Postmaster Urges That Streets and Numbers be on Mail

Postmaster W. A. Crawford urges those who expect to patronize city free delivery service and those who live on the free delivery routes to ask their correspondents to begin now to address all mail to their correct street address. Such mail will not of course be delivered to the street addresses until Oct. 1, but it will aid the postoffice employees in learning to separate the mail and in becoming familiar with patrons' street addresses, Crawford says.

Fifteen "Lady Birds" Spend Night In St. Louis—Two Report Minor Mishaps After Leaving Wichita

Oil Production In Gray County Leaping Upward

Gray county's daily oil production took another leap towards the major pool mark last week. The phenomenal county of the Panhandle field increased its production 11,512 barrels last week to bring the daily production to 97,325 barrels.

Hutchinson county showed the only other increase in production with a gain of 300 barrels over the previous week. Other counties showed decreases from 56 to 103 barrels.

Despite the fact that no new wells were drilled in last week, production soared in Gray county. The big increase was due to five large wells brought in the latter part of the previous week. Production next week is due to slump unless producers are drilled in early this week.

The pipe lines and storage facilities in the entire Panhandle are practically handling all possible oil and as a result drilling wells that are not off-set to producers will not be drilled immediately. This move will not materially hurt production figures, for some time, it is claimed by oil companies.

Production by counties:

Carson—174 wells producing 9,355 barrels, a loss of 103 barrels.
Gray—424 wells producing 97,325 barrels, a gain of 11,512 barrels.
Hutchinson—993 wells producing 25,481 barrels, a gain of 300 barrels.
Moore—18 wells producing 1,086 barrels, a loss of 94 barrels.
Potter—1 well off production, a loss of 56 barrels.
Wheeler—38 wells producing 723 barrels, a loss of 89 barrels.
Total—1,648 wells producing 133,940 barrels, an increase of 11,470 barrels over the previous week.

Local Tri-State Fair Director Gives Interview

F. P. Reid of this city who is one of Tri-State Fair directors has given out the following interview relative to the fair:

"Headlined by the mammoth Hagenbeck-Wallace wild animal circus, the J. T. Wortham Carnival Company, the largest in the world, and a score of other attractions being shown at the exposition for the first time this year, the Tri-State Fair to be held in Amarillo September 23 to 29 is going to be one of the leading events of its kind in the entire southwest.

Fair officials are offering $15,000 in cash in premiums in the various divisions of exhibition. Of this amount, $5,000 is for the Hereford show alone, $2,500 for the Swine Department and $2,500 for the Jersey and Holstein departments. This year the Hereford show is sponsored by the American Hereford Breeders Association and will draw entries from breeders all over the country.

Headed by 100 of the leading business and professional men and women of its territory, the Tri-State Fair is one of the leading business institutions of the Tri-State region which embraces the Panhandles of Texas and Oklahoma, as well as most of the Eastern part of New Mexico. Unlike most yearly expositions, it is an all-year-round affair. In that people over the entire region prepare during the intervals between fairs to show at the next one.

F. C. Bennett, Superintendent of the Agriculture Department, reports that 17 counties already have made reservations to show during the big fair.

District Attorney Clifford Braly left last night for Cameron, where he had been called because of the critical condition of a sister there in a hospital.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Aug. 24. (P)—The fifteen contestants who made a one stop flight from Wichita today in the national Women's air derby, Santa Monica to Cleveland, landed at Parks airport near here this afternoon, one after being forced down and two others with minor mishaps.

May Hazlip of Kansas City failed to arrive with the group which landed within one hour and 28 minutes after 2:20 p. m., but she repaired a broken gasoline line at Washington, Mo., and with the aid of a farm hand who was unable to crank the propeller, she continued her flight.

Blanche Noyes of Cleveland, the first to arrive here, smashed the landing gear of her plane as she alighted. Neva Paris' plane nosed into an adjacent roadway, stopping with tail up. Neither aviatrix was injured. Their planes will be repaired in time for the takeoff for Terre Haute, Ind., at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Official computation of elapsed flying time to here showed Mrs. Louise M. Thaden retained the lead. The contestants ranked as follows:

Heavy planes:
Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden, Pittsburg, 16:27:37.
Gladys O'Donnell, Long Beach, Calif., 17:14:33.

Light planes:
Ruth Nichols, Rye, N. Y., 17:50:37.
Amelia Earhart, Boston, 17:57:21.
Blanche Noyes, Cleveland, 20:32:22.
Ruth Elder, Hollywood, 21:36:06.
Neva Paris, Great Neck, L. I., 23:44:22.

Mary Von Mack, Detroit, 23:54:22.
Opal Kunz, New York, 28:08:30.
Vera Dawn Walker, Los Angeles, 28:04:23.

Light planes:
Mrs. Phoebe Omie, Memphis, 20:23:32.
Edith Foltz, Portland, Ore., 22:43:43.
Thea Rasche, Germany, 25:15:09.
Mrs. Keith Miller, Australia, 31:28:40.

Miss Hazlip's time was not computed, because of her failure to record her arrival at Kansas City, the only stop on the flight from Wichita today. She was not one of the leaders.

After her arrival shortly before 5 o'clock, Miss Hazlip said a farm youth volunteered to help her when she was forced down. He couldn't crank the "so I did it with my good right arm."

Mrs. Thaden made the best time from Kansas City, and Mrs. Noyes was second, Miss O'Donnell third and Miss Earhart fourth.

Tha Rasche complained that dirt in the gasoline had slowed her plane today.

Hearing Postponed Pending Condition of Federal Agent

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Aug. 24. (P)—The preliminary hearing set for today for four men and a woman in connection with the wounding of A. C. Graft, federal prohibition agent, near Mercedes yesterday was postponed by E. K. Goodrich, United States commissioner, pending the recovery of Graft.

The quintet and a man still at liberty were charged with liquor law violation. The men also were charged with resisting arrest with firearms. The latter charge grew out of a gun fight in which Graft was wounded.

Graft, with another agent, attempted to arrest the men after the officers purchased liquor. The agents revealed their identity and the men fled. The firing followed.

Graft, whose headquarters were in Houston, was taken to a Mercedes hospital. His condition was not considered serious.

ANAHUAC, Aug. 24. (P)—Transfer of royalty rights to 13,000 acres of Chambers county land to the Pure Oil company and the Gulf Production company had attracted the attention of oil scouts today. It was understood that the tract would be tested by seismograph.

DECISION BY OFFICIALS OF OIL COMPANIES

Believed to Be Best Storage Problem Solution

OFF-SETS WILL BE COMPLETED

Production Totals Will Be Practically Unchanged

Drilling in 27 wells in Gray county will shut down until Oct. 1 when officials of major oil companies will hold another session here to discuss resumption of drilling. It was decided in Friday afternoon's meeting of the oil operators. Officials believe that oil storage and over production problems in the Panhandle will become negligible by Oct. 1 if drilling in the weeks that are not directly offset by producing wells of any other company is shut down until then.

All of the 27 wells which will be shut down immediately or as soon as pipe is set on top of the pay would be producers if brought in, it was stated. The officials also decided not to deepen any more wells in the Bowers and Finley areas. Many wells in these two pools which have been deepened recently have added greatly to production in Gray county.

All wells now drilling that offset producers will be brought in. There are now about 10 such wells in the Bowers and Finley areas and as many more in the LePort and McConnell areas. Discontinuance of drilling in the 27 wells and the decision not to drill any more until Oct. 1, was virtually necessary, producers say, due to the lack of available storage space. Figures were cited to show that there are now 17,500,000 barrels in storage in the Panhandle and space available for 2,500,000 more barrels.

The off-set wells that are now drilling and are scheduled to be brought in during the next month will more than overcome the slump that the shutting down of the 27 wells will cause, the producers say. They also pointed out that the shutting down of the wells will result in very little change in production figures or in business affected by oil activities.

Wells scheduled to be shut down are as follows:

Danciger-Powell Nos. 4, 6, and 7, in Northeast quarter, Sec. 28, block B-2; Texas Bull No. 3 in Northwest corner sec. 2, block B-2; Prairie Langham No. 1 in southwest corner sec. 1, block B-2; White Eagle Cook-Faulkner Nos. 1 and 2 in southeast quarter sec. 29, block B-2; Texas Cook-Faulkner No. 7 in southeast quarter sec. 29, block B-2. The above eight wells will be shut down immediately.

Champlin and Danciger Cook-Faulkner, Nos. 2 and 3, in Sec. 30, block B-2; Operators Cook-Faulkner Nos. 5, 6, 7 and 8 in sec. 30, block B-2; Magnolia Wright 1 and 2 in southwest quarter sec. 13, block 3; Texas Coombs-Worley Nos. 3 and 5 in southeast quarter sec. 36, block 3; Phillips Palmer Nos. 6 and 8, sec. 31, block B-2; Gulf Coombs-Worley, Nos. 2 and 3, southwest quarter sec. 36, block 3; McMann Palmer No. 6, sec. 31, block B-2; Humble Palmer No. 1, sec. 31, block B-2; Humble Jackson Nos. 3 and 4, sec. 30, block B-2; Wilcox Worley and Reynolds No. 32, southeast corner sec. 61, block 3.

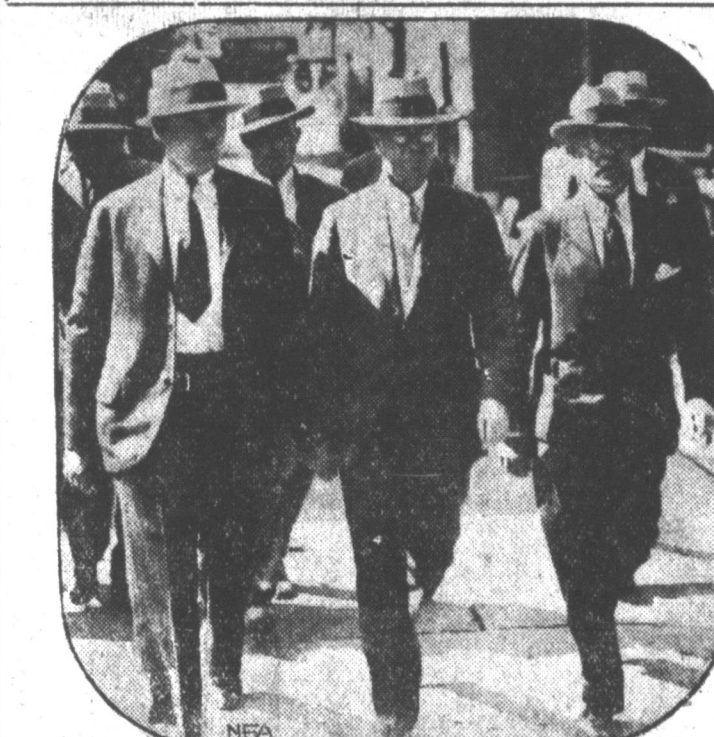

Provision of production was mentioned by the oil company officials but was not favored by any of them. Limiting production should be a last resort to solve the storage problems, it was agreed. The producers were confident that the plan of shutting down the drilling wells will prove successful in clearing the difficulty in securing storage. They claim that it will also benefit the crude oil market and will aid in bringing the production of crude back to normal.

As the pipe line and storage companies can handle only a certain amount of oil for refining purposes, the present over-production works a hardship on the pipe line companies, both in consumption and marketing.

Each day the major pipe line companies gather a total of 132,816 barrels of oil in the Panhandle, 74 per cent of which comes from Gray county wells. B. C. Low of the Humble Oil company cited the following figures showing the amount of oil gathered daily by pipe line and storage companies in the Panhandle:

Humble, 29,168; Texas company 34,045; Prairie 32,846; Magnolia, 2,826; Gulf 12,403; Pampa Refining company 8,500; Bell 1,300; Toronto Pipe Line company 168; Phillips 11,500.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Sally Cox Held Yesterday

Funeral services for Mrs. Sally M. Cox, 65, were held at 3:30 yesterday afternoon in the chapel of the Malone Funeral Parlor. Mrs. Cox succumbed Friday following a 5-year attack of paralysis. Rev. D. H. Truhitt, pastor of the First Baptist church, was in charge of the funeral services.

The body, accompanied by a son, Manning R. Cox and a daughter, Mrs. E. A. Donathon of Oklahoma City, will be shipped today to Palmer, Ellis county, Texas, old home of the Cox family, where it will be interred Monday. Mrs. Cox, an invalid for the past five years, had lived at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. T. Beckham at 417 West Browning street, for the past three years. W. E. Cox preceded his wife in death three years ago at Palmer, Texas. Mrs. Cox had been a member of the Methodist church 53 years.

She is survived by eight children, four daughters and four sons as follows: Mrs. H. T. Beckham, Pampa; Mrs. M. E. Wright, Willa, Okla.; Mrs. E. A. Donathon, Oklahoma City; Mrs. E. E. Fechner, Texarkana, Ark., who will arrive here today; James Cox, Hamlet, N. C.; Manning R. Cox, Boyd Cox, and County Commissioner Lewis Cox, all of Pampa.

Two stepsons, Cliff Clark of Tyler and Eugene Clark of Dallas and 12 grand-children also survive her. James Cox of North Carolina was the only child that could not attend the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Stine are the parents of a son born Thursday at Pampa hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hallmark returned Friday from a visit to Carlsbad Cavern, Carlsbad, N. M.

Bucking Broncs of Professional Fame to Be Here

"The buckingest broncs that ever bucked a buck," is the description applied to the pitchin' ponies by famed bronc riders who attempted to ride them Saturday afternoon at the rodeo grounds which will be the scene of the American Legion's Second Annual Rodeo here Aug. 30-31 and Sept. 1-2.

And the steers—well, one of them old Bo-Wallopers has never been ridden and the bronc-busters who straddled his slippery back Saturday afternoon in a testing-out affair went the way of all the others. Buck Keyes, brother to the one and only Joe Keyes, world's greatest bronc rider, rode a horse that won the world's championship in bucking for ten seconds yesterday. J. C. Gardner of Durant, Okla., another famed rider, was thrown by a wild cypess before the horse had taken 10 jumps.

Today the big rodeo at Sun City, Kans., breaks up and the cow girls and bronc riders that featured it will begin to arrive in Pampa tomorrow.

Buck Keyes and his half-brother, Gardner arrived this week. Also Miss Lucille Roberts who won the championship in bull-dogging yesterday was Jimmie Olson, Bill Jackson and Blansett. An enthusiastic crowd watched the calf-roping, steer-riding and bull-dogging exhibitions. Wild horses and wilder steers are arriving every day. They are being pastured near town.

That the rodeo is gaining wide publicity among bronc riders and rodeo artists is indicated by the fact that every day brings announcements from them that they will compete during the last two days of August and the first two days in September. Ranchers throughout the north Panhandle are assuring the management that they have "broncs that can't be busted" and some of them are being brought into Pampa.

EXPRESSION TEACHER ARRIVES

Mrs. F. L. Hill, who will teach expression and public speaking this year in the city schools, arrived yesterday from Waco and Dallas where she had spent the summer.

Mrs. Hill taught last year and the year before in Chillicothe and prior to that, in Gainesville. She is a graduate of the Cox School of Expression, Dallas.

SINK AS THEY TRY TO SAVE LIFE OF GIRL

Caught In Whirlpool And Carried To Bottom

ONE BODY IS NOT LOCATED

Both Were Prominent Business Men of Giddings

GALVESTON, Aug. 24. (P)—A treacherous current that runs between Galveston Island and the Brazoria county mainland thirty miles west of here this afternoon took the lives of Herman Girsch, 52, manager of the Farmers Supply company of Giddings, and his son, Walter, 23, manager of a large chain store there. Miss Ella Birkman, 31, Walter Girsch's sister-in-law, narrowly escaped.

Miss Birkman had started out into the pass to where the father and son were fishing and stepped into a deep hole. The men saw her difficulty and started toward her but she recovered in time to catch the body of the elder Girsch, who was overpowered by a whirlpool and carried under. Then the whirlpool caught the younger man as he hurried to the rescue, also carrying him under.

Coast guardsmen summoned from the station half a mile away by other members of the party of nine, who were here on a week-end camping trip, rescued Miss Birkman. She was struggling to hold Girsch's body in the current, unable to reach shore. The body of the younger man has not yet been found.

Coast guardsmen tried to revive the elder Girsch. They said they believed he died of heart failure as there was no water in his lungs.

Santa Fe Officials Assure Pampa Best Shipping Service

Three Santa Fe officials of Amarillo were here Friday in response to questions raised by the board of city development regarding switching facilities in Pampa. The men, W. E. Goodlove, division freight, and passenger agent, C. S. Craven, and Mr. Briscoe, were guests of M. K. Brown while here. The railroad men assured local citizens that an effort will be made to give Pampa all the switching service it wants. Mr. Briscoe stated that more freight is unloaded at Pampa than anywhere in this division. Amarillo included, the Santa Fe is anxious to provide the best shipping service and to give its citizens every facility possible.

MOLRAN, Aug. 24. (Special)—Improvement of Molran's water works system is under way with six cars of pipe for larger mains being unloaded in the city and work in the outlying sections of town being rapidly completed.

VACATION NOTES

By OLIN E. HINKLE, Managing Editor.
This request matter (by request of the gentleman who is submitting for the writer during his alleged vacation) is intended primarily as space filler, and on the theory that one would rest his mind as well as his body on such occasions, nothing profound will be admissible, or even relevant. The writer, moreover having left Webster—the newspaper man's bible—to his "sub-censor," takes no responsibility for the spelling herein, and leaves this copy to the tender mercies of the printers and proofreader.

One year ago Twink was grievously, if not ingloriously, maligned by certain friends who circulated slanderous reports purportedly emanating from along the route he took—to wit, that he had entered into a matrimonial venture. Nothing was further from the truth, but it required almost endless denial, even in the face of evident lack of substantiating evidence, to correct the error.

This communication should put on public guard against such false talk. It is written at Canyon, where what ideas we have learned to shoot, and where Ye Ed stands for the high principles promulgated a few years ago by the now defunct Bachelors Protective Association. Here is proof. Recently we wrote in this column as follows:

"Hell hath no wrath like a woman scorned—nor a town either. When the Woolarot plane passed up Canyon and came on to Pampa before flying back to Amarillo for the night, the Canyon News raised an awful uproar and got a page ad in apology. We feel that Clyde Warwick ought to admit that ad money with us for having coaxed Goebel on up here."

And Warwick, whose ability to sidestep such a question is equaled only by his eloquence in detailing how the fast legislature did a better job than the governor, replied last week thus:

"Now then, what does a confirmed old bachelor like Hinkle know about a woman's scorn? Or is that because he continues to run in single harness? And in the second place, when we get insulted, we get badly insulted and someone has to pay. However, if our insult brings in page ads, we have a chip on our shoulder every week, and dare anyone to knock it off."

So we have yet to collect our debt in the Phillips Petroleum company page ad apology. Still, wonder if Mr. Warwick has missed this portable typewriter from off one of his counters?

When it was noised about in Pampa that the writer would repeat his last year's stunt of boosting New Mexico, there were hints that he ought to move there. He demurs the allegation, and as Scott Barcus is wont to say, he can "lick the allegator." Frankly, Ye Ed's eyes are acclimated to the plains, and their long focus soon tires when the view is obstructed by mountains and forests. But there's nothing better occasionally than a change from home scenes and faces, even if there is, after all, no place like home.

Texas, and particularly West Texas, have a storehouse of scenery and interest in neighboring New Mexico. Within a day's drive of Pampa is scenery which belies the often heard accusation by visitors: "Why, you have nothing here but the sameness of the plains; I don't see how you stand it year after year." This sameness is, of course, not without beauty, and the plainsman is as satisfied with his surroundings as is the mountaineer or the big city dweller.

Yet West Texas does need a new West Texas, which is New Mexico. It is obvious that West Texas should know of this adjacent asset. But many of them are newcomers who do not. Perhaps these random notes will create in some of the readers a desire to frolic in New Mexico's splendid heights or penetrate the majestic depths of her mountain-flanked canyons.

This year's description will not include any mention of the incomparable and indescribable Carlsbad cavern nor of the beauties of the mountains beyond. Instead, the writer will tell something of the older landmarks of New World civilization—Taos, Santa Fe, the Pueblos, Albuquerque. The concluding editorial letters, in all probability, will deal with "The First American", an Indian spectacle which promises to make Albuquerque a mecca for tourists on each annual occasion.

And contrary to reports, Twink shall likely be able to return matrimonially unhitched despite the beauty and wiles of Indian princesses and fair daughters of Spanish dons. Of this no more, but of New Mexico plenty—anon.

WASHINGTON — Every year this country seems to have more and more foreign affairs. The first few months of the Hoover administration have found enough of them on the griddle to call for frequent conferences between President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson.

But as far as your correspondent can learn, we have very little to worry about. Insofar as the international situation is concerned, Uncle Sam hasn't been getting his feet wet.

Negotiations with England over disarmament, carried on by Premier Ramsay MacDonald, President Hoover, Secretary Stimson and Ambassador Dawes ever since Dawes reached London, appear to be progressing favorably. Perhaps owing to the firm policy of secrecy maintained by both governments, available reports of their progress have alternated between hot and cold. But lately these reports have been all to the good and there is every reason to believe that the announced determination of both Hoover and MacDonald to reduce armaments is going to bear fruit without any undue hitches or unnecessary procrastination.

The present prospect is that there will be a further reduction in size and in numbers of capital ships or first-line battleships and that the cruiser fleets of the United States and England will be brought nearer to parity. We have already halted our cruiser program and it appears England will reduce hers and that she will not plan on complete replacement as her existing cruisers reach the age limit.

Meet Dotson to Leo Chase In Finish Match

The impossible has happened in Pampa's sporting world. For the last two years promoters in general have been attempting to match Leo Chase and Cesar Dotson for a finish wrestling match but without success. "Doc" Denebeim went to Dotson and told him that he was afraid to match him. In no polite terms the wrestling mauler stated that he would take on a man like Chase before he would take on any day in the week. That was all difficulties and the promoter immediately started advertising the event in the history of Pampa. Chase and Dotson will wrestle to a finish, two falls out of three, at the Pampa auditorium Thursday night. It will not be a love match and anyone with a faint heart need not attend. Leo Chase is well known as a tough proposition on the mat. He weighs 185 pounds compared to Dotson's 200 pounds but he claims that weight makes no difference to him. He has been hurling challenges at Dotson for more than a year and that worthy has been shedding them like water from a duck's back. The blacksmith claimed that Chase was too small for him, but agreed to meet him to settle the big dispute for all time. Thus the big battle is on. As preliminaries Frankie Mack of Mt. Pleasant, W. Va., will meet O. D. Pampa's fighting newsboy, who will endeavor to make a comeback after a lay-off of more than a year. Another surprise waits the fans. Andy Gump has returned to Pampa and will be in the ring with his old rival Curtis Simpson. Pampa fight fans will long remember the big battles put on by Gump and Simpson.

Jerusalem Site of Clashes With Jews and Arabs

JERUSALEM, Aug. 24. (AP)—A state of emergency was proclaimed to exist over all Palestine tonight with clashes between Arabs and Jews spreading from the point of origin in Jerusalem and with a death list of more than 50 already recorded. British warships and troops were en route to supplement police forces.

The calm restored in Jerusalem this morning after two days rioting in the streets was temporary. At 6 o'clock tonight the disorders were in full blast again.

Jewish sources estimated the number of Jewish dead at 30, with 35 others gravely wounded and estimates of the Arab losses much earlier had been 17 killed with others likely to die. The injured numbered more than 200.

The fighting had spread from the "old city" to the Jewish suburbs of Yemin Moshe, Gdud Saul, Gdud Havoda and Sephardim. Fears were expressed for the safety of Patach Tikvah, the oldest Jewish colony in Palestine, and noted for its rich orange groves.

Jewish leaders appealed to their race to cooperate with the British administration in restoring order. They charged the Arab attack bore evidence of organized warfare and that the Arabs were well armed, especially with daggers. It was also claimed that communist propaganda appeared urging Arabs to fight the Jews and expel the English from the country.

LONDON, Aug. 24. (AP)—The seriousness of the race riots in Palestine led Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald tonight to summon his cabinet to a special meeting tomorrow morning. The first sea lord was recalled from leave.

The war office ordered the railway from Cairo to Alexandria cleared of traffic to facilitate prompt transport of British troops to the trouble zone around Jerusalem. It was announced that five warships carrying troops had been ordered to leave Malta for Palestine.

Miss Betty Soodhalter is to leave today for her home in Houston, after an extended visit here with her brother, Frank Soodhalter. Mr. and Mrs. Soodhalter will accompany her to Amarillo.

Mrs. Pat Longan of Clarendon; her sister, Mrs. W. B. Harris of Loveland, Colo., and the latter's daughter, Miss Shirley, were guests Friday afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. Will Little, proprietors of the Little hotel.

SPORT SLANTS Alan J. Gould

Like most other marks in this fast-moving era of sport, the half-mile running record likely will fall under the flying feet of some new Mercury but the two men most capable of knocking it off quickly, Douglas G. A. Rowe of England and Lloyd Hahn of Nebraska, apparently have hung up their spiked shoes for good.

It took a dozen years for Ted Meredith's old record of 1:52 1-2 to be lowered to 1:51 3-5 by the galloping German, Otto Peltzer. Hahn ran the "880" in 1:51 2-5 on a banked indoor track a year and a half ago but unfortunately indoor performances have no official standing in the blue-book of international records.

Love seemed capable of a world's record last summer. He made a show of Hahn, as well as Peltzer at Amsterdam in the Olympic 800-meter finals, setting a new record. Shortly afterward, at Stamford Bridge, on a terrifically hot afternoon and after one hard race, Love closed off his half-mile leg of a relay in close to 1:50. He had the aid of a running start but he wasn't extended. Had he been given the chance for an official try that day, it seemed Love might easily have cut two seconds off the record.

There have been few greater competitors or more graceful strikers than black-haired Douglas Lowe of Oxford. He likes to run, "for the sport of it," but he prefers now to concentrate on the more serious business of becoming an English barrister while Hahns turns to farming.

Relief pitchers seldom make good starting pitchers. Some time ago I asked Bucky Harris the reason for this.

Buck handled one of the best relief men of them all, Firpo Marberry, who helped Washington win pennants in 1924 and 1925.

"There must be something psychological about it or else it is like the fellows who prefer attending to other people's troubles than to their own," said Bucky. "Marberry always acted to me as though he didn't feel at ease unless he went in there with the bases jammed, no one out and the ball game at stake. Put him in there at the start of a game and he usually would feel so lonesome he would fill the bases. The trouble was he didn't solve his own troubles as well as those of some other pitcher left for him."

The Brooklyn ditch-digger Fabrizio who took only 20 putts for an 18-hole round in the national public links golf championship tournament at St. Louis, with the startling total of 16 one-putt greens, set a record for title play or any kind of competition. There's nothing even remotely resembling such a feat in the record books. In the last American open, Gene Sarazen took only 11 putts for a nine-hole stretch, including seven one-putt greens, but Gene needed 27 for the round. Normally, putting is just half of any golf battle, with champions at their best averaging 30 to 32 putts per round.

Dallas Officials Before Court For Impounding Cars

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 24. (AP)—Threatened contempt proceedings against five Dallas city officials growing out of efforts to enforce automobile parking ordinances by the impounding of cars parked in violation of city statutes were averted today by an apology made in open court.

The officials, Mayor J. Waddy Tate, police commissioner W. C. Graves, police chief Claude Trammell, assistant police chief A. H. Dellinger and policeman J. E. Philpot, were ordered to appear in court today to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court for obstructing civil process after Philpot, in charge of the impounding place, had refused to release T. K. Irwin's automobile, dragged to the pound when found parked in violation of a city ordinance, when served with a writ of sequestration.

The officials, through an attorney, informed the court that the action of the city was not designed to disobey an order of the court. The suit, by agreement to both sides, was dismissed, the city releasing Irwin's automobile without collecting a regular fee of $2 and Irwin paying the cost of court, amounting to $18.

Several other suits growing out of the impounding of automobiles were pending in court, and a hearing on these was ordered for Tuesday.

Two city officials themselves fell victims of the new ruling today, the automobiles of Judge P. D. Crawford of corporation court and Louis Young, city weights and measures inspector, being confiscated. Both recovered their cars by paying a fee of $2.15.

CHURCHES

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

"To us there is but one God, the Father of whom are all things, and we in Him. And one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we in Him." "The very mercy of the Lord is from everlasting upon them that fear Him, and His righteousness unto children's children."

In the name of the Father of us all, and in the name of Jesus Christ, the only hope of the world, we invite you to join with us in the study of God's holy word on the Lord's day in our Sunday school at 9:45 o'clock. A class for every age.

The pastor, the Rev. Tom W. Brab-ham, will speak at both the morning and the evening hours. Themes: Morning hour, "The Sabbath an Isle of Safety." God spoke in the long ago and said: "Remember the Sabbath to keep it holy." Have we a right, as a people, to change the laws of God? Does breaking the laws of God breed crime? Have we a right as a people to break certain laws of our state, and at the same time demand that other laws be enforced? These are some of the questions that Rev. Brabham will discuss Sunday morning. Every law-abiding citizen in Pampa should hear this message.

Evening theme: "The Anchor of the Soul."

We will have special music at all services. We promise you a program that will inspire your heart to greater things in life. Come and worship with us.

Rev. Tom W. Brabham, Pastor
Grady Morton, Educational Director

First Baptist Church

Sunday School, 9:45 o'clock.
Sermon, 11 o'clock.
B. Y. P. U., 7:15 o'clock.
Sermon, 8:15 o'clock.

The pastor will speak both Sunday morning and evening. Morning subject: "The Mother Church of Jerusalem." This will be a sermon full of information. We will discuss the kind, the founder, and the work of this first church. We will show that the membership was cosmopolitan, and the government was congregational and democratic.

Sunday evening sermon subject: "Then Jesus Came." The pastor will show that Jesus comes in the time of crisis, that He comes in unexpected ways and at unlikely times, and that He comes through closed doors.

If you are a stranger in this city, we invite you to worship with us, and if you haven't a church home you will find one at the First Baptist church. All are on equality. This church is for no class exclusively. The rich and the poor meet together. The church with a big welcome. Come and worship with us.

D. H. TRUHITE, Pastor.
JOHN LEE HARRIS, Educational Director.

If you have not already gotten in touch with the Episcopal church here and desire to do so, call the Rev. Alves.

Mukden dispatches to the Chinese News agency Tachung state that the Manchurian authorities have decided: "In the event of a Soviet attack, frontier defense forces have been ordered to hold positions at all costs. If necessary, the Nanking authorities will be petitioned to dispatch reinforcements and also provide money and war materials."

Asks Severance of Holy Orders While Facing Prosecution

NEW YORK, Aug. 24. (AP)—Faced with prosecution for practicing medicine without a license in his defunct health education society, the Rev. Dr. James Empringham today asked Bishop William T. Manning of the Episcopal church to relieve him of holy orders.

In a letter which he addressed to Bishop Manning from California, Dr. Empringham attacked Christianity as interpreted by the bishop as a preposterous lie and a curse and declared he lost faith in the creed of the church 15 years ago.

He also assailed Bishop Manning's stand against divorce and remarriage. Dr. Empringham was recently divorced in Reno and has remarried.

The letter said his stand against pro-

THIS HAS HAPPENED
MOLLY BURNHAM, sob sister on a Boston paper, has been shot by a dope fiend, whose drug-crazed brain led him to believe he should kill her. Molly was reporting the trial of a gunman named Mandrella, and Dopey Dan took exception to her stories. His bullets failed, however, to wound her seriously. And now she is rapidly getting better.

CHAPTER XIX

THE paper was sending Molly to Florida to recuperate. It was the night before she was to leave, and Jack had come to say goodby. She greeted him rapturously. "Oh, Jack, Rita's going to have a baby!"

"Rita?"

"Is that so?" she cried. "Why, Jack Wells, I thought you'd be thrilled to death."

He grinned. "Lots of women have 'em."

"But Rita's different," she pointed out. "There was a companionate marriage."

"Well, it all amounts to about the same thing, doesn't it? Now she's going to have a child, like her mother and her grandmother, and all the mothers since Eve. Nothing very revolutionary about that."

"Well, saynow, I think it's perfectly wonderful," declared Molly. "Rita's the happiest girl in the world."

Molly's eyes grew wistful. "Just seeing her so glad made me think it must be wonderful to be married and to be going to have a little baby."

"But us writers," taunted Jack, "must have our careers. You know, Molly, I haven't mentioned breaking our engagement since that day at the hospital when you ran a temperature on me. But I've thought of it plenty, and I haven't changed my mind any."

Molly had put her arms about his neck, when Jack did a most incredible thing. Unclasping her hands, he withdrew from her embrace.

"Molly, I can't be hardboiled when you do that! Can't you see that what I'm trying to do is for your own good? If I were to bust up your career, I'd feel like a rat. And after a while you'd hate me. On the other hand, if you go ahead, you're going to make a ton of money. Then, when I get off nowhere at all, you'd despise me if you had all the money, and I didn't have any."

"That's a dreadful way for you to talk, Jack. Besides, I may be an awful flop."

"Then I'll marry you!" he promised.

"But that's not the half of it," she declared. "Suppose I do get somewhere, you're going to, too, honey."

"Sure I am," he boasted. "Only I haven't made the grade yet. And I'm not going to be any hang-on while you're going strong. If I'd made my little pile, it would be a different story. Don't you know I'm right, dear?"

"No. But I'll do what you say. I'll let our engagement be broken. It's that's what you want. And, by and by, I can prove that I love you."

Her hotel was on the beach and Molly's room faced the ocean. She found she could have a swim and still work six hours a day.

more than fame, or money, or anything.

MOLLY was struggling with the clasp on the pearl-studded fraternity pin Jack had given her.

"Oh, darling!" Jack kissed the tears in her eyes. "Won't you wear it, Molly? Somewhere where it won't show, if you'd rather. I'd like to know that it was close to you."

They clung to each other desperately. And Molly cried because the boy she loved was holding her in his arms. Kissing her tears away. Telling her that their futures lay far apart.

Molly wiped her eyes. "I forgot to tell you," she said. "Red got himself transferred from police court to sports. He's written baseball before. Besides, he has a dog with the publisher. And he's got himself sent to St. Petersburg, to cover the Braves' training camp. You see he wanted to be around, dear, while I'm working on the play."

Jack lit a cigaret and said nothing.

"After all," she pointed out dolefully, "it was his idea—the play, I mean. If it goes, it will be more to Red's credit than mine."

"You're not jealous of Red, honey?"

"Jealous?" he repeated. "Well, I reckon everyone in love is more or less jealous, honey."

"A WEEK later Molly and Red were hard at work. They had left the train at Jacksonville, where they hired a second-hand car, and motored on to St. Petersburg. The car was theirs for six weeks. They had lithered at St. Augustine, and they stopped in Daytona to see the famous beach, where a friend of Red's had been killed driving a racing car.

At St. Augustine, over the ancient pleasure, and a pride."

Red grimaced. "Not only that," he amended impudently, "but 'tis more blessed to give than to receive."

"It certainly is," agreed Molly. "The pleasure of giving is sweeter than that of receiving, and infinitely more beneficial. Take my father and mother. All their lives they've been sacrificing for each other, and they're the happiest people I know. Take Jack and me. He's generous and noble. And I'm so darn selfish and mercenary."

"Let's not get personal," interposed Red, hastily. "Hey, look Molly—look at the Yellow Peril over there!"

THE Peril was a transatlantic woman in a yellow sun suit. She was dressed like the alms young things, in a suit without a back. And her flesh felt in great loose waves, that quivered like jelly.

"You ought to bring a jana like that into the play. Touch of comedy. We'll have to relieve the tragedy somehow. How'd it be to introduce a scene on Don Ce-Sar beach?"

Molly watched the young people on the beach with marveling interest. She had heard so much of the thing called Sex Consciousness. Where was it, this stinking, horrid Consciousness that had the adult world by its ears? Surely there was none of it among these beautiful, naked pagans. These glorious boys and girls who romped and swam, and rode the waves like sun-tanned sprites.

"There's a new Youth," she told Red wisely, "and the oldsters don't know it. Look at that girl—the one in blue. There isn't enough material in the suit she's wearing to make a bandanna. And the boy with her—the one in trunking; without a jersey—did you ever see a finer looking boy in your life?"

They had been racing in the water—the girl in blue, and the boy in trunking, and now, breathless, they had thrown themselves on the beach.

"I wonder," mused Molly, "if there are middle-aged moralists anywhere with as little sex consciousness as these two. Wearing a lot of clothes and cultivating respectability doesn't do much for morality. I think boys and girls in sun suits are the sanest, healthiest, beautiful things in the world."

"Now, Molly!" Red laughed at her earnestness. "Don't turn propagandist. You're all dated up to forget this fine, clean youth you're slipped on. You gotta bend your thoughts to a spell, dirty play. Lay off young virtue now, and get busy on middle-aged sin."

Her hotel was on the beach, and Molly's room faced the ocean. She found she could have a swim and still work six hours a day.

Molly was almost finished when Molly had a telegram from Bob. Rita's baby had come, a little girl. She weighed six pounds, and had long black hair. Rita was feeling fine.

Molly showed the wire to Red. "I think I'd like a baby myself," she sighed.

"You can't have everything, fludn't you rather have your name up in electric lights?"

"They were having that week for New York, and Red had made an appointment for Molly to meet George Durbin, the great producer."

Horse Fly Bites And Horses Fly— Then Race Is On

The horse fly bit the horses; the team ran away; two children narrowly escaped; the farm wife was hurt and the dog bit a man twice. Aside from that, it will be a long time before folks stop talking about what the horsefly did yesterday.

The fly was at ease and so were Ed. Heath's horses when Ed. drove into Oscar Lea's farmyard, but it wasn't long before the fly got restless, and the horses too.

"Flies," said one of the Lea boys; and he went to stop the team. But the horses had started to run as he grabbed the bridle of one. He let go after being dragged over a considerable part of the yard.

One of the younger Lea children was playing directly in the path of the animals. Lea made a dash and picked the child up. The horses made a dash, too, toward another child. Mrs. Lea sprinted to the spot in time to save the child but was herself badly trampled. Heath started after them. But he tripped on the chain holding an excited dog. The dog did his part nobly by biting Heath twice.

That was about all that could happen, and the horses stopped.

Miami Man Killed By Lightning

Ott Patton, 36, who was instantly killed by a stroke of lightning yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock on the Bud McCustion ranch four miles north of Miami, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patton of this city. He also has two sisters living here.

Patton was struck by a bolt of lightning as he was leaving a plow to meet two nephews who had come to the field where he was plowing. The body was badly burned. Patton is survived by a wife and two children. Funeral arrangements had not been announced today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bratton have as their guests Mr. Bratton's mother, Mrs. J. D. Bratton, and his sister, Mrs. J. L. Howell, both of Fort Worth. They arrived last evening, accompanied by Master Billie Bratton, who had spent six weeks in Fort Worth.

Parents, bring your children of school age for free eye sight examination, 9 to 11 a. m. daily during August.

A Sermon For The Week We Must Subordinate Self

By THE RT. REV. THOMAS CAMPBELL DURST

(Bishop, East Diocese of North Carolina Protestant Episcopal Church)

We are willing to pay the price of religion. We want the power which only religion can give but we do not realize its cost. This failure is largely due to sentimental theology. We are incurably romantic and heroic.

We shape an easy program for ourselves. We substitute the form of the church, the liturgy, and the ritual which we enjoy, for a literal acceptance of Christ and his faith. There is a prevailing tendency to crush religion.

Christians are unwilling to face the obligations of their faith. Too many of us want to be disciples of Christ but are unwilling to accept the responsibilities of his followers. We do not actively and continually witness our Christian beliefs.

Our great difficulty is that we have not met the great test. We have not subdued self. It is self that flings insurmountable barriers across the pathway of Jesus; self that occupies rooms that were intended as dwelling places of Jesus; self that occupies rooms that were intended as dwelling places of Jesus; self that must be forgotten if the progress of religion is not to be unobstructed.

Another Joins The "Caterpillar Club" In Parachute Jump

DALLAS, Aug. 24. (P)—C. J. Holoubek, 31, of Los Angeles, department of commerce aeronautics engineering inspector, saved his life today by a parachute jump when his plane went into a spin and crashed near here.

Nervous and depressed because the ship had been smashed, Holoubek was unhurt. He found his induction into the "Caterpillar club," the ranks of those who have escaped death via parachute a shaky affair. "That was my first chute jump and I'll tell the cock-eyed world it isn't so pleasant—especially when you're trying to save a ship," he declared.

The machine was one of three small fast pursuit ships turned over to the department of commerce by the navy flying service. Holoubek, with Capt. H. B. Pentland, department of commerce aeronautics inspector for Love field here, and M. S. Boggs of Washington arrived in the three planes yesterday from El Paso, en route from San Diego, Calif., to Washington.

Holoubek's craft, he said, was in trouble since he left El Paso.
