Houffalize Under Siege As 3rd Army Opens New Drive

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Jan. 15 —The U. S. First army drove into Houffalize in the heart of the Belgian bulge today and opened an all-out attack that carried to within six miles of St. Vith as a new Third army assault in Germany overran three towns.

The First army's second armored division smashed more than a mile down the highway into the outskirts of Houffalize and a front dispatch said the doughboys were battling less than a mile from the center of that communications junction now the western key to the shrunken German wedge.

The U. S. Third army, lashing out from the south, sent an armored column and elements of the 101st airborne division in advances of a half mile to a mile to within four and a half miles of Houffalize.

Bulge Now A "Bump"

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges threw at least six divisions into the drive on St. Vith—only four miles from the reich border—shredding the Salm river line, overrunning eight or more towns and drawing up an assault arc six to nine miles from that major highway and rail center on the north, west and southwest.

With the once dangerous Belgian bulge now no more than a bump on the western front, the Third army swung out east of the Moselle river in Germany between Luxembourg and the Saar basin.

In advances of more than a mile and a half, the Third captured three towns—Butzdorf, Nennig and Wies, the latter five miles inside Germany just east of the Luxembourg frontier.

Now that his Ardennes adventure had come to an end, Field Marshal Karl von Rundstedt was reported pouring fresh troops into the Saar and northern Alsace for passibly new breakthrough attempts.

The Germans struck a dozen times with flamethrowing tanks at the town of Hatten, eight miles south of the German border above Strasbourg, and when these ef-

Army And Navy Charged By AFL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP) — Flatly opposing work or fight legislation, the American Federation of Labor said today the Army and Navy are backing a "pressure" drive for a national service law.

"Nobody's kidding us," Leis G. Hines, AFL legislative representative, told the House military committee after stating that the adverse European war situation had been chosen as "the psychological time" for the armed forces to press for a national service law.

Hines said he had been informed that the Army and Navy Journal, unofficial service publication, was planning to circularize the parents of service men and request them to write to congressmen in behalf of pending work or fight proposals.

Stand Already Taken

(The Journal already has taken that stand. An editorial in the Jan. 13 issue urged servicemen's families to write congressmen in behalf of the proposals made by President Roosevelt in his message to Congress two weeks ago, including national service and a nurses draft.)

Legislation to require every male of draft age to do something in the war effort was backed by Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York.

La Guardia expressed the belief that every man should be inducted into the armed forces and then deferred only if doing an essential job, and be required, at the same time, to contribute 24 hours of time weekly for service to the community.

He urged also that every "squaw man,"—he defined them as unemployed husbands of working wives—be required to show "why he's not in the Army," and suggested that older men on the fighting fronts be honorably discharged into essential industrial jobs and replaced by younger men.

Both Hines and Albert Hamilton, 31-year-old Vienna, Va., farmer representing the Socialist party, insisted that increased wages, not legislation, would solve the current manpower problem.

Stevenson, Smith To Be Inaugurated

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 15. — The 49th Texas legislature rounds out its first week tomorrow when Governor Coke R. Stevenson and Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith are inaugurated at a joint session for new terms.

Today's activities in the two branches tapered off as preparations for the brief, simple inaugural ceremonies were completed.

While the governor's second elective terms does not begin until he is administered the oath of office, his program of recommendations already had been heard by the legislators.

One important item, redistricting the state for house and senate representation, was submitted on an emergency basis today. The governor's action opens the subject to immedate consideration and work on proposed bills for the first reapportionment of representation since 1921 is expected to begin soon after the inauguration.

The governor pointed out that the constitution requires the legislature to redistrict house and senate representation—to equalize the people's voice in legislative halls—after each decennial census. Because a reappointment has not been made in more than 20 years shifting population has made obsolete much of the present districting, both as to house and senate.

Work Pattern Shaping

In another emergency message the governor asked the lawmakers to appropriate immediately $134,825 for state liquor board operation for the remainder of the fiscal year ending next Aug. 31.

This is because the liquor board has been operating for much of this year on a deficiency appropriation expired when the legislature convened and only the lawmakers can authorize further expenditures by the liquor board.

While little legislation has passed finally through the mill, the work pattern for the general session which will last a minimum of 120 days was shaping.

Chairman H. L. Winfield of the senate committee on governor's nominations said his group hoped to meet and organize tomorrow. The governor's new appointees to the University of Texas board of regents are expected to be considered by the committee very soon.

The house organization was not complete. It was awaiting the appointment of permanent committees by Speaker Claude Gilmer. Gilmer promised his announcement soon after the inaugural ceremony.

More bills were introduced in the senate.

These included those by:

Sens. Pat Bullock and G. C.

Germany Rocked Again From Air

LONDON, Jan. 15 (AP)—A group of American Mustang fighters made a surprise raid on two big German airdromes today, shooting up at least 31 parked aircraft as nearly 1,600 Allied warplanes from Britain blasted six important fuel and rail targets in southern Germany and the industrial Ruhr valley.

Mort than 600 U. S. Eighth Air force Flying Fortresses and Liberators, screened by 650 fighters, swept over enemy targets without meeting any luftwaffe opposition.

U. S. Loss Light

Three of the Eighth Air force bombers and one fighter were lost in the operation.

Twelve parked planes were destroyed and 19 were badly damaged when about 50 O-51s swooped over the airdromes at Landsberg and Oberpfaffenhofen, near Munich.

German plane losses in two days were at least 237 downed in combat, plus 20 destroyed and 19 damaged on the ground.

Bombardiers got only glimpses of one objective as a cloud curtain closed in, but they struck for the first time at rail yards at Igolstadt and Augsburg, north of Munich and at Reutlingen and Frieburg, south of Stuttgart. All are vital links for supplying the wehrmacht on the Strausburg and Hungarian fronts.

The daylight stabs left the reich rocking from an assault by at least 3,300 heavy bombers in the last 48 hours. The target list included 10 prime fuel refineries and storage depots stretching from the Ruhr to beyond Berlin.

Close to 7,600 Allied planes, including tactical units based on the continent, had slashed at the Germans in the two days.

Cigarette Rationing Plan Is Advanced

CHICAGO, Jan. 15 (AP) — The National Association of Tobacco Distributors announced today it would make cigarette ration cards available to more than 1,000,000 tobacco outlets within two weeks, for dealers to distribute to their regular customers.

The rationing plan, the association said, will be voluntary on the part of the dealers. The numbered cards will be punched for each pack purchased by a customer, and consumers will be required to sign a declaration that they hold only one card.

Joseph Kolodny, executive secretary of the association, told a press conference his organization believes the plan will prevent "raids" on dealers' stocks "by hoarders who shop every outlet," and will have the ultimate effect of restricting cigarette smokers to a single source of supply.

He added that ration cards would be unsuitable for outlets whose patronage is mostly transient, such as bus stations, hotel lobbies and the like.

The association said approximately 33,000,000 packs of tax paid cigarettes were produced daily for domestic consumption in 1944. The group estimates there are about 38,500,000 smokers in the United States who consume an average of less than a package a day. The average 1944 consumption was slightly more than 17 cigarettes a day per consumer.

New Airline Service Is Approved By CAB

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics board today granted permission for Mid-Continent Airlines to operate between Kansas City and New Orleans.

The action was made known by Rep. Brooks (D-La) who said the line would serve Shreveport, Texarkana, and Fort Smith, Ark.

War Punishment Bothers Britons

LONDON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Anxiety grew in Britain tonight over reports that the Allied war crimes commission had jettisoned plans to try Hitler and other Axis leaders, and Moscow broadcast that Russia intends to deal with German was criminals in her own way.

Two members of the commission, on which Russia is not represented, already have stepped out—Chairman Sir Cecil Hurst of Britain and Norwegian Ambassador Erik Colban. Sir Secil gave ill health as his reason and Colban said "pressure of work" forced his retirement.

Foreign Office Acts

The foreign office moved to calm fears that there was any possibility of the culprits' escaping through legal loopholes and announced that Lord Justice William Finlay, noted British jurist, has accepted appointment as Sir Cecil's successor.

The Moscow radio quoted Ilya Ehrenburg, Moscow's best known newspaperman, writing in Pravda, as saying:

"We ourselves will judge our torturers and this we will entrust to nobody.

Won't Forget Berlin

"We wake with the thought of Berlin and with the same thought we lie down to sleep. When we are silent we are thinking of Berlin and in our sleep we do not forget it."

A move was under way in London to bring the whole question of the British policy on war crimes before the House of Commons to be thrashed out at the earliest date possible.

Herbert Claiborne Pell, American delegate on the commission, presently is in Washington and the British look for him to make known the United States' position upon his return here.

CLEBURNE, Tex., Jan. 15. (AP) —Collapse of the southern span of the Brazos river bridge near Glen Rose, Tex., today dropped an army tank carrier 50 feet into shallow water, injuring three soldiers, one seriously. Names of the men were withheld.

One of the injured soldiers was taken to McCloskey General hospital at Temple.

U.S. To Take Strong Role In Europe

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP) — The United States is moving swiftly toward a direct hand in the political affairs of Europe.

President Roosevelt and the State department are veering away from Cordell Hull's "Tennessee formula" for keeping this country out of such affairs pending creation of a world security organization.

The change is viewed in diplomatic quarters, both American and European, as the most important development of that nature since 1941 when this country was plunged into war. The reason offered by American officials is that action is necessary now to hold the peace for which this war is being fought.

FDR Hinted Shift

Mr. Roosevelt apparently signalized the shift in his message to Congress two weeks ago, saying American power and influence will be used in support of the principles of the Atlantic charter.

The long range American objective remains the creation of a world security system wthin which Britain, Russia and the United States would be closely bound in cooperation for peace. Failure to advance that organization more quickly is regarded in some quarters as one of the causes of some of Europe's current trouble, since it leaves the United States uncommitted on long range foreign policy.

Senate proposals have encouraged administration leaders to believe there is strong sentiment for greater participation by this government in decisions which, as n Poland and Greece, already are molding the shape of postwar Europe.

Pole Coins Phrase

Hull's policies on European disputes were given the name "Tennessee formula" by former Prime Minister Mikolajczyk of Poland. The name has gained some currency in European embassies here. It has not, however, been used at the State department.

Mikoljczyk attributed to the "Tennessee formula" the fact that after successful conferences with American officials last summer both Prime Minister Churchill and he rushed to Moscow to find out what they could actually count on in the way of cooperation in Europe.

What Mikolajczyk was told here, according to the report in diplomatic circles, was summed up by Secretary Hull in an illustration drawn from his own Tennessee hills.

When there was trouble between two of his neighbors down in Tennessee, Hull said, he would not himself become involved in the dispute nor try to settle it. Rather, he said, he would solve their difficulties for themselves.

"When they have reconciled

Weather In Italy Slows Allied Drive

ROME, Jan. 15 (AP)—Snow in the northern Apennines and rain and thaws in the lower areas again put a damper on both ground and air action on the Italian front today, with only artillery and patrol clashes reported from most sectors.

The only substantial action was the extermination of German outposts by Eighth Army troops near the shores of Comacchio lagoon at the extreme right end of the line and a swoop by a Polish patrol across the Senio river south of the Bologna-Rimini highway. The Poles went withlin five miles of Inola before they were engaged by the enemy.

Lubbock Seeks Airline Stop

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP) — Delegations from Lubbock and Wichita Falls, headed by the mayors of the two Texas cities, urged the Civil Aeronautics board today to designate their hometowns as stops on a proposed east-west air route.

Involved is route American airlines has been authorized to fly between Oklahoma City, Okla., and El Paso, Tex., as soon as planes and pilots are available, and applications of continental airlines and Braniff airways to establish similar service.

Towns On Route

Mayor W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls told the commission American airlines planes would not have to fly more than 30 miles off their course to serve both his city and Lubbock on the Oklahoma City-El Paso route. He declared there is no east-west air service now for his city despite a large community of interest through the oil industry.

Continental airlines asked to fly from Oklahoma City via Wichita Falls and Lubbock to Hobbs, N. M., to connect with its exisiting service between Denver, Colo., and El Paso.

Postponement Asked

Braniff airways representatives, noting that their lines seeks to establish the requested service, asked the board to postpone any decision on the matter until the Consolidated Cab hearing on southwest feeder airlines applications has been held. Set for Jan. 31 in Fort Worth, Tex., that hearing now has been postponed until the middle of March.

Besides Mayor Hamilton, others in the Wichita Falls group included Richard Knight, manager of the chamber of commerce, and Rep. Gossett (D-Tex.) The Lubbock delegation included Mayor Overton Ribble, Marlin R. Smith, city manager, A. B. Davis, chamber of commerce manager, and Rep. Mahon (D-Tex).

Army Fugitives Are Sentenced In Robbery

OTTAWA, Ill., Jan. 15 (AP) — Three fugitives from a Texas Army prison pleaded guilty in circuit court today to charges of armed robbery and were sentenced to prison terms ranging from 2 to 15 years.

Sentenced were ernest D. McAdams, 23, of Black Lick, Pa., 5 to 15 years; Melvin H. Schoessow, 20, of Milwaukee, Wis., 2 to 6 years; and Todd Smith, 26, of Greenville, Ohio, 5 to 10 years.

C. A. Helffrich, La Salle county states attorney, said the three men escaped from North Camp Hood, Tex., where all were serving terms for being AWOL from the base.

Yanks Take Leap On Way To Manila

GENREAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Luzon, Tuesday, Jan. 16 (AP)—Sixth army Yanks completed one-fourth of the distance from Lingayen gulf to Manila by entering Tarlac province and capturing the road junction of Camiling, 28 miles inland from the gulf, headquarters announced today.

The communique, covering fighting through the sixth day, Sunday, told of advances in all sectors against surprisingly weak opposition.

Planes Have Wave

This opposition was kept disorganized by Liberator and Mitchell bombers, attack planes and fighters smashing highways, railways, troops and supply concentrations.

Parallel columns from Mangtarem southeast of Lingayen city and from Bayambang on the Agno river made the deepest thrust to Camiling on the right flank.

It is a road junction inside Tarlec province and represented the first penetration to Tarlec.

The southward move was approximately six miles beyond the deepest advance reported yesterday. At that point the steadily advancing Yanks are approximately 80 miles from Manila.

JAPANESE PREMIER SAID FACING CRISIS

Premier Kuniaki Koiso of Japan, struggling with a Japanese political crisis, today joined in whipping up popular anger over claims American Superfortresses had bombed a Nippinese national shrine.

Domei news agency, as reported by the Federal Communications commission, indicated a move was underway to force the resignation of Koiso. He succeeded Hideki Tojo last summer to become Japan's second wartime premier.

The propaganda effort to divert public attention and anger towards America over the purported bombing yesterday of the "outer shrine of the Ise Grand shrine" interrupted a cabinet meeting.

The Domei dispatch, hinting at Koiso's possible ousting, said some newly developed "factions" among national leaders were clamoring for "a bold and unprecedented political renovation" and "a second political reformation."

Reds Advance On Wide Front

LONDON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Premier Stalin announced tonight the Russian capture of Kielce, midway bastion of the Germans' shattered Warsaw-Krakow line in Poland, and Berlin told of "deep penetrations" in new Red army offensives on both sides of Warsaw as battles flamed in ten key sectors on a 600-mile front from the Baltic to Budapest.

Gaining up to nine miles in swift advances in southern Poland, Marshal Ivan S. Konev's first Ukraine army drove within 55 miles of German Silesia with the capture of Wodzislaw and within 25 miles northeast of Krakow with the seizure of Dzialoszyce.

Fallen Kielce is 93 miles southwest of Warsaw and 80 miles east of the German frontier.

Resistance Weakening

Inside Budapest the Russians drove within six blocks of parliament building on the Danube in the heart of the city with the capture of the west (Nyugati) rail station, and the end of German resistance in the city appeared near. The bulletin said the Soviet shock troops captured 4,790 more Germans and Hungarians, the largest prisoner bag in many days, for an 18-day total of 16,790, and

Carrier Smash Details Lacking, But 41 Ships Sunk In Indo-China Attack

By LIEF ERICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Jan. 15—Third Fleet fliers Saturday struck the China coast ports of Hongkong, Swatow and Amoy, only one day after sinking 41 Japanese ships in their audacious Indo-China attack, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported today.

Nimitz said details on the Fleet's first fullscale carrier blows against Japan's lifeline ports on the Chinese coast were not yet available.

Forty-one Japanese ships totalling about 127,000 tons were sunk and 28 more ships aggregating about 70,000 tons were damaged by carrier planes in the bold strike last Thursday on ports and convoys off Indo-China.

112 Planes Destroyed

Third Fleet airmen destroyed 112 Japanese planes and damaged about 50 more in the Pacific fleet's astounding dash across the South China sea to attack the western Pacific's most distant shoreline.

They also hammered major ground installations at Japan's vital Saigon and Camranh bay bases.

Oil refineries in the Saigon area, critically important sources of Japanese fuel supply, were heavily damaged.

Fires were started in the Saigon Navy yard and a large dock at Camaranh bay was demolished.

16 U. S. Planes Lost

Sixteen American planes were lost in the Indo-China air sweeps. This was a remarkably light cost for the crippling results achieved on the base area from which the Japanese most likely would be able to attempt reinforcement of Luzon.

Nimitz' communique gave this summary of Adm. William F. Halsey's highly-profitable attacks on Indo-China shipping:

Two convoys were wiped out.

One convoy entirely sunk were one oiler, four medium cargo ships, two destroyer escorts and four coastal cargo ships.

Second Convoy Smashed

All ships in a second convoy were sunk, damaged or beached. This group included a light cruiser believed to be the Kashii or the Katori class. Also in this convoy were four destroyer escorts, four oilers, seven medium cargo ships, two small cargo ships and one coastal ship.

In Camranh bay, one of Asia's best harbors, Halsey's planes sank a destroyer escort and a small

Solons Debate Foreign Policy

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP) — Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) set off a crackling Senate debate today by asserting that Europe is falling into Russia's grasp while this country delays taking a firm stand against power politics.

An administration supporter, Senator Pepper (D-Fla), bounced to his feet, as the Montanan finished a three-and-a-half hour speech. Centering his fire on Wheeler's reiterated plea that the Allies abandon their "unconditional surrender" demand, Pepper said:

Cites Last War

"In my humble opinion, if he (Wheeler) persists in urging the abandonment of the purpose of unconditional surrender in this crisis, it might cost more American lives than any statement Mr. Morgenthau may have made about destroying German industry."

Pepper said he had no doubt that the Germans would report Wheeler's views to their people.

Expressing the opinion that "the peace was lost right here in the Senate after the last war," Pepper called on his colleagues to agree to arm President Roosevelt with a statement of "what we will do and when we will do it" in supporting world peace moves.

Pepper Challenged

Balding Senator Millikin (R-Colo) challenged Pepper's assertion that the Senate's actions had brought on World war II. He asserted that other European nations "lacking the guts, the spirit and the enthusiasm to resist" German aggressors. He said Pepper could not demonstrate that if the United States had been a member of the League of Nations the result would have been any different.

Wheeler said that every time he spoke out he expected to be

Texas GOP Reaches Primary Vote Stage

AUSTIN, Jan. 15 (AP)—Unless the present law is amended, Republicans in Texas two years hence will be required to hold a primary election to name nominees for state offices.

The official canvass today by a joint legislative committee showed that B. J. Peasley, Republican candidate for governor in the last general election, received 100,271 votes.

The statutes require a party whose candidate polls 100,000 votes for governor in the preceding general election must nominate candidates for the next general election by the primary rather than the convention system.

The canvass gave, for governor: Coke R. Stevenson, Democrat, 1,007,826.

For lieutenant-governor: John Lee Smith, 1,007,691; John A. Donaldson, 102,547.

The Democratic ticket in the last general election was topped by George H. Sheppard, candidate for comptroller, who received 1,008,172 votes. All races except those for governor and lieutenant-governor are canvassed officially by a state election board. The legislature canvassed the vote for governor and lieutenant governor.

Plan For 15 Million New Homes Offered

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP) — Harry C. Bates, chairman of the American Federation of Labor's housing committee, today proposed a 10-year program for the construction of 15,000,000 new homes.

He was testifying before a Senate housing subcommittee.

Boris Shishkin, secretary of the AFL committee, told the senators full operation of the program would provide jobs for 6,500,000 persons in the building industry itself and that the demand for household equipment, appliances and furnishings would provide "at least 10,000,000" more jobs.

U.S. Losses In Nazi Push "Low"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP) — American losses in the first three weeks of the big German counter-offensive were less than half those of the enemy, Secretary of War Stimson reported today.

Basing his statement on preliminary tallies and estimates, the secretary placed American losses in the Ardennes sector from Dec. 15 to Jan. 7 at "slighfly under" 40,000 and said this figure included 18,000 reported missing. Most of the latter, he said, are presumed to be German captives.

Striking a balance, Stimson estimated that German casualties totalled about 90,000, including approximately 40,000 soldiers captured by the Allied armies during the "battle of the bulge." The remaining 50,000, Stimson estimated were killed or wounded.

Figures Are Tentative

Along the entire western front during the same period, total casualties for the American First, Third, Seventh and Ninth armies amounted to 52,594. Of these 4,-

What's To Be Done With SPAAF Remains An Air Forces Mystery

Future Glider Pilots Will Be Power Pilots, Too; SPAAF Program Shifts, Maxton, N.C.

(By The United Press)

FORT WORTH, Jan. 15. — Announcing a change in the Army Air Forces Training Command's role in the production of glider pilots, Lt. Gen. Barton K. Yount said today that effective Feb. 15, glider pilot training will be given only to officers who have their airplane pilot's wings and are proficient in flying two-engine planes.

Gen. Yount said that individual glider pilot training conducted by the training command at the South Plains Army Air Field, Lubbock, is to be discontinued effective today, ending the training command's direct participation in the training of glider pilots. The command will, however, continue to contribute trained manpower for training as pilots of the "whisper ships," but in the form of graduate airplane pilots.

Gliders To North Carolina

Hereafter, candidates for glider training, most of them recent graduates of training command pilot schools and all of them selected pilots of powered aircraft, will be sent directly to Brig. Gen. William D. Old's troop carrier command school at Laurinburg-Maxton Air Base, Maxton, N. C. The Maxton school had previously given tactical and operational training to glider pilots graduated from the South Plains school.

The new program at the North Carolina school will consist of two five-week training periods, the first devoted to military training to prepare pilots for ground action after landing, and the second perior instructing the pilots on flying the motorless ships. This training will be climaxed with tactical maneuvers, giving the pilots an introduction to mass airborne operations.

In the future, General Yount said, all graduates from glider pilot training will have dual ratings—

"Lassie" Goes Home From Raid On Japan; Crew Fights Against Odds

By VERN HAUGLAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

B-29 BOMBER BASE, Saipan, Jan. 14 (Delayed)—The crew of a Superfortress they called "Lassie" brought the big bomber home from a Nagoya, Japan, mission today but she was so badly damaged the return trip was a near miracle.

It was "Lassie's" thirteenth mission and officers, after surveying the damage, said it was her last.

Lt. Wagner W. Dick of Kentwood, Lt., the pilot, said one of the four engines started misfiring over the target. Then a Japanese fighter shot out another engine, setting it afire for 15 minutes. He also knocked out the radio and oxygen systems.

Set Midsection Afire

Another fighter's bullets hit three crew members and set the bomber's midsection afire.

Seeing the plight of the shot up plane, the pilot of another superfortress, Capt. Thomas Kuenning, New Bremen, Ohio, maneuvered to protect "Lassie" but lost her in the overcast.

An hour after Kuenning arrived h e, the crippled B-29 came home, 16 hours after the takeoff. Her No. 1 propeller was gone. She had flown all the way from Nagoya, some 900 miles, on "two and a half" engines, her crew said.

The bomber was named by her regular pilot but Dick and his crew, taking their turn to go out, flew her on her last mission.

Dick said: "No. 4 engine started giving trouble half an hour after we reached Nagoya, but we went on and dropped our bombs.

Jap Fighter Attacks

"We were leaving the target through overcast when the Jap fighter came down upon us."

Flight engineer 2nd Lt. Alexander N. McCleese, said three 20mm shells struck the No. 1 engine. He added:

"The engine blazed and I turned on the fire extinguishers. The engine burned about 15 minutes and finally went out when Dick put the nose down sharply and literally blew it out."

The No. 4 engine by that time lost most of its power and the prop was windmilling on the shot-out No. 1.

Said "Lassie's" copilot, Lt. Eugene T. Hughes of Pawpaw, W. Va.: "The Jap pilot leisurely got into position and raked Lassie from one end to the other. It felt and sounded like the plane was falling to pieces. It was so badly crippled that it took all my strength and Dick's to keep the plane anywhere on course."

Right Gunner Hit

Dick resumed: "The right gunner reported that he had been hit. I told one of my men to give him first aid but he, too, was wounded and fire had broken out in his compartment. We were then about 23,000 feet and the oxygen system failed. The central fire control gunner reported he was wounded.

"Maj. Hugh Mahoney Corpus Christi, Tex., an observer, crawled all over the plane helping with first aid. Someone said something about ditching the plane and Mahoney said: 'Don't talk about ditching—Lassie's going home.'

"Kuenning's plane covered us and the Japs were not coming in any more. He really saved our lives. Our radio was shot out. I didn't know it then but our rudders were held by only one strand.

"Without oxygen, we were forced to drop to about 9,000 feet and lost Kuenning in the soup."

"Halfway home the propeller flew off into space. Shortly afterward the plane broke out of a cloud and navigator Lt. John C. Prince, Chicago, Ill., made his first celestial fixes and announced in pleased tones: 'We are halfway home already—we ought to make it after all.' "

Smith Upholds Davy Crockett In Senate

AUSTIN, Jan. 15. (U.P.)—Presentation of Ashley W. Crockett of Granbury as a member of the Senate employes staff was occasion today for Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith to comment again on references to Davy Crockett in the University of Texas dispute.

"Recently thoughtless and unkind words were uttered by a thoughtless and unkind mind" about Davy Cockett, Smith said, in telling Ashley Crockett that in his appointment the Senate not only paid tribute to his patriotic ancestor who gave his life for Texas at the Alamo, but also to the grandson as a pioneer newspaper publisher of the state.

During hearings on the University of Texas affairs, Prof. J. Frank Dobie had told a Senate committee that too many people wanted to run Texas with Davy Crockett ignorance.

Dime Box Residents Give Dime Box For Fight On Paralysis

DIME BOX, Tex., Jan. 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt is going to get a dime box from this little city, and in it are contributions from everycitizen toward the "march of dimes."

Made in advance of the Jan. 15 appeal to raise funds for the national foundation for infantile paralysis, the contributions were raised early because "Dime Box folk don't believe in putting off until tomorrow something that could be done today."

According to Louis Kocurek, local chairman of the campaign, Dime Box is believed to be the first in the nation to record 100 per cent contributions.

No Solicitation

The feat was unusual. There were no workers, no teams with captains, no solicitation. A huge mail box addressed to the president was set up on the postoffice steps and everybody began dropping in contributions.

First to give to the fund was 14-year-old Mildred Kocurek, a victim of infantile paralysis, who said she wanted to do her part toward helping the battle to conquer the disease.

"We hope the president will open the box himself," Kocurek said.

The unique name of the city is the result of a practice started 70 years ago, when people used to leave a dime in the box at Brown's grist mill along with a list of supplies they wanted the mail carrier to bring from Giddings on his trips semi-monthly for the mail.

Col. Harold Reddell Missing In Action

Mrs. Harriett Jarrett Reddell of Lubbock was informed by the War department that her husband, Lt. Col. William Harold Reddell, has been missing in action since a recent bombing mission over Chechoslovakia.

Mrs. Reddell, who was a popular student at Lubbock High school and Texas Technological college and later in Texas State College for Women, has been living with her mother, Mrs. D. Jarrett, in Banning, Calif. She left for McKinney to be with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Reddell, after receiving the announcement.

Lt. Col. Reddell was lost Dec. 17 on what was scheduled either his last or next to last flight before a furlough visit to the United States. He was stationed with the 15th American Air force in Italy and was commanding officer of a B-24 heavy bombardment squadron. He went overseas in March, 1944.

His awards include the Silver Star, Distinguished Flying Cross and two Oak Leaf clusters. He is a graduate of McKinney High school and attended North Texas State college. He was a civilian pilot and joined the RAF, serving as flying instructor at Ottowa, transferring to the U. S. AAF after the Pearl Harbor attack.

Mrs. Reddell's mother, Mrs. Jarrett, is teaching in Banning while her husband, Lubbock druggist, is overseas. Now in France, he wrote his wife of a recent surprise reunion with Rupert Triplett of Lubbock, who went aboard the ship on which Jarrett is serving as a pharmacist's mate.

Labor Panel Holds Hearing At Dallas

DALLAS, Jan. 15. (AP)—A tripartite panel of the eighth regional war labor board will hold a hearing on disputed issues in negotiations of an initial contract between the Corsicana Cotton mills of Corsicana and local 77 of the United Textile Workers of America (AFL) here Wednesday.

Main issues in the dispute are wages, vacations, union shop and holiday pay. The union is requesting an increase to 50 cents per hour for all employes now earning from 40 to 43 cents, inclusive, and a 15 per cent increase for the balance of the workers.

The company has offered a flat 15 per cent increase for all employees.

The union was certified as barganing agent by the National Labor Relations board July 13, 1944. The war labor board Nov. 13 last year also certified the case.

Baldwin Services Scheduled Today

DALLAS, Jan. 15. (U.P.)—Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. Tuesday at a Dallas funeral chapel for R. G. (Dick) Baldwin, 39, Texas manager of United Press 11 years, who died unexpectedly of a heart ailment at his home here yesterday.

He had been ill eight days, but his condition was not regarded as critical. Death came as he lay in bed laughing with his 15-year-old son, Bill, over the Sunday comics and before other members of the family could reach the bedside.

A few minutes before the seizure, had talked by telephone with one of his staff members and said he had spent a restful night and had eaten a hearty breakfast for the first time since he was taken ill.

Born In Santa Barbara

He was born June 9, 1905, in Santa Barbara, Calif., and attended the Fresno public schools. He went to Fresno State college and then to Columbia university in New York, where he worked as a cub reporter to help pay for his education.

Before joining the United Press' San Francisco bureau staff in 1927, Baldwin had started his news writing career on the Fresno Bee and later worked for the San Franscisco Chronicle. After joining the UP, he organized the Seattle, Wash., bureau, and worked in the Denver and Kansas City bureaus.

Surviving are his wife, Kay; two sons, Bill, 15, and Leslie, 7; one daughter, Mary Jane, 8, his mother, Mrs. W. L. Baldwin all of Dallas; and an aunt Mrs. I. O. Hedin of New York City.

OWI Makes Requests In 162nd War Week

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP)—The Office of War Information said today:

"The government needs and asks its citizens in this 162nd week of the war to:

"Turn out all unnecessary or ornamental lights to help avert shortage of coal essential to war production.

"Keep the temperature in homes at a 68-degree maximum. Live within your fuel rations: if you burn coal, conserve heat in every possible way.

"Keep on turning in kitchen fats. The two red points per pound are more important to you than ever; the fats still needed.

"Fill 34,925 jobs in 70 shipbuilding and ship repair yards now behind schedule on the production urgency list.

"Cancel your pleasure-traveling plans. Many railroad facilities now devoted to passenger use are critically needed to transport war materials."

Kuhn On Trial For Murder At Houston

HOUSTON, Jan. 15. (U.P.)—Robert H. Kuhn, 25-year-old Dallas sailor, went on trial here today for the "wedding ring murder" of Miss Clara Bell Penn, young ex-private in the Women's Army corps, near her Houston rooming house Dec. 14.

As selection of the jury progressed, it appeared likely that Kuhn's attorney, Russell F. Wolters, would ask for a suspended sentence. The state indicated the death penalty would not be asked.

Kuhn's wife was in the courtroom. It was her wedding ring, worn by her husband, that led to his capture and subsequent confession of the sex-slaying. The ring was found beside the woman's ravaged body and was traced to the young sailor.

The reign of Emperor Ken Lung of China—from 1735-1798—was marked by 16 major floods.

Gallup Finds 21 Millions Had Colds In One Week

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 15. (AP)—Mankind's most persistent affliction—the common cold — has perhaps received the least amount of study from researchers.

While the cold is usually not taken seriously, actually, estimates have placed its cost to the American people — not counting medical treatment—at as high as a billion and a half dollars in workdays lost in the United States annually. This is especially serious during wartime when every working hour of production helps to shorten the actual fighting.

GALLUP

The extent of colds throughout the country was again measured when the Institute, during the week just prior to Christmas, checked upon an accurate cross-section of all homes in the nation to find out if any persons in the family had what he regarded as a cold.

The results show that during this one week—December 15 to 22—16 per cent of the total population, or about 21,000,000 persons were suffering from a cold.

LAST year during December the number who were suffering from colds, on the basis of a similar survey, totaled 32,000,000—25 per cent of the total U. S. population.

The findings in the present survey confirm conclusions based upon many earlier studies on this subject. Chief among these conclusions are these:

1. Children under 10 years of age have, proportionately, nearly twice as many colds as the age group of 20 to 30, which have, on the average, the least number of colds at any given time.

2. People with low incomes have more colds than people with higher incomes.

3. Farmers have slightly more colds than other groups in the population. This tends to explode the long-accepted belief that outdoor workers have fewer colds than those who work indoors.

4. People in the coastal states have the least number of colds.

5. Colds are more prevalent in the Middle Western States.

IN addition to the accepted medical remedies and aids for colds, field reporters found that at least some parts of the public still cling to remedies that have been handed down through generations.

Some of them as given to field reporters:

"Take coal oil and mix it up with sugar."

"You can always cure a cold by mental and spiritual effort."

"Use black pepper and lard."

"Nothing like a good stiff shot of you-know-what."

"Keep your head cold and your feet warm."

Records Required Of Passenger Car Owners

Passenger car operators must have mileage rationing records in order to apply for any gasoline rations, R. C. Woolridge, district gasoline rationing officer for the Office of Price administration, reminded motorists Monday.

In the recent re-registration of the nation's 23,000,000 basic "A" ration holders, each registrant was issued one of these mileage record forms. The form replaced the old tire-rationing record, on which was kept a list of all gasoline rations issued to the vehicle.

Without this important record form, no motorist may be issued a "B" or "C" supplemental ration, he emphasized.

Information has been received from local War Price and Rationing boards that many motorists did not understand the use of the record form and lost or destroyed theirs.

No supplemental rations or special or furlough rations for cars with basic "A" rations may be issued to an applicant who does not present his mileage rationing record with his supplemental gasoline application, Wooldridge said. In cases where a motorist was not issued a mileage rationing record, or it was lost or destroyed, he should immediately apply to his local board for a duplicate.

George Washington vetoed only two bills during his presidency.

More Oil Asked From East Texas

AUSTIN, Jan. 15. (AP)—An immediate increase in the flow of crude oil from the giant East Texas field was recommended today by the Petroleum administrator for war.

In a telegram to the railroad commission the federal agency asked that a total of 500,000 barrels additional be produced in January. It also certified that February's crude oil production rate for Texas should be 2,140,000 barrels daily, an increase of 16,000 barrels daily over the January certification. PAW said the 16,000-barrel increase should come from the East Texas field.

It allocated the increase to the East Texas field, now producing 24 days a month, because of "limitations with respect to both transportation and refining facilities do not permit further shifting or additional movements of sweet crudes from other areas into the Longview terminal of the war emergency pipeline, which must be kept operating at full capacity and because crude stocks available in the East Texas district have been practically exhausted."

Railroad commission chairman Olin Culberson said that he had suggested, prior to issuance of the PAW directives, that the commission pinch off approximately 16,000 barrels daily of East Texas crude going to Houston and rework allowables of South and Southwest Texas fields which are not now producing full allowable.

Eighteen fields in these districts, he said, are capable of producing 22,851 barrels daily more than they are now producing.

To increase the East Texas flow would mean that an additional producing day must be assigned the pool, a policy which many operators have opposed.

Powerful Russian-Allied Drives Set Up War Crisis In Germany

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

German reports of a vast Red army winter offensive in progress from the Danube to East Prussia "aimed at ending the war" in Europe lack full Russian confirmation.

But they were too circumstantial for doubt that a supreme military crisis is developing in Nazidom, caught in a gigantic Russian-Allied vise.

SIMPSON

Enemy broadcasts pointed an even darker picture, than any published Allied or Russian estimate of the situation.

The Nazi home front thus could have no reasonable doubt that battles of decision were shaping up or had been already fought and lost east and west alike.

Bulge Crumpling Away

That could be sensed in Belgium where the counter bulge created in Allied lines by the German December attack was fast crumbling away. The German retreat was still far short of a complete rout but it was verging that way just as the full strain of the massive Russian main attack fell upon the foe in Poland.

In the first broad fronted Russian thrust to expand the upper Vistula bridgehead, Karkow was menaced. The Nida tributary of the Vistula, the only important water hazard or other natural military barrier guarding the old Polish capital on the east, had been crossed by the Russians on a wide front northeast of the city.

The main attack appeared driving due west on a 30-mile wide front midway between the Krakow and Kielce, rear anchorage of the whole south flank of the German defense line in Poland north of the Carpathians. It seemed aimed at by-passing both the Krakow and Kielce bastions to strike directly at the concentrated hub of Nazi war industries in the southeast, the Gleiwitz-Katowice city group only 80 miles or less beyond Russian advance elements. But instead of by-passing Kielce, the Russians captured it.

Nazis Off Balance

Red forces were already astride the main rail and road communications between the Warsaw and Krakow flanks of the German front. They were virtually split apart by the Russian drive beyond the Nida with an implication that the German defense deployment had been caught off guard, expecting the Russian thrust to swing northward down the west bank of the Vistula rather than to strike westward.

The expanding upper Vistula salient has now been driven more than 60 miles deep beyond the original Russian crossings.

As far as it can be traced on the maps that main Russian bridgehead beyond the Vistula begins to shape up as the northern arm of a huge Red army pincer attempt to storm simultaneously the Galician gateway to central Germany, the Danube gap and the Danzig corridor.

The message received Tuesday, written from a prison camp at Nike Thailand, near Burma, was on a regular prisoner's printed form, signed and addressed in his handwriting.

Jap Abuse Told On Luzon Island

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Francis L. McCarthy, United Press correspondent who has covered the Pacific war since Pearl Harbor, has returned to Luzon for the first time in nearly 10 years and is accompanying Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces on the road back to Manila where he was born. Here is one of his dispatches from the Lingayen gulf beachhead.)

By FRANCIS L. McCARTHY
United Press War Writer

WITH U. S. INVASION FORCES ON LUZON, Jan. 12. (Delayed).—Japanese abuse and oppression reached such unimaginable proportions in the last three years that Filipinos never again will permit Japanese to live anywhere in the Philippines, the only surviving American resident of San Fabian on the Lingayen beachhead told me today.

It was a big day in the life of Irving W. Hammond, formerly of Middleboro, Mass., when Gen. Douglas MacArthur's liberation forces stormed ashore near his home.

A short, gaunt figure, Hammand presented a pathetic picture in his tattered blue shirt and ragged shorts made of gunnysack. He was unshaven, wore a native-made straw hat and apparently had gone barefoot for many months.

Beaten Severely

The Japanese abuse was an old story to the 63-year-old mining engineer who is married to a Filipino and has a family of half-caste children.

Seven times he was arrested by the hateful Japs and charged with harboring or aiding former members of the U. S. armed forces in the Philippines. Twice he was threatened with execution. Once the Japanese beat him severely.

But for more than a year Hammond had been permitted to wander about the Lingayem area because, as he said, "The Japs thought I was too old to do them any damage."

"I'm tickled to death to see you boys," he told the first American doughboys to reach San Fabian. "But I'm not half so tickled as these boys here," he added motioning to a crowd of Filipino youngsters surrounding the troops. "They've waited for you for a long time and never lost faith in the Americans."

Old Partners Meet

It was a big day for Hammond in another way, too. Among the liberation forces was a tall, handsome naval officer—Lt. (jg) Jack Russell, 29, of Glendale, Cal.—who in 1936 was Hammond's partner in a mining venture in the Caraballo mountains.

Russell, a mining engineer in Manila,(Baguio and Mindanao before the war, observed with a grin that there was a little change in his former partner "except that he's gone more native."

According to Hammond, the Japanese captain of the San Fabian garrison actually cried when he was forced to flee to the hills.

"He told me he didn't like the mountains — that he was very comfortable here," Hammond said with a big toothless smile.

Hammond and Paulino V. Llamas, a Filipino schoolteacher at Dagupan, agreed that the troops used by the Japanese for garrison duty in the Lingayen area were poor physical specimens, underfed and shabbily clothed.

"They even ate camotes (sweet potatoes) and raw egg plant," Llamas said. "Contributions, as they called them, of palay (unpolished rice) were often sought from the townspeople, and what the Japs could not get this way they 'bought' but never paid for."

Camden Plant First In Naval Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (U.P.) — The naval ordnance plant near Camden, Ark., has been declared the number one item on the entire naval production and procurement program at this time and will be in operation by March 11, it was announced today.

The plant will be the principal rocket loading assembly and storage plant of the entire country and the only naval ordnance plant working exclusively on rockets. It was revealed that the Navy produces most rockets for both the Army and Navy.

The Navy department said the plant at Camden will cover approximately 110 square miles—roughly 70,000 acres—and will cost approximately $60,000,000. Spokesmen said the biggest need of the plant at the present time is for construction workers, and said that 7,000 are needed immediately.

It was reported that 10,000 workers already are on hand, but navy officials said at least 4,000 additional unskilled workers are urgently needed now. When completed, the plant will employ approximately 5,000 permanent workers for production purposes.

The Navy pointed out that rocket production expenditures in 1944 were increased more than eight times over the 1943 figure. Expenditures for 1943 totaled $9,600,000, while a total of $97,764,000 was spent for rocket production in 1944. When production hits its peak in the last quarter of 1945 the expenditures will hit $100,000,000 per month, it was disclosed.

DALLAS, Jan. 15. (AP) — The body of John Wesley Young, 45, Dallas shoe salesman, was found in the yard of a residence here, a deep wound in his chest, police officers said today.

Hospital physicians were not immediately able to tell whether Young had been shot or stabbed. Officers said a knife was found several feet from Young's body.

Boys Club Here Has 500 Members

Lubbock Boys club now has 500 members, according to an announcement by John W. Wilson, club manager.

"No. 500" is Frank Clark, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark of 1920 Thirteenth, a Junior High school student.

Enrollment has proceeded at a rapid pace since the club was opened last August, when Billy Mack Breedlove, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Breedlove of 3413 Ave. Q, became the first member.

A library in the building is stocked with more than 300 volumes of books. It has chairs and reading tables.

A workshop attracts the interest of many boys. It is equipped with two wood turning lathes, a jigsaw and a variety of hand tools necessary to the construction of almost any wooden project that a youngster might want.

The club has two basketball leagues functioning now. Six teams are in the senior league and seven in a junior loop. The club furnishes players with uniforms and towels.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

SINCE You have a hard time finding them, perhaps you'd like to do a little research on cigarettes. Tobacco growing is forbidden by law in Egypt. Turkey grows most of the tobacco used in "Egyptian" cigarettes.

IN THE MAIL

DEAR Miss Turner: The Senior High Sunday school department of the First Methodist church staged a Sardi's party Oct. 18, 1944 in Fellowship hall with Dr. H. I. Robinson as master of ceremonies. Mrs. A. P. Hardin was our eldest guest. One sixty persons were present.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Chas. A. Ross.

DEAR Mrs. Ross: Thanks for your note. We had a call Monday morning about the party you mentioned. Last night a class in First Presbyterian church staged a "Breakfast at Sarsi's" party and Dr. Robinson was master of ceremonies. It seems that others had agreed with the Woman's Angle that a party based on the popular morning radio program is a bit out of the ordinary.

DEAR Margaret Turner: I recently had some nylon hose mended by sending them to a mending department in an Amarillo department store. Just thought I'd pass this information along for what it might be worth to your readers.

Sincerely,
Mrs. H. P. Barnett.

THANKS to Mrs. Barnett and to the dozens of others who called and wrote about the hose and now if the woman who asked us about the hose in the first place will call we'll be glad to pass the word along to her.

DEAR Miss Turner:

Being a regular reader of your column I know you help people in many ways and I wonder if you would make an appeal for me? My son, John Maurice, who is a pupil at George R. Bean school has a little dog he has raised from a puppy. The dog is now about 18 months old and weighs about 30 pounds. He is white with brown ears and a brown spot on his back. We call him Fuzzy.

John Maurice has taught him many tricks and the short of it is that someone else likes Fuzzy too. He has disappeared twice each time coming home with a rope around his neck so we know someone keeps him tied. Won't that someone let Fuffy loose. John Maurice is quite heart broken.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Johnnie Walker.

LOST A STAMP?

MRS. A. D. Brown found a blue auto usage stamp in the street at the corner of Thirteenth and Ave. W and she is afraid someone who is driving a 1942 Nash is going to have to pay an extra five dollars revenue tax if he doesn't claim it. The engine number is B-114725 and the state tag has been obliterated. The owner may have it for the asking, Mrs. Brown says.

HAS PLUM TREES

THERE are a number of good-sized wild plum trees at 2612 Ruby to be given away. The owner says the trees would be ideal for a farm but she wants to get rid of them because they take up so much space on her lot which she wants to get in a garden.

WANT A DOG?

BECAUSE a lieutenant is to be transferred, a 3-months old, female, part German police puppy is to be given away. The only requirement is that a good home is promised, according to his owners, Lt. and Mrs. John C. Lewis, 2503 Twenty-fourth.

A Vital Message To Men Who Feel Old
Why not regain the vim and vitality you once enjoyed?
If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is a simple method that may change your whole outlook on life. Just ask your druggist for CASELLA stimulating tablets. Take as directed on label. Don't feel old and worn out at 40, 60 or more. Take these tablets regularly until you feel that you have regained the pleasure of living you once enjoyed. Why be discouraged? Why not try CASELLA tablets and regain the verve and zest of a much younger man? There is nothing harmful in these tablets. They contain Celery seed, Thiamin Chloride, Passion Flower, Iron. Ask your doctor or druggist about this formula. Adv

'Work Or Fight' Threat Causes Job Seeking Jam, Survey Shows

(By The United Press)

The threat of work or fight legislation has had almost as much effect in getting men to transfer to war industries as a draft would and thousands of workers have jammed U. S. employment offices throughout the country to sign up for war work, a survey revealed today.

Many major war production centers reported the heaviest increases in war job seekers since D-Day and in Wisconsin alone, more than 11,000 applicants jammed USES offices with the greatest increase reported in war-busy Milwaukee.

Many Well Qualified

The War Manpower commission at Detroit reported that 5,000 of the applicants processed last week were "highly capable and qualified 4-F's from service industries —just the kind we're after."

One of the largest increases was reported in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area. Applicants last Monday and Tuesday at St. Paul increased 400 per cent over the previous week, while in Minneapolis, the increase for the first two weeks of this month topped a similar period in December by 125 per cent.

Boston reported a 40 per cent increase and in Pennsylvania applications jumped more than 20 per cent.

Statements At New Low

Many WMC offices also reported that requests for statements of availability required for job transfers had dropped to a new low. The Sacramento, Calif., office of the USES reported that it had received no requests since Jan. 1 and the Chicago office reported a sharp decline in requests for transfers.

At the same time, Chicago reported the first crackdown on workers who quit their jobs. A Chicago draft board disclosed that it had inducted four men for quitting their war jobs and an army spokesman reported that a Chicago board had ordered all registrants classified 4-F to report this week at local USES offices for questioning.

Texas Solons Hear Legion's Objectives

AUSTIN, Jan. 15 (AP)—Aims of the American Legion were explained here today by Edward N. Scheiberling of New York, national American Legion commander, before a joint legislature session.

"One of our greatest objectives," said Scheiberling, "is to see that all the glowing promises made to the fighting men are kept when the war is over."

The Legion also is actively supporting a universal military training bill now before the national congress, and working for an association of nations clothed with sufficient authority to stop aggression at its inception, he said.

"And at the peace conference we want men who have actually carried a gun and a bayonet to help write the peace, not just statesmen as in World war I."

The Legionnaire won laughter and applause from the members when he suggested that Texas follow the example of the New York legislature which is currently considering a raise in salary for its members.

New York legislators receive $2,500 a year plus mileage said Schieberling.

"The people there as well as legislators think that is too little. I understand your salaries are well below that figure."

House and Senate members in Texas receive $10 a day, for 120 days and $5 a day thereafter during a general session.

Texan Leads Raid On Japan—By A Nose

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 15. (AP)—Capt. Henry V. Myers was the first American to fly over Japan after the Doolittle raiders—by a nose.

A bombardier, he was in the nose of a bomber. And he was in the lead plane when the Yanks bombed Yawata, Jap city on Kyushu island, last June 15.

Capt. Myers, 27, of Lufkin, Tex., is sure here for reassignment.

Millions Switch To Mutton Suet Idea For Chest Cold Aid

Soothes Rawness Due To Throat and Bronchial Irritations

Many mothers all over America are switching to this idea of getting fast relief for these chest cold miseries. They are simply following Grandma. For years she counted on mutton suet to help carry her home medication to do its pain-easing work on nerve ends in the skin. No wonder so many more now welcome Grandma's idea as improved by science—Penetro, with its multi-medicated formula in a base containing mutton suet—that acts both as counter-irritant and pain-reliever when you spread it on, and as a soothing aromatic when breathed in. And so today Penetro hurries along newer help in the old reliable way—help that eases painful misery, lessens coughing, loosens phlegm, soothes chest rawness—so that you can rest more comfortably and give nature a chance to restore vitality. That's why millions are switching to Penetro today—why druggists are recommending it. 25c, double supply 35c. For all your family's chest cold miseries, be sure you get white, easy-to-use Penetro.

Senate Committee To Reopen Liquor Probe

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP)—The Senate judiciary committee voted today to reopen its inquiry into operations of the liquor industry.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) told reporters a subcommittee's inquiries last year "staved off a wave of prohibition sentiment and prevented "the flooding of the markets with poisoned whiskies that were ready to be dished out."

The committee today, he said, voted to ask the Senate for an additional $15,000 to finance further investigations into what McCarran termed "combinations still operating within the trade."

Texan Survives When B-17 Sawed In Two

A BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, Jan. 15. (AP)—Sgt. Robbie Gill of Hamlin, who was rescued recently from the North Sea, was believed the sole survivor of a flying Fortress which was sawed in two by the propellors of another bomber.

The 21-year-old gunner struggled from under ammunition belts and boxes while the tail of the bomber spun crazily toward the water, slipped on his parachute and jumped at 3,000 feet. Gill landed near the blazing forward section of the plane and remained afloat for two hours until picked up by a British air sea rescue launch.

His plane was part of a formation which had bombed Merseburg.

Phillips 66 Five Defeats SPAAF

Phillips 66 Oilers' National AAU champions—tall, tough and terrific—bowled over South Plains Army Air Field's Winged Commandos with a last-half outburst of baskets that rained through the nets last night at the SPAAF Rec Hall for a convincing 88 to 57 triumph.

A record-breaking crowd jammed the gym to watch the Commandos — who had averaged 89 1/3 points a game for their past three tussles — battle the rough Phillips squad almost nose to nose through the first half and even pull within four points of the perennial titleholders five minutes after the last half started ,only to fade out as the Oilers sent in fresh men.

Phillips Two Teams Good

It was a case of one good SPAAF team against two too good Phillips teams, and in the end the Commandos were not able to maintain the terrific pace their opponents set.

Big Frank Stockman, former West Texas State Teachers giant, paced the Oilers with 20 points to take scoring honors for the night but was pushed as SPAAF's Leason "Pete" McCloud came through with 17 points for the night, although considerable off form from his more recent games. Another Phillips star, six-foot, seven-inch Gordon Carpenter poured in 17 points to equal McCloud's performance.

The game was one of the roughest every played at the SPAAF gym in two years of basketball. SPAAF had 17 fouls called during the fray, Phillips had 19 fouls called.

Good First Half

The Commandos made a game of it through the first half and even had the Oilers fighting for a narrow four-point lead five minutes after the second period started. Then something seemed to happen to the Commandos' defense and the Oilers went to town. From then on it was a runaway, although the SPAAF boys managed to show flashes of the form that carried them to three lopsided victories over three service cage squads here last week.

Phillips started the game with a rush, jumping away to a quick-six-point lead. However, the Commandos, with John Kline, McClotud and Bob Edwards sinking three quick ones in succession promptly tied up the contest. The game was deadlocked again at 8 to 8. Then the Oilers pulled away to an 18 to 11 lead before the Commandos again found the range, this time with pint-sized, 5 foot, 6 inch Roy Cox, who captained the University of Texas cagers last season, and Center Doug Wakeland hitting the hoop with badly needed shots.

Commandos Rally Pays Off

The rally brought the Commandos into a 22 to 22 deadlock with the vistors, then a 24 to 24 tie with about 10 minutes of the first half by the boards.

The towering Oklahomans again hit their stride and heading down the stretch toward intermission managed to gradually pull back into a comfortable margin, the score standing 41 to 34.

With the start of the last half the Commandos turned on the heat, and with McCloud, Ed Kalfain and Edwards capitalizing on some timely free tosses and close in shots the Commandos pulled up with four points of their rampant opponents, 41 to 45.

Then It Happened

Then it happened. In the heat of the battle—and the battle became quite heated at times to put it mildly — the Commandos carefully planned defense seemed to fold up. Of course, the fact that the Phillips coach kept two teams alternating had a lot to do with that and with his skyscrapping cagers getting a few moments of rest managed to wear down the SPAAF machine.

It was at this point that Carpenter started sinking 'em from every angle. Bud Browning, coach of the Phillips team, also hit a few from near the center of the court and Stockman came back in to add to the total as the visitors piled up 55 to 41 advantage before the Commandos could even get started again.

SPAAF Off Form

SPAAF managed for two points and Phillips — evidently burning some of their own high grade oil—again stepped on the throttle and by the time the Commandos were able to score again the score stood 70 to 45. From then on in the Commandos made more of a game out of it and wound up hitting the basket again.

The Commandos definitely played below their stride they hit last week in smothering Childress Army Air Field 97 to 51, Amarillo Army Air Field 87 to 67 and Carlsbad Army Air Field 84 to 49. Their shots weren't hitting.

But that doesn't take a thing away from the Phillips aggregation — as great a collection of basketball talent as ever set foot on any court in this area or for that matter any other in the country. Strangely enough, however, the Phillips' tallest player, 6 foot, 10 inche Charley Halbert, another former WTSTC star and center only pushed in five points for the night. But then, they weren't needed.

The box score:

SPAAF	fg	ft	tp	Phillips 66	fg	ft	tp
Kline	4	0	8	Rothman	3	0	6
McCloud	5	7	17	Nash	3	3	9
Wakeland	5	1	11	Stockman	7	6	20
Edwards	2	2	6	Browning	4	2	10
Kalfain	1	4	6	Halbert	3	1	8
Nelson	0	0	0	Lindemann	2	0	4
Timmons	1	0	3	Yates	7	0	14
Conley	0	0	0	Carpenter	7	3	17
Besson	0	0	0	Schwarzer	2	0	4
Cox	3	1	7
Totals	21	15	57	Totals	37	14	88

Halftime score: SPAAF 34; Phillips 41.

Slaton Stops Tahoka Cagers

SLATON, Jan. 15 (Special) — Another cage powerhouse came into the limelight here tonight as the Slaton Tigers clawed out three basketball victories over the potent Tahoka Bulldogs in three well played battles that provided plenty of thrills.

The Slaton boys boosted their season's record to six wins in eight starts by winning the feature battle of the card, 38-30, with a display of smooth clicking basketball.

The Slaton girls had a much more rugged battle before they squeezed out a 31-27 victory in the second overtime session. The Slaton B team edged out the Tahoka Pups, 21-17, in another close battle.

Grady Burnett and Jack Huckaby set a pace for the Slaton boys that refused to be overcome, and the pair accounted for 23 points between them. Burnett dropped in 12 points and Huckaby 11 to capture scoring honors for the night.

The Tahoka five was paced by Jerry Edwards and W. T. Hines, a pair of fine performers, with Edwards nosing out the top honors with ten points, closely followed by Hines with nine points.

Pansy Dunlap of Tahoka stole the show in the girls game, and won the scoring honors for the night in a spirited contest with Reba Bartley of Slaton. Dunlap swished 19 points through the meshes, and Bartley finished a close second with 18 points.

The two clubs tied at 23-23 at the end of the regulation game, and one overtime failed to settle the issue, and ended in a 25-25 deadlock. But the Slaton girls hit their stride in the next stanza, and shoved in six points to two for Tahoka to cop the honors.

Roberts of Slaton was high point man in the B game, getting seven points, to nose out Tahoka's top man, Wells, who had six points.

Army, Navy Cagers Have Strong Clubs

NEW YORK, Jan. 15. (U.P.) — The Army and Navy basketball teams, carrying on where their gridiron colleagues left off in a battle for the national championship last fall, muscled in today among the ranks of the country's first line quintets, Iowa, Kentucky, West Virginia, Akron, Rice, and Oklahoma A. & M.

Not all of that group are undefeated, but on the basis of all-around excellency rated a shade ahead of sectional standouts as yet untested against all-around opposition.

The service elevens began competition belatedly last week, but were so impressive in winning two tests apiece that their inclusion was not considered premature. For Army it was the continuation of a three-year winning streak that now has reached 18 straight. Navy, so laden with talent that four complete teams were used in both games, is considered even stronger in some quarters. The teams meet March 3 at Annapolis in what may well be a battle for the National collegiate title, if they go on at their present pace.

Rice, Arkansas Near Showdown

(By The United Press)

Barring unexpected reversals of form, the Southwest Conference basketball campaign pointed today toward the Jan. 26-27 meeting of Arkansas and Rice to settle the championship struggle.

With Rice disposing of two of its top three threats — Southern Methodist and Texas Christian—in games last weekend, the Bill Henry-sparked Owls were expected to waltz through the schedule between now and the crucial games at Fayetteville, Ark., undefeated.

Arkansas, likewise, was expected to have little trouble with its only foe before that date—Texas. And that is as the observers predicted.

Pre-season dope pointed to the potent Razorbacks and Owls — who shared the title last year—as co-favorites again this season with SMU ranked as third place club and the others strung out behind.

So far, the race has run true to form, although both SMU and TCU have shown amazing ability and should either team hit a "hot" stretch while playing the two favorites in remaining games, an upset would be likely.

Rice had trouble disposing of both the Mustangs and Frogs on successive nights last week, edging out SMU 70-62 in a high scoring affairs, and slipping past TCU 50-44, but Henry spelled the difference. Against SMU he was held scoreless for the first 11 minutes, then rang the bell for 32 points to pull the game out of the fire, then connected for 16 points against TCU to run his season loop scoring leadership total to 78 points.

Frogs Play Ponies

TCU and SMU both dropped the Texas Aggies on the southern tour, the Mustangs winning 50-28 and the Frogs 30-27 to set the stage for this week's top game — TCU vs. SMU at Fort Worth Wednesday night.

That game, which probably will go a long way toward deciding third place, is the only one matching first-division teams.

Other conference games will see a cellar battle at Waco tomorrow night between Baylor and the Aggies; a two-game setto between Arkansas and Texas at Fayetteville Friday and Saturday nights; Rice vs. the Aggies at Houston Saturday night and Baylor vs. SMU at Dallas Saturday night.

Non-conference affairs will find Rice matching its prowess against the undefeated Waco Army Air Field five at Houston Thursday night and TCU going to Kansas City, Mo., Saturday night to engage St. Louis university.

Texas defeated Baylor 54-36 in the only other title game played last week, while Arkansas split a pair with Oklahoma A. & M. winning the opener at Little Rock, Ark., 41-38 and dropping the other at El Dorado, Ark., 49-40, and lost to the Philipps 66 Oilers 60-40, in non-title play.

Westerners Invade Tahoka Tonight, At Amarillo Next

Lubbock's Westerners play two tough ball games this week, both played on foreign fields, with tonight's invasion of Tahoka slated as the starter. The second will be played Friday night in Amarillo, a return game with Coach T. G. Hull's towering Sandies.

The Tahoka battle tonight is the first game of the series between these two clubs, with the Bulldogs venturing away from their own kennel on the night of Jan. 30 to return the game at Lubbock.

The Bulldogs return to the basketball wars again on Thursday night, invading the lair of the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes, one of the fastest improving ball clubs on the South Plains.

Both Coach Dixie White of the Westerners, and Coach Leo Jackson of Tahoka have announced their starting lineups for tonight's game. Both coaches are sticking with their "regulars" in naming the starting fives for the series opener.

White named R. W. Moyers and T. J. Price at forwards, Verdell Turner at center, George Brewer and Charles Pressley at guards. Moyers and Brewer are the only lettermen from last season's District 1-AA champions.

Jackson announced that he hoped to have Nolan Jones, top scoring ace of the Tahoka club, back in the game tonight. Jones has been out of the lineup for about a week because of illness.

Counting on the return of Jones, Jackson named Jerry Edwards and Jones at forwards, W. T. Hines at center, Cecil Dorman and Lowell Busby at guards.

Bulldogs Been Busy

The Bulldogs have played more games this season than has the Westerners, and have played some good basketball. The team has lost a few games, among them two games to O'Donnell, the only team to hold more than one win over the Bulldogs.

The Westerners have played five games to date, winning three and losing two.

The Westerners hope to reap revenge for the last of these two losses, when they move into Amarillo on Friday night for the second big game on the Lubbock schedule for this week. The Sandies "out free-pitched" the Westerners here last week, 30-28 in the series opener.

There will be both an A and B game on each program.

NORTH BEATS EAST

DENTON, Tex., Jan. 15. (AP) — The North Texas State Teachers college Eagles defeated the East Texas State Teachers college Lions, 40 to 28 in a basketball game here Monday night as Bill Candler poured in 22 points.

Twenty-one presidents of the United States were lawyers.

Hopes Held Out For Sports To Continue

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP) — Sports fans needn't fear—for the present at least—that the wartime ban on cenventions will abolish their favorite games and tournaments.

The war committee on conventions, which has been casting an analytical eye over the Byrnes directive calling off non-approved conventions, trade shows, conferences and group meetings after Feb. 1, hasn't found any hint that it includes sports events.

So, for the present, the committee takes the attitude that here is nothing in the directive to stop such events as bowling tournaments, track meets, and baseball, basketball and football games. But a trade show, conference, convention or group meeting, held in connection with a sports event, would require a permit if more than 50 persons were to attend.

The committee's interpretation, disclosed today, followed word that the forthcoming mandatory "brownout," which will cut off many of bright lights in order to save fuel, does not apply to night baseball or, presumably, other night games.

The convention committee is expected to adhere to its present position that the ban on conventions does not affect sports events unless and until James F. Byrnes, the war mobilizer, decides that it does.

Bob Feller Puts Out Boost For Baseball

SEATTLE, Jan. 15 (U.P.)—A Navy Chief Speialist Bob Feller, 26 year old former pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, was back from 18 months of sea duty today with a three-starred campaign ribbon and a determined opinion that professional baseball should not be blacked out by the draft.

The Cleveland star who donned Navy blue two days after Pearl Harbor will be stationed temporarily with his ship at the Bremerton Navy yard across Puget Sound.

His months at sea, he said, convinced him servicemen want baseball continued.

"A blackout of pro clubs to take 400 some men in the service would not be smart," Feller said. "The men out there gripe about some things at home, but deferred and over-age guys playing ball isn't one of them."

Nelson Sets Sights On Tucson Tourney

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 15. (U.P.)—Byron Nelson, 1944's leading money winner in professional golfdom, set his sights today on the Tucson Open after running away with the top prize in the Phoenix tournament with a 274 for 72 holes.

Nelson, who took a 69 on yesterday's final round, was only two shots under second place Denny Shute, the veteran Akron, O., shotmaker, who posted a 68 on the last 18 for a 276 total.

Sammy Byrd, ex-New York Yankee baseball player from Detroit, finished in third place, taking another 68 on the last 18 for 277.

Byrd was within one stroke of the money-making ace at the start of the last round, but lost the tourney when he wound up in a trap on the last hole as Nelson laid a 100-foot approach within a foot of the pin for top honors.

National PGA Champion Bob Hamilton, Evansville, Ind., was in fourth place. He ended the day with a sensational 65 on the par 71 course for a 278 total on the 72 rolling holes.

Slammin' Sammy Snead, White Sulphur Springs, Va., pre-tourney favorite after his victory in the Los Angeles Open, finished 13th.

He said he would join the rest of the boys in the Tucson Open Jan. 19-21 and then probably would "lay off a while" because of a troublesome back.

Former Card Chunker Reported As Injured

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 15. (U.P.) — Howie Krist, youthful pitching star of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, has suffered a leg injury in France, Cardinal President Sam Breadon reported today.

Breadon said he had been notified of the injury in a letter from Krist's wife.

"Mrs. Krist's letter said it was a leg injury and not a wound," Breadon said, "And she gave the impression that she did not think the injury was serious."

Business Peers Ahead

It Has Postwar Ideas, Too

WE have heard a great deal from the politicians, and from the professional uplifters and do-gooders, regarding ways and means of making the postwar world—and especially the U. S. portion of it—a better place in which to live. But along this line there has been little said on the part of hard-headed business.

Interesting, therefore, should be a list of suggestions drawn up by the Guaranty Trust Company, of New York, as the result of a survey made by that organization. Naturally, Guaranty Trust's line of thought mirrors that of much of important business and finance in this country. Definitely, it cannot be suspected of paralleling the extremely liberal, or radical, views. But since business must carry most of the load of paying for whatever social improvements may be instituted, the slants of business must be studied.

DECLARING that the postwar era must find business freed from many of its present hobbles, and given a chance not only to survive, but to contribute to the national scene, the survey says:

"We are now seeing the most convincing proof ever offered that governmental borrowing and spending on a large enough scale can raise employment and national income to almost any level within the physical capacity of the country," the survey said.

"The essentially temporary character of this process, however, would seem too obvious to require emphasis. If long continued, the practice must lead either to political and economic disorder or to increasing regimentation.

"This is certainly not what the American people want. They want jobs under a system of free enterprise. But free enterprise can give jobs only if it is truly free—free to prosper, free to expand, and free to manage its own affairs.

"Wartime taxes and restrictions should, of course, be abolished. The double taxation of corporate dividends should be eliminated. Surtaxes on individual incomes in the higher brackets should be drastically reduced. The capital gains tax should be repealed. The Federal tax structure as a whole should be simplified and stabilized. Taxation should be used solely as a means of raising revenue, not as an instrument of social reform. The theory of compensatory government spending—not to provide relief but to create prosperity—should be abandoned.

"The National Labor Relations act should be amended to prescribe equal treatment for management and labor. Regulatory policies tending to force the 'closed shop' on business should be abolished. Labor unions should be subject to public regulation, as corporations are. Regulations in the field of wages and hours that tend to discourage individual initiative should be modified.

"All rulings of administrative boards should be made subject to court review. The practice of delegating legislative power to administrative agencies should be discontinued.

"The granting of credit and other forms of governmental competition with private business should be reduced to a minimum.

"The gold standard should be promptly reestablished, particularly for international transactions.

"The regulation of new security issues should be liberalized.

"Public policy in general should reflect an attitude of impartiality as between groups of citizens, and of respect and sympathy for honest business, whether small or large . . ."

WE do not—we cannot—endorse Guaranty Trust's entire program as listed above, any more than we can endorse the entire program of leftist extremists, who thoughtlessly would kill the financial goose which, in this country, lays the golden eggs in the form of employment, investment and taxes. But this much all thinking Americans must realize—whether they be in labor, in management or in the great classifications between the two—and that is, as a house divided against itself cannot stand, neither can a nation similarly divided.

A continuation of the type of government which does not treat all segments of its population fairly, and in the same way, can only mean eventual ruin of the American Way of Life which, although not perfect, is still the best the civilization has produced to this date.

We Americans will have in the postwar era an opportunity to accomplish a tremendous improvement in our national life and, while so doing, lead the way for the other nations of the world to do likewise. But we can succeed only if all divisions of our population realize that they must "give" as well as take." We can't get the job done by attempting to feather our own nests by tearing down the nest of the other fellow.

"People live longest in Arkansas."—Time. And least.

LEN and Sue had prophesied what Margaret would be saying on her way home after their dinner the night before. She had gone them one better: "Well, of all the terrible couples I ever met! Lord, what could they ever have seen in each other?"

Walt had long since learned not to defend people from Margaret's instant and permanent prejudices, and had simply murmured:

"Tastes differ."

"Their son is just what you'd expect from such a couple," Margaret had persisted. "He barged into the house as if he were charging a Japanese pill-house, or whatever you call it. And you sat there and let him carry off your daughter as if he were a Nazi. Not that she didn't love it!"

Walt had also learned that defending his daughter only added fat to the fire. When they had reached their apartment and found that Jennifer was not there and had not been there, he had gone to his room, thanking heaven now for Margaret's once-so-bitter demand for a separate room of her own.

If Jennifer couldn't take care of herself, he could not accomplish that miracle for her. So he had fallen asleep, having had a hard day at the office, and a harder night, with another hard day ahead of him.

The next morning he breakfasted alone, and got away to his office without learning when Jennifer got in or what her mother said to her, if anything.

That night a business conference kept him downtown for dinner, and did not release him till so late that when he reached home his wife's door was closed as a mute rebuke. He was glad when her rebukes were mute.

The next afternoon he kept his engagement to play golf with Len Beckley. A light, coquettish gale played havoc with the accuracy of both their shots, but the wind was full of hilarity; the sunlight filled the world with radiance and brought back youth.

When they reached the fifth putting green, they found that Len's golf ball lay between Walt's and the hole.

"Got you stymied, Walt," Len laughed.

Hilyard nodded indifferently. He was not looking at the ball but across the little ravine at the eighth tee, where a woman's foursome was gathered for the drive-off.

Three windblown wives and a windblown widow stood there. The widow was just straightening up from fitting the ball to the tee. She was a newcomer to the town — a Mrs. Drummond. Hilyard watched her make the drive, her skirts whipping about her in an eager spiral. Her fine laughing eyes followed the ball as her club swung round over her left shoulder. It was a long straight shot, and she was a series of swift statues as she unwound herself on her own axis with a triumphant smile. Hilyard laughed:

"Funny how widowhood seems to pep up some women!"

"Funny how a widow seems to pep up some men," Len answered. "Keep your eyes on the ball, Walt; and remember you are an old married man. Are you going to make your shot or not? I've got you stymied."

Seeing that Hilyard was still gazing at Mrs. Drummond, Len felt a recrudescence of his sorrow for Walt. Margaret had him stymied. She lay between him and happiness. The same thought might have been aching in Walt's brain; for he tore his gaze from the widow as if with an effort, and said:

"I give you the game. You're two up anyway."

"It's not like you to quit," said Len "What's wrong?"

"I'm just not in the mood, Sorry. You can find somebody better worth playing at the clubhouse."

As they walked back Len noted with what a brooding interest Walt studied the wives and widows they passed, the brides and the nubile girls.

On the tennis courts, Mrs. Fanny Kibben, mother of six, was playing a hot game with three of her children, while the other three waited their turns. On another court Mrs. Kate Dorr was giving her husband a hard fight. Farther on, Mrs. Digby Thorpe was hunched up in front of an easel and painting a portrait of an eminent live oak tree. She sold her pictures for whatever she could get. They were not art but they paid the rent. Her crippled husband sat by in a wheel chair.

"Glorious thing," Hilyard said, "the companionship of a man and a woman, going hand in hand down the years."

"You ought to make a poem of that," said Beckley.

At the swimming pool on the higher platform appeared a young man and a young girl—Tom and Jennifer. They were holding hands rather solemnly. They paused, then ran forward and launched themselves into the air in twin swan-dives of almost pitiful beauty. They swam a long way under water and came to the surface with hands rejoined.

It struck Hilyrd that marriage was like that. He and Margaret had taken the plunge with courage and ecstasy, but their hands had severed and she had given up trying to swim, and since had just basked and yawned on the ledge of the pool of life.

But Beckley was saying:

"My boy and your girl—they make quite a team, don't they? It would be funny if—"

At this moment Bob Dunbar came up and challenged Walt to a game at a dollar a hole. He probably had a sinister purpose, and desired to pump Walt as to his domestic bankruptcy. But Walt begged off and suggested that Bob finish out the game Walt had defaulted with Len. Len agreed and he and Bob went off with a stare of commiseration so keen that it puzzled Walt.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

PAFENONDROY. Remember that name. Remember it for the rest of your life.

Pafenondroy. Five miles southwest of Malmedy in Belgium. Rundstedt's SS troopers came back

It was just before Christmas. Every house in that little village was decorated with tinsel, holly, colored paper, and some even had Christmas trees.

An old woman happened to come out into the street. The SS men clubbed her down with musket butts, until she was dead.

They hunted down the entire population of 150 poor villagers. They tortured them and killed them and piled up the scorched bodies in a shed.

And, laughing, they went on.

Remember Pafenondroy.

Because Pafenondroy might have been your little village in Iowa or New Jersey or Ohio or Illinois, or it might have been my little village, Brookfield, in peaceful Connecticut.

I am not preaching hate.

You don't hate beasts. You destroy them.

You don't compromise with them.

And when you remember Pafenondroy, also remember the 130 young Americans who surrendered and who were shot down and killed by the Germans while they had their hands high in the air in token of surrender.

What more do we need to awaken?

May be one of those 130 was one of your boys. May be it was a friend's boy. At any rate it was an American boy.

I have heard it said that this war isn't any of our business, that we don't know what we are fighting for.

Does Pafenondroy give you an idea? Do those 130 youngsters, shot down in violation of every law of decency, not to speak of international law, mean anything to you?

GO ahead, haggle over a little more pay or shorter hours.

Go ahead, throw your money, that is so easily earned these days, to the winds.

Go ahead, get drunk and sleep off your hangover the next day instead of going to work.

Go ahead strike and kick and complain, and loaf and gloat over that nice extra pay you are getting these days.

Yes, ammunition making pays well. Yes, there are lots of jobs to be had these days, and employers get down on their knees and beg you to work for them.

But in Pafenondroy, 130 bodies silently tell the other side of the story.

And, if another 130 American kids get shot down in cold blood, I wonder how much of it is your fault and mine.

National Whirligig

Capital Ponders Draft Of Labor

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT Roosevelt's outright advocacy of a National Service act and universal military training reveals his grave concern over the progress of the war in the European theater and his expectation that the conquest of Japan will require a far longer time than the public generally realizes. Insiders appreciate that he would not have declared for those revolutionary changes in our wartime and peacetime habits unless he were deeply disturbed.

TUCKER

F.D.R. has been extremely reluctant to propose these measures for many reasons. They run counter to the ideas of his principal political supporters, especially organized labor groups and the liberals headed by Vice President Henry Wallace. He carefully sidestepped both issues during the campaign, and, in fact, all through his third term.

But his Army-Navy advisers, who have clashed frequently with the AFL, CIO and UMW, sold the idea to War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes. The latter, without consulting FDR, endorsed the work-or-fight project and virtually forced the Chief Executive to take the same stand or give the impression that there was disunity in the High Command.

DRAFT: Mr. Roosevelt opposed the labor draft program when it was embodied in a formal bill a few years ago by Rep. James W. Wadsworth of New York. It was the Republican Wadsworth, a close friend of Henry Stimson, who originated the Selective Service idea at a time when the administration was unwilling to sponsor it.

For awhile, FDR would not permit Secretary Stimson, Chief of Staff George Marshall or Chief of Naval Operations Ernest King to testify in favor of all-out labor mobilization. He eventtually allowed them to go before congressional committees, but he did not support them with affirmative action.

In his 1944 message to Congress, Mr. Roosevelt suggested a work-or-fight scheme, but he made its enactment conditional on passage of several highly controversial statutes affecting prices and wages.

During the last session he made no effort to obtain congressional action, and his spokesmen on Capitol Hill assumed that the idea was dead. They had told him again and again that, in view of our military successes and industrial production, the legislators might vote against such a drastic measure.

Congressional pollers now confide that it is too late to ram a National Service act through House and Senate. It might have been passed in the dark days after the Pearl Harbor disaster, when Wadsworth first proposed it, but every indication is that FDR has misse the boat on this proposition.

POWER: President Roosevelt was equally wary in his handling of Army-Navy proposals for a universal military training system. In written and public statements he favored it many years ago, but until his recent message he had hedged.

When he was questioned about his attitude at a press conference last summer, he delivered a 30-minute talk during which he never approached the key question. He indicated that he wanted a sort of glorified Civilian Conservation corps which would teach youngsters how to get along with their fellow men, to learn trades, to absorb lessons in discipline and to "keep clean." His dissertation amazed his listeners.

The mere suggestion of a permanently mobilized United States angered clergymen, educators, liberals, labor and many other groups which had always been pro-Administration. Mrs. Roosevelt said at her press conferences that she thought consideration of the question should be deferred until the close of the present conflict.

The exigencies of the war have apparently convinced Mr. Roosevelt that he can no longer postpone action on these issues. But members of his official family couple his call for a strong postwar military organization with his assertion that this country would exert its "power and influence" around the peace table. In their opinion, he served notice on our Allies that unless they cooperate in a bona fide world peace organization they may expect Uncle Sam to outstrip them on the land, in the air and on the water.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

THE flurry about the possible drafting of nurses for the Army and Navy has brought an increase of applicants to American Red Cross recruiting centers.

But officials declare that this voluntary method cannot be relied on to supply the total necessary to care for the growing number of sick and disabled men from all fronts. Appeals, arguments and other pressures have been used everywhere, but failed to meet the emergency.

Critics sometimes jump at conclusions and brand nurses as unpatriotic—even when the accusers themselves do not go out of their way to take war jobs. A New York survey, that has been probing the causes of the lag in enlistment, finds many reasons, among them the personal problems of individual women.

LEMAN

The medical profession flatly asserts that doctors as a whole are not opposed to their helpers' joining the colors, although induction will mean more work for physicians. In the metropolitan area there are less than 3,000 nurses in the 25 city hospitals and homes where formerly there were 6,200.

OBJECTIONS: Chief point cited for inadequate enrollment is economic—the desire to take advantage of the greater financial rewards from civilian activities, and to lay away nest eggs for the rainy day when steady employment will cease. This is especially true of the older women.

The money angle is an important factor around Manhattan where cash is plentiful. Eight and a half per cent of all the RN's in the country live in New York City. Yet only four per cent of the Army and Navy nurses come from there. War workers with bulging pocketbooks, as well as others, think nothing of paying $11.50 a day for someone to look after their sick and aged. It is natural that trained nurses should weigh such remuneration against military pay.

Doctors maintain that the public demands the highest type of service in cases where practical nurses or nonprofessionals would do.

Until recently some branches of the Army objected to the appointment of women except to base hospitals and like posts. American servicemen often do not want their sweethearts and sisters to don uniforms.

HARDSHIPS: Medical authorities discovered in interrogating possible applicants that there is widespread dislike on the part of girls for what they call "regimentation."

Many of them see no reason why their liberty should be curtailed or why they should subject themselves to military discipline. Others do not want to be sent overseas or to stations far from friends and home.

Statistics are not released, but doctors are greatly disappointed at the response from cadet nurses who have been trained in hospitals at public expense, and who were supposed to make up the pool for replacements. A striking number quit on graduation to resume civilian careers or practice in "cushy" lucrative private jobs.

Solons Split Over Dies Group

By TED EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON — Texans in Congress usually stick close together on roll call votes, but they started off the new session with a wide open split.

They voted 9 to 9 on the question of continuing the Dies committee. Three didn't vote. All three of the new members voted against the amendment setting up the committee as a permanent body. One was J. M. Combs of Beaumont, Martin Dies' successor; the other two were Tom Pickett of Palestine and John Lyle of Corpus Christi.

Although it was not simply a question of choosing between the New Deal and anti-New Deal policies, the split among members generally speaking was along that line. The administration has fought the Dies group for years.

Besides the new members, others voting against the admendment were Luther Johnson, Patman, Poage, Thomas, Thomason and Mansfield. And those favoring it were Beckworth, Fisher, Gossett, Kilday, Lanham, Mahon, Russell, West, and Worley. Speaker Rayburn, Lyndon Johnson and Sumners did not vote.

Texans Attend Wedding

Nearly all the Texas congressmen and their wives and Speaker Sam Rayburn with his sister, Miss Lou Rayburn, turned out for the wedding here of Miss Bonnie Patton, daughter of outgoing Rep. Nat Patton of Crockett and Mrs. Patton, to Capt. Clyde Willard Smith of Belleville, Ill.

The ceremony was held in the Mount Vernon Place Methodist church, and was followed by a reception in the Congressional club, an organization composed of congressmen's wives.

SURVEYS will be undertaken by the U. S. Reclamation bureau on the basins of the Sabine and Neches rivers. Rep. Lindley Beckworth of Gilmer received word from the Interior department that a report on the surveys should be available in the latter part of 1945.

Offices Are Moved

The opening of the new session produced a lot of moving in the House office buildings. All three of the new congressmen got suites on the fourth floor in the old building. Sam Russell of Stephenville moved into a third floor suite in the new building which had been occupied by outgoing Rep. Dick Kleberg of Corpus Christi.

AN application filed by the Reynose Pipe Line company of Corpus Christi for authorization to export natural gas to Mexico in the Monterrey and Nuevo Leon areas will be considered Feb. 8 by the Federal Power commission.

Patman Loses Position

H. R. (House of Representative bill) No. 1 of the current 79th Congress doesn't bear the name of Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana as its author. Indiana Congressman Ludlow beat him to that number this year. For the past several congresses (two-year periods) Patman has had a bill in ahead of the field. H. R. No. 2, however, is the Texan's measure; it proposes government ownership of the 12 federal reserve banks.

HERE'S a man Texans can proudly welcome into the fold as a Texan: Maj. Gen. George E Stratemeyer, commanding general of the Army Air Forces in the China-Burma-India theater, was born and reared in Ohio, but before he went overseas many months ago he mentioned several times around Corsicana's Congressman Luther A. Johnson that he had always wanted to be a Texan. Mrs. Harvey Young of Corsicana, who also knew him and of his desire, bought a book about Sam Houston, and gave it to Johnson to send to the general. The congressman attached to the book a very official sounding document bestowing Texas citizenship on the officer, and had Rep. Ewing Thomason of El Paso, chairman of the Texas congressional delegation, sign it.

General Is Delighted

Now comes this letter to Johnson from General Stratemeyer:

"It was with a great deal of personal satisfaction and appreciation that I read your communication advising me that I had been granted citizenship in the state of Texas. I am greatly honored and will be very proud to acclaim that as of 13 October 1944 I became a citizen of Texas and will henceforth claim my domicile to be in our great fighting state whose magnificent achievements of the past and in this struggle are so well known.

"As a matter of personal information I would appreciate learning if our state constitution or statutes require any affirmative act on my part to make my citizenship effective."

JOHNSON said he plans to write Gov. Coke R. Stevenson to inquire whether the state officials can't sort of officially bestow citizenship on the general. Meanwhile, he has advised the new Texan to pay his poll tax where his vote will count most, insofar as the friendly and veteran congressman is concerned—Corsicana.

PS: It may have been the general's wife who influenced him. She was a Texas girl, from the Panhandle. And his service at Fort Bliss and Kelly Field, after finishing West Point in 1915, may have had something to do with it.

Senator Wheeler

charged with aiding the enemy, but added that he "can take it." Previously Secretary of State Stettinius had said that Wheeler's remarks about unconditional surrender might have been labeled "made in Berlin."

Dumbarton Oaks Hit

The Montana senator said he was convinced that with Great Britain the objective of restoring free governments to Nazi-overrun nations "is now a secondary aim and with Russia it is not an aim at all."

"We ought now to signify without equivocation that it is not our intention to subject the so-called liberated people of Europe to Stalin's type of democratic rule any more than we intend to restore Hitler's tyranny," he declared.

He landed on the Dumbarton Oaks international security organization proposals with both feet, declaring that they would "emasculate the good neighbor policy, override the principle of sovereign equality of all nations and offer in the place of a genuinely international society of nations a grim military alliance."

American Losses

083 were killed; 27,645 wounded and 20,866 are missing.

Stimson emphasized that the figures are preliminary and that "an accurate accounting" cannot be made for some time.

The losses, which one military observer described as "surprisingly low," compared with 57,775 reported on the western front during November, the period of the general American offensive against Germany.

On the basis of calculations that the Germans threw approximately 300,000 troops into their drive, Stimson's figures indicated that the enemy's casualties totalled about 30 per cent of the attacking force.

Arabia has a population of 10,000,000 in an area of 1,000,000 square miles.

RAILS, STEELS SUFFER

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP) — Armament-rated stocks, led by rails and steels, suffered one of the sharpest sell-offs of the past several months in today's market as the good war news revived thoughts of a possible German collapse and the appearance of reconversion difficulties for home industry.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was down .5 of a point, at 59.3, largest recession since Dec. 27.

Conspicuous casualties included Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Great Northern, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Sears Roebuck, Du Pont, Westinghouse, Anaconda, Kennecott and Western Union "A."

Bonds slipped with stocks and commodities weakened. At Chicago wheat dropped 1¼ to 1½ cents a bushel, corn ⅜ to 1, oats ⅞ to 1⅜ and rye 1⅜ to 2. Cotton was off 40 to 70 cents a bale.

In the curb minus signs were attached to Noma Electric, Cities Service, American Gas and Republic Aviation. Turnover here was 407,110 shares versus 510,725 in the previous 5-hour stretch.

Texas Inaugural

Morris creating a division of special education for training physically handicapped children between the ages of six and 17.

Sen. Kyle Vick eliminating the statutory confederate veterans pension tax on property since the fund has a surplus which will more than meet its remaining obligations.

Sen. Roger Knight appropriating $8,000,000 for a state office building.

School Bill Offered

Sen. Bullock offered a joint resolution submitting a constitutional amendment for distribution of the state available school fund on the basis of school attendance instead of on scholastic population.

Following the pattern set two years ago when they were inducted for their first elective terms, Stevenson and Smith will have a streamlined inaugural.

Each official will make a 10-minute address.

The speeches will be delivered and oaths administered before a joint session in the hall of the house of representatives. The entire proceeding is programmed in a 30-minute span with 10 minutes assigned each address. A statewide radio network will broadcast the ceremony.

A military color guard of B company, fifth battalion, Texas State guard, will serve at tomorrow's inaugural.

The expense of the inaugural, as two years ago, will be about $25.

In normal times balls, parade, pageantry and other extra events have run the most of an inaugural to $4,000.

airborne pilot and glider pilot—being able to fly troop-carrying gliders on invasion thrusts, or pilot transport planes with gliders in tow and carry supplies to airborne troops.

Invasion experience in the Mediterranean, Normandy, Holland and Burma, said the training command chief, has demonstrated the value of "double threat" dual rated pilots, and the new program will result in a greater utilization of manpower.

NO DEFINITE PLANS FOR SPAAF YET

Authorities at South Plains Army Air Field late yesterday still were without orders regarding the fate of SPAAF after Feb. 15; nor did they know when, or even how soon, men and equipment would be leaving the station located 7 miles north east of the city.

Col. James A. DeMarco, commanding SPAAF, said he anticipated a conference would be called at which officers from the Central Flying Training Command, Randolph Field, himself, and perhaps others from additional Army Air Forces stations would be given full information.

LAST CLASS OF GLIDER PILOTS IS GRADUATED

Members of the last class of glider pilots to graduate from South Plains Army Air Field here received their wings and flight officer commissions at a 10 a. m. ceremony held in the post theater Monday morning.

Col. James A. DeMarco, commanding officer of the field, presented honor awards and sterling glider wings to F/O Douglas E. Grubbs, son of Mrs. Mary L. Grubbs of Nashville, Tenn., who was named the best soldier, and to F/O Wally S. Beasley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Beasley of Columbia, Tenn., who was selected the best athlete.

Major Rowland O. Mosher, deputy for training and operations at the field, presented wings to the graduates and Lt. Elizabeth Burke, school secretary, administered oath of office.

The SPAAF band, directed by Warrant Officer Harry Dunham, provided music for the ceremony. Capt. Howard A. Long, chaplain, gave the invocation and benediction.

It was officially announced Saturday that glider training is "on the way out" at SPAAF and within approximately a month's time the station will either be abandoned, or put to some other use by the U. S. Army Air forces.

took 160 more blocks on the Pest side of the Danube.

"It seems that the Vistula in Poland is to be the scene of one of the greatest battles of the war," a Berlin radio commentator said. "The Soviet command is resolved to push into the fray all the forces available for the decisive round."

Big Red Forces

The Germans estimated that the Russians already had thrown into battle probably more than 1,500,000 men in gradually swelling auxiliary offensives in East Prussia; at Pultusk and Rozan on the Narew river north of Warsaw; at Warka and Pulawy, south of the Polish capital; and in Slovakia and Hungary.

Kielce, on the Warsaw-Krakow trunk railway and highway, is a six-way communications center 65 miles east of the Polish city of Czestochowa, last big German stronghold before the Nazi frontier.

Stalin ordered 224 of Moscow's victory guns to fire a 20-salvo salute in celebration of the victory which virtually split the German armies based around Warsaw and those bracing for an all-out defense of Krakov.

Germans Outnumbered

Berlin said that elements of eight Russian armies were attacking in powerful array on the long front from Memel on the Baltic to Budapest in the south.

Potentially, the eight Russian armies in that area are estimated to have a strength of 4,000,000 men compared with the 2,040,000 Germans which Stalin has estimated now are lined up along the entire eastern front.

China Coast Hit

freighter.

At Cape St. Jacques, near Saigon, three destroyer escorts, one tanker, three large cargo ships and one small cargo ship were sunk.

In Saigon Area

Striking heavily in the Saigon area, Third Fleet bombers and fighters sent to the bottom one large oiler, a large troop transport, two medium cargo ships and the dismantled French light cruiser LaMotte Piquet.

Damaged in the Saigon strikes were a large cargo ship, four medium cargo ships and two coastal cargo vessels. Along the coast, American planes sank one more medium cargo ship and damaged five coastal vessels.

Halsey's pilots intercepted one group of ships approaching Saigon from the south. In this convoy one oiler was sunk. One large freighter, one medium freighter and one coastal vessel were damaged.

Evidence Of Surprise

The Indo-China strike plane score gives evidence that the Japanese were fully surprised by Halsey's dash across the South China sea.

Only 15 Japanese planes were shot out of the air. Seventy-seven aircraft were destroyed on the ground, caught before they could get aloft. Twenty more planes were destroyed on the water on sweeps of seaplane bases.

In their assaults on shore installations, Third Fleet fliers destroyed five oil tanks at Saigon and oil storage facilities, warehouses and building on the Saigon river.

Two locomotives were blasted at Quangngai and a seaplane hangar at Cat-Lai was destroyed.

Strikers Turn North

Turning north across the South China sea's great gulf cutting into the Indo-China coast, the Third Fleet started Saturday a simultaneous assault on 350 miles of the China coast and Formosa.

Reconnaissance flights were made over Amoy and Swatow eight days before—during the swift hard-hitting American carriers' raid Jan. 5 on Formosa.

With the aerial forays against Amoy, Hongkong and Swatow, Allied carriers have hit every major Japanese bastion except Singapore and the homeland itself.

Mostly Oil Tanks

Indo-China convoys blasted appeared to be mainly made up of tankers carrying oil from the rich Netherland East Indies wells.

One purpose of Halsey's Indo-China strike certainly was to balk any Japanese effort to organize a Luzon reinforcement expedition there. Apparently the Japanese have not had the time nor the ships to muster such a force there.

their differences," Hull is reported to have said, "and are ready to sit down together like good neighbors, then I'll be glad to go over and have a drink with both of them."

At present there are three principal plans for more direct American participation in European affairs which would be aimed at striking a balance between the aims of Russia and Britain and the principles of national independence and self determination supported by American leaders.

The methods considered are (A) perodic meetings of Anglo-American-Russian foreign ministers (B) creation of some sort of provisional world council to act in the name of the United Nations and (C) organization of Allied commissions to handle the problems of liberated European countries.

Nazis Driven Back

forts had spent their strength, U. S. Seventh army doughboys rose from the rubble and attacked.

Enemy artillery fire increased in intensity in the Bitche salient of the northern Bosges to the west, where the Americans scored some gains.

Although the Germans along this front never have attacked with the power sprung in the Ardennes, their losses in 14 days of the offensive rose to 10,000 killed or wounded and 4,000 captured, a front dispatch reported.

The main force of the U. S. First army attack veered sharply eastward as the sector west of Houffalize was virtually emptied of Germans, while the Third army sought to balk any stand based on Houffalize by denting the enemy's strong Luxembourg mountain positions.

St. Vith In Squeeze

Here was the way Hodges' six divisions were developing the squeeze on St. Vith, where eight highways and two railways meet and whose fall might head off sizeable enemy forces to the west:

The veteran workhorse First infantry division struck along the top of the St. Vith wedge, seized Faymonville, eight miles due north, and pressed within eight miles of the German frontier against heavy resistance.

The 30th infantry division seized Ligneuville, little more than six miles northwest of St. Vith, after a bitter battle and then as resistance slackened drove south across the Ambleve river.

A little to the west the 106th division pressed along the east bank of the Salm river—a natural barrier protecting St. Vith on the west—and were no more than eight miles northwest of the city.

Nazi Fire Heavy

The 75th infantry division, in a pre-dawn attack, broke across the Salm north of Vielsalm and by-passed Salmchateau, reaching out nearly a mile east of the river to within about nine miles of St. Vith.

In this same general area the 83rd infantry division was fighting west of the Salm only nine miles west of St. Vith.

The Third armored division, braving heavy artillery fire, seized Halconreux, on the Houffalize-St. Vith highway about 10 miles southwest of St. Vith.

Fog and freezing rain blanketed the battle zone, saving the Germans from the disastrous aerial pounding they suffered yesterday.

Tank battles roared on the approaches to St. Vith as the Germans fought with fanatical fury to keep the base of their Ardennes salient from splitting before their withdrawing forces reach the haven of the Siegfried line back inside the reich.

Tommies Cleaning Up

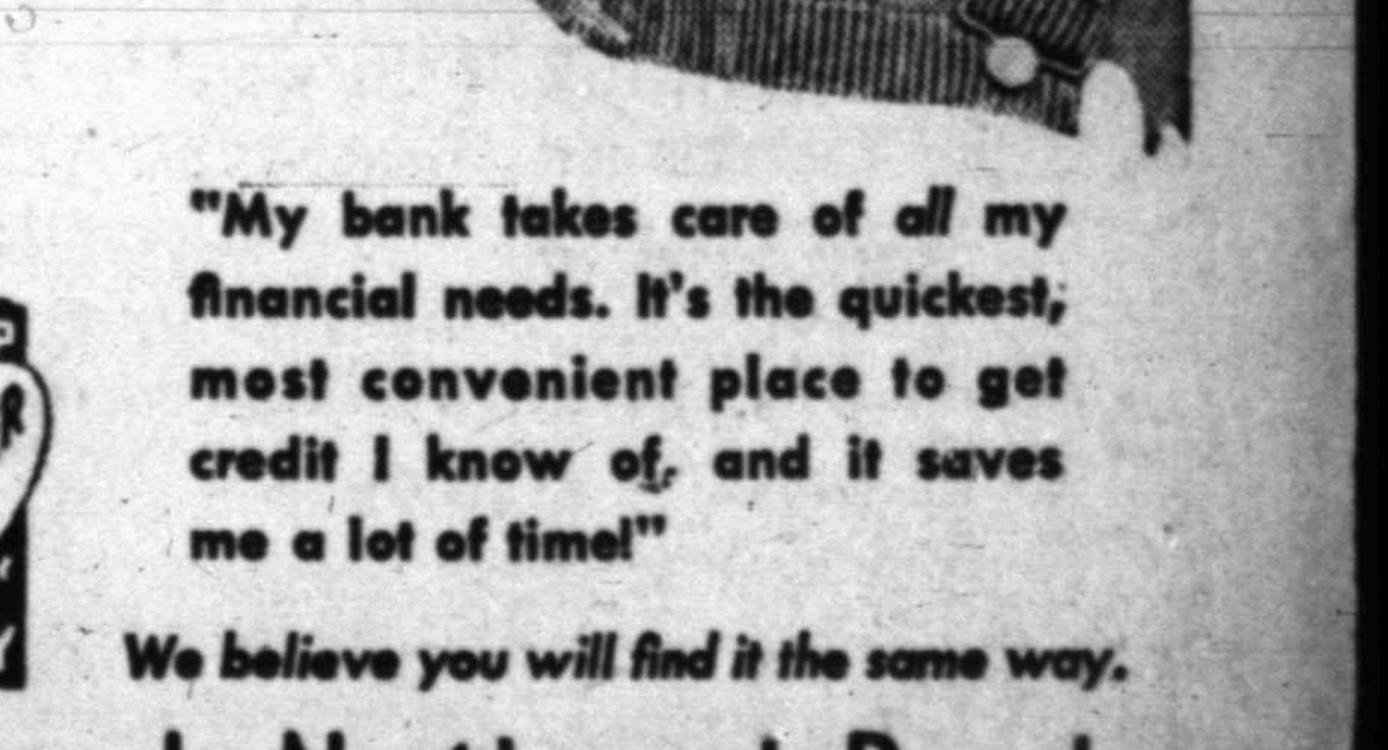

The fall of Houffalize, communications center from which von Rundstedt had sent his armor plunging for the Meuse, seemed imminent as the U. S. First and Third armies linked up to the west, once more turning the Ardennes struggle into an all-American engagement.

The British Second army, which had jumped into the battle to keep the enemy from the Meuse, was flushing stragglers and suicide squads from the snow-blanketed woods behind the solid American line closing inexorably on the Houffalize.

Reports to supreme headquarters said that the speed of the American advance against the crumbling Ardennes salient now was overrunning German command posts, and one regimental headquarters was captured with all its staff except the commanding colonel.

State Veterans Aid Plans In Blue Print Stage; Proposals Are Made

(By The United Press)

State veterans' aid programs still are in the blue print stage with little or no action taken by legislatures to help the returning soldier, a survey revealed today.

Many legislatures do, however, have veterans' aid bills pending before them and some action is anticipated this year.

New Jersey Exception

The New Jersey legislature is an exception. It passed a bill last year granting servicemen loans up to $3,000 to establish themselves in business. The state guarantees 90 per cent of the loan to the lending bank.

Proposed veterans' legislation ranges from free tuition at the state university to bonuses and huge public works programs.

The Ohio legislature has before it a $25,000,000 appropration bill to give veterans a bonus of $12.50 for each month of service overseas and $10 for each month served in this country. Another bill before the Ohio legislature would permit servicemen to hunt without a license. Illinois also is studying bonus bills ranging from $300 to $1,000.

Nebraska's unicameral legislature also has before it a proposal to boost the state aid for veterans fund from $1,950,000 to $7,650,000 in six years.

Public Works Proposed

A proposal before the Washington legislature would create a $25,000,000 post war reserve fund for a huge public works program to provide work during slack periods.

Another proposal would give veterans free tuition at the University of Washington. Arkansas has a similar proposal which would give veterans $150 annually to continue their education.

Another proposal before the Arkansas legislature would transfer $100,000 to the vocational education fund for the rehabilitation of disabled veterans.

Proposal In Texas

The Texas legislature has before it a proposal to permit soldiers and sailors to vote without paying any poll tax.

One Indiana legislator has proposed that soldiers who formerly worked for the state be guaranteed their old job back and another has introduced a bill giving veterans preference in state jobs.

At least 10 states, acting on the theory that if a man is old enough to fight, he is old enough to vote, show some interest in proposals to lower the voting age to 18 years.

Georgia Reduces Age

Georgia already has reduced the voting age from 21 to 18 years.

A bill to reduce the voting age in Ohio, which has the endorsement of Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel, has been introduced in the senate. A similar resolution has been introduced in the Indiana senate.

Oregon and Oklahoma both have proposed constitutional amendments to permit 18 year olds to vote.

Other states where bills reducing the voting age have been introduced or will be introduced are New York, Nebraska, Illinois, Wisconsin, Utah and Maryland.

War Is Reflected In Welfare Report

AUSTIN, Jan. 15. (AP) — The back-wash of war etched its pattern across the annual statistical report of the state department of public welfare, submitted to Governor Coke R. Stevenson today.

Improved economic conditions resulting from the war brought a reduction of approximately 11,000 in the rolls of those eligible for old-age assistance. The figure dropped from a high of 182,618 at the beginning of the year to 171,991 at the close of the year. At the same time assistance to eligible blind increased slightly.

A serious administrative problem has been encountered through difficulty in maintaining adequate qualified personnel in the face of a 49 per cent turnover, the department in its report points out. A turn over of 33 per cent in its field workers staff and 78 per cent in stenographers due to retirement from the labor market, resignation to accept higher salaries and induction or enlistment in the armed services.

Only One Hint Of Tax Rush Seen Here

Only at one time yesterday afternoon did the crowd of last-minute 1944 estimate income tax filers threaten to "snow under" the office of internal revenue, L. B. Barkley, field division chief of the Lubbock office said.

The usual final day rush was expected and a full crew of deputy collectors was on hand to take care of the crowd. But after just one spurt of unusually heavy business, Barkley said that "everything was under control and moved smoothly for the rest of the day."

WITH the AEF

by KENNETH L. DIXON

ON THE BELGIAN FRONT, Jan. 15 (AP)—They call him Doc Ward—and don't put any quotation marks around that Doc, because it isn't a slang term and it isn't a gag.

It's part of a living legend you hear up here. The voices of doughboys freezing in their foxholes grow warmer and softer with pride as they tell about him.

He isn't a doctor. He's a medical aid sergeant and his right name is Robert E. Ward. He's 27 and he comes from Princeville, Ill., where his mother now lives.

Kenneth Dixon

But he is Doc Ward to the entire 334th regiment. And his legend has spread until the whole 84th division claims him.

"He has personally saved the lives of at least a hundred men," said Capt. James V. Johnson of Portland, Ore., his current commander.

But that is not the complete total, even his own division where he has roamed two regiments caring for wounded and carrying them out to safety. Doughboys of the 103rd infantry and Tommies of British units have seen his tall, heavy frame standing over them when they lay wounded and writhing in pain.

Has "Broken Heart"

They have seen his sad, quiet face bend down and then things got easier. No matter how hot the fighting was, Doc carried them out.

He worked with those outfits when his own company was resting or in reserve—for Doc can't seem to rest.

"He lives with a broken heart," said the battalion chaplin one day. "He has had too many men die in his arms."

Maybe that's it. There is nothing in his background out of the ordinary. He had no medical training other than what the Army gave him. He went to high school and then got a half-term of business college training. Then he helped with payrolls and answered the telephone and did things like that for the public service company in Peoria.

Always Shows Up

That's his background. That and something which has given him a strange, almost superhuman, drive that gets him everywhere.

"It's miraculous," said a soldier lying with his eyes closed in a hospital today. "Whenever there is a wounded guy, he shows up."

He was awarded the Bronze star for pulling a wounded British tank commander out of his tank while it was under direct machine-gun fire and the tough Tommies watched in amazement. But it didn't surprise Doc's sidekicks.

In addition to his uncanny appearances where he is needed worst, Dos has a preoccupied fearlessness which as yet, at least, has been rewarded by a miraculous immunity.

Right after he aided his wounded battalion commander he stood talking to two men during the La Roche attack. He walked away just at an artillery shell killed one of them and wounded the other.

Increased Farm Output Stressed

Increased production of all farm products and methods of meeting the 1945 demand for meat and agricultural products was stressed by more than 152 members of the Texas Agriculture Workers association at the seventh annual meeting held recently in Dallas, W. L. Stangel, head of Texas Tech's department of animal husbandry and president of the association, said.

Tech and Lubbock was represented by eight faculty members and two businessmen who were program members. Following the theme, "What's Ahead in Agriculture," agricultural specialists and home making teachers discussed future farm and home trends, basing their predictions and opinions on past conditions and events.

Optimism Prevails

Considering the severe drain on farm labor, average age of present farm workers being 58 years, optimitism prevailed in making plans to meet governmental requests of stepped-up production, Stangel said. Farmers have met previous demands and the government feels they can safely meet still higher production needs during 1945, he added.

Those attending from Lubbock were R. E. Karper of the Experiment station; Miss Esther Sorensen, district area supervisor of home making education at Tech; Dr. Mina Lamb, associate professor of foods and nutrition, Tech; E. L. McBride, head of Tech's department of agriculture economics; Frances Urban, assistant professor of home management; K. M. Renner, head of the department of dairy manufacturers; O. L. Byrd, sales manager for the Purina mills; and Dr. A. W. Young, head of the department of plant industry.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

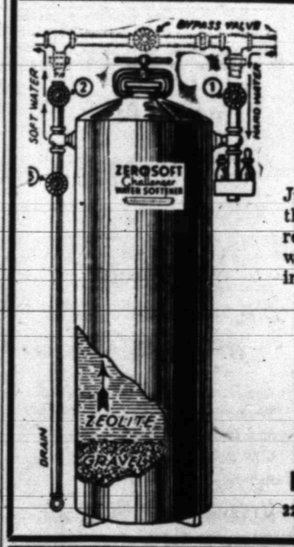

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.
