Cubs Beat Cards 13-4 to Extend League Lead

By LON JONES

The Cubs extended their league lead to one full game Monday when they defeated the Cardinals 13 to 4 in a game in which the Cardinals used five pitchers, one being ineligible. In a vain effort to put together a winning combination, Manager McKnight had Parrish in five different positions and five other players played more than one. Kelly Case was the batting hero, getting a home run, his fifth, and a single in four trips to the plate. Case took over the league batting lead from teammate Cox as Cox went 0 for 3. Virgil Jones and Jimmy Clemmons got two hits each to lead the Cardinal hitters. Only three strikeouts were registered, all by Parrish, and Thompson was the winning pitcher and Medlin the loser.

Lewis Child Dies Under Combine At Pattonville

A 2½-year-old boy was killed when the bundle-carrier of a combine fell on him at his home near Pattonville Tuesday about 11:15 a. m.

He was Robert Bernard (Bobby) Lewis, only child of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. (Pat) Lewis of Rt. 1, Blossom.

The child was playing near the farm home shop where his father was working on a piece of machinery. Missing the child after a few minutes, the father found him under the combine. He was taken to a Paris hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival, apparently from internal injury.

He was born Dec. 16, 1951, son of Bernard Patton Lewis and the former Miss Joyce Bryant. Surviving besides the parents are the two grandfather, Raleigh B. Lewis, making his home with the family, and R. E. Bryant, Blossom, and a number of aunts and uncles.

The funeral, Thursday at 10 a. m. will be held at Fry-Gibbs Chapel at Paris by the Rev. Fred Greger, Baptist minister, and burial will be made in Meadowbrook Cemetery.

3 Electrocuted Near Gladewater Friday Morning

Billy Powers, 24, of Paris, formerly of the southeast part of Lamar County, was one of a trio electrocuted Friday when a drag line they were operating struck a power line near Gladewater.

Powers was killed instantly. Also electrocuted were Clifford L. Pond, 31, of Dallas and Carroll Grubb, 18, of Cushing, Ok.

The three were working on a bridge over Moody Creek at the edge of Gladewater when the accident occurred. They were employed by Lester Watson Contractors of Dallas and were part of a crew widening a bridge there.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Odis Powers, the victim was not married. He attended school in Cunningham and Taylortown and had worked at various jobs in Paris before joining the Dallas construction company more than a year ago.

Survivors include three brothers, Robert 21, of Gladewater; John, 26, of Mobile, Ala.; and Jackie, 18 of Dallas. Robert was working on the same job with his brother when the Friday electrocution occurred.

Powers said his son worked as a pile-driver and truck driver with the construction company.

A chance taker is an accident maker.

As a Little League Fan Sees Razzing

As the Paluxy Little League season has progressed there has been an increasing tendency for the fans to boo and razz the umpires and even to shout at the players until some of the boys are so excited they can hardly play.

Folks, when we do this we are defeating the whole purpose of Little League ball. These games are played in order to teach these younger boys the value of a good sport and most important of all, the value of good sportsmanship. When we, as grown-ups, go out to the games and act improperly we can't expect the younger generation to know any better. The umpires at the games are giving their time and efforts to help the Little League while receiving no benefits for themselves, so when we go out to the games let's enjoy them and not ride the umpires and players. If Little League ball is carried out in the proper manner I don't believe it will bring anything but good to both Talco and Bogata.

A Little League Fan.

Grasshoppers finally crossed the dry beds of the Sulphurs from Delta and Hopkins counties and moved into Lamar and Red River this past week by the millions. Such a lot of fine fish bait and the weather too hot to fish. One farmer told a story about a big horny-legged hopper taking his cigarette out of his mouth and sailing away with it.

After cooling breezes from rains that fell elsewhere last week end had dropped temperatures into the low nineties for three days, that 100 plus hit this area Tuesday, accompanied by hot winds. This matter of lack of moisture and blistering heat is getting to be a serious matter to farmers and stockmen and those dependent upon farm production and cattle. What we need is an old-time chunk mover.

Adlai Stevenson has announced he would not come to Texas to campaign for Yarborough. Let's see, Stevenson—isn't that the so-called Democratic presidential nominee who two years ago told Alan Shivers he would, if elected president, veto any legislation returning Texas' tidelands to Texas. Yep, none other. Those tidelands have been worth 32 millions of dollars to Texas school children since Texas again came into possession of its property. Every Texas school teacher should think about that before he or she decides who to support for governor on August 28. Some of that money will be used to pay higher teachers salaries next term.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

BURT LOCKHART
in Pittsburg Gazette

What some of us want most is a half-time job on full-time pay.

It seems sometimes that the road to political fame is paved with mud.

Now that the election is over, Texas could use a king-size clean-up campaign.

There is no special virtue in being a winner, but it takes a hero to be a good loser.

It is not always the best man that wins. The running has something to do with it.

It does you little good if you pack up your troubles and take them with you on your vacation.

The thing that makes a campaign year so ugly is the display of dirty linen that politicians gleefully flaunt in the face of the public.

July has been described as the month when many people have given up their seed catalogues, but are still optimistic about the road maps.

I is being proven every day that two cars can't pass each other on the same side of the white line. Those who try it usually ride back home in an ambulance.

Remember way back how proud you felt when the first car you owned could make a round trip to Mt. Pleasant without getting stuck in the sand or without a tire puncture.

Candidates who used to ride into office on the coattails of the New Dealers have no doubt discovered that they must find some other mode of transportation if they expect to reach their political haven.

The fine vote given Gov. Allan Shivers in Saturday's primary expresses public approval of a man who staked his whole political fortune on a principle he believed right. That the public believed in his honestty and sincerity and his loyalty to Texas was expressed in the flattering vote he received in the primary. The political health of our state would be vastly improved if we had more men of the governor's type who are willing to cast party lines aside when great issues like the tidelands are at stake involving the best intersts of the state.

Brakes and brains save many pains.

July Temperature Record for Half Century Broken

Temperature records of 50 years have been broken at Clarksville, says The Times. Although the maximum of 108 lacked two degrees of the high reached on July 11, 1933, more days with official readings of 100 and higher will appear on the weather report of the local observer than any July since before 1904.

Rainfall of 1.4 inches was of little aid with so much heat being spread over such a long period. A number of weather reporting stations in Texas, however, have reported higher temperatures and more days of 100 degrees and higher than Clarksville.

Redfearn Thanks Titus Co. Voters

To the Citizens of Titus County:

I wish to express to you my appreciation for the fine vote I received in the first Democratic primary which enabled me to lead the ticket in the Sheriff's race. I shall ever be grateful for the consideration extended my candidacy and the confidence manifested by you.

As I go into the runoff I only ask that you investigate and look into my integrity and qualifications for this important office. I am sure it is your wish and desire to select the man whom you think will make Titus County the better sheriff. I am of the opinion the office of sheriff will be more important in the future than in the past, due to recent court decisions and with major crime on the increase. I believe that with my experience and qualifications I will be able to cope with and handle the duties and responsibilities of the office in a capable manner and in keeping with the laws of this state.

I earnestly solicit your support and help in the runoff.

Very truly yours,
AUBREY REDFEARN.

Gov. Shivers Talks About Campaign For Re-Election

Austin.— Expressing gratitude for the support that gave him a near-majority vote in the July primary, Governor Allan Shivers opened a runoff campaign for re-election this week, confident of victory.

"There is no question that we can and will win," the Governor said, as he announced plans for an around-the-clock battle.

"I'm going to wage an all-out campaign personally," he said, "and my friends over the state promise they will do the same. I will continue to discuss the issues and there will be no mud-slinging."

The Governor made his first statewide radio broadcast since the election on Tuesday night. He discussed the drouth, emergency relief steps which are being taken to relieve drouth conditions, and water and soil conservation.

Discussing the runoff campaign earlier in the week, the Governor said, "All we need to do is to get out our vote to win. It just takes work and there is no substitute for it, in a campaign or anything else."

The Governor indicated his efforts for re-election in the August primary would utilize such standard campaign devices as personal speeches, solicitations and contacts, including the ever-popular stump speaking as well as newspaper advertising, radio and television.

Analyzing the balloting in the first primary, the Governor said the returns proved his charge that his opponent was a "captive candidate of the CIO and NAACP." Ralph Yarborough carried every large CIO box, Shivers said, and every Negro precinct by ten-twenty to one.

"But I carried his home box three to one," the Governor pointed out.

Shivers appraised the basic issue of the runoff thusly: "The people have a choice of two types of government—one of strife and discord, not only among the people of Texas but in the Legislature and state government, or one of cooperation such as I have had, working for all segments of Texas.

"At stake is whether the people want to attract more industry for more jobs or double the tax rate; whether to continue a middle-of-the-road policy as I have, or have one in office who will turn the Texas government over to specialized segments of CIO and negro groups."

As for his stand on segregation, the population, particularly the the Governor reiterated he wanted schools for Negroes just as good as the best for white students. "Texas has spent more money on negro schools during my administration than in any comparable period, but Texans are not ready to abolish segregation in public schools, and so long as I am Governor, Texas is not going to abolish segregation in its public schools."

Alcorn Wants Hibernation Pills So He Can Store His Cows Till It Rains

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphuur, may have an idea this week, but it's ahead of his time.

Dear Editar: I was out here yesterday afternoon trainin my calves to stay on the shady side of their mothers while they go from the shade to the watering tank, heard the other day a rancher in West Texas lost a bunch of calves from sun stroke just from walkin on the sunny side of the cows, and I got to thinkin about an article I read some time back.

Accordin to this article, a scientist out in California is workin on a method of putting people into hibernation when they get sick. He's tryin to develop a pill you can swallow that'll cause you to pass into a month-long sleep or daze, while you recover from whatever is ailing you.

And I've been thinkin. Grass is so short, cattle are so hungry, and the price is so low, about the only thing that'll save em is some of them pills.

If I could give each one of my cows one of those pills and she'd hibernate in the barn until the drouth is over and the grass is knee high once more, it'd beat government relief all to pieces. In fact, I wouldn't see any point in usin this method just while a drouth is on, why not arrange to let your cows hibernate every winter? Along about the first frost, hand each one of em a pill and herd em in the barn, shut the gate, and forget about em until next spring when the grass is out once more. Might even try one myself, although up to now there hasn't been much essential difference between my farmin activities and hibernation anyway. Use of these pills would also solve the government's problem of price supports for cattle, which up to now it's been unable to do on account of they claim you can't store a cow.

The trouble with scientists though is they're always talking about these things but they're a little slow about getting around to getting the pills in my hand. You take a man with a bunch of cows, no grass, and the bottom out of prices, even if the government lends him some money to buy feed with, there's a joker in it, he's got to pay it back. That ain't relief, that's just postponing the misery.

Agricultural experts will tell you how to conserve feel, how to take care for your grass, etc., but when a cow gets hungry, it doesn't take any expert to tell you the only answer to her problem is feed.

If they can get these hibernation pills perfected 20 days from now, my cows can make it, but otherwise I won't be responsible.

Yours faithfully, A. A.

Only Two Votes Separate Pair

Two candidates who ran only two votes apart in the first Democratic primary election in Delta County will meet again in the runoff.

C. C. Oliver received 248 votes to J. L. Johnson's 246 votes in the contest for commissioner of Precinct 1, while a third man in the race gathered 88 votes.

Also at stake in the runoff will be the Democratic nominations for commissioners of Precincts 2 and 4 and for sheriff.

C. H. Brantley, the incumbent sheriff, will be opposed by H. E. (Pete) Bledsoe in the runoff. In Precinct 2, Dewitt Bledsoe and C. R. (Cap) Hooten are paired in the runoff, while in Precinct 4 O. C. Bulin and W. N. DeWitt are seeking nomination.

YARBOROUGH:

Thanks, Friends; Predicts Victory

AUSTIN.— Democratic gubernatorial candidate Ralph Yarborough said this week he will win the Aug. 28 second primary by a sweeping margin.

Said Yarborough, confidently:

"678,000 Texans—a majority of Texans—can't be wrong.

"678,000 Texans have hammered home their belief that integrity in their government can be achieved only by a change.

"678,000 Texans have noted their distrust and disapproval of a third term for their governors.

"678,000 Texas Democrats have made it crystal-clear they want a leader whose loyalty is unquestioned, who will never betray them."

Yarborough thanked "each and every one of the brave Texans who voted for and with me" in the first primary. He said he was "especially and particularly grateful to the citizens of this county who have joined our common fight to restore decency and honor to Teyas government."

Yarborough said the campaign issues now are sharply drawn. He said: "Texans can now choose for or against a tradition-breaking third term, for or against straight - forward Democratic leadership and for or against integrity in their State Capital."

The Democratic candidate repeated his thanks to "his friends and urged their voting support—along with the votes of all other Texans—Aug. 28."

Yarborough Men Lose in Ruling

Dist. Judge Sam Williams refused in Mount Pleasant Friday to grant an injunction sought by backers of Ralph W. Yarborough seeking to tie up three contested precinct delegations in Harrison County.

The delegations favoring Gov. Allan Shivers were elected at precinct conventions.

Williams ruled in the Seventy-sixth District Court after two hours of debate. He held that state courts lack jurisdiction in arguments over such delegations since such suits involved matters on which the parties had been given authority by statute.

Women were given the right to vote in Wyoming while it was still a territory.

What's New with Cows?

Catching up on my reading, I noticed three news items you might like to know about.

First, a farmer whose milk had a trace of garlic flavor is feeding his cows chlorophyll to sweeten their breaths.

Next, a college agricultural station has trained a herd to get milked when they are called by number. Seems 75 out of 80 cows learned their numbers in a few days. Guess the "dumb" five couldn't count that high. Final item—cows are getting "nose-printed" for identification.

From where I sit, I hope there is as much progress being made with humans . . . especially in regard to tolerance. Whether it's a choice of a political party, a basketball team, or a favorite beverage, let's learn to live and let live more. You may ask for a soft drink after a hard day's work—I'll choose a refreshing glass of beer. But let's not try to "cow" the other fellow into our way of thinking!

July was a scorcher!

(One of the hottest on record)

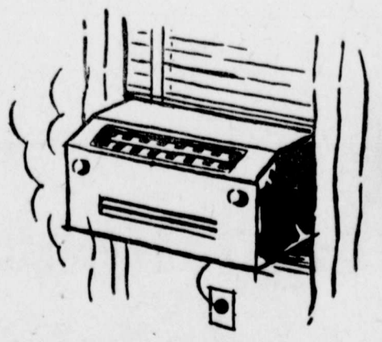

Electric fans worked harder and longer, bringing cooling breezes around the clock.

Electric refrigerators worked harder supplying extra refrigeration and extra quantities of ice cubes and cold drinks.

Home freezers worked harder to keep frozen foods safe through the extreme heat.

Air conditioners worked harder to keep rooms cool and comfortable. So did evaporative coolers.

Naturally, some electric bills may be higher because of all this extra use. But when you think of the relief from heat your electric service brings, you'll agree it's a real bargain in summertime better living.
