Nasser Gets Large Vote In Election

CAIRO (AP)—Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser, President-elect, promised today "we will be defenders of the constitution and defenders of right." He said Egypt had crushed colonialists and would support "whoever believes in our aims and principles."

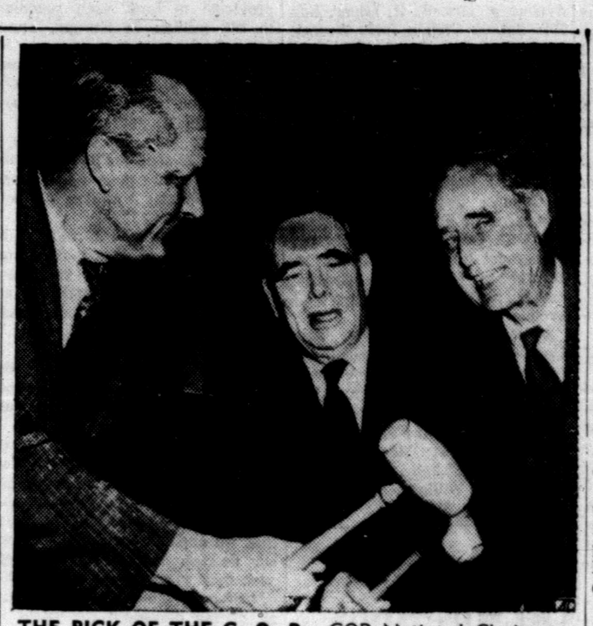

He spoke to a crowd congratulating him on being chosen first President of the Egyptian republic. It included Soviet Ambassador E. D. Kiselev. Nasser was the only candidate in Saturday's election. He got the approval of more than 90 per cent of all Egyptian voters.

The Interior Ministry announced that 94 per cent of the 5,720,000 registered voters took part in Egypt's first secret-ballot election, that 99.7 per cent of these voted for Nasser and that 97.7 per cent ratified the new constitution designating Egypt a republic.

The outgoing Revolution Command Council announced that it has given the minister of the interior power to put "under administrative detention" any persons against whom it had made decisions in the four years since it took over from King Farouk.

The announcement, published in all Cairo morning papers, disclosed the Council used its last meeting, on Friday, to vest such power in the minister for a 10-year period following the ratification of the constitution.

The decision means that, despite Nasser's statement that martial law is lifted, the government for those 10 years will be empowered to detain old politicians like ex-Wafd party leader Mustapha el Nahas and former President Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib.

THE PICK OF THE G. O. P.—GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall announced in Washington, D.C., that the 46-member convention arrangements committee had picked these three Republican leaders on Capitol Hill for key jobs at the August nominating session in San Francisco, Calif. Posing together after their selection are, left to right: Sen. William F. Knowland of California, designated as temporary chairman of the convention; Rep. Joseph M. Martin of Massachusetts, permanent chairman; and Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut, chairman of the platform committee.

Will Go To Gettysburg

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will convalesce at his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., after checking out of Walter Reed Army Hospital late this week, probably Friday or Saturday.

It was also announced today that:

1. Eisenhower has decided to visit Panama City July 21-22 for a meeting with the presidents of other American republics.

2. Talks Eisenhower had scheduled for July 7-10 with Prime Minister Nehru of India have been postponed at Nehru's suggestion. He has been asked to suggest new dates.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower definitely plan to spend the coming weekend at the farm.

Hagerty told a news conference he had no details yet as to just when Eisenhower will be discharged from the hospital.

But the President's physicians reportedly are planning to let hm check out Friday or Saturday if his recovery progress continues as it has been going—"very satisfactorily."

The plans announced by Hagerty mean that the President, hospitalized since June 8, will spend his 40th wedding anniversary at the farm with Mrs. Eisenhower. The anniversary is Sunday.

In reply to questions, Hagerty said he had no information yet as to whether the President may stop at the White House, and perhaps stay there overnight, before going on to Gettysburg.

The press secretary said the President and Mrs. Eisenhower plan to drive the 85 miles to their country home when they do go.

Before his illness, Eisenhower frequently used a plane for trips to Gettysburg.

Hagerty said he did not know how long Eisenhower will remain at Gettysburg. But he ruled out the possibility of Eisenhower going on from the farm to convalesce further at some other place.

Hagerty said that when Eisenhower does leave his farm home it will be to return to the White House. The President's physicians have estimated that it will be one to three weeks after his discharge from the hospital before he can resume the full duties of the presidency.

Announcement of Eisenhower's convalescence plans came after he had held another 60-minute work session at the hospital with White House aides.

During that time he signed 16 bills passed by Congress; approved a tariff increase on imports of certain linen toweling, and named a new special assistant to the President to succeed Fred A. Seaton, recently appointed secretary of the interior.

An 8 a.m. bulletin from Walter Reed Army Hospital said:

"The President had a most comfortable night. He slept almost continuously for nine hours.

"His temperature is 98.6, pulse 78, blood pressure 118 over 70 and respiration 18—all of which are normal.

"His weight remains the same (162 pounds).

"His condition continues to progress very satisfactorily. His spirits and morale are extremely high this morning."

The President's sleep of nine hours was his longest and best since he entered the hospital June 8, was word relayed to the press corps.

The recuperating President faces several decisions regarding his activities in the next month to six weeks.

Harriman Says U. S. Gains Bad Reputation

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said today that the Eisenhower administration has given the nation "the reputation of being warlike."

The statement by Harriman, a leading contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, was challenged promptly by Maryland's Republican Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

"Of course we are not warlike," McKeldin said, joining in the running crossfire that has marked the 48th annual Governors' Conference.

The remarks had nothing to do of course, with the main business of the meeting which today concerned itself with problems of education.

Harriman and McKeldin appeared on an NBC television panel discussion.

"This administration is dominated by big business; they are looking at the dollar sign and demand that people around the world, that people do things at our behest," Harriman said.

"We, the American people, the most peace-loving in the world, have gained the reputation of being warlike."

Harriman, who is courting other Democrats at the conference to support his candidacy for the presidential nomination, quoted Secretary of State Dulles as saying "there is no peace anywhere, only an unstable peace."

He said the administration has "tried to fool the American people and by doing so they have fooled many people around the world."

McKelden retorted:

"If this is war for Americans, I hope this continues indefinitely, because none of our boys are being shot at in the battlefield anywhere in the world, thanks to the Eisenhower administration."

Democratic Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler said in an interview Democrats will be hard pressed to stave off Republican bids for two Senate seats and Kentucky's 10 electoral votes if Eisenhower runs again.

Chandler, who considers himself a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said in an interview that he believes Eisenhower is "just as personally popular" today as he was four years ago when he lost border state Kentucky by only 700 votes.

"If the President thinks he is up to running again, the people will take his word for it," said Chandler, here for the 48th annual Governors Conference opening today.

"If the President runs we will have a hard time holding on to our two Senate seats and keeping the state Democratic. There is some disaffection among farmers, but Eisenhower is just as popular personally as he was four years ago."

Chandler's estimate of Democratic chances in his state paralleled in some respects the analysis of Democratic Governors Averell Harriman of New York, Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and C. Mennen Williams of Michigan in their politically critical states. But Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee said he is certain Eisenhower won't carry his state again.

Democrats hope to retain their hairline control of the Senate.

Harriman said his party can carry New York against an Eisenhower-headed GOP ticket "only if we have a strong candidate and a strong platform."

Williams said it was "debatable" whether Eisenhower can win again in Michigan. He implied that the Democrats there have their work cut out for them to beat the President.

Location Of Park Is Discussed Here

The Scurry County commissioners court this morning talked with one property owner about possible location of the park authorized by voters in a bond issue here to be built in south Snyder.

The property owner made a proposal to the court for about 30 acres of property. The court was to discuss another possible site later with another property owner.

The park, an additional runway at the county airport, and a public library were all authorized in the issue. The court was to discuss the library this afternoon with M. C. Butler of Lubbock, who has been employed as archias architect.

Car-Truck Collision Kills Two Persons

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—Two persons were killed early today in a car-truck collision about 25 miles west of here near the town of China. They were William Wynn, 46, and Mrs. Virginia Harndon, about 40, both of Beaumont.

The driver of the truck escaped injury. Both vehicles were badly damaged.

British Plane Crash Kills 31 Persons

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Thirty persons, including one American—an oil man—were killed last night in the crash of a four-engine British airliner in northern Nigeria.

The American was G. K. Eysaman, 32, of Mohawk, N.Y., area manager of Mobiloil Nigeria, Ltd., at Ibadan, Nigeria. He had been with the company eight years and was en route to New York for a leave and a year's assignment in the United States. His young daughter, Ann, and his wife, reported to be expecting a second child, are in the United States.

The plane steward, L. A. Ward of Reading, England, was reported missing. Three of the 18 known survivors were said to be critically injured.

The known dead included stewardess Kay Buckley, 11 women passengers and 2 children.

The British Overseas Airways Argonaut, en route from Lagos to London via Tripoli, Libya, had just taken off from Kano, 700 miles northeast of Lagos. It reportedly flew into storm clouds, lost height and crashed into the trees, bursting into flames.

Aboard the aircraft were 33 passengers and a crew of seven. The survivors included the plane captain, Capt. H. V. Tomlinson, 36, a Royal Air Force veteran, and four other crewmen.

An emergency squad from Kano airport rescued most of the surviving passengers.

Midland Men Killed, Injured In Accident

ODESSA (AP) —William McCuan, 25, of Midland, was killed early today when a car overturned about six miles east of here.

McCuan died in an Odessa hospital about an hour after the crash. The driver, Wayne Lane Milligan, 29, also of Midland, suffered head injuries and multiple cuts on the body. His condition was critical.

Patrolman John Whit said Milligan apparently lost control of the car and it struck the center island of a four-lane highway.

Both men were thrown from the vehicle. Both worked for the Riley Reproduction Co. of Midland.

County Escapee Is Caught By Officers

Billy Jack Bennett, who escaped from the Scurry County jail Aug. 30, 1955, after being jailed on a burglary charge, has been picked up in Meeker, Calif., it was announced by the sheriff's office today.

Sheriff Homer Whisnand said his force hoped to leave today to bring Bennett back here.

Bennett was arrested here in 1951 and charged with the robberies of the Western Union office on June 17, 1951 and the Sunbeam Cash Food Market on July 20, 1951. He took $99.50 in the lone-wolf robbery of the Western Union office and admitted taking $1,496.45 in cash and about $4,000 in checks in the Sunbeam Cash Food Market burglary.

Bennett and his cell-mate Richard Crawford, escaped from the county jail Aug. 30, 1955 after sawing or filing through a crossbar and then cutting the hasp off the lock of a service door. Crawford was captured at Slaton March 12 of this year.

A charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for burglary was filed against Bennett by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The charge was filed by the federal district attorney in Fort Worth after officers had reason to believe the escapee had crossed a state line in his flight.

Bennett has spent time in two different penitentiaries. He served time in Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. for burglary and in the Huntsville State Penitentiary on a felony forgery charge. He was on parole from the penitentiary when the Snyder burglaries occurred.

He was brought to Snyder July 19, 1955, by local sheriff officials when he was released from the state penitentiary. He was then released from jail here on $2,000 bond. He allegedly became involved in two burglaries in Graham and Seymour while free on bond from here.

He was returned to Snyder Aug. 27, 1955 when his bondsmen asked that the bond be cancelled. He escaped three days later, and although a widespread hunt was conducted, he was not apprehended.

2 Escapees Nabbed After Speedy Chase

PONTIAC, Ill. (AP)—Two escapees from a Louisville, Ky., jail were captured by a pursuing state policeman yesterday after their stolen car left a highway curve at a speed of 100 to 110 m.p.h.

The car rolled over twice and skidded 65 feet on its side on U.S. 66 near Pontiac. Both men were uninjured.

The two fugitives — Arthur E. Penn, 29, and Jerry Powell, 21—escaped Friday from a Louisville jail where they were awaiting arraignment on armed robbery charges.

Patrolman Dean Kinsell held the two men at gunpoint by their overturned auto until other police squads arrived. Kinsell said the men attempted to stop his pursuing squad car by throwing the rear seat of their vehicle on the highway.

However, Kinsell said they were able only to get the seat halfway out the door of the fleeing car because of wind resistance created by the high speed.

Kinsell said Penn, who was driving, put police on the trail of the fleeing pair yesterday when he forced a car carrying two Negroes off an Illinois highway.

Kinsell said the Negroes told state policeman Stewart Grant that two men who claimed to be policemen forced their car off a road, upbraided them for speeding and then drove off. Police pursued.

Both men told Illinois authorities they had served previous prison terms. They were being held in Pontiac on the Kentucky jailbreak and robbery charges.

British Judge Shot By Cypriot Gunmen

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Two gunmen shot a British judge in the head and neck today as he sat in his guarded car in a crowded Nicosia street. Justice Bernard Shaw, who has sentenced three Cypriot rebels to death, was taken to a hospital in serious condition.

The two gunmen approached the car, leaned forward and fired twice. Shaw slumped over in the seat. His bodyguard leaped from the car and blazed away at the two gunmen, who made their escape in a small car waiting nearby.

Shaw had been about to go home for lunch from a special court where he presides over cases brought under the state of emergency which Britain has proclaimed on Cyprus.

Immediately after the shooting police roped off the area of the attack in the Armenian quarter inside the walled old city. The district was teeming with Cypriots who normally go home for a three-hour lunch break.

Some tried to break through the troop cordon by climbing over the walls. The British troops opened fire, wounding one woman in the arm.

Shaw came to Cyprus last November to take charge of the special court, which has a reputation for strictness and severity in dealing with rebel cases. Like other judges and senior police officers, Shaw lives in an apartment house surrounded by barbed wire. He travels with an armed escort at all times.

Before dawn, pro-Greek rebels bombed a police station in suburban Deftera, wounding a British soldier in the leg.

In a coordinated move, the rebels blew up a small bridge a mile south of Deftera just as British troops moved in to repel the attack.

The attackers at the station faded into the darkness as police opened fire from the station.

The rebels, believed to be members of the EOKA underground trying to force union of Cyprus with Greece, launched their attack by throwing two bombs at the police station. Then they opened fire with pistols and shotguns from a churchyard across the road.

At almost the same time another rebel group threw bombs at a police station in Yerolikus, seven miles south of Nicosia. There were no casualties. Five British soldiers were wounded yesterday by bombs thrown at two army vehicles near Famagusta.

The 16-day mountain operation launched by the British to round up leaders of the EOKA movement ended yesterday. British officials said the sweep yielded considerable information, ammunition and supplies. But it failed to unearth George Grivas, former Greek army colonel the British say heads the underground organization.

Boy Burns To Death

HOUSTON (AP)— Christopher Aldaco, 16, burned to death yesterday in a fire in his two-story frame home. Two half brothers, Charles Hernandez, 5, and Gabriel Hernandez, 7, were reported in fair condition.

Bond Set On Cases

Bond has been set at $1,000 each on Albert White, Jr., and Mack Henderson, arrested for possession of beer, wine and whiskey in a dry area. The two youths, picked up at Dermott early Friday, are still in jail here.

Texan "Miss Hawaii"

HONOLULU (AP)—Willowy, blue-eyed Jere Wright, who measures 36-24-36 and was born in Paris, Tex., will represent Hawaii in the Miss America contest. The University of Hawaii coed, 20, was chosen Saturday night. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Wright of Los Angeles.

Major Bills Are Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—With leaders aiming for adjournament three weeks from now, Congress girded today for a busy week which may bring important action on defense money, foreign aid, highways and school aid bills.

Major tests lay ahead too on civil rights legislation and a big veterans' pension proposal.

The Senate neared the voting stage on a hotly debated recommendation by its Appropriations Committee to add more than a billion dollars to the amount President Eisenhower asked for the Air Force in the bookkeeping year which starts next Sunday.

Democrats are leading a fight to provide the Air force with money as a means of quickening the nation's air power buildup. Secretary of Defense Wilson has insisted no more money than Eisenhower sought is required, and Republican senators are backing a move to hold the increase to 500 million dollars.

Other items in the 35-billion-dollar defense money bill are generally noncontroversial. Final Senate action will send the measure to conference with the House, which followed fairly closely Eisenhower's recommendations.

The House docketed minor bills for consideration today, but tomorrow it heads into a politically touchy fight over a veterans' pension bill backed by the American Legion and opposed by the Eisenhower administration and the Democratic House leadership.

The bill would boost payments to veterans an estimated 1¼ billion dollars the first year. The administration says it would cost a total of 148 billions over the next 44 years, but the Legion contends that estimate is too high.

No obstacle is foreseen to final approval of a vastly expanded program of federal aid for highway construction. A compromise measure is ready for House and Senate passage tomorrow or Wednesday.

A proposed new system of federal grants, to help the states build schools, is scheduled for House debate about Wednesday. It would authorize grants of 400 million dollars in each of the next four years — a somewhat bigger program than the administration has recommended.

The major dispute centers around a proposal by Rep. Powell (D-NY), a Negro, that no money be provided to areas which maintain racially segregated schools.

An ominbus civil rights bill backed by the administration may be cleared Wednesday for House action. It has been bottled up in the Rules Committee.

Following Senate action on the defense money bill, leaders plan to call up a foreign aid authorization measure restoring a big chunk of the amount cut from it by the House. The administration asked $4,900,000,000 for the coming year. The House cut the request by $1,104,000,000. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has recommended restoration of 703 millions.

Twining Says World Controls Necessary For U.S. Arms Cut

MOSCOW (AP) — Gen. Nathan Twining, U.S. Air Force chief of staff invited to Moscow to see the latest in Soviet aviation developments, has told his hosts the United States will not disarm until it is certain of worldwide controls.

Twining, his aides and British and French air force chiefs were among foreign guests yesterday at the Soviet Aviation Day show in which the Russians unveiled three new types of fighter planes and a new jet-propeller transport.

It was the first time U.S. and British air chiefs witnessed the annual display.

Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev told the foreign guests and newsmen the show omitted new heavy jet bombers because "we wanted to emphasize defense, not offense."

The new models shown included (1) three delta-wing day interceptors assumed capable of supersonic speed, (2) two "advanced type" day fighters of a model called "Farmer" by U.S. airmen and first shown last year, (3) two improved all-weather fighters of the type labeled "Flashlight" by Western observers, also shown in the original version last year, and (4) a single assault-type, twin-engine turboprop transport which can operate from short, unimproved runways.

In all, the crowd of more than 200,000 at Tushino Airport saw about 120 fighters, 40 helicopter transports and only 16 bombers fly over. Last year's show featured 73 bombers.

Western experts said none of the new aircraft was unexpected. They added that the show included nothing startlingly new.

But Twining called the display "very interesting and successful." He said he hoped to examine the aircraft in more detail during his inspection of Soviet air installations and factories in the coming week.

At a garden party at the Soviet Army Club after the show, Soviet leaders proposed repeated toasts to disarmament and world friendship. When his turn to speak came, Twining said forthrightly but politely:

"We know what war means and my country has proved through the years we are a peaceful people. We always got into wars very late.

"After the last war we disarmed completely. That, gentlemen, is disarmament. We had to build up our forces again at Korea—and we are not going to reduce them again until we are sure of worldwide arms controls."

He was applauded by diplomats and air force delegations of Britain, France and the United States.

During the entertainment, Khrushchev said to Twining, "You probably are very interested in our rockets and ballistics missiles. We will show you all you want to see. You would like to see them, wouldn't you?"

Twining nodded.

Khrushchev slapped his knee and roared, "Well, we want to see yours. Show us your planes and we'll show you our ballistics weapons."

The U.S. general replied, "You can read all about ours in our journals."

Bank Embezzler Gets 20 Years

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Minnie Mangum, ex-officer of an embezzlement-wrecked financial institution, was sentenced today to serve 20 years in prison.

The 59-year-old spinster, plump and poker-faced, stood in a crowded courtroom and heard Corporation Court Judge H. Lawrence Bullock impose sentence of 10 years for her embezzlement of $1,082,968.25 and 10 years for giving false information to the State Corporation Commission.

Bullock specified the two sentences are to run consecutively.

He imposed sentences of two years each, to run concurrently with the 20 years, on eight indictments charging forgery, two others charging false information, and one alleging embezzlement of $17,000.

Three other indictments charging embezzlement of a total of $2,884,000 were dropped on motion of the state prosecutor, Linwood Tabb.

Immediately after sentencing, Miss Mangum was taken into custody and placed in the Norfolk Ciy Jail to await removal to the state industrial farm for women at Goochland, Va.

Miss Mangum, who was highly respected and long noted for lavish generosity to family and friends, had pleaded guilty May 21 to 12 indictments stemming from shortages of almost three million dollars that wrecked Commonwealth Building & Loan Assn.

A week earlier a jury had given her 10 years in prison for making false financial reports to the Corporation Commission.

The 190-pound defendant showed no expression from the time she entered the courtroom shortly before 10 o'clock until sentence was pronounced 30 minutes later. She wore a navy blue dress, small white hat, a necklace of small white pearls and white pearl ear rings. She was accompanied by a brother, Curtis Mangum of Petersburg.

Judge Bullock, before he pronounced sentence, said there is "no yardstick by which punishment can be measured." He said it should be heavy enough to deter repetition of crime and to assure the public law enforcement is adequate for their protection, but should not be heavy enough to destroy the defendant.

Miss Mangum, when arrested Dec. 29, gave her age as 52. The three-page presentence report read today by the probation officer, Elmer R. Jeter, gave her age as 59.

Miss Mangum for many years was active in church and Sunday School work. She made restitution to her employers of approximately $160,000 in cash, securities and real estate. Her salary at Commonwealth as assistant secretary-treasurer was approximately $9,000.

Jeter said Miss Mangum told him she had not stolen funds.

Defense attorney Max R. Broudy introduced a report by a psychiatrist which said he had discovered no psychosis in Miss Mangum but had found "very definite" paranoid—delusion of persecution—trends.

Miss Mangum's arrest came several days after the shortages at Commonwealth were discovered during a surprise visit by a score of federal examiners. Miss Mangum's defalcations, it was testified at her trial, covered a period of 22 years.

Chief Examiner William A. Patton testified at the trial that Miss Mangum used two principal methods in her embezzlements: She posted fictitious credits to savings accounts of friends and relatives and then withdrew the same day; and she made share loans against accounts which had no balance or insufficient balance.

And she concealed the shortages, Patton said, by hiding large numbers of savings account file cards, representing the exact amount of her shortages, just before examiners arrived for their annual visits.

Commonwealth, its reserves wiped out and its capital impaired, was placed in temporary receivership in February and its major assets and liabilities were taken over simultaneously by the Home Federal Savings & Loan Assn. None of Commonwealth's investors lost a dollar.

The Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corp., U. S. agency which insures up to $10,000 each account in building and loan associations, has filed a series of civil suits against a score of Miss Mangum's relatives and friends for recovery of more than a million dollars it alleges she gave them from her employer's funds.

Israel Says Nasser Will Launch Attack

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel charges Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser has threatened to use his growing arsenal to launch an attack against her.

An Israeli Foreign Office spokesman protested to the U.N. Israeli-Egyptian Armistice Commission that Nasser violated the armistice agreement between the two countries in his Suez Canal celebration speech June 19.

He said Cairo radio quoted Nasser as declaring: "We have lost a precious part of our homeland: Palestine has been paralyzed. We are now obliged to be string on order to liberate the entire Arab land from Morocco to Baghdad and in order to retrieve the rights of Palestine's people."

The spokesman claimed the statement points to aggressive action "being planned and threatened against this country."

The spokesman also cited the recent tightening of the Suez blockade by Egypt against Israel-bound shipping and charged that Egypt is massing troops on Israel's border.

A border clash broke out between Israelis and Jordanians yesterday. An Israeli spokesman said two Israeli security force members were killed and a Jewish settler wounded.

The clash occured near Qalqilye on the Jordan side of the Border, and Nir Eliahu, an Israeli settlement about 12 miles northeast of Tel Aviv.

Navy Hero Adm. King In Critical Condition

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (AP)—The condition of Adm. Ernest J. King, 77, who led the U. S. Navy to victory in World War II, "deteriorated during the night," a Portsmouth Naval Hospital bulletin said today.

The admiral was stricken with a heart ailment early yesterday and he was suffering from a circulatory and respiratory failure.

The bulletin issued at 9 a.m. said: "He continues in a state of shock and coma. He is not responding to maximum digitalis therapy or other measures. Because of his failure to rally the outlook is grave."

Politics Main Topic At Texas Labor Meet

AUSTIN (AP)—Politics was in the forefront today as delegates gathered for the opening sessions of the Texas State Federation of Labor convention.

Ralph Yarborough, candidate for governor; A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, candidate for lieutenant governor; and Tom Moore Jr. of Waco, candidate for attorney general, were invited speakers for tomorrow.

Texas' Democratic national committeeman, Byron Skelton of Temple, and the new committeewoman, Mrs. R. D. Randolph of Houston, will speak at a $100 a plate dinner tonight. The dinner is sponsored by the Texas Committee on Political Education.

Krushy Hits On Sore Spot

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev, free-talking Soviet party boss, put his finger on a sore spot of rivalry between the U. S. Navy and Air Force in a chat here with Gen. Nathan F. Twining, U. S. Air Force chief.

"I cannot understand why the United States has a Navy man as head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff," said Khrushchev to Twining during a stroll through the Soviet Army Club yesterday. "Navies are like tortoises. They always have been, and they always will be. It is the same with us as it is with you."

Twining's comment was not caught by reporters.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford is chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff. Known as an advocate of a broadening role for the Navy in strategic warfare and of super-aircraft carriers, he was appointed in 1953 by President Eisenhower to succeed an army man, Gen. Omar N. Bradley.

Selection Of Jury Starts

DALLAS (AP)—Selection of a jury began today in the trial of an Air Force civilian employe charged with accepting $5,000 bribe to use his influence in getting government contracts for Temco Aircraft Corp.

The defendant is Odie Pipkin, 36, of Fontana, Calif.

He was arrested by FBI agents in the spring of 1955 and charged with accepting a $5,000 check from an official at the Temco plant in Greenville.

Other Temco officials worked with the government in breaking the case. Pipkin was a maintenance technician employed by the San Bernardino, Calif., Air Materials Depot of the Air Force.

White To Make Check Of Control Program

AUSTIN (AP)—Agriculture Commissioner John White will go to the Panhandle and West Texas points today to check on progress of a $25,000 federal-state grasshopper control program.

Inspectors are spraying 52,747 acres of range lands to control one of the most serious outbreaks of grasshoppers in recent years. White said he believed a major plague of grasshoppers has been averted in the Panhandle.

"The control program is not as expensive as it should be," White said. "Many ranchers can not afford to participate because of the long drought. They just don't have the money."

Bartosh To TCU

GRANGER, Tex. (AP)—Pete Bartosh, Granger High School basketball player and track man, will enter TCU this fall. His brother, Gilbert, played quarterback at TCU in the early fifties.

Drowns At Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Ralph Plant, 34, drowned in Lake Houston Saturday when a boat in which he was fishing capsized.

Someone Forgot To Count Noses

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Prater of Milwaukee forgot to count their six children after stopping at an Indianapolis filling station yesterday.

A hundred miles south of Indianapolis on the trip to Knoxville, Tenn., somebody said, "Where's Carrie?"

A telephone call to Indianapolis police disclosed that 8-year-old Carrie had been inquiring for her parents. They came back and got her.

Fear Aired On Military Aid Planning

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Defense Department spokesman told the Senate Appropriations Committee today that if military assistance to Europe under foreign aid is limited to 402 million dollars it would "practically destroy" the program for arming Allies in that area.

E. Perkins McGuire, acting assistant secretary of defense, appealed for restoration of House slashes totalling a billion dollars in foreign military aid around the world. He protested particularly a provision to limit such spending to 402 million in Europe, apart from Spain.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is now considering administration requests for money to finance the authorizations.

McGuire said the planned program for Europe includes 510 million dollars for conventional weapons and about 430 million for "advanced weapons."

"If such limit (402 million) is imposed, it is obvious that one or the other of the major European programs must be abandoned, or both reduced to an extent which would practically destroy each," McGuire said.

The advanced weapons include guided missiles and improved warning and communications equipment.

"Taking into account the growing military potential of the Soviet bloc and their rapid scientific development in the field of weapons," McGuire said, "it is plain that we and our Allies must keep our defenses adequate to meet such new weapons and new methods of aggression as the Communists may develop."

Keep Money Despite Hint

NEW YORK (AP)—The producer of a TV quiz show has decided to ignore a master of ceremonies' $64,000 slip of the tongue.

Producer Louis Cowan of the "$64,000 Challenge" show decided to let stand an award of $32,000 each on June 17 to actor Vincent Price and jockey Bill Pearson.

The slip occurred while Pearson was concentrating on an art question. As he was doing so, master of ceremonies Sonny Fox, referring to two of the eight parts of the question, said, "There are two more, Michael...oh, No. 2 and 4."

One of the answers Pearson subsequently gave was "Michelangelo."

Price and Pearson split the award money, $32,500 each.

The producer said after reciewing the circumstances that "the only fair thing to do is to abide by the results announced on the air."

The announcement said that Pearson, in a sound booth, "did not hear Fox."

Loss Of Air Bases Feared

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas said today Gen. Nathan F. Twining's statements to Russian leaders in Moscow point up a need for giving the Air Force more funds than President Eisenhower asked.

With the Senate approaching a vote on the politically hot issue of increasing the Air Force budget, Johnson told newsmen he was "highly impressed" by the remarks made by Twining, the Air Force chief of staff.

"He seems to make it clear to the Communists," Johnson said, "that this country has no intention of backing down on its preparedness plans."

Johnson added that the "best way we can strengthen our leaders is to appropriate sufficient strength for our Air Force."

The Senate Appropriations Committee is advocating a billion-dollar increase in the Air Force funds.

Johnson said "there are some persons who think it is phony to strengthen our Air Force but the Communists know there is nothing phony about air power."

This was an obvious reference to a comment by Secretary of Defense Wilson which added considerable heat to the Air Force fund dispute. Wilson said later he did not intend to apply the word "phony" to the actions of the Senate or its members.

Twining, an invited guest at the annual Communist air power demonstration, told Kremlin leaders yesterday that the United States will not disarm again until it is certain about worldwide disarmament controls.

After speaking of Twining, Johnson mentioned Wilson's remark and said "I assume we will hear plenty about that today."

Johnson had asked the Senate to vote today on the big defense money bill, in which the increase in air funds is the only known dispute. But he said senators planned "many speeches and several members are away."

"If we don't vote today we will vote tomorrow," he said.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) said possible loss of overseas airbases by this country is an important reason for the Senate to vote more funds for the Air Force.

"The truth is that our overseas bases are becoming less and less reliable to support our air-atomic power. . . . From Iceland to Okinawa, key strategic bases are now under political attack," Jackson said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

Jackson contended that if the overseas bases are lost, more B52 long-range bombers capable of operating from this country will be needed to deter the increasing Soviet strategic air power.

The principal issue, as the Senate debated th big Defense Department appropriations bill, was whether—and how much—to increase the funds President Eisenhower asked for the Air Force.

The Senate Appropriations Committee, while cutting slightly some sections of Eisenhower's 15½-billion-dollar Air Force budget, voted to add $1,160,000,000 for additional planes, bases and manpower.

The committee raised the bill's total to $34,938,000,000, a figure 835 millions above Eisenhower's requests and $1,300,000,000 above the amount voted by the House.

Sen. Chavez (D-NM), floor manager for the bill, said he is confident the Senate will approve the big Air Force increase by a margin of "6 to 10 votes."

Republicans hope to substitute a lesser 500-million-dollar increase proposed by Sen. Bridges (R-NH). Bridges said, however, that senatorial "resentment" at Secretary of Defense Wilson may result in a bigger increase.

He referred in an ABC-TV interview to news stories quoting Wilson as saying both Democratic and Republican efforts to increase the Air Force funds were "phony."

Wilson since has backed away from that statement, saying he was "partly" misquoted and misunderstood. He said he did not mean to insult any senator, and had meant the word "phony" to refer to a part of a reporter's question which he said imolied that he did not have to concern himself with defense expenditures.

Both Chavez and Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said they didn't think Wilson's remarks would affect the senators' decisions.

Jackson said the Senate vote would decide "the kind of Air Force we will have three years hence."

He quoted testimony by Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, and Gen. Curtis LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command, that Soviet strategic air power could be superior by 1959-60 unless U.S. power is expanded.

French Press Drive Against Rebel Forces

ALGIERS (AP)—The French today reported killing about 80 rebels, most of them clad in army uniforms, in a big mopup operation in the Aures Mountains of southeastern Algieria.

French forces began encircling the band, estimated to number 200 or 300 men yesterday near the town of Edgar-Quinet, in a desolate area that has been a strong rebel hideout ever since the rebellion started nearly 20 months ago.

The fighting was still going on in an effort to annihilate the band, the French said. About 50 rifles and three submachine guns have been seized so far.

Closer to the coast, around the city of Constantine, the French clamed at least 23 rebels killed.

To the west, an estimated 16,000 French troops forged ahead with Operation Pigmy, designed to seal off the frontier with Morocco. There was no report of the rebels killed and wounded, although the French said they had taken 63 prisoners. Eight French soldiers were reported wounded.

Algiers' population of more than half a million was in a high state of tension after attacks last week by rebel flying squads operating out of the Casbah, the teeming native quarter. Five Europeans were killed.

CRISPY WAFFLES WITH CREAMED SAUSAGE BALLS

WAFFLES:
1½ cups pancake mix
2 eggs
1½ cups milk
½ cup shortening, melted

CREAMED SAUSAGE BALLS:
1 pound bulk pork sausage
1-6 cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk

For waffles, place all ingredients in bowl; beat with rotary beater until fairly smooth. Bake on hot waffle iron until steaming stops. For creamed sausage balls, form sausage into 1-inch balls; brown slowly in cold frying pan placed over medium heat. Be sure to cook throughly. Remove sausage balls. Drain off excess drippings, leaving 1-3 cup; blend in flour and salt. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Add well-drained sausage balls. Serve hot over waffles. Garnish each serving with chopped parsley or paprika. Serves 4.

Modern Women Can Pick From Variety Of Fabrics

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

MARTHA WASHINGTON would never believe it if she could view the variety of fabrics available in a modern department store. She wouldn't even know what the fabrics are. And if somebody told her they came out of test tubes she no doubt would swoon from shock.

Martha was an old-fashioned girl. Her dresses were made from cotton, silk, wool or linen. She saw the wool clipped from the sheep, washed, carded, spun into yarn and finally woven into fabric. She saw the cotton picked and knew all about the flax and the silkworm. Fabrics were no mystery in Martha's day. But they were considerably more limited.

Today the miracle fabrics are doing new tricks every day. The latest are to be seen in the new transitional styles which are due to hit the shops about August, for late summer and early fall wear. These fabrics may look like tweed or taffeta, slub or silk or worsted — but they probably will turn out to be new treatments of color-sealed acetate and rayon.

The ones that look like tweed turn out to be amazingly airy and light. Textured surfaces fabrics have a soft, luxurious feel. And the fabrics are used in dark town dresses designed to see a woman smartly through the dog days between summer and fall.

Today chemistry and fashion make a winning team, putting high style garments within the reach of the girl on a budget.

LOOKING TOWARD FALL—Smart way to look in autumn—slim dress in dark acetate-rayon with angora collar, redingote effect.

BETWEEN SEASONS — This flattering dress, with 20-gore skirt, is made of a tweedy acetate and rayon with lustrous look.

Picnic Held For Gasoline Plant Group

A picnic was held for the Texas Co. Fuller Gasoline Plant employes and their families, Saturday, June 23, at the Towle Park pavilion.

The picnic was in celebration of the 350,000 man-hours that the plant employes have completed without a time loss because of accidents.

About 125 employes and families witnessed as E. E. Callaway, Division Supt. of Industral Relations of West Texas, presented the green, red, and white safty award banner bearing the Texaco star to J. W. DeFore. DeFore is the Foreman of the Fuller plant.

Also present at award picnic were A. E. Willig and R. F. Naul, Supt. and Assistant Supt. of the Gas and Gasoline Dept. of the West Texas Division.

Barbecue and all the trimmings were served and later there were games and prizes.

In May of last year Fuller Gasoline Plant were given their first award dinner when they completed 250,000 man hours without a loss time because of injury.

New Fabrics Are Disclosed

EAST LANSING, Mich.— (AP)— Fabrics advertised as crease-resistant actually do resist creases. Michigan State University textile researchers discovered.

The skeptical researchers put the fabrics through more than 25 launderings in an automatic washer with the water at a temperature of 140 degrees, using a synthetic detergent.

They found that although there was some loss of finish in the laundering, the treated fabrics remained crease-resistant throughout the study.

To make the test, both treated and untreated fabrics were purchased from retial stores. Fabrics tested included crease - resistant voiles, permanent crisp, powder puff muslins, crease - resistant novelty ginghams, irridescent chambrays, striped seersuckers and glazed moire, crease-resistant cottons.

Fabrics with the crease-resistant finishes cost 30 to 60 cents a yard more than those without the finish.

World Of The Future

Most of the talk about the huge population growth accuring in America and other parts of the globe is pretty gloomy stuff. Usually the warning goes out that we won't be able to feed and serve those billions at adequate living levels.

But now some scientists have come along with a different slant. They predict that within a hundred years world population will zoom from the present 2.6 billions to 66.7 billions or more. But it doesn't worry them.

They think there'll be plenty of food for all, and ample supplies of metals, minerals in general and other useful materials.

In their view, what we called "machine civilization" will be spread over the entire globe, embracing even the most backward peoples. By the time 2050 rolls around, they figure we'll be drawing our necessities from the commonest sources we know: air, sea water and ordinary rocks which today are considered unproductive.

Naturally enough they envision utilizing sunlight for power. Experiments in this direction already are numerous, and many scientists feel the sun one day will make nuclear energy look like small potatoes as a driving force for modern civilization.

The hopeful forecasts come from a report made by scientists at California Institute of Technology. The work was not lightly undertaken, and is no idle dreaming. Some measure of the report's status may be had from the fact that its findings have been soberly discussed in the board rooms of 27 of this country's leading corporations.

The one warning note the scholars strike is this: they do fear a shortage of brain power, of men with the ability and imagination and training to understand the possibilities that lie ahead and and means of realizing them.

A world such as these scientists foresee for the 21st century cannot come about without vast effort. Above all, that effort must have direction. Only the best brains this nation and the world can develop will give us that guidance.

And of course the authors of the California report made it abundantly clear that all bets are off if the world is plunged again into the catastrophe of war.

With peace, the 21st century may offer a bright new world. But should war intervene, the 21st century is more likely to resemble the 10th, when man still lived in relative darkness. The choice lies with us.

Longevity In Congress

The oldest U. S. senator in history is also one of the most active. Sen. Theodore Francis Green, who achieved that status last week, travels far and wide when the Senate is not in session, and in the process wears out aids half his age.

The Senator earned his unique distinction on June 18, when he was 88 years, 8 months, and 15 days old. The former record-holder, Gen. Justin Smith Morgan of Vermont, died in office on Dec. 2, 1898, when he was 88 years, 8 months, and 14 days old. In recent years the record for age was held by Sen. Carter Glass of Virginia, 88 years, 4 months, and 24 days old when he died.

The tall, courtly Sen. Green, a bachelor, is much in demand at Washington social events, where he takes an occasional highball between dances. Mildly eccentric, he frequently rides the trolly from his University Club residence to Capitol Hill. He's always been athletic, tapering off these days to swimming.

Attorney, financier, and aristocrat, the Rhode Islander has a consistent New Deal-Fair Deal voting record. Elected in 1936 and thrice re-elected to the Senate, he stands next in line for the chairmanship of the Foreign Relations Committee when Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) retires at the end of the 1956 session.

Longevity in the Senate is bipartisan. Of the 12 septagenarians in the Senate, seven are Democrats and five Republicans .The Democratic oldsters, in addition to Green, are Matthew M. Neely (W. Va.), 82; James E. Murray (Mont.), 80; Carl Hayden (Ariz.), 79; George (Ga.), 78; Herbert H. Lehman (N.Y.), 78; Joseph C. O'Mahoney (Wyo.), 72 in October.

Improving 'Breed' Of Metal Is Goal Of Thousands Of Scientists And Engineers

By SAM DAWSON

PITTSBURGH (AP)— Improving the breed—usually associated with Churchill Downs or Belmont—today is the goal of thousands of scientists, engineers, technicians and pilot plant workmen in the nation. The breed they're out to improve isn't horses but metals.

They are trying to meet the ever growing industrial and military demands for better metals to do precise and often seemingly impossible tasks. Business in general, and even the stock market, watches their result.

That's because improving the breed of metals not only can bring success in the defense armament race but also, metallurgists here say, can make the difference between profit and loss for railroads, airlines, trucking. They say that in improved metals lies the future of automation in manufacturing, building construction, auto design, mining and even man made satellites.

U.S. Steel has just opened a research center at nearby Monroeville, Pa., dedicated to improving the breed of metals. Two thirds of the work there is aimed at improving processes of handling metal and one third at seeking new products or applications.

Allegheny-Ludlum Steel's research scientists here are working on many problems, including new alloys to enable the Air Force to pierce the heat barrier — the speed at which many metals now used would melt. There already exists a small pilot plane that can fly that fast without melting and big ones are the new goal.

American Brake Shoe, which has a plant here and a research center at Mahwah, N.J., is working on new alloys, new heat techniques.

Among the challenges that metallurgists today are being given by industry and defense — and licking or constantly improving upon—Brake Shoe scientists point out the following:

Tougher metals for crushing—to get the iron out of one of the hardest rocks in the world, taconite, and vastly expand the nation's iron resources.

Stronger metals for wearing and moving parts.

Three purpose metals for highway construction— offering strength, hardness and impact resistance in the same piece.

Corrosion resistant but easily manufactured alloys for facing the new office, commercial and industrial buildings.

New high strength steel alloys for trucks.

Plastic coated steel pipe.

Metal to shrug off radio-activity —essential in developing atomic energy for industry.

Improved wheels and rails for the railroads.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

THE STORIES OF LIAM O'FLAHERTY. Introduction by Vivian Mercier. Devan-Adair.

More than 400 generous pages containing 42 stories, most of them from previous O'Flaherty collections but a few never before in a book, make up this welcome volume from the author of memroable novels like "Famine" and "The Informer."

The characters are man, woman and child, the beasts in the barnyard and in the wild, the bird and fish, Life and Death, and Nature. The glamor of a tramp's hazardous existence is matched against the security enjoyed in an old folks' home; a tinker battles an intruder who courts one of his two wives; a man clouts his mare savagely for love of a girl. A cow follows her calf to death, a water hen mates, and so does a swan, a cat misses a blackbird by less than an inch of feathers, a conger eel outwriggles two angry men in a curragh.

These are stories of a primitive land where life, an infant, treads close after death, a shriveled old man. For all the art in the author, there is little or none in the dour existence of these people, who have no margin at all of safety, for whom a single cow separates living from starving, for whom the extra catch of fish is worth the deadly danger of swiftly gathering storms. Even where fortune smiles on a quick-witted fellow, the envy of his mates is savage and hateful.

The collection opens with a half dozen slight, indifferent pieces, the only ones in the entire book. The rest are marvels of insight and artistry, whether they evoke a tenuous mood or mount to a thrilling climax.

Roses, Cherry Blossoms Move Parties Outdoors

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—When the roses bloom capital society moves out of doors. Nearly everyone has a garden, and entertaining is so much simpler, especially where big crowds are involved.

The roses here vie in colorful display with our famed cherry blossoms. They garland many private residences and most of the big embassies, especially the Spanish and the British.

One of the biggest shindigs of this time of year is the celebration of Her Britannic Majesty Queen Elizabeth's birthday by the British Ambassador and Lady Makins and just across Massachusetts avenue by the South African Ambassador and Mrs. John Edward Holloway.

The latter also were celebrating South Africa's national holiday. The occasion was in the nature of a farewell too, since ambassador had just received word of his appointment as the South African High Commissioner to London.

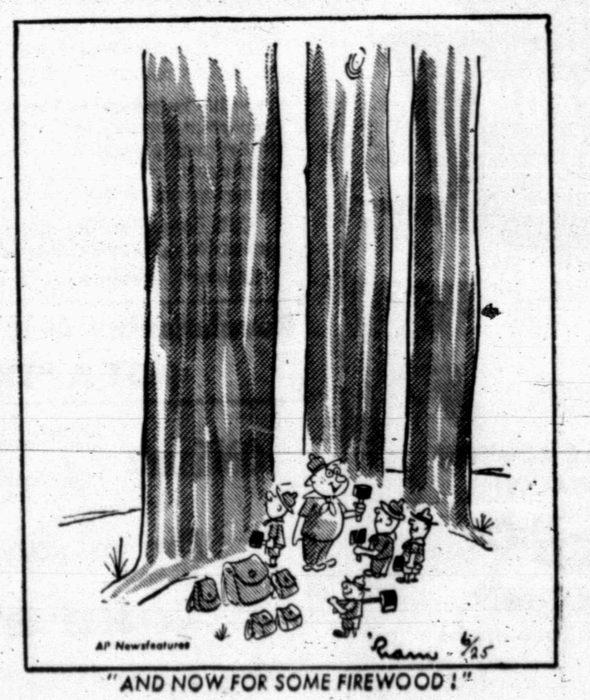

Traditionally on the queen's birthday the British drink her health in champagne and serve up the biggest, most luscious strawberries with the thickest and yummiest of whipped cream (to resemble as nearly as possible the famous Devonshire cream served with the real English strawberries back home).

Even though brief showers sent the many guests indoors, spirits were undimmed. The women always seem to save their most picturesque garden-party hats and frocks for this affair, and everybody seemed to enjoy ducking in and out of doors and across broad Massachusetts avenue to the South African do, much to the confusion of homeward-bound motorists.

Members of the diplomatic corps, the Cabinet, Congress and social Washington were on hand to celebrate with the popular Makins and the equally popular Holloways. Lady Makins even invited her favorite hairdresser and his wife to the affair.

Also at the reception was Margery Elspeth Alice Ewing, a stenographer at the embassy. She and Alice Joyce Wingate, former personal assistant to Ambassador Makins, were on the Queen's Birthday Honors list. They were made members of the Order of the British Empire.

Summer's Advent Brings Warming News To Businessmen In Variety Of Lines

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP)—Summer's advent brought warming news this week to businessmen in varied lines.

Basking in the sunshine were department store executives, machine tool manufacturers, freight car builders, furniture makers, heavy construction engineers and others.

Even in the depressed motor capital of Detroit the pulse of business quickened. Ford made a last-minute change in its production plans—a sudden decision to boost July output 8 per cent above the rate originally planned. The reason: "To meet higher demand for new cars."

An upward change was announced, too, in the government's official estimate of 1956 construction spending. Back in November the Commerce Department predicted that this year's construction outlays would total 44 billion dollars. The new estimate, announced this week, is 44½ billion. That would be a gain of 3½ per cent over 1955 and would easily make 1956 the biggest construction year on record.

The dark spot in the construction picture is home building—the forecast here has been revised downward. The way government experts size up the situation now, builders will start work on 1,150,000 new homes this year against an earlier prediction of 1,200,000. But, says the government, other construction projects will more than take up the slack. Big jobs will set the pace—factories, oil refineries, bridges and superhighways.

Industry is adding new plant and equipment at such a furious clip that machine tool builders are finding it difficult to keep up with new orders. Last month, new orders for machine tools totaled a whopping 93½ million—up 30 per cent from a year ago.

A great big question mark hovered above the steel industry this week. Company-union wage talks ran into a series of snags; at week's end both sides were making preliminary preparations for a possible strike after the June 30 contract deadline.

The mills were still producing full tilt with operations scheduled at 96 per cent of capacity. There was every indication, though, that this might be a final spurt before producers start banking their furnaces. Who will get hurt most if there's a strike? Not the auto manufacturers—they have more steel than they need. But, say trade observers, a steel shutdown would have a stunning impact on the construction boom.

What's the outlook for business for the rest of 1956? More boom or a dose of recession? Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, chief economist for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, volunteered this prediction: "This, he said, will be the nation's biggest business year and the boom "ought to carry over into 1957."

Justin Bowersock, Washington, D. C., banker, disagreed. A business recession is ahead, he said, unless the economy gets a "shot in the arm" in the form of tax cuts or easier credit.

Who's Railroading Who In Rosenberg-Sobell Case?

By INEZ ROBB

Just so there will be no misunderstanding, I hereby nail my credo to the masthead: I do not believe that the United States Government is guilty of conspiring monstrously, ignobly and with terrible malice aforethought to lynch Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, executed atomic spies, and their co-defendent, Morton Sobell.

It is inconceivable that such a conspiracy to destroy three obscure persons extended from an equally obscure immigration inspector through the FBI, the whole Federal court system up to and through the United States Supreme Court, and finally to the President himself.

Yet there are the persistent inferences and grape-shot charges of the worldwide, Communist-inspired and supported attempt to blacken this nation in the eyes of the world through fictitious and trumped-up efforts to turn the Rosenberg-Sobell trial into an American Dreyfus case.

A conspiracy exists, all right, but it is a Communist conspiracy cynically to use this trial to damage American at home and abroad by allegations that the Rosenbergs and Sobell were deliberately railroaded by every agency of American justice, including the Presidency.

The latest move, but by no means the last, was the bid of Sobell (now serving a 30-year sentence in Alcatraz for conspiracy to commit wartime espionage) for a new trial or for freedom.

The fact that the motions were denied by Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman, presiding judge at the Rosenberg-Sobell trial, will only add new fuel to the Communist fire.

The thesis of the Communist-inspired and supported "Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell," which is determined to achieve an American Dreyfus case, is perfectly expressed in a letter I received 10 days ago from its press agent. It read in part:

"There have been and will probably unfortunately continue to be prosecutors and men in positions of public responsibility who resort to dishonesty to advance their political fortunes at the expense of others. This is what we believe happened in the case of Mr. Sobell.

"The difficulty then becomes, once the conviction is obtained, that people in high places fear repercussions if an error is admitted, and efforts are made to keep the truth from coming to light."

In other words, the Rosenbergs and Sobell were victims from the start of the vilest and most reprehensible treachery by everyone in the United States government who even touched on the case. And now these selfsame persons, to advance "their political fortunes," are continuing their conspiracy in enlightened self-interest!

Any American who has traveled abroad in recent years knows what success this Communist conspiracy to stigmatize American justice and honor has enjoyed, particularly among such anti-American elements as England's Lord Bertrand Russell and France's Existentialist poobah, Jean-Paul Sarte.

Communist millions and influence have been poured into this case to make it a cause celebre with which to beat Uncle Sam. The party is concerned with the guilt or innocence of the Rosenbergs and Sobell only as a Communist device to attack the United States.

There is a conspiracy surrounding this trio, all right, but it is Communist and contemptible.

'Japanese Vacations' Hit Cotton Textile Industry

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP)—"Japanese vacations" are becoming more and more frequent these days in the U.S. cotton textile industry.

Several mills have shut down, claiming low-cost Japanese goods have priced them out of the market. Workers who get laid off call it a "Japanese vacation." Nobody likes to take a Japanese vacation. It's usually payless and sometimes permanent.

The phrase "Japanese vacation" is indicative of the loud complaints you can hear almost any day now from mill executives who produce cotton cloth in New England and the South. They're protesting vociferously about Japanese competition.

The reason is that the Japanese, who pay lower wages and don't have to pay U.S. support prices for raw cotton, can sell cotton goods more cheaply. A yard of Japanese gingham sells in this country for 44 cents, including 22 per cent duty. A yard of comparable American cloth sells for 55 cents. U.S. garment manufacturers and retail stores, attracted by the lower price, buy all the Japanese cloth they can get their hands on.

Just how damaging is this competition? Here's what U.S. cotton cloth producers say:

Measured in terms of total U.S. textile production, Japanese imports don't amount to a hill of beans. But the Japanese industry will select two or three key U.S. textile markets, and concentrate its production on those spots. That effect is described as deadly. Prices plummet, inventories pile up. U.S. mills specializing in the kind of goods the Japanese happen to be concentrating on at the moment cut production and sometimes go out of business.

"First it was printcloths and broadcloths," says the representative of a big Southern cotton mill with offices on New York's Worth Street, century-old textile trading center. "Then it was tablecloths and napkins. Until recently, Japanese blouses were a deadly menace; now it's velveteens and ginghams."

Right now, the U.S. cotton textile industry is producing at the rate of about 10 billion yards of cloth a year. Last year Japan shipped 100 million yards of cotton goods to this country, plus blouses, dish towels, sports shirts, diapers and other fabricated items containing an additional 55 to 60 million yards. This year imports of cotton textiles from Japan may reach a total of 250 million yards, including piece goods and finished garments.

That's only about 2½ per cent of total U.S. cotton goods production. But this cold statistic is of little comfort to the U.S. gingham or velveteen producer who has lost his entire market to low-priced Japanese goods.

Hollywood Today

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The latest heartbeat of the teenage set is a second generation filmster with a shy manner and an easy grin.

He is handsome six-footer Pat Wayne, son of the screen's ace moneymaker John. Although Pat has been seen only briefly in a handful of pictures, he is already figuring prominently in the fan magazine popularity polls, placing a few notches below his famous father.

I had already talked to the proud papa, so I sought out young Pat for his reflections on his career.

I tracked him down at dinnertime at his mid-Los Angeles home where he lives with his mother, John Wayne's first wife. He introduced his older brother Mike. Pat answered questions in a taciturn and shy manner.

Does he like working in pictures?

"Oh, yes. It's a lot of fun."

How did he happen to get started?

"I had done a few little things in pictures for Mr. Ford. (director John Ford, mentor of John Wayne and Pat's godfather.) He asked me if I wanted to play a bigger part in 'The Long Gray Line.' It sounded okay."

Does he want to be an actor?

"I don't know yet. I have some time to decide—another year of high school and four of college. My father wants me to finish school first.

How are his grades?

"All right."

Brother Mike acted as press agent: "I can speak for him on that. He does very well in school —A's and B's mostly."

How does Pat's mother take to his acting career?

"She thinks it's okay," he replied. He explained that most of his film work has been in the summer and would continue to be until he gets out of college. He has signed with the C. V. Whitney company for seven years and is expected to star for the first time in "The Missouri Traveler" this summer.

John Wayne is more loquacious about Pat's career than the lad is himself. He was high in his praise for a scene Pat did in "The Searchers."

"The scene was a terror," said John. "He had to come bursting in and tell me and Ward Bond the whole story of what had happened. We interrupted him with questions, but he kept on going. Ford let it run and the kid did the scene perfectly."

Police Learn About Some Obvious Advice

MAYSVILLE, Ky.) — Some obvious advice came to light as police executed six slot machines with sledge hammers, a sign inside the back of one machine reading:

"Mr owner — Always bear in mind that you lose money when this machine is out of service."

Sneaky Snake Jugged

ASHLAND, VA. (AP) — Postal Worker Ned Smith Jr. captured and jugged a sneak thief caught tampering with the mail at the postoffice. The sneak was a two-foot long black-snake slithering around in a carton of baby chicks. Smith plopped the snake into a glass jug after the chicks had chirped the alarm.

She's In The Swim

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Mrs. Oscar Turner, 26, just learning how to drive, backed her car across a vacant lot, through a brick wall and into a swimming pool. She and a passenger, Mrs. Bernice King, had minor injuries Mrs. Turner's son, Jack, 2, was uninjured.

Letter To The Editor

To The Daily News:

We wish to show our appreciation to the honesty of Mrs. R. D. Fields of Fields Service Station, 2100 Twenty-fifth Street, Snyder, Texas, for the return of a purse left at her service station with several hundreds of dollars of money and property therein. With the wonderful cooperation of the police department of Mineral Wells, Texas, they were able to find the proper owners and return this property to us intact.

The people of these communities should be proud of these people and be proud that they have such honest people in their community and also a police department that is on the ball.

We publicly thank everyone of you fine people that had something to do with the return of our property. We were en route to the East Coast and in a strange place which makes it more wonderful. There was no identification of any kind in this purse.

Strack, Kidd Set Tourney Pace

Both Record 7-6 1st Round Wins

Two Snyder doctors, Dr. Dean Strack and Dr. R. J. Kidd, set the pace in the first round matches in the Championship Flight of the City Golf Tournament yesterday.

Dr. Strack, the tourney medalist, disposed of Dan Warren, 7-6, the same margin by which Dr. Kidd defeated P. W. Cloud.

Six of the eight first round matches in the Championship Flight were played yesterday. Joining the two doctors in the winner's bracket yesterday were Manning Davis, Shelby Cocker, John Pickering and Miles Davis.

Still to be played are the Don Scott-Clyde Hall and John Conley-Ralph Howser matches.

Ten matches were played off in the lower flights, two of them going for extra holes.

Russell Yorgesen won over Marshall Erwin, 1-up (19) in the first flight while Don Couch did likewise in edging B. L. McKinley in the third flight.

The remainder of the first round matches must be played by Saturday with second round matches in all flights to start Sunday.

Following are the first round results thus far:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT
First Round

Dr. Dean Strack def. Dan Warren, 7-6.
Manning Davis def. Wayne Boren, 3-2.
Shelby Cokre def. Max Milam, 3-1.
Dr. R. J. Kidd def. P. W. Cloud, 7-6.
John Pickering def. C. V. McClathchey, 2-1.
Miles Davis def. Van Hooks, 4-3.

FIRST FLIGHT
1st Round

Russell Yorgesen def. Marshall Erwin, 1-up (19).
Howard Crenshaw def. Gordon Taylor, 3-2.
Earl Fish def. Richard Brice, 6-5.
John Boran def. Jimmy Cloud, 3-2.

SECOND FLIGHT
1st Round

Earl Horton def. Dr. J. B. Weaver, 6-5.
Roy Sallee def. Bill Tillman, 2-1.
Lee Stone def. M. R. Estes, 4-3.
Harold Parsons def. Jack Dillon, 4-3.

THIRD FLIGHT
1st Round

Bill King def. Gene Bruton, 5-4.
Don Couch def. B. L. McKinley, 1-up (19).

Sun Oil Upsets H'leigh

Sun Oil handed Hermleigh its first defeat of the season in City League play yesterday, 7-2, behind the air-tight pitching of Wayne Whiteside.

Hermleigh carried an 8-0 record into the game, the defeat leaving its record at 8-1 as compared to Sun Oil's 7-2.

Whiteside struck out nine and walked only one in turning back Hermleigh yesterday.

Sun Oil broke a 1-1 tie in top of the third inning and led the remaining distance.

Gene Kirby led the 11-hit Sun Oil attack with three hits—two singles and a double. Shortstop Jimmy Smith chipped in with two doubles for the Oilers.

Bill Houston got three of the seven Hermleigh hits off Whiteside—all singles.

Hermleigh notched its eighth straight win with a come-from-behind 15-5 win over Snyder Furniture Saturday night.

Snyder Furniture led 4-2 after three innings but Hermleigh broke loose in the late innings to turn the game into a rout.

IN KID BASEBALL PLAY

Show-Down Time For Runner-Ups

It will be "show down time" for all runnerup teams in the Snyder kid baseball league this week.

All three second place teams will get a direct shot at the league leaders during the week.

In the Pony League, the Scurry Butane Dodgers will get their last chance at undefeated Court House Tigers Friday night. Going into this week's schedule, the Tigers are coasting along with a 12-0 record as compared to 10-2 for the Dodgers.

Each team has one game before meeting each other Friday. The Dodgers meet the Line and Line Yankees tonight while the Tigers take on the Lions Club Phillies Thursday

The Dodgers could tie the Tigers for the lead after the week's play. To pull even with the Bengals, the Dodgers must win both of their games this week and the Phils would have to down the Tigers.

The Legion Yankees, currently setting the pace in the American Little League race with an 8-1 record, will meet second place Holder Construction Indians 5-3 Thursday night.

Before then, though, the Yanks will meet the Trinity Methodist White Sox tomorrow and the Indians will meet the West Texas Bank Athletics tonight.

It's virtually the same story in the National Little League. The Lions Club Cubs are leading with an 8-1 mark and will play one game before meeting second place Kiwanis Club Braves, 5-4 Friday, night.

The Cubs will meet the Quarterback Club Giants tonight and the Braves will meet the Rotary Cardinals tomorrow night before their big game Friday.

Following is the kid baseball calendar:

MORROW TAKES AAU 100-METER CROWN—Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian, who last week became a two-time NCAA sprint champion, adds the AAU's 100-meter title to his collection at Bakersfield, Calif., by whipping a fast field in 10.3 seconds. Leamon King (left), of California, who was given the same time, 10.3, although a full stride back, was second. Thane Baker (right), of the Air Force, third, and John Haines of Pennsylvania (P of jersey), fourth.

13 Texans To Seek Olympic Track Berths

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Thirteen Texans will seek places on the United States track and field team this week.

Led by Bobby Morrow, the Abilene Christian College sprint great, Texas has its largest contingent in the Olympic trials that open Friday.

Morrow is expected to lead both the 100 and 200-meter runs, events he has made in 10.2 and 20.6.

Other Texans who will compete in the trials with their best times and heights in the NCAA and National AAU:

Theo Bush, Texas Southern, 20.9 in 200 meters; Joe Villarreal, Texas, 3:49.5 in 1500 meters; Eddie Southern, Texas, 51.5 in 400-meter hurdles; Don Stewart, SMU, 6 feet 8½ inches in high jump.

Paul Johnson, ACC, 1:50.5 in 800 meters, 3:52.0 in 1500 meters; Dick Foerster, Texas, 1:49.2 in 800 meters; Bill Curtis, TCU, 14.2 in 110-meter hurdles; Walter McNew, Texas, 15:38.4 in 5,000 meters.

Bobby Whilden, Texas, 10.7 in 100 meters, 21.2 in 200 meters; Roy Thompson, Rice, 51.8 in 400-meter hurdles; James Segrest, ACC, 21.5 in 200 meters; Larry McBride, Houston, 21.1 in 200 meters.

Southwestern Loop Sets July 1 Meeting

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP) — The Southwestern League will meet at Hobbs, N.M., July 1 to decide whether it will continue with 10 teams or drop some clubs.

This was decided after a closed meeting Saturday night at which there were reports that some of the teams are in financial difficulties. President W. J. Green of San Angelo declined to name the clubs having money troubles.

Olympic Cinder Trials Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This week brings the goal for which the best track and field talent in the United States has worked for months and even years—the final tryouts for Uncle Sam's Olympic team.

Veteran champions of the past Olympiads and high school boys will be on like footing at the Coliseum Friday and Saturday.

Fields of 15 athletes for each of the 17 events have been decided in a series of three championship tests, the armed forces, National Collegiate and National AAU. Here only the three best will make the team for the fall trip to Australia. Record performances of the past two weeks signify the keenness of the competition for what could be this nation's greatest Olympic team.

World Record Smashed

One world record was smashed and another tied in the AAU event at Bakersfield, Calif., last Friday and Saturday, the final qualifying meet.

The Navy's Jack Davis, former University of Southern California star, ran the 110-meter high hurdles in 13.4 seconds to better the mark of 13.5 that has stood since Dick Attlesey, also of USC, set it in 1950.

Equalled was the 10.2 second 100-meter record as speedy Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian continued his sprint superiority.

All told, nine AAU meet records fell in the two evenings of competition.

Some veterans came through with flying colors and others fell by the wayside as injuries took their toll. The Rev. Bob Richards, Olympic champion in 1952, cleared 15 feet in the pole vault Saturday night in AAU competition to lead qualifiers for that event.

On the other hand, veteran Harrison Dillard who won the Olympic 100-meter dash in 1948 and the 110-high hurdles in 1952, just barely makes it to the final trials. His 14.4 seconds in the hurdles ranks well down the list.

Lindy Remigino, who surprised by winning the Olympic gold medal in the 100-meter dash at Helsinki, Finland, four years ago, couldn't qualify in that event but squeaked by in the 200.

The Rev. Franklin (Bud) Held, holder of the recognized world record in the javelin throw, also failed to qualify. But the Olympic committee, in unprecedented action yesterday, voted to allow him in the trials. Held also has been in the injury list and is just rounding into form.

Pulled A Muscle

At the same time, the committee decided to let Duke's speedy Dave Sime compete in the 200-meter dash trials if he so desires. The record-smashing sprinter had qualified for the 100-meter by placing second at the NCAA meet, but pulled a muscle in his groin during the 200 and dropped from the race.

Dallasite Wins Race

ELKHART LAKE, Wis. (AP)—Carroll Shelby of Dallas sped his Ferrari to first place in the feature sports car race at the Road America program yesterday. Shelby gunned the car to a record lap of 85.59 miles an hour over the twisting four-mile course. He finished in 80.04 m.p.h.

Yankee Lead Dwindles To 1 Game As Chisox Sweep Series

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

Any thoughts of a New York Yankee runaway in the American League have evaporated like their once handsome 6½-game bulge.

The White Sox drubbed Casey Stengel's defending champions 14-2 and 6-3 yesterday to sweep their four-game series. The White Sox zoomed to within one game of the Yankees.

Not since 1954, when the St. Louis Browns accomplished the feat, has any team swept a four-game set from the Yankees.

The Yankees now boast a slimmer first-place lead than their National League counterparts, the Milwaukee Braves, who boosted their margin to two games by knocking off the New York Giants twice, 6-2 and 7-1, for their ninth and tenth straight triumphs. The Braves haven't tasted defeat since Fred Haney replaced Charlie Grimm at the helm a week ago.

Cincinnati's slugging Redlegs swept past Brooklyn into second place, winning two from the Dodgers 10-6 and 2-1, St. Louis and Philadelphia split, the Phillies winning 3-2, the Cardinals 8-4.

Pittsburgh ended an eight-game losing streak with an abbreviated five-inning, 1-0 victory over Chicago. The Cubs won the first game 5-3.

The Baltimore Orioles dealt Detroit a double 3-2 loss, stretching the Tigers' losing streak to eight in a row. Kansas City downed the Boston Red Sox 5-2 behind the six-hit pitching of southpaw Alex Kellner. Cleveland defeated Washington 7-2.

Three-run homers by Larry Doby in the first inning of each game started the White Sox off. The Sox slaughtered Whitey Ford and two relievers for 18 hits in the opener, making it easy for Billy Pierce to breeze to his 11th triumph against two defeats.

Neither Ford nor Maury McDermott, second game starter, lasted through the first inning as the Sox rolled to their eighth success in a row. Gerry Staley, ex-Yankee, notched the nightcap win although he needed help from Dixie Howell.

Milwaukee got superb pitching from right-handers Lew Burdette and Gene Conley as they swept all four games from New York. Burdette yielded four hits in the opener. Conley was touched for four safeties until he gave way to Dave Jolly in the seventh inning of the second game. Danny O'Connell drove in three runs with a home run in the first game and knocked in two runs with a bases-loaded single in the second.

The Redleg raiders pounded six homers against Dodger pitching, three by catcher Ed Bailey and solos by Ted Kluszewski, Frank Robinson and Bob Thurman. Joe Nuxhall won it.

Home runs by Al Rosen, Earl Averill and Bobby Avila paved the way for Cleveland's sixth straight triumph and Bob Lemon's ninth success against four losses.

Billy Loes and Ray Moore, a pair of ex-Dodgers, received credit for the Baltimore victories over Detroit. Home runs by Willie Miranda and Billy Gardner won the first game and Tito Francona's double chased in the winning run in the

For Kansas City, Harry Simpson drove in three runs with a home run and triple and Vic Power batted in two with a single and home run to make it easy for Kellner.

Pinch hitter Frank Baumholtz's ninth-inning single scored Elmer Valo with the run that gave the Phillies a split in their twin bill against the Cardinals. Ken Boyer paced the Redbirds to their first game victory with a pair of home runs and a triple.

Rain, which came in the sixth inning with the Pirates ahead 1-0, helped Pittsburgh snap its eight-game losing streak. The victory went to Laurin Pepper, a bonus right-hander, his first in the majors. Spook Jacobs, who joined the Pirates Friday, singled in Eddie O'Brien with the only score off loser Sam Jones. Walt Moryn's seventh homer highlighted Chicago's two-run rally in the eighth of the opener that broke up a 3-3 deadlock.

Scott Wins WT Tourney

MIDLAND (AP)—Arlyn Scott, the Hardin-Simmons golfer from Odessa, won the West Texas championship yesterday with a closing 76 that gave him 292 for 72 holes.

His total was four strokes over par.

Bill Roden of Odessa made a strong finishing bid, carving a 1-under-par 71—the best score of the day—to wind up second with 294.

Richard Patton of Fort Worth and Frank Freer of Lamesa finished with 300 and a tie for third place.

Bill Lupardus of Midland won the first flight championship, beating A. N. Brown of Midland 1 up.

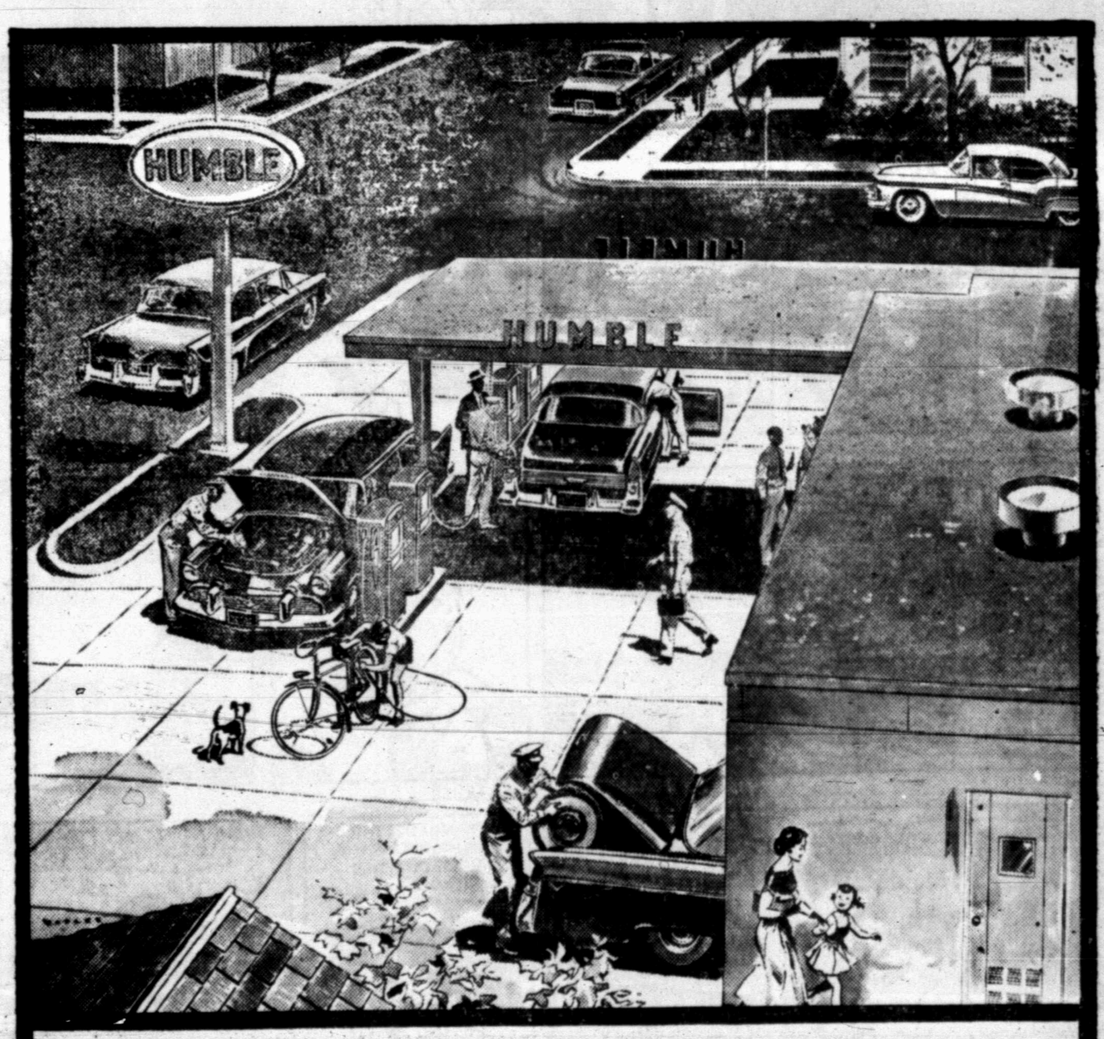

Moe Madison of Big Spring won the second flight, defeating Dr. Jake Shapira of Midland 4 and 3.

C. Courter of Midland defeated Bill Stallings of Midland 2 up for the third flight title.

Richard Paschall of Big Spring won the fourth flight title, defeating Bob Stewart of Midland 1 up.

V. T. Smith of Andrews won the fifth flight championship, downing J. C. Underwood of Andrews 1 up.

Party Favorable To U. S. In Iceland Loses Ground In Vote

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Iceland's Conservative Independence party, which wants to keep American troops on this strategic Atlantic island's NATO bases, lost ground in yesterday's parliamentary election.

The alliance of Progressives and Social Democrats, sponsors of the drive to oust U.S. forces from the big Keflavik air base and other installations, almost won a clear majority in the Althing (Parliament), a preliminary count indicated today.

For the first time in the Althing's 1,000-year history more than 90 per cent of the 90,000 qualified voters cast ballots. The results appeared certain to be another coalition government, since neither the conservatives nor their opponents captured a clear majority of the Parliament's 52 seats.

The preliminary count gave the Conservatives, led by outgoing Premier Olafur Thors, 19 seats. In the old Althing they held 21.

The Progressive - Social Democrat coalition appeared to have taken 25 seats, a gain of 3. The Communists held on to 7—the same number they had before — and one place was undecided.

A total of 27 seats is required for formation of a government by a single party or combine of parties. The Conservatives and Progressives had governed together since 1953 but split when the Progressives last March pushed through the Althing a resolution asking withdrawal of American forces within 18 months. The government has asked for discussion of this with Washington.

The National Defense party, which is anti - Communist but made U.S. withdrawal its sole election appeal, apparently had lost the only two seats it held in the old Althing.

Domestic issues were overshadowed in the voting by the intense interest in the demands of the four opposition parties for withdrawal of the 5,000 to 6,000 U.S. Army, Air Force and Navy men manning the Keflavik base and radar listening posts linking North American and European defense networks.

Thors called this a demagogic appeal to Icelandic national pride. He said the reputation and security of the country were at stake and that the agreement permitting the U.S. base could not be renounced without study and preparation.

Thors also reminded the voters that the American departure would cut 12 million dollars a year from Icelandic income, a 20 per cent loss.

With Communist and National Defense support, the Progressives and Social Democrats brought the "U.S. go home" drive to fever pitch during the election campaign. They urged a return to the island's pre-World War II neutrality and isolationism.

Iceland, although one of NATO's 15 members, has no armed forces of its own to contribute to the alliance. But opponents of the U.S. presence claimed American "occupation" has hurt the island's economy because high wages offered workers by U.S. forces has cut the supply of labor for productive enterprises.

TRUMAN SAYS

Presidency Is Killing Job

LONDON (AP)—Harry Truman today called the American presidency a "killing job" for one man and suggested the solution was "young men who've been trained for the job."

The former President refused to discuss President Eisenhower's illness, but in talking about office of president said:

"Its a killing job—a six-man job. I know, I've been through it."

Asked what he thought was the solution, he replied:

"Young men. We must get young men, young men who've been trained for the job. That's the only way."

Truman was host today to Hugh Gaitskell and eight other members of the British Labor party. They ate lunch at a private room at Truman's hotel.

Referring to his meeting with Sir Winston Churchill yesterday, Truman said:

"Oh, we won the war all over again, took credit for doing it and like two old men had a good time reminiscing."

Earlier, he told newsmen the 81-year-old Churchill was "keen as a briar."

Talking about criticism of Soviet party boss Khrushchev, which has been made by the far-left Italian Socialist, Pietro Nenni, Truman said:

"Yes, they are finding out that there is no difference between totalitarians whether their names are Mussolini, Hitler, Stalin or Khrushchev.

Truman, who is in Britain on a 10-day visit, said he is unable to tell if the Kremlin has had any change of heart since Stalin's death.

"I'm still from Missouri which means I want to be shown," he said.

He lunched with Churchill yesterday.

"You don't look a day older than Potsdam," said Truman as he greeted Churchill at Chartwell, the British elder statesman's spacious country home.

"Oh, yes," replied Churchill. "I'm getting on."

Churchill then complimented Truman, who is 72, on how well he looked as the pair posed for photographs.

Later they entered the Tudor house where a butler served them drinks. Standing beneath a bust of Franklin D. Roosevelt, they drank what appeared to be a silent toast to the late President.

Moving into a large lounge decorated with Churchill's paintings, they reminisced about the war and other events.

Turning to one of his favorite sports — horse racing — Churchill said he was still lucky.

"My horse, Le Pretendant, won at Ascot yesterday," he said, "and he paid 8 to 1."

"Well," said Churchill, "if I didn't, I still won 1,437 pounds $4,023).

The men were joined at lunch by Lady Churchill; Mrs. Truman; two of the Churchill daughters, Mary and Yarah; Mary's husband, Christopher Soames, and Lord Baverbrook, the publisher.

Wide Drought Conditions Are Reported

DALLAS (AP) — District farm agents reported wide streaks of drought conditions in East and Central Texas last week, the Dallas News said today.

J. H. Surovik of Mt. Pleasant said moisture is critically short in northeast counties. Corn is suffering. Cotton has made fairly good progress, he said, with some insect damage showing up.

In deep East Texas moisture was fair to good east of the Trinity River, but west of the river land is still dry. Walter Scott of Nacogdoches said. Watermelon harvests have begun in Robertson and Leon counties, but yields are short. A small tomato crop is about harvested.

Surface moisture is poor in Central Texas, and strong winds last week continued drying out the soil fast, said R. G. Burwell of Stephensville. Drought conditions there are becoming serious, he said. Corn is tasseling and showing effects of dry weather. Rain now would be too late to help early corn. Grain sorghum and cotton need rain to make progress. Pastures are turning brown and grazing is short.

In North Texas moisture conditions are better. Ted Martin of Denton said moisture varies from fair to good. Crops made normal growth last week. Pastures and livestock are in fair condition. Cotton insects are on the increase.

To the west in the Rolling Plains, land is extremely dry. Not enough moisture exists to plant in some counties in the western half of the district, J. A. Scofield said at Vernon. Cotton made normal progress, grain sorghum growth was at a standstill and ranges were drying up. Stock water grew scarce and cattle movement was on the increase.

"Conditions here are getting more critical by the week," Scofield said.

Fruits and vegetables moved to market, the agents said. Surovik said peaches are plentiful around Avery and in Red River, Upshur, Smith and Harrison counties.

East Texas tomato shipments were 150 cars behind last year, he noted. Sweet corn, tomatoes, blackberries are in peak movement.

In Central Texas, prospects are bright for the pecan crop, Burwell said.

Truck Driver Killed

BROWNWOOD (AP) — John Pollock, 27, was found dead beside Highways 84 in Mills County Saturday night with his panel truck 300 yards away across a field. The truck crashed through two fences and was still in gear with the ignition on. Pollock, a bakery route man taking bread to Ft. Hood, apparently died of a blow on the back of the head in a fall from the truck.

GLEN ROSE (AP)—The body of William Holder, 54, who slipped into a deep hole on the Paluxy River and drowned Saturday night, was recovered yesterday.

More Heat Due State

By The Associated Press

Mostly clear skies prevailed in Texas today and another scorcher was in prospect.

A few clouds cluttered up the South Texas coast and some loafed along over West Texas and the Panhandle, but the rest of the state was clear.

Pre-dawn temperatures ranged from 81 at Wichita Falls down to 62 at Dalhart. Temperatures Sunday ranged from 105 at Presidio to 84 at Brownsville.

Official rainfall reports for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 p.m. Sunday included Victoria .15 of an inch, College Station .22 and Dalhart .15. Amarillo had .10 of an inch in the six hours ending at midnight Sunday. Brownsville had showers near dawn.

Forecasts called for scattered thundershowers over the state.

GOOD PLACE TO START VACATION—An excellent place to start your vacation trip is Snyder Drug on the west side of the square. Almost everything you will need during your vacation trip is available at Snyder Drug—and at home town prices rather than at tourist rates which you will encounter on the road. (Lee Watson photograph)

Snyder Drug Is Headquarters For Your Vacation Supplies

Are you getting ready to go on a vacation?

If so, a quick and inexpensive preparation made before the vacation starts will add much to the pleasure of your trip — regardless of the part of the country to which you are going.

One of the best ways to prepare for a vacation to any part of the country is to make a quick trip by Snyder Drug on the west side of the Snyder square, and purchase the things you usually have prices during the trip.

R. E. Patterson, owner of the modern and complete store, said that it is impossible for any vacationer to anticipate all the family's needs for a vacation trip, but a great deal of time and money can be saved by getting most of the items prior to starting on the trip.

"Regardless of what part of the country you plan to visit, sun shades and tanning lotions will be needed for vacationing at this time of the year because vacations get you out into the open air and sunshine more than you are when at home," he said.

He reminds everyone that even these small items are usually expensive if it becomes necessary to buy them in a roadside store somewhere along the way.

"You have the advantage of personally knowing the people you are dealing with when you buy the vacation items at home, and you know that the quality of the items will be tops," he said.

Snyder Drug is headquarters for all types of vacation needs including swimming accessories, thermos jugs and bottles and liners for thermos bottles, and many many other vacation needs.

The druggist also reminds persons who are required to take prescription medicines regularly that the perscriptions should be filled before leaving on a vacation trip because getting prescription medicines is sometimes difficult or impossible away from home.

Farm Prices Dropping But Costs Still High

ROME, Italy (AP)—Farm prices are dropping in many countries, but marketing and distributing costs still make food too expensive for many pocketbooks.

The Food and Agricultural Organization in its 1956 report said that in large areas of the world the bulk of the population remains underfed.

"At the same time," the report summary said, "large surpluses of some agricultural products have accumulated, primarily in the dollar area, and there has been a marked fall of farm prices in many countries.

"Marketing and distributing costs remain constant, or even increased in some countries," the report said, "so that the lower prices were not passed on proportionately to the consumer."

Spinster Embezzler Will Be Sentenced

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Spinster Minnie C. Mangum is scheduled for sentencing today for her wholesale embezzlements over a 22-year period than ran to million of dollars.

The plump, former assistant secretary - treasurer of Commonwealth Building and Loan Assn. faced punishment on 12 counts, one of which is the theft of more than a million dollars. Other indictments, including one that gives the total theft figure of $2,867,593, were expected to be dropped.

Miss Mangum pleaded guilty at her May 21 trial to the 12 counts after she had been given 10 years by a jury a week earlier on a charge of making false reports to a state banking examining agency.

Local Gift Shop Has Rental Line

Table decorations and other useful items for any type party, or social gathering, as well as invitations for these events, are among the specialty items of the Book Nook & Gift hop, 3004 Avenue T.

The feature of the party line is the shop's one-day service on mongramming of napkins, invitations, and other social stationary. This recently-added service which has already proved popular with the customers of the shop, operated by Mrs. Virginia Schiebel.

The shop's party items include invitations, napkins, bridge and table covers, all kinds of plates and cups. There are rental and sale centerpieces for stork showers and wedding showers and teas, place cards, and all kinds of plate favors.

Mrs. Schiebel has included in her party rental line a 100-piece crystal service of cups and plates including a large punch bowl.

New is one children's party line, which includes cups, plates, and favors to match in various designs, such as a circus design. Also, Mrs. Schiebel has a new complete line of teenage party goods which match. Fitting in with the summer and rodeo season is the shop's western party line.

The shop's monogram service is used for almost any kind of napkins or social stationery and can provide lettering in any color. Over night service can be given on most monogram work, Mrs. Schiebel said, while any work which cannot be done by that machine can be special-ordered with 24-hour service. Mrs. Schiebel recently added the service on engraving wedding invitations and other such stationary.

Mrs. Schiebel has all kinds of centerpieces, giving enough variety in both the rental service and those in the sale tables that a person can find one to fit almost any party theme. The rental centerpieces for showers and teas include parasols, hearts trimmed in ribbons and flowers, lacy brides, baby parasols, nursemaids, and others.

For bridge players, Mrs. Schiebel has a new supply of tallies and score pads, as well as a complete line of bridge prizes and items which fit into social gatherings.

The Book Nook & Gift Shop also has lines of birthday gifts and children's books. She maintains a rental library which includes books of all kinds. A new supply of book plates, which can be monogrammed, has been received by the shop.

Mrs. Schiebel invites anyone to drop by the shop to browse, or, if there is anything special they wish to know about the shop's merchandise, they can call her at 3-4177.

CENTERPIECES which are popular among items in the party rental service of the Book Nook & Gift Shop include these being shown here by Mrs. Virginia Schiebel, operator of the shop. Mrs. Schiebel is holding a parasol centerpiece, while others in the foreground include hearts, lacy brides, and others which help decorate tables for bridal showers or stork showers. McCormick Gets Bulls And Applause

MATAMOROS (AP)— Pat McCormick of Big Spring fought off her nervousness yesterday and killed two bulls to the cheers of a capacity crowd at the new El Charro bull ring.

Pat, the feature of the opening day fights, had bad luck, however.

The first bull, like fabled Ferdinand, didn't want to fight. Pat was applauded but said she was dissatisfied.

She went all out on her second bull, but got a little too close and the powerful beast picked her up on its horns and tossed her to the ground.

Heavy leather chaps worn to protect earlier wounds saved Pat from injury.

Visibly shaken, she went to the side of the ring and pulled off the chaps, which had slowed her movements.

Miss McCormick then marched back to the ring and resumed battle. The bull, better than average for border rings, was still strong at the finish and Pat had to make five passes with her sword before killing it.

"I was not fighting at my best," Pat said after the fight, her hands shaking. But the crowd gave her heavy applause.

BEST WAY TO KILL ROACHES AND ANTS
Scientists recommend that you control roaches and ants the modern way — with Johnson's NO-ROACH. Brushed just where you want it, (not a messy spray) the colorless, odorless coating kills these pests. It's effective for months, sanitary, and so easy to use. 8 oz., pint, quart. Available at D & H, Furr's, Piggly Wiggly, Safeway, and your local grocer.

ORPHANED BY CRASH—Lawrence Handler, 10, orphaned by the Venezuelan airliner crash in which his parents, brother and sister apparently perished, looks sadly at a family picture in his grandparents' home in Brooklyn, N. Y. Shown in the photograph are Daniel Handler, 30, Mrs. Beverly Handler, Martin, 5, and Lynne, 4. The family was returning to Caracas, where Mr. Handler was in business and left Lawrence behind with his grandparents they were visiting.

HURRYING WHEAT HARVEST—Three self-propelled combines, which cut, thresh and pour wheat into accompanying trucks, made quick work of this ripe Kansas field near Topeka. Trucks carry the grain to elevators or granaries and most farmers report unexpectedly good yields despite the drought.

Meeting Of South Demos Not Favored

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said today many people are wary of a meeting of Southern delegates before the Democratic national convention because of the 1948 "fiasco."

In a letter to Gov. George Timmerman Jr., of South Carolina, who has advocated a pre-convention "unity" session of Dixie representatives, Sparkman said:

"I have never advocated walking out of a convention, bolting from a party, or forming a third party. I do not believe in either of these.

"Since the 1948 fiasco many people throughout the South are afraid that an effort may be made to repeat. I think this explains the reluctance of many people to warm up to the idea of a pre-convention meeting of Southern Delegates."

Many Southern Democrats in 1948 bolted the Democratic ticket headed by President Truman and formed a States Rights party with Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina for president. Thurmond carried Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina, and got one of 12 electoral votes from Tennessee, but Truman was re-elected.

Timmerman said yesterday Southern state Democratic chairmen will meet in Atlanta within a few days to explore the possibility of a get-together of Southern delegates sometime before the national convention in Chicago in August.

Timmerman said five Southern governors had replied favorably to his suggestion for such a meeting. He declined to name them.

Timmerman denied he was backing a third party movement but said that he, for one, isn't ready to accept a Democratic platform declaration that goes even as far as to uphold the Supreme Court's school segregation decision.

His objectice, the governor said, is to have the South present a "united front" at the convention. "We are trying to get our party to adopt a platform and nominate a candidate acceptable to the South so that those who are trying to establish a third party won't succeed," he said.

Snyder Boy Will Attend Band School

ABILENE, (Spl)—Robert Rae Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Patterson of 3798 Avondale St., Snyder, has registered for McMurry College's eighth annual summer band and twirling school, to be held here on the McMurry campus July 15-28.

Raymond T. Bynum, professor of music and director of the Indian Band at McMurry, said that 274 students from 65 Texas towns and cities had registered for the two-week band clinic through June 22. Final registration is expected to top last summer's enrollment of 370, Bynum said.

The students will be housed in McMurry dormitories and will take their meals in the college dining hall. They will receive instruction in solo, ensemble and concert band playing, music theory, twirling and drum majoring from a staff of 22 instrumental music and twirling teachers.

The twirling staff of nine instructors will again be directed by Bill Adkins of Haskell and Mrs. LaGaytha Gothard of El Paso, two McMurry alumni who are now teaching in Texas public schools.

Anyone desiring further information on registration or cost of the band and twirling school is requested to contact Bynum at the McMurry Band Hall, Abilene, Texas.

Man Feared Drowned

ANAHUAC (AP)—Search was resumed today for Gentry Reed, 33, of Houston, missing and feared drowned in Trinity Bay. Reed disappeared Saturday night while fishing. High winds and rough water halted the search yesterday.

Americans bought 4,000 automobiles in 1900 and seven million in 1955.

Local Students Take H-SU Summer Courses

Six Snyder students have enrolled for the first summer session as Hardin-Simmons Universtiy, which is to last through July 12.

Bill T. Herring, one of the students is doing graduate work. Others are Roy Lee Ford, Suzanne Houston, Patricia Rae Taylor, Joanna Beth Wall, and Patsy Lynn Woolever.

Murder Trial Begins

EDINBURG (AP)—Rudolfo Martinez of Elsa went on trial today on a charge of murdering Mateo Nueva, who was shot to death at Elsa Dec. 3.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Extender Finaled In West Scurry

Robert L. Wood of Midland completed his No. 1 Shannon Estate, as a five-eighths of a mile northeast extender to the C-W (Glorieta) field of West Scurry County for a daily pumping potential of 20 barrels of 36 gravity oil, plus 76 per cent water.

The production was from open hole at 2,682-2,788 feet, which had been fractured with 10,000 gallons of sand oil.

The well is nine miles northwest of Snyder and 330 feet from south and west lines of the east half of the northwest quarter of section 34, block 97, H&TC survey.

W. E. Bakke of Midland has completed his No. 1 J. T. Sims as a five-eighths of a mile northeast extension to the Sims (Glorieta) field North Garza County.

The operation also is the second producer in the pool. It is 11 miles north of Post and 1,650 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 646, block 1, GC&SF survey.

On the potential test the well pumped 38.63 barrels of 32 gravity oil, plus 30 per cent water in 24 hours. The production was from perforated section at 3,670-76 feet. That interval had been fractured with 15,000 gallons sand oil.

Opener of the field was Robert L. Wood and Curtis R. Inman No. 1 Sims, completed in November 1955.

Gaines, Irion, Crockett and Midland Counties have gained new wildcat projects.

Two and one-half miles southeast of the Block 39 (Clear Fork) field of South Midland County, Rutter & Wilbanks Brothers of Midland will drill No. 1 Elkin as a 7,300-foot wildcat.

The project is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 1, block 39, T-5-S, T&P survey.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 W. S. Wimberly is a 6,100-foot San Andres wildcat in Northwest Gaines County, 12 miles southwest of Seagraves.

Drillsite is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 276, block G, WT survey, ¾ mile north of Stanolind No. 1-F Oil Development Compnay, active wildcat.

Murray Petroleum Company of San Angelo contributed a 4,800-foot exploration 15 miles west of Mertzon in Central Irion County.

It is No. 1 H. M. Noelke, 330 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 3, Washington County Railroad survey.

Choy Drilling Company, Inc., of Midland will try to open Queen sand production in the Elkhorn (Ellenburger) field of North Crockett County with re-entry of Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1-BP University, 7,898-foot failure.

Drillsite is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 28, block 46, University Lands survey.

W. E. Bakke of Midland No. 2-A J. T. Sims is to be a one mile southwest outpost to the proven area in the Sims (Glorieta) field of North Garza County.

It is 10½ miles north of Post and 330 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of the northeast quarter of section 707, block 1, H&GN survey. The project is contracted to 4,500 feet.

Ashmun & Hilliard, No. 2, Ltd., of Midland No. 1 Welch, prospective discovery from the Glorieta in North Garza County, 11 miles northeast of Post, pumped 30 barrels of oil and 70 barrels of water in 24 hours.

The production was from perforated section at 3,166-74 feet. That zone had been treated with 2,500 gallons of acid and fractured with 5,000 gallons of sand oil. Testing to complete was continuing.

The operation is 330 feet from north and east lines of section 13, block 4, K. Aycock survey.

The 1790 U.S. census (the first) cost $44,000; that of 1950 cost 90 million dollars.

The American Bible Society was started in 1816.

NO SWAN SONG

Prison Priest Has Last Mass

By EDWARD NICKERSON

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—"I'm not going to sing a swan song and say goodby because I'm not going anywhere." The small, spare, elderly Roman Catholic priest peered over his spectacles at his audience—a roomful of inmates of the Maryland Penitentiary and Baltimore city jail.

"I'm going to hang around this place because I love it. I know you can't appreciate that — you'd rather hang around somewhere else," he said, smiling as the prisoners laughed.

The speaker was the Rev. Joseph J. Ayd, S. J., a 74-year-old Baltimorean with long white hair, a reddish face and the leprechaun look of Barry Fitzgerald.

The occasion was his last Mass yesterday in the big, gray stone building where he had ministered, "off and on," to men for 38 years.

During those years this tough, kindly man helped 54 men through their last hours in the death house, and fought long and hard for a commutation of death sentence and sometimes freedom for others when he felt justice had erred.

Retirement, as Father Ayd indicated, will be only a relative thing. A professor emeritus of Loyola College in Baltimore, an authority on psychology and sociology, he has written many articles, books and newspaper columns. He plans to use his added free time for more writing.

There will be time too for what he calls his "busman's holiday"—reading crime stories.

It is the kindly side that comes out strong among the prisoners, but it was the tough side that must have come out when Father Ayd initiated and pushed through exhaustive investigations of the facts of death-sentence cases and gained commutations of sentences for 11 men.

The best known of these was that of James La Guardia, 29-year-old circus roustabout sentenced to death for alleged rape not many years ago. Father Ayd started a probe of the circumstances that led to commutation and eventual freedom for La Guardia and two youths accused with him. Father Ayd turned down an offer to go to Hollywood and make a movie of that one.

"No more useful man ever lived in Baltimore," said the late H. L. Mencken, the celebrated writer who proclaimed his agnosticism aloud and hooted in print at clergymen.

800 NAACP Delegates To Convene

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Seeking a speedup of racial integration in all phases of U.S. activities, more than 800 delegates will convene here tomorrow night for the 47th annual convention of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The six-day convention will open formally in Civic Auditorium with a keynote speech by Thurgood Marshall, chief NAACP attorney. He led the legal battle which won favorable recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions on desegregation in Southern states schools.

Special guests will include Autherine Lucy Foster of Tyler, Tex., first Negro student at the University of Alabama, who was stoned on the campus and later expelld.

Also billed as speakers with grievances to relate are L. A. Blackman of Elloree, S.C., who NAACP officials say was forced out of his building construction business there by the Ku Klux Klan when he obtained signatures on a school desegregation petition, and Gus Courts of Belzoni, Miss.

Courts headed the Belzoni NAACP branch and fled to Texas after reporting he was nearly killed by a shotgun blast when be registered to vote.

Humidity Is Getting High

By The Associated Press

Cooler air invaded the Great Lakes region and the Northwest today, but steamy weather prevailed over the rest of the nation.

Warm temperatures and high humidity readings were reported from the central and southern plains eastward to the Atlantic Coast. Showers and thunderstorms occurred over much of this area with several cities reporting more than an inch of rainfall.

The cooler air flowed over the Great Lakes region, dropping temperatures 10 to 20 degrees. Grand Marais, Mich., reported an early morning low of 44—18 degrees cooler than yesterday.

The Southwest continued to sizzle. The low temperature today at Needles, Calif., on the Arizona border was 94.

Is It Court House Or Is It Courthouse?

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Is it court house or courthouse?

The words "St. Louis County Court House" are cut deep in stone over the governmental building in suburban Clayton. It wasn't questioned for six years.

Then the Metropolitan St. Louis Civic Register, an annual guide published recently, said, "It's courthouse, not court house,' and cited a dictionary, the county charter and counselor's officer as proof.

Defense arguments say there's a precedent for the two-word usage at the "U.S. Court House" downtown. And architects of the six-year-old building say the two-word style looks better.

Atomic Ship Planned

OSLO, Norway, June 23 (AP)—Norwegian atomic scientists are looking for someone to finance an atomic-powered merchant ship. They are working on plans so far advanced they believe such a vessel could be built before 1959 if construction begins soon.

The population of Argentina grew from 9,996,467 in 1914 to 18,128,706 in 1954.

Adlai Strong In California

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—A majority faction headed by Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown held firm control today of California's Democratic delegation pledged to Adlai Stevenson at the party's presidential nominating convention.

Decisions taken at a weekend meeting of the 68-vote delegation indicated too that Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder, present Democratic state chairman, and her outvoted followers are on the way out as party powers along with others who campaign for Sen. Estes Kefauver.

The 92 delegates and 34 alternates overwhelmingly re-elected Paul Ziffren of Beverly Hills as Democratic national committeeman for California.

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of Kentfield was picked for national committeewoman, succeeding Mrs. Clara Shirpser of Berkeley, one of Kefauver's foremost California rooters.

On motion of Rep. Clair Engle of Red Bluff, Stevenson's California delegates agreed to stand by him "until nominated."

He's A Special Case

SUFFOLK, Va. (AP)—It was after 5 a.m. and the stork hovered precariously close to the household of Willie Dean. Dean put in a rush call to police headquarters and a police cruiser took Mrs. Dean to the hospital where Willie Dean Jr. weighed in at 7 pounds, 5 ounces minutes later. The police took a special a special interest in the case. Dean is a member of the force.

More Women Attend

ROME, June 23 (AP) — Women's legislators attend more sessions of the Italian Chamber of Deputies than the male deputies. Deputy Dario Antoniozzi found that the men are absent 22 per cent of the time. The 33 women in the 590-seat Chamber stay away only 16 per cent.

Republicans Sure Ike Is Still Running

By The Associated Press

Republicans seemed generally firm in their conviction today that President Eisenhower's status as a presidential candidate is unchanged.

And Democratic candidates gave fresh evidence at the Governors Conference meeting in Atlantic City, N.J., and elsewhere that front-running Adlai Stevenson will not get the Democratic nomination without some resistance.

Doctors yesterday removed the last of Eisenhower's sutures from his June 9 surgery. The milestone wasn't marked with any announcements of political intentions.

But two more influential Republicans—Atty. Gen. Brownell and Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire—supported the theory Eisenhower will run again.

Brownell said he is taking it for granted. Bridges said close associates of the President report he talks as if his plans to seek re-election are "unchanged."

Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington, a senatorial candidate and keynote speaker of the August Republican convention, said he is still confident Eisenhower will seek re-election.

Even if he doesn't, Langlie said, "we have many Republicans far superior to anything the Democrats have to offer."

Politicking went on as usual during the technically nonpolitical Governors Conference.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said he will seek openly the support of the Democratic governors at the meeting. Supporters of Stevenson were making their pitch there too.

The third active candidate for the Democratic nomination, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, signified Saturday night he has no intention of giving up.

"I want the presidential nomination and will not accept anything else," he told a Nashville rally, adding, "I am not a candidate for vice president. I seek no deals with any other candidates."

With the Democratic National Convention only a little more than seven weeks away, the latest Associated Press tabulation of delegate pledges and first-ballot preferences gave Stevenson 301½, Kefauver 165, and Harriman 110½. It takes 686½ for nomination.

Boy Scouts, Leader Get Lost In Town

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Five Kentucky Explorer Boy Scouts and their scout leader got lost in downtown St. Louis yesterday.

The group was in one car of a five-car convoy from Lexington, Ky., headed for a scout ranch in New Mexico. Leon Cooper, 42-year old leader, said the arrangement was to meet at the "edge of town."

But Cooper couldn't find the other cars after driving across a Mississippi River bridge. He toured the downtown area in vain, then reported to police who brought them together.

More Canadian Cars

OTTAWA, June 23 (AP)—Registrations of passenger automobiles and trucks in Canada rose to an all-time high of 3,948,787 in 1955. This was an increase of 304,198 over 1954.

Before World War I, there were no independent Arab nations, says the National Geographic Society.

Sunbather Suffers Paralytic Stroke

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—James Shaefer, 67, suffered a paralytic stroke while sunbathing early Thursday at popular Crandon Park Beach. Unable to move or ask passing beachgoers for help, he suffered two days' exposure to blazing sunshine. Picknickers finally discovered his plight Friday evening.

Shaefer was hospitalized in serious condition from the stroke and second-degree burns inflicted by the sun.

Carrier Makes Cruise

ATSUGI, Japan (AP) — The U.S. aircraft carrier Lexington docked at Yokosuka today on its first Far Eastern tour of duty since World War II.

Southwest Australia Hit By Floods, Winds

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Torrential rains accompanid by gale force winds caused floods and widespread damage today in south western Australia.

Rivers throughout the state of New South Wales were on the rise, threatening to sweep out bridges and cut roads. Floodwaters created a vast lake, 70 miles wide at some points, in the Riverina district. Some families were evacuated.

The Sydney Daily Mirror speculated that the stormy weather might be a result of the British atomic test June 19 in the Monte Bello Islands, off Australia's northwest coast.
