Commie Blockade Holds Back Nationalist Convoy

Shells Pepper Islands

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

TAIPEI (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists held back another attempt to run the Communist blockade of Quemoy today while the Reds peppered the offshore islands with more artillery fire.

As the Formosa Strait crisis rounded out a third week, Nationalist military headquarters reported Red shore batteries sprayed nearly 300 shells on Quemoy and the nearby Nationalist islands of Little Quemoy, Ehrtan and Tan.

Although the shelling was comparatively light, the Nationalists decided against trying again to push supplies to the besieged island in the face of the Red gunfire which foiled the last two attempts.

There was no official indication, however, that the Nationalists had abandoned their efforts.

Some Nationalist military men and the Taipei press voiced demands for more American action in getting supplies to Quemoy. They wrote off as ineffective the use of U.S. warships to escort the supply ships across the Formosa Strait only to within three miles of Quemoy.

Associated Press correspondent James Cary, who was aboard a Nationalist supply ship which was forced under Red shelling Thursday to pull off the beach at Quemoy before unloading, said the grim fact is "that the Communist blockade is highly effective and critically serious."

There was increasing talk in Nationalist quarters of air dropping supplies to the beleaguered island and aerial assaults on Red artillery positions on the mainland.

Small boats have the hazardous night time assignment of supplying Little Quemoy and the Tan Islands from Quemoy. It is doubtful many have made the trip since the Communists started heavy bombardment of the Quemoy group last month.

GOVERNOR FACES THE PRESS — Arkansas' Governor Orval Faubus faces newsmen in a press conference at Little Rock during which he indicated he expected the Supreme Court to order integration of the schools. Faubus said he would not force the people to integrate against their will.

LITTLE ROCK DENIED INTEGRATION STAY

Faubus Only Nods When Ruling Told

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus merely nodded but said nothing when the news reached him today of the Supreme Court decision ordering integration in Little Rock Central High School.

There was little immediate reaction either from Negro children who are affected by the decision, or by federal and city officials.

Mayor Werner Knoop, head of the Little Rock Board of Directors, immediately summoned a meeting of the board to set up plans for preserving peace in the city.

U. S. Atty. Osro Cobb and Justice Department aides sent from Washington said they were studying the decision. A spokesman said it will be some time before they announce their next move.

The first official reaction came from Wayne Upton, president of the Board of Education.

"Naturally, we will have to try to operate under it (the decision)," he said. "We, of course do not know what Gov. Faubus plans to do, but if he orders us to close the school we will close the school."

Another board member, Harold Engstrom Jr., said the board will probably hold an emergency meeting.

Faubus was presiding over a meeting of the State Election Commission when the news reached him.

A reporter from the Arkansas Democrat handed him a copy of the Associated Press bulletin carrying the decision.

Faubus read it in silence. He nodded but made no comment. Then he went on with the business before the commission.

None of the Negro children would comment on the decision.

Decision Is Unanimous

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today denied the Little Rock School Board any delay in integration at Central High school.

Chief Justice Warren announced before a packed court room that a requested 2½-year delay was refused.

Warren said the decision was unanimous.

The high tribunal's ruling affirmed a decision by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis.

It means seven Negroes who wish to attend Central High School now are eligible for immediate readmission.

The school is scheduled to open Monday.

But Gov. Orval Faubus has said repeatedly he will close the school rather than see it operate with forced integration.

The chief justice read a two-page printed opinion which was signed "per curiam" — meaning by the court.

The opinion stated that the court . . . "having fully deliberated upon the oral arguments heard on Aug. 28, as supplemented by the arguments on Sept. 11, and all the briefs on file, is unanimously of the opinion that the judgment of the Court of Appeals for the 8th Circuit (St. Louis) of Aug. 18 must be affired."

Warren added for the court that in view of the imminent start of the new school year at Central High, "we deem it important to make prompt announcement of our judgment affirming the Court of Appeals."

Warren said an opinion outlining views of the justices and supporting today's decision, "will be prepared and announced in due course.,,

This will give the court time to set forth in detail its views on the specific issue of whether disorder and violence are sufficient legal grounds for suspending a plan of integration once it has been put in operation.

It also will afford the court the opportunity, if it sees fit, to elaborate on its 1955 command for desegregation in public schools "with all deliberate speed."

The document thus could lay down guidelines for federal judges in dealing with integration cases.

The chief justice stated that the judgment of the Supreme Court "shall be effective immediately, and shall be communicated forthwith to the District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas."

This refers to U.S. Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley who ruled June 21 that integration should be suspended until January 1916. Lemley acted on a petition from the Little Rock School Board.

Lemley's decision was overruled by a 6-1 vote of the St. Louis appeals court.

It was not indicated how soon the Supreme Court might issue its more detailed views. Because of the momentous issues involved, it was not unlikely the court might take considerable time.

The judges now resume their interrupted summer vacation. They will open their regular 1958-59 term Oct. 6.

One of the arguments made to the high court by the attorney for the Little Rock School Board was that the law was now cloudy.

After today's decision, Thurgood Marshall, counsel for the Negro children, told newsmen that "with this clearcut judgment, the legal atmosphere around Central High School is now cleared up and neither the School Board nor the governor nor anyone else in Arkansas can even pretend not to know what the law is."

"Anything now done to prevent desegration in Arkansas," Marshall told reporters, "is in open defiance of the law."

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, who was at the court to hear the decision, declined comment."

Pair Starts 10-Day Test

SAN ANTONIO (AP)— A German-born doctor and an Air Force sergeant started a 10-day ordeal of simulated high-altitude flight to learn how to train spacemen.

The pair, Dr. Bruno Balke, 51, and M. Sgt. Samuel Karst, 34, began the research experiment at 8:58 a.m. at the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine.

Just before Balke stepped inside the mobile pressure chamber, his wife Anna Marie handed him a rice pie for his supper tonight. Their home is in San Antonio.

Mrs. Karst, whose husband has taken part in more than 50 brief tests, was on the job elsewhere at Randolph Air Force Base. She works for the School of Aviation Medicine.

The space chamber, on a truck-like vehicle, is out in the open about 1½ blocks from the base flight line.

Aside from technicians, the only others present were Balke's youngest son, Per Olaf, 3½, and his niece, Ingund Presussler, 20, a visitor from Vlotho, Westphalia, Germany.

The test is to explore the reserves of physical and mental fortitude built up in a man by adapting him to high altitudes and by building him up by regular exercise. The two have just returned from 40 days on the snow-capped shoulders of Colorado's Mt. Evans.

They will work, eat and sleep in a cubicle barely large anough for one man to turn around in.

They will expose themselves to high temperatures, lowered pressure, excess carbon dioxide, and other hazards. To find out what would happen if a meteorite punctured a manned satellite or space ship, simulated emergency will be staged. The pressure will be dropped to near-vacuum.

Besides food, equipment to test air, reflexes and coordination, the men will carry exercise equipment and space suits. All their food and water will be taken into the chamber at the start.

An intercom system will be used for communication and a skilled technician and medical officer will stand by at all times.

However, the two hope they will not have to leave the chamber until the test is completed Monday morning, Sept. 22.

In the test of Airman Donald Farrell in February, a chamber was designed to reproduce conditions inside the cabin of a rocket craft in space.

Here's Text Of Supreme Court Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The text of the Supreme Court's unanimous opinion in the Little Rock integration case:

The court, having fully deliberated upon the oral arguments had on Aug. 28, 1958, as supplemented by the arguments presented on Sept. 11, 1958, and all the briefs on file, is unanimously of the opinion that the judgment of the Court of Appeals for the 8th Circuit of Aug. 18, 1958, must be affirmed.

In view of the imminent commencement of the new school year at the Central High School of Little Rock, Ark., we deem it important to make prompt announcement of our judgment affirming the Court of Appeals.

The expression of the views supporting our judgment will be prepared and announced in due course.

It is accordingly ordered that the judgment of the Court of Appeals for the 8th Circuit, dated Aug. 18, 1958, reversing the judgment of the District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas, dated June 20, 1958, be affirmed, and that the judgments of the District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas, dated Aug. 28, 1956, and Sept. 3, 1957, enforcing the School Board's plan for desegregation in compliance with the decision of this court in Brown v. Board of Education, 347 U.S. 483; 349 U.S. 294, be reinstated.

It follows that the order of the Court of Appeals dated Aug. 21, 1958, staying its own mandate is of no further effect.

Ike's No Appeasement Stand Gains Support

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has drawn the line against Communist aggression in the western Pacific in a momentous speech telling Red China to stop pushing and negotiate or be prepared to fight.

Immediate bipartisan congressional reaction to his White House address last night was strongly favorable.

It remained to be seen whether Red China and the Soviet Union—accused by Eisenhower of "working hand in hand" to enslave the western Pacific—would take him at his word.

Neither has indicated any heed to previous warnings by Secretary of State Dulles and other top U.S. officials. Peiping yesterday unleashed the heaviest artillery barrage yet on the blockaded offshore island of Quemoy. Soviet Premier Khrushchev told a rally of 100,000 cheering Russians at Stalingrad last night that any attack on Red China would be considered an attack on the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower interrupted his vacation to make the blunt speech, perhaps the strongest of his career.

In his nationwide radio-TV address, beamed around the world in 40 languages by the Voice of America, he deplored the bombardment of Quemoy. He called it a tragic affair which already has killed or wounded 1,000 persons—mostly civilians.

But the issue, he said, was not the defense of the tiny islands. He pledged: "No American boy will ever be asked by me to fight just for Quemoy."

The issue, he said, was: "Shall we take the position that, submitting to threat, it is better to surrender pieces of free territory in the hope that this will saisfy the appetite of the aggressor and we shall have peace?".

Contending the answer is no, the President said the free world must fight if necessary for that principle.

The democracies tried appeasement at Munich and failed to prevent—in fact brought on—World War II, he said, and "I never want to see that history repeated."

He said the Reds are probing, testing, and their bluff must be called or "tragedy after tragedy would befall us."

Eisenhower coupled this warning to the Communists and appeal to the free world with an urgent bid for negotiation—between the United States and Red China or, if that fails, in the United Nations.

"There is not going to be any appeasement," he said. "I believe that there is not going to be any war."

Auto Industry Intensifies Contract Talks With UAW

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry intensified its contract talks with the United Auto Workers today amid reports that the gap between General Motors and the UAW now stands at 12½ cents.

The speeded up negotiations were held against a backdrop of a UAW Wednesday strike deadline at Ford if no agreement is reached there.

The Big Three said no new contract proposials had been made to the UAW but all parties Issued cautiously optimistic statements after yesterday's bargaining sessions.

Chief interest centered on Ford where UAW Presiden. Walter P. Reuther took personal command yesterday of the union's drive for a contract to cover 100,000 Ford hourly rated workers.

Unusual Saturday and Sunday talks were scheduled by the Ford-UAW teams as they sought to hammer out an agreement before the strike deadline. GM and Chrysler said they had not decided whether similar talks should be held over the weekend.

The report of the 12½-cent spread came from a usually well-informed source who insisted on anonymity. UAW and GM sources had no comment.

He said that when the GM contract ran out May 29—followed by Ford and Chrysler the same weekend—GM's proposals would have given its workers about 12½ cents an hour. The UAW insisted on 19 cents, he said, and the talks ended with the contract expiration.

UAW sources have never disclosed what they figure their contract demands would cost GM. The company said the original demands would have cost 73 cents an hour per worker. GM said the UAW, in the final hours before the old contract ran out, cut these to 48 cents. The average hourly wage for auto workers is $2.43.

A Chrysler spokesman, asked if that company was within seven cents of an agreement, declined comment.

Civic Music Set To Book Drama

Directors of the Snyder Civic Music Association have wired for a booking of "The Diary of Ann Frank," a well - known drama, on the basis of memberships in the association sold so far in the annual Civic Music drive.

The drive will close at noon tomorrow, and those who have not purchased memberships by that time will not be able to secure seats for the association's programs for the coming year. No tickets will be sold at the door.

A limited number of seats remain to be sold before noon tomorrow. The memberships are $7 for adults and $3 for students.

Bob Clinton, president of the association, said if all seats in the house are sold in the drive by noon tomorrow, the association will be able to book four programs during the coming year instead of three.

The association's board had not received a confirmation on the booking of the drama by noon today but expect to before the day ends.

"The Diary of Ann Frank" is a drama written from the true story of Ann Frank, a Jewish girl who was killed, with her parents, during World War 11 in a Nazi concentration camp. It would be brought here by the cast which played on Broadway in the drama.

The drama played in Germany for over a year to a capacity crowd. The story is to be made into a movie. It first appeared in the U.S. in book form in the Readers Digest. The story was featured recently in Life Magazine.

Next programs to be booked are Amperio Iturbi, pianist and sister of Jose Iturbi, and the Johnny Eaton Jazz Ensemble, a group similar to the Benny Goodman quintet.

By today membership in the association had reached about the same figure as total membership last year, and the members include many new to the association. Workers were checking on renewals by the older members near the end of the drive. Student membership is running heavy, Clinton said.

About 80 persons are working in the drive.

Ike Plans Reply To Krush Talk

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower plans to reply within 24 hours to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's message demanding that the United States pull its forces out of the Formosa Strait area.

The President's plans were announced today by press secretary James C. Hagerty shortly after Eisenhower flew back to his vacation headquarters from Washington.

In the capital Thursday night the President made a nationwide television - radio address telling Red China to negotiate over the situation in the Far East, or be prepared to fight.

Now he intends to follow up that speech with a reply to Khrushchev.

In his message which was made public last Monday, Khrushchev said any attack on Red China would be regarded as an attack on the Soviet Union.

He also called on the United States to recognize the Chinese Communist regime.

Demand For Vaccine Up

A big increase in Salk polio vaccine shots has been evidenced in Snyder since the report yesterday of a Snyder youth being a victim of polio.

Charles Greenfield, 20 - month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Johney Greenfield, 303 Thirty-sixth Street, was the first polio victim here in months, and that reminded residents of the need for the Salk series and boosters for their children and themsleves.

Latest reports on the Greenfield child, now in Methodist Memorial Hospital at Lubbock, are that he is doing well, eating well, and trying to play.

The paralytic polio so far has affected only facial muscles, and hospital attendants do not think it will spread to any other part of the body. He will be kept in the Lubbock hospital for several days however, for observation.

DETROIT (AP)—A Milwaukee man was cited today as "jailer of the year" by the National Jail Assn.

The award to Frank Callan, former chief jailer at the Milwaukee County jail, came at closing sessions of the 88th Congress of Corrections, a meeting of penal experts from across the country.

In the convention windup, O. B. Ellis of Huntsville, Tex., was elected president of the American Correctional Assn., succeeding Roberts Wright of Valhalla, N.Y.

Firemen Get Flu Vaccinations Here

Preparing to fight fires is as much a chore for the fire department as actually fighting them.

One of the unusual aspects of preparations of the city's volunteer and paid firemen occurred last night during the regular meeting.

They all received flu vaccine shots—hedging against the flu bug this winter.

The vaccine was provided free by Snyder Drugs and Burgess Pharmacy. The shots were administered by personnel of the office of Dr. Robert B. Pierce, county health officer.

Panel Urges Fast Action To Ban Military Use Of Space

By JOHN H. AVERILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special Senate subcommittee urges swift action in the United Nations to prevent outer space from being used for military purposes.

This recommendation is contained in a final report issued yesterday by the subcommittee on disarmament studies begun three years ago. The report was approved unanimously by the 12-member bipartisan group.

The subcommittee also urged an international agreement to suspend nuclear weapons tests. It said such an agreement would serve U.S. interests—but only if a reliable system for detecting any violations is established.

Subcommittee Chairman Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) praised President Eisenhower's recent statement that the United States is prepared to negotiate a test suspension agreement. Eisenhower took that action in the wake of successful talks in Geneva between Western and Soviet scientists on technical control methods.

"The President's statement is a welcome one," Humphrey said. "And for the first time in 12 years of effort there is in sight the prospect of a first-step agreement which deals with arms control."

The subcommittee proposed creation of a U.N. agency to promote cooperation between nations in space exploration.

A somewhat similar suggestion was advanced by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. He urged an international agreement to prohibit possible national claims to the moon or other outer space bodies.

In the introduction to his annual report to the General Assembly, which opens its 13th regular session in New York next Tuesday, Hammarskjold said the world community has an overriding interest in the peaceful and beneficial use of outer space. He urged use of outer space for the benfit of all.

In discussing a nuclear test suspension, the Senate subcommittee advised greater attention to the question of including Red China in any test suspension to foreclose the possibility of giving the Soviet bloc a loophole.

At the same time, the group cautioned that a suspension agreement could result in a false sense of security about world peace.

Any such agreement, the subcommittee said, "should be regarded as but a first step toward the goal of more comprehensive measures for the control and reduction of armaments."

New Clue Found In Stabbing Case

NEW YORK (AP)—While continuing to check the story by 8-year-old Melvin Dean Nimer Jr. that he stabbed his mother and father to death, authorities say they are following a new clue in the puzzling case.

Melvin, ever docile and usually smiling, was quoted in an oral statement as saying he knifed his parents while they slept in their Staten Island home early Sept. 2.

The boy was taken yesterday to Bellevue Hospital in Manhattan for psychiatric examination.

Later in the day Staten Island Dist. Atty. John M. Braisted told newsmen that additional information on the double slaying is being checked.

"We have men out of town right now," he said. "They are still looking for still other possible motives. The out-of-town exploration is down an avenue foreign to the boy."

He did not elaborate.

Braisted and his aides say they are not fully convinced that it was the youngster who fatally wounded his father Dr. Melvin Nimer Sr. and his mother Lou Jean, both 31. But neither could they discount fully a confesson which Melvin told several times, and a supposed re-enactment of the crime.

Braisted also has a psychiatric report from the Staten Island health center describing the boy as having a split personality and persecution complex compatible with the commission of a crime of violence.

Melvin was brought back to Staten Island after attending the funeral of his parents last Tuesday in Orem, Utah, from where the family originally came. The boy's father was a government doctor at a U.S. Public Health Service hospital on Staten Island.

Melvin originally said his parents were slain coming to his rescue when a white-masked intruder appeared beside his bed and tried to choke him.

Rotary Hears Grid Coach

John Conley, athletic director and head football coach for the Snyder schools, yesterday discussed prospects of the high school grid team at the weekly luncheon of the Snyder Rotary Club.

During the program, Conley showed the club a film taken of the Snyder-Kermit scrimmage last Saturday.

Last year, Conley told the group, the team was making six changes from its offensive to defensive teams most of the time. In the Borger game tonight, two changes are planned.

The coach told the group that he has a number of experienced players back on the team this year but that the team is young on the whole.

Going over the schedule for the year, which is considered a rough one, he said, "We could probably easily win any of these if we play like we are capable and do not get hurt." The team is short on experienced reserves, however. A number of sophomores are included in the Tiger reserve strenght.

No News On Lost Plane

No news has been learned by Snyder relatives of an Air Force lieutenant who has been missing with a crew of 17 for more than a week.

The Air Force man, 1st Lt. John Simpson, brother of Mrs. Sterling Parker, 3725 Avenue V, was on an American transport plane which disappeared Sept. 2 near the southern part of the Soviet Union.

Simpson's mother, Mrs. H. G. Simpson of Walnut Springs, who has been visiting the Parkers here, received a wire yesterday from the Department of Defense that the search of the missing plane was exhausted and that the Soviet Union was being checked concerning the missing plane crew.

That, however, had been learned several days ago through news media by the family.

Simpson was co-pilot on the C150 Hercules turboprop, last heard from on Sept. 2 on a routine radio report over Van, Turkey, which is 110 miles southwest of Soviet Armenia.

Simpson's wife and two young sons live at Frankfurt, Germany, where he is based.

A $300 annual scholarship loan fund has been established by the Snyder Rotary Club.

Curtis Wise, president of the club, said the club's board of directors approved the scholarship program in a meeting this week.

A youth entering college, if chosen in the scholarship program after his application, can borrow the funds from the club, to be repaid after he gets out of college at no interest.

Members of the Rotary scholarship committee are S. S. Steinberg and Hugh Taylor.

Adult Class Deadline Set

Adult education classes may not be offered at the high school here this year unless those interested in taking the courses indicate their interest by Monday.

T. D. Wiman, high school principal, said that in an initial meeting last night there were persons on hand for a number of courses but not a sufficient number for any one course. A total of 15 are required for any one course before it can be organized.

Another meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Monday in Room 124, the music room at the high school.

Wiman asked that those interested be at that meeting. If they cannot attend the meeting they should contact Wiman before then if they want to take one of the courses.

So far, those signed up are nine for shorthand, four for shop, five for arts and crafts, four for typing, and two for bookkeeping.

Paris Fashion Envoy Has Girls' Dream Job

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP) — An attractive 37-year-old Frenchwoman has just been given every girl's dream job —ambassador of Paris fashion in America.

In her official capacity, it will be her duty to wear the most fashionable creations of the top French dressmakers.

She is Monique de Nervo, a divorcee who has taken back her maiden name, but who prefers not to use the title she inherited from her steel magnate father, "Baroness de Nervo."

This fall she will open, for the first time in fashion history, an official "lobby" for the Paris dressmakers in New York.

Her object will be, basically, to sell more French high fashion creations to the American market, through publicizing the world's style capital, earning woodwill for the French designers and making trips to the Paris collections easier and more profitable for American buyers.

"Of course I have to be careful," says Monique with a cheerful grin. "Our French houses are jealous of each other, and my wardrobe has to be made up of models from every major house."

She may also encounter jealousy from the American dress industry, but it will be her diplomatic job to convince everybody that she works as much for the good of the American manufacturers as for the French designers.

Dark - haired, brown - eyed Monique served with the Red Cross in France during the war and occupation. In 1945 she got a job with Piguet perfumes which kept her in America for two years. She was married in 1947 and got a divorce five years later. (Her ex-husband is now dead).

After her divorce, Monique went back to work as press attache for the fashion house of Jean Desses, where she remained until borrowed for an American tour to publicize French glove-makers last year. She has just finished an exhausting round of lectures in 10 universities, countless radio and television appearances, and visits to 16 U.S. cities, when she met Raymond Barbas, then president of the French High Fashion Syndicate.

Barbas was setting up plans for the French fashion office in America, and he tapped Monique to run it. Besides French and English — which she speaks with a charming and slightly husky French accent — she also speaks Spanish, Italian, and some German.

MONIQUE DE NERVO: New ambassador of fashion

The first French fashion ambassador was born, appropriately, in Paris, on Feb. 17, 1921. She loves hearty sports, chiefly skiing and swimming, is usually tanned to a deep toast tint, and talks gaily, volubly, and with wit.

Monique expects to spend about seven months of the year in America. She will try to put over the viewpoint that Paris designers do not get enough recognition for their creative role of pioneering and piloting new style trends. All in the friendliest manner, of course.

Fun Comes In Stitches

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

THE DIFFERENCE between a run-of-the-mill school dress and a favorite costume lies in the individual touches a bright mothef may add.

One of the simplest and most effective ways to add a custom touch to children's clothes is with gay appliques. All you need are some bright scraps from the rag-bag, a little imagination and a sewing machine. Iron-on tape also comes in handy for features, buttons and other accents too small to stitch on laughing apples, fliratious flowers or a cheerful Humpty-Dumpty.

Appliques are done with the versatile satin stitch on your automatic machine or zigzagger attachment. Local sewing center experts give you some tips on how to make them.

First sketch your design on paper and trace it onto the fabric. Back fabric with organdy, basting pieces together. Make features or other designs on applique before cutting out. Leave full inch all around applique when cutting. Baste in place on dress. Work close satin stitch around outline of design and trim away excess fabric close to line of stitching.

Here are specific instructions for some gay designs:

1. LAUGHING APPLES in black and white gingham are sprinkled around the hem of a white pique dress. The black might be repeated in corded trim on the dress. After sketching and tracing apples, back with organdy. Automatic stitching in combination with iron-on tape makes the features. The eyelashes may be done automatically with the comb stitch, or by making a curved line of zigzag stitching and filling in lashes by hand. To make the mouth, trace outline on a scrap of white iron-on tape and iron in place. Trace around mouth outline with red satin stitch, and trim away excess fabric. The eyes are little triangles. Or you can make one winking eye and one open eye, outlined in zigzag stitching with an iron-on pupil.

A close satin stitch is used to secure the apples to the skirt. A green leaf is appliqued with green satin stitch; a wide satin stitch, also in green, forms the stem.

2. PAPER DOLLS are another hemline decoration. They may be cut out and traced onto white pique. Again, the little figures are backed with organdy. The buttons are of tiny black circles of iron-on tape. (Try a paper punch to get even circles). White satin stitching outlines the dolls; the little girl is finished with red ribbons for her pigtails.

3. The simplest little dress of dark cotton can be a conversation piece with a single figure accenting the hemline - in this this case, a dignified HUMPTY DUMPTY. To make this figure, first draw egg outline on yellow cotton. Baste plaid fabric in place to cover lower half of egg. Make eyes, nose and bottons of iron-on tape satin-stitch mouth. Add bow tie of black bias tape. Back egg with organdy and yellow cotton backing. Cut out egg, legs, and arms, leaving seam allowance around all pieces. Stitch around top of egg half way down yellow sections. Stitch on "fence" of red bias tape. Let the same line of stitching secure the hemline. Baste egg in place, and satin-stitch. Trim away excess fabric close to line of stitching.

4. A SINGLE TALL FLOWER is the perfect accent for a child's Trapeze dress - particularly when it's a yellow calico flower on a moss-green cotton. To make this design, first trace flower outline on yellow calico. Trace leaves on solid yellow. Make pot of bright red. Back all pieces with organdy. Make black face of flower of iron-on tape, with white mouth and eyes. Baste flower, leaves and pot in place on dress. Stitch around outline of flower in yellow satin stitch; stitch petals in satin stitch. Use yellow satin stitch for leaves, red satin stitch for pot with scalloped top. Make stem of black satin stitch.

5. Here's a delightful treatment for a front - buttoning dress-a DECORATIVE BUTTON PANEL, with jet buttons forming the centers of white pique flowers. Here, simply cut several flowers. Here, simply cut several flowershapes of white pique, backing them with organdy. Baste and stitch in place along front closing. Connect flowers with black satin stitch, and make buttonholes in centers of flowers. Sew on buttons of jet black.

Keep the kettle of water uncovered when you're boiling spaghetti or macaroni.

Landing Failure Proves Red Blockade Highly Effective

Editor's Note—Associated Press correspondent James Cary was the only American correspondent aboard a Nationalist Chinese supply ship which tried—but failed—to unload supplies on Quemoy's landing beach Thursday under the heaviest artillery barrage yet hurled by the Communists in the offshore artillery war that began Aug. 23. Here, in a dispatch from the Pescadores, Cary analyzes the critical and dangerous supply situation which now faces the Quemoy garrison.

By JAMES CARY

MAKUNG CITY, Pescadores (AP)—Nationalist China's unsuccessful attempt to land new supplies Thursday in its besieged offshore island of Quemoy underscores a grim fact—the Communist blockade is highly effective and critically serious.

Unless a remedy is found, this Nationalist fortress off the Red China coast could eventually fall from attrition.

Not even U.S. 7th Fleet escort, as presently constituted, or Nationalist Chinese courage in ramming their supply ships right up onto the beach can alter the fact that the Chinese Communists can make the landing areas untenable whenever they desire.

No ship could have survived the thunderous barrage the Red mainland siege guns hurled at the four ships that tried to unload Thursday. They had to pull back to the open sea.

Aircraft landing strips on Quemoy are subject to just as intense radar-guided fire, virtually shutting off any serious hope of resupply by air.

Parachute supply drops are perhaps feasible but hardly a workable method for supplying a garrison the Nationalists now estimate to number 80,000 to 100,000 troops.

This leaves very few other possibilities. A much faster landing operation might provide some hope. Thursday's convoy was on or close in to the beach 40 minutes before the shelling began.

If the landing ships had carried supply-loaded amphibious vehicles they could have sent these dashing for shore and been out of the danger zone within a few minutes.

It is possible the Communists deliberately waited before they started their attack. It is also possible that it takes that long for their radar to determine definitely where the ships are. In this case, swift unloading might work.

The Nationalists feel their only real solution is to knock out the estimated 4,000 Communist guns ringing Quemoy with everything that can be thwon at them—aerial bombardment, naval gunfire and aircraft rocket attacks.

And herein lies perhaps the danger of the offshore island crisis erupting into a major war.

Whether American planes and ships participated, such an attack would be an attack against the Communist mainland. The Soviet Union has warned this could bring its forces into the war.

It is doubtful the Nationalists have sufficient power to carry out the job alone. Their navy has no ships larger than destroyers. Their heavy bombardment aircraft are all of World War II vintage.

Heavy fire from Nationalist guns during landing operations might take off the heat from the beaches and make the supplying procedure at least a feasible risk.

But where would it come from? The Nationalists on Quemoy have every reason to hoard their present reserves. And the Nationalist navy does not have the gun power.

U.S. 7th Fleet ships have stayed discreetly outside the three-mile limit America recognizes as Chinese territorial waters. So far as is known they have not and will not fire on Communist targets unless they are attacked.

There seems little possibility for the moment that the 7th Fleet would undertake the job of eliminating the Communist guns.

This leaves perhaps only the negotiating table to provide a solution. And one thing is certain. One must be found. No fortress can stand indefinitely without supplies.

GOP Thinks Adams Will Quit

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican campaigners appear convinced that Sherman Adams will bow out of his White House job within a few days.

Their confidence that President Eisenhower's chief assistant will quit is such that the chairmen of the Senate and House GOP campaign committees have abandoned plans to issue a joint statement demanding Adams' ouster.

Instead, en. Andrew F. Schoeppel (R-Kan) and Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa) are understood to have agreed to sit tight and await developments.

Adams has been a center of political controversy since a House investigating subcommittee disclosed he accepted costly favors from Bernard Goldfine, Boston industrialist. Adams denied any intent to influence officials of government agencies when he inquired about cases pending against Goldfine.

Eisenhower expressed confidence in Adams' integrity, said his assistant was imprudent, but added that "I need him." There the matter rested until the defeat in Maine Monday of another Goldfine friend, GOP Sen. Frederick G. Payne.

This brought snowballing demands from Republican candidates for the separation of Adams from an administration that has bragged in the past about its high ethical standards. Schoeppel and Simpson were strongly considering a joint public statement.

But the two chairmen were represented as having received word that Adams himself has come to the conclusion he is such a liability to the party that he will step out shortly after he returns from a fishing vacation in Canada.

The choice of a successor to Adams apparently remains up in the air. It was suggested in some quarters that this might be contributing to the delay in any resignation action.

Speculation has centered around Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton and United Nations Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. Seaton has made it clear he doesn't want to leave the Cabinet even to become the President's right-hand man.

Lodge apparently would like to move into the White House setup, but the international situation is such that it may preclude any change now in the U.N. high command.

U. S. Sets Tests On Atom Rockets

GENEVA (AP) — The United States this fall will conduct tests aimed at developing atom-powered space rockets and airplanes, an American scientist reported today.

The tests will be made with small atomic reactors which hold promise of being fitted into rockets and planes, said Dr. H. L. Reynolds of the University of California.

Small reactors have been developed with uranium cores less than a foot in diameter, Dr. Reynolds told the atoms-for-peace conference.

The next step is to generate more power from them, which could, for example, heat hydrogen or other gases to supply the thrust for a rocket.

Tests of this nature are scheduled in Nevada this fall on a reactor developed at the Los Alamos N.M., scientific laboratory. Other tests will be made on a reactor developed at the radiation laboratory at Livermore, Calif., he said.

Dr. Reynolds indicated a practical power plant is some time off. He said the present reactors are not prototypes.

The studies are in connection with atomic plants for rockets, ram-jet engines which could power airplanes, and for ships, he added.

The smallest reactor developed in this work, at Livermore, is a four-foot cube. For use in a rocket, the reactor would have to be cylindrical.

A reflector around the core reflects neutrons coming from the splitting atoms. This permits reducing the critical mass of enriched uranium used and raises the power distribution at the edges of the reactor. The uranium heart which produces heat weighs 132 pounds.

Dr. Reynolds said a next step is to design reactors which would produce temperatures up to 1,200 degrees fahrenheit.

Light gases sent through the reactor would become heated, and propelled out the rear of the rocket to provide thrust. The lighter the gas "fuel," the faster the gases move upon heating, to give more thrust per pound of material the rocket has to carry.

The first experiments now declassified, were made to check calculations that small reactors were feasible.

Last week the conference was told that a nuclear-powered experimental airplane engine had operated under full power on the ground for 230 hours in tests at Arco, Idaho.

Automation Gets Pupils 'Shook Up'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A noble electronic experiment in education—believed the first of its kind in the United States—has short-circuited St. Louis' biggest high school.

It was hoped that the first two days of school—which began Sept. 4—could be used for instruction instead of untangling just where everybody belonged.

The Board of Education and officials of the 2,000-pupil Beaumont High Schol assigned an electric brain to channel students to classroms and class periods. The machine gave out cards telling students which classes to attend.

But seven days later the halls and classrooms are still clogged with about 700 wanderers, perplexed students.

Boys reported to girl's gym classes and vice versa, voice students found themselves in the band, and a study hall with a capacity of 100 bulged with 160 pupils.

Principal Walter Gammeter said it was the worst snafu he had seen in 34 years of class programing.

"There evidently were errors on both sides," said the principal. He explained that his students probably made a mass of clerical errors last spring when they filled out the punch cards the brain lives on.

A reporter visited the school Thursday and saw seven psychology students sitting on the floor of a filled classroom.

"This," their teacher remarked dryly, "is the result of automation."

Lindsay Crosby Is Booked By Police

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's Son Lindsay, 20, was booked on suspicion of drunk driving last night after his car smashed into a parked car.

Officer James McClain, who arrested him, said young Crosby flunked a sobriety test.

Crosby, clad in a bathing suit, was returning from the beach with two friends. No one was injured.

McClain said the husky youngster shouted abuse at newspaper photographers at the police station and had to be restrained from attacking them.

The car he was driving was registered to his stepmother Kathy Crosby, police said. The two youths with him, Charles Rimp of Beverly Hills and James Pugh of Playa del Rey, were not arrested.

LeMay Flies Tanker To New Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay flew a KC135 jet tanker to a Tokyo-Washington speed record today.

The vice chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force flew the 7,100 miles in 12 hours and 28 minutes. This was about an hour and seven minutes faster than a flight last April by Brig. Gen. William Eubank, a Strategic Air Command officer.

LeMay was at the controls of the big jet as it taxied to a stop at nearby Andrews Air Force Base. He lighted his ever-present cigar as he stepped to the ground.

The general, returning from a tour of U.S. Far Eastern air bases which included Formosa, told a newsman the jet tanker was helped by tail winds during the long flight, the wind adding an extra 60 or 70 miles an hour at times.

The average speed was 570 m.p.h. Most of the route was flown at altitudes between 35,000 and 40,000 feet.

By flying across the international date line the big ship reached here—so far as the clock and the calendar are concerned—32 minutes before its takeoff from Japan. That figure was computed by Maj. Lawrence Tacker, one of the navigators.

'Dan McGrew' Author Is Dead At 84

LANCIEUX, France (AP) — Robert W. Service, poet of the Yukon who wrote "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," died Thursday night. He was 84.

The sourdough poet apparently died of a heart attack. His wife was with him in their home on Robert Service Street, in this little Brittany coastal town.

Service estimated that the 130 lines of his most famous works brought him $500,000.

He was working in a bank in the Yukon and wrote the verse to be recited at a church social. It never was, however, because it had a few hells and damns.

Service said he sat up all one night scratching the verse on the backs of old envelopes. One of the bank guards, seeing the light on in the bank, fired at Service, thinking he was a robber, "and came pretty damned close."

He tossed the verse aside for some time and then, getting a $100 bonus from the bank, made arrangements with a publishing house in Toronto to bring out a book of verse at his own expense.

"Then I got a letter from the publishers saying the printers had been selling 'Dan' from galley proofs and it was so popular they wanted to bring out the book at their expense. It sold like wildfire."

This was in 1907 and since, Service said, he had reached the point where "I hate that verse."

Service wrote more than 1,000 verses ("Don't call them poems") six novels and a two-volume autobiography.

Service had lived in Monaco and France for a number of years.

Several weeks ago he became ill with what appeared to be the flu.

About 1912 Service left the Yukon and went to report Balkan wars for Montreal and Toronto newspapers. In 1913 he married a Frenchwoman and served with the Red Cross attached to the French army in World War I.

Debbie Returns To Home Alone

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"My husband and I have separated. He isn't coming home."

These words from misty-eyed Debbie Reynolds summed up the situation today between Debbie, her estranged husband, singer Eddie Fisher, and Elizabeth Taylor.

Eddie would only discuss his health ("I'm sick. Sinus. Mononucleosis."). And Liz was so well hidden even her business manager couldn't find her.

Fisher said he didn't want to talk about the separation because "all the statements have been magnified beyond reason."

After Liz and Fisher were seen night-clubbing in New York, Fisher returned here, argued with Debbie and moved out of their home. Liz denied being the "other woman" and said, "They weren't getting along, anyway."

Debbie hotly denied this. "We've never been happier than we have been in the last year," she said.

The separation was announced Wednesday night, but there has been no mention of a divorce. Debbie left the door—open—figuratively—for Eddie to return.

"I don't want this marriage to break up," she said. "There are our lovely children and a beautiful life ahead of us."

The separation didn't leave Debbie moping at home. She attended a movie last night with a girl chum.

Teams To Meet In "Rubber" Tilt

BY BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

King Football opens another season in Snyder tonight when the when the host Tigers battle the Borger Bulldogs in a non-district clash at Tiger Stadium.

Kickoff time will be 8 p.m.

It will be the third straight year fo rthe Tigers and Borger to open the season against each other. And in the first two games each team copped a decision.

The Tigers won 21-0 here in the 1956 debut and then the Bulldogs evened things up with a 12-7 victory last year in Borger.

Tonight's game will open another two-game series as the two teams will open against each other again in 1959 at Borger.

Tonight's game could turn into an offensive duel. Each team returns two backfield regulars from last year that includes both starting quarterbacks.

Jim Dawson, 155-pound Borger quarterback, who threw one touchdown pass and scored another in last year's 12-7 Borger vicory over the Tigers, will be the man-under for the Bulldogs agains tonight.

Richard Mahan, who was chosen on the All-District 3-AAA team last fall at quarterback, is also back.

The other backfield starters from last year's Tiger and Bulldog teams aren't listed as starters in the backfield tonight but both may see action at their respective positions before the night is over.

Bobby Jack Spencer, 185-pound halfback, who was Borger's leading gainer against the Tigers last season with 75 yards, will be in uniform tonight. Spencer is listed as a starter on defense at end but will give way to Jerry Drake at halfback on offense.

Spencer, however, is due to see considerable service in the Borger backfield tonight.

The other Tiger starter back is Mickey McGrew, 210-pound fullback. McGrew, though, will open at right guard tonight and letterman Paul Stanley will open at fullback.

McGrew may see some action at fullback tonight, however.

Another Tiger back who saw a lot of offensive action last year, Dick Hayes, will be in the starting lineup tonight. Hayes, 170-pound left halfback, was the team's second leading ground gain last season and had the best per carry average.

Hayes gained 406 yards on 43 carries in the 1957 season for a 9.4 yard per carry average.

Both teams' forward walls are spotted with "untested" personnel. The Tigers will have two starters in the line tonight who are up from the B team, left guard Tommy Minton and center Devane Jones.

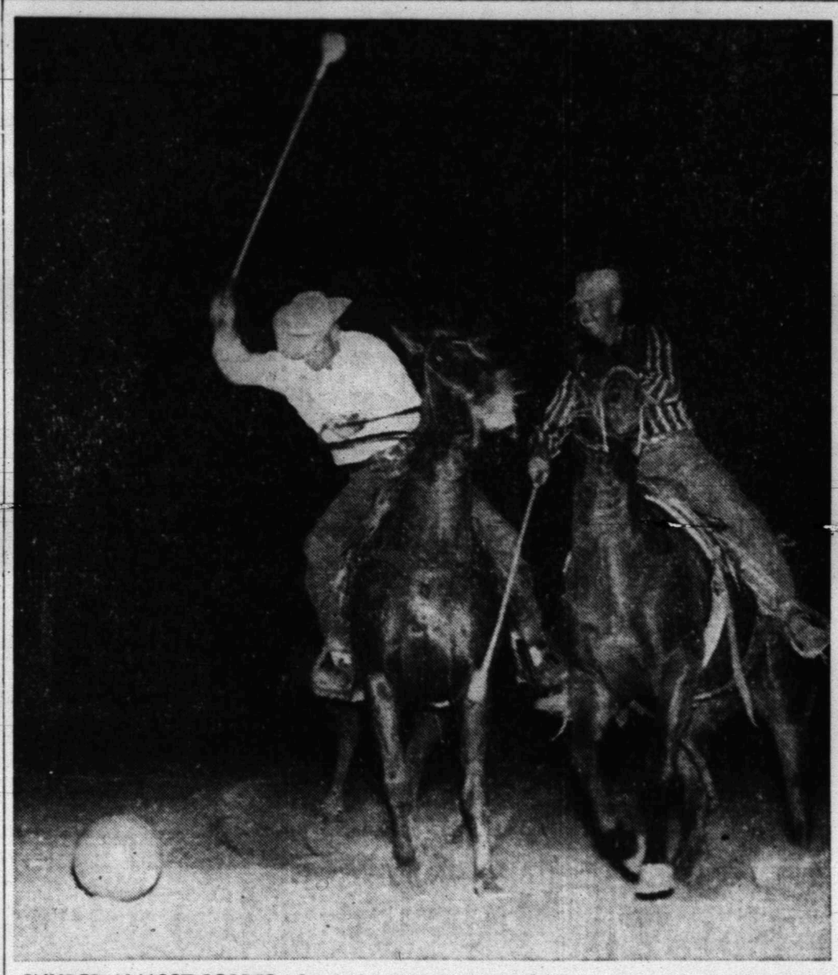

End Bill Dubose, in fact, is the only returning offensive regular in the line for the Tigers.

Tackle Ronnie Giles, who will go both ways tonight, was a defensive regular last season.

Borger will have one "B" team grad in its starting line tonight, tackle Phillip Parker. All other starting linemen for the Bulldogs up front are returning lettermen.

Only one Tiger is due to miss tonight's game because of injury. Tony Anger, who had been ticketed for a starter at left guard, is out with a knee injury.

The Tigers hold a weight advantage in both line and backfield. The Bengal forward wall averages 186 pounds per man to 177 for Borger. In the backfield, the Tigers average 159 pounds per man to 149 for the Bulldogs.

SNYDER ALMOST SCORES—Snyder's nearest approach to a score in its polo game with Lamesa here last night is pictured above. Pete Rasco, of Ira, almost had the ball over the goal line when it was knocked back by Lindell Sharp, left, Lamesa goal defender. The score, not kept officially, ended about 15 to 0 in favor of Lamesa, Durwood Mickler, Snyder, refree, said. The game was held in the rodeo arena here. Another game between the two teams will be held Sept. 21, in Lamesa.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

..ONE THING THAT will be watched closely in tonight's season football opener here between the Tigers and Borger will be the new conversion rule.

Most fans know by now, of course, that football teams this year will have two alternatives in going for the point-after touchdown. hey can kick and get one point or they can run or pass it over and get two points.

In the past, one point was awarded whether you kicked or ran it over.

The ball will be placed on the three-yard line for the conversion attempts as compared to the two-yard line in the past.

The situation, to be sure, will depend in most instances whether a team will kick or run it over on the conversion tries. If a team ties the score after making a touchdown, it probably will kick the point if it has a dependable place-kicker.

But, if a team is one or two points behind after making a touchdown, then the only thing to do here is to try for the two points.

There are several other situations that could come up that will more or less "tell" the quarterback what he should call on the conversion attempts.

Crystal Ball Gazers In For Dizzy Season

This new extra point ruling is going to make it "hectic" on sports scribe who make fools of themselves in trying to predict the actual score of the games.

Until we get used to it, there'll be a lot of "odd" scores on football games. Touchnowns can mean 6-7-8 points for one touchdown, 12-13-14-15-16- for two, 18-19-20-21-22-23-24 for three etc.

Oh well, we never did hit many scores on the head, anyway.

That brings us into another season of Crystal Balling and all we can hope for is to improve over last year. We don't know just what our average was last year but we do, know that it could stand some improvement for this year.

These season openers are always tough as you don't have too much to go on. Every team has untried youngsters on their squad and until they get a game or two under their belts it's difficult to know the strength of a team.

Pick Tigers, Mustangs, Cardinals

With these "advance excuses" we'll get into the situation at hand, the games of this weekend:

Broadcasters Favor TCU In SWC Race

DALLAS (AP) — A three-way battle for the Southwest Conference football title among TCU, SMU and Texas was forecast in an Associated Press survey of 62 sportscasters at member stations over the state.

The balloting, announced today, rated TCU in top place, with SMU a close second and Texas running strong in third spot.

Corpus, Austin Lead Texas Loop Playoffs

By The Associated Press

Fort Worth, the season leader, and Houston, the second place club, were both behind the 8-ball Friday in the Texas League playoffs.

Austin, which wound up fourth, walloped Fort Worth for the 3-1 and as the Cats go to Austin to resume the series they are two-down.

Blue Devils Win Both Games At BS

BIG SPRING, Sept. 12—The Snyder Junior High Blue Devils won both games of a doubleheader from Goliad of Big Spring here today by identical scores in the season opening games for all four teams.

Both the Blue Devil 7th and 8th grade teams triumpned by a 22-0 tally. The games were the first in history for Goliad, a new junior high here.

Three players scored touchdowns for the Blue Devil 8th graders.

Stuart Long went three yards for the first touchdown in the first quarter and he then caught a pass from Luke Nigliazzo for a two-point conversion.

The other two Snyder 8th touchdowns came in the fourth quarter. Dalton Walton went over from the Goliad one on a quarterback sneak for the second touchdown and Bob Pena returned a punt 45 yards for the third score.

Nigliazzo passed to Long for the conversion following the second touchdown.

Nigliazzo was singled out by Coach Ace Amos as looking good on both offense and defense. Linebacker Pat LrFountain on defense and Pena on offense also drew praise from Amos.

Benny Minor scored two of the three Blue Devil 7ht grade touchdowns. Minor went two yards for Snyder's first touchdown in the first quarter and then scored the final Blue Devil TD on a 45-yard run in the third period.

Ygnicio Benitez sped 55 yards for the other Blue Devil 7th grade TD in the second quarter. Benitez also added four points on conversion tries by running over the point-after following the first and third touchdowns.

Benitez was singled out as the 7th grade's top all-around player of the game by Coach Bill Hartsfield . Drawing praiser for their defensive work were linebacker Billy Stewart, halfback Bruce Brooks and end Roy Rice.

On offense, quarterback J. D. Allen, Minor and Edward Schultz in the backfield and guard Eddie Kirby in the line were standouts.

Gail Potter also was complimented for his fine punting for the Blue Devil 7th graders.

McMurry Has 'Family' Team

ABILENE (AP) — McMurry College's football team is getting to be not only one big, happy family but two.

The Indians have four brothers, two each from different families. And ever since practice began, the four behemoths have been making loud noises.

The "family plan" includes Charlie and Ernie Davis from Stamford and Charlie and Jimmy Baldwin of Seymour, together they weight 820 pounds.

All four are due to be in the when McMurry opens the season against Sul Ross.

About the only thing that worries Coach Tommy Ellis is the way they knock each other around in workouts.

Chico Making Believer Out Of Sawyer

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

No one ever has accused Eddie Sawyer of being buddy-buddy with his guys, but he's a great man for psychology as a retread manager with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Just a few days ago he took a swipe at Chico Fernandez, the chipper, proud shortstop peddled to the Phils by the Dodgers last year. "He' hasn't shown me a thing," said Sawyer, the pennant skipper of 1950 who returned as Phils' manager July 22.

If Chico hasn't shown Sawyer anything since then, Sawyer just hasn't been looking.

Sunday, the day after Sawyer's dig, the Phils lost a double-header to Cincinnati, but Chico was 5-for-8 and drove in a run. Tuesday he doubled home the Phils' first run when they beat Los Angeles 4-3 and ended their losing string at seven. Wednesday, Fernandez was hitless, but the Phils beat Los Angeles 8-6.

Last night, Chico really beat the rap.He tied the game with a two-run single, then stole second and counted the winning run on Dave Philley's pinch single for a three-run eighth inning that beat the Dodgers 4-3.

It was the only game scheduled in the National League.

Semi-Finals Today In National Amateur

Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A rawhide-tough ex-champion, two surprised collegians and a virtual unknown today battled in the 36-hole semifinal round of the 58th National Amateur Golf Championships.

The bracketing assured a college player in the final for the first time since 1951 as Dick Foote, a junior at UCLA, met Tom Aaron, a Florida senior. Texan Billy Maxwell won it that year.

In the other semi — two 34-year-olds dueled — Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City who won the national title in 1949 and Roger McManus of Cincinnati who says he hopes he's a better salesman than a golfer.

OUR VIEW

That Season's Here Again

This is the second big day of the season for local schools.

The first came on Sept. 2 when thousands of pupils converged on the classrooms.

Today, football monopolizes the limelight on the campus and throughout the community.

Snyder's interest in football, along with other aspects of the school program, has mounted steadily in recent years, and there is no reason to suspect that it will wane this season. Season tickets for Snyder Tiger home games sold readily a few weeks ago, the Quarterback Club is back in operation with dozens of staunch supporters, and the "railbirds" have been making regular appearances at team workouts.

The Borger Bulldogs and their backers will be our guests tonight at Tiger Stadium. Let's turn out and welcome them to Snyder and at the same time give our own team the support it deserves as it seeks a victory in the season opener.

British Riots Prove A Point

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE:

The British, along with other Europeans, long have looked down their noses at America because there is an occasional outbreak of racial strife in this country. A year ago the occurrences in Little Rock evoked a great deal of comment abroad in which unthinking self-righteousness was mingled with criticisim of the United States, particularly the South.

Now that British cities are accumulating good-size minorities of West Indians, Africans and other dark-skinned peoples, however, the British are learning to their dismay that serious friction is likely to develop when radically different people live in close contact and competition for jobs and housing develops.

Perhaps, now that Britain has had a touch of serious racial strife, Europeans will be somewhat less superior in their attitude toward a problem with which this country has lived for centuries and on which progress has been made.

Youths' Idea Of 'Security' Changes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Changing American youth in a single generation has changed its problems, too.

"When we were young," said Ruth Hagy, "money and security were the big problems—and money meant security.

"The younger generation now is also interested in security. But to it a real world peace, not money, stands for security.

"We had to learn to be internationalists. The young people of today were born into a world without boundaries—and are at home in it.

"They are often more interested in international than national problems. Hopes for peace which seem impossible to us seem quite possible to them."

Miss Hagy, a dark-haired, handsome grandmother, is financial chairman of the National Student Assn., and producer-moderator of the ABC-TV Sunday network show College News Conference.

Since 1952 more than 1,000 student leaders have appeared on the program, interviewing scientific, political and military figures. Some of their questions have been so pertinent and probing the celebrities were left shaken.

Miss Hagy, a former Philadelphia newspaperwoman, became interested in youth work because she thought the field was being neglected.

"The student was a vital political force in every country but our own," she said.

"But our younger generation was being called delinquent, silent beat, and a victim of too much conformity."

She believes America's youth today is largely idealistic, interested in good government, and willing to take on civic responsibility.

"Kids are afraid of being called a square," she remarked. "The good students need to be recognized equally as the athlete or social big wheel on the campus, and they are getting to be.

"There has been a general change in the climate of the country, off campus and on. It's no disgrace to be a good student. It's fashionable. And there is more of a realization that the college student leaders are our political leaders of tomorrow.

"Leadership stands out early. It needs to be recognized and trained."

Miss Hagy has carefully followed the budding career of most of the student leaders who appeared on her program.

"They are doing terrifically well," she said. "A number are taking active roles in political parties.

"The White House has two of our kids. Two more are in the vice president's office. The State Department has six. Fourteen are working as administrative or legislative assistants to senators."

To her knowledge not one of the 1,000-plus student leaders has become an adult delinquent. None has been arrested for forging a check, holding up a bank, or bribing a mayor.

Uncle Sam Set To Seek New Loans

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK, (AP) —Like any head of the family whose budget has been scuttled by unexpected cash outlays and income disappointments, Uncle Sam is about to seek new loans to tide him over.

He may have to pay dearly for them. He must try to keep them from further upsetting the money markets and spurring inflation. It'll be quite a trick, if he can pull it off.

The U. S. Budget Bureau has just spelled out in cold figures how much more it's going to take for Uncle Sam to pay his bills.

The market in government and corporate bonds is indicating today what terms he is likely to have to pay.

The terms those with money to lend now ask and their wariness about taking new offerings have caused a number of companies and local governments to cancel or postpone their own trips to the money market.

And the U. S Treasury has just seen its own securities take another price tumble while investors turned instead to gobble up 350 million dollars of Sears, Roebuck bonds paying 4¾ per cent.

Falling prices on government securities is raising their yield. The highest now is on a 3½ per cent Treasury bond bid down below 93 to turn a yield of 3.84 per cent to those who buy at that price.

Next month the Treasury must raise several billion in new cash. And there'll have to be more later.

The Treasury foresees a 12½-billion-dollar deficit by next June.

The Treasury's dilemma is: Should it raise part of the new loans it must have by offering medium and long-term bonds at the risk of competing with state and local governments also seeking cash and with corporations? If they fail to get new funds at reasonable rates the business recovery could be impeded.

Or should the Treasury rely almost entirely on short-term borrowings, the kind that usually appeal chiefly to commercial banks and which might swell the money supply and give inflation another leg up in its war on the family pocket book?

A speeded-up business recovery, and even inflation, could give the Treasury some help by reviving tax collections. More unlikely is that help might come through an economy revival in federal spending.

Brando's Maid Drowns In His Swimming Pool

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marlon Brando's maid drowned in the actor's swimming pool yesterday.

Brando's wife, actress Anna Kashfi, found the body of Mrs. Hisaka Aizawa Milligan, 31, in the bottom of the deep end of the pool at Brando's hillside home.

Miss Kashfi said she was in the house while Mrs. Milligan was swimming.

Aged Loaf Wins Duplicate Prizes

Maurice Chevalier Reaches 70 Today

By JOHN RODERICK

MARNES LA COQUETTE, France (AP)—Maurice Chevalier reached 70 today with the jaunty confidence of one whom the years have caressed lightly.

"Outside of some physical performances, I don't feel like 70," he said, jutting out his lower lip in his familiar grin. "I have as much enthusiasm as when I was a kid. Only now I can choose. I have acquired the quality of judgment."

Seated on a bench in the gardens of his country home 20 minutes from the center of Paris, Chevalier looked ahead for new worlds to conquer.

He expressed enthusiasm over his new older-man role, secured by his triumphs as the witty father in "Love in the Afternoon" and the humorous uncle in "Gigi."

Chevalier quit Hollywood in the late 1930s after seven big-money years as the debonair lover. He was at the peak of his international fame.

"I went back to the stage," he said, "and I believe I was right. If I hadn't, if I had stayed on in Hollywood, I could not have lasted so long. Now I am able to come back as a new attraction, and, according to what they say, a strong attraction."

Chevalier turned to the subject of love.

"To me, mother love is first. After that, to have loved the girl you married. Outside of that, there is only passion."

Chevalier married the French singer Yvonne Vallee. They were divorced in 1933 after 10 years. He has never remarried.

"I didn't dare to," he said ruefully. "Having missed once, I became frightened over the possibility of another failure."

Asked about his reputation as a Gallic lover, Chevalier smiled.

"Any Frenchman is a Gallic lover," he said. "I was the Gallic lover on the screen. In life, as a Gallic lover, I have been no better than any other."

The ragged urchin who began singing in music halls at 14 to support his mother and two brothers has come a long way. His next-door neighbor is Gen. Lauris Norstad. The supreme commander of the North Atlantic Treaty forces is an occasional visitor.

Nike Can Do Double Duty

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The Army says its powerful Nike Hercules not only can be used as a ground-to-air weapon now, but also as a ground-to-ground missile.

But it will say no more than the announcement yesterday: "Nike-Hercules can now be used in a surface-to-surface role."

The Army spokesman declined to comment one way or the other on a report that ground-to-ground tests with the Nike-Hercules have been made at White Sands missile range in New Mexico, but the El Paso Times said it learned from another source that such tests were successful.

The newspaper quoted one observer as saying, "They can put them in a washtub at a range of 70 miles."

Gasoline Tax, Postal Rate Hike Studied

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is weighing the possibility of a billion-dollar increase in gasoline taxes and postal rates. The aim: to help offset red ink spending that will push the national debt to a record peak this year.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans said officials will decide within 60 days whether to ask Congress for such boosts.

Stans briefed newmen yesterday on new figures for the biggest, most unbalanced budget in peacetime history.

For the 1959 fiscal year which began July 1, the Budget Bureau's midyear review forecast a deficit of $12,223,000,000—the highest since World War II.

In announcing the new figure, Stans said the administration will hold up spending of more than a billion dollars of extra defense funds voted by Congress for weapons procurement over a period of years. The total included 320 million authorized for the current fiscal year.

President Eisenhower, in his January budget message to Congress, had predicted a 1959 budget surplus of 466 million dollars, but shrinking revenues and higher spending prospects soon outdated that estimate.

The bureau said spending will soar to $79,223,000,000, more than five billion above the January estimate and some seven billion above actual outlays last year. Increased spending for farm programs and antirecession projects accounted for most of the rise.

Revenues will drop to 67 billion dollars, the bureau said. This is almost 7½ billion below the January calculation and two billion below 1958 collections.

This prospective drop was bamed on a recession slump in corporation income tax, down $3,700,000,000, and excise payments, off 880 million. Individual income taxes, while hitting a new peak total, are expected to be 2½ billions less than earlier estimates.

The budget chief said the latest estimates assume the recovery movement will continue through the fiscal year at its present rate.

Stans said the special fund for the national superhighway construction program will be in the red by 900 million dollars in the 1960 fiscal year which begins July 1. Unless Congress increases user taxes on gasoline and tires, he said, this money will have to come out of the regular budget.

He also said operations of the Post Office Department will be in the red by many millions of dollars unless rates are rasied again. Postage rates went up Aug. 1, but not as much as Eisenhower had recommended. In addition, postal workers were granted a bigger pay boost than the administration wanted.

Although Stans didn't discuss it, the budget review also raised the possibility that the Eisenhower administration will have to ask Congress next year to raise the national debt limit for the third time in 18 months.

It forecast the debt will be 283 billion dollars next June 30—well above the previous Korean War peak. Since the temporary debt limit of 288 billion will drop to 283 billion on the following day, the estimate suggested another increase is inevitable.

Bumper farm crops account for the largest single increase in spending over January estimates. Because price support programs will cost much more, Agriculture Department expenditures now are expected to hit $4,100,000,000—up $1,600,000,000 from January.

Spending for housing programs will rise a billion dollars, the bureau said, mostly because of antirecession legislation to support home mortgage credit. Unemployment programs will require 500 million more.

The postal deficit is estimated at 700 million dollars, compared with 100 million estimated in January.

Defense outlays will rise only 500 million dollars above the earlier estimate. However, the new calculations of $40,800,000,000 for defense absorbs a 500-million-dollar contingency fund which Eisenhower requested in January.

A Junior Editors Quiz About TELEVISION

QUESTION: Who invented TV?

• • •

ANSWER: This modern miracle is not the brainchild of one inventor, in the sense that Edison created the electric light or Morse the telegraph. To give the proper credits, let's first sum up briefly how TV works.

The substance cesium gives off electrons in response to light when sealed in a vacuum tube. The scene to be televised is focused on a screen covered with millions of tiny cesium-covered particles. Each one is charged electrically according to the amount of light falling on it. An electronic beam in the studio cameras "scans" or travels rapidly around the screen and impulses from this electric eye are broadcast and picked up by receiving sets. Here, a similar beam recreates what was seen on a luminous screen. Only one point at a time is actually sent over the air, but the movement of the beams is so fast that you seem to see the whole at once.

"Scanning" was experimented with by P. Nipkow in Germany in 1894, using a rotating disk; but the all-electric system we use today was not originated until 1930. Credit for outstanding work should go to V.K. Zworykin and P.T. Farnsworth in the United States, J.L. Baird in England and Von Ardenne in Germany, as well as to the research departments of the various TV manufacturing and broadcasting companies.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Most of us just enjoy TV without worrying about how it works. Yet, if you have an itch to understand about electronics, follow that impulse! You'll be the man of tomorrow.

Weissmuller Having Financial Trouble

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Johnny Weissmuller, onetime screen Tarzan, says he's in bad shape—financially.

The matter came up in court yesterday after his ex-wife Beryl Scott Weissmuller Ginter testified that Weissmuller was $5,750 behind in support payments for their three children.

Weissmuller's attorney said the actor didn't make a dime last year but is under contract to do some more "Jungle Jim" films for television. Mrs. Ginter asked that Weissmuller be held in contempt. The court took the request under study.

Red Shelling Makes Beach On Quemoy Unpleasant Spot

OVER THE FORMOSA STRAIT (AP)—I spent one hour in a sandy hell.

It wasn't the sand of Quemoy's beach that made it so unpleasant. It was the concussion and terrible crackling thunder of Communist shells from the mainland 12 miles away landing nearby.

The first pink hint of dawn was showing over the Formosa Strait as we five newsmen drove to Satao beach. The paved highway was pitted here and there by shell holes and marked by vehicles in the ditch from yesterday's intense shelling, the heaviest since the Red bombardment of the Quemoy group began three weeks ago.

Waiting for the plane from Formosa, we shared a beach dugout with Capt. Sze Hsin-ho, a navigator. His plane left him and a radio operator in a quick takeoff just four minutes after landing when shells burst only 10 to 20 yards away. The Reds have fired at every plane this week, including the one that brought us in.

The sound of Communist shells hitting on the opposite side of Quemoy and on nearby Little Quemoy as well as Nationalis return fire could be heard as our plane came skimming in low over the water.

The twin-engine C46 had to circle once before it landed on the beach. It landed out of enemy sight—but the Reds on Weitou Peninsula had seen it coming in. Nationalist officers and five newsmen dashed from the plane as mail sacks and medical supplies were unloaded.

"Any minute now you'll hear the chi-chi-chi noise of close shells," Capt. Sze said.

We newsmen and a dozen soldiers got on a weapons carrier for the 300-yard dash to the plane. We were 50 yards away when it happened — the sharp cracking of shells bursting overhead, showering the beach with deadly shrapnel, and the thudding of high explosive shells into the beach. Everyone jumped from the vehicle except AP photographer Fred Waters, who tried vainly to turn off the runway.

We dived in two-foot-deep trenches 100 yards away and buried our faces between steel helmets and the sand. I recalled that I'd heard an American military adviser urge the Nationalists two days ago to provide sandbag protection at the beach airstrip but nothing had been done about it.

There was a discussion of whether it was better to get killed or wounded by shrapnel or to crash in a shelled plane. We decided to run back to the better protection of the cliffs. We made it after taking cover along the way in a sand gully during a five-minute barrage. Someone said the shells were landing only 100 yards off; 300 or 400 yards probably was more correct, but I failed to check.

In the cliffside bunkers we met the arriving newsmen. They included two Americans, Sol Sanders of McGraw-Hill and M.Sgt. Tommy Thompson from New Orleans. Leaving with Waters and me were Charles Smith of United Press International, Charles Lowe of Movietone News and Jhy Yuen Tsao of the Nationalist Central News Agency.

Finally we made it to the plane 66 minutes after it had landed, tossed out our steel helmets for someone else to use, and held our breath as the plane took off and wheeled east into the sun.

As we left, shells were hitting a few hundred yards from the spot the plane had stood.

"We're not really safe until 10 minutes out," muttered Waters. "One of these days they're going to hit one of these planes."

SA Lauded By Allred

AUSTIN (AP)—The founder of the Texas Parole Supervision System paid tribute to the Salvation Army yesterday for providing "the human touch" in handling ex-convicts.

"The Salvation Army furnishes the most important thing—the human touch," said Federal Dist. Judge James Allred at a luncheon here. "You should keep on using the volunteer services of the Salvation Army, even though you have a paid system now."

Vincent O'Leary, director of the Texas Parole Supervisory System, promised that his paid workers would continue to utilize the services of the Salvation Army as well as the work of volunteer parole boards throughout the state.

Allred and O'Leary, along with Gov. Daniel and Col. Ernest Pickering, Texas divisional commander of the Salvation Army, discussed the state's new paid parole system at a luncheon and press conference.

Ticket Collector Gets Stern Warning

BERKELEY, Calif. (ap) — Sarah Hazelis handed Municipal Judge Redmond Spaats $100 and drew this warning: "If you get any more tickets, we'll have to use more serious methods."

The payment was the final instalment on $1,366 in parking tickets the State Department of Public Health employe had collected in two years.

"I just got careless," she explained and added, "I've rented a parking space."

Texas Water Table Takes Seasonal Dip

AUSTIN (AP)—Water supplies in the major Texas reservoirs declined as usual during August and most streams were at low seasonal flows, the Board of Water Engineers said yesterday.

Usable water in the reservoirs totaled 8,927,920 acre feet, a drop of 345,390 acre feet during the month. The supply was 88 per cent of conservation capacity while total water in storage, including unusable water, was less than half storage capacity at 10,298,590 acre feet.

All - time lows were set in the water levels for two wells in the Houston district. Water level declines ranged from 0.7 foot to 5.5 feet for wells in San Antonio, Pasadena, Atascosa County and Travis County.

Wells in El Paso, Uvalde and the Winter Garden area near La Pryor recorded rises of water levels of 0.7 foot to 4.6 feet.

Air Force Calls Off Launching Of Atlas

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force called off a launching of its Atlas intercontinental range ballistic missile early today when technical trouble developed just prior to liftoff.

The Atlas, the nation's most powerful war missile, sat caught in the rays of floodlights for several hours before the malfunction was detected during the crucial countdown.

Air Force officials announced only that technical trouble caused the scrub. The shoot will be rescheduled at an early date.

Bride In School Stirs Controversy

MIDLAND PARK, N.J. (AP)—Do marriage and high school mix?

Mrs. Hope Skinner Nyman, a 16-year-old senior who returned to Midland Park High School a bride, can't see why not.

But a group of parents in this community of 6,500 feel the mixture is a dangerous one. They've asked the Board of Education to expel the girl or at least bar her from extracurricular activities.

The board, caught in the middle of the first such controversy since the high school was opened two years ago, is awaiting a legal opinion from Borough Atty. John Hammersma Jr.

Meanwhile, Hope keeps going to school every day, and the parents keep fuming.

The storm broke without warning Tuesday night, when about 30 parents appeared at a board meeting and complained that Hope has been telling tales of marital bliss in school.

"My daughters came home the first day and talked of nothing else," one mother complained.

"It's the number one topic in town," said another.

Hope, queen of the junior prom last spring, is head cheerleader and active in a number of school organizations. In addition, the pretty brunette works as a part-time model.

The parents pointed out that Hope is always in the limelight in school and said they fear other girls may follow her example and get married.

In asking for a legal opinion, Board President Fred F. dePlanque noted that state law provides free public education to all persons from 5 to 20 years of age, without mentioning anything about their marital status.

Hope herself, who was not present at the meeting, denied discussing her married life with other students and added: "When I'm in school I act like a schoolgirl, and at home I act like a housewife."

The girl eloped last month with Richard A. Nyman, 20, a moving van worker. They were subsequently remarried at the Wyckoff Reformed Church and now live at the Skinners' home.

Harold A. Skinner, father of the bride and a member of the board, said other parents are simply jealous of Hope's looks and achievements.

Child Bride's Mother Free Of Charges

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Charges of being an unfit mother and of contributing to the delinquency of a minor daughter were behind her today and Mrs. Marriam Clary was a free woman.

Mrs. Clary, who consented to the marriage of her daughter, Edna, 12, to Mackley Stidham, 25, a cottonpicker once a convicted bigamist, heard Asst. Dist. Joe Ross withdraw the complaint charging she was an unfit mother yesterday.

Mrs. Clary, 32, mother of seven, earlier had been freed of the other charge which also grew out of the Aug. 1 marriage of Edna and Mackley in Plainview, Tex. Ross said investigators would study the case and that it was possible a later complaint would be filed against the woman.

As soon as the complaint was dropped, Mrs. Clary took Edna and her oldest daughter, Georgia, 13, and went to the children's shelter here to pick up her other five children.

Then, she said, she would go to the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Grubbs of San Antonio.

Before the withdrawal of the charge yesterday, Mrs. Clary had testified that all her children were in good health and that she had agreed to annul Edna's marriage. She said she wanted the girl to continue in school.

Stidham still faces a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Smile Of Lassie's Pal Loses Charm

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There was a gasp of dismay when Jon Provost, 8, Lassie's pal on the TV series, smiled at the camera.

"He looks like an alligator!" said the director.

Jon's winsome smile had lost some of its charm—two front baby teeth were missing. He didn't match previous shots made for the filmed show.

New Minister Here Also Song Writer

New pastor of the Church of God, Twenty-first Street and Avenue O, is the Rev. William L. Hopper, who moved here last week from Fort Worth.

Rev. Hopper and his family are living in the church parsonage at 2104 Avenue O.

He succeeds the Rev. B. A. Ratchford, who retired because of illness and moved to Ranger. Rev. Ratchford had been pastor of the church for a number of years.

The new pastor has been in full-time evangelistic work for about a year. Prior to that time, he held a pastorate in Denton County.

He has been in the ministry eight years and was formerly a building contractor. He served in the Navy during WorM War II. A native of Fort Worth, he had his schooling there.

Rev. Hopper has been a song writer for the Stamps Quartet Music Co. for about 15 years and in that time has had about 50 religious songs published. He has written several lately.

Three of his songs have been recorded by the Stamps Quartet of Dallas. Two which were on Columbia labels were "Who" and "Treasures at the End of the Trail"

The song, "Who," has been very popular and has played on most West Texas radio stations. The other song recorded was "It's a Holy Way," on the new Stamps label which the quarter has begun to use lately. Recorded about a month ago, the song will be released in about a week.

SAVING GRACE

(Question) "Does Grace exclude obedience in Salvation?"

(Answer) No, grace does not exclude obedience, because grace teaches us to obey. Paul said, "For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world;" (Titus 2:11) It was God's grace manifest in the sending of His Son into the world. Man had done nothing to deserve such favor, thus it was unmerited. Man can lay hold upon this grace or Salvation by Obedient Faith. "Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; by whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God" (Rom.5:1-2). We must have the right kind of faith, however. There is a faith that will not result in salvation. "Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him, but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue: for they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God" (John 12:42-43). The parable of the sower in Luke 8:4-15 teaches us that the seed of the kingdom is the word of God. When this seed falls into an honest heart it will produce faith of the right kind, the kind that will obey. "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven" (Matt.7:21).
