Panhandle Is Digging Out Of Latest Storm

By The Associated Press

Telephone crews were restoring damaged circuits and the Panhandle was shoveling out of a blanket of snow Friday after a vicious but shallow norther blasted the northwest corner of the state Thursday night.

Power and telephone lines were put out of commission by ice and snow. A dangerous glaze of ice made driving "extremely hazardous" and stranded many motorists temporarily.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. offices in Dallas said 329 long distance circuits in the storm area were out of service at one time. A total of 63 men were working in the Panhandle-South Plains area to restore service. Reports said most of the trouble was from storm-caused shorting.

The company listed 14 towns without phone service Friday morning. They were Cotton Center, Olton, Edmondson, Silverton, Claude, Goodnight, Groom, Sunray, Bovina, Friona, Hale Center, Tulia, Lockney and Hereford.

Vega and Dumas were isolated Thursday but service was restored by Bell's emergency radio equipment.

The snowfall ranged from two to three inches at Lubbock to around 10 inches at Akin.

Snow reached into North Central Texas Friday morning. At 9 a.m. it was snowing at Sherman, Denton, Gainesville, Dallas and Mineral Wells. Tyler and Longview had rain.

At the same time, Laredo and Brownsville had blowing dust. The severe storm area in the Panhandle and South Plains was clear or clearing. Temperatures included Amarillo 25, El Paso 28, Salt Flat 22, Lubbock 30, Dallas 36, Wichita Falls and Midland 33 and Brownsville 55.

DRILLING REPORT

Humble No. 5-B Sorrells in the Diamond M Canyon field took a core at 6,789-799 feet and recovered 10 feet lime with a trace of porosity and oil odor. It is preparing to drillstem test the same section.

Seaboard No. 1 King in Dawson County, at a plugback total depth of 4,340 feet in lime, is pumping to test and complete. On the last 24 hours of the test it pumped 45 barrels oil and three barrels of water. It is continuing to test.

Robinson No. 1 Louis Conrad, Southeast Borden wildcat, swabbed on open hole in the Clear Fork at 4,165-184 feet, which was treated with 1,800 gallons acid, and it swabbed an estimated one and one-half barrels oil per hour for 21 hours after acidizing. It is now preparing to re-acidize and test further.

Texaco No. 2 M. A. Fuller, North Scurry wildcat, is preparing to take electric log surveys on total depth of 8,063 feet in lime.

Sun No. 1 Dean in Dawson County drilled to 2,565 feet in lime and cemented intermediate casing on bottom. It will drill the plug and drill deeper.

Humble No. 1-B Coleman in Northwest Mitchell County spudded to 498 feet in shale, and it is now preparing to set and cement eight and five-eights inch surface casing and drill deeper.

More MIGs In Korea Downed By UN Pilots

SEOUL, Jan. 23 (AP)—Allied Sabre jets destroyed four Communist MIG-15s and damaged seven in clear skies over northwest Korea today, the Fifth Air Force reported.

It brought to 15 the number of Russian-built jets knocked down in three days. At least 13 have been damaged.

The Air Force earlier had reported three MIG's destroyed today but a study of gun camera films showed another went down.

Capt. Delphin P. Overton III, Andrews, S. C., was credited with bagging his fourth MIG in three days—the hottest record in the current series.

He got his MIG today—only one more to go to become an ace—on his 148th mission.

Perjury Case Of Basketball Star Is Turned Over To Jury

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—The defense rested today in the perjury trial of William Spivey, seven-foot former All-America and University of Kentucky basketball star.

Spivey is on trial on charges that he lied before a New York County grand jury probing basketball fixing scandals when he denied that he even agreed to rig scores or that he ever took bribes from gamblers.

The defense completed its case in General Sessions Court after five Kentucky businessmen, a professional football player, two of Spivey's fraternity brothers and a marine sergeant testified that Spivey's reputation for honesty and veracity was excellent.

Spivey yesterday completed testimony in his own behalf. He emphatically denied that he ever agreed to rig basketball scores or that he took bribes.

HAPPY CHANDLER CALLED

When the testimony was completed, Judge Saul S. Streit denied a defense motion for dismissal.

Harold O. N. Frankel of Spivey's counsel argued for dismissal on the ground the sole testimony offered by the prosecution was that of two "self-confessed perjurers, James Line and Walter Hirsch."

Judge Streit, hearing the case with a jury of eight men and four women, ruled that there was "a question of fact, and it is for the jury to decide, not the court."

Two character witnesses were called by the defense yesterday.

One was former Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, one-time U. S. senator, Kentucky governor and basketball coach.

Chandler was asked his view of the Kentucky-St. Louis game at New Orleans Dec. 29, 1950—a contest in which the state says Spivey tried to fix the scores for benefit of a gambler.

Chandler said he saw the game and thought the 23-year-old Spivey played sensationally, better than any one else on the court.

Prison Terms For Four West Texans

EL PASO, Jan. 23 (AP)—Prison sentences ranging from two to five years were imposed today on four West Texas cattlemen found guilty of smuggling cattle from Mexico.

Heaviest sentence in U. S. District Court was imposed on Walter (Dixie) Babb, Indian Hot Springs, Tex., rancher. He was given a five-year sentence on each of six counts of smuggling and transporting stolen cattle and two years on each of two other counts, the sentences to run concurrently.

Wayne Babb, Walter's brother, was sentenced to three years on each of six counts and two years on another count, all to run concurrently.

Irvin Babb, another brother, was given a three-year sentence on his conviction on each of two counts and two years on another conviction, the sentences to run concurrently.

Joseph T. Marchant, Midland, Tex., cattle buyer, was given a two-year suspended sentence on his conviction on two counts and he was fined $3,000. The court ordered that the fine be paid within 30 days or the sentence would be imposed.

Defense Attorney W. H. Fryer indicated an appeal would be filed. Appeal bond for each of the convicted men was set at $5,000.

Three truckers from Big Spring, Tex., charged with the four men convicted, were found innocent by the federal jury hearing the case. They were Herman L., Fred and Leonard Wilkerson.

The temperature dropped to within three degrees of the freezing mark last night and had only climbed to 37 degrees by 7:30 o'clock this morning, according to Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, official weather observer.

The high temperature yesterday was 48 degrees, she said. There was no measurable amount of moisture, Mrs. Strayhorn reported.

SubpoenaesFor Shady Persons

GALVESTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Brothel keepers, gamblers and tavern owners are being subpoenaed by the dozens here to appear before the federal grand jury at Austin, Jan. 27 in what is believed to be a new investigation of income and gambling tax evasion.

Some 50 subpoenaes were received here for service yesterday and more were expected today, U. S. Deputy Commissioner C. B. Jackson said.

U. S. Dist. Atty. Charles Herring at Austin last night told a reporter a large number of subpoenaes had been issued.

He said some of the subpoenaes might have been issued in connection with the forthcoming trials of Fred Ford, former Galveston chief of police, and Benjamin S. Brown, Galveston retail merchant, who have been indicted on charges of income tax evasion.

Militant Mary Isn't Paying Social Security

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 23 (AP)—The job of collecting a $42 social security bill from a Mississippi woman editor who refused to pay it is now a legal matter instead of an administrative matter.

James Enochs, collector of internal revenue who was unsuccessful in his year-long attempt to force payment by Mrs. Mary Cain of Summit, said yesterday the case is now in the hands of the U. S. justice department.

Wilson Before Panel As Way Is Eased For Post

Temporary Air Service Asked By Citizens

Snyder and Scurry citizens submitted their final brief to the Civil Aeronautics Board today preceding the board's final hearing in Washington within the next two months.

In the brief, prepared by James Rosser, attorney representing the city and county in the airline service case, and Leon Huff, Chamber of Commerce manager, proposals were made to give Winston Field here two of Sweetwater's six flights served by Pioneer Air lines.

The brief asked for one south and east bound flight, and one north and west bound.

"This proposal would serve Snyder with two flights daily with very little, if any, additional cost to Pioneer Airlines or the federal government," the brief stated.

Throughout the brief, statements were made that Herbert K. Bryan, CAB examiner, did not investigate or study the facts before he recommended that Snyder be denied service.

In answer to Bryan's statement that the population does not indicate a substantial traffic potential, the brief said that Snyder's population and that in Scurry County has continued to increase since the 1950 census was taken.

Answering Bryan's opinion that, "It is doubtful that they would generate an appreciable volume of traffic," the brief stated that extensive development of oil here would generate the needed potential. It also reminded the board that persons here submitted air pledges indicating more than 500 trips a month from here if service is granted.

"To deprive this county of air transportation for its present use would automatically take the bottom from our economy and the advancement of commerce in this area," the brief stated.

In the brief, the board was asked to grant the proposal of two of Sweetwater's flights daily for a trial period of one year.

Black Market Trouble With Elephants Noted

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—A Burmese Army spokesman says the government will seek the aid of neighboring Thailand (Siam) in stamping out a rebel blackmarket trade in elephants.

The secretary of the Burmese Defense Department told a press conference last night that notes will be exchanged with the Thai government over aid allegedly being given Karen rebels and Chinese Nationalist troops who fled from the Communists and are now holding out in the back country of Burma.

One freight car toppled on an auto driven by Miss Sally Hotchkiss, 26, of Martins Ferry, O. Auto in lower right of picture. She suffered serious injuries. Another fell 60 feet to the roadside. The derailment of the Pittsburgh-West Virginia train was blamed on a broken wheel

President Holding His First Cabinet Meeting This Morning

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower and most of the new Cabinet sat down in the White House today for their first formal session.

With Charles E. Wilson not yet cleared into the official family, the Defense Department was represented by W. J. McNeil.

McNeil, an assistant secretary of defense in the Truman administration, is now the department's ranking official and acting secretary.

The first big problem to confront the new Republican regime may have been solved last night when Wilson, at a White House meeting with Eisenhower, agreed to dispose of his 2½ million dollars worth of General Motors stock. The President then formally nominated him to be secretary of defense.

Wilson's decision to get rid of the stock to clear an apparent legal barrier to his winning Senate approval brought predictions from some influential senators that he would be confirmed.

But there were indications from other quarters that a question would be raised as to whether the former GM president has other financial interests which might still stand in the way.

The men Eisenhower selected for the eight other Cabinet posts already have been confirmed by the Senate and have been sworn into office. They and five other top officials of the new administration were scheduled to meet with the President to discuss a wide range of foreign and domestic problems.

Unknown Man Bitten By Dog With Rabies

TYLER, Jan. 23 (AP)—An unidentified truck driver was the object of an East Texas search today because the dog which bit him near Bullard has been found to be rabid.

Dr. W. R. Ross, director of the city-county health unit, here said residents of Bullard didn't remember the driver's name but he was driving a truck for the G&W Improvement Co.

Truman Having Little Trouble Adjusting To His New Freedom

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—That fellow you couldn't help bumping into all over Jackson County today was Harry S. Truman.

Just to look at him, strolling along the sidewalks, with an infectious grin on his face, you would never guess three days ago he was president of the United States if you hadn't seen his picture in the papers so often.

The new ex-President was taking the problem of adjustment after nearly eight years in the White House, with all its attendant burdens, in easy stride.

And so was Jackson County—Kansas City, where he has his new private offices; Independence, where he and Mrs. Truman live in the big white frame house on North Delaware Street; and Grandview, where his family has a farm.

When you consider that this 68-year-old man, with the blue eyes twinkling beneath his thick lensed spectacles, came home only Thursday night after turning over the White House to Dwight D. Eisenhower, you had to admit that the adjustment was coming along fine.

This reporter bumped into Truman at his offices on the 11th floor of the Federal Reserve Bank Building, where the ex-President tackled the job of answering hundreds of letters and telegrams.

"I feel like a country boy in the big city again," Truman asserted.

He said that he didn't know what kind of job he would take and wouldn't make a decision for some time on the many offers he has received.

"But I won't do anything that would reflect on, or commercialize, the great office I have held," he said.

At the present time, he added, he does not consider there is any possibility that he will run for congress, and he doesn't think that he will seek any office again.

Pilot Saved After Crash By Quick Action Of Air Rescue Team

TOKYO, Jan. 23 (AP)—A U. S. jet pilot was trapped helplessly in his F84 Thunderjet today when it crash landed in rugged, snowbound northern Japan. Only 40 minutes later he was in a military hospital being treated for a broken leg.

Two air-rescue medics parachuted into four feet of snow within five minutes after witnesses gave the alert. They administered first aid and a helicopter completed the rescue.

The injured man's name was withheld.

The helicopter was piloted by Capt. Richard V. Gerdau, Los Angeles. The other helicopter crewman was a para-medic, T. Sgt. Onie V. Hale, Brashear, Hopkins County, Tex.

Ag Department Men Nervous

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Thousands of job-nervous Agriculture Department employes wondered today where and when the axe will fall in Secretary Benson's announced plan for overhauling their agency.

President Eisenhower's new farm chief made plain in announcements yesterday that he intends to cut the size of the department in an effort to economize on an agency which spends and lends more than any other civilian agency.

The great bulk of the department's 58,000 full-time workers have civil service status—that is, they cannot be removed without cause or unless their type of work is done away with.

A Benson memorandum to employes carried an implication that pay raises may be far between. It said most of Benson's new aides "are serving at great financial sacrifice because they have a deep sense of public duty and a desire to be of service to agriculture."

Confirmation Appears Sure From Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Charles E. Wilson went before the Senate Armed Services Committee again today, his way now eased for Senate confirmation as defense secretary.

The White House announced last night Wilson had volunteered to dispose of his 2½ million dollars worth of stock in General Motors, the firm he headed before President Eisenhower picked him for defense secretary.

That decision, called for by key senators who cited a law forbidding a government official to have an interest in a firm doing business with the government, apparently removed the big barrier to confirmation.

Wilson's formal nomination went up only last night and Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) called the Armed Services Committee into a closed-door session this morning to consider it.

Saltonstall said he expected the committee to give its approval today.

Wilson told a reporter he would prefer to have his testimony today at a public hearing rather than behind closed doors.

"I guess it's too late to ask that now," he added.

In addition to the committee members, Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), a friend of Wilson, also was present.

Saltonstall said no action would be taken by the Senate committee on four Defense Department assistants for Wilson until their nominations were formally submitted by the White House.

Asked whether each of them also must agree to sell stock or securities in any corporations having defense contracts, Saltonstall said he would have no comment until the nominations formally arrived.

Wilson's retention of a financial interest in the company had aroused strong opposition in the Senate. As a result, Eisenhower left out the defense secretaryship when he submitted the names of his other Cabinet choices on Tuesday.

In the defense post, Wilson would be in position to deal with GM, the department's biggest private contractor. And a federal law long on the statute books bars any federal official from transacting business with a firm in which he holds even an indirect financial interest.

Peasants Taking Land Reform Into Own Hands Under Red Guidance

GUATEMALA, Guatemala (AP)—Police say knife-wielding peasants in Southeastern Guatemala are taking the national land reform law into their own hands and are seizing plantation property.

Four hundred farm workers armed with matchetes were reported yesterday to have grabbed land in the Asuncion Mita area near the El Salvador border. Police said they were led by a regional officer of the Confederation of Farm Workers, a Communist-dominated group.

Guatemala's strong Communist party, which is closely tied in with the government of President Jacobo Arbenz, has agitated for forced partitioning of land. This has already led to bloodshed in several areas.

Capitulation Of Prisoners Ends Police Attack Plans

BELLEFONTE, Pa. (AP)—A band of 325 rebel convicts, mindful of a tightening ring of heavily armed state police and unnerved by the roar of National Guard fighter planes overhead, surrendered unconditionally last night to the "get tough" orders of Gov. John S. Fine.

The rebels released six guard hostages shortly before 7 o'clock, EST, and then filed meekly back into their cells from the barricaded building they had turned into a fortress.

None of the hostages had been harmed, although one was near the point of exhaustion from his 72-hour ordeal.

The convicts—a holdout segment of a riot that started last Monday—tossed out through the shattered windows of the cellblock the eight revolvers, five hundred rounds of ammunition and tear gas equipment that had been one of the main concerns of the prison officials during the insurrection.

Their surrender made unnecessary a planned attack on the cellblock strong point by state policemen and alerted National Guard units.

Earlier in the afternoon while planes were buzzing the building the prisoners dropped a note through a barred window asking to see the Catholic chaplain, Rev. Richard Walsh. When Father Walsh went to the wall of the building, the men shouted down that they were willing to give up if state officials would agree to an earlier offer that there would be no reprisals for the riot. The governor made that offer two days ago and it had been accepted by the men in two adjacent cell blocks.

State Atty. Gen. Robert E. Woodside, after a conference with the governor, replied in a note that "only an unconditional surrender will be accepted." He ordered the prisoners to turn over their guns and ammunition to the priest or to the hostage guards who were to be released immediately.

Shortly thereafter the convicts shouted they were willing to give up and started dropping the guns and ammunition from the windows. The guards emerged "without a scratch" from the building. Five were taken to their homes and one, Paul Gingher, was removed to the prison hospital. He was not injured but appeared suffering from nervous exhaustion.

State police then converged on the building and the convicts returned to their cells without a word.

One of the hostage guards, Melvin E. Williams, 46, said at his home last night he believed the turning point of the situation was the psychological effect of the droning planes overhead.

"Tension was mounting while they (the prisoners) were trying to negotiate," he said, adding that throughout their confinement the six guards were treated well and that none of the rebels had made any threats.

Referring to the planes, Williams said they "had a strong bearing on their (the prisoners') morale." It was while the planes were overhead, he said, that the men decided to call for the chaplain.

Williams said the guards didn't have a chance to suppress the riot at the onset.

"It was a concerted movement. They took us all over at the same time and that was it," he added.

The riot, which featured burning of mattresses and prison furniture and several random shots fired inside the cellblock, began during a recreation period after dinner last Monday night—only minutes after settlement of another rebellion at the parent institution, Western State Penitentiary at Pittsburgh, 160 miles west of here.

No one was injured in the Pittsburgh riot, which lasted 24 hours, but official estimates of prisoner damage to their quarters amounted to several hundred thousand dollars.

Legislators Concern Selves With Divorce Rate In State

AUSTIN, Jan. 23 (AP)—Legislators realize they can't pass a law making a man love his wife—or vice versa—but they want to do something about almost 40,000 divorces a year in Texas.

Already four bills have been introduced and others are ready on marriage and divorce problems.

The idea of the new proposed law is a "cooling off period—give 'em time to think it over."

The first attack was on marriages—because there can't be a divorce unless someone's married.

STOP 'GIN' WEDDINGS

What some legislators want to do is stop the "gin" weddings of couples who stagger up to take their vows with a merry will but no intentions to make them last any longer than the fun lasts.

Nowadays a couple has to have a certificate saying they're free of veneral disease before they can get a marriage license. Once they have the license, they can get married without delay.

What one bill introduced this past week would do is make them apply for a license then wait 48 hours before they can be married.

"Give 'em time to think about it," said its author, Sen. Doyle Willis of Fort Worth.

And if a married couple wants a divorce, another bill would require a 90-day waiting period between the time of filing and the time the trial starts.

'THINK IT OVER'

"Give 'em time to think it over," Willis, the author, said again.

Rep. Bill Miller of Houston has the same bill in the House, and he would require a 180-day waiting period if the couple has children.

Thousands of persons decide each year they really didn't mean it about leaving forever or going home to mama. Records show that in Texas in 1951, 37,150 divorces were granted, but 52,668 were filed.

There's another bill Willis is ready to introduce. It would make it illegal for a person to marry within a year after he or she got a divorce and make it a felony with a two to five-year prison sentence if he or she does. It's illegal in Texas now, but there's no punishment for it and nobody pays any attention to it.

STATE BAR ACTION

All these bills are being urged by the State Bar Association of Texas and were recommended by the Civil Judicial Council of the state.

In the House there's another bill that would allow a child of divorced parents to sue them for damages resulting from "wrongful dissolution of marriage or destruction of the family circle." The child could sue the third person who may have caused the wrongful breakup, he could file suit through a friend.

30-Day Jail Sentence Given In Bootlegging Case Yesterday

Truly Marion Holmes, 31, manager of the Calico Cow drive-in cafe, Avenue F and East Highway, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $150 plus court cost of $28.50 yesterday when he was convicted of bootlegging.

Holmes, charged with transportation of whisky for purpose of illegal sale, entered a plea of innocence when brought before the county court yesterday morning and asked for trial by jury. Because he said he had not yet obtained legal counsel, the case was postponed until 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

When the case was called again at 1:15, Holmes announced to the court that Gordon Goss, who purchased the Calico Cow last April, had promised to arrange for an attorney in the case. Edgar Taylor, county judge, said then that he had told Goss the case would be tried at 1 o'clock. Judge Taylor allowed Holmes time to telephone Goss, which he did. Holmes reported to the court again at 1:25 that he had "apparently been deserted" and would stand trial without counsel.

Goss, appearing at the courtroom shortly before the trial ended, told a reporter he had recently sold the Calico Cow to Holmes. Goss' brother, T. C. Goss, who was reported last April as a partner with Gordon Goss in the purchase of the firm, said this morning that he had never been partowner of the Calico Cow, contrary to a report in yesterday's issue of the Daily News.

Witnesses for the state were E. W. Green, highway patrolman and arresting officer, Dan Nowlin and Edward Allen, highway patrolmen from Colorado City who assisted Green in the arrest.

The officers testified that Green pursued the defendant's 1949 Chevrolet sedan at speeds of 85 and 90 miles an hour for about eight miles on the Big Spring highway Wednesday afternoon because the car was seen weaving on the highway at high speed. Green testified he stopped Holmes for investigation of driving while intoxicated but that during the pursuit he radioed to the other patrolmen for assistance.

Nowlin and Allen testified they too were patroling the Big Spring highway, saw Green in pursuit while they were investigating another vehicle but responded to Green's call for assistance. All three patrolmen testified that after Green had stopped the car, 24 half-pints of whisky were found in a leather bag between the front and rear seats.

Witnesses called to the stand by the defendant were Floyd Hodges, operator of the 66 Cafe where Holmes was once an employe, Betty Stewart, employe of Calico Cow, and the sheriff, Homer Whisnand.

Hodges was questioned by the defendant as to whether he ever knew the defendant to violate the laws, and the witness said he did not know of such. Miss Stewart was questioned by Holmes as to whether she ever knew the defendant to sell liquor at the Calico Cow. She said she never knew of such and did not believe he sold liquor there. Whisnand was called to the stand by the defendant who asked if the sheriff had been caused any trouble by the defendant since his arrest and if the sheriff had ever known of the Calico Cow being involved in liquor sales. Whisnand said the defendant had not caused him any trouble since his arrest and that he did not know of liquor being sold at Calico Cow. "Have you ever had any reports of bootlegging at the Calico Cow?" the defendant asked.

"I have heard rumors of it," the sheriff answered, "but I have not yet had time to investigate the rumors, and I have had no signed complaints."

In the arguments, Wayland Holt, county attorney, asked the six-man jury to assess a jail sentence in the case. The defendant asked for mercy of the jury but contended he did not have the whisky for sale. "I had one drink too many yesterday and decided to buy plenty of whisky so that I could drink any time I wanted to from the supply," Holmes said.

The jury was in deliberation an hour and 18 minutes. Jurors were Orville Taylor, Lloyd Ainsworth, Travis Rhodes, T. L. Martin, O. M. Martin, and Scott Casey.

Car Dealers, Others Have LawsExplained

D. L. Johnson of the state highway department office in Austin spoke to a group of automobile dealers, highway department personnel, financiers, and tax office personnel in a meeting last night at the district courtroom, explaining laws concerning vehicle titles and registration.

Before the discussion, a motion picture was shown which included operation of the license plate manufacturing plant in the state prison at Huntsville.

Among subjects discussed were cancellation of titles on salvaged or junked vehicles, alteration of titles for vehicles with motors or bodies changed, corrections on titles, applications for titles, repossession of automobiles, and recording of registration suspension under the Driver's Financial Responsibility Law.

Johnson said the highway department had nothing whatever to do with actions connected with this law except that it records registration suspensions made by the Department of Public Safety which has jurisdiction over this and the Motor Vehicle Inspection Law. "All we do is record suspensions and repossession affidavits," he said.

Johnson emphasized accuracy in filing title applications, stressing necessity of adequate description of vehicles. "The body style of a vehicle should always be given as four-door sedan, two-door sedan or coach, business coupe, club coupe, etc.," he said, rather than describing it as a Bel Air, Catalina, or by a code number. Some of those model names that were once used to describe certain body types now refer to any of a series which include many body types.

Jim Ikard, tax collector - assessor, said he had not been instructed to require new inspection certificates before registering cars this year and did not at present plan to require them.

About 25 persons attended the meeting.

Telemeter Test Is Tried In Normally Blacked Out TV Area

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Television came to Palm Springs last election night. The event may have as far-reaching an effect in show business as the Republican victory had in politics.

This desert resort is the guinea pig for a new gadget that could revolutionize the movie and TV business. It's called Telemeter. It has been hailed by many leaders in the film industry as the way to make new movies pay off royally on TV.

How? By having people pay to see the pictures the same way many pay for electricity: putting a coin in a meter.

The Telemeter people needed a locality to prove to doubting Thomases that their device could work. They also needed evidence to support their case before the FCC, which controls the use of the air for broadcasting.

So Palm Springs was chosen. It had been out of the TV picture due to topography. Nestled at the foot of towering Mt. Jacinto, the town was hidden from the unbending waves of the seven Los Angeles TV stations.

This was bad for Palm Springs' business. One trailer camp operator reported losing 50 potential customers in a week. The trailer owners drove on to TV areas when they discovered they couldn't get reception on their sets.

So the town welcomed Telemeter's plan to set up a community antenna system. The company's engineers rigged a coaxial cable from the high-lands down to the town. The job was hurried to meet the election night deadline.

"That night the men practically held the line together with their hands," reported a witness of the historic occasion.

So far only a couple of hotels have had TV. But now facilities are available to all comers. Installation charge is $150, and Telemeter expects to do a land-office business.

But bringing TV to blacked-out areas is only part of Telemeter's ambitious program. In a month or two, the company plans to equip the Palm Springs sets with meters. Set owners will receive an eighth channel with a scrambled picture. By plunking some coins in the meter, they can unscramble the picture and see a new movie or a top sports event.

Lost Marine Wins Way To Friendly Lines

WITH FIRST MARINE DIVISION, Korea, Jan. 23 (AP)—"Hey, I'm a marine, don't shoot!"

Pfc. Fred Y. Roemele dragged himself past the machine gun leveled at his chest and then collapsed. For three hours the young Leatherneck from Jeffersontown, Ky., had been lost in the land nobody owns, dodging Communist soldiers. He had a shattered leg.

Roemele, 22, was a member of a squad which had attacked a Red outpost several nights ago. In the small but savage fight that followed, he had been pinned down by a Communist machine gun.

"They were shooting about six inches over my head," he said. "They could see me in the bright moonlight."

When the squad leader discovered Roemele's absence, he called for a curtain of fire.

"I heard our heavies opening up," he reported. "And the fire shut that Commie gun up in a hurry."

As soon as the guns opened up, Roemele ran. A fragment chewed into his leg. Half conscious, Roemele hurled himself into a hole and then watched as three Communists searched the area for him.

The dazed Marine began crawling to his own lines, guided by the light of tracer bullets. Later he learned the machine guns were firing for the express purpose of guiding him back.

En route he dodged a patrol sent out to look for him. He thought they might be Reds.

200 Tickets To Banquet Sold

About one-third of the tickets for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet had been sold by today, Leon Huff, Chamber manager, reported.

Huff said a little more than 200 tickets have already been sold for the Feb. 13 dinner, at which Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker will be speaker.

Huff said that no members will be given tickets to send out of town to be paid for if used. All tickets sent out in advance must be paid for, he said.

The Chamber manager explained the tickets were cut $1 lower than the price of those last year. He added that the Chamber must keep a close check on the number of tickets sold to avoid confusion as to the number of plates to prepare. He said the Chamber suffered a deficit last year because members did not know the exact number of plates to prepare.

The tickets are $2.50 each and are available at the West Texas State Bank, Snyder National Bank, Chamber office, and from members of the ticket committee, headed by C. N. von Roeder.

Tefteller and Scott are to be tried in the district court at Memphis on similar charges. Two other men convicted here this week are in the county jail awaiting transportation to Huntsville.

Bathroom Heater Fire

A bathroom heater set fire to the wall in which it was located in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Floyd, 2811 Thirty - second Street about 10:20 this morning, and caused minor damage to the house.

Two trucks from the fire station at the city hall went to the scene after the general alarm was sounded, but only one was used to quickly put out the blaze.

Soviets Boast Of Big Gains

MOSCOW, Jan. 23 (AP)—The Soviet Union announced today its 1952 industrial production was 11 per cent higher than 1951's with increases in the output of most basic vital materials and goods.

At the same time, the real income of wage and salary earners rose 7 per cent and that of peasants went up 8 per cent, according to the annual communique of the Soviet Central Statistical Administration.

Industrial production as a whole exceeded its goal by one per cent, the communique said, although seven industries fell short of their state - set target. They included heavy engineering, transport, machinery, agricultural machinery, construction materials, timber, fishing and cotton growing.

(The communique, as usual, gave few actual production figures, listing most of the gains in percentage relationship to the previous year's output. But the percentages given seemed to bear out forecasts made by Vice Premier Georgi M. Malenkov last October.

(At that time, Malenkov gave the following 1952 production figures in metric tons — 2,204.62 pounds each: steel 35 million, pig iron 25 million, rolled steel 27 million, coal 300 million, oil 47 million, electric power 117 billion kilowatt hours.

Temperence Society For Less Drinking Among Government Officials

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—The American Temperance Society was told last night too many governmental decisions have been reached at cocktail parties and that it would be a good idea to bar those who drink from holding public office.

The statement was made at a meeting advertised in advance as an attempt to persuade the new Republican administration that it should cut down on liquor consumption.

The society presented its idea of a model public official: Gov. Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin of Maryland, a Republican.

"I have never permitted myself that first drink," said the teetotaling McKeldin.

He was cheered.

It was McKeldin who nominated Eisenhower for President in Chicago.

We're back to ground meat again at our house, and I would appreciate any new suggestions for preparing the meat into main dishes. V. R.

Meat Ball Dumpling Stew is a different recipe using ground meat. For the meat balls use the following ingredients:

1 pound ground beef
½ cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
¼ cup chopped onion
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1½ teaspoons prepared mustard
½ cup milk

For the corn meal dumplings, you'll need:

¾ cup sifted enriched flour
¾ cup enriched corn meal
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon sage
¼ cup grated sharp cheese
2 tablespoons shortening
½ cup milk
2 eggs, beaten

The sauce calls for the following ingredients:

2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1 can tomato soup
1½ cups hot water

Combine all ingredients for meat balls. Shape meat mixture into small balls; roll in flour and brown in hot fat. Remove meat balls from the pan.

For the sauce, mix flour with remaining fat in pan. Add chili sauce, soup and hot water. Stir over low heat until well combined and thickened. Replace meat balls and bring mixture to a boil.

For corn meal dumplings, sift together flour, corn meal, baking powder and salt. Add sage and cheese. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk and egg, stirring lightly only until ingredients are well combined. Drop by tablespoonfuls onto boiling meat ball-sauce mixture. Cover tightly and simmer for 12 to 15 minutes. Do not remove the cover while cooking. Serve immediately.

I have lots of uses for hardboiled eggs, but I have a great deal of trouble peeling them. I have tried peeling them as soon as they are boiled, but I usually burn my hands and tear the eggs up just the same. V.

As soon as the eggs are done, chill them immediately in running water. Crack the shell by tapping it with a spoon, loosen by rolling between the hands. Now hold it under running cold water and begin peeling at the large end, where there is air space under the shell.

TODAY'S WOMEN

Africans Take Training In YWCA Work In America

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

The next time you hear a married man expound that "women's place is in the home," you might point to certain husbands in Equatorial Africa as true examples of modern enlightenment.

These broadminded gents let their wives go off globe-trotting for a year while they stay home and mind the children.

Two young matrons from Uganda are among a group of 20 native leaders from all over the world who are in the United States to study YWCA techniques in various communities.

The two emancipated Ugandese are Mrs. Rebecca Mulira, mother of five children, the youngest an infant-in-arms, and Mrs. Kitty Kibuka, who has four children. Both say their husbands practically pushed them on the plane, promising to take good care of the small fry while they are away.

Mrs. Mulira explains that she will be a better mother "after this fairy-tale visit to America." She is active in the Uganda Council of Women, the African Women's Society and the YWCA in Uganda. Her husband is a specialist in African languages and has been a professor at the School of African Studies, London University.

Mrs. Kibuka founded the first African nursery school in Uganda, is president of the Young Group of Tampala, her native city, and plans to teach modern child-care methods to native mothers on her return.

Four of the other 20 young women in the group also have small children. There is, for instance, Mrs. Alfreda de Silva of Ceylon, a Singhalese by birth, who has an 8-year-old daughter. Although she broadcasts regularly over Radio Ceylon she says, "This is absolutely the first time I ever went anywhere alone in my life."

When she's at home, her husband always accompanies her, even on shopping tours, but he told her she must not miss this experience in America.

The women will spend about nine months in the United States, taking on-the-spot training in YW organizations scattered throughout the country.

Mrs. Gladin Henley was returned to her home in northeast Snyder from the Sweetwater hospital yesterday afternoon by Bell ambulance. Mrs. Henley was a medical patient in the hospital.

"I'd like to shake your hand"

says John Wayne

I'VE ALWAYS ADMIRED the kind of people who are real, down-to-earth practical people. Like the men and women who are doing something about their own future and the future of their country—by investing in Defense Bonds. People like you!

Of course, I'm a Defense Bond buyer just as you are. And you know, we aren't the only ones who think Defense Bonds are a good buy. For right now while you read this, you and I and millions of our friends and neighbors all over America own more than 49 billion dollars worth of our country's interest-earning Bonds. The greatest success story of its kind the world has ever known!

I think we have a right to be proud of what we're doing. And it ought to make us proud to be Americans, too. For where else in the world today can you buy real security and peace of mind, and at the same time make an investment in your future and the peaceful future of your country—as you can by buying Defense Bonds?

That's the way I feel about it. And I hope you see things the same way. If you do, then why don't you do as I'm doing and tell all your friends what a good buy U. S. Defense Bonds really are.

If you will, here are just a few of the things you can tell them:

FIRST—Thanks to new Treasury regulations, every Series E Bond we buy begins earning interest after only 6 months. It earns 2½ interest compounded semiannually when held to maturity. It reaches full maturity value earlier (9 years 8 months) and the interest it pays is now bigger at the start.

SECOND—Every Series E Bond we own can now go on earning interest for 10 more years after it reaches the original maturity date—without our lifting finger!

THIRD—During the 10-year extension period, every unmatured bond earns at the new, higher interest rate (average 3% compounded semiannually). Our original $18.75 can now pay us back $23.67. $37.50 pays back $47.34. And so on.

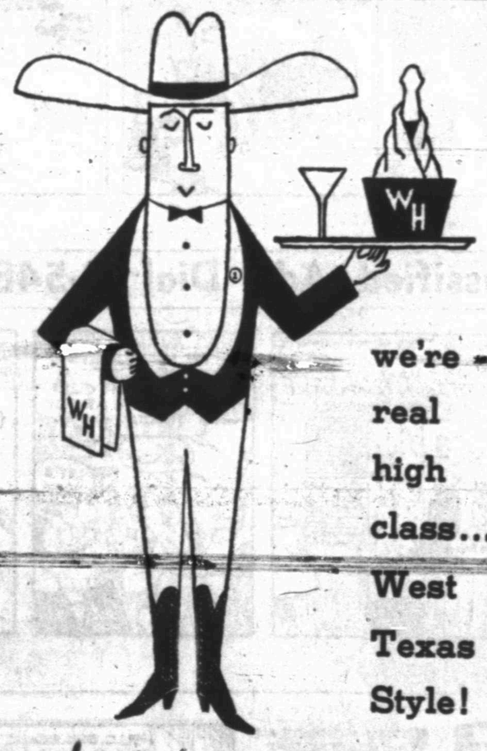

U. S. Defense Bonds are one of the easiest, most convenient forms of saving ever invented. For through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, you can buy bonds on a time payment plan. Just specify the payments, as large or as small as you like, and they will be automatically set aside from your salary. This way you save the money before you spend it. And millions of people have found this is one sure way to save.

Peace is for the strong . . . for peace and prosperity
save with U. S. Defense Bonds!

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

Tigers Are Underdogs As They Take Floor Against Lamesa 5

Still suffering from influenza, the Tiger cage team will be at home for a game tonight when the Lamesa Tornadoes come here for the second district tilt.

Bill Boyd, chief defensive player for the Tigers and top scorer against Plainview Tuesday night, is out of play with the flu, and Ray Courtney, who has been out one game, still has not recovered enough to play, Coach Gene Gibson said.

Leading the Lamesa attack will be Carlos Berry and Darnell Stevens, the two top scorers for the year.

Lamesa, defending district champion, has already put one rough game out of the way by defeating Sweetwater 58-52 Tuesday night. Practically all of Lamesa's district camp team is back on the court this season.

Stevens was second high last year in district scoring to Carl Anderson of Sweetwater, who is again leading the district his season. Stevens scored 142 in the 10 district games. Berry ran ninth in the district with 94 points.

Lamesa's only loss last season during district play was to Vernon. This year the Tornadoes have compiled an 11-5 record.

The Tornadoes this season defeated Lubbock in one game 62-55 and lost to that team in an overtime game 63-57. The Tigers dropped two games to Lubbock 71-59 and 68-55. In the finals of the Levelland tourney, Lamesa downed Denver City 69-56. The Tigers lost to Denver City 60-53 in the second round of the Brownfield tourney. By a score of 58-43, Lamesa beat Brownfield, the team Snyder defeated 55-47.

In other games, Lamesa beat Stanton 69-29, Midland 50-46, and Austin of El Paso twice, 54-52 and 54-40. They lost to Ysleta, Bowie, and Odessa twice.

Gibson said the Tiger squad is in good sprit, confident of an upset over Lamesa. Starting tonight will probably be Ned Underwood, who leads score here with 202 points; Deanie Floyd, who has scored 122; Reagan White, 112; Joe Cargile, 104; and Douglas Ayers, 84. The coach said Ayers, an aggressive defensive player, is constantly improving and looking good this week.

Others playing with the A team tonight will be Joe Galyean, 82 points, and Jimmy Bennett, 65.

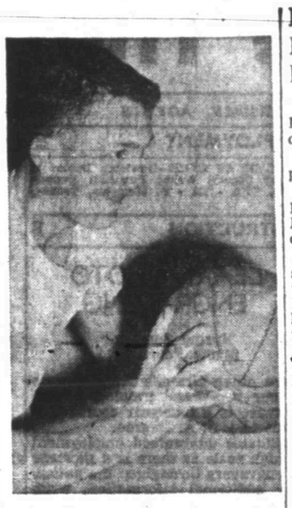

Gibson said Lamesa's club is not tall but that it is very fast, counting on its speed to keep ahead offensively. He has been holding heavy defensive workouts this week in preparation.

Bennett will lead starters on the B team, which has lost only two of nine games this season. Losses were to Lubbock and Plainview.

Bennett leads the B squad in scoring with 131 points. Other starters, according to Coach Hal Battle, will be Jack Spikes, 64 points; Billy Sellers, 16; Don McNew, 14; and Royce Pierce, seven.

DISTRICT STANDINGS

Team	Season	District
Vernon	14-3	1-0
Plainview	13-5	1-0
Lamesa	11-5	1-0
Sweetwater	11-6	0-1
Snyder	8-8	0-1
Big Spring	5-9	0-1

Douglas Ayers, one of the chief Tiger defensive players, is listed among starters in tonight's game against Lamesa here. Also an able offensive player, Ayers has scored 84 points this season. Play opens with the B teams meeting at 6:30 o'clock.

Countryman Of Brion Says He Has No Punch

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Luis Angel Firpo, the "Bull of the Pampas" in the golden '20s, was watching the current crop of boxers do their stuff at Stillman's Gym.

"Very few good heavyweights," he said through an interpreter. "In Argentina we have good bantam, welter and middle. Cesar Brion is our only good heavyweight. He good fighter but too bad he no punch."

Firpo, reportedly a millionaire, said he has "three or four" ranches near Buenos Aires, coverıng some 1,000 acres. He has 7,000 head of cattle—some bulls but no fighting bulls. Just eating bulls.

He came up for the boxing writers dinner last week and will remain another week, renewing old acquaintances.

Around the gym they say Brion will be matched with Archie Moore in a non-title scrap at St. Louis, Feb. 5. It's not official yet. Brion has a Feb. 16 date at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway with Bob Baker and Moore goes in Toledo next Tuesday in an over-the-weight match.

Billy Graham and trainer Whitey Bimstein left for the coast and a Los Angeles match next Thursday with Art Aragon.

Graham will come right back to New York after the fight because he has an important 12-round Garden rematch with Joey Giardello March 6. The last time they met Bob Christenberry made his famous "reversed" decision, giving the nod to Graham after Giardello was announced as the "unofficial winner."

Giardello's court test of Christenberry's action is set for next Wednesday.

With the court date, Graham and a Feb. 2 Eastern Parkway match with Harold Green, Giardello is the busiest fighter around.

Early New York line on the Feb. 11 Kid Gavilan-Chuck Davey fight makes the Cuban Kid a 2-1 favorite in man-to-man wagering. Although Gavilan was not over impressive in his Washington bout with Vic Cardell, he obviously was rehearsing the moves he plans to make against a southpaw.

Making the moves against right handed Cardell, he was tagged too often by Vic's not-too-potent right. Davey would do well to disregard the Keed's numerous bolo punches. That overhand right and the left hook are the real weapons.

Golfers Move On To Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 23 (AP)—Golfdom's elite converges here today for the launching of the annual 72-hole, 710,000 Phoenix Open Tournament with most eyes focused on Lloyd Mangrum, defending champion and leading money winner thus far this year.

Although Ben Hogan, Julius Boros and Byron Nelson won't be on hand for the Phoenix event, there will be quite a galaxy of talent assembled. Boros, the National Open champion of 1952, is suffering from an infected tooth. Hogan and Nelson are playing the PGA circuit just intermittently this year.

Figured to be solid contenders are Jimmy Demaret, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., Tommy Bolt, Maplewood, N. J., winner of the San Diego Open; Dr. Cary Middlecoff, former National Open titleholder from Memphis, Tenn.; Jack Burke Jr., Kiamesha Lake, N. Y.; Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y.; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y.; and Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif.

Clark flashed a five-under par 66 yesterday for the best individual score registered in the pro-amateur preliminary to the tournament proper.

Rocky Marciano Getting Ready For Something; He's Training

NEW YORK (AP)—Just in case there's any monkey business going on in the present messed-up heavyweight situation, Rocky Marciano, the champion, is not going to be caught looking out the window.

The Brockton belter already is in training up in the Catskills, doing roadwork and limbering exercises, and by next Tuesday or Wednesday he plans to begin boxing steadily under the eye of his trainer, little Charlie Goldman, in a high school gymnasium at Liberty, N. Y.

This looks like a remarkable start in view of the fact that there is no possibility Rocky will defend his title before April 10. He is passing up many thousands of dollars in exhibitions and personal appearances in starting the long grind now.

Jersey Joe Walcott, who presumably will be Marciano's opponent on April 10 at Chicago, said the other day he wouldn't move a wheel until his manager, Felix Bocchicchio, recovers from the heart attack which sent him to a local hospital a week ago. Presumably he meant he wouldn't even begin training until Felix is on his feet, which might be another five or six weeks.

Add to this the fact that the Walcott camp has not yet agreed to Chicago as the site of the scrap, and it becomes even more apparent that Al Weill, Rocky's manager, has something on his mind in making his young gladiator buckle down to work here in the dead of winter. Al admitted the charge.

"How do I know what that bunch is going to do," he demanded suspiciously. "How do I know when they'll make their move? All I know for sure is that whatever happens and when it happens my fighter is going to be in shape. We're not going to sit around and wait for them to make up their minds."

Hermleigh, Hobbs In Finals Of Tournament

Hermleigh and Hobbs gained the right to advance to the finals in the Hermleigh cage tourney yesterday when they edged out Divide and Ira.

Hermleigh took Divide by a score of 54-50, with Wendell Goodman leading scoring with 17 points and Tommy Ashton bucketing 28 for Divide.

In Hobbs' 46-40 win over Ira, Kenneth Rasco made 16 points to lead the winners and James Maupin talled 12 for Ira.

Hobbs girls beat Ira girls 48-34 and Divide girls downed Hermleigh girls.

Hermleigh and Ira meet for third place in the girls' tourney at 6 o'clock tomorrow night, then Ira and Divide boys play for third at 7 o'clock. At 8:30 o'clock Hobbs and Divide girls will clash in the championship match, and Hermleigh and Hobbs boys meet in finals at 9:30 o'clock.

Pecos May Not Keep Franchise If No Park Is Being Provided

PECOS, Jan. 23 (AP)—Pecos had a Longhorn League baseball club today but no ball park.

If Pecos fans can't arrange a park they may not keep the club.

Yesterday the Pecos Housing Board voted not to develop Starley Park to accommodate the ball club.

The Sweetwater franchise was switched here, provided Pecos would furnish a park. League President Hal Sayles said in Abilene last night that if the park isn't upcoming, the league would give the franchise to another city. Sayles said he personally favored Lamesa for the franchise if it is moved from Pecos.

Traylor Honor Guest At Banquet Tonight

HOUSTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Doyle Traylor, quarterback on the Class AAA Temple High School football team, will be honored tonight as Texas' outstanding schoolboy star of last season.

He will be honor guest at the annual University of Houston football banquet.

Pro Football Leaders Fight Over Organizational Problems

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The peaceful operation of making a bonus choice and drafting college players out of the way, National Football League owners rolled up their sleeves today and prepared for their customary knock down, drag-out fight over organizational problems.

The 12 franchise owners, their general managers and coaches drafted a total of 360 players in a 14-hour session yesterday. Fourteen of the 1952 all-America crop—including the entire offensive team—were grabbed for post graduate work in the field of football.

The biggest surprise choice in the entire draft came at the out set, when the San Francisco 49ers won the bonus pick and snapped up Harry Babcock, Georgia University's pass snatching end. Fortyniner officials said they passed up the host of illustrious all-America talent to get Babcock because they need an offensive end who can catch long passes. Babcock, they said, was the best around in college ranks last year.

When Bert Bell calls the annual meeting to order for its second session, four items are certain to be brought front and center:

1. A proposal to lower the player limit from 33 to 30.
2. Placing of Baltimore in one of the league's two divsions.
3. The 1953 schedule.
4. Raising or lowering the guarantees to visiting teams.

Each problem has plenty of pros and cons among the owners and squabbles appear inevitable.

Only one thing seems certain. It takes 10 votes out of 12 to pass on an issue. The usual procedure in this league is for the owners to spend hours arguing and then give up and ask Commissioner Bell to solve the matter. It wouldn't surprise anyone if Bell had the final say on everything.

The proposal to lower the player limit has the support of the commissioner, some of the owners and none of the coaches. The idea is to cut about $15,000 to $20,000 off the salary department. Bell has recommended economy all the way down the line to lessen the risk of big losses for the losing clubs.

The job of placing Baltimore in one of the two conferences is sure to provoke a floor fight. Bell says Baltimore has replaced Dallas in the National Conference, which includes most of the western teams on a geographical basis. Don Kellett, general manager of the new Baltimore team, says he doesn't care where his team operates. Some of the other owners do care.

George Marshall of the Washington Redskins wants Baltimore in the American Conference, or eastern sector of the league. He wants to play Baltimore twice a season to build up what Marshall claims is a natural rivalry between the two teams which operate 30 miles apart. Marshall would send the Chicago Cardinals from the American to the National Conference where he insists they belong.

Art Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers, says he'll be glad to go into the National Conference and let Baltimore have his American spot.

You would think that makes everything easy with Baltimore not caring where it plays and Pittsburgh quite willing to switch. But enter the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Eagles, while not making any official statement, are reported to oppose the moving of Pittsburgh. The Eagles, it is said, feel that they went along playing the Steelers twice a year when the Pittsburgh entry was in bad shape. Now that the Steelers have a pretty good club, the Eagles can see some pretty good gates for battles with their intrastate rivals.

Rooney would solve the whole thing by having the league play a round robin schedule which means that fans in each league city would get to see every team in the NFL over a two-year period. He doubts his round-robin idea will get to first base, though.

TexarkanaGetsManager

TEXARKANA, Jan. 23 (AP)—Charles (Chuck) Hawley, veteran minor league pitcher and manager, has been named manager of Texarkana in the Class B Big State Baseball League.

Dick King and El Erickson, who bought the Texarkana franchise this week from oilman Claude Lee, made the announcement yesterday.

About 3¼ million tons of lignite was produced in the United States in 1951.

Junior High Swamps Foes

Junior High cage teams, which have not been defeated in play this year, took wins over Sweetwater last night to continue their records.

The eighth grade team downed Sweetwater 47-12. Coach Jimmy Williams said he played all the boys he had in the game, but that even his second string overwhelmed the Sweetwater players.

Powell Berry and Richard Dickerson led scoring with eight points each, with David Gist and Milton Ham following with six each, John Partan and Floyd Blackwell four each, Ronald Smith three, and Wiley Benson, Gary Tucker, and Tommy Prichard two each.

The win gave the eighth grade squad an 8-0 record, with other wins over Fluvanna, Sweetwater, Big Spring and Colorado City. The team's next play will come up Jan. 30 when they go to a San Angelo junior high tournament. Their first opponent there is San Jacinto school of Midland. Sixteen teams are entered, Williams said.

The seventh grade five downed Sweetwater 19-10 to make their season record 4-0. Sweetwater jumped into an early lead, but Snyder quickly overtook them.

Both Bobby Pollard and Richard Snyder scored five points, and Ronald Smith and Virgil Gunnels each scored four. Tommy Prichard scored one.

Church Starts Fourth Year

Members of the Calvary Baptist Church will hold special services Sunday to celebrate their third anniversary as an organization.

The Rev. T. Gerald Cates, pastor of the church, said the special services will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in commemoration of the organizational meeting at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the last Sunday in January, 1950. The meeting was held at the Primitive Baptist Church.

Included in the services will be special music by a women's trio and a mixed quartet. Statistics on the church's progress since its organization will be given.

Mr. Cates said 23 members organized the church and that about 375 new members have been taken in since that time.

At the church's regular service Sunday morning, members will launch their drive for their building fund with a special offering. Mr. Cates said the church hopes to begin the new building at Avenue W and Thirty-fifth Street by this spring or summer.

Mr. Cates will speak at all Sunday services, including the radio broadcast at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning. He will hold baptism Sunday night.

ShepherdToConference

The Rev. E. K. Shepherd, First Baptist Church pastor, will attend the Pastor and Layman's Bible Conference Monday and Tuesday at Wayland College in Plainview.

Dr. J. W. Storer, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Tulsa, Okla., will be the principal speaker, Mr. Shepherd said.

Presbyterian Women Hold Bible Study

Presbyterian Women's Organization met Tuesday afternoon at the church for a Bible study "Christ in You" presented by Mrs. Reid Estes.

Plans were made for the luncheon to be given by the organization for all the women of the church Tuesday at noon. Mrs. Robert H. King was leader of the program.

Church Beliefs Series

"God Within Christ" will be the topic discussed by the Rev. Clifford Taylor, pastor of the First Christian Church, Sunday evening at the church service.

This is a continuation of the study series on church beliefs, Mr. Taylor stated. Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock the official board will meet to make plans for the building program.

Dry Speaker Sunday

The Rev. L. B. Moss who is with the United Texas Drys will speak on the "evils of alcohol" Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock at the First Baptist Church.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the Rev. E. K. Shepherd, pastor, will speak on "The Grace of God."

Meeting In Kent County

Adult advisors of Christian Youth Fellowship will meet this evening at 7 o'clock at the Humble Camp in Kent County, according to the Rev. Clifford Taylor, pastor.

Option On The Cross— Take It Or Leave It

Confession destroys the authority of sin, Matt. 10:32

Baptism destroys the guilt of sin, Acts 2:38; Eph. 1:7

Godliness destroys the dominion of sin, Rom. 6:12-14.

Jesus bore His cross—not just the wooden cross. Each one of us must bear "his cross" in following Jesus. Jesus is very frank to say, "Enter ye in at the strait gate." Matt. 7:13,14. Wth almost a note of severity in His tone, Jesus assures us there are but two ways—there is no middle way; two gates; two foundations; two masters; and two destinies. Which way are you in?

"Come unto me...and I will give you rest" said Jesus, Matt. 11:28. All who respond to His invitation and who follow Him "even unto death" shall rejoice in heaven eternally. Blessed assurance!!

Sunday Meetings:
Assemblies 8:45 and 10:50
Bible classes, 10:00
Evening assembly, 7:00

To follow Jesus, each one must bear "his cross." We are not to confuse life's burdens and thorns with the cross which we bear in following Jesus. Everyone has burdens. Life brings them. But not everyone bears a cross in following Jesus.

Cross-bearing is a voluntary matter. It is not thrust upon us. We can take it or leave it. It challenges the best within us. Said Jesus, "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me." Lk. 9:23. Note the order:

Deny self
Take up his cross
Follow me.

What is the "cross"? It is the responsibilities and opportunities of living the life of a Christian. In order to "take up his cross" a person must deny himself a life of sin—he must repent. He must deny himself of "doing as he pleases" and rejoice in "pleasing to do the Father's will." In so doing, he will lay aside all traditions of men and follow where truth leads.

The new Testament teaches, and gives examples of folk rejoicing in, the following benefits:

Faith destroys the love of sin, Heb.11:6

Repentance destroys the practice of sin, Acts 3:19

Mr. Newkirk and his wife attended high school at Wheeler. This is his first time in the ministry. Mrs. Newkirk teaches the junior department at the church.

Creek Pow Wow Finds Nation Loyal To U. S.

ATMORE, Ala. (AP)—Fifteen hundred members of the Creek Indian nation held a pow-wow here last night to reaffirm their loyalty to the great white father in Washington and to seek 29 million dollars from the federal government.

Calvin W. McGhee, head of the Council of the Creek Nation and an Atmore farmer, presented a progress report on the Indians' claim for payment for 23,267,000 acres of land in Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia.

The Indians contend the land was taken from them after they were defeated by Gen. Andrew Jackson in the War of 1812.

DemocratHolds High Post In Pentagon Still

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrat Francis P. Whitehair, his letter of resignation apparently gone astray, was still under secretary of the Navy today.

Yesterday, in fact, he seemed to be running Navy business although the man designated for that interim job, Assistant Secretary for Air John F. Floberg, was at his Pentagon desk.

The Pentagon and the White House, like two outfielders going for the same fly ball, somehow let Whitehair's resignation get lost.

The Pentagon was certain the resignation, along with others of Truman administration appointees, had gone to the White House early this month.

But President Eisenhower's aides expressed surprise. They said the White House had assumed Whitehair had been designated as the Navy official who would remain as acting Navy secretary until that post was filled by the new Republican administration.

It was the Pentagon's turn to be surprised. Floberg, not Whitehair, had been designated interim Navy boss by former Secretary Dan Kimball and former Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett.

At the Defense Department, it was said Kimball had sent Whitehair's resignation, together with his own and other Navy resignations, to Lovett's office on Dec. 19.

On Jan. 5, Lovett's office transmitted to the White House resignations for all of the Pentagon top officials affected by the change of administration. Also sent were the names of three service deputy or assistant secretaries recommended to stay on in the interim.

No one seemed clear about what happened to the Whitehair resignation.

John Agar Is Arrested For Drunk Driving

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Arrested a fourth time on a drunk-driving charge, actor John Agar faces a court appearance today for another alleged offense—volation of probation.

Terms of a previous drunk-driving conviction, for which he served 60 days at the county honor farm in 1951, specified that he should not drive a car during a three-year probation period.

Agar, 31, divorced husband of former actress Shirley Temple, went to jail twice yesterday.

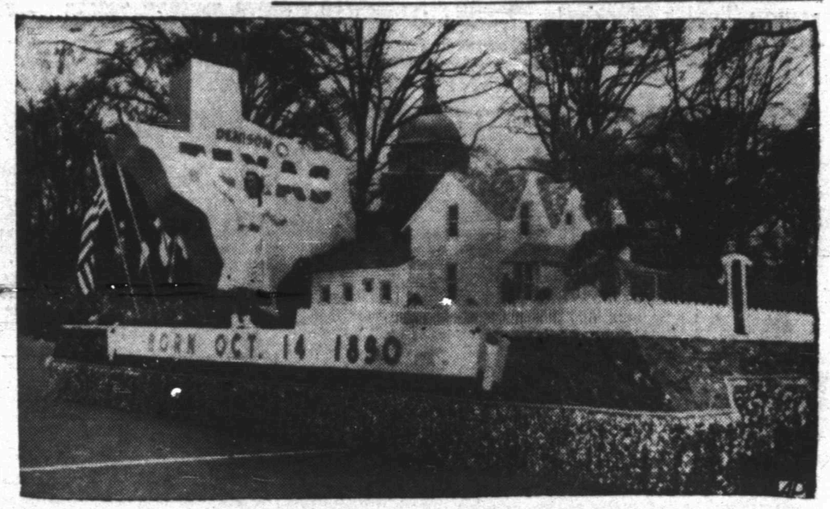

The first time was after his arrest early in the day on charges of drunk driving and driving with a suspended operator's license.

A friend, film producer Hal R. Makelim, posted $1,500 bail. The actor pleaded innocent to both counts and asked a jury trial which was set for Feb. 4.

As he was about to leave the Santa Monica court, he was rearrested for alleged violation of probation. His attorney obtained his release from the West Los Angeles jail on a writ of habeas corpus and bail of $500.

Agar's present wife, Loretta, and his mother, Mrs. Lillian Agar, were in the Santa Monica court at his arraignment. His wife said he left their home Wednesday night to take their French poodle, Rag Mop, for a walk.

The actor told officers he visited a friend in Malibu and was returning home when arrested.

Ambassador Kennan Has Hasty Explanation To His New Boss

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ambassador George Kennan is understood to have written Secretary of State Dulles a note explaining that a speech Kennan made last Friday night was not designed as criticism of Dulles' testimony the day before to a Senate committee.

Dulles is expected to talk with the veteran diplomat, an expert on Soviet affairs, in a few days to determine whether and to what extent there may be a basic difference between the two men on what kind of policy the United States should have toward Soviet satellite nations.

In his testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee a week ago yesterday, Dulles said the policy which aims only at containing Russian expansion is "an unsound policy." And he expressed conviction that a positive policy for the liberation of satellite countries must be developed.

"It must be and can be a peaceful process," he said. "Those who do not believe that results can be obtained by moral pressures, by the weight of propaganda, just do not know what they are talking about."

The following night, in a speech at Scranton, Pa., Kennan said "it is right that individual Americans" should promote their beliefs, and he spoke of the ultimate victory of "the competitive power of freedom in the struggle of ideas."

Kennan argued, however, against "doing anything at the governmental level that purports to affect directly the governmental system in another country." He declared that would be inconsistent with America's international obligations, its diplomatic relations and its membership in the United Nations and could "involve us in heavy responsibilities."

After Kennan spoke, news reports pointed out an apparent policy conflict between his ideas and those of the new State Department head.

On learning that this contrast was being drawn, Kennan is understood to have sent a note to Dulles explaining that his speech had been written and cleared in the State Department several days in advance of Dulles' appearance before the Senate committee and thus could not have been directed at what Dulles said there.

Kennan apparently was distressed that his speech might have been so interpreted.

The line which Dulles took before the committee, however, was one which he had advocated during the presidential campaign, and the question remained whether Kennan had this in mind in expressing the views he did in his Scranton speech.

His note evidently was sent to Dulles before the latter, in a letter to foreign service employes yesterday, said he would tolerate nothing less than "positive loyalty" to the nation's policies. In reply to a question about the letter, Dulles said he had not "gone into the Kennan matter."

The point as to whether Kennan disapproves basically of the policy which Dulles has outlined with respect to the satellite countries is one which remains to be answered in the forthcoming talk between the two men.

Nice Thieves Rob Actress

BEVERLY HILLS, (AP) — Actress Arlene Judge reported to police that her home was ransacked yesterday by five robbers, one a girl, and that they took diamonds and jewelry she valued at $10,000.

"But I talked them out of taking $30,000 worth of furs and a $6,000 sapphire ring," Miss Judge told officers.

"They were very sweet," said the actress, who has been married and divorced six times. "I felt as safe as if I were in the arms of a 10-year-old gorilla. I answered a knock on the door, they rushed in and went to work. They seemed to know exactly where to look for what they wanted.

"I told them I could wear false jewels on my television appearances but I needed the coats and if they took them they'd put me out of work."

Burglars' Wrath Is Bad

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Burglars battered open a safe in a Knoxville factory office, found it empty, blew their tops.

"Why didn't you leave some money in this thing?" asked a note they left behind yesterday. Still angry, they apparently set fire to some sawdust in the boiler room.

Firemen found the note atop the safe.

Morale At Controversial Air Field In Africa Picking Up

Last winter 2,300 American airmen and several thousand Atlas Construction Company workers based here had a morale rating about as low as a snake's hips. There was mud everywhere. Living facilities were inadequate. There were no movies, no officer's or noncom clubs.

This winter things are different although the huge "mother base" of the five the Air Force is building in French Morocco still is far from finished.

Thousands of dollars worth of equipment and supplies lie in their packing cases exposed to North African weather because there are still no warehouses in which to store them. Hundreds of trucks and motor vehicles are being damaged by rain, sun and wind because there are no garages yet.

Nouasseur was started on a "crash basis" when ground was broken in April, 1951. The Department of Defense was jittery about the prospects of aggression in Europe. So were a lot of Europeans.

Investigations later turned up the fact that haste makes waste. Millions of dollars were being spent with no very striking results. Under the crash program, the base should have been built and in working condition by now. The easing of the war threat, congressional criticism and the indignant demands for greater economy slowed down the project.

Now, Air Force planning officers say, the base will be in good shape by July 1 and in full working order by the first of 1954. In the event of war, it could be pressed into service at once, though on a limited scale.

Nouasseur is being built for the 80th Air Depot Wing of the Air Force. Its mission is to overhaul, reoutfit and put back into flying shape any of the Air Force's ships, up to B36 strategic bombers. It occupies 7,000 acres in a sparsely settled region a half hour's automobile drive from Casablanca. It is 27 miles around at the perimeter.

During wartime, it will be able to serve a dual purpose—bomber base for striking aircraft and repair station. It has an 11,000 foot long, 200 foot wide runway capable of handling any aircraft in the world.

The base also has an 11,000 foot taxi strip 100 feet wide. It, like the big runway, is completed and being used by the Military Air Transport Service, which has a small unit here.

The heart and brain of the Nouasseur base will be its "cannibal" air hangar, scheduled for completion by July.

This enormous building will contain four two-story platforms and a number of overhead traveling cranes. When completed it will handle four B36s and six B50s, the biggest planes the Air Force possesses.

Nouasseur has its own railroad system, connecting it with the port of Casablanca. The base ultimately will have 1,400,000 square feet of storage space. When the 80th Air Depot Wing moved in in August, 1951, there wasn't a single warehouse.

The French, in agreeing to permit the United States to build bases in her protectorate, stipulated that there would be no more than 2,300 men based at Nouasseur. Similar ceilings were set for the other four bases.

During 1953, rotational wings will move in and out of the big base. In addition to the transport planes of MATS, huge B29s will trundle down the big runway.

The airmen of the 80th Depot Wing now live in double Dallas huts. Showers and toilets are a brisk walk up the company street.

The base has a hospital, a school for 300 dependents of officers and airmen, an officers' club and a post exchange.

Tax Collector Can Sleep In Peace Again

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—For three years, strange antics of the U. S. mail caused sleepless nights for Ernest Overstreet, Dade County tax collector.

Hundreds of taxpayers complained that they had sent in checks, money orders and currency which were never received. Hundreds of outgoing letters never reached their destination.

"The disappearance of mail had been driving me nuts for three years," Overstreet said. "I couldn't sleep nights because of the yelling of the taxpayers."

The mystery was solved yesterday.

Postal inspectors arrested Charles W. Lewis, 32-year-old mail clerk in Overstreet's office, and said he admitted taking "thousands of letters" over a three-year period.

Many of the letters contained checks and money orders, Overstreet said, but Lewis apparently made no effort to cash them, taking only currency.

The actual money loss, he said, wasn't large.

"I believe the largest was $20," he said, "but all those people—and many were poor—had to pay again.

"We've been averaging 150 complaints a year from people who said they had sent us money orders and 400 a year from persons who said they had mailed checks."

Fluvanna Man Held On San Antonio Warrant

G. L. Lucas, about 50, of Fluvanna, was reported by the sheriff's department today to be in the county jail on a warrant from San Antonio, where he is reported to be charged with felony swindling by worthless check.

Homer Whisnand, sheriff, said Lucas was arrested on the San Antonio warrant and was to be given to the custody of officers from there today.

Sentell Misses First Big Vote In House

AUSTIN — C. F. Sentell, state representative from Snyder, missed the first voting of any consequence in the House this session Wednesday.

The vote was on a change in rules recommended by the rule committee, which provided that six days notice must be given before a bill could be called out of one committee and re-referred to another. It could be done before by two-thirds vote at any time.

West Texans voted 12 for and four against. Three West Texans were absent, excused by the speaker, including Sentell.

FatalHiccough Epidemic Gets Aid Of Swedes

RECIFE, Brazil (AP) — Two thousand doses of a new drug arrived from Sweden last night to combat a press-reported epidemic of fatal hiccoughs in infants but health authorities still denied there had been such an outbreak.

Pernambuco State Health Secretary Arthur Coutinho said 61 infants have died in the past three weeks in the poorer sections of Recife but he attributed their deaths to summer heat, faulty nutrition and lack of sanitation. The mortality rate in these sections is usually high.

Coutinho said that steps were being taken to reduce the infant death rate in those areas but he declared the situation was not unusually serious.

The drug shipment was sent by a Swedish chemical company after a dispatch from Recife to a Rio de Janeiro newspaper reported 55 infants had died from violent hiccough attacks.
