CITY MERGES DEPARTMENTS IN REORGANIZATION

Bandit Suspect Killed By Officers Near Childress After Attempt On Bank

ROBBERY FAILS WHEN WOMAN TELLER FAINTS

One Dead, Man Held in Jail And Two Sought After Attempt at Tell

ESCAPED IN AUTO

Former Constable Shot To Death in Attempt To Evade Capture

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Aug. 1.—One man is dead, another is in jail here and two others are expected to be arrested within a few hours as the aftermath of an attempted bank robbery at Tell, southwest of here, early today.

Noble Jordon, 26, was shot to death by Deputy Sheriff M. E. Mote of Childress six miles southwest of here shortly before noon when the officer and a companion deputy, Tom Gallion, caught up with Jordon after pursuing him from Parnell, in Hall county, for 40 minutes in an automobile.

Killed Near Home

Jordon, formerly a constable here, died with two bullets from a 30-30 rifle in his heart. He was killed a mile and a half from his home.

Mrs. Dixie Garrison, assistant cashier of the bank at Tell, foiled the robbery when the bandits took flight when she fainted. The woman opened the bank for business at 8 o'clock this morning. She was met at the door by the two bandits who apparently had been in the building all night.

The pair covered her with a gun and ordered her to turn over the bank's money. Frightened, she paid no attention to their threats and demands. She immediately turned in her tracks and fled through the entrance, screaming. Reaching her car which was parked at the curb, she fainted.

Bandits Follow

The bandit pair followed her, but jumped in her automobile and sped away as several persons responded to her screams for help.

Deputies Mote and Gallion were informed of the attempted robbery while on another search. They saw Jordon leave Parnell and gave pursuit. Jordon's car proved too fast for them to catch him in their own machine.

After keeping within sight of him for some distance in the chase through Hall county, the officers took a short cut over a road that leads into the road their man was traveling. The officers waited for him at this point and as he arrived on the scene the shooting occurred.

Withholds Statement

In a long distance telephone conversation with The Record News Monday night, Deputy Mote said that he would withhold making a statement until after an investigation had been made. He intimated, however, that Jordon resisted arrest before the shots were fired.

Deputy Mote said that the second man, whose name was not learned, was being held in the Childress county jail in connection with the robbery. He was arrested this afternoon. The officer said that the two men being sought would be arrested sometime Tuesday. Mote's version of their connection in the attempted bank robbery was that they were accomplices and had helped the bandits to make their escape.

Car Recovered

Mrs. Garrison's car, in which the robbers made their escape, was recovered a short time later in a pasture near Tell.

An investigation of the officer's shooting of the suspect is scheduled for 9 o'clock Tuesday morning in Justice R. S. Heath's court. Neither of the officers involved in the shooting was placed under arrest.

The attempt on the bank was the second in three months.

Jordon allegedly was implicated in an automobile theft ring uncovered here several months ago. At the time of his death he was under indictment at Matador for robbery in connection with charges involving theft of oil and a truck, officials said.

Bandits Stage Daylight Robbery at San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 1. (INS)—Three bandits occupying two cars forced Joseph Eng, groceryman, to pull his car into the curb, knocked him unconscious, and robbed him of $400 cash in a bold daylight robbery in the downtown district here today.

STERLING ASKS WOMEN'S HELP

'School House Campaign' Is Planned by Leaders

FORT WORTH, Aug. 1. (AP)—Sounding the note of battle Gov. Ross Sterling was cheered by leading citizens from all sections of Texas when he declared at the good government rally here this afternoon "I will start out Tuesday and cover this state as it has never been covered before."

He said the women will be in the forefront in this fight as they always are when the good name and the integrity of Texas are at stake.

"This is your battle; it's the battle of the people of Texas for good government."

Address Is Climax

The brief address of the governor was the climax of a day of oratory lauding the Sterling administration as unsurpassed in the history of the state and attacking Fergusonism for alleged highway and pardon scandals, proxy government and its impeachment record.

Plans were made to carry the fight into the smallest towns and rural communities. "A school house campaign," was the way Dan Moody phrased it.

"I have no patience with nor sympathy for Mrs. Ferguson and I say this as a southern gentleman," Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman declared.

Total gross revenues for 1931-32 were $74,675.34 compared to $96,643.66 for the previous year. A rate reduction, Hollingsworth explained, accounted for the reduced income, although volume increased.

YOUTH'S BODY REMOVED FROM LAKE WICHITA

Rites For Arthur Stewart To Wait Arrival Of Older Brother

LONG SEARCH ENDS

Body Comes to Surface 22 Hours After Boy Slips Into Water

Funeral services for Arthur Stewart, 16-year-old Wichita Falls drowning victim whose body was recovered at 12:40 o'clock Monday afternoon, will be held here Wednesday or Thursday. Definite time for the rites will be set on the arrival of Ernest Stewart, 20-year-old brother of the victim, who was located in Albuquerque, N. M., Monday.

The body of the youth was found floating near the surface at Lake Wichita almost 22 hours after he sank while fishing with two companions about 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon near the Barnett pier. Services will be in charge of Merkle Undertaking company and Dr. O. L. Powers, First Baptist church pastor, is expected to officiate. Burial will be in Riverside.

Judge O. L. Gibbs, justice of the peace, returned a coroner's verdict of "death by drowning."

The body was recovered floating on the surface of the lake, 200 yards southeast of the small island which served as the hub of the long search. The island is about 350 yards southwest of S. W. Barnett's pier. When the body was first seen it was hardly 10 feet from the point where young Stewart fell while pushing a rowboat occupied by two companions.

Body Located, Then Lost

The water is about eight feet deep at the point of recovery. Search was directed in that vicinity Monday morning by Stewart's companions, Bob and Tiel Conant, who revised their description of the location after further recovery from the shock of the accident. W. W. Kerr, Rosemont cemetery employe, located the body late Sunday night but was forced to move from the point by the approach of a large motorboat.

However, Mr. Kerr and Special Officer Jess Leverett of the M-K-T railway lines, marked the spot and Mr. Leverett directed the search

2,000 Head of Cattle Disappear From Range

RENO, Nev., Aug. 1. (AP)—A wide spread search extending over several northern and central Nevada counties was instituted today for 2,000 head of cattle that were placed on the Humboldt national forest range July 2 and have disappeared.

The cattle, owned by Abel, Courtner and F. B. Stewart, were driven to the forest range from Paradise valley and according to cattle men would have remained where they were last seen unless driven away because there is an abundance of feed and water there. Sheriffs of several counties are cooperating in the search.

Fire Destroys Frame Dwelling Early Tuesday

Fire originating in the top floor of a two-story frame dwelling at 1715 Huff wrecked the interior of the house at 12:19 o'clock Tuesday morning resulting in a loss of several hundred dollars. The structure was formerly occupied by M. M. Langan of this city but has been taken over by the Guaranty State Building and Loan company, neighbors stated.

Workmen have been employed at the house redecorating the interior and painting for the last three weeks, completing their work Monday. At 1 o'clock units of the fire department had controlled the blaze but were checking the house for direct origin of the flames.

G.O.P. Thrusts Fail To Disturb Roosevelt Calm

ALBANY, Aug. 1. (US)—The political shafts of Republican leaders left Governor Roosevelt undisturbed today as prospects increased for a united Democracy next November.

Former Chairman John J. Raskob of the national committee telephoned the executive mansion that he will visit the nominee on Friday, or possibly before then, to discuss the approaching campaign.

With Raskob and Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, solidly behind the national ticket, the job of healing the preconvention wounds, so far as Al Smith followers are concerned, will be very nearly completed.

Convinced that the Republicans are on the defensive, Governor Roosevelt will make no attempt to answer Secretary of the Treasury Mills, Senator Dickinson, or the other Hoover spokesmen who criticized his pronouncement of principles in his opening campaign speech.

The nominee will confine his political darts for President Hoover himself of the latter cares to engage him in debate.

Railroad economics occupied the attention of the nominee today. He had an extended conference with Daniel O. Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio.

Later Roosevelt discussed the shorter work week with John O'Hanlon, vice president of the New York Federation of Labor.

MISSOURI TO BALLOT TODAY

Prohibition and 'Bossism' Are Main Issues

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 1. (AP)—Prohibition and "bossism" are the leading issues in Missouri's primary election tomorrow to nominate a successor to United States Senator Harry B. Hawes, Democrat, who has announced his retirement and to name party choices for congress, governor and other state offices.

Wet and dry organizations have indorsed candidates for all major offices and have taken an unusually active part in the campaign.

With several bitter fights, chief of which is the issue of "bossism" raised in the Democratic gubernatorial contest, public interest has been raised to a high pitch and some three-fourths of a million voters, a record breaking number, are expected to participate in the election.

Among the five Democratic candidates for Hawes' senatorial post is Col. Bennett Champ Clark of St. Louis, son of the late Speaker Champ Clark.

Clark is opposed by Charles M. Hay of St. Louis, long a state dry leader and Democratic senatorial nominee in 1928; Charles M. Howell of Kansas City, former chairman of the Democratic state committee; Col. James W. Byrnes, a dripping wet from St. Louis, and Robert M. Merryman of Kansas City.

All Democratic candidates, except Hay, have announced they stand on the national platform, including repeal of the 18th amendment, while Hay, who is indorsed by the Anti-Saloon league, has announced he favors resubmission.

Henry W. Kiel, former mayor of St. Louis, Former Congressman Dewey J. Short of Galena and Robert J. Kratky, St. Louis attorney, are the principal candidates for the Republican senatorial nomination. Kiel, generally regarded as favorite, and Kratky are strongly opposed to prohibition while Short, a former dry, favors resubmission.

Other Republican senatorial aspirants are Blodgett Priest and

Crosby then was declared to have discharged his agents and for this alleged wrongful dismissal, the agents sought $80,000, based on his estimated earnings under a new contract.

Bolivia Declares Her Aim To Secure Outlet To Sea at Any Cost

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Aug. 1. (AP)—An executive request for the mobilization of all the armed forces of the nation was approved by acclamation in the chamber of deputies and senate tonight.

The mobilization approval came 48 hours after the Bolivian army attacked Fort Boqueron in the bitterly disputed Chaco jungles.

Capital Agog

The capital was a beehive of military activity. Every train from the interior brought volunteers laden with flowers and bearing medals of the Vagin of Caacupe, Paraguay's revered symbol.

Volunteers and reservists concentrated in the Puerto Sajonia suburban stadium at the seat of the national arsenal. Band music was played as they enrolled.

The marriage license bureau here reflected the war spirit. Saturday thirty couples were married and the bridegrooms prepared to rush to the front.

Thus was the tempo of the past week in Parguay's old argument with Bolivia increased by leaps and bounds.

It is Paraguay's charge that the Bolivians precipitated the latest outburst of feeling over the Chaco jungle boundary argument by attacks on Paraguayan outposts.

BOLIVIA REJECTS NEUTRAL INQUIRY

Oklahoma Recount Gives Mothersead 1-Vote Lead

PAULS VALLEY, Okla., Aug. 1. (UP)—The contested Democratic nomination for the fifth district congress seat remained more in doubt tonight after the recount of Garvin county ballots.

When F. B. Swank, incumbent and defeated by 56 votes on the basis of official tabulations of last Tuesday's run-off primary, asked for a recount of Oklahoma county ballots, O. B. Mothersead, the apparent winner, asked for a recount of Garvin county ballots.

The recount was completed under the supervision of District Judge W. G. Long late today and gave Swank a net gain of 55 votes, leaving Mothersead victory by a margin of one.

Bearded Book Salesman Riding With Ousted Vets Says Soldiers Chased Everybody Without a Prince Albert

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 1. (AP)—A bedraggled, rain-soaked group of men, some of them bonus marchers, was given a hurried passage across Indiana today and deposited beyond the Wabash river.

The group included several who disclaimed connection with the bonus marchers. They said they were caught in a roundup that followed the bonus army disorder in Washington, were placed aboard trucks leaving the capital and have been compelled by authorities to remain with the veterans.

A man with a beard and speaking with a southern accent said he was H. H. Moore, Atlanta, Ga.

"They just hustled me out of Washington," he said. "I'm not a bonus marcher. I'm a book salesman dealing in the classics." He carried a brief case filled with advertising literature.

"Everybody without a Prince Albert coat or the credentials of a senator was forced out," declared this man. "I want to go back but they keep shoving us along in trucks."

A negro in the group said his home was in Washington and that he had been in the national capital during the administration of President Roosevelt. The negro gave his name as John Stewart.

"I had worked in Washington for 30 years," he said. "I was on my way to work last week when all of a sudden some soldiers herded me into a park with some other fellows, put me on a truck and took me out of town."

The contingent included men who said they had left California, Oklahoma and Texas to join the bonus group in Washington.

FIRST TO FIRE?

Perhaps the first shot fired, the shot which helped bring the "bonus march" to its tragic climax, came from the revolver of Patrolman Miles Znamenacek, who was carrying out orders to evict them. Thrown down, pelted with bricks, Znamenacek drew his revolver, fired. He is shown here on his way to a hospital, then to headquarters to make his report.

Ritchie Opposes Bonus Colony In Maryland And Hints Legal Action

Governor Calls Plan for Camp Impracticable, Pointing Out Inadequate Water and Poor Soil

By ROBERT BARRY
Universal Service Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland declared today the construction of the bonus army's main camp near Waterbury "is totally impracticable and should not be established."

He did not say directly he would bar the establishment of the camp for which Mrs. Maude Edgell, a Catonsville widow, donated the land, but he indicated he would ascertain whether he had legal authority to do so. On that point he said:

"Whether the men can be prevented from coming into Maryland with the intention of settling here may involve legal questions. The attorney general is giving that consideration."

Land Unfitlable

Governor Ritchie outlined the difficulties incident to establishment of a veterans' settlement at the Waterbury camp to be called Camp Edgell in honor of the B. E. F.'s new "angel." He said the land was unsuited for agriculture and the water inadequate for health and sanitation with no food of "any kind."

He added:

"I do not think it is necessary, at this time, to say what action the state will take if the men undertake to settle here.

"I hope this statement, made with full sympathy for the men in what they have gone through, will be sufficient."

Waters Owns Land

Informed of Governor Ritchie's statement, Capt. Eugene F. Everett, of New Jersey, second in command at B. E. F. headquarters, declared in the absence of Commander Walter W. Waters:

"The land belongs to Walter W. Waters. He is inviting these men and women to visit him as his guests. If Maryland has any law which prevents Walter Waters from inviting anybody to be his guests, it is a most unusual law, and I don't believe Maryland has such law.

"Maryland is a state widely famed as the cradle of liberty. Furthermore, its constitution gives all American citizens the right to travel from place to place and to visit

Four Killed In German Political Riots Following Sunday Election

BERLIN, Aug. 1. (AP)—Renewed political riots, in which four persons were killed and many others injured, and a firm declaration against coalition government by Chancellor Franz Von Papen were today's aftermath of yesterday's reichstag election in which no party or group of parties succeeded in winning a majority.

Interpreting the balloting as endorsement by the people of the present administration's effort "to rid the country of party control," the chancellor said he would defy the new reichstag to oust him and his ministers.

His statement came as all Germany was waiting for Adolf Hitler, whose bid for absolute power was spurned by the voters, to decide whether he would attempt coalition or would fight the Von Papen ministry.

Political speculation was stirred by a widespread report that before the election the fiery leader of German fascism gave a pledge to President Von Hindenburg and the cabinet that he would enter a government coalition if he failed to win a majority of the reichstag seats.

The Munich Post said it had learned definitely such a pledge had been made. Despite the passionate cry of "no coalition" by some of the Nazi leaders, the paper declared, they will have to swallow the medicine against which they have been violently objecting.

Pretty Boy Floyd, Will-O-The-Wisp Oklahoma Bandit, Gives Posse Slip

SEMINOLE, Okla., Aug. 1. (UP)—Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, notorious outlaw, apparently made good another escape late today from a posse of Oklahoma peace officers.

While peace officers from all over Central Oklahoma were gathering here for a raid on a reported hideout of the elusive machine gun bandit and his aide, George Birdwell, two men were seen slipping through a cane patch.

Although officers were unable to tell whether the fugitives were the notorious suspects, accused in more than a score of bank raids, they lost enthusiasm for the chase.

Deputies, however, seized a new Dodge sedan, equipped with a short wave police radio, near Floyd's reputed rendezvous. They found a quantity of ammunition.

An emergency call for possemen was broadcast late today when Police Chief Jake Simz of Seminole learned two men, said to have been armed with submachine guns, drove up to the cottage and parked their car in a garage last night.

State criminal bureau operatives enlisted Oklahoma and Pottawatomie county officers who armed themselves with machine guns and tear gas bombs.

By the time the posse was organized, deputies reported the apparent escape of the two suspects from the house. Search of outlying houses and reported hideouts continued.

15-CENT FARE FOR TAXICABS IS APPROVED

25-Cent Rate Abandoned By Council in Adopting New Ordinance

POLICE FORCE CUT

City Abolishes Offices Of Purchasing Agent And Tax Collector

Inaugurating definitely a program of further economy in the city administration as outlined during the past few weeks, members of the city council Monday night voted to abolish the offices of city tax collector and assessor, and of city purchasing agent, as features of a reorganization which will effect a saving of $5,676 annually.

Supervision of the city's tax department is to be assumed on Aug. 15 by City Clerk W. E. McBroom in addition to the performance of his present duties, with W. R. Hyer, present head of the department, remaining in the department as first assistant.

With the abolition of the city purchasing agent's office, the duties of the post will be incorporated in the city engineer's department under the direction of F. M. Rugeley, city engineer. George Mobley, purchasing agent and building manager for the past two years, will continue to perform the duties discharged in the past, but will assume additional duties also as a member of the city engineer's office staff. One member of the engineer's present staff for outside work will be eliminated in the reorganization, it was announced. Consolidation of the purchasing and engineer's departments as outlined becomes effective immediately.

New Taxi Fares

Culmination of a long struggle with the question of taxi fares in this city also was reached Monday night in the adoption of a new amending ordinance fixing a minimum charge of 15 cents per passenger, with a 50 cent trip maximum, within the city limits for passenger carrying motor vehicles of all kinds except buses and street cars operating under franchise and on regular schedules.

Two new ordinances were passed on first readings. One provides that $12,855 be transferred from the water fund to the water bond interest fund in order to meet obligations falling due on Aug. 10. The other ordinance provides that in August of each year beginning with 1932, the council shall meet on only the first and third Mondays.

Elimination of two departmental head offices by the council Monday night was voted in pursuance of a policy of strictest economy to which that body devoted itself several weeks ago. With the voting of an added 10 per cent reduction in real estate values for taxation two weeks ago, the council committed itself to a program which admittedly required the early application of further stringent economies in the city government. The eliminations and consolidations voted Monday night were the first evolved by City Manager V. R. Smitham in compliance with an urgent request from the council as a unit for material retrenchment in expenditures.

Other Cuts Planned

Reduction of the city's scheduled program of operating costs, as adopted Monday night and as planned tentatively for the near future, is to be based upon detailed estimates of reduced revenue from taxation, discussion by the council revealed. Such further changes as may be voted at ensuing meetings, it was pointed out will be in line with recommendations which the council again requested Mr. Smitham to formulate.

Maintenance of the city organization described by Luther Hoffman before the Kiwanis club Monday as "the most efficient city administration in Texas" was stressed as a primary objective in revisions ordered by the council Monday night. Under the plan to become effective Aug. 15, Mr. Hyer will remain in direct charge of the tax collecting and assessing office in its present location. Supervision and direction of all tax matters, however, will be assigned to Mr. McBroom, who also will retain his present office on the second floor of the Memorial auditorium. Mr. McBroom has been city secretary for more than 12 years, and Mr.

Johnstown Camp Weeds Out Communists

whom they please regardless of the length of their visit.

"There is nothing in the constitution which says an American citizen must have so much money in his pocket in going from place to place. If Maryland is going to try to stop all American citizens who have not enough money to support themselves from entering the state she is assuming a herculean task, and will need an army of spies and snoopers to enforce such an edict."

Commander Rests

Waters, exhausted from days of almost continuous exertion, had retired when the Ritchie statement reached Washington. Captain Everett said he could not be disturbed and the question of whether the B. E. F. would be ordered from Johnstown to Waterbury would have to remain unanswered until morning.

Belief that Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania had been appraised of Governor Ritchie's clear intention that he did not want the veterans back in Maryland was seen in Pinchot's statement to Mayor McCloskey of Johnstown to the effect that Pennsylvania would provide trucks to carry the B. E. F. to the Ohio line but would not provide transportation for the army back to the Maryland line.

Doak Carter, camp commander at Johnstown, on hearing what Governor Ritchie had stated, said:

"We'll see about that when we're ready to move."

Here's how things stood today with the bonus army:

That Pennsylvania avenue site was not so necessary to national reconstruction after all. The president said it was. The general understanding was immediate employment was to be given on a new federal building. Acting to enforce a treasury department eviction order troops gassed the veterans out, then burned their hovels. "Billy" Hushka, Chicago veteran, was killed by a policeman.

Today, it developed no building construction is intended on that area for several months. A parkway through it is planned and even that cannot be started. A court order prohibits demolition of an undertaker's offices on the site before Sept. 1. A handfull of laborers knocked mortar off old bricks. The wrecking contractor thinks it will be December before any building construction will start.

Discovery Too Late

That discovery was too late to aid the veterans. They made a more important one. The heart of the nation went out to them. Offers of food began to come from many quarters. Help in other forms was promised. Tools to construct a new camp at Waterbury, Md., were proffered. Sanctuary was extended on four other farms in nearby Virginia and Maryland.

Senator McKellar, Democrat of Tennessee, asserting the American people are aroused so thoroughly by the manner of the eviction of the veterans that congress should not avert an inquiry, declared he would sponsor an investigation in December if congress did not meet sooner.

Funeral Curtailed

Every possible obstacle was being thrown in the way of tributes to Hushka, B. E. F. leaders who are here may attend the exercises. Others will not be permitted to enter Washington to walk behind his body as "My Country 'Tis of Thee" is played in Arlington national cemetery.

The grand jury investigation into the circumstances was started. Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford, chief of police, who protested use of federal troops, told his story. The department of justice continued its efforts to round up Communists and other subversive elements in the administration's "man hunt."

Veterans continued to carry their own fight against radical and extremists, here and in Johnstown. Communist organizations were trying to have part in Hushka's funeral. They were trying to appear as leaders and spokesmen at Johnstown. In both propaganda enterprises they were being blocked by the veterans.

Already the Waterbury site is occupied. Twenty-five veterans, two women and two children were there. Waters said he had not authorized the occupancy but they could remain.

Neighboring farmers, at first skeptical over reports of the B. E. F.'s coming, sent baskets of fruits and vegetables to the veterans today. A bag of beans and a side of pork also were donated. There was milk for the children. One of the veterans' wives had a couple of pigs.

In Washington, another baby died of malnutrition and stomach disorders. It was the second of the B. E. F. children to succumb. Arrangements for burial were arranged by private local charity. A third child is at the point of death in a hospital. Its parents are destitute.

HUNGER AND DISEASE THREATEN MARCHERS

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 1. (AP)—The specter of pestilence and disease moved tonight through the Down-at-Heel camp of the bonus expeditionary force on the outskirts of Johnstown.

Medical investigators said conditions were "bad, very bad and dangerous to the health of the campers." More than 7,000 men, women and children were encamped and others arriving hourly.

Signs of dissatisfaction and impatience reared themselves today. Complaints were made to Matthew Burke, finance officer, and R. B. Ellison, national contact officer, that some of the men had not had food for two days.

While the situation at the camp grew more serious with every passing hour, police in Johnstown were on the alert to check any spread of Communism.

Eddie McCloskey, aggressive red-headed mayor, warned that he "absolutely will not permit any meeting of 'reds'." Nevertheless, reports filtered through, a demonstration would be attempted tonight.

Mayor McCloskey asked Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania to come here and talk to the assembled horde. He said he had been told by persons "close to the governor" that he would be here within the next few days—"if possible."

Hope—and hope alone—ruled the army of tatterdemalion tonight as it surrendered to sleep on dew-covered grass and soggy ground. Most of the campers were without even a burlap bag for covering against the chill mountain air.

"Houses" made of tree branches, leaves, grass, boxes and anything the veterans could gather, rose apologetically among a few more substantial tents and bits of protection that four sticks and dirty tablecloth could provide.

Tattered shoes and swollen, shoeless feet protruded from those squalid abodes. Here and there half naked men lay like dead upon a battlefield.

In a dance pavilion—"Camp McCloskey" is a play spot with various amusements—the women and children of the B. E. F. huddled together. Babies cried for milk, but there was no milk. Other children, older but still too young to understand the picture of misery into which they had been carried, pleaded "Mommy, why can't we have something to eat?"

Piles Go Quick

No Salves—No Cutting

Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause. Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts bleed, dead. To get rid of Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1,000 patients with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money back guarantee.

HEM-ROID tablets have such a wonderful record of success in this city that Allison's Drug Store and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money refunded if it does not end your Pile misery.—Adv.

Body Of Youth Taken From Lake

in that vicinity Monday. The search which started shortly after the boy drowned continued until 2 o'clock Monday morning and was resumed at 5 o'clock.

A majority of the 40-odd men and youths dragging and wading the lake had gone to the shore at the pier for lunch when the body was seen by Earl Davis and W. A. Rogers, who reside near Barnett's pier. Four boats were in the group on the lake at the time and all joined in bringing the body to the shore. The group included Virgil Oden of Wichita Falls, Arthur McDale and Dock Nail, both of Call field, M. E. Yancey of route No. 3, Leo Kizer and W. O. Patterson.

Stepped Into Channel

It was thought the body was dislodged from the lake bottom by a heavy rope drag pulled by two motorboats and manned by several men which had plowed over the spot several times. The body was in the deep lake channel, and a theory was advanced that young Stewart stepped into the channel as he pushed the boat to obtain a start as he and his companions sought a new fishing site.

The group of searchers praised the assistance given by Mr. Barnett, E. J. Coffey of the Merkle Undertaking company and Mr. Leverett in remaining on the job until the body was located and cooperating with the work. County and city officers also assisted in the work and the board of education sent several boats to aid searchers.

Neither of the three boys could swim and the two Conant boys stood up in their boat and screamed to attract Mr. Barnett's attention when their friend disappeared. Mr. Barnett was unable to begin a search without aid and rushed the boys to town and notified officers. Drags were rushed to the lake and groups of men were organized almost at once to conduct the search.

Summer School Student

Young Stewart was employed as doorboy at the State theater. He completed a summer school course 10 days ago.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stewart, 1111, Indiana, and a brother, Ernest Stewart, survive.

Mrs. Mattie Street Claimed By Death

Mrs. Mattie Street, 76, mother of W. H. Street, 1722 Huff, died at 9 o'clock Monday night at Clyde, Texas, while visiting relatives. Mrs. Street had resided with her son here for about 20 years until a year ago. Mr. Street went to her bedside last week. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Abilene.

15-CENT TAXI FARE ADOPTED

New License System Voted By City Council

Hyer has headed the tax department for the city for several years.

A large part of the city's purchases are for maintenance, repair, and new construction work, it was pointed out, thus facilitating an assumption of the office of purchasing agent by the engineer's department. Besides his discharge of duties as building manager and purchaser, Mr. Mobley will assume heavy clerical duties in Mr. Rugeley's department.

One Policeman To Go

A reduction of one man also will be made in the city police department and the personnel of the water department reorganized, it was announced.

Under the new taxi fare ordinance, a charge of 15 cents must be made for each passenger within the corporate limits of the city, unless the vehicle be equipped with a taxi-meter, in which case the charge may be increased on a mileage basis up to a maximum of 50 cents. When more than one passenger is carried, a maximum charge of 50 cents for any trip within the city limits is imposed.

New requirements are made of operators under the ordinance adopted Monday night. Operators must file with the city clerk a schedule of rates to be charged when taxi-meters are used, showing the fare for different kinds of service. Such a schedule must be maintained until changed by the city council. A schedule of rates must be posted conspicuously in the vehicle, and a copy thereof must be on file with the chief of police.

Rates on License

A license to operate a taxi under the new ordinance will require payment of a $10 fee, and in the license the rates to be charged must be stipulated. Such rates can be changed only by the city council, and may be changed by that body at any time, even though the license may not have expired. In addition to the license, drivers of such passenger carrying vehicles must obtain chauffeur's licenses, upon which a charge of $2 was set. No person may drive for hire without first having shown requisite personal qualifications, nor without having submitted character recommendations from at least two reputable citizens. Drivers of such vehicles also will be required to pass physical examinations equivalent to those required for the commercial handling of foods, drugs, etc., and must allow the police department to take his finger-prints and photograph before he may become chauffeur of a taxi.

Licenses issued for such service will not be transferable from one person to another, but will entitle a qualified holder to transfer from one employer to another.

Passage of the new taxi ordinance followed a stormy period of more than two months in which the city maintained a vigorous prosecution of 10-cent taxi operators for violations of an earlier ordinance which fixed 25 cents as the minimum passenger fare. Dime taxis appeared in the city about Feb. 1, and soon were so numerous as to attract attention of the council. Adoption of the regulatory ordinance fixing a 25-cent minimum was a step by the council to encourage the maintenance of a permanent bus and street car service in Wichita Falls. The ordinance was passed after a month of persistent study and four public hearings. It was attacked unsuccessfully by taxi operators on two occasions in federal courts, once in the district court, and once in the county court at law.

Ordinance Approved

There were approximately 16 dime-taxis in operation here about May 1. During the past few weeks, it was estimated, there have been five or six in operation, the remaining 10 having discontinued under the city's campaign of prosecution of violators of the 25-cent minimum ordinance.

Representatives of established taxicab concerns present at the council meeting, and one prospective operator of a 15-cent taxi, expressed approval of the new ordinance.

The council voted to grant the New Ice company permission to operate an ice-vending machine between the driveway and curb in front of the company's plant at Sixth and Burnett streets for a 60-day period only.

During 1931, 5,853 persons left the United States by airplane. Fully 90 per cent went to Cuba or the West Indies.

Fire Fatal To Man And Boy

LUBBOCK, Texas, Aug. 1. (AP)—A 2-year-old boy, Donald Armstrong, and his 20-year-old uncle, J. H. Teague, are dead as the result of burns suffered in a fire which destroyed a farm house Sunday near Witharral, Hockley county.

Although burned on the hands, arms and thighs, Mrs. Allie Monte, about 22, mother of the child and sister of Teague, is expected to recover in a hospital here.

Teague died in a local hospital last night and the child this afternoon. Teague twice ran a guantlet of flames to rescue his small nephew.

The fire occurred in a house Mrs. Monte occupied on the Mace Herndon farm, 14 miles northeast of Levelland, when the woman started to pour gasoline into a gasoline stove which was still hot. The woman's clothing caught afire, and flames broke out into the house.

The child was in a high chair in the kitchen. As Mrs. Monte beat at her burning dress, Teague, who was in another part of the house, sought to get the baby out of the flaming structure.

Teague's body will be sent to Hollis, Okla., where his father, R. C. Teague, resides.

Present Times Best In History of U. S. Henry Ford Claims

DETROIT, Mich., July 31. (US)—America is only suffering from growing pains and really is on the threshold of its greatness. These times are the best in the history of the nation.

Such was the highlight of the message Henry Ford gave the world yesterday on the occasion of his 69th birthday anniversary. He said:

"These times are teaching us sobriety. People are beginning to stop worrying about 'keeping up with the Joneses.' There is some suffering in our midst but growth always is accompanied by some pain.

"Mass production was accomplished through suffering of many people. Now we must turn to the problem of controlling that mass production. That will mean changes and suffering.

"Stop looking backward for times that are dead and expect nothing from your government but government. This government is not Santa Claus. People are beginning to think again. I know of no time in my life when more people were trying to do things for one another. That is a sign of health, an indication that those who built this nation will produce the kind of thinking necessary to guide it."

Mr. Ford has no fear of a dictator here, saying America was built by people preferring to do their own thinking. He refuses to be old at 69, and claims the rocking chair for those of that age is an "obsolete institution." His recipe for keeping young is "moderation in everything."

Missouri To Ballot Today

Pearl Abernathy, a negro, both of St. Louis, and B. F. Bagell of Kansas City, who is indorsed by the Anti-Saloon league.

Missouri's 13 congressmen—12 of whom are Democrats and four Republicans—are among the 56 Democrats and 29 Republicans running for the nomination. The successful 13 from each party will be chosen from the state at large because of failure to redistrict the state when the number of congressmen was reduced by three.

As bitter as the Democratic senatorial campaign have been both party races for governor. Russell L. Dearmont, 42-year-old state senator from Cape Firardeau, a leader during the last legislature, has attacked his chief opponent, Francis M. Wilson of Platte City, the 1928 nominee, as being controlled by the Democratic political organization in Kansas City headed by T. J. Pendergast.

Wilson, who is 65, and a former state senator, has vehemently denied the charges. James L. Delk, a minister of Sullivan, and Grover Childers of Kansas City, are the other gubernatorial candidates.

Principal Republican candidates for governor are Lieut. Gov. E. H. Winter and Charles U. Becker, secretary of state for the last 12 years. Leo E. Koehler of Kansas City has also been making an active campaign on a dripping wet platform, Gov. Henry S. Caulfield is backing Winter.

WICHITA FALLS SOCIETY AND CHURCH NEWS

Baptist Literature Topic At First Church Meeting

Mrs. J. W. Nossett, leader of circle nine of the First Baptist Woman's Missionary society, was in charge of the mission study program "The Power of the Printed Page," that followed the executive board meeting at the church Monday morning. Mrs. N. H. Davis gave the opening prayer and Miss Virginia Ely a beautiful devotional with a special musical number followed by Miss Nettie Maxine Davis.

In "The Soliloquy of a Printed Page," given by Mrs. Ewing Exell, she emphasized the importance of the printed page; of the great part it plays in business, in politics, in education, social and international affairs. The fact that the printed page may give the world the facts about God's love and His plans for saving the lost, not only in the Bible, but in Sunday school literature, missionary tracts and textbooks was stressed by the speaker.

Mrs. Art Davis offered prayer that members of the society be faithful in furnishing good reading for the young people.

Mrs. Mary Virginia Barron gave a special voice number "Break Thou the Bread of Life," accompanied by Mrs. Clara Baber, and Mrs. Wiley Robertson followed with a discussion of "Printing Baptist Pages at Home and in Other Lands." She said that millions of Southern Baptist printed pages are going all over the country; these come from the foreign mission board office in Richmond, Va.; from the home board office in Atlanta; the W. M. U. headquarters in Birmingham and from the 19 state offices and the Sunday school board in Nashville. Not only has the printed page given its message to southern Baptists, but it has rendered financial aid. Due to translations, the Bible and Baptist literature may be now read in 827 languages.

Literature Abroad

In Chile last year, Mrs. Robertson said, the Baptist paper reached a circulation of 1,400. In Japan, known as the land of universal literature, more books were published last year than in any other country except Germany. The China Baptist Publishing society issues 50,000 Sunday school publications. Baptist publications have long held first place among evangelistic literature in Italy. Baptist publishing houses are furnishing Baptist literature for Mexico and many other Spanish speaking nations.

"Carriers of the Word," was the theme discussed by Mrs. Charles Borland. She said in part that there is not a greater privilege than to be carrier of a printed page in which is written the truth of eternal life. Sometimes these carriers are Bible women who go from house to house while other supporters travel in all ways to carry the word of God into the mountains, the forests and other places. Then there are missionaries who trudge the highways and byways of the earth's darkest places carrying God's word.

Names the speaker mentioned were Mr. and Mrs. Ray in Japan; Miss Alice Paulsen, who distributes tracts on the streets and in the shops and in open air services in China.

Mrs. Ralph Hines gave the closing prayer.

The social hour which followed was in charge of circle two with Mrs. Ben King leader. Bobbie Cole gave special music numbers and delicious refreshments were served to approximately 35 members. The punch bowl was a pretty feature for summer service, being a huge block of ice in which roses, ferns, zinnias and petunias were frozen.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

It doesn't pay to go back. We remember quite well when we went, after many, many years to see again the great white two-story house where our great grandfather had been a king among his own. We anticipated the curve of white washed cabins where the slaves had once happily lived and a green picture in our mind was the oak shaded yard bordered with box hedges. And not so far from the big house was the family burying ground where weeping willows drooped and where sweet smelling honeysuckle at times wreathed the graves.

But there was nothing left. The house and servant quarters were gone. The great oaks were splintered and many of them cut down; in the burying ground, a few fallen stone slabs marked the spots where graves had once been lovingly tended. Save for a few crumbling bricks, one would never have known the old mansion once stood there.

Strange how large home looks to children's eyes. It is odd that rooms which once seemed lofty become nondescript with years. Whatnots and horsehair covered furniture and marble topped bureaus that only became second rate with a decade, become treasures after 25 years. They are classed as "antiques."

And people too have the same deceptive quality. We remember quite well the daughter of our minister, who used to recite at all our church festivities. We thought her as near perfection as a living person could be and gave to our description of her that adjective "noble" which somehow made her seem great. In 15 years, she was a thin, unprepossessing, shrunken little maiden lady with an utter lack of individuality.

In the old white church where we listened with eager ears to returned missionaries telling us tales of life in far countries, and where the lines "Africa's sunny fountains," and "India's coral strands," had a magic quite indescribable, we might hear the same tales and the same songs now with no thrill whatever. Somehow when one has made a study of history and of geography, things change. Not to mention life!

Our heart is still stirred when we visit a national cemetery we visited years ago. But the dead could sleep in no more peaceful place than in that green park called Shiloh. Even the bitterness that could be felt 25 years ago is gone now. The Tennessee river sings its soft song to rebel and yankee alike and the "Bloody Pond" is just a low, lush velvet spot.

The old home we visited in our childhood has lost so much. The chesnut trees are dead; the ponds where we waded at the edges and ventured far out in barrel-centered rafts are all dry; the farmers have their own water system now. We once admired a carpet made from tow sacks dyed in brilliant squares, but when last we ventured to speak of it, we were hushed into silence.

Apples never taste the same as when we were a child; and oranges, that came at Christmas only then, are a matter-of-fact breakfast drink now. It seems that we have everything. What will our girls and boys look backward to?

Lory Memorial Conducts Royal Service Program

Mrs. L. N. McCulley gave the devotional and Mrs. Etta Baxter the opening prayer preceding the Royal Service program at Lory Memorial Baptist church Monday.

Mrs. E. E. Head was in charge of the Royal Service program and the devotional was given by Mrs. G. E. McCulley. A prayer that good might be told the world was made by Mrs. W. B. Allison.

Congregational songs were sung between the numbers given, which were as follows: "The Printed Page," Mrs. R. T. Spettle and "As We Read," Mrs. C. W. Briley.

Following the prayer that all may take good tidings to the world by Mrs. Spettle, Mrs. E. R. King had charge of the subject "Printing Baptist Pages." Sunheads were discussed as follows: "At Home," Mrs. Charles Runyon; "In Other Lands," Mrs. W. B. Allison; "Carriers of the Word," Mrs. Etta Baxter; "The Word at Work," Mrs. O. C. McWhirter.

Prayer for the victory of the word of God was given by Mrs. G. E. McCulley and after song, Mrs. Konatser gave a prayer that Southern Baptists may be faithful in stewardship of the printed page.

There were 16 members present and one visitor, Mrs. Jim Smith.

Joy Club Discusses Theme of Selfishness

Members of the Joy club of the First Methodist church held their regular Sunday evening meeting in the educational building at 6:45, with 30 members and visitors present.

Mabel Lumus was the leader of the program on "Are We Selfish." Billy Remington led the group in songs at the beginning of the program. Grace Mowery told an interesting story which very cleverly brought out the theme of selfishness. Ethel Ranbarger gave a fine talk on "How We Show Selfishness at Home and at School." The group entered in an open discussion and gave some very fine ideas, contributing generously to the program.

This club is comparatively new in the organization of the church and is especially for the intermediate aged group of people, 12 to 14. All are invited to meet each Sunday.

The senior-hi group visited with the Joy club. Miss Inez Terrell is the sponsor of the older organization.

A Summer Duty

Summer is hard on the animals that must go up and down the city streets. The horses are fewer but it seems to me that their lot is harder. The noise and speed of the trucks whizzing by their heads, the hot, hard or stick pavements, the heat and the loads seem to bear hard upon them. Drivers are more considerate than they use to be but there is much still to do to make the poor beasts as comfortable as they can be made in a city.

Water is their first need. We have not half enough fountains for thirsty horses. That ought to be a duty for the boys and girls who are in the city all summer. They might get in touch with the leaders of the animal societies and see what they can do to open fountains and keep them full and running free with clear cool water.

Dogs suffer in the heat. They ought never to run at large in the streets in hot weather. They ought to be kept at home in the shaded backyards, cool cellars, or shady corners. They must have water. They cannot drink out of the horses' fountains so there must be a basin lower set for them. The fountains that have a separate bowl for the dogs seem to work well. The scouts ought to see that there is enough water for the dogs of their district and that the animals are cared for during the heat.

Cats are worst of all. Nobody seems to consider the cat who lives on the streets. Now and then some cat lover goes out with a basket of liver and feeds them but usually nobody minds what happens to them. They sit about on the ashcans, in the alleyways, under the steps, mangy and miserable. The juniors of the animal rescue leagues ought to clean up all stray cats. They are a nuisance to the community and certainly no pleasure to themselves if looks count for anything.

It is mean, a disgrace to humanity, to turn a pet dog or cat out on the street when leaving town. The poor creature has learned to depend upon its home people for care and companionship. One ought to observe the decencies, accept the obligations a household pet imposes, and see that the creature is cared for during the vacation season. If there is no way of caring for the pet ask the society nearest you to call for it. That is better than turning the poor thing out to grieve and die.

Cats can be taken along to the country with very little trouble. When we had a cat we buttered her toes, slipped her protesting bulk into the basket and carried her off. She arrived at the end of the trip in good shape. Never very enthusiastic? At least she was there washing her face and high-tailing the family as usual.

The care of the animals for the summer is a duty that the children should shoulder. This is a call to the Boy Scouts, the Camp Fire Girls, the juniors of all leagues. Help your friends as they would help you if they could.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Occasions For Gifts Discussed By Emily Post

By EMILY POST

My first letter, today, is from a man: "Dear Mrs. Post: A member of our family has just passed away and has been cared for for 17 months by a trained nurse. She got the regular salary, of course, for her services, but I wish to give her something to show her our appreciation. If this would be proper, will you suggest something appropriate?

Answer—Almost anything personal and at the same time useful would be suitable. A watch, a clip or pin, a compactly fitted dressing case, a small folding clock, a clinical thermometer or a fountain pen are various suggestions at varying prices.

Dear Mrs. Post: What would you suggest for a little gift for our "family physician." He will not accept pay for his medical services because my father and brother were doctors but are not living. I feel that he has been visiting the sick members in our home too often to have only thanks. He is young and recently married.

Answer—Take pains to find out something that he would like to have (or something that he and his bride want for their house) and give it to him (or to them).

My Dear Mrs. Post: After an engagement has been broken, should shower gifts be returned and if so, should a note be enclosed with each gift?

Answer—Yes, to both questions. A few lines on a visiting card will do, saying, "Because of my broken engagement, I am returning your lovely shower present."

Dear Mrs. Post: A classmate of mine is announcing her engagement. I like her, but I do not call her one of my closest friends. Is it necessary that I give her an engagement present and wedding present, both?

Answer—No conventions apply to engagement presents, which are given only by occasional and intimate friends. A wedding present should be quite enough.

Members of circle two of the Lamar Avenue Baptist Woman's Missionary Union were in charge of the regular monthly Royal Service program when the group met for the day Monday. Mrs. J. O. Vinson was in charge of the congregational singing with Mrs. E. M. Testers at the piano. Mrs. A. P. Peary led the program on the topic "The Power of the Printed Page," and Mrs. R. C. Milford gave the devotional topic, "Good Tidings." A prayer that good tidings may be spread until all the world knows, was given by Mrs. S. F. Martin.

"The Soliloquy of a Printed Page," given by Mrs. H. H. Henry, stressing the publicity given to the mission work by books, pamphlets, etc., was followed by prayer by Mrs. A. A. Foster.

Mrs. R. C. Milford had the topic, "As We Read," and the devotional theme was that members of the missionary group may be successful in selecting proper reading for the young people.

Mrs. Wood had the topic, "Printing Baptist Pages" and the subheads were given as follows: "At Home," Mrs. B. L. Benton and "In Other Lands," Mrs. F. Y. Ponder, who discussed South America, Japan, Italy and El Paso. Mrs. Ponder also discussed "Carriers of the Word."

The Word at Work

The parable of the printed page was given by Mrs. J. L. Webb, which was followed by a beautiful Scripture reading by Mrs. R. C. Milford. Mrs. H. H. Henry read a letter from Mrs. Blanch Groves and Mrs. E. F. Moore gave a splendid reading, "Fly, Oh Printed Page." Mrs. G. A. McWhirter gave a review on the book of Philemon and Mrs. J. M. Tanner closed the morning meeting with prayer.

Large Attendance

Luncheon was served to more than 100 members, children and visitors by members of circle three at table prettily decorated with summer flowers.

A short business meeting followed, with the president, Mrs. J. M. Tanner, presiding. This was opened with song and a prayer by Mrs. V. M. Tillerson. Mrs. Francis, of Simmons college, gave the devotional and offered prayer.

Mrs. S. F. Martin, young people's leader and sponsor, gave a splendid report of their work and circle chairmen gave unusually interesting reports.

Mrs. H. D. Biles gave the assignments for personal service for the month of August and the committee appointed to select new officers for the coming year included Rev. and Mrs. S. F. Martin, Mesdames E. L. Kemmerly, V. M. Tillerson and L. R. Hall.

It was announced that the church school of missions will begin Aug. 15 at Lamar Avenue Baptist church. All parents were urged to attend the program Tuesday evening at 7:30 which will be given by the Junior G. A. and R. A.

New England Industrial Leaders Ask National Parley On Five-Day Week

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. (AP)—The national government was asked today to call a conference of governors and industrial and labor leaders to spread adoption of the shorter work day and week.

Governor Winant of New Hampshire and a committee of New Englanders discussed this means of creating new jobs with Secretaries Lamont and Doak and tonight went to the White House where their plan was laid before President Hoover.

The president and the cabinet officers were presented with printed copies of the New Hampshire plan evolved at a conference in Boston two weeks ago. It is a flexible project, giving industry its choice of the five-day week, shorter work days, or any other program found suitable.

Governor Winant, who believes that 3,000,000 men could be put back to work, suggested to Lamont and Doak that the plan be used as a basis for discussion at a national conference of business and labor leaders and governors which he hopes will be convened as the result of his Washington visit.

President Hoover has interested himself in the five-day week plan and included it in his nine-point program for national economic rehabilitation made public over the week-end.

Following a three-hour conference at the commerce department, Secretary Lamont said the visitors had merely outlined the New Hampshire plan and declined to state his attitude toward it or the proposed meeting of business leaders.

He and Secretary Doak at the direction of Mr. Hoover have been making a survey of shorter hours of employment. Lamont had on his desk one which covered 8,551 companies. Undoubtedly this will be studied by the president later.

The New Hampshire proposal contemplates contributions from those employed, including wage earners, executives and stockholders to make possible the shorter hours. There would be no increase in business costs and no expansion of production or equipment.

PIONEER OF NOCONA DIES

W. B. Lewis, Early Rancher, Succumbs Suddenly

NOCONA, Texas, Aug. 1.—W. B. Lewis, 73, pioneer ranchman, died suddenly at his home here early this afternoon. Death was believed to have been caused by heart failure.

The aged cattleman had eaten his lunch and was taking a nap when he died.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mr. Lewis began a cattle business here about 45 years ago with C. E. Quillin of Nocona. They operated in the Indian territory under the firm name of Quillin & Lewis until about 25 years ago when the partnership was dissolved. Lewis was among the most widely known cattlemen in this section of the state.

He is survived by his wife, a son, James Lewis, and a daughter, Mrs. Anna Burton Elkins.

Gore Urges Farm Board Hold Cotton for Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (UE)—The "bone-breaking" policy of withholding its cotton from the market until Aug 1, 1933, was urged upon the federal farm board by Senator Gore, Democrat of Oklahoma today.

After that date, sales should be limited to 2,000 bales a day, he said in a letter to Chairman James C. Stone. Admitting the carrying charges would be heavy, he added:

"It would indeed be a bone breaking policy, but it would break fewer bones and cause less losses, on the whole, than our farmers will suffer upon the current crop alone if dumping or distress selling be pursued as a continuing policy."

NO MORE BACKACHES

LIKE so many other women—perhaps like yourself—Mrs. Burroughs used to suffer with severe backaches every month. Then she tried Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Shortly afterwards she wrote to us, "I believe it to be the best medicine I ever used. I sleep well, my nerves are better, my appetite is improved and I am getting stronger all the time."

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The political world, both domestic and international, has had many glimpses of Senator William E. Borah in action. He is a many-sided man.

WILLIAM E. BORAH

Yet it was a somehow different Borah who sent out over the air that demand for a new deal in world economics that not only stirred every European foreign office; but must have caused grave ponderings in the election war councils of President Hoover and Governor Roosevelt.

For the Borah of that address turned on oratorical resources not usually associated with him. He has long been among the most effective senatorial speakers in debate.

Yet there he has always relied, as in his campaign addresses of the past, upon logical argument and factual presentation.

The Bystander cannot recall such a speech by the Idaho senator embroidered as was his radio address with poetical trimmings.

A New 'Borahism'

This new "Borahism" is filled with strong emotional appeal throughout. Take such phrases as that he used in voicing his contemptuous declaration against "experts" when he said they had been "detrimental to every conference they have dominated":

"They (the experts) would sterilize the humanitarian impulses of angels."

Or again, in the same connection, the senator's declaration that the problems to be solved have passed beyond "the refined theories of experts" and "call for the breadth, the vision, the courage and the humanitarianism of Lausanne."

And these are only samples of an emotional quality to that speech rare with Borah.

As For the Others

It so happened that Governor Roosevelt about the time Borah spoke was pondering the international economic situation in conference at his Hyde Park home with Owen D. Young, framer of the Young plan.

Nothing was told of that conference, yet it is reasonable to assume that every subject Borah discussed was touched upon in one way or another as the governor laid the groundwork of a speech of his own.

President Hoover, presumably, was thinking much of his own forthcoming acceptance speech when the text of the Borah address came under his eye. To what extent the furor of comment aroused by the Borah reference to that tabooed matter, the war debts, may influence the way in which Mr. Hoover discusses the international aspects of depression economics it would be hard to estimate.

Decidedly, however, the Idaho lone wolf, aloof as yet from both presidential camps, his part in the coming campaign still undisclosed, has thrown a challenge to both nominees.

"If leaders fail, the people point the way," he said.

Cotton Prospects Better In Area Around Sunset

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Aug. 1.—At the first of August the prospect for a cotton crop here is much better than it was at the first of July, according to reports from several communities in this area. Too much rain in June retarded the growth of cotton, prevented sufficient cultivation and was favorable to boll weevil menace. But dry, hot weather in July assisted farmers with the cultivation of their cotton and has considerably checked the weevil damage. Weevils prevented cotton from blooming very much during the first part of July but it is blooming now and making a crop of bolls. If favorable weather continues the yield will be much larger than the producers expected at this time last month.

Jeanette MacDonald To Visit Paris Next Month

CHICAGO, Aug. 1. (INS)—Jeanette MacDonald, Maurice Chevalier's leading lady in recent films, is going to Paris next month—but her voyage will not be a romantic one, she said here today.

Discussing reports linking her name with that of the French actor, who has sued his wife for divorce, Miss MacDonald said:

"I am not in love with him. I have been engaged to Robert Ritchie, a Los Angeles business man, for over a year. Our marriage will not take place, however, until I finish several pictures for which I am under contract."

Miss MacDonald was en route to Hollywood after visiting a sister who underwent an operation in Philadelphia.

ERROR

Through error it was recently reported in The Times that Dave Harris, Archer county candidate for state representative, 110th district, received 1,135 votes in the primary of July 23. Mr. Harris' vote totalled 1,433.

FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

LUFKIN, Texas, Aug. 1. (AP)—Bert Crittenton Nelson, 21, assistant timekeeper for a lumber company, was found shot to death in bed today. A shotgun lay at his feet. A charge from it had penetrated his chest.

Now Ireland is about to start a tariff war with England. Some of De Valera's kinsmen over here could give him a few facts about how often a tariff war backfires.

It Is Rumored

THOSE who maintain that there is more freshness and vigor of thought in the Democratic ranks today than in the beleaguered Republican hosts need only point to the announcements of presidential nomination for excellent support in their argument.

It would be hard to prove that any of the speeches made in the national conventions or with reference to their actions possess any great importance. But if any oratory of the entire 1932 season can classify as wholly useless, uncalled for, and without any place whatever in the scheme of significant events, it will be that used in Washington on Aug. 11 for the president's "official notification" of renomination.

One of the features of the approaching ceremony which calls for an unusual degree of tolerance—or gullibility—is the implication that it has anything to do with notification. Unless the president has been imprisoned, like a Texas frog, in some sealed cornerstone, it's a safe bet that he has heard persistent rumors of his renomination. The reverberating oratory which will flow from Constitution hall would be less fictional if it were styled frankly and truthfully as the opening bombardment by campaign guns.

A century ago there were material reasons for holding an announcement party five or six weeks after the candidate has been selected. Since large cities were few, and many present-day social restrictions were unknown, conventions got less advance play and turned out to be less of a political revue than modern ones. The candidate might have overlooked the convention. Or, if he had been down to the far corner of the farm to look over the spring crops, he might have been out of touch with national matters for a month or so. But this didn't happen to Mr. Hoover, in 1932. Evidence of convincing quality could be assembled to show that he neither overlooked the Chicago parade nor lost himself in boosting along the spring crops. These facts support the suspicion that the president will be sorely put to it to reflect that surprise which should accompany such events when Representative Bertrand Snell from New York springs the news of Mr. Hoover's nomination.

Sincere interest followed Governor Roosevelt's hop to Chicago to accept the Democratic nomination within a few hours after it became a certainty. Without some occasion for an "announcement," this Aug. 11 ceremony is in grave danger of being a flat party. We suspect that the public generally, including radio listeners, may be mean enough to feign no surprise at all in Mr. Snell's revelations.

Robert Driscoll's Night in the Woods.

WHEN a boy gets to be 8 years old, he usually feels that the tales which delight younger children are pretty empty and foolish. And if he has to listen to too many of them he's apt to bust loose and do something about it.

Recent New York papers had a delightfully appealing little "human interest" story about what one 80-year-old did in such circumstances. He was Robert Driscoll, an Ohio lad who was staying with his mother at a summer cottage near Madison, Conn. Near the cottage was an extensive forest, and Robert had put in several days listening to the younger children tell about the bears, wolves, kidnapers, witches and hobgoblins that infested that stretch of woodland.

At last Robert couldn't stand it any longer. So, without saying anything to any one, he wandered off into the woods to see for himself if all of these marvels really existed.

Night came and Robert didn't come home. So, pretty soon, the state police went out to look for him. A volunteer posse of summer residents joined them. Bloodhounds were put on the trail. Boy Scouts were called out to help. All night the search went on without result.

Shortly after dawn, however, the state police found Robert. He was sitting peacefully on a bed of moss by the riverside. He had slept there all night, he was not in the least worried or uncomfortable, and he couldn't understand what the fuss was all about.

"Camping out," he said, "is fun, and all that stuff about witches and wolves is bunk. There's nothing to be afraid of."

There could hardly be a better illustration of the adventurous spirit of young boyhood. A child of eight or thereabouts is in a very strange world which is full of mysteries, and the only way he can be sure about things is to look into them for himself.

Sometimes this leads him deep into the woods, and sometimes it leads him to take the living room clock to pieces; sometimes it results in serious trouble and sometimes it all ends happily, as it did in this case. And who can read this little story without feeling an honest surge of comradeship for 8-year-old Robert Driscoll?

The Tragedy of Typhoid Mary

TO MOST of us, "Typhoid Mary" is just a name out of medical history. It was a little bit surprising, the other day, to read that the woman on whom a generation of medicos have fastened that name is still alive, an inmate of a cottage on North Brother island, New York City.

Typhoid Mary has been there more than 17 years. She is in perfect health and she has committed no crime, but she is under detention and she probably will be to the end of her days.

She works in the laboratories of a city hospital on the island, takes all her meals by herself in her little cottage, and while she is not strictly a prisoner she is never allowed to get very far from the watchful eye of the city health department. Now and then she is permitted to go into the city for an afternoon, but she always returns in the evening.

There is something unspeakably tragic about this woman's case. Mary Mallon— that is her real name—has the misfortune to carry the germs of typhoid fever in her system, and although she has never had the disease herself at least 57 cases of it, several of them fatal, have been traced to her.

To permit her to have her liberty would be to loose a certain, devastating source of infection upon every one with whom she came in contact. So she must life in a cottage on an island off Manhattan, a virtual prisoner, cut off from the freedom that makes life worth living. Was there ever a woman much more unfortunate?

This case, somehow, seems to symbolize the way in which the modern world has erected restrictions on individual liberty for the sake of the common good. Mary Mallon is the victim, not of wilful injustice, but of the new order of society which must, now and then, sacrifice one for the sake of many.

Dear Mr. Gable: You have made a hit
With what they wrongly call the weaker sex;
When you appear I'm willing to admit—
They're wrecks.

Your cave man tactics never fail to draw
The female of the species, it is true;
The picture may be absolutely raw,
It's true.

I give you credit for the way you toil,
I wouldn't underestimate your fame;
Nor would I, if I had the power, spoil
Your game.

But just one thing is driving me to tears—
Your ears. —Van H. Eshelman.

Obituary

It seemed to us that none of the mourners for Ziegfeld explained what Flo really did for the tired business man. This joke, which was inspired by one of his shows, however, tells more than all the flowery obituaries.

Moe and Sam were witnessing their first "Follies" from front row seats. As the various Oh-my-Goddesses came on, revealing an undraped thigh or hip, Moe uttered: "Phooey! Pheh! Again, phooey!"

"Fur gott sakes, Moe," ejaculated the embarrassed Sam, "on such guddjess goils you are making phooey?"

"Dun't be silleh," snapped Moe, "I vuss tinking of my vife!"

Oop!

We thought the actor-heckler had passed in New York. But one of them popped up again at a girlesk show last night. A comic was chirping: "A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse!" when the heckler heckled: "Will a jack-ass do?"

"Yeh!" snapped the actor, "come on up!"

Incidentally

Up in Montreal, where Miss Guinan and her cuties are delighting the natives, the wags have their moments.

The famed hostess was delivering her usual routine when introducing her undraped dolls to the patrons. "Now give this fit-tul gir-rul a great big hand," said Texas, "she once won a beauty contest and got a blue ribbon!"

"Well," flipped a clown, "why don't she wear it?"

Add Sillies

I. Hoffman relays this one: A contrib from "Genius" Sarazen, who with several enthusiasts was enjoying a round of golf. Darkness was falling, and one of the players had to send his caddy ahead to shout the direction of the green.

Out of the blackness in front came a voice. "Do you see the moon?"

"Yes, why?" cried the golfer.

"Well," yelled the caddy, "that's the direction—but not so far!"

One good feature of these animal roars on the various theater marquees is that they drown out the groans of the idle actors.

Imagine

Jim Conway of Chicago says that the recent quip about the Joosh store-owner who was dozing on a box behind the counter when a customer came in, and said: "What's-a-matter, you couldn't come in when I'm standing?" has its sequel. It's the one about the dry goods storekeeper, who disliked having his Saturday night pinochle game interrupted.

So when the bell over the door would tingle to inform him that a customer had arrived, he would shis his friends and chirp: "Be quiet; maybe he'll go away."

Hehehah

Paul Whiteman says it really happened to him recently when he and his crew played a benefit at a home for the feeble-minded. During the intermission Paul took a stroll about the grounds. A lunatic came up and started gabbing. "By the way," asked the dippy one, "what's your name?"

"Paul Whiteman," said Paul.

"Oh, yeah?" was the shapper, "they'll soon beat that out of you here."

Form of Criticism

Paul Sweinhart, the theatrical editor, says he overheard this gab between two veteran vaudevillians in front of the Palace, where the policy has been switched frequently to "bring back business."

"No wonder the Palace has had trouble," said the first, "one week they play radio stars, another week Floyd Gibbons, who is a newspaper man, and they've even tried columnists."

"What's the point?" asked the listener.

"I was just wondering," was the retort, "what would happen if the Palace tried actors!"

Girl Feared Slain In Michigan Swamps

LUDINGTON, Mich., Aug. 1. (AP)—State and county officers feared today that a lonely swamp west of Freesoil held the secret of pretty 17-year-old Evalyn Sanford's disappearance, possibly at the hands of abductors and attackers.

Daughter of farm parents living half a mile from Freesoil, the girl last was seen walking along a road leading through the swamp to her home about 10 p. m., Saturday.

A short time later, George Beuge, a neighbor, told police he heard screams of a woman from within the swamp. Investigators found signs of a struggle, footprints of two men and a woman and tracks of an automobile along the swamp road. Searchers dragged the several pools within the swamp during an all day search without avail.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE MYSTERY OF THE ROLLING BALL—A granite monument on the Miller lot in the cemetery at Memphis, Mich., consisting of a base on which rests a 2,800-pound ball, has caused much conjecture since it was erected over 24 years ago. Unaided by human agency the ball has slipped a quarter of the way around in a rolling—not a revolving—motion. A flat rough spot on the side of the ball indicates the spot on which it rested originally. Among the suggested causes of the phenomenon are gravitation, the heat of the sun moving over the surface of the ball, and the processes of thawing and freezing, but no definite and satisfactory solution has been vouchsafed so far.

FIVE KILLED IN HOTEL BLAST

Sixth Fireman May Die Of Injuries

NEW YORK, Aug. 1. (AP)—Five firemen lost their lives today in two terrific explosions that trapped them as they fought a blaze in the sub-basement of the fashionable Ritz-Tower hotel, which rises 41 stories above Park avenue at Fifty-seventh street.

A sixth fireman was reported dying and 26 other persons, 10 of them civilians, suffered injuries of various degree.

Thirty firemen were in the basement, fighting flames in a paint shop when the first explosion occurred just before 11 a. m. Only nine of these were able to escape. The second blast followed almost immediately.

Debris was hurled 50 feet into the air through a sidewalk elevator opening. The windows of a large jewelry store directly above were blown out and gems worth a fortune were scattered. Plaster fell from the ceilings of the hotel's lower floors. The neighborhood a block around was shaken.

Policemen maintaining firelines, firemen standing outside, and others were stunned. There was a pause as men tried to gather their senses, then a race against death. Firemen plunged into rolling smoke after their comrades. Deadly gas gumes drove them back.

Deputy Fire Chief Roche, who directed the firemen, had a theory as the cause of the explosions, but declined to state it because it was only theory. Other firemen were certain that amnonia tanks had exploded. Roche considered the actual damage to the building slight. Origin of the fire was undetermined.

Newt Jones, Archer County Indian Fighter, Attends Texas Ranger Meet

Special to The Record News.

ARCHER CITY, Texas, Aug. 1.—Newt J. Jones, 81, a resident of Archer county for better than half a century and one of those few remaining genuine products of the old West, where a man was a man or he didn't stay long, is attending the annual reunion of ex-Texas rangers at Santa Anna, Texas, this week.

Mr. Jones joined the ranger service upon reaching manhood. His first experience as a member of that hard-riding, straight-shooting band, which has contributed hundreds of thrilling incidents to Texas' romantic history, was under Capt. June Peak. Peak's company was stationed at Fort Griffin in Shackelford county and had no small task in keeping law and order in West Texas in a region bounded by Red river to the north and east, included Wichita, Archer, Young, Stephens and Shackelford counties and extended to the New Mexico line.

Fought Indians

During his years of service with the rangers, Mr. Jones participated in countless adventures common to the state's law enforcement body of that day. Many were the battles Newt Jones and his companions engaged in with marauding Indians and outlaw bands.

In 1878 Jones was stationed in Archer county at a point where Archer City was later organized in July, 1880. In 1880 he retired from the service to engage in the ranching business, first as a cowboy on the Bar-X ranch. His companions on the range were men whose names, like his own, are integral parts of the history of this section. Some of them were George Cranmer, Jim Scott, Louis Snider, Frank Millwee, Bud Covington and Bill Edwards, the latter later becoming editor of the Henrietta Review, and who died about 18 months ago.

Good Cattle Judge

In time Jones obtained a ranch of his own. He was the first cattleman of Archer county to abandon the longhorn breed and to introduce blooded animals. His ranch included several thousand acres in southeast Archer. Since his land has been divided and sold.

Jones was, and still is, considered by cowmen to be the best judge of beef cattle in this section of the country. He still is engaged in the cattle business with his son-in-law, J. L. O'Keefe.

Like so many men of his type, Newt Jones is "hale and hearty" despite his advanced years. After swapping yarns of earlier days with his brothers of the ranger service, the old cowman plans, and looks forward with keen anticipation, to taking part in Wichita county's "Golden Jubilee" in September.

'Bossy' Gillis Describes Assault at His Home

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Aug. 1. (INS)—Andrew J. "Bossy" Gillis, former mayoralty firebrand of this staid old city, complained today of an assault at the hands of John J. Reardon, 24, arrested Sunday for intoxication, after he had allegedly forced his way into the ex-mayor's home and attempted to beat him.

According to police, Reardon's ire was aroused by an item appearing in the latest publication of Asbestos, Gillis' weekly paper. Police said that Reardon brushed aside the former mayor's wife and attempted to beat Gillis with a heavy board he was carrying. Gillis and his brother-in-law, John Kenny, overpowered the intruder, and, when police arrived, he and Kenny were astride Reardon who was prostrate on the floor.

MORE RECORDS TOPPLE AS OLYMPIAD ENTERS SECOND PHASE

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

Some time back this column suggested the possibility of an amateur baseball tournament here early in the fall. Recently we have received several letters from baseball teams in this vicinity wanting to know what has been done about the tournament, if anything. The idea met with almost unanimous approval of all teams and leagues in this section.

Much as we regret to make this announcement, the baseball tournament can not possibly be held this year. The Rambler gives his word that he has done his best to put the thing over. But many factors prevented the holding of the tournament.

The main one was the fact that such a tournament would conflict with Wichita Falls' golden jubilee celebration, to be held here late in September. This jubilee thing is taxing the efforts of the chamber of commerce to capacity. It is going to take all of its organizing ability to put the thing over. It was at first thought that the chamber of commerce could stage the baseball tournament early in September, and then get back into jubilee harness, but it was found this could not be done.

And it was very vital that the chamber of commerce handle the organizing of the thing. A tournament could be staged without its assistance, but not the kind of tournament we had in mind. We had contemplated a big tournament, with every league winner in this section participating—and there are more amateur leagues in this section than the average fan suspects.

A second factor was kale, otherwise lucre, commonly known as dough, and specifically designated in the marts of trade as hard cash. The tournament we imagined would have cost plenty. There was the rental on Athletic park, for instance. The tourney would have lasted a week or more, and the average rental of Athletic park, as we understand it, is about 50 smackers per day. Prizes, baseballs, and whatnot would have increased the figure. We could have raised the money all right, but there was little guarantee that the financial sponsors would have come out even.

In the first place, interest in the golden jubilee probably would have cut down attendance at the tournament. In the second place, many fans of this section whose favorite teams would have entered, could not have left their jobs during the week days to attend.

And all these things had to be considered.

As a last resort, this writer attempted to merge the baseball tournament with the golden jubilee, thus eliminating all conflicts. Big crowds would have been available, then, for the city expects to make much of this jubilee. We argued, and argued.

But this idea also got the bum's rush. The reason was—football.

The golden jubilee starts somewhere about Sept. 20. That's right in the big middle of preparations for the football season, when fans generally forget the curving horsehide sphere and swat of home runs and start pondering whether Quanah will repeat as district champion.

So that's the end of the story, mates. The above facts may sound like an assortment of alibis. They are not. The tournament idea originated with this column, and we had no ax to grind in squelching it. Far from it. We thought of it as a great boost for amateur baseball in this section.

And we haven't given up yet. There will be another year not many months hence, unless the calendar goes into a tailspin. Possibly conditions will be better in 1933 for a baseball tournament. If we failed this year, we may succeed next year.

Noble-Little Beats Ozarka Nine, 7-0

Harry Costley returned to his old time form Monday afternoon on Harrison field and pitched the Noble-Little baseball club to a 7 to 0 win over the Ozarka Water company nine and a cinch tie for last half honors. Costley allowed but two singles which were well scattered. The undefeated ace of the Noble-Little club seemed to have everything working and was never in danger after his mates had given him a big lead at the start. Costley fanned eight men and walked two.

Woody Cantrell, a southpaw, was on the firing line for Ozarka and after a rocky start settled down to business, but he settled down too late to be effective. Cantrell whiffed six men and walked four. Six of the nine hits were bunched in the first two innings off Cantrell to give the champions a five run start.

Dutch Chatterton hit a long home run in the fifth inning off Cantrell to account for the only score off the tall southpaw in the last three innings. Chatterton got a single and a walk in his other two trips to the plate. John "Babe" Horsley continued with his sensational hitting by getting two singles in three trips to the plate.

This game gives Noble-Little a cinch to tie for the last half honors. The club has won 11 of the 12 games played to date and have a six game lead over Ozarka Water, who holds second place, and only six games left to play. Score:

Tolan's Victory Surprises Experts, Who Believed Ralph Metcalfe Victor; Crowd of 60,000 Sees Contests

By STUART CAMERON
United Press Sports Editor

OLYMPIC STADIUM, LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 1.—With records scattered all over the stadium, the Olympic track and field events moved into their second phase today.

The weather was just as it had been for the opening ceremony and for yesterday's initial competition. There was a brilliant sun, a suggestion of haze, and a welcome breeze from out of the ocean at the west. The track for the 100 meter, feature event of the day, was lightning fast. It had been sprinkled slightly to lay the dust.

A crowd of 60,000 had filed into the stadium half an hour before the program was to begin.

A giant semicircular iron mesh fence, about 10 feet high, had been placed on the greensward to guard the spectators in the south stands from a hammer throw which might go awry.

Tolan Wins 100 Meter

Eddie Tolan, stocky Detroit negro, won over a brilliant field in the final heat of the Olympic games 100-meter championship today.

Ralph Metcalfe, also a negro, a giant from Marquette university, finished second, with A. Jonath of Germany, third.

The time was 10.3, establishing a new Olympic record and tying the world mark.

George Simpson of the United States was fourth, D. J. Joubert of South America fifth, and Z. Yoshicka of Japan sixth in the field of six finalists.

The official result took by surprise the track experts in the press box high in the huge concrete Olympic bowl. It appeared that Metcalfe had won by nearly half a stride.

Result Surprises Coach

Coach Lawson Robertson of the United States track and field team, told the United Press that Metcalfe appeared to have won over Tolan, despite the fact that the officials announced otherwise.

"While of course we will not protest the decision," Robertson, veteran coach of Pennsylvania, said, "we will wait with considerable interest the development of the official photographs."

Robertson commented upon the fact that Tolan congratulated Metcalfe, indicating that both believed the latter had won.

"It's just one of those things," Robertson said. "The officials at the finish line should have the correct verdict, but it looked different."

Ireland won an Olympic championship when R. Tisdell finished first in the 400-meter hurdles final. His time was 51.8, which bettered the world's record for the event,

PICTURES GIVE TOLAN DECISION

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1. (AP)—The electro-photographic "camera-clock" shows Eddie Tolan gained the decision over Ralph Metcalfe for the Olympic 100-meter championship by two inches, Gustavus T. Kirby, American member of the board of judges, told the Associated Press tonight. All the judges agreed their official decision was sustained by the motion pictures, Kirby said.

but he knocked down one hurdle, nullifying any claim for a mark.

G. Hardin of the United States was second, and F. M. Taylor, also of the United States, was third.

Champion Finishes Fourth

Lord Burgley of Great Britain, defending champion, and a favorite in the final, finished fourth, leading L. Facelli of Italy, and J. Areskoug of Sweden.

A new Olympic record was, however, established by Hardin, who was caught at 52 seconds in taking second place. The old record was 53.4, and was held by Lord Burghley. The official world record of 52 seconds is held by Taylor.

A new world's and Olympic record was established by Stella Walsh of Poland in the second heat of the women's 100-meter dash event.

This Cleveland, Ohio, girl, who competes under the colors of her native Poland, ran away from a fast field, to finish in 11.9. The world record is 12 seconds, and is held by two women.

The Olympic record is 12.2, made by Betty Robinson of United States in 1928.

Hammer Throw Finalists

The six men who qualified for the finals in the hammer throw were: V. Porhola, Finland, 171 feet, 6¼ inches; P. O'Callaghan, Ireland, 171 feet, 3⅜ inches; P. Zaremba, U. S., 165 feet, 1⅜ inches; O. Skold, Sweden, 161 feet, 7½ inches; G. McDougall, U. S., 160 feet, 10 inches; Federico Kleger, Argentina, 158 feet, 7 inches.

Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan of the Irish Free State, commanded the lead in the hammer throw event with a toss of 176 feet, 11⅛ inches on his final attempt.

T. Evenson of Great Britain, won the first heat of the 3,000-meter steeplechase. W. H. Pritchard of United States was second, and V. Toivenen, Finland, was third. This was a spectacular race of many tumbles.

Finn Wins Second Heat

Staving off a brilliant last lap spring made by Joe McCluskey of United States, V. Iso-Hollo of Finland, won the second and last heat of the 3,000-meter steeplechase trials.

Iso-Hollo led virtually all the way after the first couple of laps. McCluskey, who had been well back with the pack, came up to contending position as the race wore on, and he made his bid for victory on the last half of the final lap.

McCluskey came up onto even terms as they turned into the home stretch. For a pace or two he was ahead of the Finn, but when they broke into full stride in the last few meters, the American was left behind.

In the lightweight division M. Clodfelter, U. S. defeated K. Pihlajamaki, Finland.

HUNGARIAN DISCUS THROWER INJURED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1. (UP)—E. Madacasz, Hungarian discus thrower, working out at Olympic village this morning, made a mighty practice throw which landed him, half an hour later, in a hospital with a sprained back. Physicians said they would expedite repairs and have him back in the games.

Angelos Lambrou, Italian sprinter who collapsed in the 100-meter trials on Sunday, was today so far recovered as also to be certain of return to later events.

Fears for Manuel Moncada, Mexican equestrian who was apparently seriously injured while practice jumping Sunday, today abated when physicians pronounced the rider out of danger.

Others on the Olympic casualty list today—especially the three who have thus far been victims of appendicitis—were all reported out of danger. These were Louisa Roberts, of the United States swimming team; Tatsuzo Fijita, Japanese high hurdler, and Emil Barbier, Belgian fencer.

Slight improvement was reported in the still serious condition of Col. Guiseppe Pirzio-Biroli, captain of the Italian rifle team, who last week plunged into a practice pit and suffered a possible spinal fracture.

Crowell Defeats Burk Stars, 7-3

Special to The Record News.

COWELL, Texas, Aug. 1.—The Crowell Cats won their seventh straight game here Sunday, the Burkburnett All Stars falling victims to Skeet Rasberry and his mates to the tune of 7 to 3.

Crowell took a two run lead in the first on a single by Eubanks and a home run by Sloan over the right field fence. From then on the home boys coasted to victory.

Big Ham Vance of Burkburnett was shelled from the mound in the sixth and Melford, who relieved him, was wild and in trouble most of the way. He walked the bases full in the seventh and McDaniel, batting for Meason, shot a single through the box, scoring two runs.

Two of Burkburnett's runs were four-base swats by Foxx and Schroeder. The other was unearned. Score:

Saint Jo Wins Pair To Enter Loop Play-Off

Special to The Record News.

SAINT JO, Texas, Aug. 1.—Saint Jo won a double-header from Montague Sunday afternoon at Montague to cinch second place in the Red River Valley league of Montague county. This will entitle them to participate in the season's play-off to be held the latter part of August between the two teams having the best percentage for the season.

The scores of the games were 17-1 and 13-5. Dutch Phillips pitched the first game for Saint Jo and allowed Montague three hits, one of which was a home run by L. Russell, accounting for his team's lone tally. Crump was the Saint Jo twirler for the second game. He was slightly wild but was saved from the showers by spectacular fielding by Redman and Field.

Cape Corner took their game from Spanish Fort by a score of 6-1 when the infield blew up behind the great twirling of Calf Evans of Spanish Fort. Both pitchers allowed four hits and struck out 13 men, but all of the Corner runs were scored on errors. The lone run for Spanish Fort was earned. This makes Bulcher and Cape Corner tied in the standings. They play two games this week which will decide the opposition for Saint Jo in the league playoff.

Tumbling, Hurdling, And Raising Cane At Olympic Town

There will not be a lot of young men tumbling into the Olympic games at Los Angeles, just as Eddie Gross is doing here. Eddie is the 15-year-old ace tumbler of the Los Angeles A. C., winner of the American semifinal gymnastic trials for the Olympic team. He is gliding over some of his teammates.

PHILS ROUT PIRATES, 18-5

Victors Within Seven Games of League Lead

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1. (AP)—A barrage of 23 hits, including nine doubles, a triple and a home run, placed the Phillies within seven games of first place in the National league as they won their third straight from the league leading Pittsburgh Pirates today. The score was 18-5.

Manager George Gibson sent four pitchers to the firing lines but all were hit hard and often.

The triumph may have proved costly to the Phillies as Don Hurst, the league's leading hitter, was hit on the head with a pitched ball by Spencer in the fifth and had to leave the game. Later he was taken to a hospital. Score:

Walberg Beats Ferrell In Bitter Duel As A's Defeat Indians, 1-0

CLEVELAND, Aug. 1. (AP)—Rube Walberg bested Wes Ferrel in a bitter pitching duel that was not decided until the ninth inning today as Philadelphia made it three straight over Cleveland, 1-0.

The Athletics' southpaw, pitching the second shutout the Indians have suffered in as many days, yielded only four hits.

Ferrell allowed but two safeties until the ninth, when the visitors grouped three singles for the only tally of the contest. Cochrane, Foxx and McNair supplied the punch that sent the Athletic catcher home with the winning tally.

The victory gave Philadelphia a two and a half game lead over the tribe which slipped back to 10½ games behind the league leading Yankees. Score:

Carroll Blanks Panther Crew, 3 to 0

GALVESTON, Aug. 1. (AP)—Ed Carroll, ace of the Galveston staff, shut out the Fort Worth Cats 3 to 0 here tonight to give Galveston its second straight victory in the series. The big right-hander was never in trouble and kept the five hits the Cats got off him widely scattered.

Young Paul Gribble, handy man left-hander on the Cat staff, furnished worthy opposition, giving up but eight hits, but he contributed to his own downfall with an error in the fifth that started the first scoring. Three of the Buc hits were doubles. Score:

Death Toll Reaches 500 In China Flood

CANTON, China, Aug. 1. (AP)—The death toll was counted at 500 as the rampaging Chu Klang (Canton river), which has been battering down the huts in the poorer districts of this capital of southern China, continued to rise today.

Heavy rains in the river basins in the Canton area last week started the rise. The situation grew alarming Saturday as houses started collapsing. A home for the aged was undermined and 80-year-old persons perished beneath the debris. It was estimated today that 600 houses had collapsed.

Dispatches from other parts of China indicated torrential rains had fallen in western Shensi, and the Yellow river had broken its dykes inundating 30 towns and leaving 50,000 homeless.

Advice To Investors

By Charles W. Storm—Editor of the "News Service of Wall Street"

B. E.—Would appreciate some information on Bendix Aviation corporation stock.

Answer—Bendix occupies a leading position in the automotive parts industry, and is currently supplying about 30 per cent of the brakes, 80 per cent of the starting drives and 12 per cent of the carburetors used in the trade. In addition to certain newly developed automotive products, it supplies the aviation trade and other lines. In 1929, the first year of consolidated operations, net income equaled $3.65 a share, but only 57 cents a share was reported in 1930, due to the sharp recession in demand, as well as to heavy expenses incurred in connection with acquisitions and the coordination of facilities. Despite further contraction in automobile output in 1931, net rose to 74 cents a share. In the first quarter of 1932, earnings were negligible, having equaled only one cent a share, against 38 cents a year earlier. Second quarter results were probably also restricted. Early restoration of dividends is improbable in view of the generally unfavorable early future earnings prospect. With any sustained upturn in automotive industry, Bendix could show substantially enhanced returns. At the close of 1931, financial condition was satisfactory with current assets of $9,803,000 comparing with current liabilities of $2,142,000.

W. L.—Please furnish me with some data on Anaconda Copper.

Answer—Anaconda Copper Mining company reported a 1931 deficit of $3,163,523 before dividends and before inventory adjustment of $7,449,459 charged to surplus. In 1930 company earned $2.07 before sizable inventory adjustments charged to surplus. Earned $7.83 in 1929. Treasury position poor with notes payable $61,500,000. As well diversified miner and fabricator, company very representative of industry, but any revival of the industry promises to be slow. Paying no dividends the stock must be considered speculative.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 1. Demand for feeder steers was fairly broad with some sales showing a stronger tendency, while stockers moved slowly at about steady prices. Better grades of feeders were taken largely at $5.75@7.00 with a few loads of fleshy kinds suitable for a short turn in the feed lot at $7.10@7.60. Stockers bulked at $3.50@5.00. NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 1. (AP)—After holding steady at moderate advances during the greater part of the day, cotton eased in the late trading under realizing and some further selling attributed to brokers who sometimes act for the cooperative interests.

December contracts, after selling up to 6.25 or about 9 points net higher, declined to 6.18 in the late trading and closed at that figure, with the general market closing barely steady, net unchanged to 2 points lower.

Publication of a Washington denial that the department of agriculture was selling either spots or futures against the so-called seed-loan cotton, seemed to increase uncertainty as to the character of the recent persistent selling of the earlier new crop positions here and may have a restricting effect on buying. One private crop report placed the condition at 67.2 and indicated yield at 11,394,000 bales, while another made the condition 68.5 and the indicated yield 12,497,000 bales.

Secretary Hester placed world's consumption of American lint cotton at 12,580,000 bales with a carry-over of 12,911,000.

It was a holiday in the Liverpool market which will reopen tomorrow.

Futures closed barely steady, unchanged to 2 points higher. Spot quiet, middling, 6.05.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1. (AP)—Cotton was moderately active today and prices developed fair fluctuations. The main influence was the variations in the stock market but prices were supported most of the day by too much rain in the eastern belt and weevil talk. The close was barely steady with active months showing a net gain for the day of one point.

The market opened steady. Liverpool continued closed owing to the bank holidays. Secretary Hester's annual statistics were issued before the opening showing a carryover of 13,440,000 bales, including linters, which was about as expected, and world's consumption of 13,331,000 bales, which was a little better than looked for.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 2 penny points up.

Port receipts 8,708, for week 8,708, for season 8,708, last season 1,436. Exports 23,422, for week 23,422, for season 23,422, last season 6,302. Port stocks 3,384,377, last year 2,782,273. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston, 55,148, last year 30,693. Spot sales at southern markets 5,581, last year 2,554.

LONDON, Aug. 1. (INS)—The London stock exchange was closed today because of the banking holiday.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, Aug. 1. (AP)—Cotton was quiet, but steady all morning. Prices advanced about 10 points. Cotton was more freely offered in the afternoon when most of the gains were lost. Final prices on the board of trade, were 3-4 points net higher. Exchanges opened slightly higher, first prices at Chicago being 4-5 points up. Showers to heavy rain fell over Arkansas and east of the Mississippi during the week-end and temperatures in the West were excessive. E. H. Miller of Bennett & Co. issued an estimate of 67.2 per cent condition with an indicated yield of 11,392,000 bales.

Last Hour's Trading Sees Reaction Check Recovery Of Security Prices

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 1. (US)—Reaction overtook the stock market in the last hour today, causing sizeable modification of earlier substantial gains, especially in railway shares. Setback experienced by the carriers however, failed to prevent the general average from closing at a new peak for the recovery, fractionally above the previous level. Bonds also established their highest average base so far.

Progress of the list was interrupted throughout the session by waves of profit-taking and short selling induced by the signs of fatigue in the action of the rails. Because of the theory to which many subscribe that the transportation stocks accurately foreshadow the price trend, new buyers displayed greater caution in following the early tendency.

Notwithstanding this increased hesitancy volume approximated Friday's turnover of 2,100,000 shares. Until late in the session the list displayed surprising staying powers and was characterized by renewed constructive operations in industrials and utilities. Coppers, office equipment, oils and one or two other groups of representative industries were taken in hand during these lapses and pushed upward vigorously.

Final trading was featured by heavy demand for Standard Oil of New Jersey which won the distinction of being the first leader to approximate its high price of the year.

More or less vulnerable character of railway shares particularly toward the end of the day induced considerable realizing over the entire list. Floor professionals were among the chief sellers, guiding their operations by the traditional view that most important market swings first became visible in the carrier average. However, the appearance of offerings in the latter section seemed to have been inspired not only by its virtual unbroken recovery of three weeks or more as well as by the misinterpretation of a decrease reported in freight traffic for the week ended July 23.

The decline in loadings from the preceding week was, in fact, less than in the similar week-to-week comparison for the similar period in each of the two past years. It amounted to only 2,300 cars whereas in the same 1931 week loadings were down 16,000 cars.

How much short selling was represented in the day's trading was of course largely conjectural. Some close observers have been noting an increase in the short account since last Thursday although covering by previous bears has perhaps done much to offset the effect of such new speculative selling.

Several of the larger wire houses were still sellers on balance at the close tonight.

A better inside into the real condition as regards the speculative side of the market will be given by the official report on the short interest later in the week. Some predictions today were for a sizeable increase in the total compared with a month ago.

As has been the case all along the market had very little news on which to base prospects for an early turn in the domestic business tide. Aside from further reopenings of small industrial plants and textile mills, there was no tangible evidence of better industrial sentiment. Results of the German elections produced little effect here.

Commodity markets were mixed with wheat fractionally lower at the close and cotton virtually unchanged.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Aug. 1. (AP)—The recent increase in demand for wool has stimulated talk on advancing quotations. As yet, the only development along this line has been a stiffening tendency in asking prices on Texas wool and on the finer territory wools. Receipts of domestic wool at Boston during week ending July 30 estimated by the Boston Grain and Flour exchange, amounted to 7,915,700 pounds, as compared with 5,380,300 pounds during the previous week. Receipts for the year to end of July were 108,970,400 pounds as compared with 168,007,800 pounds during corresponding period last year.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 1. (AP)—Corn led today in a general downturn of grain values that forced oats to duplicate the season's bottom price.

Country offerings of old corn were the heaviest this year and some of the new corn crop was being disposed of for shipment later. Beneficial rains in Illinois, Iowa and elsewhere were taken to indicate a bountiful 1932 harvest.

Corn closed unsteady at about the day's bottom, ⅜@1⅛ under Saturday's finish, wheat ⅛@¼c off, oats ⅜@½c down, and provisions varying from five cents decline to an equal advance.

Meanwhile the United States corn visible supply decreased 230,000 bushels.

Wheat averaged lower largely on account of progress of spring crop harvesting and increased arrivals at Minneapolis. Export demand was nil. Speculative buyers showed a disposition to await tomorrow's monthly unofficial estimates as to damage in spring wheat territory. Rains in Canada were a bearish factor.

Omission of Toledo stocks of grain in visible supply statements beginning today makes the wheat total too small at present, and renders future comparisons uncertain. Nominally an increase of 1,535,000 bushels was shown today against 6,363,000 increase a year ago.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Aug. 1. (US)—Private crop reports are expected to play an important part in tomorrow's wheat market, as will the trend of foreign markets following the prolonged week-end. Local traders felt that today's action indicated that the foreign situation is more important at present than the action of financial markets in this country.

Domestic spring wheat production of around 250,000,000 bushels and a Canadian crop of approximately 425,000,000 bushels are expected in the private crop estimates.

The corn market offers little attraction to speculative interests following fairly general and substantial rains over the week-end. Little to deter a bumper production is foreseen and with a slow cash demand except on sharp reactions the pressure of country offerings released by the improved crop prospects is exerting weight on the futures.

SCHOOL TAXES FALL SHORT

50 Per Cent Now Delinquent Kiwanis Club Told

Financial problems faced by the Wichita Falls school board were discussed before members of the Kiwanis club at the Wichita club Monday noon by Luther Hoffman, a school board member, with a final declaration that payment of school taxes is imperative if the schools are to operate their coming nine-month session as planned.

Mr. Hoffman declared that tax delinquency has increased from 10 per cent in 1925 to 50 per cent at present, and asserted that the schools can not be operated properly on that basis.

"Present inability of citizens to pay their school taxes is due partially to the immense tax burden," the speaker said. "Efforts to reduce these taxes have resulted in the greatest possible reduction of teachers' salaries, with a consequent increase in the student capacity per teacher. School supplies have been cut to a minimum. The school board would welcome suggestions of business men regarding any detail in connection with the operation of our school system with available revenue."

Mr. Hoffman expressed appreciation of the school board for work done by the Kiwanis club in providing a football stadium here for scholastic teams. Mr. Hoffman was introduced by Dr. O. W. Wilson, program chairman.

Entertainment was furnished by Mrs. C. N. Cameron, soprano, and Baldwin Montgomery, tenor, who sang several duets with Mrs. Lucile Brooks Huff as accompanist.

Series Of Thefts Reported To Police

Losses from activities of criminal operators amounting to more than $500 in seven thefts and burglaries during the last five weeks were reported to police Monday. The major loss was reported by J. A. Fisher, 3002 Hamilton boulevard, and included oil field equipment valued at $430 which was taken two and a half miles east of Electra July 23. A $250 generator, $90 fishing tool, and two 4-speed lubricators valued at $90 were stolen.

Loss of a quantity of household linen on June 28 was filed Monday after a report was received from Mrs. J. L. Jackson, 1653 Elizabeth. The loot included three large table cloths, three of smaller size, 20 napkins, 10 sheets and an electric iron. A description of a negro suspect was given.

Automobile equipment including storage battery, special carburetor and a spotlight was reported taken from the garage of Claud Gorin, 1714 Taylor, about July 15.

Losses over Sunday night and Monday as reported during the day covered theft of 20 fryers reported by Mrs. J. O. Baxter, 1703 Collins; two purses, $3 in cash, and a 50-year-old watch keywinder, valued as a keepsake, from the home of R. P. Williams, 1305 Taylor; and a 50-foot garden hose from George Dunnick, 1500 Eighth.

M. K. Emmert To Arrange Exhibit Of Old Farm Implements And Vehicles

M. K. Emmert of Wichita Falls has been named chairman of a subcommittee of the golden jubilee historic exhibits group and will be in charge of collection and exhibition of old implements, buggies and wagons showing progress in modes of farming and transportation, it was announced Monday by Chairman Lester Jones of the exhibits committee.

Mr. Emmert is a pioneer resident of Wichita county and has been active in the farming and ranching development of Northwest Texas since the eighties. His work with the 50th anniversary association for the celebration Sept. 26-28, will be in connection with the work of the historical exhibits committee.

He will head the subgroup to gather up and place on exhibition a comprehensive collection of early-day farming and transportation equipment and vehicles. Mr. Emmert will name others to assist him and will announce their names later this week.

A place to hold the exhibit will be secured by the committee either with the general display of relics of all types or if necessary in a separate place, Mr. Jones said. Mr. Jones said the committee members are pleased at securing Mr. Emmert for the work, feeling that he is particularly well qualified on account of his wide acquaintance and long residence in this section.

VOTE ANALYZED BY M'FARLANE

Efficiency in Government Urged by Candidate

In a statement to the voters of the 13th district, W. D. McFarlane of Graham, candidate in the runoff for the nomination for congress, says:

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the noble way you stood by me in the campaign I made, for the principles of efficien government. The result is as follows:

Votes cast	44,526
Votes cast for McFarlane	21,728
Votes cast for Hinson	9,153
Votes cast for Backus	13,645
Total	44,526
Half of votes cast	22,263
McFarlane's vote	21,728
Lacks majority of	535

"Assuming that Mr. Backus and I will each poll the vote we did before, I would have to secure but the 535 of the Hinson vote to have a majority. This I will certainly secure in Young county alone. July 23, I carried every voting box in Young county save one. No one has ever heard me charge Mr. Hinson with anything in the campaign except that he was a banker and without legislative experience. This he conceded. I charged against Mr. Backus that he was nearly 70 years old, without legislative experience and too old to learn at your expense. I stated too that in the race for the senate two years ago, he carried but one county. I spoke from memory. In the first reports, it was claimed that Mr. Loftin carried Hardeman county. The final returns I am told showed that Mr. Backus carried the county by nine or 11 votes. I was not interested particularly and failed to note the error. I am sorry I erred. It is and was not material in this race.

"It is a glorious victory for good government. We have but to press on; the end is in sight in victory for the principles I advocated. With good will for all, with malice to none, firm for the right as God shows me the right, I ask the lovers of good government to let no day close without securing recruits to the cause of efficiency in the public service, the reduction of our tax burdens and a readjustment of our economic situation. For this I will strive, as outlined in my campaign speech, which I hope you have all read and preserved, as my pledge of efficient service in your behalf."

Grand Jury Expected To Complete Work Today

Investigation of approximately 17 felony charges filed during the past four weeks was begun Monday morning by the July grand jury, reassembled by Judge P. A. Martin of the 30th district court for its second monthly session.

Mike Anglin and George W. Anderson, assistants to District Attorney Sam B. Spence, assisted the jurors Monday in their examination of witnesses. Mr. Spence was engaged in similar service in Archer county before Judge A. D. Montgomery of the 30th district court.

With a light docket of cases, it was predicted that work of the grand jury here will be completed Tuesday afternoon.

HODGE ISSUES STATEMENT

Appreciation for support given his candidacy for nomination as county tax assessor in the first primary was expressed Monday by Fred P. Hodge of Electra in the following statement:

"To my friends in Wichita county: I thank you most heartily for the votes cast for me, and the influence exerted in my behalf, in my race for tax assessor. Although defeated, I feel that I have formed many lasting friendships, which will enrich the years to come. I shall endeavor to see you personally, but if I do not, you are assured I will always appreciate what you did for me."

DEATHS

MRS. BELLE SMITH

Mrs. Belle Smith of Dallas, 76, died at a local hospital at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The body is held at the Hines mortuary pending the arrival of a son, Jess Smith of McKinney, Texas.

RIGHT OF WAY

Truck Operator Charges Woman With Forcing Him in Ditch

Failure to yield right of way to another car at an intersection was charged in a complaint filed in the county court at law Monday against a woman as the result of a traffic mishap on the Iowa Park road last Saturday, according to County Attorney L. V. Abernathy.

The complainant said he was driving his loaded truck toward Wichita Falls when the defendant entered the highway from a road entering on the complainant's left. Since he already was in the intersection, the man asserted, he was forced into the ditch at the right of the road to avoid a collision with the woman's car. His truck was overturned and damaged, he said.

Loan Periods On Books Extended By Kemp Library

Elimination of renewals on books and extension of loan periods to borrowers was made effective Aug. 1 at the Kemp public library as an economy measure, according to Miss Lucia Powell, librarian.

Hereafter books formerly designated as seven-day books will be issued for 14-day periods, and those heretofore marked as 14-day books will be issued for 28-day periods.

Reduction of bookkeeping to a minimum has been made necessary, Miss Powell announced, by the enforced reduction in the working staff. Economy in both time and supplies will be effected, she said, by application of the new rule.

POLICE FINES TOTAL $1,567

City Court Revenue Shows Decline in July

Municipal revenue from the corporation court took a slight drop for July and for the first time in many months the profit and loss column revealed a charge of $10 listed as "prisoner escaped." One man who had been assessed a fine for drunkenness walked out of the city jail during the month. However, the loss in the fine was a minor consideration as the prisoner would have served out the fine had he remained in jail.

Ten Wichitans suffered injuries in traffic accidents reported to police in July to bring the total number of injuries to 54 for the year with 161 accidents. Two were killed in April. Twenty-eight accidents were reported in July as compared with 18 in June, when only three were hurt, the minimum number for any month to date. Thirteen injuries in May was the maximum reported.

Corporation court cases for the month totaled 300 and 138 fines totaled $1,567.20, as compared to 326 cases in June and fines valued at $1,899. Time of 50 prisoners serving out sentences and fines was valued at $450 and 46 cases on appeal were valued at $402.20. A total of 133 bonds were forfeited, 22 cases dismissed and seven defendants were acquitted.

Police handled 257 prisoners in July, 176 traffic cases, conducted 107 investigations and transferred 41 prisoners to other courts.

Automobiles valued at $825 were recovered by police, who aided in the recovery of other cars valued at $1,375.
