Outstanding Geological Specimen

Museum Developed by Dodson
School Unique in Panhandle

Some schools build a reputation on sports, or music or ag work. But with the Dodson school, it's the museum.

One room of the school has been given over to this museum, now filled with more than 300 items ranging from side saddles to minerals to mastodon bones.

Students in every town have a favorite gathering place. Dodson boys and girls, particularly in summer, are likely to gather with a teacher on clear nights to have a look at the rings of Saturn through the museum telescope. They have fun doing it, too.

Townpeople have great pride in the museum, too, and often one can be heard saying to a friend from another part of the county, "You should come down and see it." They credit the museum to Superintendent of Schools T. E. Lennon. Geology is his hobby, and much of the material in that field has been loaned by him. Part of it is from the collection of his father, the late C. E. Lennon of Mangum, Oklahoma, who gathered it over a period of years.

Mr. Lennon, in turn, gives credit to Howard Perkins, now principal of the Samnorwood high school, for much help.

The rock collection is outstanding for any small museum. Many of the specimens were picked up by the Lennon family on their travels from Canada to Old Mexico and throughout the United States. A Dodson student can take you to the museum room, point out and tell about such things as flint, selenite, garnet, quartz, topaz, silicon,eryl and felspar.

"We have a number of types of rock: igeous rock, sedimentary rock, metamorphic rock, sand crystal, black granite, muscovite mica and obsidian", Mr. Lennon says.

Grand Jury Convenes
Jury Civil Docket Set

Two indictments were returned by the grand jury of the 100th district court in a one-day session Monday, March 28. At the same court session, presided over by Judge Luther Gribble, the civil jury docket was set for April 18 and the grand jurors and petit jurors for the six-months period of the April term were selected. These will be sealed until shortly before the April 18 session.

Also on Monday, the commis-ioners court filed an answer in the suit of Mrs. O. E. Dodson and her husband seeking to collect back wages she alleges are due her.

Both indictments returned by the grand jury are for theft. Christopho Tienda was indicted for the theft of $500 belonging to Jerry Nix and taken from the Nix home. Tienda has been in jail here since February 16, according to Sheriff John Rainey.

Son Green, colored, was indicted on a charge of car theft, in connection with taking a car from the Eli Wolf Car Lot Friday. Green was arrested Monday afternoon, Sheriff Rainey said.

The following civil jury cases were put on docket:

Ebb Farmer vs. James R. Walker, damage suit.

O. P. Romaine vs. R. N. Barnett, damage suit.

City State Bank vs. J. T. Boyd et al, suit for debt.

Eugene Glenn vs. Farmers Co-op Society, suit for debt.

Leo Massey vs. Henry Daffron, damage suit.

Moore Fined On Liquor Charge

Herman (Supervisor) Moore, colored Wellington drug store owner, was fined $1,000 and costs in county court last week on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor for purpose of sale.

This was the maximum fine for the offense, County Judge R. L. Templeton said.

Moore had been arrested a few days earlier in a raid by county and city law enforcement officers. Value on the intoxicants taken has not been set, according to Sheriff John Rainey.

Revival Opens
On April 3

"We are beginning an old-fashioned Revival at the Assembly of God Church Sunday, April 3, with Evangelist J. L. Standridge of Oklahoma City doing the preaching," the Rev. M. D. Williams, pastor, has announced.

"Rev. Standridge is a man of great faith in God, who has a soul-stirring message that will thrill the hearts of everyone that hears him. There will be prayer for the sick every night and day," the pastor said, as he extended a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

Twice daily services are scheduled, at 10:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

The Boot Race is New

Annual FFA Rodeo
Set Saturday Night

The third annual FFA Rodeo will be sponsored by the Wellington chapter Saturday night, April 2, following the Project Show which will be held during the day.

The rodeo will feature some of the top schoolboy riders and ropers of the county, along with some of the ranch-girl beauties competing in the barrel race.

The rodeo will be held at the rodeo arena in the northeast part of town, beginning at 7:30 p. m., Melvin Burks, FFA Advisor, said.

Any Future Farmer or 4-H Club boy attending one of the county schools is eligible to enter.

Six events are planned for boys, with a boot race as a new event. In this contest, each boy takes off a boot and these are scrambled at one end of the arena. The boys race on horseback from the opposite end, each dismounts, finds his boot, puts it on, remounts and rides back to the starting point.

Other events will be bareback bronc riding, calf roping, team roping, steer riding and the trailer race.

There will be a barrel race for the girls.

There will be no entrance fees and no prizes, to protect the inter-scholastic league amateur standing of the schools, Mr. Burks said.

John Brock is furnishing the horses, described as "wild ponies just right for high school boys".

An Oklahoman who asked to remain anonymous is donating the steers, some of them 500 pounders with plenty of fight.

Judges will be Ed Smith and Claude Caison.

"These shows by the Future Farmers and 4-H boys are worth seeing", Mr. Burks said. "You'll have a barrel of fun—more than you do at the big rodeos."

Admission will be 25 cents and 50 cents, and proceeds will go to the Wellington FFA, sponsors of the event.

VFW Hunts Wheel
Chairs, Crutches

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post needs to know who is using its wheel chairs and crutches.

They explain that the book in which this record was kept has been lost, and they do not know to whom these chairs and crutches were loaned.

"If you have one of our chairs or a pair of crutches and are using them, we'd appreciate your notifying us of the fact. We do not want them back, we just need to know where they are. If you are through using them, we will appreciate having them returned as we have several requests that we are not able to fill", Donald Curry said.

Those with wheel chairs or crutches should notify Mr. Curry. This program of aiding those who are crippled or ill has been a project of the Glynn Moore Post for a number of years.

And next door neighbor Dr. E. W. Jones recalling an uninvited visitor during the time they were remodeling their house and living in the room attached to the garage. The Youth Project Show will be held in Wellington next Saturday and from what I hear in advance, it is going to be one of the best shows of this kind held to date. The work that these young people are doing is heartening to see.

Report of a newcomer: Rev. Bill Thomas of the First Baptist Church says that it is going to rain. I should report that he was standing flat-footed and watering his flowers like jupiter pluvius when he made the prediction. Perhaps he is one of these preachers who believes in combining faith with works.

Hardware merchants say that the sale of shotgun shells has improved greatly since this paper published a report of a prowler who cuts screens and appears at back doors unexpectedly. They say that the sales have been exceeding the rush at the beginning of the dove season in September or the quail season in December. There is one difference, however, the customers are not buying bird-shot.

Any person in any firm is pleased to be signaled out by anybody as the only person who can handle his business; but it does have its penalties. The other day I was laying up by the radio recovering from that common ailment which has kept so many people near the bathroom for some months. Art Bickerstaff phoned the office for me to come out and help him with an advertisement. That is all right. Considering the way business is now, I would get out of one of Jimmie Kelso's best coffins to get a good sized ad. But considering the fact that either Louise or Virginia could have handled the ad about as well, I hope Art gets as sick of his free coffee deal as I was when he called me out of bed.

Charles Little tells me that C. D. Messer, who lives southwest of Wellington, has a Jersey cow that has had eleven calves and all eleven were heifers. It would not take long to raise a dairy herd if all cows produced in this manner. Could it be that this milk cow is ahead of the scientists. It makes you wonder. How could a cow know about artificial insemination?

Generally I go along with the accuracy of the headlines in The Saturday Evening Post. This week they had one on the front page that made me wonder about what constitutes the greatest crime. The headline had to do with Nathan Leopold and his years in prison. The headline said: "A Report on America's Most Notorious Convict". Has the Post forgotten about the convict, Alger Hiss, and others like him who were never convicted of treason because of the inadequacy of our laws or because their favored positions in the days when Roosevelt and Truman were playing hands and footsie with the Communists. Leopold and Loeb killed one innocent boy in a sadistic orgy. The traitors in high places doomed tens of thousands to death in Korea and thousands to something worse — namely brain washing. The most notorious criminals should be listed as those who have committed the greatest crimes.

RIGHT IN YOUR EYE—
These llamas love to look at visitors to the Vincennes Zoo, in Paris, France. But knowing persons keep their distance. Llamas have one very impolite habit, and if someone comes too close, in order to view the brand-new baby, mama would just as soon spit—as look—in his eye.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henard and Pat Henard are former residents of Wellington.

Phone Company Blames Increased Costs for Request

Decreased earning brought about by increased costs was pointed out today as the principal reason General Telephone Company of the Southwest is seeking higher rates in Dodson.

H. E. Craig, General's district manager, in a prepared release, blamed the continuing inflationary spiral that has increased the cost of furnishing service for lowering the Company's rate of return on investment in Dodson.

Despite an adjustment in rates since modern dial was installed in September, 1952, the rate of return based on the level of business as of September 30, 1954, has decreased drastically, Craig explained.

"Higher operating costs and increased investment have combined to reduce earning," he stated. "Three general wage increases amounting to more than 14 per cent have been given employees. Because approximately 71 per cent of expenses, including taxes and depreciation, in Dodson are wages, it is easy to see the great effect of wage increases on Company earnings. The investment in telephone plant today is 10 per cent greater than the 1951 engineering estimate", he stated.

"Despite every practical economy of operation", Craig emphasized, "the rate of return on investment is being adversely affected.

In order to provide money for expansion a telephone company needs to attract investors to buy its securities. "To do this", he continued, "we must offer a reasonable interest or dividend rate and also assure the investor a reasonable amount of security. In requesting an increase in rates, the telephone company is seeking no more than a level of rates which will help to meet its responsibilities to its investors and to its subscribers in Dodson.

The present and requested rates are:

Present rates: Business: One Party Service, $7.00, Two Party Service, $5.50, Extension, $1.50; Requested rates: $10.50, $8.00, $1.50.

Residence: One party service, $4.00, Two Party Service, 3.25, Four Party Service, 2.75, Extension, .75; $5.50, $4.50, $3.75, .75.

Craig concluded by saying he hopes the residents of Dodson

There's Murder and Mystery

Quail Seniors Present Class Play April 8

Quail seniors are presenting their annual play, "Who Killed Aunt Caroline?" a mystery, Friday evening, April 8, in the high school auditorium. Curtain time is 8:00 p. m.

The story revolves around the Endicotts, a family just like the folks next door or the family down the street. They have no idea Aunt Carolyn, who is rather mean and domineering, is going to be murdered in their home. From the end of the first act, when the murder occurs, until near the close of the play, the audience is kept in complete suspense.

The leading role is taken by Melba Langley, as Eleanor Endicott, a warm hearted widow with four children; Agnes Endicott, her eldest daughter, about 24, is Cummings: Ciceley Endicott, youngest of the girls, about 10, who loves to roller skate, Geneva White; Richard Endicott, 17, high school senior, interested in medicine, H. C. Langford; Aunt Caroline, tall angular woman of about 50, mean and domineering, Edna Ellen Wright; Miss Mabbitt, Aunt Caroline's companion, Sherry Graham; Louise MacLain, cultured young woman, Ricky's teacher, Martha Johnson; Una Hagaman, small girl, mean and grabbish, Rita Boen; Dan Donovan, Ricky's pal, James Stephens; Dave Thompson, husky young man in early twenties, in love with Agnes, Regie Patton; Lt. Clayton, of the homicide squad, but not hard boiled, Wayne Parker; will realize that only by bringing the telephone rates more in line with today's cost of doing business can the telephone company continue to provide good service and plan for future expansion.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henard and Pat Henard are former residents of Wellington.

Directing the production are L. C. Myers and W. F. Howard.

Feeder's Day At Spur April 5th

County Agent J. W. Thomas is urging county farmers to attend the Feeders Day at the Spur Experiment Station Tuesday, April 5, when a guided tour of the feed lots, field areas and pastures will be held, along with a barbeque and program.

The program will emphasize wintering and fattening cattle, and the main features of the day will include results of feeding trials with terramycin and diethylstilbestrol (a new hormone) when fed with rations high in roughage and low in grain to long yearling steers.

Marketing date for steers fed diethylstilbestrol 60 to 100 days will be presented while steers fed 140 days will be shown in the lots.

Other features will include feeding and wintering trials with steer calves and heifers on different rations.

A tour of the station will also be made to view studies on soil and water conservation, brush control, reseeding pastures, grazing trials and other related work. The tours begin at 9 a. m., and those planning to attend are asked to notify Mr. Thomas.

J. H. Symour of Dodson is under treatment in St. Joseph's Hospital. He was admitted Wednesday, March 23.

Mrs. Raymond Scott was a medical patient in St. Joseph's Hospital March 15 to 18.

Mrs. Gene Lewis was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday, March 27, for treatment.

Immunize Children Of Three Schools

The annual immunization program among students in the Quail, Samnorwood and Dodson schools is now under way, Mrs. Cal Sugg, nurse in the three schools, reports.

The program this year includes immunization for whooping cough, diptheria and typhoid fever, along with booster shots.

Sixty-five children are receiving the typhoid series, with 229 taking the booster shots. Twenty are being given the diptheria series, with 10 receiving booster shots, Mrs. Sugg said.

Smallpox vaccination and the TB patch tests are not being given this year.

Silver Tea Plans Complete

Plans are complete for the silver tea to be given by the women of the First Christian Church Tuesday evening, April 5, Mrs. Heber Brantley, a member of the committee in charge, has announced.

At this time they will present Mrs. Floyd Roberts Jr. of Hollis in a review of the Book of Esther from the Bible.

This was the subject of Mrs. Roberts college thesis.

A talented book reviewer, Mrs. Roberts is also a teacher in the Dodson school.

This is the first time she has been presented in a public review and the public is invited to attend.

Bankers To Speak At High School

Charles Allen, assistant vice-president of the Wellington State Bank, and Truett Thomas, agricultural officer of the City State Bank, will speak before students of Wellington high school at the assembly program Friday, April 1, at 1:30 p. m.

Both will discuss "The Role of the Bank in the Community".

Student participants will include Mary Beth Kelso, winner of first place in senior declamation elimination last week; Carolyn Coburn, junior winner; and the three winners of the ready-writing contest: Elizabeth Hurst, first; Carolyn Coburn, second and Janice Davis, third.

Musical numbers will be given by the brass ensemble.

Red Cross Roll Call Extended

The Red Cross Roll Call Drive has been continued through the first two weeks of April, B. W. Beaird, chairman, announced this week.

The county is still far short of its $2,095 goal. County Red Cross officials are urging that any individual who has been missed bring their donation by Mr. Beaird's office, or to Miss Katherine Boverie at the County Library.

Mrs. George Scott was under medical treatment at St. Joseph's Hospital Friday and Saturday, March 25 and 26.

Lone Star Gas Opposes Gas Purchase Proposal

Lone Star Gas Company's 700,000 customers in Texas and Oklahoma are threatened with sharply increased costs of gas service by the announced plan of Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America to take large quantities of gas from Jack and Wise Counties, Texas, to Chicago, Illinois, D. A. Hulcy, Lone Star Gas Company President, said today.

"Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America proposes to purchase this gas in the fields of Jack and Wise Counties at a comparable price more than 50 per cent higher than the average now being paid in those counties", Mr. Hulcy said. "Should Natural Gas Pipeline institute such high prices it would mean that Lone Star, in order to continue to insure a supply of gas adequate for the future needs of its more than 700,000 customers in Texas and Oklahoma, would have to meet this price not only in Jack and Wise Counties, but, ultimately, all over its system.

"This would serve to increase Lone Star's annual expenditure for gas purchased in Texas and Oklahoma by more than $10 million, and this increase, as a part of the necessary cost of service, would have to be paid by our industrial, commercial and residential customers.

"Lone Star's average price for gas purchased has almost doubled since 1950. The producer received 31.2 cents out of every dollar received for gas service by Lone Star in 1954 from its customers, practically every one of which is served at the burner tip after completion of transmission and distribution operations. Nearly 1/3 of the customers' dollar paid for gas service goes to the producer on Lone Star gas system.

"Historically, Lone Star has always met its obligation to protect its customers against any unwarranted rise in the cost of gas service. Our customers and regulatory authorities, as well, have the right to expect this to be done. We are, therefore, opposing Natural Gas pipeline Company of America's proposal with every facility at our command."

"The Federal Power Commission has granted our petition for leave, to intervene (in opposition) in the hearing before the Commission on Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America's application to construct and operate a 350-mile pipeline extending from Wise County, Texas, through Oklahoma to the Texas Panhandle to deliver gas to Natural Gas Pipeline Company's pipeline system serving the people of Chicago.

"Lone Star is not alone in opposition to this threatening proposal. Other gas service companies operating in this part of the country have taken positive steps in opposition. These companies are Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, serving a large area in Oklahoma; Consolidated Gas Utilities Corporation; serving parts of Oklahoma and Southern Kansas; State Fuel Supply Company, also serving a portion of Oklahoma; and Upham Gas Company, serving a number of towns in North Texas, including Mineral Wells and Weatherford. The problem of these companies and their customers in this connection are obviously the same as Lone Star's.

Editorial Comment — The Wellington Leader

It's Project Show Time. . . Time to Show More Achievements

Junior livestock men and homemakers will have their Day Saturday, and as in the past, they will make the Project Show a high point in the county's yearly activities.

They are juniors only in age and years of experience. The calves and hogs and homemaking projects they will show equal in quality anything that most of their adult friends and relatives produce. They have packed into the short years of their high school life, under the expert guidance of their teachers, and with the cooperation of their parents, the knowledge that could come only with years experience working on their own.

Youth project shows have been held in Wellington for more than 20 years now. Adult interest in them has fluctuated. Certainly nothing the students of the county schools put on should have greater support on the part of their parents and grown-up friends.

Each phase of school life has its place — sport, scholastic achievement, fun events — and the Project Show is stressing what is the economic basis of the county, livestock raising, and in other project study, farming as well, and homemaking, which is the basis of our homes.

It is well that the boys and girls have an opportunity to exhibit the work they are doing. It is equally as well that the people of the county go down and see what they are doing.

The show is no moneymaking project for any boy showing an animal. Past experience has shown that he does well to break even. Many a boy has shown a profit on his hog or calf only if he doesn't count his work. Some simply lose money but consider their profit in the experience gained. Certainly the encouragement and enthusiasm of the general public can more than make up this loss in the eyes of the boys.

The girls situation is a little different. Most of the projects they exhibit are clothing, and these they proudly wear during the months after the show. But they need our support every bit as much as the boys.

We must remember that Saturday is our boys and girls day. Let's help them make the most of it.

Community Growth No Accident

The surest way to develop the local community and create permanent prosperity is to encourage and build a strong Chamber of Commerce.

Information that shows the individual his interest in productive enterprise is indispensable to the sound of questions that encourage the establishment or growth of industries and business.

That this philosophy is sound and has a direct bearing on the prosperity of every community, every business and every individual is evidenced by figures released by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States covering the period from 1940 to 1950. They show that for every 100 new industrial workers in nine counties surveyed by the Chamber, retail sales zoomed $360,000, personal income $590,000, and bank deposits 270,000.

An increase of 200 industrial workers meant 174 new jobs in other lines of work, 112 more household and a population increase of 296—new purchases of all manner of goods and services. The survey covered a ten year period and was designed to measure the impact of new industry on local business.

The problems of industry are the problems of the people.

Soul's Easter Has Special Meaning

Easter in the soul may often be something different — something more — than Easter in the churches.

On Easter Sunday many churches that ordinarily have a single service conduct two services to accommodate the crowds. The following Sunday, the crowds may be even less than usual.

What lies back of this discrepancy? Is the abnormally large church attendance at Easter a recognition of the Resurrection of Jesus and a rejoicing in the supreme event? Or is it a matter of custom?

The name "Easter" has its origin in a pagan festival of Spring. Is the joy of Easter, for many, little more than a pagan bow, decked in spring bonnets, to spring after the grimness of winter?

Even for many of the sincerely religious there is a difference between the celebration of the Resurrection of Jesus as a faroff event in history, significant as that may be, and the celebration and recognition of the fact of an ever-present and living Christ.

If Easter were truly in the souls of the many for whom church-going on Easter Sunday is a formal matter, one cannot but reflect that their lives would be different in relation to the church, the Christ, and their fellow men throughout the year.

Everything we celebrate in connection with the life, death and Resurrection of Jesus is not to be limited to one day or season, but should be extended to every day and every season.

This is true of the Resurrection. Its vital message is not only that Jesus rose from death, but it is also, in the words and promise of Jesus: "Lo, I am with you always".

Crossroads Report

Dear Editor:

I have been reading about this Senate committee which is looking under numerous highly-pedigreed rocks to see if they can find out why the stock market was showing symptoms of a runaway here a while back. So far, it seems like, the testimony they have got hasn't cast a whole lot of light on the subject.

What the matter is, they are asking the wrong people. The committee needs to direct its delving at some of us customers who were being sold last year on the great benefits that would result from loosening the tax string on dividend drawers.

In fact, some of these same baffled Senators were doing considerable eloquence-waxing here about a year ago on how lowering the taxes on dividends would encourage investors to put their money into industry. But now that this seems to be happening, they are astonished as an oil stock salesman when a well comes in like he said it would.

ATTEND THE PROJECT SHOW SATURDAY, APRIL 2

We're Proud of the Boys and Girls of Collingsworth

You teenagers who are members of FFA, FHA and 4-H are doing more than you know to continue the county's tradition as a fine livestock country and a good place to live. We will be seeing great things from you in a few more years.

Some of you will show prize winning projects, Saturday, but whether you take home the ribbons or not, you will have learned about livestock or homemaking that only such competition can give.

We who visit the show will be learning something, too — we'll see what fine work you are capable of. And we want you to know that we believe all your work and your efforts are worthwhile.

Five Vacancies Remain

Re-election of City Teachers Announced

Re-election of teachers in the Wellington system was announced this week by Bennett Goodloe, superintendent.

These are in addition to Mack Bush, junior high school principal, Jack Davis elementary principal, W. S. Simpson, Washington principal, who were re-elected earlier; John Hurley who was promoted to head coach; and three teachers who will be new to the system next year, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bloesch of Cheyenne, Oklahoma; and Harvey Millisp of Kelton.

Five places remain unfilled: high school principal, assistant coach and commerce teacher; and two places in elementary school.

Mr. Goodloe also announced the resignation of two members of this year's faculty, effective at the end of the year: Miss Leatrice West in high school and Mrs. Barbara Hardin in Junior High.

The following teachers were re-elected:

High school: Melvin Burks, vocational agriculture; Mrs. Jo Covey, home economics; Mrs. Ralph Coburn, freshman English; Mrs. John Justice, librarian; Mrs. Taylor Lowrie, mathematics; Mrs. Bob McAlister, English and Spanish; Miss Hattie D. Wells, history; and C. A. Crawford, science.

Junior high: Mrs. John Glass-

Museum—

museum collection. "These", explained Mr. Lennon, "are not solid like the chunks of lava you often see. They are hollow inside."

Almost unpronounceable to any teenager hereabouts except one from Dodson is the salarion cephalopods from the paleozoic age. That, he will tell you, is simply a rock that is somewhere between ten and twenty-five million years old.

"If you aren't interested in rocks but are in Indian materials, we have a case of that, too," Mr. Lennon says. It has arrow points, dart points, meat scrapers, stone knives, battle axes and war clubs, and pottery from the Southwestern Indians.

From a different historic locale, there are guns and swords, bullets and bugles and hunting horns. The museum has a good collection of pictures showing battle scenes of the Civil War.

"The telescope always draws attention, particularly among grown-ups who come to night meetings at the school and stop by the museum," Mr. Lennon continued.

"Of course, it's just a small telescope, and not very expensive, but it magnifies about 70 times and you can see the rings of Saturn and the craters of the moon."

The museum also has a meteorology section, although there isn't much variety in weather forecasting for the students just now. They study cloud formations and their causes and have considerable material on the subject. There is also a rain gauge and barometer.

The school has secured a large amount of science material on 35 mm films made available by Life Magazine, and a complete library on the physical sciences is housed in the museum room.

For several years, much of the material was in boxes, then inquiries went around about some cases. Dodson folks responded. Some gave a case of one sort or another, but all useable, others loaned cases. "You see how many people are glad to help you when you need something," Mr. Lennon said.

One of the most active organizations in the school is the Science Club, affiliated with the National Science Clubs.

This group has played host to several groups of students who come by bus from other schools to visit the museum.

Visitors are welcome any time the school is open, Mr. Lennon says. For the Dodson school, smallest in Collingsworth County, has built one of the most unique features of any school in the Panhandle.

Miss Amerson—

norwood high school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Amerson. She is outstanding in 4-H Club work and in the Future Homemakers chapter. She is 17.

Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, is 18, and a junior in Quail high school. He has done distinguished work as a Future Farmer in his chapter.

Students from each of the high schools were nominated by the teachers of vocational agriculture and home economics, and 4-H members by the county agent, J. W. Thomas.

The final selection was made after the seven boys and girls had appeared before a board of five for a final interview. The winners were judged on their projects in their Future Homemakers, 4-H and Future Farmer chapters, leadership in school affairs and extra curricular activities, in church and community participation.

Miss Amerson's plaque will read "For outstanding achievement in Homemaking and Citizenship," while Johnson's will be inscribed "For Outstanding Achievement in Agriculture and Citizenship."

The board of judges included R. F. Curry, Walt Winters, Quinton Brewer, Durant McInnis and Donald Curry.

Mrs. Z. T. Lowry was a medical patient in St. Joseph's Hospital from Thursday, March 23 until Monday, March 28.

First Woman Serves On Jury Commission

Mrs. Heber Brantley, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, became Collingsworth County's first woman to render any service in connection with jury duty. She was summonsed to serve as one of the five members of the jury commission which sat Monday morning, March 28.

Serving with her were Z. J. Neeley of Quail, J. D. Coleman of Pleasant Mound, Frank Ford of Dodson, and Ray Clubb of Rolla. Mrs. J. D. Coleman, who lives in the extreme northwest part of the county, was to have served with Mrs. Brantley, but she is teaching in the McLean School and her husband appeared in her place.

The four men expressed their pleasure at having a woman as one of their number. "She did our typing for us," they told county officials.

The work of the Jury Commission is to name the members of the grand jury and petit jury for the coming six-months term of district court.

BEAUTY IN BEADS—String along with Fashion in her choice of bright, beaded-ropes beads for summer wear. In this particular style, chalk-white and tinted Venetian beads are sparkled with rhinestones. In either 60-inch or 30-inch length, they go with bracelet and button earrings.

KEYS TO PURSEONALITY—White kidskin bag, left, is locked to the chain of spring fashions with these large costume keys of gold and silver-toned lightweight metal. The striking fashion accessory is a Parisian original. At right, fashionwise Kit Grant in London, England, carries a treasury of Shakespeare in three volumes, which opens to reveal not coins of wisdom, but a place for coins of the realm. The item speaks volumes for the display at the recent Leather Goods Industries Fair.

Washington

By PRICE DANIEL
U. S. Senator

The big debate in Washington this week has been about taxes. It arose over the bill to extend present corporate and excise tax rates for another year as recommended by the President. Everyone realized the necessity for this extension, but the House added a tax reduction amendment effective January 1, 1956, in the form of a $20 tax credit for each taxpayer and dependant. Democrats in the Senate supported a similar type of tax credit but, with a "balance the budget" feature added.

The Administration cried "politics" at the Democratic effort to provide now for future tax relief. It is true that "politics" has been at the root of this fight, but it has not been all on the Democratic side. The Republicans clearly indicated that they would offer some type of attractive tax reduction proposal next year just before the elections. That is one of the main reasons that the House Democrats decided to sponsor their type of tax reduction now even though it would not be effective until next year.

The President's Mistake
If President Eisenhower had stayed firmly behind his campaign pledge to balance the budget and stop deficit financing, the present tax fight would have been avoided. A great majority of the Democrats in Congress would have agreed that no further tax cuts should be made until the budget is balanced. However, the President made the mistake of recommending tax cuts and adjustments especially attractive for corporations and business interests last year in spite of an unbalanced budget, and then again this year, in his "state of the Union" address, the President said maybe we could cut taxes more next year. He seemed half joking, or at least amused, as he leaned over the rostrum and predicted an election year tax cut.

It is the writer's opinion that both political parties are making a mistake in thinking that small tax cuts are more attractive to the voters of this country than a balanced budget. Our mail indicates that most citizens, including those with low incomes, think that they will be served best by stopping the inflation caused by deficit financing and most of them think we should stop piling up

MOTHER'S LITTLE HELPER—It's the toy vacuum cleaner—not the little girl—that's going to be a big help to mother. Battery powered, the tank-type cleaner actually picks up crumbs and dust, is designed to keep Sis busy while Mother gets on with the cleaning. additional debts for our children and grandchildren to pay.

Deficit Financing

Long before coming to Congress, your Senator has opposed deficit financing by both State and Federal Governments. It was a pleasure to have a part in passing the "pay as you go" amendment in Texas which has kept a balanced budget in our State most of the time since its adoption. Except for the 10% tax reduction which went into effect automatically this year, I have opposed other tax reductions until the Federal budget is balanced.

Our national debt exceeds the total national debts of all other nations combined, and it has been my view that we should not increase this debt short of total war. Any present tax reduction or new government expense will be made or borrowed money to be repaid some day with interest by ourselves, our children or their children. That is also one of the reasons the writer voted against the recent salary increases for members of Congress. They were wholly justified, but some of us think they should come not as a part of increased deficit financing, but only after the budget is balanced. That is why Senate Democrats provided for balancing the budget as part of our future tax reduction proposal.

New Texas Appointments

Last week two more Texans were appointed to highly important posts in Washington. Dillon Anderson, who was reared in McKinney and has practiced law in Houston with Baker, Botts, Andrews and Sheppard, has become an ember of this staff of President Eisenhower. He will be Special Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs.

Weldon Jones of Farmerville, Texas, has been nominated by the President to become a member of the United States Tariff Commission. He attended Baylor and the University of Texas and has been in government service for many years, part of which was in the Philippine Islands where he served as Acting High Commissioner on several occasions.

QUAIL NEWS

By MRS. G. T. STEPHENS

March 21 official date for spring to begin, but we got one of the coldest spells of weather we have had all winter. With high winds and snow falling most of the day.

Mrs. Lois Ratliff, high school English teacher, who has been ill for the past few days, was able to be back in school Monday.

Pvt. E. P. Claude Jett left Monday morning, March 21, for Ft. Lewis, Washington. He had been here visiting with his wife and children on a 30 day leave. Pvt. Jett has been in the service since last June 15. He received his basic training at Ft. Bliss. Then he went to Ft. Lee, Petersburg, Va. for several months, before leaving here. He enlisted for six more years of service. Pvt. Jett expects to be sent to Japan in the near future.

Mrs. R. C. Owens, Tonia and Bob of Amarillo spent the week end in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Robinson.

Mrs. John Bishop is visiting in Guymon, Okla. with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mell Sammons.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Norman and family moved Saturday, March 19, to Glenrose, Texas to make their home. Mr. Norman had lived in the Quail community for about forty years and Mrs. Norman had been here most of her life. They have three children Glenn, who is in the service at present and is stationed in the Panama Canal. Two daughters Barbara and Patsy were students in the Quail school. We regret to lose this fine family who have been with us a long, but sincerely hope them the best of luck and much happiness in their new home.

Joe Jett of West Plains, Mo., visited Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Robinson and his son Claude and his family. Mr. Jett spent Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Shields.

No gasoline-no, not a single one- has higher octane than New 1955 GULF NO-NOX but octane alone is not enough...

That's why new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX is specially made to burn clean—to protect your engine—to give you thousands of extra miles of full engine power.

Fill up with new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX and feel the difference, right from the start, in full engine power that lasts! You'll get:

- More complete engine protection than with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines.
- Extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most.
- Stall-proof smoothness... instant starts... fast, fuel-saving warm-up.
- No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines.

This lamp is burning the "DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END" of gasoline which GULF refines out

This lamp is burning NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX, the clean-burning super-fuel Always remember: Octane alone is not enough. Only a gasoline that burns clean can make its full octane power really work for you mile after mile.

That's why, instead of trying to fight harmful deposits with so-called "miracle additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place; removes the cause—the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline, at the refinery, to bring you new NO-NOX.

This is GULF'S PLEDGE to the motoring public

- We at Gulf make this promise to America's motorists. We will not permit a single competitor—no, not a single one—to offer a gasoline superior to our own superb No-Nox.
- It is our sincere belief that No-Nox is the finest gasoline on the market today, and no matter what others do or say we will keep it the finest—in power, in performance, in engine protection.

• This is not a boast, not a claim. It is a pledge to you, the motoring public—a pledge backed by the resources—and the integrity—of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

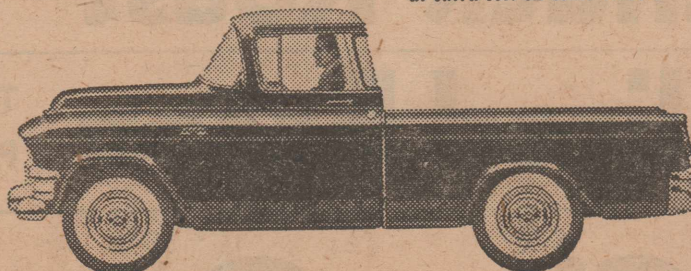

We have 'em! Blue Chip GMC's

—the new generation of trucks with over 500 improvements!

- Smart passenger-car looks and comfort!
- New V8 engines—plus 6-cylinder horsepower increases!
- Raked-back windshield gives wide-horizon visibility!
- 5 sizes of Truck Hydra-Matic* for greater operating economy!
- Sturdier frames and axles!

*Standard equipment on many models; optional at extra cost on some others.

ENDURING SYMBOL—The crowds which swarm each Easter morning to St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City have made the edifice a symbol for Christians of all denominations who commemorate the Resurrection of Christ by attendance at religious services. Begun in 1858, St. Patrick's was dedicated in 1879, although the 332-foot-high twin spires were not completed until 1886. The cathedral was built at an estimated cost of $2,500,000. Consecrated Oct. 5, 1910, St. Patrick's is the seat of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of New York.

Social Security Provisions For Aged Who Continue Work

People who continue to work after becoming eligible for old-age and survivors insurance payments will find two provisions of the 1954 amendments to the social security law of vital importance to them. Both of the new provisions are effective for 1955 and later years.

The first of these new provisions exempts beneficiaries who have attained the age of 72 from the "retirement test" in the law. This means that persons eligible for payments who are 72 or older need not retire in order to receive regular monthly social security checks.

The other new provision in the law affects those under 72 years of age. For this group the "retirement test" provision still applies; however, it has been modified.

The new law puts both wage earners and self-employed persons on the same annual basis and increases the amount that can be earned without loss of benefit payments from $900 to $1200. If the total of a person's earnings (including all wages and self-employment income whether covered or not) is $1200 or less in a year, he is entitled to 12 months benefits. One month's benefit will be withheld for each $80 (or part thereof) in excess of $1200, but no benefit will be withheld for any month in which the individual neither earned wages of more than $80 nor rendered substantial services as a self-employed person in his trade or business. For example, a beneficiary may work four months during the year at $300 a month and lose no benefits.

A representative from the Amarillo office of the Social Security Administration will be in Wellington on Tuesday, April 12, at 2:00 p. m. in the Court House.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hix of Clarksville, Georgia, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Draper of Hereford, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Neal and sons of Roswell, N. M., were guests of Mrs. E. M. Hix last week and during the weekend.

Grover Hix is a brother of the late Marion Hix. This was his first visit to Collingsworth county since 1918, and he said he could hardly believe Wellington is the same place, there have been so many improvements.

70 POUNDS MORE CALF AT 4 MONTHS

Yes, sir, when you grow Holstein calves that weigh 70 lbs. more than the average calf at 4 months, you're really ahead. Bigger calves with larger frames make bigger, more rugged heifers when they freshen. That's what they've been doing at the Purina Research Farm.

The Purina Calf Plan will help you do the same thing, too. And this plan costs you only about half the cost of raising a calf with milk and some grain. Here's how you do it.

Dry Calf Startena is kept before calf from 3rd day to 4 months old. Hay is given after 2 months old.

In addition to getting bigger, growthier calves at 4 months, this plan is easier to use, less troublesome with scours and costs less. . . far less.

Saturday, April 2 is the date of the Annual Project Show in Wellington. We invite you to see the work of the Future Farmers and Future Homemakers, and 4-H Club members.

We are glad to extend our congratulations to these boys and girls and to their teachers in preparing for better farming practices in the future.

Mrs. Levi George Likes Purina Chick Startena

Mrs. Levi George, Route 3, Belton, has 205 Crossbred chicks that have been on Purina Chick Startena Checker-Etts and are now on Purina Growena. Here's what she says, "I have had almost 100 per cent livability. These chicks are doing the best of any I ever raised. Their feathering is good and they're growing like weeds". Thanks, Mrs. George.

WHY MORE FOLKS START CHICKS ON PURINA THAN ANY OTHER FEED

It's simple. More folks start chicks on Purina than any other feed because it promotes fast growth, high livability, and good feathering. Did you know that more than 101 million chicks are started a year on Purina Chick Startena? That's a pretty good endorsement, don't you think? Why not order your chicks and enough Startena today?

HEALTH HINTS When Disease Strikes

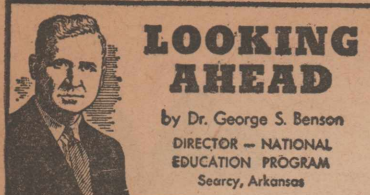

Purina Sulfa-Nox. For control of coccidiosis, typhoid, paratyphoid and fowl cholera in chicken and turkey flocks; also in control of cocci in rabbits. Chek-R-Mycin. Drinking water medication for chronic colds in chickens, Blue Comb and Hexamitiasis in turkeys, scours in pigs and calves. Keep it on the farm.

GOOD FOR OUR NATION

A nation-wide survey reported in "Look" magazine last week that American adults, in a proportion of 10 to 1, believe that big business corporations are good for the nation, and the people's welfare. This is encouraging, especially at a time when Socialist and Communist propagandists, and even some politicians in the two major parties, are attacking "big business" openly and underhandedly. The propagandists are really working to undermine our people's faith in the whole system and merely using big business as their point of attack. The politicians who join in this are practicing demagoguery.

A group of 100 small business owners attended the Harding College Small Business Management Seminar last week to discuss ways and means of improving their business management and their service to their communities. They respect so-called "big business". They recognize that there is a mutually beneficial relationship between their business enterprises and the bigger ones.

WORKING TOGETHER

The guest speaker at the small business seminar dinner was a representative of "big business", Robert W. Murphy, vice-president and general counsel of the Borg-Warner Corporation, Chicago. "It is a startling, if obvious, economic fact", he said, "that the president of the largest automotive giant could not all by himself make an automobile. He could not all by himself even make a door handle or a piston ring on an automobile—if you mean by 'all by himself' that he could go to the northlands, dig out the ore, smelt the iron, refine it, roll it into billets, transport it, put it into die castings, or some simple automotive part."

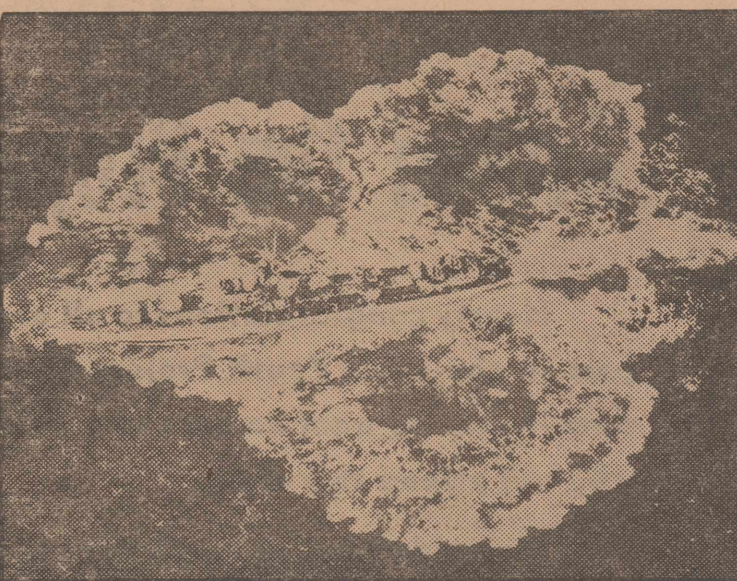

"There is no one man big enough or smart enough that he could all alone create the simplest element that goes into one of our mass-produced vehicles. It takes thousands of workers working as a team, and thousands of stockholders to furnish the capital facilities. And it takes thousands of independent concerns who provide the parts for those vehicles. THOUSANDS OF SUPPLIERS"

"When a car manufacturer tools for a new model, it must place purchase orders with 5,000 to 6,000 separate suppliers . . . When you look at the sales figures of the biggest automotive manufacturer (General Motors—sales, $2 billion annually) and see that one-half of each sales dollar goes to those suppliers who supply parts, materials and services, you realize how dependent even this biggest of the automotive mammoths is on its thousands of suppliers. And yet that company makes more of its parts than any of the big three automotive companies."

His own company, Mr. Murphy noted, is one of the biggest 100 manufacturers in America. "As

THE AIM'S THE SAME—To hit the target every time. It's just the method that differs. Crossbowmen of Gubbio, Italy, at right, have been splitting wooden pegs dead-center at 50 yards for some 500 years with darts from their cumbersome crossbows. Something less fallible than the human is needed to guide today's jet-age weapons, and TRADIC, left, is being designed to supply the need. In finished form, the intricate computer will occupy less than three cubic feet of precious space in a modern military aircraft, help crew to solve navigational and other flight problems. Utilizing tiny transistors instead of bulky vacuum tubes, TRADIC (Transistor-Digital-Computer) is being developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York City.

LUCKY ON TOPSIDE ONLY—Good luck for the destroyer, bad luck for any lurking submarine, that's what this gigantic shamrock in Mediterranean waters signifies. H.M.S. Barrosa fashioned this pattern of destruction with a new depth-charge launching device, "The Squid," which flings depth charges ahead of the attacking vessel instead of dropping them behind it.

a matter of fact", he said, "it is essentially a collection of small industries. Each is run as an independent, autonomous operating unit. Some are very small—with 20 to 25 employees. Others are larger—up to 5,000 or 6,000 employees. But they operate independently, as do small industries."

"OUR CUSTOMER"

"Although we have a large line of household appliances and other consumer items, we are essentially a supplier of parts. Big business is our customer—the big automotive, the big aircraft, the big farm equipment companies. And like every small, middle-sized or even large supplier, we are most thankful we have these big customers". Mr. Murphy pointed out the significant fact that in the last ten years the number of small firms doing business in the U. S. has increased at about the same percentage rate as the number of large companies.

The most significant finding in the Opinion Research Corporation survey reported by "Look" was the fact that although 10 of every 11 American adults feel that big business is good for the nation, they still are uninformed on important business facts. For instance, the average guess on what corporations earn in net profits was 14.1 per cent; when, actually, in 1953 the average of net profits on sales for all corporations was 3.3 per cent; and for the last 25 years the average was 3.0 per cent.

The Ta-Wan-Ka camp fire group met Monday, March 21, with Mrs. Elvis Crawley as the leader. Mrs. Crawley served refreshments. New officers were elected.

Those present were Elaine Crawley, Jennifer Singley, Gayle Peeples Janice Wood, Loyce Lee, Cheryl Estes, Andrea Carter, Elaine Yarbrough and Donna Curry.

The Monaka Camp Fire Girls met at the home of Mrs. Cecil Shanks Monday, March 28. The following girls were elected to office: president, Pat Flint; vice-president, Judy Glenn; secretary, Jolene Groves; treasurer, VaRue Sweat; Scribe, Dona Sherman.

The ceremonial to install officers was then held.

The next meeting will be Monday, April 4, at Mrs. Shanks home.
