DEATH TOLL FROM BLAZES CLIMB TO EIGHT

Big Spring Businessman Shot To Death

A 34-year-old Big Spring businessman was found shot to death at a southside Lubbock home early this morning.

George A. McGann, owner of Holiday Motors, 911 W. 4th, and another man — J. M. Meshell, Lufkin — were found about 6 a.m. today lying about 30 feet apart in the kitchen and den area of the house. A pistol was found beside each body.

Ronnie T. Weedem, who identified himself as owner of the house at 90th Street and Avenue S, telephoned the sheriff's office shortly before 6 a.m. to report the shooting.

GAMBLING RAID

Officers said they found Meshell, shot with a .38 caliber pistol, lying between a snack bar and a built-in oven in the kitchen. McGann's body, shot three or four times with a .45, was at the entrance to the den with his feet in the hallway.

"We found no evidence of a gambling party here last night," said Sheriff C. H. Blanchard. "But it hasn't been too long since this place was raided and arrests were made for gambling."

Meshell was under indictment on charges of hijacking a poker game in Lubbock last June.

Justice of the Peace F. H. Bolen withheld an inquest verdict pending completion of investigations.

SOME DELAY

Two men and a woman were taken into the sheriff's office for questioning as possible witnesses.

Investigators said there appeared to be some delay between the time the shooting took place and the time it was reported to them. They said that when they arrived on the scene someone in Houston telephoned to inquire about the shooting.

Investigation is being carried out by Capt. Charlie Bowman, head of the criminal division, district attorney investigator Jack Bryant, and Texas Ranger Frank Harger.

McGann is survived by his wife, who lives in the Silver Heels area, and by his mother, Mrs. Arya McGann, 506 Dallas.

Neither his mother nor his wife had been notified of his death at noon today, although they learned indirectly from inquiries about reports of the shooting.

They were in the dark as to arrangements or disposition of the body.

DON'T GO-GO AND BRA(G)

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A topless go-go dancer fired when her act was outlawed "will suffer immediate and asserted rights and freedom of expression" if she is stopped from appearing without a bra, a U.S. District Court judge ruled Monday.

Judge Williams A. McRae said Eve Lee Spencer, 32, can dance without a brassiere despite a city ordinance passed Sept. 9 forbidding such performances.

SOME DIDN'T LIKE THE IDEA

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Every property owner in Frankfort got the chance to check his assessment against his neighbor's. Some didn't like the idea.

The Frankfort State Journal carried the 14-page list in a special Sunday supplement and publisher Albert E. Dix reported later, "I think it was very widely read."

"I've had any number of people comment to me, both on the phone and on the street, both favorably and unfavorably."

Two Andrews Men Missing

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A twin-engine airplane carrying two men from Andrews, Tex., was reported missing this morning on a flight from Hermosilla, Mexico, to El Paso, after it was diverted by weather to Tucson, Ariz.

A New Mexico Civil Air Patrol spokesman, Col. Charles Nichols, said the men on the PA130 aircraft were identified as George P. Cook and Truman Sears.

Nichols said the plane didn't land at Tucson. He said he received the report at 4 a.m. today and that CAP units from New Mexico and Arizona were alerted.

California Fire Controlled

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A fierce battle to beat back the largest brush fire ever in California was being won today near San Diego, and authorities announced they had conquered a blaze which had burned lavish homes in Malibu near Los Angeles. The death toll from the five-day siege in six counties rose to eight Monday night. A pilot and four fire fighters were killed in a helicopter crash while heading for a fire in the Angeles National Forest outside Los Angeles.

A number of new small fires were blamed on arsonists. The Los Angeles County Fire Department said a 31,000-acre fire in Malibu Canyon, which had destroyed 99 homes including those of actress Angela Lansbury and actor Dale Robertson, virtually was contained — confined to its perimeter. The Federal Small Business Administration estimated the over-all property loss in the state at $175 million, with fire damage to 1,500 homes, businesses or other buildings. California was declared a disaster area, making victims eligible for low-interest loans.

Thousands of evacuees returned to their homes. Hundreds had none to return to.

In Los Angeles and San Diego counties alone, 651 structures were destroyed, including 390 homes, and 308,500 acres—an area about half the size of Rhode Island—lay charred by the flames.

Fire fighters said they had contained half of a 185,000-acre fire which was halted Sunday at the outskirts of several San Diego suburbs.

Winds helped another major blaze flare up Monday night and race over 11,500 acres of heavily wooded area, drawing within 10 miles of the main fire. Six buildings were destroyed. A heat wave that reached 100 degrees was expected to continue.

PRAY FOR RAIN

Elsewhere, winds diminished. Forecasters predicted the air flowing from the high desert east of Los Angeles would grow weaker north of San Diego County. They hoped for rising humidity and possibly scattered showers.

Thousands of exhausted fire fighters had been on the lines almost constantly since last week.

Firemen began to gain the upper hand after a five-day battle against flames in hills in Los Angeles and Ventura counties. Few of the fires spread.

Five new fires sprang up Monday but were quickly halted. Three were tentatively laid to arsonists. The number and proximity of many small fires have led authorities to suspect they were set. However, of six persons arrested for investigation of arson, all but one had been released.

COPTER CRASH

More than 2,000 fire fighters, including Marines from nearby Camp Pendleton, battled the massive blaze that started Saturday from a fallen power line in the Cleveland National Forest 50 miles east of San Diego. It had destroyed 250 homes.

Fire officials said the blaze was now staying within its 120-mile perimeter.

The helicopter crashed while delivering fire fighters to fire lines in San Gabriel Canyon, east of Los Angeles. Cause of the crash was not immediately learned.

Three persons died earlier when caught by the flames.

Forsan, Coahoma To Be Excluded From District

By LINDA CROSS

County Commissioners officially changed the boundaries of the fire district to exclude the incorporated areas of Coahoma and Forsan, as well as Big Spring in a hearing at 9:30 a.m. today. The date of the election was set for Nov. 3. County Judge Lee Porter said the special ballot on the district would be in the rural areas only.

Mayor Jack Cauble, Coahoma, and Mayor Jack Lamb, Forsan, attended the hearing to ask that their towns be excluded from the proposed district.

"We feel that we have the right to change the boundaries after holding public hearings on the fire district and consulting with the attorneys who we present this morning," said Judge Lee Porter.

Simon Terrazas, commissioner, expressed doubt on the legality of excluding Forsan and Coahoma at this stage in the issue.

"We must either go ahead with the petition at this time or back up and start over again," said Terrazas. He said that commissioners had to go along with the boundaries as delineated in the petition set for special election. The boundaries accepted at that time included all areas in Howard County outside the city limits of Big Spring.

Mayor Cauble opposed Coahoma's inclusion at that time. Attorney Lanny Hamby and Roger Brown informed the court and Cauble Monday that Coahoma would have to be included in the district unless its citizens voted against it in the election. Forsan was not specifically mentioned prior to this morning's hearing.

SO STIPULATED

When Commissioner Ray Nichols moved that the district be set for hearing he included the stipulation that Coahoma be excluded if its citizens vote against the issue.

After consulting article 2351a-6 of the Texas statutes on rural fire prevention districts, attorneys Hamby and Brown concurred with Cauble in that Coahoma — and Forsan — could be excluded. According to Hamby and Brown, article six of the statute empowers the commission to change the boundaries of the district if it is acting in the best interests of the residents of that area.

Terrazas contended that the commission must act in accordance with the boundaries named in the original petition and the incorporated towns be excluded by vote.

County Attorney Bill Eysen told commissioners they would be within their legal rights to change the boundaries "to conform with what the commission believes to be in the best interest of the citizens of Howard County."

The exact wording to the article of a county commission in such a matter is: "If it shall appear on hearing by the court that the organization of a district as prayed for is feasible and practicable, would benefit the land included therein, and will be conducive to the public safety, welfare and convenience, and aid in the conservation of its real property or natural resources within said district, the court shall so find and grant the petition and fix the boundaries."

After consideration of the statute, Terrazas asked for an adjournment of the hearing to allow him to consult his personal lawyer on the legality of the boundary change. Commissioners granted his request, and the hearing was adjourned briefly until he could finish his consultation with his lawyer.

EGYPTIANS HEAD TOWARD CAIRO

Mourning Loss Of Nasser

CAIRO (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of grief-stricken Egyptians kept a vigil today outside Kubbah Palace, where their revered leader, Gamal Abdel Nasser, lay in state.

The Egyptian president 52, died of a heart attack Monday night.

Thoughts in world capitals turned to the question of his successor and the future course of events in the Middle East, particularly the U.S. peace plan.

Gathered at Nasser's bedside at the time of his death were three men mentioned as possible successors. Vice President Anwar Sadat, who became acting president, Air Marshal Aly Sabri, and Gen. Mohammed Fawzi, commander in chief of Egypt's armed forces.

HARDER LINE
Nasser accepted the U.S. plan for a cease-fire in the conflict with Israel and his last official act was to obtain a truce in the bloody Jordanian civil war.

President Nixon was reported to believe Nasser's death will shelve the U.S. Middle East peace initiative, at least for several months. The thinking is that the new Egyptian leader must take a harder line toward Israel.

Nixon was in the Mediterranean today aboard the U.S. 6th Fleet cruiser Springfield and was going ahead with his plans to visit Yugoslavia on Wednesday. President Tito of Yugoslavia designated a top adviser, Edvard Kardelj, to represent him at Nasser's funeral.

Nixon is sending Robert H. Finch, one of his principal advisers, to be chief U.S. delegate at the funeral.

A state funeral is scheduled Thursday in the Egyptian capital.

Cairo Radio said every railway station in the country was filled with peasants demanding passage to the capital. Mourners traveled the roadways in buses, in cars, on donkeys and on foot.

In the capital itself, crowds roamed the streets Monday night. People jammed buses and taxis for suburban Koubbeh, where the body of Nasser lay in state in the presidential palace. Others walked the dozen miles.

EMERGENCY

The government radio read condolences from world leaders, political enemies and friends alike most of them addressed to Anwar Sadat, who as vice president became provisional president under the constitution. His term will be for 60 days, during which Nasser's Arab Socialist Union will choose a successor.

A broadcast said one of the new government's first official acts was to declare a state of "utmost emergency" along the Suez Canal cease-fire line with Israel to guard against any possible attack.

Cairo radio said the burial will be at a mosque near Nasser's home at Maachet el Bakry, about five miles from Koubbeh.

Jewish New Year Due Ceremonial Welcome

Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish new year, will be observed with religious ceremonies starting at sundown Wednesday to welcome the first day of Tishri in the year 5731, according to religious tradition. Most of the members of the congregation here will join with those in Lubbock, Abilene, Odessa, Dr. Jack Margolis, chief of surgery at the VA Hospital, is president of the Beth el Temple at Rosebud and Grandview — Odessa. Those of the Jewish faith who are stationed at Webb AFB are especially invited to share in the worship at Odessa. Rosh Hashanah begins a season of 10 Holy Days which will culminate with the observance of Yom Kippur (The Day of Atonement), the most sacred of the Jewish religious calendar. It will begin at sundown Oct. 9 (Friday) and continue to sundown Oct. 10 (Saturday). During this period, faithful Jews abstain from physical labors, food and entertainment. They spend the time in prayer, introspection and meditation and in an earnest effort to set themselves right before God. Rosh Hashanah usually encompasses one day, although some branches of the faith continue in prayer and meditation for two days. The schedule for services at Beth el in Odessa is as follows, according to Rabbi Josef Zeitlin: Sept. 30 at 8 p.m.; Oct. 1 at 9:30 a.m. and 8 p.m.; Oct. 2 at 8:30 p.m.; Oct. 9 at 7 p.m.; and Oct. 10 from 10 a.m. all day.

Pot Charges Against Teens

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Charges of possession of narcotics were filed Monday against three Colorado City teenagers, ranging in age from 17 to 19. Police said four juveniles, from 14 to 16 years of age, were turned over to juvenile authorities in connection with the incident. Charges were filed against Francisco Molina Jr., 17, Claudia Lujan, 18, and Frank Diaz, 19, all of Colorado City. Bond was set at $1,500 each by Justice of the Peace Leonard Henderson. The three have been released on bond. The seven were arrested Sunday at 1:50 a.m. in the area in the northwest section of Colorado City known as "The Sands" and inhabited principally by Mexican-Americans. Police recovered what they said was "enough marijuana to make about 100 to 150 cigarettes," Police Chief Jesse Browning said.

Got Fed Up With Holdups

FORT WORTH (AP) — Charles Satterfield, 54, told police he has been held up 11 times since he started running a liquor store on Fort Worth's south side and the latest robbery left him in a bad mood. Officers said he gave this account: Two young bandits came in brandishing pistols Monday afternoon. After shoving Satterfield around a bit, they seized his .38 caliber pistol, took $30 from his cash register and departed. They left behind a bottle of wine one had ordered. Satterfield snatched it up and threw it at the fleeing pair, but he missed. Then the storekeeper reached into his store room, grabbed a .30 caliber carbine, stepped into the street and started shooting. This time he didn't miss. Both dropped. One of the wounded pair, identified by police as Gary Cole, 24, of Fort Worth, died at a hospital early today. Attendant said the other, 22, was in fair condition with a bullet wound in the leg.

Knott 4-H'ers Install Officers

Rain Causes Cut In Water Delivery

Cool weather and rains have cut down sharply on the daily water deliveries by the Colorado River Municipal Water District. The daily draw now is around 35 million gallons. This compares with daily deliveries of above 60 million gallons during the peak of the summer season. Rain gauges in the Big Spring area showed only small amounts of moisture during the last 24 hours. Gauges at the Agricultural Research Experiment Station and the Texas Electric Service Company both registered .21 inch. Gauges in Cosham and Luther registered .30 inch, and a gauge in Forsan registered .20 inch.

C-C Ambassadors Study Changes

The Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors met for lunch Monday to discuss new objectives and proposed changes in the organization by-laws. Due to small attendance at the meeting, no action was taken on the proposals, but three committees were established to handle new duties undertaken by the Red Coats at their last meeting.

Winston Wrinkle was named chairman of the conventions committee, Jerry Mancill will chair the recreations committee, and Frank Parker will head the quarterly membership committee.

FIRE RUINS — Mrs. Frances Ford was released this morning from Medical Arts Hospital after treatment for shock and smoke inhalation resulting when her home at 500 N. Nolan was heavily damaged by fire. Firemen worked from 4:49 p.m. to 6 p.m. Monday to put out the blaze.

Cattlemen's Roundup Adds Funds To Pot

ABILENE — The first stage of the Cattlemen's Roundup for Crippled Children came to a close Monday afternoon at a Ranchers and Farmers Livestock Auction in Abilene. The coffers of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center were $44,556 richer than when the day started. Amid a dreary rain-spattered day, nearly 230 head of cattle sold for $44,556. To be added to this were cash gifts for the year totaling $16,932. This brought the Cattlemen's Roundup for Crippled Children to a total of $61,488 for the first three-quarters of the year. Highlight of the sale was when David Morris, grandson of the chairman of the Cattlemen's Roundup, C. A. Morris, entered the pen with a tiny suckling pig. David is the son of rancher and livestock auction partner Jerry Morris. David fed the tiny yellow rib-banded pig from a bottle while bids ran up. The pig was sold and re-sold for a total of $4,631. A registered Angus heifer sold and re-sold for $2,698.

Local Treatment Okayed For Crippled Children

The application of Medical Center Memorial Hospital to participate in the program administered by the division of Crippled Children's Services has been approved by the State Board of Health. This will enable the hospital here to provide services to a person under 21 with orthopedic problems who has received a d v a n c e authorization and whose family is financially unable to provide for such care and treatment. Authorizations for care and treatment are issued directly to attend patients, and in this case it is Dr. Pete H. Rhymes, orthopedic surgeon with the Malone & Hogan Clinic. He received his national board a year ago and is the only physician authorized here by the State Board of Health to handle cases under the Crippled Children's program. This is the first time a hospital or physician in Big Spring has been included on the approved list, which meant that such cases previously had to be referred to such points as San Angelo, Lubbock, Midland or Odessa. Approval means families may obtain these services in Big Spring, thus avoiding travel and expense away from home. In Recital Debbie Dunlap, Big Spring, was among the 14 freshmen who took part in the traditional Freshman Recital which opened the recital season for Hardin-Simmons University school of music last week. Debbie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dunlap, was at the piano for "Sonata Op. 2, No. 1 F Minor" by Beethoven. She also served as an accompanist during the recital.

Birthday Party Is Hosted By Lions

Members of the Boys Club got in under the wire for a swimming outing when the Downtown Lions sponsored the September birthday party last week. Swimming and games provided the entertainment, and hot dogs, cold drinks and cookies were served by Lion members, Morris Rhodes, Paul Peterson and Jerry Phillips. About 50 boys attended the party, and the honorees with birthdays in September were Tony Arista, Danny DeLeon, Albert Garcia, Eddie Rodriguez, Arthur Yanez, and Bonifacio Salazar, director. They received Boys Club pens and passes to the theatres with compliments of Ike Robb. The party occurred on the last day that the pool was open for the season.

A Devotion For Today . . .

If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land. (Isaiah 1:19)

PRAYER: Our Father, as members of Thy flock, help us to follow Thee in obedience and trust, to hear Thy voice and to stay close to Thee. So may we grow in grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. In His name. Amen.

The Budget Hearing

One of the things bound to crop up in Wednesday's public hearing on the proposed 1970-71 city budget is that of the revision of the city's participation in the employe retirement fund.

The commission last week called the proposal up from table and voted to increase the city's share from 1-1 to 2-1. This, ostensibly, is to get more into the reserves so that the system will be actuarially sound in paying better retirement benefits. Admittedly, some of the old timers who have retired within the past few years have had to settle for little more than a pittance. Thus, some reform is needed.

A protest, however, has been lodged by Jack Watkins, who contends that it is illegal to bring up an item not listed in the notice of the meeting. Calling up an item from the table does not satisfy that requirement, he contends, because if this were proper, any controversial matter could simply be tabled and then called up at some later date when the opposition would not present. There also has been expressed some doubt as to the legality or parliamentary correctness of changing the form of a tabled matter in taking action on it.

The council might be well advised to take a second look at the action, and if it is considered prudent to back and start again, it may be prudent to make further penetrating study. As for the budget, provision can be made with understanding the money will not be spent unless and until the issue is settled, or else it can be left unfunded and the budget amended.

This matter, however, should not become a block to adoption of a budget, because the new fiscal year is right on top of us. While it does not wipe out all past deficits, the proposed document does appear to be in balance for the year with which it is concerned.

Helps More Than It Hurts

It is axiomatic that rain always helps more than it hurts in this country. Such is the case with the moisture during the past several days.

Cotton farmers would just as soon that bright, warm weather return, even if briefly, and those with grain to harvest would prefer it dry. But late feed and winter small grain are reacting with vigor. Most of all, the seasoning will keep pastures coming on, and what was a bleak outlook for the rancher a few weeks ago now is considerably brighter. He has a mighty good chance for grass to make before frost, and for winter weeds to cut down on the amount of supplemental feeding.

A Breather—But Only That

WASHINGTON — The sigh of relief that went up when Syrian tank brigades were driven back across the Jordanian border could have been heard as far away as Baltimore. The threat of a widening inter-national war was tamped down, and President Nixon could start on his trip that had been off again, on again as flames of battle reddened the Eastern sky.

THE PLUCKY LITTLE king and his fierce fighting force, the resolute Israelis and their mobilization on the Golan Heights, Moscow's nervous dread of a widening war — these are the elements weighed in the balance in the outcome at the week's end. An outcome that, for the time being, took a great many people off the hook.

Essentially, however, the change is more evident than real. Whether grumpy King Hussein can pull his country together is highly doubtful. The hatred of the Palestinians, rotting for years in refugee camps, is now more inflamed than ever by the artillery and the mortar shells fired into their midst. Without a Palestinian state established in some fashion — perhaps on the west bank of the Jordan — there will be only the briefest breather in the internecine conflict.

WHAT THIS CRISIS within a crisis has done is to give a new and dramatic demonstration of Israel's continuing tragedy. That tragedy is to live next door to neighbors almost totally irrational. The neighbor qualifying at the top of the list in this category is Syria.

Those whose business it is to keep up with the shifting forces in the Middle East rank the government of Syria as wholly mad. One military Putsch after another has brought in a succession of so-called governments, each more bloodthirsty and frenzied than the previous and less concerned with the well-being of a wretched people.

THE SYRIANS are, fortunately, also grossly incompetent, whether in war or diplomacy. Nevertheless, they have an infinite capacity for causing trouble and unsettling any apparent peace settlement.

To this observer it seems the time has come when something more than makeshift expedients are required if the continuing tragedy is not to move to the awful climax of full-scale war and a confrontation between the Soviet Union and the United States. A kind of Alice-in-Wonderland pretense disguises the fact of the American relationship with Israel.

AT THE START of the peace initiative Sen. J. William Fulbright suggested that an open and direct alliance with Israel would further the peace-making process. It was a far-out suggestion coming from one who has consistently questioned America's commitments around the world. Such an alliance would strip away the see-through disguises that deceive no one.

Prime Minister Golda Meir played the game when she was in Washington. She got assurances of substantial military help on long-term credits. Yet, refusing the word assurance, she said merely that the President and the Secretary of State understood Israel's need.

A FRANK alliance anchored in a realistic search for peace would give the Israelis confidence they could take risks in this search. And such an alliance could hardly come as a shock to the Arab states.

There should be exploration of the lead given by Egypt's United Nation's Ambassador El-Zayat, when he said on "Face the Nation" that a rollback of the missiles in the cease-fire zone was possible if there could be a guarantee against surprise attack. Other avenues to a settlement will open up if there is confidence on both sides. Confidence calls for something more than a show of the flag, the President astride an aircraft carrier.

What Will Remedy For Cities Be?

NEW YORK (AP) — The evidence may be seen in many towns and cities throughout America: overcrowded schools, potholed roads, poor water supplies and otherwise inadequate municipal facilities.

State and local governments have had a hard time of it in the financial markets during 1969 and most of 1970. Borrowing costs were up, money was tight. And though the situation has eased lately, the physical evidence remains.

Moreover, a good many financial analysts speculate that the situation may become chronic and suggest that new methods of borrowing must be devised for nonfederal governments, perhaps even involving subsidies of some sort.

This is the situation that has produced a somewhat shabby appearance in more than a few cities and towns today:

Inflation during the late 1960s grew so dangerously that the federal government was forced into action. Stringent monetary policies were put into practice in order to stifle demand that was overstraining the economy.

This meant upward pressure on borrowing costs, and that meant that cities and towns were forced to pay steadily increasing yields in order to induce buyers to purchase their bonds.

As the prices rose, shocked controllers fated their highest borrowing costs in history. And finally, as bond buyers continued to demand higher inducements, one town after another was forced to delay or postpone projects.

Other sections of the bond market apparatus were being underwritten by underwriters were being shaved thin, and some of them began losing. It was difficult to sell bonds when money rates were higher elsewhere.

One of the main attractions of municipal bonds, the tax-exemption feature, also came under attack, and the House Ways and Means Committee announced it would re-examine the traditional policy. Investors in tax-exempt municipal bonds now must balance the rewards of tax-exemption against the possibility that sometime during the life of purchases the tax policy might indeed be changed.

The total effect of this was devastating to the plans of many cities. With a federal tight money policy in effect, and with some investors frightened away by the question of tax-exemption, there just wasn't enough money available for the most necessary projects in some of the most financially sound municipalities.

The question now being argued in financial circles is whether the structure will ever be able to accommodate the borrowing needs of local and state governments.

What will the remedy be? Some proposals call for federal subsidies to investors. And some suggestions call for subsidies to lenders, so as to permit them to offer more attractive yields.

The more optimistic seers still maintain that the market will straighten itself out and that the financing needs of governments will be handled without chronic problems—if inflation is contained.

It's a very big "if."

Joy's Of Living

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

Opening the door to greet a loved one coming home to stay for a good long spell.

Catching a big one in the lake where the big ones were all supposed to have been caught early in the season.

The first splashdown of huge raindrops after a long drought. They look like falling silver coins.

Seeing mother bravely cry through her tears because her little man was going away to a summer Boy Scout camp for a whole two weeks.

The taste and feel of salt spray on your face as you hold the tiller of a small sailboat laboring through white-capped waters.

Chasing a small snake through tall grass and feeling secretly glad when it makes its escape, because then you don't have to kill it and carry it home still wriggling on a stick.

Being informed by a kindly teacher that she won't flunk you after all, even though you turned in your term paper three days late.

Building a tree house in the backyard and staying in it until the stars came out, gleaning on a vast kingdom you imagine as your own.

Getting the first love letter from your best girl in which she finally signed it "love, Rosalie," instead of "as ever, Rosalie."

The wild orgy of a fresh watermelon eating spree in the fields of Sicily after two weeks of eating nothing but Army combat rations.

Drawing to an inside straight—and making it—in a poker game with $50 in the pot.

The sound of your own name read aloud by the principal as you walk up to get your high school diploma. You have to fight down a mad desire to wave the diploma aloft and shout "Hurrah for me!"

The sight of a tawny harvest moon, gilding a field stacked with cornstalks that glimmer like the ragged ghosts of a forgotten army.

Buying $2 worth of fading roses in the subway to make up with your own true love after your first big quarrel.

Deciding, after seeing your first-born child in the hospital maternity ward, that you'll keep it no matter what the neighbors may hink of it.

Throwing a tremulous kiss, misty-eyed, to the Statue of Liberty as you view that green goddess from shipboard on returning safe from a long hot war.

Saying a prayer you know in your heart you have no right to make, and getting a favorable response you know you don't deserve.

To Your Good Health

View Of Conscientious Pharmacist

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: I read with interest your reply to the woman whose husband had been receiving antibiotics from the druggist who said, "If he doesn't get it here, he will get it somewhere else."

I thought that your reply hit the nail on the head. Being a pharmacist myself, I have been in the position where a patient will tell me that he will "get it somewhere else" if he can't get it from me.

So I just tell them to go ahead; that is, if I have called the doctor and he says not to refill it.

I hope that customers as well as pharmacists learned something from your reply. — G.S.C.

Conscientious pharmacists far outnumber the scofflaws. But the ones who sell prescription drugs "under the counter" can do a lot of damage.

The damage is suffered by these customers for whom they are presumably doing a favor.

Anybody who asks a pharmacist to sell prescription drugs without a prescription is asking for trouble. Prescriptions are required to protect the public, not for the benefit of anyone else.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What can you tell me about gout? I have been to the library and read all I can find about it.

What I find is not very encouraging. I know it is a chronic disease and that certain medications are given to prevent repeated attacks. Why don't these work when there are repeated attacks? If you have a booklet on it, I would like to send for it. — C.B.M.

I would suspect that some of the library material may have been somewhat out of date, because the gout picture today is very encouraging, indeed.

It is to be sure, a chronic disease — the body does not eliminate enough uric acid, so urates build up in the tissues. This brings on the periodic attacks of pain.

Two broad types of medication are used: those to ease the pain of an acute attack, and those used to lower the uric acid level in the body. These latter medicines have to be taken on a continuing basis, but they are proving very successful, indeed, in a majority of cases. I suggest that you send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for my booklet, "Gout, the Modern Way to Stop It."

"Bad Breach Can Be Corrected" is the title of Dr. Thosteson's booklet explaining the causes and cure of bad breath. For a copy write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

One Thing You Can Be Sure Of

"God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb."

THE THOUGHT popped from my mind to the tip of my tongue for no reason at all. Was it one of those sentences that gave me trouble in diagramming years ago? No matter — it is with me again and I am obliged to do something with it.

Never having been a lamb, especially a shorn lamb, I can not testify to the truth of the statement, but as a rather unshorn human being, I do not feel the wind becoming any milder as my thinning skin grows more vulnerable to it. On the contrary, the weather seems to become more vengeful to me.

WITH ALL its unreasonable cruelty, however, it confers one favor upon me: ever shrinking resources, a favor that does much to atone for its severity.

It furnishes us with an inexhaustible topic of conversation.

Only we older ones, of whose once active muscles, only the lingual retain their nimbleness, are grateful for this fact. Only we, who if we exercise at all, use our organs of speech, can appreciate such an unlimited fund of conversational material as the weather affords us.

And how we do make use of the subject!

TURN IT INSIDE out, upside down, and hindpart fore; look at it and discuss it from every conceivable and inconceivable angle. Hot, cold, or just right, calm or stormy, pleasant or unpleasant, summer, winter, fall, spring.

Old as time, new as a new born baby, never losing its interest or its power, influencing every project and happening under the sun, wrapping us around, tying us together, keeping us separate, making itself felt throughout our lives in every corner of the world.

WEATHER, the weather, oh yes, the weather!

If we had the handling of it, we think we'd do a much better job than the present manager does. We'd distribute the rains more evenly, we'd never let the sun get so hot in summer, we'd stop the winds before they did so much damage, and we'd never, never make the winters so cold.

As it is, all we can do is talk about it, criticize it, prophesy about it and take it as it comes. Is it going to rain today? Will it be cold tomorrow?

THE ONLY thing we can depend on is that tomorrow will bring — weather.

Can It Be That Red Is Dead?

WASHINGTON — The Communist Party is having a rough time in the United States these days. No one is paying any attention to it any more, and it is probably in the worst shape it has ever been in, in this country.

A COMMUNIST acquaintance of mine was practically in tears as he told me how the party was falling apart.

"We're not a menace any more," he said. "And everyone is ignoring us. Red-baiting has gone out of style. It's disgusting."

"How do you explain it?" I asked. "No one can get any mileage out of attacking Communists in the United States any more. Student-baiting is the big thing now. The Red-hunters are spending all their time attacking students and professors and administrators. Nobody gives a damn what we do. We haven't been able to get in the newspapers in months."

"THAT'S AWFUL," I said. "I remember during a political year when everyone was accusing everyone else of being a Commie or a Commie dupe. What did you people do wrong?"

"We did nothing wrong. The Red-hunters discovered that people were more afraid of their own children than they were of the Communist Party."

"Vice President Agnew hasn't mentioned one Communist threat since he's been on his $100-plate lecture circuit. As far as he's concerned, the biggest enemy to the United States is not Karl Marx but Dr. Spock."

"HAS THIS HAD any effect on our membership?" I asked him.

"I hope to tell you it has. Half our membership was made up of FBI undercover agents. We depended on them for all our financial aid as they were the only ones who paid their dues. Now they're leaving in droves to enroll at colleges and universities. Our cells are down to nothing."

"You would think the FBI undercover agents would have some loyalty to the party after all these years," I said.

"THE OTHER DAY an FBI undercover agent, a nice fellow whom we all liked, came in and said he had been ordered to resign, as he had been re-assigned to the freshman class at NYU. I begged him to stay, but he said it wasn't his decision. Communists just didn't mean anything as far as J. Edgar Hoover was concerned. The Reader's Digest went even further. They said they were going to investigate you as they did in the good old days," I said.

"IT'S HOPELESS. The internal security subcommittees are only interested in students," he said. "It's impossible to explain to Moscow that nobody cares what we do."

"Why couldn't you get the students interested in the party?" I suggested. "Surely you could get some attention if the student unrest was thought to be a Communist conspiracy."

"We tried, but the students won't have anything to do with us. They think we're as old-hat as the Republican and Democratic Parties."

"IT'S A CRYING shame," I said. "We thought maybe when Nixon became President we'd get a break, because in his day he was one of the great Communist-hunters in this country. But he hasn't mentioned us since he's been in office. It wouldn't have hurt us to call us 'bums,' after all we did for his career."

Problems Of Women Doctors

WASHINGTON — Aside from being prettier than most men, women DO have a case, and trust the antediluvian medical profession to provide the excuse for stating it.

I suggest the chauvinistic male address himself to the report of a seven-year study of the attitudes of medical schools toward assorted balls of feminine fluff. The study, by Dr. Harold T. Kaplan, professor of psychiatry at New York Medical College, seems to indicate that by comparison with the doctor dodge most professions are hag-ridden.

DR. KAPLAN was appalled by his findings that most medical schools treat women as fourth-rate citizens, accept them with boorish reluctance, and then do their best to make them miserable. Kaplan said some replies to his questions from medical schools were so "scandalous" that he didn't include them in his report.

At any rate, since it has been the traditional, racketeering custom of the Rancid American Medical Association to limit the number of physicians, for financial profit, Dr. Kaplan's report is valuable as a guide to how this policy operates at the starting line. I have new respect for female doctors of my ken; clearly they represent the survival of the fittest — or else they knew somebody, maybe romantically.

FOR EXAMPLE, Dr. Kaplan reports — or charges — that women must be exceptional academically in order to be admitted to most medical schools. In part, he says, this is due to the attitudes generally of American educators about women in medicine. This sounds strange in the context of an era notorious for its hordes of aggressive females, but Kaplan is talking about medical educators, remember.

ALTHOUGH DOCTORS, especially obstetricians, love women who have babies, most of the medical schools Dr. Kaplan surveyed apparently operate under a grant from the Society to Prevent Procreation. His report notes that in these schools a female who marries and becomes pregnant is treated as though she had been busted for dope pushing. As a result, Dr. Kaplan says, new mothers take "dangerously inadequate maternity leave," in order not to give the school an excuse for showing them the door.

I suggest the chauvinistic male address himself to the report of a seven-year study of the attitudes of medical schools toward assorted balls of feminine fluff. The study, by Dr. Harold T. Kaplan, professor of psychiatry at New York Medical College, seems to indicate that by comparison with the doctor dodge most professions are hag-ridden.

ALL THIS is sick-making, but at least it has the virtue of explaining, finally, why only nine per cent of all doctors in the United States are women, compared with 65 per cent in the Soviet Union and 24 per cent in Britain. Male doctors just don't want their profitable trade cluttered up with a lot of dames who, on the record, might have the audacity to think modern — and thus, dangerous — thoughts about the business.

IT IS sick-making, but perhaps we can be consoled by a silver lining. With medical schools setting artificially high standards for female students, there exists a good chance that — unlike some of their male colleagues — they may emerge from the halls of academe with a rudimentary understanding of the difference between a tonsil and a tourniquet.

Lunch Hour Wedding

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — It was a wedding, but the usual traditions had some variations.

Fish, tacos and watermelon were eaten in place of cake. Iced tea was a substitute for lunch.

There wasn't a reception for the bride and groom, James Lindop and Bonnie Jennings. The newlyweds worked at a registration table at the University of Texas at El Paso before and after the wedding.

Lindop is assistant director of admissions at UTEP and his bride is a secretary to the dean of the university's graduate school.

They were married during lunch hour, and afterward returned to the campus to help register students for the second summer session.

The couple was offered the afternoon off, but Mr. and Mrs. Lindop chose to begin their honeymoon after registration was finished.

Bush Supports Welfare Bill, Raps Bentsen

DALLAS (AP) — Rep. George Bush, the Republican nominee for U. S. senator, took issue Monday with his Democratic opponent over the welfare reform bill pending in Congress.

He said Lloyd Bentsen, his rival in the November general election, has described the legislation as "a guaranteed annual income."

As a matter of fact, Bush said, top Democrats and Republicans agree, "except Lloyd Bentsen," that the measure in itself is not a guaranteed annual income. He added that he opposes any such guaranty but supports the House passed measure, which is still before the Senate.

Referring to the Democratic primary last May in which Bentsen defeated Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Bush declared, "I now know what Sen. Yarborough was talking about when he spoke of distortion in the campaign . . . 'I don't know what Bentsen is for, but I know what he is against because I know the kind of campaign he ran against Sen. Yarborough.'"

The Republican congressman discussed his views in separate talks before the Dallas Mortgage Bankers Association and students at Southern Methodist University.

At SMU, where he was introduced by quarterback Chuck Hixson, Bush was pelted with marshmallows briefly by students identifying themselves as antiwar in sentiment.

He goodhumoredly caught and ate several of the marshmallows while answering questions from his audience.

Bush told the mortgage bankers that the nation's economy is responding to anti-inflation measures of the Republican administration.

He said, "I don't know of a single economist who does not think things are better now than they were and will be better than they are."

Naming Of New Panel Ordered In My Lai Case

FORT HOOD, Tex. (AP) — The commanding general of the 1st Armored Division has been asked by a military judge to name a new court-martial panel for My Lai defendant S. Sgt. David Mitchell.

The new panel should be made up of officers who were overseas during the period of the alleged massacre, the judge, Col. George R. Robinson, recommended Monday.

WATCH OUT — Mitchell's lawyer called the recommendation unprecedented and indicated he would be surprised if Maj. Gen. William R. Desobry failed to follow the recommendation. "Watch what happens if he doesn't," said Ossie Brown of Baton Rouge, La.

Robinson denied four defense motions but softened one by calling for the new panel.

Robinson said courts had without exception upheld the military jury system as constitutional even though only a two-thirds vote is needed to convict and despite the selection of the court-martial panel by the officer who orders a defendant court-martialed. The members of the court-martial are picked from the panel.

UNUSUAL METHOD — So Robinson denied a defense motion to drop the charges because the military jury system is unconstitutional.

"However, there is a question in my mind about the method used. . . it is unusual for the staff judge advocate to recommend any particular individual (to the commanding general)," Robinson said.

Although the selection of the panel was in accordance with court-martial rulings, Robinson said a new panel should be chosen. "The present panel is made up of two colonels, three lieutenant-colonels, six majors, and two captains. The two captains will be unavailable to serve because of expected assignments."

One of the defense objections to the panel is that it will have only majors and above at the time of trial.

Robinson recommended that all commissioned ranks be included in any new panel. He said the staff judge advocate should not make recommendations as to particular individuals who should be placed on the panel.

FAIR TRIAL — No officer who had served in the states between October, 1969, and April, 1970, should be included on the panel, Robinson said. The defense previously showed six hours of film of national television newscasts on My Lai between those dates in an attempt to prove that pre-trial publicity was so great Mitchell could not receive a fair trial.

The judge has not ruled on the publicity motion.

Other motions denied by Robinson requested: —That the court-martial be authorized to go to Vietnam and view the scene of the alleged mass killings.

—That the charges be dropped because the article under which Mitchell is charged is "over broad." It is the catchall article that provides for trial of "all conduct of a nature to bring discredit on the armed forces."

Mitchell is charged with assault with intent to murder, which is not covered specifically in the military code and therefore comes under, the Army says, the catchall article.

—That the defense be allowed to subpoena any witnesses it chooses without following court-martial requirements that a synopsis of the expected testimony first be furnished to the prosecutor.

RIPS CAMPUS UNREST PANEL

Agnew Charges Pablum For Permissiveness

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew today assailed the Presidential Commission on Campus Unrest, saying its failure to blame disrupters and their apologizers "will be taken as more pablum for the permissiveness."

In the strongest criticism of the report yet from the Nixon administration, Agnew said it is "imprecise, contradictory and equivocal." Aides said the vice president's views did not necessarily represent the viewpoint of the White House, which has not yet commented.

FIRST STOP — The commission headed by former Republican Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania in its report issued Saturday laid the blame for campus unrest on many shoulders but said:

"Only the President has the platform and prestige to urge all Americans, at once, to step back from the battlelines into which they are forming."

Agnew's attack on the report came in a speech prepared for a Republican luncheon here, first stop on a three-day campaign trip by Agnew that takes him later to Minot, N.D., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

He also criticized South Dakota's junior senator, Democrat George S. McGovern as "one of the foremost national leaders of national liberalism—and its chief fund raiser today." He called on Democratic candidates for governor and Congress to repudiate McGovern, who is not himself a candidate this year.

In discussing the Scranton commission report, Agnew denounced what he called "the self appointed interpreters and translators on the commission, and within the nation's 'academic journalistic complex,' who rushed before the cameras to sell us what it said."

OUTRAGEOUS — "First," he said, "the American people have been led by this truncated and distorted report to believe that the primary need for restoration of order on the American campus is for the President of the United States to exercise greater moral leadership."

"This is an unfair, outrageous and unacceptable charge to make against the President, who has time and again spoken out in defense of dissent—time and again spoken out in unequal vocal condemnation of violence and disorder wherever it occurs," Agnew added.

"The second conclusion of the contrived second report—the one purveyed by press and America—is that somehow, because there is a war going on, and because there are remnants of injustice and racism and poverty in America—there is, therefore, some explanation or justification for antisocial conduct and disorders by disaffected students," Agnew declared, adding: "This is totally false and utterly unacceptable."

As for the broad report itself, Agnew praised its "unequivocal stand against violence and its historical analysis into the background of unrest."

State Hospital Employees Return From Convention

Four employees of Big Spring State Hospital are settling back into their jobs after attending conventions in Philadelphia last week.

Mrs. Jerre Reeves, acting volunteer coordinator, and Mrs. Betty Duncan, program specialist for the Circuit Riders, a volunteer organization, attended the 10th annual conference of the American Association of Volunteer Services Coordinators. This was the first of two back-to-back conventions, and lasted from Sept. 17 through Sept. 21.

Mrs. Reeves and Mrs. Duncan were joined by Mrs. Betty Condray, in-service training coordinator, and Robert Von Rosenberg, project supervisor for the hospital improvement project, at the beginning of institute on hospital and community psychiatry sponsored by the American Psychiatric Association, Sept. 22 through Sept. 24.

The first conference featured a tour of the Haverford State Hospital in Philadelphia and an "idea exchange" exhibit where conference delegates were invited to display printed materials used in orientation of new volunteers and films showing methods used in working with the mentally ill and mentally retarded.

Speakers discussed new roles of volunteers in the present and future, and ways of matching the volunteer resources of a community with the needs of the mentally ill, with the emphasis on developing a deeper involvement between the volunteers and the people being served.

"Partnership Models" was the theme of the second meeting, which centered around the possibility of mental hospitals working more closely with universities and public health agencies.

Development of mental services through the use of university people as consultants and the cooperation of public and private mental health agencies.

One of the high points in the APA institute was "The Concept," a theatrical production put on entirely by residents of Daytop Village, a New York City Center for rehabilitation of drug addicts. In the play the ex-drug addicts played themselves and their approach to recovery through the methods used at Daytop.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A fine day and evening to make long-range plans where others of importance to you are concerned. Discuss how to coordinate your joint efforts in a more satisfactory manner. Fine also for social events.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Make new arrangements with associates that will cement better relations and bring greater happiness. Show true spirit of cooperation. Study more for greater success in the future.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Sit down early with co-workers and talk over how to make your joint labors more profitable and smoother-running. Save yourself much energy by planning ahead. Good for improving appearance.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can delight others today by doing charming and helpful things for them. Apply more effort to that creative talent and you get better results. Don't be intrusive, though.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Conditions of home can be improved to suit you now. Buy gadgets that increase efficiency. Avoid small-minded persons who irritate you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Praise associates more, and they will go along willingly with your ideas. Do necessary buying or selling and write letters. Avoid repetition.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Use common sense methods in work and you will make a good impression on bigwigs. Take measures to improve value of property and show pride of ownership.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Decide what you really want from people, especially in your personal life. Go out socially and you will make headway. Stop being so self-centered, self-effacing and recognize your inner greatness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Start preparing now for new arrangements with associates. Closest yourself where you can concentrate. Giving advice to some one you are fond of who asks for it is wise. Save that person from some real trouble.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Taking as much time as you can to be with good friends makes possible some wonderful benefits in the days ahead. You know exactly what it is you want and can pursue it successfully. Talking too much is not good.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are able to make big headway in the business world now, so get busy early. Keep all appointments and be on time. Having an A-1 credit rating is important. Planning that little trip is best in p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you think about big things, you will find yourself making more effort to obtain them. A new interest or two can add verve to your life. Stay on the practical side, though.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Don't forget to buy some thoughtful gift for one you like. These small tasks that have accumulated can now be run through with alacrity and efficiency. Get rid of them.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My wife's brother started painting a hobby a couple of years ago. I'll admit I don't claim to know anything about art, but I know what I like, and his stuff looks like an explosion in a paint factory. Now he is about half finished with a portrait of my wife which he's doing as a Christmas present. He's working from a snapshot. My wife and I have seen it and we can hardly keep our faces straight, but we don't want to hurt his feelings.

When it is finished, do we have to hang it up in the living room? Or should I take it right up to the attic where it belongs.

Eliminating Poverty Talk

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Democrat Lloyd Bentsen, a candidate for the U.S. Senate, said today poverty has been cut in half since 1959 and can virtually be eliminated.

Bentsen spoke to the student assembly at the Texas State Technical Institute.

"The success of the vocational training program here—and of those at the other state technical institutions in Waco, Amarillo and Sweetwater—demonstrates the possibilities for virtually eliminating poverty. Seventy-eight per cent of the students here come from families with annual incomes of less than $3,000. But after an average of 18 months' training here, graduates of TSTI are earning as much as $9,200 a year.

"They have only scratched the surface—and so have we, in what I hope will be a continuing, determined effort to eliminate poverty through education," Bentsen said.

DEAR ABBY: This is written with a prayer that it will save just one marriage. It's a long story, but I'll make it short:

Many years ago, after 16 years of marriage, I became attracted to a married man. He was a wonderful listener and I was a wonderful listener. He was a good man, but he was gone a lot. This other man and I started an innocent flirtation. He asked if he could call me. I said yes. Then we started talking on the telephone, morning, noon and night when we knew the other's spouse was gone.

This soon led to secret meetings. Within two years, we had become deeply involved, we decided we couldn't live without each other, so we broke up two fine families and were married. My children hated me for what I had done, and his children hated him, so you can imagine what kind of marriage we had. The uphappiness we caused our respective families cannot be described here.

To all married people who think it might be exciting to have a little innocent side affair, I have one word of advice. Don't! And if you are ever attracted to someone who asks, "May I call you?" say, "no"—and run like the devil is after you. Because he is.

BEEN THERE

DEAR ABBY: I want to tell "FED UP" that I also had a well-to-do friend who borrowed money in small amounts and had a convenient forgetter. I used to get a big safety pin and wear it in plain view the next time we met, and when this party would say, "What is the pin doing there," I would reply, "Oh, it's just to remind me that you owe me $5!" It worked every time. Please omit my name as I wouldn't want to embarrass my friend. I am 82 years old but I'm young at heart.

WOUNDED IN JORDAN FIGHTING — A man wounded in the Jordan fighting cries in pain as he is helped Monday from a Red Cross plane that brought him to Beirut, Lebanon. An Arab truce team Tuesday monitored the cease-fire in Jordan after the civil war had been brought to an apparent halt through the agreement reached in Cairo.

Arab Truce Team Takes Positions

By The Associated Press

An Arab truce team today monitored the cease-fire in Jordan between government troops and Palestinian guerrillas that was worked out by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The peace force of 100 officers from Egypt, Sudan, Saudi Arabia, Tunisia and Kuwait arrived Monday in Amman, Jordan's capital, and immediately set up truce observation posts. Shooting stopped there at dawn and inhabitants poured into the streets in desperate searches for food and water. There were no new reports of fighting as the Arab world mourned Nasser's death Monday in Cairo.

ALL HIS LIFE

King Hussein of Jordan called Nasser "my brother" in a cable and said the Egyptian president was "admired by the whole world all his life."

"Nasser's last efforts were to heal Jordan's wounds during its last ordeal..." the cable said, "but the wounds incurred by his loss will never heal."

RED CROSS GO-GO

Diplomatic sources in Beirut, Lebanon, said Sunday the remaining six hostages had been freed and turned over to the Egyptian Embassy in Amman, which has been acting as a go-between for the International Red Cross.

Thirty-three Americans who had been hostages arrived in New York Monday night. The Swiss government said it agreed with Britain and West Germany on simultaneous release of all seven commandos held by the three nations.

Will Close Waco Plant

WACO, Tex. (AP) — General Dynamics will close out its Waco plant, employing about 1,300 workers, by end of the year, company officials said Monday.

Michael C. Curtis, a vice president, told a news conference the company's "long-range business forecast" indicated that the Waco facility is no longer needed.

The Waco plant, a branch of General Dynamics at Fort Worth, was set up on the James Connally Air Force Base site in 1966. It handled modifications to the B-58 Hustler program until that program was discontinued.

A subtle inference drawn by West produced a stunning upset when he uncovered the killing defense against South's three no trump contract.

West opened the jack of spades and dummy's lone ace won the trick. The ten of diamonds was led for a finesse and West was in again with the queen.

On the basis of South's jump to three no trump, it was reasonable to place declarer with the guarded queen of spades. West realized therefore that it would be necessary to get his partner in to make the next spade lead. The safest course was to exit with a diamond and let the declarer find his own way.

West was convinced however from South's failure to lead clubs immediately, that he didn't have very much in that suit—perhaps not even the ace. If the declarer had as good as the ace and a small club, it appeared likely that he would have tried to establish the dummy's suit.

West accordingly shifted to the three of clubs. South won the trick with the lone ace, and since he had only seven tricks at this point—four diamonds, one spade, one heart and one club—he took the heart finesse.

East was in with the king of hearts and a spade shift enabled West to cash out the defense book in that suit and then administer the lethal thrust with the king of clubs.

Observe that if West fails to make the club shift when he is in with the queen of diamonds, South has time to develop his ninth trick in the heart suit and the defense is limited to two spades, one heart and one diamond.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SECTION B

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1970

SECTION B

Proposed Spending Totals $1,942,221

Public Hearing Wednesday Afternoon For City Budget

The proposed $1,942,221 city budget, after three months of work sessions and meetings involving the city manager, department heads, the finance director, the city commissioners, and the Chamber of Commerce governmental economy committee will be presented in public hearing at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday in the commission room in City Hall.

The city divides its finances into four funds: general fund, interest and sinking fund, water and sewer fund, and garage fund.

Expenditures for general governmental operations and services come out of the general fund. At the beginning of the coming fiscal year an estimated $38,335 will still be on loan to the general fund from restricted funds, and represents a beginning general fund deficit. This will be trimmed to a $37,956 deficit by Oct. 1, 1971, if everything goes according to plan.

FUND TRANSFER

Income other than water and sewer revenue this year is expected to bring $1,934,100 into the general fund. A net transfer of $8,500 into the general fund is to be accomplished by transferring $88,500 into the fund from the water and sewer fund surplus; and transferring $80,000 out of the general fund into the interest and sinking fund to help pay the interest and retire some of the bonds issued in the past for capital improvements.

Planned expenditures for the coming year totaling $1,942,221 will be organized into the 31 general fund accounts. A new account has been set up this year for the historical museum, with a $5,000 allotment. Two budget expenditures have not yet been distributed among the various accounts: $22,600 for revising the retirement system and $40,000 that will be used to give each city employee a $20 a month cost of living pay increase after Jan. 1.

BUDGET CHANGES

Budget allotments for governmental services and changes from last year include: City commission $9,900, down $2,460 due to cuts in advertising and travel expenses; finance $46,172, up $1,117, salary increase; administration $41,468, up $511; legal $12,060, up $1,158, salary increase; corporation court, $17,100, down $151; and tax department $24,400, down $785.

The police department budget of $453,585 is up $9,535 from last year, primarily due to inclusion of $5,000 for a merit pay plan for policemen who take extra college courses, the cost of new uniforms, and the extra help needed when the force went from a 44 to a 40 hour week.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The fire department is allotted $381,995, with insurance and a change from a 72 to a 63 hour work week pushing department expenses up by $8,545.

Public works allotments and changes include: engineering $62,558, up $1,458, salary increase; traffic signals and electrical equipment $26,871, up $1,843, salary increases; field office $9,744, up $637; streets $243,754, down $1,895; street lights $57,600, no change; sanitation $208,744, up $9,439 for a new container refuse collection system; general maintenance $36,804, up $731; landfill $6,305, up $910; and planning $2,000, no change.

RECREATION

Public facility allotments and changes are: parks and recreation $60,400, up $4,800, labor and park road maintenance (seal-coating); swimming pools, $11,658, down $102; golf course $33,246, up $1,088, replacement of sprinkler lines; city hall-auditorium $16,296, up $1,433, new furnishings; and cemetery $26,894, up $349.

Allotments to other accounts are: health unit $15,116, up $48; franchise meters $6,715, up $115; Civil Defense $4,765, up $2,000, new disaster siren; juvenile board $4,380, no change; warehouse $17,324, up $484, salary increase; insurance $8,600, up $5,700, to cover increased liability under Tort Claims Act; and contingency fund $4,000, up $400.

Projected 1970-71 general fund expenditures are $116,342 higher than 1969-70 expenditures, while income other than water and sewer revenue is expected to be $2,929 lower than in 1969-70. The main reason the city government will be able to get less and spend more is that the present fiscal year began with a $144,485 deficit (restricted fund loans) to the general fund while the next will begin with a deficit of only $38,335.

BACK IN CIVVIES SOON — The Defense Department has informed Pvt. Steve Carrier, right, that he will join twin brother Mike in civilian life soon. The Richland, Mich., twins were given No. 246 in the draft lottery, but a clerical error subtracted 100 from Steve's number and he got his draft notice, while Mike prepared for college.

New Boycott Scheduled, Negro Students Walk Out

HOUSTON (AP)—A group of parents in Northeast Houston said they planned a one-day boycott of public schools today to protest a court-ordered integration plan.

A similar demonstration by the same group last week pulled out 15,000 pupils, the United Parents Organization claimed.

The head of the Houston Teachers Association held a news conference Monday to condemn the boycotts and another racial incident flared in the northeast area schools.

USED AS PAWNS

Walter Forester, president of the HTA, said, "Teachers are dismayed that children are being used as pawns in a political struggle in this community."

Mrs. John Williams, public relations director for the white parents group protesting the court-ordered scrapping of a freedom-of-choice integration plan, said the boycotts will continue.

"We have recognized from the beginning that the only method by which freedom of choice could be restored to the Houston school district is through the courts. But boycotting is a method by which people can be heard and make known their dissatisfaction," she said.

RACE INCIDENTS

The racial incident, the fourth in less than a week, occurred at integrated Furr Junior - Senior high, where about half the 1,000 black pupils refused to return to classrooms after lunch.

The Negro pupils walked out of the school and some 40 police were called to help break up the gathering on the school grounds.

Monday's walkout stemmed from an incident last Friday. Principal Charles Poe said he said 15 white Furr dropouts came on the school grounds and attacked a lone Negro pupil. The fight was broken up before any one was hurt, Poe said.

The principal charged that Monday's walkout was planned in advance by Negro militants. "We knew something was going to happen," Poe said. "But we didn't know what form it would take."

NO VIOLENCE

There was no violence but classes for the other 1,800 pupils were cancelled.

Last Thursday three pupils were injured at Smiley High School in the nearby Northeast Houston School District when about 200 black and white pupils clashed with rocks and clubs.

About the same time, police stopped a similar brawl at Sam Houston High, where about 10 black pupils walked out of class.

Thirty persons were arrested Friday at Sam Houston when they refused to obey police orders to clear the campus.

Port Arthur Pupils Slow To Go Back

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—Few Mexican-American pupils returned to classes in Port Arthur junior and senior high schools Monday despite a parents' group announcement earlier they would return their children to school under protest of a desegregation plan.

The Mexican-American Education Council (MAEC) of Port Arthur is opposed to the desegregation plan implemented by the school district. Mexican-American pupils have been assigned to Lincoln High School and Woodrow Wilson Junior High, which are predominantly black.

Violence and vandalism have plagued the schools recently, and MAEC contends the schools are not providing full facilities for protection for Mexican-American pupils.

Reaction To Presidential Commission Info Mixed

By The Associated Press

Texas college and university administrators have digested the report of the President's Commission on Campus Unrest with little visible flutter.

But student leaders, many of them disappointed, have voiced a variety of doubts about the report and its significance.

The administrators largely voiced solemn approval of the commission's findings with one notable exception, one which sympathizes with and acknowledges the limitations of President Nixon's office.

MAGICAL POWERS

The report said that "only the President has the platform and prestige to urge all Americans, at once, to step back from the battlelines into which they are now forming."

But several see that statement as an assignment of magical powers too unrealistic for the President or any man.

"To expect President Nixon to do quite so much as implied would be to expect too much of him or anyone else," said Dr. Philip G. Hoffman, president of the University of Houston.

"If the commission means the President should work on problems of the universities separately from the rest of society, I'm not sure he has the time to do that," said Dr. Norman Hackerman, president of Rice University at Houston.

NIXON FAILS

But David A. Jones, president of the Houston Student Association, said he felt the report implied that President Nixon has failed to exercise his complete authority in reconciling campus dissenters as well as others in society.

Jones charged Nixon with "abdicating his moral responsibility" and considered as too broad the commission's recommendation that those guilty of disruption, both students and faculty, should be removed from the campus.

"I don't know how they can categorize perpetrators of violence," Jones said. "I would prefer to see people removed if they are actually guilty of committing violent acts."

The report by the commission was described as merely a gesture by one student.

Terry Felly of the student newspaper, North Texas Daily, said he felt the recommendations of the Presidential panel will have no practical effect on government policy.

THIS IS IMPORTANT

He agreed that ending the Vietnam conflict should bring an ease to campus tensions, but he stated that campus activism will "not disappear."

Jeff Jones, president of the University of Texas student body, said the report called for Nixon to exert national leadership. But until there is an end to the war there will be no end to campus unrest.

Dr. Milton Curry, president of the predominantly Negro Bishop College at Dallas, said the support of black colleges and universities, as suggested in the report, should be increased.

"This is important in ending racial conflict," he added.

But he said that the responsibility for quelling campus unrest "must be shared by all of us in the college community."

Dr. John Stevens, president of Abilene Christian College, said "I don't know of anything else they (the commission) could have said."

Says He Heard Manson Boast Of Being Killer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Panamanian-born self-styled cowboy actor says he heard Charles Manson boast of being a killer shortly after the Sharon Tate murders and feared he had been tagged as Manson's next victim.

"He grabbed me by the hair and he put a knife on my throat and he said, '... don't you know I'm the one that's doing all these killings?'" Juan Flynn testified at the murder trial of Manson and three women followers Monday.

Flynn, 25, said he lived with Manson's hippie-style clan at the Spain movie ranch for two years, working as a manure shoveler.

Flynn said the conversation came up as he was starting to eat lunch in a kitchen at the ranch two days after the Tate slayings. He didn't explain what prompted Manson to make the statement or brandish the knife, but said, "I thought he was just boasting."

Flynn said Manson eventually put the knife on the table and said, "You kill me."

When Flynn insisted he didn't want to kill Manson, he said, the shaggy-haired clan leader told him to "go down to the creek and make love to his girls."

Flynn said he declined, fearing he'd contract a venereal disease.

Manson, 35, and the three women are on trial on murder-conspiracy charges in the August, 1969, slayings of Miss Tate and six others. Flynn was the first witness to say he heard Manson admit to the killings.

Buc Pitching Suddenly Gets Needed Lift

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cincinnati and Pittsburgh are both known for their offensive weapons. But when the National League playoffs open this weekend at Three Rivers Stadium, pitching should be the key.

Pittsburgh's pitching has suddenly blossomed after mid-season injuries hit the staff.

During the last 17 games, Pirate pitchers have allowed only 40 runs—35 earned—for an earned-run average of 2.30. The opposition has been held to one or less runs in six games and has scored more than three runs in just three of them.

The Reds, on the other hand, have won eight of their last 10 games, but have not had one complete game.

Gary Nolan, 18-7, recently the steadiest pitcher for the Reds, will start against the Pirates' Dock Ellis, 13-10, who won Sunday's game against New York that clinched the title for Pittsburgh.

Jim Merritt of the Reds, who was hit on the elbow three weeks ago and had been sidelined, pitched three innings last week. If he is healthy he is expected to start the second game against Luke Walker. The left-hander has become the "reliable one" of the Pirate pitching corps. He is 15-6, Merritt, with a 20-12 record, is the first 20-game winner Cincinnati has had since 1925.

The Reds are a better slugger club than the Pirates but the two teams are nearly even in batting percentage. The Pirates are hitting .269, the Reds .271.

Red catcher Johnny Bench is batting .294, has a league-leading 45 home runs and 147 runs batted in, also tops in the league.

Pete Rose leads the Reds in batting with a .318 average and Tony Perez is hitting .316 with 40 home runs and 129 RBIs.

Roberto Clemente, who will miss the St. Louis series this week to undergo more back treatment in Pittsburgh, should be ready for the playoffs. He's not eligible for the batting title this year because he has too few times at bat—but his average is .350.

Manny Sanguillen, the Pirate catcher, is batting .326, third in the league. Willie Stargell, Al Oliver and Bo Robertson are the RBI leaders on the Pirates. Stargell has 85, Oliver 82 and Robertson 81.

Both clubs will rely on their bullpen. The Pirates have Dave Giusti with a 9-3 record and 26 saves.

"I think college chancellors and presidents across the country are looking at schools in the Northeast which don't have spring practice and which start classes earlier in September than they used to."

"The pros have so much influence on college football I think people are looking at the playoffs' strike, which delayed their reporting to camp. They still got ready for their first exhibitions."

Texas Retains 2nd Spot In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

Ohio State, Texas and Stanford retained the first three places in The Associated Press college football poll while Colorado and Air Force joined the Top Ten following impressive victories over Penn State and Missouri, which were knocked out.

Colorado's 41-13 rout of Penn State, which hadn't lost in 31 games and had won 23 in a row, boosted the Buffaloes from 18th to eighth and dropped the Nittany Lions from fourth to 16th, the biggest decline.

Air Force climbed from 20th to 10th via a 37-14 rout of Missouri while the Tigers, ninth a week ago, barely stayed in the Top Twenty with a ranking of 20.

Ohio State opened its season with a 56-13 walloping of Texas A&M and received 25 of the 42 first-place votes cast by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters and a total of 782 points. Texas, which trailed the Buckeyes by only 13 points a week ago, received 14 top votes and 758 points. The Longhorns whipped Texas Tech 35-13.

The other three first-place votes were divided among Stanford, Southern California and Michigan.

Stanford remained in third place by rallying in the second half to defeat Oregon 33-10. Notre Dame climbed from sixth to fourth in the wake of a 48-0 rout of Purdue and Southern California from seventh to fifth after trouncing Iowa by the same score.

Nebraska blanked Army 28-0 and moved up from eighth to sixth while Mississippi was down from fifth to seventh after edging Kentucky 20-17.

AT BALTIMORE

Rabid Fans Bail Out Of Stands

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts had suffered worse defeats, but none seemed quite so humiliating.

Even the rabid Baltimore fans were streaming out of Memorial Stadium long before the world champion Kansas City Chiefs administered a 44-24 pasting Monday night.

"We stunk out the place in the first half," said Baltimore's rookie head coach, Don McCaferty. "That includes all phases of the game—offense, defense, the special teams... and even the coaching."

The first half ended with the Chiefs on top 31-7 and they increased the bulge to 41-10 before Baltimore added two meaningless fourth quarter touchdowns.

The time was ripe for a good showing by Baltimore. After posting the best record in the NFL during the past 12 years, 112-48-4, the Colts were one of the three old guard teams shifted to the American Conference under the realignment.

In their first home game against a team from the old American Football League, the Colts were taking on the Super Bowl champs. The Chiefs had lost their 1970 opener to Minnesota the week before, and Baltimore had beaten them in an exhibition 17-3.

The Chiefs exploded. They scored 11 touchdowns in 15 attempts for a net of just 28 yards after his three losses behind the line were subtracted.

Morrall, dumped four times for 43 yards, wound up with 200 yards the week before, and Baltimore had beaten them in an exhibition 17-3.

Hodge, Stone And Duncan Singled Out

Following is a list of football players in the Big Spring area who distinguished themselves and brought honor to their schools in games played the past weekend:

BIG SPRING
DAVE DUNCAN, 185-pound senior quarterback would be considered mainly a ball handler and a passer, but his record of running against Snyder should be more than impressive. He gained 137 yards rushing, and that included three TDs. Moreover, these were made on runs of 20 yards, 55 yards and 60 yards. This achievement began to keep the Snyder defense honest, and he had a good night passing. It all added up to Dave being named the Back of the Week for the Steers.

DAVID ENGLERT, a 200-pound defensive left end, gained the nod as Lineman of the Week. Coaches said he probably played the best game of his career against Snyder, rushing the passer consistently, knocking down throws before they got away, containing the running plays to his side, banging opposing backs with authority. Even so, he barely edged Howard Stewart, who amassed 38 tackling points — or getting in on 25 tackles from his line-backing spot. He was as usual, consistent and tough.

FORSAN
Last Friday was KENNETH HOLLINGSWORTH's first time to start for Forsan, but he came up as the Lineman of the Week. The 167-pound junior defensive end got 15 tackles, and polished this with a good game on offense. Kenneth took over for the injured Vard Griffith.

WILL MORGAN is Forsan's Back of the Week. A new version of the mighty mite, the senior fullback weighs only 128 pounds. Stepping in for the injured Jackie Willis, he picked up tough yardage, scored a touchdown, and outdid the other backs with 11 tackles. There isn't an ounce of fear in those 128 pounds.

SANDS
Those 33 yards REGGIE HAMBRIK picked up last Friday were hard ones to get. In addition, the 155-pound junior turned in some good blocks from his fullback slot. He really sparked, however, from his defensive line-backer post, getting in on 17 tackles during the evening. This fine performance earned him the title of Back of the Week.

FELIX ROBLES is the Lineman of the Week for Sands, principally because of a great game at defensive end. The 168-pound senior was in on numerous tackles, five of them unassisted. Moreover, he had two pass interceptions, a 40-yarder that he returned to the line, leading to a TD, and running the other back about 30 yards. On offense he speared one pass for five yards.

COAHOMA
"We just got started too late," coach Bernie Hagins said of his Coahoma team's effort against Rotan last week. One boy who didn't have that trouble was end RICKY STONE, named Lineman of the Week for the second straight time. On offense, Stone gathered in two passes on the Bulldogs' last drive. He also intercepted two passes on his blocking was considered more than adequate.

Back of the Week is WENDALL WALKER, who made two touchdowns against Rotan on short runs. He also stood out on defense while playing the corner-back spot, coming up with three unassisted tackles and helping with numerous others. He made several good runs that left the Bulldogs in exemplary field condition.

BORDEN COUNTY
Borden's decisive win over Sands in an 11-man game last Friday was a team victory but QB RICK HENDLEY particularly showed to advantage. He kept the Gail attack flowing smoothly, made one conversion try himself on a run and passed to Jimmy Hodge for another. Finishing right behind him in the ratings was Joe Harding, who scored all three Borden touchdowns.

Lineman of the Week is JIMMY HODGE, who caught five passes for 44 yards and graded out the highest among defensive linemen under coach Bobby Dyess' system. He was in on 16 tackles and recovered one enemy fumble.

STANTON
MIKE ADAMS, who plays offensive center and defensive line-backer, is Lineman of the Week for the Buffs. He was in on more than his share of tackles against mighty Frenship, which coach Bill Young described as truly one of the finest Class AA teams in the state. Mike did much to limit the visitors to a single touchdown the first half.

Back of the Week is GARY KITCHENS, chosen for the second time in a row. Kitchens was chosen principally for his defensive play against Frenship. He plays line-backer. He kept stunting to three Frenship backs for losses on a series of plays. Losses didn't show much of an offense against Frenship Kneeling, from the left, they are Gary Kitchens and Robbie Dickenson. Standing, Ricky Mims and Mark Hurch. Kitchens was named The Daily Herald's Back of the Week for the second time in a row for his performance against Frenship last Friday. The Buffs go to Rankin Friday night.

Garrett's Blast Too Late To Help Mets

By The Associated Press

Wayne Garrett's dramatic home run came too late to help the New York Mets after their lost weekend in Pittsburgh but it did get the defending world champions even with the Chicago Cubs.

The Mets, who dropped three straight to the Pirates, including Sunday's 2-1 loss, enabling the Pirates to clinch the National League East Division title, were on their way to dropping another Monday night when first Donn Clendenon and then Garrett exploded.

The Mets pulled it out in the 10th inning, winning 6-3 on Garrett's 12th homer of the season, placing the Mets and Cubs in a flat-footed tie for second place with three games remaining against each other.

ASTROS WIN
In the only other National League game, Houston blanked San Francisco 3-0.

In the American League, Minnesota edged Kansas City 1-0 and California nipped Chicago 4-3.

Clendenon gave the Mets a lift Monday night when he slammed his 22nd homer—a two-run shot—in the ninth inning off Ken Holtzman, giving New York a 3-3 tie. The pair of runs batted in gave Clendenon 95 for the season, a club record.

Holtzman had been breezing on a four-hitter until Cleon Jones slammed a two-out single before Clendenon's shot. The left-hander was given a 3-1 edge in the sixth when Tommy Davis connected for a three-run blast.

Then in the 10th, Jerry Grote doubled off Hoyt Wilhelm and after two outs, Dave Marshall walked. Garrett then followed with his game-winner.

Starter Gary Gentry issued only three hits in six innings and Met relievers Tug McGraw and Danny Frisella stopped the Cubs the rest of the way without a hit.

Jack Billingham tossed a six-hitter for his 13th victory and struck out 12 Giants. San Francisco holds a slim one-half game margin over Los Angeles for second place in the NL West behind runaway winner Cincinnati.

ALL IN SECOND
The Astros scored all three runs in the second inning off Ron Bryant, 5-8, on a run-scoring single by Larry Howard, an RBI groundout and Cesar Cedeno's perfect bunt single for the third tally.

Minnesota, the AL's West champion, got a squeeze bunt in the fifth inning from rookie Danny Thompson for its victory over the Royals.

Tom Hall, 11-6, expected to start the second playoff game against East winner Baltimore on Sunday, went eight innings and scattered five hits while striking out seven.

The Angels' Tom Murphy held Chicago hitless for six innings, but was reached for three hits in the seventh inning, including a three-run homer by the White Sox' Bill Melton. Ed Fisher came on to halt the Sox and preserve Murphy's 16th victory.

The Angels scored a pair of runs in the first on run-scoring singles by Tony Gonzalez and Jim Spencer and added a pair in the sixth on RBI singles by Mickey Rivers and Murphy.

Monahans Stages Homecoming Go

MONAHANS — Former students returning for the homecoming of Monahans High School are due to see a sizzler of a ball game.

Monahans, rated No. 2 in Class AAA circles, will tangle with Hobbs, N.M., which is rated as the No. 2 team in New Mexico.

There will be a reception in the First National Bank starting at 2 p.m., and after the ball game, there will be a dance at the coliseum.

SCOUT REPORT IS UPCOMING

There'll obviously be lots to talk about when members of the Big Spring Quarter-back Club gather for their weekly meeting at 8 o'clock this evening in the high school cafeteria.

The resident Steers are fresh off a 46-7 victory achieved at the expense of Snyder. Action films on that contest will be shown.

Dead ahead is the district opener against Abilene High. A detailed scouting report will be offered.

Refreshments will be served to those attending.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
JACK MOLLENKOFF, former football coach at Purdue:
"The Southwest Conference is like the Big Ten — there are two dominant teams. The top teams do well anywhere, but we have teams that are suffering. Some of the bottom teams have to have big games in order to meet their costs, but they are having trouble getting them. Illinois, in the center of a huge population area, sold only 5,000 season tickets, and with a student body of some 25,000, they were expecting only 27,000 last weekend. Last year it cost us $392,000 for our program. We had 172 on tender (scholarships), 165 of them for football. One of the strongest conferences in the country is the Big Eight and they are because they have read the rules and act according to them. On the other hand, we have facilities making the rules and they are chintzy. It takes money to operate and they are squeezing a nickel until you can hear it holler in the Big Ten. No one at Texas has a chance to win the Hesiman Trophy. They have so many good ones there they end up fighting among themselves just trying to figure out who's the best one."

SAM HUFF, coaching aide of the Washington Redskins:
"The Miami Dolphins are the best team we've seen this year by far. They played their whole second string the second quarter, and we had to be sky high to win it."

JACKIE SMITH, tight end for the St. Louis Cardinals, after the Big Red had been routed by Los Angeles, 34-14:
"I felt we had it in us to beat them and I still feel that way. We could go out tomorrow and beat them. That's what's so frustrating... I still have confidence in us. I didn't lose a bit of it. My only hope is that the guys will keep theirs. They gotta remember it's only the first game."

GREG COOK, injured quarterback for the Cincinnati Bengals:
"Terry Bradshaw (of Pittsburgh) is almost as good as I am, but not quite. People have forgotten how good I am, but wait till they see me when I come back."

Coach FRANK BROYLES, on Stanford's Jim Plunkett's quick release:
"He's like Joe Namath in that respect. You could line a defender up on the center's nose and let him get by the center untouched. Plunkett could still fly the ball out to a flaring back before you'd get to him."

GARFF WILSON, professor at the University of California, after watching Texas annihilate the Cal Bears:
"I'll tell you who's No. 1 — Texas. And I'll tell you who's No. 2 — the Texas second string."

CRAIG MORTON, quarterback for the Dallas Cowboys, on why he expects his passing to improve:
"Coach Eral Allen locked himself in a film room and studied my problem. He found out several things. I was carrying the ball back too low instead of up by my ear, and I was releasing the ball differently, turning my hand wrong. I just got into the bad habit this spring when I first started throwing and was taking it easy after my shoulder operation. I've been working on it, and it's amazing. Also, I was in spots when we needed a first down badly and I was aiming the ball instead of throwing it."

LEE SNIDER, Oklahoma State coaching aide, after scouting Houston:
"Elmo Wright (of the Cougars) is everything they claim he is. There are more pro scouts drooling over him than any other player in the country."

More Jackets Are Delivered

Paul Shaffer, co-captain of the Big Spring QBC, announced this morning that the club had received another shipment of gold-colored windbreakers and they would be made available to the public at tonight's session of the organization.

The jackets are priced at $6 each and are appropriately decorated with the QBC emblem.

This is the third shipment of the windbreakers ordered by the club. The other two were sold out immediately following delivery.

Shaffer also stated that the jackets would be sold at Newsom's Food Center, 1900 Gregg Street, throughout the week.

He urged all fans who have not made their purchases to buy them and wear the gear to the Steers' district opener here Friday night against Abilene High.

Coahoma Booster Club In Session

COAHOMA — A scouting report on Hamlin will be given and game films of the one-point loss to Rotan will be screened during tonight's meeting of the Coahoma Quarterback Club.

The meet starts at 7:30 p.m. in the Activity Room at the high school.

TRUE MIDI NOT FOR EVERYONE

California Trend Has Hemlines Settling Slightly-Below-Knee

By MILDRED WHITEAKER
LOS ANGELES — Hundreds of thousands of words about hemlines and the current financial state of the fashion industry have spilled into microphones and typewriters during this just-ended national press week of the California Fashion Creators Association.

Statements of designers and manufacturers are varied, complicated and contradictory, but essentially the spring story sits down to these basics.

The elongated look is here. Most everybody is showing slightly-below-knee lengths, with the true midi (mid-calf and lower calf) found only in those couture lines aimed at the woman with flair and money.

Fall dress business was "soft" (that's a trade term for "way off") both at the manufacturing and retail levels. The national economy and apprehension over changing hemlines have been cited repeatedly as the reasons. However, designers just back from showing resort and cruise lines in New York are enthusiastic over business; increases, and they expect spring to be even better.

FIRMS CLOSE
Eight major fashion firms have closed in California in the last two weeks and a larger number this season in New York. Although bad business due to longer lengths is often blamed, "taint" so said several members of designer-manufacturer panel at the closing session of press week.

"Mismanagement was the reason in most of the cases out here," said the president of a major dress firm, explaining that every time his business is off, he cuts down somewhere to make up for the loss. "A good businessman has to do that or he'll go under."

All panel members insisted they are "holding the price line" without sacrificing quality in spite of the added fabric for length. And several couture firms have announced the addition of new lower-price divisions.

"A woman is looking at that dollar today before she spends it," said a panelist. "We have to be realistic."

As of now, fashion remains in a shakedown period and guidelines are far from clear cut. If you're buying, you're perfectly safe with knees barely covered. But if you like the midi or longer, wear it. Make sure that your new coat is longer than the dress. There's little to no controversy on the midi coat.

A major style story is shaping up in the West Coast junior market, but unfortunately there were no junior collections on the press schedule. The industry is buzzing about the max-length, print "ethnic" dresses being the "hot item" for juniors. They're reminiscent of "granny" dresses (remember?), with the 1970 versions taking their inspiration from ethnic groups the world over. One Los Angeles boutique even encourages customers to bring their own heirloom lace to be used as individual trim.

These ankle-length, calico-like dresses are being worn by day as well as evening, so don't be surprised to see them on the streets of cities in Texas. They'll be in the stores quickly.

DESIGNER PANEL
The panel discussion came at the close of capsule spring collections of eight members of the Los Angeles Fashion Guild, an organization made up of better ready-to-wear and couture firms.

Included in the show and represented on the panel were: David Barr, Helen Bass, Georgia Bullock, Calderon for S.H. Hirsh, Helen Rose, Ernst Strauss, Travilla and Georgette Trilere for Trimar, Inc.

All showed below-knee lengths, with only Travilla placing every hemline at the bottom of the calf or longer. His talent for sculpturing a dress in today's soft, sensuous mood brought a round of applause for every garment. A tiered white lace gown extending below calf is a knockout. Likewise a sexy black chiffon dress with handkerchief hemline. He knows how to make a dress long without making it aging.

And Travilla knows how to have fun with fashion. For the well-heeled discotheque set, he has lime silk shirtwaist jumpsuit laced up the front and laced at the thigh above long, revealing slits. He leaves all the lacing long, long, long to fly madly when a gal is dancing.

Helen Rose's collection is filled with the dreamy chiffon evening gowns and pant costumes which are her signatures. New looking are her below-the-knee "shepherdess" dresses in navy or black matte jersey with white organza collars and cuffs. These, too, feature laced-front bodices, leaving being a sign of spring 1971 in everything from sportswear to swimsuits to couture creations.

The ethnic look checked into the showings in the ankle-length peasant dresses and rancher-inspired pant sets by Michael Calderon for S. H. Hirsh, another designer who has fun with fashion. Georgia Bullock introduced her "country look" in sassy navy and white or red and white plain plaid shirt-makers with below-knee, full flounced skirts.

Ernst Strauss is carrying the firm's reputation for fine tailoring into spring in a series of suits and pantsuits in double knits, flannel and cotton plaids. Pantsuits stalked the runway in most every press week collection.

Though the pants boom is attributed in part to the hemline hassle, there are others who view it as a sign of the times, a life style.

Speaking of life style, I ran into two well-known Hollywood males this past week, both wearing knickers. Rudy Vallee was standing beside me at the Universal City post office, and E. G. Marshall was in the elevator of the Sheraton-Universal Hotel, press week headquarters. Mr. Marshall was on his way to Universal Television Studios across the street. "I walk to work every morning," he smiled.

Delta Delta Observes Founding

Delta Delta Chapter of Phi Sigma Alpha held its Founder's Day banquet Friday evening at Coker's Restaurant, and celebrated the 10th anniversary of the chapter. Members' husbands were guests. Maj. Glenn Jones of Webb Air Force Base was the guest speaker, and other guests included Mrs. Glenn Jones, Mrs. Walter Pillow, Miss Carlene Cooper and Mrs. J. E. Brown.

Maj. Jones discussed communism and how Communists begin infiltration by "placing a wedge between the people and the government." Communists infiltrate into vital places such as education and politics and work to influence young people. Maj. Jones explained, "The best way to fight communism is to turn to God," Maj. Jones said.

The head table was centered with a crystal candelabrum holding four pink tapers and arranged with pink flowers. Flanking the centerpiece were two large pink candles in gold holders. Chapter members will attend the Permian Basin Assembly Founder's Day in Odessa tonight, and the "woman of the year" for each chapter will be announced.

Clothing Care Is Essential

It behooves all of us to take good care of our clothes when we store them away for the summer. Some types of clothing stretch a bit if hung up for a long time, and trousers could show a crease if hung over a bar of the hanger.

Use the new, improved hangers, some of which have a special pants hanger, and are designed to keep suit jackets in shape. Beware of the wire hangers when storing clothes for any length of time.

Eagles Auxiliary Gains Member

The Eagles Auxiliary welcomed Mrs. Wanda Arnold into the group Monday at the Settles Hotel. Mrs. Arnold was initiated during the district meeting last weekend in Fort Stockton. Eagles Area 3188, of which the Big Spring chapter is a member, was awarded third place trophy for attendance.

Members were reminded that the regular salad supper will be held at 7 p.m. the second Friday of each month at Settles Hotel. Everyone is welcome to attend the free supper and need not be Eagles members.

A surprise birthday party was held Friday for Mrs. James Hanson. Members received a thank-you letter for their donation to the Jimmy Durante Children's Fund. Mrs. Nell Tippie won the attendance prize. The next meeting will be Oct. 13.

Guests In Forsan

FORSAN (SC) — Guests of the Don Murphys and Paul Kennedys over the weekend were the James Kennedys of Crane.
