Italian Stronghold Seized By British

(By The Associated Press)

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Feb. 26.—British empire forces pounding Fascist defenders of Italian Somaliland by land, sea and air have captured Mogadiscio, the colony's capital, on the seacoast and plunged 60 miles up the Juba river in the interior, an official announcement said today.

South and East African forces cooperating with gold coast regiments beating up the river, where strong Italian defenses have collapsed, were declared to have trapped the main body of Fascists by cutting their last road of escape.

Penetrated 400 Miles

A communique issued here said that, by "a conservative estimate," 3,000 prisoners had been captured in the interior, in addition to many other Italians who had escaped to the bush country and were now declared to be returning and surrendering voluntarily.

With the capture of Mogadiscio, the empire forces have penetrated 400 miles since launching their offensive into the East African colony a month ago.

Make Lightning Drive

Only yesterday the British had announced a lightning drive up the coast to the ancient Indian ocean port of Brava, which placed them within 110 miles of Mogadiscio.

Today's official announcement said:

"Elements of our East and West African troops occupied Mogadiscio, the capital of Italian Somaliland, yesterday evening."

With the capture of Mogadiscio, British forces have penetrated 400 miles into the territory of their enemy since crossing the frontier from Kenya a month ago.

Other Forces Attack

The drive for the Italian Somaliland stronghold was launched as forces in other sectors moved against two other segments of Italian East Africa—Eritrea and Ethiopia.

The drive across Eritrea has been held up at Cheren, 42 miles from Eritrea's capital, Asmara, but meanwhile other British forces are moving along the coast southward for a pincer movement against resisting Italians.

British reports today said the advance in Eritrea was being de-

Transfer Of Ships "Not Advisable" Now, House Told

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Congress heard today that General George C. Marshall considers an invasion less imminent than a year ago when, he said, this country would have been in "a somewhat helpless plight" had control of the Atlantic "passed to an enemy."

At the same time, the legislators learned from the navy's top-ranking Admiral Harold R. Stark that while transfer of more destroyers to Britain on the scale suggested by Wendell L. Willkie would not be advisable "at the moment," the government's hands should not be tied in the matter.

Statements Made Public

Both statements were made public by the House appropriations committee in connection with the fourth supplemental defense appropriation bill.

Marshall, chief of staff of the army, conceded that the high command had been surprised by the public support given their unprecedented recommendations.

"Frankly, we had not anticipated that the American people would ever be sufficiently aroused to authorize in time of peace such a tremendous program for the national defense, nor had we anticipated the complete collapse of the French government in early June," Marshall said, "along with the deadly hazard to the British of a transfer of French naval power to Germany and Italy."

Caused Many Changes

Those surprise factors, Marshall went on, necessitated many changes in this country's defense plans but he conceded their lessons "did not percolate" through the army organization speedily enough

British Losses In Sea Battles Claimed High

Planes And Subs Taking Part In New Offensive

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Feb. 26.—Authorized German sources said that fighting planes of the Luftwaffe bombed and set afire three British cargo ships totalling 21,000 tons northwest of Ireland early today. German fliers reported they observed the ships sinking.

A Nazi speedboat sank a British destroyer off the southeast coast of England, the German high command said. It also credited Nazi submarines with destruction of an 8,000-ton armed merchant ship and a British patrol boat in the stepped-up offensive against Britain's supply lines.

Merchant Ships Fired

German warplanes, the daily communique also said, set two large merchant ships afire in a British-occupied harbor in Libya and scored bomb hits on port facilities. A British plane was reported shot down over Malta.

Informed sources previously had identified the port as Tobruk and said the damaged vessels included a 10-000-ton British munitions ship and another merchant vessel of equal size.

Port facilities at Hull, Harwich and Great Yarmouth in England were battered by small combat units of the German air force last night, the high command declared. Airports in eastern England and armaments factories at Ipswich and Norwich also were reported attacked.

Convoy Is Attacked

Virtual submarine novices — young commanders and crews in brand new undersea boats, who went into action for the first time —were credited in information reaching Berlin with sinking 192,300 tons of convoyed shipping

Captain's Bars Mean Nothing To Soldier; He Has Eyes Only For Uniform That Fits

(By The United Press)

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Feb. 26.—A trainee at this army induction center had just passed his physical examination and was rushing to telephone his girl the news when he passed a captain without saluting.

"Wait a minute, soldier, where are you going in such a hurry?" demanded the officer.

The youth breathlessly explained.

"Well," persisted the captain, "take a good look at me. Do you attach any special significance to this uniform?"

The soldier looked the officer over carefully and then grinned.

"Why you lucky stiff," he said. "You got a suit that fits."

Wheeler Sees Grave Danger In Statement

Opposition Plans To End Debates; Nye Attacks Bill

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) asserted in the Senate today that President Roosevelt had made "a shocking statement" when he told his press conference yesterday that proposals for peace must await a British victory and that the first thing was to win the war.

Interrupting an attack by Senator Nye (R-ND) on the administration's British aid bill, Wheeler said the president's statement indicated a position which the United States certainly should not take "unless we are ready to get into the war."

Violates Constitution

"I think this statement of the president is a shocking statement," Wheeler shouted. "I submit that we are not in the war unless the president of the United States has already committed us to war. If we are in the war, I repeat that we are in violation of the constitution of the United States."

ACCUSATIONS HURLED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP) — Senator Chandler (D-Ky) accused opponents of the British aid measure today of "trying to undermine the confidence of the American people in their president" and Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) angrily retorted in Senate debate that the president was trying to "flim-flam the public."

Nye said he regarded the president's expression of views as "increasing evidence" that the so-called lease-lend bill was a "go to war" measure.

Practically Said "Yes"

"Who are we in the United States," Wheeler broke in, "to tell the British what they should do? Who is the president of the United States that he should tell the British that the war should go on? How can Britain win a victory unless we come into the war?"

Senator Clark (D-Mo), another opponent of the bill, said it was his view that the president "practically said, 'yes, we are in the war'."

Debate To End Soon

Opponents of the bill agreed at an informal meeting to wind up general debate on the measure this week.

Senator Nye renewed the opposition's "war bill" attack on the lease-lend program today, as administration leaders intensified their back-stage efforts to block

Nation-Wide Steel Strike Is Feared

(By The United Press)

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 26.—The Steel Workers Organization committee (CIO) prepared to close the huge Lackawanna plant of the Bethlehem steel company with a strike at 9 o'clock tonight unless company officials conferred with union leaders before then on union demands.

The strike was voted unanimously by 3,000 union workers of the plant yesterday. The plant employs 14,000 and is working day and night on American and British armament orders.

Sweeping Threat Made

John Riffe, assistant to Van A. Bittner, regional director of the union in charge of Bethlehem organizing, said, "we're going to close every Bethlehem plant in the country if the management doesn't come to terms. We can also tie up the iron ore supply and the coal mines."

A general Bethlehem strike would idle another 60,000 workers and would halt or slow work on $1,000,000,000 worth of government contracts that Bethlehem holds.

Company officials made no comment.

Eyes On Washington

Thomas M. Finn, federal labor conciliator, said he conferred with A. L. Baker, Lackawanna plant manager, and that "little progress" was made. He said that "the next break in this situation will come at Washington."

Although only 3,000 employes voted on the strike, the union claimed that at an earlier election, 6,400 employes had voted to authorize union officials to call the strike if necessary.

Seek Wage Increase

The union demands on the Lackawanna plant, as announced by Bittner at Washington, were:

1. Reinstate with full seniority 1,000 employes suspended or dis-

Army "Ain't What She Used To Be"

FORT DEVENS, Mass., Feb. 26 (U.P.)—A traditional solace of army men was gone today as hardbitten regulars read an official decree forbidding the use of profanity to emphasize commands in the presence of conscriptees.

Officers said the order resulted from letters written home by draftees who disapproved of the language allegedly used by non-commissioned officers.

Strike Notice In Ford Shops

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Feb. 26 — R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers-CIO, said today that the union had filed a notice of intent to strike at the Rouge, Highland Park and Lincoln plants of the Ford Motor Co. with the state labor mediation board.

The board requires a 30-day notice of intent to strike in an industry engaged in defense production. The law requires a five-day notice except in industries directly involving the public welfare.

Thomas and Michael F. Widman, jr., director of the UAW-CIO drive to unionize the Ford Co., said the strike action was approved by an "overwhelming majority" of the employes in the three principal Ford plants. Copies of the notice, Thomas said, were sent to President Roosevelt and to Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner of Michigan.

AMERICANS WARNED

ROME, Feb. 26 (AP) —Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor of Il Giornale D'Italia, warned "the American people" today that their opposition to the Axis powers' program for Europe might result in political and economic isolation of the United States "with profound harm to its need for commercial expansion."

Drunk Driving Bill Okayed By House

AUSTIN, Feb. 26. (U.P.)—A bill to reduce the offense of driving while intoxicated from a felony to a misdemeanor, except in cases of negligent homicide, was passed finally today in the Texas house of representatives.

The bill goes next to the Senate.

Rep. S. J. Isaacks of El Paso pointed out that many district attorneys had asked such a law, because "juries will not take away a man's citizenship just because he got drunk and drove a car." Prison sentences for persons guilty of homicides when driving while intoxicated would be retained.

Sabotage Plot Is Uncovered

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Feb. 26—Bulgarian police announced discovery today of a plot to blow up the Sofia waterworks and to make the water supply unfit as tension rose over the expected entry of German troops into the country.

Many persons in the sabotage plot were arrested, police said, and a large quantity of explosives and also chemicals which the conspirators apparently intended to dump into the water were found.

Many Rumors Heard

Many rumors—all unconfirmed —were heard in the capital tonight to the effect that German forces already had crossed from Rumania into Bulgaria at several points.

However, foreign military observers in touch with German bases in Rumania said they were informed the rumors were baseless.

Friends' Duplicate Activities Unusual

FREMONT, Neb., Feb. 26 (AP)—Don Payne and Del Krenzien are more than close friends—they're almost duplicates.

Don and Del graduated from high school together two years ago, remained out of school a year before entering Midland college here. They enrolled in the same courses and at the end of their first semester received exactly the same grades in every subject.

And in the first nine games of the basketball season, each scored nine field goals and committed six fouls.

Defense Costs Hit 15 Billion

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—The gigantic size of America's arms production job was emphasized today by a survey indicating that contracts already placed totaled about $15,000,000,000—more than six times the estimated value of the automobile industry's entire output for 1939.

This figure represented formal awards both by the British government and United States defense agencies.

More To Be Awarded

Nearly $6,000,000,000 of authorized American orders have yet to be placed under contract, although the government already has given manufacturers an informal but binding "go ahead" on much of this business. Moreover, additional billions in orders are in prospect, both for this country and probably for Britain under the pending lease-lend bill.

In the light of these fiscal facts, many officials believed that arms production eventually would put a deeper crimp into "business as usual" than most of the country realized.

Plane Output Higher

Many defense industries still were in the process of "tooling up", and no large-scale rounded deliveries of munitions appeared

Spain Promises Not To Fortify Tangier

LONDON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Britain today announced a provisional agreement under which Spain has promised to refrain from fortifying the Tangier international zone.

Spanish troops occupied the international area flanking the strait of Gibraltar last June 14 "to protect its neutrality." On Nov. 4 the Spanish military officially took "full charge" of the zone, ousting British employes.

Camp Barkeley Gets 10,500 Men Friday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—A caravan of army trucks 60 miles long will transport more than 10,500 men of the 45th division from Fort Sill, Okla., to their new station at Camp Barkeley near Abilene, Tex., next Friday, the war department announced today.

More than 1,400 vehicles will be used in the 223-mile trip, which will be made in one day.

Solon Assails Aggie Hazing

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 26 — Criticism of hazing at Texas A. & M. college was injected today into a House of representative debate over allowing that school's directors to issue bonds for six more dormitories and other improvements.

Rep. J. A. Benton of Wylie, a retired army officer, said that there will be "empty dormitories" at A. &. M. if hazing continues.

Claimed Declining

"They beat some boys until they are forced to come home," said Benton. "If you had seen my boy when he came home, you would have thought they beat him with something worse than the bat that they use down at the penitentiary."

Rep. W. T. McDonald of Bryan told Benton that hazing was against the college rules and is declining. Rep. Woodrow Bean of Sierra Blanca, who went to A. & M. as a freshman, said "hazing there is not half as bad as they make out."

The House finally passed the bill, 106 to 19. It goes next to the Senate. McDonald explained that it permits the school to issue 30-year rather than 20-year bonds for obtaining RFC-aided construction. The longer period of bond maturity permits the school to charge $5 instead of $7.50 for a boy to stay in a dormitory, he said.

Light Rainfall Covers Plains

Dreary weather that belied its reception continued this afternoon on the South Plains—after a night of rainfall ranging here and there to one inch.

Dispatchers of the Santa Fe railroad announced the following reports of precipitation:

Reports Over Area

One inch at Crosbyton.

One-half inch at Slaton, Kress, Hale Center, Abernathy, Brownfield, Seagraves, Ralls, Lorenzo, and Wilson.

One-third inch at Lehman.

One-fourth inch at Texico, Muleshoe, Littlefield, Shallowater, Meadow, Ropesville, Tulia, Lamesa, O'Donnell, and Tahoka.

One-eighth inch at Amherst, Anton, Happy, Plainview, Floydada, Lockney, Bledsoe, Whiteface, Levelland, and Idalou.

Most reports were for the 24 hours up to noon.

At Lubbock, .02 inch had fallen, making the total since Saturday, .55 inch. Minimum temperature was 34 degrees.

Chicago Is Scene Of Spectacular Blaze

CHICAGO, Feb. 26 (AP) — The most spectacular loop fire in 10 years raged through a five story building at 164-168 West lake street today, causing damage which Fire Marshal Michael Corrigan estimated tentatively $150,000.

The structure housed the Geiser office furniture company and the George E. Watson paint company.

Seventy pieces of apparatus—one third of the available equipment—a fireboat and more than 100 policemen were pressed into service.

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP)—A British communique tonight announced the Italian island of Castelloritzo in the eastern Mediterranean was occupied by British forces Tuesday.

ASCAP Settlement Is Believed Near

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (U.P.) — Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general, announced today that the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers had signed a civil decree under which it agreed to cease activities which the government regarded as a violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

A spokesman for the attorney general's division said "this decree paves the way for an immediate settlement of the difficulties between ASCAP and the broadcasters which resulted in the banning of ASCAP music from the air on Jan. 1."

Passport To Obtain Liquor Is Proposed

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 26 (U.P.)—Hoosiers who wish to buy liquor by the drink may have to carry a 10-cent "passport" containing their photograph and certification of their age.

A surprise amendment to a Republican liquor bill was adopted by the state Senate yesterday and provided that to buy a drink one must have a 10-cent license.

Purpose of the move was said to be to curb drinking by minors.

Penalty for taking a "shot" without a license would be $10 for the buyer and an additional $10 for the barkeep who issued the drink.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 26 (AP) — Mrs. Maria Concetta Pericone of Beaumont, mother of quadruplets born Oct. 31, 1929, has applied here for citizenship papers. She was born in Italy in 1896 and came to this country in 1903. Besides the quads, she has five other children.

Only Flutterings Of An Eyelid Mark Girl's Battle For Life

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26—The almost imperceptible flutterings of an eyelid was all that marked Miss Ruth Stevenson's battle for life today as the 22-year-old victim of an automobile accident entered the third month of her strange coma.

Temple university physicians believe the 63-day coma resulting from an injury constitutes a record. One physician said the longest previous period of coma from an injury was 28 days.

The attractive young brunette has lain unconscious at the hospital since last Christmas eve. A machine in which she was riding crashed into a pole, killing the driver and injuring her so critically that physicians feared she would die within a few hours.

Surgeons, who have operated on her brain twice when her condition became serious, explained her deep unconsciousness is not to be compared to sleeping sickness. In the latter case, patients have been known to remain unconscious for much longer periods.

Miss Stevenson's insensibility is so deep, they said, that no anesthetic was necessary for the last operation.

Tighter Rules On Liquor Sales In State Studied By Committee

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 26.—The task of drafting a bill to clamp down on prescription liquor sales by drug stores in dry counties faced a three-man legislative sub-committee today.

After hearing appeals by a Women's Christian Temperance union delegation for a stricter law to regulate the flow of whiskey in dry areas, the House liquor traffic committee last night referred to a sub-group all proposals dealing with prescription sales.

The group was instructed to report a substitute measure in two weeks.

Proponents of a bill by Rep. Tom W. Deen of Floydada urged its passage as a curb "to drug store saloons" they said were prevalent in counties where legal sale is prohibited.

Deen explained his proposal would require druggists or physicians in dry counties to file a weekly report with county clerks, listing names of persons to whom prescription liquor had been sold and the illness for which it was prescribed.

No Censorship Said Planned For Nation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP) — Lowell Mellett, director of the office of government reports, declared today that no press or radio censorship is contemplated by the administration.

Testifying before the House expenditures committee on a bill to authorize a $1,500,000 fund for his office, Mellett said:

"This does not mean, in case there should be war, that there would not be a military censorship in certain respects, as there always has been and I presume always will be.

"Censorship in the sense that I believe is feared, of the kind we see abroad—actual censorship of newspapers or other publications —is not contemplated."

Clubs Meet For Lectures On County, State History, Child Welfare Studies

Junior Group In Election

A study of the history of Lubbock county, the history of Lubbock education in Texas, and child welfare lecture and a talk on Chile were features of culture club meetings in Lubbock Tuesday afternoon.

M. G. Abernathy, pioneer resident of this county, was speaker for the Clement-Sorosis club meeting in the home of Mrs. Ray Darwin. Mrs. J. D. Sanders presided.

Eighteen women were in attendance.

Sorosis club met with Mrs. W. P. Clement, 2606 Twentieth street. Mrs. I. M. Robinson talked on "Folk Ballads." Miss Vera Murfee sang "My Wild Irish Rose" and "Absent." Mrs. Ed Tonn talked on "Archaeological and Anthropological Writings." Approximately 20 members were present.

Thirty-two members of the Lubbock Woman's Forum attended a meeting at the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway. Mrs. Fredda Hunt talked on modern trends in decoration and she was assisted in displaying interesting suggestions by Mrs. Ruth Taylor.

"The History of Education in Texas," was the topic for discussion by the Athenaeum club. Mrs. T. A. Rhodes led the program and discussed the first 50 years—1836 to 1886. Mrs. J. F. Hankins talked on the second 50 years—1886 to 1936 and up to 1941. The group met at Hotel Lubobck.

Attend Social

A children's party was given by the Sunshine Child Study club at the annex of the First Christian church. Mrs. D. R. Patterson and and Mrs. V. B. Watson were hostesses.

Those attending were Mesdames C. V. Sandlin, Carol Jean; Charles W. Bartlett, jr., De Velva and Charles, III; C. W. Tatum, Billy and John Paul; J. C. Sanders, Lydia Lou; Frank Bass, Jimmy; Lewis Kittrell, Barbara and Don Lewis; J. H. Brock, Marsha and James Farris; A. D. Montgomery, Patsy and Lonnie D.; O. A. Woody, Wanda Jean and Dwain; G. E. Dawson, Chloe T., George Earl and Mary V.; Clay Anderson, Clay Jean and Nancy Chloe; Patterson and Dennis; Watson and Cleta and Dorothy; Little Mary Bell Perryman and Harold Langford.

Officers were elected at a meeting of the Junior Twentieth Century club at the Tech library building. They were: President, Mrs. Robert W. Wright; vice president, Mrs. Parker F. Prouty; recording secretary, Mrs. Richard Douglas; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Byron Dickinson; treasurer, Mrs. Amos Howard; auditor, Mrs. O. L. Peterman; critic, Mrs. Lawrence Bacon.

Mrs. Allan L. Carter talked on Russian novelists.

The Twentieth Century club met at Hotel Lubbock for a program led by Mrs. A. W. McKee. She discussed "Chile" and Miss Mae Murfee talked on the smaller South American countries.

The Junior-Sorosis club met with Mrs. O. L. Brock, with 18 members present. Mrs. Marshall Harvey was program director. Miss Sannie Callan talked on "Mental Health of the Child."

Mesdames Don King, F. H. Parker and Alvin Eggeling were new members. Mrs. Sam A. Henry, jr., of Hobbs, N. M., was a guest.

"ANOTHER THIN MAN"

We, The Women . . .

BY RUTH MILLETT

There's something about a restaurant that brings out the worst in a great many women.

Women who are charming and gracious in their own houses and in the homes of their friends can walk into a restaurant and put on an act that is embarrassing to watch.

Take a peek at Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Brown, for example, having lunch together after a morning of bargain hunting, during which they have done a great deal of looking — but no buying.

They walk into a busy restaurant and cast a longing look at tables near the window and see that they are all filled. So Mrs. Brown says in a querulous voice to the hostess showing them to a table, "Haven't you a table near the window?" That is just to let the hostess know that they are dissatisfied at the start.

They sit down, glance at the menus in front of them, but don't do anything about ordering until they've talked for ten or fifteen minutes.

MEN GET SERVICE

Then they both decide on "specials" because they are cheaper. But it irritates them to see that little reminder "no substitutions" and they both decide they must have corn instead of beans. When the waitress says she doesn't think she can make the substitution they tell her to go back to the kitchen and see.

She does and says "It's all right. You can have corn." They look triumphant, as though she had been trying to put something over on them.

Then they both change their meat order. Finally when the food arrives they look at it suspiciously, and Mrs. Jones says, "I didn't know it was cooked with onions. I can't eat onions"— and sends her order back.

Just about that time, the waitress begins to get sulky, and Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Brown spend their lunch hour talking about how much better service men get from waitresses than women do.

But it never occurs to them WHY.

CLUB HOSTESS

Merry Needlers club was entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. J. Scott Hollingsworth. Present were Mesdames B. A. Brady, Foy Johnson, Rufus Bundy, George Denton, J. E. Hancock and J. D. McPhaul.

Tech Pledges Are Listed

Spring semester pledges have been announced by the presidents of seven men's social clubs at Texas Technological college. The authority to make the announcement came from the dean of men's office.

The clubs and the pledges are as follows: Silver Key: George Acton, Warren Ambrose, Claude Allen, Ken Allison, Delma Bland, Jack Claitor, Ben Crowell, Hood Chatham, Red Dyer, Don Smith, Harold Gillespie, Bobby Lewis, Dick Lieurance, Eugene Ragland, Fred Reynolds, Bob Roberts, Jack Walker, Everett Van Patton and Jack Bogan.

Concert Will Be Tonight

Although the size of the audience was disappointing, Edouard Blitz, 18-year-old cellist, gave a brilliant performance Tuesday afternoon at the Senior High school auditorium. About 100 children and adults were present.

Miss Ermadel Floyd accompanied the young artist. They will play a concert tonight at Hotel Lubbock at 8 o'clock. This program is for the adult audience.

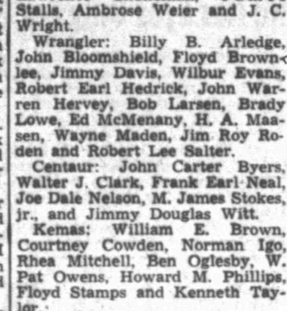

According to Mrs. Elois Elliott, member of the Allegro club, which sponsored the concert, the young man has complete mastery of phrasing and tone color. She stated that he was an impeccable technician and should rate among top artists.

For an encore he played "Tarantelle" by Popper.

Miss Floyd was very discreet and well-sustained in her accompaniment, Mrs. Elliott said.

Greenlee-Bond Marriage Is Being Told Today

Announcement was made this morning of the marriage of Miss Ina Lee Bond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bond of 1906 Twenty-seventh street, and Hollis Greenlee, which took place here Feb. 15 at the home of the officiating Baptist minister, Rev. C. J. McCarty.

The bride wore a wine silk dress and navy accessories and "something old" was a locket, a keepsake that belonged to her mother. The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High school.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenlee are at home in Levelland.

Greeks Send Own Airmen Into Skies To Challenge Duce's Raiders

New Successes Boost Morale

BY WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH GREEK ARMY ON ALBANIAN FRONT, Feb. 26.—After a winter of careful preparation, Greek air fighters, helped by the British RAF, today are challenging Premier Mussolini's aerial armada for control of the skies over Albania.

Greek sources reported yesterday that three Italian bombers attempting to raid Greece were shot into the Ionian sea. The ministry of home security said no raiders were seen over Greece during the day.

Large Formations Used

Once the Greeks sent one or two planes scurrying down a valley on a bombing raid. But only a week ago, 40 Greek craft in one formation bombed the Italian front lines.

The Greeks say the effect of this new bombing is reflected in an intercepted field wireless message from a poetic Italian captain to his superior officer:

"This is an inferno, and I am Dante. For the love of God, please send planes."

Scant Comfort In Reply

There was scant comfort in the reported reply, "Fight to the death."

With ground forces on every sector struggling under torrential rains, the battle for air mastery has become the outstanding feature of the Albanian campaign.

Italian bombers no longer roam unmolested for hours at a time over the battlefront. They are challenged at every turn by Greek and British fighters.

Their battles are fought in probably the most spectacular setting known. Death awaits the loser on the ragged mountains below, where forced landings are almost impossible.

Greek Fighters Attack

Twenty-five Italian fighter-bombers came over the central sector recently and were maneuvering to drop bombs when 18 Greek fighters dropped toward them from a tremendous height.

In one swift dive, the Italian formation was broken and one of its planes sent spinning to earth. Black smoke burst from another Italian craft as the bombers hurriedly dumped their loads and turned homeward.

As the battling planes went out of sight in the clouds, another Italian machine spun downward, and a Greek fighter, its engine missing fire, drifted after it. But the Greek pilot stayed with his ship and safely accomplished an almost miraculous landing on a plowed slope.

Convict Fears For His Life

(By The United Press)

CROCKETT, Feb. 26—A convict who said he escaped from Eastham prison farm near here because he feared an official intended to kill him was returned today to prison at Huntsville.

The convict, H. H. Buchanan, 50-year-old trusty whom prison officials termed a model inmate, escaped from Eastham farm Monday night and surrendered late yesterday to Dr. C. W. Butler, jr., member of the state prison board.

Wanted To Tell Story

"I was afraid an official at the Eastham unit No. 1 intended to kill me because of what I knew. I wanted to get to a prison board member and tell my story, then be sent to some other unit of the prison system," Buchanan said.

He had been sentenced to the unit in 1933 for the slaying of Johnnie McCoy at Sherman. He had not been missed from the farm at the time he surrendered to Dr. Butler.

The board member declined to reveal the convict's story and took him to the central prison at Huntsville.

Veterans May Still Register In City

Veterans of the first World war here who still wish to participate in a national defense registration still may do so, according to information given this morning by J. A. Raley, jr., chairman of the personnel committee.

Questionnaires may be obtained at his office, 1215 Texas avenue, he said. Raley added that a number of veterans have registered this week.

The voluntary registration was conducted in the American Legion home here last Saturday when 741 Lubbock veterans responded to the call to register for service they might render in the event of a national emergency.

Damp Weather Sets Record For Area

Old Sol has not shown his face in Lubbock since last Thursday, making this one of the longest periods of damp, misty weather in the history of the state experiment sub-station here, Don L. Jones, superintendent, said this morning.

During this winter there has been more "damp and foggy weather" than before recorded here, it was said. Rainfall, while not excessive, has proven of more benefit than generally, in that the wet top soil has absorbed all of the moisture that has come, and there has been no loss of moisture by run-off, Jones reported.

Broadway Property Owners Are To Present Views For Zoning Plans From Avenue S To X

Individual notices have been mailed to owners of property on Broadway between Avenues S and X inviting them to appear before the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when the proposed city zoning ordinance is scheduled for further consideration, officials said this morning.

A question has arisen, officials explained, as to whether the particular portion of Broadway should be placed in a residence-apartment house zone, as now designated in the proposed ordinance, or in a retail business zone, as asked by a number of affected property owners.

Delay May Be Caused

Decision on this question, officials said, will determine whether final action can be taken on the proposed ordinance without further delay, or whether it will be necessary to start from the beginning and re-enact it in its entirety.

Officials explained that the ordinance already has been passed on one reading with the section on Broadway in a residence-apartment house area. If the commission should decide to keep it in that zone, then the measure can be passed on final reading. However, if the area is changed into a retail business zone, the declared plan of the commission is to set aside the present first reading and start over.

As now proposed, the ordinance would permit in the zone one-family and two-family dwellings, necessary accessory buildings, public parks or playgrounds, churches, schools, colleges, farming and truck gardening, nurseries without sales offices, golf courses except miniature courses for commercial purposes, telephone exchanges without business offices, water supply reservoirs, towers and artesian wells, and gas and electric public utility regulator stations of size and location to be fixed by the city commission.

If the zone designation should be changed as urged by some of the property owners, the following types of structures would be permitted: All of those already listed and banks, offices, studios, gasoline filling stations, restaurants, retail pressing, dyeing and cleaning shops, retail stores, barber shops, beauty parlors, other shops for custom work or the making of articles to be sold on the premises; boarding or lodging houses, hospitals and clinics excepting tubercular, veterinary and those for alcoholics, drug addicts, the insane and feeble minded; hotels, institutions of a philanthropic nature, libraries, museums, private clubs, fraternities, sororities, and lodges. Specifically excluded from such a zone, however, would be tourist camps, and second hand stores and yards.

Train's Load Was Getting Little Heavy; Car Runs Off Track

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 26 (AP) — A Columbia, Newberry and Laurens freight train, an engine pulling and another pushing, struggled on an upgrade.

The front engineer observed the load was getting heavier. He motioned to the rear engineer for more power. The added push was barely felt.

The head engineer again looked back, saw sparks shooting from beneath a car in the long line. He frantically signaled to the rear engine to stop.

The engineers found that the front trucks of a heavily loaded coal car had been off the rails for three miles.

Testimonial Dinner Given At Lorenzo

LORENZO, Feb. 26 (Special)—Eighteen of the 24 students who have been in the national defense class taught in the Lorenzo schools by Oscar Thornton, gave a testimonial dinner for their teacher Monday night in the high school building.

H. H. Nicholas, superintendent of schools, presided as toastmaster. Talks were made by Fred Robb, a member of the board of trustees; R. C. Mitchell, new vocational agriculture teacher; T. G. Hendricks, a teacher in the defense program, and several of the students.

At the close of the program the students presented a gift to Mr. Thornton in appreciation of his working with them. The meal was served by the home-making department of the high school.

British Pound German Bases

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 26—A strong force of British bombers, guarded by waves of fighting planes, swept across the southeast English coast in the direction of France this afternoon, apparently following up a heavy night attack on the Ruhr industrial area and airdromes in Nazi-occupied France.

The skies were clear as the formations moved high over the sea, the fighters tracing their course with thin white trails of exhaust vapor. They headed in the direction of Calais and Cap Gris Nez.

Objective Three-Folds

Then observers on the coast saw another formation streaking toward Dunkerque, while a third group moved in the direction of Boulogne.

Later the air armada recrossed the Dover strait, having completed its missions. There was no immediate announcement of results pending reports from pilots and observers.

Motorists Warned Of Tag Deadline

An announcement this morning hung out the green light for Lubbock motorists.

"We will have to register approximately 14,000 motor vehicles by April 1," said Nolan E. Whitlow, deputy tax assessor-collector. "So far, we have issued less than 200 sets of license plates.

"Buying now would mean escaping the usual last-minute waiting in line."

Whitlow said 18,000 to 19,000 tags of all kinds would be issued for the 12 months beginning April 1.

Nazis, English Clash In Libya

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Feb. 26 — The Italian high command announced today that German land troops had clashed with British armored forces in Libya for the first time Monday southeast of Agedabia.

In this first contact between "formations of the German corps in North Africa" and their foe, the communique said, "various enemy trucks and tanks were destroyed and prisoners taken without German losses."

Agedabia is about 100 miles south of Bengasi.

Skirmish Described

(The German high command made a similar announcement this morning.

(It said: "On the Libyan coast southeastward of Agedabia, German and English motorized reconnaissance squads had a skirmish in the morning hours of Feb. 24. A number of English motor vehicles were among several armored cars destroyed and several prisoners were taken. There were no German losses.")

The Italians also reported Nazi warplanes had bombed a British naval base in eastern Libya, "seriously damaging" two 8,000-ton ships and causing "violent explosions and fires" among port installations and military works.

Truck Driver Hurt Seriously In Crash

Two fractures were revealed by x-ray examination of William Culpepper's injuries at St. Mary's hospital.

Culpepper, 27, truck driver, was considered serious in condition this morning. He is expected to recover, a hospital authority said. He was injured when his truck skidded and overturned near the intersection of highways leading to Brownfield and Levelland early Tuesday night.

His injuries include fracture of the right shoulder, fracture of the right ankle, mild concussion and a back injury.

Culpepper, who lives at 1110 Fourteenth street, was alone when the truck flipped over. It came to rest on the top and apparently made a half turn, it was reported.

The injured man was taken to the hospital by a passerby.

The truck, loaded with bottles of soft drinks and empty bottles, was being driven toward Lubbock and had not reached the intersection off the Brownfield highway.

Bottles were scattered in all directions from the accident scene.

Witnesses attributed the mishap to slippery condition of the highway.

He Only Wanted To Borrow Razor But Money Is Missing

Negroes living in servants quarters at 432 Avenue Q reported to police that a negro man who earlier had gone there to "borrow a razor" had been discovered Tuesday night in their residence and that after he had gone it was found that $5 or $6 also had gone.

The name of the suspect was given to police. He will be arrested, it was announced.

Domestic trouble will be adjusted, amicably or not, between a husband alleged to have wrecked his wife's shop, and his complaining wife, police said.

No one was injured when automobiles driven by T. H. Kreuger, 38, of 2418 Main street and Cecil S. Scott, 20, of 2827 Ruby street were in collision late Tuesday, traffic patrolmen said.

Other "brushes" were reported on slippery, mist-shrouded streets, but there was no personal injury and slight property damage.

Twin Politicians In Twin Loss At Polls

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Feb. 26 (AP)—The Kilbane twins—brothers in love and business but antagonists in politics—were comrades in defeat today.

Both Harry and Frank, seeking the mayoral nomination on opposite tickets, were snowed under in Tuesday's municipal primary by seasoned campaigners.

For Frank, the Democrat, it meant he'll have to work the night shift at the 35 year old brothers' tea room for the next six months, because they'd agreed that the one who got the least votes would receive that penalty

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, and Comfort Stomach, too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin to save your touchy stomach from further distress. For years, many Doctors have used pepsin compounds as vehicles, or carriers to make other medicines agreeable to your stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna at your druggist today. Try one laxative that comforts your stomach, too.

Laid End to End They Add up to a Swell Idea

We mean these Four New Additions to the Buick SPECIAL Series that Give you Big-Car Thrill in less Curbside Space

THE way cars have been stretching out lately, it usually takes only a couple of cars to occupy the curb space of an extension-ladder fire truck.

Not so with the newest additions to the 1941 Buick line.

Here we've reversed the trend—just to prove that an honest-to-golly BIG car can be built without going overboard on bumper-to-bumper distance.

The four new models now adorning the Buick SPECIAL Series fit neatly into modest garages without putting a permanent crimp in the doors.

They slip into parking places smoothly as a rowboat nestles up to a dock—and the way they flit through traffic is a delight to wheel-weary drivers.

When it comes to action—well, they've got a 115-hp. FIREBALL eight under their bonnets that skims you down the road like a mallard heading home. You can add Compound Carburetion at small extra cost and have 125 horsepower that does things we hardly dare hint about in print.

But they're a handy six inches shorter, bumper to bumper, than other Buicks—a quartet of top-quality cars in a new and easily-handled size.

The price? It's lower too. So better take a look at the first really BIG car in this bumper-to-bumper size.

Boxing At Slaton Tonight

By Collier Parris

BOXING TONIGHT at the Slaton High school gymnasium. Slaton's second invitation boxing tournament gets under way at 8 o'clock, and the entry list indicates a swell bunch of fights. The semi-finals and finals will be held tomorrow night.

The tournament was postponed from Monday and Tuesday nights on account of unfavorable weather, but it shouldn't lose any of its savor because of the postponement. The same boys'll be there who originally entered, and the list includes at least five of the Lubbock District Golden Gloves champions.

Tahoka and Hale Center are coming up with boxing tournaments next week, rounding out the winter amateur ring program as far as we know now. We're glad to see these invitation boxing tournaments over the territory, mostly because we think boxing, if properly supervised and conducted, is one of the best means we know of for "getting in shape" and keeping that way, and, secondly, because we'd like to see a team of South Plains boxers from the Lubbock district haul down a few Texas Golden Gloves flags. The only way they can do it is by training and practicing the year round.

We'd like to see the school and invitation tournaments more "scattered out," so that the boxers would have opportunity to show their stuff and exercise their punches in seasons besides the winter. Seems that amateur boxing flourishes mostly in January, February and March; boxers, like good footballers, devote a lot of their time and thought to their favorite games from one season to another.

The Golden Gloves organization does not encourage its subjects to "turn professional;" it rather discourages this move, because the boys who originated and who stage the Golden Gloves are newspaper sports writers who know a little about the game and who abhor the freakish pranks as played in the professional game. They know what a struggle it is for a boxer who turns professional, unless he's a Joe Louis or a Billy Conn, or somebody who can start off "in the money." There is about one out of a million who can make money in the boxing game, and that's pretty big odds. One out of half a million manage to make a living, a fair living, out of professional boxing, but you get into mighty big odds when you gamble on going to town.

SHORT, SHORT STORIES: So far as we have been able to determine, there is no grounds to the rumor that Pete Cawthon is applying for the Hardin-Simmons university coaching job. . . . Ask us another . . . If the Saturday "deal" goes through, new residents of Lubbock, beginning Monday, will include the families of Morley Jennings and Dell Morgan . . . Spring training at Texas Tech will start any day thereafter . . .

We've a letter from Hillerich & Bradsby Co., Inc., asking for a picture or negative of Edwin Schweda, the minor league batting champion and the rookie batting champion of 1940 . . . Hillerich & Bradsby Co., Inc., seem to be connected with the Louisville Slugger baseball bat manufacturing company . . . They want a picture of Schweda, who worked in the outfield for Lubbock last season, to go in their 1941 record book . . . But here's the sad part of the story—Schweda probably won't be with us this season. . . .

A letter from Johnny Gilchrist, tackle on the University of California at Los Angeles football team who served as assistant business manager of the Lubbock Hubbers under Joe L. Brown last year, confirms that he, Gilchrist, will succeed to the post of business manager for the local White Sox farm this season . . . Gilchrist advises also that he is attending every White Sox training camp workout starting Monday of this week . . . that so far as he knows, Elvin Mahan, shortstop; John Hyma, pitcher; Gene Schlereth, infielder, will be the only returning "lettermen" of the 1940 team. . . . that Steve Niedziela, Ed Schweda and Pat Ralsh will play with Waterloo . . . Gilchrist confirms the earlier news that First Baseman Ben Drake and Catcher Vince Castino have been sold to the Athletics' farm at Wilmington, Del. . . .

Something we can't understand: Why baseball players, minor and major, who come within the draft age and limitations, haven't volunteered, or otherwise enlisted, for their year's service in the "defense" army! . . . By so doing they could start right now, or earlier, and will have completed their year of service before another baseball season rolls around . . . Thus they would lose only one year of high-salaried baseball (provided, of course, Herr Adolf doesn't get the upper hand in the meantime) whereas if they wait to be "called" in June or

Challedon "In" For Big Race

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26—Count Mr. Challedon in for the big race at Santa Anita Saturday unless something unforeseen happens.

The big Maryland bay dispelled most doubts that he might not even get to the post in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap when he turned in a good workout yesterday.

He turned in a time of 1.55 4-5 for a mile and one eighth over a slow track.

The Marylander undoubtedly will have to run his best to beat the field in this seventh running of the Santa Anita classic. Pitted against him, headed by the powerful Mioland, is a group of thoroughbreds which has earned some $1,000,000 in prize money.

Brumbelow Ends TCU Cage Duties--Losing

FORT WORTH, Feb. 26 (U.P.) — Mike Brumbelow, the big, smiling basketball coach at T. C. U., today stepped out of southwest conference cage circles.

His boys, who believe Mike painted the moon and built a fence around it, lost a heart-breaking 36-38 loss to Southern Methodist here last night. It was the 12th loss of the season for the Frogs.

Brumbelow was relieved of his basketball duties by action of the athletic board last Saturday after seven disasterous seasons. He will stay at T. C. U. in capacity of line coach for the football team only.

Crimsons Take Lobos In Last Tussle, 40-25

Texas Tech's Red Raiders return home today for a two-day rest before journeying to Abilene for the windup of their regular schedule against Hardin-Simmons university Friday and Saturday nights.

The Raiders last night whipped the New Mexico Lobos for the fourth time this season, stretching their year's victory record to 17 games with a 40 to 25 victory over the New Mexico quintet.

The Crimsons have lost but five games this year, and are rumored to be one of the outstanding contenders for a berth in the Basketball Writers invitation tournament in Madison Square Garden, New York, in early March.

Elvis Erwin, Tech sophomore forward, stole high point honors away from New Mexico's Ray Tanner by bucketing 13 points, one more than the ace Lobo forward. Andis made eight for Tech.

Off Scoring Form

The game was fast from the start, but both teams were off their shooting form. Thirty-one fouls were called, 14 of them on Tech. Andis was sent to the sidelines midway in the second half, and Harry Bogren of New Mexico followed him soon after.

Close guarding by White held Tanner scoreless until the final minute of the first half.

The Lobo bid came early in the second half. Tanner tallied five points in two minutes to bring New Mexico up to 12-18, but Geron made two baskets to pull Tech ahead, and the Raiders were never threatened after that.

Tourney Opens At 8 O'Clock; Champs Enter

(Special To The Journal)

SLATON, Feb. 26—Slaton High school's invitation boxing tournament will definitely begin tonight, rain or shine. The tournament was originally scheduled for Monday and Tuesday nights but postponed because of bad weather. Coach Curtis Hamilton said yesterday the meet would definitely begin tonight at 8 o'clock.

Five district Golden Gloves champions are included in the entry list of several dozen boxers.

The two-night event will be reeled off in the Slaton High gymnasium.

Weigh In By 6 O'Clock

The district champions entered are Curtis Lebow of Abernathy, the district bantamweight ruler; Jessie Ramsey, Littlefield CCC, light heavy king; LaVern Roach, Plainview, classy flyweight who went to the state semi-finals before losing; Buford Bradshaw, Littlefield, featherweight winner; and Alvin McCarty, Littlefield, lightweight champion.

Other well known amateurs entered are Curtis Beck, Lubbock, featherweight; Preacher Yenez, Littlefield CCC, bantamweight; John Taylor, Littlefield CCC, middjeweight; and Woody Culpepper, Littlefield CCC, middleweight.

Entries will be accepted up to 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Hamilton said.

Several strong teams will be here to try to lift the team trophy won by Tahoka last season. Possibly outstanding is the group from Littlefield CCC.

Two "Fleaweight" Groups

Drawing a great deal of attention are the under-weight divisions, the 85- and 100-pound classes. They were added in order to encourage boxing among boys too young to compete in the regular weight divisions, and provide one of the principal means of building for future Golden Gloves tournaments.

Hartnett Is All Smiles Again--

Gabby Is "Laughing Boy" With Giants, Though He Is Just A Substitute For Harry Danning

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Feb. 26 — Without much doubt the happiest athlete in the Giants' training camp is Charles Leo (Gabby) Hartnett, 40, the man who had to lose his job to win back his nickname "Laughing Boy."

Gabby is back now doing what he loves to do best and what he never should have let them stop him from doing. He is catching baseball again, and those who ran into him at various times during the past few years while he was managing the Chicago Cubs will be glad to know that the cure seems complete.

He is the old Gabby, so full of pep and hustle and general good spirits that he is about to work himself into a 200-pound shadow. His salary probably is less than half what it was last year and he is only a second-string catcher to Harry Danning, but he goes around grinning like a guy with a tax-free pass to the mint.

Eeeee

The old Hartnett yell and chatter is the first thing a visitor to Miami field hears. He is whooping and hallooing as he handles the pitchers in batting practice, and his honest face gleams like a full moon as he circles under pop fouls. The fans kid him and he kids back. When they finally chase him out from behind the plate to give somebody else a chance he trots out to second base with his big mitt and fields a few grounders. He had shed 15 pounds before he reported here and he'll probably be that much more off before the season starts, at this rate.

Gabby's friends need not feel bad about his losing the Chicago job. Though he won a pennant in 1938 and proved himself a capable manager from a technical standpoint, the position appeared to weigh on him mentally and affected his grand disposition. The change that came over him in 1939, the year after his crushing World series defeat by the Yankees, was a topic of grieved conversation in baseball circles.

But that episode is over now, and the big fellow is back in harness and happy.

Demaret Seeks His Touch For Florida Open

(By The Associated Press)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 26 — Jimmy Demaret, golf's forgotten man of the year, set out today to defend his laurels in the $5,000 St. Petersburg open — hoping to regain the putting touch that made him the hottest player of the 1940 winter circuit.

This time last year the carefree Texan was in process of winning his fifth winter tournament. He went on to capture the Augusta Masters, then faded out of the picture as he lost that nebulous "touch."

He hasn't won a tournament all winter, although he has finished in the money in eight out of nine.

"The putting makes the difference," he sighed. "Last year I counted on taking no more than 30 putts a round. Yet, in the third round of the Thomasville open last week I used up 23 putts on one nine-hole stretch.

"You can't get the touch back by practicing, either — that's the tough part. You wake up one morning and you've got it. Then you're afraid to go to sleep for fear you will lose it.

The rest of the boys have served notice on Demaret he will have to snap back quickly if he is to win again here. Ky Laffoon of Chicago whipped out a six-under-par 65 over the Pasadena course in practice yesterday.

Novikoff--The 'Mad Russian'--Burned Up Over Cub Salary Offer

Prized Rookie In Limelight

BY HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26.—This is the time, of year when any fellow with enough milk of human kindness in him to make one beaten biscuit cannot help but feel sorry for baseball players.

Because this is the time of year when the wrangle over contracts brings to light that baseball players, isofar as their relations with the club owners are concerned, have no more rights than a Guernsey cow, a patch of real estate, or a tipsy driver going the wrong way down a one-way street.

Cost Near $100.000

The ballplayers contract is a mysterious document, and few laymen have ever laid eyes on one. But it is pretty generally known that the party of the second part, meaning the player, gets about as many breaks as a fox at a hounds' homecoming.

Take, for example, the present negotiations going on between the Chicago Cubs and Lou Novikoff, a prize rookie outfielder who is known in his family circle as the "mad Russian." No one knows for sure what the Cubs paid the Los Angeles Angels for Novikoff, but reliable guessers place the purchase price in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Minor League Salary

The first contract the Cubs sent Novikoff suggested a salary of something like $4,000 for 1941. He sent this one back unsigned, by air mail. The next one boosted the pay a trifle, and Novikoff returned it not only unsigned and by air mail, but with a special delivery stamp on it. The Cubs' offer graciously gave Lou the unwelcome chance of playing major league baseball for a minor league salary.

This sort of thing scarcely adds up, does it? If Novikoff is good enough to warrant a $100,000 outlay by the Cubs, then he must be good enough to draw a salary of, say, at least 10 per cent of that amount. You would be hard pressed to name any other business where a similar situation could arise. No manufacturing concern would think of trying to hire a crack executive from another concern by offering him less than he was making where he was.

Too, Novikoff has this argument on his side. He is the most publicized rookie of the year. There isn't a baseball fan in the country who hasn't read of his eccentric habits and his terrific hitting. And baseball lives on publicity. Novikoff, off his advance notices, is a drawing card already and will pull Cub customers into Dentyne or Blackjack or whatever field it is, from the very first day.

The Cubs are pretty well sold on Novikoff's ability as a player, as the purchase price and the comments of officials prove. Manager Jimmy Wilson says the big fellow who led the coast league in batting, home runs and runs batted in last year appears to be a cinch to start in left field.

That is, of course, if Novikoff signs. And he will, because he hasn't any more choice of what he will do than Jonah did when he was rooming with the whale. If he rears back and gets stubborn he'll just have to stay out of baseball. The Cubs own him body, soul and sliding pads. Just as the Yanks own DiMaggio and the other clubs own the other players who are holding out.

Some day this situation will be remedied, probably by Judge Landis, who has the player at heart. The judge's recent ruling making it impossible for the clubs to keep farming out players was the biggest break the boys have had in a long time. Too many of them have been kept in the minors, at minor salaries, until their owners could make use of them. Priddy and Rizzuto are good examples of this. The Yanks, not needing them, kept them at Kansas City long after they were of major calibre.

MEL TOUGHENS UP—On the early season form shown by veteran moundsman Mel Harder may well rest the success or failure of Cleveland's bid for the American league pennant. Here the slim right-hander works out with a medicine ball in the Indians' camp at Fort Myers, Fla.

Six Texans In Meet Advance

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 26—Texas had six of its eight fighters in the running today as the Golden Gloves national tournament entered the third round.

Heading the array was Dick Menchaca of Port Arthur, the national bantamweight king, holding a favored role.

Others from Texas were Flyweight Jesse Gonzales of Allen Academy, Featherweight Arlo Roye of San Angelo, Lightweight Billy Cox of Dallas, Welterweight Morris Corona of Port Arthur and Light Heavyweight Buster Burrell of Fort Worth.

Eagleton, Martin Lose

Cox went to the tournament as an alternate for Bill Looker of Tyler.

Two Texas fighters lost in last night's round, Middleweight Andy Eagleton of Fort Worth being stopped in the third by Herbert Moore of Nashville and Heavyweight Aubrey Martin of Fort Worth, alternate for Jay Turner of Abilene, being outpointed by Clayton Worlds of Chicago.

Corona advanced when his opponent was disqualified by physicians and Burrell stopped Dan Young of Wisconsin Rapids in the second round.

Ben Hogan New Pro At Hershey, Pa.

HERSHEY, Pa., Feb. 26 (U.P.)—Ben Hogan of White Plains, N. Y., and Texas, professional golf's leading money winner of 1940, today was appointed golf pro at the Hershey Country club.

Hogan succeeds Henry Picard of Charleston, S. C., 1939 P.G.A. champion, who becomes pro at the Twin Hills Country club, Oklahoma City, Okla., March 15.

SOX LIKE ROOKIES

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 26. (U.P.)—Manager Jimmy Dykes was grooming two rookies for top pitching spots on the White Sox squad today while the overweights ran off their excess poundage. He favored rookies Orval Grove and Jack Hallet for the hurling jobs.

basketball tournament scheduled for March 3, 4, 5 and 6 in this border city.

A local team, the Texas Miners, was given a chance to win the title for the first time. Another favorite finding strong support from the game's followers was Texas Tech of Lubbock.

An oddity surrounding the annual series was that no champion ever has returned to defend the title. West Texas State Teachers college of Canyon which won the tournament last year submitted a tentative entry, but later withdrew it.

Entries in the 1941 tourney included:

Texas College of Mines, New Mexico Aggies, New Mexico State Teachers, Eastern New Mexico college, Gila college, Texas Tech, Adams State Teachers of Colorado, Chihuahua (Mexico) State Teachers, Eastern Illinois Normal, and Oklahoma City university.

America's oldest cow is the Holstein. Its forefathers came over with the Dutch.

Tyler Junior Quint Wins Third Straight

TLYER, Feb. 26 (U.P.) — Tyler Junior college put a clincher on a monotonous win streak last night and walked off with its third straight northern zone Texas Junior college championship.

With Buck Overall, lanky Tyler forward, running his season total to 63 points, the Apaches clinched the championship with an easy 76 to 28 win over the College of Marshall.

Bob Feller Not Due For Army This Year

CLEVELAND, Feb. 26 (AP)—Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians' ace pitcher, probably will get his selective service questionnaire by July 4, it was indicated today by the local draft board with which he is registered.

The pitcher, now training with the Indians at Ft. Myers, Fla., is not expected to be called during the 1941 season.

Latest name to be mentioned in connection with the Boston college job—Duke Nelson, who won 7 of 8 for Rensselaer Poly last year . . . The Dook of Windsor will referee an exhibition golf match at Nassau next month in which Bobby Jones and Tommy Armour will play Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen.

L'AFFAIRE GREENBERG

Until they slapped Hank Greenberg in Class 1 yesterday, the Detroit draft board was in disagreement on whether he should be deferred . . . Indicating some of the boys feel the invasion most to be feared is that by the New York Yankees.

UP TO LOMBARDI

CINCINNATI, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds have "gone as far as we intend to" in offers to hold-out Catcher Ernie Lombardi, General Manager Warren C. Giles said today. He added: "If Lombardi is not signed by the time the season opens, we'll certainly be looking for an experienced catcher although we have a lot of confidence in rookie Dick West."

Ambers Fights Jenkins Again

BY JACK CUDDY
United Press Staff Correspondent

SUMMIT, N. J., Feb. 26 — Lou Ambers, the "Herkimer hurricane," completed training today for the most important fight of his career — Friday night's comeback attempt against Lightweight Champion Lew Jenkins at Madison Square garden.

This will be Ambers first important bout in 10 months, his first appearance on the big time since he lost the 135-pound crown to Jenkins on a third-round technical knockout last May.

He's Heavier Now

Ambers is heavier now, he is returning to the ring as a welterweight. Hence Jenkins' lightweight crown will not be at stake in this 10-rounder. But it's the make-or-break brawl for the hurricane. If Lou wins he will be the stand-out challenger for Fritzie Zivic's welter diadem. If he loses, he will hang up his gloves for good and go back to his laundry at Herkimer, N. Y.

The hunch-shouldered, brown-haired Italian is confident of winning. Lou says, "I may be a laundry man, but I'm not washed up."

Ambers, though 27, is confident of victory because no man ever licked him twice. During his nine years of warfare, all four opponents who beat him and fought him again were defeated in return engagements: Steve Halaiko, Tony Canzonerie, Pedro Montanez and Henry Armstrong. The latter three even had Lou on the floor.

Improves Punch

But Jenkins, that thunderous puncher from Texas, was the only one ever to register a kayo over the rugged hurricane.

Lou will weigh about 140 pounds for this scrap. He seems in excellent condition, although not as fast as in his lightweight days. Sparring with his mates, Bill Duffy and Pedro Hernandez, Ambers seemed to have sacrificed speed and elusiveness for punch. Always a "cream puff" puncher in the past, the hurricane's workouts here indicated that he is trying to be a slugger.

Sportometer

July or in any months after the season opens, they lose two years . . . This Greenberg business you've been reading about is just about the silliest business we've ever had to print . . . it leaves us quite ill at the stomach . . . We're perfectly willing to turn such guys over to a Hitler concentration camp . . . Baseball has lost a certain amount of its appeal because of the Great Hank's request for deferment . . . and if you don't believe he asked for it, ask his draft board . . .

As three pretty good American Leaguers expressed it yesterday, just before they caught trains to their respective training camps, "It's a helluva thing when a baseball player, with no dependents, asks for deferment in this draft business . . . Wish to hell I was young enough to get caught in the draft and had money stowed away for my dependents . . . We're supposed to be representatives of the 'national pastime,' and right now war seems to be the pastime . . . Any ball player asking deferment just because he's a ball player ought to be kicked out of baseball." . . . That's what they said, and they meant it . . .

The same prescription would go for professional football players, who could volunteer now and be through with their year of service before another season started . . . If the same rule prevailed in the sports writing business, we'd have been in camp long since . . . And we may be yet . . .

PORKERS LOSE PANTS

FAYETTEVILE, Ark., Feb. 26 (AP)—The Red Hot Arkansas Razorbacks, who clinched the Southwest conference basketball championship last week, lost their pants today.

Their road uniforms burned in a minor fire at a cleaning establishment, atrributed to static electricity from the silken-finished material.

Four Games Booked In Girls Tourney

Four games today will complete first round play in the district girls basketball tournament being run off at the New Deal High school gymnasium.

The schedule: 5 o'clock, New Deal vs. Wilson; 6, Wellman vs. Lockney; 7, Cotton Center vs. Muleshoe; 8, Ropes vs. Southland.

No games will be played tomorrow. Quarter-final round in both consolation and championship brackets will be played Friday.

Yesterday's first round results: Idalou 23, Ralls 14; New Deal 17, Spring Lake 15; Anton 26, Hale Center 12; Whiteface 21, Meadow 13; Amherst 17, Tahoka 15.

MEXICANS WIN AT POLO

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 26 (AP) — Three sensational goals in the last chukker by Eduardo Rincon Gallardo gave the Mexican Anahuacs a 7 to 4 victory today over a United States polo team.

Bib Falk Again To Direct Longhorns

AUSTIN, Feb. 26 (AP) — Bib Falk, former big leaguer, will be actively in charge of varsity baseball at the University of Texas this spring, the school's athletic council announced today. He will have the title of assistant coach.

Uncle Bill Disch, veteran Longhorn baseball mentor, will be general supervisor and Ed Price will be freshman coach.

This is the same setup as last year after illness drove Disch from the playing field.

Falk, in his college days a Longhorn star, later played with the Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians.

That Girl on Broadway says no time is more futilely wasted than that spent in hunting for lost illusions.

Hitler is undoubtedly preparing some blows, but most of us hope they'll turn out to be taps for him!

FIRE, under proper control, is one of the greatest boons to mankind, and to what we call civilization.

Without fire, man would slowly but surely revert to the era of the cave—the dark ages when people were little more than a step above the animals they hunted.

Fire is one of our essentials—but only provided it is controlled.

Uncontrolled fire is one of man's worst enemies, as anyone knows who has seen the results of its ravages.

United national opinion—call it patriotism, if you'd rather—is something like fire. Keep it under control, and it leads the way to great national improvement, successes and accomplishment.

But turn it loose, especially in the hands of the jingo-ist, the muckraker, the zealous fanatic, and more than anything else it will destroy order and good purpose.

GREAT waves of nationalism are enveloping this nation of ours in a way unknown since the World war armistice of November 11, 1918.

As we prepare to defend ourselves against possible onslaughts of the "bandit nations"—or, perhaps, to plunge into the current European war to "save democracy" or safeguard our trade routes—it is good for us to remember that many crimes have been committed in the name of patriotism, and history is apt to repeat itself.

A thoughtless public can do untold harm to defenseless persons when whipped to a wild frenzy by a rabble-rouser deft in the handling of the dangerous explosive called patriotism, or nationalism.

And in every age there are men base enough to twist the patriotic ideals of his fellows into a veritable weapon for unlimited wrongdoing.

The Plainsman yields to no man in the matter of patriotism, love of country, support of American ideals and traditions.

Yet he is firm in the belief that the best patriotism in this country is that which recognizes the basic rights guaranteed our free people by the Constitution and by the laws of the land—the basic rights of free speech, free press, the right of the people peaceably to assemble.

There are self-styled "patriots" in this nation today who would nullify those rights; who would refuse to others the right to be heard, as well as to hear.

They are the ones we must guard against as the United States forges a solid front against those things we consider to be evil on the part of other nations.

Let's not let our patriotism get out of control—and above all, let's permit no one to push it out of our control.

THE Plainsman, that cantankerous, ragged—beg pardon, we mean "rugged"—individualist, does not share the enthusiasm of the chamber of commerce for recent government figures which show that it's all a mistake about the wind blowing in and around Lubbock.

Doggone it! If we ain't got no wind out here, how are we going to sympathize with the people of Houston and environs over the "mugginess" of the atmosphere down there; over the incessant rainfall and the fact that a guy can't possibly keep his pants pressed for longer than 15 minutes at a time?

If we ain't got no wind, how can we be understanding the climatic tribulations surrounding life in Dallas, where for eight months out of the year your collar wilts down around your shoulders each morning by a quarter to nine?

And if we ain't got no wind, what's going to happen to our explanation of how West Texans grow so strong and so tough, to-wit: Because they have so much sand in their craws?

Nope, government figures or no government figures—and truth or untruth of 'em—The Plainsman isn't enthusiastic about the story that the wind blows longer and harder in such places as Miami and Palm Springs than it does here on the good, old "baldies" of West Texas!

We've always heard that "figgers don't lie, liars sure do figger."

And while we don't aim to be calling anybody a liar, it sure does look like somebody made a mistake in the compilation of the statistics tending to show that the wind out here is merely a figment of our collective imagination.

Anybody who has ever trudged along College avenue when Eastern New Mexico was whipping along toward Texarkana knows that something more powerful than

Drafted For Love

YESTERDAY: Kent is home for three days. He was injured in the explosion of a dud bomb, but his sight is not permanently impaired. Doctors believe an operation will restore it. He talks on, still believing Ann is beside him. He asks about April, calling her the "Glitterbug." April is furious.

Chapter 3
ANN REFUSES TO RETURN

April managed to leave Kent at his gate with a murmured answer.

It was an answer that said nothing but promised much in the manner of all sweethearts.

What mattered now was that she was tearing down the hill, escaping from what had been the strangest situation she had ever known. The wintry air smelled good, free!

Kent Carter, temporarily blinded, had taken her for Ann, the sister with whom he was in love, Ann was away, but she'd be back tomorrow if April had to turn the world upside down to get her.

She wasn't doing this for Kent. Not at all. She was doing it for Ann.

Glitterbug, indeed! Kent Carter would eat those words some day. Then she shrugged. What difference did it make what he called her? He was nothing to her.

Octavia was waiting, hovering in a way that made April alert.

"How come you take so long, Miss April?" Octavia asked. "Dat train was on time 'cause Ah heard her tooting same's usual. You meet Mister Carter okay and give him the message?"

"Mister Carter is safely at home in the arms of Auntie," April answered. "And if you wonder why I'm late, you should take yourself downtown to see the traffic jam caused by the free barbecue in the bandstand square."

"Free barbecue?" Octavia was thrown at once off the scent, or rather thrown on it. The scent of ham and pork roasting on a spittle.

Knowing she must get Octavia out of the house at all costs and at once, April went on. "You better join the jamboree, Octavia. There won't be a hambone left in another hour."

"Sure 'nuf?" Octavia's eyes rolled and her voice rolled, too, until she remembered that she had to be on duty while her "folks" were off camping. She said as much to Miss April.

"Just as long as you're home in time for breakfast," April said, "you can go your merry way with my blessing."

When the house was quiet at last, all the flippancy vanished from April. It was 9 o'clock. Within the next half hour the three handsome swains who were taking her to Casa Blanca would be ringing the bell. She must hurry to reach Ann by long distance, to make the homecoming arrangements, and then to figure some way out of tonight's date with Kent Carter to which she had committed herself.

In the dimly lighted hall where the telephone table stood, April looked up at the small oil portrait of Ann. An artist who had owed Dad money for settling a damage suit had painted it when the sister was 16. But Ann hadn't changed. There were her eyes, brown, wistful and appealing; there was the mole-brown hair and the quiet brow. "She doesn't need to be beautiful," April said half aloud. "She can sing—and how she can sing!"

"Here goes," April thought, and whirled the dial for long distance. "I want to place a call to New York."

Then almost before she could take breath, someone was answering at the other end.

"Hello," April said to the unfamiliar voice, "I would like to speak to Miss Ann Burnett."

"Ann Burnett? I'm sorry, but I think she's just gone out."

"Oh, no," and April, who had forgotten about placing the call in person to Ann, fairly wailed. "Please, I've got to get her at once."

"Wait a minute. Maybe I can catch her." The strange voice drifted off and even 500 miles away, April could catch the sounds of hurrying steps and a door opening.

And then, unbelievable but true, a voice came through the wire—the voice that might have been her own, so identical was it. "Oh, hello," Ann was saying.

"Ann, dear, this is April!" And then, because she was trembling, April cradled the telephone in her hand and curled up on the lounge.

"Oh, April dear. What's wrong?" The quick pulse of fear traveled the miles in a split second.

"We're perfectly all right," April made herself say steadily. "Mother and Dad went up to the cabin to build log fires and spend a rugged weekend. Octavia has taken herself downtown and at any minute Nip is going to howl hello."

"And you?" There was gay relief in Ann's questoin.

"Oh, me. I'm my same gorgeous self, Annie. Reason I'm calling up has to do with you, Ann. You've got to come home at once—this very night, on the midnight train."

"But why? There is something wrong, then?"

"No, Ann, everything's as right as right can be. Better yet, Kent Carter came home today."

"Kent! You mean for good, from Fort Dodd?"

"No, honey, not for good. On leave until Monday night. Now listen quick, Ann, because every word I'm saying costs money. It was all unexpected, I mean Kent's coming home. Naturally, he's crazy to see you."

All the things she'd meant to say vanished in Ann's quick answer. "But April, I can't come home, even to see Kent." She paused briefly, went on. "As a matter of fact, if Kent only knew it, he was the one who spurred me on to take this New York venture. And now I'm having my chance at last. Tomorrow night I have an audition with Vivano—the great Vivano."

April clutched the telephone stubbornly. "It doesn't matter," she wailed. "You'll have to postpone it, cancel it, anything."

Ann might not have heard her. She was saying, "I've lived for this time, worked for it. It may be the making of my future. Yes, a chance of a lifetime, this audition for Vivano."

Ann's voice. Yes, while April and Ann talked alike and laughed alike, Ann's singing voice went away ahead and beyond April's. It was a lovely contralto and everything must be done to keep it that way.

Mother was always particular to have nothing disturb Ann before a recital. April knew if she told Ann now about Kent's blindness, her sister might go all to pieces. It might WELL, WELL! WE CAN HARDLY BELIEVE IT!

The federal Postoffice department did something that it should have started doing a long time back when, a few days ago, it confiscated and burned several tons of propaganda from non-registered sources in Germany, Russia, Italy, Japan and—believe it, or not, from England.

The junk that comes out of "registered" propaganda sources is bad enough—as any editor can say—without considering that from agencies which are without official standing with the Postoffice department.

Even if it is a fact that, except in rare instances, this so-called literature does nothing more than take up room in waste-baskets, it is, in about 90 per cent of cases, a brazen attempt to undermine this nation from within. Practically all of the remaining 10 per cent are begging letters by individuals who are crooks, or for causes toward which not one penny of American money should be contributed.

The use of the junk as fuel for a fire on a cold day is almost as good as any that comes readily to mind.

shoveling of WPA workers is behind all that soil-lifting.

Yea, bo!

THE wind, by golly, is one of the best publicity mediums this section of West Texas has.

People who visit out here, even only once, never forget the wind and if they live to a ripe old age they always remember West Texas every time a zephyr smacks 'em in the face.

That's worth a lot—something to remind people of West Texas.

You know the best politicians always tell their newspaper acquaintances:

"Say something nice about me if you can—but for Heaven's sake say something! Don't forget me, whatever you do!"

That's the way with the wind in West Texas.

It may not be the best thing about our country, but you can bet your shirt its one thing that's never forgotten when people in other areas get to talking about West Texas!

There must, however, be a difference in West Texas wind, and the stuff it carries, along with it, and wind in other places.

Up in Washington the other day, a 40-mile per hour zephyr threw the whole city into an uproar, judging from clippings from the Washington Post, thoughtfully passed along to us by Hon. George Herman Mahon, M. C.

In a great front-page broadside, backed up by a half-page layout of pictures, The Post told how the dust-laden wind had practically whipped the stockings off feminine Washingtonians—and exhibited photographs of a dozen pairs of shapely legs to prove it!

Congressman Mahon's observation accompanying the clippings coincides with our own.

"Humph! he scribbled. "Up here, they just can't take it!"

ON-THEIR-TOES editors of The Post sent reporters scurrying to every known authority on wind, dust and stockings in the capital in effort to get an explanation of the phenomenon, but to no avail.

Experts at the U. S. Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, of the textile division of the Bureau of Home Economics, and even chiefs of the capital's Department of Refuse and Garbage were interviewed. But none could explain why sheer hosiery of all sorts of materials suffered "runs," holes and tears in the wind.

But the wind, or the dust, or something connected with either or both, sure did play hob with women's stockings that day, and the pictures prove it happened.

In nearly 18 years on these "baldies," The Plainsman has heard wind and sand blamed with a lot of things, but never has he heard of women's socks being blown to pieces "on the hoof."

But we've got a lot of good things out in this West Texas country besides wind and sand.

For instance, we have Edouard Blitz, 18-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Julien Paul Blitz, of the Texas Tech music faculty, and Miss Ermadel Floyd, 19-year-old Tech sophomore from McLean, both of whom have won wide acclaim for their musical ability.

Young Blitz plays the violoncello and Miss Floyd accompanies him at the piano and the duo will be presented at 8 o'clock tonight at Hotel Lubbock in the second of two public recitals sponsored by the Allegro Music club.

Those who know about music say Edouard Blitz and Ermadel Floyd are "going somewhere" with their music, and are well worth hearing.

IN New York, an Italian was being examined in federal court after applying for American citizenship.

He answered correctly questions as to the name of the President and the capital of the United States. Then came this:

"Mr. Spizzola," asked the judge, "could you become President of the United States?"

"No, sir," came the definite reply.

"Why not?" persisted the judge.

"Well-a, Meester Judge," the Italian returned, somewhat embarrassed, "you see, I'm-a vera bizzy, righ' now. I gotta shine-a-da shoes and sell-a-da peanuts!"

The Doves

The Gentlemen In Congress Signed A Couple Of Blank Checks

And Here's How FDR Spent The $200,000,000!

BY PETER EDSON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. — As there was considerable hullabaloo raised when the President was given emergency funds of 200 million — 100 million in direct appropriation and another 100 million in contract authorizations — it's rather interesting to check up now and see where all that money has gone. At the time, the general idea of bank checks of that size was questioned, but that did not deter the spending thereof, and out of the 200 million there now remain only 37 million unearmarked.

Edson

The most obvious thing about the spending, as revealed by budget bureau figures, is that it went out to a good many government departments, a lot of it in relatively small dabs of a couple hundred thousand or so. Of course, 200 million is quite a bit of dough and could be spread rather far and wide as ordinary mortals figure things, but in the gov'ment, we simply don't monkey 'round.

75 Millions For New Bases

The biggest single dent in the wad goes to the new bases in the western hemisphere, Newfoundland, Bermuda and the others which were leased from the British in exchange for the original 50 destroyers. Seventy-five million is the initial expenditure for those projects, 50 million for the naval end and 25 million for the army. And of course, that's only the beginning. Point is, the roll was there to get the ball rolling without any delay, as soon as the swap was announced.

Next biggest hunk, 36 million, goes to the Maritime commission for 51 shipways on which the new 200 cargo vessels of simplified design will be built. These are the ugly duckling tramps which will haul freight or war supplies without benefit of first cabin passengers and, eventually, if the ships are torpedoed it won't take long to build others.

To build barracks for the new army, the War department gets 29 1-2 million and in the same category, the navy gets 10 million.

The Reconstruction Finance corporation gets 12 million for storage of critical materials and the War department a similar amount for aerial navigation facilities, which could mean anything from beacons to bombsights.

And A Few "Small" Items

Those are the main big items—10 million or over — and then under them is an amazing array of individual appropriations which indicates what a complicated business this preparedness effort is and how many rat holes have to be chunked full of money — one million here and five million there to take care of some emergency—no one thinking anything further about the allocation except the guys who have to spend it, or the fellows who get it in paychecks, a mere $25 or $50 a week at a time.

To train army and navy personnel for the American republics, $800,000.

To survey the St. Lawrence, $950,000—though how that fits in as a defense measure isn't quite clear.

To start the selective service machinery functioning, $750,000.

To strengthen the G-men setup in FBI, $400,000, plus another $50,000 for alien naturalization.

To the secret service, to check counterfeiting and provide more treasury guards, a mere $173,000.

To recondition the S. S. America, $400,000.

To build the trans-Ithsmanian highway in Panama, the State department gets $3,675,000 — though this is probably the first occasion on record where the State department ever paved a road for anything other than a good intention. Just to license exports of war materials, the State department had to have $52,000.

The council of national defense research boys get more than four million and so do the gentlemen of the advisory committee to the council of national defense. And the co-ordinator of cultural relations—meaning Nelson Rockefeller and his setup to spread North Americanism in South America—gets $3,425,000.

And so on. It would take a three-page table to list them all, but if you have to sit up nights figuring up your income tax, you can take consolation from the fact that, just to keep books on all the money it takes to run a war, the President had to dig down in his Uncle Sam's jeans and from these emergency funds give the budget bureau another hundred grand.

Short-cuts

Whether or not there will be a successor to the late R. Walton Moore, counselor to the secretary of state, is a question. As Secretary Hull's confidant of many years, Judge Moore was made counselor when Sumner Welles was named under-secretary. Idea was to have them of equal rank, though the position was then a new one. . . . Recent cables that British had mined approaches to Singapore were not news, as the harbor had been so heavily mined for months that a few British coastwise steamers had been damaged in their own minefields. . . . Jerome Frank had long been promised federal judgeship as reward for services to New Deal in AAA and SEC.

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say— The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters from readers are welcomed at all times and on all subjects. However, no letter of more than 500 words will be considered for publication, and all letters belittling, or impugning the motive of any individual, firm or corporation must include for publication, the true name of the author. SPANKS PLAINSMAN

Dear Plainsman: Have you ever thought what a vast amount of untruths are in your column "The Plainsman Says" for Monday, February 24 and that this paper with your fantastic story is going into several towns and cities of Texas? Had you thought what might be gained through your column if it were composed of cultural, inspiring, and uplifting thoughts? I'm sure that you have not and perhaps you will not understand what I mean.

At the outset, you say that you do not know who has the "say-so" about the use of children's time during school hours, but the readers of your article would say that the superintendent of schools has this "say-so" and commend him for his choice of programs that he makes possible for the school children.

I would think, Mr. Plainsman, that a man with the intelligence you are supposed to have would have thought twice before you printed an article as the one of February 24 on the evening before two young artists were to appear in a concert which had been endorsed by the superintendent and sponsored by one of the leading cultural clubs of Lubbock. One of these young artists is one of our own home town boys. I can imagine that the members of this club are deeply grateful to you and that the parents of these two young artists will extend their thanks. I doubt that many people in Lubbock will pay any attention to this. Think twice and know what you are talking about before you get wound up again.

I have some inside information about "homework" that mamas and papas sweat with in the long winter evenings. If parents would see to it that the children do their little home work each day instead of allowing these children to spend their Saturdays and Sunday afternoons in the picture show, then mamas and papas wouldn't sweat. The homework is not for the mamas and papas to sweat over. I imagine that the sweating is done when mama or papa has to stay home some evening from a bridge game etc. or when mama has spent all of her afternoon in a bridge game.

I want my children to have more than reading, writing and arithmetic. I want them to have the culture that good plays and beautiful music affords. If it comes during school hours, well and good. Why have superintendents, principals, and teachers if you are not to leave something to their judgment?

A child in school is never embarrassed because he does not have a dime to go to a show. They had better be in a play that has merit than sitting in a picture show that has no educational value. If they spend their dime in school hours perhaps they will not spend it on Saturday and Sunday picture shows. Check your picture shows anytime and see how many children are in them.

If the mother didn't want her three children "jammed" into the auditorium with 1500 others during this season of colds and flu she did exactly right in keeping them home. I wonder where they were on Saturday and Sunday?

The parents of these same children howl loudest and longest yet you will find them in the picture shows, a comic book in each pocket, and their mouths full of bubble gum. When something worthwhile is made possible for these children at school that is 10 or 15 cents, oh, my, and ah. Why don't you write at length about some of the real problems that are facing the young people of Lubbock, rather than filling your paper with non-essentials which most of your readers know to be extremely exaggerated?

I don't want you to get the idea that I am a member of Saint Paul's church. I didn't direct the play, none of my relatives were in the play and I'm not related to the director. I am an interested patron of the school and I wish sometime that you would point out and print all of the fine things that you have observed about the schools and the entertainment and educational values provided for the schools. If I should write you my observations since coming to Lubbock the article would be too long for one printing.

The more dimes that the children spend on entertainment provided for them by the schools the less they will spend on comic books and worthless picture shows. More power to the superintendent and school authorities who are making this possible. And a greater power of discrimination to you, Mr. Plainsman.

A Reader.

(Dear Reader: If you had heard, first hand, as I have, from school patrons telling of occurrences in connection with extra-curricular entertainments in the schools, you would know how thoroughly untrue is your remark. "a child in school is never embarrassed because he does not have a dime to go to a show." And for your further information, yours is the only dissenting word in scores of comments I have received in regard to my comments on Monday afternoon. However, you have a right to your opinion, and, as the old saying goes, "'everyone to his own taste,' said the old lady, as she kissed the cow." And if you wish to keep abreast of all the many, very fine things being done in Lubbock schools, just read Avalanche-Journal papers, which annually print columns upon columns of such material. Thanks for presenting the minority side and your letters are always welcome. Very truly yours, The Plainsman).

APPROVES COLUMN

Dear Plainsman: "Keep it up." I read your Monday's column on "nickel-and-dime school hour" entertainments with a great deal of appreciation and interest. Instead of having "old" and "fogey" ideas, you have the "true" democratic ideas. I know because I am a student. "Pour it on."

A Student.

(Dear Student: Thank you for your kind words. But believe me, I have no idea of "pouring it on" anyone. All I want to do is be careful in this matter and to give public airing to the opinions of many, many school patrons. Write again, any time. The Plainsman.)

CHEERS PLAINSMAN

Dear Plainsman: Keep this good work going. I read every line of your column and I think you have hit a keynote on entertainments at the schools. I think it is a down-right, dirty shame that there is so much of this frivolous entertainment for the children in school at the expense of the parents.

I, for one, am not able to cope with the situation, but have it forced on me. I like for my children to feel that they have the same opportunities that other children have, but when I am not able to give it to them it makes a bad situation and the children resent it. I don't care if they do call me old fogey. I like it.

I have and am working hard to give my children an education but when we have so much of this extra expense thrown on us for frivolous entertainments it makes it a little rough. I think our teachers are all drawing fair salaries to teach our children and I for one feel that my children can get all the recreation they need before and after school. I think the taxes and the expense of getting our children in school is enough without being dug for a lot of side shows.

I expect if some of those in charge had the responsibility of raising a family and sending them to school they could see our side of it. I suggest they try it and see how they like it.

I am proud of you. Let's hear more from you. I am for you heart and soul.

A Reader.

HOLIDAYS SOUGHT

Dear Plainsman: A few citizens of Lubbock want to call the attention of the public that the city manager has let all the city employees off Saturday evenings, except for the park and the city garbage employees.

You know the park boys work to keep the parks beautiful, and in the summer I understand they go to work at 7 o'clock and quit at 5 o'clock and so do the garbage boys, and why can't these two departments be treated as the others are?

We would appreciate it, and we imagine these employees would also, if you would write your column once about this and call the attention of the public, as it seems no one cares about the welfare of these employees of the PARK and GARBAGE departments.

Yours truly,
Citizens of Lubbock.

(Dear Readers: I am glad to give publicity to this, as to all other questions of a public nature. However, I cannot take it upon myself to urge this matter, because it seems to me to be a question of executive judgment. I will say this, though. If some city departments get extra time off, all departments should — or else those discriminated against should be paid for overtime if extra holidays are not practicable in their work. Very truly yours, The Plainsman.)

LUBBOCK'S SCHOOLS

Dear Plainsman: Just finished reading your article on the school entertainment problem. I don't know when I ever heard anything expressed so well. In fact it is just what I wanted to hear.

I have a daughter, nine years old attending the George M. Hunt school. I also have a son, three years old, and in three years my worries will increase concerning the school system.

My opinion is that these extra activities are greatly over-stressed. Too many shows, too many extra nickels and dimes, that's right. That's all I hear. Many times I won't submit to so many shows for my daughter. I am oldfashioned, even at the age of 32. I want my daughter to do more work in school. She is made unhappy because the majority get to attend all extra activities.

I didn't let her attend the show last Thursday at the High school. I told her to study her multiplication tables during that time because she doesn't know her tables and is trying to work division problems. I was disappointed as usual, the few remaining students were sent to another room and told to write poems. No multiplication tables were studied and nothing was accomplished even in poem writing. So the afternoon was completely wasted.

At least, she was kept from the crowded auditorium but was left very unhappy. Another item I want to call your attention. My daughter has been pushed through from grade to grade against my will. Teachers claim no room for her in the lower grade. I understand through some reason or other that the last half of the third grade arithmetic last year was not completed. This school year she was pushed on to the fourth grade knowing nothing about last half of last year's work.

I help her every night and devote my entire evening to her help. Then her next school day is spent stressing art, radio lessons, music, puppet shows, etc. At the end of the day no reading, writing, arithmetic accomplished.

I feel that she would learn more at home with my help; but it is a state law that she attend school. I am wondering what measure to resort to.

My earnest hope and prayer is that something be done about the schools in Lubbock. We don't want the youths of today to be the criminals and law-breaking citizens of tomorrow.

In my daughter's room there are 46 students under one teacher. No wonder she isn't learning properly. Her teacher says other rooms have even more students. It seems to me that Lubbock people pay enough taxes that we should have more teachers and more room to accommodate the children of Lubbock.

Thanking you for your interest in this matter.

Yours truly,
Mrs. J. B. Hunt.

(Dear Mrs. Hunt: Thank you for your letter. I believe the Lubbock schools, by and large, are very, very good. But, like yourself, I prefer more instruction in essential subjects for my children and less entertainment and "froth and foam" during school hours. We do need more school buildings and fewer pupils per teacher, which I believe will come as soon as humanly possible. Very truly yours, The Plainsman.)

Martin Well In Spotlight

A scheduled 6,000-foot wildcat test now being drilled in the northern edge of Martin county held oil interest in the North Permian basin area Tuesday, according to information received here.

The wildcat, Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 1 N. B. Teague, indicated favorable structural position as it topped anhydrite at 1,900 feet and Yates sand at 2,690 feet. Elevation is 2,931 feet. Test is now drilling below 2,800 feet in anhydrite and redrock.

L. C. Harrison of Lubbock gauged his No. 2 Gus White and others in the Cedar Lake pool of northeastern Gaines county for a 24-hour flow of 402 barrels of 32-gravity crude with gas-oil ratio of 200-1. Well was shot with 480 quarts in pay zone between 4,580 and 5,765, the total depth.

Three Wells Completed

Three wells in the Seminole field, central Gaines county, were completed by Amerada Petroleum Corp. No. 2 Lamb gauged natural daily flow of 800 barrels at 5,305 feet; No. 3 Hahn also was completed naturally, flowing 863 barrels a day after acidizing at 5,335 feet, and No. 1 Northrup & Carr made 463 barrels a day after acidizing with 2,000 gallons at 5,370 feet.

In northwestern Gaines portion of Wasson field, Continental Oil Co. and Amon G. Carter No. 9-44 Landon made 806 barrels a day, and topped pay lime at 4,875 feet. It reached total depth of 5,041 where it was acidized with 12,000 gallons.

Magnolia No. 1 Maple Wilson, a mile north of the outpost to Slaughter field in southwestern Hockley county, is drilling below 2,350 feet in anhydrite and salt.

Three In Slaughter

Slaughter field gained three locations. W. J. Richardson of Fort Worth staked No. 2 Sun-Allison, 440 feet out of northwest corner of labor 39, league 40, Maverick county school land. Mid-Continent Petroleum Corp. accounted for two, staking No. 3-A Mallett Land & Cattle Co., 580 feet from north and 440 feet from west lines of labor 25, league 50, Scurry county school land, and No. 2-B Mallett, 580 feet out of southwest corner of labor 2, league 51, Scurry county school land.

Bond Oil corporation and Aweb Oil Co. No. 4 Barry, Hockley county well, was completed at 5,000 feet for daily potential flow of 1,155 barrels after acidizing with 9,000 gallons.

In the same pool, Magnolia No. 3-D Mallett gauged potential of 1,237 barrels of oil, plus 1.6 per cent water, following 10,500-gallon treatment at 5,000 feet. San Andres Production Co. of Lubbock No. 3-A Caddell established potential of 425 barrels a day after acidizing pay from 4,885 to 4,995 feet, total depth, with 8,000 gallons.

In Southern Yoakum county area of Wasson field, Oil Development Co. of Texas No. 14-763 fee completed for daily flow of 1,015 barrels after 12,500 gallons of chemicals at 5,270 feet. Shell Oil Co., Inc., No. 9-B Baumgart proved good for 1,397 barrels a day after 10,000 gallons at 5,181. The same company's No. 13 Mrs. Dora Roberts also was acidized with 10,000 gallons and made daily potential flow of 811 barrels at 5,195 feet.

Citizens National Purchaser Of Bonds

Lubbock Citizens National bank was named purchaser of $250,000 in city bonds voted last Jan. 14 on a bid of 1 per cent interest plus a premium of $32.36 at a special meeting of the city commission Tuesday night.

The bonds will bear the lowest rate at which any public obligations ever have been sold in Lubbock, officials said.

Six other companies submitted the following bids: Crummer & Co., Plainview, 1 1/2 per cent interest with premium of $225; Garrett & Co., Dallas, half at 1 1/4 per cent and half at 1 per cent with premium of $30; George Rotan & Co., Houston, 1 1/4 per cent with no premium; R. K. Webster, New York City, 1 1/2 per cent with premium of $490; Fort Worth National bank of Fort Worth, 1 1/4 per cent with premium of $290.97; and R. J. Edwards & Co., Oklahoma City, 1 1/2 per cent interest with a premium of $125.

Of the $250,000 total, $175,000 will be applied on a $190,000 engine for the city electric plant and $75,000 for expansions of the water department, including a 5,000,000 gallon reservoir.

Prominent Speakers To Be On Program

Outstanding speakers will address the annual meeting of the West Texas-New Mexico International Relations clubs at Texas Technological college March 14-15, according to announcement Tuesday by Dr. Benjamin Bock, Tech government instructor and sponsor of the college club.

Clifton M. Utley, director of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations and editor of the council's publication, Foreign Notes, and C. Dale Fuller, instructor in the department of international relations of the University of Denver and staff member of the Foundation for the Advancement of Social Sciences, are the speakers chosen. In addition, nine students from the various schools represented at the conference will present papers, and three round table discussions will be conducted.

Many Expected

Approximately 100 delegates from more than 10 colleges and universities are expected here for the conference.

Both Utley and Fuller are widely known as lecturers on foreign affairs. Utley is a graduate of University of Chicago, and has done advanced work at National University of Mexico; University of Munich, Germany; University of Algiers, Algiers; and University of Geneva, Switzerland. He spent the summers of 1932, 1935, 1936 and 1938 in Europe studying internal conditions of various countries, especially Germany. For the past four years he has conducted a weekly foreign affairs broadcast.

Topics Announced

Fuller holds A. B. and M. A. degrees from University of Denver, and has done advanced study at Northwestern university and Columbia university. He is in charge of a weekly radio program, "Journeys Behind the News," a program designed to present background material that will enable listeners to understand more clearly news of foreign affairs.

Utley will discuss "America's Big Issue." Fuller's topic will be "Inter-American Relations of Tomorrow."

Five Enlistments In Army Are Reported

Five army enlistments were reported Tuesday by officials of the recruiting station in the federal building here.

Forrest N. Kersey of Farwell route 1 and Arthur L. Bradley of Childress were assigned to the 18th field artillery at Fort Sill, Okla. William H. Aiterburn of Amarillo and Alord W. Cork of Tulia were assigned to the 60th coast artillery in the Philippine islands. James D. Arp of 2504 Locust street was assigned to third engineers at the Hawaiian detachment.

It has been estimated that Americans buy approximately 28,000,000 phonograph records annually.

Seagraves Chamber Host To Oil Men

SEAGRAVES, Feb. 26. (Special) — Despite unfavorable weather, more than 200 oil men from a large area of the North Permian basin attended a barbecue sponsored by Seagraves Chamber of Commerce in the American Legion hut here Tuesday night.

Amos Harper, Seagraves editor, was master of ceremonies in a brief informal program. Welcome was extended by L. M. McAdoo, president of the Seagraves Chamber of Commerce. M. W. Moseley, chairman of the arrangements committee, announced a similar entertainment would be given later in the spring.

A short humorous talk was given by W. T. (Tanlac) Strange of Lubbock. Music was furnished by a string band.

F. W. (Jack) Stewart, manager of the chamber of commerce, directed registration and reported oil men and employes were present from more than a score of towns in the area.

Police Enter Gotham Case

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 26—A woman identified from a social security card as Carol June Martin of St. Louis plunged from a 22nd floor window of the Hotel Warwick early today.

The body of the attractive, redhaired woman, believed to have been about 24 years old, was found on an extension of the fourth floor of the hotel which is popular with theatrical patrons.

Meeting Recounted

Miss Martin had attended a party last evening and had been resting in the room of an acquaintance on the 22nd floor. Detectives and hotel authorities questioned several of the eight persons at the party including Carroll Sexton, 44, who said he was a salesman for the Associated Sales company. Also examined were Gayle Knapp of Detroit, also a salesman for Associated Sales company, and John Small, hotel bellboy, who were in the room when Miss Martin plunged through the window.

According to Detective Thomas Ward, Sexton said he met Miss Martin early last night and they went to a midtown bar. Later, he said, they went back to the hotel to watch the last floor show. After the show they met Gayle Knapp, and then went to his room on the ninth floor for drinks.

Others Joined Party

Others joined the party which became more hilarious as it continued, according to detectives. Miss Martin became violently ill and Sexton suggested that she take his key and go to his room on the 22nd floor.

Sometime later, police said, Sexton telephoned the room to ask Miss Martin how she felt. She rebuked him and said she would remain there.

Ordered From Hotel

Small then went to Knapp's room and told Sexton that he had delivered cigarettes to Miss Martin and that she was in violent temper. Knapp and Small went together to the 22nd floor room and got into a heated argument with her, detectives said. She wore only a slip, they quoted Small.

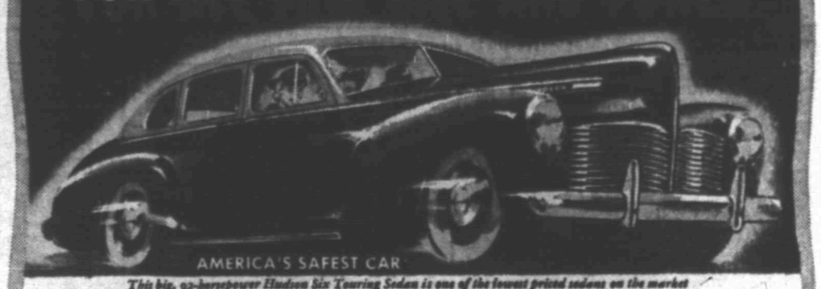

The bellboy finally became angry and ordered Miss Martin to leave the hotel. As they started to leave to permit Miss Martin to dress, she jumped from the bed and slipped feet first from the window.

A Leader among Laxatives.

BLACK-DRAUGHT is a name you will want to remember next time you're headachy, bilious, logy, all for need of a laxative. Not only because it is a best-seller among laxatives in the Southwest, but because of the reasons back of that!

For one thing, because BLACK-DRAUGHT is spicy, aromatic, easy-to-take, usually gentle and thorough acting when the simple directions are followed. Then it is made from purely vegetable ingredients. even spoil the audition. So instead, she almost bawled into the 'phone. "Kent loves you, Ann. He's crazy about you."

"Of course he is." Ann gave a small sigh and then with the quick little gasp characteristic of her, asked, "Did he tell you so?"

"Yes—no." April floundered and then, blessing of blessings, Nip came bounding to bark his "howlo."

When the barking was over, so was the bad minute. Ann, apparently being hurried away by someone who stood at her elbow in that hallway 500 miles away, spoke in her same, lovely, gentle lilt.

"You send word to Kent, April, that I'm heartbroken I can't make it. But don't dare tell him about the audition. That must be kept a secret until I know it's a success."

So that was that! She, April, was to send word to Kent Carter that Ann was heartbroken but couldn't get to Pattonsville.

These were Kent's three days against the darkness!

Out of the confusion and despair, a flash of sheer inspiration struck April.

"Gly-Cas Did Not Disappoint Me"

Declared Mr. Van Winkle; Eats Good, Gaining Weight, Nerves Are Calm, Feels So Much Stronger Again

"From the first few doses I noticed an advanced merit in Gly-Cas' ability in my stubborn case," said Mr. George W. Van Winkle, 713 S. 10th St., Temple, Texas.

MR GEORGE W. VAN WINKLE

"Gas and bloated stomach had caused me so much distress and discomfort for years. My health began failing with a case of faulty bowel action and I could not get any pleasure out of eating for to eat meant severe suffering. I could not get a good nights' sleep for I was disturbed at all hours with frequent kidney action and many times I would get so nervous. I felt miserable continually, tired and worn-out all the time. Of course, I tried many medicines in my awful case . . . did my best to find relief but to no avail . . . until I began Gly-Cas."

"Gly-Cas was highly recommended to me and I found it to be all that was claimed for it and more too," continued Mr. Van Winkle. "Now my bowels are regular and the change that has taken place is actually remarkable. Those clogged intestinal impurities are being properly removed, I eat and enjoy my meals without ill effects afterwards, am gaining weight, nerves are calm, I get full nights' of restful sleep and am feeling fine. I did not realize the real worth of Gly-Cas until I began its use myself."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns. Adv.

AGAIN HICKS' CHICKS LEAD THE WAY TO GREATER POULTRY PROFITS FOR YOU

OUR PRICES ARE IN LINE

Don't delay your chicx buying any longer. When you purchase HICKS CHICKS you get chicks that are hatched right, packed right — DEPENDABLE CHICKS. Even though you should have to pay a little more in additional cost to get my dependable chicks they will return to you many times over in extra eggs, extra profit. The small additional first cost and the long run show you a greater profit, where the inferior low grade chicks lose money for you.

Get your share of the poultry profits. Almost a quarter century of scientific breeding for MORE EGGS . . . BIGGER EGGS . . . BIGGER BIRDS offer you an outstanding opportunity for bigger share of these profits.

Swift's Chicks Are Healthy Chicks

Swift's Premium Baby Chicks are from selected, rigidly culled and properly blood-tested flocks.

Every flock supplying eggs to Swift's Hatchery is tested for "Pullorum" (B.W.D.) disease and all reactors to the test are removed from the flock. Health, vigorous stock brings success with Swift's Baby Chicks.

Willkie Denounces "The False Doctrine" Of Nation's Isolationists

Plea Made For Aid To Britain

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 26—Wendell L. Willkie last night called for an end to isolationist thought in America and denounced the "false doctrine" that those who favor aid to Britain favor war.

Willkie was a principal speaker at a dinner in honor of William Allen White, Emporia, Kan., editor and former chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies. White was given the annual award of The Churchman, Protestant Episcopal publication, "for promotion of good will and understanding."

Under Great Pressure

Willkie said he had been under "terrific" pressure during the last presidential campaign to take an isolationist stand and that White had confirmed him in his determination to oppose isolationism even before he delivered his speech accepting the Republican presidential nomination.

He said the real fight in America must be one to uproot and eliminate the doctrine of isolationism, since "we cannot preserve the American way unless we preserve also the British way, the Chinese way, the Norwegian way and the way of other free people."

Must Give All Aid

In accepting the award, White said he believed the only way to avoid war now was to "throw the weight of our economic resources to Great Britain."

He proposed a post-war world in which "no nation can feel with any reason that it is denied those raw materials, those basic sources of national growth, whether they be harbors or metals or the right to trade freely upon the oceans of the world, those raw materials which are necessary to maintain a competent civilization of self- respecting citizens."

It would cost as much, in the coming world, to maintain our isolation as it would help other democratic nations set up a society of good will, he continued.

Steel Strike

charged the past week;

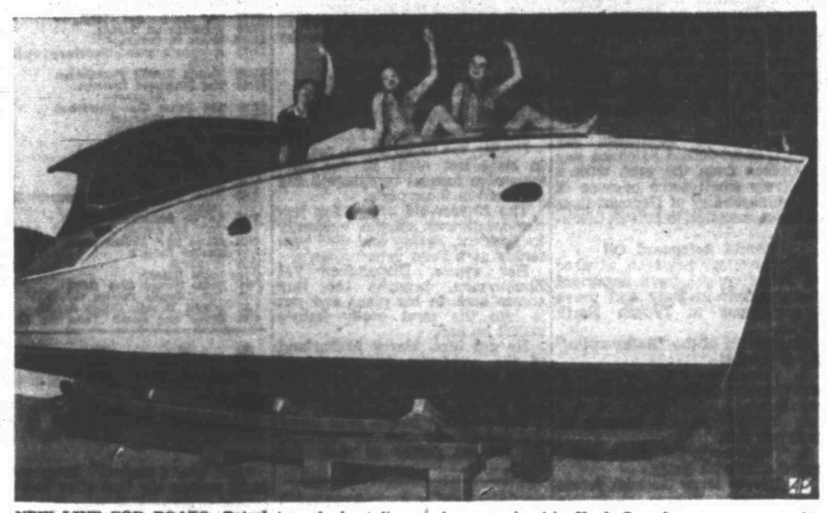

2. Comply with orders of the National Labor Relations board and discontinue the present "anti-labor policy";

3. Consent to a bargaining election and engage in collective bargaining with the SWOC if it is chosen by a majority of employes.

A fourth demand, added at the time the strike deadline was set, was for a 25 per cent wage increase for all employes.

Australia reports that many Americans want to buy its rabbit skins.

NEW LINE FOR BOATS—Patrol torpedo boat lines such as are ok-ed by Uncle Sam for new navy assault craft are embodied in this new 32-foot cruiser, seen at the National Motor Boat show in New York, where sailors and landlubbers can check up on the latest in sea craft. Nautical gear is also on display, as well as mermaids like Mary Jane French (left), Helen and Ruth Ingraham.

RCAF Cadet Greets Parents--By Proxy

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 26 (AP)—Bob Davis, jr., 19, Memphis youth in training with the Royal Canadian Air Force, was determined he'd visit his parents here—by proxy, even if he couldn't in person.

So when his chum, Billy Randolph, jr., came home on leave from Toronto, he brought with him a recording of Bob's message to his folks.

HE REDUCES FAST

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (U.P.) — Harry Houston, 24, has been admitted to training in the U. S. Army Air Corps after reducing 32 pounds in four days to meet the 188-pound maximum. He did it by miles of roadwork, forsaking his regular diet for apples and working with a hoisting crew at a steel plant instead of as a welder.

BIRTHS EXCEED DEATHS

BROWNFIELD — There were 274 births recorded in Terry county in 1940 compared to 85 deaths, J. W. Oliver, justice of the peace, reports. August had the most births, 32, and April the fewest, 11.

ASSESSORS NAMED

News Briefs

U. S. Suit Filed—The United States government this morning filed a civil suit in federal district court against James C. Minyard and others, to collect on notes given Farm Credit administration to secure a loan made in 1935.

Shoplifter Held—A 15-year-old negro girl, Bertha Johnson, was in county jail this morning to satisfy an assessment of $1 and court costs imposed by Walter Davies, justice of peace, on a shoplifting conviction. She had made bond on the charge filed Feb. 17.

Recovering From Surgery—Powell W. Miller of Jal, N. M., is recovering satisfactorily in West Texas hospital following an appendectomy, relatives said this morning. His wife and small daughter, Michael, are spending several days in Lubbock with his mother, Mrs. T. L. Miller of 1924 Twenty-fifth street.

Return From Tour—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCauley, 2432 Twenty-first street, returned Tuesday night from a motor tour which included Port Arthur, Baton Rouge, La., the Mardi Gras in New Orleans, Tampa, Miami, Key West and other points in Florida and Havana, Cuba. In St. Petersburg and Miami, they reported, they were guests of the family of Judge and Mrs. R. C. Hopping who are spending the winter in Florida.

Mrs. French Injured—Mrs. J. M. French, 74, of Afton was brought to Lubbock sanitarium Tuesday night after she suffered fracture of her right hip when she slipped on ice and fell at Afton. Her condition was considered satisfactory this morning.

To Send Delegation—A large delegation to the annual Northwest Texas conference March 21-23 in Plainview will represent Hi-Y boys of Lubbock Senior High school.

To Judge Show—Annual Dawson County Junior Fat Stock show at Lamesa March 20-21 will be judged by W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department of Texas Technological college.

Attending Funeral—Mrs. W. A. Tucker of Slaton, left early this morning for Amarillo where she is to attend the funeral this afternoon of Mrs. C. W. Owens of Amarillo, a former Slaton resident, who died Sunday night. Mrs. Owens had lived in Slaton a number of years, before moving to Amarillo.

Rotarians Celebrate—Twentieth anniversary of the founding of Lubbock Rotary club and the 36th anniversary of the first Rotary club were observed today by the local club at its luncheon in Lubbock hotel. W. E. Street and Dr. Harry L. Kent were co-chairmen, with Warren P. Clement and Dr. Charles J. Wagner, past presidents, speaking.

Four Trials Heard—Judge E. L. Pitts of the 99th district court today was hearing four non-jury civil proceedings having the same plaintiffs. In suits on notes, E. P. Ellwood and others sued R. N. Lancaster, W. G. Minton, W. F. Stowers and C. R. Adams.

Supervisors Here—Several WPA recreation supervisors of district 17 are attending a two-day conference which ends this afternoon in Hilton hotel. Standards and factors to be considered in recreational projects are being discussed. Alvin R. Eggling, district supervisor, is directing the meeting. Local supervisors attending are Miss Dona E. Huff, Lamesa; Mrs. Thelma B. Wilson, Lubbock; Miss Imogene A. Douglass, Plainview; Edward J. Strout, Snyder, and Wendell T. Siebert, Stamford.

Nazis Sink Ships

from Sunday noon until Monday evening.

The battle was said to have started last Sunday afternoon when submarines patrolling England's Atlantic shipping lanes west and northwest of the British Isles sighted a large, protected convoy.

The account given here was that the submarines took positions for a cooperative attack which was continued under heavy shelling from armed merchant ships accompanying the convoy.

Others Are Attracted

Other submarines were attracted to the scene, and, when the convoy was scattered, the submarines hunted down and sank several more vessels, this report said.

At about the same time, the report added, another submarine farther north sent to the bottom three steamers from another convoy.

Negro Fined, Loses Driver's License

Mrs. E. S. Billings of 1822 Avenue D stopped at a red light, at Sixteenth and Avenue Q.

A negro behind her drove into her car.

Mrs. Billings complained. The negro, she told police, was impudent.

She took his license number.

In county court he, E. W. Washington, about 35, was fined $5 and costs of $22.40 and required to surrender his driver's license six months—after police records had showed the negro had figured in five other traffic cases: Running a stop sign, running a red light, operating his car with defective lights, making a left turn out of an alley and having improperly parked his car.

This morning's charge was defective brakes.

A BUNCH OF "QUICK CHANGE' ARTISTS—Members of the 46th School Squadron's engineering department at Randolph Field, Texas, finish up a record breaking engine changeover in one hour and 14 minutes. Time started when the plane landed and included a 30 minute check run on the ground.

Daily Market Reports

Stock Market

MARKET UNEVEN

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP) — The recovery swing in stocks leveled out today into a generally narrow and uneven market.

Many traders seemed reluctant to follow the advance further on the assumption it represented only a technical rebound from the recent decline.

Transactions increased somewhat, approximating 400,000 shares.

Bethlehem Steel had the limelight as results of the threatened strike at the company's Lackawanna, N. Y., plant. Off more than a point at one time, Bethlehem regained the loss and provided an example for other industrials on the noon rally.

A shade higher most of the day were American Telephone, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, American Smelting and Chrysler. Tending to sag were Air Reduction, Santa Fe, General Motors, American Can and Eastman.

Active shares on the curb showed a mixture of fractional gains and losses. Up a bit were American Cyanamid "B", Lake Shore Mines and New Jersey Zinc while losers included Brewster Aeronautical, Gulf Oil and Humble.

legislative committees several times as a opponent of liquor.

"They told us if we would just legalize 3.2 beer our troubles would be over," she declared. "Instead, it is getting worse all the time. I noticed at a tax hearing today the legislators were using such phrases as 'from the depths of my heart' and 'in all sincerity.' Why don't you men use those words when you're talking about liquor?"

Others speaking for the proposal were Mrs. Tom B. Jenson of Austin, state W. C. T. U. secretary, and Mrs. Edmund H. Shaufler of Amarillo.

One-Day Marriage Is Secret For 19 Years

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 26 (AP)—A one-day marriage, kept secret for 19 years, came to light today when a 45-year-old school teacher announced she will appear Friday before an advisory master and ask for a divorce.

Laura Garwood Pittenger, former Middle States and Philadelphia district tennis champion, stunned family and friends with the announcement that she will seek a decree from Thomas C. Cavanaugh, 47, prominent Haddonfield, N. J., businessman.

She said she and her husband changed their minds after their wedding by a Philadelphia magistrate, June 14, 1922, and mentioned the matter to no one.

FDR Is Scored

the threat of unwanted amendments.

Long hostile to administration foreign policy, Nye represented the British aid bill as a legislative device which first would reduce Congress to the status of a puppet parliament and then compel it to "rubber stamp" a declaration of war.

Nye Makes Charges

Nye, in the address he prepared to open the Senate's ninth day of general debate, also charged the United States navy already was compiling information pertaining to operations on the mainland of Asia.

Nye made specific reference to the Burma road, China's vital supply line, as the subject of navy interest.

Enactment of the lease-lend program, he declared in his prepared speech, could be followed only by three things — "the degradation of Congress, a presidential dictatorship and entrance into war."

Relief From Taxes Sought

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP) — Swift action to aid corporations and persons suffering hardships from the excess profits tax was taken today by the House, which approved with little debate a bill revising details of the 1940 levy.

The measure, introduced with administration support only yesterday, now goes to the Senate.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the ways and means committee, explaining that it was intended to eliminate unfair discriminations, said that about $22,000,000 would be repaid from last year's excess profits taxes and that about $70,000,000 would be saved by taxpayers this year.

May Need Changes

Still further revisions may be needed, he added, as the excess profits tax law continues to operate.

Brief discussion on the House floor brought a demand by Rep. Rich (R-Pa) for greater economy in federal expenditures. He declared that the government is "going into the red $15,000 a minute," and shouted:

"If we don't get more revenue and if we keep on spending, we're going to wreck this nation."

"If the gentleman has made out his income tax due March 15," replied Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn), "he will find that the revenue act of 1940 has made substantial increases in government receipts."

Invasion Threat

to permit the changes before the program got under way, a failure which he said was partly responsible for increased costs of the military camp construction program.

Among other things, the committee learned:

1. The army is considering a further but unspecified expansion of the air corps.

2. About five per cent or 32,500 of the army's enlisted personnel are sick, chiefly as a result of the influenza epidemic.

Saving Was Possible

3. That about $100,000,000 could have been saved on the cantonment program if funds had been available for advance planning.

4. That the army has been "canvassing every city in the country" in an effort to find city managers willing to take charge of supervising the operation of the utilities in its major camps.

5. The air corps plans to experiment with downhill runways at Wright Field, O., for heavy bombardment plane takeoffs.

Admiral Stark told the committee the navy's huge concentration program was going ahead with "very favorable" speed. He said battleship construction was running from four to six months ahead of schedule.

Rear Admiral Ben Moreell, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, testified the navy plans to establish 50 "mosquito fleet" bases, sites for 27 of which already have been selected but not made public.

The total program would cost about $43,000,000.

in prospect before next fall.

Plane deliveries during January totaled 1,026, better than the figure predicted officially a month before. William S. Knudsen, director general of the office of production management, was encouraged to forecast an output of 18,000 planes this year.

As to the 9,200 tanks which Knudsen said this country would produce, the latest official information was that light tanks were being produced at the rate of four a day and that medium tanks would be rolling from a number of plants by mid-summer.

Officials said naval construction had reached the point where a new ship was joining the fleet every 12 days.

Brothers Re-United By Sister's Will

CHICAGO, Feb. 26 — Two brothers, who had not seen each other in 47 years, were re-united today.

Back in the 90's, when both were children, Frank and Thomas Dunlavey were separated. They lost track of each other. One thought the other was dead. Recently a sister died. Thomas was adjudged the sole heir to her $21,000 estate.

Later Frank put in a claim. He and Thomas were brought together. Thomas, doubtful at first, became so convinced of kinship that he asked the court to give Frank a half share of the inheritance and the circuit court consented.

But perhaps the strangest factor was this:

For the past 20 years Frank and Thomas have lived only four blocks apart.

Dog's Biting Retort Cost Rank In Army

FORT BENNING, Ga., Feb. 26 (AP)—Every dog may be entitled under the law to at least one bite, but Corporal Buster, mascot of the 97th observation squadron, took his at the wrong time.

Major Reuben Kyle, jr., recently gave a snappy command and Corporal Buster snapped back.

Today Corporal Buster D. O. G., K-9, was formally demoted to a private because of a "malicious attempt to rip the coat tails of Major Kyle in an effort to show his dislike of a rightful command."

English Study Next Offensive

BY DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 26—Defend the Balkans with British troops or march on Tripoli and mop up the Italians in Africa—that is the decision the British government will make in a few days.

The government probably will act when it has received the recommendations of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and General Sir John G. Dill, chief of the imperial staff, now on tour in Turkey and the near east.

To Bolster Resistance

Eden, it is reported, went primarily to deliver and discuss with Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, the near east commander, a "Balkan plan," and secondly to stiffen the Turks and Greeks in their resistance to German maneuvers.

The attitude of the Greeks is believed by informed quarters here to be worrying the British because, it is reported, the Greeks twice have rejected a proffer of greater British assistance.

(This report of Greek rejection of increased aid originally was filed Feb. 19, but was not passed by the censor until today. It was believed the same situation still exists. Transmission of the source of the report was not permitted.)

Attitude Is Mystery

Informed quarters suggested that if Greece is determined to resist both Italy and Germany it is a mystery why she has rejected more help.

Premier John Metaxas was said to have turned down the original offer before his death, Jan. 29, on the ground that British reinforcements would invite German intervention.

However, when the British government became satisfied that German infiltration into Bulgaria for a possible backdoor attack on Greece was making rapid progress and that a considerable German military force was being built up in Rumania, the offer was repeated and expanded. It was reported the Greeks again declined.

Could Defend Salonika

It was suggested here that Greece's final attitude may be determined largely by Turkey, which has just signed a treaty of friendship with Bulgaria.

(The Turkish newspaper Ikdam today pointed out that Turkey could aid Greece across a common frontier or by sea without involving Bulgaria.)

Some British strategists say Britain could defend Salonika, key to Greece from the east, with a relatively small force because of the vulnerability of German lines of communication to British bombing.

Would Safeguard Oil

On the other hand an advance on Tripoli might have important repercussions in Italy and prove advantageous in French North Africa.

Supporters of the "Balkan plan" say it would:

1. Generate and consolidate anti-German feeling in southeastern Europe.
2. Enlist Turkey in the war on Britain's side.
3. Safeguard the Suez canal and the Irak oil fields.
4. Divert large German forces from western Europe to face a much smaller British expedition in the east.

Supporters of the plan concede it would:

1. Require the diversion of at least six British divisions for the initial fighting—a force which would be hard to spare from north Africa.
2. Force the navy to forfeit its present advantage of surprise and to concentrate, instead, on guarding sea-borne communications to the new front against submarines and dive bombers.

Seattle Concern Building House Of Cotton Fabric And Fir Wood

SEATTE, Feb. 26 (AP)—A Seattle prefabricating company announced today it was building a five-room house of cotton fabric stretched and glued on fir plywood, for the United States department of agriculture.

The Speedwell company said the agriculture department hoped the discovery of using cotton fabric would be an additional use for surplus cotton.

Cotton will cover all walls, both exterior and interior, and make an excellent surface on which to paint. In addition, cotton will be used for insulation, floor covering, draperies, etc.

Framework Strong

The company recently accepted delivery of 1,250,000 square feet of cotton textile, woven with the thread count of inexpensive sheeting, for use in making such houses.

The house, to be completed in three weeks, will be "knocked down" and shipped to the agriculture department in Washington, the company said.

Wall sections will consist of interior and exterior plywood sheets glued under great pressure to one by three inch studding, as well as the conventional nailed two by four construction.

Undertaker's Pet Is Given Royal Funeral

ROCHESTER, Ind., Feb. 26 (AP)—Ginger, the undertaker's pet, lay in state last night in the most expensive funeral trappings a dog ever had in these parts.

The 10-year-old brown fox terrior swallowed arsenic, evidently by accident, Friday and died yesterday at a Peru veterinarian's.

Her owner, Undertaker Val Zimmerman, brought the tiny corpse back to his place and put it into the most costly baby's casket he had.

He got Mrs. Harry McFarland of the wardrobe department of Cole brothers circus to sew a shroud with gold threads and a bell fringe.

Today many people who knew the dog passed solemnly through the funeral parlor to view the body.

Earle Congratulated For Socking German

EBENSBURG, Pa., Feb. 26 (AP)—At a cost of more than $10 the four Cambria county judges and nine other officials in the courthouse today radioed their commendations to former Governor George Earle for his reported encounter with a German officer in Sofia.

"Congratulations on live spunk and dead aim," stated the radiogram.

PITCHERS HIT HOMERS

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 26 (AP)—It's beginning to look bad for the opposition already (maybe).

Pitchers Paul Derringer and Bucky Walters pounded home-run balls out of the lot on Plant Field Tuesday, first of the new spring training season for the world champion Cincinnati Reds.

Acts 2-ways to help WOMEN!

"Just what I needed!" Every year many women say that after they've started using CARDUI! For they find it helps them in two important ways when they suffer from headaches, cramp-like pain, or some ohter form of periodic distress due only to functional causes.

To help relieve functional periodic discomforts, start three days before "your time" and follow directions. Or take it as a tonic by directions to stimulate appetite, improve digestion by increasing the flow of gastric juices, and help build strength. Probably the greatest benefit comes from using CARDUI both ways. Used over 50 years!
