Hawes named Snyder superintendent

A new superintendent for the Snyder school system was named Thursday evening — E. Robert (Bob) Hawes, currently the superintendent of schools at Vidor.

Hawes, age 52, will succeed Bill J. Hood effective July 1. He was employed at a yearly salary of $58,500.

A native Texan, Hawes brings to the job more than 23 years public school experience including 18 years in the role of superintendent.

He has been with the Vidor system — located in Orange County along the Texas Coast — since 1979. Previous to that he was superintendent at Hamlin from 1972-78.

He has held other superintendent positions with the Huntington Public Schools (1970-72); and the Crockett Public Schools (1966-70).

He began his public education career as a teacher-coach at Lubbock Roosevelt Public Schools from 1961-65.

At Vidor, he supervised a school system which included a high school, junior high, middle school (grades 5-6) and three elementary schools (grades K-4). Overall, the system had an approximate student enrollment of 6,000 students.

The Snyder schools include a student count of some 3,500.

Vidor itself includes a population of some 12,000 people with another estimated 25,000 living outside the city limits.

In that city, he has been active with the chamber of commerce and was named "Citizen of the Year" by the chamber in 1983.

During 1983 also, he was named among the "Outstanding Leadership in Texas Association of School Administrators" and the "Administrator of the Year" for the Vidor Public Schools.

He was also a division head for the Vidor United Fund and a Sunday school teacher at the First Baptist Church of Vidor.

Hawes was born in Port Arthur and was graduated from Port Neches High School.

He served in the U.S. Navy from 1951-55, assigned to the Far East. He then attended Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches, earning a General Business degree in 1958.

Hawes completed work on his teaching certificate in 1964 through Texas Tech University in 1964 and later earned a master of RETIREMENT DINNER — Some 83 persons, consisting of administrators and current and former board members and their spouses, attended a retirement dinner for Bill J. Hood Thursday night at the Snyder Country Club. Hood and his wife Carolyn (center) are shown being greeted by Bill and Mary Eiland. Hood retires this year after 17 years as superintendent. During this time he served with 23 different trustees. Eiland served nine years on the board, two of them as president. The Hoods plan to remain in Snyder with frequent trips to various "fishing holes." (SDN Staff Photo)

For El Salvador...

Aid funds postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Final congressional action on emergency military aid for El Salvador is being put off until next month, giving the White House time to try to overcome House rejection of aid for Nicaraguan rebels.

The Democrat-controlled House approved the administration-backed Salvadoran aid proposal by a vote of 267-154 on Thursday, but coupled it with a ban on any more spending in this fiscal year for the Nicaraguan guerrillas.

At the White House, deputy press secretary Larry Speakes said the administration wanted both the $62 million in aid for El Salvador and the $21 million approved earlier by the Republican-controlled Senate for support of the anti-Sandinista rebels in Nicaragua.

Faced with the impasse, Senate Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., announced that the Senate would take no action until after returning June 4 from its Memorial Day recess.

Speakes said the White House would "not accept any legislation" containing a clause terminating funds for the rebels, either immediately or over a wind-down period.

While the House bill would not terminate the program, it would bar the administration from seeking funds in a later supplemental appropriation for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30.

It will be an uphill battle in the House, where 24 Republicans joined 217 Democrats in voting against CIA funds for the Nicaraguan rebels, known in Spanish as contras. Voting against the spending ban were 132 Republicans and 45 Democrats.

Computer bids sought also...

Summer staff study approved

Thursday afternoon, Snyder school board members approved a one-week staff development session this summer as well as a proposal to seek bids for a new administration building computer.

The study program will involve some 23 staff members meeting for a one-week period June 4-8. The session will cost some $8,776, an expense mainly associated with additional salary costs.

The staffers will be involved in a "development design" curriculum study. Its purpose is to develop learning objectives for three study areas at the elementary level: science, social studies and health.

Developing these objectives for all study areas is mandated by the state. The three to be worked on this summer are the only ones still to be completed in the Snyder system.

The program must be finished this summer, however, due to new state mandates which have moved up the time schedule for completion.

Curriculum leaders for the session will be Bobbie Box and Margaret Presswood.

In addition Thursday, school trustees voted to accept bids for a computer system comparable to the IBM 36. School administrators proposed to purchase a system to replace a computer service now contracted by the school district.

The service costs some $16,000 per year. Following this figure, it is expected that the system would pay for itself in four to five years.

The motion Thursday was to accept bids only. A final decision regarding purchase will be made at that time.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "One shouldn't go off half-cocked until he has all the facts."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

Nothing changes the attitude of a West Texas community like a general rainfall. The moisture received last Friday may not have been considered a downpour, but it lifted the spirits of everyone.

James Roberts, in the Andrews County News, says a West Texas rain is like a lover's kiss. "When it's good, it's wonderful. When it doesn't measure up--it's still pretty good."

Larry Crabtree, in the Vernon Record, had something to say about that valuable wet stuff. "Even though 75 percent of the earth's surface is covered by water, only three percent is fresh. Of that three percent, 75 percent is frozen in polar ice caps, leaving .76 of one percent.

"Of that amount, 20 percent is contained in the great lakes. This leaves .6 of one percent of the earth's fresh water in other areas. It has been estimated, that as a nation, we use 700 million gallons of water a day.

"Maybe that .6 of one percent should be taken better care of."

Danny Hukel, in the Gatesville Messenger, picked out a blooper contained in a local church bulletin. It read:

"Thursday at 5 p.m. there will be a meeting of the Little Mother's Club. All wishing to become little mothers will please meet the pastor in his study."

George Dolan, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, wrote about Colorado City's Joy Culwell. She was once voted most likely to suceed by members of her high school graduating class.

"Well," she explained, "there were only four of us girls in the class."

And not long ago, Joy said, "I got a letter from the alumni association wanting me to come back to the school and explain why I haven't."

Alfred Kohl retires at city

City employees honored retiring Director of City Operations Alfred Kohl Thursday morning at City Hall for his 30 years service to the city.

Kohl joined the city staff as a patrolman with the Snyder Police Department on May 24, 1954. He remained in that department until July of 1964.

During his tenure in the police department, he served in a variety of positions and was promoted to the rank of sergeant in charge of records and criminal investigation in November 1961.

He was promoted to police captain in October of 1963 and served in that capacity until transferring to the fire department with the rank of lieutenant on July 1, 1964.

Kohl was named acting fire chief and arson investigator August 1, 1964 and remained as fire chief until resigning that post Aug. 4, 1982.

He took on the added responsiblity of Director of City Operations Nov. 15, 1971 and served in that capacity in addition to maintaining his position in the fire department.

In Brief

Long-distance rates down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers who rely on the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. to handle their interstate long-distance calls received one of the first tangible benefits of industry competition this morning — an across-the-board reduction in long-distance rates.

Effective at 12:01 a.m. today, AT&T cut its regular long-distance, WATS and international calling rates by a uniform 6.1 percent, complying with a May 10 order of the Federal Communications Commission.

That was the good news. On the minus side for some customers, that same FCC order allowed AT&T to begin charging a 50-cent fee for long-distance directory assistance calls after the first two such calls each month. And business customers with more than one phone line will have to start paying a monthly "access fee" to their local phone company.

Special session now likely

AUSTIN (AP) — Supporters of more state aid to poor school districts say Gov. Mark White has promised a special session of the Legislature will be called "sometime between June 4 and 11."

There was no announcement Thursday from White's office but his weekly Capitol news conference was scheduled today.

VFW sets yearly poppy sale

"In Flanders fields the poppies blow...." So went the immortal words of John McCrae's poem. Little did he realize when he penned those lines that some day the very poppies of which he wrote would be the symbol of all those who gave their lives in our nation's wars.

Each year the Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsors a "buddy" poppy sale in the Snyder area to raise money for needy and disabled veterans. The Ladies Auxiliary will be selling poppies downtown Saturday. Local youngsters will also assist.

Terms of the probation order indicate he will serve the sentence in Denver, Colorado.

Ill woman ordered deported

DALLAS (AP) — After admitting to a judge she is an illegal alien, a Mexican woman who has been receiving free dialysis treatments has been ordered to leave the country although her attorney says she will die if she's sent back to Mexico.

Edward Purcell, attorney for Fermina Vasquez, said his client cannot afford the treatments in Mexico because they are only provided in three Mexican cities.

"She's going to die and there's going to be another child begging on the streets," said Purcell of the 30-year-old widow and mother of three. Two of Mrs. Vasquez's children are living with their father's relatives, he said.

Immigration Court Judge Gary Burkholder ordered Mrs. Vasquez, a native of Durango, Mexico, to leave the U.S. by Sept. 23 after she confessed during a deportation hearing Wednesday that she was an illegal alien.

Mrs. Vasquez has been receiving free treatments for seven years at the Dallas Kidney Disease Center, and sometimes at Parkland Memorial Hospital, with the aid of a friend's Social Security card. She recently received a valid Social Security card and is seeking part-time employment, Purcell said.

Purcell asked Ronald Chandler, Dallas district director of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, to defer the deportation order so Mrs. Vasquez can continue receiving treatments while she seeks a kidney donor.

Chandler and INS officials could grant the delay, despite Burkholder's order, Purcell said.

"I have faith," Mrs. Vasquez said. "I believe in God. I am asking God to let me stay here. I am positive that nothing will happen that will make me go back to Mexico."

Mrs. Vasquez said she would not be able to pay $200 for each dialysis treatment and that she would face a 12-hour trip to the nearest dialysis center from Durango, located at least 520 miles south of El Paso, Texas.

But Dr. Juan Fernandez de Castro, director of the nephrology unit at Guadalajara's federal hospital, Instituto de Seguridad Y Servicios Sociales, said Mrs. Vasquez is a good candidate for the treatments because she is young, can work and has dependents, all of which make her eligible for social security in Mexico.

Having social security would qualify Mrs. Vasquez for treatments at a social security or public hospital, he said. Federal hospitals in Mexico are reserved for patients who work for the local or federal goverment.

Officials at Mexico City's Hospital de Salubridad, another hospital which provides dialysis treatments, said all patients are accepted.

Mrs. Vasquez, however, would have to purchase a dialysis machine filter because of a current shortage of the filters, which costs from about 15,000 to 18,000 pesos, the equivalent being $60 to $80.

School backs down

HOUSTON (AP) — School officials have agreed to let a student go through graduation exercises rather than take him to court over his "unconventional" hairstyle — a black streak dyed across the back of his blond head.

Officials of the Aldine Independent School District relented Thursday, the day before they were scheduled to argue in court for the right to bar 18-year-old Dean Bradley from walking across a stage to receive a high school diploma.

A hearing in the case had been set for Friday morning before state District Judge Lynn Hughes. Hughes attended the pretrial conference.

"My lawyer said the judge made it clear if we were going to do it tomorrow (Friday), he was going to go my way," said Bradley, a pupil at Nimitz High School.

Bradley, a member of the National Honor Society who won an award as the school's physics student of the year, was suing for attorneys fees and the right to participate in the ceremony.

He said principal Jack Welch told him Monday his hairstyle was "unconventional" and would have to change if he wanted to be a part of the cap-and-gown exercise.

You don't have to wait for the next election. You can vote now and as many times as you like.

In your hands is one of the world's most decisive weapons -the megaballot.

You can vote as many times as you like for 20 cents a crack.

All you need do is keep those cards and letters comming.

Most Americans are utterly unaware of the significance which elected officials attach to even one letter.

You don't know your own strength.

It was YOU who extricated us from Vietnam and Beirut.

It was YOU who overruled the president and dividend withholding, on troops for El Salvador.

It was YOU who outvoted the Congress on the Chrysler loan, the death penalty and on its own pay hike.

And scores of lesser decisions are regularly influenced if not determined by you.

And not just in legislative decisions. I have seen great television networks hinge major program policy decisions on a handful of letters.

And you don't need an organized campaign to deluge your lawmakers and policy makers with an avalanche of mail. Those orchestrated protests count for less than a single, neat and concise letter from you.

You don't have to wait for the next election to "vote." Your megaballot can influence the White House and the Congress this year; more than ever THIS YEAR!

WE WILL ALLOW NO BOOZE IN YOUR BONBON

For 16 years Godiva chocolates included cordial cremes, flavored with brandy and other liqueurs.

Then in 1982 somebody at the FDA remembered a government regulation prohibiting the marketing of any food containing "in excess of ½ of 1-percentum of alcohol."

So the Food and Drug people descended on Godiva, quoted the law, and under threat Godiva voluntarily stopped making and marketing its cordial cremes.

But then the Godiva people wanted to know, "How about so-and-so?" Other chocolatiers were still marketing this forbidden fruit.

Dutifully, the FDA's agents went after the others.

Including Bissingers in St. Louis, where the feds swooped down and confiscated luscious bonbons whoch contained a Grand Marnier Brandy.

And not once, but twice, Bissingers was raided, bon-bons confiscated, and, we are told, destroyed by fire!

The bureaucrats have to know -- or should -- that other flavorings contain more alcohol than most liqueurs. Vanilla is 35 percent alcohol. Legal "brandy flavoring" is 71 percent alcohol.

The genuine liqueurs are only 25 to 30 percent alcohol.

Laws and lawmen are most vulnerable when they're being laughed at.

Formation of kidney stones may be stopped

DALLAS (AP) — A pill packing the same potassium citrate punch as three daily glasses of orange juice can prevent the formation of painful kidney stones, a Texas doctor said.

Dr. Charles Y.C. Pak announced Thursday he has found that a daily dose of potassium citrate can provide relief to at least one-quarter of the 660,000 Americans who have some form of kidney stones.

Tests on patients suffering from hypocitraturia, a common cause of kidney stone disease, have shown that the drug stopped formation of stones in 74 percent and retarded formation of stones in 96 percent, Pak said.

Pak said that after three years of research he concluded that the drug would work as a cure for kidney stones with existing treatments of surgical removal and ultrasonic destruction.

"With the combined application of improved techniques for the removal of stones ... the control of renal stone disease may well be in hand," Pak said.

Food and Drug Administration approval is expected this summer and the drug should be on the market in the fall, Pak said.

About 96 percent of the patients showed a reduced rate of stones formed, said Pak, professor of internal medicine at the University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas.

Pak said his research suggested, but has not proven, that the drug may reduce the size of existing kidney stones.

In an IMP match, a single trick can often make the difference between a good and a bad score. In today's hand, West has a monster and bids four hearts by himself. North bids four spades and East carries on to five hearts. South bids five spades and West doubles.

West leads his diamond king. Hoping for a three-trick set, he switches to his three of clubs. Dummy's ace wins the trick and a spade is led. West takes his ace and leads the ace of diamonds to ensure a one-trick set. Then he leads a low heart to East's queen. East leads back a club for West to trump, making it a three-trick set. Declarer wins the rest of the tricks, but not before losing 500 points. East-West could have made five hearts, which would score only 450 points. East-West has come out ahead by 50 points or two IMPs.

Now look at the possibilities. If the opposing West decides to double four spades, the best he can do is to collect the same five tricks for a 300-point set. The difference is 200 points, or a loss of five IMPs.

But at four spades doubled, he is unlikely to underlead his A-K of hearts and will get only a 100-point set for a difference of 400 points or a loss of nine IMPs.

Then there is a chance that East-West will be allowed to play five hearts and score 450 points for a total profit of 950 points or 14 IMPs.

West can rest assured that his team has at least some profit on the hand.

Inmate says he will be vindicated

HUNTSVILLE, Texas — A former chemical company salesman convicted in the slayings of four men over the sale of an ultralight aircraft still claims that he has a solid alibi and his death sentence will be struck down.

Lester Leroy Bower Jr. said the truth will free him from his Death Row cell, where he was sent last month for the shooting deaths of the Grayson County men at a private airplane hangar.

"I feel strongly that I will walk out of here (Huntsville)," Bower told the Sherman Democrat on Wednesday. "I feel there are people in control of the situation and that justice will be served."

But Bower, 36, declined to elaborate on the possible alibi that might show he did not kill Ronald Mayes, Bob Tate, Philip Good and Jerry Brown last October.

"Although I will take anything I can get right now, I would like them (a jury) to say, 'This man did not do it,'" Bower, of Arlington, said. "I would like to think I could walk down the streets of Sherman, Texas and shake hands with people and not have to look over my shoulder."

A six-man, six-woman jury returned a guilty verdict April 27 in less than two hours. During the five-day trial, investigators said they found parts of a missing ultralight craft belonging to Tate in Bower's garage before his arrest last January.

"A plane in the garage does not a murderer make," Bower said. "I think that was always our defense. I don't know that it wasn't a bad defense."

But Bower claimed the verdict after a five-day trial was not an impartial one.

"I have a little bit different feeling about a jury now," he said. "You're led to believe these are 12 impartial people who are going to make an impartial decision and weigh the evidence that is before them and come up with a verdict that is beyond a reasonable doubt. I just don't feel that happened.

"That (guilty verdict) hit me pretty hard," he said. "That it came so quick. I think their minds were already made up before they walked in (to deliberate). I think they got caught up in a very emotional situation."

Prosecutors said the ultralight "obsessed" Bower.

"If there was one statement that really irked me more than anything, it was that 'Flying was everything to him. It was the only way he could set himself free'," said Bower, adding that he enjoyed many hobbies.

He said the most damaging evidence against him was the exotic, Italian-made ammunition that prosecutors said he used in a .22-caliber automatic pistol.

"I really think the bullets were the most damaging. I don't have an explanation for that. I've tried weird ammo before. I'm just one of those experimenters," he said. "I might go out to a (shooting) range and shoot 70 or 80 rounds a day, just to see what they do. I probably shot them up. I really don't know what I did with them."

Bower, however, said the evidence still doesn't prove he committed the murders.

He denied ever being in Grayson County, despite testimony from a fruit stand owner that she talked with Bower at her store late last September. Marjorie Carr of Sherman testified Bower came in with Good to buy some oranges.

H. Lucas pleads guilty after recounting details

KAUFMAN, Texas (AP) — Henry Lee Lucas says he tries but can't forget that 14 years ago he repeatedly stabbed to death a 26-year-old elementary school teacher because he wanted "mostly sex."

On Thursday, Lucas pleaded guilty to the murder of Linda Jane Phillips, and State District Judge Glen Ashworth sentenced the drifter to life in prison under a plea bargain arranged by prosecutors and Lucas' court-appointed attorney.

"He told me, 'There are just some things so terrible that you can't forget them.' He apparently has a phenomenal memory," said Kaufman County District Attorney William Conradt.

Lucas told The Dallas Morning News he killed Ms. Phillips after "passing her car several times, along the highway (I-20)," then forcing her vehicle off a Kaufman county road he followed her to.

He said his motive was "sex — mostly sex." Lucas said he killed the woman because "I decided I couldn't leave her as a witness."

Lucas said he felt no remorse over the killing at the time and "didn't think any more about it until I got arrested (in June 1983) and started clearing up my cases."

Lucas has claimed to have killed more than 350 people in 17 states during the years he drifted from coast to coast.

In January, he led authorities to the site where Ms. Phillips' body was found in 1970. Conradt said Lucas signed a confession "including details that only a participant in the crime could know about."

Authorities discovered the body of Ms. Phillips Aug. 10, 1970, just northwest of Kaufman. She had been stabbed 26 times.

Lucas has already been convicted of three other Texas murders and received sentences of death by injection, life in prison and 75 years in prison. He was convicted in Michigan in 1960 of killing his mother.

"We're all fairly confident that he did kill Linda Phillips," said Conradt. "I asked him, 'How in the world can you remember the details?' because you start to think maybe he's just confessing to any dead body that turns up."

Diverticulitis diet

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm a 37-year-old mother of three. I've been diagnosed as having diverticulitis. I'm confused about the diet for this. My doctor has prescribed a bland diet with little or no bulk.

Many of my friends say that bulk is necessary in the treatment of this. I say bulk is necessary for those who have diverticulosis, not diverticulitis, which is an inflammation of the diverticula.

Why is there so much confusion over this? Are there newer diets than the one the doctor prescribed for me? How long must you maintain a diet for diverticulitis?

DEAR READER — I'm glad to see you realize there's a difference between diverticulitis and diverticulosis. Many people have diverticulosis, pockets in the colon. Often a person doesn't even know he or she has them until a colon X-ray reveals them.

Fortunately, the inflamed diverticulum may subside without perforating or requiring an operation. But during an acute inflammation, many doctors limit what a person eats. The same is true if a person happens to bleed from a diverticulum.

There's no agreement on how long one has to stay on a restricted diet. Many of the doctors who favor using bulk in managing diverticulosis think that the sooner a patient can be returned to a diet that provides a reasonable amount of bulk, the better. To many, the bulk is not roughage but "softage" because bran and similar substances absorb water and are soft, improving bowel function.

Diverticulitis should be a short-term complication of diverticulosis. So I would question your remaining on a low-residue diet for any length of time. As soon as the evidence of acute inflammation subsides you should follow the diet commonly used by patients with diverticulosis.

To help you sort this out, I'm sending you the Health Letter 5-6, Diverticulosis. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm 70 years old, in good health and very active. For more than 20 years I've had one or two drinks before dinner. That's the extent of my drinking. Recently, when I have a drink I have diarrhea. I've even tried a glass of wine, which made it worse.

My doctor can find no reason for this and suggests I may have become allergic to alcohol. Is this possible? If so, can anything be done to correct it?

DEAR READER: — Alcohol is frequently the explanation for unexplained diarrhea. After all, alcohol is a cellular poison. Many alcoholic drinks contain more than just alcohol. The other ingredients can be irritating to the digestive system. Wine contains as many or more ingredients that can irritate your digestive system as other alcoholic beverages.

Vodka is often the least offensive because it's nearly pure alcohol, not adulterated with a variety of chemicals.

Of course, the obvious solution is to stop using alcohol in any form. That would be an overall health improvement anyway.

Dear Abby

Boyfriend and His Buddies Are Part of Package Deal

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: For the last six months I have been going with a most loving and wonderful man. I am 20.

He keeps telling me he loves me, but the last few weeks he has been asking me to go to various places with some of his friends—such as to bed. He assures me that he loves me, but when I refuse to go to bed with his friends he says he doesn't understand me.

I told him that the only man I want to go to bed with is him, and I can't understand why he wants to share me with his friends. He said a former girlfriend told him that that was the way to tell if a girl really loved him.

Please help me, Abby. I love him more than anything in the world and I don't want to lose him.

IN LOVE IN SEATTLE

DEAR IN LOVE: Any man who asks you to go to bed with his friends does not love you, regardless of what he says. He's using you. Don't buy his story that a "former girlfriend" told him that that was a way a girl proved her love.

I hate to be the bearer of bad news, but the man is very bad news, and the sooner you dump him, the better.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My stepdaughter (I'll call her Betty) was recently married in a lovely church wedding. Her mother was escorted to the wedding by a relative.

Betty and I have never been what you would call "close," but there has never been a harsh word between us. I have been married to her father for over a year, and Betty seemed genuinely happy that her daddy found happiness with me because she knew that her parents had lived in a hopelessly bad marriage for years.

After the ceremony, Betty asked the photographer to take some pictures, summoning her mother, father and younger brother to pose with her and her bridegroom. She also rounded up her new in-laws to pose with her and her new husband.

I stood on the sidelines, but was not asked to be in even one picture! Betty must have noticed how hurt I was because she smiled at me and said, "These are family pictures."

Abby, am I not "family?" I am her father's wife. Am I wrong to feel hurt?

HURT

DEAR HURT: Feelings are neither "wrong" nor "right"—they are the honest emotional responses to what happens to us.

In Betty's mind, only blood relatives were "family." It was no reflection on you. She was very insensitive for failing to include you in at least one picture, but she was probably more thoughtless than intentionally cruel.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I just came home from a visit to my new doctor. (My old doctor retired and now I have a young one.) He is the age of my youngest child, yet he called me "Kathy."

When will doctors realize that not all older women appreciate this presumptuous "friendliness"? If I were to correct him, it would put a strain on our relationship, so I keep quiet. The office nurse also calls me "Kathy," which irritates me.

Please print this, Abby. It may get the message across.

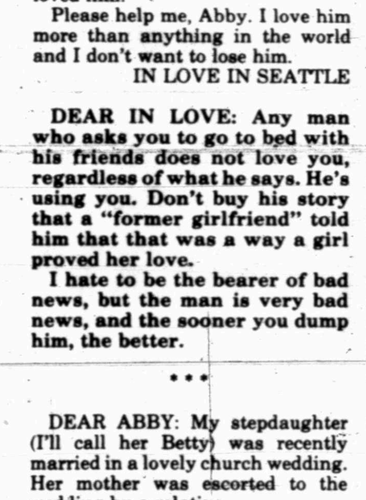

CALL ME MRS.

DEAR MRS.: I suggest that you tell the doctor and his nurse that you prefer to be called "Mrs." Why worry about straining a relationship that's already been strained? It might improve it.

Truck drivers escape injury

Both drivers escaped injury in a major two-truck collision shortly before 8 a.m. Friday just north of the intersection of Ave. E and U.S. Highway 84.

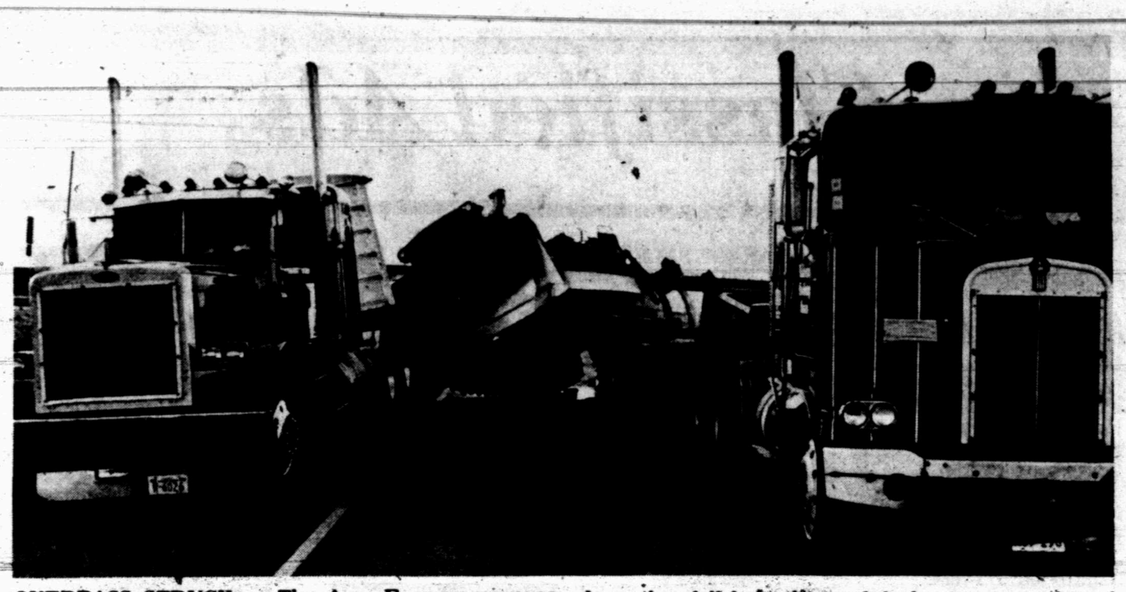

The Ave. E overpass over Highway 84 was struck by a bulldozer being hauled by a Fort Worth trucker, Robert Eugene Philabaun.

He was driving north bound on 84 a 1979 Kenworth flat bed rig owned by Universal Machinery Movers of Fort Worth.

The dozer was knocked off the trailer and its blade struck the rear of 1983 Peterbuilt tractor-trailer rig which was parked beside the roadway.

Accident investigators say the Peterbuilt was parked some 75 yards north of the overpass.

Driver of the parked rig was G.R. Dickey of Mason. Both his truck and the dozer sustained extensive damage in the mishap.

OVERPASS STRUCK — The Ave. E overpass over Highway 84 was struck by a bulldozer being hauled by a Fort Worth trucker shortly before 8 a.m. Friday. The dozer then fell from the truck bed onto a second truck parked beside the highway. No injuries were reported. (SDN Staff Photo)

Hit and run mishaps noted here Thursday

Three minor traffic accidents — two of them hit-and-run incidents — were reported Thursday.

The day's only two-vehicle accident occurred at 10:29 a.m. in the 2200 Block of College Ave. It involved a 1979 Ford driven by Sarah Simmons Sullivan of Snyder and a 1980 Chevrolet driven by William Daniel Buchanan of Snyder.

No injuries were reported.

Odis Craig of 3804 Galveston reported the day's first hit-and-run report at 5:29 p.m.

According to reports, a 1982 Chevrolet owned by Craig sustained moderate damage Thursday afternoon when it was struck by an unidentified vehicle while parked at the Walls Factory in north Snyder.

The second hit-and-run accident was reported by Bobby Ivey of 2211 40th St. at 8:28 p.m. He told investigators that his 1984 Dodge had apparently been struck by an unidentified vehicle while parked at The Shack Restaurant.

Tape player said stolen

Mrs. David Olivarez of 1500 College Ave. reported around 8:34 a.m. that a combination radio-8-track tape player had been stolen from her vehicle.

Value of the missing item was estimated at $130. The theft is thought to have occurred between 7 p.m. Wednesday and 8:30 a.m. Thursday.

Check theft suspect questioned Thursday

Snyder police have identified a suspect in a check theft and subsequent forgery case reported Saturday.

According to investigators, a 14-year-old male suspect was taken into custody Thursday. He is being questioned in connection with the reported theft of checks from the mailbox at the Tommy Doyle residence in the 3700 Block of Highland Dr.

One of the checks taken from the Doyles was reportedly passed at Hasting's in the Varsity Square Shopping Center Saturday evening.

The suspect was released to the custody of his parents Thursday and the case has been referred to the District Attorney for possible prosecution.

Woman gunned down feared husband

NORWICH, Conn. (AP) — A woman gunned down by her estranged husband in a crowded divorce court had earlier in the day expressed fear he would harm her, but was put at ease when her keys set off a courthouse metal detector, her lawyer said.

Kenneth Spargo, 53, and Priscilla Spargo, 44, were in Norwich Superior Court on Thursday to dissolve their 23-year marriage on Spargo's claim that his wife had committed adultery, court records said.

As the judge looked on, Spargo, described by his lawyer as a religious fanatic, calmly walked up to his wife, "bent over and whispered something to her, then stepped back and said, 'You bitch,' and bang, bang, bang," said Robert Murphy, who witnessed the shooting.

Several of the more than 50 witnesses later quoted Spargo as saying, "Now I can sleep at night." He sat down on a courtroom bench and lay his gun beside him, one witness said.

"He was seeking dissolution of marriage. She was seeking rights to property that was substantial," said Mrs. Spargo's attorney, Irving Spiro.

Mrs. Spargo had also intended to seek a restraining order to prevent Spargo from harassing or physically harming her, Spiro said.

"This is from her experience with him and her life with him. He threatened her life before," Spiro said.

Spiro said Mrs. Spargo expressed fear for her life they went to the court building Thursday morning.

"As we entered the courthouse, I remarked to her to tell her that her fears apparently were unfounded because everybody had to go through a metal detector, and that if there was anybody carrying a gun ... the detector would sound off," Spiro said.

Field ready for Indy 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - It's a long race - and potentially the fastest and most dangerous - and if record-breaking pole-sitter Tom Sneva has any advice for Chris Kneifel, who will start in the last row, it's: "Take your time."

"I'd tell him, 'Don't try to do it all on the first lap,'" Sneva said Thursday, only hours after Kneifel re-entered the 33-car starting field for Sunday's race.

"If he can avoid trouble at the beginning, that's his No. 1 concern. Being in the back, there's a good potential to be involved if there is a a problem in the beginning," Sneva said.

"Problems start because of drivers, not because of cars. ... I'm a little concerned because most people think they're going to have to stay close to the front because the competition is so tight, that maybe they'll be trying a little too hard at the beginning.

"Five hundred miles is a long way and if they've got the car right and change a few things to find a little more speed than they qualified with, then he can work his way to the front."

Sneva has done that. He and Mario Andretti have the distinction of being the only two drivers in 67 Indy 500s to start in the back row and finish as high as second, Sneva actually leading for 16 laps before losing the 1980 race to Johnny Rutherford.

There is a link of sorts this year between Rutherford, starting this, his 20th Indy, from 30th place, and Kneifel.

Kneifel qualified his Primus-Cosworth on May 12 at 199.831 mph, making him the only sub-200 mph starter. Rutherford, who came here as part of the Shierson Racing Team, was unable to get that team's new car up to speed. He then got into A.J. Foyt's third team car, powered by an experimental V6 engine. That car had piston problems and Rutherford failed to finish a four-lap qualifying run in three tries the first weekend.

Foyt and his longtime friend and sponsor, Jim Gilmore, then bought Al Unser Jr.'s backup car for Rutherford to qualify. He did, last Saturday - bumping Kneifel from the grid.

On Thursday, Kneifel was back, the first alternate to be added to the field since Bill Lindau, the 19th-place finisher in 1929.

A week ago, Jacques Villeneuve crashed during practice in a backup car, suffering a concussion which knocked him out of the race. Rather than seek another driver for his Canadian Tire car, David Billes accepted an offer from Kneifel's team of about $50,000 to withdraw the car. That put Kneifel back in the field.

Detroit keeps winning; Rangers edge Brewers

by The Associated Press

Only the Detroit Tiger players don't seem to be in awe of their achievements through eight weeks of the baseball season.

What the Tigers have accomplished so far is, indeed, awe-inspiring.

With a 5-1 triumph over California Thursday night behind Jack Morris' four-hit, 10-strikeout performance, the 35-5 Tigers tied the major league record for consecutive road victories with 17. They have yet to lose away from Detroit and lead Toronto by 8½ games in the American League East.

Alan Trammell belted a two-run homer and Lance Parrish had a solo shot for Detroit, which tied the successive road wins record of the 1916 New York Giants. In the process, the Tigers snapped the AL mark of 16 set by the 1912 Washington Senators.

"I never really heard about it until we got close to it," Trammell said of the record. "I can't explain it. I have no answer for it. It might end tomorrow night or maybe next week.

Morris was sensational in hurling his sixth complete game, including a no-hitter on April 7.

Morris trailed 1-0 on an unearned Angels' run in the first inning. But the Tigers cemented their ninth consecutive win when they erupted for four runs in the fourth. Lou Whitaker led off with a walk and Trammell powered his fifth homer off right-hander Jim Slaton, 1-2. Singles by Kirk Gibson, Parrish and Darrell Evans accounted for another run and Parrish scored when Larry Herndon bounced into a double play.

Elsewhere, it was Oakland 3, Baltimore 2; New York 2, Seattle 0, and Texas 4, Milwaukee 3.

Rangers 4, Brewers 3

Dave Stewart won his third straight decision after losing his first six and Dave Hostetler's fourth-inning solo homer provided the winning run for Texas. Roy Howell homered for Milwaukee.

"Stewart is catching fire now," said Rangers catcher Ned Yost. "He has been pitching super the last four outings after a slow start.He's won the last three games and pitched very well. He has a hard fastball and it's really starting to move."

Oakland fires manager Boros

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - Steve Boros, who had said all along that he might be too mild mannered to succeed as a big league manager, is out and Jackie Moore is in with the Oakland A's.

"He's one of the best guys I ever met, and I have mixed emotions now. I'm so happy in one area and so sad in another," said Moore, the A's coach who replaced Boros on Thursday.

Boros, 47, left with the team standing 20-24 but not far from the lead in the American League's Western Division. Last season, his first as a major league manager, the A's finished fourth with a 74-88 record.

Moore, 45, will be managing his first big league game tonight when the New York Yankees visit the Oakland Coliseum. The American League club will have a new pitching coach, too, with Wes Stock replacing Ron Schueler.

Schueler was fired along with Boros about 45 minutes after the A's 3-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. Both were offered other jobs with the A's. Team officials said Boros indicated he would accept, with his initial duties to include instruction and scouting.

Stock, a former A's pitching coach, returned to the organization this year as a minor league pitching instructor. In another change announced Thursday, former A's infielder Dave McKay joined the coaching staff.

Cowboys ink Cannon to series of contracts

DALLAS (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys have signed outside linebacker Billy Cannon Jr., their No. 1 pick in the 1984 National Football League draft, to a series of one-year contracts, club officials said.

Terms of the agreement with the Texas A&M athlete, which were to be formally announced at a news conference today, were not disclosed.

"He wasn't easy to sign," Gil Brandt, the Cowboys' director of player development, told The Dallas Morning News, although a bidding war with the U.S. Football League was never much of a threat.

Cannon's USFL rights were held by the San Antonio Gunslingers, who had shown little interest in signing him, and Cannon had been working out at the Cowboys' practice field since Monday.

The 6-4, 235-pound Cannon, who has gained 20 pounds since the end of the college football season, will be tried at strong and weak side linebacker and on the Cowboys special teams. He played flanker and strong safety his first three years at Texas A&M before being moved to outside linebacker for his senior season.
