Farmers Down State Blue At Rain Prospect

Ranchers Benefit From Rainfall As Ranges Are Soaked

(By The Associated Press)

Cool, rainy weather was hanging on in much of Texas today, and cotton farmers were getting blue.

The wet weather is preventing harvest of bountiful cotton crops in both East and West Texas.

"So far the rain hasn't done much damage," said Dallas County Agent A. B. Jolley. "It has fallen gently. It makes it hard to hold on to pickers and it's lowering the grade of some cotton.

"A really heavy rain—a storm—could cause a lot of damage now."

Some Showers Predicted

The Weather bureau said the sun may break through the clouds before nightfall and predicted only "partly cloudy" weather through tomorrow.

However, showers were predicted for much of East Texas and the Pecos valley of West Texas this afternoon and tonight.

Most of last night's heavy rains were in the Rio Grande valley. Along the edge of the cold front which pulled up short there earlier this week after its sweep across the state.

The valley rainfall was topped by Del Rio's 3.17 inches. However Kerrville in the hill country reported 3.30 inches.

Raintall Measured

Other rain included: Abilene .13, Amarillo .02, Big Spring .17, Dallas .18, El Paso .05, Houston .24, Waco .01, Fort Worth .15, Palestine .20, Galveston .37, Ozona .55, Mineral Wells .04, Junction .31, Wichita Falls .33, San Angelo 1.23, Victoria .70, Uvalde 1.20, Ballinger .61, Brady .29, Corsicana .08, Graham .97, Greenville .64, Hondo 1.54, Llano 1.50, Lamesa .30, Paris .17, Seymour 1.20, Sherman .47, Temple .35.

It was a cold night for much of Texas, with Dalhart in the upper Panhandle reporting the low of 48, compared with yesterday's high of 100 at Dilley in South Texas.

Although the cotton farmers hoped for clearing skies, the rain was welcomed in many places.

Economic Recovery Of West Europe By '52 Is Forecast

(By The Associated Press)

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Sept. 16—Marshall paln Administrator Paul G. Hoffman foresees a self-supporting western Europe as a "definite possibility" by June 30, 1952.

In his first major speech since returning two weeks ago from a tour of seven European countries, Hoffman disclosed that the plan is now ahead of schedule.

However, he cautioned that fulfilling the target date "is going to take a lot of doing on the part of both Europeans and Americans."

He spoke last night at a meeting of the Michigan Municipal league.

More Imports Urged

As a further means of advancing world prosperity, Hoffman advised the United States to take a "slightly higher percentage" of European imports. He said this would be, balanced by "our own high volume of American exports."

World trade is essential to American prosperity, he said, and it requires "a two-way street."

Hoffman also called upon this country to "give full evidence that we intend to carry the four-year Marshall plan through to its completion."

The amount of aid "must be on a decreasing scale," he said, "but if Europe meets her obligations under that plan we should meet ours."

For Europe, he advised achievement of "an economic unification which will create a single market of 275,000,000 consumers, for whom European industry and agriculture can produce economically and to whom European manufacturers and farmers can sell freely."

Dollars Needed

"Only within such a framework can Europe begin to become truly self-supporting," he sadi.

Europe's second urgent task is that of "earning more dollars," the Marshall plan administrator said.

"European production has been mounting in volume, and European exports have been mounting in volume, and European exports have been mounting in volume, but the catch is that they have gone mostly to soft-currency markets," Hoffman said.

"Unless European manufacturers can sel lto the dollar market and unless, by vigorous and imaginative merchandising, they succeed in selling to the dollar market, Europe can not obtain adequate food and raw materials essential to a rising standard of liv-

Fire Damages Water Plant

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 16 (AP)—A fire in the city water plant left Wichita Falls with very little water for several hours today.

Fire in the main control panel at the plant shut off all pumps, dropping pressure from 70 to 15 pounds.

The fire was quickly extinguished, but it took several hours work for emergency crews to wire around the burned panel to restore service shortly before noon.

During the emergency period citizens were asked to stop using water immediately. Officials said that if a fire had occurred elsewhere in the city, there would have been no water pressure with which to fight it.

The only available water was that in the mains and in one overhead storage tank in the residential section.

Port Arthur Men Die In Automobile Crash

LAKE CHARLES, La., Sept. 16 (U.P.)—Two brothers from Port Arthur, Tex., were instantly killed today when their automobile went out of control on a curve in the road near Lake Charles, and crashed into a tree stump.

The traffic victims were Lloyd Sidney Brogdon, 37, and Paul Nathaniel Brogdon, 32, both of Port Arthur. The bodies were taken to the Burke funeral home in Lake Charles to await removal to Port Arthur.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16 (AP)—Ring those bells, wedding bells—not once but 13 or 14 times for the ding dong daddy of the D car line.

Francis Van Wie will wed again today—for the 13th or 14th time.

The smiling, balding, 62-year-old former conductor of San Francisco's municipal railway will marry Mrs. Mary Aba, 49, of Oakland.

Mrs. Aba, who knows all about Van Wie's predilection for orange blossoms, smiled happily today.

Apparently she is not worried by the fact that he served two years in San Quentin prison for marrying 12 or 13 wives (the count was never definitely established) without bothering about the formality of annulment or divorce.

"I was off the beam for a while there," Van Wie admitted, "but that's all over now."

"Yes, dear," said Mrs. Aba.

BIG THREE COORDINATE STRATEGY

Cold War Report To President Due

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Secretary of State Acheson was expected to report to President Truman today on a successful coordination of U. S.-British-French measures in the cold war with Russia.

Topping the list was believed to be agreement to give Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito all essential support in his economic and political struggle with Moscow. All the various matters have been intensively reviewed here this week by Acheson and Foreign Ministers Bevin and Schuman.

The American, British, and French foreign policy chiefs climaxed their round of meetings yesterday. They held then a three hour and forty-five minute session devoted to discussing Yugoslavia and the general Balkan situation as well as Germany and Austria.

Cabinet Meeting Today

Officials said they did not get around to talking about the development of a common anti-communist strategy in the Far East but hoped to arrange another session here in a day or so.

Acheson's schedule today included a cabinet meeting at the White House and then a personal meeting with Mr. Truman. Associates said beforehand that he would give the President a report on the accomplishments of the three power conference during one of these two engagements.

Meanwhile Acheson scheduled a series of afternoon appointments with other western for-

Enrollment At Tech Climbing

As the enrollment total passed 5,600 early this afternoon at Texas Technological college, indications were that the final figure would be between 5,650 and 5,750, the registrar's office announced.

The figure had reached 5,609 by 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The registration office period will close at 5 o'clock this afternoon and classes will open Saturday morning.

More Expected

Enough more students to send the figure beyond 5,650 are expected, but most of tce activity will be centered on completion of registration by hundreds of students who already have obtained permits and are included in the figures announced early this afternoon.

Registration will continue after opening of classes, with Monday being the final day for registration without payment of a late fee and next Thursday being the last day for enrollment with payment of

Five Air Force Men Die In Plane Crash

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—Five Air force crewmen burned to death when a C-47 transport crashed on a fog-bound runway at Barter island off the northern Alaskan coast, Ladd field headquarters announced today.

An Air force spokesman said the transport, on a routine supply mission to the Arctic outpost Monday, crashed into the runway at high speed and burned soon after striking the ground.

Names of the five crewmen, all stationad at Ladd air base, were being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Barter island is 300 miles east of Point Barrow.

Three British Soldiers Also Gain Freedom

American Held By Reds Since Nov. 5; Beating Reported

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—One American and three British soldiers made a daring escape last midnight from a Russian prison in east Berlin, the U. S. Army announced today.

The American, Private John J. Sinkiewrcz, 26, told officers he and his companions burrowed through a thick wall with a blunt knife and managed to reach through and open their cell door.

Sinkiefrcz was taken to an army hospital where he was reported in a "generally weakened physical condition but not unduly undernourished."

Held Almost Year

He had been held by the Russians since last Nov. 5 when he rode a streetcar into the Soviet sector by mistake. He said he was questioned 16 days and nights and "beaten when they said I was lying."

Sinkiewrcz is the son of Mrs. Mary Sinkiewrcz of Baltimore, Md.

Sinkiewrcz told army officers he and the three British prisoners used an iron bar from one of their beds to pry open their cell block door and then fled over a wall topped by jagged glass.

They reached the street by sneaking through a bombed-out building and then separated to make their way to the western sector. Sinkiewrcz managed to get to a German police station in the French sector and telephoned American authorities.

Food Improved

He said he made one dash for freedom the day he was arrested, but was recaptured Nov. 6 when he could not make his way out of the Soviet sector.

He said he was taken to Oranienburg prison in the Russian zone for exhaustive questioning "by

Air Goodwill Tour To City Cancelled

The scheduled visit of an air goodwill tour to Lubbock sponsored by the Texas Aviation association in observance of national aviation week today was cancelled because of the weather.

The 23 private planes, which were due to arrive at Municipal airport late Thursday, were grounded overnight in Sweetwater. They planned to resume the original schedule, which included Lubbock, Plainview and Amarillo, this morning. Low ceilings prevented that.

Ed Colby, Lubbock airport manager, was advised shortly before noon that the planes were leaving Sweetwater for Breckenridge, and will fly from there to Houston to end their tour Saturday.

APPOINTMENT REJECTED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Senate today rejected President Truman's appointment of Carl A. Ilgenfritz, U. S. Steel Corp. official, to head the munitions board.

Labor Tension Over Country Is Increasing

Fight For Fourth Round Wage Hike Gaining Impetus

(By The United Press)

Tension increased on the nation's labor front today as time ran out for a steel strike deadline and John L. Lewis refused to say whether he already had called his soft coal diggers out on strike.

Latest developments increased fears that nearly 1,000,000 workers would go on strike against the nation's basic industries within a matter of days. Aboue 87,000 persons already were on strike in labor's fight for a fourth round of wage increases.

Refuses To Talk

CIO President Philip Murray refused to talk about renewing negotiations with the steel industries unless the firms accepted a fact-finding board's recommendation for a management-financed welfare program for the 500,000 steelworkers.

Murray and U. S. Steel President Benjamin Fairless took their case to the public in an exchange of angry telegrams in which each accused the other side of "responsibility" for any strike that develops.

PAYMENTS SUSPENDED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP) — John L. Lewis today announced suspension on welfare payments to miners effective tomorrow.

Lewis said the action was due to lack of funds. It was ordered in a resolution adopted at a five-hour meeting of the fund's trustees.

Lewis, speaking briefly with reporters, declined to say whether there would be a walkout in the coal fields.

He also declined to say by what vote the action suspending benefits was taken.

The trustees met in urgent session amid indications of a showdown over the refusal of some operators to make payments into the welfare fund.

The benefits include $100 monthly pensions for miners 60 years of age or more, plus other forms of welfare benefits.

The steelworkers are scheduled to strike Sept. 25.

Lewis, meanwhile, refused to say whether his 400,000 miners would return to the pits on schedule Monday.

Trustees Are Called

He reportedly called a meeting of trustees of the United Mine Workers' welfare fund, possibly to remit their contributions so long as no contract exists between them and the union.

A slight ray of hope was seen in his announcement that he would meet again to discuss contracts with northern and western operators Wednesday and with southern operators on Tuesday. The miners have worked a three-day week

Manslaughter Charge Filed

EL RENO, Okla., Sept. 16 (Special)—Charges of manslaughter were faced today by Robert W. Hopson, 31-year-old Brownfield man employed by a Lubbock truck firm, following a traffic accident that claimed four lives.

Hopson was charged Thursday and was expected to enter a plea today.

He was employed by T. I. M. E., The Inter-City Motor Express, Inc., of 2604 Texas avenue, Lubbock.

Odell Hughett, operating manager of the firm in Lubbock, and an attorney were in Oklahoma today.

On Scheduled Run

Killed when Hopson's sleeper-cab tractor and trailer jackknifed out of control Wednesday night west of Mustang, Okla., were four teen-agers—Billy Arthur Thomas, 17-year-old driver of the car; Donald Carl Bush, 18, Bobby Lee Wall, 17, and Charles Donald Ridge, all of Mingo, Okla. Two other youths were reported critically injured in the wreck.

Hopson's brother, M. E. Hopson, was the other driver in the truck, which was on a regularly scheduled run.

The men are sons of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hopson of Brownfield. Robert W. Hopson is married and has three daughters.

The truck and trailer involved in the accident were not seriously damaged and had been brought back to Lubbock today.

One Killed, Two Are Hurt In Collision

BORGER, Sept. 16 (AP)—One man was killed and two injured critically in the head-on collision of a car and a cattle truck in the early morning fog near Stinnett today.

Killed was Melvin Edward Thompson of Borger, 24. Fred Weldon, 22, Borger, and Leonard Dewey, Phillips, were critically hurt. Claude Couey, 22, Borger, was injured but not seriously.

Glynn Weant, 29, Spearman, driver of the truck, was not hurt.

BIG B-36 PLUNGES INTO LAKE

Five Believed Dead In Plane Accident

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Sept. 16 — A giant B-36, world's largest bomber, crashed into Lake Worth last night, taking three or more lives.

Air Force officers said they were mystified by the 326,000-pound giant's plunge into the lake. An unexplained power failure was blamed.

One member of the crew of 13 was killed in the crash. Bodies of two other crewmen, caught in the submerged wreckage of the huge craft, were recovered today.

Two Still Missing

Two airmen still were missing. A navy diver probed the wreckage and muddy water for their bodies. Eight of the crew survived.

The six-engined giant roared down Carswell Air Force base's long runway just after dusk last night, rose only a few feet and fell into the lake at 100 miles an hour.

It was the first serious accident involving a B-36 since the high-altitude craft began more than a year and a half ago.

Maj. Gen. Roger Ramey, Eighth Air Force commander, said:

"After questioning all of the men in the B-36 involved in last night's accident, we are more in the dark than ever as to its cause."

Ramey said that when the pilot called for emergency power "the emergency power was indicated on the instruments, but the plane was not delivering it.

Names Not Available

"The plane hit the water nose first. The nose took a terrific jolt. All of the four missing men were in the nose."

T/Sgt. William G. Seymour of Fort Worth, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Seymour of Charleston, W. Va., died in a hospital shortly after the crash.

Names of the two crewmen whose bodies were recovered today were not immediately available.

First Lt. Richard L. English, flight engineer from Sartell, Minn., said he stood on the fuse-

Man Executed For Student's Murder

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 16 (U.P.) — Herman Weber, 25, protesting his innocence to the end, was executed in the electric chair at Illinois state prison today for the slaying of a Bradley university student nearly two years ago.

Weber thanked prison officials "for everything" before he walked to the chair. He was executed for the murder of Falvel D. Fueger, 20, Bradley university student, in a robbery Dec. 1, 1947.

Fueger's body was found 15 days later in Thompson lake near Lewistown, Il., by a party of his fraternity brothers. FBI agents arrested Weber the same day at Houston, Tex. He admitted the crime, but later denied he killed Fueger.

Tell-Tale Breath Exposes Intruder

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—A San Antonio woman routed an intruder from her bed because a breeze wafted an alcoholic breath.

It was a dark night and a man crawled into her bed. The woman, half-rousing from her sleep, asked:

"Is that you, honey?"

"Yes," came the answer, and the woman screamed. She knew then that it was not her husband, a night worker who always came home late.

"My husband doesn't drink," she explained.

Crash Victims Out Of Danger

LAMESA, Sept. 16 (Special) — Two Lubbock cotton brokers, who were injured seriously Thursday morning in a two-car collision near O'Donnell that resulted in the death of a Phillips man, were reported to be "out of danger" and resting well today at Lamesa General hospital.

The Lubbock men, Frank Bass, 47, and W. M. Ryan, 50, were going to Lamesa on a business trip when Bass's 1949 Ford sedan collieded with a 1942 Chevrolet sedan driven by Rodney C. Strickland, 36, an employe of the Phillips petroleum company, who was killed instantly. His wife, 32, suffered severe shock, a dislocated right leg, bruises and laceratoins. Attendants said her condition was satisfactory today.

Attempted To Pass

Deputy Sheriff Cleve Barrington of O'Donnell and Texas highway patrolmen said Strickland apparently attempted to pass a truck and met the car driven by Bass. Both cars were heavily damaged.

Strickland's body was brought to the Higginbotham Funeral home in Lamesa.

Two brothers, C. M., of Coleman, and Edward Dean, of Ozona, and one sister, Mrs. G. W. Marshall, of Coleman, arrived in Lamesa about 10:30 p. m., Thursday, but funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of Mrs. Strickland's family.

Other survivors besides his wife are his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Strickland of Coleman; another brother, John D., of Ozona; and two other sisters, Mrs. Bob Franklin of Ozona, and Mrs. T. A. Miller of Red Owl,

El Paso Plane Lost On Trip To Midland

MONAHANS, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—An F-51 national guard plane was reported missing today on a flight from El Paso to Midland.

The plane was one of three on a routine flight. Another of the planes mad a forced landing on the Carlsbad-El Paso highway, while the third returned to Biggs Air Force base, at El Paso.

Radio stations KVKM here and KJUN at Pecos broadcast the missing plane's numbers, NG 4830, and asked residents of the area to be on the lookout for it.

The plant has been missing since 9:45 a. m. (MST).

J. I. McBroom Recalls Several "Firsts" For Lubbock On His 78th Birthday Anniversary

BY BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

J. I. McBroom observes his 78th birthday today, and his memory of more than 40 years in Lubbock includes several "firsts."

For one thing, he erected the first "fence" around the courthouse square. For another, he owned and operated Lubbock's first bicycle shop.

And he still remembers the barbecue that celebrated the arrival of the Santa Fe railroad — a barbecue that got covered with dust before the celebrants had a chance to dive into it.

Manufacturing Needed

Asked for a comment about Lubbock changes and growth during the years he has known it, Mr. McBroom said:

"I'll be dogged if I can see what's making it grow like it is. There's no manufacturing or public works. I think Lubbock needs manufacturing more than anything else."

He has worked all his life and still likes to work. He now files saws occasionally at his home at 1706 Ave. F. He did sell snow-cones in the 900-block on Broadway for a while, but the city made him quit, he said, since it was in violation of a peddler's ordinance.

J. I. McBROOM

Walked To Work

He remembers when he was a boy he used to work "from sunup to sundown," and walk three miles to work and three home every day for 75 cents a day. He was ginning cotton then.

Born in Tennessee Sept. 16, 1871, he left that state with his parents when two years old.

"We got waterbound in Arkansas and had to stay 15 or 20 years," he says humorously.

From Arkansas he moved to Colorado, where he farmed at Greely, 50 miles north of Denver, for about five years.

Moved To Lubbock 1907

Mr. and Mrss. McBroom came to Lubbock in 1907, lived about a year here before moving away

AMERICAN PAPERS CRITICIZED

English Newspapers Miracles Of Brevity, Briton Declares

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

FORT WORTH, Sept. 16 — "English newspapers are miracles of condensation. Big city papers in America are unwieldly and difficult to read."

That's the opinion of Eric Wallers Cheadle of London, general manager of the largest group of newspapers in Britain. He began his career as an editorial messenger boy at 15. At 41, he guides the Kemsley newspapers, 30 morning, evening and Sunday papers with a total circulation of 31,000,000.

"It is next to impossible for an Englishman to read an American newspaper," said he. "We can never find what we want. In British newspapers, we can pinpoint a particular news item or feature in a second."

Newsprint Limited

English papers are strictly limited by newsprint rationing. Sunday papers are 10 pages and Sunday and eight the next. Daily papers have six pages. Before an easement of newsprint restrictions early this year, daily papers had four pages and Sunday papers six.

"I doubt that we will go back to big papers," Cheadle said. He visited Fort Worth this week on a "Discovery of America" air tour with 49 other journalists from 14 European countries. He was interviewed while he stood on the 230-foot wing of a B-36 bomber at Carswell air base, a vantage point for an air show.

He was a tall fellow, soft-spoken and serious, with a face bright red from the American sun.

"I bought a Sunday Los Angeles Times the other day and it had 204 pages. That's about the same amount of newsprint an English paper uses in five months of Sundays. It is a mathematical impossibility to read all of a newspaper that size.

All Letters Answered

"English people really read their newspapers and are prone to write letters to them. Letters from the public make up one of the best features. We acknowledge every letter we get.

"English papers try to give complete, fair and accurate coverage of international and home news in as little space as possible. Condensation has become a really fine art. The skill of the sub editor (copy editor) has become of paramount importance.

"We still have as many reporters as we used to have. The average reporter has become used to saying a lot in a small space. We cover all the events. At an events of importance we have to have a man there, though he may write only eight lines.

"Many American papers use the 'rewrite' system for speed. A reporter telephones in the details and a rewrite man puts the story together. The English reporter almost always writes his own story, though he may later dictate it over a telephone. I think it is better and more accurate. A reporter has pride in the stuff he has written.

Walkie-Talkies Used

"Some of our reporters are equipped with walkie-talkie radio sets. They transmit stories by walkie-talkie to one of our mobile radio units. The mobile unit transmits the stories to the Kemsley head office in London, which in turn relays it to Kemsley newspapers over Britain. All our papers are linked together by their own leased wire system.

"When an aircraft hit a mountainside in Scotland, a reporter with a walkie-talkie climbed the mountain and gave out the story. In a matter of seconds, all the Kemsley papers had the news.

"We also transmit pictures by radio from our mobile units. At a big sporting event, such as the derby, the story and photos are sent from a mobile unit siumultaneously.

In addition to internaional and empire news, the Kemsley newspapers maintain first-class coverage of home news. The newspapers and their editors play prominent parts in the life of the town. The editors reflect civic enterprise—as Mr. Amon Carter does here in Fort Worth."

How Reporters Start

Cheadle had toured the plant of only one American newspaper, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. "I was greatly impressed. It is a fine, very efficient plant. I particularly liked the library—over here I think you call it the morgue."

English reporters work a five-day, 40-hour week. "But a reporter isn't a factory hand—he doesn't watch the clock." Cheadle said he didn't think too much of English journalism schools.

"This is how a good reporter is made," he said. "He starts on a local weekly where he covers funerals and weddings and learns to get the mayor's name right. Then he goes to a provincial evening paper. After that, if he's good, he graduates to a big paper on Fleet street in London." One Fleet street paper, the Sunday News of the World, has a circulation of eight million.

"There are indications more space is becoming available to our advertisers," said Cheadle. "For a long time, no advertiser could get an ad larger than four across two columns (a two column ad, four inches deep). It took months to get a classified add into one of our papers—except births, marriages and deaths. Now it takes more than a week. In a big London newspaper, a half-page ad costs $8,000 to $10,000."

"How would you write this interview to fit the limited space of an English newspaper?" Cheadle was asked.

Here is what he wrote:

"The skilful selectivity and condensation of news has become of paramount importance in the production of the small British newspaper of today.

"Within those space limits, we endeavor to give a fair and accurate presentation of world, empire and home news," said Mr. E. W. Cheadle, general manager, of Kemsley newspapers, London, who visited Carswell air base, Fort Worth, today, with 49 journalists from 14 European countries. They saw the B-36 in action and were greatly impressed."

Area Farmers Attend Field Day Meeting

Rain dampened activities of a farmers' field day at the Experiment Station east of Lubbock Thursday but more than 200 farmers attended the morning session and heard Don L. Jones, superintendent, and his staff talk on various experiments being conducted on field crops, irrigation and cotton defoliation and insect control.

The field day, second of series of three, had been set aside for farmers from Lynn, Crosby, Garza, Lamb and Hale counties.

Farmers from Parmer, Swisher, Floyd, Dawson, Gaines, Terry, Yoakum, Crosby and Bailey counties have been invited to attend the third field day at the station today.

Because of the rainfall, it will be impossible for demonstrations to be conducted in the field, Jones said. He said the program would have to be conducted in one of the machinery sheds if the weather continues as it was Thursday.

HEALTH IMPROVEMENT IS SOUGHT

Iodized Salt In Every Shaker Is Purpose Of New Program

BY FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—The government wants every salt shaker in the nation filled with "iodized salt."

That's ordinary table salt with a little iodine added to it.

Government and other authorities have just announced a new program to encourage its use. They contend this will give the average person enough iodine to:

1. Help prevent one of the commonest forms of goiter.

2. Help fortify the people's health generally—because iodine is an essential food element and some folks don't get enough of it from their regular food.

Neglected By Many

Iodized salt is not new. As early as 1831 its use was suggested to prevent goiter. Over the years various health groups have advocated its use. Now the government, the medical profession, public health authorities and the salt industry have joined to attempt to get everyone to use it.

Dr. W. H. Sebrell of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) says in an article in "Public Haelth Reports:"

"Many people who take vitamin tablets and are careful about getting an adequate supply of vitamins neglect the iodized salt which will insure a health minimum of iodine for the normal person."

Sebrell is director of NIH's institute of experimental biology and medicine.

He says that it has been shown many times in this country and abroad that "iodine deficiency is easily corrected and better health achieved through the daily routine use of a table salt to which tiny amounts of iodine have been added by the manufacturer."

This salt is just as pure as ordinary salt, he says, just as cheap and tastes no different.

(Caution: Iodized salt is not suggested as the answer to all nutritional needs. You have to have other essential elements in your food—iron, calcium, copper and many others. Iodized salt is a handly way of getting enough iodine, but only iodine.)

Why is iodine so essential anyway?

In your neck is a gland called the thyroid. It produces a "hormone"—or chemical messenger—that is carried by the blood stream.

This hormone controls the rate of heat production in your body. It aids in stimulating the normal growth of bones, hair and skin. It helps the normal development of the brain, helps stimulate sexual development at the age of puberty. It helps in the maintenance of a normal pregnancy. And it aids in the production of an adequate milk supply for nursing mothers.

If the gland doesn't get enough iodine it doesn't function properly.

One possible result of such iodine-starvation is the disease called "simple goiter." One form of "toxic (poisonous) goiter" may result as a complication of simple goiter.

Simple goiter is an enlargement of the thyroid gland. The gland, in trying to produce hormone without sufficient iodine, literally overstrains itself and gets large.

JUST A FALSE ALARM

FORT WORTH, Tex. (U.P.)—A Fort Worth man, 29, called police once too often in the early morning hours to report a theft and to name the suspect. On the third time, the man invited officers out to his house and then berated them for not coming sooner. Officers took the man to jail for imbibing too heavily.

Australia now has 36 centenarians.

Mother Helped Son Bury Body Of Murder Victim, Jury Told

DOVER, Del., Sept. 16 (AP) — The jury in Delaware's "lonely hearts" murder trial was told that Mrs. Inez Brennan helped her son Robert bury the bullet-riddled body of an elderly Bedford county, Va., carpenter.

The testimony on the fourth day of the trial yesterday came from Maj. James E. Turner, police chief of Dover city and a former Delaware state policeman. He said the 16-year old Brennan youth told him the burial took place on Oct. 11—the day after Wade N. Wooldridge, 67, purportedly met his death.

A large section of hemp rope was dangled before the jury and represented as that with which Mrs. Brennan and her son dragged the body from its initial pigpen grave to an oil drum in which it was cremated. However, at defense objection, this identification was stricken from the record as far as it related to Mrs. Brennan.

Buried In Pigpen

Mrs. Brennan, 46, allegedly met the elderly Virginia man through lonely hearts correspondence. The state contends that Robert shot and killed Wooldridge last Oct. 10 on his mother's orders; that the body was temporarily buried in a farm pigpen and then disinterred six and a half months later and clumsily cremated.

The youth is being tried on a first-degree murder charge. His mother is on trial as an accessory to the crime.

Maj. Melvin C. Leisure, state police officer in charge of criminal identification at the time of the Brennans' arrest, was asked to identify the rope.

Body Distinterred

He said Robert first told him the rope was used by himself and his mother to drag Wooldridge's body from the barn, where the shooting occurred, to the pigpen. Then, Leisure said, the Brennan boy changed his story, saying that he and his 18-year old brother, George, dragged the body to the pigpen.

It was on April 1, when the body was disinterred, that his mother helped him with the rope to drag the body from its shallow grave to the oil drum, Robert was quoted as saying.

George Brennan, and another brother, Raymond, are awaiting trial later as accessories.

Permit For Student Center Issued Here

Building permit for a $100,000 student center building at 2418-2420 Fifteenth street edged Lubbock's 1949 building total near the eight million dollar mark Thursday afternoon, records at the office of Lloyd Ross, city building inspector, revealed.

Dr. M. C. Overton is erecting the structure for Methodist students.

The permit and several smaller ones brought the year's building total to $7,990,425. The September total was $364,877.

Yet to be issued is a $2,500,000 for the Modern Manors housing project which is now in the process of being taken into the city limits. This permit, officials believe, will give Lubbock an excellent chance of equalling or exceeding last year's record building total of $15,000,000.

TARIFF-CUTTING POWERS EXTENDED

Trade Agreements With Ten More Nations Being Readied

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—Trade agreements with ten more countries are being prepared for President Truman's approval under the extension of his tariff-cutting powers which cleared Congress yesterday.

Experts of the U. S. and the ten other countries have already agreed in negotiations at Annecy, France, on what they will recommend to their governments. Agreements based on these recommendations are expected to be ready for presidential action early in October.

These agreements would be with Denmark, Finland, Italy, Greece, Sweden, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Liberia, Uruguay and Nicaragua.

Full Power Assured

State department officials estimated today that if the President approves these treaties 75 to 80 per cent of all U. S. foreign trade—both exports and imports—will be carried on under reciprocal trade agreements.

Mr. Truman's full power to change U. S. tariff rates under international agreement was assured late yesterday. The Senate voted then, 62 to 19, for the sixth extension of the trade agreements program enacted in 1934 at the urging of Cordell Hull.

The administration's bill, extending the program until June 12, 1951, had been approved previously by the House.

Senate passage came after Republicans lost by a few votes their fight to restrict the President's tariff-cutting powers under the extension.

Restriction Defeated

The chamber rejected, 43 to 38, the controversial amendment by Senator Millikin (R-Colo) to add a "peril point" restriction to the bill. Had it been adopted, the President would have been required to tell Congress if he granted tariff concessions which the Federal Tariff commission deemed risky to U. S. producers.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, argued this provision would hinder efforts to develop a "framework for cooperation" with the western democracies.

Republicans—35 of them—voted solidly for the peril point amendment. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) arrived by plane from Europe a few hours before the vote to support the Millikin proposal. Three Democrats lined up with the Republicans—Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and Elmer Thomas (D-Okla).

Administration forces then beat down amendment after amendment, adoption of any one of which would have required further House action.

Several Close Calls

The Democratic leaders had several narrow squeaks, however.

One came on an amendment by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) to require the President to establish import quotas or other restrictions on furs and fur articles entering the U. S. McCarthy told the Senate that such imports from Russia and other countries are destroying fur production here.

The Senate first voted 43 to 40 in favor of this amendment.

The group supporting the McCarthy proposal tried to clinch their victory, however, by a series of parliamentary steps designed to prevent the question being reopened. But the net result was a final announced vote of 43 to 40 against the amendment.

By 53 to 29, the Senate turned down an amendment by Senator Butler (R-Neb), requiring that escape clauses be written into 13 existing trade agreements which do not now include such provisions for getting out of an agreement which turns out hurtful to the U. S.

Oil Limits Beaten

It defeated, 61 to 20, an amendment by Senator Kilgore (D-WVa) to ban any trade agreements affecting hand-made glassware or hand-made pottery.

A proposal by Senator Malone (R-Nev) to substitute a flexible tariff system, geared to wage rates and other production costs abroad, for the trade treaty program was killed 63 to 17.

One of the closest votes was an amendment by Senator Thomas (D-Okla) to limit oil imports to five per cent of the domestic demand. It was beaten 41 to 40.

By 54 to 27, the senators defeated an amendment by Senator Knowland (R-Calif) requiring the President to terminate trade agreements as soon as possible with countries discriminating against U. S. commerce through restrictive quotas, discriminatory taxation, or refusal to carry out agreed concessions.

In the final vote on passage only one Democrat—Johnson of Colorado—voted against extending the trade treaty program. Fifteen Republicans joined with the other Democrats to give the extension a top-heavy margin.

Lubbock Man Treated For Knife Wounds

Pete Trammell, 33, of 713 Third street, was treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital Thursday night for multiple knife wounds which he said were the result of a friendly scuffle that went sour.

He was dismissed after treatment for an eight-inch cut across the abdomen, a severed tendon of the left hand and a three-inch cut on the left side of his chest.

Trammell told investigating police that he did not wish to file charges against his assailant. Police said the altercation took place in the 800 block of Ave. K.

Arctic Voyage Is Successful

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, Me., Sept. 16 (AP)—Donald B. MacMillan's 28th Arctic voyage was a success, he says, in spite of the "worst weather" he ever had.

The 74-year-old explorer, accompanied by his wife and 15 student-scientists, returned home in the schooner Bowdoin yesterday. They had voyaged 6,000 miles—many of them in rain and high wind and seas.

In the holds were the pelts of four polar bears, which will be mounted as a family group for the new Arctic museum of Bowdoin college. Bowdoin, MacMillan's alma mater, sponsored this year's expedition.

One of the two adult bears was shot by Horace A. Hildreth, jr., son of the former Maine governor who assumed the presidency of Bucknell university at Lewisburg, Pa., yesterday.

Specimens of the rare kumlein gull, plant samples and fossils that MacMillan said dated from the Cambrian period of the Paleozoic age also will go to the Bowdoin museum. The fossils were found on Lower Savage island, Baffinland.

Reserve Retirement Points Are Revised

AUSTIN, Sept. 16 (Special) — Organized Reservists who were in the active Reserves during the one-year period ending June 28, 1949, will receive 50 points for Reserve duty training regardless of the number of points earned, Col. Oscar B. Abbott, executive of the Texas Military district, has announced.

This is a result of HR Law 5929, which was signed last week by President Truman.

The new legislation changes the "year" for computation of the 50 retirement points required for a year of satisfactory service so as to coincide with the fiscal year—July 1 through June 30. The same period will be used as a year in which prescribed minimum training requirements must be met in order to remain in the active reserve.

Reserve members who earned more than 50 retirement points for training during the one-year period ending last June 28 will lose all points in excess of the 50 under the new law. Such losses, however, will be slight, as the maximum number allowed for inactive duty training during a year is 60.

MEET THE MANAGER—M. H. McMaster, partner with Oran Bain in Nineteenth Street Furniture company at 1924 Nineteenth, was born at Henrietta Feb. 24, 1919. When he was six years old his family moved to Abernathy, and they lived on a farm there until 1932. They then moved to Anton, where he finished high school. Mr. McMaster left Anton in 1936 to go to work for the Borden company in Lubbock. He was with that company seven years, and then traveled for Southwest Cigar company for two years. He resigned to go into his own wholesale candy business, and after operating that business for two and a half years he and Mr. Bain established the furniture business under the present name. Mr. McMaster is a member of Broadway Church of Christ. His hobbies are golfing and going to the movies. Mr. and Mrs. McMaster live at 2620 Twenty-ninth. (Staff Photo.)

Negro-White Law Test Set

DALLAS, Sept. 16 (U.P.) — Texas state law requiring separate schools for negroes and whites will be tested in federal district court this fall.

One of two injunction suits will be heard at 10 a. m. Oct. 1 before federal District Judge William H. Atwell.

Two suits have been filed this week and one of the attorneys, U. Simpson Tate, is special regional counsel for the southwest division of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored people. He will represent petitioners in both cases.

The Waxahachie independent school district and superintendent are named in the suit brought yesterday. The other suit was filed against officers of the Addison independent school district in Dallas county.

Segregation Issue

The Oct. 1 hearing concerns the Ellis county suit involving Waxahachie schools. The petition for an injunction asks that segregation be declared unconstitutional. It would bar school officials from equal" schools for negroes.

As in the injunction sought in Dallas county, the petition claims that schools for negro children in Waxahachie are "unsanitary, unequal and inferior." The petition was filed in the names of 12 negro children in Waxahachie "by their fathers and next friends."

Supt. G. C. Wilemon of the Waxahachie school system and the following trustees are named: Romney Rudolph, Edd Clark, Jack Eastham, T. C. Morris, Dr. J. R. Gill, Dow McGregor, and Mrs. W. D. Anderson.

A hearing on the application for a ninjunction in Dallas county has not been set.

Man, 100, Says He's Never Refused Drink

SANTA MARIA, Calif., Sept. 16 (AP)—Mike Cunningham of Roscommon county, Ireland, spoke up on his 100th birthday.

"I don't know why I've lived so long," said he, "except I've never refused a drink."

But there were no drinks yesterday for the ex-blacksmith. A county hospital patient, Mike had to settle for a big birthday cake with one candle on it.

Carroll Thompson To Hold Registration

Carl Bailey, principal of Carroll Thompson Junior High school which will open at 8:45 a. m. Monday, has announced that new students and transfer students to his school's district will register from 10:30 a. m. to noon Saturday at Logan's, across the street from the school.

Reason for registering there, according to Bailey, is because furniture will be moved into the school Saturday. A teachers meeting will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday in room 107 of the school. Seventh grade students will be told where to report by posters Monday and other students will report to their assigned home rooms.

"CLEAR, NATURAL RECEPTION," signals Mrs. Marcella Anderson, shown wearing new Telex 200 in secret tests in Minneapolis Auditorium.

Hearing Aid That 'Couldn't be Built' Goes on View Here

TELEX PARK, Minn.—Announcement of a radically-improved hearing aid, extremely light in weight and amazingly economical to operate, was made today by Allen Hempel, president of Telex, Inc. Free demonstrations are offered by your local Telex Hearing Center.

The new Telex 200 weighs approximately 3 ounces without batteries! This drastic reduction in weight had been considered "virtually impossible" to achieve.

Despite its remarkable reduction in weight the powerful Telex 200 sets new standards for clear hearing and unmistakable speech understanding.

For the first time in hearing-aid history, the Telex 200 features a case of rolled silverplate with 1/10 14K gold-filled clip. Remarkable sayings in battery consumption are realized by the built-in Telex Battery Economiser. And clothing noise has been sharply reduced, thanks to an extra-wide clip which virtually ends movement of clothes across the microphone.

Win $100! Five minutes of your time may mean a crisp $100 bill for you! Yes, in as little as five minutes you can fill in the contest coupon below—and you'll be in the running for one of ten $100 prizes offered by Telex! Mail or leave at Telex Hearing Center. Contest closes October 31, 1949. Duplicate prizes in case of a tie.

TELEX LEADS THE WAY TO HEARING HAPPINESS!

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

THE LEADERS of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Missouri Pacific Railroad have refused to avail themselves of the peaceful means provided by this Act for settling their disputes. They insist that they be the sole umpire of their own disputes over the meaning of contracts.

There Is No Need For Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have stopped rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recently the Wabash Railroad was forced to discontinue operation for several days under similar circumstances.

What Are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.

The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

". . . it is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act. . . ."

Obviously the railroads cannot be run efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law Which Are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
3—Decision by arbitration.
4—Decision by neutral referee.
5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employes, and are the most highly paid of all employes on the nation's railroads, but their stike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employes of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

Miss Nunley Marries Rev. Roenfeldt In Plainview Church

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nunley, Rt. 6, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Billie Nunley, to Rev. Glenn Louis Roenfeldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Roenfeldt of Pampa, which took place Tuesday, Sept. 6, at College Heights Baptist church in Plainview. Rev. Fred Sain performed a double ring ceremony.

Baskets of white gladioli, fern and candelabra decorated the altar. Miss Joyce Roenfeldt, sister of the bridegroom, played traditional marches and accompanied Miss Autrey Barron as she sang "Indian Love Call" and Miss Murlel Okamoto as she sang "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a blue satin ballerina length dress with sun copper accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with a white corsage.

Cecil Roenfeldt, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Miss Cordie Mae Farr was maid of honor

The bridegroom is a senior student at Wayland college in Plainview and the bride is a junior student.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Woman Fears Husband's Use Of Bad Words Will Influence Baby Girl's Vocabulary

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My daughter is two and a half years old and I don't want her to use swear words or naughty words, but my husband does use such language in her presence.

Since before her birth I have implored him never to use such language within earshot of her, and I feel it is bad enough for him to talk that way around me, but worse to set his child such an example. But now that I have tried every form of persuasion without success, I am asking what I should do when Cissy begins using his "bad" words?

How can I teach her it is right for daddy but wrong for her? If I try to instill that idea my heart won't be in it; but surely I mustn't teach her that her father is wrong. Am I silly to let all this bother me, since almost everyone swears these days? Shall I close my ears to it when Cissy starts? I feel certain that when she does start, it won't cure him either. Signed C.C.

DON'T MAKE SHOW OF SHARP ANXIETY

DEAR C. C.: Most good mothers are on the alert to keep their children's vocabularies "clean," but even so, the majority of young children do pick up and experimentally use fragments of rough language not taught in Sunday School.

Ordinarily such experiments are shortlived and the verboten term soon forgotten by the child, if the mother doesn't "drive" the episode into the child's mind by aggressively showing anxious displeasure,—but on the contrary placidly suggests that there are "nicer" ways of expressing oneself, ways that mother likes much better.

Thus in the matter of guiding your daughter's choice of language when she's old enough to speak and "toy" with hearsay phrases, you might explain that daddy's expletives are "man's words," not used by mothers or little girls. If she asks "Why not?" you might simply say, "Because a mama is not a man, and a little girl is not a man,—that's why!" and then dismiss the subject with a smile and an affectionate squeeze for her.

REPLACE "BAD" WORDS WITH CLASSIC PHRASES

IN TAKING that tack you are indicating what is required of Cissy, gently persuading her in the right direction, without condemning dad's performance as a wrong or "shameful" example. And if sometime she comes home to say, "But little Sally down the street says so-and-so, and I heard her mother say it, too, just like her daddy does—," then you may take this stand: "Well, I'm sorry about Sally and her mama; I guess nobody ever taught them better, like our mamas did us."

Also a constructive way to terminate such conversations would be to reach for a favorite book of child's verse and say to Cissy, "Let's read about Christopher Robin . . . or Wee Willie Winkle . . . or Little Jack Horner . . . or the Birdie With the Yellow Bill—." Or any choice that is sure to please her. By this method, you are replacing a "bad" word image with a rhythmic flow of spirited "good" words, thus indirectly giving her a "cultivated" taste for lilting or lovely or classic language.

So much for how to keep Cissy's vocabulary reasonably pure despite her father's noncooperative attitude. Actually your apprehension is morbidly excessive and mortified by your husband's disregard of your sensibilities. In talking so much of what his example will do to his child—and strongly insisting that there's no antidote for it,—you are trying with almost hysterical vehemence to make him feel "guilty" about his obstinate refusal to oblige your wishes.—M.H.

How To Play Canasta: 12

Here Are Tips For Beginner In Playing Popular Game

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
Written for NEA Service

HINTS to the beginner as Canasta: Watch out for those red treys! Remember that you must take another card from the stock pile for each red trey that you put on the table.

Make sure that you understand the conditions applying to the frozen pack.

Black treys, while apparently nuisance cards, are valuable to prevent your opponent from taking the pack, especially when the pack becomes big.

Don't waste time trying for natural Canasta. You may lose 300 attempting to gain an additional 200.

Don't waste much time on concealed hands. They only earn an additional 100 points.

Don't be too anxious to put your cards on the table. Always try to be in a position to take the pack. Remember that one additional Canasta is worth 300 points. The cards in your hand may represent a loss of only 50 or 100 points.

DON'T get down to too few cards. The fewer cards you have in your hand, the less flexible the hand is.

It pays to get your first minimum meld down as soon as possible.

Don't hold up your Canastas. They count 300 or 500 points on the table. Your partner may have a good melding hand and need your Canasta to meld out.

Don't be too anxious to take the pack if it contains only a few cards, especially if you have pretty good control of the pack.

You cannot have more than three wild cards in any meld, except that after a Canasta is completed, you may add to it, and there is no limit to the number of wild cards that you may add to it.

If you add a wild card to a natural Canasta, you reduce its value from 500 to 300 points.

You cannot pick up a black trey even though you have two black treys in your hand. However, in order to meld out, melds may be made with black treys the same as any other meld.

WHEN the pack is small, you can discard your singletons or doubletons, but when the pack gets large, be careful. If you have not a black three or even a wild card to prevent your opponent from taking the pack it, might even pay you to discard from one of your long suits, hoping that he will not have a match for it.

When the other side has control of the pack, try to go out as quickly as possible to prevent them from running up a large score. If the opponents have a lot of cards on the table and a number of nearly completed Canastas, it may well pay you to go out instead of playing for another Canasta in order to prevent them from completing several others.

Delta Delphian Unit At Morning Program

OUT-OF-TOWNERS

Royce Blankenship, who has been seen with Jan Howard frequently in past months, is in California attending a motion picture owners' convention with his partners, his father and brother. Among the entertainment items scheduled for the convention are tours of movie stars' homes and a party at the Cocanut Grove which will be attended by both movie stars and personnel. Royce will be back in Lubbock for a visit soon.

LOVE,
LOU.

Style Show Is Staged

The three dozen costumes modeled in the Lubbock Junior Welfare League style parades Thursday at luncheon and dinner showings were characterized by contrast to last year's fashions in both color and line. Lengths have risen to approximately 14 inches from the floor, and the blaze of color featured in the 1948 styles has burned down to autumn tones and shades which mix and mingle for versatility and charm.

Slim, slim lines are this year's suit skirt keynotes, and shoulders have reverted to their own natural selves, sloping or gently rounded and feminine. Crisp fabrics in the surah or taffeta type are on top of the party dress favorite list, but for street, sport and business wear tailorable tweed and figure molding wool jersey will be the main course on the fashion menu.

In the color department vibrant red will be the principal spot of brightness, and other shades and colors will be in taupe and neutral shades and tones, warm browns and jet blacks. A subdued gold and and a dull-toned green give surprising brightness to their companion costume colors, beige, tan and balenciago, and will be especially good for accent and accessories.

Modeling in the shows and the business concerns which provided the clothes were: Mesdames Harold Humphries and Charles A. Rosebrough, the Booterie; Mesdames Jack Boren and Harris Underwood, Dunlap's; Mesdames J. M. Reynolds and Wright Kerr, Hanna-Pope; Mesdames Oliver C. Thomas and Hiram Parks, Hemphill-Wells; Mesdames O. L. Slaton, jr., and Tom Carle, Margaret's; Mesdames Ernest St. Clair and Horace Humphries, Hackel's.

Narration was by Mrs. John Robert Mosley, and writing the script were Mesdames James G. Baker and James H. Milam. Background organ music was by Gerre Hancock.

Welcoming the approximately 250 women attending was Mrs. R. S. Prothro, president of the league.

P-TA Notes

Mrs. Hugh Newton and Mrs. Eugene Knox greeted guests at a get-acquainted tea given Thursday afternoon by George M. Hunt Parent-Teacher association at the school cafeteria. Mrs. Knox is president of the unit.

Garden flowers decorated the room and a lace cloth over green covered the refreshment table. Mrs. Earl Nail presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Pete Bynum and Mrs. C. A. White registered those who called and Mrs. Roger Williams played piano numbers during the afternoon.

Mrs. J. A. Burns greeted guests. Mrs. Sam Dial, hospitality chairman, pinned oak leaves bearing names of the individuals on each one, and oak leaf and acron booklets, designed to help in the get acquainted program, were presented. In this way, Prin. P. E. Davis, teachers, members and guests were enabled to learn the names of all of those present.

AT HARWELL SCHOOL

New teachers were introduced by Howard L. Day, principal, when Chris Harwell P-TA met at the school Thursday afternoon. Mrs. J. G. Wilkerson, membership chairman, reported that 36 persons paid dues the first day of school. Four members take the national P-T magazine and seven the Texas magazine.

As a money making project, the unit discussed plans for sponsoring a womanless wedding in October. The group voted also to buy a punch set to be used by the organization. Mrs. Ralph Cline presided.

After the business meeting, tea was served. The room of Mrs. E. E. Rodgers, jr., won the attendance count.

PLAN CARNIVAL

Sanders P-TA, at its first meeting of the school year, planned an annual Hallowe'en carnival. Sixty-three persons met for the business session and get-acquainted tea.

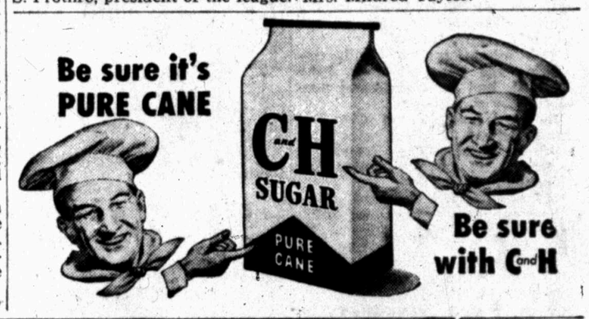

Mrs. J. L. Damron was elected vice president and Mrs. F. B. Mullinex, treasurer, to fill office vacancies. Mrs. W. A. Bishop presided.

GIRL IS HONORED

Lynnita Pirtle, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood Pirtle of Levelland, former Lubbockites, observed her birthday Thursday afternoon at a party in her home. Fifteen guests attended. The honoree's grandmother, Mrs. Ruby Collett, was a guest.

W. J. Mansell of Hollywood is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. W. V. Lewis, and other Lubbock relatives.

A Friday Meal with Guest Appeal— Golden, Crisp-Fried Salmon Treats!

These tender salmon croquettes in crisp, light jackets make a Friday meal a real occasion! And they're digestible as they are delicious!

Crisco—the one and only—brings you light, digestible fried foods!

All too often, fried foods are heavy and hard to digest! Why take chances? Anyone can have light, tender fried foods when she fries with pure, digestible Crisco!

CRISCO SALMON TREATS
(Makes 4 to 6 Servings)
All Measurements Level:

4 tablespoons Crisco
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup milk
1 egg
1½ cups fine crumbs
1½ cups shredded salmon
½ teaspoon onion juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 egg + 2 tbsps. water
Crisco for deep-frying

Make a white sauce by blending melted Crisco, flour and seasonings. Add milk, cook until thick. Cool slightly. Stir in 1 egg, 1 cup of the crumbs, salmon, onion and lemon juice. Chill thoroughly. Shape into croquettes, dip in remaining crumbs, then in egg beaten with water, and again in crumbs. Fry in deep Crisco heated to 365°F. (an inch cube of bread will brown in 60 seconds) 3-4 mins.

And don't worry when they call for "seconds"—tender Crisco-fried foods are digestible. 9 out of 10 doctors say foods fried in Crisco are easy to digest.

Vows Read In Church

First Methodist church parlor was scene of an informal wedding ceremony read for Miss Joyce Wileman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Wileman, 2117 Twentieth, and Lloyd Thompson, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Thompson of 2823 North Third, Sept. 9 at 9 p. m. Rev. E. H. Crandall officiated at a double ring service.

The fireplace mantel was decorated with gladioli, chrysanthemums and fern with tapers burning at either end. Other flowers were arranged about the room.

Miss Betty Lynn, cousin of the bride, played a prelude and the traditional wedding march.

On completion of the vows, Miss Betty King sang The Lord's Prayer, accompanied by Miss Coleen Baldwin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length white faille dress with chantilly lace yoke and sleeves and carried a white Bible covered by a spray of red rosebuds.

Beth Wileman, sister of the bride and the only attendant, wore an aqua faille dress of similar type to the bride's and a white rosebud corsage.

Pete Thompson served his brother as best man.

For a wedding trip to Amarillo, the bride wore a green brocade suit with black accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds. The couple was grduated from Lubbock High school and he is a former Tech student and works for the Southwestern Poublic Service company.

Miss Shirley Johnson registered guests who included the following from out-of-town: Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lynn of Clovis, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Stewart of Odessa, Mrs. Elvin Weed of Paris, Texas and Mrs. Charles Box of Post.

Circus Tickets For Underprivileged Set

R. S. Wilkinson, president of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, today announced that other organizations and business firms will be invited to help provide tickets for underprivileged boys and girls to the two performances here Oct. 11 of the Rogers Brothers circus.

The Jaycees, who are sponsoring the big three ring national circus for the purpose of raising funds for their Christmas program of helping less fortunate children, hope all the underprivileged children here will get to see the circus and wild animal menagerie, according to Wilkinson.

First performance of the circus will be held at 2:30 p. m. and the night performance will be held at 8 p. m. at the Fair Grounds.

Circus doors will open an hour before each performance, Wilkinson said, to afford fans an opportunity to visit the side show and menagerie.

Officials of the circus have promised two hours of entertainment.

Lamesa Polio Victim Taken To Plainview

LAMESA, Sept. 16 (Special)—Patricia Anderson, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Anderson was taken to the Plainview Polio center for treatment Wednesday night, the seventh polio victim this year in Dawson county.

The child's condition was reported by hospital authorities at Plainview as satisfactory. She was resting well today, it was said.

The child's grandmother, Mrs. Octavia Brown Anderson, of Lamesa, said the child had been ill several days and that her illness had been diagnosed at first as tonsilitis.

She had enrolled in the first grade in school only a few days ago. The child's parents accompanied her when she was taken to Plainview Wednesday night.

Bodies Of Two Men Found In Wreckage

ST. JAMES, Mo., Sept. 16 (U.P.)—Bodies of two St. Louis aircraft employes were found today by a state patrol pilot who sighted the wreckage of the men's long overdue plane, near Rossait, Mo., north of here.

The wreckage was scattered over a 75-yard wooded area. One body was found in the plane and the other was thrown 25 to 30 feet clear of the wreckage.

Victims of the crash were Louis E. Salch and Robert H. Sanders, jr. They left Lambert field Wednesday night en route to Columbia.

Four Airmen Escape Injury In Accident

DALLAS, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—A two-engine Army training plane crash-landed at Love field early today when its landing gear buckled, but the four men aboard walked away unhurt.

The plane, based at Tyndall field, Fla., was en route from Offnut field, Neb., to Barksdale field, La. After receiving a report the weather was bad at Barksdale field, Pilot Lt. D. G. Love returned to Love field, although his gas was low.

Others aboard were Co-Pilot Lt. C. F. Doane, and two passengers, Sgt. N. L. Degregerio, from Tyndall field, and Cpl. C. K. Wood, of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Rhode Island Man Says 14 Cows Aren't Good Companions For Vacation Journey

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 16 (AP)—Don't take 14 cows as companions on your vacation!

That advice comes from John Hannah, agricultural agent for Kent and Washington counties, Rhode Island. He speaks from experience.

It all came about when Hannah learned Austin Levy, owner of Rhode Island textile mills and agricultural enterprises in the Bahama islands, planned to ship the 14 cows to the Bahamas.

"By taking care of the animals on the trip during my annual leave I thought I would have a wonderful opportunity to see Florida and the Bahamas," Hannah said.

Ship Didn't Arrive

The five-day rail trip here wasn't bad although he had to milk the cows twice a day and keep them in water.

"The catch came," he continued, "when we arrived in Jacksonville a week ago Saturday. Due to some mixup in schedules the ship on which I was to sail with the cows wasn't here.

"One thing about a cow is that it has to be milked. So if we get away this Saturday I will have been doing my milking in Jacksonville twice a day for two weeks. This didn't give me a chance to see Florida."

Hannah still is looking forward to seeing the Bahamas—after he gets those cows off his hands.

Bus Is Delayed By Trailer Accident

Albert Owens of 2422 Twenty-eighth, a driver for TNM&O, today reported his bus from Fort Worth was delayed an hour this morning 15 miles west of Benjamin while workers cleared the highway of soap making substances spilled when a trailer of a truck overturned about 11 p. m. Thursday.

He said the highway was blocked from the time of the accident until 2 a. m. No one was hurt and the cab of the truck did not overturn, according to Owens.

Although his bus arrived at the scene two hours after the accident, Owens said a bad odor remained on the highway because of the soap making substances, animal feet and pressed animal products.

BOOST IN GOLD PRICES STUDIED

Britain's Pound Devaluation Unsettled As Talks Near End

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—The 48-nation money conference neared its close today without answer in sight to the great question mark of world finance—whether Britain will devalue the pound.

Most American experts on hand believed devaluation inevitable—some day. But the British, standing pat on earlier official denials, kept a discreet silence right up to the formal closing sessions.

As a result, the most important business for the governors of the international monetary today was approval—expected without a dissenting vote—of an official study of a possible boost in gold prices.

For the world bank's governors, the items of largest interest were the election, jointly with the fund organization, of a new chairman and the choosing of a site for the 1950 meeting.

India was believed certain to get the dual chairmanship. Paris was due for the next annual meeting but the choice was uncertain for economy reasons.

British Avoid Comment

The major event of the conference, therefore, appeared to have taken place on Tuesday, the opening day. That was when the fund urged Britain and other "deficit countries" to consider currency devaluation as a remedy for faltering trade and dwindling dollar reserves.

The report declared that an increase of exports to the western hemisphere — "particularly the United States" is the only long-run answer. It said devaluation—which would lower the price of Europe's goods in this country—is virtually the only visible means of boosting exports. President Eugene R. Black of the bank, in his opening address, fired a similar broadside.

Although Britain was not singled out by name, she was the obvious target. Several other countries are known to be holding back only until a decision is made on sterling.

Delegates said that throughout the last two days' of closed-door meetings, Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, and other British delegates avoided comment even on side-issues which might have led into a discussion of exchange rates.

Gold Price Compromised

The bank and fund scheduled separate, closed meetings this morning. The open, final session of both governing boards was set for late afternoon (3 p. m., E.S.T.).

Two days of angry debate and fast maneuvering produced a compromise on the touchy question of gold prices. A study will be completed "as expeditiously as possible" by the fund's fourteen-member board of directors, sitting in Washington.

The Union of South Africa lost its fight for immediate removal of the $35-an-ounce "official" ceiling on half the output of newly mined gold. Instead, it will get an "extensive study" which could conceivably result in a recommendation for a rise in the official price of all gold.

Actually, the voting strength of the United States is so great that a general price is virtually impossible. This country holds an effective veto on the question, in any case. Because it is the heaviest buyer by far, it sets the price; and Secretary of the Treasury Snyder has notified the fund governors that he will not agree to an increase.

Lubbock Girls Held In Narcotics Case

Two Lubbock girls, 16 and 19 years of age, were arrested by Lubbock police Thursday night after the younger girl allegedly sold or gave narcotics to the other.

Police said a quantity of "red birds," police name for a type of narcotics, were found on the 16-year-old. She was to be turned over to juvenile authorities. The other girl was charged with drunkeness and lodged in the city jail.

Location of the offense was given by police as a cafe in the 1100 block College avenue.

8,000 Attend Cobb's Store Opening Here

An estimated 8,000 persons thronged through Cobb's Lubbock's newest department store, when the firm held "open house" from 7 until 10 o'clock Thursday night in its new modern building at Thirteenth and Ave. J.

More than 3,000 orchids were presented to women guests at the "open house." Department heads and employes of the store were at their posts and assisted in showing the visitors the new building.

The new Cobb's, another spoke in the Hub of the Plains, was open for business this morning at 9 o'clock.

Truman Plans Missouri Trip

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—President Truman plans to take a "quickie" vacation back home at the end of September.

Mr. Truman has given the go-ahead for a flight to Kansas City Sept. 29 for a four-day stay.

The main purpose of the trip is to attend a dinner the night of Sept. 29 for William M. Boyle, jr., the new chairman of the Democratic National committee.

Boyle, a former Kansas City police official, is to be honored on that occasion by Democrats and other home town folk.

Mr. Truman plans to remain over in Kansas City and his nearby home town of Independence until Sunday, Oct. 2 and then fly back to Washington.

New York Visit

Aides said the President has abandoned all plans for a longer vacation until after Congress adjourns. A stay of from 10 days to two weeks at the winter White House at Key West, Fla., is on the schedule for mid-November.

A New York trip about Oct. 25 is also likely. Mr. Truman is expected to participate in the dedication of the cornerstone of the new United Nations headquarters.

Prospects are, too, that he will make a speech in New York in support of former governor Herbert Lehman, the Democratic candidate against Senator Dulles (R-NY) in the special Senate race this fall.

Founded in 1791, the Massachusetts Historical Society is the oldest such society in the United States.

Judge On Trial For Attempted Murder Takes Turn As Lawyer

ATLANTA, Sept. 16 (AP)—Handsome 44-year-old Judge Robert Carpenter, on trial for attempted murder, took a turn as his own attorney and questioned witnesses about his estranged wife and the man he is accused of wounding with pistol fire.

From one witness, the debonair Fulton county civil court jurist yesterday drew a statement that Mrs. Carpenter and John Lockwood were seen drinking together and entering a hotel elevator together.

Lockwood, a one-time friend and business associate of the judge, and later an attorney for the judge's wife in a divorce suit, was shot four times in the face after a pre-dawn automobile chase.

Death Threat Charged

Carpenter is charged with assault with intent to murder Lockwood.

The judge also brought out testimony that Lockwood once had threatened to kill him.

While Carpenter examined witnesses, he idly twirled a four-leaf clover between his fingers.

Intermingled all through the trial so far has been testimony of tangled romance and whiskey drinking. It has involved the good-looking judge himself; Mrs. Estelle Manful, the "other woman" in his wife's divorce suit; Attorney Lockwood; and Carpenter's alienated wife, Helen.

Yesterday, veteran criminal attorney Ellis Barrett, chief counsel for the accused jurist, impersonated a female, then took a male role in portraying torrid romance before the jury.

Barrett's portrayal in re-enacting love scenes between Mrs. Carpenter and Lockwood brought down the house and Judge Virlyn B. Moore had to rap lustily for order in the jammed courtroom.

Romancing Demonstrated

In one scene Barrett enlisted the aid of a lanky, deep-voiced Florida tourist court operator. In another he played opposite a dead-pan police reporter.

The tourist camp operator, R. C. Bishop of south Jacksonville, testified that Mrs. Carpenter and Lockwood indulged in whiskey drinking parties and strolled about his place with their arms around each other.

"Come on down and show the jury how you saw Mr. Lockwood and Mrs. Carpenter walking," Barrett said.

"All right," Bishop answered, "but you'll have to put your arm around me."

Barrett snuggled cozily against the tall, raw-boned Bishop, and with arms entwined they promenaded coyly before the jury.

Barrett next called upon Aubrey Morris, a reporter for the Atlanta Journal, to demonstrate how Mrs. Carpenter bent over Lockwood as he lay wounded on a hospital carriage.

Annoyed Woman

The defense attorney flung himself upon a courtroom table, Morris leaned over him, placed his hand on the grey-haired, red-faced lawyer's chest, and quoted Mrs. Carpenter as murmuring, "darling, you are going to be all right."

Barrett told the jury, "we will prove that John Lockwood is a Judas Iscariot who schemed to steal this man's wife, his money, and his good name."

Andy George, another witness, testified that Lockwood had so annoyed Mrs. Manful that she was forced to change her hotel lodgings.

Mrs. Manful told him, George related, that "Mr. Lockwood kept annoying her and trying to come up to her room." Mrs. Manful is defendant in a $100,000 alienation of affection suit brought by Mrs. Carpenter.

Lockwood was shot on July 27, soon after he left Mrs. Carpenter's company. He suffered additional injuries when he plunged to the bottom of a 30-foot building excavation in fleeing afoot from his assailant.

Lockwood says Judge Carpenter "laid in wait" for him after he and Mrs. Carpenter had been driving around looking for the judge and Mrs. Manful in a tourist camp.

Tahoka Woman Is Appointed To Post

TAHOKA, Sept. 16 (Special) — Mrs. Frances Chestnutt, of Tahoka, has been appointed Lynn county treasurer by the commissioners' court, succeeding Herman Reid, who recently resigned.

Mrs. Chestnutt has lived in Lynn county for about eight years and is well known over the county. For the past two years she has been employed as secretary to County Judge Tom Garrard.

Mrs. Chestnutt is the former Miss Frances Smelser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smelser of Mt. Pleasant. She was graduated from the Mt. Pleasant schools with highest honors and later studied business administration in the business school there. She was employed in Texarkana as an interviewer for the Texas State Unemployment service. Since moving to Tahoka, Mrs. Chestnutt has worked as bookkeeper for Lyntegar Cooperative, Inc., and the National Farm Loan association.

Mrs. Chestnutt has taken active part in the social and civic activities in Tahoka and Lynn county. She has done considerable child welfare work. She is a member of the Tahoka Church of Christ, Child Guidance club, and the Lynn County Welfare board. She is secretary of both the Lynn County Farm Bureau and the Lynn county chapter of the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Chestnutt has one son, Buddy, six years old.

Attempt To Murder Cuban Solon Fails

HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—Police reported today an attempt to assassinate Congressman Rolando Masferrer was made last night as he emerged from the capital building.

Unidentified assailants fired a burst of machinegun fire from an automobile and then sped away. Masferrer was unhurt.

Prof. Charged With Assaulting Divorcee Expected To Testify

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 16 (AP)—A university professor is expected to testify today about charges that he unmercifully pistol-whipped a divorced nurse who scorned his love.

Russell B. Maxey, the 45-year-old University of South Carolina professor, was quoted yesterday as saying buxom Ann B. Pierce called him a "son of a bitch of a professor" in a telephone conversation with another suitor.

Sheriff T. Alex Heise of Richland county said Maxey told him he overheard the conversation while hiding under Miss Pierce's bed.

Maxey is on trial for burglary with intent to murder and for assault and battery with intent to kill. Conviction will carry a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

The state charges that Maxey emerged from his hiding place with a German pistol in his hand and attacked Miss Pierce a few moments after she finished the call. The physician who treated her testified her head had been "beaten until it felt spongy."

Miss Pierce, a 35-year-old shapely brunette, has told of telephoning Dr. John Harvin, a young Columbia baby specialist. He admitted he had had a few dates with her.

Heise said Maxey reported that Miss Pierce told Harvin: "I think I have gotten to the point where I can get rid of that son of a bitch of a professor."

That made him mad, Heise said Maxey told him.

The nurse declared she always refused Maxey's proposals of marriage. Then she said Maxey tried to blackmail her into marriage by threatening to give her friends nude photographs he made of her on the sands at Myrtle beach if she spurned him.

SALES SLIP

DURANGO, Colo. (AP) — Every time Vernon Bode makes a dollar sale at his sporting goods store, he collects the sales tax with the comment, "and two cents for the governor."

After he had sold some merchandise to a tall, lean man, Bode said: "That's $5 and 10 cents for the gov——er, 10 cents for sales tax."

Just in time he'd recognized the tall customer as Colorado's Gov. Lee Knous.

Better Relations With Franco Spain Believed "In The Wind"

— PARIS, Sept. 16. (U.P.)—Diplomatic circles today believed Spain henceforth will be treated more and more as a partner by the western powers until changes make a formal alliance possible.

That was the general reaction of diplomats here to these developments: the official visit of King Abdullah of Hashemite Jordan to Spain, the visit of United States warships, and a Washington announcement that several congressmen will go to Spain this month to see Gen. Francisco Franco.

That was the general reaction of diplomats here to these developments: the official visit of King Abdullah of Hashemite Jordan to Spain, the visit of United States warships, and a Washington announcement that several congressmen will go to Spain this month to see Gen. Francisco Franco.

Agree On One Point

Although their respective governments time and again have stated clearly why they do not approve the present regime in Spain, diplomats, here say there is one point on which everybody now agrees, including King Abdullah himself.

On the other side, Franco believes that in backing Abdullah's anti-communist stand in the Middle East he improves his position with western powers and the number of his supporters among the United Nations.

Admirals Welcomed

Franco welcomed Admiral Richard L. Conolly and Rear Admiral George R. Henderson and the United States squadron which had come to inaugurate officially what some regard as the resumption of normal relations between the U. S. Navy and the Spanish government.

It is felt here that despite the fact Washington maintains a reserved attitude toward Franco as far as full diplomatic relations are concerned, important progress certainly has been made toward an understanding on other levels.

Slaton Man Suffers Wound; Two Charged

Two Slaton men, each about 33, posted bonds totaling $1,000 each after being charged this morning with illegal possession of a pistol and aggravated assault.

Named were J. E. Hughes and Joe Burleson.

Burleson suffered a gunshot wound in one leg below the knee Thursday night at Slaton, and a court of inquiry was held in connection with the case before John B. Wells, Slaton justice of peace. County Attorney Waggoner Carr and assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars assisted the court by questioning witnesses who appeared under subpoena issued by the justice.

Hughes was accused of having threatened Burleson with a pistol. Burleson likewise was accused of having threatened Hughes with a pistol.

Both bonds were made returnable instanter. Date for trial of the cases had not been set.

Labor Tension

since the old contracts expired June 30 but Lewis has hinted he might call them out entirely because of the welfare fund dispute.

The CIO electrical workers were still considering whether to take a strike vote among 200,000 employes of General Electric and Westinghouse in 15 states.

Walkout Is Hinted

In Milwaukee, meanwhile, the CIO United Auto Workers hinted of a possible strike against Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co., which would affect 17,000 employes in four states. The firm and union have fought bitter battles in the past and the last fight virtually broke the union's power in the company's plants.

Meanwhile, UAW President Walter P. Reuther awaited the outcome of the steel dispute before deciding whether to risk a strike of 115,000 members against Ford Motor company to back up demands similar to those made by the steelworkers. About 75,000 UAW workers at Chrysler vote next week on whether to authorize a strike.

Hopes Are Dimmed

Hopes for settlement of a railroadmen's strike that paralyzed the Missouri-Pacific line dimmed as pickets threw lines across the tracks of the Cotton Belt and the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio railroads, stopping several of their freight and passenger trains on grounds that they were moving Mo-Pac equipment. A union spokesman said the train stoppages were "unauthorized."

Other strikes in progress across the nation idled 12,000 Briggs manufacturing employes at Detroit, 16,000 CIO rubber workers employed by Goodrich plants, 12,000 CIO warehousemen in California and 7,500 electrical workers at the Singer Sewing Machine company.

ing."

The "first phase" of the recovery job has largely been done, Hoffman said, and "Europe is, economically and politically, a democratic going cornern."

Europe this year will earn $4,000,000,000 less than it has to pay out, but "if our aid to Europe were halted now, it would not take six months to undo all the accomplishments of the past year and a half."

"The frank truth is that while the flames of economic catastrophe have been dampened down . . . the fire has not yet been put out. Let's not fool ourselves. Europe is still vulnerable and it is vital to the safety of the United States that Europe should not be vulnerable."

Daily MARKETS

Stock Market

DEMAND EXPANDS

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP) — Demand for stocks expanded today despite the possibility of strikes in the steel and soft coal industries in the near future.

The market closed at or near the best levels of the day.

Gains were fractional for the most part but they were well distributed and a number of issues climbed to new tops for the year.

Highs for the year were established, among others, by Houston Oil, Halliburton, Sunshine Mining, Standard Gas & Electric $4 preferred, Trans-America, and International Paper.

Also up were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Radio Corp., International Telephone, Kennecott Copper, American Smelting, General Electric, American Woolen, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, and Transcontinental & Western Air.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP) — Trading in cotton futures was again confined to narrow price ranges today, although the market was displaying a steady undertone.

The volume of trading was the quietest for any session so far this week. While some liquidation came into nearby October delivery, the selling was absorbed by trade price fixing.

Hedging pressure also was apparent, but in the aggregate this type of selling was light.

It was explained that the new cotton crop movement was being delayed by recent rains over most of the cotton belt which tended to reduce hedge sales in futures.

Interest wa sattached to C.C.C. release that loans covering only 4,493 bales were made on the 1949 crop up to December 8. A year ago up to September 9 loans on the 1948 crop amounted to 114,002 bales.

Futures closed 40 cent sa bale higher higher to 10 cents lower than the previous close.

Poles Force Plane To Land In Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—Five Polish refugees forced the pilot of a Polish passenger plane at gunpoint to change course today and land in Sweden, where they asked for asylum and protection.

The plane was on a flight from Gdansk (Danzig) to Lodz in central Poland. With a gun at his head, the captain changed course and headed north for Sweden.

The plane, with 12 persons aboard, landed at a military airport near the little town of Nykoping, a few miles south of Stockholm.

All passengers were taken into custody immediately by state police.

AMERICANS ACCUSED

MOSCOW, Sept. 16 (AP)—Pravda today accused American spies of operating in eastern Europe disguised as newspapermen.

Parolee Held In Theft Case

The sheriff's department at Roswell, N. M., will send an officer here, perhaps today, to accept custody of David Robert Pilgreen, 18, parolee from a Colorado federal reformatory who admitted, after he was overhauled Thursday afternoon in a 85-mile-an-hour chase, that he had stolen at Roswell the automobile he was driving.

Sheriff Grady Harrist of Lubbock county said Pilgreen indicated after his arrest near Levelland and his being placed in Lubbock county jail that he wanted to go back and face whatever charges may be filed.

Expected To Sign Waiver

The youth was expected to sign a waiver of extradition today.

Pilgreen allegedly sped away from a Brownfield service station about 4:20 p. m. Thursday without paying for gasoline and a carton of cigarets. Sheriff Ocie Murry of Terry county telephoned his deputy at Meadow and the Lubbock sheriff's department.

Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank and Dep. Sheriff Tom Cannon of Lubbock sighted the suspect and the stolen car and chased it at high speed from Thirty-fourth and the Brownfield highway to within five miles of Levelland.

Other Officers Assist

Lubbock police and state highway patrol radio assisted in the chase, and a state patrol car occupied by L. W. Wilhite and T. W. Brown fell in behind the sheriff's cruiser and kept up radio communication with the state's station here after signals of the sheri"s cruiser weakened and played out.

Three shots fired by Cannon struck the fugitive automobile, one of them imbedding itself in the back seat on a line dangerously close to Pilgreen.

The chase ended one four five minutes after Sheriff Murry called—65 miles away from the place where Pilgreen narrowly missed running over a station attendant in leaving the Brownfield station, officials said.

In two 99th court actions, Judge Pardue ordered forfeit to the State of Texas a large quantity of whisky. One forfeiture suit was against D. C. Turner and 542 pints of whisky and 109 four-fifths of whisky. The other was against E. E. Sparks and the same quantity of whisky which was seized on May 9 in Lubbock county.

A Lubbock woman, named as Maudie Irwin posted $1,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn on a charge of swindling. She was charged with selling a bedroom suit for $200 on Feb. 1, 1947, which allegedly was not her property. The complaint was sworn by Mary Agnes Hatcher Annalora before A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney and filed in Lynn's court.

Theft of 30 quarts of motor oil from the Couch and Murdock service station at Ave. A and the Slaton highway was reported to the sheriff's department Thursday night.

Strickland moved to Phillips in 1945 from Coleman, the home of his parents. He was born in Coleman in 1913.

He was a veteran of World War II, having been inducted in Lubbock in 1942, and served in the Army until 1944, when he was discharged at Fort Sill, Okla.

Strickland was an employe of the Phillips gasoline department. Mrs. Strickland also is employed in the gasoline department of the Phillips Petroleum company.

Strickland's death was the third traffic fatality in the general area within the past five days.

James W. Hunter, 29, of 204 Uvalde, Lubbock, and W. C. Putman, of the Draw community near Tahoka, both were killed instantly Sunday night in an accident on Highway 87, nine miles south of Tahoka, when a Baldridge bakery truck driven by Parker Harden, 1113 Ave. O, Lubbock, and a car driven by Putnam collided. Hunter was riding with Harden.

Harden told investigating officers that Putman had driven onto the highway from a side road directly in front of him, giving him no time to stop or swerve out of the way.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—Tom Freeman's 1936 car stalled at a busy San Fernando valley intersection and he couldn't make it start again.

The 21-year-old man hit it with a sledge hammer. It still wouldn't start. "Then I just lost my head, dumped some coal on it and set fire to it," he admitted to Van Nuys municipal judge Walter C. Allen yesterday.

He pleaded guilty and paid a $50 fine for burning combustible rubbish without a permit.

Lieutenant Governor Candidates Present

Austin Dinner Honors Grover C. Morris, Acting Governor

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 16—Candidates for lieutenant governor came almost by the dozens at a dinner here last night.

The dinner was for acting Governor Grover C. Morris of Greenville, himself a contender for the job although he hasn't said so officially.

Toastmaster Homer Leonard, former speaker of the House, would allow only one speech—a three minute address by the honor guest. He made no sensational statements.

The 15 or so state senators present are all regarded as potential candidates but these senators and others are the ones most frequently mentioned as runners:

Fred (Red) Harris of Dallas; Secretary of State Ben Ramsey, formerly senator from Southeast Texas; House Speaker Durwood Manford of Smiley; Senator Carlos Ashley of Llano, Senator Kyle Vick of Waco.

There were some candidates for governor there too, but they weren't given an opportunity to say anything. Among thew were Attorney General Price Daniel; Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson; Land Commissioner Bascom Giles.

The dinner was made possible by the absence of another candidate for governor: Gov. Allan Shivers.

Shivers, who went all the way to Mexico City to formally announce his candidacy, ceased being governor when he crossed the state line. Morris, president pro tem of the Senate, automatically became governor.

When he did, his friends followed an old custom by throwing a party for the acting governor.

There was a lot of kidding about who paid for the steaks. Nobody ever said.

Farmer Breaks Up Hog Narcotic Ring

PLAINVIEW, Neb., Sept. 16. (AP)—William Bohl broke up a narcotics ring in his own feed lots this week.

When his hogs began to grow thin and wobble uncertainly about the fed lot, Bohl launched a one man investigation. At the back of the feed lot he found the hogs jumping in the air to get at the last few leaves near the top of a lush stand of marijuana plants.

After destroying the plants Bohl said today his hogs were getting back to normal."

Services Set For I. R. Grundy, 64

FLOYDADA, Sept. 16 (Special)—Funeral services are tentatively set for 3 p. m. Saturday in the First Methodist church here for I. R. Grundy, 64, grain trucking business owner and resident here since 1931, who died Thursday at Cortez, Colo., after an illness of two years.

Rev. R. Huckabee will officiate. Harmon Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Grundy was born in Brenain, [illegible] spent the early part of his life in that state before coming to the Panhandle area in 1901. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and Masonic lodge.

Survivors include his wife, Louise Grundy of Floydada; two sons, J. B. Grundy and Billie Grundy of Floydada; two daughters, Mrs L. F. Martin of Floydada and Mrs. R. L. Read of Silsbee; two brothers, Jess Grundy of Quitaque and Luther Grundy of Albuquerque; two sisters, Mrs. Henry Baker of Childress and Mrs. W. T. Kittenger of Austin; and six grandchildren.

J. I. McBroom

for about 10 years.

While in Lubbock that first time he got the job of erecting the "fence" around the old white frame courthouse. He was assisted by his brother, the late G. R. McBroom.

The fence consisted of wooden boisd'arc posts set eight feet apart, with a three-quarters inch cable strung between the posts. The fence was used more for hitching horses to it than anything else, McBroom recalls.

Barbecue Is Recalled

He remembers that when the posts were ready for stringing the cable, 40 or 50 cowboys were hanging around anxious to tie up their horses. They helped string the heavy cable.

The bicycle shop, in an old frame building at Main and Texas, was a prosperous business for a while. Bicycles were sold and repaired, and McBroom rented three or four at 25 cents an hour.

When the Santa Fe railroad got to Lubbock, a barbecue for 1,000 persons was prepared, and McBroom recollects that a dust storm blew up just as the serving was all set to begin, and the barbecue had quite a bit of West Texas sand mixed in with it.

Asked for advise to young persons on how to live happily to a ripe old age, Mr. McBrpom said he hadn't always lived a perfect life, but he did have this to offer:

"Go square with everybody. That's the way I've found is the best. That's always the best."

Miners Walk Out In Contract Dispute

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., Sept. 16. (AP)—An estimated 8,000 civil miners in the Utah-Wyoming district of the United Mine workers walked out of the pits voluntarily today pending a settlement of the current contract dispute.

Houston Martin of Rock Springs, president of District 22 which embraces the two states, said the walkout was purely voluntary and that it had not been called by union officials.

Some 3,500 to 4,000 of the 8,000 miners in the two states are employed in coal fields around Rock Springs. All failed to show up for work at midday.

Indications here were the miners intend to stay away from the pits until the current controversy is settled by union chief John L. Lewis and the coal operators.

Women generally have slightly heavier brains than men in proportion to the size of their bodies.

Russian Writer Describes America As Land Of Chewing Gum And Car Courting

BUCHAREST, Romania, Sept. 16 (AP)—America is a land of gum-chewing and sex in automobiles, where the B-36 bomber is the dove of peace and the atom bomb is the olive branch, Ilya Ehrenburg, Russian publicist and novelist, said today.

Writing in the Cominform Journal, Ehrenburg, who has made several trips to the United States, gave this picture of life there:

"Vulgarity and arrogance, robots and chewing gum, sex in automobile, a negro soaked in gasoline, supermen who crush skulls, frame-up of communists, hypocrisy and savagery, greed, falsehood and fear. They have a dove of peace—the B-36—and the olive branch—the atom bomb.

"I don't know of any other country in the world where individuality is so crushed and obliterated as in the United States."

Defense Testimony In Suits Presented

Defense testimony in the trial of two suits for damages totaling $90,000 against the Shell Oil Co., inc., and the Shell Pipe Line Co., was being presented before Federal Judge Joseph B. Dooley and a jury in U. S. District court here today.

Trial of the suits, brought by O. V. Bundy of Denver City, and E. R. McCollum of Lubbock, began Thursday. Plaintiff's counsel rested at 10:25 o'clock this morning.

Plaintiffs are seeking damages as the result of a gas explosion which occurred in a sewage lift station being constructed near the defendants' pipe line, their contention being that the explosion was caused by a leak in the gas line.

As the plaintiffs rested, Judge Dooley overruled a defense motion for an instructed verdict.

The two cases, both an outgrowth of the same explosion, are being tried jointly at Judge Dooley's direction although there was no formal consolidation of the cases.

McCollum is seeking $52,500 damages and Bundy $37,500. They are being represented by Davis Scarborough of Abilene and R. T. Bailey of Dallas.

Geo. W. Dupree and James H. Milam of the firm of Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam, are representing the defendants.

German Shepherd Is Exhibited At Session Of Club

Mark, a 3-year-old German shepherd, today went through the paces called by his mistress, Mrs. J. C. Turner of 3117 Twenty-seventh, at a luncheon meeting of the American Business club in the Hilton hotel.

The grey 80-pound animal which will jump 10 feet high at the command of his master is a wonderful companion, according to Mrs. Turner.

German shepherds are in wide use as army, farm, seeing eye and watch dogs, the told the club.

Mrs. Turner said she never whips Mark "because a scolding hurts his feeling sufficiently."

Dog Show Explained

She was introduced by Jack Boren, chairman of the club's ticket committee to boost sales to the South Plains Kennel club dog show Tuesday.

Boren also introduced W. C. Boyd, a member of the Kennel club, who explained the functions of a dog show and assured his audience that "some of the finest dog flesh in the nation will be here Tuesday."

Boyd said 390 dogs are entered in the show to be held beginning at 8 a. m. Tuesday at the Athletic building at Lubbock Municipal air field.

A comic situation arose when Boyd stepped on Mark's tail.

Mark's growling answer was plain enough in any language.

George Dale presided.

Enrollment up to this afternoon indicated the final figure would be approximately what had been expected, representing a drop from last fall's final enrollment figure of 6,145. Such a decrease will be in keeping with the expected trend in other colleges.

Pep Rally Held

An all-college pep rally was conducted in the college gymnasium Thursday night, with Coach Dell Morgan and Athletic Director Morley Jennings making speeches.

College cheer leaders, with Jimmy Carter in charge, led cheers. The rally was aimed at warming up student spirit for the Saturday game with the University of Texas at Austin. A short talk was given by Ernest Sears, president of the Saddle Tramps, men's cheering organization.

Tech cheer leaders this fall include Carter, Pat Thurmond, Bob Hogan, Glenna Winston and Lam McKay.

Pioneer Airlines To Move To Dallas

DALLAS, Sept. 16 (AP)—Pioneer Airlines will move its headquarters from Houston to Dallas.

The decision was announced by officials of the airline today.

RAYBURN TO SPEAK

BONHAM, Sept. 16 (U.P.) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn will make the principal address tonight when 141 veterans graduate from the Fannin county vocational school.

A Japanese trade mission has visited Chile to study business opportunities.

Bomber Crash

lage of the cigar-shaped ship after the plane hit and took a hasty roll call. He said every man answered.

Survivors Picked Up

Crash boats picked up survivors from the wings, fuselage and the water as the six-engined air monster stayed partially afloat.

The eight known survivors were rushed to the base hospital for treatment of minor injuries. Last night they slept in semi-quarantine, unavailable for questioning.

A navy-trained diver, M. R. Best of Arlington, early this morning probed the murky depths where the multi-million dollar craft crashed. He gave up after 45 minutes.

"It's hopeless to do anything this morning. I couldn't see my hand in front of my face."

Best was to go down into the oil blanckened waters after daylight. The huge tail section of the bomber stuck out of the lake to mark the spot.

Smashes Into Lake

The plane smashed into the lake —a short distance from the end of the runway — at approximately 7:45 p. m. (CST). It was one of the planes of the 7th squadron, 7th wing, Eighth Air Force, scheduled for a routine training flight.

A fisherman said he saw flames shooting from one of the engines.

"I wachted it coming down the runway," he said. "The middle engine on the left side was on fire.

"The pilot tried to stop, it looked like, saw he was too close and then gunned it. He jumped right into the lake."

The fisherman, who declined to give his name, was casting from a dock directly across the lake from the scene of the crash.

Master Sgt. Kenneth McKellip, in charge of a crash boat, told Max Ewing, Dallas News photographer, that all of the men he picked up were in a daze and that one was seriously injured.

Carried Light Load

The plane was carrying a light load of gasoline. It is capable of holding 21,116 gallons of fuel—enough for a non-stop flight of at least 9,600 miles. That's the distance Air Force officials announced one B-36 traveled in a mock bombing mission.

Lt. English said the plane mysteriously lost its power as it was traveling down the runway at about 100 miles and hour for the takeoff.

Maj. Toy B. Husband of Woodlake, Calif., was the pilot. Co-pilot was Maj. John H. Keene of Miami, Fla.

The Air Force withheld names of the missing crewmen.

Other survivors were:

Technical Sgt. Harry Holloway, jr., of Monongahela, Pa.

Technical Sgt. J. R. Shumake of Red Springs, Tex.

Staff Sgt. Quentin Freed of Youngstown, O.

Staff Sgt. James Bradshaw of Elysian Fields, Tex.

Staff Sgt. Jack Allen of Weatherford, Tex.

Rabbi Julius Kerman of Congregation Shaareth Isreal will conduct the Sabbath Eve service at 8 p. m. today, at the synagogue at Twenty-third and Ave. Q.

R. Montgomery, brother of Mrs. E. B. Wheelock of Lubbock, died Thursday at Santa Cruz, Calif. Services will be conducted Monday at Oakland. Mrs. Wheelock has gone there by plane.

A will and other important personal papers are missing in connection with the disappearance of a B-4 flight bag, E. A. DeShazo informed the police Thursday. DeShazo made a plea that whoever may have stolen or found the bag, on which is lettered the name of S. F. Brokeshoulder, is welcome to it—"but I and others of my family would appreciate it if the will and other personal papers are mailed to me at 1512 Ave. K, or to the police station for me."

One hundred feet of green plastic water hose, valued at $18, has been stolen from Clarence Young of 3302 Twenty-fourth, the police were informed today.

Dewey Wright, 33, arrested Thursday by Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubanks and Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton today waived extradition to Kansas, where he told sheriff's deputies he was wanted on a felony offense. He said he had escaped from a county jail at Syracuse. Sheriff Grady Harrist airmailed fingerprints of the man late Thursday to the sheriff at Syracuse, and sent a telegram today advising the waiver had been signed.

Resignation of Tom Everheart from the police department to enter other employment became effective this week, when he began work with T. R. Prideaux Lumber company. Everhart, of 2426 Twenty-fourth, had been with the department since his separation from the armed service five years ago as a captain.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil T. Overby of 909-A Ave. X have returned from Austin, where Overby, an assistant professor in civil engineering in Texas Tech, did work in the University of Texas, toward his Master's degree in civil engineering. He studied the summer before in the University of Michigan. Mrs. Overby, a deputy county clerk, has returned to her desk.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brown and sons Roger and Tommie, all of Oklahoma City, are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Stewart of 2510 Twenty-ninth. Before Brown's transfer several months ago, the family lived at 2507 Twenty-ninth. He is associated with the Texas Co.

A fine of $100 was levied in corporation court this morning against J. E. Duncan, 53, of Fort Worth, who pleaded guilty of reckless driving in connection with an incident here Thursday. A police patrolman said he had been advised by radio to watch for an approaching car and saw Duncan driving into Lubbock on East Broadway. The driver, according to police reports, collided with one side of the east underpass and was driving in such a manner as to endanger drivers of other vehicles. He was released to a lawyer to appear back this morning.

eign ministers gathering here for tomorrow's meeting of the Atlantic treaty council. This is the body whic his due to order creation of defense machinery for the western world.

Both Schuman and Bevin will participate in the council session but today Schuman arranged a flying trip to Midland, Ont., to take part in a Pere Marquette celebration.

Joint Statement Given

At the conclusion of their meeting last night the three foreign policy chiefs authorized a joint statement. This listed subjects they had discussed and called on Russia to resume, in New York next Thursday, the negotiations with western powers for an Austrian independence treaty.

At the same time, the three declared they had "coordinated their plans for the conclusion of a satisfactory treaty at an early date"—which put the Soviets on notice afresh that the west does hot intend to give them an economic stranglehold on Austria.

LA PORTE, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—Cowboy Constable Dale Richardson and his Galveston counterpart, crusading reporter Ira Taylor, traded compliments today and kept mum about the future.

The two self-styled anti-gambling leaders convedsed here yesterday at Richardson's home. "Young Taylor came on a social visit," the constable said.

Richardson, who has filed more than a few charges in his time, said he thought the 23-year-old former newspaper reporter had "lots of guts" in filing gambling charges against five Galvesten men.

Constable Is Elated

"I advised him to leave Galveston, though, and I think it's the smartest thing he could do. I hope nothing happens to him," the constable said ominously.

When Taylor first took police and his own newspaper by surprise earlier this week and filed charges, Richardson expressed elation that somebody was "cleaning up that sinful city." Taylor subsequently was fired by the paper, which claimed it had known nothing of his activities.

No Pay Available

Richardson, in the middle of a pinball machine war in which he has picked up and stored 70 allegedly illegal tables, said he didn't have any work for Taylor in Harris county "right now," mainly because he couldn't offer the young crusader any pay.

"I've got more to do here now than I can take care of, and less to do it with. So I can't get away yet to help Ira out in Galveston," said the constable.

In Galveston, Taylor made his longest statement since the turn of events that found him in court and cost him his job.

"Richardson really is a swell fellow—not a comic like some people think. He actually is a deep thinker," the ex-reporter observed.

Texas Weather

For ranchers it means good range for the cattle, and for the small grain farmer it means the ground will be in good condition for planting.

Break Indicated

The rain also will help replenish lakes and ponds which have dwindled during a prolonged summer drouth.

Meanwhile drizzling rain continued on the South Plains this morning, but the weatherman held out new hope for clearing skies this afternoon.

A "trough line" of dry air was moving down on the area from the west and promised to break up the lead-colored skies during the afternoon.

Clear In Northwest

The Weather bureau station at Municipal airport received teletype reports of clear skies at Albuquerque, Columbus, and Clayton, N. M., and El Paso and Dalhart at midmorning.

No appreciable amount of rain was expected today, said Harold Frost, chief meteorologist at the Weather bureau station.

Farmers were anxiously awaiting a break in the weather as soggy fields and cool temperatures were seriously delaying the ripening of the cotton crop.

Dry Weather Needed

The rains have not seriously affected the cotton crop as yet, but farm observers say two or three weeks of warm, dry weather is needed to insure proper opening of the crop.

An expected maximum of 70 degrees is seen for today, following this morning's minimum of 59 degrees.

Meanwhile, scheduled airline flights were bypassing Lubock because of a 300-foot ceiling at Municipal airport.

Rain in a 24-hour period ending at mid-morning was general over the South Plains, ranging from .25 inch at many points to 1.50 inches at Ralls, Levelland and an inch at numerous other points.

In Lubbock, the rainfall total was measured at .69 inch during the 24-hour period. It brought the month's total to 4.70 inches and the year's total to 27.38 inches.

Ireland Plans Drive Against British Policy Of Partition

DUBLIN, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—The infant Republic of Ireland will launch a world-wide publicity drive shortly.

The object of the campaign will be the ending of the partition of Ireland, the 27-year-old artificial border which cuts across the Emerald Isle's national territory like a red hot knife.

Centered in Dublin and extending to all parts of the globe, the bloodless offensive will seek to reunite Ireland's 32 counties by hitting her powerful neighbor in the only place possible, her international prestige.

It will seek to hurt Britain enough to make her withdraw her forces from the six northeastern counties comprising Northern Ireland, and relinquish all claim to the severed territory.

Keynote Sounded

The minister of external affairs, Sean MacBride, sponsor and mastermind of the campaign, hit the keynote when he told the Dail (parliament): "The kernel of the matter is whether we are to go on talking about partition without making it possible for the world to get the facts about it."

The campaign, he said, would aim at putting an end to the "publication of false and misleading reports in the press aboard concerning Ireland . . . usually in reports emanating from London.

Britain, he said, is guilty of violating in Ireland "the very principles she fights so hard to preserve for Germany and the peoples of Eastern Europe," and the time has come to let the world know about it.

Authoritative sources here list the following reasons for the new campaign:

1. Ireland's exclusion from the council chambers of the United Nations by the repeated use of the Soviet veto.

2. Her exclusion from the Atlantic Pact bloc by her own insistence that participation would constiute formal recognition of the British-controlled status of the severed territory.

3. America's repeated refusal to act as "mediator" in the dispute, or to call a round-table conference of the Atlantic powers with a view to discussing the problem.

4. The British government's recently - constituted Ireland bill guaranteeing the continual integrity of Northern Ireland as part of the United Kingdom.

5. The Republic's vital need of the heavily industrialized areas of the north in balancing her accounts, and completing her post-war recovery.

The major target of the campaign will be the "paper wall" which Ireland maintains Britain has erected around the counties of the republic distorting Irish news channeled through London, and "Anglicizing" it by means of Britain's powerful press, radio and diplomatic machines.

The campaign will aim at battering down the "paper wall" by flooding the world's capitals with Ireland's point of view transmitted direct from Dublin.

Master-minded by MacBride and beamed across the Atlantic by the minister of posts and telegraphs, James Everett, the campaign will seek to muster world opinion on Ireland's side of the fence by means of a tri-pronged offensive comprising:

1. A high-powered short-wave radio station broadcasting Irish news, views and features to the United States and Canada.

2. A government press agency which will keep the world's capitals supplied with Irish news through press releases.

3. Increased diplomatic representation aboard.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 16 (AP)—Belated dispatches to the Communist newspaper, Liberation Daily, today said 183 Chinese miners were drowned in August when floodwaters trapped them in the Hungshan mine near Poshan.

Chemical Firm Gets Big Refund Of Taxes

AUSTIN, Sept. 16 (AP) — District Judge Jack Roberts today ordered the state to refund a quarter of a million dollars in taxes to the Phillips Chemical Co.

The 126th District court ruling covered $265,101.45 in taxes paid by the company to the state under protest. Roberts ruled that the "taxes were illegally exacted from the plaintiff" and ordered the refund.

The question was over carbon black manufactured by the Philtex Chemical company, (which Phillips had bought) and their "Philblack" plants at Borger.

The state, by law, can levy special taxes on carbon black converted from natural gas. Phillips argued that they were using a special process, "exclusively from substances other than gas" and therefore their product did not come under the provisions of the state carbon black tax.

Roberts ruled that Phillips, which had paid the state taxes each month since Sept., 1948, but accompanied each check with a formal letter of protest, did not have to pay such taxes.

Dukes Pound Lamesa, 9 To 2

Final Series Games Slated

ALBUQUERQUE, Sept. 16 (AP)—The two big A's—Amarillo and Albuquerque—meet starting Saturday for the 1949 West Texas-New Mexico league baseball championship.

Albuquerque gained a berth in the finals with a 9 to 2 win last night over Lamesa. The victory gave the New Mexico club a 4 to 3 edge in the seven-game first round series. Amarillo defeated Abilene four games straight and has been idle awaiting the other finalist.

Start In Albuquerque

The playoff finals start in Albuquerque Saturday. After a two-game series here, the two clubs move to Amarillo for three more games.

To Don Farrarese, southpaw Albuquerque hurler, went the credit for the important win last night. He limited Lamesa to two Texas league singles—by Glenn Selbo and Pitcher Bob Upton—and struck out six. The six strikeouts brought his record to 267 for the season.

It was tight mound work throughout. Only four balls were handled in the outfield. Only two men reached first base in the last six innings.

Lamesa Takes Lead

Lamesa took an early lead, crossing the pay plate twice in the opening frame. Albuquerque erased the margin and went ahead to stay in the second half of the same frame.

A total of six runs came across in the first for Albuquerque. Three more were added in the fourth and it was the ball game.

The Dukes collected 13 safeties off Pitchers Rosson and Upton.

British Golfers In Early Lead In Meet

GANTON, Eng., Sept. 16 (U.P.) — Max Faulkner and Jimmy Adams of Britain were 3 up on E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., and Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., today at the halfway point of their 36-hole scotch foursome match in the Ryder Cup golf classic.

Their match was the first of four scotch foursomes contests on the 6,632-yard, par 72 Ganton course. Eight singles matches will be played tomorrow. A huge crowd of about 10,000 watched the matches in chilly, overcast weather marked by intermittent rains.

The matches got underway today only after the Briton's clubs had been re-examined and smoothed down to the satisfaction of Ben Hogan, non-playing captain of the U. S. team.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

Lubbock High school opens its season here tonight, and tomorrow afternoon Texas Tech takes on Texas. It's a hefty week end of football for the sports fan, with area grid games dotting the scene tonight in profusion. You can take your choice of some fine grid encounters and you'll probably not be going wrong on any of them. Little by little, area schools are going into conference play with the supposed warm-up games out of the way. Next week the schedule is thicker with conference play. And all the indications are that conference play this season will be rougher, tougher and closer than ever before.

We're sorry to miss the opening game of the year for Lubbock High school tonight. From what little we've seen of the Westerners so far, Coach C. R. Pattison is going to field a team that will be interesting to watch. It will be the type of team that can score from any place on the field—and probably will. It's the type of team that will give the fans a colorful night. It will win a lot of games, it will lose some. Biggest bugaboo is getting the No. 1 team-in-the-state complex out of its head. We think a little stiff battle by Childress will go a long way toward eliminating any thoughts of grandeur out of the Westerners' heads, if they have any. We think that the boys are sensible enough to realize that ratings mean less than the paper on which they are printed and that actions on the field speak louder thanu 48 point type.

Tech is on its way today to Austin where they will go into the game against the Texas Longhorns on the short end of the odds. It's a long, long chance they have of winning, although it's not out of the realm of possibility. We still can't forget that Tech had to go all out for 60 minutes to beat Texas A. & M., weakest team in the Southwest Conference last year. On the other hand, Tech played Texas a 7-0 game for three quarters in 1947, until heat wore them down and out, 33-0. We doubt if the Raiders will suffer such a collapse tomorrow. They have depth in the line and their backfield is solid enough to stand the game. If they are beaten, it will be by a team of superior players. Or it might be that their own mistakes will beat them.

The latter is an interesting question. The Raiders have looked far from good in practice this week—what practice they have been able to hold. We still shudder over their showing against a freshman team that had been out just one day. The varsity couldn't do much with the first year men and the main reason was their blocking. All the coaching in the world is no good unless the linemen know their assignments and block. The same is true in regards to the backfield. At this point right now, the Raiders do not appear to be as good a team as last year. Their downfield blocking is as good, if not better, but the rest of the blocking, which is so important, is not up to the level of a good college team. When the Raiders tighten up on their blocking and learn their assignments, they may be better than last year. Until then, they may be pretty impotent.

Hubber players apparently liked Lubbock. At least some of them did enough to remain here for the winter. M. L. Wilkison, Hubber owner, has made a place for three of the players at his garage and radiator shop. Manager Jackie Sullivan will split his time between the shop and Rosenthal Field, where he will work during much of the good weather (we hope) this winter. Mike Dooley and Charley Willis will man a pair of wreckers that M. L. is putting into service. Royce Mills, better known as Rooster, is working for the Hub Motor company. Nelson Davis is in town and about to land a job with a local concern. Other players lost little time in returning to their respective homes.

The following letter (name signed) has been received and is worthy of space since it presents a statement of position that is duplicated a good deal around here. "Monday night, with a little regret, I missed a meeting of the Quarterback club — something I hadn't done throughout the falls of '46, '47, '48. I hadn't been told to stay away, but it had been made known to me that I wouldn't be welcome unless I joined the Matador club. I was happy to see in your column that you condemned this selfish attitude. I also think it's a little unreasonable and I'll show you why. I'm a Lubbock High school graduate who decided to gast my collegiate lot down College Station way. After returning home in '46, I, of course, continued to back the Westerners and, with the exception of Tech's yearly clash with Texas A. & M., I pulled for the Raiders all the way.

"However, I feel that as a member of the ex-student association, my limited financial contributions should go to my own school. Nevertheless, I am proud of Texas Tech, and I'm proud of the part we South Plains Ex-Aggies played in trying to get Tech in the Southwest Conference. I'd like to at least be welcome to attend the Quarterback club on the night the A. & M.-Tech picture is shown. If you could pass these words along to the officers of the Matador and/or Quarterback clubs, perhaps it might help them to see the error of their ways." Those are pretty direct words, but they explain why the Matador club gained few friends. They went at a problem in the wrong way, when a more subtle approach might have brought better results.

THE ROUNDUP: For Lawrence Stone's information: Yes, George Worrell is the same lad you thought he was. . . . Only 33 Miners from Texas Western are going to Brigham Young today. . . Rain, of all things, caused football postponements last night. . . Dimmitt showed crushing power in beating Amherst last night, a team that was supposed to have one of its better teams. . . Polk Robison and Tipp Mooney are scouting Texas Aggies tomorrow night. . . . Our condolences to the Lamesa Loboes, who tried so hard and came so close. They deserved a better fate. . . . The Avalanche-Journal softball team will play in Lockney Tuesday night. . . . Center Jimmy Williams, freshman, probably will be lost for the season. His knee injury Wednesday resulted in torn cartilage in the left knee. He was all-state Class A last year at Phillips.

SWC Gridders Are Favored

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The spirit of Aggieland rides with the speed and the dash and fire of college football's youngest team tomorrow night. It's a game they just gotta win.

Texas A. and M. meets mighty Villanova in the headliner of the Southwest conference season openers.

Aggies Seek Win

The four other conference members will be interested onlookers only. Not until next week do they hit the competitive trail.

A. and M., which hasn't beaten anybody since the middle of the 1947 season, is an ideal spot to do it tomorrow night at College Station.

Villannova apparently is looking upon this game as something of a breather.

Coach Harry Stiteler will come out with one of the most talented classes of sophs A. and M. has known. It features Glenn Lippmann, a young man who runs like a rabbit and twice as elusively.

Chances are that the touchdowns will pile up in this game due to draw more than 20,000 fans.

T. C. U. Is Favored

In the two other games being played by conference teams, this circuit is expected to triumph.

Texas Christian will be a solid favorite over Kansas, whose coaches have been using the crying towel so much the fans are wondering why the Jayhawks wilfully go to the slaughter.

Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian, however, looks with considerable askance. He says it will be a bitter battle. Kansas is fed up with T. C. U. lickings and ties.

Texas Christian has what is considered its best team since the Sugar Bowl powerhouse of 1938 and it will take more than desire for Kansas to beat it.

Texas also is a heavy favorite to beat Texas Tech. The latter is coming up with what looks like the top team of the Border conference—a much stronger outfit than 1947 when Texas stomped the Red Raiders 33-0. Texas, on the other hand, does not stack up to the strength of 1948.

Longhorns Are Picked

It might be a close one.

Forgetting last season when the record of your correspondent in picking winners was smaller than a pitcher's batting average, we plunge merrily into the 1949 swim:

Saturday afternoon:

Texas vs Texas Tech at Austin (2 p. m.)—A good ball game but the Longhorns should win by three touchdowns.

Texas Christian vs Kansas at Lawrence, Kans. (2 p. m.)—The Horned Frogs have the guns to fashion a decisive victory. We'll take Texas Christian by about 27-7.

Saturday night:

Texas A. and M. vs Villanova at College Station (8 p. m.) — We're picking Texas A. and M. by a touchdown. Go ahead and laugh but don't let that grin freeze on your face bud.

Turkey is now working on an 18,000-mile road-building program aided by American capital, know-how and machinery.

Dimmitt Tops Amherst Team

Two South Plains high school football teams turned in victories last night on a schedule shortened by steady rains during the day that made most football fields a soggy mess.

Dimmit's Bobcats, one of the top powers in District 3-B, surprised victors over Sudan of District 4-A last week, continued its impressive march with a 38-0 victory over Amherst at Dimmitt.

Whiteface's improving District 4-B eleven sloshed out a 12-0 victory over Levelland B on a muddy field at Whiteface. The victory evened the Antelope record at one victory and one defeat.

Hodges Scores Twice

Amherst never could get started against the Bobcats. They held the ball for only six plays in the first half, but managed to check the Dimmitt eleven on all but two touchdown drives in that period. Bobcat power asserted itself in the second half when a single score in the third stanza was followed by 20 points in the concluding quarter.

Billy Hodges scored two touchdown, Everett Wilkinson scored three and Gene Easley scored once, with Hodges plunging for two extra points. Quarterback Douglas Dennis' pass to Hodges accounted for the final score.

Haskins Goes Over

Dimmitt held the upper hand throughout the game and Amherst never got started. A crowd of 1,100 fans watched the game.

Whiteface marched 60 yards early in the first quarter to score against Levelland B, with End Edwin Haskins going over from 10 yards out to climax the first touchdown drive.

Midway through the final stanza, Quarterback John Plunkett climaxed a 70-yard march with a two-yard plunge for the last tally.

Whiteface rolled up 172 net yards rushing to 60 for Levelland B and had eight first downs to two for Levelland.

Lubbock's Pioneers and Frenship were rained out at Chapman Field and the game was re-scheduled for Saturday night at 7:30 at the same location. Tickets at the gate will be sold for 25 and 50 cents.

Lamesa Players Are Recalled By Dallas

DALLAS, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Dallas Eagles of the Texas league have recalled eight players from leagues of lower classification, General Manager Bobby Goff said yesterday.

Pitcher Bob Upton and Infielder Glen Selbo have been with Lamesa of the Class C West Texas-New Mexico league; Outfielders Ken Smith and Vernon Washington, Infielder Dutch Meyer, Catcher Fred Parnell, and Pitcher Max Molberg with Gladewater in the East Texas league, and Charles Watts, shortstop, with Chickasha, Okla., in the Sooner State league.

Ivy Noren Is Winner Of Award On Coast

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—Hollywood Centerfielder Irv Noren, last year a member of the Texas league's Fort Worth Cats, today had won his second "player of the year" award in as many seasons.

Noren was named last night as the Pacific coast league's most valuable player of 1949.

The Brooklyn Dodger property is an defensive artist, but also wields a potent bat. He is currently hitting .323 and has 119 runs batted in.

Raider Squad Leaves

Four Players Are Injured

Texas Tech's football squad left the athletic dormitory by TNM & O bus this morning at 7:30 for Austin, where tomorrow afternoon at 2 the Red Raiders will oppose the Texas university Longhorns in the opening game of the state university's schedule.

Coach Dell Morgan, far from happy over the showing in limited practice of the Raiders this week, cut his original traveling squad from 42 men to 38. Injuries and poor showings in practice by some players caused him to make the slice. He said that only players who could help the Raiders would be taken.

Remaining behind because of injuries will be J. W. Thompson and Herman Bailey, fullback and halfback respectively, and John Andrews and Rex Pinson, tackles.

Pinson and Thompson both underwent minor operations this week, but are expected to join the squad in time to work out for the Texas A & M game. Andrews still is bothered with a deep bruise of the right shoulder and Bailey injured a leg this week.

Yesterday's final practice session was most unsatisfactory. Rain drove the squad under the grandstands at Jones stadium, where the Raiders were exposed to Texas plays. But the limited room in which to maneuver caused much of the effectiveness to be lost. Defensively, the Raiders fell into various Longhorn traps and the coaches weren't happy over Raider showings.

Practice Unimpressive

In fact, practice this week hasn't been impressive, even though the Raiders have had only one decent workout. They went through a long offensive drill Monday. Rain and cold Tuesday forced them under the stands for more offensive work, when Morgan wanted a stiff scrimmage. Wednesday the squad did scrimmage, but the freshmen made the varsity look bad. And yesterday's weather also hurt.

Coach Morgan has expressed complete dissatisfaction with the Raiders this week. They have failed to block well and both backs and linemen have been missing their assignments, as well as forgetting them. Most of the time the Raiders have seemed to be thinking of the game lightly, not a healthy condition.

The Game Roster

Centers: Bobby Williams, J. B. Mahler, Aubrey Phillips, Robert Hix.

Guards: Dan Pursel, Don Williams, Milburn Haydon, Robert Garner, Don Anthony, Walt Edrington, Dick Cavazos, Bill Stallings.

Tackles: Jerrell Price, Marshall Gettys, Doug McCwane, John Tom Baker, Bill Glidewell, Bobby Broyles, Jack Cockburn.

Quarterbacks: Ernest Hawkins, Milton Rathbone, Bill Lyman, Albert Salem.

Right halfbacks: Tim Hatch, Bill Barbee, Bobby Close, Eural Ramsey.

Fullbacks: Bud Conley, Earl Jackson.

NEW YORK MANAGER ASSAILED

Cleveland Blasts Yankees, 10 To 6

BY JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The "Second Guessers Society," kept conspicuously quiet this year by the sound baseball tactics of Casey Stengel, has finally come to life.

The members of the S. G. S. are pointing their fingers at the veteran manager of the New York Yankees, accusing him of pulling a couple of "rocks" yesterday that cost the Bronx Bombers an important game.

How much more those "lapses" will cost the Yankees will not be determined until the season's close. But yesterday they helped the Cleveland Indians to defeat the Yankees, 10-6, which cut the New Yorkers' first place margin over Boston to two and a half games.

Stengel's critics admit that he's done a remarkable job this year.

Stengel At Fault

However, they point out that Stengel was as much at fault in yesterday's loss to the Indians as Pitcher Allie Reynolds or the four players who committed five errors which gave Cleveland five unearned runs.

The S. G. S. is asking why Stengel ordered Reynolds to issue an intentional pass to Larry Doby in the eighth inning, thus forcing Allie to face the ever-dangerous Joe Gordon with a runner in scoring position? And why didn't Casey yank Reynolds during that hectic eighth when the Tribe slammed him for four straight hits and five runs after two were out?

Here is what happened in the fatal eighth. The score was 3-2 in Cleveland's favor. Reynolds walked Dale Mitchell to open the inning. Lou Boudreau sacrificed but Mickey Vernon flied out for the second out. At this point, Stengel ordered Reynolds to walk Doby for Gordon. Larry had homered in the sixth to snap a 2-2 deadlock.

Gordon Gets Double

Gordon, an ex-Yankee, promptly doubled to left, scoring Mitchell and sending Doby to third. Bob Kennedy singled to score two more. Thurman Tucker followed with another one-bagger, but Stengel gave no sign to his bull pen brigade. Jim Hegan accounted for another run with the fourth straight Cleveland safety. When Outfielder Gene Woodling fumbled the ball, Tucker scampered across the plate with the fifth run of the inning.

Trailing, 8-2, and apparently out of the running, the Yankees pounced upon Bob Lemon for four runs in their half of the eighth to get back into the ball game. A walk, single, and home runs by Cliff Mapes and Yogi Berra made it 8-6. Al Benton relieved Lemon at this point and stemmed the Yankees the rest of the way. The Indians added two insurance runs in the ninth to make Lemon the third 20-game winner in the majors. The others are Mel Parnell and Ellis Kinder of the Red Sox.

Sox Spirits Raised

The Yankee defeat probably raised the spirits of Joe McCarthy's Red Sox, who now trail by four games in the important "lost" column. The Yankees have 16 games left to play, and the Red Sox only 13. The league leaders will be at home in 12 of them, while Boston has only seven home engagements.

The Indians, practically out of it — they trail by six and a half games, seven on the losing side—face a tough fight to hold third place. Yesterday's triumph put them a half game in front of the Detroit Tigers, who along with every other club, was idle. In fact, the Yanks-Indians tussle represented the only activity in the majors.

Semi-Final Round In Golf Tourney Opens

ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 16 (AP)—The youngest girl ever to reach the semi-final round and three veterans named Dorothy Cross clubs today in the U. S. women's amateur golf championship.

Fifteen-year-old Marlene Bauer of Los Angeles, is the "rookie." The three Dorothy's are Dot Kirby, Atlanta, Ga.; Dot Kielty, Long Beach, Calif.; and Mrs. Dot Germain Porter, Manoa, Pa.

Miss Kirby defeated Mrs. John L. Hulteng of Rumford, R. I., one up on the 19th hole. Hard-playing Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., bowed to Miss Kielty also on the 19th hole.

Miss Bauer had a comparatively easy time with Betty Mackinnon, Texarkana, Ark., winning 4 and 2. The widest margin of victory was turned in by Mrs. Porter. She ousted Janet Brown, 19-year-old Philadelphian, 7 and 6.

Lubbock Westerners Battle Childress Bobcats Here Tonight

Hub City Schoolboy Gridders Favored In '49 Opening Game

Lubbock power will be tested by Childress finesse tonight at 8 o'clock in Jones Stadium, when the Westerners open their 1949 football schedule before a crowd that is expected to number 10,000 fans.

Coach C. R. Pattison's untried squad takes on District 2-AA'sequally green Bobcat eleven in a non-conference game that is expected to produce offensive fireworks by both squads. Lubbock has been installed as the favorite on the basis of pre-season predictions and 13 returning lettermen.

Childress, without the passing of T. Jones, their great quarterback of last year, is said to be weaker. They have six lettermen returning in the line, but un-lettered backfield men. Lubbock has a re-built line, but 13 lettermen to fill in the gaps.

Tickets for the contest may be bought until 5 p. m. at the athletic office at Lubbock High school, and students of Carroll Thompson Junior High school may pick up student tickets at Logan's, across the street from the high school, from 1 to 4 p. m. today. No student tickets will be sold at the gate. Reserved seats are $1.50.

Unless a hot, clear day is in prospect today, with an accompanying wind, the field at Jones stadium is expected to be soggy and wet from rains that have soaked the entire area for the past few days.

Both coaches were hoping for a dry field in order to better display their team in the opener of the season.

Last year Lubbock and Childress met in a very exciting game, with the Westerners defeating the Bobcats, 21-14, although T. Jones, Childress quarterback, nearly took over for the Bobcats, completing 11 of 14 passes for 169 yards and two touchdowns. The graduating of Jones left a large hole in the Childress offense.

'Glad When It's Over'

Childress, last season, was an underdog in the game with Lubbock, and Coach Pattison said late Thursday that he "respected the Bobcats and their coach, Don Ezell."

In referring to the game, Coach Pattison commented, "I'll be glad when it's over. You never know what will happen in the first game of the season."

Leading the Westerner attack will be Quarterback Bobby Brown, who last year was one of the mainstays of the Lubbock backfield. Being the man under the T, he will not run with the ball in all probability, but he is a fine ball-handler and play director.

Three speed merchants will carry the load of moving the ball downfield. At left halfback is Wayne Stroud, flashy broken field runner, and opposite him is Charlie Williams, top sprinter on the track team the past year, and a seasoned veteran. Completing the backfield setup is Malcolm Young, a hard-running fullback.

Two lettermen will be at the ends, Garnet Reeves at the left terminal and Billy Wright at right end. Douglas Ross, who earned a letter last year at fullback, will be at right tackle, and Joe Brock, will start at the left tackle post. Ross and Brock will serve as co-captains tonight. At guards are Sammy Modral, heavyweight on the squad at 225 pounds, and Freddie Gray. And Douglas Wienke will be the starting center.

The Lubbock backfield will average 157 pounds going into the game, and the linemen will tip the scale at an average of 187 pounds.

The Childress line will average 170 pounds per man and the backfield 150.

At end will be Kenneth Bearden and Harold Wright, Bearden a letterman and Wright a squadman last fall. Sid Holland, another letterman in the line, plugs left guard, and Granville King will be starting at right guard.

Starting at left tackle will be Earl Smith, and Kirby Galbraith will be at the other tackle post. Galbraith is the heaviest man on the squad, weighing 190. Center will be Jack Owens.

Joe Powell, lanky 160-pounder has been handling the Bobcat passing, and he will be assisted at left halfback by Kenneth Buckley, with John Baker at the other halfback position. A sophomore, George Crews, is the starting fullback.

Childress can be expected to use a wide-open style of attack, weather permitting, with lots of spread formations from the T-formation and single wing, double and triple wingback formations. Passes will be seen often unless the ball is too slippery.

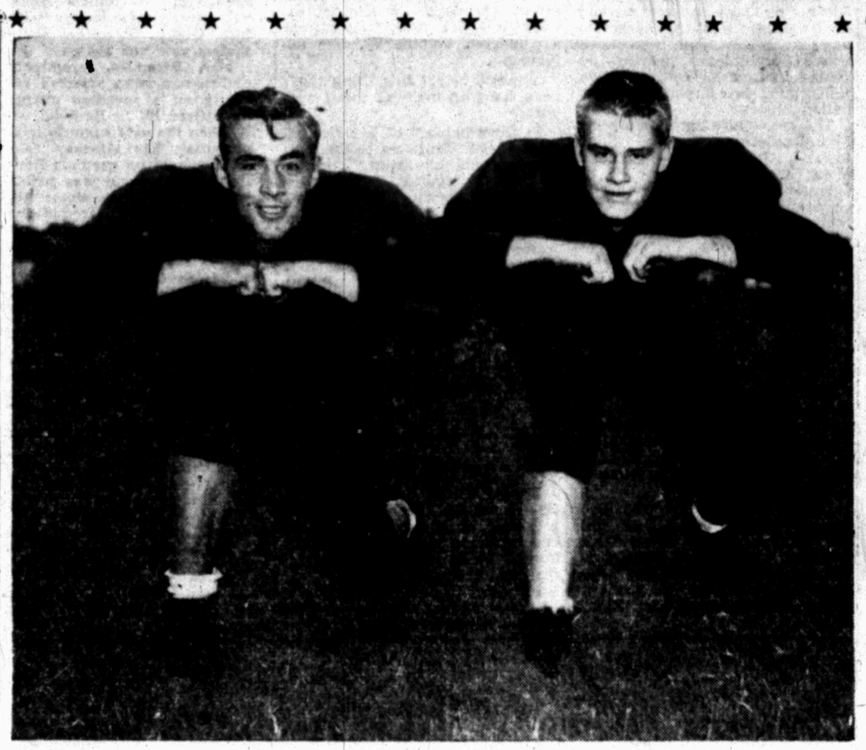

The Westerners will use a straight T-formation attack, with the accent on power and deception.

Five amateurs have won the U. S. Open championship, with Bobby Jones taking it four times.

Victoria Cops 21 To 13 Win

(By The Associated Press)

Texas junior colleges opened their 1949 football season last night and a couple of stars came out of the five game schedule.

Leroy Key scored all of Victoria junior college's touchdowns in a 21-13 victory over Schreiner Institute and Bobby Cavacos crossed the goal line three times in John Tarleton's 34-0 conquest of Clifton.

San Angelo and Cisco sloshed to a scoreless tie; Kilgore beat Navarro, 19-7, and Hillsboro downed East Texas State's "B" team, 19-6 in other games.

Key's touchdowns came on runs of 32, nine and 67 yards.

Cavacos tallied on 17, ten, and one yard jaunts.

Marvin Brown returned a punt 56 yards for another Tarleton touchdown and Dale Witcher scampered 80 yards for another.

Lloyd Kelley and Don Richardson counted for Schreiner.

Joe Young, Henry Pratka and Warren Ramsey scored for Kilgore; Bill Reed for Navarro.

WT-NM League Sets Attendance Record

DALLAS, Sept. 16 (U.P.) — The West Texas-New Mexico Class C league set a new attendance record during the season just closed with 674,485 paid visitors to the eight league parks, league President Milton Price disclosed today.

Although four of the clubs drew fewer patrons than last year, two of those showing gains had such large increases that they more than offset the other losses.

Three of the clubs—Abilene, Borger and Lamesa—set new club records while the fourth gainer—Amarillo—came within less than 5,000 of breaking its park record.

Abilene showed the largest increases over 1948, 49,561, by luring 100,609 to Blue Sox games, while Lamesa was not far behind in total gain with a 42,264 increase to a 76,627 total. Borger drew 74,999, a jump of 2,500, while Amarillo's 111,487 topped the league and was an increase of 9,174.

Clovis showed the smallest loss, losing 1,039 to 47,697; Lubbock was next with a drop of 4,590 to que's loss of 9,019 to 107,911 and Pampa's drop of 14,397 to 57,280.

The previous league high was 658,796 set in 1946.

Progressive Party Plans '50 Campaign

CLEVELAND, Sept. 16 (AP) — Leaders in the Progressive party came here today to map campaign plans for next year.

The group's national committee arranged to make final preparations for the party's annual convention in Chicago in November.

Main speakers tomorrow will be Henry A. Wallace, former Progressive party candidate for president, and Rep. Vito Marcantonio (APL-NY).

Landrum Hurls Cats To Win Over Sports

(By The United Press)

Fort Worth's Cats stretched their semi-final playoff lead over the Shreveport Sports to two games today, thanks to Joe Landrum.

Landrum, outstanding pitcher in the Texas league this year, pitched the Cats' to a two-hit, 3-0, victory over the visiting Sports at La-Grave field last night.

Fort Worth took the opener of the series, 8-1, Wednesday night. Bill Sarni's double and Les Burge's single were the only safties the Sports got off Landrum, who won 19 games during the regular season. He fanned six.

Howie Auman pitched for Shreveport and yielded nine hits.

Oklahoma City's second playoff game with Tulsa was postponed because of rain. Oklahoma City has a one-game lead over the Oilers.

Highland Park Gets Triumph

(By The Associated Press)

Class AA and City conference champions last year show what they have for 1949 tonight in a heavy schedule of schoolboy football games.

Arlington Heights of Fort Worth, defending city conference champion, tackles a rugged Abilene eleven.

Waco, Class AA titlist, meets the potent Austin Maroons.

There were a few games last night, one of the best being Milby of Houston's wild 31-28 victory over Pasadena.

Highland Park Wins

Weatherford blanked Amon Carter-Riverside of Fort Worth, 18-0; Highland Park (Dallas) beat Adamson of Dallas, 6-0; Lanier and Central Catholic, two San Antonio teams, tied, 6-6; Burbank of San Antonio walloped another Alamo city club, Texas Military Institute, 3-0, and Bowie of El Paso brushed off Cathedral of El Paso, 13-7.

Three intersectional games are on the week-end schedule, plus some tilts that will be watched with more than passing interest.

Lubbock Meets Childress

Wichita Falls, always a strong contender for the Class AA crown, opens play against a tough Denison team.

Lubbock, touted as one of the top West Texas teams, meets Childress.

Powerful Pampa meets Graham; Texarkana tangles with Lamar of Houston; San Antonio Tech plays Kerrville; Longview entertains Jacksonville, and Harlingen takes on Kingsville.

Intersectional games match Captol Hill (Oklahoma City) and Borger; Altus, Okla., and Vernon, and Port Arthur and Fortier of New Orleans.

Longhorn Playoff Tilts Rained Out

(By The Associated Press)

The weather is playing hob with the Longhorn league's Shaughnessy playoffs.

Both games were rained out last night and only one game has been played in two first round series.

Midland holds a one-to-nothing edge over Vernon.

Weather permitting, San Angelo and Big Spring will play at Big Spring tonight.

Vernon is scheduled at Midland.

The schedule called for the playoff to open Tuesday.

Waco Defeats Bears, 7 To 0

(By The Associated Press)

Texarkana and Waco switch to Waco tonight for the third game of the Big State league's Shaughnessy playoff and it will be a triumphant return for Waco.

The Pirates blanked Texarkana, 7-0, last night for their second straight victory over the Bears.

Cal Hogue and Jodie Howington set Texarkana down with three hits as Waco—fourth place club in the regular season standings—broke a scoreless tie in the fifth inning and then proceded to score almost at will.

The next three games in the best four out of seven series will be at Waco, if they are needed. Should the sixth and seventh tilts be needed they will be played at Texarkana.

Hogue tripled Manager Buddy Hancken home with the first Pirate run.

In a three-run sixth frame, Dixie Upright scored on Frank Gibbs' double, Johnny McKeown came home on a passed ball and Gibbs tallied on Bob Kramolisch's low throw to first.

Hal Haddican tallied in the seventh on Kramolisch's error and two runs in the ninth ended the Waco scoring. Singles by Howington and Skip Baas, a walk to Haddican and Clarence Pfeil's double accounted for them.

Stunned Yankees Mourn Death Of Ernie Bonham In Hospital

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 — The Yankees couldn't believe it.

The dressing room was a tableau of stunned amazement when the word came that Ernie Bonham was dead.

The big, easy-going guy they facetiously called "Tiny" had been gone from the dressing room for three years, traded off to the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1946. But when you spend your best seven years with the Yankees—you're always a Yankee.

Their shocked faces showed it; that, and the faraway stares they directed to the corner locker where he used to dress.

Was "Great Yankee"

They found it hard to believe because Tiny was only 36, and, while he had the usual quota of aches and pains which are occupational hazards in baseball, he was a husky, healthy guy. The word for Tiny was "hearty."

But now the mild-mannered giant was dead in a Pittsburgh hospital of complications following an appendectomy.

"He was a great Yankee," Frankie Crosetti said softly.

Rawboned Bill Dickey, who left the club the same time as Bonham but came back as a coach, was eight years in the past reliving for a moment the 1941 World Series history he and Bonham had written as batterymates.

"There never was a better pitched ball game," Dickey muttered of that fifth and final game in which Tiny flattened the Dodgers with four hits.

Catcher Nearly Wrong

Big Bill undoubtedly felt it most of all. For he almost called the turn wrong on Bonham when the 215-pound Californian joined the club in 1940. It was Dickey's decision, after Bonham's first game that Tiny "didn't have it." But when Ernie defeated the then brilliant Bob Feller with the best control Dickey ever had seen, the square-cut catcher and the pudgy pitcher became fast friends—and Dickey was his chief rooter.

Plagued by a recurring back injury, Bonham arrived late. As a high school boy, he wasn't even interested in baseball. Football was his dish. But the school principal made him go out for baseball and the game soon put on unshakeable hold on the six-foot, two-inch youngster with the sneaky fast ball.

And Tiny set his heart on being a Yankee as he milked cows and plowed on his father's farm, then worked on the Oakland docks and in a lumber camp—meanwhile pitching in semi-pro baseball.

Finally the bid came from the Yankees and he worked his way up through the farm system four years. Then, starting in 1940, came those seven years with the Yankees.

One Big Year

Tiny had only one real big year, 1942 when he won 21 games and lost only five. But he pitched in three World Series—and had his big moment as he clinched the 1941 World Series for the club with Dickey behind the mask.

They left the Yankees together in 1947, Bonham going to Pittsburgh and Dickey to Little Rock for a manager's berth. Big Bill made it back but Tiny never did—and never will.

Yet Tiny was having a winning season, with seven wins against four defeats, when he complained of abdominal pains on the last Pirate road trip. And his blue eyes were placid when he went to the hospital last week, certain that soon he would be back in harness. Then came those fatal complications.

So the Pirates are wearing black bands on their sleeves today.

But the Yankees are wearing them on their hearts. For the big fellow they called Tiny is another Yankee who never again will be seen in the stadium.

The largest crowd ever to witness a World Series game was the 86,288 at the fifth game of the Cleveland-Boston 1948 series.

California Grandmother Jailed On Charges Of Child Stealing

FRESNO, Cal., Sept. 16 (INS) A 50-year old grandmother surrendered on child stealing charges today and in whirlwind legal moves waived preliminary hearing, appeared in superior court and was jailed until Oct. 3, pending a probation report.

The gray-haired grandmother is Mrs. Katherine King of Santa Monica, Cal., who was accused along with her daughter of the "plane-naping" of her four grandchildren from nearby Coalinga and taking them to New York last December.

The incident resulted in a lengthy transcontinental custody battle between Zoel Lynch, Coalinga auto salesman, and his former wife and mother of the four children, Mrs. Marianne Lynch Teitelbaum of New York.

Won Back Custody

The children were spirited away from their father's home and bundled into a waiting chartered plane. A nationwide search for the children ended several days later at their mother's home in New York.

Lynch subsequently won back custody of the children—3 girls and a boy ranging in age from 6 to 12. The Fresno district attorney's office meantime filed child stealing warrants for both the grandmother and Mrs. Tietelbaum.

Mrs. King, cheerful and composed, surprised the district attorney's office today when she surrendered voluntarily. She explained:

"I want to get this thing that's been hanging over my head over with."

In the company of her two attorneys she was taken to Coalinga justice court by deputy attorney Herbert Harrington and waived preliminary hearing.

She was then rushed back to Fresno to appear before Superior Judbe Arthur Shepard, who ordered her referred to the custody of the sheriff without bail pending the probation officer's report on Oct. 3.

The child stealing charges against Mrs. Tietelbaum are still outstanding and technically the mother could be arrested at any time.

Retired Businessman Is Reported Missing

LAFAYETTE, Calif., Sept. 16. (AP)—Frank M. Steers, 73, retired president of Magnavo Corp., has been missing since Tuesday, the Contra Costa county sheriff's office said today.

Inspector Norman Wilson said Steers was last seen by friends leaving his home. He said Steers might have suffered a memory lapse.

Police Seeing Red Over Speed Ticket

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., Sept. 16. (AP)—Police—while not exactly eye to eye with Mrs. Gladys Stramler—nonetheless saw red today.

Mrs. Stramler, prominent clubwoman, was arrested recenily on a speeding charge by officer H. L. Benfield.

When the case came to trial yesterday her attorney asked dismissal on grounds Benfield's motorcycle was painted red. The state motor vehicle department, argued the lawyer, specifies black and white as the distinctive color for law enforcement motorcycles in California.

The judge gave the city attorney 48 hours to answer Mrs. Stramler's contention.

VISITING NEWSMEN ARE GUESTS

Vandenberg Urges More Self Help For Western Europeans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) called on western Europe nations for more self help and closer cooperationamong themselves.

"There are definite limits to the American resources which we can safely invest in foreign aid," the Republican foreign policy leader said.

"Recognition of this fact is as important to you as it is to us because our unweakened strength is a common asset for us all. These limits must not and will not be overreached."

Task Just Begun

Vandenberg spoke at a dinner of the Overseas, Writers club for 50 visiting newspapermen from 14 European countries. It probably was his last major public speech before entering a hospital.

He plans to remain in Washington only until the Senate has acted upon the foreign arms aid program. Then he will undergo a physical checkup which, physicians have advised, may lead to a major operation.

Vandenberg, who is ranking GOP member of the Senate foreign relations committee, expressed "calculated confidence" that the west is winning the "cold war."

But, he cautioned his European listeners, the task is only "just begun" and "there are critically vital things which rest exclusively in your hands."

Consistent Stands Cited

He recalled the Senate ratification of the United Nations charter by an 89-2 vote; ratification of the Inter-American Rio treaty, 72-1; the initial Marshal plan, 69-17; the Senate resolution paving the way for the North Atlantic treaty, 64-5; and the North Atlantic treaty, 82-13.

He also pointed out the 20-3 vote by which the combined Senate foreign relations and armed services committees recently approved the global arms bill.

"There is powerful consistency in these attitudes," he said. "They are basic attitudes."

The majorities in these votes, Vandenberg said, assert "our relentless purpose to stop another war before it starts and to avoid appeasements which, as I have said before, are but surrender on the installment plan.

Mutual Aid Stressed

"I believe they asserted—and still assert—our disposition to render rational, economic and within our prudent power, not as a matter of charity but as a matter of intelligent self-interest. . ."

But, he added, "our partnership is based upon self-help and mutual aid. That requires the earliest possible self-sufficiency within each of your magnificent nations by your own courageously effective work and efforts.

"It inevitably means that swiftest, maximum gearing of all these western European efforts, each with the other, on your own enlightened initiative.

"The intensified achievement of these indispensable results necessarily is in your hands. We give you every encouragement; and, believe me, my friends, your self help success is our most fervent prayer for you."

Pennsylvania's Cows Setting Milk Record

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania's cows are holding up their production end but the state's chickens seem to be laying down on the job.

State agriculture department officials said today they look for a new milk record to be set this year with 3,962,000 pounds produced in the first eight months against 3,782,000,000 in the same period of 1948.

On the other hand, egg production in August was off 11 million from last year's figure of 210,000,000 for the month.

The United States post office department has more than 97,000 mailmen.

Called Most Significant Development In Last 75 Years

New Machine With Electric Brain And Photo Heart Developed To Revolutionize Printing

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

BOSTON, Sept. 16—A new machine with an electric brain and a flashing photo heart promises to chop down the cost of printing the newspapers, books and magazines you read.

It sets type clearly, accurately and quickly on film, without using any metal. Anyone who can type can run it, for it has a standard typewriter keyboard. Whatever you type comes out with perfectly-spaced margins, arranged by the electric brain or memory.

Each letter is projected onto film through a photo-electric gun, pulsing like a heart to record just what you've written. You push buttons to get whatever style of type you want, or whatever size from headline to small print at any moment. You can see your whole line of words and correct any errors before you push the button to photograph it.

Leading publishers and scientists unveiled the new machine yesterday and called it the most significant advance in the art of printing in 75 years.

It promises to bring huge savings in the cost of printing, and make possible printing of more newspapers, books, magazines, and scientific journals, they said.

One Model Produced

Present linotype machines set type from molten metal, and have a top speed of about seven or eight newspaper column lines a minute.

This machine sets 12 lines a minute, by photographing six letters a second. It could set 20 a minute, if anyone could type that fast. It saves through faster production, and can bring other savings by avoiding some stages of printing with metal type.

The strips or rolls of films that come from the machine have to be reproduced on metal. This can be done by making offset plates, or photo-engravings for regular printing methods. And scientists predicted ways will be found to make up new kinds of photo-engravings cheaply and in perhaps a few minutes time.

The machine is the result of cooperative work of two French inventors, Rene A. Higonnet and Louis Moyroud, the Lithomat corporation of Cambridge, and Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie institution of Washington, and his associates.

As yet the photo-composing machine has no official name. One working model has been made. The finished machines will look like a big stenographer desk. They may be ready in 18 months. Costs are not yet known.

Lowers Printing Costs

The machine is the first project of the newly-formed Graphic Arts Research Foundation, Inc., supported by 139 leading concerns to promote research toward new and better processes in printing and the graphic arts.

On the board of directors are Dr. Bush, Dr. Samuel H. Caldwell, director of the center of analysis, Masachusetts Institute of Technology; Robert Choate, publisher of the Boston Herald-Traveler Corp.; William W. Garth, jr., president of the Lithomat corp., and Henry Laughlin, president of Houghton Mifflin Co.

Dr. Bush declared many present methods of printing are obsolete, and that changes will come fast in this field. Movable type may be on the way out, he said, and "someday we may do printing without any metal at all."

Scientific research is hampered now by the high costs of printing reports on discoveries, so that news of them doesn't spread as it should, he said. The new machine can help overcome this bottleneck, he added.

It's even possible, Dr. Bush said, that someday news stories may be sent out over wires to newspapers and be received in type in their offices in the style and size of type that each individual one wants.

Wet Weather In September Normal

Farmers who are worrying about the stretch of wet weather this month should not fret so much, Don L. Jones, superintendent of the Texas Experiment station east of town, said Thursday.

September is one of the wettest months of the year in the station's 38-year history of keeping weather records, Jones pointed out.

He pointed to the station's records which showed September's mean rainfall of 2.90 inches was the highest for any month in the 38-year history. Next wettest month is May, with an average of 2.54 inches.

Station records show that rainfall during September has ranged from .01 of an inch in 1939 to 13.93 inches in 1936 and there are a number of years in which rainfall during the month has exceeded five inches.

Rainfall records for September since 1911 are as follows: 1911, 1.33; 1912, .73; 1913, 4.19; 1914, .46; 1915, 7.86; 1916, 2.79; 1917, 3.03; 1918, .79; 1919, 5.70; 1920, 1.63; 1921, 4.50; 1922, .17; 1923, 2.67; 1924, 1.25; 1925, 9.44; 1926, 4.15; 1927, 1.16; 1928, .08; 1929, 1.36; 1930, .11; 1931, .72; 1932, 3.41; 1933, .71; 1934, 1.86; 1935, 3.02; 1936, 13.93; 1937, 3.85; 1938, .63; 1939, .01; 1940, .73; 1941, 4.47; 1942, 7.61; 1943, 1.16; 1944, 3.73; 1945, 2.22; 1946, 3.49; 1947, .08; 1948, 1.45.

Oldest Canada Paper Celebrates Birthday

QUEBEC, Que., Sept. 5 (U.P.) — The Quebec Chronicle Telegraph, oldest newspaper in Canada, will celebrate its 185th anniversary with a special edition and the official opening of an ultra-modern plant here.

Premier Maurice Duplessis will be on hand to throw the switch.

The C. T., as it is familiarly known here, is the city's only English-language newspaper, but it serves a large number of bilingual residents.

The first edition of the C. T. hit the street on June 21, 1764, five years after Wolfe defeated Montcalm on the Plains of Abraham.

Lamesa Police Seek To Identify Woman

LAMESA, Sept. 16 (Special) — The Lamesa city police are attempting to establish the identity of a woman, believed to be an amnesia victim, who arrived in Lamesa several days ago.

The woman, thought to be about 35 years of age, was described as having dark hair and blue eyes and about 5 feet 4 inches in height. She has been described as "very attractive."

How she arrived here is unknown. City police officers first saw her late last Friday on the outskirts of town on the Lubbock highway. She was picked up by Police Chief A. N. Randle Saturday morning. Randle said she was "almost starved" at the time.

The woman apparently does not remember her name or where she lives.

Edwin Engledow, editor of The Lamesa Daily Reporter, who talked with the woman, said she remembers the name "Lorraine Patterson," but does not know whether that is her name or an acquaintance's.

She also remembers some connection with a Catholic hospital somewhere, Engledow said, and that she was a nurse there and had worked in a children's polio ward. She said she had had a sore shoulder and stiff neck for several days but does not remember the cause. Engledow said she vaguely remembers having lived in Tulsa.

She was examined by Dr. J. V. McKay, Lamesa city health officer. At the time she was picked up here she carried few personal belongings and was dressed in heavy work clothing.

What's phosphorus to a pig?

Just a half a pound of your 250-lb. pig is phosphorus. This seems a small amount. But without it, your pig would die. And there are other minerals just as vital to livestock. Some they need in quite large amounts . . . calcium and sodium as well as phosphorus. Others we call trace elements. These they need in very small amounts . . . such as cobalt, iron, copper and manganese.

But your animals do need these trace elements. The people at the agricultural colleges have proved that past all doubt. Some minerals are a "must" if you want to raise healthy, fast-gaining cattle. That goes for lambs and hogs, too. For example, these men find that grass and grains in Dade County, Florida, are short of copper and iron. Clallam County, Washington, needs iodine to check goiter. They know that San Diego County, California, hasn't enough phosphorus. In Aroostook County, Maine, the scarce mineral is cobalt. Ranchers and farmers in these four corners of the country have this problem. Their feeds and forages are short of one or more vital minerals. Many other areas share the problem, including parts of the great Corn Belt.

But you ask, "How can I spot animals which suffer from mineral shortage?" It's not too easy. If the lack is serious, your stock may have rickets, "big neck," anemia or other ailments. But there are some early symptoms you can spot. These are bone chewing, loss of appetite, slow gains, rough and scrubby coats. Or just a general unthrifty condition gives you the clue. If you start feeding a mineral which contains the essential trace elements, you may bring them around fast. But if this doesn't work, then you should consult your veterinarian, county agent or agricultural college.

The common mineral deficiencies in your area are known. By feeding mineral-balanced rations, you can correct these lacks. Or you can build up the mineral content of the soil. Either, or both, of these will help you grow healthier livestock, at a lower cost.

William H. Burkitt

Supplemental Mineral for Wintering Range Ewes

by William H. Burkitt
Montana State College

Thirteen mineral elements are known to be necessary for normal functioning of an animal body. However, this does not mean that all 13 must be supplied in a mineral mixture. Many of them are present, under usual feeding conditions, in sufficient amounts for breeding ewes. Those lacking in Montana include sodium and chlorine (salt), iodine, phosphorus, and possibly cobalt.

Lack of sufficient iodine in the ration of pregnant ewes results in lambs being born with "big neck" (goiter). Thin wool in lambs may also result. If dead or weak lambs have shown "big neck" or thin wool at birth in past years, stabilized iodized salt should definitely be fed the ewes this winter.

Phosphorus deficiency may exist in wintering range ewes, particularly if there is little or no supplemental feeding. Abortions and weak lambs may result from deficient phosphorus. Pregnant ewes should have from 0.16% to 0.18% phosphorus in their feed. Many grass hays and mature range grasses contain less than 0.15% phosphorus and some contain as low as 0.04% phosphorus. Bone meal, defluorinated rock phosphates, and monosodium phosphate are satisfactory sources of phosphorus. Palatability and consumption may be improved by mixing with salt.

Cobalt is believed to be needed by microorganisms in the paunch. A lack results in loss of appetite, less feed consumption, and eventually starvation. A possible cobalt deficiency may be guarded against by mixing 1 ounce of cobalt salt with each 100 pounds of stock salt. Cobalt carbonate, chloride, or sulfate are all satisfactory. (Editor's note: The principles of nutrition discussed above apply to most kinds of livestock and in all parts of the country.)

Hello Again!

We are glad to be back with the Swift page of information and ideas. What did we do all summer? Well, among other things, we visited with farmers, ranchers, agricultural editors and educators. And we rounded up the facts we need to make these messages interesting and useful to you producers. As we said away back in 1944—"This is your page, and we welcome suggestions from our readers." We still do. Just write to me at Swift & Company, Chicago 9, Illinois . . . And when you're in Chicago, drop in and see us.

LET'S SUPPORT OUR "MEAT TEAM"—You know, times change—but some folks don't change with the times. I'm thinking of the type of man who always thinks that someone is getting the best of him in business. He sells a load of steers. No matter what his return, he's not satisfied—the packer, the commission man, the retailer—somebody else always gets a "bigger slice." But, during this past summer, I talked to a lot of people about the livestock-meat industry and our mutual problems. And I found a refreshing, encouraging attitude—"Sure, we got problems. Who hasn't these days? But if producer, packer and retailer work together as the 'meat team,' we'll work things out . . ." It's just good business to have a decent regard for the contributions made by other members of your team. I hope you have followed the "Meat Team" advertisements of the American Meat Institute and will talk to your neighbors about them.

FACT CONFIRMED—Out in the West, whenever I passed a town with a local meat-packing plant, I thought, "This town, out here where there is lots of livestock, is well served by that local plant. But what about the distant cities filled with meat eaters and no nearby livestock production to speak of?" I know for a fact that meat has to travel an average of more than 1,000 miles to reach those consumers. The only way they can get meat is through the low-cost processing and marketing services provided by nationwide meat packers, like Swift & Company.

F. M. Simpson.
Agricultural Research Dept.

MONEY and MEAT—In the fall months we run into an unusual situation in the livestock-meat packing industry. At that time we often see the year's high market for top finished beef cattle. And this top price usually is being paid when the average price for all cattle is moving in the opposite direction.

The high price is explained by the fact that during the fall we usually have the shortest supply of the year of well finished, long fed cattle. Brisk demand for this short supply naturally will force the price up.

The lower average price results from the annual move to market of huge numbers of grass-fed cattle.

About 20 per cent of all the cattle and lambs slaughtered during a whole year must be handled in September and October. Meat from these animals being slaughtered any given day generally is on the dinner table in less than 14 days.

Folks aren't likely to have any more money to spend on food during the fall months than in February, when fewer meat animals are being marketed.

Since beef and lamb is largely a fresh meat business, there's a lot of meat to eat during the fall months. Consequently, since consumers have no more money to spend, meat prices have to be lowered. And that's just what happens, as it usually does with an increased amount of meat to be sold and no increase in the amount of money with which to buy it. These lower meat prices are most noticeable, of course, in the large consuming centers where surplus supplies always can be moved at a price.

Naturally, then, livestock prices follow meat prices. Producers should keep in mind that the prices they receive for their livestock are governed by what the packer can get for the meat and the by-products. This is perfectly demonstrated, as we have pointed out above, when the price for one kind of cattle, in short supply, is moving up at the same time that prices of other cattle, in heavy supply, are moving down.

Children and grownups, too—here's another booklet in Swift's popular Elementary Science Series. Like the others in the series (on Soils, Plants, Meat Animals and Grass), "The Story of Poultry" (Booklet E) gives the answers to many interesting questions. Do you know—

Where the first chickens came from?
Which breed of poultry is native to America?
How the shell gets around an egg?

You'll find the answers to these and dozens of other questions in "The Story of Poultry." Lots of pictures—easy-to-read words. Write for your copy today and show this notice to your school teacher. Yes, there are free copies for every kid in your class, if requested by your teacher. If you'd like the other booklets in the series mentioned above, ask for them, too. They are all FREE! MATTHEWS CHANGES ASSIGNMENT

Navy Lowers Boom Gently On Critic Of Pentagon Policies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP) — The Navy has now lowered the boom, but somewhat gently, on its Captain John G. Crommelin.

Secretary Matthews, announcing that Crommelin's public and vigorous criticism of service unification "obviously disqualified" him for continuing to work for the high-level joint chiefs of staff, plucked him out of that job.

He was sent to duty with the Navy's air warfare division, which is an important cog in the Navy's operating organiation—but doesn't deal in high policy-making like the joint chiefs of staff.

Order Withdrawn

For a time yesterday it looked as though the aviator-captain would do even better than weather the storm which his protest against Pentagon treatment of the Navy stirred up last Saturday.

The word was passed to reporters during the morning that, yes, Crommelin was being transferred from his job in the joint chiefs group. But, reporters were told, he was going into a position just vacated by a rear admiral, director of naval aviation personnel.

Then sometime between morning and late afternoon Matthews presumably told whoever had arranged the new assignment for Crommelin to withdraw the order because he had other ideas about the captain's next assignment.

At a White House news conference, President Truman said he thought Matthews was handling the case capably and that it would remain in Matthews' hands.

This comment by the chief executive could explain the silence and apparent detachment with which Secretary of Defense Johnson has treated the problem. Johnson let it be known earlier in the week that his office was keeping hands off the case. That was unusual since Crommelin's statement was, in a measure, a challenge to the unity which Johnson has insisted upon.

Although Crommelin has been taken from his assignment with the JCS and sent to a less conspicuous spot, there is nothing to indicate that more than that has been done. There has been no mention of an official reprimand or letter of censure going into his record.

Air Force Aloof

Nor, so far, has there been any indication that the former skipper of the Carrier Saipan might be ordered to sea duty or banished to some remote naval station overseas or in the subarctic.

Indeed, Matthews in a statement on Wednesday said he "was not contemplating any disciplinary action at this time."

The Air Force, the original and still the priority target for Navy anger, retained, like Johnson, a carefully aloof manner.

This may be partly the result of direction. Almost as soon as Crommelin made his public blast the USAF headquarters here hustled out a memo to all its commanders.

It reminded them of the two-year-old standing order that Air Force personnel must refrain from expressing opinions about inter-service relationships. The Air Force didn't want any of its men sounding off about the Navy or its critical captains.

Institute Adding Bevin's Tooth To Prize Collection

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP) — The Armed Forces Institute of Pathology has another prized exhibit to go along with George Washington's false teeth.

The new item is an eye tooth extracted from the jaw of British Goreign Minister Bevin. It is unusual not for its source alone, but because it has two roots instead of the customary one. Bevin had a Washington dentist pull it last Thursday, after its aching had troubled him during financial talks here.

Heavily Guarded

And do the armed forces prize it?

Well, in order to get a picture of the new exhibit, Associated Press photographer Bill Chaplis had to go through channels that involved a guard at the institute, a sergeant-receptionist, an Army colonel, a general, a major, a Navy commander and the custodian of the footh, a lieutenant colonel.

Oh yes, the State department had to give clearance too.

Italian Aviator To Take Long Way Home

LAGENS, The Azores, Sept. 16 (AP) — Italian aviator Brondello Barrioglio is taking the long way home.

The weather from here to Lisbon (780 miles) is bad, so Barrioglio has decided to fly instead to New York (2000 miles) and return to Lisbon (2780 miles) by boat.

He will take off this morning.

Barrioglio abandoned an attempt to make the first non-stop east-west single-engine flight across the Atlantic last week when his fuel pump clogged.

PLEDGED TO CHRISTIAN PRINCIPLES

German Republic Shows Signs Of Strong Anti-Red Country

BONN, Germany, Sept. 16. (AP)—The west German republic today appears on the way to becoming one of the most strongly anti-communist powers in western Europe.

The leading parties are pledged to carry out Christian principles in government. Its strongest political group says its aim is to "stem the rising tide of materialism embodied in Russian communism."

The new government, headed by Dr. Konrad Adenauer, as chancellor, and President Theodor Heuss, is expected to be influenced by the fact that they are backed by millions of voters who are regular church-goers and who have seen communism at work in the eastern part of Germany, and oppose it.

Favor European Union

The coalition parties are dedicated to principles of freedom and liberty for the individual.

They favor an economy of free enterprise.

They stand for a federated western Europe and want Germany to be a member of such a union.

The party that leads the government coalition is the Christian Democratic union (CDU). Its policies will dominate all fields of government.

To solve the political, social and economic problems of a modern state, it advocates:

"In place of principles arising from materialism, the principles of Christian ethics must prevail.

"They must be dominant in the reconstruction of the state. . . they must prevail in the rights and duties of the individual for economic and social life, for our civilization and for the relations of nations with one another. The Christian weltanschaung (way to life) alone guarantees . . . a true and genuine democracy."

Limited Capitalism Policy

In its economic policy, the new government will oppose out-and-out socialism. It believes in free enterprise — but free enterprise that does not strangle the little man.

The CDU's attitude has been evolved largely from the "Christian socialism" of a German Bishop named Ketteler. The party states:

"The capitalistic economic system does not do justice to the vital interests of the German people. . . The new structure of German industry must be founded on the principle that the time of the unlimited mastery of private capitalism is gone. We must, however, prevent private capitalism ,from being replaced by state capitalism which is even more dangerous for the political and economic freedom of the individual."

This means that in large west German industries, public agencies as well as cooperatives, workers, councils may be expected to share in their management. Until the end of the war, these industries were monopolies.

Party Views Semilar

On the other hand, direct compulsion or forced planning in the west German economy will be avoided.

All the government coalition parties express views more or less similar.

The head of the second largest party in the coalition—the Free Democrats (FDF) — is President Heuss. He describes himself as an advocate of absolute free trade.

His party, although not so strongly church-supported as the CDU, declares that "churches are the most cultural elements in our national life." The FDP bitterly opposes communism.

The same is true of the German party, the third group in the government coalition. While the Christian Democrats are largely supported by Catholics, the German party draws Protestant support.

Even though the right-wing coalition holds only a slim majority, there is no danger of a breach in the anti-communist wall in west Germany.

The second largest party is the Social Democrats. And German social democracy long has been the arch foe of communism. Its leader, Dr. Kurt Schumacher, is classified by Moscow as an "enemy of the people."

One fact typifies the anti-communist strength of west Germany today—its parliament. Among 402 deputies, there are only 15 communists to raise their voices in favor of Russia.

Shirley May France To Try Swim In 1950

SOMERSET, Mass., Sept. 16. (AP)—Shirley May France is definitely going to try to swim the English channel again next June.

The 17-year-old Somerset high school girl who failed in her first try said the long training grind will begin early in 1950.

Her failure to negotiate the channel didn't dim the welcome she received upon her arrival from New York last night.

Three hundred townspeople greeted her. They included many of her classmates who swarmed around her as she stepped from a red convertible coupe.

"It's wonderful to be home," she said. "But I don't feel very well and am really looking forward to a good night's sleep."

A "monster" Shirley May France day is scheduled for Sept. 24. There will be a parade, football game, block dancing and a banquet.

High Prices Strong Deterrent To A Rush For British Stores

By L. R. BLANCHARD
Executive Editor, Gannett Newspapers

LONDON—Great Britain, at long last, ended her wartime clothes rationing.

But most persons were not so sure it would result in a wave of buying.

High prices are still a strong deterrent to any rush on the stores.

The Labor government's whole effort has been to hold down domestic consumption, to boost sales abroad.

The government would not worry about a slump in home consumption.

But if exports were to decline seriously, a whole, new economic program would have to be drafted.

Critics of the Labor government charge that the withdrawal of rationing always comes at election time.

If politics is involved, it must be effective. The Laborites haven't lost a "by-election" to Parliament yet.

Ration's End Creates Stir

End of the clothes ration created a stir in the London newspapers.

One, Lord Beaverbrook's independent Daily Express, long has opposed American loans, and argued for developing a self-sufficient British Empire.

Commenting on the end of clothes rationing. The Daily Express observed:

"If earlier relaxations prove anything, there will be no rush to buy. But coupon-free housewives now will be able to plan on renovations long overdue.

"There are Socialists who still fear that the end of rationing will mean that prices will go up. They are wrong. Prices will go down.

"For the end of rationing means that austerity has been overdone—that spending power no longer needs control by coupon.

"Keen buying by the housewife will lead to keener competition in shop and factory. And competition is still the only real guarantee of value-for-money."

Moviemakers And Exhibitors Have Multitude Of Problems

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 16.—You got problems? Listen to those of moviemakers and exhibitors.

Shooting on a picture starts. Then, producer Dore Schary told the convention of Theater Owners of America.

"There's weather. There's sickness, accidents, calamities of all kinds. There's the time the film isn't in the camera—the time the camera breaks down—the time the lights go out.

"There's the time the visitor trips over the cable—the time the makeup needs repairing or the hairdo falls off—or the strap on the evening dress slips a little too low. There's the business of looking at rushes and discovering that the scene that sounded so wonderful in the story conference doesn't play at all. Those are the dog days. You find you're wrong. You've got to go back, rewrite, and get it on the set again."

Can't Please Everybody

Then there are pressure groups. Schary said:

"We are constantly badgered by the people who are against drinking, for drinking, the people who are against smoking, the people who are for smoking . . . the morticians, architects, automobile manufacturers . . . the motel owners, the dog lovers of America, the people who are for short skirts. . .

"If we could manage to be everything to everybody, we would be releasing blank film with nothing but silence on the second track."

More than 500 theater owners and wives are going home or maybe sightseeing in Hollywood today after the four-day convention. Before they left, I buttonholed some around the Ambassador hotel to ask: "What's your biggest problem as an exhibitor?"

James Zartaludes, Sapulpa, Okla.:

"Shortage of pictures. We change program three times a week. Our population's 18,000—too small for us to run a picture a week or two."

Clarence H. Chidley, Caspter, Wyo.:

Exhibitors' Problems

"The excise tax (a 20 per cent federal levy on admissions). In a small town, it's just plain murder because of the low grosses. We'd gladly give the government our profit and keep the tax."

B. C. Johnson, Seattle:

"Bigger quantity as well as better quality of pictures."

Kemmons Wilson, Memphis:

"—And getting people into the theater," said his partner, Louie A. Weaver. "The tax is keeping them away." He said pictures are of better quality than ever but only 10 to 12 per cent do capacity business.

Keith Coleman, Mount Carmel, Ill.;

"We change our bill every day. We get enough pictures, but we have to buy darn near everything that's put on the market. Quality? Definitely down from pre-war standards. We break a record one day and set a new low the next."

Jim C. Shanklin, Ronceverte, W. Va.;

"I haven't any complaints."

Czechs Spread Red Movie Propoganda

PRAGUE, Sept. 5. (AP)—After an all-Czech jury awarded Russia most of the major prizes at an International Film Festival recently, these films were taken on tour throughout the country to be shown to workers' festivals.

They were represented—in the words of the Czech Communist partyorgan "Rude Pravo" (Red-Right)—as "Real+progressive art which shows up the bankruptcy, perversity and disgustingly cheap sentimentality of Holywood and other bourgeois productions.

Besides dispensing pro-Russian propaganda, the Czech government also collected some old rags, bottles and bones to aid its materials-short industry. Children were let in to see the pictures by contributing such salvage materials.

ILWU Rejects Hawaii Truce

HONOLULU, Sept. 16 (AP) — A new territorial government peace plan for Hawaii's 139-day dock strike foundered today on union rejection.

Gov. Ingram M. Stainback had proposed that the 2,000 striking dock workers go back on the job at a 14-cent hourly wage increase. Meanwhile, union and employers would negotiate a new two-year contract.

Fred T. Low, chairman of the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union strike committee, said "no" to that.

He said his committee would give "immediate and serious consideration," however, to any concrete proposal made by the seven struck stevedoring companies.

Strike-Breaking Scored

The union has accused Stainback of "strike-breaking" with territorial operation of the docks. Low said his committee couldn't consider any settlement which was "merely the governor's idea."

Stainback had said the plan was discussed with Henry Schmidt, ILWU leader. It was similar to one advanced by the CIO Marine Cooks and Stewards and the Independent Marine firemen.

Both these unions have supported the ILWU strike. But the firemen in San Francisco came out strongly yesterday for a quick settlement.

The firemen met in a special meeting approved a nine-point plan for ending the paralyzing walkout.

Islands Need Peace

As did Stainback's plan, the firemen called for striking dock workers to return to work for $1.54 an hour, 14 cents above the going wage. The territory would cease its dock operations as one condition.

President V. J. Malone in a letter to Stainback, the employers, and ILWU president Harry Bridges, also approved the two-year contract idea, saying "the islands need a long period of peace."

Malone's letter declared that the longshoremen's "splendid fight" did not "alter the fact jobs are being lost and disaster (is) overcoming many people who have no say in the outcome."

Korean Felons Are Cornered

SEOUL, Sept. 16 (AP)—A quick end was predicted today to a bloody prison break by 430 Korean communists and others, 260 of whom were listed as killed or captured. The rest were said to be trapped.

The mass break flared Wednesday near Mokpo prison, 200 miles south of Seoul. Guards were overpowered. At least five guards were killed and 10 were seriously wounded, police reported.

Most of the fugitives were communist guerrillas rounded up on Cheju island, off Korea's south coast.

Reds Hail Break

President Syngman Rhee of the South Korean republic predicted the last stragglers would be rounded up within 24 hours. He said all were hemmed in on Mokpo peninsula by police and soldiers.

The army, listing 260 of the prisoners as killed or captured, gave no breakdown. Previously it had said at least 95 of the prisoners were killed.

The communist radio in North Korea trumpeted the break, saying it was part of a campaign to overthrow Rhee's government.

NO WORK, NO EAT

CONCORD, N. H. (U.P.) — When Merrimack County ordered able-bodied persons on relief to go to work or to jail, 16 families went off the dole. Three men who refused to work drew 30-day jail sentences. The county was estimated to have saved over $10,000 in three months.

THE QUESTION

What will be some of the effects on South Plains Agriculture if farmers vote in favor of cotton quotas?

THE ANSWERS

JAMES TROUT, JR., Tokio, farmer: "I think it's a very good thing. It will benefit me as well as everyone else. I believe I will make more out of raising cotton. It will mean easier living for everybody."

CARTER CALDWELL, Slaton, farmer: "The main effect will be holding our prices up. If we don't vote for it, we will not have stable prices in cotton. It will also build soil up so that you can rotate your crops."

JOHN L. BOWLING, Hale Center, farmer: "It will mean better balanced farming and more and better soil conservation. This will in turn mean a higher standard of living for the farmer."

H. R. TANKERSLEY, Tahoka, farmer: "We will have a more balanced program for farmers. If turned loose, they will plant all cotton and as a result, go into debt. Quotas will be very beneficial for South Plains farmers."

LEONARD LAND, Brownfield, farmer: "We've got to vote for it. One reason is because of overproduction. If we don't, cotton will be fifteen cents or less. We almost have to have support prices."

W. J. CARTER, Brownfield, farmer: "A whole lot of them will vote against it. It would give them better prices, because there would be less cotton under quotas, if they don't turn around and do like they have in the past with quotas. I believe they have raised more under quotas in some cases than they have otherwise. Sometimes when it's that way, the effects are bad because there will be more cotton than there would be without quotas."

Modern Streamlined Train To Be Shown

DALLAS, Sept. 16 (INS) — A modern streamlined train will be one of the exhibits at the 1949 State Fair of Texas.

W. H. Hitzelberger, vice president and general manager of the fair, said that the Texas and Pacific Railway company will put the train on display.

For the railroad, the exhibit will mark a belated first anniversary of service for the Texas Eagle, only all-streamlined passenger train between Dallas and St. Louis.

The four cars to be open for inspection by visitors will be part of the new 49-car fleet purchased for $5,850,000 by the railroad for service on the Texas and Louisiana Eagles.

In the display will be a chair car, a bedroom-lounge car, a diner-lounge and an all-room sleeper, the type cars used in through service from Dallas to New York City.

On weekdays a 600 Texas type steam locomtive will be shown and on Sundays, a streamlined Diesel engine will be on display. The equipment is like that used on the T&P's El Paso to St. Louis runs.

Rites Set Saturday For Texas Oilman

HOUSTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Samuel Walter Emery, 71, veteran oilman.

Emery died yesterday after a long illness.

Retired in 1930 after more than 30 years with Standard Oil company of New Jersey and its subsidiaries, he had lived in Houston 12 years.

He developed the Nederkandsche Kolonial Petroleum company's holdings in the Dutch East Indies in the early twenties.

Water Meeting Set For City Civic Leaders Are To Gather

Plans for a permanent Canadian river water conservation authority will be discussed at a meeting of representatives of interested Panhandle-South Plains cities here next Wednesday, directors of the chamber of commerce and members of the city water resources board were told Wednesday afternoon by Clarence Whiteside, chairman of the temporary Canadian organization.

The permanent organization must be formed in order to create an agency with contractural authority in dealing with the U. S. reclamation service, which would build and operate the project, Whiteside explained.

The meeting here is expected to decide whether the permanent authority will be attempted and the procedure to be followed in carrying out any plans approved. The planning, Whiteside continued, will require the formation of one or more water conservation districts subject to the approval of a vote of the people residing within them.

Whiteside extended an invitation to the chamber directors and the water board members to be present at the meeting, which will start at 10:30 a. m. in the chamber directors' room. A luncheon will be held in the Hilton hotel at noon.

Three or more representatives are expected from each of the cities interested in the project, Whiteside said. These are Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Canyon, Tulia, Plainview, Lubbock, Slaton, Tahoka O'Donnell and Lamesa.

House Okays Resolution

He pointed out that a resolution approving the $85 million project has been passed by the U. S. House of Representatives and now is pending in committee in the Senate.

Whiteside said Sen. Clinton Anderson, of New Mexico, has given assurance that he would not attempt to block Senate consideration of the project but the attitude of Sen. Dennis Chavez, of the same state, is uncertain.

Sen. Anderson withdrew his opposition, the meeting was informed, when assured by advocates of the project that the interests of New Mexico in the undertaking would be protected.

Sen. Chavez has been quoted since then as indicating he wanted stronger assurances than have been given that the interests of his state would be safeguarded.

It was pointed out that Chavez probably could block consideration of the proposition during the present session of Congress. Consideration in the Senate would require unanimous consent, which Chavez could refuse to give.

Under the pending resolution,

STUDENTS WELCOME FAIR BOOSTERS—Sudan school children turn out to receive gifts designed to spread interest in the 32nd annual Panhandle-South Plains fair scheduled to open in Lubbock Sept. 26. Sudan was one of nine towns visited by the Lubbock group Thursday on a tour by chartered bus through the area northwest of the Hub City.

Rain Dampens Booster Trip

Lubbock fair boosters encountered rain for the second time in as many trips abroad as they handed out Panhandle-South Plains fair favors and posters to scrambling students and sideline citizenry in nine towns over the northwest section of the Lubbock trade territory Thursday.

Thirty-one men, including bus drivers, made the day-long trek from the Hub city to Portales, N.M., and back, starting the trip from Lubbock under a heavy overcast at 7:15 a.m., and returning in light rain at 6:15 p.m.

Two More Trips Slated

Thursday's trip, like the first of such trips made Tuesday, was termed "successful" despite the restrictions imposed on activity by wet weather. Two additional goodwill trips are set for Tuesday and Thursday of next week.

While dampness may possibly have lessened participation of townspeople in booster activities in the communities visited, students of the area crowded around the chartered bus in sufficient numbers to exhaust the cargo of thousands of small gifts packed along to remind them of the Panhandle-South Plains fair Sept. 26 through Oct. 1.

Boosters passed out wooden rulers, balloons, tickets, pencils and copies of a special fair paper at every stop while J. N. Caviness, acting as "barker," described the many attractions of the coming

Operations Underway At Hale Venture

Wildcats In Hale And Yoakum Counties Are Being Started

Wildcats are to be drilled in Northwest Hale county and in central-east Yoakum county.

Operations have already started at the Hale prospector and the digging will begin at the Yoakum venture in a few days.

Tobe Foster of Lubbock and others, No. 1 G. A. Harrell was drilling below 400 feet in redbeds after spudding and setting surface casing at a 7,000-foot wildcat in northwest Hale county.

Drillsite Given

The drillsite of the prospector is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 7, block O, D&SE survey, and eight miles northwest of Hale Center.

It is on a block of 16,000 acres assembled by Nick Alley and Robert Alley of Hale Center and R. H. Marvin of the Graham-Marvin Oil Company.

Most of the leases were reported to have been taken at $3.50 per acre.

The Yoakum project, Cabot Carbon Company of Midland No. 1 Bessie Clay, is a contracted 5,500-foot exploration.

It is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 12, block D, John H. Gibson survey and is one mile northeast of King, Warren & Dye of Midland No. 1 Irving Stewart, a 5,510-foot failure in the San Andres.

The drillsite is four and one-half miles northeast of the Ownby pool and about the same distance northeast of Tokio.

Drilling is to be started immediately on a 8,500-foot wildcat in central-southwest Borden county, a short distance northeast of the Good-Pennsylvanian field.

The venture will be Nelson Bunker Hunt No. 1 Jerry B. Clayton. It is located 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of the east half of section 42, block 32, TP survey, T-4-N. That makes it 10 miles southwest of Gail.

Rotary tools will be used. The 8,500-foot destination might take the project into the Ellenburger, it failes to make an oil well in the Pennsylvanian lime.

Test To Be Taken

A drillstem test is to be taken at once on a wildcat in extreme southeast Borden county, approximately five miles west of the closest completed oil wells from the Canyon reef lime of the Pennsylvanian in the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of southwest Scurry county.

The prospector is Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Canning. It is 667 feet from north and 653 feet from east lines of section 117, block 97, H&TC survey. The venture was bottomed at 7,105 feet in the reef lime.

Top of the formation has not been officially reported and no information is available regarding any shows of oil or gas which may have been logged in the section of that formation so far penetrated.

NO OPPOSITION IS EXPECTED

Delay On Minton's Nomination Looms

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—Senate action will be delayed a while on President Truman's unexpected nomination of Sherman Minton to be a Supreme court justice.

Although there was no apparent opposition to the appointment, Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) of the judiciary committee, said the nomination will "take the routine course." That usually takes about three weeks, a committee aide said. There is a speedier procedure often used in cases where opposition is lacking.

Minton Is Praised

Senators who would comment on the appointment praised Minton, a former Democratic senator from Indiana, a thorough-going New Dealer and now a judge on the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago.

The President nominated him yesterday to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Justice Wiley Rutledge last Saturday.

Many senators declined comment. While some privately expressed disappointment at the President's choice, they said they knew of no reason to attempt to block the nomination.

McCarran, now en route to Europe for a three-week trip, has been at odds with the administration over displaced persons legislation and other matters recently.

Senator Kilgore (D-WVA) told a reporter that McCarran telephoned his instructions on the appointment from his ship.

Everything Is Stalled

Kilgore, ranking committee Democrat in McCarran's absence, said that this means "everything is stalled for the time being, I'm afraid."

The customary procedure is to allow up to 10 days for any protests to be filed—or even longer if the senators from the nominee's home state request it.

If protests are filed which the committee feels require looking into, hearings may be held. Otherwise, the committee just holds a routine meeting to act on the nomination.

Kilgore, who hailed Minton's appointment as "a fine nomination," said he had thought it might not be necessary to go through more lengthy procedure since Minton is a former senator. For that reason, he said, he had the committee staff check McCarran's views.

In a ship-to-shore telephone interview with the Associated Press, McCarran said he did not care to comment on Minton's appointment.

In the spectacular battle in 1937 over the late President Roosevelt's plan to reorganize the Supreme Court, Minton and McCarran were leaders of the opposing sides.

Hockley Fair Is Underway

LEVELLAND, Sept. 16 (Special)—The seventh annual Hockley County Fair and Jamboree opened here Thursday in the new exhibition building south of town.

Total attendance was estimated at several hundred persons, although cloudy skies and recurrent rains were thought to have made the crowd somewhat smaller than was expected for the opening day.

The fair will continue through Friday and Saturday. Special events are planned for both remaining days.

Swine Winners Named

Swine exhibits were judged today, with winning exhibitors in the various divisions as follows:

Poland China gilts: First, Max Gross; second, Don Creager; third, Charles Tyson; fourth, Glen Salter; fifth, Paul Friemel.

Duroc gilts: First, J. T. Stewart; second, J. T. Stewart; third, David Powell; fourth and fifth, Elvoy Thompson.

Robert Phillips of Ropesville was the only exhibitor of a Poland China sow.

Duroc sows: First, Troy Phillips; second, Conatser; third, Donald Moreland; fourth Paul Padgett.

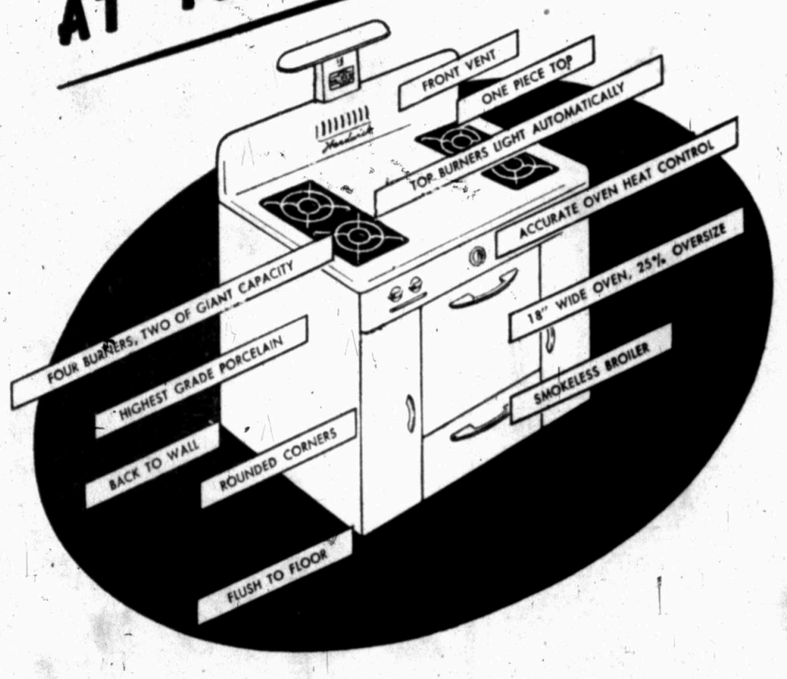

Earl Waldrip's entry was the grand champion sow of the show.

In the barrows of all kinds division, K. Teaff of Ropesville won first and second place with his exhibits. Other winners were L. A. Johnson, Robert Phillips, and Winfred Caswell.

In the pen of three barrows division Johnson, Phillips, and

Here's Good Counsel From Our Decorators

We have just received an impressive assortment of goodlooking, inexpensive fabrics, which we want you to see. Our decorators have all sorts of exciting ideas for fresh window treatments, slipcover fancies. Below is a small culling from the big new stock.

The Light Touch

Santa Barbara is a whimsical little print of a Victorian seaside house, designed with a deft modern touch. This 48" mummy cloth has a hunter-green ground, with gay splashes of aqua, candy pink, red, chartreuse, cacao brown, and warm grey. It is the embodiment of high style, color scheme flexibility, and low cost. A bargain Madam? Emphatically, yes! and only 2.25 yard.

Calico Pots

For kitchen, den or other informal rooms that demand a glad-to-be-alive feeling, we recommend these two prints. Calico Pots is the silliest, most endearing little thing we've seen in ages. In strong cotton textite, for which the manufacturer claims a 2% shrinkage maximum, it is giddy with plaid and allover pattern flower pots and shrubs. Natural background. A flat 1.50 yard.

Southern Charm

Wrought iron gates, hibiscus, palmettos and moonlight—but no trace of the crinoline petticoat about this bold 48" whip cord print. Striking masses of color in Kelly, teal, poppy red and chartreuse. 2.35 yard.

Stripes Are Back!

With a regency flair! We have a variety of them in such exciting combinations as black, forest green, chartreuse and fuchsia. Another in dusk-flamingo, greens and putty. They're going into the bedrooms this season as spreads, drapes, regency swags over mirrors. From 2.30 yard.

Oakwood

Definitely for the modernist is our abstract oakleaf textile in rich fall tones of rust, grey, yellow and hunter green. 2.25 yard.

For The Traditionalist

The perennial Winchester pattern blossoms out in soft greys, olive, pale aqua, purple, and jonquil tones on sprays of lilac and windblown tulips. In a variety of color ways on enduring willowcord. Just 2.60 yard.

Wildcats In Hale And Yoakum Counties Are Being Started

Cloud, central-north Lubbock county wildcat ten miles north and two miles west of the city of Lubbock, has been completed from the Tubb section of the lower Permian for the second producer in the Cravens field.

The new producer pumped 35.87 barrels of oil in a 24-hour period plus 70 per cent water. Gravity of the new oil was 28 degrees and the gas-oil ratio was 119-1.

The production was from open hole between the top of the pay at 6,100 feet and the total depth at 6,144 feet after that section had been treated with 10,500 gallons of acid.

The well is 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 22, block D, L&SV survey.

Another Producer

Another producer from the Clear Fork of the Permian has been completed in the Flanagan field of central-south Gaines county at Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins.

This exploration made a 24-hour, natural flowing potential of 255 barrels of 38.2 gravity oil, through a one-half inch tubing choke, and no formation water.

The production came from open hole between 7,107 feet and the hole depth at 7,250 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 518-1.

Flowing tubing pressure was 400 pounds and flowing casing pressure was 325 pounds.

This new petroleum producer is 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 8, block A-23, psl survey. It is one-quarter of a mile north of the same company No. 1 Hawkins, the discovery will of the Flanagan field, which was completed from the Ellenburger. The No. 1 Flanagan showed for production in the Clear Fork and also indicated possible production in the Devonian.

Making More Hole

Shell No. 1 Andrews, five-eighths of a mile north of the Flanagan-Ellenburger discovery and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 2, block A-23, psl survey, had reached 11,778 feet in lime and chert and was making more hole.

The Pure Oil Company has completed its No. 2 C. B. Whatley on the south side of the North Snyder field of north-central Scurry county.

From the Canyon lime it flowed for a calculated 24-hour potential of 2,408.16 barrels of 43-gravity oil through a three-quarter inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio of the new petroleum was 720-1. The flow was natural and there was no formation water.

Flowing casing pressure was 850 pounds and the flowing tubing pressure was 500 pounds.

The production was from open hole between the five and one-half inch oil string cemented at 6,649 feet and the total depth at 6,067 feet.

This new source of oil is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 394, block 97, H&TC survey.

Heavy Gas Pressure

Castleman & O'Neil, J. R. Hunter and Walter Duncan No. 1 Huckabee, on the southeast side of the latest southeast extension of the North Snyder field in north-central Scurry county, was reported showing heavy gas pressure from lime section above 6,161 feet, and operators were pumping in heavy mud to keep the project under control.

It is reported that the exploration has been trying to unload, but so far that has been prevented.

This exploration is a one-location east flanker to the Moncrief, Hope, Crosby, and Teas No. 1 Huckabee, recently completed Canyon lime producer which extended the North Snyder field one and one-half miles to the southeast.

It is located 467 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 160, block 3, H&GN survey and is to drill on down until it tests the producing ability of the Canyon lime.

So far it has not yet been determined definite whether or not the gas and oil being shown in the venture is from the top of the Canyon or from a lime string in the Pennsylvanian above the Canyon. If the Canyon has been reached the project is extra high on the structure.

When the threatened blowout is satisfactorily controlled the prospector will drill deeper.

Water Meeting

approximately $80 million of the money required to build the project would be a loan from the federal government, repayable within 50 years at a rate of interest not exceeding 3 1/2 per cent per annum, from the sales of water impounded in a Canadian river reservoir near Sanford, northeast of Amarillo.

Tri-State Compact Possible

If the meeting here decides to proceed with the organization of a permanent authority, Whiteside said, a related subject requiring discussion will be steps to form a tri-state compact composed of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma representatives. The Canadian river rises in New Mexico, crosses the Texas Panhandle and flows into the Arkansas river in Oklahoma, giving each of the states an interest in the waters of the stream.

Wednesday's meeting also resulted in the appointment of a committee composed of Lubbock directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to seek the cooperation of that organization in obtaining approval of the Canadian project. The directors are Joe Nislar, who also is chairman of the city water resources board, Earl B. Collins, Harry Morris and Dr. Clifford B. Jones.

Attending the meeting were L. E. Davis, C. H. Hamilton, Raymond Burford, Charles Bacon, W. C. Wood, J. D. Hassell and Collins, directors of the chamber of commerce, and E. T. Pope, C. E. Maedgen, jr., Neil H. Wright, jr., Harry Holcomb and Nislar, members of the water resources board.

Supreme Court

porter, fought for the court reorganization bill. McCarran fought against it. It never was enacted. Mr. Roosevelt's idea was to appoint additional justices when those over 70 failed to retire.

Senate Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois expressed confidence that Minton will be confirmed and predicted he will have "an outstanding career" as a justice of the court.

Booster Trip

fair over the microphone of a loudspeaker truck loaned to the expedition by the Baldridge bakery.

George Bond, assistant manager of the chamber of commerce, who directed activities of the group said the "samples" distributed from the bus reached an estimated 9,000 school children.

The smallest crowd and first precipitation of the trip were encountered at Shallowater, approximately 35 minutes after the boosters left Lubbock. Few people were in the streets there and a heavy mist curtailed activities.

Students were given a recess when the goodwillers reached Anton about 8:50 a.m., and boxes of gifts marked for that town were quickly depleted.

A combined group of students from two schools in Littlefield provided the largest group encountered by the boosters. A spot of sunlight which lasted little longer than the gifts offered momentary hopes for clearing skies.

Lunch At Clovis

Leaving Littlefield at 9:45 a.m., the boosters visited Amherst, Sudan, Muleshoe and Farwell before stopping for lunch in Clovis at 1 p.m. In each of the communities, the bus stopped first at the schools, then swung back to the heart of town for a brief stop while posters were placed in store windows.

The "out-leg" of the trip ended at Portales, N. M., at 3:30 p.m., some 116 miles from Lubbock. Only at Portales did the schools, because of the nearness of closing time, fail to turn out the students.

The roster of boosters included L. C. Cole, Bill Honey, Earl Bullock, B. R. Brady, Marvin Stevens, David E. Armstrong, L. W. Rampy, Dean Mell, W. T. Miller, Stewart Bailey, Eric Khahn, Jack Strong, Herb Kittle, Dave Tipple, Lorenz Ellis, J. N. Caviness, Edward Johnson, Bill Gillespie, Jake Abbott, Jim Bennett, Rod MacDougall, Lindsay Telford, Joe Bob Johnston, Max Brown, Hal Stansell, Cotton Nelson, Joe Christian, Gordon Sanders and George Bond. Lawrence Haynes drove the sound truck which also served as pilot for the bus, driven by Vane Reid.

SENSITIVE ABOUT BALD SPOT

CHICOPEE, Mass. (U.P.)—Anhoni Kawalec's bald spot cost him $50 but he's not sorry. When a neighbor twitted him about it he hit the man in the eye. The $50 was a fine he paid for assault and battery.

DOG ROUTS HOLDUP MEN—Skeeter, a dog of doubtful ancestry, is shown on a shelf beneath the cash register where he was lying when armed robbers entered the tavern of its owner, in St. Louis, Mo. When demanded "Sit still; this is a holdup", Mrs. Howard Spiller, wife of the owner cried, "give it to them." Skeeter apparently mistook her words for "go get 'em". The holdup men fled empty handed with the dog at their heels. With the dog is its owner, Howard Spiller. (AP Wirephoto).

BETTER ROADS FORESEEN

AKRON, O. (U.P.)—Firestone, in conjunction with the Ohio department of highways, has laid an experimental road to test a new type of asphalt. Powdered rubber has been added to the regular asphalt mixture. Firestone officials said the mixture would not cause as much wear on automobile tires, and will allow quicker stops.

Chinese Nationalists Launch War Bond Drive For Struggle

By SPENCER MOOSA
Associated Press Staff Writer

CANTON, Sept. 16 — Nationalist China today launched a war bond drive in an attempt to get money from the wealthy for the death struggle with the Communists.

The danger pressed. Communist armies were probing the front to the north, probably in preparation for the expected all-out offensive.

Premier Yen Hsi-Shan in a broadcast appeal warned the rich that if the Reds won they would seize their wealth anyway. He urged them to buy bonds as a means of saving China from the Communists.

Yen said the government was in the gravest of financial difficulties. He estimated income at only 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 silver dollars a month, while expenses were more than 45,000,000. One Chinese silver dollar is worth about 65 cents, U.S.)

The two Communist military chieftains heading the Red movement toward Canton were still massing their armies.

One-eyed Gen. Liu Po-Cheng was concentrating his armies on the front only 140 miles northeast of Canton.

Official reports say Gen. Lin Piao, commander of the Red side of the line farher north, was massing his 39th, 49th and 51st armies around Changteh, 150 miles northwest of Hengyang.

Hengyang, government army headquarters, is 265 miles north of Canton. Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, Nationalist commander in the north, has beaten back Red thrusts from the Changteh direction. Nationalist army sources predicted he could do it again.

Services Today For Lorenzo Woman, 63

LORENZO, Sept. 16 (Special)—Funeral services were to be conducted in the Lorenzo Baptist church at 2 p. m. today for Mrs. I. N. Haygood, 63, who died of a heart attack in her home here Wednesday.

Revs. W. M. Draper of Anton and W. R. Underwood of George West were to officiate at the services and burial was to be in Tech Memorial cemetery under direction of the Marr Funeral home of Ralls.

Mrs. Haygood came here with her husband in 1919 and had been a resident of Crosby county since. She is survived by her husband; one son, John D. Haygood of Lubbock; two daughters, Mrs. E. W. Hester of Lubbock and Mrs. W. S. Galloway of New Orleans; two brothers, Hubert Horne of Amarillo and Boone Horne of Big Spring; five sisters, Mrs. Charles Rogers of Amarillo, Mrs. Eula Draper of Amarillo, Mrs. Wyatt Hester of Lubbock, Mrs. Mae Horne of Lubbock, and Mrs. J. J. Hannah of Glen Rose; and six grandchildren.

Pallbearers were to be James O'Rear and Wayland Catching of Lorenzo; Leo Baker of Muleshoe; and Dr. J. M. O'Rear, E. V. Middleton, and Elbert Hester, all of Lubbock.

CAPTURED GREEK GIRL GUERRILLAS—These two young girls, one downcast and the other smiling wanly, were among the guerrilla captives brought back from the Grammos Mountains by Greek government forces after the recent drive to clear the area of communists.

Austin Man Named Vets' Representative

AUSTIN, Sept. 16 (INS)—Thomas D. Kimbro of Austin has been appointed veterans employment representative for Texas, it was announced in Washington by Perry Faulkner, chief of the Veterans Employment service.

Kimbro has been assistant Texas VER since 1940. He will continue to keep his headquarters in Austin, attached to the Texas Employment Commission as consultant in veterans' employment matters.

He will work in cooperation with the TEC in carrying out Title IV of the GI Bill of Rights. The new state VER will have a field staff of five assistants in Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, Lubbock and Corpus Christi.

Kimbro served with the 36th division in World War I and is past district and division commander of the American Legion.

He was formerly owner and publisher of the Center Champion and Daily News at Center, and has also been co-owner publisher of the Kilgore Daily News.

He entered the Texas State employment service in 1935 at Center. He was later appointed manager of the Longview office, where he served until his appointment as assistant VER for Texas in 1940.

Horse-Riding Vets On Long Trip Home

PITTSGURG, Calif., Sept. 16. (AP)—Two discharged Air Force veterans of Japan and the Philippines decided to hoof it home today—and they didn't mean walk.

Dick Stewart, 19, and Eddie Cascio, 18, are heading for Monroe, La., on horseback.

Each put up $100 for Jimmy, a brown gelding, and lady, a sorrel mare.

They plan to ride the 2,200 miles in 20 mile a day installments. That's 110 days.

SO TENDER IN ITS TELLING—
SO RICH IN ITS REMEMBRANCE!
This is the story of Sister Margaret from Chicago, via the French underground and an untamed jeep . . . and Sister Scolastica, ex-tennis champ, now playing a match where the stakes are heaven-high!
A promise made one fateful night on a battlefront "somewhere in France" led them into adventures that make this the screen's most unusual experience.
Let yourself go with them into a mobster's hangout . . . and find a heart of gold under a bullet-proof vest.
Into a songwriter's Connecticut hideaway . . . where they put a gay, enchanting new song into his heart and wind up No. 1 on his Hit Parade.
Follow them down Fifth Avenue, driving the wrong way, and teaching an Irish cop something new about blarney!
Into real estate and high finance, paralying $14.00 into a dream come true.
Wherever they went, there was a new joy and excitement in the land . . . so tender in its telling, so rich in its remembering—you'll love it!
It's the kind of movie the whole world has been asking for.

The PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway says a good way to gain popularity is to say nothing derogatory about anybody—and do so in silence.

It's no wonder most morticians dislike having Sunday funerals. They need that day off to get rested up for the rush following week-end automobile accidents.

LUBBOCK citizens are viewing with mixed emotions and opinions the change-over from angle to parallel parking in most of the downtown area.

Some people like the idea. Some do not. Still others view it as a "necessary evil." As one leading merchant put it, "I guess we've got a city here whether we like it or not—and since we've got one, I guess we'll have to do whatever is necessary to adjust ourselves to city ways."

To be sure, parallel parking is going to give a lot of us headaches—until we get used to it. Despite the fact that the parallel system has been in vogue here for some time on several streets, most drivers haven't used it as yet. Many frankly have avoided parking in parallel areas to date, preferring to look longer for an angle spot, or to park farther from midtown.

But humans can adjust themselves to almost anything—including things a lot more difficult and unpleasant than parallel parking. And in cities which have had parallel parking for considerable time, drivers never think of any extra difficulty involved in the system.

No expert on parking, we are not competent to say that parallel parking is better than angle parking in Lubbock, or vice versa.

We simply don't know which is the better system, over-all.

But we do know, as does everyone else, that Lubbock needs improvement in its traffic flow and control downtown—and all over town. And since it looks like maybe parallel parking will help, we see no reason why it shouldn't be tried out.

In thinking and talking about the change-over, we of Lubbock will do well to remember this: Most of the busy cities of the nation have gone to parallel parking long before now—and have retained it. Therefore, it is logical to suspect that the system works the better of the two in most places.

Furthermore, it is good to remember that streets are primarily for travel, not for parking areas; that by offering more areas for moving traffic, moving traffic can be better accommodated.

ALREADY, city officials are being besieged by business people and property owners to "leave my block out of parallel parking." Most, if not all, of these besiegers are taking the purely selfish attitude. We hope the City commission will not bend to pressure until the plan is given a thorough trial.

After the trial is completed, and if reasons are found for exempting some businesses and some areas from parallel parking, then changes can be made. But this should be made with the best interests of the public, and not merely of a few individuals in mind.

This much we all know: There comes a time in the operation of every home, every business, AND every city, when old methods must be discarded and new ones instituted to meet the needs of growth and expansion. At first, these changes may not be pleasant to contemplate, if for no other reason than the fact that they are changes.

Maybe that's our situation here in Lubbock regarding parallel parking.

At any rate, only time and fair trial can tell the story.

Since all of us have been howling for the City commission to do something about our traffic problem, let's give the City commission a chance to do something without crying before we're hurt. Let's give the city dads credit for finally coming alive and actually moving to improve conditions.

Furthermore, let's commend them, too, for finally deciding to put parking meters around the City Hall and thus being more logical than previous commissions have been and than the present commission has been thus far.

If we must have the "armless bandits" everywhere else down downtown, certainly it is no more than sensible to have 'em along side the City Hall, too.

At least, in deciding to put the tax-collecting machines along side City Hall, the commission is being consistent.

That Man on Avenue Q says the fellow who is a stickler for law often proves a trial to his associates.

A Kentucky mountaineer has reached the age of 100 without ever having seen an automobile.

There's one guy whose secret of longevity is no mystery!

THERE'S a lot of yackety-yack around in Texas politica' circles about who is and who isn't going to run for governor next year, now that the death of former Gov. Beauford Jester catapulted Allan Shivers into a position of eminence.

Many believe that the trick of fate which boosted the then lieutenant governor from a weak position into a strong one will result in a change in plans on the parts of both Attorney General Price Daniel and Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson. Both of these gentlemen were "unofficially" running for governor as hard as they could before the death of Mr. Jester. Others point out that Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, who also was eyeing the 1950 gubernatorial race, has now changed his mind and will not run.

Caso March, the embattled professor, is continuing as a candidate, of course, but few, if any, take him seriously. There's further talk that the "interests" will bring Wilbert Lee O'Daniel out of the mothballs and run him again.

Whatever the actual picture is—if there is an actual picture at this time—it's a good bet that Mr. Culberson will run for governor in 1950.

"Unlike some of the other hopefuls," Culberson's friends say, "he hasn't got the 'Shivers'."

That's a cute way of putting it, but probably a pretty sound way, at that.

THE TALK is going around that Attorney General Daniel will throttle his gubernatorial ambitions in 1950 and run for a third term in his present office.

Maybe he will. The attorney general cagily avoided direct statements about the governorship, even before Mr. Jester's death, and did a good deal of breast-beating about having a job that he intended to finish before running for anything else. Theoretically, he can announce again for attorney general without being too embarrassed.

However, it might be noted that Mr. Daniel has no lead-pipe cinch to get a third term as attorney general. In fact, he might have a better chance to be elected governor.

Several fresh, new figures are looming in the AG's race—hell-for-leather young veterans with good records in public office and/or public life—and any of them conceivably might beat Mr. Daniel on the third term issue, if nothing else.

District Attorney Will Wilson of Dallas; District Attorney Bill Hensley, of San Antonio, and Junior Chamber of Commerce John Ben Shepperd of Gladewater are the three outstanding threats to any third-term ambitions Mr. Daniel may have and any of the three might upset him.

Maybe Mr. Daniel will decide to run for governor, after all.

BY DREW PEARSON: SENATOR THOMAS OF OKLAHOMA SPECULATING ON THE EGG MARKET

Solon Outbluffed An Earlier Probe Of Activities

WASHINGTON — Something is rotten in the egg market. And Elmer Thomas, the speculating senator from Oklahoma, could tell a lot about it if he wished, though he probably won't.

Elmer Thomas (not to be confused with Senator Elbert Thomas of Utah, a pious Mormon ex-missionary) is the man who was exposed in this column three years ago for simultaneously speculating in cotton and using his influence in the Senate to affect the price of cotton.

PEARSON

At that time Thomas vigorously denied he was speculating, called this columnist a liar, said all the cotton he owned was on his back. But two years later when a Republican Congress required the secretary of agriculture to make public the names of those speculating in cotton, Senator Thomas's name was on the list. So also was the name of his wife, his secretary, Miss Beth Gage, and his bosom friend, Dyke Cullum. Furthermore, Thomas admitted in a public statement that Cullum had handled his commodity trading for him.

In addition, another of Senator Thomas's speculator friends, Ralph Moore, was indicted under the lobbying act for trying to influence the fats and oils market by issuing fake government reports.

There is nothing illegal about a senator speculating on the commodity market—though his ethics are something else again. However, it is almost unbelievable that a senator—especially the chairman of the Senate agriculture committee—should use his prestige and high office to influence prices on the commodity market at the same time he is speculating.

Ferguson Is Outbluffed

Therefore, Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan, then chairman of a Senate investigating sub-committee, was authorized to probe the operations of his colleague from Oklahoma. But Senator Thomas did some quick investigating of his own—of Senator Ferguson. Following which he wrote Ferguson a letter in longhand, later published in this column, threatening to expose certain connections between the Ferguson family and the Chrysler Motor company.

Confronted with this letter, the senator from Michigan promptly dropped his investigation of the senator from Oklahoma.

Eighteen months have passed, and Senator Thomas is now up to his old tricks. Since the Democratic victory last November, he has been restored as chairman of the powerful agriculture committee. But not even waiting for the election, the senator got back into the cotton market last September.

Then, about two weeks ago, Senator Thomas let loose a significant public statement. He took a sudden, surprising interest in eggs, publicly complained about the price of eggs, and blasted the Agriculture department's egg-price-support program every time the Senate agriculture committee met.

NOW every housewife would like to see the price of eggs come down. But what every housewife does not have is ten railroad carloads of eggs. And what very few people in the United States knew was that Thomas's intimate friend, Dyke Cullum, has just purchased ten freight carloads of egg futures. Therefore, he was vitally interested in the future price of eggs.

And Dyke Cullum is the man who, Thomas admits, has handled a trading account for him.

The senator from Oklahoma has been quite brazen in lending his name to Cullum's attempt to influence the egg market. Not only was one letter written to the Agriculture department with Thomas's name signed to it regarding the department's egg-price-support program, but Thomas started an official Senate investigation of eggs.

In doing so, Thomas wrote a letter to Senator Clinton Anderson of New Mexico, whom he placed in charge of the investigation, asking that he call certain people as witnesses. And in listing them he scrupulously avoided the name of W. D. Termohlen, agriculture department poultry chief, because Dyke Cullum had told him that Termohlen was not cooperative.

Cullum had so heckled the poultry division with letters, phone calls and personal visits in which he claimed to represent the Senate agriculture committee that Termohlen finally challenged him—bluntly asked whether he was paid by the Senate committee.

"I'm one of those who don't get paid," Cullum retorted.

"Do you work for the agriculture committee?"

"I represent Senator Thomas personally," Cullum declared.

Cullum also wrote, both under his own name and that of Senator Thomas, asking about and chiticizing the egg program. He did not at any time reveal, of course, that he had purchased ten carloads of egg futures.

FINALLY Ralph Trigg, agriculture production and marketing chief, wrote back opposing Cullum's ideas. He then received an insulting letter suggesting that Trigg didn't understand eggs, and that perhaps a special assistant secretary should be appointed to relieve Trigg of his responsibilities.

Again Cullum did not reveal that having purchased ten carloads of eggs, he was a highly interested party.

The ten carloads of eggs were purchased in Chicago under the name of the National Commodity corporation. Cullum and his broker, Ralph Root, appeared on the floor of the exchange and made the purchase personally Chicago brokers, when interviewed by this column, stated that Cullum was quite free in using Senator Thomas's name in connection with the deal.

The National Commodity corporation is the name used by Cullum in the past to handle various speculations. Its other officers are his son, Dyke Cullum, jr., secretary, and his daughter, Kiki Cullum, treasurer.

Origin Of David Belasco's "Priestly Garb" Recounted

WHY the Genius Turned His Collar Around — The revelation, in this space, of the anti-climatic death of the illustrious David Belasco, spoke of his wearing "a priestly garb of his own design, which he never would explain." It brought back to the memory of many thousands who had seen him the picture of his snow-white curly hair, his pink, handsome face, above a nevery-varying reversed white stiff collar and purple or black silk "dickey" in the V of a black coat, single-breasted, never unbuttoned.

Now the story of his clerical-looking costume is explained to me by Mrs. Cora Older, distinguished widow of the eminent late San Francisco editor, Fremont Older, who is a resident of Santa Clara County, Cal. Mrs. Older is a historian, biographer, playwright and president of the San Jose Light Opera company. With her permission I transmit the solution of what was, to all who knew and saw him in the East, a mystery. In his youth, in San Francisco, when he was still an actor-stage-manager, Belasco directed Salmi Morse's Passion play. He made an intensive study of the Scriptures for realism, maintained a sanctified atmosphere during rehearsals, tolerated no loose talk, gave up liquor and tobacco, was never seen without a Bible in his hand, talked of seeking admission into a monastery.

LEWIS MORRISON, in the company, wore exactly the garb which Belasco later copied and used to his last mortal day, which he adopted after the series of dramatic events which arose from the production at Maguire's San Francisco Grand Opera House, in 1879. James O'Neill, father of Eugene O'Neill, the famed dramatist of his day, portrayed the bearded Christus. He was supported by 400 men, women and infants. Belasco rounded up 100 nursing mothers for the Massacre of the Innocents scene, which also required a flock of sheep on stage. The sheep followed Joseph and Mary. When the Savior appeared, with a halo, the devout in the audience knelt. When He was dragged before Pontius Pilate, there was moaning, weeping and fainting.

This presentation was a great success until Protestant and Jewish clergy denounced it as a "fearful impiety." Catholic Archbishop Alemany did not make a public defense. The City Supervisors then hastily met and passed an ordinance against "personation of any Scriptural character upon the stage of any theater." The house was closed for eight days, then Maguire reopened it and the play to force a test of the new regulation. O'Neill was dragged off the boards and into police court in his make-up and costume as the Christus, with the rest of the male players. O'Neill was fined $50 and the lesser actors $5 each. The women were not molested. That closed the brief run. O'Neill withdrew from the venture, but Morse put on his superproduction in New York City. It failed. Morse's body was found in the Harlem River.

THAT concluded Mrs. Older's contribution. I may add that Belasco did not go into religious retreat, nor did he continue to purge profanity, though he rarely mouthed any. But he turned personally and artistically to worldly ways. He presented several comedies that encountered police trouble, and not because they personated Scriptural characters. Among some of his last were "The Great Lover," "The Harem" and "The Bachelor Father," spicy comedies on which the Boston censors frowned when they saw them in New York, which they always did when Belasco opened a farce.

Yet, through it all, Summer or Winter, in Maine or Florida, in restaurants or on his own stage—where he always appeared on opening nights to take his salvos — he had every appearance of a priest — though he never otherwise intimated that he was one.

WHEN Howard Hughes bought RKO, among the flotsam and jetsam he acquiderd, listed under "miscellaneous items, value not appraised," was a modest picture then labeled "Your Red Wagon." It was retitled "They Live by Night," wasn't taken seriously, was shipped overseas in a "package," and opened unobtrusively, with no ballyhoo whatever, at a little art theatre off the beaten path in London. Suddenly, the unpromoted picture and its there unknown lead, charming young Cathy O'Donnell, were discovered by the reviewers and the public. This became the "sleeper" of years. Hughes will probably make more profit on it than he will on several $1,000,000 ventures launched with high hope and the full force of advance advertising. A tremendous campaign is now being prepared on Cathy and "They Live by Night," which will open in the U. S. this month.

"At age 91 a Georgia woman upon seeing her first movie fell rapturously in love with the hero of the film."—Press report. It is said that there is nothing quite like second childhood puppy love.

Court-Martial Of High Army Officer Needed For Morale

ATLANTA, Sept. 16—I suppose this could be called GI thinking, and perhaps it is, but I do not see how the Army can hope to build much faith among the lowercase candidates for distinction by its action in the case of Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitt, the chief of the chemical corps, who got caught manipulating official records.

RUARK

Without benefit of court-martial, Waitt gets the bounce into retirement, for what Army Secretary Gordon Gray called the "best interests of the service." This says Waitt is guilty of something serious enough to get him fired and if he is guilty of anything that serious he is guilty enough to stand a court-martial for his sin. Not, however, that you could expect anything drastic to come of that, either, but it would have been a nice, inspirational gesture for all the khaki-clads everywhere.

Gen. Waitt leaves his service in disgrace, but it is disgrace at a lifetime income of $6000-plus, and five will get you ten that the physical exam will retire him on disability, thereby saving him same tax dollars. That is the oldest of Army dodges in retiring the upper-bracket fire-horses. They choose a chilblain, or something, mark it disability, and the retiring hero is exempt from some taxes, whereas if he leaves healthy he has to pay 'em.

Enlisted Men Hit

In the Army they have a bit of hitting the enlisted personnel with courts for such small offenses as mislaying a rifle or liberating a small article of GI gear, and if you are caught smudging up the records they will plant you under Ft. Knox with the gold, forever.

If you are an officer they can always clout you with conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, if they need you over the barrel, and I submit that Gen. Waitt's sin was not exemplary of said conduct.

It would seem to me that any officer of weighty rank who heads a vital department, such as the chemical corps, and who gets himself caught writing secret memoranda blackballing candidates for his job, after he turns in praiseful fitness reports, is sure no ornament even to a banana republic army. This is duplicity of the lowest order, unbecoming to a supply sergeant, and amounts to falsehood, betrayal of trust, and action against the best interests of service and country.

THIS might be recognized as standard procedure among the military politicians, and hence not censorable unless it is discovered by civilians, but it seems remarkably dirty doings to an untutored fellow like me. Waitt's 30 years of honorable service, cited by Sec. Gray as explanation for no court-martial, seems to me just a further indictment of the act. A man with two stars on his shoulders and 30 years in the war business might be expected to act with more integrity than a drafted buck private or a commissary clerk attempting to hide the embezzlement of lunch money.

My personal faith in my armed leaders would expand considerably if, every so often, they'd smack one of these big boys with the kind of terse justice they inflict on the lower orders, as an object lesson for the mighty as well as the menial.

Court-Martial Urged

If you say it is unfair to rob a man of the fruits of 30 years of toil for a sin committed on the eve of retirement, I say that when you start playing it crooked you automatically concede consideration if you get caught with your hand in the crack. And it Gen. Waitt is not guilty of duplicity, then he has been fired without a fair trial and leaves his beloved service with a soiled reputation, which is wrong, too.

I do not know, from a standpoint of military morality, whether Waitt's sin is great enough to deprive him of his job, but if it is great enough to get him canned, under the euphemism of retirement, then it was great enough to warrant a court-martial—if only to reestablish a small smitch of faith in the last batch of draftees.

Rancher To Employ Two-Way Radio Net

CANADIAN, Tex., Sept. 16. (AP)—One of the first radio communication systems ever to be used in ranch operations is being installed by E. S. Brainard.

The two-way radio network is being installed at both the Red Deer and John S. Creek ranches. Brainard also is licensed to operate a mobile transmitter of the walkie-talkie type.

The system, he says, will connect the far-flung ranch property and ranchers of the Panhandle believe it will solve the locating and feeding of cattle during severe winter months.

MEDICAL CLINIC RAIDED

BANGKOK (AP)—Police raided a medical clinic and arrested 16 gamblers. They also seized considerable gambling equipment. The physician owner of the house was among those taken into custody. Authorities said the medical clinic was Bangkok's biggest gambling house.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"OF COURSE, I wouldn't say this to Bob. But it was bound to happen some day. You know how fast he drives," said a wife whose husband had that day landed in a hospital after an accident that never would have happened if he had not been speeding.

No, she'd never admit to Bob that his accident was a direct result of reckless driving. His driving had been scaring her to death for years, but she never complained about it.

MILLETT

Such fun has been made of women's back-seat driving that women let men take chances with their own necks and with the lives of their wives and children, rather than "back-seat drive."

From the time a girl starts dating, she thinks she has to put up with any kind of driving. She may be shaking inside because her date has had too much to drink to be at the wheel of a car, or because he's in a show-off mood and has decided to find out just how fast the old bus will go. But she puts a smile on her face and acts as nonchalant as he does.

After all, nobody is going to accuse her of being a back-seat driver.

LET'S NOT PRETEND

AND IF she has the misfortune to marry a man who hasn't outgrown the tendency to drive with a flourish and take chances when he's at the wheel of a car, she goes right on being a good sport about his driving.

She pretends with him when he gets into minor trouble that it was the other driver's fault instead of calling a spade a spade and saying: "Look here, you had it coming and if you don't start driving more carefully you're going to get in a much worse wreck one of these days."

As long as men insist on doing the driving when they are in the family car, women have a perfect right to back-seat drive, when back-seat driving is indicated.

After all, just because a man is willing to risk his own life doesn't give him the right to risk the lives of his wife and children. And if his wife doesn't tell him off, who is going to?

'Try And Stop Me"

ARTHUR KOBER'S five-year-old daughter, Cathy, attended a birthday party where the food had been seasoned too strongly for her liking. Quite naturally, she remarked to her hostess, "This is awful!"

"Oh, no," corrected her nurse. "It's very good. It's just a little different. You'll get to like it." "No," said Cathy, "I won't like it. It's just awful."

On the way home, the nurse explained, "When you're eating out, dear, it's all right to say the food is good if you like it, but if you don't, just leave it on your plate and don't say anything."

The next Saturday, Cathy went visiting again. For lunch, she was served creamed chicken, which she loves, and peas, which she always has hated. She finished the chicken, tasted the peas, then looked at her nurse, and in her best Emily Post voice remarked, "These peas are delicious—but awful."

SAME OLD EXCUSE

It would be pointless to ignore the ominous sound of the Soviet charges, made several times recently, that Tito is planning to invade Russia.

This is exactly the excuse Adolf Hitler invented when he ordered his Nazi hordes to cross the Polish border in 1939. He said that Poland was planning to invade Germany. Everyone knew that it was the thinnest sort of excuse for starting the worst war in history. But it plunged the world into war just the same.

Anyone with a grain of intelligence knows that Tito isn't going to risk almost certain suicide by attacking Russia now. It would be somewhat comparable to a rat attacking a skunk.

But it is frightening when the Kremlin professes "fear" of an invasion by little Yugoslavia because, if Russia does undertake to conquer that country, this pretense is likely to be the excuse

Musical Playwright Divorced By Singer

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16 (AP)—Playwright Alan J. Lerner "had no time for love," says his ex-wife, Marion Bell.

That was her testimony yesterday as she obtained a divorce from Lerner, 30, author of the musical, "Brigadoon," in which she starred as a singer.

The 23-year-old soprano said that Lerner was cruel and said she interfered with his work. They were married in 1947, separated after six months.

DEWEY GIVES FRIEND SEND OFF

Dulles And Lehman Starting Slugfest In Senate Contest

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP)—New York's rivals for U. S. senator were locked today in bitter battle over the "fair deal," and the Republicans held that the Democrats were getting communist support.

Former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, the Democratic-Liberal candidate, called President Truman's program the "path of progress." Senator John Foster Dulles, the Republican nominee, branded it a grab for power at the expense of the people's pocketbook and freedom.

Only Race This Year

Dulles and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who gave him a send off last night, hit at the issue of communist support. Calling the American Labor party "communist-led," they said the ALP's failure to nominate a candidate meant that the party was throwing its votes to Lehman.

The 61-year-old Dules, a foreign affairs expert serving a six-month Senate term by appointment of Governor Dewey, was nominated unanimously late yesterday at Albany by the GOP state committee.

Lehman, 71-year-old four-time governor, was chosen by acclamation in New York City by the Democratic state committee. The Liberal party also nominated him unanimously.

This special election Nov. 8 is regarded as a probable thermometer reading for the 1950 congressional and state elections. It is the only Senate contest in the nation this year.

The winner will serve out the term of Democrat Robert F. Wagner, who resigned June 28 because of ill health. The term ends Jan. 3, 1951.

Dulles, accepting the nomination, asserted that "the Truman program for vastly increasing the powers of the federal government involves a heavy cost in money, liberty and perhaps peace."

Lehman, in his acceptance speech, promised to fight for Mr. Truman's "fair deal" program and said it was time for all Democrats and "progressive Republican voters" to raise their voices for the President's civil rights proposals.

Lehman endorsed federal aid to schools, including parochial. Concerning the Barden bill, which would exclude private schools, he declared he was "opposed to discrimination of any kind."

Dulles maintained that "better public education does not need to wait upon federal intervention in the business of educating our children."

"We do not need to turn our money over to the federal government in the hope of getting some of it back—plus superimposed government controls," he added.

More than 1,000 arrests have been made in Poland, as a result of a recent plot to assassinate members of the Polish Government, Warsaw reports.

Moon Acts As Relay For Short Waves In Radio Communication

GENOA, Italy, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—Adelmo Landini, a radio technician who learned his trade under Guglielmo Marconi, has patented in Italy a system of radio communications based on the reflection of short waves off the moon.

His patent application states that his system is the result of 19 years of research, which began in July, 1930. He and Marconi noticed during their experiments that the moon was sometimes sending back short wave broadcasts from Rio de Janeiro.

Landini said he and Marconi went to work on the problem, attempting to work out a system to make short wave broadcasts carry farther with clearer signals. He said they worked on a sample channel from Rome to the southern tip of Argentina, with the moon acting as a sort of relay station for the short wave signal.

Research Completed

"Marconi died before he could complete his research on the phenomenon we had noted that July," Landini said. "But I went on working alone and after 19 years worked out what I call a new system of radio communications for both medium and long distances, based on micro waves reflected from the moon." Landini said that with his system, the reception in Italy of signals from the Antipodes has been "extremely easy" and said:

"With my system, broadcasts from Sydney, Australia, or Buenos Aires or New York, beamed at the moon and then back to earth, will be picked up without difficulty."

Landini's system depends on an instrument which can maintain radio transmitters constantly aimed at the moon. The scientist said cautiously that he believed his system would work for radio-telephone communications and television.

To skeptics he pointed to U. S. Army researchers who in the postwar period have been able to "bounce" radar signals off the moon and record them back on earth with an "echo."

Mexico Celebration Is Conducted Today

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—Mexico celebrated the 139th anniversary of its declaration of independence today with festivities and parades throughout the nation.

Some 30,000 federal troops were to parade through downtown Mexico City in a show of the country's modern military might.

An estimated 200,000 Mexicans jammed the capitol's constitution plaza last night to hear President Miguel Aleman deliver the traditional independence day "shout" from the national palace.

A roar of voices echoed the words first shouted by Father Miguel Hidalgo Y. Costilla, father of Mexican independence: "Viva Mexico! Viva la independence!"

Skating Star Weeps During Ceremonies

Sonja Henie, Socialite Flier Cut Seven-Tier Wedding Cake

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP) — Grinning at each other, Sonja Henie and Winthrop Gardiner, jr., gripped a big sword in their hands, and sliced the seven-tier wedding cake.

This was the follow-up yesterday to a seven-minute church ceremony joining the blonde skating star and wealthy socialite aviator. At the Park Avenue Methodist church, a milling, pushing throng of fans jammed the entrance and cheered as the couple made its exit.

Afterward at a reception at the Hotel Plaza, Gardiner's navy sword was used to slice the big cake, which was iced in pale blue to match the bride's net-and-lace gown.

The Honeymoon On Yacht

Then the newlyweds glided onto the ballroom floor, and danced alone under a spotlight, while the orchestra played "I Love You Truly."

Gradually, as the champagne and canapes made the rounds, others among the 400 society guests joined the couple on the dance floor.

The couple will honeymoon on a yacht, but didn't say where the trip would take them.

Their double-ring wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul Otto, who stood amid heaps of white roses, chrysanthemums and easter lilies.

Only 60 invited guests attended the ceremony. But outside, the crush was so great that police had to clear a way before the bride's mother, Mrs. Selma Henie, and the matron of honor, Mrs. Alexander MacArthur, could get inside.

Word "Obey" Omitted

The Norwegian-born Miss Henie walked down the aisle on the arm of her brother Leif.

Gardiner's best man was his brother-in-law, Olney B. Mairs, jr.

The word "obey" was omitted from the vows.

The bride's hands trembled, and tears ran down her cheeks as the ceremony was read. Gardiner appeared completely at ease.

Miss Henie's sleeveless wedding gown was topped with a triple strand of pearls with diamond clip. She wore sunburst diamond earrings and blue feathers.

It is the second marriage for Miss Henie, 33, movie actress and holder of the world record in figure-skating for 10 years. Her marriage to Dan Topping ended in divorce in 1940.

Gardiner, 36 a naval reserve officer and head of the aviation department of the Industrial Tape company at New Brunswick, N. J., has been married three times previously. Each marriage ended in divorce.

Mexico's Lerma project, to supply Mexico City with an ample water supply for the first time, is expected to be completed a year from now.
