

325,000 Pounds Wool Sold At Top Prices By Eldorado Firm

On The Divide

Pioneering drilling operations in Schleicher county long before oil production in the county was visioned by many, John O'Harrow 84, died at his home here Wednesday morning on the eve of what promises to be the opening of a producing field.

His belief that oil lay under the ranchlands of this county, his early efforts in locating the liquid gold in paying quantities and his steadfast convictions that oil would be found, might be termed largely responsible for oil development in Schleicher.

Unless it is on-the-road to the oil wells, 9 miles southeast of here, most activity about the city this week has been noted at the warehouse of the Eldorado Wool Company on the MKT tracks. The firm has had considerable activity during recent weeks as clips from throughout the section arrived at the docks and buyers inspected samples. Sales of 325,000 pounds of wool at top prices has been reported the last week.

Miss Bill Parker of Odessa is visiting friends and relatives in Eldorado. She will leave Monday for a three weeks tour to Washington, the New World's fair returning home by Ohio and other northern states. Miss Parker is one of the official chaperones on the tour for the 20 best citizens from Odessa High School. Mrs. A. D. Dorris, a sister also visiting here, will spend a week before returning to her home in Iraan.

Clyde Galbreath Buys City Barber And Beauty Shop

Clyde Galbreath, owner of the Eldorado Motor Company, has purchased the City Barber and Beauty shop it was announced this week. He took charge of the business Friday morning. The barber shop was bought from Johnny Isaacs and the Beauty Shop from W. C. Doyle who has had the barber shop leased from Mr. Isaacs for some time.

Employees of both shops will continue their work with the exception of Mr. Mercer who has accepted a position with the Post Office Barber Shop.

$28,000 Received From Government On Water System

As a portion of the WPA grant on the Eldorado municipal water and sewerage system recently completed, a check for $28,000 was received this week from the Federal Government, according to Mayor Leslie L. Baker.

The system was completed some time ago and this is the initial payment that has been received from WPA, it is understood. There yet remains $8,000 to be received in the near future, the Mayor pointed out.

Equalling top prices of the season, a total of 325,000 pounds of wool was sold this week at 24 1-2 to 26 cents by the Eldorado Wool & Mohair Company, it was announced Thursday morning by J. Ed Hill, owner.

Prices of 25 to 26 cents were received for all except 9,000 pounds which brought 24 1-2 cents, it was reported.

Wright Brothers purchased 275,000 pounds from the local firm while Hollowell, Jones and McDonald purchased 50,000 lbs.

Construction of an annex to the warehouse here is nearing completion which will provide 5100 feet additional floor space, sufficient to accommodate a half-million pounds of wool. Work on the building has been going forward for some time and is expected to be completed within the next few days.

Shipment of the wool sold this week is expected to be made over the week-end. More clips are arriving at the docks of the local concern, evidencing considerable activity.

Mrs. Ed Ratliff will leave soon for Oklahoma to visit with relatives a few days.

College Students Make Plans For Summer Vacation

Students who have been off-to-college for one or four years are filling the summer of plans for work, rest or play.

Probably the first to arrive was Helen Stanford from a San Antonio business college. She came home two or three weeks ago and will spend the summer at home.

Eloise Whitten and Dorothy Jarrett arrived last Thursday from Howard Rayne Brownwood. J. A. Whitten and Mrs. D. C. Royster motored to Brownwood for the girls, who plan on spending the vacation at home.

Ernestine Finnigan also plans for a summer with parents returned Sunday from John Tarleton at Stephenville.

Mrs. Ed Hill, Francis Thompson and Sarah Hill left Thursday for Austin to attend the University graduating exercises. Margaret Hill, a daughter of Mrs. Hill, will stay to attend summer school. She will receive her degree next February. They will be accompanied home by Jack Meador who has planned to spend the summer with parents.

Edward Meador, student at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, will arrive home Saturday. He plans to be at home with his parents for the summer. He will be accompanied by Johnny Clements who will also be here for the summer.

David E. DeLong came home Monday from A and M college for a few days of rest before going back to College Station for exercises in which he will receive his degree. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave DeLong; Mrs. Mathews of Amarillo. Mrs. S. D. Harp-er Mrs. Lawrence Steen and joined by Jetty Grace DeLong, a student in the University at Austin, will accompany him to A and M Thursday to be there for the commencement activities.

NOTICE TO CITIZENS OF ELDORADO

The week of June 5 to 9, inclusive, has been set as Clean-Up week in Eldorado. It is the aim of this campaign, sponsored by the Lions Club, to clean our city of all excess trash and unsightly objects etc., as a measure to protect both health and property.

For the convenience of citizens, the City Council will furnish a truck, which will pick up all trash placed in convenient places for loading. The truck will be in operation Thursday and Friday, last two days of the Clean-Up Campaign period.

The cooperation of every citizen of Eldorado is asked in making this Clean-Up campaign a success. In cleaning up your premises, the following objects should be carried out:

SPRING CLEANING — DISEASE PREVENTION
MESQUITO ERADICATION — BEAUTIFICATION
FIRE PREVENTION

ELDORADO CITY COUNCIL
ELDORADO LIONS CLUB

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN WILL BE HELD IN CITY JUNE 5-9; SPONSORED BY LIONS

4-H Boys Attend Club Encampment Near Tankersly

David Williams, Harold Williams, Nolan Potter, Bob Williams and John Sidney Williams, accompanied by W. G. Godwin, county agent, left Wednesday to attend the second annual district six, 4-H club encampment held in Foster Park, near Tankersly.

The encampment began Wednesday at four o'clock and will close this afternoon. The program for this year is varied in regard to recreation and 4-H club work in which R. E. Callender, wild life specialist is present as well as George W. Barnes, specialist in beef cattle; W. R. Nesbit, Specialist in sheep; M. R. Bently, agriculture Engineer; Cesar Hohn, soil and water specialist, and J. D. Prewitt, District Agent.

Wool House Rats Don New Suits, Shell Leading.

The Wool House Rats softball team emerged upon the field Monday night in bright red suits and caps and chalked up a victory against the Doodle Bugs with a score of 18 to 5. Envied by other teams of the league, considerable speculation is that additional teams will be outfitted in uniforms in the near future.

Interest in the game is holding its own, drawing large crowds each evening to witness the spectacular games under bright lights of the local field.

Leading in batting average in the league, up to Friday of last week is James Page with an average of .543. Johnnie Leudecke stacks up second with an average of .470. Others in the top ranks are 3rd, Earl Bryant, .444; 4th, S. P. McDonald, .433; 5th Ora Benson, .425; 6th, Dave Williamson, .415; 7th, Rip Griffin, .410; 8th, Robert Isaacs, .409; 9th, W. G. Godwin, .400; and 10th, Forrest Alexander, .379.

Wednesday evening the local girls team played a losing game with a girls team from San Angelo. The score was 16 to 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Martin were in Eldorado Wednesday.

In an effort to promote health protection and fire prevention in Eldorado, the local Lions Club and City Council are sponsoring a Clean-Up campaign during the week of June 5 to 9 inclusive.

Cooperation of every citizen is being asked in this drive to conduct a general spring cleaning of the city, it was stated this week by a Lions Club committee composed of Charles L. Dennis, Jack Ratliff and T. W. Barrow who have been in charge of arrangements. It is the object of the campaign to carry out a united drive of fire prevention, disease prevention, mesquite eradication as well as a beautification program.

Conditions in many sections of the city are not only unsightly, but might result in a source of disease, the committee pointed out. There are many fire hazards that should be eliminated and the general appearance of the city would be greatly improved by the elimination of many unsightly objects on vacant lots and various other places.

In order to make the drive a complete success and for the convenience of citizens, the city truck will be operated Thursday and Friday, last two days of the Clean-Up Drive, hauling rubbish to the city dump grounds. Trash from the premises of each resident should be placed in a convenient place for loading, the committee informed. The truck will make rounds over the entire town and there will be no charge for this service.

The LONE STAR THEATRE invites Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Harper to be their guests at the showing of "Devils Island" Sunday or Monday. Present clipping at box office.

Robert Carrothers Elected New Coach For Local School

Robert Carrothers of Dalhart was elected as the new coach of the local High School at a meeting of the school board May 29th, according to Leslie Baker, secretary.

Mr. Carrothers has been coach in Dalhart for the last few years and will assume duties here August 1.

Oil Struck In Lone Star No. 1; Expected To Be Commercial Producer

Prominent Church Leader To Be Here Saturday

Rev. Thos. W. Currie, D. D., head of the Austin Theological Seminary, will arrive in Eldorado on Saturday. He is to preach at the Presbyterian Church on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The local Presbyterians have been endeavoring for some time to secure Dr. Currie for a series of services, and have succeeded in engaging him for a few days before he takes up his summer engagement at Westminster Encampment, Kerrville.

Dr. Currie will come here direct from the meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., in Monrovia, North Carolina. He is the chairman of the Assembly's committee which is considering the matter of union with the Northern Presbyterian Church. He will be able to report the very latest developments in the matter of union.

According to the local pastor, N. P. Wilkinson, Rev. Currie is one of the leaders of the denomination. In 1930 he was the moderator of the General Assembly. For a good many years he has been head of the Seminary at Austin. Each summer he is the general director of the conferences at Westminster Encampment.

There is a possibility that Dr. Currie will arrive on Friday, and preach Friday night. But he is expected Saturday, and will preach that night, twice on Sunday, and again on Monday night. The public is invited to hear him.

Child Burned As Matches Ignite Clothing Wednesday

Lola Beth Ballew, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ballew, was severely burned Wednesday of this week when some matches she was playing with ignited her clothing. She was rushed to a local doctor who advised that she be taken to San Angelo due to the nature of the burns. The flames badly burned the child about the waist and abdomen. Her condition is reported as satisfactory but she will remain in a San Angelo hospital for a few days.

Bynum Accepts Position With Insurance Company

Weldon Bynum, who resigned his position as coach in the local High School, moved his family to Three Rivers today where he has accepted a position with the Community Life Insurance Company as manager of 17 towns, according to an interview with Bynum Thursday.

He also stated that he and his family will spend two weeks with relatives in Abilene before beginning his work with the Insurance Company.

Mr. Bynum has served in the local high school for the last four years as coach and Spanish teacher.

Mrs. Tommy Barrow returned recently from a visit with her sister.

Oil was struck in Lone Star Co.'s No. 1 Humble-Page well, nine miles southeast of Eldorado Saturday night and today was still shut in, but promises to be the first commercial producer of the area. Thursday morning when opened up the well flowed approximately 200 barrels of 37.3 corrected gravity oil in two hours according to information coming from the well.

The well was shut in awaiting 5-inch pipe expected to arrive Thursday afternoon. It is understood that running the pipe, cementing and waiting three days for cement to set and drilling the plug will require about a week before an actual test of the well will be made.

With Lone Star No. 1 promising to be Schleicher County's first producing oil well, Eldorado citizens are eagerly keeping watch over developments.

Lone Star No. 1 Shell-Page, east outpost and first test in the area to use a rotary, had drilled to about 4,900 feet. It was reported.

John F. O'Harrow Funeral Services Held Wednesday

Funeral services for John F. O'Harrow, 84, who died Wednesday, May 31, were held at four p. m. the same day at the First Baptist Church by the Rev. C. T. Aly, pastor of the Baptist Church. Burial was in Christoval cemetery.

A pioneer in oil work, Mr. O'Harrow launched drilling operations in northeastern Schleicher County. But his tests never found liquid gold in paying quantities. Throughout his life he maintained his convictions that oil would be found and today oil is bubbling from the Lone Star No. 1 a few miles south of the site of Mr. O'Harrow's drilling. Death comes to this pioneer on the eve of this promised oil field "Up here on the Divide."

Mr. O'Harrow, who had been in ill health for some time died here at the home of a daughter Wednesday morning at 5:25 o'clock.

Mr. O'Harrow, born in Alabama January 31, 1855, came to Texas in 1912. He has been a resident of this county the last 25 years, and a member of the First Baptist Church. He married Miss Eva Gibson who preceded him in death in 1916.

Pall bearers were Robert Whitley, Sam Williams, Walter Ramsey, Luke Thompson, Silas Burk and Bob Evans.

Survivors include a son, Van O'Harrow; and six daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Williams, Mrs. Jess Thompson, Mrs. Jack Whitley, Mrs. Robert Isaacs, and Mrs. Tom Miller of Eldorado and Mrs. Horace Chriseman of Fort Stockton.

Supt. Williamson To Leave Sunday For Austin

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Williamson are leaving today for Austin where Mr. Williamson, Superintendent of local schools, will enter Texas University for six weeks study.

Mr. Williamson will work on his Masters of Education degree. He and Mrs. Williamson will return to Eldorado in July.

DAZING THE FREE CITY

The controversy between Germany and Poland over the free city of Danzig, has created fresh interest in this Baltic seaport, once one of the most important in Europe. When it was founded is not known, but records show it to have been a considerable town as early as the year 997 and it is therefore some two centuries older than Berlin.During much of its early history Danzig was a free city, and as a member of the famous Han-seatic League of commercial cities during the Middle Ages it reached a high development in power and wealth. It declined in the 17th and 18th centuries as a result of the constant wars which ravaged northern Europe but has continued to be commercially prominent.

Danzig came under the rule of Prussia (Germany- at the close of the Napoleonic wars in 1814, and so remained until after the World War, when it again became a free city under the auspices of the League of Nations, although its foreign and diplomatic affairs and certain other functions, are conducted by Poland. Danzig is governed by its own legislative body of 72 members.The area described as the free city of Danzig is 754 square miles in extent, and contains three other smaller cities—Zoppot, Neutreich and Tiegendorf—and about 250 rural communities. The entire area has a population of about 407,000 of which number 95 per cent are Germans.Poland desires to maintain the present status of Danzig, while Hitler wants it returned to Germany. Thus a relatively insignificant piece of territory is the world's chief danger spot at the moment.

50,000 AIRPLANES

Captain Eddie Richenbacher, ranking American ace in the World War, suggests, in a recent article in Collier's, the construction of 50,000 airplanes as one of the solutions of this country's defense problem.He does not suggest military planes, but good, fast work horses of the air, convertible to some military use. The building of them would guarantee the maintenance of the industry's factories; the flying of them would mean training for thousands of pilots and mechanics, and a new era in transportation.In the long run, he continues, such a realistic project of air defense, domestic and transoceanic, should be of course, backed up by the conservation of those supplies vitaly needed for manufacturing airplanes. We are on the right track in embargoing scrap metal in building up supplies of rubber, tin, nickel and the other alloys of steel.We should certainly not monkey with the tariff, so as to let in foreign copper and other metals,
even for reciprocal advantages,

AUSTIN.—The black shadow of next summer's political campaigns—which has never been very far in the background—fell athwart the legislative halls last week, as the two houses maneu-vered for place.The Senate, which has hammered away for four months with every tool in its kit to make the House accept its plan of foisting a $50,000,000 sales tax constitutional amendment upon the people, and four times has been turned back by an undaunted House minority, opened the skirmish by adopting a resolution attempting to "reason" the House into doing what political sharpshooting, brute force, sulking and other tactics
on the part of the upper body, have failed to accomplish. It recited the background of the social security program, cited precedent for fixing tax rates for pensions in the Constitution, and urged the House to pass its sales tax amendment.

HOUSE HITS BACK

The House, as unconvinced by tardy "sweet reasonableness" by the Senate as it had been by repeated attempts to beat its ears down, promptly replied by adopting by an overwhelming vote, an omnibus tax bill calculated to raise, in the shape it left the House, about $16,000,000 annually for social security. It ups the taxes on oil and gas, sulphur, and levies a 1 percent sales tax on utility bills, motor car sales, and other "luxury" commodities. The vote was 110 to 25, as the sales bloc members scrambled to get on the band wagon, and write a record of "aiding the old folks."
Rep. Ross Hardin tried to substitute the gross receipts tax bill for the measure, and Rep. W. N.
Corry sought to kill it by striking out the enacting clauses. The floor fight for it was led by G. C. Morris of Greenville, leader of the anti-sales tax bloc.

Think Senate Will Take It

What the Senate will do with the bill is problematical at this writing, but majority opinion inclines to the belief the House has put the Senate in a spot, and thatwhich might have the tendency of shutting down small mines that would be of tremendous value in time of war. We should repair, as far as reasonably possible, any damages such a plan might do to the tragic now carried by the railroads.Sound advice, it seems to us, from one of America's most able and patriotic experts.opinion the Governor can "pour it on" the legislature for failure to give the old folks the $30 a month he promised everybody, and win again the votes of the oldsters which was his biggest bloc in 1938. Only the future can give the answer—but the action of the next two weeks in the two legislative halls may give an accurate key to it.

Ferguson Raises Feeble Voice

The sales tax advocates have never given up the battle, and many of them still cling to the hope that the House may be pressured into accepting it at the last minute. Ex-Gov. Jim Ferguson raised his now feeble voice in behalf of the constitutional amendment program this week, with a letter to legislators, declaring there are 400,000 persons in Texas over 65, and it will require $73,000,000 a year to pay them $15 a month.Still another black shadow was apparent in Austin, as underground channels reported the Federal Social Security administration will turn "thumbs down" on the "liberalized" pension law, which will admit from 50,000 to 100,000 new pensioners to the roll.
Removal of the ability of relatives to support old folks as a test for eligibility is said to have drawn unofficial opinion from Federal pension moguls that Uncle Sam will retire from the pension alliance with Texas when it takes effect, because it does not meet the Federal requirement of pensions for the "needy aged." If that happens, the whole pension snarl will be worse snarled, and a special session to undo the disastrous work of the present session is regarded virtually a certainty.The hour of reckoning is fast approaching. The old folks are due to learn the hard truth in Texas pretty soon—and that is that neither the 46th Legislature, nor Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel has long white whiskers or answers to the name of Santa Claus.

Cigarets Yield Millions

Cigaret smokers of Texas, who will take another 1-cent a package tax rap if the House omnibus bill is passed, contributed $7,027,- 531 in tax money to the state's till in 1938, said Sam Kimberlin, comptroller's deputy who looks after the collections. . . Gov. O'- Daniel also swung the veto ax on another bill by Clint Small designed to eliminate some appeals from district courts to Courts of Civil Appeals, on writs of error.
Lobby talk was that Secretary of State Tom Beauchamp, who often advises O'Daniel on legal matters, didn't like the bill and advised a veto. . . It's a felony offense now to break out of a jail in Texas.
Final okay was given by the governor to the bill authored by Senator W. E. Stone of Galveston, which grew out of a Galveston jail-break in which a guard was shot, and it was found the law provided no adequate penalty. . . The filibustering Senate, still trying to avoid a vote on the so-called fair trade act, took no final action on the county bond indebtedness bill, but debated the Clint Small substitute, already adopted, which would prevent a "grab" of millions by bond speculators, by repaying the counties only back payments on state-designated highway bonds, and leave the problem of the lateral road bonds to the counties to work out for themselves.

Canning Questionnaire

To Be Run a Series Of 3 Weeks

Vegetable canning time the country over invariably brings up troubling questions. There's recollection of something that didn't turn out so well last season or a doubt about the correct method for putting up a product that's never been tried before. While solution to all these problems are "in the back of the book somewhere," the homemaker so perplexed may find the simple answers to her question in the following questionnaire.

Q. What kind of a canner is needed for putting up green peas and beans?

A. Peas and Beans, like practically all vegetables but tomatoes, are non-acid foods, non-acid foods if canned, should be processed in a steam pressure canner. Only with one of these it is possible to get temperature of from 240 degrees to 250 degrees fahrenheit—the heat necessary to sterilize the vegetables within a reasonable length of time.

Q. Is it all right to use rubber rings a second time?

A. No, the best policy is to buy the rings new each year. They should be of good quality to withstand the temperature of processing. A simple test is to double the ring together and press the fold with the fingers. The rubber should not crack. A good rubber ring will also stretch to twice its length and snap back into shape.

Q. Does it make any difference what size of container is used for canning vegetables?

A. For most vegetables, pint or quart jars and number 2 or 3 tin cans are the best sizes. Pint jars and No 2 cans are best for tender, green peas, because they will become over-cooked and mushy with the longer processing needed for larger containers. If corn is canned in quart jars or number 3 cans it should be put up whole grain style-cut from the cob without scraping. It's well to keep the containers small because heat penetrates thick cream-style corn very slowly.

Questions will be answered next week on the method of canning.

Recent Bride And Groom Honored With Gift Tea

Yucca plant, saddles, grass, and cowboy statues were used in decorations to carry out a western theme for a gift shower given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Koy by a group of friends last Friday afternoon at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Koy, the former Mable Whitley, is a bride of one month. Nearly 150 guests were registered.

Friends dressed as cowgirls were in charge of arrangements. Billie Boyer presided at the register, Bonnie Mund served punch and cake squares from a table with a red and white checked cover, and Charlene Mund had charge of the program. Decorations were planned by Margaret Stewart. She was assisted by Bernice and Edith Bricker and Evelyn Anderson.

In seats of honor were Mrs. Jess Koy, the honored couple, and Mrs. Tobe Whitley.

The program included a reading by Genevieve Ramsey, a violin solo by Miss Oma Ford accompanied by Rosalyn Jones on the

Save Labor With Dropping Pits

"I don't know why I have not had dropping pits all these years as they do make the chicken house much more sanitary and too saves so much labor," is what Mrs. L. T. Wilson says of dropping pits which she and Mr. Wilson have recently constructed in her chicken house.

The dropping pits are approximately 18 inches high, four feet wide and extend across the back of the house. The cross pieces which are placed every nine inches apart are made of old bed slats. The frame is of lumber on hand and the two inch mesh wire that covers the top is some that was on hand. The dropping pits are fastened at the back on hinges that it might be raised from the front and cleaned out. The cost was nothing as all material was on hand.

piano, and a song. "The Last Round Up" sung by small children dressed as cowboys and cowgirls who presented gifts to the bride and groom in a small covered wagon.

Cowgirls were June and Jane Craig, Ebba Ann Finley, Joan Bowman, Barbara Smith, Edda Lou Meador, and Worth Lawhon. Cowboys were Wayne Davis, Charles Henry Mund, and Gerald Harris.

Self Culture Club Installs Officers At Last Meeting

Mrs. W. M. Davis was installed as the Self Culture club president at the final meeting of the club year in the home of Mrs. Hugh McAngus with Mrs. Will Steward and Mrs. John Williams as hostesses.

Final reports were given by officers and committee chairmen.

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, library representative, reported that 141 books had been added to the library since May 1, 1938. In reporting for the Scout Committee, Mrs. Montgomery stated that the club had assisted the girls in raising $18.60, given a party, helped the girls color Easter Eggs for a public hunt, and furnished a chaperon to accompany the girls to Carlsbad Cavern.

Mrs. J. L. Neill read a report prepared by Mrs. Reuben Dickens, secretary, and Mrs. W. M. Davis, president, made her yearly report. Yearbooks entitled "A Century of Progress" and dedicated to the "Golden Opportunities of the Present" were distributed.

Following the club collect roll call was answered with the program enjoyed most. Mrs. Edgar Spencer installed Mrs. Davis, president; Mrs. Wylie Ratliff, first vice-president; Mrs. Howard Aycock, second vice-president; Mrs. John Williams, third vice-president; Mrs. Reuben Dickens, secretary; and Miss Pauline West treasurer.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Weldon Bynum, a guest, and Mrs. O. E. Conner, Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Truett Stanford, Mrs. Neill, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. McAngus, Mrs. Steward, Mrs. Williams, and Miss Chris Enoch.

Buffet Supper Honors Two

Bonnie Mund entertained at her home Monday night with a buffet supper in honor of the birthday anniversary of Billie Boyer and Wendall Yates.

A three tier birthday cake centered the table. Blue larkspur and pink roses were used in decorations for the occasion.

Following supper the group went to the theatre.

Guests included Genevieve Ramsey, Norma Lynn Hodges, Charlene Mund, Nell Edmiston, Willie Bridgeman, L. D. Mund, Wallace Joiner, Joe Reynolds, Clifton Henderson, the honorees and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Buie Hosts At Dinner-Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Buie entertained with a dinner and bridge form members of the night bridge club at their home last Wednesday evening.

Following dinner bridge was played at four tables.

H. T. Finley won high score for men and Mrs. Luke Thompson was high for women.

Mrs. L. W. Ballew was the only guest included. Members present were Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Finley, Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Roach, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Rees, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Barber, Charlie Weatherly, Mrs. Jim Hoover and the hosts.

Mrs. F. J. Miller and children of Crane are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jack Etheridge this week. Mrs. Miller is a sister of Mrs. Etheridge.

Reynolds 4-H Girls Make Pajamas

Members of the Reynolds 4-H Club were taught by the agent, Margaret Stewart, how to make flat fell seams for pajamas they are making now, when they met Monday morning in the home of Mrs. C. N. Shaw.

During a short business session the club discussed ways of raising money to send a girl to short course in College Station this summer. One new member, Bertha Sauer, was recognized. Other members present include Fern Shaw, Josephine Faught, Gertrude and Irene Sauer.

like have been forced upon me lately. I'm travel-logged. I'm numb with travel. I've been on 'good-will' trips, ballyhooing the Buccaneer Days celebration to be held there this weekend, until every time I shut my eyes I see a long road rushing toward me and houses and fields and towns sliding by on either side. When I try to think, all that comes of it just a few disjointed, disconnected, and possibly distorted mental pictures that flash across my mind, only to fade quickly and be replaced by others. . . .

We're rolling into Sabinas Hidalgo, Mexican state of Tamaulipas. A mongrel dog gnaws at the carcass of a dead horse beside the road. The oncoming automobile frightens the dog. He streaks across the road ahead of us. Dick Furman fights the wheel to miss him and to avoid a possible wreck.

"You better get!" Dick yells, and blazes the horn.

The mongrel yowls his terror and gets faster. We miss him by a hair.

"He'd never have made it, if you hadn't given him an extra boost with that horn," comments Joe Mireur, city councilman.

A chunky blonde, fast getting sloppy with beer, sprawled on the beach of Mustang Island and digging her bare heels into the sand.

"Don't I have beautiful feet?" she coos, admiring them. "Just look at them! Aren't they pretty things?"

Mile-long thorny tangles of wild roses in lavish bloom south of Port Lavaca. Beautiful things.

The little age-shriveled Mexican peon, squatted down against an iron-grilled window of an adobe house in the Calle Zapata in Monterrey. His head is bare. His face is sunken in the cross of his arms upon his shrunken knees.

The hot sun burns down upon him. He assersby stumble against him. Flies hum and whine about his head. But he doesn't stir. Life's about done for him. Maybe he found it good. Maybe, bad. No matter. He's had his portion of it. And now he squats there, bony rump resting upon bony heels, just squatting and waiting for death to come take away the hull he once lived in.

In Gregory, a bus-load of us pile out to lavish our "good-will" upon the citizenry and invite it to attend our celebration in Corpus Christi.

With us are two "buccanettes," two little high-school girls, dressed in 'buccaneer' suits that reveal young and clean and beautiful limbs. They're a nice pair of kids, those girls are. Their smiling faces are good for a man to see.

But their lack of concealing raiment irritates a prudish old drug-store bench-warmer, who's seen his best days. Full of self-righteousness, he gets up off his bench and stalks off down the street.

"It just makes me mad to see a nekid woman!" he says out of the corner of his mouth that seeps tobacco juice.

The girls are embarrassed. I think: "Doggone, but you must be getting mighty old and 'ranky'."

RANCH TALK

This month's cover on the National Wool Grower magazine carries the letter from the Queen of England acknowledging the gift of the woolen material presented to her by the wool growers of the United States. The letter reads: To the President of the National Wool Growers Association: I am commanded by Her Majesty The Queen to express to you Her Majesty's sincere thanks for your letter of March 18th. I am further desired by The Queen to let you know that Her Majesty is graciously pleased to accept the woolen dress as a gift from your association, and to say how deeply touched The Queen is by this kind gesture on the part of the National Wool Growers Association. Her Majesty trusts that you will convey to the members of your association her deep appreciation of this present. Private Secretary to the Queen. The magazine's frontispiece showed the letter against the background of a sample of the material presented to England's First Lady.

The wethers averaged 66 pounds. He shipped two loads of wethers from Fort Stockton, 59 pounds, at 6 cents a pound, bought from Clayton Puhkett. The last of the week he leased 2,600 mixed wethers and ewes averaging 61 1-4 pounds, bought from Jim Mitchell in the Sander son country at 6 cents a pound. He has scheduled three shipments, 2,000 from Jim Mitchell on the 23rd, 1,400 from Ray Willoughby on the 31st and 3600 from Willoughby on the 5th.

I stop and buy a couple. The girls are delighted. But it's a mistake. Little dusty-footed gardenia petals suddenly appear from all corners, in swarms. A sucker's been found. They swamp us.

I finally just have to shove the little fellows rudely aside, to make room for the girls. Gardenias are lovely flowers. I'm as foolish about them as a girl. But I can't buy them by the thousands.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach often pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over. Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-an for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in no time and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 5c package proves it. Ask for Bell-an for Indigestion.

METHODIST CHURCH

"The little foxes." Solomon .15
It is the little things of life that give us the joy and zest of living—the friendly greeting of an acquaintance, the cheering word of a passer-by, the loving pat of a hand from a dear old friend, for a baby smile we will stop in the street. Few of us ever have many great days in life. Most of our days are commonplace and routine, but we can improve them by cultivating small virtues and brighten them by sacredly guarding the same. On the other hand, a number of small vices, neglected and ungoverned, will defeat the strongest.
