Plan Decision Target For Council Session

A delegation of merchants and business property owners Monday will aim for preliminary decisions for at least 4 major portions of a proposed downtown improvement program.

Here is what their leader, John Billings, said they would be seeking in meeting with City Council.

1. Definite cost estimates for the improvement and in what proportion they will be shouldered by city and by business.
2. Decision on type of walk coverings will be constructed after city's report on cost, usability, upkeep and insurance data.
3. Design and color scheme of new uniform sidewalk in the improvement area.
4. Decision on design and decor for the corner planting areas.

"We are hopeful the whole plan can be packaged together with definite decisions so our group can go back and formalize it so City Council can take official action at its March meeting," said Billings.

"Our proposal Monday will be to get the project activated for at least parts of six blocks in the area from Oak to Chestnut centered on Second Street.

The delegation Monday also will seek to implement a start by the city to remove vacant buildings which have deteriorated into an unsafe condition.

Monday evening's meeting is an outgrowth of a discussion between a business delegation and council at this week's regular council meeting. The special meeting to consider the downtown project further was decided upon so that City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr. could prepare a cost analysis for materials and labor.

Billings said the business group needed details on costs and materials so that property owners and other business operators can be properly contacted for participation in the face-lifting.

The project, at this early stage, is shaping up along the line suggested last fall in sketches by City Manager Sadler.

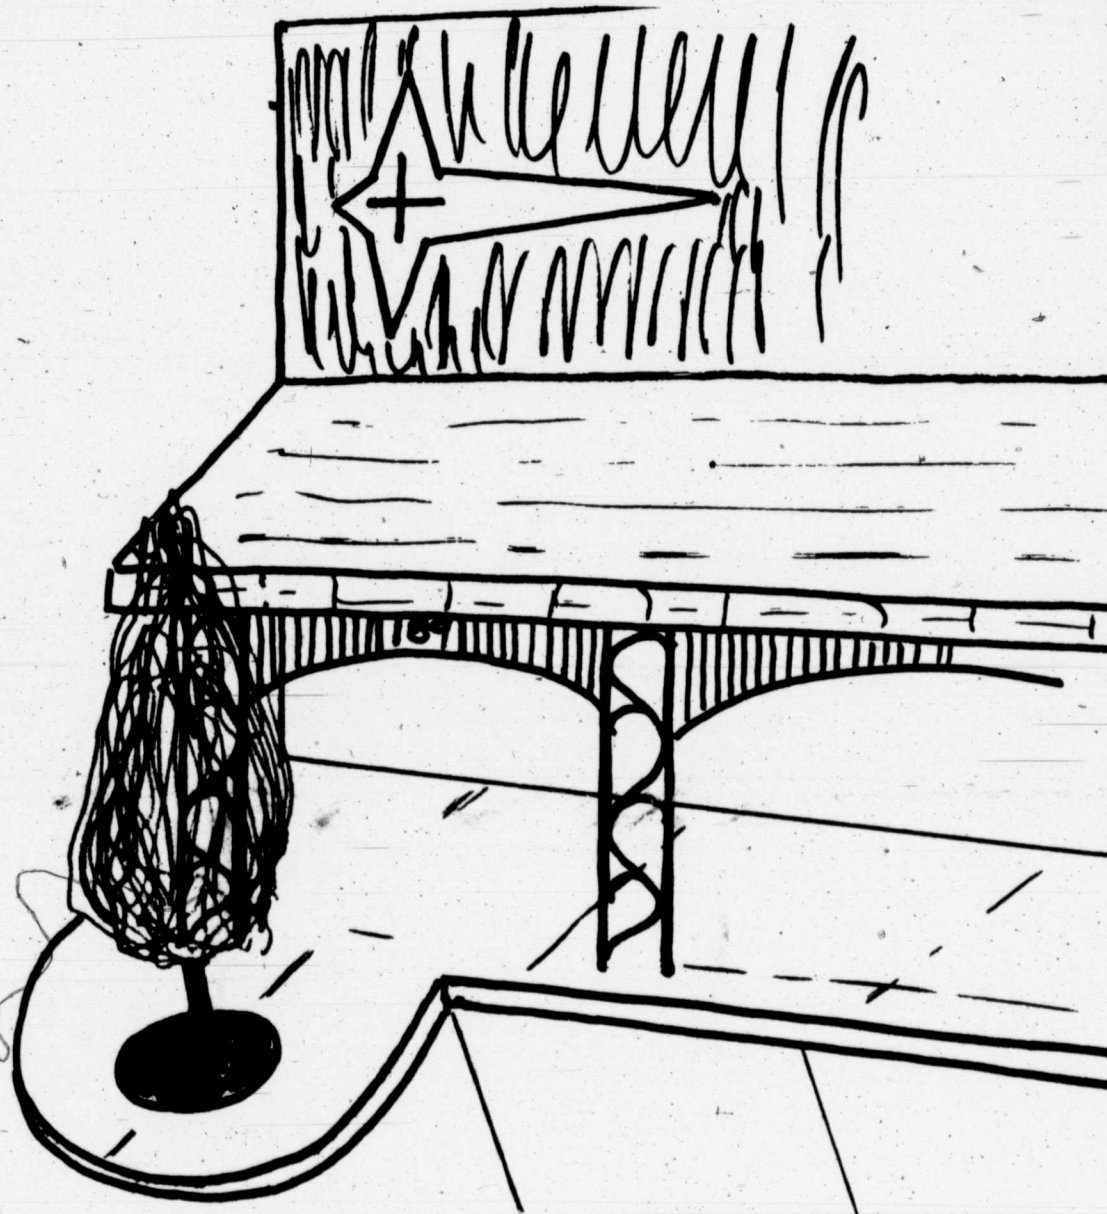

His is down-to-earth economy plan that offers uniform walks, wider streets, at least one Second and Walnut.

Billings, since the initial meeting with council, has called on most businesses in the proposed project area. Comments by these merchants supports the contention that a start must be made toward condemnation of unsafe buildings as part of the face-lifting.

There has been no proposal yet concerning the expense of improvements at property where owners or firms do not pay prorated share of the face-lifting cost. This is expected to be decided upon after the principal factors of the plan are decided.

Will This Be The Look?

A business-property owner group wants to obtain a decision as to just what the material, design and cost of a proposed downtown business improvement program will cost. Here is an early sketch by City Manager J.A. Sadler depicting the possibility of a sidewalk, curb, planter and awning that suggests how a face-lifting would look.

5,227 For C-City County's Census At 9,073

Colorado City gained more than 300 in the final 1970 Census count.

Preliminary figures for the city's population last June brought a yelp of puzzlement from city and Chamber of Commerce officials.

At that time the Census Bureau reported only 4,915 population for Colorado City.

The new total is 5,227.

However, that still is a definite decrease from the 1960 Census of 6,457.

Even the new 5,227 figure is believed to be lower than the city's true population.

The 5,227 count allows only about 2 and a half persons for every water meter connected in the city. And that's an unheard-of rate of persons to meter connections.

Census Bureau reports 9,073 population for all of Mitchell County. This is a decline of almost 20 per cent from the 1960 Census of 11,255.

However, the 9,073 is higher than the 8,878 reported last summer in the preliminary count.

Westbrook is the Mitchell County community showing a gain in the '70 Census. It is listed with 298, up from 1960's 214.

Loraine's 1970 population is 700, according to Census Bureau. That is 137 less than 1960.

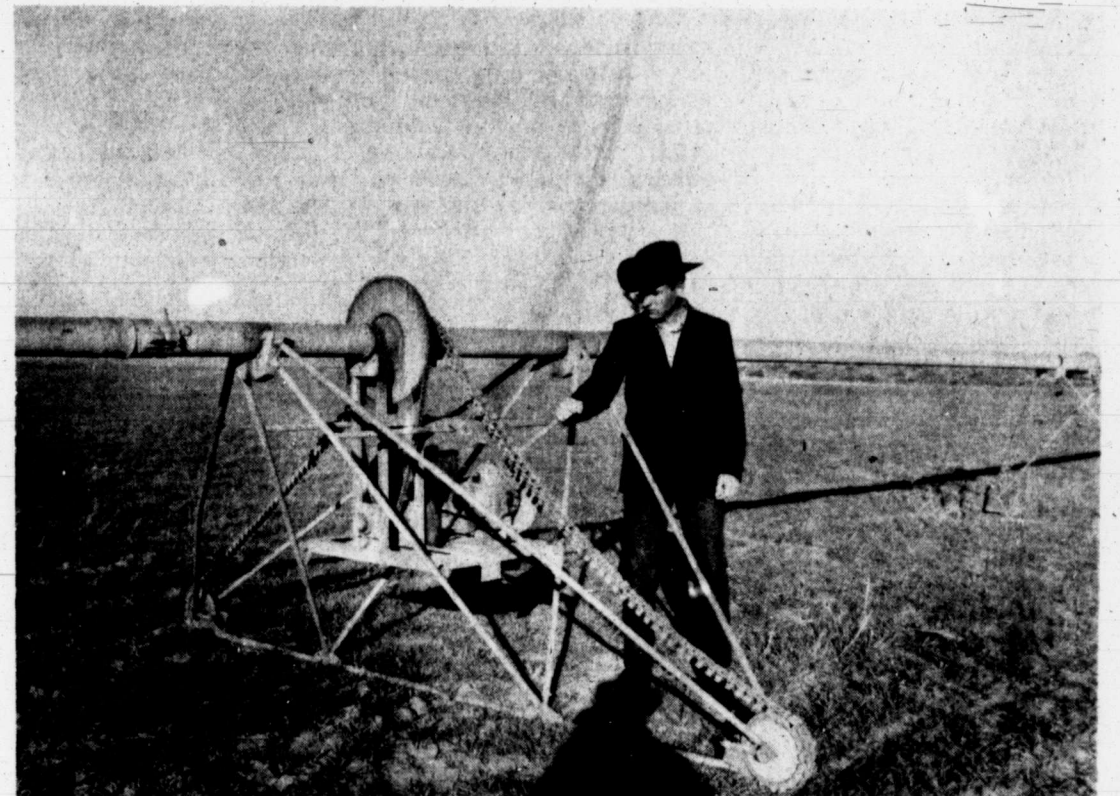

Colorado City, Loraine and Mitchell County are not alone in the downward trend of the new census.

Abilene and Taylor County showed a definite drop as did most of the other cities and counties in this West Texas area.

Declines were listed for Scurry County, 15,760 down from 1960's 20,369; Nolan, 16,220 down from 1960's 20,369.

Checking Irrigation Unit

Tommy Fuller, Mitchell Soil & Water Conservation District's outstanding conservation farmer, checks a power unit on his irrigation system which provides supplementary moisture for forage production in his stocker cattle operation.

Fuller Selected For Soil Award

A 32-year-old farmer who has incorporated seven major conservation practices in his farming operation is Mitchell Soil & Water District's 1970 outstanding conservation farmer.

He is Tommy Fuller, who returned to his home county for an agricultural career after eight years in the Ropesville area.

Selection of Fuller for the No. 1 conservation award was revealed this week by Travis

Turner, chairman of the conservation district's board of supervisors.

With the award the district places him in the statewide Texas Conservation Awards Program, originated by Fort Worth Press and now sponsored in its 15th year by Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce.

Fuller, who in 1969 was named outstanding young farmer cited by the district for his conservation farming on 420 acres he owns and 840 leased acres.

The district reported 12 major practices carried out on farm and ranch lands during the last fiscal year. Fuller's operation includes seven of those.

He had 391 acres in conservation cropping system during 1970. And for the same number of acres the award-winner used crop residue to improve his land and his crops.

Carrying out his coordinated conservation program, Fuller practiced contour farming on 391 acres, too.

He has constructed 40,875 feet of parallel terraces and rebuilt 38,220 feet of level terraces.

In the livestock portion of his diversified operation, Fuller has proper grazing usage on 20 acres.

For control of runoff and to conserve his soil for maximum production, he has shaped 3 acres of waterway.

Fuller and his wife, Betty, have been married for 12 years -- the same time he has been engaged in farming. They are parents of three children -- Beverly, 11; Kimberly, 7, and Brandon, 9 months.

They have been building their farming operation for 4 years since returning to Colorado City from Ropesville.

In church life, they are active in Calvary Baptist Church.

Waiver For Tax Contract

County Attorney Dan Barber signed a waiver Friday to clear the way for Mitchell County's contract for delinquent tax collection.

Commissioners Court had voted approval Tuesday for the contract with Austin attorney Jack McCreary, but the waiver from Barber was required.

"The county attorney delivered the signed waiver to me today," said County Judge Bill Carter.

"The contract is basically the same as that which the school board approved and calls for the usual 15 per cent for the collecting firm."

Colorado Independent School District voted Monday night to hire the Austin lawyer. Barber was listed on the school board's agenda for an appearance to discuss delinquent tax collection, but did not appear.

City Council was on the verge of voting on a proposal to hire McCreary also Monday night, but postponed action so they can hear a formal proposal from City Attorney Dell Barber in a special session this coming Monday night.

The county's contract will extend to Dec. 31, 1972, and will have a cutoff date next July for the contract collection.

Boys Club To Register Soon

Volunteers Saturday were busy applying paint to the Boys Club interior preparing for the club's registration Feb. 20.

Organizing the work party of Jaycees and others was Ted Burgoon, one of the prime organizers of the Boys Club project.

Burgoon will serve as a volunteer director for the club. This will enable the club to open and get its program underway immediately until a part-time director is permanently hired.

Directors of the new club have voted to broaden the age limit for club members. Membership age originally had been set at 8 to 15 years, but with the new decision it will be from 8 to 18 years, adding three more years to a boy's eligibility.

Registration for boys who desire to be members of the club will be Saturday, Feb. 20, at the club home in American Legion Hut. The main floor of the hut has been leased by the club for $85 per month.

Contributions for the club can be deposited in the club's account at City National Bank.

Members of the personnel committee for the club are Buck May, J.C. Britton, Robert Bracy and Kent Womack.

Estimates Lower On Heating

School board has authorized Supt. Lloyd McKee to have Colorado High's heating system boiler repaired at lowest cost possible.

Boiler experts believe the job can be done for $3,500 or few thousand more.

That's delightful news to school officials who first were advised that a complete new heating plant possibly would

County Pay Up Effective From Feb 1

Commissioners Court has stuck with a pay increase for precinct and Courthouse workers that has been planned in the county's 1971 budget since last summer.

The increase figures approximately 5 per cent based on average salaries.

Commissioners in recent weeks have discussed a suggestion by County Judge Bill Carter to look toward possibility of setting a type of job-pay classification for all county employees.

However, there has been no action and the approval of the pay increase built into new budget indicates such a change will not be coming soon.

An inquiry to Texas' Assistant Attorney General J.C. Davis informed the court that no other county within the state is known to have a job classification system. However, he did report that a bill concerning this type job-pay plan may be introduced into the Texas Legislature this session.

The new pay increase is effective Feb. 1 and boosts all precinct employees $26 per month in pay while all other employees receive a $15 per month hike.

Elected office holders receive a raise amounting to 4 per cent of their annual salary.

The 26 per cent precinct boost figures about 7 per cent for average precinct pay, according to Commissioner Marcus Vest.

"Overall it figures about 5 per cent," explained Vest.

Research Head Visits To Observe Jr. High Team Teaching

Colorado Junior High's new innovative teaching method will be checked in the classrooms Tuesday by the educational expert who is guiding the program.

Dr. Jean York, director of Research Development Center, University of Texas, Austin, will travel by plane for the one-day study assignment.

Expenses for her trip here is being paid by Region 14 Education Service Center in Abilene because the Colorado City team teaching project is a pilot program.

Principal Don Dulin and his teaching staff at Junior High have developed the program this year with special material from Dr. York.

Included in the program are teaching methods utilizing teams of teachers coordinating student studies, extensive use of teacher aides and special study programs with individual teacher-teacher aide attention for both students who are slower or faster learning a certain subject matter.

"It is a new avenue attempt to reach the kids with more individual attention... to make our teaching program more efficient," Dulin said.

"We are a pilot program with seven projects during the school year," the principal continued. "There is a project for each month with new teaching techniques using films, recordings, sound tapes and instruction teams."

"Pre and post study tests allow the kids to test and see their own progress."

Dr. York will meet with the 7th Grade large group lecture from 11:20 to 11:50 a.m. Tuesday. The large group lecture is for the entire 7th Grade, which after the lecture moves into various study labs and groups for more individual pursuit.

From the lecture, the research and development director will be with the small group study lab with four teachers -- B. G. Daniels, Randall Hicks, Lee Fry and Mrs. Wayne Griffin -- and teacher aides.

Dr. York also will observe See JR. HIGH Page 7

Ruth COFFEY'S CONVERSATION CORNER

BREATHES there a woman so long ago wed
She never to her spouse hath said
"Listen Honey, husband mine, Don't forget my Valentine!"

VALENTINES, tokens of love and affection, have long been dear to the hearts of nearly everybody -- from the littlest child making wobbly hearts to the oldest person you know.

Saint Valentine's Day was originally the day set to honor a Christian martyr of the 3rd century. Here in the 20th century it is the day for telling or showing somebody or other "You're a sweetheart."

Sending of valentines to beloved ones or to "beliked" ones has little or nothing to do with Saint Valentine. It does have to do with romance, very new or as old as the memories are. It has to do with friendship and admiration, too.

TREND in greeting cards, including valentines, favors the funny, ridiculous ones these days.

All us born sentimentalists still like the pretty ones, the fancy ones, the sugar is sweet ones.

Valentines always make you remember things like the big valentine box at school, little candy hearts, the first heart-shaped box of chocolates. . . and, more's the pity, the so-called comic valentines the meanest kids in the class used to send unsigned to the teachers.

Never had a teacher who deserved the dubious honor but comic valentines used to be an occupational hazard for even the prettiest teachers.

EVERY YEAR as valentine season approaches, this sentimentalist begins thinking of all the lovely valentines she intends to send favorite people. And every year she sends few if any.

Maybe that is what is meant by the old over-worked saying "The road to you-know-where is paved with good intentions."

It must be paved, too, with valentines not sent, letters not written, kind words left unsaid, love unexpressed.

AMONG the valentines not sent is one for the astronauts Shepard, Mitchell and Roosa. It would have read, "Admiration and devotion. . . You scared me silly 'til you hit that ocean."

Should have mailed one to our preacher to say "Whether I'm always present or not. . . This message means I like you a lot."

Harry Truman did not get this greeting going "Be my valentine, Mr. Truman. . . You're a favorite man 'cause you're so danged human."

Whoever nominated yours truly as "Housewife of the day" to bring a beautiful arrangement of pink carnations from Sue's Flowers needs to know . . . "This heart was made happy, this house was made gay. . . Hope YOU are happy, this Valentine's Day."

Record readers everywhere, here's the one you didn't get either--until now. "May you be glad this whole day long. . . And many your hearts be filled with song."

Explorer Post Organized Joe Jones New President

Explorer Post 131, under auspices of Boy Scouts of America, was organized here Thursday night in a meeting in Lone Wolf Electric's Medallion Room.

The new organization will be open to both boys and girls, ages 14-21, according to George Willis, Post advisor.

"Boys will pay a one dollar membership fee. Girls will be enrolled as participants, not actual members," Willis said.

"therefore they will not be qualified to serve as post president."

Joe Jones was elected president of the teen-age group in the initial business session. Marsha Nance was named secretary-treasurer.

Post meetings are set for alternating weeks with next meeting Tuesday night, 7:30 p. m. in Medallion Room.

On agenda for that session is the planning of Post weekly activities for the coming year.

Already in Post schedule, according to Willis, are action learning projects and participation in rodeo, driving, horsemanship, marksmanship, archery, mechanics, sewing, embroidery, knitting and crocheting.

Squirrelly Northcutt will direct the rodeo project and assist Willis in teaching horsemanship.

Other adults also volunteering leadership are Buddy Herbenberger, driving; Buzzy Rich, marksmanship; Mrs. Squirrelly Northcutt and Mrs. George Willis, needlecraft.

Preston Brady, industrial arts instructor at Colorado High School, will assist Post members in making bows and arrows in the archery project. Mrs. Carol Sue Dakan, CHS physical education teacher, will be archery instructor.

In announcing the new organization, Willis said that emphasis is placed on members learning and self reliance.

"It's the kids' program, not mine," the advisor continued. "What they plan, we as adult volunteers will see that they have the opportunity to carry through."

Adults with special skills interested in helping with Post projects are asked to contact Willis.

Chapel Rites For Mrs. Dearen

Funeral for Mrs. Frank Dearen was conducted Friday afternoon in Kiker and Son Chapel.

Mrs. Dearen, a resident of Mitchell County since 1913, died in local hospital Wednesday, just one day after the death of a sister, Miss Mable Lee.

Final rites were conducted by Rev. Fred Smith and Rev. Don Timberlake, pastor of Oak Street Baptist Church.

Burial was in Colorado City Cemetery under direction of Kiker and Son.

Pallbearers were Lester Horn, Virgil Eaton, Billy Ray Jackson, Bob Ramage, Dr. W. S. Rhode and Wendell Thomas.

Mrs. Dearen was born Lena Mae Lee Sept. 16, 1897. She came to Mitchell County in 1913 and was married to Frank P. Dearen Sept. 15, 1915, in Seven Wells Community.

She was a member of Oak Street Baptist Church.

Survivors are her husband of the home at 213 East 13th Street; four daughters - Mrs. Sherman Whitaker of Big Spring, Mrs. Spencer McCordle of Odessa, Mrs. Frances Goodson of Colorado City, Mrs. Dale Sawyer of Austin; one son, Wiley Dearen, of Farmington, N. M.

Also, seven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Mayor's Proclamation

8th Grade Registers

Parents are being urged to participate in the pre-registration at Colorado Junior High for the school's current 8th grade students.

The pre-registration for the student's 9th grade courses next fall is scheduled Friday, Feb. 19, according to Don Dulin, junior high principal.

Schedules are being distributed to students informing them of their time for their particular registration Friday.

"Next fall will be these students' first semester in high school," Dulin said, "and it is important for a parent or guardian to accompany their son or daughter and assist with the selection of 9th grade courses.

"The students really need their parents at this important time and we are urging them to accompany them to assist with the decision making.

Principal Wally Price of Colorado High, his assistant principal, Mike Burt, and Counselor Dalton Keeth will be present to assist with the registration and for conferences during their free-time period.

School administrators are urging parent interest in the pre-registration because it involves a major change in the student's educational program and, therefore, needs careful consideration.

proved before that day by resolution of either House of the Legislature.

(b) All rates of compensation, mileage allowances or per diem rates and all changes and recommendations made by the commission thereof shall not take effect until approved by resolution of both Houses of the Legislature.

"All votes on these resolutions or parts thereof shall show the individual votes in the respective journals of both Houses.

"(8) The commission shall investigate any alleged violation of any rule of ethics promulgated by it and report its findings to the appropriate State agency, official, legislative body, grand jury or district attorney.

"(9) Until otherwise provided by the commission, each member of the Legislature shall receive from the public treasury an annual salary of Four Thousand Eight Hundred Dollars ($4,800) per year and per diem not exceeding Twelve Dollars ($12) per day for the first 120 days only of each Regular Session and for 30 days of each Special Session of the Legislature. No Regular Session shall be of longer duration than 140 days. In addition to the per diem, the members of each House shall be entitled to mileage in going to and returning from the seat of government, which mileage shall not exceed Two Dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) for every twenty-five (25) miles, the distance to be computed by the nearest and most direct route of travel, from a table of distances prepared by the Controller to each county seat now or hereafter established; no member to be entitled to mileage for any extra session that may be called within one day after adjournment of the Regular or Called session.

"(10) The commission is further authorized to recommend to each Legislature changes which will update, improve, and effect economy in the legislative process."

BEGINNING TODAY

Mayor Issues Proclamation Of LVN 'Zip Code Week'

This week has been proclaimed as "Nurses Zip Code Week" in Colorado City and Mitchell County.

Mayor C. C. (Mike) Burt Friday morning issued the official proclamation "alerting citizens of the availability of zip code directories prepared and now on sale by Licensed Vocational Nurses Association."

Proceeds from the sale are to be used to further education of nurses in our area, according to a local spokesman for the LVN Association.

Programs of the group include scholarships, educational workshops, etc. to establish and maintain high standards of integrity, skill and dedication among its members to render increasingly effective aid and care to the sick.

The proclamation in its entirety follows:

"WHEREAS the Licensed Vocational Nurses of Mitchell County are devoted to the welfare and educational advancement of the vocational nurses of Colorado City, Mitchell County, and the people they serve; and

"WHEREAS the Association, in cooperation with the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners, aim to establish and maintain the high standards of integrity, skill and dedication among its members to render increasingly effective aid and care to the sick. Its program includes workshops and seminars. They are conducted in all areas of the state.

"I, therefore, as Mayor of Colorado City, do hereby proclaim this week of February 14-20 as L. V. Nurses Zip Code week. Signed C. C. Burt, Mayor of Colorado City, Texas."

Heart Month

Ten years ago, in February, 1961, the very first ceremonial reception presided over by the nation's First Lady was one for Debbie and Donna Horst of Chester, Penna., identical twins whose lives were saved by identical heart operations. Starting their second tour of duty as America's Heart Fund twins, they are shown against a photomural from the White House ceremony. At 16, they're still ardent Heart Fund boosters.
