Mexico Storm Toll High

Rains Halt Area Harvest Of Cotton

Moderate to heavy rains brought cotton harvest operations to a halt in the Snyder area, today.

Meanwhile, the Weather Bureau predicted that more mositure, plus colder weather, could be expected during the next two days.

Snyder had an official measurement of 1.4 inches of moisture as heavy showers moved through the area early today.

Other reports indicated that rains were general, although amounts varied over the county from about half an inch to nearly two inches.

The heaviest fall report was 1.8 about two and one-half miles northeast of Hermleigh, while the fall northeast of Snyder ranged from .7 to 1.4.

Snow warnings were posted in the Panhandle as a major storm moved down from the Rocky Mountains.

The Weather Bureau said the Dalhart area can expect several inches of snow.

The rest of Northwest Texas can look for showers and thundershowers through the weekend, the agency said.

Clouds which covered all of Texas left rain over wide sections of the state during the night, and the Weather Bureau radar at Fort Worth noted showers in the area bounded by McKinney, Denton and north of Dallas at dawn Friday.

Other rain fell at Austin, Dallas, Lubbock, Tyler, Longview and Dalhart, with drizzle reported at Junction and fog at San Antonio.

A cold front which moved in ahead of the main air mass from Canada settled across West Texas during the night on a line from northwest Oklahoma to Roswell, N.M.

SAFE, SANE HALLOWEEN URGED BY CITY POLICE

This year, as every year in the past, it is the wish of the Snyder police department, according to Chief Travis Steele that the youngsters have all the fun tomorrow—Halloween—that befits the occasion.

However, such fun, he pointed out, does not include malicious damage, theft, or other depredations that are a far cry from the door-bell ringing, window-soaping and other harmless pranks usually performed by small fry.

Neither does it include the egg-throwing incidents, of which three were reported Thursday night between 8 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. Nor does it include throwing soda pop bottles through an oncoming car's windshield—also reported last night.

Chief Steele said that additional units will patrol Snyder streets tomorrow night, extra men will be on duty and extra measures will be taken to thwart, or apprehend, youngsters bent on malicious mischief. He added that he hopes precautions are to prove unnecessary.

School and church functions are slated—CROP solicitors will be coming around for donations—youngsters masked as goblins, spooks and witches will be at doors for "trick or treat" (and the wise will treat)—and other participants will be loose on All Hallow's E'en.

This is good; this is in the spirit of Americans; this is the heritage of every youngster.

It is also the responsibility of every youngster—and adult—to keep his or her Halloween festivities within the bounds of law and reason.

Tomorrow—as every day— privilege and responsibility go hand-in-hand.

Area Plagued By Scorpions

By CHARLES H. GUPTILL

COLIMA, Mexico (AP) — With 1,000 or more believed dead from a sneak hurricane and widespread floods, the dazed people of this smallest of Mexico's 23 states today struggled against privation and swarms of poisonous scorpions.

The disaster — Mexico's worst in recent history — covered an area on the Pacific Coast slightly larger than New Jersey with a population of about 100,000.

The violent storm that roared through the port of Manzanillo Tuesday and the floods that followed drove thousands from homes, knocked over communication lines and overran highways, hindering rescue efforts.

The dead may include three U.S. women who were aboard a small coastal freighter apparently lost at sea.

Colima State Gov. Rodolfo Chavez Carrillo estimated that about 800 persons were killed in Minatitlan, a farming village of about 1,000 located 24 miles northwest of Colima.

Other preliminary fatality figures included: Manzanillo, 74; Tecoman, 16; Cihuatlan, in adjoining Jalisco state, 14; Coahuayana, in Michoacan state, 7.

The federal government officially put the known dead at 438 but conceded that many hundreds were missing.

The navy announced that 21 of 38 persons who had been aboard the 1,800-ton freighter Sinaloa were missing. The navy report did not say whether the rescued included the three American women passengers—Lucille Pette, 35, Laguna Beach, Calif.; and Margaret Gower, 45, and her mother Viva Whaley Harris, 63, both of Acapulco and formerly of San Bernardino, Calif.

Emergency appeals for food, clothing and medicine continued throughout most of the disaster area despite round-the-clock supply drops by all available planes and helicopters.

There were urgent calls for vaccine against the deadly sting of scorpions—driven from their nests in flood-crumbled adobe walls.

"Thousands of persons have been stung and need inoculations," Gov. Chavez Carrillo reported. "Scorpions are everywhere."

He reported that 100 bodies already had been buried in Minatitlan, another 100 were still to be buried and officials believed that possibly 600 more would be found in the rubble.

The hurricane fell upon an unsuspecting area. It crept up the West Coast, bypassed Acapulco and its big resort hotels, and moved on at a torpid 18 miles per hour. The Weather Bureau figured it would veer out to the west, into the Pacific. Instead, it angled sharply to the east and fell upon Manzanillo, a sleepy fishing port of about 7,000 population.

Railroad-Union Issue To Be Aired Sunday

CHICAGO (AP)—The most explosive issue between the nation's railroads and railroad unions—a controversy that has brought threats of a possible nationwide strike—will come out in the open Sunday.

The carriers will make their formal proposals for changing the rules that have governed railroad work for more than four decades.

The railroads call the work agreements "featherbedding" — forced payment for work not done or needed. They claim the practices they want to eliminate are obsolete and wasteful and cost them more than 500 million dollars a year.

The unions counter that the working rules are essential to insure safe and efficient railroad transportation. They claim that railroad workers have a higher record of increased productivity than any other class of workers.

The management proposals will reach union officials Monday or Tuesday. Industry spokesmen estimate that if neither side yields or compromises in later negotiations, a legal nationwide strike could be called by around next April 1. Dispute-handling provisions of the Railway Labor Act would prevent a legal walkout over the issue before that date.

If a nationwide strike is called, more than 800,000 railroad workers would be made idle.

Wage negotiations are deadlocked with three key unions. A walkout over this issue conceivably could come as early as next January if all settlement and delaying efforts fail.

The unions have demanded a 12 per cent pay boost and the carriers countered with a proposal they take a 15-cent hourly pay cut.

A three-year moritorium expires Monday on the working rules affecting 210,000 employes engaged in the actual operation of the trains.

Management planned its frontal attack on the work agreements several months ago. Handley Wright, vice president of the Association of American Railroads, said the action was prompted by "dire economic necessity and we are dead serious."

The railroads have run large ads in newspapers across the country headed, "Railroad Featherbedding, $500,000,000. Loss Every Year—and It's Your Loss Too."

This management campaign has drawn the ire of union leaders. The Railway Labor Executives Assn. has planned a massive labor rally in Chicago Nov. 5 billed as "rail labor's counterattack upon the industry's propaganda campaign."

900 Bleacher Seats Available For Game

There will be approximately 900 seats in general admission bleachers for early arrivals at tonight's Snyder-Sweetwater football game, the school business office reported this morning.

Although all reserved seats in the main stadium have been sold, approximately 500 seats in west side bleachers and 400 in the east side bleachers will be available on a first come, first served basis. After the bleachers are filled, there will be standing room only.

General Division Of UF Drive Set

Joe Williamson, local automobile dealer, will head the Scurry County United Fund's largest division from the standpoint of manpower.

Williamson's appointment as chairman of the general solicitation division was announced today by Dr. Robert Hargrove, general campaign chairman.

The division will require some 60 workers to contact all of its prospects during the campaign for funds which will be launched within the next few days.

Williamson reported this morning that he had appointed his three section chairman. The section chairmen named are Walter Hales, Dr. John Hamblen and Guy Sullivan.

Each of the section chairmen will recruit five team captains, and then each team captain will recruit five campaign workers.

The United Fund will seek $42,500 in its annual campaign this year. The funds will be used to support the operations of seven participating agencies during the coming year.

JOE WILLIAMSON

Several other divisions of the campaign already are well advanced in the process of organization, and all are expected to have full personnel when their respective drives are kicked off.

Carmichael Rites Pending

Funeral services for Lewis C. Carmichael, 80-year-old former furniture store owner here and earlier a resident of Post who died in Hendricks Memorial Hospital, Abilene, at 6:30 a.m. today, were incomplete at noon.

Carmichael had been ill for about two and one-half months immediately prior to his death.

He had lived in Snyder for the past 11 years where he founded the furniture store that bore his name until being taken over in 1953 by a son-in-law, M. M. O'Rear. Carmichael came here from Post, where he operated a variety store.

He was born in Mississippi April 30, 1879. He was a member of the First Baptist Church here, from which funeral services will be conducted at the time and date yet to be announced by Bolger Funeral Home, in charge of arrangements.

He married Miss Gertrude Busby in 1901. She preceded him in death in 1923.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. M. M. O'Rear, a Snyder High School English teacher, and Mrs. R. T. Holmes, of Albuquerque, N. M., and two granddaughters, Mrs. Wilda Parker, Albuquerque, N.M., and Mrs. Floyd Farrington, Dallas.

Four great grandchildren also survive.

Three Children Die In Fire At Amarillo

AMARILLO (AP)—Three small children burned to death in a fire that destroyed their home here today.

They were children of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Choate. They were Sonja, 1¼ years old; Mike, 4, and Terry, 5. Sonja and Mike died in the flames and Terry died en route to a hospital.

Mrs. Choate was hospitalized for burns and shock.

SHOULDA' BEEN HOME STUDYIN'

Some enterprising student could have better-spent Thursday night on much-needed self-improvement if a sign found lettered on a cosmetic shop on the south side of Snyder's square Friday morning is any criteria.

The enthusiastic scholar had brushed on 'Beat Sweatwater.'

Perhaps a session with a geography or spelling book would be in order while the Snyder-Sweetwater tilt is being played.

Seven Young Children Perish In Slum Area Dwelling Fire

OTTUMWA, Iowa, (AP) — Seven young children, crowded into a small two-room house with a baby sitter, died today when fire destroyed the slum area dwelling.

The baby sitter, Sharon Ann Dooley, 14, owes her life to a fireman who was familiar with the house, having helped remodel it several years ago.

Six of the victims were children of Patricia Van Horne, about 28, who police said was out with Lorraine Campbell, whose only child, Carla, 4, also was killed.

The Van Horne children were Karen Rae, 9; Sharon Kay, 7; Patty Sue, 6; LeRoy, 4; Debra Ann, 2; and Cynthia, 1.

The bodies of the children were huddled in the kitchen, which had a small window. They apparently suffocated. The Dooley girl suffered burns over two-thirds of her body and was in critical condition. She was found with the dead children.

Authorities were not immediately able to determine the cause of the blaze.

Police said a coal stove was apparently the only means of heating the frame house, but it showed no evidence of having been fired, they said.

The fire burned across the front of the house first, they said, blocking the only door.

Mrs. Campbell, whose truck driver husband, Carl, is reported in Illinois, suffered shock and was taken to a hospital. Mrs. Van Horne refused to comment, police said.

Police said Mrs. Van Horne's husband, Herman, disappeared last February. The mother was unemployed, they said, and the children received state aid.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Tom Anderson Sr., grandmother of the Van Horne children. Anderson, who lives about half a block away, was unable to get into the house.

Fireman Bob Knox, who had worked on the house, donned a smoke mask and got into the dwelling through a window.

Castro Directs Search For Vanished Military Leader

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro took personal charge today of an air hunt for Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos, a key military leader who vanished Wednesday on a flight from Camaguey toward Havana.

Cienfuegos, 28, served in the arrest Oct. 21 of the Camaguey province military commander, Maj. Hubert Matos.

Cienfuegos made the arrest as the army's commander in chief. Castro later assigned him to take over the provincial command, a subordinate job.

A widespread search began Thursday for Cienfuegos and two companions. They were long overdue then in completing the 300-mile hop to the capital. There was no immediate explanation for the delay in announcing that he was missing.

Castro flew to the Camaguey area, east of Havana, in his personal plane. Among officers accompanying him was Cienfuegos' brother, Capt. Osmany Cienfuegos chief of the army's Department of Culture.

The twin-engine Cessna carrying the army chief, a pilot and one soldier, sent a routine radio report to headquarters an hour after taking off from Camaguey at 6 p.m. Nothing further was heard.

The Cuban Cabinet went into another long session Thursday night that didn't break up until 11 p.m. The announcement of Cienfuegos' disappearance came two hours later.

Meanwhile, a Cuban Supreme Court judge disclosed the revived military tribunals will try all persons charged with conspiring against the regime, including those whose case are currently pending before civil courts.

Two Americans are among the estimated 200 in jail accused of counterrevolutionary activities. They are Austin Frank Young of Miami, Fla., and Peter John Lambton of Philadelphia and Nassau. Both have been accused of homocide, which can carry the death penalty on conviction.

Air Force Testing Big Rocket Engine

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Air Force says it is now testing its most powerful rocket engine to date — the 400,000-pound-thrust Rocketdyne E1.

Details of the heretofore secret engine were disclosed by Air Force spokesmen Thursday. They said Rocketdyne, a division of North American Aviation, is testing the E1 at its nearby Santa Susana plant.

Spokesmen said the E1 is not presently scheduled for any specific space vehicle. A cluster of four E1s could theoretically put a 25,000-pound object into a 100-mile orbit or place a one-ton object on the moon.

Driver Saved In Highway Miracle

One truck driver escaped almost certain death early Thursday mornng through the "miraculous" driving, as an investigating patrolman described it, of another truck driver headed in the opposite direction.

The accident leading up to the "miracle" occurred about 2:15 this morning some five or six miles east of Gail within a ten-mile stretch of Borden county road that has claimed, in October, three lives, injured five persons and become known as a "Valley of Death" when its surface is rain-dampened.

The fortunate survivor is Arthur Dee Greenway, 24, believed to live on Route 4, Cleburne. He was in Harris Hospital at Fort Worth today after being transferred there for surgery from Cogdell Memorial Hospital where he had been brought in a Bell Funeral Home ambulance following the accident.

He was believed to be suffering from serious injuries about the head, incurred when his 1954 White grain truck-trailer combination went out of control, swerved from side-to-side of the road, knocking down highway posts leading onto a bridge and throwing him from the careening vehicle onto the pavement of the bridge.

He was traveling west at the time, according to Patrolman Will Cleveland, who investigated.

Greenway's truck came to a halt on the left, or South side of the bridge, and blocked that side completely.

He was thrown onto the pavement on the north side, the proper path for west-bound traffic, and lay there stunned.

Within seconds, an eastbound 1952 White truck driven by Elvin Wallace Houk, 31, 3120 Forty-seventh street, Lubbock, neared the

Mitchell May Be Forced To Eat Fedora

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, who promised to eat his hat if unemployment didn't drop below three million in October, apparently will dine on fedora next month.

The jobless total dropped all right, but failed to go below three million because of layoffs caused by the steel strike.

The advance word on unemployment was brought here from Washington, D.C., by government officials attending the fall meeting of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council, which opened today.

They indicated privately that figures to be issued about Nov. 10 will show unemployment within 100,000 or so of Mitchell's figure. That would be roughly a million less than for October a year ago and 1½ million under the 4½ of last February when the secretary made his not-so-rash prediction.

The goal would have achieved easily if the steel strike hadn't idle some 325,000 workers in allied industries. The strikers themselves are not counted as unemployed in the census reckoning.

The other half of Mitchell's forecast — that employment would climb above 67 million—is expected to come true. The number of job-holders rose to 67 million-plus this month, informants said.

The more than 100 members of the advisory council here, including the heads of many of the country's biggest corporations, scheduled a closed-door appraisal of the domestic economy with Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller and other officials.

Steelworkers Try Again To Make Peace With Big Firms

By JOHN MOODY

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The United Steelworkers — heartened by agreement with a third small company — try again to make peace with major steel firms in the 108 - day nationwide steel strike.

The union and Granite City Steel Co. signed a new labor pact Thursday night. It followed the same pattern as union agreements with Kaiser Steel Corp. and Detroit Steel Corp. earlier in the week.

Granite City, the nation's 17th largest producer, employs 3,250 workers in mills in Granite City, Ill., with capacity to produce 1,440,000 tons of steel a year. The company had been operating under terms of a contract extension.

The newest agreement came several hours after top-level negotiators for the union and the industry's Big 11 companies failed to make any progress in a meeting that lasted nearly three hours.

Government mediators told the top negotiators to meet in Washington Monday unless they can reach agreement before then. A settlement before Monday seemed unlikely.

A Taft-Hartley injunction to end the dispute for at least 80 days also is hanging over the heads of the negotiators and the half million strikers. Enforcement of the injunction has been delayed by the union's appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The three contracts signed so far provide package increases valued by the union at 22½ cents an hour during the 20-month agreement periods. All three companies say they do not expect any immediate prices increases.

The big producers say such agreements would force them to raise steel prices and thus contribute to inflation.

The big issues in the top - level dispute concern the union's demands for higher wages and the industry's insistance on changes in the contract to give management more say in mill operations.

Steelworkers were earning an average of $3.11 an hour when the strike started.

The strike—longest nationwide dispute in the indstry's history—has cost steelworkers more than a billion dollars in wages and steel companies at least four billion dollars in lost business.

In addition, some 325,000 workers in allied industries have been laid off. General Motors, the nation's largest auto manufacturer, announced it would halt all but a few scattered operations by tonight.

Steel shortages are growing critical throughout the nation.

Doctor's Plea Is Aid To Prisoner

A prisoner's son, and a Plainview doctor, came to the legal rescue of a Latin-American Thursday afternoon and their combined efforts effected the defendant's release from Scurry county jail where he was serving a 40-day sentence meted him Oct. 22.

Released following a revised judgment rendered by County Judge J. Ray Martin was Carlos G. Trevino, Plainview resident.

Trevino, described as five feet five inches tall and well-mustached, was released from jail after transporting liquor after Snyder police stopped him in connection with running a stop sign. They found a liberal quantity of Mexico brandy in his sedan delivery car. He was turned over to the county for prosecution.

Trevino's son, whose name was not immediately available, had prevailed upon a Plainview physician to send a letter to Judge Martin in which the doctor said the defendant has been treated by me on several occasions for severe bronchial asthma and chronic bronchitis."

"He also," the letter continued, "has hypertensive cardiovascular disease."

The writer recommended Trevino be kept on a low salt diet while, as the letter said, he is a "guest" of Scurry county.

Judge Martin reduced the 30-day sentence to one of ten days which with two days off for good behavior, allowed Trevino to go free after eight days.

Trevino also was assessed a $400 fine plus costs of $23.50 when he first appeared and entered a guilty plea. These sums remained in effect. The appeal was entered through Snyder attorney W. James Rosser.

In announcing his decision, Judge Martin said that a county judge has plenary (undisputed) authority over his judgments during a "time term," and can amend, correct or change them until becoming final at the expiration of a term.

In this instance, a "term" refers to that period running from the first Monday of an odd month until the first Monday of the next odd month. Thus Judge Martin was by law, authorized to alter before Nov. 2 any judgment rendered between Sept. 7, and Nov. 2, 1959.

In other court action, Thursday J. C. Smith, whose address was listed on a bad check submitted in evidence as Rt. 3, Box 377, $23, plus costs of $23.50 following her plea of "nolo contendere" to a charge of swindling by worthless check.

This morning her husband appeared at the office of County Attorney George Killam Jr. and paid off some half-dozen checks, including the one for which she was charged, which had been brought to the attention of the county attorney.

Fire Alarm Proves False

The Snyder fire department responded to an alarm about 5 p.m. Thursday following a telephoned report that the Central Elementary School was on fire.

The alarm proved to be false, Chief Durward Porter said, and added that he "thought it was when it was turned in" since the caller had a "young voice".

"However, firemen answer all alarms even though it means endangering their lives, the lives of citizens and risking costly equipment. In the case of false alarms, unfortunately, the risk is both needless and dangerous," Porter said.

"It also ties up equipment and firemen that may be badly needed in event of a bona fide emergency," he added.

Gail Sews Up Title, Wins 44-12

GAIL—Those rock 'em, sock 'em Coyotes completed their regular season here tonight, the victory assuring another unbeaten, untied season on the part of the formidable eight-manners. Flower Grove was the victim this time by a 44-12 score, and the win constituted Gail's thirty-third triumph in a row.

All of the Coyote scoring was run up in the first three quarters, as quarterback Steve Stevens got the ball rolling early in the game on a wicked touchdown thrust. Oscar Ovalle picked up the extra points after a pretty play put Gail into an 8-0 lead going into the second quarter.

The Coyotes went into high gear the second stanza, counting three times. The first was on a five-yard end-sweep by halfback Larry Doyle, and this was followed by a 35-yard scoring scamper on the part of Stevens once again. The extra points were made after this score on a pass from quarterback Carroll Ramsey to Ralph Williams. Prior to halftime, Gail came through again, as Doyle pounded through the line on a dive play and broke loose on a 75-yard scoring scamper. That brought the count up to 28-0 at the half.

Coyote third stanza point-making was initiated by Doyle, who rammed over from six yards out, after which Sonny Anderson contributed the bonus points. Later in the quarter a 30-yard pass from Stevens to Dennis Decker netted Gail its final touchdown, and the conversion was added on a Stevens to Mike Stephens aerial.

Flower Grove tallied once in the third quarter on a jaunt by halfback Dan Lemons, and added another in the last quarter as Holcomb went five yards for a touchdown. Neither conversion was good.

The victory cinched the district title for the Coyotes, with their probable bi-district opponent being Sterling City.

Says Whip Is Answer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—James C. White, 57, a law enforcement agent for 42 years, advocates a return to public whipping to straighten out youth gangs.

White, of Austin, is in Dallas for a conference of former FBI agents. He was with the FBI from 1924 to 1947. His career including fights with rum runners and the predawn battle in Florida in 1935 in which Kate (Ma) Barker and her son Fred were slain.

In an interview Thursday he said youngsters who cannot be straightened out need humiliating, not pampering.

"Kids need whipping at home and in public too. The old public whipping post ought to be used again. Nowadays, you have to raise children right or they'll grow up to be criminals," he said.

"Why, Baby Face Nelson was a car thief and rum runner when he started out at the age of 15 or 16, and before he was through, he killed three FBI agents."

scene but Houk was unaware of the circumstances since the Greenway truck's lights had been demolished.

In a fraction of a second, as Houk's lights scanned the scene—including Greenway's prone body on the north side of the road—Houk made a split-second decision that saved Greenway's life . . . he veered his truck to the wrong side of the road, straddled Greenway's body and passed over it, apparently without touching the injured man.

Houk's truck, owned by the Brown Supply Co., Lubbock, was damaged about $90 when it brushed the side of the bridge. Cleveland said only a three-foot clearance was available for Houk to wheel his vehicle through.

Greenway's truck incurred some $4,000 damages, it was reported.

Houk was uninjured.

Patrolman Cleveland was unstinting in his praise for Houk's driving but at the same time issued a stern warning for motorists to beware of the Borden county strip that has been the site of so many tragedies lately.

Negro Hunted As Suspect In Rape

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A manhunt was on today after a San Antonio housewife reported she was raped by a large Negro man.

The woman, 31, said she had stopped to wipe off the windshield of her car during a light rain when the Negro approached.

She said he knocked her into the seat of her car and she fainted. When she awoke, she said, she found the man had driven to another section of San Antonio and attacked her. He fled when she revived. The woman was treated for cuts and bruises.

King Of Laos Is Dead At Age 74

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

LUANG PRABANG, Laos (AP)—King Sisavang Vong of Laos, the world's senior monarch, died Thursday night during a lull in his tiny Indochina kingdom's fight for survival against the threat of Communist rebels.

The 74-year-old King passed away in his red-roofed, gold-spired palace on the Mekong River where he has lain for five years, bed-ridden with rheumatism and neck cancer.

Crown Prince Savang Vathana, appointed regent by his ailing father two months ago, becomes ruler of the revolt-torn land of a million elephants and the white parasol.

The Paris-educated, 52-year-old prince has already been acting as commander in chief of the 25,000-man, U.S.-equipped Laotian army in the campaign to crush a Red revolt.

Prince Savang has visited America twice. In 1952 he led the Laotian delegation at the San Francisco conference to sign the peace treaty with Japan, and three years ago he made a state visit.

His father, a direct descendant of the 1,000-year-old Khoun Lo dynasty of south China, was ardently pro-French. He was born on France's national holiday, July 14, 1885, was educated at the French Colonial College in Paris, and in 1904 ascended the throne.

With France controlling his domain as a protectorate, Sisavang's monarchy was largely a decorative institution. In 1947, at French prodding, he promulgated a constitution making Laos a constitutional monarchy, and in 1949 France recognized Laotian independence.

Savang as king will probably play a much stronger role in the government of Laos than his father did. A new constitution is being prepared for submission to the national Congress by Christmas giving more power to the king.

Sisavang, mixed Western informality with Oriental tradition in reigning over his 2½ million subjects.

He had about 25 wives and 38 children. Only one wife, Queen Khamphanh, was regarded as official.

Cleveland Character Shot Down

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—While his wife listened to his screams, Michael Sperrazzo, 50, was shot to death in gangland style outside his suburban Shaker Heights home today. Two gunmen in a black sedan fled the scene.

Sperrazzo has a record of arrests for gambling, bootlegging and receiving stolen property. He served a year in Auburn, N. Y., in 1923 on a charge of receiving stolen property.

He was known under the aliases of Albert Rudzing, Ruddy Raymond and Ralp La Mont, police said.

Mrs. Sperrazzo told police she heard someone screaming outside the house and when she raised a window and looked out she saw two figures struggling in the driveway. Then there were shots.

Lt. Edward Havel said the killers apparently were waiting in ambush when Sperrazzo parked his car in his garage shortly after 5 a.m.

Mrs. Sperrazzo, 49, said her husband had left the house at 9:30 last night and she did not know where he had gone. Their son, Frank, 11, was with her in the house.

Lt. Martin P. Cooney, head of the Cleveland racket squad, said Sperrazzo was known as the operator of a floating dice game. His criminal record dated back to 1914, when he was arrested in Buffalo as a delinquent in a burglary.

Retake Scheduled For Controversial Scenes

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (AP)—In a bow to public opinion, 20th Century-Fox plans to retake depression scenes filmed at nearby Charleston.

The popular outcry was over what local critics called the "skid row" look of extras who portrayed unemployed in a breadline. The scenes were filmed Thursday.

"There were plenty of us walked the streets in those day, unable to find work," said one resident. "Our clothes got pretty threadbare but we kept them clean. We didn't look like that."

Extras hired for today's rot were told to dress "like the typical east Tennessean of the depression days."

The movie, not yet named, depicts early days in the development of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Marriage To Iranian Off

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Two years ago a young Iranian student married an American girl while studying here. Last year he was ordered home by his parents.

His wife Cleo stayed here—because he feared his parents objected to the East-West marriage.

Mrs. Sarraf Thursday obtained an uncontested divorce from Hadi A. A. Sarraf. A letter from Sarraf explained that his mother didn't object to the marriage, but his father wouldn't tolerate it.

"He (the father) swears he will divorce her if we stay married," Sarraf said. "I cannot destroy a complete family because of my selfish welfare. I had to sacrifice to avert complete disaster to a family of 10 boys and girls, many of them still young.

"I envy you because you are free and can do what you like. Pray for me because I need it badly. All my love always."

Say Slaying Is Justified

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ellis Trauernicht, stamp collector and writer, was released Thursday after a coroner's jury ruled the pistol slaying of Dr. Harry Sorkin was justifiable homicide. But the case is scheduled to go to the grand jury.

The 49-year-old Trauernicht claimed self-defense. He said Sorkin, a prominent psychologist, invaded the Trauernicht home in a rage and beat him. Trauernicht, a bachelor, lives with his elderly parents.

At the inquest, Trauernicht's 77-year-old mother said Dr. Sorkin accused her son of being too attentive to Mrs. Sorkin, nationally known business consultant, writer and lecturer.

The grand jury is to hear the case when 45-year-old Cylvia Sorkin can testify. She was not at the inquest. A doctor said she was in shock.

Patricia Ann Wyatt Honored Wednesday Evening

A Gift Tea was held in fellowship hall of the Trinity Methodist Church Wednesday evening, honoring Patricia Ann Wyatt, bride-elect of Leonard Groves.

A color scheme of champagne and gold was carried out with the room decorations, highlighted by a beautiful refreshment table. The table was laid with an ecru damask cloth with appointments in crystal and silver. Five pink candles in silver candelabra flanked an unusual centerpeice of pink rose buds on a silver and pink net tree. Ceramic cupids nestled on the center candle of each candelabra.

Pink rose buds also graced the registration table, presided over by Mrs. Skeet Jones. Mrs. Jones was in charge of the decorations.

Mrs. M. E. Williams and Mrs. Dave Shaeffer poured.

Mrs. Nan Lee and her girls ensemble, the Junior High Choral Group, provided several special musical selections for the evening.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Dave Shaeffer, Mrs. Loy Neeper, Mrs. Max von Roeder, Mrs. Tom McKinnon, Miss Ellen Shelburn, Mrs. Roy Meador, Mrs. Aubrey Cox, Mrs. Skeet Jones, Mrs. Jack Bowden, Mrs. Dale Clemmer, Mrs. M. E. Williams, Mrs. Ray Atkinson, Mrs. M. L. Galloway, Mrs. Bill Starnes and Mrs. E. M. Powledge.

Miss Wyatt is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Elton Wyatt. Her fiance is the son of Mrs. W. E. McMillan of Hermleigh. The couple will exchange vows Nov. 6, at the Trinity Methodist Church.

Clothes Closet Always Open

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Imagine arriving in a cold climate with seven children to clothe after spending several years in equatorial Africa.

That's the problem a group of Presbyterian church women had in mind six years ago when they started The Mission Closet, a clothes-lending institution primarily for missionaries and their families.

"But the clothes aren't the type that come out of 'missionary barrels,'" emphasizes Mrs. Paul Kesler, chairman of the group.

"Missionaries usually spend their furlough time studying here and speaking at many churches," she says. "We try to provide clothing that will let them appear not just presentable, but better than average."

Often missionaries come here with clothing unsuited to the climate, she says. Or the style of dress common in the mission country may be out of place here. Sometimes the missionaries have large families.

The Mission Closet gets clothing churches in Kentucky, Indiana, Tennessee and Missouri.

Most of the missionaries return their furloughs end, Mrs. Kesler says. However, they may keep the clothing if they wish.

The clothing also is made available to students at the Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary and their families.

Missionaries passing through Louisville can shop at the free closet, too.

All clothing is put to use. Out-of-fashion or worn items are boxed and sent where they can be used.

Major Oak Enemy Lurks In Leaves That Are Fallen

Keep the home grounds fires burning to destroy fallen oak leaves that were blotched this past growing season.

In so doing, you will be protecting pet white and red oaks against a pest that promises to be particularly active next Summer. It is the oak leaf miner, which can seriously weaken trees through destruction of their food manufacturing centers, the leaves.

The pest was particularly prevalent in the East this past year and, unless extreme sanitary measures are taken this Fall, will be even worse next year. The oak leaf miner gets its name from the larvae that mine large areas of the leaf between the upper and lower leaf surfaces. The pest overwinters in fallen leaves. The mature insect emerges in the Spring, flying to newly developing oak leaves.

A nefarious cycle continues when the insect lays its eggs and the new generation, with its insatiable appetite, begins mining the host leaf. The leaf miner is one of the few borer insects whose undercover operations can be seen. In the Spring, it can be observed chewing away by holding an infested leaf up to the light.

Sanitation alone is an important weapon against the miner. It also is important to spray with lindane or malathion next Spring when the newly hatched miners become evident within the leaves.

Scrambled Eggs

INGREDIENTS: 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons milk, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese, 1 tablespoon butter.

METHOD: Beat eggs; add milk and salt; beat to combine. Heat butter until it hisses in hot skillet; add egg mixture. Using medium heat, as portions of egg set, stir them into thin part; lightly stir in cheese. Remove with wide spatula or large spoon. Serve at once. This makes 1 serving; increase quantities as needed.

Housewife, Ike Share Same View

ATALNTA (AP) — How does it feel to cruise around in the car President Eisenhower uses on his visits to Georgia?

"Things look the same outside from this car as they do from ours," was the reaction of Mrs. Sandy Orowski, who recently took her first limousine trip—in the Presidential car.

The ride for Mrs. Orowski, an engineer's wife, was arranged by a newspaperwoman through a motor company publicity man. With a reporter as chauffeur and the newspaperwoman for company in the back seat, Mrs. Orowski stepped into the black air conditioned car at her home in nearby Sandy Springs.

The first place she wanted to go was to school to pick up her 12-year-old son Stanley. The gadget-loaded car caused a near riot as his classmates sought a closer look at the shiny auto.

'Ha! You didn't believe me when I said it was coming for me did you?" Stanley gloated at a chum.

"Aw, nuts," replied the classmate as Stanley hopped in the car, "thought you said the President was coming for you."

The $6,500 auto purred to a stop at another school to pick up third-grader Helen Orowski. The folks at her school apparently were not as interested as Stanley's classmates. Nobody but Helen met the car.

"Gosh," she said, "with all the pretty gray leather inside it looks like a coffin."

"The funny thing," remarked Mrs. Orowski, "is that riding in this car I feel the President must be a human being, too."

As the cruise continued Mrs. Orowski began what must have been the first ukulele performance in a Presidential car. Strumming a Hawaiian melody, she explained "We take this everywhere we go to ward off fidgets and tiredness."

"This is so relaxing," Mrs. Orowski said on the way home. "How does the President ever get anything serious done?"

Peanut Butter Honey Crescents

INGREDIENTS: 2 packages active dry yeast, ¼ cup warm water, ¾ cup scalded milk, ½ cup shortening, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 4½ cups sifted flour, peanut butter honey filling, butter or margarine (melted).

METHOD: Sprinkle yeast over water; stir until dissolved. To hot scalded milk, add shortening, sugar and salt; cool. Add to yeast mixture with eggs. Add 1 cup of the flour and beat (at least 60 strokes) until mixture is thoroughly combined. Continue to beat in flour, ½ cup at a time, adding enough to make a dough that clings to itself in a ball. Cover bowl and refrigerate 24 hours. Divide into fourths. Roll out each piece on a floured board into an 11-inch circle ⅛-inch thick. Cut each round into 8 pie-shaped wedges. Spread with peanut butter honey filling. Roll starting from wide side and bend to form crescent. Dip each roll into melted butter or margarine and set two inches apart on greased baking sheet. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk (1½ to 2 hours). Bake in hot (450 degrees) oven 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 2½ dozen. Peanut Butter Honey Filling: Blend 2-3 cup peanut butter, 2-3 cup honey, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon allspice and 1 teaspoon cinnamon; spread on crescent wedges.

DOUBLE TREAT

Double dessert and doubly nutritious: top creamy ice pudding with small squares of a bright fruit-flavored gelatin dessert.

RE-USE IT

When you wish to re-use a piece of transparent plastic wrapping, spread it out on a flat surface and rub briskly with a clean dry cloth to restore clinging power.

BETTER FLAVOR

Lots of minced chives added to creamed potatoes makes a big and dilightful flavor difference!

Frustration Has Real Pleasant Flavor Now

By MADALYN BALDWIN

TOKYO (AP) — An American wife who stopped in Honolulu on her way home after a three - year tour in Japan, so an oft-told story here goes, walked into a supermarket and promptly forgot all about her airplane — which flew off without her.

Whether or not the story is true, the woman who has kept house in Japan finds the thought of doing her weekly shopping in one store a bright impossible dream.

To shop in Japan you go from store to store to store, some of them blocks or miles apart. The shops are small and specialized. One sells meats, another fruits and still another vegetables. Canned goods and staples are found somewhere else.

Breakfast Sake

We buy our corn flakes at the sake shop, which for some reason sells only sake (Japan's mild rice wine), beer and corn flakes.

However, Tokyo boasts some of the world's great department stores. You can buy almost anything offered in American stores and a great many things Americans can't buy.

Clothing made for Japanese is not proportioned for oversize foreigners. Most American men and women have their clothes made by excellent tailors, whose prices are reasonable.

Some Western style housing is available although rents are high. Utilities are costly, partly because of a unique Japanese custom of charging more per unit of gas and electricity as the number of units consumed goes up.

Every family has an English-speaking maid. This may seem a luxury but in a country where telephones speak no English and dozens of smiling men selling everything from goldfish to bamboo clothesline poles knock at your back door daily, a maid is a necessity.

Slow Adjustment

Most wives prepare meals similar to the standard American diet. Rice tends to replace potatoes but Japanese dishes, with a few exceptions, have limited appeal for the average family. The American palate adjusts slowly to raw fish, dried seaweed and soy bean soup.

For the family with children the American School in Japan offers fine educational facilities in both elementary and high school. Thirty-nine nationalities were enrolled this year, giving youngsters a chance to know children from all over the world. There is no tension and international friendships are the rule. Israelis and Egyptians are teammates on the basketball team. The cost, including books and fees, is about $450.00 per year for each child.

Most children living overseas, have no difficulty making friends. They rapidly learn enough Japanese to get along easily. Adults who have any ambition study Japanese and manage simple transactions in a short length of time. Many Japanese know a little English and are delighted to find someone to practice on. The language barrier is there, however, and can be extremely frustrating in many little ways.

It would be untrue to say that family life for Americans is the same as in the states. It is not and many adjustments have to be made. The budget is stretched to the breaking point to maintain the standard of living to which Americans are accustomed. On the surface, many costs appear lower, mainly because of the abundance of cheap labor. But rent, utilities and the "luxury" items Americans have come to regard as necessities more than make up the difference.

Special Flavor

There are inconveniences and frustration involved in living in Japan, even as in the United States or anywhere else. But there also are innumerable things that make life pleasant and interesting.

Life in Japan has a special flavor. It would not be possible to ever forget:

The musical click clack of getas (wooden sandals) on pavement, particularly on a rainy night.

The tinkling bell of the garbage collector as he pushes his high-piled two - wheel cart down the lane.

Short Haul Airlines' Future

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE

When Trans-Texas Airways, homebased at Houston, earlier this year declared a 25-cent dividend after 11 years of operation, it marked the first time in history that a local service airline in the United States had done so. And Trans-Texas is one of 13 local service air carriers licensed for commercial operation by the CAB. The others, Allegheny, Bonanza, Central, Frontier, Lake Central, Mohawk, North Central, Ozark, Pacific, Piedmont, Southern and West Coast, together with Trans-Texas, serve 565 cities and towns in the United States not reached by the major airlines. Yet they have been unable to show a profit.

This situation caused the magazine Business Week [illegible] findings resulted. One of the causes of profitless operation, it was found, is the fact that the business is chiefly a short-haul operation. For the most part these lines use the old reliable DC-3 planes capable of carrying but 21 passengers. The average passenger trip is less than 200 miles and the average hop between stations is less than 100 miles with some stops as close together as 20 miles.

The survey showed both bright and dubious prospects for the future. These carriers operate with federal subsidy and during the first six months of 1959 increased their revenue passenger miles 21½ per cent. This led some observers to predict that within a few years the federal aid will be dispensable. However, since 1956 operating expenses increased from $44,600,000 to $55,600,000 although a lot of this increase was attributable to introduction of new equipment and pioneering new but potentially more profitable routes. Whatever happens, these links are needed. They provide the vital link for the small-town resident with the main domestic and international airlines.

Stassen Undaunted By His Failures

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold Stassen has had a hard time selling whatever it is he thinks he has to offer.

He's more than just a hard man to discourage. He's a hard man to embarrass. And it doesn't necessarily follow that because he said something yesterday he will be saying the same thing today.

He's been trying for office ever since 1944, three times for the presidency. Then he aimed at the governorship of Pennsylvania. Always his Republican party refused to nominate him.

At last this year he got the Republican endorsement to run for the job of Richardson Dilworth, a Democrat and mayor of Philadelphia. This is quite a come-down for a man who panted for the White House.

It doesn't mean his ambition has dwindled. If he became mayor and got control of the Pennsylvania Republican organization and through that could win the governorship later, he'd be in a spot to try for the presidency in 1964.

Yet, if anyone looks washed up in national politics it's Stassen. As much as a political party can hit a man with the back of its hand, Stassen was hit in 1956 when he tried to prevent Vice President Richard M. Nixon's renomination.

Stassen was a pathetic political sight that year. He not only got no support that counted but wound up in a situation which to another man might have been unbearably humiliating: at the convention he seconded Nixon's nomination.

His 1956 capitulation, plus the other times his party had ignored his own personal ambitions, didn't seem to dent him at all. In 1958 he was back on the anti-Nixon theme again.

This time, after a conference with President Eisenhower, he walked out on the White House steps and announced he might run for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960 if only to stop Nixon from getting it.

That was in March 1958. Two months later this man, who was thinking in terms of a presidential race in 1960, sought but couldn't get the Pennsylvania Republican nomination for governor.

Now, running for mayor of Philadelphia, he's done a switch on Nixon. He says he will stay clear of any presidential contest between Nixon and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Stassen was considered a liberal back in the 1930s—when he was governor of Minnesota and before he got the presidential bug—but liberals may look twice at his tactics in the mayor's race.

In this campaign he has promised to ease Philadelphia's employment problem by keeping migratory workers out of the city.

When one Philadelphia Democrat heard about Stassen's promise on migratory workers, he said: 'Stassen is a migratory worker himself.' It is just because of his working whereabouts that he got into his most recent difficulty.

Recently Philadelphia's revenue commissioner, Martin Rotman, asked Stassen what about paying city wage taxes for the four years from 1953 through 1956, while Stassen was in Washington on the government payroll?

Stassen said he not only had paid the taxes but said he had receipts to prove it. But in a hearing down Thursday he didn't produce the receipts and, instead, claimed exemption from the tax for the years he worked for Uncle Sam in Washington.

Textiles Having Successful Year

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — With the steel strike hogging the headlines, one very cheerful note in the economy has slipped by almost unnoted.

That, up-and-down industry—textiles—has been having one of its up years.

Profit increases over 1958 are little short of sensational. Unlike many other industries, its gain held at the same rate right through the third quarter.

All of 30 companies in various sectors of the textile industry show increases over a year ago. Combined, the earnings of the companies reporting for the first nine months so far total 90 million dollars, a whopping 127.5 per cent over the 43½ million the same firms racked up in the first three quarters of 1958, when three of them were operating at a loss and many others were visibly limping.

And, unlike many other industries, the prospects for the final months of this year are bright. Most textile makers and finishers say the steel strike has had little effect on sales, even in the mill towns. Retail sales of textile products have generally continued lively.

The gain in sales this year has been a prime reason why the textile industry is making such a good showing. But there are others.

Fabric prices have stiffened this year, while the cost of raw materials, especially cotton, has been less.

And more of the sales gain has been carried over into profits. This is because the industry has freed itself of the inventory surplus that plagued it a year ago, and because there has been little tendency to overproduce this year—an ailment to which the mills are prone whenever sales in one line or another perk up.

And the textile mills are now benefitting from the new equipment installed in recent years which makes for cheaper production. Also there has been a lessening of competition as some marginal mills folded during the lean period.

Like everyone else, however, the producers still have problems.

Most talked-about troubles at the moment are the imports of foreign textiles. Japanese cotton fabrics are deplored by the domestic mills because they usually carry lower price tags, reflecting lower wage scales in Japan.

Delay May Be A Help

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The chief of the Air Force Research and Development Command thinks the delay by this country in building a big rocket may have been a blessing of sorts.

Lt. Gen. Bernard Schriever told a civic club Thursday the Soviet Union at the end of World War II began concentrating on a powerful rocket capable of throwing heavy loads into space—such as the one which boosted the first Sputnik.

"In the United States we waited until 1954 to begin intensive development of lighter warheads showed it was not necessary to build such a rocket.

"This is the reason why our rocket payloads are smaller, though no less efficient, than those of the Soviets. So the delay of 10 years could be considered an advantage," Schriever said.

Hayes, Healy To Part---On Shows

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy, for a dozen years one of the best-known husband-and-wife teams in show business, have decided to start parting company—but only professionally.

They jointly and cheerfully announced their impending career separation the other day.

"We're not going to be as much of a team in the future as we have been in the past," said Pete.

"Mary's enchanted with the theater, but I don't like long runs. I want to go more to writing and TV dramatic acting, not comedy."

Both pointed out that since 1947 they'd teamed mostly in night club comedy and song routines. Now they want to concentrate more on individual dramatic careers.

"Actually, I don't want to work terribly hard. I want to go to school and study archeology, foreign languages and dramatics," Mary said.

Pete looked surprised.

"Almost 19 years we've been married," he marveled. "And I didn't even know she could say [illegible]."

But the light-hearted pair, who live in suburban New Rochelle with their two children, are still busy collaborating as a team on a couple of projects.

Both are starred with Ed Wynn in a program scheduled on the NBC-TV network on Nov. 27. And together they are writing a book, the story of their domestic life.

Pete—whose wife calls him "Peter Grim Hayes" when he's at the typewriter—is also finishing a second book, largely a collection of theatrical anecdotes.

One chapter is entitled "The Tragedy of Comedy."

"All the comedians who made America laugh for the last 50 years had tragic lives," he observed.

"My theory is that it all started in grammar school, because they weren't physically attractive. So they chose another route to be admired."

"Most comedians are sad. It probably is because they feel they can never be attractive romantically," he said.

"Even the woman a comedian marries eventually comes to laugh at him rather than with him. Then, I feel, he becomes a more tragic figure than any dramatic figure—because he is so lost.

"The compulsion for him to go on making people laugh becomes almost psychotic. He's always on stage. There are people in the business world—the life of every party type—who do the same thing.

"The only cure is to stop trying to be funny all the time. Comedy is the hardest thing in the world to sustain anyway."

Drive Set Halloween For CROP

Several groups of Snyder young people—as in more than 200 other Texas communities—will make the rounds of local residences tomorrow night, on Halloween, seeking donations for the Christian Rural Overseas Program . . . or, as it is more popularly known, CROP.

It will be the "Trick or Treat" for CROP.

Snyder has been divided into districts and groups have been assigned.

Snyder residents will be asked for a cash contribution to help send food to the starving people overseas. The young people want local citizens to know that they really care that two-thirds of the people of the world never have enough to eat, according to John Jarrell, Bob Norris and Jerry Edwards, co-chairmen of the Jaycees' Religious Activities Committee which is sparking the project.

Contributions to CROP are distributed abroad through Church World Service. More than 440 million pounds of food and other supplies have been provided since CROP became active in 1947.

Solicitors will be identified by leaflets they will leave showing how CROP funds are used and how they help. They will also carry milk cartons, into which contributions may be dropped, provided by a local grocery store.

Solicitations are expected to get underway about 6 p.m.

For those who are missed or are out of town during the drive, contributions may be placed in containers at Snyder Drug No. 1, Snyder Drug No. 2 and the D&H Super Market through Tuesday.

Atlantic City, N. J., is the windiest American city. Its average hourly wind speed has been set at 15.2 m.p.h. over a period of years.

Maryland's Act of Religious Toleration, adopted in 1649, was a forerunner of the First Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

Ministerial Alliance Will Meet On Monday

The Snyder Ministerial Alliance will meet at 11:30 a.m. Monday at Sallie's Dining Room as guests of Ed Bolger, owner of Bolger Funeral Home.

The program will feature a discussion of the relationship between ministers and funeral directors at funeral services.

New officers of the alliance, headed by the Rev. Fred Ferraez, will begin their duties at the session.

Starlet Finds Saving Tough

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Should a movie starlet have to save 15 per cent of her salary?

"I don't see how I can put away that much," red-haired Jo Morrow, 19, Thursday told Superior Court, which must approve her budget because she's still a minor.

She was saving 10 per cent of her $200 weekly salary. When it was hiked recently to $300, she thought she could still save 10 per cent—and perhaps spend a bit of the raise on more clothes.

"All I'm asking you to do is save $600 in a year, out of the $4,000 raise you're getting under your 40-week guarantee," Judge Ben Koenig told her.

"Well, when you put it that way, it doesn't sound like very much," Miss Morrow said. "I guess I can do that all right."

Traffic Toll Holds Steady

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents in the United States killed 3,330 persons last month and 27,140 in the first nine months of this year, the National Safety Council reports.

The September toll was the same as in September 1958, the council said, and the nine-month toll was 870 more than for the same period last year.

"It isn't much to shout about," the council said, "but at least it's better than the unbroken increases that prevailed during the first seven months of the year."

No fatalities were recorded in 512 of the cities reporting, the council said. Buffalo, N.Y., Providence, R.I., and Wichita, Kan., were the three largest. Perfect records for the first nine months of 1959 are held by 191 cities. The three largest are Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Evanston, Ill., and Charleston, S.C.

Arabs Frown On Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Two Arab countries have refused to cosponsor the resolution accepting the Ford Foundation's gift of six million dollars for a new U.N. library.

The reason: Israel is also sponsoring the resolution.

Iraq and the United Arab Republic originally sponsored the resolution along with 44 other countries. Then Israel signed up, and the two Arab states quietly withdrew their names.

Although they still consider themselves at war with Israel, the Arab did not make an issue of the Israeli sponsorship. Apparently they did not want to anger the Ford Founation, a potential source of economic help.

The U.N. Assembly's Finance Committee approved the resolution unanimously Thursday and sent it to the Assembly for final approval. The library will replace a frame structure at the south end of U.N. headquarters here in New York.

Rev. Cates Slated On Daily Devotions

SECOND COMING

(Question) "What will happen when the Lord returns?"

(Answer) When the Lord comes the second time, all the dead saints will be raised to life, and all the living saints will be changed. (John 6:39-40; 1 Thess 4:13-18 & 1 Cor. 15:51, 52). Immediately connected with this will be the judgment of all mankind. The Lord will vindicate and accept the righteous and then pronounce sentence upon the wicked. (Matt. 25:31-46; John 5:28-29). The earth on which we live will be destroyed and then a new heavens and a new earth will be created wherein righteousness will dwell. "But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up . . . nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness." (2 Pet. 3:10, 13) Theories aplenty have been advanced about our Lord's second coming. Many things said about it in God's word are clothed in figurative language. It is always best to interpret them in light of what the clearest verses teach. These, we have tried to give in this article.

Strike Is Forcing Shutdown By GM

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The steel strike will put huge General Motors out of the car-building business next week.

The world's largest manufacturing company has run out of steel. Most of its auto assembly lines are closed, or will be by tonight. An estimated 200,000 GM employes will be idled.

Even more layoffs will come next week as the remaining assembly plants at Flint and Willow Run, Mich.; Kansas City, Mo., and Oakland, Calif., run out of parts.

How long the shutdowns last depends on when fresh supplies of steel become available. Industry sources say it will take at least three and possibly up to five weeks after steel production begins before sufficient parts can be made to bring assembly lines into operation again.

Normally, automakers consume 15 to 20 per cent of all steel output. It takes about two tons of steel to build a car.

General Motors issued its third-quarter financial report Thursday night, showing net earnings of 135 million dollars for the July-September period and 725 million for the first nine months.

Board Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President John F. Gordon, commenting on the steel situation, said the shortages didn't bother third-quarter operations because the company's supplies of steel were as large as it was possible to accumulate.

GM's profits, equal to $2.55 per share for the first nine months and 47 cents a share for the third quarter, compared with 339 million dollars for the first nine months of last year and 65 million for the third quarter of 1958.

Americans consumed an estimated 32 billion bottles of soft drinks in 1958, an average of 184.7 per person.

Fire Still Rages In Railroad Car

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Fire, brilliant white and up to 3,000 degrees hot, still was coming from the shell of a freight car in a railyard on the city's northeast side early today.

The car, loaded with eight tons of magnesium, caught fire in the Great Northern Hillyard yards Thursday and blast after blast followed. Firemen said the magnesium, a light, tough metal that burns hot, may glow and sputter for another day or so.

They said the blaze apparently started from a welder's torch.

GN officials said there were no injuries.

A new theory of the origin of the moon's craters is that they were caused by gas bubbles erupting through the surface.

Vengeful Tigers To Meet Mustangs

Between You And Me

By JERRY JACKSON

Here today and gone tomorrow. But who knows what day after tomorrow may bring.

And so goes it with Plainview's favorite roving son, Jesse McGuire. His on-again, off-again, topsy-turvy relationship with Texas A&M College reached a peak yesterday, when it was learned that he was home again—for a while, anyway. The trouble? ROTC.

Now, ROTC isn't a bad word that you have to abbreviate because the kids are around. Far from it. It stands for "Reserve Officer Training Corps," and is self-explanatory, in that it is sort of a corps which has to do with the training of reserve officers.

Dissention Among The Troops

THE PRINCIPAL GIMMICK finally came to light when it was made known that Mr. McGuire was happy enough at Aggieland ("I think that Texas A&M is the finest school anyone could ever hope to attend," but not corps-happy enough at Aggieland. He stated that he needed additional time to catch up on school work, which he had had to miss, and that he would be forced to dispense with the military end of things in order to remain in school. However, the governing powers didn't go along with his line of reasoning. They indicated that he would have to tote that barge, lift that bale, and shine those boots like the rest of the boys, to which he huh-uhed himself back to the high plains for some more of mom's cooking.

You'll have to hand it to both parties in the dispute, though. Neither one bluffs out easily.

Had Your ROTC Inoculation?

WHICH BRINGS TO MIND an anecdotal sidelight from the hilarious novel, "No Time For Sergeants." The hero of the book was a gawky, corn-fed, not-a-care-in-the-world type individual named Will Stockdale who, enjoyed life and loved everybody, even to the extent of having no malice toward his so-called "friends and neighbors" who were responsible for yanking him up from his backwoods paradise and inducting him into the armed services.

At the induction center the members of his group were queried as to whether or not any of them had ever had ROTC. One young know-it-all spoke up and said that he had, and was consequently put in charge of the group, proceeding to wield an iron hand and make himself a nuisance in general. Will's respect and sympathy were won, though, so that he toed the mark all the way down the line. The reason lay in the fact that he thought that "ROTC" was some sort of disease. Or, to put it in his words, "Whatever that ROTC was, he sure must've had a bad case of it."

Yep, tonight's the night. Tiger Stadium is the place. 7:30 is the time. And the stakes are big.

For then is when Snyder's Tigers go after their second district win of the year, and bite off a sizable chunk in the process. The always-tough Sweetwater Mustangs are to furnish the opposition, with the winner of the contest being in a favorable position to capture the district title.

Sweetwater is the defending district title-holder of 3-AAA, and loser of only two games last season. One of these losses came at the hands of mighty Breckenridge in the bi-district playoff, with the Bucks going on to sack up the state championship.

This year the Mustangs stand at 3-3 in the won-lost column, opening their season with losses to Breckenridge, Abilene, and Stamford—all top-rated schoolboy powers—then coming back strong to breeze by Big Spring, Graham, and Lamesa in their last three outings. The Tigers counter with a 3-4 record, sporting victories over Andrews, Big Spring, and Colorado City, while dropping close contests to Borger, Odessa Permian, Breckenridge, and Levelland. The only two common opponents of each team are Breckenridge and Big Spring. Breck downed the Mustangs 24-0 in the season opener, while the Tigers dropped a 22-20 heartbreaker to the same team. Snyder romped to a 31-6 win over the hapless Steers, as against Sweetwater's 39-6 waltz past the Big Springers.

Neither team will enter the game at full strength, as injuries and illnesses have been and are continuing to take their toll. Tigers recently lost via the injury route are scatback Jesse Crawford, and Stanley Woolever, and possibly back Alex Cross, who sustained a knee injury in yesterday's practice session. Also, center Reg Scarborough may not be able to see full time action as a result of several days sickness. The biggest loss from the Mustang squad was starting quarterback Carrol Feagan, who will be out for the remainder of the season. Also, starting fullback Ronnie Cox has been slowed by injury, but is expected to be ready to go full steam in tonight's tussle.

Coach John Conley is expected to throw up a "T" and split-T offense in the Mustangs' faces with maximum use of split ends and flankers. Sweetwater will counter with three basic offensive formations, one being the double wing-T, while the other two have flanking backs strong to either the right or the left.

Defensively, Sweetwater will go along with either a five or six man line, depending on the situation. The Tiger defensive setup should see a four man line backed up by four linebackers, a pair of halfbacks, and a safety. Manning these positions, Coaches Conley, Horrace Bostick, and Don Robbins are expected to go along with either Jim Huffman or Reg Scarborough at one tackle, Charles Gladson at the other, Tommy Minton as one guard, with either Devane Jones or Joe Fowler at the other, Jim Robinson, Mike Moffett, David Wiman and Eddie Watson backing the line. Wayne Berry and Marcus Strickland manning the halfback slots, and Dick Hayes at safety.

Sweetwater will go into the game as a slight favorite, primarily on the strength of their impressive racking of Lamesa this past Friday. It shapes up as a slam-bang affair, and a sellout crowd is assured to witness the proceedings.

Lamar Whips Lamesa 26-8

Sparked by the play of fullback Tom Kincaid and halfback Drew Bullard, Lamar's Seventh Graders rose up last night in Tiger Stadium to ease by Lamesa, 26-8.

Lamar scored the first time it got possession of the pigskin, the drive climaxed by a 30-yard off-tackle slant on the part of Bullard. Kincaid ran the points, and that's how the game stood at the half—8-0.

A big, free-wheeling third quarter found the locals tallying three big six-pointers, the first on a 50-yard end run by Kincaid. Just previous to that he had rambled 57 yards on a touchdown play which was nullified by a backfield in motion penalty.

Next, Bullard counted on a dive play, as he took an awfully long dive on a play covering 45 yards. The final counter resulted from a well-executed "pass 'n lateral" play, as Quarterback J. N. Wall tossed a pass to end Jerry Vestal, who lateralled off to halfback Jay Williamson, and he carried the distance. This play was good for 50 yards, and capped off Lamar's point production for the night.

Lamesa came back to score their only touchdown in the fourth quarter at the expense of Lamar's second unit. But that's all the splash they could muster, with the contest ending 26-8.

Travis Racks Goliad For Fifth In Row

Travis' Seventh Graders continued on their happy, undefeated way last night in Big Spring, as they romped over Goliad by 28-8. Travis is undefeated and untied in their five games so far this season.

The locals got off on the right foot, as they were successful in recovering a Big Spring bobble on the opening kickoff. From there they drove 40 yards to a touchdown, with halfback Leslie Brown lugging the final five yards on an end sweep. Tommy LaFountain carried over tackle for the extra points.

Travis' next marker came after a 55-yard drive, and was scored by halfback Robert Foree, who went 15 yards through the middle on a straight dive play.

Neither team could muster up any scoring punch in the second stanza, but Goliad made a little thunder of their own following their receipt of the second half kickoff. For it was from that point that they made their only touchdown of the night, it coming on a 70-yard run, followed by a successful running of the bonus points.

The remainder of Travis' point-making was accomplished in the third quarter, also, as a 50-yard drive was climaxed by LaFountain's plunge over the double stripe from a yard out. He also carried over tackle for the extra points.

Later in the quarter, Travis made its final tally, this time culminating a 60-yard drive following a pass interception by Brown. LaFountain slanted off tackle on the 10-yard scoring scamper to complete the point-making festivities. Travis quarterback Jimmy Featherston was cited as having called an exceptionally good game, and was instrumental in the initiating of the locals' scoring plays.

Notre Dame's assistant line coach Dick Stanfel coached under Irish mentor Joe Kuharich with the San Francisco Dons.

Bud Squelches Rumor

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma football coach Bud Wilkinson denied rumors yesterday that he has signed to coach the Dallas entry in the proposed American Football League.

"It's completely untrue," Wilkinson said. "I have not signed an agreement nor am I planning anything at present other than the game with Nebraska Saturday."

'B' Teamers Whitewash San Angelo

Snyder's "B" Team continued to wallop the opposition yesterday evening in Tiger Stadium, as they took the measure of San Angelo by 32-0. Riding the crest of a big first half which saw them ring up four touchdowns, the locals were never threatened, as they rolled to their third victory in a row.

Fullback Billy Frank Andrews got things going in the first quarter as he went over tackle on a three-yard scoring jaunt. That consituted the sum-total of first quarter point-making, but set the stage for a big second stanza.

Man under Eddie Phy initiated this spree by carrying over from a yard out on a quarterback sneak. Next up, halfback Jimmy McFarland rambled 35 yards around left end for a touchdown, with fullback John Billy Koonsman marking up the final tally of the half on a 35-yard play up the big middle. Following this six-pointer, Snyder marked up its only successful conversion of the evening, as halfback David Gan went over center for the two points.

The guns quieted down somewhat going into the second half, with the locals counting only one time, the touchdown being on a 30-yard pass from quarterback Steve Free to end Bill Hazle.

The game was unusual in several respects, thanks to some heads-up play on the part of the Snyderites. Snyder was in possession of the ball the entire first quarter, as they racked up 18 points before San Angelo ran its first play from scrimmage. This phenomenum resulted from the recovery of two onside kicks by guard Keith Lloyd.

Looking especially good on offense for the local crew were guard Ray Grimmett and center Joe Robinson, whose blocks helped to break the backs loose for good gains, and end Darrel Rains, who snagged a 37-yard aerial.

Fish Absorb 38-14 Loss From Lamesa

The injury-riddled Snyder Freshmen travelled to Lamesa last night and got thumped by a 38-14 count. The locals had trouble getting their offensive machine in motion throughout the first half, as several recent injuries took their toll. One boy in particular who was missed was starting halfback Jackie Wasson, who sustained a knee wrenching this past week. Wasson was one of the team's leading ball carriers and scorers, and his absence was sorely felt.

The locals fought back from a 0-18 halftime deficit to score twice in the second half. The first touchdown was made by fullback William Robinson, who rammed over on a 12-yard gainer, then followed up by running the extra points, too. That touchdown resulted from a play in which Robinson swept wide around end following a pitch-out.

The other six-pointer rung up by the local Frosh came on a 40-yard counter play on the part of halfback Luke Nigliazzo. The extra-point attempt was stymied following that touchdown.

Eighth Grade Breezes By Lamesa, 38-8

Snyder's Eighth Graders gave Lamesa a lesson in football fundamentals last night in Tiger Stadium, as they made every minute count in rolling to a 38-8 victory. They romped to four big first half touchdowns, piling up a 31-8 halftime lead in the process, then coasted in to the win, coming out on top by a final 38-8.

Edward Schulz, fleet-footed Snyder halfback, put the locals into the lead midway through the first stanza, as he bolted over left tackle on an 11-yard touchdown jaunt. The two-point conversion was good, also, as quarterback Jim Wilson hit Schulz in the right flat with a well-placed toss. This extra-point play covered 18 yards, as Snyder drew a 15-yard penalty on its first attempt.

One minute of playing time later the Lamesans bounced back to knot the count, as they scored on a well-executed 65-yard pass play, then went to the air once again for the bonus points. But it was all Snyder from that point on.

The locals ran wild in the waning minutes of the second quarter, as they counted three touchdowns in less than four minutes. The first resulted from another pass from quarterback Wilson, this time with halfback Gale Potter on the receiving end of a 15-yarder. Fullback Eddie Kirby bulled over for the extras.

Next, the unsinkable Wilson unleashed another 19 - yard scoring aerial, with end Ronnie Bennett being the new target. Potter's extra point boot was good, and the locals led by 23-8 with only 1:19 remaining in the half.

Not to be denied, Wilson cut loose with another scoring pass to Potter, which constituted the last play of the first half. This one was good for 15 yards, and was followed by Kirby's successful run for the conversion points.

Things quieted down considerably in the second half, with neither team managing to muster up a score until Snyder scored in the closing seconds of the contest. A backfield in motion penalty nullified a third quarter picture-play scoring scamper on the part of Schulz, as he rifled through left tackle once again and made like a deer for the final 27 yards needed to hit paydirt.

The locals' final marker was set up late in the game, as Potter snared a Lamesa desperation toss and lugged back to their 45-yard line. From that point Wilson capped off a brilliant evening of throwing by hitting Potter on the first attempted play from scrimmage. Potter shaking off the last Lamesa defender and going all the way for six more points. This last touchdown was scored with only 11 seconds left in the ball game, and Potter followed up once again with a successful extra-point kick.

An enjoyable halftime show was put on for a large and appreciative crowd, who turned out for the game amid brisk, chilling breezes. Both Lamar's and Travis' marching bands presented the show, which was a display of precision marching.

Hobbs Slips By Highland

HIGHLAND — The rejuvenated Hobbs Panthers won another district 4 six-man contest here Thursday night, as they punched across a fourth quarter touchdown against Highland for the winning margin of 18-13.

Only one tally was rung up in the entire first half, with Panther Mike Soto scoring on a 14-yard jaunt. Highland came back to go ahead in the third quarter, as Phil Wright went over from nine yards out, then followed up by booting the conversion.

The dangerous Soto put Hobbs back in the lead later in the quarter, however, as he scored on a ten-yard run and a temporary 12-7 Panther bulge. The see - saw tipped the other way in the final stanza, thanks to a 30-yard scamper by Highland's Woody Owens, but the Panthers were not to be denied and put in their final say-so later in that quarter, as Orvie Firestone plunged over from a yard out.

Hobbs, with a 4-5 season record, tops off its year's play next week at McCaulley.

Your Church Needs You

LOVE at FIRST SIGHT

Remember, when you watch small children play, that they are among the greatest of God's gifts to the world. He holds a special love for them all... love at first sight. "Take heed," Jesus once said, "that ye despise not one of these little ones." Divine regard was also made clear when the Disciples ask of Jesus: "Who is the greatest in the kingdom of Heaven?" Every man should well know the parable Jesus used that day to teach them the place He holds in His kingdom for our little ones. Oh, Lord, may we show our love by taking them to church, by teaching them that God's way should be their way, that they are the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

You In The Church
The Church In You
