

Brown Says Ban Offers Russians No Advantage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department's top scientist testified today the Soviets could not gain any substantial advantage under the limited nuclear test ban treaty even if they "cheat to the maximum extent possible."

Dr. Harold Brown, defense director of research and engineering, added that if the treaty is fully observed U.S. nuclear superiority over the Russians actually will improve.

Brown took issue with the views expressed Tuesday by Dr. Edward Teller, Air Force nuclear consultant, who said ratification of the treaty would be "a dreadful and tragic mistake."

Brown testified at a public session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee at which members of the Senate Armed Services and the Joint Atomic Energy committees sat in. This is the same forum before which Teller delivered his blast at the treaty.

This was the seventh day of the group's hearing on the proposal to ban all nuclear testing underground.

Brown differed with Teller's estimate that the Soviet Union is ahead of the United States in the development of an antimissile defense.

He testified that from long investigations he has made with associates the "best present judgment is that our ARM (antiballistic missile) development efforts are comparable in magnitude and success with those of the Soviets."

He added that any deployed defense system the Soviets are likely to have now or in the near future "does not appear to be effective, almost certainly no more effective than the Nike Zeus" which the United States decided not to deploy because "its effectiveness was inadequate against U.S. penetration aids."

He said penetration aids now under development "will be effective against much more sophisticated systems."

"In other words, with or without U.S. nuclear tests," Brown continued, "the U.S. penetration aid capability gives us confidence that our missile systems will penetrate presently designed ARM systems with a large margin of safety."

President Kennedy waded into the argument Tuesday at his news conference.

—Sharply denied a Teller charge that the administration curtailed atmospheric tests last year for political reasons.

—Disclosed that preparations for U.S. Pacific tests are already under way as a precaution to Soviet violation of the treaty.

—Disputed a central Teller contention—that the Soviet Union is ahead in the antimissile race and that the treaty would cement the Soviet lead.

On these points Kennedy said: 1. After the Soviets broke the three-year test moratorium in 1961, the United States set off 36 atomic explosions in the air and 97 underground. Although atmospheric shots were held to a minimum, because of the hazard from radioactive fallout, several more were fired than originally planned.

2. In response to senatorial demands, the administration is sending the foreign relations and armed services committees a letter detailing plans for Kennedy's four promised safeguards against any treaty violation. These are continued nuclear laboratory work, readiness to resume atmospheric testing, a vigorous series of underground tests and improvement in methods of detecting sneak tests.

Already $22 million has been earmarked and $11 million contracted for harbor dredging and the like at Johnston Island in the Pacific "for that unhappy eventuality"—resumption of atmospheric tests—if the treaty is broken.

3. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara already has given the most specific and clear answer possible on the antimissile missile—that the Soviet Union is not ahead in this field and U.S. development of this defense weapon does not hinge on atmospheric tests.

"A good many other scientists with comparable experience," including Nobel Prize winners, dispute Teller's views, Kennedy said.

Shortage Of College Graduates Is Predicted

By ERNEST STROMBERGER

AUSTIN (AP)—A member of the Governor's Committee to Study Higher Education said today Texas faces a shortage of college graduates.

Gifford Johnson of Dallas made the statement in a subcommittee report to the committee. The report will be considered by the committee as a whole.

"More college graduates are needed in Texas in the years to come than our forecasts show will be available," said Johnson, chairman of a sub group. "There are only two ways to solve this problem:

1. Build up the enrollments. 2. Stimulate more high school graduates to enter college."

Johnson said that reduction of the drop-outs could be accomplished by better preparing high school graduates to accept college educational methods, and making available more fellowships and student loans.

He said that many fellowships and scholarships remain unused because of a lack of publicity to make students aware of them.

Johnson said a subcommittee study of graduate school should be simplified.

"All university students doing satisfactory work at the undergraduate level and those students in the senior college performing at equivalent standards should be eligible for candidacy for a master's degree," Johnson said.

In outlining projections of needs for college graduates, Johnson said that it will be necessary to educate 886,715 persons to meet requirements of professional, semi-professional, managerial and skilled categories during 1964-72.

Drilling Is Launched On New Escape Shaft

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Drilling of a new escape hole for the three trapped miners began today.

Ten of the men, trapped 231 feet underground and able to talk to the surface through a six-inch hole, reported they had re-established contact after nearly 48 hours, with a companion who is separated from them by a wall of debris in the tunnel where they fled after the main mine shaft walls collapsed eight days ago.

But Arthur Joyce, a state mine inspector, cast doubt today that there had been any contact with Louis Bova, 42.

The other trapped men, David Felin, 58, and Henry Thorne, 29, set off a scene of wild rejoicing on the surface late Tuesday night when they told of talking briefly with Bova and then getting answering knocks on the mine wall.

Drilling of the original escape hole had to be abandoned soon after midnight, at a depth of 193 feet because it was cracking the roof above Thorne and Felin and experts feared another cave-in.

Expert drilling crews had worked 22 hours before it was decided to halt the operation on the advice of two of the trapped men, David Felin, 58, of Shepton, and Henry Thorne, 29, of Hazleton, who have been directing rescue operations through a microphone lowered down their lifeline hole. Felin and Thorne reported the drilling, apparently too close to them, was cracking the roof.

H. B. Charnbury, Pennsylvania secretary of mines, said workers would start as soon as possible on another hole, 18 feet west of the abandoned one.

Rescuers apparently were unable to pierce a "lifeline" hole to Bova, who has been without food since the cave-in Aug. 13. In a second attempt Tuesday night they were successful in drilling a thin six-inch shaft estimated to be about 15 feet east of the one through which contact was first established with Felin and Thorne Sunday night.

Bova's wife, Eva, 32, continued to hold out hope after learning of the report from the other miners. However, one of his brothers, Peter, 58, said then "My brother is going to die. I know it and he knows it. But his wife is there and he doesn't want her to know the truth. He's been a rugged, long old man to realize the shape he's in."

Drilling of a new escape hole began shortly after dawn as a dense fog shrouded the area. It was so thick at the time it was impossible to see the top of the 10-story-tall drilling rig.

Strike Halt Order Issued

CHICAGO (AP)—U.S. District Court Judge Bernard M. Decker issued a temporary restraining order today prohibiting a walkout of United Airlines maintenance employees that threatened to disrupt operations of the airline.

The State Department announced in Washington American disapproval of Diem's maneuvers.

"On the basis of information from Saigon," it said, "it appears the government of the republic of Viet Nam has instituted repressive measures against Vietnamese Buddhist leaders."

"The action represents a direct violation by the Vietnamese government of assurances that it was pursuing a policy of accommodation with the Buddhists."

"The United States deprecates repressive actions of this nature," it said. "The State Department announced in Washington American disapproval of Diem's maneuvers."

A proclamation broadcast by Saigon Radio said Diem's government had adopted an "attitude of extreme conciliation" toward the Buddhists, "but the government's efforts have not met with a similar attitude."

The president blamed "a few (Buddhists) who indulge in political speculation, exploit religion, and taken advantage of the desire for extreme conciliation of the government to multiply illegal acts with the aim of stirring up disturbances to sabotage that policy, prevent the application of the law, damage the prestige of Buddhism, thereby only benefiting communism."

Diem ordered the army to take "all necessary measures to restore security and public order, so that the state may be protected, communism defeated and freedom secured and democracy achieved."

The state of siege, apparently approximated martial law, which the U.S. and other embassies had advised their governments was in force earlier in the day.

Normal communication channels between South Viet Nam and the world were cut, and a censorship blacked out all news dispatches.

Diem ordered the crackdown on the Buddhists after a growing wave of religious suicides by fire, mass demonstrations, rioting in Saigon, Hue and other cities and growing foreign criticism of his government for not making peace with the Buddhists.

Saigon Radio said the armed forces raided at least three Buddhist pagodas in Saigon early today.

A special information bulletin said a large quantity of printing equipment was found at the Xa Loi pagoda, center of the Buddhist resistance in Saigon; that three mines and 10 daggers were seized at the An Quang Pagoda; and a submachine gun, 14 plastic explosive charges and a radio were seized at the Ravada pagoda.

The broadcast made no mention of casualties or arrests.

Bavousett, committee member, County Judge Sterling Taylor, Mrs. Maud Taylor and Mrs. H. J. Brice, committee members. Also on the program were Rep. Renal Rossen who spoke on the significance of the historical marker program, and Bob McAllister who gave historical notes on Gen. Scurry's life.

Buddhist Pagodas Are Raided By Diem Force

TOKYO (AP)—President Ngo Dinh Diem's armed forces raided pagodas of rebellious Buddhists at Saigon today in a crackdown quickly denounced by the U.S. government.

President Kennedy's administration, which has supplied 14,000 American military men and $50 million a year to back Diem's Communist threatened regime, charged the Saigon government violated pledges for a peaceful reconciliation with the Buddhists.

The State Department announced a state of siege throughout his nation of 15 million and ordered the army to move in on the yellow-robed leaders of the Buddhist challenge to his government.

The Saigon Radio announced raids were made on three pagodas in the capital.

Though the monks are pledged to nonviolence, it said a submachine gun, 14 plastic explosive charges and 10 daggers were seized at the Ravada pagoda.

Krush Says Red System Desirable

By BORIS BOSKOVIC

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev told Yugoslav workers today that the enemies of communism would one day want to live in Communist countries.

He also said the fact that Soviet Union now is rated one of the two big powers in the world along with the United States was a good argument for the Communist system.

Khrushchev made his remarks in an hour-long speech during a visit to the giant motor plant at Radovici, outside Belgrade.

During his factory tour he also ridiculed the Communist Chinese.

In a separate talk with plant officials he poo-poohed Peking's "one-line economic policy," saying "We are going to rely on our own resources"—then they write to us for credits.

"Their motto," he quipped, "is 'our resources and your credits'."

In his address and extemporaneous remarks, he hailed Yugoslav-Russian ties and declared that the 1948 break between Belgrade and Moscow had accomplished nothing.

On another subject, he said that the Soviet Union was far ahead of the United States in the space race.

The Americans say they will catch up with us. But they should not forget that we will not sit with folded hands," he said.

Prison System Due 10,000-Bale Crop

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The Texas prison system expects to produce about 10,000 bales of cotton this season which will place more than $2 million in the state's general revenue fund.

Director George Beto of the Texas Department of Corrections said the forecast is based on the fact the system already has gained its 5,000 bale.

Summer Days Back Again

By The Associated Press

Texas weather started settling back into a humid summer Wednesday.

Skies cleared early for a few patches of clouds over West and South Texas. Occasional showers disappeared along with a cool front that played out halfway across the state Tuesday.

Forecasts called for more of the same—clear to partly cloudy and no big temperature changes through Thursday with a few showers in South Central and extreme Southwest Texas.

Long range predictions, covering the next five days, called for temperatures about normal to slightly above and nothing more than light showers.

Top marks Tuesday ranged from 104 degrees at Laredo down to 87 at Alpine. The mercury hit 107 at Froid, 101 at Victoria and 97 at Lufkin.

"Our attitudes are identical or quite close," said Khrushchev.

Khrushchev hit hard at the theme of Yugoslav-Soviet unity. The Soviet Union has been pressing a campaign to bring the two countries—both targets of Red China's hard-line wrath—closer together.

Senators Eyeing Railroad Dispute

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators seek an answer today to whether the railroad work rules dispute can be settled without action by Congress to prevent a strike.

Up against an Aug. 29 deadline, the Senate Commerce Committee, led by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., and two other members to meet with carrier and union representatives.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz also will attend the meeting. A Magnuson said he and Sens.

John O. Pastore, D-R.I., and Norris Cotton, R-N.H., will try to find out "just where we now stand so that we might resolve our future action, because time is running short."

President Kennedy said at his news conference Tuesday that the meeting should determine whether the Senate Commerce Committee reached an impasse in the four-year-old dispute.

The railroads have announced new work rules to be put into effect on Aug. 29. Leaders of the five operating unions have said this will mean an immediate strike.

Magnuson said the commerce committee members, in meeting with the opposing sides, will not go into the merits of the dispute or legislation proposed to avert a rail shutdown. Rather, he said, the senators want to be brought up to date on the prospects for a settlement.

The carriers have accepted a proposal of Wirtz for arbitration of two key issues—firemen's jobs and train crew make-up—and for negotiations of lesser issues.

The rail brotherhoods conditioned their acceptance on production being set up for disposal of the lesser issues before arbitration of the two chief issues.

Wirtz, who was present Tuesday at a meeting of the commerce committee was reported by one of the members to have a last additional proposal to advance in an effort to resolve the dispute.

Kennedy recommended to Congress last month that the Interstate Commerce Commission be empowered to issue work rules effective for two years unless supplanted by agreements reached by the railroads and the brotherhoods.

Two Youths Hurt In Traffic Mishap

Two Snyder youths received what were believed to be minor injuries about 6:15 p.m. Tuesday seven miles north of Snyder when the Corvair in which they were riding overturned on the Clairmont Road.

Taken to Cogdell Hospital by Bell Ambulance Service were Sterling Parker, Jr., who was treated for cuts on the head, and Linda Terry, a passenger in the car, who received numerous bruises in the mishap.

The accident occurred near the spot where a serious accident involving an auto driven by John Barber and a large truck occurred recently.

Sheriff's deputy Keith Collier investigated the mishap.

Two Pleas Heard In County Court

A plea of not guilty to a charge of DWI was entered this morning in county court by Eldon Morris of Snyder.

Morris had been arrested at 8:20 p.m. Tuesday by a unit of the sheriff's department. His bond was set at $500.

Also in county court Tuesday afternoon a plea of not guilty was entered on a charge of illegal transportation of beer. Charged by the sheriff's department was Albert Torres of Snyder.

Torres was released on $500 bond.

Guilty Plea Heard In District Court

Lenard Robinson, pleaded guilty Tuesday in 132nd District Court to a charge of illegal removal of mortgaged property.

Robinson, formerly of Snyder, had been returned from Mobile, Ala. to stand trial. The trailer, which was the property involved, had been recovered in New Orleans.

Robinson was assessed a two-year sentence. The sentence was probated with the understanding that Robinson would return to his job in Alabama.

Weather Bureau To Close 8 Stations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau plans to close eight smaller weather stations as part of an economy drive, a bureau spokesman said today.

Also marked for elimination was a three-man airport station at Galveston.

A Weather Bureau official said that in most cases the stations to be closed are near a large bureau and can be served easily by the larger facility.

Former Resident Dies In Plainview

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Pearl Cliff Eubanks, 74, in Plainview on Aug. 15.

Mrs. Eubanks was a long time resident and teacher in Scurry County.

It was reported that she and her husband, Morris Eubanks were entering the home of their son in Plainview when Mrs. Eubanks was stricken with a heart attack.

The funeral services and burial were at the Highway Methodist Church in Plainview.

In addition to her husband Mrs. Eubanks is survived by two sons, Scott and Douglas; one sister, Mrs. Ruth Boatman of Hermleigh; two brothers, Wayne Cliff and Vance Cliff of Hermleigh; and two grandsons.

Heavy Rains Flood Areas Near Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — A man drowned, portions of Washington National Airport were inundated and homes were flooded Tuesday night by flash floods resulting from torrential thundershowers all around the capital.

Drowned when his small car was swept away by flooding Long Branch Run on Army-Navy Drive in Arlington, Va., was Charles Shepard, 41, of Fairfax, Va.

His body was found at a culvert six blocks away.

Nearby Virginia experienced the greatest flooding.

In the Alexandria-Arlington area low-lying sections were flooded and rescuers used boats to evacuate families from homes and to remove motorists from flooded cars.

At Washington National Airport, the entire passenger lobby of the northern terminal area was ankle-deep in water at the height of the storm.

The Washington Weather Bureau measured slightly more than six inches of rainfall in the 10-hour period ended at 10:30 p.m.

National Guard Cuts Protested

By DON MCKEE
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — Army National Guard strength has sunk to a low point under a tight federal budget. Southern governors heard today in the final session of their annual conference.

"Wholesale elimination of units and cuts in strength are not in the best interest of the United States," said Maj. Gen. William H. Harrison Jr., president of the National Guard Association.

Harrison said the federal government had failed to give adequate support to the Army Guard. He cited a proposed reduction of $4-million in the $12 million budgeted last year for Army school training of Guard officers and men.

The Southern Governors Conference held a two-day session Tuesday blocked a civil rights fight by deciding that a resolution would need a unanimous vote for adoption.

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama had prepared four resolutions criticizing the civil rights policies of President Kennedy, but he joined in approving the rule. Wallace said he liked the rule because it would give any state a veto of objectionable resolutions.

Wallace said he would submit his resolutions to the conference today and speak against the Kennedy administration.

Secretary of the Army, Cyrus Vance told the conference Tuesday night the United States has the edge on the Soviet Union in nuclear striking force.

He said a myth of overwhelming Communist superiority has grown up in the United States. The secretary said he did not minimize the threat or capability of the Communists "but I do hold that we face an adversary with human failibilities, not an unstoppable horde."

Suspect In Slaying Held

ROCKETT, Tex. (AP)—Officers held a farm laborer for investigation today after the shotgun slaying of an elderly man in the robbery of the only store in this community.

Questioned was bearded Henry Longoria, 30, picked up an hour after last night's robbery and slaying.

Store owners said the robbers obtained between $700 and $1,000. Killed was H. C. Humphries, 64, an employee of the store. A customer, Lee Hunsucker, about 50, was treated for pellet wounds in the arm.

Hunsucker said two men in a car asked for a quart of oil. Then suddenly one produced a shotgun and jabbed it at Humphries. The attendant lunged, knocking the barrel toward the ground, and the gunman shot him in the legs. Then he raised the gun and fired point-blank at Humphries' face. The Negro and the gunman raced into the store. The man with the gun sacked up the money.

Hotel Bid Is Rejected

MINERAL WELLS (AP)—Negotiations for sale of the Baker Hotel here to a retired hotel man who said he wanted to reopen it apparently have collapsed.

Joe Crumlie, 68, of Fort Worth said Tuesday night his bid of $250,000 for the resort property had been withdrawn because a country club wasn't included in the deal.

Owner Earl Baker of San Antonio told newsmen late in the day that Crumlie's bid was too low but he would not disclose his decision until evening. The offer was made at an auction the night before.

Crumlie's wife subsequently said Baker had telegraphed his acceptance of her husband's bid. Baker himself made no announcement.

Mrs. Baker tried to up the price to $300,000 and to $1 million, and then told me I wasn't getting the country club which I wanted for development purposes," Crumlie said.

"My financial backer walked out then, and I told Mr. Baker I wasn't interested."

Mrs. Crumlie said Baker's telegram made it clear the transaction did not include the 117-acre Holiday Hills Country Club and its nine-hole golf course along with the Baker Hotel.

Heavy Rains Flood Areas Near Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — A man drowned, portions of Washington National Airport were inundated and homes were flooded Tuesday night by flash floods resulting from torrential thundershowers all around the capital.

Drowned when his small car was swept away by flooding Long Branch Run on Army-Navy Drive in Arlington, Va., was Charles Shepard, 41, of Fairfax, Va.

His body was found at a culvert six blocks away.

Nearby Virginia experienced the greatest flooding.

In the Alexandria-Arlington area low-lying sections were flooded and rescuers used boats to evacuate families from homes and to remove motorists from flooded cars.

At Washington National Airport, the entire passenger lobby of the northern terminal area was ankle-deep in water at the height of the storm.

The Washington Weather Bureau measured slightly more than six inches of rainfall in the 10-hour period ended at 10:30 p.m.

Mexico Sets Food Fair

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's first food fair, designed to prove this country has one of the most varied diets in the world, has opened at the national auditorium.

Former President Miguel Aleman, now heads the National Tourism Council, and Foreign Minister Manuel Tello headed a group of dignitaries who inaugurated the 28-day event yesterday.

The fair is known as the Conference and Contest of Mexican Cuisine, and has ambitious goals.

First, it hopes to prove to tourists that the Mexican diet consists of a lot more than hot tamales and chile con carne (which isn't even a Mexican dish, officials pointed out).

Second, it hopes to promote the nation's food industry.

Third, it is designed to attract tourists.

Aleman, Tello and others toured all 156 booths offering not only Mexican food, but Mexican-made articles.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 12-year-old boy and every day of my summer vacation I stay home alone and watch television. My mother works all day long. Monday through Friday, and she doesn't want me leaving the house. I have nobody to talk to except the dog, and if somebody heard the way I carry on a conversation with him they would think I was nuts. I am not supposed to let anybody in the house. Can you tell me how I can keep from getting bored?

A BOY UNNAMED

DEAR UNNAMED: Boredom is only one of your problems. A boy your age needs fresh air, exercise and the companionship of other young people. Ask your mother if there isn't a day camp where she can send you. A boy your age shouldn't be cooped up in the house all summer.

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I have a friend who lives in the same apartment building as we do. She went on a vacation and left the keys to her apartment with her gentleman friend so he could water her plants and look after her goldfish. She hadn't been gone two days when this no-good gentleman friend brought another woman into her apartment. All the neighbors know about it and we are afraid one of them will tell her she gets back. Should we tell her first, or should we let this man make a fool of her?

FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: WHO was the "other woman"? WHY did the "gentleman" take her there? Unless you are sure of the facts, don't be the bearer of such news. And if you ARE sure, even then think twice.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were invited to a wedding. He scarcely knows the people and I have never met them. My husband is a professor and the bride was a former student. My husband will be unable to attend as the date conflicts with a previous commitment. Would it be proper for me to go with my older, bachelor brother? Must we send a gift whether we attend the wedding or not?

MUST KNOW

DEAR MUST: You were apparently invited because of your HUSBAND's former association with the bride. In view of this fact, and since you know none of the people involved, it might be wise to decline the invitation. A gift is ALWAYS optional.

CONFIDENTIAL TO IRATE ACCOUNTANT IN RIVERSIDE:

Doesn't EVERYBODY know that in the Rules of Professional Conduct for The American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, it clearly states: "A member shall not violate the confidential relationship between himself and his client?" I didn't think it was necessary to defend a C. P. A. who was gracious enough to do a relative's tax work gratis.

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Getting married: For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby.

CHEVY II's priced to move right out!

If you've been thinking along Chevy II's lines this year (and you're still debating), now's the right time to do something about it at your Chevrolet dealer's.

If you've been thinking economy this year, now's the right time to do something about it. You'll find Chevy II engines, both the Super-Thrift 4 and the Hi-Thrift 6, ready, willing and able to do just about everything but go through a gallon of gas.

If you've been thinking low maintenance this year, now's the right time to do something about it.

Chevy II's are built to stay young. The brakes are self-adjusting. Rocker panels are flushed clean and dry by rain and wash water. The exhaust system is extra durable. The Delcotron generator gives an extra spark to your battery when you need it the most.

Finally, if you've been thinking the lowest possible thoughts about price... if you're looking for a low price tag... a low mileage tab... low maintenance costs twelve months out of the year—then all we can say is, now's the right time to buy a Chevy II.

its smooth honey richness, and adults will savor its honey-mint flavor to the last creamy spoonful. All will appreciate the swift renewal of energy honey provides.

HONEY PEPPERMINT ICE CREAM

1 1/2 tablespoons gelatin
2 tablespoons water
1 cup milk
2 1/2 cups coffee cream
1/2 cup honey
1/2 cup crushed peppermint stick candy

Soak gelatin in cold water. Heat milk and cream and add honey; mix well. Add gelatin slowly, stirring constantly to prevent lumping. Thoroughly chill if you wish to shorten freezing time.

Drip Dry Curtains

Drip-dry curtains and draperies can be sanded indoors, then carried outside for ringing right on the clothesline with a forceful spray from the garden hose. Since this method eliminates wrinkles caused by wringing, it cuts down on ironing time.

Cookout Contest

Remind the outdoor chef in your home that now is the time for him to enter America's Cookout Championship "for men only."

His favorite recipe could qualify him as one of 25 finalists who will participate in the national barbecue competition next April in Hawaii.

And to top everything, wives go along with their husbands—a gorgeous seven-day trip, velvet carpet all of the way, and expense free.

A simple recipe for meat loaf, prepared by a Los Angeles attorney, won first prize and a $10,000 cash award in America's Cookout Championship this year.

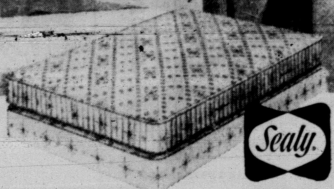

Who knows—that quick, easy dish served at your own outdoor parties could capture top honors in 1964's Hawaiian cook-off.

Recipe entries must include title, ingredients, and a description of how the barbecue main dish is prepared. All entries must be submitted before October 31 to America's Cookout Championship, Post Office Box 37, Los Angeles 51, California.

Entry blanks with the official rules may be found at grocery stores.

Flavor note: if that homemade chicken stock needs more flavor, add a little monosodium glutamate.

Pick Linens For College With Care

The month of August has come to mean the opening of school clothing shops and the buying of a back-to-school wardrobe. Along with the task of selecting a wardrobe goes the job of choosing the necessary linen and bedspreads to dress up the college living quarters.

From a practical standpoint, a college dorm bedspread should be sturdy. From a student's viewpoint, this item should also be colorful and attractive. Mrs. Anne Sterling, Director of Consumer Relations for the American Institute of Laundering, suggests that a good quality woven bedspread fits this description. A woven fabric takes harder wear and less care than a tufted or chenille spread. Comparatively inexpensive and practical for longer service, woven spreads often have companion matching draperies. They can be found in solid colors as well as plaids or stripes.

Here are a few tips on what to look for when buying your draperies. They should have enough fullness to hang smoothly and evenly and just touch the floor if full length. They should be strong enough—not to be pulled out of shape under their own weight and should be able to resist fading. Specify fast color when buying. Ask if they can be washed or drycleaned. Painted-on designs won't last long even with the best of care.

Steak sandwiches make beef go a long way. Nice for outdoors or indoors next time you're having a snack party.

MARKER DEDICATED—Mrs. L. E. Dudley of Abilene, right, was principal speaker at the dedication of this marker honoring Gen. W. R. Scurry, CSA, at ceremonies on the courthouse square this morning. Mrs. Dudley is a member of the State Historical Survey Committee. She spoke on the objectives of the Committee. From left are Hugh Taylor, chairman of the county's survey committee who spoke briefly on the history of Scurry County, M. W. Bavousett, committee member, County Judge Sterling Taylor, Mrs. Maud Taylor and Mrs. H. J. Brice, committee members. Also on the program were Rep. Renal Rosson who spoke on the significance of the historical marker program, and Bob McAlister who gave historical notes on Gen. Scurry's life.

Buddhist Pagodas Are Raided By Diem Force

TOKYO (AP)—President Ngo Dinh Diem's armed forces raided pagodas of rebellious Buddhists at Saigon today in a crackdown quickly denounced by the U.S. government.

President Kennedy's administration, which has supplied 14,000 American military men and $500 million a year to back Diem's Communist, threatened regime, charged the Saigon government violated pledges for a peaceful reconciliation with the Buddhists.

Diem, a Roman Catholic, declared a state of siege throughout his nation of 15 million and ordered the army to move in on the yellow-robed leaders of the Buddhist challenge to his government.

The Saigon Radio announced raids were made on three pagodas in the capital.

Though the monks are pledged to nonviolence, it said a submachine gun, 14 plastic explosive charges and 10 daggers were seized at the Ravada pagoda.

The State Department announced in Washington American disapproval of Diem's maneuvers.

"On the basis of information from Saigon," it said, "it appears the government of the republic of Viet Nam has instituted repressive measures against Vietnamese Buddhist leaders."

"The action represents a direct violation by the Vietnamese government of assurances that it was pursuing a policy of reconciliation with the Buddhists."

"The United States is deeply concerned by the repressive actions of this nature."

High U.S. authorities in Washington said, however, that American aid for the war against the Communists would continue.

A proclamation broadcast by Saigon Radio said Diem's government had adopted an "attitude of extreme conciliation" toward the Buddhists, "but the government's efforts have not met with a similar attitude."

The president blamed "a few (Buddhists) who indulge in political speculation, exploit religion, and taken advantage of the desire for extreme conciliation of the government to multiply illegal acts with the aim of stirring up disturbances to sabotage that policy, prevent the application of the law, damage the prestige of Buddhism, thereby only benefiting Communism."

Diem ordered the army to take "all necessary measures to restore security and public order, so that the state may be protected, communism defeated, freedom secured and democracy achieved."

The state of siege apparently approximated martial law, which the U.S. and other embassies had advised their governments was in force earlier in the day.

Normal communication channels between South Viet Nam and the world were cut, and a censorship blocked out all news dispatches.

Diem ordered the crackdown on the Buddhists after a growing wave of religious suicides by fire, mass demonstrations, rioting in Saigon, Hue and other cities and growing foreign criticism of his government for not making peace with the Buddhists.

Saigon Radio said the armed forces raided at least three Buddhist pagodas in Saigon early today.

Krush Says Red System Desirable

By BORIS ROSKOVIC

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev told Yugoslav workers today that the enemies of communism would one day want to live in Communist countries.

He also said the fact that Soviet Union now is rated one of the two big powers in the world along with the United States was a good argument for the Communist system.

Khrushchev made his remarks in an hour-long speech during a visit to the giant motor plant at Tokovani outside Belgrade.

During the factory tour he also ridiculed the Communist Chinese remarks, he hailed Yugoslav-Russian ties and declared that the 1948 break between Belgrade and Moscow had accomplished nothing.

In a separate talk with plant officials he pooh-poohed Peking's go-it-alone economic policy, saying he was going to rely on his own resources—then they write to us for credits.

"Their motto," he quipped, "is 'our resources and your credits.'"

In his address and extemporaneous remarks, he hailed Yugoslav-Russian ties and declared that the 1948 break between Belgrade and Moscow had accomplished nothing.

A special information bulletin said a large quantity of printing equipment was found at the Xa Loi pagoda, center of the Buddhist resistance in Saigon; that three mines and 10 daggers were seized at the An Quang Pagoda, and a submachine gun, 14 plastic explosive charges and a radio were seized at the Ravada pagoda.

The broadcast made no mention of casualties or arrests.

Brown Says Ban Offers Russians No Advantage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department's top scientist testified today the Soviets could not gain any substantial advantage under the limited nuclear test ban treaty even if they "cheat to the maximum extent possible."

Dr. Harold Brown, defense director of research and engineering, added that if the treaty is fully observed U.S. nuclear superiority over the Russians actually will improve.

Brown thus took issue with the views expressed Tuesday by Dr. Edward Teller, Air Force nuclear consultant, who said ratification of the treaty would be "a dream and tragic mistake."

Brown testified at a public session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee at which members of the Senate Armed Services and the Joint Atomic Energy committees sat in. This is the same forum before which Teller delivered his blast at the treaty.

This was the seventh day of the group's hearing on the proposal to ban all nuclear testing underground.

Brown differed with Teller's estimate that the Soviet Union is ahead of the United States in the development of an antimissile defense.

He testified that from long investigations he has made with associates the "best present judgment is that our ABM (antiballistic missile) development efforts are comparable in magnitude and success with those of the Soviets."

He added that any deployed defense system the Soviets are likely to have now or in the near future "does not appear to be as effective, almost certainly not more effective than the Nike-

Zeus" which the United States decided not to deploy because "its effectiveness was inadequate against U.S. penetration aids."

"In other words, with or without U.S. nuclear tests," Brown continued, "the U.S. penetration aid capability gives us confidence that our missile systems will penetrate presently designed ABM systems with a large margin of safety."

President Kennedy waded into the argument Tuesday at his news conference.

The President sharply denied a Teller charge that the administration curtailed atmospheric tests last year for political reasons.

"Disclosed that preparations for U.S. Pacific tests are already underway as a precaution to Soviet violation of the treaty," he said.

"Disputed a central Teller contention—that the Soviet Union is ahead in the antimissile race and that the treaty would cement the Soviet lead."

On these points Kennedy said: 1. After the Soviets broke the three-year test moratorium in 1961, the United States set off 56 atomic explosions in the air and 97 underground. Although atmospheric shots were held to a minimum because of the hazard from radioactive fallout, several more were fired than originally planned.

2. In response to Senatorial demands, the administration is sending the foreign relations and armed services committees a letter detailing plans for Kennedy's four promised safeguards against any treaty violation. These are continued nuclear laboratory work, readiness to resume atmospheric testing, a vigorous series of underground tests and improvement in methods of detecting sneak tests.

Already $22 million has been earmarked and $11 million contracted for harbor dredging and the like at Johnston Island in the Pacific "for that unhappy eventuality"—resumption of atmospheric tests—if the treaty is broken.

3. Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara already has given the most specific and clear answer possible for the antimissile missile—that the Soviet Union is not ahead in this field and U.S. development of this defense weapon does not hinge on atmospheric tests.

"A good many other scientists with comparable experience," including Nobel Prize winners, dispute Teller's views, Kennedy said.

Dr. Brown said that the United States is not ahead in this field and U.S. development of this defense weapon does not hinge on atmospheric tests.

Shortage Of College Graduates Is Predicted

By ERNEST STROMBERGER

AUSTIN (AP)—A member of the Governor's Committee to Study Higher Education said today Texas faces a shortage of college graduates.

Gifford Johnson of Dallas made the statement in a subcommittee report to the committee. The report will be considered by the committee as a whole.

"More college graduates are needed in Texas in the years to come than our forecasts show will be available," said Johnson, chairman of a sub group. "There are only two ways to solve this problem."

1. Build up the enrollments. 2. Stimulate more high school graduates to enter college. 3. Provide more junior colleges.

Johnson said that reduction of the drop-outs could be accomplished by better preparing high school graduates to accept college educational methods, and making available more fellowships and student loans.

He said that many fellowships and scholarships remain unused because of a lack of publicity to make students aware of them.

Johnson said a subcommittee study of graduate school should be simplified.

"All university students doing satisfactory work at the undergraduate level and those students in the senior college performing to equivalent standards should be eligible for candidacy for a master's degree," Johnson said.

In outlining projections of needs for college graduates, Johnson said that it will be necessary to educate 800,713 persons to meet requirements of professional, semi-professional, managerial and skilled categories during 1964-73.

Johnson said that the United States is not ahead in this field and U.S. development of this defense weapon does not hinge on atmospheric tests.

Drilling Is Launched On New Escape Shaft

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Drilling after they no longer could maintain voice contact with him.

This morning, however, Joyce said that at the time the other men reported hearing from Bova, he "could hear nothing."

The other men requested, and received, small tools to try and dig toward where Bova was trapped.

Two six-inch rescue holes have been drilled into the mine—the first one through which Fellin and Thorne talk and receive supplies, and the second one which broke through Tuesday night into the area where Bova is believed trapped.

Drilling of a new escape hole began shortly after dawn as a dense fog shrouded the area. It was so thick at the time it was impossible to see the top of the 10-story-tall drilling rig.

Drilling of the original escape hole had to be abandoned soon after midnight at a depth of 193 feet because it was cracking the roof above Thorne and Fellin and experts feared another cave-in.

Extensive cross-bracing was worked 22 hours before it was decided to halt the operation on the mine. Bova's wife, Eva, 32, continued to hold out hope after learning of the report from the other miners.

However, one of his brothers, Peter, 38, said Sunday, "My brother is going to die. I know it and he knows it. But his wife is there and he doesn't want her to know the truth. He's been a miner too long not to realize the shape he's in."

Summer Days Back Again

By The Associated Press

Texas weather started settling back into a humid summer pattern Wednesday.

Skies cleared except for a few patches of clouds over West and South Texas. Occasional showers disappeared along with a cold front that played out halfway across the state Tuesday.

Forecasts called for more of the same—clear to partly cloudy and no big temperature changes through Thursday with a few showers in South Central and extreme Southwest Texas.

Long range predictions, covering the next five days, called for temperatures about normal to slightly above and nothing more than light showers.

Top marks Tuesday ranged from 104 degrees at Laredo down to 87 at Alpine. The mercury hit 101 at Presidio, 101 at Victoria and 100 at Lufkin.

The other trapped men, David Fellin, 53, and Henry Thorne, 28, set off a scene of wild rejoicing on the surface late Tuesday night when they told of talking briefly with Bova and then getting answering knocks on the mine wall.

Bova's wife, Eva, 32, continued to hold out hope after learning of the report from the other miners.

However, one of his brothers, Peter, 38, said Sunday, "My brother is going to die. I know it and he knows it. But his wife is there and he doesn't want her to know the truth. He's been a miner too long not to realize the shape he's in."

Strike Halt Order Issued

CHICAGO (AP)—U.S. District Court Judge Bernard M. Decker issued a temporary restraining order today prohibiting a walkout of United Airlines maintenance employees that threatened to disrupt operations of the airline.

The judge issued the order after attorneys for the airline told the court that the walkout, which began in New York shortly after midnight and spread to other United terminals across the nation, would shut down the airline Thursday unless it was stopped.

The order remains in effect until 11 p.m. CDT, Aug. 30.

New Device May Curb Retardation

By TERRY MACLEOD
Galveston News-Tribune Staff Writer

GALVESTON (AP)—A small and inexpensive testing device which resembles a paper match may prove the means of eliminating a cause of severe mental retardation in infants.

John Sealy Hospital has started a campaign to prevent any baby born in its maternity wards from being doomed to a life of dependency by a disorder known as PKU.

PKU is the abbreviation for phenylketonuria, a hereditary condition which prevents babies from utilizing a basic food component, phenylalanine.

Dr. Myron Nichols, assistant professor of pediatrics at the University of Texas medical branch, explains that failure to properly assimilate phenylalanine results in abnormal amounts forming in the bloodstream along with toxic substances.

These toxic substances interfere with the normal development of the brain and nervous system, causing a severe degree of mental retardation.

The PKU disorder itself cannot be prevented, since it is inherited from parents who are carriers but not affected themselves. However, early detection

Senators Eyeing Railroad Dispute

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators seek an answer today to whether the railroad work rules dispute can be settled without action by Congress to prevent a strike.

Up against an Aug. 29 deadline,
the Senate Commerce Committee delegated its chairman, Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., and two other members to meet with carrier and union representatives.
Secretary of Labor W. Willard
Wirtz also will attend the meeting.
A Magnuson said he and Sen.

John O. Pastore, D-R.I., and Norris Cotton, R-K.H., will try to find out just where we now stand so that we might resolve the future action, because time is running short.

President Kennedy said at his news conference Tuesday that the meeting should determine whether management and labor have reached an agreement in the four-year-old dispute.

"The railroads have announced new work rules will be put into effect on Aug. 29. Leaders of the five operating unions have said this will mean an immediate strike."

Magnuson said the commerce committee members, in meeting with the opposing sides, will not go into the merits of the dispute or legislation proposed to avert a rail shutdown. Rather, he said, the senators want to be brought up to date on the prospects for a settlement.

The carriers have accepted a proposal of Wirtz for arbitration of two key issues—firemen's jobs and train crew make-up—and for negotiations of lesser issues.

The rail brotherhoods conditioned their acceptance on processes being set up for disposal of the lesser issues before arbitration of the two "chief" issues.

Wirtz, who was present Tuesday at a meeting of the commerce committee was reported by one of the members to have a last additional proposal to advance in an effort to resolve the dispute.

Kennedy recommended to Congress last month that the Interstate Commerce Commission be empowered to issue work rules effective for two years unless supplanted by agreements reached by the railroads and the brother-hoods.

Hotel Bid Is Rejected

MINERAL WELLS (AP)—Negotiations for sale of the Baker Hotel here to a retired hotel man, who said he wanted to reopen it,
apparently have collapsed.

Joe Crumblie, 68, of Fort Worth said Tuesday night his bid of $25,000 for the resort property had been withdrawn because a country club wasn't included in the deal.

Owner Earl Baker of San Antonio told newsmen late in the day that Crumblie's bid was too low but he would not disclose his decision until after the night before.

Crumblie's wife subsequently said Baker had telegraphed his acceptance of her husband's bid.
Baker himself made no announcement.

"Mr. Baker tried to up the price to $500,000 and to $1 million, and then told me I wasn't getting the country club which I wanted for development purposes," Crumblie said.

"My financial backer walked out then, and I told Mr. Baker
I wasn't interested."

Mrs. Crumblie said Baker's telegram made it clear the transaction did not include the 117-acre Holiday Hills Country Club and its nine-hole golf course along with the Baker Hotel.

Former Resident Dies In Plainview

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Pearl Cliff Eubanks, 74, in Plainview on Aug. 15.
Mrs. Eubanks was a long time resident and teacher in Scurry County.

It was reported that she and her husband, Morris Eubanks, were entering the home of their son in Plainview when Mrs. Eubanks was stricken with a heart attack.

The funeral services and burial were at the Halfway Methodist Church near their farm home.

In addition to her husband, Mrs.
Eubanks is survived by two sons,
Scott and Douglas, one sister,
Mrs. Ruth Boettchen of Hemileigh; two brothers, Wray Cliff and Vance Cliff of Hemleigh; and two grandsons.

National Guard Cuts Protested

By DON MCKEE
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS,
W. Va. (AP)—Army National Guard strength has sunk to a low point under a tight federal budget. Southern governors heard today in the final session of their annual conference.

Wholesale elimination of units and cuts in strength are not in the best interest of the United States," said Maj. Gen. William H. Harrison Jr., president of the National Guard Association.

Harrison said the federal government had failed to give adequate support to the Army Guard.
He cited a proposed reduction of $4 million in the $42 million budgeted last year for Army school training of Guard officers and men.

The Southern Governors Conference Tuesday blocked a civil rights fight by deciding that any resolution would need a unanimous vote for adoption.

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama had prepared four resolutions criticizing the civil rights policies of President Kennedy, but he joined in approving the rule.
Wallace said he liked the rule because it would give any state a veto of objectionable resolutions.
Wallace said he would submit his resolutions to the conference today and speak against the Kennedy administration.

Secretary of the Army Cyrus
R. Vance told the governors Tuesday night the United States has the edge on the Soviet Union in nuclear striking force.

He said a myth of overwhelming Communist superiority has grown up in the United States.
The secretary said he did not minimize the threat or capability of the Communists "but I do hold that we face an adversary with human fallibilities, not an unstoppable horde."

Heavy Rains Flood Areas Near Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—A man drowned, portions of Washington National Airport were inundated and homes were flooded Tuesday night by flash floods resulting from torrential rain showers
all around the capital.

A drowned when his small car was swept away by flooding Long Branch Run on Army-Navy Drive in Arlington, Va., was Charles Shepard, 41, of Fairfax, Va.

His body was found at a culvert six blocks away.
Nearby Virginia experienced the greatest flooding.

In the Alexandria-Arlington area
low-lying sections were flooded and rescuers used boats to evacuate families from homes and to remove motorists from flooded cars.

At Washington National Airport
the entire passenger lobby of the northern terminal area was ankle-deep in water at the height of the storm.

The Washington Weather Bureau measured slightly more than six inches of rainfall in the 24 hour period ended at 10:30 p.m.

Suspect In Slaying Held

ROCKETT, Tex. (AP)—Officers held a farm laborer for investigation today after the shotgun slaying of an elderly man in the robbery of the only store in this community.

Questioned was hearded Benny Longoria, 30, picked up an hour after last night's robbery and slaying.

Store owners said the robbers obtained between $700 and $1,000.
Killed was H. C. Humphries, 64, an employee of the store. A customer, Lee Hunsucker, about 50, was treated for pellet wounds in the arm.

Hunsucker said two men in a car asked for a quart of oil. Then suddenly one produced a shotgun and jabbed it at Humphries.
The attendant lunged, knocking the barrel toward the ground, and the gunman shot him in the legs.
Then he raised the gun and fired point-blank at Humphries' face.
The Negro and the gunman raced into the store. The man with the gun sacked up the money.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 12-year-old boy and every day of my summer vacation I stay home alone and watch television. My mother works all day long. Monday through Friday, and she doesn't want me leaving the house. I have nobody to talk to except the dog, and if somebody heard the way I carry on a conversation with him they would think I was nuts. I am not supposed to let anybody in the house. Can you tell me how I can keep from getting bored?

A BOY UNNAMED
DEAR UNNAMED: Boredom is only one of your problems. A boy your age needs fresh air, exercise and the companionship of other young people. Ask your mother if there isn't a day camp

where she can send you. A boy your age shouldn't be cooped up in the house all summer.

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I have a friend who lives in the same apartment building as we do. She went on a vacation and left the keys to her apartment with her gentleman friend so he could water her plants and look after her goldfish. She hadn't been gone two days when this no-good gentleman friend brought another woman into her apartment. All the neighbors know about it and we are afraid one of them will tell her when she gets back. Should we tell her first, or should we let this man make a fool of her?

FRIENDS
DEAR FRIENDS: Who was the
"other woman"? WHY did the "gentleman" take her there? Unless you are sure of the facts,
don't be the bearer of such news.
And if you ARE sure, even then think twice.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were invited to a wedding. He sincerely knows the people and I have never met them. My husband is a professor and the bride was a former student. My husband will be unable to attend as the date conflicts with a previous commitment. Would it be proper for me to go with my older, bachelor brother? Must we send a gift whether we attend the wedding or not?

MUST KNOW
DEAR MUST: You were apparently invited because of your HUSBAND's former association with the bride. In view of this fact, and since you know none of the people involved, it might be wise to decline the invitation. A gift is ALWAYS optional.

CHEVY II's priced to move right out!

If you've been thinking along Chevy II's lines this year (and you're still debating), now's the right time to do something about it at your Chevrolet dealer's.

If you've been thinking economy this year, now's the right time to do something about it. You'll find Chevy II engines, both the Super-Thrift 4 and the Hi-Thrift 6, ready, willing and able to do just about everything but go through a gallon of gas.

If you've been thinking low maintenance this year, now's the right time to do something about it.

Chevy II's are built to stay young. The brakes are self-adjusting. Rocker panels are flushed clean and dry by rain and wash water. The exhaust system is extra durable. The Delcotron generator gives an extra spark to your battery when you need it the most.

Finally, if you've been thinking the lowest possible price tag... a low mileage tab... low maintenance costs twelve months out of the year—then all we can say is, now's the right time to buy a Chevy II.

Two Youths Hurt In Traffic Mishap

Two Snyder youths received what were believed to be minor injuries about 6:15 p.m. Tuesday seven miles north of Snyder when the Corvair in which they were riding overturned on the Clairemont Road.

Taken to Cogdell Hospital by Bell Ambulance Service were Sterling Parker, Jr., who was treated for cuts on the head, and Linden Terry, a passenger in the car, who received numerous bruises in the mishap.

The accident occurred near the spot where a serious accident involving an auto driven by Johnson Barber and a large truck occurred recently.

Sheriff's deputy Keith Collier investigated the mishap.

Two Pleas Heard In County Court

A plea of not guilty to a charge of DWI was entered this morning in county court by Eldon Morris of Snyder.

Morris had been arrested at 8:20 p.m. Tuesday by a unit of the sheriff's department. His bond was set at $500.

Also in county court Tuesday afternoon a plea of not guilty was entered on a charge of illegal transportation of beer. Charged by the sheriff's department was Albert Torrez of Snyder.

Torrez was released on $500
bond.

Guilty Plea Heard In District Court

Lenard Robinson, pleaded guilty
Tuesday in 132nd District Court to a charge of illegal removal of mortgaged property.

Robinson, formerly of Snyder,
had been returned from Mobile,
Ala. to stand trial. The trailer, which was the property involved, had been recovered in New Orleans.

Robinson was assessed a two-year sentence. The sentence was probated with the understanding that Robinson would return to his job in Alabama.

Weather Bureau To Close 8 Stations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau plans to close eight smaller weather stations as part of an economy drive, a bureau spokesman said today.

Also marked for elimination was a three-man airport station at Galveston.

A Weather Bureau official said that in most cases the stations to be closed are near a large bureau and can be served easily by the larger facility.

Pick Linens For College With Care

The month of August has come to mean the opening of recent clothing shops and the buying of a back-to-school wardrobe. Along with the task of selecting a wardrobe goes the job of choosing the necessary linen and bedspreads to dress up the college living quarters.

From a practical standpoint, a college dorm bedspread should be sturdy. From a student's viewpoint, this item should also be colorful and attractive. Mrs. Anne Sterling, Director of Consumer Relations for the American Institute of Laundering, suggests that a good quality woven bedspread fits this description. A woven fabric takes harder wear and less care than the softer synthetic spread. Comparatively inexpensive and practical for longer service, woven spreads often have companion matching draperies. They can be found in solid colors as well as plaids or stripes.

Here are a few tips on what to look for when buying your draperies. They should have enough fullness to hang smoothly and evenly and just touch the floor if full length. They should be strong enough not to be pulled out of shape under their own weight and should be able to resist fading. Specify fast color when buying. Ask if they can be washed or drycleaned. Plain drapery designs won't last long even with the best of care.

Cookout Contest

Remind the outdoor chef in your home that now is the time for him to enter America's Cookout Championship "for men only."

His favorite recipe could qualify him as one of 25 finalists who will participate in the national barbecue competition next April in Hawaii.

And to top everything, wives go along with their husbands—a gorgeous seven-day trip, velvet carpet all of the way, and expense free.

A simple recipe for meat loaf, prepared by a Los Angeles attorney, won first prize and a $10,000 cash award in America's Cookout Championship this year.

Who knows—that quick, easy dish served at your own outdoor parties could capture top honors in 1964's Hawaiian cook-off.

Recipe entries must include title, ingredients, and a description of how the barbecue main dish is prepared. All entries must be submitted before October 31 to America's Cookout Championship, Post Office Box 37, Los Angeles 51, California.

Entry blanks with the official rules may be found at grocery stores.

Flavor note: If that homemade chicken stock needs more flavor, add a little monosodium glutamate.

Honey Peppermint Ice Cream

"The only reason for being a bee that I knew of is making honey. And the only reason for making honey is so I can eat it." This is the glorious logic of Pooh Bear, the beloved chief character of the Winnie-the-Pooh books by A. A. Milne.

Winnie-the-Pooh always managed to eat honey several times a day even if he had to steal it from the bees or beg it from his friends. Usually Pooh took his honey "straight" from the jar, however, if someone had offered him honey peppermint ice cream, it is most probable that he would have been delighted.

But even though you have no buddy, fuzzy bear to feed at your home, it won't hurt a bit to offer some honey peppermint ice cream to the family. Children will love

HONEY PEPPERMINT ICE CREAM (Freezer)

1 1/2 teaspoons gelatin
2 tablespoons water
1/2 cup milk
2 1/2 cups coffee cream
1-3 cup honey
1/4 cup crushed peppermint stick candy

Soak gelatin in cold water. Heat milk and cream and add honey, mix well. Add gelatin slowly, stirring constantly to prevent lumping. (Thoroughly chill if you wish to shorten freezing time.) Pour in freezer with crushed candy and freeze, or if bits of the candy are desired in the ice cream, add it after the mix has become semi-solid. Unsweetened chocolate (1 square) cut into very small pieces may be added. (A good proportion of salt and ice to use is 1 part of salt to 4 of ice.)

Drip-Dry Curtains

Drip-dry curtains and draperies can be sudsed indoors, then carried outside for rinsing right on the clothesline with a forceful spray from the garden hose. Since this method eliminates wrinkles caused by wringing, it cuts down on ironing time.

Foreign Aid Bill Is Taking Customary Capitol Journey

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — It has happened so many times it's like a ritual in a bargain basement. The President asks more money for foreign aid than anybody, probably including himself, thinks he'll get.

The immediate reaction in Congress is a kind of horror at the thought of shoveling out all that money to foreigners again. "Since the war the United States has provided more than $100 billion in economic and military aid to 111 countries. After this annual shock Congress finally votes more foreign aid than it seemed willing to do but always less than the President asked."

Tuesday the House began its yearly debate: how much money this time? There will be many weeks of shuffling before the final decision.

That's why President Kennedy's opening statement at his news conference was a rather muffled cry of anguish. He urged Congress to be careful with the scissors.

He will have more to say later if Congress gets too frisky. This year Kennedy frustrated some of the eager tailors in the Capitol by snipping off some of the money he asked for before Congress had a chance.

Office Space Is Denied Billie Sol

ABILENE (AP) — Owners of the Petroleum Building here have denied Billie Sol Estes office space because other tenants expressed "dissatisfaction" with his presence, a spokesman said Tuesday.

Estes, free on bond while he appeals fraud and swindling convictions, recently moved here after a bullet was fired into the front window of his home at Pecos.

He became one of the organizers of the International Love and Goodwill Corp. last week.

confusion about this when the committee reported last March 21—that about $500 million should be trimmed off the $4.9 billion Kennedy had asked.

On April 2, Kennedy sent a special message to Congress on foreign aid, chopping almost $500 million off his original request, which is what the Clay committee had seemed to suggest.

That figure was the starting point when the House began considering the matter this week. But the inclination of some House members will be to show even greater economy than its committee.

The greatest foreign aid tailor in the House is Rep. Otto E. Passman, a Democrat and a millionaire from Louisiana.

In 1961 he had himself wheeled into the House on a big debate day before—and told colleagues: "Even though I'm in pain, I question whether I am as in as much pain as the 187 million Americans who have to foot the bill for this."

He has long considered foreign aid "fouled up and uncontrollable."

In 1962 Kennedy asked $4.9 billion. Congress appropriated about $1 billion less even though, in the midst of the slashing, Kennedy protested against cutting "the heart out of the program."

In 1961 Kennedy sought $4.8 billion. Congress voted about $600 million less even though, in the midst of the slicing and dicing, Kennedy cried out against a de-capitalized program that would be "too little and too late."

Executives Tired Of Hearing This

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a big business executive gets tired of hearing:

"I realize that most men in your financial bracket worry themselves into ulcers, but our medical examination shows that you are as sound as a nut."

"I wouldn't keep him waiting, sir—I believe he's from the Internal Revenue Service."

"Kindly lower your voice, Mr. Bascomb O. Bascomb. This is your house, not your office—and I'm your wife, not your hiring."

"But really, Mr. Bascomb, it's terribly difficult trying to take dictation while sitting on someone's lap."

"There's only one thing he hates worse having around him than a yes-man—and that's anybody who tells him no."

"Every time he loses an argument at home he has to win two at the office."

"I believe you'll find our sales chart more readily understandable, sir, if you'll turn it around and hold it right side up."

"Look at the bags under his eyes. You just know this is going to be a rough day."

"He spent all morning pushing buttons and scaring his vice presidents. I don't think he'll get around to scaring us until this afternoon."

"It's my salary I wanted to speak to you about, Mr. Bascomb. My wife said for me to tell you that—"

"He brought his golf clubs with him. I guess we can all sneak out early today."

"Yeah, Mabel, he and the board chairman were having a knock-down-drag-out argument over who'd get to use the company yacht this weekend. Ops, here he comes now. Ring you back later with the rest of the dirt."

"This is the biggest economy wave he's launched yet. He's ordered us to save all the paper clips that come in the mail, and use them on our letters."

"The only safe thing to do is to start chuckling the moment he begins to tell a joke. Then if you miss the punchline, it won't make any difference."

"Bascomb didn't invent the three-martini lunch, but he ought to build a monument to the guy who did."

Dallas Man Is Successor Of Harrison

AUSTIN (AP) — J. N. Nutt of Dallas will become Texas insurance commissioner Sept. 1. He will succeed William Harrison, who resigned.

The State Insurance Board announced Nutt's appointment as administrative head of the department Tuesday.

He is a consultant to several life insurance companies and is a former examiner for the insurance department.

Board chairman William McLean said the choice of Nutt for the $15,000-a-year job was unanimous.

"We feel that his experience as a senior examiner for the department of insurance, and as an insurance agent, company officer and independent consultant provide an ideal background for this position and a knowledgeable advocate for the public in insurance matters," McLean said.

Nutt was graduated from Baylor University in 1931. He was an insurance examiner in 1935-52 and resigned to join a Dallas group in organizing the Mercantile Security Life Insurance Co.

Junior Editors Quiz on JET STREAMS

QUESTION: How do pilots make use of the jet stream?

ANSWER: During World War II, American bombers had occasion to fly at high altitudes when bombing Japanese targets. At certain altitudes and places, their planes almost stood still, but if they turned in the opposite direction they could go much faster than usual. They had discovered the existence of a current of air, the jet stream, which moves around the earth at high altitudes in a kind of narrow, wavy band. Although it blows generally in an easterly direction around the earth, the jet stream does not always follow the same path, so the arrows on our picture can only show its approximate position at certain times of the year. In the winter, this air current is closer to the equator; it is also faster. Average speed is 100 or 120 miles an hour but this sometimes increases to nearly 300 miles an hour.

It is easy to see in our picture how an airplane flying from Japan toward Hawaii can shorten its flight time if it mounts up high in the air where the jet stream is racing along in the same general direction. Flight time on such a trip can be cut down by nearly one-half. Experts study the position and strength of the jet stream and report to airplane pilots who take advantage of it whenever they can.

FOR YOU TO DO: Launch a model plane on a day when the wind is blowing and try it downward. You'll see at once what a difference the wind makes in its speed.

Dodgers Win; Now Lead By 6½ Games

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Turns out that sound we heard last week wasn't the Los Angeles Dodgers pushing the panic button after all. Just Al Dark with a harmless bee in his bonnet.

Since last Thursday when the Dodgers' National League lead to three games, all the sting was gone out of the Giants.

The front-running Dodgers, meanwhile, have reeled off six consecutive victories—the latest a 7-5 decision over second-place St. Louis that increased their lead to six games.

Milwaukee handed the Giants their fourth straight setback, riding Lee Maye's three-run, tie-breaking homer to a 6-1 victory at San Francisco.

The Philadelphia Phillies, who split with the New York Mets, had their eighth four-run shutout snapped on a four-hit 4-0 shutout by rookie Grover Powell, but took the second game of a two-night 2-1 in 12 innings to close up on the Giants.

Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall posted his 19th NL victory in a 1-0 victory over Houston, and Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-3.

The American League leaders New York Yankees were beaten by Cleveland 2-1, the Chicago White Sox wallowed Boston 10-2, Detroit shut out Minnesota 6-0 and Kansas City swept a pair from Washington 9-0 and 7-5 in 14 innings.

The Los Angeles Angels game at Baltimore was rained out.

The Dodgers trailed 4-2 going into the fourth, but a five-run fourth inning beat the Cardinals, who came into Los Angeles fresh from a three-game sweep of the Giants.

Bill White's error on a grounder by John Roseboro led Frank Howard and Willie Davis score with the tying runs. Singles by Maury Wills and Jim Gilliam then drove in the lead run and Ron Fairly hit a two-run single that put it out of reach. Bob Miller, 8-8, protected the edge with five innings of one-hit relief work.

Giants' starter Billy Pierce took a 1-0 lead into the seventh but consecutive singles by Gene Oliver, Joe Torre and Roy McMillan scored the tying run and brought on Bob Bolin. Bolin got two outs before Maye drove his homer over the left field fence. Bob Sadowski, 3-5, got the victory with Bob Shaw's three innings of scoreless relief. Pierce, 3-9, took the loss.

Powell got the only runs he needed in the opener against the Phillies when the Mets struck for two runs in the eighth off Cal McLish, 12-9. Al Moran's single, an infield out, a single by Jim Hickman and Tim Lincecum doubled the damage. Frank Thomas hit a two-run homer in the ninth.

Roy Sievers hit a two-run homer off Roger Craig in the last of the ninth to give the Phillies a tie in the nightcap. They won in the 12th when Ruben Amaro singled, Ron Smith hit a two-run homer, and Larry Rye drove in the winning run and scored on Tony Taylor's single. Duren, 6-2, was the winner.

Nuxhall, 11-6, who started his major league career as a 13-year-old in 1944, allowed the Cubs only three hits before he left in the third inning for a pinch hitter, Al Worthington finished up, allowing one hit. Ken Johnson, 6-7, lost it.

The Pirates scored all their runs on homers, with Jerry Lynch connecting with two on, in the first inning, and Bill Mazeroski and Jim Papparo hitting consecutive bases-empty homers in the seventh. Don Cardwell, touched for a homer by Ron Santo, got the victory. Bob Buhl, 9-12, lost it.

Post To Appeal Butts Judgment

ATLANTA (AP)—The Saturday Evening Post plans to fight a $3,000,000 judgment awarded former University of Georgia football coach Wallace Butts by a federal jury which decided that the Post had ruined Butts' reputation.

It was one of the largest civil judgments ever rendered.

Immediately after the jury report on Tuesday, attorneys for the Curtis Publishing Co. said they will appeal.

FRANKIE MINTON
... New Coach at Corpus Christi University.

The jury, composed of 12 men who never played football, heard 11 days of testimony and arguments regarding a March 23 Post story that said Butts gave inside information on the Georgia team to Alabama coach Paul "Bear" Bryant before the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game, Alabama won 35-0.

Much of the testimony, especially by football coaches and players, dealt with intricate football maneuvers and strategy.

Butts, who was athletic director at Georgia at the time of the game, sued for $10 million. He and Bryant have maintained their innocence of any attempt to rig the game.

The jury, after deliberating about eight hours, awarded Butts $3,000,000 for general damage and $3 million for punitive purposes. The jury agreed with Butts' contention that there was malice in publication of the article.

Snyderite Named Coach At Corpus U.

Frankie Minton, former Snyder High School football star, has been named assistant football coach at the University of Corpus Christi.

Minton, a 1953 graduate of Snyder High School, once held the Lone Star Conference field goal record with a kick of 42 yards. He set this record while a lineman at Stephen F. Austin College.

Minton, 26, was line coach for the past two years at Groveton High School, which went to the Class A semifinals in 1961. He is married and has a five-month-old daughter.

The versatile lineman took turns playing at center, guard and tackle while at San Angelo Junior College and Stephen F. Austin. He played on the San Angelo team that beat Del Mar in the Vikings game was ranked No. 1 in the nation.

Minton, who operated a bowling alley in Snyder before going to college, once bowled a 300 game and carried a 211 league average.

Butts, Bryant and other coaches plus some Alabama and Georgia players testified that no game secrets were disclosed and that information in notes allegedly given by Butts during the conversation was of no consequence.

Johnny Griffith, who succeeded Butts at Georgia, said, however, that the information could have had a bearing on the game.

Women's Golf Goes Into Third Round

By BOB SALMON
Associated Press Sports Writer

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (AP)—It's tough enough to tie a course record without having to scramble to stay alive, too.

But perky Judy Bell did both Tuesday and was one of 22 survivors today for third-round play in the 63rd Women's National Amateur Golf Championship at Taconic Golf Club.

Miss Bell, who reached the quarterfinals four years ago, was starting at a four-hole deficit after 10 holes of her second-round match with veteran Polly Riley of Port Worth, Tex.

It didn't seem as if the Colorado Springs, Colo., golfer would be around for the full 18 holes.

But she was — with a 1-up victory and a 74 that equaled the women's competitive course record set in 1958 by Irene Wright of Williamstown.

Defending champion JoAnne Gunderson of Providence, R.I., eliminated Pat Johnson of Spartanburg, S.C., 7 and 6.

Other second-round victors included two-time winner Mrs. Anne Quast Wells of Seattle, Wash.; schoolteacher Nancy Holmes of Nashville, Tenn.; and Arizona State College junior Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis.

Matson Goes To Detroit

BLOOMFIELD HILLS, Mich. (AP)—The Detroit Lions, seeking to improve their running game, have acquired fullback Ollie Matson from the Los Angeles Rams in a trade for lineman Harley Sewell.

The deal involving the two National Football League oldtimers was completed Tuesday night.

Matson, 33, once was one of the most feared runners in the NFL. He joined the Chicago Cardinals in 1952 after competing in the Olympics as a 400-meter runner. In 1959, the Cardinals shipped Matson to the Rams for nine players.

He was a second-stringer behind Dick Bass last year. Matson gained only 76 yards all season.

Sewell, 32, was a regular offensive guard for 10 years for the Lions.

WALTZ ME AROUND AGAIN — Backfield Coach Jim Stehley observes two boys practicing the fundamentals of tackling. Workouts will be held twice daily until school begins.

Golf Duels Take On Added Glitter

By JOE MOOSHIL
AKRON, Ohio (AP)—These brisk golf duels between Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus take on added glitter the next three weeks with one of the two having a chance to win $50,000.

Palmer qualified for the $75,000 World series of Golf when he smacked down Phil Rodgers and Jacky Cupt on Tuesday in a three-man playoff. Palmer shot an impressive one-under-par 69 over the Firestone Country Club's massive 7,165-yard, which played unusually long because of recent rains.

Rodgers had a 37-37-74, and Cupt 33-33-76, while Palmer came in with 34-33, nailing two birdies and straying from par only once.

Palmer will defend his American Golf Classic title here beginning Thursday, and the No. 1 challenger will be Nicklaus. The $50,000 Classic, drawing a field of 92 including some of the country's top amateurs, has a first-place prize of $9,000 with an additional $5,000 in bonuses.

Should either Palmer or Nicklaus win the Classic and its bonus money, the winner will be in position for the $20,000 sweep.

After the classic, the two some will hook up with Gary Player in a $50,000 exhibition in Wakegarden, Ill. for a top prize of $25,000 before returning to Firestone for the World Series of Golf on Sept. 7-8, which will pay the winner $50,000.

Also featured in the World Series will be U.S. open champion Julius Boros and British Open champion Bob Charles. Nicklaus won the Masters and the PGA, leaving one spot open and Palmer grabbed it in the playoff with Rodgers and Cupt.

Palmer has been off the circuit since winning the Western Open in Chicago last month, but has participated in 13 exhibitions. He has won six tournaments this year and a record 158 times.

Palmer has found the Firestone course to his liking. Last year his 276 was a course record for four rounds. In the World Series he shot a course-record 65, but lost out to Nicklaus in the final round.

Blasingame Likes To Spoil No-Hitters

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

In this age of specialization, Don Blasingame ranks as a specialist's specialist. He spoils no-hit bids.

Washington's handsome second baseman did it again Tuesday night with a fourth inning bunt single, the only hit off Moe Drabowsky in the opener of an American League doubleheader at Kansas City. The Athletics romped in the first game, 9-0, with Doc Edwards batting in five runs, and won the second 7-5 in 14 innings on Jerry Lumpe's two-run homer.

Blasingame also played the spoiler against Stan Williams of the New York Yankees on Aug. 6, doubling for the lone Senator hit off the right-hander. Last year with Cincinnati, Blasingame accounted for the only hit against Cal Koonce in a game against the Chicago Cubs.

Dick Donovan's steady pitching and Vic Davall's run-producing single in the ninth inning led Cleveland over New York 2-1 Tuesday night, trimming the Yankees' American League lead to 6½ games. Chicago's runner-up White Sox belted Boston 10-2 as lefty Juan Pizarro became a 15-game winner for the first time in his career with a five-hitter.

Hank Aguirre pitched a two-hitter and got home run support from Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash in Detroit's 6-0 shutout of Minnesota. The Los Angeles Angels and the Orioles were rained out at Baltimore.

The Los Angeles Dodgers boosted their National League lead to 6½ games, beating second-place St. Louis 7-5. Milwaukee trimmed San Francisco 6-1, Cincinnati edged Houston 10-2, Pittsburgh downed Chicago 5-3 and Philadelphia split with New York, winning the second game 3-1 in 12 innings after dropping the opener to the Mets 4-0.

In addition to the bunt hit by Blasingame, Drabowsky allowed just two walks in the rout of Washington. Edwards drove in his five runs with a homer, double and single. Claude Osteen was the loser.

Lumpe's homer in the 14th inning of the second game came off loser Don Rudolph with two out, breaking a tie that had lasted from the seventh. Dave Wickham was the winner in relief.

Vance's southpaw Whitney Ford, 17-7, survived bases-loaded jams in the seventh and eighth innings at New York, but couldn't get by the one in the ninth. Woodie Held's double, a walk to Donovan and a single by Jerry Kendall filled the bases before Davillio sent in the deciding run with his two-out hit. Pizarro, who also started at bat for the White Sox, gave up a single to Felix Mantilla in the first inning, then retired the next 24 men in order before the Red Sox kicked him for four more singles and their two runs in the ninth.

Exhibition Game Moved To Oakland

NEW YORK (AP)—A scheduled American Football League exhibition game between the Oakland Raiders and New York Jets at Mobile, Ala., Friday night has been switched to Oakland on Sunday because of a controversy over segregated seating.

Milt Woodard, assistant AFL commissioner, said the game had been cancelled out of Mobile's Ladd Memorial Stadium by agreement of all parties involved after four Negro members of the Oakland team refused to play unless the stadium was completely desegregated. The Mobile sponsors said this was impossible.

The four players are Art Powell, Fred Williamson, Clem Daniels and Ro Robertson. There are eight Negroes on the Jets, four in the starting lineup.

David (Sonny) Werblin, new owner of the Jets, said he pressed for removal of the game from Mobile.

Golden Gloves Will Continue In Texas

FORT WORTH (AP)—The Texas Golden Gloves will go on whether there's a national tournament or not.

The Star-Telegram has announced it will hold the 25th annual state meet Feb. 13-17 and send a team to the national finals that will be put on at Louisville, Ky., Feb. 24-28 if an argument is settled with the AAU.

An AAU rule requires headgear. Jim Barhill of Kenosha, Wis., president of the Golden Gloves Association of America, says there will be no 1964 tournament unless the AAU modifies this rule.

Chicago gave up the national Golden Gloves last winter and a committee picked Louisville to replace it.

San Antonio Pads Texas League Lead

By The Associated Press

San Antonio padded its three games out front in the Texas League race Tuesday night as the next three clubs in the standings took lockers.

But fifth place Albuquerque, playing the best baseball lately, raised its hopes of making the playoffs by clipping fourth place Tulsa 7-2.

Albuquerque has won eight of its last 13 games and is just 4½ games out of fourth.

San Antonio blasted 13 hits in wallpopping El Paso 9-3. Aaron Pointer, Ron Davis and Jerry Gracie drove in two runs apiece.

Austin suffered its 10th defeat in 14 games as the second place Senators were beaten 5-4 by Amarillo. Butte's Gerberman pitched half a game ahead of third place El Paso as the Sun Kings lost 6-3.

George Gerberman stopped a rally in the ninth to edge Amarillo past Austin. It was Amarillo's third straight over the slumping Senators.

Larry Staab bluffed Tulsa to four hits in allowing Albuquerque 17 men in order before the Oilers could get another hit. Don LeJohn and Ralph Plumlee hit homers.
