HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Blizzard fans this year will be seeing something new in formation — at least for this area. It's called the Flip Flop Wing T type offense, and may serve to cause some confusion on the part of some.

Here's the way it works — unless we've been confused by the explanation. There'll be the "quick" and the "strong" side of the line. Boys who play on the split side will play there whether the split is on the right or the left. The term "strong" to the side line there will be on that side of the line are stronger than the others — or that the "quick" side is called that because they're quicker. It refers to the fact that with the end split out from three yards to the side lline there will be only two boys nect to the center. Or some such. Then there will be some change in the position of the backfield men. So if you see some of the boys take different positions after the huddle, don't get the idea that they have been addled. It's all according to a plan, which plan points toward a long season.

There was a good turnout for the summer band concert last Thursday night. The crowd got a chance to hear the WHS band in full tune, and get a pre-season look at the twirlers and the cheerleaders.

The concert was sponsored by the Band Mothers Club and was held to raise funds to operate this year. From what we have heard, the take was pretty good, too. Advance sale of tickets was very satisfactory, and the Band Mothers set up a concession stand for drinks and pie and cake. Some uncut pies and cakes were put on the auction block toward the end of the evening.

The Band Mothers have expressed a sincere thanks for the response of the public. Without such fund-raising affairs, the band would be forced to go without a lot of things because of the lack of money. The idea is to hold such an outdoor concert each summer.

Also, the auctioneer would like to thank those who so spontaniously and enthusiastically kept the ball rolling and bought up all the extra pies and cakes before he became hoarse from yelling.

Up at the band concert the other night, B. G. Owens was reminescing about some of the towns bands during the early days. The bands then were made up of men of the town and besides holding concerts in the park traveled to other towns to perform.

Back in those days, Owens said, the band would travel by hack to visit some of the other towns in the area. One time, he remembered, the local band went to San Angelo. The main or theme tune for that appearance was the "Anvil Chorus," he said, and the bandsmen, not knowing if they could find one in that faraway town, hauled their own anvil in a hack the many miles.

Police To Crack Down On Drivers Ignoring Citations

Winters' police will crack down on drivers who receive tickets and ignore them, Chief of Police Joe Stephens said this week.

In the past, many citations to appear for traffic violations have been ignored, it was stated. Effective August 1, Stephens said, if drivers who receive tickets ignore them a warrant will be issued for their apprehension. If this occurs, Stephens pointed out, the cost to those convicted could be as much as $7.00 for each violation — the $1.00 minimum cost plus $5.00 court costs and the original citation.

SS Baptist Church Women Conducting Benefit Fund Drive

Women of the Southside Baptist Church are conducting a drive to help raise funds to pay hospital and medical bills for Mrs. A.K. Bullard, who has been critically ill for some time.

Jars have been placed on the counters in downtown businesses for donations.

Helping in this project are Mrs. C. L. Winton, Mrs. Lonnie Cradduck, Mrs. Bill Hendrix, Mrs. E. E. Cockerell and Mrs. Virgil James.

City Spraying To Kill Mosquitos; Asks Cooperation From Winters Citizens

In an effort to rid the community of mosquitoes and prevent further infestation of possible disease - bearing mosquitoes, city crews this week were busy spraying patches of high weeds and grass and pouring oil on pools of water.

In addition, all residents have been asked to help in this drive to help prevent a possible outbreak of disease, by keeping the trash and high weeds and grass from becoming breeding places for mosquitoes.

The sudden drive to kill out the mosquito has been the increase in the number of cases of encephalitis in the state. It has been announced that the disease is spread to some extent by the culex nosquito.

City officials pointed out his week that there is no need for undue alarm over the presence of the culex mosquito, as this type of mosquito is neither new nor unusual locally. However, they said, it is necessary to take every precaution to keep the community safe. No cases of encephalitis have been reported in this immediate community, although there have been cases in the counties to the north.

Included in the monthly utility bills which were sent out to customers during the past few days, was a note requesting help on the part of everyone to rid the community of mosquitoes. The request states, "because of the existence of the culex mosquito in this area and the remote possibility that encephalitis could develop if the mosquito is not controlled, the City is taking action to eliminate as nearly as possible breeding places of the mosquito.

"It is not intended to convey that there is any indication of encephalitis in the area. Furthermore, the presence of the culex mosquito is neither new or unusual. We only want to take every precaution to keep our community safe.

"For this reason we ask all citizens to help for your own protection.

"Do not let water accumulate in old cans, discarded containers, low and swampy places. If you have knowledge of any such condition, please call City Hall, PL4-1581, and report it. Help as much as possible in eliminating weed patches and tall grass where mosquitoes develop."

Area Men Get BA Degrees At Tarleton State

Two area boys received their Bachelor of Arts degrees Saturday, August 29, from Tarleton State College, Stephenville.

They are James Larry Aldridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Aldridge of Winters and Wayne Dee Herrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Herrington of Lawn. The boys are cousins and have roomed together during their college years.

Herrington also was sommissioned as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army during the graduation services. He is a 1960 graduate of Haskell High School, where he was a member of the Quill and Scroll, National Honor Society, Spanish Club and a member of the school paper staff. His major in college was history. He was a member of the ROTC for four years, with the rank of Captain during his senior year and was commander of ROTC Company C at the college. He was a member of the Tarleton Sky-Riders (Aviation) club and worked on the school paper during his freshman year at TSC. His second lieutenant bars were pinned by his mother, Mrs. Herrington.

Aldridge is a 1960 graduate of Jim Ned High School where he was a member of the football and basketball teams. He was a recipient of a basketball scholarship at TSC. His major in college was history. He was a member of the Student Council, TTP Club and Who's Who in American Colleges. He has accepted a position as head basketball coach at Lingleville High School.

Attending graduation exercises at TSC from this area were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Aldridge and Denny and Mike Patterson, of Winters; Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Herrington and Randy of Lawn. Mrs. Ray Dick of Lawn is the grandmother of both of the graduates and Herrington is also the grandson of Mrs. H. B. Gamble of Winters.

Willis Jernigan Represents Area On Radio and TV

Willis G. Jernigan IV, minister of the North Main Street Church of Christ, Winters, is one of 250 workers from across the nation who will represent an international radio and television program sponsored by the Churches of Christ. Called the Herald of Truth, the religious program is produced by Highland Church of Christ in Abilene, and is aired from 385 radio stations and 96 television stations in the United States and Abroad. The tv program may be viewed locally each Sunday morning at 9:15 on KPAR and may be heard each Sunday morning over KRBC at 8:15.

Mr. Jernigan attended a workshop for the program held in Abilene August 26-27.

The church workers will play an important role in plans to place the program on 1,400 radio and 200 television stations at a projected cost of $1,932,000. This program of evangelistic broadcasting would saturate the entire English - speaking world according to the elders of the Highland church.

The Herald of Truth began on radio in the Midwest in 1952 and has since enjoyed a meteoric rise to its present international broadcasting stature. It is supported by Churches of Christ all over the world.

In the past 12 years the program has been broadcast more than 155,500 times over a total of more than 800 radio and television stations, Jernigan revealed.

Winters To Be Closed Monday; Council Tuesday

Most businesses in Winters will be closed in observance of Labor Day, Monday, September 7, in accordance with recommendations made by the Winters Chamber of Commerce several months ago.

The regular first meeting of the City Council has been changed to Tuesday night because of the Labor Day observance, Mayor Harvey D. Jones said this week.

Radio Commentator Paul Harvey Will Be Speaker At Winters' 75th Jubilee

Internationally - known radio commentator Paul Harvey has been billed as the No. 1 attraction for Winters' Diamond Jubilee celebration in June, 1965. Other state and area speakers will be presented on June 19, the "big" day of the observance which will last perhaps a week.

Homer Hodge, general chairman for planning the 75th anniversary event, already has made arrangements for Paul Harvey's appearance, the Chamber of Commerce announced this week.

The board of directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday morning of this week and approved a nine-point program for the Diamond Jubilee celebration. Included in the planning at this time is a barbeque, costume contest, antique displays, antique car displays and parades, fiddlers, contests, and perhaps some kind of spectator event such as a rodeo, roping event or the like.

One of the mai nevents of the Jubilee will be the honoring of the oldest resident of Winters, it was announced.

Planning for next year's celebration is going ahead at a rapid pace, even though the time for the Jubilee is several months away. Several committees will be named within the next few days to work on different phases of the Jubilee, it was understood. Backers of the proposed event said that much work will have to be done to have everything in readiness for the big week in 1965.

In their meeting Tuesday, the members of the directors' board discussed proposed additions to the Christmas decorations for the streets. Don Oakes is the chairman of the committee working on Christmas decorations, and there has been some study regarding making changes and additions to the decorations which were bought and used last year.

School Board Okays Student Insurance

Winters School Board has authorized the superintendent to approve an offer by Standard Life and Accident Insurance Company for insurance policies covering members of the athletic teams and other students in the school.

Policy approved is a limited policy and will be offered to students at the rate of $5.00 for the nine-month school term. Some of the limitations, according to school officials, include: to pay hospital, student must be in the hospital for at least 24 hours; injuries on two-wheel motor vehicles are not covered, but bicycles are covered; adult maximums are cut to one-half that of students; and injuries in automobile accidents are not paid in excess of other insurance carried; if no other insurance is carried, they will be covered.

Brochures will be handed to student who will show them to parents, Tuesday, September 8. The program will close on Friday September 11.

In making announcement of the approval of the insurance for school students, the School Board emphasized that the school is not in the insurance business, makes no profit from this service, and offers the policy through demand and in order to secure athletic coverage. It was also emphasized that no school employee receives compensation for any effort in record keeping or any part of the insurance program, and that the Board does not recommend that the policy be purchased, but leaves the choice strictly to the parents. However, it was explained, before any company will carry insurance on a football team, all students to be covered must purchase the basic policy.

When It Rains, It Pours — In North Runnels

Up to six inches of rain fell on areas North Runnels County last Friday night, accompanied by damaging hail.

In the Dale Community southeast of Winters, one report said that six inches of rain fell there, with other reports in that community ranging from one to six inches. Fields were flooded and some terraces filled during the downpour. One farmer in that area reported 33 per cent damage to his cotton crop from the hail.

In the north edge of the county, some cotton fields were flooded, and some terraces received heavy damage from the rains. Reports were that heavy rains which fell within minutes did the damage. It is not known to what extent the crops were damaged in that area.

West of Winters varying amounts of rain were reported.

In Winters proper, rains were light compared with what was reported in other sections. Total rainfall for the month of August was 3.5 inches in Winters, with the year's total through August measured at 18.6 inches.

Rains during the past several days have filled the streams to overflowing, and water went over the spillway at Winters City Lake east of town. The lake is now full for the first time since about January 1.

Blizzards Play In Lakeview Tonite

The Winters High School Blizzard football team will pry the lid off the 1964 football season Friday night, with a go against the Lakeview Chiefs in San Angelo.

This will be the first game of the season to be played at San Angelo, and a large crowd of football fans is expected to fill the stands.

After three weeks of intensive training, the Blizzards will be in tip - top shape for this initial encounter, Coach L. G. Wilson said. Training injuries have been held to a minimum, and those injuries have been of minor nature also, he said, and it is expected that no player will be out of the lineup because of injury.

This will be the first game Winters has had with Lakeview for the last two or three years. In previous years, the Chiefs have always been a worthy opponent, and this year will be no exception. Under head mentor Jerry Sessums, who has been on the coaching staff at Lakeview for several years, the Chiefs will probably present a heavy passing attack and a strong defense. They will be out to knock over the state favorite Blizzards.

For this pre-conference game, and also for the other three pre-conference games, senior lettermen will act as game captians. Game Captains at San Angelo will be Larry Awalt, Darrell Colburn and Mike Patterson.

A shifting line, adaptable to the form of attack to be used on each play, will be something new for this year, Coach Wilson indicated. Instead of referring to linemen as "left" and "right," they will be called the "quick" and the "strong" sides of the line. Individuals will shift to positions according to the play being run, sometimes appearing on the right side of the line, and sometimes on the left side. This is for offense attack.

PROBABLE LINEUP

Offense

Quick End: J. C. Riddle or Kenny Davis
Quick Tackle: Roger O' Neal
Quick Guard: Mike Patterson
Center: Johnny Mathis
Strong Guard: Bob Foster
Strong Tackle: Hank McCreight
Strong End: Chester Puckett
Quarterback: Denny Aldridge
Halfback: Van Spill
Wingback: Jimmy Adams
Fullback: Larry Awalt

Defense

Tackles: Richard Shade, Roger O'Neal
Ends: Patterson, Mathis
Inside LB: Bo Killough, Colburn
OutsideLB: Larry Awalt, C. Puckett
Halfback: Richard Puckett, Jimmy Adams
Safety: Aldridge

AROUND THE 5-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

The eyes of District 5-AA, along with the eyes of most state Double A fans and fanciers, will be on the Winters Blizzards this Friday night as they open the season against the Lakeview Chiefs in San Angelo.

Balanced on the top of the totem pole, the Blizzards are in a defending position this first game, and for subsequent games. When you're on top, the underdogs keep biting at you. There is not a single team around which would not give their shoulder pads to knock Winters off the perch. For that reason, the Big Blue will be battling not only the team of the night, but a natural impulse to "beat the leader."

But this vulnerable position does not seem to bother the Blizzards too much — witness the scrimmage against Cisco Cisco last Friday night. In that scrimmage the Blues showed they have what it takes to wear the crown — and without injuries or other mishaps — stand a good chance of adding a few glittering stones again this season.

Around the circuit, the Mason Punchers, who will visit Winters next week, come out of the chutes against the Sonora Broncos Friday night. They're reported to be in fine shape for the pre-conference tilt, following a scrimmage against Marble Falls last week.

Down at Brady, the old start-of-the-season lullaby is being sung. Coach K. Y. Owens went before a Lions Club gathering to moan about the lack of readiness on the part of the Bulldogs. "Physically ready, but not yet mentally ready," was his description following their scrimmage aginst 5-AA's Anson. This is a universal attitude on the part of many coaches — and you can bet your ticket stub the Bulldogs will be ready when they come to Winters for the third game of the season.

At another Lions Club meeting, Coach D. C. Andrews gave a rundown on the Pied Pipers. They scrimmaged Clyde last week, with a good showing, and Andrews said that with "their limited size and abundance of good pass receivers" he expected to pass a lot this year. He did not expect to "win all of the games, but hoped they did not lose all of them either." Cautious — and loaded with danger sometimes.

In the Jones County town of Anson, things are looking good for the Tigers. They have "discovered" they are progressing nicely in preparation for the opening of the regular season. A two touchdown tie with visiting Brady in pre-season scrimmage "demonstrated the Tigers are mastering their offensive assignments faster than those of defense, but coaches expect the defense to develop in due time." A passing machine is anticipated as the season ages.

Headlines in The Albany News last week stated "Lions Pointing to Olney Game." That's the first game for the Albany boys for this season, and against a Double AA team. (Blizzard fans may remember Olney.) The Lions, a team to take State honors in Single A, will meet Winters on Sept. 25.

There's been very little word from the other four 5 - AA teams — Stamford, Ballinger, Haskell and Colorado City. Ballinger has been listed at the top with Winters, and Stamford will be a strong opponent this season. Nothing is known at this time of the Haskell Indians. As "Texas Football" said recently, "In such a district (as 5-AA) there will be plenty of room for spoilers, a role Haskell will seek to play with distinction."

Colorado City, in AAA last year, dropping to AA this year, has a "loaded boat," to quote some observers. There may be a tendency to overlook C-C, because they are new in the "Little Southwest Conference" — therefore, they will be dangerous. Tendency on the part of fans, not coaching staffs, of course.

The first post-game meeting of the Winters Booster Club will be held in the City Hall Monday evening at 7:30, Wade White, recently elected president of the organization, said this week.

White was elected to head the booster group at a meeting last Monday evening. Others elected include James Gehrels, secretary-treasurer; and Ellis Zane Moore, Hal Dry and J. A. Henderson Jr., steering committee.

Roger Babson Says—

1933 Ten Dollar Gold Coin Now Worth $1,000 Because of Rarity

Babson Park, Mass. In 1933 we had gold coins and gold certificates, and silver coins and silver certificates. And we had gold clause bonds and securities — Payable in gold coins of the United States of the present standard of weight and fineness. You couldn't inflate that money. Deferred payments such as pensions and insurance moneys, were secure under the monetary system. But as the great depression of the 1930's came on, France and some other European countries began liquidating their claims on our gold reserve. Those claims were substantial, but not critical as they are today.

GOLD AND SILVER ACTS

At any rate this gold outflow and other factors induced Congress to approve the 1934 Gold Reserve Act. Under this Act, the government called in and melted down the gold coinage of those years. Those who held out can now sell each of their 1932 twenty-dollar gold pieces for $775 (their 1933 ten-dollar coins for $1,000, and their 1929 two-dollar gold pieces for $600 — because of their rarity, not because of their gold content). Never this certainly was not the intention of the men who sponsored this legislation. The Gold Reserve Act of 1934 also included provisions for the devaluation of the dollar in terms of gold to about 60 per cent of its former worth, and at the same time it provided that henceforth no U. S. currency would be redeemable in gold.

The year 1934 also brought approval of the Silver Purchase Act, which in a few years had brought into the Treasury the largest hoard of silver the world has ever known. But by 1961 this huge surplus had dwindled to where little remained except that backing our one-dollar and two dollar silver certificates.

Hence, at the end of November 1961 the sale of surplus silver was discontinued, and shortly after authority was given for the eventual retirement of all silver certificates.

The subsequent rise of 29 cents per ounce in the price of silver brought Gresham's law into the play; under this law the most valuable coins tend to be driven out of circulation. This happened in short order to the silver dollar, though an effort is now to be made to put 45 million of new-minted dollars into circulation.

COIN COLLECTING

Another result has been, as mentioned in an earlier release, the spurring on of the coin speculators or "collectors." Within a matter of a few months early in 1962 coin collecting mushroomed into the category of big business. Unquestionably the spectacular operations of these collectors drove the 90,000,000 or so Kennedy half-dollars out of circulation, apparently at the bank teller's window. Dealers, however, have been offering them at the prices as high as $1.75-$2 apiece.

Furthermore, since late 1962 nickels have gone up 66 per cent (an event last summer a $2 face value roll now selling for about $1,000. Likewise some newspapers have been carrying ads offering $2 apiece for circulated no mint mark 1960 and 1961 half dollars which by the way were issued in amounts ranging from 1,790,928 to 3,908,-814. But even if one allows an average of 500 coins to each of the approximately 4,000,000 collectors — and there aren't 20,000 to each of the nations estimated 5,000 dealers, this would still account for only about 4 billion coins, while on the other hand, mint output in the past 15 years (estimated life of a coin in circulation) has amounted to over 11 billion coins.

MORE ON THIS LATER

So, it is obvious that some measure of hoarding is involved in the present massive coin shortage, especially since collectors work only on low - issue category coins, and all issues appear to be involved in the present difficulties.

This situation has led some of our so-called experts to suggest that our whole concept of a redeemable paper currency is outmoded. The trouble with the idea, it seems to me, is that a government can print an unbacked currency in any quantity it desires. But, at the same time, it cannot — under a free society — maintain any real control over its value in the marketplace. I will cover it other changes in a later article.

TOYS NEEDED

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER:

Anti-Poverty Boondoggle Being Worked

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

A welfare Anti - Poverty boondoggle that has been going on for three years has been the ARA. Under it 2842 projects have been approved. Last week the government's General Accounting Office released a report of a study it had made of the ARA's doings.

Of the 190 projects GAO investigated, it found ARA in selling the program to Congress had estimated these particular projects would create 21,814 man-months of work, whereas actually only 9553 man-months were worked — an overestimate by 128 per cent. The last appropriation to finance this depression-type program amounted to $900 million.

Now ARA is back on Capitol Hill asking for more to use in the fight against poverty. Already approved by the Senate, the bill is now pending before the House Rules Committee.

Still another pending "anti - poverty" bill has to do with 11 Eastern and Southern states, providing WPA-type projects for the mountains and foothills of the sprawling Appalachia area, costing $1 billion the first year.

Already enacted this year is a $400-million Food Stamp bill, an anti-poverty project for the needy, which some estimate may cost more than a billion a year when it gets going good.

Thus, we have four "anti-poverty" programs in a row — the billion - dollar "anti - poverty" package, recently approved; the ARA extension; the Food Stamp, and the Appalachia deal. Lumped together, these would cost upwards of $3 billion the first year.

Added to the other 42 "anti - poverty" programs that have accumulated through the years, the total cost of all of them will approximate $35 billion a year. And it is the history of such welfare programs that once begun they have a way of expanding and costing more each year thereafter.

State Capital Highlights—

Presidential Campaign Being Mapped In Austin By Johnson

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Initial post - convention plans and strategy mapped by President Johnson for the November general election campaign will bear a "made in Texas"label. "Made In Austin, Texas" would be more specific, for much of it will originate here.

The President, his nomination as the Democratic party's standard bearer secured, hurried to his ranch to rest up and do some thinking.

His visit attracted greater interest than any since his first as president, during the Christmas - New Year season.

With Vice President Nominee Hubert Humphrey as his guest, at the ranch, private talks inevitably turned to the battles ahead.

Gillispie County Democrats welcomed the President back to his home county with a Hill Country-style birthday celebration and barbecue two days after his 56th birthday.

OPERATION MOTORCIDE

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., the head of the State Department of Public Safety, announced that "Operation Motorcide", the grim tabulation of Labor Day week end traffic deaths as they occur, will go ito effect Saturday (Sept. 5) at 12:01 a. m.

Garrison said his department estimates 36 persons will be killed on streets and highways during the 72 hours from the beginning of "Operation Motorcide" to 11:59 p. m. Monday.

But he said the prediction will not come true if ALL drivers make certain both themselves and their vehicles are in excellent condition, and if they use "caution, courtesy and good sense" at all times while at the wheel.

EDUCATION REPORT BEATS DEADLINE

Gov. John Connally's Committee on Education Beyond the High School has completed its report and recommendations for excellence in Texas colleges and universities.

The 64-page report, recommending doubling of higher education expenditures within the decade and placing of all institutions under a strong coordinating board, has been delivered to the governor.

REDISTRICTING HEARINGS

Hearings conducted by a Texas Legislative Council committee will wind up here next month.

Meetings already have been held in Ft. Worth, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Lubbock and Tyler.

Committee chairman, Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe, said the group has "many suggestions" for redistricting.

It's big job now is to mold them together and come up with a reasonable plan or set of plans for legislative consideration, thus carving the state into 23 congressional districts as nearly as possible equal in population.

CONSTRUCTION PEAK HIT

Texas construction reached a 35 month peak during July.

It was the greatest building month of the year and second highest month in nearly 18 years of records compiled by The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

A whopping $140,600,000 of the building was authorized in July. It represented a 21 per cent increase over June.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Department of Commerce reported the average income of Texans rose last year from $1,973 to $2,068.

BUS FARE HEARING SET

Hearings on a request from 31 bus lines to raise their intrastate passenger fares by 10 per cent were set for September 19 by the State Railroad Commission. Motor bus express and C. O.D. charter coach services also seek an increase.

The lines, including major carriers, maintain they have had sharp cost increases in their operations since 1961, when fares were raised five per cent.

YOUTH COUNCIL ASKS INCREASE

The Texas Youth Council — administrator of Gatesville and Gainsville schools for delinquent youths and of juvenile parole programs — told examiners of Governor Connally's and the Legislative Budget Boards' offices it needs to raise its biennial budget by $6,200,000 to $18,300,000 for fiscal 1966-67.

Council's director, Dr. James A. Turman, warned that the youth-reform systems would be set back to the difficult days of 1957 unless the State Legislature approves a sound, long - range program of care and construction.

In addition to $3,400,000 for construction at Gatesville, Crockett and Gainesville schools for juvenile offenders, the Council proposed establishment of a $1,388,367 home for dependent, neglected and orphan children, (but did not suggest a location). This because the State orphans homes at Waco and Corsicana are crowded to capacity and expansion at those sites was not deemed practical.

OIL FIGHT

Independent oilmen from the East Texas Field took on major companies at a Railroad Commission hearing at which a proposal was made by Atlantic Refining Co. to give additional allowable to wells in that giant oil field. The Wells now have allowables on a per-well basis only, and Atlantic wants to add production based on acreage.

Small operators, conceding it would increase their allowables, too, fear that if the Atlantic plan were adopted, it would open the door to a court review of the field rules, which could easily result in wiping out the allowables of wells drilled on tiny two-lot tracts.

But the hearing also brought out a major inequity, and court action could come on that. A well capable of making only 19 barrels is exempt from shutdowns days under a state law, so it can produce 30 days a month. But a well making 20 barrels a day is limited to about eight days' production a month. So the poorer wells get to produce more oil than the better wells.

DRAFT DODGE CARRIES PENALTY

Noting that an estimated 6,000 to 8,000 18 - year - old men have not conformed with the draft registration law, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Director of Selective Service, issued a reminder that 18 - year - olds who wait more than five days after their 18th birthday to register with local board are subject to penalty.

Maximum penalty for failure to comply with the draft law, Schwartz said, is five years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both.

WATER NEWS

Latest word on construction of the $64,000,000 Amistad Dam on the Rio Grande and the Devil's River is that bids will be opened by U. S. and Mexican authorities working jointly on the project on November 6.

Both countries have been busy re-routing roads and railroad lines in the vicinity of the proposed dam to make way for the construction.

Texas Water Commission will hold a hearing on the Colorado River Municipal Water Authority's application to build a dam at Robert Lee on the Colorado River on Ocotober 19 at 10 a. m.

Commission gave the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority the permission to build a low - water dam near the mouth of the Guadalupe River in Calhoun County. The dam will have a rubber top, so it can be deflated when river flows are high — if that day ever comes again.

Continuing its "clean - up" of unused water rights in Texas, the Water Commission this week cancelled out reduced water rights in Kimble, Mills and Coleman Counties which dated back as far as 1904.

NEWSPAPERS MUST WAIT

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has ruled that the State Treasurer can put cost of publishing the names of persons having money coming to them through insurance policies or annuities "on the cuff" and pay the newspaper later, as money accrues to a special state trust fund.

Advertising costs under the insurance escheat provision cannot be paid from the treasurer's own general appropriation, the opinion continued.

DROP-OUTS CRITICAL

Measuring the cost to the nation's economy of some 900,000 school drop-outs each year by the dollar, Col. S. Perry Brown chairman of the Texas Employment Commission, said it adds up to millions of dollars each year.

Then he warned, "If effective action is not taken, I submit that we will pay ten-fold in retraining, as well as unemployment insurance, welfare costs, and other forms of dependency. Yet the greatest loss both economically and socially will be in wasted human resources."

SHORT SNORTS

State Highway Department will open bids for construction of a new district office building at Brownwood on September 17. November 25 through January 3 is the date for the open season on ducks and coot set by the Parks and Wildlife Commission.. . . . Agriculture Commissioner John C. White granted cotton farmers in Hidalgo, Star, Cameron and Willacy Counties a 12-day extension of the plow-up deadline — until midnight, September 12 . . . . .Highway Department reports that motor vehicle registrations in Texas rose about 61 per cent over the past 10 years, with passenger cars and commercial trucks setting the pace, while marked decreases were shown in farm-truck and city-bus registration . . . . Jan Kornegay, Robert Lee Crockett Recite Marriage Vows in El Paso

In a candlelight ceremony at the Montana Street Church of Christ in El Paso, Friday August 28, Jan Kornegay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Newton Kornegay of El Paso, and Robert Lee Crockett, recited marriage vows. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben V. Crockett Jr. of El Paso.

Lawrence L. Smith, minister of Abilene and uncle of the bride officiated for the double ring ceremony. Baskets of ivory roses and emerald foliage flanked by candelabra holding ivory tapers adorned the altar.

Traditional wedding music was by an a capella chorus.

Lee Ann Smith of Abilene, a cousin of the bride was the flower girl. Maid of honor was Glenda Heist and bridesmaids were Beverly Baker of Lubbock, Ginger Gardner of Winters and Luci Newton of Lubbock.

They wore identical formal gowns of peppermint green organza over taffeta styled with figurine bodices, bell shaped skirts and matching headdresses. They carried nosegays of Talisman roses. The flower girl wore a pale pink organza gown.

John Harper of Galveston was the best man. Groomsmen were Roland Watts of Del Rio, Charles Casey of Houston and Glenn McCain. George Reese of Odessa seated the guests.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal sheath gown of candlelight peau de soie fashioned with fitted bodice and portrait neckline. Re-embroidered Alencon lace trimmed the bodice and a band of lace outlined the chapel length train. Her tierred veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a Swedish crown of lace and pearls. Her bridal bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by roses and stephanotis.

A reception was held at the South Mezzanine of the Hotel Cortez following the wedding.

Mrs. Charles Ludwick, sister of the bride, was seated at the bride's book.

Other members of the house party were Mesdames John Gardner of Winters, Joe Jackson, Roy Mack of Abilene, Max Lewis of Winters, Herschel Christian, G. B. Wadzeck of San Angelo, C. J. Bennett, Horace Stovall, C. T. Ramsey, Earl Hernsberger, Jackson Howell, Floyd Merritt, C. C. OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

Take a small Gulf Coast fishing village rich in historical lore with boasting miles and miles of attractive public beaches, the magic lure of the open sea, and an abundance of year - round sunshine, combine these with an area population fired with unbounded enthusiasm — and what do you have?

You have Brazosport, Texas, U. S. A. — an industrial vacation playland on the Texas gulf coast.

Brazosport is no single town. It is an area composed of Freeport, Lake Jackson, Clute, Lake Barbara and Richwood, plus residential areas of Jones Creek, Oyster Creek, Surfside Gulf Park and historic Quintana, which are drawn together by a giant industrial complex and many luring attractions provided by nature.

It also is a dream! In fact it is many individual dreams fostered by enthusiasm and the push of several gifted individuals and interwoven into one giant dream designed to improve, build and create a large, more attractive area. But here in the Brazosport area a dream is coming true!

Brazosport did not develop into what it is today without hard work and the vision of individuals combined with the enthusiasm and belief of an area people. They know what they had to offer both industry and pleasure-seeking visitors.

Stephen F. Austin landed his first Texas colonists at Quintana in 1822. Since that date people have converged on the area to settle and enjoy vacation visits.

Commerce became a vital artery in the life - blood of Brazosport in 1924 when Mexico recognized Quintana as the Port of Entry. Since then boats have plied the mighty Brazos River, the Intracoastal Canal and the open sea, joining inland Texas to the ports of the world. Over the years industry located there to take advantage of the natural transportation facility. Today, the new, modern facilities of Brazos Harbor accomodate the largest ships afloat.

Brazoria County is rich in Texas history. Texas' first capitol was built in West Columbia in 1836. In the same year, Gen. Santa Anna signed the Treaties of Texas at Velasco, four years after the famous "Battle of Velasco."

Today Brazosport is a bustling, dynamic area comprising industry, shipping and the varied attractions of the Gulf. It provides excellent river, bay and deep sea fishing, swimming, boating, skiing and beach campouts.

Industrial giants include the Texas Division of the Dow Chemical Company, whose two plants employ some 5,500 persons; Phillips Petroleum Company's Sweeny refinery; E. J. Lavino and Company; and Nalco Chemical Company. In 1960 these giants were joined by the U. S. Office of the Saline Water's first demonstration plant to produce fresh water from the sea water.

Deep sea fishing off Brazosport is indeed as "fabulous" as described by the Chamber of Commerce.

It knows no "season." Party boat fishing fleets — provided by such concerns as Raymond Muchowich's Party Boats, Inc., and Crosby's Party Boats — operate the year - round. Deep sea catches of red snapper, the taking of King Mackerel in the bays, and the thrill of landing the Brazos River's flashing tarpon have spread the fame of the area around the globe.

Coastal housing developments are providing more interest in the area "living quarters." The Bridge Harbor Marina, a new $1,000,000 development, furnishes the utmost in marine service and luxurious channel-side homes!

South of Freeport is Bryan Beach Development offering sea homes on an intricate canal and lake system which has been described by Texas Parade magazine as "An American Venice."

Far to the north of Freeport, at San Luis pass, the Treasure Land Development Corporation has opened a vast area of homes and beach to sea-lovers.

If all of this is the present, what is left for the future?

More development is the answer — thanks to an enlightened and enthusiastic public.

Soon to be started — within the next two years — will be a mammoth steel bridge spanning San Luis Pass. It will join Galveston County and Brazoria County.

Galveston County will erect the huge structure as a toll bridge. Brazoria County residents will meet their half of the obligation by voting a bond issue to build a 14-mile hard - top road connecting Brazosport with the bridge.

When completed, this road and bridge network will provide a straight-shoot access from Houston and Galveston to the entire Brazosport area. It will cut some 35 miles off the present access route and follow the shoreline.

Planners look toward tomorrow as they build their "dream" of a greater and greater Brazosport. But they never close their eyes to today's obligation of providing visitors with the best in fun, frolic, fishing and festival activities.

Don't cuss the climate. It probably doesn't like you any more than you like it.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

When you get the short end of a deal you may feel inclined to claim mistake or fraud to get out of the contract.

But courts are not inclined to correct your business mistakes unless they also find serious injustices. For to charge the other party with fraud is serious since fraud is a crime as well as a civil cause of action.

Our courts, therefore, demand more proof than usual in civil cases where one sues to get out of a contract on the grounds of fraud.

Suppose Smith and Black agree to do something in clear language, but Smith does not grasp the terms of a plain contract. This failure of Smith will not void the contract and our courts will enforce its terms.

Both parties often make the mistake which may void the deal. In one case Raffles agreed to buy and Smith to sell goods arriving on a ship named the "Peerless." But it just so happened that two steamers had the same name. Raffles and Smith had in mind different steamers. No contract. Why No meeting of the minds.

But to end such a contract both parties must make a mistake about something in the contract.

People often make oral agreements, and later write the term down. Suppose they make a mistake in doing this. When they find such a mistake they can go into court and have the contract reformed.

To induce the other party to agree through fraud makes the contract void. For a court to act in a fraud case one must prove five things;

1. A false representation;
2. The speaker's knowledge of its falsity;
3. His intention to mislead the other party;
4. The other's innocent reliance on the statement; and
5. Damage resulting from the deception.

Unless everyone of these elements are proved, there is no legal fraud.

Except for guardians and others in positions of great trust, the law assumes that persons deal at arms length and have equal ability to protect themselves. The law, in short, expects you to use your head in checking out claims and facts. This goes to the ancient Roman principle: Caveat Emptor (let the buyer beware). The law expects you to look into the claims of the other party, and not to agree to any old paper shoved under your nose as a "standard" contract.

MRS. CHARLES SIMPSON

Lynann Kruse, Charles Simpson Wed At St. John's Lutheran Church Sat.

Marriage vows were repeated at the St. John's Lutheran Church Saturday at 7:30 in the evening, uniting Lynann Kruse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Kruse Jr. and Charles Edmund Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Simpson.

The Rev. A. W. Holck, pastor of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony before the chancel outlined with garlands of greenery. At each supporting column a votive candle nestled in an arrangement of miniature mums from which trailed white satin ribbon tied in love knots. Spiral candelabra of Swedish steel entwined with greenery and snow white miniature mums, supported a multitude of cathedral tapers. The organ arrangement featured white carnations.

Miss Emma Henniger of Ballinger, organist, accompanied Miss Marion Burrow to sing "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Candlelighters were Linda June Schroeder, cousin of the bride and Charles Hayes Adami, cousin of the bride, from Seagraves. Flower girl was Karen Joy Simpson, sister of the groom and ring bearer was Gregory James Kruse of Monahans, nephew of the bride.

Billy Jacob of Norman, Oklahoma, cousin of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were James C. Kruse of Norman, Oklahoma, brother of the bride, Donald Louis Simpson, brother of the groom, Sam Tubbs, W. C. Gilbert and John Jackson. Ushers were Paul Michaelis and James Schroeder, both cousins of the bride.

Maid of honor was Marta Davidson and bridesmaids were Mrs. James C. Kruse of Monahans, sister-in-law of the bride, Helen Simpson, sister of the groom, Mrs. Vernon Smith of Big Lake, Mrs. Weldon Hogan of Denton and Marcene Mathis.

The bride's attendants wore identical dresses of red chromespun taffeta fashioned with scoop necklines, fitted bodices and A-line skirts. Their hats were of matching red net with tiny bows dotting the halo brims. Each wore white gloves and carried a long stem white carnation.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a gown of pure silk organza over bouquett taffeta, fashioned with a scoop neckline enhanced with Alencon lace embroidered with pearls and sequins. The bouffant skirt had garlands of motiffs enriched with pearls and sequins cascading down the front and a softly draped bow at the back topped the chapel train. Her butterfly veil of imported pure silk illusion fell from a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white orchid surrounded by feathered carnations atop the Goal Diggers satin covered Bible.

A reception was held in the church parlor hosted by the bride's parents.

The refreshment table, laid in white net over taffeta, was caught at vantage points with red cabbage roses. The four - tierred cake was topped with white wedding bells and surrounded by various wedding motifs and the floral arrangement of red carnations nestled among the miniature mums. Appointments were of silver and crystal.

Serving at the table were Mesdames Walter Kruse, B. T. Gardner, J. P. Davidson, Hayes Barker, Erwin Ueckert, Pete Wessels, O. C. Adami, Misses Nancy Carpenter, Carol Stolle, and Nancy Tomes. Other members of the house party were Mesdames Ellis Ueckert, Charlie Adami, Bill Simpson, Herman Frick, Ervin Schroeder and Bill Miller.

For traveling on her wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the bride changed to a red Saran Boucle two-piece suit with black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Winters High School with the class of 1962. She attended Texas Lutheran College her freshman year and the past year she attended San Angelo College. She will enter Texas A and M University as an education major at the beginning of the fall term.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Norton High School with the class of 1958, and attended the Texas Lutheran College his freshman year. As a sophomore he attended Texas A and M University and is working on his Masters Degree in Cytology and Plant Breeding. He will continue study on a PhD.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson will make their home at Texas A and M University, College Station.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents and was held in the church parlor.
