WETS AND DRYS GIRD FOR BATTLE

With a vote on prohibition assured at this session of Congress, these six senators will play important roles in the battle. Senators Bulkley, Tydings and Lewis are all vigorous foes of the dry laws. Senator Sheppard introduced the 18th amendment, and Senators Fess and Robinson are staunch supporters of prohibition.

CROP SURPLUS CONTROL TO BE URGED

"BIG THREE" OF FARM GROUPS ORGANIZED FOR OFFENSIVE

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 9. — Organized agriculture has mobilized for the first concentrated fight in congress for the oldest of farm relief measures, crop surplus control.

The offensive was outlined today by leaders of the "big three" of farm groups: The American Farm Bureau, the National Farmers Union and the Grange.

Demands Are Same

The demands, these leaders said, will be those of old—the export debenture and the equalization fee—but they will be made in harmony, free from the discord of times past.

And the "big three," united for the first time, claimed sufficient strength in the senate and house for victory.

Soon after the holiday recess, farm leaders said, amendments to the agricultural marketing act will be offered in the senate and house to authorize the Federal Farm board's use of both the fee and debenture principles.

Under present plans, the amendments will be sponsored by Senator Charles McNary of Oregon, long an advocate of the fee, and Representative Marvin Jones of Texas, who has introduced debenture legislation in previous sessions.

Urge Optional Use

Washington representatives of the farm groups said joint adoption and optional use of the fee and debenture would be urged in the committee hearings.

The fee always has been the protege of the Farm Bureau and the Farmers Union; the debenture, that of the Grange. None of these groups supported the agricultural marketing act of 1928 and all are opposed to the acts stabilization clause, invoked by the farm board to peg the price of the 1st May crop of wheat.

Forces outside the "big three" eliminated the fee and debenture principles from the marketing act to eliminate controversy and as-

NAVY CUT HELD SEVERE BLOW TO DEFENSE

POLICY OF PRESENT ADMINISTRATION IS CRITICISED

By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9—In the boldest declaration yet issued from an official navy source, Rear Admiral Frank B. Upham today termed the administration policy of reduction a severe blow to the national defense.

Upham, as chief of the bureau of navigation, is one of the highest placed admirals. He chose his annual report to the secretary as a vehicle to air his views, with the attack particularly directed at current reductions in the number of ships in active commission and in the number of men allowed on the vessels.

"This reduction in the strength of enlisted personnel and in the number of ships retained in commission was made after ratification of the London treaty and with the navy still greatly under the strength permitted us by that treaty, and inferior to ratios prescribed by the Washington and London treaties, said the admiral.

Impairment Claimed

"This is a serious impairment of the strength of the navy as an arm of the national defense. The approved naval policy of the United States requires the creation, maintenance and operation of a navy second to none, in conformity with treaty provisions."

Concerned especially at the personnel situation—he has immediate supervision of that angle—Upham warned that the American delegation to the Geneva disarmament early next year should be accompanied by naval officers who know the subject. The administration has not looked kindly on the idea of sending admirals to disarmament talks.

Plans For Big Christmas Parade And Pageant On Friday Outlined Today

Plans for keeping open streets in the line-of-march of the Christmas parade and pageant here Friday and for general control of crowds and vehicular traffic here that day were discussed late this morning at a meeting of Police Chief John Lemond, Executive D. T. Jennings of the South Plains Area Boy Scout council. Activities Chairman Charles Whitacre of the Lubbock district scout committee, and members of the chamber of commerce staff.

Several hundred Boy Scouts from Lubbock and other South Plains towns will be here Friday, proclaimed Santa Claus day by Mayor J. J. Clements, and will help peace officers in controlling the crowds. The regional scout council and a Lubbock troop will have floats.

A bright sun today led members of the Santa Claus corps to believe that thousands of adults and children from throughout the South Plains would be here. Public schools will be dismissed in some communities so that pupils can see Santa Claus and his reindeer.

To Determine March

The line-of-march probably will be fixed at a meeting of the parade committee Thursday morning at chamber of commerce offices.

R. C. Smith, L. H. Beall, and J. H. Brock visited Plains, Tex., and Tatum and Lovington, N. M., Tuesday to invite citizens and children of those towns to the pageant and parade. Tatum expects to send a

STATE CASE IS RESTED THIS MORNING

RELATIONSHIP WITH SLAYING VICTIM TRACED TODAY

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 9 (AP)—Harry F. Powers, testifying at his trial today for one of the five "mass murders" charged to him, placed the blame on "two other fellows."

Still chewing gum, but with a much grimmer expression than during the other two days of his trial, the so-called "matrimonial merchant" took the stand in his own defense after the state had rested.

Relationship Told

He recounted in detail his relationship with Mrs. Dorothy Pressler Lemke, Northboro, Mass., divorcee, for whose killing he now is on trial.

The two mysterious strangers he named were Charles Rogers and Cecil Johnson. He admitted a long search had failed to disclose any trace of them.

Rogers, he said, introduced Mrs. Lemke to him, had a key to the windowless garage with subterranean chambers where the state contends the crimes took place and was a frequent visitor at the place.

Johnson, he testified with a hurt tone, "stole" Mrs. Lemke from him. He and his mail-order sweetheart were on an automobile trip and when they reached Uniontown, Pa., she vanished, he said. He told of finding her in the company of Johnson later that day and leaving them together. That was the last he ever saw of her, he claimed.

The end of the state's case came unexpectedly after 25 witnesses had been heard.

DEMOCRATS BEGIN TO ATTACK AS BUDGET REPORT GIVEN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—An administration recommendation for raising taxes on a widespread basis went today to congress, where it at once met Democratic resistance.

President Hoover and Secretary Mellon joined in presenting a dismal story of federal finances.

Need of Funds Cited

Along with a budget verging on $4,000,000,000, the president detailed the need of meeting a deficit that promises to exceed that figure by the end of the fiscal year.

As a way out, Secretary Mellon advocated higher tax rates to take effect next month and apply on this year's incomes.

No sooner had his report reached Capitol Hill than Democrats began attacking it. Indications were the plan would be sidetracked by them in the Democrat-controlled house, where revenue legislation must originate.

Leaders of the majority forces there predicted the Democrats would have a plan of their own ready soon. Preparations were made for an early conference of the party members in both senate and house.

The proposed new levies would take effect January first and apply on this year's incomes.

Limit Is Urged

The treasury chief urged that a 30-month limit be placed on the revised scales and said these would boost federal revenue 2,230,000,000 in that time.

He and the president stressed that unless action is taken, the government will pile up a $4,442,000,000 deficit by the end of the next fiscal year.

INCREASE WOULD HIT ALMOST EVERYONE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—The administration tax increase plan hits almost everybody and seeks to apply on this year's incomes.

Secretary Mellon forwarded it to congress today, calling for increased rates on personal and corporation incomes, inheritances, tobacco and capital stock sales.

New Levies Proposed

New levies would be imposed on

Graves Case Is Reversed Today

APPEALS COURT SAYS ERROR COMMITTED IN TRIAL HERE

The case of Alvis Graves of Lubbock, sentenced to 99 years in the state penitentiary for the murder here January 11 of Horace E. Smith, was reversed and remanded by the state criminal court of appeals today at Austin. Graves was sentenced in 72nd district court by Judge Homer L. Pharr here March 17.

"Refusal of the trial judge to admit testimony relative to self-defense was held reversible error by the appeals court," the Associated Press reported. Vickers A. Campbell, Lubbock law firm, defended Graves. The appeal was argued before the criminal appeals court last week.

Two Fatally Shot

Two men were wounded fatally and another man, a woman and a child less seriously as a house dance broke up at a Lubbock residence a few moments after midnight. Robert Averett, who like Smith lived here, was the other to die of bullet wounds. Graves subsequently was tried for murdering Smith.

G. H. Grissom's motion for a rehearing was overruled by the appeals court. Grissom was fined $75 in county court here for maintaining a nuisance as a result of operation of an alleged dumping ground.

A motion for a rehearing of the case of C. S. Colvin, who received a three-year penitentiary sentence in 99th district court here for liquor law violation, was submitted today.

Robber Slain But He Keeps Promise

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (AP)—The last time Carl Rein, 27, robbed an insurance company office he promised the manager, William O'Rourke, that he would return to rob the place again.

Last night he kept his promise and was shot to death by Sergeant Martin J. McCarthy, one of two policemen stationed in the office to await Rein's return. A companion robber escaped.

Two men held up the office October 7, taking $1,400. They returned November 2 and took 500 more.

DEMAND DEATH FOR SLAYERS

TWO GANGSTERS ARE ON TRIAL TODAY IN CHILD SLAYING

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 9—The lives of two gangsters were placed on the scales of justice today to be balanced against the life of 5-year-old Michael Vengali, killed, July 28, by a volley of bullets poured into a group of children playing in a Harlem street.

Shortly before the trial of Vincent Coll, Bronx gang leader, and Frank Giordano, his lieutenant, went through its initial stages, Assistant District Attorney James T. Neary announced:

To Demand Death

"We shall demand that the lives of these two gangland murderers be forfeited in the electric chair."

Giordano already has been sentenced to die in the chair during the week of January 4 for another gangland murder in which Joseph Allen, beer keg checker, was slain. The gangland execution squad killed Michael and wounded four other children, who since have recovered, but entirely missed its target, a rival gangster.

As their intended victim stepped from a store, the gangsters swung a car around the corner.

Several guns blazed.

Michael was killed and the four other children, one in a baby carriage, were hit. But the man who the gangsters sought dropped flat when the first volley and escaped un-

Whistles To Blow In Clothes Drive

Whistles of three Lubbock plants will be opened wide at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and continue to blow for several minutes to remind Lubbock residents to place on their porches bundles of old clothes to be gathered by Boy Scouts and distributed by the United Welfare association, county-city agency.

D. T. Jennings, South Plains Area Boy Scout council executive, announced that the Lubbock Cotton Oil mill, the Lubbock laundry, and the Lubbock compress had agreed to sound their whistles.

Too often, the scout chief said, individuals wait until those collecting the bundles arrive and then ask them to return for the donations. Collections would continue indefinitely if that plan were followed, he reminded.

Cecil Crosby Made Oklahoma Constable

ARDMORE, Okla., Dec. 9. (AP)—Cecil Crosby, one of the two former deputy sheriffs acquitted of murder charges in the killing of two Mexican college students here last June, now is a constable.

The other, William E. Guess, who accepted responsibility for firing the shots which killed Emilio Cortes Rubio and Manuel Garcia Gomes, is unemployed.

SLAYER NOT FOUND

HENDERSON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Officers today had been unable to locate Joe Russ, 21, sought on a charge of murder in connection with the shooting of his father, Acey Russ, 55. Young Russ had been missing since the slaying, which took place on a farm near Henderson Sunday.

POULTRY SHOW OPENS TODAY

ALL ENTRIES MUST BE IN PENS AT SLATON BY 10 TONIGHT

SLATON, Dec. 9—(Special)—All entries in the second annual Panhandle-Plains Poultry show, which opened here today and will continue through Friday, must be in their pens in the Green garage building on Texas avenue by 10 o'clock tonight.

A. J. Payne, manager of the show, said about 1,000 birds were expected from the 54 counties from which the exposition draws. He and his aides busied themselves Tuesday arranging coops and other equipment. Unless a rear room of the building also is used, pens will be stacked in tiers. No birds may be removed until the close of the show at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Doors will open at 8 o'clock Thursday morning and judging will begin an hour later. Judges will be R. P. Galloway of Amarillo, and G. Murphy of Lubbock.

Members of the Panhandle-Plains Poultry association will gather at an annual dinner at 7 o'clock Thursday night at the Slaton community club house. Officers will be elected for the coming year. Taylor White, vocational agriculture teacher in Tahoka High school, is president.

Arrest Of Indian Leaders Expected

LONDON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Arrest of Pandit Jahawarlal Nehru and other anti-British agitators in India is expected, a dispatch from Bombay to the London Daily Mail said today, as a part of the government's measures to suppress a new "no-rent" campaign in the united provinces.

Pandit Jahawarlal was quoted early this week as urging extension of the campaign against rents, and agents of the national congress were said in the Mail's dispatch to be busy in the Allahabad district urging villagers to sign pledges to withhold rents.

Self Defense Plea Made By Sam Day

TEXARKANA, Ark., Dec. 9. (AP)—Whether Sam Day, 20, shot in self defense when he killed Sheriff Walter Harris was the point at issue as Day's murder trial entered its second day.

The state claimed Day was the lookout man for the still the Miller county sheriff and other officers were raiding when he was shot to death.

Negro Slayer Gets New Murder Trial

AUSTIN, Dec. 9 (AP)—Sam Louder, negro, sentenced to death on conviction of a charge of murder in the death of Evans Johnson, an Arlington, Tarrant county policeman, was granted a new trial by the court of criminal appeals today.

The appeals court reversed and remanded the case because of failure of the trial court to instruct the the jury that Johnson was without legal authority to arrest Louder in his own home since there was no evidence of a warrant for Louder's arrest offered.

Jury Deliberates In Negro's Trial

FORT WORTH, Dec. 9. (AP)—The jury resumed its deliberations today in the murder case against Carter Rollins, 19, negro, charged in the slaying of D. L. Reed, Crowley farmer.

The defense yesterday offered testimony of five negroes in an effort to show Rollins was beaten at the city jail and signed a confession under duress.

Reed was killed October 19 by a negro who fled from Reed's home as the farmer returned home with his family. The prosecution asked the death penalty.

Profit Shown By Texas State Fair

DALLAS, Dec. 9 (AP)—Stockholders of the state fair learned last night the exposition this fall made a profit of $32,064. This was regarded by them as surprising and heartening.

Stockholders spent the greater part of the time at their meeting inaugurating the project of a golden jubilee for the state fair in 1936, at which time it was hoped to combine that augmented exposition with a great Texas centennial exposition built around the fair as a nucleus.

STUDENTS' STRIKE AT UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING ENDS TODAY AS TRUCE MADE

LARAMIE, Wyo., Dec. 9—A 24-hour strike at the University of Wyoming in which students attempted to force Dr. A. G. Crane, president, to apologize for statements he made concerning drinking and "petting" among co-eds ended today as abruptly as it started.

After a conference between a student committee, faculty members and Laramie business men the university officials announced a truce had been reached.

Dr. Crane then withdrew an order expelling all of the striking students and they returned to classes.

Terms the students asked were that they be given the opportunity to present their case to the university board of trustees; that no students be permanently expelled for participating in the strike; that no student employes of the university lose their positions because of participation in the strike and that none of the participating students lose university scholastic credits.

The faculty granted all of the terms except one. No guarantee was given that student employes who struck would not be discharged from university positions.

Record Crowd Looms For Lubbock-Abilene Battle

WIDE INTEREST SHOWN IN FOOTBALL GAME HERE SATURDAY

With telephone calls, telegrams and letters asking for tickets pouring in from all over West Texas, indications were this morning that a record crowd would watch the Lubbock Westerners battle the Abilene Eagles on Tech field for the high school football championship of West Texas and the right to continue in the state interscholastic race.

All of the choice seats in the middle of the west stand and a large portion of those behind the twenty-yard line had been sold at noon. Call were still coming in and it was said that most of the tickets in the west stand would be sold before night. Only a few hundred were left to sell. The tickets are being sold at Bowen's Hilton drug store.

Wide Interest Shown

Wires and phone calls had been received from nearly every town in the Panhandle, J. O. Smith, in charge of the ticket sales, said. A reservation was made this morning for a group of fans in Wichita Falls while other reservations have been entered for Fort Worth and Dallas fans.

With the sun shining today, a dry field was assured for the game. The huge field cover from Dallas was expected to arrive here on trucks early this afternoon. Delay was encountered due to bad roads. The cover will not be laid this afternoon and probably not tonight if the weather continues clear. Workmen will be on hand, however, to spread it at the least threat of inclement weather.

The field was slightly damp this morning but today's sun was expected to leave it in excellent condition.

Plan New Entrance

Workmen were busy at the field this morning installing a new entrance to the field to prevent a recurrence of the congestion experienced in the Amarillo game. The new gate is just west of the

PLAN TO FORCE EVACUATION OF CHINESE GIVEN

SHANGHAI, Dec. 9 (AP)—Chinese government statements circulated today through the official Kuomin news agency, said the Chinese military headquarters at Chinchow reported it was officially informed the Japanese have decided to force the Chinese to evacuate that position and retire south of the great wall.

The messages stated the announcement said that the Japanese decided to occupy the area within two weeks.

"In preparation for the attack on Chinchow," the messages said, "the Japanese are using a horde of bandit riff-raff as provoking agents" and it was added Japanese airplanes were flying over Chinchow every day.

Wichita Man Will Run For Governor

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 9. (AP)—Tom F. Hunter, Wichita Falls independent oil operator, plans to run for governor next year.

Hunter will advocate lifting 70 per cent of the tax burden from farms and homes and placing it on wealth at present escaping taxation, he said. He stated that next month he would enunciate principles on which his camaign for the Democratic nomination would be made.

Petitions requesting Hunter's candidacy, claimed to be signed by more than 15,000 persons, were presented to him.

CRASH IS FATAL

FORT WORTH, Dec. 9 (AP)—One man was killed and another injured when their automobile collided with a street car today. George Stillman, 33, was killed instantly. Owsley Shepherd, 21, was taken to a hospital where physicians sought extent of his injuries.

LICENSES SOLD

Twenty-five automobile licenses and three truck licenses for 1931 had been sold to noon today, attaches of County Tax Collector A. J. Clark's office said. No motorcycle or trailer plates had been sold.

RESOLUTIONS DRAWN COMMENDING WORK OF OFFICIALS

Passing resolutions of commendation for the work of the State Highway department on Lubbock county's hardsurfacing project, a joint committee, representing the County Commissioners court and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce Highway committee is forwarding the resolutions to members of the State Highway commission at Austin.

Declaring in the resolutions that the two groups are satisfied with asphalt construction on State Highway No. 7, running from Lubbock through Shallowater to the Hockley county line northwest of the city, faith in the honesty, integrity and ability of the Highway department is expressed, together with faith that the department will "construct in Lubbock county the kind of roads that will serve the best interest of our citizenship for the present and in years to come".

FIREMAN DIES BUT HIS PRACTICE OF MENDING, PAINTING TOYS CONTINUES

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 9 — Lieut. Arthur V. Morgan, Denver fireman, is dead but the departmental practice of mending and brightening old toys for children of the poor, which he originated eight years ago, is continuing on a larger scale than ever.

Truck loads of toys, repaired and repainted to look like new, were assembled downtown today for display until distribution at Christmas while Morgan's mates in the department laid aside their tools and brushes to attend his funeral.

(Turn to Page 5, Column 3, Please)

Lubbock residents continue to bring toys to City hall, where members of the fire department are repairing and renovating playthings needing attention before they are distributed at a Lions club Christmas party for poor children. Boy Scouts collected the bulk of the toys last Saturday.

Campfire Girls will dress the dolls, D. T. Jennings, area scout executive, this morning said more toys could be used. Although unscarred articles of play also are desired, used and broken ones which can be fixed are wanted.

Escape Of Slayer From Jail Halted

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 9 (AP)—Vigilance of officers prevented the escape from the Wichita county jail of Richard Johnson, negro, under death sentence for the murder of Ted Nodurft of Fort Worth here three months ago.

Officers yesterday discovered a bar sawed out.

The cell contained 20 other negroes. More than a dozen saw blades were found in a search. A trusty confessed to having brought six blades from Johnson, being paid for his services.

LUBBOCK LOYALTY COUNCIL IN FINAL ORGANIZATION MEET

MEMBERSHIP IS HIKED TO 262 IN SESSION TUESDAY NIGHT

With its membership increased to 262, the Lubbock Loyalty council is ready now to plan activities for the winter months.

Letters, requesting suggestions, will be mailed next week to all members after which a program of procedure will be gotten under way.

The council held its final organization at Hotel Hilton Tuesday night and accepted pledge cards from 86 new members. Approximately 130 men and one woman attended the meeting, which was presided over by J. O. Jones, general chairman of the organization. Scheduled for 7:30 p. m., the meeting was called to order shortly before 8 o'clock. It was the seventh general session the organization has held.

Thought Is Expressed

Last night's session offered plenty of food for thought as public officials and heads of important public institutions told of the work of their organizations and as the efforts of the council were thoroughly explained.

A. B. Davis, manager of the chamber of commerce and board of city development, sketched for his listeners the formation of the organization. Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president of the school board for more than a score of years, discussed next the school situation.

Taxes In Early

He told of the council's successful campaign to solve the schools' financial problems; announced that every employe of the school system had accepted a 10 per cent cut in pay and reported that up to yesterday $56,816 in school taxes had been collected as compared to $12,586 up to the same time in 1930. Pointing out that school taxes had been cut from 92 cents to 86 cents, he said he gave the loyalty council credit for the fine showing in tax collections.

C. E. Maedgen, president of the chamber of commerce and board of city development, explained his organization's efforts to cut expenditures in tune with the times. Although between 40 and 45 thousands of dollars are made available to the BCD each year, the 1932 budget has been set at under the $20,000 mark, he said. He showed curtailment of expenditures over the past two years at approximately $20,000.

BCD Ready To Aid

"The BCD," President Maedgen said, "stands ready to do anything and everything that needs to be done for the benefit of Lubbock."

County finances were discussed by County Judge E. L. Pitts, who explained that the county tax rate of 73 cents had been held at its last year's figure in spite of the issuance of $300,000 in regularly voted bonds; the erection of a jail costing more than $100,000 and the fact that county and city authorities are this year caring for charity through use of public funds.

Asks Suggestions

He closed his remarks thanking the loyalty council for its approval of the city-county charity plan and urged that membership of the organization aid in the project by making suggestions on its operation.

Mayor J. J. Clements stressed the city's side of the governmental problem, listed savings in various departments, consolidating of departments, decrease in personnel and a 10 per cent salary cut. He foresees, he said, even additional improvement in the city's financial condition at the close of the fiscal year next March.

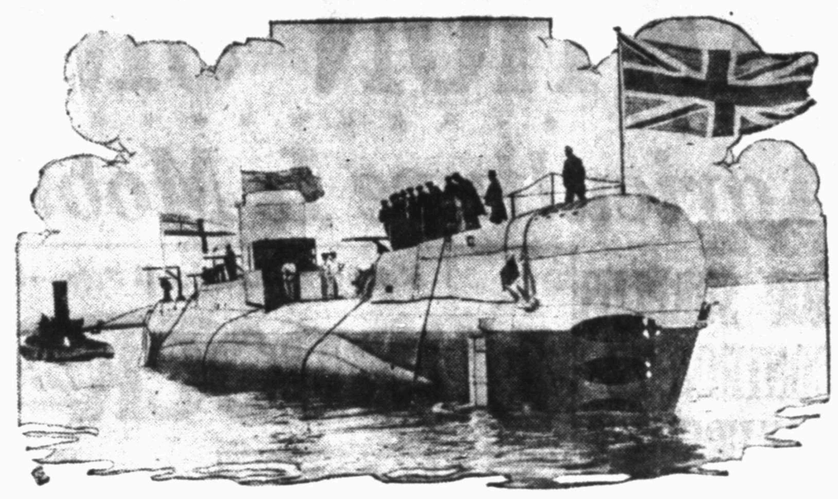

O. L. Slaton, dean of South Plains bankers, commented upon community morale and urged support of Lubbock manufacturing concerns as well as of other institutions. He was followed by Spencer Wells, who explained outline of procedure for the council in coming months. The membership at large is to be asked for suggestions along this line in a letter to be mailed the early part of next week.

Secretary Chas. A. Guy then read the pledge card and cards were then passed to new members for signature.

The meeting adjourned shortly before 10 o'clock.

HOME AGENTS ARE TO INSPECT FARM

Ending a three-day yard beautification course here, 10 county home demonstration agents today were to visit the state experiment farm near here with Miss Myrtle Murray, district home demonstration agent who is conducting the course, and Miss Inez Derryberry, landscape garden specalist of the Texas A. & M. college extension service.

Tuesday afternoon the agents were guests in the home of Mrs. O. D. Pace of Acuff. They previously have visited local nurseries and Texas Technological college.

Attending are: Madge Wagner of Garza county; Rozelle McKinney, Lynn county; Marie Tarwater, Hockley county; Ruby Mashburn, Lamb county; Pauline Lokey, Swisher county; Mrs. Julia Kelley, Hale county; Martha Faulkner, Floyd county; Clara Pratt, Dickens county; Johnnie Reed, Kent county and Ruth Stockton, Lubbock county.

It is planned that each agent shall establish a few home demonstration yards in her county and that this shall precede a county-wide beautification program.

PREVENT ANGER

WE DESIRE our children to be able always to be angry at the right thing and at the right time. But we do not want them to cultivate habitual rage to no purpose, nor to make their fits of temper a nuisance to themselves and others.

We hear so much about temper tantrums. Now our children, like ourselves, grow angry when their purposes are thwarted and, without their knowing what has occurred, they acquire the habit of violent rage oftentimes to win their way. Many children, when very young, intimidate their parents into letting them do about as they please.

We help cure tantrums in children as we train ourselves to cease rewarding them for rage. We prevent tantrums in them as we learn not to let them command us by their anger. But our greatest power of prevention is to set the stage in such a way that they are not needlessly exercised in wrath.

* * *

In the first place, the better the child's physical health, the fewer the situations, all else equal, which will irritate him. When he is ill you are so eager to ease his discomfort that you are often tempted to pamper him. Then he builds up bad habits hard to be corrected later. Try to keep the child from over-excitement and fatigue.

Let him learn as early as possible that he never can command you, also let him learn without the slightest doubt to him that there are a few things he must not have and a few things he must not do. Rarely say no or don't and say them only once. Seldom make a command; make requests, and make them but occasionally.

As early as he can understand, respect his ownership. Assume that what he has is his. When at the age of nine or ten months he has seized a dangerous or forbidden object, do not wrench it from his grasp, else you exercise him in rage. Patiently persuade him to give it up. Slip another object in one hand, if necessary, while you slowly, gently get the forbidden object from the other hand. Mere attention to the new object causes him to relax his grasp upon the other. Once he gives you an object he has found, smile at him liberally. When for instance, he hands you a pin he has picked from the floor, make him happy for co-operating. Then he is likely to go on searching for foreign objects on the floor just to give them to you to earn such a reward.

Cut a slip in an empty coffee can. Pick a pin from the floor and drop it in, when he will go searching about for similar objects on the floor, making the can a safe substitute for his mouth or stomach.

* * *

See that no other person, child or adult, infringes on the child's property rights. Except for a few toys used in common, where there are several children, let each one have his own possessions; then be a policeman, carefully protecting the ownership of each. Don't compel one child to give up to another. Persuade him, and when he asquiesces be very liberal with praise. Be particularly cautious lest the baby make inroads upon the property of the older child.

When the older children have tasks assigned, make them definite. Let each one have his own. When two or more work on the same job mutual irritations are inevitable.

Take time for emotional adjustments. Don't expect the little child suddenly to shift from one activity to another. Such warnings as "two more jumps" or, "in five minutes I shall call you to come in" or "as soon as you get the roof on that garage we shall go", will often help you avoid anger in the child and gain his co-operation.

More Than 100 Attend Second Party In Series Of Benefits For Current Week

Other Benefits Are To Follow Friday And Thursday; Musical Program Given

More than 100 people attended the second party in a series of benefits scheduled for the current week. Other parties will follow later in this week.

The second affair was given Tuesday evening in the Hodges building, 807 Broadway, by members of the auxiliary to the National Letter Carriers association. Proceeds from the affair were $22.50, a part of which will go to the Salvation Army with the remainder staying in the auxiliary treasury. There was a program of music and games.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, there are to be other benefits. The American Legion auxiliary sponsored a box supper Monday evening at the Legion hall and Tuesday sent Christmas boxes to World war veterans who are in hospitals.

The A. B. C. club is having a big charity party on Friday evening at the Hilton Hotel. There will be bridge and forty-two tournaments and dancing and all proceeds will be used in Christmas charity work among the poor of Lubbock. J. Ray Dickey is making arrangements for the games and Clinton Lackey is arranging for dancing Card, domino and dance clubs are receiving invitations to attend.

Another benefit affair of Friday will be afternoon contract and auction bridge in the F. R. Friend home. Proceeds from this party and one on Thursday afternoon at the same place will go to the Camp Fire girls. Mesdames Friend, Hub Jones, George Field and E. L. Klett are arranging for the affairs.

Pie Supper for P.-T. A.

Another benefit of the week will be a pie supper on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the Sanders Ward school. The Parent-Teacher association is sponsoring this affair and proceeds will go into the treasury of the organization to carry out the general child welfare program.

Plans for this supper were made Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the P.-T. A. At this meeting, carols were sung by children in the rooms of Miss Alberta Rowley and Mrs. D. Jarrett. Mrs. C. E. Corbin talked on "The Mental and Moral Training of Children."

Rooms in this school that are taught by Misses Rowley and Lula Jones were entertained by Mrs. Corbin last Saturday evening. This, too, was a benefit party and $5.50 went into the P.-T. A. treasury.

A musical program was given by the letter carrier's auxiliary as follows: Guitar solo, Howard Kidwell; reading, Mary Alice Scott; piano solo, Frances Claye; vocal solo, Doris Slover; reading, Mrs. E. D. Farris; accordion solo, Mrs. H. W. Wylie; reading, Catherine Royalty; piano duet, Estaline and Ernestine Herring; tap solo, Christine White.

ORNAMENTAL TILES FOR CHRISTMAS

Brand new for Christmas gifts this year are gaudy Mexican and Spanish pottery tiles which the most fastidious person will adore having.

The trick is for the recipent to have them sunk into the wall above the mantel or in the hallway where they make a gay contribution to the room.

They can be hung like pictures, used for coffee urns or just stood on mantels. They come in primitive designs, in rich, tropical colors, and are especialy chic as gifts for modern friends.

College Reception Is Postponed

An annual reception planned by members of the American Association of University Women for other college women in the city has been postponed from Saturday afternoon until some time in January. This announcement was made following a meeting of the A. A. U. W. executive board with Miss Johnie McCrory, president. The reception was postponed because of a conflict with the Lubbock-Abilene high school football game.

Idalou Teacher Weds On Thanksgiving

IDALOU, Dec. 9 (Special)—Superintendent A. C. Davis and Miss Thelma Hall, instructor in home economics, at the Claude school went to Carlsbad, N. M., on Thanksgiving and were married. After a short tour of points of interest in that state, they returned home Sunday and reported for duty on Monday.

The bride's home is in Idalou.

An annual party was given Tuesday evening by members of the 1916 Needle club for their husbands and forty-two was played. The affair was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Tubbs, 2410 20th street.

Those who attended were Messrs and Mesdames R. V. Kimmel, R. S. Rodgers, Joe Baldridge, Claude Burrus, F. V. Brown, A. N. Gamble, J. H. Kimmell, J. W. Gamel, J. M. Gordon and O. H. Cline.

Portugal Is Topic For Sorosis Study

With Mrs. R. T. Campbell as program leader, members of the Sorosis club heard a program on Portugal Tuesday afternoon in a meeting with Mrs. William Dingus at 2502 21st street. Mrs. Campbell made a general talk on the country. Mrs. Allen T. Stewart discussed "Social Conditions in Portugal" and Mrs. C. H. Smith talked on "Politics and Government."

The club will not meet again until January 12, although there is to be a party on the evening of December 29.

F. A. Kleinschmidt Talks For Society

An illustrated lecture on Russian architecture was given before members of the Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon by F. A. Kleinschmidt, member of the architectural faculty at Texas Technological college.

The talk was made in the engineering auditorium and club members saw an exhibit of paintings that is hanging there this week.

The club is to supply some school materials to children in the Mexican settlement and will help furnish a library in the Sanders school. The child welfare committee, of which Mrs. H. A. Davidson is chairman, will look after these details.

The club will meet next with Mrs. Jed A. Rix on December 22. "Music of Russia" is the lesson topic, continuing a study of Russia, and W. R. Waghorne is to talk.

THOMPSON IS TO OPPOSE HOOVER

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (AP)—William Hale Thompson, former mayor of Chicago, proclaimed himself an anti-Hoover candidate for delegate to the national Republican convention today and urged voters to support a presidential candidate from the Mississippi valley.

The announcement of his candidacy was made in the Inland Empire, the publication of the Waterway and Flood Control association of the Mississippi valley of which he is head.

His article said 65 per cent of the nation's voters lived in the valley and "when we forget about being Republicans and Democrats in preference to Americans and vote for an American from the Mississippi valley, that American will be elected president of the United States.

Local People Go To Insurance Gathering

Mr. and Mrs. V. N. Dillard, M. L. Waldrop and Mrs. Beatrice Hendrick are in Dallas, attending the 28th annual convention of agents of the Southwestern Life Insurance company. All are representatives of the company here.

The meeting begins tomorrow and continues through December 12, with the annual banquet being set for Friday night at the Baker hotel. W. A. Tarver, chairman of the Texas Board of Insurance commissioners, will be the principal speaker and prizes to leading agents will be awarded.

Lenz Contends Bidding Systems In Contract All Alike; Play Is Factor

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Sidney S. Lenz, who is universally acknowledged to have no superior as a player of contract bridge, has said that all bidding systems are fundamentally alike and that victory is 75 per cent play and 25 per cent system.

He and his partner, Oswald Jacoby, believe the statement has been proved by the first ten rubbers of their 150-rubber challenge match with Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson.

Lead Boosted

When the second session of the match adjourned today to resume tomorrow night, Lenz and Jacoby were 2075 points in the lead, a gain of 30 points over the plus acquired in the three rubbers of the first session. Of ten rubbers played in the series, Len zand Jacoby have won seven, the Culbertsons three.

Culbertson characterized his strategy so far as mainly defense, a retreat, but not a retreat from Moscow. He believed his opponents have had the better cards and the tide will turn.

The baby of the foursome, Oswald Jacoby, expressed himself as certain that play had been the principal factor in giving his side a lead.

Lenz Is Pleased

Lenz was pleased with his side's strategy in the eighth rubber when, after the Culbertson's had won a game, Lenz and Jacoby took four sets, being doubled twice. Then Lenz made a little slam and followed it with a successful game bid.

Less discussion of relative value of system was heard among the kibitzers but every argument about rival methods of bidding had an answer. For example the 26th hand of the series, which follows.

Lenz (North)
S—A Q 10 2
H—J 5
D—A 9 5
C—Q J 8 5

Culbertson (West): S—K J 8 7 6 4; H—9 8; D—7; C—K 10 6 2

Mrs. Culbertson (East) (dealer): S—5 3; H—Q 10 7 6 4; D—Q 6 3 2; C—4 3

Jacoby (South): S—9; H—A K 3 2; D—K J 10 8 4; C—A 9 7

North and south not vulnerable.

The bid:

East pass; south one diamond; west one spade; north two no trump; east pass; south three hearts; west pass; north three no trump, the contract.

Lenz took six tricks. Culbertson followers argued that Jacoby failed to open with the two intermediary bid of the "official" system and that Lenz was misled as to his partner's strength. Lenz and Jacoby retorted that Jacoby's holdings were a bit below the requirements of the "official" system.

On the 29th hand Lenz fulfilled a contract for four hearts. The hand follows:

Lenz (North)
S—9 6
H—A K 9 6 3
D—K J 9
C—J 10 2

Culbertson (West): S—8 4 3; H—8 5 4; D—10 8 2; C—Q 7 5 4

Mrs. Culbertson (East): S—K 10 7 2; H—10; D—Q 7 6 5 4; C—A K 3

Jacoby (South) (dealer): S—A Q J 5; H—Q J 7 2; D—A 3; C—9 8 6

Neither side vulnerable.

Bidding:

South 1 spade, west pass, north 2 hearts, east pass, South 4 hearts, which became contract.

Opening lead King of clubs.

Bridge Club Party Given At Traylors

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Traylor, 1621 10th street, entertained members of an evening bridge club Tuesday night in their home. Vestel Lott and Mrs. J. D. Shaw scored high in the games.

Those who attended were Messrs and Mesdames E. Paul Carter, C. W. Ratliff, Lox Shaw, Allan Moses, Neil Vanns, Misses Wayne Atcheson, Margaret Turner, Sallye and Blanche Bean, Mrs. Lucile Smith, Roy Hall and Wayne Henley.

Attorney Sought In Probe Is Missing

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 9 (AP)—Burton Wilson, attorney, whose client, Russell Sherwood, known as "business manager for Mayor James J. Walker of New York," is sought for questioning by the New York City investigating committee, apparently has dropped out of public contact, somewhere between Laredo, Tex., and St. Louis.

Wilson was believed to have passed through Laredo Dec. 5, en route to St. Louis from Mexico City, but officials of the Missouri Pacific railroad on which he was believed to be travelling said here tonight they have no knowledge of Wilson's whereabouts.

Newspaper men learned Missouri Pacific officials in Mexico City sent a note to railway men along their line requesting courtesies be shown to Wilson en route to St. Louis.

Sherwood, accompanied by his bride, arrived at Laredo several weeks ago while returning to the United States from Mexico, but disappeared after reaching San Antonio, Tex.

Air Inspector Is Expected In City

No fledglings were expected to try their wings today although an inspector for the aeronautics division of the United States department of commerce was expected at Lubbock municipal airport.

Robert Fitzgerald of Sweetwater, holder of a limited commercial license, and his brother Walter are here to take their semi-annual health examinations. Robert Fitzgerald, manager of the Sweetwater airport, plans to take examination for a transport license in January. Both men flew here in an OX-5 Robin from Sweetwater. The ship will be examined for re-licensing.

R. W. Delaney, who has been making the inspection tours, said last month when here that he probably would be transferred to Louisiana.

Methodist Freshmen To Attend Party

There is to be a Christmas party Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in parlors of the First Methodist church for Tech freshmen who are Methodists. Inexpensive gifts will be exchanged and there is to be a tree. May Tom Howell is chairman of the entertainment. Eleanor Simmons and Bates Thornton will assist in making arrangements.

Murray Jones, who has been ill with pneumonia for several days is improving, according to Mrs. Jones. He is at his home, 1917 23rd street.

Study Of Gangster Is Made At Meet

Mrs. C. A. Bickley talked on "The Significance of Al Capone in American Life" and Mrs. J. Frank Potts discussed the financial profit of crime Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the Athenaeum society with Mrs. W. C. Holden, 3109 20th street. The club voted to have a float in the Santa Claus parade here Friday and Mrs. C. G. Farr was appointed chairman of arrangements. Mrs. P. W. Cawthon was elected reporter for the club.

Discovery Makes Possible

New Plan By Makers of Vicks VapoRub for

Better "Control-of-Colds"

Another advance in "Control-of-Colds" has been perfected by the makers of Vicks VapoRub. A third of a century ago, Vicks VapoRub introduced the modern, external method of "treating" colds. Now, Vick Chemists introduce Vicks Nose & Throat Drops—based on a new idea in "preventing" colds. These two are companion products—they aid and supplement each other. Together, they make possible the Vick Plan for better "Control-of-Colds" in the home and further reduction of the family "Colds-Tax"—in money, loss of time and health.

Here, briefly, is the Vick Plan for better "Control-of-Colds"

1—Before a Cold Starts

At that first sneezy, scratchy irritation of the nose or upper throat—Nature's unmistakable warning that you are "catching cold"—use Vicks Nose Drops promptly as directed. Many colds can be checked at this stage and bad colds avoided.

If you catch cold easily, the wise plan is to use just a few Vicks Nose Drops up each nostril after exposure to any particular condition that your own experience tells you is apt to give you a cold—for instance a night on a Pullman—a dusty automobile ride—over-smoking, over-heated, over-crowded rooms, etc.—and you feel the slightest stuffiness of the nasal passages. Vicks Drops are especially designed to aid the nose—Nature's "preventor" of colds—when over-taxed by such emergencies of our artificial present-day living.

2.—After a Cold Starts

At night, massage the throat and chest well with Vicks VapoRub (now available in white "stainless" form if you prefer). Spread on thick and cover with warm flannel. Leave the bed-clothing loose around the neck so that the medicated vapors arising can be inhaled freely all night long. During the day—any time, any place—use Vicks Nose Drops as needed for ease and comfort. (If there is a cough you will like the new Vicks Cough Drop—actually medicated with ingredients of Vicks VapoRub.)

This gives you full 24-hour treatment and without the risks of too much internal dosing, which so often upsets the digestion—especially of children—and lowers body strength at a time when Nature most needs it to resist disease. Don't "dose" colds except on your doctor's advice.

Trial Offer to Vick Users

The Vick Plan for better "Control-of-Colds" has been tested—and proved. But the makers want all users of Vicks VapoRub to test it for themselves in their own homes. Get a bottle of Vicks Drops from your druggist today. Try the plan as directed. If results are not more than satisfactory, your druggist is authorized to refund your money.

URGE DEMOS TO HELP PARTY

RASKOB AND SMITH IN MOVE TO STRENGTHEN THE ORGANIZATION

NEW YORK, Dec. 9. (AP)—Democrats were urged to act immediately to strengthen their party organization for the 1932 campaign, in speeches Tuesday by John J. Raskob, national committee chairman, and Alfred E. Smith, titular head of the party.

Mr. Raskob and Smith shared the program with Jouett Shouse, national executive chairman, at a luncheon of the "Minute Men," a Democratic organization recently incorporated to advise with the committee on national party politics.

Leaders Cooperate

Prior to the speeches, Shouse told the 50 Democrats in attendance that 125 party leaders in 34 states already have applied for membership in the "Minute Men" and that "this widespread representation guarantees that the committee from now on may expect the constructive advice and support of many lay friends whose wise counsel heretofore has been lost to the party."

Shouse added the purpose of the "Minute Men" was to "assist in making the Democratic party the most efficient and effective agency possible for the administration of national affairs and that they would become an irresistible force for good government."

Raskob, urging necessity of strengthening the organization before the presidential campaign, said "a victory in 1932 should enable the party, under the able leadership which our country needs, to remain in office for many years to come."

Smith said the "Minute Men" organization was "the most forward-looking step ever taken" by the party, adding ... the national ... al and organization ... 1928 have demonstrated ... constructive action of ... ed.

LEGION IS ASKED VIEWS ON LOANS

Does the majority of Lubbock county's former service men favor additional payment of compensation service certificate, as asked by Harry L. Stevens, national commander of the American Legion?

Members of Allen Brothers post, No. 148, of the American Legion and other former service men of Lubbock county will assemble at the Legion home here at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night to determine the answer to that question. Views will be expressed and a vote probably will be taken.

If a majority desires payment soon of the balance on service certificates, a resolution probably will be drawn to be forwarded to the national Legion's legislative committee at Washington, D. C.

Officers of the Lubbock post said they desired attendance by every world war veteran residing in Lubbock county.

A program of music and speaking will be presented. Reports on membership drive will be made.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 2 points lower to 1 point higher. Trading was moderately active with some southern selling or liquidation. January sold at 5.97.

Liverpool also was a seller here and after the initial demand had been supplied, prices worked off a few points under a continuation of the selling which probably was promoted by the action of the stock market. January declined to 5.94 and May to 6.31, with active months showing net losses of about 2 to 4 points by the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported continental liquidation and hedge selling in that market and said there were improved cloth sales to China.

The selling by houses with Liverpool connections tapered off after the close of the English market while a little more trade buying seemed to develop around 6.30 for May contracts and the market later in the morning was quiet and fairly steady, although prices showed very little rallying power. At midday January was selling around 5.94 and May 6.30 or 3 to 4 points net lower on active months.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 9 (AP)—The cotton market today experienced a quiet and somewhat irregular opening, first trades showing one point decline to one point up. The market eased off slightly after the start owing to an easier opening of the stock market. January dropped to 5.98, March to 6.13 and May to 6.32 or 2 to 3 points under yesterday's close.

There was very little disposition shown to trade, although it was reported that considerable trade buying orders were under the market to be executed on the scale down.

Near the end of the first hour the market was quiet and at the lows.

The market ruled quiet all morning. Prices gradually eased off owing to weakness in stocks. January ultimately traded down to 5.93, March to 6.11 and May to 6.29, or 4 to 6 points down from the early highs.

At noon the market was quiet and steady and at the lows.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 9 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: Dec. 5.90; Jan. 5.97; March 6.17; May 6.33; July 6.49; Oct. 6.70.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: Dec. 5.95; Jan. 5.97; March 6.16; May 6.33; July 6.50; Oct. 6.75.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—An early selling flurry depressed stocks moderately today but the market steadied after a number of prominent shares, mostly rails, had made new lows.

U. S. Steel dipped to 49 7-8 for an extreme decline of 1 5-8 and then firmed. A small amount of stock changed hands at the bottom quotation. The New York Central dividend action had been largely discounted marketwise although Central reacted a couple of points. Santa Fe was down 3 and Union Pacific touched a new minimum. Losses generally were confined to a point or slightly more. Illinois Central preferred, an inactive, broke 30 points on the first sale in some time.

Call money renewed at 2 1-2 per cent.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (AP)—Fresh downturns in grain values took place early today owing largely to bearish action of the New York stock market. Liverpool reported that free offerings of new crop Argentine wheat continued. Opening 1-4 to 3-4 off, wheat afterward rallied somewhat. Corn started at a shade to 3-8 decline and subsequently steadied.

FARM RELIEF

The "big three," it was disclosed, will offer no objections to the farm board's program other than the stabilization operations.

The farm bureau, at its annual meeting here, has contended the equalization fee directly places the cost of surplus control onto the producer by assessment of the fee. The Grange has maintained that the debenture, one half of the tariff rate, only makes the tariff effective on farm commodities and in no way is a subsidy for the growers.

FIREMAN DIES

The first appeal for broken toys, or toys that had outlived their interest, met a good response. Contributions grew in later years.

Stores donated damaged, unsaleable toys. Merchants gave paints, varnish, enamels, tools and hardware. Scrap lumber was donated. Even children, old enough to understand, donated their own toys. Dresses, coats and hats for hundreds of dolls were supplied by girls of the telephone company.

At fire stations throughout the city, smoke eaters worked diligently and carefully—spoking wheels, dressing dolls, painting, carving and assembling. Bicycles, tricycles, coaster wagons, miniature trains, toy furniture, anything to amuse and please a child, were turned out as good as new.

Children were given numbered tickets in answer to their letters to "firemen's Santa Claus," in which they gave their ages and expressed their wishes. Each Christmas morning, Lieutenant Morgan took his place at fire station No. 1 before an enormous pile of tagged toys. At 9 o'clock, lines of children blocks long, started their march to happiness.

This year, Lieutenant Morgan, 49, was busier than ever. In the midst of the work he was stricken. He was only a week from retirement on pension.

Varied Program Is Presented Rotary

With B. C. "Daddy" Dickinson directing speakers amid roars of laughter, a varied program ranging from bridge to the Sino-Japanese situation was given at the Lubbock Rotary club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock today noon. The program was of a "lighter" vein than usually presented, President N. L. Peters announced.

Starting with "Coach" Jack Parsons who gave information on the high school football team, Chas. A. Guy voiced his opinion on the best system of bridge; H. L. Allen told why the city plant pays; Coach Weldon explained the Sino-Japanese struggle; Dick Smith told of more football; Dr. P. W. Horn talked on "Irrational relations and the sixth objection to Rotary"; George Dupree explained the dunkling and crumbling problem; Neil Wright told of his visit to the Plainview Rotary club; George Langford and Jack Durham told of Cawthon's coaching weaknesses; Lloyd Wicks of Ralls complimented the program; Dr. Jackson explained the latest proposal of the president and Coach Pete Cawthon charged "proselyting of his coaching staff." The program was a riot of laughter from start to finish.

Ross Ayres, Tech football player, W. L. Betts and Mr. Wicks of Ralls, M. Bozeman of Moline and J. A. Elliott of Slaton were guests.

Trial Of Vagrancy Appeal Under Way

Trial of Ezell Sargent on an appeal from a $25 fine imposed in corporation court for vagrancy would be completed in county court this afternoon, County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson said. Hearing of Sargent's case before Judge E. L. Pitts began this morning.

Hugh Jordan, a Lubbock negro charged with carrying a pistol, was to be tried on completion of Sargent's case.

A county court jury Tuesday afternoon acquitted Jack Alexander of carrying a pistol. The verdict was returned after 10 minutes deliberation.

Following the installation of a waterworks system, Vaga, in the Texas Panhandle, is planning a beautification program of planting trees, shrubbery and flowers.

BUDGET REPORT

automobiles, radios, telephone, telegraph and cable messages, amusement tickets, checks and drafts and realty sales. Postal charges would be boosted.

Exemptions from income taxes would be lowered to include 1,700,000 new individuals within the scope of the federal levy.

The secretary of the treasury—backed by President Hoover—recommended the plan to take effect next month and terminate in June, 1934. With $1,310,000,000 to be raised by it in the coming eighteen months, he termed the legislation necessary to meet "a real emergency."

Secretary Mellon disclosed he soon will submit a bill for approval of the Hoover moratorium on intergovernmental debts. Among other recommendations in his annual report was one that, in accordance with the president's idea, congress allow the treasury $100,000,000 for further subscriptions to the federal land banks.

Scale Is Given

The added taxes would begin on passage of the bill. As to incomes, the following scale would be in force for payments next March:

Now one and a half per cent on net income up to $4,000, up to two per cent.

Now paying three per cent on the second $4,000, up to four per cent.

Paying five per cent on net incomes above $8,000, up to six per cent.

Surtaxes would start at 1 per cent for more than $10,000 net income, be graduated up to 37 per cent on incomes between $100,000 and $200,000 and reach 40 per cent on incomes in excess of $500,000.

"Personal exemption for heads of families would be decreased $1,000, becoming $2,500. The single person exemption would be reduced $500, becoming $1,000. For each dependent $400 exemption would be allowed."

The earned income provision of present law, under which 25 per cent of the tax is credited, would be continued.

A half per cent would be added to the 12 per cent corporation levy of now, and the $3,000 exemption provision eliminated. It was estimated this would bring in $87,000,000 by the end of next fiscal year.

The recommendations on miscellaneous taxes were: "an increase of one-sixth in the present rates on tobacco manufactures and products except cigars; an increase of 1 cent in the existing stamp tax upon sales or transfers of capital stock; extension of the present tax on admissions through the reduction of the present exemption to 10 cents; a tax on manufacturers' sales of automobiles, trucks and accessories at 5, 3 and 2 1-2 per cent, respective; a stamp tax on conveyances of realty of 50 cents for each $500 of value in excess of $100; a tax of 5 per cent on manufacturers' sales of radio and phonograph equipment and accessories; a stamp tax of two cents on each check and draft; and a tax on telephone, telegraph, cable and radio messages of 5 cents for charges in the amount in excess of 50 cents."

HIGHWAY O. K.

W. R. Blake and Jed A. Rix.

The resolution, in full, reads as follows:

Be it remembered that the Commissioners' court of Lubbock county, Texas, with all members present, met jointly with a quorum of the Highway committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce in the office of the local Chamber of Commerce on December 5th, 1931, and among other business transacted, voted unanimously to have a joint committee draft resolutions, which are as follows, to-wit:

Whereas, at an election held in Lubbock county, Texas, on December 17th, 1929, to determine whether or not a majority of the qualified voters desired to bond themselves in the sum of $991,000 for the purpose, as the original petition reads, of "the purchase of district roads and the further construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof throughout such county," and the proposition carried overwhelmingly, and

Whereas, the Commissioners' court, over which the Honorable Robert H. Bean presided as county judge, realizing that the type of road built would ultimately be determined by the State Highway commission, earnestly endeavored, both before and after the bond election, to get the State Highway commission to commit themselves to a concrete type of road for Lubbock county, but the State Highway commission steadfastly refused to commit themselves to any particular type of road for Lubbock county; and

Whereas, the state Highway commission has seen fit, after passing through a long school of experience in highway construction, to deliberately change their policy and type of highway construction in Texas from that of concrete to an asphalt surface on a firm base where material for a base can be found, for the reason that concrete buckles, gets rough and cannot be maintained with any degree of success whereas asphalt can be easily and adequately maintained, and for the further reason that the first cost of asphalt on a solid base is less than half the cost of concrete, and especially is this true in Lubbock county; and

Whereas, several members of this joint body have made an exhaustive investigation of both concrete highways and asphalt type of highways on a firm base, including a caliche base, in many parts of Texas, more particularly in West Texas, to our own satisfaction in the face of facts as we find them; therefore

BE IT RESOLVED that we, by a unanimous vote, on behalf of Lubbock County Commissioners' court and the Highway committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, express our most hearty approval of the action of the State Highway commission in changing the type of highway surfacing in Lubbock county from that of concrete, after having built forty-six miles of concrete in this county, to that of triple asphalt on a firm caliche base for the reason that we believe it will be far more economical for our tax payers, more durable and thus more satisfactory; and we further express our appreciation for the speedy and efficient manner in which our road program has been carried out thus far; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that we express to the State Highway commission and their working staff our complete and absolute faith in their honesty, integrity and ability to construct in Lubbock county the kind of roads that will serve the best interest of our citizenship, both for the present and in years to come; and we hereby pledge to said State commission our continued hearty co-operation in the furtherance of our road program; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of these resolutions be mailed to each of the State Highway commissioners, to the Honorable Gib Gilchrist, State Highway engineer, and that a copy be given to each of the local papers for publication.

E. L. PITTS,
Chairman of Joint Committee.

JOE BOWMAN,
Sec. of Joint Committee.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Highway committee are: J. H. Hankins, chairman; J. A. Rix, W. R. Blake, Charles H. Read, E. L. Pitts, Joe Bowman, B. Sherrod, Walter W. Royalty, C. A. Shefield and M. C. Butler.

Members of the County Commissioners court include E. L. Pitts, county judge; J. T. Pinkston, Claude Burrus, W. L. Brashear and L. C. Denton, commissioners.

NINETEEN ARE INDICTED

DISMISS GRAND JURY AFTER IT RETURNS TWELVE BILLS

A 99th district court grand jury was dismissed Tuesday after returning 12 indictments against 19 persons in a report to Judge Clark M. Mullican.

Indictments were for robbery, theft from person, burglary, assault to murder, turkey theft and for liquor law violations.

Antonio Martinez, Mexican, was indicted for burglary of Helber's Jewelry store here. Martinez was arrested by police after the store window had been smashed and jewelry valued at $800 taken. The loot was recovered.

Others Are Named

Four negroes, Frank Jones, Arthur Jones, Hercules Jackson and Tom King, were indicted for turkey theft. Paul James was indicted for burglary, and Frank Green, a negro, and W. N. Chandler face liquor law violation indictments.

Other bills returned: Robbery, against three persons; prohibition law violation, five persons; assault to murder, one person; theft from person, one defendant. The jurors previously had returned 11 true bills.

Altered Currency Being Passed Here

"Three dollar" bills are in circulation in Lubbock.

At least it takes a five dollar and a one dollar bill to make two of them.

The bills are one dollar on one side and five dollars on the other, the currency having been cleverly divided and pasted together again. The five dollar side is passed to the merchant.

Stanton's cafe, 1218 Texas Avenue, reported one of these bills passed on a cashier there today. Others have been reported at various points over the city.

Officers are on the lookout for the passer of the bills.

Fair enough! That's all Chesterfield wants. That's all Chesterfield could ask for and does ask for—a trial.

"Promises fill no sack." After all, it's what you get out of a smoke that counts. And what you get out of Chesterfield, or anything else for that matter, depends on what goes in.

Better tobaccos don't grow than the tobaccos that go into Chesterfield. Ripe. Sweet. Aged and cured for two years under the watchful care of expert chemists.

Better cigarette paper can't be bought. Tasteless. Odorless. Pure!

INJURIES REVEALED AS WESTERNERS GRIND FOR EAGLE CLASH

LUBBOCK HIGH GRIDMEN TAKE ADVANTAGE OF FIRST GOOD WEATHER HERE YESTERDAY

COACH MAYHEW BRINGS OIL BELT CHAMPIONS ON SATURDAY FOR QUARTER-FINAL GAME; WINNER WILL PLAY IN SEMI-FINAL TILT NEXT WEEK

Taking advantage of the first break offered by the weather this week, the Lubbock Westerners took to their Fair Park practice field yesterday for a good workout, the first of a series of four designed to get them in shape for Saturday's conflict with the Abilene High school Eagles.

Coach Mayhew brings his big team of Oil Belt champions here Saturday for a quarter-final game in the state schoolboy grid race. The winner will meet either the Greenville Lions, coached by Henry Frnka, or the Fort Worth Central eleven. Greenville and Central also meet Saturday in the quarterfinals of their section. Greenville is accorded a slight edge.

Injuries Mar Prospects

Injuries, more serious than was previously thought may prevent the Westerners from playing their best football this week. William Edgar Watson, star left end, and Leon "Cotton" Welch, stellar right guard, are both doing considerable limping so far this week as a result of injuries sustained and aggravated in games last week. Both were out for practice yesterday but neither was able to do his best work. Watson suffers from a badly sprained ankle received in the game Saturday with Quanah and Welch is bothered with painful "charley horses" on either leg.

Reports from Abilene are to the effect that one of two of Mayhew's leading men are also suffering from injuries and, with all respects to the sick and sympathies with the injured, this fact, if it is a fact, brings some encouragement to the Westerner ranks.

Practice Passing

Yesterday's workout, one of about regular length, was the first of the week for the Westerners. They were hustled through a long passing practice while at one end of the field various members were engaged in kicking between the cross bars from placement. That is, they were aiming at a spot immediately between the cross bars. O. H. Britton, quarterback; Rosser Abbott, tackle, and Melvin Griggs, guard, were doing most of the kicking. Abbott covered himself with place-kick glory when he sent the oval 37 yards through the atmosphere for one point between the uprights at Quanah Saturday, after he had committed a foul which resulted in the penalty.

Considering sunshine a capable doctor for bruises, skinned places and other hurts, Coach Chapman will send his youngsters through another workout this afternoon and leave as much exposed to the sun as possible. It is the first practice weather the Westerners have enjoyed in several days, and days count now.

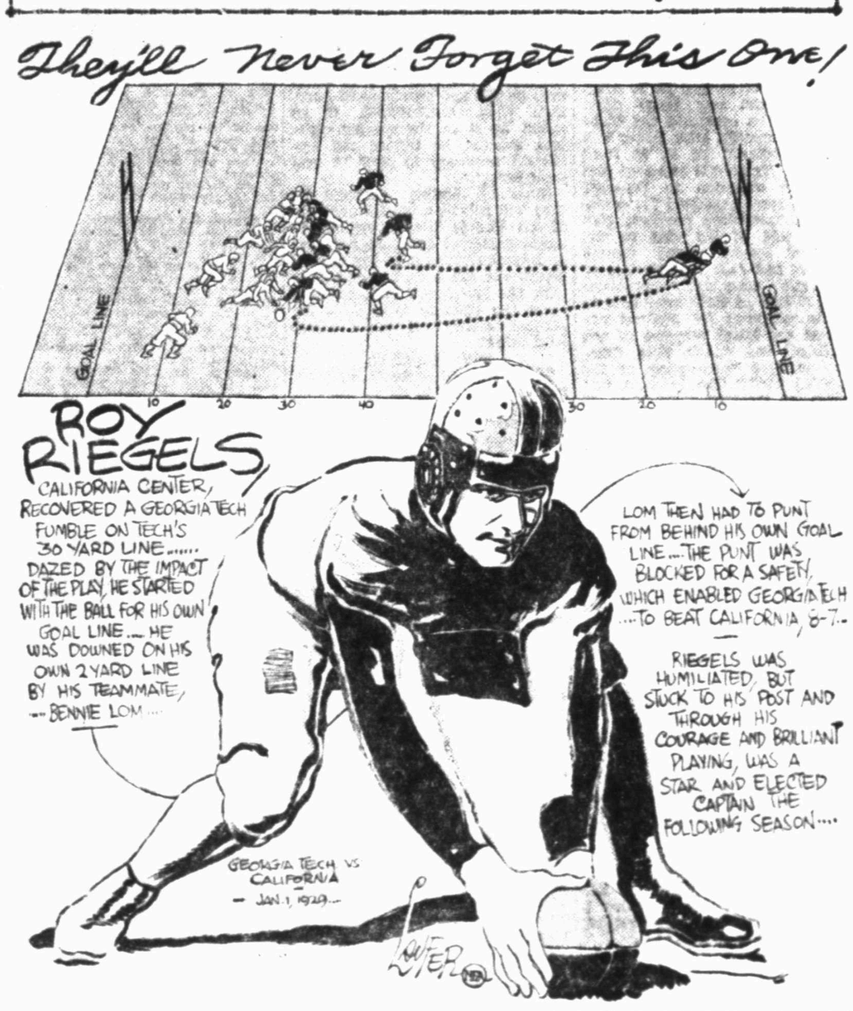

Advantage Offset

Lubbock holds a slight advantage in having the game played at home, but the fact that injuries will impede the progress of the alleged "iron men" of the high school campus is almost enough to offset the advantage. The Westerners have gained state-wide recognition as a result of playing four hard games, winning a district and bi-district championship, in less than ten days' time, and the state and the south is wondering how long they can keep it up. Three hard games lie between one of eight teams left in the state race and a Texas Interscholastic league title. If they carry on, the Westerners will have played a total of seventeen games for the season.

The Eagles have the advantage of not having played but ten games this season and have not been defeated once. The Westerners have already played fourteen games and have tasted defeat one time, although they rubbed that out with a second game against Amarillo in which they were victors.

The fastest rainfall ever measured occurred at Opid's Camp, Cal., on April 5, 1926, when 1.02 inches of rain fell in one minute.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS . . By Laufer

JERRY DALRYMPLE, TULANE CAPTAIN, LIKELY TO PLAY IN ROSE BOWL GAME

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 9 (AP)—Jerry Dalrymple's physician believes the Tulane football captain and all-American end will be able to play in the Rose Bowl game against Southern California despite a kidney injury received in last Saturday's game.

Dalrymple was stricken Sunday at McComb, Miss., while driving an automobile, and brought to a hospital here. His injury at first was thought a ruptured kidney, received when he blocked "Turk" Edwards of Washington State.

X-ray examinations "did not seem to indicate a ruptured kidney," Dr. Edmund Faust said.

A bulletin signed by Dr. Fause read:

"Dalrymple is doing very nicely. The X-ray did not seem to indicate a ruptured kidney. He shows continued improvement over yesterday and will be in the hospital three or four days longer and in all probability should be able to play New Years."

GRIMES LOOMS AS PITCHER FOR CUBS

HACK WILSON APPEARS SURE TO GO TO THE ST. LOUIS CARDS

Grimes, pitching hero of the 1931 world series, may be wearing a Chicago Cub uniform next season, and Hack Wilson, dethroned home run king of the major leagues, today appeared certain of becoming a member of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals.

A trade involving the spitball hurler, who pitched the Cardinals to two victories in their world series triumph over the Athletics last autumn, and Wilson was a big possibility today as the National and American leagues went into the second day of their annual meetings.

It was reliably reported last night that the Cubs had just about decided to make a cash deal with Brooklyn, when the Cardinals came up with a three-way proposition offering either Grimes, Ernie Orsatti or George Watkins, outfielders, for Wilson and cash in varying amounts. Manager Rogers Hornsby and President William L. Veeck of the Cubs went into a huddle and finally decided to make no decision on the Brooklyn or Cardinal proposals until today.

The radio broadcasting problem which had promised to be troublesome was left as is when it was learned one club already had signed contracts for 1932.

Army-Navy Duel Renews Rivalry

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—The 32nd football clash between Army and Navy Saturday ought to be a bit more like the 30 they played before the famous "break" of 1927.

Their charity engagement here a year ago was fought under somewhat artificial conditions and at least a part of the glamor that used to surround Army-Navy duels was lacking.

It should be different this time. The two service academies by no means have patched up their differences over eligibility standards and their coming battle was arranged solely in the interests of charity yet it should be much like the spectacular games of other years.

Last year the game was arranged late in the season as a sort of after-thought but this time the rival coaches have known since early October that a game would be played. That gave each a chance to "point" for the other and there has been strong evidence that Navy, at least, has been doing just that.

So far 73,000 tickets for the clash have been sold with cash in hand amounting to about $370,000.

ANNOUNCEMENTS MADE OF BASKETBALL TOURNAMENTS AT WOLFFORTH, SLATON

WOLFFORTH, Dec. 9—(Special)—The second annual Wolfforth basketball tournament for professional and semi-professional teams will start here December 14, it was announced by Fred Rich, sponsor of the tournament and teacher at Wolfforth High school.

It is thought that about sixteen teams will enter the tournament. More than this number entered last year and Lubbock's entry won the first prize money.

Games will be played at night, four games being scheduled each evening with the first beginning at 7 o'clock. Spalding officials have been secured to referee the games. The tournament probably will extend over five nights, two defeats being sufficient to eliminate a team from the championship struggle.

A limit of 450 tickets will be sold each night and no more than this number will be allowed inside the gymnasium, Rich said. This is to avoid congestion.

SLATON, Dec. 9—(Special)—Seven girls' basketball teams will play the first round of the Slaton cage tournament Friday evening of this week, it was announced this morning. The games will begin at 7 o'clock and three contests will be played.

In the drawing for opponents, Hale Center was matched with Slaton. Anton will play Brownfield and Shallowater drew Southland. Ropes, the other team in the tournament, drew a bye and will meet the winner of the Hale Center-Slaton game.

The tournament will be resumed Saturday afternoon with the first round consolations and semi-final games being played. The finals will be played Saturday night.

Unfavorable weather prevented the registration of several teams.

Greenleaf Returns To Tie With Champ

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 9 (AP)—Ralph Greenleaf of New York, possessing a new tournament record has returned to a tie with Erwin Rudolph of Cleveland, defending champion, as leader of the world's pocket billiard championship play.

The fast shooting New Yorker clicked off a high run of 117 in the fifth inning of a contest against Johnny Layton of Sedalia, Mo., last night to eclipse his former mark of 85 for the tournament. Greenleaf's 117 allowed him to defeat Layton, 125 to 17, in six innings.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

To satisfy ourself and readers that nothing was getting by us in the way of collegiate sports, we slipped out to the offices of Messrs. Pete Cawthon, Dutchey Smith and Del Morgan yesterday and found the three gentlemen behind their respective desks planning and designing and reviewing and reminiscing. Things are coasting along so far as athletes are concerned and there is little news for public discussion.

• • •

It was a great football season they had out at Tech this year, great in more ways than one. Besides winning twice as many games as they lost, the Matadors came out of the hole financially, that is, they did not lose any money on the season. And that is sumin'. They made money on all their trips and managed to save a little on the home games. It all goes to show that a winning team can do things for a school besides winning football games.

• • •

They're talking quite a bit of basketball out at the gymnasium and the cagers, under the direction of Del Morgan, are working out daily, sometimes twice daily, but the workouts are not serious yet. The schedule has not been completely arranged and there will be no games until after the Xmas holidays. A proposed trip up through the mid-west apparently has been abandoned, due to the inability to schedule enough games to warrant such an expensive trip. But Tech is due to have a good cage season this winter. Every one of last year's, or this year's squad is back for more, and with Tad Tadlock at the captain's helm it looks like a right fair season.

• • •

But we're not through with football in Lubbock yet. We have one more game to see, maybe two more if the three These Westerners are lucky to stop and they may forge on to a state title. Then again they may meet defeat Saturday. Anyway, it will do to keep our minds on football for another week or so, and when the season is finally ended we'll turn to the less intriguing but none the less important sports.

• • •

Bill McMillan, Ross Edwards, W. H. Humphries, L. J. Montgomery and Harvey Mallory, the latter two from Battle Creek and Flint, respectively, returned from a fishing-hunting trip in the wilds of Old Mexico early this week and told some of the best stories of the year. According to McMillan, who came in to give a personal report, the only way they could keep from dragging fish that long was to keep their hooks out of the water. They said it was a haven for the hunter and fisher, with game of nearly every description proving so easy to get that some of the sport was missing. They went across from Del Rio and most of the hunting and fishing was just across the line. Around Piedras Negras, Customs officials took four deer away from them when they started home, which is an indication of something or other.

• • •

Returning to the Westerners for a moment we are reminded of the childhood and "iron man" stunts of the Lubbock High team in a scathing column of comments penned by Leon Arlege, sports editor of the Albuquerque (N. M.) Journal. Arlege was here to cover the Tech-U. of N. M. game for his sheet and picked something of the Westerners at that time. his education has become even more complete during the past two weeks and he writes somewhat hotly of the Texas way of doing things.

• • •

"It is probably all right to award a state high school football championship, but we can't understand the psychology of authorities that will allow high school boys to participate in so many hard games in less than 10 days," writes Arlege. "Far be it from us to write an essay on the harmful physical effects the playing of such a schedule will have on boys of high school age. The thing is so obvious that we are surprised that the condition is tolerated. . . this overexertion of high school players for a championship that doesn't usually mean anything anyway . . . does not even reflect the strength of the participating teams, so closely are games crowded together is little short of barbarous.

• • •

"Some critics," continues the New Mexico writer, "who have for years been on the over-emphasis of collegiate football should journey to Texas and really see over-emphasis at its worse, and on high school boys at that. We'll be that before the winter is over the star ball player on the Lubbock team will have his head swelled up so big that no football tub won't fit around it. It will take him or maybe several of his five years to get their feet back on earth again if they ever do in this lifetime. . . if we had a brother we would probably rather see him a cripple for life than an outstanding football star on the Lubbock High school team this year."

• • •

Just the Texas way of doing things, Mr. Arlege. We're a big place so we must do things in a big way. As for the star Lubbock ball player having a swelled head at the close of the season, we suggest that if it is swollen at all it will be because some Abilene Elephant fell on it next Saturday at Texas Tech Field. Why, these Westerners play football because they like it, and not, we feel, for any personal glory. If the school and the fans want to see them and profit thereby, it's no business of the lads themselves. We do not believe that the sport of the thing is completely lost. You know, they are not required to go out for football, and they would not be jailed if they did not win.

EAGLES BRING STRONG TEAM TO LUBBOCK

VISITORS WILL SEEK TO TOPPLE LOCALS HERE SATURDAY

(Special to The Journal)

ABILENE, Dec. 9—Coach Dewey Mayhew and his Abilene High school Eagles have been champions of the Texas Interscholastic league before and they see no obvious reasons why they should not repeat their previous experiences. There is the matter of meeting and defeating the Lubbock High school Westerners at Lubbock come this Saturday, but with a backward glance at their records the Elephants refuse to believe that they will be eliminated in the quarter-final contest. It is not they are cocky or "chesty" but that they are confident and a most ready.

Injuries have hit the club this week and may go against the business of winning another ball game on Saturday, but a check reveals that nobody on the Abilene High club is near death's door and it is reasonable to believe that they will be ready to go against the Westerners.

Rivalry Renewed

Coach Mahew, whose rivalry with Coach Weldon Chapman of Lubbock dates back to last year and four years preceding when the latter coached at Cisco, will send a team to Lubbock which has not tasted defeat this season. Against the running and passing attack of Cecil Merrill, Mack Scogging, O. H. Britton and Gene Barnett, Lubbock's backfield, the Eagle mentor will pit Glenn Wyatt, 146 pounds of lightning and speed. Cecil Galbraith and Sam Jones. Wyatt is one of the best field generals in the league this season. He is a passer of much merit and he does the punting for Abilene. He is also a good safety man. Jones hammers an opposing line with much force on line plays and his plunges off tackles this season have gained much ground for the Elephants.

Abilene has gained quite a reputation for its heavy line this season. It has been due to crushing and grinding power of the line that the backs have been able to get away. In Baifans, Ramsey, Smith, Barber and Groseclose Mahew has five outstanding linemen candidates for all-state honors. There is hardly a better tackle in the state right now than Groseclose almost a sure shot for the big time mythical team.

Meet First Time

The game Saturday marks the first in history between these two particular teams. Abilene has several times met District 1 teams, but not Lubbock. The game renews, however, a rivalry between the coaches that is little short of high powered.

This beautiful friendship began back in 1927 when the Eagles walloped the Cisco Lobocs 27 to 0. It continued in 1928 as Abilene took the decision, 19 to 13, one of several boosts toward a state championship. Then in 1929 a twice-beaten Abilene eleven gave a final grand flourish that resulted in the downfall of the Chapmanites again, 18 to 7. The Mahewmen were not equal to the task last autumn, however, and Chap started getting even to the score of 20 to 6.

Mr. Chapman may not have so many more chances to square accounts now that he is out of the Oil Belt, so he's likely to make the most of opportunity. The Westerners, having never played the Eagles, may not have heard of this Abilene football reputation, anyhow.

A new radio beacon, permitting fliers to "find" the airport regardless of weather conditions, is to be installed at Oklahoma City.

Georgia's Coach Is Psychologist

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 9 (AP)—Georgia's gridiron generalissimo, Coach Harry Mehre, is a psychologist of the first water and wastes no time—even during a Southern California downpour.

His thirty-six crackers from "dawn saouth" were hardly settled here for their siege of Troy and for preparation of their game here Saturday against the University of Southern California, before the Trojans had been conceded the game.

Newspapermen cornered Mehre in a corner of the hotel lobby and the former Notre Dame star enjoyed it greatly. He was thoroughly at ease.

How many players had he brought along? "Thirty sir", and the qualifying, "—that is, fifteen players and the rest tourists."

Someone suggested New York U. and Yale didn't notice any tourists, but Mehre was one jump ahead.

"We've been lucky, that's all, plain lucky. My system is a pass, punt and prayer."

MUSTANGS GIVEN LARGE WELCOME

DALLAS, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Southern Methodist university Mustangs, Southwest conference football champions, returned today from San Francisco where Saturday they lost a 7 to 2 game to St. Mary's Gaels.

A welcome for champions greeted the Mustangs on their arrival.

Asked about Saturday's game, Coach Morrison said:

"We played our best. We had opportunities but failed to take advantage. It was a good game, well played and closed a fine season for my boys."

Morrison said he knew of no definite plans for a post-season game for his team. He was not sure his players would agree to another game. He pointed out that his team had played eleven games this season, winning nine, losing one and tieing one.

"Such a schedule as we had this year has left the boys pretty tired," said Morrison.

Fordham Star Is In Critical Condition

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—John Szymanski, twenty-year-old Fordham university football player, was still in a critical condition in Fordham hospital today from injuries suffered in the Fordham-Bucknell game Nov. 21.

Szymanski, whose left side was paralyzed by an unexplained injury, was showing steady improvement until Monday afternoon when he suffered a relapse. Since then his condition has been the cause of grave concern to attending physicians.

The Bucknell game already has cost the life of one Fordham player, Cornelius Murphy, whom Szymanski relieved at a tackle position, died last week after he had been believed out of danger.

Less Than Week Is Left For Cage Fees

AUSTIN, Dec. 9—(Special—Less than a week remains before the "deadline" for paying basket ball fees in the Interscholastic League without fine, according to Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the University of Texas League Bureau. Membership fees for participation in any event in the League must be paid by January 15.

BIG SIX CONFERENCE FACES PERIOD OF REDUCED COMPETITION IN SPORTS

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 9 (AP)—Committed to an economy program resulting from diminished football revenues in the past two seasons, the Big Six conference faces a period of reduced competition in minor sports.

The retrenchment plan expected to effect a saving of $50,000 touches all sports in one may or another.

Round robin schedules in tennis baseball and wrestling were ordered discontinued by athletic directors and faculty representatives who closed their annual meeting yesterday.

Football and basketball, the erstwhile big money makers, will feel the "pinch" in reduced traveling expenses and fewer officials.

Assignment of 1932 football officials was arranged by the directors with the job of field judge notably absent. The directors will confer with football coaches as to the advisability of getting along with only a referee, umpire and headlinesman.

Regardless of whether field judges are employed, the timing job in football, as well as basketball, was delegated to an electrical device in view of the spectators and operated from the sideline.

One official instead of two will work each conference basketball game.

GOLFING ARMY BEGINS PLAY IN TOURNEY

MORE THAN 200 WILL COMPETE IN FIRST WINTER CONTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9. (AP)—Over the 6,700 yard, sharply trapped Lake Merced course marched an army of golfers today, all seeking gold or glory in the first tournament of the winter season, the $7,500 national open match play championship.

Amateurs and professionals, more than 200 of them, matched strokes in the first round of a 36-hole qualifying test to determine the tournament's select 32.

Leo Diegel, defending champion, claimed an "expert" status by virtue of his 1930 victory. He will not risk his chances until match play rounds begin Friday.

Scores of 86 or over for today's opening round meant automatic retirement. The heavy entry list compelled officials to fix the stroke-limit for the first day's score. Par is 72.

FOOTBALL DEATHS WILL BE PROBED

NEW YORK, Dec. 9. (AP)—A nation-wide investigation of the more than two-score fatalities from football this season is being undertaken by the national football rules committee.

The committee plans to inquire thoroughly into the causes and circumstances of each of the fatalities, gathering all the information it can for possible use in connection with the committee's annual over-hauling of the rules in the spring. There has been wide-spread agitation recently to ban the wedge formation of interference on kickoffs.

NO FAVORITES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Officials issued orders to the tow-in officers of the traffic department that they were to play no favorites in enforcing the parking regulations. Consequently, when Municipal Judge Thomas E. Garvin went to get his car, he found it had been towed away by the police for improper parking. He was fined $2.

Cupid Does Some Scoring

Gene McEver (above,) all-American halfback of the University of Tennessee and the nation's highest gridiron scorer in 1929, has discovered that Cupid can do a little expert scoring on his own account. McEver's engagement to Joyce Burnett (inset), of Knoxville, a teacher in the little mountain village of New Hopewell, Tenn., has been announced. Wedding bells are due to peal in the Spring.

Tattooing Passes

WWhat makes history, anyway—the big stories about world-shaking events, or the little, unimportant items that go almost unnoticed at the time they are printed?

The big stories, of course—the stories of wars, political overturns, revolutions and so on—provide the historians with most of their material. But some of the little ones reflect shifts in the complexion of society with amazing suggestiveness, and among them is a little story printed in a New York paper the other day, revealing that the business of tattooing has gone into a sad decline.

People don't go for tattooing as they used to, it seems. Many "artists" have had to find other jobs; and those still in business have a different clientele. The sailors, backbone of the trade for centuries, are not coming in so much nowadays, and the ones that do come in are mostly from merchant ships. The city tough, too, has lost his fondness for tattooing, and the lady customer has become almost non-existent.

Now all of this, of course, is supremely unimportant as a news item. But it does mirror a change in the habits and customs of society, and to some historian a generation or so hence it ought to be highly interesting.

For one thing, it shows the change that has come over the world of ships. The hard-handed old salt is vanishing, his place is taken by the sons of a mechanical age who have forgotten most of the old sea lore and who don't care to have the mark of their calling stamped on their skins for life. Navy Jack has become more sophisticated, more gentlemanly, and a crimson mermaid on his chest no longer seems to him something to be greatly desired.

The shore folk, too, have changed. The city hoodlum, who used to wear a rusty turtle-necked sweater and look as disreputable as possible, now goes in for sartorial elegance. Instead of trying to look like a tough, he tries to look like a college man.

In other words, we have outgrown a stage of our robust youth. The decline in tattooing speaks volumes about the change.

American Writers

Harrison Smith, who recently resigned a junior partnership in the publishing firm of Cape and Smith, is starting his own publishing firm and plans to specialize in the literature of young American writers. The way in which he made this announcement is rather interesting.

"I believe," he said, "that we're on the brink of something really great in American literature. Twelve years ago, when I first went into the publishing business, at least 50 per cent of every American list was written by English authors. Now about three-quarters of the average list is the work of American writers."

There will be plenty of people to share in Mr. Smith's optimism. A surer note, a wider viewpoint, have been apparent in home-grown literature during the past decade. Unless all signs fail, we are due to be getting some uncommonly good books from American writers during the next few years.

Magnificent

ONE very encouraging instance of applied altruism in business is that furnished recently by the Edgar Thomson mills of the Carnegie Steel Company at Braddock, Pa., where 3000 men have been given jobs to tide them over Christmas.

These men have been taken back although no new orders for steel have been produced. The plan will cost the steel company in excess of $300,000, it is said—but the workers will not face Christmas with empty pockets.

ALTHOUGH the village of Rankin, county seat of Upton county, is a trifle east, instead of west of the historic Pecos river, it still manages to furnish a wild west shooting often enough to keep city newspaper readers from forgetting the place.

Only thing detracting from its most recent gun fight Sunday is the fact that Upton county's Sheriff, one of those strong, silent men of the great open spaces, used a sub-machine gun instead of the conventional single-action Colts.

Back in the old days it was idiomatic that "there's no law west of the Pecos". That was when Judge Roy Bean—no kin to the Lubbock Beans—sat as one-man court and jury, a six-gun on his bar, in Langtry. He was self-appointed "law".

But as time wore on real law came to the 'great alone' west of the Pecos, until today it is as peaceful and law-abiding as any part of Texas and more so than cities like Houston, Dallas and San Antonio. Compared with our great metropolitan centers, "west of the Pecos" is a Utopia.

THE newly elected president of a big bank was making a tour of inspection and was being introduced to the various employes. He singled out an assistant cashier for questioning in detail.

"I have been on this job for forty years", said the employe, "and in all that time I have made but one slight mistake."

"That's fine", said the new president. "Permit me to congratulate you. But in the future you'll have to be more careful!"

WITH Santa Claus Day and the real, sure 'nough Yule season just around the corner it won't be long now until various and sundry Lubbock stores will be employing synthetic Santas to greet their little customers. It's a fine old custom, stimulates business and gives the kiddies a real kick—but it also packs a danger or two.

Three or four wide-eyed youngsters were peering at the store's Santa Claus, asking him questions and generally enjoying themselves in an awed sort of a way.

Finally, Santa placed his hand upon the head of a six-year old girl.

"Where are you from, honey?" he asked pleasantly.

"I'm from Lorenzo", the tot returned.

"Lorenzo". Santa repeated. "Why I know all about Lorenzo. I was over there last year working on a pipeline."

That's a funny story, but it's no joke. It really happened.

And while The Plainsman doesn't know the aftermath he'd be willing to wager that the parents of the kiddies who heard the statement were in for a rough evening of juvenile questioning once the youngsters got home.

SOME of the moderns scout the idea of teaching youngsters to believe in Santa Claus. For that matter, some mother—the wife of a college professor in the East—criticized a picture of praying children in a children's book saying that she didn't believe in teaching religion to children.

But The Plainsman is still old-fashioned enough to believe that the Santa Claus tradition, while a fabrication, is a good one and that it brings more happiness to children than any other one thing.

★ ★ ★

The happiest days of a kid's life are the pre-Christmas days of the years in which he or she believes implicity in St. Nicolas, his Christmas Eve journey; in Dunder and Blitzen and all the rest of the reindeer and in Santa's castle at the North Pole.

There is enough grim reality in life after a person reaches the age of disillusionment.

Whatever romance can be packed into the early years forms memories and smiles for later years.

The world boasts plenty of things to criticize of more importance than the fabrication upon which Christmas lore has been builded.

Let the youngsters enjoy life while they may.

★ ★ ★

That Man on Avenue Q says people may differ on politics, religion and the cause of the depression but they're still united in the belief that all luxuries are necessities.

★ ★ ★

The more The Plainsman thinks about the early legislators of Texas the more respect he has for their ability. Just imagine! They ran the state without taxes on gasoline and cigarets.

★ ★ ★

East Texans have long declared that nothing good ever comes out of West Texas. The statement has gone unchallenged long enough. How will they explain Jack Garner?

CAN ANYBODY HELP?

The Plainsman wants a good dog—and he wants it bad!

A little boy has asked The Plainsman to find him a male dog—it can be any kind of a good dog from puppyhood to two or three years old.

He'd prefer it to be a big dog—or a puppy capable of becoming a big dog—but most of all he wants a dog for a pal.

The animal will have a good home and good care. The Plainsman will vouch for that.

Anyone wishing to furnish the dog will please call The Plainsman at 13 or 14, and if The Plainsman isn't in the office call Miss Aicheson, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Young Bob LaFollette's Sideburns Shorter; Prohibition Smoking Is Good Business In One Capital Dining Room

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON Dec. 9—Trudging around Capitol Hill. . . A thousand men and women who work for the House of Representatives and its members are talking—and many grieving — about the real tragedy in Democratic control of the House. . . Three or four hundred Republican appointees—committee clerks, doorkeepers, sergeant - at - arms, pages, messengers, guides, elevator operators and so on—have been worrying ever since November, 1930, when it first seemed that the Democrats might organize the House. . . Now the axe seems about to fall. . . . A few will be retained, some will go job-hunting and others will return to the old home town. . . The Senate side of the Capitol is more cheerful. . . But you find Senator Bob LaFollette of Wisconsin buster, more serious than ever, his staff preparing surveys and summaries to show the need of federal "famine relief." Bob's famous sideburns have been shortened.

• • •

You find Senator Edward P. Costigan of Colorado reading letters from anxious admirers who inquire whether he is now getting his proper rest and sleep. They read that the senator, who lives in an apartment next to the national zoo, had complained about a crane howling in the night. Fact is Costigan didn't complain. He likes cranes. Manager of his apartment house, with other tenants protesting, asked Costigan if he couldn't use his influence to silence the crane. . . . In the corridor you see Senator George McGill of Kansas, with a little round derby perched on a little round head. Up for re-election next year in a Republican state, he got married lately, despite the uncertainty. . . . Entering an office, you receive profuse thanks from an extremely dry senator who telephoned you last Saturday afternoon, banks being closed, and said he was trying to raise $100 cash to get a dear friend out of town. You don't tell him that $50 of the $85 you raised for him came by sending another fellow to cash a check at a speakeasy which seemed to be the only place that had any currency. . . .

• • •

The Senate restaurant, opened a few weeks ago proves crowded. You cross the Capitol Grounds to the Methodist Building, cluttered by in-town senators during summer but not now. . . . There's Chessley Jurney, secretary to Senator Copeland of New York and president of the League for Modification of the Volstead Act, who remarkably occupies one of the building's few apartments under the same roof with Dr. Clarence True Wilson, the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals and such famous Methodist drys as Senator Joe Robinson of Arkansas, Congressmen Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida and Homer Hoch of Kansas and Dr. James Shera Montgomery, chaplain of the House. . . . The Methodist Building steps are always littered with cigaret butts and burnt matches, dropped respectively by customers at the Methodist dining room going in and customers going out. They serve dandy food there, but you can't smoke, which makes many people mad. The manager says he is sorry but that the rule lets him serve three times normal capacity because as fast as people finish eating they rush out and light up.

• • •

In the washroom is a penciled card saying "Good corn. Apartment 400." You scratch your head because No. 400 is hired by ex-Senator and Mrs. Rice W. Means of Colorado. Means is dry, so it can't be corn liquor. But this isn't any season for nice green corn, either. You phone the apartment and Mrs. Means intensifies the mystery by saying she doesn't know what it's all about. . . Back in the Senate Office Building you find Vice President Curtis out, but manage to survive that blow because there is Lola Williams of Kansas, his secretary and this correspondent's favorite among blonds. You stay there as long as you can think of things to say. Under the window they are excavating 40 or 50 feet for a new wing and Miss Williams says it is so fascinating that it's hard for a girl to keep her mind on her work. . . . After finding half a dozen more senators out or busy you call it a day and go read the latest statement from the Navy League.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 3 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1438 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining." "Feminine Hygiene." "Indigestion and Constipation." "The Care of the Hair and Skin." "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet." "List of Books for Mothers." "Bed Wetting." "Diet of the Expectant Mother." "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

APPENDICITIS

WHEN THE LARGE life insurance companies become sufficiently alarmed over the death rate of some disease to make a public protest, the least that can be said is that the danger is real, and in the opinion of those most interested from a financial viewpoint it can be remedied.

Dr. Clendening

Acute appendicitis is the latest object of the insurance companies attention. Between thousand to 20,000 people in the United States die every year from this disease.

"The American public is entitled to an explanation of the extraordinary advance in appendicitis death rates. If there is lack of surgical skill, the matter imperatively demands consideration, for it goes without saying that most of the deaths follow operations." So says the report from the insurance companies.

There are two reasons for the high death rate in acute appendicitis. In the first place, appendicitis is an exceedingly dangerous and treacherous disease. The attitude that the medical profession held about it in the early days of modern surgery, 40 years ago—an attitude that could be summed up as, "We've got this thing licked now; all you have to do is to take the appendix out; the disease need not be feared any more"—has given way in most quarters to one of wholesome respect, to deal with it is not simple but requires very good judgment. As the report emphasizes "most of the deaths follow operations."

The second reason for the many deaths in appendicitis is the ingrained habit of people to dose themselves for the bellyache. Everybody knows what to do for cramps—take some salts. The fact that the use of a cathartic is one of the most dangerous forms of treatment in the presence of an acute pain in the abdomen has never been learned by these "everyones." If appendicitis is present, the cathartic simply stirs things up, ruptures the appendix and spreads pus over the peritoneum.

Druggists who treat people who wander into the drug store are badly to blame on this count. I have heard of only one druggist who gave such a patent paregoric all the remainder gave them salts or castor oil. They might almost as well have given them arsenic or strychnine. If druggists must indulge in this practice, at least let them dispense paregoric instead of a cathartic. Two other pieces of advice could be added, one is to warn the patient not to eat or drink anything until the pain is gone, and the second is to call a doctor.

This is especially applicable to cases where the victim has "just a little stomach ache." One of the treacherous things about appendicitis is that it is not always signalized by prostratingly severe symptoms. The pain in many instances is reckoned as hardly more than a vague discomfort.

As if in response to a prayer, my morning mail, which I opened just as I penned the last paragraph, contains a letter from a reader which says, "I have read a prescription in a doctor book of some pills I could take that would cure appendicitis. I have taken one of these pills twice for two nights and they leave me with griping pains in the right side, where your appendix is supposed to be. The pills contain cascarin, aloin and podophyllum." All of these are cathartics and the very worst thing that could be taken for appendicitis.

An English professor has okayed slang. Henceforth school children will be able to understand their teachers.

Prohibited from drinking white wine, firemen in Paris got hot under the collar. But that was no cause for alarm.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Dec. 9—Hollywood is making it easier and easier to mention well-known Broadway folk without benefit of an introductory note. A few years ago I thought it necessary to explain just who So-and-So might be, since millions of good folk outside Manhattan had, doubtless, never heard of them before. Today, thanks to cinema publicity, scores of young men and women who were well known to professional New Yorkers are even better known in hundreds of small towns across the nation.

This very morning the mail informs me that Jed Harris, who ran from a tyro to the millionaire class as a Broadway producer only to drop most of his fortune on flops, is deserting for the movie money zone. With him goes Chester Erskine who was hailed as a wondrous new wizard director when he staged "The Last Mile," only to fall down dismally on his last effort. Harris, although extremely young, is already the subject of a dozen Broadway legends.

What's funny is that his first show in a long time to rate fair success is "Wonder Boy," which unmercifully spoofs Hollywood.

• • •

It was only a couple of seasons ago, as I recall it, that a young man named Robert Montgomery appeared in Broadway in a flop titled "High Hat" or "High Hatters" or something like that. It lasted but a few days and this Montgomery lad was no great shakes in it. And look at him now.

Helen Hayes is back on the Rialto where she is a perennial favorite, but ever Main Street knows her now—or should. Ann Harding, who did such a grand job in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," seems wedded to the film capital.

Edgar Selwyn after making a hit into the Hollywoods for several semesters decided to return to the theater and brought Bert Service a quick failure. He's gone back.

• • •

Jimmy Cagney returned to the big street the other day for the first time since he knocked 'em cold in the flickers with "Public Enemy." Years ago Cagney was playing tough parts in the bright light belt and playing them just as well as he did on the screen, yet he was not widely known. Just before he went west Cagney was reported borrowing dimes while waiting for a break in a new show. When he came back with "the missus," Cagney was riding in a slick compartment and stopping at the more expensive hotels.

Kay Francis was being beautiful and sophisticated in drawing room parts until Paramount tried her out on the Astoria lot. I recall attending a rehearsal of her first picture. She needed plenty of directing. Look at her now.

Anna May Wong came back from Europe, where she had met with considerable success, and fitted nicely into an Oriental part in a gang play titled "On the Spot." Hollywood began to remember her. And she's a big leaguer 'out there' again.

• • •

From the pages of a fan magazine smile the youthful features of Gene Raymond, who will soon need no introduction to the film fans. As a theatergoer, I remember him doing juveniles in "Jonesy" and "Cradle Snatchers". Hollywood began to keep an eye on him when he came out in "Young Sinners," which ran and ran and ran. Just between us, his real name is Raymond Guion, and his parents are French. He took the name "Gene" from his "Young Sinners" character, Gene Gibson. Then he put his first name last—and there you are. Gene Raymond.

Roland Young was one of the most dyed-in-the-wool New Yorkers I ever encountered. Yet a card received by a friend indicates that he's sold on the Beverly Hills belt.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Poor Clowny soon ran out of breath. Said he, "I'll blow myself to death if I don't let this horn alone. It's mighty hard to blow." And then another Tiny said, "You bet it is! Your cheeks are red. But, anyway, we thank you 'cause you put on quite a show."

The bunch then heard a sudden blast and Scouty shouted, "Kindly cast your eyes on little Coppy. He is booming on the drum. He's just like lots of little boys. He loves to make a lot of noise. This time he's absolutely sure that he is making some."

The boom, boom, boom rang through the air. Then Carpy shouted, "I don't care for this poor type of music. It will please me if you'll stop." "And so will we," the others cried. So Coppy very sadly sighed and said, "You don't appreciate. Whatever I do goes plop."

Just then a little dog came near. To Clowny it exclaimed, "Come here. I'm going to put my act on now and you can give me aid. I'll teach you to amuse the crowd and shortly you will feel real proud. My act is very simple and you need not be afraid."

So Clowny ran right up to him and said, "I'm always right in trim to lend a hand to anyone. What are we going to do?" "We're going to juggle," said the pup. "Stick with it now, and don't give up. You'll master all my Indian clubs before the act is through."

They stood three feet apart or so and Clowny shouted, "Well, let's go!" The Indian clubs sailed through the air and Clowny grabbed them quick. He tossed them back. The dog yelled "Great! Now keep it up! Don't hesitate! The other Tinymites are thrilled. No doubt they think you're slick!"

PRISONERS IN NEW COUNTY JAIL ARE GIVEN BOOKS TO READ BY LIBRARIAN

Prisoners in the new county jail will have books to read, as Miss Rutilia Eubank, county librarian, has cleaned and repaired those withdrawn from general circulation and turned them to the sheriff's department. The books otherwise would have been destroyed, she said, because of missing pages, bindings so badly broken renovation would be impractical, and dirty pages and covers.

Titles range from the western novels of B. M. Bower and Zane Grey to several stories by Gene Stratton Porter and Harold Bell Wright, as well as several such old works as Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and Dumas' "The Man In the Iron Mask."

Other books will be added to the jail group, Miss Eubank said. The titles follow:

Red Rock by Page; Jones Abroad, Givens; If Dreams Come True, Colver; Mystery of the Silver Dagger, Parrish; Preacher of Cedar Mountain, Seton; Harvester, Porter; Norfleet, Norfleet; Tex, Mulford; Partners of Chance, Knibbs; Gold, White; Chinese Parrot, Riggers; Sundown Slim, Knibbs; Ranch on the Wolverine, Bower; U. P. Trail, Grey; Tumbleweeds, Evarts; Cottonwood Gulch, Mulford; Inn of the Hawk and Raven, McCutcheon; Triumph of John Kars, Cullum; Commodore, Peterson; Traitor, Dixon; Graven Image, Widdemer; Forbidden Trail, Willzie; Beginners, Webster; Red-haired Girl, Wells; Here Comes the Sun, Loring; Foursquare, Richmond; Poor Wise Man, Rinehart; Beau Rand, Seltzer.

Lonesome Trail, Bower; Four-in-One Westerns; Pine Creek Ranch, Bindloss; under a Country Sky, Richmond; Corbin Necklace, Webster; Enchanted Canyon, Willsie; Range Boss, Seltzer; Shadow of the Sheltering Pines, White; Detective Duff Unravels It, O'Higgins; Maids In a Market Garden, Dehan; Wagon and the Star, Larrimore; Shadow In the House, Gluck; Story of Julia Page, Norris; Carnacs Folly, Parker; Bracklebank Riddle, Wales; Taken Child, Chamberlain; Daughters of India, Wilson; Claire Ambler, Tarkington; Tale of Triona, Looke; Under the Tonto Rim, Grey; Son of His Father, Wright; Ghost of Hemlock Canyon, Bindloss; Michael O'Halloran, Porter; Secret Listeners of the East, Mukerji; Chinese Label, Davis; Left Lady, Turnbull; Man In the Iron Mask, Dumas; Uncle Tom's Cabin, Stowe; Flying U's Last Stand, Bower; Light In the Clearing, Bacheller; Freckles, Porter; Son of Tarzan, Burroughs; Tar Paper Palace, Larrimore; Perch of the Devil, Atherton, and Tide of Empire, Kyne.

COLE NAMED NEW CO-OP MANAGER

A. B. Cole this week succeeded C. M. Davis as district manager of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association. Davis for the last month had been a cotton classer in this district, No. 2. Davis expects to remain active in the cotton circles until the end of the season.

Davis, in the cotton business for 35 years, came here in July, 1930, to take charge of T. C. C. A. work in 43 Panhandle and South Plains counties. He formerly lived in Dallas.

Cole came here from Dallas about a month ago.

Andre Spada, gallant leader of a band of picturesque bandits on the island of Corsica, who is something of a modern "Robin Hood." While Spada is most cordial to tourists who visit his domain, he has no interest in cementing relations with various punitive expeditions which have sought him and his outlaw band. Corsicans are said to aid Spada escape authorities partly through fear and partly from admiration for his feats.

Presbyterian Men To Attend Session

About 70 men of the First Presbyterian church are expected to attend "a very important" meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the church, Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor, said.

Matters of general interest and vital concern will be discussed," said Dr. Lewis. "Among other things the general financial situation will be thoroughly considered, the budget discussed and policies and plans adopted."

Affidavit Needed To Buy Licenses

An affidavit of the weight of the machine is required of every person registering a commercial vehicle, whether it is a truck, trailer, or delivery car, attaches of County Tax Collector A. J. Clark's office said.

The vehicle, unloaded must be weighed on public scales and an affidavit made as to the weight. Blanks of the affidavit may be had at the collector's office.

Parched or toasted? No, sir! CAMELS are FRESH!

THE bedrock of Camel popularity is the inherently fine quality of the tobaccos that go into our cigarette.

These tobaccos are notably mild, full-mellow, delicately flavored by nature — the finest Turkish and mild, sun-ripened Domestic tobaccos that money can buy.

To safeguard the essential goodness of these fine tobaccos we exercise every care to conserve their natural moisture and natural flavors.

They are never parched or toasted—the Reynolds method of scientifically applying heat guarantees against that.

That's why we say Camels are made fresh to start with—and why the Camel Humidor Pack can bring them fresh to you, in prime smoking condition.

If you want to know what a blessing that means in unalloyed smoke-enjoyment, switch to Camels for just one day—then leave them—if you can.

KEY TO BETTER TIMES GIVEN

COOPERATION URGED BETWEEN BUSINESS AND GOVERNMENT

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (AP)—The key to better economic times was described by Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland last night as "sincere and nonpolitical cooperation between business and government."

The Maryland executive, advanced as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, sketched a picture of the "appalling extension of governmental actions in the field of private business" before the annual dinner of the Illinois Manufacturers association. His subject was "Public Business—Private Business."

"Here is the gist of all I am trying to say," Governor Ritchie said. "Do not look to government to do what it can not do. Do not look to politics to solve problems that it can not solve. It is not a larger measure of governmental regulation and control that is needed, so much as that really simple human agency that goes under the name of cooperation. Sincere and nonpolitical cooperation between business and government and government and business; between business and the public; between the different units of business in their relation to field, factory and home."

Commercialism For Doctors Is Opposed

DALLAS, Dec. 9 (AP)—Dr. John O. McReynolds of Dallas, president of the Texas Medical association, last night asked North Texas physicians to avoid any semblance of commercialism more than ever during present conditions. Dr. McReynolds spoke at a banquet of the North Texas Medical association.

Dr. Scott Hammond of Paris was a speaker at the morning session of the North Texas association.

TWO YOUTHS SOUGHT

LONGVIEW, Dec. 9 (AP)—Mrs. D. K. Light was killed when the automobile in which she was riding collided with another between Longview and Gladewater. Officers were seeking for questioning two youths who were in the other machine. Mrs. Light's husband and son, who were with her, were uninjured. Her husband said the occupants of the other automobile drove on.

GERMANY SEEKING TO REMAIN ON GOLD STANDARD

BASEL, Switzerland, Dec. 9. (AP)—Germany will do everything possible to remain on the gold standard, Carl Melchior, German representative on the world bank advisory committee, assured his fellow-committeemen yesterday.

Herr Melchior informed the banking experts investigating Germany's capacity to pay reparations that the German people were horrified at thought of abandoning the gold standard.

Presents Case

These statements occurred in the German delegate's presentation of his nation's case, in the course of which he succeeded, contrary to the wishes of France, in introducing the subject of short-term credits into the reparations discussions. Whether commercial credits are to take precedence over reparations is expected to be a question that will cause much argument before the committee sessions are concluded.

Herr Melchior said the total short-term foreign debt is 12,000,000,000 marks (approximately $3,000,000,000), which is 4,000,000,000 marks more than has estimated last August in the report of the world bank committee headed by Albert H. Wiggin, American banker.

Newest Information

Sir Walter Layton, who served with Mr. Wiggin and is a member of the committee now sitting, described the Melchior summary as "the newest and most exact information available, collected by a census imposed by decree."

"The reason the figure on short-term credits is 4,000,000,000 higher than the Wiggin report," Sir Walter continued, "is that industrial non-banking debts are greater than the Germans themselves supposed."

Herr Melchior said despite a foreign trade monthly average surplus of 350,000,000 reischmarks, the gold coverage of the reichsbank had fallen from 30 to 12 per cent, exclusive of bank holdings of foreign exchange.

The first serious disagreement came when the German reached the subject of assets abroad and the net amount Germany owes. He confronted six sets of figures, a subcommittee was named to compare Germany's statement with those of the six other nations.

DEATH HELD ACCIDENT

MIDLAND, Dec. 9 (AP)—The coroner returned a verdict of accidental shooting in connection with the death of Monroe Dawson, 50-year-old farmer. Dawson was found lying behind his automobile Monday with a bullet wound in his head. A pistol lay by his side. He died early Tuesday at a Midland hospital.

TRIAL POSTPONED

LOCKHART, Dec. 9 (AP)—The murder trial of Adam Briscoe was postponed Tuesday upon motion of defense counsel until March 28, 1932. He was charged with slaying D. B. Kennard, oilfield worker. Kennard died of knife wounds.
