Shipping Is Turned Into Manila Bay

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Thursday, March 1—Gen. Douglas MacArthur today announced the entrance of American shipping into Manila bay and the end of the Corregidor campaign just 14 days after paratroopers and infantrymen landed on the fortress island to engage a well-armed enemy double the size of the Yank force.

The Americans took "The Rock" at the entrance to Manila bay in just half the time the Japanese required to defeat the gallant defenders under Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright in early 1942.

6,000 Japs Smashed

A force of 3,038 Americans, landing under fire Feb. 16, avenged that surrender by smashing approximately 6,000 Japanese.

MacArthur termed Corregidor "a strongly-fortified island fortress defended to the point of annihilation by a well-equipped, fanatical enemy practically double the size of our force."

PALAWAN INVADED?
(By The Associated Press)
Tokyo radio reported last night that a regiment of American troops had invaded Palawan island, long and narrow westernmost island of the Philippines. There was no Allied confirmation. The broadcast was recorded by the Federal Communications commission.

The Japanese on Corregidor, he said, were "reduced in a period of 12 days by a combination of surprise, strategy and fighting technique and skill, perfectly coordinated with supporting naval and air forces."

American shipping was using Manila harbor today, sailing past the once-formidable "Rock" at the bay's entrance.

4,125 Jap Bodies Counted

MacArthur said 4,215 Japanese bodies had been counted on Corregidor and many hundreds have been sealed in tunnels and caves where they were buried alive or blown to bits as they touched off underground ammunition dumps.

Only 18 prisoners were captured on the tadpole-shaped island.

American losses were 136 killed, 531 wounded and eight missing—a total of 675.

The American forces which took Corregidor were the 503rd Parachoop regiment, the Third Battalion of the 34th Infantry regiment and miscellaneous elements, a total of 3,038 Yanks.

Some 15 miles east and northeast of Manila, where the mopping up of enemy remnants was proceeding, Yanks of the Fourteenth corps drove against strong Japanese entrenchments on the Antipolo-Wewa line, encounter-

Most Of Central Plateau Held; Jap Dead Over 4,784

By LEIF ERICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Guam, Thursday, March 1. — A big Marine push on little Iwo Wednesday won them most of the island's vital central plateau with gains that one general said went far toward deciding the 10-day-old campaign.

The hard-fighting Devildogs won complete control of a second airfield. They rolled past the island's principal town of Motoyama. They reached a third incompleted airfield.

They gained more than 500 yards all alone the line. They advanced up to 800 yards through the best developed set of fortifications encountered anywhere in the Pacific. They counted 4,784 enemy dead.

Gains Said Decisive

Well over half of the island, which Lt. Gen. Holland M. Smith expects to fall shortly, is in Marine hands.

Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine of the Third division said the battle for the plateau is the decisive operation and once all of it is in Marine hands the fight to Iwo's north end will be down hill.

Wednesday's impressive gains snapped the back of Japanese resistance which had compelled the Marines to measure gains by feet and yards for five days.

The push in the center pierced the main enemy line of resistance. From this point on, the enemy strength and will to resist can be expected to grow weaker.

Count Far From Complete

The death count for the enemy obviously is far from complete. Front line correspondents said the advancing Americans found large numbers of enemy dead in pillboxes, shell and bomb holes and in fortified gun emplacements. Many of these dead had been dragged into pillboxes and holes by the Japanese to conceal them.

The count of enemy dead covered a period up to 6 p. m. Monday. Inasmuch as a previous communique listed 3,568 Japanese dead up to noon the same day, the new re-

Powerful Aerial Assault Goes On

By HENRY JAMESON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 28—Berlin was attacked tonight for the ninth consecutive night by RAF Mosquito bombers which dropped two-ton blockbusters, the air ministry announced.

The attack on the Nazi capital brought to a close a full month of one of the greatest aerial offensives in history. Earlier today, 2,000 Allied warplanes made six roaring smashes on rail and oil targets in western Germany.

Over 100,000 Sorties

The attacks brought the number of sorties carried out over western Germany by Britain-based American and RAF fighters and bombers during February to more than 100,000.

An indication that the air attack was being carried into the night came from the German "achtung" warning service, which said small formations of fast-flying bombers were over Brandenburg province in which Berlin is located. These probably were Mosquito bombers hitting the capital for the ninth consecutive night.

Spearheading the current attack on the Reich through the 16th straight day were 1,100 Flying Fortresses and Liberators of the U. S. Eighth Air force, which smashed at least five congested railway centers behind the Rhine.

Benzol Plant Pounded

While the Eighth Air force heavies were digging up railroad yards a strong force of RAF Lancasters, Spitfires and Mustangs battered the Nordstern benzol plant near Gelsenkirchen.

Targets for the Americans included the railway yards at Kassel, feeding three main lines to the Ruhr and northeast Germany, Soest, 15 miles southeast of Hamm at a junction of two mainlines into central Germany; Schwerte and Hagen in the southeast corner of the Ruhr; and Siegen, 40 miles east of Cologne, where there is one of the largest railroad repair shops in western Germany.

Others From Italy

While American and RAF planes from Britain were battering the western Reich, warplanes of both the U. S. 15th Air force and the U. S. 12th Air force roared northward from bases in Italy in attacks against the southern ramparts of Hitler's diminishing holdings.

Heavy bombers of the 15th and mediums from the 12th gave the Brenner Pass rail line—main escape route from Italy for Field Marshal Kesselring's forces—one of its heaviest hammerings. At the same time Thunderbolts, Mustangs and Lightnings bombed and strafed rail targets in Austria. Thunderbolts poured bombs and rockets i to : ammunition train in the Villach-Linz area causing huge explosions.

Nazi Transfers To East Stage Mutiny

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 28. (AP) — At least 300 German soldiers, Gestapo agents and SS (Elite Guard) troopers were killed in violent fighting which broke out in three Copenhagen barracks last week as a result of a mutiny of newly-arrived German troops en route from Norway to duty on the eastern front, the Swedish newspaper Sydsvenska Dagbladet reported tonight.

The newspaper, which presumably obtained its information from Danish sources, asserted that the aftermath of the mutiny was the execution of 200 of the mutineers on orders of Col. Gen. Georg Lindemann, the new Nazi commander in Denmark.

DALLAS, Feb. 28. (AP) — Mrs. H. J. Kimball, clerk in the office of Justice of the Peace W. L. Sterrett, received 21 letters in one mail from her husband who is in the Army and stationed in the Southwest Pacific.

Sterrett gave her the afternoon off to catch up on her reading.

Texans Dig Out Of Ice Damage

(By The Associated Press)

Ice which sheathed sections of North and West Texas, virtually isolating the city of Denison, was beginning to melt Wednesday and there were reports of rising temperatures from practically every area.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone company found more than 400 longer distance circuits out and had more than 100 men in the area rushing repair work, but said it would take several weeks to untangle the jumble. Six gangs of workmen are on the way from St. Louis.

Involves Large Area

The ice area was from Weatherford on the west to Honey Grove on the east, and from Dallas-Fort Worth to the Oklahoma line. There were 1,000 telephone poles down throughout this area.

Repair crews made some progress at Denison toward restoring electric power but there were still 600 local telephones out of commission.

After a day of acute water shortage, water was again flowing in all mains.

The Bell Telephone company said Wednesday night that long distance communication with Denison had been restored.

Gainesville Also Damaged

Like Denison, Gainesville too was recovering from the worst ice storm in its history—a storm which caused thousands of dollars damage to utility lines and left the city without electric power and outside communication.

The storm began Tuesday when 1.52 inches of rain fell in a 24-hour period.

Public schools were closed Tuesday and Wednesday but resumption of classes was scheduled for

FDR Speaks Today On Yalta Meeting

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—President Roosevelt, back from Yalta, will tell the nation tomorrow of his hopes for such a secure peace that the victory-bound Allies can gradually cut down their armaments.

His hopes extend even to the day—50 or 60 years from now, he says—when a spirit of peace may embrace Germany and Japan, now reaping the wages of aggression.

To Speak At 11:30

The President at 11:30 a. m. central war time, will go before a joint session of Congress to report on his victory-and-peace mission to the Crimea with Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin. What he says will be broadcast.

But Mr. Roosevelt's report will not tell all. Some understandings reached at the Big Three meetings in an old Czarist resort on the Black sea are secret, he said. Whether they involve political or military, or both, is part of the secrecy.

It is no secret that the President exhibited the strongest sort of hope for an increasingly better world to grow out of the sufferings of this war.

He told a miniature news conference aboard the cruiser that brought him home that the Yalta conference, wherein German downfall and last peace were topics, was one of a series of steps toward this better world.

To Douglas B. Cornell of the Associated Press and two other reporters, one from the United Press and one from the International News Service, Mr. Roosevelt commented:

That the American public and press were quite right in saying with virtual unanimity that the parley was a great achievement.

This comment demonstrated that, despite his five weeks of travel away from the White House, he had been supplied reports on the American scene.

Signed Bill At Sea

Another indication of home front connection was the disclosure that while at sea, the President signed the George bill opening the way for Henry A. Wallace to become his secretary of commerce.

To Congress, Mr. Roosevelt is expected to take the same stand on the Polish matter that Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Minister Eden have taken in the British House of Commons. Sum-

Lend-Lease For France Extended

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP) — The United States today announced extension of lend-lease credits to France for civilian supplies totaling $2,575,000,000.

The supplies are to continue moving to the French under a broad new lend-lease agreement signed today with the de Gaulle government, even after the end of the war, unless President Roosevelt decides to cancel the contracts as being not "in the national interest."

The French agreed to pay for the materials thus received on a 30-year basis, the credits to bear interest at 2⅜ per cent annually.

Master Arrangement

The agreements cover a master lend-lease arrangement similar to those made with Great Britain, Russia and China; a reciprocal aid plan by which France agrees to devote its resources as far as possible to the Allied war effort.

In effect, the agreement gives France assurance of badly needed civilian supplies for her economic rehabilitation although it was officially stated that only those items having "war connected" uses are authorized.

The announcement said that the civilian supplies agreement "is the first to be concluded with any of the United Nations."

"A similar agreement is in negotiation with the Soviet Union," it added.

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Mrs. Winston Churchill has accepted an invitation from the Soviet government and the Red Cross and Red Crescent societies of Russia to visit the Soviet Union early in the spring. She is to visit hospitals and other institutions.

Censorship Complaints Put Back Into Laps Of Editors

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP)—The Office of Censorship took notice today of complaints against restrictions on writing about President Roosevelt's movements, and said:.

"It is for publishers and editors to determine whether the code shall be violated by any individual writer, and the great record of the past three years cancelled."

Under the voluntary censorship code, publication of movements of the President require an appropriate authority. In this case, it is the White House.

Among those who have protested the way this has worked out is columnist Westbrook Pegler who wrote in his Feb. 20 column that the next time the President went to Hyde Park, he intended to publish the information.

Pegler's argument was that Mr. Roosevelt was as safe at Hyde Park as at the White House and that his projected action "would be a helpful challenge to a system of censorship which has imposed on the press and its readers unreasonably."

The Office of Censorship had "no comment" to queries as to whether its note to editors on complaints was inspired by a specific complaint or complaints.

It said only, over the signature of Director Byron Price:

"The Office of Censorship is alive to current newspaper dissatisfaction over the operation of the voluntary press code, particularly the clause regarding movements of the President. . . ."

Eisenhower Warns Trier Of Shelling

LONDON, Feb. 28. (AP) — A warning from Gen. Eisenhower to the German citizens of Trier to prepare for heavy artillery shelling was broadcast by the Luxembourg radio tonight as Berlin commentators reported a rapidly-developing pincer movement by the U. S. Third Army against that important Moselle valley strongpoint.

The message, broadcast "on orders of Gen. Eisenhower," told the Germans to resist evacuation by the Nazis.

"Allied armies are approaching Trier," the announcement said. "Any moment heavy artillery fire on the town may attain considerable proportions. Intensive bombardmen of railway lines and of the port east of the town must be expected."

Rampant Yanks Roll On, Nazis Withdraw

Cologne Pounded; Nazis Appear In Utter Confusion

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Feb. 28. — Gen. Eisenhower's rampant Western front offensive smashed to within 6½ miles of the great industrial city of Cologne today with the U. S. First Army making three crossings of the shallow Erft river near Modrath.

There were indications that the Germans were being forced to withdraw from their positions west of the Rhine as tanks and infantry of Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army went crashing through the main defenses guarding Cologne and other Allied forces pressed their assault all along the front.

The U. S. Ninth Army of Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson continued to close around the big railway center of Muenchen-Gladbach, but the exact movements of these troops remained masked behind a security news blackout. Front dispatches said Simpson's doughboys were advancing with great speed in some places and slowly at others. The Germans threw in King Tiger tanks, their latest and most powerful armor, in an attempt to halt the Americans.

Rundstedt Shifts Troops

Enemy resistance stiffened against the Canadian First Army, which was held to an advance of about a mile in the north. Even so it was reported Field Marshal von Rundstedt had withdrawn some of the German defenders from this end of the front with the obvious intent of trying to bolster the enemy line in the center, where the industrial metropolis of Dusseldorf was being imminently threatened as well as Cologne.

The American Third Army cleared the important German road center of Bitburg, and five other towns beyond, and also fought into Pellingen, five miles southeast of Trier. The Sixth Armored division crossed the Pruem river at a new place and took six towns.

Goebbels Pumps Up Nazis Again

LONDON, Feb. 28. (AP) — Reichsminister Paul Joseph Goebbels told the German people tonight that "we will rather die than capitulate" and declared that Germany must and would retake the lost territories in the east.

In an advance text of a speech by the propaganda minister transmitted by Transocean, Goebbels vowed greater areas of Britain would be shelled by V-weapons in the near future.

"The war is by no means ended yet," he said.

He declared the nation must economize more than ever before and that armament supply must be simplified and concentrated.

Fully Publicized

(A broadcast by the German DNB agency tonight indicated that Germans would find nothing in their newspapers tomorrow except the text of this speech. Publishers were ordered in the dispatch to disregard regulations limiting size of Thursday papers to two pages in order to accommodate the text).

Earlier the German government had announced another cut in food rations and the Moscow radio had reported hunger riots in the Reich. The Moscow broadcast said thousands of hungry refugees had demonstrated in the Halle-Merseburg area when their ration cards were ruled invalid.

MINES ARE EFFECTIVE

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP) — More than 1,000 enemy vessels—warships, supply ships and coastal craft—have been sunk or damaged by British mines since the outbreak of war, the Admiralty announced tonight. Probably more than 60 per cent of this number struck mines laid by RAF planes, the Admiralty statement said.

Rail Hub Seized In Soviet Baltic Drive

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Thursday, March 1—Russians yesterday seized the five-way rail hub of Neustettin in Pomerania, killing 3,000 of its garrison, and gained five to six miles in the offensive aimed at isaloting the Germans in the Baltic coastal area of Danzig, the Polish corridor and northeast Pomerania.

Besides the slain, 600 Germans were captured and 1,5 Russians were liberated from slave labor when Neustett fell to a combined frontal assault and outflanking maneuve a late Soviet war bulletin said today.

Early Doom For Nazis Envisioned

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON,—Nazi Germany is rapidly entering that goetterdaemmerung—twilight of the gods—which Hitler so loved to see depicted in Wagnerian opera.

Under the impact of the hardest blows yet administered, early doom of Hitler's false gods of race prejudice, belief in the Germanic superman, and the outlawry of Christianity is clearly discernible.

Warned of Offensive

Informed sources say Field Marshal von Rundstedt has been warning Hitler for weeks of the impending offensive in the west. If it has caught the German Army inadequately prepared it can mean but one thing—Germany has scraped the bottom of the barrel and cannot muster sufficient forces to contain this offensive and at the same time stave off the Russians.

The psychological factor of the inevitability of the Soviet advance constitutes an enormous advantage when dealing with the German people, who like to figure things out.

Soldiers Must Know

Common sense tells even the least intelligent German soldier that there is nothing discernible with which Hitler can stage a comeback.

The combined Eastern-Western squeeze seems likely soon to make the Germans experience what the Belgians did in May, 1940.

At that time, due to the concentric pressure of the German armies from three sides, the Belgian armies, as well as noncombatant men, women and children, some 2,500,000 Belgians in all, were crowded into an area which in normal times was considered filled up with 800,000 inhabitants.

Radio Luxembourg, which announced that refugees from eastern Germany were meeting those from the west, may have exaggerated, but there is at least a grain of truth in the assertion.

The refugee problem is one of demoralization—it clutters up transportation, it causes worry for the fighting forces, and it constitutes a visual demonstration of the hopelessness of a nation's position.

Parents' Blood Type Endangers Infant

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Feb. 28 (AP) —A 6½ pound girl, delivered a month prematurely by Caesarean operation today, was placed in an incubator and given an immediate transfusion to combat the unusual blood type combination of her parents and prevent her possible death.

Scores of persons throughout the nation having an unusual type blood, O-RH negative, had volunteered to donate blood to Mrs. George C. Colebourn, 29, Georgetown, Ill., registered nurse, the expectant mother. The man selected was Charles Lyons, 26, Sidell, Ill., farmer, who drove 70 miles through a heavy snowfall this morning and donated 500 cubic centimeters of his blood. Churchill Wins In Censure Test

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP) — The House of Commons, in the first formal legislative action on the Crimean charter among the great powers, crushed a move to censure the Big Three's plan for postwar Poland tonight and insured blanket approval of the Yalta decisions when a vote is taken tomorrow.

By a topheavy tally of 396 to 25, Commons rejected a motion to include a protest against the Polish policy in the general endorsement of the Big Three decisions which has been demanded by Prime Minister Churchill as a vote of confidence.

Overwhelming Support

With the Polish question almost the sole issue under challenge—and that only by an outnumbered group of conservatives—tonight's action provided a solid guarantee that Churchill would win overwhelming support tomorrow at the conclusion of Britain's important foreign policy debate.

Wick Fowler, Back From Gory Germany, Can See No Early Nazi Collapse, Says Homefront Belt Tightening Needed

By WICK FOWLER
(War correspondent of the Dallas Morning News just returned today from 14 months on European battle fronts, largely spent with Texas' 36th division.)

DALLAS, Feb. 28 (AP)—I just left the misery, the maiming and the death that goes with the Western front in Germany.

I've been home only a few hours now. I feel very safe.

Not many days ago in the slush, the snow and the shellfire near Strasbourg and along the Rhine river I had my last glimpse of an ugly, yet magnificent, sight.

I saw your American men—sons of Texas and Oklahoma and Montana and every state—fighting your war.

If I have a message it is this:

It is hell—multiplied hell—over there that you can't picture. Get that clearly in your minds. Your sons are thankful that you are not experiencing it—not a witness to the thirst of a German 88 for blood, the godless fanaticism of a Nazi soldier.

They pray to God they were out of it. But they know there are many, many gray uniformed men to rise before them, bitterly fighting Germans who must be cut down before their prayers can be answered.

They would want you to believe, as they believe, that this war on the Western front is in its bitterest phase. Unconditional surrender is as far away from them as the fartherest German. There will be no early collapse of the wehrmacht—unless a miracle occurs.

The boys on the front have little faith in miracles.

It is the weary, glazy-eyed doughboy, the mortar men, the bazooka men, the tank, the tank destroyer crews, the artillery batteries, the monstrous chains of service troops feeding supplies toward the front, the engineers and the airmen I speak for.

For more than a year I followed the gallant Texas Thirty-Sixth division, the Forty-Fifth from Oklahoma, the Third division, the Thirty-Fourth, the air forces and many other units through the shambles of Cassino, Anzio, Velletri, Pisa, Southern France and to the Rhine river.

So few of those original men are still fighting. Casualties have been tragically heavy.

When you watch them your heart goes out for the foot soldier, the front line medical men for whom recognition has been so slow in coming.

When I reached the United States only a couple of days ago I was confused by the optimism—talk that the German Army would collapse within a few short weeks or months. It was in sharp contrast to the realism I just left.

A big offensive such as the one now boiling on the Western and Eastern fronts calls for more belt tightening and determination than light optimism.

Generals like the beloved Ike Eisenhower can send men into bloody rivers, deploy them across bullet-raked plains. But the push must begin on this side of the Atlantic and gather momentum as it nears the front.

I found the United States in the midst of a Red Cross campaign that would have soared over its goal in twenty four hours if every American could see with their own eyes just what the Red Cross means to a man overseas.

The American Red Cross is the morale supply line that reaches from your front parlor, dining room and heart to the men over there. It provides that single communication line.

For the sake of those men, don't let hesitancy infiltrate to cut those lines.

That's the message I brought home from some great men . . .

S. Drafts Compromise Pledge n Aggression In Hemisphere

By FLORA LEWIS
Associated Press Staff Writers

MEXICO, Feb. 28. — The Unit- States delegation has drafted compromise pledge to Latin erica that armed forces would used to crush aggression in hemisphere.

Whether this will be presented the Inter-American conference ends upon consultation with nator Tom Connally (D-Tex) ight, after his arrival, and prob- y with the White House.

t was learned on the highest hority that the U. S. delega- has a draft ready, modifying text presented to the con- nce committee yesterday, ich provided for automatic use armed forces without reserva- n.

Primary Changes

The changes made by the Unit- States consist mainly into div- ng operation of the commitment put down aggression into two iods, because of U. S. consti- ional limitations.

The declaration would take ef- t as soon as signed and would d the American nations so long the war emergency continues.

This direction was taken be- use President Roosevelt has the thority to use armed forces to tect the United Nations' war fort under his special war pow- s. Congressional approval would unnecessary during this per- d.

After the war, a treaty would be negotiated which would carry the same principles and be sub- ject to ratification.

In a second historic action, mem- bers of the U. S., Mexican and other delegations are understood to have agreed on a reorganiza- tion of the Pan-American union to take effect as soon as the de- claration is signed.

Main Provisions

It is a compromise of U. S. and Mexican views and is expected to be reported out of committee tomorrow. Main provisions are:

1. Political powers for the Pan- American union, and any other powers given it by future inter- American conferences.

2. Regular yearly meetings of American foreign ministers.

3. Meetings of American for- eign ministers.

3. Meetings of American states every four years. (This would probably come a year after Am- erican presidential elections so that there would be a conference for every term.)

4. Appointment of special dele- gates to the Pan-American union governing board, with ambassa- dors to Washington barred. (Mex- ico felt that diplomats accredit- ed to the U. S. might be unduly influenced by the secretary of state.)

5. Rotating chairmanship of the union with no reelection. Head- quarters would remain in Wash- ington. (At present, the U. S. sec- retary of state always has the chairmanship.)

Session Called Success

Delegates to the conference ex- pressed the opinion that the use of force and Pan-American union decisions have already made the meeting a success beyond expecta- tions.

Republics in South America were especially heartened by the anti-aggression declaration. They are anxious for immediate assur- ances of United States support in any possible fracas with Argentina.

The U. S. draft of the Chapul- tepec declaration leaves out parts referring to "compulsory" action on the decesion of "an absolute majority of American nations."

While this would appear to weaken the commitment to take action, officials said the pledge remains and the main difference is that the draft makes clear the consultations will be necessary.

The decision represented a com- promise between two factions of the U. S. delegation.

Advisers looking primarily to- wards, Dumbarton Oaks had taken the stand that committments on peace-time use of American arm- ies should be held off until San Francisco. They argued that if a proposal were adopted here re- quiring Senate ratification, it might jam the road for a United Nations treaty.

The formula of relying on the President's war powers now and drawing up a treaty later clear- ed this hurdle.

In the definite committement to take action when aggression ap- pears or is threatened, Chapul- tepec goes even beyond Dumbar- ton Oaks. Dumbarton Oaks leav- es the decesion on whether the United Nations should move against an aggressor, as well as how to move, to the security coun- cil. Also, Dumbarton Oaks con- tains no such specific guarantees as "inviolability and integrity of territory" and "political independence."

Woman Employe At LAAF Walks Three Miles Daily To Bus

If walking to reach one's war job is any indication of one's patriotism then Miss Virginia L. Alexander of the Tahoka highway should receive some sort of medal for her effort—almost 400 miles of picking 'em and laying 'em down during some of the season's coldest weather for the past five months.

Miss Alexander has turned in the unusual feat of walking a mile and a half to a bus stop each morning for the past five months in order to reach her job formerly at SPAAF and more recently at Lubbock Army Air field where her story came to light Wednesday.

Walks 3 Miles Daily

And she walks the mile and a half back home from the bus stop each day, making a total of three miles a day she walks just to make connections to get to her work at the big AAF Instructors School. The young woman's accomplish- ment was made known this week when she asked for a ride to the field. She got the ride in a hurry but still has to walk the distance from the edge of the city to her home.

It seems that no bus or other means of transportation extends as far out as Miss Alexander's home where she lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Alex- ander some four miles south of the Courthouse, so to reach a bus stop at 34th street she just sets out on foot each morning—cold weather or not.

Started Friday Oct. 13

She kept this up while going to SPAAF to work and more recently continued it upon starting to work at LAAF where she is employed in the salvage office. A conserva- tive estimate places her walking at 400 miles for the five-month period. She started her daily hikes on Friday, Oct. 13, not that the date has anything unusual to do with it except that she is still walking.

Miss Alexander is a graduate of Lockney High school, and for the past two years she has been work- ing with the OPA in Washington. Did she have to walk far to work in the nation's busy, over-crowded capitol?

"Not quite," she laughs, "I just stepped out of my front door and there was a bus passing every three minutes!"

Canaries can't hear sounds that are lower in pitch than the highest "C" reached by the singing voices of human sopranos.

Amvet Official Under Fire For Statements

DALLAS, Feb. 28. (AP)—Claude C. Morgan, national public rela- tions officer for the Amvets, said today that LaMarr Bailey, nation- al first vice president of the vet- erans' organization, "has no au- thority to speak on the policy of Amvets."

Morgan told The Dallas Times Herald that Elmo W. Keel of New Orleans, national commander of the organization, had told him by telephone last night that Keel was contacting the nine members of the Amvet national executive committee asking them to re- quest Bailey's resignation because of press statements he said had been made by Bailey.

Bailey, in comment on Mor- gan's statement, said: "It shows that when the boys face the test they start getting cold feet."

Morgan referred to a statement issued by Bailey Saturday in which Bailey said the organiza- tion, the full name of which is American Veterans of World War II, was opposed to the Political Action committee of the CIO and that Amvets considered the PAC as "an un-American political party."

"We do not stand for or against any group or any proposals. We organized only as a temporary group to pave the way for a per- manent peace-time veteran's group. Our principal interest is in perfecting this organization," said Morgan.

Bailey said today he would have comment later on Morgan's statement about the request for his resignation.

'A' Drivers Put Off Again For New Tires

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP) — New tire inventories are "grossly inadequate" for the warm months, the OPA reported today.

So the "A" eard holders must continue to wait. The March ra- tion quota is unchanged from Feb- ruary, at 1,600,000 new tires. They will go to "B" and "C" drivers.

Two thousand new automobiles were allotted for the month, the same as in February.

Col. Banister Dies Wednesday At Austin

AUSTIN, Feb. 28. (AP)—Col. Neil H. Banister, 55, assistant adjutant general for many years and pro- minent in the Texas Defense Guard, died today after an illness of nearly a year.

Col. Banister's military record began in 1911 with the Louisiana National Guard. He later came to the Texas National Guard as a first lieutenant and served with the Fourth, and the 144th Texas Infantry along the Mexican border prior to 1917.

During World war I he went overseas as a major and inspec- tor general of the 36th division. After the war he helped reorganize the 36th division as the Texas National Guard unit and took a prominent part in organization of the Texas Defense Guard and the succeeding organization, the Texas State Guard.

Survivors include: Mrs. Banis- ter; her daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Fowler of Florida; a brother, Col John R. Banister of the Selective Service state headquarters staff here.

Col. Banister was the son of John Banister, sr., well-known Texas Ranger and cattleman. He was born at Santa Anna, Dec. 15, 1889; was educated in the Santa Anna public schools and attended Baylor university, Tyler Commer- cial college, and the Dallas Law school, after which he was admit- ted to the bar.

Combat Infantrymen, Back From Battlefronts, Praise Red Cross

Three combat infantrymen—two of whom were wounded in action against the Nazis in the front lines in Italy—have arrived at Lubbock Army Air field to add their unstinting praise to that of more than a score of AAF returnees, who also have just been stationed at LAAF, for the work of the American Red Cross overseas.

The infantrymen, after returning to the States for hospitalization, have just entered the AAF as the ground forces replace some of the men the AAF has been furnishing for combat duty. The returned infantry personnel are being shifted to the AAF on a limited scale if they have mechanical abilities which can be used in motor and plane maintenance.

Red Cross Cheers Them

And today Lubbock residents have the word of these battle and travel weary soldiers that the Red Cross in furnishing them a cup of coffee, a doughnut, and a cigaret is doing more than anything else in the world to bring them a bit of home in the mountains of Italy or after missions over Germany.

And that bit of home is being supplied Lubbock fighting men on those same battlefronts today, tonight and every day through the Red Cross—residents of the city, who for the next few days will be asked to contribute to the annual nationwide Red Cross campaign, have the word of these men to that effect.

Always At Right Place

Tech Sgt. Richard R. Means of Mansfield, Ohio, who arrived at the field Tuesday after spending nine months with the 9th Air Force in the ETO, expressed it, "Red Cross trucks do a swell job over there. They are always at the right place at the right time."

Tech Sgt. Eugene DeYoe of Minneapolis, Minn., who reported to LAAF on the same day after duty with the Eighth Air Force said, "The Red Cross runs excellent clubs in England. They were the only places we could get cokes, but the thing we appreciated most was a glass of milk when we got off the boat back in the states, the first we had had in over a year."

Both men wear the Purple Heart, both wounded by flak while on missions over Germany. DeYoe was a radio operator gunner on a B-17 and Means had the same job on a B-26. Both wear the DFC and both have Air Medals, DeYoe with three Oak Leaf Clusters, Means with 14. They also told of borrowing money for furloughs, of good dances with both American and English girls, and topnotch shows provided when off duty—all furnished by the Red Cross.

Pfc. John Edward Rokosz of Whiting, Ind., who was wounded in action in the front lines north of Rome his first day in action against the Nazis as a member of the 91st Division and who spent a long time in Army General Hospitals, arrived at the field Wednesday with nothing but praise for the work of the Red Cross—all the way from Naples to hospital ships home and in hospitals back home.

Wounded Second Time

Another infantryman now in the AAF and who has just arrived at LAAF is Pfc. Leon L. Brisson of Indian Orchard, Mass., who wears the Purple Heart and one Oak Leaf Cluster for machine gun and shrapnel wounds received in action in Italy with the 85th Division. He went back into action after the machine gun wounds and again was wounded by shrapnel and again went to the hospital. Both times he had unlimited praise for the work of the Red Cross which furnished him and his buddies with cigarets, shaving equipment and entertainment both in the Army hospitals and aboard the hospital ships.

Tech Sgt. Richard G. Swon of Perry, Mo., is the third infantrymen to come back for duty at LAAF, also with praise for the Red Cross.

All of these men have recently entered the AAF after more than two years or more duty each in the ground forces, where they had an opportunity to watch the Red Cross operate among the men possibly suffering the most in the war.

And all add their amens to the statement that "It won't hurt over here to help the Red Cross to help those who ARE hurt over there."

LAAF Opens Drive For Funds Today

Lubbock Army Air field today launches its part in the annual nationwide Red Cross campaign to raise funds for the world wide organization which is aiding U. S. soldiers fighting on every battlefront, and officials in charge of the drive at the field have high hopes that the big AAF Instructors school will surpass its goal of $5,000.

Simulteanous with the announcement that civilian and military personnel at LAAF would start digging down deep to do their part in the nationwide campaign to raise some $200,000,000, officials announced that the field had a new Red Cross field director.

Rother Succeeds Squires

W. J. Rother, who for the past two years has been field director at SPAAF, has assumed the same duties at LAAF, succeeding Charles Squires, a veteran at LAAF. Squires has taken over similar duties at Fort Worth Army Air field, it was announced.

Detailed plans have been worked out at the big AAF Instructors school to give every soldier, officer and civilian on the post an opportunity to contribute toward the success of the drive. The entire month of March will be set aside for the campaign on the field. Enlisted men and women will not be solicited but will be given every opportunity to contribute anything they wish.

Drive Leaders Announced

However, concerted campaigns will get under way Thursday among the civilian workers and the officers, with Major Lemuel J. Clark, as chairman of the postwide campaign. Major Byron W. Goulding will head the officers group and Capt. Richard H. Purrington will be chairman of the drive among civilians. Tech Sgt. John Burrus will handle the enlisted personnel donations.

LAAF personnel contributions totaled $4,237.90 in the 1944 campaign, and this sum, along with similar contributions all over the nation, brought aid to four and a half million service men and their families, helped recruit some 15,000 urgently needed nurses for service with the Army and Navy and brought comfort and new hope to countless peoples in liberated areas.

But with many more thousands of U. S. fighting men overseas and with more liberated areas trying to rebuild out of the ravages of war, the need for money and the help it brings through the Red Cross is greater than every now, officials of the Red Cross emphasized at LAAF.

Cowards, Quitters Purged By Nazis

LONDON, Feb. 28. (AP)—Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler, charged with holding together the German home front, was reported tonight to be purging the Nazi party of cowards and quitters and streamlining Berlin's defense garrison to an army of fanatics.

Himmler's weekly magazine, Das Schwarze Korpy, threatened death to every party leader who fled his post or otherwise failed to give an example of "courageous resistance in the face of the enemy."

To implement this, a Moscow radio broadcast said, purge commissions have been established in all German provinces under the direction of Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, "who has been given charge of a widespread purge of cowards and panic-mongers."

WATCH OUT!

Winter ills are prevalent. If you are constipated you may be sure you are more susceptible to certain of them, and you should do something about it right away. And while you are about it why not do a THOROUGH job by taking a Calotab tonight? Nothing acts just like good old Calotabs to relieve temporary constipation and help sweep out virus-laden mucus and other putrefactive waste matter. Use only as directed. (adv)

Hayloader To Be Device Exhibit

Another time and labor saver, to be exhibited at the Lubbock County Labor Savings Device show on the campus of Texas Tech March 17, is a hayloader, recently purchased by O. B. Hankins, Lubbock farmer, whose farm is located six miles north of Idalou.

"The shortage of manpower, caused by the drafting into the armed forces of my two sons, increased the demand for labor and time saving machines on my farm," said Hankins.

100 Acres In Alfalfa

He has about 100 acres of alfalfa. The alfalfa hay will be baled with a pickup baler which scatters the bales throughout the field. In the past the bales had been picked up and loaded on trucks by hand, which is very slow and is hard work.

Hankins learned that a local implement dealer had a hay loader in stock and after looking at it, he lost no time in purchasing the machine.

This particular machine, which can be mounted on the front of any type tractor in 15 minutes, is similar to a "buck rake," except that it operates on two upright tracks with chains for raising and lowering the hayfork. As the tractor moves along over the field, the mahine, which is in its lowest position, scoops up 10 to 15 bales of hay before it is ready to be unloaded. When loaded the hayfork is raised in a horizontal position to the desired dumping level and is moved to the truck or barn. Then the lever, which controls the operation of the entire machine, is pulled, unloading the hay.

Handles 80 Tons Daily

It will pick up 20 acres of alfalfa hay in four hours. It is possible to pick up and load 80 tons per day. One man operating the tractor and machine and one or two stacking hay is all the manpower needed.

This machine can also be used for picking up hogs and cattle when butchering, picking up wire and scrap metal, digging trench silos, loading sugar beets or almost any other job on the farm that requires lifting. It can even be used as a scaffold for painting barns and houses.

Hankins thinks he will save enough in time and cost of labor, the first time he cuts his alfalfa, to pay for the machine.

Taft Opposes Reduced Newspaper Personnel

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) introduced an amendment to the manpower control bill today to prevent a sharp slash in the number of workers employed by newspapers.

Taft proposed to modify the authority of the War Manpower commission chairman to set employment ceilings by forbidding him to establish any which would reduce the number of employes of any regular daily, weekly or monthly publication or newspaper ering organization below the le prevailing in such establishme in any month of last year.

The employment ceiling cla together with a parallel provi giving the WMC chairman po to forbid employers to hire n workers, is the key section of bill worked out by the Sen Military Affairs committee as substitute for the work-or- measure approved by the Ho Feb. 1.

Let's all refresh... Have a Coca-Cola

...or being friendly along the way

The spirit of camaraderie of the open road is summed up in the three words Have a Coke. At stops, everyone steps up to the familiar red cooler for the friendly refreshment of ice-cold Coca-Cola. America's streets and highways are dotted with such places that invite you to pause and refresh with a Coke. Wherever you go, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes, —a symbol of friendly refreshment.

You naturally hear Coca-Cola called by its friendly abbreviation "Coke". Both mean the quality product of The Coca-Cola Company.

THE DEBATE

ALTHOUGH a great deal is be said these days about the fuure of Europe, you see very litle about Japan and the post war world. That maybe because some people think there won't be much eft of Japan when the fighting dies for the last time.

Be that as it may, tonight two men who know as much about the Orient as any Americans will appear in a debate on the topic, "Shall We Set Up a Military Dictatorship in Japan After the War?" The debaters are James R. Young and John Goette, who represented the International News Service in Japan and China for almost two decades. In addition to their lecture work and news writing, each has found time to write a book.

HOSTESS TIPS

THE homemaker who is without a maid and who has a job outside of the home has little time for entertaining, but with careful planning she can fit an occasional dinner party into her full-time schedule. Here are a few time-saving hints on preparing and serving a dinner.

1. Dust the house in the morning before going to work, and put guest towels in the bathroom.
2. Set the table in the morning or at noon, if you can; or do it as soon as you get home from work.
3. Frozen vegetables are a boon to the busy homemaker since they are already prepared and cook in a short time. If you use other vegetables, clean them the night before and place them in the vegetable crisper.
4. Plan desserts that can be partly or entirely made the night before. Pastry for pies or tarts is better if chilled in the refrigerator overnight.
5. If you don't have refrigerator rolls, sift together the dry ingredients for quick breads the night before and cover. Make the breads before the guests arrive and place the covered mixture in the refrigerator until baking time. Allow a bit more time than usual for baking.
6. Allow yourself at least two hours to prepare the dinner, from the time you get home until the guests arrive.
7. Use a large tray to carry dishes for table setting and when removing soiled dishes.

NOTICE

IN VIEW of the fact that pictures taken of the winners of the recent Kiddie Karnival did not turn out satisfactorily, they will not be printed in the Avalanche-Journal as sponsors of the contest had promised mothers of the children. The promise to print the pictures was made by professional promoters of the contest and not by members of the VFW auxiliary.

Young, Goette Are To Debate Tonight

John Goette, chief correspondent in China for International News Service for the last 20 years, and James R. Young, head of the Tokyo bureau for INS and a resident of Japan for 13 years, will be presented in a debate at 8 p. m. at Senior High school auditorium under auspices of the Lubbock branch, American Association of University.

Tickets will be on sale in the lobby of the Hilton hotel throughout the day and will be available at the door tonight. They are $1.20 for adults and 60 cents for students.

The debate is: Resolved, We Shall Set Up a Military Dictatorship in Japan After the War.

Problem In Japan

Japan, now the second largest empire in the world, with a half a billion people under its control, people with different standards than ours, will be one of America's most potent post war problems. Are these people only to know a change in masters when we win, or are they going to be introduced and educated to freedom as we know it?

These matters will be discussed tonight by these writers who are so thoroughly acquainted with the Orient but who are said to be as dissimilar as their books. Young is author of "Behind The Rising Sun." Goette wrote "Japan Fights For Asia."

The debate is non-profit making for the AAUW but is another in a series of educational projects the group sponsors here from time to time.

Children's Theater To Present Play

Clare Tree Major Children's Theater from New York will present "Old King Cole" this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Senior High school auditorium under the sponsorship of the City Parent-Teacher council. This is not a nursery play.

Adventures Of King

The play deals with the search of King Cole for a fiddler to fill a vacancy in the famous "fiddlers three." Disguised as a beggar, the king is wandering through a city in Asia, when he hears a boy crying. He enters the courtyard of an inn, and learns that the evil landlord is holding a brother and sister there of King Cole's own race, whom he is raising to sell as slaves.

The play deals with the adventures which result in the rescue of the two children and the appointment of the lad to the post of "third fiddler."

Admissions, which may be purchased at the door, are 60 cents for adults and 42 cents for children. Season tickets, which will be good for two other plays, are $1.80 for adults and 90 cents for children.

GUEST HERE

Mrs. Harry E. Blocker of Dallas is visiting her mother, Mrs. George Stevens, and sister, Miss Bernice Stevens, of 1515 Fifteenth.

Girls Scouts Prepare For Cowboy Jamboree To Be Given At Legion Hall Friday Night

More than 75 girls in several Junior High school scout troops will take part in a Cowboy Jamboree Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the American Legion hall. The girls who have been working on a folk dancing badge will present a program of American folk dances carrying out the cowboy theme. They will wear cowboy and cowgirl regalia.

The program will consist of two parts, between which the songs, "Home on the Range," "Don't Fence Me In," and "I Got Spurs that Jingle, Jangle, Jingle," will be sung. Part I will consist of "Cowboy in the Corral," "Deep in the Heart of Texas," "Row, Row Your Boat," "Red River Valley," "I Want to be Happy," "Victory Polka," and "Little Brown Jug." Part II will consist of "Pass the Ammunition" and "Weave the Waldmal," a Danish folk dance. The jamboree will end with a goodnight circle.

Mrs. C. R. Cagle and Miss Rosemary Head are directing the jamboree assisted by Mesdames G. C. Sandlin, S. E. Gillespie, Lloyd Bentley, E. C. McCartney, Odie Hackney and E. H. Armstrong. Mrs. Harvey Austin is the pianist. Mesdames C. L. Boyd and B. T. Formby, troop committee members from Troop 2 are in charge of the serving of drinks.

Parents and friends of Girl Scouts are invited to attend this affair.

For Awards Court

Other activities of Girl Scout troops this week have been toward preparation for badges to be awarded at the annual Court of Awards to be held March 16. Troop 27 with Mesdames Vincent Carr and W. M. Peticolas recently visited a leather shop while doing work on a leather badge. Troop 34 with Mesdames C. I. Wall and Lewis Price, and Troop 28 with Mesdames C. C. Perryman and J. E. Hancock are working on a hostess badge. Troop 7 which meets at Community center with Mesdames Joe Arrington and John Powers as leaders has recently completed a First Aid badge. These and many other badges will be presented at the Court of Awards, including over 125 second class badges which will be given to Troop 34 at Roscoe Wilson; Troop 35 at Hunt school with Mesdames Jack Blakeley and J. R. Ham as leaders; Troop 37 at K. Carter with Mesdames L. H. Redwine and Frank Bowles as leaders; Troop 38 at Central Ward with Mesdames J. A. Hodges and N. H. Hamilton as leaders; Troop 12 at Bean school with Mrs. J. S. Hollingsworth as leader; Troop 33 at Dupre with Mesdames J. B. Criles and O. B. LaFon as leaders; and Troop 30 at Roscoe Wilson with Mesdames John Powell, Frank Griggs and A. L. Henderson as leaders. Several other girls from other troops will also receive second class badges.

Solons Offer Several Plans For Poll Tax Exemptions In Service

AUSTIN, Feb. 28. (AP)—Ultimate passage of some type of legislation to exempt service men and women from payment of the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting seemed assured today, but which of several alternate routes would be followed remained in question.

Sen. Jesse Martin of Fort Worth introduced in the Senate a bill under which members of the armed forces and those honorably discharged would be so exempt, and would not have to hold poll tax receipts to vote in 1945 and 1946 specifically.

Third Proposal

It was the third legislative proposal growing out of the soldier vote muddle preceding the elections of last summer and fall. The House has passed overwhelmingly a resolution proposing submission of a constitutional amendment exempting members of the armed services from payment of poll taxes as a pre-requisite for voting in time of national emergency, and debate on it started in the Senate.

This proposed amendment was sponsored in the House by Jo Ed Winfree of Houston and in the Senate by George Moffett of Chillicothe. Pending before the Senate committee on constitutional amendments is a similar proposed amendment by R. A. Weinert of Seguin.

Almost no legislative opposition has developed thus far over the objective of these various proposals, with the chief differences growing out of the method of approach. Whether the objective can be accomplished without a constitutional amendment remains to be threshed out.

Pay Increase Bill

Both House and Senate adopted a conference committee report on legislation granting pay increases for the balance of the fiscal year to employees and officials of state colleges who earn less than $3,000 annually. As agreed upon, the money would come from the general revenue fund, not local college funds.

A bill designed to equalize the state tax on insurance premiums paid by home and out-of-state companies was debated in the House and the arguments will continue tomorrow. Sponsors of the bill claim it is needed to avoid discrimination against out-of-state companies in view of the United States Supreme court decision holding insurance in interstate commerce.

LOCAL WOMEN GET THOUSANDS OF EXTRA RED POINTS

Every day, precious red points are being paid to housewives who turn in used fats to their butchers. Because this country is faced with a possible fat shortage, these used kitchen fats are even more urgently needed to make medicines, synthetic rubber, gunpowder, soaps, paints and a hundred other essentials on the battlefield and home front.

Every woman can help towards final Victory by saving every drop of used fats each time she cooks. Even a spoonful is worth salvaging. Won't you keep saving until final Victory over both Germany and Japan?

Ex-San Angeloans Welcome Release From Jap Prison

DALLAS, Feb. 28 (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gilmore, formerly of San Angelo, who were freed from Santo Tomas internment camp at Manila, have written relatives here that in another two weeks they might have died from starvation.

The letter came to Mrs. P. E. Eason of Dallas and to her mother, Mrs. I. J. Robb who is currently living at the Eason home. Gilmore, one-time four-goal polo player with the San Antonio polo team, is the son of Mrs. Robb and the brother of Mrs. Eason.

"Saturday night (the night the prisoners were released)," said the letter, "was the most wonderful night in the world when our boys arrived, fighting their way to us. If they had been a week or two later, am afraid we would have been here no more as they were starving us to death.

"An average of eight or 10 a day died from starvation."

The letter stated that the Gilmores both had beri beri, a diet deficiency disease.

Gilmore went to Manila in 1939 to become manager of the Manila Polo club.

Appointment of Texas Poet Is Big Headache

AUSTIN, Feb. 28 (AP)—The biggest legislative headache of the 49th session, in the opinion of members of the committee to select a Texas poet laureate, will not end at midnight tonight but will get bigger and bigger.

Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, chairman, said today that his committee has at least 15 applicants for the non-salary post and that fully 500 letters and telegrams supporting the various applicants have poured in on the committee.

The deadline for filing ends at 12 o'clock tonight, but the super headache will not start until the committee begins its process of elimination.

A Vital Message To Men Who Feel Old

Why not regain the vim and vitality you once enjoyed?

If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is a simple method that may change your whole outlook on life. Just ask your druggist for CASELLA stimulating tablets. Take as directed on label. Don't feel old and worn out at 40, 60 or more. Take these tablets regularly until you feel that you have regained the pleasure of living you once enjoyed. Why be discouraged? Why not try CASELLA tablets and regain the verve and zest of a much younger man? There is nothing harmful in these tablets. They contain Celery seed, Thiamin Chloride, Passion Flower, Iron. Ask your doctor or druggist about this formula.

Probe Of Prison Break Ordered

HOUSTON, Feb. 28. (AP) — A thorough investigation into how T. N. (Pete) Norris and three other incorrigible convicts escaped from Retrieve farm Tuesday will be opened Thursday, Maj. W. D. Stakes, general manager of the prison system at Huntsville said today.

"I will want to know whether a proper guard routine had been worked out to prevent breaks and whether it was being observed," Maj. Stakes declared.

Major Stakes' pledge of an inquiry followed by a few minutes a declaration by District Attorney A. C. Winborn that "a clever and intelligent criminal like Norris should never have been placed in a position which made possible his escape."

Meanwhile in Houston police, the sheriff's department, state rangers and the FBI had joined hands in combing the city under the belief that Norris and John Frederick Box, jr. had holed up here.

At 6 p. m. today the 24-hour search had yielded no trace of the pair after they abandoned a car in the east end and are reported to have gotten into a second automobile with another man.

Horace H. Gaddy, about 34, serving a felony theft sentence from El Paso county, and Don Britton, about 33, sentenced from Travis county for receiving and concealing stolen property, were caught in Sabine county east of San Augustine, Tex., and were being returned to prison.

Major Stakes said his inquiry would attempt to find answers to these questions among others:

Why was Norris given work that gave him access to a truck?

How did Norris and his companions manage to arm themselves with knives and fashion a homemade shotgun?

Were guards in the tower over the prison gates through which the convicts escaped?

Asked for his personal opinion as to whether Norris should have been assigned to work around the kitchen, Major Stakes replied: "I don't know. We could have kept him in a cell the rest of his life, but we don't like to do that unless we have to."

Fag Shortage Brings Big Revenue Drop

AUSTIN, Feb. 28. (AP)—Current shortage of cigarets has brought a $224,834 drop in revenue from cigaret tax stamps for this February as compared with a year ago, the state treasury department reported today.

Income from cigaret stamps from February, 1944, was $964,716; for this year it was $738,882.

Next heaviest decrease was from beer stamp sales which dropped from $224,219 last February to $217,219 this February.

Substantial increases in liquor and wine revenues, however, brought the total stamp revenue up from $1,786,156 in February 1944 to $1,858,444 from this February.

Postwar Conscription Of Women Unpopular

U.S. Public Opposes Plan To Train Girls Of Nation

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 27 — Advocates of a peace-time military program for young women have a long way to go in winning public support for the idea.

This contrasts sharply with the overwhelming public sentiment in favor of a peace-time military program for young men. About seven in every 10 questioned in a recent survey said they favored a year's military training for young men after the war.

GALLUP

Other surveys indicate that the public does not stand unalterably opposed to having its women in military service. There are circumstances under which the public has favored conscription of women for military service.

For example, when asked to choose between sending more fathers into the army or drafting single women, 21-35, for the WACs the public favored drafting the women.

Opposition to a proposal for the peace-time military training of young women probably has its roots in a questioning of the need for a program including women.

The question put the issue to a carefully selected cross-section of the nation's voting population as follows:

"After the war is over, do you think young women should be required to take one year's training in the women's branches of the armed forces?"

The replies:

Yes	22%
No	71
No Opinion	7

Men stand more opposed to the idea than women, although the women themselves are also in large majority opposed.

Following is the vote on the question among men and women:

	Men	Women
Yes	18%	25%
No	74	68
No Opinion	7	7

Stimson Says Hines' Statement Groundless

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP) — Testimony by Veterans Administrator Frank T. Hines that the War department plans to release from 200,000 to 250,000 soldiers monthly after Germany's defeat was described as "without foundation" today by Secretary Stimson.

Stimson said in a statement that the basic elements in the War department's demobilization plan were made public last September 6 and have not been changed.

Hines, testifying before the House appropriations committee recently, said "the War department . . . contemplates releasing from 200,000 to 250,000 men a month" after V-E day.

Said Stimson:

"When hostilities cease in Europe, the War department intends to marshal against the Japanese every soldier and ever item of equipment that can be used effectively to speed our final victory."

Millions Switch To Mutton Suet Idea For Chest Colds

Quickly Relieves Children's Colds' Coughs, Loosens Phlegm

Many mothers all over America are switching to this idea of getting fast relief for these chest cold miseries. They are simply following Grandma. For years she counted on mutton suet to help carry her home medication to do its pain-easing work on nerve ends in the skin. No wonder so many more now welcome Grandma's idea as improved by science—Penetro, with its multi-medicated formula in a base containing mutton suet—that acts both as counter-irritant and pain-reliever when you spread it on, and as a soothing aromatic when breathed in. And so today Penetro hurries along newer help in the old reliable way—help that eases painful misery, lessens coughing, loosens phlegm, soothes chest rawness—so that you can rest more comfortably and give nature a chance to restore vitality. That's why millions are switching to Penetro today—why druggists are recommending it. 25c, double supply 35c. For all your family's chest cold miseries, be sure you get white, easy-to-use Penetro.

New Oil Taxation Bill Is Introduced

HONORABLE DISCHARGE BUTTON

A BADGE OF HONOR

Respect Those Who Wear It . . .

The toll of war has returned a large group of members of our armed forces back home with honorable discharges.

These individuals have served with valor . . . many have permanent impairments as the result of enemy action.

We feel it is an obligation to bring to your attention the respect we owe these veterans for the badge of honor they proudly wear.

The button, slightly smaller than a dime and gold in color, was authorized by Congress in November, 1943, for those who were honorably discharged on or after September 8th, 1939. Let's honor these people and their buddies who are carrying on the fight for freedom by giving of our means and efforts to bring this conflict to a quicker, successful conclusion.

The new special 42-A revised forms, which must be filed with local Selective Service boards by April 1 by all men 18 through 29, have not been received by either of the Lubbock county boards. Registrants in the specified age group, who are now deferred, must file the special form certified by an authorized government agency. The special forms are expected to arrive in a few days. Those interested are asked to call for the forms since the boards can not mail them out. Any deferred worker in the aforementioned group, who does not have such a form on file by April 1, will be reclassified April 1.

W. H. Jones, formerly of La Junta, Colo., who has been acting superintendent of the Slaton division of the Santa Fe Railway system during the illness of H. R. McKee who has been convalescing in California for the last several months, has been named as superintendent at Chanute, Kans., it has been announced by Santa Fe officials. Jones will be succeeded by J. N. Landreth, formerly of Las Vegas.

Funeral services for W. E. Connell, 64, of northwest Lubbock county, will be conducted this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Central Baptist church with Rev. J. T. Clinton of Lubbock and Rev. W. O. Wilson of Anton officiating. Services were originally announced for Wednesday afternoon. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery, Rix Funeral home announced. Connell died of a heart ailment Tuesday.

Store Classification Deadline Is March 5

It is necessary that all food retailers determine, by March 5, 1945, the group in which their store belongs, Howard R. Gholson, district director of the Office of Price administration, announced Wednesday, because there was nearly a billion dollar in retail food sales in 1944.

The annual gross sales of retail food establishments determine in which of four groups the store is classed, and this in turn determines the markups the store is permitted to use, Gholson explained. To the consumer this means the retail price they will pay.

It is important, therefore, that the stores be classified on the basis of their gross sales during their most recent calendar year.

The four store groups are:

Group 1, independent stores with annual gross receipts of less than $50,000.

Group 2, independent stores with annual gross receipts of $50,000 and less than $250,000.

Group 3, chain stores with annual gross receipts of less than $250,000.

Group 4, any store with annual gross receipts of $250,000 or more.

'Teeth' Advocated For Work-Or-Jail Scheme

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP) — Senator Burton (R-Ohio) counseled the Senate today to pass substitue legislation which would give the War Manpower commission authority to enforce employment ceilings and hiring restrictions.

Predicting that enactment of the House-approved work-or-jail bill would lead to litigation, the Ohioan said a question already has been raised whether Congress constitutionally could compel individuals to work for the profit of another. Burton said he himself believed the action would be legal, but cautioned that a lengthy legal dispute would hold up administration of such a law.

Missourians Approve New Constitution

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 28. (AP) — Voters of Missouri have put their "X" of approval on a new million dollar state constitution, which advocates say will streamline the government and halt abuses growing up in 70 years under the old code of laws.

Approval was emphatic, latest unofficial figures from yesterday's election giving it a majority of between 100,000 and 150,000 votes. In 3,263 of 4,543 precincts, the affirmatives totalled 286,376 and the negatives 146,584. Biggest support came from urban centers of Kansas City and St. Louis, while in some rural areas the "nays" were leading.

Gov. Phil M. Donnelly, learning of the result, said, "the people have decided to bring the state government up to date."

But Frank B. Williams, Springfield, leader of the opposition, which had formed an association to wage bitter warfare on the constitution, declared "it is an impossible and unworkable document and will be modified or altered in time."

The constitution "streamlines" the government by providing for the grouping of more than 70 state agencies under 15 major executive departments. It rounds up tax collecting duties, with their patronage and political power, from various state agencies and puts them under one revenue department, headed by a governor's appointee.

Live Projectile Is Removed From Young Bluejacket

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28. (AP) —After 47 days as a human bomb, Dewey Dupre, 20, is able to take a hard knock without blowing himself up.

Twelfth Naval District headquarters disclosed today that a successful operation had been performed at the naval receiving hospital here to remove a fused 20 mm. projectile from the body of the seaman, second class, from Opelousas, La.

He was at his station as gun loader aboard a battleship at Linagyen gulf on Jan. 9 when an air attack came. "The first thing I knew," said the bluejacket, "I was lying on the deck with a compound fracture of my left leg and other injuries."

Dupre was moved to an advanced base, then to a hospital here. Convalescing nicely, he told doctors last Saturday that he felt there was "something" inside of him low in his body. Surgeons, thinking they'd missed a piece of sharpnel, ordered x-rays. The pictures disclosed the fused shell.

"Because the projectile was of such a sensitive type and might explode on contact even with an operating instrument," the Navy said, "the situation still remained full of danger." Bomb disposal experts as well as medical men were consulted. In a tense atmosphere, Commander J. I. Hall, USNR, operated successfully.

Coast Searched For Car Wreck Victim

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Feb. 28. (AP) — Police searched the coast near here today for the body of a woman, believed washed into the ocean after a car in which she was riding plunged over a 20-foot embankment to the beach, killing two others.

The bodies of John Francis O'Malley, 42, former New York stage actor, and Miss Katherine Alspach, 24, of Mount Pulaski, Ill., were removed from the ocean after the accident yesterday.

Still missing is Miss Hayden Head, 20, of Los Angeles. Lt. W. A. Bennett of the sheriff's department said she was believed to be riding with the other two when their couple crashed over the embankment yesterday.

The women formerly were WASPS stationed at Sweetwater, Texas.

Coke Has Another Vacancy To Fill

AUSTIN, Feb. 28. (AP)—Governor Coke R. Stevenson had another vacancy to fill today as a result of the senate's action in refusing to confirm H. A. Dobbs of Hempstead as a member of the state finance board.

Two other members of this board, however, received senate approval. They were J. H. Ashby of Uvalde and C. A. Gibner of Spearman.

Other appointees receiving senate approval included Mrs. Joe Perkins of Eastland, C. C. Chessher of Groveton and Herman C. Custard of Cleburne, all on the state board of education.

Dr. W. C. McNeil of Silsbee was approved as a member of the state board of dental examiners along with a score of nominees for river and harbor pilots and public weighers all from Sen. Allen Shivers district, in the southeast sector of the state.

Latest Tokyo Devastation Warns Japs Of Impending Mighty Blows

By LEIF ERICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

21ST BOMBER COMMAND HEADQUARTERS, Guam, Thursday, March 1. — The devastated 240 blocks in Tokyo's industrial area, left blackened by American Superforts in Sunday's biggest raid on Japan, warned the Nipponese today the campaign to wreck their war production is only beginning.

The B-29 daylight strike through a snowstorm, shortly after U. S. Navy carrier planes had knocked out two aircraft plants in a Tokyo suburb, set fires which covered 667 acres, from the waterfront west to the vicinity of Emperor Hirohito's palace.

Proof Of Efficiency

Reconnaissance photos gave surprising proof of the efficiency of the big bombers' precision instruments, even under the worst cloud conditions. The planes returned to their Marianas bases without loss.

Maj. Gen. Curtis Le May, commanding the 21st Bomber command, said the photos showed that the 200 or more Superforts which made the attack obtained "excellent" results.

Included in the destruction was the UENO elevated railroad station, which handles about 300 trains daily, and nearby freight marshalling yards, one of Tokyo's three most important rail centers.

Plants Concentrated

Japan's war production is highly concentrated, with combat plane production centered in the highly vulnerable Tokyo area.

The Nipponese have announced plans for dispersing their war factories, but it will take time to move plants to Manchuria and China. It also will put a heavy burden on their already curtailed shipping facilities which have been hard hit by American planes and warships.

To clean a pot to which food has stuck, fill it immediately with cool soapy water and let it stand until particles have loosened. Remove with scraper or spatula and wash pot in usual way.

Tech Students Name Publication Chiefs

In an all-college election held Wednesday on Texas Tech campus, four students were elected to editor and business manager of the Texas Tech publications, The Toreador, newspaper, and La Ventana, yearbook.

Hugh Rowland was elected editor of the Toreador and Merrilyn Snider, senior journalism major of Lubbock, was uncontested for editor of La Ventana. Rowland was contested by James Henninger.

Troy Davidson, sophomore prelaw major of Lubbock, was the only candidate for business manager of La Ventana. Mary Troy, sophomore journalism major of Honey Grove, was uncontested for business manager of the Toreador.

Associate editors will be appointed by the publications committee upon recommendation of the respective editors.

Young 'War Widow' Mother Despairs, Signs Baby Away

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 28. (U.P.)—A 22-year-old mother wept in her shabby apartment here today for the nine-day-old baby whom she signed away within hours of birth and for the sailor husband who "ships out" today, probably for sea duty.

Mrs. Cora Rebecca Warren saw no easing of her sorrow—even if the papers which relinquished her right to the infant Karen Kay Warren could be invalidated.

"How could I look after her?" she said.

The allotment from the father, Russell Eldon Warren, 28, wouldn't cover the needs of the baby, two older children and herself "in these times," she said.

Additionally, the mother's health is so frail she is "scarcely able to take care of two children, without a new baby."

Before Karen Kay was born Feb. 18 Mrs. Warren and the father, stationed at the Olathe, Kan., naval air base near here, talked the problem over and found no way out. Five hours after her birth they signed papers relinquishing her for adoption.

Walter Kinder, 30, a war plant worker, and his 24 year old wife took the baby home and applied for adoption. Mrs. Kinder is the piece of the Warren's landlady.

The Kinders today were noncommunicative. Mrs. Kinder referred callers to their attorney, who was not immediately available.

Meanwhile the mother tended three-year-old Larry Joe and 16 months old Charlotte Jean and waited for word from Olathe that her husband was enroute to sea.

Lt. Jones Seriously Injured In Germany

The War department has informed Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Jones of 1814 Avenue J that their son, Lt. William C. Jones, 24, was seriously wounded in action in Germany Feb. 10, apparently only a few days after reaching the fighting front. No details were given.

Attached to the paratroops, Lt. Jones went overseas early in January. A letter from him, written Feb. 8, two days before he was wounded, from Belgium, was received by the parents Wednesday. Another letter, dated Jan. 25, had been received the previous day.

Graduated from the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., in the Class of 1944, Lieutenant Jones had chosen the Army as his career. He is the city's only native graduate of the U. S. Military Academy. He graduated from Lubbock High school in 1938 and attended Texas Tech for two years before going to West Point. In civilian life he was an employe of The Avalanche-Journal.

Burial Services Held For President's Aide

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP) — The body of Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, presidential secretary and military aide who died at sea Feb. 20, was returned to Washington today in a flag-covered coffin.

President Roosevelt arranged to attend funeral services at Arlington national cemetery at noon. A memorial mass will be said tomorrow morning at St. Matthews cathedral.

Watson had accompanied the chief executive to the Crimean conference with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin.

The man who made Mr. Roosevelt's official appointments became ill the day the conference ended and died of a cerebral hemorrhage nine days later aboard a cruiser in the eastern Atlantic.

Roswell Rolls To Win Over LAAF

Roswell Army Air field's tow-ering cage five opened a two game series in Lubbock Wednesday night by rolling to an impressive 55-46 victory over the Lubbock Army Air field Fliers at the LAAF gym.

The New Mexico squad will move into the Texas Tech gym tonight at 8 o'clock to close the series, and the season for Lubbock teams, with a battle with the fast improving Texas Tech Red Raiders.

Tech Faces Test

Coach Polk Robinson hopes to have his club at peak strength for the battle tonight with the Roswell soldiers, and after watching the fast, smooth working soldiers perform in their debut, admitted the Red Raiders would have to be at peak form to make a showing against the cage veterans of the New Mexico air base.

The Roskell five was tabbed the fastest and best team to visit in Lubbock this season, and were very impressive in their first appearance with local teams.

Building their attack around three sharpshooters, the Roswell club grabbed a lead in the first quarter, and were never headed off by the LAAF club, in spite of several threatening rallies launched by the West Base five.

Setting the pace for the winners was Dave Oldaker, who poured 22 points through the hoop for scoring honors of the game. He was aided a lot by Joe Gilles and Martz, who contributed 12 and 11 points, respectively, to the Roswell cause.

Prior Makes Showing

Bruce Prior, Lubbock ace, staged almost a one man battle with the Roswell club, and kept the locals in the battle most of the way with his deadly marksmanship on the meshes. He was second to Oldaker in the scoring with 19 points.

The game started fast, with LAAF grabbing a quick lead, but Roswell came back to regain the lead in a few minutes, and led 4-2. LAAF regained the lead halfway through the first quarter, and paced the Roswell club 7-4. Two minutes later, Roswell tied the score at 8-8, then grabbed the lead, and were never again headed off.

Roswell Holds Lead

The score at the end of the first quarter was 18-14. With six minutes to play in the first half, Martz got hot and ran the score up to 24-18, then Prior launched a rally that pulled the LAAF club up within four points, but this 20-22 score was the closest LAAF got for the rest of the night. The halftime score was 33-25.

Roswell got hot at the start of the second half, and roared to a 38-27 lead, then five minutes later Martz and Oldaker had run the score up to 46-30. Just before the end of the quarter, Prior and Bounds launched a spurt that reduced the Roswell lead to 47-36 at the end of the third period.

Roswell froze the ball for most of the last quarter, then Oldaker broke loose again, and with three and a half minutes to play, Roswell rolled to a 55-38 lead.

There, Bruce Prior started another of his one man attacks, and rang up five of the remaining six points scored by LAAF in this final spurt in the fading minutes.

Petersburg Set For Fight Show

PETERSBURG, Feb. 28 (Special) The Petersburg High school fistic performers are bracing themselves for an invasion of the local arena on Friday by the fighting Irish of Shamrock High school. The dual match will bring the two schools together for a fifteen bout dual match at 8:15 o'clock and will mark the first appearance that the colorful Irishman have ever made on the South Plains.

The greenclad warriors of the North Plains have long been recognized as one of the high school boxing powers of the regions to the north and under the tutelage of Coach Bob Clark, the Irishman have become almost unbeatable in dual competition. The Shamrock aggregations finished second in team standing in the Amarillo Golden Gloves and were nosed out for the championship by a narrow margin.

The Irishmen expect to make their first invasion of the South Plains a successful one; however in essaying the roll of adversary against the potent Petersburg pugs they are hacking off a sizable job that may prove to be more of a task than they anticipate. Petersburg is studded from stem to stern with experienced and capable boxers who have met on equal terms the greatest high school booking teams in the state.

In their last outing, the Petersburg battlers were tied through fourteen bouts with the powerful Amarillo Sandies only to drop the final decision and the team match by an 8 to 7 count. Petersburg will be battling to get into the win column and such stellar boxers as Kenny Kirkpatrick, Randall and Frank Stanton, Coyt Thompson, Gordon De Priest, Hollis Black, Lonnie Balch, Ralph White and others bid fair to chalk up a victory over the invading Irishmen.

Ringside seats are on sale at the City Drug Store in Petersburg and orders from out of town fans will be filled as long as tickets are available.

Junior Track Squad Gets Down To Work

The Junior High school track and field squad has been divided into two sections, the Reds and Whites, and each section divided into two grade groups, it was announced Wednesday night by E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director of Lubbock schools.

The Juniors will meet the Sophomores in a dual track meet on March 8, it was also announced at the same time.

Coach Roy Morris will be placed in charge of the ninth grade Whites, with Coach Curtis Barrett taking the ninth grade Reds. Coach Russell Wimberley will be in charge of the seventh and eighth grade Reds.

Some good prospects have been reported on the junior high squads, and a great season is being expected.

Irish Puts Off Job Naming New Coach

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 28. (AP) — The University of Notre Dame's athletic board met today to discuss selecting a head football coach but deferred definite action.

Ed McKeever resigned yesterday to accept a like position at Cornell university.

McKeever returned to South Bend from Ithaca, N. Y., today. He said his decision to leave Notre Dame had been made with "sincere regret."

Golden Gloves In Semi-Finals

CHICAGO, Feb. 28. (AP)—Thirty-two boxers, survivors of the starting field of 220 from 23 states, emerged victorious in the quarter-finals of the 18th annual Golden Gloves tournament tonight.

A crowd of 13,400 witnessed the thrilling 64 battles in the eight weight divisions, fought in the Chicago stadium.

The triumphant 32 will return to the same ring March 9 to battle it out for the finals and the right to meet their old Eastern foe, the New York Golden Gloves squad here April 4.

Most impressive in tonight's battling was Cleveland's sensational William Stevenson, 16-year-old negro high school lad, who knocked out Tommy Inskeep of Peoria, Ill., in one minute, 55 seconds of the second round in their 125-pound bout.

Another standout was Sgt. George Siebert of Pittsburgh, Pa., 23-year-old nephew of the late Stanley Ketchell, one-time world's middleweight champion. Siebert, a terrific puncher with both hands and aggressive, defeated Dave Colquitt, Gary, Ind., negro, in a blistering three-rounder in the light-heavyweight class.

John Garcia, rugged puncher from Los Angeles, out-gamed rangy Bob Cotton, Indianapolis negro, to triumph in the 160-pound class. Garcia spotted his opponent a foot's reach, yet managed to finish strong and emerge a strong favorite in his division.

Hard-socking Cpl. Adolfo Quijano of El Paso, Tex., representing the Los Angeles squad, triumphed in the 175-pound division over John Gulley, St. Louis negro, who was out on his feet at the end. Quijano, winner of two previous bouts by quick knockouts, hammered Gulley mercilessly but could not put over a kayo blow.

Another army fighter, Cpl. Tom Attra of Ft. Worth, Texas, 175-pound tournament champion in 1942, decisioned Ken Fenske of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Finance Cagers Win Over Section I Five

The Lubbock Army Air field squadron cage league's first half tangle was almost unraveled Wednesday night, and the three way tie was reduced to two as Finance eliminated Section I from the running with an impressive 30-14 win in the opening round of the playoff.

Finance will play the Section C Hanger club for the first half title, but no date has been set.

Section I bounded away to an early lead, and paced the winners 11-9 at the halfway mark, but in the last half Edward McNeely and Bob White began to find the range, and Finance pulled away fast. McNelly dropped in 12 points, and White nine to pace the winners.

Slaton Splits Cage Bill With Lorenzo

SLATON, Feb. 28.—The Slaton and Lorenzo cage teams traded honors here tonight with the Lorenzo girls winning the opener, 35-20, while the Slaton boys nosed out a 38-32 victory in the nightcap.

The boys game was close all the way, with Slaton staging a fast finish, paced by Burnett, to win the game. Burnett was high point man for the night with 16 points, getting 14 of these in the last quarter. He was followed by Huckaby with 11.

Williams paced Lorenzo with 13 points.

Plane Crash Victim Was Great Grid Star

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP) — Major William N. Mallory, whose death in an airplane accident in Italy on Feb. 19 was announced today, was one of the all-time football greats at Yale.

Known as Memphis Bill, Major Mallory was picked for the All-American backfield in 1923 by the late Walter Camp along with Red Grange of Illinois, George Pfann of Cornell and Earl Martineaux of Minnesota.

Pampa Harvesters Win Place In State Schoolboy Tourney

PAMPA, Feb. 28 (Special)—The Pampa Harvesters rolled over the Childress Bobcats here tonight, and won the bi-district playoff in two straight games, and with it the right to represent Northwest Texas in the state Interscholastic league tournament at Austin, March 8, 9 and 10.

The Harvesters won the second game, 24-16, but had to throttle a fast starting Bobcat club, and come from behind to win the game. The victory gave the Harvesters a record of 28 wins and seven losses for the season.

Randal Clay paced the winners with 11 points, while Barry and Kitchens paced Childress with six points each.

Childress grabbed a 7-2 lead in the early minutes, but Pampa rallied to come from behind and grab a 9-8 lead at the end of the first quarter, and were never headed off. There was very little scoring in the next two periods, with Pampa holding a 13-8 lead at the half, and 18-11 as they moved into the home stretch.

Coach Otis Coffey's Harvesters will leave Tuesday for Austin, and their first time at the state meet since 1941, and the first time since the state meet has been divided into three sections.

The victory this year by the Harvesters evened the score of bi-district play between the two leagues, with the Childress club proving a power in 2-AA circles and having represented that district in three of the four years of bi-district playoffs.

Childress won over Amarillo in 1942 and over Lubbock in 1944. Amarillo won over Vernon in 1943, and Pampa won in 1945.

Bass, Conditt Fives Win Boy Club Games

The Lubbock Boys club cage league victories were won by Bass' Juniors and Conditt's Seniors Wednesday night.

Bass won a close 32-29 decision over Lacquey, with Dudley Stanley pouring in 20 points for the winners. Melvin Lindsey paced the losers with ten points.

In the Senior league game, Conditt rolled to a 66 to 44 win as Bruce LaMaire turned on the heat with 26 points for the winners, followed by Jones, who flipped in 17 points. Metcalf, of the losers, tied with Jones for the runnerup honors.

Baber plays McQuire tonight in the senior league game, while the next junior league game will be Friday, pairing Potts with Armstrong.

STATE CHAMPS WIN

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 28 (AP) — Prairie Lea, state Class B basketball champion, defeated the Class A Sidney Lanier Voks, 41 to 38, in an overtime practice game here tonight, coming from far behind in true championship style to accomplish their feat. It was the 23rd win in a row without a loss for Prairie Lea this season.

Honey will keep best in a warm, dry atmosphere.

Westerners To Hold Two-Day Track Meet

With one eye cocked on the weather, and another on his trackmen, Coach Marlin R. "Shorty" Hayhurst announced another two day track meet for his Lubbock Westerners for Thursday and Friday afternoons.

The squad will be divided into two teams, captained by Milton Butler and Jack McClellan. The bulk of the meet will be run off Thursday afternoon with only four events left for Friday's session.

All the dashes, relays, half mile and mile runs and shot, discus and broad jump will be staged Thursday, leaving only the high and low hurdles, high jump and pole vault for Friday afternoon.

Guadalupe, Wilson Divides Twin Bill

The Guadalupe Vaqueroes and the Wilson Wranglers split a pair of volleyball games Wednesday afternoon in the grade school volleyball conference race.

The Guadalupe boys won a 27-22 victory, while the Wilson girls evened up the count with a 22-17 victory.

Lions Club In Second Place In Keg League

While the league leading Hub Loundry five was winning three straight over Coca-Cola, the Lions club five took two out of three games from Meads Bakery to take over the runnerup slot in the City-Commercial league race at the Plamor alleys.

The other two games on the schedule were clean sweeps, with DeKalb Oilers winning three from Armour's, while S. & Q. Clothiers were winning three from the Optimists.

Scoring honors of the night were divided, with Maurice Cooper of DeKalb Oilers toppling 564 pins for the best series, while O. C. Bumpass of Hub Laundrey had the best single game with 202 pins.

Don't Expect Miracles

Practicability Still A Factor

WOMEN'S hose of stainless steel, termed a postwar possibility by President Walter Tower of the American Iron and Steel Institute, may sound a little improbable to those who have a hard time imagining a pair of gossamer-thin hose coming out of a blast furnace. And perhaps they will never reach the market, even though some companies have been experimenting along these lines.

That is to say that the idea may turn out to be impracticable in the end. But it would be unfair to call it crazy. After all, there is no real reason why it should not be quite as possible to make sheer and shimmering hosiery out of iron ore as out of coal, air and water. If the chemists could do it by developing nylon, the metallurgists might be able to turn the trick as well.

Mr. Tower's rather guarded prophecy, at any rate, indicates that the plastics are not going to have everything their way in the postwar world. The hypothesis that they will rapidly replace metals, which has been freely stated and widely accepted, is going to require considerable modification if there are to be stainless steel stockings and such other developments as the colored sheet steel the manufacturers expect to offer for automobile bodies.

What is going to happen cannot be forecast in detail. But it is clear that there will be advances in the field of plastics and the field of metals that will mean new uses for both and will make for keen and healthy competition. Just where it will end hardly matters —in fact, the one thing that is important is keeping the process going for the benefit of mankind.

There has been so much said and written about synthetics and substitutes via chemurgy that the Man in the Street—captivated by the idea—has come to expect too much too soon. At least, that is the opinion of Dr. Robert C. Goodwin, head of the department of chemistry and physics at Texas Technological college who knows more about the subject than anyone in these parts.

"What is important in the field of chemurgy," Doctor Goodwin says, "is not what can be done in practicality." What he means is, even if chemurgy can produce steel from old clothes and cooking apples; wood from chewing gum and various types of plastic from Johnson grass, that, in itself, isn't important. What is important is what chemurgy can do in the way of synthetics which are both better and cheaper than the real thing.

As we dream of the future and the wonders it will produce, we will be wise to remember Doctor Goodwin's words. What he says about chemurgy doubtless will apply, too, to the field of metallurgy.

A Commendable Decision

THE announcement that the County of Lubbock will put a full-time employe on the job of aiding farmers to stamp out Johnson grass is a welcome one, indeed. Members of the County Commissioners court and of the Anti-Johnson Grass committee of interested citizens deserve public commendation in this regard.

In times like these, it is easy to overlook serious problems which lie right at our doors as we contemplate national and world matters. But the Johnson grass problem, right here at home, is about as important to the welfare of this city, county and area as anything possibly could be.

We hope for much good out of the county's plan to fight, aggressively, the dangerour and costly weed. County officials and private citizens interested are on the right track.

Demosthenes Is Still Right

IT is too bad that Hitler, Hirohito & Co. were not given, in their earlier days, to reading and contemplating the wise men of old. If they had been, they might have run across and pondered an observation of Demosthenes — and the result could have been a boon to mankind.

Said Demosthenes:

"It is not possible to found a lasting power upon injustice."

And United Nations fighting men around the world are proving that his statement is as true today as when he made it centuries ago.

With reference to meting out justice to the Axis war criminals, it cannot be said that Roosevelt doesn't have a definite end in view. He promises "stern punishment."

"Few millionaires go into night clubs," says a Broadway columnist. And still fewer millionaires come out of night clubs.

Many a man doesn't come to himself until he loses his shirt.

The One Minute Sermon

FOUR YOUNG MEN IN THE GOLD RUSH

III

The Birdsall party, full of excitement, left Memphis April 20, on the steamer Prairie Belle, for St. Joseph in Missouri. Their six oxen, for which they had paid $65 apiece—a high price—stood in the stalls on the lower deck, and there also was their covered wagon, heavily laden with supplies for the journey.

Long before the Prairie Belle reached its destination it was crowded with California-bound travelers; their equipment cluttered the boat from stem to stern. But some of them possesed no baggage at all; they had vague, undefined notions of getting there somehow, even if they had to beg their way.

Some of these passengers got off at Kansas City. They intended to make Independence, Mo., their point of departure or their "jumping-off place," as they called it. But most of the California-bound travelers went on to St. Joseph, where the Prairie Belle arrived on April 28.

As the boat pulled up slowly at the wharf the Birdsalls, like the rest of the passengers, crowded to the deck railing and stared at the scene before their eyes.

It was a moving picture of men, animals, covered wagons, saloons, open-air cooking, muddy boots, red shirts, rifles, dirks and whiskey bottles. The sounds fitted the picture — loud greetings, laughter, songs and quarrels. In the distance, on the skyline, the men on the Prairie Belle saw a line of covered wagons moving silently toward the west. Close to the Birdsall party on the deck stood a man about 60 in a battered, high-top beaver hat. He wore a long broadcloth coat, like a member of one of the learned professions, but his knee-high boots did not seem to go with the coat or the hat, nor did his checkered shirt. Instead of a collar and tie he had a black scarf wrapped about his neck. He had got on the boat somewhere in Illinois, and all that was known of him was his name—which was Kendall.

"So this is St. Joseph," he said to the Birdsalls. "If it was my duty to name places, I'd call it Bedlam."

"Yes, it's kind of crazy," Jake Birdsall agreed, "but we have to put up with that. We'll soon be on our way to the land of gold. All of us together."

"They'll probably have to bury me on the way," Kendall remarked in a tired tone. "I'm too old for such adventures."

"Then what made you come, sir?" Jake added the "sir" without thought or intention.

Kendall, if that was really his name, smiled grimly and said, "Well, the weather got a little too warm for me in my home town."

The top-hatted man moved away and Jake said to himself: I'll bet there are thousands of 'em. Done something or other — embezzling, stealing, row over women, maybe murder—they change their names and start for the gold fields.

With much difficulty the Birdsalls got the covered wagon and the oxen ashore, found a place to set up their tent, and then proceeded to look around.

They had not gone far in strolling about the camp before they realized that their clothes did not come up to the gold rush standard by any means. There was the matter of shirts, for instance. They had brought with them some excellent shirts of brown gingham, but they soon learned that a real, honest-to-god gold seeker must wear a red shirt. It had to be a vivid red with an attached collar. The right kind of coat was made or rough woolen cloth. It reached nearly to the knees and was provided with a lot of capacious pockets. The trousers were invariably tucked into the heavy top boots. Slouch hats were in the prevailing mode. In the matter of arms every gold seeker was supposed to wear a leather belt with a holster for a rather heavy cavalry pistol. Besides this firearm the alert and forthcoming traveler was equipped with a dirk about 12 inches long.

Next day, which was April 29, the Birdsalls went shopping. They had some money left, and at a rough and ready clothing store which was sandwiched in between four saloons they purchased the red shirts, the long coats and the shapeless slouch hats.

They bought also four dozen bottles of whiskey, an empty barrel for carrying water across the dry and arid stretches that they expected to encounter; and they obtained a Dutch oven which sat on four legs so that it could be put over a fire burning on the ground.

At one place, which a loud-voiced man standing in the door invited everyone to enter, they found what the proprietor called "canned meat." The meat was contained in receptacles made of tin, and were called "cans," as the proprietor explained patiently over and over. "Long before you get there," he orated, "you'll be sick and tired of rancid bacon and dried pemmican as hard as nails and with so many fly specks on it that you can't tell what its color was before the flies got at it. But here we have canned meat, a new invention. It's always sweet and fresh. Why? Because it is cooked before it goes into the can and, furthermore, the can is sealed so that no air ever gets in. Here, try a piece of our wonderful canned beef."

An open can stood before him. He dipped into it deftly with a fork, removed some pieces and placed them on slices of bread which he passed around among his audience. Nearly everybody bought some of the cans at $1 apiece.

Burlington Line To Survey Texas Cities

FORT WORTH, Feb. 28 (U.P.) — A complete survey of industrial sites and possibilities in all cities and towns served by the Burlington railroad in Texas was announced today.

Y. E. Ruge, general freight agent for the railroad — which operates in Texas as the Fort Worth and Denver City and Wichita Valley railways — said the survey will get under way at once.

He said the railroad is looking toward postwar industrial development in Texas.

SHIPBUILDERS RETURN

PASCAGOULA, Miss., Feb. 28. (AP)—Approximately 1,500 of 10,000 striking shipyard workers at the Ingalls corporation yards returned to their jobs today as administrative employees threw the electrical switches to start construction machinery. Both returning workers and the switch throwers braved a growing picket line.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

ONE of my New Jersey "fans" did not like a column I wrote some time ago.

It dealt with people who display their grief about the loss of dear ones instead of realizing that many thousands of us have suffered equally with them and that we owe it to our fellow beings to bear our sorrow bravely and to smile in the face of adversity.

So, this dear New Jersey lady, wrote me a most lady-like letter.

BRANDEIS

"Your column proved what a cold-blooded un-American person you are" she says, "and I can tell you, Brandeis, that there are a great many people, including myself, who would have enjoyed tearing you apart limb by limb for those cruel inhuman remarks you made."

I am not going to bore you with all the eight pages of her letter, but she repeats the "cruel, low-down and rotten," several times, and threatens to write to her local newspaper that runs my column and to tell them that unless they throw it out, she'll never, never buy another copy of it.

And she ends her billet-doux, by saying:

"And I can tell you, Brandeis, that when the war is over, and the boys come home you won't dare to open your big mouth or show your rotten face in public, because you will be torn to pieces."

It just happened, that the same mail brought me several letters from service men overseas, telling me that their folks send them clippings of my column or that they see it in their home-town paper which is mailed to them, and how much they enjoyed what I write.

Well, as you know, differences of opinion are the very thing we expect and enjoy in a democracy.

But why do so many people condemn everything and everybody if it or he is at variance with them?

Why must a woman, who according to her letter, has several close relatives in the service, stoop to such Billingsgate, just because she thinks differently from the way I do?

I sent the New Jersey lady a letter and told her of my own bereavements in this war—I told her only because she had insinuated that I was probably having a heck of a good time while she had folks in the service.

I told her that in all my writings she could not show me a single line about my own contribution to the war effort, about the members of my own family that had been killed or were missing, about my wife's activities.

That, I told her, is my own affair not yours or hers.

YOU don't brag about a duty done or about something that is expected from every half-way decent person these days.

You don't go around wailing over your own losses and making other people's grief that much more poignant.

Patriotism isn't something that you advertise and brag about.

Patriotism is as basic as the love of a mother for her child. It is your love for your country.

Tears shed in public are something like the artificial tears actors put on their cheeks when they play their part in a drama.

It is the silent tears, wept in the sacred privacy of your own room that are the tears God sees and will some day wipe away.

McCarran Talks Sense

Would Protect Public Interests

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

SEN. PAT McCARRAN has proposed a reform in Senate procedure which is designed to block future maneuvers of the sort that has prevented a sweeping investigation of the attempt by certain liquor interests to obtain a nation-wide monopoly on the manufacture and distribution of spirits, beer and wine.

The inquiry, which was voted unanimously by the Judiciary committee and approved by the Senate, was killed by the Audit and Control committee. That body assumed unprecedented authority in sidetracking the McCarran plan. Although it is supposed to decide only how much money a proposed investigation requires, in this instance it presumed to pass judgment on the wisdom and necessity of the probe. The distillers under suspicion have good friends in high political places.

TUCKER

McCarran's new scheme would provide every standing committee with a sufficient sum to inaugurate an inquiry without consulting Audit and Control, which is dominated by administration spokesmen who anticipate numerous requests for postwar examination of the conduct of the conflict and the liquidation of billions of dollars' worth of property here and abroad.

The senator from Nevada believes that every regular committee—War, Navy, Appropriations, Judiciary, Agriculture—should have its own checking account. The amounts mentioned in his two resolutions range from $150,000 for Appropriations to $50,000 for other units. If their findings indicate the need for a prolonged study, then they must go before Audit and Control and convince its members that a larger expenditure is justified.

The Judiciary committee chairman points out, however, that his proposal would tend to outlaw a behind-the-scenes suppression of an investigation. For the preliminary revelations financed by committee money might disclose such scandals that A. and C. would not dare to hush-hush the proceedings.

PROBES: The McCarran reform would also eliminate another evil which prevents congressional investigating committees from making a full, fair and impartial study of the actions of the Executive departments. It would ban the employment of departmental lawyers, sleuths and accountants in House or Senate inquiries.

Under the present system Audit and Control usually allows only a small sum for even the most important probes. To eke out their scanty budgets, congressional committees employ investigative, legal and clerical help of downtown bureaus. Frequently they take men from the very cabinet offices or agencies which are under scrutiny.

Such a scheme obviously prevents a disinterested examination of the Executive branch by an independent body supposedly responsible to the National Legislature. Time and again important reviews have been smothered because the borrowed agents have suppressed or refused to uncover evidence that might react against their superiors at the lower end of Pennsylvania Avenue.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

THE course of the war may be decided in the next 10 days. Certain developments are in the making—some of them imponderables—which may settle things right away or may add to the length of the sanguinary struggle.

This is how top military analysts size up the situation: The Russian bear has stuck his long nose deep into German territory. He is still clawing away the network of fortifications that surround the Berlin environs. Until these are ripped open, the Nazis cannot be defeated.

Lt. Gen. Ritter von Hauenschild reportsto Himmler that he has divided the capital area into several self-contained defense zones. "New constructions," he announces, "follow natural obstacles—lakes, ranges of hills, canals and rivers. Where there are lacking, artificial barriers have been erected."

LEMAN

The violence of Anglo-American aerial bombardment has forced the Germans to build a system of "brain safes"—huge underground headquarters, protected by armored doors, from which all orders to antiaircraft batteries are dispatched.

The personnel, mainly SS troops and girl clerks, follow the progress of an Allied raid on a large map by noting the flashes of red and green electric bulbs and phone instructions to the gun crews which will soon be under our planes. Swedish correspondents who have visited these caves assert that they are the only places in Germany where real coffee is served.

These are purely defensive measures. Prussian strategy from the days of von Clausewitz has always been to ward off attacks by striking back.

Puzzle No. 1 to all Allied generals is why the Wehrmacht hasn't launched a counteroffensive against Marshal Zukhov's long drawn-out and exposed flanks.

Regardless of what radio oracles declare about Hitler's manpower shortages, our generals know that he has two gigantic armies almost intact in Pomerania on the north and in Silesia in the South. Enough time has elapsed since the original Soviet surge for him to have brought reinforcements across the Baltic from Denmark and Norway and from Italy, if he really needed them.

MYSTERY: Some of our best military minds believe something mysterious is brewing on the Eastern Front. An extremely significant event occurred when an entire division on the Vistula—officers and men—went over to the Russians without firing a shot. What changed them from fierce fighters into docile deserters?

Although activities have been very huch-hush, it is a fact that the Communists have been boring from within the Reich. Through missionary efforts, promises, threats, bribes and other inducements, they have been undermining German civilians and soldiers.

Trade unionists deported from occupied countries organized underground movements among the slave laborers. Information received at the International Transport Workers federation in New York discloses how French and Belgian foreign toilers founded cells which eventually took in anti-Nazi Germans. In a large factory in southern Germany nearly 100 signed up against their erstwhile fuehrer.

OUTBURSTS: Russian Communists have been even more successful than socialists and liberals of other national groups.

Trained commissars have contacted Germans who formerly belonged to the Communist party, which in pre-Nazi days cast several million votes. Their proselyting activities appear to have provoked Goebbels' recent outbursts in which he shouted over the radio, "The Soviets are not human beings but wild hordes filled with the lust for human blood."

Stockholm newspapermen write that these renewed tirades were prompted by rumors that Germans caught in conquered Poland were being treated properly by the advancing Muscovites. The Swedes say that the newly formed courts-martial that try "weaklings for openly declaring that Russian control is not bad" are another bit of evidence that the Brownshirts fear the Red propaganda yeast.

An outstanding American authority on European affairs points out: "Russia and Germany have been married since the days of Peter the Great, even though they have frequently fought wars.

"This link stems from the fact that their two economies are complimentary. Germany needs Russian grains and raw materials; Russia needs German technical skills and machinery. This interdependence will be even greater in the rehabilitation period and it is a motive in Moscow's demand for reparations in kind."

New Bedford Manpower Problem An Example

U.S. Fails In Total War Effort

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. — This city, in its struggle to solve an acute war manpower shortage in tire cord production, seems to offer another significant test in the slow, stumbling process by which our democracy accomodates itself to total war.

New Bedford squirms about uncomfortably, if still defiantly, in the spotlight. The eyes of the country have been directed this way. The nation, and Washington in particular, is keenly interested in the problem here of rounding up enough skilled textile workers to get out badly needed heavy-duty tires, for the situation is matched elsewhere in the country in varying degrees with other types of critical war production.

STOKES

Also, this city and the attitude of its people may be a symptom of the country generally at this stage of the war. How it comes out of it may tell something of the future, may determine how we are going to meet the gruelling final stages still ahead of us, if we are to move ahead purposefully to complete victory over both Germany and Japan.

This is a hard period of testing.

It's A "Good Laboratory"

A good laboratory is provided in this old city of 110,000 population, once a whaling port, which has evolved into a typically individualistic American city through the various vicissitudes incident to its up-and-down history as a textile center. Here on a bottom layer of old New England stock has been imposed, through the years, other layers typical of New England mill towns — English mill worker immigrants, stubbornly independent; French-Canadians, also strongly individual, and Portuguese, among others.

This individuality comes out in examination of what has happened here.

EVERYBODY involved — workers and their labor union leaders, textile mill managers, the citizenry — has a grievance, it seems, and a reason for opposing the War Manpower commission's attempts to transfar a comparatively small number of textile workers from one plant to another. Some of the grievances are based in justice. This present quandary was long in the making. It involves many human factors, and is complicated by mistakes by all the groups concerned, including the government at Washington.

Everybody, too, has a solution to offer. The problem is simpler stated than solved.

Here's The Situation

There are two plants here making heavy cord for use in tire manufacturing plants elsewhere. One is a Firestone plant. The larger: the other, a Fisk plant of United States Rubber. They are two of many plants in the country, but they supply a sizeable percentage of tire cord. Production here must be stepped up. There is a shortage of skilled workers for a necessary third, night shift. The shortage is estimated at 230 skilled workers, 173 at Firestone, 67 at Fisk. There is a shortage also of unskilled workers, amounting currently to 147, but that problem is relatively simple. Two hundred Jamaicans are being brought here to ease that.

After many futile attempts to meet the shortage extending over several weeks—by combing the town for former textile workers, by seeking voluntary transfer from other textile mills here which make fine goods—the War Manpower commission moved in with its plan to force the required number of workers to transfer from fine goods mills, a specified number from each of nine plants, to the tire cord plants by arbitrarily lowering employment ceilings. This is vigorously resisted. Only a dozen volunteered of the first 118 called for interviews. Some didn't show up at all. Seventy-five refused to transfer and appealed their cases. A special panel from outside was ordered in by Manpower Director Paul V. McNutt at Washington to hear these appeals, beginning Tuesday, a slow process.

WORKERS are resisting, backed by their union leaders and with at least the tacit support of the mill managers in what looks very much like collusion. The city government is backing the workers. So is the community in general.

Why all this has happened will be explored in subsequent articles, because of its significance for the country generally.

It reminds the stranger who comes in to look at it of a man with a complicated personal problem who walks about his room, mumbling vindication of himself to himself as he goes back over his situation step by step, and then strikes a self-righteous pose before his mirror and says to himself defiantly:

"By gosh, I'm right. They can't shove me around."

31—Farms, Land For Sale

WE STILL have a few farms that we can get possession of for 1945, some dry land, and some irrigated. If you are looking for a farm, and want possession this year, it will pay you to see us before you buy. We also have several good buys in good farms for investments. We also have several homes large and small for sale at this time. Priced in line with present real estate values.

You may think real estate is too high in Lubbock, and we agree with you that it is, but there is nothing that we can do about it. So if you are in market for any kind of real estate, see us before you buy. We will be glad to assist you any way we can.

Romania May Test Decisions At Yalta

BARI, Italy, Feb. 28. (AP) — Romania appears likely to be the first testing ground for the Yalta conference pledge of three-power action to preserve peace in the liberated lands.

With virtual martial law in effect in some places as the result of half a dozen outbreaks, including one in Bucharest last Saturday in which a shot was fired at Prime Minister Nicolae Radescu, political observers here attached particular significance to reports that young King Mihai had received Deputy Prime Minister Pietro Groza in the last 48 hours.

Romania actually lies within Russia's sphere of influence, but under the Yalta agreement Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union are pledged to "consult together" on the steps to be taken should action be required.

RAILS LEAD ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP) — The stock market closed the books on February today with a considerable show of strength in industrial and rail leaders which propelled the averages into new high ground since the autumn of 1937.

The upturn, a continuation of the brisk advance which got underway in the last hour yesterday was paced by the steels. Final gains in the favored issues ranged from fractions to around 2 points.

Dealings totaled 1,980,000 shares, the largest since Feb. 14, against yesterday's 1,190,000.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite showed a closing rise of .4 of a point at 62.1.

Bonds were selectively higher.

Ahead in a generally higher curb were Aluminum Ltd., American Republics and McWilliams Ddredging. Transactions here were 670,000 shares against 390,000 Tuesday.

Cotton..

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP) — Strength in outside markets and scarcity of offerings contributed to a steady tone in the cotton market. Covering operations in March and mill buying against textile awards accounted for most of the buying. Spot cotton markets were quiet.

Futures closed 5 to 30 cents a bale higher.

Texans Dig Out

Thursday. Texas Power and Light company officials said full service may be restored by Friday.

Weight of the ice split thousands of Gainesville's trees, many of which had withstood assaults of 90 winters. The trees blocked a number of streets. Mayor RH. A. Latham declared a state of emergency and City Manager James A. Gilruth employed 200 men to assist in clearing the streets.

Water, Gas Unaffected

On Tuesday, the Daily Register published a three-page mimeographed edition, using local news and a summary of world news obtained from broadcasts.

The storm did not affect Gainesville's water or natural gas supply.

The ice coat was melting at Sherman Wednesday as citizens continued the task of clearing debris resulting from Monday night's ice storm. Many residents were without electricity and telephone service.

Wood consists chiefly of cellulose and lignin.

Thirty-third division troops pressed into the mountains of the Rosario-Agoo area due north of the Lingayen gulf beachhead, while the 42nd division on the other side of the head of the central Luzon plain drove toward the Balete pass road at Santa Fe.

Aircraft closely supported all ground action, and swept farther north to hammer enemy shipping installations at Vigan, on the north coast of Luzon.

Manila bay, one of the greatest harbors of the Far East and a vital base from which to mount new blows against Japan, opened Manila for the first time in three years.

Another heavy force of Liberators struck the Takao area of southwestern Formosa without opposition, but the results were obscured by low-hanging clouds. Fighters tore into railroad traffic, damaging one train.

Patrol bombers sank a small freighter and damaged another off Takao and destroyed a radio station in the nearby Sakishima islands.

A 10,000-ton tanker was sunk and another of 2,000 tons was severely damaged off the French Indo-China coast. A small freighter was sunk northeast of Hong Kong and a 1,000-ton freighter-transport was damaged in Indo-China's Camranh bay.

Rampant Yanks Nearing Cologne

five Allied tactical air commands bombed and strafed enemy positions ahead of the ground forces and heavy bombers stabbed deeper into the Reich at rail and industrial targets.

More Nazi Tanks

Despite intensification of the air attack the Germans seemed to be making more use of tanks and heavy artillery today than yesterday and the fighting at many points was savage.

American casualties, after six days of fighting, still were regarded officially as light and averaged one killed for every nine wounded.

The enemy was losing prisoners on the Roer by the thousands and one German infantry division on the Roer front has been eliminated entirely. With today's bag still to be counted, the Allies have captured 60,393 prisoners since Feb. 1—more than half of these by the American First and Ninth and the Canadian First armies.

First Still On Rampage

Hodges' First Army, which has captured more than 100 towns in six days, overran five more today and cleared many others which had been by-passed earlier. Modrath, 6½ miles from Cologne on the main highway from Dueren, was seized as infantry and armor cracked the Erft river line.

The Germans blew the bridge at Modrath, but the Yanks plunged across the Erft river, which is 20 to 60 yards wide there, and also forced the adjacent Erft canal. Farther north a bridge was captured intact and engineers hastily built another, enabling armor to cross at both points.

At one place today First Army troops found a hundred of Hitler's volkssturm recruits waiting at a church to surrender in a body. Civil affairs personnel of the Eighth division rounded up 5,000 civilians around Blattzheim and Kerpen, many of them Russian and Polish slave workers.

Resistance Stiffens

"Task Force Church," the lightning column of infantry and armor which drove 10 miles yesterday in a flanking thrust past Muenchen-Gladbach and which threatened to plunge into the heart of the Ruhr industrial region, was reported to have met stiffening resistance today. The extent of its progress beyond Waldneil, which it reached last night, was not revealed.

Fighting was reported in progress in the outskirts of Muenchen-Gladbach, nine miles from Duesseldorf and probably the biggest German rail hub west of the Rhine.

As doughboys and armor deepened the bridgeheads across the Erft and additional forces poured up to the stream on a wide front, indications mounted that the Nazis were making only a rearguard fight before the Rhine and were totally incapable of halting the powerhouse American drive.

Pulling Out For Rhine

Pilots reported columns of enemy transport streaming toward the Rhine and an American officer declared the enemy was withdrawing his artillery toward the broad stream which guards the heart of Germany.

Thousands of German prisoners were being taken, all the fight knocked out of them by six days of ceaseless battering. It was the greatest rout since Normandy.

The famous First Infantry division was among units participating in the drive on Cologne, now clearly within sight of the advancing forces and under heavy fire of American artillery.

Refugees Stream In

Thousands of German civilian refugees were reported streaming into Duesseldorf ahead of the Ninth Army's avalanche. More than 30,000 prisoners had been captured by the American First and Ninth and the Canadian First armies in their sweeps toward the Rhine.

Tank-led Canadian infantry which cleaned out the bitterly-defended enemy stronghold of Calcar at the northern end of the long battlefront were said to have driven on within four miles of Zanten, which in turn is only about four miles from the Ruhr arsenal city of Wesel. German defense forces were reported pulling out of the rapidly narrowing corridor between American and Canadian spearheads in that sector.

FDR Speaks Today

med up, this is that the Russo-Polish boundary line agreed on at Yalta is fair and that Poland, with its accessions from now-German territory will become a strong and respected member of the family of nations.

A point of surpassing interest in Congress is when and if Russia might go to war against Japan.

Respect Neutrality

We are respecting Russia's neutrality, Mr. Roosevelt told his seagoing news conference. He said that he does not know whether Russia will be asked to enter any discussion of Pacific problems before the defeat of Germany.

Mr. Roosevelt told his news conference that the war against Japan was not even mentioned either at Yalta or at his brief meeting with Churchill in Alexandria. Churchill already had stated that Britain will throw all her resources against Japan once Germany falls, the President noted.

While the President was away on his 14,000-mile journey, reports came from abroad that he was taking his time while returning because he needed to rest up.

Said In Grand Shape

These reports were not confirmed and after Mr. Roosevelt's arrival here this morning, presidential aide Jonathan M. Daniels said, "I have never seen the President looking so well. He is in grand shape."

The President traveled by train, warship, plane and then by train again in going from Washington to an east coast port, across the Atlantic and the Mediterranean to Malta, by plane to Russia and Egypt and back again by cruiser to an east coast port, thence to Washington.

Hughes Says U. S. Philippines Policy Pays Big Dividends

America's colonial policy in the Philippines has paid big dividends in this war and the Filipinos, who are truly converts of democracy, might well be our link between the East and the West, John B. Hughes, radio commentator and war correspondent, said Wednesday night in a lecture at the Lubbock High school auditorium.

Hughes, who recently spent six months in the Pacific theater of war and hit the beach with the first wave of landings on Leyte island, said the Filipinos never doubted we would come back.

Liberation Meaningful

"We had all talked about liberation and read about it, but we learned the meaning of the word in human terms when we landed on Leyte. In a short time after landing, 70,000 loyal civilian Filipinos crowded down to the beach to greet us."

So many crowded on the beaches, and right in the middle of combat, that they became a problem for the Army. "They didn't mean to hamper our progress, but we represented everything they had lost—homes, education, high standards and freedom."

America can be proud, he said, that 99 per cent of the natives were loyal and that they are the only colonial peoples who have fought the invaders in this war.

Lived With Guerrillas

Hughes lived with the Filipino guerrilla fighters and he had nothing but praise for their excellent work. "I have no doubt that the speed with which Manila was captured was due to the effective aid of guerillas."

He was particularly impressed when he attended the first school to reopen on Leyte . . . the students sang "God Bless America" and were surprised to learn that we in America sang it, too.

As to how much longer the war will continue with Japan, he is of the opinion that it will take the British, Dutch, French, Chinese, Russians and all of us to defeat them. The Japs don't give up, and after we have invaded all the little islands on the road to Tokyo and even the mainland, the war will not be over. It will not be over until every by-passed group is cleaned out.

Many Pockets By-Passed

He pointed out that in the last two years we have traveled 2000 miles but we have by-passed strong pockets of Japs. We have not conquered them, and until we do, the war with Japan will go on.

What to do with Japan after the war? Unfortunately, he said, our civilization will not allow a race to be exterminiated, which would be the easy way, and neither can we build a fence around it. The change must come from within, and the Filipinos, our converts of democracy, might well be our missionaries in Asia. America can help the Oriental enslaved peoples by suggestions, advice and through our example, the Philippines.

We can police Japan and disarm her, but the change must come from within. There are dangerous pitfalls ahead, if we try to enforce peace in Asia.

Hughes' appearance was sponsored by the Junior Welfare league. He was introduced by Dr. Arthur Jenkins.

Commons Debate

Polish Allies at the expense of British honor.

Two Major Arguments

Eden built his case around two major arguments; that the Big Three's plan would make Poland as "strong or stronger" than it was in 1939, and that Britain had never guaranteed Poland's prewar frontiers.

As had Churchill himself, he upheld the plan as just, as one which would meet Russia's claim for a western frontier on the Curzon line and give Poland German territory in compensation and which would involve formation of a new coalition provisional government of national unity.

Solons Fear Bigwigs Of Axis May Escape

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP) — Fear that top Axis leaders may be exempt under a U. S. proposed definition of the term "war criminal" was expressed in Congress today.

Rep. King (D-Calif) said this nation's delegation at the Inter-American conference at Mexico City has proposed a definition which he interprets as exempting "chiefs of state . . . and the economic war leaders" from punishment.

King told the House that any definition of war criminals should specifically indicate that chiefs of state are not to be exempt.

Demonstration Threat Brings POW Transfer

CONCORDIA, Kans., Feb. 28. (AP)—Forty-four German prisoners, all officers, who had planned a demonstration whenever the defeat of Germany is announced, have been transferred from the Concordia prisoner of war camp, Lt. Col. George W. Eggers, commanding officer, said today.

He did not reveal the nature of the planned demonstration nor camp to which the Germans were being transferred.

PETAIN REPORT DENIED

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—A British official statement said today "there is no truth" in a Paris report that Marshal Petain made a secret treaty with Prime Minister Churchill in November, 1940, pledging to return France to the war on the Allied side when the time was ripe.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY."

Two U. S. Submarines Are Presumed Lost

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP) — Two United States submarines, the Escolar and the Shark, are overdue from patrol and presumed lost.

The Navy, in announcing this today, did not identify the area of the submarines' operations.

The vessels were of 1,525 tons, a type which normally carries a complement of about 65 officers and men.

Next of kin of all casualties have been notified, the Navy said.

The announcement raised to 39 the number of submarines lost from all causes since the start of the war, including four sunk, 33 overdue and presumed lost, and two destroyed to prevent capture.

Cmdr. William J. Milligan was skipper of the Escolar and Cmdr. Edward N. Blakely, skipper of the Shark.

Advances On Iwo

port suggests the killing of more than 1,000 Japanese in a six hour period.

On the west shore, Maj. Gen. Keller E. Rockey's Fifth division, which had been stalled while the other two divisions inched ahead Tuesday, drove northward, paced by tanks.

On Edge Of New Field

In the center, Gen. Erskine's Third division, finally capturing the Japanese fighter airfield, plunged past Motoyama town and reached the edge of a Third airfield which still was under construction when the island was invaded Feb. 19.

On the east side, Maj. Gen. Clifton B. Cates' Fourth division hurled back bitterly resisting enemy forces.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced the progress in a communique this morning which pointed up the stiff type of fight still raging by reporting enemy prisoners in eight days total 10—an average of over one a day.

Resistance Still Tough

Warships of the Fifth fleet, Marine artillery and carrier based planes poured it on the foe but the Japanese still were sending back heavy mortar fire.

The Wednesday big push, one of the most impressive in more than a week, followed enmy infiltration attempts Tuesday night which were foiled by the fleet illuminating the scene with star shells.

Supporting carrier planes flew north of Iwo and touched off explosions at the enemy seaplane base at Chichi in the Bonin islands.

The Iwo Japanese, fighting from a maze of pillbox and blockhouse defenses and having the advantage of higher ground, limited the Marines Tuesday to small gains.

Committee OKs Bill To Lower Voting Age

AUSTIN, Feb. 28 (AP)—A Senate committee on constitutional amendments scratched its collective head today when it discovered that it had before it four separate measures by as many authors, proposing to lower the voting age from 21 to 18 years of age.

With two of the amendments permitting soldiers to vote already on the calendar and two others in the committee, the committee decided to approve a bill by W. C. Graves of Dallas, cutting the age limit back to 18 and one by Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo, cutting back the date of poll tax payments, with the understanding all bills would be referred to committee from the floor.

"If we can get them all back into committee we may be able to come out with one bill covering the entire subject," chairman Jesse Martin of Fort Worth, said.

NAZIS HAVE TROUBLES

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Apparently trying to explain to front-line troops why their mail was delayed, the German radio recorded by BBC said tonight that transportation systems were so disrupted that "the mere journey of a letter can be compared with an obstacle race."

News Briefs

A small amount of cash was taken from the cash register of the Morton Potato Chip company, Tenth and Ave. Q, in a burglary early Wednesday night. The building was apparently entered by way of a window, it was reported. No arrests had been made late last night.

Ration coupons equivalent to 20,000 gallons of gasoline and a new heavy-duty tire were taken in the burglary of Lubbock Cooperative service station at 118 East Broadway, W. B. Parrack, station manager, reported to police Wednesday. The place was entered through a window.

A wallet containing $25 and a set of keys to the church was stolen from the office of First Baptist church, Morrine George reported to police Wednesday afternoon.

Police said six children escaped without a scratch in a collision of two motor vehicles Wednesday morning at Twenty-seventh and Adams Ave., although one of the vehicles "turned over three or four times." Two children occupied a car driven by Mrs. H. C. Girod, 35, of 2506 Twenty-eighth, and four children were in a pick-up truck driven by Joe Schnell, 45, of 2510 Twenty-seventh. Neither driver was hurt.

infantry following up the tanks."

Moscow news dispatches, however, said the German resistance was stiffening at some places against Soviet forces "fighting fiercely to complete encirclement of the German forces to the east."

Russian accounts emphasized that the slushy terrain of forests dotted with lakes made it necessary for tanks to stick to the roads, somewhat handicapping operations.

The Red Air force was busy over the coastal gap, supporting the tanks and hampering German reserve movements.

One strategic aim of the Second White Russian drive was to cover the flank of the First White Russian Army on the central front for a direct drive towards Berlin.

On the south flank, the First Ukraine Army was continuing the battle for liquidation of Breslau and fought in the forests along the Neisse river, water line guarding the southeast approaches to Berlin.

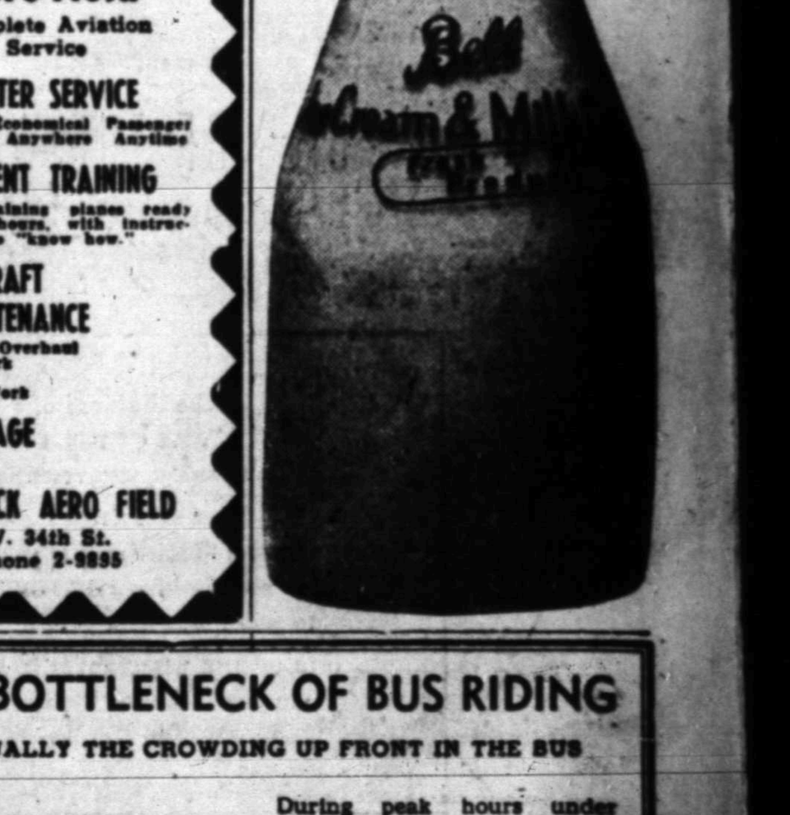

Other fronts were described as relatively quiet, but an account in the Soviet Army paper, Red Star, said many new volunteers were joining Gen. Ludwig Svoboda's Czechoslovak Army corps in Slovakia.

Action On Sale Of Railroad Postponed

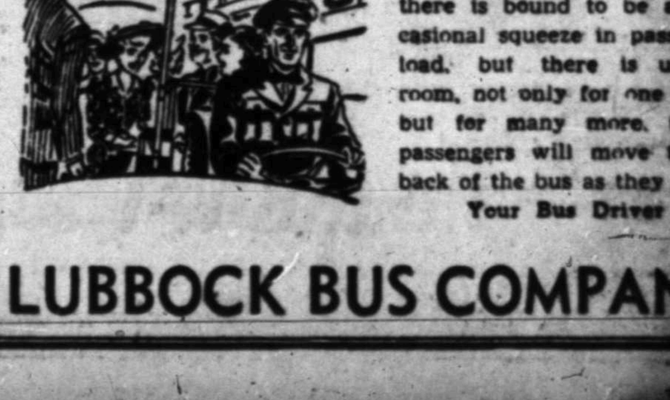

AUSTIN, Feb. 28 (AP)—A Senate committee today postponed action for one week on a bill authorizing the sale of the Texas State railroad and suggested that the board of managers advise with the attorney general in the filing of a suit to determine if there has been a breach of contract on the part of the leasee.

The committee heard a number of witnesses many of them from Palestine and Rusk who pleaded that the 32-mile state owned line between Palestine and Rusk be retained by the state until a complete investigation as to its value and revenue producing possibilities is completd.

C. H. Cavnss, state auditor, told the committee that an audit had been made of Southern Pacific books pertaining to the line's operation, and that it was his opinion enough provisions of the contract had been violated to permit the state to cancel the lease terms.

Battle West Of Rhine Near Climax As Confusion Adds To Nazi Woes

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

The battle of the Cologne plain is fast approaching its crisis with every indication that within days Allied forces will be massed along the left bank of the Rhine from Bonn to Arnhem preparing to storm the last major water hazard that guards the heart of Germany from invasion.

SIMPSON

While field reports of a near German rout lack official confirmation, there seems no doubt that the northward swerve of the American Ninth Army attack to bypass Munchen-Gladbach to the west is rapidly rolling up the last Siegfried line sector between Roermond and Boxmeer. A positional news blackout imposed by Allied censorship concealed the exact whereabouts of General Simpson's blitz columns striking across enemy communications 30 miles east of the Roermond corner.

Nazis In Confusion

It was obvious, nevertheless, that a Nazi flight to the Rhine was in progress and staff confusion and disintegration in German ranks setting in. American First Army seizure intact of an Erft bridge to roll unchecked near Cologne proved the case.

The extent and effect of the triple Allied breakthrough west of the Rhine was further emphasized by the fact that at no time since the First and Ninth armies stormed across the Roer has the foe mounted a counter-attack of more than strictly limited and local consequence. Whether that is due to a Nazi command decision to fight only a sacrificial delaying action west of the Rhine and rely upon the river itself to halt the Allied drive remains to be seen.

As the pattern of the great drive is taking shape it seems keyed to exerting the maximum strain on enemy reserves to guard all potential Rhine crossings.

The diversion effect of that upon the battle of the Oder-Neisse line crossings for which huge Russian armies are getting set in the east is yet to be disclosed. The threat of the Rhine is becoming acute so fast, however, that word of a reversal of the flow of Nazi reserves withdrawn from the west to bolster Berlin and Dresden defenses is to be expected momentarily.

General Manager Of Katy Railway Dies

DALLAS, Feb. 28. (AP)—Frank W. Grace, who began working for the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad of Texas as a messenger boy 51 years ago and for the last 13 years was its vice president and general manager, died early today in a Dallas hospital.

Grace, a resident of Dallas, was 65 years of age. He became ill from a throat infection Saturday. Two minor heart attacks developed, but he apparently had rallied last night and was resting easily. He died in his sleep.

Funeral services will be held in Dallas Friday at 2 p. m.

A native of Denison, Tex., Grace entered service of the Katy in 1894 as a messenger boy in the telegraph department at Denison. His entire career was devoted to the Katy.

Survivors were his widow; a sister, Mrs. L. L. McKensie of Hugo, Okla.; three brothers, Will Grace, Sherman, Tex.; T. J. Grace, Denison, and E. J. Grace, Muskogee, Okla.

Lord And Lady Halifax Visit Southern States

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 28. (AP)—Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, and Lady Halifax left here early today by plane for Washington after a brief tour of Louisiana and Mississippi.

R. W. Urquhart, consul-general at New Orleans, and Mrs. Urquhart left at noon for New Orleans. They were accompanied by the Honorable Richard Wood, son of Lord and Lady Halifax, who will go from New Orleans to Corpus Christi, Tex., to visit friends.

Airline Offers Jobs To Disabled Vets

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 28. (U.P.)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, president and general manager of Eastern airlines, told patients at Lawson General hospital here yesterday that his company has 1,000 jobs available for veterans with amputations.

The loss of an arm or leg will not keep capable men out of the aviation industry, Rickenbacker said. He said federal regulations prohibit any person with an amputation from becoming an air lines pilot but there are many clerical jobs in aviation that handicapped veterans can hold.

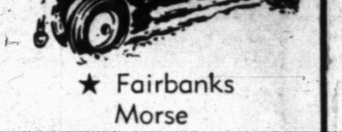

Philip Wylie once wrote a 100,000 word novel in nine days while crossing the Atlantic.

Court Clarifies Stand On Transfering Funds

AUSTIN, Feb. 28 (U.P.) — The Texas Supreme court reaffirmed its previous two-to-one decision on attempted transfer of special state funds to the general state fund today, but issued a corrective opinion pointing out the reasons. Associate Justice John Sharp, who dissented from the former opinion, renewed his dissent.

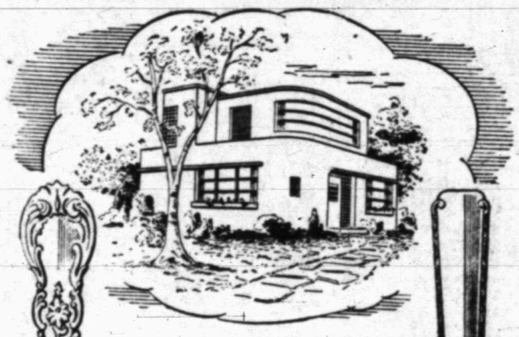

Net result of the litigation, which involved 18 special state funds, is to hold that the special license fund for motor vehicle operators and chauffeurs was validly transferred by the last Legislature, but that the attempt to transfer 17 other special funds in the same act was invalid.

Objection was that while the operators and chauffeurs license fund was specifically mentioned in caption of the act, the other funds were not mentioned.

Today's supplemental opinion says:

"The state now has the right, if the Legislature deems wise to pass suitable laws authorizing it, to use the balance of these special funds for general purposes."
