$5,000 Gift To Center Reported

$101,024 was reported at the Pampa Youth and Community Center Check-In Meeting this morning. C. P. Buckler, representing the Lovett Estate, presented a pledge for $5,000 to Advance Gifts Chairman E. E. Shelhamer.

Mrs. James T. Brown handed Johnny Campbell, general campaign director, a check for $150, which represents the profit on the Table Setting Contest held by the Beta Sigma Phi Council recently.

Ten a.m. Tuesday is labelled as "Operation Big Push" on the Campaign calendar. Businessmen, and Campaigners as well, will come to the Palm Room in City Hall in an effort to push the Campaign to its $300,000 goal.

Approximately 300 members of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce will be on hand for Operation Big Push. By Tuesday, Campaigners hope to go over the $150,000 mark.

It is now believed around the Campaign that what ever is done for the success of the venture will be initiated at this Big Push Meeting.

Two Accidents Are Reported

Pampa Police reported today that they had investigated two accidents in the city limits in the past 24 hours.

A 1957 Pontiac driven by James Leslie Williams was in collision with a 1949 Ford driven by Walter Don Davis, 611 S. Ballard, on S. Cuyler 100 feet N. of Craven.

Damage to the 1957 Pontiac was $150 and damage to the 1949 Ford was $125.

On Sloan street 25 feet E. of Browning a 1954 Mercury driven by Betty Wallace Schillman, 324 N. Banks, was in collision with a 1948 Pontiac driven by Jessie Kelly Leech, 941 Hickory.

Damage to the Mercury was $3.50 and damage to the Pontiac was $100.

Mrs. Dawes Rites Set

Mrs. Myrtle Dawes died at 12:45 a.m. today at Highland General Hospital. She was born on Aug. 27, 1910 in Woodville.

Mrs. Dawes had lived in Pampa for the last 30 years. Her home was at 318 N. Hazel.

She is survived by her duughter, Mrs. J. H. Reeves Jr., 1200 E. Kingsmill; her son, John Dawes Jr. of Dallas; her brothers, L. G. Foxworth and Ernest Foxworth of Port Neches and C. B. Foxworth of San Simon, Ariz; two sisters, Mrs. Claude Thompson of Port Neches and Mrs. B. C. Trotti of Stowell; and also by five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 3 p.m. in Duenkel-Carmichael Chapel with the Rev. Thurmond Upshaw of Central Baptist Church presiding. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Noon Lions Elect '58 Officers

Joe Tooley emerged as president of the Pampa Lions Club in the club election held Thursday. Woodrow Adcock became first vice president and Ray Duncan, second vice president. Ed Myatt was named Lion Tamer; O. K. Gaylor, secretary-treasurer; and E. E. Shultz, tail twister.

Three directors were elected by a preferential vote, R. Malcolm Brown, Melvin Jayroe and Russell Kennedy.

The out-going officers are President Homer Craig, First Vice President Joe Tooley, Second Vice President Henry Gruben, Secretary-Treasurer O. K. Gaylor, Lion Tamer Ray Duncan.

At the Thursday meeting, March Sweetheart Martha Gordon stepped down to make way for April Sweetheart Raima Storms. Both girls are students at Pampa High School.

The $2,160 from Minstrel ticket sales is the largest gross income in the history of the show, according to Boss Lion Homer Craig.

Earl Schmieding, April program chairman, put on "Disaster Dallas," following the election. "Disaster Dallas" is a film record of last year's Dallas tornado, produced by WFAA-TV.

In dramatic fashion, the film shows the swath that the black funnel cut through Dallas and shows the work of the Red Cross and the Salvation Army in the wake of disaster.

WFAA men are shown broadcasting from the station roof, following the twister in studio cars and chasing it in a helicopter.

The film is distributed by the Panhandle Insurance Agency.

LOVETT PLEDGE

C. P. Buckler, a trustee of the Lovett Estate, presents a pledge for $5,00 to Advance Gifts Chairman E. E. Shelhamer. The presentation took place at the Center Check-In Meeting at 10 a.m. today, boosting the Pampa Youth and Community Center Campaign total to $101,024. (News Photo)

Blanket Pardon Is Offered To Cuban Rebels By Offficals

HAVANA (UP)— Foreign Minister Gonzalo Guell has renewed the Cuban government's offer of a blanket pardon to the rebels in eastern Cuba as "the only means to avoid serious catastrophe" in this country.

"The government is making every effort to achieve its goal," Guell told newsmen Thursday night at his first press conference since taking office. "This is the only way to avoid serious ca-

The foreign minister added that the government has "good control" of the situation, although it may be "days or months" before the outcome is known.

Guell's statement came as the Easter holidays caused a lull in the conflict. Tension continued high because of the expectation that Fidel Castro's rebels will call a general strike Monday.

Reports from rebel-infested Oriente Province said a soldier and two rebels were killed Thursday at La Naya when the insurgents tried to ambush a government patrol.

Strong army and police detachments patroled the streets of Santiago.

Postal authorities said there have been no mail deliveries in Santiago for two days because no trains have entered or left the city.

In central Cuba, saboteurs burned a railroad bridge between Santa Clara and Camaguey.

Good Friday

And as they led Him away, they laid hold upon one Simon, a Cycrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.

And there followed Him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented Him.

But Jesus turning unto them said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children.

Ike Defense Plan Breaks Tradition

By CHARLES W CORDDRY
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan seemed to many today to take America a long step toward a single military fighting force.

Under pressure of the air-atomic and missile age and with need for instant command decisions, Eisenhower's plan broke with service traditions as old as the Republic.

"Separate ground, sea and air warfare is gone forever," he told a none - too - receptive Congress in a special 7,000-word message Thursday.

He said he would strip the present Army, Navy and Air Force Departments of their combat forces and assign those fighting elements to "truly unified" commands.

Unified commanders would have "unquestioned authority" over the air, ground and sea units assigned them and would receive their orders directly from the President, Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The service secretaries and their departments would be cut out of the military chain of command completely. Their job from now on would be administration, supply, training and budgeting.

The combat elements would in effect become forces of the Defense Department responsible to McElroy and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

McElroy, who would have vastly increased power under the reorganization scheme, told newsmen that proposed legislation needed to carry out parts of Eisenhower's plan would be ready to send to Congress in about 10 days.

Eisenhower called on Congress to repeal any current laws which give responsibility for military operations to any Pentagon official other than McElroy.

Since unified planning would be conducted by the Joint Chiefs and their Joint Staff exclusive of the individual services, the President said, the Joint Staff should be enlarged and equipped with an operations division to serve as the link with unified commands.

"We must recognize that by law our military organization still reflects the traditional concepts of separate forces for land, sea and air operations," the President said. He said such separation was "clearly incompatible with unified commands whose missions and weapons systems go far beyond concepts and traditions of individual services."

At several points in this message, The President reassured Congress that he had no thought of merging or abolishing the traditional services.

In ordering the streamlined new system, the President said the present chain of command was "cumbersome and unreliable in time of peace and not usable in time of war."

Negro Workers Hit Hardest By Recession

WASHINGTON (UP) — Negro workers have been hit much harder by the recession than whites, a Labor Department report disclosed today.

The department said 16 per cent of "non - white" men in the total work force were unemployed in February compared to 7 per cent for white men. Negroes comprise more than 95 per cent of the "non-white" category.

"Many of these (non - white) workers are in less skilled occupations where the rates of unemployment have been highest," the department said in a report "Characteristics of the Unemployed."

About half of the jobless in February were married men — a sharp increase compared to a year earlier. The unemployment rates for men 20 to 44 years old climbed most rapidly over the year, rising to 40 per cent of the total in mid-February.

These figures reflected the layoffs in manufacturing and construction industries.

CoC Hosts Barbecue

The Agriculture Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce was host last night to the purchasers of livestock in the recent Top o' Texas Livestock Sale. A Barbecue Dinner, at the National Guard Armory, was arranged by the committee and served by the Pampa Shrine Club.

The dinner was given in honor of the purchasers of 35 pigs and 47 fat steers at the recent sale.

Calvin Whatley, Chamber vice president, presided at the meeting. Clyde Carruth, speaking for the Agricultural Committee, expressed thanks and appreciation to the buyers. Carruth was superintendent of the Livestock show.

Delegates came from Miami Conrad and Wheeler, in addition to Pampa.

Dinner music was provided by Mrs. Maxine Milliron on the Hammond organ. Mrs. Bill Hunt was the after dinner soloist.

The Second Annual Easter Sunrise Service Slated Here

The second annual Easter Sunrise Service sponsored by the Pampa Ministerial Alliance will be held at the Senior High School football field Sunday at 7 a.m.

The service will feature the Junior High School Choir under the direction of Richard Sliger. The choir will sing "Alleiciah, Christ Is Risen" and "The Trail Before Pilate." The Rev. O. M. Butler of Harrah Methodist Church will bring the early morning mediatation message.

Other ministers who will participate in the service are the Reverends Thurmon Upshaw, Dick Crews, Jonah Parker, and James Minnich. Bob Hamilton will lead the congregational singing with Miss Marilyn Smith at the piano. The Rev. M. B. Smith is chairman of the Alliance's Easter service committee.

The service will be broadcast live over radio station KHHH of Pampa. In case of inclement weather the sunrise service will be held in the field house adjacent to the football field. Persons of all faiths, creeds and races are invited to attend this city-wide service, The Rev. Smith indicated.

Also, the Pampa Commandry, Knights Templar will hold a service at the Masonic Temple at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Sir Knight Woodrow W. Adcock will bring the Easter message. The group extended an invitation to wives and members of the Eastern Star and all Master Masons and their wives, according to Murray W. Sealey, E. Commander, and W. W. Simmons, recorder.

But Offers Incentives

Bill Doesn't Compel Billboard Regulation

WASHINGTON (UP)— The new highway bill would not compel states to regulate billboards along the new 41,000 - mile interstate highway system. But it offers two cash incenitve plans to persuade them to do so.

Congress approved the bill in final form Thursday. President Eisenhower was expected to sign it in due course.

Sponsors hoped that states — under one or both of the incentive schemes—would curb what they call "billboard blight"—especailly along new portions of the interstate system.

That network, first mapped in the 1956 highway bill, is expected to cost some 40 billion dollars over the years. The federal government would pay 90 per cent.

The bill would allow states to spend federal funds to obtain so-called advertising easements under which property owners would agree not to place signs along the routes. Five per cent of the cost of land for new rights-of-way could be spent for this purpose.

It would also offer a bonus — at an additional ½ of 1 per cent of highway costs — to states which use their constitutional police powers, zoning laws and the like to regulate billboards along rights of way purchased since July, 1956—some 65 to 75 per cent of the total mileage.

States could quality for these bonus payments by entering into agreements with the secretary of commerce to abide by federal standards. The bonus proposal does not aim at levelling billboards already in place along existing highways which are to be

503 Million For Texas In Program

AUSTIN (UP)—The Texas highway program would receive 503 million dollars in the next two years under the Federal Aid Highway Bill passed Thursday by Congress, according to State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer.

This would include federal and state matching funds, Greer said.

He said the highway act, approved by both House and Senate and sent to President Eisenhower, will provide 167 million dollars in federal money for Texas each of the next two years, plus a supplemental 36 million dollars in federal funds for next year alone.

Thus, Greer said, Texas will receive 203 million dollars in federal money next year, and 167 million dollars for a total of 370 million dollars over the two-year period.

State matching f unds which must be provided by Texas to receive the federal aid will total 133 million dollars—boosting the overall total for the two-year period to 503 million dollars.

Major Differences Argued By Powers

By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Pres Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States and its allies are near a dangerous split over a possible shift in policy on disarmament and an East-West summit meeting.

Indications are that differences over these two important isues were argued by the allied powers recently and left unsettled. The differences are major ones, but the United States is confident they can be overcome.

In an effort to get on with work toward a possible summit meeting with the Russians, President Eisenhower has ordered a speed-up in this country's search for a "new look" disarmament policy designed to break the East-West arms deadlock.

The top-level policy review will include the possibility of halting nuclear tests, halting production of nuclear bomb materials, reducing nuclear bomb stockpiles, reducing dangers of surprise attack and cutting back armed forces and conventional armaments, and the President's proposals for an international agreement to use outer space for peaceful purposes.

NATO Meeting in May

The President's hope is that the basic disarmament review can be completed in general form by the end of this month, and cleared with U.S. allies. The council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will meet in Paris May 5. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and other allied leaders will attend.

The United States, Britain and France of Monday told Russia they would be ready to begin diplomatic talks in Moscow "in the second half of April" on a summit meeting.

Britain and France have registered objections to halting nuclear tests pending some agreement to provide them with more American nuclear know-how.

In addition to the disarmament problem, it is known that the United States and its allies do not see eye to eye on how to proceed with summit negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Negotiators Not Determined

A crisis on this point was barely headed off last weekend when Eisenhower and Dulles held a series of emergency telephone conversations to discuss the problem of which allied nations would negotiate with the Soviets at a summit conference. The decision was to table the issue—temporarily.

Monday's Big Three note to Moscow mae no mention of the composition of negotiating forces on the western side.

Man Fined On Liquor Charge

Claude Raymond Montgomery was charged in Gray County Court yesterday with transporting liquor in a wet area without a permit.

Montgomery was fined $100 and costs of court.

Liquor control board agents picked Montgomery up yesterday in Pampa with 216 half pints of whiskey amounting to about $432.

Captain Tells Of Fire At Sea, Sinking

ADEN (UP)— The captain of the ill-fated Norwegian emigrant ship Skaubryn told the story today of the fire at sea that forced more than 1,200 passengers and crewmen to abandon ship Monday night in the Indian Ocean.

Everyone aboard got off safely, but one passenger died of a heart attack after taking to the lifeboats.

Capt. Alf Faeste, 46, gave newsmen the first detailed account of the Skaubryn's ordeal when he and other survivors arrived here today aboard the Italian liner Roma, which picked them up from the rescue ship City of Sydney.

The ship was carrying emigrants from West Germany to Australia.

Faeste said the fire started when an engine-room crewman opened an oil line prematurely, and "oil rushed out, spreadnig profusely."

The oil caught fire, the flames spread to the ship's fuel tanks and then raced through the vessel. Fire extinguishers were useless.

"I was near one of the ships' dining rooms when I heard passengers shouting 'Fire' and saw the flames spreading through the ship," Faeste said. "I radioed an SOS, ordered the passengers to the boats and had the crew close all portholes, hatches and doors.

"There was no panic. The boats were lowered. One capsized, but the others rescued their passengers from the sea."

By midnight the Skaubryn was ablaze from stem to stern.

Man Is Held For Air Force

Pampa Chief of Police Jim Conner said today that "a deserter" from an Air Force base in New Mexico, wanted by the FBI, was arrested in Pampa yesterday.

Conner said the man, whose real name is Fred N. Sewell, had been living at the Pampa Hotel and driving a cab for the Yellow Cab Company under the alias of Bradford Blaze.

FBI agents in Amarillo had found out Sewell was living in Pampa and called Chief Conner who arrested the man when he came to work yesterday.

Two Posts To Be Filled In School Board Election Here

Two places on the Pampa School Board will be filled in tomorrow's election.

Four candidates are in the race for the two posts, Dr. J. B. Veale Jr., E. L. Green Jr., D. E. Holt and Jack R. Hood.

Absentee balloting closed Tuesday with a total of 95 absentee votes cast.

The election will be held from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. tomorrow at Pampa Junior High School. DeLea Vicars will be the eleciton judge and voters will designate two persons on the ballot whom they wish to vote for.

The two who compile the highest number of votes will be elected for a three-year term.

Of the four candidates, Green has served on the Pampa School Board nine years. The other three are prominent citizens of the community. Green seeks re-election and the other post to be vacated is filled presently by Frank Smith.

The election is held yearly to fill expired terms.

Hold - over members of the board are Rex Rose, Aubrey Steele and Jim Nation.

Anyone who has paid his poll tax and resides in the Pampa School District is eligible to vote in the election. In this election, one need not own property to be an eligible voter.

Film Waiting For Liz Now

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The movie company shooting "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" has gone as far as it can go in filming the picture without the star, Elizabeth Taylor.

The raven-haired Miss Taylor has secluded herself in her Coldwater Canyon home since her husband, Mike Todd, was killed in a New Mexico plane crash recently.

Production was waited Wednesday when all the scenes without the actress had been filmed. Filming will resume April 13 if Miss Taylor is ready.

Tax Cut Clamor Quiets For Present

WASHINGTON (UP)—Officials of the Eisenhower administration breathed easier today because much of the clamor for radical anti-recession income tax cuts has quieted for the present.

But the policy makers are keeping their fingers crossed. New pressures for a sharp reduction in personal taxes may build up when Congress returns from its Easter recess.

If Congress does come back in an energetic tax - cutting mood, the administration hopes it can channel that sentiment toward tax legislation that would stimulate the economy on a broad basis.

Effects Could Vary

Administration experts still prefer tax reductions—if necessary—that would stimulate economic activity—the consumer to a broad personal income tax cut.

They lean toward such revenue legislation as removing the 10 per cent excise tax on automobiles, transportation and communications. They expressed encouragement today that some of the more sweeping plans for income tax cuts seemingly have not picked up wid esupport.

Only five or six weeks ago, there were strong and active advocates, some within the government, for such plans as a complete, but brief moratorium on the withholding tax.

There is hope that statistics to be released next week and on into May will generate sufficient optimism to reduce pressures for tax reduction even further.

The employment figures for March will be released by the Labor and Commerce departments next Tuesday. A Labor Department official already has said they will show an increase of 200,000 over the 5,137,000 total for February.

This would be a comparatively small increase and might indicate a deceleration in the rate at which unemployment is spreading.

The secretary of commerce would be charged with drafting the federal standards which would apply 660 feet on each side of the right of way. In drafting them, however, the secretary would be required to permit these signs:

—Directional or other official traffic signs.

—Signs advertising adjacent property for sale or lease.

—Certain signs advertising activities being conducted no more than 12 miles away, provided by standards and regulatory polic..

—Signs to give information of "specific interest" to the travelling public — also consistent with federal standards. These would call attention to national shrines, scenic wonders and the like.

Young Killer Cannot Be Prosecuted

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UP)—A 13-year-old boy who in a two-hour rampage killed his mother, brother and sister cannot be charged with the crimes. A territorial law prohibits prosecution of children under 16.

Robert Courtney admitted to police he shot to death his mother, Mrs. Jesse B. Courtney, 47, a native of Murry, Idaho, who has lived here for 22 years, and her two other children, Bonnie Vay 7, and Jesse Jr., 9.

Psychiatrists will examine Robert to help juvenile authorities decide his fate. The court can either turn him over to the custody of the Department of Juvenile Institutions or order him confined in a mental institution.

In describing his savage spree that began after his mother belted him mildly for quitting his job in his father's sheet metal shop, the boy told police that he was tired "of getting pounded, smashed and kicked."

"When I started shooting I just couldn't stop, he told police. "I wanted to kill everybody."

After shooting the three members of his family, the youth ran five blocks and stole a car at gunpoint. He abandoned the car when it got stuck and took a second one which he drove to the vicinity of Anchorage High School.

Police say the boy was attempting to take a third car when he was apprehended by police.

The youth's father was called back to Anchorage from a Seattle business trip.

Members Of Congress In Home Grounds

WASHINGTON (UP)— Members of Congress moved into their home grounds today for spring soundings which could measure public demand for tax- cuts or other anti-recession action.

When Congress started its 10-day Easter recess Thursday it could already boast of a relatively fat record of achievement at the half-way point of its annual session.

Speaker Sam Rayburn listed 27 bills passed by House and Senate since Jan. 7 and said this was an "imposing" total for "so shor ta time."

The current recess gives most members their first extended stay in their constituencies since the first of the year when satellites and missiles monopolized public attention. Domestic economic conditions have had more attention for the past two months.

TO THE VOTERS

To the voters of Pampa I would like to make the following statement: I have been out of town for the past ten days. During my absence there has been an ad placed in the paper and letters mailed to the voters by my friends. I appreciate them taking the interest that they have, but I am afraid they have given the the wrong impression. They have combined my name with that of Mr. Hood which makes it appear that we are running as a team. I want to state now that I am running on my own merits, and for the sole purpose of performing a service to the community. I want to help keep and continually improve the standards of our public school system, and to properly administer the use of the taxpayers money. I want to give our children the best possible education. All of this I promise to perform to the very best of my ability.

West Germany Is Blasted By Reds

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Soviet Russia has launched a savage attack against West Germany as part of its attempt to force Allied suspension of nuclear weapons tests.

The attack was made by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in his speech to Parliament Monday announcing Russia's own decision to suspend such tests.

Gromyko asserted that in deciding to accept American tactical atomic weapons, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his fellow leaders were "steering the country down the same fateful road which was once traveled by Hitler's Germany."

Says Nazis Wield Influence

He charged that Nazis "wield great influence in the top political and military circles of Western Germany" and that Adenauer's policy constitutes a threat not only to Russia but to Germany's neighbors.

The attack was overshadowed by the melodramatic announcement of the decision to suspend nuclear weapons tests.

But it was perhaps the most ferocious attack that the Soviet government has made to date on Adenauer and his policy of cooperation with the other Western Allies in arming against the threat of Russian Communist aggression.

Following up Gromyko's speech, the Soviet Parliament sent a strong message to the West German Parliament warning that it was "suicidal" to accept American atomic weapons.

Messaged Other Nations

It also ordered the chairmen of its two houses to send messages to the governments of all countries that fought against Germany in World War II, asking them to support Russia's position.

Thus Gromyko's blast apparently was merely the first move in a new campaign designed to rouse fear and suspicion of Germany in those countries, like France, which Hitler's armies invaded.

Despite the fact that Adenauer was an open enemy of Nazism in Hitler's day, Gromyko said that the tactical atomic weapons "are being made available to the forces that unleashed the second world war, which took the lives of tens of millions."

He insinuated that though supposedly any atomic weapons supplied to West Germany will be used only by authority of the North Atlantic Treaty Command, the day might come when Germany would use them for its own purposes.

There's Almost Pushbutton Flower Growing Available

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Corresponden

NEW YORK (UP) — April is among us, laughing her girlish laughter and, as the poet said weeping her girlish tears—and spring is bringing us a nosegay of growing ideas.

One of these is almost push-button flower growing. Perhaps it might be called prefabricated flower gardening. The idea is that you buy a carpet of gardening—"factory produced," the manufacturer says—put it on the ground, add sunshine and water, and do no work.

No weeding. No fertilizing. No cultivating. No stoop, no strain, no bother—no exercise. The thing will produce, they say, several hundred blooms during a season, from 30 seed varieties.

The carpet gardens are ¼-inch thick mats of artificial soil, chemicals and seeds. They're made in strips, 1 foot by 18 feet. Put 'em on loosened soil and watch 'em go. The seeds are embedded in the mat along with organiz materials that serve as growing media and chemicals that eliminate the need for weeding, fertilizing, and cultivating.

It Seems Unfair

Well, isn't this jus fin? Now, Well, isn't this just fine? Now, you're rich enough, you can ave fence-to-fence carpeting in our back yard.

Somehow, this bust-through into he age of easeful and virtually utomatic posyculture is disquieting. It seems like an unfair trick on nature. The seeds entrapped in the mat, where wind and water can't budge them. The weeds killed by a built-in fallout before they ever get a chance to sprout. The hoe idle and rusting in the shed.

You just spread your magic corpet in the sun, and water, and —bingo. Instant flower beds.

Told about the development of assembly - line, prefab gardens, a country dweller in our office said: "Don't tell my wife about them. She gets all her exercise working in her garden. If she stops that, there'll be no holding her waistline."

Talent Show Winners

(Special to The News)

WHITE DEER — Darrell Ruthardt of White Deer and Danny Hutchinson of Skellytown recently won first places in a talent show sponsored by the yearbook staff of White Deer High School.

Darrell, who placed first in the high school division, played two harmonica solos, "Eighth of January" and "Tammy." Tommie Kay Kelley and Mary Buchanan, playing a piano duet "Morning Mood," placed second; and a quartet composed of Sherry Hefner, Lee Anne Crowson, Karen Collins, and Anne Tyler, singing "You Gotta Move," placed third.

Danny won first place in the grade school division with a vocal solo, "Hey, Good Lookin." Second prize went to a trio composed of Glenda Powers, Linda Baten, and Paulette Burns, of White Deer, who sang "Sugar Time"; and third place winner was Patricia Ann Beighle, of Skellytown, who sang "Rock-a-Billy."

RETIRING—Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, above, Army research chief, is soon to retire after 30 years of military service. He'll be succeeded in the post by Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, a former Army intelligence chief and Korean commander. Gavin said last January in announcing his intention to retire that the Army was deteriorating and he felt he could do more for it outside than he could in.

by

Doris E. Wilson

Pampa News Women's Editor

If you happened to pass Mrs. Doris Price's fifth grade room at Stephen F. Austin elementary school this week, you might have mistaken it for a Parisenne Millinery Shoppe . . . it was that gay! During art class periods, her students have been making Easter bonnets fashioned from pie plates, yes, pie plates! Elsewhere on this page, you will get an idea of what they were like, but they don't do the bonnets half justice. They were of every color and decorate according to the students' own artistic tastes. White bunnies nestled in green grass . . . kleenex posies . . . red bows, yellow bows . . . and flowers of every hue . . . and the bonnets were saucily tied under the chin with a matching ribbon.

Mrs. Price's next - door - neighbor - at - school, Mrs. Mary Call.. had her students making attractive Easter centerpieces. The base of the centerpiece was made from the top of an egg carton, which had been painted. It was filled with colored grass and arranged with tulips. The tulips were made from the egg-shaped contours of the box and painted red, blue, orange, and yellow. Egg shells, from which the contents had been blown, were painted and decorated with glitter that formed a cross or design. And in both rooms we saw an Easter Egg Tree. Gaily colored Easter Eggs of every hue were attached to branches to form the tree.

Senior Citizens held their monthly birthday party yesterday afternoon in Lovett Memorial Library. And as she has been doing since the begining of Senior Center, Emily Coston furnished the most beautiful birthday cake. We've had the opportunity to see most of the cakes, and each time we think that the last is the prettiest one ever, but she outdoes herself each time. The cake yesterday was bordered with sugar violets with yellow sugar baby chicks nestled in between the violets. A bouquet of yellow daffodils centered the cake with a row of candy Easter eggs below the bouquet.

Celebrating birthdays this month are Mrs. C. P. Roop on April 3. Mrs. Edith Roberts on April 14; Mrs. George Faulconer on April 13 and C. E. Sidwell on April 27. Mr. Sidwell, we hear, is the champion checker player at the center!

We chatted a moment with Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Norris, whose grandson, Tommy Richardson has been home on leave for the last ten days. He left Wednesday night to return to his duties with the United States Navy. Tommy has just completed boot training and is now enroute to San Francisco, where he will leave for duty at Pearl Harbor.

Uncle Billy Frost told us that he is having trouble keeping, Trixie, his pet, white cat at home on these moonlight nights. We know Uncle Billy is treating the cat fine, so maybe it is just because it is Springtime! Just barely had time to say "hi" to the Autrusa hostesses, Marion Osborne, who is chairman for this month, Adrienne Foster, Lena Pearl Hobbs, and J. Flanagan, who were busy gals entertaining their guests.

You know, Senior Center is a nice place to go on a Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Braly Has Lefors HD Club

(Special to The News)

LEFORS — Mrs. H. L. Braly was hostess to the Lefors Home Demonstration Club in her home on Thursday for its regular meeting.

After the business meeting and refreshments, the group went to the Lefors High School Building, where a film secured by Mrs. John L. Lantz was shown by Miss Norma Lantz. The film, "The Divine Flower," was a production of the Colorado carnation.

A special meeting was called for Monday in the home of Mrs. L. D. Rider in order to plan a program to be presented at the Lefors Town Hall meeting on April 3.

It was decided to serve coffee and spudnuts at the town hall meeting.

The regular meeting for April 10 was cancelled due to the district meeting to be held in Stratford.

It was announced that the semi-tailoring sewing course is to begin in the home of Mrs. B. D. Vaughn on April 6. Members are asked to bring a sack lunch for the noon hour.

Members present for the meeting were Mmes. Ted Kendell, H. L. Braly, J. D. Smithee, D. T. Pfeil, O. O. Bishop, B. J. Leninger, M. L. Rippy, B. D Vaughn, A. T. Cobb, W. E. Melton, B. J. Deihl, John L. Lantz, and L. D. Rider.

Goodwill HD Club Hears Soil Talks

Goodwill Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. A. P. Coombes for an all-day meeting with a salad luncheon at noon.

Mrs. Leland Diamond and Mrs. Coombes gave the program on "Soil Conditioning." The leaders told the group that soil was classified in three glasses; good, fair and poor. "Good soil crumbles large enough not to blow away, and small enough for good seed germination."

Fair soil tends to run together, form."

"Poor soil," they said, "When dry, forms into large hard cement-like clods or crusts. It is sometimes referred to as "tightland."

"Ways of improving the soil," the leaders stated, "is by adding organic matter consisting of crop residues, barnyard manure, green manure crops, rotation of crops and leaf mold."

Mrs. T. C. McGlohon was hostess to a Stanley Party, following the talks.

Members present were Mmes. Tom Haggart, Roy Frazier, T. C. McGlohon, J. M. Hahn, Louis Epps, George Perkins, Johnny Johnson, Leland Diamond.

Opti-Mrs. Donate $25 To Center

Mrs. Bill Stephens was hostess to the meeting of the Opti-Mrs. Club in the Optimist Boys' Club building on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Ben White, president, conducted the business meeting, during which plans were completed for the bake sale, which was held on Friday morning. Proceeds from the bake sale funds will be used for equipment in the Boys' Club kitchen.

Mrs. Gip Gipson, chairman, announced that plans were being made for a Career Clinic to be held on April 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the City Club Room. Eighth and ninth grade girls will be special guests of the club on that evening.

A slate of new officers was presented by the nominating comittee, as follows; Mmes. Clif Dunham president, James Lewis, first vice president; Lester Mason, second vice presidnet; Gip Gipson, third vice president; Norma Schale, secretary and Newt Secrest, treasurer.

Chairmen appointed to served are Mmes. John Pharr, telephone; N. G. Kadingo, reporter; Bill Dodd, scrapbook. Mrs. Bill Garrett and Mrs. Virgil Frashier are two-year board of director members.

During the business meeting, it was voted to give $25 to the Pampa Community Youth Center.

Mrs. J. D. Roth was a guest of the club during the evening. Members present, not already mentioned, were Mmes. Clay Crossland and Bill Garrett.

4H Club Convenes For Officer Election

White Deer 4H Club met in the White Deer library on Tuesday afternoon for election of officers.

Officers to serve for the following term are Misses Vivan Warminski, president; Julie Icsh, vice president; Fern Phillips, secretary and treasurer; Judy Lewis, reporter; Brenda Thornburg, council representative; Lynette Williams, song leader; Carolyn Ryals, game leader; Barbara Linder, ritual leader.

Mrs. Charles Warminski gave a demonstration on bedroom improvement.

NATIONAL FACE LIFTING—In an attempt to halt deterioration of downtown areas, stop blight and rejuvenate business districts hard hit by the phenomenal growth of suburban shopping centers, scores of cities across the nation are turning to multimillion-dollar architectural plastic surgery jobs. Some major rebuilding projects are of long standing and well advanced, like Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle and Philadelphia's Penn Center. Others are in the blueprint or land clearance stages. Bud Collyer One Of Busiest TV Emcees In The Business

By FRED DANZIG
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) —Bud Collyer, a former lawyer, registers a strong dissenting opinion today whenever he hears someone refer to him as the very model of a modern master of ceremonies.

Collyer, whose wavy blond hair and glittering white smile have been illuminating our TV screens since the pre-Liberace days of 1947, says there are times when he can't stand himself.

"I never watch a kinescope of my shows if I can help it because I always see some mannerisms in myself that drive me wild. It's all my wife can do to restrain me and convince me I should stay in the business," said Collyer as he relaxed in his dressing room after a hectic half-hour as emcee of "Beat the Clock" on CBS-TV.

Minority View

Collyer's opinion, however, appears to be a minority view since he's one of the busiest emcees in the business. Along with the five-a-week "clock" shows, he does the Tuesday night panel show, "To Tell the Truth."

Of the two shows, he finds the latter is much easier for him. "I like it because I can sit down for a change. This is the first time I've been able to get off my feet since 'Quick As a Flash' a few years ago."

His main function, said Collyer, is to help the contestant. "I just try to be sincere, put people completely at ease and convince them that I'm their friend. That's all I want to do.

"You know, for all our ridiculous stunts on 'Beat the Clock,' we never embarrass our contestants or abuse them. I don't like exploiting people. We're not striving for anything but to have fun. We try out the stunts on ourselves to make sure they're not degrading or dangerous. And, of course, when a contestant does a stunt fast, the audience cheers to the rafters. They like to see us beaten at our own game. And that's what adds to the fun."

Studied Law

Collyer paid his way through law school in New York with a $100-a-week job as an early-morning singer on a radio show. He kept up his show business contacts while working in a law office and finally, when daytime soap operas beckoned, he gave up law.

"I figured I could always fall back on the law if my luck ran out, so I teed off and did soap operas. As I became known as an actor, the singing jobs dropped off. From 1948 to 1952, I played the part of 'Superman' on radio. In 1947, I emcee.. my first TV show, 'Winner Take All.' After that came 'Beat the Clock.'"

Dinah, Bob, Kangaroo Honored

NEW YORK (UP) — Dinah Shore, Bob Hope, and Captain Kangaroo shared individual honors when the annual George Foster Peabody awards for excellence in radio and television broadcasting were made.

Miss Shore's NBC-TV show was named the best musical entertainment on television, with a special citation for "unfailing good taste, irrepressible spirits and sheer talent." The citation added, "What TV needs, obviously, is about a hundred more Dinah Shores."

Comedian Hope, recently back from Russia, took the Peabody award for an outstanding contribution to international understanding. He was called the "wise-cracking, ever-cheerful symbol of an abundant and good-natured land."

Captain Kangaroo (Bob Keeshan in real life) was cited as "virtually the only genuine children's program left on network television—Certainly the only one which puts the welfare of the children ahead of that of the sponsor."

Washington Word Is 'Bad News For GOP'

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The word in Washington today is bad news for Republican Party regulars in the state of Pennsylvania—and from coast to coast.

The word is that Harold E. Stassen has a good chance in Pennsylvania to make a big and astonishing political comeback. Every Republican county chairman in the state opposed Stassen's desire for the party's governorship nomination.

Primary day is May 20. Stassen's chances of winning have been improving hour by hour. Like Minnesota, his native state, Pennsylvania will not be big enough for Stassen if he is nominated and elected governor this year. Stassen's ambition has been for years to be nominated and elected president of the United States.

As the Republican governor of big Pennsylvania, Stassen would be entitled to another try for the presidential nomination in 1960. Few who have observed his political career doubt that he has that in mind and, if not in 1960, then, in 1964.

Controls Big Diegation

All of this is bad news for Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Stassen spent himself and considerable mysteriously contributed money in 1956 to prevent Nixon's renomination for a second term. He argued that Nixon's name on the ticket would cost President Eisenhower millions of votes and, probably, obtain the election of the Democratic presidential nominee.

So, as governor of Pennsylvania, Stassen would be counted among the biggest obstacles to the Republican nomination of Nixon in 1960 for president. Pennsylvania is tied with California for the second largest delegation to Republican national conventions. The Republican governor of Pennsylvania would control that big delegation and Stassen would be expected to use that control to beat Nixon and, if possible, to obtain the presiential nomoination for himself.

All of this is causing regular Republicans in and out of Pennsylvania to lie awake at nights and toss in their beds. The opposition of the organization regulars in Pennsylvania, such as all of the county chairmen, may be more of a help than a hindrance to Stassen in his campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Stassen is bidding for the Maverick vote.

His 'Political Background

Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom warned party regulars the other day against taking Stassen lightly. Bloom called him an "old pro" and Stassen is all of that. He is raking the grass roots in search of independent votes and he is turning them up.

Stassen was three times elected governor of Minnesota before his home state political chores were interrupted by wartime naval service. Seeking a more important political background for his ambitions, Stassen moved to Pennsylvania in 1948 to become president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Churches In Miami Set Revivals

MIAMI — The pastors of the Methodist, Baptist and Christian churches of Miami have announced they will hold their spring revivals simultaneously this year. These meetings will begin Sunday, April 6, and continue through April 13.

Dr. H. H. Bratcher of Pampa will be the evangelist for the Methodist Church and Rev. Bob Oglesby, pastor of the Methodist Church in Booker, will lead the singing and work with the youth. There will be three services daily. One at 7 a.m., 9:30 a.m., and 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Raymond Bowling of the Avondale Baptist Church in Amarillo will be the evangelist in the Baptist Church and Rev. Truitt Savage of the Trinity Baptist Church in Amarillo will lead the singing. There will be two services daily. One at 9:30 a.m. and one at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Tom Lane, who has recently moved to Miami as pastor of the Christian Church, will be the evangelist in that church. It has not been announced who will lead the singing. There will be one service daily and that will be at 7:30 p.m.

There will be an evangelistic rally Friday night in the school gymnasium. A basket supper will be served at 6:30 p.m. after which Bunny Shultz of Pampa will lead the group in congregational singing.

Broadcast Series Continues

Sunday's message by Delbert Priest concluded one year of the "Soul Winner" broadcast over Station KPDN. Priest, broadcasting at 7.45 a.m. every Sunday, is the pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Lefors.

Priest's Easter message on the air will be "Our Spiritual Resurrection."

Priest further invites everyone to attend the regular services at the Assembly of God Church. Worship is at 9:45 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Sundays with Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. The service Wednesday is at 7:30 p.m.

Holy Week:

The Separation Of Our Soul And Body

Holy Week—Fifth of Six
By
Father Richard Ginder, S.T.L.
Written for the United Press

In some circles it is considered almost bad taste to raise the subject of death in any but a joking or facetious way. Some of our poets and philosophers have touched on the subject occasionally, as if to offer comfort to a doomed people. One thinks of the lines penned by Britain's tragic young Rupert Brooke:

"'Mid youth and son, feasting and carnival,
"Through laughter, through the roses, as of old,
"Comes death, on shadowy and relentless feet,
"Death, unappeasable by prayer or gold;
"Death is the end, the end.
"Proud, then, clear-eyed and laughing, go to greet
"Death, as a friend!"

But why greet a killer as a friend If the only role of death is to throttle life, to put an end to the laughter, what's so friendly about it?—or why should we survey the situation "proud, clear-eyed, and laughing."

We Need Faith

Without a faith of some sort, without a belief in the good God and an afterlife, we would probably give in to despair. we are not poets or philosophers, most of us. We're just plain, ordinary people, trying to take life in stride, to clear each hurdle as it comes our way. And then every once in a while we lose someone who is dear to us. . .

It is the fact of Good Friday and Easter that gives us the answer to the riddle stumping those who have no faith.

Taken as we are today, we are in a pitiable plight. We're something like angels inhabiting the bodies of animals. We have a strange dignity of our own. We think, and imagine, and remember. We laugh and cry. We listen to great music and sit in attendance on stories of comedy and tragedy. Then after such sublime and dignified occupations, we get hungry and, somewhat like the animals, we must eat in order to live.

Now here is where Good Friday comes in: Jesus Christ, Our Lord and God, the second person of the Blessed Trinity, loves us so much that He took a human body just like ours. And just like ours, his body had its limitations. Jesus used to get hungry and thirsty. He used to get tired out. And finally He died.

Overcomes Temptations

Had sin any power over Jesus? Definitely not. But He did allow Himself to be tempted — and, of course, He overcame those temptations. We believe, too, that the blood and agony of his last day on earth was caused by our sins —that is, Jesus made a free offering of Himself as a victim for our sins. He permitted sin to vent the full force of its fury on his innocent person, even to the exacting of that traditional wage or penalty of sin—the separation of soul and body in death.

But however dark our Good Friday may be, we know that in a few hours we shall have the risen Christ! — the exemplar, the pattern of what we too shall one day be if we keep faith with Him. Christ conquered sin — so shall we. And although we too shall have our Good Friday, when our soul shall be separated from our body, another day will see the reunion of that soul and body, as with Christ on Easter.

In other words, since the resurrection of our Lord, no follower of Christ need fear death. Our faith in Him has set us free from the bondage of decay. Henceforth we can regard death not as a grim and bitter experience ending everything, but asithe gateway to a new and larger life in Christ Jesus.

First Baptist Sets Three Services

The First Baptist Church will conduct three worship services Sunday. There will be an 8:30 a.m. service at which time Dr. E. Douglas Carver, pastor, will speak on the subject "Resurection Reveries." During this service the Carol Choir, which is for Junior age children, will sing "Alleluia, Alleluia" by Bixby and the Chapel Choir which is orfteen - agers will present the hymm "Man of Sorrows Kneeling Down," by McKinney.

During the 11 a.m. worship service Dr. Carver will use as his subject "The Easter Message". The special music will be presented by the church choir which will sing for the call to worship "Joy Fills the Morning" by Lotti and for the anthem of the hour will sing "The March to Calvary" taken from "Olivet to Calvary" by Maunder. Joe Whitten will also sing the "Holy City" during this service.

At the evening service which begins at 7:30 p.m. the two ordinances of the church, Baptism and the Lord's Supper will be observed. which is for teen - agers will presented by the church choir. The inspiring hymm which this choir will sing is "Jesus Shall Reign" by Hatton.

Sunday School begins at 9:45 p.m. and Training Union at 6:30 p.m.

Monday, deacons of the church will meet at 6:45 p.m. for a dinner meeting at Johnson's Cafe. Mr. Herman Whatley, chairman, will preside at the meeting. Tuesday, the church will be host to the Pulo Duro Association. The program begins at 5:30 p.m. with an emphasis upon Vacation Bible School given by Harry Crawford of the Central Baptist Church. Therman Upshaw, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, will pictures of the Pan Fork Baptist Encampment and the Glorieta Baptist Assembly. Dr. John Freeman of Wayland College will being the special message at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. the film "Miracle in Manhattan" will be shown in the church auditorium. This is an account of the evengelistic crusade in New York last summer led by Billy Graham. There will be no admission charge for the showing of this film. Everyone is invited to attend.

Witnesses Sets Spring Seminar

The spring seminar of Jehovah's Witnesses' Texas Circuit No. 9 will be held April 18-20 in the Central Elementary School at Borger. Assembly department heads met in Sayre, Okla., Mar. 17 with Randall V. Davis, the circuit supervisor, at which time preparations were made to accommodate an expected 700 delegates from the 19 congregations of the Texas Panhandle and Western Oklahoma.

In the preliminary meeting at Sayre, it was indicated that this will be the most important assembly of Texas Circuit No. 9 to date. Such a conclusion results from the contemplated assembly program and objectives.

The program, built around the theme, "Fulfilling Our Ministry," aspires to a more effective Christian educational effort in the circuit, and will aid the Witnesses to form a closer bond of understanding and friendship with those to whom they minister.

The Witnesses stresses the need of continuous education and ministry improvement to keep them abreast of the times and enable them to bolster the spiritual foundations of an age in which many feel insecure.

S. J. Landrum, who released this information, will head the assembly delegation from Pampa.

Explaining the Witnesses' purpose in attending, Landrum said, "We desire to more adequately fulfill our Christian obligations at home. We are confident the special instruction provided at the Borger assembly will aid us to do so. So our objective is to absorb the information offered there and pass its benefits on to our friends when we return."

The special free public lecture which will climax the meet Sunday, Apr. 20, at 3 p.m. is "Facing the Future Without Fear." It will be given by the convention chairman, Kenneth R. Savoy, representing the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Rev. Dowden To Lead Mission At Harrah Methodist

Rev. Wayland Dowden of Cooper will lead Harrah Methodist Church in a special preaching mission, Apr. 6-13. Services will be held twice daily.

The early morning services will begin with breakfast served in Fellowship Hall at 6 a.m. The evening services begin at 7:30 p.m.

Leading the choir during these special services will be A. L. Patrick Jr., accompanied at the organ by Mrs. G. O. Hall.

A special service of dedication will be obersved Easter Sunday. Parents desiring their babies to be dedicated during this service should bring them to the Church at 11:15 a.m.

Rev. Upshaw Sets Sermon Topics

Brother Upshaw, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, will speak in two services Sunday at 8:30 and 10:55 a.m. At the 8:30 a.m. service his message will be called "Three Crosses." His message at the 11 a.m. service will be "The Glories of the Resurrection."

The Youth Choir will participate in the early service, with special music sung by Jean Skidmore. Harry Crawford and the Sanctuary Choir will provide special music for the later service.

For the past week the Central Baptist Church has been selling bonds for the proposed Educational Building. "The Church has made a good start at selling the $125,000 worth of bonds but much work still has to be done," according to Brother Upshaw.

St. Matthews Easter Events

The events of Easter at Saint Matthew's Episcopal Church will be the 8 a.m. Holy Communion and Sermon, 9:15 a.m. Morning Prayer with a Special Children's Service and 11 a.m. Festival Holy Communion and Sermon.

The Children's service will include the Sacrament of Holy Baptism, the presentation of the Children's Missionary Offering and the giving of a small plant to each child.

Sunday School classes will not meet.

Father William E. West is rector of Saint Matthew's Episcopal Church.

Play To Top Youth Meeting

The presentation of the play, "A Certain Just Man," will top the Youth Meeting at Calvary Baptist Church, Saturday. The Volunteer Mission Band of Howard Payne College, Brownwood, will have charge of the 7 p.m. meeting.

Prededing the play, the choir will do a program of singing, testimonies and special music.

Listed on the program are David Hill, Johnnie Gayle, Dennis Hahn, Carl Lansford, Iona Price, Jean Flowers, Johannah Edwards and Gertrude Rackley.

Church Slates Service Tonight

A Good Friday service with Holy Communion will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Zion Lutheran Church, 1200 Duncan.

Rev. A. Bruns, pastor will base his sermon, "Died To Save," on Mark 15:31.

City-Wide Sunrise Service

A City-Wide Sunrise Service, sponsored by the Pampa Ministerial Alliance, will begin at 7 a.m. Sunday, on the High School Football Field.

In case of adverse weather, the service will be held in the Field House.

The Junior High School Choir, under the direction of Richard Schliger, will sing two numbers and help in the congregational singing.

Rev. M. B. Smith chairs the Easter Committee for the Pampa Ministerial Alliance.

All people are invited to attend, regardless of faith, creed or race. Rev. O. M. Butler of Harrah Methodist will bring the message.

Christian Science Services

God's infinite power and goodness will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Lesson - Sermon on "Unreality" will include the Scriptural account of Christ Jesus' healing of the woman who had "a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift upp herself" (Luke 13).

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (243:32-3): "Inasmuch as God is good and the fount of all being, He does not produce moral or physical deformity; therefore such deformity is not real, but is illusion, the mirage of error."

The Golden Text is from Job (35:13): "Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it."

Lutheran Sunrise Service

This year again, as last year, an Easter Sunrise Service will be held in Zion Lutheran Church, Pennsylvania and Duncan, at 6 a.m. Sunday.

The passion story and the Easter message will be presented in word and song. Rev. Bruns in his message speaks on the theme: Mark 16:1-8, chosing as his topic: "The Empty Tomb." Everyone is invited. The young people will serve a breakfast to all attendants after the service. "Come and meet your friends," say the youth.

For the regular worship hour the pastor announces as his topic: "The Risen Lord" based on Mark 16:6. The service begins at 11 a.m. Sunday School begins as usual at 9:45 a.m.

Come to Church

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

I Corinthians 15:3-4

"For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures;

And that He was buried, and that He rose again the third day according to the scriptures."

This then is the gospel of the grace of God; that Jesus Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures and that He was buried and that He rose again the third day according to the scriptures. How wonderful the Word of God! How fool proof it's revelation. How foolish the attempt of infidelity and unbelief against this rock of strength, the word of God. Jesus said, "Heaven and earth shall pass away but my Word shall never pass away." Of all the thousands of prophetic utterances in the Bible, not one has ever failed nor shall a single one ever fail. As we remember the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, let us fall down and worship Him whose word abideth forever. According to the scriptures Jesus came at the exact appointed time so that every event in His life from the manger to the resurrection should be according to the scriptures.

He went into death for us. He arose for our justification. Have you trusted Him?

At this season of the year when all nature speaks of resurrection and men's thoughts turn naturally to the resurrected Christ, will you hear His invitation which says,

"I am He that liveth and was dead and behold, I am alive forevermore, A-men; and have the keys of hell and of death." Revelation 1:18.

"The Spirit and the Bride say come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely," Revelation 22:17.

Everything must be according to the scriptures. The events of the day, the events among nations; Yea and our eternal salvation is according to the scriptures, which say, "Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ of born of God." I John 5:1.

Harvesters Host Elk City Today

To Play In Doubleheader Tomorrow

Pampa's Harvester baseball team will be on the home field again this afternoon as they host Elk City, Okla. in Harvester Field at 4:00.

The Harvesters will be going for their fifth victory of the season, having recorded a 4-2 mark for the first six starts.

Opening with Mangum, Okla. the Harvesters won, 6-4 and then halfed a double header with the Childress Bobcats, winning the first, 5-4, and dropping the second, 7-4. They then defeated Borger, 6-2, and Frank Phillips, 9-8, and in their most recent contest fell in a return duel with Borger, 12-7.

Probable hurler for the Harvesters today will be Kippy Williams, a left-handed sophomore on the squad. Williams has seen action twice this season and has claimed both victories. He pitched the opener against Mangum and the first game with Borger.

In the infield, probable starters will be Mike Conway catching, Ray Stephenson or John Campbell on 1B, Merle Terrell on 2B, Gary Wills or Robert Langford on 3B, and Bill Brown on SS.

Outfielders likely to open the game are Terry Joe Haralson in right field, Larry Cruise in left field and Bobby Stephens in center field.

In playing Elk City the Harvesters will face Richard Hunt, one of the top high school pitchers. Hunt has pitched for Elk City teams for the past three years and has gained wide recognition through his top records. During last season he was offered bonuses from two major league teams upon his graduation from school.

Following todays game the Harvesters will meet Elk City there tomorrow afternoon in a double header beginning at 1:30.

After tomorrow's game Pampa will open district action next Tuesday afternoon when they host the Amarillo Sandies in a game set for 4.

Today's probable batting order for Pampa will be:

Player	Pos.
Bill Brown	SS
Ray Stephenson	1B
Larry Cruise	LF
Robert Langford	3B
Mike Conway	C
Bobby Stephens	CF
Terry Haralson	RF
Merle Terrell	2B
Kippy Williams	P

BOSTON (UP) — Eddie Quinn, a Montreal boxing promoter, hoped today for final clearance for a Tony Anthony-Yvon Durelle light-heavyweight bout at Montreal May 21. Quinn said he was working out plans with the International Boxing Club.

DODGERS CLOSER TO PARK

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UP)— Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., found herself on the sidelines today in the women's singles of the South African lawn tennis championships. Bernice Carr of South Africa upset the former U.S. and Wimbledon champion, 3-6, 6-2, 6-1, in the semi-finals.

HARD-BITTEN—Phillies' Harry Anderson doesn't take a tongue-in-cheek attitude toward learning to play first, as he shows here. An outfielder, he's being asked to make it as a first baseman this time around and infield grounders, such as this one, are first problem to attack at Clearwater, Fla., camp.

Longhorns Smash Gold Sox

AUSTIN (UP)— The University of Texas scored 15 runs in the final two innings to smash the Amarillo Goldsox 21-3 Thursday.

Texas hit five consecutive doubles in the seventh inning, and in the eighth, Longhorn slugger Max Alvis hit a grand slam homer. Avis also hit another homer and batted five for six in the game.

Pete Embry also hit five for six including three doubles.

Longhorn hurler Bob Sudderth gave up three unearned runs in the first inning on two errors and two hits, and then pitched six hitless innings. He gave up three hits in the last two innings.

Top Amarillo hitter was Vic Johnson with two singles.

HUBER SUSPENDED

VIENNA (UP) — Austrian tennis officials said today that Freddie Huber brought on his indefinite suspension by gambling away some of his expense money on Riviera roulette tables. Huber, 28, while a clown on the courts, is Austria's No. 1 tennis player.

Gavilan To Meet Tiger Jones Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Former welterweight champion Kid Gavilan, looking for gold now that the glory is gone, hoped to use Ralph (Tiger) Jones as a springboard to richer purses in their 10-round "rubber" match tonight.

Although Jones gained a split decision over the Cuban from Camaguey in their previous meeting, Feb. 19, the odds are 6-5 on a take-your-choice basis for the nationally-televised bout. Gavilan, 32, won his first encounter with the 30-year-old Tiger from Yonkers, N.Y., in 1953.

Gavilan, promised a reward bout with welterweight contender Garnet (Sugar) Hart here, drilled 75 rounds in preparation for Jones, a wily, slippery type of battler known for his "spoiler" roles.

Jones, fighting professionally since 1950, has had 70 bouts. He has won 45, including 11 knockouts, and lost 21, with four draws.

Gavilan has been victorious in 104 bouts, with 27 of them knockouts. He has lost 29 decisions, been held even six times and engaged in one no-contest. Never stopped, the Cuban has been dropped only three times in his career and got up to beat two of the men who floored him.

Venturi Has One-Stroke Lead In First Round Of Masters

By TOM PRICE
United Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP)— Sophomore pro Ken Venturi, who served notice two years ago his day of destiny in the golf world was about to dawn, took a one-stroke lead today into the second round of the 22nd Masters tournament.

The slim San Franciscan, who at 27 is considered a golfing youngster, shot a four-under - par 68 Thursday to prove that his selection by veteran pros and sports writers as the favorite to win Bobby Jones' tournament this year was no idle gossip.

If his 11-foot birdie putt on the 18th green had dropped instead of skipping a foot past the cup, he would have carried a two stroke lead into today's second round.

Four golfers, including three-time Masters winner Jimmy Demaret, were hot on Venturi's heels with opening day scores of 69. Joining Demaret, of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., with three-under par round were Australia's little Norman Von Nida, Bob Wininger of Odessa,.Tex. and Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich.

Three Have 70

One-time Memphis, Tenn., dentist Cary Middlecoff, who now plays out of Hollywood, Fla., was two strokes back with 70, along with Flory Van Donck of Belgium and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa.

The low amateur for the first round was Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia, who shot a 71, along with eight professionals. They included Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.; Byron Nelon, Roanoke, Tex.; Claude Harmon, Mamaroneck, N.Y.; Lionel Hebert, Lafayette, La.; Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex.; Roberto De Vicenzo, Mexico City; Jack Fleck, Rochester, Mich.; and Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa.

Fourteen players shot even par 72's opening day, including three-time Masters champions Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Bantam Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, Tex., a two-time winner and four-time runner-up.

One other former Masters winner, 50-year-old Henry Picard of Cleveland, also toured the 6,850-yard course in even par.

Snead scored the only eagle of the first day's play when he dropped a 16 foot putt on the par five second hole after a tremendous second shot with a three iron to the green. However, he bogied the hole and was one over par on the back nine to shoot even par for the day.

Venturi, the leading money winner on the thournament circuit so far this year, came to Augusta destined for the favorite's role.

Started Fast

Two years ago, then an amateur, he started out like a house afire with rounds of 66 and 69, held the lead despite a 75 the third day, but blew to an 80 in the final round to lose by one stroke to Jack Burke Jr. That was as close as an amateur ever has come to winning the Masters title.

Both Venturi and his number one fan—pretty wife Conni—credited his superb approach shots and deadly putting for his fine first round score.

Conni, a shapely brown-haired beauty who was stylishly dressed in matching pink skirt and sweater as she followed her husband around the course, said she didn't think Ken was driving well at all.

"But he's putting and chipping as well as anyone could," she added proudly.

However, Venturi said he thought his driving improved in the latter stages of the round.

"The course played comparatively easy to what they can do with it here," Venturi said, adding "They still have some places they haven't used yet on those greens for the pins."

Sargent Now Faced With Loss Of Tam

By TOM PRICE
United Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP) — The name of Harold Sargent doesn't appear on the entry list for the Masters golf tournament here, and chances are he hasn't held a club in his hand all week. But he came here as the biggest "money player" of them all.

His duties as president of the Professional Golfers Association interrupted what started as one of the most pleasant events of his life.

Sargent, pro at the home course of the great Bobby Jones, East Lake in Atlanta, was still flushing from tributes paid him at a testimonial dinner there Monday night when he received word that the biggest pot of golfing gold had lost its rainbow. George May of fChicago had decided to stop sponsoring the Tam O'Shanter tournaments and their $210,000 in annual prizes.

Keeps Pot Full

As PGA chief, it's one of Sargent's jobs to keep the pot full, picked up at every tournament stop. Even though Sargent himself hasn't played tournament golf for 20 years — nearly half his life — scores of his fellow pros depend on it.

"It was a surprise to us," was all Sargent could say of May's action until he could get together with the PGA Tournament Committee after the first round of Masters play. They hoped to find some way of replacing the lost prizes.

The Tam O'Shanter crisis is the first serious one to face Sargent since he took over the PGA presidency last November, following by 30 years his own father, whom he also succeeded as East Lake professional.

His father, George Sargent, the U.S. Open champion in 1909, headed the PGA in 1921-26, and went to East Lake at the call of Bobby Jones in 1932. Harold moved into the pro shop with his dad, and moved into the older man's job when he retired in 1947.

LOS ANGELES (UP)— The Los Angeles Dodgers were a step closer today to their new baseball park. The District Court of Appeals has rejecetd a taxpayer's suit to block transfer of Chavez Ravine, proposed site of the park, to the Dodgers.

Houston In Lead Of Golf Tourney

HOUSTON (UP)— Favored University of Houston carried a 10-stroke lead today into the second round of the fourth annual Southwestern Intercollegiate golf tournament where it will play against Southern Methodist University.

North Texas will meet Oklahoma State; Texas Tech, which came in second Thursday, will play Memphis State and New Mexico will play Arizona State.

In Thursday's first round, Houston made a one-over-par 289. Texas Tech trailed the Cougars at 299, North Texas was 17 strokes off the pace with a 306 and Hardin-Simmons was fourth with a 309.

Houston took the lead in all four medal play divisions.

In individual medal play, Houston's Jimmy Hiskey shot a three-under-par 69 to lead the field. He was followed by Texas A&M's Bobby Nichols with 70 and Texas Tech's John Paul Cain with 71.

In team match place scores, Houston dominated Oklahoma, 5½-½.

Other scores were: North Texas State over Hardin-Simmons, 4-2; Texas Tech defeated Baylor, 5½-½; Memphis State topped Rice, 4½-1½; SMU edged Louisiana State by two medal strokes on 3-3 tie; Oklahoma State slipped past Texas with three medal strokes on 3-3 tie; New Mexico routed Notre Dame, 5-1.

Arizona State went to a set dead playoff to stroke past Texas A&M 17-22 on the first hole, after a 3-3 tie and a tie medal score at 310.

Braves, Yankees Look Good For Repeat Pennant Wins

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

TAMPA, Fla. (UP) — There comes a time each spring when baseball fever leads the so-called experts to pick the forthcoming pennant winners.

So who'll it be in 1958?

The Milwaukee Braves and the New York Yankees. That's chalk, as they say in horse racing, all the way. Why stick to chalk? Because the Braves and Yanks have all the horses.

Things can change, of course, with such things as trades, injuries and the like. But after spending six weeks watching the 12 major league clubs training in Florida and examining reports on how things are going with the four clubs who base their conditioning camps in Arizona, it comes down to this:

1. Milwaukee; 2. Los Angeles; 3. St. Louis; 4. Cincinnati; 5. Philadelphia; 6. Pittsburgh; 7. San Francisco; 8. Chicago.

American League

1. New York; 2. Chicago; 3. Detroit; 4. Boston; 5. Cleveland; 6. Baltimore; 7. Kansas City; 8. Washington.

Of the two pennant picks, we like the Yankees the best. We agree with Cookie Lavagetto, the manager of the Washington Senators, when he says the Yankees will win by 15 games.

Hawks, Celtics In Action Tomorrow Night

ST. LOUIS (UP)—The St. Louis Hawks are scheduled to hold a workout this afternoon to keep in tune for the fourth game of the National Basketball Assn. championship series against the Boston Celtics here Saturday night.

The Hawks hold a 2-1 edge in the series, the same advantage they had last year. The Celts went on to take the championship in a double overtime of the seventh game.

The Boston team is hoping their 6-10 defensive star, Bill Russell, will be able to play despite a severe ankle sprin suffered in Wednesday night's game which the Hawks won 111-108.

Dr. Sian London, Hawks physician, said it is doubtful whether Russell will be able to play at full strength, if at all.

The Hawks will be banking heavily on Bob Pettit, who scored 32 points in Wednesday's game.

Valdes Ready For Title Bout With Patterson

DENVER (UP) — Nino Valdes, the tall Cuban who wants to fight Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight crown, got a lot of mileage out of one left hook Thursday over Wayne Bethea in a 10-rounder at Denver Auditorium Arena.

Valdes got most of his 206 pounds behind the blow that put the New Yorker down for the four-count in the seventh. But since Bethea was slipping backward because of his own awkwardness at the time, the blow didn't cause much bodily damage. It just lost the fight for him.

Judge Joe Ullmer had Valdes ahead, 47-46. Judge Ray Keech also had Valdes ahead, 47-46. Referee Don Perko scored it 47-45 for Bethea.

United Press scored the fight in favor of Bethea, 48-47.

The crowd of 2,242 paid $7,928 to see the bout, and most of them indicated they were sorry they had done so. They booed throughout, especially when Valdes was announced the winner.

Bethea kept inside as Valdes had the long-range advantage. The fight never got out of the clinching stage.

Valdes scored well in the first round on left jabs, which Bethea neutralized later in the bout with his close-in tactics.

Bethea's best rounds were the sixth, during which he landed two right hooks to the face, and the eighth, ninth and tenth, during which he kept Valdes back-tracking.

Dodgers May Prove To Be Leading Team

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

Perhaps the experts who've been writing off the Los Angeles Dodgers as a pennant contender had better take another look at manager Walt Alston's "nine old men."

The Dodgers are supposed to have more holes than a pound of Swiss cheese but they've looked mighty solid to the world champion Milwaukee Braves this spring and their overall 13-10 record is fourth best on the Grapefruit and Cactus circuits. They whipped the Braves, 5-3, Thursday to take a 3-1 lead in their nine-game spring series.

What's more, the Dodgers demonstrated they haven't lost their touch against Milwaukee ace Warren Spahn, who hasn't beaten them since 1951. Spahn started Thursday's game at Jacksonville, Fla., and was raked for eight hits and four runs, including two homers by Charlie Neal and one by rookie Dick Gray, in five innings.

Fleet, aggressive Jim Rivera starred for the Chicago White Sox as they beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, before an overflow crowd at Pensacola, Fla. Rivera scored the first Chicago run after stealing second base in the second inning and cut down the potential winning run with a fine throw from right field in the ninth.

Lefors Pirates Sweep District 2-A Track Meet

Bronchos, Wildcats Rank In Second, Third Place

The Lefors Pirates walked away with the District 2-A track and field championship yesterday by a wide margin as they amassed 63 5-6 points to take the decisive victory.

Clarendon's Bronchos took second place honors with 38 1-3 points and the Canadian Wildcats ranked third with 33 1-3 points. Following these were McLean with 12½ points, and Memphis with five points.

In the junior high bracket of the meet the Canadian team took the top place with 45½ points, followed by Clarendon with 19, Lefors with 9½, McLean with nine and Memphis with five.

Individually James Wariner swept the honors in the high school division, accounting for 20 points for the winning pirate squad. He won first place in the 120-yard high hurdles, the 220-yard dash, and the 180-yard low hurdles, and placed second in the Broad jump. Ranking second individually was John Morrow of Clarendon with 12¾ points.

'Leave It To Beaver' Is Tops Among Family-Comedy Shows

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—After watching "togetherness" in action this season on many of TV's family-comedy shows, I have found myself becoming a champion of apartness.

However, the medium does contain at least one comforting exception. Within the muggy marshlands of TV's domestic collectives, there stands one half-hour tract of firm-footing and touching togetherness: CBS-TV's "Leave It to Beaver."

The beaver in this case is not an amphibious rodent, but an eight-year-old boy (Jerry Mathers) whose real name is Theodore. He is called Beaver because his last name is Cleaver, which is as good a reason as any, I guess.

Beaver has a 12-year-old brother, Wally (Tony Dow), and the usual parental baggage; a mother (Barbara Billingsley) and a father (Hugh Beaumont).

Air of Good Humor

Two things, I think, make "Leave It to Beaver" a stickout. For one thing, its togetherness is rarely cloying. There seems to be a real rapport among its cast members and an air of good humor washes through the show.

It rarely strikes a false note and I suppose this is because its writer-producers, Joe Connelly and Bob Mosher, both tap their own real life families for material. Connelly, I understand, has six kids and Mosher, two. Most writers of TV family-comedy, in contrast, seem to be tipping some weird complex of domiciles out in space.

The second big asset of the show is young Beaver himself, Jerry Mather. Generally, I find child actors pretty hateful. They are a sub-species of humanity, better consigned for study in museums than inflicted upon consumers of entertainment.

But young Mather is a living doll (and I'm sure he'd like to swat me for saying so). He is a small boy with permanently pursed lips, semi-buck teeth and the melancholy look of a small, inoffensive pup whose tail has just been stepped on.

The plots of the show are plausible and Wednesday night's dealt with something as simple as the boys breaking the window of their father's car and concealing it. It contained one line that I think was the funniest I've heard on TV this month (well, after all, it's only three days old). It issued from a real estate salesman who was trying to sell a lot to Beaver's father who complained he couldn't afford it:

Salesman's Advice

"A person never knows what he can afford until he goes into debt," advised the salesman smoothly.

The show also contained a line I would classify as endearing. At the end of the episode, Beaver's father asked whether Beaver and Wally would have confessed eventually about the broken window. To which Beaver lisped:

"Someday. . .when we done something real good. . .and you was real happy about it."

Well, Beaver, you've done real good so far this year. And you and everyone else concerned with the show should be really happy about it.

The Channel Swim: Glifton Fadiman fills in for John Daly as emcee of CBS-TV's "What's My Line" April 13 and 20 — Daly is making a trip abroad. Michael Wilding, hit by pneumonia, has pulled out of the cast of the April 10 CBS-TV "Climax" show, "The Volcano Seat" — Michael Rennie replaces him. Albert Salmi, who broke his wrist Tuesday, has also dropped out of the show — Don Dubbins takes over his role.

Sy Weintraub, new president of Sol Lesser Productions (purchase price $3,500,000), acquired in the deal TV rights to an "Our Town" series, a "Horatio Hornblower" series and a new "Tarzan" series (plus 14 Tarzan feature films). Gordon Scott, the movie Tarzan, also is cast in the TV version.

A 'Typical' Chemical Engineer

By FRANK SPENCER
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO (UP)—Douglas Sater is 21 years old and has a new bride, a baby on the way, not much money and a great deal of hope.

Sater in a few months also will have a college education in chemical engineering. He is the kind of young man the nation's leaders say we need more of.

"They said you wanted to interview a typical guy who is about ready to step into the world with an engineering degree," Sater told the interviewer. "I guess that's me. You want to know what job offers I've had?"

Sater, a student at Illinois Institute of Technology, said he had received about a half-dozen interviews and expects more to follow.

"The market has tightened up," he said. "Last year companies were flying the fellows all over the country, entertaining them and trying to get them to sign up. There's not much of that this year. They're really looking us over. What kind of money are they offering?

"Well, I judge about $450 a month on the average. Last year I'd like to get a job in Seattle. I think it was about $25 more. My wife's folks live there and we like that part of the country.

"I'm from Rock Rapids, Iowa, originally, but I moved to Kansas City when I was in the fifth grade. Pat—my wife, her name was Pat Holloway—is from Kansas City but her father was moved to Seattle. He's regional commissioner of the General Services Administration. We expect the baby in August.

"Pat is working in the registrar's office. She's a typist and makes $230 a month. It sure helps out. Our rent is $85 a month for a one-room apartment with a view of the elevated tracks. Groceries are pretty expensive and we don't go out much. We've been to two movis since we were married last August.

"We watch television, though, and we entertain some of the other married couples in our apartment. My grades? Well, they're above average. I suppose they would be higher but I work about 10 hours a week. I get $1.25 an hour here on the campus for doing calculations and things like that."

New Type Of Tourist Is Developing

(Woman's View)
By GAY PAULEY
United Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UP) — Spring these days brings out a new type of tourist—the one who'd rather gape at art treasures of his neighbor than those in the Louvre.

From now until hot weather sets in, Americans will be rubbernecking other people's houses and gardens, and paying for the privilege. The tours are the latest method by which charity organizations, foundations, clubs and other groups raise funds for good causes.

For the price of a ticket, usually $5 or up, the curious may peer into the kitchens, gardens, residences generally and the art collections of the other half.

Everyone's In Act

Mrs. Roger Hull, president of the New York City Garden Club, says her group was one of the first in the country to use the tours as a means of raising funds. It held its initial visit to backyard and penthouse gardens before World War II.

"Now," she said, "so many people are in the act the competition is really tough."

Secret of making a tour a success, says Mrs. Hull, is to include the home of at least one celebrity each season. "Generates a little more excitement," she explained.

I asked Mrs. Hull whether she thought those who made the tours were actually curious about gardens, or just curious.

"Pretty generally the latter," she laughed. "If they were just interested in horticulture, they could go up to the New York Botanical Gardens for free."

Found The Bar

"I think it runs about fifty-fifty," said Mrs. John Marshall, chairman of the Tour Committee of the New York Radcliffe Club. "What amazes me is the number of men our tours draw. . . From one third to one-half." Radcliffe College alumnae each year run a tour of private art collections, with the proceeds going to scholarships.

Tours generally go along without incident, because of the careful planning of the committees. Most station a volunteer, or hostess, in each room, and have a head hostess for each house on the itinerary. Most also list the ground rules—no smoking inside, no children under 16, no touching the flowers or objets d'art. In short ,don' tm a k e yourself at home.

Mrs. Marshall said a couple of women did just that on a tour of the art collection of New York Gov. and Mrs. Averell Harriman. They wandered into the library, found a bar, and helped themselves.

Evidence indicates that the Greenland ice cap is melting, but the process is so slow that it will require at least 50,000 years.

Product Of Fear

(Seventh of a Series)

Fear is one of the most interesting and one of the most basic of all human emotions. And, as we have attempted to show, man, recognizing his weaknesses, which are many, is fearful of many things. He fears his predatory neighbor, death, old age, poverty, loneliness, hunger and cold.

In man's rise from the primitive to the relatively civilized status of modern times, man has been propelled by fear probably more than by any other facet of his heterogeneous nature.

His fear of hunger has caused him to search diligently for dependable food supplies. His fear of cold has caused him to erect buildings and to fashion clothing. His fear of death has caused him to study the nature of matter, to discover the germ theory, to guard his health and to provide as long as possible against the ultimate.

His fear of the supernatural which led him first into a belief in a plurality of deities and created a world of superstition, led him ultimately toward morality and the Golden Rule.

He discovered that it was wise to fear the immoral act of others, and hence it was a matter of simple prudence for him to forbear when it came to commiting an immoral act himself.

Probably no basic emotion of man has been so fruitful in its results. If men were not chronic worriers, they would take no thought of tomorrow. As it is, they have taken great thought of tomorrow and the result is that our todays are buttressed about with forethought, even though tomorrow always brings its problems which must still be solved.

It is all-compelling emotion, fear, that has sired governments. Man is fearful of strength in others. Therefore, he has devised an organization gadget, containing compulsory unification, and by means of which he hopes to offset, or even to overcome, the strength of others.

Governments, then, are not agencies of right, necessarily. They are, necessarily, agencies of strength. It could be said that man, feeling certain that he was surrounded by gangsters, has devised a gangster of his own, theoretically obedient to his own will, who will act with truculence against alien gangsters, while remaining docile and tractable toward his devisers.

History teaches us with much repetition that this is an enormous fallacy. Governments begin with a soft side toward their own creators and a hard exterior exposed toward potential foes. But as time passes, the hard exterior extends until it completely encompasses the government. Then, it develops that it has no "soft" side at all. It becomes equally hard and impervious toward every human being, since the nature of the gadget is that it must be strong against human beings.

Government's presumed selectivity, in knowing whom to favor and whom to oppose, is actually non-existent. This is because, as we have shown, the nature of government's strength is derived wholly from its compulsory unification. Government can permit no exceptions to its rules, whether these rules are aimed at preventing an aggressive act against a citizen under its jurisdiction by another citizen similarly situated, or whether the rules are aimed at compelling uniform attendance at a government institution of indoctrination by every junior citizen from the age of 6.

In the one case, the government may act defensively, to protect the rights of an individual; in the other case, the government will act aggressively protecting no individual right, but simply compelling universal obedience to its decrees.

In the one case, the government acts as a friend, within the framework of its theoretical usefulness. In the other case, the government is the predator, actively enacting the role of the foreign or alien gangster.

And it is apparent that men have so much fear concerning the imminence of gangsterism in their midst, that they tend to bear the iniquities of government's predatory actions without a murmur, rather than to temporarily deprive themselves of their own gangster, however powerful and unruly he has become.

Hankerings

Mac Washes Hands Of Mid-East Problem

At noon today, just when the whistle blew, I washed my hands of the entire Middle Eastern problem.

From now on I am not going to fret my mind about what goes on over there in the land of oil, sheiks, camels, pipe-lines, belly dancers, dictators, figs, and sphinxes.

This may be stupid of me, even unpatriotic, but I have no choice.

It's either let the Middle East go its way, or lose what little mind I have. Already, in trying to keep up with the shifting sands of Middle Eastern diplomacy, I have driven myself half-batty.

From now on I am going to let the likes of Lippmann and the Alsop freres do my desert fretting.

The Middle East is much to much for the average man to cope with. I can't even keep the names of the rulers straight. Just when I was getting King Saud straight in my mind (made possible by the fact that he wears the biggest and darkest glasses of the whole bunch), King Saud turned over a lot of his power to his brother, Crown Prince Feisal.

Feisal wears glasses, too, I believe, which are almost as big and black as the King's. Or do I have him confused with Prince Dahran? As a matter of fact, I believe I do! Or is Dahran not a Prince at all, but the name of one of our air bases?

I have trouble with Irag and Iran, that's for sure. Is Iraq or Iran on our side? And what about the dapper little fellow who just shed his queen by saying he was shed of her? The break-up of that marriage surely is going to have far-reaching complications, and involve a whole new mess of names and countries.

Don't try to tell me that anyone, and I mean anyone, can keep these places straight. That even goes for that man named Glubb I keep reading about. He trained somebody to fight somebody, I know that.

I have gotten up in the small hours of the morning trying to place King Hussein, and Nuri Pasha, and a bird called Sami Es-Solh. Try that some morning at four if you don't think the Middle East is capable of driving you to the brink.

Then there's the difficulty in keeping the pro-Western and anti-Western countries catalogued. Even if they could be catalogued, there is no guarantee they'd stay that way longer than it takes a cat to twitch an ear.

Add to these all those obscure sheikdoms, run by men with names nearly, but not quite, long enough to reach around their fat middles, and the Middle East muddle becomes absolutely impossible. I can only remember one of there Sheiks name, and that is because he has the electrical name of Kilowatt. Or is it Kumquat? Anyway, he's the one that sits on enough oil to fill every filling station tank in the world ten times over.

Oil! That's the trouble. Why did it have to be buried there? Why couldn't it all have been located on a small island somewhere, which was ruled by a man named Joe Smith?

And who didn't wear dark glasses!

Right-To-Work Law Would Encourage Free Speech

Few people realize how the union or closed shop interferes with capable, thoughtful workers thinking out loud.

Under the union shop if a worker who believes in the competitive system lets the union leaders know what he is thinking about, he is likely to get a fine for action "unbecoming" to a union member.

No union official can defend his position in open discussion where he has to answer questions as he does before a court. He cannot do this because unions that strike —and all of them strike — are based on no moral principle. They are based on intimidation, on fear, on might-makes-right, on anarchy. If the reader does not believe this, let him set down the principle, the rule, by which to determine how much each man should get.

Of course, each worker should get all he produces, but when a free market for the products of labor is interfered with, then there is no way of knowing or measuring what each man produces and thus what each man should get.

But if the man could not be put out of the union and he could not be fined too much or he would drop out of the union, then that conscientious worker who believes in no special privileges and knows that he produces his own wages could think out loud. He could be a great educator.

Unions have to operate in the dark because they would be embarrassed if they were required to answer questions. Remember, the Great Educator said: ". . . men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God."

The need of everyone who believes in freedom and inalienable rights to speak out was expressed by Herbert Spencer when he said: "It is for each to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true and add his unit of influence to all other units of influence and let the results work themselves out."

The union brass hats want to operate sub rosa — in the dark. They cannot stand the light of inquiry.

Truth and justice will always win in a fair fight where both parties are on the same footing. But when groups of men by a conspiracy can pick on an individual and fine him any amount they want to and expel him from the union and thus make him seek another job, these thoughtful men are inclined to keep still. We thus lose their influence for justice and understanding.

More Discussions

What is needed is that all men, not just those protected by the labor czars and by the government, should speak out and help get people to realize the blessings and the prosperity and the good will and the peace that would come if wages were established on a free unhampered market basis.

But the sole method of labor unions getting a fictitious non-competitive wage for their members is to interfere with a free market by intimidation, by threatening the employer if he doesn't grant their extortion they will wreck his business, and also telling the members of the union, "If you don't go along and keep silent on our violations of other men's rights, we'll fine you and if the fine is not enough, we'll expel you from the union and make you get another job, and if we can organize the other job, we'll keep you from getting that, so you'd better keep still."

Can anyone tell the difference between that form of tyranny and communism, the worst form of tyranny?

As the late Henry Ward Beecher said, organized labor that strikes is the worst form of despotism ever devised by the human mind.

What we want is more light on the subject as to whether labor unions that strike do what they claim — raise wage levels.

I have never found anyone who will answer questions without contradicting himself who believes that labor unions by striking can permanently raise wage levels.

The columns are open, of course, to refute the above.

Robert Allen Reports

Report On Accidents In Nuclear Reactors Made

WASHINGTON — The Joint Atomic Committee has before it the first official report on a domestic radioactive problem of utmost moment to every section of the country — catastrophic accidents in nuclear reactors.

Such disasters, with thousands of deaths and property losses in the billions, are possible, but extremely unlikely under present circumstances.

That is the substance of this highly important 105-page study submitted by the Atomic Energy Commission under the title, "Theoretical Possibilities and Consequences of Major Accidents in Large Nuclear Power Reactors."

Initial purpose of this comprehensive survey, made by a group of scientists on orders of the Joint Committee, is to provide it with an authoritative basis for still-unannounced hearings next month on the problems and hazards facing the nation from the steadily growing number of nuclear reactors. At present 77 such reactors are operating in the U.S.; 14 of them high-temperature power producers, and 63 research and experimental models. With the exception of a few, all are government owned.

On the probability and magnitude of reactor accidents, the report has the following to say in a key finding:

"It might be supposed, because the essential fuel in a nuclear reactor is the same as that in atomic bombs, that gross malfunctioning in power reactors could possibly lead to a devastating explosion similar to those produced by A-bombs. Such is not the case.

"There is, however, another hazard to the general public which would cause extensive loss of life and damage to property. This is the possibility of radiation exposure and contamination, if the fission products stored up in the reactor should be released.

"It is possible to conceive of accidents which would release the accumulated fission products from a large nuclear reaction in a finely-divided state so that a significant portion of them would become airborne and subject to atmospheric dispersal over wide areas . . . Deaths at distances of many miles and injury and property damage for hundred of miles could conceivably occur.

"It must be clearly recognized that major releases from fission products from a nuclear reactor conceivably could occur, and that a serious threat to the health and safety of people over large areas could ensue . . . However, the probability of occurrences of public hazardous accidents in nuclear power reactor plants is exceedingly low."

DON'T GET ALARMED — To date, the U.S. has a virtually accident-free record in nuclear reactors.

Very few breakdowns or "runaways" have occurred, and all have been of a minor nature.

This significantly reassuring fact is stressed by Atomic Commissioner Harold Vance in a letter accompanying the voluminous report. The one-time auto executive submitted the study to the Joint Committee in the capacity of Acting Chairman of the Atomic Commission.

"Only by means of highly unlikely combinations of mechanical and human failures could these accidents occur," states Vance.

The scientists who made this impressive survey are equally cheering. However, while vigorously asserting the "low probability" of catastrophic reactor accidents, the experts do not minimize the gravity of their hazards.

On these crucial factors, the scientists report as follows:

"Many outstanding leaders in reactor technology and associated fields were consulted in the course of this study. It is their unanimous opinion that the likelihood of a major reactor accident is low. There is general reluctance to make quantitative estimates on how low the probability is.

"Take the most pessimistic of these estimates for a major accident, assuming that 100 reactors are in operation in the U.S., and making the unrealistic assumption that each accident of this type would kill 3,000 people, there would be one chance in 50 million per year that a person would be killed by reactor accidents.

"Since many reactor types are being developed," says the report, "more varied safety problems will develop than is the case with fewer types. Also, accident-free experience could lead to complacency. Similarly, lengthening reactor life could lead to hazards not otherwise encountered. And competitive pressures could furnish incentives to reduce margins of safety."

The possible consequences from accidents are summed up by the scientists, as follows:

"Theoretical estimates indicate that the personal damage might range from a lower limit of none injured or killed, to an upper limit, in the worst case, of about 3,400 killed and around 43,000 injured. Theoretical property damage could range from a lower limit of $600,000, to an upper limit of $7 billion. This latter figure is largely due to assumed contamination of land with fission products.

"Under adverse combinations of the conditions considered, it is estimated that people could be killed at distances up to 15 miles, and injured at distances up to 45 miles. Land contamination could extend for greater distances. In the large majority of theoretical reactor accidents considered, the total assumed losses would not exceed a few hundred million dollars."

NOTE: Atomic Chairman Lewis Strauss is encountering a cold response from Joint Committee leaders to feelers on their attitude towards his being reappointed. Strauss' term expires June 30. If the former New York banker is to be renamed by President Eisenhower, he will have to do that soon because Strauss faces long hearings on being confirmed. Senators Clinton Anderson (D., N.M.), Joint Committee vice chairman, and Albert Gore (D., Tenn.) are making no bones of their determination to "work Strauss over at great length from head to foot."

Fair Enough

Naive 'Play-Up' Of New York Strike

NEW YORK — The New York press and regional radio stations naively played up as a great crisis in the affairs of the city a calculated, engineered "strike" by the Garment Workers Union. The importance of this demonstration was absurdly exaggerated and the mayor, Mr. Wagner, with straight face, got into the act as a diplomatic statesman who delivered his metropolis from shapeless dangers by reconciling the contending individuals on both sides. Ex-Senator Herbert Lehman also bumbled into the farce in the role of elder, giving freely, and pompously, of his wisdom, which is a comic local political phenomenon, laughed at by all who understood his role in this political mockery.

In the end, everybody in the center ring was acclaimed for imaginary feats of accommodation and public service. The only victims were the poor needleworkers, who, as usual, were manipulated in plaith mob scenes which, in this case, were harmless and almost jovial.

George Sokolsky, who is closely acquainted with the persons and the politics of this unappetizing mess, wrote a challenge to his old friend, David Dubinsky, the boss of the Garment Workers. Otherwise the inner truth of the case was not disclosed and thousands of tons of newsprint were wasted. Even Sokolsky could have told much more without lifting a phone and so could I, but only at the risk of political blasphemy. But all of us must be grateful for such as we are allowed to know about unionism these days.

In the case of the Garment Workers, a great special taboo has been created. Dubinsky is exalted as a man of absolutely virtuous purposes in all his official and unofficial conduct. And be it observed as a dangerous fact that the Senate Committee which is warming over a few oft-told scandals, has never mentioned Dubinsky or his union except in terms of respect. I pity Jack Kennedy rather than despise the Senator for flinching. I never did think he had the kind of courage to fight such an opponent.

The effect on the national economy, even the effect on the routine commerce of New York which this demonstration brought about, could hardly be expressed in any mathematical symbol except zero. It was just nothing. But the fact that New York could be so deeply aroused by a farce known to be a farce, with the mayor, Lehman and other comedians clowning in dead pan, may not be altogether lost on the rest of the country. The whole exploit set up a contrast between the personality and spirit of New York as a civic and political entity, and the State of Louisiana, for example. Or Mississippi, or despised, ridiculed, berated Texas, whose oil and gas industry is habitually held up to scorn in New York propaganda as something morally akin to prostitution or narcotics.

There was no excuse for the Garment Workers' strike. But if it had gone on and on to a knockout, even with blood in the streets, the result would have been better for the city of New York and for public morals and political decency across the nation than the contrived compromise that left Dubinsky smirking and still immune to serious study by any conscientious public authority.

There are no native union rackets in Louisiana, Mississippi or Texas. The few bloody uproars that have shaken those well-behaved American states have been engineered by professional union racketeers in New York and Washington. That fact is so well-known that this statement will not be challenged.

New York is achieving a sordid reputation in the rest of the United States. New York is peculiar, a strange, alien city governed by standards below those of the typical American state or city. Memoris were stirred of Dubinsky's political past, of his impudent maniuplation of a wholly-owned political party called the Liberal Party, of his arrogance toward individual needleworkers who would not meekly submit to his paternal iron will. Al Scotti, the chief deputy of District Attorney Frank Hogan, concurred in the common knowledge that the "industry" is grievously infested with notorious underworld criminals.

The Cracker Barrel

I have been reading Will Durent's "The Reformation". To me it is a literary milestone of tolerance, morality and culture for, more than any book I know of, it makes honest use of both Catholic and Protestant authorities of the period and it makes a compassionate and successful effort to present the philosophies of all the major figures on both sides. To read it is to become a better man for, no matter what your faith, you will put it down with a sad awareness that no one denomination had a monopoly on cruelty in the Sixteenth Century—nor an exclusive claim to sanctity. We all have need to ask each other's forgiveness and to pray that the violence in this century of economic controversy can be kept from surpassing the terrors of that age of doctrinal dispute.

COLD COP IN COLD WAR—Built by West Berlin children, this snowman represents an icy-faced customs officer checking motorists crossing the border into Communist East Berlin. The word "Zoll" around the figure's neck means "customs." The German sign reads: "Attention! You leave West Berlin in 70 meters." In right background, within the Eastern Sector, is the Brandenburg Gate.

Orville Gilpin Sees End Of His Project In Sight Now

By EVERETT R. IRWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO (UP)—Orville Gilpin sees the end in sight.

He's gitting the last pieces in a dinosaur-sized jigsaw puzzle that has taken him two years to complete.

As a matter of fact, the giant figure that Gilpin has put together IS a dinosaur.

It's the 72-foot-long skeleton of a 30-ton Brontosaurus that grazed the ranges of North America some 150,000 years ago.

Gilpin is the chief preparator of fossils at the Chicago Natural History Museum. That's a fancy way of saying he's the fellow who's tapped on the shoulder when the museum bosses want to drag a few bags of bones out of the basement and assemble them into an exhibit.

Thousands of Fragments

They dragged out Brontosaurus' remains in March, 1956, just after Gilpin completed the 18-month job of restoring Gorgosaurus, a tyrannical, flesh-eating dinosaur familiarly known as "Gorgeous George."

Gilpin estimates that at least 2,000 man-hours have been spent on Brontosaurus. He has devoted most of his time to the big, bony reptile, and at least 10 other persons have helped on the project at times.

"It's a lot like putting a jigsaw puzzle together," Gilpin said. "There were literally thousands of fragments of bones—the majority of them less than ½ inch square. One vertebra alone had broken into at least 500 separate pieces.

"We assembled the obvious pieces first. Then we tried to find out where what we had left would go. We modeled the missing parts from plaster of paris."

Trekked to Wilderness

Gilpin's "Bronte" actually is a composite of two brontosauruses, matched so expertly it's impossible to tell where one ends and the other starts.

The ribs, hind legs and part of the tail of the Brontosaurus have been displayed at the museum since 1911 when a partial skeleton was found near Fruita, Colo.

Preserved bone fragments of a second Brontosaurus were discovered in rugged country near Floy Junction, Utah, in 1941. Gilpin and a companion trekked into the wilderness the next year and worked for six weeks hacking the bones out of clay and shale, surrounding them with protective plaster casts and packing them out to the nearest road.

The bones were stored in the museum basement until Gilpin could get around to working on them.

WHALE'S SKIN

Skin of the huge blue whale is about the thickness and color of carbon paper, a covering which is backed by a thick layer of insulating blubber.

HONORED SOUSE'S VISIT

Austria, in 1955, issued a special medal in honor of the 50th anniversary of the visit of John Philip Soura and his band to Vienna in 1905.

SOLE IMPEACHMENT

Only instance of impeachment proceedings against a member of Congress was in the case of William Bount, Tennessee senator, in 1798. The charges were dismissed.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

The City Commission of the City of Pampa will receive sealed bids in the City Commission Room, City Hall, Pampa, Texas, until 10:00 A.M. Tuesday, April 22, 1958, for furnishing all necessary materials, machinery, equipment, superintendence and labor for the construction of a Firemen's Drill Tower.

Bids shall be addressed to the City Commission, and shall be mailed or delivered to the City Secretary, City Hall, Pampa, Texas, and shall be plainly marked "BID ENCLOSED".

Construction of the above building will be on City owned property within the corporate limits of the City of Pampa, Texas.

Bidders shall submit their bids on the form attached to the specifications and must submit therewith a Cashier's or Certified Check issued by a bank satisfactory to the Owner, or a Bidder's Bond from a reliable Surety Company satisfactory to the Owner, payable without recourse to the order of LYNN BOYD, Mayor of the City of Pampa, Texas, in an amount of not less than five (5%) percent of the largest possible bid submitted as a guaranty that the Bidder will enter into a contract and execute bond and guaranty in the forms provided within ten (10) days after notice of award of contract to him.

The successful Bidder must furnish bond as to the form attached to the Specifications in the amount of one hundred (100%) percent of the total contract price from a Surety Company approved by the Owner, holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as Surety, or other Surety or Sureties acceptable to the Owner.

All lump sum and unit prices must be stated in both script and figures. The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive formalities and technicalities. In case of ambiguity or lack of clearness in stating the prices in the bids, the City reserves the right to consider the most advantageous construction thereof, or to reject the bid.

Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding all local conditions under which the work is to be done. Attention is called to the provisions of the Acts of the 43rd Legislature of the State of Texas, Page 91, Chapter 45 (Article No. 5159A, Civil Statutes, 1925), concerning the wage scale and payment of prevailing wage established by the City. Said scale of prevailing minimum rates of wages is set forth in the Specifications.

Information for Bidders, proposal forms, Specifications and Plans are on file at the office of the City Engineer, City Hall, Pampa, Texas.

ORDINANCE NO. 489

AN ORDINANCE CREATING THE OFFICE OF ELECTRICAL INSPECTOR AND THE ELECTRICAL EXAMINING BOARD AND DEFINING THEIR RESPECTIVE DUTIES, REGULATING THE WAY AND MANNER IN WHICH ELECTRICAL WIRES AND APPARATUS SHALL BE INSTALLED IN THE CITY OF PAMPA, TEXAS, AND PROVIDING FOR THE GENERAL INSPECTION OF SUCH WORK; PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF LICENSE AND PERMITS; PROVIDING FOR FEES TO BE CHARGED FOR DOING OF SUCH WORK; REPEALING ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT HEREOF AND PARTS OF ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT HEREWITH; PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY OF PAMPA, TEXAS:

SECTION I. Office of the Electrical Inspector

Part 1: There is hereby created the Office of the Electrical Inspector in charge of which shall be the Electrical Inspector of the City of Pampa, and within which may be Assistant Electrical Inspectors.

A. Requirements: The Electrical Inspector and Assistant Electrical Inspector shall be competent persons of good moral character; each shall have had at least four years experience as a Journeyman electrician; each shall have adequate knowledge of current and approved methods and practices relating to electrical installations; and each shall have passed an examination for Journeyman Electricians, and shall have been approved by the Electrical Examining Board.

It is provided that A of Part 1 of Section 1 of this Ordinance shall not take effect until the present Electrical Inspector severs his relations with the City of Pampa, Texas.

B. Appointment: The Electrical Inspector and the Assistant Electrical Inspector shall be appointed by the City Manager from applicants who meet the requirements of Paragraph A, above.

Part 2: Duties of Electrical Inspector.

A. The Electrical Inspector shall inspect and test electrical installations and systems in all consumer installations when he has reason to believe the same are unsafe, improper, or do not compiy with applicable ordinances.

B. The Electrical Inspector shall inspect all installations, alterations, and repairs of electrical work in consumer installations as hereinafter set out.

C. The Electrical Inspector shall, upon determining that unsafe, improper or unlawful consumer installations exist, immediately notify the owner of said premises or his agent and/or the electrician performing work on said premises, in writing, specifying the exact deficiency existing, and shall allow said parties a reasonable time to correct said deficiency. If corrective action is not begun immediately, or if the deficiency is not corrected within the prescribed time, then the Electrical Inspector shall, if he believes public welfare endangered, order the electricity supply to said premises to be discontinued.

D. The Electrical Inspector and his assistants, when in the performance of their duties, and as far as may be necessary for the performance of their duties, shall have the right to enter any consumer's building at all reasonable hours for the purpose of making any tests or inspections of the electrical wiring and appliances therein contained.

E. The Electrical Inspector shall keep or cause to be kept a record of permits, licenses, and inspection required under this ordinance; he shall also keep a record of all condemnations of electrical installations.

F. The Electrical Inspectors shall stop the installation, alteration, operation or repair of any electrical work on or in consumers' premises whenever, in the inspector's opinion, the work is being done in a reckless, careless or unsafe manner or in a manner which violates the provisions of this ordinance. Upon determining that particular work should stop, the inspectors shall post a notice to that effect on the consumer's premises and thereafter no person shall proceed with the installation until the inspector has cancelled the stop work notice.

Part 3: Removal: The City Commission may remove from office the Electrical Inspector or any of his assistants for incompetency or neglect of duty.

SECTION II. BOARD OF ELECTRICAL EXAMINERS:

Part 1. There is hereby created a Electrical Examiners for the City of Pampa.

A. Membership: The Board of Electrical Examiners shall consist of the following members who shall serve without compensation:

(1) A Master Electrician
(2) A Journeyman Electrician, not a member of the same firm or organization as the Master Electrician.
(3) A representative of the Electric Utility
(4) The City Engineer
(5) A person not connected with the Electrical Contracting Business nor Electric Utility, who in the opinion of the City Commission is qualified through education and practical experience to perform the duties of the Electrical Examiner
(6) The City Electrical Inspector serving as Secretary to the Board and as ex-officio member of the Board.

B. Appointment:

(1) The City Engineer shall be a permanent member of the Board of Electrical Examiners
(2) The City Electrical Inspector shall be the permanent Secretary to the Board; and as such shall be a permanent ex-officio member of the Board.
(3) All other members shall serve for terms of two years; provided that one-half of the initial appointment shall be for terms ending on January 1, following the date this electrical ordinance becomes effective, appointees being so designated by the City Commission at the time of this initial appointment.
(4) Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term of the departed member by the City Commission.

C. Removal: When good cause exists, a member may be removed by the City Commission.

Part 2: Powers and Duties of Board:

A. The Board shall meet as soon after appointment as possible and select a chairman; it shall thereafter meet as required.

B. The Board shall adopt rules and regulations for the examination and re-examination of applicants for electricians' licenses and certificates of qualifications.

C. The Board shall submit to the City Commission written recommendations and suggestions for the improvement, enforcement, and administration of this ordinance.

D. The Board shall cause the issuance of appropriate certificates and licenses to successful applicants therefor.

E. It is hereby made the duty of the Board of Examiners, when dispute arises between any persons, firms, associations, partnerships or corporations as to the meaning of the Electrical Code and Ordinance, to interpret same, and when a majority of said Board of Examiners have interpreted the Electrical Ordinance and Code as to its meaning, said interpretations by said Board of Examiners shall be final and binding on all persons, firms, associations, partnerships and corporations.

SECTION III. Certificates and Licenses:

Part 1: Definition of Terms

A. "Installations" shall include all electrical work of any nature performed on, in, or near consumers premises.

B. "Master Electrician" is a term meaning any person engaged in or carrying on the business of electrical contracting, who is by training, experience and education competent to lay out, design,e and install a system of wiring for light, heat and power.

C. "Journeyman Electrician" is a term meaning any person who is employed by a Master Electrician to do electrical work for wages, and who does not furnish any materials or supplies in the execution or the performance of electrical work, and who is by training, experience, and education competent to install a system of wiring for light, heat and power.

D. "Maintenance Electrician" is a term meaning any person who is employed on a permanent basis to maintain and repair electrical installations in a particular building or buildings, and who does not engage himself as either a Master or Journeyman Electrician.

E. "Person" shall be construed to include the plural as well as singular and shall also include corporations and any other type of organization.

Part 2: Certificate of Qualification for a Master Electrician

A. Persons desiring to qualify as a Master Electrician shall make application for issuance of a certificate of qualification to the Board of Electrical Examiners. As a prerequisite to making application, a person must have performed as a Journeyman Electrician for a period of at least two years or hold a Master Electricians certificate or equal, or license from another governmental agency comparable to or whose activity is of greater scope than that of the City of Pampa.

(1) The applications shall be presented to the Secretary of the Board and shall be accompanied by a fee of $10.00 payable to the City of Pampa.
(2) The applicant shall submit himself to an examination prepared by the Board. The examination shall consist of questions concerning electrical installations, National Electric Code and other topics related to the occupation of master electricians.
(3) If the applicant is successful in the examination, he shall obtain a bond from an approved surety company in the amount of One Thousand Dollars, payable to the City of Pampa and conditioned upon the applicant's strict compliance with this ordinance.
(4) The successful applicant shall also pay to the City of Pampa $100.00
(5) If a person fails to qualify as a Master Electrician, a period of 60 days must elapse before he is eligible for an initial re-examination; in the event he fails to qualify on this initial re-examination, an additional period of 6 months shall elapse before he is eligible for a second re-examination.

B. Qualified applicants who comply with the above provisions shall be issued a certificate of qualification to carry on the occupation of master electrician. The certificate shall be valid for one year from date of issuance.

C. The certificate of qualification may be renewed by paying to the City of Pampa the sum of $25.00 within ten days after the expiration date of the old certificate. If a certificate of qualification is not renewed, it shall thereafter be void. The first renewal fee shall be a pro rata part of the $25.00 renewal fee, with the time element based on that portion of a year from the anniversary date of the issuance of the certificate of qualification to the first of the following January. Thereafter the renewal shall be on a calendar year basis.

D. A Certificate of Qualification shall be issued to an individual and shall not be assignable.

E. No person shall engage in the occupation of master electrician without having a current certificate of qualification.

Part 3: Journeyman Electrician License:

A. Persons desiring to qualify as a Journeyman Electrician shall make application for issuance of a license to the Secretary of the Board of Electrical Examiners. As a prerequisite to making application, a person must have performed as an Apprenticee Electrician for a period of at least four years.

(1) The application shall be presented to the Secretary of the Board and shall be accompanied by a fee of $5.00.
(2) The applicant shall submit himself to an examination prepared by the Board; the examination shall consist of questions concerning electrical installations, National Electric Code and other topics related to the occupation of Journeyman electricians.
(3) If a person fails to qualify as a Journeyman Electrician a period of 60 days must elapse before he is eligible for an initial re-examination; in the event he fails to qualify on this initial re-examination, an additional period of 6 months must elapse before he is eligible for a second re-examination.

B. Qualified applicants who comply with the above provisions shall pay to the Secretary of the Board the sum of $2.50, and shall be issued a license to carry on the occupation of journeyman electrician. The license shall be valid for one year from date of issuance.

C. Licenses may be renewed by paying to the Secretary of the Board the sum of $2.00 within ten days after expiration date of the old license. If a license is not renewed, it shall thereafter be void.

D. The license shall be issued to an individual and shall not be assignable.

E. No person shall engage in the occupation of journeyman electrician without having been issued a current license as hereinabove provided. Licensees shall keep their licenses in their possession when working as journeyman electricians.

Part 4: Nothing contained in this ordinance shall be construed as preventing Master Electricians and Journeyman Electricians practicing their trade or profession under license agreements of existing ordinances; however, upon expiration of existing license, they shall comply with all provisions of this ordinance. All Journeyman Electrician Licenses now outstanding shall be subject to renewal on the first of January of the year following the adoption of this ordinance by the payment of the renewal fee of $2.00 and annually thereafter by the payment of the sum of $2.00 per year as provided for in paragraph C, Part 3, Section III, above.

Part 5: No person shall allow the use of his certificate of qualification or license, directly or indirectly by any other person for any purpose. In addition to the penalty provided, any person convicted of violating this provisoion shall forfeit his certificate of qualification and/or license and it shall thereafter be void.

SECTION IV. Permits and Inspections

Part 1: Permit required: No person, firm or corporation, using electric power as a consumer, shall begin any electrical installation or begin any work of installing, erecting or altering material, wiring fixtures or any other aparatus to be used for the utilization of electricity for light, heat and/or power in any building in or on the premises in the City of Pampa, without first securing a permit therefor from the Office of the Electrical Inspector; provided, however, that no permit shall be required for minor work such as repairing flush and tumbler switches, replacing fuses, changing lamp sockets and receptacles; provided further that this section shall not apply to maintenance and repairs on the premises of a person, firm or corporation regularly employing a qualified maintenance electrician for that purpose; and further provided, that no permit will be required for a construction tap.

Part 2: Home owners and holders of certificates of qualification shall make application for a permit to the Electrical Inspector. Upon proper application for a permit and after payment of required inspection fee, the Electrical Inspector or his representative shall issue the applicant a permit for the proposed work.

A. Rough-in-Work: The inspection fee for rough-in-work on all electrical installations shall be as follows:

For one to ten outlets, and/or switches, the sum of 2.00, and for each additional outlet and/or switch the sum of $0.10.

B. Fixtures: The inspection fees for the installation of electrical fixtures shall be the sum of $2.00 for one to ten, and the sum of $0.05 for each additional fixture.

C. Electrical Appliances: If rough-in-work for an electrical appliance is performed at the same time work is rough-in, the "electrical" appliance outlet shall be considered as one outlet. In all other cases the inspection fee for the installation of an electrical appliance shall be $2.00.

D. Neon Signs and Neon Lighting: The inspection fee for connecting neon signs and neon lighting in which not more than two transformers are used shall be $2.00 and the sum of $0.25 shall be charged for each additional transformer.

E. Incadescent Signs: For the purpose of this subsection incadescent signs shall include all signs including bill-boards which are illuminated with one or more incadescent lights. The inspection fee for incadescent signs that require not more than two circuits shall be $2.00 and the sum of $0.25 for each additional circuit.

F. Motors: For consumer operation the inspection fee for electric motors shall be in accordance with the horsepower ratings: From zero to five horsepower, $2.00; for each additional horsepower, the sum of $0.10, provided, that the maximum fee for any motor or motors operating from one meter shall be $10.00.

G. Generators: For consumer operation the inspection fee for electrical generators including switchboard and exciters of ten kilowatts or less capacity shall be $5.00 each.

H. Motion Picture Machines: The inspection fee for the installation of a motion picture machine shall be $2.00.

I. Electric Welders: The inspection fee for the installation of an electric welder shall be $2.00.

J. Radio and Television Receiving Antenna: The inspection fee for the installation of a radio and television antenna shall be $2.00.

K. Temporary Service: The inspection fee for the installation of a temporary service shall be $2.00.

Part 3: Re-Inspection: If by reason of faulty work, negligence or omission or for any other reason a subsequent inspection must be made in excess of the rough-in and final inspection hereinabove provided for, a charge for each re-inspection shall be as follows: For the first re-inspection, a fee of $2.00; for the second re-inspection, a fee of $5.00; for the third and each subsequent re-inspection, a fee of $10.00 each.

Part 4: Notice: Permit holders whose installations are ready for inspection shall allow the Office of the Electrical Inspector twenty-four hours Sundays and holidays excluded, before proceeding with the installations.

Part 5: It shall be unlawful for any owner, contractor or workman in any manner to interfere with any electric wiring being installed in or on any building. If in course of construction of the building the wiring is in such a position as to interfere with its erection or completion as called for by plans, notice shall immediately be given the person installing the wiring, and the needed change shall be made by such person. On inspecting the electrical wiring of any building, the Electrical Inspector shall leave a tag or notice attached to service. This notice shall state clearly whether the wiring is approved or is to be kept open for correction, and if wiring is to be kept open for correction or further inspection no person shall lath, ceil or in any manner conceal any wiring until they are informed that such wiring has been approved by the City Electrical Inspector. The General Contractor or owner shall be held responsible for any violation of this section.

Part 6:

A. The City Electrical Inspector shall have the authority to demand building contractors to open such work that in any manner conceals electrical wiring that has been closed without his knowledge or permission, and in no case shall the City Electrical Inspector issue clearance until he is satisfied that the work is in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance. Inspectors shall also have the right to refuses to issue a clearance on any wiring that is concealed in such a manner that he cannot fully satisfy himself that it has been done in accordance with this Ordinance.

B. No person shall molest in any way or tamper with wires installed in any building; no person shall place any material except incombustible insulation material within one inch of said wire after it has been inspected and approved by the Electrical Inspector.

SECTION V: General Requirements:

Part 1: National Electrical Code as promulgated by the National Board of Fire Underwriters: All installations hereafter installed in the City of Pampa shall be done in accordance with the 1953 edition in effect as of the date of this ordinance, with the following additions and deviations there from, and a majority of the governing body of the city may incorporate revisions which may occur from time to time in the National Electrical Code into changes or revision of this ordinance.

A. Non-metallic sheathed cable may be used in any electrical installations of residential one or two family dwellings only in zones where wood frame construction is permitted. In zones where wood frame construction is prohibited by ordinance, non-metallic sheathed cable may NOT be used in any installation.

B. All lights in bathrooms, toilets, kitchens and laundry rooms shall be controlled by wall switches located so they are not normally accessible from tub or shower.

C. All metal fixtures installed in bathrooms and kitchens, except in ceilings thereof, shall be grounded; provided, however, that they may be grounded to their neutral wire.

D. Service-Entrance shall mean that portion of the service between the terminals of service equipment and a point outside the building, clear of the building walls, where the service-entrance conductor is joined by tap or splice to the service drop. The service-entrance conductors shall be in rigid conduit. Entry of said service-entrance conductors into the rigid conduit shall be through a service-entrance fitting. Where service-entrance equipment (usually consiting of circuit-breaker, or switch and fuses) is located inside the building walls, such shall be located on the inside wall at a readily accessible point nearest to the entrance of the conductors, said accessible point shall be such that the meter mounted on the outside of the wall and the service equipment mounted on the inside of the wall are back to back.

E. Service entrance grounded-conductor and enclosure should have a connection to an underground metallic water piping system, if available, where voltage to ground does not exceed 300 volts. If ten or more feet of water line are buried between the building and the water meter, it shall be permissable to install a ground in the house side of the water meter without bonding around the meter.

Approved ground clamp connecting ground conductor to water pipe or driven ground rod must be used. Minimum size for ground conductor, No. 8 A.W.G. Copper Conductor. Where driven ground is used in lieu of ten feet of buried water pipe, ground rod shall be eight feet long.

F. To be "accessible" as that term is used in the National Electrical Code, an attic shall measure not less than three feet from the top of the ceiling joist to the bottom of the rafter at the highest point.

G. When crossing ceiling joists with non-metallic sheathed cable wiring, it shall be protected by substantial guard strips which are at least as high as the cable. If attic is not accessible by permanent stairs or ladders, protection will only be required within six feet of the nearest edge of the scuttle hole or attic entrance, or alternate when crossing ceiling joists with non-metallic sheathed cable in accessible attics, the ceiling joists shall be bored, with cable fed through bored openings or approved fastener to side of ceiling joist.

H. Service entrance conductors shall not be smaller than No. 4 A. W. G. Gauge, Copper There shall be a three wire 120/240 volt service on all residential installations but may not be required on any residences of 500 square feet or less of floor space in which no more than two circuits will be required All electric range wiring must be no smaller than three No. 6 A. W. G. Gauge conductor in conduit or approved cable Electric dryers of 120/240 volts shall be wired with three No. 10 A. W. G. Gauge conductor or larger, if required by the load, in conduit or approved cable, complete with approved type dryer receptacles. Each automatic clothes washing machine shall be on a circuit supplying no other load. Any change in electric service or change to new type of service will require approval by the Electrical Inspector before the electric utility may connect new service.

I. All wiring in any building must be in rigid metallic conduit, metal tubing, or other metallic raceway approved by the Electrical Examining Board for certain classes of construction, except wiring in one and two family dwellings in zones where wood frame construction is permitted.

Part 2: Wiring Restrictions:

A. Fuse panels or circuit breakers, etc., shall not be placed in water heating closets, bathrooms, or clothes closets. Fuse panels or circuit breakers may not be located in closets of other types if storage of articles or materials will hinder accessibility, but shall be located where they are readily accessible to tenant.

B. Temporary Installations: The Electrical Inspector is hereby authorized to issue special permits for the use of knob and tube wiring in temporary installations, provided, however, that such permits shall state the duration thereof therein. Upon the expiration of a temporary permit the holder thereof shall immediately discontinue the use of the installation or shall replace same with an installation complying with applicable ordinances.

Part 3: Outlets:

A. In essidential installations, not more than eight current consuming outlets per circuit shall be installed. No wires shall be smaller than No. 12 A. W. G.,

B. In commercial installations, there shall not be more than four current consuming outlets per circuit, and the conductor forming such circuits shall not be smaller than No. 12 A. W. G.. Total voltage load for each of these circuits shall not exceed 80% of the rated current carrying capacity of conductor used. No. 14 A. W. G. can be used in control circuits only.

Part 4: Appliance Circuits: Receptacle outlets for electric irons, percolators, toasters and other electric heating devices in kitchens, breakfast rooms, dining rooms and laundry rooms shall be on a separate circuit from the light fixture outlets and no more than four duplex outlets or eight split wired outlets, when three wire circuit is used, shall be on one circuit, provided further that the wires forming such circuit shall not be smaller than No. 12.

Part 5: Radio and Television Receiving Equipment:

A. Antenna Systems:

(1) Supports: Outdoor antenna and counterpoise and lead-in conductors shall be securely supported so as to avoid contacts with conductors of other systems.
(2) Outdoor antenna, counterpois" and lead-in conductors from an antenna to a building shall not cross over electric light or power circuits and shall be kept well away from all such circuits so as to avoid the possibility of accidental contact.
(3) It is recommended that antenna and counterpoise conducotr shall be inscatlled as not to cross under electric light or power circuits.

B. Self Supporting Antennas: Outdoor antennas, such as vertical rods or dipole structures, shall be on non-corrodible materials and of strength suitable to wihtstand ice and wind loading conditions and shall be located well away from overhead conductors of electric light and power circuits of over 150 volts to ground so as to avoid the possibility of the antenna or structure falling into an accidental contact with such circuits.

Part 6: Franchises and Street Lighting: The provisions of this ordinance shall not apply to electric light, heat and power companies, telephone and telegraph companies, normally operating or operating under franchise or state laws in the installation, maintenance, removal or repair of wires or other equipment used in connection with their business as producers to supply consumer service, and/or street lighting, illumination of public ways, alleys, parks or communications.

Part 7: No person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of transmission and sale of electric current to users thereof shall make any connection of their transmission lines with the electric wiring and/or apparatus in any residence or other consumer installation without first having received the Electrical Inspector's certificate of compliance for said installation.

Part 8: Equipment Ground will be required for electric food waste disposal, and automatic washers provided, however, these appliance may be grounded to the neutral conductor if same is an unbroken ground conductor to ground water pipe or driven ground rod and where the mixiumum voltage to ground does not exceed 150 volts or where served by 120-240 volt, 3-wire branch circuits, they may be grounded by connection to the grounded circuit conductors, provided the grounded circuit conductors are not smaller than No. 10 A. W. G.

Part 9: Joints?Solder and Taping: Where joints are found to be taped but not soldered, or spliced with an approved mechanical device, the Inspector may require all joints be untaped and left untaped until soldered or spliced with an approved mechanical device. It is further provided that such splices and tapes shall be made in an approved metallic junction box.

Part 10: Welders: No electric welder of the transformer or reactance type shall be connected in the City of Pampa without same is bearing the name plate of manufacturer and the current rating, and it must bear the stamp of approval of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Part 11: All wiring materials, wiring devices, such as switches, fuses, panels, lighting fixtures, ballast, transformers, conductors, appliances, circuit breakers, and signal devices must bear the stamp of approval of the National Board of Fire Underwriters or "UL" label.

SECTION VI: Exceptions

Part 1: Home Owners: Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the issuance of permits to home owners to do the electrical repari work in their home.

Nothing herein shal be construed to prevent the issuance of permits to owners who erect a dwelling which to live, provide, however, that no permit shall be issued under this provision until the owner submits an affidavit showing his ownership of the premises and his bona fide intention to live therein, further that in the event of erections, no person shall be issued a permit under the provisions of this paragraph more frequently than once each two calendar years.

Part 2: Work Commenced Before Enactment: Installations contracted for before the effective date of this ordinance shall not be governed by the ordinance herein enacted, all other installations shall comply with the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION VII: Penalty

Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and the person, firm or corporation or any employee, agent, manager or officer thereof, who is guilty of violation of any of the provisions, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not less than $1.00, and not more than $200.00, for each offense, and every violation of and each and every days failure or refusal to comply with the said provisions will constitute a separate offense and in case of willful or continued violations by any person, firm or corporation as afore said or their employees, servants of officers, the City shal have the power to revoke and repeal any license under which said person, firm or corporation may be acting and to revoke and repeal all permits, privileges and franchises granted to said person, firm or corporation as aforesaid.

SECTION VIII:

That all Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION IX:

This Ordinance shall take effect immediately after its final passage, approval and publication, as required by law.

PASSED AND APPROVED on its First Reading this 18th day of March, 1958.

PASSED AND APPROVED on its Second Reading this 25th day of March, 1958.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Morris Brown, a candidate for Republican precinct committeeman, who found he couldn't vote because he had moved but his registration hadn't:

"I thought it was the precinct committeeman's job to see that everybody is registered, including myself."

FIAT MONEY

Fiat money is the currency issued by a government without any gold behind it. Such were the currencies issued by the Continental Congress and the greenbacks of the Civil War era.

SAW PARTIAL SUFFRAGE

In her old ag, Seusa nB Anthony lived to see the women of Wyoming, Idaho, Colorado and Utah receive the right to vote. All women were enfranchised 14 years after her death.

First Christian Sets Communion

Easter at the First Christian Church will begin with Morning Worship and Communion at 8:30 a.m. At this time the Children's Choir will sing.

Church School will be held at 9:45 as usual. At 10:50 a.m. the Chancel Choir will sing for Morning Worship and Communion.

After the 5:30 p.m. meeting of the youth groups comes the 7 p.m. Evening Worship and Service of Christian Baptism.

FIRST LOVE — Ernest Borgnine, the man who played Marty and won an Oscar, plays his first love scene in pictures with Katy Jurado in the new MGM release, "The Badlanders."

St. Paul's Sunrise Service

Dr. Hubert Bratcher, district superintendent of the Pampa District of the Methodist Church, will deliver the sermon at a Easter Sunrise Service to be held at St. Paul Methodist Church. This special service will be held at 11 a.m. and will feature the Easter anthem "Open The Gates of The Temple" by the chancel choir under the direction of Mrs. Flaudie Gallman. Dr. Burgin Watkins, pastor, will deliver the sermon at this service. His topic will be, "He Goes Before You." The public is invited to these services.

Oral Roberts Says Crusade 'Successful'

WEST HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (UP) — Evangelist Orab Roberts announced today that his Long Island crusade which closed Sunday was one of the most successful of his 11-year career.

More than 87,000 persons turned out to hear the fiery evangelist preach a message of healing through faith at the Island Gardens Auditorium, an announcement said. Police estimated that another 25,000 were turned away because of lack of space during the 6-day crusade.

Roberts concluded the crusade Sunday. The next revival in his "million soul crusade" will be held April 18-27 at Charleston, S. C.

Revival In Lefors Ends

LEFORS — To conclude a ten-day revival Members of the Church of Christ in Lefors met after Sunday services in the civic center for a luncheon and followed by a singing service, March 30.

Evangelist F. I. Stanley of Midland was the speaker during the meeting with Charlie Tutor and Bob Fish leading the singing.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Watson Burgess of Wheeler, and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Little of Pampa.

Approximately seventy-five persons were present for the dinner.

New Broadcast Series Starts

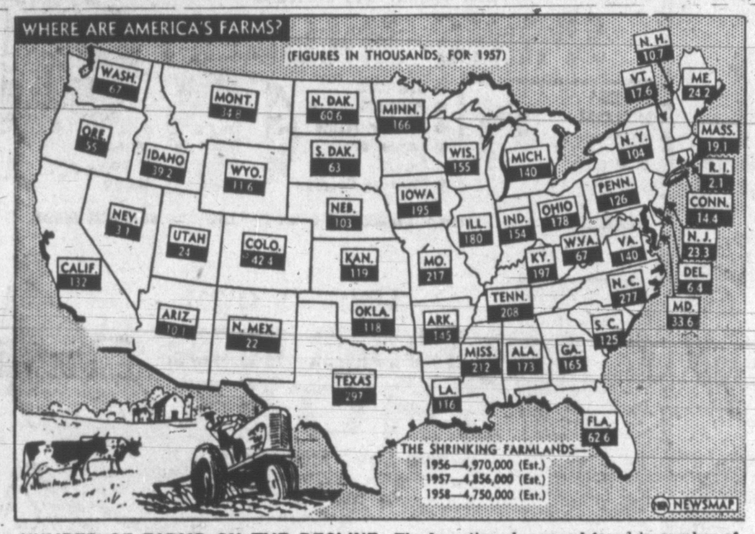
Rev. Charles Rhyne of the Evangelistic Tabernacle can now be heard over Radio Station KHHH from 7:15 a.m. to 7:30 a.m., Monday through Friday. Rev. Rhyne's new program goes under the name of "Revival In Our Time."

"Revival In Our Time" is designed for people of all churches in the Pampa area.

Rev. Louis Mathis, Evangelistic Tabernacle educational director, assists Rev. Ryhne in the daily broadcasst.

Rev. Rhyne considers this radio ministry vitally important. Also he is preparing to make tape recordings from the Evangelistic Tabernacle for broadcasts over other stations.

The Evangelist invites everyone to tune in to "Revival In Our Time" at 7:15 a.m., Monday through Friday. Prayer requests can be addressed to Rev. Rhyne in care of Radio Station KHHH.



NUMBER OF FARMS ON THE DECLINE—The long-time downward trend in number of farms in operation in America continued through 1957, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The estimated 4,856,800 total represented a 2.3 per cent decrease from the previous year and was over a million farms, or 17 per cent, under the level of 10 years ago. Early estimates indicate there will be another 100,000 fewer farms in operation in 1958.

Word Gimmick' Bangs At The Gates Of Russia's Kremlin

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) — That fine old American word "gimmick" arrived with a bang inside the gates of the Kremlin this week.

The President of the United States, in answer to a question in a news conference, said that his view of Moscow's halting of nuclear tests was that the action was just a gimmick that should not be taken seriously. He added that that was not a harsh opinion.

Everybody in the United States knows what he meant. But how about the poor fellow who translates the American language into Russian for the boys in the Kremlin? He must have had the cold sweats.

A Deceptive Device

The word is in all American dictionaries. So he could have looked it up and found that it means a tricky or deceptive device. But all of them list it as a slang word. What to do? Should the translator try to find a piece of Russian slang to match it?

Or should he get a standard Russian word that might be something like the right meaning—and if he did this, how close did he come to letting Khrushchev know what Ike said:

I got in touch with my lexicographer friend David Guralnik, editor of the New World Dictionary out in Cleveland, and asked him what he would do in such a quandary. He said he wasn't familiar with Russia slang but that the Russian word "shutka" means a shabby trick, and "khitrost" means a kind of deceiving trick.

Grifter Controls It

Gimmick, which has spead to all phases of American Life, apparently came into the language from the cant of carnival people.

More Data On The Habit Of Smoking

Science Today
By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP) — In endeavoring to lay bare "the psychology of smoking," three Harvard scientists came upon this "signal fact" The ability of the man to give up the smoking habit is related to how long he was a breast-fed baby.

"Many will wish to explain such a finding away," said the scientists. Nevertheless, their statistics showed that light smokers who can stop whenever they wish were weaned at the age of eight months but heavy smokers who have tried to give up smoking only to find they can't, were weaned at 4.7 months. (The figures are statistical "means," of course.)

"In our data late weaning was associated with the personality traits that are also related to ability to stop smoking," said Charles McArthur, Ellen Waldron and John Dickinson in reporting to the American Psychological Assn. "Groups with the ability to stop smoking contain a smaller percentage of bottle babies. Thumb-sucking was more commonly reported for men who continued to smoke."

Early weaning is equated by many psychologists with "infantile frustration." This frustration, the Harvard scientists granted, could have many outlets in the development of the babe into the adult. Theirs and other studies "suggest that these 'deeper' needs have little or no effect on whether one smokes but great effect on how tenacious the habit, once adopted, may become."

Non-smokers, the scientists found, tended to be of the lower-middle class; they were "earnest young men" with a drive to improve their social status, who believed in the virtues of work and conservation. "Their parents and they themselves are often pious."

But the smokers in their statistical break-downs were "likely ot come from more privileged backgrounds, often entering business or humanistic careers." The smokers went in for "scientific or technical careers in many instances."
