

Harvesting Of Cotton Crop Gets Under Way

Farmers Hosts At Banquet

Cliff Day of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration at College Station will address farmers and business men here Thursday evening, October 16. The occasion will be the farmer-business men's banquet, sponsored by the AAA office here.

The get-together and banquet will be held at the First Christian Church, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Reversing the method used here in the past of business men inviting the farmers of the county to the banquets, the farmers are playing host at this event, each one paying for the plate of his guest.

Although plans for the banquet had not been completed Wednesday morning, indications were that this banquet would be attended by a large group, representing all sections of the county.

Mr. Day, one of the outstanding agricultural leaders of the state, is already well known here, having spoken in Wellington on several occasions. He is a former president of the Texas Agricultural Association.

His subject for Thursday evening's address has not been announced, but it is presumed that he will talk along some line of the government farm program, or a related subject.

"We are anxious to have a good representation of both business men and farmers present at this banquet. We feel that through such meetings as these we come to understand each other's problems better," R. E. Byrom, who is in charge of the AAA office here, said.

This event, it was pointed out, will be one of the outstanding activities of its type in the county this year.

Choose New County Fair Officers Mon.

Officers of the 1942 Collingsworth County Fair Association will be elected Monday night, October 20, giving approximately eleven months in which the plans for next year's event will be worked up.

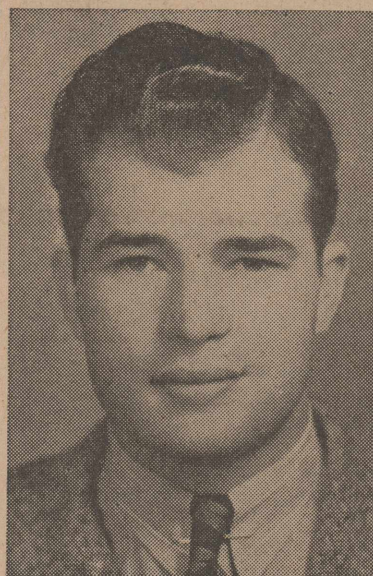

This meeting, open to every resident of the county, will be held in the Justice Court Room, on the second floor of the court house at 7:30 o'clock.

"We are electing the officers for the 1942 Fair at this early date so that they may have the time to work up their plans and get everything ready before the last minute," Ben Hurst, president of the Fair Association, said. "This year, the Fair was worked up in three weeks, but we feel that it is only fair to those officers responsible for the event, and to those who work, to give them as much time as possible in which to make their plans."

Elective officers for the Fair include the president, secretary-treasurer, and executive board. At the meeting Monday, the report of this year's fair will be read by Mrs. Guy Clay, secretary, and all expenditures and income items will be accounted for.

"There is now a great deal of enthusiasm about next year's fair, after the very successful one we had on September 27 and 28, and we feel that the new officers will have the solid support of the people of the county," Mr. Hurst added.

A great many people worked very hard on our Fair, and we want to say 'Thanks' to them, to (Continued on Page Ten)

ATTEND KIWANIS CONVENTION

Frank Pope, left, and Paul Cornwell, returned last week from Beaumont, where they were delegates to the Texas-Oklahoma District Convention of Kiwanis International. Outstanding Kiwanians from the entire United States were in attendance.

Grade And Staple Good As Late Harvest Starts

Harvesting of Collingsworth County's best cotton crop in ten years, and one of the best in its history, got well under way during the last week, and gave promise that activity resulting from cotton picking, and from the influx of cotton pickers, would reach the highest peak in several years.

While the crop is good, cotton throughout the county is late.

Approximately 600 bales have been ginned to date, it was learned from the various gin offices Wednesday morning. The larger part of this has come from near Wellington.

All but 31 bales of this year's crop has been ginned since October 1, according to Olan Alexander, special agent for the Bureau of Census. The ginning reports of a year ago were considerably heavier, with 1,004 bales ginned prior to October 1, 1940.

Bankers and merchants in Wellington have been optimistic in recent days, believing that, barring unforeseen disaster, this year's crop will put the county back on its feet financially.

Although little trade stimulation has been felt locally as a result of the cotton gathered, more than $12,000 in government checks received here during the last week has proved a benefit. This brings the total cotton parity distributed here to $66,512.42, according to the AAA office.

Approximately 5,000 pickers will be needed to harvest the crop once the bulk of the cotton opens, ginners and growers believe.

Quality of the cotton now being ginned is high, some of it classing as strict middling, and the remainder as middling and strict low middling. Only two classes of cotton are recognized by the government as higher than strict middling, local buyers have pointed out. Middling and strict low middling rate immediately below strict middling.

Most of the staple measures 15-16 of an inch, although the staple in several areas has measured an inch or slightly more.

Yields will range from a third of a bale to the acre where cotton is poorest, to more than a bale in (Continued on Page Ten)

Rockets Tackle McLean Friday

One of the hardest games of the year is scheduled for the Rockets Friday night, when they meet the McLean Tigers on the Tigers' home field. This game, closely watched throughout the area, will be one of the determining games of the district.

Both the Rockets and the Tigers are at the top of the district standing. Neither has lost a game, either conference or non-conference. Opening against White Deer, the Tigers then defeated the strong Phillips eleven, the Panhandle Panthers, former regional winners; Lakeview, and Memphis.

The Rockets to date have defeated Panhandle, Wheeler, Chillicothe and Lakeview.

Sparkplug of last year's Tigers, John Kelley Lee, is back in the line-up this year, and games played this year indicate that he is one of the fastest men in the district. Fans who have seen him in action, indicate that Lee carries the ball for the Tigers approximately three-fourths of the time, and that most of his attempts result in substantial gains.

"Any team that can stop Lee can have the Tigers pretty well in hand," Coach Scott McCall predicted.

Other outstanding players from last year who will be in action for the Tigers are Dwight, all-district center; Montgomery, Roth, and Dyer.

Similar formations are used by both teams. To date, the Tigers have relied mainly on a running game, passing only occasionally.

The Rockets are in good condition for Friday's game, Coach McCall states. There are no serious injuries on the team.

"The Rockets' playing is improving," their coach said. "Their blocking is better, especially downfield blocking. Practice is improving their running and passing, and altogether they're getting everything down better."

The Rocket starting lineup is expected to be the same as during the last few weeks.

Starters for the Tigers will probably be Lison, end; Montgomery, tackle; Imes, guard; Dwight, center; Boyd, guard; Roth, tackle; Dyer, end; Hill, back; T. B. Cook, back; Ledbetter, back; and Lee, back.

Legion Officers Visit Local Post Thursday

Three of the Panhandle's outstanding leaders in the American Legion will be guests of the Frank King Post and the Auxiliary Unit Thursday night, October 16, at the regular meeting. These are Lou Roberts, past Department Commander; Charlie Maisel, 5th Division Commander; and Jim Johnson, 18th District Commander.

The local meeting will be the joint regular social and Navy Day celebration.

The session will be informal in nature, although the three visiting Legionnaires are expected to report on the Executive meeting of the State Legion in Austin, from which they will be returning.

Members attending are asked to bring a covered dish, and the dinner will be served during the social hour.

"We urge all Legionnaires and Auxiliary members to bring their families and help enjoy the first covered dish social of the new year. You'll hear what Commanders Roberts and Maisel and Johnson have to say, and you'll find out what is happening in other Legion posts over the state," Post Commander Morris Wells said to (Continued on Page Ten)

Dr. Jones Speaks At Medical Meet

Dr. E. W. Jones of Wellington appeared as one of the speakers on the program of the Panhandle District Medical Society which met at Lubbock Tuesday and Wednesday. Dr. Jones' paper was on "Obstetrics in the Small Hospital."

He also served as chairman of the obstetrics division of the meeting, and served with Dr. F. A. White of Childress as host at the ex-president's luncheon Tuesday at noon.

More than 100 physicians and surgeons of the Panhandle attended the meeting. Officers of the society are Dr. R. A. Duncan of Amarillo, president; Dr. R. M. Bellamy of Pampa, vice president; Dr. Ben T. Blackwell of Amarillo, secretary; Dr. E. A. Rowley of Amarillo, counselor; and Dr. G. T. Vineyard of Amarillo, vice counselor.

Negro Fugitive Gets Plane Ride Returning Home

A Negro, employed at the farm of Daro Camp, was apprehended Saturday by his former employer, who was seeking recovery of property reported stolen from him by the fugitive.

The Negro had been employed by a Hale Center man, who flew his plane here in an effort to locate the Negro. The plane was landed on the farm of Mrs. D. M. Henard which is located on the southeast corner of the town section.

Reuel Estes, employee of the Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Inc., brought the Hale Center man to town to obtain gasoline for the plane from Jack Gibson's service station.

Cornwell, Pope To Kiwanis Meet

Paul Cornwell and Frank Pope, delegates from the Wellington Kiwanis Club, returned Wednesday night, October 8, from Beaumont, where they attended the convention of the Texas-Oklahoma district of Kiwanis International.

Outstanding Kiwanians from every section of the two states were in attendance, in addition to Chas. S. Donley of Pittsburg, International President, and Chas. S. Dudley of Dallas, International Trustee, and other prominent Kiwanians of the nation.

Among the highlights of the meeting, as reported by the two Wellington men, were the national Unity Forum, featuring religious leaders of three faiths; an address by Dr. C. Ray Hanson, noted criminologist of Chicago, Ill., who in (Continued on Page Ten)

Couple Painfully Hurt In Accident

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Pinkston of Wellington were painfully injured Wednesday morning, October 8, when their car collided with another near Rhome, and turned over several times. They were en route to Lufkin to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Boston.

Details of the accident have not been learned, but from information received at the J. C. Woodruff Co., of which Mr. Pinkston is manager, and by friends in town, it was learned that Mr. Pinkston received a deep gash on the head and under one arm. Mrs. Pinkston was believed to be only bruised and shaken up. Their car, a 1941 Mercury, was reported to be completely demolished.

After receiving treatment for several days in a Fort Worth hospital, they were taken on to Lufkin by Mr. and Mrs. Boston.

Friends here are expecting Mrs. Boston to return Mr. and Mrs. Pinkston within the next few days.

DR. E. W. JONES
was a speaker on the program of the Panhandle Medical Association which met in Lubbock Tuesday and Wednesday. He was co-host at the ex-president's banquet also.

Aberdeen Woman Makes Quilts In Old Fashion Way

Three quilts, made the way they were before the days of the cotton gin, have been completed by Mrs. D. W. Bryant of near Aberdeen, and work is under way on a fourth.

Not only were the tops of these quilts made by hand, and the quilting done by hand, but the cotton used as filler was picked from the seed by hand.

At the end of the cotton season last year, several small piles of cotton remained in Mrs. Bryant's fields. Gathering this up she spent the winter months separating the lint from the seed by hand. "I did it that way when I was a girl," she told neighbors.

Friends who saw the cotton before it was put into the quilts report that the lint was cleaner and fluffier than that usually obtainable for quilt cotton.

Mrs. Bryant, who is about 70 years of age, makes quilts as a hobby.

A. W. Howard Sells Cavalry Horses To U. S.

By W. A. ANTHONY
Collingsworth County makes the supreme effort for national defense when its boys join the United States armed forces, but this week A. W. Howard extended the effort to include horses as one of the county's many contributions.

Howard, who leases the pasture on the L. G. Yarbrough farm in the Shinnery community, is selling horses to the government to be used for the cavalry. Delivery will be made to a remount station in Oklahoma.

Red Cross Membership Quotas Set In County

Membership allotments for the various communities of the county in the Red Cross Roll Call Drive were made late last week when a representative of the American Red Cross met with local Red Cross officials.

At the same time Dewey Ellis, Roll Call Chairman, announced the number of workers that will be required in each of these places. Workers have not yet been named, but will be within the near future, Mr. Ellis pointed out.

The drive will open in Wellington November 11, and continue until the entire county is covered, as has been the custom in the past.

Junior Red Cross work is already under way, B. W. Beaird, chairman of that division, stated Tuesday. Since this work is done entirely in the schools, an effort is being made to get as many junior memberships as possible before schools turn out for cotton picking. No memberships have been turned in to Mr. Beaird yet, but he was assured recently by Carl Chaudoin, superintendent at Quail that enrollment at that schools would be 100 per cent.

This county's Roll Call quota is $900, Mr. Ellis reminded, and since each membership is one dollar, workers will aim at enrolling 900 persons in the Red (Continued on Page Ten)

Teachers Take Allegiance Oath

Every teacher in Collingsworth County must take the Oath of Allegiance to the United States, in accordance with a state law passed recently, B. W. Beaird, county superintendent, announced Monday.

This year is the first time that such an oath or affirmation has been required.

Forms containing the Oath of Allegiance have been sent all teachers in the county, and these are to be signed and returned to Mr. Beaird.

The state law, as passed by the legislature, provides that all persons whose salaries come from state tax funds must sign the oath, the county superintendent pointed out.

Poultry Raisers Set Date Of Show Saturday

Poultry raisers of the county, and all other persons interested in the annual Collingsworth County Poultry Show, will meet Saturday afternoon, October 18, at 3 o'clock in the Justice Court Room to select officers and to set the date for that event.

V. H. Lindsey, superintendent of the 1940 show, will be in charge of the meeting.

"We encourage every person interested in the poultry show to be present and to take part in the discussion of plans that will come up," Mr. Lindsey said. "We had a highly successful show last year, and interest seems to be just as high, if not higher, this time."

A part of the interest in the 1941 show is due to the good price of eggs and poultry now prevailing, and to the encouragement being given by the government in an effort to raise egg and poultry production.

While the date of the show will not be known until after Saturday afternoon, it is believed likely that it will be held early in December, as was the show last year.

All types of poultry will be exhibited in the show, and premium money will total several hundred dollars.

Drive Against Traffic Violations Opens Here

Charges of violation of the state traffic laws were filed against seven county residents in justice court, and as many in city court late Saturday by county officers and State Highway Patrolman C. D. West.

"This is part of a drive that is state-wide in scope by which highway officials are trying to cut down the number of automobile accidents," W. M. Tucker, county attorney, said Monday.

"Highway patrolmen tell us that during the first nine months of 1941, there were 1,000 more persons killed in car accidents in Texas alone than during the same period last year. Something has to be done, and tightening down of the highway regulations is one thing that is necessary," Mr. Tucker continued.

Most of the charges filed locally were for speeding, driving without a tail light, driving without possession of drivers license, and driving with a defective muffler.

Another highway patrolman will likely be stationed in this district, probably with headquarters at Shamrock, in the near future, and the drive against the violation of traffic regulations will be vigorously continued, local officials were told.

Easy Conference Victory Taken From Lakeview Fri.

The Lakeview Eagles fell easy victim to the Skyrocket ground offensive Friday night, scoring only six points to the Rockets' 37 in a District 3-A contest.

The Rockets scored three times during the first quarter, after which Coach Scott McCall sent in to action for the first time an almost complete team of reserve men. Olen Goodner, rapidly becoming one of his district's best backfield players, accounted for most of the Rocket runs, with Holton, Jones and Williams clearing the way with expert blocking.

First of the Rocket scores came early in the first quarter, on a lateral pass from Gribble to Melton. Only a few minutes later, Goodner, reaching up to snatch a Lakeview pass on the 40-yard line, ran for the second score. Goodner also accounted for the third touchdown, taking the ball 30 yards on an end run just as the quarter closed.

Covey, Rocket substitute, accounted for the Rockets' only score during the second period, while Gribble, on an exciting 37 yard jaunt, scored in the third quarter. Goodner turned in the final score early in the fourth on a brief run through guard.

The Eagles' only score came during the second quarter, on a pass from Merrill to Bounds.

The Rockets rolled up 233 yards from scrimmage, as compared to 46 for the Eagles. The teams were even on first downs, each making five.

First Quarter

Melton kicked off for the Rockets, and Bounds, receiving on his 10-yard line, returned to the 22. Merrill, Eagle fullback, hit center for 3 yards, but this was more than offset by a 5-yard penalty assessed for offsides. Bounds failed to gain, and Merrill again went through center for 7 yards. Unable to gain yardage for a first down, Bounds punted and Melton received on his own 40-yard line, and returned to the center mark before he was downed.

On the first play from scrimmage, Melton went through center, behind effective interference, for 27 yards. Goodner gained a yard around left end, and Thompson got 6 yards at center. Melton picked up another 6 yards over left guard and Gribble hit the middle of the line for 2. Thompson then passed to Gribble who lateraled to Melton, who slipped across for the Rockets' first touchdown. The attempt at the extra point failed.

Bounds received the kickoff for Lakeview on his 10-yard line and returned to the 25, but on the next play Holton, Rocket guard threw him for a 5-yard loss. Taking the ball again, Bounds passed to Davis for 12 yards, then picked up 2 yards through center. Attempting to fake a pass, Bounds was thrown for a 2-yard loss by Williams, right end for Wellington. Again he lost 3 yards on his way around left end, and on the next play his pass to Gibson was intercepted on the 40-yard line by Goodner, who raced downfield 60 yards for the Rocket score.

Melton kicked over the goal line and Lakeview took the ball on the 20. Here they bogged down, and after several attempts, Bounds punted to the Rockets. On the next play, Goodner, taking the ball on the 30-yard line, circled left end and ran to pay dirt for the Rockets' third touchdown, only a few seconds before the quarter ended.

Second Quarter

With the opening of the second quarter, Wellington's second string took over the playing, with the exception of Captain Holton. The quarter opened with the ball in Lakeview's possession, and Bounds, on three tries, advanced 9 yards, to about the 30-yard line. Merrill added 3 yards for a first down, and Bounds' two tries netted 5 yards. An attempted Eagle pass failed, and the Rockets took possession of the ball on downs.

Third Quarter

Brounlee's kickoff went out of bounds on the Rocket 25-yard line. After a brief gain by Gribble, Melton passed to Williams for 20 yards and Williams lateraled to Gribble for an additional 10 yards. Melton picked up 4 yards and Gribble, skirting left end, outran the Lakeview secondary for 37 yards and another Rocket score.

Melton's kick placed the ball in the region of the Eagles' 10-yard line, and the visitors were unable to advance it the distance necessary for a first down. Bounds punted out of bounds on the Rocket 30-yard line.

Here the Rockets failed to complete their passes, and a fumble cost them 8 yards. Melton then punted out on the Eagle 1-yard line.

Merrill's first try at center was good for 15 yards, but on the next play, Williams, Rocket right end, threw Bounds for a 10-yard loss. The Eagles again were unable to advance against the Rocket defensive, and Bounds punted to Goodner, who was stopped on his 40-yard line. Wellington was assessed a 15-yard penalty for holding, only 4 of which were gained back before the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

On the first play of the period, Melton circled right end for 40 yards. Gribble and Melton picked up 6 yards through the line, placing the ball on the 4-yard line. Goodner hit left guard for the touchdown, going over standing up. Melton converted for the extra point.

Again the Rockets' second string took over, with the exception of Captain Holton. Benson kicked off to Bounds, who returned from his 20-yard line to the 31. Unable to complete a series of passes, Bounds punted to Kendrick on the 30-yard line.

The Rockets were unable to get going, and Kendrick's pass to Covey was intercepted by Lakeview on the 35-yard line. In four tries the Eagles advanced only 1 yard, and the ball went to Wellington on downs.

The Rockets lost a yard on each of two plays, then Aldridge, back in the lineup, circled right end for 8 yards. Pushing interference cost the Rockets 15 yards in penalties, and Aldridge's punt was blocked and killed on the 25.

Merrell, attempting to run with the ball, was thrown for a 10-yard loss by Sisk and Thomason as the game ended.

The starting lineup:

Wellington	Fos.	Lakeview
Brewer	LE	Gibson
Bearden	LT	Wiley
Holton	LG	Craft
Aldridge	C	Storey
Jones	RG	Williams
Wiles	RT	Fancher
Williams	RE	Sanderson

Farm Picture Shows At Quail October 23rd

The graphic story of the fight against crop diseases will be shown in a motion picture at Quail School Thursday night, October 23, G. S. Dowell, vocational agriculture instructor, announced today.

Entitled "Black Scourge," the picture tells of the battles against grain smuts, other fungi, and seedling blight.

"The constant search by the modern farmer for ways and means to increase his crops, and the desire of science to help the grower get more returns per acre keep the American bread basket well-filled," Mr. Dowell said in discussing the picture.

"One of the ways farmer and science work together is in combating crop diseases. One chapter in this battle has only recently been made into a motion picture under the title "Black Scourge."

"Shot on a dozen typical farms in experiment stations and research laboratories, the picture shows such dangers as stinking smut of wheat, the smuts of oats and rye, strip disease of barley, and seed and seedling diseases of corn. Against these are arrayed the guardians of our bread basket—the American farmer—using the weapons that science has placed in his hands—weapons that carry the fight to the black scourge of the grain fields before the seeds are planted."

A cordial invitation has been extended all farmers of the area to attend this picture.

QUAIL

By ROSS O'HAIR

The Quail Future Farmers put up an agriculture display 45 feet long containing 87 products at the Collingsworth County Fair recently. They also entered about 200 individual exhibits and won 76 premiums. They put up a Collingsworth County display at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo and won more blue ribbons than any other county except Childress, whose display was up by Mr. Haffner, the county agent of Childress County and a recognized authority on agriculture products. Their FFA booth at Amarillo won a premium of $16.00. Altogether they won $168.50 premium money and every member of the chapter put up one or more exhibits.

Carl Wischkaemper, Orville Atkinson and Troy Cass composed the committee for the County Fair while Roy Cass, Frank Coleman, Troy Cass, Billie Dennis and Richard Gilbreth, formed the committee for the Tri-State Fair. The judges say the boys know agriculture products better than the average exhibitor at the regional fairs. Troy Cass won a special award of the Chapter for the one winning the most premiums. He won six first places, four second places, and seven third places.

The Quail Chapter of the Future Farmers of America claim to be the first FFA Chapter in the United States to own a National Defense Bonds and have one hundred percent of its members with a savings account in National Defense Stamps.

The Future Farmers and Future Homemakers secured and canned 160 quarts of corn and peas for the lunch room. The corn and peas were donated by Clarence Blevins, Bert Weaver, Pete Dowell, and Carol Blevins. The boys gathered the corn and picked the peas while the girls prepared them for canning and canned part of them. In some cases the peas and corn were placed in jars in pressure cookers and sent to mothers of the community for pressing.

The FFA boys recently helped build concrete tables, chop weeds, and in other ways clean up and improve the Quail Garden Club Park near the state highway about two miles east of town.

The chapter is sponsoring a series of educational pictures which will be shown at the school free of charge. Recently they made ten dollars on a picture for which they charged admission.

Pete Dowell, an associate member of the chapter, put up a Collingsworth County Display at the Panhandle South-Plains Fair at Lubbock.

The poultry judging team placed first and the dairy cattle team placed eleventh in the vocational judging contests at the Tri-State Fair. The boys encountered stiff competition because among the large number of teams from Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico were teams representing chapters that have won state and national honors in similar contests.

The Quail Chapter was the only one to put up both a county and an FFA display at the Tri-State Fair.

Owing to the rains and muddy roads the Future Farmers and Future Homemakers failed to get all the cast to Amarillo for their two radio broadcast programs the first day of the Tri-State Fair but will broadcast their programs in the near future from KGNC and KFDA.

Joe Stratton, Jess Robinson, and Pete Dowell have recently received recognition by the National Agriculture Education Magazine for their ability to establish themselves in farming and attend college at the same time. Each of them is an ex-president of the Quail Chapter and each is now attending college. Kenneth Allen, another ex-president of the chapter, is now a senior in Tech College and has made all his own college expenses and at the same time made the highest grades in the Agriculture Division.

Troy Cass won a three dollar cash award given by the Quail Chapter for winning the most premiums at the Collingsworth County Fair. He not only won more premiums than any other FFA boy in the county but won more premiums than any other exhibitor at the fair, including all departments.

Some disease-causing organisms are greatly stimulated by certain of the vitamins, according to a recent announcement.

BUICK BUILDS FOR DEFENSE

Our assignment: Building Pratt & Whitney valve-in-head aircraft engines for defense use.

BUICK

EXEMPLAR OF GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

A word about the calibre of the distinguished new automobiles that Buick now brings to market for 1942

Two thoughts stood solemn sentinel throughout all the planning of our 1942 cars.

The first was: — in their materials these cars must not trespass on the current needs of national defense.

The second was: — in their quality and performance they must not be an "ersatz" product.

If you think this leaves only a cramped and stifling byway for engineering to advance in, remember that difficulties are sometimes the spur that real ability needs.

Our new cars, it seems to us, superbly prove this. But we neither expect nor ask you to take our word for it.

The real way to know what they are, and how marvelously they perform, is to breeze them down a country road or tool them through clogged traffic.

The sure way to gauge their mettle and their inmost goodness is to plump them squarely into the stiffest task your imagination can supply.

So come try the gorgeous new cars that we not only say pace the pack for 1942 but are bold enough to believe set an all-time high in all-round automotive excellence.

They will make you glad—nay, proud—all over again that you're living in America—and now!

No other car has ALL THIS FOR YOU IN 'FORTY-TWO

All aboard for McLean. It is the stand out game of the conference this week. The Tigers always are good, but this year so are the Rockets.

Something to remember while driving to the game: Nature constructed the human eye to properly focus at walking speed, but we strain our eyes to drive 60 miles an hour. The truth is you don't really steer a car anymore, you aim it just as you would a gun.

Son: "Aren't you driving too fast, Dad?"

Father: "If I don't hurry you will be late for school."

Son: "I had rather be tardy than absent."

It will make 3 minutes difference in time if you observe all the highway signs, which are reminders of state laws, between here and McLean. That will include not passing a single car on a hill or a curve.

You wouldn't wager $1,000 against 3 cents, but some people will wager the rest of their lives as well as other people's lives against 3 minutes time. Start ten minutes early.

Remember Highway 66 is the most dangerous in Texas. If a Highway Patrolman escorts your cars remember he is protecting your welfare and is not there for his own pleasure.

Grocery prices are about half as high as they were in 1918. My information for this is an old grocery advertisement that a salesman was showing in Wellington Monday.

Although they are having some trouble and a tremendous lot of correspondence over getting merchandise, the merchants of Wellington are filling their shelves to a pleasing extent. Stocks of groceries, dry goods, drugs and furniture are larger than they were last year. Automobiles and ice boxes are off, but on the whole the town offers more than it has in years.

Gene Howe's bear hunt stories furnished the best escape literature I have read in the last month. We need something like this occasionally to rest our minds from the horrible thing that is happening in Europe.

For some people the world series or the Texas-Oklahoma football game may have provided the best escape stories, but I can imagine the feelings of the other side. The series was no escape for "them bums" and the only escape for the Sooners was the final whistle.

Next week Gene Howe will have a story in The Saturday Evening Post. The title is "My Father Was the Most Wretchedly Unhappy Man I Ever Knew." Magazine dealers will do well to order an extra supply; for, as The Post says, Ed Howe was one of the most remarkable men of American journalism.

John Atkinson brought a five and one half foot diamond back rattlesnake to town Tuesday. It was the largest I have ever seen. It had fourteen rattles, but contrary to popular belief that does not mean the snake was 14 years old. The reptile had not wasted his summer wages like Jess Cook. From the way his sides were distended I judged he had gobbled up one rabbit, two rats and a sprinkling of mice. At least he had made ample preparations for the winter. Such a frustration of thrift and energy is a sad story—if you like snakes.

Because you hear so much about it and so many people do not understand grading cotton, I cornered S. K. Parsons and G. A. Ream and had them give me the list. The highest used to be middling fair, but that has about gone out of use just as has the lowest which was low ordinary. Here is the list from highest to lowest as now used:

Strict good middling
Good middling
Strict middling

Strict low middling
Low middling
Strict good ordinary

Picking cotton instead of pulling it will mean an increase in gross income to this county from $125,000 to $150,000. Picked cotton is bringing about $5 a bale more than pulled cotton of the same staple. Figure it up yourself.

The following took office: Miss McFarland, president; Miss Myra Hays, stewardship vice president; Mrs. Frank Eikenburg, membership vice president; Miss Bonnie Willis, fellowship vice president; Miss Delia Cowan, class ministries; Miss Hutcherson, secretary-treasurer.

Fair President Reviews Success Of 1941 Event

By BEN HURST,
President, County Fair Association

If large crowds, intensely interested are any evidence of the success of the Collingsworth County Fair, then the 1941 fair was in a great measure all O. K. One of the most interesting things of the whole affair was the enthusiasm shown by the several communities in their displays. It could not have been within 50% of what it was without them.

It was a hard matter for the judges to decide who was first, second and third, etc., as all seemed so near together, but a decision had to be made and the judges tried to be as fair and just as rules and regulations permitted.

The success is entirely due to the good farmers and ladies of the county who worked so faithfully to put it over.

Fruit and vegetables in Collingsworth County just seemed to have tried to exceed themselves this year and individual exhibitors from many fine farms had little trouble finding something good to show.

A few were heard to say that they had better samples of such and such on their farms, but how are we to know unless they are shown? The fact that many brought their stuff is what contributed to a successful fair. If you keep them hidden away on your farm few other than neighbors see what you have wrought this year. So next year—and there will be a fair next year—be sure you bring what you have and thus create more interest and make the fair bigger and better.

There is no better corn grown in the eastern river bottoms than was shown here this year. Ears half as long as your arm and well filled with grain from one end to the other were shown.

Indeed, there was no growing period this year when field truck failed to get a sufficient quota of moisture to make it do its job. Then there were all kinds of sorghum varieties such as wheatland and regular maize, feterita, Hegira, kaffir, etc. One could write columns about these grains and never tire, for in them is tied up real animal fattening operations that add money to the bank rolls of the farmers of Collingsworth County.

The lowly pea, peanut and bean, okra, Irish and sweet potato, fruits of all kinds, indeed most any fruit or vegetable you will find in the temperate climate was there, and a specimen par excellence.

The fair will mean many dollars to Collingsworth County in that it will cause others to be fair conscious, it will spur them to better efforts next year, and it will provide an ever expanding variety of fruits and vegetables for the average Collingsworth County family. That will mean better health and better homes.

Let's begin now for the preparations of a bigger and better fair in 1942.

each person attending will derive some good, as well as proving a benefit to the church," the pastor said.

Rev. Akin reported good services last Sunday, with an especially good crowd present at the evening service.

We've heard about tax increases. Soon we are to feel them. The new $3,553,400,000 revenue bill was signed by President Roosevelt recently and the wheels began moving on the new machine. Some five million persons, who heretofore had not felt any sizable increase in their tax bills, are expected to be added to the lost list of federal tax payers.

Own a car? You're going to help pay the defense bill if you do. To the taxes already levied against the automobile owner there will be five dollars more added by the Federal government. It is called a "use" tax.

Got a telephone in your home or business? If so get ready to add six per cent to your telephone bill each month. And if you want to talk to your husband, wife or friend in a distant city you can add six per cent to the cost the operator tells you the call will amount to.

Going somewhere? That costs too. Transportation tickets costing more than thirty-five cents are included in the big tax bill. Five per cent of the new price will be in taxes to pay the national defense bill.

Refrigerators, radios, luggage, jewelry, slot machines, sporting goods and optical equipment are included in the list of "nuisance" taxes to go into effect. Liquor consumers will not escape either but congress decided that tobacco and gasoline are already paying their share.

In business? Then get ready to take care of forty per cent of the new tax bill. That is the per cent that it is estimated that business alone will pay, most of which will come in the corporate income and excess profits tax, excise tax and tax on commodities sold by business, which in most instances will be passed on to the buying public.

Firms having a net income of $25,000 will pay a surtax of six per cent. Over and above that amount the tax is seven per cent but firms in Panhandle communities are not likely to participate in this tax.

Along with the increase in income taxes it is definitely certain that many individuals who previously never felt the burden of taxation except indirectly through sales taxes will soon line up at the wailing wall along with those who have been practicing this procedure for years.—Dalhart Texan.

• Depression Or Plenty?

"What lies ahead after we have solved present day problems? a land of milk and honey or another black pit of depression? Where do we go from here?"

In those words NAM President Walter D. Fuller recently stated one of the great issues that America faces today. True, we are in the midst of an enormous defense program, and defense is still our main job. But after defense what? The transition from armament to peace-time manufacture presents a huge and difficult problem. How well we can solve it will depend to a considerable extent on how well we prepare ourselves now to solve it.—Aaron Edgar in The Munday Times.

• Youth Wants To Save

From the mouths of children come words of wisdom. Ten thousand children were recently polled on what they would do with $100, if they had that much money of their own. Over one-third of them replied that they would invest in United States defense bonds and savings stamps. Forty-seven per cent said they would put the money in the bank. The remainder would buy clothing, toys, and "special lessons." But the fact remains that 82 per cent of them considered saving as the best use to which to put money if they had it. A lot of adults have learned that lesson, but the learning came later in life.—August H. Olson in The Coleman Democrat-Voice.

• Un-American

Something very Un-American arrived this week in the form of an unsigned letter. The letter criticized officials and conditions in this community, yet the writer was ashamed to place his, or her, name to the letter. Fortunately the Constitution of the United States provides Freedom of Speech and Freedom of the Press, but this freedom is wasted, of course, if people don't take advantage of it. If the person who wrote the letter thinks enough of his convictions to sign his name to it, The Brand will publish it without charge. Otherwise it looks like a lost cause, due to the lack of backbone. Is that fair enough?—Jimmie Gillentine in The Hereford Brand.

• Advantage

At the end of the last war, a leading British statesman made this significant observation: "The Allies sailed to victory on a sea of oil."

In World War II, thinks many an expert, the decision will again be largely determined by the petroleum assets of the antagonists. And that is where Germany is weak—and Britain and the United States are strong.—Grady G. Roberts in The Munday Times.

• It Hurts Here, Too

Travel through parts of Nolan County this week reveals that there are a number of acres of cotton that have been plowed under.

Bolls of fleecy, white staple can be seen sticking above the clouds. It's sort of sickening. Producers have been required to plow up a few acres, or a few rows of cotton because they have overplanted their allotment.—Robert W. Cooke in The Nolan County News.

Those who fish for compliments never let the big ones get away.

Washington Week

By RALPH HERBERT

If the U. S. Department of Agriculture can help it, the present national defense effort is not going to bring about among farmers of the country a situation similar to what happened during and after the last World War—wholesale inflation of land prices, speculation in extension of farms, with an aftermath of crash in values and suffering among the farmers.

Recently A. G. Black, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, outlined the government's policy to a group of leading farm mortgage lenders. Representatives of more than 100 institutions and insurance companies writing about 75 per cent of the mortgage loans made to farmers attended.

Gov. Black reminded them of what happened two decades ago—overlordship by institutions, overborrowing on speculative values by farmers, thus pushing the farm mortgage debt of the country to an all-time high peak of 11 billion dollars. As a remedy against a repetition of this distressful experience Governor Black recommended:

1—Lending only on the basis of normal farm values based upon the productive capacity of the farm in question.

2—Urging farmers to use their present higher income for the sound purpose of repaying existing debts.

3—Encouraging farmers to build up financial reserves to bridge a possible period when farm incomes will not be so high.

4—Impressing upon the farmers the unwisdom of making speculative overpurchases of more land as the result of a dream that high prices will continue to prevail no matter what happens.

5—Encouraging farmers to make sound use of credit, so that the family type of farm can yield a higher and more secure standard of living for the farmer and his family.

Governor Black said he had been much encouraged by his talks with farmers and the leaders of national farm organizations. In almost every case he found they did not want to see the experience of the last war repeated. They all seemed to have a very vivid and painful recollection of the land boom of 25 years ago, followed by the collapse in the after-war period.

Mrs. E. J. Atkinson, mother of Clyde King, received Clyde's diploma from Odessa High School this week. King attended school there this last winter. Two months ago he enlisted in the army and is now in France.

On May 29th, a Collingsworth citizen made two certificates at different places in Wellington and thereby obtained twice his allowance of flour. The results were that he was fined $25.00 for the Red Cross, and allowed to return home.

A general rain has fallen to cheer the hearts of the people of this section of this country. Reports from Childress, Donley, Hall, Hardeman and Wilbarger Counties are to the effect that all had good rains. Collingsworth County had more than an inch of rain to add to its six or eight inches of the two weeks preceding.

H. C. Lane, Jr., the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lane of Aberdeen died last Saturday and was buried in Wellington cemetery Sunday. Rev. J. C. Newman conducted the funeral services.

Joe McCarron was here this week from Henrietta visiting old friends. He was the first man to sell dry goods in Wellington back in the frontier days of this part of the county, along about 1893.

One of the largest feed crops in the history of all West Texas is now being harvested. Many farmers will have sufficient feed supplies to last them for three years. Corn will make as high as forty to fifty bushels an acre and maize is making from a ton to two ton per acre.

The sixth Collingsworth County Fair, beginning Sept. 14, is notable inasmuch as it is to have a feature that has been lacking in past years. That is the exhibits of the Boys' Clubs organized under the supervision of County Agent C. C. Stinson. Hon. H. A. Haines, candidate for governor on the Republican ticket, will speak in Wellington on the courthouse lawn Saturday, September 11, according to Wade Arnold who attended the state convention of the Republican Party held in Dallas Tuesday.

Mrs. J. E. Blevins, 57, died at her home near Quail, September 5. Funeral services were held at the Christian Church at Quail. Besides her husband she is survived by five sons and six daughters. The sons are: Willard Blevins of McLean, Clarence Blevins, Dodsonville, Carrell and John Blevins of Quail. Daughters are: Mrs. Wood of Lelia Lake, Mrs. Roy Willingham of Quail, Mrs. Ira Self of Wellington, Mrs. H. D. Jones of Wellington and Misses Beatrice and Emmaline Blevins of Quail.

Bumper crops were promised by an inch and a half of rain which fell in Wellington Monday afternoon. The rainfall was heavier in north Wellington, and north of town so heavy that it approximated a cloudburst.

Funeral services for T. J. Turner were held at the First Baptist Church Saturday afternoon. Mr. Turner, a well loved farmer of the Fresno community, died Friday morning at three o'clock after suffering a severe attack of pneumonia. Rev. Clement assisted by Rev. Joyner conducted the services. Pallbearers were: Tom Harwell, W. C. Harwell, Marvin Homer, R. H. Crain, Henry Vaughn, and A. R. Pepper.

LETTERS From the PEOPLE

FAULT FINDERS

During the time when our Savior Christ walked on earth, a set of fault finders were constantly watching our Savior to find some fault with Him. A set of preachers called disciples had drifted into the habit of covering up their faults with the sins of others. One day these preachers brought a poor woman to Christ. Jesus said: "He that is without sin cast the first stone."

"Well, sir, all those preachers got up and left at once. Then there was a set of Pharisees who accused Jesus Christ of being in partnership with the "Prince of the Devils." That set of fault finding Pharisees got an everlasting curse on their heads of fault finding—of sin against the Holy Ghost.

If any man in our United States has a dislike for our officers or our Democratic country, then let that man pray about three days for himself then pray for our officers. If he then continues to be a fault finder, then if he poses as being honest, see to it that he moves to a country which suits him.

Fault finders who cover up their sins and faults with a blanket sin and fault of others will one day wake up where it is hot. We are in a day and time that all of us are to love our country and love one another.

In Luke, first chapter and 37th verse, the Angel Gabriel said: "For with God nothing shall be impossible."

Let us all constantly pray for one another and our officers and then our Heavenly Father will do that which is best for us. He will do the thing which is impossible with man.

Curry Explains Bond Drive To Kiwanians

Speaking before the Wellington Kiwanis Club at its regular Friday luncheon meeting, R. F. Curry, county Defense Bond Chairman, explained to the group the purposes of the bond and stamp drive to open here in the immediate future, and the lines along which the drive will be conducted.

"The purpose of defense bonds and stamps is three-fold," Mr. Curry said. "It enables the government to finance the gigantic undertaking of the defense of our Democratic government; it checks inflation by systematic saving so that less goods will be consumed when prices and labor are high; and it provides a cushion when the United States checks its spending.

"The task must be done eventually by the people themselves, as it should in a democracy.

"The benefits of a democracy carries with it the obligation to support it in time of emergencies, and intelligent support that not only the emergency be met but that the future be provided for.

"Each individual and organization must decide the part to be played in this support of the government," Mr. Curry concluded.

In order to place full information concerning the defense bond and stamp drive before the people, Mr. Curry is appearing before local service clubs and before the Wellington students outlining the purposes of the drive.

Next year's convention will be held in Dallas. New district president of the Kiwanians is Charles C. Toomey, president of the Mid Continental Oil Company of Tulsa, Okla.

Reports on the district convention will be given local Kiwanians by Mr. Pope and Mr. Cornwell in the near future. Both men, members of the club for less than a year, have been active in a number of phases of its work, and each is now serving on club committees.

SECURITY Comes with careful planning

It doesn't "just grow" like Topsy. The rich crops of Collingsworth this year are the results of care and study and much hard work, and planning for the days ahead. Security comes by the same way, and only after much effort has been extended upon it.

We are thinking about security during these days. And we know that security of the whole country depends upon that of the small parts of the country, the counties and the townships.

With these thoughtful, industrious people of Collingsworth County who aim toward the building of a sound condition in this area, we add our efforts, for upon this depends much of the security of individuals, and that of the country as a whole.

Plans Near Completion For Church Assembly

Plans are progressing rapidly for the 32nd annual District Assembly of the Church of the Nazarene, to which the Wellington Church will be host on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, October 29, 30, and 31. It will be the third time during the 31 years that the meeting has been held in Wellington.

This time, 71 churches from the Abilene District will send delegates. The district includes not only the entire Panhandle, but that area of the state extending from Abilene to El Paso.

"As on the two previous occasions the good folks of Wellington are opening their homes to the delegates and already half of the beds necessary have been promised," Rev. Hadley Hall, pastor, said today.

"If you have not been contacted by the committee, and can spare a bed, please phone me or get in touch with me," the pastor said.

"We wish to thank our good friends here that are cooperating with us and helping us to take care of our convention," Rev. Hall continued.

Church Plans Pastor's Day

Pastor's Day will be observed at the Sunday School hour of the Church of the Nazarene in Wellington Sunday, October 19, Rev. Hadley Hall, pastor, announced this week.

Judge C. C. Bishop, county judge, will be guest speaker of the occasion. Other features of the special program will be songs and music.

"A special effort is being put forth to have a large attendance in the school. The class having the best increase will receive a beautiful picture of Christ," the pastor stated.

"We urge every member of the school to be present, and invite everyone in Wellington who does not attend one of the Sunday schools of our city to come and be with us," Rev. Hall continued.
