LA Mayor Visits Birthplace

BY ROB WOOD
Associated Press Writer

CALVERT, Tex. AP — A half century ago young Tom Bradley, son of a black sharecropper, left his native farmland in Central Texas as the family moved west in search of a better way of life.

Tom Bradley, the mayor since 1973 of Los Angeles - the nation's third largest city, returned to his birthplace Sunday.

He visited with relatives and walked the main street of this town of 2,072. He shook hands with the few persons who strolled the streets on a quiet and sunny afternoon. He was taken to the place where his home once stood. The shack has long since been torn down.

"It is something else to remember the people where I grew up as the son of a sharecropper," said Bradley.

Walking with him past the downtown cafe and antique shops of this old farming and cattle raising community were his aunt Bertha Woods, who last saw Bradley 51 years ago, and the white mayor of Calvert, Cooper Wiese.

Aunt Bertha, hobbling with a cane, said. "I've kept up with Tom and all the things he has done since leaving Texas. We are mighty proud of him and it is sure good to have him home, even if it's only for one day."

Bradley left Calvert at the age of 7, when his family moved first to Arizona and then to Los Angeles. He became a track star at UCLA and joined the Los Angeles police force in 1940, retiring as a lieutenant in 1961. He took his law degree from Southwestern University.

After winning a Los Angeles city council seat in 1963, he ran for mayor in 1969 and lost in a runoff. The next election in 1973 saw him win by more than 97,000 votes.

"It has been an opportunity to see so many of my relatives, those I haven't seen in years and years, including Aunt Bertha, who took care of me as a child," said Bradley.

"This trip back home also is an opportunity to reflect upon many things. It tells me that a person can achieve whatever he or she has in mind, regardless of whether you are born in a sharecropper's shack in Texas or a mansion in one of our biggest cities. It is only a test of character, a test of each individual to achieve what he wants."

One or two cars idled down Main Street while Bradley was talking. He observed that in Calvert the traffic was slower and the air much purer than in Los Angeles.

"I like to think that I am an encouragement to all youth of all races and all creeds," he told a reporter. "If I can come from poverty and the racial discrimination that I have faced, then all youths, regardless of where they are from, can do the same."

Bradley was welcomed by Wiese and many residents stopped the visitor on the street to shake his hand.

Driving outside the town, he stopped briefly in a rural area where he was born. The old homestead long ago was destroyed and nothing was left but a cotton field and the pasture where a few cattle grazed.

After meeting with the members of the Bethel Baptist Church in the afternoon he attended a barbecue supper on the high school football field.

Bradley was in Texas to attend a seminar at the University of Texas in Austin.

AT LIBRARY OPEN HOUSE—Attending Sunday's open house at the Scurry County Library were, from left, Mary Nell Bullard, chief librarian; Nancy LaRoux; and Kay Albin, chairman of the Scurry County Library Board. Mrs. Albin is presenting Mrs. LaRoux a plaque dedicating the new children's addition to the library in honor of Mrs. LaRoux's mother, Mrs. Faye Deene Campbell, the children's librarian for 10 years until her death last January. The figurine immediately above Mrs. LaRoux on the book case was also presented to the library in memory of Mrs. Campbell by library employes.

GREETING THE GUESTS—Martha Sauceda and Rachel Coronado, two employes at the Scurry County Library, are shown as they greeted visitors to Sunday's open house at the library. Two new additions to the library were officially opened yesterday afternoon.

Regulations On Ozone Damaging Spray Cans Urged

By WARREN E. LEARY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fluorocarbons from aerosol spray cans have damaged the earth's protective ozone shield and will have to be selectively regulated or banned, the National Academy of Sciences said today.

But two academy panels which studied the problem said any ban or regulation of aerosol spray cans should be delayed one to two years until completion of further studies on the ultimate effects of the reduction in the protective shield of ozone in the atmosphere.

The panels said the reduction in ozone, which shields the earth from dangerous ultraviolet radiation, could lead to increases in skin cancer and potentially great changes in the earth's temperature and climate.

The reports were designed to resolve the controversy over the relationship between fluorocarbons and the earth's ozone layer. The panels said there was insufficient evidence to state precisely the extent of damage to the ozone shield.

Philip Handler, NAS president, said in a letter to the White House "that a one or two year delay in actual implemenation of a ban or regulation would not be unreasonable."

However, he recommended the government begin immediately to establish the regulatory machinery that will be necessary to either reduce the use of fluorocarbons or ban them completely.

The reports said if fluorocarbons continue to be released at 1973 levels, "an ultimate reduction in ozone of about seven per cent" would result. Half of this loss would occur in about 50 years, the panels said.

The panels expressed particular concern about climate changes that might result from a slight reduction of the protective ozone shield. Temperatures could increase on earth. This, in turn, would affect rainfall and evaporation of moisture. "Such changes could lead initially to a general shift of the earth's climatic belts, and ultimately to a significant melting of polar ice and a worldwide increase in sea level," the reports said.

Any weather changes pose particular problems for agriculture.

The report stressed that fears of climate changes are only possibilities at present, and that more research is needed before the effects of ozone reduction can be determined.

After hearings and possible revisions, the studies will be submitted to Congress, which is considering legislation to limit or ban use of fluorocarbons as propellants in aerosol sprays and as refrigerants.

More than 50 per cent of the fluorocarbons produced in the United States ae used as propellant in cans of deodorant, antiperspirant, hair spray or other personal grooming products, government figures show. Most shaving lather cans do not use fluorocarbons.

Pleas Entered In Kennedy Plot

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Three persons charged with conspiring to murder Sen. Edward M. Kennedy pleaded innocent today to an alleged plot that investigators say may only have been idle talk.

All three had lawyers appointed for them, and their cases were continued in Springfield District Court until Sept. 20.

One of them, David J. King, 31, of Springfield, was almost an hour late for the court session, and before he appeared Judge George Bregianes threatened to issue a warrant.

On Sunday, King told reporters that he had been offered $30,000 to help kill the sole remaining Kennedy brother at a Springfield hotel where he was campaigning for renomination in the Massachusetts Democratic primary on Tuesday. King had been released on personal recognizance Saturday by a District Court clerk.

The two other defendants were Sandra R. Rondeau, 37, of Westfield, and Robert E. White, 42, a resident of a Salvation Army Rehabilitation Center.

Policemen said Sunday that there was a possibility the whole affair was a hoax. One officer, who asked not to be identified, said it might have been "idle, drunken talk."

King, in an interview, said he met White on Aug. 8 at the Salvation Army Center and two days later was offered a chance to make "big money."

He quoted White as saying: "You can make $30,000 altogether. All you have to do is kill U.S. Sen. Kennedy... You get $5,000 down and after the job you get $25,000."

Kennedy appeared Saturday at a fund-raising breakfast at the Oaks Inn. Mrs. Rondeau worked there as a waitress for six months until she quit about a week ago, according to a hotel spokeswoman.

King said Mrs. Rondeau "was supposed to serve breakfast, and Mr. White was supposed to walk in right behind her. He was going to shoot Kennedy while he had breakfast," King said.

GOV. WALLACE AT HIS SIDE

Jimmy Carter In Alabama

By JAMES RUBIN
Associated Press Writer

Democratic presidential candidate Jimmy Carter campaigned in Alabama today with Gov. George Wallace, a former political rival, at his side and told a group of small businessmen they are "the forgotten Americans" of the Republican administration.

Wallace said he was "very proud" to have the Georgian, with whom he had vied in the election primaries, in Alabama.

As Carter began the second week of his campaign with a tour of some Sunbelt states, President Ford remained in Washington. He is to make his first campaign foray on Wednesday.

Carter told the small business gathering in Birmingham that the Republican administration had bogged down hopelessly in red tape that complicated life for small businessmen. He promised that he would improve government small business aid programs if elected.

En route to Birmingham from his home in Plains, Ga., Carter also signed a statement accepting the endorsement of the Liberal party of New York. The endorsement, voted by the party in a convention Saturday, means that Carter is assured both the Democratic and Liberal slots on the New York ballot.

Meanwhile, Ford will be in the public eye today with bill-signing ceremonies. One measure would require about 50 federal boards to conduct most of their business in public, while another measure would protect livestock producers against packing companies that go bankrupt.

Presidential approval of these bills ordinarily would be handled by routine printed announcements, but today they merit separate ceremonies in the White House rose garden.

Carter launches a 12-state swing, with stops today in Birmingham, Ala., Oklahoma City and Phoenix, Ariz., after spending the weekend at home in Plains, Ga. Carter scheduled a fund-raising dinner appearance tonight in Phoenix for Rep. Morris K. Udall, another former opponent.

He said he wants to remind voters that his opponents in the Democratic primaries this spring were calling him the conservative in the field.

Attempting to counteract GOP charges that he is a big-spending liberal, Carter said he is stressi q conservative positions

Murder Charges Asked For Five

NEW YORK (AP) — The Manhattan district attorney moved formally today to bring murder charges against five Croatian nationalists whose bomb killed a police officer on the ground here while they were hijacking a passenger plane across the Atlantic.

The accused hijackers, who apparently carried out their 30-hour capture of a Trans World Airlines 727 jetliner without actually being armed, were brought to the federal courthouse in Brooklyn by the FBI this morning.

As they awaited arraignmet on federal air piracy charges, an assistant from Dist. Atty. Robert Morgenthau's office filed a complaint with the U.S. marshal asking that the prisoners be turned over to local authorities to be arraigned for murder of the police officer, a capital offense.

Freed Passengers Tell Of Fear, Polite Treatment

By DEAN LOKKEN
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK(AP)-Passengers freed after 30 hours aboard a jetliner hijacked by Croatian nationalists told a tale of fear for their lives but polite treatment by their abductors.

The captives said the ordeal, which began Friday after their plane left New York and ended Sunday in Paris, was sprinkled with humor and hunger and included some dissension among themselves as a Catholic bishop used the plane's intercom to offer prayer.

One of the hostages — Los Angeles television consultant Rudy Bretz — said after being released in Paris that he intended to volunteer as a defense witness if the hijackers were tried in the United States.

The hijackers faced arraignment here today on federal air piracy charges. They also may be indicted for murder in the death of a policeman killed while trying to dismantle a bomb they planted at Grand Central station.

"I wish them well," said Warren Benson, a director of the Arthritis Foundation in Tucson, Ariz. "They had nothing against us, but wanted only to get their story across."

"The most frightening part of the hijacking was at the airport in Paris when they had us huddle up tight around the bombs. They threatened to blow us up," said Noreen Collins, 25, a teacher from Bellerose, N.Y. "We were huddled there for 10 minutes."

The "bombs" turned out to be fakes, as one hijacker with a flair for the dramatic demonstrated as he and his accomplices surrendered.

"One of the hijackers, the one with a moustache, took this thing we thought was a bomb — and it was like cotton dowels or tubes — and he ripped it up. And there was just fluff inside," said Robert Metzger, 35, of New York, one of 53 passengers and crew released in Paris. "(Then) he turned to us with a big smile and said, 'That's show biz.'"

Sam Edsall, 17, of Monroe, N.H., said the four men and one woman hijackers "were very nice except when they threatened the bombs might go off. They said they were doing it to get attention. One of them even said to me, I'm sorry, but that's life."

Robert Goldstein of New York City said: "They kept telling us they didn't want to hurt anybody ... they didn't manhandle anybody or touch anybody.

"When they passed you in the aisles they always said 'Excuse me,' or at other times 'Thank you.' It was really unbelievable."

Miss Collins said that the passengers' greatest concern came in Paris where "we were under the impression the French government and the U.S. government were not doing anything for us."

The situation appeared so grave, said the Most Rev. Edward O'Rourke, Roman Catholic bishop of Peoria, Ill., that he offered general absolution to Catholics on board.

But one passenger, Las Vegas television columnist Dick Maurice, said that made matters worse.

"... He made the mistake of getting on the loudspeaker and giving general confession to everybody and what seemed like giving us all the last rites. When he did that, panic set in," said Maurice.

"Oh, my God, the people said around us, we are going to die," he recalled.

Tax Values Are Studied By County

County Commissioners were given a briefing today on the system used to arrive at valuations of rural property by the Snyder Independent School District.

County Tax Assessor-Collector Don Adams, members of his staff, and Clarence Minton, the Democratic nominee for that office who is unopposed in the general election, also were on hand as Ray Peveler, school tax assessor-collector, discussed the procedure.

The county has been under pressure by oil companies to equalize values of farm and ranch land in the county and for several months county tax personnel have been working with Peveler and his staff toward this objective. The school district's valuation system for rural property, which has been developed over the past three years by Peveler and his staff, has been praised by other major taxpayers, including oil companies.

Peveler explained details of the system for determining value of various classes of land in the county, using a combination of actual prices paid in land sales, uses assigned to land and production yeilds.

Viking Arm Is Stuck Again

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The mechanical arm of the Viking 2 lander is stuck between the openings of two small laboratories, preventing, at least temporarily, the beginning of experiments to determine whether organic matter is present at the Martian landing site.

Viking project manager Jim Martin said early today that the scoop on the end of the arm had successfully picked up a sample of soil and delivered part of it to the area inside the lander where three biology experiements were to be conducted.

But as the arm moved to another area where the rest of its load was to be deposited for X-ray tests the scoop failed to rotate, stopping dead in its tracks.

The first indication of trouble came when the collecting head of the arm failed to appear in a photograph Viking had taken to show scientists that the apparatus was moving in the correct sequence. Another photo showed that Viking had completed a foot-long trench and had a soil sample in hand.

The lander is programmed to halt the moving arm whenever something goes wrong. There was no way of knowing this morning what the malady could be, and Martin said it probably would take more than a day to be certain.

The next possible step will come during the next communications link around 1 a.m. (PDT) Tuesday when scientists will send the lander an order to let them know what went wrong, probably through more photographs, Martin said.

"This could foul up the whole sequence," Martin said after a two-hour session in which he met with project scientists to try to determine what had gone wrong.

Viking had been scheduled to make another digging expedition today, taking in another clump of dirt for deposit in what is known as a gas chromatograph spectrometer (GCMS). It is the GCMS that conducts the complex series of heatings and separations of ingredients that eventually would tell scientists whether Viking had struck upon any carbon-based, or organic, molecules.

Discovery of organic molecules could point to life on the planet.

The GCMS is a key experiment, and although the lander's other ongoing tests in seismology and meteorology would continue, it would be a major disappointment to scientists if the search for organic molecules was not completed.

Weekend Violence Toll Low

By The Associated Press

For no apparent reason, Texas counted far fewer violent deaths from Friday evening to Sunday midnight than during most weekends.

The toll went to nine fatalities in the 56-hour reporting period, including three in traffic accidents and three shootings.

Authorities said a newlywed couple apparently were asphyxiated in their San Antonio apartment. They theorized that carbon monoxide fumes a water heater's exhaust pipe led to the deaths Saturday of Army Pvt. Jeffrey Macki, 21, and his wife Diana, 18. The heater was just beneath their apartment and a ventpipe ran near their bathroom window.

Fort Worth police said Lloyd Gibson, 64, was shot to death during a domestic quarrel Sunday.

The pilot of a crop duster died Saturday when his aircraft clipped the top of a pecan tree and crashed south of Goldthwaite. He was William Frederick Coons of Granbury.

A Ft. Hood soldier, Peter A. Tiernan, 21, was killed Friday night when a car carrying him ran off U.S. 90 south of Killeen.

Officers in McGregor, near Waco, reported Henry Washington, 45, of Waco was shot and killed in a recreation lounge Saturday morning. Two others were wounded.

Pistol shots killed Joe Roy Thurman, 24, Saturday at his South Dallas home and wounded Louise Lewis, 16. Police searched for a Henderson man ordered off the place by Thurman earlier.

Barbara Burleson, 23, of San Angelo was killed there early Sunday in a two-car accident. Killed in the same car was Kenneth Eakin, 22.

Burglary Theft Are Reported Over Weekend

The weekend reports of a burglary and a theft were logged by city policemen.

Winston Mengues told officers that two tool boxes and some assorted tools had been taken from his pickup truck while it was parked at his 2701 Avenue X residence. Total value of the stolen tools was set at approximately $300. The burlgary of the pickup is believed to have occurred between noon Saturday and 11:15 a.m. Sunday.

An attendent at a truck stop on the Lubbock Highway told policemen that a group of "circus people," had stolen 100 gallons of gasoline. The attendent reported that the group had paid for 116 gallons of gasoline, but had allegedly taken 216 gallons of gas. The incident occurred Sunday about 8:30 p.m.

A careless customer at a local fast food chain restuarant left behind a small amount of a substance believed to be marijuana Friday afternoon when he finished his lunch. The substance was found on one of the dining tables by a waitress. The incident was reported to police officers at 1:45 p.m. Friday.

A minor traffic accident occurred Saturday morning at the Spanish Inn. Involved in the mishap were a 1976 Ford driven by James Hutto of Colorado City and a 1976 Chevrolet driven by Pedro Eugenio Flores of Lamesa.

Beauty Queen To Be Self

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Miss America 1977, Dorothy Kathleen Benham of Minnesota, says her goal for the next year is to "represent the women of today as best I can."

And, the new Miss America says, she'll do that by "being myself," an old-fashioned, 20-year-old who's against premarital sex, abortion, marijuana, gambling and woman's liberation.

Miss Benham, who was awarded the beauty crown here Saturday night, handled herself confidently at a Sunday morning news conference after only two hours of sleep.

Music is almost everything to the 5-foot-7½-inch, 120-pound blonde, who credits her victory to her vocal performance of Adele's Laughing Song from Johann Strauss' "Die Fledermaus" during the talent competition.

The Macalester College junior, who has studied voice for eight years, said her ultimate goal is to reach stardom on the concert stage, screen and television.

She said she knows little about politics, has no favorite in November's presidential election and is only beginning to take an interest in the political world.

Asked to name the persons she admires most, she listed opera singers Anna Moffo, Beverly Sills and Roberta Peters — all sopranos like her.

Her conservative upbringing in Edina, Minn., a Minneapolis suburb of 44,000, has led to her holding traditional views on controversial subjects, she said.

Jamie Rockerfeller Leaves Hospital

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — John "Jamie" Rockefeller, 7, son of West Virginia's Democratic gubernatorial nominee, has been released from a hospital after being injured when his bicycle was hit by a car.

The boy, son of John D. Rockefeller IV, suffered a concussion and head cuts in the accident, a hospital spokesman said. He returned home Sunday.

He was injured Saturday when struck by the car which police say was driven by Robert E. Thaw, 16.

Cruise Ship Heads For Miami

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The controversial cruise ship Vera Cruz I has departed from the Port of Galveston for Miami, leaving behind its gambling equipment, including at least 90 slot machines, a roulette wheel and several black jack tables.

The vessel, owned by Bahama Cruise Line, Inc., had been scheduled for nine cruises from Galveston and Corpus Christi.

But a district judge in Austin placed it in receivership for allegedly failing to have a license to do business in Texas and for not paying taxes on previous cruises.

The legal maneuvering started Friday when the ship owners learned that state officials planned to seize the gambling equipment. Bahama attorneys obtained a temporary restraining order to prevent the confiscation.

The ship's owners later withdrew their equest for injunctive relief and moved out of the Port of Galveston's Pier 15 Saturday only to be ordered back by the U.S. Cost Guard, who claimed the Vera Cruz did not clear customs.

The ship remained off shore near the Bolivar Peninsula until its gambling equipment was removed.

Joe Max Taylor, chief deputy sheriff for Galveston County, said the ship was ordered back into port by local officials Sunday and the owners of the ship complied.

Disposition of the seized equipment awaits a court decision, Taylor said. He said no criminal charges have been filed in the case.

Owners of the ship claim the seizure will cost them about $250,000 in lost revenue.

Rains Fill Streets In Wichita Falls

By The Associated Press

Street-filling rain left Wichita Falls awash before a big thunderstorm moved on toward the southeast today, and lighter showers developed in that area soon afterward.

There were heavy thundershowers also from around Victoria and Corpus Christi on the Coastal Bend northward toward San Antonio and southward to the Alice area, and drizzle fell in the Texas Panhandle west of Amarillo around Vega and Adrian.

In Wichita Falls the rain measured 1.55 inches from 1 to 2 a.m. and the amount reached 3.3 inches by 5 a.m. Police reported most intersections and underpasses were flooded for a time.

The early morning storms developed on the heels of turbulence Sunday night which produced a harmless tornado near Follett in the Panhandle and battering hail in several places.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money is the big item before Congress this week, with decisions on how much will be collected in taxes and how much will be spent by the government as the lawmakers push to adjourn Oct. 2.

First on the agenda is Senate action on a $41.9-billion revenue-sharing bill that would extend for five years and nine months the program that allocates federal funds with no strings to localities throughout the country.

The extension bill before the Senate would allocate $6.9 billion the first year and increase the amount by $150 million each year after that. Unless it is extended, the program expires this Dec. 31.

When action on revenue-sharing is completed by the Senate, the measure probably will have to go to a conference committee to resolve differences with the House version. The House passed last June a three-year extension of revenue sharing that would continue the payments at the current $6.65-billion annual rate.

Also scheduled for action in the Senate today is the $104.3-billion defense appropriations bill, as approved by a House-Senate conference committee.

A key provision of that measure would defer a decision on full-scale production of the B1 bomber until next February. Opponents of the controversial bomber succeeded in winning the delay so that whoever is elected president in November would have the opportunity to make the final decision.

In other money matters, both the House and Senate are scheduled to act this week on the congressional budget resolution and on a major revision of the tax laws.

The budget resolution sets a limit on federal spending of $413.1 billion. It estimates revenues at $362.5 billion, with a deficit of $50.6 billion.

President Ford's budget proposal for the coming fiscal year called for $13 billion less in spending. But Ford also estimated revenue would be $10 billion less. The Ford deficit would be $3 billion lower than the congressional figure. The figures finally adopted by Congress prevail.

The immediate effect of the tax bill scheduled for final House and Senate action late in the week would be to freeze withholding rates at the level set last year when Congress enacted a $15-billion tax cut.

The bill extends that tax cut [illegible] year.

Oswald: "Mike Lawrence, your old teammate on the 1970 and 1971 World champion teams has just written a book called 'Judgment at Bridge.' It is not for beginners or casual players, but will be really worthwhile for any serious student of the game."

Jim: "One of his suggestions to bidders concerns the opening notrump. He recommends that when your hand has the proper point count, you open one notrump when you have no other clear-cut choice for your opening."

Oswald: "He recommends a one-notrump opening with the South hand. So do we. North raises to two and South goes on to game. Double dummy defense starting with a spade lead will beat that contract, but West makes his normal opening lead of the fourth-best heart and South is sure of two hearts, two clubs and five diamonds."

Jim: "If South opens one spade, North will respond one notrump. South will either overbid to two notrump or pass. If North plays at notrump, the normal heart lead by East will hold him to eight tricks."

Baked Goods Wanted For Fair

It's fair time again, and a fair would not be complete without the smell of fresh baked breads, cake and the like. That means everyone is getting out their favorite recipes for baked goods. Entries will include breads of all kinds, cakes, cookies, pies, and candy. The adult division and a junior division will be judged separately.

There will also be a division for decorated cakes and another very interesting division for original recipes for cakes, breads, cookies, etc. The recipe must accompany the original recipes only. It must be the work and the developed recipe of the exhibitor. The copy of the recipe will be the property of the Fair Association and will not be returned. It will be used by the judge in making decisions and will not be on display for everyone to read and copy. The judging of these will be the same as the others, quality, texture, flavor, etc.

All baked products should be placed on cardboard squares or circles and must be completely covered with clear cellophane, saran, or polythylene, that is taped on underside of the container.

Entries will be accepted from 5-9 p.m. Friday, Sept. 17 and from 7-9 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 18. Judging will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday.

All baked products may be taken home between 2-5 p.m. Sunday.

REVIEW RULES—Mrs. E. M. Ashley (right), Superintendent of the Senior Baked Goods Division for the Scurry County Fair and Bobby Lockhart review the rules as they prepare for the Fair. Mrs. Haold Wade is Superintendent for the Junior Division this year.

EXTENDS REDUCTIONS, OFFERS NEW CUTS

New Tax Bill Provides Something For Everybody

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the first in a series of five stories explaining key provisions of the 1976 tax bill moving through Congress.

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is about to pass a tax bill that will affect everyone who files a federal income tax return. It continues this year's reductions for most Americans and offers new cuts for millions of others.

The bill continues through 1977 this year's individual tax credits, providing a tax reduction of $35 for the taxpayer and each dependent, or 2 per cent of his first $9,000 of taxable income up to $180.

The election-year tax measure makes an effort to provide something for just about everybody. For instance, about two million American families are expected to take advantage of just one provision of the bill — one that would reduce taxes for working parents who hire babysitters.

While cutting taxes for most Americans, the bill also will lower federal revenues by about $17.9 billion. The individual tax cuts will total about $15 billion, and business tax cuts will reduce federal income another $4.5 billion. This will be partly offset by $1.6 billion in tax increases, levied mostly against the wealthiest Americans.

Congress is expected to give final approval to the bill this week, and President Ford is expected to sign it.

In addition to the child care provisions, the assortment of other changes would make it easier to claim alimony payments as a tax deduction; would expand tax benefits in job-related moves and would clear the way for tax-deferred pensions for housewives.

Here is how these benefits work:

CHILD CARE

On the tax return filed next spring for 1976, working parents can subtract from their tax 20 per cent of the first $2,000 spent during the year for the care of one child, or 20 per cent of the first $4,000 spent during the year for the care of two or more children. The maximum tax credit for one child would be $400; for two or more, the maximum credit would be $800. It is available to those families where both parents work, or where the only parent works.

The credit would be extended to those families using the standard deduction as well as those who itemize deductions. This is expected to double the number of families using child care tax advantages, from two million to four million.

The credit will be available to separated parents and to couples when one spouse works only part-time. Relatives may be hired for the child care if Social Security taxes are withheld from the babysitting paychecks.

The new credit may be calculated on all qualifying child care payments made in 1976, and it will eliminate the complex, separate form used to claim child care deductions under the old law.

The old law permitted a tax deduction from taxable income of up to $4,800 a year for expenses of hiring someone to care for a child under 15 or a disabled dependent or spouse while the parents work.

There are several conditions in the old law: Both parents usually had to work full time; no deduction was permitted for payments to relatives; the deduction was reduced $1 for each $2 of annual income above $35,000.

Most importantly, the old law required the expense be claimed as an itemized deduction on tax returns. The benefit has not been available to the 60 per cent of Americans who use the standard deduction.

The bill changes the deduction to a credit. Deductions are subtracted from income; credits are subtracted from taxes owed.

There is another distinction. Up to incomes beyond $35,000 a year, where it rapidly diminishes, the old $4,800-a-year deduction was worth more to richer than to the poorer taxpayers. The tax credit is calculated the same for every taxpayer, no matter how much or little he or she earns.

Here is how a family of four would fare under the old law and under the new bill. The family includes two children under 15, has an income of $15,000 a year with both parents working, has itemized deductions of $1,700, and takes the maximum $180 credit for individuals.

OLD LAW — If the family claims the maximum child-care deduction of $4,800, the tax owed would be $725.

NEW LAW — The child-care cost no longer would be a deduction and the family would use the maximum standard deduction. Without the child-care credit, this would mean a tax liability of $749. But the maximum credit of $800 for two children would reduce the tax bill to zero, a savings from the old law of $725. The saving varies with income and child care expenses.

ALIMONY

This is another expense that could not be deducted under the old law unless the taxpayer itemized deductions.

The new provision allows a taxpayer to deduct alimony expenses with or without itemizing. The change would be effective next Jan. 1, meaning this provision cannot be used until the returns for 1977, filed in the spring of 1978.

MOVING EXPENSES

Under certain circumstances the law has allowed a deduction from taxable income of some moving expenses if the move is required because of employment.

The maximum deduction has been $2,500 for expenses of house-hunting, selling the old home and temporary lodging — if the new place of work was 50 miles farther from the old residence than was the old place of work.

In addition to these limited expenses, the taxpayer may deduct fully all reasonable expenses for moving furniture and for lodging for himself and his family while en route to the new home.

The new law will raise the maximum deduction to $3,000 and cut the 50-mile rule to 35 miles.

The changes will become effective for moves on or after next Jan. 1, and the new provision will be used for 1977 returns.

HOUSEWIVES' PENSIONS

This change, effective next Jan. 1, is generally viewed as the government's first step in rewarding the housewife's contributions to the economy and the nation's social structure.

It is a small step, likely to be broadened in coming years.

Present law allows a worker who has no other pension plan to set aside up to $1,500 a year in an Individual Retirement Account. That money is not taxed until it is withdrawn; that generally would be at retirement when most persons would be in a considerably lower tax bracket.

The new bill will allow the worker to raise the total contribution to $1,750 a year if the extra money is earmarked for a pension for a spouse who does not work outside the home.

This could result in a joint account of $1,750 a year or separate accounts of $875 for each spouse.

Although this provision is aimed at helping housewives, the extra benefit could go to a husband who does not work outside the home so long as the wife works and qualifies for the pension plan.

Next: individual cuts, tax simplification.

Two million American soldiers went to France during World War I. Of that number, 53,000 died in combat and another 204,000 were wounded.

KNOW YOUR FOOD

MILK GROUP

Many of today's diets are low in calcium because we don't use enough calcium-rich foods, such as milk and cheese, in our diets. Growing children need calcium to build bones and teeth, especially during teen years, when children are growing fast.

Adults, too, need calcium even though they're not building bones and teeth. Each day, adults lose some calcium and must replace it. Calcium helps clot blood when you cut or injure yourself; it helps keep all your muscles in good shape so they can work for you . . . especially the heart muscles.

Milk is our leading source of calcium. It also provides high-quality protein, riboflavin, vitamin A (if milk is whole or fortified), and other nutrients. Protein in milk builds and repairs body tissues, helps the body fight infection, and supplies energy. Eight ounces of fresh whole milk has about 160 calories; the same amount of skim milk has only 90 calories.

Foods Included in the Milk Group: Milk: fluid whole, evaporated, skim, dry, buttermilk. Cheese: cottage, cream, cheddar type, natural or processed. Ice cream. Yogurt.

Recommended Amounts: Some milk daily is urged for almost everyone. Recommended amounts in terms of 8-ounce cups (or glasses) of whole fluid milk are: children under 9, 2-3 cups; children 9-12, 3 or more cups; teenagers, 4 or more cups; adults, 2 or more cups; pregnant women, 3 or more; nursing mothers, 4 or more. Part of all the milk may be fluid skim milk, buttermilk, evaporated milk or dry milk.

Cheese, ice cream and yogurt can be used in place of part of the milk. The amount of any of these it will take to replace a given amount of milk is figured on the basis of calcium content. On this basis, examples are: 1-inch cube cheddar-type cheese equals ½ cup milk; ½ cup cottage cheese equals ⅓ cup milk; 2 tablespoons cream cheese equals 1 tablespoon milk; ½ cup ice cream equals ⅓ cup milk; 1 cup plain yogurt equals 1 cup milk; 1 cup fruit-flavored yogurt equals ¾ cup milk.

UT Banks Where Regents Are Major Stockholders

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — University of Texas regents say the university does business with Austin banks where UT regents are major stockholders or directors because those banks submitted the better bids on interest rates.

The Austin American-Statesman reported Sunday that half of the nearly $130 million which UT has on deposit is in such banks.

As late as 1973, only 32 per cent of the school's deposits were in banks with regent connections, the newspaper said.

It quoted school officials, however, as saying the growth of funds in banks simply reflects that the banks submitted better bids on interest rates.

The paper said Austin National Bank held $9.3 million in UT funds in 1973 and now holds $30 million. Regents chairman Allan Shivers became a regent that same year and is a stockholder and chairman of the board at Austin National.

Capitol National held $9.1 million in 1973 and now holds $18.5 million. Edward Clark, who also became a regent in 1973, is senior chairman of the board of Capitol National. Another regent, Lady Bird Johnson, also is a major stockholder there. She has been a regent since 1971.

According to financial disclosure statements filed with the secretary of state's office, the paper said, Shivers and regent Joe Nelson of Weatherford also are directors of Citizens National Bank. Its deposits went from $166,000 to $2.7 million and back to $385,000.

Regent A.G. McNeese of Houston is a director of Houston's Bank of the Southwest which, until this year, consistently held more than $30 million in UT deposits, the paper said. He also is a director and shareholder in the bank's holding company, Southwest Bancshares, Inc., which includes Continental National Bank of Fort Worth. Last year Continental had $7.2 million and this year none, the paper reported.

Regent Dan Williams of Dallas is a stockholder in Republic National Bank of Dallas. No UT system funds are shown on deposit there.

"It's pretty much a competitive situation of who pays the highest interest rate," said assistant comptroller Ernest Hoffman of the UT system. "The ones that bid the highest get the most."

The vice president for business affairs at UT-Austin, James Colvin, who oversees the distribution of deposits, said the fact that half the funds are in banks with ties to regents "would be a happenstance." The "bulk of the money," he said, "would be in purchase of CD's (certificates of deposit) and those banks at the time the money was available offered the highest rate."

"The funds are distributed on that basis and no other," said Shivers. "That's all it amounts to."

Freak Accident Kills Newlyweds

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A freak accident has left a young soldier and his bride of five weeks dead in their apartment. Carbon monoxide gas is suspected as the killer.

Police identified the couple as Jeffrey Macki, 21, and his 18-year-old wife, Diana.

According to the apartment complex manager, the young couple moved into the three-room second story apartment Friday with two pet cats also found dead. The bodies were discovered Saturday.

Manager Jim Statzer said Macki told him they had been married five weeks and moved to San Antonio from Orlando, Fla. Macki, a private in the Army, was to have reported for duty over the weekend. When he did not, Army personnel began telephoning the apartment manager.

Assistant Manager Hector Perez said, "they kept calling and calling all afternoon."

Perez said he finally notified Statzer about 4:30 p.m.

"We knocked on the door and nobody answered," Perez said.

"So finally the manager opened the door with his master key. The door had been fastened witha chain lock."

Perez said he and Statzer put their weight against the door to snap the chain. Once inside, the strong order of gas almost overwhelmed them.

Mrs. Macki was found clad only in a pair of white jeans, lying face down on the bed. Macki, clothed in green khaki pants, was sprawled face upon the kitchen floor with part of his back against the wall.

Police Investigator Bob Urban said the couple apparently died when gas from an open-ended pipe located directly beneath their bathroom window was drawn into the apartment.

District Fire Chief Greg Trevino said the exhaust pipe came from a 100-gallon water heater in a storage room directly beneath the couple's apartment. Trevino said the exhaust fumes were probably carbon monoxide, deadly odorless gas, which were pulled into the apartment by a draft.

Dr. Lamb

Body short in white cells

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Two doctors tell me I have leukopenia but haven't done anything for me. I'm allergic to drugs. I couldn't find much on leukopenia in my medical books. Could you tell me what causes leukopenia? What, if anything, can be done for it? What kind of diet should I follow? Can it be cured?

DEAR READER—In general there are red cells and white cells in your bloodstream. The white cells are called leukocytes. The decrease of white cells in leukopenia is usually of the cells that increase in number when you have an infection. These are neutrophils so you probably have neutropenis, the main form of leukopenia.

The neutrophils are also called granulocytes. You may have heard the term agranulocytosis which means neutropenia, but the term is usually reserved for more severe forms.

The granulocytes are manufactured in the bone marrow, then released into your bloodstream. You may be surprised to learn that the average white cell doesn't stay in your bloodstream very long. In a short time it migrates out of the circulation into your body tissues. There are 20 times as manygranulocytes in your tissues as there are in your circulation.

You also have a reservoir of white cells in your bone marrow. You have 15 to 20 times as many mature white cells in your bone marrow waiting to be released if your body needs them. If a person develops acute appendicitis these cells are released suddenly to combat infection and the white count goes up rapidly. Measuring the white cells in your bloodstream is only an index of how many neutrophils your body may be producing.

Your doctors are probably not doing any more because you are probably one of those people who have a decrease that is not sufficient to be important from a health point of view. A small decrease in cells doesn't seem to make any difference. When the count is well below half the usual value seen the person may be more prone to infections.

The white cells are used to fight off infection. if your count is very low then you will need to take precautions against developing an infection. That will include avoiding crowds, being careful to not injure yourself and even greater care of your skin to avoid pimples and the like. A pimple in a person with poor defenses against infection can be dangerous. I doubt this is your problem.

The cause of the mild cases is unknown. It is sometimes a familial characteristic. Severe forms can be caused by inadequate bone marrow production from actions of drugs, chemical solvents, insecticides and a host of factors. One aspect of treatment in these cases is elimination of the offending drug if possible.

Many drug or chemical induced episodes are cured spontaneously when the offending agent is removed. I would think that you probably don't need anything special except to be checked regularly and, if need be, to take added precautions against infection or to get treatment at once with any sign of an infection..

SHS Grad Heads Student Advising

MERCE HERNANDEZ

ODESSA—Merce Hernandez, 24-year-old graduate student at The University of Texas of the Permian Basin, has been named as its chief of student advising, to contact prospective students throughout Texas and eastern New Mexico.

Announcement of the appointment was by A.W. Keith, Registrar and Director of Admissions for the upper-level and graduate university (in Odessa) which is just beginning its fourth year of classes.

Hernandez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merce E. Hernandez of Hermleigh, was born in Roby, and reared at Snyder where he was graduated from high school in 1970. He attended Ranger Junior College at Ranger, for two years and was a pitcher on its baseball team. He received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree in Finance from UT-Austin in December of 1974 and entered UT Permian in the summer of 1975. He has been a part-time worker in the Admissions office while pursuing his Master of Business Administration degree.

Hernandez is taking his final courses as Self-Paced Instruction—which involves a minimum of class meetings and a maximum of personal scheduling with direct cooperating of the professor—and will complete his MBA work in the spring semester.

The 6-foot, 2-inch, 200-pound Hernandez is the oldest of three sons in the family of appliance repairman Merce E. Hernandez, and the first member of the family to attend college. But his two brothers are following in his footsteps. Brother Alberto attended Western Texas College in Snyder and then earned his Bachelor of Business Administration degree at UT Austin. He too is now in the UT Permian MBA program as a junior. Alberto plans to attend law school also. The youngest Hernandez, Henry, is a political science junior at UT Austin.

Requiem for a Smoker

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR READERS: I recently said my last goodby to one of the dearest, most gentle and soft-spoken gentlemen I've ever known—David Brodkey. He was also my brother-in-law, having been married for over 40 years to my sister, Helen, the eldest (and prettiest) of the four Friedman girls.

Dave spent his 66th birthday in the hospital, fighting a losing battle against lung cancer. He was lucky(?). He went fast. Three months.

You're wondering, "Did he smoke?" Like a chimney! Dave had been a three-pack-a-day man for over 45 years.

Didn't he have periodic checkups and chest X-rays? He did, but nothing showed up in his X-rays until he went into the hospital for minor surgery for something totally unrelated to the cause of his death.

Oh, Dave had a "touch of" emphysema and a "little heart warning" a few years back, so why didn't his DOCTOR insist that he quit smoking then? Because his doctor also smoked heavily.

I know that God gives us life, and God takes it away, but I can't help feeling that this beautiful man could have lived many more years had he not become addicted to tobacco. And addicted he was!

His craving for nicotine was almost as enslaving as heroin to a junky or alcohol to an alcoholic.

Times without number he would develop a cough and try to "taper off." He would then allow himself only 10 cigarettes a day. But after he'd smoked his limit, he'd "bum" an extra cigarette or two, and soon he'd be back to the old routine. (He often said, "I don't really SMOKE them, I just light them, and they burn in the ashtray.")

Being a natural "reformer," over the years I sent Dave every stop-smoking gimmick and gadget I came across. He tried them all, but none of them worked for him.

How come some people smoke up a storm and live to be 100? I don't know. (Maybe they build up an "immunity" to nicotine.) And how come some people who have nev er smoked develop lung cancer? I don't know the answer to that, either. But I do know that an overwhelming percentage of those who develop lung cancer and heart disease have been heavy smokers.

Not everyone who develops lung cancer dies from it. Some are lucky enough to survive surgery and live with one lung (for example, a former heavy smoker, that lovable redhead, Arthur Godfrey). Others have had laryngectomies (the severing of the vocal chords), after which the patient learns to "talk" by swallowing air and "belching" it up into audible sounds. (The handsome veteran actor, Bill Gargan, another notoriously heavy smoker, has lived with this for many years.)

I have devoted a great deal f space in my column to the evils of smoking. (Perhaps mo than some of my smoking readers have found tolerable.) ve also frequently needled those who inflict their habit on innocent non-smokers. (I'm informed there is now substantial evidence that breathing second-hand tobacco fumes is almost as damaging to the lungs as is smoking the weed itself.)

It's too late for my brother-in-law, and for countless thousands who couldn't break the nicotine habit, but will you do yourself (and me) a favor? If you don't smoke—PLEASE don't start. And if you DO smoke, don't quit trying to quit until you've won! I love you.

MexFair Is Huge Success

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — MexFair 76 generated sales for Mexican exporters of $132.6 million, up 65 per cent of last year's fair, officials have announced.

The success of the giant international trade expostion was announced in closing ceremonies Sunday by Julio Faesler, director of Mexican Institute for Foreign Trade.

Faesler said the $132.6 million represented actual sales or sales to be closed within a month.

Total sales from the fair could go as high $200 million during the next year in follow up sales, Faesler said.

The fact that the fair was held right after the floating of the Mexican peso, meant that it was "indeed a great achievement for Mexican exhibitors," said Faesler. He said the devaluation was a "boom" to sales.

"We can now begin planning for the sixth annual fair which has becometraditional in San Antonio." He said the next trade fair would be next September in San Antonio.

Mayor Lila Cockrell said the fair and its results "were very, very good for all of San Antonio."

Both Faesler and Cockrell stressed the visit of Mexican President Luis Echeverria had enhanced the exposition's success.

Faesler said industrial production, including steel, accounted for 70 per cent of the sales.

FEDERAL PROGRAMS AVAILABLE TO EASE BITE

College Costs Soaring To Record Levels

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Back to school can bring budget blues to college students and their families these days, with costs soaring to record levels. But a number of government programs are available to ease the bite.

The College Entrance Examination Board says that the average student at a four-year college, living on campus, will have to spend $4,568 this year. That's 6 per cent more than it cost last year and 54 per cent more than it cost in 1970.

Both the Republicans and the Democrats in this election year have urged increased federal support of higher education.

President Ford says his policy is guided by two basic principles: "First, no student should be denied access to a postsecondary education because of financial barriers. ... Second, in most cases, aid should be provided to individuals rather than to institutions."

The Democratic platform calls for "a coordinated and reliable system of grants, loans and work study." It also says the federal government "should directly provide cost-of-education payments to all higher education institutions ... to help cover per-student costs, which far exceed those covered by tuition and fees."

The U.S. Office of Education supports five programs of student assistance: basic educational opportunity grants, supplemental educational opportunity grants, college work-study, national direct student loans and guaranteed student loans.

The grant programs provide outright gifts; the loans must be repaid.

The amount of money available to an individual generally is determined on the basis of financial need and academic eligibility. Information on the programs is usually available through a school financial aid officer.

In order to qualify for a basic grant, a student must be attending an approved institution: a four-year college, a community or junior college, a vocational school, a technical institute or a hospital school of nursing. The student must be enrolled on at least a half-time basis in a program of study which lasts for six months or longer. You can file an application to find out whether you are eligible for a basic grant as soon as you are accepted for enrollment; the sooner the better. Once you are notified of your eligibility, you must submit the notice to your school, which will determine the amount of the award. Applications to determine eligibility are available by writing P.O. Box 84, Washington, D.C, 20004.

The supplemental grants are for students of exceptional financial need who would not be able to finish their education without the extra money. The program is limited to undergraduates; graduate students are not eligible. The grants range from $200 to $1,500 a year, with a maximum of $4,000 over four years and $5,000 over five years.

The national direct student loan program enables students to borrow up to $2,500 if they are enrolled in a vocational program or have finished less than two years of a program leading to a bachelor's degree. Students who have completed two years toward a bachelor's degree can borrow up to $5,000 and graduate students can apply for up to $10,000. Repayment begins nine months after you leave school and you can stretch the payments over a 10-year period. There is a 3 per cent interest charge on the unpaid balance during the repayment period; you pay no interest for the period you are in school.

The guaranteed loan program enables the student to borrow directly from a bank, credit union, etc. who is willing to make an educational loan. It is guaranteed by a state or private nonprofit agency or insured by the federal government. The maximum you can borrow each year is $2,500, or $7,500 for undergraduate or vocational study. The ceiling on interest is 7 per cent.

The work-study program provides jobs for students who have great financial need and must earn part of their expenses. To qualify, a student must be enrolled at least half time as a graduate, undergraduate or vocational student at an approved, postsecondary institution.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Worm farming, catfish farming, or bullfrog farming? According to some fast-talking promoters of such breeding franchises, one or all of the above may lead to quick riches with little or no effort.

But proceed with caution, our Consumer Protection Division lawyers urge, or you may be in for quick financial losses, rather than gains.

Once again, they say, consumers should remind themselves that it's highly unlikely that they will be able to get "something for nothing." While there is money to be made in some of these commercial breeding operations, it is seldom as lucrative a field as promoters make it out to be, and it almost always involves a great deal of hard work, a high level of interest, and perseverance.

Persons selling investment opportunities in such commercial breeding farms stress the huge potential market, the cheapness of feeding the stock, and the ease of operation.

But reports from some other states indicate that it's likely that some of the same promoters who were misrepresenting the business opportunities available in chinchilla ranching not too long ago have moved into the newer fields of worm, catfish, and bullfrog farming.

Worm farming, for example is currently being touted as a "sure-fire" moneymaker. Sellers of worm farm franchises represent that worm breeders can make from $1,600 a year if they buy 50,000 worms for $470 to $384,000 a year if they invest $10,000 in one million worms, according to the Better Business Bureau.

Some of the companies claim they will buy back the worms, "If acceptable," but also say that school biology laboratories, fish bait stores, and zoos are certain markets for the worms. Japan and Israel are also suggested as markets for worms to be used as soil enrichers and aerators, for research, for poultry and livestock feed, and as dehydrated protein supplements for human.

Closer investigation of these claims reveals, however, that the market for the worms is limited. Most franchisers refuse to buy back any worms, finding them "unacceptable" or "not up to our standards." Most labs and bait stores require special types of worms, and no country is buying worms in the quantities advertised by the worm farm promoters.

Our Consumer Protection Division recently won a permanent court injunction against a Texas worm farm franchiser for misrepresentations and other violations of the Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act. But our attorneys suggest that consumers avoid problems with investment opportunities before they get to the lawsuit stage. Take the following precautions:

Get names and addresses of investors from the promoter, then check with them to find out if the promoter kept his promises. Check with your local B.B.B. to find out if the company has a good reputation, and with your local health department to find out if it is legal to conduct a commercial breeding operation on your land. Always think it over before signing a contract, and remember that you can cancel a contract signed in your home for more than $25 within three days.

Pope Spoke With Fatherly Intensity

BARI, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI spoke to dissident French Bishop Marcel Lefebvre with "fatherly intensity" at their meeting, according to a Vatican spokesman.

The Vatican said Sunday the Pope asked the bishop to reflect on the "damaging situation" he has created by his defiance. The bishop said after the one-hour meeting Saturday, "Now it is necessary to think over what we have said in the meeting."

The bishop was suspended from his priestly functions last July after he defied a papal ban against ordaining priests at his traditionalist Roman Catholic seminary in Econe, Switzerland. He celebrated a public mass in Latin at Lille, France, Aug. 29.

The bishop has opposed changes instituted by the 1962-65 Vatican II ecumenical conference and by the Pope.

Southwest Conference Has 'Shock Saturday'

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

Southern Methodist and Houston are leading the Southwest Conference race, Texas is no longer in the top 20, Texas Tech can play defense, and the Texas Aggies own an aerial circus.

The above paragraph is NOT fiction. Repeat: These are cold hard facts. The above paragraph is NOT fiction.

It was SHOCK SATURDAY in the SWC with upsets and other assorted pyrotechnics sweeping the scene in one of the wildest opening weekends in years.

Seventh-ranked Texas lost 14-13 to Boston College on a two-point conversion gamble that failed and a field goal after time had expired that was 36 inches wide of the upright.

Southern Methodist stunned Texas Christian 34-14 in new Coach Ron Meyer's debut and Houston joyously celebrated its entry in the SWC with a 23-5 thumping of favored Baylor.

Texas Tech's much-maligned defense put the clamps on Colorado in a 24-7 Red Raider victory and the Texas Aggies gained 186 yards passing in a 19-0 shutout of Virginia Tech.

Arkansas checked in with a sluggish 33-16 thumping of spunky Utah State.

Texas played for three quarters without All-American fullback Earl Campbell, who had a pulled hamstring.

"I said we had problems but nobody believed me," said Royal. "So many things went wrong. A guy on the field (12th man) on a long completed pass. We go all the way to the four then fumble ... two field goals missed.

"But these aren't alibis. We don't make alibis. We lost and it wasn't a fluke. We lost on the field and we didn't play well."

The game had a weird ending. A 60-yard pass play was nullified with two minutes to play because Texas had 12 players on the field. Boston College then incurred a roughing penalty on what should have been the last play of the game. But placekicker Russell Erxleben just missed a 53-yard field goal that was long enough but a yard to the left.

"I just missed it ... it was my fault," said Erxleben in tears.

"We win or lose as a team, it wasn't one guy's fault," said Royal.

Baylor Coach Grant Teaff said of new entry Houston: "I don't think they will win it (the SWC) but they have a good football team and great incentive. This early victory will help them down the line. They'll certainly determine who wins it."

Arthur Whittington scored three touchdowns in SMU's crunch of TCU and Meyer gushed: "It was a fantastic, big play night. Oh, this is so great! I wouldn't take anything for it."

Nor would Tech Coach Steve Sloan for the masterful defense of his Red Raiders.

"Our defensive guys had been sort of been run down a little bit and they had a lot to prove—they proved it tonight," said Sloan. "The defense was the game for us ... it was just magnificent."

Tech quarterback Tommy Duniven added "My hats off to the defense. They came up with the big play when we needed it ... something that didn't happen last year."

Texas A&M completed 11 of 17 passes against Virginia Tech. The Aggie defense was its usual hard-nosed self, holding the Gobblers to 11 first downs. In the much-heralded debut of Curtis Dickey, the super freshman running back, the statistics showed he carried six times for 51 yards.

In games this week, Baylor is at Auburn, SMU is at Alabama, Kansas State is at Texas A&M, Houston is at Florida, Oklahoma State is at Arkansas, TCU is at Tennessee, Utah is at Rice and North Texas States is at Texas.

Raider Rookie Comes Through

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

George who?

If there was any sentimentality lurking around the Oakland Coliseum Sunday—diehard nostalgia freaks dreaming of all those games when ol' No. 16, George Blanda, plunked his helmet over his greying hair, trotted on the field and kicked a winning field goal—it was washed away by a kid less than half his age and only a quarter of his number.

Fred Steinfort, a soccer-style kicker from Boston College, a rookie not even born when George was already a quarterbackand kicker in the National Football League, did with ultimate cool what Blanda did for those many years.

He won a game.

And he did it in a moment of drama that only a Hollywood script-writer would appreciate, making his first official NFL field goal—a 21-yard chip shot with 18 seconds to go—the winner in the Raiders' 31-28 victory.

George who?

Oh, George Allen, of course.

He's been getting grey hairs for a lot of years now, watching his Washington Redskins play brinkmanship with the rest of the league. They were at it again Sunday, playing tantalizingly lousy defense when it meant the most, then turning around and beating the New York Giants 19-17 anyway.

Steinfort had a happy welcome to the NFL. The Seattle Seahawks and Tampa Bay Buccaneers—well, that's another matter. Both lost, although Seattle gave St. Louis a fight before falling short 30-24 while Tampa Bay was a punchless 20-0 loser to Houston.

Hank Stram, a long-time pro coach with Kansas City, returned as the head man at New Orleans—and the Saints got their heads handed to them, getting whomped 40-9 by Minnesota.

Four other men made their NFL head-coaching debuts. Two won. Two lost. Monte Clark's San Francisco 49ers beat Green Bay 26-14 and Bob Johnson's Cincinnati Bengals downed Denver 17-7 while Cleveland clobbered Lou Holtz' New York Jets 38-17 and Dallas drubbed Dick Vermeil's Philadelphia Eagles 27-7.

In the rest of Sunday's NFL openers, Baltimore defeated New England 27-13, Los Angeles beat Atlanta 30-14, San Diego toppled Kansas City 30-16 and Chicago beat Detroit 10-3. Tonight the Buffalo Bills, with O.J. Simpson, entertain Miami.

Volleyball Team 1st In Tourney

SWEETWATER—The Snyder varsity girls volleyball team won first place at the Sweetwater Tournament Saturday, defeating Graham in the first round 15-7 and 15-8, then Colorado City 15-2 and 15-5, and Bronte in the final round 15-8, 15-8. Lubbock High won the consolation trophy by defeating Graham.

Snyder got a rather slow start against Graham, having serve trouble. The Tigers averaged only 70 per cent in serving the first game. In the second game, Snyder improved considerably at the serving line although serve receiving was in need of improvement. Snyder didn't play again until 4:30 p.m. and in the match against Colorado City looked more like the Tigers in their first two matches of the season with offense and defense coordinating effectively.

Snyder played its best match of the day in the finals against Bronte, the Class B state runnerup of last year.

"We played the best defensive game we've played all year," said Coach Joyce Elrod.

Snyder blocked 41 per cent effectively, "where 30 per cent is usually good for a team." The offense was much improved with the setters setting 94 per cent and the spikers hitting close to 80 per cent.

"Our setters averaged close to 90 per cent or better all day which probably accounted for the improvement in total offense," said Mrs. Elrod.

Julia Glass, Susan Walker and Della Braziel had outstanding games on offense. Pam Kohl and Shelly Nutt both had good games spiking in the final match. Donna West had 96 per cent setting in two of her matches. Defensively for the Tigers, Shelly Nutt was the outstanding player with 86 per cent serve receives. Susan Walker and Della Braziel both made the All-Tournament team for Snyder.

The varsity plays Coronado High School tonight in Lubbock at 7:30 following the JV match at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday night, the local girls will be at home against Abilene Cooper, playing at 6 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Gold Team Wins One In Tournament

The 9th Grade Gold volleyball team won one match and lost two at the Lamesa Tournament Saturday. They lost to Denver City 16-14, 5-15, 9-15; they beat Big Spring 15-0, 16-14; then, they lost to Brownfield for consolation honors 13-15, 15-6, 16-18.

"The Gold team was by far one of the best teams in the tournament," stated Coach Lynda Jackson. "Our team was one of the few in the tournament that was trying to set and spike the ball while the others were simply bumping the ball over the net. The girls did miss some crucial serves that were costly."

Girls seeing action on the Gold team were Connie Weber, Vanessa White, Laura Fortune, Demetra Cobb, Suzanne Fisher, Kim Harlin and Norma Garcia.

The 9th Grade Black team drew a first round bye, then lost to Lamesa 6-15, 8-15; and, also lost to Plains for third place, 5-15, 13-15.

"This was the Black teams first game this year and they had trouble getting started. In their game against Lamesa their defense and hustle looked very good in spots."

Girls seeing action on the Black team were Jill Kidd, Betsey Patterson, Billie Owens, Lana Hill, Peggy Fletcher, Susan Minor and Lori McCormick.

The Gold team meets Big Spring tonight at 7 for their first home game while the Black meets Colorado City Thursday for their first home game.

High School Leaders Fall

By The Associated Press

Two new No. 1 teams are likely in The Associated Press Texas schoolboy football Top Tens this week, while three others should hold their top positions.

Top-ranked Brazoswood of Class 4A lost 21-0 to Houston Memorial Friday and Class B kingpin Rochester was held to a 12-12 tie by Munday, opening the way for ambitious replacements.

Second-ranked Sherman—35-0 victor over Denton—is the best bet in 4A, with Houston Kashmere and Odessa Permian also hopeful.

Class B heirs to the top spot are second-ranked Chico and No. 3 Gorman, who won by a total of 100-0.

In Class 3A, top-ranked Beaumont Hebert outscored 4A crosstown rival Charlton-Pollard while No. 2 Gainesville and No. 3 Ennis were idle.

Third-ranked Kermit was the only 2A team to falter, while No. 1 Rockdale toppled Taylor.

Third-ranked Barber's Hill and 10th-rated Clyde of the Class A Top Ten lost to Class 2A teams. First-ranked Aledo and No. 2 Big Sandy both captured their second triumphs.

Nightmare For Top 10 Coaches

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Saturday was indeed the loneliest night of the week for Nebraska's Tom Osborne, Alabama's Bear Bryant, Darrell Royal of Texas and newcomer John Robinson of Southern California.

"That No. 1 label was put on us by the pollsters," Osborne sighed after his top-rated Cornhuskers were held to an embarrassing 6-6 standoff by unher-alded Louisiana State in the season opener.

However, when some of the evening's other results trickled in, Osborne probably considered himself lucky to have escaped with a tie. Bryant and sixth-ranked Alabama bowed to Mississippi 10-7, Royal and seventh-ranked Texas dropped a 14-13 squeaker to Boston College and Missouri lightning struck again when the Tigers trounced No. 8 Southern Cal 46-25 and spoiled Robinson's head coaching debut as John McKay's successor. Last year Missouri upset Alabama in its opener.

The Top Ten got an inkling of what was to come on Thursday night when No. 17 UCLA kayoed third-ranked Arizona State 28-10.

The staggering succession of upsets also struck some members of the Second Ten, although two of those losers played other ranked teams. Tony Dorsett of ninth-ranked Pitt terrorized No. 11 Notre Dame again to the tune of 181 rushing yards in a 31-10 rout that marked the first opening-game loss in 13 years for the Fighting Irish.

Georgia, No. 16, overcame No. 15 California 36-24 in a wild free-for-all; unranked North Carolina, last week's conqueror of 20th-ranked Miami of Ohio, picked on No. 18 Florida this time by a 24-21 count and Miami, winner of but one game in three years, dropped to 0-2 with a stunning 21-16 loss to Marshall.

Booster Club Session Set

The Snyder Booster Club will have the Snyder High School Freshman Football squad as guests at its meeting tonight in the high school cafeteria. The meeting is set for 7 p.m.

A film of the Snyder-Borger game of last Friday night will be shown and a scouting report will be given on the Big Spring Steers, this week's opponents of the Tigers.

Everyone interested in the Snyder Public School athletic program is urged to attend the meeting and join the Booster Club.
