffice, and that the pierrot wasn't too good a friend of Fania's. Fania . . . the name fitted Mrs. Crandall very well. Her flaming hair, her sophisticated lips, her green eyes.

"Sorry," the man said, as he led her back to Ladishaw who was still waiting on the terrace. "We'll have lunch together tomorrow as usual?"

Gay agreed with a slight nod. She had made an engagement for Fania! She must be sure to tell Ladishaw . . .

But before she could say anything to him, another partner claimed her, and for half an hour she danced furiously, becoming a little more confident with each dance. It was easy, so long as she said nothing, so long as she only nodded in reply.

Returning to Ladishaw after a waltz, a harlequin stopped her and before she realized it she was whirling away in his arms.

"I've been following you around for half an hour trying to steal you away," he said. He danced very, very well. And his voice—was it familiar or was she only dreaming? She had heard it some place before.

"I recognized you by your hair—" it couldn't be anyone she knew, she decided. Only another of Mrs. Crandall's admirers. She really had a lot . . .

"I would recognize you any place by that hair—glorious hair," he laughed, and held her a little tighter. She dared not say anything yet, for fear that he might know her voice was not Fania's. . . .

"Thought you'd get away from me that night, and I'd never see you again.

"Yes?" she murmured. The voice was so familiar.

"How did you get home that night? I followed you for blocks, for you left me so suddenly, but you'd disappeared in the crowd. Tell me, how did you get away?"

In fright Gay looked at his right hand. There was the white scar across the knuckles. His voice familiar, that scar. Of course, he was the man who had taken her out of the shore dinner cafe at Coney Island! No friend of Mrs. Crandall's at all! She could be natural with him, thank him . . .

"Aren't you going to tell me?"

She was about to answer, when she remembered, remembered what she was being paid for. To keep silent. To pretend to be Fania Crandall. Still, it would do no harm. She had wanted to see this man again. This was her chance. If only she hadn't made that ridiculous promise to Mrs. Crandall—

Torn between her desire to acknowledge herself and her promise to Mrs. Crandall, she hesitated, then shook her head. "I don't know what you're talking about."

"Don't know what I'm talking about?"

"I'm sorry, but I don't."

Without another word he drew her out in the garden to a secluded nook in the trees. Passing Ladishaw on the way out, she saw him beckon her. What could he want? She would have to go to him as soon as she could . . .

The harlequin drew off his mask, and put his hand up to take hers off, when she stopped him. "Please!" She was trembling, worried. It was he! She recognized his face in the dim light of the balloons overhead.

"Now, you don't say you don't know me!"

"I—don't know you!"

"Aren't you the girl who was in the shore dinner place Saturday night? At Coney Island?"

Gay longed to say she was. Longed to tell him the truth, but her promise to Fania Crandall stopped her. It was important, Fania had said, that no one know she was not Mrs. Crandall. Important to Mrs. Crandall. That was what she was being paid for. How did she know—as yet she didn't even know his name—that this man was not a friend of Fania's? That he wouldn't tell her?

"You've mistaken me for someone else—I wasn't at the shore dinner place—whatever it is—Saturday night."

"What's your name? The man was leaning against a marble faun, watching her intently.

"Fania—Crandall."

"Funny, but I could swear you're the girl. Your hair—I thought I'd know it any place—and your voice, too, is familiar. Yet you say you weren't there—"

"I wasn't. Your name?"

"I'm Mark Loring. You're quite sure you weren't at Coney Island Saturday night?"

"Sure." He had remembered her, thinking about her! That was something. More than she expected. Then her heart sank a little. What was he doing there at the Van Schyler's ball? Was he one of them—this wealthy, luxurious set? He must be. . . .

"Please unmask for me—I'm not satisfied yet."

"Later," she promised, knowing she was lying. Then, fearful lest she give way to his eagerness and break her promise to Fania, Gay drew away from the harlequin and fled back to the ballroom.

"Fania! This is my dance!" Ladishaw's voice interrupted her thoughts. He seemed slightly annoyed, as he took her arm.

"We're late, now," he scolded. "We ought to have left 15 minutes ago. Didn't you see me call you back when you started away with this—harlequin?"

"I couldn't get away"—Gay apologized.

She had imagined they would rush right to the cloak room, but Ladishaw led her instead to the dance floor. Again she passed Andy. He was dancing now. Too bad she couldn't dance with him—he wouldn't know her.

"I'll leave you in the hall presently," Ladishaw was saying, "you get your cloak, immediately, and meet me at the side door. The car has been waiting for us."

At least she knew his name, Mark Loring. That was something. Her mind was full of him, as she and Ladishaw slipped unnoticed into the hall.

Tomorrow—The Red Skirt.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Things are beginning to break a little better for the Hoover administration. America has discovered a brand new planet, the first since the Polk administration and one of the best in history. It will be accepted as official unless Borah objects.

PHILLIPS

It is more than four billion miles from the sun, over bad astronomical roads, all poorly posted. Four billion miles is a new high for planets under this or any other administration.

The discovery puts Neptune in a bad way. Neptune up to this time held the long distance record, but Neptune is only 93,000,000 miles from the sun which, by comparison, is a mere hitch hike for any good professor with a good telescope.

No suitable name has been found for the new planet yet. The scientists temporarily tabbed it the Trans-Neptunian planet. This brought a howl from the headliner writers at once. They have christened it "Planet X," but nominations for a suitable name are in order. Suggestions received to date include:

The Herbert Hoover Planet.
Big Boy.
The King Vidor.
The Peggy Joyce.
Amos or Andy.

Colonel Lindbergh can, of course, have it named after him if he wishes, and stop all argument, but the colonel will probably first want to fly over it. That is, if he can get started ahead of Admiral Byrd.

An expedition by the New York Times to fly over the new planet, establish radio connection with the earth and bring back a complete set of pictures may be expected any moment.

The planet was discovered in the Lowell observatory at Flagstaff, Arizona, and it is now an open question which will benefit more by the publicity: Flagstaff or the planet. There is a report that the planet was really discovered a month ago but the professors wisely held off with the newspaper announcement until after the Babe Ruth-Colonel Ruppert battle. As soon as the Babe signed up, the scientists figured their planet would get a break.

They were correct. It put the disarmament conference inside and reduced the dry-wet debate to a single column head.

Announcement that a new planet had been sighted, the third to be found in 3,000 years, threw astronomers into hysteria and more than 800 scientists, east of the Mississippi alone, sprained their backs doing handsprings within 24 hours of the announcement. The discovery of a planet is to an astronomer what a discovery of a new exemption is to the average income tax payer.

Enthusiasm on the part of the man in the street was somewhat more restrained. His planet requirements are few and his first words upon being told of the discovery were, "Can you eat it?"

Wall street attributed the new planet to the reduction in the rediscount rate and the work of the Hoover industrial conferences. "It shows," said a prominent brokerage house, "that things are looking up."

Children and Grandchildren Honor Wichita Pioneer on 80th Birthday

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, March 18.—Mrs. Grace Jennings, assisted by her daughters, Mesdames Claude Conyers and Francis Awtrey, entertained Monday afternoon honoring her mother, Mrs. Mary Fisher, who has been a resident of Wichita county for more than 40 years, on the occasion of her 80th birthday. The house was beautifully decorated with pot plants and cut flowers and other decorations suggestive of St. Patrick's day.

The honoree received numerous letters, gifts, and telegrams from her children and grandchildren who reside in several different states. A granddaughter, Miss Maxine Fisher, student at Brownsville, sent her a box of fresh orange blossoms. Another granddaughter, Miss Babe Helen Jennings, student at Texas Christian university, sent greetings and gifts. A grandson, Willie Jennings, student at Technological college, was present at the party. A daughter, Mrs. J. A. Fisher of Wichita Falls, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Zimmerman, Miss Thelma Fisher, a son, Virgil Fisher, and son-in-law, J. W. Zimmerman, all of Wichita Falls, were present and helped receive the guests.

Members of the Christian Ladies' Missionary society and the Minnie Douglas Sunday school class attended in a body and brought gifts of flowers. Mrs. Fisher has been an active member of the Christian church. Marjorie Beasley and Georgia Jereleen Barnes gave readings; Nell Adams Jackson gave a piano selection, and Margaret and Doris Owens sang several songs. At the conclusion of the program the entertainers were presented with a gift by the hostess.

The birthday cake was of two tiers and was covered with lavender icing. Eighty green candles were placed on the cake nd lighted. The honoree blew out the candles and cut the huge cake which was served in green plates to more than 100 guests. The honoree, despite her 80 years, was very active and enthusiastic, taking great delight in opening her numerous gifts.

School Head Urges Support for Work

Special to The Record News.

HOLLIS, Okla., March 18.—Appearing before nearly 100 men, including the members of the Hollis Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, together with a number of invited guests, Mrs. G. A. Waters, warden of the Granite reformatory, made a plea for a deeper interest in the work that is being done at the institution by the citizens of southwestern Oklahoma, and especially did she urge that more attention be given to the boys of the different communities to the end that they might be kept out of our penal institutions and homes of correction.

Mrs. Waters discussed conditions at the reformatory, calling attention to the fact that under the present arrangement many hardened criminals are confined there, whereas they should be in McAlester, or should be kept some place separate and apart from the juvenile delinquents.

WIDE AWAKE

Sisters Sleep on While Thieves Carry Off Cash Box

DALLAS, March 18. (INS)—The Misses Sibyl and Mabel Adams, who run the "Wide Awake" cafe here, slept peacefully all last night, and when they opened their place of business today their cash register was gone.

They hardly missed it, though, because thieves have made such a regular habit of robbing the "Wide Awake" that the cash till is somewhere else almost as often as it is in the restaurant. A policeman found it in the street this time.

"How come," he asked Sibyl, lugging the till up to her, "you didn't tell us about this, so we could arrest somebody?"

"Why, that is ours, isn't it?" Sibyl said. "Just set it here on the counter. We've been looted so often we just forgot to tell you about it."

PROTECTION OF 'STRIP' URGED

Oklahoma Officials Ask Immediate Action

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 18. (UP)— Gov. W. J. Holloway and Atty. Gen. J. Berry King will urge Texas officials to take immediate action to protect the rights of the several hundred persons in the territory in the western boundary which was awarded to the state of Texas, they both said today.

There is nothing that the executive administration officers can do to protect the rights of these people, both King and the governor said, as the people now are citizens of Texas and the 28,000 acres is Texas territory.

King and the governor both said that if a suit was filed in the courts before Texas officials took any action there would be nothing Texas officials could do.

Kinks and Prolapsus

When the bowel has become twisted on itself it forms a kind of kink known as a volvulus, which comes from the Latin term, volvere, to roll. These cases often occur in the sigmoid flexture above the rectum. Long standing constipation is the most frequent cause of volvulus.

Another serious form of intestinal kinking is called intussusception, which refers to the slipping of one part of the intestine into another, a kind of swallowing of the intestine by itself. When this condition occurs, it is easy to see that there are three thicknesses of bowel in one place. The intussusception may be from a half inch in length to as much as a foot. Common sites are where the small and large intestine join together and in the descending colon.

In order that you may understand this article more clearly I suggest that you find an anatomical drawing of the intestines in some medical book and have it beside you when you are reading this article.

Should there be any interference with the nerves or muscles of the intestines, a kink forms, as one section of the intestines does not move as rapidly as its neighboring sections. This may be caused by blows to the abdomen, operations, inflammation, or excessive quantities of gas.

The sysmtoms of an acute obstruction will be a sort of colicky pain drawing through the abdomen, which later becomes severe and persistent. The patient has an exhausted appearance and may vomit his last meal, which is often followed by the vomiting of greenish bile and sometimes even the vomiting of fecal matter which has been carried back from the intestines to the mouth by a reverse movement. Sometimes the bowel can throw off the substance below the point of obstruction, but often no movements at all occur. As a rule, the higher the obstruction in the intestine, the more pain. The abdominal region is sore and tender and may be greatly distended from gas. The amount of urine is lessened, since the patient may vomit up most of his fluids. The skin becomes clammy and the tongue greatly coated. Sometimes the obstruction can be felt with the fingers as a tumor-like enlargement.

Where there is a very stubborn constipation, one should have a very careful x-ray examination in the standing position to see if an obstruction has been formed.

Chronic obstruction is not as severe as acute obstruction, but the full contents may become greatly packed, accompanied with some pain in the colon and, sometime, vomiting. Often peritonitis is noticed with the colitis which always exists.

In old people it is not unusual for the bowels to be stopped up as long as two weeks without producing any severe symptoms. Sometimes the contents of the small intestine may succeed in worming or tunneling their way through the hardened feces lining the kinks in the colon and in this way a partial elimination may be carried on and the patient be totally unaware of the obstruction.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

High Blood Pressure

Question—F. D. writes: "I have been paralyzed for several months from high blood pressure. It first started in two fingers on the left hand and finally went up in the arm and all over the left side. Have taken electric treatments, and have done everything I know to do, but gets no better. Can you help me in any way?"

Answer—Your high blood pressure can be reduced to practically normal through fasting and dieting. The paralysis will disappear as soon as the blood-clot has been absorbed, but you can only accomplish this by living on the most rigid diet. The D'Arsenvol high frequency treatment will temporarily reduce your blood pressure after each treatment, but does not have any permanent effect.

Bright's Disease

Question—L. J. asks: "Will you kindly tell me what would be the correct treatment for a young man who has a great deal of albumin? He has been advised to go to bed."

Answer—The going to bed treatment will be of little permanent use to a young man who has such a serious disorder of metabolism as to have a great deal of albumin in the urine. He needs diet and exercise to correct the faulty metabolism which is responsible for his trouble. Keep him on his feet and fighting to get well, as this is his only hope.

Sweating Hands

Question M. K. L. writes: "I have been troubled with my hands sweating too much. Will you please publish a cure for this?"

Answer—Excessive sweating of the hands is generally a sign of some nervous disorder. If you will search out the cause of your trouble you will no doubt find that your nervousness originates from dietetic errors and lack of exercise. If you will get up a good sweat every day this will help materially in throwing out irritating impurities which may be causing your nervousness. Send for my special article called "Your Daily Sweat."

SPUDDERS MEET RYAN TODAY IN SECOND EXHIBITION GAME

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

Safety First

Long have I wooed my very own,
My pretty Sophia Sluffors,
But I do it o'er the telephone,
No runs, no hits, no errors.

Prexy J. Alvin Gardner has advanced to Texas' highest position in professional baseball, without, he admits, fulfilling one of his cherished ambitions. That ambition, as he expressed it in the dugout down at the lot the other day, was to have control of a snappy, youthful club, sufficiently balanced by veteran players—a club vibrant with willingness to give everything it has in the pennant race—a club "like this one," he said, as he waved his hand towards the field where the Spudder squad was in rehearsal.

While Mr. Gardner was president of the Wichita Falls baseball club he turned out some sensational teams, among which was one Dixie pennant winner. For that reason his remark concerning the present Spudder outfit should mean a lot to our 1930 club. If a man who had under his wing some of Texas' finest ball clubs in the past has such a glowing opinion of our 1930 edition, it bespeaks well for the caliber of the young fellows who are gradually working into shape for this year's race. It remains to be seen whether the club will "give everything it's got" in the ensuing fight, but the owner and manager don't seem to be getting grayheaded over this question.

Having peppered the pill all over one end of Montague county in the first exhibition game of the season last Sunday at Nocona, the Spudders will journey to Ryan, Okla., today hopeful of repeating that feat in their game with the Ryan allstars. The game at Nocona, although played on a chilly afternoon, drew something over 1,500 people from Montague and surrounding counties, proving that the country east of here is still backing the Spuds to the limit.

But the folk on the other side of the river are likewise ardent Spudder boosters, and judging from a letter received by Secretary Guy Airey from the Ryan Chamber of Commerce, the stands will be packed today, provided the weather man withholds some of his more unpleasant tricks. The Ryan letter, full of enthusiasm, is quoted below:

Dear Mr. Airey:

It is with pleasure that we write this letter of welcome to you and your men.

We noticed in an article in this morning's Record News of a prospect of the Spudders playing an exhibition game here Wednesday, March 19.

We sincerely trust and hope that you will go through with this schedule as we have plenty of Spudder boosters here and they are all very anxious for this game.

You get several hundred dollars out of our town and community a season and we really feel that you for your own good should give us a good old game. We have already unlocked our little city door for you or we would enclose the key in this letter and we want you and all of Wichita Falls to know that it will be unlocked any time you care to call on us. Here is hoping to see you and your men Wednesday. We also hope that the Spudders will have a very successful season and win the Texas league pennant and also the Dixie series.

Yours very truly,

W. L. GIVENS,
President Chamber of Commerce.
J. D. THOMPSON,
Secretary Chamber of Commerce.

Judging from the above, our Oklahoma friends have not changed at all from what they have been in the past. Ever since the Spudders were organized, the local club has drawn good patronage from the Sooner state. All they ask is "a good old game." Well, Skipper Carl will provide 'em with a few.

Wurra, wurra, this life is full of pain for one not exactly dexterous at making out a baseball box score. As a result of Tuesday morning's attempt the club house down at the lot was resounding with war whoops, and players were arming themselves with broad ax and bludgeon. We got wind of it, however, and hid underneath Guy Airey's desk at the Spudder offices.

We could not well afford to describe the sundry errors with which we were charged. But we will make this comment, that one of our most glaring errors was made in tabulating Skipper Carl Williams' play at first base, and that he did not complain at all. We gave him an error when to us it seemed he muffed a catch at first, allowing the runner to make the base. He did drop the ball, but it developed later that the error, if any, should have been credited to the man who threw the ball, as the skipper did his utmost to retrieve a wild throw. Well, you know, dust actually does get into one's eyes down there sometimes.

That was a real bust, giving the skipper an error. The ball had hit the ground, and no human on earth could have recovered it in the stretched-out position which Carl found himself. Yet he took it calmly, Monday's fracas being a practice game. But what if it had been a world's series? And Skipper Carl, without bragging at all, told us Tuesday that never in all his baseball career had he dropped a ball, whether fly or drive, that got to his glove without first bumping the earth.

REGULARS TO LEAD ATTACK

Williams' Crew Ready to Go If Weather Permits

After a day of rest in which to apply soothing balm to harassed muscles, a Spudder team, weather permitting, will journey to Ryan, Okla., Wednesday afternoon to meet the all-stars of that city in the second exhibition game of the season. Skipper Carl Williams has chosen a lineup made up mostly of regulars to send against the Sooner swatters, and the men probably will be journeying in a bus toward the Ryan field Wednesday morning. It all depends on the weather.

The squad will leave here about 9:30 o'clock, Secretary Guy Airey announced, in order to be on hand at a Kiwanis club luncheon which has been planned by the Ryan folk.

Cold Cancels Workout

Winter's legions made a shivering counter-attack on spring's advance guard early Tuesday, and when the Spudder squad awoke it received with cheers Skipper Williams' edict that no practice session would be held. The lot was soggy after Monday night's rain, and the weather befitted football attire far more than diamond togs.

Should the game go off on schedule today, the Ryan Oklahomans will get to see some quick Sooner talent in action in the persons of Burns, Storti, Euller and Levey, "our" infilders, who performed last season at Tulsa. Allday will also be in the infield category. Hooten, Orr and Nebel will perform in the outfield.

Jimmy Parker, Lester White and Ash Hillin will be taken along for mound duty, and several others will be on hand in case the Ryan nine wishes to make use of them, Skipper Williams said, remembering the fate of the Nocona stars last Sunday when they were downtrodden by the Spudders 23 to 0, chiefly because of class F pitching.

Bettencourt is listed as starting catcher.

Dallas Games Near

The Spudders and Spudder fans alike are evincing considerable interest in the next scheduled exhibition game between the locals and the Dallas Steers at Dallas. The fracas is due to be staged this coming Saturday and Sunday. A good flock of Wichitans is expected to make the trip to Dallas to see the 1930 edition of the Spudders in action against the champion Steers. President J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas league has announced he will be on hand. Other baseball notables who will attend include Secretary Guy Airey and Road Secretary Arthur Huff, of the Wichita Falls club.

Carnera to Fight At Ebbets Field

NEW YORK, March 18. (UP)—Jess McMahon, who will promote boxing bouts at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, this summer, announced today Primo Carnera will appear in the first show on Wednesday, June 4.

"McMahon plans to put Carnera on against George Godfrey if he can get permission of the New York state athletic commission," the announcement said. "Carnera will not be given a set-up. If he does not meet Godfrey, either Jim Maloney or K. O. Christner will be his opponent."

NEW YORK, March 18. (UP)—Dr. Paul Martin, Swiss surgeon, won the 1,000-yard run, premier event of the national A. A. U. indoor track championships here tonight. He defeated his arch rival, Ray Conger, of the Illinois A. C. Martin's time was 2 minutes 12.6 seconds.

VISITOR'S CAR STOLEN

Unless police are successful, a visit to Wichita Fall will cost L. D. May of Oklahoma City a new Ford sedan. It was taken from in front of 812 Eighth street Monday night.

Euller Brings Grace to Third Sack

The Spudders have had many crack third basemen in years past, but rarely did they find a youngster as endowed as Walter Euller, above, who brings grace and poise to his speedy handling of the near-home sack. Euller comes to the Spudders this year as one of four infielders gobbled up by the home powers from the Tulsa club. He is still in the early twenties, and is in his third year of professional baseball, having played with Akron, Ohio before being purchased by the Tulsa club. It is a cinch he will be the Spudders' regular third sacker this year.

Baltimore Outfielder and First Sacker Bought by Dallas Steers

DALLAS, March 18. (AP)—The roster of the Dallas Steers today was reduced to 29 players when a trio of youngsters were handed releases. The players were Catcher Noah Holley, Plano, Texas; Outfielder Frank Wilson, Tupelo, Miss., and Shortstop Fred Morris, Ennis, Texas. Bad weather prevented the Steers from getting any out-of-doors practice and their game with the Southern Methodist university Mustangs was cancelled because of wet grounds. The teams will play tomorrow, weather permitting.

Purchase of Frank Brewer, hard-hitting outfielder-first baseman from the Baltimore Orioles was announced today by Bob Tarleton, Steers' business manager. He declined to divulge the price paid. Baltimore paid $6,000 for him.

Stapleton Arrives

ORANGE, Texas, March 18. (AP)—Rain interrupted the practice game today between the Exporter regulars and yannigans. Only two innings had been played when showers drove the athletes to cover. Bud Stapleton and Oscar Eckhardt made their appearance today for a workout. Only Chick Shiver is now absent.

Lapan Joins Tribe

SAN ANTONIO, March 18. (AP)—With Catcher Pete Lapan and Pitcher Roy Auer in uniform, the San Antonio Indians lacked but two players for a complete squad today. The two players yet to arrive are Outfielder Al "Monk" Edwards and Infielder Leon Dondero.

Because of wet grounds the Indians worked out in the Fort Sam Houston auditorium.

Cubs Miss Day

WACO, Texas, March 18. (AP)—Rain kept the Waco Cubs indoors today. It was the first day they have missed a practice session this season. The Cubs are due to play Baltimore tomorrow if the weather permits.

Cats Work Anyway

FORT WORTH, March 18. (AP)—Despite cold weather today Skipper Snyder had his Cats on the field on schedule time and although a wet diamond prevented infield practice, a stiff workout was held. Two new arrivals, Leroy Blaney of Denison and Bob Stanton, Fort Worth amateur star, both promising young pitchers, were on hand.

Fort Worth has four straight games starting Thursday, with T. C. U. Thursday and Friday, and the Baltimore Orioles Saturday and Sunday.

HOUSTON, March 18. (AP)—Manager Joe Schultz tomorrow will send his Buffs into action against Manager Joe Presswood's All-Stars, state amateur champions of 1929. A couple of big right-handers will start the fracas—Charlie Breeden, promising youngster from Hallettsville, for the Buffs, and Charlie Wittmer, for the All-Stars. Joel Hunt, Buff shortstop just back from the Cardinal training camp, will see action.

Reds Don't Loaf

ORLANDO, Fla., March 18. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds had no exhibition scheduled today, but were not permitted to loaf, Manager Dan Howley driving the players through a stiff three-hour practice session. The Rhinelanders play a practice game here tomorrow with the Athletics. Frey, a Cincinnati rookie, and Eckert, and Davis, two southpaws, are scheduled to pitch three innings each against the world champions.

Bullish Steel Rumors and Further Easy Money Send Active Market Up

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 18. (US)—Further easing in money that put the rate on outside loans down to 2 per cent, combined with bullish rumors on steel in causing further advance in a more active stock market today. The official call rate dropped from renewal of 3½ per cent to 3 per cent with ample supply of funds in evidence. Steel shot up early in the day with Morgan brokers reported buying and held part of the gain despite late profit-taking. It closed 1¼ higher while Can advanced 1¼, Eastman Kodak 5½, Warner Brothers 3½, Case Threshing 5⅞, Consolidated Gas 2, Johns Manville 2⅞, Interborough Rapid Transit 3⅜, Underwood 5¼, and Detroit Edison 5¼. Coppers remained reactionary while the automobile shares lost all their morning gains before the close. Turnover increased to over the 4,000,000 share level.

The steel corporation is expected to cut another melon in the very near future. There is some expectation that directors may take action next month. With the tax refund permitted by the government and the sustained high earnings the corporation is in a position to distribute a fairly large stock dividend or to even split up its shares, it is pointed out. Those usually most correct on the affairs of the corporation expect the melon to be in the form of a stock dividend. Annual report for 1929 to be made public Thursday will show a financial position that more than warrants a distribution of 25 per cent or more in stock. With the advent of spring it is believed that the slight decline in rate of operations of the last few weeks will be corrected.

That billion dollar pool mentioned in connection with activity in General Motors has dwindled to $100,000,000. Even that would be a good sized operation but under present automobile conditions would be none too big to influence a real advance in the stock. The midwestern interests in the corporation, most mentioned in connection with current market activity, are reported bullish on their own stock but none too optimistic regarding several other motor shares. There will be little bullish ammunition for the next several weeks. All the first quarter earnings reports will be unsatisfactory. In addition the stockholders of at least two companies have reason to worry about dividends. Nash and Studebaker directors meet for action next month. Nash has such large cash deposits that it may keep the regular for another quarter.

Eaton Axle and Wilcox rich interests are reported discussing a merger deal. Buying of American Hawaiian steamship was influenced by report that the Dollar line was after control. A leading stock exchange firm that was among the most bullish on Simmons last year has prepared a special survey of current conditions. It maintains the picture is not as bad as has been painted by the bears but then admits it's bad enough. Although leading Copper interests continue to talk of holding the metal price at 18 cents they show little inclination to take advantage of the current price of Copper stocks which would appear to be bargains—if the price of the metal were to remain unchanged. Strength in Allied Chemical reflects expectation of benefits from its large holding of Steel common.

And so to the Oils. For the Oils remain the best actors as a group. How long they will hold that position depends upon the correctness or belief so widespread now that the industry definitely has turned the corner. The General Asphalt group showed more aggressiveness as their pet not alone benefits from any improvement in the oil conditions but also faces larger earnings as the building industry improves. The Indian Refining group is broadcasting the old stories of the increasing income resulting from its patented lubricating oil producing process. One leading firm issued special advice on Texas Corporation emphasizing that it has hung behind other oils despite its favorable financial position.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, March 18. (AP)—The cash wheat market here today was a nominal affair with offerings light and no demand. Mills were taking a little wheat at $1.09@1.10 for No. 1 ordinary hard. Other business was lacking. Good demand was reported for corn and cane seed were still wanted. Oats and barley continued very slow.

Bids and offers on coarse grains basis carloads delivered freight paid to Texas common points:

Oats—No. 2 red oats 55@56c; No. 3 white delivered Texas group one points 54½@55c.

Barley—No. 2 barley nominal, 62@63c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per hundred pounds $1.58@1.60; No. 2 kaffir $1.38@1.40.

Cane Seed—Bulk country run red top per hundred pounds, Texas origin, $4.00@4.25.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 18. (AP)—Corn led all grain upward in price today, and finished at virtually the top level reached. Announcement of 3,245,000 bushels decrease of the world's wheat available supply tended to strengthen wheat values, as did expectance of a cold wave Friday.

Closing quotations both on corn and wheat were firm, with corn ⅜@⅝c a bushel higher than yesterday's latest figures. Wheat finished ⅛@⅝c up, oats ⅛@⅜c advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12c.

Rural offerings of corn today were small and arrivals in Chicago amounted to but 63 cars against 142 cars a week ago. Six vessel cargoes of corn were reported as having been chartered to leave Chicago at the opening of navigation. The oats market followed corn rather than wheat.

Widespread rain and snow relieving drought fears tended at first to ease wheat values down, but the Kansas weekly report was considered as rather bullish, and there were developments more or less foreshadowing reduction of spring wheat acreage in Canada as well as in the United States.

Provisions reflected upturns in the value of hogs.

Political Pressure On MacDonald Relieved

LONDON, March 18. (AP)—Much political pressure on the MacDonald government was relieved today by a decision of the Liberal parliamentary party to abstain from voting on certain amendments to the coal bill which are to come up shortly.

Situation Wanted

Mr. Brown, of our neighborhood, died suddenly, leaving his wife nothing—but three small children to support. She was worried—for she had never worked and was not skilled in any line. However, she was a good cook and she decided to take advantage of that fact. She put her Ad in the Daily Times-Record News stating she would like to make pies and cakes for the public. It has been two years since she placed that Ad and today she has a modern bake shop and is making lots of money.

She took her only resource—cooking—and made a living out of it all because she reached a waiting audience by putting her Ad in this paper.

PUBLIC MARKET TALK REVIVED

Growers May Seek Place in Auditorium Basement

With several hundreds of acres in the vicinity of Wichita Falls now planted to various crops of vegetables, harvesting of which will begin in April and continue throughout the year, discussion of the possibilities of a public market again is being revived among growers and other interested parties to the industry.

There is a strong contingency among those who produce and those who buy which believes that the basement of the Memorial auditorium should be used, as originally planned, for a municipal free market. During the spring of 1929, growers numbering approximately 40 formed an association which purposed the organization of a down-town public market. Its plans failed of completion when, according to its leaders, the city could provide no protection to the site selected for the market against outside hucksters of produce.

There are many now who believe that the unused space on the lower end of the Memorial auditorium would provide an advantageous site for a market, and one which would encourage much more patronage than could be obtained at any downtown station. Ample parking space proximity to the residential sections, and comparative isolation from the bustle of down town traffic are mentioned as factors in making the auditorium basement a desirable location for the proposed market. The opinion that sufficient shoppers to assure the success of the market would be obtained by its location in the auditorium has been commonly expressed during the past month.

According to J. N. Sherrill, chairman of the agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce, that body has the problem of establishing a market for home-grown produce on its current program.

JURY GIVEN $25,000 SUIT

60 Issues Presented in Judge's Charge

Arguments in the trial of the $25,000 suit brought against the Fort Worth and Denver railway by dependents of Mrs. Avo Davis, who was killed last Nov. 10 in a crossing crash at Iowa Park, were completed shortly before Judge P. A. Martin adjourned the 89th district court Tuesday afternoon. About 60 issues were presented to the jury Tuesday afternoon, Judge Martin said.

The claim was made jointly by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Culpepper, parents of the dead woman, and E. T. Davis, 18-year-old son of the deceased. They ask the amount alleged to be the contribution Mrs. Davis would have made toward their support had she not been killed. J. J. Cobb, who lived near Iowa Park, was also killed in the crash. He was returning with Mrs. Davis from a dance when their car was struck by a northbound passenger train of the Denver lines at the crossing in Iowa Park.

Personal Service Work Of Stores Described

Well-sketched word pictures of experiences in a personal service department of a large department store were given to members of the Ad club in their weekly meeting at the Kemp hotel Tuesday noon by Miss Marjorie Schuster, who was until recently in charge of such a division as style specialist for Abraham & Strauss of New York.

Selection of becoming garments for women who lack the faculty of making such selection, guiding bewildered males to happy choice of gifts for sweethearts or wives, and choice of merchandise for customers who write or telephone their orders constitutes the program of such a department, Miss Schuster said.

The personal service offered materially increases sales, the speaker said, and builds up a link of customer-friendships which is of permanent value.

Miss Schuster was introduced by Vovle N. Armstrong. Ten dollars in gold was awarded to T. A. Bradley by Walter Daugherty for a prize-winning advertisement entered in a contest recently held by the Southern Savings and Loan association.

Traffic League Sets Freight Truck Hearing

Numerous protests and exception applications from various parts of the state, which have been filed since operation of truck lines was placed recently under the supervision of the state railroad commission, will be heard at Austin next Monday morning, March 24, by the Texas Industrial Traffic league, according to the weekly bulletin issued Tuesday by the traffic department of the chamber of commerce.

Most of the applications filed ask for the prescription of an extra carrying rate to cover "pick-up and delivery" charges on freight. Among the applications to be heard is one filed in behalf of the Sproles Motor Truck line, which operates through this city. Dudley B. Foy, traffic manager of the chamber of commerce, is a member of the special committee of the Texas Industrial Traffic league which will give consideration of these cases next Monday. He will also represent Wichita Falls interests in the hearing before the railroad commission, which will open the same day.

Negress Surrenders On Beer Making Charge

Charges of possession of liquor were filed Tuesday afternoon against Minnie Douglas, negro, in connection with the seizure Saturday night of 37 bottles of beer by members of the sheriff's department in a raid in the negro section of the city.

The officers found only a negro man at the house at the time of the raid and arrested him. Tuesday afternoon the negro woman came to the district attorney's office and surrendered herself, asking that the man be released because she did not want an innocent man to be charged with the offense, according to Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney.

LITTLE THEATER, Avenue H and Polk street. "Men Are Like That," comedy farce starring J. C. Strauss Jr. 8:15 p. m.

MAJESTIC: Richard Dix in "Seven Keys to Baldpate," mystery thriller with Miriam Seegar. Talking shorts. Sound news.

STRAND: John Boles in "Song of the West." Excellent color photography and two good voices wasted. "Hot and How," comedy. Sound news.

STATE: Last day of "Wedding Rings," with Lois Wilson and H. B. Warner. Timely drama, well played. Comedy in sound. Sound news.

GEM: Special road show, "The Texas Rangers."

There's an old adage about the stung child thereafter respecting the northern terminal of a southbound bee, or some similar pungent thought. Those who just couldn't find anything else to do and consequently doled out two gone-forever hours to John Boles' "Song of the West," despite all warnings, certainly should meditate upon that old truth, and be guided hereafter by greater caution. There's no untoward reflection to be made upon Texas John Boles, nor upon his musical and dramatic ability. Even with the hopeless tale and musicless score in which he was entangled, the Greenville, Texas, tenor sang courageously and acted well. But you haven't heard any of those who endured "Song of the West"—not even the ushers—whistling or singing its labored airs. You won't. They just don't click. Vivienne Segal's nice soprano, and some really remarkable color photography, sank dismally with Mr. Boles in a tiresome, songless narrative which was less than mediocre.

◇ ◇

This department observed last week that "Song of the West" appeared too suddenly after "Desert Song" and "Rio Rita" to promise anything more commendable than a poor rehashing of their best elements with an injection of covered wagon atmosphere. The picture more than fulfills that prediction.

◇ ◇ ◇

In contrast with the policy indicated by such series as (1) What Price Glory to Cock-Eyed World too Hot for Paris, (2) Rio Rita to "Love Comes Along," the Hal Skelly-Nancy Carroll string, and others, is the "Chasing Rainbows" of Bessie Love and Charles King which closed at the Majestic Tuesday. It's been a year since we saw "Broadway Melody," the best of the 1929 "musical show" shows. Now Mr. King and Bessie come along with another—and it is as good, if not better, than their first effort of that sort. The Fairbanks pictures usually are separated by a year or more; so with Harold Lloyd's comedies. Which may have nothing to do with the case, but "Song of the West" certainly came off the fire in a sadly undone state.

New Company Will Hold Gas Shares

NEW YORK, March 18. (AP)—It was reported in Wall street today that the plan for acquisition of the United Gas company of Houston, Texas, by the Electric Power and Light company, an affiliate of Electric Bond and Share, calls for the formation of a new subsidiary company which will exchange its shares for United Gas shares.

The plan has been agreed upon between representatives of the two companies, it is understood, and will be announced after formal approval of the directors. The new company also will acquire the Electric Power and Light Natural Gas properties, as well as those of the Magnolia Petroleum company.

United Gas stockholders are expected to be offered 1½ shares of stock of the new company as well as half of an option warrant entitling the purchase of one share at $33.33 for each share of United Gas. United Gas preferred and the preferred shares and deventures of its subsidiary would also be exchanged for securities of the new concern.

Julian Petroleum Case Aired by Grand Jury

LOS ANGELES, March 18. (UP)—The $100,000 crash of the Julian Petroleum corporation was reviewed by a county grand jury again today when the 1930 investigating body questioned a group of prominent local men concerning the three-year-old financial disaster.

Among those called was S. C. Lewis, who was president of the oil corporation when it failed after a heavy stock over-issue.

The new inquiry was the result of the indictment last week of Morros Lavine, newspaper man, and Miss Leontine Johnson, private secretary to Lewis, on charges of extortion.

Jacob Berman, associate of Lewis in the oil corporation, was closeted with the jury for several hours.

U. S. COURT TO OPEN MONDAY

Officials Expected to Arrive Here by Friday

E. Crippen, assistant United States district attorney, will be among the first to arrive, accompanied by his secretary, Miss Mary June Park. Mrs. Sarah C. Menezes, also an assistant U. S. district attorney, will probably not arrive until the latter part of the week.

Judge William H. Atwell of Dallas, judge of the federal district court, will arrive Sunday to prepare for the opening session Monday morning, according to word received here.

Shoe Stores to Stress Civic Helpfulness

As yet another step in its civic activities program, the Thom McAn Shoe company henceforth will place its newspaper advertising directly through its local managers in 246 cities. This was decided upon at the company's spring convention in French Lick, Ind., it was revealed Tuesday by R. C. Cooper, manager of the local Thom McAn store at 725 Indiana avenue.

Mr. Cooper, one of 460 managers in attendance at the convention, said that the first year's budget for local newspaper advertising will total $506,000, an increase of roughly 100 per cent over last year's, and that first insertions will have to do with the new spring merchandise in the McAn stores. He added that his company had organized its own advertising department, not because it was dissatisfied with the agency set up, but because it was desired to train store personnel in the technique of placing and checking copy. Thus it is hoped to secure a closer relationship between merchandising, window display and newspaper advertising.

Last year the Thom McAn stores instituted a broad gauge program of civic helpfulness which comprised three main divisions, viz: First, wholesale joining of chambers of commerce in the towns in which it operates; secondly, a liberal policy of contributing to local charitable and character-building agencies, and thirdly, the training of its managers and civic enterprise. Of particular importance to the small town is the McAn ruling that all stores must pay their way in the community regardless of whether they have reached the profit-making stage.

Girl Cellist To Tour America

By BARON GEORGE WRANGEL
(Copyright, 1930, Universal Service)

PARIS, March 18.—Ria Garbuzava, youthful Russian girl cellist, today accepted an offer to make a concert tour of the United States. Her trip was made possible by Julius Rosewald, Chicago multimillionaire philanthropist.

A few nights ago, Ria played the cello accompaniment for the famous Polish violinist, M. Zukowski, who was host at dinner to Rosenwald and his bride, who are now in Paris on their wedding trip. Mrs. Rosenwald was formerly Mrs. Adelaide Goodkind, of Philadelphia.

The philanthropist asked Ria to play a solo after the little recital, and she astonished him when she refused, saying her instrument was too bad.

Later, by quiet inquiries among friends, Rosenwald learned that it was a certain cello the girl coveted above all else. Rosenwald went next day to the shop and bought it.

The cello was made in 1703 by Gotfreula, one of the most famous houses, and its value is placed at $8,000. In presenting it as a gift to Ria, Rosenwald accompanied it with a check for $1,000.

Previously, Miss Garbuzava had rejected all offers to play in the United States, pleading the inferior quality of her cello. But now she is going to America with high hopes of success.

Second Trial of Oil Lease Suit Opens Here

The second hearing in the suit brought against the Flint, Texas Oil company by Lee Bridges, in which a previous verdict was reversed by the court of civil appeals, was begun Tuesday morning before Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court.

Bridges is suing for an approximate total of $11,000 in addition to a one-tenth interest in a 100-acre lease near Iowa Park. Judge Cook said Tuesday afternoon he expected the hearing to last until after noon Wednesday.

DEADLOCK ENDS LANE TRIAL

Jury Disagrees in Alleged School Swindle

The jury in the trial of George Lane, charged with swindling in connection with the alleged fraudulent obtaining of promissory notes from Young county school teachers, failed to agree and was discharged Tuesday afternoon by Judge Allan D. Montgomery in the 30th district court at Graham.

The jurors stood nine for acquittal and three for conviction, Judge Montgomery said. Lane was accused of having persuaded several teachers to sign what they thought was an application for insurance. The signatures were placed, however, on promissory notes which were later discounted, it was charged. About a dozen such notes were found, according to Sam B. Spence, district attorney, who is in Graham prosecuting cases on the criminal docket there.

An instructed verdict of not guilty was ordered by Judge Montgomery upon the request of Mr. Spence in the case of Dudley Miller, charged with possession of liquor. State witnesses testified they saw the accused man breaking bottles in his car as they followed in another machine but could not swear the bottles had contained whisky because they had all been destroyed before they arrived at Miller's car. Mr. Spence declared he would not prosecute such a case and asked for the instructed verdict of not guilty.

Louis Young was found guilty on a charge of possession of liquor and sentenced to a year and a half in the penitentiary by a jury during a night session of the court Tuesday evening. Young was tried last June on the same charge and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. The verdict was reversed by the court of criminal appeals and a new trial set for the 30th district court at Graham.

Judge Montgomery said he would hold night sessions of the court in order to complete the docket in as short time as possible.
