Spudders To Remain In Wichita Falls, Browns Assure C-C Leaders

L. C. M'EVOY SPIKES RUMORS OF TRANSFER

St. Louis Business Manager Declares 'Decision Is Final'

CAMPAIGN APPROVED

C-C to Make Attendance of 60,000 One of Goals In '32 Program

By FRED THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

The Spudders will be back in Wichita Falls next season.

Despite all rumors to the contrary, the St. Louis Browns, owners of the Wichita Falls Texas league franchise, have no intention of operating that franchise in any other Texas city in 1932.

Definite assurance that Wichita Falls would retain its baseball franchise was given by L. C. McEvoy, active business manager of the Browns, in a letter received here yesterday by J. L. Jackson Jr., president of the chamber of commerce. That body had been negotiating with Mr. McEvoy for some time, particularly with reference to the Browns' request that the chamber of commerce guarantee a paid attendance next year of 60,000.

Decision Is Final

The chamber of commerce refused to make the guarantee, but pledged its full cooperation in making the coming season a success. The sports and recreations committee, headed by Carter McGregor, directed Dr. Everett Jones to write Mr. McEvoy, outlining Wichita Falls' position, its loyalty to its baseball club, and its confidence that should the club remain here, fans of Wichita Falls and this trade territory would give it adequate backing.

To this letter Mr. McEvoy replied in part:

"Relying on the full cooperation assured us by the chamber of commerce and induced also by our natural inclination to remain a part of Wichita Falls, it has been decided that the franchise shall be operated in your city during the coming season. Though the publication of this decision may not immediately terminate the malicious and disturbing rumors which have been prevalent and given considerable circulation through the press, you may accept my statement that this decision is final, and rest secure that your city will enjoy Texas league baseball in 1932."

Better business conditions in the Wichita Falls area, due to increased prices of crude oil and wheat, and the prospect for even better times in the future was one of the main considerations that led to the Browns' decision to retain its plant here, Mr. McEvoy stated.

The chamber of commerce, in refusing to make the guarantee asked by the Browns, took the position that such a move "would amount simply to placing the money on the altar, and the ball team would immediately be forgotten."

Loyalty Pledged

Instead of making such a guarantee, Dr. Jones wrote, the chamber of commerce and the fans of this section would pledge their loyalty. "If the St. Louis owners and the city of Wichita Falls are to gain lasting benefits from their mutual interest in baseball," Dr. Jones wrote, "it must be based on the solid foundation of loyalty, and thereby hangs our proposition."

The letter continues:

"Permit us to say that while this town might be short on many points, yet it has never been found wanting in loyalty and civic pride. A town that over-subscribed its community chest budget in four days is loyal. A town that pays approximately $100,000 school taxes three months before they are due is loyal."

Dr. Jones then assured the Browns' executive that the local chamber of commerce had made the loyal support of the Spudders a major objective of the organization in 1932, that a widespread publicity and ticket selling campaign was being planned, and added "We have the machinery; we have the man power; and we have the enthusiasm to carry this campaign to a successful conclusion."

Dr. Jones, a close friend of Mr. McEvoy, had been working tirelessly in the interest of the Wichita Falls club for many months, and his communication to the St. Louis owners met with the unanimous approval of the sports and recreations committee and the board of directors of the chamber of commerce.

The proposition that he put be-

Spudder Booster

Dr. Everett Jones, above, acted as the spokesman for the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce in its baseball negotiations for the retention here of the Wichita Falls baseball club. Dr. Jones' letter to the Browns' executive, L. C. McEvoy, assured the latter that Wichita Falls' loyalty and civic pride would put the Spudders over in '32.

TOKYO, Nov. 11, (Wednesday) —(AP)—Three hundred Chinese and three Japanese were killed and 71 Japanese were wounded yesterday in a clash between Japanese and Chinese troops near Kuchengtzu, Manchuria, dispatches to the newspapers Asahi and Hochi Shimbum said today.

TOKYO, Nov. 11 (Wednesday) —(AP)—Fighting between Chinese and Japanese broke out in Tientsin, China, early today, a dispatch to the Rengo news agency reports.

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Nov. 10.—Chinese trops sufficient to outnumber the Japanese 20 to one were massing today at Anganchi, near the Nonni bridgehead, from which Gen. Mah Chan-Shan was driven last week.

The two forces were separated by a no-man's land about 15 miles wide.

The Japanese refused to make public any figures about their strength, but it was learned on good authority they have from 1,500 to 2,000 men entrenched against the far superior force of General Mah.

Hurry Bridge Repairs

Behind this line, Japanese engineers were hurrying with their repairs on the Nonni bridge. It was to repair that bridge that Japan avowedly made the incursion.

The Japanes military intelligence reported that the Chinese have at least 10,000 men at Anganchi and immediately to the south. Meanwhile, trains of the Chinese Eastern railway were bearing reinforcements from both east and west.

Among the reinforcements were three battalions originally from Kirin, who came from Changchun. The main force of the railway guard also arrived.

Japs to Withdraw

The Japanese command reiterated that Japan's troops would be withdrawn as soon as the bridge repairs are completed. That, it is estimated, will take about a week.

No reinforcements will be moved in, the Japanese authorities declared, unless they are required to meet a Chinese attack.

The Japanese professed to have heard nothing of General Mah's reported declaration of war.

But throughout North Manchuria, it was said, anti-Japanese feeling is strong. Attempts are being made to incite the Chinese troops to attack.

The Japanese headquarters made public a long list of purported attacks by roving bands on railway property controlled by Japan.

NEW BOMBARDMENT LAID TO JAPANESE

TIENTSIN, Nov. 11. (Wednesday) (US)—A second bombardment of Tientsin, said to have been directed from the Japanese concession, threw the city into a panic at 2 a. m. today when shells were dropped on the roof of the Keen girls' school in the Methodist mission.

An hour later, an armored car emerged from the Japanese concession and occupants exchanged rifle shots with Chinese police. The car then returned to the concession. Officials believe it to have been manned by Japanese.

Rioting went on in the morning darkness when electric wires leading to the former Belgian concession were suddenly cut. The fighting began early yesterday morning when about 150 anti-Chinese demonstrators appeared near Nankai university. They were ordered by police to disperse, whereupon shots were fired.

French troops were called out to stand guard at the Catholic cathedral, and the 15th American infantry was ordered to stand by when the renewal of rioting broke the tense calm of the city.

Col. James D. Taylor, commanding American troops, after a conference with foreign consuls, said that his outfit would not be called.

TRIPLE SUICIDE BAFFLES TOWN

Three Youths End Lives At Elkhart, Texas

ELKHART, Texas, Nov. 10. (AP)—A baffling series of suicides, which had claimed the lives of two prominent boys and a girl today, left friends and relatives groping for a motive.

Although the three youthful victims had apparently chosen to die at almost the same time, there seemed to be no discernable link connecting them. Investigators were assured that they were no more than casual acquaintances, possibly village friends.

In death they left no explanations of their act, two scribbling brief notes of farewell, the other coming to the end silently.

Senior Student Dead

The dead:

Ernest Miller Jr., who would have been 17 years old tomorrow, senior student and football player at the Elkhart High school and member of the Elkhart band.

Doris McCann, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McCann, who live on a farm three miles south of Elkhart.

B. Clyde Kennedy, 19, native of Elkhart, who had lived for the last year in Oakwood, 14 miles distant.

Slightly Acquainted

Although they were slightly acquainted, relatives and friends said the three young people never had been closely associated.

Kennedy, who operated an ice substation at Oakwood, was found dead in his hotel room there at 3 p. m. yesterday when his brother, W. T. Kennedy of Elkhart, arrived in Oakwood with a load of ice and went to the hotel looking for him.

He was lying in bed. A bottle that had contained poison was on the dresser. A physician examined the body and said Kennedy had been dead since before noon.

He left a note saying, "Goodbye

Hoover's Brother-in-Law Accused Of Possessing 19 Pints of Whisky

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10. (US)—"I grabbed the bag—now I'm holding it."

That was the plaint today of C. V. (Van) Leavitt, retired plumber and brother-in-law of President Hoover, facing hearing Monday on state liquor law charges accusing him of fleeing a Santa Monica grocery store with 19 pints of whisky in a gunnysack.

Leavitt, whose wife, Mrs. Mary H. Leavitt, is the only sister of the president, was arrested and arraigned yesterday afternoon, but was not booked until 3:30 a. m. today.

He was taken into custody by Federal Officers Woolman and Sheets, aided by Detective Tommy Carr, Santa Monica's famous "one man vice squad," as he left the rear door of a grocery and meat market operated by Cliff R. Dailey, who was also arrested.

"I was in the store weighing myself on some scales when somebody shouted, 'here comes Tommy Carr,'" Leavitt said.

"A minute later Dailey—or somebody—handed me a sack and said: 'Get rid of this.'

"I didn't know what was in the sack, but I tried to be a 'good fellow' and started to run out the back door.

"Just as I stepped into the alley the federal men stopped me, opened

ALL WICHITA TO OBSERVE ARMISTICE DAY

Legion Mass Meeting Draws 2,300 to Auditorium Tuesday Night

PARADE AT 11 TODAY

Barbecue at Noon and Grid Contest at 2:30 to Feature Program

Surviving almost as much by memory of a joy-crazed nation's celebration at daybreak on Nov. 11, 1918, as by its historical significance, Armistice day will be observed in Wichita Falls Wednesday in an all-day program arranged by Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion. More than 2,300 persons attended the pre-Armistice day service Tuesday night.

Vivid memories of the unrestrained hilarity which made carnival in every American town and city 13 years ago this morning speak far more eloquently of Armistice day than the political, commercial, social and humanitarian changes which the war may have effected

Nation Rejoices

When news that the armistice had been signed flashed to all points of the United States that morning, pandemonium such as this nation never had seen broke loose. Each village and town and city has its own tale of the frenzied masquerade to which its citizenship surrendered in wild rejoicing. If the United States responded with astonishing speed to the call for a great and efficient army, it threw itself with even more abandon and vigor into a celebration of the coming of peace.

With the recurrence of each anniversary of the first Armistice day, memories of those scenes which impart undying distinction to the first such day will be vividly renewed. But the survivors of that army which heard the command "Cease Firing!" in France at 11 a. m., Nov. 11, 1918, provide material reminders each year of the meaning of this national holiday.

So on Wednesday, in Wichita Falls, an all-day program will be carried through by local legionnaires and the public in celebration of the day. In cooperation with the American Legion and in honor of the event all retail stores are to close from 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning to 1 p. m. At 11 o'clock a lengthy parade will tour the downtown section, starting at Tenth and Ohio, and covering all the business section between Sixth and Eleventh streets from Ohio avenue to Lamar. Ex-soldiers, sailors, and marines will be in the line of march; veterans of the Spanish-American war; national guard units; Boy Scouts, and other uniformed bodies. Local bands will furnish music for the marching columns, and it is expected that crowds will jam the flag-bedecked

Chicago Suspects to Be Grilled in Kidnaping

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10. (AP)—With seven persons, one a woman, arrested here, St. Louis detectives today went to Chicago to question six suspects held in connection with the kidnaping of Alexander Berg, millionaire fur executive, here last Friday evening as he was being driven home in his limousine. One of the six men held in Chicago is Lawrence Mangano, head of the West Side Capone syndicate, and another is Louis Pinelli of New York.

The Chicago suspects were arrested by agents of Chicago's "secret six" on a tip from a secret St. Louis anti-crime organization.

Police were working overtime, without developing any direct line on the identity of the abductors, they said, or the location of the 57-year-old fur dealer, who at 6 p. m. today will have been missing 96 hours.

Thanksgiving Rates Adopted by Railroads

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Southwestern Passenger association today announced that railroads operating in the southwestern territory will establish low rate, first class passenger fares on the basis of the open rate of fare and one-third for round trips for Thanksgiving.

The selling dates will start Nov. 24 and 25 and for trains leaving home stations up to 12 noon of Nov. 26, with return limit on all tickets to reach original starting point prior to midnight Dec. 1.

Reeser Charges Refiners Fail To Help Remedy Oildom's Ills

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Four remedies for stabilization of the industry were suggested to the American Petroleum institute today, by its president, E. B. Reeser.

Curtailment of production, orderly liquidation of excess stocks, reduction of costs and development of new uses and markets, he said, would stabilize the industry if put into general practice.

Over-production, he said, unsettled the balance between supply and demand, and forced gasoline and oil prices this year to the lowest levels in years, although consumption of petroleum products was maintained in the face of the general decline in the use of other commodities.

"More crude oil was produced and more refined products were manufactured this year than was justified by sound business judgment," he said.

He held that military occupation of the Oklahoma and East Texas oil fields helped reduce field production and forced heavy withdrawals from the excessive stocks with which the industry was burdened, although it established a precedent, he declared, in the interference in business by the government.

"But no regiments mounted guard at refinery gates," he said. "Refiners in the aggregate have disregarded the economic charts prepared for them by the committee of the federal oil conservation board and the institute and have not curtailed their operations in accordance with statistical data.

"A better than nominal summer market was despoiled by competitive skirmishes which delighted a

WOMEN OF CITY URGED TO HELP RURAL SISTERS

Wichita Falls Club District Wins Loving Cup for Organizations

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 10. (AP)—A plea for "a united sisterhood that will know no bounds of town and country" was made before the Texas Federation of Women's clubs today by Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude, widely known club worker, writer and lecturer.

Mrs. Warner said the mission of the federated clubs was the development of women, and that urban women should reach out a helping hand to their neighbors in the country.

"When country women have the regular contacts with each other that city women have, and have the opportunities for study and cultural influences, their standards in health, citizenship and living will approach those of city women," Mrs. Warner said.

"The ideals and latent talents are found among country women, awaiting the agencies that shall unfold them."

Mrs. Warner said city women were the greatest purchasers in the world and country women the greatest producers. She urged them to combine in a gigantic commercial organization to trade with each other.

At the close of the first day's session, which was filled with reports from officers, standing committees and district presidents, the club women met at a dinner tonight to honor past presidents of the state federation and life members of the board of directors.

Three past presidents, Mrs. Henry Redmond, Corpus Christi; Mrs. J. U. Fields, Haskell, and Mrs. W. R. Potter, Bowie, and two life members of the board, Mrs. J. L. Lovejoy, McKinney, and Mrs. G. R. Scott of Corpus Christi, were present for the dinner.

At a program of the fine arts department tonight the San Angelo Woman's club was awarded first prize for the best yearbook. Mrs. E. E. Davis, Arlington, won the short story prize, and Mrs. Guy E.

Workmen Cap Wild East Texas Oil Well

KILGORE, Texas, Nov. 10. (AP)—Workmen today capped the wild Berlewitz-Cooke oil well which had sprayed the surrounding area with oil and shot millions of cubic feet of gas into the air.

A detachment of militiamen from the Overton military camp continued to guard the area to prevent fire. Automobile traffic was being detoured to prevent exhausts from igniting the dense clouds of gas that hovered over the vicinity.

M. T. Smith, part owner, said the well broke loose when a teamster dragged a pipe against the Christmas tree, breaking the connection.

JURY INDICTS DREISER, GIRL

Misconduct Warrants May Never Be Served

PINEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 10. (US)—Theodore Dreiser, author of "An American Tragedy," and Marie Pergain, attractive member of his party which has been investigating conditions in the Kentucky coal fields, were indicted here today by the Bell county grand jury on a charge of misconduct.

Basis for the indictments was sworn statements of two citizens who declared they saw the young woman enter Dreiser's hotel room at 11 o'clock one night last week when the party was here. She had not emerged at 3 a. m., they asserted.

Furthermore, they stood toothpicks up against Dreiser's door when they departed at 3 a. m. and the toothpicks had not been disturbed when they returned to investigate the next morning, they declared.

Meanwhile the committee of investigators headed by Dreiser has scattered. Dreiser, on his way back to New York, was in Norfolk, Va., today and not particularly communicative.

He branded as "impossible" the charges which were preferred against him and the young woman, but barricaded himself in his hotel room and refused further comment. He was to take a New York-bound ship tonight.

Warrants for the two probably never will be served as they now are outside Kentucky jurisdiction, the charge being a misdemeanor and not extraditable. Bond was fixed at $200 in each case.

Sterling Delays Call Of Special Election

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (UP)—Gov. Ross Sterling will not call a special election to fill the congressional vacancy caused by the death of Republican Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach until after Armistice day. He returned this afternoon, and announced that he will wait at least until Thursday.

'SAMPLE' GAS BULLETS HALT RIOT AT JAIL

16 Prisoners Wreck Cell Before Fumes Halt Destruction

A riot among 16 prisoners in the county jail Tuesday night occasioned the use of tear gas for the first time here.

Although the gas fell far short of the results expected by the harassed officers, the fumes accomplished the essential objective in quelling the disorder.

Contents of three tear gas cartridges were fired from a pistol into a top floor cell of the jail, where 16 prisoners were quartered. Instead of being rendered "hors de combat," as the gas squad had anticipated, the prisoners seized their blankets, shut their eyes against the fumes and lustily set to fanning the gas out the windows.

"General" Directs Group

The sound of flapping blankets could be heard outside the steel door that closed the cell. Activity of prisoners were hastened as a self-imposed general urged his cell mates on with the shout: "Every one of you rats get a blanket and fan! I mean all of you!"

Believing that the ado of the prisoners indicated the need of more gas, the officers tried to fire more cartridges, but they refused to explode. With this failure, Pat Allen, chief deputy sheriff, asked police for the loan of a tear gas bomb, the type used to quiet sizable mobs.

Disturbance Subsides

However, later in the night, it was reported the original small shots of gas had succeeded. Jailer Sid Johnson declared that after all fumes had been fanned from the cell, the inmates became model prisoners in the fear that the earlier performance would be duplicated.

The scene of the riot was a large top floor cell, used for disorderly prisoners. Gas was used in the effort to quiet them after the men had practically destroyed their cots by bending and twisting them, and after the cell had been flooded when plumbing was torn loose. Flooding of the entire jail was averted by turning off the water from the whole building.

The outbreak was believed to have been caused by dissatisfaction from the want of tobacco and other articles.

Lubbock Man Convicted Of Statutory Charge

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 10. (AP)—C. E. Alexander, charged with incest, was convicted by a jury in 99th district court here this afternoon and given a six-year term in the state penitentiary.

The man's 16-year-old sister, Gladys, was the complaining witness. Alexander served as his own attorney and questioned his sister for more than 30 minutes the first time she took the stand.

GROUP DEBATES BROWN'S FATE FOR SIX HOURS

Deliberations Start at 4:10 p. m. in Trial At Graham

Attorneys Clash Warmly Over Introduction Of Evidence

By MARJORIE MATHIS
The Record News Staff

GRAHAM, Texas, Nov. 10.—The jury in the Richard Brown robbery trial retired tonight without returning a verdict after deliberating the negro's case more than six hours.

Brown is charged with robbing a young Wichita Falls girl after Ted Nodurft, her fiance, had been killed and the girl assaulted on a Wichita Falls street.

The case reached the jury at 4:10 Tuesday afternoon, less than two days after trial of the case, moved to Graham on a defense venue change plea, started.

Throughout the trial the state had demanded death for the negro. In final arguments the defense attorneys, appointed by the court, pleaded only for mercy in a 99-year sentence.

TWO DEATH SENTENCES

DAINGERFIELD, Texas, Nov. 10. (AP)—Barney Lee Ross, 23, negro, was sentenced to death by a jury that found him guilty today of criminally attacking a white woman at her farm near Daingerfield Nov. 6. The date of execution was fixed at Dec. 18.

LOCKHART, Texas, Nov. 10. (AP)—Louis Rogers, negro, was convicted today on a charge of slaying G. W. Mann, Luling hamberger stand operator, with an ice pick. The jury sentenced him to death.

Courtroom Packed

As the trial reached its final stages Tuesday afternoon, hundreds of spectators, interested from the first word of testimony, filled every inch of space in the 30th district courtroom. Men and women alike stood on benches at the back of the room the better to see and hear. The overflow encircled the judge's rostrum and lined the wall behind him, standing silent in the thick air while the state demanded the negro's life in forfeit and the defense begged for mercy.

Richard Brown, whose two statements introduced Tuesday said in one that he is 19 and in the other that he is 27 years old, is charged with killing Ted Nodruft, Fort Worth oil company employe, with robbing him and his Wichita Falls fiance and with assaulting the girl. Richard Johnson, another negro is under the same three indictments. Johnson, tried in Wichita Falls for murder is under a death sentence. Nodruft was killed, he and the girl were robbed, and the girl assaulted by two negro men who slipped up behind their car, parked on Dayton street, on the night of Sept. 9.

The trial of Brown on the robbery charge was swift and brief. Defense objections occupied Monday morning. The jury was selected early Monday afternoon. Testimony, including that of the assaulted girl, was complete by 1:30 Tuesday afternoon.

Arguments, started just before 2 o'clock were over at 4:10 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and the case was rested with the jury less than two days after the trial opened Monday morning.

Plea for Mercy

Defense attorneys made a plea for mercy, not asking for acquittal, but arguing for a 99-year prison term on the grounds that Brown was in fear of his life from his older companion.

Judge Allan D. Montgomery had charged the jury that if they believed Brown under compulsion and in fear of serious injury from the older man they should acquit him. He also charged that the jury could consider the murder and assault which accompanies the robbery only in so far as they reflected the state of the defendant's mind and character.

The state brought its case to a climax shortly before noon Tuesday with the introduction of two written and signed statements from Brown. The statements were introduced and read to the jury over the objections of the defense and after certain paragraphs had been stricken out.

The first statement, made to

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

For coughs due to colds, the best remedy that money could buy can easily be mixed at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it, you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes the inflamed membranes. At the same time, part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics, are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Gun Inventor Reveals Plan for 'Super Highway' Across Nation

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—A man who used to figure out how to kill German airmen now has an idea to restore prosperity.

He would use motorists' pennies to help pay for an $8,000,000,000 super-highway that would criss-cross the continent.

A. S. Baldwin, who designed an anti-aircraft gun adopted by Uncle Sam during the world war, believes his plan would set the wheels of industry whirring, resulting in employment "equivalent to putting three million men to work at salaries averaging $2,000 a year for 10 years."

Auto Toll Planned

He announced he has submitted the proposal to President Hoover, the 48 governors and congressional leaders. An issue of treasury notes would take care of the first cost of the road. Passenger cars traveling over the 14,300-mile highway would pay toll of a cent-a-mile until the undertaking was paid for.

There is nothing picayune about the "Baldwin super highway." It would be 500 feet wide, with 10 traffic lanes running in each direction. If you wished to go 30 miles an hour, you would drive on a 30-mile-an-hour lane. There would be other lanes for 50, 70, 90 and 110-mile speeds.

It would be really a highway system, not a single road. There would be three direct east and west routes across the continent, as well as a number of north and south arteries.

Blow to City Slums

By its brilliant lighting, the road would serve as a continuous guide for planes. The fast freight transportation would move factories out of the cities to the open country and deal a death blow to slums, Baldwin believes.

The road would consist of a central portion of concrete 200 feet wide, containing the traffic lanes, and shoulders of packed dirt or clipped turf 150 feet wide on each side. Beneath the shoulders, which would be designed to provide emergency landing fields for airplanes, would be lines to carry water, gas, gasoline, oil, electricity and communications. It would be possible to repair these lines without disturbing highway traffic.

Besides the pennies of motorists, income from the 300 hotels and tourist camps, 200 gas stations and other businesses which would be operated in connection with the highway would be used to pay for the road.

SOCIETY NOTES AND CHURCH NEWS

Federated Mission Board Hears Day Nursery Report

For the first time since she has been superintendent of the day nursery, according to Mrs. Fred T. Datson's report at the executive board of the Federated Missionary society Tuesday morning, the pantry is empty. The largest number in the history of the nursery have been registered in the last month when 2,057 children's names were recorded. Because of this large number, an average of 86 children a day, extra help has been necessary and facilities for serving them have been strained. The nursery equipment was intended for 45 to 50 children and almost twice that number are now being cared for.

A child may be fed for seven cents a day. This does not mean the noon meal only. Many children come there who have had no breakfast and their wants are always supplied, the superintendent states. In the afternoon, before they go home, they are given milk and wafers. For a little more than $2 any person may take care of a child for a month.

November was announced as courtesy month for the First Methodist church. The executive board voted to have no special courtesy months in the future but stated that courtesies from all churches would be welcome each month.

At the suggestion of Mrs. H. P. Ledford, a discussion of the manner in which the Christmas season would be handled led to the decision to follow the procedure established last Christmas when approximately 55 families were assigned to different churches and women's organizations for the season's gifts. As a result, the day nursery needs to spend very little money.

Austin Mothers Study Plans of Family Finance

Instructive papers on "The Family Income and its Expenditure," stressing the second series of "Home Economics," which the Austin School Parent Education club will study during the year, featured the program when members met Tuesday at the home of the chairman, Mrs. E. H. Ames.

Mrs. J. B. King opened the program with a paper on "Family Wants," in which she stated that the management of the finances of a family is important to every child as both his physical well being and his first economic education depend on the wisdom of that management.

"Dividing the Dollar," was a theme treated in an interesting paper by Mrs. Reese Carter, who told of the wisdom and the helpfulness of a budget. "It teaches one to not necessarily do without the things she wants," the speaker said, "but provides a balanced division of the income."

An especially interesting topic, "Wise Spending," was discussed by Mrs. O. D. Scott, who stated that the definite need for a spending plan will be shown when women consider the bad effects of unbalanced expenditures in family life. Lack of balance in family expenditures was stressed as preventing good will and cooperation and encouraging selfishness. When an entire family shares in the responsibility, Mrs. Scott said, the budget is more successful.

Announcement was made that the next meeting would be held Nov. 24, when Miss Pearl Rorabaugh, Red Cross nutritionist, will have charge of a lesson on nutrition.

A dainty refreshment plate was served to Mesdames R. L. Underwood, C. W. Staley, E. H. Jackson, O. D. Scott, J. T. Watson, J. B. King, H. C. Roesch, O. F. Bagwell, J. T. O'Steen, Reese Carter and the hostess, Mrs. Ames.

Woman's Forum Flower Show Opens Wednesday

Mammoth chrysanthemums and gorgeous dahlias; roses of all varieties and colors—these will add to the brilliance of the beautiful scene when the third annual flower show is opened to the public at the Forum clubhouse at 12:30 Wednesday. Each department of the forum has arranged a special display and programs will be given in the evening by the music department, with the Musicians club furnishing a delightful musical treat and by the drama department, in a program arranged by Mrs. E. L. Fulton. The "Forum Follies" will be the closing attraction for many pleasure hunters Thursday evening and Armistice day can be no more beautifully celebrated than by hearing the musical program of Wednesday evening.

The literature department, Mrs. Ola G. Hamlin, chairman, will have in the foyer, a beautiful display of pies and cakes to be sold for the benefit of the flower show fund. Mrs. James P. Bowen is in charge of the "White Elephant Exchange" which is the pet project of the writers department, Mrs. M. T. Clements chairman. Mrs. Bowen originated the clever scheme. The civic and health and home department, Mrs. O. W. Harvey, chairman, will have the tea room and furnish lunches all afternoon.

A group of members of the art department will assist Mrs. Campbell. Juniors will be hostesses in the evening in the doll booths.

Mesdames Peyton Gwynn, who brought beautiful ideas from garden shows in other cities and Mrs. J. L. Elkin have done beautiful work in arranging the garden path, the rock garden and lily pool in the main auditorium for the Garden club. Mrs. Bert Bean is chairman of the magnificent chrysanthemum display and Mrs. C. J. Barnard of roses. Mrs. Floyd Randel has worked faithfully as flower exhibit chairman and Mrs. C. E. Evening Program

The program arranged by Mrs. C. A. Rogers, president of the Musicians club for Wednesday evening, Nov. 11, will be given on the stage in the auditorium at 8:15 and there will be seats for the audience. This arrangement will be particularly pleasing to those who attend the flower show and who hitherto have been unable to see or hear the programs.

Members of the Musicians club who will serve as hostesses with Mrs. Rogers are Mesdames C. E. Beavers, Fred B. Sharpe, Howard

Mrs. C. A. Spragins Reviews Book at Missionary Tea

One of the most beautifully written pieces of fiction of the decade was interpreted by one of the most finished speakers of the city when Mrs. C. A. Spragins, standing in the effective background of a Chinese living room, interpreted Pearl Buck's "The Good Earth" for an audience of approximately 150 people at Floral Heights Methodist church Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Spragins gave a brief resume of the life of Pearl Buck and told the story of the Chinese peasant's life from his wedding morning through years of plenty and years of famine while he acquired more and more land, until the days just before his death when he lived in riches in the mansion once owned by the great man who had held his wife chattel.

Her beautiful interpretation was divided into two parts. The program was opened by two pretty readings by Helen Hunter in Chinese costume and in the interlude, Miss Harriett Bradley gave two exquisite numbers, "Yesterwear," and "God Made the Rose."

A dainty refreshment plate stressing the Chinese theme was served by members of circle six, who sponsored the tea and book review.

Rough, red hands! So unnecessary!

Dishes have to be washed, of course. But dish-water that is hard is cruel to hands. The hardness mixes with the soap, and forms a ring of grease and dirt. Then the grease and dirt go on your hands. Rough, red hands! So unnecessary!

Soft water won't treat your hands that way. You can soften water by adding Melo. It is a remarkable cleaner, with or without soap. Scum goes. The suds come. How clean they make the dishes! How kind the soft water is to your hands! Get a can of Melo today at your grocer's.

World War Over —Armistice Signed

On the morning of Nov. 11, 1918, this wonderful news was flashed over the entire world... thus announcing the end of the mightiest conflict known to man—glaring headlines that gladdened the hearts of millions, not only in our own country but throughout the world.

On this Armistice Day we glorify Peace, not War. We honor the nation's heroes as men who gave their lives not to win a war, but to win an everlasting peace. They were brave, fighting hearts that bled for a noble cause. We can well cherish the memory of their deeds. But in remembering let us also pray that our youth and the youth of the world will never again meet on the battlefield.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas leads all other states in the production of at least 17 different commodities—natural gas, sulphur, wool, mohair, cotton, beef cattle, sheep, goats, turkeys, petroleum, helium gas, carbon black, artificial ice, pecans, grain sorghums, cotton oil products, cotton gin manufacture.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

With the price of at least three major Texas commodities showing gains, Texas is benefiting in no small way from the economic upturn in those products. Wheat is worth 20c a bushel more now than it was a few weeks ago. Cotton is up $7.50 a bale. Oil up to 83c a barrel. Texas made its record wheat crop this year and while most of it has left the producers' hands, 30,000,000 bushels of this year's crop still are owned in Texas. A much larger part of the cotton is still on the farms, and the advance in oil has yielded a tremendous benefit to the producers. As a result of bumper crops in every line, Texas is in better economic condition than most of the states in the union, and businesses depending upon agricultural condition—which includes a vast majority in Texas—presently will be deriving the benefits from the price upturn . . . Texas this year is producing—a re-statement is of interest now—over five million bales of cotton, over 112 million bushels of corn, nearly 10 million bushels of rice, over 70 million bushels of grain sorghums, over six million bushels of sweet potatoes, 32 million bushels of pecans, on top of nearly 60 million bushels of wheat, over 75 million bushels of oats and nearly seven million bushels of barley. On its farms are 50 million containers of canned and preserved foodstuffs, in farm bins bountiful foodstuffs. Its citrus crop will be probably twice what it was last year. With average prices it would be flourishing; with even extraordinarily low prices it is not languishing.

Wellington Banks Hold Cotton Off Market

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Nov. 10.—Wellington banks are taking approximately 2,500 bales of cotton off the market in this county, and will hold it until July, 1932. This plan is being followed by bankers all over the South, after being recommended by the Southern Bankers association at a recent meeting. The three banks in Wellington and the bank at Dodsonville will share Collingsworth county's quota, and each has already secured a large part of its share, according to reports.

Wheeler County's First Paved Road Opened

Special to The Record News.

SHAMROCK, Texas, Nov. 10.—Shamrock folk got the "thrill of their lives" when the pavement between the city limits and the river bridge north of town on highway No. 4 was opened to traffic and first rides on paved roads in Wheeler county were made. All day Thursday, Friday and Saturday cars were seen on the new stretch of road while Sunday joyriders by the score made the road their favorite haunt.

On Being a Father

AMERICAN fathers are beginning to take their responsibilities seriously, according to a bulletin recently issued by the American Child Health association.

That is, they are actually studying the job of being a father just as they would study any other job, and are trying to find out things about it by visiting their sons' schools, reading books and organizing study groups. Evidently dad wants to make sure that he gives little Willie the best kind of break possible, and he is doing everything he can to bring that to pass.

All of this is more than passingly interesting; for to be the father of a small boy is to occupy one of the most ticklish positions that any human being can step into.

The small boy, you see, dwells in a world apart, and in his world the greatest of men is dad. To be sure, the rest of the world may look on dad as a weak and ineffectual sort of citizen, a bluffer or a faker or a plain dumbbell; but to the small boy dad is a being without a flaw—a completely wise and admirable person who can fix broken toys, settle difficult arguments, answer all kinds of questions and, on the whole, be and do everything that a growing youngster could ever wish to be and do himself.

Dad himself, of course, almost invariably knows better. Among the illusions that die quickly is the average human male's belief in his own greatness. So dad, presently, finds himself with an impossible ideal to live up to. He discovers that little Willie is copying his mannerisms of speech and action, his way of walking and sitting, his attitudes and his foibles. And such adoration, while gratifying, is a trifle dismaying.

For it brings dad—if he ever thinks at all—face to face with the contrast between what he is and what he ought to be. That contrast, for most of us, is not a pleasant thing to look at; and dad, until little Willie gets old enough to know better, has to look at it rather frequently.

So it is hardly surprising if fathers in various parts of the country are doing what they can to make themselves more efficient in the job of fatherhood. The father-and-son relationship can be a marvelous influence in a boy's life—and it can also do dad himself a lot of good.

Color in Male Garb

SIGNS are not wanting these days, if you look for them hard enough, that the American male is getting ready to burst forth in very splendid raiment.

Up to about a century ago, all men wore gaudy clothes. Knee breeches, powdered wigs, silk stockings and silver buckles—the vainer sex, surely, until comparatively recently, was the male.

But the rise of an industrial civilization changed all of that. The costume standardized itself into coat, pants, vest and shirt; all drab and uninspiring to the eye. It has undergone only minor variations in the last 75 years.

Now, however, gay colors and snappy designs are coming back.

It began with underwear. Step into any haberdashery nowadays to buy underwear and what are you shown? Shorts of bright green, baby blue, dazzling yellow; shorts of many colors, as striped as a barber's pole, as natty as a dinner coat and ten times as flashy. Even the lowly undershirt has taken on colors.

Then the movement spread to pajamas. Gone are the days in which a man's pajamas were just a pair of pajamas. They have gone stylish and colorful with a vengeance. Some have elaborate sash effects; some look like the uniforms of the czar's Cossacks, and some make the wearer resemble a general in the Venezuelan army. Some are made of colored rayon or silk, with black or red edgings; some have colored embroidery work over the breast pocket. All of them are as unlike the pajamas of a decade ago as an automobile is unlike an ox cart.

Nor is that all. The men who design clothing for golfers have fallen in line. Stockings and sweaters of brilliance to dazzle the eyes are commonplace on the ordinary golf course these days. Shoes have given up the traditional black. Even the knickers themselves have taken on fantastic patterns.

To be sure, the regular business costume is as somber as ever. But can it stay? Underneath it, the meekest of men can be gay and bright. When he goes golfing he can be even gayer and brighter, and when he retires for the night he can be fairly resplendent. Will he not, presently, insist that his ordinary workaday garb come into harmony?

A World of Cats

LOVERS of animal pets throughout the country will be interested to learn of the organization in New York City of the International Cat society, which demands that all vagrant cats be either properly licensed or exterminated.

The society points out that every large city has thousands of homeless cats which do much damage in the parks and yards by preying on birds and squirrels. It adds, furthermore, that these cats lead a rather bleak existence and that in many cases it would be a kindness to chloroform them. So it urges—let them be cared for properly or put out of existence.

In a world wherein little or nothing is certain, it is a cinch that this proposition will at least cause a great deal of argument. The ordinary mortal is either very fond of cats or very antipathetic toward them. In the wordy war which is sure to come there will be almost no neutrals.

A Columnist's Sec'y Jots Down a Few Notes

Dear W. W.: Sorry about gumming up Elspeth's poem . . . I know you caught the error, but the routine now has me a trifle dizzy, too, you know . . . Mr. Hodgins caught it for the two-star edition, however . . . Mr. Allen sent flowers to Etting . . . What a friend she is! . . . You've no idea how sick she was . . . When her doctor ordered her to bed and out of the "Follies" last night she refused to disappoint you—and then went to the sick room . . . Billy Moore sent delicious hot chicken broth to Gloria, but he's mad at you for that gag about Lew Brown and Caesar . . . He says the average reader doesn't understand that it's a gag and that Lew and Irving felt awful . . . Lew and Irv are supposed to be two of the outstanding ribbers on Broadway, always playing practical jokes on everybody—some of them so devastating they have made people weep, but when the joke is on them they can't take it . . . You're going to die sooner than you expect trying to please everybody and it's too bad your closest friends only laugh at their own jokes . . . I was fired for 5 minutes today, but everything turned out all right.

His friends wish you'd say something about Charlie Yorkshire, who just passed on in New Orleans . . . Mr. Yorkshire was one of the Canyon's most beloved stage managers and he handled "Desert Song," "New Moon," "No, No, Nanette" and dozens of other treats . . . Please do . . . Dozens of inquiries today from strangers about Gloria's condition—sweet? . . . Newton Roney of Miami is in town at the Lawlor . . . I see in one of the papers that Dorothy Knapp is Jack Edmond's secret bride of a month! . . . When you so stated weeks ago, they made you jerk it out, saying it wasn't true . . . Erick, the sepia pianist, who used to be at Tillies in Harlem, is now at the Left Bank, a new Greenwhich Villitch spot . . . The Boswell Sisters are going very big-timey with their theme ditty "Nothing Is Sweeter Than You" and harmonies . . . I have some news for you about Doug Evans and Babs Moylan . . . Bernice Claire isn't Frank Nagle's gal, at all . . . Her real heart is Alexander Gray.

Howard Kirk's romance with Hallie Manning is oop! . . . This is comical . . . There's a mean scene in "Wonder Boy," which kids the Boy Scouts, which sent Jed Harris, the producer, a formal protest about it—and the protest was delivered to Harris by a Boy Scout! . . . Paul S. is back as editor of Zit's . . . Solmson says he will start his own weekly . . . I hear that Rubinoff is coming up on charges at the musician's union for "treatment of his men" . . . Said to be his second charge . . . This is very serious . . . If the union takes away his men, no musician can play with him, and that will cost plenty to his commercial sponsor (one of the biggest spenders in the world) and cause headaches at the station . . . Joe Hill says your pictures turned out good . . . Bob Calen an old friend of the Pantages days, called to say by-by . . . He was in the rodeo . . . Menken of the newsreels called. Said they want to make some shots of that dep't store doorman who minds babies for mothers while they shop at that store and would you pose with him? . . . I said no—as pleasant as possible . . . I love that "Okay, Chicago!"

That pretty poem "Editorial Room Blues" signed Neb, was from Ben Washer of the Telly . . . Neb being Ben backwards—he didn't want you to know, but why? It's a verse to be proud of, huh? . . . I told him to send more, the silly . . . Sousa will be 75 on Nov. 6. His marches still sound youthful, tho . . . Here's something that ought to interest you . . . With Georgie Price opening at the Broadway theater Saidee, it completes the Gus Edwards cycle—Cantor and Jessel at the Palace, Groucho Marx at the Rivoli, Mitzi Mayfair in the "Follies," Ray Bolger in "Scandals," Helen Lynn in "Vanities" and you on the Mirrrrrr! . . . Dorothy Parker called . . . Some sort of party at the Algonk . . . Barney Gallant called . . . He said not to do what you said you planned. He'll explain later.

Here's a bit of a Broadway for you . . . I mean human nature, etc. . . . Jock Whitney plotted a swanky party for Peter Arno, the principals and oodles of intimates after the premiere of the show . . . 300 were invited . . . Less than half showed up . . . Didn't you once tell me that when you were going good everybody crowded your dressing room after the show if it were a hit . . . And that when you flopped, nobody even came in to ask you for a match? . . . Cholly Knickerbocker devoted a mess of space the other Sunday telling about Whitney backing the Arno show, I mean is no show . . . Wonder why Peter scolded you so, and urged you to kill the same line when you ran it weeks ago? . . . And why the hell do you pay any attention everytime anybody squawks about anything? . . . I think you're turning sissy!

Ben Finney called . . . He says that Bill Leeds insists that the man who wrote "I'll Be Glad When You're Dead, You Rascal, You!" must have been a column reader . . . Hehehehe . . . Donald Leeds says you were right about him going to inherit three million shortly, but he isn't marrying anybody yet . . . Your line, however, brought calls from three show producers, who offered him a piece of their shows! . . . Recommend "Snow Trenches," by Dan Steel (McClug's), a swell book . . . The 5 o'Clock Club, on the site of the old Argonaut, has the most fascinating night life atmosphere in town now . . . John and Christo have it . . . Jack Oakie says thanks . . . Rose Furman, Philadelphia society woman of prominence, threw an unusual party at her home there last night, the first of its kind . . . Get this . . . It was called "A Winchell Party," in which the elite of the town sat around and talked about each other . . . Haw! . . . In the mob scene of Norman-Bel Geddes' "Hamlet," at the Broadhurst, there is a man who was a great star in his day—whose name is not even mentioned in the program at any time! . . . I saw your mother yesterday . . . She has the loveliest white hair I've ever seen. She said you shouldn't get sick and don't forget to send money . . . Nothing else exciting. Faithfully—R. C.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

WHEN A TEAM WAS "GIVEN" A TOUCHDOWN—On Oct. 2, 1929, a play was enacted in the Washington-Oregon game at Seattle, which recalled the famous Roy Riegels' reverse run in 1928.

With Oregon backed up against their own goal line and a touchdown in sight for the Washington Huskies in the second period, Bobby Robinson, Oregon halfback, intercepted a Washington pass on his five-yard line and was away in a flash. As he neared the Washington 30-yard line, far ahead of his opponents, Westerweller, Washington substitute, flung off his blanket, tore into the field, and brought down the fleet-footed Robinson.

However, the touchdown was conceded to the Oregon Webfooters even before the referee had time to make a decision.

RECITED THE LORD'S PRAYER ONE MILLION TIMES—In July, 1911 the German government despatched the cruiser Panther to Agadir, Morocco, and almost precipitated a world war then and there. To avert the threatening conflagration Martin Dupin, a shoemaker of Lille, France, vowed that he would recite the Pater Noster (Lord's prayer) a million times to induce a providential aversion of the menace of war. He took 321 days to fulfill his vow, or at the rate of about 3,000 a day. When he finished the Italian guns were thundering before Rhodes in the Italo-Turkish war of 1912.

Q.—Concerning the custom of wearing mourning rings, what style were they?—E. W.

A.—The custom of bequeathing a mourning ring or piece of mourning jewelry to friends of a deceased is known to have existed as early as the 15th century. Usually the rings were gold or silver in which either a design in black enamel was worked, or which were made with a receptacle either around the ring or where the setting usually occurs, in which an exceedingly fine braid of the hair of the deceased was placed.

ELECTRANS TO RE-OPEN BANK

Progress Reported on Reorganization

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Nov. 10.—Work is still progressing on the reorganization of the old First State bank, members of the new board of directors stated this week. Members of the board have been working hard and have expressed the opinion that plans for the new institution will work out effectively.

The project of reorganizing the bank was instituted soon after the State bank closed in August. Subscriptions necessary to open a bank were secured and signatures of depositors who had $100 or more in the old bank were taken. According to the board, practically all the depositors have signed.

More than a week ago the new stockholders decided to give up the idea but at a special meeting they agreed that such a decision would be serious to the Electra area so they voted to dissolve on Nov. 7 if all signatures had not been secured. Due to the progress of the plan, though, they have voted to continue the work.

In the meantime Electra is without a bank and the chamber of commerce is sponsoring a banking exchange to cash company and cotton checks several days a month.

Federal Employes Meet Here Nov. 17

Federal employes of Wichita Falls will meet here Tuesday, Nov. 17, to confer with T. A. Pearce, eighth area coordinator for federal business associations, Postmaster O. P. Maricle announced Tuesday.

The purpose of Mr. Pearce's visit, it was explained, is to demonstrate ways in which various branches of the federal system may assist each other. Representatives of all federal activities of the city will be present at the meeting. Mr. Maricle said that he would invite all postmasters of this congressional district to attend.

The meeting is scheduled for 10:30 a. m. in Mr. Maricle's office at the postoffice.

JUNIOR C. C. DIRECTORS

Reports of progress toward the completion of plans for the annual banquet here Dec. 5, were heard by directors of the Junior chamber of comerce board, which held its regular session Tuesday noon at the Wichita club.

Much is yet to be done before all arrangements are complete, it was said, although progress thus far made indicates that the banquet will rival the success of that of last year, according to T. J. Waggoner Jr., president. The meeting will be held at the Woman's Forum. Many out-of-town junior and senior chamber of commerce officials will be present.

The DEAD MONTHS that follow FIRE

FIRES in stores, factories and other commercial buildings are followed by dead months. Trade stops—customers go elsewhere for goods—expenses pile up while the building is being replaced or repaired. It is sound business to insure a continuance of your normal profit—and dividends—during the non-earning period following a fire.

The insurance that gives this guarantee is called Business Interruption (Use and Occupancy) insurance. Ask your Stock Fire Insurance agent to explain it.

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE

CARRYING ON . . . FOR THEM

Vivid posters urge from every fence and barn, "I want YOU!" . . . tailored whipcord and shining cordovan at Ritz teas . . . "issue O. D." and barber-shop harmony in "Y" huts . . . wheatless days and spy scares . . . tender, tearful farewells . . . then caisson rumbling on Fifth Avenue . . . ghostly troop ships gliding down the fog-bound Narrows . . . vin rouge in a Toul caserne . . . roaring presses keeping pace with terse combat orders . . . "Yanks Smash On." Thin echoes of an ancient saga in another world, long, long ago.

Through all those stirring days coursed a magnificent idealism. An unquenchable spirit of self-sacrifice that transcended all other motives and transfigured mere nationalism into a glory of patriotic devotion that the world has seldom seen.

Today in misguided sophistication we brand as childishly emotional that idealism; its elan and fervor are wrongly consigned to the same pit wherein our wartime hatreds lie forever buried. Shamefaced, we talk of "mob psychology" and of "1918's national hysteria." "Let George do it, guy. Patriotism? . . . Well . . . " Smug, cold America speaking.

Perhaps. The U-Boats are rusty at Scapa Flow. No national enemy threatens. Only . . . smugness, coldness, indifference.

They are insidious foes. Fortified by those symbols of a failing faith in American destiny, our national economic problems are just that much harder of solving. Met with Courage, America's traditional weapon, forged in a flame of idealism and tempered with the strength of constructive planning, those problems would be swiftly overcome.

To carry on . . . such is our larger duty to the thousands whose sacrifice preserved intact our American heritage. Should we fail them in that duty, our silent salute on Armistice Day becomes an idle, empty tribute.

Even the Enema May Fail

Those who have been reading my articles for some time know that I recommend the enema over any other method for the temporary relief of constipation. I, however, receive quite a few letters from my readers asking what to do when the enema fails to get results. In many cases patients find it impossible to expel the enema water, which leaves them feeling full and uncomfortable.

Those who have poor results with the enema are always suffering from some form of bowel trouble. In these cases the bowel must be anatomically abnormal so that the flow of water is obstructed and the enema does not penetrate far enough into the colon to do any good, and the colon cannot be emptied properly because of some type of constriction. These patients should always have an x-ray examination with the fluoroscope in order to find out whether any of the following conditions may be present: Spasm of the colon of spastic colitis, adhesions, prolapsus, kinks, tumors, ulcers, or other obstructions which may be blocking the bowel.

A spastic contraction of the muscular fibers of the colon may completely close it temporarily, causing the failure of the enema. In spastic colitis such a spasm or rigidity of the bowels is a frequent occurrence. The cause of the contraction is some type of tenderness or inflammation usually of a chronic type as found in colitis. The enema may be a failure or partially successful depending on the part of the bowel where the contraction occurs. Any such spastic contraction not only interferes with the action of the enema, but is also a cause of constipation, as there is bound to be a delay in the passage of the colon's contents at the point of the contraction. When such a condition exists, in place of the ordinary rhythmic movements of the intestines, called peristalsis, the movements are clutching, griping, irregular, and may cause pain.

Adhesions always occur where there is chronic inflammation and may bind the bowels together in such a way that a normal movement is impossible. Prolapsus, kinks, and displacements also hamper the movement of the bowel muscles and obstruct the flow of water when the enema is used. A tumor or ulcer will be readily recognized as producing an obstruction.

Some of the ordinary symptoms of these troubles are ache through the abdomen, cramp-like pains, mucus in the stools, much gas, tenderness and rigidity of the abdomen. The stools may be hard, small, dry balls, or the patient may suffer from diarrhea, the stools containing undigested food, and, in the case of ulcerated colitis, blood. Any of these symptoms should always cause one to have an x-ray examination under the fluoroscopic screen.

It may then be found advisable to take manipulative treatments for the treatment of any prolapsus, adhesions, or kinks which may be found. Hot applications with a deep therapy lamp, or the hot sitz bath is often helpful in the case of abdominal pain and contraction. When the enema is used, it is often advisable to use the water very warm, even as high as 105 degrees F., in order to produce a relaxing of the contracted tissues.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Whole Wheat)

Question—Y. O. Y. asks: "Can you recommend hard, red wheat when cooked until edible after having been soaked for 24 hours? What vitamins or food elements does it contain?"

Answer—The use of whole wheat is an excellent means of furnishing the cereal part of the meal. It contains Vitamin B in abundance which is needed for healthy digestion and nerves. The whole wheat may be prepared by soaking it over night and boiling it in the morning until it bursts open. Hard wheat contains about 14 per cent protein, 1½ per cent fat, 68 per cent carbohydrates, and 2 per cent mineral matter. The red hard wheat contains more protein and less starch than ordinary wheat.

(Good Fumigators)

Question—Miss X writes: "What is a good fumigating gas to use to get rid of bed bugs? I have moved into a new apartment and find it thickly saturated with bugs."

Anewsr—The best fumigating gas to use is hydro-cyanic acid gas, but this is very dangerous to human beings and should only be used by an expert. Expert fumigators can be found in any large city. Sulphur fumes may also be employed to advantage, but there is a risk of injury ot household fabrics from bleaching and tarnishing metal surfaces. Most drug stores also have a liquid preparation which can be sprayed into cracks and possible concealment places. The liquid will most always do the work if it is used several times over a period of about six months.

(Feeding the Baby)

Question—Mrs. McF. asks: "What is the best artificial food for a baby? How old must a baby be before he may have vegetables?"

Answer—After changing from breast nursing the baby should be given nothing but Holstein milk and orange juice up to about two years of age, after which he should take a little less milk and begin using the minced, non-starchy vegetables.

GRID CHAMPIONSHIPS AT STAKE IN ARMISTICE DAY BATTLES

QUANAH TRIBE MEETS VERNON

Hollis-Altus Game Holds Oklahoma Spotlight

There will be plenty of fighting along the Northwest Texas and Southwest Oklahoma gridiron battlefronts today and there won't be an armistice to put a stop to it. While the nation celebrates the signing of another kind of armistice, the football boys will give no quarter, for several titles are at stake today and the battles will go on until the victims emerge by right of might.

The outstanding game in district No. 2, class A, of the Texas interscholastic league will be at Vernon, where the Vernon Lions and Quanah Indians meet in the deciding game of the race. Both teams are undefeated. Childress and Electra, neither of whom has won a game in the district race, will be fighting to stay out of the cellar in their game at Electra. The other member of the district, Wichita Falls, will engage the North Side Steers of Fort Worth here in a practice game.

While the Texans are battling at Vernon for the district crown, two powerful Oklahoma elevens, Hollis and Altus, will meet in combat at Altus to decide the championship of the fast Southwest Oklahoma conference. Both Hollis and Altus have come through undefeated to date, and one of the greatest gridiron classics of several years is expected to be played on the Altus grid. The Hollis eleven recently held the powerful Quanah Indians to a one-touchdown victory.

Class B districts of this section will afford fans considerable entertainment. The main bout in district three will be Burkburnett at Archer City. Olney will tackle Seymour at Olney, while Crowell will meet Munday at Crowell.

Graham will entertain Nocona in the outstanding game of district four. Another game that will be of interest will be Masonic Home of Fort Worth at Bowie. It will be the Masons' first visit to the northern half of the district. Bridgeport will meet Graford and Saint Jo will meet Decatur in the other league games.

The Clarendon Broncs and the Memphis Cyclone meet at Clarendon to decide the half-district championship.

Other Armistice day games of outstanding interest to fans of this section include:

Grandfield, Okla. at Walters, Okla.
Paducah at Matador.
Hamlin at Haskell.
Anson at Stamford.
Waurika, Okla. at Ryan, Okla.
Plainview at Lubbock.
Slaton at Pampa.
Snyder, Okla. at Frederick, Okla.
Lawton, Okla. at Duncan, Okla.
Shamrock at Turkey.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED AT VERNON GAME

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Nov. 10.—The Vernon Lions face the crucial test of the 1931 gridiron season Wednesday afternoon in clashing with the Quanah Indians at the City park at 3 p. m. Business houses of both cities have announced intentions of closing, at least for the afternoon, and a capacity crowd is expected.

The undefeated Indians are favored by a heavier eleven and by a record of smooth playing while the Lions have lost a practice game and have offered an erratic organization in various games. The football title for district No. 2 will hinge on the decision with the Indians scheduled to run roughshod over the Childress Bobcats on Thanksgiving, while the Vernon entry must tangle with the Wichita Falls Coyotes on that date.

Three injuries are handicapping the Lions and the Vernon coaching staff may offer a new aggregation against the Indians with Quarterback Lutz on the bench with Parker, end, and Reed, guard. The three are all dependable players with Lutz regarded as the mainspring of the Vernon backfield.

The Lions closed their heavy scrimmage program Monday afternoon and had a light rehearsal on the eve of the game Tuesday. Virtually the same program was carded for the Redskins at Quanah. Interest in the game and the intense rivalry of players coupled with the district title feature offer a classic for the district this season. The Lions starting line-up will be undecided until five minutes before game time, as is the custom with Coach "Heinie" Weir.

Tough North Siders Of Fort Worth Invade Pack's Lair Today

CONTEST TO START AT 2:30

Local Lads Ready to Put Up Good Fight

North Side High school of Fort Worth, a school that in other years turned out "Bo" McMillin and other luminaries of Centre college's undefeated Praying Colonels, will send its 1931 representatives to Wichita Falls today to meet Barry Holton's Coyotes.

Though the North Side Steers are not what they used to be, they still rank as one of the best high school teams in the interscholastic league. The little argument between the Cowtown boys and the domestic products should furnish ample football entertainment for the Armistice day thrill seekers.

The game will be played at Athletic park, beginning promptly at 2:30 o'clock, it was announced. Originally it was slated to start at 3 p. m., but the starting time was moved up.

The Pack yesterday put the finishing touches on its hasty preparations for the game. All hands came out safe, and with the exception of Raymond Allen, the regular Coyote lineup may be expected to take the field. Allen was injured in the Gainesville game.

The game with the Steers will be the last appearance of the Coyotes until Thanksgiving, when they tackle the Vernon Lions on the home lot.

Spudder Baseball Club to Remain In Wichita Falls, Says McEvoy

fore the St. Louis club was evolved after months of negotiations between the chamber of commerce and the Browns; and after the local chamber of commerce had appealed to similar organizations in towns in the Wichita Falls trade territory, both in Texas and Oklahoma, to write the St. Louis club, giving assurance that loyalty to the Spudders is not confined to Wichita Falls, but prevails in every city in this section.

The definite answer given by Mr. McEvoy should immediately put to rout the wild rumors that have been set afloat by sports scribes in certain Texas cities. First a report came from Dallas that the Spudders would move to El Paso in

FOR TALKATIVE SPORTS WRITERS

Shortly after L. C. McEvoy's letter assuring operation of the Spudder club here in 1932 had been received yesterday by J. L. Jackson Jr., president of the chamber of commerce, William E. Huff, Spudder prexy, received a note from Mr. McEvoy at the bottom of which Phil Ball, owner of the Browns, had penned this sentence:

"Don't bother about what the sports writers say; your city will keep our Texas league franchise."

1932. This was followed by the prediction of Jinx Tucker, of Waco, that the club would operate in his city next season. The issue now seems settled, once and for all.

The complete text of Mr. McEvoy's answer to Dr. Jones' letter follows:

McEvoy's Letter

"Your letter of Nov. 3, as well as a communication from Mr. Boswell under date of Nov. 6, have been received and given due consideration.

"Permit me first of all to express my personal regret that it was necessary to give serious consideration to the removal of the Wichita Falls franchise from your city. As business men, however, you can well appreciate the position in which the majority ownership of the corporation finds itself and realize fully how discouraging it is to begin each year with only the prospect of considerable loss.

"I am not unaware that business conditions in your community are in most part responsible for the poor support afforded the baseball club during the past season. I can also well understand that the recent advances in crude oil and wheat prices are a great encouragement to your trade territory and that they will naturally place considerable ready cash in circulation in your community.

"Relying on the full cooperation assured us by the chamber of commerce and induced also by our natural inclination to remain a part of Wichita Falls, it has been decided that the franchise shall be operated in your city during the coming season. Though the publication of this decision may not immediately terminate the malicious and disturbing rumors which have been prevalent and given considerable circulation through the press, you may accept my statement that this decision is final, and rest secure that your city will enjoy Texas league baseball in 1932.

"I earnestly trust that this decision will result in mutual advantage and that the same vexatious problem which has confronted us recently may be impossible under future prosperous conditions.

"Very truly yours,
"L. C. McEvoy."

Jones Outlines Campaign

The text of Dr. Jones' letter to Mr. McEvoy follows:

"Dear Mr. McEvoy:

"Your letter of Oct. 24, addressed to President William Huff, has been placed before our board of directors and each paragraph has been carefully studied. This organization deeply appreciates the sentimental and commercial value of our Texas league franchise, and is keenly alive to the fact that the St. Louis Baseball company cannot continue to furnish class A baseball for Wichita Falls without definite assurance of decided improvement over the 1931 attendance mark.

"We gave due consideration to your paragraph which expresses the hope that the chamber of commerce will see fit to guarantee paid admissions to the extent of 60,000 for the oncoming season. We agree with you thoroughly that this is not an unreasonable request and frankly feel that you are justly entitled to a larger patronage than you have indicated. However, it would not meet with the true spirit and precept of this organization to make such a guarantee, and it is the consensus of opinion of the board of directors that such a guarantee would not yield the best results for the future of baseball in Wichita Falls. We faithfully believe that the guarantee would amount simply to placing the money on the altar and the ball team would immediately be forgotten. If the St. Louis owners and the city of Wichita Falls are to gain lasting benefits from their mutual interest in baseball, it must be based on the solid foundation of loyalty and thereby hangs our proposition.

"Permit us to say that while this town might be short on many points, yet it has never been found wanting in loyalty and civic pride. A town that over-subscribes its community chest budget in four days is loyal. A town that pays approximately $100,000 school taxes three months before they are due is loyal.

Our concrete proposition is this:

1—To incorporate, as one of the three major objectives for the chamber of commerce for 1932, the loyal support of the baseball team.

2—To begin in January or February a wide-spread campaign of publicity, which will concentrate attention of Wichita Falls citizens and those of the surrounding territory on the actual necessity of loyal support of the baseball club.

3—To wind up this campaign with a monster ticket selling rally, which we feel sure will yield results far above your expectations.

"We have the machinery; we have the man power; and we have the enthusiasm to carry this campaign to a successful conclusion.

"But, first, we must have a definite word from you that the club will not be moved from here. We must put to rest the malicious reports that seem to emanate from nowhere, that the franchise is practically valueless and floating from place to place. This is hurting the baseball situation in the estimation of many of our own citizens and is cheapening the value of the franchise all over the state.

"We await the word from you that we may set our machinery in motion, which will insure a more prosperous new year for St. Louis and for Wichita Falls."

CUBS READY FOR SEYMOUR

Olney Expects Real Scrap From Panthers

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, Nov. 10.—With only a few minor injuries carried over from last week's game Albert Acker's undefeated Olney Cubs are ready to entertain the Seymour Panthers on the local field Wednesday at 2:30 p. m.

"Olney is ready," is all that Coach Albert Acker would say in comment on the game with Seymour today. Behind these remarks one could see that he anticipates a hard fight from Coach Jenkin's Panthers.

The Olney team will be out after its fifth league victory for the year. They will be defending a season's record of 236 points scored against opponents 7 in eight games. Haskell ran for a touchdown against Acker's "B" team on Sept. 26. After the Cubs get over today they will have eight days to prepare for Bill Cooper's fighting Archer City Cats, who come here on Nov. 20. Eight days is not too long in which to get ready for Cooper's fighting team. Then after that the Coach of Olney billed the Eagles from Chillicothe to engage the Cubs on the local field.

In the Armistice day classic Acker's boy will be facing the Seymour Panthers for the sixth time since 1924. During which time the Panthers have won three games and the Cubs two. There was no game between the two teams the first year Acker coached the Cubs and in 1929 Olney won 13 to 0 and last year 26 to 0. The Cubs are not only anxious to keep their present season's record unmarred but also want to keep the record against Seymour perfect for their coach's sake.

Seymour has been steadily improving with each game and will bring a fine running and passing attack built around Captain Johnson. The team has been pointing for the Olney game and will be expected to play their best game today. Their last half victory over Nocona last week will be a good tonic that will mean that Acker's boys may expect 60 minutes of real football.

Martens will likely start in the place of Vaughn, who is grief stricken over the death of his father, who died last Friday while his son was helping his team to a well-earned victory over the Crowell Cats. There may be a few other changes that will send Crawford or A. Pyeatt in the line and Morris and Perkins to the backfield.

CROWELL MEETS MUNDAY BOYS

Special to The Record News.

CROWELL, Texas, Nov. 10.—Roy "Lefty" Mullins, Crowell backfield ace, will be out of the game against Munday here Armistice day as the result of a severe ankle injury he received in the Olney tilt last Friday. Doyle Carter suffered an arm and shoulder injury but should be able to start against the Moguls. Mitchell Allee, regular center, who has been unable to report for practice for some time and who did not play against Olney, will likely be out of this game also.

George Fox is scheduled to take Mullin's place in the backfield and Bill Middleton, regular fullback, will continue in Allee's position.

Coach Grady Graves is being missed from practice this week due to the fact that he has been with his wife, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at Quanah on Monday morning.

Munday upset the dope to defeat Crowell at Munday last year. However, Crowell defeated the Moguls in a return game here and though crippled the Wildcats are expecting a victory Wednesday.

Hoover's Brother-in-Law Accused Of Possessing 19 Pints of Whisky

the sack and found it full of whisky pints.

"One of the officers recognized me, I guess, because they didn't seem to know what to do. Then they took me down and arraigned me, but one of the officers whispered that I should give the name of M. Jones. I objected, but he insisted."

Following the arraignment, which was conducted secretly before Police Judge Charles A. Spencer in Santa Monica, Leavitt and Dailey were released on $250 bail, each, pending their hearing next Monday.

Dailey emphatically denied today that he handed his friend, Leavitt, the bag, which was found to contain contraband liquor.

"I was waiting on a woman customer when it all happened," declared Dailey. "I didn't hand Leavitt the bag. In fact, I didn't know it was in the store.

"Leavitt was in the back room when I came back from lunch. The customer was waiting, so I served her. I think the officers got the wrong man. Leavitt is a victim of circumstance.

"I think the officers were chasing a bootlegger, known in these parts, who entered the store just before the raid occurred.

"This bootlegger came in with a sack, then ran out empty-handed just before Leavitt was taken at the back door."

Leavitt, who said he and his wife had religiously avoided any publicity as relatives of President Hoover, gave his version of the story hesitantly, due he said to lack of memory concerning the happenings.

"No, I don't exactly agree with Hoover on the dry question," he told a reporter, "but I wasn't drinking.

"A truck driver was standing by a sink in the back of the store taking a drink, when I went back to weigh. He asked me to have one, but I refused. I was standing there talking to him when somebody ran back with the sack.

"I guess anybody would try to help another fellow out in a case like that, and I grabbed the sack and made for the alley. My car was parked nearby, but I hadn't made any plans for disposing of the stuff when the federal officer stopped me."

CITY OBSERVES ARMISTICE DAY

Celebration Will Recall Memories of 1918

streets as in the days of 1917-1918.

American Legion members having 1931 or 1932 membership cards are to assemble, with their families, in the basement of the Memorial auditorium at noon Wednesday, where the legion auxiliary will serve a huge barbecue dinner.

One of the principal football days now throughout the nation, Armistice day will offer Wichita Falls a savory portion of that entertainment, for the high school Coyotes will engage the North Side High school of Fort Worth at 2:30 p. m. The game is to be played at Spudder park, and promises to be a brawny affair.

Programmed events of the day will conclude with a dance for legionnaires at the Elks' home, on Ninth street between Travis and Austin streets, at 9:30 p. m.

An impressive pre-Armistice day program was staged at the Memorial auditorium Tuesday night before several hundred persons by the local legion post.

2,300 ATTEND LEGION PROGRAM

Observance of the 13th anniversary of Armistice day was inaugurated in Wichita Falls Tuesday night at the Memorial auditorium when 2,300 persons, at least two-thirds of which were adults, gave enthusiastic audition to a program given by the local American Legion post.

Local speakers and artists provided the entire program. Contributing the more serious part of the observance, Bert King, local attorney, declared this nation's "dire need for aggressive leadership, enlightened by vision and endowed with courage."

"When we no longer are ready to fight, we are ready to die," said the speaker. "We should fight now to make war forever obsolete; but we must also fight to make the United States a real world power in terms of peace. Our enemies in this fight are selfishness, self-satisfaction, and national conceit."

Concluding Tuesday night's program was a tableau presenting "The Unknown Soldier," with Roy J. Daniel, local post commander, delivering the soliloquy. Behind the silvered casket, in uniform, representatives of various branches of military and naval service.

The following program preceded Mr. King's address:

Concert selections, Leo M. Underwood's band; reading, "America," (Guest), Jack Martin; tap dance ensemble, Miss Betty Jean Kimbrough, supported by Carol Cable, Katherine Reid, Virginia Myers, Mary Jane Payne, and Billie Jane Chatham; reading, "Drafted," F. C. McClung; tumbling exhibition, Jack Campbell, A. J. McCarthy, and Glen McAlaster, Wichita Falls High school; comedy, F. M. King; tap dance, Peggy Jean Graves; tap dance, Roy Hembree; reading, "Rouge Bouquet," (Kilmer), Miss Constance Clark; tap dance, Misses Marion and Marguerite Baden; "In Flanders Fields," (McCrea), reading, John Butts. Miss Blanch Butler played accompaniments for all dances.

Mr. Daniel announced that a gold star mother's service flag, awarded by the government, will be flown above the Zundelowitz Junior High school building Wednesday, by arrangement with school authorities. The flag is that of Mrs. Josie Gunter, 1807 Polk, whose son enlisted from Decatur, and was a member of company H, 360th infantry, of the 90th division. This will be the first time a mother's service flag has been flown in Wichita Falls, Mr. Daniel said.

Mr. Daniel presided during the evening, with Milton J. Gaines, entertainment committee chairman, introducing the performers. Rabbi S. J. Schwab pronounced the invocation.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS TO CLOSE TODAY

Contributing materially to the general observance of Armistice day Wednesday as a city-wide holiday, schools, banks and city and county offices will remain closed throughout the day, it was learned Tuesday.

At the courthouse, the sheriff's and constable's offices will remain open, while the police and fire departments will remain open in the city's organization.

CAKE AUCTION AT BURK TODAY

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Nov. 10.—A birthday cake for the 13th anniversary of the signing of the armistice in the world war will be auctioned off here Wednesday by women of the First Christian church as a part of the city's observance of Armistice day. The big cake weighs 20 pounds and contains five pounds of nuts. Two pounds of icing were used to cover it. The cake has been decorated with 13 candles and 13 flags and placed on display downtown

Burk Dogs Ready For Archer Cats

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Nov. 10.—Burkburnett High school Bulldogs under their coach, Jess Johnson Tuesday afternoon brought to a close their preparations for the approaching game with the Archer City Wildcats at Archer City on Armistice day. With all the regulars ready to go at the gun, the Dogs feel confident of their ability to chew up the Cats and finish the remainder of the conference with a clean slate. So far, the only conference defeats of the Bulldogs have been dealt them by the two leaders, Olney and Crowell, and the local gridsters are out to play the rest of the season's games with the determination to win. Their deeds will be witnessed Wednesday by a large crowd of supporters from the school and town who this year have shown an unusual interest in the team's activities.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—A slight opening advance in cotton today was followed by declines under a little more southern selling combined with reselling by recent buyers.

January contracts broke to 6.66 and closed at 6.71, with the general market closing steady at net declines of 8@14 points.

The opening was steady 1@6 points higher on a continuation of yesterday's buying movement which again seemed to include some covering and trade buying believed to be partly for Liverpool and Japanese account. December advanced to 6.77 and March to 7.01 on this demand, but the buying was supplied by some southern and local selling and prices soon turned easier.

December declined to 6.58 and March to 6.82, with the close a few points up from the lowest on covering.

The decline in the near months carried prices back to about the levels prevailing just before publication of the government crop report on Monday, but later deliveries held part of their gain, and seemed to be attracting more commission house demand. Brokers credited with acting for the cooperative interest were reported among the buyers today, while there was considerable demand during the early trading and again toward the close which was believed to come through broker with far-eastern connections.

Liverpool cables reported hedging and continental liquidation influenced by steadier sterling in that market, but said there was further cloth buying for shipment to India and China. Exports today 42,453, making 2,121,991 so far this season. Port receipts 83,477. U. S. port stocks 4,474,166.

Futures closed steady, 8 to 12 points lower. Spot quiet; middling, 6.70.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10. (AP)—The cotton market, although only moderately active today, developed a reactionary tendency. The downward trend of prices was due to liquidation on weakness in stocks and wheat and a sharp drop in silver futures in New York, although bar silver in London had closed higher at 21 9-16d.

After opening practically unchanged despite lower Liverpool cables, prices gradually sagged until by early afternoon they showed losses of 19 to 21 points from the previous close. The fact that tomorrow will be a holiday here, Armistice day, while New York will remain open probably added to liquidation.

The market ruled steadier in the middle of the afternoon keeping within the previous range and rallied near the end on shorts covering, the general market closing steady and showing declines for the day of 8 to 13 points. Liverpool was due on New Orleans tomorrow 5 penny points down.

Liverpool cables came in 3 to 5 penny points worse than due and sterling was firmer. Private cables reported that there was hedge selling and continental liquidation on steadier sterling. Manchester cabled there was further cloth inquiry from India and China.

December closed at 6.65, or 13 points net lower for the day, January at 6.74; down 12 points net and March at 6.90 down 11 points net.

Port receipts 83,477; for week 183,150; for season 4,061,873; last season 5,017,772. Exports 42,453; for week 127,228; for season 2,079,895; last season 2,491,608; port stock 4,502,978. Last year 3,894,339; combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 130,408; last year 131,038. Spot sales at southern markets 69,938; last year 8,011.

Futures closed stead at net declines of 8 to 13 points:

Stock Values Recede in Wake Of Tumbling Grain Markets

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (US)—Reaction was the order of the day in all markets today. Wheat inaugurated the setback by dropping as much as three cents for some options, and the recession spread rapidly into other commodities including silver and finally into stocks. Since the commodity upturn has of late furnished the main incentive for the stock market it was quite logical that a price setback in the products should find immediate reflection in stocks. Among the latter, however, price declines did not extend into the railroad section of the list. In some of the more speculative issues, especially favored by the commodity news of late, the reaction extended to a point or more. This was particularly true of the metal shares, which were sold on a sharp and sudden decline which occurred in silver futures. Spot or immediate silver continued to advance, but the futures, in which the greatest speculation had developed, apparently reflected a switch for the day at least in speculative sentiment. Volume, which had swelled to three millions shares on Monday, contracted almost one-half as the price upturn in stocks failed to maintain itself.

There has lately developed a rather surprising amount of public speculation in the markets, particularly in commodities. Apparently the sudden and decided upturn in the price of wheat fired the public imagination as to speculative possibilities in commodities. The wheat advance, it now becomes more evidence, was initiated by a powerful clique of speculators taking advantage of a decidedly bullish technical position in the commodity. As the advance gained momentum, and the war talk developed, the public seemingly was swept out of its previous skepticism and went heavily into wheat. Simultaneously some of the biggest factors who had been attracted to wheat and other grains about a month or so back began to slip out. The advance had attained sensational proportions.

It is evident to the calm observer that a sudden sustained downward movement in wheat and other grains would do untold harm to sentiment at this stage of the revival campaign. For this reason, the best informed of the market's friends are anxious for reasonably quiet markets both in commodities and in stocks.

The German situation is receiving more attention from bankers than they publicly admit. London advices were to the effect that Germany is planning declaration of a general moratorium, but specific details were lacking. The market was affected by the news, although considerable confusion is evident even among bankers as to the prospects for any such action by Germany. It is known that the banking fraternity here has been preparing itself for any eventualities in that country.

The monthly U. S. Steel corporation unfilled orders report disclosed a drop of 25,000 tons, which was in line with expectations. Operations of steel mills, however, was reported expanded during the past week.

Oil stocks generally were slightly lower for the day, but report persisted that strong and aggressive sponsorship may be forthcoming for the entire group unless the entire market suffers further relapse.

The sponsors for the oil shares count on additional constructive developments to back up the recent upturn in prices. For example, there is the expectation that the California price advance will shortly be announced. It is known that Standard of California meets rather impressive demand on all reactions in price. The same is true of Standard of New Jersey.

It was reported that a leading government official may have something cheerful to say to the industry with respect to proration and production curtailment.

TURKEY MARKET

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 10. (AP)—(USDA)—The run of turkey's in South and Central Texas was light Monday, while the hill country reported moderate movement to dressing plants. Prices paid for No. 1 young toms and hens averaged 14@15c with some dealers paying higher and a few outlying points holding to the 13-cent level. The usual differential of 2@4c off for old toms and 6@7c for No. 2s was made. Prices offered dealers or dressed stock were fairly satisfactory but very few sales made because of uncertainty of securing supplies.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10. (AP)—Wheat continued in good demand on the cash grain market today but other commodities were only fairly well bought.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or group three points, freight paid:

Wheat—No. 1 ordinary hard milling 69@70c No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 70@71c; 14 per cent 74@75c; 15 per cent 78@79c; 16 per cent 82@83c.

Corn—Nov. 2 mixed 46@47c; No. 2 white 27½@48½c; No. 2 yellow 51@53c.

Barley—No. 2 nominally 42@46c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. 88@90c; No. 2 kaffir 86@88c.

Delivered Texas group three: Oats, No. 2 red 26½@27½c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Grains lurched heavily downward today and at the last were sprawling 3 cents and more a bushel below recent top figures.

Wheat and rye especially showed signs of having been much overbought for at least the time being, with opinions prevalent that a swift advance here of 24¾ cents for wheat and rye of late, with 16⅝ cents gain in corn, was making a better export market for Argentine and Australian wheat at the expense of North America. Indications that United States farmers were rushing their grain shipments forward wholesale to take advantage of high prices added to widespread belief that a top heavy market condition had come about, with some reaction inevitable.

Wheat closed nervous, 2¾@3¼ cents lower than yesterday's finish, rye 3⅛@3⅝c down, corn showing 2@2⅛c loss, oats at ⅞@1⅛c decline, and provisions varying from 27 cents drop to 5 cents gain.

Correct anticipation that the government crop report due after the close of trading today would prove bearish had a disturbing effect from the outset, and so too did preholiday urgency to realize profits, the board of trade being closed tomorrow, Armistice day. Acute weakness which quickly developed in rye had a further unsettling influence on the entire list. Rye toppled over more readily than other cereals owing to the fact that scarcely a dozen brokers devoted themselves to rye, whereas the wheat, corn and oats pits have an attendance totaling many hundreds.

The extreme drop in wheat was 5 cents below its recent high point, and was experienced just before the close. An outstanding bearish factor was a word that only 600,000 bushels of North American wheat had been taken for shipment overseas, and that even of this total the bulk was from Canada, not the United States.

Stock market downturns and some moisture relief in domestic winter wheat territory Southwest added to handicaps of bulls. Confirmation of frost damage to Argentine wheat failed to act as a counterbalance.

Corn and oats traders saw their enthusiasm for higher prices stifled by the action of wheat and rye.

Provisions declined with Wheat: Dec. 60¾@⅞c, 66⅝@⅞c; March 64⅜c; bids, May 65⅝@⅞c; 71⅜@⅝c; July 66@66⅛c, 72c.

Corn—Dec. 42¾c, 47c; May 45⅛@⅜c; 52@52⅛c; July 49⅝c, 53⅛c.

Electra Buyer Pays 16.6 Cents for Seymour Pool

Approximately 4,000 turkeys were sold Monday by Baylor county growers to H. E. Wilson of Electra with No. 1 birds bringing 16.6 cents per pound, according to information given The Record News Tuesday by a Baylor county citizen active in the pooling of Thanksgiving birds.

Both young toms and young hens of No. 1 classification brought 16.6 cents per pound, according to the account given of the sale. It was stipulated in grading that the young toms should weigh not less than 14½ pounds, the hens not less than 8½ pounds.

All toms sold for 13 cents per pound and No. 2 turkeys at 10 cents.

Part of the turkeys bought Monday in Baylor county are being dressed out in Wichita Falls, and the remainder in Electra, it was said. About 60 growers participated in assembling the 4,000 birds Monday.

Armistice Program Given At Lions Club Luncheon

More freedom and less autocracy was urged by B. D. Sartin Tuesday noon as a cure of democracy's ills in an Armistice day address before members of the Lions club at the First Southern Presbyterian church.

Mr. Sartin discussed the present turmoil in Northern China in which Japan and China are involved, and admitted the possibility of many nations eventually being drawn into the conflict.

Humorous reminiscences of wartime experiences comprised a short talk by K. C. Spell. At the opening of the program, those present stood for one minute in silent tribute to those who fell in the war. Dr. Gaines B. Hall, pastor of the church, spoke the invocation.

A sing-song was conducted by Leo M. Underwood. President E. J. Carey of the Burkburnett Lions club was a guest.

Air mail from Wichita Falls to points in the East, West and Northwest is expected to be speeded upon the completion of negotiations now under way by postal officials to obtain more direct connections of mail planes at Amarillo, O. P. Maricle, postmaster here, announced Tuesday

Inspector Cisler of the postal air mail service was through Wichita Falls Tuesday en route to Amarillo for conferences with air line officials there. Efforts will be made, it was said, to re-establish mail plane connections, recently discontinued, to result in savings of air mail time ranging from a few hours to a full day.

Mr. Cisler will return here Thursday with a report of the success of his conference, Mr. Maricle said.

Notes, real estate and other assets of the partners were found to be insufficient to offset liabilities of the institution due to about 1,000 depositors.

S. W. J. Russell, one of the four partners, was not adjudged bankrupt by Judge Atwell.

'Double Cross Corner' Claims New Victim

DETROIT, Nov. 10. (AP)—"Double cross corner," near the entrance to Elmwood cemetery, claimed another victim last night when John Barrett, 40, described by police as a minor bootlegger, was dumped from a car and left there to die from a gunshot wound.

An Italian gang war several years ago put the corner into the headlines when many such "rides" ended with the bodies of the victims huddled against the cemetery fence.

Before he died in receiving hospital, Barrett told detectives last night two men had picked him up on a downtown street and shot him in their car. He claimed he did not know them.
