Britain Is Hit Hard By Ouster Of Jordan's Army Commander

Official Escorted Out Under Guard

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb, dismissed as army commander, was escorted out of Jordan today under guard of 16 tanks. His ouster by King Hussein was a new blow to British prestige in the Middle East.

The British government, which set up Jordan's Arab Legion and has been subsidizing it, said it had assurances friendly relations would continue. But the Foreign Office in London said the "abrupt dismissal of this distinguished officer" brought deep concern to London officials.

Glubb, leader of the Arab Legion in the war against Israel in 1948, was dismissed as chief of the army general staff. Britain pays Jordan $22,400,000 annually for support of the 20,000-man Arab Legion. This is more than half the budget of the Arab kingdom.

In January Syria, Egypt and Saudi Arabia offered Jordan an annual grant to replace the British subsidy. The declared aim of the offer was to strengthen Jordan against "any Israeli aggression," but Westerners expressed belief a more primary purpose was to strengthen Jordan's rejection of bids to join the Baghdad defense alliance. Conferences to discuss the proposed grant have not been held, so far as is known.

King Hussein and Premier Samir el Rifai carried out the ouster of Glubb and other British officers to satisfy strong anti-Western elements demanding that the Arab Legion come completely under arab control.

The dismissal ended 30 years of Middle East service for the tough, wiry little 59-year-old soldier who learned the ways of the Arabs on camelbacks and around the desert campfires and built the Arab world's best army from scratch. His enemies called him "The Uncrowned King of Jordan."

Glubb left by plane with his family for London today. An official announcement said his dismissal took effect yesterday.

The announcement said he would be succeeded by Maj. Gen. Radi Ounabb. To further meet the opposition demands that the army be "Arabized," Hussein also dismissed two senior British officers who had been serving with Glubb.

Extreme Arab nationalists long had opposed Glubb. Opposition to him took a sudden upsurge after the British late last year tried to get Jordan to join the Western-sponsored Baghdad Pact, setting off a violent reaction from Egypt, Saudi Arabia and other opponents of that alliance.

The British move sparked violent anti-Western riots in almost every Jordan town. Fifteen or more persons were killed and Jordan governments fell almost daily. Glubb's legion finally crushed the riots, but opposition leaders from left to right warned that Arab generals must take over the army.

The opposition said Britain should consider the subsidy as rent for British bases in the country, or Jordan could get the money for her army from Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria.

Glubb came to the Middle East in 1926, resigning his commission in the British army to become administrative inspector to the Iraq government. He transferred to what was then the British protectorate of Transjordan in 1930 and two years later became the colonial service officer commanding the desert area.

Wearing Arab dress and riding a camel into remote desert areas, he coaxed the Bedouins into military service and fashioned them into the Arab world's best army—the disciplined, 20,000-man Arab Legion.

In 1939 he took formal command of the Arab Legion. When Britain recognized Jordan as an independent kingdom in 1946, he became the army chief for the desert nation. Under his command Jordan's troops scored the major Arab military successes in the Palewar, annexing much of Arab Palestine and swelling the half-million population by a million more Arabs.

Explaining his action, the King said in a radio speech, "To serve our country certain Alterations were found necessary."

Billy Greene, Snyder Future Farmer of America chapter member, captured grand and reserve championships late this morning in the barrow show of the Scurry County Junior Livestock Show, being held in the exhibit barn at Towle Memorial Park.

Taking the grand championship was Geene's first place medium weight Chester White barrow, while his first place light weight Chester took the reserve title.

Greene, who was also top winner of the junior show last year, won total prize money of $110.50 during the morning's hog show. That came in a total of nine placings, including the grand and reserve championships, top pen of three, first and second place medium weight, first and eighth place light weight, and second and third place heavy.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Greene, who live six miles east of Snyder. His agriculture instructors are Kenneh Goforth and Billy Bob McMullan.

The junior show was to continue this afternoon with Dr. Robert Black of the agriculture department of Texas Tech judging. The sheep show is to be judged this afternoon, while the calf show will be judged tomorrow morning. Tomorrow afternoon, a total of 90 animals will be sold in an auction, with Houston Glassen of Lamesa as auctioneer.

Hoyt Pylant of Fluvanna's FFA took first place in the heavy class of barrows.

At 7:30 o'clock tonight, the Scurry County Junior Livestock Association will honor the county's 4-H Club and FFA members at a barbecue at the barn.

Results of the morning's barrow show:

Grand champion — Billy Greene, Snyder FFA.

Reserve champion — Greene.

Pens of three — Greene, first; Roger Blackard, Snyder FFA, second; Dwayne Williams, Hermleigh FFA, third; Joe Lloyd, Snyder FFA, fourth; Lorell Sumruld, Snyder FFA, fifth.

Light weight — Greene, first; Blackard, second and third; Billy Roberson, Snyder FFA, fourth; Williams, fifth; Harley Merritt, Snyder FFA, sixth; Benny Rinehart, Snyder FFA, seventh; Greene, eighth; Jerry Bob Cotton, Snyder FFA, ninth; Tommy Echols, Ira FFA, tenth.

Medium weight — Greene, first and second; Roberson, third; Butch Nachlinger, Hermleigh FFA, fourth; Carl Burleson, Hermleigh FFA, fifth; Benny Rinehart, Snyder FFA, sixth; Donald Joe May, Hermleigh FFA, seventh; Billy Joe Hataway, Fluvanna FFA, eighth; Tommy Henry, Hermleigh FFA, ninth; and Dwayne Overman, Snyder FFA, tenth.

Heavy weight — Hoyt Pylant, Fluvanna FFA, first; Greene, second and third; Buster Lemons, Fluvanna FFA, fourth; Roy J. Ball, Fluvanna FFA, fifth; Tommy Wimmer, Hermleigh FFA, sixth; Overman, seventh; Gene Pate, Snyder FFA, eighth; Rex Pylant, Fluvanna FFA, ninth; Tommy Echols, Ira FFA, tenth.

Friday Is Last Day For Filings In City

Tomorrow is the deadline for filing applications as candidates in the city general election to be held April 3.

Seven men have announced they would be candidates for the total of five places on the city council to be filled in the election.

Although midnight tomorrow night is the legal deadline, the city hall closes at noon on Saturdays, and to file as a candidate in any of the four council posts or for mayor the city secretary, K. O. Pitner, would have to be located and the legal forms filled out.

The seven men seeking posts in the election include two candidates for mayor, Walter Hales, lumberman, and Harold Bennett, office supply dealer.

The four vacancies on the council include places No.'s 2, 4, 5 and 6. Two incumbents are so far unopposed in seeking re-election to their posts. They are J. W. Phillips, hardwareman, and Dr. Robert H. Hargrove, dentist, who are No.'s six and four respectively.

Two men are seeking election to place No. 2 on the council, vacated by the resignation of Hales to become a candidate for mayor. They are R. T. (Bud) Howard, newspaper agent, and Steve Birdwell, service station operator.

J. H. (Jim) Mixon, auto store owner, is the sole candidate for place No. 5.

Absentee balloting in the election will be held in the 17-day period from 20 days prior to the election to three days prior to the election, March 14 to March 31.

WEATHER

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: Yesterday's high 71; Low 51; Today's 7:30 a.m. reading 51.

North Central Texas—Considerable cloudiness, a little cooler this afternoon and tonight, mild Saturday.

West Texas—Clear to partly cloudy through Saturday with no significant temperaure changes.

Three Shows At Gail Set For Tomorrow

Three shows will be in progress at one time in Gail tomorrow at the schools and at the Borden County stock barn.

Being held at the stock barn, with judging to start at 9 a.m. tomorrow, will be the Borden County Junior Livestock Show, judged by Coy Neley, associate professor of animal husbandry at Texas Tech.

There will be about 60 lambs, 50 hogs, and 10 calves in the show to compete for prizes. Competing will be members of the Borden County Future Farmers of America chapter led by Bobby Gray, and members of the county's 4-H Clubs, led by County Agent Byron Pierce. President of the Borden County Junior Livestock Association is Sid Reeder.

At the same time, a bake show will be held at the high school for girls of the 4-H Clubs and Future Homemakers of America. Mrs. Ruby Hollis, high school homemaking teacher there, is heading arrangements for that show.

In the high school cafeteria, an antique show will be held under sponsorship of the Borden County Sheriff's Posse.

Classes for finewool and finewool crosses will be included in the lamb show, classes according to breeds in the hog show, and weight classes for the fat calves. There will also be classes for gilts, heifers, ewe lambs, and commercial calves.

THREE of the clinicians here for the West Texas Music Festival are shown here at the Snyder schools today, where they are working throughout the day with Snyder High School and junior high band and choral organizations. The Snyder music groups will be presented at 8 o'clock tonight in a pre-festival concert at the high school auditorium. Tomorrow, clinicians will work all day with 2,500 students coming here for the festival. At left is Melvin Montgomery, Snyder school instrumental director, and at right is Bob Clinton, Snyder school choral director. Clinicians in the center, left to right are Clarence Sawhill, director of bands for UCLA; Dr. Olaf C. Christiansen, director of the St. Olaf's College Choir at Northfield, Minn., and Paul Yoder, Chicago music composer. (Lee Watson photograph)

Music Clinicians Begin Work With Bands In Snyder Schools

Activities in connection with the second annual West Texas Music Festival began here today when four of the clinicians of the festival worked with Snyder High School and junior high band and choral groups.

The festival is sponsored by the Snyder Schools and Chamber of Commerce.

At 8 o' clock tonight in the high school auditorium, the Snyder school music organizations will be presented in a pre-festival concert.

The festival will actually get underway tomorrow morning, with about 2,500 students from 41 band and choirs participating.

Tickets, which costs 75 cents, will be on sale at the door tonight for the concert. Proceeds will go into payment of expenses of the festival.

Playing in tonight's concert will be the high school concert band, high school a capella choir, junior high choir, and junior high concert band. The high school band, directed by Melvin Montgomery, has 90 members. It has been for three three years a sweepstakes winner, or placed in the top division of all three interscholastic league contests and for the past two years the band has won concert and sight reading divisions of the Sweetwater Band Festival. The high school choir, with 60 voices, is directed by Robert Clinton, and it has been a sweepstakes winner in interscholastic league competition for the last two years. The 60-piece junior high choir, directed by Mrs. Landis Lee, will begin participation this year in interscholastic league contests. Tim Dennis directs the junior high band, which was sweepstakes winner last year.

Tonight's concert will be divided into five sections, and conductors of the organizations tonight will be the clinicians who have been working them today.

Raymond Rhea, coordinator of music for the Corpus Christi public schools will direct the junior high choir in the first section of the program. Numbers will be "Praise the Lord" by Saint-Saens, "Adoramus Te," by Palestrina, "Do Don't Toucha My Garment" by Rhea, and "Battle Hymn of the Republic," arranged by Watson.

In the second portion of the program, Olaf Christiansen, director of the St. Olaf's College Choir at Northfield, Minn., will direct the high school a capella choir in "O Come, Holy Spirit," by Bach, "Adoramus Te" by Rofsello, "Sing Nowell, Sing Gloria!" by Christiansen, "Salvation Is Created" by Tschesnokoff, and "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones" by Christiansen.

After an intermission, the junior high band will be directed by Paul Youder, Chicago composer, and Clarence Sawhill, director of bands for UCLA at Los Angeles. Numbers will be "March For a Festival" by Akers, "Hoosier Schoolmaster" by Yonder, and "An American Scene" by Grundman.

Sawhill will direct the high school band in two numbers, "March Grandioso" by Seipz and "North Sea Overture" by Hermann, while Yonder will direct the band in "Relax" by Yoder and "A Salute To Grofe," arranged by Yoder.

The combined high school band and high school choir will present the fifth portion of the program, "God Of Our Fathers," arranged by Johnson, directed by Sawhill.

Tomorrow, two more clinicians will join these four in work with the large number of band and choral organizations. They are Jerry Newman, director of bands at West Texas State College, and R. E. McKiski, director of bands at Midwestern University.

High school and junior high bands will be working all day tomorrow at the high school, while all choirs will be working throughout the day at the First Baptist Church.

At 1 p.m., a mass parade of bands and concert will be held downtown on the courthouse square, with Sawhill, Yoder, and Christiansen as directors. On the program will be Jake Phillips, mayor protem, who will give a welcome address, and Grady Elder, Chamber of Commeree manager, who will introduce others on the program. Trophies wil be presented to first place marching bands in each of the four classes. The trophies were donated by the Diamond M Foundation.

At 2 p.m., there will be a mass choir concert, under direction of Christiansen, at the First Baptist Church, and at 3 p.m. a mass junior high choir concert will be held under direction of Rhea at the First Methodist Church.

Neff Hearing Comes To End

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate inquiry into activities of oil lawyer-lobbyist John M. Neff wound up today with sharpened conflict over whether Neff twice went to an Iowa Republican official with offers of campaign money for Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the special investigating committee announced the end of public hearings shortly before noon.

George said be considered the inquiry had been a "full, fair and complete" one; and predicted the committee would have its report ready by the deadline, March 10.

George said also he was "satisfied we have received all the facts in the matter we were empowered to inquire into." This was specifically a $2,500 campaign contribution that Neff tried to give Sen. Case (R-SD) during the Senate's gas bill fight.

The committee went into other activities by Neff, however, on grounds it should determine whether the Case incident was part of a pattern.

In the windup session, the committee briefly recalled Elmer Patman, Austin, Tex., attorney for Superior Oil Co., as a witness. It was Patman who retained Neff, of Lexington, Neb., to work for Superior.

Most of the final hearing was concerned, however; with the conflict of testimony over Neff's activities in Iowa.

First, Ivan D. Evans of Broken Bow, Neb., Neff's lawyer, offered a special investigating committee three affidavits challenging the accuracy of testimony given Wednesday by Robert K. Goodwin of Des Moines, Iowa's GOP national committeeman.

Then Goodwin once more took the witness chair and swore he was absolutely certain that Neff paid him two visits despite Neff's denial there was more than one.

Goodwin previously testified — and Neff had denied — that Neff offered him $2,500 for Hickenlooper's re-election campaign on a first visit and, on a return trip, had offered $1,000.

Neff not only denied making any offer of a campaign contribution, he swore he made no second trip to Des Moines to talk with Goodwin.

The special committee has turned over to the Justice Department this direct conflict in testimony.

The committee, headed by Sen. George (D-Ga), is investigating specifically Neff's attempt to make a $2,500 contribution to Sen. Case (R-SD). But it has broadened out the inquiry and traced the lawyer's activities into four states besides South Dakota.

Gov. Shivers Not Planning To Run Again

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Shivers was ready today to relinquish public office after 22 years so he can devote full attention to the battle for states' rights.

Speaking to television viewers throughout Texas last night, Shivers said:

"It is my belief, and my decision, that I can best continue this fight if I am not a candidate for any public office."

He thus dispelled the possibility—which he suggested last week—that he might try for an unprecedented fourth elective term.

Instead he will use the states' rights battle cry to rally his conservative forces in an all-out effort to control the state Democratic convention in May. Shivers hopes again to have the Texas delegation in a strong bargaining position.

The key word Shivers will use to inspire his followers to turn out for precinct and county conventions will be "interposition."

He said interposition can become a strong instrument to re-assert the division of powers between state and federal government and to protect local control and local self government from federal interference.

State Lawyer Is Disbarred

WACO (AP)—Judge Penn Jackson ordered Everett O'Dowd, a Waco lawyer, disbarred today. O'Dowd was convicted yesterday on 16 charges of misconduct.

"I am going to fight the case, and will ask for an immediate trial," O'Dowd said later.

The State Bar Assn. brought the charges. O'Dowd and his brother, M. M. O'Dowd, were accused of violating professional ethics by filing workmen's compensation injury cases which the state bar claimed were not based on fact.

They also were accused of soliciting damage suits and using "runners" to contact injured persons. The case against M. M. O'Dowd was dismissed "without prejudice."

Everett O'Dowd claimed the charges stemmed from a plot by jealous competitors, insurance firms and corporations.

Explosion Rips Open Side Of Mount Etna

ZAFFERANI, Sicily (AP)—A terriffic explosion has ripped open a huge new lava mouth on the side of flame-spouting Mt. Etna.

Anxiety increased in Safferina and half a dozen other villages on the volcano side as a 500-foot-wide tide of molten lava surged down ominously toward orchards and outlining homes.

Police stood by in case volcanic experts, who watched closely through the night, decide that villages must be evacuated.

Petition To Legalize Alcoholic Beverage Sale Circulated Here

Petitions began circulating in Scurry County yesterday for the calling of an election for or against legalizing the sale of all alcoholic beverages in the county.

Twelve residents of the county yesterday afternoon made application to Dan Cotton, county clerk, for petitions to circulate. Cotton, in accordance with law upon application of the men, issued the petitions.

Making application were R. B. Sears, W. W Dubose, Burney Kresner, William L. Stone, C. K. Elder, W. H. Seeker, Jr., Hilton C. Lambert, G. W. Parks, Jr., Herbert McKinley, Jr., Russell H. Savage, the Rev. Edward Chrisman, and the Rev. James Sonderman.

Cotton said the petitions, before the commissioners court can consider them for the calling of such an election, must have qualified voters' signatures numbering at least one-fourth of the number who voted here in the last presidential election. Reports are that there were about 5,500 votes here in the last presidential election, so the circulators must obtain between 1,300 and 1,400 signatures. The county has some 7,149 qualified voters this year.

There have been two local option elections in the county in the past six years.

One was held in May, 1950, and turned out a total of 3,173 voters, then a record, and voters defeated the proposal 2,479 to 694, a margin of more than three to one. That election concerned proposed sale of beer.

There was another record turnout in April 1952, at an election calling for legalizing the sale of all alcoholic beverages when 5,516 persons voted. That time the proposal was defeated by a vote of 3,239 to 2,277.

Scurry County has been "dry" since early this century.

Freeway Resolution Formally Approved

The commissioners court of Scurry County and city council of Snyder have formally accepted a resolution of the state highway commission to provide for advance planning a secondary traffic loop around Snyder, which brings the proposal one step nearer to a vote of the people of Scurry County.

The purpose of the highway department's resolution is to provide for advance planning and establish a common understanding with the local authorities reguarding the proposed arrangement for the future expansion and development of highways in the vicinity of Snyder in order that the local governmental agencies might determine right-of-way cost and arrange for protection or acquisition of right-of-way required for proposed future improvements with the understanding that funds are not presently available for the construction.

The resolution approved by the city and county provides for a complete loop around Snyder, with bypasses from the Santa Fe underpass north of Snyder on highway 84, east of Snyder to highway 84 south of town; from highway 180 west of Snyder to a connection with high 84 south of Snyder; and from highway 180 west of Snyder to a connection with highway 84 north of Snyder.

A vote of the people of Scurry County will be called to determine whether the people of the county wish the county to purchase right-of-way for the projects.

Officials Stumped By By One Odd Request

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — The Idaho highway department says it receives some odd requests for information. This one, for instance, had employes stumped for a couple of seconds:

"I would like information on elk, deer and beer hunting in Idaho." It came from Balboa Island, Calif.

Seems someone had hit the "e" instead of the "a" on the typewriter when asking for information on "bear" hunting.

Mrs. Harold Brown Named To P-TA Post

Mrs. Harold Brown was elected this week to serve as president of the city council of the Parent-Teacher Associations here for the 1956-57 school year. She will succeed Mrs. Amon Weaver, president for the past two years.

Others elected at the council's regular meeting to city county offices were Mrs. Clifford Hale, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Kizer, secretary; and Mrs. J. P. Pitner, Jr., treasurer.

Bill Ballard explained at the meeting the three propositions contained in the petition for the county bond election. The petition, which is being circulated among voters now, calls for an additional runway at the county airport, additional park facilities and a county library.

The council gave its approval to the proposals by signing a resolution. Ballard, who is legislative chairman for the council, asked the help of local P-TA units n circulating and obtaining signatures on the petition from persons interested in these proposals.

A report was given by Mrs. Brown that the arts and crafts courses sponsored by the council are progressing and near completion and concerning the required number of hours obtained for individuals to receive their certificates from the state office.

Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of schools, asked for participation of members during the Snyder Conference on Education, scheduled for March 13, as part of recognition of Texas Public Schools Week.

The committee on revising by-laws of the council submitted changes to be made. Mrs. Weaver pointed out that much thought is required on by-law revisions and amendments, and changes were not adopted at that meeting.

Showers Hit Wide Section

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Light rains fell at widely scattered points in Texas early Friday. The Weather Bureau said that at the best the moisture wouldn't be more than a sample.

During the night light sprinkles splattered Midland, Wink and San Antonio. Fog prevailed at Palacios, Galveston, Cotulla, and San Antonio. Traces of rain fell at Victoria, Beaumont, Lufkin and Texarkana Thursday.

Dawn skies were cloudy over most of the state except in Southwest Texas. The forecast was for partly cloudy and slightly cooler weather.

Early morning readings ranged from 27 degrees at Dalhart to 69 at Brownsville. Laredo with 86 degrees Thursday reported the highest reading. Amarillo with 66 had the lowest.

Gusty winds in West Texas kicked up dust Thursday afternoon.

Other Friday morning temperatures included Amarillo 33, Abilene 56, Austin 62, Beaumont 64, Dallas 57, Del Rio 50, El Paso 49, Fort Worth 54, Galveston 65, Houston 62, Waco 59 and Wichita Falls 43.

Water Group Given Grant

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Water Resources Committee, sweating under a financial drought, has been refreshed by a deficiency grant of $17,550.

Gov. Shivers approved the grant yesterday and said he hoped the Legislature would provide for its future operation after the grant is exhausted.

Shivers said the committee has "done much good work on one of the most important problems facing our state today."

"It has made real progress and has developed new approaches to the problem of providing our state with an adequate supply of water," Shivers said.

The governor said much work remained to be done and "I feel it is of primary importance to assure the continued functioning of the committee."

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas is chairman of the committee.

Yarborough Strikes At Shivers Administration

EL PASO (AP)—Ralph Yarborough of Austin, twice beaten for governor by Gov. Shivers, asserted last night Shivers' decision against seeking a fourth term was "a confession of failure of this administration.

"I hope to have a part in the fight to prevent the allies, fellow travellers and co-board members of Gov. Shivers from succeeding him in office," Yarborough said.

Yarborough said the people of Texas are preparing for the "showdown battle of this generation" to keep the "forces of greed and avarice" from retaining control of their state government.

Marilyn To Produce Film

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Warner Brothers Studio welcomed its newest producer last night amidst the most excitement on the lot since the original Rin Tin Tin nipped Jack L. Warner's leg.

The producer is Marilyn Monroe, who appeared at a news conference in the capacity of president of Marilyn Monroe, Inc. She wore a form-fitting black dress.

The conference was called to announce that Miss Monroe's "Sleeping Prince," in which she will costar with Sir Laurence Olivier, will go out under the Warner banner. Miss Monroe will get co-producer credit with Olivier. The famed Englishman will direct.

Studio boss Warner disclosed that Miss Monroe will get a healthy hunk of the profits of the picture, which will be shot in England.

Someone asked Marilyn to compare Hollywood cocktail parties with those in New York.

"You meet a better class of hors d'oeutres in California," she answered while munching caviar.

Income Built Up In Years

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—How do you go about making a million out of $25,000?

Mrs. Vincent Hallinan, wife of the 1952 Progresive party candidate for president, told yesterday how she did in announcing sale of her 20-story Clay-Jones Apartments on Nob Hill for $1,200,000.

"It all began 21 years ago, when I put up $2,500 for an apartment house at 970 Geary St., "she said. "The income eventually paid off the $72,000 mortgage.

"In 1943, I traded it for majority stock in the Clay-Jones Corp., whose income eventually bought out the rest of the stock. That's one million dollars for $2,500 and, as it has been said, having a million is just as good as being rich."

Mrs. Hallinan said part of the proceeds will go to settle Hallinan's bill from the Internal Revenue Bureau—a figure Hallinan specified as being "agreed upon."

Hallinan, an attorney, served a 14-month federal prison term on conviction of income tax evasion.

Health Fund Boost Okayed By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) —The House Appropriations Committee today voted a big boost in funds to fight cancer, heart trouble and other diseases as it recommended $8,301,508,041 in new money to finance 24 government agencies.

The money is for use during the fiscal year starting July 1 and is $154,155,641 more than President Eisenhower had requested.

However, the increase was more than accounted for by the committee's decision to add 305 million dollars more than Eisenhower had requested for the Civil Service retirement fund.

The committee said the extra money would help keep the fund on a sound actuarial basis. It noted that the fund technically has a deficit of $13,400,000,000 because the government hasn't been regularly paying its share to supplement the six per cent contributions of federal employes.

One of the sharpest cuts, $37,-100,000 below the President's request, was made in funds for the Civil Defense Administration, for which the committee voted $68,-100,000.

For operation of the National Health Institutes, which conduct research in medicine, the committee voted $135,525,000. This is a million more than Eisenhower requested and 37 million more than the NHI received this year.

The National Cancer Institute was allotted $34,437,000, a boost of 2 minnion over the President's proposal; the Mental Health Institute $23,749,000, up 2 million; the Heart Institute $25,106,000, a 3-million hike; the dental program $3,471,000, a boost of $500,-000; the arthritis and metabolic diseases program $13,845,000, an increase of $500,000; and the neurology and blindness programs $14,196,000, a hike of 2 millions. For microbiology activities the committee voted $8,799,000, a cut of a million.

Man Drives To Funeral Parlor, Shoots Self

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Police said William H. Rost, 78, drove his car into the driveway of a friend's funeral parlor last night and shot himself in the temple with a .32-caliber revolver.

Officers said they found a note, reading in part:

"Dear Franklin—

"I'm trying to make it just as easy as possible for everyone. Consequently I'm making personal delivery to you . . ."

(Signed) Bill Rost

"P.S. Will you see that the car and gun get back to the house. Thanks."

Funeral director Franklin Ives said Rost had been despondent since the death of his wife a few months ago.

Snyder Club Holds Program On Resources Conservation

A Texas day program on Conservation of Resources was the subject of the program at the meeting of the Altrurian Daughters Study Club on Wednesday afternoon at Mary Lynn's Tea Room with Mrs. Pat Falls as hostess. Mrs. Ophelia Blackard, president, presided over a short business meeting and introduced one new member, Mrs. Art Nicholas.

Mrs. P. W. Cloud and Mrs. Manning Davis were in charge of the program and Mrs. Davis introduced Mrs. R. T. Roberts, who talked about conservation in the oil industry. She presented each member with a book entitled "Texas Oil and Gas."

Mrs. Roberts then introduced James Thomas, reservoir engineer for SACROC, who is a graduate of Texas Tech and has worked for the Texas Railway Commission. According to Mr. Thomas, conservation is protecting or preserving of our resources and the Texas Railway Commission is in charge of the conservation of oil in Texas. The policies produced by this commission has more than doubled the amount of oil to be obtained in Texas.

One of the policies named was to keep the above ground supply at a level with the demand. To keep more than that would cause excessive loss by evaporation. Thomas stated that the U. S. consumes about 3 billion barrels of oil a year and produces only about 2½ billion a year. Increasing demands for oil and oil products is outrunning the oil reserves that are being found.

Conservation is particularly vital to Texas as it produces about half the U. S. supply and has about half the present reserve supply.

Mr. Thomas stressed the importance of Railway Commissioner, as this office has complete control of the conservation of our oil resources.

Mrs. Roberts and Thomas then presented a color film that told the story of American oil, "A Panaroma of the Petroleum Industries at Work."

A dessert course was served to the club members and guests following the program.

Wedding Anniversary Held By Ira Couple

A tacky party was given Wednesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. U. White, Ira, celebrating their eighth wedding anniversary.

A prize was given to Donald Huddleston and Sophie White for the tackiest couple.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Willie White and Mrs. Beatrice McLare of O'Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Huddleston, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Huddleston, Mr. and Mrs. Haskel Templeton, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Young, Mrs. Jim Mixon and children and Mrs. Bob Eime and children all of Snyder.

Presbyterian Women's Group Holds Meeting

At the meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Organization of the First Presbyterian Church, Mrs. W. R. Everett, vice-president, presided over the business meeting in the place of Mrs. W. A. Smallwood, president. The group met Tuesday afternoon at the church.

The program was led by Mrs. John Covey, Jr. and the hostesses were Mrs. W. A. Smallwood and Mrs. Frank Butler.

Here's How To Make

For a speedy sea food main dish, place serving-size pieces of haddock, cod or sole in a greased baking dish and pour over them the contents of a can of frozen shrimp soup to which three tablespoons of milk have been added. Then bake for 20 minutes in the oven of your range until tender. Sprinkle with scissor-snipped parsley and serve in the dish in which they were baked.

The U.S. National Park Service was established in 1916.

Atheneum Club Meets With Mrs. Brown

"Spiritual Values In Family Living" was the topic of the program at the meeting of the Atheneum Study Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Bill Brown, 2805 Thirty-sixth Street. Mrs. Marsene Holt was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Holt showed a film showing the difference in the church going family and a Christian family.

A dessert plate was served to 17 members and one guest, Mrs. Jack Riley. Mrs. Leslie Glasscock was introduced as a new member.

Accidents took 92,000 U.S. lives in 1955.

BELIEVERS — UNBELIEVERS

CAN A BELIEVER EVER BE CONDEMNED? Jesus said, "He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation: but is passed from death unto life." (John 5:24). A superficial reading of this verse might leave the impression that a child of God can do absolutely nothing to come under condemnation. A more careful examination will reveal otherwise. This is a promise made by the Lord to a believer; it applies to him just as long as he is a believer. Should he become an unbeliever, the promise no longer applies to him.

CAN AN UNBELIEVER EVER BECOME A BELIEVER? Our Lord says, ". . . and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life: but the wrath of God abideth on him." (John 3:36). Compare this verse with the one above: In it our Lord declares that the believer shall not come into condemnation. In this, He declares the unbeliever shall not see life.; Which of these "shall not's" is greater? Can the unbeliever ever be saved? Certainly he can, provided he becomes a believer! Can the believer ever be lost? Certainly he can, provided he becomes an unbeliever!

UNBELIEVERS CAN BECOME BELIEVERS. Saul of Tarsus (later the apostle Paul) was an unbeliever but he became a believer (1 Tim. 1:13). The Philippian jailor was an unbeliever but he became a believer (Acts 16:30-34). When unbelievers become believers the threat of John 3:36 no longer applies to them.

BELIEVERS CAN BECOME UNBELIEVERS. "Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God." (Heb. 3:12). What kind of brethern are addressed here? Go back and read verse one of this chapter: "holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling." Also, read Luke 8:13; 1 Tim. 1:19, 20; 2 Tim. 2:18. When believers become unbelievers ,the promise of John 5:24 no longer obtains.

"THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST SALUTE YOU." (ROM. 16:16). Nineteen hundred years ago the church you read about in the New Testament was establihsed. Today, she has the same name, worship, organization, doctrine, and life.

IN CITY TRAFFIC where tensions usually mount, Chrysler's cat-like flexibility brings a wonderful sense of calm. And those admiring glances confirm your judgment that this is America's biggest fine car buy.

THEY'LL THINK YOU PAID $1,000 MORE

when you drive the year-ahead car!

The only cars with which you can compare a Chrysler Windsor V-8 are the other luxury cars . . . because that's what the Chrysler Windsor V-8 is. But you can own this car for the cost of a medium-priced car! And at this price, it simply defies comparison.

Take the way it handles in city traffic. Something quite wonderful happens. Instead of feeling tense, you're utterly relaxed — thanks to Chrysler's full-time Power Steering System and a host of other brand new Chrysler exclusives. You're handling a big, powerful car that responds like a mind reader. It does the work for you.

Your Chrysler is beautifully balanced between the forward thrust of its mighty airplane-type engine and the most powerful brakes in the industry. This car flows!

Yet, if you can afford any car in the medium-priced field, you can afford to step up to a Chrysler Windsor V-8. Compare its year ahead new-car features with the other leading cars in its price class. We think you'll agree that it looks and acts like a car that costs $1,000 more than it does!

Cities Of The Future

The Economic Unit of the U. S. News & World Report has completed a study and this week announces the results of a survey of probable population trends in the U. S. in the 20-year period ending in 1975.

The results are rather startling. There will be a sensational growth for city and suburban areas, and suburban areas in many cases will double their number of inhabitants in the next 20 years. In some cases the suburbs will have more population than the city they surround. Example cited in the survey: New York for 1955 had an area population of 13,763,000, divided as follows: New York City, 8,000,000; suburbs, 5,793,000. By 1975, says USN&WR, these figures will be: New York area, 17,418,000, divided as follows: New York City 8,625,000: suburbs 8,793,000.

For Dallas, the 1955 area population is estimated at 760,000, with 511,000 in the city and 249,000 in the suburbs. By 1975 the survey says the area population of Dallas will be 1,600,000, with 875,000 in the City and 725,000 in the suburbs.

But Los Angeles by 1975 will present these figures: Area population 10, 900,000, of which only 3,350,000 will be in the city and 7,579,000 in the suburbs.

These figures may be fairly accurate as to the future populations of the areas concerned, but they imply a situation that we can not regard as tolerable or economically supportable. How can Los Angeles, a city which already occupies more area than any municipality on earth, or so we understand, exist with almost two-thirds of its population living and to a large extent earning its living in the suburbs, find the tax revenues to support the ordinary functions of municipal government? For an "area" of such a vast population must have the means to protect the public health, furnish the necessary facilities and utilities, and otherwise serve as the heart of the area.

The only way that could be done would be to extend the city limits continuously as Los Angeles has already done and there must be a limit to that expedient.

Cotton Export Plan

In announcing the administration would try to export 5 million bales of cotton this year, as contrasted to only 3.5 million bales in 1955, Secretary Benson told reporters his department had been trying to raise the ante for some time, but strong opposition had been raised by the State Department and by some White House officials who were afraid a more aggressive export program for surplus cotton might endanger relations with friendly cotton-exporting countries.

Sure enough, Egypt, which has been driving hard for several years to increase its cotton production and export while price-supported U. S. cotton was unfavorably circumstanced, immediately let out a yowl when Benson announced the new drive to increase sales of U. S. cotton abroad.

An Egyptian spokesman said the American program had made Egypt's government "most unhappy," like the Kingfisher's wife, and added that "We consider it a very unhappy step at this time."

Egyptian and other foreign producers may not be the only unhappy ones before we hear the last of the stepped-up export program. Futures broke as much as $3 a bale on the New York exchange and up to $2.20 at New Orleans when Benson's announcement hit the wires. Traders feared the drive for bigger exports might depress the price of new-crop cotton.

Senator Ellender (D-La) chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee which (by a margin of 8 votes to 7) is fighting the administration's flexible price support plan with a countermove to establish 90 percent of parity, asserted Benson's plan is "part of the bait he is offering in an effort to swing the votes of Southern senators against rigid 90 percent supports."

Whether the program is merely coincidental or deliberately designed for political effect is a matter of opinion. The fact is however, that cotton exports declined from 5.5 million bales in the 1951-52 season to only 3.5 million last year, which accounted for at least a goodly portion of today's 12-million-bale surplus.

Ike's Decision To Run Will Cause Some Questions To Persist Up To Election Day

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's decision to run again has—because of his health—raised questions which will persist up to election day and, if he wins, beyond it.

The questions all revolve around the vice presidency and the possibility that Eisenhower, having had one heart attack, may suffer another which disables or kills him after his nomination or, if he wins, after his election.

The voters this year will be aware, more than in any election in history, that in voting for the Republican vice presidential candidate they may be choosing a president.

For the same reason Eisenhower knows that if he picks for his running mate a man unacceptable to a lot of voters, he himself may lose the election.

He has declined to say he wants Vice President Nixon to run with him again, although he again praised Nixon yesterday.

Here are questions raised by Eisenhower's decision to seek reelection:

1. What happens if he should die—after the Republican convention nominates him and a vice presidential candidate—but before election day?

The Republican National Committee, if there's no time for another convention, can by itself name another presidential candidate or push the vice presidential candidate up into the No. 1 spot and name another man for vice president.

2. What happens if Eisenhower wins the election Nov. 6 but dies before the Electoral College meets Dec. 17 to cast its ballots formally naming him as the man who will take office as president?

There's no certain answer. This situation has never arisen before.

This is the problem: On election day you do not vote directly for a president and vice president. You vote for a slate of party electors in each state. They then meet and elect a president. This has become a formality. The electors always vote for the two men who headed their party's ticket in the election. But, under the Constitution, they don't have to. They are legally free to vote for anyone.

What then would happen if Eisenhower died between Nov. 6 and Dec. 17? Probably the Republican National Committee would ask the Republican electors who won—through Eisenhower—to elect the successful vice presidential candidate president. Then the comittee could name someone else for vice president and ask the electors to approve him too.

It would be up to the electors to do that or do as they pleased.

3. What happens if Eisenhower having won the election and the dies between that date and Jan. Electoral College vote on Dec. 17, 20, inauguration day for the new President?

The Constitution's 20th Amendment provides that the vice president approved by the Electroal College would automatically take office as president, just as he would if the new president died after Jan. 20.

4. What happens if Eisenhower, having been elected, took office Jan. 20 and after that date became so disabled that he could not carry out his presidential duties?

That's a real puzzler, or could be. The Constitution says that when a president is too disabled to fulfill his duties, the vice president shall run the country, but as vice president, not as president. But the Constitution isn't clear on who decides when the President is so disabled the vice president must take over.

Business Should Receive Some 'Answers' This Month

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Business should have the answer to a number of its uncertainties before Easter.

Consumers may well pick March to show their hands in several ways:

1. With an early Easter, the blustery month of March will span the entire pre-Easter sales drive by the merchants.

2. If the month goes out like a lamb, the auto industry may get its first test of how healthy the hoped-for spring pickup in car buying will be.

3. The home building industry, also counting on spring to awaken the urge to own your own home, may find who is right: the one who says a revival in building is due, or the one who says mortgage money will stay tight and buyers chary.

What business will be watching is how strong a tonic March will supply. A seasonal pickup is expected—the usual quickening of the economy through gains in construction, farming and seasonal industries. The question is: Will the pickup be as strong as last year, or will it lack its usual punch?

The consumer isn't the only one who will be showing his hand. Congress has some decisions to make this month. Businessmen are resigned to its continuing for another year the 52 per cent income tax rate on corporations and for most of the excise taxes on some consumer goods like autos.

Business will look to Congress this month for at least a hint on what it will do about such important spending items as highways, schools, farm price supports, and foreign aid. There might even be a clearer notion of what's in store for individuals on their income tax rates.

This month sees about two million workers getting a pay raise. The federal minimum wage rises to $1 an hour.

Labor demands may take form this month. Some key industries, notably steel, will negotiate new contracts in the next few months.

Manufacturers are watching for the first signs that the trend in recent months to build up inventories may be due for a reversal. The strength of spring trade ofnb it gets under way this month, may determine whether merchants and producers want to go on expanding stocks, or start living off them.

The size of the spring pickup may also foreshadow the future of corporate earnings—whether the business boom is going to keep on barreling down the highway, or whether it's starting to coast.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Within a single week NBC-TV is bidding for top dramatic honors with two outstanding dramas. A beautiful, brown-eyed English actress, Claire Bloom, plays the feminine lead in both.

Next Monday night Producers' Showcase presents a 90-minute color and black and white production of George Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra," starring Miss Bloom as Cleopatra.

On Sunday afternoon, March 11, NBC-TV will present the American premiere of Sir Laurence Olivier's British film "Richard III." Miss Bloom plays Lady Anne to Olivier's portrayal of the wicked hunchback Richard in this three-hour color and black and white film.

In short, Miss Bloom is a young lady of great interest to the television audience these days. But if anybody hopes to learn anything here about her romantic interests (none), any personal eccentricites (none), any headline-making views (none), they're doomed to disappointment.

After spending a pleasant hour with her, I can positively report only these things: she is beautiful, restrained to the point of shyness, and wholly dedicated to acting and the theater. Having seen her play Roxane in NBC-TV's production of "Cyrano de Bergerac" last fall, I also can report she's a superb actress.

Luncheons At Ramshackle Mission Are Meeting Ground For Labor, Management

By LEIF ERICKSON

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 2 (AP)—A figure of rare and important influence in the turbulent Pacific maritime industry is a young, red-haired priest who runs a ramshackle little waterfront mission.

Once a month, on Father Matthew F. Connolly's invitation, 400 to 600 men gather in the antiquated building for two hours of feasting and fellowship.

The stag luncheons are a key in the work which has made Father Matt a warmly valued link of understanding between maritime labor and management and won him elevation a year ago to the Catholic rank of monsignor.

Father Matt's paying guests, at his welfare center for merchant seamen, are the big shots, the near big shots and others of maritime management, labor and civic and state government.

When Father Connolly, now 40, came to San Francisco's Apostleship of the Sea, in 1948, his assignment from Archbishop John Joseph Mitty was, "Try it and see what you think."

In seven years, hard-headed union bosses and tough-minded shipping executives have recognized and accepted Father Matt as a uniquely effective mediator in their frequently bitter squabbles.

In this role Father Matt, who is 6-2 and built like a fullback, always works unofficially and behind the scenes. No settlement formula ever is announced in Father Connolly's name. But maritime people testify that his influence, based on trust and respect, has cracked some of the tightest of dispute stalemates.

On the company side, explained one executive, Father Connolly can have the ear of the top brass any time he wants. On the union side, when situation demands, Father Connolly can climb half a block to the imposing headquarters of the Sailors Union of the Pacific and practice persuasion by the hour on Harry Lundeberg, the SUP's stubborn chief.

After seven years in a job on which he's still looking for the boundary limits, Connolly says, "I'm still trying it. And, I'm still thinking."

Immediate in his thinking is a new $400,000 apostleship building. Donation pledges for $170,000 are in hand. Another $100,000 is in sight within a year. When he has $270,000 assured, Father Connolly will get started on the new structure on the apostleship's present site hard by the towers of the San Francisco - Oakland Bay Bridge.

A stroke of inspiration was Father Connolly's idea in November 1951 to organize the monthly luncheon sessions at The Roost, the apostleship's do - it - yourself - built dormitory and its adjoining improvised patio.

All levels of ship line brass show up, including Matson's President Randolph Sevier and American President Lines' George A. Killion.

There's a solid representation of union chiefs although Lundeberg himself has refused to show. He explains he can't afford to jeopardize his fighting posture. But Lundeberg's lieutenants attend.

For Father Connolly one practical achievement of the luncheons is this: he gathers the people from whom he extracts much of the apostleship's day-by-day support into a relaxed group. All know they are there to be touched, and they enjoy it—hugely.

"It's miraculous the way chips drop off shoulders at that door," said one ship company vice president. "There's an amazing metamorphosis in men who normally raise hell with each other across a bargaining table.

"This is neutral ground. Controversy is off limits. And the fellowship and understanding that grow here are worth more than you can measure."

Father Connolly's duties in mediation and as host at The Roost do not detract from his dedication to the apostleship's primary mission—the welfare of men who work at going to sea.

"Seafarers, as a group," Father Matt says, "are the loneliest men in the world."

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

THE REVOLT OF GUNNER ASCH. By Hans Hellmut Kirst. Translated from German by Robert Kee. Little, Brown.

Sergeant Major Schulz, a bully and a despot with a voice to terrify even seasoned recruits, is the key figure in the artillery outfit which is the subject of this novel.

The place is a German army camp; the time is before World War II but after Hitler's rise; the theme is the traditional savage discipline maintained in more armed services than the German.

Schulz fits into the usual scheme of things, at about the middle: The major kicks the captain kicks the lieutenant kicks the sergeant kicks the corporal kicks the private. The private on whom kicks land hardest and fastest is gunner Vierbein. He's a docile soldier, well meaning and loyal, and he's in love with an uncompromisingly Hitlerite girl, Ingrid. Yet hard luck hounds him—if Asch is the offender, Vierbein gets the blame, if Schulz's wife is forward, it's Vierbein who is caught.

So Asch, in the name of all Vierbeins, revolts. It's not an armed revolt, though shots are fired. It's an intellectual revot: Asch stays within the letter of the rules and regulations but raises such hob with their spirit that he turns the outfit topsy-turvy with confusion; from a camp it changes to bedlam.

I hope none of this is meant to imply that, except for thick-necked sergeants, Hitler had a pretty decent army. But as a good sound ribbing of the common variety of uniformed, stupid, brutal military martinet, this is good fun, with the best laugh reserved as it should be for the unexpected ending.

Grace's Wedding Putting Ship Line In A Dither

By INEZ ROBB

By tradition, it's the mother of the bride who is always in a dither just before a wedding. But it is doubtful if Miss Grace Kelley's handsome and efficient mama is in an emotional state even halfway comparable to the American Export Line.

It is on Export's luxury liner Constitutuion that Miss Kelly, her parents and her sisters, cousins and her aunts, as well as her brothers and her bridesmaids will sail on April 4 for Monaco and her marriage to Prince Rainier II.

Naturally, American Export Line is jumping up and down with joy at the very idea of ferrying Miss Kelly to her wedding. But it is also wringing its hands with dispair over the problem of where to stow all the customers.

Even before Miss Kelly requested reservations on the Constitution, the liner had long since been sold out for its April 4 crossing, the last eastward sailing on which reduced Winter rates will be in effect (higher summertime rates go into effect on the next crossing).

To date the line, by prayer, fasting and some last-minute cancelations, has been able to set aside an even dozen first class staterooms for the Kelly party which already numbers in excess of 24 persons.

The line, at the request of Miss Kelly's parents, is trying to scrounge up additional staterooms for this party. And if any other persons should be added to the bridal party! Well, the line probably will have a nervous breakdown.

As it is, a spokesman for the line said yesterday--his peartones dripping with regret--it has been impossible to assign to Miss Kelly and her family even one of the four super-deluxe suites that are the pride of the Constitution.

Each of these suites had been engaged long before the American-Manaco romance blossomed.

The American Export Line has a sentimental interest in doing the best by Miss Kelly and her party, since the actress starred in one of her first movies aboard the Constitution and her matron of honor, Mrs. Francie C. Gray Jr., of Belmont, Mass., was the first--and prettiest--stowaway ever discovered aboard the liner.

In late May, 1951, when the brand new Constitution made its delivery run from the shipyards at Quincy, Mass., via Boston to New York, a pretty blonde girl named Grace Kelly, then better known as a model than an actress, was engaged by Jack LeViene of Pathe News to make a two-minute, newsreel fashion story of the event.

When the liner docked at Boston, Mrs. Gray went aboard to visit friend Grace. What with catching up on the gossip and inspecting the wonders of the new ship, the girls forgot about time, and the first thing Mrs. Gray knew, she was a stowaway en route to New York.

But instead of putting her in irons, company officials put her in a handsome stateroom and she had a gay introduction to the liner on which she will sail for Monaco.

The Constitution, which ordinarily stops at Cannes, will make a stop at Monaco in honor of Miss Kelly and her fiance, providing the U. S. Martitime Board grants the line permission to do so. The line has applied for such permision.

The American Export Line only moans when asked where it will put newsmen who hope to sail on the Constitution, too. At the mo', only the lifeboats are available.

First Leap Year Victory: Beauty Shop At Race Track

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Typewriter Tattle:

A minor leap year victory for the ladies this season has been the opening of what is claimed to be the first beauty parlor at an American racetrack.

It's at Hialeah, outside Miami.

Men have been clipped — and spent a lot of money on close shaves—at race tracks for centuries. But the thought is, well, a bit on the odd side.

I asked a Florida informant to check up on the progress of the experiment. His report has just arrived, scribbled on the margins of several old racing forms.

It seems the idea for the beauty parlor originated with Vincent Pellegi, of the Philadelphia firm of Vincent and Joseph. He figured that such a shop might provide a refuge for wives bored with watching their husbands bet the family budget on the ponies.

The beauty parlor caught on at once. Vincent has a staff of four now.

But he quickly learned one thing. The little woman who accompanies hubby to the racetrack isn't bothered by boredom. She wants some action, too.

Vincent is kept busy running upstairs placing bets on the next race by the ladies sitting under the dryers. He has thrown away his stock of women's magazines. The girls prefer to study the racing form, the green sheet, the horsemen's journal. They don't gossip about clothes, men or babies. They swap tips on horses.

If ladies have a one-track mind, the mind of these ladies is on the track outside. Some insist that their hairdresser keep a turban handy, so they can wrap it around their heads and rush outside to watch a particularly exciting race.

The beauty parlor staff is fascinated by the betting habits of the women. Some are inveterate students who wouldn't think of laying their money on a horse unless they know his ancestry for three generations—and what he ate for breakfast. Others depend on feminine intuition, dreams, or merely close their eyes and stick a hairpin through the racing program. The systems work out about the same.

The ladies, especially the hunch players, are addicted to daily doubles. Vincent recalls one who won a $1,069 doubie after finding a 1955 penny on the way into the track. She bet on the No. 5 horses in the first two races.

Historic Items Added At Mount Vernon Home

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—George Washington's Mount Vernon was enriched over the past year by the accession of such historic memorabilia as a Sevres sugar bowl, a pastel portrait, a pair of garnett earrings, a razor strop and five locks of hair.

But the thing that most warmed the hearts of the Mount Vernon Ladies Assn., which purchased the property in nearby Virginia in 1858 and was organized to "preserve and guard the home and tomb of Washington," was a purchase made by Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R-O) vice regent of the association from Ohio.

The regent, Mrs. Albert Harkness of Providence, R. I., in her report for '54-'55, says the year 1955 will remain an outstanding one in the association's annuals due to the purchase by Mrs. Bolton of a tract of about 485 acres of land across the Potomac River from Mount Vernon.

The association, according to the regent, has been aware for some years that the river view from the mansion was being destroyed by residential or commercial development on the Maryland side but was unable as an association to do anything about it.

"Mrs. Bolton's generous and patriotic action," Mrs. Harkness says, "protects a strategic area and points the way to a long-range plan for permanent preservation of a prospect which is a very real part of Mount Vernon."

At the time of the purchase of Mount Vernon and its 200 acres, the rural area was considered so remote from Washington that any thought of urban encroachment was inconceivable, the regent explained. Now, however, with the rapid development of the capital's metropolitan area, Mount Vernon finds itself almost within the suburbs.

"Modern life continues to increase in timpo and produces more and more confusion, in which the citizen of today must live and work," says Mrs. Harkness. "Therefore, the tranquil atmosphere of Mount Vernon grows in importance. Here in an authentic 18th century setting it is possible for the modern citizen to recapture a sense of the beauty, order and dignity of an earlier age and go forth refreshed and inspired."

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

DUE TO THE CIRCUMSTANCES, we believe the Border Conference might be acting wisely if she permitted this year's "runner-up" to compete in the post-season playoffs.

Texas Tech is the true champion, of course, and in one sense she should be the team to represent the BC in NCAA play. The Raiders won an uphill battle to capture the BC crown, clinching the title only Wednesday night with a lopsided victory over New Mexico A&M.

But the Raiders will be "duck soup" for SMU in the first round of the NCAA playoff due to a NCAA ruling that will bar three of Tech's stellar performers from participating, all-American candidate, Jim Reed; Gene Carpenter and DuWayne Blackshear.

In all due respect to other members of the Raider squad which includes our own Ned Underwood, the Raiders couldn't have won the BC title without Reed, Carpenter and Blackshear. This trio will not be eligible for the NCAA playoffs because they played varsity ball when they were freshmen.

Under the NCAA ruling, a player is allowed only three years of varsity competition. The three boys in qhestion, of course, are in their fourth year of varsity ball.

Tech Has Already Reached Goal

Since Tech has already reached its main objective, winning the Border Conference title, it appears to us that she wouldn't even want to go against SMU in NCAA play humiliated what with her three outstanding players missing from the lineup.

Taking these three guys out of the lineup is like taking Yogi Berra, Mickey Mantle and Phil Rizzuto out of the New York Yankee lineup.

Tech's chances against SMU would be "pretty good" with Reed, Carpenter and Blackshear in there but without them the Raiders don't have a "Chinaman's chance."

Don't get us wrong, we'd as soon see Tech in the NCAA playoff as any other Border member—under ordinary circumstances, that is.

Such as it is, though, several teams in the BC would stand a better chance against SMU, namely Texas Western and West Texas State.

Maybe it would be best for Tech to lose to SMU, anyway, since in SMU lies the Raiders' chances of gaining admittance to the SWC.

SMU, as you know by now, is reportedly going to vote for Tech's admission to the SWC in May. SMU might get a little "rowled" up if Tech were to upset her basketball team in the NCAA playoffs.

Tiger-Exes Game Should Be A Dilly

Tiger coach John Conley will put his charges on "display" again tomorrow with the second intra-squad game of the current spring training sesion.

Tomorrow's game will be held under the lights, weather permitting. Many of the Tiger gridders have animals entered in the Scurry County Stock Show slated today and tomorrow. For that reason the Tigers will hold tomorrow's session at night.

We're still anxiously looking forward to the Tiger game with the "Exes."

The Tigers will get a stern test on how to stop a power-driving backfield as the "Exes" will exhibit with Jack Spikes, Alan Snead and Joe Baxter, all 175 pounds and above.

Both the Tigers and the "Exes" are confident of victory. It should be a real ball game.

The Canyon Reef Relay entry list has now climbed to 34. It looks like now that at least 40 schools will be on hand for the relays here slated March 17.

Deadline for entering is March 10.

From early indications, Midland, Amarillo and Odessa loom as the Canyon Reef favorites.

Burke Leads At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Jackie Burke Jr. of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y. today took a one-stroke lead and an aching back into the second round of the $12,500 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament.

Burke fired a record-equaling 7-under-par 32-33—65 in the opening round yesterday over the 6,450-yard Baton Rouge Country Club course. He shares the tourney record with three others.

Burke missed a 15-inch putt on the 18th hole that would have given him a 64, tying the course mark.

Close behind with a steady 33-33—66 was Ed Furgol of St. Louis.

Bunched at 67 were amateur Rod Funseth, Spokane, Wash.; George Bayer, Cincinnati; Shelley Mayfield, Westbury, N.Y.; and Harry Dee, Hartsdale, N.Y.

After shooting his sizzling round, Burke went to Louisiana State University, where athletic trainer Marty Broussard treated a pleurisy condition with diathermy and infrared rays.

"It began to bother me on the fifth hole," Burke said. "It hurts when I breathe, but not when I swing my club. The trainer wants me to come back tomorrow for more treatments, but I don't want to go before I play."

Ted Hopes To Play In 125

By JOE REICHLER

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Elder statesman Ted Williams, still baseball's greatest hitter as well as its top attraction, has set his sights on four targets for the 1956 season.

The no-longer slender Boston Red Sox slugger wants to play at least games, drive in 100 runs, wallop 30 homers and win his fifth batting title.

Now in his 38th year, Thumping Theodore, who holds the highest lifetime batting mark of all active players with .348, thinks he has set his sights too high. In a clubhouse interview after he had finished his first workout of the year followed by picture posing and a lengthy interrogation by a horde of reporters, the towering outfield star confessed that old age had finally caught up with him.

Ted insisted his reflexes were not as sharp as they once were, his legs and arm were gone and he was now just a skeleton of the great hitter he used to be. He moaned about being out of shape, said he hadn't even touched a bat all winter and reported his weight about 10 pounds more than he would like to carry.

"I'm not kidding myself," he said in his quick, intense way. "I'm not the hitter I used to be. It gets harder every year. Even the eagerness is not as great as it once was. I can still see pretty good, and I can still hit, but I can't run and I can't throw. Heck, I'm an old man now. I'm 37. How many regulars are there around today older than I am?

"Only one—Mickey Vernon — and he's got only six months on me. Why, fellows like Joe DiMaggio, Jimmy Foxx, Joe Cronin, Hank Greenberg and Ralph Kiner were through playing before they reached my age."

Brooks Oiler Team Moves Up In Meet

Snyder's Brooks Oilers independent cage team won out in the first round last night of the Blackwell Invitational Tournament and will go into second round play tonight.

The Brooks team took Bronte 73-59 in the first round game. They are to meet a team from San Angelo at 8:30 o'clock tonight. Teams from Ballinger and Blackwell are also to meet in second round play, with the winners of the two games to clash tomorrow night in the finals.

The Oilers moved out in the last half after a close game during the first two quarters and part of the third. Halftime score was 35-33, with Brooks leading.

Bill Tillman and Bobby Shipley poured 19 points each into the hoops, while Bill Voss followed closely with 18. Leading Bronte was Kenneth Scott with 14.

in 2-24 Johnson

Daniel Johnson, principal of the Lincoln Elementary School here is at Prarie View A & M College today attending the 27th annual conference on education.

The research committee at Prarie View is presenting the conference, which began this morning. Findings of studies by the committee were to be presented to an expected audience of 4,000 teachers and administrators from throughout the state.

Theme of the conference is "Vocational Aspirations of Negro Youth in Texas." Data for the conference was secured from freshman students.

Johnson recently returned from a public school administrators conference held at Texas Southern University at Houston, where about 1,200 principals, supervisors, superintendents, and college presidents attended.

At that conference, use of test results in improving the instructional program was discussed, along with reasons for testing.

Holman Seeks Match With 'Hurricane'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Big John Holman, a slow man in the ring but a fast climber recently in the heavyweight boxing ranks, overpowered Irish Joe Rowan of Philadelphia last night and looked forward to a bout with Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson.

"They promised to give us Jackson next," said Holman's manager, Bernie Glickman, "and if we win that one we should be in line for a shot at the championship."

Holman, the fourth-ranking contender for Rocky Marciano's crown, was an easy winner over Rowan in a nationally-televised 10-round fight in Miami's Bayfront Auditorium.

Tigers In Second Intra-Squad Tilt

The Tiger footballers will hold their second intra-squad scrimmage of the current spring training session under the lights tomorrow night at Tiger Stadium.

Festivities are due to get underway at around 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

With an exception of a change of two, tomorrow's two teams will be the same as took part in last week's intra-squad contest.

In last week's game, the "Blacks" won over the "Golds" 12-0. Bill Fowler and Powell Berry scored the touchdowns in last week's session.

Three boys who took part in last week's game probably will not see action tomorrow. Dwayne Prince has quit football to devote full time to baseball and basketball.

Two others are injured and will see little—if any— service tomorrow night. They are Gary Vice with a bad "charley horse" and Jimmy Allen with a leg injury.

Vice played halfback for the "Blacks" last week while Allen was the Gold fullback. Prince played an end position for the Golds last week.

The only other change is Mickey McGrew has been switched from the Black to the Gold team as fullback.

Barring any other unforseen changes, here is the way the Blacks and Golds will line up for tomorrow's intra - squad scrimmage:

GOLDS

Ends—John Ward and Tom Falls.
Tackles—Wiley Denson, Robert Dabbs and Gerry Tucker.
Guards—Roger Hensley and Gary Hill.
Center—Larry Page and Bill Rinehart.
Quarterback—Ronnie Smith.
Halfbacks — Tommy Prichard, Dean Staton and Bobby Pollard.
Fullback—Mickey McGrew and Jimmy Allen.

BLACKS

Ends—Dwayne Merritt, Milton Ham and Kenneth Free.
Tackles—Larry Mullins and Billy Phillips.
Guards—Bill Jennings, Pat Patterson and Jackie Tucker.
Center—Joe Reaves.
Quarterbacks—Powell Berry and Bobby Staton.
Halfbacks—Israel Hinojos, J. A. Martin and Gary Vice.
Fullback—Bill Fowler.

Holy Cross Cager Bangs In 51 Points

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Tom Heinsohn and Darrell Floyd, a pair of spanking new All Americas, shared the spotlight with an upset and a couple of close shaves in college basketball last night.

Heinsohn did everything but put out the cat for Holy Cross, popping in 51 points and clearing 42 rebounds as the Crusaders, warming up for the NCAA Tournament, routed Boston College 111-75.

Floyd, Furman's two-time All America, was only a step or two behind in point production with a total of 43 for a Southern Conference Tournament record while leading the Paladins to an 84-70 elimination of Virginia Tech.

It was the Southern's survival-of-the-fittest shindig at Richmond, Va., that unveiled the upset, with Washington and Lee's four-star Generals laying the wood to George Washington 63-60. George Washington had been cofavored with West Virginia in the three-day tournament which opened last night to determine the Southern champ and NCAA entry.

Davidson almost made it a complete sweep by the underdogs, giving West Virginia a tussle before bowing 59-53. The Mountaineers meet Floyd and Furman tonight in the semifinals with Washington & Lee paired against Richmond, which held William and Mary to four first half field goals to win 79-62 in the first round.

The Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament at Raleigh, N. C., had its share of first-round scares too. North Carolina State, ranked No. 5 in the nation and the defending ACC champ, had to scramble after blowing a 17-point lead to edge Clemson 88-84. North Caroline, ranked eighth nationally, came out of its game with Virginia huffin' and puffin' with a slim 81-77 decision.

And Wake Forest, No. 20, didn't see daylight until the last 10 minutes in its 79-64 victory over South Carolina. Wake meets North Carolina tonight The last time they met, it led to a postgame brawl that cost both $500 in ACC fines and each lost a player by suspension until March 5.

Duke, ranked No. 11 and slated to meet N. C. State in the other semifinal tonight, was the only easy winner, thumping Maryland 94-69.

Elsewhere, DePaul was too big and too potent for Manhattan in a battle of NCAA tourney entries with Ron Sobieszczyk scoring 23 points in an 86-70 rout at Madison Square Garden. The Blue Demons, ending the regular season 13-7, will meet Wayne (Mich) in the NCAA first round at Fort Wayne, Ind., March 12.

Utah wrapped up its second straight Skyline title by bopping Colorado A&M 91-60. Utah meets the winner of the regional game between Seattle and Idaho State in its first NCAA test, at Corvallis, Ore., March 16.

Santee To Run In Garden Tomorrow

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Wes Santee, America's controversial miler, returns to competition tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden with the blessing of a State Supreme Court justice and the approval of the Knights of Columbus track officials.

A court injunction signed yesterday by Justice James McNally and followed several hours later by a statement from K. of C. meet director Tom Harrigan paved the way for the return of the 24-year-old Marine lieutenant.

Santee, only American to come close to the magic 4-minute mile and this country's chief 1,500-meter hope in the Melbourne Olympics, was handed a lifetime suspension Feb. 19 by the Amateur Athletic Union's Executive Committee.

The AAU action came after a special investigating committee reported the former University of Kansas runner had taken monies above allowable expenses for a number of meets in 1955, including three in California.

At Quantico, Va., where he is on duty with the Marine Corps, Santee said he had been working out despite the AAU ban.

Charles P. Grimes, Santee's attorney who sought the temporary injunction, said Wes would arrive in New York today. Justice McNally set March 9 for the hearing on the injunction. Upon that decision likely will determine whether Santee will be permitted to run meets at Cleveland, Chicago and Milwaukee later this month.

Yesterday's action set the stage for a return engagement between Santee and Ron Delany, an Irishman from Villanova who has ruled the mile roost all season. In their only previous meeting, at Boston Jan. 28, Delany won in 4:06.3 as Santee faded to fourth after following a blazing early pace. Wes was clocked in 4:08.8.

The AAU had no immediate comment on the Knights of Columbus decision to abide by an invitation, which its statement said was extended to Santee Jan. 19.

But after the injunction was signed Secretary-Treasurer Dan Ferris said:

"Now that the injunction has been granted, maybe the people involved will have enough sense to do the right thing."

The day after Santee's suspension and after Grimes had warned of his plans for an injunction, Ferris told meet promoters that Santee's entry in a meet—even with an injjnction—would not be accepted. At the same time he advised meet directors they would jeopardize his amateur standing. The AAU rules forbid an amateur to compete against professionals.

IRA REGULAR—Joan Ford, above, will be in the starting lineup when the Ira girls basketball team take on McAdoo in the first round of the Region I tournament today. Miss Ford is the third leading Ira scorer with 272 points in 26 games for a 10.1 average. (Lee Watson photograph)

Ira Sextet In Canyon For Tournament

The Ira girls basketball team is in Canyon today for the Region 1 tournament being held in the West Texas State College Gymnasium.

The Bulldogettes were slated against McAdoo in the first round at 3 p.m. today.

Ira carries a perfect 26-0 record to the tournament after defeating Blackwell, 56-41, in a bi-district game Tuesday night at Sweetwater.

This is the second straight year the Ira lasses have reached the regional round.

Winner of the Ira-McAdoo game will play in the semi-finals at 9:45 a.m. Saturday. The finals are slated Saturday night at 8:30.

Champion of the Region 1 tournament will advance to the state tournament to be held next week in Austin.

The starting lineup for the Bulldogettes will likely by Baleria Eubanks, Peggy Taylor and Joan Ford at the Forward posts; and Nita Thomas, Mary Turner and Margaret Clinkenbeard at the guards.

Remainder of the Ira squad consists of Joan Brooks, Neval Carlisle, Darla Bryant, Mary Jennings, Jo Nell Eubanks, Peggy Brown, Marvlan Moore, Barbara Martin and Olivia Vinson. Also included in the Ira travelling troupe are Maggie Boatman, student manager; Coach Sallee and Mrs. I. O. Maupin.

McAdoo, Ira's first tourney foe, sports a 25-9 record. Other teams in the region tournament are Spearman, Amherst, Roosevelt, Ropesville, Claude and Paint Creek.

Costa Favored To Whip Ryff

NEW YORK (AP)—Madison Square Garden may be only a "studio" for television as far as boxing goes these days but it's still the shining goal of most fighters. Sometimes appearing in the Garden for the first time makes even veterans freeze.

"That's what happened to me the last time against Frankie Ryff," said Mexico's Baby Vasquez. "I was too tight and too excited. I couldn't get off. I'll do better against Costa."

Tonight Vasquez meets clever Carmelo (Chubby) Costa, second-ranking featherweight contender from Brooklyn.

The 24-year-old Mexican lightweight champion will have to be in top form to give the fast-moving, fast-hitting Brooklynite a battle. Costa is a 3-1 favorite.

After losing to Ryff Dec. 23, Vasquez knocked out Bobby Cardenas in one round Jan. 7. His over-all record is 38-10-1.

Costa, gunning for a title shot at featherweight champion Sandy Saddler, is riding a six-fight unbeaten string. He won five and drew in one for an unbeaten 1955 campaign. His record is 28-2-4.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 10 p.m. EST.

Pollock Beats Avoca

AUSTIN (AP)—Central of Pollok floored defending champion Avoca of Class B 53-48 today in the biggest upset of the Texas schoolboy basketball tournament.

Phillips-Webster In Sizzling Tilt In State Cage Tourney

by HAROLD V. RATLIFF

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas schoolboy basketball tournament moves into its major classes today but they're still talking about a couple of games last night that set a raft of records and exalted a youngster named Carl Mitchell as the top scoring expert.

The Phillips Blackhawks beat Webster 84-81 and in so doing virtually rewrote the record book for the division and also set some all-time tournament records. It was 36 points by Mitchell that brought a smashing upset to tumble Webster from the unbeaten ranks. The South Texas team had gone through 32 games without defeat before playing in the tournament here.

Phillips moved into the Class AA finals where the Hawks meet Jacksonville Saturday night for the championship. Jacksonville was no slouch at this scoring business. The Indians beat Waxahachie 81-68, with Jim Cone winning glory by taking a fantastic 29 rebounds while massing 28 points.

But major interest tonight turns to the start of play in the top divisions—Classes AAAA and AAA. Favored North Dallas will battle Odessa at 8:05 p.m. while Houston Milby takes on Laredo at 9:20 in the Class AAAA first round. North Dallas and Milby are favored to push into the finals and meet for the title Saturday afternoon before a television audience.

Class AAA will decide its finalists with a couple of games this afternoon. Palo Duro of Amarillo meets Marshall at 3:10 while Beaumont French takes on Harlingen at 4:35. Palo Duro and French are favored to come through.

Finalists were determined yesterday and last night in two divisions. In addition to Phillips and Jacksonville in Class AA, Buna and Troup swept into the final of Class A and will play for the title Saturday afternoon. Buna, the defending Class A champion, got to the last game again by beating Deer Park 55-39 while Troup pulled a mild upset in trouncing Big Lake 54-49.

Semi-finalists were determined in Class B with Avoca, Pollok, Krum and Kyle getting the spots. Avoca, the defending champion, eased past Pawnee 55-51, Pollok licked Gruver 69-56, Krum downed Laneville 66-55 and Kyle strapped Van Horn 65-37.

Class B decides its finalists this morning with Avoca meeting Pollok and Krum tangling with Kyle.

Third place in Classes A and AA will be determined this afternoon with Deer Park meeting Big Lake in A and Webster tackling Waxahachie in AA.

Phillips and Webster scored 165 points combined and bettered the tournament record of 159 set by Sweeny and Sundown in 1954. It also was a new Class AA record, beating the old mark by 22 points. Phillips' 84 points cracked the one-team record of 81 set by Bowie in 1953.

Mitchell established a new tournament record when he collected 13 free throws in 14 attempts and it also was a new Class AA record. His 35 points was a Class AA record, bettering by six the mark set by Temple Tucker of Bowie in 1953.

It was generally conceded by veteran fans and officials that the Phillips-Webster game was the finest exhibition of shooting the tournament ever has seen in its 36 years.

STILL FEELS LIKE A KID

Pee Wee Set For 14th Major Season

By SEN OLAN
The Associated Press

Harold (Pee Wee) Reese, who got his nickname because he liked to shoot marbles as a youngster, still feels "like a kid" as he prepares to start his 14th season with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"Maybe an injury will stop me," he said today. "But a 21-year-old can get hurt too And barring something of that nature, there isn't the slightest doubt in my mind about my ability to have another good year."

Pee Wee batted .282 in 145 games in 1955 and there are some who will argue that he—not Roy Campanella or Duke Snider—was the most important guy for the Dodgers, who swept to their first world championship.

"I'm more confident this year than I was last spring," said the 36-year-old shortstop. "I had some serious doubts a year ago. My legs were giving me trouble and one day I told my wife that it looked like the beginning of the end."

He said that when the team reached the North, he looked up Leslie MacMitchell, the retired track star who had been the running coach in the Dodger camp for several years. MacMitchell told him that running over a hard indoor track was the worst possible thing for a ballplayer to do.

"And I had done just that," Reese admitted. "This winter, I did no running at all. Just some bicycling to keep my legs in trim."

Meanwhile, Stan Musial, another guy who knows his way around the National League, was bubbling over with enthusiasm in the St. Louis Cards' camp in St. Petersburg, Fla.

"I feel better this spring than at any training time I can remember," said the six-time batting champ.

The managers made most of the news in the other camps yesterday.

New York Giants' skipper Bill Rigney named Foster Castleman as his No. 1 choice for the regular second base spot. Pittsburgh pilot Bobby Bragan slapped a midnight curfew on the Pirates, declaring, "Let's do things my way, so I can take the blame."

Cincinnati Manager Birdie Tebbetts reported that 18 of the 37 players on the Redlegs' roster are pitchers.

Maxwell Shares Mexico Lead

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Texan Billy Maxwell entered the second round of the Mexican National Open Golf Tournament today with a share of the lead and the hope he'll continue his brilliant performance in the International competition.

Maxwell, from Odessa, Tex., shot a blazing seven-under-par 65 yesterday, a score equalled by Mexican caddy Margarito Martinez.

THE NORTH SIDE Assembly of God Church has used this building at 1000 Thirteenth Street since organization in 1954. It has made tentative plans for a new building.

North Side Church Plans For Growth

(Thirty-first of a series on Snyder and area churches.)

A church congregation which located a year and a half ago in a growing neighborhood is now making plans for future permanent building on its property.

It is the North Side Assembly of God, 1000 Thirteenth Street, which has made tentative plans to construct a new building at its northeast Snyder location as soon as its present debt is paid. Nearby is the new Northeast Elementary School, which is under construction and which has given members hope that the neighborhood will build up more rapidly.

Pastor of the church is the Rev. L. R. Helms. He came to the church from Fort Worth in September, 1954.

The church was actually organized in August, 1954, after it had been an independent group for several months. The Rev Jack Burton of Carlsbad came here for six weeks and aided the group until it secured its pastor.

Soon after organization, the congregation purchased the property and building formerly used by the Calvary Baptist Church before its relocation in the southwest part of Snyder. The auditorium of the building will seat between 200 and 225 persons, while the educational unit has five classrooms.

Since that time, the church has built a new parsonage next door to the church building.

At the time the pastor came here, Sunday school attendance was close to 30. It is now running over 80, while record attendance is 105.

John Bruton is Sunday school superintendent, while teachers include the pastor, men's and women's class; the Rev. Cecil Dumont, young people; Bob Quick, intermediates; Mrs. Ernest Hollis, juniors; Mrs. Helms, primary; and Miss Mary Miles, beginners.

Bruton is also acting as chairman of the official board, which has as members John Curtis and Herman Sullivan. Crutis is also church secretary. The men's organization, Christ's Ambassadors, has Cecil Dumont as president, while Mrs. Lois Byrum leads the Junior Christ's Ambassadors.

The church has a Sunday radio broadcast on KSNY at 8:45 a.m. Its services include Sunday school at 9:45 a.m., Sunday morning worship at 11, Tuesday service at 7:30 p.m., and Christ Ambassador service on Thursdays at 7:30 p.m.

Nursery Attendant

The North Side Baptist Church has voted to employe a full-time nursery attendant.

The nursery will be open, with a regular attendant, during Sunday morning and evening services and during many other services of the church

There were 1,532,000 marriages in the United States in 1955.

SNYDER AREA CHURCH NOTES

Special Observances And Guest Speakers Scheduled

Communion-Lord's Supper observances are on schedule for some Snyder churches this weekend, while some others have guest speakers to appear in their pulpits.

Communion will be observed at all three services at the First Methodist Church Sunday at 8:45 and 10:55 a.m. and 7 p.m. At the late morning service, communion meditation by the pastor, the Rev. J. Lennol Hester, will be "More Than a Memory." At the 7 p.m. service, the fifth of a series of films on the life of Paul, "First Missionary Journey," will be shown.

• • •

"Lent and the Matter of Seed and Soil" will be the subject of the 10:55 a.m. sermon of the Rev. Jay Hendren, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday. Westminster fellowhip will be at 5:30 p.m., and at the evening worship service at 7, the study of the Fourth Gospel will be continued.

The Rev. G. M. Cole, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has as his sermon topic for the Sunday 11 a.m. service, "In Remembrance of Me," in connection with observance of the Lord's Supper. The choir will sing "Blessed Redeemer" during the offeratory. At the 7:30 p.m. service, the pastor's subject will be "Onesimus, the Runaway Slave." Special music will be a baritone solo by Wayland Holt.

• • •

At the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ, Ted Norton, minister, will speak at the Sunday 10:45 a.m. service on "Is Chruch Attendance Essential?" Richard Jones of Abilene Christian College will be guest speaker at the 7 p.m. service. Bible classes are at 9:45 a.m., training classes at 6 p.m.

The Rev. T. Gerald Cates, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, will present the second of a series of talks on "Segregation and the Bible" on his 8:30 a.m. Sunday radio broadcast on KSNY. At the 10 a.m. Bible class for adults, he will speak on "The Risen Christ, the Master of Our Salvation," John 21. At the 11 a.m. service, his subject will be "Too Good To Be Saved," and his topic for the 7:30 p.m. service will be "Segregation or Integration–Which Does the Bible Teach?"

• • •

"The Privilege of Choice" will be the subject of the Sunday 10:55 a.m. sermon of the Rev. Jack Riley, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church. Mrs. Laura Arnold will be soloist. At the 7:30 p.m. service, the Rev. J. Lennol Hester, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will be guest minister. Rev. and Mrs. Riley will leave [illegible] two weeks' vacation.

• • •

"Opportunities Versus Opposition" will be the subject of the Sunday 10:45 a.m. sermon of Dale Brooks, minister at the Thirty-seventh Street Chruch of Christ. His subject at the 7 p.m. service will be "Changing One's Religion." Bible classes will be at 9:45 a.m., training classes at 6 p.m.

• • •

"The Spectators Around the Cross," the last of a series of sermons on the Cross, will be the subject of the Rev. Jack Dean, pastor of the North Side Baptist Church, at the Sunday 7:30 p.m. service. The church will mark the beginning of the fourth year of evening services being broadcast. During that time, Sunday school enrollment has increased from 165 to 352 and there have been 350 additions to the church. Sunday morning services are at 11.

Showers Hit Part Of State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was wet and windy in some sections of the South and East and showery in the Far West but fairly mild and clear weather continued in broad areas of the nation today.

A narrow belt of rain showers and gusty winds extended from the lower Mississippi and Ohio valleys to the Appalachians. Precipitation amounts were light with the heaviest amount, around an inch, at El Dorado, Ark.

Skies were cloudy and temperatures higher—as much as 25 to 30 degrees above yesterday morning—in the Atlantic Coast states. At Portland, Maine, the temperature rise was 29 degrees, with a reading of 31.

Fair and mild weather prevailed in the northern and central plains and the middle Mississippi Valley although temperatures were a little lower than yesterday morning.

Dust whipped up by the high winds yesterday filled the air in many places from western Nebraska to New Mexico eastward into southeastern Missouri.

Governor Of Wyoming Must Like Eisenhower

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Guess who Gov. Milward L. Simpson is backing. He came to work wearing:

1. An "Ike" button in his lapel.
2. An "Ike" tie.
3. "Ike" cuff links.

Big Plant Proposed

HOUSTON (AP)—An official of the Celanese Corp., manufacturers of synthetic products, said yesterday the firm is considering building a multi-million dollar plant in the Houston area.

The population of the United States is increasing rapidly enough to produce another city the size of Madison, Wis. every 10 days.

Kentucky Motorist Goes Sleep Driving

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The driver of a mud-stuck automobile told police he must have been "sleep driving."

He had no other explanation for the fact he was clad only in underclothes and shoes.

He said he was all the time sleep - walking but believed this was his first snooze at the wheel.

The man's mother confirmed he was a sleep-walker.

Whether building a life or a skyscraper is involved, a clear understanding of the project is necessary... a plan must be in mind. The man who starts to raise a family without first considering his earning power, cost involved and the necessity for God's help — faces serious difficulty. To correctly raise a building an architect, blueprint and a builder are essential. To properly build a man — prayer, Bible reading, Sunday school and church attendance are good tools to work with. To calculate the pitch a roof must be is easy but without God's help, to determine the worth of a young life is impossible. Architects design houses. Builders put them together. But only God can build a man out of a boy. The church, through these firm hands of mine, pictures to humanity the world's greatest designer... Jesus the Christ. World builders could not get along very well without Him. He has never poured a bad foundation, nor laid a sill out of level, nor raised a wall off plum. "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it," Psalms 127:1.

Boy Wants To Give Dog To Help Blind

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has turned down with thanks the offer by 12-year-old Edwin Lutcher of Lake Geneva, Wis., to give his "German sheppord dog ..as a gide" for some blind soldier.

"I think you are the most generous boy I've ever heard of," Veterans Administrator Harvey V. Higley wrote Edwin. "Very few grown folks would make an offer of their dog so that a blinded soldier or veteran could train his dog to be their eyes."

On a sheet of paper torn from a notebook, Edwin had written on Feb. 14 from "Lake Iveanhoe," General Delivery, Lake Geneva:

"I am Edwin Lutcher age 12, and I have a German sheppord dog about 6 mo. old. And I would like to give him to the blind soldiers, as a gide for some one. The dog is a nice one, his name is Smokie Boy, please come and get him, it would make my 2 sisters, and 2 brothers and I very happy to know our dog can help some one. Thank you."

The Milwaukee Veterans Administration office forwarded the request on to Higley, who made it public today with his reply.

He explained to Edwin the VA no longer advises use of dogs for the blind. Thanking the boy on behalf of the nation's 22 million veterans, Higley said:

"I know he must be a fine dog to have such a wonderful master but, honestly, Edwin, I think you should keep Smokie Boy' because every boy should own a dog.

"You see, Edwin, we train blinded veterans to have their 'eyes' by teaching them to use what we call 'the long cane.' Once they get the knack of using the cane they don't have anything to worry about and after all a cane is so much easier replaced than a dog which must become old and die. When one gets attached to a dog he misses it so much after the dog dies, but with a cane, it's only a piece of wood."

Higley added he was going to ask Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) to have Edwin's letter printed in the Congresional Record "so that everyone in the United States will know what kind of boys we raise in Wisconsin."

"I'm from Wisconsin too, you know—from Marinette, way up north of you," Higley said.

Killed In Accident

LAMESA (AP)—Leona Steele, 11, died yesterday of injuries suffered in a car-truck accident about 7 miles south of here last night. Her father, Clarence Steele, died instantly in the collision. A brother, Vaughn, 13, was in a critical condition.

Harolds Club Sold In Huge Cash Deal

RENO (AP)—Harolds Club, which in 21 years grew from a $500 bankroll and a white mouse into the world's biggest gambling casino, was sold last night for close to 14 million dollars—cash.

The vast enterprise, by far the biggest moneymaker in Nevada—the nation's only state with legal gambling—was sold to a San Francisco property-management firm headed by Jules J. Agostini Jr.

Agostini, in his early 40s, will be called a "square" in Nevada's gambling fraternity because he never has had a connection with that business.

His firm, the Morgan-Agostini Properties Co., owns 28 San Francisco Bay area buildings.

In acquiring Harolds Club with its 70 gambling games and more than 800 slot machines, the firm also comes into possession of the club's huge parking garage, a million-dollar motel, a plush trapshooting country club, several warehouses, several hundred acres of ranchland near Reno, extensive business property and numerous subsidiary holdings.

Also included are more than 2,500 "Harolds Club or Bust" highway billboards in 41 states which have helped make the casino familiar to motorists.

Known in local gambling circles as "The Factory," Harolds Club takes in more than eight million dollars yearly. Of this, it pays almost half a million a year in gambling taxes to the State of Nevada alone.

It was a family corporation—brothers Harold and Raymond A. Smith and Harold's former wife Dorothy—from its inception in 1935. However the sparkplug of the organization has been colorful, 68-year-old Raymond I Smith, father of the two brothers.

NAACP Is Hit In Lousiana Legal Moves

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana's dramatic legal move to outlaw the NAACP under an anti-Klan law brought promise today of a hot court battle.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said it would "be compelled to defend" itself against the civil suit in a state district court.

Behind the state's sudden counterattack is the hope of segregation leaders that it may blunt the NAACP's drive for public school integration.

Atty. Gen. Fred S. Leblanc asked the court to dissolve the NAACP in Louisiana and ban NAACP meetings.

He acted under terms of a 1924 law requiring about every type of organization to file annual membership lists with the secretary of state. It was enacted to drive out the Ku Klux Klan.

This the NAACP has failed to file in the last three years, the state petition charged. The law directs the attorney general "to proceed by injunction or otherwise" to dissolve noncomplying organizations.

In the first court step, Dist. Judge Coleman Lindsey ordered the NAACP and 12 defendents to show cause March 19 why a preliminary injunction should not be issued.

He also directed the defendents to answer state questions, which are listed in the petition. They are an attempt to show by the defendents' own answers that the NAACP failed to file its membership lists.

Recently a federal court decision in New Orleans overruled the state's 1954 laws attempting to skirt the U.S. Supreme Court ban on public school segregation. Last Wednesday, a second NAACP suit in the New Orleans federal court attacked classroom segregation in the capital city here.

State Sen. W. M. Rainach, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation, said his group had spent nearly a year with the attorney general and executive office planning the lawsuit to outlaw the NAACP.

He termed it "Louisiana's first counteroffensive against the NAACP," and suggested it would set a pattern for other Dixie states bent on keeping segregation.

Rainach, arch foe of the NAACP branded the group "an alien, arrogant destructive force seeking to drive a bitter wedge between the white and Negro races in the South. It should be destroyed completely by laws and public opinion and driven from our midst."

In New Orleans, A. P. Tureaud Sr., Louisiana's top NACCP attorney, contended the law has not been used since 1924 and few organizations have been required to comply.

HEAVEN-SENT ASSIST

Poet Aids Home For Homeless

NEW YORK (AP)—Miss Dorothy Day feels certain that St. Joseph, patron saint of workers, has been laboring overtime ever since her "House of Hospitality" was condemned as a firetrap.

And she can thank poet W. H. Auden for what she terms a heaven-sent assist.

Miss Day—a serene, slender, white-haired lady—gave up a writing career 23 years ago to minister to the poor and unfortunate. She became cofounder of the International Catholic Worker Movement, and conducts a refuge for the homeless on the lower East Side.

The Good Samaritan's troubles stem from a fire almost three years ago in the four-story, red brick, former settlement house. The blaze, caused by a careless cigarette smoker, resulted in injury to six persons. Five suffered minor burns. One man died later of pneumonia.

This made the house, under city ordinance, the site of a fatal fire.

Miss Day keeps her charitable abode spotless. Sixty persons now live in the building, and no charge is made for lodging and meals. In addition, a breadline outside feeds between 200 and 300 derelicts twice a day.

The good lady must depend on donations, which trickle in enough to keep her going—but with meager funds to make major repairs.

Even so, last January fire escapes were being installed and the basement kitchens were fireproofed. It was, however, too little and came too late.

Law is law, and Miss Day was fined $20 last Wednesday as the landlord of a firetrap and ordered to evict her charges by March 13.

Yesterday she set out for Upper Manhattan Court minus funds, praying fervently to St. Joseph and planning to throw herself on the mercy of the court.

As she stepped outside the mission door, a group of needy men huddled in the cold awaiting the distribution of clothing.

Out of the group strode a man who pressed a slip of paper in her hand. The man was Auden.

"I just read about your troubles," he said. "I want to help out a little bit toward the fine. Here's two-fifty."

Miss Day, not recognizing Auden, thanked the man and hurried to the subway. En route uptown, she glanced at the paper—a check for $250.

Magistrate Jack L. Nicoll considered the case in his chambers. He said he realized the frantic efforts being made to comply with regulations, and he told Miss Day to have plans ready by March 21 to finish fireproofing the building.

The structure, which cost $30,000, will need about another $30,000 in repairs to comply with the law.

Then the magistrate set aside the fine.

Miss Day was jubilant. Two hundred and fifty dollars looks small in comparison with many thousands, she said, but St. Joseph—through good-willed people—would work mightily in her behalf.

Miss Day was profuse in her apologies at not having recognized the noted poet.

"Poets do look a bit unpressed, don't they?" she said.

English Words Creep Into French Talk

PARIS (AP)—Guardians of the French language are furrowing their brows over the number of English words that keep sneaking into the Frenchman's vocabulary.

Reaching for an English word himself, a writer for the respected morning newspaper Le Figaro blamed it all on "snobbism."

Such terms as cocktail, scooter, football, pool, score, mixer, surprise party, and snack bar are well known to the average Frenchman. French cuisine is being invaded by sandwiches, hotdogs, hamburgers and cheeseburgers. They are readily available, often with French improvements.

In making the jump from the United States or Britain, English words sometimes get pulled a little out of shape.

Cocktail is pronounced by the French something like "coke-tail." And a cocktail in France is a party as well as something to drink. But stay away from the French version of the Marteenee coke-tail.

A sur-preeze part-ee in France isn't an occasion where you barge in on someone unexpectedly and shout "Happy birthday." A surprise party over here is more like a potluck affair in America, where the guests bring along something to eat or drink.

A group of French language watchdogs, known as the "consultative Committee of the Scientific Language," recently renewed its opposition to foreign terms.

Too often, the committee said, the words are badly defined when adopted by the French, and anyway "our language is rich enough to respond to all the needs of expression."

The United Nations says there are 595 medical schools in 5 countries with total graduates between 50,000 and 60,000 a year.

British Have Polio Vaccine

LONDON (AP)—All over Britain, mothers cluster in little knots discussing their big problem: whether to have their children inoculated with antipolio vaccine this summer.

The Health Ministry has offered to inoculate 500,000 youngsters under 9. It guarantees the vaccine, a modified version of the American Salk serum, is "as safe as any vaccine can be."

There has been no official campaign in support of the plan. It's up to the parents to decide for themselves. And for many it's a tough decision. They remember some children have contracted polio in the United States after being inoculated.

So far they have been unable to obtain guidance from their old friend, the family doctor. This is because the Health Ministry has given little or no information on the subject to the medical press or local health bodies, although promising to do so soon.

The new vaccine developed by British scientists differs from the Salk vaccine in that the Mahoney strain, one of the three viruses used, has been dropped in favor of a less virulent breed called the Brunhilde.

Since World War II as much office space has been built in New York City as exists in all Chicago.

Infant Is Strangled

BIG SPRING (AP)—Lloyd Wynn, 4 months old, strangled to death yesterday in the family car while his mother, Mrs. L. D. Wynn, was in a store briefly. Services probably will be held in Amarillo, where his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Wynn and Alfred Hughlett, live.

India Starts Number Game On Quotations

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India's flourishing numbers racket has its roots in New York. It is known as Satta and it pays off on New York cotton futures quotations.

It attracts millions of Indians daily.

Satta was born decades ago in Bombay, with bookmakers there taking bets on what would be the closing quotation for cotton futures on the New York exchange.

Soon the idea spread across India. It was simple gambling. Even the illiterate peasant could try to strike it rich.

In rural India the numbers game has seen farmers betting a pound or two of rice, with the bookies promising to pay "in kind." The odds are generally 8-1.

In the big cities the betting is strictly for cash. Most bets are just a few annas (cents), although sometimes wagers are in thousands of rupees. Gamblers eagerly watch the late news columns of Indian papers for the quotations.

Delhi state legislators are demanding more effective police attacks on Satta. Madras lawmakers have boosted the fines for gambling, which is illegal, to deter both bookies and their clients. The Madras fine now approaches $200. In Bombay the penalty remains $1.

What has bothered the Satta players most was the news from New York late last year that the U.S. Department of Agriculture had accused a New York brokerage firm of rigging cotton futures quotations. The department said the firm manipulated cotton futures contracts to make prices agree with figures previously cabled to persons in Madras and Bombay.

Cut In Tax Is Ruled Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Percival F. Brundage, deputy director of the U.S. Budget, says tax cuts are not feasible this year if a balanced federal budget is to be achieved.

Brundage, who takes office April 1 as budget director, told the New York Chamber of Commerce that military needs are a chief reason for ruling out a tax cut now.

President Eisenhower, he said, "feels as strongly as any of us that our level of taxation is too high to be continued indefinitely without detrimental effects on the growth of our economy."

"But this is not the time to take a tax cut," he said.
