Hospital board okays risk management plan

Members of the Mitchell County Hospital Board, at their called meeting on Tuesday night, agreed to adopt an alternative to the workers' compensation program which is currently in effect for hospital employees.

Jim Marten, an Austin attorney, will be hired to implement the risk management plan, which he has predicted could save the hospital 80 to 90 percent of the amount of its workers' compensation premiums.

Currently, according to Hospital Administrator Wendell Alford, those premiums, for the hospital and Valley Fair Lodge, cost approximately $112,000 per year.

Prior to implementation of the plan, the board agreed, a risk-management training program will be provided at an initial cost of $10,000. Once the training program has been initiated, Alford explained, the cost to keep it up to date will be between $1500 and $2000 per year.

The training program, which will alert employees to risks associated with their jobs, and the avoidance of those risks, is the one endorsed by the Texas Hospital Association, Alford said.

Sammy Contreras, 21-year employee of the Mitchell County Hospital system, addressed the board again this week on the question of whether housekeeping and groundskeeping services will be contracted, or remain the province of hospital employees. Contreras

Ceremony participation denied to LHS graduates

There are some sad faces in Loraine these days, some parents' faces, some students' faces, and some school administrators' faces.

Of course, by now, almost everyone probably knows the reason for these sad faces...news travels fast in a close-knit community like Loraine, and for that matter, like Mitchell County.

On Friday, May 24, at an emergency meeting of the Loraine School Board, board members voted unanimously to uphold a decision, made earlier by Superintendent Glenn Sanders and Principal Doug Foshee, to prevent two Loraine seniors, Willie Hernandez and Jeff Martin, from participating in baccalaureate and graduation ceremonies with their classmates.

The decision, which Sanders and Foshee said was one of the toughest they ever made, was reached after long deliberation, soul-searching, and discussion with class sponsors. It was in response to an action, contrary to school policy, which was taken by the two students on the occasion of their May 10 senior trip.

On the morning of the trip, according to Foshee, he received a call from the mother of one of the boys asking if her son's vehicle was parked at the school. She explained that the boys, both of whom had spent the night in her home, had overslept, and had left to try to catch the bus before it left.

Literacy Rally to be held Saturday

Although Julianna Kimball, age 42, owned a Phoenix cleaning service in 1986 with 125 employees, she was considered functionally illiterate. She couldn't read a newspaper, medicine label, or restaurant menu; she couldn't fill out a job application. With the help of Literacy Volunteers of America however, Julie now reads, attends college, and is currently on a highly publicized Coast-to-Coast Walk for Literacy called "ON THE ROAD FOR READING".

The walk was begun April 20 in San Diego, California, and will culminate in Washington D.C. on September 8 in time for International Literacy Day.

Julie will be arriving in Colorado City on Saturday, June 1, 1991 to complete the Mitchell County Literacy Awareness Week. She will speak three different times to help the people of Mitchell County to take responsibility in

From Graduation...

The procession is almost complete. The graduates will be seated, and the ceremony will begin in moments...the scene at Friday night's CHS graduation. If you listen carefully, you can almost hear the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance."

To Celebration...

One of the games provided for revelers at Friday night's Project Celebration was this "Cowboy Quick-Draw." The purpose of the game was to see who could pull his opponent down first using only ropes tied around the ankles. There were dozens of imaginative pastimes at Project Celebration.

CHS graduates 72 students

Colorado High School seniors graduated on Friday night, and, to paraphrase the words of valedictorian Aimee Nicole Smith, became birds, set free, seeking their own shade trees in which to make their own nests.

Avan Ceballos, class salutatorian, treated the gathering to a "little chat," in which he compared the graduates to tortillas, who grew, added ingredients, and eventually became the enchiladas they are today.

Puberty, he confided, was the time when the jalapenos were added. At one point, when Ceballos sang the first part of a little ditty which a Kelley Elementary teacher had sung to almost all of them when they went through her class years ago, the seniors spontaneously answered with the second part of the refrain.

I wonder if the graduates realize how fortunate they are that so many of them have gone through their lives thus far together, and will have all those years of memories to share forever. I wonder if they realize how few graduating classes can boast that achievement.

Special honors on Friday night were bestowed on some of the graduates: Honor graduates, in addition to valedictorian and salutatorian, included April Findley, Ellena Franco, Amy Moore, Bridgett Bridgford, Amber Mayfield, Laura Gutierrez, Kerre Hulme, and David Scott Galey.

Jeremy Strain and Karin Larsen were honored for Character; Avan Ceballos and Tammy Blair were honored for Service; Wesley Brown and Amy Moore were honored for Literary Achievements; Robbie Smith and Bridget Bridgford were honored as Most Athletic; and George Ramsey and Amber Mayfield were honored for Leadership.

Then Brian Hammond and Amber Mayfield announced that the senior gift, from the 1991 graduating class, would be a digital information sign. This would be necessary, they explained, since Principal Jerry Reynolds would no longer be making announcements after his retirement.

Reynolds was presented with a beach towel for his summer enjoyment, and was told that a letter blanket was on the way, to serve as his official gift from the class. Reynolds presented the Principal's Award to Jeff Hixson.

Scholarships were then awarded. Amber Mayfield won the B&PW Scholarship; Avan Ceballos won the Noon Lions' Scholarship; Nicole Smith won the First United Methodist Church's Scholarship; Laura Gutierrez won the Kiwanis Scholarship; Sheila Cawthron, Brian Hammond, and Cynthia Martinez each won Optimist Scholarships; Charlotte Upshaw and Michael Contreras each won First Baptist Church Scholarships; Heather Craven won the Dale Mathis Memorial Scholarship; Michael Contreras won the Jaycee Scholarship; Charlotte Upshaw won the State Representative Rob Junell Scholarship; Marcia Cawthron and Jeremy Strain won the CHS FFA Scholarships; Brandon Raschke, Cynthia Martinez, Michael Contreras, and Jackie Smith won CHS Band Scholarships; Heather Craven won the Bill Campbell Memorial Rotary Scholarship; Jackie Smith and Angela Williams won Ebony Society Scholarships; Marcia from his conversation with the mother, Foshee said, he began to prepare mentally for the eventuality that the boys might have followed the bus all the way to its destination...a clear violation of school policy.

School policy, as extracted from the manual which is provided every Lorraine student at the beginning of the school year, states as follows: "Students participating in school sponsored activities (such as Football, Basketball, FFA shows, Band contests, ULL, Homemaking field trip, etc.) must ride to and from that activity with the sponsor on school provided transportation."

With their worst fears confirmed by trip sponsors - the boys had, indeed, followed the bus to Six Flags Amusement Park in their private vehicle - Sanders and Foshee were faced with the unenviable task of determining a fit discipline for the violation.

"We were determined not to do anything to the boys which would hurt them academically," said Sanders, "and we informed the school board of that fact, along with the situation, at its regular meeting on May 13."

At that time, members of the board told Sanders and Foshee to handle the situation as they saw fit.

On May 16, Sanders and Foshee met with the two students and the family of one of the boys. The other boy's parent was unable to attend that meeting. During the meeting, Sanders and Foshee informed those present that they would do nothing to hurt the boys academically.

Indeed, according to Sanders, the barring of the boys from participation in the graduation ceremony will never be recorded on any official document, and will not follow them on any records. The graduation certificates, he said, if earned, will be sent via certified mail to each student, to ensure that those certificates are received.

On May 23, the mother of one of the boys visited with Sanders and Foshee, and requested, through an interpreter, that she be allowed to address the board on the matter of her son's punishment.

An emergency session of the board was posted for 7 p.m. Friday, May 24, partly because Sanders and Foshee wished to reaffirm the board's support for their decision.

A lawyer representing the family of one of the students called the school offices on Friday, with a request that he be allowed to address the board meeting, and was informed, according to Sanders, that he would be allowed to address the board during that part of the meeting which was not closed session.

Sanders and Foshee expected the board to go into closed, executive session, they said, owing to the fact that the discipline of students would be discussed.

However, Sanders said, the meeting remained open throughout the entire period of time, as no outside parties presented themselves to be heard.

Sanders said that the decision to prevent the boys from participating in graduation exercises might not have been necessary had the infraction taken place earlier in the year.

"There was nothing else we could think of, no matter how hard we tried, which would have been equally fair to each student," said Sanders.

At an earlier date, he explained, the school could have used the options of in-school suspension, or even regular suspension. Now, however, with all of the reviewing for final exams going on, and final exam testing itself, any form of suspension might easily have hurt the students' chances to graduate.

"It was a hard, hard decision," Sanders said, "but there was really nothing else we could do. We could not focus on the individuals involved, but had to focus instead on the overall effect on the school in the present as well as in the future."

Sanders said that the school's liability, should anything happen to a student who was traveling on a school trip, but was not on a school vehicle, was something else that had to be considered.

A dangerous precedent could be set, he explained, in allowing a student to do this sort of thing without any sort of official reprimand.

So the boys won't be participating in their graduation ceremonies with their classmates.

Nobody is happy about the way things turned out, and everybody wishes the situation necessitating such action had never occurred.

solving the problem in our community.

She will speak to all interested persons at 1 p.m. about how each person needs to get involved, and about all of the rewards that are gained from getting involved.

At 3 p.m. she will speak to all students involved in literacy, their families, and former students and their families, as well as any potentially interested students.

At 7 p.m. she will speak to the entire community and tell us how we might get outside help with funding of the problem of illiteracy in our area.

Ms. Kimball will also be present at the Spaghetti Supper that is being hosted by Mitchell County Extension Homemakers with the proceeds of the meal going to work in the Mitchell County Literacy Program.

The purpose of Ms. Kimball's national walk is to increase public awareness about the pervasive problem of Adult illiteracy in America and to raise $1 million in private and corporate donations for Literacy Volunteers of America and the Julie Kimball Education Fund, which Kimball launched in 1990.

However, Julie's main purpose in Mitchell County is to help us raise funds for local work and perhaps help us find a corporation that will help fund work in our county. She is coming to us at no charge.

Be sure to buy your tickets for the Spaghetti Supper. $3.00 for adults, $1.00 for children 12 and under. Tickets are available at the local banks, Chamber of Commerce or by calling 728-3111, 728-5353, 728-3088. All meetings will be held at First Baptist Church Activities Building.

Literacy endorsement

We the undersigned realize that there is a problem in our county with illiteracy. We know that we must start at home and work with this problem. We believe that this "On the Road for Reading Rally" with Julie Kimball is an excellent opportunity to make the people of this area aware of our needs and encourage each one in finding a way that he or she can become involved with solving our problem of illiteracy.

The membership of Colorado Classroom Teachers Association is unanimous in its support of this rally, and commends the Mitchell County Extension Homemakers for working to bring Ms. Kimball to this area.

We, as educators, urge you to take advantage of this opportunity to support literacy.

hopes to show the board how the latter can be the better plan.

He explained that previous figures he had presented had been drawn up with the assumption that no change was being considered for Valley Fair Lodge. His figures had also included the laundry service, which the board has now determined will be contracted, and his figures had separated the supply costs.

He requested a week's delay in the board's final decision on the matter of housekeeping services, in order that he could draw up a new set of figures.

Alford stipulated that Contreras' new figures be specific as to the salary of each employee he hopes to maintain. Contreras agreed to that, and board members agreed to hear his new proposal in two weeks, on June 11, and to defer any decision on the matter until that time.

Two contract services representatives were present to offer their proposals on Tuesday night as well.

Ed Levesque of Pioneer Maintenance presented his bid for the contract at $149,000 per year for hospital and lodge.

This bid would not include yard work, but would include daily service which he said would be at least equal, and hopefully surpassing, that which is presently being received. His bid included all supplies as well.

Ed Golden, representing Commercial Janitorial Supply Co. of Brownwood, made a bid of $164,422.80 per year.

Golden, who also spoke last week to the board, said that that amount would include salaries and fringe benefits; chemical and paper products; all costs of lawn maintenance, with the exception of special requested items; and all supplies.

Both men indicated the intention of keeping as many current employees as possible, and each estimated that his firm would need seven or eight employees for the job.

In other business, Alford informed board members of the possibility that Gail Brackeen, a physician's assistant from Wichita Falls, might be willing to relocate in Mitchell County.

Members authorized Alford to negotiate with her toward that end.

Drug/Alcohol Abuse

The Sweetwater Council on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse, will be sponsoring Drug and Alcohol abuse counseling sessions from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. every Wednesday afternoon at the Mental Health Clinic in Colorado City.

Anyone interested in these free services for any alcohol or drug related problem can obtain more information by calling (915) 728-3953, or 235-8955.

TO: Employers, Managers and Governing Boards

We, the tax paying citizens of Colorado City, are tired. We are tired of:

1. your shop at home campaign when you don't shop at home for employees.
2. your hiring employees from out of town who are paid by our tax dollars and not having the decency to require them to move to our town, thereby keeping our tax dollars at home.
3. people being laid off in favor of outside agencies without seriously considering shop at home alternatives.
4. supervisory positions being filled by people from out of town.
5. Board members and Councilmen who cannot make their own decisions but are susceptible to "smooth talkers".
6. of good short term solutions with bad long term consequences.
7. people from out of town showing us how to save our tax money by laying off employees from this town and then taking this same tax money and giving it to out of towners.
8. employers who lay off people to save our tax money and then get themselves a raise and hire their wives to replace a laid off worker, especially when they are already overpaid.
9. Board Members and Councilmen who go along with these tactics.
10. taxing entities that continue to buy out of town when they could and should be buying locally.

So, you want to know why we don't shop at home? Consider us the children and you the parents....we're only following in your footsteps. Practice what you preach.

Phillips honored at retirement party

Louise Phillips

Louise Phillips was honored at a retirement party at the First National Bank on Friday evening, May 17, 1991, at 7:00 p.m. Colorado ISD Food Service Employees hosted the party and presented Ms. Phillips with a corsage of yellow carnations, after which, she was presented with a Carriage Clock engraved with her name and the date of beginning and ending service.

Ms. Phillips worked 32 years for the Colorado ISD Food Service, beginning in 1954. After working 2 years, she quit for about 2 years and went back and worked until her retirement, May 24, 1991. For the past 19 years she was cafeteria manager beginning in 1972 at the Jr. High Cafeteria located where the school administration offices are now located. When Jr. High moved to the present Middle School she went with them and completed her service there.

Awards for service for the 1990-91 school year were also presented by Christine Cooley. Perfect attendance awards were given to Leona Lewis and Sandy Dickard for not missing a day of work all year. Ms. Cooley also presented the "Manager of the Year" award to Ms. Phillips and the "Congeniality" award went to Maria Gaona. Charline Appling received the "Food Service Director's" award.

Games were played and a story written by Ms. Cooley about "What Retirement Would Be Like" was read. Punch of sherbet and ginger ale, and cake decorated with yellow roses was served to Ms. Phillips, Cooley, Appling, Gaona, Dickard, Lewis, Barbara Strain, Ann Brown, Guyrene Copeland, and Minnie Godina. Also Connie Davila, Gladys Hayes, Sylvia Davila, Margaret Brown, Ruth Bryant and Delia Zermeno.

Learning to read is an important part of childhood. For many children it seems to just come "naturally," while for others it is an ongoing struggle. Parents can help their children acquire reading skills in a number of ways:

- *Let your children see you read so they will have a model to follow.
- *Provide a comfortable, special reading area and a variety of books, newspapers and magazines.
- *Take your children to the library to get library cards, to check out books, and to listen to films and stories. Most libraries will allow children to have library cards as soon as they can write their names.
- *Read store and road signs, package labels and license plates.
- *Write down your child's story as he or she tells it so that it can be seen in print. The child can draw pictures to illustrate the story. Save the story and read and savor it together.
- *Give your kids bookcases (a cardboard carton covered with contact paper will work) where they can store books.
- *Play readers theater (each individual has a part and they read aloud together), act out stories, present puppet shows of favorite books.
- *Give books as birthday and holiday gifts.
- *Show pictures and ask what might happen next; being able to predict what will happen next is an important reading skill.
- *Read to your children every day. Sometimes let them choose the books. Read your old favorites or those that teachers or librarians recommend. Once your child can read on his own, you need to continue reading at a higher level.
- *Talk about the books you read together. Ask questions about the story: Where did the story take place? Which of the characters are you most like and why? What happened first, second, last? Why did you like this story? How does it make you feel? Think of a question to ask me about the book.

The single most important activity that parents can do to assist their children in reading is to read to them throughout childhood and especially, during preschool years.

The benefits are greatest if the child is an active participant, engages in discussions about stories, identifies letters and words and discusses the meaning of words.

Westbrook Wanderings

by Debra Miller

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Miller and girls were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C.D. Downing last Thursday evening.

Larry and Kristi Miller visited with the Miller family this weekend.

Mrs. Sheets second grade class visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Clanton last Friday. The Clantons entertained the second graders with kickball, three legged races, and other games, along with lunch and popples.

Dale and Marcy Newman were visited this weekend by her daughter, Joanna and Robert DeLeon and Marissa.

Stacy Rich has gotten his new roping horse.

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Iglehart were visited this past week by Mrs. Treva Quinney, Linda Jamagin, and Lindsey and Squecky Jamagin.

Crocket County plans celebration

All roads lead to Ozona July 1-7 as Crockett County celebrates its centennial.

Festivities begin Monday, July 1, with a reenactment of the first commissioners' court meeting under the same tree that shaded the original court.

The evening of July 3 is set aside for an all-male beauty pageant.

Craft, food and game booths on the town square, a parade, walking tour, 8 p.m. historical pageant, fireworks and street dance fill the program on July 4.

On July 6, registration for the all-school reunion begins at 9:30 a.m. in the civic center. A reunion of pioneer families is scheduled for 2 p.m. in the Crockett Room. The historical pageant will have its second performance that evening at 8 p.m.

Sunday's activities conclude the celebration. A 10:30 a.m. church service on the town square will be followed by a picnic lunch. Dedication of the E.M. Powell historical marker at 1 p.m. on the square ends centennial events. Powell drilled the first water well and donated land for a school, courthouse, jail, water works and the town square in Ozona.

Related activities planned prior to centennial week include a trail ride June 22-23, youth tennis tournament June 26-27, adult tennis tournament, washer pitching contest and softball tournament June 29-30.

For additional information, call Ozona Chamber of Commerce at 915-392-3737.

Library summer program announced

The Mitchell County Public Library and the Texas State Library will again sponsor the Texas Reading Club this summer.

The Texas Reading Club is for all children from pre-school age through the eighth grade.

In the past, the child who joined the Reading Club was required to read a set number of books to complete the program and receive a certificate.

This year, each child will be required to spend a minimum of three hours total reading time to complete the program.

We hope that this will help the slow readers who might have been discouraged at having to read a set number of books.

Children who have not yet learned to read may be read to.

Those who sign up for the Club and read the required three hours will receive a certificate and a coupon from the Dairy Queen for an ice cream cone. Those who would like to continue with their reading and read a total of six hours will receive a coupon for a medium soft drink from the Sonic.

All those who receive a certificate may register for prizes which will be given away at the end of July. The prizes include a boy's or girl's bicycle, two games, and several personal size pizzas.

On Wednesday mornings, beginning on June 5, movies will be shown to children of all ages.

On Thursday mornings, beginning on June 6, Storytime will be held for four to seven year old children.

Each week a different game or puzzle page will be available to all who visit the library. All of our programs are free and all children are welcome to participate.

Library hours are:
Monday, noon until 8 p.m.
Tuesday through Friday, 9 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

Sponsors for prizes are City National Bank, Fuller's Thriftway, Corky's, First National Bank, Pizza Hut, Dairy Queen, and Sonic.

Junell announces scholarship winners

Austin-- Representative Robert Junell, D-San Angelo, announced the recipients of the Robert Junell Scholarships from Mitchell County.

Charlotte Upshaw of Colorado City was chosen from Colorado City High School. Charlotte was Treasurer of the National Honor Society and Vice-President of Choir. Charlotte will graduate with Advanced Honors Transcript and 11th in her class.

Charlotte plans to attend Western Texas College in Snyder with the intention of being a teacher.

Spencer Cannon of Colorado City is the recipient from Westbrook High School. He is the son of Janette and Jimmy Moody of Colorado City and James Cannon of Gladewater.

Spencer received the American Legion Award his freshman year, and was Freshman Class President. He has been active in track, baseball and basketball. He was a member of the All-District Basketball Team in 1989-90 and 1990-91. Spencer was Captain of the basketball team in 1990-91. He was President of the Future Farmers of America in 1990-91 and was also on the Livestock Judging Team.

Spencer was chosen Mr. WHS; Senior Class Favorite; and chosen Most Dependable.

He plans to attend Western Texas College, Snyder, with a major in Criminal Justice.

Sherry Banks of Loraine is the scholarship recipient from Loraine High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Banks.

During her junior and senior years, Sherry was involved in the TI-IN program via satellite and studied French, Marine Science and Astronomy.

She received an Academic Award in History her junior year, and during all four years Sherry was active in the French Club and the Science Club.

As a senior, Sherry received an academic Award for Accounting and also for Record Keeping/Personal Business Management. She participated in UIL in Accounting and placed 3rd. She was chosen Miss LHS and Who's Who in American High Schools.

Sherry plans to attend McMurry College in Abilene and major in Psychology. Her long term plans are to become a doctor of Psychology.

The selection of these students was done by the individual schools. The criteria for selection was based on citizenship, grades, need and each must be planning to attend college.

Representative Junell will present the scholarships on Friday, May 31st during the Colorado City Lions Club luncheon at the Civic Center in Colorado City.

Rose is hostess to Loraine Homemakers

The North Loraine Extension Homemakers held their regular meeting on May 15 at 2 pm at the Loraine Seniors Citizens Center. Hostess was Mildred Rose.

The meeting was called to order by President Margaret Brame. The prayer and club creed were recited in unison. Roll call was answered try One Way that I stretch a penny.

For recreation, Elaine McMichael read a touching Mother's Day Poem.

Minutes from the previous meeting were read and approved. Treasurer's report was given by Billie Schroeder.

Margaret Brame gave the council report. Discussion was held on the Spaghetti supper to be held June 1 sponsoring the Illiteracy Program.

Nina Meadows reported the Style Show would not be held this year, due to lack of adequate time for preparation.

Eva Wells reported on the County Tour to San Angelo in April. Nineteen Mitchell Co. EHU members and guests participated. The group met at the Texas A&M Research Center in San Angelo, where they enjoyed a program presented by the Tom Green Homemakers. They ate lunch at Luby's then toured Tabors, the Concho Valley Home for Girls and shopping.

Veida Gage presented a very interesting and informative program "Wellness: Your Choice". Mrs. Gage explained three steps to becoming one of the Healthier People:

1. Get the Facts-on choosing healthy habits. Get a professional opinion for reading material. A health risk appraisal can keep an individual by getting the facts for health habits. The facts provided in your health risk appraisal can be impressive as well as helpful, and can help you "treat" your lifestyle by scoring your risk factors.

Risk factors differ for each individual. Risk factors range from smoking, to eating habits, excessive alcohol consumption, stress, and safety habits as not wearing seatbelts while riding in an automobile.

2. Get Serious-Once you realize you can control many of the factors that determine your life span, it's time to get serious about improving your health, and you do not have to do this task alone. Millions of Americans have succeeded, whether it's quitting smoking, loss of excess weight, reduced alcohol intake, or changing another habit, either by themselves or with professional help.

3. Get Going-Once you've decided to change a habit that can improve your life span, get started and keep practicing. Experts claim it takes at least 3 weeks of practicing to start a new habit.

Other areas of interest Mrs. Gage covered were on Cholesterol, stress, high blood pressure and exercise. Each member participated in their own health risk appraisal. It was a very helpful activity that made each individual realize their weak points and areas they needed to improve for their own health risk factors.

The meeting adjourned. Members present were Darlene Hamrick, Eva Wells, Bessie Ann Vaughn, Elaine McMichael, Veida Gage, Margaret Brame, Bertha Faye Snyder, Billie Ruth Abernathy, Billie Schroeder, Mildred Rose, Nina Meadows and Pat Carter.

Loraine Personals

by Lois Phillips

By the time you read this you will have graduated if you were a senior or else have your diploma. We are very happy for each senior and their families. A lot of you kids were raised around here so we have always known and loved you, and at this time let us just say we are so very proud of you and wish you all kinds of luck all good of course. Remember "God is still on his throne and prayer changes things."

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes from New Mexico were here over the weekend. They are Pam Butler's parents. They had a couple of little boys with them and I supposed they were grandsons. I am sure they are the ones who help Bryan with the round up each year. Sometimes they are in trouble with grandad Hughes before it's over.

I am sorta thinking the Butler kids will also go home with them. Hope all of you have a nice summer.

I also saw Kenneth and Jaunice oldest grandson with her in church Sunday. I can't remember his name but he is Kenny Sue's son and goes to school at Baylor in Waco.

Saw James Lee and his children in church on Sunday. I suppose they had lunch with grandma.

I guess you know by now that we have a new pastor. I have already introduced but today we will be a little less formal. He is James, wife is Cindy and the little daughter is Tiffany with McLeod added on as the surname. They are a real neat family and they happened to get here in time to do our high school graduation. Cindy will sing and Bro. James will do the sermon.

Oh yes, before we forget we need a bonnet to shade ones face from the sun. We have a lady farmer who needs this bonnet or a pattern. If you have one of those, we will pay for these items if you come up with one. Yes, everybody had one for many years, but now that one is needed, we can't seem to find one. Joan Merket is our lady farmer but she is like the rest of us, she has heard so much about the sun and cancer being connected she rather wear the bonnet than face the sun. We'd like to hear from you on this article.

Saw David Compton at church Sunday, but did not see his wife. I don't know if she was here.

Brandon Long, son of Billie J. and Barbara Long of Georgia, graduated from Royce High school. He is the grandson of Annie Bell Jones and Irene Kidd.

Some of our 4-H Club kids entered a coloring contest and did real well, so we thought they deserved to get their name in the paper. They are as follows: K-Joe Louis Delgado, Jr., 2nd; 1st grade-Jessie Rodriguez, 2nd; 2nd grade-Mario Solis, 3rd; 3rd grade-Randi Herrington, 1st; 4th-Alice Vasquez, 2nd; 5th-Elizabeth DeLoera, 2nd best over all. I believe they told me they painted the Mitchell County Court House. Good work kids.

Grady and Frances Little of Oklahoma visited in Loraine Saturday with Blondie and Ham Hamilton.

Frances Rhodes grew up in Loraine school and all, as the daughter All of us around remember she and her family well. She met and married Grady after leaving here. We are glad they let us know of their visit.

Last week I asked for a list of the awards that were handed out at the Awards Banquet. Mr. Foshee said the Colorado City paper came last week and made pictures but he didn't know who of. Sarah said she'd fix me a list so I could check and sure enough they were the same except a few were left of the list, but she told me about those so we will finish the list for you. Michelle Garcia, daughter of Frank and Manuella Garcia, won the Hustlingest Lady Bulldog of the Year award; Anthony Williams, son of Ike and Etta G. Williams, won the Ray Preston award, which means the Best Hustling Bulldog of the year and must be a senior; Michie Atkins, daughter of Joel Ray and Vickie Atkins, won the Loraine High School Outstanding Girl Athlete of the Year; Chris Phillips, son of Donnie and Sandra Phillips, was named Loraine Bulldogs Outstanding Boy Athlete of the Year.

If we have missed one person in the awards presented, we are sorry and if you will call it to Mr. Foshee's or my attention, we will gladly correct it. We always want everything that is due them.

Some of the kids around school want to send you seniors a message. It being congratulations and best wishes and we will miss you next year and we wish you the best of luck in everything you attempt in life.

Well, I guess after this week we won't have a whole lot of news since school will be out and everyone scattered about.

Shirlene Sanders was in Alpine last week visiting her little granddaughter who has been very ill, but is now better. She brought her grandson, Justin, home with her. He really had grown up and talks so grown up. Kids have a way of doing that.

Piano Bench Needed

The Heart of West Texas Museum volunteer workers are looking for an old-fashioned piano bench, preferably one with claw feet, to perfect the recently completed layout of the museum's "music room."

The room features instruments of all types, along with a mannequin, "Matilda," who is dressed in the costume of the time.

Work on the museum is progressing very well, according to board member Elizabeth Connell, and the projected opening date of July 1 is still right on schedule.

Donations for Parade

Donations are being accepted from individuals, groups, or merchants for the Mitchell County Salute to Veterans' Parade scheduled for the Fourth of July.

Bring your donation to the Chamber of Commerce, in the Civic Center building in Colorado City.

Pictures Needed!

Red Cross volunteers who are working on the display of veterans' photographs for the Marshall's Department Store windows are happy with the response so far, but they need all the veterans' pictures available.

They have received only two from Desert Storm, and need more of those. Workers wish to remind everyone that pictures are needed of any veteran, of any war, who lives in Mitchell County, or who lived here previously, or who is related to a resident of Mitchell County. Call 728-5701 for more information.
