'Golf Garbo'

Hollywood notables rushed to put up $10,000 bond for the release of John Monte, the "Garbo of golf" whose extradition on a 7-year-old robbery charge is demanded by New York authorities. His prowess on the golf course, especially when he played against Bing Crosby with garden tools for clubs, led to investigation and his identification as LaVerne Moore.

YOUTH KILLS SALESMAN IN WICHITA FALLS

WICHITA FALLS, July 15 (AP)—District Attorney Howard Martin stated today after investigation into the death of Harry L. Cook of Dallas, brokerage concern salesman shot through the head late Wednesday night by a Wichita woman who believed the man was a prowler, that no charges would be filed.

The district attorney's statement offered no explanation of the man's presence in the neighborhood of the shooting. Friends here and at Dallas, the latter communicating here by telephone, emphasized the high esteem in which Cook was held and conjectured he was trying to locate the residence of an acquaintance.

WICHITA FALLS, July 15 (AP)—The body of Harry Lee Cook of Dallas, salesman for a brokerage concern, fatally shot in the head late last night by a Wichita woman who told assistant district attorney L. V. Abernathy he believed the man was a prowler, was at a morgue here today awaiting funeral arrangements.

Cook was shot once with a 32-caliber automatic as he stood at the side of an apartment house occupied by Joyce Johnson, young filling station manager, and his wife, who had retired. He died almost instantly.

Johnson fired the shot, he told assistant district attorney L. V. Abernathy, after his wife, excitedly, aroused him on seeing the man first at the back porch of their apartment and then at the bedroom window, apparently looking in. Johnson, who usually keeps receipts from the filling station overnight, said he called out to the man but "he didn't move, just kept staring in."

Collins said Cook was to spend the night here after a business call at Stamford Wednesday, and return to Dallas Thursday.

Survivors include a brother, Frank Cook of California, and his mother and a sister.

500 JOBLESS STORM SAN ANTONIO OFFICE

SAN ANTONIO, July 15 (AP)—A crowd of more than 500 unemployed men stormed the WPA work office early this morning demanding that they be interviewed by those taking applications for WPA jobs.

Boys were thrown against the side of the building and against windows as many of the men yelled: "Break down the door! We want work!"

Police were called and formed the crowd into an orderly line and after 40 had been admitted to the building, the others were dispersed without further trouble.

The demonstration came on the heels of the acquittal of Emma Tenayuca, woman leader of the Workers Alliance of America here on a charge of disturbing the peace in connection with a riot on June 29 at the district WPA office.

Russia Warns Japan, Nazis Against Planes

MOSCOW, July 15 (AP)—The communist party newspaper, Pravda, warned Soviet Russia's "enemies" today in easy range of Soviet war planes.

The warning, which pointed out the "significance" of two Soviet non-stop flights from Moscow to the American Pacific coast, was believed by foreign observers to be addressed to Berlin and Tokyo.

Both the Japanese and German capitals lie within 800 miles of Soviet air bases.

"Our industry can produce as many planes as the country needs," Pravda said. "Let this be kept in mind by foreign enemies threatening war."

Grasshoppers Trek From Yards To Downtown Area

The grass hoppers, which according to fable, turned from a bunch of busy horde of workers and earned for themselves the new name of grasshoppers, have moved from residential sections to the downtown business district of Pampa within the past few days.

This exodus from the residential lawns and flower gardens, officials say, is due to the poison war which Pampa residents have been conducting for the last two or three weeks.

The "hopper-grasses" literally are "all over the place" in downtown Pampa.

JURY TO BEGIN DELIBERATING BOWERS TRIAL

The $200,000 lawsuit of Tom Bowers against his three nephews, John, Joe and Aubrey Bowers, was expected to go to the jury late this afternoon in Gray county district court.

Trial of the case has been in progress since Tuesday morning and testimony was completed shortly before noon yesterday and District Judge W. R. Ewing prepared his charge to the jury yesterday afternoon and this morning.

At 11 o'clock this forenoon the court began reading a lengthy charge to the jury, and counsel for both sides planned to present a greater portion of the afternoon arguing the case before the jury.

In the lawsuit, Mr. Bowers is seeking to collect $200,000 which he claims is owed to him by the three Bowers brothers, as heirs to the estate of the late Joe Bowers, Sr., a brother of the plaintiff.

Mr. Bowers contends in the action that the amount is due him for his services as a geologist in the striking of oil on the Bowers lease in Gray county back in 1927. His petition sets forth that his brother promised to pay the plaintiff $200,000 with which to buy a refinery and that the promise never was kept.

The case already has been to the supreme court and back after the first trial ended in district court three years ago in a directed verdict for the defendants.

In the present court proceedings the Bowers brothers are represented by Attorneys Bob Underwood and Bob Wilson, of Amarillo, and Attorney John Sturgeon of Pampa. Mr. Bowers is represented by the Amarillo law firm of Works and Bassett.

Members of the jury are: Edgar Bailey, H. E. Moore, George Reeve, Gertrude Pace, Bill Bailey, Paul Lambert, J. O. Ward, W. K. Hallmark, M. H. Hughes, Park Brunley, and Jess Patton.

Twenty men killed in Indiana mine blast

SULIVAN, Ind., July 15 (AP)—Twenty men were killed today by explosion and fire in the Glendora coal company's Baker mine, north-east of here, Jack O'Gilvie, safety engineer of the Indiana Coal Operators' association, said this afternoon.

Three bodies have been recovered and 17 additional bodies have been piled in a corner of the mine shaft, according to O'Gilvie.

He said the 17 bodies could not be brought out until carbon monoxide gas cleared from the shaft.

Harry Keenan, mine superintendent, said 203 men were in the mine when the explosion occurred and that all except 20 came out alive. Three of those carried out alive were critically injured. Keenan said, and six suffered slight wounds.

SIGNS STALLION BILL

AUSTIN, July 15 (AP)—Governor Allred today signed a bill providing for continued state control of blooded jacks and stallions purchased with proceeds of the repealed horse racing law.

The animals will be leased for $30 a year to caretakers selected by the agriculture commissioner.

MAJOR BREAK IN FIGHT FOR FDR BILL SEEN

BELIEVED THREE URGED PRESIDENT TO WITHDRAW PLAN

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Four first term Democratic Senators discussed the administration court bill with President Roosevelt at the White House today and immediately afterward fees of the measures hinted at a major break in the court fight.

The four Senators—Gillette, of Iowa; Andrews, of Florida; Johnson of Colorado; and Brown of Michigan—refused to say anything more than that they had discussed the court bill with the President.

Reports quickly spread among their colleagues, however, that they had urged the chief executive to withdraw the bill and at least three of them told him flatly they were against it.

At the same time the opposition lined up another publicly committed senator in Maloney, of Connecticut, who said he expected to speak against the measure if debate was resumed.

He made public commitments against the bill 41, with 40 publicly for it, counting Brown who has reported a distance of 6,700 miles to San Jacinto, Calif.

The day's most important development in the court fight, after the death of Majority Leader Robinson of Arkansas yesterday threw the Senate into confusion, came with Senate Democrats divided into two factions fighting for control of the party machinery and the legislative program.

RUSSIANS CLIP 12 TO 23 DAYS OFF TRAVEL TIME IN LONG FLIGHT

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—Soviet Russia's trans-polar airmen clipped anywhere from 12 to 23 days from the normal travel time in their epochal flight from Moscow to San Jacinto, Calif.

Wheeling over the top of the world, the single-motored plane spanned a distance of 6,700 miles in 62 hours and five minutes.

By ordinary travel methods, boat and train, the same trip from the Soviet capital to Southern California would take two weeks on the short route and approximately 25 days the "other way" around the world.

GOVERNOR DEPLORES BLANTON CASE STATUS

AUSTIN, July 15 (AP)—Governor Allred today bemoaned the difficulty of pleasing numerous Rio Grande valley residents in the investigation of the eight-month-old Blanton disappearance mystery.

The chief executive said one objective he had heard was that state investigators had worked in too close cooperation with local officers. He pointed out that some of the men employed on the case by the public safety department had operated independently of local officers.

The governor expressed confidence the mystery would be solved by the regularly constituted officers and "not in the newspapers."

"At least we can't solve it," he said, "through fantastic stories of hidden treasures."

The governor had said yesterday that theories of Louis Lamadrid, Wilkay county special investigator and center of a revival of interest in the case, were "fantastic and conflicting."

CUPID OVERCOME WITH HEAT AT COURTHOUSE

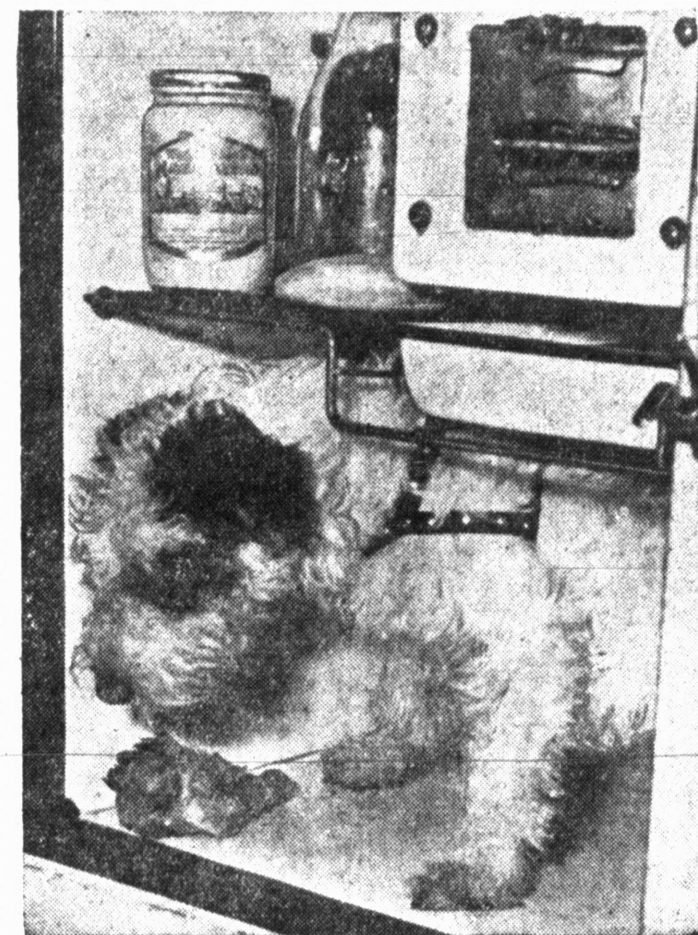

Cupid has been overcome with the heat during the last two days.

Gray county court has been holding to an average of at least one couple a day on the high road to matrimony, but there has been no activity along that line here since Tuesday.

Perhaps the heat has had something to do with it, and Cupid is vacationing under a shade tree somewhere.

"It's possible," was the only comment Miss Ola Gregory, marriage license clerk, had to make relative to the two-day downturn in the marriage market.

Pampa Pooch Picks Bones With Heat

Heat wave days would make Mother Hubbard change that Old Mother Hubbard's name if all the pups in Pampa were like Zero. Hubbard doesn't rhyme with icebox, but that's where she will find the bone as well as Zero, who knows a cool spot to gnaw a bone when he feels it.

FDR Concerned Over Situation In North China

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—White House aides said today that President Roosevelt was so concerned over the far eastern situation that he had given up plans for his usual week-end cruise and would remain in the White House.

The situation developing in Europe over the proposed non-intervention patrol of Spanish waters also was said to have caused the President some anxiety.

He summoned three diplomatic advisers for conferences on international conditions immediately after lunch. They were John Van A. MacMurray, now ambassador to Turkey, but one of the state department's foremost experts on affairs of China, where he was American minister for many years; Norman Davis, American "ambassador at large"; and Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state.

White House attaches said the President had no specific action in mind concerning the international situation but that he was watching developments in the far east and Europe with the greatest anxiety.

The United States government, while refraining from any entanglement in the Sino-Japanese crisis, has urged peace in the Orient.

The British government has made overtures to the United States—believed to be in form of a suggestion that the nine-power treaty nations consult in an effort to achieve a peaceful settlement of the conflict—but Secretary Hull took no action.

Arrest Pastor In Killing Of Church Worker

PARIS, Mo., July 15 (AP)—Prosecutor Attorney Tom Proctor today announced today recovery of $1300 he said presumably had been taken from Mrs. Dennis Kelly, 45-year-old church worker, whose battered body was found late Tuesday floating in the Mississippi river near Louisiana, Mo.

Proctor said the money was taken to the home of Sheriff Russell Wilkes at 2 a. m. today by Miss Myra Hanan, who has made her home here with the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Newton since her childhood.

He quoted Miss Hanan as saying the Rev. Mr. Newton, 51, a northern Missouri Baptist minister for 30 years who yesterday was charged with the slaying of Mrs. Kelly, had given her the money which he described as "valuable papers" Tuesday when he left to officiate at a funeral.

Sheriff Wilkes said Miss Hanan and Noel Newton, son of the accused minister, "admitted burning some women's clothing the son found in his father's car Tuesday night when he drove the machine to Moberly." The son operates an oil station here.

Wilkes said Mrs. Newton, wife of the accused minister, "made a written statement concerning her knowledge of the case," last night. The contents of the statement were not made public, however.

Proctor said "we consider the circumstantial case against the former pastor practically complete with recovery of the $1,900."

FARMER'S CAR DISABLED BY CONVICT TRIO

FARMER CONCEALS KEY AS BANDIT GANG APPROACHES

CHICKASHA, Okla., July 15 (AP)—Three escaped Texas convicts were sought by state and local officers near here today after the felons outdistanced pursuing officers and then disabled a farmer's car with gunfire, when the farmer hid the key.

The convicts, believed led by Pete Traxler, fugitive Oklahoma outlaw, were seen in the vicinity when they purchased gasoline at a store near Bridge Creek. An alarm was sounded.

State and local officers, who sped in pursuit, saw the fugitive trio north of Tuttle, chased the group to Minco and then were outdistanced.

The three fugitives, the officers said, were in a car bearing a Texas license plate which was stolen near Ardmore by a trio identified as the escaped Texas convicts, who fled Eastham prison farm last week.

After outdistancing the officers, the trio raced to a farm south of Minco. There the three found an automobile and waited for Andrew Jackson, owner of the farm and car, to reach the place. A thresher he was operating nearby.

Jackson said he believed the men wanted the car so he dropped the key as he strode toward his home.

When the trio was unable to find the key, Jackson said, the men fired into the motor of his car, disabling it, then sped away in the auto bearing the Texas license plates.

Officers from over southern Oklahoma and state operatives were summoned here for a search of at least a half dozen places officers believe may shelter Traxler and his companions.

Traxler and his two companions, one of them identified as Charlie Chapman, were sought in southeastern Oklahoma last night after three hitch-hikers beat an Indian and robbed him of his car. Search for the trio was suspended today, however, after officers identified the trio hunted near here as the Texas fugitives.

GRASSHOPPERS ROUTE FROM COLORADO SOUGHT

COLORADO SPRINGS, July 15 (AP)—Bug-conscious Coloradans were asked today to be on the lookout for grasshoppers bearing new paint jobs in gold, silver, green, pink and other colors.

State insect experts, in the hopes of determining the route the migratory insects are taking from Colorado's heavily infested regions, are brushing bright colors on the dun wings of the mature insects.

Willis asked anyone observing strangely colored grasshoppers, especially in Colorado's rich north-eastern "sugar bowl" counties where the insects have been increasing the last few days, to notify their county agents immediately.

The destination of the millions of hoppers now growing to maturity on southeastern Colorado range-lands has been one of the big questions marks during the two-week fight.

CITY LAKE SPILLWAY TO BE CUT TOMORROW

Cutting of the spillway at the city lake at Recreational park is scheduled to begin tomorrow morning, it was announced by City Manager C. L. Slime today.

Delay in starting the excavation work was necessary because of inability to secure the large county grader until today. The spillway will be constructed at the east end of the dam. It will be of reinforced concrete.

Dirt moved for the spillway will be used to raise the dam two feet and to construct roads around the lake.

The girl whose beauty is a natural, wholesome variety, the result of regular exercise, adequate sleep and a sensible diet, is almost certain to become more attractive as the years go on.

If her muscles are flexible and her body not overweight, any mature woman will walk with free, easy steps. Her skin, providing she has cleansed and kept up the proper day after day, year after year, may be lined, but it will not be furrowed.

Proper rest and the right food make for sparkling eyes and shiny hair. You simply cannot burn the candle at both ends or eat haphazard meals in a haphazard fashion over a period of years and expect to stay young looking.

Also, it is well to remember about an ounce of prevention being worth a pound of cure. One who brushed her hair every night when she was a little girl, then kept up the routine while she was young, is likely to have healthier, prettier hair at fifty than the woman who never touched a hairbrush until the first gray hairs appeared.

Likewise, it is a mistake to procrastinate about night creams until your skin is lined, wrinkled, and quite dry. Almost every young skin requires a light film of cream after the nightly soap and water cleansing, and all adult faces and throats need one every night. Naturally, the type of cream required depends on the individual, but nightly applications of all astringent variety are as important to oily complexions as rich, nourishing lubricants are to dry ones.

The beauty-minded realizes how important it is to do a few exercises regularly rather than a dozen routines vigorously only now and then. Whether or not you are trying to lose weight, do get into the habit of stretching, in bed and out, when you wake up in the morning. Do deep knee bends to keep legs and waistline muscles flexible. When you walk, step along briskly, holding chest high, stomach in and torso up and away from hipbone sockets.

MODERN MENUS

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX,
NEA Service Staff Writer.

Several readers want a recipe for stuffed tomatoes that is different. Here's this:

Tomatoes With Mushroom and Bacon.

(4 to 6 servings.)

Three firm tomatoes, ½ cup canned mushrooms, 2 slices bacon, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 teaspoon parsley, grated hard cheese.

Chop mushrooms, bacon, parsley very fine. Mix with onion. Cut tomatoes in half. Remove most of the pulp. Fill pockets with mushroom mixture. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Dust with grated cheese. Broil under hot flame for about 10 minutes. Serve with broiled steak.

Ham loaf seems to be another unknown quantity in some kitchens. So here's a way out of that lack:

Veal and Ham Loaf.

(4 to 6 servings.)

One pound ground ham, ½ pound ground pork, ½ pound ground veal, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup bread crumbs, ¾ cup butter, ½ cup minced onion, ½ cup minced celery, ½ cup milk, 1 egg.

Ham, veal and pork should be ground twice by butcher. Brown onion in butter, add milk, add bread crumbs and seasoning to meat. Beat Tomorrow's Menu.

BREAKFAST: Stewed blackberries, dry rice cereal, currant jelly omelet, toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomatoes with mushrooms, whole wheat toast, orange and banana cups, tea, milk.

DINNER: Veal and ham loaf, cheese sauce, buttered beets, boiled potatoes, cucumber and onion salad, raspberry Bavarian cream, coffee, milk.

Eggs into milk mixture, then add to meat mixture and combine well. Pack in buttered bread pan. Arrange strips of bacon over top. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 1½ hours.

And a new way to serve pears? Alice Bradley gives this away in her latest Menu-Cook Book.

Baked Pears With Ice Cream Sauce.

(4 to 6 servings.)

Four pears, 1/3 cup sugar, 1/4 cup water, ice cream. Pare pears, leaving on the stems. Place in baking dish. Cook sugar and water 2 minutes, then pour over pears. Bake until tender in moderate oven. Serve with ice cream beaten thick like custard.

8 INDICTED IN NEW YORK POLICY RACKET

NEW YORK, July 15 (P)—Eight men, indicted as leaders of a $100,000,000-a-year policy racket, were sought today as Special Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey aimed a death blow at what he termed organized crime's largest source of slush fund money.

The eight fugitives and four others were indicted by an extraordinary grand jury yesterday as inheritors of the policy racket of the late Arthur (Dutch Schultz) Flegenheimer, slain in a Newark, N. J., tavern in October, 1935.

One of those indicted was J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, attorney for Schultz and other gangsters. The indictments charged Davis was one of three who directed Schultz's policy racket after his death.

Davis himself, testifying two years ago before Commissioner of Accounts Paul Blanshard, estimated the annual "take" of the policy racket at $500,000,000 a year.

Approximately 24,000,000 tons of limestone are used annually in the United States, chiefly in the smelting of iron ores.

CLERK ROBBED

SAN ANTONIO, July 15 (P)—Two youthful bandits held up Howard A. Lowery, night clerk at a tourist courts, robbed him of $16 and then took him three miles out the Austin highway, but furnished him a stolen automobile in which to return to the city early this morning.

They drove away in another car which was parked on a side road.

Fifty-odd years ago, the annual death rate of New York City was 30 per 1000 of population; today, it is about 12 per 1000.

NOT TOO LATE TO SAVE THE RULE FOR REASON

We have had the age of stone, the age of brass, the age of iron and the age of this, that and the other thing; but when future historians come to write about this particular era in world history, they can hardly do anything else than call it the age of violence.

That is to say that it is a time in which men seem to have given up the old notion that disputes could be settled by reason and compromise. When nerves are overstrained and the old faith in human intelligence is low, it is easier to fall in with fists flying than to sit down and talk things out.

So we have a tortured Europe today, with its incredible war in Spain and its desperate preparations for a bigger and more ruinous war. We have mass executions in Russia, pogroms and concentration camps in Germany, and the rule of strutting might in Italy and lesser lands. And in our own country we have bitter industrial warfare on half a dozen fronts, with armed pickets, vigilante movements, massed troops and all the other distressing features of a regime of unabashed violence.

All of this makes the present a hard time to live through. For it is not so much the fact of violence that is distressing as it is the fact that men resort to it more and more readily. Considering that civilization basically is little more than the development of restraints on man's impulse to violent action, it is not hard to see in this trend an ominous sign that civilization is collapsing.

There would be little point in reciting this, if there were nothing left for us to do but sit resignedly by and wait for full catastrophe. But the point for Americans to remember is that the growth of the age of violence has been much slower on this side of the water than elsewhere. For all our troubles, we are still committed to the non-violent way of life, as exemplified in political democracy and the theory of human equality.

In other words, it is not yet too late for us to turn away from this drift toward the blind belief that might makes right. And we can best do it by reminding ourselves constantly of the fact that continued confidence in our democratic processes is our one and only defense.

For a confidence in democracy is nothing less than a confidence in the inherent decency and sanity of the human race. We rely on majority rule, peaceful persuasion and open debate because we believe that in the long run men have the good sense and the good will to make such things work.

That is why these resorts to violence in our own land are so ominous. To the extent that they take place, that confidence of ours is broken down; and to the extent that it is broken down, the strength of our democracy is lessened. We are a long way from Germany and Russia—but until we insist on peaceful settlements and the rule of reason in place of force, we are headed in the direction of those nations.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON—Every once in a while a city feels it is living a historic moment. Washington had such a feeling as the senate took up the debate on the Supreme Court bill.

Debate in the senate often is not impressive and a spirit of cantankerousness prevails under most circumstances which brings the whole affair down to about the level of an election campaign meeting.

But when the lads withdrew from their Fourth of July celebrating and went to work on the revised court bill, they were tampering with the fundamentals of government—and they knew it.

There are two sides to this court packing business and no matter which side you are on the logic of the opposition hits hard and demands something besides sarcastic flimflams in reply.

Both sides had the good judgement early in the debate to skim off at least part of the slag that has hidden the real metal of the issue. President Roosevelt wants men on the court with a viewpoint different from that which prevailed until a very few months ago.

That much the President or his spokesman have said, repeatedly.

It is the administration contention that the justices, in interpreting acts of congress, have been injecting their own views on what is good policy for the government in spite of constitutional delegation of that authority to congress alone.

The opposition contention is that for congress to permit placing of new members on the court for the obvious purpose of bringing a line of decisions desired by the administration in power would be to invite repeated excursions of such nature. Thus a precedent would be set for congress and the prevailing administration to crown independent court views in a flood of new appointments.

The substitute bill is different from the original principally in that it delays the speed by which new minds could be put on the court.

Just how important the struggle is historically cannot be measured immediately. If opponents of the legislation are right in saying that loss of court prestige is a long step toward the sort of thing prevailing in Italy and Germany, then it is staggeringly important. If the advocates are right in saying the legislation will simply get the court out of a bias against giving the American underdog his share, then again it is important, but perhaps less dramatic.

Either turn is of exciting import, and the senate was sufficiently aware of it to almost forego attending the important all-star baseball game a few blocks distant—and that's somepin'.

Is It Hot Enough For You?

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

ABOARD THE AMERICAN MERCURY—You write this at dusk about 12,000 feet high on a giant sky-scraper somewhere between New York and Texas. . . . There are two doctors aboard. . . . Also a naval doctor, his wife, a theatrical agent, a famous sound technician, a lady who lives in Dallas, and a columnist.

Dr. Williams of New York and Dr. Fishwick of Nashville have persuaded the stewardess to give them a fly swatter, and they are indulging in a little sweepstakes of their own. . . . It works like this. . . . In a given number of attempts, the one killing the larger number of flies gets to share in the other's fried chicken at dinner. . . . "Say, Doc," says Dr. Williams, "I ought to have a handicap. You're a healthy commissioner and have a professional interest in killing flies."

The film technician is Douglas Shearer, brother of Norma Shearer, and as this is being written he is shaving himself with an electric razor which Miss Kremer, the hostess, has thoughtfully provided. . . . There is something uncanny in the way this slim, pretty girl anticipates your wants. . . . For instance, she saw Shearer pass a reflective hand over his chin, and she got up and presented him with the razor. . . . Incidentally Mr. Shearer doesn't wear a belt or suspenders. . . . I don't know what holds his pants up.

Lieutenant Coyne, of the navy, is enroute to San Diego, and this is his wife's first flight. . . . She is radiant as a bride, and maybe she is a bride. . . . She was wearing orchids when she came aboard ship, but Miss Kremer is keeping them for her now in the icebox. . . . A honeymoon? . . . "No, we've been married two years."

This is what the Lieutenant says. . . . "But I feel like a bride," admits Mrs. Coyne, shyly. "I'm what you call a navy widow." . . . A navy wife is always a widow, just as is a newspaperman's wife. I see my husband less than two months in the year.

Mr. Paul Small, whose name is something of a misnomer, is gently snoring in the space where berth No. 3 will presently be. . . . Mr. Small grosses a neat 300 pounds, and he practically lives on planes and trains. . . . He represents the William Morris agency and his business is appraising theatrical acts which his firm places in theaters and fairs throughout the world.

As for Miss Kremer, I would write something nice about her, but she is standing at my elbow and I am afraid she would peep over my shoulder. . . . Balanced in her hand is a large tray of richly brown fried chicken. . . . She says: "How can I serve you with that typewriter taking all the room?"

Didn't I tell you she had a genius for anticipating people's wants?

The hat-checking business continues to be one of Manhattan's most lucrative ventures. . . . I know three places on Broadway where a pudgy, little man pays $1,000 a month for the concession.

BANKERS' HEAD HONORED

TEAGUE, July 15 (AP)—J. E. Woods of Teague, recently elected president of the Texas Bankers' association, was honored at a banquet here last night by the Teague chamber of commerce. Woods, former postmaster here and former county attorney for Freestone county, has been made chairman of the board of the Farmers State Bank at Temple. He will retain presidency of the Teague National Bank.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

Most of the time the sages turn out to be wrong when they say, "that young fellow is going to make his mark," so this one will not predict that Jim Bob Johnson will set the world on fire with anything spectacular, but you could afford to put a ticket on him to show if you don't like to bet on cinches.

James Robert (the nickname he selected for himself) is the boy who thought up a slogan for some shaving cream company and won $2,500. Soon afterward, he sold a short story to a magazine, but he did not tell about that at the time. The short story was about something that Jim Bob knew a lot about. Recently your read his articles on the Jamboree published in the News. They were interesting, finished and intelligent. Jim Bob gave a fine interpretation of the Jamboree in his letters and in his conversation after his return.

People who were never interested in Scouting read the letters. Back home Jim Bob described the climax of the Jamboree when the President paraded before the Scouts. That was the big moment at the Jamboree. Deep down in their hearts, the boys knew that the big reason for their going to Washington was to see Roosevelt. . . . Jim Bob arrived early and got in a front line and battled a pushy, surging mob of Scouts for hours to hold his place, and when the President came along Jim Bob saw that humiliated, smiling face from a distance of a dozen feet, and the Pampa boy felt a great glow as the President looked into his eyes for the drip of an instant.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—Easiest rut for an actor to fall into is the of perennial officer of the law. Once a policeman, always a cop—unless the actor's lucky.

They tell it on Robert Emmett O'Connor, so often seen as the detective, that his big chance to break with the role came when an executive who saw the tests, O'Connor was trying for a priestly part.

"Every time he talked to the condemned man in the cell," the executive said, "I expected him to whip out the handcuffs from under his cassock."

O'Connor doubtless has played other characters, but he's typed in my mind, too. Offhand I can't think of a single film in which he hasn't had the bracelets ready. That's how movie-typing works on casting directors.

E. E. Clive, who has contributed bright moments to some 30 films, almost fell into the copper's mold. His first picture, "The Invisible Man," had him in policeman's uniform for the first time in his long stage career, but he was a cop in five films after that. The old judge in "A Tale of Two Cities" marked him on a variety of cinematic castings. Now they "see" him in practically any character role, which is how a real actor should be seen.

The policeman's role in "Dead End" is played by James Burke, but Burke is counting on it to step up his career rather than settle it. "I'm in the picture even before it starts," he grins. (You'll see him strolling down the dead end street before the title flashes on the screen.)

How's Your Health?

Edited by DR. JAGO GALDSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

The bathing season yields a large annual crop of ear difficulties and diseases. Some prove disastrous. So whoever "goes bathing" should pay attention to his ears.

Man is not an aquatic animal. He has no means of closing off his ears and only feeble ones for guarding the passageway leading to the inner ear (via the Eustachian tube).

If you would be safe, observe the following precautions: Do not bathe (save in a bathtub) when you have a cold. Not only are you likely to "pollute" the water and infect other bathers, but you are also likely to wash some of the organisms from your own throat or nose back into your middle ear (by the Eustachian tubes).

Do not forcibly blow your nose while your nasal passages are still full of water. Wait until the water has drained out. Avoid swallowing while attempting to clear your nose or ears. The act of swallowing opens wide the throat end of the Eustachian tube. If you are one of those who secrete much wax in the outer ear canal, have this wax removed by a physician before doing much swimming. Wax present in the outer ear canal in any appreciable quantity is likely to swell when mixed with water and will obstruct the canal and render you temporarily hard of hearing. Should this occur, do not attempt to remove the swollen wax with any hard object. Have it removed by a physician or if emergency treatment is required, use a soft-tipped rubber ear syringe and gently squirt a stream of tepid water (body temperature) into the ear canal. In this way the plug usually may be dislodged.

When diving from a high point, protect your ear drums by means of suitable plugs. A bathing cap worn over the ears will add to the protection. Ear plugs may be made with a mixture of animal wool and plasticine or wax. These can be moulded to fit. Ordinary cotton wool is worse than useless.

agency ranks the butler role. First screen butler I remember was Sidney Bracey (in that early serial "The Million Dollar Mystery") and he's buttled in countless films since, even right up to the present. Edgar Norton varies buttling with the role of prime minister or foreign diplomat, and is acceptable in a variety of parts, but somehow he still represents the polished essence of screen buttling.

Eric Blore's buttling debut in "The Gay Divorcee" naturally called for encores, but he's been just as funny in the rare non-serving roles he has had. He, at least, ought to make the casters think twice.

Mary Boland, screen-typed in comedy after a varied career on the stage, is convinced there is no hope for her to do anything else in pictures. Mary Boland made one dramatic picture, "A Son Comes Home," after long pleading for the opportunity. She's been told the public doesn't want her in drama. It wants to laugh.

But she's bearing up under the sentence. At least she has sold the house she first bought out here and is planning to build another. Says she wouldn't live anywhere else but California.

After watching her do a scene or two, very funny, I couldn't agree with her that typing was too bad. If she wants to enote and be sad she ought to take another name for the occasion—and save Mary Boland for the comedy roles. Then the laughing hunting fans would never be disappointed.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. To what kind of fatal accident are children of pre-school age most liable? G. H.

A. Burns take the highest death toll up to five years of age. Next come motor vehicle accidents, then mechanical suffocation.

Q. How many resolutions to alter the Constitution are now pending in Congress? F. T.

A. The National Republic lists 129.

Q. Do many people make a success of raising frogs for market by artificial propagation? A. R.

A. Very few have been successful in this field although many have tried. Many of the so-called frog farms are natural marshy areas adapted to the needs of frogs, in which frogs thrive and multiply.

Q. What is the oldest musical instrument still in existence? S. T.

A. It is a small shepherd's pipe recently recovered by excavations in Iraq. It is some six thousand years old.

Q. Does adoption carry citizenship with it? V. P.

A. Adoption does not carry with it rights of citizenship. An adopted son or daughter who is an alien must become naturalized in order to become a United States citizen.

Q. How long has the Frontier Days celebration been held in Cheyenne, Wyo.? H. G.

A. The celebration which will begin on July 28 of this year will be the forty-first consecutive meeting. The festivities consist of two companion shows, Frontier Cavalcade and Frontier Nights. The Chamber of Commerce of Cheyenne is building a warehouse to house permanently its remarkable collection of 100 sets of authentic pioneer harness and 82 vehicles. There are many historical stages in this collection, two notable ones of inestimable value being the original stages driven between Cheyenne and the Black Hills from 1874 to 1887. While the population of Cheyenne is 17,000, it entertains 70,000 spectators at this famous annual show.

Q. How much wheat can a large American freighter carry? P. T. S.

A. A large American freighter can carry roughly about 500,000 bushels of wheat when loaded to capacity.

Q. Is shellac a synthetic preparation? W. H.

A. Shellac is secreted by an insect. While repeated experiments have been made to make synthetically none has been successful.

BOOK A DAY

By BRUCE CATTON

"THE GREAT GOLDWYN" by Alva Johnston; (Random: $1.50).

It is said that when Alva Johnston went to Hollywood to look over the prospects for an article on Samuel Goldwyn, he wired back that he had to have more elbow room. He could not, said Mr. Johnston, tell about Samuel Goldwyn in one article any more than he could carve a colossus out of a cherry stone.

Four articles were written and appeared in the magazine then subsidizing Mr. Johnston. These articles were joyously unbelievable—that is, you felt they couldn't be true, but were glad that Mr. Johnston had his brainstorm. You had a week between articles, which gave you time to forget the detail. The edges blurred and the pattern dimmed.

Now Mr. Johnston's four articles have been printed without (apparently) much change. The little book they form is called "The Great Goldwyn," and it may be read at one sitting without your foot going to sleep or your eye tiring. The only difficulty is that each of the four chapters, and for that matter almost every page, has precisely the same information.

This information is delightful, but once said is enough. Mr. Goldwyn is a whirlwind dervish, according to Mr. Johnston. He shouts, he wisecracks, he spends colossal, he has a flair for the artistic which, his early days in the glove business do not explain, he makes mistakes in syntax and pronunciation which are, Mr. Johnston thinks, quite often deliberate and for effect. He is impossible to satisfy, an autocrat and an "original."

But it's difficult for anyone to make even a small book of this even though four superb articles did come out of it. By the time Mr. Johnston has told you that Mr. Goldwyn is a super-hyper-double-super male Maprop 50 or 60 times you either yawn or say "So what?" Or if you're a very hopeful case you say to yourself that the day for such diodes passed in 1929 and not even a super-hyper-double-super colossal movie man and his press staff can bring it back.

BATH NIGHT HORROR.

CHICAGO—When Mrs. Olivia Nichols told her seven-year-old son, Jerry, to take a bath before going to bed at 9 p. m., the boy mumbled words of resentment and disappeared.

Neighbors joined two squads of police in their search for the boy. Shortly before 3 a. m. Jerry returned home.

"I ran away when you told me to take a bath," he told his mother. "But I'd lots rather take a bath now than stay in that big cardboard box out in the back yard. I'm scared."

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"Let's make our husbands take us out to the country club party. There'll be some men there who are swell dancers."

DEMOS SPLIT ON PROGRAM AND LEADER

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Senate Democrats, leaderless and confused, divided today into two factions fighting for control of the party machinery and the legislative program.

The unexpected death of Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, for 15 years the party leader, left administration supporters determined to push through the court bill and such other Roosevelt proposals as the wage and hour and housing bills.

Democrats opposed to the court measure and some who previously had been critical of the Roosevelt program urged speedy adjournment of Congress.

The actual opening of hostilities was postponed until after burial of the beloved leader. A state funeral will be held in the Senate chamber tomorrow, after which a delegation of Senators and representatives will accompany the body to Little Rock, Ark., on a special train. President Roosevelt will attend the Senate service, and Vice-President Garner the one in Arkansas.

The administration senators were lining up for Senator Barkley of Kentucky for party leader. Most of the opposing group was supporting Senator Harrison of Mississippi.

Senator Byrnes of South Carolina also figured in the leadership picture, but some Senators said he would back Harrison. Byrnes, like many others, refused to comment on the leadership race until after Robinson's burial.

It would be possible for the administration to win the party control fight and lose on the court bill. Only Democrats will figure in the first conflict, but Republicans will vote on the court bill. All 16 are opposed to it.

Foes of the measure said they would move as soon as debate is resumed next week to return the bill to committee, unless a check of their votes showed they did not have the strength they anticipated.

Some Senators on the other side meantime discussed ways and means of forcing through not only the court bill but all the other legislative proposals of the President.

Treasury Not To Call Tax Dodgers

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Chairman Doughton (D-NC) said today the congressional tax inquiry committee has abandoned any idea of subpoenaing individuals described by treasury officials as having avoided taxes.

None has volunteered to testify, Doughton said.

"We have sufficient information, I believe," he said "on which to base legislation designed to reduce tax avoidance."

The committee will meet in closed session early next week when congressional bill drafters expect to have measures ready for submission.

Doughton predicted congress would pass legislation to close tax loopholes this session even though the death of Senate Leader Robinson should hasten adjournment.

CELEBRATION AT HEREFORD WILL BE SPONSORED BY LEGION POST

HEREFORD, July 15 (AP)—Plans for the annual Legion celebration Friday and Saturday, July 30-31. Features of the celebration will be a rodeo, free barbecue, and baseball games. Plans are being made to accommodate a crowd of 5,000.

The celebration will take the place of the annual Legion July Fourth celebration, which was postponed because of a late harvest season. Arrangements have been made to hold the rodeo, which will include a string of 60 broncs and steers. The same rodeo has been contracted that showed at the Clovis Pioneer Celebration.

"One thing is certain, there will be plenty of barbecue, beans and all the trimmings for the crowd," Charles Bennett, post commander, said. The event will be held on the rodeo grounds south of town.

The following committees have been appointed: Rodeo, Royle Rose, Noah Ewton, Charles Boyd and Charles Bennett; feed, Frank Gyles.

Glenn Weir, and C. C. Rockwell; dance, Leonard Foster, Arch Dobbins, and B. H. Hromas; ball games, Harold Close, Jim Robinson and Ralph Smith; barbecue, Pink Gilliland, Pud Hughs and Harry Taylor; concessions, Frank Gyles and Frank Givans.

JURY DELIBERATING STOLEN SHEEP CASE

BALLINGER, July 15 (AP)—A jury in 19th district court at 10 o'clock this morning still was deliberating the joint case of John and B. C. Ringer, cousins, Mason county ranchmen charged with receiving and concealing stolen sheep.

Arguments, characterized by bitterness on both sides, closed last night at 11 o'clock and the jury went to bed too tired to begin discussions last night. The trial was said to be unusual in criminal procedure in that the defendants agreed readily to be tried jointly although separate indictments had been returned against them.

Cost of the trial to the state was estimated at $400. Witnesses from all over west Texas, 140 in all, were subpoenaed. The state used 18 the defense 30.

HOPE NEAR VANISHING POINT IN AIR SEARCH

HONOLULU, July 15 (AP)—With grease-smearing faces, aviators of the aircraft carrier Lexington turned their planes today to sweep tropical waters and islets again in the greatest search the naval air forces have ever undertaken.

Hope had all but reached the vanishing point of finding Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan, navigator of her world-girdling plane, who disappeared July 2 on a 2,570-mile flight from New Guinea to Howland island.

Nevertheless the air fleet and surface craft continued scouring a 265,000 mile area, in the remote hope they would be found somewhere in the area.

Forty-two fighting planes searched the waters either side of the International date line yesterday in the second day of their flight without finding a trace of the missing craft.

A scorching sun forced fliers to grease their faces for protection.

they shot down from the fog banks at 6:25 a. m. (PST).

Tentative plans called for one or two days in Los Angeles, then an overnight train ride for a day's visit in San Francisco. From there the aviators plan to fly a commercial transport plane to Washington, thence to New York, where they probably will sail for Russia, July 25.

T. Claud Ryan, builder of "The Spirit of St. Louis," the plane Col. Charles A. Lindbergh flew from New York to Paris, examined the giant Soviet ship and pronounced it a marvel of compact efficiency.

That the record-shattering flight will qualify under the rules of the International Aeronautical Federation was indicated by Major Edison E. Mouton, whose committee inspected and found unbroken the seals on three barographs and the gasoline tank.

Major Mouton praised the design, primary construction and motor of the giant craft.

Piccard is awaiting favorable weather for the flight.

Carefully placed dynamite caps, connected by wires to the gondola, will sever the strings when they explode, Piccard said.

Just before he touches the ground, the experimenter intends to release the top cluster, joined to the lower by rope, so he will not be dragged on the ground. Again he will use TNT.

"You see TNT will cut the rope cleanly," the balloonist said. "Then I shall drop to the ground safe, quite safe, I hope."

"There is really nothing to worry about if everything goes well. If it doesn't, I have a parachute."

Piccard seeks to determine if a craft of many small balloons is practical for high altitude flights. He said he planned to build a huge craft of 2,000 balloons for a stratosphere flight, if the test proves successful.

TENTH MEMBER TO DIE
WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas was the tenth member of congress to die since the November, 1936, elections. Senator Norbeck (R-SD) died Dec. 20 and Senator Bachman (D-Tenn.) April 23. The others were representatives: Cary (D-Ky.), Montague, (D-Va.), Buchanan (D-Tex.), Stubbs, (D-Cal.), Foelt (R-Pa.), Goodwin, (R-N.Y.), and Connelly (D-Mass.).

Cigaret consumption set an all-time record in the United States in 1936. Consumption totaled 153,170,000,000, an increase of 14 per cent above the 1935 figure of 134,609,000,000.

More People Than You Ever Saw at Coney Before

Ever see more than a million persons at one time? Just look at this throng (count 'em, if you're skeptical) and you'll have an idea of what such a multitude is like. More than a million swarmed onto the beach at Coney Island, fresh air mecca for New York's sweltering denizens, to set a new attendance record. A breezeless heat wave drove them out of their apartments in search of relief. It's apparent that there was standing room only on the beach.

BRITISH PEACE SCHEME HANGS ON FRENCH SNAG

LONDON, July 15 (AP)—The British scheme to pacify conflicting international interests in the Spanish civil war and keep the conflict from spreading in Europe appeared snagged today on French opposition that threatened a break in the traditional Paris-London partnership.

Looking askance at Anthony Eden's proposal to grant "limited" belligerent rights to both government and insurgents in Spain, a source close to the foreign office in Paris said:

"The question is always the same: In what measure is Britain's policy to allow Germany and Italy to take advantage of the Spanish situation to crush France and cut off her Mediterranean communications?"

First reactions from Berlin and Rome indicated the plan would receive at least careful and friendly consideration from the two Fascist powers that have recognized Spanish insurgency as the true government of Spain, but general objection of both France and Soviet Russia were feared here.

NO. 3—

When Newton was arrested early yesterday officers said they found only $10 in his possession.

Wilkes said Mrs. Kelly was known to have withdrawn "about $1,900 from the Paris Savings Bank recently."

The body of a woman taken from the Mississippi river at Louisiana, Mo., a few hours before Newton's arrest was identified as that of Mrs. Kelly. Examination disclosed scalp wounds. Blood was found on the Mark Twain bridge over the Mississippi at Hannibal, Mo., and near the bridge approach in Pike county, Illinois.

"We discovered a large hole in the floor of the Newton garage," the prosecutor said. "It was a freshly dug hole, and evidently had been intended for a grave. We also found four loaded revolvers in his (Newton's) house, as well as stained trousers, a shirt and an undershirt which had been washed recently."

Temperature Reads 108 at Yuma, Ariz.

(By The Associated Press)
Sweltering temperatures returned to the eastern half of the nation today.

Although widespread precipitation, extending from the Great Plains to Pennsylvania and the middle Atlantic states, brought some relief, Forecaster J. R. Lloyd of Chicago said hot south to southwest winds were on the way with 90 and 100 degree temperatures.

Colleen Moore's Family Grows

With a new husband and two stepchildren, Colleen Moore, former film actress, has more than just her famous doll house to keep in order these days. But the responsibility seemed to rest lightly on her as she bid goodbye, above, to her husband, H. P. Hargrave, as he left Los Angeles for his Chicago brokerage offices after a recent visit. The children remained with Miss Moore.

Extreme heat during the last week had caused premature development of some grain crops.

The department reported that temperatures during the last week averaged six to 12 degrees above normal, except in the south and parts of the northwest.

A tent city was built near Buff City, Ill., for 40 persons driven from their homes by flood waters which followed a 7.2 inch rainfall.

Among the highest official temperatures reported yesterday were Oklahoma City, Wichita, Kas., Abilene and El Paso, Texas, all with readings of 100 degrees; Yuma, Ariz. 108 and Phoenix 106.

MARKET ABREES

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—A late rally in U. S. Steel today helped stiffen a shaky stock market.

The list had its troubles from the start with numerous issues, including steel, dipping fractions to a point or more. Shipping and climbing intervals were frequent and, even in the final period when the major steel stock stepped out in front, many bellwethers failed to get ahead.

A few motors, farm implements and dealers did better than average. At the same time minor losses were well distributed.

Trading forces were disposed to cling to safety zones, although little extreme bearishness was in evidence. Fresh political and foreign problems tended to stem the buying urge.

Dealings were comparatively slow throughout, transfers being in the neighborhood of 700,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 15 (AP)—Late rallies of Chicago wheat pit prices today largely overcame at times earlier losses that reached a maximum of 2 1/2 cents a bushel.

Aiding the late rallies were reports focusing trade attention anew on black rust menace to spring wheat crops both south and north of the Canadian border. There also was considerable late buying of wheat futures here attributed to mill interest, but the market slipped down again just at the last.

At the close, wheat was 1 1/2-2 1/2 up yesterday's finish, July 12 1/2; Sept. 1 1/2-1 1/2; corn 1 1/2 off to 1 1/2 up, Sept. 1 1/2-1 1/2; Dec. 80 1/2-80 1/2, and oats unchanged to 1/2 lower.

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—The senate today passed and sent to the White House a bill appropriating $1,000,000 to fight grasshoppers in ten western states.

Bossing Employees' Strike

Thirty-five thousand New York garment workers went on strike, but instead of the violence recently associated with industrial difficulties, this sort of situation was most common. Samuel Deitch, who evidently is bossing the strikers' pinhole game from the sidelines, is their employer. Arbitration made possible the friendly settlement.

Mrs. Hattie Caraway, the remaining Senator from Arkansas, formally requested that the ceremony be held tomorrow in the Senate chamber, with President Roosevelt, his cabinet, Supreme Court justices, army and navy commanders, and the diplomatic corps present.

DETROIT, July 15 (AP)—Governor Frank Murphy sought a quick settlement today of a strike union leaders said had halted 8,000 trucks operating between Michigan cities. Murphy announced he would seek a conference of truck operators and representatives of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen, and Helpers.

LANSING, Mich., July 15 (AP)—Albert R. Knight, 55, arrested six weeks ago on a charge of arson after a fire was discovered in his home, was arrested again today, this time charged with attempted murder of his three daughters to collect life insurance. Investigation since the first arrest, Detective Charles T. Smith said, showed that Knight had taken out a total of $130,000 life insurance on the daughters prior to the fire.

IN MISERY WITH GAS AND BLOAT

Thought His Stomach Would Burst; But Now Van-Tage Has Relieved Him.

Many druggists of this section say they never saw anything like the way Reliable People praise Van-Tage. This is the Amazing New Medicine which is being sold in great quantities here in Pampa. Recently, Mr. Mart Holt, of 2433 Corinth St., Dallas, Texas, endorsed it.

"For over two years I had been a very sick man with constipation, and a gassy, bloated stomach," said Mr. Holt. "It didn't seem to matter what I ate—everything seemed to turn right into gas and I would start bloating and swelling up until it felt like my stomach was going to burst. I was always taking strong physics. I heard about Van-Tage, and I made up my mind to get some of this medicine and see if it would help me. After suffering for so long, you can imagine my surprise when the FIRST B

DREFS TO JOIN OILERS MOUND STAFF; MAY PITCH TOMORROW NIGHT

$1,000 WORTH OF PRIZES TO BE GIVEN FANS

"Will arrive in Pampa Thursday afternoon," was the content of a telegram received last night by Business Manager Harold Miller of the Pampa Oilers from Herman Drefs who was in Trinidad, Colo., at the time Drefs, with Mrs. Drefs and child, had reached that Colorado city en route from Portland, Ore., to join the mound staff of the Oilers for the rest of the season.

A left-hander, Drefs is expected to be "just what the doctor ordered." The Oilers have been rocking along all season without a portside chucker.

"If Drefs is not too tired, he'll send him against the Huber Black-faces in the big game tomorrow night," Manager Fred Brickell declared following arrival of the telegram. "Should Drefs not feel up to the mound assignment, Harvey Hutton will get the call."

Festivities at 8 o'clock. The Oilers of tomorrow's big game, starting promptly at 8 o'clock, and expected to draw the largest crowd ever to see a ball game here, will be Merchants Gift Night to add funds to the pot for the Oilers to enter the Denver Post baseball tournament on July 29. All proceeds from the game will go to the fund.

Pampa merchants will give away free more than $1,000 in merchandise. Tickets to the big game will be $1.10. They are on sale by committees and at the former location of Cornor Drug store on Cuyler street where much of the merchandise to be awarded is on display. Standing room tickets will be 50 cents and will be available at the west gate to the stand. Holders of those tickets will not be eligible for prizes.

Prizes to be given include $125 and $100 deposit on new cars, watch, clothing, shoes, oil, groceries, etc.

There will be other attractions including base running and throwing contests and a passing and punting exhibition by Oiler Sam Baugh, all-American quarterback last year.

Besides Drefs, an Oiler uniform will adorn the figure of Sam Hale who will be at the hot corner. Manager Brickell was uncertain this morning as to whether he would put Baugh on short and send Beason to right field in place of Sealing or whether he would let Baugh go to the outfield. The rest of the lineup will be the same as usual.

Huber will be at full strength for the game with either Lefty Carriers or Byron Chody on the mound. Hack Wilson, voted the most valuable player on the team in a contest conducted last week, will be at his old centerfield position.

Dope points to Manager Story starting Carriers in an effort to take another game from the Oilers. He has already won five against two losses.

Festivities will begin at 8 o'clock so that the game will start soon after the regular hour. Fans are urged to be in the stands early.

Cards, Giants To Begin 4-Game Series Saturday

By BILL BONI, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Out of the lead for the first time in a month—by only two points—the Chicago Cubs today were strictly on their own as far as the battle with the Giants for top spot in the National league is concerned.

They can't expect much assistance from either of the other leading western contenders, the Pirates or the Cardinals. The Bucs who fell afoul of another Carl Hubbell ex-travaganza yesterday, 4-2, are without the services of Arky Vaughan, the peppery shortstop who usually can be counted on to hit well at the Polo Grounds.

The Cardinals, who will take on the Giants in the Terrymen's strong-hold Saturday for a four-game series, also are having their troubles. A pitching staff, none too big to

City Softball Tourney To Begin Monday Night

A city softball champion will be decided following a play-off series among the top four teams in each league and a battle between league champions. It was agreed at a meeting of the team managers last night in the chamber of commerce rooms. President E. W. Voss was in charge.

Participating teams in the Industrial league will not be decided until Friday night, and maybe not then. It would be possible for three teams to tie for third and fourth place in the play-off bracket. The City league champions have already been decided.

Play will begin Monday night under the lights at the new Recreation park diamond a mile east of the city. The lighted field, laid out in front of the huge grandstand, is being erected by M. A. Graham and the Pampa Junior club in cooperation with the city.

The first game of the play-off, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, Monday, will see the Pampa Jaycees meeting Texaco company, teams in the City league.

On Tuesday night, Phillips 66 will clash with the former team in the Industrial league standing with the second game between the Clasy Dusters and Skelly Oil.

With two-game elimination play in effect, losers will play losers and winners will play winners in the second round of play with a game between losers and a game between winners each night.

Admission to the games will be 10 cents for women and children and 15 cents for men. Players of participating teams will be admitted to games free. Wives of players will be admitted to games in which their husbands are participating free of charge. On other nights they will pay the regular price.

Games in the Industrial league tomorrow evening will be Cities Service at Stanolind and King at Coltex. A win for Cities Service and a loss for Coltex would give Cities Service third place and Coltex fourth. A loss for Cities Service and a win for Coltex would throw Cities Service and Stanolind into a two way tie.

FIRST-PLACE INDIANS LOSE TO BEAUMONT

(By The Associated Press.)

Beaumont's Texas league youngsters probably have aged very little since the season started but they are proving day-by-day they can play baseball like tried-and-true veterans.

Against the predictions of some that the youthful Shippers were a flash in the pan, they have managed to win a majority of their games and stick at the heels of the leaders. As of July 15 the Beaumonters were in a tie for second place with Fort Worth and there were no cracks visible in their armor.

To prove their worth the Shippers last night, as an example tackled the league-leading Oklahoma City team. The Indians took a 11 to 2 plastering, managing to score only in the ninth against the fine pitching of Bob Harris. Beaumont scored in five innings and in the first they counted five times.

Elsewhere in the league it was a matter of the underdog having his day. The humble Dallas Steers, dangerously close to setting an all-time league record for consecutive losses, fought fiercely to break a tie with Galveston and did it in the twelfth inning. The score was 9 to 6.

The Steers had lost 14 straight and are imbedded firmly in the cellar.

Houston, a notch above Dallas, did set a record by winning its third straight game in whipping Fort Worth's Panthers 12 to 6. The Buffaloes hadn't managed three straight before all season.

San Antonio, another second division club, found the range against Tulsa to win 13 to 2. The Tulsa hurlers had to duck and dodge while the Missions rammed home 12 runs in the three innings.

COBB SAYS DEAN COULD BE GREATEST PITCHER

(By The Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15 (AP)—Dizzy Dean could become the greatest pitcher in the history of baseball by combining his natural ability with some of the strategy of the late Christy Mathewson in the opinion of Ty Cobb.

"If old Dizz worked more on the batters' weaknesses, like Mathewson did, instead of trying to throw the ball by them, he'd probably be the greatest we've ever had," said the player whose batting and base running feats cram the record books and have earned him the distinction of baseball's No. 1 immortal.

"Mathy was finishing up about the time I started and we played in different leagues but I saw enough of him to know he was a master workman. But I think Dean has the stuff to top any of them if he would concentrate more on the tricky side of pitching than he does now."

The old time Georgia Peach, so remarkable on the offensive he had rival teams playing Ty Cobb instead of the Detroit Tigers, rates Dean as the most valuable moundman in the game today. He'd prefer the St. Louis Cardinals star on his staff to either Carl Hubbell of the Giants or "Lefty" Gomez of the Yankees.

BIRTH AND TAXES.
ALTOONA, Pa.—Two-year-old Marcia Holmes received statements for school and personal property taxes.

Her father, W. J. Holmes, expressed hope his son, Frederick, would, Frederick is seven months old.

And that's all right because he's just about the hustlingest, scrappiest ball player in Mr. Ford Frick's league... Incidentally, it's nice to see the staid old American having a scrap or two in its own right... But you'll notice that Mr. Will C. Harridge, who is inclined to lean a bit towards the right, fined his athletes more than Mr. Frick does for an ordinary brawl.

Track-Field Greats To Open Games At Dallas

By FELIX E. McKNIGHT.

DALLAS, July 15 (AP)—Four days of international athletic pageantry, closely patterned after the Olympic games, starts under a canopy of stars here tonight for muscled sons of the United States and neighboring nations below the Rio Grande.

Second only in American athletic history to the Olympics held at Los Angeles in 1932, the Pan-American games begin at 8 p. m. when four hot-clothed Indian runners sprint through the gates of the Cotton Bowl to herald the arrival of nearly 200 athletes.

Record-holders and champions of the United States and Central American dignitaries, will join in formal exercises while the "flame of friendship" is lighted and placed atop the towering triumphal arch.

Record-holders and champions of the north, South and Central American track and field events, including owners of ten world or American marks, will participate in ceremonies but hold off on actual competition until tomorrow night. Only a soccer game between the famed Argentine eleven and the Highlanders of Trenton, N. J., United States champions, will be played opening night.

Cunningham to Race.
Biggest names of the United States track and field group will compete against the foreigners in 13 events. No scoring will be used and only individual winners determined.

Once again Glenn Cunningham, Kansas' premier miler, and Archie San Romani, his little fellow Kansan, will take up their 1,500 meter duel. Of almost equal fan interest will be the 800-meter clash between Elroy Robinson, who smashed the world's mark at New York last week, and John Wadsworth, the lanky Pit-negro, and the pole-vaulting spree between Earle Meadows native Texan; George Varoff world's record holder and Cornelius Warmerdam.

Other Yankee stars entered include Ken Carpenter, Olympic discus champion; Perrin Walker, Jack Weirhauser, Ben Johnson, and Ray Ma-lott, sprinters; David Albritton and Cornelius Johnson, co-holders of the world's high-jump mark; Mel Walker, Ohio State, high jumper; Errol Vaughan, 5,000 meters; Jim Reynolds, Stanford University, shotput; Allan Tolmich, new national A. A. U. hurdle champion and a great javelin thrower; Alton Terry of Texas, Bill Reitz of U. C. L. A., national A. A. U. champion, and Oklahoma City's school boy wonder, Bob Peoples.

Visitors Strong.

BROWN NAMED PRESIDENT OF TENNIS CLUB

(By The Associated Press.)

Rob Brown was elected president of the newly organized Pampa Tennis club and a ladder tournament to seed players was set as one of the first activities of the organization.

Other officers named were Ralph Hamilton, vice president; Flora Deen Finley, secretary; Mrs. Lola Roach.

Walter Young of Vedlin, Canada, in the closing feature of the games, a 26-mile grind Sunday night.

Not laden with world records but stiff competition in any meet are the South and Central American contingents.

Most prominent are Ribas, Juan Accosta, marathons and Neil McCutosh, hurdler, of Chile; Ruben Bonifacio, sprinter and Carmelo di Gaeta, sprinter, Uruguay; Marco Olivera, crack broad jumper and Sylvio Padilha, 400 meters, Brazil; Julia Mera, Peruvian high jumper.

Canada sent James Cartwright, its ace javelin thrower; J. L. Loaring, 400 meter star and Sammy Richardson, broad jumper.

treasurer; the president and Virginia Posey, Harry Jameson, Ray Miller and Hugh Stenniss the board of directors.

Directors will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the chamber of commerce rooms to make plans and set rules for the ladder tournament. Plans for entertaining Amarillo players in a return match here on August 1 will also be discussed.

A meeting of all tennis players in this section has been called for next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the chamber of commerce rooms in the hall.

Pampa has long been in need of a tennis club. There are many players in the city who are urged to become members and help put tennis over in a big way. For the first time, public courts are available to players. Two have been finished at Central park and two at the water wells. Courts at Baker school and at Woodrow Wilson school have yet to be topped.

TEXANS IN TOURNEY
DENVER, July 15 (AP)—The arrival of fourth round matches today in the Colorado open tennis tournament placed John McDiarmid, Princeton professor from Fort Worth, opposite Jack Tidball of Los Angeles, for what was expected to be one of the day's feature matches. Charles Harris of West Palm Beach, Fla., the defending men's singles champion, was paired today with Joe Lucia, of Houston, after getting a rest yesterday. Martin Buxby, of Dallas, seeded seventh, was paired with Henry Culley, of Santa Barbara, Calif.

WORTH CROWING ABOUT

BREWED WITH PURE ROCKY MOUNTAIN SPRING WATER

As Cool-As Clean-As Refreshing

As a Snow-Fed Stream
High Up in the Rockies

There is only one way to brew a true Viennese beer like Coors Export Lager... That way is the Coors way. The way which utilizes none but the finest known ingredients... utmost skill... long and costly ageing periods. A way which places every emphasis on quality, flavor and sterile wholesomeness. The result of this quality creed at the Coors plant is a pure golden beer which reaches your lips as cool... as clean... as refreshing as the crystal clear Rocky Mountain Spring Water used in its brewing.

Yea, verily, the pleasure of the clean, brisk taste of Coors Export Lager lingers long after the trifling difference in its price is forgotten.

Coors Export Lager

Double Aged

Coors Mail is thoroughly aged before bottling. The brew is a clean, crisp, golden beer and is the finest of its kind.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, July 15 (AP)—Should the comptroller of public accounts, the commissioner of the general land office, and the treasurer obey the constitution they must pack up their desks, so to speak, and move into the capitol.

It was discovered recently that the constitutional amendment which last year raised their salaries also provided they should "reside" in the capitol. The provision, incidentally, was not permissive, but mandatory, in good plain language it said they "shall."

Should those officials follow the constitutional mandate, they would join, at least for those portions of the year when the Legislature was in session, the Lieutenant-Governor and the Speaker of the House. The former, as president of the Senate, resides at the rear of that Legislative body's meeting place, and the latter has an apartment at the rear of the House Chamber.

They would, in fact, have better reason to live in the State House than the Lieutenant-Governor and the Speaker, because those two have only the authority of the Legislature as a basis for the privilege. The Legislature has jurisdiction over that part of the capitol which it uses and House and Senate have delegated part of that space to their presiding officers for living quarters. The peculiar provision affecting the comptroller, land commissioner and treasurer was, of course, the result of someone's bad spelling. As anyone in doubt can verify by consulting a dictionary, there is a difference between "capitol" and "capital."

Whoever typed the original amendment and said the three officers must reside at the "capitol" didn't reckon on what he might be doing with their private lives.

What will be done about the error now is the question, and while none can answer the question at this time, probably nobody will lose any sleep over it. Least of all the officials involved. The constitution may be ignored, it may be corrected at another election or the officials may inform the Board of Control, which is paid to worry over such matters, they bow to the will of the people and are ready to "reside at the capitol" as soon as some space, now occupied, is cleared out.

The chances are the officials will be in no hurry to take the last course. About the only thing to be said for residing at the capitol is that it would save some rent, which is plenty high in Austin. In other respects, the Capitol, as a place to set up a happy home, would not rate so well.

The State House mandamus proceedings could be brought by any citizen to compel such action. It cannot be denied such mandamus suit would have better legal support—the constitution can be fact—than many others the Capitol has seen.

In view of the congestion at the Capitol the simple folk who merely have right to offices in the State-house probably would be found opposing admittance of the Treasurer, the Comptroller and the Land Commissioner as full time residents. Space is hard enough to find without having it utilized for bed-rooms, kitchens, baths, and the like.

'EVER-NORMAL GRANARY' GIVEN BARUCH OKAY

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—Bernard Baruch believes in the general principle of the "ever-normal granary" provided its operation does not contravene natural economic laws and does not attempt to hold commodities at fixed price levels.

The one-time speculator, who retired from Wall Street three years ago, was asked:

"Aren't your proposals comparable to the ever-normal granary plan now under consideration in Washington?"

"Yes," he replied, "to a very considerable extent, if the ever-normal granary idea would be confined to where the prices would be in consonance with the law of supply and demand, and would not try to hold prices at false heights.

If the price is held at a false height, there would be only one result, disaster to the farmer in the end and loss to the government. We would have an abnormal granary and valorization.

Baruch said that as an ordinary rule most of the drastic rises are caused by fear of supplies.

"There's an old saying," he remarked, "that when a crop scare makes the front page, that's the end of the move."

In between the high and low "un-economic areas," Baruch believes the government "should keep its nose out and its hands off. It's too big a job for government. Personal initiative and personal selectivism can do it much better. It's only in times of mass fear and madness that the government should act."

"Who would determine?" Baruch was asked, "when the government agencies should step in?"

"Congress," he replied. "Only congress should have the power to declare when an emergency existed. 'What we would be doing would be not to interfere with the natural law of supply and demand, but to help the law work better.'"

Baruch was asked if such a plan contemplated the abandoning of so-called social legislation, and he replied:

"Not at all. This has nothing to do with that. Of course, we want to move ahead in the field of social legislation. We must move in this direction continually. But I think we should do so without trying to change natural laws of man without considering human nature.

"You know, there's been a complete change of thought in the last generation. Then, the thought upmost in everyone's mind was opportunity; today it's security. We have got to reverse it and then we will have security based upon an opportunity to work, save and find for ourselves."

The "weight" of a bow is the number of pounds of pull required to bring the weapon to full draw.

WELL NOURISHED.
BEAUFORT, N. C.—Bill Wells tells this one.

He bought a cantaloupe, took it home and halved it. Out flew a butterfly with an inch wing spread. He said it apparently developed from a larva which had bored its way inside.

Shortly Before Amelia Vanished

Hatless, informal and her face reflecting her mental concentration on an informal aviation problem, Amelia Earhart is pictured here talking to her navigator, Fred Noonan, as they stopped in Caripito, Venezuela, June 3, on the flight that ended with their forced landing in the Pacific. This picture was mailed by Noonan to Mrs. Noonan and is the latest photo of the missing pair to reach the U. S.

45 Senators Will Accompany Body To Little Rock

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Grieving Senators will join tomorrow in a state funeral for Democratic Leader Robinson (D-Ark) for 24 years one of their dominant and most beloved members.

Leaders of both parties conferred today on arrangements for the service—the fourteenth of its kind in 70 years—in the gold and marble Senate chamber.

Forty-five senators and 23 representatives will accompany the body on a special train to Little Rock, Ark., where another service will precede burial Sunday afternoon.

The train will carry the largest congressional delegation ever to attend the burial of a senator.

Tomorrow's simple ceremony will begin at 10 a. m. eastern standard time when the flower banked coffin will be carried to the central area of the Senate chamber, near Robinson's vacant chair.

Seats of honor on each side will be reserved for Mrs. Robinson and relatives.

President Roosevelt, his cabinet, Supreme Court justices, high officers of the army and navy, and scores of uniformed diplomats will be grouped near the speaker's rostrum. Members of the House will cluster in the back of the chamber.

VACATION DIARY

Chapter I

THURSDAY: It's all settled! Roger and I are going to be married in the Little Church Around the Corner a week from Friday. My "rising young designer of things modernistic" to quote from an article about my fiancé and his work says there's no sense in putting that off till we have made a million. It's happiness we're after and that's what we'll have when we get together. I agree with my darling. Life has been wonderful since we met.

I still smile when I think of that. It was the rush hour at Long's exclusive tearoom when he dashed in, demanding instant service. As chief hostess, I scanned the room, found a small table with one vacant seat. He smiled... thanked me... became a regular patron... and at Christmas we were engaged.

Now I must think of my trousseau, where we're going to live and a host of other details. There's just one thing—but there, why think of that? Roger couldn't have been in earnest about it. Midnight! I mustn't write another word. Tomorrow will be here too soon.

Friday: A busy day. Two conventions in the city which is overrun with strangers. You'd know them in a minute, even if they left off those ridiculous badges that announce they're delegates from Tripp's Corners, or some other as exciting spot in the United States. Roger phoned in the afternoon... an unexpected conference with Rocco this evening, so he won't be able to make our date. I wonder why Roger bothers with him now. He's such a cocky, insufferable sort of chap. Still I suppose I shouldn't cavil about any of his clients... better remember it was Rocco who gave my darling his first chance (Roger started as an architect, but always wanted to design interiors and all their accessories.) Everyone knows Rocco's "club" is nothing more than a gambling joint; but Roger's work made a hit... got lots of publicity for the place and some good contracts for my dearest. I did want to see him tonight. I'm afraid we don't see eye to eye about Peter.

SATURDAY: Had dinner with Roger. He's tremendously encouraged... got a call to go to Washington tonight about decorating the directors' rooms in some new office building. That will mean a handsome check! Hadn't any time to discuss our wedding plans, as he had to catch the 9 o'clock train. Roger wanted to escort me home. I said I would rather go to Grand Central and see him off. I love stations with all the people coming and going. They always make me long to be up and away, too! Hated to say goodbye to my love. Hated to go home. Stuck around for a bit. Then, remembering Peter, dashed into the subway.

Monday: Lovely Parma violets from Roger... and two telegrams. He may be home tomorrow. I've missed him dreadfully. Even if I don't see him every day when he is in the city, there are always his phone calls. Told Peter what Roger and I are going to do. He wrinkled his freckled nose and shrugged his shoulders just like Mimi. Then, flinging his sturdy self against me, he hugged me with all the enthusiasm of a seven-year-old... said Roger was a grand guy (I wish he wouldn't use such words)... I wonder where he learns them and that it would be all right with him. I'm glad he took it like that. But then Roger has always let it off with my small stepbrother—Dad's and Mimi's legacy to me when the poor dears passed out after their tragic accident. Oh, dear how sleepy I am! Guess I'll write "finis" for tonight.

Tuesday: Roger won't be home till tomorrow. Maybe we'll have a celebration. I'm glad I got Peter's stockings all mended. Sally's a good little maid, but evidently darning's beyond her.

Writing of Peter reminds me of what Roger said about him. The idea of packing him off to boarding school when we get married is ridiculous! Surely he didn't mean that. I was afraid he did... afraid too I showed my resentment... we almost had words about it. That would have been dreadful when we've never had a single moment of misunderstanding. Roger's a darling, but quick as Mercury. His dark hair has a glint of red in it, and people do say things about redheads and tempers.

WEDNESDAY: Roger phoned me about five. Back from Washington. Jubilant over a new contract... also met some important men. So long as it's men, that's all right with me. Called for me and we went dancing. Having a midnight snack, I picked up a newspaper, and read this paragraph from that notorious gossip column—The Crow's Nest: "Rumor says that old friend Rocco's angelic daughter is affianced about the clever young designer who did such interesting things to his 'club' that it's now smart society's favorite rendezvous." Handed it to Roger. His scowl showed me he resented the coupling of that girl's name with his. Then we laughed about it. I'll never have to worry about Roger and other women. He never sees them. How lucky I am! Peter was not mentioned, although we talked about looking for an apartment.

Thursday: Spent the day in the country with Roger. How heavenly it was with all the flowers... and the birds singing so sweetly! Peter went picnicking with one of his schoolboy friends and his family. Said to Roger when we passed a lovely little house. "That's the sort of home I'd like." He agreed it was perfect; but said we'd have to live in the city for a bit. Not such a bright prospect with summer days ahead. Still I can see why my "rising young designer" cannot afford to leave the enchanted city yet with its opportunities to contact big business men and land fat contracts.

Well, we can have week-ends in the country and at the shore. Glad Roger loves swimming and golf.

young man wanted to see me. She's such a crazy kid she didn't even have the sense to ask his name... I wonder who he was?

GOVERNOR MAY BE CANDIDATE IN ARKANSAS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 15 (AP)—Arkansas will bury with simple rites here Sunday her illustrious son—Senator Joseph Taylor Robinson.

The state donned official mourning today while the Senator's stricken widow and close relatives sped by train to Washington to return his body.

Recovering slowly from the shock of his unexpected death yesterday, citizens looked for a successor but none emerged clearly in the grief-stricken speculation.

Leaders said no action would be made until after the funeral to which many of the nation's highest, including Vice President John N. Garner, will come.

The body will be taken to the modest family home and later removed to the rotunda of the capital where it will lie in state.

The regular funeral ritual of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will be followed in services at the fashionable First Church at 3 p. m. The Rev. Bascom H. Watts, pastor, and the Rev. James Thomas, longtime friend of the Robinson family, will officiate. Barney Phillips, chaplain of the U. S. Senate, will preach the funeral sermon.

Burial will be in Roseawn Memorial Park on the outskirts of Little Rock.

A question as to whether Mrs. Robinson might receive an interim appointment to succeed her husband was met with announcement at the state capital that it was unlikely any interim appointment would be made.

The state law requires that a general election to fill the office be called by the governor in not less than 60 nor more than 120 days from the time the vacancy occurs.

Governor Carl E. Bailey, 42, whose rise to high office has been rapid and uninterrupted, was regarded by many as a certain candidate for the Senate, but he declined comment.

Mentioned with Bailey were Congressmen John L. McLellan of Malvern and Homer Adkins, internal revenue collector of Little Rock.

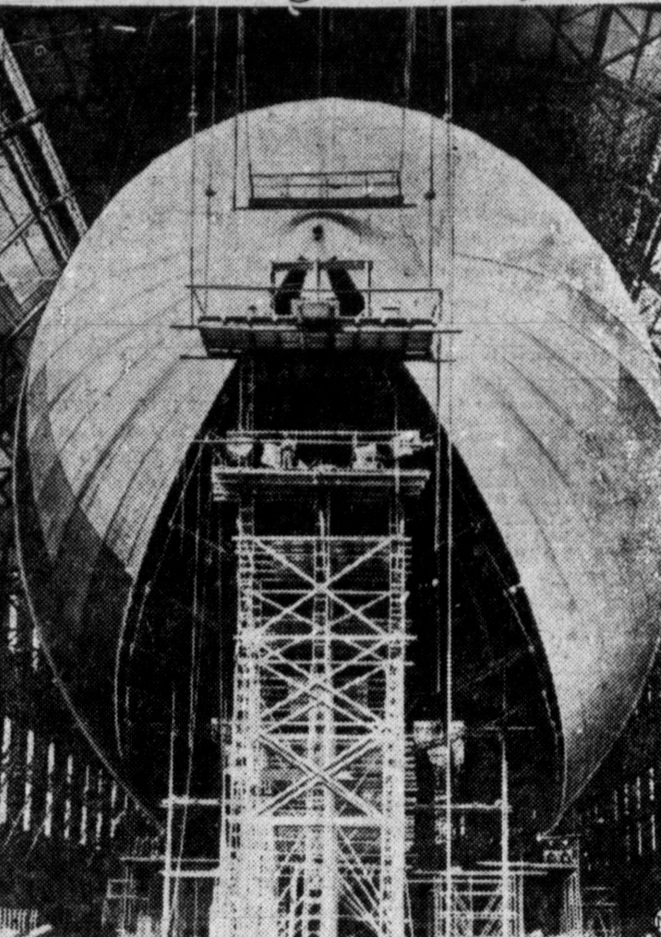

GARNER TO LEAVE FOR ROBINSON'S FUNERAL

UVALDE, July 15 (AP)—Tight-lipped Vice President John N. Garner, keeping his emotions strictly to himself, prepared to leave for Little Rock, Ark., tomorrow to attend the funeral of Senator Joseph Robinson.

He did not deny or affirm he would be President Robinson's personal representative at the services Sunday for the Arkansan he had known 34 years. White House attaches yesterday said he would be the President's emissary.

Mr. Garner hazarded no guess on the possible political effect of the Senate leader's court proposal. He said he did not know if he would go to Washington from Little Rock. The White House had said he was

When the tragic Hindenburg burned, Germany did not falter in its faith in lighter-than-air craft, improved by this "nose-on" picture of its sister ship, the LZ-130, in its hangar at Friedrichshafen. Larger than the Hindenburg, the LZ-130 is rapidly nearing completion. Plans are to put it into passenger service immediately.

On Capitol Hill

AUSTIN, July 15 (AP) Rep. J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene says he intends to renew his fight for a permanent house committee to regulate lobbying at the Legislature's tax-raising session this fall. Lobbyists come to the Capitol in large numbers when higher taxes on industry are threatened.

Bradbury's proposal received a favorable report from the House rules committee in the recent special session but died on the calendar.

The young Abilene lawmaker would empower the committee to make investigations necessary to inform the house of "the facts pertinent to employment, compensation, service, methods or conduct of any and all legislative representatives, agents or attorneys, or of any person, firm or corporation, to influence any act of the Legislature."

expected to return immediately to the capital.

During the weeks he has been home with his fishing, squirrel hunting and peacocks trees the vice president's cheeks have taken on added ruddiness and his eyes sparkle. Friends said he had not been in better physical condition in years.

He has, however, kept in close touch with Washington by mail and wire.

the coming school year from $19 to $22.

The comptroller's department estimated school fund income in the next fiscal year from cigarette taxes and penalties at $2,693,000, that from beer and wine at $410,000, and from hard liquors at $800,000. Anticipated marble machine revenue was not separated but included in the occupation tax estimate of $100,000.

The school fund got $115,087 this year from taxes on horse racing under the certificate system of betting. There will be no more income from that source unless some future Legislature and Governor legalize racing.

It may be difficult to keep the per capita apportionment as high as $22 without raising the State property tax for school purposes. The apportionment could be increased to that figure this year without any property tax boost because of the estimated $3,177,899 surplus in the available school fund next Aug. 31. There will be no surplus Aug. 31, 1938, under present calculations.

Regardless, a reduction of the allotment extending over several years appears improbable unless another depression should strike. The trend always has been upward.

GOLD SHIPPED

SHANGHAI, July 15 (AP)—Chinese banks, including the Central Bank of China, which is owned by the central government, were reported today to have shipped more than $100,000,000 in gold and silver to the British colony of Hongkong, presumably for safe-keeping in the event of war with Japan.
