Raza Unida Party Founder Takes Crack At McGovern For Speech

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The founder of the Raza Unida Party, a Mexican-American group seeking the Texas governor's chair, says presidential nominee George McGovern is a "damned liar" for claiming the party sold out to the Republicans. Jose Angel Gutierrez of Crystal City, Tex., referred to recent reports on the funding of a comprehensive health project for that predominantly Mexican-American town.

McGovern says we sold out to the Republicans for $1 million to finance the project, Gutierrez told newsmen here Friday. "He's a damned liar."

He said Raza Unida asked McGovern repeatedly to substantiate the claim, "which he could not do."

Tutierrez, campaign manager for Raza Unida gubernatorial candidate Ramsey Muniz, accused McGovern of using "McCarthy-type tactics."

He also declared that the Democratic presidential candidate's comments about Raza Unida "makes us suspect he's not telling the truth about a lot of other things."

Earlier, he told about 200 persons in a speech at Trinity University that Texas "Gov. Preston 'Pig' Smith" refused to approve plans for the health program, which would be federally financed.

"So we saw the Republicans and they overrode it," Gutierrez said, referring to the governor's action.

His wife, director of the program, later said Smith was overridden by Philip Sanchez, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, the funding agency.

Gutierrez referred to remarks McGovern made earlier this month in Chicago, when he said Republican sources have offered money to militants to discourage minorities from voting in the Presidential election.

McGovern gave no details. But his Illinois campaign coordinator, Gene Pokorny, said he was told by a doctor who was offered the top job with the Crystal City health project that it was being established with $1 million in federal funds. He said it was indicated the money was "made available because of an arrangement between La Raza Unida and Republican party officials."

Gutierrez said Raza Unida Party members from Texas and several other states voted at their recent national convention in El Paso to support neither McGovern nor Nixon. The party is asking Mexican-Americans "not to be concerned" about the presidential race, he said.

The Texas Raza Unida Party began in Crystal City about two years ago. Gutierrez, now school board president there, has led the party to complete control of city and school administrations in the Southwest Texas town.

Recent Rain Generally Beneficial

Pampa and the surrounding area had little to none of the icing conditions experienced in the Amarillo area where mild and heavy heads of hybrids began bowing under the weight of the crystals.

No report has come in as yet from any area of the Panhandle of damage to cotton or to harvest-ready grain sorghums. Reaction of wheat was varied over a spotted area. Generally, it was beginning to show its need for moisture. In some places root systems had reached the subsoil moisture of previous rainfall but in others this week's downpour was needed to extend the reach of these tendrils.

According to growers about the area, the latest moisture failed to develop fully wheat pasture but they called it a step in the right direction and felt the anticipated influx of heavy stocking over the Panhandle would come on schedule.

Record Crowd Expected To Attend C-C Banquet

Approximately 600 persons are expected to attend the annual banquet of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night in the Heritage Room of the M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium.

It will be the largest banquet attendance in the city's history and mark the change of command for the chamber's 1972-73 fiscal year.

Three new officers and ten recently-installed directors will take over their official duties for the coming year.

The new officers are Jerry Sims, president; Rex McAnelly, vice president; and Gene Steel, finance director.

The new directors are W.C. Bass, Milo Carlson, Henry Gruben, Homer Johnson, Melvin Kunkel, James McCoy and Richard Stowers, each of whom will serve three-year terms.

Three directors appointed by President Sims to serve one-year terms are Robert Imel, Gary Stevens and Carlton Freeman.

The speaker for the Tuesday night banquet will be George Nigh, lieutenant-governor of Oklahoma.

As a special attraction, the $300,000 art exhibit from the Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City will be displayed in the auditorium lobby to be viewed by guests before and after the banquet.

The art exhibit will be held over Wednesday for viewing by the general public.

A floor show featuring the "New Day," pop-rock choral and instrumental group from West Texas University under the direction of ex-Pampan Dr. Hugh Sanders, will precede the governor's address.

There will be special awards to outgoing officers. Roy Sparkman, current chamber president, will preside over the banquet program before passing the gavel to incoming president Sims.

The banquet has been sold out for ten days and a record crowd is expected to fill the auditorium banquet area.

Optimist Club To Host District Board Meeting

The Pampa Optimist Club will host the first quarter district board meeting of the North Texas District of Optimist International, which encompasses just about all of the top third of the state, next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Featured speaker for the event will be Roger A. Teekell, Ph.D., college professor and immediate past president of Optimist International.

In addition to Dr. Teekell of the College of Agriculture, LSU Baton Rouge, La., there will be a host of Optimist dignitaries including Richard O. Stewart, Denton, governor of the North Texas District.

Registration will begin at 4 p.m. Friday at the Coronado Inn, headquarters for the conclave.

In addition to business of the district, there will be recreation and social affairs for the 150 optimists and their wives expected for the meeting.

The North Texas District is bounded, roughly, by Nacogdoches on the east;

Dr. Roger Teekell
...Optimist Speaker

Dallas and Fort Worth to the south; up to Wichita Falls; Midland and Odessa on the west and extending north to encompass all the Panhandle.

Within this district there are 110 clubs with almost 3,000 members. Local Optimists consider it a distinct honor for them and for Pampa to entertain this meeting.

Blacks Open Rirst Assembly

CHICAGO (AP) — The first Black National Assembly opened here Saturday with a clenched-fist display of unity and a pledge by one organizer to fight what he called a "new conservative coalition."

More than 400 delegates began the two-day gathering by joining in the black power salute and invoking the names of slain black leaders Martin Luther King, Malcolm X and Medgar Evers in vowing to "preserve, defend and protect the black community."

"We are pressed, our patience has its limit and we are being threatened in many ways as we have never been threatened before," Rep. Charles Diggs, D-Mich., told newsmen before start of the meeting.

Diggs said President Nixon's appointments of conservatives to the Supreme Court were examples of the "emergence of a new conservative coalition" that the assembly hoped to fight by forming a structure for dealing with political problems facing blacks.

Mayor Richard Hatcher of Gary, Ind., and playwright Imamu Amiri Baraka, the other organizers of the assembly, were with Diggs at the news conference.

Hatcher, saying that "the level of immorality in this country has risen to a new high," charged that American involvement in Southeast Asia has pushed correction of injustices to blacks low on the priority scale.

18 Americans Injured In Red Rocket Raids

SAIGON (AP) — Communist-led forces Sunday fired more than 50 rockets into the big allied air base at Bien Hoa, 15 miles northeast of Saigon.

The U.S. command said preliminary reports showed that 18 Americans were wounded. Initial reports also said 10 South Vietnamese were injured in the pre-dawn attack. One U.S. truck and one South Vietnamese helicopter were damaged.

It was the most serious attack on a major U.S. installation since the Communist command launched an offensive in the Saigon region Oct. 5.

Senior military sources say the offensive is timed just ahead of the U.S. presidential election, in efforts to embarrass President Nixon. Sources said the Communists are trying to create the impression of strength far beyond what actually exists.

The United States has two

Marine squadrons and one Air Force squadron of attack bombers based at Bien Hoa. They fly missions in support of South Vietnamese forces in the Saigon area and the Mekong Delta, and in support of Cambodian forces across the border.

The Air Force squadron at Bien Hoa had been deactivated Oct. 1, but this order was canceled and most of the unit was kept there because of the Communist offensive.

The attack came only a few hours before Henry A. Kissinger paid an early Sunday morning call on President Nguyen Van Thieu. It was their fourth meeting in four days in apparent efforts to hammer out a peace settlement. U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker accompanied Kissinger to the presidential palace for the meeting.

The enemy offensive also flared in other areas on the outskirts of Saigon and in the central highlands.

Sixteen miles north of Saigon, a South Vietnamese officer claimed his troops thwarted a planned attack probably aimed at biting off another chunk of Highway 13, a main road to rubber and timber country.

Plane With 53 Plunges Into Sea Near Athens

ATHENS (AP) — An Olympic Airways plane with 53 persons aboard on a domestic flight plunged into the sea near Athens airport Saturday night in a blinding rainstorm. Early reports said 18 persons were rescued from the water.

An Olympic Airways spokesman said the plane, a twin-engine turboprop, was one minute away from its scheduled landing here when it fell. Rescue craft hunted for any other survivors.

The plane was on a flight from the Ionian Sea island of Corfu, also called Kerkira, when it ran into one of the worst rainstorms to hit Athens in years. The airliner went down about 500 yards from the coast in the Saronic Gulf. The airport is adjacent to the gulf.

Of the 53 persons on board, four were crew members and seven were foreigners. A company spokesman said it was not known if the foreigners were among the survivors. Their nationalities were not available. The plane apparently crash landed on the sea and floated briefly before it went under wind-whipped waves.

Scores of small rescue craft and Greek coast guard patrol boats searched the crash area. The coast guard boats beamed powerful search lights across the water.

Olympic Airways is owned by Aristotle Onassis, the Greek shipping magnate married to Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis.

Panhandle Jaycees Meet Here

Some 125 Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes attended a banquet in the Starlight Room at Coronado Inn last night as a high point of the Area 1-A convention meeting here this weekend.

Some 250 were expected from the 26 chapters across the Panhandle when registration started Saturday morning according to Philip Kimbley, convention chairman.

Following a morning of business, competitive programs began at 2 p.m., Saturday with awards for efforts in this competition presented at another banquet today at 12:30. A prayer breakfast preceded the 9 a.m. business session today.

Lyle Bert, former Jaycee from Clayton, N.M. was the banquet speaker Saturday with Joe Campbell, Midland, administrative national director, bringing the address at noon today.

"I want him to do as much for himself as he can," she said in a telephone interview.

Old Soldier's Daughter Says VA Neglects Father's Needs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The daughter of the only surviving soldier of the Indian Wars says her 98-year-old father's needs are being ignored by the Veterans Administration.

The old soldier is Fredrick Friske who served as an Army private in the Northwest from 1894 to 1897. He and his daughter, Lillian, 67, live in North Chicago.

Miss Friske said her father has glaucoma and can see only shadowy shapes. He doesn't talk very much, she said, but he can walk from his bedroom across the hall to the livingroom where he spends every day sitting in a chair. And while he occasionally needs help dressing himself, he eats, without help, his daily meals of baby food.

"I want him to do as much for himself as he can," she said in a telephone interview.

Friends have suggested what might be the easy way out—put him in a VA home, but Miss

Friske says, "knowing the condition he's in, I don't want to part with him because if I took him in today he might be gone tomorrow and I would never forgive myself."

But she said that while she doesn't want to part with him, it's getting to the point "where I can't take care of him anymore, but I can't afford a nurse to help me."

This is why she went to the VA for help. She said she wanted assistance on paying for the relatively few pills he needs—

"about $20 every few months."

"In May or June I called the (VA) and asked them for a 'baby sitter.' They promised me they would look into it but I haven't heard anything from them since," she said.

"When I need help, I think they could give it," she said. "They (VA) are ignoring my father's needs... they definitely won't cooperate with me."

VA spokesmen could not be reached immediately for comment.

Pampans To Honor War Dead Monday

Veterans Day will be observed at Pampa's Fairview and Memory Gardens cemeteries Monday in honor of the dead of all wars and in tribute to the fighting men of today.

Memorial services are scheduled at Fairview Cemetery at 9 a.m. following an earlier ritual when flags will be placed on the graves of soldier and sailor dead at 7 a.m.

Taking part in the services there will be the Rev. Bryan Halliburton, Tracy Cary, Capt. L.Z. Sullivan and members of the VFW, World War I and American Legion auxiliaries. Rev. Halliburton will be the speaker.

Services are set for 11 a.m. at Memory Gardens Cemetery in charge of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1657 and the VFW Auxiliary.

A "Parade of Flags" will consist of flags flown from a staff, each with the name of a veteran. They will be placed at intervals around the center circle "Gardens of Peace" at Memory Gardens. The ceremony will be in charge of VFW Commander Ross Neugin.

Members of the VFW are urged to be in Memory Gardens for the 7 a.m. flag ceremony.

Families of deceased veterans are asked to contact Mrs. Carl Wright at 669-7268 if they wish to have a flag flown on Veterans Day.

Special recognition will be given to Gold Star mothers of the area. The Rev. A.E. Burns will be the speaker at the 11 a.m. Memory Gardens service and the Pampa High School Band will play. An honor guard will be provided by the Pampa National Guard Unit.

LBJ Library Stones To Be Pulled Off

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Workmen will begin pulling large travertine buildings stones off the Lyndon B. Johnson Library next week to find out why the structure's "skin" is loosening. The University of Texas administration said Saturday.

Scaffolding will be erected, and by mid-week workmen will begin removing, at random, 30 to 40 of the stones with which the building is faced.

PAULA PFEIFER — 1973 March of Dimes National Poster Child, greets volunteer A.W. Bassett of Pampa at a regional meeting of the voluntary health organization in Dallas. Paula, 5, was born with open spine, partially paralyzing her legs, and club feet. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Pfeifer of Tulsa, Okla. The National Foundation-March of Dimes is the largest source of private support for research, medical services and health education aimed at preventing birth defects.

Prenatal Care Discussed At Dallas MOD Meet

Prenatal care, including special attention for the high risk pregnancy, plus regional intensive care nurseries, can have a major impact on infant death and disease rates, according to A.W. Bassett, chairman of the Gray County chapter of the March of Dimes.

Bassett recently returned from a two-day regional conference of The National Foundation-March of Dimes in Dallas.

"The March of Dimes is focusing its attention on the prenatal period—the interval from conception to one month of age," Bassett said. "This new aspect of the MOD program was fully discussed at the meeting."

He pointed out that every year about 250,000 American babies are born damaged in some way and National Foundation volunteers are important cogs in the wheels that move toward prevention of birth defects.

Monitoring life before birth, prenatal care, genetic counseling, intensive care of the high risk fetus and newborn, emphasis on rubella immunization and research into basic causes of birth disorders are all part of the efforts to assure each newborn of his right to a healthy start in life, Bassett said.

At some 100 March of Dimes Medical Service Programs across the country, physicians and other health professionals are working to improve the delivery of preventive and treatment services in prenatal and infant care. The voluntary health organization also offers professional and public health education and community services.

Former Employee Group Plans Annual Reunion

Former employees of the Coleco, Columbian and Peerless companies will celebrate their third annual reunion Saturday, Nov. 4.

With families and friends, they will meet in the Lefors High School cafeteria with registration set for 10 a.m.

The official welcome will be extended at 2 p.m. with a program following. At the conclusion of this, there will be a time for visiting as acquaintances are renewed.

A basket dinner will be spread with serving to begin at 5 p.m. Each family is expected to bring sufficient food for them and for friends who may accompany them.

Birch Society Calls For Declaration Of Oct. 24 As 'Day Of Shame' Of U.N.

The John Birch Society has launched a new campaign, declaring that Tuesday, Oct. 24—the founding anniversary of the United Nations—should be proclaimed a "Day of Shame," to commemorate the pro-Communist actions of the world body, according to Jack Skelly Jr., local Birch leader.

Members and supporters of the Birch Society will distribute flyers, show films, and establish "United Nations Information Booths" during a four-day educational campaign, which began Saturday, to mark the "Day of Shame," Skelly said.

"It was exactly one year ago that the UN used its 26th anniversary to demonstrate its total subservience to its Communist masters," Birch leader Skelly declared, "when it voted to expel the Republic of China from membership and to seat instead the murderous tyranny of Mao Tse-tung and Chou-En-lai.

"This action, which was taken in specific violation of the UN Charter," he continued, "shows how little regard the United Nations has for any laws, including its own, when it comes to serving Communist purposes. For this reason, and many more, the John Birch Society has declared that the anniversary of the UN's formation should be regarded as a "Day of Shame."

The Birch leader said volunteers will be distributing literature Monday and Tuesday containing more information on the United Nations' record, and why Oct. 24 should be proclaimed a "Day of Shame." Pamphlets, flyers, books, and cards will be available at "UN Information Booths" at shopping centers and other public places. In addition, members and supporters will be going door-to-door in many communities, Skelly said.

Local Woman Vice Governor Of District 9, Altrusa Club

Miss Vermell Meador of Pampa was elected Second Vice Governor of District 9, Altrusa International, Inc., at the district's annual conference in Corpus Christi on Saturday.

District 9 includes 44 Altrusa clubs in Texas, Mexico east of Sonora and Guatemala.

Altrusa Clubs are classified and selective membership clubs composed of women who hold executive positions, in diversified businesses and professions, or who own and operate their own businesses, or who are practicing a profession. Pioneer of women's service clubs, the international organization with 13 districts has clubs in Australia, Bermuda, Canada, England, Scotland, Guatemala, India, Ireland, Mexico, New Zealand, Philippines, Puerto Rico and United States.

Miss Meador, the daughter of Rev. Amos R. Meador, Borger is director of nursing service at Highland General Hospital, where she has been employed for 18 years. She attended Bethany Nazarene College, San Angelo College, and graduated from Shannon Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, San Angelo. In addition to being a board member of Suicide Prevention Crisis Intervention Organization and the Nazarene Church, she is a member of American Heart Association, Fine Arts Association, American Nurses Association, National League of Nursing, Texas Society of Hospital Association. She was named "Boss of the Year" in 1967-68 by the Pampa Chapter of the American Business Women's Association. In the Altrusa Club of Pampa, she has served as chairman of several committees, director, vice-president and program coordinator, and president. She has been a member of the District Altrusa Information Committee.

MISS VERMELL MEADOR

As second vice governor she will serve as chairman of Area III, composed of clubs in Borger, Pampa, Amarillo, Plainview, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Abilene, Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, Brownwood, San Angelo and El Paso. She will be required to visit each club and to conduct an area Leadership Training Seminar in May.

Union Begins Talks To End REA Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Union and management negotiators began talks here Saturday in an effort to end a nationwide strike which has stopped all REA express surface deliveries except medical supplies.

"It looks very bleak," said John Carlo chairman of a New York local of the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks, as he picketed outside REA headquarters, where the talks were going on.

The union has worked without a contract since July 1, 1971 and has asked that any settlement reached be retroactive to that date.

Carlo said the 15,000 strikers wanted only parity with workers doing similar jobs with other companies and "nothing over the 5.5 per cent wage guideline. We only want what is due us."

REA said the union was asking a 30 per cent raise over an average current weekly salary of $165.

Besides drivers, clerks and freight handlers are involved across the nation.

Dunlap's Acquires Stores In El Paso

Sale of two White House department stores in El Paso to the Dunlap's Co. of Lubbock, which operates Dunlap's in Pampa, was announced in Lubbock by Retha Martin, chairman of the company's board of directors.

Dunlap officials said the sale transaction involved $4 million. The company now operates 20 stores in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Missouri.

Dallas Blacks Hold March Protesting Killing Of Negro

DALLAS (AP) — A restless, frustrated crowd of over 750 blacks, led by the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, finally negotiated its way through a triple line of riot police here Saturday, and marched to the steps of city hall to protest the police shooting of a Negro Oct. 13.

By the time the group massed in the streets in front of the municipal building, it numbered well over 1,000 persons. The group raised fists and cheered as Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, yelled into a bull horn: "It is no longer open season on black people in Dallas."

The community leaders have said to me they're going to march back to city hall tomorrow and the next day and the next day until Dallas decides that it's going to do something about this problem," Abernathy said.

The five-mile march began as a funeral procession organized by the local SCLC. Dallas SCLC director George Holland had claimed the shooting death of James Charles Brown, 23, was "murder" and the result of a "racist scheme" by Dallas police.

A yellow and green wooden wagon carrying Brown's body, borrowed from a farmer and drawn by two mules, originally led the procession from the black South Dallas site where Brown was shot.

The victim's mother, dry-eyed and silent throughout most of the march, walked ahead. She was flanked by a private nurse and an elderly minister.

Police issued a statement Friday saying the procession could proceed only to near the downtown area and then had to stop because a "funeral procession" was not permitted in the downtown area.

The march eventually encountered a police blockade.

'Prank' Call May Not Be

Quick thinking on the part of a junior high student may have averted harm according to police thinking in the case.

A call came into the school Friday that there had been an emergency in the family of a girl student and that a certain youth would pick her up and described the car.

The girl did not know the youth and had school people call her home. Thus it was learned that no emergency existed.

The girl's father reported the experience to police who refused to dismiss it entirely as a prank call until they check out any other devious motives for the call.

Energy Problem Linked To Capital Shortage

HOUSTON (AP) — The pending energy problem has been linked directly with a capital shortage oilmen say is hindering the domestic petroleum industry.

"And we cannot hope to solve the energy problem unless and until we solve the capital problem," says W. H. Burnap, executive vice president of the Western Hemisphere Petroleum Division of Continental Oil Co.

Burnap says just about every major oil company in the nation refines and sells more products than it produces crude.

"In other words, they are crude deficient," he explains. "For those companies, higher crude prices hurt earnings rather than help, unless they can be translated into higher product prices. And there's the real rub."

Burnap says domestic crude prices have moved up about 18 per cent since 1960, while retail gasoline prices, excluding taxes, have increased roughly 15 per cent.

"But the price of gasoline at the refinery gate—the price realized by the refiner—has edged up only eight per cent in that time," he says.

Even the modest increases in crude and retail gasoline prices in the last 12 years, Burnap adds, have not been realized by the refiner.

"He's been the man in the middle, squeezed by higher costs for raw material and for labor, but unable to pass these costs on to the ultimate consumer," he explains.

"When you think about that situation, it is much easier to understand why there is no new refinery capacity being built in this country today."

If a company cannot justify a refinery investment on the basis of a reasonable return on investment, Burnap adds, that company has no reason to build such a facility in the United States.

"And yet, for every refinery that an American oil company chooses to build abroad rather than in this country, there is a proportionate exportation of capital, of jobs, of taxes, and ultimately of national security," he says.

Burnap believes that for natural gas producers there is some cause for optimism for gas prices to be allowed to return to the discipline of the marketplace.

"But before anyone gets too excited about that possibility, let's not forget that petroleum product prices must also be allowed to return to the discipline of the marketplace," Burnap adds.

"Let's not forget that Phase II controls are artificially depressing the prices of gasoline, heating oil and other oil products at the very time when those prices could be more responsive to the pressures of demand than they have been in many years," he said.

Burnap says the national platforms of both the Republican and Democratic parties favor elimination of Phase II controls as soon as possible.

"We should recognize, however, that it is not going to be as easy to take controls off wages and prices as it was to clamp them on in the first place," he says.

Deaf-Blind Learn Photography Jobs

ROMNEY, W. Va. (AP) — Deaf and Blind children in experimental joint classes at the West Virginia Schools for the Deaf and Blind here are being trained for photography-related jobs.

"Once this class proves to be the success we expect it to be, more and more classes will be integrated with both deaf and blind," predicts Dale Rawlings, a counselor for the deaf and blind.

"We think we're the first" with such integrated classes, instructor Charles Thompson said.

Thompson teaches the students, enrolled in the school from throughout West Virginia, skills in television photography, editing television tape, still photography and processing and printing of both black and white and color films.

Family Planning And Social Change To Be Discussed At PPFA Meeting

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. and world authorities, ranging from an advertising consultant to a crusading family planner from India, will examine international aspects of population growth here this week.

Joining in discussions on that topic and voluntary family planning will be more than 700 persons at the annual meeting of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America.

The four-day meeting opens Monday with a panel discussion on "Family Planning and Social Change."

Featured speakers during the convention will include Richard K. Manoff, a New York advertising executive regarded as the nation's foremost advertising consultant in the fields of population and nutrition. He will speak Monday on "The Media and Social Change."

Among other scheduled speakers is Julia Henderson, first woman to be named secretary-general of the International Planned Parenthood Federation of London. Miss Henderson will speak Tuesday.

Dr. Datta N. Pai of Bombay, India, who has revolutionized birth control programs in his country, will report Wednesday on the family planning and public health services he has launched there.

Dr. Pai, director of maternal and child health services and originator of family planning mobile health units in Bombay, has won world attention for his programs.

A panel discussion on the report of the U.S. Commission on Population Growth and the American Future will be held Wednesday.

Blacks comprise 4.2 per cent of West Virginia's population, census figures show.

No. 13	☐ FOR ☐ AGAINST	The constitutional amendment to set a six percent (6%) weighted average annual interest rate for bonds issued pursuant to constitutional authority presently having a specified interest ceiling.
No. 14	☐ FOR ☐ AGAINST	The constitutional amendment to allow a county to reduce its county permanent school fund and distribute the money to independent and common school districts on a per scholastic basis.

14 Proposed Amendments To State Constitution Will Be Decided By Voters In Nov. 7 Election

By RAY BAXTER

Voters will face 14 proposed amendments to the state constitution Nov. 7 that range in importance in this area from "couldn't care less" to "there's another hand in my pocket."

Number four of this slate, if carried to happy fruition, could mean that your present minor children might never have to vote on 14 amendments in their lifetime.

It proposes a constitutional commission to revise the present document or to propose a new one before the 63rd Legislature before Nov. 1, 1973. That august body then would convene Jan. 1, 1974 as a constitutional convention to prepare changes for presentation to the voters of Texas. The only restrictions imposed would be that the present Bill of Rights be retained.

Proposed amendment number seven would impose one more restriction: never again (if it passes) could any statute be enacted that discriminated against one citizen or group over another. Basically, this amendment would re-enforce the 14th amendment to the federal constitution. Little headway would be gained in voting against it since federal civil rights provisions would preempt it anyway.

Paradoxically, proposal number five would abrogate one equality provision. It proposes certain tax exemptions for disabled veterans, widows and minor children of veterans. It is necessary because Article VIII, section 2, provides that all occupation taxes shall be equal upon all citizens of the state. Opposition to this change in the legislative halls (where lawmakers had to vote on all these proposals before they could be submitted to the people) was not intended to ignore the service veterans rendered their country. One contention was that their relief was a federal matter. Another said school districts would suffer financially while another said it would establish a bad precedent. Thus, the burden of the final decision is passed on to the people.

In proposed amendment number six, another tax break would be extended...in this case to property owners 65 years and older. The state homestead exemption of $3,000 provided in 1932 and extended to the county taxing structure in 1948 (effective 1951) would be extended to cities, towns, school districts and other political subdivisions with an ad valorem tax structure. The "certain conditions" specified are principally a moratorium on granting such exemptions until all obligations to which existing ad valorem taxes have been pledged have been paid off.

The proposal to abolish the Lamar County Hospital District is a technicality of no interest locally but necessary to its accomplishment.

Amendment number nine that would provide that directors of soil and water conservation districts might hold other offices and be paid for same is a moot point. The safety valve here would seem to be the election of persons of integrity in the first place rather than imposing restrictions that might deprive a community of capable and dedicated leadership useful in more than one area.

Amendment number 12 is almost the same case in point differing only in the officeholders involved.

The three amendments dealing with salaries of state servants and the one proposing a change in the length of term of certain state officers including the governor.

The first proposed change on the upcoming ballot would raise state legislators' salaries from $4,800 to $8,400 annually. These legislators served on a per diem remuneration for many years...until 1960 when the present salary was established. Proposals to increase their compensation were rejected in 1965, 1968 and 1969. A proposal to let a commission set the compensation was also rejected in 1970. Chief argument against this raise is the already overburdened state budget against the fact that, normally, the legislature meets only every other year.

Amendment number 11 would set a salary of $22,500 each for the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house. Each presently draws the same salary as legislators. Among legislators, the chief objection to this was that the lieutenant governor is a statewide elective office while the speaker is elected by his peers. The contention is that the two should not draw equal salary until the act of seeking and holding the two offices are equal.

Proposed change number three would make it mandatory for the commissioners court in all counties to compensate justices of the peace on a salary basis. This would remove the very last vestige of the fee system from Texas law enforcement.

Amendment number 13 is designed to make bonds more saleable on the market. It would raise the current interest ceiling on such bonds to weighted annual average of six per cent. The current curb has had an adverse effect in many instances across the state in the light of the current interest rate generally.

The last proposed change on the ballot would allow a county commissioners court to reduce the permanent school fund over which they have "watch care" on a per scholastic basis for the reduction of bonded indebtedness or making permanent improvements only. Enough of this fund must be retained to ad valorem taxes on school lands or royalty interests owned at the time. The "darling" of the proposals for most folk (including the fourth estate) is number 10, having to do with making future proposed amendments known to the general public...especially if "weighted" interest is explained.

WHERE THEY STAND

THE ISSUES OF THE 1972 CAMPAIGN

Amnesty

REPUBLICANS

Here and now we reject all proposals to grant amnesty to those who have broken the law by evading military service. We reject the claim that those who fled are more deserving, or obeyed higher morality, than those next in line who served in their places.

The positions above were extracted from the official 1972 platforms of the Republican and Democratic Parties.

DEMOCRATS

To those who for reasons of conscience refused to serve in this war and were prosecuted or sought refuge abroad, we state our firm intention to declare an amnesty, on an appropriate basis, when the fighting has ceased and our troops and prisoners of war have returned.

DO-IT-YOURSELF

Hone Up on Tool Sharpening

By MR. FIX

Since so many tools have cutting edges, a tool to keep them sharp should be among them.

Simple sharpening equipment includes a mill file or a stone, preferably both. Get yourself a silicon carbide stone which is available in a large variety of shapes and sizes. As you get experience you will want to try out some of these varieties which include more than one grit as well.

These artificial stones have replaced natural stones, and so it is now possible to get both a coarse and a fine grit in the same stone.

Sometimes more than sharpening is needed. As tools become extremely dull and nicked they need grinding. Use a grindstone or emery wheel. If you use a power-operated wheel for grinding, make certain you don't overheat the blade.

Overheating will cause it to lose its temper. Dip the tool in water now and then to cool it.

Straight edge tools with a bevel along one surface must be reground so that the bevel is retained. Most tools are beveled at 25 degrees. As you grind, move the blade back and forth so that it is ground evenly.

After it is ground, the blade is sharpened on an oilstone. It is the oil in the stone that prevents overheating. Use a light machine oil to keep the stone treated.

Should the stone get clogged after repeated use, place it in an oven and then wipe away the oil that the heat brings to the surface.

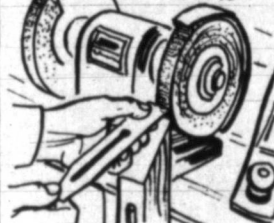

Grinding and sharpening are done against the edge. If you are using a revolving wheel, then the wheel should turn toward the tool. If you are honing (sharpening) the blade by rubbing it against a stone, then move it in a circular motion holding the blade raised slightly. This will put the pressure against the edge.

Some tools can be touched up with a file. This is especially true of garden tools. Work is easier if you clamp the tool to be sharpened in a vise. Retain the old bevel if there was one. Grass shears, incidentally, have no bevel along the edges that meet.

Spades and hoes kept sharp will make your work easier.

BATTIN' AROUND

'Skepticism And Cynicism' Widespread In America

By C. R. BATTEN

"Skepticism and cynicism are widespread in America. The people are skeptical of platitudes — of promises made by opportunistic politicians." What follows are about 16 pages in fine print of "political platitudes," for this is the opening statement of the 1972 Democratic platform.

The Democratic platform lists the failures of the Nixon Administration and describes the action the Democrats would take to correct those failures and the resulting injustices. The Republican platform is a list of the accomplishments of that same administration, and a description of how the Republicans plan to build upon those accomplishments to greater things.

Aside from the different approaches, when the basic issues and programs in each platform are examined, this observer can see little difference between the two. It is only a matter of degree. Government has already initiated nearly all the programs the Democrats want, but the Democrats would go further — their Christmas tree would be more heavily loaded.

On the environment, the Democrats would enforce strict emission requirements; support laws that would assure citizen's standing in environmental court action; formulate strict interstate environmental standards; develop new public agencies to abate pollution; ban clearcut logging, strip mining, and the unregulated use of persistent pesticides "when they threaten our ability to maintain a stable environment"; and extend the national wilderness system.

The Republicans call upon the Democratic Congress to enact more than 20 environmental proposals upon which it has not acted. Both parties would promote more research to find abundant, clean energy sources; the development of safe and pollution-free transportation systems; improved health care, rehabilitation of alcoholics and drug addicts, strengthened law enforcement, and strengthened gun controls.

On economic policy, both parties promise full employment, an end to inflation (by government controls), tax reform, and an end to wage and price controls. The Republican party boasts of its efforts to increase competition through its "energetic antitrust program," while the Democrats would "step up anti-trust action" and "strengthen the anti-trust laws."

The implication is clear: Any person who votes for either Nixon or McGovern is voting for more and more governmental controls. He (or she) is voting for a continuation of the policies that have led to the establishment of the Social Security number as a single reference number under which to collect a personal dossier on each of us; to the proposal that each child be issued a Social Security number when he enters school; that the Social Security card become an identification card to be shown to police authorities on demand, and that couples be permitted to have children only by permission of the State.

The Libertarian Party platform, an easy-to-read pamphlet of 12 pages, is the only one of the three that begins with a statement of principles. "We, the members of the Libertarian Party, challenge the cult of the omnipotent state, and defend the rights of the individual," the platform begins. "We hold that each individual has the right to exercise sole dominion over his life, and has the right to live his life in whatever manner he chooses, so long as he does not forcibly interfere with the equal right of others to live their lives in whatever manner they choose."

The party supports action that would end governmental interference into the lives of the individuals. What a refreshing change.

The multi media first aid instructor class ended Tuesday in the Palm Room of the City Hall with 12 members completing the course.

Norman Sanders, field representative for safety services from Ft. Worth was in Pampa teaching the course. He was assisted by Sgt. James Dalrymple, who had taken his training in multi media first aid in 1970. Those who completed the course were: Robert L. Eubanks, Jimmy L. Parker, Charles E. Jones, Tommy J. Owens, Skelly Oil Co.; Mr. and Mrs. Travis W. Neeley from Borger, Texas; Jerry D. Ray, fireman Central Fire Station; William M. Robinson, and Earl F. Farley from Cabot Corp.; Marvin B. Cornett and James R. King from Celanese Chemical Co. and Mrs. Fred Martin, Housewife. The Red Cross chapter presented our instructors with a First Aid Instructor Pin.

Persons who are interested in taking a multi media first aid class should call Red Cross office and register for a class. Our instructors work without reward but the textbook and work books are $3.60. These become the property of the students in the class and may be reviewed at home during the years to come.

Let us remind all of our Pampa Citizens that the free TB skin tests will be held from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. in Pampa, November 6 at the Flame Room, Robert E. Lee Junior High and Baker Elementary School. Make your plans to attend this important meeting.

With the retirement of Phillip Shankenburg, Manager of the mid western area of which we in Pampa are a part, and the recognition of our new manager, Donald W. Stout, all chapters are urged to cooperate and make Mr. Stout's work as easy as possible. When Mr. Shankenburg introduced Mr. Stout, he said: "He is a polished speaker, and tall and handsome where I am short and ugly." This is true of the first part but none of us who knew and worked with Phillip Shankenburg know that the latter not true.

Remember the fourth lesson on WSI course at 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Youth Center Pool Tuesday.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

Janet says she prefers to sleep with her husband in the nude. But you wives should beware of doing so! For you thus lose some of your erotic stimulating value. And at the age of 40, you may suddenly find your mate is platonic!

CASE V-523: Janet J., aged 29, is an avid "fan" of this column.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I started reading your 'Worry Clinic' here in Beaver Falls when I was a high school sophomore.

"And I sent for your 'Tests for Sweethearts' in order to win the most popular boy in my class.

"We have been happily married for 10 years.

"And I certainly agree with your veto of twin beds.

"But I differ with one of your earlier columns in which you disapproved of sleeping in the nude.

"My husband and I have always slept that way ever since our wedding.

"So why do you suggest diaphanous nighties?"

BEWARE AT 40
Diaphanous nighties make the bride far more alluring than she appears a la nude.

Why?
Because frilly, silken clothing is a "fetish" that men have long cherished regarding a seductive girl.

So the thinly clad female figure is more enticing than the nude body!

Even at burlesque shows, it is the act of disrobing that causes the cheers and applause from the male audience.

Once the girl has removed the last vestige of her undergarments, she loses the dramatic value of anticipation.

"Anticipation," runs an old adage, "is greater than realization."

Besides, the competitive spirit of the usual male makes him more eager to approach a partially clad boudoir mate. It's a challenge.

And the act of disrobing his bride also "triggers" that habitual fetish, thus stimulating his greater ardor.

Janet's husband may not need this extra tonic to his libido as yet!

But after another 10 years, he may become somewhat jaded in his erotic fervor.

"Familiarity breeds contempt," is another adage that will then scare him into a growing platonic state.

And if Janet also adds 10 to 20 extra pounds by the time she is 40, her nude body will lose even more of its enticement.

The nightie would then help hide some of her negative appeal and let her mate more easily conjure up an imaginary picture of her as a bride.

Besides, nude bodies exude more perspiration on the sheets, so your laundry bills are higher.

And many men complain of stiff necks or arthritic shoulders when they sleep in the nude.

Why?
Well, men normally keep their necks and shoulders covered all day via their shirts and coats, though women do not.

At night, therefore, the man's bare neck and shoulder may thus be exposed to unusual cold air.

U.S., Russia Reach Accord On WW11 Lend-Lease Debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Soviet Union have reached agreement on settlement of the World War II lend-lease debt and on a comprehensive trade package, the White House has announced.

Other administration officials said the Russians' $11 billion lend-lease debt will be settled at $500 million.

The two agreements will be signed later by Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Secretary of Commerce Peter G. Peterson, and Soviet Foreign Trade Minister Nikolai S. Patolichev, said White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

Ziegler refused to disclose any details of either agreement.

He said information would be disclosed after the cabinet officers and the Soviet minister meet with President Nixon.

He did say, however, that "some aspects" of the agreements will require congressional approval to implement, although Senate ratification as such is not required.

TEXAS FEEDS THE MOST CATTLE

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas is at the top of the charts in all phases of the cattle industry, Agriculture Commissioner John White reports.

Iowa lost its first-place spot in cattle feeding to Texas this year, as the Lone Star state reported 2,045,000 head of feed, White said.

Texas is also No. 1 in total cattle and calves and in beef cows that have calved, White reports.

There were 12,829,000 cattle and calves in Texas on Jan. 1, five million more than second-ranked Iowa, and more than a million above the state's human population.

Animals without backbones make up 95 per cent of all the kinds of animals in the world.

Food-Fiber Month Set for November

AUSTIN — The entire month of November this year has been designated "Texas Food & Fiber Abundance Month." Last year's observance—the first state-wide promotion—was limited to the week just before Thanksgiving.

According to the sponsoring Texas Food & Fiber Abundance Council, the purpose of the observance is to promote public awareness and appreciation of the bountiful harvests which have made this "the best-fed, best-clothed nation in the history of the world."

The Council is comprised of representatives of farm organizations, agri-business firms, state and federal agencies, educational and banking institutions, and the news media.

Promotional activities planned include publicity through newspapers, magazines, radio, television, billboards, and special displays in supermarkets. A speakers' bureau will take the story to garden clubs, service clubs, etc.

Jack Barton, Houston, Senior Vice President of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, serves as Council president. W.H. Meischen, Austin, Executive Secretary of the Texas Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association, is co-ordinator. C.G. Scruggs, Executive Editor, "progressive farmer," is chairman of the board.

Vice chairmen include: Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, Dr. H.O. Kunkel, College Station, Dean of Agriculture, Texas A&M University; Dr. A.R. Bertrand, Lubbock, Dean of the College of Agricultural Science, Texas Tech University; and Don Blacketer, Honey Grove Farmer who initiated the first local Food & Fiber Abundance promotion.

Also, H. Leon Slaughter, Abilene, West Texas Chamber of Commerce; Dr. John Hutchinson, College Station, Director of Texas Agricultural Extension Service; Mrs. Florence Low, Assistant Director of Home Economics, Extension Service; and Mrs. Billie Chapman, Austin, Executive Director, Texas Vocational Homemaking Teachers Association.

USDA Seeks Housing Stimulus for Rentals

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has moved to stimulate the production of rental housing for the elderly and for low- and moderate-income in rural areas. James V. Smith, Administrator of USDA's Farmers Home Administration, today announced new regulations that will benefit rural families, ranging from newly-formed ones not ready for home ownership to the elderly for whom little provision is made in most small towns.

Farmers Home Administration is a direct mortgage lender in rural areas, including towns with a population of 10,000 and less. In this program, mortgage financing up to $750,000 may be available for the cost of development of rental housing projects, including the purchase and improvement of land, recreation, service facilities and water and waste disposal as well as landscaping.

Benefits for elderly persons as well as for others whose incomes are in the low to moderate range are expected from these changes:

1. There is no residency requirements for borrowers who designate a local managing agent with full authority to act for them. Previously the borrower was required to live near and supervise the project.

2. Performance bonds or some form of assurance will be required for all projects of $60,000 or more.

3. The developer — an individual, partnership or corporation — is expected to furnish construction financing, giving flexibility to his building schedule. Interest on the construction loan may be included in the rental housing loan as a cost of development.

4. Limited profit borrowers who will build rental housing for low-income families are now eligible for interest rates as low as one percent. Previously this rate was offered only to nonprofit or public body applicants.

5. Limited profit borrowers will be allowed a six percent return on their initial investment. The loan will be limited to 95 percent of either the development cost or the value of security, whichever is less. Nonprofit borrowers may receive 100 percent financing.

All borrowers must have working capital at least equal to two percent of the value of the loan.

6. Rural rental units may now be made available to those of very low income through special arrangements with the Department of Housing and Urban Development under its Section 23 leasing program.

The FHA borrower leases his completed rental units to a local public housing authority which manages the property. HUD pays the difference between the rent the family can afford and the rental rate established for the apartment.

FHA expects these changes to materially increase the supply of rental housing for rural people, according to Mr. Smith. Presently the budget allocates $70 million for this purpose, double a year ago, and it is expected to continue to grow in subsequent years.

Panhandle Water

For several weeks, this column has carried information concerning the commercial production of catfish along the Mississippi delta, sections of Arkansas, Mississippi, and Louisiana. The warm water growing of catfish has become one of the big economic success stories of the past decade.

The catfish industry is not limited to the Mississippi delta. Catfish production is growing rapidly in the State of Texas with a big assist from Texas A&M University and the Agricultural Extension Service.

Serious studies to assist the catfish farmer are going on in the State of Kansas. The Agricultural Experiment Station at Manhattan, Kan., has published a bulletin entitled "Production of Channel Catfish." The study was done under the direction of Otto W. Tiemeier and Charles W. Deyoe. We are carrying a portion of this release:

"To provide more sport for fishermen and more highly nutritious food, the Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station of Kansas State University, Kansas Forestry,

Fish and Game Commission, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Bureau of Commercial Fisheries have been cooperating in investigations on channel catfish. Kansas catfish already attract out-of-state anglers. Experiments have been conducted in farm ponds and in 28 1/4-acre ponds at the Tuttle Creek Fisheries Research Laboratory. Ponds were constructed on land licensed from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers below the dam of Tuttle Creek Reservoir.

"Emphasis to date has been on nutrition, digestion, metabolism, selection and behavior of channel catfish. For many years the Kansas Forestry, Fish and Game Commission has been successfully hatching millions of channel catfish and rearing them to fingerlings. The Commission has been interested in obtaining information on feeding newly hatched fish, in methods of producing numerous fish large enough to escape most predators when stocked in lakes where other species are present, and in efforts to select faster growing fish.

"Our data should be valuable to sportsmen and commercial fish producers.

"The channel catfish has become a desirable fish to many sportsmen because it is widely distributed in warm water lakes and streams, grows rather rapidly to catchable and edible size, can be caught with a wide variety of baits and lures during most of the year, provides considerable resistance at the end of a fishing line, and is a delicacy.

"Besides having many of the above characteristics catfish are desirable to commercial producers. Large numbers of fry can be obtained from relatively few spawners. Fish take prepared dried granules and pellets; when stocked in large numbers, they usually will not become overpopulated and stunted in ponds; they grow and survive well when properly stocked and given supplemental food.

"The channel catfish is less hardy than the bullhead or carp. It is like bass and bluegill in responses to changes in water temperature, low levels of oxygen, increased carbon dioxide levels and other undesirable physical conditions. Like most fishes, channel catfish must be handled carefully and not injured. When taken from water, they should be returned as quickly as possible. Severe stress or injury may result in disease or death.

"Some fish pond operators are primarily involved in obtaining eggs (embryos), hatching tiny fish and feeding them until they become fingerlings of various sizes.

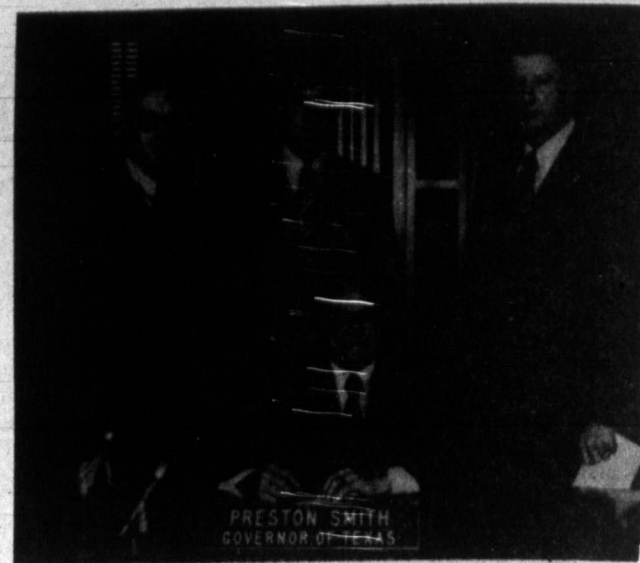

Other operators buy fingerlings and feed them to edible or fishing sizes of 12 to 16 ounces or more. Still other operators are fully integrated, from producing fry to processing the final product.

"Another promising possibility is producing for sport fishing. Such an operator feeds fish to a desirable size for fishing and then opens several ponds to fee fishing or sells fish to someone with fee fishing ponds."

Next week we will give a description of their recommendations on construction of catfish ponds.

1973 SET-ASIDE
Reduction in payment for set-aside acreage applies when land of less than average quality is designated for set aside. The reduction for 1973 has been increased over that of last year. Payment reduction rates were found insufficient in 1972 to prevent some producers from gaining an advantage with poorer quality acreage.

Texas Has Grape Production Hopes

COLLEGE STATION — Texas grape production, relatively dormant for more than 30 years, may soon stir again.

The potential is here, says George Ray McEachern, assistant horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at A&M University.

Dollar-dangling investors, looking at the big wine quaffing upsurge in the United States, would like to see something started in Texas to compete with the output of California, New York and other states, the horticulturist pointed out. Texas now has only one commercial winery, a small operation at Del Rio.

He said grape growing in the U.S. has expanded considerably because wine consumption per person per year has jumped from a little less than a gallon in 1965 to the current rate of more than two gallons.

Americans, however, are mere sippers compared to Frenchmen, who each year guzzle about 30 gallons per capita.

The main factor to consider in grape production for the table or for wine is temperature, McEachern said. Texas has the desirable temperatures, and the vines can be grown almost anywhere in the state.

The horticulturist praised the grape research of three Texans: T.V. Munsen of Denison, who became internationally famous for his work; Ernest Mortensen of Crystal City, a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientist; and U.A. Randolph of the Texas A&M University Fruit Research-Demonstration Station at Montague.

In the early years, Texas grape production on a commercial scale was confined mostly to the Rio Grande Valley and the El Paso region. The vineyards were phased out as cotton moved in.

FOSTER WHALEY

Agriculturally Speaking

CORRECTION

It was the Gray-Roberts County Farm Bureau that held the excellent policy-making meeting in the First Christian Church. It was erroneously stated, "The Gray-Roberts County Farmers Union." Jack Osborne is President of the local Farm Bureau and J.D. Skaggs was the M.C. at this very top-notch meeting. The meeting lasted only two hours and I've never seen as many grass roots, well thought out resolutions passed.

WEATHER

Back in the summer, when cattle prices were near their peak at $38 on fat cattle, we predicted a drop of $5. per CWT. Fat steer bottomed out at $33, a few weeks after our crystal ball gazing.

Now we are going to stick our necks out again! Should it stay dry through the rest of October and November you are going to see one of the biggest tumbles in light-weight calves you have ever witnessed. We are not talking about any two or three-dollar a hundred. We are talking about $8. or $10. per CWT. Heavier feeder cattle will not be affected quite as badly but will show some price loss.

If we should get a good, ground-soaking rain all across the Southern Great Plains within the next couple of weeks, just rub everything out I have said.

MILK HARVEST
Most of the yields on irrigated land has been much above average. One producer told me he averaged over 7,300 pounds per acre on over 600 acres. Many farmers are still waiting for their milk to mature. One farmer averaged over 8,200 pounds per acre on one acreage. Price of the milk is $2.15, delivered to elevator. This is about fifteen cents per CWT higher than last week.

PRAIRIE DOGS

Our good friend, Bill Arrington called with regard to a prairie dog problem on his place. We are attempting to obtain smoke bombs. Earlier there was some serious bans placed on the use of poisons to control other species of wildlife such as the coyotes and other predators that bother cattle and sheep. I do not know whether the smoke-bombs have been banned or not. I can remember when there was only one or two prairie dog towns left in Gray County at the end of the 1950s. We can thank Ralph Thomas, who retired as County Agent in 1960, for having carried out an excellent eradication program on these very undesirable animals.

Every environmentalist that is concerned about the extinction of the prairie dog should try getting on a horse and heading a wild calf in a prairie dog town.

4-H CLUB NEWS

By RICHARD GUGGISBERG and PATRICIA HENDERSON

Monday, Gray County 4-H will sponsor a Veterinary Science Program at 8 p.m. at the Agricultural Annex Building.

Fine Arts Association To Sponsor Children's Plays

The Pampa Fine Arts Association is sponsoring the Pampa High School Drama Department students, directed by Mrs. Rochelle Lacy, in three plays this season for children in elementary grades.

Season tickets, for all three plays, are on sale at all elementary schools. Ticket price is $1.50, and a single admission ticket, if available, is $1.75. Season tickets will also be available at the door or you may contact, Mrs. Jack O. Miller, 1615 Grape, or call 665-5148.

Robert de Gaetano To Appear In Pampa

Described by the Boston Pop's conductor, Arthur Fiedler, as "the best community orchestra in the country," the Amarillo Symphony is coming to Pampa, Monday, Nov. 6, with Robert de Gaetano as piano soloist. The performance will be at 8 p.m. in the M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium.

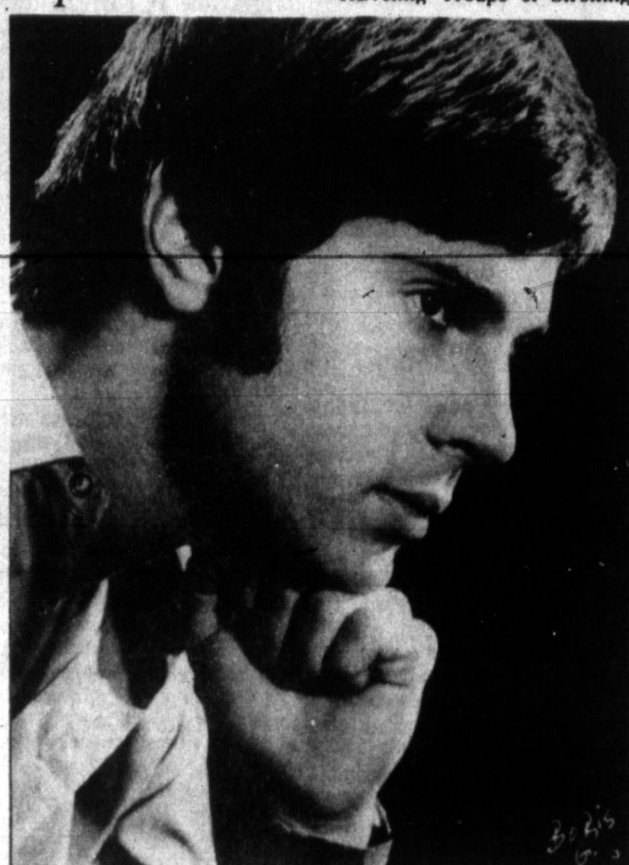

De Gaetano began his concert career in an unusual way, being "discovered" as a page-turner at C.B.S. During a recording session with violinist, David Oistrakh and Sviatoslav Richter, the great Russian piano virtuoso, de Gaetano mentioned that he was soon to graduate from Juilliard. Politely, Richter asked him to play, and he played for the two greats until two in the morning. They immediately recommended him to impresario Sol Hurok, who auditioned de Gaetano in Carnegie Hall and promptly signed him to a contract.

His 1971-72 performances soon had critics and audiences responding so enthusiastically that he was re-engaged by many cities. Amarillo included, to return this year, with response at Atlanta's Emory University was so strong, he was invited back for a second SRO recital in the same week.

In Pampa, he will play the Grieg Concerto for piano and orchestra. The symphony has also programmed Johann Strauss' Blue Danube Waltz and Symphony No. 2 by Rachmaninov. Tickets are $3.00 for adults and $1.00 for students and are on sale at Tarpley Music Company, according to the Pampa Fine Arts Association, which is sponsoring this event.

The plays will be presented at the Pampa High School Auditorium with performances to be at 3 and 4:30 p.m. It is recommended that Kindergarten, first and second grade children attend the 3 p.m. performance.

City Council PTA Reports Monthly Meeting

Mrs. C.L. Farmer, president, presided at the recent meeting of the Pampa PTA City Council. The spiritual thought was given by Mrs. Lacy Lee.

Mrs. Jack Miller, from the Pampa Fine Arts Association, asked for each local PTA unit to assist them in making it possible for more children to see the plays that are sponsored by the Pampa Fine Arts Association each year.

PTA's State Convention will be held in Ft. Worth on Nov. 15, 16, 17. Mrs. Tommy Hill was appointed to represent City Council.

Mrs. Paul Howard reported on the Parent and Family Life Education Course that will be held again this year in Carver Center. The course starts on Oct. 19, and will be taught once a week, five weeks in a row, by qualified members of the Pampa school system. A certificate will be awarded to those attending at least four of the courses by the State PTA.

Members voted to continue with the Blue Star program. This is a program that Pampa Jaycees and City Council has worked on together for several years to try and insure safety and protection for all school children.

Mrs. Farmer reminded members that Oct. 22-28 is American Education Week and encourages you to visit your school one day during this week.

Mrs. Marjorie Gaut presented the program, "Early Childhood Education in Pampa." Slides were shown of each of the kindergarten classes as they participated in class activities. The purpose of kindergarten was explained and many were surprised to find the real purpose of the kindergarten. Mrs. Gaut stated, "Kindergarten is a place for five year olds to go and do things that five year olds enjoy doing. It is not a boot camp for elementary school."

Refreshments were served by the Baker PTA. The next meeting will be held Nov. 7 in the Conference Room at Carver Center. The program will be presented by Dr. Jerry Cronister.

Altrusa Honors Stephanie Atwood

Altrusa Girl of the month, Stephanie Atwood, was introduced at the recently held meeting of the Altrusa Club in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn. Evelyn Mason, president, presided and Georgia Johnson, finance chairman, reported that a Micro-Wave oven will be raffled by the club.

An Amendment to City Council of Clubs-by-laws was passed which states that officers can serve two consecutive years. The program was on arthritis and a survey called "The Victory March" will be held Dec. 1-8.

Katherine Sullins gave the Altrusa accent and told of plans for the 1973 district conference to be held in Corpus Christi.

Delbert Woolfe, a representative of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke on "Fire Prevention Week" and gave a test on "Your Knowledge of Fire Prevention."

Libby Shotwell and Lora Dunn presented the program, "Grants and Aids," which is sponsored by Altrusa International for foreign born women.

To Present Children's Plays

"Culture" Is Theme For Twentieth Century Forum

Twentieth Century Forum began the 1972-73 year recently in the home of Mrs. Larry Cross with Mrs. David E. Holt, president, presiding.

Mrs. John L. Young noted that correspondence had been received from the current Twentieth Century Forum scholarship recipient, Miss Lisa Friend. Lisa is attending Texas Tech University with 15 hours and is eligible for the honors program in English. She is in the Tech Air Force ROTC program and a member of the Chancel Choir in the First Christian Church of Lubbock.

Mrs. Aubrey Steele, program chairman, presented the current theme, "Culture Begins at Home" which will be pursued throughout the club year. She briefly outlined this directive with, "Culture is the way we live, the way we make that way of life beautiful; Culture is what we do when we don't have to do anything; Culture is now and here; Culture is personal and individual or it is nothing." With this train of thought, Mrs. Steele presented Mrs. John W. Warner and her program, the novel, "Future Shock" by Alvin Toffler.

The novel was presented in an open panel discussion with Mrs. Young, introducing the panel members: Mrs. Warner, moderator, with Mrs. J.R. Holloway and Mrs. Steele, assisting. Mrs. Warner reviewed the profound changes being made in our society and the rapid rate with which they are coming about. She gave the definition of the word "future shock," coined by Toffler, to describe the disorientation a person feels when confronted with too much change in too short a time. She pointed out the many examples of acceleration and "temporariness" found in our society already.

Mrs. Holloway gave examples of the new discoveries, new technologies, and new social arrangements which we are facing now and in the very near future. She pointed out that we are, in effect, creating a new society and we must somehow prepare ourselves to deal with it.

Mrs. Steele discussed the effects which all these changes and novelties are having on individuals and on the society. She pointed out some of the criteria which, according to Toffler, will be necessary for us to be able to cope with and to adjust to the future in order to avoid future shock.

In conclusion, open discussion and clarification questions were presented to the panel.

Members present were Mrs. Holt-Barber, Larry L. Cross, H. Joe Franklin, J.R. Holloway, David E. Holt, Homer D. Johnson, McHenry Lane, Ellis Locke, M. McDaniel, Aubrey Steele, Richard Van Kluyve, John W. Warner, John L. Young and Jack Ward.

Quotable Quotes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"We know there will be a future and a good one, but we think people must be aroused to do something," Rose Matzkin, the new president of Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America.

"I never can really sleep when Hale's away," Mrs. Hale Boggs to a friend after her senator-husband was reported missing during an airplane flight in Alaska.

"McGovern's naive faith in the willingness of North Vietnam to return our prisoners and missing is contemptible," Carole Hanson, retiring chairman of the National League of Families of American Prisoners of War and Missing in Action in Southeast Asia.

"Hit the terrorist organizations wherever we can reach them," Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir.

"The whole thing was very interesting," Singer Barbara McNair after she and her husband were charged with possession of heroin in New Jersey.

Wanda Stonebraker, Lyndon Field Exchange Vows in Oklahoma City

Vows were exchanged at 7:30 p.m., Friday, Oct. 13, in the West 10th Street Baptist Church in Oklahoma City, by Wanda Joyce Stonebraker and Lyndon Mark Field.

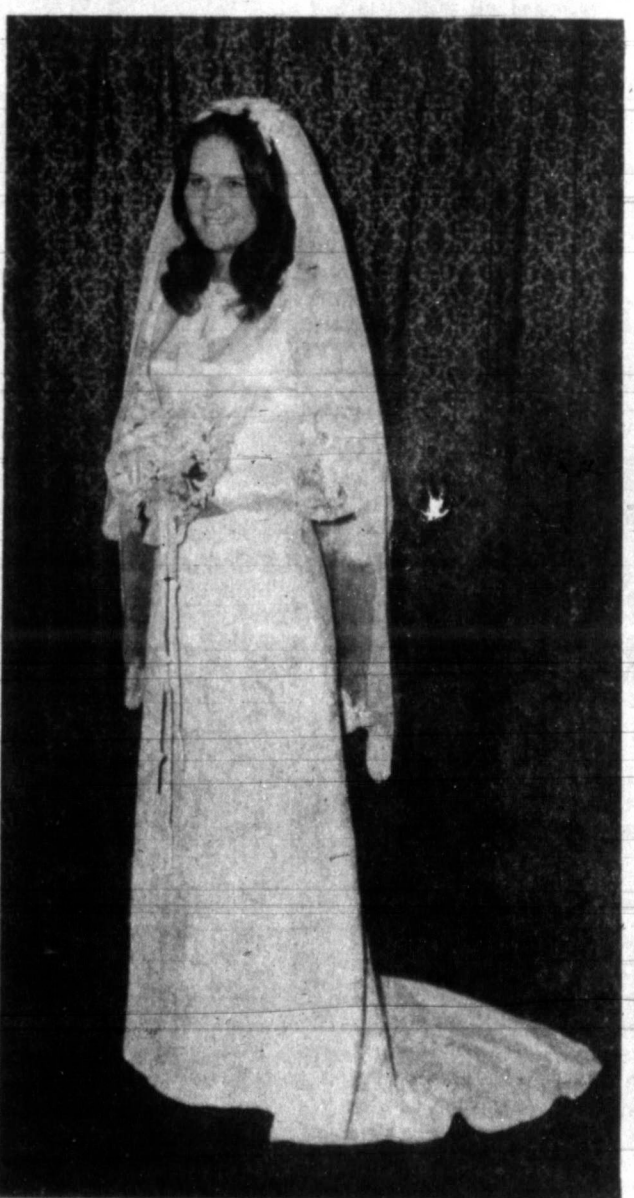

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stonebraker, Oklahoma City, Mr. and Mrs. R. Reece Field, 701 N. Dwight, are parents of the bridegroom.

THE CEREMONY
Rev. R.P. Thompson officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The organist played the theme from "Love Story," and traditional wedding music. A vocal group, the Mike Russell Trio, sang "If," and the "Wedding Song."

The church was decorated with candelabra holding blue cathedral tapers flanked by blue, white and orchid floral arrangements. A single-lighted candle decorated each church window.

THE BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white slipper satin with lace overlay and train and featured an empire waistline. Her veil of white illusion was edged with hand applied lace flowers and her corsage was designed of blue-tipped carnations and an orchid.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Connie Anderson, matron of honor, wore an orchid floral empire-waisted gown, and she carried a white mum with orchid streamers.
Miss Candy Miller and Miss Weegie Gann were bridesmaids. They wore blue floral, empire-waisted gowns and carried white mums with blue streamers.

MRS. LYNDON MARK FIELD

RECEPTION
For the reception in Fellowship Hall, the serving table carried the theme of the bride's chosen colors of blue, white and orchid. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with wedding bells and white swans.

Mrs. Robert Stonebraker presided at the punch service and the cake was served by Mrs. Kenny Stonebraker Lisa Miller registered wedding guests.

The couple will live in Dumas. For the wedding trip to Red Rock Canyon and Roman Nose Park, the bride wore a blue and white double knit costume with white accessories. Her corsage was of the flowers from her bridal bouquet.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS
A couple's shower was given in Pampa by Mrs. H.L. Meers, Mrs. Chester Huff, Mrs. A.C. Parsley, Mrs. Alvie French and Mrs. Ray Jones.

A personal shower for the bride in Oklahoma City was hosted by the bride's attendants.

A miscellaneous shower by friends of the bride's parents was also given.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS
Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clyburn of Pampa, Mrs. Eva Field, Dill City, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Field, Kiowa, Okla.

STATE DEPT. SENDS NIKOLAIS

Make It Yourself
Now is a good time to start making your own clothes, especially since the word for this season is simple and clean lines. You can add the excitement with fabric interest. Fuzzy mohair is just one of the new fabrics you can work with.

Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Edwards, 1035 S. Nelson, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Newman, to Terry Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Jennings, 624 N. Carr. The wedding is planned for Nov. 11, in the First Baptist Church, Pampa. The bride-elect, a 1970 graduate of Pampa High School is employed by Jewel's Beauty Shop in Panhandle. The prospective bridegroom, a 1970 graduate of PHS is employed by Ford Motor Co. in Panhandle.

Apple-Cranberry Pie

3 1/2 cups chopped apples
1/2 cup sweetened cranberry sauce
1 teaspoon nutmeg
2 teaspoons minute tapioca
1 cup raisins
1 tablespoon butter
dash of salt

Drain cranberry sauce and combine with apples. Add nutmeg and salt.

Sprinkle one teaspoon tapioca on bottom of uncooked pie shell. Add half the apple mixture. Sprinkle with remaining tapioca then cover with remaining apple mixture.

Sprinkle with raisins and dot with butter. Cover with pastry and seal edges firmly.

Make several gashes in top of crust. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 minutes; bake at 350 degrees for 35 or 40 minutes more.

Chocolate Pie

1 stick butter
1/2 cup sugar
2 sq. unsweetened chocolate
Generous pinch salt
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
2 eggs

Baked pie shell
Whipped cream for topping

Melt butter and chocolate over low heat, then add to sugar. Add salt and vanilla, then one egg and beat for five minutes. Add the second egg and beat five minutes more. Pour into pie shell. Spread whipped cream over top. Chill.

POLLY'S POINTERS

She Pleads Case For Night Crawlers

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Please tell Judy NOT to remove the night crawlers from her lawn. I wish I were fortunate enough to have them. Here in the southwest we BUY night crawlers and other worms for our lawns and gardens. They aerate and enrich the soil. Probably their presence is one of the major reasons she has a good lawn.—GAYLE

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I cleaned my corduroy brocade purse with cornmeal and it really came clean (the background is light with a flower design) but now I cannot get all of the cornmeal out. I brushed it, put it in the dryer, beat it like a rug, but nothing helped. Suggestions, anyone?—MRS. L. S.

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve concerns those coupons we cut from the paper so as to get reduced prices on certain items. We cut them out and then sometimes lose them or leave them at home and cannot get the items at the lower prices. These coupons are nothing but trouble. If a store wants to put something on sale why don't they just advertise it that way and forget the coupons?—MRS. R. D.

DEAR POLLY—To cut a large sheet cake without disturbing the icing, use a long piece of dental floss longer than the width or length of the cake. Hold this floss taut and push it down through the icing and cake with a sawing-type motion and pull it TO THE SIDE to remove. This does not damage the looks of the cake so it can be cut ahead of serving time. — MRS. W. B.

WIENER WONDERLAND SOUP

4 Tbsp. margarine
1 Tbsp. brown sugar
3 cups onion rings
2 1/2 cups cooked tomatoes
2 cups water
3 beef bouillon cubes
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 tsp. seasoned salt
1/8 tsp. seasoned pepper
1/4 cup rice
6 wieners, cut in thin rings

Melt margarine and sugar in a large sauce pan. Add onion rings. Saute, stirring constantly, until tender. Stir in other ingredients except rice and wieners. Bring to a boil and stir in rice. Simmer, covered, for 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add wieners; cook for 5 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Some Techniques for Sewing Vinyl Fabrics

(Thirteenth in a Series.)
By Mabel S. Obenchain

Vinyls come in several types of fabric. One type, made of treated woven fabric is of light medium weight; another type which consists of a layer of vinyl or plastic bonded to cotton jersey is medium or heavy weight. Vinyl can be opaque with a backing either woven or knit or it can be clear. The opaque is often imprinted or embossed to resemble leather or snake skin. The polyurethanes are similar to the opaque vinyls, often look like crushed patent and are softer. Check the hang tags when buying either. Most manufacturers suggest that garments made of these fabrics be wiped clean with a damp cloth. If it is necessary to have it dry cleaned the cleaner should be informed of the fabric content.

Choose patterns with simple lines and a minimum of seams and darts. Avoid eased seams (although the vinyls with knit backing are a little easier to work with when easing is necessary). The fabric should be cut one thickness at a time. Make all necessary alterations on the pattern before cutting as seams cannot be ripped. Use pins only within the seam allowance or use tape and mark sewing guides with chalk.

Use a cotton or dual purpose thread (polyester stretch), a fine #16 needle, a loose tension, light presser foot, 8 stitches per inch setting and machine stitch carefully. When sewing with the right side of fabric down place tissue paper between the fabric and the feed dog so that it does not stick. The use of silicone spray will be helpful also.

Bound or machine buttonholes can be made on opaque vinyls. Or you can use snaps or buckles for closing. Buttons should have as reinforcement small backing buttons.

Hem vinyl or polyurethane by catch stitching to backing, or use waterproof cement.

Finger press or press with warm dry iron and press cloth; first test on scrap of fabric since the composition of these fabrics varies.

PHILADELPHIA

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) — Over-all attendance for the Philadelphia Orchestra performances during its August stay at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center was up more than 20 per cent over last year.

Total attendance for 1972, which was 17 performances, reached 70,885. This was an increase of 12,019 over last year's figures.

The final night of the orchestra's season was attended by 9,076, the second biggest night in the orchestra's history at Saratoga. The biggest was for a concert by Van Cliburn.

Officials attribute the growth mainly to growing interest among residents.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 22

Your birthday today: You find your natural limits and learn to accept what you cannot change. Personal responsibility develops steadily with increasing activity all through the year. Today's natives are seekers of the truth, much given to deep thought.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Take part in the community expression for the week-end. Offer apologies or whatever will cover the gaps left open in the last two days.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Sharp, perhaps harsh discussion may be unavoidable as the questions of the times find partial answers. Pray for guidance.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Getting out of the public scene is almost a must. Time spent in recreation is an investment in restored emotional balance.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Early confusions are resolved as you continue with the pursuit of personal happiness. Leave all business out of the picture.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Going along with your neighborhood on a community venture is good if you can avoid the impression you're seeking personal influence.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Endless discussions go on with small matters settled, but no answers to the difficult questions which need your wisdom.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: The closer the relationship, the more vexing the provocation seems. Being difficult in return is not the answer either.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: It is a great day for minding your own affairs, leaving business and commercial activity completely aside for the day.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Compassionate acceptance of others as they are rather than how you think they should be is the key to future happiness.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Put on a smooth surface for strangers. Your best area for self-expression is bringing family history up to date.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Take a long look at yourself and your associates. Then forgive them all their imperfections and begin again.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Dispersal is the key word this Sunday, as everybody seems to have something different and special on his mind.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

MONDAY, OCT. 23

Your birthday today: The sun changes sign today at 2:37 a. m. Those born earlier are Librans, those later are Scorpians. Librans are truth seekers; today's Scorpians are strategists, delighted with unexpected challenge.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Review mutual holdings, pose questions. Personal differences are amenable to settlement.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Almost any plan brings opposition. Stick to routine and reason. Deliberate expression of your feelings is in order.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Resist temptation toward mischief. The news is interesting, awakens speculation.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Travel meets temporary limitations. Where you can work alone, do so. Serious study is subtly rewarded.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Career, business compete with personal demands for attention. Wholeheartedly enjoy congenial company.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Formal transactions and legal matters deserve close investigation. Romance in a bloom.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Place your efforts to divert pressure, even where you start late [as is very likely]. Domestic questions become important, harder to deal with.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Everybody who knows enough of your views now seems to have a firm opinion.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: If there's a way for the story to be garbled, assume it is, check the facts yourself. Special tact with loved ones is needed.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Uncertainty plagues the simplest of negotiations. Collect the best information at hand. Shared projects tend to prosper.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: The more definitely you assert yourself the more likely is resistance. Keep things simple where you have emotional investment.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Forcing issues produces unexpected results. Let well enough alone, back away from immediate reaction to the doings of others.

Boys And Girls May Enter Nutrition Scholarship Event

High school seniors in this area—boys as well as girls—will be eligible for college scholarships totaling $111,000 nationally in the 1973 Betty Crocker Search for American Homemakers of Tomorrow, it has been announced. Previously, the Search was open only to girls.

A $1,000 National Nutrition Scholarship, instituted last year, will again be part of the annual educational program, sponsor General Mills also said.

Schools throughout the country have received invitations to enroll in the Search, with Oct. 31 the enrollment deadline. Dec. 5, all participating schools will administer a 50-minute, written knowledge and attitude examination. On the basis of scores in this test, a Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named.

The piano accordion was first made in Italy in 1872.

Tomorrow will be named for each school and will receive a specially designed award. Additionally, all school winners will remain eligible for state and national scholarship grants.

State Homemakers of Tomorrow—one for each state and the District of Columbia—will be awarded $1,500 college scholarships. Chosen from the school winners in their respective states, they also earn for their schools a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation. The second-ranking student in each state will receive a $500 educational grant.

From April 29 to May 3, the State Homemakers of Tomorrow, each accompanied by a faculty adviser, will join for an expense-paid educational tour of Washington, D.C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. Personal observation and interviews during the tour will be added factors in the selection from the state winners of the 1973 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and three runners-up. Scholarships of the four national winners will be increased to $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

The $1,000 Nutrition Scholarship will go to the student who is planning a college major in nutrition or a related field, ranks among the highest in his or her state on the entire Search examination and, from those meetings these two criteria, scores highest on the Test's nutrition questions.

Scholarships to be awarded during this year's Betty Crocker Search will bring total grants during the program's 19-year history to more than $2 million. In excess of eight and one-quarter million high school seniors have participated in the Search since its inception in the 1954-55 school year. Over 650,000 in more than 14,500 schools were enrolled last year.

Science Research Associates, Chicago, constructs and grades the written Search examination, and is responsible for all judging and selection of winners.

In announcing the opening of the program to boys, General Mills said, "While, historically, the feminine homemaker has usually exerted the major influence in shaping the home, teamwork between husband and wife has long been the ideal. In today's changing society, that teamwork will undoubtedly become increasingly important during the years ahead. That's why high school senior boys as well as girls are now eligible to join the Betty Crocker Search with full opportunity to earn scholarships and, hopefully, gain the other educational benefits of participation."

BETTY CANARY Parents Turn Out Good Actresses

By BETTY CANARY

My daughter got an "A" in Speech Class for a pantomime she did before the students. Hers, I understand, was the most easily understood by the class.

This didn't surprise me. She portrayed Having An Argument With My Parents.

"That's terrific," I said. "Congratulations. And, why not argue with us in pantomime from now on instead of using all those words and sounds?"

If I were making up this story, we could, at this time, say that's the end of that, thank heavens, and get on to such topics as won't be glad when it's time to go Christmas shopping.

However, my husband chose that moment to comment on her new skirt. The script went like this:

"Put on some clothes!" he commented.

"Oh, Daddddd." (Hiss, roll eyes.)

"Learn to mince a few words when you speak to your parents!" I said.

(Hands on hips, eyes toward ceiling.)

"No daughter of mine!" he commented again. "You'll be arrested!"

"I hardly think she could be pulled in for indecent exposure," I said.

"The next thing, you'll be wanting to pose for calendars!"

"Honestllllly!" (Arms thrown wide-as-in supplication.)

"Now, now," I said soothingly. "Remember, your sister wears a bikini swimsuit."

"That's a sister!"

(Screams, stamps feet.)

"I wear a bikini swimsuit!"

"That's a wife!"

(Loud explosion of breath, eyes squinted tightly closed.)

"Promise your father you won't become a go-go dancer before your 15th birthday," I urged.

(Pounds fists on table, asks God why nobody understands.)

If I didn't know more about fathers and daughters, this would be the end of the script. But, from what I understand, the end won't come for some time. The way I hear it, boys may grow up but girls remain My Baby until they reach at least the age of 30.

Dalhart Girl Wins Top Honors At Dress Revue

LeJean Hill of Dalhart won top honors in the 1972 State 4-H Dress Revue in Dallas recently at the Baker Hotel.

Edna Sustek of Bryan was cotton division winner, and Janel Rod took top honors in the wool division.

As first-place overall winner, Miss Hill was awarded an expense-paid trip to Chicago to represent Texas at the National 4-H Club Congress Nov. 26-30.

Held in conjunction with the State Fair of Texas, the annual revue is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

Miss Hill, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hill of Rt. 1, Dalhart.

She has been in 4-H eight years as a member of the Cloverettes 4-H Club and is a student at Dalhart High School.

For the top honor, Miss Hill designed and created a layered ensemble featuring lined blazer, vest, slacks and skirt.

Tiny checks of white dotted the black double-knit polyester blazer, slacks and skirt, while the semi-fitted vest was a bright yellow.

A notched collar topped the long-sleeved fitted blazer which featured topstitching, bound buttonholes and could be worn with the six-gore skirt or the belted pants.

Miss Hill wore black patent lace-up-the-side boots and black hose with the blazer, vest and skirt. The ensemble was worn over a white, long-sleeved, turtleneck bodysuit. A silver chain cross at the neck accented the ensemble.

The winner's trip to Chicago is sponsored by the Simplicity Pattern Co., Inc. Miss Hill estimated the ensemble took 100 hours to construct.

"I cut out the interfacing for the jacket lapel three different times, and the zipper seam had to be sewn in three times—three was the lucky number," she grinned.

Winners and finalists staged a fashion showing for the public with two revues Saturday in the Women's Building Auditorium on State Fair grounds in which Miss Hill participated.

The winner has served her local 4-H club as president for three years and vice president for two years. She was county council delegate five years and secretary one year. She was a junior leader in foods and sewing.

In 1971 she won the Gold Star, the highest award given on the county level, and she won the district dress revue. She holds five blue ribbons won in county competition.

She is a member of the church youth group, which she has served as president, and the District 26 Texas Future Teachers of America, which she also has served as president.

Miss Hill is a member of the high school band and has been a band council delegate two years. She plays the flute, organ and piano as well as basketball.

The next meeting will be Nov. 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Norman Walberg, 621 E. Kingsmill.

SUSAN'S FAMOUS FLOOR
NASHVILLE (AP) — First we had Alice's Restaurant written about in song, now we have Susan's floor.

The song is "On Susan's Floor," sung by Mac Wiseman. Susan is Mrs. Susan Brewer, who has worked for the country music trade paper, "Music City News," for 11 years and has befriended and more or less mothered a number of songwriters who come to Nashville to try and make it.

Among those who spent time during lean days sleeping on Susan Brewer's floor are Kris Kristofferson, Waylon Jennings, Tammy Wynette, Johnny Paycheck and Roger Miller. Writer Vince Mathews also slept there and sometimes Susan fed him, too, so he teamed with Shel Silverstein to write the song about his benefactor.

Look out below! It's raining fishes

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever heard of a fish falling from the sky?

My husband is serious about the fact that once when it was raining, he saw a small fish coming down with the rain!

When I laughed at him, he explained that the sun had picked up the egg from the stream, and it hatched in the sky, so when it rained, a live fish came down.

I think this is ridiculous and that my husband needs help. I'd like to hear from you. WONDERING IN KANSAS

DEAR KANSAS: Your husband's story sounds fishy to me. Are there any pisciculturists out there who can reel in the answer to this? I seem to have heard this fable before.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to "Little Old Lady Baby Sitter" who thinks baby sitters should form a union because they are underpaid and overworked:

If they feel abused, all they have to do is refuse to sit for the abusive parties. I think we parents should form a union. We pay a sitter 75 cents an hour to do nothing but sit. Our baby is asleep when she gets here, and all our sitter has to do is watch TV, snack, and talk on the telephone, which is the reason our line is always busy when we call home to see if everything is all right.

About snacking: we have had sitters consume five and six bottles of soft drinks in one evening, and clean out a filled cookie jar to boot. We should turn in a bill for what they eat above and beyond what we think is normal.

ABUSED PARENT

DEAR PARENT: Turn about is fair play. If you feel abused by your sitter, get another sitter. But wouldn't it make more sense for parents and sitters to air their gripes to each other and lay down some ground rules?

DEAR ABBY: Someone asked if honesty paid. Let me tell my story:

On a beautiful sunny afternoon, I took my wife and children to lunch in the country. En route home I had to make a phone call so I stopped at a gasoline station, opened the telephone book and found a coin purse with about $300 in it. No identification—no nothing. I was on my way to turn it in to the service station attendant when a woman drove up and asked if anyone had seen her coin purse. I immediately handed it to her. She had just cashed a check and was en route to the airport to visit a sick relative. She wanted to give me a reward. I said, "No, thank you. A person doesn't need a reward for being honest."

I hope my children remember this episode.

RON PELL, RIVERSIDE, CAL.

DEAR RON: They will now.

DEAR ABBY: I got a kick out of "No Gambler"—the gal who went to the races with a guy who gave her $2 to bet a horse. Her horse came in and paid $70, she offered the guy half, and he said if she didn't give him the whole $70 he wouldn't take her home, so she kept the $70 and she took a bus.

You told her she was better at picking horses than people and to stick with whole horses. Well, listen to this:

I took a gal to the races and gave her $10. She picked a long shot and won $600. She thanked me for the thrill of winning and shoved the $600 in my pocket. I tried to stick it in her purse but there was no way she would keep a dime.

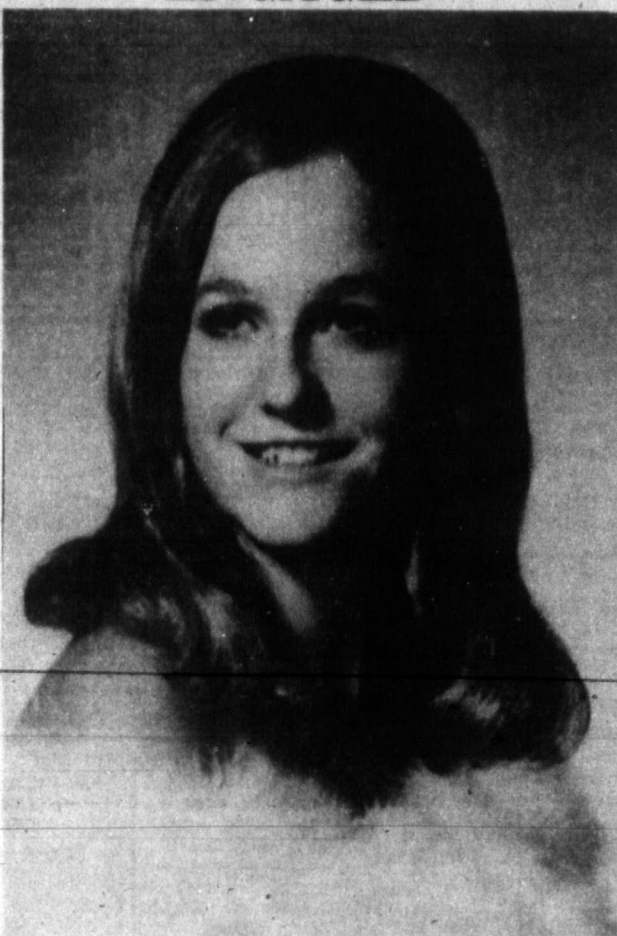

With the world so full of grabby broads you can imagine how big a hit this kid made with me. I must have sent her $3,000 in perfume and jewelry. In fact, if I wasn't already married, I'd have asked her to marry me.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

South's jump to four spades was a distinct overbid. The odds were against his partner holding as much as one queen and South was looking at four probable losers outside the trump suit.

On the other hand, the game was rubber bridge and rubber bridge players tend to overbid a trifle with hands as strong as the one South was looking at.

The dummy didn't even hold a 10-spot, but the doubleton diamond was like money from home.

South ruffed the third club and promptly played ace-king-three of diamonds to ruff in dummy. Then South led dummy's last trump; thought a while; went up with his ace; dropped West's singleton queen and claimed game and rubber.

"Nice guess!" remarked

North.

"It wasn't a guess," replied South. "West had opened the bidding with one heart and rebid two clubs. His club holding was ace-king-queen-10 and he would have opened one club unless his heart suit was a five-carter. That accounted for nine cards and he had followed to three leads of diamonds. That left him with just one spade. If it were anything but the queen East would have a sure spade trick and my only chance was for West's singleton to be that card."

South was right. He also had shown the validity of our theory that if you want to overbid you should be sure to play well.

Brownie Troops Attend Revel

More than 200 scouts and adults attended the Brownie Revel held Oct. 14 at Camp Mel Davis, located East of Lefors, to acquaint Brownies with added Girl Scout skills. This event provides the opportunity for Brownies to have fun while learning with activities including flag ceremonies, knot-tying, the proper use of jackknives and fires, hiking and singing with movies being shown after lunch, quiet games, singing games and competitive games being led by Senior Scouts.

The members of Senior Troop 2 were in complete charge of this event as well as planning and organizing the Revel. Members are Pam Allen, Angela Woodward, Glory Newman, Stephanie Secrest, Sandra Vance, Dreka Weatherly, Jill Atchley, Gretchen Skelly, Cindy Gill, Vicki Carter, Barbara Whiteley, Dana Chisum, Kim Hoover, Terry Morris, and Tinker Diest.

Brownie Revel patches were presented to troops attending. Mrs. R.O. Linville, R.N. and Mrs. W.A. Martin, R.N. served as nurses.

Troops attending were: 196, 12, 206, 188, 31, 163, 10, 68, 170, 51, 171, and 69.

Adults attending were Mrs. J.R. Newman, Troop 2 Advisor, Senior Consultants Mrs. Richard Stowers, Mrs. J.P. Brumley and Mrs. J.B. Maguire, Jr., and Field Advisor Mrs. T.M. Whiteley.

MISS TEXAS TEENAGER 1972, Carol Kingsbery from Santa Anna, Calif., won her title over 94 contestants in the Miss Texas Teenager Pageant State Finals held at the St. Anthony Hotel in San Antonio in July. Judging is for girls 13-17, and is based on their scholastic achievements, civic contributions, poise, personality and appearance, and there is no talent or bathing suit competition. Plans are being formulated for the 1973 state finals, and any girls desiring applications for 1973 may obtain them from National Certification Headquarters, 126 Bunn Drive, Rockton, Ill. 61072.

Corned Beef Hash with Poached Eggs
Walnut Muffins Beverage
WALNUT MUFFINS

Serve these hot from the oven.

1 1/2 cups unsifted flour, stir to aerate before measuring
2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup butter, melted

1/2 cup broken (medium coarse) walnuts

In a medium mixing bowl, with a fork, thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. In a small mixing bowl beat the egg and milk until combined; stir in butter; add to flour mixture; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened; stir in walnuts with last strokes. Drop batter into 12 buttered muffin-pan cups (each 1/3 cup capacity) filling about 2/3 full. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean and tops are lightly browned — 20 to 25 minutes. Loosen edges and remove; serve at once with butter. Makes 12.

Harvesters Smash Caprock 29-14 To Open District Play

By CLAY LIVERY

Pampa's offense got moving real well for the first time this year Friday night as the Harvesters rolled for 403 yards total offense, all on the ground, beating Caprock 29-14 in the district opener for each team.

The offensive achievement is especially noteworthy when the horrible playing conditions, 40 degree weather and rain, are taken into consideration.

The Harvester defense also shined as it held the Longhorns to 138 yards total offense. Sixty-five of those yards came on Caprock's first possession, on which they scored.

The Longhorns were held to 8 first downs the entire game, four of which came on that first scoring drive.

Richard McCampbell, Rick Musgrave and Joe Curtis were the big guns on offense for the Harvesters. They each rushed for good yardage behind an offensive line that consistently opened gaping holes for them to run through.

That line, composed of Jesse Hunnicutt, Harmon Staus, Gary Jennings, Bill Cox, Ed Townsend and David Lanehart, showed more cohesiveness in the game Friday night than at any time this year.

The Longhorns got on the board first when they took the ball 65 yards for a touchdown the first time they had the ball. Sonny Teague took a 14-yard pass from David Ream for the score. Mike Velasquez kicked the extra point and Caprock had the lead, 7-0.

The Harvesters were not satisfied with that, however, so they received the kickoff, ran one play, and then broke McCampbell for a 77-yard touchdown, his ninth of the year. Mike Robbins attempted kick for the extra point was blocked and the Longhorns retained the lead, 7-6.

Caprock got into the end zone one more time in the game before the Harvesters' "Mean Green Machine" had had enough and shut the Longhorn attack down.

Still in the first quarter, Caprock recovered a fumbled Pampa puntout on the Harvester 16 and was able to put the ball in. Tommy Herring took the ball over from 12 yards out on the second play after the fumble. Velasquez again converted and Caprock had stretched its lead to eight points, 14-6.

From that point Pampa dominated the game on both offense and defense.

Following Velasquez' kickoff, the Harvesters needed only 6 plays to take the ball 47 yards for their second touchdown of the night. Mike Robbins plunged over from one yard out and after Musgrave was tackled behind the line on the conversion attempt, Pampa had closed the gap to 14-12.

The Harvesters scored their next touchdown in the second quarter and went into the locker room at half-time leading 20-14.

Joe Curtis did the honors on that drive. After a Longhorn punt rolled dead on the Caprock 41, Pampa tried its only pass of the game on first down. The ball fell incomplete.

On second down McCampbell gained seven yards to the Caprock 33. Facing third and three, Musgrave ran the option to the left side and pitched to Curtis, who cut sharply upfield inside the Longhorn cornerback and then outraced the rest of the Caprock defense to the goal line.

Musgrave was hit at the line of scrimmage as he attempted to run for the extra points, but showing great effort he gained the three yards needed. That score put Pampa ahead for good.

Pampa's next score came in the third quarter after the Harvesters received the opening kickoff of the second half.

Velasquez kicked into the end zone and Pampa took over on its own 20. Eight plays later the Harvesters were on the Caprock 10 yard line, with McCampbell's 37 yard gainer the long play in the drive. Musgrave, however, had the big play in the series. Faced with third down and 21 needed for the first, Musgrave moved the ball from the Pampa 26 to the Caprock 48 for the first down.

From the ten three plays gained but two yards down to the eight. Robbins came in and kicked a 25-yard field goal for the Harvesters to stretch the lead to 23-14.

Pampa's final score came with 2:14 left in the game. Jesse Hunnicutt recovered a Caprock fumble at the Longhorn 38 yard line and the Harvesters needed but eight plays to score their last points, with Musgrave going in from 12 yards out.

Robbins' kick for the extra point failed when the snap from center was bobbled because of a wet ball and Pampa's scoring in the game was over.

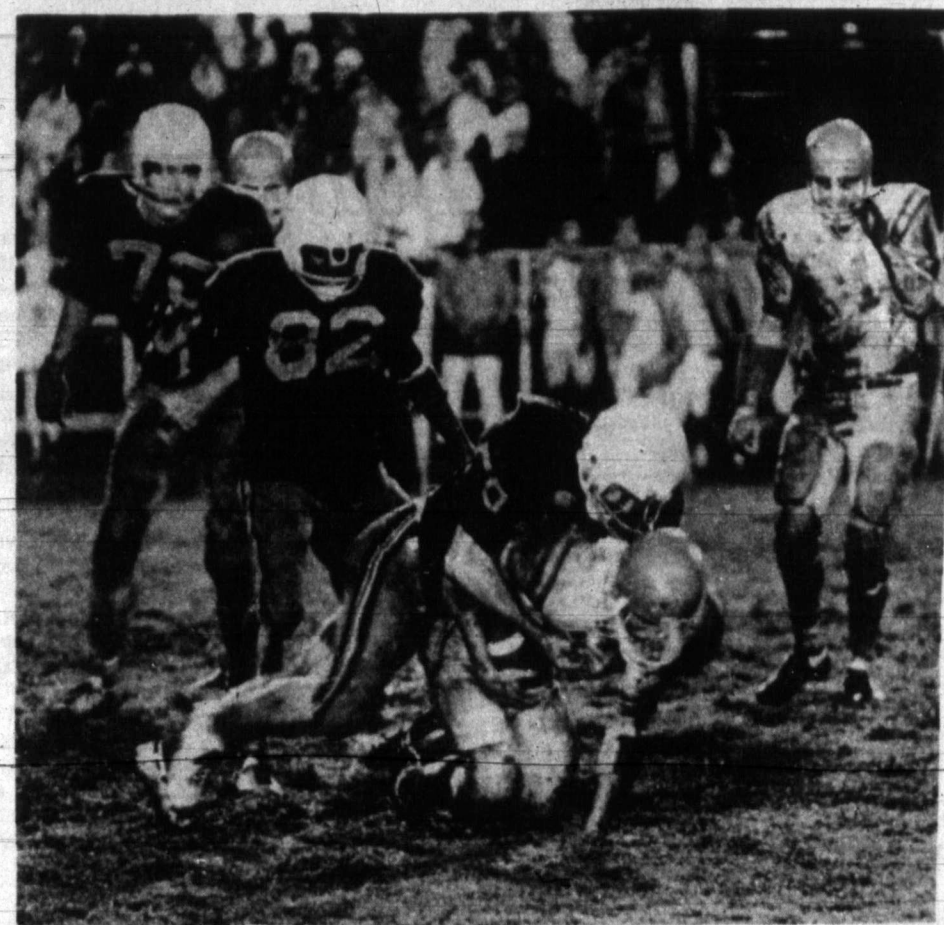

Pampa's entire defensive unit deserves praise for its effort. After Caprock scored its first touchdown, the Longhorns were virtually shut off the rest of the game.

Townsend, Billy Lemons, Staus, Jody Johnson, Jack King all played well on the line. Hunnicutt and Kim Lindsey performed well at the linebacking slots. The secondary, made up of McCampbell, Carson Watt, Steve Mathis and Rick Smith defended well against the pass and filled well on running plays.

McCampbell led the offense with 186 yards in 16 carries. Musgrave added 85 more in 17 rushes and Curtis, carrying the ball but four times, picked up 77 yards.

The Harvesters next game is Friday at Dick Bivins Stadium in Amarillo against Tascosa. The Rebels were beaten by Palo Duro yesterday, 21-6.

Colorado's Defense Upsets Oklahoma, 20-14

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Colorado's fired-up defense intercepted three passes and recovered a fumble while quarterback Ken Johnson sparked the offense through the air as the ninth ranked Buffaloes upset No. 2 Oklahoma 20-14 in Big Eight football Saturday.

Colorado bounced back from a 7-0 halftime deficit with a pair of third-quarter touchdowns, and barefoot kicker Fred Lima added two field goals in the final period as the Buffs dominated the previously unbeaten Sooners.

Oklahoma got past Colorado's 40-yard line only twice on a Colorado fumble that led to the Sooners' first touchdown and on a desperation scoring drive late in the final period.

Johnson, hitting tight end J. V. Cain and wingback Jon Keyworth on two passes in the third period, directed the Buffaloes into Oklahoma territory, only to have sophomore tailback Gary Campbell fumble the ball away at the Sooner 10 yard line.

The Sooners had to punt on the ensuing series, and Campbell redeemed himself two plays later, taking a pitchout and rambling 43 yards down the right sideline for the first Buffs TD. Lima's extra-point try was wide and Colorado still trailed 7-6. But the Sooners couldn't move the football on their next possession eight, and a high center snap on a punt attempt sent punter Joe Wylie into the end zone, where he barely got off a pass that was intercepted by Colorado's Cullen Bryant and returned to the Oklahoma 18.

Six plays later, Keyworth made a leaping catch in the end zone for another TD. Fullback Bo Matthews crashed over for the two-point conversion.

After a scoreless first period, Oklahoma capitalized on a Colorado fumble at the Buffs' 35. Six plays later, senior quarterback Dave Robertson scored from 17 yards out. With 1:13 left in the game, Greg Pruitt gathered in a 10-yard scoring strike from Robertson for the other Sooner score.

Cincinnati Reds Force Seventh Game

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bobby Tolan and Cesar Geronimo each drilled two-run singles as Cincinnati's slumbering attack exploded for five runs in the seventh inning and an 8-1 romp over Oakland Saturday that tied the 1972 World Series at three victories apiece.

The Reds, staring into the face of elimination for the second consecutive day, thus forced a seventh-game showdown for baseball's world championship. The decisive final game will be played at 12 p.m., CDT, Sunday with the A's scheduled to send John "Blue Moon" Odum against the Reds' Jack Billingham.

The first five games were all decided by one-run in tight, tense battles. But once the robust Reds' attack got untracked, game No. 6 was no contest.

John Bench and Tony Perez, power men of the Cincinnati offense, drove in their first runs of the series to build a 3-1 lead. Then the Reds got to Oakland pitchers and wrapped the game up with the five-run seventh.

Bench boomed a two-out home run into the second deck in left field against A's starter Vida Blue in the fourth inning and the A's tied it temporarily in the fifth on Dick Green's two-out double.

Hal McRae opened the Reds' fifth with a double to deep center—a ball that missed being a homer by perhaps three feet. He came around on an infield out and Dave Concepcion's sacrifice fly.

The Reds, hungry for runs throughout the series, greeted Concepcion like a hero in the dugout for his fly ball. But they had more runs than that in their bats this day.

Cincinnati knocked out Blue in the sixth with two outs when Tolan singled, after Blue threw two balls to Bench, Manager Dick Williams brought in Bob Locker to relieve. Locker came running in from the bullpen.

He might have given Tolan an idea with that act. Anyway, the Cincinnati speedster stole second, prompting a fourth ball intentionally wide to Bench.

Perez followed with a single to left scoring Tolan for a 3-1 Reds edge.

The A's made one last move at the Reds in their half of the seventh when Angel Mangual opened with a single. Two outs later, Manager Sparky Anderson brought in lefty Tom Hall, his fourth pitcher of the game.

Hall struck out pinch-hitter Dave Duncan to end the inning and the Reds then sent 10 men to the plate to wrap it up in their half of the seventh.

Seldom-used Dave Hamilton came out of the bullpen to start the inning and with one out, Concepcion singled and stole second as Hall struck out. Pete Rose was walked intentionally and Joe Morgan, who had snapped an 0-for-16 series slump earlier, singled, scoring Concepcion.

Rose raced to third and Morgan took second on the throw. Tolan followed with his second hit for two more runs.

That brought in Joe Horlen, the last man available in the Oakland bullpen Saturday. He didn't run in the way Locker had but Tolan still was on the run.

He swiped second, prompting another intentional walk to Bench. A wild pitch advanced the runners to second and third and Perez walked, loading the bases.

That brought up Cesar Geronimo, a defensive replacement for McRae at the start of the inning. He ripped another single for two more runs, wrapping up the rally.

Through it all, A's owner Charles O. Finley, wearing his garish green jacket and gold slacks, slumped in his seat next to the Oakland dugout. Every so often, he would glance down at the A's bullpen, looking for help. But there was no one available.

The A's top reliever, Rolie Fingers, had worked 4 1-3 innings Friday and the only other Oakland arms were starters Ken Holtzman, who pitched seven tough innings Thursday, and Jim "Catfish" Hunter, who also pitched Friday.

They'll all be in the bullpen for the decisive seventh game Sunday.

Second Half Outburst Gives Texas 35-15 Win

DALLAS (AP) — Texas quarterback Alan Lowry, slippery as a watermelon seed, overcame a monumental goof with two touchdowns in 92 seconds Saturday night to hand the defending Southwest Conference champions a 35-15 victory over Arkansas.

With Texas trailing nine to seven in the third quarter of the nationally televised match, Lowry fumbled the ball out of the Arkansas end zone to blow a sure touchdown. But it only made the salty senior angry.

Lowry whipped the Longhorns 51 yards and scored himself from six yards out to give Texas a 15-9 lead with 15 seconds left in the third period.

The dazed Razorbacks failed to cover the ensuing kickoff and Texas' Tommy Landry fielded it at the Arkansas 26. Lowry, a defensive back his first two years at Texas, bolted 16 yards and then sneaked over from the one-yard line for his second touchdown.

Lowry's inspired play fired up the Longhorns, who fumbled eight times and lost five of them. Roosevelt Leaks rammed one yard for a touchdown and Don Ealey dashed 26 yards for another, all in the big fourth quarter.

The victory put Texas, seeking its fourth consecutive SWC title, into the league lead with Southern Methodist. Texas is 2-0 and SMU is 1-0.

Arkansas' Mike Kirkland kicked field goals of 34, 36 and 37 yards, as Arkansas built its 9-7 halftime lead.

Leaks' four-yard touchdown gallop was Texas' only first half score in a game played on rain-soaked AstroTurf in Memorial Stadium before a sellout crowd of 80,844.

Arkansas' only touchdown came on a five-yard pass from quarterback Joe Ferguson to Mike Reppond with 68 seconds left in the game.

Drags Open

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Clayton Harris of Columbus, Miss. led the list of fuel dragster qualifiers Saturday as four drivers bettered the Amarillo Dragway track record in preparation for Sunday's $220,000 world finals of drag racing here. Driving a Chrysler-powered rear engine fueller, Harris zipped over the quarter-mile in 6.418 seconds to erase the 6.55 seconds standard set a year ago by Don Garlits. Harris' speed was 206.42 mph.

Texas driver Raymond Beadle of Lubbock also bettered the old mark with a 6.486 blast that netted him the No. 2 qualifying slot behind Harris, while Don Moody, Santa Monica, Calif., and Jim Walther, Painesville, Ohio, captured the next two spots at 6.488 and 6.544.

George Knudson Leads Kaiser By Five Strokes

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Arnold Palmer blew a two-shot lead with a fat 75 Saturday and Canadian George Knudson stormed into a five-stroke lead in the $150,000 Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament.

Knudson, wearing his customary dark glasses despite the cloudy, overcast skies, blazed in with a six-under-par 66 on the 6,819-yard Silverado Country Club course and posted a 54-hole total of 201—15 under par. It was the best three-round total for a par 72 course on the pro tour this season and gave him a big lead over defending champion Billy Casper, alone in second at 206.

Casper mired in a deep slump since winning this title a year ago, had a third-round 69.

Bobby Mitchell, Grier Jones and Buddy Allin followed at 207 in the chase for the $30,000 first prize. Mitchell and Jones had 70s and Allin managed a 71.

Palmer, who enjoyed a two-stroke lead when play started, bogeyed two of the first three holes he played and never really recovered. He made only one birdie all day.

He was seven strokes off the pace at 208 and was tied at that figure with Hale Irwin, Lou Graham and Larry White. Irwin shot a 65, the day's best round while Graham and White had 70s.

West Texas Beaten By Northern Illinois

DE KALB, Ill. (AP) — Mark Kellar's touchdown and three field goals by Roger Passaglia gave Northern Illinois a 17-8 victory over West Texas State in a non-conference football game Saturday.

West Texas State's Billy Pritchett, one of the Battling Buffs' leading ground gainers this season, was injured on a tackle in the second quarter and was removed from the game. The team physicians had no report on how seriously the halfback's right knee had been injured.

Pritchett opened the scoring with a two-yard run for a touchdown. Quarterback Ron Leach passed to Merced Solis for a two-point conversion but

DRIVING HARD is Pampa quarterback Rick Musgrave in Friday night's game with the Caprock Longhorns. Although the playing conditions can be described only as horrible, Musgrave and the rest of the Harvester offense made their finest showing of the year. Oklahoma State Slushes Past Baylor Bears 20-7

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Safety Lee Stover rambed 55 yards for a touchdown after a spectacular pass interception to ignite an Oklahoma State rally as the Cowboys slushed past Baylor, 20-7, on rain-filled artificial turf here Saturday.

Baylor had taken a 7-0 half-time lead on Gary Lacy's one-yard plunge in a game which was played in a steady downpour and was plagued by numerous missed handoffs, fumbles and interceptions.

Baylor suffered 15 fumbles, losing the ball seven times, plus three pass interceptions.

OSU tied it with 6:49 left in the third quarter as Stover tipped a Neal Jeffrey pass into the air, grabbed it and blazed unopposed into the end zone.

The Cowboys' go-ahead touchdown came on a one-yard run by fullback George Palmer with 1:32 left in the third period. OSU got the ball on the Baylor 24 when punter Rusty Parrett was trapped after a bad center snap. Eddie Garrett's second conversion kick made it 14-7.

Quarterback Brent Blackman combined with tight end Charlie Beall on a 27-yard touchdown pass to seal the victory midway of the fourth period. Garrett's kick was no good. The score came on the first play after Darryll Stewart's second pass interception.

The first period ended in a scoreless tie as Baylor couldn't get untracked on the slippery turf and the 'Pokes couldn't take advantage of excellent field position. OSU drives in the initial quarter bogged down at the Baylor 46, 35 and 32 yard lines.

Baylor scored early in the second quarter on a 52-yard march which started when OSU was called for roughing the punter. Wayne Prescher powered four yards to the one where Lacy carried it in and Mike Conrad made good on the conversion.

The OSU of the Big Eight is now 4-2 while Baylor of the Southwest Conference dropped 2-3.

Baylor stuck pretty much to the ground in the first half but went to the air in the second half, and that proved to be the Bears' downfall. Of Baylor's 10 turnovers, seven came in the last half, including three pass interceptions.

James White, starting his first game at defensive end, was the man on the spot for OSU in the first half, recovering three fumbles—one stopping a Baylor drive at the OSU 19.

It was White's recovery of a fumble by Prescher that gave OSU a big opportunity at the Baylor 25 with about two minutes left before the half. OSU pushed it down to the two, where the 'Pokes had a first down with 49 seconds left.

However, the Bears wouldn't budge as they threw Tony Boxwell and Blackman for no gain, then tossed Blackman for a minus seven. OSU tried to line up for a field goal, but time ran out in the half.

Wily Joe Barnes Leads Tech To 35-10 Victory

LUBBOCK (AP)—Joe Barnes sneaked for one touchdown, set up two others with bulleye passing and scooted 22 yards en route to a fourth as Texas Tech trimmed Arizona 35-10 Saturday.

The wily little quarterback, with Lady Luck as a copilot, directed the Red Raiders to their fifth victory in six outings on a chilly, gloomy afternoon punctuated by rain.

Tech, down 7-0 early in the first period, struck back on touchdown runs on eight yards by Doug McCutchen, one-yard by James Mosley and nine yards by George Smith.

Barnes slithered in from the one for his tally after Gaines Baty's fumble recovery at the Arizona 23 set the stage. And Mosley closed the scoring in the fourth quarter from the one.

Barnes opened the attack with a 58-yard pass-run play with Smith that took the Raiders to the Wildcat three. He winged a 21-yarder to Andre Tillman to set up the second and his 22-yard scamper was the key play in the third.

Alabama Beats Vols

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Third-ranked Alabama scored two touchdowns within a 36-second span of the final two minutes, the last a 22-yard run by Terry Davis, to defeat 10th-ranked Tennessee 17-10 Saturday in a Southeast Conference football game.

Trailing 10-3 and apparently whipped, Alabama marched 48 yards for the tying touchdown which came on Wilbur Jackson's two-yard plunge with 1:48 left in the game.

Then, John Mitchell pounced on a fumble by Condredge Holloway at the Tennessee 22 and Davis streaked around right end for the touchdown on the first play.

Alabama's victory was its 11th in 12 games, while Tennessee's was its first in four.

The Raiders flirted with disaster throughout the first half with four untimely fumbles but Tech players recovered each time.

A downpour midway through the final period added to the miseries of the unfortunate Wilson, whose arrival here Friday was delayed when heavily overcast skies prevented their plane from landing. They returned to El Paso and made the 345-mile trip by bus.

Besides Barnes' heroics, Lawrence Williams gave the crowd of 33,320 a late thrill, flashing 39 yards with a punt that cleared the way for the final Tech touchdown.

Barnes was particularly devastating in the Raiders' go-ahead touchdown march in the second period, hitting Tillman on a 28-yard pass, running himself for another 12 and then moving to the goal on the 22-yard pitch to Tillman.

The victory elevated the Cornhuskers into a tie with Oklahoma State for the top spot in the Big Eight Conference with a 2-0 record and gave them an over-all mark of 5-1.

The Shocks weathered miserable playing conditions Thursday night to overcome a highly touted Palo Duro junior varsity, 14-0.

The Shocks' initial score came on their second possession of the game. They took the ball 85 yards in 14 plays with Coy Free scoring from the one yard line. Greg Beck kicked the extra point and Pampa had a 7-0 lead.

Free also scored the Shocks' second and final touchdown. That tally came from two yards out after a 23 yard drive in the third quarter. Beck kicked the point.

Pampa and Palo Duro were both severely hampered by the icy, muddy field, with the Shocks outgaining the visitors 173 yards total offense to 171.

Pampa had the ball for 57 plays in the game and were able to control the ball pretty well.

Although Pampa bobbled the ball on numerous occasions, particularly in the second half, they were fortunate enough not to lose but one mishandled snap. The Shocks also had one pass intercepted.

"Palo Duro was supposed to have a good ball club," coach Moore added, "and we were real pleased with the shutout." The win gives the Shocks a 1-1 district mark.

The Shocks' next game is Thursday in Amarillo at 4 p.m. against the Amarillo High Junior varsity.

Dallas Activates Roger Staubach

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys activated quarterback Roger Staubach Saturday on the eve of their crucial football game Sunday with the Washington Redskins.

This gives the Cowboys two first-line quarterbacks for the game which will decide the leadership of the National Conference-East.

Staubach, named No. 1 quarterback midway of the 1971 season, took the Cowboys to the Super Bowl after Coach Tom Landry abandoned his two-quarterback system.

He suffered a shoulder separation Aug. 12 against the Los Angeles Rams and appeared only possibly for the season. However, he healed well and worked hard to return to condition.

Meanwhile, the highly capable Craig Morton has taken the Cowboys to a 4-1 record this season.

Staubach's injury and the failure of Jack Concannon left Dallas with only one first-line quarterback. Coach Dan Reeves, once a running back, was activated as quarterback and has appeared briefly this season.

Staubach is known as a scrambler while Morton is a pocket passer.

Notre Dame Upset

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Fullback Don Johnson scored two touchdowns and place-kicker Greg Hill booted three field goals Saturday as Missouri upset eighth-ranked Notre Dame 26-20.

Missouri built a 30-14 lead early in the final period before the Irish mounted a late charge, scoring touchdowns on a 14-yard keeper by quarterback Tom Clements and a 12-yard run by fullback Randy Huff.

WHITE DEER—Trailing 7-0 at halftime, the Bucks came back in the final two periods to score three touchdowns and rack up a 21-7 win over the Sunray Bobcats.

The victory evened the Bucks' season record at 3-3 and marked their third win in a row after dropping their first three games.

Danny Sandlin scored all three of White Deer's touchdowns on runs of 22 and 23 yards and on a 40-yard pass from quarterback Terry Rhoads.

GUARDS: The best in basketball. Sharmar said West (25.8) and Gail Goodrich (25.9) were also best in NBA history. West led NBA in assists for first time in super 12-year career. Goodrich, 6-1, achieved greatest acclaim of career after once being dumped by Lakers in expansion to Phoenix. West may be best defensive guard of all-time, a little-known fact. Goodrich excels at guarding shorter opposing guard. Behind these superstars are Flynn Robinson (9.9), a shooting guard, and Pat Riley (6.7), a good defender. Rating: A.

PREDICTION: Lakers held 81 of 82 opponents under 100 points, an incredible record. Sharmar, Coach of Year, made players want title. This genius will do it at least one more time, even with aging club. First in Pacific.

AP Picks Redskins To Upset Cowboys By Four

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — For awhile today, the Nixon-McGovern battle plays second string in Washington to a National Football League showdown and the choice is for the Redskins to upset the incumbent world champion Dallas Cowboys.

Call the score 21-17. Defense should be the thing, matching a Washington bunch that hasn't allowed a touchdown in eight quarters with the Dallas Doomsday boys who haven't allowed a point in six periods.

It's the first of two National Conference Eastern Division shootouts between coaching masterminds Tom Landry of Dallas and George Allen of Washington.

Sonny Jurgensen should dent the Cowboy defense for the 58 yards he needs to join Baltimore's demoted John Unitas and San Francisco's injured John Brodie as the only 30,000-yard passers in NFL history.

Also in the Redskins' favor is Larry Brown, currently the NFL's hottest ground gainer with 555 yards. He galloped for 110 in 23 tries last week as Washington ripped St. Louis 33-3.

Dallas quarterback Craig Morton was dazzling, a new adjective for him, as the Cowboys battered Baltimore 21-0 in the game that cost Colt Coach Don McCafferty his job.

But now, Roger Staubach—who led Dallas to the Super Bowl crown—is healthy again and lurking in the wings as Morton finds himself continuing under pressure.

Elsewhere, the Miami Dolphins will probably be less sensationally coordinated with Earl Morrall stepping in for injured quarterback Bob Griese, but it shouldn't stop them from staying unbeaten against improved Buffalo.

With somewhat of a shake, we're picking 11 home teams this weekend after last Sunday. Monday saw 10 of 13 visitors trot away with victories.

After a delayed start in the picking business, the debut record was 10-3 for a .769 percentage.

Game-by-game, here's the way it looks elsewhere for the sixth week of the NFL season:

Miami 20, Buffalo 14: Morrall has to be rusty, running back Larry Csonka is bruised but should play and defensive tackle Jim Dunaway has a bad back. Miami won't have it easy, but placekicker Garo Yepremian should save the day.

Los Angeles 24, Cincinnati 21: Another marvelous matchup and a super Ram offense should be the difference. Coach Paul Brown's defense is tough with Mike Reid equal to any tackle in the business. Actually, it comes down to a slight nod to Roman Gabriel over Bengal quarterback Ken Anderson.

Oakland 27, Denver 10: Darley Lamonica seems to finally have the Raider offense in gear. Denver blew a great shot at victory against Minnesota and the Broncos figure to have one shot at bumping off Oakland—his name is Floyd Little, a running back who would be an NFL idol with a more winning franchise.

Green Bay 13, Atlanta 10: Look for a defense struggle with little Chester Marcol as the hero after ever-improving Pack quarterback Scott Hunter guides within range.

Detroit 17, San Diego 14: Althe Taylor's great running and nifty pass receiving weren't enough in Monday night's TV loss to Green Bay, but—thanks to an Errol Mann field goal—it should work Sunday.

New York Giants 31, St. Louis 14: The Giants made me a believer against the 49ers and the Cardinals appear to have one of the NFL's least potent offenses. Coach Alex Webster says the Giants are "Young and happy," so they're solid picks.

New York Jets 28, Baltimore 14: Who knows what the change to John Sandusky as coach and Marty Domres taking over from Unitas at quarterback will have? The Jets have strong running with Emerson Boozer and John Riggins to go with Joe Namath's golden arm.

Pittsburgh 34, New England 24: The Steelers beat Houston handily, but still have something to prove before being considered as challengers for the division title. But, Jim Plunkett and the Pats have even more to prove amid a slump that is at three straight.

San Francisco 21, New Orleans 14: A vote for Steve Spurrier, who has been waiting since 1966 for a shot at Brodie's quarterback job. Archie Manning has great ability, but not enough to carry the 0-5 Saints.

Kansas City 34, Philadelphia 14: After bowing to Cincinnati, Len Dawson and his Kansas City playmates can't afford to fool around... even with the winless Eagles.

Cleveland 21, Houston 14: The least exciting of NFL matchups with a vote to the Browns. Why? Well, they're playing Houston. Why? Heck, you just can't skip a game.

The St. John's University baseball team has a .33-game fall schedule.

Ski Club Elects Officers

The Top O' Texas Ski Club held its first meeting of the year Thursday and opened the season by electing new officers.

Dr. Jim Alexander was elected president; Jean Martindale, vice-president; and Mrs. Bob Rogers, secretary-treasurer.

All persons interested in joining the club are invited to attend the next meeting which will be conducted Nov. 16 in the Hospitality Room of the Citizens Bank and Trust Co.

Michigan State has invited 105 football players for fall practice.

Basketball Growing In Britain

LONDON (AP) — "Thanks to the youthful Americans, the nervous Russians, the confused Olympic officials and impeccable German efficiency, basketball has burst on the scene."

That is an extract from a letter sent out by a basketball club in Liverpool, England, asking for more support in the coming season.

It's one example of the impact made by that dramatic U.S.-Russia final at the Munich Olympics. Millions of Britons watched it on television and joined in the argument over the extra three seconds at the end of the game which helped the Russians win.

"For the first time the British public really became aware of basketball," said Sid Lipski, an official of the British National Basketball Association. "We regret the dispute at the end, but we're sure glad of the publicity."

"We are sure it's going to show in the coming season. More young people in Britain are going to want to play basketball, and more people will want to watch it."

The game has never had much of a following in Britain. In recent years it has made remarkable headway in schools and youth clubs, but there are still only about 12,000 registered players.

"We think that about 100,000 Britons play basketball at some level or other," Lipski said. "It is growing all the time."

The publicity of the U.S.-Russia thriller in Munich couldn't have come at a better time for basketball in Britain. For the first time a national league is being run.

Six amateur teams are due to take part—Chingford and Sutton, both near London, Liverpool, Sheffield, Loughborough and the Royal Air Force. Sutton will play its home games in the sports hall of the American School at St. John's Wood, London, where there is room for 4,000 spectators.

The six teams were admitted to the new league after giving guarantees they could draw reasonable sized crowds.

"That was before the Olympics," Lipski said. "None of them has any doubt now that the crowds will be bigger than they ever anticipated."

"Millions in this country watched that U.S.-Russia game. It was the finest basketball game I could possibly have had."

Lipski, who was present at the Olympic final, said he believed the United States really won 50-49. That was the score before the extra three seconds were ordered.

"Of course it's not our business, but officials of the British association who were in Munich all agreed with me," Lipski said. "The referee should never have awarded those extra three seconds."

Phil Lyne Richest Cowboy

DENVER, Colo. — Pro rodeo's lucrative 1972 season is another record-breaker, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Prize money at more than 500 sanctioned rodeos has already topped $4 million for the third consecutive year, and is expected to reach $4.5 million before the end of the season, an association spokesman said.

The sport's leading winner is also on the road to setting a record for winning the most money in a single year.

Phil Lyne, reigning world champion all around cowboy from George West, Tex., has collected $53,902 to date—more than $2,000 ahead of Larry Mahan's total at this time in 1969 when the Salem Ore. cowboy set a record of $57,726.

Lyne, 25, may reach $60,000 by the end of the National Finals Rodeo in December, and on top of that he will have picked up about $20,000 from the Winston Rodeo Awards—more than enough money to pay for his year's travel expenses and rodeo entry fees.

Lyne will receive $10,000 from

Winston for winning his second all around crown, plus $5,000 if he wins another calf roping championship. The rest of the money will come from finishing among Winston's "second half" standings in calf roping and bull riding.

Altogether, Lyne's 1972 rodeo income will be more than $80,000; that's more money than a rodeo cowboy has ever made in one season.

Fans to Help Pick NFL's Top Rookies

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. — (NEA) — National Football League fans have a chance again this year to help pick pro football's rookies of the year.

Newspaper Enterprise Association and the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio, are organizing the fans' voting, under the sponsorship of the Wheaties Sports Federation.

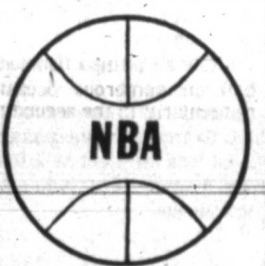

Last season, when the fans voted for the first time, New England quarterback Jim Plunkett was named American Conference rookie of the year and Green Bay running back John Brockington was the National Conference selection.

Fan ballots narrow the field to five finalists in each conference and a panel of experts selected by the Hall of Fame and NEA choose the winners, who receive the Bert Bell Memorial Trophy and a 1973 American Motors automobile. The eight other players nominated by the fans get $500 cash awards.

Award presentations will be made in Dallas on Jan. 20, the day before the Pro Bowl game there.

Fans can obtain ballots from specially marked packages of Wheaties breakfast cereal and from supermarket display signs.

15—Phoenix Suns

NBA—Pacific Division

1971-72 finish: W 49, L 33—3d place

PROSPECTUS: After winning 97 games in the past two seasons and not making play-offs both times, Suns sought—and got—a change from brutal Midwest Division. Only problem—they're in Pacific Division now, along with Los Angeles, Seattle and Golden State. Phoenix's season may end in March again for new coach Bill Van Breda Kolff. He is blessed with great offense—only Lakers scored more points. Suns also played aggressive defense under Cotton Fitzsimmons before rabid cowboy-hatted and booted fans. Tacos are big sellers at Vets Coliseum. Maybe play-off programs will be now.

FORWARDS: Connie Hawkins is a magician with a ball. Suns' top scorer (21.0), great one-on-one, great crowd-pleaser, penetrates, still at peak of game. Paul Silas, 6-7 forward who dropped 30 pounds, made All-Star team, may wind up in Boston in Charlie Scott trade. If so, Dick Van Arsdale would return to front court. Corky Calhoun, No. 1 draft pick from Penn, is defensive genius and can play guard or forward. Lanky Mel Counts (5.2), a 7-footer, is good outside shooter and improved rebounder but slow. Leapin' Lamar Green (5.0) is inconsistent. If he can get it together, could blossom late like Bob Love. Rating: B.

CENTER: Trade of Otto Moore to Houston leaves Neal Walk as full-time No. 1 center for first time. Walk, 6-10, is more offensive-minded than Suns need. Averaged 15.7 ppg, a self-made player. Digs, scraps, hits boards but will never be superstar. Counts can be adequate as backup center. Rating: C+.

GUARDS: Charlie Scott is Suns' hope of future. Unhappy at Virginia of ABA, Scott jumped in March, averaged 18.8 ppg in six games. Has immense natural talent. Needs ball to be effective on club already loaded with shooters. Van Breda Kolff must juggle personnel skillfully to give enough minutes. Clem Haskins (15.7) an above-average guard who should blend with Scott, presuming Van Arsdale is up front. In wings are John Wetzel (1.7), coming off surgery, and second-year man Dennis (Mo) Layton, a sleeper last winter who averaged 9.1 ppg with incredible hot streaks and just as astonishing cold streaks. Rating: B+.

PREDICTION: Nutty Suns' fans will love watching van Breda Kolff on knees pleading with players, scowling at referees. Division too strong. Fourth in Pacific.

6-Member Board Sets Policies Of Highland, McLean Hospitals

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the last in a series of weekly articles, prepared by the public relations department of Highland General Hospital, to acquaint the public with hospital officials, employees, department procedures and the many services offered to the people of Gray County.

By JUDITH KITTO
Appointed by the County Commissioners to serve two-year terms are the six members of the Highland General Hospital Board of Managers. They meet with the administrator of the hospital once a month to discuss and approve financial statements of McLean and Highland General Hospitals.

It is the duty of the board members to set policies of the hospitals and to approve bills and measures suggested by the Administrator. The board is available to guide and direct the Administrator, giving him council when needed. It is the Board's responsibility to insure the best possible medical care for the people of Gray County and in so doing to insure the proper use of the available hospital funds.

Highland General Hospital, although a county owned facility, does not receive county funds for general operation. Highland General Hospital is a self-supporting facility except when county funds have been utilized for payment of bond indebtedness for building and additions.

Chairman of the board is D.W. Bond, Jr., industrial relations director for Cabot Corp. Bond, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, past president of the Kiwanis Club, an elder in the First Presbyterian Church and a member of the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army, has been a member of the board for three years serving as Chairman for the past two years.

Vice-chairman of the board is Fred J. Neslage, a local prominent businessman, who is project manager of West Pampa Repressing Association and Watkins Repressing Project. He is President of the Pampa Industrial Foundation and the Pampa Youth and Community Center. He is on the board of directors of the United Fund, Chamber of Commerce and several other civic organizations. Active for 37 years in Boy Scouts, past president of the Rotary Club, and chairman of the Church Board of the St. Vincent's Catholic Church for 20 years, Neslage has been a member of the hospital board of managers for 15 years.

Serving as secretary of the Board is E.L. Henderson, a member and past president of the Amarillo Chapter of the Charter Life Underwriters Association, past president of the Kiwanis Club, past president of the Chamber of Commerce and an elder of the First Presbyterian Church of Pampa.

Board member Dr. R.M.

Bellamy, has been a practicing physician in Pampa for the 43 years. A member of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club and the board of directors of the Coronado Inn, and also member of St. Vincent's Catholic Church, Dr. Bellamy recently received a Fellowship in the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Owner and operator of the Western Auto Store, in Lefors, Ben White, Lefors businessman, is a member of the board. A charter member of the Optimist Club in Lefors, member of the First Baptist Church and of the Lefors Volunteer Fire Dept., White also is the constable-elect for the coming year.

J.W. Meacham, a McLean businessman, is another member of the board.

Dear Mr. Philpott:

In response to your telephone inquiry of this date, we are pleased to advise the Small Business Administration has been authorized by Congress to guarantee leases of a lessee to a landlord. With regard to the case you made reference to, SBA agreed to guarantee a lease between the Panhandle Plains Development Corporation, Pampa, Texas, lessor and Cockrell Cattle Company, Pampa, Texas, lessee. This was done in accordance with all rules, regulations and guidelines as set forth by the U.S. Congress.

For your information, we are enclosing a "Fact Sheet" explaining how the Lease Guarantee Insurance Program operates. Should you have any further questions, feel free to contact this office.

Sincerely,

Philip J. O'Dowd

The center is still accepting enrollments for the classes listed below. These are all the classes that will be taught through 1972. Classes are filling up very fast so you need to enroll at the earliest possible time.

All classes are taught under the offices of the American Red Cross and our resident instructor, Ruth Carter, is a qualified Water Safety Instructor. Each swim session meets for 10 meeting dates on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. We do not meet on Tuesday. We are closed that day each week. Enrollment is free to members of the Youth Center and $4. for non-members. You do not have to be a member of the Center to take these lessons, but a membership plan is the cheapest way.

Basketball
The Center will sponsor again this year, the independent basketball league for males. Entry is open to all teams whether in Pampa or surrounding towns whether independent, church, organizational, etc.

Entry fee is $60. per team plus the referee's fee which is $6. per game scheduled. Total fees will be determined after we know how many teams will enter. In addition to the team fees each player must be a member of the Center or pay a 50-cent participation fee each night he plays. An organizational meeting will be held on Nov. 9 at 8:00 to draw up the league. Teams interested should have a representative at this meeting. League play starts Dec. 4.

For the first time this year, the Center will offer a pre-season basketball tournament on Nov. 13-17. Entry fee will be $12.50 plus each player must pay the 50-cent participation fee each game. This tournament will be single elimination. Entry deadline is Nov. 9, 1972 at 12:00 Noon.

Women's Exercise and Swim Class

The first meeting of the women's exercise and swim class was held on Monday, Aug. 21 at 9:30 a.m. This is for women only and consists of approximately 45 minutes of precision exercising through a series of records and then an open swim period from 10:15 to 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Sally White will lead the exercise class. The only cost to you will be your membership to the Center which is $5. for six months or $8. per year.

We have a baby-sitting service for mothers at a nominal fee. If you have children, go ahead and bring them. They are not allowed to swim or participate in the exercise class, but will be attended by the babysitter.

Volleyball Leagues
The fall volleyball leagues will hold their organizational meeting on Thursday night, Aug. 24 at 8:00 p.m. All persons who have organized teams either men, women or mixed should have a representative at this meeting. All teams are invited to enter.

The entry fee per league is $20. In addition to this a player must become a member of the Center or they may pay a 50-cent player fee each time they come. If you need further information on the volleyball leagues, please call Director, George Smith at 665-2012.

Dolphin Swim Team
The 1972 fall Dolphin swim team workouts will begin on Monday, August 21 at 6:00 p.m. The club has been working out on a free basis schedule during the summer, but daily workouts will be held after this date.

The club is open for membership and participation for both girls and boys. Each person must know how to swim, as no swim lessons are given. Instructions on all the basic strokes are given in order that swimmers may qualify for swim meet competition.

If you are interested in joining the Dolphins, the only pre-requisite is that you be a Center member or become one and that you know how to swim. You may join the club by coming to any of the workouts or by contacting club president Thurman Brown at 665-3855.

Dallas Planning 'Re-Education' For DWI Drivers

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas plans sending motorists who drive while intoxicated to school instead of jail.

Mayor Wes Wise announced the first phase of a two-and-a-half-year $707,000 state and federally financed program. It will be held at Southern Methodist University.

The classes, to be held at Dallas College, the university's downtown extension, will emphasize changing the behavior attitudes of two types of drinking drivers—the social and the problem drinkers.

"Re-education is the guts of the program," says John Pickett, DWI Dallas-Alcohol Safety Action Program director.

Pickett said his staff will work closely with courts handling DWI offenders, seeking their release so that they can take part in the program. Hard-core problem drinkers, who require more schooling than the program can offer, will be referred to a champion program being planned by the Dallas County Mental Health & Retardation Center, Pickett said.

Pickett said his school expects to pick students from some 8,000 to 9,000 persons to be arrested for DWI during the next 12 months. One-third of that number will be second offenders. The choice facing them will be his school or jail.
