Marijuana possession is charged after four arrests

Two separate cases here

Four young men, three of them who now live in Post, have been arrested in the last 10 days by Post police and charged with possession of marijuana.

Arvill Joe Hair of Post was booked after police were called to The Hitching Post because a man with a gun was causing a disturbance.

Patrolman Richard Keen arrived ahead of Police Chief Jim Trulove and placed Hair under arrest for possession of a firearm in an establishment serving alcoholic beverages. According to witnesses, Hair had already fired three times before police arrived.

While he was being booked at the law enforcement complex, Keen and Trulove found two small bags of marijuana on him.

Hair pleaded guilty Monday morning in Garza County Court to a misdemeanor charge of possession of marijuana and was fined $100, assessed $47.30 court costs, and sentenced to 180 days in jail with the sentence probated for nine months.

He then entered a not guilty plea before Justice of the Peace Racy Robinson to a third degree felony charge of unlaw-

Shoppers to receive 'Surprise Discounts'

There is a whole lot for everybody in the whirlwind 1974 downtown Christmas promotion being sponsored here by the Retail Promotions Committee of the Post Chamber of Commerce and local merchants.

This Saturday there is a full slate of events.

First off, it will be Surprise Discount Day.

That means that any purchases made in local participating stores entitles the buyer to receive a surprise discount and this discount is subtracted from the regular price of the purchase.

The high school and junior high bands will be downtown at 3 p. m. to entertain and that will be followed by some group singing, presumably of Christmas carols.

Then at 4 p. m. there will be a drawing for a number of free Christmas turkeys to be given away. Those who sign up for the turkey drawing without obligation in seven local stores must be present to win.

To get into the turkey drawing you can sign up at Wacker's, Twins Fashions, Western Auto, Gibson's Discount Center, Raferti's, The First National Bank, or Bob Collier, Druggist.

That's not all either. The Women's Division of the Chamber will conduct an all-day Bake Sale Saturday right out on the sidewalk in the 200 block of East Main, weather permitting.

The following Saturday — that will be Dec. 14 — there will be plenty more promotional activity. That day's activities will include the arrival of Santa Clause, a big Merchants Gift Drawing, and the "big race" down the aisles of the United Super Market here by the winner of the Garza County Jaycees' "Five Minutes in a" (See Promotion, Page 12)

CHECKING BLOOD PRESSURE — Ruby Shedd is shown taking the blood pressure of unidentified local woman in a local super market Nov. 27 as part of a free blood pressure screening clinic conducted by the Garza chapter of the American Heart Association.

Committeeman to be named Dec. 11

The county convention for the purpose of electing a Garza County committeeman will be held at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday, Dec. 11, in the Garza County ASCS office here.

The convention will be open to the public.

Blood pressure clinic is held

The Garza chapter of the American Heart Association sponsored a free blood pressure screening clinic Wednesday, Nov. 27, in Post schools and at the Piggly Wiggly and United Super Markets.

Chapter officials report an exceptionally good turnout at the clinic and the fact that several people were made aware they had high blood pressure that might otherwise have gone undetected.

Assisting with the clinic were Teresa Nix, Ruby Shedd, Syan Nichols, Gracie Hodges, Terry Horton, Mildred Shumard, Bessie Strawn, Ann Tubbs and Elaine Gindorf.

Lubbock man dies in crash

Garza County suffered its first traffic fatality in several months when A. Lee Henderson, 76-year-old Lubbock oil man, was killed when the car he was driving crashed at the FM-1313 and FM-669 intersection southwest of Post about 10 p. m. Monday.

Investigating officers said Henderson was approaching FM-669 on FM-1313, that his car failed to stop and crashed into an embankment across FM-669.

Henderson came to West Texas in 1934 after the discovery of the first oil well in the region and was a charter member of the Pioneer Petroleum Association.

Funeral services were scheduled at 10 a. m. today in Lubbock in the First United Methodist Church.

Film on detecting breast cancer here

A film on detecting breast cancer will be shown at a meeting of the Garza County Unit of the American Cancer Society at 7:30 p. m. tonight in the Reddy Room.

President Bill McBride invites all persons interested to attend. The film will be shown by George Lewis of the ACS.

AS WE REMEMBER HIM — This picture of Dispatch Editor Charlie Didway, who died Monday morning, was made at his Dispatch desk as he was presented an award a few years ago. Under his editorship, The Dispatch won dozens of awards of all kinds. Like a lot of other newspaper old-timers Charlie liked to wear his hat in the newsroom and he didn't take it off for this picture either, although the tie indicates a special occasion.

Post Dispatch loses editor with death of Charlie Didway

Funeral services for Charles L. Didway, 63, editor of The Post Dispatch for 21 years, were conducted at 10 a. m. Wednesday in the Holy Cross Catholic Church.

The veteran small-town newspaperman, who began his newspaper career at 14 while in high school handsetting type in Talihina, Okla., died at 6:45 a. m. Monday in the intensive care unit of West Texas Hospital in Lubbock.

Death was due to complications from a broken hip he suffered in a fall in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal press room in July.

Following a long hospital siege which included two pin setting operations on the hip, Didway was able to resume his editorial duties part-time from his home and later for only a few weeks to return to work at The Dispatch.

Didway had been in Garza Memorial Hospital here for several weeks for treatment of a painful condition in both legs when he developed pneumonia Sunday morning. He was taken immediately to West Texas Hospital by ambulance.

Didway was a native of Montreal, Ark.

He came to Post as editor of The Dispatch in 1953 from Levelland where he had been editor of the paper there. In the next two decades The Dispatch won dozens of newspaper awards in both regional and state press association contests, including sweepstakes winner of its division in the Texas contest several times.

Prior to coming to Post, he worked on papers in Poteau and Hominy, Okla.; and in Clarendon, Muleshoe, Littlefield, Levelland, and Brownfield.

It was in Clarendon, while working on a paper there, that he met his wife Zula and married her Aug. 4, 1934.

Didway's most recent accomplishment was the editing of Garza County's own history, "Wagon Wheels," which was published in December of 1973. He spent several years of

Rites held for Grassland man

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. Friday in the White Funeral Chapel at Tahoka for Elmer D. Anderson, 51, retired Grassland farmer who died Nov. 27 in the Veterans Hospital in Dallas after a long illness.

He was born June 9, 1923 in Lubbock and moved to Lynn County in 1937 from Smyer, after attending school in Chico. During World War II he served in the U. S. Army.

Survivors include four sisters, Mrs. Lela Thornton of O'Donnell, Mrs. Cora Traister of Seagoville, Mrs. Marie Long and Mrs. Dora Lauderdale, both of the Grassland community; and two brothers, C. E. Anderson of Tahoka and Gordon Anderson of Rogers, Ark.

The Rev. Lee R. Jones, pastor of the Sweet Street Baptist Church of Tahoka, conducted the services. Burial was in Grassland Cemetery.

Postex Plant will close two weeks over holidays

The Postex Plant will have a two weeks shutdown over the holidays, Plant Manager Ed Bruton announced to employees this week, but the Christmas week closing is frequently customary.

Bruton said the last day of work will be Friday, Dec. 20, with the plant being shut down that night, with employees returning to work Monday, Jan. 6.

He pointed out that all employees will be receiving their annual Christmas vacation pay, which will amount to almost a week's salary and varying with the employee's length of service with Burlington.

Christmas Day also will be a paid holiday.

"We anticipate some improvement in sales after the first of the year," Bruton told The Dispatch, pointing out that many buyers already have reduced their sheeting inventories to bottom levels and must replenish stocks at the rate of sales.

Bruton also said that the Employees' Appreciation dinner, an annual custom at the plant, is being served employees on shift either today or Friday.

The annual Children's Christmas party for all the youngsters of Postex employees will be held at the plant Sunday afternoon, Dec. 15, Bruton also noted to The Dispatch.

Christmas concert to be presented Sunday

The 100-voice Post Junior High School Choir and the Post High School Choir will sing their annual Christmas concert Sunday afternoon, Dec. 8.

The public is invited to hear this hour-long yuletide program of the two choirs, beginning at 3 p. m. in the primary auditorium.

Both choirs are under the direction of Georgie M. Willson.

Members of the junior high choir are Gary Baker, Carolina Baez, Gwen Brown, Chris Briggs, Bonnie Bright, Lillian Coudalaki, Dede Haas, Ronnie Easton, Ruby Espinoza, Joey Gonzales, Gary Hair, Estella Harper, Rosemary Jefferson, John Keel, Oscar Lopez, Noel Pena, Laura Mason, Junior Romero, Lisa Rodriguez, Jolene Torres, Dee Basquez, Mary Alice Castro, Ronnie Greathouse, Luann Kennedy, Patricia Mason, Tommy Mize, Julie Troxell, Johnnie Phillip, Cindy Polk, Richard Gomez, Robert Quinener, Eddie Sanchez, Ramon Raymundo, Darlene Vasquez, Josie Samora, Melinda Karlle, Tommy Collazo, Ruth Gonzales, Mark Holly, Dale Hubble, Nagie Martinez. (See Choir Concert, Page 12)

Almost any newsroom, even in a small weekly, is a busy place that calls for skill, patience and cooperation. Consequently newspaper folk get to know each other pretty well.

—O— That's why not only Editor Charlie Didway's desk corner behind the front door seems so empty this week, but the whole newsroom seems empty too, even though this edition of The Dispatch had to go to press just the same.

—O— Editor Charlie always had a dry joke he dug out of nearly half a century of small town newspapering to tell when he "sat down to rest" after getting the paper out.

—O— Those were the best times.

—O— You can't toil over the news 49 years without storing up a lot of information in an agile mind and Charlie had a lot of experiences pigeonholed there to recall at the appropriate (See Postings, Page 9)

R. E. Josey world champion calf roper

DISPLAYS TITLE TROPHY — R. E. Josey, former Post calf roper, displays the hand-rubbed silver trophy he won in Louisville recently as 1974's World Champion Calf Roper.

R. E. Josey of Marshall, Tex., former George R. Brown employee here who made it big in rodeo calf roping, won his third world calf roping title in five years Nov. 13-16 during the first annual World Championship Quarter Horse Show conducted in Louisville, Ky.

Josey, who has been roping for the past 15 years, won the title aboard Silver Creek Jak. He won the world title in 1970 aboard Major Chalfant and in 1972 with Toebars.

Both Silver Creek Jak and Major Chalfant were owned by the Joseys while Josey rode Toebars for C. T. Fuller of Pennsylvania.

Josey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Josey of Post and left here about ten years ago to devote his full time to calf roping.

Josey's wife, Martha, was sixth in Louisville in barrel racing.

The couple gives clinics throughout the country on calf roping and barrel racing and for eight weeks each summer are host to a barrel racing and calf roping school at their ranch, located on the Karnack highway about five miles northeast of Marshall.

The Joseys have given clinics in seven states since the summer sessions ended, and one of R. E. Josey's calf roping students, 21-year-old Anthony Armstrong of North Carolina recently won the calf roping

One of the last 'country editors'

Charlie Didway was a West Texas "country editor" half his lifetime — and loved every minute of it.

A "country editor" is a newspaperman who can "do it all" front office or back shop and get a weekly out regularly on time, or almost on time.

Charlie was not only a good "country editor", but he gave that time-honored position a bit of dignity and charm.

He had a way of "being careful" with each and every story. Folks who brought them to him knew their stories would get printed correctly in the paper. And they always did.

He shot thousands of news pictures of every phase of small town life. He mirrored Post for 21 years in his camera's lens.

Editor Charlie was a stickler for names. There probably isn't one person in a hundred anymore who can spell without error the names of say his dozen closest friends. Editor Charlie would go to any extreme to get a name right.

He got so interested in getting those names right, he got interested in where names came from and did a lot of "spare time research" on the subject of names and turned them into a column, "Your Name? What's In It?" and researched the backgrounds of names for anybody who asked as a hobby.

He loved sports — you name it, he liked it — but football was No. 1 of course. Every fall for too many years to count now he has watched all the neighboring weeklies on our exchange desk clipped their entry blanks and entered their football score guessing contests. He won regularly too.

A number of publishers banned Editor Charlie from their contests because he was too good. A check came in the Monday mail addressed to him for a third place in one of these contests, but he didn't have the pleasure of opening that envelope. He was leading up at Olton for their season-long contest when he went into the hospital for the last time.

Editor Charlie wrote the cleanest copy of any newspaperman we ever knew. While we thrash around a lot on our typewriter, his stories just rolled almost errorlessly through his.

His proof reading also was the best we'd seen in a long, long time. There have been fewer errors in The Dispatch in the last 21 years than in any paper we've ever read — thanks to Editor Charlie who was just as "careful" with his proof reading as with his names.

We've never seen Charlie flustered in a newspaper emergency — and we've had some dillies around here you wouldn't believe — nor have we seen anybody fluster Editor Charlie.

He didn't stand in awe of anybody and when somebody got out of line with Editor Charlie he told them so. Through the years here at The Dispatch to most folks he remained, "Mr. Didway."

We don't rightly know what any man is expected to do with his life. But Editor Charlie marched rather serenely through his as a darn good newspaperman content to perform an essential and intelligence task with quiet efficiency.

The Dispatch has won dozens of newspaper awards over the years Charlie has been its editor and it was his day to day efforts that pushed The Dispatch to the front in competition with other papers its own size.

Probably the biggest award was the last one when The Dispatch was ranked second in the nation this summer for excellence in its circulation class by the National Newspaper Association.

But probably the award which meant more than any other to Charlie came to him last February when he was named Post "man of the year" at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet.

He was a quiet guy and the quiet ones seldom stir up enough attention to be so honored by their fellow townspeople. But that one pleased Editor Charlie.

Editor Charlie never had the physical reserve strength most of the rest of us take for granted. Day to day, life often became a physical struggle for him. But he seldom missed putting in his day on the job and getting out the paper no matter how he might feel.

Editor Charlie was a real book lover. He was always reading a good book. The arrival of the Post Public Library was a joy to him. So when his wife, Zula, asks that any memorials to him be made in the form of contributions to the Post Public Library, she knows that this would please him very much.

Here at The Dispatch, Editor Charlie is going to be missed — and remembered as a newspaperman of a vanishing breed that journalism schools couldn't produce if they tried for a hundred years. — JC

The public is invited to attend these services.

Barricades up on 380 West

The Texas Highway Department has erected barricades on a section of US-380 beginning at the Lynn-Garza county line and extending five miles west.

Work was expected to begin on the project this week.

The first operation will consist of replacing existing culverts. Traffic will be controlled by signs and flagmen at each individual site.

Motorists using this section of US-380 are urged by the highway department to use extreme care, read and obey all signs, reduce speed approaching work areas and cooperation with flagmen.

Enslaved or Free

By Ken Metzger

All of us are at times "slaves" of something. Certain things can creep into our lives and imprison us—so much that they rule our minds, our bodies, and even our very souls. Things like pride, temper, fear, self-pity, all can enslave us. The desires of our bodies—for food, sex, tobacco, alcohol, drugs—can become insatiable; they become crutches and-or escapes, and demand from us our very "selves."

But the "Good News" is that we do not have to be prisoners of such things, for Jesus Christ came to give us abundant life, (John 10:10); He came to release the prisoner, (Luke 4:18). Jesus came to give perfect and complete freedom, (John 8:36).

So the choice is ours. WE YIELD TO THAT WHICH KEEPS CAPTIVE—OR YIELD TO HIM WHO GIVES US FREEDOM. In Christ, no person and no thing can enslave us! All we have to do is the victory! "The victory that the world is our faith, for who is over the world but he who believes Jesus is the Son of God?" (John 5: NEB)

The great hymn writer, Charles Wesley put it this way: ...He breaks the power of canceled He sets the prisoner free; His blood can make the foulest clean His blood availed for me. . . .

Grayling Johnson on all-South Plains team

Grayling Johnson, 190-pound senior tackle for the Post Antelopes, capped his high school football career by being selected Saturday to the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal's Class AA All-South Plains team on offense.

He and Slaton Fullback Bill McCleskey were the only District 5AA representatives on the attack unit.

Frenship placed Dickie Dunson as a linesman and David Drapo as a linebacker on the defensive unit and Denver City had Kenny McGlassen, a senior, at linebacker.

Four other Antelopes earned honorable mention status on the All-South Plains squad.

They included junior quarterback Bryan Davis, senior end Tony Conner, junior center George Hester, and junior defensive back Mike Shepherd.

Alpine whips Mustangs 13-3

Denver City's Mustangs bowed out of the state Class AA football playoffs by losing to Alpine Nov. 29 on a chilly Denver City grid, 13 to 3.

Alpine will meet Spearman in quarter final play this weekend.

The Mustangs took a 3-0 lead on a 33-yard field goal by Kevin Munn in the second period, but Alpine bounced back when Chunie Encisco zipped 38 yards on a sweep for a touchdown before the half.

He got the other Alpine touchdown in the third to cap a 10 play 64-yard drive. The Mustangs were frustrated by two fumbles and two pass interceptions.

VISIT IN HOUSTON

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gollehon of Portales, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Adams of Tahoka spent last week visiting in Houston with Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Roberts.

'Lopes and Does to play in first tourneys this weekend

The Post Antelopes and the Post Does will be competing in their first tournaments of the new cage season this weekend with Coach John Alexander's varsity boys entering a tough eight-team affair at Plainview and Coach John Morrow taking the varsity girls to some round ball competition at New Home.

When all that playing is over with, both clubs will appear on the home floor here next Tuesday night as part of a tripleheader with Shallowater. The Junior Varsity boys will play that opener.

The 'Lopes will play a good Abernathy team at 1 p. m. this afternoon in the first round of the Plainview meet. If they win they will play the winner of the Plainview B-Denver City first rounder at 1 p. m. Friday.

If they lose they will go at 10 a. m. Friday against the Plainview B-Denver City loser.

The New Home affair will be a bigger one with 12 teams, ranging from Class B through AA competing, and that makes for a confusing bracket.

'Lopes win, Does upset

The Post Antelopes rang up their third straight cage win of the young season by drubbing the Spur Bulldogs, 62-25, in the Post gym Tuesday night, but the Post Does fell to the Spur girls, 62 to 47 in a surprise loss.

The Post Junior Varsity boys won the opener of the tripleheader from the Spur JVs, 46 to 33.

Ten players scored points for the 'Lopes in their easy return win over Spur as the locals broke out in front 12 to 6 at the quarter and were never headed. It was 32 to 10 at the intermission and 46 to 15 at the end of three.

Jackie Blacklock led the Post scorers with 12, followed by Mike Shepherd with 10, Mike Waldrip 8, Tony Conner with 7, Bryan Davis and Grayling Johnson with six, Edward Price with 5, Kent Kirkpatrick 4, and Bob Craig and Ken Curtis with two each.

Johnson topped the rebounders with 10, Waldrip got nine and Conner 8. The rest of the 41 caroms were scattered among the other players.

Does defeat Idalou, 74-54

Coach John Morrow's Post Does won their third victory in four starts here Tuesday night, Nov. 26, with a 74 to 54 win over Idalou.

The locals had a big second quarter to pull away to a 42 to 26 intermission lead after only leading by four points, 19 to 15 at the end of the first quarter.

Post had four forwards in double figures with Melanie King picking up 21 points, Jenda Gilmore 20, Joni Hays 16, and Karen Williams, 10.

Sandy Bullard put in two fielders for the other four points.

Joni Lawrence of Idalou was high point for the game, however, with 25 points.

The Does converted nine of 15 free throw efforts while Idalou made only 10 of 20.

THANKSGIVING VISITORS

Guests in the home of Mrs. Vera Gossett and Jim for the Thanksgiving holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Morris and family from Clovis, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Gossett and children, Mike Ramage, Tricia Whitefield and Susan Hodges all of Spur.

Tex Watson talks about

The West Texas Gas Supply

You hear a great deal about the competition for the natural gas in West Texas these days. It is rightfully a matter of interest and concern to every citizen of this area. It has some serious implications.

Natural gas has been an important factor in building West Texas and will continue to be. Most of the businesses and industries in our area depend, directly or indirectly, on a continuing supply of natural gas. A lot of people's jobs depend on it. So, we must see that they have it.

We will have to pay more for it than in the past — the competition for gas has never been so fierce. But by working together, and without outside interference, we'll have the gas energy we need today and in the future. Gas will still be your best energy buy.

Exhibit for ex-Post woman

SNYDER — Exhibiting at the Martha Ann Woman's club during the month of December will be La Verta Lovell, former Post Resident. This is the third in a series of art exhibits to be presented at the Woman's Club.

The work of La Verta Lovell offers the viewer images in oil, watercolor, acrylic and graphics. She is a native Texan and grew up in Snyder where she resides with her husband and two sons. La Verta studied art at Texas Tech University and West Texas State University.

She has studied under such outstanding instructors as Helen Van Wyk, Rockport, Mass.; Ronald Thomason, Weatherford; Jan Herring, El Paso, and numerous other will known artists. Mrs. Lovell is an art teacher and has been the recipient of numerous awards in statewide exhibitions and competitions. Her paintings are represented in over 200 distinguished collections throughout the United States.

Bob Craig has big game in 61-36 win over Idalou

Nine players had a share in the scoring Tuesday night, Nov. 26, as the Post Antelopes rang up their second straight easy triumph by whipping the Idalou Wildcats, 61 to 36, in the Post gym.

The visitors made a game of it for the first period only, the score being knotted at 16 all as the second quarter began.

That's when Bob Craig, who turned in an outstanding game at the defensive post position, virtually sealed off the Idalou attack. The visitors managed only 20 more points in the last three periods.

Coach John Alexander was well satisfied with the club's defensive play and the rebounding, but not with the shooting although it was somewhat improved.

Bryan Davis led the 'Lopes in scoring with seven fielders and a free for 15, followed by Mike Shepherd with six fielders for 12, and Mike Waldrip with five and a free for 11.

Other scorers were Tony Conner 7, Mark Kirkpatrick 6, Jackie Blacklock 4, and Craig, Grayling Johnson, and Jerry Johnson with two each.

Conner led in rebounding with 11, followed by Kirkpatrick with 10 and Davis and Waldrip with nine each.

Coach Jackie Brown's Junior Varsity opened its season with a 39 to 33 victory over the

IN APPRECIATION

One of the nice things about living in Post is the way we can work together when a job needs to be done. Monday morning, Nov. 25, 1974 when the fire between here and Lubbock interrupted our long distance telephone service, a patient came to the out patient treatment room in our hospital. She needed emergency surgery.

The nursing staff at Garza Memorial Hospital, especially Toni Britnell, the dispatcher at the police station, Joan McNeely, the Mayor, Giles McCrary, the city policemen on duty, Richard King and Kenneth Cook, who drove the ambulance, were able to combine their various talents to help. Our ambulance was met by a police escort outside of Lubbock, the St. Mary's Hospital emergency room nurse was outside the doors of the emergency room that cold morning to help get the patient out of the ambulance, the elevator was waiting, the doctor was waiting, and within about 10 minutes an operating room crew was available for the necessary surgery.

I think all of these people and their associates deserve our appreciation.

Sincerely,
Charles R. Tubbs
M.D.

Blind Chance: Donny Stelzer won a turkey.

Running Deer Target: Those who won hens were Carolyn Williams, Gary Blackmer, Harold Kretschmer, Keith Little, Mark Shedd, Bobby Snow, Mark Holly, and Will Parker.

The overall high score was shot by Allan Hampton and he won a turkey.

There were approximately 40 people who attended.

Slaton girls sweep 3 tilts

Slaton girls swept a cage tripleheader involving seventh, eighth and freshman teams Monday night. None of the games were exactly close.

Slaton's seventh graders won 59 to 14 with Carolyn Pringler scoring 3 for Post, Susan Jackson 4, Donna Baumann 3, and Jendy Thomas 2.

Slaton's eighth grade girls won 29 to 18 with Dana Bird scoring 8, Kerri Pool 6, and Karla Duren and Theresa Orr 2 each.

The Post seventh grade girls will compete in a seventh grade tournament at Slaton this weekend, playing Roosevelt in the first round at 10:30 a. m. today.

The three girls' teams will take to the road next Monday night to play at Frenship.

Artificial lighting for top egg output
COLLEGE STATION — To get top production out of laying hens, Texas poultrymen are utilizing artificial lighting programs. Natural daylight will not do the job, except for a few days each year.

Birds have a small gland located at the base of the brain, directly behind the eye, which regulates the egg hormones. "For this gland to function properly, at least 14 hours of light per day must reach the hen," says Dr. William O. Cawley, poultry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The electric bulb is the heart of the artificial lighting system. Research conducted at Texas A&M University has shown that the regular incandescent bulb does the best job in lighting the layers.

To get this edition to press has taken some extra doing and we've had to stop taking news and want ads early to accomplish this. We know our readers will understand.

We know Charlie would want us "back on the track" so we will end this bottled column with the reminder that Santa Claus letters are now "in season" at The Dispatch and we intend to publish all we receive in some issue before Christmas. So let's start getting them in.

Winter squash such as hubbards, acorns and butter-nuts can be substituted for pumpkin in recipes.

Santa Fe plans dividend on Feb. 1
AMARILLO — The board of directors of Santa Fe Industries, Inc., Nov. 26 declared a dividend of 25 cents per share on its preferred capital stock payable Feb. 1, 1975, to stockholders of record at the close of business Jan. 17.

The directors of Santa Fe Industries also declared a quarterly dividend of 45 cents per share on the common capital stock of the company, payable March 1, 1975, to stockholders of record at the close of business on Jan. 17. With this action, total declarations during 1974 amount to $1.50.

Quinonez rites held Friday
Funeral services for Candelario Quinonez, 74, of Post, were conducted at 10 a. m. Friday in the Hudman Funeral Home chapel by the Rev. Hector Ortiz of Lubbock, presiding bishop of the Church of God of Prophecy in West Texas.

Quinonez died in Greeley, Colo., Nov. 25 while visiting relatives.

He was born in Mexico Feb. 2, 1900, and was a carpenter here. He had been a Post resident since 1942.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Anita Casarez of Plainview, Mrs. Carmen Samora of Post and Mrs. Delores Perez of Plantville, Colo.; seven sons, Remigio of Auburn, Ind., Candelario Jr., of North Glen, Colo., Julio of Angelwood, Colo., Anselmo of Denver, Ensenia of Plantville, Paulino of Post, and Roman of Dallas; 51 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

weekend and night work in preparing the copy and pictures for publication and writing some of the articles himself.

In February of this year Didway was named Post's "man of the year" at the annual Post Chamber of Commerce banquet for his many contributions to the community through his writings and editorials over the years, and for editing "Wagon Wheels."

Didway wrote several columns for The Dispatch, his "Thursday to Thursday" being an editorial page fixture for many, many years.

In more recent year, he began writing a column on names, calling it "Your Name, What's In It?" His research in surnames brought him a distinguished service award from the Dictionary of International Biography in England.

The name column not only appeared regularly in The Dispatch, but he syndicated it to several other papers in West Texas and surrounding states.

In connection with his "name hobby", he was a member of the American Names Society, Texas Genealogical Society and an honorary member of the Lea County, N. M., Genealogical Society.

Didway also was active in Democratic politics in the county and served as precinct chairman for the party for Post's big precinct 1 for the last nine years.

While in Brownfield as editor of The Brownfield News, Didway helped secure land for that city's first Catholic church and was among those who built the church themselves.

He was a member of the Holy Cross Catholic Church here and of the Knights of Columbus.

Survivors include his wife, Zula; a daughter, Mrs. Charlene Feris of Dallas; two sons, Walter of Post and Curtis of Pampa; four sisters, Mrs. Mollie Taylor of Baker, Ore., Mrs. Dorothy Boren of Sapulpa, Okla., Mrs. Belle Holmes and Jessie Didway, both of Stillwater, Okla.; and two brothers, Bill of Stillwater and Bert of Fredrick, Md.; and five grandchildren.

Father James Casey of Lockney conducted the funeral services with burial in the Terrace Cemetery under direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Palbearers were Preston Poole, Bill McBride, Bobby Davis, Lane Tannehill, John Dennis and Dan Rankin.

Honorary palbearers were Ed Bruton, Scotty Samson, Walter Duckworth, Jim Cornish, J. B. Potts, Bill Shiver, Don Windham, James Minor, Tom Gates, Walter Boren, Don Ammons, Dr. A. C. Surman, Powell Shytles and E. A. Warren.

The family has requested any memorials given in memory of The Dispatch editor be made to the Post Public Library.

competition at the rodeo spectacular in Madison Square Garden in New York City.

Josey has won 21 saddles in calf roping competition and he won in roping contests at the State Fair in Dallas, in Jackson, Miss., and in Montgomery, Ala. to qualify for the world championships.

Aside from the prestige, Josey also received a hand-rubbed silver trophy worth about $1,100 and $750 in cash.

Josey, who has appeared in an instructional film on calf roping and written several articles for national magazines on training of roping horses, estimates he has trained between 500 and 600 ropers.

Competing in the Louisville show were 19 ropers reputed to be the best in the world and almost half the contestants, Josey estimated, were from Texas.

Mrs. Josey has won seven horse trailers in barrel racing competition, and she was expecting 60 to 70 students for her barrel racing clinic last weekend at the ranch. This week the Joseys are heading for Florida for another roping clinic, R. E.'s eighth of the year.

After all, as the Marshall News Messenger pointed out in a Sunday feature story on the Joseys, "even a world champion has to work for a living."

California turned back Ohio State 28-0 in the 1921 Rose Bowl Game.

Retail theft seminar Dec. 9

Philip J. O'Jibway, district director of the Small Business Administration in Lubbock announced today a seminar on the subject of controlling retail theft, co-sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce and the U. S. Small Business Administration, to be presented on Monday, Dec. 9, from 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.

The meeting will be held in the First National Bank Community Room and will be free of charge. Handout materials on the subject will be distributed.

The seminar will be of particular interest to owners, managers, and employees of businesses in this area. Everyone is invited.

The meeting is designed to help small businesses by examining some of the critical problems and offering solutions to the control of shoplifting and bad check losses.

W. W. Beauchamp, business management specialist with the Small Business Administration, Lubbock District Office, will introduce the program and present two interesting and informative motion pictures.

Marsha Arhelger in talk to Rotarians

Marsha Arhelger, Post High student, gave a talk to the Rotary Club at its Tuesday luncheon in City Hall on the Home Economics Cooperative Program in which high school students take on the job training with local firms part-time and also have classroom work as well.

Marijuana—

fully carrying a weapon in an establishment which serves alcoholic beverages.

The justice of the peace set his bond at $1,000, but Hair was still in jail Tuesday afternoon.

The other three men were arrested about 3 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 26, by Police Sergeant Jim Howard after he had followed their car about three miles south of Post onto Double U property.

Howard radioed Highway Patrolmen Gene Posey and Jerry Briley to back him up in arresting the trio.

In the back end of the car searching officers found a kilo of marijuana weighing one pound and 14 ounces and worth "about $500 on the street," after noticing marijuana cigarettes in the car's ash trays.

The three were Alfredo Benitez, 19, of San Antonio; Cruz Villanueva, 24, of Post, and Joe Lopez, 26, formerly of San Antonio who gave a Post address as his present residence.

All were charged with a felony in possession of marijuana.

Villanueva and Lopez are out on $10,000 bonds set by Justice of the Peace Robinson. Benitez, as of Tuesday afternoon, was still in the county jail unable to make bond.

All four cases now await grand jury action.

Christmas fund to aid foster children

Contributions are being sought for the Christmas fund for the Garza County Child Welfare Board. The fund will be used for purchasing Christmas gifts for the children who are placed in foster care from this county. There are ten children from Garza County.

Any individual or organization wishing to make a contribution may do so by taking it to the County Judge's Office in the courthouse.

Handy Hardware & Oil Field Supplies

(Formerly Short Hardware at 231 E. Main)

Will continue to handle its present lines of hardware and related items. Oil field supply lines will be added.

Store hours will be from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays. Same phone — 3036.

Your patronage will be appreciated. We do have some good Christmas items. Come in and look them over.
