VOLUME 7 NUMBER 16 HART, CASTRO COUNTY, TEXAS THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1971 10 CENTS A COPY

TORNADO TRIPLE THREAT - - Crumpled wreckage is all that remains of this house on the Ernest Martin farm. A May 1941 storm demolished the house on the farm, it was rebuilt only to be damaged again by a 1968 tornado. Sunday's left total destruction as its calling card.

Tornadoes Smash Area Send One To Hospital

Tornadoes danced in the skies over Hart and surrounding area Sunday night and several dipped down at different points causing considerable damage to homes, crops and machinery, and sending residents scurrying to cellars as sirens blew in the city warning of the approaching tornadoes.

Four different tornadoes from the same cell system were spotted, according to a highway patrolman in Castro County.

One tornado beat out a path of destruction about 100 yards wide for about three miles. Beginning at the Runningwater Draw about two and one-half miles southwest of the Paul Armstrong farm, it struck with full fury at the Armstrongs, completely destroying a house occupied by the Charlie Scott family.

The Scott family was home and the four members took refuge in a bedroom, lying down on a bed. The wind carried the four out into the yard leaving them all on the mattress. One of the daughters, Peggy, was taken to the hospital, where she was treated for bruises and cuts and released.

Five other farm buildings on the place were blown away, along with a machine shop and equipment and a new combine.

The Armstrong home received damage to storm windows and shingles. The Armstrongs reported that the tornado hit shortly before 9 p. m. and that they had started to the cellar and decided they didn't have time to get to it, so began opening outside doors in order to prevent an "explosion" of their home in the event that it was hit.

When the force of the storm hit, the children and Mrs. Armstrong were in the hallway. In order for Armstrong to reach his family, he had to kick down a door which the wind had jammed. They said that books were shaken from their shelves.

The tornado continued its path of destruction taking a heavy toll at Tex-Hart Inc. Elevator, where one barn was totaled and another damaged. Damage was estimated at $100,000 to $150,000 to the premises. The barn had about five million pounds of milo and some corn in it and the storm sent it swirling back into the fields from which it had been harvested.

Going on to the Clint Mc Farland farm, the storm blew away one house and destroyed another. Three persons, Joseph Polk, Larry Brown and Brenda Nelson were occupying one of the houses.

Polk and Brown were treated and released, but Miss Nelson remains hospitalized.

At Ernest Martin farm, a house was destroyed. This was the second time a house on this farm had been destroyed by a tornado. In May of 1941, a tornado completely demolished the house and it was rebuilt. Then in 1968, it was battered again by a tornado, causing damage to windows and siding. This was repaired only to be destroyed in Sunday's tornado.

On the D. A. Bass farm northeast of Hart, a barn and cattle feeders were damaged and one calf was killed and another crippled.

Dean Sanders reported that he lost nine or 10 hog houses in the storm and F. D. Hankins lost a granery, barn and lot fences. Several highline poles were snapped on the Preston Upshaw farm.

Damages were estimated to run between $400,000 and $500,000 to property and crops.

Approximately 25 people sought shelter in the First Baptist Church, after a tornado sent them scampering from their barracks at the Hart of the Plains Gin.

Come From Behind Horns Take Sting Out Of Hornets

By David Bass

The Hart Longhorns came from a 17 point deficit at halftime to score 20 points and defeat the Sudan Hornets 26-23 in the Hornets' own hive.

The win was the Horns' first district 3-A win since they began class A warfare last year. The win gave Hart a 3-2-1 record and a 1-1-1 record in district. The Horns had 15 first downs to 13 for Sudan and both teams had 316 yards total offense.

Sudan received the ball to start the game and on the first play from scrimmage James McClain intercepted a pass for the Horns. This started a spirited drive for the Horns which ended with Johnny Ethridge going 6 yards for the first score of the game. The extra point try was foiled.

Sudan came right back, however, as they moved the ball to the Horn 14 yard line where Roger Boyles scampered in for a score. Bo Lance ran in the two extras.

The rest of the quarter saw mostly defensive action as Sudan recovered a Hart fumble and Erasmo Castillo intercepted a Hornet pass, but neither team was able to score. The quarter ended with Sudan on top 8-6.

Things really went right for the Hornets in the second quarter as they scored first on a 4 yard run by Ernest Jefferson. Lance passed to Boyles for the extras. Sudan's Ernest Jefferson also got another score later in the period as he went six yards. Lance kicked the extra point.

Hart's only glory came right after this as the Horns moved the ball well past midfield and looked as though they might score, but a Longhorn receiver could not hold on to a pass in the end zone and the Horns went to the dressing room trailing 23-6.

Things changed in the second half, though, as a completely revived team of Longhorns took to the field to receive the kickoff.

It didn't take long for the Longhorns to show that they might be down a little but that they sure weren't out.

Jimmy Brown scampered 55 yards around end to set the Horns deep into Sudan territory and only moments later he took a pitchout from Dirk Rambo and went 7 yards for a score. The extra point try was stopped.

This score really set the Horns on fire and they got the five points, Sudan 23, Hart 18.

The last quarter was a thriller ball right back from the stunned Hornets and moved the ball well again. This time the drive was topped off by a 7 yard run by Brown after which the two point try was stopped. There was no more scoring in the quarter but the Horns had pulled up to within ler that saw the Horns get the ball and move well, slowly eating up the clock at the same time. With 4:48 remaining, the jubilant Hart fans saw Ethridge fight and power his way for 6 yards and the winning score. Rambo passed to Castillo for the added margin.

Even though there was only a little time remaining, the Horns had to fight off numerous penalties which aided the Hornets. The clinch play came when James McClain intercepted a Hornet pass--his second for the night--and killed their drive on the Hart 9 yard line.

When the gun went off there were a bunch of happy Longhorns and Longhorn fans looking on a scoreboard that read Hart Longhorns 26 and Sudan Hornets 23.

This week the Horns entertain the undefeated, district-leading Vega Longhorns in an 8 o'clock contest at Longhorn stadium in Hart.

MRS. DANNY SIDES

Danny Sides-Sandy Bennett Pledge Wedding Vows Friday

Miss Sandra Jean Bennett and Danny Lee Sides pledged double ring wedding vows Friday in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bennett.

Officiating was the Rev. Lyman Paul Wood of Oakwood United Methodist Church in Lubbock and a former pastor in Hart.

Parents of the bridegroom are Judge and Mrs. G. T. Sides of Littlefield.

Harold Dean Carson of Olton presented piano selections of the bride and groom. Ricky Bennett, brother of the bride, read a love poem, "And This Is Love."

Votive cup candles centered in English ivy, fresh grapes and red geranium blossoms decorated the staircase. Pots of red geraniums were placed throughout the house. The candlelight ceremony was solemnized before the fireplace banked with candles, English ivy, fresh grapes and geranium blossoms, forming an archway and flanked by spiral arrangements of candles interlaced with ivy and blossoms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of candlelight peau de soie and Venise lace. The Venise lace bodice was marked by a self-fabric sash and featured a high rise lace neckline with peau de soie lantern sleeves capped with Venise lace and gathered at the wrists. The slightly flaired peau de soie skirt swept to fullness in the back and formed a chapel length train. Her full length silk illusion veil was held by a caplet of matching lace and highlighted by clusters of tiny pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of red geranium blossoms with tiny clusters of fresh grapes and English ivy with white satin streamers atop a Bible which was carried by her mother at her own wedding. Attached to the bouquet was a white linen handkerchief which will be embroidered with the bride's name and the date of the wedding and kept as a keepsake.

For the traditional "something old", the bride wore a gold wedding band belonging to her Grandmother Bennett. For "something new", she wore a strand of cultured pearls, a gift of Mrs. Jack George. She "borrowed" a blue garter from Mrs. Ronnie Farris.

Mrs. Coy Riggin of Hereford was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were KathLeen Jones of Olton and Janis Cooper of Plainview, cousin of the bride.

They wore formal length dresses designed by the bride. Fashioned of gold rayon velvet, they featured high stand-up collars and Victorian sleeves accented with candlelight antique lace. They carried cascade bouquets of English ivy, red geranium blossoms and clusters of fresh grapes.

Danny Collins of Lubbock was best man. Groomsmen were Gale McClain of Olton and Scott Jones of Denver, Colo. Guests were seated by Jacky Kemp of Olton and Coy Riggin of Hereford.

Guests were registered by Marie Cooper of Plainview, cousin of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bennett chose a floor length dress of brown organdy and beige silk crepe. The groom's mother wore a floor length dress of pink brocade.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with an eggshell linen cloth with antique brass candlesticks and gold candles. Set atop a circular mirror, the three tiered wedding cake was decorated with ivy streamers and red geranium blossoms. Guests were served by nieces of the groom and a cousin of the bride. Members of the houseparty were Mmes. Ed Bennett, L. C. McLain, Byron Bennett and Sid Cooper Jr.

For a wedding trip to Missouri, the bride chose a floor length dress of burgundy crepe fashioned with high stand-up collar and Victorian sleeves.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Hart High School and Robert Spence School of Modeling in Lubbock. She also attended Parks School of Business in Denver, Colo.

The bridegroom is a 1969 graduate of Olton High School and attended Sam Houston State College and West Texas State University.

The couple will be at home after Oct. 25 in Hereford.

A rehearsal dinner was held Thursday night in the Coachman Restaurant in Olton, hosted by the parents of the groom.

WSCS Begins New Study

Mrs. Thomas Taylor was program leader Thursday morning when members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First United Methodist Church began a new study, "The Invitation".

Roll call was answered with members quoting their favorite scripture verses. Mrs. Taylor presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. Leonard Griswald presented devotional thoughts using verses from the fifth chapter of Paul's letter to the Galatians.

Participating in the program were Mmes. Taylor, Griswald, L. L. Swindle, Mabel Aven and a guest, Kim Taylor.

Coupons Needed To Save Life

Betty Crocker coupons are once again needed to help another person suffering from kidney disease. Mrs. Beatrice Thompson of Tempe, Ariz. is critcally ill and daily needs the use of a kidney machine.

A kidney machine can be purchased with 600,000 Betty Crocker coupons. The coupons are vitally needed now.

Persons who would help with this project may leave coupons at Pay and Save Grocery or send them to Mrs. Mike Burnam. Mrs. Burnam will pick up coupons from those who need that service, call 938-2556.

Mrs. Burnam explains that the coupons must be in by the middle of November.

Financial Facts

By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr.

"The greatest gambling enterprise in the United States has not been significantly touched by organized crime. This is the stock market . . . The reason is that the market works too well. Federal control over the stock market, designed mainly to keep it honest and informative . . . makes it a hard market to tamper with. (From "Economics and Criminal Enterprise," by Dr. Schelling.)

The first sentence in this excerpt probably makes the public-relations people at the New York Stock Exchange wake up screaming. For years the Exchange and securities industry have campaigned to correct the idea that buying stocks was gambling. While there may be some that persist in this suspicion, by and large they have succeeded. It is an exercise in mass psychology, in trying to guess better than the crowd how the crowd will behave.

"Look God: I have never spoken to you, but now I want to say 'How do you do?' You see, God, they told me you didn't exist, and like a fool I believed all of this.
Last night from a shell hole I saw your sky. I figured right then they had told me a lie. Had I taken the time to see the things you made, I'd know.
They weren't calling a spade a spade, I wonder God, if you'd shake my hand. Some how I feel you will understand. Funny, I had to come to this hellish place before I had time to see your face. Well, I guess there isn't much more to say, but, I sure am glad God, I met you today. I guess the zero hour will soon be here.
But I'm not afraid since I know you are here. The signal - well God - I will have to go. I like you a lot - I want you to know that. Looks like this will be a terrible fight.
Who knows? I may come to your house tonight. Though I wasn't friendly with you before, I wonder, God, if you would wait at your door. Look, I'm crying - ME shedding tears! I wish I had known you all these many years. Well I'll have to go now, God, good bye. Strange since I met you I'm not afraid to die!"

CASTRO CO. H.D. AGENT

Time certainly is passing fast. To me this year seems to be going too quickly.

It is again time for another clothing construction workshop. On the 25th at 2 p. m. we'll have a brief meeting to get our pants suit workshop set up and get enrollment completed. If you plan to participate but cannot be here Monday please call and let me know.

Our 4-H'ers are busy getting ready for their annual 4-H Awards Program Nov. 6. This is the highlight of the 4-H year. The 4-H Gold Star Girl and Boy are revealed at this program. This is the highest possible 4-H honor at the county level.

Last week I had the pleasure of attending the Town and Country HD Club meeting. Mrs. Velma Birchfield from the Flagg Club gave an interesting report on the National and State meetings held in Dallas last month. Marshall Jones gave a talk on drugs and answered questions. It gave all of us a better insight into his job and our role of supporting our law officials.

One of the newest moves toward increased consumer protection is in a Department of Commerce proposal for a flammability standard for mattresses. The flammability standard will protect the public from death or injury from bed fires. Data on fires in buildings taken from across the U. S. underscores the need for such a standard.

Since cigarettes are reported the principle cause of bedding fires, the standard test method will use cigarettes as the ignition source. Under the proposed standard, three cigarettes will be burned on specified mattress locations, including the bare mattress and between two sheets on the mattress. If the mattress ignites during the test, it will fail. Mattress pads will also have to pass the proposed standard.

The testing program calls for a sampling plan to provide for a pre-market check, detecting non-complying mattresses before they are offered to consumers. Under the sampling plan, at least one mattress from each production shall be tested.

If a mattress contains any fire-retardant treated components, it will be labeled with the letter "T", in line with Federal Trade Commission regulations.

A final standard can be expected in the first half of 1972. Then, the industry will probably have 12 months to comply before the standard is mandatory.

(MAKE MARK FOR NOTARY'S SEAL)

State of Texas, County of Castro, ss:

Sworn to and subscribed before me this day of October, 19 71, and I hereby certify that I am not an officer or director of this bank.

My commission expires June 1, 19 73 Notary Public.

I get plenty of teasing from the fellows at the plant about my cove. They call it "Crockett's Cure-all for Tired Executives." And they're right.

Drifting alone on the still water, tiny under the full sky, things fall into perspective. A bird calls, upriver a fish arches, a passing breeze brings blossom scent. Somehow, no matter how thorny my problem, the harmony of God's nature takes the kinks out of me.

Things weren't always this way. A few years back a tree was just a tree to me — a lake, a lake. Now, wherever I look, I see God's goodness.

It all started one evening when, worried and depressed, I wandered into a church. I can't remember now what was sung or read, but I will never forget the sense of God's presence. Since then, God's Church and teachings have been my strength.

Your church offers inspiration and a fresh viewpoint. Take advantage of it.
