

2 New Proposed Dam Sites Listed in County This Week

Two new possible locations for dams in Collingsworth county were disclosed this week, one in the extreme west part of the county and the other near the east county line.

Appraisers for the Bureau of Reclamation have been in the county during the last week checking land values in order to arrive at the cost of land that would be covered by water backed up by a dam.

A request is in the regional office of the Bureau of Reclamation, Amarillo, from the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority for core drilling at a new site in Collingsworth county, just above Little Gyp Creek, John Coleman, chairman of the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District said.

The Greenbelt Authority has been advised that its original location in east Donley county is not suitable, he added.

A map, released by Leon Hill, regional director of the Amarillo office, to Coleman, places the proposed new location about two miles inside Collingsworth county and approximately two miles north of the King church. Coleman earlier talked with John Thompson, assistant director, by phone and requested the information.

The other proposed new site is just below the Salt Fork Bridge on Highway 203 east of Wellington. Testing at this site was requested by Paul Spillman, legal counsel for the district, in a telephone conversation with Thompson.

Gypsum outcroppings have created a basin problem as far as holding water is concerned, Spillman was told. However, underground gyp structures in the east part of the county have collapsed and the problem is not as serious as at some other points.

"The gyp structure begins collapsing just below the OM damsite," Spillman said. "Mr. Thompson assured me they would make every effort to check out all possible sites."

Old maps secured by the Collingsworth Water Authority reveal that there was some testing at this site a number of years ago, in what is referred to as a "windshield survey."

Icy Roads Add Accidents in County

Cold weather and snow brought a rash of car accidents during the past week, with two persons injured seriously enough for hospitalization. It also brought near death to a 34-year-old former Quail man, Carl McIntush of Memphis, who is paralyzed from the waist down, and who was trapped for two days in his overturned car.

Mrs. Clarence Cain of Lorraine received cuts and bruises Tuesday, Dec. 6 about 4:30 p.m., when her car hit a slick spot on the Buck Creek bridge south of town and overturned as it left the bridge. Highway patrolmen reported. Mrs. Cain was alone and no other car was involved. She was brought to St. Joseph's Hospital, where she remained under treatment Tuesday. Patrolmen estimated damage to the car at between $600 and $700.

Ray Beattie of Goodlett, who formerly lived here, is in St. Joseph's for treatment of a broken nose and face and chest injuries after his car struck the blade of a State Highway Department maintainer as it was clearing the highway of snow.

The accident happened shortly after noon Sunday, Dec. 11, two miles west of Quail. There was no damage to the maintainer and the driver, Johnny Parker was not hurt, Jay Tarter of the Highway Department said.

Beattie was traveling east and the maintainer west. The accident was investigated by Patrolman J. M. Lowrie of Clarendon, who was nearby when the accident happened.

History-Making Snow Blankets Collingsworth up to 19 Inches

The heaviest snow fall for more than 50 years, or possibly in the county's history, blanketed the area during the week end, when measurements of 18 and 19 inches were made on level ground.

A single description is given by most people living here:

"It's the biggest snow I ever saw!"

Little wind accompanied the snow, and in much of the county no drifting was reported. There have been no reports of livestock loss or suffering so far, and while some rural residents had difficulty getting home Saturday evening for the most part people were able to come and go at will.

Students of Quail, Samnorwood and Wellington had a Monday holiday, and the extended through Tuesday for Wellington students. Dodson students, on the other hand, went to class as usual.

The deepest snow was 19 inches, west of Quail on the county line, reported by Mrs. Delbert White. Herman Moseley estimated 18 inches at Quail and Orville Cunningham measured 17 inches on the level, not counting snow that melted, around Samnorwood.

Snow drifted in the Samnorwood area, and drifts up to four feet on east-west roads were reported. Little if any drifting was seen south of the river.

J. C. Hartman told The Wellington Leader he measured 16 inches on the level after the snowing stopped, with very little drifting.

Many Wellington residents measured 13 and 14 inches of snow, not counting what melted as it fell, and this is the report of the State Highway Department Weather Bureau reporter. This amounted to 1.42 inches of moisture.

The lightest fall was in the Dodson section, where the average fall was around 10 inches, according to Ed Crowder. Supt. Cunningham said that although school was in operation Monday, roads were bad.

On-the-Farm Tests

Plan 1961 Research Program Monday

The 1961 program of testing and research for the Northwest Texas Research Demonstration program will be worked out in a planning meeting here Monday, Dec. 19, when farmer planning committees meet with representatives of three Texas Experiment Stations and Extension Service personnel.

The meeting will be in the commissioners court room, beginning at 9 a.m., County Agent Bob Lynch said.

This will be the first year the program has been in operation in Collingsworth and Hall counties, and the third in which Wheeler county has participated.

Farmer-planning committees will attend from each of the three counties, along with County Agents Byron Swain of Wheeler, Bob Lynch of Wellington, and W. B. Hooser of Memphis. Research workers will be here from the experiment stations at Chillicothe, Lubbock and Bushland to help make decisions on which work will be carried on in 1961.

The county men will make their recommendations and the program will be based on these.

There will be a general discussion of 1960 results. Dwayne Scott is farm demonstrator assistant under the program.

Four File for Places on Water Board Ballot

Four candidates are seeking places as directors of the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District in the election slated Jan. 10, John Coleman, chairman, said this week.

Filing for re-election are Coleman, Louis Patterson of Dodson, and J. T. Slay.

Seeking a place on the water board for the first time is Charles Allen, Wellington postmaster.

The deadline for filing was Dec. 11, but as this fell on Sunday, applications for places on the ballot were taken until midnight Dec. 10.

Coleman and Patterson have been members of the board since the organization of the district. Slay was appointed this fall to replace Clyde Drake who resigned.

Allen was active in the early days of the organization work on a dam across Salt Fork.

Program for Church Children

The Christmas program for children of First Methodist Church will be held in the church sanctuary Monday, Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m.

All children in the primary and junior departments will take part in the program, entitled "The Gleam of the Stars," Mrs. A. J. Fires, director, said.

At the end of the program, Santa Claus will appear and gifts will be distributed from the Christmas tree.

Assisting Mrs. Fires are the teachers of the two departments: Mrs. Bill Long, Mrs. Gene Nelson, Mrs. Bess Owens, Bob Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Holley, Mrs. Cecil Masten and Mrs. J. B. King.

No Safety If War Comes

Prepare for Radiation Fall-Out Say Civil Defense Experts

No longer can Collingsworth lay claim to safety in time of war, for in any nuclear war, it lies directly in the path of heavy radiation fall-out from at least three directions.

Three top Region 5 Civil Defense leaders gave this warning to area residents in a meeting Thursday, Dec. 6.

On the other hand, many families already have fairly good radiation fall-out shelters in the form of the family storm cellar, Jack Harwell, Region 5 public affairs officer, pointed out.

Here with Harwell, a former county man, were Tom Taylor, training officer, and Bourley Clanton, planning officer. The meeting was sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club in co-operation with Mayor Hiram Cudd.

In fact-packed short talks, and with colored slides, the three covered Civil Defense generally, and then from the standpoint of what will happen where nuclear fall-out occurs, and finally what the individual can do for his own protection.

"We must get Civil Defense in the right perspective," Harwell told the group. "Civil Defense is the government in emergency. The responsibility rests on the elected officials, the president of the United States, Price Daniel in Austin, and in your county judge C. C. Bishop and city mayor Hiram Cudd. Your Civil Defense will be what you want it to be."

In a nuclear age, the American shield is as important as the sword, he pointed out, adding that Russia depends for victory on the element of surprise, the United States on massive retaliation.

"Fall-out shelters can cut casualties from 25 per cent of the population to 5 per cent," he added a few minutes later, saying that 50,000,000 would die if America is not prepared and protected.

"We have buildings today enough to shelter 25 per cent of the population. You have them. The court house basement is one. There are others here in Wellington," Harwell continued.

He deplored the defeatist attitude: "What we face is not the end of the world, but the toughest war we have ever

Kiwanians Install 1961 Officers at Banquet

"This club is a link in the chain of Kiwanis—and no chain is stronger than its weakest link," G. A. Reaves, 1961 lieutenant governor told officers of the Wellington club Friday night, Dec. 9 at the installation banquet.

All officers currently serving the club were re-elected, with C. T. Hubbard as president; the Rev. Glenn Hickey, first vice president; Jim Miller, second vice president; Dick Pendleton, secretary; Cal Hurst, treasurer; and Dee Burba, sergeant at arms.

New directors are Cicero Gulley, Jimmie Kelso, George Shadid and James Sullivan, while holdover directors are B. E. Chance, John Coleman and Bob Lynch. Bob Castleberry is an ex officio member.

Mr. Reaves, the new lieutenant governor, is principal of Crockett elementary school in Wichita Falls and has traveled extensively in the United States and Europe. Mrs. Reaves accompanied him here.

Continuing his remarks to the officers and directors, he admonished:

Census Sets County Population at 6,276

Advance census reports set Collingsworth county's population at 6,276, and Wellington a 1960 count of 3,137. Dodson, the only other point listed separately in the report, has a population of 308.

For census enumeration, the county was divided into two sections, Samnorwood division, covering approximately the north half of the county, with 978, and Wellington division, with 5,298.

Like all other counties of the area, Collingsworth suffered a drastic population loss in the 10-year period since the last census.

At that time, Collingsworth county had a population of 9,139, showing a loss of 2,863, while Wellington's count was shown as 3,676, a loss of 539.

Childress county dropped from a population of 12,123 in 1950 to 8,421 in 1960. The town of Childress fell from 7,619 ten years ago to 6,399 this year.

Hall county dropped from 10,930 in 1950 to 7,322, a loss of 3,608, while Memphis went from 3,810 to 3,322 in the same period.

County Gets $69,817

ASC Approved Conservation Practices Announced Here

Collingsworth county has been allotted $69,817 to be used in the 1961 Agricultural Conservation program for farmers carrying out needed conservation practices, Millard Brown, ASC office manager, announced this week.

These are to be issued on the cost-sharing basis.

The county committee began issuing 1961 ACP approvals to farmers on Dec. 2, after the 1960 program funds had been exhausted, Brown said.

Only 17,450 of the 1961 funds are allowed to be issued prior to Jan. 1, 1961. To date sufficient applications from farmers have been received in the county office to absorb this amount. However, farmers who plan on doing conservation practices during the month of January may file their request now or at any time prior to the beginning of the work in carrying out the practice.

"Farmers should always bear in mind that it is necessary to have written prior approval issued on Form ACP-245 before starting the practices," he added.

The budgets established by the committee for each two-month program period of 1961 are as follows: January-February $32,550; March-April $10,000; May-June $2,000; July-August $2,000; September-October $2,000; and November-December $3,817.

The individual producer payment limitations for the 1961 program is $800.

The following is a list of practice and payment limitations that have been set by the committee for the 1961 program:

A-3, seeding grasses, $500; B-2, deferred grazing of range land, $500; B-3, brush control on pasture land, $800; B-5 drilling well for livestock water on range land $550; B-7, constructing dams for livestock water, $800;

B-9, constructing cross fence on range land $500; C-1, establishing sod waterway $700;

Honored at Dinner

Sr. Lucy Observes Golden Jubilee

Sister Mary Lucy, who is in charge of the business office of St. Joseph's Hospital, observed her golden jubilee as a professed Dominican nun on Thursday, Dec. 8.

A surprise dinner was given in her honor, attended by nuns of the hospital, and Dominican priests and nuns from other points in the area.

Sister Lucy entered the field of hospital work only ten years ago, but prior to that she taught Latin and history to students in academies and high schools operated by the Dominican order almost 40 years. Much of this was at Sacred Heart Academy, Springfield, Illinois, but she has taught also in Richmond, Mich.; Nampa, Idaho, and Chicago.

She recalls only one student from this area, Rosemary Jones, now Mrs. Andy Langford of Fort Worth. Sister Lucy grew up in a farming community near Champaign, Ill., and memories of this probably prompted her lively interest in Texas farming when she arrived here earlier this year.

She entered the Novitiate of Sacred Heart Convent, Springfield, Ill., at the end of her junior year in high school and

More On Secrecy

Additional reasons for repeal of the secrecy section of the juvenile laws continue to be advanced. Here are some. Fear of publicity is the greatest deterrent to many people, including some of the youngsters whose names cannot be released to the public. When names are not made public, many other young folks are suspected and some unjustly blamed with the illegal acts, which would not occur if names were public. In fairness to the innocent and good young folks the code needs to be repealed. It also often happens that without the full light of publicity on illegal acts rumor distorts the actual happenings and often makes them sound much worse than they are. Thus, in justice to the offenders themselves, it is better to have the actual facts brought out than to have them overrated through rumor. Another reason given by some officers is that because of the secrecy section, some young offenders have told officers "I'm a juvenile you can't do anything with me." This is not so, of course, as they can and are brought to court and punished, but the idea still persists and is an encouragement to do something they should not.

More Wholesome Life

One of the most rewarding home pursuits the average citizen can follow is the development of a hobby, or family project, which enables him to enjoy the satisfaction of having done something constructive — outside the realm of his daily work.

In the present age, when television, movies, automobile, and many other luxuries we now enjoy take so much time, the art of finding pleasure and satisfaction at home, in the form of hobbies or projects, is sometimes overlooked.

Yet, from a family standpoint, the development of projects, or the pursuit of hobbies, which provide both leisure and perhaps improvement of the home or yard, is entirely wholesome. If possible, families should work on projects together, with the children taking part and learning to take pride in what they achieve, as a family working together.

Watching television at home together is not necessarily the answer to the problem. This rarely helps one member of the family know the other better, or to develop a sense of loyalty and love by working with him toward some common goal.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where a magazine writer says Christmas is getting to be a mess, and if folks don't take it easier we will all wind up in the cuckoo corral cutting out paper Santa Clauses.

My private-spirited neighbor says he has learned to live with Christmas, but his wife and his banker sometimes get in considerable of a stew over it.

Says, though, if we want more and more masterminded social progress, we can't abolish Christmas and taxes, as too many folks would get out of debt and sassy.

I see where the President's Commission on National Goals says one role of government is to stimulate changes of attitude in the people.

My self-winding neighbor says he likes the attitude he has got now, and don't know who anointed the politician class to make alterations in it.

Says the president's goal finders have just got their wires crossed anyhow, and it's really the people who need to get busy and stimulate some changes of attitude in the government.

I see where a Mr. Williams, who broke the State of Michigan while governor thereof, will be the new secretary of state for Africa.

My transistor-brain neighbor says it does not look like this job would be much of a challenge to Mr. Williams on account of most of the African states are already in bad shape financially.

Says, though, there didn't appear to be much place for him around Washington, which is already lousy with mighty budget-busters.

I see where Republicans have been clamoring to have the last stanza of the election played over again, on the grounds they have got nothing to lose.

My vote-struck neighbor says he figures this would be just like a TV re-run, which always comes out the same way every time, on account of one side probably stole about as many votes as the other.

Says, though, we ought to be proud to have such a democratic country, where a man can sometimes vote in an important election even after he is dead.

I see where our new health, education and welfare straw boss is going to be Governor Ribicoff, who is noted for toning down traffic in Connecticut by taking their licenses away from speedy drivers.

My hefty neighbor says a health overseer with a prejudice like that against the great American sport of self-sabotage might get to be somewhat of a nuisance.

Like, if he notices how many folks are fattening themselves to death, he is apt to outlaw food and put us all on this vanilla whitewash diet.

I see where some people are wanting Mr. Kennedy to do something to stop the world population explosion when he takes over as President.

My stork-panicked neighbor says a man who has just enlarged his own family by one-third seems like might not be the right leader for a crusade to hold down the birth rate.

Says, anyhow, Mr. Kennedy won't have time for this job on account of he is going to be pretty busy during the next four years trying to keep the Republicans from increasing.

... American agriculture buys more petroleum products than any other single industry? Today there are more than 12 million trucks, cars and tractors on American farms and ranches. These farmers, ranchers and dairymen buy the equivalent of 15 billion gallons of crude petroleum each year—more than any other single industry—to keep this machinery running. Agriculture maintains its potent and vigorous role in the economy of our nation.

NEWS LETTER from Congressman WALTER ROGERS

THE DOLLAR CRISIS

Question: Is the present dollar crisis, or gold crisis, too complex for the average individual to understand?

Answer: It is not.

The fact is that the dollar problem now facing this country is not unlike the dollar problem which has faced us average Americans for a long time—a problem with which a vast majority of the people of this country are well acquainted: more is going out than is coming in.

Of course, this seems to be all of the time, and it will be as soon as you get your children in college. In other words, you are importing more than you are exporting, or buying more than you are selling. In international finance, this is referred to as balance of payments. Until recent years, the balance of payments was in favor of the United States. That is, this country was exporting more than it was importing. However, in recent years, due to three major forces, this situation has reversed itself and the U.S. is now putting out $4 billion more than it is taking in, creating the disturbing gap in the balance of payments.

The three forces referred to are excessive imports, American investments in foreign countries, and foreign aid.

Excessive imports have been caused in a large degree by the ability of foreign nations to produce and sell many commodities cheaper than they can be produced in the United States. Many of these nations have been built up by American foreign aid, from a war-torn economy to their present competitive status.

American investments in foreign countries total approximately $32 billion. These investments of American capital have been enticed into foreign countries by cheap labor, less taxation, favorable credit, nearness of potential markets, etc. Only recently the Ford Motor Company engineered a transaction to purchase foreign-held stock in the British Ford company at a price highly profitable to the foreign stockholders. This transaction would move upwards of $300 million into foreign hands. The Secretary of the Treasury advised the Ford Company this would not be to the best interests of the United States, but that the government could not forbid the company from proceeding with the transaction.

In September, foreigners held $19.1 billion in dollars; the American gold stock was $18.7. If all the holders of foreign dollars demanded redemption in gold, which they have a right to do, we would be $400 million short in meeting their demands.

Everyone is familiar with the foreign aid program of this country. There is no doubt that many of the war-torn nations had to have substantial assistance after the war in order to offset the Communist menace. The Marshall Plan afforded this assistance and, in my opinion, could have been sufficient. However, it blossomed into an overall foreign aid program which finds the taxpayers of this country contributing to every conceivable kind of program in countries all over the world. There are many reasons why I have opposed this expanded foreign aid program, but the major one is the result which is now apparent—damage to the U. S. dollar.

Our foreign aid program has in many instances built the industrial economy of foreign countries to the point they can produce items in competition to items produced in this country. The cheap labor and long hours make it possible to produce those foreign items at a cost much less than they can be produced in this country. This has caused the difficulty referred to above from the import standpoint. The countries which have profited by this situation do not seem to be too sympathetic with the troubles which have arisen, i.e., Germany. These foreign countries have also taken advantage of the attitude of many Americans that an item is better if it is marked "imported." In fact, a number of countries have different grades of goods for export to this country and for domestic use by their own nationals. That for domestic use is a much cheaper item than the goods for export. In some instances, the goods for domestic use have been imported from some other country because they can be obtained at a cheaper price. By doing this a country can sell their own products to this country at a high price, buy much of their own needs from another country at a much cheaper price, and make money in the entire transaction.

This whole procedure can be halted if people in this country would realize that the quality of goods produced in this country is surpassed nowhere in the world, and stop being misled by the magic word "imported." We know what the problem is; we know what is causing it. The question is, whether or not this country will act effectively to cure the ailment. A family faced with an adverse balance of payments must make adjustments to correct that balance if it is to protect its credit. The same rule applies to this country, if it is to protect its credit, to wit: the value of the dollar.

COWS PRODUCE MORE

Dairy farmers today are producing over one-half ton of additional milk per cow per year, as compared with 10 years ago.

TOUGHER COTTON

Yarns made from today's leading varieties of cotton are 20% to 30% stronger than were yarns made from leading varieties of 15 years ago.

Booklet Issued on Alfalfa Tests Here

College Station.—Six alfalfa varieties were recently tested for their resistance to the spotted alfalfa aphid by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Varieties used in the test, which was conducted near Wellington, were Texas Common, New Mexico-16, Buffalo, Cody, Moapa and Lahontan.

The spotted alfalfa aphid, a pest of considerable importance in Texas, was first reported from New Mexico in 1954. Insecticides are now the primary means of controlling these insects. Although several insecticides result in good initial kill, their residual effectiveness is limited and reinfestations usually occur in a few days after application. For this reason, the use of resistant alfalfa varieties appears to be the most effective means of control.

Of the six varieties tested, Cody and Lahontan appeared to be the best adapted to growing conditions in the Texas Panhandle. These two varieties showed the best winter survival through a combination of cold-hardiness and spotted alfalfa aphid resistance. Forage and seed yields of Cody and Lahontan were comparable with those of the other four varieties tested.

Moapa, Buffalo and Texas Common produced no stands, and New Mexico-16 produced a very slight stand. These stand losses were due to a combination of extremely low temperatures and aphid damage. Buffalo, however, is not ordinarily harmed by low temperatures.

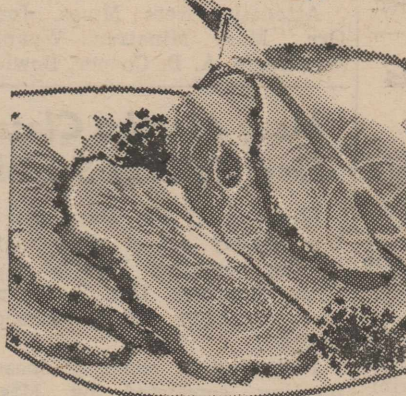

Further information on these tests is contained in Texas Agricultural Experiment Station publication PR-2153. Copies of this publication may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Whitfield Observe Golden Wedding Dec. 4

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Whitfield observed their golden wedding Sunday, Dec. 4 at their home south of Samnorwood, when friends and relatives called during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield have lived on the same farm 43 years, coming there when the area was known as the Plymouth community.

Mrs. Whitfield is the former Lillian Ward. The couple was married at McKinney Nov. 29, 1910, and for the first year, farmed in Grayson county.

In December 1911, with their son, Muriel, they moved to Hall county and farmed five years. Two children were born during this time, Jim and Ruth. In February 1917 they came to Plymouth where their remaining four sons were born.

"When we came to Plymouth this was a thickly settled country. Plymouth had a large school. Now only a few people remain in the old Bradley Flat. The houses have been moved, burned, or they are now empty. We would love to see a large family on every quarter section," Mrs. Whitfield remarked recently.

Of their children, only one now lives in the county, Muriel Whitfield, at Dodson. The others are James Whitfield and Mrs. B. C. Scott of Lubbock, Jack Whitfield of Tucson, Ariz.; Grady Whitfield of Price, Utah; Jean Whitfield of Tarleton, Okla.; and Billy Joe Whitfield of Levelland.

Coming from out of town to help the couple celebrate their anniversary were a sister, Mrs.

Virgel Morris and four sons: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Morris, Grey Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morris and daughters, Charlotte and Rheta, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morris of Altus, Okla.; an aunt, Mrs. John McDonald of Petersburg; and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Earl McDonald and son, Eddie, of Plainview.

Friends coming from out of town were Mrs. Lura Stinebaugh of Lockney; Mrs. Hopy Robertson and Mrs. Harless Robertson of Memphis; Mrs. Morris Robertson and Loyd Robertson of Lakeview, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Pundt of Canadian.

During the business session, plans were made for the annual Christmas party Dec. 20 at the home of Mrs. Zook Thomas.

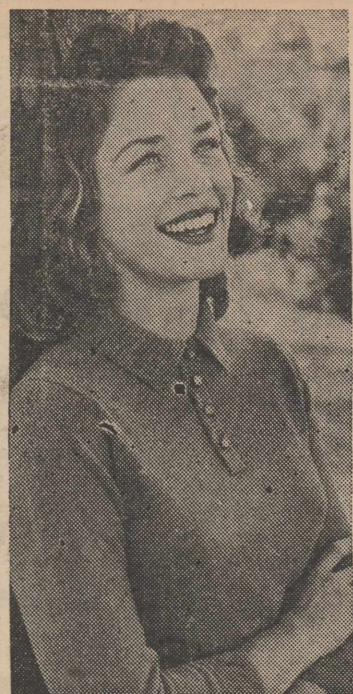

Refreshments were served to Mmes. F. A. Hatch, Judge Holton, E. F. Bartlett, Bryan Denley, Wilton Ketchum, Thomas, Cicero Gulley, Howard Riggs, A. B. Clark, Stowell, and the hostess, Mrs. Bailey.

FIRST YEAR HARDEST

Life's hardest year is the first one. It is also the greatest single period of growth. In his first four months, a baby doubles his weight. If such growth continued, he'd weigh half a ton by age 50, and would be 50 feet tall.

Loss of 500,000 lives and -10 billion in property is attributed to the War Between the States.

Miss Mary Baker and Leroy Pullum Wed in Church Ceremony at Hedley

First Baptist Church in Hedley was the setting for the Nov. 26 wedding of Miss Mary Baker of that town and Leroy Pullum of Amarillo. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Baker, while the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Haskell Oldham of Samnorwood and the late Walter Pullum.

The Rev. J. S. Tipton performed the double ring ceremony. Altar decorations were wrought iron candelabra holding lighted tapers alternating with arrangements of emerald palm and baskets of white gladioli. Wedding music was by Mrs. Don Springer, pianist. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white bridal satin, made with a fitted bodice having a deep yoke of scalloped alencon lace and a bouffant skirt. A princess crown of pearlized orange blossoms held the fingertip illusion veil, and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli.

Mrs. John Lee Stephens was matron of honor. She wore a red brocade taffeta dress and carried a bouquet of white carnations and chrysanthemums.

Luther Owen Thompson, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Billy Baker and David Baker, brothers of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Hedley high school. She is now employed with the First National Bank of Amarillo and he is with Beard and Stone Electric in that city.

Wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Thompson of Samnorwood and Luther Thompson of Wellington.

IT'S THE LAW ★ in Texas ★

A Public Service Feature
by the State Bar of Texas

Legal Checkup Is Safety Measure

Legal trouble is easier and cheaper to prevent than to cure.

Most wage-earning, child-bearing, home-buying, installment paying families don't see much need for a family lawyer.

Often under prodding, one may get a lawyer to write a will.

But can you tell a big legal risk from a small one? Can you spot the signs of legal trouble?

Check with your family lawyer when:

1. Your status changes: upon coming of age, marriage, the birth of your children, buying a house, divorce or death. For you may need to draft or revise your will, change your insurance, or re-figure your taxes.

2. You buy or sell. Look out for flaws in the papers before you go into debt, part with money, or sign anything involving big expenditures or long term obligations.

3. You enter into other contracts. Promises, spoken or written, bind you if they call for a "consideration," something of value in return.

4. Someone threatens your rights. The law exists to defend them, but with some rights you must take action yourself for them to work for you.

When you can bring your lawyer "live" face (e.g. unsigned contracts, vexing tax returns you haven't filed), he can do much more for you, and at a smaller cost than when you bring him "cold" facts (mistakes you have made which threaten trouble).

But above all, get both live and cold facts to him at once. For time may run out in many such situations. Your lawyer may be able to do something for you today, which he can't do tomorrow.

Tell your lawyer what you want. Tell him all the facts, good or bad, and then keep him informed all along. He is sworn to keep what you tell in confidence, and cannot serve you well without full knowledge.

Annell Lacy TSCW Pledge

Annell Lacy has been accepted as a pledge of the Athenaeum Club of Texas Women's University, and will be initiated at the end of the first semester.

Miss Lacy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lacy and is a graduate of Quail high school.

GROUP GINNING

Extension cotton specialists recommend the grouping of seed cotton on the gin yard according to moisture and trash content. When cotton is ginned by lots so grouped, more efficient and better quality ginning can be expected.

School Lunchroom MENU

Monday, Dec. 19: Coney Island with chili, buttered green peas, mashed potatoes, peach half, peanut butter cookies, half pint milk or chocolate milk.

Tuesday, Dec. 20: Baked turkey with dressing and giblet gravy, cranberry sauce, candied yams, seasoned green beans, fruited jello, hot rolls and butter, half pint milk or chocolate milk.

Wednesday, Dec. 21: Chili con carne, tossed green salad, buttered spinach, buttered corn bread, Christmas sack, half pint milk or chocolate milk.

Quail's Younger Teams Win Two Games, Lose One

Quail junior high boys and girls and B team boys met the Lakeview teams on the latter's court recently, with both boys teams winning their games and the girls losing.

The junior high boys were victorious 37 to 15. Paul Gollighugh, a seventh-grader, was high scorer for both the game and Quail with 14 points. Gibson's 11 points were high for Lakeview. Both teams showed considerable skill and sportsmanship in this game.

Quail players were Joe Harris, Dale Morris, Gollighugh, Don Morris, Smokey Mitchell, Gary White, Royce Mitchell, Hervie Clay, Denzil Phipps, Rodney Hill and Jerry Boyce.

The B team had a rough time gaining their victory, but late in the play managed to pull ahead to end the game 37 to 25. Len Baker topped the Quail scoring column with 16 points.

Playing for Quail were Baker, John Cummings, Bill Cummings, James Branch, J. C. Saunders, Paul Boyce, Jimmy Finley, Kirby Ward, Mike Mitchell, Carol Kennedy, Duane Campbell, David Phipps, Len Hill and Dean Johnson.

The junior high girls lost by an 8 point margin, 31 to 23. Lakeview's Tommie Payne scored 16 points for the game's high, but Kay Blevins of Quail was only two points behind with 14.

Camp Fire Girls to Observe Golden Jubilee

Miss Elizabeth Owen, field director for Region 4, the Camp Fire Girls, praised the work of the Wellington Council in a recent visit, as she consulted with leaders in the movement here.

Highlight of the coming year's work will be the celebration of the golden jubilee of the Camp Fire Girl work, she announced. The local celebration will get under way Jan. 24, at the annual meeting of the council. Mrs. John Sherman is chairman of the committee to arrange that event, and she will be assisted by Mrs. J. B. King. A third member will be appointed.

The girls themselves will celebrate Camp Fire Girl birthday week beginning March 19. "Camp Fire objectives as we go into our second 50 years concern our obligation to better serve all girls from 7 to 17 years of age in the local communities," Miss Owen said. "Emphasis will be on the true values to be gained from the Camp Fire Girl program, based on the objectives. Camp Fire Girl work is not 'busy time' but a program with real values," she added.

"The Wellington council is doing a very good job of reaching many girls, but we hope to reach more, especially in the older age group."

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Turner have been in Amarillo several times lately to be with their daughter, Mrs. Dick Gibbons, who is a patient in the Osteopathic Hospital there. Two of the Gibbons children, Chester and Tommy, are here with Mr. and Mrs. Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. George Faris and son of Shamrock were guests Sunday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Said Sr.

Carp Fishing Time at Hand

AUSTIN.—Don't ever underestimate the fighting spirit and the tasty meat of carp and buffalo. Right now, many fishermen are having some real fun fishing for these two "bugle-mouths," while many others are just sitting around and waiting for the white bass and crappie runs, according to Ken Jurgens, assistant director of inland fisheries, Texas Game and Fish Commission.

Carp and buffalo are often discredited as fighting fish. Actually, they don't leap and splash about like bass, but they will tug harder and longer than most bass, explained Jurgens. And catching them isn't as easy as some fishermen might think.

Dough bait seems to be the best attraction. Most stands which handle tackle and live bait also have several brands of dough bait. If not, said the biologist, write the Commission in Austin for their carp fishing bulletin, which contains a number of recipes.

Make a ball of this bait and shape it around the hook. Ask your tackle man for a good carp hook. Toss this bait out and allow it to settle to the bottom. Carp are bottom feeders and they will come along and suck it up.

It's hard to see any movement on the line when a carp takes the bait, especially if you are holding the pole. Lay the pole down and watch the line just where it enters the water. Pick the pole up and take in the line when you see the slightest movement. You're in for some real excitement.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sanders have been Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Collins and Burl Springfield of Tulsa.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kersten and Mrs. Jess Wilson were in Brownfield last week end to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. W. M. Childress.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Vaughan of Amarillo visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. James and with other relatives here, recently.

Bobwhites and Quails Play in Spearman

Quail Quails and Bobwhites played in the Spearman tournament Thursday through Saturday, Dec. 8-10, with the boys losing in the game for third place and the girls losing the consolation finals. Spearman won the tournament.

The Quails, however, provided the thriller game of the series as they lost in the last five seconds to Darrouzette 47 to 46.

The score was nip and tuck the whole way. However, one of Coach Richard Gilbreth's first string guards fouled off and Bobby Boyce, ace scorer, played with four fouls to his debit during two quarters, slowing him down and adding caution to his usually spirited play.

Boyce was in position to score when the final buzzer sounded. He threw anyway and the ball landed squarely in the basket. Had the ball been in motion before the buzzer started, Quail would have won the game.

Quail won the first game over Booker 64-34 and tournament spectators guessed the Collingsworth boys would be the winners. In the next game, however, Quail lost out to the tall Morse team 64 to 58. This was still a good game and top scorer Bobby Boyce of Quail made 41 points, but the defense held six-foot five-inch Womble of Morse to only 28 points.

Boyce's 113 points garnered in the three games made him high point man of the tournament. He picked up 41 in each of the first two and 31 in the final game.

The Bobwhites lost the consolation finals to Booker 48-46. They dropped the first game to Spearman 65 to 36 and drew a bye for the second.

Coach Smith took these girls to the tournament: Rita Patterson, Amelia Morgan, Sherry McGuire, Jackie Hill, Bonnie Brim, Peggy Gollighugh, Almeda Tidwell, Betty Moseley, Jerri Stephens, Rita Moody and Inois Clay.

Quails going were Bobby Boyce, Paul Boyce, Ernest Maxwell, Billy Wilson, Rudell White, Len Baker, J. C. Saunders, Dean Johnson, Buford Wheeler, Carroll Kennedy and Richard Keller, manager.

Quail players and coaches praised the hospitality of the Spearman coach, George Stephens, Quail man who returned to his home school to coach before accepting his present assignment.

Due to snow, the Quail boys and girls remained at Spearman until Sunday afternoon, when they reached home without trouble.

Norwood Grade Council Formed

A student council recently was organized for pupils of Samnorwood grade school, the first in recent years, with Bob Dwight, principal, as the supervisor.

The group already has its first project under way, the collection of toys, clothing and shoes for needy children of the Samnorwood area.

These may be brought to the school music room by Dec. 19, or students will pick them up if they are notified. These things will be repaired before being distributed, Dwight said.

President of the student council and member at large is Karen Cunningham, while Judy Martindale is vice president, Susie Bentley secretary, Nelson Dwyer treasurer, and Jay Wischkaemper reporter.

Members of the council are Billie Bob Seeds and Laron Breeding, first grade; John Hunt and Donna Ward, second grade; Roy Dwyer and Ruthie Dwight, third grade; Marsha Hunt and Kenneth Wischkaemper, fourth grade; Billy Purkey, Nelson Dwyer and Karon Cunningham, fifth grade; Judy Martindale, Susie Bentley, Lino Castillo and Jay Wischkaemper, sixth grade.

COMING TO THE RITZ SOON

Gold Needed Over World for Many Purposes

Washington.—Gold rings bind marriages. Gold blocks support the American dollar. For neither is gold essential, without gold, however, would either be quite the same?

Remove many of the gold blocks supporting the dollar and the chance exists that the dollar would tumble, knocking down currencies of other nations in a world wide financial panic, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States says. For many countries use the dollar as a reserve for their own currencies.

Right now the dollar is sound. For 35 American dollars the U. S. government will sell an ounce of gold to another government.

For 145 West German marks you can buy 35 American dollars. For 171 French new francs you can buy 35 American dollars. For 437 Mexican pesos you can buy 35 American dollars. For 166 Indian rupees you can buy 35 American dollars. For 31 Canadian dollars you can buy 35 American dollars.

What this means is that as far as all other countries in the world are concerned, the American dollar is as good as gold, according to the National Chamber.

al Chamber.

With about half of the free world's gold supply, it seems unlikely that the U. S. would renege on its pledge to redeem dollars into gold as fast as possible. If a run on gold occurred, the U.S. actually might be forced to halt gold payments for dollars.

In other words, the U. S. would go almost completely off the gold standard (this country went part way off in 1933.)

Other nations rightfully might fear a rapid drop in the value of the dollar. (The dollar fell in 1933.) There is the chance that financial panic might result.

In financial panics, people lose jobs. Remember 1929.

These then are reasons why America needs gold to support the dollar. Our gold hoard helps assure confidence in the dollar.

The chance of this chain of events occurring and leading to a panic might be small, the National Chamber says. But it exists. And the U.S. government plainly is concerned and is taking several steps to maintain confidence in the dollar. For example, consider the government's drive to boost exports, or its efforts to get other governments to help pay for overseas, military expenses.

Holiday Letter Tells of Life in Japan

This letter accompanied the Christmas greeting of Major and Mrs. Haynes Baumgardner and their sons, Haynes, Jr. and Jan, now living in Japan, where he serves with the Strategic Air Command. Because of its interest, The Wellington Leader passes the letter on to its readers.

AFSEC MAAG-Japan
APO 900 San Francisco, Cal.
Christmas 1960
Season's Greetings!
And may 1961 be the grandest and most wonderful year that we have known.

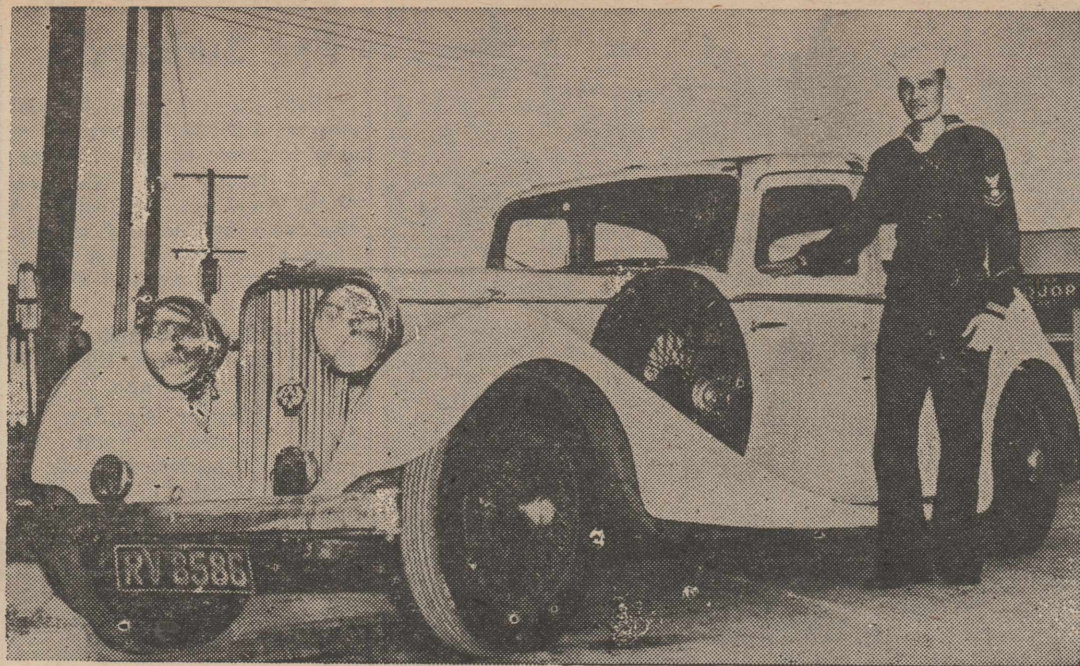

Since our letter of last Christmas, there have been many changes in our lives, environment in particular. We moved from an extremely fine and, indeed, a professional assignment after almost three years at Dyess AFB near Abilene. We are a SAC family and are very proud of our three tours in SAC during the past fourteen years. There is never any doubt of its professionalism and its sober mission. We are reminiscing somewhat because our assignment at Dyess introduced us to so many fine friends and to duties with exceptionally capable and qualified personnel.

We will now give you a picture of our activities for the year. Haynes Sr., who left Abilene on 30 January, attended Armed Forces Staff College at Norfolk, Va., from 4 February to 1 July. Myrna and the boys remained in Abilene, believing it unwise to move the boys during the school year. In addition, however, Myrna completed a year as first grade teacher, enjoying it very much with a fine group of teachers and friends at Dyess Elementary School. On 31 May she and the boys left for Norfolk, via her home of Matador, Texas, with her folks to Macon, Ga., to visit her brother and his wife, then by Capital Airlines to Norfolk. Over a month of vacation at the beach was enjoyed by her and the boys.

On 5 July we proceeded to Tokyo via Arlington, Va., Lafayette, Ind., homes at Wellington and Matador, Grand Canyon, Disneyland, and Oakland by car; from Sacramento via Honolulu and Wake Island to Tokyo by air. The entire trip was so pleasant and one we leisurely completed, visiting families and friends en route, and seeing sights we had never seen. After 18 years in the service, this was our first family trip west of an approximate line from El Paso passing through Wichita, Kan. The six days we spent in Honolulu (Ft. DeRussy on Waikiki Beach) were thoroughly enjoyed and will never be forgotten, thanks to the mother, brother and his wife, of our neighbor in Lubbock in 1949 and 1950. They were perfect hosts and we saw and enjoyed Hawaii as few visitors see it, I am sure, including a real native Luau, poi, raw fish and crab, pig and all.

We are now settled in Japan, and find it just fine. The Japanese are very hospitable, and we are constantly amazed at their cleverness. Myrna has a maid for the first time because her teaching and demands here require one. We had expected to live on the DRIVING A HARD BARGAIN—A real bargain hunter, U.S. Navy Electrician's Mate 2nd Class Cecil H. Francis poses in Jacksonville, Fla., with a 1936 Jaguar he bought in England for one pound—$2.80. The owner could not afford to bring it up to English safety standards and sold it for the best he could get.

Japanese economy for several months before one of the MAAG compound apartments became available. Instead, our sponsor (another Texan) had everything set up, furniture inventoried, groceries in stock; met us at Tachikawa airport, had us through customs, and whisked to our apartment within approximately an hour after we landed. Such hospitality!

The assignment is different to most we have had, yet it is very interesting, busy and challenging. Of course, our work is directly with the Japanese Air Self-Defense Force. We are quite involved as usual. Jan is ten now, is in the fifth grade with outside activities of dancing, Cub Scouts, judo, and organ. Haynes Jr. thirteen last March, is in the eighth grade with outside activities of dancing, Cub Scout Den Chief, Boy Scouts, Patrol Leader, and cornet. Myrna is full time kindergarten teacher, with also a kindergarten Sunday school class. Haynes Sr. is chief, training branch, in the Air Force section, MAAG-J. His extra activities include Cubmaster, assistant district commissioner for Cubbers Roundtable, and fifth grade Sunday school teacher.

Limited space dictates closing. We sincerely hope this finds everyone well, and again, we wish you the happiest New Year in history.

Haynes, Myrna, Haynes, Jr. and Jan (Candy, our Pug, is in Matador.)

Sutton Finishes Work at O-Tech

Lloyd Sutton, Jr., of Wellington, will complete 12 months training in bootmaking at Oklahoma State Tech, Okmulgee, on Dec. 16.

A reception for graduates, their families and friends, will be held in the activity building immediately following the exercises.

FARM EFFICIENCY

Since the end of World War II, cotton farmers have reduced the amount of labor per bale from 170 hours to a record low of 79 hours in 1958. This saving is equal to more than 600,000 people, each working a full year of 52 weeks, 40 hours per week.

Highway Patrol Urges Caution During Holidays

Santa has never failed to make his rounds yet, possibly because he uses an air-borne sleigh for transportation. But judging from the record, if the jolly old gent had to use Collingsworth county highways, he might not get to your house for Christmas, says the Texas Department of Public Safety.

So far this year, automobile accidents have killed two persons, injured 20, and have caused property damage of $10,232 in this county.

In November the Highway Patrol did not investigate any accidents in this county, however.

Collingsworth was one of three counties in the 31-county district having no accidents in November. The others were Hansford and Roberts.

Five counties had fatal accidents: Briscoe, Hardeman, Motley, Oldham and Wheeler. "Ninety-seven persons were killed in Texas automobile accidents during the Christmas-New Year holiday period last year," Highway Patrol Sergeant D. R. Dowdy warned. "Sixty-eight per cent of these deaths occurred on rural roads and highways. Therefore, motorists should drive with caution when making holiday trips this year."

The Department of Public Safety has predicted 90 traffic deaths during the 1960 Christmas holiday season. But in an effort to reduce the grim figure, the Department has assigned all officers to round-the-clock duty, using all means available to rid the highways of those twin menaces to public safety — the drinking driver and the speeding driver.

—By Deskins Wells

A snowstorm of the intensity of the one over the week end puts a tremendous load on the people who are responsible for clearing the streets, roads and highways. As usual they have been doing an excellent job. The work of the city employees was superb. Their task is more tedious because of the parked cars and greater traffic that prevents them from moving the snow as they would like to on the first trip. As a result some of the work has to be done piecemeal or at night.

We don't often think about it, but there are over 35 miles of streets to be cleared in Wellington after a storm. There are 15 miles of streets running north and south and the same east and west in the original town section. Add to this the maze of streets around the school buildings and in the Cocke Addition and you begin to get an idea of the size of the task. Anyhow it was a job promptly and efficiently performed.

What a year this has been from the standpoint of moisture. We are bound to have had over 40 inches during the year. People have been speculating as to whether we have ever had a snow this wet and of this amount with practically no wind. My mother says she believes we had one about like it in 1903. She says I was a baby and the family was snow bound on the farm where W. A. Colson now lives in what used to be the Bowen community, more often called Grassbur.

Quite a number of merchants report a record rush of Christmas buying. The stores are loaded with nice things and the variety is astonishing. We don't have any mink, Cadillacs or bourbon for sale—through legal establishments, that is—but the town offers about everything else you can get anywhere.

The storm that started in El Paso swept clear across the United States and acquired winds of gale force by the time it reached the Atlantic seaboard. The Associated Press reports that Christmas business losses are already in the multimillions. The storm covered all of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and New England. That represents a lot of business to come grinding to a halt.

Civil Defense

fought," he concluded. Clanton turned to the more technical nature of Civil Defense. Only a massive attack will be launched against the United States, and within 24 hours, 97 per cent of the country will be covered with radiation fall-out.

Russia has to its credit a larger military establishment and the ability to attack any U.S. target. USSR has less than 200 cities of 50,000 population or more.

Then he compared America's assets—the quality of SAC's protection, the background of American experience and the world-wide network of air bases, and the help of NATO countries.

"To attack the United States the Soviet will have to carry out a surprise attack against all these. It would take split second timing."

Taylor explained what radiation fall-out is and what can be done for protection from it.

"We are convinced that if this nation prepares, this nation can survive," he declared.

"We are threatened by fall-out from Amarillo, Lubbock, El Paso and from Altus where we would get a heavy dose," he added.

It takes only 30 minutes to receive a lethal dose from radiation fall-out, he warned, but if protection can be had for two days, a person will nearly always survive. The effects are gone in from two weeks to two months.

"You do recover from radiation exposure in the same way you recover from sunburn," he added.

Wellington would have a specific problem in case of nuclear attack in this area: the town, with just over 3,100 population, would be expected to receive 8,500 evacuees from the Wichita Falls area.

The speakers pointed out that a shelter should be covered with two feet of concrete or three feet of dirt to be considered absolutely safe.

"You can dig a hole in the ground, put sturdy posts at the corner and railroad ties across the top, then cover it with three feet of dirt, and you will have a radiation fall-out shelter," Harwell urged in a short closing talk.

He urged that fall-out shelters be built, but at the same time he advised that they be multi-purpose—used as tornado shelters, as storage buildings, or for some purpose that will be practical now.

In spite of the icy weather, representatives attended from Memphis, Childress and Shamrock in addition to Collingsworth county.

Icy Roads

Beattie was brought to the hospital by Kelo Ambulance.

A 1960 Chevrolet driven by Mrs. Bill Seale and a moving van operated by Dossie Livingston Jr. of Eldorado, Ark., collided about 150 feet north of Salt Fork bridge on Highway 83 Saturday at 9:15 a.m. Sheriff John Rainey reported. The road at that time was limited to one-way traffic and the collision occurred as the truck driver attempted to go around Mrs. Seale's car which was stopped, he said. She received a minor cut on her chin.

Tom Clayton Stroud, Borger airman stationed at Altus Air Force Base, told Sheriff Rainey his 1949 Cadillac hit a slick spot, causing it to slide off the end of a culvert and overturn six miles southeast of Wellington on the Dodson highway. The accident happened at 1 p.m. as Stroud, with his wife and small daughter were en route to Borger.

Carl McIntush, who operates a jewelry store in Memphis, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McIntush, who until this year lived west of Quail. According to reports received here, he left his home Thursday afternoon for a ride in the country in his specially-equipped car that enables him to control the vehicle with his hands.

The car overturned on a rural road south of Memphis and came to rest behind some trees. He was uninjured by the accident, but snow later covered the car and it was not until 2 p.m. Saturday that he was found by a hunter.

Friends at Quail said McIntush was able to take nourishment Monday, but he was still in semi-conscious condition.

His mother, Mrs. Floyd McIntush said her son was paralyzed as a youth when struck in the back by a snowball. The blow severed the nerve in his spinal column.

Stock Show Invites City

Fort Worth.—An invitation has been sent to the Wellington Chamber of Commerce to have a special day at the 1961 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show here. Dates for the exposition are Jan. 27 through Feb. 5.

By having a "day" at the Fort Worth Stock Show Wellington would receive special recognition and publicity at the Show and throughout North and West Texas, according to W. R. Watt, Stock Show president-manager.

The invitation provides special block reservation of seats for the rodeo. The local band is invited to play a concert on the Stock Show grounds and be guests of the Stock Show management at the rodeo. The 1961 Fort Worth rodeo will feature the famous chariot race between two four-horse teams from the "Ben-Hur" movie.

Also, the city is invited to name a cowgirl sweetheart to wear western attire and ride in the rodeo grand entry. Riding clubs in the area also are invited to ride in the opening day parade or in the rodeo grand entry on the city's special day or both.

Many cities and organizations make annual trips to attend the Fort Worth Stock Show, which will be observing its 65th season.
