Advertising Of Bids On Library Set

County Judge Edgar Taylor said this morning he has notified Butler-Kimmel Co. of Lubbock, the county's architects and engineers for the county library authorized in a bond election last spring, to advertise for bids on the library project.

Taylor said he has not talked with M. C. Butler, head of the firm, and that he does not yet know the date the bids will be taken.

It is possible that Butler will appear before the commissioners court again before bids are called for. Butler has not been notified definitely of any site for the library.

As near as can be determined, there are three possible sites for the library. One is located at Avenue T and Tweny - third Street, a half block of property which the county acquired in a trade with the city. Another is one offered by Winston Bros. in the Colonial Hills addition. The third is at Avenue O and Twenty-sixth Street, offered by the Snyder schools as a possible library site.

There is a possibility that the bids will not be accepted because of the size of building planned by the Butler-Kimmel firm. Estimates are that the building planned will cost in the neighborhood of $80,000. There is, however, only $90,000 of bond money designated for the library project, and estimates are that some $25,000 to $30,000 will be required for furnishing the building and providing a mobile book unit. That would leave only $60,000 to $65,000 for construction of the building.

If the bids are too large on the present plans and the commissioners court turns them down, the plans must be revised and a smaller building planned. The building planned by Butler-Kimmel is for 100-person capacity.

Serious Clash Of Communist Party Leaders Foreseen

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Political sources in Belgrade professed today to see evidence of a serious ideological clash inside the Communist party family in the Yalta meetings of Soviet, Yugoslav and Hungarian leaders. They said the clash might lead to a new crisis in world Communist party relations.

These quarters read great significance into the news that the boss of Hungary's Communists, Erno Geroe, has joined the conversations between Yugoslavia's President Tito and the Soviet Communist chief, Nikita S. Khrushchev. Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin also is attending the talks, billed by Moscow as a vacation gathering in the Crimea, but viewed in the West as a critical stage of a Kremlin political struggle.

Belgrade observers speculated that Hungary's Geroe hastened to the Black Sea resort to give his support to Khrushchev's policy of downgrading Stalin and Stalinism. The policy has led to important political repercussions throughout the Communist satellite countries.

These sources, noting that the Soviet news agency Tass reported Geroe's arrival in Yalta without comment, said his trip could not be considered accidental. They said there is no doubt that ideological differences exist among Communist rulers.

The Yugoslav press is paying particular attention to a Budapest dispatch noting that Hungary has changed the names of factories and institutions which had been named for Matyas Rakosi. Rakosi, closely identified with Stalinism and the violent denunciations of Tito during the Moscow-Belgrade estrangement, has been ousted as boss of the Hungarian Communist party. His loss of influence is interpreted here to mean that a policy of de-Stalinization is continuing in Hungary.

As the evidence is pieced together in Belgrade, Khrushchev's policies ran into opposition in the Kremlin. This, and an outcropping of dogma differences between the Soviet and Yugoslav Communists, led to Khrushchev's visit to Yugoslavia and Tito's sudden decision to go back to the Soviet Union with him.

Added support for this theory is gleaned from the revelation here that last June, during Tito's visit to Moscow, the signing of a declaration on relations between the Yugoslav and Soviet parties had to be delayed 48 hours. The Russians were reported to have opposed parts of the document written by the Yugoslavs.

D. A. Porter, fire chief said that Treet was hired as part of the personnel expansion necessitated by addition of a second sub fire station to be built in southwest Snyder later this year. Equipment for the station has already been purchased, but not delivered. Location for the new station will probably be purchased by the city council tonight.

15 Nations Are Joining Canal Users Association

Court Hears Parr Charge

AUSTIN (AP)—The state charged today that a group of 79th Judicial District attorneys elected a special judge in a political scheme to help George Parr.

The court took no action at once.

Counsel for the attorneys replied that the election of a special judge was necessary to act upon an election contest while Dist. Judge Woodrow Laughlin was on vacation outside the district.

The court heard arguments on the appeal from contempt proceedings against five lawyers then recessed until 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The five attorneys—Werner Gomhert, Gerald Weatherly, Luther Jones, O. P. Carrillo Jr. and Raeburn Norris—were found in contempt Aug. 20 by Laughlin. He sentenced them to 72 hours in jail. Gomhert, Weatherly, Jones and Carrillo spent two hours in jail then were released on a writ of habeas corpus from the Court of Criminal Appeals. The state asked today that the writ be dismissed and the contempt proceedings be held in the state Supreme Court as a civil action.

"All this was a preconceived scheme to get control of the Duval County Commissioners Court for their friend and compatriot George Parr," Asst. Atty. Gen. Sidney Chandler told the court today.

"This was a fraudulent scheme to help George Parr get back in power," 79th Dist. Atty. Sam Burris charged. "They tried to get control of the district court so they could control the County Court, then in turn control of the Commissioners Court."

"The state is trying to try these men for their political motives not their acts," said Percy Foreman of Houston for the attorneys.

Foreman said the attorneys had been advised that Laughlin was in Mexico. Burris said it was common knowledge that Laughlin was in Alpine but no attempt was made to notify him of the contest.

Burris alleged that 12 lawyers met in San Diego with Nago Alaniz Aug. 5 then went to the courthouse where they elected Gomhert special judge in the absence of Laughlin. Gomhert suspended County Judge Dan Tobin. In a Commissioners Court session soon afterwards Pedro Trevino was elected a commissioner to fill a vacancy.

LATE BULLETIN

NICE, France, Oct. 1 (AP)—One man was killed and 12 injured, eight of them seriously, in an explosion aboard the U.S. destroyer, John R. Pierce today during exercises off the south coast of France.

The explosion occurred at 10:50 a.m., 75 miles south of Villefranche.

The John R. Pierce was firing on a towed target when a shell burst in the breech of a 5-inch gun.

The vessel, built at the Bethlehem Steel Co., yards on Staten Island, N.Y., was launched in September 1944. She displaces 2,200 tons and carries six-5-inch guns, in addition to her other armament. Normal complement on a war footing is 350.

Three Still Holding Out

LONDON (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd formally declared the Suez Canal Users' Assn. inaugurated today after 15 nations announced their decision to join it.

Lloyd was presiding over a conference of 18 nations which have pronounced themselves in favor of international control of the Suez Canal, placed under state ownership by Egypt on July 26.

Japan, Ethiopia and Pakistan have not yet decided whether to become members.

The 90-minute opening session of the envoys wound up with appointment of three expert committees, which will consider:

1. Organization of the association; the powers and relationships of a council comprising a delegate from each member country, an executive group and an administrator, who probably will be a Scandinavian.

2. Operations; the practical questions concerning relationship with Egyptian authorities, payment and collection of canal dues and the possible by-passing of Suez.

3. Financial matters; creation of a common working fund to pay for a secretariat and an operational headquarters which may be set up in Rome or Lisbon.

Lloyd announced that the following 14 countries have advised Britain of their intention to join as full members:

Australia, Denmark, France, West Germany, Iran, Italy, Netherlands, New Zealand, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Turkey, the United States, the United Kingdom and Norway.

One of the tasks for the first committee on organization is whether the association should approach other governments to join. Countries such as Panama, Liberia, and Belgium are being considered because their shipping and their trade patterns depend a lot on having efficient use of Suez.

Ambassadors of the 18 nations sat down to the third international conference to put flesh on the bones of the agreement reached at the second Suez parley last month.

Gulf Storm Lashes Texas, Rains Hit Widespread Area

By The Associated Press

A Gulf storm that lashed coastal cities spread over a wide area of Texas early Monday to bring tantalizing showers as far north and west as Dallas, Forth Worth, San Angelo, Abilene and Mineral Wells.

Scattered reports of rainfall Monday came from the eastern half of the state and in South Texas.

Warrington in Central Texas reported 1.16 inches of rain, Columbus .93, Rio Grande City .30, Edinburg .17, Weslaco .15, Fort Worth .19, Austin .08, Dallas .04, and traces at Lufkin, College Station, Abilene, Mineral Wells, San Angelo and McAllen.

It rained hard in parts of Dallas early Monday and unofficial reports showed that .70 of an inch fell in eastern sections of Fort Worth.

Cloudy skies were forecast for most of the state Monday with the prospect of continuing showers that could bring an appreciable amount of moisture, the Weather Bureau said.

The disturbance struck the Texas coast with winds up to 48 miles an hour in gusts at Galveston Sunday. Minor wind and lightning damage was reported at Houston where some electrical service was interrupted and several utility poles were set afire.

The squally weather kept small craft in port along much of the state's coastline Sunday and early Monday.

Skies were cloudy in the eastern half of the state early Monday with light rains reported at Lufkin, College Station, Abilene, Mineral Wells, Fort Worth, Dallas and San Angelo.

Late Sunday Galveston reported .42 of an inch, Houston .31, Beaumont .24, San Antonio .06, and Corpus Christi .02.

Other rains reported earlier Sunday included .01 at Laredo, Brownsville .13 and McAllen .15.

Summer weather continued to prevail ahead of the storm Sunday. Dallas and Fort Worth reported afternoon highs of 95 degrees, Austin 93, El Paso 92 and Waco 90.

Early Monday morning temperatures ranged from 54 degrees at Dalhart to 74 at Beaumont and Galveston.

Temperatures dropped below freezing in northern Michigan today and chill air spread across the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley regions.

The central and northern plains reported generally higher readings and the rest of the nation had little temperature change.

Grand Marais and Pellston, Mich., both recorded 25 degree readings. The Weather Bureau said the nation's high was 90 at Blythe, Calif.

Scattered showers doused sections of the Rockies and New England and a curtain of drizzle and showers hung over Texas and Louisiana. Almost 2.50 inches of rains fell on New Orleans in 24 hours.

Big Spring Woman Killed In Accident

ABILENE (AP) — Mrs. Phillip Palmer, 30, of Big Spring was killed in a truck-car collision early today about 20 miles east of here on Highway 36. Her husband, four children suffered minor injuries.

The truck driver, Calvin Rendleman, 33, of Lubbock, was not injured.

Five Injured In Explosion

LEROY (AP)—Five persons were injured last night when Clifford Thomas, 36, of Leroy, decided to get rid of a small block of TNT he had been carrying in his truck "for years." He exploded the TNT.

Thomas said he ran a 12 foot cord from a dynamite concussion cap he attached to the TNT block and set it off with the battery of the truck.

Injured spectators were Thomas, his son, John, 12; Tony Vrba, 36, and Joedin Kalinika, 17, of Leroy; and Alphonse Kolar, 25, of Penelope.

John Thomas was in a hospital for surgery. The four others were treated and discharged.

Thomas said the explosion occurred about 100 feet north of the main street in Leroy.

Adequate Supplies Of Meat Predicted

CHICAGO (AP)—The head of the American Meat Institute said today wives can expect adequate supplies of meat at reasonable prices through next spring.

Morrell Foster, chairman of the institute, said beef breeding herds appear to be increasing, while supplies of pork will drop somewhat from the near-record total of last year.

Foster declared consumers will find bargains in hamburger, pot roast and finer cuts of beef. In pork, Foster said, the best buys will be chops, bacon, loin roasts and ham.

Kefauver Slates Address At Waco

DALLAS (AP) — Vice-presidential nominee Estes Kefauver carries the Democratic Party appeal to drought-desperate Texans today, fresh from a face-to-face meeting with Adlai Stevenson.

They conferred in Washington yesterday for the first time in two weeks on the eve of Kefauver's 200-mile swing through North and Central Texas. He is expected to make his pitch here especially to farmers and small business men.

There was just a chance that it might rain, but state party leaders planning Kefauver's bid for Texas' 24 electoral votes in behalf of himself and Stevenson were sure he could capitalize on it if it does.

Last week Kefauver maintained a terrific pace, campaigning in Illinois and Pennsylvania with appeals to small business men and farmers. He returned to Washington and flies directly from the capital to Dallas with a 32-member party for his Texas tour.

Tomorrow he will leave Waco early in the morning for New Mexico.

Kefauver's schedule today called for meeting as many voters as possible, the press, and party leaders at Dallas' Love Field. Early in the afternoon he was to appear on the Ellis County Courthouse square at Waxahachie for a speech; another speech at Hill County Courthouse square at Hillsboro; and another at West in McLennan County.

In between, he planned to get out on the streets at Italy, Milford and perhaps other smaller towns to meet the farmers and business men.

The principal speech of the day is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. from the Heart o' Texas Fair at Waco. The talk will be outdoors unless it rains, in which case the crowd will go into the coliseum.

The vice president nominee is also scheduled to be introduced to a rodeo crowd at the fair, and wind up his day with strategy talks with Texas campaign leaders.

Kefauver may be the only member of the national party's presidential team to appear in person in Texas. No plans for a Stevenson appearance are on the books now.

Party workers along the route of his trip today have been on the job for weeks in an effort to give Kefauver a big turnout. Delegations from all parts of the state will converge on Waco for the night politicking.

Thus far both parties have relied on their vice-presidential nominees only to go after Texas' vital electoral votes. GOP vice-presidential nominee Richard Nixon has already appeared once and is scheduled again for Fort Worth, San Antonio and El Paso Oct. 9.

Demos Accused Of 'Political Bunk'

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower fired back at his Democratic critics today, accusing them of talking "wicked nonsense" and "political bunk" in the presidential campaign.

Eisenhower's strongly worded address, prepared for delivery in Cleveland, did not mention opponent Adlai Stevenson by name, but he hit at Stevenson on the farm issue, cost of living, labor and several other campaign topics.

Stevenson, meanwhile, disclosed plans for intensive campaigning next week in California, with speeches set in half a dozen cities, and other far Western states.

The hard-traveling Democratic presidential nominee stopped off at his Washington headquarters yesterday for a brief rest, but planned to start touring eastern states tomorrow.

Eisenhower, in the strongest terms he has used so far in the campaign, told the Cleveland audience Republicans have given the nation "the kind of government that is a witness to a basic virtue in a Democracy — public morality, public service and public trust."

"In this administration," he continued, "you cannot find those ugly marks of the past, special favoritism, cronyism and laxity in administration."

Eisenhower also scheduled a nationwide radio-television address tonight from a GOP rally in Lexington, Ky.

Further evidence of a stepped-up campaign came in a White House announcement yesterday that he will make a 5,500-mile, 48-hour flying trip in mid-October to Minnesota, Washington and Oregon, all key states in the drive to re-elect Eisenhower and recapture control of Congress.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, Stevenson's running mate, said he and Stevenson talked over the campaign yesterday and agree that "the situation is looking fine, and we are making very good progress."

Kefauver starts off on another campaign swing today, a 13-state, coast to coast tour to last two weeks. The first stop scheduled was Dallas, Tex.

In St. Petersburg, Fla., yesterday, Vice President Nixon neared the end of a 15,000-mile, 32-state tour of his own, and announced plans to set out Oct. 9 for another 10,000-mile trip through 14 states.

Members of a GOP "truth squad" trailed Stevenson.

Dulles Is Planning Series Of Talks On Problem In Iceland

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles met today with Iceland's foreign minister in a mood to persuade him to let American troops remain in Iceland as defense sentinels of the North Atlantic area.

Turning his attention from the Suez crisis temporarily, Dulles began informal talks at a luncheon demand that some 4,000 American troops be withdrawn from the island were arranged for later today at the State Department.

Dulles and Jonsson arranged to meet this afternoon for the first Cabinet level talks on the problem which has worried American officials and North Atlantic Alliance military leaders since last March.

The demand for ouster of the troops was supported by Communists in Iceland. Although Icelanders generally would like to have their island to themselves again, the U.S. view is that only the Reds will gain in the long run if the big military base at Keflavik must be given up.

The problem is one of three major issues with which Dulles is concerned this week. The other two:

1. Restoration of United States-British-French cooperation in dealing with the Suez Canal issue as it moves into United Nations debate. Dulles is to confer with British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd, who is coming to the United States in advance of the first U.N. meeting on Suez Friday.

2. Development of tentative conclusions on what Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito is up to in his conference with the Russians and, consequently, what President Eisenhower should do about continuing aid to Communist Yugoslavia. Congress has ordered the aid program halted unless Eisenhower determines by Oct. 16 that it should be continued.

Like the Yugoslav problem, that of Iceland is related to the changed behavior of Russia in international affairs. Iceland officials have said lessened danger of war makes it unnecessary to keep U.S. troops there.

Possibility of some kind of compromise arose when Jonsson told a questioner his biggest problem is "to have a solution . . . that is acceptable to both parties."

Such a solution presumably would provide for reducing American strength but for leaving a token force as a warning to Russia and to maintain the military airfield.

British A-Bomb Carrier Crashes

LONDON (AP)—A huge delta-wing plane, one of Britain's secret atom bomb carriers, crashed and exploded in fog and rain at London Airport today before horrified dignitaries welcoming the plane home from New Zealand.

Hair-triggered ejector seats, touched off just before the four-jet Vulcan crashed, saved the lives of Air Chief Marshal Sir Harry Broadhurst and Squadron Leader D. R. Howard, captain of the plane.

Four bodies were recovered from the smoking, flaming wreckage which littered the airport's "Lucky No.7" runway for 200 yards. Broadhurst and Howard received minor injuries in their fall of about 900 feet. Parachutes eased them to the ground.

Eyewitnesses and a spokesman for the builders of the Vulcan, the A. V. Roe Co., said the canopy mysteriously came off the plane as it swept in for a landing after its 26,000-mile testing proving flight to New Zealand and Australia. The nose sagged. Two loud "bangs" signaled the ejector seats sending out the only survivors. And then the big plane whomped down.

A group of Russians, at the airport to welcome Bolshoi Ballet arriving from Moscow in Soviet jetliners, saw the crash. Nearby was a welcoming delegation from the Royal Air Force, the British government and families of the crew members.

The occasion was scheduled to be a big one for the RAF and for British aviation, already plagued by the failure of the Comet jet airliners, serious delays in deliveries of fighters and by the setting back of service for the Britannia airliners.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Locations Set For 4 Wildcats

Four wildcat locations have been staked for immediate drilling in West Texas Counties. Two of these tests will be drilled in Sterling County and one in Howard and one in Gaines.

Straube-Central Callihan Interests and Mahoney & Gregg of Abilene will drill the two Sterling County tests, 16 miles southwest of Sterling City.

No. 1 Mary E. Courtil is 467 feet from north and east lines of section 2, block 7, H&TC survey and eight and one-half miles northeast of the Cope (Spraberry field. Projected depth is 5,600 feet.

Straube-Central Callihan Interests and Mahoney & Gregg has staked location for No. 1 E. R. Atkinson, as a 5,000-foot wildcat nine miles southwest of the Martin (Wichita-Albany) pool.

In Northwest Howard County, Ashmun & Hilliard No. 2 Ltd. and United States Smelting, Refining & Mining Co. have spotted No. 1 Emmitt Grantham, et al. It is projected to 9,500 feet for tests of the Pennsylvanian.

Location is 1,957 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 8, block 33, T-2-N, T&P survey and 13½ miles northwest of Big Spring. It is three and one-half miles northwest of the Bond (Spraberry and Canyon reef lime) field.

Frank B. Waters of Midland will drill No. 1 M. S. Doss as a 3,000-foot Permian wildcat in East Gaines County, 18 miles east of Seminole.

It is 660 feet from south and west lines of labor 10, league 294, Lynn County School Lands survey and seven and one-half miles northeast of the Amrow (Devonian) field.

Seaboard Oil Co. is assured of at least 134 feet of pay in the Pennsylvanian reef — and possibly more — in its No. 1-A Weaver, West Dawson County discovery.

The project, which had recovered oil on five drillstem tests between 8,963 and 9,097 feet, found the water table in the reef formations in a test at 9,097-9,147 feet.

That zone was tested two hours. Gas surfaced in eight minutes. Recovery was 7,228 feet of clean oil, 214 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud with a salty taste and 592 feet of muddy salt water, which was slight cut with oil and gas.

Flowing pressure was between 600 and 2,230 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure in 15 minutes was 3,780 pounds.

Operator was to run electric logs and then will set casing and test and complete.

The strike is five miles northwest of Lamesa and 660 feet from north and east lines of labor 27, league 3, Taylor County School Land.

British-American Oil Producing Co. of Midland plugged and abandoned No. 1-L Green, Northeast Lynn County wildcat, at 5,160 feet in sand lime.

Location was 330 feet from south and east lines of subdivision 4, league 1, Wilson County School Land survey, three miles north of Wilson.

W. N. Bradshaw, Jr., of San Angelo and Moore & Moore Drilling Co. of Abilene have plugged and abandoned No. 1 W. W. Parramore, wildcat in Central Runnels County. It was drilled to 4,559 feet.

Location was 660 feet from south and west lines of section 601, H&OB survey and four miles southwest of Winters.

Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 2 Elizabeth Armstrong, southwest offset to the same concern's No. 1 Armstrong, recently completed Wolfcamp discovery in Central Andrews County, logged a slight show of possible production in the Wichita formation.

A drillstem test was run for three hours at 8,653-92 feet. Gas surfaced in 59 minutes. Recovery was 343 feet of 30.8 gravity oil and 60 feet of mud cut oil.

The operation is making hole below 8,748 feet in lime and shale. It is contracted to 9,600 feet to test the Wolfcamp.

It is three miles northeast of Andrews and 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 11, block A-45, psl survey.

Dugger & Herring of Abilene, and associates, encountered another show of possible production in their No. 1 Cynthia Malone, Northwest Coke County wildcat.

The section at 6,271-96 feet was tested three hours. Recovery was 1,790 feet of gas, 70 feet of heavily oil cut mud and 170 feet of slightly oil cut mud.

The project had deepened to 6,314 feet and was to run another test at 6,296-6,314 feet. The section currently being tested is a sand, possibly Strawn.

The wildcat previously tested in a Canyon sand at 5,873-91 feet with the tool open one hour. Recovery was 4,271 feet of gas, 20 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud, 160 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud and 10 feet of salt water.

The operation is 15 miles northwest of Robert Lee and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 465, block 1-A, H&TC survey.

Plymouth Oil Co. No. 1 E. P. Dicksnon, Northeast Tom Green wildcat, has been plugged and abandoned at 4,621 feet, after unsuccessful drillstem tests at 3,604 feet.

Location was 330 feet from most southerly north line and 330 feet from most westerly west lines of Rafeal Garcia survey No. 139 ½, and 10 miles northeast of San Angelo.

More oil has been reversed out on a second drillstem test of the Strawn in Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 W. C. Wimberley, prospective new pay opener in Northwest Gaines County.

A 24½-hour drilstem test was taken from 11,036 to 11,067 feet, using a 1,080-foot water blanket. Gas surfaced in four and one-half hours with no estimate on volume. Reversed out was water blanket and 200 feet of oil. Drilling continued below 11,068 feet.

Previous test at 11,016-11,034 feet also surfaced gas and recovered water blanket, plus 43-gravity oil.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 276, block G, WT survey and 12 miles southwest of Seagraves. It is three-quarters of a mile north of Stapolind's Devonian discovery in the ODC field.

Exposition Slated Here On Oct. 27

A series of booth demonstrations and exhibits by Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers is planned for the Oct. 27 Boy Scout Exposition to be held here.

The exposition, to be held in the stock barn at Towle Memorial Park, will use these exhibits and demonstrations to depict scout skills, hobbies, crafts and requirements.

The exposition plans will be discussed at a meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight at a meeting of the district commissioners staff in the city hall, according to Bill Smallwood, district commissioner.

Oct. 13 is the deadline for units to reserve booths in the exposition, which is to be sponsored by the Lone Buffalo District.

Tickets for the exposition will be sold and distributed by various scouting units. Tickets will be 25 cents each.

Booths in the exposition will be judged by members of the district camping and activities committee. Blue ribbons will be awarded to units scoring in the top 25 per cent, red ribbons to those in the second 25 per cent, and yellow ribbons to every unit participating with a booth. Judging standards will be number of scouts in the booth during exhibit hours, members properly uniformed and neat and clean, attitude of members toward the public in the way of helpfulness, cooperation, and general interest, general attractiveness of the booth including audience interest, originality of physical properties in the booth and decorations, and satisfactory presentation or demonstration of the subject.

Units will be competing in the exposition against a standard and not against each other.

Segregationists Calling For Stepped Up Integration Fight

By The Associated Press

The largest Ku Klux Klan cross burning rally since World War II occurred in Georgia over the weekend as other segregationist groups stepped up their recruiting for the fight against integration in Tennessee and Kentucky.

Courts in Texas and Washington prepared to consider problems developing from attempts to mix the races in public schools.

At Stone Mountain near Atlanta, some 3,500 persons from 12 states attended the giant Saturday night Klan rally.

Three crosses about 20 feet high were burned as several hundred klansmen, robed but not masked, went through the crowd seeking new members.

Imperial Wizard E. E. Edwards of Atlanta, an auto assembly plant worker, told the crowd the organization is "as solid as Stone Mountain," a piece of granite rising about 800 feet above the plain a few miles east of Atlanta.

"We will stay within laws that are just," Edwards said. Other speakers called for continuation of the fight against mixing of the races. Several attacked the U. S. Supreme Court for its decisions on segregation.

At Henderson, Ky., a yelling crowd of 100 white persons started for a Negro mother after she delivered four Negro students to the Weaverton Elementary School. Police cleared a path for Mrs. Margaret Clancy, mother of two of the pupils, and she drove away unharmed.

Asa (Ace) Carter of Birmingham, an Alabama White Citizens Council leader, told about 500 persons near Knoxville, Tenn., Sunday that when every legal step has been taken to stop integration, citizens should "take it in your own hands."

Another speaker was John Kasper, Washington, D. C., bookseller who is free under bond pending appeal of a one-year prison sentence for contempt of Federal Court during the racial disorders which followed integration at the Clinton (Tenn.) High School.

Carter told the crowd that people were "taking up money for the Kasper defense fund. I don't want your money. Keep it right here to defend other men in this cause. I want white men to fight."

At Henderson, Ky., James Dumas, secretary-treasurer of the Kentucky White Citizens Council and a native of Paris, Tenn., urged a Saturday night meeting of the Henderson White Citizens Council to "beware of those who say there is little we can do. We can fight this issue through and win it."

He spoke after Chairman Rayburn Sugg Jr. and cochairman Rudy Walker resigned from the Henderson White Citizens Council in protest against the group's decision to continue the week-long boycott of the Weaverton elementary school.

The decision was taken despite a warning from the attorney general's office that persons or organizations trying to further the boycott might be subject to penalties under state conspiracy statutes. Five Negroes are attending classes at Weaverton.

At Washington, the Supreme Court began a new nine-month term with a number of segregation cases on file. Three appeals were sent in during the summer in connection with the high tribunal's 1955 order to end enforced segregation of pupils "with all deliberate speed." Others were expected during the next few months.

At Dallas, a hearing began in Federal District Court that might determine if and when Dallas public schools are integrated. Involved were 27 Negro children seeking to enter six all-white schools. The case has been in litigation since September 1955.

Other weekend segregation developments:

Montgomery, Ala.—The Autauga County draft board made public letters sent to Alabama's Senator Hill and Sparkman and to U. S. Rep. Kenneth Roberts asking a congressional investigation of the Selective Service system as a result of the induction postponement of Fred D. Gray, Negro attorney, and a spokesman for his race in the 10-month-old Montgomery bus boycott.

Washington, D. C.—Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee told a television panel there would have been no trouble at Clinton—where Clement had to call out the National Guard—if an "outside agitator" had not come into the state and "stirred people up."

New York—The Urban League of greater New York, an interracial agency, said in its annual report Sunday that the ending of racial restrictions in privately owned housing is New York City's "most urgent unwon battle for democracy." The report added, however, that "important strides" have been made in breaking down discriminatory practices in publicly assisted housing.

Atlanta — Four Negroes asked U. S. District Court Saturday to force the Georgia College of Business Administration to admit them. They charged they were denied entrance to the all-white school because of race and color. School officials said they were turned away because they did not have the endorsement of two alumni.

Two Felony Charges Are Filed In County

Two felony charges have been filed in Scurry County, and those charged were arraigned this morning and their bonds were set.

Wayne Allen Davis, 29, of Roscoe was charged here with forgery. He was arrested last week in San Angelo, where he has a similar charge. His bond here was set at $500 by Peace Justice W. C. Davidson on arraignment.

Leslie Carl Gardner, 22, of Snyder, was charged with theft over $60 from the Rainbow Market. He was arrested Saturday in Garden City on the Scurry County warrant, and his bond was set here this morning at $1,000.

Both men were returned here by officers of the sheriff's department.

Report Given On Program Of Soil Bank

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers participating in the 1956 soil bank program have received nearly 3½ million dollars up to Sept. 21, the Agriculture Department said today.

It was the first formal report on funds paid out under the program designed to whittle crop surpluses.

Originally, the department estimated the total of such payments would be nearly 261 million dollars. Today it said the total likely would be "somewhat under" that figure.

Secretary Benson said last week at a news conference it was doubtful half of the total payments could be distributed by the Nov. 6 election.

The department said the dollar value of 1956 soil bank acreage reserve negotiable certificates reported issued through Sept. 1 by states, include:

Alabama $44,940; Arizona $147,891; Arkansas $19,454; California $103,863; Colorado $117,200; Florida $2,557; Georgia $7,348; Idaho $64,326; Illinois 32,739; Indiana, $66,154; Iowa $1,840,479; Kentucky $1,851; Louisiana $47,265; Maryland $468; Massachusetts $191,816; Mississippi $36,560; Missouri $440,038; Nebraska $54,003; New Jersey $85,658; New Mexico $18,936; New York $8,724; North Carolina $187,594; Oklahoma $374,224; Oregon $31,690; Tennessee $3,904; Texas $51,173; Utah 84,099; Virginia $32,841, and Washington $47,096.

Department spokesmen said in some cases no reports had been received yet from some state agricultural stabilization offices.

Attempt Is Postponed

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK

DALLAS (AP)—An attempt by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People to open the doors of all-white Dallas city schools to Negro children was postponed today to Nov. 14.

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell set the new hearing date after blocking an effort by NAACP attorneys to make Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd a party to the case.

NAACP attorney W. J. Durham agreed to the postponement while the NAACP sought measures to include Shepperd in the action.

The organization's action was aimed at a court of inquiry held here Saturday at which Shepperd's assistants brought out testimony that the parents of some children involved in the suit had not authorized the suit to be filed in their children's names.

Atwell told NAACP lawyers they could file a separate suit against the Texas attorney general.

Twenty seven children were involved in the first suit, filed in September 1955.

Commission Slates Meetings For Today

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission set these hearings today:

Oct. 17: Adoption for field rules and determination of the maximum efficient rate of production for the Herber (Gray Sand) and Herber (Cross Cut) fields, Taylor County.

Oct. 18: Jake Hamon plea for amendment to the field rules of the Hoffman Field in Duval County so operators producing from the lower Cole Sand may receive an increase in allowable.

Dallas Mother Dies

DALLAS (AP)—A Dallas mother, Mrs. Maudie Chapman, 16, was killed early today when a car crashed into a utility pole about a mile south of Wilmer on Highway 75. Jeanette Wolfe, 17, also of Dallas, suffered a broken leg.

Agreement On Saar Issue Being Hailed

BONN, Germany (AP)—Conclusion of the French-German agreement to return the rich Saar Valley to Germany has been hailed by both governments and Saarlanders themselves as the first step toward real European union.

The agreement was hammered out Saturday after 12 hours hard bargaining between West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French Premier Guy Mollet. It sets next Jan. 1 as target date for shifting back the 991-square-mile industrial basin taken by the French as war booty in 1945.

Kurt Conrad, Saar labor minister who sat in on the talks, said that final agreement brought realization of the Saarlanders' dream—reunion with the fatherland.

The agreement was expected to bolster Adenauer's sagging prestige in Germany on the eve of next year's national elections.

The agreement also spelled good news for the French. It called for converting the Moselle River into an international canal—provide French steelmakers with cheap barge transport for coal and coke from the German Ruhr and for finished products for export.

Two-Way Quality

Macaroni, spaghetti and noodles made from durum wheat give two-way quality. First, these products have a mild, wheaty flover. Secondly, they hold their shape during cooking. Identify top quality macaroni foods by the words "made from durum wheat" or "made from semolina" on the package.

Changes 'Down Under'

A member of the Australian cabinet recently asked an American vistor how Americans regarded that country. The American replied that Americans liked and respected the Aussies.

"But how much do Americans know of Australia?" the minister then asked..

The American told a story of two Americans visiting the zoo in Central Park, New York. Passing the kangaroos, they read a sign: Native of Australia "Good heavens!" said one of the Americans. "My sister married one of them."

We respect the Aussies, admire their courageous military record in two wars, but we know little of them. Since the last war, the entire position of Australia has changed. It is an under-populated continent with its resources not developed to their potential. The Singapore criss earlier this year, the running trouble in Cyprus, and now Suez, is bringing home to the Australians their danger of isolation.

Geographically, Australia is part of Asia; culturally, it is an outpost of the West. With its long and exposed coast lines and its sparsely populated interio, its strategic position is weak. It is no longer protected by the British navy. Suffering from a dollar shortage and lack of population, Australia is running Into economic difficulties which can be serious. And in addition, the Australian trade unions and the Australian Labor party are deep'y involved in a bitter factional fight centering around Dr. Evatt, leader of the party. Sharp religious division between Protestant and Catholic is menacing the Labor party.

Changes might well be coming "'way down under." It behooves Americans to watch developments there more closely. We tend to take Australia for granted, and we should not continue doing this.

Joe Not An Issue

When Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) was censured by the Senate in December 1954, his supporters warned that Senators voting against him would be defeated in 1956, senators on his side would be re-elected. The warning was directed chiefly at Republican senators, inasmuch as the Democrats had made censure a party commitment and every single Democrat lined up against McCarthy.

Censure was by a three-fourths vote, 67 to 22. For censure were 45 Democrats (including Morse of Oregon, then an independent) and 22 Republicans; against censure, 22 Republicans. Two more Democrats were paired for censure, two more Republicans against it. (McCarthy voted "present.")

Well, Republican Senators up for re-electoin this year voted about the same way on McCarthy as those who aren't up until 1958 or 1960—that is, half one way and half the other. Of 14 up this year seven voted for censure, seven voted against censure.

All in all, then, any fear of the voters in 1956 that might have dictated individual Senate votes on McCarthy in 1954 seems to have had more a regional than a national basis. And present indications are that McCarthy will be little of an issue in November even in those areas where he was very much an issue in December 1954.

FDA Agents Still Uncover Big Number Of Racketeers In The Food Business

By ROGER GREENE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) — In 1202 A.D., King John of England decreed that any baker who cheated on weight should be "drawn upon a hurdle . . . through the streets which are most dirty, the false loaf hanging from his neck."

Today cheating in food is still big business.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration says ruthless chiselers are robbing the American public of millions of dollars a year by outright swindles and high-pressure scare tactics.

Most established firms are scrupulously honest: Nevertheless, the situation is serious enough to keep FDA field agents working overtime from coast to coast.

Was that pepper you sprinkled on your breakfast eggs this morning? The FDA has found instances of pepper mixed with cheap grains of paradise, the pungent seeds of a West African plant.

Did a turkey ever shrink like a snowball in July a few minutes after you popped it into the oven.

FDA inspectors not long ago tracked down a gang of Chicago racketeers using a novel method of "force feeding" freshly killed turkeys — with water. They took a king-size hypodermic needle, hooked it up to a garden hose, turned on the water and gave each bird four hefty "shots" just before quick-freezing them for market.

The treatment magically transformed skinny birds into plump beauties. Housewives who bought them paid 69 cents a pound for two extra pounds of water injected into the meat.

Other recent examples of cheating turned up by FDA sleuths included bootleg butter padded with oleomargarine, green-dyed corn mixed with coffee beans, and cheap fish misbranded as expensive varieties.

Even worse than such brazen frauds, as viewed by FDA officials, is a class of diet-fad promoters and self-styled nutritionists who attempt to frighten consumers into believing that the United States — the best-fed country in the world — is suffering from widespread malnutrition.

"The meanest of all in the parade of rascals is the health-food faker who makes false claims of nutrient or thereapeutic value for his product," says Frank A. Vorhes Jr., director of the FDA's Food Division.

"At exorbitant prices, common mixtures of vitamins and minerals, virtuous enough in their own limited right, are peddled as boons to mankind, and worthless nostrums are extolled as life savers."

FDA officials estimate that Americans spend half a billion dollars a year on food additives, phony medicines and therapeutic devices they don't need.

Altogether, the FDA rides herd on 65 billion dollars worth of products a year. Its total budget for fiscal 1957 is $6,700,000.

Pinched for funds by a Congress which allows it only 4 cents per capita to safeguard the nation's health — whereas Canada spends 10 cents per capita — the FDA can make only token forays against another and growing menace.

This is the legion of charlatans and medical quacks who peddle phony "uranium" blankets, "cosmic ray" lockets, "atomic" health machines and a host of other devices labeled as sure-fire remedies for everything from black widow spider bite to cancer.

"Quackery kills untold numbers of Americans every day," says Wallace F. Janssen, assistant to FDA Commissioner George P. Larrick.

"A quack cancer clinic treated more than 6,000 patients in two years. As medicine, it used an alleged 'secret formula' which we analyzed as-containing prickly ash bark, red clover blossoms and cascara — utterly worthless for curing cancer."

Builders, Bankers Differ On Effect Of Easier Credit

NEW YORK (AP)—Builders and bankers are sharply divided today on which would revive the home building boom: easier credit or cheaper money?

The government is making it a little easier for folk to swing a deal for the cheaper houses. But some builders doubt that it will cause many more homes to rise.

They contend that mortgage interest rates will have to be hiked if home buyers are to find funds in this tight money market to close the deal.

The light pump priming by Washington led some stock traders to believe other relaxations were on the way—particularly the much talked of lowering of bank reserves to make more money available to borrowers.

On the chance that the authorities were in a mood to let the inflation camel get its nose under the tent again—so goes the story in Wall Street—some traders bid up stock prices Friday. When this possibility looked dimmer Monday stock prices eased again.

Home builders have been the loudest in complaining about tight money, with small businessmen runners-up. Housing starts this year are trailing last by 200,000. Builders insist there is still a big demand for new homes, but that it's getting harder all the time to find investment funds for the mortgages.

Interest on those backed by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration is fixed at 4½ per cent. Builders note that people can get more for their money on other investments. Builders want Congress to raise the limit on these mortgage terms and say that otherwise home building will continue to trail.

Some bankers question this, thinking the slowdown in building is more likely due to increased building costs and to less demand for smaller homes. They stress that the trend this year is toward larger and more costly houses.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

RACHEL CADE. By Charles Mercer. Putnam.

The best way to show what kind of a novel this is will be to list the opening events:

Medical missionary Rachel flees a hospital where a doctor, despite the presence of his family, madly wants her for mistress; in remote Dibela, her Belgian Congo refuge, the man she is due to help dies the moment she arrives, leaving her in charge; tribesmen blame his death on his vain attempt to climb the Mountains of the Moon, which they regard as the inviolable stronghold of their gods; the medicine man puts a death charm by her cot, wishing her the worst; a native mob threatens her; she cuts out a boy's appendix; as a gesture to convince the blacks, she sets out to climb the mountains herself.

That is on page 77, only a quarter of the way through this Literary Guild selection, this upcoming movie, this third novel by one of my fellow Associated Press writers to whom all of us in the office now doff our hats and say "sir" since this one book at one fell stroke makes him $200,000 richer than we are.

It is justly a quarter-million dollar beek, too, for all its ingredients appeal to that immeasurably large audience that like action. It does not have to be new and different action, either; indeed too much newness and novelty might cost the book some readers as this author knows as well as anyone.

For me the best character is Lecomte; the best passages describe the African setting; and the best test of the earnestness of Mercer the writer lies in the sincerity of the religious feeling.

"I DON'T THINK BUCKLEY TAKES HIS JOB SERIOUSLY ENOUGH!"

Those Dealing With Middle East Problem Fail To Produce Forward-Looking Policy

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Among those who are dealing responsibly with the Middle East, no one in the West, I think it is fair to say, has as yet been able to expound a policy which looks ahead. Few will deny that a new relationship will have to be worked out with the Arab states, and that for the Western nations there lies ahead, as in Suez, a period when they will have to renegotiate many vested interests. But as to what the new relationship can and should become, as to how it is to be brought about, there is as yet no policy, indeed little more than a series of rearguard actions.

It would not be too difficult to define a new policy if the problem in the Middle Eastern countries were solely and simply how to end colonialism, how to liquidate imperial rule and to acknowledge their sovereign independence. Britain has shown in India, Pakistan, Burma and Ceylon that this problem is soluble. We have shown it in Cuba and in the Philippines.

• • •

The great complication in the Middle East is that it is not only the Western imperial power which is being liquidated. There is also being liquidated the old social order of the Arab Islamic society, and with it the native ruling classes. Because of this internal revolution within Arab society, the governments which are falling heir to the liquidated impires are as yet weak, unstable and unreliable. This makes it almost impossible to negotiate with them on the lines of a broad and far-reaching policy.

A broad policy with Egypt would mean a negotiated peace in Palestion of the Aswan Dam, would mean a negotieated peace in Palestine, and would mean a modernization of the Suez arrangements in order to liquidate the remnants of nineteenth-century imperialism, as represented by the old Suez Company. But the revolutionary government of Col. Nasser is too weak, too unstable emotionally and too reckless to play its part in such a policy.

• • •

The difficulty in forming the policy of a new relationship with the Middle East is not in how to describe and define its principles. They are well known and they have been put into practice elsewhere. The practical difficulty is, first of all, to identify the new ruling class with whom the new relationship must be worked out. In some countries this new ruling class, though it is in the making, has not yet come to the surface. Then, there is the practical difficulty of dealing with the new rulers, in view of their strong bias against the West and their predilection for the ideal theory - they know little of its reality - of the Soviet form of government.

There is, says Mr. W. Z. Laquer in his deeply informed book, "Communism and Nationalism in the Middle East", a "powerful fascination which Soviet society exercises on ... the managerial class ... in the Middle East. The turn of events ... has shown them that in the Soviet world the technical intelligentsia is one of the privileged classes and that its privileges are likely to continue, is not actually to increase, in the future."

• • •

The West, Mr. Laqueur goes on to say, "has suggested various reforms such as Point Four, which may bring economic relief to the masses and may be welcomed by them in accordance with their interests. But they are hardly apt to catch the imagination of the key group, the intelligentsia. The Communists, on the other hand, turn almost exclusively to the intelligentsia." They appeal not to the great masses who are quite unready for political power but to the new ruling class. They are proposing to them a plan of economic much quicker results than anything we can propose, and with it all the privileges of supreme personal power for themselves.

• • •

The Middle East is a classic example of being able to know what ought to be done without being able, at least as yet, to know how it can be done. What ought to be done is to establish effective communication between the Western world and the intellectuals of the Arab world. This is easier said than done. But surely they are headed in the right direction who are seeking direct personal contact and what is called "cultural exchanges" with the educated classes in the Arab world.

There's Pie In The Sky, No Matter How You Vote

By INEZ ROBB

Hallelujah! Happy land! There's pie in the sky, brethren, and not in the by-and-by, either. If we can just hang on until November 7, there's a first-class reservation for all of us on the gravy train.

Doesn't make, any difference which party wins the election, the voter can't lose. The giant giveaway, sponsored by both major parties, is in the works. It was probably inevitable that the Republicans and the Democrats, taking a leaf from television, should eventually sponsor the big, economy-size national giveaway.

In this new heaven on earth, promised by both parties, every citizen from cradle to cremation will have a stake in the $64 billion — or is it trillion? — dollar prize.

Ah! That mine eyes should see the glory of an age graced by the four-day work week, three teevee sets in every home, two convertibles in every garage, sirloins in the freezer and an old age that is a glorified cross between Tommy Manville's and the late Mistinguette's!

At long last the famous words of Rabbi Ben Ezra begin to make sense:

"Grow old along with me!
The best is yet to be,
The last of life, for which the first was made."

For the nation's senior citizens, the Democrats promise the life of Riley with parsley trim. They have guaranteed everything but the abolition of rheumatism, and they're working on that, plus a face-lift every third year for the senior citizeness. Mink coats are a party specialty and can be taken for granted.

I can only speak for myself, but there's nothing wrong with me that old age and perpetual care can't cure.

At the moment, the Republicans have a slight jump on the Democrats in that the GOP isn't going to make us wait until age has palsied the hand and dimmed the eye before it distributes its goodies.

That four-day week, those three teevee sets, the two cars (and the one tax bill) are just around the corner. (What? You don't like teevee? Come the Republican revolution, son, you'll look at Howdy-Doody and like it!)

Between them, the Republican and Democratic parties have made a pikes out of Francis Everett Townsend, who launched amid jeers and sneers the Townsend Plan almost 25 years ago. The Dems and the GOP have robbed Doc Townsend blind, multiplied the stakes far beyond Doc's dreams and endowed it with sanctimonious respectability.

On the morning of November 7 I aim to hang up my pick and shovel, serene in the knowledge that one party or the other henceforth will support me in a de luxe manner to which I can become accustomed with a little effort and bicarb on my part.

What a life! In the future, if you can't take it with you, why go?

Los Angeles Smog Control Chief Has A Tough Chore

By BILL BECKER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1 (AP) — You think you have problems? Stop a while and shed a tear for—and with—Smoggy Smith Griswold.

S. Smith Griswold — that initial "S" really stands for Samuel, which he never uses — is perhaps the most cussed and discussed man in Los Angeles.

As smog control chief for the past year and a half, Griswold has been badgering local industry, auto manufacturers and the trash-burning public into some semblance of cooperation with smog laws.

Progress of a sort is being made. As of Sept. 1 only five smog experts had been called this year, as compared with 15 during 1955.

"This is not a problem that will be licked this year or next, or even in 10 years," Griswold insists. He has consistently hammered the point that there is more smog than meets the eye.

And to drive it home he recently became the city's first human guinea pig.

The result? Smoggy Smith hates the grisly crud—his own word for the stuff—worse than ever. He's convinced that it can be downright sickening—and it's got to go before he does.

Thus far Griswold has managed to clamp tighter smoke restfictions on existing industry and almost complete control over new plants.

Control expenditures, overall, have risen from $122,000 in 1948 to 4 million dollars in fiscal 1956-57.

Main reason: Industrial plants continue to spring up. There are now 16,000 in Los Angeles County and at the present rate of expansion, there will be 25,000 by 1970.

Plus automobiles. The county has some 2,700,000 vehicles — one for every two citizens — the greatest concentration of fume-producing buggies in the world.

Griswold's goals for 1957 include putting a $15 carburetor device on each new or resold car in the county. More efficient combustion of fuel will decrease fumes, tests show.

Another Griswold goal is a million dollar laboratory for the research necessary to develop scientific proof against smog violators in courts and also to define the "types of crud" — contaminants, that is — qas required in regulations.

WASHINGTON LETTER

School Tours Offering Close-Up Of Government

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — "Appointment in Washington," a new program offering a close-up of government in action as a unique educational project, is being promoted by the city fathers for touring high school students.

The new project, modeled on a pilot operation successfully worked out last spring, is directed especially to junior and senior high school undergraduates who would be encouraged to visit their nation's capital during the fall and mid - semester seasons. Material gained from their first-hand experiences and interviews with top agency heads could be used for term papers and classroom discussion.

The Greater National Capital Committee, which arranged government orientation tours, with 10 top cabinet officials setting aside specific days to meet the groups and guide them on tours through their agencies, says most of the half-million students who cram the city each spring are seniors about to graduate and whose academic term is almost over.

"We're attempting to sell school principals, teachers and parents on the idea of fall and mid-year three-day tours," a GNCC official told me. "We've supplied advance material already to some 15,000 high schools. Buses and airlines are working with us. The plan ought to be a great success. Ninety per cent of the educators are in favor of it."

In January Congress will be in session, and members from the students' home districts will be asked to show them through the Capitol building to let them "get the feel" of history in the making by sitting in the wells of the House and Senate.

This "extension of the classroom to Washington" has been long sought by teachers, civic leaders and students themselves.

Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, who participated in last spring's program, says that "giving these young visitors a broader insight into the conduct of public affairs here in the nation's capital will pay large and better citizenship-dividends in years to come."

Hollywood Today

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Can you imagine spending 24 hours a day with your mate, week in and week out?

Probably not. It seems impossible for any two human beings to get along together without being apart some of the time.

Yet Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich do it. They not only get along, but have won a Pulitzer Price for playwrighting and have a fabulous string of screen play successes.

The Hacketts are the authors of "Diary of Anne Frank," which won the Pulitzer nod for 1956 and is still playing to packed houses in New York. Their film credits stretch from here to Catalina, including such nifties as "Naughty Marietta," The Thin Man seresi, "Ah, Wilderness," "Easter Parade," "It's a Wonderful Life," "Father of the Bride," etc., etc. They just returned from France, where they researched their next script, the film version of Francoise Sagan's book, "A Certain Smile."

The Hacketts live in a roomy house in fashionable Bel-Air, a tribute to their financial accomplishments. They greeted me at the door, Hackett an earnest man with a grey crewcut, and his wife, equally earnest and with a handsome head of red hair.

I asked them how they managed to get along so well.

"I don't suppose we would be able to do it unless we worked together," she remerked. "We love our work and are stimulated by it. Besides, I have a great respect for the talents of Mr. Hackett."

Her husband picked up the cue. "And I have a great respect for the talents of Mrs. Hack—I mean Miss Goodrich," he said.

This collaboration has been going on since the early '30s. Both acted on the New York stage with some success. They decided to try writing plays together but didn't click until the third try, "Up Pops The Devil" in 1931.

"We got married after it proved a hit," said Hackett. "After all, we had to see if the collaboration was going to take."

It did. From then on they were the thoroughbreds of the MGM writing stable, leaving "about every 10 years" to do a play. One occasion for an absence was when they had nervous breakdowns. They do everything together.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

TWELVE WINS IN thirteen starts is a mighty fine beginning for our five schoolboy grid teams here.

The Tiger Freshmen finally were defeated last week for the lone defeat suffered by a local team to date. The Freshmen lost a toughie to Big Spring Frosh, 26-13, to leave their record at 2-1 for the season.

The other four teams are unbeaten going into October. The Tigers, of course, are 3-0 for the season. Then the 7th Grade has a 3-0 record and the 8th Grade and Tiger "B" team each owns a 2-0 mark.

That 12-1 mark by our schoolboy teams is a percentage mark of .923. Keep up the good work fellows.

Tommy Hart, Big Spring scribe, wasn't around Friday night when the Tigers whipped his Steers, 39-0. It seems that Tommy ventured up into Oklahoma to witness another slaughter — the Sooners' 36-0 drubbing of North Carolina.

Tommy; perhaps saw the Tiger rout coming up and he wanted to get as far away from the scene of battle as he possibly could.

Hart, however, picked Big Spring to win the game. But we doubt that he was serious in his prediction.

New Stadium Big Asset To Big Spring

Big Spring should be justly proud of its new football stadium. It's one of the nicest grid plants in West Texas.

We're sure it was more or less the dedication of the new stadium that was responsible for it, but Big Spring surprised us in turning out in such large numbers for Friday's game.

There must have been 5,000 Big Springers on hand plus the 1,500 or so who followed the Tigers over from here. And this despite the fact the Steers were winless going into the game.

It's true that it souldn't make any difference whether a team is winning or losing — the fans should still back the home team. But it's only human nature that fans don't rally behind a losing team.

This fellow Wayne Fields (No. 31) of Big Spring is only a sophomore. Fields displayed a lot of power running in Friday's game and was his team's leading ground gainer.

Fields may make fans forget Frosty Robinson and J. C. Armstead before he graduates. Robinson, incidentally, a star on Big Spring's state finalist team in 1954, is now at SMU.

SMU Still Surprise Team Of '56

So far, SMU has made "monkeys" out of the state's sports writers and telecasters. SMU, you'll recall, was picked to wind up in the SWC cellar in the pre-season poll.

The Mustangs may yet wind up in the SWC dungeon but in the first two games of the season, the Methodists haven't done nothing but knock off mighty Notre Dame, 19-13, and held another national power, Georgia Tech, to a two-point decision, losing to Tech 9-7.

In the pre-season national poll, Notre Dame was ranked third in the country and Georgia Tech fourth.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who yesterday clinched the National League flag for the second straight year, should "cut" the St. Louis Cardinals in on quite a share of the World Series money.

During the season the Cardinals virtually "played dead" when they met the Broks, losing 17 of 22 to the Bums. Many of these decisions were handed to the Dodgers on Cardinal errors.

Then, to top it off, the Cards again came to the Dodgers' "rescue" over the weekend, disposing of Milwaukee in two games that knocked the Braves out of the pennant.

3 Undefeated Teams Left In Border Loop

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — The high and the low—Arizona State at Tempe and New Mexico A&M—open Border Conference competition this weekend.

Tempe, with two victories, is one of three undefeated teams in the six-member conference. The Aggies have gone out three times and have yet to bring back a win. Tempe took a 27-7 victory Saturday from a rugged North Texas State team while the Aggies were losing, 32-7, to California Poly.

The most thorough victory of the five by Border Conference teams was that of Arizona over South Dakota State, 60-0. Ace back Art Luppino, hampered by injuries since the Arizona opener, scored two touchdowns and kicked two goals.

Arizona will meet Utah State, which dropped a Skyline Conference game to New Mexico 27-19.

Texas Western plays New Mexico. The third undefeated team, West Texas State, will rest.

Hardin-Simmons, which took a 20-7 victory from Wichita, will play George Washington.

Series Is New To 4 Yankees

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

The Yankees have 27 players eligible for the 1956 World Series but for only four will the Series be a new experience.

They are Billy Hunter, Maurice McDermott, Norm Siebern and George Wilson.

Hunter missed the possibility of making the 1955 classic because, while playing for Denver, he fractured his leg late in 1955. The injury precluded the Yankees from recalling him.

McDermott, a southpaw pitcher who has disappointed this year, was obtained in a deal with Washington last February.

Siebern alternated with Elston Howard in left field earlier in the year but because of an injury has not played too much lately. He is a rookie who was brought up from Denver on June 15. Like veteran Billy Martin, Siebern carries a National Defense Service designation, the reason the Yankees are permitted two players more than the 25-man limit in effect at World Series time.

Wilson was obtained from the Giants via Minneapolis on Aug. 22.

Enos Slaughter, who probably will open in left field, is seeing his first Series in a Yankee uniform. He was obtained from Kansas City on Aug. 25.

Slaughter played in the 1942 and 1946 World Series with St. Louis Cardinals. In fact, his dash from first base on Harry Walker's not-too-potent double decided the Johnny Pesky delayed the relay to home plate.

OUT WITH INJURY—Gary Vice, junior halfback for the Tiger gridsters, may be out for the remainder of the season with a broken collarbone, injury in Friday night's game at Big Spring which the Tigers won, 39-0. (Lee Watson photograph)

Broken Collarbone Sidelines Vice

Gary Vice, reserve halfback for the unbeaten Tigers, suffered a broken collar bone in Friday's Tiger victory over Big Spring.

Vice will be out indefinitely, Coach John Conley said this morning, perhaps for the remainder of the season.

Vice was injured in the game when someone fell on him after he had made a tackle.

A junior, Vice had carried the ball only one time but he picked up 49 yards on his lone trip. Vice's 49-yarder came in the Weather-d game.

Four other Tigers are still ailing which is causing a shortage of depth in the Tiger ranks. Definitely out for another week are John Partain, a tackle, knee injury; and John Ward, an end, broken foot.

Dewayne Overman, a guard, and end Dwayne Merritt, who missed Friday's game at Big Spring, may return to action this week. Overman has a knee injury and Merritt a broken finger.

Otherwise, the Tigers are in "good" physical condition.

The Bengals, winner of three straight games, began preparations today for the Levelland Lobos, next Friday's foe. The Tigers will go to Levelland Friday for the game.

Levelland is also unbeaten after coming from behind in the fourth quarter last Friday to subdue the Plainview Bulldogs, 27-14. Plainview led 14-0 going into the final period.

Three other Snyder schoolboy teams will also see action this week. Two will play here Thursday, the 7th graders meeting Hermleigh in a return game, and the Tiger Freshmen meeting South Junior of Abilene.

It will be the Freshmen's first home appearance of the season.

The Tiger "B" will go to Sweetwater Saturday night to round out the week's slate.

Coach Ace Amos' 8th graders will have an open date this week.

Commissioners Give Up Trip For Children

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Flint's nine city commissioners gave up a trip to the Michigan Municipal League meeting so children won't have to pay an extra five cents to swim in the city pools.

The commission turned over $1,350 set aside for the league trip when advised that a deficit in park funds would make it necessary to boost swimming pool fees from 5 to 10 cents.

New Owners Take Control Of Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Eleven businessmen who paid a record $5,500,000 officially took control of the Detroit Tigers today from the Walter O. Briggs family.

The sale, for the largest price ever paid for a baseball company, actually was made in midsummer but official control went to the syndicate today upon delivery of $4,200,000 in cash.

Fred A. Knorr of Detroit and John E. Fetzer of Kalamazoo, Mich., both radio executives, head the syndicate that takes over the Detroit American League franchise, Briggs Stadium, Tiger players and stock in three minor league clubs, and leases on two Florida training sites.

In addition to Knorr and Fetzer, the new owners are William H. McCoy and Harvey R. Hansen of Detroit; Carl E. Lee of Kalamazoo; Paul A. O'Brian of Washington, D. C.; Bing Crosby of Hollywood; Kenyon Brown of Wichita Falls, Tex.; Joseph A. Thomas and Robert F. Woolworth of New York, and George L. Coleman of Miami, Okla.

This group, which must pay off $1,300,000 in notes within five years, takes control of Detroit baseball out of Briggs family hands for the first time since 1920 when Walter O. Briggs, Sr., bought 25 per cent of the Tigers.

He came into full ownership in November, 1935, with the death of Frank J. Navin.

Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, Jr., who became the club's president in 1952 after the death of his father, actually will run the club for the new owners although he is not a member of the purchasing syndicate. After today his official title is vice president in charge of operations.

Knorr is the new president and Fetzer becomes chairman of the board of directors.

The new owners and Briggs say they will name a new field manager after the World Series to replace Stanley R. (Bucky) Harris, who resigned last week. No other personnel changes are anticipated, Fetzer said.

Bums, With Help From Cards Capture National Loop Flag

By The Associated Press

A year older, a lot wearier, but still with the knack of winning the big ones, the Brooklyn Dodgers are champions of the National League today.

It took them right up until the last day to prove it, though. Until two days ago before the windup, they had been counted out.

Last Friday, they were a game behind the Milwaukee Braves. Each had three to go. The Brooks no longer were masters of their own destiny. They needed help from the St. Louis Cardinals, who were playing Milwaukee in the final three-game set.

They also had to win their last three against Pittsburgh. The Cards came through, winning two out of three from the Braves. That was all the Brooks needed. They clubbed the Pirates three times, including yesterday's 8-6 conquest, for a one-game advantage at the end.

The Braves finally licked the Cardinals, 4-2, but it was too late.

Other noteworthy developments of the final day of the season:

1. Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees became the first player since Ted Williams turned the trick in 1947 to win the coveted triple crown—batting, runs-batted-in and home runs.

2. Robin Roberts failed in his quest for his seventh consecutive 20-game winning season.

Mantle batted only once in the Yanks' 10-inning, 7-4 loss to the Boston Red Sox, but he knocked in a run. That gave him a batting average of .353, 130 runs batted in and 52 homers.

The Giants licked Roberts, taking the first game of a doubleheader from Philadelphia, 8-3. The Phillies won the nightcap, 5-2, and in that one Schoendienst collected hit No. 2,000.

Baltimore won a doubleheader from the Senators 4-2 and 6-3. Thirteen Nats fanned in the second game to bring their season total to 877. The previous mark was 863 set by the St. Louis Browns.

In other games, the Cincinnati Redlegs, who finished two games off the NL pace, turned back the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, while in the American League, the Detroit Tigers stopped the Cleveland Indians, 8-4, and the Kansas City A's whipped the Chicago White Sox, 7-6.

Arnold Offensive Leader In SWC

DALLAS (AP) — Charlie Arnold, busy SMU quarterback who left deep passing marks on Notre Dame and Georgia Tech, has taken over the total offense lead in Southwest Conference football.

Arnold bombed Georgia Tech for 172 yards last week to pull ahead of the idle Chuck Curtis of TCU. The Methodist star has rolled up 339 yards passing on 23 completions in 44 throws. He lost 22 yards rushing but his net 317 still topped total offense.

Bruce Matthews of Texas passed for 89 yards against Tulane to go into second place with 281 yards on 48 plays. Curtis, with 225 yards, dropped to third.

Arnold was one of four SMU players taking the lead in Southwest Conference statistics. Charley Jackson kicked for an average of 42 against Georgia Tech to become the punting leader. Lon Slaughter and Tommy Gentry are tied for the lead in pass-receiving, each having snared 7 throws. Slaughter gained 134 yards on his while Gentry got 80.

Ken Wineburg of TCU had 141 yards which kept him in first place in ball carrying. He was a yard ahead of Walter Fondren of Texas, who roamed for 100 yards against Tulane.

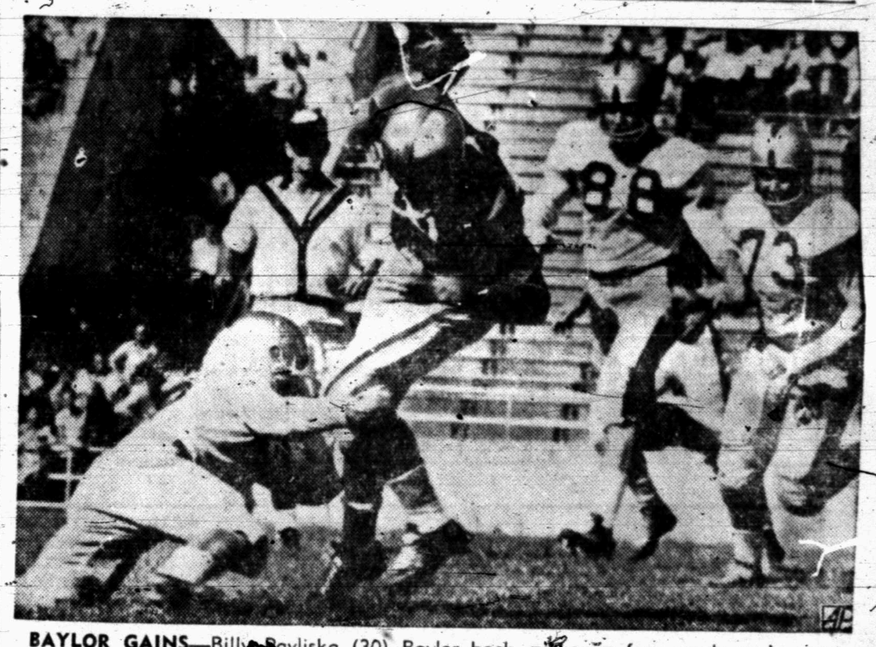
Arnold tops the passers with Matthews second with 284 yards on 17 connections in 30 throws.

TCU, with an average of 350 yards per game, is the offensive team leader. The Frogs also top defense with an average of 143 yards given up. Texas is second in offense with 350 per game and Rice is second in defense with 232 yards allowed.

Maglie, Ford Due To Start

BROOKLYN (AP) — Sal Maglie, Brooklyn's bearded Cinderella man, and Whitey Ford, New York's brilliant southpaw ace, were regarded today as almost certain starters for the World Series when the champion Dodgers and Yankees renew their rivalry at Ebbets Field Wednesday.

The Dodgers yesterday earned the right to meet the Yankees for the seventh time in 16 years by capturing the National League pennant on the last day of the season with a hard-earned 8-6 triumph over Pittsburgh. The Yanks, who had whipped the Dodgers in all six series clashes until the Brooks turned the tables last year, clinched the American League championship September 18.



BAYLOR GAINS—Billy Bavliska (30) Baylor back, picks up four yards as he goes around right end in the second quarter of the Texas Tech-Baylor game at Waco before being downed by Floyd Hood (66) Tech guard. Coming in to aid in the play are Pat Hartsfield (88) end and Phil Williams (73) tackle, both of Texas Tech.

Longer And Lower Fords Developed

DETROIT (AP) — New Ford cars, on dealer display Wednesday, will be longer, and lower and will be presented in two basic sizes, the Fairlane and Custom. There will also be a station wagon series. Ford says it cost 209 million dollars to develop the new models.

Styling changes include wide hooded headlights, forward slanting grille, windshield wrapping farther around the sides and distinctive rear fender fins slanting slightly outward to emphasize the contoured sides.

Introduction of the new cars will mark the first time in Ford's 53-year history that two sizes of Ford cars have been produced. There will be 19 models. The Fairlane series has been expanded to include the "Fairlane 500" models with extraluxury features.

With an over-all lenghty of 207.7 inches and a height of 56.2 inches, the Fairland and Fairlane 500 sedans are 9 inches longer and 4 inches lower than the comparable 1956 models. Custom and Custom 300 sedans have an over-all length of 201.6 inches and a height of 57.1 inches, making them more than 3 inches longer and nearly 3½ inches lower than the 1956 models.

Station wagons at 203.5 inches long and 58.6 inches high are nearly six inches longer and 3½ inches lower.

Frames on the several models have been extended to the sides of the car, permitting the floor to be lowered inside the frame rails. Thus, Ford says, there is no sacrifice of headroom inside the car.

An innovation for 1957 is availability as an extra-cost option of a high performance V-8, 245 horsepower engine. The engine called the Thunderbird Special, is equipped with a four-barrel carburetor and has a 9.7 to 1 compression ratio.

Standard engine for the Fairlane and station wagon series is the 212 horsepower Thunder V-8. It has 9.1 to 1 compression ratio. The 144-horsepower, six-cylinder engine will be available on all models. Compression is 8.6 to 1.

All models have independent ball joint front suspension, longitudinal semi-electrical rear springs, 12 volt ignition, 20-gallon fuel tank and 11 inch brake diameter. Wheels are 14 inches in diameter, one inch smaller than on the 1956 models.

Special side mouldings and ornamentation are used to distinguish each of the 1957 sereis of cars. Safety features, introduced in 1956 have been improved. A new safety instrument panel has recessed control knobs clustered under a redesigned deep center steering wheel.

Rotary Drilling On Even Level

Rotary drilling activity in the Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico continued on an even level during the period between Sept. 10 and 25 according to the latest semi-monthly survey of Reed Rooler Bit Co.

The region had 539 active units on the later date as compared with 537 on the first check during the month for a net gain of two rigs.

The Sept. 25 total of 539 rigs was up seven from the 537 which were operating in the two-state area on the same date, in 1955.

Lea County, New Mexico, continued to hold the lead on the latest survey, with 80 rigs. On Sept. 10 that county had 83 strings of tools operating.

Andrews County in second place had a jump of 10 — from 57 to 67.

Primary Poll Being Made

AUSTIN (AP) — State Democratic Chairman James Blundell said today the state committee was polling county and precinct chairman for their views about primaries to nominate a successor to Sen. Price Daniel.

Blundell said "legal studies have confirmed the authority of the committee to call primary elections to select a Democrat nominee for the forthcoming special Senate election.

"Depending upon the state of the special election and replies received from Democratic party officials the executive committee will no doubt decide at its first meeting on Oct. 4 whether or not to proceed with party primaries."

Blundell made public a brief prepared by Gaynor Kendall of Austin, former assistant attorney general.

"Kendall advised that in his opinion both (Democratic primaries) are clearly authorized under Texas statutes and that they can be held if the date of the special election allows sufficient time for the primaries to be completed, and if sufficient volunteer election workers can be obtained to make the primaries financially possible," Blundell said.

Republican candidate Thad Hutcheson of Houston threatened Saturday to sue to get the special Senate election held Nov. 6.

Daniel offered his resignation Thursday, effective Jan. 15, or earlier when a successor is elected. Gov. Shivers acknowledged the resignation but delayed calling a special election until getting legal advice concerning Daniel's resignation at a future date.

Blundell's letter said:

"Under the law used by Daniel for his resignation, the governor is required to call a special election for not less than 20 nor more than 90 days after acceptance of the resignation. It could be called on general election day, Nov. 6, which would make primaries impossible. But Kendall pointed out in his brief that if the special election is held as late as Dec. 15, there would be sufficient time for both a first and second primary to name a Democratic candidate for the special election.

No Talk Of Desegregation Is Heard Here

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The The nation's only all-Negro medical college, founded on a white man's gratitude and generosity, is one place of learning where you don't hear any talk of desegregation.

Meharry Medical College, which grew from a one-room cabin into a school whose influence is felt on five continents, has produced over half the Negro doctors and dentists in the United States.

"It is a remarkable example of interracial cooperation," says Dr. H. D. West, Meharry's fifth president and the first Negro to hold the office. "Meharry has had a biracial faculty ever since it began in 1876. The present ratio is 60 per cent Negro and 40 white," he added.

Although no white students have enrolled at Meharry, Dr. West is quick to point out that there is no rule to prevent their doing so. He adds a number have applied in recent years but none has been found qualified.

Dr. West prefers to keep the enrollment, currently limited to 472, all Negro for the foreseeable future. "That's the purpose for which Meharry was established," he explains.

CANYON ELECTRIC—Methods of how to "live better electrically" are part of the free service offered by Canyon Electric, above, which is located across Twenty-sixth Street from the city hall. "Almost all modern conveniences which are being introduced today are electrical in nature and are constantly necessitating greater use of electricity," Dick Watson, owner, said. "Ample wiring in your house is the secret to dependable service from the many new electrical appliances most homes have recently added," he added. (Lee Watson photograph)

Canyon Electric Gives Home Tips

If your home just doesn't seem to have enough living space for the whole family, it might be a good idea to begin your plan for better living in the sleeping area.

Today's well-planned bedroom can double as a living room, sitting room, study or children's playroom.

Thanks to electrical living, your sleeping area can be comfortably warm or restfully cool every hour of the day. It can give every member of your family welcome privacy — for his or her own hobbies, for homework, or just for relaxation with a favorite book, record, radio, or television program.

Dick Watson, owner of Canyon Electric, located across Twenty-sixth Street from the city hall, said "when you're planning your bedrooms for extra comfort and living space, remember the advantages of modern, well-designed bathrooms. Proper lighting and a wise choice of electrical equipment can make your bathroom a center for health and beauty."

"There used to be no doubt about it — certain parts of the house were service areas, other parts were for living. In the service areas furnaces were stoked, laundry was scrubbed, and even outdoor space became service area when the weather was right for hanging out laundry.

"In today's homes, however, it's getting harder and harder to tell service areas from living areas. As electrical equipment takes over more jobs — controlling your indoor climate, supplying hot water, washing and drying laundry — the emphasis is on the service, not the area.

"If there is a basement, it's become a clean, comfortable family room. Utility rooms are doubling as play rooms, or conveniently merging with the kitchen. And there's hardly a room in your home, from attic to bathroom, that can't be equipped to give you more living value than ever.

"In all cases be sure that you plan for adequate wiring," he said.

Canyon Electric is a dependable electrical contractor who will help determine your needs, and will make sure that you have enough branch circuits to accommodate enough switches and outlets conveniently located.

Swift Firm Is Resuming Operations

CHICAGO (AP)—Swift & Co. resumed operations today after settlement of a ten-day strike of 25,000 employes.

The big meat packing firm and the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and the United Packinghouse Workers agreed on a new three-year contract Saturday. The strike, which idled 38 plants in 37 cities across the nation, was officially settled yesterday morning.

The pact provides a general wage increase of 25 cents an hour over two years of the three-year contract. Ten cents is to be paid at once, 7½ cents on Sept. 1, 1957 and another 7½ cents Sept. 1, 1958. The company did not accede to the union demand for a union shop.

The provisions follow the pattern set in contracts signed earlier last week with other major packers. The other firms were not struck. Swift said:

"We are gratified that this agreement has been reached, thus avoiding hardships of a more prolonged strike which would affect 25,000 employes and their families as well as livestock producers, retailers and consumers of the nation.

The unions said: "Since the strike began Swift has been obliged to improve its offer in 19 important areas. Among these are greater wage increases, improved sick pay benefits, separation pay for technologically employed, special raises for hundreds of jobs to eliminate inequities, reduction of geographical wage differentials and improved vacations."

The contract provides for immediate increases in scales for certain job classifications, raising some workers' pay as much as 22½ cents an hour.

Feed Stack Catches Fire

The Snyder fire department and volunteers and neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Browning were able to prevent complete destruction by fire of a feed stack at the Browning farm near Fluvanna yesterday afternoon.

Considerable damage was done to the feed, but Browning said quick work of the fire fighters saved much of the feed.

"We wish to express appreciation and thanks to all the neighbors and friends, the Snyder fire department and Snyder's volunteer firemen for the quick services they gave," Browning said.

The fire department also was called late Saturday afternoon to a grass fire near Dermott. No damage was done by the grass fire, however, D. A. Porter, fire chief, said.

BELLS FLOWER SHOP provides unusual decorative floral arrangements like the one above made up Saturday for dedication ceremonies at the new Martha Ann Women's Club building dedicated at 3 o'clock yesterday. Lucy Blacksher and Roland Bell, Jr., are shown completing the styrafoam ship. (Lee Watson photograph)

Club Is Decorated By Bell's Flowers

Snyder specialists in making a special occision look like one, are members of the staff at Bell's Flower Shop, 804 Twenty-fifth Street.

Proff of that was given yesterday at the formal opening of the Mary Ann Woman's Club. Bell's did the floral decoration for that occasion, using bouquets and arrangements tailored to the design, setting, and color harmony of the various rooms.

An example was in the foyer of the clubhouse, where the firm used an arrangement which included a steamboat and a theme of "oceans of best wishes," with the beautiful bird of paradise flowers.

That type flower, plus such as anthuriums, crimson pocket mums and bronze Fuji mums were included in arrangements and bouquets throughout the clubhouse. In the northeast clubroom was a driftwood Japanese arrangement with a garden club theme. Wrought iron baskets were used for the various bouquets in the clubhouse.

Bell's can help plan the flower decoration for any special occasion and will take care of all the details involved. Some residents will be planning Halloween parties soon, and Bell's can aid in making plans for flower decorations for any of these parties, large or small.

"At this time of year, may residents, and especially the teenagers, think of mum corsages for football games and parties. That is another Bell specialty. Bell's uses the large mums about five inches in diameter. They are in yellow, white, and bronze, and Bell's can decorate them for school colors, using miniature footballs or letters for trimming.

These corsages are much in demand at this time of year, and Bell's Flower Shop can handle orders rapidly.

Driftwood planters are becoming popular now, and because of this Bell's has a new stock of planters of this type, as well as many others in varying sizes and types. The driftwood planters are especially desirable for autumn arrangements.

Autumn foiliage, used with chrysanthemums in corsages and with fall flower arrangements, is popular now, and Bell's keeps in good supply of these items in demand.

Burgess To Speak At Drilling Meet

DALLAS, Oct. 1. — W. Randolph Burgess, Undersecretary of the Treasury for Monetary Affairs, will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors in Fort Worth, Oct. 9.

The banquet will climax the association's 16th annual meeting, which begins Sunday, Oct. 7 at the Texas Hotel.

In addition to the Treasury official, six oil industry leaders will appear on the AAODC convention program, according to C. J. Davidson, Forth Worth drilling contractor and general chairman of the arrangements committee.

The first general session, Monday afternoon, will hear talks by E. Dale Mount, Harry Bass Drilling Company, Dallas, president of AAODC; and Lt. Gen. E. O. Thompson, Texas Railroad Commissioner, Austin.

Tuesday speakers include A. W. Thompson, vice-president for production, American Petroleum Institute, Houston; and Robert L. Wood, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, Midland, Texas.

Two technical papers will be presented on Tuesday. A new oil-base drilling fluid will be discussed by J. L. Lummus of Stanolind Oil and Gas Company, Tulsa. Turbodrill development will be reviewed by J. H. Thacher, Jr., California, Research Corporation, San Francisco, presenting a paper coauthored by W. R. Postlewaite of Standard Oil Copany of California.

Assisting Davidson on convention arrangements are committee chairman M. G. Rowe, finance; George F. McQueen, housing; H. W. Davidson, program; J. Macon Gardner, registration; LeRoy Menzing, publicity; Mac O. Boring, Sr., luncheons and banquet; Paul Randels, transportation; and Mrs. C. L. Rowan, ladies' entertainment.

Entertainment events include a cocktail party for registered delegates Sunday evening at the Fort Worth Petroleum Club, and a Supliers' Party Monday evening at the Ridgelea Country Club. A luncheon and style show for the ladies is scheduled for noon Tuesday.

Kiwanis Club Is Planning Clothes Drive

The Snyder Kiwanis Club has completed plans to collect used clothing for distribution to underprivileged families during the winter months.

The project, which is handled by the Kiwanis Club's underprivileged children's committee, also will be a part of the club's Christmas program to aid underprivileged families.

Joe Robinson, committee chairman, said suitable storage facilities had been arranged, and that distribution of clothing would be handled by his committee. Persons who wish to contribute used clothing to the project are asked to call Robinson at 3-3441. Arrangements will be made to pick up the clothing, or instructions for delivering contributions may be obtained by calling that number.

The Kiwanis Club distributes food, toys and clothing during the Christmas season each year to underprivileged families. Robinson said demands for clothing, especially for children, had been so great that the committee felt that collections should be started earlier this year. Also, the committee will be able to take care of numerous cases which are called to its attention throughout the shool year if an adequate supply of used clothing is maintained.

Appeals are being made for all types of clothing, especially children's apparel.

Chrysler Has Its Preview

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler, DeSoto, Dodge and Plymouth cars will be lower and wider. They will boast a new suspension system, deep center steering wheels, more pronounced tail fins and dual type headlights.

The design changes are probably the most sweeping in Chrysler history. Some models are four and five inches lower.

Chrysler staged it annual preview today.

The new suspension which Chrysler calls "torsion-aire," combines torsion bar springing in the front, with ball joints for steering ease; anti-dip mountings, longer rear springs set farther apart for greater stability and low pressure tires said to eliminate much road noise and vibration at its source.

A vital part of the system also is complete rubber isolation between wheels and fram to deaden shock and vibration. All lines will use 14-inch wheels with wider tires. "Torsion-aire" is said to bar "nose diving" of the cars when brakes are applied severely and to provide flat, stable cornering.

Duel headlights will be offered by Chrysler and DeSoto in states where legislation permits their use. Some makes will have aluminum grilles, larger windshields and more glass area. Newly designed instrument panels appear.

Hardtop and convertible models in all lines have been lowered as much as five inches; the two-door and four-door sedans are lower by nearly four inches, Plymouth and Dodge models have been widened by nearly four inches.

DeSota is adding a new shorter 122-wheelbase series to be called the "Firesweep." Chrysler will introduce a new economy series Windsor model.

Other additions include Plymouth Suburbans, DeSoto and Dodge station wagons with rear-facing third seats.

Imperial models will have glass side windows that curve with the contour of the car body. Taillights, back-up lights and stop lights extend beyond the soaring tail fins where they are visible from the sides as well as from the rear.

Chrysler's new push-button, three speed automatic transmission is being offered in all lines. It will be standard on some higher price models and optional on others.

Compression ratios in most of the V-8 engines have been raised to as much as 9.25 to 1. Six cylinder engines, available in Dodge and Plymouth models, have 8 to 1 compression ratios.

Plymouth will have two V-8s besides the six. Dodge will have two V-8s, and a six with two barrel carburetor. DeSoto has two V-8s, one for the Firedome and Fireflight series and the other for the new Firesweep.

Chrysler has the V-8 Spitfire and the V-8 Firepower engines. It is used by the New Yorker and Imperial cars.

Painter Falls From Water Tower Sunday

DALLAS (AP) — Hebert Hess, 28, painter who fell 90 feet from a water tower yesterday, said from his hospital bed "I know I'm lucky to be alive."

Hess, working about 10 feet from the top of a 100-foot tall water tower when the ropes of his chair rigging gave way, grabbed the ropes but had to release his hold when his hands were burned.

He struck a steel beam halfway down. The impact broke his fall but knocked him unconscious. The full extent of injuries has not been determined. Attendants said his recovery was doubtful. X-rays showed two broken ribs and partial collapse of both lungs. He suffered possible injury to the spinal cord.

Shot At Tavern

BROWNSVILLE (AP)— Valentine Ayala, 20, was shot yesterday at a tavern. Deputy Sheriff Nem Bryan said he shot Ayala when he resisted arrest and rushed at him with a knife. Ayala's condition was serious.

Pilot Lands To Get Drink In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A strapping young mechanic with an "urge to fly" and a desire for a nightcap dropped in by plane at his favorite tavern in crowded Manhattan early Sunday.

Thomas Fitzpatrick, 26, skillfully piloted a small plane down between rows of apartment houses and made a perfect landing on St. Nicholas Ave. at 191st St. Then he taxied up the darkened street to the tavern.

Police said he reached the bar in time for a short beer before the 3 a.m. closing.

Officers marveled at the flying mechanic's feat. One said the landing was a 100,000-to-1 shot — "almost impossible."

Police said the odds were also against Fitzpatrick's story that engine trouble forced him down in his "borrowed" plane. They suspected a wager was behind the landing.

Sgt. Fitzpatrick was arraigned in felony court on a charge of suspicion of grand larceny. Magistrate Edward J. Chapman set $5,000 bail "as a deterrent to other foolish young men who get drunk and fly a plane."

Police said Fitzpatrick had a license to fly. He is an airplane mechanic and lives in Emerson, N.J.

The plane was dismantled and hauled back to Teterboro.

Bracewell Planning His Campaign Tour

HOUSTON (AP) — A 2,000 mile campaign tour was planned yesterday by Searcy Bracewell, candidate for the U.S. Senate.

He said he would be in Houston and Galveston today and in Coleman, Midland and Amarillo Tuesday. He will open his Panhandle headquarters in Amarillo Wednesday.

It is only about 100 years since most cooking in America was done over open fires.

Runs Of Crude Oil Are Cut By Humble

HOUSTON (AP)—Humble Oil cut crude oil runs to its huge Baytown refinery today by 10,000 barrels a day.

Without explanation, Humble said the runs were being cut from 260,000 to 250,000 barrels.

It was the third such reduction within three days as the industry expressed concern over soaring gasoline stocks, now some 20 million barrels greater than a year ago.

DX Sunray Oil Co. and Continental Oil Co. previously cut runs.

Cogdell Interests

DALLAS, Oct. 1 (AP)—Interests of D. Feldman of Dallas in the Cogdell Field in Scurry and Kent counties, were acquired yesterday by the General American Oil Co. General American paid $8,750,000 for the property, including cash and a reserve production payment.

Newspaper Week To Be Oct. 1 To 8

October 1 to 8 has been proclaimed by Gov. Allan Shivers as Newspaper Week in Texas, tieing in with the national observance.

Commenting on the governor's message to the newspapers, David C. Leavell, president of the Texas Press Association, said today: "Americans, who for many years have enjoyed the highest standard of living in the world, now are enjoying even more luxuries and privileges than ever before. That is why newspaper of the nation have selected, as their National Newspaper Week slogan this year, 'Your Newspaper Freedom's Key to Better Living.'" Leavell is publisher of the Galveston News-Tribune.

In proclaiming the week, Gov. Shivers cited the newspapers of Texas and the "dedicated men and women serving the public as members of the newspaper profession."

"Newspapering is a field to which its workers must be dedicated," Leavell commented, "if they are to do the job which awaits them day after day and week after week. We welcome National Newspaper Week as an opportunity to explain to our readers some of the whys and wherefores of the business which commands that dedication."

The Texas Press Association has provided Texas newspaper with material for the observance, and many newspapers over the state will be holding open house during the week. Leavell urged Texans to visit their local newspaper offices, get acquainted with those who write the news, prepare the advertising, and print their local newspaper.

"No country in the world enjoys the degree of press freedom that we in this country take for granted," he emphasized. "And it is a privilege belonging not to the newspapers but to the people themselves. Only with your interest and support can America's newspapers continue to serve as our key to better living."

Ground Lost By Tobacco

NEW YORK (AP)—Tobacco issues lost ground in early trading today as the stock market showed a slightly lower pattern. Stocks fluctuated to the plus or minus side from fractions to a point. Trading pace slackened.

Tobaccos lost on a news report which anticipated that the American Cancer Society's final repart would definitely link cigarette smoking with lung cancer. Liggett & Myers and American Tobacco dropped 2 points, Reynolds Tobacco B a point.

Losses of about a point were taken by Armoc, Kaiser Aluminum and Aluminium Ltd. United Airlines and Zenith added a point each.

Other gainers included Douglas Aircraft, International Harvester, General Electric and Chrysler.

United Aircraft, New York Central, Republican Steel and Youngstown lost ground.

Union Pacific opened off ½ at 28¼, General Motors off ⅛ at 46⅜, Benguet unchanged at 1⅜, and Standard Oil NJ off ⅜ at 53¼.

Auto Overturns

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Ralph Roblez, 26, of Uvalde, Tex., was killed here yesterday when his car overturned.

HAPPY DAY FOR GRANDPA AND GRANDMA—Mrs. Samuel Zitman kisses attorney Barnet Hodes in corridor outside superior court in Chicago after she and her husband (right) were awarded temporary custody of their granddaughter, Robin Sher. The 5-year-old girl whose parents were both killed in an auto accident last month, seems to be enjoying the scene. Two sets of uncles and aunts also seek custody of the girl whose father left an estate of nearly a million dollars.

IT'S THE '57 "INNER FORD" IN ACTION

Special stretches of tortuous, twisting roads were set aside for testing the 1957 "Inner Ford." The result: A car that hugs a tough road . . . loves a tight turn.

You're seeing why the '57 FORD will take the curve without the pitch

You'll get lots of wonderfully new sensations when you drive the sensationally new Ford!

For instance, what happened to the sway on curves you used to feel in cars?

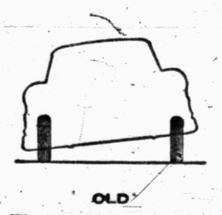
In this new Ford, there's hardly any "tilt" even on tightest turns! Your slightest wish is an instantly obeyed command.

The proved-in-action "Inner Ford" is why!

A new frame that sweeps out between the wheels dips down for a lower center of gravity. New rear springs, mounted outside the frame, give wide-stance steadiness. New steering has a built-in "road sense" for handling that's truly true!

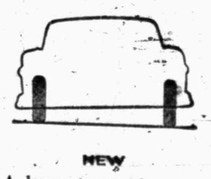
And the way this new Ford takes the bumps! Rough roads are millpond smooth. The new "Inner Ford" has logged thousands of tortuous miles to prove it.

Visit your Ford Dealer Wednesday and see how big, beautiful and powerful a low-priced car can be. Learn how much fun it is to drive a car with all the zip you can ever use . . . that handles like a polo pony. It's a thrill you won't soon forget!



OLD

Time was when cars used to "heel over" . . . tires used to howl, whenever you rounded a sharp curve.



NEW

A lower center of gravity and a host of other new features let the '57 Ford corner as if it were on rails.

Your tomorrow starts with a New Kind of Ford—see it Oct. 3rd.
