Returned Jap Prisoner At Calvary Baptist Crurch

DR. FRED DONNELSON

—o— —o— —o— —o—

Dr. Fred Donnelson, missionary to China, who for twenty-one months was held prisoner by the Japanese in Jap occupied China, will be the featured speaker at the Calvary Baptist Church tonight, Thursday, at 8:30 o'clock. Dr. Donnelson, who was an eye witness to much of the atrocities and cruelties of the Japs, will give in vivid detail stories which will almost make your blood run cold, and yet on the other hand thrill you at the miraculous delivering power of the great God of Heaven. He labored among the Chinese people twelve years before war broke out between Japan and our nation, and he has much praise for that gallant little people of China who know what war is, and who are dedicated to the final defeat of Japan.

You will see the picture of the exchange ship, Gripsholm, in this paper, which brought Dr. Donnelson and his family the last part of his journey from Jap occupied China. Dr. Donnelson calls the transfer from the Japanese ship to the Swedish ship "from the hell ship to the heaven ship." And after you have heard his story, you can understand why he call them thus.

Dr. Donnelson is a hundred per cent American, who loves his country fervently, and can tell you why you ought to back our war effort with all you have. And yet he is a real christian and Bible scholar, who gives honor to whom honor is due, and gives all the glory to his heavenly Father for his release from prison and return to America. By all means, hear this man, and be a better American Citizen and a better christian.

A BOY DIED LAST NIGHT

By JOHN HOAGLAND

Of The Louisville Courier Journal

A boy died last night. It doesn't make much difference now about his name. The important thing is that he died, in poignant and awful loneliness, out somewhere on a waste of sand, out in a starless silence, ten thousand miles from home.

"Missing in action," read on obscure line in this morning's communique. That was all. Now he lies there, crumpled beside the twisted wreckage that yesterday was his ship, riding high in the sunlit heavens. The fine head and the shining face and the broad shoulders remain only in a picture that looks out upon a quiet living-room on a shaded street an eternity away.

Last night, in those agonizing hours of unspeakable isolation, he went through a thousand deaths without the one thing that might have helped a little—the sound of a familiar voice, the pat of a friendly hand. Many people died last night in their beds at home, surrounded by those who cared. Last night he died in utter desolation, in unimaginable loneliness.

The pain was terrible enough. But then there had to be that dreadful burden of thought in those endless last hours. Mom and Pop. The flowers blooming again in the back yard. The good old roadster in the driveway. That last sweetheart kiss at the station. Those dances last summer. That half-finished letter in his blouse. All those plans for the future. Buddies back at the field, 500 miles across water, wondering. Couldn't somebody find him, please? The wracking pain again.

Too much for you, all this? But it really happened last night! just like that. If people could only understand it, if they would just grind deep into their thinking the stark, terrible reality of it, every petty, selfish interest would be swept away. They would hasten to forge an instrument of revenge that would wipe from the earth the traffickers in war.

If people who have basked and prospered and walked secure in a land that has felt no more than the shock of a Fourth of July firecracker since 1856 would understand about this boy, they would wait no longer for government promulgations and the urging of rallies. There would be no one left to think any more about what the war might do to his mere personal interest tomorrow or the next day.

People would rise up and demand that their government take anything, exact everything needed, make them walk, feed them the commonest fare, black out every city, take away every last penny of profit, render uncertain every complacent comfort and easy security, just to avenge that boy.

He died last night, you see. There's no way to get around that.

Kiddies, Fill Those Stamp Books Get A Bond

Practically every child in town has a War Stamp Book that contains varying numbers of stamps. Every effort to finish filling the book with stamps should be made. Gather up the extra pennies, nickles, dimes and quarters and complete the book you have started.

Only when the book is filled with stamps may it be exchanged for a bond. When you get your stamp book filled, take it to the bank, post office or Palace Theatre and exchange it for a bond.

Bond Sales Contest At Corner Drug

Employees at the Corner Drug Store are participating in a bond sales contest which will end July 1st. George McClarty, owner of the store is offering a $25.00 war bond to the employee which sells the greatest amount of bonds in the present drive.

McClarty is chairman of the bond drive in Burkburnett. He is giving much time and effort toward putting the drive over here and is receiving the cooperation of all committee chairmen over the town and also those in the rural communities. A very impressive display of bombs and bonds may be seen in the front window at the Corner Drug Store.

Mrs. W. T. Robison and sister, Miss Bernice Boles, of Newark, N. J., are here visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Robinson.

Barometer To Show Progress Of Bond Sales

A giant barometer to show the progress of bond sales in Burkburnett is being erected on the corner of the bank building. The Barometer will extend to the top of the building and as sales are recorded, the red mercury will be pushed up every day or so. Burkbrrnett's quota of $165,000 will be in large figures near the top, but space is being left to show figures above that amount.

The barometer is large enough to be seen at a distance and citizens are invited to watch the progress of the mercury on its upward trend. Better still, BUY MORE BONDS and watch it climb.

This piece of work is being sponsored by the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce.

Burkburnett Man Held In Tire Theft

The disappearance of two new automobile casings from a Wichita Falls automobile parts store during business hours about three weeks ago was solved Tuesday night, Woodard Bass, assistant county attorney, said.

A 23-year-old Burkburnett man was arrested by the sheriff's department and has been charged in a complaint filed by Bass with theft over $5.00.

The two tires were recovered.

Minister Varner Going To Electra

Minister Austin Varner, who has been with the Church of Christ in Burkburnett for the past 23 months, goes to Electra this week to be with the church there.

Under Mr. Varner's leadership, the church here has shown growth finanpially, spiritually, and in interest and attendance. Much progress has been made the past two years.

Bro. Wilhoit, who has been preaching for the Electra church, will preach here until a new minister is secured.

The church here is in good condition for the next minister, and for the revival meeting will begin the last Sunday in July. Bro. Raymond Kelcy, who has been here for the past two summers, will be the evangelist for the coming meeting.

The congregation here regrets the loss of Minister Varner but wish him success in his new field of work.

D. R. Peevey Sells Jewelry Store To Couch and Son

D. R. Peevey, who has operated a jewelry store and optical service in Burkburnett for the past 25 years, has sold his jewelry store, fixtures, equipment and tools and some stock to Floyd M. Couch and Son of Fort Worth, Texas. The transaction was effective last Monday.

Mr. Peevey is leaving this week for Austin with his family, where he will devote his time to the practice of optical service. This week he has been getting his business affairs in order and telling his friends goodbye. The ties of friendship that bound the Peevey's to Burkburnett have made it difficult for them to say goodbye. As they go to establish a new home in Austin, they take with them many fond memories of the twenty-five years they spent in Burkburnett.

Mr. Couch and Son will occupy the same location that Mr. Peevey used so long. They both are experienced jewelrymen and will endeavor to render the same high class service and workmanship performed by Mr. Peevey. They assumed control of the store Monday, June 12, and invite the public to call on them for anything in their line of service.

Mr. Couch will move his family here as soon as he can get his business affairs in Fort Worth completed. In the meantime, the junior member of the firm will operate the store here, pending the arrival of his father.

The Couches come to Burkburnett highly recommended by business associates in Ft. Worth.

The Burk Star will go to the Peevey's in Austin so they may keep up with the happenings in the old home town.

James Patrick Lytton returned home after eight days in the hospital. He is steadily improving in his home on 5th St.

War Bonds May Be Purchased At Three Places

Those who purchase bonds will find willing workers at three location down town who will assist them in making out the application. Then the bond will be filled out and delivered in short order as fast as the workers can get them completed. These workers are all volunteer and are thoroughly familiar with the necessary steps in making out the bonds.

Many of the bonds will be filled out at the bank, by bank employees, also at the post office. If it isn't possible to deliver your bond immediately, leave your application so the bond may be filled out for you. Your cooperation will be appreciated.

State Dept. Health Plasma Program For Civilian Use

Texas, one of the first states in the Union to establish a blood plasma program for civilian use, operates, through the State Department of Health, a well equipped and efficiently manned mobile bleeding unit which is sent upon request to any community desirous of its services.

Blood plasma banks have been proved an invaluable aid to all towns and hospitals where established. The giving of blood does not cause any ill effects to the donor and blood donors are usually pleasantly surprised at the painless simplicity of the bleeding. The process usually takes about thirty minutes from the beginning of the donation to the resumption of normal activities, and is without discomfort to healthy individuals who, incidentally, are the only ones from whom blood is accepted.

Regarding the importance of the blood plasma program, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has stated that the man at the front has long since learned to appreciate the value of plasma and would no doubt be grateful to know that it is available for use as needed by the family he has left, and to his home community.

Dr. Cox pointed out that the State Department of Health merely collects the blood and processes it into plasma, and then it is returned without cost to the community from which it came. Any civic group or other organization interested in public health may sponsor this program locally. Contact should be made with the local health officer who can make arrangements for service wherever requested.

Your Waste Fat Used In 37 Ways

There are 37 announced uses for waste fats collected by Texas housewives.

These are mighty important to the war effort. There are some more uses to which waste fats are put which are secret.

There is no substitutes for fats, hence the importance of the slow, painstaking and troublesome job of saving every drop of grease.

It is a job that everyone can do and it isn't the kind of job that is glamrized in Hollywood or heralded on Broadway. It is common work with a substance that is messy and hard to handle. It has to be done a little at a time. It would be easier to forget it all and let it go but out on the other end of the waste fat line are the boys and men who mean so much to America. They need it. It would be nothing short of murderous neglect and foolishness if we, the everyday people back home, didn't do our shore of a commonplace and nasty job.

4-H'ers to Produce Limit Of Meat

Determined to help to the limit in the extremely vital war job of providing maximum amounts of foods to "Feed a Fighter or More in 1944", legions of farm boys and girls are enrolling in the National 4-H Meat Animal Activity to gain practical knowledge in producing beef, lamb, pork and meat by-products.

It is estimated, on the basis of government figures, that total production of meat this year will be approximately 25.6 billion lbs. which will necessitate the slaughter of more than 22 million of cattle and sheep-lambs, 11.4 million calves and 104 million hogs. This compares with an estimated 17,027,000 cattle, 10,309,000 calves, 90,031,000 hogs, and 26,463,000 sheep and lambs from 5 million farms and ranches dressed last year.

As incentives to achieving outstanding 4-H meat production records, merit awards provided by Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago packer and chairman of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, will include silver medals to county winners, gold watches to state champions, and a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, next December, to the top rating participant in each of the four extensions. Three of the latter will be selected to receive $200 college scholarships.

Last years state winner in Texas was Oliver S. Grote of Mason.

DRIVE IT HOME!

"That's the way I like to see them," said Gen. MacArthur when he saw the rows of dead Japs in the Admiralty Islands. In this war—the costliest, cruelest war of all time—our boys must fight with savage fury. Kill or be killed! And on how well each plays his part depends the lives of many of his buddies.

Here on the home front, too, just cheering the attack on isn't enough.

That's why there's a Fifth War Bond drive now, a drive in which you're needed to support the men on the fighting fronts who are facing most treacherous forces America have ever met in combat. We on the home front can't let them down—and we won't. So resolve now to at least double your Bond buying in the 5th War Loan drive. This is time to do better than your best.

Social Security Cards Should Be Guarded

A social security account number shows that the worker has an insurance account with the United States Government, Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

Insurance policies must be protected and that is why they are kept in safe places. The social security account card is evidence of a worker's insurance policy with the government. Give it the same care as any insurance policy, advises R. L. Surles, manager of the Social Security Board's office, located at 412 Post Office Building, Wichita Falls.

For every account number it gives out, the Social Security Board sets up a separate account. The number on the card is the same as the number on the account. With the worker's name it identifies the account.

Old Age is not the only risk the account insures against. The purpose of this insurance is to pay not only a regular monthly income when workers are 65—and stop work, but to pay benefits to the family if the worker dies. These monthly insurance payments are based on wages in the jobs that come under the old-age and survivors insurance system. Every day's pay on such a job helps to build up this family insurance protection. Be sure that these records are kept under one account number.

Families need this protection. When a worker or his family makes an insurance claim, his account should contain a complete record of ALL his pay in work that comes under the social security system. Even if he works only part time in such jobs, his wages should be recorded under his account. For further information, inquire at the Social Security Board office at 412 Post Office Building, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Congressmen Are Actively Religious As Survey Shows

A recent survey of the Senate and the House of Representatives has recently been released showing the Church affiliation of eacn of ous National Legislators. This is a nation founded on Christian principles, and it is significant that the percentage of Congressmen who are actively affiliated with some branch of the Christian Chirch is far in excess of the population as a whole. This might also be interpreted to mean that their religious life has helped in making them the great leaders that they are.

Paul exhorted the early Christians to pray for for the leaders of Government and each one should pray for our leaders today.

A GOOD SOLDIER OF CHRIST JESUS

LESSON TEXT—II Timothy 2:1-4, 8-12; 4:5-8.

GOLDEN TEXT—Suffer hardship with me, as a good soldier of Christ Jesus.—II Timothy 2:3.

"A good soldier"—what a wealth of meaning there is in that simple phrase. We think of our own hometown boys who have distinguished themselves in the service of their country, who have proved again that there is that in American life which can meet a crisis and do it well.

"A good soldier of Jesus Christ" is an even more significant phrase, speaking of that fine loyalty and devotion which Christians of all ages, yes, and of our day, are giving to the Captain of our salvation, our Commander-in-Chief in the great spiritual warfare going on in all the earth.

In our lesson we note that the soldier is—

I. Obedient (2:1, 2).

There is something to be done, and the soldier is enlisted for the purpose of doing it. In the case of the Christian soldier, it is to see that the gospel message which he has received is passed on to others.

Personal work is God's method, one man telling another, and another, and another. This is to be a continuous matter, not just now and then, and each one is in turn to become a soul-winner.

As each one wins others and the witness is multiplied by the law of arithmetical progression, the total result is tremendous.

Why, then, has the entire world not been long since completely evangelized? Because we who are Christians are not all obedient soldiers of Christ.

II. Loyal (2:3, 4).

No soldier can serve well with a divided loyalty. He cannot be running a business back home, or taking on outside interests to divert his attention. Being an efficient and useful soldier is his first and only business.

Have not the military authorities in this war asked those who are at home to keep the problems of the home and business out of the letters to men in the army? Do they not require a man to leave home and family and give his all to the service?

The soldier for Christ must please the Lord, even though it involve bearing "hardness." It is no soft and easy business to be a soldier. "Blood, sweat and tears" are the order of the day. Shall we not do as much for our Lord?

III. Prepared (2:8-12).

Training is of highest importance for a soldier. He must know what to do, and why he is doing it. He must understand the reason for obedience and the purpose of the warfare. In other words, he must be a disciplined man, prepared to serve effectively.

The soldier for the Lord is to "remember Jesus Christ," his resurrected Lord and victorious Commander. He knows for whom and under whom he fights.

He also knows (vv. 10, 11) that the message he bears is God's Word, and will succeed even though the bearer of it suffer and die. He is prepared to die, if need be, before he will deny his Leader (v. 12).

IV. Faithful (4:5-7).

Watch, endure, work, be faithful to the very end. Such is the obligation, yes, and privilege of the soldier for Christ. Paul was able to admonish young Timothy to such complete faithfulness because he had himself exemplified these virtues in his own life.

Those who are called upon to command men must themselves be good soldiers. There is an encouraging note from the battlefields of this great war. One learns that the commanding officers are at the front, not hidden away in dugouts far behind the lines. The men take courage as they see the bravery of their officers.

What that meant in Paul's case may be learned from the story of his life, which is condensed in a brief statement in II Corinthians 12: 23-33. He really endured affliction for Christ's sake.

V. Victorious (v. 8).

A nation at war can stand the strain and bear the agony if it can be sure of ultimate victory. The grave disappointment of losing a battle, or the deep sorrow of heavy casualties, can and will be borne for the sake of the final triumph of the righteous cause.

In the battle for Christ, we know that the result will be victory. The faithful soldier shares the fruits of victory. The Christian soldier shall one day receive from his Lord and Leader a crown of righteousness.

When will that great day come? When Jesus Christ returns (Matt. 16:27). He is coming again; first for His own, and then in glorious revelation of Himself as the judge of all the world. His victory over all His enemies will then be complete, and He shall reign forever and ever.

With Ernie Pyle at the Front

Tank-Destroyer Unit Is Very Proud of Its Guns

Combat Team Confident; Differs Little From Battle-Tried Outfit

By Ernie Pyle

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND.—I went out the other day with a tank-destroyer unit. They have been over here long enough to form an opinion of English weather but you can't print it in a nice newspaper like this.

It was the first time in ages I had been with a combat outfit which had not yet been in battle. There isn't so much difference as you might think. The really noticeable difference is their eagerness to "get a crack at the Jerries." After they have been cracking at them a few months they'll be just as eager to let somebody else have a turn at it.

Ernie Pyle

But outside of that they talk and act about the same as men who have been in combat. They cuss a lot, razz each other about their home states, complain about the food, take great pride in their guns, and talk about how they wish they were home, just as though they had been away for years.

This unit has been training together for nearly two years. They don't yet realize what a terrific advantage that gives them, but they will realize it as soon as they are in battle.

They are a vast team of firepower composed of dozens of little teams, each one centering around one gun. They have done it so long they know automatically what to do. They all know every man on the team and they know his personality and how he will react. They have faith in each other. Only those who have fought know what confidence that produces.

A typical gun commander is Sergt. Dick Showalter, (535 S. Gharker St.) Muncie, Ind. I have a special reason for mentioning him, For while I was talking with a group of soldiers he came up and introduced himself and said:

"I married a girl from your home town."

Now things like that are always happening to me, except that nine times out of ten the people are mixed up. People will come up and say, "Don't you remember me? I used to deliver papers at your house." And it will turn out they lived in a town I had never heard of, and were thinking of two other fellows.

When Sergeant Showalter said he had married a girl from my home town I slightly arched my handsome eyebrows and said, "Yes?"

"Yes," he said. "I married Edna Kuhns."

"Why," I said, "I was raised with the Kuhns kids. They lived just across the fence from our farm. I've known them all my life."

"That's what I said," said Sergeant Showalter. And then we left the crowd and sat on the grass, leaning against a rock.

Sergeant Showalter worked in factories before the war. He has been commander of his gun for more than a year and a half. He is a small fellow, quiet, serious, conscientious, and extremely proud of his crew and of the way they take their responsibility.

One of Showalter's best buddies in his crew is Pfc. Bob Cartwright of Daytona Beach, Fla. He is a cannoneer—a small, reddish, good-natured fellow.

When we met I said, "What's that you've got in your mouth?"

He grinned and said, "Chawin' tobacco." Which was just what I thought it was.

He manages to keep well stocked by trading stuff with boys who don't chew. Bob is very young. He didn't know much when he came into the army, but Showalter says he's the best there is now.

As I said the boys are very proud of their guns. They say they've had fine training and lots of practice on moving targets. They say that on direct fire they can hit a moving tank at about a mile and almost never miss. They're anxious to get at it and get it over with and get back home.

They know it won't be easy on the other side. They're living rough now but they know it will be lots rougher pretty soon.

As they say, the chow is bad here compared to what it was in America, but they don't complain too much because they know it's going to get worse.

They know they'll be on C and K rations, and they've had experience with them on maneuvers. But when I spoke of our best ration—the 10-in-1 field ration—they had never heard of it.

They have been working hard since they hit England. They've made long night trips and done a lot of practice firing and sometimes they have to work as late as 10 o'clock at night.

When I saw them they were making preparations for moving overseas. It takes a lot of work to get your equipment ready for an amphibious move. They've worked so hard they haven't had time to get bored. There are some American outfits that have been here for two years without action, and there are Canadians who have been marching up and down for four years. How they've kept from going nuts is beyond me.

The commander of the tank-destroyer battalion I have been visiting is Lieut. Col. Joseph Deeley of Sheboygan Falls, Wis. He used to run a wool-carding mill there. I like his attitude toward things.

When I first showed up he was perfectly courteous but he made plenty sure I had proper credentials and what not. As he said, they have had plenty of security preached into them back home, and this indeed is a critical period and he isn't taking any chances.

But once he had assured himself I was all right he called in his sergeants and told them to go around and tell their men they were perfectly free to show me any and all equipment they had and talk to me as freely as they wanted to.

As I told him later I don't think he need have bothered. For these boys, approaching war for the first time, pumped me so thoroughly on what war is like that I hardly got a chance to ask any questions of them. Maybe I'll have to write some security regulations of my own just out of self-protection. Who the devil is reporting this war, anyway?

One company commander, Capt. Charles Harding, of Olmsted Falls, near Cleveland, had just had a letter from home telling him to keep an eye out for me. He figured that in a war this big our paths would never cross, but they did.

Another Ohioan came up and introduced himself. This was Pfc. James Francis McClory of (6711 Guthrie street) Cleveland. McClory is what is aptly known in the battalion as a "character." He used to be a prize fighter. Being in the horny-handed world of pugilists, he has a great affinity for apes. There's an almost human ape at the zoo in a nearby city which McClory goes to see every time he gets a pass. He calls him "Alfred the Ape," and says he sure wishes he could take him back to Cleveland.

McClory used to work for the Cleveland Welding company, which made bicycles. When I asked him what he did he said, "Oh, I was just a hod knocker."

You can kid lots with McClory. When I went to write down his name I put "Sergeant" in front of it, and he said, "No no. I'd never get to be a sergeant if the war lasted 50 years."

So I said, "Well, 'Corporal' then." But he said, "No, I ain't even got sense enough to be a corporal."

So I said, "Well, we simply can't have you a private. What would the McCloys of the world think with you only a private?"

So we compromised and made him a pfc.

McClory is one of those guys who are good for the morale of an outfit. He is always doing or saying something funny. And he is a good soldier. He is one of the kind who are fanatically loyal.

He has a great affection for his company commander, Capt. John Jay Kennedy of (15 Fawndale road) Roslindale, Mass. Once when some gasoline caught fire McClory threw himself on the captain and knocked him out of the way, saving him from serious injury. Another time, when Captain Kennedy's mother was very ill, McClory took the last money he had and telegraphed home to his own parish to have a mass said for the captain's mother.

Life With the Tank Destroyer Units

English dogs have begun to attach themselves to the tank-destroyer boys, as they do to any and all camps of soldiers. These boys haven't actually adopted any of them as individual pets, because they can't take them along to the Continent. They say that in the States they had a number of pigs for pets. In that case you could have your pet and eat it too.

The top commanders who have toiled and slaved for months planning the second front have been under a man-killing strain of work and responsibility.

Thousands of men of high rank have labored endlessly. They are up early, they work all day, and after supper they go back to work far into the night. Seldom can you get one of them to take a day off

Making Slipcovers

ONCE you know how to go about it, it's really no trick at all to make your own slip covers! Thousands of American women are becoming expert home-decorators and upholsterers—the slipcover instructions in this design will show you how to cut, fit and finish covers for your chairs and sofa.

Magistrate Must Describe 'John Doe' or No Warrant

When a warrant is issued for the arrest of a person whose name is not known, the magistrate is required to fill in the name space with an adequate description of the wanted man instead of leaving it blank or substituting the name of "John Doe" temporarily, says Collier's.

If the justice fails to follow this requirement, he violates his oath of office and the warrant is invalid and worthless.

Arthur Urban Shop Foreman Gets Award

An award for meritorious service to the Army Air Forces has been granted Arthur Urban, foreman of the base maintenance machine shop, for the invention of a rivet-cutting machine which is said to save 80 per cent of the time formerly needed for rivet-cutting operations.

Urban's invention, which handles any size rivet up a quarter of an inch, weighs only 45 lbs. and duplicates a machine formerly used which weighed 385 pounds. The machine, which can easily be carried on planes, has only five working parts and no gauge to set.

Urban, who before joining the sub-depot here, was with the M&V Tank Co., Wichita Falls, is also responsible for several other labor and time-saving inventions, including a jig to take the firing pin, and piece that holds shell, from a carbine rifle.

Arthur Urban is the son of Mrs. Martin L. Urban of this city. He is a graduate of the Engineering School of Milwaukee, Wis., and studied draftsmanship at the University of Wisconsin.

Boys In Service.....

Ensign R. H. Henry, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Henry, Sr., has been assigned to the ship Augusta for some time. The Augusta was the Flag Ship of Rear Admiral Alan Goodrich Kirk, commander of one of the task forces that invaded France on June 6th. It supported Allied landings by bombarding the coast. The Henry family has not received any direct news from their son since the invasion started.

Lieut. Audrey Rogers, of Burkburnett, Texas, chief nurse of the Air Evacuation squadron stationed in India, has come to the conclusion it really is a small world.

She reached the decision the other day when her assistant handed her a bundle of bandages packed by workers of the Harris County chapter, American Red Cross, at Houston, only a short distance from her home.

She couldn't help thinking that she probably knows personally many of the volunteers who worked on the bandages, because she took her training at the St. Joseph Infirmary, in, Harris county.

The Texas bandages brought a twinge of nostalgia also to other Texans in the evacuation squadron. Maj. Morris Kaplan, unit commander of Bryan; Lt. Jeanette Gleason, 708 E. 26th St. Houston; Lt. Bernice McDonald, of Burkburnett, and S/Sgt. Joe Lea, of Marshall.

The evacuation squadron is attached to this Assam station in the India-China Wing of the Air Transport Command, the organization responsible for flying quantities of vital military cargo over the North Burma "hump" of the Himalayas into China for use by Allied troops fighting the Japanese. The evacuation unit cares for patients flown to base hospitals behind the fighting lines.

Notice to the Public . . .
I have sold my jewelry store to Floyd M. Couch and Son of Fort Worth, effective Monday, June 12, 1944. They assumed control of the business the first of this week and will continue to operate a jewelry store and repair service at the location I occupied for twenty-five years.
My successors are experienced jewelrymen and repairmen and can offer Burkburnett a creditable service. Any business you give them will be appreciated. They come to take their place in the community as citizens and to offer a service to the town.
As we leave Burkburnett we take many pleasant memories of our 25 years of association with the good people of Burkburnett.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Synthetic inner tubes need lubrication before being inserted in a casing. Partially inflate the tube and use ordinary pure soapsuds as a lubricant in the absence of a special tube lubrication preparation. Dry synthetic tubes do not "slide" in the tire and unless lubricated may not adjust themselves properly.

Proponents of the continuance of our synthetic rubber insurance policy after the war hold that jungle growth on the rubber plantations and the probability of the Japs wrecking the plantation equipment may mean a loss of two years before normal levels of rubber production can be realized.

New Candid Camera Shots of the Quints:
(Following Their Tenth Birthday)

In spite of the invasion of their realm by the five in Argentina, the Dionnes are still the only identical Quints in the world. And they ARE identical; outside their own immediate family there is practically no one who can tell them apart. Right to the day he died, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, the physician who brought them into the world, couldn't pick them. He could recognize Marie, but the other four all looked alike to him. They have always dressed in different colors to make identification easier, but they knew the doctor didn't recognize them otherwise, and they loved to switch dresses and fool him.

Even though they have been living normally with their family for the past two years, the Quints still act as a unit as against everyone else. They are normal, in that they quarrel, but these quarrels are very seldom among themselves.

Marie has the biggest fan mail. She is also the charmer when visitors come. It's unconscious with her, and this annoys Cecile, who thinks herself the personality kid. She tries too hard.

Emilie is the comedienne and a great mimic. The others look to her to give impersonations of visitors as soon as they've left, and it's uncanny to see how she picks up gestures and peculiarities for her performance. Cecile is very observant of vsitors' clothes and criticizes them with all the confidence in the world. She is the one of the five that tends to be a bit "catty."

Yvonne has most influence with the others, and if there is a difference of opinion, they do as she says. Annette is the competitive one, gets upset if the others beat her. She is not a good loser. Marie, who has always been the slowest and weakest, makes up for these deficiencies by being the daredevil of the bunch.

Many think the "Sixth Quint" is best looking of the group—she is Pauline—eleven months older than they, but just about the same size. She is in sharp contrast to their dark beauty, for she is a blonde with fair hair, fair skin and dark eyes. Of all the family she is closest to them and because she is such an unusually lovely child, sometimes takes the spotlight away from them. They have all but adopted her into the lodge.

Of their brothers and sisters, only the three oldest show any signs of regarding the Quints as "different." This is because they, Ernest, Rose and Therese, were old enough to be affected by the early quarrels among the pressure groups that surrounded the Quints until the last couple of years. Mr. and Mrs. Dionne do their level best to keep the five from being treated as different.

At the age of ten, not one of them has a cavity in a tooth. Dentists say this is due to scientific diet plus the fact they have always brushed their teeth. A couple of them may need orthodontic treatment—Cecile in particular. She is very conscious that her front teeth protrude a bit, and it bothers her no end.

The Quints' great ambition is to see New York. They have already traveled to Toronto and to Superior, Wis. New York is their next goal. Travel bothers them not at all; they are great troupers. But Mr. and Mrs. Dionne hate it. They get upset by excitement and the crowds and meeting strangers, and come back exhausted, so they refuse to take the Quints away from home unless it is for some patriotic reason like a Victory Bond rally.

Doctors for a time were a bit worried because the five were persistently overweight. Then they decided this was because their bony structure is heavier than normal. This, the medics think, is the result of the heavy doses of cod-liver oil they were given to combat the rickets they had at birth—they have taken cod-liver oil every day of their ten years.

Besides giving the Quints religious teaching, Bishop Leo Nelligan, their Chaplain, is head Roman Catholic Chaplain of the Canadian armed forces. His outstanding work has brought promotions until today he holds a unique rank in Canada—he is an Admiral of the Navy, a General in the Army, and a Marshal of the Air Force.

The Quints DO speak English and with a delightful accent. They know over 400 words. Their conversational English has been retarded purely because their mother still doesn't understand it, and so it is spoken but seldom in the home.

No, the Quintuplets haven't lost their looks or charm, as you often hear tell. It just appears that way in photographs because they all developed a self-conscious shyness so that when photos are taken, they just "freeze up."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Allied Gains Mark Italy Battle; Plan Four-Power Peace Meeting; 5,000,000 U. S. Men Overseas

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

EUROPE:
Allied Progress

Allied troops cracked the last German defense line on the western end of the front below Rome as enemy forces completed their withdrawal to the east, and the glittering dome of St. Peter's came first into view of fighting U. S. doughboys, wading through hails of Nazi fire.

As Allied forces closed on the Eternal City and the enemy fell back, U. S. and British bombers continued their invasion bombardment of western Europe, and Russian troops in the east withstood a strong Nazi assault designed to upset their alignment for their scheduled big push.

By pulling back the bulk of his 10th army which opposed the Allied onslaught in the Cassino area, Nazi Marshal Kesselring managed to save them from complete annihilation, but U. S. and British forces exacted a heavy toll in the desperate, rearguard fighting, and their battle-planes ranged along the whole line of enemy retreat, shooting up marching columns and vehicles.

As the battle-clouds rumbled over Rome, Pope Pius XII appealed against the principle of total victory, declaring: total victory or complete annihilation ". . . works as a stimulant for prolongation of the war, even with those who . . . would be inclined to a reasonable peace."

Over There

With 3,657,000 U. S. army men overseas, Secretary of War Henry Stimson declared that they are ". . . poised to strike victory winning blows against Germany and Japan by land, sea and air."

At the same time, the navy revealed that it had 1,566,000 men afloat or on foreign duty, with 900,000 more in transit or in training for combat service.

The army's 3,657,000 men overseas represented 47 per cent of total strength, and this would be boosted to 5,000,000 men, or two-thirds of total strength, by the end of 1944, Secretary Stimson said.

Declaring that disposition of troops overseas was in conformance with plans of the high command, Secretary Stimson said early transport of forces was to plug holes in the Allies' tottering lines, and later shipments were to crack the Axis' outer defenses for the grand assault, for which preparations long have been under way.

GOVERNORS:
State Program

Meeting in Hershey, Pa., the nation's governors called upon the federal government to formulate a postwar policy on public works which might possibly fit into their own extensive plans for such projects.

In addition, the governors declared for:

1. The individual states continued administration of unemployment insurance in the estimation of their probable postwar unemployment and the solvency of their insurance funds, the provision for adequate reserves, and development of plans for quick payments;

2. Future convocation of a federal-state tax parley to overhaul the nation's entire tax structure and provide each governmental division with sufficient funds for operation;

3. Postponement in the formulation of a postwar military policy and army until the war's end offers an opportunity to judge the extent of our responsibilities. Retention of the national guards as provided in the act of 1916.

MISCELLANY

WHEEL TRACTORS: During the week ending May 27, production of farm-type wheel tractors reached the highest point yet attained. In that week 6,098 units were made, the War Production board reports. Average for the preceding five weeks had been 5,906 tractors. Total made in 11 months since the start of the farm year on July 1, 1943, is about 200,000 machines

FOREIGN POLICY:
F. D. R.'s Stand

Closely paralleling the Republican party's celebrated Mackinac Island declaration on foreign policy, President Roosevelt declared for maintenance of U. S. sovereignty or self-determination in the activities of any postwar organization to secure peace.

Said Arch-Nationalist Gerald Nye (N. D.): "It is only too apparent in the light of his statement, that the door has been opened for Roosevelt to become the No. 1 nationalist or isolationist in the campaign next fall if the Republicans adopt a platform tying them to internationalism. . . ."

President Roosevelt's declaration came during the course of a press conference, in which he envisaged an international organization of nations cooperating freely and closely in the preservation of peace to prevent future aggression.

New Procedure

President Roosevelt made his statement shortly after Secretary of State Cordell Hull had issued invitations to Great Britain, Russia and China to participate in discussions of forming a postwar pesce organization following consultations with members of the senate's foreign relations committee.

By conferring with the senators, the administration sought to eliminate partisanship from the formulation of postwar foreign policy, and, also, avoid Pres. Woodrow Wilson's mistake of seeking senatorial sanction for the World War I Peace Treaty without previously consulting the chamber on its provisions during its composition.

In Secretary Hull's talks with the senators, it was revealed that some of them objected to formal commitment to any organization of enforcing postwar peace until the U. S. was apprized of the nature of the final settlement.

PACIFIC:
Bloody Episode

Bloody as any of the fighting in the South Pacific was the U. S. thrust against the enemy airfield on Biak island off Dutch New Guinea, with reinforcements called in to aid in the suppression of the stubborn foe.

With access to the airfield along a roadway below a commanding ridge doughboys found themselves under sight of entrenched enemy snipers in the brush above, and when they climbed to the level of the airdrome, they encountered formations of Japanese tanks.

Under cover of the big guns of the 7th naval fleet, however, reinforcements were landed, and doughboys again pressed on the airfield, capture of which would assure the U. S. of another link in the chain of air bases being established in the northwestern New Guinea area for cover for the grand assault on the Philippines or Indies.

PRICE CONTROL:
Parity Problem

Extension of the OPA for 18 months appeared certain only after a bitter fight over Sen. John Bankhead's amendment, calling for readjustment of textile prices to reflect parity returns on cotton to farmers.

Headed by Sen. Robert Wagner (N. Y.), opponents of the Bankhead amendment claimed that it would lead to similar demands by other segments of industry, thus increasing the general price level, giving rise to pressure for higher wages, and, in all, destroying the economic stabilization of the last few years.

In advocating approval of the amendment, its supporters pointed out that the original stabilization act directed that ceilings were to reflect parity prices for farm commodities. Supporters also contended that readjustment of prices of cheap textiles would lead to the greater production of such goods, thus directly benefitting low income groups now compelled to purchase higher quality material.

War-Planes

American aircraft factories are now turning out far more war planes than both Germany and Japan combined, latest reports show. The United States is now producing at the rate of 100,000 planes a year, as compared with 21,600 for Germany and 14,000 for Japan.

The British empire and the United States together have made about 300,000 planes since Great Britain entered the war, while the Axis reportedly produced 151,000 in the same period.

LABOR:
Pressure Effective

As a result of strong union pressure exerted by 8,000 members of the CIO's United Automobile Workers, government agencies announced plans for the resumption of operations at two plants of the Brewster Aeronautical Corp. in New York and Pennsylvania.

Brought to a head when 5,500 UAW members of Brewster's New York plant refused to leave the premises for two days after being discharged due to the navy's cancellation of contracts with the company for Corsair airplanes, the War Production board determined to reopen the plant for the manufacture of spare parts if other concerns making Corsairs can use them.

Earlier, the navy announced it would take over Brewster's Pennsylvania plant and keep its 2,500 employees working.

PEARL HARBOR:
Trial Delay

Efforts of Sen. Homer Ferguson (Mich.) to direct the secretaries of war and navy to institute court martial proceedings against Adm. Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short for the Pearl Harbor debacle were frustrated by the senate's judiciary committee.

Instead the committee approved a resolution calling upon the secretaries to immediately begin an investigation into the catastrophe, with a view toward ordering court martial proceedings if justified by the facts uncovered.

During the course of the committee's deliberations, it was revealed that Kimmel was anxious to be tried in open court whenever a trial might be held without impairing the war effort. Declaring that any delays might be personally disadvantageous to him because of difficulties of later assembling evidence and witnesses, Kimmel said that the whole story of Pearl Harbor has not been told.

Fifteen Husbands

When the government discovered that it was sending four dependency allotment checks to one woman who claimed to be the legal wife of four soldiers, the FBI undertook an investigation.

Upon probing the case, the FBI learned that not only had red-haired, 35-year-old Marion Horn been married to the four servicemen without bothering to divorce any of them, but she also had been wedded to 11 other men without a legal separation in any case.

Charged with fraudulently receiving benefits under the servicemen's dependents' allowance act, Mrs. Horn remarked about her marriage activities by declaring: "I didn't mean to do anything wrong. I just didn't bother with divorces."

Said her 15th husband, serving in the marine corps: "She is a fine woman, but a little absent-minded . . ."

SUPREME COURT:
Forced Testimony

Although the federal government itself cannot accept evidence against an individual which it obtains against his will, it can use such evidence if supplied by state officials and turned over to it for a trial, the Supreme court ruled in a divided opinion.

In a seven to one decision, the court upheld Wisconsin's 3 per cent tax on dividends paid out of earnings within the state on the grounds that: ". . . It (Wisconsin) has afforded protection and benefits to . . . corporate activities and transactions within the state . . . giving rise to the income of stockholders. . . ."

In dissenting against the majority's opinion in the first case admitting an individual's forced testimony in federal courts if obtained by state officials, the minority declared: " . . . The use of testimony obtained by compulsory discovery to convict an accused must be considered 'shocking to the universal sense of justice' and offensive to the common and fundamental ideas of fairness and right."

CHINA:
New Drive

As the Chinese pressed their drive in the southwest to join up with Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's forces in Burma and open a supply road to the embattled country, no less than 180,000 Japanese opened a big offensive farther to the east in an apparent effort to counteract any projected Allied operations resulting from new communication lines.

The Jap offensive got under way shortly after the loss of momentum of their previous drive farther to the north.

Already firmly in control of the northeastern section of China where the rich resources and abundant manpower have been put to work in the Japanese industrial machine, the enemy's new drive appears designed to thwart any Allied push to open up the coastal country in the region and use it as base for general operations on the mainland.

OLD AGE

The average monthly check to persons receiving old age assistance from state bureaus was $26.99 in February. The southwestern states disbursed the most, with California paying $47.14 and Colorado $41.17. Arizona doled out $38.29.

The southern states were at the other end of the scale. Mississippi paid the lowest sum, $9.72, and Kentucky came next with $10.64. Louisiana topped this section with $21.29. Middlewestern states ranged from $22 to $30 in payments.

ROOSEVELT-CHURCHILL AGAIN

Churchill's recent "powerhouse" speech before Commons didn't click with persons high up in the administration. Actually, it brought out the growing differences between him and the President, also his spats with Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, also the importance of overhauling U. S.-British political relations. (Administration permanent peace ideas are much nearer those announced by Eden the day after Churchill, when he went out of his way to emphasize the cooperation of smaller countries with the Big Four.)

Here are some of the differences which realistic advisers inside the administration have been wanting to have straightened out with Churchill for some time:

1. American boys will never fight to protect India in the future, so it is foolish to let Churchill think that Britain and the U.S.A., through alliances with Russia, can help guarantee the Empire. The only protection to India must be a healthy India willing to protect herself. When FDR talked to Churchill about India two years ago, the P. M. was almost insulting.

2. The United States will insist on giving Hongkong and other former Chinese possessions back to China. When this was proposed by the President at Cairo, Churchill flatly refused.

3. An alliance of big powers as proposed by Churchill cannot keep permanent peace in the world any more than the congress of Vienna, which divided up Napoleon's empire in 1815 among Russia, Austria, England and Germany.

4. President Roosevelt, so far as he has thought things out, favors a peace machinery based on cooperation with small powers as well as big. He doesn't go for Churchill's Metternich idea of balancing the world among heavily armed big powers.

5. The old British Empire for which Churchill fought 50 years ago in the Indian northwest border wars, and in the Sudan and the Boer wars, will never come back despite his youthful memories. And the United States can never assume the drag anchor of helping to protect that kind of an empire in the future.

Finally, every time the British have been pulled into a war in the last half century, we have helped pull them out. Therefore we should have a large vote in the set-up which may make or prevent wars in the future.

Some of these general ideas were hinted to Churchill during the Cairo-Teheran conferences—with no very favorable reaction. It may be that in the near future they will be taken up again.

FULL PAY FOR RETIRED OFFICERS

Higher-ranking army and navy officers have recently discovered a neat way of retiring on full pay instead of ordinary retirement pay, which is only two-thirds as much. They go to the hospital a month or so before they are slated to retire for age, and then are sometimes able to retire with disability, which gives them full pay the rest of their lives.

This system is based upon the fact that congress recently changed the army-navy retirement set-up in order to aid wounded men. It was provided that a veteran might retire on full pay if disabled.

However, it was the intent of congress to aid young lieutenants and lower-ranking officers who usually suffer the highest casualties in wartime due to the fact that they have to be in the front lines.

Apparently, congress did not realize that, when a colonel or a general reaches the retirement age of 64, it is not uncommon for him to have arthritis, gall stones or some other disability which can be discovered at any army hospital a few months before he retires. This gives him full pay for life.

Another interesting angle to retirement pay is that an officer getting retired pay cannot take another job from the government and get paid for it, but he can take a job with a company under a cost-plus government contract. In this case, the government pays him two salaries, except that under the cost-plus contract a third party hands over the money.

His Day

er's Day, June 18th, finds its victim entrenched nly in the American home as Father is doing an share of the housework due to Mother doing of war work outside the home. There was a n they tried to keep Dad out of the kitchen and try to get him into it. This day was set aside in or the breadwinner. But today the entire family earn the bread with concentrated effort in aid-war effort. Yet all glory is not taken from the the family. Honor of the parent is a survival of fe down through the ages and not just a date we the third Sunday of June. In a high powered n, it sometimes seems that "Honor thy Father Mother" is about the only one of the Ten Com-ts that hasn't lost its meaning. This year, with extra burdens on Father, the pressure of living, bility and worry for his brood ,the gesture of this marked importance.

U. S. O. Picnic Enjoyed June 8th

Spring is here with all of its diversions. One of the enjoyable things of this season of the year is the picnics. The U. S. O. had a very enjoyable, old time picnic with all of the trimmings last Thursday night. There were some thirty civilians present and a good number of soldiers.

The brief program was built around the idea of the family. J. V. Brookshear played the part of Pa. Mrs. Hugh Preston was Ma. Aunt Susie was played by Mrs. Allie Chatham and Uncle Bob by Rev. DeVore. Mrs. D. A. Westborok took the laughs as Grandma. She had on a Mother Hubbard, high top button shoes, a sunbonnet and all the trimmings. In keeping with the present day trends the family was small, consisting of only two children, Kid Sister, played by Iva Jo Frields and Baby played by Dan Boden.

Mrs. Preston gave a very enjoyable reading, and Dan gave a reading and then sang "I want a Paper Dolly," as the family sat about the table, and the room was lighted by a kerosene lamp.

A picnic dinner spread on a ping pong table was ample for all and plenty was left over. It was a full and very enjoyable evening. Many expressions of appreciation went to Crystal Waddell for her fine work in planning the picnic.

Texas War Loan Quota Set At 464 Million

A state quota of 464 million dollars for the Fifth War Loan June 12, July 8, has been announced by State Chairman Nathan Adams of the War Finance Committee of Texas. This is the largest sum yet and the drive will be "a big and vital effort," Adams said.

Of the total, $236 million has been set for individual Texans alone, $125 million of this to be in Series E Bonds.

Counties throughout the state are announcing their quota now.

"It is going to be big and tough—the biggest and the toughes tdrive," Adams said in warning that all of the nearly seven million people of Texas must face th efacts.

But "it can be done," Adams insisted. "It has been proved."

He pointed out that during the Fourth War Loan more was raised than the total quota for the Fifth. The over-all goal for the Fourth was $395 million and Texans subscribed $480 million.

No one is exempt," Adams said. "Our boys are dying for you and for me. Think of the invasion and you cannot think of not buying war bonds.

"Our victory volunteers must, of course, do a large part in cutting out the great Texas market, he said in praising the past efforts of the victory volunteers.

"It will be a severe home-front test for every person in the state," he said.

REPORTS FOR ALL THE SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Only about 760 people in all the Sunday Schools last Sunday. Yes, some were kept away because of the harvest, but we wonder about the 2,000 who were not in the harvest fields? What will our answer be when we have to face the Saviour with such a failure?

The following is the report for June 4th, which was a pretty day.

BURK SOLDIER GETS HQ POST

Headquarters U. S. South Pacific Army Forces—

The army calls it supply, but to Pvt. Raymond C. Dorval, 21, Franklin, New Hampshire, it's eight hours a day of "Information, Please."

And to Private Charles R. White, 19, Burkburnett, Texas, it's a much bigger business than he ever expected to manage at 19. Although as a business administration student at North Texas State Teachers College, he had his plans.

Pvt. Charles R. White is the son of Ralph W. White, a graduate of Fairview High School, 1941. He attended Hardin Jr. College 1941-42. Here he was a member of the Blue Curtain, dramatic organization.

Pledged to Trojan Fraternity while he was attending N. T. S. T. C.

He entered the army June 25, 1943 and received his basic training at Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells, Texas.

The family is sending him the Star and he says he is receiving them and enjoying them very much.

"They want to know everything from the time of day to the address of a friend on the next island. One GI asked permission to buy a jeep. After this war, I'm a cinch for an information booth on somebody's railroad,"

Private White fell right into a laundry business, which he manages for the quartermaster corps. It's big enough to take all his time, and his book-keeping system is his own.

"It's as good as any college course, with 10 times as much responsibility," he says. The laundry is just another function of headquarters supply.

Arriving in the South Pacific January 1, 1943, Private Dorval has seen the transformation of supply from a tent in a jungle to a sizeable business in a substantial building.

Private White was a later arrival, getting here last January Both men were assigned to coveted headquarters jobs from other branches of the service. Dorval from the Coast Artillery Corps and White from the Infantry.

A message to car pool drivers from the Texas Safety Association: Loaded cars start more slowly and stop less quickly Driving carefully to avoid accidents to yourself and your fellow workers is an important part of your victory job.

Geo. Moffett Spoke In Burk Last Saturday

State Senator "Cotton" George Moffett, of Chillicothe, Hardeman County, spoke in Burkburnett Saturday night in the interest of his candidacy for Congress from the 13th Texas District. He stressed the paramount urgency of winning the was as quickly as possible, and of providing employment, educational opportunities and other benefits for returning veterans. He also emphasized the overshadowing obligation to provide the best medical care and hospitalization for disabled veterans.

"Preparedness is the best insurance againts another Bataan," said Senator Moffett. "Readiness to take care of one's self if attacked is language that war minded dictators never fail to understand. The frightful cost we have had to pay for having neglected to fortify our Pacific Island outposts is a lesson we should never forget.'

Senator Moffett also said that every reasonable effort should be made at the conclusion of the present war to establish a community of nations that would preserve future world peace.

He called attention to his efforts in the State Legislature in behalf of farmers and ranchmen. He expressed strong opposition to unnecessary governmental red tape, and declared himself in favor of a nincrease in old age assistance payments an da higher price for crude oil.

Christian Science Services

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 18.

The Golden Text is: "Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands" (Hebrews 1:10.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lord thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting, thou art God" (Psalms 90:1, 2.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Inspired through relinquishes a material, sensual, and mortal theory of the universe, and adopts the spiritual and immortal" (page 547.)

The Battle for the World is On!

Now that the chips are down . . . now that our men are writing decisive history with their blood . . . there can be no half-way measures for us.

They, in the front lines, are throwing in everything they have.

We, behind the lines, must do the same.

Remember, this is the battle for the WORLD. Our world. And we've got to win it. That's why Uncle Sam expects every dollar, like every soldier, to do its duty.

ar Loan Launched Texarkana mentous 16 billion dol- War Loan was launch- this gateway city in hwest by President D. Roosevelt and Sec- the Treasury Henry au, Jr., today with cked Civilian D-Day s.

e of decisive action on ng fronts swept the 50,000 citizens of this two-state community into vital roles on the international stage. A month ago through the efforts of Congressman Wright Patman and Miller and Bowie County War Bond Chairmen Willard B. Simmons and James R. Bryan, Secretary Morgenthau consented to open the Fifth War Loan here.

Local residents began a movement to prepare the home front for the bloodiest battles which invasion of Hitler's Europe entailed. The Texarkana Gazette produced a Civilian D-Day edition and sent copies throughout the nation, together with an appeal to every community to back up the mighty blow at the Nazis with a Civilian D-Day.

The crusade swept the Texas and Arkansas prairies and reached into big war work areas such as Los Angeles. Then President Roosevelt announced from the White House that he would join in a one-hour broadcast which will climax Texarkana's D-Day from 9 to 10 P. M., CWT, tonight, with all networks and short wave facilities beaming the story to friend and foe in every part of the world.

Texarkana played its part well today. At the very moment Secretary Morgenthau reached here this morning a parchment was handed him by Chairmen Simmons and Bryant, telling him:

"We the people, of Texarkana, Miller County, Arkansas, and Bowie County, Texas, are mindfull of our obligation to the men and women fighting our nation's battles that peace may reign again throughout the world. We are hopeful that we may reveal to you our appreciation of the honor you have bestowed upon us in opening here the Fifth War Loan Campaign. We have therefore set about the task of obtaining our Fifth War Loan Quota before the opening date of the Campaign. That task is successfully completed; our quota of $4,675,000 having been over subscribed by over 25,000 bona fide subscribers.

"This we have done in your honor. We dedicate its results to the brave men and women, living and dead, who have served and are now serving in our armed forces throughout the world.

"In Witnses whereof, we, the undersigned, seal this document in behalf of the faith and allegiance of the people of Texarkana, Miller County, Arkansas, and Bowie County, Texas."

In the welcoming party also were Congressman Wright Patman, A. C. Stuart, president of the Two State Telephone Company, Stuart Wilson, president of the State National Bank, H. T. Wiegel, president of the Texarkana National Bank, Wm. V. Brown, mayor of Texarkana, Texas, S. H. Atkinson, mayor of Texarkana, Arkansas, G. H. Brooks, secretary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Henry H. Humphrey, editor of the Texarkana Gazette and News, and J. Alan Whyte, president of the Texrakana Chamber of Commerce.

In the morning Sceretary Morgenthau whirled through a program of war plant visits, talks with war workers, war bond volunteers and troops. At the Lone Star Ordnance Plant, where more than 8,000 local residents are busy loading bombs and shells, he congratulated the men and women on their achievement of buying more than $330,000 in war bonds in the Fifth War Loan. He watched girls and women in their sixties pouring hot TNT. He talked with fathers who had several sons on the fighting fronts.

At nearby Red River Ordnance Depot, one of the world's great storehouses of munitions, he was received warmly by 5,000 troops and thuosands of civilian workers who informed him they had purchased $380,000 in war bonds in the current drive, enough to buy sveen General Sherman tanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin J. Vogel were visitors in Burkburnett Wednesday.

Community Prayer Service To Continue

A fine response continues to the call led by the Federated Missionary Society for a season of prayer for the men of the Invasion.

Rev. Harold Bower led he service this week and announcement was made of the service each Tuesday night at 8:30 at the First Methodist Church.

Others are invited to turn aside for an hour of prayer and fellowship together. Each one can pray in secret, but there is great value in a group praying together. Our community and nation has seldom been stirred as it now is, and multitudes are praying for individuals. God hears and answers prayer. It is good for each one, and for our community to pray together. Come to these services at 8:30 each Tuesday night and join in the convenant of prayer for others.

IF what you did for the war effort today was an easy thing to do, it isn't enough. We cannot hope to give as much as the boy who gives his life . . . but we can do our utmost!

For instance, if you haven't yet found yourself scheming and figuring on a way to buy extra War Bonds, it's a good sign you aren't buying enough!

When your neighbor calls on you during the 5th War Loan to ask if you'll increase your purchases, say "Yes" . . . even if it takes a lot of scheming and figuring afterward to pay for them.

That's the way our men are doing their part . . . in the Pacific, in Italy, in England. Ordered to attack, they do not first consult themselves to determine whether it's safe or convenient or comfortable. They're thinking of you at home. To protect you, they attack first . . . and figure out how to do it as they go.

Uncle Sam needs your dollars to finance this war and he needs them now! Not just the dollars you can spare but every dollar you can earn that you don't absolutely need for food, shelter, clothing and the operation of the farm.

War Bonds savings mean more to the average farmer or rancher than to almost anyone else. For they form a financial reserve indispensable for the profitable and efficient operation of his business. War Bonds are safe, they pay a good return, they're easy to buy. When they mature, they mean new machinery and equipment, new conveniences for the house, money for the children's schooling, funds for retirement.

The next time you pick up your paper or listen to the radio news, have a conference with yourself. "Am I doing as much as I can to help win this war? Am I matching what I can do with what the boys are doing over there? Am I investing every possible dollar in War Bonds today to make my future and my family's future more secure?"

Most of us haven't yet begun to do our best. Uncle Sam needs it now! BUY MORE THAN BEFORE in the 5th War Loan!

5 REASONS FOR INCREASING YOUR WAR BOND PURCHASES

1. The tempo of this war is hitting its highest point. Government expenditures for war are at the peak. MORE MONEY IS NEEDED . . . NOW!

2. In proportion to WHO HAS THE MOST MONEY, individuals are not buying their share of War Bonds. America must correct this situation.

3. War Bonds provide the farmer and rancher with the financial reserve he must have to survive the ordinary ups and downs of farming as a business.

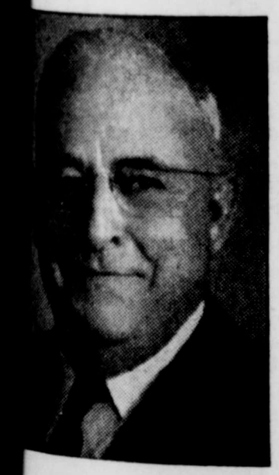

4. Money will be needed urgently at a future date to replace and repair farm equipment, machinery, and buildings. War Bonds will provide it.

5. War Bonds are the safest investment in the world, return a good rate of interest, are easy and convenient to buy . . . from bank, post office, rural mail carrier or Production Credit Association.

H. L. Rice

to the Office of ASSESSOR and COLLECTOR of Taxes, of Wichita County

CONSIDER THESE POINTS:

H. L. Rice has had many years experience in similar work and seven years as deputy in this office to qualify him.

We believe no one is indespensible.

Records show Wichita County has always had a good organization in the tax office. No one person can take the credit for or boast of that.

When you elect Mr. Rice you will have the assurance of an efficient hard-working organization, one entirely freed of all political responsibilities.

Gladstone said, "One cannot be wrong morally and right politically." We think probably he was discussing the office holder, who, in the beginning, said two terms would do ,and who, after being elected, stretched it to five terms, then laid plans for a second decade. The present incumbent is now started on his second decade by asking for his sixth term, or twelfth year—this, in spite of the fact that he severely criticized his opponent for asking for the same several years ago.

The National emergency does not affect this office.

Let's adhere to the democratic principal of rotation in office.—Let's be democratic.

War Heroes Thank Texans For War Efforts

Two of America's outstanding war heroes interrupted a tour of Army camps this week long enough to thank the pepole of Texas for their "outstanding contribution toward victory through the National War Fund."

They were Lieut. Ernest Childers and Tech. Sgt. Charles E. "Commando" Kelly, each of whom recently received the Congressional Medal of Honor for extraordinary heroism against the Nazis in Italy.

"Even in the front line, we can tell the extent of war support being given by the folks back home," Sergeant Kelly told Wayland D. Turner, general manager of the United War Chest of Texas, which supervises the annual campaign of the National War Fund in the state.

"In Italy, we were sure the home folks were behind us, for USO entertainment units gave shows actually within sound of the guns. We know, too, that we would not be forgotten even if we should be captured by the enemy, for some of our comrades who were taken by the Germans already are receiving recreational supplies and other help from War Prisoners Aid.

"It helps a fighting man to know that the folks at home are behind him all the way."

Kelly won the nation's highest military honor by single-handedly killing 40 Germans while serving with the famed Texas 36th division in Italy.

Lieut. Childers, Oklahoma Indian who won the Medal of Honor by "crawling on hands, knees and belly" to rout a German attack after being seriously wounded, asked Towner to thank the people of Texas for their support of war relief agencies.

"Texans who gave approximately $5,000,000 through their County War Fund drives made a real contribution to the war effort,' he told the War Chest executive. Evrey War Fund dollar makes the war just a little easier for the men who are doing the fighting. If the people here at home could see for themselves the need for services to the men abroad, I don't believe they would keep a single spare dollar in their pockets."

Lieut .Childers and Sergeant Kelly, who recently were decorated by President Roosevelt are making a tour of Texas army camps.

Commencement First Baptist Church

With the commencement Wednesday night featured with an audience of about 250, the Daily Vacation Bible school was brought to a close.

Combining two services, "Two For One" prayer service and the commencement with a splendid program people went away thankful for the privileges for which our boys are fighting.

As pastor we want to express publicly our thanks to Bro. Scott, and all the workers in the Vacation Bible School, for their faithfulness and efficiency. Then, too, to the parents who were faithful in bringing or sending their boys and girls.

Sunday, Father's Day—we are to have a large crowd. We have invited forty or fifty soldiers to be our guests and we are to be fathers to them. These boys are to be taken into the homes for the noon meal.

The pastor will bring a special message to fathers and also a special choir of fathers. There will be special music by them also. If you have not made definite plans to be in your place Sunday do it now. If you have no special church home we give you a special invitation to worship with us at the First Baptist Church.

Sunday night the pastor starts a series of sermons on the book of Jonah, speaking Sunday night on "An Unworthy man in the Hands of God." "Come with us, we will do thee good."

In just a few days we will move out on the lawn for our night services. Benches have already been secured—the light is fixed and "All things are about ready." Get ready, come.

Den 2 Cub Pack Join Boys Club

Den 2 of Cub Pack 155 joined the Wichita Falls Boy's Club Thursday, June 8. All of these boys have earned their own money to join by working in their unity Victory Garden and selling their produce. The Pack has earned about $6 thus far from the products of their garden. Cub Thomas May's mother, Mrs. T. M. May supervised the garden and workers.

The first meeting at the Boy's Club was spent in the shop making Father's Day gifts and other articles. The boys plan to spend one day each week throughout the summer at the Club.

Those attending were Den Chief Horace Mills, and visitor R. J. Story, who supervised the shop work; Cubs Jon Hy Bear, Norman Dodson, Irvin DeVore, James Hicks, Thomas May, Richard Pair, Jackie Bernathy, James Roderick, and Bowden Maden. Mothers attending the meeting were Mrs. Glen Bear, Mrs. D. C. Dodson, Mrs. T. M. May, and Mrs. J. N. Hicks.

Fred Brookman Moves Family To Waco, Texas

FRED BROOKMAN

Fred Brookman, recently promoted to Representative of Veterans' State Service Office, Waco, Texas, left Monday with Mrs. Brookman and Jimmy to make their home in Waco. Their daughter, Valta, is in nurses training at John Sealy Hospital, Galveston.

Mr. Brookman, a veteran of World War I, acquired the Burkburnett Star in November, 1932, and served as its editor until April 1, 1944. Fred spent his 17th birthday on the Verdune front in France during the first World War. In all he spent 18 months over-seas. Prior to becoming owner and editor of the Star, Mr. Brookman worked in the mechanical department of the shop since shortly after the Armistice in 1918.

Mr. Brookman had been giving freely of his time for many months aiding Veterans in this community before he was made Service Officer of Wichita County. He served in this capacity for a few months and was made Service Officer over forty-four counties. His energy and diligence at his work soon earned for him a place in the State office at Waco.

The ties of friendship the Brookmans have in Burkburnett are strong and will tend to draw them back from time to time. They have the best wishes of the citizens of Burkburnett.

Co-publisher John Brookman and family have moved into the Fred Brookman home on East Fifth street.

Mr. H. C. Dodson, editor of The Star resides at 609 East 3rd street.

Calvary Baptist Church News

Sunday School meets at ten A. M., with all classes studying Exodus, chapter 35—"Giving In Support of God's Work."

Preaching at eleven o'clock. Sermon subject, "The First Submarine ride." What do you know about the first submarine ride? Did you know that there was one hundreds of years ago? There is much practical truth to learn from this lesson. Come and bring your Bible.

Evening services begin at 7:45 with the young people meeting for their regular fellowship and devotional hour. Other groups for other ages meet at eight o'clock.

Services in the auditorium begin at 8:30 P. M. with choir and congregational singing, followed by the evening message by the pastor. The sermon will be the same one announced for last Sunday night which is, "God's D-Day and H-Hour." Much military and political strategic significance was placed on the D-Day of the invasion of the European continent—and rightly so. So is there much importance attached to God's D-Day, and its value not only has a current significance, but an eternal significance. Why don't you get the little family togteher and come out to Calvary Baptist Sunday night to hear the plain facts of God's word presented for your instruction and benefit? There is good spiritual wide-awake singing, and a spirit of friendliness and neighborliness that you can't help but appreciate. The doors are wide open and you always have a warm welcome at Calvary Baptist Church—the Church with an open Bible for men with open minds.

Ray C. Morrow, Pastor.

These committees are working and early reports show much interest in the drive. Several large sales have been recorded and some of the committees report they have already canvassed all their territory.

If a committeeman fails to contact you because you were away from home, or for any reason, go to the bank, post office or Palace Theatre and make your purchases. You will be assisted in making out the application, and every effort is made to see that the bond is filled out just as it should be by experienced workers.

Let's all help the above people who are giving their time as well as buying Bonds. If you have not been contacted by one of the above within the next few days, kindly go to them, because it is very possible that they have called at your place when you were away. Please do not wait to be asked. "Back the Attack by purchasing an extra Bond, any size, make it as large as you can, help yourself and our boys who are sacrificing everything away from our country.

Remember the Slogan, and make it work—

"BACK THE ATTACK, BUY MORE THAN BEFORE."
