Lamar Cemetery marker unveiled

By Becky Werhan

A state historical marker, donated by the Lamar Woman's Club, was unveiled in the Lamar Cemetery on Sunday, Feb. 14. Attending the dedication ceremony were over 200 persons, many of them out-of-town descendants of original Lamar settlers.

Opening the ceremony was the entrance of a Color Guard from the Stewart Wendell Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3904. Donna Nugent, President of the Lamar Woman's Club, then welcomed the guests and introduced Sister Nancy of the Schoenstatt Community, who gave the invocation.

County Commissioner for Lamar (Precinct 4A) J.M. Sprigle, then spoke, crediting the Lamar Woman's Club for their efforts in obtaining the historical designation for the cemetery. He also praised them for their continued maintenance of the spot. Sprigle told the guests, "I'm proud to have this group of dedicated ladies in my precinct."

Jackie Shaw who, as a member of the Aransas County Historical Commission, has done extensive research on the Lamar Cemetery, next gave a brief history of the place. Mrs. Shaw, a descendant of Peter and Wilhema Johnson, Lamar settlers buried in the cemetery, explained that two dates are recorded for the designation of the ground as a cemetery, 1837 and 1854. The Lamar, or Point Lookout area was first settled by James W. Byrne and the first grave in the cemetery is that of Patrick O'Connor, a bookkeeper for Byrne. O'Connor was buried in 1854, a fact giving credence to that date as the beginning of the cemetery.

After the cemetery land passed from Byrne's hands it came under the ownership of Samuel and James Colt. (Samuel Colt was the inventor of the Colt revolver.) From the Colts, it was sold to Kate Edwards. The Edwards estate, out of Austin, owned some 1,000 acres of land surrounding the cemetery and following the decline of the Lamar townsite in the early 1900's the cemetery became "lost," grown over by the brush and forgotten, said Shaw.

In 1943, the family of John Henry Kroeger, then recently deceased descendant of the Lamar pioneer Kroegers, made it known that they would like to bury Mr. Kroeger in the family plot lying in the cemetery. Mae DeLisle Kroeger was instrumental in the ensuing revival of the cemetery area.

With the help of historian Harry Traylor, the Edwards estate and the oil company leasing from the surrounding area, a quit claim deed was secured for the cemetery. The area was located and Mr. Kroeger was buried on Jan. 25, 1944. Following this, the county cleared the area and a road was built to the cemetery.

Shaw said that the Lamar Woman's Club, organized in 1966, had taken over the upkeep of the cemetery, coming to the sight once a month for gardening and groundskeeping.

Following Mrs. Shaw's presentation, the marker was unveiled by Mrs. R.J. Kroeger of the Kroeger family. Prior to the unveiling Mrs. Kroeger told those

County is called 'big sewer pit'

By Pat Blair

"We've got a problem — a bad problem," says Aransas County Sanitarian Harold Scheer. "We're going to have a hepatitis outbreak here that won't quit."

The problem, he said, is sewage — and how to dispose of it. To say that Aransas County is floating on a bed of sewage "depending on where you go, is pretty accurate," Scheer said recently during an interview in his office at the county courthouse.

There are streets in the county where not one residence is on either sanitary sewer or a septic system.

Raw sewage percolates out of the hillsides and fills ditches along Fulton Beach Road.

Three restaurants in the Fulton area are seeking some way of dealing with their sewage problem to avoid having to close down.

The real problem, Scheer says, is that there is no easy solution. Although many of the 82 septic tank complaints he investigated last year were preventable

Goose Island Lake Estates

Uncertain future tied to a shaky past

Editor's note: The following is the first of a series of in-depth articles on the past, present and future of Goose Island Lake Estates and the finance-plagued Aransas County Municipal Utilities District that serve the area. The series will continue in the coming Pilot Weekend Edition.

By Pat Blair

It was a developer's dream: a self-contained residential/recreational area with more than 400 residential units built around a fully-stocked lake.

There would be a club house for lot owners and their guests, a golf course, tennis courts, swimming pool, riding stables...

It was called Goose Island Lake Estates. Ground was broken for the development in May, 1973, according to an article in the Rockport Pilot at the time. Mrs. C.E. Conlin, president of South Coast Development Corporation, said the project would ultimately include 210 condominium units, 120 residential lots, 55 mobile home lots and 81 RV lots.

Lee Bilberry of Golf Course Builders Inc. of Houston was retained to do the golf course design and construction, the streets and curbs and seven swimming pools. Dennis Arp of International Landscaping Inc. of Brownsville was retained for the land planning and Aransas County Engineering Co. was in charge of engineering and surveying the development.

J.J. Conlin Sr. was general manager of the project.

In the same year, the developers petitioned the Texas Water Rights Commission to create a municipal utility district (MUD) that would provide water, sanitary sewer and drainage facilities for residents of the development. The TRC responded with the creation of a board and appointment of five directors on Aug. 15, 1973, and the district was confirmed by election on Nov. 4, 1974.

The riding stables never materialized but the golf course, tennis courts and a swimming pool were constructed between 1973 and 1974, according to Richard Hughes, president of the present MUD board.

"They were all in and working at one time," Hughes says.

Today, the golf course and tennis courts are overgrown, none of the facilities in use — or usable, according to residents of the area.

In a development in which 400 dwelling units were projected by this year — 1982 — there are, Hughes says, "approximately 30" residences.

The water plant, according to board members, hasn't worked since shortly after it was turned on in February, 1978 — and the District is contemplating legal action against environmentalists, the company that designed the facility.

As a result of bond elections in 1977 and 1978 to construct the water, sanitary sewer and drainage facilities, the District owes some $1.6 million.

The 1981 audit of the District's books resulted in the following statement from the auditors: "During the current and previous years, the District's expenditures have exceeded its revenue and continuation as a going concern is dependent upon the District's ability to increase its revenue in the future."

At a recent meeting of the board, former board member Walt Addis told current board members, "I think you'll have to go under Chapter Nine — voluntary bankruptcy — and close it (the District) out."

Herman Little, attorney for the District, says in his opinion such a measure would spell disaster for any future development of the district and for Goose Island Lake Estates.

"On three occasions in the last two years," Little said during last week's meeting of the board, "you have borrowed money. For two years, you have avoided bankruptcy."

Board members continue to hope they can still avoid bankruptcy, that "something" will happen to enable them to get the money they need to keep the district going. They hope for some outside subsidies to provide the funds they cannot raise through taxes. There have been some indications that such subsidies might be forthcoming.

But so far, nothing is certain.

Four seek election to Rockport city council posts

The race for Rockport's city mayor has become a contest with the recent filing of Christi Vaughn and City Alderman C.H. (Burt) Mills Jr.

Also filing Monday were Betty Jean Ward seeking re-election to her post as alderwoman representing Rockport's Ward 1 and Murray McMillan seeking re-election as representative from Ward 2.

Mrs. Vaughn filed for election Friday in the mayor's race against incumbent Walter S. Falk Jr. "I'm running because I think it's time for a change in the city administration," she said. She added she wants to see Rockport grow but that it must be planned growth — "not helter-skelter."

"Businesses are very important to the area and I want to work with new businesses coming in as well as those that are established," she said, "but I also want the city to be able to handle its growth."

She added that "the most important thing in my whole campaign is, I want to talk to people. I want to know what people are thinking, and if I am elected, I want to have an 'open door' policy so citizens will know they have an ear at City Hall."

Mrs. Vaughn has lived in Rockport about two and a half to three years "this time," she said, adding, "I lived here as a little girl — and I spent my honeymoon here."

She and her husband, Wayne, have been married two years and have two children.

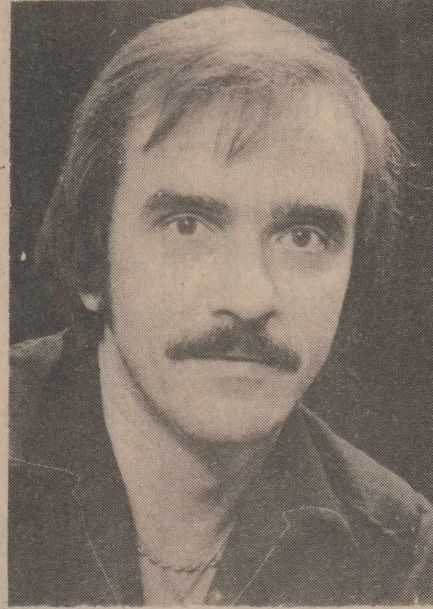

She is owner and operator of "Shhhh," consignment clothing store on Wharf Street.

Valentine Dance success

The 1982 Valentine's Day Dance was again a success, according to Dance Chairman Joann Haskell who reported the event — attended by 251 persons — should net around $4,000 for Aransas County's ambulance service.

Sponsored by the Woman's Committee of Aransas County Medical Services, Inc., the annual dance is a combination social and fund-raiser for the county's Emergency Ambulance Service. All profits are used to maintain the county's three emergency vehicles.

Residents not only from the Rockport-Fulton area but from neighboring communities attended the dance Saturday night, Feb. 13, in the Paws & Taws Building. Music was by Ginny and the Guys and members of the Women's Committee did the decorations for the affair.

Thirty-eight door prizes, ranging from savings bonds to free dinners and floral arrangements, were given away during the evening and long lines kept volunteers busy at the food and drink tables. Included on the menu were more than 50 pounds of boiled shrimp.

Door prize winners included Audrey Owens, Jeanne Bickel and Virginia Lazidis, all of Rockport; Gene Latham of Fulton; Carol Smith; and Rockport residents Charles Thornton, Rosemary Setterbo, Ed Setterbo, Vi Street and Gordon Boling.

Also winning door prizes were Mary Lou Tiner, Evelyn Lund of Dallas, David Tiner, Jerry Shaw, C.D. Panton, H.L. Woodbury, Evelyn Gammel, William Walston, Adelaide Roberts and Linda Hasselbach of Corpus Christi who got the "surprise package."

Local artist Rip Harrison who won a savings bond donated it back to the women's committee.

Other winners included Milevan Gahovich of Port Lavaca; Al Chernosky, Gen Mortensen, Juanita Wagley, David Boling, Ron Levy, Carolyn Behee and Christine Long, all of Rockport; C.D. Sims of Victoria; Dovey Bradford of Fulton; and Herbert Haseloff, Bill Statesir, Billie Cotton, Bruce Hall, Pattie McMillan, Mert Blocker and Grace Lohofener.

Donors of door prizes or other goods or services to the dance include Allied Live Oak Bank, Ann Guynes, Anthony's Hair Salon, Aransas Warehouse Company, Betty Walters, Blossom Shop, the Bookstore, Casterline Fish Co., Charlotte Plummer's Sea Fare Restaurant, Cindy Johnson, Crazy Daisy and Den's Fried Chicken.

Also Elegance, Emma's Flower Shop, Estelle Stair's Art Gallery, First National Bank, Hamner Inc., Hearn's Nursery, Hidden Treasures, Jerry Iles' Hair Design, Kitty's Fashions, Lettie's No. 1 and No. 2, Monroe Furniture, Moons-shell, Pearson's Nursery. Other donors include Pilot Office Supply, Pizza Hut, Radio Shack, Rip Harrison, Roaten's Drug Store, Rockport Art Supply, Schrenkeisen's Restaurant, Sundial, Sydow Jewelry, Texas Tu Step, the Village Deli, United Savings and Uropa Frozen Foods.

Of course cats have goosebumps

Pet Talks

Dr. Lutz is a former instructor of diseases of dogs and cats in the college of Veterinary Medicine at Texas A&M University.

By Dr. Hap Lutz
Yes, Cats do have goosebumps!

This goosebump phenomenon is probably a throwback to their furry undomesticated ancestors. Fear, rage, or excitement cause the smooth muscles of the second layer of skin to pucker, which makes body hair stand up. This also happens in dogs. This makes the animal look large-er and therefore more frightening to potential predators. The erect hairs trap warm air next to the skin, and protects it against heat loss during stress.

This same phenomena also takes place in humans. So ladies, the next time you notice the hairs on your husbands' arms or the back of his neck standing up, you'll know where he originated from — his furry ancestors

If you have any questions concerning the health and care of your dog or cat mail them to the Rockport Pilot, Rockport, Tex...Dr. Lutz will answer them in the weekend edition.

Pig impounded by animal control

During January, Rockport's animal control officer impounded 20 dogs, four cats — and one pig.

That's according to the report released by Rockport Police Chief Joe Hinojosa Monday night during Rockport's city council meeting.

Hinojosa told council members that City Animal Control Officer Dick MacMurchy issued 11 warnings during the month. No citations were issued.

Seventeen of the dogs were returned to their owners or adopted during the month. Three dogs and six cats were destroyed because of injury or sickness.

The pig, Hinojosa said, was impounded at a farm in Fulton. After 10 days, when no one claimed the animal, police told the farmer he could keep it.

A total of 96 animal calls were received during the month. No dog bites were reported in the city.

Heat and cool your home more efficiently with a heat pump.

That's right. It's easy to be misled by the name, but an electric heat pump actually provides air conditioning as well as heating—and does both more efficiently than any other combination unit on the market today.

This year-round comfort system is an especially good choice for South Texas, because the heat pump operates most economically in regions with relatively mild winters. In this area served by Central Power and Light Company, a properly installed heat pump can deliver at least 2½ BTU's of heat for every BTU of energy needed to run it.

And that, of course, means you save both electricity and money!

There's an easy explanation for the heat pump's high efficiency rating: it simply moves heat—and that's a less expensive process than making heat, as gas and other conventional systems must do. In the winter, a heat pump extracts heat from the outside air and brings it inside. In the summer, it removes heat from the interior, thus air conditioning and dehumidifying your home.

If you're buying or building a new house, a heat pump should head the list of priority items you want to include.

Or you might want to consider increasing the efficiency of the heating and cooling system in your present home with a heat pump. No matter what kind of unit you have now, addition of a high-efficiency heat pump will save energy.

Coal, nuclear only feasible power sources

By 1990 coal and nuclear power will be the only feasible sources for generation of electricity, according to Betsy Lambert, communications specialist with Central Power and Light Co. Lambert was speaker at last Wednesday's luncheon meeting of Rockport Rotary club at the Sandollar Restaurant.

To illustrate the growing importance of coal to generate electricity, Lambert showed a slide film presentation based on operation of Central Power and Light's new Coletto Creek generating plant which now supplies about a quarter of the company's energy needs.

The plant, located between Goliad and Victoria, uses 33,000 tons of low sulphur Colorado coal a week. It takes approximately two minutes to unload a car of coal which is then pulverized to very fine dust before being mixed with dry air and fed into the boiler where ignition takes place, according to Lambert. She added that a supply of pure water is then converted into high pressure steam which turns turbines operating the generators.

A separate supply of cooling water is pumped from nearby streams and a large cooling reservoir at the rate of 360,000 gallons a minute. After cooling the steam that ran the turbines the heated reservoir water is recycled and cooled for reuse, Lambert said. Part of the reservoir area has been converted into a public recreation park, she added.

It was explained that while set-up of the generating plant follows more traditional lines, all its operations are controlled by computers, including scrubbing devices which remove combustion ash of all kinds from operation, permitting the plant to release smoke stack flue gas that is 99.5 percent pure.

Lambert said it is estimated this country has one-third of all coal reserve coal on earth, enough to last 300 years. However, much of the coal has a higher and undesirable sulphur content than the coal now being used by the new C.P.&L. plant.

Additional units which probably will be added to the present plant later will have additional special equipment to avoid pollution. This equipment will make it possible to use south Texas lignite. Which is much cheaper than coal brought into the state by rail.

A recently enacted federal law prohibits the use of natural gas to generate electricity beyond 1990.

With the continuing escalation of the price of oil and the rapid depletion of this source of fuel in the not too distant future, electric companies are left with little choice; either coal or nuclear power, with nuclear power being much less expensive than coal.

Lambert said Central Power and Light Co. continues to be fully committed to construction and operation of the jointly owned nuclear power plant near Bay City on which construction has been temporarily halted. She predicted that construction will be resumed within the next 90 days.

About Mr. Botto

Born in San Antonio, Texas 1920. Began to take up art when 9 years of age. Studied under the Scottish Portrait painter Watson Mac; the Cartoonist Charlie Plum, creator of Ella Cinders; and the Watercolorist Warren Hunter.

Did commercial art for the San Antonio Express and news illustrations and cartoons for the Pilot; a merchant marine newspaper of the C.I.O.

During recent years he has concentrated his efforts in the field of fine arts, using the medium of oil and acrylic paints. His subject has been centered around landscapes of the Texas hill country. They are characterized by a gently, soft quality that captures the peaceful, restful beauty of the hill country. He now lives in Harlingen, Texas.

35 North wreck

The drivers involved in this three-car collision on Highway 35 North Monday were lucky. Only one driver was injured and was taken to the hospital for neck pain. The accident occurred around 3 p.m. Monday, near Lillian's, when the driver of the car on the right stopped, attempting a left hand turn. The car on the left then rear-ended the stopped car, throwing it into the opposing lane where a south-bound vehicle [not shown] was in head-on collision.

Merle Norman loves choir

Helen Chastain and Margaret Yaffe of Merle Norman Cosmetics want to help out the Rockport-Fulton High School Choir. The owners of the newly relocated cosmetics shop are going to donate 10 percent of their profits "from everything in the store" for the week of Feb. 22-27. This is special incentive for their old friends and new customers who haven't yet seen the new shop at 606 E. Market to drop in. "We really want to help the choir," says Helen. In addition to their new location, Merle Norman has new hours, 9:30 - 5:30, Monday through Saturday. [Photo by Becky Werhan]

Pre-hearing set on United Parcel Service

AUSTIN — The transportation Division of the Railroad Commission has set Feb. 25 as the date for a pre-hearing conference in the application of United Parcel Service for authority to transport packages within the state of Texas. The pre-hearing conference will be held in the auditorium of the Commission headquarters building here.

UPS already holds Interstate Commerce Commission authority to transport packages into and out of Texas.

At the pre-hearing conference, parties may file motions concerning the following:

- any special procedures which may be necessary for the proceeding.
- legal issues to be raised.
- scheduling issues to include the setting of hearing dates.
- any other matters which might simplify the adjudication of the case.

UPS filed the current application for common carrier authority with the Commission's Transportation Division in August, 1978. Following a jurisdictional hearing in September of that year, the Commission issued an order in April, 1979, concluding it did not have jurisdiction to hear the application.

The Commission stated its belief that applicable state law and court decisions do not permit common carriers to operate over irregular routes on irregular schedules as UPS proposes to do.

The Commission's decision was appealed to state District Court. That court ruled the Commission should hear the UPS application.

Appellate decisions by the Court of Civil Appeals and the Texas Supreme Court did not change the district court ruling. The Texas Supreme Court, although stating the Railroad Commission should hear the UPS application, specifically reserved judgement on the question of whether state law permits common carriers to operate over irregular routes on irregular schedules saying, "that question is reserved for future determination when it is present for our review."

Bee College registration to begin soon

BEEVILLE — Registration for Bee County College occupational students planning spring quarter enrollment will begin February 23, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. and continue through February 26 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Occupational classes taught on the clockhour basis starting March 1 include air conditioning and refrigeration, auto mechanics, cosmetology, student instruction, cosmetology, diesel mechanics, radio-television servicing, vocational nursing and welding.

For the first time in BCC's history a second opportunity during the year will be offered vocational nursing students to begin their training. It also starts March 1.

Night classes will be available in auto mechanics and welding, and opportunities for part-time student conditioning and refrigeration, auto mechanics and welding.

Students electing to attend part-time will meet classes Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 6:15 p.m. to 11:15 p.m., while full-time enrollees will meet their evening classes beginning at 5:15 p.m.

Dr. Neal M. McBryde,

BCC occupational dean pointed out that job opportunities following graduation in occupational "are excellent," with job chances approaching 100 percent in the fields of air conditioning and refrigeration, auto mechanics, cosmetology, cosmetology student instruction and diesel mechanics, and all the other fields present higher than 80 percent of post graduation employment.

McBryde also said there are a number of different financial assistance programs available, and that details on scholarships and other monetary support be obtained by calling BCC's financial aid office at 358-6823.

Details on job opportunities and careers are available by calling McBryde, 358-8973, and registration information is available by calling 358-3130.

Two persons were charged with burglary after being arrested at the scene of break-ins this weekend.

Randall James Whiteaker, 19, of City-by-the Sea was charged with burglary of a business after he was arrested inside Escondido Gallery, 1405 Broadway, about 2:40 a.m. Friday, Feb. 12. Bond was set at $1,500 on the charge.

Police were called to the gallery after an alarm went off.

In a second incident about 12:43 a.m. Sunday, Jimmy Dale Cates, 17, of Rockport was charged with attempted burglary and bond set at $2,000.

Cates is charged with trying to burglarize a storage shed on South Bronte. Police were called to the scene on report of a possible burglary in progress.

Elsewhere in the city, burglars made off with loot ranging from a purse to appliances and more than $2,000 in paintings and other valuables in a storage shed burglary on North Fuqua.

Gordon C. Boling reported someone had pried the padlock off the hasp to get into his storage shed in a break-in that occurred sometime between Feb. 8 and 5 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 13.

Two paintings, a 13-piece set of crystal globes, three rifles and two Kachina dolls were taken in the burglary.

In a Liberty Street break-in, Richard Garcia told police a .38 Derringer special valued at about $80 was taken after thieves broke into his bedroom.

That incident occurred between 6:30 p.m. Feb. 11 and 1:30 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 13.

In a burglary on Young Street, a refrigerator and gas range, valued at $100 each, were taken from a garage belonging to Fernando Martinez. Police said the incident occurred between Feb. 6 and Saturday.

A purse was taken in the burglary of the Tern Street residence of Jackie and Kathy Arnold.

Police said the incident occurred between 9:30 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. Saturday. Arnold told police all the doors were locked when he went to bed Friday night and in the morning, the back door was unlocked.

Missing was Mrs. Arnold's shoulder purse containing a wallet, assorted credit cards and other personal belongings.

Theft

Coastal Marine was hit twice in recent days according to police reports. A report of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle was turned in Saturday after a Ford Bronco, left at the Coastal Marine gates Friday evening, was missing Saturday morning.

Earlier, three stainless steel props were reported taken from three boats between the last of January and the first of February. Police said two of the boats were inside the fenced compound and one outside at the time of the theft. Value of the props was estimated at $600.

A power booster was taken from a car at Michael Tijerina's paint and body shop on Bronte sometime between 7 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. Saturday.

And a surf board valued at $250 was reported taken from the porch of the Mathis Street residence of Dominga Perez Jr. That incident happened about 10:30 p.m. Sunday.

Arrests

One man was arrested on charges of shoplifting in a local grocery store Friday evening and another was arrested on a capias pro fine warrant.

Chamber notes

CONGRATULATIONS to the Lamar Woman's Club on a very impressive and well attended dedication of the Texas Historical Marker for the Lamar Cemetery Sunday afternoon. Delicious refreshments were served at a reception following the ceremony in the Lamar Fire Hall.

The Women's Committee of Aransas County Medical Services Inc. deserves a great big thank you for a beautiful Valentine's Dance held at the Paws and Taws Building last Saturday evening. Lots of door prizes were given, delicious hors d'oeuvres served and the Ambulance Fund benefitted from the proceeds of this affair.

A CHINESE AUCTION, the Rockport Area chamber of Commerce fun-filled fund raising affair, is scheduled for March 13 at the Paws and Taws Building. Please mark your calendar and plan to attend this event.

W2 delays don't affect deadline

Persons who have not received their Forms W-2, "Wage and Tax Statements," from their employers must still file their tax returns by April 15, the Internal Revenue Service advises.

To avoid delay in receiving the W-2, persons should furnish their employers with a current address. If employees do not receive the statement, they should first contact their employer. After February 15, the employee should ask for help by calling the IRS office listed in the telephone directory.

The IRS reminds taxpayers that they must have a W-2 form from every employer they worked for during the year. Even if an employee is unable to get a W-2 before the filing deadline of April 15, a timely return must be filed. Report all income and attach a signed and dated statement explaining the tax computations for the missing wage and tax information, the IRS says.

Rockport Pirates clip Beeville Trojans 70-56

After the frustration of cancelling Friday's game with Beeville because only one official was on hand, the Rockport-Fulton Pirates played some of their best basketball of the year to down the Beeville Trojans on Saturday night in Rockport by a 70-56 score.

The Pirates fought off the Trojans on numerous occasions as the Trojans threatened to get themselves in the lead, but each time the Pirates got a lift and held on to turn Beeville away.

The Pirates opened up an early lead in the first half, getting out front 17-7 in the opening quarter, and then held a 27-18 lead at the half. Tim Redden, who couldn't put a basket in the second half, hit for four in the first half to help the Pirates along.

Most of the real excitement began in the second half when the Pirates found themselves involved in a unique ballgame. Each time they tried to put Beeville away, the Trojans, led by Bobby Schauer's 20 points, kept picking away at the Pirate lead. One big turning point came when Zachary Green entered the game, made a quick jumper, then took a power-move to the basket, drawing a foul and putting a Trojan player out of the game. Green converted one of the free throws to get the Pirates back ahead by nine points again.

Then the Pirates were on the receiving end for a change of some charity shots when a Beeville player and the Trojan coach got a series of technical fouls called. James Walls quickly took advantage by sinking four of five shots, and the Pirates added a basket to really extend the lead. Michael Simmons, who has struggled with his shot for most of the basketball season, was really in the groove as he paced the Pirates with twenty points, eighteen coming from the field.

Walls, who finished the night with nineteen points, picked up another pair of free shots when the Trojan coach drew his third technical, only this time he was pointed off the floor by the officials. By that time less than two minutes remained, and the Pirates had put the game on ice, handing the Trojans their first loss in the second round of district play.

R-F Pirate JV notch win in Beeville

In a nip-and-tuck contest in Beeville, the Rockport-Fulton JV took a 53-46 win over the Trojans with a seven-point spurt in the final minute, giving the Pirates the victory.

Coach Ronnie Ormand praised his troop after the game by saying that some of his players had really played in te spirit of "team play", and that made all the difference. "Sometimes all people look at after a game is who scored, but in the case of our game, guys like Rusty Stovall and Jay Roberts didn't score a lot, but the other parts of their game were almost without error. "Ormand pointed out. "The big guys really came through in the last quarter," Ormand said speaking of Charles Showalter and John Longino who each hit for key baskets in the final two minutes.

The Pirates broke-away early, gathering a 26-15 lead, at the half, but Beeville kept fighting back until they pulled even late in the fourth period.

Midway through the game, the JV got some heavy scoring from Jay Turner and Randy Foote, each sinking five baskets in the middle two quarters. In the third period, Eddie Bechtol came off the bench to put in some good playing minutes, hitting a pair of buckets.

As the end came closer, the more the Pirates went after the victory.

Freshmen girls win

Getting revenge for an earlier loss to Beeville, the Lady Pirate Freshmen team battled to a 28-24 overtime win over Beeville in Beeville Friday.

Johnie Jordon's four points and Rachel Flores's two points proved to be enough of a margin in overtime for the Pirates to win after the game had ended in a tie at the end of regulation play, 22-22.

The Rockport team had trailed throughout the game until the fourth period when they scored 10 big points, six of which came from Sylvia Ayala. Meanwhile, the Beeville team was scoring only four points in the final quarter, giving the Pirates a chance to cut the lead and tie the score.

Either team could have taken charge in the game if they had been more effective from the free throw line. The Pirates were only six of 17, while the Trojans were even worse off at 0 for 11 shots.

Varsity girls stagger Beeville Trojans

The Wins have been few-and-far-between for the Lady Pirates of Rockport-Fulton this year, but Friday night they beat the Beeville Trojans 50-26 to gain some self respect as the season draws to an end for them.

The game was close in the first half, with both teams challenging for the lead before the Lady Pirates took a 17-13 lead into the locker room at the half.

The turning point of the contest came in the third quarter when the Pirates played at a frenzied pace, cutting off all Trojan attempts, and in the meantime, outscoring the Trojan's 25-1 in that eight minutes behind the 12 point effort of Maggie Kiker in that period. By the end of the third period, Rockport held an unreachable lead at 42-14.

When the game ended, Kiker led the Pirates with 15 points, followed by Diana Herman with 10 points.

Trojans dump

Pirate frosh again

Beeville turned Pirate turnovers into points as the Trojans ran their record to 18-0 in a 60-46 over the Pirate Freshmen in Rockport Friday night. The loss now leaves the Pirates 16-4 for the season.

The Trojans broke fast with a 17-point first quarter using an 11-point outburst by Robert Barefield. The Pirates meanwhile were cold and fell miserably behind 17-6 at the end of the quarter.

When the second quarter rolled around, the Pirates finally got things going behind Bill Mott's 11 points in the second period. The Pirates kept the Trojans' scoring at a minimum, holding them to 11 points as the Pirates hit for 15 points.

Beeville pilled away as the third period progressed, outscoring Rockport 17-12, taking a lead of 45-33.

Even with Mott's 25 point performance, the Trojans countered that with Barefield's 24. The Pirates had 22 shots from the free throw line in the final quarter, but let the game slip away as they hit on only nine occasions. With Mott being the only player in double figures for the Pirates, the Trojans did a good defensive job holding the rest of the Pirates to just 21 points. Steve Odom was well below his average for the last few games as he picked up only eight points. Trinelle Walls led the team in rebounds with nine for the game.

JV girls are winners

Carolyn Carpenter's hot hand paved the way for the Lady Pirate JV to defeat Beeville in Beeville 23-16. Carpenter had 12 points in the first three quarters, sitting out the fourth period.

The Lady Pirates took a 14-9 lead by the half, and then ran their margin to 21-14 after three periods as Carpenter hit for six of her points in the third stanza.

Rockport got the early lead in the game on a pair of buckets by Lona Thompson, and single baskets by Carpenter and Kelly Mack.

Appraisal district to return funds

Aransas County's appraisal district will return some $30,000 in funds to local taxing entities when three certificates of deposit mature next month.

The decision to refund the surplus money was made during last Thursday's, Feb. 11, meeting of the district's board of directors.

In other action during the afternoon session, directors voted to set up a five-member appraisal review board.

It is expected that the members of the board will be appointed at the district's next meeting.

Chief Appraiser Jack Groseclose Thursday told district directors the CDs that will mature in early March total more than $30,000. The money will be refunded to Aransas County's taxing entities in the same proportions that these entities fund the appraisal district.

Taxing entities served by the appraisal district include the county government, county school district, the cities of Rockport and Fulton, navigation district and the Aransas County Municipal Utilities

District No. 1. District directors voted that a committee consisting of Horace Naquin and Harold Shirey would study the chief appraiser's contract with the district and make recommendations for the board to act on.

In other action the board voted to enter into contract with the firm of Sproull & Crandall Inc., marine surveyors from Brownsville, for appraisal of commercial, industrial and larger pleasure watercraft, and Russell Graham, a tax attorney with the Austin firm of Calame, Linbarger & Graham was retained to serve as the district's attorney.

The board voted to join the Texas Appraisal District Association, approved participation in the County District Retirement System

The district had earlier advertised for bids on the sale but did not receive any bids.

Ruby Lopez was one of the many hard workers at the choir booster's Italian Dinner on Feb. 15. The Italian meal was served at noon time and at dinner, in the Rockport Elementary cafeteria. Mrs. Lopez works in the cafeteria regularly and is also quite a choir booster — with three daughters working their way toward Vienna. Figures aren't back yet for the boosters' profit from the meal, but the turnout was a good one.

Motorcycle mishaps injure two in county

Two motorcycle accidents sent both riders to Coastal Bend Hospital in Aransas Pass with minor injuries this past weekend.

Raul Samuel Solis, 24, of Rockport was reported suffering injury to his ribs after his motorcycle went out of control on a curve on South Bronte Sunday evening.

Police said the accident occurred about 6:12 p.m. when Solis's vehicle went off the road and struck a reflector post. Solis was cited for violation of restriction "H" which requires a motorcycle operator's license.

In a motorcycle accident about 12:52 a.m. Saturday, Gerald Joe Hall, 22, of Rockport was sent to the hospital with facial injuries after his vehicle went off Fulton Beach Road near the entrance to Bayhouse Condominiums.

Police said the vehicle struck a sign near the entrance, skidded over a median and came to rest across the entranceway. Hall was ticketed for failure to control speed.

AARP honors Wagley

Juanita Wagley was the "Special Valentine" of Chapter 1536 American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) at their Valentine Dance last week. Ms. Wagley was lauded by the group for her long-time interest and support of the local chapter.

"I was very pleased," said Ms. Wagley of the honor. "But I really appreciate what this group has done for the community as a whole. They do such a great service for their regular members as well as encouraging many visitors to come to our community."

"It is a pleasure to participate and assist them in any way possible," she added.

attended by a near overflow crowd of more than 100, AARP President Florence Samson introduced Ms. Wagley with a Valentine poem. Dance chairpersons Celia Blankert and Kathryn Winkelman presented her with a Valentine corsage from the chapter.

The Winter Texan members were represented by Robert Crews, a visitor staying at the Woody Acres Trailer Park, who spoke of the appreciation of the use of the Paws and Taws building, which is provided the chapter by Ms. Warley.

Following the presentation, the crowd of guests enjoyed dancing. At intermission, a large Valentine cake, punch and coffee were served.

As Ms. Wagley, who was surprised with the presentation, summed up, "It was such a nice evening. Just lovely."

Botto conducts workshop

Rockport Art Supply, at 705 Liberty, will be the location for two special Guy Botto workshops, from 5-10 p.m., Feb. 22 and 23.

Cost per student for the Botto workshop is $55. Mr. Botto, who now resides in Harlingen, has become well known for his efforts in the field of fine arts, using oil and acrylic paints.

He has centered his subject matter in the Texas hill country.

The artist was born in San Antonio in 1920. He took up art when he was nine years of age. He has studied under the Scottish portrait painter Watson Mac; the cartoonist Charlie Plum, the creator of Ella Cinders; and the watercolorist Warren Hunter.

Botto did commercial art for the San Antonio Express and newspaper illustration and cartoons for the Pilot, a merchant marine newspaper of the C.I.O.

CCSU hosts 'Time for Transition'

A free workshop for women contemplating a life change will be held Saturday, Feb. 27, in Corpus Christi State University's Corpus Christi Hall Auditorium.

Entitled "It's Time for a Transition," the workshop "is designed to meet the needs of women planning to enter or return to the job market...or who want to make a change in their life," said Mary Williams of the American Association of University Women — one of the four workshop co-sponsors.

Sessions and leaders will be: "Personal Growth is an Attainable Goal," Rubie Sample, instructor of English, Del Mar College; "How to Present Yourself," Rose Mary Fry, assistant vice president/personnel, First City Bank of Corpus Christi; "How to Find the Jobs," Janet Adkins, tax supervisor, Fox and Co.; "Making a Career Change," a panel featuring Thelma Elizalde, free-lance journalist, Angie Saenz, marketing/distributive education coordinator, Miller High School, Esperanza Garza, college student, and Gerry Kroloff, instructional television director, Channel 16; and "How to Juggle Personal and Career Goals," Dr. Colleen Walter, licensed clinical psychologist.

The concluding general session is entitled "Dress for Confidence" and will feature Anne Flynn, owner of The Godwin Shop.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. in Corpus Christi Hall Auditorium, room 117. The workshop will end at 1:30.

The workshop is being co-sponsored by the American Association of University Women, South Texas Women's Forum, CCSU and Del Mar College.

Additional information can be obtained by calling: Mary Williams, 854-1258; Rose Fry, 851-1248 (after 6 p.m.); Sandy Speed, 991-6610 ext. 414; and Sue Cameron, 881-6450.

THE SIGN BEHIND OUR NEW SIGN

Allied Live Oak Bank

There is a sign on a wall in an office that says, "If it works, don't fix it."

If it weren't for that sign, and the philosophy it stands for, there might not be an Allied Live Oak sign going up outside our bank right now. Because Live Oak Bank works. And it's always worked. And if it didn't work — day in and day out — in the best interests of the folks in Aransas County, we'd never have been as successful as we have.

Allied Bancshares recognized that. In fact, that's the kind of bank Allied wanted to merge with — one that's already doing it right, and one that can only benefit the community even more with Allied's help.

So while there are some exciting changes in store for us all, there are some things we wouldn't change for the world. The people, the friendliness, the attitudes, and the concern for Aransas County that you knew at Live Oak are still the same at Allied Live Oak. All the checks, envelopes, deposit slips, and other forms you have are still good, and you can use them 'till you run out. And we know that when it does come time for you to have new ones printed, you'll be as glad to see "Allied Live Oak" on them, as we are to see our new sign.

Because the only changes that are being made, are for the better.

Sewer

violations, in other cases the situation is out of the owner's control.

"These people are trying," Scheer says, for example, of the restaurant owners. "One of them has run over $20,000 trying to fix the thing — they just don't have the (septic) systems to handle the volume of people."

A major — perhaps the major — part of the problem, Scheer says, is the growth of Aransas County. "We are the fastest-growing county in the Coastal Bend area," he said. And, because of a lack of sanitary sewer facilities outside the city of Rockport and its immediate area, the primary means of sewage disposal is the septic tank.

"Last year alone," Scheer says, "I issued permits for 179 septic systems. That's 179 septic systems applied for, installed or being installed. I don't know how many were bootlegged in — but I estimate about 200 systems (total) in that one year."

Many of these systems are put in wrong, Scheer said. For example, he cited an instance of a man with a 46-foot well "and two drainfields right on top of it." Another common practice — and one that carries health hazards — is the laying of water lines across septic drainfields.

But even when the systems are put in right, Scheer said, it can lead to problems. "Ninety percent of Aransas County is in the floodplain," he said. "These are clay areas, low areas — right there you've got problems."

The only way a septic system will work in these areas is to set the tanks high and backfill with pure sand — and even then there are areas where a heavy rain will make the tanks back up.

"The county is just about at the saturation point," Scheer said. "(Texas) A&M told me I had one foot of soil to work with to put a system in."

Last October, in a letter concerning subdivisions in Aransas County, Thomas B. Shriver, the federal regional environmental engineer, said, "I recommend that you do not approve mortgage insurance in subdivisions with small lots (less than 1/3 acre) where individual sewerage systems are proposed."

In Fulton — which, Scheer said, is the "worst problem in the county" — "hundreds of gallons of raw sewage are running into the bay daily."

At the Harbor Oaks Bridge last year, a team from the Coastal Bend Council of Governments (COG) found "confluent growth" of coliform bacteria.

Coliform is a type of bacteria found in the intestinal tract of warm-blooded animals, Scheer said, and its presence is an "indicator" of animal wastes. "Confluent growth," he elaborated, "means the bacteria is growing so thick it looks like grass growing under a microscope."

Scheer hesitates to draw any conclusions from this find, pointing out that there are ducks and other waterfowl in the area, "but COG has never found that high a (coliform) count there before."

COG officials have since requested information from Scheer. The significant point in COG's interest, he said, is that the COG study was originally just of Rockport's sanitary sewer facilities. "They got interested in septic," Scheer said, because of indications of septic contamination of the Rockport system.

"This whole area here is a big sewer pit!" in the words of one Fulton motel owner. Referring to contamination of the ditches along Fulton Beach Road, he said, "Cattails don't grow in dry sand."

"What makes the situation really bad," Scheer said, "is that the Winter Texans are the most susceptible to any disease outbreak that might result from the problem."

And such an outbreak is not a remote possibility. "Remember that cholera outbreak in Beaumont not too long ago?" he asks. "They traced it back to a septic tank in a restaurant."

"This community is fixing to have an outbreak of hepatitis you wouldn't believe!"

The solution to the problem, he says, is to abandon the septic tanks. "We need a central sewer system in the county."

It's that simple.
And that complex.

the marker and to the Sid Deasons, who donated the granite base for the marker and drove to Marble Falls to pick it up.

Following the benediction given by Rev. George Montgomery, Pastor of the Holiday Beach Baptist Church, Veterans Administration representative Adan Alaniz played "Taps" on trumpet, ending the dedication ceremony.

Guests then enjoyed the Woman's Club reception held in the Lamar Fire Hall, adjacent to the cemetery.

assembled. "This day will go down in the history of Lamar."

The inscription on the marker was read by Dailey Heldenfels. The inscription details the history of Lamar, how it was settled by Byrne and then named for his friend Mirabeau Lamar. It notes the O'Connor grave as the earliest dated marker.

Nugent, speaking for the Woman's Club, extended special thank-you's to Mrs. Marguerite House, who assembled the historical data necessary to obtain

Monday morning, saying, "After spending three years on the city council, I feel it is time for a change in leadership for the city of Rockport."

A major goal for Mills, if elected, is to "strive to improve relations between the city council and the office of mayor for a positive and productive approach to city government."

Mills added he supports the recently-approved concept of city administrator. "I believe this position is essential for effective management of a growing community," he said.

A native of Rockport, Mills attended Rockport-Fulton High School and Del Mar College in Corpus Christi. He is a U.S. Air Force veteran with four and a half years of service including service with the military police and a tour of duty in Viet Nam.

He and his wife, Penny, have been married 12 years and have three children. Mills has been owner of Rockport's Duck Inn Restaurant for 11 years.

City officials pointed out Monday that, since the term of alderman in Rockport is for two years, state law does not require the resignation of an officeholder who seeks another office. Mills will continue as alderman pending the outcome of the April 3 city elections.

Mrs. Ward is seeking election to her second term on the council and her first full term since she came to the office in a special election in August, 1980, to fill the vacancy created by the death of her husband, the late E. Dan Ward.

Teacher incompetency is major school problem

Doctors say the defect could have caused a fatal heart attack within a month. Extensive open-heart surgery normally requires a long recuperation period, but the veteran star has astonished friends and doctors with his rapid recovery.

Tom Clark, his longtime friend and manager, told me, "It really is incredible just how fast he's recovered. Everyone is amazed. He's now adopted a whole new positive approach to living." ... When you're heading home even the sky seems to say its red. Johnnie Walker Red.

NORTHBROOK, ILL. — The nation's top high school students rate their education as good to excellent, but cite teacher incompetency as one of the leading problems in their schools.

These are among the findings in the 12th Annual Survey of High Achievers conducted by "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

Nearly eight out of 10 of those surveyed think their education has been good and 61 percent report they have access to academic programs to meet their needs. At the same time, 51 percent of the outstanding students feel teacher and administrator incompetency is among the foremost problems they see in school.

Better than half say teachers in their school are too easy academically and another 31 percent indicated they grade too high for the quality of work done by students.

Not surprisingly, lack of school funds topped the teen leaders' list of schools. When asked how they would adjust for school budget cuts, more than half suggested charging for summer school and 51 percent opted for cutting the number of administrators.

The "Who's Who" teens confirm reports that social problems do exist on today's campuses. When asked if they were aware of a variety of activities taking place in their schools, a majority of them responded in the affirmative. For example, 59 percent said they are aware of drug dealing on campus, 83 percent know about pregnancy among their peers, three-quarters report drug abuse and a good majority (84 percent) see alcohol abuse among students.

For the high achievers, the solution to these and other teen problems is parental involvement. A vast majority (92 percent) says parents should take a more active role in guiding children's behavior.

Despite their assessment of school troubles, the high achievers are forging ahead. Almost all (95 percent) are college bound and more than six out of 10 have already factored a graduate degree into their future plans. As one teen put it, "You get out of school what you put into it."

You and each of you are hereby commanded to appear and answer before the 36th Judicial District Court in the Aransas County Courthouse in Rockport, Aransas County, Texas, at or before 10:00 a.m. on the first Monday after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of issuance hereof, being at or before 10:00 a.m. on Monday, the 22nd day of March, 1982, then and there to answer the petition of Houston Oil & Minerals Corporation in Cause Number 5836, styled HOUSTON OIL & MINERALS CORP.

ORATION V. STATE OF TEXAS, ET AL, in which Houston Oil & Minerals Corporation is Plaintiff and each of you are Defendants. The said Petition, filed October 5, 1977, discloses that the nature of said suit is as follows:

Plaintiff is the lessee and Defendants and others are the lessors, under oil and gas leases, covering certain real property in Aransas County, Texas. All of the leases are located, at least in part, within the West Nine Mile Point Gas Unit No. 2, Aransas County, Texas, and are within a Unit Agreement executed by Plaintiff and the Commissioner of the General Land Office, on behalf of the State of Texas. Plaintiff has filed a suit for interpleader to determine the proper ownership of the minerals in and under certain acreage within the Unit and royalties attributable thereto, in that a dispute has arisen as to the ownership of the minerals and the corresponding royalties. The individual Defendants are required to appear and answer this Petition and Interpleader and to assert any claims they may have to any royalties attributable to the acreage in question.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after date of the issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

ISSUED AND GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND THE SEAL OF SAID COURT on this the 3rd day of February, 1982 at Rockport, Aransas County, Texas.

Tax exemption is council topic

A $5,000 homestead tax exemption and an elaboration of what a city administrator is — and is not — occupied a 45-minute workshop meeting of Rockport's city council Monday morning.

No formal council action can be taken at a workshop meeting but it is anticipated that a homestead tax exemption proposal could come up for consideration at next Monday's, Feb. 22, regular council meeting.

Rockport Mayor Walter S. Falk Jr. said the homestead exemption — which would be separate from and in addition to the homestead exemption for persons age 65 and over — was approved by Texas voters in last November's constitutional amendment elections.

"It is not a hurry-up deal," he said. "It is something voters voted for." Falk said, "I'm going to ask the council to consider $5,000 exemption at the next council meeting."

The council as a whole seemed in favor of the $5,000 exemption. Johnson indicated such an exemption can be granted without creating any financial problems for the city.

On the discussion of the city administrator's post, created by the council at its Feb. 8 meeting, Johnson said he had "sent off" for a job description which had not arrived in time for Monday's workshop session.

Alderman Murray McMillan asked Johnson if an organizational chart could be prepared for the city and was told that is possible. Also present at the workshop meeting were Alderman W.B. Allen and Betty Jean Ward.

Johnson did elaborate on the post however, telling the council, "A city administrator is not a city manager, he's a city coordinator. You are not going to a city manager type of government," he emphasized. "The mayor is still executive officer. Under a city manager, the manager is in charge, but this (the city administrator) is a different setup."

He suggested that the city administrator's duties include being the city finance officer and added, "The city council has the authority to assign any other duties they want to the administrator. If you so desire, every job now being done by the city secretary can be assigned to the city administrator."

Melody James was one of the high school VOE students that had her hands full of carnations last Friday. The office education students, in Earline Flanagan's class, had earlier taken orders for Valentine flowers and delivered the hundreds of carnations on Friday morning. The flowers were provided by "A Blossom Shop" and the students and Mrs. Flanagan arrived at the school at 6 a.m. to ready them for delivery at 8. "This is just super bunch of girls," said

Mrs. Flanagan. "They really worked hard." [Photo by Becky Werhan]

Tower seeks volunteers for program

WASHINGTON — Senator John Tower (R-Texas) today announced he is accepting applications from Texas senior citizens who wish to participate in an intern program in his Washington office May 17-21.

The program is designed to provide increased communication between the retired community and their representatives in Congress. Tower was the first member of the Texas congressional delegation to participate in the initial program in 1977.

The two citizens selected from the applicants will spend a week in Tower's Washington office observing the legislative process, meeting with representatives of departments and agencies, and participating in the operations of a Congressional office.

According to Tower, the interns selected last year, Sue King of San Angelo and Edward Rader of El Paso, "both contributed much to my understanding more fully the needs and concerns of our senior citizens."

"I once again look forward to learning firsthand more about our senior citizens' problems, needs, and opinions," the Texas Republican said. "At the same time, I hope the interns will learn more about the legislative process and government programs designed for their needs and then share with their peers the experiences and information gained in Washington."

Tower said the interns' demanding schedule of activities will include meetings with various agency, department and committee representatives, and the opportunity to attend committee hearings. Plans also include a private tour of the White House and social activities with the Congressional staff and other interns.

Tower said the applicants should be senior citizens, 65 years of age or older, active in their own communities, with an interest in legislation, and who would be willing and able to communicate their knowledge to their senior citizens in the State.

Interns will receive their airfare to and from Washington, as well as a stipend to cover expenses while in Washington.

Applications can be obtained from Tower's Dallas office at 1100 Commerce, Room 7C14, Dallas, Texas 75242. The deadline for returning the applications with two letters of recommendation to the Dallas Office is March 13.

Now serving his fourth term, Tower is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee and member of the Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee and Budget Committee. He is also chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee. Dallas office: 214-767-0581.

Coastal Bend annex roof complete

It was topping-out day at the Coastal Bend Hospital annex last Friday. The building addition was started in September and the crew, from the Marshall Construction Company and under foreman Pat Kopecky [left] finished the roof on Friday, leaving a complete shell.

Work will now commence on the inside of the annex. The annex will double the hospital's present 75-bed capacity. Also at the party celebrating the end of the outside construction phase were Coastal Bend administrator Ben Pate [right] and Doctor Weldon Roberts [center].
