Farm Act To Be Explained Here Today

Pioneer Dawson County Resident Is Crushed By Tractor

L. C. Cumpton Is Victim Thursday Of Accident

Machine Crushes Him Against Garage Wall; Wife Witnesses Mishap; Dies Instantly

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, March 10.—L. C. Cumpton, about 60, longtime resident of near Lamesa, was killed instantly shortly after noon today when a tractor crushed him against a wall at his farm home a mile and a half west of town.

On cranking the tractor, which was in gear, he was pinned against a garage wall and killed instantly. The tractor was parked in the garage, it was reported.

Wife Witnessed Accident

His wife was in the doorway of the garage and witnessed the accident. Death, which was immediate, was attributed to internal injuries. When the motor of the machine started, the tractor plunged forward.

Cumpton had been a resident of near Lamesa approximately 35 years.

Funeral Probably Saturday

Funeral services will be conducted here probably Saturday afternoon with Higginbotham Funeral home officiating. Services will be held in the First Methodist church. Announcement of other arrangements late tonight pended communications with relatives at El Paso, the funeral home said.

Among Cumpton's survivors are: his wife; a daughter Mrs. Elsie Mae Carpenter of El Paso; a son Charles Cumpton, 9, of near Lamesa; two brothers Joe Cumpton of Graham and Bill Cumpton of Cisco; and two sisters, Mrs. T. W. Williams of Tampa and another whose name tonight was not available.

Snyder School Building Burns

(Special To The Avalanche)

SNYDER, March 10. — Classes will re-open Monday morning in Snyder schools after fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated damage of $125,000 to the grammar school unit and auditorium of the combined building, King Sides, principal, said tonight.

Classes will be held in churches, the high school section, and gymnasium. The gymnasium, 100 yards from the other building, was undamaged.

Save High School Section

Snyder and Sweetwater firemen concentrated efforts on the high school part of the three-story brick and semi-fireproof building. The grammar school section and auditorium appeared out of control when firemen arrived. Smoke and water did slight damage to the high school section.

The building was insured for $100,000, Wayne Boren, insurance representative, said. It was not known here when adjusters would inspect the ruins.

An automatic fire alarm awakened the janitor, who sleeps in the basement of the buildnig, at about 5:30 o'clock this morning. Flames were under complete control by 11 o'clock.

Fire smoldered until late this afternoon.

C. Wedgeworth, superintendent of schools here, is being treated in a hospital for a knee and head injury suffered in an auotmobile accident several days ago near Sweetwater.

The high school section of the building was built about 12 years ago. The grammar section was about eight years old.

Townsend Carries Fight Against Jail Term To Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend carried to the Supreme court today his fight against a 30-day jail sentence imposed upon him for contempt of a house committee which investigated his old age pension movement.

The 71-year-old California physician stalked out of a house committee session on May 21, 1936, declaring the investigators were unfriendly and unfair and that he did not "propose to come back except under arrest."

Austria Scene Of Disorders After Plebiscite Called; Nazi Minister Is Heckled In Visit To London

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 10. — Hostile, shouting crowds heckled Joachim von Ribbentrop, Germany's new foreign minister, today as he sought with Britain to form a peaceful partnership in the face of increasing European unrest.

Von Ribbentrop and Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary, conferred at the foreign office for more than two hours, while a crowd of demonstrators outside grew from 30 to 500.

Had To Brave Crowd

Both before and after the meeting, von Ribbentrop had to brave the crowd which surged against reinforced police lines, shouting "get out, Ribbentrop!" and other taunts. Some greeted him with the communist clenched fist salute.

What the former wine salesman and the British peer, both new as their governments' foreign ministers, discussed was concealed behind diplomatic secrecy.

Halifax Disappointed

Reliable sources, however, said that the conference was inconclusive and that gaunt Lord Halifax was disappointed with his first big effort as chief of Whitehall's foreign policy.

He was understood especially disillusioned about Austria. Moved by the boldness of Austria's Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg in resisting German encroachment, Lord Halifax was said to have expressed hope there would be no outside interference in Austria's plebiscite Sunday.

Von Ribbentrop, these sources said, flatly refused to commit himself.

Moment Not Ripe

The British, at whose request von Ribbentrop was said to have conferred at this time, apparently were convined that the moment was not ripe for the ministers' negotiations.

But Germany's insistent demand for return of her war-lost colonies —seven times the size of the fatherland—and swiftly moving develop-

BLUM TO FORM CABINET

PARIS, March 10. (AP)—Leon Blum, France's first socialist premier, tonight tried to form a new cabinet to succeed the resigned government of radical-socialist Camille Chautemps.

Chautemps resigned today because the chamber of deputies refused to vote him full financial and economic decree powers.

The 65-year-old Blum, who headed the first people's front government from June 4, 1936, to June 21, 1937, accepted the task of forming a new cabinet as the leader of the largest party in the chamber.

It became known tonight that the communists, who with the socialists and radical-socialists make up the people's front, had agreed for the first time to enter the cabinet since the coalition was constituted.

Mrs. J. M. Lyle Of Ralls Dies In City

Mrs. J. M. Lyle, 67, of one and one-half miles south of Ralls, died in a sanitarium here about 6:30 o'clock Thursday night, after a week's illness.

Rix Funeral home took charge of the body. Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Ralls Methodist church, with Rev. J. Edmund Kirby officiating. Marr Funeral home will direct burial.

She is survived by her husband; four sons, Dr. Clay Lyle of State College, Miss.; Dr. Judge Lyle of Fort Worth, Tim Lyle and Tommie Lyle of Ralls; one daughter, Miss Ella Moe Lyle, student in Columbia University, New York; Three sisters, Mrs. G. A. Lindsey of Dallas, Mrs. M. H. McKoy of Rockwall, and Mrs. W. G. Golden of Walnut Grove, Miss.

Johnson City Man Camps In Dallas On Way To New York

DALLAS, March 10. (AP)—A long, lean, leathery cowboy—Teemer Furr—and his eight-year-old mare, Babe, camped here tonight before resuming their trip to New York City.

Furr, of Johnson City Blanco county, said he intended to ride his horse all the way to the city hall steps of New York to present Mayor LaGuardia a letter from Tom Miller, mayor of Austin.

INSURGENTS CAPTURE CITY

BELCHITE, Spain, March 10. (AP)—Insurgent infantry occupied this eastern front city late today after day-long shelling forced government troops to retreat to the east.

Capture of the strategic city marked a 17-mile advance in two days along the left wing of the Aragon front. Tanks and armored cars led to the insurgent march into Belchite.

VIENNA, March 10.—Disorders in Graz and Vienna and a threat of possible Nazi sabotage and terrorism today were precipitated by the sudden call for a plebiscite Sunday on the issue of Austrian independence.

More than 40 persons were injured in clashes and the dread words "civil war" were heard in Graz, Nazi stronghold, as the pre-plebiscite campaign opened with intensive propaganda, parades and exhortations.

Await Word From Berlin

Nazis were in a sullen, angry mood as they awaited word from Berlin before determining the definite attitude they would adopt for Sunday.

In Vienna, they charged that Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg by calling last night for a vote on his policy of Austrian independence against further German encroachments, had broken the understanding reached with Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany Feb. 12 in their Berchtesgaden conference.

Under that understanding, Austria's cabinet was reorganized to include five ministers favorable to Germany; political prisoners, including Nazis, were released; and restrictions on the outlawed Nazi party were eased.

Soil Best Place To Store Water

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, March 10. — The soil itself is the best place to store water, R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the Spur experiment substation, said today at the close of the irrigation conference here.

Dickson said that preliminary estimates of storage cost in certain Texas reclamation dams was $12 per acre-foot and that this had been raised subsequently.

Experiments Explained

At Spur a series of syrup pan terraces has been constructed, distributing the run-off water from 1,200 adjacent acres at cost of $1.25 per acre-foot of water utilized.

He exhibited washed roots of buffalo, a native short grass, that were seven feet long. He said the average West Texas soils have a capacity for storing available water to a depth of eight feet.

"The best yields are not made in the years of greatest rainfall in West Texas," he said, "but following years of heavy fall and winter rainfall that store available water in the soil."

Don L. Jones Talks

Tracy, Rainer Win Awards For Acting

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 10.—Luise Rainer and Spencer Tracy were given the academy awards tonight for the best motion picture performances during 1937. Miss Rainer won Hollywood's commendation for her work in "The Good Earth," and Tracy for his performance in "Captains Courageous."

Spencer Tracy

Fifteen thousand movie workers, through the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, voted "The Life of Emile Zola" last year's most outstanding motion picture.

Thirteen hundred Hollywoodities, representing all ranks of movie-making, gathered tonight for the banquet at which these and other wards, in the form of gold-plated statuettes—facetiously called "Oscars"—were presented.

Leo McCarey was voted the year's best director for "The Awful Truth."

The best supporting actress was voted to be Alice Brady for her role in the picture, "In Old Chicago," and Joseph Schildkraut was given the award as the best supporting actor for his portrayal in "The Life of Emile Zola."

Luise Rainer

The Irving G. Talberg Memorial award was given to Darryl Zanuck, production head of Twentieth Century-Fox, for the most consistent high quality of production achievement by an individual producer.

Charlie McCarthy

A special award in the form of a miniature wooden statuette was given to Edgar Bergen "for his outstanding comedy creation, Charley McCarthy." A special award for outstanding service to the industry was given to that "sympathetic, kindly, understanding comedy

Democratic Party Is 'Out Of The Red'

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—The Democratic national committee is "out of the red," Chairman James A. Farley announced today.

It is perhaps the first time in the history of American politics, he said, that the organizations cleared itself of debt a year after a national campaign. The recent Jackson day dinners did the trick, he added.

Details will be given in a report to the house tomorrow.

The Republican National committee filed its regular report today showing receipts of $98,480 for the period from January 1 to February 28. Disbursements totaled $102,264.

The Liberty League reported contributions of $13,455 since the first of the year and expenditures of $11,866. Its principal contributons came from Lammont DuPont, Delaware financier, who gave $5,000; and J. Howard Pew of Philadelphia, $2,500.

The Republican senatorial campaign committee reported a contribution of $5,000 from Lammot DuPont. It spent only $400.

Colored Charlie McCarthy Pulls Himself Out Of Hole

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 10. — A one-legged negro booked as Charlie McCarthy, 28, appeared before Magistrate Frank Oliver today on a disorderly conduct charge.

"What's in that bag?" asked the court, pointing to a valise in the prisoner's hand.

"Oh, that," said the negro, "that's black Charlie McCarthy."

He reached in and pulled out a ventriloquist's dummy, very black.

"Can he do anything?" asked the court.

"Him? Sure, he can whistle, sing and talk. Listen, judge."

The dummy sang, "Just One more Chance."

"Well," said the court. "Case dismissed."

"Thank you, judge," said the prisoner, who had been arrested for sleeping in an elevated station. "Thank you."

"That goes for me, too," said the dummy.

House Increases Tax On Liquor On Thursday

Warning That Bootlegger Would Thrive Again Fails To Deter Action; Bill Nears Vote

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10—Warnings that the bootlegger would thrive once more failed to deter the house today from voting to increase the hard liquor tax 25 cents a gallon.

As an "easy way out" for members who had cut the potential yield of the administration tax bill by deleting a surtax on closely held corporations, Representative Robertson (D-Va) offered the amendment to raise the liquor levy from $2 to $2.25 a gallon.

Approved By Standing Vote

The house approved it by a 160 to 34 vote.

Edging the measure toward a final vote tomorrow the house excise inserted tentatively a new excise tax of 6 cents a pound on imported pork and 3 cents on imported pork products.

Robertscn said the liquor tax increase would produce $35,000,000. Representative Thompson (D-Ill) placed the yield of the pork tax at $5,000,000.

Revenue Loss Estimated

The revenue loss from removal of the levy on closely held corporations has been estimated at $30,000,000 to $45,000,000.

Some legislators appealed today for more deliberate consideration of such major revenue law charges as the liquor tax increase.

"Without a study of this thing," Representative Dingell (D-Mich) said, "We might do something that would increase bootlegging."

"Pretty soon you'll get the tax so high the bootlegger will come back." Representative Dirksen (R-Ill) asserted.

Not Added To Consumer

Robertson said the 25 cent increase would "not be added to the cost to the consumer."

"No one has to buy whisky unless he wants it," he added. "It's a luxury."

"Don't think the distillers will pay the tax," Dirksen remarked.

A series of "ah-h-h-h's" welled through the chamber when Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) of the rules committee said he had heard "rumors of a plot" to lower the tariff

Mooney Appears Before Solons

(By The Associated Press)

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 10.—The California assembly, before which are two proposals for pardoning Tom Mooney, heard the white-haired, convicted bomber's own story today, but lacked a necessary majority to act on the measures.

After an all-day session, devoted to an unprecedented appearance by the prisoner, the assembly voted 39 to 33 in favor of a resolution which would grant Mooney a legislative pardon, the legality of which is undetermined.

Round-Up Absent Members

This was two short of the necessary majority, and the assembly recessed from 5:40 p. m., until 8:30 p. m., under a call of the house, which requires that the sergeant-at-arms round up absent members to provide the necessary voting

Harris County Man Out For Governor

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—Joseph King of Harris county, advocate of legalized betting on horse races and sale of whisky by the drink, today paid the $100 filing fee as a candidate for governor of Texas.

The 49-year-old gubernatorial candidate, who operates a tourist camp nine miles east of Houston, said his platform included abolishing the poll tax system, the pardon and paroles board, the liquor control board and "white-collar investigating committees on old age pensions."

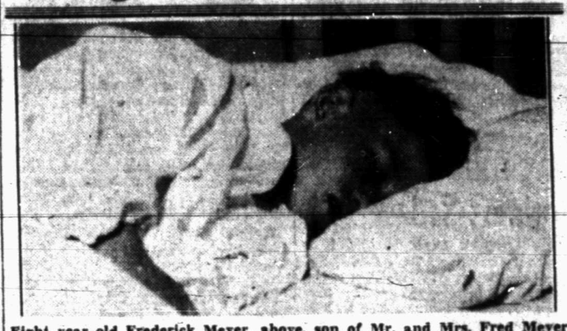

A native of Ellis county, King favors a unicameral legislature, tax reduction by slashing government payrolls and division of school-owned lands for families who would, through state financing, have 40 years to pay.

He opposes a sales tax.

PERSHING APPEARS LISTLESS

Youngster Still Unconscious

Eight-year-old Frederick Meyer, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meyer of route 1, Slaton, who Wednesday ate all or at least part of 65 luminal tablets missing from a container of 100, early this morning continued in a deep sleep, said authorities at the hospital where he was taken. Although the boy's condition at first was considered possibly critical, physicians Thursday night said it had shown improvement, his pulse was steady and satisfactory, and that he apparently was in no danger. They were unable to say when he would regain consciousness. The boy ate the sedative tablets after taking them from a mail box near his home. On returning from the mail box with 35 tablets, he lost consciousness. It was thought he possibly lost a portion of the missing one-and-a-half grain tablets, one of which is a normal dose for an adult.

Postponement Of Anti-Trust Drive Is Seen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10. Indications that the administration intends to postpone new anti-trust legislation until next year increased today.

Representative Rayburn of Texas, the house Democratic leader said that, since congress probably would end its present session about 60 days from now, he doubted it could do more before adjournment than authorize a study of anti-trust law revision.

Time Not Sufficient

He pointed out that the anti-trust laws were adopted in 1890 and had been revised only once since then.

"I should think," the Democratic leader added, "we would want some time to look into a matter of that kind, and 60 days is not very long."

Rayburn made his remarks after a conference at the White House. He said he had discussed only flood control matters with the president however.

Mr. Roosevelt is scheduled to deliver a special message on monopoly to congress before it goes home.

NIGHT SESSIONS PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP) — Administration leaders proposed today that the administration's government reorganization bill be modified and that night senate sessions be held to hasten action on it.

Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky promised to call "night sessions every night next week until we make some progress." He implied that opponents of the measure had resorted to dilatory tactics.

President Roosevelt To Visit Warm Springs Foundation Soon

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—The White House announced today that President Roosevelt would leave the evening of March 22 for a ten-day visit to Warm Springs, Ga.

En route to the Warm Springs foundation which he helped establish for infantile paralysis sufferers and where he has a cottage, the president will spend an hour or so March 23 at Gainesville, Ga. He will deliver an informal address at Gainesville at the long-postponed dedication of "Roosevelt square."

NEW YORK, March 10.—Richard Whitney, five times president of the New York Stock exchange and during Wall Street's most critical years one of its leaders and spokesmen, late today was indicted for grand larceny in the first degree.

The indictment was obtained by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, lightning-swift rackets prosecutor, less than four hours after State Attorney General John J. Bennett, jr., had given Dewey necessary approval.

Goes To Dewey's Office

Whitney, tall and stern, with a Harvard and Groton accent, a yachtsman and member of the city's most exclusive clubs, went with his attorney, Charles H. Tuttle, Republican leader, to Dewey's office to surrender.

Tonight Whitney was admitted to bail of $10,000 in the home of General Sessions Judge William Allen on Morningside drive near the cathedral of St. John the Divine. Formal arraignment will take place tomorrow morning in Allen's court.

The specific charge against him is that he misappropriated between $105,000 and $110,000 from a trust account left to his wife, sister-in-law, Harvard university, and St. Paul's school of Concord, N. H.

Sister-In-Law Complainant

The complaining witness against the former financial leader, was his sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Sheldon Murphy.

Trying to save his brokerage firm from the bankruptcy it petitioned for Tuesday, Whitney, the indictment charges, used funds left in an estate of which he was a co-trustee, leaving only one share of stock of Bethlehem Steel Co., in the

MODERN SPRING TONICS

DON'T let your Spring Song be a sneeze! Don't let your "Melody in F" hit a sour note because you have a "winter hangover." Grandmamma used to bedevil you with bitter dosages of malodorous mixtures known as "spring tonics." (Come now, Eben, take your sulphur!) Now we laugh at Grandmamma but grandmamma had the foundation if not the roof, of a good idea. Come Springtime, we do need a tonic, because we've indoored too much, eaten and drowsed too much. But now we buy our tonics at the grocery store, and find them in the foods we eat.

That sulphur notion of gram's was not all tomfoolery; sulphur, not the "fresh" kind, but that we find present in certain of our vegetables and in dates, for instance, is necessary as are the other minerals, such as calcium and iron, also present in the date. That's why dates are recommended by grocers as the spring tonic. They are gently laxative, and contain the "appetite vitamin," (B) which are real tonic essentials!

Along with your dates, you might need some bulk in addition to the cellulose found in the fruit. Add bran then, and you will have the necessary bulk for regulation purposes. You will want to increase your vitamin intake too, so add the citrus fruits for vitamin C to help ward off "spring fever," and you will want alkalizing help from bananas.

SALAD FOR ST. PAT'S

ST. PAT'S or not, here is a new salad-making idea that will make party or dinner guests sit up and take notice.

Take a small, loose head of lettuce. Cut out the core and hold under a stream of running water to loosen leaves, then chill in bowl of ice water. Remove crispened lettuce and drain. Cut in half and spread tinted cream cheese between the leaves, lifting them carefully. Press head of lettuce together and place in refrigerator to chill. Covering is not necessary when using a modern air-conditioned ice refrigerator because the lettuce will remain crisp and fresh, and the delicate flavor will remain intact in the clean, properly-humidified atmosphere. When thoroughly chilled, cut the lettuce in slices or in wedges and serve with a mound of tunafish salad or fruits.

A BALLOON PARTY

THERE are several new balloon games to amuse children. If they are in a hilarious mood, some of these probably will entertain the older folks, too.

Try a blowing race, with players lined up at one end of the room. Supply every person with an inflated toy balloon, then give orders that each one is to blow or fan his balloon the length of the room to the opposite wall. The player whose balloon touches the opposite wall first, wins.

Also, two guests can be given inflated balloons and milk bottles. Each player places his balloon on the mouth of the bottle. At a given signal, they start running toward the goal (usually the opposite wall), meanwhile balancing the balloons on the bottles. If his balloon falls from the bottle, the player is disqualified. First to reach the goal wins.

GETTING A PERMANENT?

PLANNING to get a permanent? Paste this memo on your mirror: don't do anything to your hair for the two weeks preceeding the permanent except brush it. No washing, no rinsing, no oil treatmnt — just brushing it. A hundred brush strokes every night would be just the thing.

This is the advice of Stani Mars, a New York specialist on permanents. Another recommendation he makes is to wait until you're feeling pretty fit before having your permanent. You should be sure to see that the hairdresser cuts, shapes and washes your hair before he starts on the permanent.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT, if you are cross, lifeless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure.

Why not try LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND!

Colorful Parties Are Given Here

Utilizing the spring motif in floral decorations and the St. Patrick's cheerful green and white colors, current hostesses are making club parties something to be remembered.

Members of the 1911 Needle club were guests of Mrs. George W. Dupree, 2314 Seventeenth street, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Dupree's mother, Mrs. Anderson Hunter of Fort Worth, was a special guest.

The program included knitting and conversation, and the guests looked at Mr. Dupree's collection of pictures.

For Mrs. Donald

A neighborhood party honoring Mrs. Reese C. Donald who recently moved to 2107 Twenty-sixth street, was given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. J. A. Peel, 2106 Twenty-sixth street. Mrs. C. M. Lane assisted.

Games were played and cookies, sandwiches and punch were served.

Others attending were Mesdames E. M. McClure, O. L. Caldwell, Bob Bowron, H. E. Selby, Eugene Wilson, Thomas E. Pirtle, Elmer J. Reed, Lewis T. Lee, W. R. Steckman and Harry Urguette.

New Club Organized

The Energetic club, newly organized group of older women, met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. C. Hopping, 2429 Nineteenth street.

Mrs. W. E. Granberry was elected president of the organization. Mrs. R. H. Ewing was elected vice president, and Mrs. Hopping, secretary-treasurer.

Other charter members include Mesdames Flora Nutt, W. F. Fry, Tom Arnett, Creek Brown, and B. T. Terrell.

The club will meet the second Thursday of each month at 3 o'clock.

Officers were installed at a meeting of the Needle Club Bee with the president, Mrs. J. A. Goodwin, 2204 Tenth street, Wednesday afternoon. Other officers were: Vice-president, Mrs. G. H. Hughett; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ted Zachary; reporter, Mrs. M. M. Page.

Mrs. C. P. Young was received as a member.

Others present were Mesdames L. D. Thomas, C. M. Hawes, I. H. Clements, W. H. McFarland, A. S. Richardson, M. K. Simpson, C. C. Chambers, R. H. Elder, and C. H. Tisdell.

In McLeod Home

Banishes Troublesome, Dingy, Color-Dulling, Hard-Water Scum

If you enjoy keeping your dainty, delicate, expensive things looking fresh, colorful and gay—even after scores of washings—you owe it to yourself to try DREFT—(Process and product patented U. S. letters patent, 1,968,793 to 7 inclusive) the most amazing washing discovery in over 2000 years! For DREFT brings an entirely new conception of how long you can wear lingerie, chiffon hose and fine woolens without seeing them grow dim, dull and lifeless. And the chief reason for this is because DREFT can't possibly form any hard-water "scum."

This "scum" which you always see in your rinse water, is unnoticeable in your wash water—yet it is there, doing its vicious work, wash after wash, dulling the lustre of your sheer lingerie, spotting and streaking silk stockings. And this is true even though you have used what, before the discovery of DREFT, was recognized as the best, most expensive, soap known for washing fine fabrics.

Amazing as this may seem, DREFT ends all this because it can't form scum. And even more amazing, DREFT actually removes the stubborn, clinging scum particles that failed to rinse away in previous soap washings—lets "scum-dulled" colors come up to their true brilliance. You'll be thrilled to see the delicate colors and feel the silky softness of your sheerest stockings "wash back" in DREFT suds.

5 Times Greater Suds

In addition, DREFT does these three remarkable things no single soap has ever done, or can do now:

Makes 5 times greater suds than any soap in the hardest water.

By comparison DREFT makes even the purest soap you have ever known seem harsh—because DREFT suds contain no alkali. Alkali in soapsuds is what fades colors. DREFT suds are the only suds you can get that do not contain alkali. You'll be astonished how, wash after wash, silk stockings actually seem like new when you use DREFT. It's economical too. For instance, in hard water, you need only use half as much DREFT as you would the finest soap flakes. We don't ask you to take our word for these amazing claims. Prove them for yourself at our risk.

Take Advantage of 1c Sale Today

Please take special notice that this unusual 1¢ bargain sale is limited. You can only get 1¢ DREFT while your dealer's stock lasts. Remember to get DREFT today. Your money back if you're not satisfied. Act quickly and avoid disappointment.

Spring Activities Of College Groups Result In Busy Social Calendar

Two traditional dances will be given tonight from 9 until 12 o'clock on the Texas Technological college campus. They are the freshman class dance to be given in the gymnasium and the annual stagette dance to be given by the Press club in the men's dormitory.

Some of the male attendants at the stagette dance may receive surprises undreamed of Friday night when their girl friends call for them and assume the responsibility for all expenses during the evening.

She'll "Stick Him"

A familiar phrase floating around is that, "I am going to take him to the stagette dance for an hour, then buy him a sandwich and something to drink. Then I am going to make him take me to the dance in the gymnasium. After it is over, I'll really stick him."

The stagette event has been a regular tradition of the club for a number of years, and gives the college man a sample of what Miss Coed must endure for three hours at any ordinary dance; that is, if Joe College is the recipient of many "tags" during the evening.

A number of men have been heard to say, "I'm really afraid to go, for I might not get tagged, and I don't like to think of anyone's making a wall-flower out of me."

In Gymnasium

Freshman president Mack Barnes has announced the following decoration committee preparing for the class dance: Miss Helen Ann Cantrell, chairman, James Snyder, Lee Perry, Miss Lucille Winter and Miss Majorie Burrow.

Miss Geraldine Crow of Albany, who last week was selected as one of the prettiest girls on the campus, will reign as queen of the dance.

Initiate Ten Girls

A formal initiation service was conducted by Las Vivarachas club, women's social organization at Texas Technological college, Wednesday night at the home of Miss Ruth Pirtle, club sponsor, 2413 Broadway.

The ten new members who were initiated and several pledges will be presented at an annual formal presentation dance to be given from 9 to 12 o'clock Saturday night in the Auditorium.

Miss Marian Hurmence, club president, administered the membership oath. Miss Eloise Jackson presented prospective members to the president. The candlelight ceremony was ended with singing of "Violets", club song.

The following were received as members: Misses Annie Rooney, Beryl Duff, Inez Davis, Doris Anderson, Ina Leach, Esta Fay Deen, Nancy Phillips, Marjorie Burrow, Sue McAdoo, and Frances McCargo. Club members present were Misses Wynefred Warren, Joyce Craven, Kay McCoy, Hurmence, Jackson, Merle Houston, Catherine Collier, Geraldine Gibson, Helen Brown, Dorothy Lofland, Birdie Fae Partain, Emily Teeple, Mildred Morris, Mary Katherine Neal, and Opal McMahon.

Officers Elected

Miss Merle Haynes, junior arts and science student from Hobbs, N. M., will head D. F. D., girls' social organization at Texas Technological college, next year. She succeeds Miss Linda Treadwell, Menard, retiring president.

Other officers elected in a business session Wednesday night are Miss Mary Price, Pampa, vice president; Miss Hazel Ann Wilson, Lubbock, secretary; Miss Marie Shock, Sweetwater, business manager; Miss Virginia Knapp, Lubbock, assistant business manager; Misses Franke Cocke and Winifred Piner, Liberty and Big Spring, respectively, rush captains; Miss Mary Louise Inkman, Big Spring, sargeant-at-arms; and Miss Romayne Dodson, Chillicothe, representative to the Inter-Club council.

Fourteen new members and 4 pledges will be presented March 26 at the club's annual formal dance at the auditorium.

Several Programs Interest Women

Several women's study groups have had interesting mid-week programs.

"Book in the Home" was subject of discussion, led by Mrs. L. H. Hungate, at a meeting of the Lubbock Woman's club Thursday afternoon. Roll call was answered with "The Book I Wish I Might Have Written." Discussions included: "Best Books for the Home Book Case," Mrs. C. E. Thompson; paper prepared by Mrs. N. S. McBride on "The Magic of Books," Mrs. J. E. Hamilton, and "What Literature Can Do For Me," Mrs. Louis Murfee.

Fifteen members and a guest, Mrs. O. Hillyard, were present.

Master Craftsmen Studied

Llano Estacado chapter of the Delphian society, meeting in the Tech engineering auditorium Thursday morning heard discussions on the life and works of four master craftsmen of painting. Mrs. J. I. Kilpatrick was leader.

Topics discussed were the following: Anders Zorn, Mrs. Sherrill Boyd; Joaquin Sorolla, Mrs. A. M. Leftwich, jr., John Singer Sargent, Mrs. Frank Gaines, Paul Albert Besnard, Mrs. J. Sam Lewis.

Mrs. George W. Soash gave a critic's report.

In Temple Home

The A. A. U. W. Dramatic unit met with Mrs. M. D. Temple, 2014 Sixteenth street Wednesday night. Mrs. Jesse Q. Sealey read "Little Willie, the Angel Child." Mrs. Garland E. Davis discussed and demonstrated character make-up and gave an account of a theatrical column written by Burns Mantle.

Fourteen women were present.

Miss Olga Rogers Is Honored In Home Of Mrs. Dagley

Miss Ola Rogers, who is to be married to Tommy Haley, April 2, was honored when Mrs. M. L. Dagley, 2224 Eighteenth street, was hostess with a miscellaneous shower Wednesday night. Mrs. Dagley was assisted by Mesdames Estelle Payton and Jack Allred.

After the presentation of gifts, refreshments were served to Mesdames J. H. Hackfield, Florence Gentry, Jack Rutledge, Carl McFarland, Lena McElroy, Misses Lois Patton and Naomi Phillips.

AT MONROE MEET

Miss Clara Pratt, county home demonstration agent, demonstrated the baking of an angel food cake at a meeting of the Monroe club in the home of Mrs. A. L. Paubion, Tuesday afternoon.

In her demonstration, Miss Pratt stressed the importance of a moist and resilient texture, a tender crust, and a symmetrical shape.

Delegates to the District Home Demonstration association March 12 will be Mesdames D. A. Atkins, a new member, Elmer Edwards, John McGuine, and Faubion.

Mrs. K. P. Shannon, hostess, served ice cream with the cake to the following members; Mesdames Atkins, Erby Norman, McGuine, Edwards, and Dick Norman.

EQUIPMENT DISCUSSED

Poultry equipment was discussed at a meeting of the Becton 4-H club Wednesday at the school. Mrs. John King, sponsor, told members that cleanliness was very essential in raising chicks.

"Feeding and drinking equipment should be the type that is easily cleaned," said Mrs. King.

The club will entertain Friday night at the home of Mrs. Joe Becton. Each club member will contribute eggs to raise money for the club.

All members were present at the meeting.

TWENTY-SEVEN ATTEND

Twenty-seven members attended the meeting of the Posey Woman's Missionary society Tuesday in the home of a Mrs. Clifton at Posey.

Mrs. George Green, president of the Slaton W. M. S., presided. Rev. S. H. Crockett, pastor of the Posey Methodist church was also present.

After a brief business session, the hostess directed a Bible study from Leviticus.

Mrs. Mac Klattenhoff will be hostess to the group March 22. Mesdames Sam and Mert Gentry, and a Mrs. Burleson will be in charge of the program.

P-TA Groups Meet At Own Schools

Two parent-teacher associations met separately Thursday afternoon for business and programs.

Seventy-five persons attended the Junior High unit meeting in the school auditorium. State by-laws, read by Mrs. S. B. Haynes, chairman of the by-laws committee, were approved and other reports included:

Safety commission, Mrs. E. L. Butler, and purchasing of band uniforms, Carroll Thompson, principal. The association voted to send the president, Mrs. H. S. Weiss, to a 14th district P.-T. A. convention in Floydada, April 8 and 9.

The program included motion pictures of Colorado, California and Mexico scenes shown by G. P. Kuykendall and three numbers played by the school orchestra, directed by Miss Beulah Dunn.

A nominating committee was elected as follows: Mrs. Haynes, chairman, and Mesdames Carl York and Ralph Bedford. Mr. Thompson will assist the committee.

At Sanders School

Mrs. C. C. Schmidt talked on "Beautifying the Surroundings of the Home, School and the Community" at a meeting of the Sanders unit at the school. The program included a playlet, "King of Good Teeth," presented by 18 pupils of Miss Marian Bray. Mrs. B. E. Needles discussed a proposed organization of a garden club in the Sanders neighborhood.

Rooms taught by Mrs. Winnie Lee Holloway and Miss Beulah Starnes tied for the first floor attendance prise. Second floor prize went to Mrs. E. B. Speck's room.

IN CREWS HOME

Mrs. J. T. Edgar was hostess to the Stide Needle club in the home of Mrs. H. W. Crews, near Lubbock, Tuesday afternoon.

After needle work a refreshment course was served to Miss Tessie Collins and Mrs. E. H. Wright, guests, and the following members: Mesdames A. L. Smith, H. H. Stokes, S. R. Jerden, Lee Rieger, Floyd Harris, Lonnie Williams, W. B. Copeland, Charles Taylor, J. L. Drury, Russell Haynes, and Jewel Koontz.

Slight Decline In Production Of Gas In January Reported

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP) — The Railroad commission reported today January production of dry gas averaged 2,032,754,000 cubic feet daily and casing head gas production averaged 975,412,000, a slight decline under the previous month.

Disposition of all gas included 4.4 per cent for extraction loss in gasoline plants, 13.92 to plant fuel-lease operation, 8.41 vented to the air, 28.81 to carbon black plants, 41.91 to pipe lines for interstate and intrastate distribution and 2.48 to gas lift and repressuring.

Project Nearer Realization

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 8. — A federal project costing about $50,000,000 to restrain the ordinarily "inch-deep" Red river from occasional disastrous overflow in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana appeared today nearer to realization.

Two developments quickened hopes of proponents of the Denison dam project on the stream that separates Texas and Oklahoma and winds on through Louisiana into the Mississippi. They were:

To Submit Report

Announcement by army engineers that they were nearly ready to submit to congress a final report, with recommendations, based on an analysis of a preliminary study of the dam proposal made by field engineers from Vicksburg, Miss., last year.

The report, which first must go to the secretary of war and later to the president, was held up somewhat, the engineers said, by the recent Red river rampages, altering the stream's course.

The second development came from the office of Representative Rayburn (D-Tex), the Democratic majority leader in the house. An aide said Rayburn would insist that the Denison dam be included in any new flood control act drafted at this session of congress.

Rayburn has held conferences recently with Chairman Whittington (D-Miss) of the house flood control committee on the prospects of a new flood control act. The preliminary investigation of the Denison dam undertaking was authorized in the 1936 omnibus flood control act.

Field engineers reported favorably on the proposal when their surveys were completed. Army engineers explained today their final report would be confidential until after the secretary of war and the president had studied it.

Kershner Funeral Is Conducted Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. LaVerne Kershner, 48, who died Wednesday afternoon at her home of a heart ailment and complications, were read Thursday afternoon at First Christian church with Rev. H. G. Gantz, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Lubbock cemetery with Rix Funeral home in charge.

The Kershner family moved to Lubbock in 1923 and eight years ago Mrs. Kershner established a floral company which she managed until ill health prevented active participation. She has been an active member of the First Christian Women's council, a number of study clubs, interested in parent-teacher association projects and had assisted in the women's division of the Panhandle-South Plains fair fo years.

McNinch Says 'Separation' Of Two Corporations Proposed

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP) — Frank R. McNinch, chairman of the Federal Communications commission, told reporters today he had heard that the report on the commission's long investigation of the American Telephone and Telegraph company setup recommended a "separation" of the Western Electric company from the A. T. & T., but that he had not as yet seen the report.

Want to Know Why You're Constipated?

Would you give a million to shake off that dull, dopey, played-out feeling that often comes with common constipation? Then stop a minute and think.

What have you had to eat this week? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? Probably the reason you're constipated is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean how much you eat. It means a kind of food that isn't entirely digested, but leaves a soft, bulky mass in the intestine which helps a bowel movement.

What to do? Eat some Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day. This crunchy toasted cereal is not only rich in "bulk"—it also contains both the intestinal tonic vitamin B, and iron.

Eat All-Bran every day and drink plenty of water. See if you don't get off your heels and on your toes! Kellogg's All-Bran is sold by every grocer.

United States Sells More And Buys Less Goods From Other Nations In January

Exports Higher Than For 1937

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The United States sold more goods to and bought less goods from every section of the world in January than in the same month last year.

The commerce department said today January exports totaled $289,437,000, compared with $222,665,000 in January, 1937. Imports dropped from $240,252,000 to $170,763,000.

Trade On Agreements

The department's monthly report also showed for the first time how trade was divided between countries with which the United States has reciprocal trade agreements and those countries without agreements. The innovation was prompted by popular interest in the new agreement with Czechoslovakia and the pending negotiations with Great Britain.

Compared with the same month last year, January exports to agreement countries increased from $81,685,000 to $97,813,000, while exports to non-agreement countries increased from $140,979,000 to $191,624,000. Imports form agreement countries decreased from $97,609,000 to $74,122,000 and imports from non-agreement countries dropped from $142,843,000 to $96,641,000.

Britain Buys More

The United Kingdom, largest American customer, increased its January purchases from $35,253,000 to $52,887,000 while reducing its sales to America from $18,400,000 to $9,572,000.

France was one of the few major countries to buy less goods in the United States in January than in the same month last year while Czechoslovakia was one of the few to sell more here this year than last year.

China Boosts Purchas...

Even war-torn China boosted its American purchases from $6,619,000 to $7,900,000. Japan, however, reduced its purchases from $22,363,000 to $20,410,000. Both countries sold less to the United States. Chinese sales fell from $6,883,000 to $4,507,000. Japanese sales declined from $17,683,000 to $11,496,000.

The January figures failed to reflect the sharply restrictive effects of the new Mexican tariff. They became effective about January 20. Because of heavy Mexican purchases of goods before the tariff was increased, Mexican purchases for the month increased from $7,031,000 to $8,147,000.

American purchases of Mexican goods declined from $5,089,000 to $4,130,000.

Northwest Texas Stockman Select Name For Herefords

AMARILLO, March 10. (AP) — Northwest Texas stockmen have given their herefords—purebred and commercial kinds—a trade name. They decided to call the cattle "Panhandle Herefords."

Speaker Here Tonight

MRS. JULIA A. SHARP

Mrs. Julia A. Sharp, lecturer who discusses the national Townsend organization and who is on a national tour addressing mass meetings on taxes, will speak in Lubbock at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the 99th distrct courtroom.

"Taxes and the Way out of the Depresson" will be her subject.

Mrs. Sharp formerly was engaged in newspaper work in El Paso. She later entered politics and served 10 years under Sheriff Seth B. Orndorff, El Paso county, as office deputy and assistant to the chief deputy.

She was state and district manager for the Woodman Circle, Fraternal Brotherhood and other organizations and clubs several years.

Warning Given Texas Cattlemen

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, March 10. — Southwestern cattlemen were warned today to prepare in the years of plenty for the lean years "that will surely come again."

Dwight P. Reordan, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit bank at Houston, said the men who "reach the top are the ones who can remember the hard lessons that hard times taught.

"No cattleman can hope to realize a net profit every year of his operations—it simply is not that kind of business."

Sneed Elected President

Reordan spoke on the program of the closing day of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association convention.

J. T. Sneed of Amarillo, was elected president. Other officers elected were Richard King of Corpus Christi, first vice-president; Jay Taylor, Amarillo, second vice-president; John N. Sparks of Fort Worth, treasurer, and Henry Bell of Fort Worth, re-elected secretary.

Houston was awarded the next meeting.

Mary Queen of Scots became queen of Scotland when only a week old.

Many European Capitals To Sleep Sweeter These Nights After Rumors Confirmed That Notorious Bela Kun Is In Russian Jail

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Writer

NEW YORK, March 10.—Many a European capital will be sleeping the sweeter these nights because the Moscow treason trial appears to have confirmed rumors that the notorious Bela Kun, one of the most fearsome figures ever produced by communism or any other "ism," is in a Russian prison cell and so no longer free to roam.

For a score of years Bela Kun has been a terroristic will-o-the-wisp—a nighthawk, swooping and striking here and there under cover of darkness so rapidly that rarely have the anxious authorities caught up with him. Whenever mysterious red-hell has broke loose, people have shivered and muttered "Bela Kun."

An Insult In Hungary

In Hungary, native land, whose soil was drenched with blood during his dictatorship in 1919, his name came into popular use as a term of insult.

The last heard of Bela Kun's adventures outside Russia was in the fall of 1936. Portugal charged that the Soviet had sent him to Spain to assist the red loyalist government against the Fascist insurgents.

Then came a rumor he had been arrested in Russia on a charge of sabotaging the organization of an anti-Fascist front. When his name was coupled with that of Nicolai Bukharin, on of the accused in the present Moscow treason trial, it was taken as indicating that Bela Kun was indeed in prison awaiting despostion of some accusation against him.

One Of The Old Guard

Bela Kun is one of the old guard of communism—a colleague of Lenin and Trotsky. He is 51 years old by the calendar and 50 in revolutionary experience.

As early as 1909 young Bela Kun was leader of the left wing socialists in Hungary. When the World war came he joined the Austro-Hungarian forces and fought until he was captured by the Russians in 1916 and sent to Siberia.

Organized Terroristic Rule

Bela Kun's greatest notoriety rests in his organization and leadership of the terroristic regime in Hungary in 1919. This lasted for 133 days of horror. As virtual dictator he issued a proclamation that "blood shall flow to protect the Soviet"—and it did.

More than 1,000 people were executed in that brief period. When Hungary finally tried Bela Kun, in his absence, after the collapse of his revolt, it was stated that the testimony tended to connect him with 236 murders and nineteen robberies. He also was accused of diverting some 200,000,000 crowns to propaganda for communism.

Good Balance In Funds Of State

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 10.—Texas' approximately 100 funds had a net balance of $27,124,292 at the end of last month, State Treasurer Charley Lockhart reported today.

Contributions of teachers to their pension fund had passed the million dollar mark. The figure was $1,071,488.

As usual, funds with the largest balances were local road bond indebtedness, $9,020,983; state highway, $7,792,747 and permanent school $4,536,987.

The only deficits were: general fund, $14,566,554; Confederate pension, $4,287,352, and old age pension, $564,636.

Heaviest Sentence Is Assessed Only Woman In Election Fraud

KANSAS CITY, March 10. (AP)—Mrs. Frances Ryan, only woman ward leader in the T. J. Pendergast Democratic organization, was given the heaviest sentence of nine vote fraud defendants who appeared today before Federal Judge Merrill E. Otis.

He sentenced her to three years in a federal reformatory and fined her $500.

Counting Of Ballots In BCD Election Is To Be Delayed

A delay of several days in counting of votes in election today of five chamber of commerce directors was deemed probable by officials of the organization Thursday. Polls will close at 6 o'clock.

Two circumstances have caused the decision to delay. One is the absence from the city of Ray F. Hinchey, chairman of the committee which will supervise the count. The other is the fact that the next regular meeting of the city commission will not be held until March 24. From the 15 nominees, the commission will select five to six year terms on the chamber board.

If the count is delayed, as planned, the ballot box will be sealed until it is opened by Hinchey, A. W. May and O. J. Sexton, members of the election committee.

DIVIDENDS ARE DECLARED

HOUSTON, March 10. (AP) — The Reed Roller Bit company today declared a regular quarterly dividend of 20 cents a share and 10-cent extra dividend payable March 31 to stockholders of record on March 19.

TEXAS SELECTS THE BEST

The dust hangs thick upon the trail
And the horns and the hoofs are clashing,
While off at the side through the chaparral
The men and the strays go crashing;
But in right good cheer the cowboy sings,
For the work of the fall is ending,
And then it's ride for the old home ranch
Where a maid love's light is tending.

Then it's crack! crack! crack!
On the beef steer's back,
And it's run, you slow-foot devil;
For I'm soon to turn back where through the black
Love's lamp gleams along the level.

He's trailed them far o'er the trackless range,
Has this knight of the saddle leather;
He has risked his life in the mad stampede,
And has breasted all kinds of weather.
But now is the end of the trail in sight,
And the hours on wings are sliding;
For it's back to the home and the only girl
When the foreman O K's the option.

Then it's quirt! quirt! quirt!
And it's run or git hurt,
You hang-back, bawlin' critter.
For a man who's in love with a turtle dove

—from SONG OF THE CATTLE TRAIL.

From the huge expanse of lands little better than a trackless range to the Texas of today, with its mighty cities, is a huge step in accomplishment, albeit a relatively short one in point of time. It is a matter of intense pride with the Duncan Coffee Company, a wholly Texas institution, that its product, Admiration Coffee, should rank first in coffee sales in the mighty state of Texas. Such marked preference is proof of Admiration's goodness. And it should be good, because it is blended only from the choicest coffees, roasted to a dark richness, packed in moisture-proof containers and rushed to the point of purchase by fast truck. Won't you try it?

Ickes Accuses Power Company Head Of Conspiring Against PWA On Projects

Willkie Subject Of Criticism

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10. — A new quarrel between Secretary of the Interior Ickes and Wendell Willkie, private power executive, threatened tonight to balk attempts to end strife between TVA and the electricity industry in the Tennessee valley.

Ickes accused Willkie of trying to start a "conspiracy" to shut off Public Works administration grants for municipal power projects; Willkie promptly replied that Ickes' charge was "silly."

Whether peace negotiations between Willkie, the head of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, and the Tennessee Valley authority, would be carried through despite the new row was not immediately clear.

Quarrel Near Showdown

The quarrel has no connection, direct at least, with the internal troubles in the TVA directorate. The latter quarrel appeared tonight to be near a showdown.

President Roosevelt has summoned TVA's chairman, Arthur Morgan and his bitter opponents, David Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan, to his office tomorrow and cite facts to bolster their charges against each other. The charges include bad faith and obstructive tactics.

Inquiry Being Urged

Pending the outcome, the senate held in abeyance the question or ordering an investigation to TVA, either by the Federal Trade commission, or by a special senate committee. Friends of TVA, with powerful senate support, are urging that the inquiry be made by the trade commission.

Secretary Ickes' ire had been aroused by a statement Willkie made in connection with peace negotiations between TVA and private power. TVA Director Lilienthal had invited Willkie to a conference March 15 in Chattanooga to discuss possible sale to the government, or to municipalities, of the power facilities with which TVA is in competition.

Willkie Makes Stipulation

Willkie accepted, provisionally, but stipulated that the Public Works administration, which is headed by Ickes, should bring its municipal power program to a "standstill."

Ickes, in a letter to Mayor Watkins Overton of Memphis, who had inquired about PWA policy, flatly refused today to stop the PWA program.

"Having failed completely to prove his case to the courts," Ickes said, "Mr. Willkie now, in effect, asks us to "conspire" with him and to refuse to carry out our obligations to the cities in order that he may negotiate with TVA.

Has Had Five Years

"Mr. Willkie has had five years in which to negotiate but he chose to exhaust every legal technicality in his efforts to thwart the government's policy. Now that he has been beaten at every hand, he asks the government to act in bad faith with the cities."

Willkie replied:

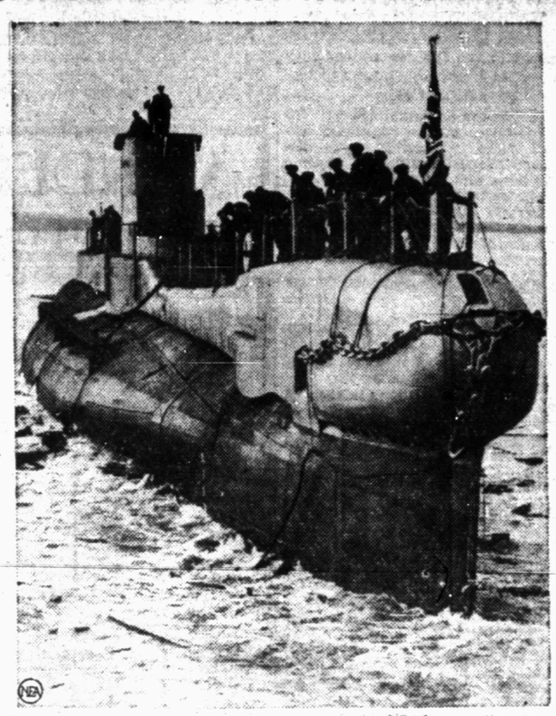

"Mr. Ickes apparently forgets that I first offered to sell the commonwealth properties in the Tennessee Valley area to the TVA in 1934, and reoffered to sell them to the President of the United States in 1935."

That was long before power companies lost their fight in the Supreme court against the PWA loans, Willkie pointed out.

"The simplest request which I am making in regard to PWA loans," he said, "is that during the negotiations for the purchase of the property they be held in abeyance.

"All the litigation which the power companies have brought has been because of inability to work out the problem with the federal authorities."

Great Britain Launches A 1090-Ton Submarine

The new 1090-ton British submarine Triumph resembles some great monster of the deep as she slides into the water at Barrowin-Furness, England. The Triumph carries a four-inch gun and six torpedo tubes. Launched along with the vessel at high tide were two smaller submarines designed especially for quick diving.

Jessie F. McKinney Dies On Thursday

Jessie F. McKinney, 45, of 212 Avenue U died at his home at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning after an illness of about three months.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Sanders chapel with a Lubbock Church of God minister in charge. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery with Sanders Funeral home officiating.

McKinney had lived here nine years.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Lucille McKinney of Lubbock; a stepdaughter, Mattie Ford of Lubbock, a stepson L. L. Clark of Lubbock, and two brothers and sisters.

PREPARE FOR SESSION

DALLAS, March 10 (AP)—Dr. N. L. Hemner, chairman of the arrangements committee, announces chemists from several north and central Texas cities are aiding the Dallas chapter in preparing for the convention of the American Chemical society here April 18-22, inclusive. It will be the first convention of the society in Texas.

Scientific papers by members of the society will occupy various divisional meetings after the first general session April 18.

Mrs. L. J. King Is To Be Buried In Hale Center This Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. L. J. King, 77, who died of influenza Thursday, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Hale Center First Methodist church.

Rev. W. E. Peterson of the Lubbock Asbury Methodist church will officiate, assisted by Rev. C. J. McCary of the Lubbock Calvary Baptist church. Burial will be in Center Plains cemetery in Hale county under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Mrs. King, who had been ill five days, died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Mattie Rawls, 1709 Avenue G.

Mrs. King is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Maude Linthicum of Glendale, Calif., Mrs. Ran Smith and Mrs. Rawls of Lubbock; four sons, J. W. of Dallas, J. C. of Plainview, L. of Hale Center, and R. V. of Riverside, Calif. All will attend the funeral except the son and daughter living in California.

Teachers Are To Attend Session

One hundred and fifty-six teachers of the Lubbock Public schools will attend the West Texas Teachers convention which opens in Big Spring this morning. All city schools were given a holiday so that teachers might attend the meeting today and tomorrow, Superintendent W. B. Irvin said.

In addition to the teachers seven principals of local schools will be at the meeting.

Stanford Man To Speak

Dr. J. Paul Leonard of Leland Stanford university will be the main speaker for the convention. He will give the opening address this morning at 10 o'clock on "What Do We Mean by Freedom?" At a symposium this morning on "The New Curriculum in Prospect and in Retrospect" Dr. A. W. Evans of Texas Tech, Lubbock City Superintendent W. B. Irvin, and Lubbock County Superintendent J. R. Griggs will take part.

Following luncheon meetings for the various sections the convention will be divided into intermediate primary and high school groups for meetings.

Public school teachers who will take part on the program other than Irvin are: Charles Fike, Mrs. Pearl Watson, Dr. Agnes True, Miss Opal Sloan, R. W. Matthews, Carroll Thompson, D. M. Howell, John R. Freeman, Mrs. Ross Ayers, Carl H. Willingham, Floyd Honey, and Mrs. Ed Terrell.

Only general sessions will be conducted Saturday.

Tech Delegation Going

A delegation from the Tech economics and business administration department will attend this afternoon and will invite teachers of commercal work to hold their May conference in Lubbock. Those going from the department will be Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, T. C. Root, Mrs. J. W. Jackson, E. H. Plank, and Haskell Taylor.

Supt. B. F. Minor of Levelland is secretary-treasurer of the association.

Eleven Youths From Hawaii Have Task Of Flying U.S. Flag On New Possessions In Mid-Pacific; Get $3 A Day And Expenses

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Four hundred cans of Hawaiian poi, the nucleus of a poultry farm and drums of drinking water went to the mid-Pacific islands of Canton and Enderbury with America's newest colonists.

The colonists are 11 youths from Hawaii, who will keep the American flag flying while Great Britain and the United States settle their claims as to which owns the tiny coral strands.

Face No Hardships

Seven of the boys are on Canton island and four on Enderbury. Interior department officials predicted today they would face none of the traditional hardships of colonization but loneliness.

Except for several carpenters who went along to hasten dwelling construction, their only companions for the next three months will be South Sea birds, island rats and hermit crabs.

A state department official, after reading the British note reserving rights to occupation, said he belived a solution of the ownership problem could be reached. The note was said to evidence a desire for settlement.

Black Heads Group

Interior department officials communicated yesterday by radio with their Honolulu representative, Richard B. Black, who headed the occupation expedition.

In lieu of information to the contrary, they assumed a New Zealand expedition which visited the islands last May had departed and that two American flags deposited on Canton at the same time by the National Geographical society's Eclipse expedition, were still there.

Following London dispatches which mentioned the possibility of a British proposal for joint control over the islands, officials studied precedents for such an action.

They were particularly interested in the case of the New Hebrides islands, which might be suggested by the British as an example.

The New Hebrides, lying 500 miles west of the Fiji islands, have been operated efficiently under joint Anglo-French control since 1906.

Meanwhile the colonists will draw $3 a day and all expenses.

The vice president and members of the cabinet receive a salary of $15,000 a year.

Highway Department Completes Plans For Additional Projects

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP) — The highway department completed plans today for a dozen projects which will be submitted to bids March 22 together with 19 items already advertised.

The additions, by counties, included:

Taylor, highway 1, 5 miles grading and stabilizing shoulders from Abilene west.

Wichita and Archer, highway 24, 19.5 miles grading and small drainage structures from 2.9 miles west of Archer City to near Wichita county line.

Archer, highway 25, constructing large drainage structures between Archer City and Wichita county line.

West Texas Rabbits Should Dread Election Years; Drives And Electioneering Combined

BALLINGER, March 10. (AP) —West Texas cottontail and jackrabbits should dread election year. In Runnels county rabbit drives are held almost as often as pie and ice cream suppers in election campaigns, and candidates always are present to pursue votes while pursuing the bunnies. The original design for this type of electioneering has been forgotten, but one oldtimer said it either was to discourage running for office, or to improve candidates' "wind."

Hartley Is Changing Economy Into Farmer-Stockman Plan

CHANNING, March 10. (AP) — Hartley county is steadily changing its agricultural economy into a farmer-stockman set-up, the type that state and federal farm experts have urged since 1932 says County Agent J. S. Coleman. Wheat acreage in 1933 was 95,000 and last fall was 75,000. In the same period grain sorghum acreage and farmer - stockman operations throughout the county increased 15 to 18 per cent Coleman said.

Farmers who have most of their land under the plow are turning enough of it back to grass to accommodate the farmer-stockman set-up Coleman said. Hartley county farmers in 1936 turned back about 1,000 acres; 3,600 last year and this year are asking help, Coleman said; in turning back 15,000 acres. The 1937 AAA farm program showed that the county had 223,000 acres of plowed land.

Bond Issue Up In Hobbs Vote

HOBBS, N. M., March 10. (Special)—Issuance of $89,000 in bonds for erection of a modern junior high school building to replace the present structure will be decided Friday by Hobbs voters.

Acting on a petition signed by 254 taxpayers, the city council voted to call the election. Election officials were named.

The building would be located south of the present location.

The board has employed M. C. Butler, Lubbock architect, to draw the plans. The building would have about 20 rooms, each 33 feet long and larger than the ordinary room. Capacity would be 640 pupils.

The board will have about $23,000 in addition to the bond money, making a total of $112,000 for the structure.

Bids For Paving Five Blocks In Levelland To Be Opened

LEVELLAND, March 10.—Bids for paving five blocks in the business section will be opened by the city commission on March 28. Blocks of asphalt with a caliche base is the type selected.

Harry N. Roberts, city engineer, estimated the cost to be $12,541.05.

Streets east, south and west of the courthouse and a block north on Avenue G and H are to be paved.

Property owners along Houston street plan to top three blocks where the state highway department did not pave the entire street. The state highway commission announced a double coating of asphalt would be spread on the 24-foot loop through town.

Unified Policy Of Water Control And Development Suggested By Committee

Congress Given Report By FDR

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Total outlays of $2,111,091,000 on federal and non-federal projects were recommended by the National Resources committee today in a report sent to congress by President Roosevelt.

The president, in his letter of transmittal, described the report as a "comprehensive national plan for the conservation and development of our water resources."

Communities To Share

The report recommended use of $891,091,000 on primarily federal projects and $1,200,000,000 on non-federal developments in which local communities would share in the cost.

"I recommend careful study of these documents by the congress," the president said, "because they present a frame of reference for legislative programs affecting water conservation, and because they illustrate an approach to the systematic husbandry of our natural resources on a democratic, regional basis."

Unified Policy Recommended

The report proposed a six-year construction and investigation program for the utilization and conservation of the nation's water resources and a unified policy of water control and development.

The president told the congress the report was in accordance with his message of August 13, 1937, when he vetoed a senate resolution authorizing the drafting by army engineer of a board flood control plan. In that veto he said the "local and regional basis" of planning was ignored.

Based On Findings

Mr. Roosevelt said the proposals recommended by the resources committee were based upon findings of 45 joint state-federal basin committees composed of more than 500 local state and federal officials.

"The proposals in the report," he said, "provide a guide for authorizations of surveys and construction of irrigation, flood control, navigation, rural water supply, wild life conservation, beach erosion control, hydro-electric power, and other water projects.

Many Projects Not Included

"Because it was necessary to confine the program to projects that are primarily for water control and use, many related land-use projects are not included."

He said the "preferred water projects" had met the test of conformity to a general regional program and although they were covered in a six-year program, their completion would have to be determined by the condition of the budget.

"The six-year program suggested in the report," he said, "should be read in the light of budgetary requirements, and must, of course, be adjusted each year to correspond with budget recommendations and with action by the congress."

Plans Revised Annually

Asserting water plans should be revised annually, the president added:

"Changing public interests, first in navigation, then in irrigation, and then in flood control, water power or pollution, has produced a collection of unrelated water policies. The recommendations in this report define in broad strokes an integrated water policy for the country as a whole. Such a federal water policy is needed."

FSA Advisory Committees Of Two States To Confer

DALLAS, March 10. (AP)—Oklahoma and Texas advisory committeemen for the Farm Security administration will meet here Saturday.

C. M. Evans, regional director, said needs and plans of the FSA will be riscussed with project managers and district supervisors.

Clarence Roberts, Oklahoma City, heads the Oklahoma committee. A. G. (Pat) Mayse, Paris, is chairman of the Texas committee. This will be the first joint meeting of the state committees.

REPORT NEW SCHOOL

PLAINS.—Reports are in circulation here that the Sligo community, in the south part of the county and in the midst of oil development, has planned a $35,000 school building. It is to be ready by the time school opens.

Second 'Forum' For Texas Politics Puts In Its Appearance

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—A second "Forum" has found a place among Texas political publications.

It is "Farmer's Texas Forum," to be published at Waco in the interest of the gubernatorial candidacy of Rep. Clarence E. Farmer of Fort Worth. The Ferguson Forum, edited by former Gov. James E. Ferguson, has been circulating for many years.

The first issue of the new "Forum" states that it "comes to aid the aged, the farmer, the trucker and to help Texas prosper." Farmer, who will have state campaign headquarters at Waco, favors liberal old age pensions and removal of the 7,000-pound truck load limit.

RESPONSIBILITY ACCEPTED

ALEXANDRIA, La., March 10. (AP) The Louisiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, adopted resolution today making Centenary college of Shreveport a definite responsibility of the conference.

The conference, likewise, agreed to accept responsibility for liquidation of the college's $300,000 debt.

Rayburn Says He 'Presumes' Red River Project Approved

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—Representative Rayburn (D-Tex) after a White House conference today said he "presumed" the $54,000,000 Red River improvement project, including a dam at Denison, Tex., had been approved for inclusion in an omnibus flood control authorization bill.

Checking up on the status of the project with President Roosevelt, Rayburn told reporters the report on it from the army engineers had "passed over" the president's desk and he presumed it had been returned to the secretary of war for transmission to congress.

Liquor Package Store Operator Is Shot To Death Near Waco

WACO, March 10. (AP) — Elzie Johnson, 40, liquor package store operator, was shot to death early today at a boarding house at West.

Justice of the Peace Louis Garrison said the shooting followed an argument with an employe about an automobile. The employe was held here, where Assistant District Attorney Harold O. Clark said charges probably would be filed.

Additional Federal Judges Are Recommended In Revised Bill

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP) — A senate judiciary subcommittee reported to the full committee today a revised omnibus bill for appointment of additional judges.

Left in the bill were proposals for appointment of one additional district judge in each of these districts: Eastern Louisiana, Western Louisiana and southern Texas.

The revised bill also retains provision for one additional judge in the fifth circuit, which comprises Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and Canal Zone.

RENAME SCHOOL MEN

City Commission Moves To Speed Paving; Two Additional Miles Designated

Loans Will Be Made On Work

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

Two steps designed to insure that paving will start without loss of time in the spring and then will continue without financial interruptions featured the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon.

To insure the earliest possible start, the city commission authorized Mayor Ross Edwards to negotiate loans as needed but not to exceed $20,000 total, payable within at least six months at 4 per cent annual interest. The money will be repaid from collections of paving certificates, which are the obligations given by property owners to secure the payment of paving bordering their holdings.

Pay Six Per Cent

The certificates pay the city 6 per cent interest, but are not collectable until the paving has been completed. Thus, collections can begin from property on several streets on which curb, gutter and sand basing have been placed during the winter as soon as the relatively small task of spreading asphalt is completed. However, asphalt of the type used here cannot be spread except during cold weather. For that reason, the topping is delayed until the city is reasonably sure that seasonal cold weather is at an end.

City Manager W. H. Rodgers told the commission that the loan should make possible the creation of a revolving fund which will insure that the paving program can be continued without interruption. The continuous outlay of money to carry on paving, he added, should be more than off set by collections on paving certificates.

More Paving Designated

Steady growth of the paving program was reflected in the fact that the commission adopted resolutions designating as paving projects approximately two miles of streets, all situated in the southwestern part of the city. The streets are: Avenue J from Twenty-Third to Twenty-Ninth streets; Twenty-second from J to V; Twenty-fourth from S to T; Twenty-fifth from S to T; and Twenty-sixth from S to X. Federal WPA allocations from the work were announced several days ago.

The commission also approved on final reading, as scheduled, an ordinance which forbids houses of the trailer type for permanent occupancy in the city limits except under rigid regulations. One amendment to the ordinance, refining what shall be a permanent habitation, provides that transients or tourists may obtain a permit for two days' stay in the city with privilege of renewal another two weeks, but that their place of habitation must conform to requirements of the ordinance.

Election Judges Named

In preparation for the city election April 5, the commission appointed W. E. Ballew, Mrs. M. O. Owens and Bush Smith election judges. Members of the commission expressed themselves unanimously in favor of establishing a second election box in the southwestern part of the city, but the plan was abandoned when City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley expressed the opinion that three months' notice in advance of the election would be required to make the action legal. The one box will be at the city hall.

Jack Melton, Al Dixon and J. H. Pruitt, reporting they were a committee representing electrical contractors, appeared to urge revision of the present electrical code which they described as being "obsolete." The commission directed the city manager to obtain further information on the subject for possible consideration at an early special meeting.

Taxes Are Remitted

Taxes totaling approximately $69 on two lots at Avenue C and Seventeenth street were remitted on the showing that it belongs to the Colored Methodist church. Dr. L. N. Hopscomb, pastor of First Methodist church, appeared as a friend of the negro congregation and explained the exemption to which the property is entitled had not been claimed because of oversight. He added that remission of the taxes will clear the way for improvement of the property and further strengthening of the negro congregation.

The commission declined to approve an application which would permit a negro taxicab concern to operate under what was described as a "$50 deductible" accident insurance policy. Under that plan, it was explained, the insurance company would not be liable for the first $50 of any damage resulting from an accident. That concession, city commissioners explained, is not made for taxi companies operated by white persons.

Smith Urges Compromise

George E. Smith, implement dealer and owner of property which has blocked the opening of south Texas avenue, appeared to urge a compromise which would definitely end the controversy. Condemnation proceedings brought by the city resulted in the award of $200 for the portion of his property the street will cross in opening Texas from Twenty-sixth street to Avenue H near Thirteenth. He had asked $2,500 and announced he would appeal from the $200 award. Members of the commission declared their willingness to consider any reasonable compromise to bring an end to the controversy, but they made clear their intent to proceed with the opening of the street.

Following bonds were approved: contractor's — Lubbock Sash and Door company, G. A. Browne and F. O. Kelley; electric—R. A. Coker, Empire Electric company, Roy Burns and Kenneth Woods; gas—Sanders Tire company.

Americans Are Going To See Lot Of Thomas Jefferson; He's On New Three-Cent Stamp

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Americans are going to see a lot of Thomas Jefferson in the months to come.

The author of the Declaration of Independence, whose likeness recently was selected to grace a new nickel, now has been chosen to appear on a new 3-cent postage stamp.

George Washington, crowded off the 3-center in a complete postage stamp revision announced by the post office department, will be relegated about May 1 to the 1-cent rank. John Adams will be portrayed on 2-cent stamps.

First Change Since 1922-23

Entailing the first revision since 1922-23, the regular series will honor all deceased presidents, reproducing the portraits of 12 of them for the first time. Living persons may not be pictured.

The general arrangement will have the value of the stamps increase in the same order that presidents entered the White House.

There will be two departures from this system. The first postmaster general, Benjamin Franklin, will be on the 1-2 cent stamp, and Martha Washington will be on the 1 1-2 cent denomination.

New Yorker Charges Farley Relegating Republicans

WASHINGTON, March 8. (AP) — Representative Barton (R-NY) said today revision of postage stamps designs and denominations announced by Postmaster General Farley was a "scheme to make sure all Republicans are forgotten."

"Every Republican president is pushed into a spot where he will be seen by as few people as possible," Barton said, "while the Democratic presidents get the big time showing.

"Abraham Lincoln committed the great political offense of opposing the Democratic party; wherefore he is pushed by Mr. Farley by being stricken off the three-cent stamp. Thomas Jefferson takes his place."

Special Issues In Suit For Damages Answered Thursday

72nd district court jury Thursday afternoon answered special issues in the damage action of O. C. Davis against Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway, and the court rendered a verdict in favor of the defendant. Davis had asked a judgment for damages allegedly suffered when a barn burned, and he set out the fire was caused from sparks from a train.

Judge Daniel A. Blair of that court heard a plea for abatement in the case of J. W. Boyd and others against J. J. Dillard and others, suit for damages and an injunction for opening of a road and it was indicated the court would act on the plea by Monday.

A civil action on vendor's lien notes involving Hockley county oil lands is subject to call in that court today.

Edward A. O'Neal Is Scheduled To Speak In Marshall Session

MARSHALL, March 10. (AP) — County Agent M. C. Jaynes announced today this city would be host April 13 to agricultural association representatives from three states.

East Texas, western Louisiana, and part of Arkansas will be represented, Jaynes said, in celebration of the anniversary of the first 1,000 membership association formed in 1937 and mark the first 2,500 membership county in the United States this year.

Jaynes said Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation would be principal speaker and that 5,000 visitors were expected.

C. N. Gray Seeks Precinct Post

C. N. Gray, longtime resident of south of Idalou on route 1, Lubbock, Thursday authorized the Lubbock Morning Avalanche to announce his candidacy for commissioner of precinct 3.

He will oppose T. L. Holt who is running for re-election and H. W. Lasater, Edgar E. Gray, and Carol Soape, all of Idalou.

First Candidacy For Office

The 52-year-old farmer is making his first bid for political office, he said.

"I may not be able to get in touch with all the voters of my district, but in case I do not, I want them to consider this announcement a sincere solicitation for their votes and influence," he said.

Moved To County In 1923

"Since I moved to Lubbock county from Fannin county late in 1923 I have been interested in the affairs of this county and it is in that interest that I am announcing my candidacy.

"Points in my platform include good roads, economy in the spending of the tax-payers money, and a willingness to discharge the duties of a public office as I think they should be discharged."

Gray is living on the farm to which he moved nearly 15 years ago.

Record Crop Of Oranges Seen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The agriculture department forecast today that this year's orange crop would be the largest on record—68,606,000 boxes.

The department said the indicated production was 24 per cent larger than last year's harvested crop of 55,174,000 boxes.

The grapefruit crop was forecast at 27,590,000 boxes compared with 30,680,000 boxes last year.

California Crop Larger

The California orange crop was forecast at 42,252,000 boxes compared with 30,063,000 boxes last year. The California grapefruit crop was estimated at 1,890,000 boxes compared with 1,550,000 last year.

The department said the total orange crop was indicated to be 1,100,000 boxes larger than the estimate of a month ago due to improved prospects in California. The prospective production of all oranges, including tangerines, in Florida was placed at 23,750,000 boxes compared with 22,500,000 last year. Florida's indicated grapefruit crop was estimated at 13,000,000 boxes.

The Texas grapefruit crop was forecast at 10,200,000 boxes compared with 9,630,000 boxes last year. The Texas orange crop was estimated at 1,900,000 boxes compared with 2,000,000 last year.

Real Estate Broker Sues On Agreement

LOS ANGELES, March 10. (AP)—For obtaining a property settlement between former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall and the Petroleum Securities Co., John P. Elsbach, real estate broker, sued the company today to force it to fulfill its part of a claimed agreement with him.

Elsbach said that on Feb. 15, 1936, the company contracted with him to effect a settlement with Fall and his wife, Emma, and obtain conveyance to the firm of the Tres Ritos ranch which the Falls then occupied near Three Rivers, N. M.

He claimed that on completion of the settlement, the company was to sell him 110 head of cattle on the Doheny Alamo ranch in Santa Barbara county for his services.

Elsbach said he obtained the settlement with Fall, including dismissal of two suits in federal courts in New Mexico, but charges the company refused to deliver the cattle court order compelling the firm to complete the claimed terms of the agreement.

Movement For Air Line Through Lubbock May Follow Oklahoma City Session

C. Of C. Leaders Are Attending

Two members of the aviation committee of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon had left for Oklahoma City and a southwestern aviation conference today.

The gathering is deemed one of the most important to be conducted in the southwest in several years.

Practically every important transport company executive as well as representatives of the postoffice department, federal aviation division and army air corps will attend the gathering, the chamber here was advised. Added importance is given the conference by the fact that the southwest is regarded generally by the experts as being the area likely to be the scene of more extensive aviation development than any other within the next few years.

May Be Near Success

Lubbock's participation, which will involve conferences with executives of several of the major airlines, is in line with the avowed chamber policy to continue efforts until this city has secured air mail and transportation facilities. Chamber officials expressed the opinion that the campaign may be nearer success than many persons believe.

Maedgen, Hinchey and other chamber representatives will present their conviction that Lubbock and the area of which it is center have reached the point where regular service on a feeder line basis has become feasible.

They will also build further to the groundwork seeking consideration for Lubbock as an aviation "crossroads" if the time comes, as aviation men predict, regular transport lines will be established probably between Oklahoma City and El Paso and between South Texas and Denver.

Young Communist Secretary Refuses To Tell Senate If He Would Fight The Soviet

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP) — Carl Ross, secretary of the Young Communists League, inc., refused today to tell a senate committee whether he would bear arms against Soviet Russia in case of war.

Senator Lee (D-Okla) asked the 24-year-old New York youth if he would "bear arms under the flag of the United States against the red flag of the Soviet Union."

Ross replied the question was "preposterous" and added that young communists "deal with realities."

The witness who said he represented 15,000 youths from 16 to 30 years of age favored enactment of the American youth act, which would set aside $500,000,000 to finance education.

Roaring Wildcat May Have Hit New Oil Pool In Kansas Area

WICHITA, Kas., March 10. (AP)—Roaring in with a flow of gas that showered oil over the derrick last night, the No. 1 Decker estate, wildcat well of Andy Darrah and associates of McPherson, gave promise of opening a new McPherson county oil pool 2 miles northeast of Moundridge.

The well struck gas estimated by operators at "several million feet" when the cement plug was drilled out in the chat to a total depth of 3,001 feet. Oil began flowing by heads soon after the gas pressure cleaned out the hole.

Asks Reports On Waters Survey

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Senator Pittman (D-Nev) called today for reports of the United States-Mexico boundary commission's survey of the Rio Grande in connection with informal discussion with Mexico on water rights.

Chairman Pittman said the senate foreign relations committee would study those reports along with a report by the reclamation service on the Colorado river, submitted to the committee this morning by Secretary Hull.

Reciprocal Basis Talked

Informal discussions with Mexican officials were said to have concerned a division of water rights on both rivers on a reciprocal basis.

Planters in the citrus fruit areas of Texas reportedly have told the state department they feared Mexico, by building dams on tributaries, might reduce the flow of the Rio Grande materially. Approximately 70 per cent of the Rio Grande's flow originates in Mexico.

At the same time, Mexican farmers have been concerned with the possibility the United States might cut off the entire flow of the Colorado river.

Government Reserved Water

Under terms of the law by which Boulder dam was constructed, however, the United States government specifically reserved 1,000,000 acre feet of water annually from the allotments made to the seven states served by the Colorado below the dam.

Thus it was said, state department officials had a potent trading weapon in dealing with Mexico on any prospective future agreement as to Rio Grande rights. The water in that river now is divided equally between the two countries.

Pittman said he wished to study the possibility that by construction of two or three bed-rock dams on the Rio Grande the United States might be able to insure the citrus area of Texas of a continuous water supply.

BANKER DIES SUDDENLY

NEW ORLEANS, March 10. (AP)—Frederick Brenchley, 54, New Orleans and New York banker, died suddenly today at his home here.

Brenchley, a native of England, entered the banking business in that country but came to New Orleans in 1905 to work for various banks before going to London in 1928 as foreign manager of the American Foreign Credit corporation.

He was prominent in social life here and in other cities.

New Span Over Sabine Linking Texas And Louisiana Dedicated

DEWEYVILLE, March 10. (AP)—The new $120,000 Sabine river bridge connecting Texas and Louisiana was dedicated here today.

Robert Lee Bobbitt, chairman of the Texas Highway commission, urged in his dedicatory address to a crowd of about 2,000 closer relations between the sister states.

W. Raggio, chairman of the Louisiana tax commission, representing Gov. Richard Leche, said he hoped Texas would build an all-weather road from the new bridge to Beaumont, connecting direct with the Old Spanish Trail. He pointed out that Louisiana's Evangeline highway had been completed from Baton Rouge to the state line.

Bobbitt said Texas would cooperate in laying the highway, to be known as 235.

Many communities in East Texas and southwest Louisiana were represented at the rites.

The United States is the world's largest user of coffee, consuming about one and one-half billion pounds a year or 450 cups for each inhabitant.

MODERNIZE RANCH HOME

Tommy Farr And Max Baer Square Off In 15-Round Bout Tonight At Garden

British Titlist Is Choice Over Former Champ

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 10. — The parade of heavyweights will continue across the boards at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night with Max Baer, former champion and Tommy Farr, holder of the British empire title, the principals in the 15-round main event.

Farr is a 5 to 7 betting choice notwithstanding he has dropped both his starts here. Most fight men pick him because he beat Baer in London last April and because he has been fighting more regularly than the Californian. It will be Baer's first ring appearance since he knocked out Ben Foord in nine rounds in May.

Betting Is Light

Promoter Mike Jacobs tonight predicted a crowd of 17,000 customers and a gross gate of approximately $75,000.

There is very little betting and virtually none on a knockout largely because it is impossible to tell just how Mr. Baer will be feeling at post time. When he's good he's very good and when he's bad he's the limit.

Many keen observers who have visited Baer's camp at Lakewood, N. J., say if Maxie will walk in and punch he can knock Farr out. If he elects to fight tomorrow night as he did against Jimmy Braddock, the experts say he is a sure loser.

Farr Alters Style

Farr, making his first start under the managerial wing of little Joe Gould who piloted Braddock to the title, probably will adopt different tactics than in his title bout with Joe Louis and his later meeting with Braddock.

The Welshman has altered his style to add a more effective style of attack. In his workouts at Summit he has displayed a punching power conspicuously lacking in previous bouts.

Babe Ritchie Boxes Before 21,000 In Chicago Tonight

CHICAGO, March 10. (AP)—Featuring four evenly matched heavyweight title contenders, the eleventh annual Golden Gloves tournament will be held at the Stadium tomorrow night before an anticipated throng of 21,000 amateur fight fans.

Lloyd Montgomery of Nashville, a hard-hitting youngster with more than average boxing ability, is the choice of many observers to win the heavyweight crown. He will have "tough going," however, against Emanuel Williams of Gary, Ind. Babe Ritchie of Lubbock, Tex., and Dan Merritt, Cleveland slugger.

Pairings by lot will be made tomorrow afternoon.

Almost Extinct Javelina To Be Subject In South Texas

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—The rapidly disappearing javelina and abundant deer and wild turkey will be discussed at a wildlife week programs in Central and South Texas, President T. O. Walton of Texas A. and M. college said today.

Dr. Walton, director of state observance of wildlife week, March 20-26, as proclaimed by President Roosevelt, pointed out Texans in those areas had much to boast of because they lived in the nation's "number one" deer and turkey hunting grounds.

"The javelina, however," he said, "is increasing. It is a fine sporting animal and has economic value because of its bristles. But the legislature has not given it the status of a game animal and hence it is killed the year around. We should save it from further slaughter."

Game officials said President Theodore Roosevelt once hunted the javelina in South Texas.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 10. (AP) — Marorie Schnake, comely Evansville freshman at Indiana State Teachers' college, was so popular that she had five ardent young suitors.

A few days ago the suitors got together, and formed a basketball team, which they named "the Schnake club."

Miss Schnake's boy friends have won six games and lost six so far in intramural competition.

FACES TITLE CLAIMANT

DALLAS, March 10. (AP)—Lew Jenkins, young lightweight who quit the United States army to fight with his fists, will seek his fifth straight knockout victory here tomorrow night in a ten-round match against Louis Arriola, Tampa, Fla., battler. Arriola, who has campaigned around Houston in recent months, claims the lightweight championship of Florida and Texas.

Former Heavyweight Champ Steps Into Breach First Time Since Foord Fight

Ritchie And Buck May Steal Show

A light heavyweight battle between two old enemies—John Buck of Crosbyton and Morton, and Bob Ritchie o. Lubbock, is being boomed to steal the show at the Lubbock District AAU boxing tournament here a week from tonight.

In the recent Golden Gloves tournament, Bob Ritchie, older brother of Heavyweight Champion Babe, decisioned Buck, twice an AAU champion in the middle and light heavyweight groups. Bob, therefore, represented the district in the state Golden Gloves tournament. Buck went along, too, and advanced to the final round in the state tournament—but not as a light heavyweight.

Buck Is Versatile

When the Lubbock Golden Gloves middleweight champion, Ed Morrison, decided against competing in the state tournament, Buck stepped in to the rescue. He was barely heavy enough to make the light heavyweight squad in the district tournament, and he trained down to make the 160-pound class for the state event.

Buck, however, has gone along his natural path since then, keeping in shape, but adding weight. He now qualifies as a light heavyweight, and challenges Bob Ritchie for the championship.

Other light heavyweights, however, may be on the AAU card. In fact, as many as two others are certain to appear. Under rules, however, the pairing may be made to pit Bob Ritchie against John Buck. The two have agreed, and this fight should be a feature of the district tournament at the auditorium next week.

Lovin A Lightweight

But there'll be other features too. Jack Lovin, winner of the district lightweight Golden Gloves last year, winner of the City Golden Gloves this year, who then trained down to the featherweight division and won that championship in the district tournament here and competed in the state event, is back up to lightweight proportions, and will be in the thick of a fight that promises to be very, very good before it is over.

Four lightweights already have entered the AAU tournament, and it will be restricted to four in each event.

The list includes the Golden Gloves district champion, L. B. Martin of Floydada; James Stotts, pleasing scrapper from Slaton; James Spence, of Lockney, who decisioned Stotts in the district Golden Gloves tournament, and Lovin.

Assurance of a heavyweight fight was given by Director Milton Coffey yesterday. Fats" Mitchell, 195-pound slugger from Lockney, and Herbert Lamb, Wilson, have entered, with the possibility that two more of the big fellows will line up. Efforts are still under way to match Babe Ritchie, who fights in the Chicago Tournament of Champions tonight, against an outstanding heavyweight but should Ritchie win his semi-final bout in Chicago tonight, he will qualify for the Chicago team which meets the New York Golden Gloves champions in an inter-city match at Madison Square Garden the following week.

Slaton Sends Team

Stumpy Hamilton, coach at Slaton High school, has been conducting a series of "fight nights" with the idea of selecting a team of eight to compete in the district tournament here. Certain entries are Lloyd Henry, a welterweight; James Stotts, lightweight; Dick Bell, flyweight, and Billy Joe Lucado, featherweight. At least three others will be certified by Hamilton.

The bantamweight returns have been light so far, and it is hoped that more 118-pounders will report soon. Tommy Coats, Seagraves and Texas Tech, is the lone entry so far, although there will be another from the Slaton events, and possibly another from the Lockney district. Horace Gearhart is conducting a try-out fight-night card there for fighters of Floydada, Silverton, Flomot and Lockney, and plans to send a complete team here, including Heavyweight Fats Mitchell.

Rudy Russell, Golden Gloves flyweight champ, is assured of competition with the entry of Dick Bell of Slaton, and three featherweights have entered: H. W. Bradley of Littlefield, Wayne Penn of the Lubbock CCC and Billy Lucado of Slaton.

Gregory Is Back

The welters includ Lloyd Henry of Slaton, Tom Copeland of Texas Tech and Buck Gregory, Golden Gloves champ, of Tech. Only one middleweight entry has arrived, that from Ed Morrison of Tech, but at least three others are expected.

Light heavyweights, John Buck and Bob Ritchie, are ready to go, along with the heavyweights, Herb Lamb and Fats Mitchell.

Marion Miley Wins From Mrs. Vare

BELLEAIR, Fla., March 10. (AP)—Spectacular putting carried Marion Miley, of Lexington, Ky., to a notable one up victory today over Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, six times National champion, in their semi-final match of the Belleair Women's Open golf tournament.

Tomorrow, Miss Miley faces Patty Berg, of Minneapolis who is out to gain her sixth winter championship, having swept easily through her semi-final match today with Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis., 6 and 5.

Putter Does Magic

Miss Miley's putter worked like magic today. She had six one-putt greens on theh first twelve holes, sinking them from distances ranging from 12 to 40 feet. She was two up on Glenna at the turn and made it three on the eleventh.

The the former National champion rallied to take the thirteenth and fourteenth but could never overcome the Miley lead.

Two up at the turn on Miss Wall, Patty swept four more holes on the backward nine to clinch the match. Miss Wall had a pickup on the sixth.

SAMMY'S TAKES TITLE

DALLAS, March 10 (AP)—Sammy's All-Stars of Dallas went into the finals of the Southwestern AAU tournament here tonight by defeating the E. M. Kahn team, also of Dallas, 40 to 32.

Big Red Conner, Sammy's center, again grabbed scoring honors as he chalked up eight field goals and one free throw for 17 points.

Charge By Injun Official Denied By Bill Terry

(By The Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, La., March 10. Manager Bill Terry denied today the statement of C. C. Slapnika, Cleveland Indians' general manager, that Terry "prevented Bill Nowak leaving the Giant camp of his own free will for New Orleans when he desired to do so."

Terry said Nowak, promising-looking 19-year-old second baseman, came here of his own free will.

"We handled Nowak just like we did any of the other trainees in the training school," Terry said.

"He stayed at a rooming house with the other boys and we did not keep him with the coaches or trainer as Cleveland is doing."

PAUL DEAN PITCHES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 10. (AP)—Paul Dean, whose arm was of no value to the St. Louis Cardinals last season, pitched three innings in a practice game today and reported no ill effects.

The younger brother of Dizzy Dean tried only a few slow curves. Lou Vezelich, rookie from Sacramento, knocked one of Paul's tosses out of the park. The two teams played to a 5 to 5 tie in nine innings.

Sammy Baugh, the pro football star, played third base on one of the teams and handled himself well.

HURLERS GET INSTRUCTIONS

SAN ANTONIO, March 10. (AP) — Pitchers of the St. Louis Browns were told today they had other duties besides trying to retire the batsman.

Coaches Fred Hofmann and Oscar Melillo instructed them on covering first and third when the infielder was drawn away from his position.

TRIBE, PELICANS TIE

NEW ORLEANS, March 10. (AP) — Cleveland's Indians and the New Orleans Pelicans played a 4-4 tie today in their first exhibition game of the season. It was called after nine innings.

Both lineups were composed almost exclusively of rookies.

WONDERS AT NAME

ORLANDO, Fla., March 10. (AP) — Manager Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators wonders if there's a baseball prophecy in the name of an 18-year-old rookie pitcher. The name is:

Early Wynn.

ERRORS BEAT YANS

TAMPA, Fla., March 10. (AP)—Only because of a couple of errors in the ninth inning were the Cincinnati Reds' regulars able to beat out the Yannigans, 3 to 2, in the second intra-club game today. Kermold, a free agent, and O'Flynn of Durham pitched for the losers, while Peaches Davis, Vander Meer, and Whitey Moore did the work for the regulars.

ZEKE VEXES MOGULS

PASADENA, Calif., March 10. (AP) When and if Big Zeke Bonura, holdout Chicago White Sox first baseman, does sign a contract and report at spring training camp, he's likely to get a severe "going over" by the club's front office.

Manager Dykes and Vice President Harry Grabiner appeared slightly vexed today as they reported having no word recently from Bonura, seeking a salary increase from his New Orleans residence.

WHITNEY IN CAMP

BILOXI, Miss., March 10. (AP) — Pinky Whitney, veteran third baseman, arrived in the Phillies training camp today.

Whitney's appearance brought the Phils to their full training complement of 37 players.

STEER HURLERS TOIL

DALLAS, March 10. (AP) — Before the largest crowd of railbirds to turn out thus far this season, the Dallas Steers went through their training paces today with all the hurling candidates chunking the pellet.

INJUNS HITTING HARD

JACKSONVILLE, March 10. (AP)—Frank Krole, catcher from Fort Worth, and Jim Stroner, veteran infielder, hit circuit smashers today as the Oklahoma City Indians had their first hitting practice of the training season.

The Indians batted around four times, with Lester Lowery, Mike Schroeder, Joe Beville and Bill Douglas doing the flinging.

Skipper Jim Keesey said more batting practice was planned tomorrow.

30 OILERS IN CAMP

SEGUIN, March 10. (AP) — The Tulsa Oilers put in a long day at batting practice today, with practically every rookie and veteran taking turns at the plate.

More than 30 players had reported, with new pitchers getting chances on the mound.

MACK'S PITCHERS PLEASING

LAKE CHARLES, La., March 10. (AP)—Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, had a word of praise today for his pitchers.

"Those arms look good to me," he said after watching his hurlers in a two-hour workout.

VOSMIK SWATS 'EM

Who Do You Think Is Quieter Than The Rookies?--Why It's Ol' Diz Himself

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 10.—Strangest of all wonders seen by touring fans and baseball writers this spring training season is the "silent man of St. Pete," who is none other than Mr. Dizzy Dean of the Yell county, Arkansas, Deans.

The great man, undisputed holder of all major league pop-off championships over the last six years, has undergone a baffling change of pace. Instead of his old, swaggering self, Ol' Diz has adopted the first rule of his brief kindergarten days—"little boys should be seen and not heard."

Has Good Reasons

So ably has Diz succeeded in his strange role that several visiting authors have come and gone at the thriving St. Louis gashouse camp without even seeing or talking to the great man who always filled their notebooks with red hot wisecracks and left them half-wilted for malughter.

There are many reasons behind Diz's strange reversal of oratirical form. One, of course, is that Mr. Branch Rickey, after all these years of trying, finally revenged himself on Diz for the pitcher's flop season last year and moved right in on him. Rickey hurt Diz's dignity and spirit by going around the country after the close of the '37 season and saying the Cards weren't even depending on the great Dean. Then he cornered Diz, offered him a cut in salary and gave him such a talk on the philosophy of the better life that Diz reached for the cut price contract and the pen and ink like a half-starved rookie. For the first time in five years, Diz failed to become a holdout.

Burglars Help, Too

Touring burglars also helped the Cardinals cause. One night, they busted into Diz's home and ransacked it of some $5,000 worth of jewelry. It is reported that when Diz first learned of the robbery he moaned:

"Now I gotta sign up with Rickey. I gotta get some more of those rocks." Sad to relate, Diz carried no insurance as far as is known.

Even a golf tournament came to Rickey's rescue. At long odds, Diz is supposed to have wagered $1,000 on himself to win a tournament against far superior players, but his baseball pitching didn't count and he failed to finish in the first flight.

Talks But Little

But probably the biggest reason of all for Diz's silence is his spirit of revenge against newspapermen. While most of them have been more than fair to him, spreading his senseless guff all over the sports pages, Diz feels some of the writing boys haven't done right by their hero. Those he likes will get him to speak a few words; those he dislikes get nothing but a shrug of his shoulder and the cold stare.

However, most writers are grateful for Diz's reformation. With Diz in a silent man role they now can ease up, enjoy quiet dinners and movies without worrying about an explosion by the great man as soon as their backs are turned toward a steak.

And the change seems good for Diz, too. He looks great and the bet is he'll step out this year and make 20 victories look as easy as a drop from the waterwagon.

Redskin Owner Views With Interest Baugh's Tryout

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON, March 10. — Geoge P. Marshall, owner of the Redskin grid team, is waiting with interest the day the pitchers begin slinging baseballs in the direction of football's Slingin' Sammy Baugh.

"Maybe he can hit," said Marshall—who pays Baugh for playing football—"I wouldn't know. I only suspect. Anyway, we have only the best wishes for Sam."

This may fall a little flat on some ears, for Third-Baseman Baugh has been widely quoted as saying that if he's good enough for the Gas House Gang he'll quit professional football.

He's Welcome To Go

On this point, the owner of the world champion Redskins said: "If Baugh thinks he can make more money some other place than playing football in Washington, he's welcome to go."

Admittedly a good fielder and possessing one of the strongest arms of any athlete who makes a living by throwing a ball — horsehide or pigskin—Baugh may make the majors if he can hit.

Back in college, Sammy hit a better than .300 clip, but what can he do to big leaguers?

Others Are After Job

Also, there are some other fellows who are trying to get the thirdbase job with the Cardinals. There is Don Gutteridge, who did the chore last year.

The roster shows that St. Louis also has the services of Arthur Garibaldi, who played for Sacramento in 1937 batting the ball for .327 and driving in 106 runs.

Only A Week To Wait

Others are:

Justin Marion Stein, a .275 hitter from Columbus.

Joseph Valentine Stripp, .243 performer from Brooklyn.

In about a week now Marshall and Sammy and the pitchers should know everything, for that's when arms will be limbered, and the boys will be curving their shots and fogging them in.

Cotton Bowl King And Other Texans "Look Into" Buying Of Brooklyn's Dodgers

DALLAS, March 10. (AP)—J. Curtis Sanford, Texas oil man and promoter of the Cotton Bowl football game, said today a syndicate of Texas businessmen, of which he was a member, was laying plans to "look into the possibility" of buying the Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League and a couple of Texas League teams.

All plans, he said, are in the formulative stage.

State Badminton Champ Will Be Determined At Abilene

ABILENE, March 10. (AP)—Texas' first badminton champion will be crowned here at the conclusion of a two-day tournament April 15-16.

The statewide meet was announced today by the Abilene Badminton association, affiliated member of the American Badminton association.

To assure a select but representative field, local sponsors plan to defray traveling expenses of city champions from the state's leading badminton centers.

Company Pays Particular Attention To Reconditioning Of Cars

"Removal of all doubt about condition of our used cars is our chief aim in reconditioning trade-ins," said J. D. McPhaul of Lubbock Auto company. Ford Motor company always has favored remade and guaranteed used cars. Eleven men on our staff do nothing but overhaul and check used cars, helping to remove those doubts. Reconditioned cars carry our 30-day guarantee. Price, too, is a big consideration, and now we can offer best prices on used cars in our history.

Cox Denies That Lepers Loose

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 10.—An emphatic denial that lepers walk streets of Texas cities at will came today from Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

He asserted Dr. Victory G. Heiser, president of the International Leprosy association, claimed he had seen lepers walking the streets of Texas cities "at random and there was nothing being done about it."

Has No Foundation

"As state health officer of Texas, I most emphatically deny such a condition exists in this state," Dr. Cox said.

"The statement has no foundation whatever.

"As quickly and whenever a case is located, arrangements are made to place the case in the Carville, La., sanitarium of the U. S. public health service. I would welcome Dr. Heiser to come to Texas and point out the cases he has so easily located."

Dr. Cox said there are no cases of record in Texas at this time and that there had been 70 cases and 13 deaths since 1928.

Examining Own Position

Italy, tied to Germany in the Rome-Berlin axis but also launched on frendship negotiations with Britain, was examining her own position in a meeting of the Fascist grand council.

Austria, on the Rome-Berlin axis but not part of it, attempted to stifle street fighting as her chancellor, Kurt Schuschnigg, rallied supporters to shout to Germany Austria's will for independence in a plebiscite Sunday.

First reports in diplomatic circles of the Rome talks between the Earl of Perth, British ambassador to Italy, and Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, were described as "fairly encouraging".

"Unsympathetic" On Plan

Count Ciano, diplomatic sources said, was understood to be willing to reduce the strength of Italian forces in Libya, Italy's North African colony.

He was described as "vague," however, on the Spanish issue and as "unsympathetic" to the British plan to announce recognition of Italy's Ethiopian empire through the League of Nations. Withdrawal of foreign fighters from Spain's civil war is a British prerequisite for the friendship talks.

In Dallas Thursday were S. E. Cone, representing Lubbock Grain exchange, and representatives of the chamber of commerce here to make appearance before examiners of the interstate Commerce commission and the Texas Railroad commission in opposition to a railroad application seeking an increase in freight rates on coarse grain. Railroads had asked, the chamber was advised, that rates on such coarse grains as maize, sorghums, corn and other grains be increased to level with those of wheat. The present difference from Lubbock is about three and a half cents per 100 pounds. Delegations from several other South Plains and West Texas points also were to be given opportunity to appear at the hearing. Details of actions of the board were not obtainable here.

Eleven negroes were arrested Thursday night in the 2200-block East Parris avenue by O. E. Rush and Melvin Alvey of the police department and Leonard (Cat) Means, negro officer, for investigation of gambling. While Rush and Alven took six to police headquarters in a police patrol car, "Cat" guarded the other five until officers returned with additional transportation facilities. M. N. Davidson, night sergeant, had the asserted gamblers marched into cells without taking their pleas.

Habitual Criminal Indictment Made

A 99th district court grand jury, before being excused by Judge E. L. Pitts late Thursday, reported another indictment in addition to 11 naming 11 defendants returned Wednesday afternoon.

Bennie Carver, about 26, was charged by indictment with forgery and with being an habitual criminal. He was held Thursday night in the county jail in lieu of $4,000 bond set by Judge Pitts.

Working with the investigating body were Burton S. Burks, district attorney, and Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney. The grand jury, first impaneled at the opening of the January term of that court, had been re-convened Monday.

Another of the defendants, J. A. Bell, was apprehended Thursday on an indictment alleging driving when intoxicated Jan. 30 and he was released on bond of $750. A defendant charged with swindling over $50 was expected to post bond today, said Jas. P. Posey, chief deputy sheriff.

(The report said Hitler desired the Austrian "as one of the most faithful and best experts on Austrian questions to be in his immediate vicinity during the ensuing month, when events of historic importance will transpire.")

Protests Are Made

Nazis in Graz sent telegrams of protest to President Wilhelm Miklas and Minister of Interior Arthur Seysz-Inquart, a personal friend of Hitler, declaring the plebiscite was against the 1934 constitution.

Wilhelm Keppler, German state secretary, flew from Berlin in a special airplane for a conference with Seysz-Inquart, and then flew back and two other Nazis hurred to Berlin to report on the situation.

It was expected Austrian Nazis would have orders on the attitude they should adopt toward the plebiscite within 24 hours.

Three Possibilities Mentioned

As the threat of possible Nazi sabotage and terrorism was bruited in high quarters, three possibilities were mentioned:

1. Nazis might try by force to keep Schuschnigg's supporters from voting.

2. They might boycott the plebiscite.

3. They might continue their activities before and after Sunday as though nothing had happened.

Police Leaves Cancelled

Police leaves in both cities were cancelled; troops moved through the streets of Graz; three companies of soldiers were seen entering Vienna.

Thousands of handbills exhorting the people to vote for a free Austria littered Vienna's streets, sometimes to a depth of a foot.

Labor Behind Government

Statements by labor leaders indicated workers would be almost solidly behind the government unless something should occur before Sunday to force a break.

The plebiscite will be the first referendum in Austrian history and the people's first chance to vote since 1930.

It was estimated 4,300,000 persons would have the right to vote, including 2,300,000 women. The estimate was based on the 4,150,000 voters in 1930.

Large Crowd Attends Final CMA Program

The largest crowd in the history of the organization Thursday night attended a presentation by the Civic Music association of Trudi Schoop and her Comic Ballet in the Senior High school auditorium. More than 1,000 persons attended, it was estimated.

The ballet, with 18 members in the troop, was next to the last of the presentations by the association for this series, officials said. The final program on this series will be Douglas Beattie, a young American bass-baritone. The date has not been set, but will be the latter part of March of the first of April.

In a membership campaign in operation, enrollees for the next series were allowed admittance to the Thursday night program free.

Members of the ballet answered four curtain calls by an apparently appreciative audience.

At the opening of the performance, Dr. Fred W. Standefer, president of the association, announced the membership drive had been successful and that it would close at 10 o'clock Saturday night.

Florence George, radio and screen star and who first had been scheduled for this series, will appear on the next series of programs, it was announced.

MEADOW IN RUNNING

GREENVILLE, March 10. (AP) — Eight teams were left in the running tonight for the state A. A. U. high school girls basketball championship.

Four championship games will be played here tomorrow night with the finals set for Saturday. Four games in the consolation division will be played at Lone Oak tomorrow night and the finals here Saturday.

Tomorrow's schedule here pits Celeste against Mesquite; Bailey vs. Allison; Meadow vs. Alysian Fields, and Cooksville vs. Miller Grove. The consolation games at Lone Oak will be between Hereford and McKinney, Emory and Frenship, Caddo Mills and Lone Oak Leesburg and Van Horn.

New Act Is To Be Explained Today

clude a series of eight meetings conducted this week in various Lubbock county communities for the purpose of discussing the 1938 farm conservation program and the approaching referendum. Such a meeting was held Thursday night at Becton.

The ballot will be simple for the referendum, having two squares, one marked yes, the other no, in which the voter's favor may be marked with an X. Under the AAA law such a referendum must be held each year, the election this Saturday being for 1938 only.

All Producers Eligible

All producers who shared in the proceeds of the 1937 crop are eligible to vote.

The college is not sponsoring the appearance of Duggan, rather is offering the facilities of the gymnasium as a courtesy to farmers expected to attend from a great section of the South Plains.

Cliff Day, president of the Texas Agricultural association, of Plainview and other agricultural officials of Texas are expected here for the meeting.

Duggan Says Program Great Step For Balanced Supply

HOUSTON, March 10. (AP)—The new federal farm program is a great step toward a balanced supply of cotton that will prevent extremely low or extremely high prices, I. W. Duggan, director of the southern division of the AAA, told a group of South Texas Farmers and Texas Agricultural association leaders today.

Duggan is on a swing through Texas explaining to farmers the provisions of the Agricultural adjustment act of 1938—an act which he admitted is long and somewhat complicated.

He reminded his hearers that next Saturday cotton growers of the United States will decide in a nation wide referendum, whether they want marketing quota on their 1938 crop.

State Representative Urges Passage Of Market Quotas

Whitney Is Indicted

About four o'clock this afternoon, Dewey, Tuttle, Whitney, the foreman of the grand jury, went before Judge Allen, who paroled Whitney overnight to custody of his attorney.

Booked On East Side

Whitney was given until tomorrow to raise bail, tentatively set at $10,000. From the court he went to the Elizabeth street station, in the murkiest part of the lower East Side—the dingy "leather swamp" just north of the glittering towers of Wall Street—to be fingerprinted and booked.

The indictment came as a climax to a day in which three separate investigations into possible criminal phases of Whitney's part in the Tuesday collapse of Richard Whitney & Co., had suddenly diverged.

Pursues Methodical Hearing

The attorney general's assistant, Ambrose V. McCall, had been pursuing a methodical hearing under the state securities act, piecing together items in Whitney's transactions.

In McCall's hearing today, a number of points were established by questioning of witnesses.

Whitney gave his receipt on January 26, for $798,276.26 of securities delivered to him personally from the firm; a large portion coming from customers' accounts.

Partner Didn't Know

Edwin D. Morgan, jr., partner of the Whitney firm, and unrelated to the J. P. Morgan family, testified he had not known until last Sunday night the firm was in difficulties, although the world at large knew it Tuesday.

J. P. Morgan & Co., sent a memorandum in response to a subpoena, explaining: they had possession of an unsecured note on which Richard Whitney personally had owed $500,00; he paid them $16,000 on it in 1936 when it was four years old; last year the note was made collectible against Richard Whitney & Co., instead of Richard Whitney individually; the note was reduced another $10,000 to $474,000 and J. P. Morgan & Co., as such disposed of the "asset" by letting certain partners including the estate of the late Thomas Cochrane acquire it.

Prospects For Steel Industry Declared 'Not Encouraging'

PITTSBURGH, March 10. (AP) — A statement that prospects for the huge steel industry are "not encouraging" came from E. T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel corporation, as he reported a net profit of $17,801,892 for his corporation last year.

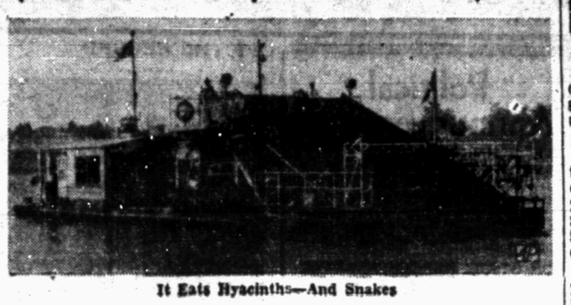

He said: "I regret to say that the prospects are not encouraging as there is a very distinct lack of confidence on the part of business generally, arising from uncertainty as to governmental policies. This, I believe is the basic reason for the definite recession in business."

Net earnings for 1937 were equal to $8.21 a share, compared with $12,541,841, or $5.80 a share in 1936.

BRADFORD, Pa., March 10. (AP) —Two men were blown to their deaths today by an explosion which destroyed a nitroglycerine plant at nearby LaFayette, leaving but a huge hole in the earth.

Army Men, Plucking Lilies, Nearly Routed By Snakes; Water Hyacinths Ground Up

It Eats Hyacinths—And Snakes

(By Associated Press Feature Service)

NEW ORLEANS, March 10. — Army engineers got themselves this beautiful new $10,000 floating hyacinth grinder, but forgot about snakes. For a little while it looked as though the snakes might put the crew out of commission.

The grinding machine seems to be the best bet yet in the fight against the quick-growing purple water hyacinth. These lilies form thick mats and in the navigable streams of the South. The mats are a menace. If a boat gets snagged in one, it's as bad as being frozen into ice. Chemicals have been used to fight the hyacinths—but they also kill cattle who drink from the streams.

But, back to the grinder. It moves downstream, or up, scooping hyacinths up the broad treadmill effect in front and dumping them into a hopper. When the plants have been ground to little pieces they are ejected overboard. Trouble is, lots of poisonous water moccasins are taken up, too.

At first, the squirming reptiles were thrown around the crew on deck. But it didn't take the men very long to rig up a screen that deflected snakes, as well as hyacinths, into the grinder.

Tech Judging Team Off For Ft. Worth

Livestock judging team and an official left Thursday night to participate in the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show in Fort Worth. Texas Technological college barrows which are to be exhibited also were shipped.

W. L. Stangel, head professor of animal husbandry, left Thursday night to serve as superintendent of the Aberdeen-Angus cattle division of the show.

Team Will Leave

Ray C. Mowery, animal husbandry professor, will leave at 6 o'clock with the junior livestock judging team of which he is coach. Team members and alternate are Vestel Askew, Del Rio; John Henry Baumgardner, Wellington; Russell Cook, Littlefield; John Jackson, Roaring Springs; Eldon Lawrence, Peacock; and Leo Meier, Darrouzett. The team, which will enter practice judging at Decatur, will compete Saturday.

E. Odell, swine herdsman, accompanied the shipment of nine Duroc and nine Hampshire barrows.

Anti-Trust Action

Many administration men have predicted he would recommend a congressional investigation rather than legislative action at this time.

Rayburn said the house could finish its major business by April 15, and that he looked for both houses and senate to adjourn by mid-May.

"The navy increase bill will be taken up by the house next week," he explained, "and then we will have only four appropriation bills left. They will take only about two days apiece."

F.D.R. Receives Report

Mr. Roosevelt received a progress report on wage and hour legislation from another house leader—Chairman Ramspeck (D-Ga.) of a house labor sub-committee.

Ramspeck told reporters afterward that he believed a new wage and hour bill, differing in some respects from the one the house shelved several months ago, would be presented by his sub-committee to the full labor committee within a week.

Chief Problem Cited

He said the chief problem before his group was whether the bill's wage and hour standards should be rigid or flexible. The measure which has been approved by the senate and shelved by the house would authorize a federal agency to fix minimum wages at not more than 40 cents an hour and maximum work week at not less than 40 hours. The American Federation of Labor has proposed that congress itself fix uniform standards.

Another bill affecting business—the proposal of Senator Glass (D-Va.) to regulate bank holding companies—was studied at a conference of Secretary Morgenthau, Chairman Marriner L. Eccles of the Federal Reserve board, and other administration officials. Spokesmen said the group did not complete its work and would meet again before reporting to the president.

The Glass bill would prevent the creation of any additional bank holding companies, prohibit existing companies from acquiring control of additional banks, and impose numerous restrictions on the existing companies' operations.

Senator Connally To Present First Tenancy Check In Texas

DALLAS, March 10. (AP)— United States Senator Tom Connally, will present the first Farm Security administration check to a Texas tenant here Saturday.

Clarence Clark, of Van Zandt county, will become second tenant in the United States to receive the assistance, C. M. Evans, regional FSA director said.

Clark's check will be for $6,003, with which he is to buy and improve 141 acres of land.

New Attempts To Trace Missing Airliner Made After Reports

FRESNO, Calif., March 10. (AP)— Persistent reports that a plane was seen and heard over Calaveras county, north of here, about the time a big airliner disappeared the night of March 1 brought new attempts to trace the ship today by state highway patrol officials.

While searching craft again droned over the snow-covered Sierra peaks east of here looking for the plane and its nine occupants, Highway Patrol Chief E. Raymond Cate asked any aviators who flew over Calaveras county that night to communicate with him.

Renner Talks To Slaton Grange Members And Agriculture Boys

SLATON, March 10. (Special)—K. M. Renner, head of the department of dairy manufacturing at Texas Technological college, discussed dairying before approximately 50 Grange members and vocational agriculture boys at the clubhouse tonight.

He was introduced by A. C. Strickland, vocational agriculture teacher in Slaton High school and lecturer for the Grange.

Tax On Liquor Is Increased

Several Amendments Defeated

Several amendments were defeated today. For instance, the legislators did not feel chivalrous enough to yield to the pleadings of feminine members for a 50 per cent reduction in the 10 per cent excise tax on cosmetics.

They also rejected an amendment proposed by Rep. Flannery (D-Pa.) to tax fuel oil one cent a gallon. The standing vote was 125 to 25.

Working on past the dinner hour, the house completed all preliminary work on the tax bill.

It postponed until tomorrow final votes on the tax on closely-held corporations, on a Republican motion to return the bill to the ways and means committee for trial elimination of an undistributed profits tax, and on passage of the bill.

Pardon For Mooney

strength.

When the assembly reconvened at 8:30 o'clock, supporters of the resolution said the call of the house would be continued until the needed majority vote was obtained or it was ascertained the attempt was hopeless. Requests were sent to officially excused absentees, some of whom were out of the city, to return voluntarily and cast their ballots.

Sponsored By San Diegoan

The legislative pardon measure is sponsored by Assemblyman Paul A. Richie of San Diego, who also introduced an assembly resolution recommending the governor pardon Mooney.

Last year, the legislative pardon measure passed the house, but was killed in the senate, a few members of which were in the assembly chamber today. The assembly also passed the pardon resolution last year, but Governor Frank F. Merriam took no action on it.

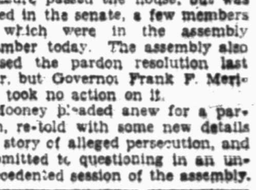

Mooney pleaded anew for a pardon, re-told with some new details his story of alleged persecution, and submitted to questioning in an unprecedented session of the assembly.

Young Man Fails To Heed Officers And Is In Jail Again

Paying little heed to numerous official suggestions that he probably would be more welcome in towns, any town, other than Lubbock, a 21-year-old man Thursday again was behind bars in the city jail.

And this time he is facing a $50 fine he said he could not pay.

He is the same youth, police said, in whose possession keys fitting a series of parking meters were found following his arrest on a vagrancy charge about three weeks ago. He also is the same youth who unlocked the door to his cell with a key made from the handle of a tin cup in an unsuccessful effort to escape, police added.

No Trace Of Tubes

The suspect, police said, has denied he has raided any local parking meters. Police and city officials, said, however, they have found no trace of 30 coin tubes which disappeared from parking meters about the time of his arrival in Lubbock. City officials estimated that the loot did not exceed $3 but the tubes cost 15 cents each.

Following his first arrest he was assessed a $15 fine on a vagrancy charge, serving five days in default of payment. Two or three days later he again was jailed for vagrancy, and again served five days. The most recent $50 fine will require 17 days of jail service unless it is paid, police said.

LOSSES IN SLOW SESSION

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—Attempts to rally the stock market found little or no backing today and leaders ended a slow-going session with losses ranging from fractions to a point or more.

A mild early morning upturn in the rails inspired some buying in other groups, but this lacked vigor and in the final hour the tendency was toward lower levels.

The proceedings were exceptionally sluggish from the start, but volume expanded a bit on last-minute offerings and transfers totalled 455,440 shares compared with 561,800 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .4 of a point at 43.

There was nothing outstanding in the day's news to inspire commitments for the advance but it also was noted selling was not of an urgent character.

Cotton . .

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP) — An early decline of 30 to 50 cents a bale met local and foreign buying in the cotton market here today and last prices were steady at net losses of 3 to 5 points.

An adverse ruling on a farm bill amendment by the comptroller general, disappointing foreign markets and circulation of March notices for 5,700 bales started the market on the downgrade at the opening.

In the last hour, however, trade buying was augmented by spot house purchasing and demand by brokers with far eastern connections. Prices rallied moderately towards the close and finished at the best.

March contracts closed at 9.17-bid, May at 9.17, July at 9.23, Oct. at 9.29, Dec. at 9.31 and Jan. at 9.32.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—Early declines in cotton today under foreign selling and commission house liquidation were partially recovered on trade buying and covering. May, which had sold off from 9.06@9.00, closed at 9.05 with final prices 2 to 5 points net lower.

Early losses were extended a few points further during the first hour under selling promoted by easier foreign markets and nervousness over the French situation. Around the 9 cent level for May good trade support developed. The market later turned quiet.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 10. (AP) — The average price of middling cotton at 10 southern spot markets today was 9.09 cents a pound; for the past 30 market days 9.03 cents a pound.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 10. (AP)—Late flurried efforts to stop losses of holders of wheat futures tumbled the Chicago market down a cent today to lowest prices since last November.

The outbreak of selling of wheat futures came after estimates that export purchases of United States wheat and corn today amounted to only about 100,000 bushels. Most of the selling here developed in May wheat, which fell to 87¼ cents, as against 88¼ during yesterday's final transactions.

An extreme drop of 2 cents in Winnipeg wheat, as well as disappointing action of the Liverpool market, together with additional moisture provided today for domestic crops southwest, had a contributing bearish influence.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅞ to under yesterday's finish, May 87⅛@87½, July 83⅜@83½, corn ⅛ to ⅜ down, May 58⅜@58¾, July 60½, oats unchanged to ⅛ off, rye showing ½ to 1⅜ setback, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents lower.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, March 10. (AP)—Demand for grain was of moderate proportions today. Estimated receipts: wheat 8 cars, corn 4, oats 3, and cane seed 1.

Two Nine-Year-Old Girls Give Aliases And Wrong Addresses To Baffle Police For While

Police were completely baffled for a time when two Lubbock girls, both 9, gave investigating officers wrong addresses and assertedly used aliases.

The girls appeared at an automobile accessories store and offered to sell a bicycle for only $3. The manager, suspicious, telephoned police assuming the bike was "hot."

Jess Hardy, patrolman, asked whether their parents would consent to the sale.

The girls, baffled only temporarily, allegedly went away and one of them telephoned back, representing herself as her mother and saying it would be all right for them to enter negotiations.

Hardy returned to the scene and found the girls standing across the street.

Offers To Tell Truth

"Where do you live?" he asked one, a pretty blonde with natural curls.

"On Main avenue," she said.

The blonde demurred.

"Mr. Officer, I'll tell you the truth. My name is ———. I live at ———, and she lives at ———. We wanted to sell the bicycle and leave home."

Funeral For Mrs. G. C. Ross To Be At 10 A. M. Today

Funeral services for Mrs. G. C. Ross, 33, who died Thursday at Camp Joy, will be conducted at 10 o'clock this morning at Sanders Funeral home. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

Mrs. Ross, a resident of Lubbock, had been ill two years.

Mrs. Ross is survived by her husband; two sons, Oran and Paul; one daughter, Mary Ann; her father, J. H. Calvery, and two brothers, Jesse and Herman, of Oklahoma City.

Pennsylvanian Is Freed Again After Serving Sentence For Denying Vaccination To Son

CARLISLE, Pa., March 10. (AP)—Jack Marsh, who refused to permit his children to be vaccinated and goes to jail every once in a while for not conforming with the school laws was freed again today—under $50 bond.

The bail secured Marsh's release pending an appeal to the county court from the latest of a long series of five-day sentences.

Except for a three-day "vacation," Marsh has been in jail since November. A five-day sentence was imposed for each day his son Eugene was absent from school.

The "vacation" was permitted this week to give Marsh a chance to reconsider. When he refused, as usual, he was arrested and sentenced again.

Hoover Plans To Deliver Speech

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, March 10. — Former President Herbert Hoover plans a speech on American foreign relations after his present European tour is ended.

He disclosed his plan after issuing a statement yesterday in which he declared his visits with European leaders and rulers including Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, had "reinforced" his belief in democratic principles.

Declining to discuss in detail his conversations with Europe's statesmen, he said, "I am even more reinforced in my belief that the progress of American rests in the principles of intellectual liberty and spiritual freedom, a system of free economy regulated to prevent abuse, and popular government."

Day In Jail And Costs Given In Liquor Violation Case In City

Bascom Allen, charged in county court with violation of state liquor laws, Thursday was tried before a jury and found guilty. He was sentenced to a day in jail and payment of court costs.

Ruby Hereford, negro woman, entered a plea of guilty of a charge of violation of state liquor laws, and was sentenced to an hour in jail and payment of court costs. Case against Clifton Hereford, co-charged with Ruby Hereford, was dismissed, attaches of the court said.

Robert J. Allen, county attorney, and his assistant, Hugh Anderson, represented the state.

A jury will return at 9 o'clock this morning when case of aggravated assault against F. V. Williams and gaming with dice against R. A. Morrison are subject to call.

Pennsylvania Given Wide-Open Primary For Governorship

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 10. (AP) The threat of a wide-open primary, which hung for weeks over the heads of Pennsylvania New Deal leaders, became a reality today.

The announced candidacy of Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, in opposition to the state organization and with the "full support" of CIO Chief John L. Lewis, created a four-way scrap for the May 17 elections.

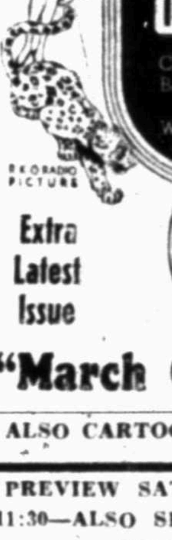

Kennedy jumped into the race with a declaration for "adequate relief" and a revised tax system and against "boss rule." He was ignored by party slate-makers who chose Charles Alvin Jones, Pittsburgh lawyer, in spite of demands for Kennedy voiced for weeks by Lewis.

Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, once a Republican worth 200,000 votes in the 1934 primary election for governor, and now a Democrat, was the first in the race this year. The fourth contestant is former Mayor William N. McNair of Pittsburgh.

ONION ACREAGE INCREASED

RAYMONDVILLE, March 10. (AP) Willacy county's onion acreage will be 5,500 this year, an increase of 500 over last year. Actual acreage planted is almost three times that amount, but onions here are planted in rows about 36 inches apart, whereas in most other parts of the state the rows are about a foot apart. The acreage is figured on the basis of 12-inch rows.

Dallam's Land Protected Now

(By The Associated Press)

DALHART, March 10.—Methods to conserve soil and water on farm land are now more widely applied in Dallam county than in Texas as a whole, a check with County Agent Frank Stubbs and with state figures shows.

In the state at large 20,839,492 acres of crop land are shown in need of protection against soil and water loss, with 10,587,000 acres, or approximately one-third, protected. If Dallam county is representative, the northwest Panhandle has approximately two-thirds of its crop land protected.

Has Million Trees

Dallam county has in round numbers one million acres, and about 350,000 acres is in cultivation. Of this, 150,000 acres are protected by contouring and 150,000 by cover crops. However, the aggregate protection is not 300,000 acres because much of the cover crop is on contoured land, which conserved and equitably distributed all available moisture. The check shows that at least two-thirds of the 350,000 plowed acres are adequately protected from moisture and soil losses.

Most of the conservation work, Stubbs said, was done the past two years and is due to several factors: The state and federal experiment stations and the soil conservation service by their demonstrations proved workability and practicability of contouring and cover cropping; the drought emphasized need for such practices; and the AAA program furnished the farmer the means to put such practices into operation with advantage to himself.

NEW TELEPHONE BOOK

LEVELLAND, March 10.—Southwestern Associated Telephone Co. of Lubbock is working on a new telephone directory here that will show a 39 per cent gain in number of subscribers in the past year. Morton is to be combined with Levelland and it will show 60 per cent increase in the number of subscribers. J. A. Moses and Leland Mast were here working on the directory, to be published April 1.

ADMITTED TO PRACTICE

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—The following Texas attorneys have been admitted to practice before the supreme court:

R. F. Voyer, Dallas; Hebert G. Potthoff, Galveston; Curtis E. Hill, Dallas.

Baker Is Endorsed By 478 Local ITU Unions, Howard By 204

INDIANAPOLIS, Mar. 10. (AP)—An unofficial summary of pre-election voting in the International Typographical union, announced today from the organization's headquarters, showed C. M. Baker of San Francisco had the endorsement of 478 local unions and Charles P. Howard of Chicago that of 204 in the contest for president.

Howard, the incumbent, also is secretary of the Committee for Industrial Organization. The Typographical unions is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The election will be held May 25.

Leasing Around Vernon Active

(By The Associated Press)

VERNON, March 10. — The most active leasing boom in nearly 20 years has placed more than one-third of Wilbarger county's 600,000 acres under contract, oil operators estimate. Leasing rapidly is extending into Hardeman and Foard counties, also.

Not since the Sigler discovery well blew in south of Vernon in January, 1920, has the county seen more activity, veteran followers of the oil game say.

Sent Leasers Into Action

Completion of the Castlebury discovery well six miles south of Vernon a few months ago, and the bringing in of the Phillips Petroleum company's No. 1 Luther Webb, et al, soon afterward sent lease seekers into action. Locations in the north, southwest and southeast sections of the county intensified their efforts.

Much interest is being shown in two Wilbarger tests in the extreme southeast portion, which, oilmen say, may prove extensions of the K. M. A. field.

Reports have circulated that more than $125 per acre was paid for several leases in the Fargo locality north of Vernon, but most wildcat territory is being contracted at a much smaller figure.

Fifty per cent of the land north of Vernon has been leased and 75,000 acres are under contract in Hardeman county, it is estimated. W. Hy Rogers of Vernon is assembling two blocks, one of 30,000 acres and the other of 10,000, in Hardeman county. The Gulf Oil corporation has 15,000 acres under lease.

Approximately 60,000 acres are under lease in Foard county, much of it near the Texas company's Foard-Cottle county pool on the Les K. Johnson property where more than 10 of the 15 tests drilled have become producers.

Many leasing booms, such as activity in the south Vernon pool in 1934, the Fluhman pool in 1927, and the Rock Crossing field, followed this county's first "real" oil play, the Sigler boom, but none approached the promise of the current activity.

Aid Of 800 Dentists Is Asked By FBI In Triple Slaying Case

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—The federal bureau of investigation has asked the help of 800 dentists, attending a five-state postgraduate clinic, in solving a three-year-old triple slaying.

The bureau showed an exhibit of the dental work done on a 40-year old woman, a 13-year-old boy, and an 11-year-old girl whose bodies were found, with bullet holes in their skulls, near Middlebury, Vt., in 1935. Identity of the trio was not discovered.

The boy was undergoing treatment for protruding teeth at the time he was killed, and the bureau wants to find a dentist who used a special twist in the told wire attached in the teeth. That dentist, federal experts believe, might be able to identify the boy from his records.

Stomach Pains Caused By Gas

Could Hardly Breathe, Stomach So Upset; But Van-Tage Gave Her Relief; Enjoys Meals Now.

"I never would have believed there was such a medicine!" People over this entire section are saying that about Van-Tage, the Amazing New Medicine which is being sold in large quantities here. Recently, Mrs. Mary Irelan, of 1011 Broadway St., Joplin, Mo., stated:

MRS. MARY IRELAN

Sluggish Organs Caused Her Great Misery

"After eating a meal it was like stirring up a hornet's nest, for I would bloat and cramp and gas pains pressed up around my chest. Gas would come up inside me and Would Almost Choke My Breath off! My kidneys were sluggish and poisonous wastes in my body brought on blind, dizzy spells. After a few doses of Van-Tage I was convinced that I had found the Medicine I needed. So much bloat has gone from my stomach that I can eat and enjoy my meals once more. My sluggish kidneys have had wonderful relief and so much of the old poisonous wastes have been swept from my system that I no longer suffer with those dizzy spells. Van-Tage Relief has certainly been the answer to my prayers!"

It is the Natural Herbs in Van-Tage which help to produce the relief described above by Mrs. Irelan. Herbs have been used by the Human Race for Hundreds of Years! They help invigorate bowel, stomach and kidney action, so don't hesitate to take Van-Tage. Get it at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway. Adv.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Arms Race Revives Debate: Which Most Effective Bombers Or Battleships?

Can An Airplane Sink A Warship?

BY DEVON FRANCIS
Associated Press Aviation Editor

IF an airplane can sink a battleship, defense of America's coastlines would appear to be a simple matter. If it can't, a lot of energy is being wasted on that argument again.

While the navy's battle wagons conduct their annual maneuvers in the Pacific, a tidy plan for stopping an invading fleet in its tracks is being evolved by the Army Air Corps.

Both Make Good Cases

Army bombers, as a new "first line of defense," would wing far to sea to engage the fleet. At best, the invader's warships would be sunk or disabled. At worst, they would be put at a disadvantage.

The Air Corps makes a good case for itself.

But so do champions of the warship, insistent that the navy still is the nation's first line of defense.

Little has been added to available knowledge in the Battleship-vs.-Aircraft argument by the Ethiopian, Spanish or Sino-Japanese wars. No modern bombing plane has been tested against a modern warship.

Partisans of the airplane say Italy won the first air war in history without firing a shot—by threatening to sink the British fleet in the Mediterranean if the Suez canal were closed during the Ethiopian excursion. But the facts are not public.

A Deep Secret

Still a deep secret among military men were the results of the "bombing" of the battleship Utah by army planes last year, several hundred miles off San Francisco's Golden Gate. They were impressive. Dropped from an average of 12,000 feet, "water bombs" peppered the deck and the water near the vessel.

The army argued that the direct hits with real bombs would have sunk or crippled the Utah; that near-hits would have opened her seams.

The answer to the planes' accuracy was a new, secret, bomb sight.

It is all theory, of course, and the rebuttal of the navy adds up to an equally logical conclusion that for offense, the airplane is as effective as a gnat on an elephant's hide.

Battleship Protection

Modern battleships, they point out, are armor-plated above the water line and that bulges or "blisters" below it absorb the shock of explosions.

Alone among high navy officials, Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, has conceded publicly that an airplane might be able to sing a battleship.

Let's enter a hypothetical war. An enemy is approaching our shores. A warning has been sounded.

The Carrier's Brood

Ashore are the Air Corps' heavy bombing planes, the largest capable of flying 1,500 miles, unloading several thousand pounds of "eggs" and returning without refueling.

Co-operating with the defense fleet are the navy's slower, heavily armed patrol bombers. On cruisers and battleships of each fleet are nests of scouting and observation planes, and on aircraft carriers are several hundred combat observation, and light bombing machines.

The usefulness of the carriers' broods can be discounted beyond 300 miles from their base. Exceptionally vulnerable to attack, the carriers will remain far behind the zone of battle.

With the enemy still a thousand miles out, a dozen Air Corps bombers take off to meet him.

But, the navy interposes, how is the army going to find him? Well, runs the answer, the Utah was found in a search of 90,000 square miles of ocean; to find a whole fleet should be easy.

All right, says the navy. The enemy has been spotted, but the enemy also has spotted the army, and a swarm of fighting planes is rising from every ship.

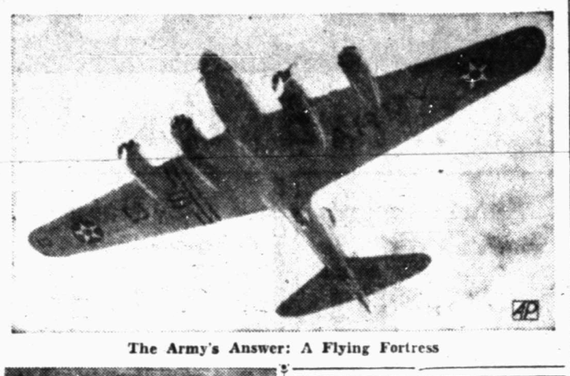

A "curtain" of anti-aircraft shells is being thrown athwart the bombers' line of flight.

Not so fast, says the army. (1) Enemy observation units are off on missions and the surprise is complete. (2) Only a few enemy combat planes are in the air, and the rest are being launched too slowly to worry about. (3) The carriers, looming like the broadside of a barn, can be dispatched quickly. (4) Anti-aircraft fire is innocuous at 10,000 to 12,000 feet.

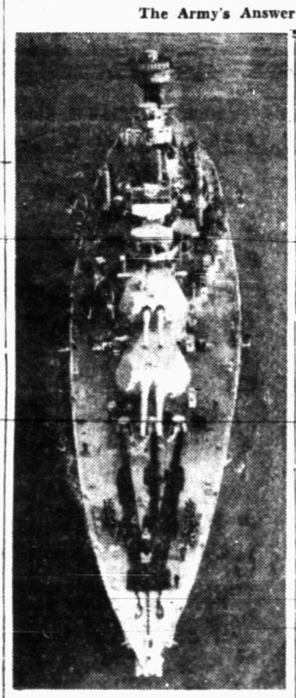

Very well, retorts the navy with deadly finality, but the airplanes can't sink the battleships; and as for "harassing" the enemy, submarines and torpedo boats can do a better job.

The Air Corps recently pulled a new idea out of its sleeve. How about laying down a blanket of deadly gas, it asks, and let the elaborate ventilating systems of enemy ships suck in the fumes?

The navy, which can give as well as take, will have an answer to that one soon.

The Army's Answer: A Flying Fortress

New Flights Between Dallas And Kansas City Scheduled

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 10. (AP)—Braniff Airways has announced two new flights would be put in operation between Dallas and Kansas City, effective March 15.

The northbound plane will arrive here from Dallas at 6:12 p. m. after making connections at Dallas at 5 p. m. with flights now in operation from Galveston, Houston, San Antonio and Austin.

Leaving here at 6:20, the plane will go to Wichita, Kas., Kansas City and Chicago. The south-bound flight will leave Chicago at 1:05 p. m. arriving here at 6:30 p. m. It will arrive at Dallas at 7:53 p. m.

The new flights, giving an additional round trip each day between Chicago and Dallas for air mail, passenger and air express service, will take the place of one discontinued last autumn.

Gold production in the Union of South Africa during the last year amounted to 11,740,000 ounces, a new record.

Would Not Take Anything For The Gly-Cas Results

Relieved Of A Lifetime Of Rheumatic Suffering; Stomach Regulated; Entire System Toned By Herbal Remedy

"I would not take anything for the remarkable results that this new Gly-Cas has given me," said Mrs. Lucena McNaughten, 721 E. Van Buren, Harlingen, Texas. "Nearly all my life I have been afflicted with rheumatism. My entire system was filled with poisons which had accumulated during years of trouble with a stubborn case of constipation. My stomach was affected and regardless of how carefully I watched my diet I was forced to endure awful gas and bloating after each meal. I felt sluggish, tired and worn-out continually and had no energy to do the least thing. I had tried various medicines which were highly recommended to me but obtained little results until Gly-Cas was brought to my attention and I decided to give it a trial."

MRS. LUCENA McNAUGHTEN

"This new remedy has given me wonderful relief from the awful rheumatism which had caused me such misery during my years of suffering," continued Mrs. McNaughton. "My entire system has been cleansed of its poisons in a natural and piansant manner and I feel one hundred-percent better since Gly-Cas has given me such a complete new outlook on life. I feel full of pep and energy and cannot say too much for the remedy which has brought all this about."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns. —Adv.

Young Mother Shakes Head When Asked If She's Sorry She Strangled Kiddies

(By The Associated Press)

BABYLON, N. Y., March 10. —Mrs. Margaret Thomsen, a young mother, from the mud flats of West Babylon, accused of strangling her two small children, shock her head when asked if she was sorry her babies were dead.

"Why should I be?" she asked, "those kids are better off."

Assistant District Attorney Lindsay Henry said she had confessed she throttled the children, Kathleen Elizabeth, 3, and Henry, jr., 5 months old, in despair over their poverty.

"The two kids never had no fresh milk," Henry said she complained, "and we never had enough food."

She was held on charges of first degree murder.

The shabbily-clad mother had to borrow a nickel from an uncle, who lived nearby, to phone state police her children were dead.

Two troopers found the bodies in the kitchen of the dilapidated Thomsen home.

"Hairy wouldn't take me out," they quoted her as saying. "He never even took me to the movies. That's why I killed those darned brats of his."

Slaton High Band Is To Present Concert

SLATON, March 10. (Special) — First public appearance of Slaton High school band in new scarlet and black uniforms will be a free concert March 18 in the high school auditorium.

Seventy new uniforms recently were delivered. They are of wool whipcord, and caps are West Point shako style with scarlet plumes.

J. Richard Walker, director of Borger High school band and president of the northern division Texas Bandmasters association, will be guest conductor for the program. Miss Margaret Weiss, drum major of Borger High school band, will present acrobatic and baton twirling acts.

Several South Plains band directors will be guests. Clyde Rowe is conductor of the Slaton unit.

Suit For Damages And Writ Of Mandamus Filed Against Board

SAN ANTONIO, March 10. (AP)—A suit for $5,000 damages and for a writ of mandamus against the Texas board of examiners in optometry has been filed here by Dr. Sol Rubenstein of Beaumont.

Dr. Rubenstein asked District Judge Everett F. Johnson to compel the board to issue him a Texas Optometrist license and to pay him $5,000 damages which he claimed because the board refused to recognize licenses which he received in Illinois and Michigan.

Oil Royalty Check For $4,000 Finally Catches Up With Man

RIDGWAY, Colo., March 10. (AP)—John T. Edgar, 50, came back to Ridgway to work for a railroad and run a farm in his spare time, unimpressed by receiving a $4,000 royalty which an oil company had spent many years trying to deliver to him.

Edgar and his wife returned here from Houston, Texas, where he said the long overdue royalty check was delivered. He explained they left their former home at Electra, Texas, nine years ago, leaving a forwarding address in the hands of a bank which closed its doors in 1931.

The address was lost, Edgar said, when the bank failed, and only recently had the Shell Oil company, operators on his Winkler county, Texas, oil lease, learned his whereabouts.

U.S. Public Health Service Maps Drive Against Venereal Diseases In Texas

State Likely To Get $500,000

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10 — The public health service announces plans for carrying to every community in Texas its proposed nation-wide fight against venereal diseases.

Those plans depend on the passage by congress of a pending bill authorizing appropriation of $9,000,000 for the work, and on actual appropriation of the money. If authorized, the money probably would be sought in a deficiency appropriation bill.

State To Get $500,000

Texas would receive approximately $500,000, which would be appropriated within the next two fiscal years.

The authorization bill has been approved by the senate commerce committee and is expected to be reported out to the senate soon. Hearings are expected to begin in the near future on the companion bill in the house before the interstate and foreign commerce committee. The bill authorizes appropriation of $3,000,000 for the work in the 1939 fiscal year, and $6,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940.

The measure would place in the hands of the public health service the distribution of funds, but specifies it must be disbursed to the various states on one of these three bases: (1) population; (2) extent or prevalence of disease; (3) financial need of state.

On Population Basis

Dr. R. A. Vonderlehr, assistant surgeon general in charge of the division of veneral diseases, said Texas probably would receive its proportion on a population basis, and would get between $150,000 and $200,000 in the first year's appropriation and double that amount for the second year's work. He said the state undoubtedly would be required to match these funds.

Dr. Vonderlehr stressed the point the money would be turned over to state officials, who would have full freedom in directing their campaign. "We would not dictate to the states how they should function," he said. "They could have a free hand as long as they did the job along logical lines and there was no dishonesty in expenditure of funds."

To Conduct Research

He said about 15 to 20 percent of the national appropriation would be used for administration costs and research work. Some of the research would be done by the public health service alone, and some in cooperation with state health departments and local agencies, such as universities and clinics.

"In the past we have been restricted by funds to confine our venereal disease research almost exclusively to syphilis," he said. "If the appropriation is made, we hope to conduct quite a bit of research into the control and cure of gonorrhea."

May Choose Oil Fields

He said the department might do some research in certain sections because of an acute prevalence of veneral diseases, such as found in boom oil fields. The availability of proper facilities and cooperation of local interests might also determine the choice of a site of one of the research laboratories.

The federal funds would be distributed to states on a quarterly basis, beginning within two or three months after congress appropriated the money, Dr. Vonderlehr said. State health administrators would be required to submit a budget of general expenditures they planned to see whether the program met with general accepted standards.

He said some of the money would be used for personnel, rentals, purchase of equipment, and for the conducting of an educational campaign to enlighten the public on means and methods of controlling and preventing venereal diseases.

State heads would determine whether the population or prevalence of diseases in a community merited the establishment of a clinic or simply the engaging of private physicians to handle cases on a nominal fee basis.

Crippled Girl Appears To Be Winning In Gamble With Death

KANSAS CITY, March 10. (AP) — Sylva Davis, 20, appeared to be winning today in the 50-50 scientific gamble she took with death Tuesday by undergoing a rare and dangerous operation on the life cords in her spine in the hope of gaining the use of her arms and legs. The young woman, who has been paralyzed since birth when a blood vessel burst in her brain, spent a good night last night and her condition today was reported at a hospital as "fairly satisfactory."

The outcome of the operation will not be known for weeks. She now is in a respirator.

HELP 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

To Flush out Acids and Other Poisonous Waste

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 Miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the beginning of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 Miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Solons Will Be Asked For Fund

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 10.—Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said today the legislature meeting in January, 1939, would be asked to appropriate an additional $1,000,000 to match contemplated federal funds for venereal disease control and to otherwise expand the public health service in Texas.

He said at least $500,000 would be needed to supplement funds proposed for Texas in a suggested federal appropriation specifically for syphilis and other venereal disease control and another $500,000 would be necessary to expand general health work in the state.

Now Receives $300,000

Texas now receives approximately $300,000 yearly from the federal government but none of it is applied directly to syphilis eradication or control. Primary services take all of this fund and the bulk of the $315,000 annual health department appropriation from the legislature, Dr. Cox said.

Should congress approve the proposed appropriation of $9,000,000 for all the country, Texas would spend its allotment for subsidizing venereal clinics which would be furnished medication.

Would Expand Laboratory

Also, the department would expand its existing laboratory facilities for handling the vast increase of work which naturally would follow a fidespread anti-venereal disease campaign, the health officer explained.

In anticipation of the possible appropriation, the department has sent a laboratory technician to Ann Arbor, Mich., and Philadelphia, Pa., for special training and a second technician soon will take similar training.

Dr. Cox said the government would not earmark funds for combatting social diseases until an aroused public opinion demanded it. He believes the public is now cognizant of the effects on society of these maladies and will demand action from the state.

UNIVERSITY TO START TESTS

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—University of Texas students today neared realization of their anti-syphilis campaign with an announcement by school health officers voluntary Wasserman tests would begin Monday.

Climaxing a campus drive and with approval of the board of regents, the tests will be made available immediately instead of next September, the announcement said, because private laboratories in San Antonio have been made available for testing blood samples.

The university will expand its laboratory equipment next fall when large scale tests will be available. Under the temporary arrangements no more than 20 seniors will be tested daily at a fee of $1 each.

A student vote resulted in 3,771 favoring tests and only 40 opposed.

Traditional Sulphur And Molasses Are 'Out' As Cures For Spring Fever; Fishing, Golf And Vacations Favored By Lubbock People

The traditional sulfur and molasses are "out," according to most Lubbock residents, who prescribe far more effective means of combating that strange malady known as "spring fever."

One Technological student recommends a two weeks vacation "with everyone being required to stay in Lubbock to celebrate." Another proposes "shorter classes" to allow time for "more outside activities."

Thinks Sleep Would Help

"I think a lot of sleep would solve the problem," said Raymond Sidwell, assistant professor of geology at Tech, after he had concluded a lecture to a drowsy class.

One woman visiting Lubbock from the Rio Grande valley remarked "the West Texas atmosphere is the best cure" she had seen.

Time Is Suggested

"Frankly, I've never had a case of spring fever," said Dr. J. K. Richardson. "But I would suggest time as the best remedy."

Mrs. E. B. Martin, housewife, suggested "a long hike in the woods."

A "long ride through the country" is recommended by Max Wilson, drug clerk.

"No work and lots of play," prescribes Billy Coffman, Tech student.

Fishing and golf are recommended by Spencer Wells.

The moon's mass is estimated to be about one-8th that of the earth.

NEW STATION DENIED

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP) — The Communications commission denied today an application by Earle Yates for permission to erect a new radio station at Las Cruces, New Mexico.

Yates is manager of station KGKL at San Angelo, Texas.

The commission said the "size and character" of the Las Cruces community "is not such as will warrant a presumption of an income sufficient to insure success" of a radio station.

Working Hard For Air Service

THE chamber of commerce and South Plains aviation enthusiasts are pursuing exactly the right policy in taking advantage of every opportunity to further the possibility of placing Lubbock on the air maps of the nation and the world.

Specific reference is made here to the fact that Lubbock will be represented at the southwestern aviation conference opening in Oklahoma City this morning. Attending also will be the outstanding figures in the nation's aviation. If the trip serves no purpose other than to remind them of Lubbock, to add to their information concerning the South Plains, to tell them anew that Lubbock feels it is ready for commercial aviation, the time and the expense will be well worth while.

Those who have observed the unsuccessful endeavors through the years to gain aviation recognition for our city would be amply justified if they should feel that it has been a disheartening task. But this area is too rich, too large and is growing too rapidly for it to be ignored forever. Air transportation will come to the South Plains some day and The Morning Avalanche has the feeling it may be much sooner than even the optimists may hope.

For that reason, we must be alert constantly to the opportunities which may appear. We must keep the contacts we already have established with aviation leaders while ever seeking to enlarge our circle of such acquaintances.

Thus when the time comes—and it will come—we shall not be forced to deal with those who are strangers to us. Taking advantage of opportunities like that afforded have won Oklahoma City well may mean that we will have won the battle before we realize it has begun.

No Other 'Gods' Before Stalin

INCREDIBLE, isn't it, that in a nation supposedly civilized a man will proclaim almost brazenly his guilt to a charge of treason to his country and then, almost in the next breath, insist on his "innocence" to the "charge" of praying to God.

Yet this thing occured in Russia during the trial of 21 former leaders now charged with treason. The fact of the prayer came as an apparently startling "disclosure" while the trial was in progress.

While no one outside of perhaps a few in the inner circle of the Russian dictatorship actually knows the whats and whys of what goes on there, the incident will provoke significant speculation among Christian people.

They may see significance, too, in the fact that the trial, previously open to the public, continued behind locked doors after the prayer episode. Can it be that Stalin recognizes—as certainly he must—that his subjects while voicing the cheers dictated by fear still carry God in their hearts?

With Our Contemporaries

"During the time that Attorney-General William McCraw has been in the east fighting the battle for Texas' share of the taxes in the estate of the late E. H. R. Green, a number of politicians have been howling because the attorney-general has not entered suit for the recovery of Padre island," W. D. Starcher says in the Dickens County Times. "This is a little sandy reef in the lower Rio Grande that is not worth ten cents an acre, and the most that could be made of it would be a picnic ground for the fisherman of that section of the country."

"Who is the 'forgotten man' of whom you have heard the President and others speak the past two years?" asks Homer Steen in the Floyd County Hesperian. "In our opinion he is not some class fellow, like the laborer, the overworked sales clerk, the banker man or some such. He is any man who finds himself unemployed at the age of 40, or above. He may have dug ditches, run banks, handled cattle, sold merchandise."

"Most Muleshoe young men are wise enough to know that when a girl begins running her fingers through a fellow's hair, it's time for him to either propose or go home," the baldheaded editor of the Muleshoe Journal, Jess Mitchell, reports.

The One-Minute Sermon

I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.—Romans 12, 1 and 2.

Empire For A Lady

By Alan LeMay
C. By The Associated Press

SYNOPSIS: Savage Dyak tribes are on the wild loose at war with the Malays on tropical Sumantang island. Christine Forrester, a young English girl, is behind the revolt, completing a plan of her dead father for Dyak freedom. Rajah Mantusen thinks my uncle, James Clyde, controls the Dyaks and offers him the governorship of Balingong. While Christine tries to convince Clyde that this means unlimited opportunity for wealth and power, I (Paul Thorne) go back aboard the Linkang and wait.

Chapter 25

More Millions Than One

Clyde was gone until late in the afternoon. I had no ballast to shift, of course. The crew loafed under their awning forward, some of them half-heartedly playing cards, some getting in their routine grumblings; but mostly they just scratched and sweated, and speculated about what was going to happen. I talked with Blair under the other awning, aft; I wrote up the log, and tinkered with a sextant I was trying to make; but mostly I was wondering what Clyde was getting himself into.

Clyde came back aboard the Linkang as the sun was lowering.

"Will she move out yet?"

"No."

"I suppose we can kidnap her out of here, if it comes to that."

Clyde snorted. "Take her where? Hold her how long? No use taking her away unless you can keep her away. Don't be a damned fool."

I got bandages up, soaked away the ones he had, and put on fresh.

After he was bandaged he went below and presently brought up some old account books, and a batch of loose paper. He sat for a long time at his table under the awning, thumbing through the accounts, striking off a few notes, and making sketchy computations.

"I suppose it might be done," he said at last, gloomily. "If I could legally get the raj, even in tribute to both Massin Ali and Mantusen, and get the thing organized on that kind of basis—it might pay out. There's more millions than one in the cargoes in there—if they could be got at."

"You couldn't hold the raj if you got it."

'Clean-up And Run'

"I might. There's no real reason it couldn't be held. We're well armed. Conceivably, we could pick out enough men to use the weapons. Balingong could be made smoky-hot for anybody to walk into."

"Tenyalang, huh?"

"I don't think much of the Tenyalang. At least, not in the sense that she does," he said. "But who's going to attack? Some hill-tribe raiders. Some Dyak pirates. If I couldn't whale the stuffings out of any bunch of Dyak pirates afloat I wouldn't be here now."

I was trying to draw him out to see how far he had come from his first conception. I saw what was bothering him. First, last, and at heart, James Clyde was a trader. A chance—even a bad and hopeless chance—at a tremendously rich monopoly, under his own military control, was something his mind couldn't stay away from.

"Even if Mantusen, as a last resort, pretends to sign over his raj," I said, "Massin Ali will repudiate. You know he will."

"And lose his revenue? What for? If I didn't pay the revenue the title would default back to him, anyway. Any Sultan of Saremba ought to be tickled to death to have a white man running something for him, for once, instead of against him."

"And he ought to know what would happen next," I argued. "He ought to know that the British, or else the Dutch, will surely gather us in if we succeed. Where'll he be then? Sitting on the corner with a tin cup—that's where he'll be. And I have no doubt he knows it."

"Don't even know it myself," said Clyde obstinately. "The raj of Balingong has a lot of stuff—that's what interests me. It has ginger, it has chincona. I don't see why it couldn't pay for itself as it goes. Even if we got booted out later, we ought to be ahead—way ahead. I don't want to stay here forever."

"You mean you just figure to make a clean-up and run?"

"Of course I want to make a clean-up! What else? I can run when I have to."

Pro And Con

"This girl," I cautioned him, "is getting you in deeper than that. This girl has held over a lot of her ideas from her father. And her father was a reformer. I can see that now—I can see it plain. He wanted to uplift these Dyaks. Bring in soap. Make 'em wash with it. Build a courthouse and lock 'em up in it. All that kind of vanilla. The plans that girl has would break the Bank of England."

He stared at me blankly. "Don't talk so much." He went back to his figuring.

But when next he threw down his pencil he took a different tone. "The whole thing is unsound and unsafe," he said disgustedly. "I'll take my ship in where anybody will, and I'll take some awful chances to get a cargo. But this thing is beyond all reason. The man doesn't live who could work it out."

I chose to argue with him again. It did not matter to him what my opinion was; I took the opposite side to make him talk. All day long I had been wondering what Christine was saying to him. I had thought I was not interested in what she was saying when her arguments were directed to me, but now that it was he to whom she talked, I was hungry for even a second-hand report of things she had said.

"The Rajah Brooke did it," I pointed out. "The same flim-flam exactly."

"It is not the same! Brooke was invited in by natives who knew him and trusted them, and were in his debt. Mantusen, here, has got those Dyak gun-muzzles prodding his belly. There isn't any point of similarity."

"I told you Balingong raj couldn't be held," I reminded. "The pirate praus—"

"Damn the pirate praus. I'm worrying about who's going to pay for all this. There's chincona here, yes; and there can be a lot of other stuff got out. But who's going to do the sweating? Those Dyaks haven't done anything except swing from tree to tree for 10 generations. It would take years to get them back to work. The Malays got mighty little out of them standing over them with a kris. How can I expect to get anything out of them?"

Clyde went back to his figuring again, and I left him alone. I was beginning to think that he was going to do it. I was beginning to think that perhaps he would in reality make himself rajah of Balingong—if only for a little while. A combination of events had put the Rajah Mantusen into his hands, tied up and helpless; and the possibilities that this suggested were bewildering. Instinctively he knew that this thing must be impractical, dangerously unsound. It was too big, too sweeping, too vast a break of the luck to be anything but false. Yet he could not keep his mind away from it.

Will Clyde decide to take the chance, tomorrow?

Nineteen-Pound Baby Marvel Of Detroit; Measures 24 Inches

DETROIT, March 10. (AP)—A 19-pound baby boy, measuring 24 inches at birth, was the marvel of Detroit this week.

He cried lustily and wiggled his curley head convincingly for visitors who came to see him.

Although hospital attendants said babies have been born weighing 25 pounds none so large are on record in this vicinity and at least one physician, told of the occurrence, exclaimed:

"I don't believe it."

The 36-year-old mother, Mrs. Mary Lawler, murmured when she was told how much the baby weighed:

There are five other children ranging from two to 17 years old.

QUIN NOT CANDIDATE

SAN ANTONIO, March 10. (AP)—Mayor C. K. Quinn has given up any aspirations for the Texas gubernatorial office.

"I am not a candidate for any state or district office," he declared at a press conference.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

HARRY Hopkins' enemies at Washington are plotting against him during his long absence from the home grounds. His friends are thinking of wiring him to come back in a hurry.

The W.P.A. Administrator has been hankering for the post of Secretary of Welfare if and when Congress establishes the new department, and if Miss Perkins' friends don't land the place for her. But social workers in other bureaus, slightly jealous of the go-getting Hopkins, are suggesting that there is really no need for a Welfare Department. Their sub rosa argument is that such centralization would result in an unwieldy setup. The new anti-Hopkins technique contemplates decentralization—regional offices with only administrative contact with Washington.

It might be wiser, however, for Harry to remain away a while longer, even if it costs him his Cabinet brain child. He has, perhaps deliberately, managed to keep out of the fierce fight raging between various cliques for White House favor during this critical recession period. And Congress may not pass the reorganization bill anyway.

CLINIC: With the twin slogans of 'What hurts business—hurts me" and "What helps business—helps me," 2,000 spokesmen for a million business men will tell Mr. Roosevelt what's wrong with the country at the May convention of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. It will be a mass demonstration that will dwarf the Roper roundup of "little fellows."

The Chamber's organizers have distributed questionaires designed to ascertain the troubles of members in almost every community. They will be urged to highlight Main Street problems rather than national policies. Every attempt is being made to stage an economic bread-and-butter clinic rather than a political convention. The C. of C. is taking no chances on retaliation by the White House or the LaFollette Civil Liberties committee.

The assemblage has a humorous implication. It indicates that leaders of organized business don't take much stock in the conclusions of the Roper meeting a few weeks ago. There was some talk that the "little men's" report was chiseled down before presentation to the White House—also that the gathering was what is known as a "hand-picked crowd."

RETORT: Whirligig's reference to the almost forgotten feud between Theodore Roosevelt and Jefferson Davis has provoked so much general interest—and so many questions—that the details may be pertinent. F.D.R.'s boast of his vote for Roosevelt the First gives the subject its political significance. Here are the facts:

Writing to George Harvey in 1904, T. R. said: "Jefferson Davis was an unhung traitor. He did not, like Benedict Arnold, receive money for his treachery, but he received office instead. The two men stand on an equal eminence of infamy in our country." Twenty years earlier T. R. and the president of the confederacy clashed on the same subject. In the North American Review for October, 1885, the ex-President had made a similar comparison of Mr. Davis and Arnold.

Mr. Davis replied by letter, to wit: "The instincts of a gentleman, had you possessed them, must have caused you to make inquiry before uttering an accusation so libelous and false." Mr. Roosevelt, then 27 years old, retorted: "Mr. Roosevelt does not deem it necessary that there should be any further communication between himself and Mr. Davis."

LESSON: The man who wants to be President in 1940—Paul McNutt—had to visit the White House to learn how to win an election. But he got the lesson in the press room, not in the presidential office.

The Indiana politico strolled into the writing quarters on the day the boys were holding the annual election of officers of the White House Correspondents' association. He arrived just in time to see Washington newspaperdom's political boss—"Senator" J. Russell Young of the Washington Star—cast a single ballot for his ticket, declare the polls closed until next year, and announce that "the people's friends" had been elected.

"Well, I'll be hanged," said Mr. McNutt. "And I thought I knew a thing or two about politics!"

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

JOHN LEWIS appears to have been frozen out of the Pennsylvania political picture by his Democratic pals, with the subtle help of President Roosevelt. He may still try to put over his protege Thomas Kennedy in the gubernatorial primary against Charles A. Jones, the official choice of the state organization. It is unlikely that this effort, if made, will succeed. Yet Lewis may be able to turn the situation to his ultimate advantage.

As we have previously noted, there is no possible percentage for Lewis in a hook-up with the Republican party. But if the G.O.P. nominates Gifford Pinchot for governor and James J. Davis for senator, which is a good bet despite the opposition of conservatives, the C.I.O. chief might decide to swing his following to their support—NOT as Republicans but as individuals friendly to labor. If they won, he could claim much of the credit and thereby strengthen his strategic position for 1940.

This possibility is worth watching. It would tie in directly with plans to form a new national liberal party, as recently described in this column.

INTERNATIONAL: Advocates of "collective security" in this country are not yet out of the picture. Despite the growth of isolation sentiment due to the switch in British policy towards Italy and Germany, believers in international cooperation to curb the aggressor nations are continuing their battle for a more positive foreign policy.

Their principal talking points are the growing Hitler menace to democracy and the threat of fascism in Canada and various South American countries. They argue that the United States couldn't stay out of another world war anyway—hence it behooves us to take a strong stand against acts of aggression which might lead to a major conflict.

The anti-isolationists are not organized in any way. They have no coordinator of public relations and no central propaganda agency. But many of them can command large newspaper and radio circulation for their utterances as individuals.

SPOKESMEN: There are strange team mates among the campaigners for more forceful American participation in international affairs. People whose political and economic doctrines are poles apart agree on this issue of foreign policy. Wall Street leaders find themselves in the same camp as Communist Chief Earl Browder—though for quite different reasons. Anti-New Deal Columnist Dorothy Thompson and Catholic prelate Monsignor Ryan ride along with a well-knit group in the C.I.O.—led by Philip Murray and John Brophy. John Lewis' support is sought, but the collective security-ites are leaving the hierarchy of the American Federation of Labor severely alone.

Even in Congress, where majority sentiment is overwhelmingly isolationist, there are small but active blocs working for international cooperation. Chief proponents in the House are Jerry O'Connell of Montana (a left-wing Rooseveltian) and Byron N. Scott of California. The Senate contingent is led by Lewis B. Schwellenbach of Washington (an outspoken liberal) and Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio (a moderate New Dealer). Secretaries Cordell Hull and Harold Ickes are Cabinet spokesmen for this viewpoint.

It is characteristic of this curious line-up that the conservative Republican New York Herald Tribune and the Communist Daily Worker are equaly hospitable to the presentation of the case against isolation.

DEFENSE: Switzerland is building an ultra-modern short-wave sender. It will be located at Schwarzenburg—practically immune from possible air attacks and difficult for an invader to reach. The station will be so powerful that its voice can be heard around the globe if necessary. Should Switzerland's neutrality be violated and all communications cut, she would still be able to tell her story to the world.

Side Glances---By George Clark

THE Plainsman, as some will remember, kicked like a bay steer the other day because Lubbock lower grade school children were being taught all about Egypt, Hawaii and other non-essentials, but had not even been told who General Pershing is.

Yesterday he ran across a story fairly comparable to the situation, although certainly our methods of education must be superior to those in vogue in the deep hill country.

The first day of a school term in a small community way back in the Ozarks found a varied assortment of children entered, of all sizes and ages. In order to try and classify them that first morning, the teacher asked each a variety of questions. There was one big, raw-boned, fine looking lad who had ridden up on a mule and had fastened it to a hitching post outside. When his turn to be questioned rolled around, the teacher asked:

"Who is the President of the United States?"

The boy replied that he did not know, whereat the teacher expressed indignation and surprise that an almost grown man was ignorant of the identity of the nation's chief executive.

"When you get home tonight," she ordered, "you ask your father who the President of the United States is and when you get back here tomorrow, be prepared to give me the answer. And," she turned to the balance of the class, "don't any of you tell him. Let him find out at home, like he should."

The next morning the boy rode up to school, tied his mule to the hitching post and took his seat.

"Dick," said the teacher, "stand up. Who is the President of the United States?"

"I dunno, ma'am," he replied.

"Didn't I tell you to ask your father who is President of the United States?" she stormed.

"Yes ma'am," he politely answered.

"What did your father say?" she pressed.

"My Paw," he answered, still politely, "said he don't know who the President of the United States is—and furthermore, he don't give a damn!"

While our fourth grade kids haven't been told anything about General Pershing in school, we are of the opinion that they need to know something about him and would be interested in the information—sandwiched in between knowledge concerning King Farouk, pineapples and surfboard riding.

A man who had been out of his home town for several weeks had just returned and was walking up the main street, toting his grip. Suddenly he noticed the appearance of a great funeral procession and saw that people were lining the curbs on both sides of the street in respectful silence. Walking up to a man who was watching the procession he asked:

"I beg your pardon, but whose funeral procession is this?"

"It is Jim Thompson's," the man replied.

Jim Thompson was one of the most prominent men in the community and a close friend of the returning traveler. He was stunned at the news.

"Did you say that was Jim Thompson's funeral?" he gasped.

"Certainly," said the other disgustedly.

"You don't mean to tell me that Jim Thompson is dead!" ejaculated the returned traveler, still very much upset.

"Of course, Jim Thompson's dead," said the other, withering-ly. "What do you think they're doing with him out there—practicing?"

APPROACHED to join an organization of men proposed to bring noted speakers to Lubbock for monthly banquet programs, one of our more prominent fellow townsmen flatly refused.

"We're already over-organized," said. "We're organized to the point where we no longer have time to spend a quiet evening with our friends—we've always got to be rushing to some organization's get-together."

The Plainsman, who rushes around to organizations about as much as anybody in these parts, can see the sense in that remark. Yet without organizations we'll warrant Lubbock or any other average town, would be a considerably worse place in which to live.

Charlie Duncan, the postman, told an applicable story Saturday night at a meeting of postmasters, clerks, carriers and rural carriers from over the 19th congressional district. Before a banquet session headed in Hotel Lubbock by Postmaster Andy Howard, Mr. Duncan said:

"An old negro was performing some feats with a bull whip for the entertainment of visitors. First he cracked the whip around a rose, some 30 feet away, and neatly cut the blossom off at the stem. Then, from a greater distance, he knocked a grasshopper from a weed.

"One of the guests, pointing to a wasps' nest on a nearby tree, said: 'Mose, let's see you knock that wasps' nest down.'

"But Mose refused. He wouldn't do it at all. Pressed for a reason, the old darky finally explained.

"'A rose am a rose,' he said, 'and a grasshoppah am a grasshoppah. But a wasps' nest—a wasps' nest am an organization!'"

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT No. 47 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The strands of the net confined the ape-man closely. He could move his arms a little, but neither quickly nor far. He would have difficulty in defending himself against the glowing point of the iron rod. Sooner or later, Woora would accomplish his purpose!

The malign magician came close and raised the red-hot iron to the level of Tarzan's eyes; then he jabbed suddenly at one of them. The victim warded off the searing point from its intended target. Only his hand was burned. But again and again Woora jabbed.

Each time, Tarzan succeeded in saving his eyes, but at the expense of his hands and forearms. Woora became convulsed with rage. He screamed and cursed and danced about, foaming at the mouth. The iron was cooling now and he took it back to the glowing brazier.

Then he stepped to another part of the room and reappeared a moment later with a rope. His rage gave way to cold confidence. "Now I shall truss you up so that you can't move," he chuckled; "the iron will go straight to its goal;—and this time it will be hotter!"

Five Reasons Submitted For Locating Cotton Research Laboratory In Texas

Data Is Before Sec. Wallace

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Texas congressional delegation, through a committee comprised of Chairman Jones of the house agriculture committee, Majority Leader Rayburn, and Rep. Luther Johnson, submitted to Secretary Wallace five reasons why they believe their state should be chosen as the site of the cotton research laboratory provided under the new farm act.

The reasons were:

(1) Cotton is now grown all the way from California to the Atlantic coast. Texas is located in almost the exact center of the cotton area.

Produces One-Third Of Crop

(2) Texas produces nearly one-third of all the cotton produced in America.

(3) Cotton in the western area is produced under different conditions as to climate and soil than in the eastern area. Texas is so located that it meets both conditions. The eastern half of the state is typical of eastern cotton production, and the western part of the state is typical of the western production of cotton. In fact Texas produces all types and is typical of the entire area.

Under All Conditions

(4) Texas is located on the east-west axis and produces cotton under practically all conditions, and thus the institution could best serve all cotton producers.

(5) The state of Texas exports nearly ninety per cent of its cotton. The trend of cotton production in recent years has been toward the west.

As a practical proposition, the western area is less interested in an adjustment program than the eastern area. There is, therefore, more disposition to criticise an adjustment program. Much of this criticism and dissatisfaction would be eliminated if the research institution were located in area which is most interested in the export phase of the program.

Political Candidates Note: East Texas Dogwood Trees Blooming; Event Planned

PALESTINE, March 10. (AP) — Political candidates note—the dogwood is blooming.

The first annual dogwood trail, which will afford visitors an opportunity to view the beauty of blooming dogwood trees that flourish near here, will be held Sunday.

Charles W. Womlridge of the chamber of commerce said invitations would be extended to Texas Garden club members.

The dogwood will retain its beauty for ten days or two weeks.

Dredging Operations For Gold And Several Other Valuable Minerals Planned On Creek

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANGELO, March 10. — On Big Sandy creek, a small tributary of the Colorado river in Llano county, workmen are assembling a mineral dredge, said to be the first used in Texas, to recover gold, chrome, platinum, ruby and garnet, with building materials a by-product. The project is headed by John Rogers and Tom Black of Pittsburg, Tex., and three San Angelo men, Herman G. Wendland, head of a metal works here, Sam Johnston and J. R. Medlock, a well driller, are interested in the venture.

Operation is expected to get under way by the middle of March. Mineral leases have been obtained on 35 miles of the Big Sandy creek bed, extending northwest in Mason county ranch lands; the landowners to receive 10 per cent of the value of all minerals recovered.

Production Is Indicated

Assays indicate gold production of $3.27 per ton, Johnson reports. Chrome, Johnston says, will value $26 per ton and iron $8 per ton. Other materials, to be salvaged from the "tailings," include garnet and ruby, sand, gravel, quartz and granite for building purposes.

Eight huge floats will provide pontoons for the dredge, 274 feet long and 50 feet wide and weighing around 300,000 pounds. Width of the stream will permit maneuvering from 450 to 2,200 feet. Steel diggers on an endless chain uproot the ore which is brought to the surface through a 10-inch suction pipe. The ore passes over an amalgamated belt lined with mercury which removes the gold. Iron ore is to be extracted by a magnetic separator while chrome and platinum is to be recovered by rifle table.

Plan To Establish Carbon Black Plant In Arkansas Area Talked

FULTON, Ark., March 10. (AP) — A plan to establish a carbon black plant in the Miller county, Ark., extension of the Rodessa oil field was disclosed today by Brooks Shultz, Fulton planter and business man.

"It is our impression," he said, "that a great deal of natural gas being produced in the Miller field in connection with oil development is going to waste, being burned to prevent its being disseminated in the air.

"Our thought was that we might get a carbon black plant in this part of the state to avoid this waste."

NET INCOME HIGHER

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP) — Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. reported 1937 net income of $11,589,281, equal to $3.02 a share of capital stock. This compared with $9,853,014 or $2.56 a share in 1936.

Stronger Inquiry Made For Gas

By ALFRED WALL
Associated Press Oil Writer

TULSA, Okla., March 10. — A stronger inquiry by gasoline purchasers seeking supplies for the summer motoring season was reported today as a heartening development in the petroleum industry.

Marketers made it clear there was no noticeable increase in sales and delivery contracts as yet but even the slight indication of a pickup was regarded a steadying influence in the refined market.

Refineries Shut Down

Among the refiners reporting the additional inquiry for gasoline were members of the Western Petroleum Refiners association. More than two dozen independent refineries in the area have shut down because they were unable to operate profitably under present market conditions.

The record-breaking amount of gasoline stocks in storage continued a drag on the industry. One authority predicted the nation would have an 80-day supply of gasoline on hand at th end of March.

Crude Oil Firm

In Oklahoma where the March output was regulated to a daily output of 475,000 barrels, 25,000 below the previous month, some companies thought the allowable should have been even lower.

Many historians rank the invention of the hand-mill for grinding grain as the second greatest event in the march of civilization. The discovery of fire is ranked first.

Liberal Policy On Powers Of City In Bonding Enunciated By Texas Supreme Court

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP) — The supreme court enunciated a liberal policy regarding a city's bonding power in a decision Wednesday overturning Attorney General William McCraw's ruling that Houston could not issue additional bonds aggregating about $3,000,000.

"Reasonably stable and sure" revenues from sources other than ad valorem taxes should be considered in determining whether a city can afford more bonds, the court said.

"Franchise taxes, parking meter revenues, occupation taxes, fines and things of that kind may fluctuate," Justice Richard Critz wrote, "and such revenues are in a sense uncertain; but so are all human institutions and all sources of revenue, public and private."
