Manson Influence Is Seen

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Pres Writer

SACRAMENTO, Calif. AP - The name of Charles Manson may dominate the case of Lynette 'Squeaky" Fromme. Although prosecutors say they find no evidence of a conspiracy in the attempted assassination of President Ford.

Manson, convicted of murder in the deaths of nine persons, is reputed by some authorities to still have a strong influence over some of his communal "family," despite the fact he is in prison.

Among the most loyal is Miss Fromme, 27, charged with attempted murder of the President after pointing a loaded .45 caliber pistol at Ford from an arm's length away as the President shook hands with well-wishers near the state Capitol on Friday.

She once said of the Manson family: "They're my life."

FBI agents who interviewed Manson, 40, in his San Quentin jail cell over the weekend say he denied any role in a conspiracy to kill Ford but refused to answer specific questions.

U.S. Atty. Dwayne Keyes and Sacramento Police Chief William Kinney both said during the weekend they had no evidence of any Manson involvement. And Miss Fromme's roommate, Sandra Good, another loyal Manson follower, said Manson had nothing to do with the incident.

FBI spokesman Tom Griffin said Manson, 40, was interviewed at San Quentin Prison by two Agents. "In one and a half hours we came up with absolutely nothing of any evidentiary value or any lead value either," he said. "We got no answers to specific questions as to the actual event or any conspiracy or plan."

In recent months, Miss Fromme and Miss Good have launched new efforts to promote Manson's philosophy. They visited newspaper offices and drafted "press releases" quoting Manson.

In July, they contacted an associated Press reporter who had covered Manson's trial. Miss Fromme said in a statement joined by Miss Good: "If Nixon's reality wearing a new Ford face continues to run the country against the law, your homes will be bloodier than the Tate-LaBianca houses and My Lai put together."

Miss Fromme, being held under $1 million bail, has not entered a plea. Her arraignment was continued until Thursday.

Miss Good, 31, insisted at a Saturday news conference that Manson did not order Miss Fromme to kill Ford. "Squeaky acted totally of her own volition," she said. "Manson didn't order her to do this. Squeaky is acting on the will of many people."

Stephen Kay, one of Manson's prosecutors, had said Friday: "The Manson girls just don't act on their own. They act at the behest of Charles Manson. I think Charles Manson had a hand in it."

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Sept. 8, the 251st day of 1975. There are 114 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1565, a Spanish expedition landed at what is now St. Augustine, Fla., and founded the first permanent European settlement in North America.

On this date:

In 1664, Peter Stuyvesant surrendered New Amsterdam to the British.

In 1760, Wisconsin came under British control after being French territory.

In 1855, the Crimean War ended.

In 1883, construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad was completed with the driving of the last spike near Garrison, Mont.

In 1934, 134 persons lost their lives in a fire aboard the luxury liner Morro Castle off the New Jersey coast.

In 1935, Sen. Huey Long, D-La., was shot at Baton Rouge. He died two days later.

Ten years ago: A number of countries, including the United States, made appeals to India and Pakistan to stop their fighting.

Five years ago: The Red Cross was named to negotiate with guerrillas holding 180 hostages aboard two hijacked airliners in Jordan.

One year ago: President Ford granted former President Richard M. Nixon an unconditional pardon for any crimes he may have committed during his term in office.

PARTIES DISAGREE ON VETO PROSPECTS

Ford Embraces GOP Plan

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford today embraced a GOP plan to extend oil price controls for 45 days as Republicans and Democrats disagreed on prospects of sustaining his promised veto of a six-month extension.

Participants in a breakfast meeting Ford held with selected Republican senators produced forecasts that the veto, due Tuesday, would be upheld by the Senate.

House Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., who took part in a bipartisan conference on energy policy later in the morning, said the House probably would override the veto.

Albert said that no matter what happens to Ford's veto, "in the long pull, we've got to work out an energy bill."

Ford would like to see a 45-day continuation of controls and the fashioning during that period of a Republican-Democratic compromise on a longer-term phaseout of oil price curbs.

"All we could do is talk about a compromise," Albert said following Ford's meeting with congressional leaders.

The House speaker said Ford also urged early action on the decontrol of the price of natural gas moving across state lines.

He said Ford discussed a move to give gas-short industries 180 days this fall and winter in which to go into unregulated state markets for natural gas to buy supplies at the going rate.

Administration officials say some industries face the threat of running out of gas supplies needed to sustain production during the winter months.

Ford and key aides, including Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, met for nearly 90 minutes with the GOP senators before going into the bipartisan conference.

The two meetings today followed one Saturday at which seven Democratic senators agreed with Ford that the best course would be enactment of a measure to phase out price controls.

GOP Sens. William V. Roth of Delaware and Lowell Weicker of Connecticut told reporters after the breakfast meeting that they were confident the Senate would vote Wednesday to uphold Ford's veto of the Democratic-sponsored six-month extension of controls. But they indicated a close vote.

Roth, chief sponsor of a bill to pare the control extension to 45 days, said he thought foes of the six-month bill could produce the 34 votes to sustain the veto in the 100-member Senate.

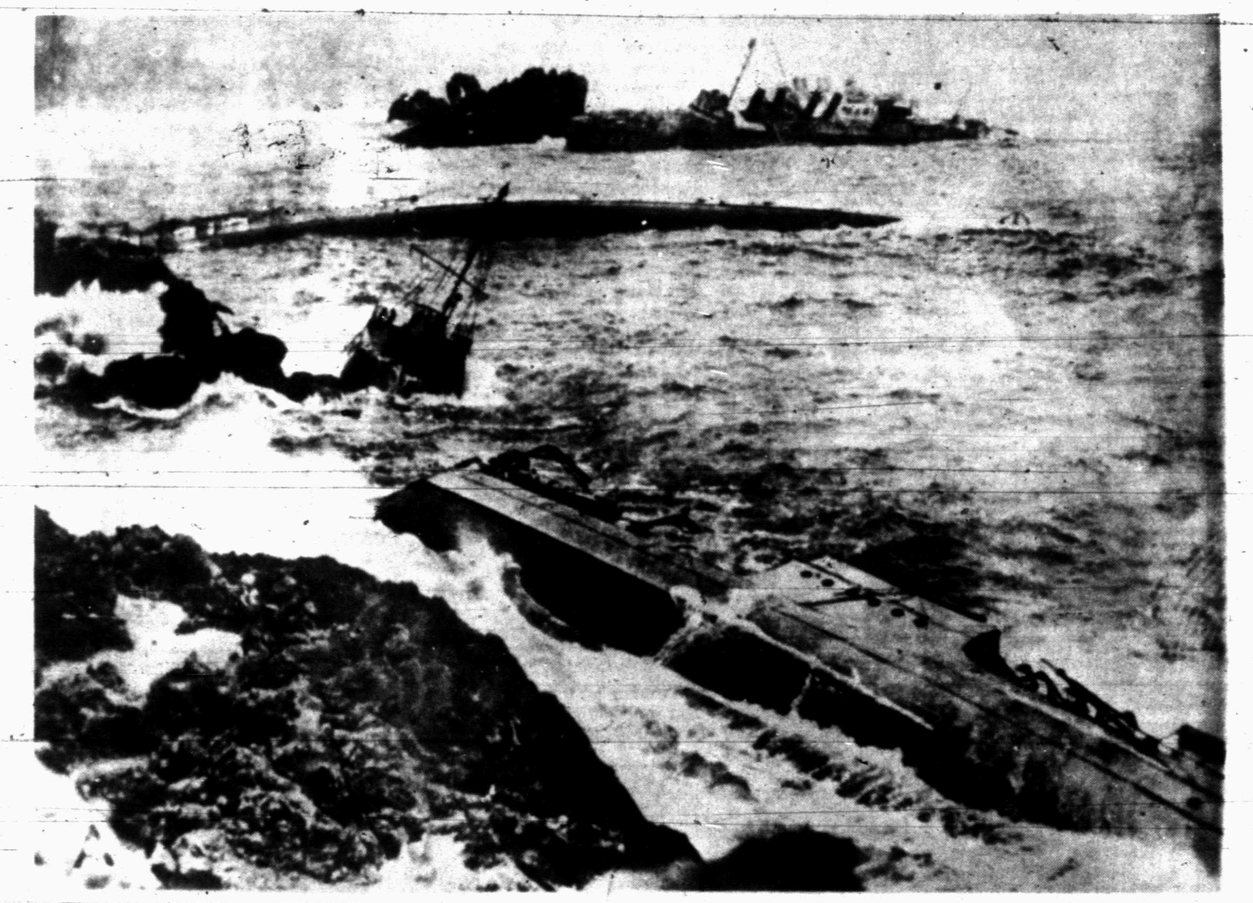

It had been assumed Ford would embrace the 45-day extension but the first formal word of that came from Roth after the breakfast meeting. The other 8 GOP senators who attended the meeting agreed to join him as co-sponsors of the measure, he said.

"I think real progress is being made," Roth told reporters.

He predicted a compromise agreement with congressional Democrats on a gradual phaseout of controls.

Ford has indicated he wants all controls lifted within 39 months, but Weicker said, "I think he is flexible."

Weicker said it was time for Congress to "talk turkey instead of playing politics," on the oil issue.

SCENE OF U.S. NAVAL DISASTER—This was the scene shortly after September 1923 showing the wrecks of four of the seven U.S. destroyers that ran aground off Honda Point, Calif., during "suicide" run from San Francisco to Los Angeles. Due to the fog and erractic compass the lead destroyer commanded by Capt. Edward Watson struck the rocks and six following destroyers piled into other rocks and ships before a warning could be sent.

GOP Convention In Kansas City

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans unanimously agreed today to hold their party's 1976 presidential convention in Kansas City beginning next Aug. 16.

The Republican National Committee approved as expected the choice of the Missouri city over Cleveland, Ohio, and four other cities that had bid for the convention.

Kansas City and Cleveland had been the finalists. The party's convention site selection committee chose Kansas City on Sunday night.

Edwin G. Middleton of Louisville, Ky., reporting for the site selection panel, said Cleveland did not have enough hotel space to accommodate the convention. He said Kansas City had agreed to make available 15,750 hotel rooms, although some of them were as far away as Topeka.

Still, some idea of the sacrifice Republicans were willing to make to get the right geographical setting is seen in the fact that some conventioneers will be quartered as far away as Topeka, Kan., and St. Joseph, Mo., both about an hour's drive from the convention site.

Cleveland had offered to bring in cruise ships and temporary modular housing to provide enough hotel space but still would have required sending some delegates to Akron, Ohio.

Housing was an unusually difficult problem for the Republicans because they will have their largest convention next year, at last count more than 2,200 delegates and an equal number of alternates.

It will be the first nominating convention for Kansas City since 1928, when the Republicans nominated Herbert Hoover.

The Republican convention is tentatively scheduled to start Aug. 16, the Democrats July 12 in New York. The party in the White House traditionally goes last.

Cleveland had the appeal of the largest city in the country with a Republican mayor, Ralph Perk, who led his city's delegation before the site committee.

General Rincon Killed

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Terrorist gunmen in a speeding car assassinated the inspector general of the Colombian army today, military authorities said.

They said Gen. Ramon Arturo Rincon Quinones was sprayed with bullets as he was being driven to the Defense Ministry in a limousine. The general's chauffeur was seriously wounded.

Rincon had conducted a strong campaign against leftist guerrillas.

On June 26, President Alfonso Lopez Michelesen extended a state of siege to the entire nation to curb rising guerrilla activity.

The state of siege was first imposed on three of the nation's 24 provinces, but extended after the leftist National Liberation Army ambushed and killed three soldiers.

Says Reagan Will Enter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former California Gov. Ronald Reagan will enter the race for the GOP presidential nomination "before Thanksgiving" and mount an aggressive challenge to President Ford in the primaries, a key supporter said today.

"As far as I'm concerned, he's a candidate and we've moved from the question of 'if,' to 'when and where,'" said Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., who heads a citizen's committee for Reagan.

Laxalt said there is "no way" the Reagan drive for the presidency would involve a conservative third party.

Boston Schools Open With Aid Of National Guard

By TERRY RYAN
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Police made over 100 arrests as U.S. Marshals backed by National Guard troops helped get the buses rolling today as a new and extensive busing program came to the nation's oldest public school system.

Police riflemen were stationed on rooftops and U.S. marshals guarded bus routes as National Guard troops stood by to help implement the court-ordered desegregation program.

At South Boston High School, police and state troopers lined the corridors and officers stood at the entrances to other schools as black pupils arrived in buses for the first day of classes under a new desegregation program.

National Guardsmen were standing by, and 100 U.S. marshals helped patrol school grounds. Police riflemen were stationed on rooftops at Charlestown High School, which is being integrated for the first time this year.

A group of about 200 whites gathered on Bunker Hill Street and burned a human in effigy with a racial ephitet printed on it while black children entered the high school one block away.

Police said a .22-caliber bullet was fired through the side of a police van in Charlestown, but the officer driving the van was not injured.

GUARDS RIDE BUSES

Classes Resume In Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Armed National Guard troops and police rode nearly empty school buses today as classes resumed in Jefferson County after four days of noisy and sometimes violent antibusing protests.

Despite the guards, attendance was reported down sharply at several schools. Many buses carrying white children to schools in the southern part of the county were nearly empty. Buses bringing black children, however, were reported nearly full.

Supt. Ernest C. Grayson said 95 buses did not make runs because drivers did not show up or else there wasn't sufficient gasoline to operate the vehicles, adding that this affected 16 per cent of the countywide fleet.

Grayson said some service stations refused to sell gasoline to bus drivers.

He added that there were reports that some drivers had been threatened. He added that normally a pool of 70 to 75 drivers would be in reserve but because of last-minute resignations and terminations, there were practically no additional people to turn to.

U.S. District Court Judge James F. Gordon on Sunday ordered the police and Guardsmen to ride the buses following four days of violence in which an estimated 200 persons have been injured and about 500 arrested.

"We attempted to be tolerant when marches threatened peaceable assemblies," said Gordon, who ordered the busing. "However, violent disregard of law and order, assault on officers, conduct calculated to frighten children, alarm their parents and threaten bus drivers made it necessary for us to abolish protest areas, forbid assembly in unlawful numbers and places and to take such further precautions as necessary for the safety of the children of this community."

Todd Hollenbach, the county's chief executive, said in a Sunday night telecast that he is abandoning a policy of restraint. He blamed the problems on the Ku Klux Klan, outsiders and "the frustrated and the drunken," and said authorities would "move swiftly with as much force as is necessary to maintain public order."

Richardson Service Set

Mrs. Bennie Richardson, 81, who lived at 3711 Ave. U died at 10:40 a.m. Sunday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Funeral services are set for 10 a.m. Tuesday at the East Side Church of Christ, with the minister, Sam Kitching, officating. Burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens under the direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

A native of Arkansas, Mrs. Richardson was married to Ernest J. Richardson on April 14, 1918, at Dunn. He preceded her in death on Nov. 27,1972. She was a member of the Church of Christ.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Nancy Peacock of Purcell, Okla.; four sons, E.J. Richardson Jr. of Roscoe George Richardson of Snyder, Eddie Richardson of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Dan F. Richardson of Kermit; and two brothers, Houston Cotton of Dunn and Loren Cotton of San Angelo.

SMALL TREMORS PANIC SURVIVORS

Quake Toll Set At 1,800

By ISMAIL KOVACI
Associated Press Writer

LICE, Turkey (AP) — Small tremors continue to panic survivors of the earthquake that devastated a section of eastern Turkey two days ago. Officials say the quake killed more than 1,800 persons, and they fear the total will rise as they hear from isolated mountain villages.

Necmettin Esenler, a municipal clerk who lost eight members of his family held out his bloody hands and tearfully said: "I dug out my two-year-old daughter Vedia from under a rock with these hands."

The stench of death filled the air at Lice, capital of the province which suffered most from the quake at noon Saturday. The town of 8,000 was reduced to rubble. Officials said the burial grounds would not be large enough for the 840 persons believed to have died in Lice.

At least 1,000 more died in surrounding villages, officials said.

Some survivors wandered around in a daze, trying to find relatives and possessions. Others fought over tents, blankets and clothing being distributed by rescue workers.

Military planes brought in 17 tons of food, blood, antibiotics and other relief supplies. Mobile hospitals and mobile kitchens were set up. About 2,000 troops worked alongside civilian rescue teams.

Premier Suleyman Demirel toured the area and pledged: "No one will be left starving or homeless."

The Turkish quake measured 6.8 on the Richter scale and struck along the Anatolian Fault, which runs in a crescent shape from Turkey's Aegean coast northeast along the Black Sea and then south into the eastern mountains. A quake along the fault in 1939 killed 30,000 people, and 2,964 died in a quake in 1966 at Varto, not far from Lice.

At midday Sunday, a relatively strong earthquake rumbled through northwestern Yugoslavia, more than 1,000 miles from the Turkish quake site, causing minor damage but no casualties, authorities in Zagreb reported.

Hostages Held In Paris Bank

PARIS (AP) — Gangsters armed with automatic weapons held seven persons hostage in a Paris bank today and demanded a $1.35 million ransom, police said. The bank is near the Invalides, which houses Napoleon's tomb.

Police gave no immediate indication of a deadline or any threat to the lives of the hostages if the ransom was not supplied. Police reinforcements and sharpshooters were posted around the bank with orders to shoot whenever possible.

Police said there were either two or three gangsters involved. They had gas masks as well as a sawed-off shotgun and pistols, they said.

22 Texans Die Violently From Assorted Causes

By The Associated Press

Texans died violently from assorted causes during the weekend.

The number reached 22 between midnight Friday and midnight Sunday, including 11 traffic fatalities, seven homicides, two drownings and two in a freak gas explosion which enveloped their car.

Among the victims were:

Rudy Taylor, 30, the driver, and Jerry Gomez, both of Kilgore, were killed Sunday night, officers said, when escaping natural gas blew up as their vehicle passed through a low spot on private property north of Kilgore. Three companions suffered critical burns—Keith Johnson, 14, of Kilgore and twins Johnny and Jerry Walker, 19, of Liberty City.

Willie Davis, 71, a pedestrian, was struck by a car and killed Sunday night as he crossed a Dallas street.

A car plunging off a Dallas overpass carried driver Walter E. Hynson, 25, to death Sunday night. The 26-foot drop sent passenger Ernest Hunter, 20, to a hospital with neck and back injuries. Two others in the car escaped with cuts and bruises.

Freddie Haynes, 41, of Robstown died Sunday when his car ran off an Interstate 10 exit near Sierra Blanca in far West Texas. Romadean Haynes, 37, of Corpus Christi suffered critical injuries.

Emma Duke, 66, and Janice Ruth Ratcliff, 15, were shot to death Sunday morning at a Donna residence in the Rio Grande Valley. A man, 32, was arrested.

Three persons were killed Sunday evening in a collision of a tractor-trailer truck rig and a pickup truck on U.S. 287 at Lelia Lake in the Texas Panhandle. They were Ed Talley and his wife Connie, both of Canyon, and Leroy Smith of Mesquite. Officers said both vehicles skidded nearly 350 feet off the highway into a barn and tree and the pickup was cut in half.

The bullet-riddled body of Paul Box, 72, a retired farmer, was found Sunday in the bedroom of his home at Melrose, about 15 miles south of Nacogdoches. Police said he was shot in the head six or seven times with a .22 caliber weapon with his hands and legs tied. They said no suspects had been found.

Robert Hillard Battles, 4, was beaten to death Sunday at his home in Houston, police reported. Investigators said he died from blows to the head, chest and abdomen. No charges were filed at once.

The body of Michael Oltmann, 18, of Tomball, was found in a roadside ditch Sunday near Houston. Officers said he was thrown from a vehicle which overturned about three hours before the body was found.

Ronald L. Phillips, 39, was shot to death Saturday night at a Houston residence, police said. Officers said the shooting followed an argument with a woman. The case was being referred to a grand jury.

Melody Ann Stahr, 8, of Spring, Tex., was killed Saturday when she was struck by a van on a beach near Galveston, where she had gone with her parents for an outing.

Officials said Terry Ray Belk, 18, of Jacksonville died Saturday of a gunshot wound in the back. A 17-year-old youth has been arrested and charged with murder, authorities said.

Oscar D. Sheffield, 30, was shot to death Saturday at his Houston apartment. Police said the shooting followed an argument with another man.

Beaumont police said Rena Marie Holts, 15, was struck before dawn Saturday and killed by a car which did not stop. Authorities said there were no witnesses.

Authorities at Coppell said a fisherman discovered the body of a 72-year-old woman Saturday afternoon in the East Fork of the Trinity River. Police said they think the woman, Lessie E. Callahan, slipped into the water and drowned.

Houston police say the body of Michael C. Bledsaw, 5, was recovered Saturday from a swimming pool at the apartment complex where the boy lived.

Jim William Reid, 44, was found stabbed to death Saturday at his apartment in Houston. Police said Reid suffered about 30 wounds on his body. They were seeking a man who witnesses said came out of Reid's apartment earlier in the day.

Lydwine de la Rochefoucauld, 21, fiancee of a French duke, was killed Friday night in a car-pedestrian accident on Mustang Island near Corpus Christi. A spokesman for the Nueces County sheriff's office said the woman and Antoine de Gramont, 24, Duc de Guiche were standing next to their parked car when it was struck by another vehicle driven by a 15-year-old boy.

New Miss America Tallest

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Tawny Elaine Godin is a perfectionist who is more critical of herself than others. She had a perfect record in college; she won the first beauty pageant she ever entered, and she's the new Miss America.

Miss Godin, a sophomore linguistics major at Skidmore College and a resident of Yonkers, N.Y., won the Miss America Pageant Saturday night before a national television audience.

Miss Ford, a 5-foot-6, 130 pound resident of Hattiesburg, Miss., was making her fifth try at the title. She said she aspires to be a model or dancer.

Miss Godin, who turns 19 next Sunday, has spent her life succeeding in most endeavors and trailblazing along the way. Even her victory here was something of a milestone—she was the first winner from New York since Bess Myerson won as Miss New York City in 1945.

At 5 foot 10½, she is the tallest Miss America ever. Miss Godin, who succeeded Shirley Cothran of Texas, was the only contestant to perform an original composition. She played "Images in Pastels," her own creation on the piano.

Miss North Carolina, Susan Lawrence, was first runnerup; followed by Miss California, Janet Jay Carr; Miss Ohio, Susan Kay Banks; and Miss Arizona, Stacey Petersen.

Miss Godin won a $15,000 scholarship, while the other contestants divided more than $50,000 in grants.

Find Body Of Child

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Rangers said today the body of an apparently murdered 3-or 4-year-old child was found Sunday in a garbage bag left in a field south of Giddings.

The Department of Public [illegible] appealed to the public for help in identifying the body.

Texas Ranger Wallace Spillar said the almost decomposed body was dumped in a field 5.4 miles south of Giddings on U.S. 77, about 125 feet behind a rest area. The discovery was made by a family that had gone to the rest area Sunday for a picnic.

Spillar said the body was dressed in boys' clothing and wrapped in a yellow, floral design sheet. The clothing included a white pull-over shirt with a red stripe, long dark blue pants and no shoes. The victim had dark brown hair.

Spillar said a DPS lab analysis showed evidence of skull injuries. The analysis showed the child could have been dead only a few days or as long as two weeks.

Roman troops in 146 B.C. destroyed Carthage and Rome then was without a rival in the western part of the Mediterranean.

Church Regular Shows He Needs It

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Syndicate, Inc.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who has got to be the world's biggest liar, cheat and hypocrite, yet who never misses a Sunday in church?

HATES HYPOCRITES

DEAR HATES: I can't think of a better place for him. A church is a hospital for sinners, not a museum for saints.

DEAR ABBY: I am one broken-hearted, 17-year-old girl. Bobby and I went together for three years and planned on getting married this Christmas when Bobby turns 18. (I am ashamed to admit it, but we had been having sex since I was 14.)

Well, last week, he slam tore my heart out when he told me that he'd been fooling around with a 15-year-old girl and got her pregnant. Now this girl's parents are on top of him to marry their daughter. They say he either has to marry her or go to jail.

Abby, please help me get my mind straight. I can't turn off my love for Bobby.

He says he will marry the girl to give her baby a name, and as soon as he can, he'll divorce her and marry me. He wants to keep on seeing me anyway because he says he still loves me, regardless. What should I do?

ALL TORN UP

DEAR TORN: If I were you, I'd forget him, dear. If Bobby could have been fooling around with another girl while planning to marry you, his "love" for you couldn't have been very sincere.

Don't see him again—ever. He spells trouble with a capital T.

DEAR ABBY: I surely do sympathize with "Smoked out," whose friend's smoking made him sick.

I had the same problem with my dad. He would always smoke cigars in the car.

One time when I was about 7, he was smoking a cigar in the car, and I said, "Dad, your cigar is making me sick."

He replied, "No, it's not."

Then I said, "Yes, it is."

He repeated, "No, it's not."

Then I threw up in the car.

He hasn't smoked cigars in the car since.

New Store Is Opened In Snyder

"The Haberdashery," Snyder's newest business, opened its doors to customers for the first time this morning at its location at 1909 Twenty-fifth Street.

The firm specializes in men's clothing. Primarily, they handle Curlee and Merit men's suits, slacks by Jaymar and Glen Oaks, shirts, ties, socks, underware and belts.

Owners of the firm are Ronnie Sutton and Danny Lunsford. Manager is Corky Northerns, former manager of the Pant Place.

Sutton is manager of Aileen's clothing manufacturing plant in Snyder. He has been in Snyder for the past three years. Sutton and his wife, Barbara, are parents of one son, Seth, 10 months.

Lunsford was born and raised in Scurry County. He is married to the former Pauline Redwine of Snyder. Northerns has been in Snyder for the past 5 years. He and his wife, the former Janice Davis, are members of the First assembly of God Church. Sutton and Lunsford are members of the First Baptist Church.

The Haberdashery will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays.

Theft Cases Under Probe

Thieves were busy in Snyder over the weekend.

Someone took a Smith and Wesson 357 magnum pistol from Timely Finance between 12:30 p.m. and 1 p.m. Saturday.

Police also are investigating the theft of about a dozen cartons of cigarettes and an undetermined amount of cheese and lunch meat from Cash Foods. The theft occurred at 10:50 p.m. Saturday while several persons were in the store.

Someone took a .12 gauge shotgun and a .22 caliber rifle from the pickup of Don Laster while it was parked at 206 Twenty-sixth Street Friday.

Circus Worker Charged In Slayings

WESLACO, Tex. (AP) — A 32-year-old circus worker from Chicago was held on $100,000 bond today, charged in the slayings of an elderly woman and a young girl.

Emma Duke, 66, and Janice Ruth Ratcliff, 15, were found shot to death early Sunday at Mrs. Duke's home in Donna in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Neighbors said they heard screams and shots about 12:45 a.m. and found the girl dead. Mrs. Duke died in a nearby Weslaco hospital.

Several hours later sheriff's officers arrested Dennis K. Wright a few miles from the scene.

Wright was charged with two counts of murder. Peace Justice Gilbert Garza set bond at $50,000 on each count.

Police Shift Quiet One Night

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (AP) — It really happened one night recently in Walnut Creek. The police reported that for the first time in months the midnight to 8 a.m. shift had no cases.

No one called in for help from the police. There were no reported family fights, drunk drivers, mental cases or any other routine occurrences that are the meat-and-potatoes of suburban police work.

Energy Leaders Begin Meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Energy leaders at the state and national level begin a two-day conference today on energy policy planning in state governments at Battelle Memorial Institute.

The idea for such an assembly was conceived at a 1974 National Governors' Conference to exchange ideas in energy conservation and avoid duplication of programs.

It is expected to attract officials from Ohio, Texas, Vermont, California, New York, New Hampshire, and Wisconsin.

Dr. Samuel J. Tuthill, special assistant to the U.S. Commerce Department's secretary for energy policy, is to present the keynote address today.

Five energy studies by the National Science Foundation, cosponsors of the meeting, will be presented in addition to an overview of Ohio's energy concepts by Robert Ryan, the governor's advisor on energy.

In addition, workshop sessions will be held dealing with such topics as how states are organized to assess and evaluate policy options; energy data and model needs; how energy policy planning impacts other state priorities and the needs of decision makers.

A statement issued by the National Governor's Conference, said the meeting was called to provide improved subnational information in the energy area.

"The consensus was that both state and federal agencies were often acting independently, so any efforts to facilitate coordination of programs would be helpful.

"It was agreed that a first step would be to determine what was going on around the country," the statement said.

"All participants (at the governors' conference) agreed that a 'state of the art' survey would be helpful as a means to minimize duplication of effort and maximize the payoff from research outlays," the statement explained.

Jury Selection Begins Tuesday

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Owen Cox said today jury selection will begin Tuesday for the trial of District Court Judge Q.P. Carrillo and his brother, Ramiro.

At a docket call this morning, Judge Cox also said the trial of Arturo Zertuche will probably be in November.

The three men are charged with conspiracy to file false income tax returns and filing false income tax returns.

Judge Carrillo's impeachment trial in the Texas Senate was postponed last week because of the federal trial.

The Texas House last month approved 10 of 11 charges of impeachment against Judge Carillo alleging acts of official misconduct.

Ramiro Carrillo is a Duval County commissioner.

Textile Indicators Signal Better Days

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite manufacturing activity being off 14.5 per cent and textile output volume down 28 per cent, indicators signal better business ahead for the U.S. textile industry in the third quarter, according to a story in Textile World magazine.

People Beware Of Deer Hunters

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The opening of the deer season is a time of danger to the hunter.

Deer hunting accounts for more casualties than any other kind of hunting, statistics show. The use of bright clothing and a wide, safe zone of fire will help keep the hunters safe, advise safety experts.

Jim: "Here is a hand from a rubber bridge game I watched recently. I was sitting in back of North and watched him study a long time before going to four spades over East's four hearts."

Oswald: "Did you ask what he was studying about?"

Jim: "I didn't have to. When North put down the dummy he said that he didn't know whether to double with his two aces or to bid four spades."

Oswald: "The double would have been a real winner. Four hearts would have been one down. Then, since four spades went down two he would have been 700 points better off, but strangely enough North does not appear to have considered the right bid."

Jim: "No, indeed. North should have passed and hoped for the best. He should have known that four spades would be doomed to defeat and while he could not be sure about four hearts, he should have been willing to try to set it undoubled."

Oswald: "Of course, he should. Those two aces were going to be worth two tricks at either hearts or spades."

Ask the Jacobys

An Alberta reader wants to know what he should bid with ♠ K 9 7 ♥ K J 2 ♦ A Q 7 6 ♣ K Q 10 after the player to his right dealt and opened three hearts.

The answer is that he should bid three notrump. No guarantee goes with this, but if partner can produce just a few cards the contract should wheel in. Of course, a business double would be nice, but in this case the double would be for takeout.

COMPANY DINNER
Stuffed Veal Breast
Potatoes Zucchini
Strawberry Sundaes

STUFFED VEAL BREAST

The way my sister Frances likes to prepare it and that guests appreciate.

½ cup butter (half sweet and half salted)
1½ cups finely chopped onion
½ cup finely chopped celery
1½ cups herb-seasoned bread stuffing (crumb type from a see-through bag)
4 to 6 pitted prunes, cut fine
5½-pound bone-in veal breast with a pocket
Sliced bacon

In a 10-inch skillet melt the butter; add onion and celery and cook gently, stirring often, until wilted. Off heat stir in the stuffing and prunes; do not add any liquid. Spoon dressing into pocket of veal. Place in roasting pan; arrange bacon over top; insert toothpicks through ends of bacon into meat to keep slices in place. Roast in a 325-degree oven until very tender — about 3 hours or to 180 degrees on a meat thermometer. Make 6 servings.

Consumer Food News

COLLEGE STATION—Canned green beans may be the main attraction at grocery stores across the state this week.

One authority says the're plentiful and have very low prices.

Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, also termed carrots one of the better vegetable values currently.

Other vegetable "reasonables" are cabbage, corn, cucumbers, and soft-'shell squash.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Fruit-counter "best" features include prunes, plums and grapes—along with bananas, cantaloupes and watermelons.

"New crop apples are a bit more plentiful, and some are offered at more attractive prices," the specialist said.

At meat departments, heavy-beef specials appear on chuck cut, round steaks, ground beef and liver—while lightweight beef specials include chops and roasts.

"Fryer chicken prices are somewhat higher, though they still compare favorably with other protein food prices—but turkey prices are tempting," Mrs. Clyatt said.

She also termed low-fat milk, yogurt and cheese prices as "non budget wrecking."

These vegetables are generally the least expensive, freshest and have the best taste.

Transplant Cures Donnie's Disease

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — "Every day is a good day that we have together," says the mother of a 5-year-old boy whose body has won a battle against a growth-stunting disease.

"We just take life a day at a time now," Barbara Todd said Sunday just before her son was baptized.

The youngster, who suffers from asphyxiating thoracic dystrophy, grew two inches and gained 22 pounds after receiving a kidney transplant from his father.

The disease caused his kidneys to fail and forced him to rely for nearly six months on a blood purification device.

Donnie's father, Robert, is a former paratrooper sergeant who served two tours of duty in Vietnam and earned six purple hearts when bullets nearly severed his left arm and riddled his stomach in combat.

The bullets missed his kidneys, but scarred them to the point that doctors once thought the organs would not be suitable for a transplant.

After months of tests, the elder Todd finally was found to be the most suitable donor and doctors conducted the twin surgery in May at Shands Teaching Hospital at the University of Florida.

Todd, now a cook in a Naples restaurant, had insurance which covered only a fraction of the medical bills and the Todds were forced to sell their home and went nearly $20,000 in debt before friends started a fund that eventually grew to more than $35,000.

Contributions poured in from all over the world after news stories depicted their plight.

Although they initially rejected the idea of a transplant on religious grounds, the Todds gradually came to accept it.

Doctors will watch the boy, now in the first grade, for at least two years. The disease has not manifested itself elsewhere in Donnie's body.

After the lad's baptism at the First Baptist Church of Naples, the Todds said they believed his recovery was part of a divine plan.

"I honestly believe that God sent us a miracle," said Donnie's father.

Pupils Get Extended Vacations

By NICK TATRO
Associated Press Writer

Teachers' strikes in 11 states extended summer vacation days for nearly a million public school pupils today as a result of contract disputes involving pay, class size and job security.

Meanwhile, New York City's 1.2 million school children found classes locked when officials of the financially strapped city met with union leaders in an attempt to avert a strike by 60,000 teachers.

National Guardsmen and police were out in force for today's operation of Boston schools after a night of antibusing violence in which demonstrators threw beer cans, rocks and bottles at authorities.

The Guard also reinforced police in Louisville, Ky., where antibusing protests resulted in 50 arrests Sunday night. More than 22,000 of the 135,000 students are to be bused under a plan to integrate predominantly black schools in that city with mostly white county schools.

Teacher strikes were scattered around the nation with 28,000 off the job in Illinois, 26,800 in Pennsylvania, 2,000 in Michigan, 800 in Wilmington, Del., 2,200 in Rhode Island, 900 in Lynn, Mass., 1,200 in New York State, 5,000 in New Jersey, 1,300 in Berkeley and San Jose, Calif., 600 in Ohio, 600 in Tacoma, Wash., 850 in Great Falls, Mont.

Here are the highlights of key disputes:

NEW YORK — One-third of the state's public school districts were beginning the new year without contracts. Union officials cited salaries, class size and job security as the key issues.

About 50,000 pupils were affected by scattered teachers strikes in New York last week. Many students attended classes taught by stand-in teachers and one dispute was settled Sunday.

New York City's 980 schools opened as teachers and officials met around the clock in session trying to draw up a new contract before the old one expires at midnight.

ILLINOIS — Chicago teachers planned to man the picket lines for a fourth day after their negotiating team turned down the school board's offer of a one-year contract extension on Sunday.

The strike by 26,708 teachers began Wednesday and has prolonged summer vacation for some 529,000 pupils.

PENNSYLVANIA — About 150,000 students are affected by strikes in 30 school systems. Most of the districts involved are small and the issues are money, fringe benefits and class sizes.

MONTANA — In Great Falls, Mont., hopes of settling the city's 2-week-old strike were crushed Sunday when talks broke off indefinitely.

The strike began Aug. 25 when teachers took to the picket lines instead of reporting for a scheduled week of orientation. The union says 852 of its 890 member teachers have honored picket lines.

DELAWARE — Police were on duty at public schools in Wilmington, Del., for the first time since teachers went out on strike Tuesday. About 1,800 teachers and teachers' aides vowed at a rally Sunday night to remain on strike despite a contempt of court and a $1,000-per-day fine.

RESENTED BY CARRIERS

Postal Service Acts To Impose Kokomo Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service is moving to impose a new mail-delivery system that is resented bitterly by the nation's 200,000 letter carriers, a union leader says.

President James H. Rademacher of the National Association of Letter Carriers said he has been informed by Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar that the Postal Service will move to implement the controversial Kokomo Plan.

Rademacher said Bailar told him that an announcement of the decision would be made at today's National Postal Forum in Washington.

The Kokomo Plan, a computerized program designed to increase the efficiency of letter carriers; "amounts to a 20 per cent speedup," Rademacher said in a interview.

Rademacher said Bailar told him that the Postal Service had decided to move from the testing stage to implementation. "Undoubtedly, the Postal Service wants to move on this nationwide," Rademacher said.

When the Postal Service began testing the program, the letter carriers union voted to strike if the plan is implemented nationally, despite a federal law prohibiting postal workers from striking.

However, a recently concluded labor agreement provided for binding arbitration before new work rules are put into practice.

Rademacher said his union would not strike while the arbitration continues. Asked whether it would srike if the arbitration ruling goes against the union, Rademacher said, "We'll cross that bridge when we come to it."

The Kokomo plan involves taking computerized measurements of the number of letters delivered, miles walked and other factors on each mailman's route. Then the routes are restructured so that each carrier would have to do equal amounts of work.

The Postal Service tested the plan first in Kokomo, Ind., and then in Portland, Ore. Union members in both cities complained about the plan, known formally as the Letter Carrier Route Evaluation System.

Rademacher said, "The plan is not working in Portland." He said that since the tests began at the Rose City Station in Portland half the carriers have asked for transfers to other stations.

Samoa, the archipelago in the South Pacific, 2,300 miles southwest of Hawaii, became a possession of the United States on Dec. 2, 1899. Western Samoa, lost by Germany in World War I, became a New Zealand mandate and achieved independence on Jan. 1, 1962.

Jackson May Be Ready For Conference Action

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

Bruised Mississippi quarterback George Plasketes was reminded as he dressed following Saturday night's 20-10 loss to the Baylor Bears that he had to come back to Texas again this week.

Plasketes shook his head and sighed "Man, if Baylor's picked fourth in the Southwest Conference and Texas A&M's supposed to runaway with it ... well, I'm not looking forward to the game."

Ole Miss journeys to College Station Saturday afternoon and it will be interesting to see if the ninth-ranked Aggies can manhandle the Rebels the way Baylor did.

Defensive back Brad Pittman, the son of the late Jim Pittman, said "Baylor's sure changed since I was around the Southwest Conference. They got after us. They're as good as I've played against.

"Especially their hitting... they never stopped. I'd have to say it's going to be some kind of game against Auburn ... even with that other quarterback."

The "Other quarterback is redshirt junior Charlie Parker, who was thrust into his first collegiate game in the second quarter after starter Mark Jackson went down with a separated shoulder.

Baylor officials announced that Jackson had a broken collarbone and probably would be lost for the season. But that was before X-Rays which revealed a separation. Bear Coach Grant Teaff hopes to have Jackson back for the start of the SWC race. Baylor also lost defensive end Allen Stone with a torn knee.

The defending SWC champions have an open date this week and Teaff says he will give Parker a cram course.

"Mark is the one player I said we couldn't lose," said Teaff. "I ought to keep my mouth shut. Parker did all we asked of him. He turned in some big plays."

Parker kept his poise with Baylor leading 14-7 and turned loose tailback Cleveland Franklin and fullback Pat McNeil on the Rebels. Franklin romped for 140 yards and one touchdown and McNeil gouged out 135 steps and a touchdown. The first time in the school's history two backs had gained over 100 yards in the same game.

"Cleve and Pat turned in some kind of running," said Teaff. "With an open date next week, we'll work hard with Charlie. He'll be allright. He's still undefeated. I'm just thankful Mark's collarbone wasn't broken."

Texas A&M Coach Emory Bellard, watching from the press box, was impressed with Parker.

"Parker had every opportunity to lose his poise but he didn't," said Bellard. "Baylor looks mighty tough—just like last year."

There was one piece of news that would have been cruel to tell Plasketes about. The No. 1 Aggie offense scored 109 points in three quarters against the No. 3 defense Saturday morning in a scrimmage.

The SWC will carry a 3-0 record into this week's intersectional menu thanks to SMU's 14-7 victory over Wake Forst and Houston's hard-earned 20-6 nod over Lamar University.

Besides the Ole Miss-A&M struggle at 4 p.m., TCU hosts Texas-Arlington Friday night, Air Force is at Arkansas, Rice is at Houston, SMU is at Florida, Colorado State is at Texas, and Florida State is at Texas Tech.

Booster Club Meets Tuesday

The Tiger Booster Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria.

A film will be shown of last week's contest with Monahans, and members will hear a scouting report on Midland Lee—this week's opponent.

Bill Sikes, club president, urged all members to attend. Anyone interested in the athletic program at Snyder High School is welcome.

Luncheon Canceled

The Ladies Golf Association noon luncheon scheduled for Tuesday has been cancelled.

A two-night basketball tournament will be held Dec. 28 and 29 in the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans.

Bama, Mo. Clash On TV Tonight

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Bear Bryant's 18th Alabama team begins another quest for college football's national championship tonight with players and coach alike tempering their initial optimism with some second thoughts.

"When they reported back for practice, that's all they talked about," says Bryant, whose 242 victories in 30 years at Maryland, Kentucky, Texas A&M and Alabama are third on the all-time list and who sends the second-ranked Crimson Tide against Missouri tonight before an expected crowd of 65,000 plus a national television audience (ABC, 9 p.m., EDT).

"But there hasn't been much talk of a national championship in the past few weeks because they've looked so bad in practice. You always have a lot of .400 hitters in February. Back in the spring, I thought we'd have a shot at it, but I'm not so sure now."

But this is a regular-season game and Bryant hardly ever loses one of those—22 in a row and 43 of the last 44. Bowl games, of course, are a different story and the Bear's recent record of post-season self-destruction stands at 0-7-1.

"I forget about those games as soon as I can," he says, "but the kids still get a lot of lip music about it. They seem more determined and they did a lot of conditioning work this summer on their own. Some guys came back 20-25 pounds lighter."

Like all card-carrying members of the coaching profession, the Bear is running scared and he might have some justifiable cause since Missouri finished 7-4 last season and tied for second in the powerful Big Eight Conference.

"Missouri scares me to death," Bryant says. "They have that 230-pound tailback Tony Galbreath, who can fly, and they have one of the finest passers in the nation in Steve Pisarkiewicz. I'm sure they will test our inexperienced secondary.

"Coach Al Onofrio has always had great defensive teams. Our offense has been so inconsistent they may manhandle us like they did that year (1968 in the Gator Bowl when Missouri won 35-10). Darn right I'm worried. This is one of the toughest opening games we've ever faced."

JV Whips Dunbar 26-0

The Snyder High School junior varsity socked Lubbock Dunbar's JV, 26-0, here Saturday afternoon.

Coach Jackie Browndsaid the Snyder lads turned in an overall sound performance.

Tailback Clay Peterson scored the first two touchdowns. He went in from 30 yards out in the first quarter and scored from 10 yards out in the second frame. Johnny Carrasco plunged for two bonus points following the second TD to give Snyder a 14-0 margin at halftime.

Several sophomores were playing with the JV, and Scott Hendricks tallied on a 20 yard run to cap a 40 yard march in the third quarter. He also scored again from 30 yards out to climax a 60 yard drive later in the period.

The closest the visitors came to scoring was in the fourth quarter when they drove to the Snyder 20.

Six Snyder Grid Teams See Action This Week

Six Snyder football teams will see action this week.

On Thursday, the 8th Grade Black team hosts Runnels of Big Spring at 5:30 p.m. while the 8th Grade Gold team visits Goliad in Big Spring at 6 p.m. The Snyder Freshmen will be in Big Spring for a 7:30 p.m. test while the Junior Varsity hosts Big Spring in Tiger Stadium at 7:30 p.m. following the 8th grade game.

Friday night, the varsity Tigers visit Midland for an 8 p.m. clash with Midland Lee.

Saturday, the Snyder Sophomores host Abilene at 1:30 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

On the area scene, Borden County opens its season at Southland, Ira visits Guthrie, and Hobbs will be at Divide in Friday night affrays. Hermleigh has an open week.

Elsewhere in District 3-AAA, Coronado will be at Dunbar Thursday night while Sweetwater is at Colorado City, Seminole visits Brownfield, Lames visits Denver City and Estacado travels to Monahans for Friday clashes. Saturday night, Lake View visits Burleson.

Orantes Is Net Champ

By KAROL STONGER
AP Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — The usually staid center court at the West Side Tennis Club took on the atmosphere of a bull ring.

Manuel Orantes, the 26-year-old left-hander from Barcelona, was the master, making defending champion Jimmy Connors see red in the ring.

The cheers rang true.

Orantes taunted Connors by playing to his two-fisted backhand, kept him at bay on the baseline, then brought him in with drop shots and set him up for the kill.

The 6-4, 6-3, 6-3 victory in the U.S. Open Championships Sunday ended Connors' chances of retaining the title and reigning with his former fiahcee, Chris Evert, who won the women's crown on Saturday.

Orantes' victory came less than 18 hours after his "miracle match" with Guillermo Vilas of Argentina. In that under-the-lights semifinal, the third-seeded Orantes came from far behind and beat the second-seeded Vilas 4-6, 1-6, 6-2, 7-5, 6-4.

"I was so excited," Orantes said Sunday of his comeback from death's door against Vilas. He felt that momentum carried him through Sunday's final.

In his first official act as champion, Orantes rushed to his wife, Virginia, and smothered her with kisses.

"She was more excited than I," he said. "She always stays calm, but after last night she was more tired than I."

The 23-year-old Connors advanced to the final Saturday afternoon with a 7-5, 7-5, 7-5 triumph over Sweden's Bjorn Borg, the No. 5 seed, breaking him in the 12th game of each set.

He then sat on the sidelines and cheered Chris to her 5-7, 6-4, 6-2 triumph over Evonne Goolagong of Australia.

The Evert-Goolagong was a baseline duel that gave Chris her first U.S. Open crown, her 84th straight match on clay and her 18th tournament triumph on the surface without a loss.

Miss Evert, at 20, now has won every major title except the Australian Open, which she says she probably will never win because she doesn't want to travel Down Under during the Christmas holidays.

Miss Evert's victory was worth $25,000. She received another $900 as a semifinalist in the women's doubles. Not counting accessories and endorsements, she has banked a record $280,927 so far this year.

Miss Goolagong, now a three-time runner-up at Forest Hills, earned $12,000, increasing her 1975 earnings to $109,109.

Orantes, No. 2 on the Grand Prix of Tennis championship points list, earned $25,000 for his victory, increasing his year's earnings to $131,406, while Connors' $12,000 as runnerup pushed his total earnings, including challenge matches, to $587,809.

Hansen Wins Car Race

BRAINERD, Minn. (AP) — Jerry Hansen of Wayzata, Minn., captured the 33-lap Trans-Am feature Sunday at the Land-O-Lakes Region Sports Club of America races at Brainerd International Speedway.

Vince Muzzin of Northville, Mich., collected the $4,100 first place check in the 15-lap Formula Ford race while Bill Brack of Toronto zipped to the 30-lap victory in Formula Atlantic Formula B competition.

Hansen drove his Corvette an average 99.143 miles per hour. He battled with Bob Tullius of Herndon, Va., until Tullis went out with a broken axle on the 12th lap.

Brack slipped past Bobby Rahal of Belleville, Ill., at an average speed of 113.45.

BIG CATCH—R.J. Nelson displays anice bass and a whopper of a catfish he and his wife, Bertha, caught in a Borden County tank. The bass weighed three pounds while the catfish weighed 11 pounds. Nelson said the catfish was the largest he ever caught and he and Mrs Nelson had to pull it in by hand because his reel was stripped.

Lions, Longview, Gainesville Lose

By The Associated Press

Bryan took the first step on the long and difficult path of maintaining a No. 1 ranking through the entire season Friday, beating Beaumont Hebert 24-13.

All but one of the teams in the preseason Associated Press Top Ten Class 4A schoolboy football poll followed Bryan's example on the first weekend. Fifth-ranked Seguin was blanked 14-0 by Killeen for the only 4A blemish.

Defending champion and top-ranked Cuero of Class 3A also won, while Brownwood, Gainesville and Longview Pine Tree were defeated.

Cameron, Class 2A kingpin, was a winner Friday but its closest competitor in the balloting, LaGrange, was beaten. Olton, Alpine and Spearman also were Top Ten losers, while No. 4 White Oak spanked 10th-ranked Quitman.

8th Grade Gold Wins

The Snyder 8th Grade Gold team edged Sweetwater, 8-6, here Saturday morning in the season opener for both teams.

The Snyder crew got its touchdown just before the first half ended on a 31-yard aerial, Randy Hodges to Danny Martinez. Zell Gaston charged over for the two bonus points.

Sweetwater also scored on a pass—12 yards out in the 3rd period.

Paul Gafford halted a Sweetwater drive with an interception.

Coach Bill Boles said the Snyder boys turned in an overall sound performance. They meet Goliad in Big Spring at 6 p.m. Thursday. At 5:30 p.m. Thursday, Runnels comes to Snyder to take on the 8th grade Black team.

Dr. Lamb

Tick fever easier to treat

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB— I would like to inquire about vaccination for Rocky Mountain Spotted (Tick) Fever. Some doctors do not keep the serum and explain that it is too expensive to keep on hand and that the shot may have serious side effects. Other doctors give the shots and recommend them. Do you think these shots are worthwhile? Ticks are very bad in this part of the country, especially in the grass and woods.

Also tell me a little about early signs to look for if my children get sick. What can be done if a child gets this fever?

DEAR READER—You are almost out of the woods this year. The disease usually strikes between the first of May and the last of September.

The reason the vaccine is not used so much any more is that it is now much easier to treat Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever than it used to be. The important thing is to suspect the disease early and start treatment early. Several antibiotics (tetracyclines and chloramphenicol) are very effective in treating the disease.

The name of the disease is a misnomer. It was first found in the United States in Montana, and for years people thought it was indigenous to the Rocky Mountain area, which proved to be false. It is found quite frequently along the Atlantic Seaboard. It affects about 300 people a year.

The disease itself starts two days to two weeks after being bitten by a tick. The illness may begin like measles. However, measles are less common in the months when Rocky Mountain Fever is most likely to occur. There may be associated pain in the bones, joints, and muscles, but that won't help make a diagnosis. By the second day the fever is commonly 40 to 40.5 degrees C (to 105 degrees F.).

In two to six days a rash develops and may progress to involve large areas of the skin. The brain may be involved with delirium and even coma. The real death-dealing complications, though, are involvement of the lungs and heart.

The fever is usually over in about two weeks, but it may take a month or two for the patient to fully recover.

The ticks transmit an organism half way between bacteria and viruses, called rickettsia. An infected tick will transmit the disease to its own offsprings. The rickettsial illness affects small mammals, including dogs.

When the tick gets on man it will innoculate him with the rickettsia. The tick cannot transmit the infection without being attached for several hours. So, if you inspect your person twice a day for ticks and remove them, you will go a long way toward protecting yourself.

Regardless of what you have read about how to burn off a tick, the only way to remove the tick is to use a pair of small forceps and grasp the tick by the head and chest. Pull gently until he releases his jaws. If you kill the tick while in place with a lighted cigarette or kerosene, the tick may expel a lot of rickettsia into the person during the death throes.

Also, you can help by keeping the family dog free of ticks with an effective collar, and you can even use clothing impregnated with tick repellents.

For information on jogging and heart disease, write to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Send 50 cents and a long, self addressed, stamped envelope and ask for The Health Letter, number 4-2, Jogging, Exertion, Sudden Death.

NYC Woes Affecting City Bonds

DALLAS (AP) — Cities around the nation may have more difficulty selling their municipal bond issues, even at higher interest rates, because of New York City's financial problems, a Dallas official prdicts.

"There's no question about it that we will have problems," said City Auditor Clark Breeding. "We are seeing a mood of depression that makes people decide they are going to stay out of the bond market for a while."

Breeding said he regrets that New York's financial woes are causing investment market tremors that extend to all municipal governments.

"They tend to think everything is going to pot," he said.

The Dallas auditor says he hopes the city's past record on bond payments can keep the interest rates from going through the roof when a municipal bond election is held here in December.

But he's says the days are over when cities like Dallas could seek bids on pending bond issuances by sending out one-page statements to investing companies.

"The people are suspicious now," Breeding said. "They are going to have to be convinced by us."

Districts Losing Battle On Neighborhood Schools

EDITORS NOTE: Recent federal court orders on desegregating Texas schools have left school administrators across the state faced with the prospect of ending neighborhood schools at the elementary level. The Associated Press surveyed administrators in big cities and small for their feelings and plans. The following report is based on that survey.

By ROB WOOD
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Many Texas school districts, from the metropolitan area of Dallas to the western plains community of Pecos, are fighting—and in most cases losing—a legal battle to preserve the neighborhood concept for elementary age pupils.

In Corpus Christi, young children are walking up to a mile to new schools this fall.

In Dallas and Midland, plans to bus pupils to new schools may mean tax increases.

In Pecos, pupils may have to ride buses several miles each day.

In the Dallas suburb of Richardson, white pupils volunteered to attend a predominantly black elementary school as administrators sought to avoid busing.

Desegregation has been affected in most high schools and junior highs, but Texas educational leaders and parents have yielded, only under court order, or the threat of court action, to busing of pupils in the first through the sixth grades.

In some instances, it is the Mexican-American community seeking more integration, and demanding that their children be considered a minority rather than be counted as whites in any white-black ratio.

Because of housing patterns, there are today scores of elementary schools in Texas that are predominantely Mexican-American or predominately Anglo. The only way to reach a racial balance is either by a change in residential habits or by the transfer of youths from their neighborhood to other schools.

Additional busing could be costly to the school district, forcing an increase in taxes, administrators say.

The Dallas school board is still wrestling with the problem of desegregation and hopes to reveal a plan sometime soon. The board has met several times behind closed doors, but sources indicate whatever proposal may be approved will add several dollars to the taxpayers' bills.

Dallas has a school enrollment of 142,034 and racial breakdown of 46.28 per cent white, 41.39 per cent black and 11.53 per cent Mexican-American.

In Pecos, a ranching town of 14,000 persons, court-ordered desegregation of the elementary schools is still pending in federal court.

If the schools are racially balanced it will mean additional busing and a possible tax increase.

Superintendent Ray Whitley said there are no racial problems in the community and that additional busing will mean a ride of two or three miles for most youngsters.

Pecos has 4,356 pupils—63 per cent Mexican-American, 35 per cent Anglo, and 2 per cent black.

Midland, with 16,400 pupils was ordered to realign its elementary school system and eliminate facilities which are either mostly black or Mexican-American.

Superintendent James Mailey said the federal court order is now back in district court, "and you could say we are in a legal limbo. We are proceeding with classes as usual and there have been no disruptions."

Mailey said Midland was "one of the first to desegregate its high schools and we believed everything was okay. We did try to maintain the neighborhood system for our elementary school youngsters, but perhaps that will all be changed now."

Thornton Hardie, attorney for the Midland school board, said, "We haven't decided what legal step to take next. We honestly believed we had the finest desegregation plan in the world. We did attempt to keep the neighborhood school system for the younger pupils, and if this is destroyed, it will require extensive busing—a very expensive thing for the taxpayers."

The Midland school district is 71 per cent Anglo, 16.5 per cent Mexican-American and 12.5 per cent black.

In 1968, school administrators closed the predominately black high school and moved the students into the two remaining facilities.

Mailey said, "This was a voluntary plan, something we did ourselves without a court order. The same situation exists in the junior high schools. It is only the elementary children now affected."

The Gulf Coast city of Corpus Christi has more than 10,000 of its 18,000 elementary children walking a mile or more from their homes to meet requirements of a computerized desegregation plan.

The pupils are in the first through the sixth grades and rather than use busing to mingle Mexican-American and Anglo, it became a matter of hiking.

The court fed all the facts and figures into a computer and let the electronic brain come up with an answer as to how to meet an acceptable integration ratio. The computer answer was that by shifting a child from one school to another within a 2-mile radius, he or she could walk and busing wouldn't be necessary. This is what was done in the school district where 55 per cent are Mexican-American, 40 per cent Anglo and 5 per cent black.

In Richardson, a suburb north of Dallas, administrators devised a plan that attracted white volunteers to a previously predominantly black elementary school. The school's curriculum was beefed up with special and advanced classes to appeal to whites.

New Ordained Women Warned Of Difficulties

By MARGARET SCHERF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four women who defied their church's hierarchy to take vows as Episcopal priests have been warned by one who preceded them: "You will suffer and you will hurt."

But, added the Rev. Alison Cheek Sunday in an ordination ceremony not recognized as valid by the bishop of Washington: "You will have joy and you will have peace."

The ordination ceremony at the Church of St. Stephen and the Incarnation attended by some 1,000 persons also was marked by protest.

The Rt. Rev. William Creighton, bishop of Washington, had issued a pastoral letter read to Episcopalian congregations Sunday asking them to boycott the ceremony.

also asked that the ordained women not be allowed to function as priests in churches of the Washington area.

And at a time in the ceremony allotted for voicing objections, two men came to the front of the church to do so. Speaking of resigned Bishop George Barrett of Rochester, N.Y., who performed the ordinations, Dr. Emile Oberholzer asserted: "This bishop is without jurisdiction over the candidats."

He added: "These ordinations will compound the difficulty of opening ordinations to women and will endanger the unity of this branch of Christ's church."

In a brief response, Bishop Barrett said those participating in the ceremony "do not take the order of the church lightly, but there are times when overriding considerations must supplant canons and rules."

Then he addressed the four women: "My sisters, do you believe that you are truly called by God and His church to this priesthood?"

"I believe I am so called," they answered in unison.

About 50 priests, more than half of them in clerical garb, joined in the traditional laying on of hands that marks initiation into the priesthood.

They included the Rev. Cheek, who was one of 11 women ordained July 29, 1974, in a Philadelphia ceremony later ruled invalid, the Rev. William A. Wendt of St. Stephen and the Incarnation Church, and the Rev. L. Peter Beebe of Oberlin, Ohio.

The Rev. Mr. Wendt and the Rev. Mr. Beebe have been brought to trial in church courts for permitting women ordained in Philadelphia to function as priests. Guilty verdicts in both cases are under appeal.

The church's House of Bishops has twice voted approval of the principle of women priests but has said the ordinations should not proceed until the General Convention has a chance to act on the question at its next meeting in September, 1976.

The four women ordained Sunday, all of whom were deacons, are the Rev. Alison Palmer, who also is director of the Office of International Labor Affairs for the State Department; the Rev. Lee McGee, a chaplain at American University in Washington; the Rev. Dr. Betty Rosenberg of Arlington, Va., a pastoral counselor; and the Rev. Diane Tickell of Anchorage, Alaska.

MISS AMERICA 1976—Tawney Elaine Godin of Saratoga Springs, New York, was named Miss America 1976 at Atlantic City Saturday night.

Bentsen, Tower Booed

DALLAS (AP) — An all-white crowd of more than 700 people jeered and booed at the voting records of U.S. Sens. Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower during a rally here Sunday to protest the possible use of busing to desegregate Dallas schools.

Texas' two senators—Tower, a Republican, and Bentsen, a Democrat—were absent from a Senate vote last week on whether to prohibit the Justice Department from spending funds to require racial busing. The measure failed 42-35.

The rally's organizers said its purpose was to organize passage of an antibusing amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Dallas is under court order to desegregate its schools and school officials are working on a plan that reportedly includes busing pupils out of their neighborhoods. A plan to have pupils in black schools watch white teachers on television was vetoes by an appeals court.

Tower, especially, seemed to stimulate an angry response when it was announced he had cancelled his plans to attend the rally at a North Dallas recreation center.

Kathy Carter, chairperson of Citizens for Neighborhood Schools, drew thunderous cheers when she said that if Senator Bentsen did not begin voting against forced busing, "We'll make him as unwelcomed in Dallas County as Teddy Bear (Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass.) is in Boston."

Bentsen is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1976.

The booing was not reserved for officials alone.

One man was booed when he said he might approve of busing if quality education and safety were insured.

Chicken Sexer Seldom Misses

PETALUMA, Calif. (AP) — Heimer Carlson of Petaluma is a chicken sexer, one of the half-dozen men and women in Sonoma County who, within seconds, separate the valuable brooders from the less desirable roosters.

After 41 years and more than 40 million chicks, Carlson can discern sex at a rate of 900 per hour with an accuracy nearing 100 per cent.

Chicken sexing evolved in this country during the Depression when it was an economic necessity to know the cockerels from the pullets. Just out of high school in 1934, Carlson was one of the first students of this Japanese imported art, training at the H and N Hatchery in Petaluma, where he now works on a contract basis.

Those were the days when Petaluma was the chicken capital of the world.

Those days are gone, yet the chicken sexer is still an important part of the poultry world because to date no one has come up with a machine as accurate and gentle.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—These days you frequently see someone wearing an expensive-looking squash blossom necklace or a heavy turquoise and silver bracelet or ring.

The upsurge of interest in buying such American Indian jewelry has been great, but unfortunately the number of persons who have any knowledge upon which to judge the value of such works is small.

Our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division lawyers noted more than a year ago that this lack of expertise in evaluating authentic, handcrafted Indian jewelry meant there was a chance for misrepresentation by unscrupulous sellers.

Now, reports from several federal agencies indicate that a number of consumers feel they have been defrauded in their purchase of turquoise and silver jewelry.

Our Consumer Protection attorneys say the best safeguard inexperienced Indian jewelry purchasers can have is to deal with a knowledgeable, reputable dealer, one who has an established place of business in case you need to contact him later about any problems.

Some such dealers buydirectly from Indian tribes who produce fine jewelry. Many belong to the Indian Arts & Crafts Association, which guarantees that merchandise will be as represented to purchasers. There are also museum shops that sell fine American Indian jewelry, as well as shops in national parks.

If high quality, craftsmanship, and resale value are important to you, or if you intend to collect Indian jewelry, you probably will want to pay more for an item handmade by American Indians, in which sterling silver and fine turquoises are used.

But if you only want a pleasing design, or a piece to wear a few years, then you may be just as happy with a machine-made item, perhaps of "Indian-inspired" design, but not necessarily made by Indians.

One thing to remember is that fine, antique handmade Indian jewelry is extremely scarce, and as a result, quite expensive. However, many Indians artisans are creating authentic new jewelry, some of it in the old designs, some in modern ones.

Experts say the fine, deep sky blue turquoises used in Indian jewelry are hard to obtain now too. The most valuable— and scarce— turquoise are Persian ones. American turquoise is lighter by nature than the Persian stones, but even fine American turquoise is becoming scarce.

Many of the dark blue turquoises found in modern Indian and "Indian-style" jewelry are lower-grade stones that have been treated with oil or wax to darken and intensify color, improve sheen, and add strength.

Treated turquoise, while inferior, should not necessarily be avoided, though. As long as treated stones are identified as such, and there is no attempt to deceive the purchaser, they can be a satisfactory answer to the shortage of high-grade turquoise.

The main thing is to find a dealer or jeweler who will be frank about a piece of American Indian jewelry. Then you can decide for yourself what you want and can afford to pay. Often only an expert can assess the details that make the difference between a magnificent example of Indian craftsmanship and merely a pretty necklace.

If you want to know more about Indian jewelry, contact the Indian Arts Craft Board in the Interior Department, Wahington D.C. If you have a consumer complaint about misrepresentation in the sale of American Indian jewelry, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division.

Temperance Group Adopts Battle Plan

GLORIETA, N.M. (AP) — The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, undaunted by ever increasing liquor sales and a dwindling membership, is renewing its drive to return the nation to prohibition.

The battle plan, adopted at the group's five-day annual convention which ends today, calls for intensifying efforts to make cities and counties dry through local option elections.

Federal prohibition "is our long-range plan, of course," Mrs. Herman Stanley, WCTU president, said in an interview.

But we know now that "only as local option sentiment grows for the dry cause, can we expect to have federal acts," she said.

The group also adopted resolutions calling for the elimination of liquor advertising on television, and for school programs to educate children "in the harmful effects of alcohol and other narcotics, including tobacco."

The WCTU preaches total abstinence from alcohol, and members sign pledges "to abstain from all distilled, fermented, and malt liquors, including wine, beer and hard cider...."

Members also pledge to "employ all proper means to discourage (its) use."

A reporter asked Mrs. Stanley if the organization's goals didn't interfere with the individual's right to drink.

"I ask them if they aren't stepping on my rights when they're driving a car down the highway (while intoxicated), and when they interfere with our performance as a community by drinking," she said.

How about the individual who drinks alone and doesn't drive?

"No man is an island," she replied. "Everything we do influences the lives of everyone else we meet."

Asked if she sincerely believed prohibition would return, Mrs. Stanley replied, "I don't know." But she said if it does return, "It won't fail again."

She said prohibition, which began in 1919 and ran until the 18th Amendment was repealed in 1933, "failed because it wasn't enforced."

Mrs. Stanley of Evanston, Ill., said next time, "people who are like-minded (abstainers) would be in charge of enforcement."

The president said the WCTU has about 250,000 members nationwide, down from an estimated high of 500,000 in 1924.

The decline in membership, she said, is due partly to a trend that began with "defense work. As more women began working outside their homes, their interests turned."

She said recently more young people were becoming interested in the organization, but they weren't in evidence at the convention, made up mostly of elderly women.

A spokesman said about 650 persons attended the conference, held at the 2,500-acre Baptist convention center here in North Central New Mexico's Sangre de Cristo Mountains.

Grain Farmers May Not Plant

WACO, Tex. (AP) — The president of the Texas Farm Bureau says farmers may decide not to plant at all this fall if they see their export market destroyed by recent actions by the government and organized labor.

The result, Carrol Chaloupka said Friday, will be less grain and higher prices for the American consumers.

Chaloupka said farmers must find overseas outlets for two-thirds of their wheat and rice and a fourth of their feed grains.

Chaloupka referred to the boycott by the International Longshoremen Association whose members have refused to load grain aboard ships bound for the Soviet Union, and to the government's curtailment of future grain sales to Russia until final crop reports are in.

"If farmers lose a part of their legitimate export markets because of actions of the federal government and labor unions," Chaloupka warned, "they will be forced to reduce planting for the next crop season."
