Candidate Filing Nears Deadline

With a filing deadline of 5 p.m. Wednesday, March 6, there had been only a few surprises among candidates for offices that will be filled in the April 6 elections.

Elections to be held at that time will be:

- Wellington School trustees.
- Samnorwood School trustees.
- Wellington City Council
- Dodson City Council.
- Collingsworth General Hospital board, which is county-wide.

Absentee voting will begin Monday, March 18, for all elections and will continue through Thursday, April 2.

CITY ELECTION

Wellington Mayor Ralph Owens filed late Tuesday for re-election. He becomes the second candidate in the race, Tom Wilkins, a former city council member, having filed for the office last week.

Two places are to be filled on the city council and the incumbents, Sam McGill and Milburn Derryberry filed earlier to have their names on the ballot.

Holdover council members are Willie Gragson, Lyndon Crelia and Gary Brewer.

Absentee voting will be at City Hall.

WELLINGTON SCHOOL BOARD

Four school board members will be elected, one filling an unexpired term and three filling the regular three-year terms.

Sharon Starkey and Elmer Harold Keller are seeking to fill the unexpired term. This vacancy was created when Dan Langford resigned to become commissioner from Precinct 1 on Jan. 1.

Seeking the regular terms are Reed Souder, who is running for re-election, Charles E. Britten, Walter Ray Floyd and Lyman Daniel.

Those whose terms expired are Souder, Carroll Nunnelley and Bill Spillman.

Absentee votes may be cast at the school tax office.

SAMNORWOOD SCHOOL BOARD

Two places are to be filled on the Samnorwood school board and Tuesday evening, March 5, only one candidate had filed. Gary Wright is seeking re-election to the board. The other board member whose term expires is Tommy Lindley.

Absentee votes may be cast at the school tax office.

DODSON CITY COUNCIL

Dodson voters will elect a mayor and two council members and Tuesday evening there was only one candidate for each office.

Mayor Thurman Crowover and council member Tommy Hightower had filed for re-election. Outgoing council member Herman Ward did not seek re-election and his son-in-law, Red Riddles, is running for that place.

Absentee votes may be cast with Howard Hunt, city secretary.

Area Wheat Referendum Meeting Slated

A meeting of wheat producers in a 7-county area will be held in Wellington Wednesday, March 13, to provide more information about the upcoming wheat referendum, Extension Agent Don Reeves announced.

This will be in Bura Handley Community Center starting at 7:30 p.m.

Counties from which producers are expected include Hemphill, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Donley, Hall, Cottle and Motley.

These are the Panhandle Counties that are not now members of the Texas Wheat Producers Board current 24 County Territory.

This informational meeting is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Wheat producers will hear an Extension agronomist discuss the current wheat situation, outlook, and changing wheat production trends in the state.

The mechanics and timing of the April referendum voting process will be discussed, including recent changes in the commodity referendum law.

Other speakers will be from the Texas Wheat Producers Board, who will present information on the existing wheat check-off program in the 34 county territory and the potential outcome of a total statewide effort.

There will be a question and answer period.

The Texas Wheat Producers Board seeks to extend its organization from the Panhandle into a state-wide organization, a change brought about by the movement of the state's wheat growing area eastward through Central Texas as well as to other parts of the state.

At the time of the wheat board's organization in 1971, most of Texas wheat production was in the Panhandle. Bill Nelson, administrator of the board, gives this example:

In 1971, Hill County, south of Dallas-Ft. Worth produced 2,600 bushels of wheat. It now produces 4.6 million bushels and ranks in the top 10 wheat producing counties of the state. Other counties in central Texas have similar records.

Purpose of the Wheat Producers Board is market promotion, research and education with a major emphasis on finding new markets for Texas wheat.

Shane Jones Calf Second at Houston

The finest livestock in the world is entered in the Houston Livestock Show, its sponsors declare, and the finest of all are the winners.

One of these "finest of the fine" this year was the Main Anjou light weight steer exhibited by 9-year-old Shane Jones of Dodson.

Shane's calf was second in a class of 76 steers.

The other Collingsworth exhibitor was Patricia Fourmentin, whose middle weight Chianina steer made the show in a class of approximately 80 but did not place in the top 8.

"Both Shane and Patricia did an excellent job of presenting their steers to the judge," said Extension Agent Don Reeves.

Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fourmentin, has exhibited in the Houston show for a number of years.

It was the first Houston show for Shane, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kane of Dodson. His calf placed second in the Ft. Worth Fat Stock Show recently.

Shane sold his 1070 pound steer for $2.50 per pound.

Attending the show were Mrs. A.C. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Hezze Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Jones with Josh and Jeremy of Baytown, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Patterson, Kathy Brewer of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Fourmentin and Mark Fourmentin.

More than 7,000 animals were entered in the Houston Livestock Show.

Sears Burglarized Friday, but Three Other Attempts Fail

Under cover of a heavy fog Friday night, March 1, burglars entered Sears Catalog Store through the front door and took merchandise valued in excess of $1,500. They left through the back door Sheriff John Rainey reported.

The burglars failed in their attempts to enter three other stores on the west side of the square the same night, City TV and Fabric Shop, Parsons Drug and Pam's House of Jewelry, Flowers and Gifts.

Rainey believes more than one person was involved in the burglary and attempts.

He said that apparently they tried to pry open the back door of Sears, operated by Elmer H. and Carolyn Keller, but were unable to get it open. They went to the front door, which is recessed from the sidewalk, broke a hole in the glass door and reached through it to unlock the door. The back door was opened from the inside.

The Kellers reported that merchandise taken included a 19" colored TV with remote control, one portable 13" colored TV, two VCR units with 14-day program timer plus 6-function control, four super Avilyn video cassettes, and two Muraphone cordless telephones.

Sheriff Rainey said the first call of attempted burglary came from Clyde Ingram at 9 a.m. when he opened City TV and Fabrics. A glass panel was broken out of a sliding door on the north side of the building, but the door could not be moved.

An attempt was made to pry open the metal back door of Parsons Drug, and although it was

WTSU Presents Cancer Workshop Here March 7

The West Texas State University School of Nursing Department of Continuing Education will present a continuing education workshop, "Cancer and Chemotherapy", in cooperation with Collingsworth County Hospital, in the Heritage Room, Wellington State Bank, 1000 8th St., Wellington, on Thursday, March 7 from 6-9 p.m. The workshop is aimed at RNs, LVNs, nursing students, nurse assistants, and allied health personnel.

This workshop will provide an overview of the cancer problem by identifying major malignancies, disease treatment, and common side effects. The categories of anti-cancer drugs with nursing assessment and interventions of major side-effects will be discussed in detail.

Diane Ash, RN, C.S., is currently the Nursing Coordinator of the Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center in Amarillo. She is also an instructor in oncology nursing at WTSU. She obtained a masters of nursing from the University of California at Los Angeles. Her BSN was earned at Baylor University in Waco. She holds current A.N.A. certification as a Clinical Specialist in Medical-Surgical Nursing and is an Oncology Clinical Nurse Specialist as well. In addition to teaching in the graduate program at the University of Oregon at Portland, she has worked as an oncology nurse at the G.C. Morton Cancer Research Center in Dallas and the UCLA Medical Center in Los Angeles.

The Texas Nurses Association has approved this offering for 3 contact hours for RNs enrolled in their CEARP program.

The registration fee is $20 for health care workers and $10 for students. Pre-registration may be made by calling (806) 656-2441 or mailing the registration fee with your name, address, and phone number to: Continuing Education, School of Nursing, W.T. Box 532, Canyon, TX 79016. Enrollment is limited.

Bird Checklist Now Available

AUSTIN - Serious birders or those considering taking up bird watching as a hobby may wish to obtain a new free booklet from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

A Checklist of Texas Birds is a handy 36-page booklet designed for recording bird observations by location or in a diary fashion. It includes an accurate listing of Texas' birdlife with both scientific and common names.

To obtain copies, write to Park Operations, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744.

Amarillo Art Center Plans Onderdonk Exhibit

The Amarillo Art Center announces the premiere showing of the exhibition "Julian Onderdonk: a Texas Tradition," organized by the Art Center in observance of the upcoming Texas Sesquicentennial. The exhibition consists of 50 works by Texas artist Julian Onderdonk (1882-1922), one of the Southwest's leading landscape painters. The show will be on exhibit at the Art Center from January 26 through March 17, 1985, when it will begin an eighteen-month tour to seven other Texas institutions. Curated by Al Kochka and Jerry Schefcik, the exhibition is being made possible by the Meadows Foundation of Dallas.

Robert Julian Onderdonk was born July 30, 1882, in San Antonio, the son of artist Robert Jenkins Onderdonk. He showed an early interest in art, and received his initial training from his father. He studied briefly at the Art Students' League in New York, but his most influential teacher was William Merritt Chase, who advocated painting out-of-doors in a direct approach to nature. After several years trying to support himself and his family in New York, he returned to Texas, where his fresh, impressionistic renderings of the native landscape quickly gained popularity. His success brought him many imitators, and his influence on Southwestern landscape painting can be seen to this day. He organized art exhibitions for the Dallas Fair every year from 1906 until 1922, with the exceptions of 1915 and 1918. He died at the age of forty of an intestinal obstruction on October 27, 1922. His works are in many public collections, including the Dallas Museum of Art, the Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, the Los Angeles County Museum of Art and the San Antonio Museum Association.

"We've received a lot of cooperation from private collectors as well as museums," said co-curator Jerry Schefcik. "There's a feeling among collectors and historians that Julian Onderdonk's importance as an American artist has gained more appropriate recognition in recent years."

Accompanying the exhibition will be a fully illustrated catalogue with a biographical essay by Cecelia Steinfeldt, Senior Curator, San Antonio Museum Association.

In addition to the Amarillo Art Center, the exhibition will travel to the Rosenberg Library, Galveston; the Archer M. Huntington Gallery at the University of Texas, Austin; the D-ART Visual Art Center, Dallas; the Art Institute for the Permian Basin, Odessa; the Nave Museum, Victoria; McAllen International Museum, McAllen; and the Museum of Texas Tech University, Lubbock.

opened about an inch and a half, entry could not be gained.

The burglar alarm protecting the store did not operate, according to Lyndon Crelia, owner, who reported the attempt when the store was opened Saturday morning.

The burglars were also unable to pry open the metal and woodbacked door of Pam's Jewelry, Gifts and Flowers, although the door was ruined, the sheriff said. Pam Sherwood is the owner.

Sheriff Rainey said he had no suspects at this time.

In a separate and unrelated incident, a vacant house belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Christian was vandalized Saturday night, March 2. This is located 3/4 mile west of 1st and Haskell Streets. Several windows were broken and a back door kicked open.

Burglars have been reported recently in most surrounding towns, including Shamrock, Clarendon and Childress.

Link Found Between Diet, Mood Changes

COLLEGE STATION - Caffeine and refined carbohydrates may cause emotional disturbances such as depression, lack of vigor and anxiety in certain individuals, the preliminary results of a Texas A&M University study indicate.

"For some time the effects of diet on behavior and emotional state have been debated. Opinions on the issue range from skepticism to testimonials on the theory's validity," said Dr. Larry Christensen, professor of psychology at Texas A&M, who has conducted the research for the last two years.

Christensen said his research "documents the beneficial effects of dietary change in a small sample of individuals" and is one of the first studies to show a definite relationship between diet and mood disturbance.

In addition, Christensen has developed a test which he says shows strong evidence of being able to pinpoint individuals who suffer negative effects from consuming caffeine and refined carbohydrates such as table sugar.

agriculture has authorized the Texas Wheat Producers Board, under the provisions of the Texas commodity referendum law, to conduct the referendum as to whether wheat producers outside the 34 county area want to join the board in participating in a 5-mill-per-bushel self assessment to promote research, education and market development. The board is also authorized to have an election in the new territory to elect 6 members at large to a new 15-man statewide board.

Date of the referendum will be April 22. All farmers subject to pay an assessment, should it pass, have the opportunity to vote. If the new area passes, it will give them a say in the board.

Foreign market development programs account for the largest annual expenditures of the wheat board, according to Nelson.

The endeavor, in cooperation with other state boards and commissions through U.S. Wheat Association, has helped to push Texas wheat exports to 90 percent of the total crop.

Smoke detectors are the single most effective safety device in most homes. They are designed to warn us before tragedy strikes. They save lives and property.

Where should they be installed? The basic rule is one smoke detector for each level of your home. Of course, if you have a spread-out ranch house, each sleeping area should have its own detector.

Because of air currents, the detector should be on the ceiling or wall, at least 6 to 12 inches from where they meet.

Avoid installing a smoke detector in front of an air supply duct outlet or between the bedroom and the furnace cold air return, because this may interfere with smoke reaching the sensor.

Avoid a smoke detector close to the kitchen; it will go off every time you grill a steak. But do have one situated to monitor basement hazards such as furnace and hot water heater.

Seed Rangeland to Boost Forage Yield

COLLEGE STATION - Since last year's drought took a heavy toll of ranges over most of Texas, ranchers may want to consider a seeding program to boost rangeland in 1985.

Range seeding is usually done in late winter or early spring, but now is the time to begin planning, says Dr. Tommy Welch, range brush and weed control specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The first decision that a rancher must make is whether or not to seed. Seeding or rangeland is expensive and the risk of failure is always present, Welch points out.

To begin, evaluate the quantity and distribution of desirable plants currently present, notes the specialist. If desirable plants make up less than 10 to 15 percent of the vegetation, seeding is probably necessary. Ranges can be improved by grazing management if desirable plants are uniformly distributed and make up more than 10 to 15 percent of the vegetation.

Welch says that seeding is usually necessary following a brush control method such as root-plowing that destroys existing turf. Also, seeding is usually the most effective way to establish desirable vegetation on abandoned cropland.

He recommends seeding only on better sites to insure reasonable chances of success. Steep, potentially erosive sites should not be disturbed. Seeding range sites that receive runoff water usually provides good results.

Species and varieties of plants selected for seeding must be adapted to the area's soil, climate and topography. Also, plants selected should be easily established, palatable to animals, relatively productive, able to withstand invasion by undesirable plants, able to withstand moderate grazing and able to prevent erosion under moderate grazing. Welch advises ranchers to check with their county Extension agent or local Soil Conservation Service office for plants adapted to a specific area.

Plant seed into a well prepared seedbed. An ideal seedbed is firm below seeding depth and free from live plant competition and has moderate amounts of mulch of plant residue on the soil surface.

The ideal seedbed can be prepared on abandoned cropland without undue expense. On rangeland, however, the ideal seedbed is a goal seldom attained because of expense and expected return. So, prepare the best seedbed that available resources will allow, suggests Welch. For example, rootplowing followed by rouer chopping or chaining is an acceptable method of seedbed preparation on brush infested rangeland.

The two most common methods of seeding rangeland are broadcast and drill, notes the specialist. Broadcasting places seed on the soil surface while drilling puts seed into the soil. Drilling is a superior method of seeding where a drill can be used. However, broadcast seeding by aerial or ground application is often used on rangeland because most drills are not sturdy enough to be used on rough rangeland.

When to seed is important. Start seeding at the beginning of a period that will provide the best growing conditions for the slowly developing seedlings, suggests Welch. Warm season plants grow in the summer and will make the best and most vigorous growth is seeded in late winter or early spring. A late summer or fall seeding date for cool season plants may be best because young seedlings may not be able to tolerate hot, dry summers.

A newly seeded area will need protection from grazing until seedlings are established. Length of deferment from grazing will vary. With exceptionally good growing conditions, deferment through one growing season may be sufficient. During periods of harsh growing conditions, two or three years of deferment may be necessary to allow seedlings to establish.

Weed control measures such as mowing, shredding or use of herbicides may be necessary during the first growing season to allow seeded species to become established, adds the specialist. Seeding can rejuvenate poor ranges, but proper planning and use of correct plant material and seeding methods plus good management are essential.

Due to my health, I am retiring. I have sold my interest in H&M Heating and Air Conditioning to Rick Molsenbocker and Redgie Souder. If you continue to patronize them, you will continue to receive the same courteous, efficient service you have in the past. I want to say a sincere thanks to all my friends and customers for their patronage thru the years.

City to Press 100 Tax Suits

The city council Monday night authorized City Manager Glen Taylor to file suit on 100 parcels of land on which delinquent taxes exist.

When this is completed it will clear all property on which there are delinquent taxes. Prior to this time, the suits have been filed a few at a time, over a period of many months.

Taylor told the council that District Judge John T. Forbis has agreed to hear the entire 100 suits in one session.

The county and Wellington Independent School District are parties to these tax suits, although city secretary Nell McKinney will do most of the paper work preparing the suits for filing, according to the city manager.

Funds from the tax sales are divided equally by the three entities.

The major advantage of these sales is to get the property into the hands of new owners and back on the tax roll.

Above Ground Dump Designed

COLLEGE STATION - A design for above-ground "landfills" for chemical wastes, which could solve the problem of contaminating underground water, has been developed by a Texas A&M University soil and crop scientist.

"The idea is to take a sloping piece of land and make it as impermeable as possible using compacted clay or plastic. A gravel drain is placed on top of the impermeable area, the solidified waste is then mounted on top of the gravel drain and a cap of clay or plastic and soil is then put in place," said the concept's developer Dr. Kirk Brown.

Trinity Bible Study to Begin Tuesday Night

A 6-weeks Trinity Bible Study Course will be held at 1st United Methodist Church, beginning Tuesday, March 12, the Rev. Tom Thomson, pastor, announced. They will be in the fellowship hall.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by Don Reeves

STATE WHEAT REFERENDUM IS MEETING TOPIC

Texas wheat producers will vote in April to decide if they want to expand the check-off territory from the existing 34 counties under the jurisdiction of the Texas Wheat Producers Board.

To learn more about the upcoming wheat referendum, producers in Collingsworth and surrounding counties will want to attend an informational meeting sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service on March 13 at Wellington.

The meeting will be at the Bura Handley Community Center and will start at 7:30 p.m.

Producers will hear from an Extension economist regarding the current wheat situation, outlook and changing wheat production trends in the state. Also, the mechanics and timing of the referendum voting process will be discussed, including recent changes in the commodity referendum law.

Following these discussions, Texas Wheat Producers Board representatives will present information on the existing wheat check-off program and the potential outcome of a total statewide effort. There will be ample time for questions from producers regarding the program.

For additional information, please contact the county Extension office at 447-2313.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Attorney General Auditors Look at Co. Tax Office

Auditors from the Texas Attorney General's office investigating shortages in the Collingsworth County Tax Office last Wednesday, Sheriff John Rainey said this week.

The investigators took evidence with them back to Austin, and they will return for further investigation later.

The Attorney General's office has not filed any charges or issued a report on the matter to date.

Knowing English May Be Key to College Success

COLLEGE STATION - All the emphasis on the importance of science and math in paving the way for success in college and a high tech career may be overlooking the true key to "making it", a Texas A&M University study indicates.

Good grades in high school English may be the best predictor of success in college, said Dr. Harold L. Pace, who conducted the research for his dissertation in educational administration at

Overhead Fans Help Save Utility Bills

COLLEGE STATION - The use of overhead fans could save residents of the Southwest up to 30 percent on their annual utility bills, the preliminary results of a Texas A&M University study show.

Researchers Larry Degelman, professor of architecture and of environmental design, and graduate students Syd Spain say the study is the first to look at actual energy savings due to the use of fans in the Southwest.

JON ERIC JENKINS

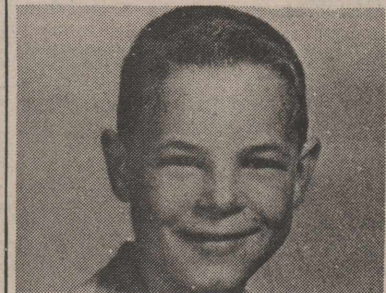

Jon Jenkins Receives Honors

Jon Eric Jenkins, 9, a third grader in Northwest Heights Elementary School in Duncan, Okla., has won recent school honors. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Jenkins and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hiett.

He won the Pee Wee spelling contest for his school in grades K through 4, and on Saturday, Feb. 16, he won 1st place in the county contest in the same category.

He was presented a certificate and the Durant Bank and Trust opened a $50 savings account in his name.

Jon Eric has also been a participant of Oklahoma's Gifted Program; winners of first place in Oklahoma's State Arbor Day poster contest, and he was selected Outstanding Student in his elementary school two years in a row for high academic standards in mathematics, spelling, reading and English.

Protect Your Heart

It is essential today that we are aware of heart problems. Much has been learned about how we should strengthen and protect our hearts. We know that smoking to excess is bad for the heart. Exercise is good for the heart. After all, it's the most important muscle in our body. Physical fitness is beneficial to overall good health and jogging or running has become an increasingly popular way to achieve it. Recently, however, many prominent heart specialists have favored WALKING over the more strenuous exercise, particularly for people with a history of heart problems. Consult with your doctor, and establish an exercise program that is right for you.

La Paisana DAR Hears Program About Gifts of Pioneer America

Mrs. James Ray Tindall and Mrs. R.A. Dodgen were hostesses when LaPaisana Chapter, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution met on Monday, March 4, in the Heritage Room. Colors of Irish Green and Leprachauns decorated the serving table.

Mrs. Walter Pendleton, regent, presided and led the opening rituals. Mrs. Les White led the group in singing "The Star Spangled Banner." Mrs. Boyd Derryberry read the minutes and correspondence. Mrs. Pendleton gave the president general's message and Mrs. Dodgen gave the national defence report.

Mrs. Dan Henard, Sr., chairman of American History Month reported on the success of Great American's Day in the elementary school on February 22.

Plans were made for delegates and alternates going to the State Conference in Fort Worth March 21 through 23. They are Mrs. Pendleton, Mrs. John D. McDowell, Miss Maudie Coffee, Mrs. Bura Handley and Mrs. R.A. Dodgen. They will be joined by Mrs. Roy McNett who now lives in Blanco.

The program was "History and Romance of Quilts of Pioneer America" given by Mrs. Derryberry. In the history of patchwork quilts, the oldest piece known to mankind dates back to 960 B.C., and it lies in a museum in Cairo, Egypt. It consists of skins of gazelles, dyed soft colors and stitched together to form a canopy that was held above the head of some Egyptian queen.

There are two kinds of quilts. The patchwork or pieced quilt is the oldest. This was the everyday bedcovering that was used in America before 1750. Later there were the appliqued and embroidered quilt, used only on special occasions and occupying a place of honor in the household.

Every woman, whether she lived in a very poor cabin or in a religious community that disapproved of beauty, maneuvered in some way to make one of these appliqued quilts.

As to the origin of quilt names—the early American was religiously minded as well as politically minded and also an outdoorsman.

These are reflected in quilt designs and names.

It is difficult to overestimate the community influence of the quilt. It was a grand excuse for the assembling together of the home-tied women for a "Quilting Bee". Perhaps a woman of the 20th Century realizes that there are many activities, family, social and political that make her life complex. If filled with tensions, there is no better therapy for a woman than to sit down with a needle and thread and stitch on a quilt block.

To highlight the program, a special guest, Mrs. John Jackson showed a number of her quilts, telling something of the history and the pattern she used for each one.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Louise Templeton, Mrs. McDowell, Mrs. Henard, Mrs. J.D. Coleman, Mrs. Pendleton, Mrs. Handley, Mrs. Velman Warrick, Miss Maudie Coffee, Mrs. H.H. Bowen, Mrs. White, Mrs. Derryberry and the hostesses, Mrs. Dodgen and Mrs. Tindall.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by Nancy Janes

VITAMINS: USE AND MISUSE

Before you reach for that bottle of vitamin pills again, don't you think you should know more about what you're taking?

The easiest way to describe vitamins is to say that they are chemical compounds of an organic nature. This means they come from living things - like the plants and animal products that make up our diet.

Shortages of vitamins are not a concern for most of us, if we eat a reasonably sound diet, because we require them in only tiny amounts. We need only a fraction of an ounce of all the vitamins combined from the entire amount of food we eat in a day to maintain good health.

Vitamins promote good health by assisting the major nutrients - proteins, carbohydrates and fats - to do their jobs. The fat-soluble vitamins, A D E and K, must be accompanied by fats in order to be absorbed into your body. Once there, they move about slowly and tend to settle into fatty tissue.

Home Delivered Meals For The Homebound

Thursday, March 7: macaroni and cheese with ham, carrot and cabbage slaw, black-eye peas, bread and butter, apple crisps, milk.

Friday, March 8: stewed chicken, broccoli, mixed vegetables, bread and butter, ginger bread, milk.

Tuesday, March 12: Pinto beans and sausage, summer squash, cucumber and onions, bread and butter, fruit cocktail, milk.

Wednesday, March 13: sliced turkey, peas and carrots, cabbage (cooked), bread and butter, spice cake, bread and butter, milk.

Thursday, March 14: fish portions, spinach, black-eye peas, bread and butter, prune-spice cake, milk.

Friday, March 15: meat loaf, beets and onions, stewed tomatoes and okra, bread and butter, spice cake, milk.

Carob and Cocoa Different Foods

Perhaps because of advertising, some consumers have the false perception that carob is nutritionally superior to cocoa, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist.

"When cocoa and carob are compared, cocoa is shown to have more nutrients than carob," says Mary K. Sweeten. Tests by the United States Department of Agriculture indicate that cocoa has more protein, calcium, phosphorus, iron, potassium, vitamin A, riboflavin and niacin than does carob powder, she explains.

Cocoa powder does contain more fat than carob, says Sweeten, which is one reason why some consumers select it.

However, the commercially manufactured carob products often rival those containing cocoa since vegetable fats such as palm kernel oil and coconut oil are added to make solid carob products. Both of these oils are more highly saturated than cocoa butter, she says.

Food products containing carob are often advertised as "natural foods," Sweeten observes. While some consumers may assume that "natural" foods are nutritionally superior to regular foods, this is often not the case, says the nutritionist.

Since there is no legal definition for the term "natural", Sweeten advises consumers to carefully read the food product labels before buying the food product.

Calf and Pickup Collide Friday on Highway 338

A pickup-calf collision which occurred at 10:30 a.m. Friday, March 1 left the calf dead and the right front of the pickup damaged, according to Trooper John James of the Department of Public Safety.

The pickup, driven by Alfonso Joe Robles of Dodson was northbound when he saw the calf start across Highway FM 338, James said.

Robles swerved the vehicle in an attempt to miss the calf but was unable to miss it. Robles was not injured.

Owner of the calf was identified as F.W. Reynolds, Jr. of Wellington.

The accident occurred 8.1 miles southeast of Wellington.

Students Compete in Practice UIL Contest

Wellington junior high and elementary students participated in the Canadian UIL meet held Saturday, March 2.

This is an annual meet held as a practice event for students who will compete in the District 2-2A University Interscholastic League meet in Clarendon later this month.

Junior High winners and participants were:

Oral reading, grades 7-8: 1st, Dana Isaacs, 3rd, Carrie Langford; 5th Scott Covey. Sharon Henard participated. Oral reading, grades 5-6: 1st Brent Duncan; Melinda Ornelas made the finals. Others participating were Brenda Forrester and Joe Bartlett.

Norwood PTO Makes Purchases

Members of Samnorwood Parent Teacher Organization meeting Thursday, Feb. 28, adopted the list of purchases which will be made from money raised at the fall carnival.

With LaDonna Oldham, president, in charge of the meeting, a patriotic program was presented.

The Pledge of Allegiance was given by the 3rd and 4th grade students, followed by a program on the history of the United States Flag and a sketch, "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Suggestions of the Project committee were adopted for purchase in the grades included: wall modules for the kindergarten, 1st and 2nd grades, also for 3rd and 4th grade classes; an elementary science kit, library books to coordinate with the 3rd and 4th grade textbooks.

Selections for high school were 5 calculators, two or three animal cages for the science lab, a 35mm camera, a jig saw, two tape measures, and if there is sufficient money, a microscope.

The committee also suggested that it would appreciate games in good condition that are no longer used. These will be for students on rainy days when they cannot play outside.

Kenneth Martindale, principal, announced that there will be two pee wee ball games with Lefors on a home and home basis.

The first will be at Samnorwood Tuesday, March 12, and the other at Lefors Thursday, March 14.

The room count was won by the 3rd and 4th grades.

Sarpalius Named to Major Committees

AUSTIN -- Sen. Bill Sarpalius, D-Canyon, has been appointed by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby to serve on the Senate Natural Resources, State Affairs and Education committees during the 69th session of the Texas Legislature.

Sarpalius' appointments for the current session, which began here Tuesday, are the same as those he had during the 68th session.

In addition, Hobby appointed Sarpalius chairman of the natural resource panel's Agriculture Subcommittee for the third consecutive session. Sarpalius said he is pleased with the appointments and is ready to begin his third session in the legislature.

"We're very happy to receive these appointments," he said after the lieutenant governor's announcement. "We look forward to working with our colleagues in addressing the important issues facing Texas."

Sarpalius also said he was pleased by the decision to increase the size of the Agriculture Subcommittee from three to five people.

"Obviously, it's gratifying that Lt. Gov. Hobby has recognized there are major problems facing agriculture and has acted accordingly in enlarging the subcommittee," Sarpalius said.

Other members of the subcommittee are Sens. Bill Sims, D-San Angelo, who will serve as vice chairman; Glenn Kothmann, D-San Antonio; Ted Lyon, D-Rockwall; and Hector Uribe, D-Brownsville.

Sarpalius went on to say the three committee assignments will be particularly appropriate this session, since each of the committees will play a critical role during lawmakers' 140-day gathering.

The Natural Resources Committee, in addition to hearing all agricultural legislation, will consider much of the proposed water package currently before the legislature. Many hope the package will guarantee an adequate water supply for Panhandle-area residents and the rest of the state in the years to come.

State Affairs Committee members will be hearing a number of major bills during the session, including the measure that would give voters a chance to legalize pari-mutuel wagering in the state. The committee also will consider Sarpalius' proposal to raise the legal drinking age to 21 by Sept. 1, 1986.

Sarpalius is the only member of the education panel with teaching experience, having been a vocational agriculture instructor at Boys Ranch High School in the Texas Panhandle.

Guests of Rebecca and Julian Castillo are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garza of Brigham City, Utah. Arthur is Rebecca's brother. Joining them for dinner Sunday evening were Victor and Elaine Garza and their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Jose Arredondo and their family visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cruses in Roscoe recently.

Lisa Cochran was home from college last weekend. Her roommate, Kindra Johnson, was a guest of the Bob Cochrans also.

Rev. C.M. Huff chose Psalms 23 as the scripture reading for the sermon he preached on the "Good Shepherd." Misti Beanland played a piano solo for the pre-Sunday School hour. Kerri Cummins played the offertory and also played a song on the cornet for the worship service. Sunday evening, Tim Hightower said a reading, Shane Smith sang for the worship service and Misti Beanland, Karla Huff, Kristi Huff and Kerri Cummins sang. They were accompanied by Mildred Cummins.

Kendra Johnson was a visitor.

Andrea Wood from Tennessee visited her parents Evelyn and Lynn Carter last week. She also visited her aunts, Mayme Lewis and Rosalee Roberson as well as the Fred Covey and the Art Kane families. Andrea returned home Sunday.

Kloette Camp was home last weekend. Her school at Miami was closed for spring break.

Bob Garton preached at the Church of Christ Sunday. Vance Hunt directed the singing.

Visitors were Lillie Ann Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Rogers, Sandra Wheeler, Pat Greenwood and Georgette Pond and Rhonda Shule.

Ben North preached at the Dodson Christian Center Sunday. Joe Cantu directed the singing. Their choir sang a special. Visitors were Joan Langford and Rachelle Ford, Modell Cleveland and Clinton Norman.

The church is practicing for a play and Easter Cantata. Several of the members are going to the Fred Johnson Concert at the Calvary Christian Fellowship in Shamrock Friday, March 15.

The Church of the Nazarene World Missionary Society is sponsoring a dinner Wednesday, March 20 at 6:30 p.m. at the Fellowship Hall. The missionary lesson will be on Mexico and her neighbors. Sherrell Beanland will be a guest speaker. He will tell of his travels to the country of Belize. A foreign dinner is planned.

The Church of the Nazarene choir members are practicing for the Easter Cantata.

The Yearly Rate For Service Has Been Changed to $48⁰⁰

This increase was necessary because each year fewer and fewer consumers pay for the service. We need at least 150 people to pay $48.00 by March 20, 1985.

Last year over $16,500.00 worth of improvements were made on the system and most of our reserve was used for that purpose.

If enough people pay their dues we anticipate adding an additional channel to our system. The application has been submitted to the Federal Communication Commission for license for this channel.

MAKING WAY...

The drawbridge makes way for the boat to come into the city and down the canal. Dredges make canals in open waters such as the gulf to make way for ships to travel an inter-coastal waterway. Police officers and secret service men clear a path in the crowds to make way for an important foreign potentate so that he might arrive at his destination.

Church members are the ones who can clear the way, and show the right path to those who have not found the way to our Lord.

Isaiah 40:3B reads, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God."

Support your church in every way you can. Ask someone to attend church with you this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The State Water Bill is now in a conference committee to work out the differences between the House and the Senate versions. My deskmate, Rep. J.W. Buchanan is on the conference committee. Following this, the bill will go back to each chamber for approval. This fall the proposition will go to all voters for their approval. The main provision which will be of help is the $800 million bond issue that will be available to cities to help construction of dam sites, the distribution of water, water filtration plants and sewage treatment facilities. After the bill has been passed by both chambers and signed by the Governor, you will be given more details about the plan in statewide publicity. The proposition will have a much better chance of statewide passage because of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and the Speaker of the House are the main sponsors.

The next most important bill that has come before the legislature is House Bill 316, which passed the House last week by a wide margin. This bill removed the mandatory treble damages in court judgments involving honest mistakes violating deceptive trade provisions of the Texas Insurance code. Trial lawyers presented a very weak defense. In the past, treble damages in other areas have been eliminated on this same basis in very hard-fought battles.

Within the next ten days the pari-mutuel gambling issue will probably be on the floor of the House. Two years ago this issue was tabled by two votes. I predict it will be very close again. Several years ago, both Democrats and Republicans placed this issue on their ballots and well over 60% of the voters in my legislative district were opposed. More recently, the Republicans placed this issue on their ballot and the issue was again rejected by the voters in my legislative district by approximately 58% of the vote. A poll on an official ballot in a regular election is about the only one you can believe today. Even then the wording on the issue can change the results. Everyday we get poll results on hot issues coming before the legislature. Pollsters can give the people for whom they are working the answer they want by wording the proposition.

Recently, I've seen polls quoted that Texans want the Homestead Law repealed. Most of these polls are run by financial institutions that are eyeing the $265 billion equity people have in their homes.

Letters From The People

Dear Editor:

I am 65, or will be within a few weeks, at which time I will be eligible for Social Security and Medicare benefits, and I question the fairness of the Federal budget balancing process vs. Social Security and Medicare, particularly as these programs relate to the aged.

To me, basic to a judgement about any situation is the truth about it, and from "truth" fairness is self evident.

First, the truths relating to my question as taken from the U.S. Census:

1. The over 65 year olds make up only 11% of the U.S. population, yet we own 63% of the wealth, leaving only 37% of the wealth for the 89% of the population under 65.

2. From the Grace Report, I see that I will get back from the under 65, the have nots, roughly 7 times more than I put into Social Security, and when these figures are adjusted for inflation and possible interest earned, I will still get back roughly 5 times what I have put in.

Is this fair? But before you answer this, there is more!

3. According to page 442 of the STAT ABS of the U.S. Census 1982-1983, 85% of us over 65 are well off without any social aid. I expect to be in the 85% side.

4. Also, on the same page of the Census Report, I note that for each "one" over 65 below the poverty line, there are 9 Americans under 65 living below the poverty line, 4.5 (or 2) of which are children, whose parents have to contribute to my Social Security from their meager earnings.

My question is - is it fair?

5. From recent studies, I note that at 65, we have the health equivalent of our grandfathers at age 45 years of age. Our biggest handicap is that we are too fat which becomes evident as we waddle to the front door to receive our "Meals on Wheels."

6. From the February 3, 1985 Dallas Morning News, I note that in 1985, 25% of the total Federal Tax collections will go to "Interest on the National Debt." Other than the Arabs who hold $328 billion of this debt, and with us over 65 holding 2/3 of all the U.S. Wealth - "guess who" this interest is going??

The only fair way to reduce social spending while at the same time balancing the federal budget, is to "means test" all social programs to and including Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid, and Veteran's benefits, etc., etc.!!

The only means test which is fair will test against "total ability for self support." A test which also includes such things as unearned income like rents, royalties, interest income, dividends and earned income of wages and salaries as well as including the total assets, but excluding "the homestead."

The "total income" means test alone will eliminate 85% of the aged from the social dole and balance the budget with money to spare!!!

The inclusion of the estate in the means test, other than the homestead, will even further eliminate the aged from the dole, and add to the budget surplus.

The current "means testing" of Social Security against only "earned income" of wages and salaries is unfair! It is particularly unfair because it hits at the very edge of poverty, disenfranchising Americans from the right to hold a job, who can work, who want to work, and most often, due to life's misfortunes, who needs work. For example, take the richest person you know, or have ever heard of, be he millionaire or billionaire with huge annual unearned income and even bigger assets, he can draw and is drawing Social Security provided his income is not wages and salary - that is, it is from rents, interest, dividends, etc. etc. Yet your elected politicians give you this and call it "fairness."

I think that "to freeze" social programs is unfair, because it also hurts the lower 15% who need them! Thus, I suggest that the only fair way is to "means test" all social dole against total ability for self support, excluding the homestead.

It is evident to me, that it is not the 15% of us who are "truly needy" who are sinking this great land, but it is the 85% of us who don't need social support, but are getting it!

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—When the Legislative leadership asked state agencies last year to prepare for a major belt-tightening, most responded with pleas for more aid, a reflection that budget realities had not yet sunk in.

That was never the case with State Comptroller Bob Bullock, the man constitutionally charged with keeping his finger on state government's economic pulse.

Last week, instead of asking for more money, Bullock returned $4.7 million to the Legislature, saying he had tightened his agency's belt and could "live without" the money.

He has set the example for fiscal behavior that the budget leadership hoped other agency heads would display.

"It's a pleasure to be here," Bullock told the Senate Finance Committee last week. "I've come here to give you $4.7 million back. That is $4.7 million the Legislative Budget Board recommended for us which we can live without."

Fiscal Warning

At the same hearing, Bullock warned senators of a continuing fiscal crisis for Texas government that is just starting and "it will be worse in two years."

Bullock also told senators that even though he recently terminated 11 district offices and 149 employees, he expected to bring $34.5 million in added revenues to the state due to automation and pay raises for well-trained employees.

This recent action by Bullock provides a dramatic contrast between him and Gov. Mark White, whom Bullock once hoped to replace. White campaigned on a theme of "no new taxes," but once in office he promoted a record $4.6 billion tax increase. Bullock has forecast fiscal conservatism and tightened his own belt first as an example for others to follow.

Ruffled Feathers

White, for his part, spent some time last week trying to make amends with state senators who felt left out of his appointments process.

Some feathers were ruffled because senators felt White did not consult with them enough in making his selections.

After a meeting with Senate deans Oscar Mauzy and Chet Brooks, White agreed to hire a liaison between his office and the senate.

The Way We Live Makes Our Electric Meters Run Faster!

In The Winter

Because the sun works less in the winter and we need artificial light, we use our electric lights more. And, since it's cold outside, we tend to go indoors and turn our thermostats up, so we can enjoy the comfort of generated heat. We also use electric blankets in the winter. Electricity can help make winter more comfortable in many ways.

In The Summer

Because the sun works more during the summer months and it's hot outside, we go indoors and turn our thermostats down to make our homes cool. Electric fans that help to cool our homes and electric gardening tools for grooming our yards, among other things, also help make our summers more pleasant.

All Year Long

Because we enjoy the convenience and comfort of:

electric blenders, can openers, clocks, clothes dryers, clothes washers, dishwashers, door bells, drills, fans, freezers, hair dryers, heating pads, hedge trimmers, irons, lawn mowers, lights, saws, sewing machines, shavers, stereos, televisions, toasters, vacuum cleaners, waffle irons, waste disposals, water heaters and other benefits too numerous to mention, we use more electricity.

Because we're human, we forget about these things until an electric bill reminds us.

WTU is proud to be able to supply all the electric energy you need, and we encourage you to use it wisely.

THOMAS' ROLL CALL REPORT

Your Congressman's Votes Reported Each Week

WASHINGTON—Here's how area lawmakers were recorded on major roll call votes during the opening weeks of the 99th Congress.

HOUSE

RULES By a vote of 176 for and 237 against, the House refused to consider a Republican package to reform many of the rules that govern internal House operations.

Voting yes: Beau Boulter, R-13.

Voting no: Kika De la Garza, D-15, Charles Stenholm, D-17.

INDIANA By a vote of 221 for and 180 against, the House blocked the seating of Republican Richard D. McIntyre as the representative of Indiana's 8th District.

Members voting yes wanted to keep the seat vacant until the House Administration Committee completes its review of the election.

Voting no: Stenholm.

Not voting: De la Garza.

Washington - Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes Feb. 22 through Feb. 28.

HOUSE

FARMERS By a vote of 318 for and 103 against, the House approved emergency financial aid to tens of thousands of American farmers, many of whom say they will go bankrupt if not immediately bailed out of their credit problems by their fellow taxpayers.

Members voting yes favored the bill.

Voting yes: Kika De la Garza, D-15, Beau Boulter, R-13, Charles Stenholm, D-17.

AFRICA The House passed, 391 for and 25 against, and sent to the Senate a bill (HR 1096) authorizing $175 million in emergency, non-food aid to African nations beset by famine.

Members voting yes favored the special aid to Africa.

Voting yes: De la Garza, Stenholm.

Not voting: Boulter.

SENATE

AID By a vote of 54 for and 45 against, the Senate approved a bailout program for hard-pressed farmers that was essentially the same as the rescue package approved by the House (above.)

Voting yes: De la Garza, Stenholm.

Not voting: Boutler.

SENATE

AID By a vote of 54 for and 45 against, the Senate approved a bailout program for hard-pressed farmers that was essentially the same as the rescue package approved by the House (above.)

Lloyd Bentsen, D, voted yes. Phil Gramm, R, voted no.

DEFICIT The Senate rejected, 43 for 55 against, an amendment to prevent the farm rescue plan (above) from taking effect if it would increase the federal deficit.

Senators voting no wanted the farm aid to be spent despite its impact on the federal deficit.

Bentsen voted no. Gramm voted yes.

Plans for Dodson Reunion, Homecoming Now Complete

Final plans for the Dodson School homecoming and ex-student reunion were made this week by the president, Edna Crow and the executive committee.

The reunion date is Saturday, April 6.

This will be an all-day affair with a catered noon meal by Nellie's Cafe.

"Several classes are making plans for reunions. All former teachers and students who attended Dodson School and all former residents who lived in the Dodson Community are given a special invitation to come and be with us," Mrs. Crow said.

A work day was held March 4, with Dodson and area folks meeting to renovate the American Legion Building. Last year, only half those attending the reunion were able to get inside, and plans were made to enlarge the facility in time for the 1985 reunion. This should care for the crowd that is expected.

All-day visitation will be the main event. Truett Holland will be master of ceremonies for the short program at 1 p.m. The Pride of Dodson with Ted Parker and the Light House Quartet will be asked to sing.

Classes of 1928 and 1935 will be recognized as the anniversary classes. The class of 1929 will be cited, as it was the first Dodson High School graduating class.

Additional secretaries added to assist with the work load. Truett Holland of Wellington and Edith Carter of Hollis will assist Jo Hunt, long-time secretary of the Dodson Ex-Students Association.

News letters will be sent to each graduate and to homecoming folks. Responses need to be in by April 1.

Mrs. Crow announced committee appointments: registration: Jo Hunt and Sylvia Dodson Claiborne, displays and exhibits: Vance Hunt, Howard Hunt and Lucille Covey Motesenbocker; door prizes, Elizabeth Hunt and Lucille Motesenbocker;

Anniversary classes, Merle Black and Edith Carter; Invitations: Jo Hunt, Holland and Mrs. Carter;

Dinner arrangements: Holland and Mrs. Crow;

Newspapers, Mrs. Carter. Nellie's Cafe will be open early for those who want to eat breakfast.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. in the American Legion building.

An effort is being made to locate the following ex-students:

1969: Vicenta Palacios.

1968: Truman Lewis and Janie Smith.

1967: Delores Placios.

1966: Foster Riley.

1963: Jerry Mann and Louis Wilkerson.

1962: Johnny Gollihare, Ina Mae Green Hensely.

1961: Carolyn Wilkerson and Ronald Floyd Teutsch.

1956: Jan Ford Lamden, Johnny Young Jessie.

1955: Bonnie Mae Weaver Ferguson.

1953: Melvysdine Vaughn Morrison.

1952: Chester Lemons, Mary Bogle, Brown and Eugene Newton.

1951: Mrs. John Wood, Georgia Lee Underwood Simmons and Dorothy Milner Enterline.

1949: James Kellison.

1947: Darwin Crisco.

1946: Mrs. David Lowell.

1945: Mrs. H.L. Ellsworth (Crisco) and J.E. Darnell.

1943: Estelle Atkins, Mrs. Robert Bush, Elroy Warren and Mrs. W.B. Thomas.

1942: Mrs. Bob Wright, Mrs. Margaret Winesman, Norma Copeland Caram and Tresia Davis Doolittle.

1941: Herbert Carter.

1940: Elva O'Brien Trapp.

1939: Lucy Kesler Roy.

1938: Helen Holloman Preston.

1935: Ruby and Clara Kesler.

Others being sought are Mickey Wynn McDaniel, Nancy Tipton Robinson, Plevna Stall Wynn, and Rachel Deahl Stinnett.

Cotton Producers Meeting Fri.

A cotton producers meeting for producers of Collingsworth county and the surrounding area will be held Friday, March 8, at 7:30 p.m. in Bura Handley Community Center.

The meeting will be under the direction of extension agent Don Reeves.

Speakers will be Dr. James Supak, area Extension agronomist from Lubbock and Dr. Carl Patrick, area Extension entomologist from Amarillo.

Dr. Supak will discuss cotton varieties, new tillage methods, weed control and marketing.

Dr. Patrick will go into detail concerning cotton insect control.

"Farmers are trying to cut down on production costs, and these two specialists have some information that can save any cotton producer a considerable amount of money," Reeves said.

Dr. Supak will talk with growers about new varieties of cotton plus the standard varieties being used in this area.

He will look at yield and quality, and cotton adapted to the southeast Panhandle. Some of the varieties he will cover were among those in the cotton variety tests and demonstrations in Collingsworth County this year.

Farm Demonstration handbooks will be distributed to farmers later this month, and in them growers will be able to review in more detail the varieties and practices that Dr. Supak will talk about.

Dr. Patrick will discuss in considerable detail field inspection of cotton, and explain how farmers can inspect their own cotton to determine the proper time and method of controlling damaging insects. "We believe it will be well worth the time of every cotton farmer to attend."

Both Supak and Patrick are considered among the leaders in their field of work in the Texas Extension Service, especially in the Panhandle area.

Coyote Control Meeting Called

A coyote control meeting between county and area ranchers and representatives of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is slated for Thursday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the county court room.

This was called at the request of a number of ranchers who report that livestock losses to coyotes this winter have been heavier than usual.

Purpose of the meeting is to come up with some method of control in the county.

James Smith and Mr. Wyannett of the Parks and Wildlife Department will discuss with the ranchers the avenues which may be pursued in the control of coyotes in range land.

All ranchers living in Collingsworth and nearby counties are urged to attend.

This county is not alone with the coyote problem, for it is occurring in most parts of the area. In some of these, counties have come up with the money to hire trappers.

It is pointed out that ranchers can put out cyanide poisoning, but it was strongly emphasized that any rancher using this form of coyote control must be licensed by the Texas Department of Agriculture. This type of poisoning is by means of a cyanide capsule on a spring loaded trap.

Shamrock Man Held Here on Rape Charge

A Shamrock man, charged with rape, is being held in Collingsworth County jail in lieu of $50,000 bond according to Sheriff John Rainey.

He identified the suspect as Calvin Meneffield, 26.

The sheriff said Meneffield is alleged to have raped a 26-year-old Shamrock woman on the Collingsworth-Wheeler County line road 1.5 miles west of Highway 83. This took place Thursday, Feb. 28.

The woman notified Wheeler county officers upon reaching Shamrock, but exact location of the incident could not be determined for several hours and Collingsworth officers did not enter the case until the next morning.

Because the rape took place in the south bar ditch of the road, it falls into Collingsworth County jurisdiction. Had it been in the north bar ditch, it would have been a Wheeler County case, Rainey explained.

Meneffield was arrested in Shamrock Friday morning on a warrant from Collingsworth County.

The collected bones of a 160-pound man weigh only 29 pounds.

scientific, economic or social nature," said Texas A&M President Frank E. Vandiver. "We are proud of our role and its contribution to the vitality of the state and nation in these areas."

"Cinderella" Production Thurs.

"Cinderella," an old fairy tale in a new setting, will be presented for the public Thursday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. by the Wellington High School theatre arts class.

The play, which is the school's entry in the interscholastic one-act play contest, will be staged in the school auditorium.

The date of the UIL One act play contest will be Tuesday, March 19, at Clarendon College.

This is a new dramatization of "Cinderella," and was first presented by the Dallas Theatre Center in 1981, said Gay McAlister, director.

Margo Duncan has the title role of Cinderella.

The cloakmaker is Sandra Culpepper, the dress maker, Trudie Baker; the shoemaker, Paula Chambers and the hatmaker, Lori Lacy.

Vanda Wood has the role of the fairy godmother -- in disguise.

Traci Hunnicutt portrays the stepmother; Pierre, the servant of the royal court, Tracy Day; the Queen, Paula Reynolds; trumpeter, loud but not musical, Jay Anders.

The part of the Prince is taken by Tommy Cochran; Blanche, the loud stepsister, Rosie Thomas; Agnes, the silly stepsister, Hope Thomas.

Members of the stage crew are Leesa Hithcock, Ashley Williams, Erma Barber, Amanda Massey, and the remainder of the theater arts classes who helped with props, and publicity.

"There is lots of scenery and music, and children of all ages will enjoy it," said Mrs. McAlister.

Texas A&M Tops in Texas Research Funds

COLLEGE STATION - Research funding at Texas A&M University during 1983-84 soared to a record $121.7 million, for a gain of nearly $18 million over the previous year - the largest increase ever for Texas' land-grant institution.

Last year, Texas A&M's total research funding of $103.8 million ranked it among the top 20 research institutions in the nation, and first in Texas.

"We feel strongly about our commitment to research as it applies to and complements the teaching function, contributes to our basic knowledge and helps solve problems of a technological,
