Dr. E. W. Jones Has Operation

Dr. E. W. Jones, beloved Wellington doctor, was reported as resting well Wednesday, following a major operation performed in St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday morning.

Although he had been feeling badly over a period of months, Dr. Jones had continued with his work here, until only a few days before his operation, which came as a surprise to many of his friends over the county.

Dr. Jones began his practice here in 1914, and since then he has become one of the best known physicians and surgeons in the entire lower Panhandle.

The operation was performed by Dr. J. T. Kruger of Lubbock, assisted by Dr. Calvin Jones of Pampa and Dr. Chas. B. Jones of Wellington.

Here at Dr. Jones' bedside since his operation have been his son, Dr. E. K. Jones of Dallas, Mrs. Dick Broyles of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCommas of Levelland, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Crews of Plainview, and Dr. Calvin Jones of Pampa.

Two Firemen To Attend Training School At A & M

Two members of the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department will attend the Firemen's School at A & M College, College Station, next week, Bo Yates, secretary of the department, said today. Members who will attend are Bill McDonald and Alfred Cross. This school, to which the local department sends men each year, will begin Monday, July 21, and continue through Friday.

Four members of the Wellington school faculty, and a fifth who was contracted here from Pleasant Point last year, are leaving the local system to accept work elsewhere, or are quitting the teaching profession.

This group includes John Williams, high school principal and athletic director; Mrs. Williams, a member of the English department; Ronald Davis, vocational agriculture instructor; Mrs. R.L.A. Clark of the English department; and Ray Wells, who taught commercial work here.

Mr. Williams, a member of the faculty for the last five years, has accepted a position with the Trinity Universal Insurance Company, which has headquarters in Dallas. Mr. Williams is a safety engineer for the company. For the first few months of his work, he will train with other members of his department, traveling over various parts of the state.

He is at present at Fort Sam Houston, where he is supervising the safety work of more than 400 building employees.

Mass Meeting Called On Cemetery Cleaning

In an effort to work out some definite plans for caring for the two Wellington cemeteries, a meeting of all interested citizens has been called for Friday night, July 18, at the courthouse in Wellington.

Taking the initiative in this movement are Dave Thomas and C. W. Roberts, both long-time residents of Wellington, who have called this meeting after talking with numerous citizens concerning the present condition of the two cemeteries.

"All of us know that our cemeteries need to be cleaned up, but since cemeteries are everybody's business, and nobody takes the lead in any move, we realize that they are now in pretty bad shape, as far as cleaning up is concerned," Mr. Thomas said.

The present interest may mean

Men and women who settled Collingsworth County 30 and more years ago, along with their families, will gather for the annual Old Settlers Reunion Thursday, August 14, at the LaHue Grove.

"It's going to be a time for us to remember and talk about those other days, and to visit with our friends who live in other counties and other states," Dave Thomas, who is in charge of the plans, said Monday.

As in other years, no formal entertainment has been planned, Mr. Thomas said. Guests will register and be given the official reunion badge which will admit them to the grounds.

Dinner will be spread on the ground at the noon hour.

"We want to urge all old settlers from this county who attend to bring well filled baskets, for we are expecting a large number of out of county visitors this year," Mr. Thomas said.

"It is necessary that we set a date limiting those eligible to attend, so this reunion is being planned for all persons who have lived in the county 30 years or over, and their families. However, if you lack a year or two of living here up to this time, and you feel you are an old timer, come ahead. We just had to set a time limit somewhere, our family was getting so big," he continued.

Plans are being made for several hundred persons to be in attendance. Further plans of the reunion will be announced next week.

County Ships 8 Cars Of Wheat This Season

Eight carloads of wheat have gone out of Collingsworth County to date this season, and between one and two cars are stored in a local warehouse, it was learned Wednesday morning from local railroad agents.

Five cars of this wheat have gone out of Dodson, while three cars have been shipped from Wellington.

A large portion of the wheat is believed to be already cut, according to buyers in the county, although it is uncertain just how much more grain to expect, it was added.

Most of the wheat now being sold is grading No. 2 or No. 3, and is testing from 50 to 57. The wheat is bringing from 84 to 88 cents on the local market.

Most of the harvesting is completed in the north part of the county, reports from that section indicate, with the crop in that area averaging around 10 bushels per acre.

Legislator Is City Visitor

State Representative Ennis Favors was a visitor in Wellington Saturday after having served in the longest session in the history of the state.

Rep. Favors says that all he's got to worry about is making a living. His pay as a legislator stopped when the session ended, because legislators are paid only for the time the legislature is in session. Unless there is a special session, which lasts only thirty days, the legislature will not meet again until January, 1943, he said.

Mr. Favors was active in passing numerous bills that benefitted the Panhandle, and was one of the sponsors of the Omnibus Tax Bill, known as H. B. No. 8, taxing oil, gas, sulphur, cement, transfer of corporation stock, etc., which was the largest tax bill ever to pass in the history of Texas, taking care of the entire Social Security Program, including old age pensions, teachers retirement fund, the blind and dependent children. In addition to this placing six million dollars per year in the debt ridden general revenue fund. This bill culminated a long and bitter fight, lasting over a period of years.

This legislature raised the 7,000-pound net truck load limit to 38,000-pound gross over all load, and passed the drivers license law (Continued on Page Ten)

Nazarene Group To Assemble Here In Oct.

Wellington will be host to the annual District Assembly of the Abilene District of the Church of the Nazarene, when it convenes October 29, 30, and 31, Rev. Hadley Hall, pastor, announced early this week. This is one of the outstanding meetings of the Church in the entire state.

Pastors, delegates, and visitors from more than 70 churches will be present, and at least 400 or 500 guests are expected to attend the three-day convention.

Dr. J. B. Chapman, general superintendent of the Church, will be in charge. "The Assembly has been held in Wellington twice before and officials have expressed the belief that it was entertained better here than anywhere it has convened," Rev. Hall declared.

Already plans are being made for this Assembly, which in addition to being one of the outstanding meetings of that Church in the state, will probably be the largest Church event held in Wellington this year.

Pots and pans from Collingsworth County kitchens will help to furnish material for the nation's vital defense industries through a drive to collect used aluminum Judge C. C. Bishop, chairman of the drive, announced today.

In one week's drive, July 21 to 26, community workers will contact every home in the county requesting housewives to give their worn-out and unneeded aluminum vessels to the defense cause. This drive is similar to other drives that will be held throughout the nation during the week.

"The nation needs aluminum for planes and other vital items in its defense program more rapidly than existing facilities can produce it," Judge Bishop, who was recently named to this post by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, said. "Additional facilities are being constructed as quickly as possible. In the meantime, the people of the nation can help by donating all used aluminumware that can be spared from their households without being replaced. All aluminum will be used exclusively for national defense."

Mayor Pink Sullivan and St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary will be in charge of the drive in Wellington. Boy Scouts will do the actual canvassing within the city, calling at every home here. All aluminum will be stored in the warehouse of the Sullivan Furniture and Implement Co.

Workers for the various communities were named by Judge Bishop Saturday.

Preceding the drive, on Friday afternoon, July 18 a free show will be given at the Ritz Theatre, Paul Cornwell, manager, has announced, the admission to which will be one piece of used aluminumware. This offer is for all boys and girls under fifteen years old.

As a climax to the drive, all aluminum collected will be piled on the courthouse lawn Saturday, July 26, the closing day of the drive.

"While we are requested to give all used or unneeded aluminum, no housewife is expected to give away anything that would require her to replace with new utensils," Judge Bishop pointed out.

"Our people here have proved themselves extremely patriotic, and anxious to help our government in every possible way. Because of this, it is the feeling of all those connected with the drive that there will be a hearty response to the government's need for aluminumware."

Workers for the various communities who have been appointed include: Dozier, Mrs. Gus Gooch; Quail, Mrs. Walter Starr; Dodson, Tobe Deahl; Samnorwood, Cecil Brown; Lutie, Mrs. Joe Rountree; Aberdeen, Mrs. Jim Light; Shiner, Mrs. Drury Lacy; Fresno, Mrs. Earl Rudrudy; Kelley, Mrs. Fletcher White; Seale, Mrs. Andy (Continued on Page Ten)

Much interest is being shown in the meeting, and both the pastor and members predict an outstanding revival for the church.

Richards Child Cut When Swing Breaks Thursday

Bonita Richards, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Richards of the Lillie community, was painfully cut in the left side Thursday, July 10, when the swing in which she was swinging broke, and the hook by which it was suspended caught in her side.

A deep semi-circular gash about six inches in length was cut. Only a small amount of muscle was cut, and the child's injury was not considered serious. Her condition is now reported as improving rapidly.

The accident occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mat Eiland, where the child had gone with her mother to attend a quilting.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

When you read this I will be sweltering in the heat at College Station. I am going down there to find out more about how they hold the short courses at A. & M.

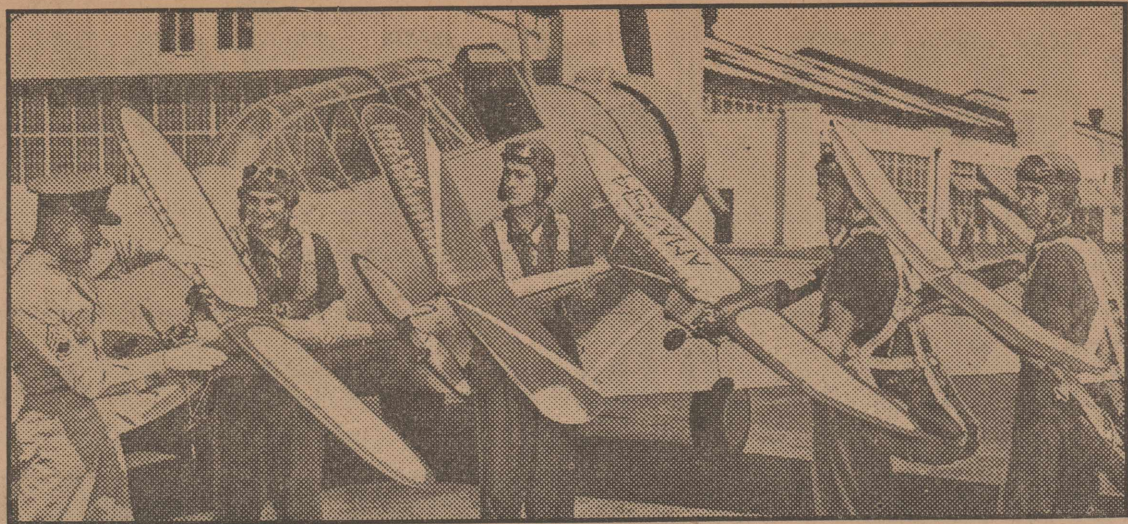

Ordinarily I would leave without explanations. But due to the fact that I have been laid up for the past six weeks, this column has appeared now and then. Frankly, I am surprised at the comment. I thank each one of you and all of you.

The stars must not be right for my family. As soon as I started working after my eye trouble, my wife started doing things. Last week I told you about the dress she ruined trying to save money. Here is the rest of the story: She took my advice literally about the need of canning fruit and vegetables. As a result she dropped a pressure cooker and broke a bone in her foot while trying to can $1.50 worth of beans. I do not know what the X-ray picture of her foot will cost, but I suspect that it will cost more than the beans were worth. Well, it is all Old Man McBroome's fault anyhow. If he had not raised the beans, my wife would not have thought of canning them. If she had not thought of canning them, there would be no doctor bill to pay.

Even so, my friends, it is high time to put up all the fruit and vegetables you can. There will come a day when you will know exactly and quite clearly what I am talking about now.

What would happen if a solid foot of water dropped from the skies? I have wondered about that since I was seven years old. It would be awful. Finally I have some figures from Lloyd L. Long of Dallas. He says that water weighs 62.4 pounds per cubic foot. A tenth-inch rain weighs .52 pounds per square foot and one square mile of such rain weighs 14,994,000 pounds. This is the recipe. If you want to know how much fell on a section southeast of town in forty minutes just multiply 14,994,000 by 50 and you will have the weight of water that fell. The only error will be in the fact that this is calculated on the basis of 5 inches of rainfall. It rained more than that in places.

Ed Crawford laid by his crop and rushed in to town to pay me. Furthermore, we made another wager. Ed says that the United States will have sunk a German boat, submarine or shot down one of their airplanes by August 11. Ed and I do our business on the open scale. The shooting or sinking must be recognized officially and so interpreted to us common citizens before either of us will claim our soda pop.

Now, let's get down to corn shucking. Should I say cotton chopping? Cotton will be at parity or above this fall. That means 15c or better. The acreage report showed the smallest planting in 46 years. It was 23,934,000 acres which normally would indicate a production something less than 10,000,000 as compared with 12,566,000 last year. The low down is that it will be less than the normal expectancy, because of dry weather east of the Mississippi, floods in the dry belt and heavy insect infestation.

Shades of Arthur Brisbane and General Mitchell. Germany is now fighting a two front war because of the supreme importance of air power. If they do not take Moscow in the required time, it will be because of the RAF. The British attacks will have forced them to shift part of the Luftwaffe back to the western front. There is still much to learn about the true strength of Russia, but the need for the United States having the greatest air force in the world is clear and real.

Herschel Combs has just shown me a letter which says that paper mills have been ordered by the government to reduce their daily consumption of chlorine. This is used in bleaching white paper like your business letterheads are printed on. All this means is that the paper on your next commercial paper will not be quite as bright. However, we have some of the pre-war stuff in stock if you want to buy it during the summer months.

This week I am hoping to receive a few kind words from the men, because I intend to tell them how to handle their wives. The recipe follows: When she leaves, simply buy something so big and so expensive that she will have to do without everything she likes for the next two years. As long as you are poor and deep in debt the average wife will stick to you tighter than a drum and work for you like a slave. If you get rich and prosperous, she will figure that she was the cause of it and will be hard to handle. Postscript to the men: Don't take this advice too literally.

"But why, Mr. Wells, do you give advice in one paragraph and then countermand it in a postscript? What you say about the fealty of the wife when the husband is in debt and distress no doubt is true. It may be the reason why editors have such good wives, why there is so little divorce in editors' families. But it can't be true that when the old man becomes prosperous that friend wife thinks she is the cause of his prosperity. On the contrary, she will think it is because friend husband is a genius and that she was very lucky to have married him. As for publishers, they never get through with buying things for the office. There never was a printing office that had enough equipment in it. Something else is forever needed. There may be a hundred cases of type, but another size is needed, or another face, or some addition of quads and spaces and brass rule. If the wife never spent anything until the old man's office got all it needed she would have scarcely a rag on her back."

Mrs. Besse Willkie of Dallas was a guest last week of Mrs. Floyd Thompson of Lutie.

Second CAA Course Planned For Childress

Another opportunity for young men of the southeastern Panhandle to learn to fly at a small cost will be offered in Childress if a sufficient number of students are available.

A second CAA civil pilot training course will be offered to young men only between 19 and 25, inclusively, and applications must be submitted immediately to the Childress chamber of commerce.

The ground course will cost $6 for medical examination and $3 for textbooks. The ten top students will receive flight scholarships and will receive actual flight training.

The group who received scholarships in the first course, offered here during the spring, are now learning to fly at the municipal airport.

Young men who took the first ground course but did not receive flight scholarships are eligible to take the second course and for them, physical examinations will not be required.

NOT ALL PIONEERS RODE IN COVERED WAGONS . . .

● Establishing and maintaining a Dependable Natural Gas Service requires years of pioneering—in exploring for Gas fields, drilling and producing Gas, and bringing it to market—often under the most difficult working conditions.

● The covered wagon pioneers were famed for their resourcefulness, their pluck and determination to succeed. The story of the development of Natural Gas Service is likewise one of courage, persistence, and accomplishment in the face of odds.

● And the pioneering is not ended. The employes of this Company and associated Companies are constantly at it . . . exploring new fields, far from home and comfort . . . "roughnecking" on drilling location . . . building pipe lines through forest and swamp . . . all to help perfect and preserve the reliability of our service and make it available to still wider markets.

Cotton May Be Destroyed For Stamp Plan

It is permissible for Collingsworth County producers to dispose of cotton to comply with the supplementary cotton program to bring their acreage reduction in line with the reduction indicated on their intention sheets, J. C. Emmert, chairman of the Collingsworth County AAA committee, has announced.

This is made possible, Emmert explained, by the recent amendment to the 1941 agricultural conservation program which provides that acreage will not be considered as planted to cotton if the cotton is disposed of before reaching the bolling stage or within 10 days after notice of the seeded acreage is given, whichever is later.

"Under no circumstances, however, may a cotton producer receive cotton stamps for reducing more acreage than he signed on his original intention sheet on the cotton stamp program," Mr. Emmert pointed out.

"To make this ruling clearer," Mr. Emmert said, "assume, just for illustration to bring out my point, that a cotton producer has a 1941 cotton allotment of 50 acres, planted 50 acres in 1940, and to receive cotton stamps, indicated a reduction of 2 acres. This would permit 48 acres to be planted to cotton for this year. However, when the cotton acreage was measured, he showed 49 acres planted. He would be allowed to dispose of one acre to come within his intended 48 acres but he would not receive cotton stamps on more than two acres since this was the amount signed on his original intention sheet."

Under the original definition of cotton, the acreage of cotton disposed of below the acreage allotment would still be classified as acreage planted to cotton.

The amendment also provides that if cotton is seeded but does not reach maturity, the smaller of (1) the acreage seeded to cotton, (2) 3 acres, or (3) 3 percent of the 1941 cotton allotment will be considered as having been planted to cotton. This provision was made, the AAA official pointed out, so that farms will not show zero acres of cotton when cotton was actually seeded.

The new amendment also permits producers to dispose of cotton acreage to come within total-soil-depleting acreages. By this method, deductions for over-planting total soil-depleting allotments will be avoided.

Room At Low Cost Planned By Miss Koen

Through work experience gained on the Wellington NYA girls production center and related training classes under the direction of Miss Alegra Gibbs, vocational educational instructor, Loeva Koen, Wellington, furnished her bedroom at her home throughout at a very nominal cost.

First with the aid of her father she constructed a bed which cost, including the stains, $4.13. Next she purchased a salt barrel for twenty-five cents and upholstered it with the same material with which she made curtains and a dressing table skirt.

After papering the room, she further cut expenses by cutting the border from the paper.

The dressing table was constructed of orange crates and a discarded dresser top. Securing a high top dresser, she made a chest of drawers by removing the mirror which she used over the dressing table, removing the paint with lye and then, following a treatment of vinegar, sandpapering and staining.

Tanner Child Drowns In Tank Near Nicholson

Collingsworth County's first drowning victim this year was Jimmie Wayne Tanner, 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Tanner of Nicholson, who was drowned in a stock tank at his home Monday afternoon, July 7.

The child was playing in the yard with other children early in the afternoon, but was later missed from the group. Searching continued until after 5 o'clock, when the child's body was found floating in the tank. Mr. Tanner rushed the baby to Shamrock, but he was pronounced already dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Tanner moved to Nicholson last year, having previously lived at Antlers, Okla., and Cedar Lake, where the baby was born March 17, 1940. In addition to his parents, the little boy is survived by one brother, Jackie Lee Tanner, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Tanner of Antlers, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Myers of Davis, Okla.

Funeral services were conducted from the First Methodist Church in Shamrock Tuesday evening, with Rev. A. C. Haynes in charge. Pall bearers were R. B. Furgerson, C. R. Lox, M. H. Harkins and Louis Knoll. Flower girls were Mary Frances Hayes, Bonnie Lee Furgerson, Mary Sparkman, and Norma Fay Hodges.

Burial was at Shamrock.

OFF TO EVEN START

A fair start for every entrant in the 1941 All-American Soap Box Derby, at Derby Downs in Pampa on Thursday and Friday night, July 17 and 18, is assured by the automatic starting device, that drops each contestant from the ramp at the same time. As the starter's flag falls, and the timer's watch starts ticking off the seconds, the ramp falls and the speedy little cars are off to an even start.

Farm Security Notes

By EDNA PETTIT

PEACHES ARE PLENTIFUL

"The biggest peach year since the record-breaking crop of '31" is what crop reporters in the U. S. Department of Agriculture are predicting for 1941. They fully expect this year's crop to walk away with honors of "third largest on record."

In other words, by even the most conservative estimates, there'll be plenty of peaches this summer.

Peaches come in white and yellow, with cling and free stones. Yellow fleshed peaches outrank the white-fleshed varieties in food value, chiefly because they are such a good source of vitamin A. According to home economists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, a medium-sized dish of yellow peaches will supply about one-third of the vitamin A an adult needs for a day. This vitamin, of course, is needed by both grown-ups and children for good nutrition.

Other than vitamin A, there's little difference in food value among peaches. Usually it is personal preference and the way you intend to use peaches that decides the kind you buy.

Except for the very early ones, "clings" are usually not eaten fresh. However, they are especially suitable for cooking, for pickling, and for commercial canning.

Most home canners prefer mid-season or late yellow-fleshed peaches. Some of the well-known varieties in this class are Elberta, Salway, J. H. Hale, Late Crawford, and Smock. For those who prefer to can white-fleshed peaches, Belle, Hiley, and Champion are three varieties that fill the bill.

No matter what variety of peach you buy, look carefully at its complexion the real background color of the peach skin under its rosy markings. This peach complexion should be whitish-green or yellowish. If it is dark green instead, you can be pretty sure the peach will never ripen satisfactorily. Instead it will shrivel, be tough and rubbery, and have little flavor.

Naturally, any careful buyer will avoid peaches that show obvious signs of inferior quality. These include brown spots of peach rot, worm holes, and growth cracks.

For most purposes, firm-ripe peaches are the best. If you're going to eat them the same day you buy them, soft-ripe peaches are satisfactory. And if you're buying a large quantity to use gradually, even slightly underripe peaches are suitable, if their ground color is whitish-green or yellowish. Leave them out at room temperature to ripen.

In peach season, and especially at the beginning of it, most peach fanciers like this fruit served simply, sliced, with cream and sugar. Do not peel the peaches long ahead of time, or they'll turn blackish where they are exposed to the air.

Neither cooking nor canning changes the food value of the peach enough to make any difference.

Complete directions for canning peaches, with exact processing time for different altitudes may be found in "Home Canning of Fruits, Vegetables, and Meats," Farmer's Bulletin 1762 of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Single copies may be obtained free from the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Major Cooper of Oklahoma City and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Chandler and small daughter of Eric, Okla., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Floyd.

Bobo Castleberry, who has been attending the summer session of the University of Texas, returned Tuesday to spend the remainder of the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Castleberry.

Tunney Predicts Army Champion

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Gene Tunney thinks the national preparedness program will produce the guy who can lick Joe Louis.

"I haven't seen the next champion yet," he declared today, "but it is certain that he is now in training."

The man who came out of the Marine corps to win the world heavyweight title speaks with added authority because he is taking an active part in one phase of the program.

As a lieutenant commander in the reserve, he has the job of coordinating the physical training of navy fliers with their flight instruction.

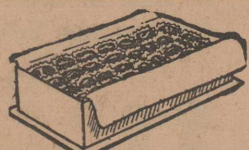

Tunney has a world of respect for the physical ability of the men in the army, navy and marine corps.

The rigid physical requirements of the service today will bring out the boy who will dethrone Joe Louis," he asserted.

"The new champion will be even greater than Louis."

Boxing is stressed by Tunney in working with the fliers because the sport "develops self discipline, fortitude, self reliance and courage."

Mrs. Alabam Sumner and children of Shamrock and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Smith and baby of Amarillo visited Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Weir last Sunday. Their arrival was a birthday surprise for H. F. Weir.

Texas Products Fill Needs, From Cradle To Grave

AUSTIN.—From the cradle to the grave, in business, industry, the home, the school, the office—you can find Texas-made products to fill your need.

A check-list of products turned out by Texas factories compiled by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research—the fourth Directory of Texas Manufacturers, just off the press—reveals 5,326 types of articles, produced by more than 9,000 firms.

Your children can play with Texas-made toys, use Texas-manufactured school supplies—and at the other end of the life span, when your loved ones die, you can obtain Texas-made caskets, undertakers' supplies, and unknown to most Texans, monuments made from Texas granites and marbles.

You can live in a house built from Texas lumber, cement and stone—or even in a portable or a ready-cut house. You can furnish it with Texas-made furniture from nursery to kitchen, in "antiques" or the latest streamlined chromium designs. You can sleep on a Texas-made mattress, eat from a Texas-made table cloth, and even wash your Texas-made pottery dishes in a Texas-made mechanical dishwasher.

Your table can be supplied with Texas-processed foods—from soup to nuts, from Mexican food to spaghetti, cereal to wine, and including cheese, honey, potato chips, mushrooms, syrup, all kinds of fruits, vegetables, meats and seafood.

You can wear dresses, shirts, trousers, hats, hose, gloves, ties, and lingerie made in Texas, and can "glamorize" yourself with Texas-made cosmetics, perfumes, hair-oils and jewelry.

You can buy Texas-made office supplies, oil field supplies, machinery of all kinds, custom-built airplanes, burglar alarms, pumps, reservoirs, tractors, trailers, valves, wigs and windmills.

And oh yes, if you need a ship built—Texas shipyards can build it!

Fire Alarm Breaks Up Fire Meeting

For the first time in the history of the Wellington Fire Department, a fire alarm came in while the firemen were holding their regular meeting.

Giant Radishes Produced In City This Year

Not only is Wellington giving promise of normal crops, but she is outdoing herself this year, if two radishes brought to The Wellington Leader last week are an indication. These two measured more than a foot in length, and more than six inches around. They were raised by S. H. Vaught of Wellington.

The radishes were brought to The Leader office by two of Mr. Vaught's young friends, Dale Jarvis and J. B. Anderson.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Harper returned Tuesday morning from Dallas, where Mrs. Harper's nephew, Byron Herron, underwent a serious lung operation Monday. Mr. Herron's case proved an unusual one at the hospital where he underwent the operation. His left lung had three lobes while his right one had only two, just opposite to the usual position of the lungs. His heart had previously been found by X-rays to be on the right side of his body, rather than on the left side.

Mrs. J. W. Harper Tells Kiwanians Of City Improvement

Wellington's point of beauty, as well as its urgent needs were pointed out Friday when Mrs. J. W. Harper spoke before members of the Kiwanis Club on "Civic Improvement."

Naming improvements which might be made, Mrs. Harper listed painting of houses, planting of more trees and flowers, operation of a well supervised swimming pool, and the cutting of weeds on vacant lots.

The city's churches, schools, hospitals, courthouse, and federal building she named as examples of town beauty spots, and described how the entire town might be made more attractive by applying the same methods of cleanliness and care given these buildings and their grounds.

In closing, Mrs. Harper described towns which have become nationally famous because they worked to bring out some point, giving as examples Tallahoma, Tenn., Natchez, Miss., New Orleans, and Tyler.

Cotton -- Paradox of World War II

We have given up the foreign markets for our greatest export crop as part of a national policy which seeks in this second World War a victory for the democracies.

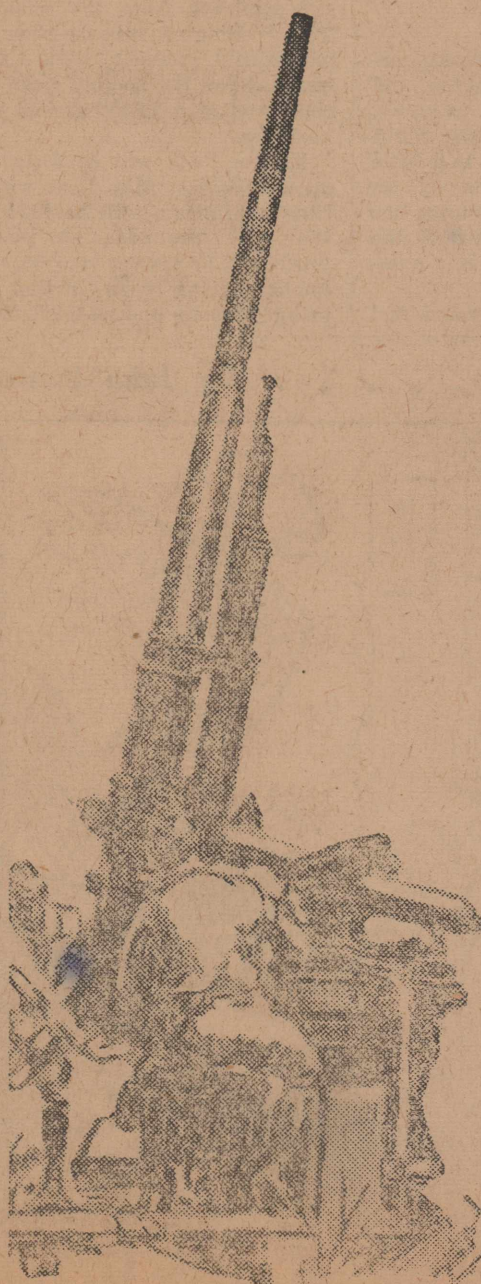

Thus we have the paradox of the American cotton industry, the first internationalist, purposely sacrificed to a war from which we hope to retrieve free international trade for the future.

There is no one who would deny that what has been done to cotton exports is a national responsibility. It is part and parcel of the whole problem of American defense.

The responsibility which America has for cotton can be discharged in great measure by individual citizens as cotton consumers. Americans can demonstrate the same loyalty to cotton which cotton is demonstrating to America. They can combine personal advantage with practical patriotism by buying enough American cotton at home to offset the temporarily abandoned foreign markets.

When we buy cotton we build America's future.

Editorial

For many months it has been felt that some definite plan should be worked out that the two cemeteries in Wellington might be cared for. Almost every person who has been to either of these is of the same opinion, but because there are so many people to have a part in any move that might be undertaken, nothing was done until recent weeks.

On Friday night of this week, a mass meeting is to be held, and an attempt will be made to form a cemetery association, or to work out some plan to care for the cemeteries.

Just now, the chief need is to cut the weeds in both plots of ground. Any number of individuals are caring for lots owned by their families, but there are many more families no longer living here who are unable to return to keep their lots clean.

Wellington's cemeteries need our attention. It will take little money on the part of each individual, but the rewards from our time and our effort spent will be not only clean cemeteries, but a deep feeling of satisfaction within our own selves for the care we give them.

Few Americans had any interest in the island of Iceland until recently, when it became virtually an outpost of the United States. Its importance as a base for naval and airplane operations is very great in the present war, in spite of its high latitude.

In 1939 the Germans sought permission to establish bases for an air service between Germany and Iceland, but at that time Prime Minister Jonasson said no foreign company would be granted any air concession. He at first protested against the establishment of a military base in Iceland by Britain, but later agreed, and it is estimated that about 60,000 British troops, with accompanying naval and air units, are on the island.

At the suggestion of Britain, Premier Jonasson recently invited the United States to replace a portion of the British, and upon this invitation President Roosevelt ordered American military forces to Iceland. It is agreed that there will be no interference with the island's government, and that the Americans will be withdrawn at the end of the war.

• Cure For High Cost Of Living

If you are one of those housewives who are worried about the high cost of living here is a solution that may help—and it's free too, so take it for what it's worth. Right now and right here in Harmon County you can find the greatest quantity of peaches and plums that the area has ever produced. In a short time now gardens will begin producing in full swing and this is your big opportunity to cash in before high prices come later on this year. By shopping around a bit you can find fruit that is excellent for canning, making jellies and preserves. Farmers are going to have worlds of it and much of it is going to waste if you don't take advantage of this opportunity, a rare one at that for this section. Even now your local grocers are frank to tell you that food prices which already are advancing are likely to go higher, so take advantage of this golden opportunity.—Hollis Weekly News.

• More Soldier Per Man

There are at least 10,000,000 more pounds of soldier in the army than there were when the army inducted its first million recruits. That's because the average soldier gained 10 pounds in his first three weeks in the army.

We have the word of the food consultants of the quartermaster corps for this, and it sounds pleasantly on the ear. Most of those men thought they were, and they were, in fairly good physical shape, or they would not have been inducted at all. But the first three weeks showed that there was room for improvement.

That's one of the best ways to increase the power of American defense: not necessarily more soldiers, but more soldier per man.—The Prairie.

• Honest Union Members

The conviction is growing over the country that many of the labor unions are controlled and run by Communists. A good many sincere and honest workers have gotten themselves involved in a machine that rules their every move and makes their decisions for them. They know of no way to escape. Some day they will wake up and there will be a royal housecleaning. It will be an Emancipation day for labor and the country, too.—J. Emerson Edwards in The Tyler Journal.

That Reminds Me . . .

By RALPH HERBERT

More employment in the United States, meaning more wages, meaning more money with which to buy things, plus a program to help feed Great Britain—these things give a rosy tinge nowadays to the prospects of the American farmer.

The lads who do the juggling with statistics in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, are chock full of optimism as regards the one-time lean purse of the man who tilled the soil.

Recently the average monthly expenditure for defense was around 900 million dollars and still on the rise. Last year only about 17 per cent of this was being spent monthly.

With money in their pockets, people are going to find ways of spending it. Much of it will go for food and clothing. In addition, the Department of Agriculture is in the market for foodstuffs, partly for the relief and better nutrition programs of the government, but equally so to provide food for Great Britain under the Lend Lease Act.

Of course, the farmer is not having it all his own way. Offsetting, in part, the higher prices he is getting for his products, is the fact that he is also paying more for commodities he needs and more for farm wages.

Taking 100 as the index number for the years 1910-14, in May of last year the prices the farmer received were but 98 but the prices the farmer paid for things were represented by 123. So the ratio of prices paid to those received gives the buying power of farm products. It works out at 80 for May, 1940.

In May, 1941, the index figure for prices the farmers received was 112 and for prices he paid was 125. So the buying power of his farm products was 90, or 10 more than a year ago.

The government thinks there is every probability that high prices for farm products will continue to prevail for the balance of this year. This is true of fruits, vegetables, cotton, wheat and livestock. Farmers, who produce milk and vegetables, and factories which produce dried milk, cheese and canned vegetables will all probably prosper, because Great Britain has indicated a great need for exactly those things.

Supervisor Reviews Work Of County Sewing Room

By MRS. J. W. PEEPLES

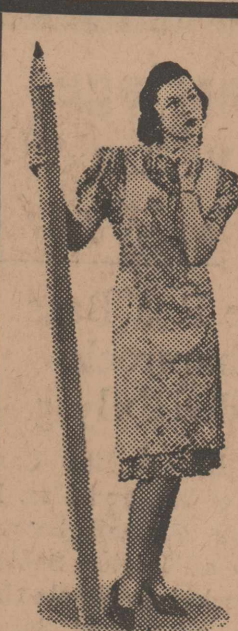

We wish to thank and will ever be grateful to everyone who has in any way contributed to the maintenance of the local sewing room project. We are grateful to the District WPA officials who founded and allotted the project, to County Judge Luther Gribble and his court for allowing the use of part of the courthouse, and to County Judge C. C. Bishop and the Commissioners Court for permitting the continued use of these quarters, and their help in maintaining the project, and to The Wellington Leader for its cooperation in giving publicity to our work. You people have been very unselfish directly and indirectly in sponsoring this work, and we hope we have made some reciprocation in the work done and good accomplished.

This project was originally opened in November 1935, and formally closed July 5th, 1941. During that time there have been a low of sixteen and a high of seventy-four workers on duty, other than the Supervisor, Mrs. Lennie

Peebles, Mrs. Dick Richards, the latter having been with the project since August of 1936. Since Nov. 17, 1936, the total payroll has aggregated $75,913.35, all of which has been expended within Wellington proper. One hundred fifty-one thousand eight hundred eighty-eight yards have been distributed within Collingsworth County, from infant's wear to people of mature years. In addition there have been made 754 quilt tops, 447 quilts and 949 Christmas toys, and all of these are now being used in Collingsworth County.

During two months of this period the project was operated as a canning kitchen, and during these two months there were 18,605 cans of edibles filled, 10,427 cans returned to the producers, and 8,178 cans delivered to the local relief office.

We are particularly proud of a complete feeling of cooperation during the entire time, among ourselves, and the public, and are grateful for the educational value it has been to each of us, as well as the Supervisor, Mrs. Lennie as a means of living for ourselves.

National Guard Must Register

Men who have served in the Active National Guard are required to register immediately upon expiration of their service, even though they are not, under certain conditions, liable for further peacetime training and service under the Selective Service Act.

That fact was stressed today by General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, who said that all such men should present themselves to a local board for registration immediately upon their discharge.

"The act is specific," General Page said, "in requiring registration of men within the age group of 21 to 36 who have served in the National Guard. Men who were members of the active National Guard on October 16, 1940, and who have completed six or more consecutive years, are relieved from liability for peacetime service and training, but they must register. Those who were members of the National Guard and have served less than six years are relieved neither from registration nor training."

General Page said that his attention has been called to the fact that some men in the National Guard in federal service who have been discharged because of expiration of their service have not registered. They should do so immediately, he declared, and added that the War Department has now issued instructions that such men shall be notified by their organization commanders at the time of their discharge of the necessity to register.

County Court had a different sort of case to deal with Monday—a defendant who insisted he was guilty.

The defendant in the case was a local negro, charged with possessing untaxed malt liquor for the purpose of sale. Brought before Judge C. C. Bishop, he told the court his wishes. It was explained that he did not have to plead guilty, and if he did, the court would have to sentence him.

"I want to plead guilty. I is guilty," he replied, and added that he wanted to get off with just as light a fine as he could.

The court accepted his plea, and set his fine at $25 and costs.

Aunt Of Mrs. Stevenson Dies

Miss Lee Williams of Denton, a Wellington visitor many times, died Monday, July 7, at Denton. She was an aunt of Mrs. J. B. Stevenson of Wellington, and was 74 years of age.

She had been sick for approximately seven weeks before her death and until her last illness she had never had the services of a doctor.

Miss Williams was born in Denton, and had lived there all her life. She was active in club work and was a charter member of the Ariel Club, which membership she maintained for more than 50 years. During the 50th Jubilee Year of the Federated Clubs, she was honored by her local clubs, and by district and state organizations for her work.

Mrs. Stevenson, Miss Frances Stevenson, and James Stevenson attended the funeral from Wellington.

Twiggs Brooks of Estelline was a guest Sunday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Brooks. Also visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks was another son, Grady Brooks, of Olton. He was accompanied by his daughters, Misses Juno Helen and D'Lyle, and twin sons, Grady and Godfrey.

sistant coach, but at the end of a year he was made head coach. Two years ago he was named high school principal.

Under his direction, the Skyrocket football team won the regional championship, the highest honor for schools of Class A.

In addition to his school work, Mr. Williams has been active in the Rotary Club, and he and Mrs. Williams have taken part in the work of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Williams came into the system at the same time as her husband. She has served as sponsor for the junior and senior classes, and has aided with many extra-curricular activities. She is leaving the system to go with Mr. Williams to Dallas.

Mr. Davis is leaving Wellington to accept a place as vocational agriculture teacher at White Deer. He came here two years ago, and since then he has built one of the outstanding agriculture departments in the southeastern Panhandle.

As sponsor of the Future Farmers of America, he had during his first year here the largest chapter in the state, and one of the largest in the nation. Under his direction, judging teams from the Wellington classes won the banner in stock judging at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo in the fall of 1940, as well as many other awards during the two years.

The White Deer agriculture department is considered one of the leading departments on the plains, and is also one of the best equipped in the Panhandle. Davis' acceptance of that position was considered a distinct honor.

Mrs. Davis, and their two sons have already moved to Deer.

Clark, who came here last year to take the place of Miss Lora McFarland, joined her husband who has recently been named football coach, and head basketball coach at Oberlin College, Ohio. Mrs. Clark here when Miss McFarland granted a year's leave of absence last year, and was re-elected. Miss McFarland will return to faculty this fall.

Mr. Wells, who was a teacher at the Pleasant Point school in south part of the county, came last year when that school contracted to Wellington. He accepted a place as head of math department in the Pleasant Point School.

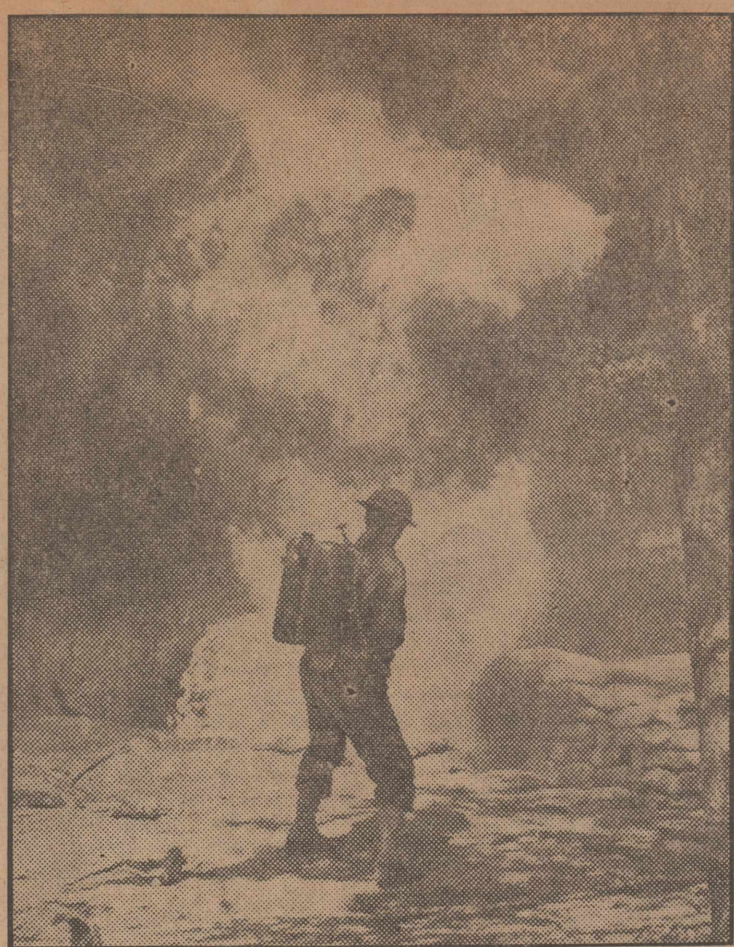

Mrs. Wells has been a teacher in the county for the last ten years, and has been outstanding in community and school affairs. He is attending Texas Technological College this summer, and will receive his B. A. degree at the end of the summer session in August. No elections have been made to fill the places of any of these teachers, members of the school board said early this week.
