Uneasy Quiet Restored In Troubled Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio AP) — Police — backed by National Guardsmen carrying bayoneted rifles — restored an uneasy order in Cincinnati Negro neighborhoods today after hit-and-run gangs caused more than $1 million damages in two nights of rioting.

Two major fires burned an estimated $800,000 at a warehouse and laundry early today.

In apparent unorganized riots, gangs of Negro youths struck in widely spread communities — looting, setting fires, harassing police and firemen.

City officials still had not been able to pinpoint the cause of the rioting. No particular unrest had been reported before rioting erupted Monday night.

Shortly before order was restored, Police Chief Jacob Schott said "huge bands of marauders" were hitting in almost every direction in predominantly Negro areas.

Mayor Walton Bachrach said a restive peace returned to qriot areas early Wednesday.

Bachrach said the 800 Guardsmen on-scene "will stay here as long as we have to use them to maintain law and order."

Merchants and residents of the areas where vandals and looters struck began cleaning stores and streets shortly after dawn. They had remained behind closed doors during the fitful night.

Damages to stores, autos and anything rioters could destroy will not be totaled for weeks, police said.

As the Guardsmen blocked off the area, fire destroyed the block-long Modern Laundry and Dry Cleaning Co. building in Walnut Hills section. Police said a gasoline bomb apparently started the blaze.

A short time earlier fire demolished the Seybold Paper Co. warehouse.

Firemen responded to about 100 fires during the night, and at most of them the firefighters were pelted with stones. Guardsmen kept spectators and others at a distance to give firemen a free hand in fighting the laundry blaze.

Police announced this morning that all bars and taverns and "all other liquor establishments" had been ordered closed in a wide area of the northeast section of the city.

Other than the two fires, police reported a relative quite morning. The guardsmen — bayonets and machine guns ready and police continued patrolling the streets.

The city's second straight night of violence occurred in predominantly Negro areas as much as six miles apart.

Police said more than 20 persons were arrested, 22 injured — including three policemen and four firemen — and untold damage done Tuesday night.

Through the early morning hours there were scattered reports of fires, fighting and looting, but they dwindled after guardsmen moved in. By 4:30 a.m. the trouble spots were reported quiet.

Earlier police feared the situation would get out of hand.

"Huge bands of marauders are attacking anything and everything," Police Chief Jacob Schott said. He said his 800 men were unable to cope with the quick-moving, hit-and-run rioters in widely scattered areas.

As the violence continued into predawn hours, police had gained control of the Avondale area, where the trouble started Monday and Tuesday nights.

Moving about in autos and in gangs on foot, the rioters swept into outlying areas.

Also present to "see Brenda off" are, from left to right, Verna Webb, senior vice president of the Auxiliary; Millie Tutor, president of the Auxilary; and, Brenda's mother, Mrs. Featherston. Girls State is similar to Boys State in that students from across the state will be learning more about American government at all levels.

New School Budget Cleared For Hearing

Snyder School Trustees last night cleared a $4,057,633 budget proposal for public hearing.

The budget is a record for the district, but includes a double payment on bonded indebtedness to put the interest and sinking fund account on a current basis for the first time since a bond issue was sold 10 years ago. Thus, the interest and sinking fund in the 1967-68 budget will require $1,392,154.

The 1957 bond issue was sold before the tax funds of that year became available, setting a pattern which put the school district in financial stress. Standard Oil Company of Texas, representing SACROC, stepped in and paid ahead of schedule enough taxes to take care of the obligation.

The double payment by the school this year will make it unnecessary for the district to depend on an early tax payment next year. Standard had indicated that in view of valuation adjustments made by the district several months ago that it felt the district should be able to take care of the interest and sinking fund requirements on schedule hereafter.

After this year, the interest and sinking fund requirements will revert to the former schedule and even that is temporary. In 1970-71 it will drop to $346,000 and thereafter for an eight-year period will be $16,000 per year.

The budget hearing will be held June 22. Final adoption of the budget is set for the August meeting of the board and at that time the tax rate will be set.

The board took under advisement some proposed changes in lunch room service which evolved from an evaluation study made several weeks ago.

Also taken under study was a proposal for new street markings and warning devices in school zones. Gene Merrifield, manager of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, Floyd Boston, chairman of the Chamber's Highway Committee, and Ottis Boyd, president of the Lamar Junior High P-TA, made a proposal to the board. They noted that complaints over poorly marked school zones and 15 mph limits for excessive periods of time had become numerous.

Merrifield showed illustrations of a system of flashing light warnings which included signs that would vary speed limits with the clock. During school pupil traffic hours it would signal a low limit, but at other hours it would permit usual city speeds. Merrifield said considerable study had been given to the proposed system and the Chamber of Commerce was trying to coordinate the efforts of various agencies and organizations in making a specific proposal. It was estimated that 11 of the signals and signs would take care of problem areas and these, including installation, would cost about $5,000. The city would install and maintain the devices, Merrifield said.

The board indicated that it would study the proposal between now and its July meeting.

In other action the board approved participation in the school lunch and milk program, voted to transfer title of one

Lake Thomas Still Catching Some Water

Lake J. B. Thomas was still reaping a harvest from Monday rains this morning.

The lake's elevation stood at 2242.43 shortly before 9 a.m. today, representing a gain of 2.42 feet since Monday morning. A modest inflow continued this morning at the rate of about .02 foot per hour. This was expected to subside during the day, however.

ATTACK IN NIGHT

Reds Overrun Mekong Hamlet

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — Communist guerrillas swarmed through a small Mekong Delta hamlet before dawn today, killing or wounding perhaps 80 Vietnamese civilians and militiamen.

The attack was one of several deep in the delta near Can Tho during the night. They occurred near the Cambodian border in an area where the Viet Cong control vast areas of the countryside by night.

Ground action was light outside the delta, the U.S. Command reported. In the air war against North Vietnam, U.S. pilots reported six more MIGs probably destroyed on the ground in the ninth attack on the Kep air base north of Hanoi and widespread destruction to supply lines extending from Hanoi and Haiphong.

The heavy Viet Cong attack in the delta fell on two adjoining hamlets 110 miles southwest of Saigon. While one was being raked by mortar fire, perhaps as a diversion, guerrillas smashed into the other.

A company of about 120 militia defended the second village. They hastily called for artillery support and for the U.S. Dragon Ship planes that nightly circle the delta to provide flares and Gatling gun support for embattled outposts.

A Vietnamese spokesman said 19 civilians were killed, 41 were wounded and the militia suffered heavy casualties, a term that means at least 20 were killed or wounded.

More guerrillas hit a South Vietnamese training center at Tan An, about 25 miles away. Once again Dragon Ships dropped flares and strafed the attackers with Gatling guns, and the attack was beaten off.

The U.S. Command reported the Dragon Ships were called out 24 times during the night, mostly against Viet Cong probes in the delta.

Elsewhere, there was some fighting in the central highlands around Pleiku and more action in the 1st Corps area below the 17th Parellel dividing Vietnam.

The fighting around Pleiku cost one U.S. Air Force Supersabre jet which dove into the ground, probably after being hit by guerrilla fire. The pilot was killed. It was the 185th combat plane downed by hostile action in South Vietnam.

Fireworks Is Set For 4th

Plans for an expanded fireworks display here on Independence Day were completed last night at a meeting of Chamber of Commerce directors.

The Chamber board approved expenditures for the display, which includes a guaranteed 30-minute show and which will have more events than ever presented here before in such a display

The fireworks display climaxes the community July 4th celebration each year in Towle Memorial Park.

The Chamber board also approved required insurance for flyovers of military planes during the Independence Day celebration. Progress reports on several other committe eprojects also were heard.

Senate Gets Funds Bill

WASHINGTON AP) — History's biggest appropriation bill, a $70.3-billion Defense Department measure, went to the Senate today described as a House expression of all-out support for the U.S. military effort in Vietnam.

It cleared the House late Tuesday 407 to 1 after predictions the $20.3 billion it earmarked for the Vietnam war wouldn't be enough and amid demands for stepped-up Vietnam military operations.

The money, added to $43.7 billion available from previous bills, would finance Defense Department activities for the fiscal year starting July 1.

It was the largest money bill ever brought before Congress.

Loot From 20 Burglaries Is Recovered

Sheriff's authorities have recovered over $1,000 in merchandise taken in some 20 burglaries that occurred here over the past several months and have hopes of solving the crimes.

Specific charges of burglary were filed in Justice of the Peace Court Tuesday against Tommy McKinley for allegedly taking items from the McDow Home and Appliance Co., 2407 Avenue R, earlier this month.

A similar charge was filed against James Crosson Saturday for an offense that occurred June 8. He allegedly took meat from a freezer at the Charlie Yoast residence.

Crosson was released from jail after posting $1,500 bond, and McKinley was released on $1,000 bond.

A charge also has been filed against Jerry Evans for allegedly burglarizing the Boot Hill Garage on the Old Lubbock Highway. The offense occurred May 3. Bond has not been set in the case against Evans.

Red Cross Plans Aid For Victims

Red Cross assistance will be available for local residents who suffered losses as a result of the flood here Monday, according to Sherman Fant, a retired Army officer and Red Cross field representative from Midland.

He was in Snyder Tuesday conferring with Sis Jones, local Red Cross director, about plans for relief to stricken families.

Meanwhile, William J. Schiebel, coordinator for the Community Action Program here, had completed a preliminary survey of losses to business firms and found that the total probably would amount to slightly more than $20,000.

"It looks like it is mostly a job of cleaning up," Schiebel said.

Losses at business firms, including damage to merchandise and fixtures, etc., ranged from a few hundred dollars to $5,000. One of the beaviest losses from a value standpoint was at Jay R. Huckabee Electronics Co. where the damage included some antique radios.

City Manager George Patterson said the Small Business Administration at Lubbock had asked for a report on business losses so that arrangements for assistance could be made if needed. Schiebel's report was to be submitted to the SBA.

A preliminary survey conducted by Fant and local Red Cross workers indicates that some 24 families will be eligible for assistance. This includes damage to furnishings, personal effects, etc., from high water.

"I placed a call to St. Louis Tuesday," said Fant, "and received word that a field case worker is on the way to Snyder."

Hazel Beasley, a case worker from the Red Cross office at San Angelo was due to arrive here at noon Wednesday. Assistance cases will be referred to her.

"There are about 20 families in the low section of south Snyder who lost household possessions in the flood," Fant said. "In addition, there are a few families near the Thirty-seventh Street bridge and out on the Old Post Oak Road who need help," he added.

The field representative stated that families receiveing assistance "will get what they need to return to a normal level of living." Such items as mattresses, clothing, food and other necessities will be provided free of charge to the recipient.

"We feel that the money for this service comes from local supporters of the Red Cross through the United Fund," Fant declared. He indicated that damage was not sufficiently extensive for Snyder to be declared a disaster area.

"In genuine disasters, the national organization would send work teams in to restore power, water and open roads and do things of that nature," Fant declared. "They would not provide direct assistance to individuals."

Mariner 5 To Take Look At Venus

By JIM STROTHMAN
AP Aerospace Writere

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. AP) — America's Mariner 5 spacecraft raced a heavier Soviet probe toward Venus today to penetrate with electronic fingers the planet's mysterious veil of clouds and help scientists see if Venus is a fit place to live.

The 540-pound Mariner 5, less than one-quarter the weight of the Soviet Union's Venus 4 craft launched two days earlier, rocketed from Cape Kennedy at 2:01 a.m. EDT today on the first U.S. venture to Venus since 1962 and this nation's first planetary probe in more than 2½ years.

Mariner's fiery Atlas-Agena booster rocket threaded an imaginary needle in space to send the windmill-shaped spacecraft toward its distant target 212 million miles away.

"We are going precisely where we expected to go," project officials reported after tracking the spacecraft for several hours. Mariner 5's flight path is well within the capability of an onboard motor to adjust its path later in the flight, they said.

'Spacecraft performance also appears to be very good," said Allen E. Wolfe, Mariner 5 system manager for the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Pasadena, Calfi., which oversees the Mariner 5 project.

Wolfe said experiments to study radiation in interplanetary space were turned on and the craft's four power-producing solar panels deployed. Guidance sensors aboard the $35-million Mariner 5 locked onto the sun for orientation as planned.

During a brief 26-minute encounter Oct. 19 when Mariner 5 is to pass within 2,000 miles of Venus, electronic fingers of high-frequency radio signals were to penetrate through dense Venusian clouds to study radiation levels and atmospheric temperatures, pressure and density.

These findings would be important to scientists trying to deduce whether Venus can support life.

No camera was aboard because of a weight limitation

Mariner scientists said they did not know whether the U.S. craft or the Soviet 2,438-pound Venus 4 would arrive at the planet first. The Soviets have announced only that Venus 4's trip will take about four months.

The Soviet Venus 3, which crash-landed on the planet in March 1966, was to send a sphere filled with experiments parachuting to the planet's surface. Details of Venus 4's mission plan have not been announced.

Experiments packed aboard Mariner 5 were to measure atomic hydrogen and atomic oxygen in the planet's upper atmosphere, from which a temperature profile can be calculated. Other spacecraft instruments were to further refine atmospheric temperatures, pressures and densities.

Arrest Made In Double Slaying

CHANDLER, Okla. (AP) — Ronald Thomas Koonce, 23, slight built and with a troubled past, has been charged with the bludgeon-stabbing of two young sisters.

Koonce, twice-married and the father of two, was held without bond today in the slayings of Betty McCullough, 24, and her sister, Mary Alice Valliquette, 16, at nearby Stroud Saturday night.

The bodies were discovered early Sunday when one of Mrs. McCullough's three children, who slept unharmed in an adjoining bedroom during the slaying, sought a neighbor's help, saying, "Something is wrong with mama. Will you come and see?"

The neighbor, Lloyd Howard, 50, a carpenter, was in the Lincoln County courthouse Tuesday on a related case.

His son, Marvin Dale Howard, 17, was the eldest of three teenagers charged as accessories. Others were Eddie Ferguson, 15, and James Edward Stubbs Jr., 15, charged as a juvenile.

"We'll probably amend the charges against the three young ones to accuse them of being accessories after the fact," said Dist. Atty. John Clifton.

Mrs. McCullough's husband, Sgt. Verle McCullough, has been on duty in Vietnam. He was expected home today.

Koonce, who moved back to Stroud a few weeks from Oklahoma City, had a police record.

"All I want to do is get it over with," he said after his arrest.

Howard and Ferguson were held on $5,000 bond each. Hearings for both were scheduled for July 11. Stubbs, charged as a juvenile, was placed in a juvenile detention home.

The three young defendants were charged with being accessories by virtue of aiding Koonce after the slaying "with knowledge that Koonce had committed the crime of murder."

The four were arrested just before noon Tuesday.

A pathologist's report disclosed that Mrs. McCullough, whose nude body was found in her bedroom, had been raped. Her young sister, whose pajama clad body was nearby, was not sexually molested.

Officers theorized the sisters were bludgeoned unconscious with a rifle stock, then stabbed repeatedly in their upper bodies after being rendered helpless.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a wife, married nine years, who takes the children to visit her mother in another state for two months every summer?

She arranges her trip so that the last two weeks fall when her husband gets his summer vacation. Then he has to drive to her mother's, spend his "vacation" there, and drive her and the kids back home.

ThennwHENNTHE HU TESB

Then when the husband tells her that while he was alone he went out a few times and had a couple of beers with the boys, she blows her top. How about this, Abby?

THE HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: The husband should register his complaints with his wife. And if she continues to leave him, he can't be blamed for relieving his loneliness and boredom with "the boys." If the wife is smart, she'll change her routine because there is always a chance the next time it could be with "the girls."

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law of 20 years standing has a friend who will soon celebrate her 25th wedding anniversary. This friend is having a party at her newly-built home.

Well, my sister-in-law asked me if I wanted to earn a little extra money by serving at this party. Abby, I have a very good secretarial job, own my own home, my own car, have no debts, and I am not in the slightest hard up for "extra money." I have never done waitress work in my life!

I know the anniversary couple socialy, having been invited to the homes of mutual friends. In fact, the anniversary couple have been guests in my home.

I was very much insulted and I let my sister-in-law know it. I haven't heard from her since. Was I wrong in feeling insulted?

NO WAITRESS

DEAR NO: If you honestly believe your sister-in-law wanted to insult you, then you had every right to feel insulted. You know your sister-in-law better than I do, so you'll have to be the judge of her motives.

DEAR ABBY: I've been going with Jimmy for two years. Jimmy's brother, Tom, is getting married tomorrow and Jimmy will be an usher in the wedding. I am very upset because I wasn't invited.

I know the family sort of well, and I always thought they liked me. Maybe I am all upset over nothing. If I am, please tell me. Do you think I should have received an invitation? Who does the inviting anyway?

Please answer soon as this has left me sleepless.

LEFT OUT

DEAR LEFT OUT: The bride and her family "does the inviting." But the groom and his family are allowed a certain number of guests also. If Jimmy had asked that you be sent an invitation, you probably would have received one. There is always the possibility that the number of guests had to be limited, or that the ushers had to "escort" the bridemaids, so perhaps Jimmy had a "duty" date. Ask him.

MRS. FREDERICK BENHARDT HEGI, JR.

Miss Vestal, Mr. Hegi Exchange Vows In Church Ceremony Here

The First Methodist Church of Snyder was the setting June 10 for the afternoon wedding of Miss Jan Vestal and Frederick Benhardt Hegi, Jr., both 1966 graduates of SMU.

Dr. John English and Rev. Gordon Smith of Seagraves officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William A. Vestal, 2901 Thirty - fifth Street, and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hegi of Tahoka.

The ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with a large basket of white glads flanked by candalabras with garlands of English ivy. The candlelighters were Jerry Vestal, brother of the bride, and John Vestal, the bride's cousin.

Mrs. Wendell Rehm, organist, presented a program of nuptual music and accompanied John D. Smith, soloist, who sang "I Love Thee," Grieg, and "O Lord Most Holy," Franck.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory organza gown with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The sleeveless lace Empire bodice featured a scalloped circlet neckline over a slim sheath organza skirt. The columinous organza coat-train of chapel length had short lace sleeves and fastened on the shoulders with a Dior bow.

Her mantilla of Belgium lace fell in soft folds across her shoulders and over the train. She carried a cascading bouquet of gardenias, Frenched mums and stephanotis.

Miss Beth Vestal served as maid of honor. Her gown was of coral linen with a molded empire bodice veiled at the waistline by a wide banding of Guipure lace. The squared neckline and A-shaped elbow length sleeves with lace banding were complimented by short wrist length gloves. The slim A-line skirt of back gathered fullness was floor length.

Bridesmaids were Marla Hays, San Antonia, Ruth Robertson, Lubbock, Louella Alford, Henderson, Oma Jean Goode, Mrs. Paul Kennedy, Mrs. William Lox and Mrs. John Hegi, all of Dallas.

Their dresses were identical to that of the maid of honor. Their head dresses were of coral illusion veiling attached to a standing bow. Each carried a basket of coral and white mums.

Ushers were Bill Clinton, Craig Leslie of Tahoka and Jerry Vestal, brother of the bride. Greg Smith, son of Rev. Smith, was ring bearer.

John Hegi of Dallas was his brother's best man. Serving as groomsmen were Bobby Wilson, Meridian, Jerry Mason, Hinsdale, Ill., Jim Shirk, Bloomington, Ill., Roger Simpson, Rapid City, S. D., and Bill Short, Mike Massad and Rob Francis, all of Dallas.

The bride's mother wore an aqua two-piece suit with matching accessories. The groom's mother chose a pink silk dress and matching accessories. Both wore corsages of pink Cymbidium orchids.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents were hosts for a reception in their home and garden. The bride's table was covered with a white linen and lace cloth and held a centerpiece of white daisies and mums. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with white satin bells.

Serving at the bride's table were Mary Brice and Cindy McCarty, Abilene. At the groom's table were Linda Knox, Crockett and Lissa Rogers, Dallas.

Emily Kincaid was seated at the bride's book while Mrs. Rehm provided a musical background of organ selections.

Out of town guests were from Arkadelphia, Ark., El Dorado, Ark., Oklahoma City, Okla., Waco, Dallas, Garnett, Kan., Tahoka, and Lubbock.

After a wedding trip to Guadaljara and Puerto Vallarta, Mex., the couple will reside for the summer in New York City before Mr. Hegi resumes his graduate work in Boston, Mass., in September.

Sugar Frosting Puts Sparkle On Tender Muffins

Special occasion dinners, luncheons or breakfasts demand a delightful hot bread as a crowning touch.

Muffins are easily mixed since all the dry ingredients go together in a large bow. Lard to make them tender is then cut in as for buscuits or pie crust. The egg and milk are added last with mixing only to blend.

This hot bread will bake with rounded tops if muffin cups are filled only two-thirds full. There will also be an attractive glaze as well as sparkle when the muffins are brushed before baking with an egg white-water mixture, sprinked with sugar.

Sugar Frost Muffins

2 cups sifted flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup brown sugar
1-3 cup lard.
2 eggs
¾ cup milk
¼ cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons water

Grease 12 medium muffin pans. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and nutmeg. Add brown sugar and mix well. Cut in lard until mixture has a fine even crumb. Beat 1 whole egg and 1 egg yolk, reserving 1 egg white for topping. Combine beaten egg and milk and add to dry ingredients, stirring only until blended. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full. Beat egg white, add 2 tablespoons water to egg white and brush over top of muffins. Sprinkle each muffin with 1 teaspoon granulated sugar. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. 12 muffins.

BRIDAL SHOWER — Miss Ruby Barton, bride-elect of Kenneth Venson of Gorman, Tex., was honored with a bridal shower in the fellowship hall of the Bethel Baptist Church. The couple will exchange wedding vows June 16 and plan to make their home in Abilene.

Supreme Court Unable To Discern Idealism, Realism

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sometimes the Supreme Court gets idealism and realism mixed up. It happened this week when it tightened the screws even further against police "bugging"—electronic eavesdropping—in criminal investigations.

The court threw out the bribery conviction of Ralph Berger, a Chicago public relations man. The decision was a tight fit, 5 to 4. It was a good example of how nine justices can look at the same problem and draw opposite conclusions.

The key in this case is how the Constitution's Fourth Amendment was interpreted.

That amendment says: "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrant shall be issued, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized."

With these constitutional requirements in mind, New York State passed a law which says police can bug if they get permission from a judge, provided they swear under oath there is "reasonable ground to believe that evidence of crime may be thus obtained."

Under this law police did their bugging in the Berger case and the state later admitted that without the eavesdropping a conviction could not have been obtained.

Before he retired Monday Justice Tom Clark wrote the majority opinion, throwing out Berger's conviction. Why? Clark gave various reasons. He found fault with the New York law which said a judge could permit bugging if the police gave him "reasonable ground" to believe it might unveil evidence of a crime.

Clark said this was too broad, too sweeping, that New York's "reasonable cause" phrase wasn't good enough since the Fourth Amendment talks about "probable cause."

The security of one's privacy against arbitrary intrusion by the police, Clark said, is at the core of the Fourth Amendment and is basic to a free society.

He said, "We cannot forgive the requirements of the Fourth Amendment in the name of law enforcement . . . Few threats to liberty exist which are greater than that posed by the use of eavesdropping devices."

He clearly did not ban all use of electronic eavesdropping, for he pointed out that the court "under specific conditions and circumstances" in the past sustained the use of eavesdropping devices.

If this seemed like hair-splitting to make a point—which is going to make it far tougher for cops to eavesdrop on criminals—justice Hugo L. Black and the other three justices who disagreed with Clark certainly think so.

In a scorching dissent Black said "It seems obvious to me that its (the court's) holding, by creating obstacles that cannot be overcome, makes it completely impossible for the state or federal government ever to have a valid eavesdropping statute."

He suggested the reason Clark and the other four justices making up the majority took the position they did is that they have a hostility to eavesdropping as "ignoble" and "dirty business."

Black added: "Crimes, unspeakably horrid crimes, are with us in this country, and we cannot afford to dispense with any known method of detecting them unless it is forbidden by the Constitution or deemed inadvisable by legislative policy—neither of which I believe to be true about eavesdropping."

He pointed out that eavesdropping evidence picked up by individuals without machines is admissible in court and asked: Why not evidence picked up by machines, which are more reliable?

Black said he does not think evidence picked up by electronic bugging should be used against a defendant if it violates the Fourth Amendment but "I do not believe the Fourth Amendment or any other bans the use of evidence obtained by eavesdropping."

In order to knock out the New York law, Black said, the Supreme Court has just rewritten the Fourth Amendment.

Actor's Life An Adventure In Irony

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Life is an adventure in irony, and this is particularly true in the case of Werner Klemperer, the actor.

Werner, son of Otto Klemperer, the famed symphony conductor, and his family fled their native Germany in 1933 because of the rise of Hitlerism.

Now Werner, who later served [illegible] in the American Army, makes a tidy dollar playing a bumbling Nazi officer, Col. Wilhelm Klink, on the CBS television comedy program, "Hogan's Heroes."

Although he has had a lifelong hatred of war and violence, nobody since the late Eric von Stronheim has come along who can play a foreign military villain with quite the heel-clicking authenticity of Klemperer.

Werner finds it hard to define just why he can do this so well. "Acting is largely a matter of accurate observation," he said.

"I suppose I must have seen many German officers when I was a boy in Berlin, but" — he added wryly — "I don't remember ever shaking hands with one.

"I don't find it a particular psychological hurdle, to play Nazi officers, so long as I can be very sure that I can give them the kind of dimension I feel they deserve.

"But I don't want ever to play a good Nazi, and I don't want to act in Germany. No, not now."

Something of a specialist in unsympathetic roles, Werner has also played Bulgarian villains, Dutch villains and Russian villains, but his big desire is to play an Oriental villan.

With my bald head and a little makeup I think I'd be very interesting," he said.

After fleeing Germany, the Klemperers spent two years in Switzerland, then came to California where the father became conductor of the Los Angeles Symphony.

Werner, then 13, learned enough English in three months to enter high school. He appeared headed for a career as a pianist, but gave it up.

"I didn't have the desire," he said. "Desire and talent usually go hand in hand. If the desire isn't there, chances are that the talent isn't there either."

Werner chose the theater after wartime work with an Army Special Service unit led by actor Maurice Evans.

Urbane and sophisticated, Werner at 45 feels he has carved himself a comfortable niche and says he has no desire to be either rich or famous.

Junior Editors Quiz on DRIFTWOOD

QUESTION: What is driftwood?

* * *

ANSWER: When pieces of wood fall into water, such as ponds, lakes, streams, rivers or the ocean, they float and are often carried away by currents. Such pieces may be from dead or living trees, from wrecked boats, from wooden boxes or other objects. Because it drifts, this is called driftwood, a name by which it is still known when it washes up on some beach or shoreline. Picnickers often gather such pieces to make cheerful fires on which to roast wieners or marshmallows. But driftwood has other possibilities. After being battered around in the water, it becomes very interesting to look at. The surface becomes a soft satiny gray. Soft parts rot away, leaving the hard grain showing, often in beautiful patterns. In our upper picture, Mary and Jack have discovered bits of gnarled driftwood which suggest that by putting pieces together, amusing figures can be made, such as the sea king. Later, Jack connected the pieces by boring holes and putting in wooden pins or dowels. Good material may also be found in the woods (lower right).

Sports In First Win, Rebels Suffer Defeat

The Sports won their first league game of the season Tuesday when they defeated the Rebels 6-2.

The Sports grabbed the win in the second inning of the Teenage League game when they scored five times with the aid of hits by Elbert Klein, Don Light and Rameriz.

The win gave the Sports a 1-4 record on the season, and the loss for the Rebels made a three way tie for first place. The Rebels, Braves and Buffs are all tied for first with 2-1 records.

The Sports scored another single run in the fifth inning. The Rebels gathered two runs in the third inning when Bilbo Boren and Randy Levens scored, but it was the only major threat the Rebels made at the Sport lead.

Cliff Voss tripled in the first inning for the Sports, but they failed to score in the first, but they came back and broke the game up with the five run second.

Spurs Shade Travelers

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Joe DiFabio, Dave Bakenhaster, Dan Keller and Mike Kekuch are pitchers in the Texas League with a common complaint today. What does it take to win?

DiFabio and Bakenhaster do their chores for the Arkansas Travelers and each lost a 1-0 game to Dallas-Fort Worth Tuesday night. The former gave up only two hits and the latter yielded three.

Keller tossed a five hitter, the same number of hits his El Paso teammates got, but was beaten 3-0 by Austin.

Kekich set down league-leading Amarillo on three hits but Albuquerque lost 2-1.

Home runs figured in the defeats suffered by Keller and Kekich.

Austin's Arlo Engel, the seventh man in the batting order, homered in the second inning after Clarence Gaston and Bob Connolly had hit safely and that created all the damage to Keller, who struck out 10. Monte Sharp got the shutout and never allowed any of El Paso's nine base runners past second.

Bull Watson slammed a two-run homer in the opening inning for Amarillo to spoil Kekich's otherwise well-pitched game. He had walked Fred Walters with two out before Watson came to bat.

Gray Kroll, first of three Amarillo pitchers to combine on a seven-hitter, received the fictory although he retired after five innings with a stiff back.

Dallas - Fort Worth's Dick James shut out Arkansas on four hits in the first game. Byron Browne's double and Don Davis' two-out single accounted for the run off Bakenhaster.

In the nightcap, the Spurs bunched their only two hits off DiFabio in the second inning for their lone run. Jim Todhunter beat out a two-out infield hit, stole second base and scored on Jim Saul's single.

Archie Reynolds, with no-hit relief from Don Larsen, got the triumph on a five-hitter.

Sox, Cards In FL Wins

The White Sox downed the Athletics 16-3, and the Cardinals defeated the Braves 19-8 in Farm League games played Tuesday.

The White Sox scored nine runs in the first inning to insure their win over the Athletics.

For the White Sox, the victory was their third of the year against four defeats, and the Athletics are now two wins against five losses on the season.

The White Sox also scored three runs in the second inning, and managed four runs in the third.

Hits by Randy Gressett, Kyle Sikes and Earnest Brandon helped the White Sox in their scoring punch. The A's scored all of their runs in the first inning.

The Cardinals scored seven times in the fifth inning to easily insure their win against the Braves.

The win for the Cardinals moved them into first place with a 5-2 record on the season while the Braves are now 1-5 in league play.

Ronny Payne had a home run for the Cards in the fifth and led the Cards scoring attack in the big inning. The Giants scored three in the fourth and two in the first and fifth innings for their big marks, but they could never quite close the gap.

Pro Pressure On PGA Increasing

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. AP) — Arnold Palmer and Julius Boros added their names today to the protesting petition and a player tournament committeeman said all name golfers were ready to revolt unless their demands were met by the Professional Golfers Association.

"We now have every known player on the petition except Bill Casper and Doug Sanders," said Doug Ford. "Both of them have told us privately that they are in sympathy with our stand. We are now ready for a showdown."

Ford, a member of the four-man players tournament committee, said Palmer, the game's leading all-time money-winner, and Boros, two-time National Open champion, had affixed their names to the petition.

"We now have 150 players on the paper demanding a stronger voice in the conduct of the tour," the veteran NNew York professional, a former PGA champion, said after an unsuccessful conference with PGA officials.

In a seven-part petition the players are demanding that the PGA Executive Committee be deprived of an arbitrary veto and that the players be given a right to schedule their own tournaments and hire the men who run the show.

If these requests are not granted by June 15, the players' petition said, the touring pros will boycott the PGA National Championship, scheduled at Denver, Colo., July 20-23.

The PGA, which has built and promoted the tour into a $4.5-million enterprise, insists it will not yield.

"We have scheduled a meeting in Cleveland next Tuesday," said Max Elbin, Washington, D.C. president of the PGA and teaching pro of the famed Burning Tree Course where Presidents play.

"We refused to sit down with five or six players. We want to talk with all of them. We feel that many of the players are under a misunderstanding on what is taking place.

"The issue is simple," Elbin continued, "What they want is control. We cannot sit still for that."

WILLIE MAYS HITS GRAND SLAM HOMER

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays, usually a starter, surprised no one by turning out to be quite a relief hitter, but relief pitcher Phil Niekro stunned everyone by proving himself no slouch as a starter.

"I'm still pinching myself," said Niekro, whose knuckleball fluttered Atlanta by Philadelphia 1-0 Tuesday night in his first start after 24 relief appearances.

Mays, who entered the game in the sixth inning, took his success as a substitute more nonchalantly, as usual, after hitting a grand slam in the 10th inning to boost San Francisco over Houston 6-2.

'Grand slams don't make any difference to me," he said. "Winning ball games does."

Elsewhere, the Cincinnati Reds and New York Mets were still pinching themselves over rookies Gary Nolan and Tom Seaver.

Nolan blanked the Mets 6-0 on six hits before Seaver halted the Reds 7-3 in a twi-night doubleheader.

Another rookie, Dick Hughes, held off Pittsburgh as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pirates 7-4, and Ron Santo's home run shoved the Chicago Cubs by Los Angeles 3-2.

In the American League, Detroit outslugged Minnesota 15-10, the New York Yankees defeated Boston 5-3, Kansas City stopped Baltimore 1-0, Chicago topped Washington 6-0, and California swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 8-3 and 5-3.

Niekro, who relieved 28 times without starting in his third season with the Braves in 1966 before being sent to the minor leagues, made the most of his starting chance. The only hits off the 28-year-old pitcher were a two-out double by John Callison in the fourth inning and a leadoff single by Gene Oliver in the eighth.

He struck out five, walked three and got the run he needed to even his record at 2-2 when Hank Aaron singled in a run off Rick Wise in the sixth inning after a walk and Tito Francona's hit.

'I thought I'd get tired, but as the game went on, I found myself getting stronger and stronger," he said.

He admitted he liked this new assignment, but added "I'll pitch wherever they want me — wherever they need me most."

The Braves gave him their answer. "They said I'm starting Sunday in Houston," he said.

Mays, who was scheduled to sit out his second straight game because of fatigue and a stiff back, hoped to be back in the Giant lineup tonight, despite his success as a reserve.

He had entered the game in the sixth inning as a pinch hitter, but grounded into a double play with the bases loaded with Houston leading 2-1 on pitcher Dave Giusti's two-run homer. He got another chance in the 10th after Jim Hart tied the game with a solo shot in the eighth.

Mays connected off Barry Latman, who came in after Giusti walked the first hitter. Willie McCovery's hit and another walk loaded the bases.

The homer was Mays' eighth of the season, 550th of his career, seventh grand slam of his career and first slam since April 1962.

Nolan, a 19-year-old right-hander, won his fifth game in six decisions as he allowed only one Met past second base, struck out nine and walked two.

But Seavern, 22, cut the Reds' first place lead over St. Louis to 2½ games with an eight-hitter for his fifth triumph in eight decisions. He lost his shutout in the ninth when an error set up a three-run pinch-hit homer by Art Shamsky.

Hughes had more trouble winning his fifth game against two losses. He singled in one run and scored another as the Cardinals piled up a 7-1 lead, but then gave up solo homers to Jerry May, Manny Mota and Willie Stargell.

Santo connected for his ninth homer in the sixth inning off Don Drysdale, 5-6, breaking a 2-2 tie. Jim Lefebrve had hit a two-run blast for the Dodgers, but it wasn't enough to prevent them from losing their eighth straight game.

Tigers Outscore Minnesota, 15-10

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Making a little go a long way is nothing to be ashamed of, but the Detroit Tigers and Minnesota Twins were stretching the point Tuesday night.

"I sat right there and saw it, and I don't believe it," said Detroit Manager Mayo Smith after the Tigers snapped a five-game losing streak by chopping and slicing their way to a 15-10 verdict over the Twins.

Fifteen runs were scored — 10 by Detroit — in an hour-long sixth inning marked by the absence of an extra-base hit.

"It was one of the worst games I've ever played in," the Tigers' Al Kaline said after what started as a pitching duel between Dennis McLain and Dean Chance turned into a Punch and Judy fiasco.

In other American League games, Kansas City nipped Baltimore 1-0, Chicago blanked Washington 6-0, New York topped Boston 5-3 and California swept a twi-night doubleheader from Cleveland 8-3 and 5-3.

Chicago edged Los Angeles 3-2, Atlanta shaded Philadelphia 1-0, St. Louis downed Pittsburgh 7-4, San Francisco beat Houston 6-2 in 10 innings and Cincinnati split a twi-night with New York, winning 6-0 before losing 7-3, in National League action.

The Tigers fell behind 5-1 before raking Chance and three successors for 10 runs — on eight singles — in the sixth. Detroit paraded 14 men to the plate, with the first 11 reaching base. Kaline and Willie Horton each had two hits in the inning while pinch hitter Jim Price and Don Wert drove in two runs apiece.

The Twins then batted around in their half of the sixth, scoring five runs — the last three when center fielder Mickey Stanley dropped Bob Allison's two-out fly ball with the bases loaded.

In all, there were 10 singles, five walks, one hit batter, three errors, two wild pitches and a passed ball in the full inning.

Detroit then pulled away with a three-run salvo in the seventh as Dick McAuliffe homered, Wert tripled, Kaline doubled and Horton singled.

The Tigers wound up with 19 hits, the Twins with 12.

Jim "Catfish" Hunter hurled a four-hitter for his second successive shutout as the A's shaded the Orioles and hard-luck left-hander Steve Barber.

Two walks and Bert Campaneris' double in the second inning produced the game's only run. Hunter struck out six and allowed only one runner past first base. Barber yielded three hits before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

The White Sox blanked Washington behind Tomm John's three-hit pitching and a three-run homer by Ron Hansen. John fanned nine Senators in breezing to his fifth victory in eight decisions.

Hansen's homer capped a four-run rally in the sixth after Ken Berry extended his hitting streak to 17 games with a run-scoring single.

Tom Tresh slapped two singles and a double, driving in two runs to help the Yankees top Boston and snap a four-game losing streak. Steve Whitaker also had three hits for New York while Fred Talbot and reliever Dooley Womack checked the Red Sox.

Don Mincher drove in three runs with a double and single, Jimmie Hall hit a two-run homer and pinch hitter Bubba Morton stroked a two-run single in California's twilight victory over the Indians.

The Angels won the nightcap behind rookie Rick Clark, who ended a personal six-game losing string with relief help from Bill Kelso. Four Cleveland errors contributed to the Angels' seventh victory in their last eight starts.

NO LONGER A MAN'S WORLD — Bernice Gera yells "you're out" as she learns to be an umpire at an umpires' school in West Palm Beach, Fla. Sliding into second base is Steve Woolverton and making the out is Cecil Barber. The Jackson Heights, N.Y., housewife hopes to complete the six-weeks course and then make umpiring her profession. ## Braves, Sox Win League Victories

The Braves won their seventh game in a row as they downed the Cardinals 5-2 and the White Sox easily put down the Athletics 9-1 in Little League action Tuesday.

The Braves maintained a firm hold on first place in the National League with their win over the Cardinals as they stand 7-0 on the season. The Braves are now way out in front of the second place Cardinals, who now stand at 4-3 in league play.

The Braves virtually took all of the marbles in the third inning when they scored five times with the aid of only one hit, a double by Mark Bostick. Bostick had another double in the fifth frame, but failed to score as he was stranded on third.

The Cardinals scored their two runs in the fourth inning when Tim Holder and Marty Pate crossed the plate. Jimmy Dyess, the winning pitcher for the Braves, was in trouble only in the fourth inning when he gave up the two runs. He struck out 12 Cardinal batters in the six frames he worked.

The White Sox jumped to an early lead in the first inning when they scored four times on hits by Scotty Sullivan and Kevin Jones.

Sullivan kept the White Sox train going with a three run homer in the second inning. The Athletics managed to push across a single run in the sixth inning when Lee Walton scored after he led off the inning with a single.

Robert Braziel, the Sox winning pitcher, struck out eight and allowed only two hits and one run in gaining the victory.

The White Sox moved within one game of the second place Indians in the American League with the win. They stand at 3-4 on the season. The A's are now 1-6 in league play.

Owl Only Hope Left

CARBONDALE, Ill. AP) — George Seewagen of Rice, the Southwest Conference champion, was the only Texas hope left today for the singles title in the NCAA Tennis Tournament.

Seewagen defeated Mickey Schad of Miami, Fla., 6-3, 7-9, 6-4 in the third round Tuesday while two players from Trinity and one from Lamar Tech were eliminated.

Danny O'Bryant of Trinity lost to top-seeded Stan Smith of Southern California 4-6, 1-6. O'Bryant's teammate, Frank Conner, was upset by unseeded Steve Tibbal of UCLA 2-6, 4-6.

Ian Crookenden of UCLA, the No. 2 seed, lost only two games in beating Sherwood Stewart, NCAA college division champion from Lamar Tech, 6-1, 6-1.

Stewart and Jaime Subirats of Lamar Tech were the only doubles team from Texas to survive Tuesday's opening rounds.

North Texas State's Robert Reid and Don Wilson won their first round match but wer eliminated in the second round.

Producers Ask Stricter Controls

By MAX B. SKELTON

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Independent producers hoped today to persuade the Interstate Oil Compact Commission to recommend that Congress spell out stricter oil import controls.

The independents contend the disruption of the flow of Middle East oil and the closing of the Suez Canal dictate a need for Congress to write specific oil import limitations into law.

A resolution that was to go before the final session of the 33-state oil and gas conservation study group would do little more than reaffirm an old request that federal officials take no action that would weaken the Interior Department's mandatory oil import control program.

The proposed changes were being pushed by representatives of the Independent Petroleum Association of America and the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association.

Specifically, the independents were hopeful the commission would strengthen the resolution by suggesting that the individual oil states ask Congress to limit imports in areas east of the ratio to domestic production. This would be in line with a plea made by the national trade group of independent producers in May.

The trade expansion act merely authorizes control of imports of any commodity that poses a threat to national security. Under this authority, the mandatory oil controls were established by presidential proclamation in 1959.

Current controls make use of the 12.2 ratio but the independents argue that the failure of the act to spell out specific limitations has led to loopholes, exceptions, and frequent changes.

As approved Monday by an energy resources committee, the imports resolution drafted for consideration by the mid-year meeting asked that steps be taken to assure that the mandatory control program will not be weakened, undermined or circumvented. It also asked that similar controls be established for natural gas imports.

The draft was to be studied by a resolutions committee prior to being submitted to the final business session.

A spokesman for the independents told the commission today the second Middle East crisis in 10 years underscores an urgent need for a healthy, expanding oil producing industry in the United States.

Minor S. Jameson Jr. of Washington, D. C., executive vice president of the national association of independents, said the domestic industry has accumulated 60 million barrels of additional crude oil inventories in 18 months.

A semiannual report prepared by Jameson, a petroleum economist, also said the industry has a reserve capacity to produce an additional 2,500,000 barrels of crude oil a day. Current production averages about 8,548,00 barrels a day.

Jameson said such a high level of crude oil inventories normally would call for a severe period of readjustment but the effects of the Middle East crisis will determine whether this will be necessary.

WEAKENED STRUCTURE — Raging flood waters along Deep Creek washed away supporting rocks and dirt from the corners of this bridge on Twenty-sixth Street. City officials today continued to assess the damage caused by the flood.

FLOOD DAMAGE — Over 20 houses east of Deep Creek were damaged by the flood here Monday. Water reached a level of two feet in many of the houses and left a thick covering of mud when it receded.

TYPICAL SCENE — This was a typical scene in Snyder Monday. Pickups and wreckers were pressed into service aiding motorists stalled by surging flood waters from area creeks.

NEGRO JUSTICE

Senate Sure To Ok Appointment

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's appointment of Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall to the Supreme Court —the first Negro so named— appears certain to be confirmed when the Senate gets to it.

Johnson's announcement on Tuesday that he is nominating Marshall, 58, to succeed retiring Associate Justice Tom C. Clark surprised neither the solicitor general's critics nor his supporters.

A senator who maintains close relations with the President said he felt certain Clark's successor would be either a Negro or a woman.

"That man is going to be first in everything he can," the senator said of the President. "I'd be willing to bet that if there is another vacancy, we'll have a woman member of the court."

And one White House aide said he suspected Johnson deeply wanted to be the first president to nominate a Negro to the court—just as he was the first to nominate a Negro to the Cabinet when he picked Robert C. Weaver for secretary of housing and urban development.

The general opinion among senators was that Johnson's selection of Marshall represented a bid for Negro support in Johnson's expected bid for re-election next year.

White House officials indicated they were uncertain about the reaction the nomination would receive in the Senate and were prepared for noisy opposition from long-time segregationists and, perhaps, from some others who may have been disturbed by the so-called black power movement.

However, they said, Johnson looked upon Marshall as a symbol of Negro progress through full implementation of legal processes, as contrasted with mob violence.

Johnson, they said, had been thinking about Marshall as a potential Supreme Court Justice for a long time and has been mindful that the emergence of the black power stalwarts might work against his choice.

But they said he felt he could not stand aside and lose the momentum they said he has gained through persistent espousal of the Negro cause.

In announcing the selection in the White House rose garden with the nominee at his side, Johnson said Marshall had earned and deserved a place on the high court and is the man best qualified for the job by training and experience.

He said Marshall had lost only eight of 52 cases he argued before the Supreme Court.

"I believe he has already earned his place in history," the President said.

Judge Rules On Crystal City Votes

CRYSTAL CITY, Tex. (AP) — Basing his decision on 27 votes which were ruled invalid, Dist. Judge Ross Daughty ruled Tuesday that Charlie Crawford was the legally elected city councilman in place of Moses Falcon in the April 4 city election.

Crawford originally was credited with 1,079 votes to 1,085 for Falcon. The judge ruled that removal of the 27 votes changed the results to 1,073 for Crawford and 1,069 for Falcon.

Educational Groups Name Presidents

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — F. W. Horton of Austin, Alton O. Bowen of Bryan and Eugene Tenney of Lamarque Tuesday were elected presidents of three school administrators and supervisors associations in conference at Texas A&M University.

Horton, Travis County schools superintendent, will head the Texas Association of County Superintendents in 1967-68. Elected to serve with the Austin educator were vice president Bert Nuckols of Pampa, Gray County superintendent, and treasurer W. D. Bunting of Bryan, Brazos County superintendent. Bunting was re-elected and outgoing president Gilbert Conoley of Georgetown became an ex-officio member of the board.

Bowen will preside over the Texas School Administrators Association. Elected vice president was H. W. Goodgoin, Denison schools superintendent. Dr. Paul R. Hensarling, education and psychology department head at A&M, was re-elected secretary.

The Texas Association of Instructional Supervisors also named Mrs. Pat May, Hurst-Euless-Bedford District superintendent, first vice president; Cliff Harris, chairman of education and psychology, Houston Baptist College, second vice president; Mrs. Katherine Mauon of Tomball, elementary consultant, Harris County education department, secretary, and Frank Buell, Carrollton Schools assistant superintendent, treasurer.

Johnson Repeats Mideast Pledge

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says his pledge to back territorial and political integrity of all Middle East nations—issued before Israel's rout of its Arab foes—remains unchanged.

But he told a White House news conference Tuesday that how this policy will be effectuated "will depend a good deal upon the nations themselves, what they have to say and what their views are, what their proposals are."

Some observers saw in Johnson's remarks a hint that the United States would not oppose any changes in boundaries worked out between Israel and her Arab neighbors Egypt, whose territory Israel occupies.

With most of the news conference dwelling on the Middle East, Johnson also challenged suggestions his government had failed to realize the seriousness of the Israeli-Arab crisis before war broke out.

He was asked specifically about a Baltimore Sun story which he was told quoted a U.S. Embassy official in Cairo as saying the administration was not as sensitive to the crisis as it should have been.

"I do not believe anyone very high in the administration would feel that way about it," said Johnson, adding the Middle East has occupied a good deal of our thoughts, our attention, and the time of some of our ablest leaders in our government ever since I came into the executive branch in 1961.

"It still does."

The President reiterated the United States played no part in the Arab-Israeli war. Egypt, Jordan, and Syria have charged U.S. airplanes participated in Israeli attacks on Arab targets.

Responding to other questions Johnson:

—Said "the best thing for us to do is let things clear up" before pressing for resumption of diplomatic relations severed by numerous Arab nations during the Middle East crisis.

—Acknowledged a U.S. review of aid to the Middle East was in the works.

—Played down the importance of U.S.—Soviet use of the Washington Moscow "hot line" during the crisis except to say it did save time.

SOME PEOPLE THINK IT PAYS TO GO SHOP OUT OF TOWN . . .

but have they stopped to think about what happens to that dollar they spend away from home? Part of it will go to support schools, churches and public projects of the community in which that dollar was spent. All well and good. But what about the schools, churches, etc. in our own community? These must also be supported. Don't short-change our hometown and yourself by scattering dollars elsewhere . . . keep them working right here for you and yours!

It pays to shop locally

Texas Baptists Join Aid Debate

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A southern Baptist educator from California charged Tuesday night a nationwide Baptist education conference has been deliberately stacked in favor of federal aid proponents.

The Rev. Dr. Lloyd Simmons, president of California Baptist College at Riverside, made this accusation after three speakers gave differing views on the issue.

"We've heard four speakers already this week urge Baptists to take federal aid," said the Rev. Dr. Simmons. He called the selection of speakers for the four-day meeting "a deliberate snow job."

More than 800 top Baptist leaders are meeting here to seek solutions to a continuing financial crisis at the denomination's 72 colleges and universities.

Most of the controversy stems from the rejection of federal aid by practically all of the Southern Baptist schools. Some, however, do accept government loans.

Objections of some Baptist leaders to acceptance of federal loans and grants are based on their claims that it would violate the principle of church-state separation.

The president of the nation's largest Southern Baptist school, Dr. Abner McCall of Baylor University, said the church's colleges and universities cannot continue to operate effectively without federal money.

Private contributions are not enough to meet the challenges of the future, McCall said, and educational expenditures are multiplying each year.

He labeled the federal government "the big spender in the academic world," citing figures which showed that Washington dispensed more money to the nation's campuses last year than all 50 state governments combined.

McCall, saying some Baptists want to abandon the field of higher education altogether, said churchmen must decide whether the institutions will remain in operation.

"In my opinion, we cannot afford to abandon an effective involvement in the field of higher education in America," he said. "But as a practical matter, we cannot continue to maintain an effective involvement in the future without federal aid."

McCall's stand was opposed by the Rev. Dr. E. S. James, who said federal grants to church supported colleges were unnecessary, unscriptural, unconstitutional and unfair to unbelievers.

"If it isn't right, it is wrong, and we have no right to be wrong," he said.

The Rev. Dr. James, retired editor of the Baptist Standard in Dallas, said he feels "very deeply" for Baptist educators faced with financial woes, "but not deeply enough to consent to Baptists doing the wrong thing in order to make the institution work an easier thing."

Snyderite Is Counselor

E. G. Tipping of Snyder will counsel future Texas A&M University student body leaders at a Sept. 9-12 YMCA Freshman Camp.

J. Gordon Gay, YMCA general secretary, announced the counselor assignment for the 400-student camp at Lakeview Assembly Grounds near Palestine.

The YMCA selects prospective leaders for the camp from new student registration. The freshmen will hold discussions on college life, study values, responsibilities and personal goals with counselors and adults.

Worship, spiritual enlightenment, fellowship and recreation also help high school graduates across the gap to college life.

"The camp is not an orientation session nor to teach the 'fish' songs and yells, though these things are included in the program," Gay said. He noted that numerous student body leaders in previous years have been YMCA freshman campers.

The ratio of student counselors to freshman is about one to three.

Tipping resides at 2105 Forty-second Street in Snyder.

Connally Comments On Rangers

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. John Connally said Tuesday that he didn't send the Texas Rangers to the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

He also accused "some people" of making political hay of the labor unrest in the Valley.

Connally said "Col. (Homer) Garrison sent them (Rangers) just as he has a hundred times before. They're there to enforce the law and they're not there to take sides."

"There are always charges of Ranger brutality and always those who will take political advantage out of it."

He said he would probably decide "within a couple of months" when to call a special session of the legislature adding he doubted the session would be scheduled this year.

Liquor by the drink may be included in the agenda, he hinted in a speech to the convention of the Texas Restaurant Association.

"I'm going to keep fighting for it in the future," he said. The statement drew thunderous applause.

"We came pretty close to passing the bill," he told the conventioners who are meeting with members of the Texas Motel Association.

Asked in the short news conference if his relations with Lt. Gov. Preston Smith were stable he said, "Considering he might run for governor, yes we're still stable."

Agreement Made At General Telephone

SAN ANGELO (AP) — The General Telephone Co. of the Southwest and the Communications Workers of America have reached agreement on a 12-month contract. Officials said Tuesday the contract calls for improvements totaling to $700,000 annually.

The agreement is retroactive to June 1. Wage increases, which range from 8 to 17 cents an hour, affect every employe.

Other benefits include increased company participation in employee' health insurance and vacation improvements.

RIO BOULEVARDIER — Sebastian, a pet penguin, strolls along walk near Copacabana beach in Rio de Janeiro after a cooling swim. Several hundred penguins are washed up on Brazil's beaches each year, apparently victims of ocean currents which sweep them thousands of miles from the cooler climes of southern South America, but Sebastian is one of the few to survive the change in climate for any length of time. Sebastian delights in watching television, being with people, taking cold showers and visiting the beach two or three times a week. (AP Wirephoto)

Ireland Busy Preparing For Visit Of Kennedy Family

By EDDY GILMORE

Twenty-five Irish policewomen will work in three shifts to protect Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her children around the clock from curious Irishmen and newsmen during her vacation here.

Waterford's County Council has begun putting up 30 no-parking signs around the 241 acres of woods and lawns surrounding Woodston House, the 40-room Regency mansion where the Kennedys will stay. The house overlooks Waterford harbor.

Two new iron gates have been set up at the main entrance.

"The emphasis of the whole vacation is a vacation to be spent quietly," said Mrs. Kennedy's secretary, Nancy Tuckerman, at a news conference in Dublin Tuesday.

Mrs. Kennedy with 9-year-old Caroline and 6-year-old John is to arrive at Shannon Airport on Irish Airlines Thursday morning. They will travel the 85 miles from Shannon to Waterford by car.

From Woodston House on clear nights the Kennedys should be able to see New Ross, the County Wexford town from which President Kennedy's ancestors emigrated to America.

New Ross is 15 miles north, up the River Barrow, from the mansion.

Miss Truckerman said "although a six-week vacation was originally planned, as of tonight it's four weeks."

During her stay Mrs. Kennedy is expected to accept an invitation to visit Irish President Eamon de Valera.

The two children of Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, will probably join the Kennedys at Woodston House, in London and their mother is making her stage debut in Chicago this week.

The Kennedys will spend much of their time horseback riding and swimming the secretary said.

Seventy-one reporters, photographers, radio and television personnel are already at Waterford's Tower Hotel.

A local resident, Mrs. John Harrigan, told a newsman: "She deserves all the peace and quiet in the world and we hope you journalists will let her have it. The Irish people are not going to bother her."

"We'd like to think Mrs. Kennedy will come to Ireland for many years," said Brian Brophy. "As an Irishman I'm terribly pleased she's going to holiday here. We have the greatest respect for her and her late husband."

Crude Hike Predicted

AUSTIN (AP) — An increase of 110,000 barrels of Texas crude oil a day will be in demand in July, even without consideration of the Near East oil situation, the Bureau of Mines predicts.

The bureau said Tuesday it was unable at that time to assess the effects of Arab embargoes on oil shipment to the West or the closing the Suez Canal.

It forecast a Texas oil demand in July of 2,900,000 barrels a day.

The July nominations by major purchasers total 2,813,793 barrels a day, the bureau said. This is an increase of 71,803 barrels a day over June.

The Texas Railroad Commission holds a statewide hearing in Austin Thursday to set the July oil allowable. The only question in most oil experts' minds is how large an increase the commission will authorize.

The commission said Tuesday the calendar day allowable as of June 15 was 2,992,236 barrels, based on a production factor of 33.8 per cent of potential.

Crisis May End Yemen Civil War

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — One byproduct of Israel's blitz victory over the Egyptians may be an end to the civil war in Yemen—either through a quick and bloody Royalist victory or by a peace agreement.

The destruction of much of Egypt's air force and army raises the question of whether President Gamal Abdel Nasser, with his economy teetering on the edge of ruin, can afford the men, money and material which are the mainstay of the Yemeni Republican regime. The fighting in Yemen, largely forgotten in the crisis with Israel, began in 1962 when rebel army officers threw Imam Mohammed el-Badr off his 11-century-old throne and set up a republic in the Red Sea kingdom in the southwest corner of Arabia.

The Imam rallied loyal tribesmen for war and Nasser sent more than 70,000 troops to shore up the rebel regime led by bearded, sullen Col. Abdullah al-Sallal.

Alarmed by the presence of the Egyptian Army on its border, Saudi Arabia threw its support behind the Royalists.

Princely commanders of the Royalist forces claim the death toll in Yemen goes into the hundreds of thousands. They say some 30,000 Egyptian soldiers have been killed or wounded in the fighting.

Egypt gives no statistics on the war, and there is no way of checking the Royalist figures, but signs of massive death and destruction abound in Yemen.

Egyptian air raids have shattered hillside villages. Hundreds of villagers have died from Eyptian poison gas, the use of which was confirmed this month by the International Red Cross.

The Imam's tribesmen have slaughtere entire Egyptian units in isolated outposts and strewn parts of the country with wrecked tanks and trucks. In the early days of the war, Royalist guerrillas defeated tanks by stuffing their turbans up the exhaust pipes to stall the engines and then beheading the crews as they emerged.

Nasser and King Faisal of Saudi Arabia agreed to end the war with the Jeddah Pact of August, 1965, which called for a halt in Saudi aid to the Royalists and the withdrawal of Egyptian forces. Nasser charged Faisal with violating the agreement and refused to pull out his army. The war went on.

Later Nasser made clear that Egyptian forces would stay in Yemen until neighboring South Arabia gets independence from Britain in 1968, raising fears of an Egyptian takeover there.

The Egyptian strength in Yemen is now said to be approximately 40,000 men and the fighting has become sporadic except for continued bombing by Nasser's jets.

Nasser has not yet announced his new plans with regard to Yemen or South Arabia, but an Egyptian withdrawal from the Arabian Peninsula would probably mean a bloody but quick end to the civil war and a royalist victory as well as relief to the South Arabian Federation.

Another peace agreement between Nasser and Faisal whose own country has frequently been bombed by the Egyptian air force—could also end the war. This is a more likely prospect than a unilateral Egyptian retreat.

Thieves Take Bank's Nickels, Pennies

WINDOM, Tex. AP) — Even though they triggered a tear gas device, burglars stuck it out long enough Monday night to get away with $1,045 in nickels and pennies from the Windom Bank in Northeast Texas.

A bank spokesman said the burglars rifled 26 safety deposit boxes, but failed to enter the main vault.
