Stanolind Gets Interesting Shows In Martin Wildcat

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has found interesting shows of oil in a Permian section between the Spraberry and the Dean sands in its No. 1 Cowden, Southwest Martin County wildcat.

This possible new field opener is 10 miles northwest of Midland and 30 miles west of Stanton.

The shows came in a drillstem test at 9,040-9,150 feet. The tool was open five hours. Gas surfaced in three hours and by the time the tool was closed the gas was in a strong blow.

Recovery

Recovery was 15 feet of free oil, 1,000 feet of oil and gas cut water blanket, 800 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud, 1,000 feet of slightly gas and oil cut drilling mud, and 150 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud below the circulating sub.

Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 550 pounds. Shutin bottomhole pressure was 2,375 pounds. Length of the shutin was not reported.

No Water

There were no signs of formation water in the fluid which was recovered during the test. The prospector is making hole below 9,150 feet in lime and shale.

The section tested was about 100 feet below the Spraberry and approximately 140 feet above the top of the Dean.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 30, block 40, T-1-N, R-6-E survey. The wildcat is due to drill to 14,000 feet to test the Ellenburger. It had only slight shows of oil and gas in the Spraberry.

Wilshire Finds More Oil Shows In Upton Tester

The Wilshire Oil Company No. 41-41, Gantt, wildcat in Central Upton County, took another drillstem test in the lower Spraberry from 8,102 to 8,170 feet.

Tool was open two and one-quarter hours. Recovery was 130 feet of oil and gas-cut mud with some free oil and 110 feet of gas-cut mud.

Open flowing bottomhole pressure ranged from zero to 25 pounds. Shutin bottomhole pressure after 15 minutes was zero.

This project indicated as a discovery from the lower Spraberry on a previous drillstem test from 7,892 to 8,052 feet.

Location is at the center of the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 41, block C, OCS-DeRONG survey and 15 miles north of Rankin.

Rank Wildcat Is Spotted In King By Continental

Continental Oil Company spotted location for a rank wildcat in South-Central King County, 12 miles southeast of Guthrie.

Contracted to 6,700 feet, the project will be drilled as No. 1 Alexander Estate 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 66; block F, R-4-T-C survey.

It is to be drilled on a 13,776-acre lease. Operations are to start at once.

Ellenburger Oil Is Developed In SE Reagan Test

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-C-48 University, wildcat, two miles southeast of production in the Barnhart-Ellenburger field of Southeast Reagan County, has indicated as a producer on four drillstem tests of the Ellenburger.

Operator ran a drillstem test from 9,009 to 9,035 feet. Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 1,600-foot water blanket and 30 feet of drilling mud with no shows.

Deepened to 9,060 feet, operator took a drillstem test in the project from 9,032 to 9,060 feet. Tool was open one hour. Recovery was seven stands of free gas, 1,000-foot water blanket heavily gas cut, 90 feet of oil and gas-cut mud. No formation water was present. Open flowing bottomhole pressure was zero and 15-minute shutin pressure was 1,250 pounds.

Another DST

Operator then drilled to 9,085 feet and took a drillstem test from 9,058 to 9,085 feet. Tool was open one hour. Gas surfaced in 15 minutes and blew steadily throughout the test. Recovery

Bolts Split Two State Conventions

Loyal Demos Walk Out On Shivers Bloc

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— Texas Democrats split into two angry factions Tuesday over the question of pledging delegates to support the national party's nominee for President.

A howling minority of pro-Truman Democrats streamed out of the convention dominated by Conservatives headed by Gov. Allan Shivers.

They headed for another hall eight blocks south to organize their own convention while the Shivers meeting proceeded at Municipal Auditorium. Both conventions will make a strong bid to have their delegations seated at the national convention at Chicago.

The Loyal Democrats challenged the seating of unpledged delegates and that's the question that brought the well-advertised bolt.

The Loyalists did not appeal a ruling of the presiding officer, J. E. Wheat of Woodville, that a point of order against a Loyalist minority report demanding the pledge was well taken.

Maury Maverick, Loyalist floor leader, took the microphone and shouted:

"Let's go."

There was a moment of silence, then uproar as several hundred delegates and spectators walked and ran toward the exits. Those who stayed jeered and waved handkerchiefs in farewell.

Mink Costa Agala

Maverick had just been told by Tom Sealy of Midland, a Conservative leader, that he was in the wrong place.

"Many delegations with Lamar, Caudill and Mink costs and government by presidential edict in Washington," he told the convention.

After the bolters, with considerable pushing and shoving and isolated fist fights, left the hall, Claude Gilmer of Rock Springs was elected temporary chairman. The un-

Tot Drowns In Pond Near Home Here

A two-year-old Midland girl drowned late Monday when she fell into a small pond at the rear of her home at 604 South Lorraine Street.

The child, Kearon Chambers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Chambers, was pronounced dead after city firemen and doctors had worked in vain more than an hour to resuscitate her.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in Resthaven Memorial Park, under direction of the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel.

Police said the child was playing in her yard. When her father noticed her missing a few minutes, he investigated and found the tiny body lying in the pond.

Firemen were summoned and the girl was rushed to Western Clinic Hospital. She was pronounced dead an hour later.

Other survivors are a sister, Phyllis; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Percy Chambers of Wichita Falls; and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Smith of Burkburnett.

19 Posse Units Invited To Ride In Rodeo Parade

Sheriff's Posse units from 19 West Texas counties have been invited to take part in the colorful parade heralding the opening of the 18th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo, June 4.

Joe Beakey, captain of the Midland County Sheriff's Posse, said Tuesday the Post Stampede, Inc., and the Lynn County Sheriff's Posse were the first units to respond to the invitation. The Post group will include about 20 riders, while the Lynn delegation will have 25 possemen.

Beakey said he expects 10 or 12 other possemes to accept invitations to participate in the parade.

Michigan Jet Ace Bags Another MIG

SEOUL, KOREA —(AP)— The Air Force said U. S. Sabre jet pilots shot down a Communist jet Tuesday in an aerial duel over North Korea.

On the ground, action was limited to patrol skirmishes.

Jet Ace Maj. Donald Adams, Mt. Clemens, Mich., was credited with destroying the MIG, raising his total bag of Red jets to six and one-half.

Commissioners Gingerly Promise Study Of West Side Park Proposal

Midland County Commissioners gingerly promised Monday afternoon to study the possibility of submitting a $250,000 bond issue to the taxpayers to finance a proposed West Side community park.

But, even if they decide to call the bond election, it probably won't be until fall.

"With all the politics brewing," said County Judge Clifford C. Keith, chairman of Commissioners Court, "I think now is a poor time for a bond election."

"By Fall, too, we'll have a better picture of our valuation figures and our financial situation generally."

For two hours the commissioners discussed the park proposal with members of the City Council in a joint session at the Midland County Courthouse.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt said an engineering survey of the proposed West Side Park indicated the cost would run close to $250,000—including an elaborate $105,000 swimming pool.

Under the council's proposal, the city would undertake the entire development of a North Side community park on the Wadley tract if the county will develop the West Side Park.

Commissioners were aware, however, of the proposal and Judge Keith pointed out that the county is faced with several other major projects, which will require bond issue. At the same time, the county is limited, he said, by a maximum levy of 25 cents on each $100 of property valuation.

He said these projects include a $1,000,000 addition to the courthouse, the widening of Highway 80 both east and west of the city, and other highway projects.

"Well," said Councilman Ray O. Howard, "I'm speaking only as a private citizen now and not as a member of the City Council. 'But I haven't heard any great clamor for a new courthouse.' 'You've heard a clamor for a library, haven't you?' replied Judge Keith.

AND NOW IT'S SPUD-NAPPERS

ALTUS, OKLA. —(AP)— Farmer Jack Colville has placed a 24-hour guard over his irrigated potato fields near here to save the rest of his valuable crop from "potato nappers."

Colville said Tuesday thieves recently dug and carted off most of the potatoes in a quarter-acre tract. He said the thieves, spurred by a potato shortage, tried to conceal their work by burrowing under the vines from the side, stealing the potatoes from the roots and then pushing the dirt back around the vine.

Boatner's headquarters announced stiff disciplinary action had been taken against an American soldier who Monday walked into one of the compounds in direct disobedience of orders. The soldier's immediate superior also was rebuked. Names of the men involved were not announced.

Red leaders of the 6,000 POW's in 95 told the new commander of this No. 1 prison camp they were ready to obey his orders. But they asked to meet with him.

Informal sources said Boatner replied that the Reds first must comply with certain terms before he would talk with them. He sent Col. Maurice J. Fitzgerald, former deputy commander of the camp, to confer with the Reds.

Filings For District Attorney Reopen As Shafer Withdraws

District Attorney W. O. Shafer, unopposed for reelection, announced Monday afternoon he is withdrawing as a candidate for the 70th Judicial District post.

Filing period for candidates, closed since May 4, immediately was thrown open until Monday by Frank Benson, chairman of the Midland County Democratic Executive Committee.

Candidates for the position also must file with Thomas J. Pitts, Odessa attorney and chairman of the Ector County Democratic Executive Committee.

Shafer, now serving his first term as district attorney, said he is withdrawing from the race for the $5,500 job so he can devote his time to the private law practice.

"I am making this request," he said, "after it has become increasingly obvious that I can no longer afford the physical and financial sacrifice that will be required in my serving another term."

"Forever Grateful"

"By withdrawing my application at this time, the people of the 70th Judicial District will have an opportunity to elect my successor."

"I will be forever grateful to the people of Midland and Ector Counties for the confidence exhibited in me by permitting me to be unopposed."

Tough Red POW's Reported Ready To Obey Boatner Terms

KOJE ISLAND, KOREA —(AP)— Tough Communist prisoners of war in Compound 95—some of April 10 rioting — were reported ready to come to terms with Gen. Haydon L. Boatner Tuesday.

Red leaders of the 6,000 POW's in 95 told the new commander of this No. 1 prison camp they were ready to obey his orders. But they asked to meet with him.

Gentle Rains Fall Over West Texas

Light to moderate, gentle rains, the second in a little more than a week, strolled across West Texas and Eastern New Mexico Monday night and early Tuesday, on the heels of thirsty gusts of wind and sand.

Midland collected 31 inch during the night at the city shop, and there was modest promise of still further precipitation during the day. Rain fell on and off during the night and early morning hours, accompanied by lightning and thunder.

The Gulf Pipe Line Station east of the city recorded .19 inch, and Midland Air Terminal to the west, .29 inch.

The Henry Neal ranch to the south reportedly received a heavy rain.

An electrical storm and a heavy downpour of rain struck Central Ward County during the night. R. L. Miller, district manager of the Texas Electric Service Company, said lightning split numerous poles in the area. He said workmen would be unable to get into the area to repair the damage until the water subsided.

Fine For Rodeo

Ozona, Iran and Crane received the greatest ration—each reporting a full inch of moisture.

Everyone agreed the rainfall was the finest thing possible for the 18th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo, which opens here June 4.

MIDLAND TO CLOSE FRIDAY

Friday will be a quiet and peaceful day here as Midland observes its first city-wide Memorial Day holiday.

Most retail stores, service establishments, banks, Post Office, professional firms and oil company and governmental offices will be closed.

City and county offices will be closed both Friday and Saturday.

The Reporter-Telegram will publish early Friday.

West Allies Sign Mutual Safety Pacts

PARIS —(AP)— The Big Three powers backed up the six-nation European Army pact Tuesday with a new declaration that they would consider a Communist attack on Berlin, West Germany or any other part of free Europe a "threat to their own security."

The declaration was coincident with the ceremonial signing of the Army pact and related agreements by France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg which, when ratified, will merge their armed forces into a single army of one million men—history's first peacetime international force.

The pact is a companion to the peace treaty signed at Bonn Monday by the three Western powers and the West German Republic.

Taft Machine Boots Out All Ike's Backers

MINERAL WELLS —(AP)— Texas Republicans opened their regular convention—Taft to the hilt—at 11:27 a.m. Tuesday while the ousted Eisenhower delegates whooped across the street.

The Eisenhower people were jammed in a community center hall cheering, yelling, whistling, waiting for the right time to start their rump convention.

Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, State Executive Committee chairman, rapped the gavel in convention hall.

"You behaved yourselves splendidly yesterday," he told them, "whoever you were for."

The backers of General Eisenhower stuck to their fight to get contested county delegations seated for almost 21 hours Monday before the State GOP Executive Committee.

They lost. And the forty pictures of Senator Robert Taft of Ohio plastered around the regular convention hall—no sign of Eisenhower—showed who won.

Eisenhower people were staying in a "mass rally" until the Credentials Committee of the regular convention made its report. They didn't expect to get anything there. They already had their temporary roll made up for a rump convention.

"On to Chicago!" it was for both. And two sets of 38-member delegations from Texas to the national GOP convention was a foregone conclusion.

Policeman Watches As Pecos Man Kills Estranged Wife, Self

PECOS —A Pecos policeman watched John Des Flores, 51, fatally wound his estranged wife, then turn the pistol on himself Monday night.

Flores died enroute to a hospital from a 9 mm. pistol shot in his right temple. His wife died at 11:15 p.m. Monday, almost two hours after the shooting. She had been wounded in the abdomen and leg.

Officer Blakely Wingo said he had stopped the Flores automobile about 9:30 p.m., having noticed it weaving dangerously. As he approached, Mrs. Flores screamed, "Grab that gun!"

"Like hell!" Flores retorted, and began firing.

Suicide and murder was the verdict returned by Justice of the Peace F. D. (Ruffy) Alley in the shooting, described by officers as a family feud.

Funeral rites are pending.

Baseball-Rodeo
Conflicting Dates
Are Eliminated

The Midland Indians will get to see the annual-World Championship Midland Rodeo after all.

Until Monday, their home schedule conflicted with the rodeo dates, but General Manager Horace Busby finally fixed things up so Midlanders won't have to miss the rodeo or the baseball games.

The June 6 game with San Angelo was postponed. The June 7 game will be played at 3 p.m. and a doubleheader with San Angelo will be played on the night of June 11.

PUSAN, KOREA —(AP)— Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, sped here from Seoul Tuesday and went into immediate conference with President Syngman Rhee on the South Korean executive's declaration of martial law, following guerrilla attacks on American soldiers.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— James P. McGranery took the oath of office as attorney general Tuesday and promised law violators will be "apprehended, prosecuted and convicted."

Missouri Democrats Vote Non-Instructed Delegates

JEFFERSON CITY, MO.—(AP)—The majority of Missouri's 43 delegates to the national Democratic nominating convention apparently is waiting for guidance from President Truman.

Truman himself was among the uninstructed delegates elected Monday to cast the state's 34 votes at the July convention in Chicago.

Only 10 delegates indicated a preference for the presidential nomination. The others remained uncommitted, obviously waiting to see what Truman wants them to do.

The President was elected one of 16 delegates-at-large from his home state, but an alternate will cast his half-vote since he does not plan to go to the convention until after the presidential candidate is nominated. Each of the at-large delegates chosen at the state convention has half a vote. Twenty-six delegates, selected in district caucuses, each has a full vote.

Illinois' Gov. Adlai Stevenson had the backing of seven of the 10 delegates expressing a preference. One was for Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, another for Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman and another for Vice President Alben Barkley.

Thomas J. Gavin, a Kansas City councilman and friend of Truman, was selected as the alternate to cast the President's half-vote. Both he and the President are members of the Kansas City James M. Pendergast political organization.

The convention adopted a resolution commending the Truman Administration. It also heard from Congressman Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (D-NY).

Roosevelt, a Harriman supporter, did not mention his candidate but referred to Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) as "this little man who would dare to be President" and said Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was a good general but "doesn't know much about America."

Three Indicted For Arson By Bombing

DALLAS —(AP)— Three Dallas men were indicted for arson by bombing Monday by the Dallas County grand jury in connection with the bombing of former Sheriff Steve Guthrie's Restaurant May 22, 1951.

They were Robert Edwards Bragins, 29, Finley Gerald Donica, 38, and James Nathan Gilreath, 29. The three were among seven alleged members of a Dallas-based burglary gang who were picked up recently by Texas Rangers.

YANKEE MEAT BUILDS GLAMOR

LONDON —(AP)— British film star Glynis Johns returned home from New York Monday night and proclaimed the powers of good American meat.

She used to be a vegetarian, she said, but six months of eating meat in America had done wonders all around—added an inch to her former five-foot, three-inch height, upped her 115-pound weight by another 15 pounds and made her hair two feet a size larger.

"Also I've grown bigger here," she blushing said, pointing to her bust. "I'm 36 now instead of 34 and my waist is 24 instead of 32."

An executive of her film company said the American-made curves would photograph very well.

"We're delighted with the extra glamor," he declared.

Canadians Protest Assignment To Koje

SEOUL, KOREA —(AP)— Canadian protests regarding the transfer of Canadian troops to riot-torn Koje Island as guards of Red prisoners of war were answered Tuesday by an Eighth Army spokesman.

"This Army is a United Nations Army and the prisoners on Koje are United Nations prisoners," he said. "The Canadian unit (one company) was dispatched to Koje with the concurrence of the senior Commonwealth commander in Korea." The commander is "aj. Gen. A. J. H. Cassels, an Englishman who commands the First Commonwealth Division.

It was understood in Seoul that the order sending the Canadians to Koje was cleared through Lt. Gen. William Bridgeford, Australian commander of Commonwealth forces in Korea and Japan.

In Ottawa Monday, the government expressed displeasure and concern in a strongly worded note to the U. S. State Department.

Foreign Minister Lester Pearson said Canada "views with concern" the fact the company was dispatched to Koje without prior discussion.

Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters in Tokyo declined comment.

A spokesman for Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, said: "So far we have heard nothing officially."

Catholics Pack Barcelona For Eucharistic Congress

BARCELONA, SPAIN —(AP)— The purple-robed cardinals, archbishops in violet and pilgrims from all over the world gathered in this ancient city to pray for peace at the opening Tuesday of the 38th International Catholic Eucharistic Congress.

The congress—first in 14 years—was to open officially with the arrival Tuesday afternoon of Pope Pius' representative, Federico Cardinal Tedeschini. Already a half-million visiting faithful jammed Barcelona.

Tedeschini was to inaugurate the congress—first held in Lille in 1881—with the singing Tuesday night of the Veni Creator in Barcelona's cathedral. The official program concludes Monday.

Foreign Minister Albert Martin Artajo and all of Spain's top government leaders except Generalissimo Francisco Franco were to greet Tedeschini on his arrival. Franco plans to make a triumphal entry into Barcelona harbor Thursday aboard the cruiser Miguel de Cervantes.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, received an ovation Monday night when he flew into Barcelona Airport. He appeared tired from a quick flight back home—after already reaching Europe—because of an aunt's death.

Numerous Altars
Barcelona, Spain's second city, was dressed up as never before. Flags decked the buildings. Spotlights flashed across the skies at night. The streets were thronged.

Numerous altars erected throughout the city were dominated by three huge crosses visible to pilgrims arriving by sea and air.

The biggest cross will become a permanent landmark commemorating the congress.

The congresses honor the belief that Christ is truly present in the bread and wine of the Sacrament of Holy Communion called the Eucharist. The last congress was held in Budapest, Hungary, in 1938.

Two popes are to be honored by the congress. A square where many of the ceremonies are to be held will be named after the present pontiff, Pope Pius XII. The other is the late Pope Pius X, who was beatified last year and who, many expect, soon may be canonized.

Ancient Dinosaur Bones Unearthed

HARRIMAN, N. Y. —(AP)— Fossil bones of a dinosaur, at least 150,000,000 years old, have been unearthed near here by a power shovel digging a drainage ditch.

The bones, found about four feet underground, were disinterred by the operators of the shovel, John Leinweber and Christopher Schnick, both of Warwick, N. Y.

Scientists who have seen the fossils say they belonged to an anchi-saurus, a dinosaur which commonly grew to a height of about six feet. Among the bones are a rear leg, jaw bone and parts of ribs.

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: Mrs. James Mason's expose of movietown social cliques left Hollywood wailing. And now it's Orson Wells' turn to barbecue Hollywood at a costume ball he will host in Rome this summer.

Orson's guests have been asked to come, dressed as the Hollywood type that strikes them as the most ridiculous. He's even hired Lester Lamin's band to fly to Rome and play at the affair. All members of the orchestra will be costumed as Hollywood geniuses, complete with loud sports jackets and dark glasses.

The Red Shadow rides again in "The Desert Song," you say? No, sir. Times have changed. Red's a subversive word in Hollywood, even when applied to a shadow. So Gordon MacRae, starring in the Warner remake of "The Desert Song," will be the mysterious El Khebar instead of the Red Shadow.

It's Gordon's biggest role to date and he's beaming: "It's terrific. I'm a regular Douglas Fairbanks Jr."

For executives are screaming over the printed report that they've purchased Peggy Hopkins Joyce's life story for $75,000 and June Haver positively is aghast over the rumor that she'll play the oft-married Peggy. Not true, studio officials say, although they admit they were offered the chance to buy Peggy's autobiography.

Mystified Horse Thief
Steve Cochran's wincing over the Legion of Decency "C" rating on "The Lion and the Horse." He can't understand it.

"There's no sex, and no shoot-'em-up stuff," he remarked. "I guess the only objection is that I stole a horse and got away with it."

Sounds like the beginning of the end, but Travis Kieff is sailing for Hawaii—without Jane Wyman. They once planned the trip to Hawaii as a honeymoon. . . . Linda Darnell, still misty-eyed over that newspaperman, is finding consolation with Pierre La Mure, the French author who wrote "Moulin Rouge."

Lisa Feltreli, the young Italian Airlines hostess who recently sold Roberto Rossellini an original screenplay based on the life of Mussolini, will be screen tested by UI in New York. . . . Cara Williams, who deserted movies for TV, spends the evenings she's not before the cameras with Nelson Waterbury, the young millionaire-inventor.

Ava Gardner's having sacroiliac trouble. . . . Errol Flynn's flying a one-seater plane these days and talking about winging it to England. . . . Ann Blyth will duet with Mario Lanza in "The Student."

THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, TUESDAY, MAY 27, 1952-3

Methodist WSCS Has Coffee, Report Meet In Chancellor Home

Mrs. C. W. Chancellor was hostess to the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church at its quarterly report meeting and coffee Monday in her home.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. R. O. Baker, Mrs. Willard Bumpass, Mrs. Joe V. Birdwell and Mrs. John A. Knox.

Reports were made by Mrs. Luther Kirk, youth work; Mrs. B. B. Bea-wright, vice president; Mrs. W. P. Schaffer, Christian social relations; Mrs. H. O. Counts, student work; Mrs. E. O. Messersmith, historian; Mrs. Hugh Bliss, literature and publications; Mrs. Chancellor, supply work; Mrs. Baker, status of women; Mrs. Birdwell, press chairman; Mrs.

Clark J. Mathews, children's work, and Mrs. J. R. Smith, Mrs. George White, Mrs. W. P. Prothro and Mrs. Knox, circle reports.

Mrs. J. H. Fraizer announced names will be drawn Monday for new circles. It was voted to serve a breakfast June 8, feeling the church's recent high school graduates and college students home for vacation.

The group also voted to send a negro delegate to the Leadership Training School in Amarillo this Summer and to have an officers training day at 2 p.m. June 5.

Circle study leaders were asked to attend the School of Missions to be held in Lubbock July 28 through August 1. The group gave Mrs. George P. Bradbury, promotion secretary and presiding officer, a vote of thanks for her two years' work. Mrs. Prothro gave the devotional and Mrs. B. McReynolds, the closing prayer.

Others attending were Mrs. Sam Preston, treasurer, and Mrs. Lida Kendall of El Paso, a guest. Mrs. Kendall is visiting the Rev. and Mrs. Luther Kirk.

Pink, Blue Shower Fetes Mrs. O'Neil

Mrs. Betty O'Neil was honored with a pink and blue shower recently in the home of Mrs. Lillie Reeves.

The guest list included Jo Ann Stephens, Mrs. Vivian O'Neil, Mrs. J. S. Grimes, Mrs. Leon Reeves, Mrs. Deanne Wallace, Mrs. Marlene O'Dell, Mrs. W. A. O'Dell, Mrs. Inez Bragg, Mrs. Jo O'Neil, Mrs. S. A. Wilson, Nancy Reeves, Joan Reeves, Mrs. R. L. O'Neil, Mrs. A. C. Reeves, Mrs. Johnnie Sullins, Mrs. Edd McGee, Mrs. Sue Stewart, Sybil Reeves, Mrs. J. H. Gill, Mrs. J. H. Goins, Mrs. R. O. Walker and Mrs. Clarence Hardin.

PARTICIPANTS NAMED

The names of Catherine Stander and Ann Shelton, piano pupils of Mrs. Van Camp, were omitted from the recital program published in a recent edition of The Reporter-Telegram. The recital was held Sunday in the First Christian Church. Miss Stander played "Clair de Lune" and Miss Shelton played "Crescendo."

Free Yourself from laxative slavery

Try this delightful family breakfast treat! Eat a generous bowlful (about 1/2 cup) of crisp, toasty Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with sugar and cream. Drink plenty of liquids. ALL-BRAN is the natural laxative cereal that may help you back to youthful regularity, lost because of lack of bulk in your diet. It's the only type ready-to-eat cereal that supplies all the bulk you may need. High in cereal protein, rich in iron, provides essential B and D vitamins. Not habit-forming. Why don't you try it? Kellogg's is so sure you'll like ALL-BRAN that if you're not completely satisfied after 10 days, send empty carton to Kellogg's, Battle Creek, Mich., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

Baptist WMU Slates Meeting

"The Multitudes Need Christian Homes" was the program topic of the Woman's Missionary Union at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church.

Speakers for the Royal Service Program included Mrs. Norman Taylor, Mrs. J. C. Vandeventer and Mrs. Charles Mason. Mrs. Frank Monroe gave the devotional and Mrs. Robert Goff was the soloist.

Mrs. Noel Cason, WMU president, presided at the business meeting. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

French Heels Dance Held In Country Club

Approximately 150 couples attended the French Heels Club charity ball Saturday night in the Ranchland Hill Country Club.

Lee Powers, orchestra furnished the music. Decorations carried out a Spring fair theme, with the bandstand designed to simulate a merry-go-round. Crepe paper streamers extended to the sides of the room from a cluster of balloons suspended from the ceiling. Carousels danced along the sides of the dance floor completed the decorations.

Proceeds will go to the Midland Day Nursery. Eve Smith is the French Heels Club president.

Pre-Wedding Days Must Be Planned

Busy pre-wedding plans will leave you completely exhausted and far from feeling radiant unless you allow time for relaxation. Get into the habit of spending at least twenty minutes a day out in the sunshine. Prop your feet up high to rid your legs of the kinks you're bound to have as a result of shopping and fittings. Listen to soft music to ease out the worry lines, and if you are in the mood study the travel folders you and your husband-to-be have gathered together (left). The surest way to relax is among the soap bubbles in a soothing lukewarm tub bath (center). Tuck a folded bath towel under your curls and wiggle your toes in a long luxurious soaking! As the final glamorizing touch when the "big" moment does arrive, choose an enchanting fragrance that will further help to insure a perfect wedding day (right) for you and your complete bridal party.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

Every girl wants to be a beautiful bride—and certainly you are no exception. Yet as the days fly by, the pressure of plans seems to be wearing you out. You're probably wondering how you will ever have the strength, no less the glamor, to walk down the aisle.

If it's any consolation there's hardly a bride who hasn't experienced the same kind of exhaustion. But the smart girls do something about it, before it is too late.

Gamma Phi Alums Sponsor Barbecue

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kotyza were hosts to the members and guests of the Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae Association at a barbecue Friday.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Redman, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jackson, Cornie Mifflin and Bruce Meador, all of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Norris Creath, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Northrup, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ramsland, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stollenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Jack P. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wienold, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Starr and Mr. and Mrs. Sol Bunnell.

ASSOCIATION TO MEET

The Alpha Delta Pi Alumnae Association will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Hugh Gilmore, 110 Club Drive.

Harry King Calls For Single Saddle

Harry King of Big Spring called for the Single Saddle Square Dance Club at its meeting Monday in the City-County Auditorium.

Yvonne Morton was a guest. Others attending were Novella Bailey, Barbara Pessler, David Ellis, Edith Emmer, Lily Gilbert, Ruby Ginn, Johnny Grant, John Gray, Harold Longino, Jimmy Means, Curtis Reagan, Jean Sauze, June Sauze, Jack Wallace and Elizabeth Underwood.

The next meeting will be held in the City-County Auditorium June 9.

TO OBSERVE HOLIDAY

The Midland County Library will be closed Friday and Saturday in observance of Memorial Day. It was announced by Lucile Carroll, librarian.

Couple Reads Vows In Calvary Church

Janey Brafford and Sgt. Charles O. Williams exchanged vows recently in the Calvary Baptist Church in Midland.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. C. W. Lightsey of San Angelo. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Williams of Midland.

The bride wore a pale blue nylon dress and carried white orchids. Williams has been stationed with the Army in San Antonio after two years in Korea and Japan.

A tight cover on a saucepan will keep steam in the pan and make for uniform cooking; tight covers also permit cooking with low heat in the smallest possible amount of water.

MOUSTERIOUS BUSINESS—An electronic mouse with a man-made "super memory" scuttles through mazes at Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York, and helps solve problems involving telephone circuits. The metal "rodent," invented by Claude E. Shannon, "remembers" any wrong turnings it may take, and once it reaches the "bait," an electric contact, it rings a bell. It can then repeat the course without making a mistake. More than 1,000,000 combination routes can be "solved" by the device.

JENNIFER LAYS BY THE DOZEN

CUDWORTH, ENGLAND—A prolific, pink-eyed hen named Jennifer laid 19 eggs in less than one hour. Jennifer's owner, farmer Charlie Rogers, said she hadn't produced an egg for days and looked "a bit off color." So he brought her into the house Monday and made her comfortable in front of the fire. Then things began to happen. The eggs came popping out at five-minute intervals. Charlie got worried and summoned two neighbors and the village postman to stand by. The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals declared that by all rights Jennifer should have died of peritonitis and sent to a veterinary to look her over. The vet said she seemed to be doing fine and her output looked like a record to them.

Christian Science Heals Grief and Loneliness

To those suffering loss or separation, Christian Science comes with merciful and unending blessing. Through devoted study of its textbook many such have found a steady light that pierces the dark. In heartfelt thankfulness they found comfort. They have entered a path which grief and loneliness can no longer shadow.

SCIENCE AND HEALTH with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy

Christ Jesus words, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly" (John 10), now take on fresh assurance. Science and Health has come in fulfillment of Biblical promise. It shows the practical value of the Scriptures, and their spiritual power to meet present-day needs.

Science and Health may be bought, read, or borrowed at Christian Science READING ROOM.

407 North C Street MIDLAND or send $3 and a copy in the blue cloth Library Edition will be mailed postpaid.

You are invited to make full use of the above and other public Reading Rooms (list in your neighborhood sent on request). Information concerning free public lectures, church services and Sunday School is also available in these Rooms.

Top Fighter Ace To Return Home From Korea Soon

TOKYO—Col. Francis S. Gabreski, a leading ace of Korea jet battles and the propeller-powered air fighting of World War II, is going home soon. "I hope the experience I have gained out here can be used in the future for the good of the Air Force," he said. No announcement has been made of his next assignment. His tour in Korea ended when he completed 100 combat missions. Gabreski shot down six and one-half MIG-15 jets—the second highest total in Korea. This, with his World War II record of 28 planes destroyed in the air and three on the ground, made him the U. S. Air Force's No. 1 fighter ace in active combat.

Fort Davis Pilot Dies In Air Crash

BRYAN—Louis P. Jarrett was killed Monday when a light crop-duster airplane he was flying snagged a guy wire and crashed on a highway. The plane smashed into Highway 50 Jarrett, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jarrett of Fort Davis, was a senior student at Texas A&M College.

Windsor Visits Aged Mother In England

SOUTHAMPTON, ENGLAND—The Duke of Windsor returned to England Tuesday for another visit with his mother, 85-year-old queen Mary. He arrived the day after her birthday. The duke arrived on the liner Queen Elizabeth. His wife, for whom he gave up the throne in 1936, left the ship a few hours earlier when it stopped at Cherbourg, France. The twice-divorced, American-born duchess never has been accepted by the British royal family. The duke will rejoin her later in France.

Dallas Negro Makes Seventh Jailbreak

HUNTSVILLE—A Dallas County negro with a record of six jailbreaks behind him did it again Monday. Retiree Prison Farm officials reported that Leonard Williams, 30, had disappeared while field squads were being transferred from prison barracks to trailer wagons for transportation to the fields. Williams was sent to prison June 2, 1951, from Dallas County to serve 10 years for burglary and theft.

1952 Seniors Receive Personal Plaudits

You certainly will want to give your appearance special attention on Graduation Day. As you stand before your friends, teachers and family, your grooming efforts will be in full view. First, be sure you are getting enough sleep. Bloated skin and limp-looking hair often result from a lack of rest. Choose your make-up with care. Since you won't want to hide your natural youthful glow, a fluid color make-up might be best for you. Smooth it over your face

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

What wonderful thrills await you on Graduation Day. Your four years of high school will be over, and you will stand before your family and friends an adult—eager and ready to make a success of the future. Graduation practice, cap and gown fitting and class activities, have no doubt been keeping you very busy. But what you should be thinking about, in addition to everything else, is how you will look when you proudly step up for your diploma. Have you decided on your make-up? You will want it to give you enough color to complement your and neck with your fingers (left) and see how it enhances your coloring. To keep your hair in place under your cap, apply a hair dressing designed to give your coiffure gleaming, well-kept beauty (right). Just before you make your appearance on the stage, take a last minute check of your lipstick (center). It should be smoothly and evenly applied, and the color should harmonize with the rest of your make-up. The finished effect should be perfectly lovely.

natural youthful glow.

Particularly good for the occasion is a fluid color make-up which flatters and enhances, yet leaves no thick, heavy film. It is non-drying, non-clogging and gives a clean fresh look that will not rub off easily (no smudge on the collar of your gown) and is long-lasting and non-irritating.

This make-up is a fine light-textured, emollient-type of powder foundation, completely different from the heavier, cake-like bases. It is not a cover-up. Rather, the make-up smooths, spreads and seems to become your own natural color.

And there is a wonderful new lipstick shade, the color of freshly picked cherries, that will be just the right accent for your make-up and graduation gown. You won't have to worry about fluorescent lighting, either. The lipstick doesn't fade out.

But don't expect your skin to look "peaches-and-cream" smooth if you haven't been getting any sleep. No make-up can ever conceal your droopy-looking eyes and blotchy complexion. You should be getting at least eight hours of rest every single night.

With your graduation cap perched prettily on your head, your hair will be receiving quite a bit of attention, too. If you really want it to look lovely, you will have to realize that shampooing alone will not do the trick.

First, you must step up scalp circulation by massaging and brushing.

Next, of course, both your hair and scalp must be cleansed, and that's where your shampoo comes in. The final step is to replace the natural oils which the cleansing removes. One preparation that is particularly effective in restoring these oils is a special protective hair dress, which combines its own blending of fine oils. The dress should be worked right into the ends of your hair.

You can use this hair dressing just before you put on your cap. It will keep loose ends neatly in place and add a gleaming brilliance to your hair. All you have to do, after you have combed your hair, is pour a small quantity of the dressing into your hand, and then apply it with your fingertips.

No personal appearance story is ever complete without some word about fragrance. At graduation time it is especially important that you pick a perfume or cologne that will suit your personality and the occasion. It should be a light, fragile scent, with just enough importance to call attention to your new position in life.

All the joys of graduation will surely be yours if you insure your self-confidence and appearance well before the big moment arrives.

Pajama-Clad Co-Eds Give Pantie Raid Fad New Twist

LAKELAND, FLA.—(AP)—Fifty pajama-clad co-eds, giving the pantie raid fad a new twist, raided the men's dormitory area at Florida Southern College Monday night.

Released from their rooms for a group singing in the courtyard, the girls began their march to the men's dormitories without any apparent advance planning.

They did not enter the men's rooms but stood under the windows, screaming: "Sissies, Sissies!"

The men responded to the dare instantly. Some 200 of them charged out, chased the co-eds back to the girls' dormitories, and milled around two hours. Attempts to get into the girls' rooms were unsuccessful.

The co-eds faulted the men from the windows. A few pairs of panties were tossed out.

Reds Hint At New Offensive In Korea

MUNSAN, KOREA.—(AP)—Communist truce negotiators Tuesday made a veiled threat of a Red offensive as Korea armistice talks resumed after a three-day recess—but immediately bogged down over the prisoner of war issue.

The prisoner issue alone blocks armistice. The Reds demand return of all their captured soldiers. The United Nations Command says not a single Red captured will be forced to return against his will.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il repeated his well-worn charges that the Allies have been slaughtering POWs. He referred to the April 10 plots on Koje Island, which were disclosed during the recess. Then he declared:

"The Korean People's Army and the Chinese People's Volunteers decidedly cannot sit by while seeing their captured fellow combatants being slaughtered by your side at will."

The UN spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, said Nam Il's statement "could be interpreted" as a threat of stepped up warfare by Communist troops.

But Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., senior UN delegate, passed off Nam Il's statement as propaganda.

Another plenary session was scheduled at Panmunjom at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

At the start of Tuesday's 34-minute session, Nam Il demanded that the Allies accept the Red's May 2 proposal calling for return of 132,000 captured Reds. Harrison rejected it.

Allied screening of 169,000 Red captives showed only 70,000 wanted to return to Red territory. Harrison offered the Communists the right to participate in a rescreening of prisoners. Nam Il refused. Harrison told Nam Il the rescreening offer is a "simple means of publicly determining the truth or falsity of (Red) charges of coercion."

Nam Il lodged a "serious protest" over Allied handling of the April 10 riots at Koje, in which three POWs were killed. Harrison said the protest would be conveyed "to the proper authorities."

Speedway Field To Start Friday

INDIANAPOLIS.—(AP)—A field that broke the track qualifying record four times will start Friday in the 36th annual 500-mile auto race at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The 33 starters averaged 135.504 miles an hour in the 10-mile qualifying runs that ended Monday.

Old-timers around the two-and-one-half mile track contended the limit was near last year when the field averaged 133.570 in the time trials.

The mixture of veteran drivers and young graduates of the hot rod and midget circuits wrecked four cars in the preliminaries. There were no additions to the toll of 42 persons killed at the track since it opened in 1909.

Only Bayless Levrett of Glendale, Calif., was seriously hurt in the crashes. That was May 10 and he immediately announced he was quitting after 19 years of racing.

Episcopal Auxiliary Meets; Hears Report On Club 15

Twenty-six members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Trinity Episcopal Church met Monday for a luncheon at the parish house. It was the last meeting of the auxiliary until September.

Hostesses were Mrs. John Cornwall, Mrs. William Oswald and Mrs. J. B. Hines, Jr.

A report was given by Mrs. A. T. Barrett, president of the auxiliary, on Club 15, a recreation center for junior high school students sponsored by the auxiliary. Mrs. Barrett said 800 students have attended the recreation center during the first three meetings of the new club. She also said the club needs more recordings of rumbas and waltzes. Used recordings will be accepted or the money for new ones.

Mrs. Paul Kolm gave the devotion and Mrs. Sivalis reported on the United Thank Offering. The group has sent a gift box to the Elizabeth Saunders home in Japan.

Mrs. K. C. Slough was named chairman of the nominating committee. Members of the committee include Mrs. Kolm and Mrs. John Beatty.

RUTH MILLETT

Winner Of Unfaithful Hubby Usually Loser Of Bad Bargain

A columnist's mail is never dull. Perhaps because the columnist gets so many angles of the same old problems.

Here, for instance, is a letter from a young woman who wants me to back her up in her belief that she ought to demand that a wife give up her husband to her.

The writer has been having an affair with a married man for a long time. She says he has been most generous to her. Given her many gifts. Lets her drive his car, and so on.

"The wife has found out about the affair, but is sitting tight—with no intention of demanding a divorce. So far as I could tell from the 'other woman's' letter the husband has never asked for one."

"So the other woman thinks she ought to demand that the wife step out of the picture. And what do I think about it, she asks?"

Should Bow Out

I think she had better do the fade-out herself. She has no moral or legal right to demand that the other woman turn over her husband. What she has has stolen. And the sooner she faces that fact, the better off she'll be.

Chances are, if she goes to the wife she will only strengthen her determination to sit the situation out.

TREATED FOR BURNS

James Farrow, 908 South Colorado Street, suffered first and second degree burns of the face and right hand Monday when a stove exploded. Emergency treatment was given at Western Clinic-Hospital.

WORKMAN INJURED

Ralph Holder, 301 East 61st Street, employed by Gene Brewer Construction Company, suffered contusions Monday of his left little finger while handling a bottle of oxygen. Emergency treatment was given at Western Clinic-Hospital.

If she should get the wife out of the picture, she has no assurance that the husband will marry her. Philandering husbands usually don't want to swap one wife for another. They want to have their cake and eat it, too.

And even if she should succeed in marrying this man, she would be getting a poor bargain.

A man who will cheat on one wife will probably cheat on another.

Why two women will fight over a no-good man is one of life's mysteries. But the winner is really the loser in the end.

British Air Liner, Far Off Course, Lands Near Desert

DAKAR, FRENCH WEST AFRICA.—(AP)—Two persons were injured slightly and 16 others escaped without harm when a British airliner made a forced landing at the edge of the Sahara Desert east of Ater in Mauritania Monday.

The plane, a four-engine British Overseas Airways (BOAC) craft, had 10 passengers and a crew of eight. It was 1,300 miles off course when it landed. French military planes dropped a medical colonel, food and water to the occupants, who were seen taking shelter under the wings early Tuesday.

The plane was enroute from London to Nigeria.

LONDON.—(AP)—A British airliner forced down 1,300 miles off course lay helpless Tuesday at the edge of the Sahara Desert where baffled air officials tried to figure how it wound up there.

Officials of the British Overseas

Airways Corporation couldn't understand what their four-engine Hercules was doing on the west coast of Africa. It had left London with 18 persons bound for Nigeria in East Africa Monday and wound up 1,300 miles off route on the edge of the desert.

A French rescue plane sighted the airliner in lonely territory some 150 miles southeast of the French West African town of Port Etienne Monday night. A French military airplane was close by, but the airliner's radio appeared to have been damaged.

BOAC officials in London said they had been informed a doctor and two nurses had parachuted to the stranded craft.

The site of the emergency landing was isolated but accessible, a BOAC spokesman said. Ground units were pushing toward the scene with food, water and radio equipment.

Value Of Newspaper Advertising Cited At Press Seminar

DALLAS—Importance of newspaper advertising in the sale of cars and trucks was pointed out by L. F. Desmond, director of advertising and merchandising, Dodge Division, Chrysler Corporation, in a speech Tuesday at the advertising seminar of the Texas Daily Press League.

Desmond said Dodge has been a consistent user of newspaper advertising since that company ran its first appearance ad on Aug. 2, 1914, to announce introduction of its first car and to seek dealers. Only one magazine also carried the announcement ad. Before the first Dodge car went on display, 22,000 individual firms and individuals sought dealerships. The strong Dodge dealer body which resulted is credited to that initial advertising campaign.

Dodge expended approximately $5,000,000 in car and truck advertising in newspapers last year, Desmond said. Dodge dealers also spent an additional large sum on service and used car ads.

Flexibility of newspaper advertising which enables Dodge dealers to advertise their individual local prices also was cited by the speaker.

Praise for unselfish newspapers which help promote civic and national welfare also was given by Desmond. He cited in particular the valuable aid which newspapers gave in the recent campaign when Dodge dealers helped collect 18,000,000 pounds of scrap metal needed in the defense effort.

Texas is a prime automotive market, Desmond told the newspaper men. He said Texas was the No. 1 truck market among all 48 states last year and that 2,000,000 passenger cars now are registered in the state.

Car and truck registrations in Texas increased 75 per cent between 1940 and 1950, he pointed out. This upturn was much greater than even the remarkable 20 per cent increase in population in the Lone Star State during the 10-year period, he said. The 400,000 truck drivers licensed in Texas would make up the population of a couple of the 48 states, he declared.

24 ROK Seamen Die When Ships Collide

TOKYO—(AP)—The U. S. Navy said Tuesday 24 South Korean seamen were killed and 21 injured May 21 in a collision between the South Korean Navy frigate Apnok and the U. S. ammunition carrier Mount Baker in Korean waters.

There were no injuries aboard the Mount Baker and damage to the ship was minor, the Navy said, adding:

The ships were steaming in formation in darkness when a signal was given to change course. The Apnok passed close ahead of the Mount Baker.

The U. S. ship backed down full but was unable to prevent the collision.

The Apnok, loaned by the U. S. to Korea, is in drydock at Pusan. The Mount Baker, after taking injured Korean sailors to Pusan, returned to the operating area.

USA Presbyterians Ask Social Security Benefits For Clergy

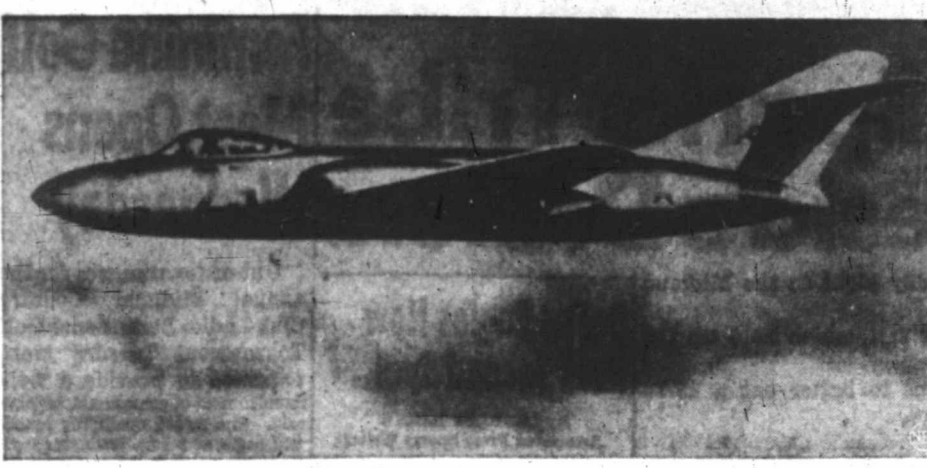

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., one of the nation's big Protestant denominations, has called on Congress to extend Social Security benefits to ministers who want it.

The action, taken Monday by the 164th annual General Assembly of the church, came in the midst of widespread debate within many churches on the issue.

The Assembly, representing 2,500,000 church members, approved the move by voice vote. There was some volume of "No's."

It apparently is designed to fill the role of the World War II Stormovik.

Three Fliers Die When Jet Explodes

FRANKLIN, VA.—(AP)—Three airmen awaiting transfer overseas were killed Monday when their B-45 Tornado jet bomber blew up and crashed near here while on a routine training flight.

The plane was based at Langley Air Force Base and was attached to the 47th Bombardment Wing of the 49th Air Division.

Air Force officials reported investigators had found no evidence that the bomber collided with another plane, as one eye-witness had said soon after the crash.

The victims were the pilot, First Lt. Herbert W. Remington, the copilot, Second Lt. Jerry O. Causey, and the aerial observer, First Lt. Anthony S. Butler.

10-Run Spree Sparks Tribe Win Over Artesia's Drillers

Joe Adcock, Al Rosen Top Major Hitting

NEW YORK—(AP)—Hard-hitting Joe Adcock of the Cincinnati Reds and Al Rosen, sparkplug of the power-laden Cleveland Indians, have the top slugging averages in the major leagues.

Adcock has collected 33 hits, good for .66 total bases, in 99 times at bat for a remarkable .667 slugging mark to lead the National League. The Reds' outfielder has pounded out four doubles, four triples and seven home runs.

Slugging averages released by The Associated Press Statistical Bureau also revealed that Rosen, with five doubles, three triples, 10 home runs and 85 total bases, is setting the pace in the American League with a .584 slugging percentage. Rosen has been at bat 130 times and has garnered 44 hits. Averages include games played last Sunday.

Hank Sauer, the big gun in the Chicago Cubs' attack, is giving Adcock a run for National League slugging honors. The husky flycatcher, the league's leading home run hitter with nine, ranks second with .503.

Rosen's teammate, Larry Doby, is runner-up in the American League. The Tribe outfielder has 24 hits, good for 48 bases, and an average of .568.

Phillips Holds Lead In Bowling League

State Exploration with 2,242, won high team series in the Petroleum Bowling League last week, with D. Miller and Ted Witte tying for high individual series with 523. High Exploration over West Texas Reproduction with 878.

Phillips 66 is at the top of the standings. J. Carnett rolled high individual game with his 204.

Three game winners were Rotary Engineers over Seaboard Oil. Tide Water over Tex-Harvey, and West End Magnolia over Standard of Texas.

Two-game winners included Superior Oil over Ohio Oil. Honolulu Oil over Stuart's Photo. State Exploration over West Texas Reproduction. Union Oil over Muldrow Reproduction. Phillips 66 over Core Lab and Shell Oil over American Trading.

The fates were kind Monday night to the Midland Indians.

They brought a refreshing rain which held up the ball game 25 minutes.

They permitted the Indians to batter out a 19-14 victory over the Artesia Drillers.

And they fixed it so the Vernon Dusters lost to the Odessa Oilers to squeeze Midland out of the Longhorn League cellar.

It took exactly three hours and 15 minutes to accomplish the feat before the Indians tired of pounding out 18 hits off of four Artesia hurlers and choked off a six-run Driller rally which threatened to become dangerous.

It started out to be a respectable although typically unhappy ball game for the Indians.

Match Artesia Runs. They matched Artesia's two runs in the first inning and then faded away before the offerings of Lefty Marshall to trail, 2-6, going into the last half of the fourth.

Cne minute Marshall was pitching his fast curves and the next he was rubbing his arm, which unexplainedly gave out, and walking from the game as right-hander Mason was rushed to the assignment.

That was the signal for a fantastic 10-run Indian spree to get underway.

After Gordon Tanner walked, Tito Santiago singled and Jose Peraza doubled into left field to start a hitting parade featuring Scooter Hughes, Dempsey Albrighton, Julio de la Torre and Bill Brown.

Mason finally had to give way to Melton Miller who gave up three more safeties, including a two-bagger by Hughes, before retiring the Indians.

In the sixth, the Indians marked again when Santiago tripled to right field and sauntered home on Hughes' grounder to deep short.

Lorenzo Takes Walk. In the seventh, Lorenzo walked and De la Torre singled and both came home when Brown lined one over the second baseman's head and raced to third when the ball went through the centerfielder's legs.

Brown came on in to score on Tanner's fly to left field.

Again in the eighth, there were three runs as the Indians combined two walks, two hits and a wild pitch. Graham finally had to come in for Artesia to put out the fire.

Peraza took over the Indian pitching chores in the third inning after Artesia picked up two runs on two hits and two walks.

Peraza kept Joe Bauman from getting on base for the first time in two games. The big Driller first baseman was walked intentionally five times Sunday and drew two more passes in his appearances against McKenzie.

Opposing Peraza for the first time, he slammed a two-bagger deep to center field but grounded out weakly on his next two trips.

Rightfielder Pete Pichan slammed out two home runs, one in the second off McKenzie and one in the seventh off Peraza, with Johnny Alonso on base both times.

Eagles Run Over Yankees, 10 To 2

The Eagles trampled the Yankees, 10 to 2, in the South Little League Monday afternoon.

Westerfield was the winning pitcher and Kidwell relieved. Capps, Kidwell and Richberg homered for the Eagles.

Dallas Eagles Now Hold Second Spot

By CHARLEY ESKEW
Associated Press Sports Writer

A little thing like history repeating itself keeps the Dallas Eagles from their niche in the Texas League chronicle of record events.

It's like this: Dallas went gunning for a 20-year-old loop record of scoring 10 consecutive men in one frame almost two weeks ago. The Eagles missed by one.

Monday night, in besting Fort Worth, 11-5, they aimed for the loop mark again—still coming up with nine batters scoring in the eighth-inning string.

The Eagles didn't have a chance. The first round of match play will begin Thursday morning and a buffet luncheon will follow from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Second round match play will be held Friday, with the third round scheduled Saturday. An orchestra dance will be held at 9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday the finals in all matches will be held, with presentation of prizes to the winners scheduled at 5 p.m.

The course was open Tuesday to contestants desiring to shoot practice rounds.

Defending champion Pat Garner will not enter the meet this year as he is entered in the Texas Women's Open Tourney, held at the same time as the Midland meet.

Heading the out-of-town entries thus far is Mrs. Douglas Jones, winner of the recent Abilene Women's Invitational Tournament.

Midlanders expected to make strong bids include Gloria Ezell and Sybil Flournoy.

Rockets Gain Second Place Tie With Colts

ROSWELL—(AP)—The surging Roswell Rockets romped into a second-place tie with the San Angelo Colts by dropping the Colts, 6-1, here Monday night behind the six-hit pitching of Robert Weaver.

Except for the third inning when the Colts scored their lone run, Weaver was not in trouble. Nice support, a hopping fast ball and a twisting slider kept the veteran right-hander out of danger and notched him seven strikeouts.

After matching San Angelo's single run in their half of the third, Roswell pulled away with a pair of tallies in the fourth and three in the fifth.

The score:
San Angelo 001 000 000—1 6 2
Roswell 001 230 000—6 8 1
Garza, Tinkler and Flores; Weaver and Crawford.

McLendon Starts Letter Campaign

DALLAS—(AP)—Gordon McLendon, who suspended his Liberty Broadcasting system two weeks ago because of the collapse of his major league broadcasts, has started a letter-writing campaign seeking "action against the baseball monopoly."

He is mailing 6,000 letters to radio stations, congressmen and friends urging that pressure be brought on the Justice Department to file suit "to end the violation of anti-trust laws by the major leagues and to permit free commerce in the baseball broadcasting field."

McLendon claimed failure of the Justice Department to enforce the law has caused him to be shut out of broadcasting major league baseball.

Promoter Herman Taylor announced he had reached an agreement with Angel Lopez and Fernando Belido, co-managers of Gayland, the titleholder from Cuba, and George Katz, pilot of the unbeaten Turner who makes his home here.

The two fighters will sign contracts for the bout June 9.

Member of the Midland team include Rosie Hart and Skinny Hyde, 1b and p; June Strickland, c; Eloise Graham, 2b; E. Schwider, 3b; Sylvia Hickman, ss; Bobby Delap, lf; Mora Faye Long, cf; Inez Bicknell, rf, and Melba Clark and Billie Sinclair, utility.

Feminine Golf Meet Opens Wednesday

Out-of-town entries for the annual Midland Country Club Ladies Invitational Golf Tournament Tuesday were expected to provide a well-rounded field of contestants, officials said.

The meet's qualifying rounds will begin at 8 a.m. Wednesday and continue until 3 p.m. Both nine and 18-hole flights will be played. The tournament will run through Sunday.

Officials also were enthusiastic about Monday night's rain which as one termed it, "didn't do a thing to harm the course," which was described as being in excellent shape.

Other Wednesday activities include a buffet luncheon from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., a barbecue dinner at 6:30 p.m. and the famous Calcutta at 8:30 p.m.

Match Play Thursday. The first round of match play will begin Thursday morning and a buffet luncheon will follow from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Second round match play will be held Friday, with the third round scheduled Saturday. An orchestra dance will be held at 9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday the finals in all matches will be held, with presentation of prizes to the winners scheduled at 5 p.m.

Lockman Is Behind Big Giant 'Doings'

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's high time Carroll (Whitey) Lockman, the New York Giants' unsung and often overlooked first baseman, began getting the credit he so richly deserves.

The colorless but dependable former outfielder from Charlotte, N. C., has been the most consistent of all the Giants this season. He leads the club with a .333 mark (second highest in the league), tops the circuit in runs scored and is third in total hits. Yet it is Bobby Thomson and Willie Mays and Sal Maglie and Alvin Dark who receive most of the acclaim for the Giant's tremendous early season showing.

The baseball world still remembers it was Thomson who won the pennant for the Giants last year with his dramatic homer against Brooklyn in the final playoff game. Yet, how many recall that it was Whitey Lockman who made the situation possible with a double that knocked in the first run of the inning, kayoed starter Don Newcombe and put the tying runs on the bases?

Thomson Produces. Again it was Thomson who proved to be the big run-producer Monday night as the Giants tangled with the Dodgers at the Polo Grounds for the first time since that fateful final playoff game. Bobby slammed a home run in his first time at bat and drove in three runs as the Giants whipped their interborough rivals, 4-2, to take over first place from the Dodgers by a half game.

But, like last year, it was Lockman who set up Thomson. The 25-year-old first baseman drew a walk in the first inning and rode in ahead of Thomson's homer. He walloped a 400-foot triple in the third and crossed the plate on Thomson's 440-foot fly. Then he led the game in the fifth with a home run into the right field stands, his fifth of the season.

In other National League games, the Chicago Cubs blanked the St. Louis Cards, 3-0, to solidify their hold on third place. Bob Rush pitched a six-hitter to register his sixth victory.

Ralph Kiner slammed a three-run homer, his fourth round-tripper of the year and his second in two days, to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 6-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

In the American League, the Boston Red Sox thrashed the New York Yankees, 6-3, as Don Lenhardt drove in five runs with a three-run homer and a two-run double.

Sid Hudson pitched and batted the Washington Senators to a 5-3 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics. Hudson allowed nine hits and helped with his third game by driving in two runs.

Billy Pierce picked up a pair of victories as the Chicago White Sox swept two games from the St. Louis Browns, 10-5 and 6-2.

Big Spring Wallops Sweetwater, 16 To 0

BIG SPRING—(AP)—Armas Arenchis had an easy time chalking up his second win over Sweetwater and his fourth of the 1952 campaign here Monday night as Big Spring walloped the Braves, 16-0.

Arenchis gave up eight hits but only in the seventh did he allow more than one safety. In that stanza, a sensational catch of Charles Tuttle's long fly by Buddy Grimes saved Arenchis's shutout.

Ricky Gonzales continued his sensational hitting for the Steeds, getting three safeties. He now has hit safely 15 times in his last 25 appearances at the plate.

The score:
Sweetwater 000 000 000—0 8 1
Big Spring 084 202 000—16 16 0
Grajeda, Miller, Rodriguez, Tuttle and Traspuesto; Arenchis and Valdes.

Braves Fall Before Indians, 24 To 9

The Indians took the Braves into camp, 24-9, in Monday's North Little League action, with Brown getting credit for the win.

Jerry Hanson and Elton Howard homered for the Indians. Freddie Sanchez was the loser.

The Pirates meet the Cubs at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Wes Ortiz Pitches Four-Hitter To Lead Odessa To 4-1 Win

VERNON—(AP)—Four hit pitching by Wes Ortiz did the trick Monday night when the Odessa Oilers downed the Vernon Dusters, 4-1, in the second of this three-game series.

Ortiz' fine pitching job, and the batting of Manager Bob Martin was enough for the Oiler victory. Martin collected a double and two singles in four trips to the plate, driving in two runs.

Both Oiler tallies in the first frame were unearned and one of the two in the sixth was brought on by an error.

In the first inning, Lefty Loyko gained life at first on John Follis' error, and went to third when Leo Eastman singled. Martin came to the plate and hit his double to right-center, scoring both runners.

In the sixth, Martin led off with a single. Roberto Fabian gained life when Elgin Keil committed his second error of the night. Billy Crocker singled, scoring Martin and Ortiz hammered across Fabian with the final run.

Three of the four hits off Ortiz were scratch, infield bingles. Only John Reimold's Texas Leaguer into left was a clean hit. He scored Popeye Carerra from second for the only Vernon tally, in the third.

The game will be played at Lansing, Mich., October 10. It will be the first grid contest between the two teams.

Odessa 200 002 000—4 9 2
Vernon 001 000 000—1 4 3

Woman Enroute To Demo Convention Dies In Car Crash

SAN ANTONIO—(P)—One woman was killed and three other persons were injured in a wreck Tuesday on Highway 90, two blocks east of Schulenburg's business district.

Mrs. Marie S. Bryant, 46, of Houston, a delegate to the State Democratic Convention in San Antonio, was killed. Injured, and removed to the hospital in Weimar, were two other convention delegates, F. T. Henry, 39, and Willie Kline, 30, and Mrs. Estell King, 34. All are residents of Houston.

Two other passengers in the car, which a State Highway Patrolman James Spencer said was driven by Mrs. Bryant, were uninjured.

Rudolph Stieber, 68, of Schulenburg, listed as driver of the other car involved in the collision, also was uninjured. He was alone in his auto.

Mrs. Bryant's car was part of a caravan going from Houston to the convention.

pledged delegates proceeded with business while the bolters headed for their courtyard convention at La Villita.

The convention started 34 minutes late but began rolling fast toward the bolt. Wet, angry spectators surged through the doors of Municipal Auditorium after being barred more than an hour.

The uproar over admission of persons not wearing badges gave the convention a rugged start.

Convention managers finally gave in to the demands of a crowd that jammed entrances to the auditorium. The crowd's mood was ugly.

It was a fight between Liberal and Conservative factions of the party, with Gov. Allan Shivers' Conservative forces holding a big majority.

Fight Against Trumanism
The Shivers majority was determined for a finish fight against what he calls Trumanism. He told reporters when he arrived at convention hall he did not expect the delegation to Chicago would include any one on the federal payroll. That would leave off Speaker Sam Rayburn and all other Texans in Congress.

Maury Maverick, one of the leaders in the opposition to Shivers, accused the Shivers forces of barring the doors to non-delegates. Adrian Spears, handling local arrangements for Shivers, told Maverick: "Don't try to get smart." Spears jammed around the doors outside in the rain.

The Liberal faction wedded to the national party and leaning toward Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham for the presidential nomination, walked out of the auditorium at a given signal.

The State Executive Committee Monday recommended that the convention not seat 29 contesting county delegations that bucked the Shivers organization and held rump conventions. An early convention rubber stamp on this action set off the Liberal bolt.

Bolt Pre-Arranged
The Loyalists whooped it up Monday night at a caucus and rally that spotlighted a demonstration for Rayburn, the Texan for whom a presidential nomination boom was reportedly in the making. Their leaders announced the walk-out would start at an unmistakable signal early in the Shivers convention proceedings.

Speakers at the rally, including former Congressman Maverick, gave Shivers and his friends a series of little tongue-lashings.

They had kind words for President Truman.

"I love that little devil," Maverick shouted, "I'm not ashamed of Harry Truman and you ain't either."

They crowded howled his approval. Maverick called Shivers a "puny political boss" and said the people on his side were opposed to anything that helped the little man.

This rally followed the Executive Committee meeting at which the Conservatives once more assailed the Administration for its position on the "Riandels" and for "efforts to destroy home rule on civil liberties in the South through its civil rights programs."

The Shivers organization—apparently outnumbering the Liberals four to one—recommended that the convention send delegates to Chicago uninstructed on candidates but instructed on States' Rights principles.

Girls Will Be Girls, Even At GOP Convention

MINERAL WELLS—(P)—At least one scuffle took place Tuesday in the heat of convention fever.

Three women scuffled in the lobby of the Baker Hotel—over credentials for an Eisenhower delegate. It ended with all three on the floor, a large crowd watching, and finally was broken up.

Mrs. Curtis Traweck, one of the participants, told this story:

"It was all over an argument with Mrs. Ruth Ellis Bacon. District 18 committeewoman. We were standing in line waiting for our credentials for our unopposed delegation. My husband is county chairman and I am an alternate.

"When we got to the desk the clerk told us that Mrs. Bacon had gotten credentials for all the district. Then

Ridgway Arrives At New Command

PARIS—(P)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway returned to Europe Tuesday to take command of NATO fighting forces and declared his experience in Korea convinced him a sound defense against communism here could be built from a combination of many nations.

Then, accompanied by General Eisenhower whom he is to succeed three days hence, he drove through the streets of Paris in contempt of Communist threats to stage hostile demonstrations against "Le General Microbe" as they call him. The Communists have applied the tag as part of their propaganda, repeatedly denied by the West, that the UN used germ warfare in Korea.

Ridgway stepped out of his plane just 10 days short of eight years after he parachuted into Normandy on D-Day.

General Eisenhower was at the airport to greet the man who will relieve him as supreme commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces Friday. Also there were several other officials, including French Defense Minister Rene Pleven, U. S. Ambassador James O. Dorn and many officers from SHAPE, the Eisenhower headquarters.

The field was almost black with French police determined to snuff out any Communist demonstration. Ridgway was greeted at the foot of the ramp by Eisenhower and Pleven.

"I have utmost confidence in the leadership of General Eisenhower and I expect to learn about the problems first hand as he sees them," Ridgway told reporters.

Asked if he expected any military action from the Russians, he replied, "Anything which is a capability is always a possibility. There is great capability there. I would not want to go any further."

BURGLARS FIND SLIM PICKINGS

Pickings were mighty slim Monday night for the burglars who broke into the Midland Tire Company at 2301 West Wall Street.

Police reported Tuesday morning that the only reported losses were one set of keys, one screwdriver, one pair of pliers and 75 cents in cash.

Wyoming Senator Denounces Plans To Delay Air Buildup

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) Tuesday denounced as "just too dangerous" administration plans to delay the buildup of U. S. air power from mid-1954 to mid-1955.

O'Mahoney, who heads a Senate Appropriations subcommittee holding closed door hearings on the armed forces money bill, announced he will lead a fight to cancel the proposed "stretch-out."

He told a reporter he will ask his committee to recommend expenditures of not less than $21,400,000,000 for the air power buildup in the fiscal year starting July 1, instead of the 19 billions voted by the House.

"I do not believe that because we are engaged in a presidential election campaign we should let Russia get the idea we aren't going to provide adequately for the defense of the United States, and all it stands for," O'Mahoney said.

He spoke in an interview after hearing testimony by Secretary of the Air Force Finletter behind the subcommittee's closed doors. He quoted the secretary as opposing the stretch-out.

Finletter, O'Mahoney said, cautioned the subcommittee that 19 billions would make it impossible to achieve maximum air power before July 1, 1957.

O'Mahoney said the joint chiefs of staff still stand behind their original request for enough funds to attain peak strength by middle 1954. He said they contend that will require not less than $21,400,000,000.

Optimists Hear Memory Expert

Robert Nutt, nationally-known memory expert, addressed members of the Optimist Club Tuesday at their regular luncheon-meeting at the Ranchland Hill Country Club.

He was introduced by Charles Lacey.

Nutt, who said he had given memory lessons to 130,000 persons throughout the country, said the secret of remembering names is to hook up a name with a face.

Jim Velvin presided.

Girls Will Be Girls, Even At GOP Convention

MINERAL WELLS—(P)—At least one scuffle took place Tuesday in the heat of convention fever.

Three women scuffled in the lobby of the Baker Hotel—over credentials for an Eisenhower delegate. It ended with all three on the floor, a large crowd watching, and finally was broken up.

Mrs. Curtis Traweck, one of the participants, told this story:

contesting Eisenhower delegations from 31 counties Monday. They gave the Eisenhower forces 21 of the 519 contested delegates. On one county—Lubbock—they agreed to put both nine-member delegations on the temporary roll to let the Credentials Committee decide. Eisenhower had only 59 clear delegates among the 1,062 at the regular convention.

A bunch of bearded men and exhausted women ended their committee hearing at 6:45 a.m., less than four hours before the 10 a.m. convention start.

The next appeal for supporters of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower was to the convention floor when the Credentials Committee made its report.

"And we're naming the credentials committee," said Henry Zweifel, Fort Worth attorney who is national GOP committeeman from Texas and state Taft campaign director.

Eisenhower forces said they'd send their attorneys before the Credentials Committee and wait until they were turned down there before starting their rump convention.

Walkout Assured
The Eisenhower meeting was billed as a "mass rally" at 9:30 a.m.—thirty minutes before the regular convention opened.

"If we don't get action on the convention floor, we will walk out," declared H. J. Porter, Houston oil man who is state campaign director for Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for President.

An Eisenhower walkout means two sets of delegates to the national convention.

Porter, a State Executive Committee member, had sat impatiently as the committee knocked down one by one his claims to contested county delegations.

The committee started at 10 a.m. and worked into the night on 31 contested delegations. The pattern was set early.

In almost every case the Eisenhower faction claimed they had a clear majority in the county conventions and that Taft forces bolted when they were outvoted.

Supporters of Senator Robert Taft charged that the Eisenhower supporters were Democrats—newcomers to the party who would vote for Ike on any ticket.

To Hell In A Hack
Taft people said these newsmen Eisenhower people weren't "legally" Republicans because they hadn't voted the Republican ticket before.

The committee vote averaged about 43-17 for Taft.

Ben Guill, young Pampa lawyer who has Texas' only Republican congressman in two decades during a short interim term in 1950, pleaded the case of Gray County Eisenhower backers. A standing committee vote was against his faction.

Guill told The Associated Press afterward: "It looks as if the Texas Republican Party is going to hell in a hack. But wait until July 1."

Here's how the Executive Committee voted on contested delegations, with the vote in parentheses where a roll call was taken:

Jefferson (19 votes convention), Taft (46-14); Dallas (119 votes), Taft (40-20); Navarro (14 votes), Taft; Rusk (4 votes), Taft; Brazos (15 votes), Taft; Ellis (4 votes), Taft; Nacogdoches (3 votes), Taft (47-11); Harris (144); Taft (36-20); Jackson (2); Taft (32-11); Galveston (16); votes split 8 for Taft and 8 for Eisenhower; (44-14); Lavaca (4); Eisenhower (31-14); Victoria (4); Taft, voice vote; Travis (20); Taft (38-13); McLennan (10); Taft, standing vote; Tarrant (57); Taft (39-12); Young (2); Taft (Eisenhower delegation withdrew); Guadalupe (8); Taft (39-9); Nueces (19); Taft (36-13); San Patricio (3); Taft, standing vote; Hidalgo (20); Taft (Eisenhower faction withdrew); Cameron (16), split 8 for Taft and 8 for Eisenhower (3-14); Gray (5); Taft, standing vote; Potter (14); Taft (33-5); Randall (2); Taft (38-5); Hale (3); Taft (33-7); Lynn (1); Eisenhower (Taft faction withdrew after short argument); Tom Green (6); Taft, standing vote.

Expected contest from Titus, Tyler and Foard Counties did not develop.

Marine Recruiter Is Here This Week

Young men interested in opportunities in the Marine Corps have been invited to call on S. Sgt. John J. Borho, recruiter, in the basement of the Midland Post Office Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The office remains open until 4 p.m.

Men who have taken pre-induction physical examinations still may enlist in the Marine Corps before June 30, Sergeant Borho said, and serve three or four years.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

ery was 840 feet of free oil, 1,000 feet of water blanket which was oil and gas cut, 1,000 feet of oil and gas cut mud. No formation water was present. Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 600 pounds and 15-minute shut-in pressure was 3,650 pounds.

Unloads

Operator then took a drillstem test from 9,083 to 9,110 feet. Tool was open one hour. Gas surfaced in 30 minutes. The drillpipe unloaded 360 feet of free oil, 1,000-foot water blanket heavily oil and gas cut and 30 feet of oil and gas cut mud. Recovery below the circulating sub was 30 feet of oil and gas cut mud. No formation water was present.

Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 600 pounds and 15-minute shut-in pressure was 3,675 pounds.

Operator then deepened to 9,135 feet and took a drillstem test from 9,108 to 9,135 feet. Tool was open one hour, but it was plugged all but the last 10 minutes of the test. Recovery was 200 feet of oil and gas cut water blanket, 800 feet of heavily gas-cut water blanket and 90 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud. No formation water was present.

Test Stated

Operator was to drill to 9,160 feet and take another drillstem test. The Ellenburger was topped at 8,875 feet by samples. Elevation not reported.

Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 19, block 48, University survey.

Two Breedlove Area Projects Are About To Tell Their Stories

The stories are to be told soon at two projects in the Breedlove-Devonian area in Northwest Martin County. One of those explorations is due to be completed as a producer and the other appears to be a failure.

Pan American Production Company, Forest Oil Corporation and Houston Oil Company of Texas No. 3 Breedlove, northeast stepout from the discovery well of the field had reached 12,143 feet in Devonian lime and was coking ahead.

Is 20 Feet Lower

It topped the pay at 12,092 feet, which was 20 feet low to the top of the pay in the same operators' No. 1 Breedlove, the field opener.

It has cut 35 feet of pay and the cores show it will produce. No drill-stem tests have been run on this exploration. It probably will take a little more of the pay and then run casing, make production tests and complete.

Location is 1,980 feet from east and 2,300 feet from south lines of league 258, Briscoe County School Land survey.

No Shows Found

Pan American, Forest and Houston No. 4 Breedlove, one-location south of the Breedlove field opener and 660 feet from north and 5,940 feet from east lines of league 258, Briscoe County School Land survey, had reached 12,202 feet in Devonian lime and was coking deeper.

It has not found any porosity in the Devonian and has not logged any signs of production.

Top of the Devonian in No. 4 Breedlove is at 12,035 feet. That is correlated to be 85 feet low to the same point in the field opener. It is going deeper to try to find some Devonian pay.

Cudlipp Of Lufkin To Speak For API On Tuesday Night

A. E. Cudlipp of Lufkin, vice president and director of the Lufkin Foundry and Machine Company, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute to be held Tuesday night in Odessa.

Cudlipp will speak on "The Year of Decision—1952." He is an officer or member in such organizations as the Texas Manufacturers Association, Texas Lumber Manufacturers Association and the Texas Motor Transportation Association. Cudlipp is also active in various educational and civic enterprises.

In addition to the address by Cudlipp, there will be entertainment furnished by professional talent, a barbecue and refreshments will be served.

Tickets, are $2.00 each. Members are urged to secure them in advance as only a limited number will be available at the meeting. Time for the gathering has been set for 6:30 p.m. It will be held at Ector County Park.

Bowden & Hawkins To Drill San Andres Wildcat In Terry

W. R. Bowden and Jack M. Hawkins, both of Midland, are to start operations at once at their No. 1 Bearden which is to be a 5,100-foot wildcat to try for production in the San Andres-Permian in Southeast Terry County.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 8, block C-39, pal survey.

That makes it 16 miles southeast of Brownfield and three miles northeast of the Corrigan field.

Sickerstaff & Tibbets Drilling Company of Snyder have the rotary contract for the exploration.

Coronet Will Dig NE Howard Project

Coronet Oil Company of Midland No. 1 Brokage is to be a 7,900-foot wildcat in extreme Northeast Howard County.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 4, block 24, H&TC survey. It is two and one-quarter miles east of Vincent and one mile southeast of the East Vincent field. Operations are to begin soon.

Ellenburger Wildcat In Mitchell Plugged

S. F. Hurlbut of Corpus Christi and associates have abandoned and will plug their No. 1 Ina Wallace, West-Central Mitchell County wildcat on a total depth of 7,688 feet in barren Ellenburger.

This failure was 660 feet from north and west lines of section 24, block 13, H&TC survey. It was 15 miles southwest of Colorado City.

Had Slight Shows

Top of the Ellenburger was at 7,608 feet. The sections at 7,606-23 feet and at 7,607-40 feet developed slight shows of oil and gas.

The zone at 7,640-88 feet was drilled tested for four hours. Recovery was 180 feet of drilling mud and 230 feet of black sulphur water. There were no signs of oil or gas in that section.

Operator ordered it plugged after the water was found.

Magnolia To Drill North Stepout To Andrews Discovery

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-36991 University is to be a 14,500-foot wildcat in Central-East Andrews County. It is to start operations at once.

The prospector is one-half of a mile north of the same concern's No. 1 University, recently completed flowing discovery from the Ellenburger.

Devonian Cased Off

The No. 1 University also flowed oil from the Devonian to be a discovery from that formation. However the Devonian pay is now cased off and not being produced.

Location for Magnolia No. 1-36991 University is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 8, block 8, University survey.

That makes it 111 1/2 miles east of the town of Andrews.

SW Borden Area Is Location For Deep Exploration

James H. Snowden and Associates of Fort Worth will drill No. 1 J. M. Higginbotham as a deep wildcat in Southwest Borden County.

Drillsite has been staked 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 24, block 32, T-3-N, T&P survey and one and one-quarter miles south of a 9,874-foot dry hole drilled by Gulf Oil Corporation.

No. 1 Higginbotham is to be dug on a Gulf farmout. It is one and one-quarter miles northeast of the Vealmoor field.

Farley, Et Al Stake Site For Garza Wildcat

Frank Farley and Associates of Fort Worth will dig an 8,600-foot wildcat, in North-Central Garza County 15 miles north of Post.

It will be dug as No. 1 Guthrie at the center of the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 111, TW&NG survey and on a farmout from Forest Oil Corporation.

Other acreage was acquired from Honolulu Oil Corporation, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company and Sinclair Oil & Gas Company are contributing to the drilling of the wildcat which will test the Ellenburger.

Gray & Hurdall Will Drill Deep Test In Scurry

Gray & Hurdall No. 1 Ganaway is to be drilled as a 7,900-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Central-East Scurry County one and seven-eighths miles south of Ellenburger production in the Hermleigh field.

Drillsite is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 89, block 3, H&TC survey and 10 miles east of Snyder and four and one-half miles northeast of Hermleigh.

Concho Prospector Abandoned, Plugged

El Producto Oil Company No. 2 Wilson, Concho County prospector, has been plugged and abandoned. It drilled to total depth of 2,880 feet. It found no shows for production.

It was three-eighths of a mile south of the small Dodson field.

Location was 1,391 feet from north and 33 feet from east lines of the Thomas Green survey No. 1.Public Notices*NOTICE OF EARLY CLASSIFIED DEADLINE

30 Girls Overcome When Smoke Bomb Explodes In Dorm

TUCSON, ARIZ.—(AP)—Thirty girls were overcome by smoke Tuesday when a smoke bomb exploded in the basement of Yavapai Hall on the University of Arizona campus.

Three male students are being held.

Shirley Bledsoe, a student from Oklahoma who previously suffered from a lung ailment, had stopped breathing by the time she reached the emergency ward at St. Mary's Hospital. She was revived by oxygen but remained in a serious condition several hours.

Yavapai Hall was the scene of a "pantie raid" last Tuesday night. Five of the students who allegedly participated were suspended by the university. None of these youths' is believed to have been involved in the disturbance.

The smoke bomb apparently was taken from the National Guard Armory.

Of the 30 girls overcome, four were treated at St. Mary's Hospital, 10 at Tucson Medical Center and the remaining 16 at the Arizona Infirmary.

Girls climbed from windows and went down fire exits to escape the smoke-filled building.

Andrews Prospector Fails To Find Gas; Has Been Plugged

Cities Service Oil Company and associates No. 1-AO University, Central-North Andrews County wildcat, eight miles north and slightly west of the town of Andrews, has been abandoned and plugged on total depth of 3,200 feet in the Yates sandy lime.

It was drilled as a prospector to try to develop commercial gas production. It failed in that objective.

Location was 1,983 feet from north and west lines of section 17, block 14, University survey. That made it two miles north of the nearest gas producer in the Shafter Lake gas field.

Jones & Lyons Quit Tom Green Failure

B. F. Jones and Kenneth Lyons No. 1 Turner, Northwest Tom Green County wildcat, six miles west of Carlsbad, is a dry hole and has been plugged.

It drilled to a bottom of 1,310 feet in barren Clear Fork-Permian lime. Top of that formation was at 1,247 feet. Derrick floor elevation was 2,280 feet.

Location was 330 feet from north and west lines of section 44, block 8, H&TC survey. That made it three and three-eighths miles southeast of the discovery well of the Hall-San Andres field.

Location Abandoned

J. W. King of Ballinger and associates are reported to have abandoned the location for their No. 1 Turner Ranch, which had been scheduled as a shallow wildcat in Northwest Tom Green County.

The prospector had not spudded. It was to have been seven and one-half miles southwest of Carlsbad and 330 feet from south and east lines of section 41, block 8, H&TC survey.

Concho Prospector Abandoned, Plugged

El Producto Oil Company No. 2 Wilson, Concho County prospector, has been plugged and abandoned. It drilled to total depth of 2,880 feet. It found no shows for production.

It was three-eighths of a mile south of the small Dodson field.

Location was 1,391 feet from north and 33 feet from east lines of the Thomas Green survey No. 1.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

IF YOU ENTERTAIN you will appreciate the floor plan of this elegant Austin Stone home. You and your guests will love the spaciousness of the off-set room with 1/2 bath and storage. For your more intimate guests, the paneled den adjacent to the kitchen lends itself to warm conversation. Two bedrooms, 2 baths, 2-car pine paneled garage. Central heating, carpeting, rustic shingles, large corner lot. Interior decorating exclusively done by professional designers. $37,500.

9 BLOCKS FROM TOWN is an awfully cute 2-bedroom home which can be purchased for only $7,000. It is only 4 years old, and in perfect condition. Oak flooring. Owner being transferred. For a low priced home located NORTH, this cannot be beat.

RAMBLER OFF ANDREWS HIGHWAY. This cream velvet brick rambler is located just off Andrews Highway—where some of Midland's most magnificent homes are now being constructed. Three large bedrooms, 2 ceramic tile baths, 2-car garage. The house is peppered with closets. French doors in the dining room lead to the landscaped yard, which is about half an acre—and completely tile fenced. Central warming and cooling systems, garage disposal unit, tile kitchen, water well and pump. Only $28,850.

2 AND THREE BEDROOMS — Now under construction. Wall built, well planned. Excellent locations. Complete in detail. $1,925 to $2,600 down.

NO INFLATED PRICE on this nice 2-bedroom home located NORTH of town. It has an Austin Stone trim entrance hall and closet, large living room, and service porch in the rear. The grounds are landscaped and the street is paved. Assume the present loan of $6,700, on the full price of ONLY $8,900.

BEFORE THE RODEO STARTS, drive by 305 Spruce Street. I will not tell you any other fact about the house except that it is priced at $11,500.

SURELY, WE'LL TRADE WITH YOU on this West Kansas home. It has 3 lovely bedrooms, 2 tile baths, double carport that would make a gorgeous den. It is luxuriously carpeted throughout, centrally heated, and is located on a corner. As the owner was transferred to Dallas, it has never been lived in. $22,900.

OWNERS TRANSFERRED TO WYOMING—so they regretfully have to sell their attractive, white brick home. It has 3 bedrooms (one is 11x17, and the other is 13x17), large living room, delightful and cheery kitchen, attached carport. Distributed heating, washer connection, electric stove connection, water cooler, landscaped. REDUCED TO $13,350!

IT'S SO CLEAN IT SPARKLES, and it's close in. It is a lovely 2-bedroom brick home with luxurious carpeting in the living room, furnace heating, washer connection, nice closets. The attached garage can be converted into a den. Two years old. Fenced. It has been REDUCED TO $11,900. Owner transferred.

SEE 1406 NORTH WHITTAKER. Two bedrooms, living room, dining room, nice kitchen, attached garage. Three years of care given to the lawn—and you'll appreciate it when you see it. Tile fence, water well, some carpeting. Vent-A-Hood, washer connection, furnace heating. Convenient to shopping and transportation. Call us now.

HAVE YOU EVER BEEN TOLD that you could purchase a new, 3-bedroom, 2-bath, brick home for $19,000? If you want a large den, a small additional sum will convert one of the garages into the luxury and comfort that you have been seeking. Central heating, ducted for air-conditioning, lots of soft carpeting, washer connection, selectively decorated.

MORE AND MORE the residents, new and old, of Midland, seek the friendly advice of the personnel of KEY, WILSON & MAXSON. TOWERING POLITICAL ARGUMENT—The Civic Committee of Rome, one of 16 political parties vying for votes in the first municipal elections in Rome since 1947, has erected wooden towers such as this one near St. Peter's (background), to display its posters, which are anti-Communist in tenor. Local elections are being held throughout Southern Italy at this time.

169 MHS Seniors To Get Diplomas Tuesday Night

Commencement exercises will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday for the 169 members of Midland High School's class of 1952.

Graduates will hear an address by Dr. William Gosselin in the ceremonies in MHS auditorium. Dr. Gosselin, chairman of the Division of School Administration and Community Service at Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., will speak on "Education for Free People." The public is invited to attend.

Candidates for graduation took their final examinations Monday morning and in the afternoon relaxed in their annual Class Day Program.

Students in all the city schools were to be dismissed at 2 p.m. Tuesday, but they will return to their classrooms at 1 p.m. Wednesday for their final report cards. Then, except for those who are expected to enroll in Summer school on Thursday, there'll be no more lessons and homework until Fall.

Honor Graduates
Valedictorian Dianne Anderson and Salutatorian Mary Ann McRae will speak on the commencement program. Invocation will be given by the Rev. T. J. Kennedy, O. M. I., pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church. Edwin Stitt will present scholarships earned by some of the graduates.

Music on the program will be by Students Tommy Miller, Ross Graham and Diana Daugherty. Betty Campbell will lead the students in singing the "Alma Mater."

John Cornwall, president of the Board of Education, will present the diplomas earned by the students in their 12 years' study in the public schools.

Fun and seriousness marked Monday's Class Day events in the MHS Auditorium. The program was presented by and for the prospective graduates.

Superfort Crewmen Without Injury As Plane Crash Lands

OKLAHOMA CITY.—(AP)—Twelve B-29 Superfort crewmen escaped "without a scratch" in a dramatic crash landing at Tinker Air Force Base Monday.

The plane had circled the field all afternoon preparing for the landing after Maj. F. W. Haines of San Francisco, its pilot, discovered his right landing gear was locked shortly after he took off from Topeka, Kan., at 1 p.m.

The crew voted to ride the plane down.

At 7 p.m., while fire trucks and a crash crew stood by, Haines dropped slowly to the runway cleared for the landing. His left and front wheels touched the ground and the craft sped down the runway about 300 yards.

Then the right landing gear, which was locked half-way out, buckled and the wing dragged on the runway, turning the plane in a circle to the right on to some grass.

Crewmen made a quick dash outside, leaving the fire crews to spray the smoking engines with carbon dioxide extinguishers.

Two men left the tent just before the Reds attacked shortly after midnight. They were not injured.

The officer said it was not known how many guerrillas attacked the isolated camp. They struck in darkness and fog.

The camp was in a stream bed. Apparently the guerrillas came down from nearby hills.

One man was on guard with a machine gun outside the tent. The guerrillas killed him first. Then they rushed into the tent and opened fire killing four more soldiers and a Korean house boy and wounding two soldiers. They carried off a machine gun.

The two survivors were just outside the camp area. They said the weapons used by the Reds sounded like American carbines.

Five GI's Die In Attack By Guerrillas Near Pusan

PUSAN, KOREA. (Delayed by censors)—(AP)—Communist guerrillas Friday attacked a small American installation north of Pusan deep in Southeast Korea and killed five American soldiers and one South Korean.

Two American soldiers were wounded.

The guerrillas attacked the camp of nine soldiers at a gravel pit near a village about 220 miles behind the battle line.

An officer of the unit said the guerrillas burned a tent, a 40-ton truck and an electric generator.

The Reds looted the tiny camp and captured a number of 30 caliber machine guns and a large quantity of ammunition.

Holdup Attempt In Club Backfires

CENTRALIA, ILL.—(AP)—A man walked into a rural night club at 4 a.m., flourished a gun and told some 30 persons:

"This is a stickup. Line up against the wall with your hands in the air."

One patron refused his order to hand him the money from the cash register. Centralia police said that no one else obeyed the man either.

The whole thing made the would-be holdup man so nervous he turned and ran out the door.

ANCIENT TOMBS FOUND

ROME.—(AP)—A large number of ancient tombs have been found during excavations near Naples, and in Northeastern Sicily. The first group was uncovered near Calvano, in the province of Naples, where some 70 bronze vases were found scattered in 16 tombs. A second group of tombs nearby led to the finding of 51 bronze vases and several bronze coins belonging to the Fourth and Third centuries, B. C.

Four Civilians Hurt When Bomb Explodes

MEXICO CITY.—(AP)—A small bomb accidentally exploded Monday night at the military airport. Four civilian bystanders, including a woman, were injured seriously.

A witness said some soldiers were moving the bomb near the airport fence when the time fuse was set off. The soldiers ran for cover and were not hurt.

College Student Has Big Schedule

PELZER, S. C.—(AP)—Bob Edens, 22-year-old college man, has a schedule that's enough to tucker a person out just reading about it.

He's up at 3 a.m., delivers 81 newspapers, walks home for breakfast, then trudges a mile to a highway and hitch-hikes a 17-mile ride to Greenville and his classes at Furman University.

Even on Sundays he delivers papers. He also works with young people at the First Baptist Church. After that he does his homework.

Mrs. Parsons Calm, Cool, Collected, Say Witnesses For State

EL PASO.—(AP)—The prosecution Tuesday continued trying to prove Mary Jean Parsons was sane when she shot her husband, Lt. Richard O. Parsons, last February 16.

Testimony Monday from John Tulk, former sheriff's department sergeant, indicated the 21-year-old blonde was calm and collected when she told the story just after the shooting. Mrs. Parsons faces trial on a murder charge if found sane.

Tulk testified before a district court jury that when he accompanied City Police Sgt. J. S. Hudson to a room to obtain a statement from Mrs. Parsons, "I thought she was unusually calm and cool."

"I was shocked by this," Tulk said.

He said she was well-behaved, quiet, cooperative, there were no emotional outbursts and she answered questions intelligently.

Other witnesses, including Col. Joseph W. Pettit, provost marshal at Fort Bliss, where Lieutenant Parsons was stationed, also said they noted Mrs. Parsons' apparently calm attitude.

ATOM CHIEF — Apparently overjoyed with his new assignment is Dr. W. G. Penney, 43, who has been named to take charge of Britain's first test of an atomic device. Test will take place on Monte Bello Islands, off the coast of Australia, where an atomic test station is being set up.

Taft Steamroller Well Oiled; Says Midland GOP Delegate

By GENIE HARMS BLISS
Special Correspondent

MINERAL WELLS.—Confusion reigns supreme here in Mineral Wells at the state Republican convention, and an Eisenhower delegate feels about as welcome as an Elk at a Moose convention.

Old line Republicans sitting in the Executive Committee session Monday consistently told contested delegations that a pledge to support the Republican Party did not mean you were a member of the party.

Orville Bullington, chairman, repeatedly announced, however, that newcomers to the party were welcome. The Executive Committee in each vote nullified the chairman's announcement.

First indications that the Taft steamroller, well oiled and greased, was rolling with full steam was shown Sunday as Eisenhower delegates checked into convention headquarters. State chairman for Eisenhower, Jack Porter of Houston, discovered his suite of rooms and 60 rooms for his delegation reserved two months ago had been allotted to other delegations. Quarters were obtained and the pre-convention work of the "Ike group" continued.

Midland delegates were unable to obtain rooms in the hotel. Richard L. Hughton, county chairman, is registered elsewhere. Harry Russell, delegate, is commuting from Fort Worth. James Hewgley, visitor, also is in Fort Worth. Cliff Wilderspin, delegate, is staying in Breckenridge. Francis Miller, alternate for George Rest, delegate, is quartered in a private home.

Midland delegates were in much the same position as those from Potter County and elsewhere. Contrary to all expectations, the biggest convention gripe has been about the room situation rather than Taft or Eisenhower as a candidate.

All Monday the Executive Committee has been in session over the contested delegations barricaded on the roof garden of the hotel by sergeants-at-arms. These doorkeepers used bouncer tactics on many members of the press to small avail.

Admittance was gained by a well-known Houston reporter after three attempts. Your Midland reporter was admitted when accompanied by other reporters and certified by Jack Porter of Houston. The press section included special reporters from New York and Chicago, and the national news magazines.

Midland Eliminated
Midland County was eliminated by the Executive Committee during the initial roll call of the morning session. Mrs. John Darden, former Midland resident, had been committee woman from the district. Her removal of residence to Denver, Colo., created a vacancy. Although other Republican women had been recommended for the position, the State Executive Committee failed to announce a proxy for her vote, or call her name in roll call.

Old Line Republicans may vote in Democratic primaries, but new Republicans may not vote for delegates to the Republican convention. This is the theory the Executive Committee enacts in its votes even after proof was shown by Alvin Lane of Dallas that various members of the Executive Committee had voted once or twice for Democrats in the last election.

Midland County Chairman Hughton represented J. R. Compton, Rusk County, as he contested before the committee the slate of delegates turned in by John Paul Jones of that county. The Jones delegates were seated. In his pleading, Hughton brought forth that Jones had taken part and approved the Rusk County slate as presented by Compton and later filed a list of delegates of his own.

President Of Texas Tech Resigns Post

LUBBOCK.—(AP)—Dr. D. M. Wiggins, 56, president of Texas Technological College, Monday night announced his resignation from the post.

The Tech Board of Regents accepted Dr. Wiggins' resignation with regret.

Wiggins said he did not know what his future plans were but was sure they would not be in the academic field.

He told the Board of Regents he would remain until a successor could be named but hoped it could be done no later than September.

West Germany Has Egg Fever

FRANKFURT, GERMANY.—(AP)—West Germany is enjoying a touch of egg-fever.

It's the incubated egg-cure which helped them to get rid of their troubles, they say. Millions of incubated eggs are being eaten these days.

The simple formula is: Eat one egg daily—incubated nine days—and do this for one month. The theory is that some particles in the egg embryo—called trephons—effect a renewal of the human cellular system and rejuvenate the patient. These trephons are said to be most effective after nine days of incubation.

BARSTOW—Dan Taylor, airman second class, stationed at Biloxi, Miss., is home on furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed K. Taylor.

Mrs. J. C. Grizzard of Isleta was in Barstow to attend the high school graduation exercises in which her son, Clinton Grizzard, received a diploma.

Mr. and Mrs. Rober Miller had a daughter in each of the graduating classes of the Barstow School. Wednesday night, their youngest daughter, Carol Jean, was graduated from junior high as class valedictorian. Nancy Ann, their eldest daughter and class secretary, received her high school diploma Thursday night. Nancy Ann plans to enroll next fall at Texas University where her brother, Jim Ed, is a Junior.

Postmaster Jack Hayes and son, Jackie, went to Waco this week. Mr. Hayes' daughter, Virginia Blanche, a student at Baylor University, returned with them.

Lawrence Daughette, junior student at Sul Ross College, is home for the summer vacation. He is the ninth child of Mr. and Mrs. Daughette to attend Sul Ross.

Coach and Mrs. Joe Joiner are spending the summer vacation with relatives at Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Halliday had daughters in both graduating exercises for Barstow School last week. Edna was graduated from junior high and Virgie Dean from high school.

Graduates At Pecos To Receive Diplomas In Tuesday Exercise

PECOS—Graduating seniors of the 1952 class will march down the aisle at the junior high school auditorium Tuesday to receive their coveted high school diplomas. The ceremony begins at 8 p.m., with the principal address to be given by Dr. Mortimer Brown, superintendent of El Paso schools.

Baccalaureate services were held here Sunday, with the Rev. W. M. Turner, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Pecos, delivering the sermon.

Winning a berth at the academic top of the class is Margaret Phillips, daughter of Jack R. Phillips. As valedictorian, her scholastic average was 97.652.

Closely behind her was Patty Holcombe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Walter Holcombe, with an average of 97.4705. She will deliver the salutatory address Tuesday night.

Earning highest honors were Thelma Kirkpatrick, Marguerite Jones, Ida Gaye Wheat, Pat Hill and Marchand McDougal.

Achieving recognition for scholastic honors were Norma Adams, Ruthie Thomas, Beverly Cothran, Diana Roberson and Ann Graham.

To Play March

Ellen Jayne Maris will play the processional march, followed by the invocation of the Church of Christ, Delpha Lauderdale will sing "Pale Moon." Supt. Ray Whitley will introduce Dr. Brown.

After presentation of the diplomas by W. S. McCree, school board president, the Rev. L. L. Kirkpatrick, pastor of the West Park Baptist Church, will pronounce the benediction.

Exercises Are Held For Eighth Graders

BARSTOW—With 500 persons attending, graduation exercises were held recently for the eighth grade of Barstow School.

Each class in the grade school was represented on the program. Supt. C. W. Wright presented perfect attendance awards to 23 students.

Freddy Jack Castleberry, Jr., read the class will. Joe Joiner, high school coach, presented graduation certificates.

Carol Jean Miller was valedictorian and Nancy Ann Jansen was salutatorian.

Officers of the graduating class are Marchand McDougal, president; Fenton Alley, vice president; Ida Gaye Wheat, secretary; Neta Jones Faulkner, treasurer; Norma Adams, girl representative; and Don Hutchins, boy representative.

Other graduates include Jo Ann Cook Beauchamp, Tommy Bingham, Shirley Brown, Jerry Bryan, Maurice Buckner, Glenna Burkhalter, Emmett Capps, Wanda Cleveland, Robert Cochran, Dora Granado, Devarie Gray, Betty Harris, Barbara Hutchins, Billy Ray Kelley, Lilly Mae Kelley.

Seven Seniors Get Diplomas At Barstow

BARSTOW—Seven seniors received diplomas at Barstow High School commencement exercises Thursday night in the high school auditorium.

They are: James Alton Collins, Nancy Miller, Jewel Clinton Grizzard, Virgie Dean Halliday, Glenda Lavern McNeil, Melba Castleberry Moore and Mart Bryan Taylor.

Judge Henry Russell of Pecos was the principal speaker.

Supt. C. W. Wright presented diplomas and announced that Virgie Dean Halliday was class valedictorian and Jimmy Collins, salutatorian.

Other program highlights included Mrs. A. J. Hayes, processional; Dr. T. C. Vinson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, invocation; high school choir, choral readings; James Collins, welcoming address; class songs; and the Rev. J. A. Box, pastor of the Barstow Baptist Church, benediction.

A senior prom was held following the exercises.

Contributions Made To Finance Trips Of Pecos Booster Group

PECOS—The finance committee for the traditional booster trips advertising the annual West of the Pecos Rodeo already has received contributions from 24 Pecos merchants, reports Chairman D. H. (Doc) Rhodes. Dates for the rodeo are July 3-6.

Rhodes' eight-man committee has been calling on businessmen to obtain funds to finance the three trips, all to be made over West Texas in air-conditioned buses.

First trip will be made June 12-13 through Andrews, Seminole, Lamesa, Lubbock, Littlefield, Levelland, Brownfield, Hobbs, N. M., and Carlsbad, N. M.

On June 19-20, a good-will tour will wind through Fort Stockton, McCamey, Rankin, San Angelo, Robert Lee, Colorado City, and back through Big Spring, Midland, Odessa and Monahans.

The third and final trip is slated June 26-27, mapped through Fort Davis, Alpine, Marfa, Van Horn and El Paso.

Bitter Contest In Making

Three-fourths of the delegates to the July 7 GOP national convention now have been chosen. Although the totals recorded for Senator Taft and General Eisenhower shift almost daily, careful projection of remaining selections indicates both will reach Chicago with blocks of from 425 to 500. Nomination requires 604.

The calculations suggest Taft is likely to have the higher figure of the two candidates, but not a wide margin over Eisenhower. Neither top candidate seems destined to get really close to the magic 604 in advance of the convention assembly. Unforeseen developments could upset this outlook. No one can foresee accurately what the effect on delegates will be when Eisenhower returns from Europe next month. He might vastly boost his stock, or he might hurt himself.

But if nothing does nullify the present figuring, it means that the nomination actually will be determined on the Chicago scene.

Aside from delegates openly committed to the two leaders, there is a present prospect that some 300 will come to Chicago either pledged to other men like Governor Warren and Harold Stassen, or uncommitted to any candidate. This floating group will be the prize in the great tug of war.

Some of the uncommitted already lean pretty strongly one way or the other. Some belong to big delegations like Pennsylvania's, where Governor Fine is trying earnestly to pick the winning horse. A good many in this category could get off the fence in the final days before convention. Delegations often caucus enroute to the convention city, or shortly after they arrive.

A marked trend in convention-eve maneuvers of that sort virtually could end it all before the gavel falls. But if these leave the issue still unsettled, then a totally different factor enters the picture.

According to current predictions, some 89 delegates in five Southern states will be in the uncommitted category. They will be there because there is no other place to put them. Their problem is not uncertainty; it's that there will be too many of them.

It looks as if Texas, Georgia, Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi each will send two rival delegations to Chicago, one for Taft, the other for Ike. Obviously there are enough delegates in this bundle to tip the scales decisively for either man.

Not since 112, when 254 seats were contested, has such a large group headed for the convention under a "clouded title."

The burden of deciding which delegations to seat will fall to the Republican National Committee. Appeals may be taken first to the Credentials Committee of the convention, and then to the convention floor, where all the eligible delegates will vote on any unsettled matter.

If the contests are bitter, as may be the case, it will be the convention itself which will cast the critical weight. And for that purpose it will behoove supporters of both Taft and Eisenhower to marshal not only all their pre-Chicago delegates, but all the additional strength they can from either uncommitted ranks or the backers of other candidates.

This dramatic test, should it come off, well may prove the climax of the convention, reducing all succeeding events to mere routine. But there is just a chance that party leaders, in the interest of later harmony, may dodge this fight by offering to divide all contested seats equally between Taft and Eisenhower.

In that event, the strength of both would be evenly augmented, and the real ballot-by-poll struggle would be on. And then the winner would be the man with the greatest secondary pulling power among delegates not originally favoring him.

Communist 'Peace'

May Day used to belong to the Socialists of the world, but the Communists have grabbed it from them and made it their own.

What they do with it was well illustrated by this year's riots in Tokyo. You'd think they might take the occasion to try to win some friends. Isn't peace and love for the masses the great slogan?

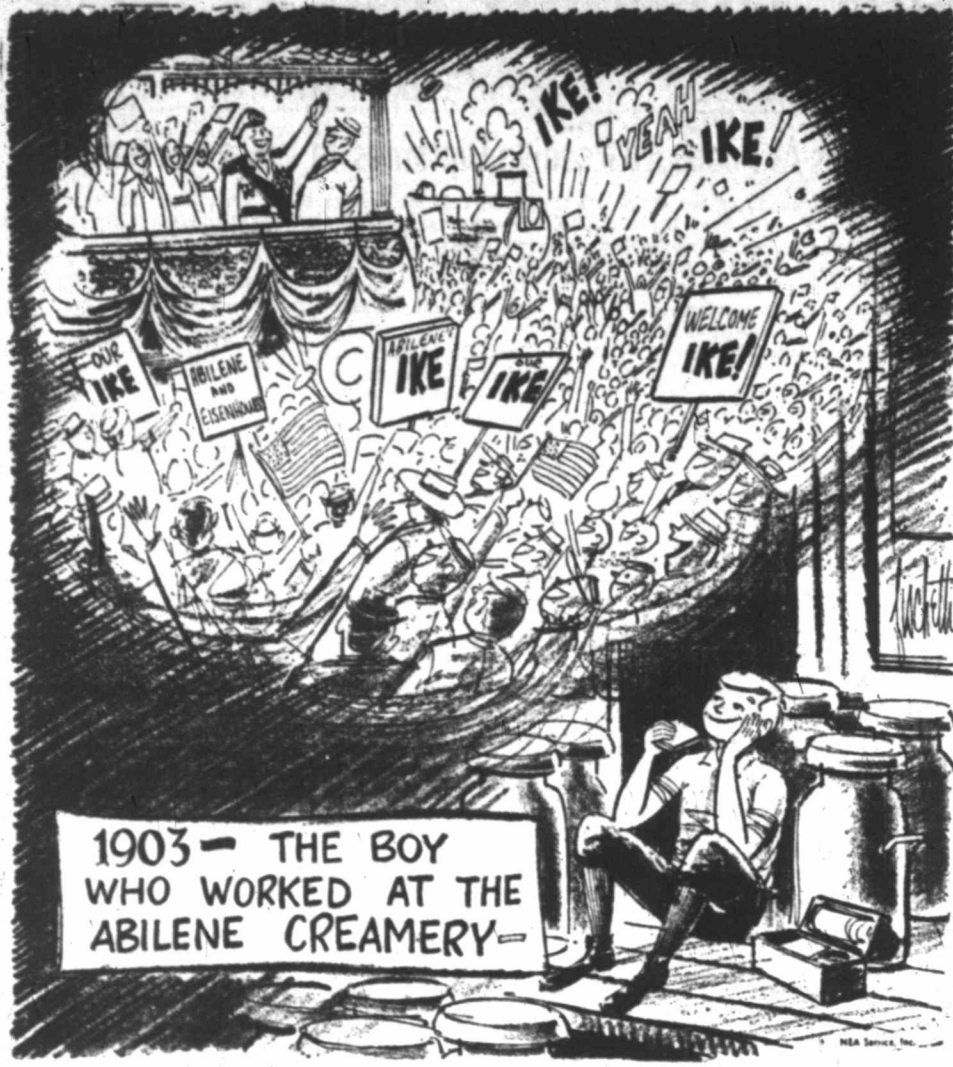

But no! They decided that the way to win Communist converts was to turn loose rioting mobs. Downtown Tokyo became a battle scene until police finally subdued and dispersed the energetic peace-lovers.

The picture of an American-owned car, overturned and burning in a Tokyo street, ought to be pasted in your scrapbook and frotted out as a healthy visual antidote to future hypocritical Red mouthings about their gentle devotion to peace and humanity.

If you want to make even your friends keep dodging out of your way, just keep tooting your own horn.

An explorer says it's safer in the jungle than in the big city. Wild things don't attack at 75 miles per hour.

A Boyhood Dream

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Tideland oil lobby lays for Truman veto; oil company can't stop lobby they created; Governor Shivers of Texas worried about his belt.

WASHINGTON—This city is a veritable cesspool of lobbyists in its day, but seldom such a high-powered, high-level group as that now pulling wires to defeat the President's pending veto on tideland oil. Most significant thing about the lobby is that this time it's not being directed by the oil companies. The federal government has promised that oil companies leases will be protected under federal operation, so the oil companies now don't care whether they pay royalties to the government or to the three states which are clamoring for tideland oil—Texas, California and Louisiana. All the oil companies want is to have the dispute settled so they can get down to work.

But having created a Frankenstein, the oil companies today are unable to control it, with the result that such scoundrels as Senator Holland of Florida and ex-Senator Downey of California have been pressuring them to stay in line.

Chief target of the lobby is the Senate. A mere handful of votes one way or the other will spell the difference between upholding or overriding the veto. So the lobbyists are trying to persuade certain senators who oppose tideland oil to be absent. They don't ask them to reverse themselves and vote for tideland oil, merely to be away from Washington and unable to vote.

Senators in this category are Magnuson of Washington who has been away; Kerr of Oklahoma who has promised to support the President if in Washington, but who is busy campaigning elsewhere; and Kefauver of Tennessee. Kefauver has wired Senate Leader McFarland asking him to postpone a vote until June 3 when he can return from speaking commitments in California. Kefauver will support the President.

Lobbyist Roll Call
Meanwhile here is the roll call of chief wire-pullers in the hot and heavy battle over tideland oil.
Speaker Sam Rayburn—Has been spending almost as much time in the Senate as in his own House of Representatives. Loyal to the President, but on this issue even more loyal to Texas. Sam has been trying to persuade key senators to vote for Texas.

Ex-Senator Sheridan Downey of California earns $70,000 a year lobbying for Long Beach, Calif., which gets most of its revenue from the oil wells that jut out into the ocean along its waterfront. Downey has been busy as a bird dog buttonholing old colleagues, but so far has been careful to keep off the Senate floor.

William McAdam, former publicity man for Senator Taft, is paid $40,000 a year plus expenses by Long Beach to influence legislators. Recently a member of McAdam's office had the gall to telephone the Senate Interior Committee and ask for a report on what had happened at a closed-door session on tideland oil. The committee refused.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas—Came to Washington both on tideland oil and to mend his fences with certain Texas leaders in the Capital. Shivers talked to his old of the outstanding bridge players of New York City. He held the East cards in the hand shown today, taken from the recent Eastern Tournament.

West opened the deuce of spades, and Dr. Apfel won with the king. Before making his next play, the doctor thought carefully, and perhaps it would be instructive to follow his thoughts.

It was clear that West had led his fourth best spade, and that South therefore held exactly two spades. It was equally clear that South held either ten or eleven cards in hearts and clubs. Hence there was no chance that the de-act accordingly.

Texas Democrats attributed this to the speech which Governor Shivers' political opponent, Ralph Yarborough, made in Texas recently. Yarborough, they reported to White House advisers, was compelled by Texas radio stations to submit his speech 72 hours in advance, presumably for censorship. And the minute Governor Shivers got an advance leak of rip-roaring contents of the speech, he was enroute to Washington, officially to discuss tideland oil, but actually to mend his fences.

Reason why Washington leaders, both Democrats and Republicans, were so intrigued over the Texas situation is that today in San Antonio Texas Democrats hold their state convention. If the Shiversite refuse to take a pledge to support the Democratic Party, it means that one branch of Texas Democrats might go for Taft or Eisenhower if the Chicago convention adopts a plank favoring FEPC or opposing tideland oil.

Merry-Go-Round
Pentagon planners have found a new word for "Snafu." The World War II term meaning snarled. When things aren't running smoothly now, the Pentagoners say: "Everything is Koje-Do."—referring to the island where the army is having all its officers at trouble.

Low-ranking officers at the Pentagon have taken to calling themselves "Fender-benders." "We take all the mud from the wheels," they explain. A press officer at the Commerce Department made a typical bureaucratic comment the other day when an embarrassing story appeared on the news ticker: "If that's the truth," he blurted, "it's a lie."

Whenever you find a player who is consistently successful in tournament play you may be quite sure that he is expert on defense. On the average, you play defense twice as often as you are declarer, and you therefore have twice as much opportunity to show your defensive skill (or lack of it) as your ability to play the dummy.

The truth of this general principle is borne out in the case of Dr. Kalman Apfel, one

Mystery Of Lewis' Overdue Demands For UMW Contract Adds To Confusion

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—One of the big mysteries in the current muddled labor situation is why John L. Lewis hasn't made known his demands for a new United Mine Workers' contract with the coal operators. They actually are overdue.

The contract under which the coal miners now are working expired March 31. Since February 1, therefore, the door has been open for the UMW boss to give 60-day notice of a desire to terminate the present contract and negotiate a new one.

Lewis has told no one of his intentions. The coal operators generally expect to get their 60-day notice during the week of May 1 to May 7. This would have allowed the contract to expire while the miners were observing their annual memorial period. If no contract were signed before then, the miners simply could continue their vacation till they did get a contract.

Speculation in labor circles is that Lewis might be waiting for a settlement of the steel wage case, the Supreme Court decision on the steel industry seizure, or the passage of his federal mine safety bill before reopening his contract.

The coal operators have another version. They know that the mine workers' chief knows coal stocks above ground are at record highs and that the coal business now is worse than at any time since 1939. Under such conditions the operators might welcome a strike and are in no position to grant a wage increase.

The present coal contract gave the miners a 20-cents-an-hour raise to a $16.35 daily average. Before that, there was a nine months' intermittent strike ending in March, 1950. It won the miners a 75-cents-per-day increase plus a 30-cents-per-ton royalty payment for welfare.

Vanech's Climb
Responsibility for the advancement of A. Devitt Vanech to the second highest position in the Department of Justice now is being blamed on Associate Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark and his successor as attorney general, James Howard McGrath.

Vanech made this climb in 19 years as a career man in government's law enforcement agency in spite of the fact that he failed to pass bar examinations in District Columbia and Virginia, finally getting in through Tennessee.

Vanech went to work for Department of Justice in 1933 when he was 27 years old. His first job was as an investigator. From there he went to clerk, administrative assistant, principal administrative attorney and special assistant to the assistant to the attorney general.

Tom Clark lifted him from this fourth-string job to be assistant attorney general in charge of the Lands Division. Howard McGrath made him deputy attorney general.

Regardless of the outcome of the steel seizure case now being pondered by the Supreme Court, Philip B. Perlman claims to have argued and won more government cases before this highest tribunal than any other solicitor general.

Confirmed five years ago, after Senate Republicans had blocked his appointment for more than six months, Perlman has argued 56 cases before the Supreme Court, won 45 decisions and lost 10. Two of the cases still are undecided, one is being reargued and one is classified as neither won nor lost.

Among the important decisions which the solicitor general has won for the government are the ban on racial restrictive covenants, the railroad dining car segregation ban, the tideland case giving the government title to marginal oil lands, the conviction of the 11 top Communist leaders and the establishment of constitutionality of the Smith Act.

Perlman also has won decisions holding valid legislation establishing a 103 per cent wage increase to cover cost-of-living increases between last September and March. This, plus a 1.08 per cent cost-of-living increase and a 2.5 per cent general wage increase last September, would give GE employees a total wage raise of 4.61 per cent.

Twenty unions have accepted GE's last offer. The others—including the two big ones—now are debating whether to accept this offer or whether to ask for more. The unions also may ask for a union shop, as the machinists and auto workers now are demanding at GE's Lockland, Ohio, jet engine production plant.

James B. Carey, IUE president and CIO secretary-treasurer, recently told Lemuel L. Boulware, GE vice president in charge of labor relations, "We're going to have a great showdown on this union shop issue."

Boulware replied: "I'm ready to open this subject at any time, including now."

The union leader chose not to open at that time. Boulware now says plainly that, "GE will take a strike if they just want more money or a union shop."

Washington's Fourth Team
The Truman administration is having a tough time finding competent people to fill top defense jobs. Nobody is in sight for C. E. Wilson's vacated job as director of Defense Mobilization agency has done since Wilson left is to name a new part-time advisory committee on machine tool production.

It will be headed by Harold S. Vance, Studebaker chairman, the only new face and name on the Washington scene in a long time.

Henry H. Fowler, just confirmed as successor to Defense Production Administrator Manly Fetschman, isn't expected to stay long. Nobody seems to want a job with a lame duck administration. The word that goes out is that the fourth team now is running things in Washington.

GE Labor Case
One of the next big labor cases, involving many defense orders, is General Electric. The company has contracts with 68 different labor unions. Of GE's 216,000 employees, about half are in two unions, the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and the independent United Electrical Workers. IUE has about 65,000 GE members, to 45,000 for the older but more leftist UMW.

Major contracts expire September 15 and many others round that date, but they may be opened for renegotiation on 60 days' notice.

GE already has offered the unions a 1.03 per cent wage increase to cover cost-of-living increases between last September and March. This, plus a 1.08 per cent cost-of-living increase and a 2.5 per cent general wage increase last September, would give GE employees a total wage raise of 4.61 per cent.

Twenty unions have accepted GE's last offer. The others—including the two big ones—now are debating whether to accept this offer or whether to ask for more. THE STORY: Jack Duggan, a private detective, is murdered after he posed as Psychiatrist Basil Willing. Agard and Miss Katherine Shaw dies under mysterious circumstances the same night. Both deaths follow a dinner at the home of Dr. Zimmer, also a private detective, who had been studying some of his patients at the gathering. Dr. Zimmer later re-examines his gathering and Basil asks Miss Shaw's secretary Charlotte Dean to attend and report what occurred. Late the same night Basil is called to the home of the best friend, Lawrence, who is near death from a cocaine overdose. Basil reviving Lawrence by telling the man he must live for his daughter's sake.

amusing when he is in the mood. I felt it such a privilege to sit next to him at table. I don't know him very well, but I've always admired his verse.

"Did his high spirits go on to the end?"
"Oh, yes. He and Perdita were among the first to leave and I heard him laughing as he went out the front door. Such a light, musical laugh for a man!"

Gisela shivered. As he left that house, Stephen Lawrence had laughed. With poison already in his bloodstream? Or his set will to suicide already in his heart?
"And Perdita?" Basil was saying. "Was she gay, too?"

"She seemed rather tired, but she always seemed tired. Dr. Zimmer had his best to cheer her up. They had quite a little tete-a-tete when she first got there, but that was the only time Perdita showed any animation at all."

"You don't know what they were discussing?"
"No. They were at the other end of the room."

"I'm sure Rosamund Yorke was the loveliest woman there," remarked Gisela.
"Mrs. Yorke was a little bit . . . Charlotte paused for a word. "Distraught, I thought. Once she was stammered."

"How was that?" Basil's question came swiftly.
"Let me see . . . Mr. Yorke was making plans for next summer. He said something about going to Europe and asked Mrs. Yorke if she could go with him on a certain date. She started to say something like: 'Why, of course. We'll go by air on the first of July . . . But, half-way through the sentence, her voice caught and her words stumbled. She stopped speaking for a moment and then went on in a less natural tone of voice. No doubt it was the memory of the last time that we were all at Dr. Zimmer's together that upset her nerves. Now I come to think of it, those were several others who seemed to feel the same way in the beginning.

"And who were these others?"
"Isola Canning and her husband. You would hardly think either would be sensitive to atmosphere, but they must be. Mr. Canning was talking about the atom bomb—such an unpleasant subject. He said, 'If ever it comes Isola and I are going to . . . and then he stopped. Mrs. Yorke finished the sentence for him. 'Run, not walk, to the nearest exit!'"

Mr. Canning nodded but he didn't say any more."

"And no one mentioned Duggan?"

"Of course not." Charlotte's tone gently rebuked the idea that anyone would be guilty of such a breach of decorum. "But I suppose Duggan must have been in everyone's mind at first," she admitted. "I could see when we got there that Mrs. Mann was working hard to put everyone at ease. And Dr. Zimmer, too. He was all things to all men, even discussing metre and infection with Stephen Lawrence. I heard them when they were standing beside the fireplace just before dinner, and I was quite entranced, ignorant as I am of such things. Dr. Zimmer listened so intently, one hand on the mantel, looking down at the fire. It needed poking, but he didn't touch it until Mr. Lawrence had finished what he was saying. Toward the end of the evening everyone seemed much more comfortable. Resuming these dinners as if nothing had happened is probably the best way to lay the ghost of poor Duggan. Mrs. Mann told me that Dr. Zimmer asked her to point that out to each of his patients in her invitation and he's probably right. Next time we will have forgotten all about Duggan now we've broken the ice."

"So there is to be a next time?"
"Of course." Charlotte was mildly disconcerted. "We're all dining there again next Friday."

"Was Mr. Shaw one of the un-casual ones?" Basil asked.
"Oh, no. He was in very good form. And seemed really quite attentive to me."

Ideal Cleaners Offers Fast, Complete Service

As modern and complete a cleaning and pressing business to be found in Midland is the Ideal Cleaners, 309 North Dodson Street in the Permian Shopping Center.

Opened two months ago by F. G. Adcock, the Ideal Cleaners features a three day service, plus free mending of rips and sewing on of missing buttons.

In addition to expert cleaning and pressing of garments, the firm cleans and blocks hats, sells nationally-known brands of made-to-measure clothes, and does alterations.

As an added service to its customers, Ideal recently installed a Glover pants stretcher. If pants are too small in the waist or short in length, they can be restored quickly to regular size on the stretcher.

Experienced Personnel

Adcock, who has had a number of years experience in the cleaning and pressing trade, is particularly proud of his cleaning department in which Pantex is used to distill the solvent, acting as a purifying agent.

George Mooney, with 35 years experience, is in charge of the cleaning department.

Alice Franklin and Robert Palmer, both with a number of years experience, operate the presses.

Sue Mayberry is employed as checker, and Mrs. Adcock assists her husband in operating the business.

Business hours of the Ideal Cleaners are 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and until 1 p.m. on Saturdays.

Adcock invites persons interested in having personalized service to bring their clothes to the Ideal Cleaners, where S&H green stamps are given.

"We think we have one of the best shops in Midland and we are anxious to serve you," Adcock said.

Whoopers Begin Flight To North

NEW YORK—America's most publicized bird, the whooping crane, has started its annual flight north, to possible extinction.

At a new low ebb of 23 birds (plus two in captivity) the species has a fighting chance to survive. It depends on the hazards of migration, on conditions at their unknown nesting ground in the Far North, and on whether two dozen birds are too small a number to provide the spirit or whatever it is that makes a species live on.

The cranes winter at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas. Attempts to locate their nesting sites have been unsuccessful.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Hermit Business

"Daddy Ringtail," said Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, "I betcha we are about to have an adventure with a hermit."

"Oh my yes," Daddy Ringtail said, because now they were far away and down the Elephant Path, on across the Whispering River, half way up the mountain. Yes, and now they were standing in front of a big, big sign with a hand painted upon it. The hand was pointing up the mountain, and with it were words that said: "THIS WAY TO THE CAVE OF THE HERMIT."

"Oh my yes," Daddy Ringtail said again, "I do believe that we are about to have an adventure with a hermit."

"Sure," said Mugwump, "but what's a hermit?"

Daddy Ringtail explained that a hermit is anyone who lives all alone way off by himself with no one else to live with him. Ah me, yes, and that is really what a hermit is. Often, too, a hermit is very old with long white hair and long whiskers. A hermit likes to be a hermit, or else he wouldn't be one.

"Anyway," said Daddy Ringtail, "we shall go the way that the hand on the sign is pointing, until we come at last to the cave where the hermit lives."

Oh, they weren't to have any trouble at all in following the way to the cave of the hermit. The path led on to the top of the mountain, and there was another sign that looked exactly like the first one. The sign had a hand that pointed, and with it were words that said: "THIS WAY TO THE CAVE OF THE HERMIT."

"He sure isn't going to let us get lost," said Mugwump. "No," Daddy Ringtail said, "and I think we shall soon be there." On they walked down the hill, and across a creek, and on through a meadow the way that another sign was pointing. The words on this sign said: "ONE MINUTE WALK TO HERMIT CAVE." And so on through the trees our friends walked, and up a hill for one minute, and there was the hermit cave sure enough.

Oh my yes, and hundreds of people were standing about to see the hermit, because it isn't often that people can see a real live hermit. Why, people had come for hundreds of miles to see him, and there he sat in front of his cave with a happy smile on his face. Oh, he was the happiest hermit there ever was, all because of the hundreds of people who came to see him every day. Yes sir, because would you live alone and like it if no one ever came to see you? I wouldn't either. Happy day!

Shortage Of Ash Trays Symbolizes Atmosphere At Panmunjom

By OSWALD JACORY
Written for NEA Service

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Seldom in recent history have such momentous proceedings as the Korean peace talks been held in such humble surroundings.

They're even short of ash trays. As a result, the Red delegates and those from the United Nations are always having to share the same ones.

They do it gingerly, though, as if they're afraid they'll accidentally touch fingers. And I never saw a man on one side give a man on the other side a cigarette.

The shortage of ash trays is symbolic of the surprisingly plain surroundings at the Panmunjom meetings, from which I have just returned after 16 months in Japan and Korea on duty with the U. S. Navy.

The top-level meetings, called plenary sessions, are held in a big old American Army tent in a field in the middle of the neutral meeting zone.

The long table in the middle of the tent is like nothing you ever saw in a board of directors room. Actually, it is made of a lot of little tables like you'd see in an infantry outfit's orderly room. Naked light bulbs hang at odd intervals from the top of the tent. The chairs are simple, straight-backed affairs, and very uncomfortable, I know.

The plenary sessions get underway at 11 a.m. And that doesn't mean 10:59 or 11:01. Military people are very prompt.

Shortly before 11, the staffs, numbering from 15 to 20 on each side, enter the tent and take their places at rear side tables. The two delegations try to come in at 11 sharp, through their own separate entrances. But since our watches and the enemy watches are not synchronized, our delegation may go in slightly ahead of the other.

Our delegation is headed by Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, and the enemy's by General Nam Il, of the North Korean People's Army.

There takes place now an interesting bit of procedure. No enemy delegate ever walks over to our side of the tent, and we never cross to their side. The big table is in the exact middle of the tent and each delegation always sits on its own side.

One would think there was a line drawn right through the middle of the tent, which they could not cross. Which is just what there is. It's not a big white line like you'd see on a football field. There's not even any line that you can see. But it's there, nevertheless. It's the boundary line which crosses through the entire middle of the neutral zone and which separates us from them.

The opposing staffs, which are actually expert advisers to their respective delegations, are already seated in the tent when the delegations walk in.

When the UN delegation enters, the UN staff respectfully rises. When the enemy delegation walks in, the enemy staff rises. Neither staff stands for the opposing delegation.

When the two delegations are seated across the big table from each other, either Adm. Joy or Gen. Nam will say something like, "Let's get going."

As the endless haggling gets underway, four low-ranking but very important people go into action. Without them, in fact, there could be no peace talks.

They are the interpreters, two to each side. Everything Adm. Joy says (he's the only member of the

On the dividing line, ash trays: Here's how it looks inside the truce tent at Panmunjom, Korea, as delegations meet. Imaginary boundary line runs through middle of tent, just about through the nearest and furthest ash trays in this picture, taken during a session of ground rules sub-delegation.

UN delegation who addresses the enemy is translated to the enemy delegation by our two interpreters, one speaking Chinese and the other Korean. Their interpreters translate what Gen. Nam says into English and Chinese. The latter is necessary for the benefit of the Chinese members of their delegation.

Gen. Nam used to get pretty sore at one of his interpreters sometimes. But he never fired him. The fellow always turned up the next day.

At the plenary sessions everyone is usually pretty polite. Both the enemy and our side have made a sincere effort to conduct things properly.

But at some of the sub-delegation meetings which are frequently held, their boys get a little sharp-tongued sometimes. When one of us got insulted at one of these meetings we were very proud of it — under these circumstances we liked to be disliked.

My work was mostly with figures, and one time an enemy sub-delegation member referred to me as "the incompetent accountant," with an amusing strong accent on the third syllable. I was very pleased with myself and the envy of my friends.

Punctuality being of historic virtue with the military, our side has set up an elaborate transportation schedule for getting our people to Panmunjom on time from our living quarters 16 miles away in Munsan.

There is a staff meeting at Munsan at 8 a.m. to have a final discussion of the day's strategy. At about 8:05 the transportation officer comes in, tells everyone the official time (so we can synchronize our watches) and gives everyone who is going to the meeting a card telling him when he will leave and by what means.

Our top ranking people go by helicopter when the weather is good enough. Otherwise everyone goes by jeep or sedan, and then we have quite a little convoy. I can't help wondering what would happen to that poor transportation officer if he got everybody to the meeting an hour late some time.

Tour Of U. S. Discloses Keen Insight

NEW YORK—(NEA)—New England Winters are so bad that if the United States had been settled from the Pacific Coast eastward, New England would still be undiscovered.

Americans probably eat a wider variety of things than anybody anywhere.

Englishmen can't get over Americans wearing belts when they could be wearing suspenders, like Englishmen do.

Such are typical musings on American by an extraordinary Englishman named Alastair Cooke.

Contemplating Cooke for the first time, he strikes you as one of those gentle who's so handsome he couldn't be very alert.

Hair Graying

He's tall and slim, and at 43 his sleek brown hair is graying at the temples. He has fine light-colored eyes and one of those high-bridged Coldstream Guards noses. And he talks with an English accent.

But he's alert all right. He is chief American correspondent of England's Manchester Guardian, tries regularly and with apparent success to explain America to England over the British Broadcasting Corporation, and has written two books.

He has been called the best of the present-day foreign correspondents. And an American diplomat said he was one of the best ambassadors to England this country ever had.

Spruced-Up Version

His first book was "A Generation on Trial," the story of the Hiss case. The second, just out, is "One Man's America," a spruced-up version of his better broadcasts on America to England.

For instance, describing Florida—the richness of her winter playgrounds as contrasted with the extreme poverty of many of her negroes, Indians, and native whites and their fight to improve their lot through organized labor.

"You will come away from (Florida) with a memory of an old crone, around her neck the diamond necklace of Miami Beach, and for the rest a woman part Indian, part negro, part Spanish, mostly Southern mountaineer, who grows oranges and smells of turpentine; who practices voodoo and smokes cigars; who counts cheap beads with her hands and keeps a union card in her pocket."

Alastair Cooke: The elevator man called him "doctor."

Since setting out to learn all about the country with the zest and purpose of a brush salesman. As a result he knows about 3,1416 times as much about America as does the average American.

Apple soup in Wisconsin? Cooke ate it way back when The California climate? "No such thing," says Cooke. "There are 16 different California climates." Should a man wear a white dinner coat in San Francisco? "No," says Cooke. "I did it once and the elevator man called me Doctor."

But there still are a few bafflers he hasn't solved. One is that he can "find no peasants in America." Also, he "can't identify a farmer on sight."

Cooke becomes more serious, talks more intently, and smokes his cigarettes faster when he gets on the subject of America's position in world affairs.

"If the United States is to be an effective world leader, it won't completely define its world policy for some time to come," he says. "This country is like a card player who is being dealt his hand one card at a time. It won't know how to play its hand until it has all the cards."

Meantime, he believes we have a good bit to learn about getting along with people of other countries. "This country will have to learn, probably by many failures, that it can't get respect from other nations without giving their respect—even to the extent of respecting them for their differences from us."

"I don't want to seem harsh about America, just realistic," Cooke says. Then he smiles. "Because after all who am I to talk. I've been a United States citizen for the last 11 years."

Blind Bridge Fan Plays 'Tricky' Game

PITTSBURGH — Not long ago J. Mellor Phillips finished in the top half of players competing in a bridge tournament. Phillips started playing bridge 18 months ago and he figured he did fine to outscore 88 opponents because they could see.

Phillips is blind.

That does not bother him one iota when it comes to playing bridge, or doing a good many other things.

The 40-year-old Pittsburgher, using a special deck of brailled cards, not only is giving the Steel City's top bridge players a run for their money—he's helping other blind folk learn to play bridge. They practice regularly at a downtown club.

The class, one of the few of its kind in the country, is composed of men who are adept at reading braille. Eight of the 16 members have college degrees. One, Charles Hogan, lost his sight in the Normandy invasion of World War II.

Phillips and his blind friends use cards which have been marked in braille on the upper left and lower right hand corners. As each man plays a card he tells his opponents of his choice.

Phillips says he does not try to memorize the play of all 52 cards, adding: "I just keep track of the top cards, who plays them and the length of the various suits. Once in a while, 'slip up on a nine or 10-spot but who doesn't?'"

At the age of 74, Vice President Barkley says he can do more work than he did 40 years ago. The only way to measure what that means is first to know what he calls work and how much of it he did in those early days.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

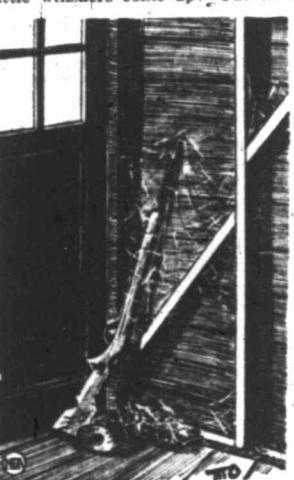

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

Behind the back door of almost every farmhouse—and many city apartments—there stands a rifle or shotgun. Most of these weapons are so beat up, their stocks so badly battered, that their owners wouldn't dare take 'em into polite society. That shouldn't be, because even a plain piece of walnut can be made handsome with a good finish; and a refinishing job is easy.

After you've taken the gun down, so that no metal parts are left with the wood, what's left of the original varnish or lacquer, can be stripped off, with varnish remover. If that isn't handy, use 3/0 steel wool, then sandpaper graded in fineness as you get down to the wood, and plenty of honest elbow grease. Rub the stock, until it has a hard glassy surface.

If the old stock is dented a bit, some of the dents can be steamed out quite handsly. Your wife's steam iron and a wet cloth will bring up all but the worst hollows. Or, use a hot iron driving its heat through a rag dampened with warm water. Sand the gun over lightly when it's dry. Look better.

The next step is to raise any soft sections in the grain. Blot the wood with hot water. See those little whiskers come up? Cut them off with fine sandpaper, and repeat the process until there's no semblance of five o'clock shadow when the wood is dry. Professional stock hakers singe off those whiskers over a flame, but unless the amateur wants to risk burning his buttstock, this is not for him.

If that beautiful hunk of walnut had a commercial finish on it in good shape before you got at it with the sandpaper, and you used any remover sparingly, the chances are that it will not need any filler. If the wood is old and clearly shows empty pores, then either use a commercial filler or a half-and-half mixture of baltorp varnish and linseed put on sparingly and sanded clean to the wood between coats. Now you're ready for the final finish.

Any one of the many stock finishes on the market will do a very handsome and durable job if you do your part by following directions carefully. Remember that the secret of any gunstock finish is to build up the finish in the wood rather than on it. All of them give best results when used as several thin coats with a lot of rubbing in between.

Now a word about linseed oil, a much misunderstood kind of wood finisher. Raw linseed is loaded with non-drying elements called "foots." Put on a big dose of raw linseed and your stock will never dry completely—the finish will be gummy forever, darker than you want. Boiled linseed, which is not necessarily boiled at all, has driers added. These act like turpentine does in paint.

There are some refined linseeds being advertised which have had the "foots" removed, without the drying adulterants added. These are top-hole. On your properly prepared stock rub—with your hands—a thin coat. Let it dry overnight. Repeat before you leave for work in the morning. Repeat again that evening. Thin coats. Don't slobber it on.

Use three or four coats, and after each, rub the oily wood with the palm of your hand until your flesh threatens to blister. That will be enough for a durable finish, one that you can look into and see the handsome grain of that rejuvenated gunstock.

The MATURE PARENT Success As Homemaker Tests Talent For Love

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Because of Myra's singing voice, her family called her "Lark." They bought her biographies of famous opera stars and sent her away to a very expensive conservatory for training. When she fell in love instead of graduating, their disappointment was intense. Her parents said, "What can you be thinking of to throw your genius away to keep house for this man?"

When Myra's baby was born, they were so pleased they forgot what they'd said. But Myra didn't forget. She began to develop chronic fatigue. At night, she would look at herself in the mirror, remembering how different she had looked as Gilda in the conservatory's production of "Rigoletto." Then, because it was the thing to do, she'd go in to check Petey's bedcovers. Often, she was too tired to do more than note with irritation that he's been sucking his thumb again.

When Petey was five years old, his problems forced her to take him to a guidance clinic. There, a man whom she trusted and admired said casually to her one day, "If you don't want to sing at your club's concert, why do you?" It was a shattering question for Myra. The suggestion that she might not have to show off to keep approval threw all her previous values out of balance. But as she began to grope for new ones, she became aware of a secret overwhelming relief.

She began to seek ways to show her gratitude to the world which did not require her to continue impersonating a frustrated opera star. Freed from her compulsion to practice arias when Petey wanted attention, she freed Petey from his compulsion to demand it. By the end of another six months, Petey was sure enough of his mother's love to play by himself when she practiced her scales.

Dr. Karen Horney, a distinguished New York psychiatrist, writing in her book "Our Inner Conflicts": "A housewife will not do her work well if she secretly feels that it is unfair that, gifted as she is, she should be doing menial work. The prospect of doing something mediocre is so deterring that she prefers not to do it, but to perform magnificently in fantasy. Any kind of work under these conditions is bound to take more out of a person just as a car will suffer if it is driven with locked brakes."

The Bible summarizes Dr. Horney's comments like this: "A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways."

If our homemaking tires us unduly, it is not impossible that we are operating on energies locked in indecision. If we feel that cooking, cleaning and marketing are beneath us, we should want to know why. If we properly appreciate our under-

Chronic Prostate Infections Seldom Can Be Cured Rapidly

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The prostate is a small sex gland which stores the seminal fluid. The openings into it are narrow so that it makes a particularly good place for germs to grow. Infections of this gland usually are divided into acute and chronic varieties.

Acute prostatitis is often, but by no means always, caused by a germ called the gonococcus which is the cause of gonorrhea. However, many organisms can grow in this gland and mixtures of germs are frequent. Germs can invade the prostate along the urinary passageways or can be carried there by the blood stream.

The symptoms of acute infection of the prostate may be mild or severe. The most common ones at the beginning are disturbances of urination, such as burning, frequency, and dribbling. Pain or a feeling of fullness may or may not be present.

During the acute stage absolute rest in bed and avoidance of strain, is necessary. The application of heat, alkalizing the urine and drinking fluids freely also may be desirable.

In the past this was about all which could be done at first, but now medicines, like the sulfa and penicillin, have been found valuable in many cases.

Chronic inflammation of the prostate is an extremely common condition and like the acute variety, is sometimes, but by no means always, caused by the gonococcus. Chronic prostatitis is likely to become less common in the future as it often follows acute infection, which now can be treated with better chances of complete cure.

Chronic prostatitis often produces few if any symptoms. Some patients have only a small amount of pus. Others have urinary symptoms similar to those of the acute variety but not so severe. Local signs of prostate infection may be absent altogether, but the infection may cause difficulties elsewhere in the body such as arthritis, neuritis, muscle pains or tritis.

Treatment May Be Long

In order to make an accurate diagnosis, the prostatic secretion has to be obtained and examined under the microscope. This will reveal the nature of the trouble and what germs are responsible.

A long-lasting chronic prostatitis is difficult to cure. Treatment includes such methods as promoting drainage, prostatic massage, heat applications and sometimes vaccines or treatment with drugs.

Austin Hearing Set On Building Transport

SAN ANGELO —Announcement has been made by the State Highway Department that a hearing on new regulations governing transportation of buildings over state highways will be held in Austin at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

A recent change in Highway Department policy prohibits transport of any type of building measuring more than 20 feet in width on any Texas highway.

The custom of sealing a living human being in the cornerstone of buildings did not die out until the 15th Century.

Grades For Younger Children Are Worse

TRENTON, N. J. —(AP)—Children who enroll in school at too early an age earn the poorest grades, says H. M. Davis, supervising principal at River Edge.

Writing in the New Jersey Educational Review, he reports studies of first grade pupils under six show a higher percentage of low marks than those over that age.

"A child of five is 25 per cent older than one who is four," he writes. "To insist that a four-year-old enter school and compete with five-year-olds, is the same as to insist that a 16-year-old boy fight with 20-year-old men."

Fastest, Easiest-To-Use
Wall Paint You've Ever Tried!

Pittsburgh WALLHIDE
rubberized Satin Finish

NEW FLEETWING WALL-COATER—A new kind of painting tool that makes decorating real fun. Covers 7 inches at one stroke, yet is astonishingly light and easy to handle.

VELVET-LIKE in smoothness
RUBBER-LIKE in toughness

Here's a truly remarkable interior wall paint, scientifically formulated from modern chemicals, that flows smoothly on any kind of wall surface, including wallpaper. You can stop or start any time—touch up missed spots later—and get a color-perfect finish without laps or brush marks. There's no fuss or muss—even paint you accidentally spill or spatter can be wiped off easily with soap and water. You can quickly clean brush and other tools with warm water and plenty of suds right after painting.

This new WALLHIDE rubberized Satin Finish dries within an hour so you can have beautiful new rooms ready for use within a few hours. Its rich, velvet-like surface is elastic and rugged—will not crack, chip or rub off. Dirt cannot penetrate it and can be wiped off quickly and easily.

Ask your Pittsburgh Paint dealer for a demonstration. Then try this new rubberized WALLHIDE and see for yourself how it gives rooms thrilling new charm that lasts and lasts.

WIDE VARIETY OF MODERN COLORS—Whether you plan modern or conventional color arrangements, you can choose exactly the hues you want from rubberized WALLHIDE's wide variety of up-to-date decorator colors. These range from soft, pastel tints that create an atmosphere of comfort and contentment to rich, stimulating colors that add zest to living.

Pittsburgh's completely new booklet explains how to use COLOR DYNAMICS to make rooms lovelier to live in as well as lovelier to look at. Contains scores of practical suggestions how to use this modern painting system to put color to work in your home. Ask your nearest Pittsburgh Paint dealer for a copy—it's FREE!
